Summit Talk

This picture released by the White House Saturday shows President Johnson and Soviet Premier Alexei Kosygin as they talked during a luncheon meeting Friday on Glassboro (N. J.) College campus. The leaders of the world's two most powerful nations agreed to meet again on Sunday. President Johnson said he reached no new agreements with the Soviet premier during the Friday talk, but "he and I agreed that we wanted a world of peace for our grandchildren." (AP wirephoto.)

Summit Meetings Raise Peace Prospect Hopes

By LEWIS GUILICK
GLASSBORO, N.J. (AP)—American diplomats mixed optimism with caution today over prospects that two summit meetings at Glassboro may lead the way toward solving major international issues. The fact that President Johnson and Soviet Premier Alexei N. Kosygin met for five hours Friday including three hours with no aides except interpreters—then agreed on another warily Sunday—was in itself regarded as a good omen.

denunciation of American as well as Israeli policy and the arguments over a summit meeting. But after the Glassboro parley, Johnson hailed "the spirit of Holybush." He told a Democratic group in Los Angeles that is this the spirit of "reasoning, serious differences" remain. "One meeting does not make a peace," he said. "We reached no new agreements that do not happen in a single conversation—but I think we understand each other better," he said.

Idaho Legislators Start Home After 5-Day Meet

BOISE (AP)—Idaho legislators on their way home today after spending the last day of their five-day special session considering one-day gubernatorial appointment.

Among them were appropriations of an additional $3.6 million to the State Department of Public Assistance and $1.25 million more to the State Highway Department. Although it was estimated that the state general fund would have about $3.5 to $4 million surplus after taking the DPA money out, legislators chose to raise the state tax on motor fuels instead of using general fund money.

Western Horse Show Draws 230 Entries

Hundreds of cleaned, preened and polished horses proved that the Automobile Age hasn't taken over completely, by prancing into their spot in the sun on the Twin Falls County Fairgrounds during the opening performance of the Magic Valley Western Horse Show.

More than 230 horses from all over the Intermountain area have been entered in the 12th annual show in Filer. An event that rivals several older shows in size and prestige.

Friday night's activities included eight separate events, in addition to the first competition for half of the 11 area girls who are competing for the 1968 horse show queen title.

Of the five girls competing during the opening show, named as finalists to appear during the Sunday performance were: Teri Light, daughter of Mrs. Lenora Light, Twin Falls; Kay Benson, 17, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Zach Hanson, Jerome; and Susan Parvin, 18, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Stump, Kimberly.

Spills, Chills, Thrills Provided At Rodeo

BURLEY — A typical promotional phrase was knocked off the parade during the opening performance of the Idaho-High School Rodeo Friday, when a young bareback rider got off his horse by breaking his right leg in a spectacular fall.

Logan Brown, Poetsville, was reported in good condition at Cassia County Memorial Hospital after taking the fall as he reached for the fence while trying to buck a bucking horse.

The rodeo is open only to district winners and guarantees a prize for each of the 22 events in its various events. It is sponsored by the Burley Kiwanis Club and the High School Rodeo Association.

The association is a national organization with 22 states participating. Idaho is divided into five districts. Each of the districts has its own rodeo and winners of each district are competing in this state rodeo. Results of the first go around Friday night include: calf roping...

Copter Crash Is Clouded With Mystery

JACKSONVILLE, N.C. (AP)—The cause of an inflight collision of two helicopters Friday which claimed the lives of 22 Marines remained a mystery Saturday. Marine officials said, both helicopters were on collision course when the accident occurred. Both crashed in Florida near a runway at the New River Marine Facility near Jacksonville.

It was termed by Marine officials as the worst tragedy in the history of the helicopter training program. One of the choppers, a CH-53A "sea Stallion," carried 20 of its 33 occupants to death. The pilot of the smaller HO-4E also died.

Of the 13 survivors of the crash remained hospitalized at Camp Lejeune, three of them in critical condition. The pilots of the "Stallion" both escaped with minor injuries.

Mariner 5 Is Nearing Venus

WASHINGTON (AP)—The National Aeronautics and Space Administration said Friday that Mariner 5, now in its 10th day of flight, will pass within 2,300 miles of Venus about 1:35 p.m. EDT Oct. 19.

After its launching from Cape Kennedy, Fla., June 14, the spacecraft was on a course that would have taken it across the orbit of Venus, 42,000 miles from the planet, on Oct. 18.

CARDINALS ARRIVE
ROME (AP)—Francis Cardinal Spellman of New York and James Cardinal McIntyre of Los Angeles flew here today on separate commercial jet flights to meet two miles below Honolulu. Meredith was accompanied by five other men, two of them white.

Meredith Begins Second March

By JOHN S. LANG
COLDWATER, Miss. (AP)—James H. Meredith waved and shook hands with scores of adoring Negroes Saturday as he began his second march from Coldwater to dramatize Mississippi's growing Negro vote.

Several white motorists, now on a narrow winding road, wished the short, stocky Negro well on his 200-mile hike to Jackson, the state capital. Meredith was accompanied by five other men, two of them white.

Meredith, whose enrollment at the University of Mississippi touched off a riot in 1962, continued the walk at the isolated spot for the second time where he was gunned down (from ambush on the second day) of his original march a year ago. "We remember that it wasn't a Mississippi who shot me," he told Alfred Dorkory, a candidate for Delta County sheriff in the Aug. 8 Democratic primary.

Sabotage Mentioned In Jetliner Crash

By VINCE CAROCCI
BLOSSBURG, Pa. (AP)—Amid reports of sabotage, investigators probing the still-considered wreckage of a Mohawk Airlines jetliner crash that killed 34 persons reported Saturday the plane had come apart in the air.

Based on the first appraisal from the scene, it is obvious that the plane came apart in the air," said Edward E. Slattery, safety information officer of the National Transportation Safety Board. "Part of the tail was found 1,000 feet from the wreckage indicating that the plane broke up in the air."

Mohawk spokesman in Utica, N.Y., replied "not necessarily" when asked if the evidence involved any particular passenger. The FBI said in Washington that it had no determination of the accident cause and no evidence of sabotage which would justify its entering the investigation. FBI experts said they were on the scene to help identify the victims. They were keeping in touch with local and federal aviation authorities, a spokesman said.

Judge Predicts Nationwide Riot Is Near

Judge Philip B. Gilliam, Democratic U.S. District Court, predicted a massive nationwide riot in the next few years. He said he is "a mystic" of juvenile delinquency and praised the "surge of decency" in the coming generation at the concluding press conference of the 20th annual Association of Idaho Cities.

He said he is not discouraged with young people. He noted the idealism of the young and the "surge of decency" which he had found in them. He said they received more education and had better communication than the older generation.

Among the commonly held myths of juvenile delinquency, he said, is a trademark of the problem. He noted that the troubled youth are complex beings, the problem is complex and has no solution. There is no "fast answer," he said.

Percy Wants Step-Up Of War Effort

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—Sen. Charles Percy, R-Ill., said Saturday that the United States in Vietnam is impossible and that there should be no further escalation of the war.

Percy, mentioned as a Republican presidential candidate possibility, declared at the same time that he is unalterably opposed to a unilateral withdrawal of U.S. troops.

The senator, in Dallas for a night and morning of talks, told a news conference that only way to solve the Vietnam problem is through a negotiated peace.

Meredit Begins Second March

Meredit looked at the wooded spot from which Norvell fired, then read newsmen a brief statement. "Why am I here? Meredit said. "I am here because my life's goal is to be a man — free, unoppressed man."

"Standing between me and my goal is the system of white superiority. This system must be destroyed." To destroy the system, Meredit said, Congress must treat of, free, to participate in politics, and free to enjoy the fruits of economic possibilities the nation has to offer.

Children Cheer Johnson, Kosygin Alike

By LEE LINDER GLASSBORO (AP) — The kids of Glassboro are impartial. They cheered Soviet Premier Alexei N. Kosygin Friday loud and clear. They cheered and yelled for President Johnson.

"Our youngsters are more aware of the world-situation than we give them credit for," he said. "They respect the Russian premier for his position in the world and they cheered him to make him welcome here."

This is a middle-class suburban college community, but very few college students were around. Glassboro State has finished its spring semester and summer school doesn't begin until Monday.

It was like a holiday crowd on a summer picnic. They bought ice cream on a stick and soda pop, balloons and toy planes. Women wore shorts, men light slacks and sports shirts.

Wind Gust Provides Surprise Rock Hunt

A gust of wind provided an unexpected rock hunt for Magic-Valley Gem Club members attending a meeting Thursday in the Times-News building.

A tray of faceted gems belonging to Dr. Elwood T. Rees was blown onto the floor shortly after the conclusion of the meeting, which featured several displays of faceted gem stones.

When Dr. Rees' collection of emeralds, rubies, sapphires and other gems scattered on the floor, members of the organization shed their shoes and, on hands and knees, recovered the stones and returned them to their owner.

Prior to the impromptu rock hunt, it was announced that the next field trip for the club will be with the Wood River Gem Club at Halley July 2. The Halley club will host the Wood River Gem Show July 24, at which seven local rock hounds plan to display their stones.

The program during the meeting featured a round-table discussion on lapidary, which includes various methods and equipment used for cutting and polishing gem stones.

11 Men Are Arrested At Cock Fight
GREENVILLE, S.C. (AP) — Eleven men were arrested on the outskirts of Greenville, Friday at a cock fight.

Law enforcement officers made the arrests after discovering a day-long "regional conclave" of game-rooster owners off S.C. Highway 250.

Officers said that more than 25 men were present. Several jumped out of windows and others scrambled over and through a fence surrounding the house. The owners had individual cages for their roosters in several pick-up trucks which made it impossible for officers to determine the number of cocks brought to the fights.

The men arrested were from Greenville, Spartanburg, Anderson and Pickens counties.

All In One Basket

There is something to the age-old warning of not carrying all your eggs in one basket. We are sure that those who are working the hardest to secure supplementary water for the Salmon Tract, the Oakley area and the Raft-River area are aware of this.

past Milner Bay and past Twin Falls and Shoshone Falls and its beneficial use is lost forever.

This old truism came to life again last week as H. T. Nelson, regional director of the Bureau of Reclamation, indicated that the replacement of the currently "hill" American Falls Dam is a sure thing, but there is really little hope that it will be any higher than it is now.

So now, perhaps, the "eggs" should be distributed in several "baskets" and planning should spread out in several directions. The possibility that the Indians will see the light and withdraw their protest should make the probe in the direction of a higher dam a continuing one.

But this project is really too big, and much too important to say "this is the way it will be and that is that." This just cannot be. All avenues must be explored—and open minds—must be ready at any moment to adopt the one that is most advantageous.

It's the water we want and we intend to get it. The shortest distance between two points is not always a straight line but the shortest way to water in this area is the Snake River.

And because of this the project should be all tied together to get that river water that is now going to waste. Whether it is available because of a higher dam or because of some other possibility is not the important thing.

The important thing is that it is available and it should be spread over the Salmon Tract, the Oakley and Raft-River areas.

The Times-News still backs the high dam concept but if that is impossible, because of one reason or another, then any other project that will get the job done has the support of this newspaper.

We need it. It is so simple to sit and twiddle thumbs just because it is necessary to travel a different route to get to the same place.

If the dam is not raised it will be disappointing. In fact it will be tragic. But aside from a tinge of disappointment there is really not much lost. If, ultimately, the water is flowing down the canal systems.

WASHINGTON — Citizens whose vigorous participation in Washington social life are illustrated by the various goings-on along Embassy Row undoubtedly have a collective sigh of relief at the intelligence that the so-called State of Kuwait did not sever diplomatic relations with Washington over the Arab-Israeli war.

By Arab diplomats. Until several years ago, Arab feasts and banquets were notable for their reliance on fruit juices and a ban on the martini. Assorted dishes of shish-kebab and kebabs that were served, always accompanied by plenty of good, fattening rice, and on the more festive occasions Western parties were courted by a panikin of sheep's eyes.

"I'll Run On A Platform Of More Help From The United States!"

MARQUIS CHILDS

Contrasting Temperaments

WASHINGTON — Two more contrasting temperaments that those of Lyndon Johnson and Alexei Kossygin it would be hard to find.

Kossygin by all accounts is cold, calculating, pursuing an undeviating line with stern and yet cautious resolve.

Because his brief is so weak Kossygin relied all the more on a broadside aimed at the "imperialists" backing Israel and, specifically, the United States.

The President has no precedent for the case he must make. What happened in 1963 is largely irrelevant.

Johnson enjoys no such happy eminence. He is deeply committed in another war where a half-million Americans are contending against a small power that dramatizes the role of David against the great Arab Goliath.

Russia's interest in developing a successful antiballistic missile system, which would also hit that balance if unmatchd by us, is further sign that the Reds are playing in earnest.

The current and recent historical evidence suggests that the prospect may be just the opposite.

In the face of America's immense nuclear might, the Soviet Union launched the Berlin blockade, spurred the Korean war, verbally threatened Britain and France with "rockets" and "volcanoes" in the 1958 Suez crisis.

ART BUCHWALD

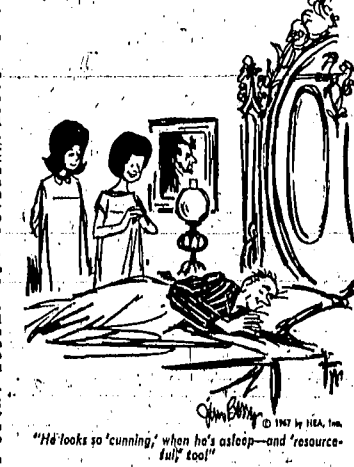

DeGaulle And His Hot Line

WASHINGTON — President Charles de Gaulle is a stickler for prestige, and as soon as President Johnson let it be known that he was on the hot line to Premier Kossygin during the Israeli-Arab war, De Gaulle immediately revealed that he was in touch with the hot line to the Kremlin.

While we know some of what went on between President Johnson and Premier Kossygin on their hot line, no one knew what De Gaulle and Kossygin talked about — until now.

"Hello, Premier Kossygin. This is President De Gaulle. How are you?" "Hello, President De Gaulle. I have just wanted you to know that I'm glad to see you."

MR. SPECTATOR

The Label Will Tell You So

This will sound like a mouthful before you get through reading it but we have something to discuss.

D.C. He had served as ranger in the Sawtooth area and recreation staff officer at the Sawtooth headquarters in Twin Falls before he came to the city to work for us.

It is getting so bad that the U.S. Food and Drug Administration is thinking seriously of having gun manufacturers list on each package the ingredients covered by the words which are now used.

Then Bob Bartlett, who used to be Times-News editor, who passed the California bar examination and was sworn in as an admiral to the California State Bar today, he left Twin Falls several years ago to go to San Francisco to work for the Chronicle.

Then, you will have to list sugar, corn syrup, flavor and one of them made. Which leads us to the point to say that this is really a mouthful.

We have seven kittens and a mother cat that must go. Doesn't a farmer need a family of cats? You can pick them up at 424 1/2 Ave. S., in Twin Falls or call 733-6620.

"Caution: Chewing gum may be hazardous to the Mental Health of Those About You"

We have a black and white cat and a mother cat to give away. The mother is German Smooth Coat. They love youngsters and would make good bird dogs if trained.

Dear Spectator: Here's an open letter to the merchants of Twin Falls. Do you let children sell your merchandise, whatever it may be, do you hire them to be visiting one another while a customer waits to make a purchase?

We have two black-and-white kittens to give away. You may see them at 1677 Kline Avenue or you can call 733-0955 and make an appointment with them.

Only a few days ago I went into a store located in the Lynnwood area to make a purchase. Three clerks stood behind the counter while one of them made an effort to inquire as to my wandia. After a few minutes, I just turned around and walked out of the store.

We have a yellow-long-haired cat to give away. We also have six kittens—four black and white, one black and white, and one black and white. They are all black and white. They are all black and white.

Dear Spectator: These mini-skirts a lot of girls are wearing to things for some and do to for others. I'm now talking about the ones which the skirts do nothing for except make them look terrible—and this group is in the majority.

I've only seen one gal who looked good in one of those short skirts and she was so young you didn't dare look a second time. Otherwise you see lanky and ugly knees, fat and flabby legs and you look not because you want to but because it shocks you.

FRIENDS: Keep track of where people go? Hard sometimes but don't every now and then the news gets around as to where they are. Jack Levin, for instance, is now a brand new U.S. Forest supervisor and hangs his hat at Cody, Wyo. He heads the Shoshone National Forest there and his wife and their family reside in the community. Two years ago he left Twin Falls for Washington.

High Skirts: I have three nine-weeks-old male pups to give away. The mother is German Smooth Coat. They love youngsters and would make good bird dogs if trained. They can be seen at 620 Eighth Avenue North in Buhl or you can call 845-4505. I surely hope some will be taken. They are as they would be lovely pets for a growing child. Mrs. Ray Zagala, Buhl.

High Skirts: I have a mother cat and three kittens to give away. You may see them at 1677 Kline Avenue or you can call 733-0955 and make an appointment with them.

Young GOP's Find New Darling In Reagan

By JIM DONNELLY
OMAHA, Neb. (AP) — The Young Republicans as he addressed the closing session of the national convention. The

There was little doubt Friday night that Reagan had won the Young Republican's National Federation has a new darling in the person of California Gov. Ronald Reagan.

group found Reagan and his philosophy right down their alley—as they did Barry Goldwater four years ago. Reagan tore into President Johnson's policies on everything from the war on poverty to the national nomination in 1964. But his listeners wouldn't believe him and chanted, "We want Reagan."

GRAND CHAMPION MARE of the Magic Valley Western Horse Show, Palm division, is stormy Petrol, shown by Lyle Wonderlich of the Rose Acra Farms, Twin Falls. The mare also won first place in a western pleasure event Friday morning. Named as grand champion Paint stallion after halter, classes Friday was Chief Joe Reed, owned by Glen Jackson, Sandy, Utah. The show officially opened at 8 p.m. Friday and concludes Sunday afternoon.

The California governor drew his first prolonged applause from the crowd estimated at more than 1,500 when he charged that federal bureaucracy has grown 2 1/2 times as fast as the national population.

He criticized national spending and claimed that the implementation of business-like programs in California had reduced the state's spending and could do the same with the federal government.

Reagan's views on the Vietnam war brought a standing ovation when he called for mining Haiphong harbor to keep out Soviet ships. He chided those who oppose escalation, saying, "To the man getting killed, the war is already pretty big."

Another standing ovation came when he called on the United States to seek a just settlement in the Middle East without the United Nations. Reagan said the current U.S. foreign policy "is leading us to the sorry inevitable end of the appeasement trail: the slaughter of a generation of young men."

"We backed down in Laos and thought we had bought peace. But we bought Vietnam," he declared.

He continued: "We can and must coexist with communism, but as a result of strength. And Communists must know that."

Earlier Friday, the admitted conservative candidate for Young Republican national chairman, Jack McDonald of Nashville, Tenn., handily defeated two moderates, Jim Betts of Ohio and Ray Cooper of Arkansas, to continue the control of the conservatives won in 1965.

Dotter Fancher, from Arizona and who had Goldwater's endorsement, won the co-chairmanship without opposition.

The convention refused Friday afternoon to amend a civil rights plank in its platform which indirectly opposed open occupancy and condemned civil disobedience. The liberal and moderate elements from the North battled for the changes, but lost to the Midwest, South and West, including the big delegations from California and Illinois.

PRESIDENT RE-ELECTED IDAHO FALLS (AP)

Raphael J. Moses of Denver, Colo., was re-elected president of the Western States Water Council Friday at an annual meeting which saw Northwest and South-west states opposing each other again.

Delegates from the dry southwestern states voted to adopt a set of principles for integration of water development in the West, but Northwest delegates voted the other way.

However, council by-laws said delegates must have 30 days to review any changes, so the recommended principles will be acted upon at the quarterly meeting Sept. 2.

A nine-month-old girl was shot and killed Friday at her home in Virginia, in south Blannock County, by a man of relative preparation for a hunting trip.

Berdine Risner, baby daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Norman L. Risner, was struck in the chest by a 22 caliber bullet. Corner Burton John ruled the shooting accidental. The rifle discharged while it was being loaded by a boy, reported to be a cousin.

The child was pronounced dead on arrival at Marsh Valley Hospital in Downey.

Samuelson Will Attend Conferences

BOISE (AP) — Gov. Don W. Samuelson will leave Boise Saturday morning to attend two conferences of governors and will be away from Idaho state for a week.

Idaho Gov. Jack Murphy will serve as acting governor in Samuelson's absence.

Samuelson will attend the western governors' luncheon in west Yellowstone, Mont., Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, then will go to Jackson, Wyo., for a meeting Thursday and Friday of the National Republican Governors Association.

He plans to return to Boise next Saturday.

CARS AUTHORIZED BOISE (AP)

HEARINGS SLATED BOISE (AP)

Protective headgear to be worn by all motor scooter and motorcycle riders among some 1,450 workers will be the subject of public hearings before final specifications for the headgear are set.

Law Enforcement Commissioner Warner C. Mills said dates and locations of the hearings would be announced when determined, in following the law passed by the 1967 legislature.

ELECTION SLATED KELLOGG, Idaho (AP)

A union representation election among some 1,450 workers at the Bunker Hill Co. will take place no later than July 21, the National Labor Relations Board reported Friday.

The NLRB order said the election must be held not more than 30 days after June 21. A meeting of the two unions involved and an NLR representative is planned June 27 to set the exact date.

The United Steelworkers of America seeks to merge the Independent Northwest Metal Workers Union as bargaining agent for the Bunker Hill employees.

Weary Arab People Cross Jordan River

BY GEORGE BULLWOOD ALLENBY BRIDGE, Jordan (AP) — About 5,000 weary Arab refugees crossed the Jordan River in 104-degree heat Saturday, their numbers sharply reduced apparently because Israeli authorities did not run bus convoys from Jerusalem on the Jewish Sabbath.

Refugees who reached Amman, Jordan's capital, said Israeli units were systematically destroying Jordanian villages along Israel's border after removing thousands of inhabitants by force, intimidation and trickery.

The villages are in an area from which Israelis say Arab guerrillas raided Israel before the war earlier this month.

An estimated 100,000 Arabs have crossed the river, the current true line between Israeli and Jordanian forces since the cease-fire more than two weeks ago.

Refugees said they doubted the Jordanian forces since Jordan held by Israeli troops were heading King Hussein's appeals to stay put, Hussein broadcast his second appeal Friday.

Jordan's policy of discouraging the exodus was underscored in the aid camps because of lack of shelter, water and medical help for the sick.

Antique Festival Theater Rehearsals Start

BUHL — Rehearsals have begun for the 1967 season for the Antique Festival Theater, at the Ramona Theater in Buhl.

DR. KENNETH ALBERTSON son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Albertson, Buhl, received the doctor of medicine degree at commencement exercises at George Washington University, Washington, D.C. He will intern at Wisconsin University Medical Center, Madison.

Ex-Buhl Man Gets Degree in Medicine

BUHL — Kenneth W. Albertson was among the 95 members of the class of 1967 receiving the doctor of medicine degree from the George Washington University School of Medicine, Washington, D.C., on June 4 when approximately 1,720 degrees were awarded at the University's 146th annual commencement.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Albertson, Buhl, Dr. Albertson is married and has one child, Janis Lynn, now 10 months old. His wife is the former Laura Richards, Cour d'Alene. He is a graduate of the University of Idaho, Moscow, and Buhl High School.

Dr. Albertson was coordinator of interns at Fairfax hospital, Fairfax, Va., and class officer in 1963, while a student at George Washington University. Interning at Wisconsin University Medical Center, Madison, Dr. Albertson plans a residency in internal medicine.

The first "company call" was held this week with 30 persons attending, including eight technical students, who are from throughout the United States.

Company members: Madi Brattler, Helen Gre and Brad Hickerson, all Twin Falls; Sue Galligan, Halley, and Ruth Perkins, Buhl, were on hand for the first meeting. The boys: Mrs. Bud McNeely, also veteran dramatist, has turned their basement bedrooms into a dressing room for school boys.

Mrs. McNeely will be part of the acting cast this summer. The eight scholarship students include: Mary Oppenheimer, New York City, N.Y., who has just finished her first year at the University of Colorado, and Serena Sorensen, another native of New York, who was graduated from the American Academy of Dramatic Art but now lives in San Francisco, Calif., with her husband, Phillip Dietz, who is also on scholarship with the Antique Festival Theater. Mr. Dietz worked for two seasons with the Gateway Repertory Company and was graduated from the American Academy.

John O'Connell, a junior drama major at San Francisco State College, has acted with the Cortary Players and has had two summers' experience with a theater in Carmel, Mrs. Marie Scott, a graduate of Northwest Christian College, Eugene, Ore., traveled for two years with the Herbie Players and now lives in Burley with her husband, Robert Scott.

Dennis Dagan is from Wheaton, and Nick Brezenko, Cary both in the Chicago area. Mr. Dagan is a student at the Goodman Memorial Theater School.

Mr. Brezenko is a junior drama major at the University of Colorado. Terry Higgins, veteran Twin Falls Playhouse actor with additional experience with the Dilatantes and Children's Theater, completes the roster of the eight scholarship students.

At the company meeting, Aidrich Bowler, producer-director of the Antique Festival Theater told the students, "One of the main reasons we have this theater is for you, this is a place where you can come and try your wings, fledging actors, at a variety of parts in a repertory of time-tested plays."

"The job is here for you to do, but never forget the audience is 90 per cent of the theater, by far the most important part. It is you who get them here and make them glad they came," he commented.

Rehearsals began Thursday on "Days of the Rembrandt" at the Ramona Theater. There are two weeks of intensive work will occur before the curtain rings on July 14, 18 and 18 when "Arms and the Man," "The Circle of Chalk" and "The Diary of a Scoundrel" will start the seven week-end repertory of performances.

Crew To Resume Work On New Reservoir

Undaunted by the tragic accident Thursday morning that cost two more men their lives, the crew of Crom Pre-Stressing Inc. will resume work Monday on water reservoir at Falls Avenue and Harrison Street.

R. L. Sutton, project superintendent, said cleanup work on the materials and should be completed by late Saturday. It will involve the removal of 60 yards of concrete which had been soured to form the beginning of the dome of the reservoir, and 450,000 pounds of gunnite which had been sprayed to form the shell of the reservoir.

Mr. Sutton said the contractor will proceed with construction with very little change in plans. He said the concrete rim of the dome which is attached to the walls as each section is completed will be a narrow band somewhat to cut down top and overhang weight. It is not known, he said, but the weight of the roof portion could have had something to do with the collapse of the tank section Thursday.

Insurance adjusters and contractors were being probing the remains of the dome section and roof portion Friday to determine any factors that may have contributed to the accident.

Herbert H. Thomas, 33, Twin Falls, was killed when he was struck by a minor faller but was back on the job Friday.

City officials said the accident, although tragic and a setback in the total water development project, does not affect the city financially as the city is not responsible until the project is complete and accepted from the contractor.

Actor's Trial Is Postponed

LUCCA, Italy (AP) — The manslaughter trial of actor William Holden, involved in a fatal highway collision last summer, was postponed Saturday until Oct. 26 to give the prosecution and the defense time to re-evaluate the damage claim.

Deputy Public Prosecutor Angelo Antoforno filed the amended charges of $125,000 to $160,000. Holden, 49, was charged with manslaughter after his car and an Italian car collided on a road from Florence to Pisa. The Italian at the wheel of the other car was killed, Holden was uninjured.

Mrs. Dilie Jean Mori, 520 Main Ave., W., was struck by a car driven by Judith A. Brown, 18, 441 Adama St. at 10:15 p.m. Friday near the Safety Store on Main Avenue and Fifth Street North.

According to Twin Falls police, the car was traveling west on Main Avenue when the accident occurred. Mrs. Mori was thrown from the car by an imbalance with a compound fracture of the right leg, a nose injury and abrasions. No citations were issued.

CLEANUP OPERATIONS CONTINUE

at the site of the city's new water reservoir as workers clear away debris to prepare for future construction. The section of the reservoir wall, first of five such sections to be erected, collapsed Thursday morning and killed one worker.

HE WAS AGAIN PROSECUTED IN LINCOLN COUNTY upon complaint signed by William E. Evans on one of four checks totaling $160. Attorney Phillip M. Becker, Gooding, was assigned as defense counsel and John R. Black, Pocatello, appeared on behalf of the family. Howard E. Adkins, Lincoln county prosecuting attorney, requested the sentence.

The Chiropractic Physician

By Dr. Ludwig C. Landwehr
Brain and spinal cord form the central nervous system which acts as switchboard in the complicated human body.

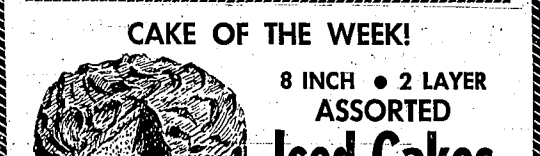

The spinal cord is contained in a canal which is formed by the vertebrae of the spine, properly aligned, throughout its length. The brain is connected to the rest of the body by a network of nerves. A "cushion" by one or more abnormally aligned vertebrae, or more weakens that specific vertebrae and make it susceptible to disrepair, or cause improper functioning, pain and possibly complete immobilization.

Farm Festival Is Held At Paul

PAUL—Chamber of Commerce officials Saturday termed Paul's first Farm Festival a "huge success."

One official said, "We were hoping for at least 2,000 people to participate in the event, and we were more than pleased to feed approximately 1,300."

The crowds, who queued up all through the parking lot in the new shopping center along Highway 74 in the city, consumed the 700 pounds of boneless beef that was barbecued on the occasion; but many had second helpings and no one was turned away who wanted a good "western style" supper.

Dedicated during the evening was the new center which includes 19 businesses, and a 30-foot bag pole in front of the Idaho Bank and Trust Co. which was donated by the bank, built by the Paul I. Equipment and Welding center furnished by Kloefer Concrete and erected by Stimpson-Wedding.

William C. Hall, Post No. 77 of the American Legion donated the flag which was raised to the top of the pole during the playing of the "Star Spangled Banner." Remarks for the dedication were given by the Baptist minister, Rev. Fred Penner, with the dedicatory remarks by the post chaplain, Marvin Loosgave a Sheldan pony presented during the evening, and Dick Drandon won a bicycle. Over 30 additional prizes were given during the festival.

The River Reelers did some exhibition square dancing and the crowds was drawn into the LDS church by showers Wednesday night.

Another festival is planned for next year when the same thing will be done. A youth dance at the Legion Hall concluded the event.

Demo Leader Confident On Ethics Code

WASHINGTON (AP)—Democratic leader Mike Mansfield of Montana said Saturday he was confident the Senate would enact a "straight-forward, simple, understandable code of ethics" this season as a result of the censure of Sen. Thomas J. Dodd.

"I think such a code is mandatory," the Senate majority leader said in an interview in which he declined to discuss other aspects of the censure action against the Connecticut Democrat.

Mansfield said he was certain that the bipartisan, six-member committee on Standards and Conduct, headed by Sen. John Stennis, D-Miss., would press the formal written ethics code for Senate action before adjournment. "I would apply to members and Senate employees," Sen. Russell B. Long, D-La., Democratic whip who served as Dodd's chief defense spokesman during the floor debate, stressed that there were no written rules on conduct by senators.

"I have some strong views as to what the code should contain, but in view of the fact that the Stennis committee has undertaken the responsibility of drawing up the code, I will not offer them at this time," Mansfield said.

"TRY A TASTE OF MINE," says Sandy Sharp, left, as she offers her sister, Debbie, a bite of her pie at the Unity Club's annual Pie Day social at the home of Mrs. Verlene Cherry, Kimberly. Debbie and Sandy Sharp are the daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Geno Sharp and were guests at the recent social.

CUTTING PIE and putting the finishing touches on all the luscious meringues, creams, fruits, custards and chiffons is Mrs. Verlene Cherry, Kimberly, as she hosted the Unity Club's annual Pie Day recently. Each club member brought a pie and each pie was cut so one could try a piece of each if she so desired.

PROGRAM CHAIRMAN, Mrs. Margaret Smith, left, chats with Mrs. Roger Thomas after a book review given by Mrs. Thomas at the Unity Club social. Mrs. Thomas reviewed the book, "I Hate to Housekeep," by Peg Dracken.

"THE YOUNGEST GUEST" at the recent social was 4-month-old Scott Sommer, son of Mr. and Mrs. William G. Sommer, Twin Falls, as he, too, drools over all the luscious pies.

A BEAUTIFUL ARRANGEMENT of red peonies caught the attention of Julio Deters, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ronno Deters, as she leans over to smell the bouquet. Mrs. Deters is president of the Unity Club.

Dozens of delectable pies turned the home of Mrs. Verlene Cherry, Kimberly, into a fair-land that tempted the most avid weight-conscious women and the absence of even a single calorie book made the Unity Club's annual Pie Day a delicious success.

And Pie Day it was. Do you know, I don't believe there were any two pies alike, and one large table completely covered with luscious meringues, creams, fruits, custards and chiffons is almost too much.

Each club member brought a pie and each pie was cut so one could try a piece of each if she so desired. Most of us tried only two or three—but had doubts on sampling more.

This Pie Day social is relatively new for the Unity Club and came about in a very odd way.

What started out to be a gala social event, where each club member brings a special guest and her very favorite covered dish, could have been a disaster, except for the unsurpassed imagination of women.

You see, most all members did bring their guests, all looking forward to an outstanding potluck luncheon commemorating the wife's Quilt Day. But what they didn't know was every club member, seeking out her "favorite" recipe, brought a pie. The surprise dinner cuisine turned out to be so successful and so enjoyed by all, that now

 The unit hosts Pie Day annually. One of the highlights of the recent social was a humorous book review by Mrs. R. O. G. Thomas. Mrs. Thomas chose the book "Pie to Houskeeping" by Peg Bracken.

Anyone who has not heard Mrs. Thomas is indeed missing something. She adds just the right amount of humor and keeps her audience's attention at all times.

Another point of interest in the club program was "minibests" thought put into the roll call topic, "Humorous Old Time Beauty Hints."

Among the guests introduced were Mrs. James Rosenbaum, Mrs. Inez Burkhalter, Mrs. Gene Glenn, Mrs. Clara Millon, Mrs. Helen H. Deters, Vicki and Susan Herzinger and Sandy and Debbie Sharp.

Margaret Smith was in charge of the program; Mrs. Eva Olson gave the club collect and Mrs. Louise Summer was president.

Officers of the Unit Club include Mrs. Benno Deters, president; Mrs. Louise Svehlik, vice president; Mrs. Gene Sharp, secretary; and Mrs. Max Ausdlin, treasurer.

Dear Abby

BY ABIGAIL VAN BUREN DEAR ABBY: You really opened your big mouth and stuck both feet in it when you advised the wife of the man who was brought up in the Catholic church and got fed up with it, to send her husband to a head-shrinker. Religion is so much superstition and hokum which, in itself, is a form of a "mental disease." Those who believe that a cracker, which comes out of a bakery like any other cracker, becomes the "flesh of God" when they eat it, are sick, not those who don't believe it. I could go on pointing out the absurdities of religion, but I doubt that it would do any good as most religionists are so completely brainwashed they can't think straight when it comes to religion. Religion serves a good purpose for people who need a crutch. But when they no longer need it, they are well, not sick. I always thought you were half nuts. Now I'm sure of it. NOT SUPERSTITIOUS

DEAR ABBY: You religious believers can make all sorts of remarks about us nonbelievers in the public press, but in the opinion of the nonbeliever it is never expressed without censorship or distortion. If there is truly freedom of religion, and freedom of the press, then a person has as much right not to believe as one has to believe. And the nonbeliever's opinions should be printed alongside the believers'. This is one letter that will never make your column, but I had to write it.

ANTI-RELIGIONIST DEAR ABBY: Just because a man has suddenly found out that religion is one of the biggest rackets going on, you say he's a mental case. And what do you base your opinion on? A poor guy got fired from putting food on the table and hearing his wife and kids thank "God" for it. I once knew a man who never rose from the table without thanking his wife for the meat. Would you send him to the head doctor, too? NONBELIEVER

DEAR ABBY: So now you are a psychiatric diagnostician yet I refer to the man who suddenly got this "thing" about religion, as his wife put it, because he refused to go to church, ridiculed her and the children when they did, wouldn't let the priest in the house, and when his wife said grace at the table, demanded, "Don't thank God for the food — thank ME!" With no more than that to go on, you say the man has symptoms of mental illness and ought to see a doctor. E.S.P. maybe you have, Abby? The man would have many a kindred spirit in a Unitarian

"The brilliance of a diamond is a symbol of the fire of love... the flame that burns forever without consuming."

You should live so long.

A diamond can be studded with carbon spots and still sparkle. Or be full of flaws and poorly colored and still glow like the eternal flame. So anybody who buys a diamond just because of its hot white fire is very likely going to get burned. The value of a diamond is determined by its color, clarity and carat weight, as well as its brilliant cut. That is why we evaluate the diamonds we sell to see if it shines on all four counts.

Teen-Age Fair Winners Can Vie For National Honors

FILER—Teen-age knitters and crocheters who compete in the Twin Falls County Fair September 9 for the first time will have a chance to vie for national honors as art needlework experts in the 1967 National Wool Needlework Contest, now entering its fifth successive year.

Announcement was made by Tom Shouse, secretary-manager, who stated the fair has again entered in the contest jointly sponsored by the National Hand Knitting Yarn Association and American Wool Council.

The new teen division, open to entrants between the ages of 13 and 19, was inaugurated by the contest's two sponsors due to the enthusiastic endorsement of knitted and crocheted fashions by the younger set, many of whom have taken to making their own.

The contest will continue to offer classifications for adult needleworkers also, but this is the first year teens have been given a special category. Both teens and adults can participate on the initial local level, which is the first step towards competing in the national judging, by submitting their entries for local judging at this fair's county fair.

In the newly inaugurated teen classification, entrants will submit sweaters, either knitted or crocheted. The sweaters will then be judged for first, second and third place awards, with the first place blue ribbon winner at this fair eligible to submit his or her entry for consideration at the national level.

At the national judging of the winning entries, three teen winners will be chosen for first, second and third places, with the first place blue ribbon winner designated as the Teen Grand National Champion.

The Teen Grand National Champion will receive a three-day trip to New York, accompanied by a parent or guardian as well as a special cash award.

In addition to the new teen division, there will be four other classifications, two each for knitting and crocheting in the 1967 National Wool Needlework Contest. These include nightgowns, knitted and crocheted, and sweaters, knitted and crocheted.

In all of these classifications there also will be first, second and third place awards given at the fair level, with all first place blue ribbon winners eligible for the national judging. At that time, national first, second and third place winners in the four classifications will be chosen, each of whom will receive appropriate ribbons and cash awards.

Subsequently, the first place winners from these four classifications will be judged for the selection of grand national champion who will receive a three-day trip to New York for two, and a cash award of $100.

The national judging will take place in New York in December, 1967, with the judging done by a recognized panel of art needlework authorities and fashion experts in both the teen and adult areas.

Following the local level judging at the Twin Falls County Fair, one of the first place blue ribbon winners in all classifications will be adjudged "Best of the Fair" and will receive a special engraved trophy.

Fair officials urge that all potential contestants give careful attention to appearance and other overall details before presenting their entries for consideration at the judging. There is no limit to the number of classifications entered by a contestant and the number of designs entered in a single class.

BEST BETS FOR MOVIES

8 p.m., 4, 7—"Of Human Bondage" (1933) Kim Novak tries to come off as a hard-boiled-cockney woman of ill-repute in this poor adaptation of W. Somerset Maugham's classic tale of a tragic love affair. Mismatched young Philip Carey, portrayed aptly by Laurence Harvey, and callous waitress Mildred Rogers, Miss Novak, are examined through the discerning eye of the camera as they carry on with the good life—a contented gaze upon her wistful beauty and the striving for cold, hard cash.

PROMISING SPECIALS

Producer Leslie Midgley says that "we tried to throw out the totally irrelevant things so we could concentrate on questions of substance." HERE AND THERE

8 p.m., 3, 4, 11—Big Valley, a popular series which has been showing us how a mother can show just as much love for an illegitimate son of her dead husband as she can for her own two strong, upstanding boys. The series has also been showing us how an illegitimate son of a fantastically rich man can naturally assume all the poise and sophistication of the father when, upon the untimely demise of said gentleman, the son learns of his true heritage. This week, the series shows us how aforementioned mother can show love for her beautiful daughter when said daughter undertakes to teach a Bible class in ye olde quaint town of her dead husband as she can for her own two strong, upstanding boys. The series has also been showing us how much she can love her bad-guy-son-by-taking-over-the-Church for temporary hospital uses. But then there are some people who just don't like to be shown.

Commissioner Defends Use Of Unmarked Police Cars

BOISE — Warner C. Mills, commissioner of the Idaho Department of Law Enforcement and acting superintendent of the department's decision to use unmarked cars for patrol duties. Mills said the claim of a representative of the Idaho State Automobile Association that a method "was a step backwards in Idaho traffic control" was unwarranted and without basis.

Said the commissioner, "It appears the automobile association's representative is suggesting that we follow a double-standard policy — advocating traffic safety on the one hand and then being critical of the means of promoting traffic safety on the other."

Commissioner Mills reminded motorists of the increasing traffic accident toll and pointed out that the department was following a suggestion of Gov. Don W. Samuelson, who authorized the use of unmarked cars.

The Idaho State Police will put into use July 1 the first of several unmarked squad cars used for patrol duty.

New Engine Rule 'Kick In Face' For U.S. Racers

Detroit (AP)—A ruling out of Detroit on the size of prototype sports cars racing for the manufacturers' championship may "kick in the face" of long distance racing, Carroll Shelby said Saturday.

Shelby, who's Ford-powered Cobra won the World Manufacturers' Championship in 1965, said "As far as I'm concerned it's kind of a kick in the face for America."

The International Sporting Commission, which sets the rules for the manufacturers' competition, announced the decision Friday. The decision was made in Paris June 13, just two days after a seven-litre Ford Mustang won the 24-hour Le Mans race.

Seven-litre Fords finished 1-2-3 at Le Mans in 1965.

A spokesman for the International Automobile Federation, the sporting commission's parent group, said the French government was concerned about the speeds—more than 214 miles an hour—reached by the Fords on the long straight.

Starting next year, engine sizes will be limited to three liters, or 183 cubic inches. Ford and Chaparral—the other major builders of the Chaparral—are running with seven-liter engines, 427 cubic inches.

Shelby said Ford and Chaparral were knocked out, since neither had an engine small enough to run.

"Jim Hall and Halp Sharp (builders of the Chaparral) are completely knocked out unless General Motors, which has been building their engines, wants to build a two-liter," Shelby said. "I imagine Ford will quit, too."

"The big Ford engine that we've gone over there and won with is very similar to the one that power passenger cars on the highways. It has push rods, like most production cars."

"We're looking at three- and made-it live and work which they said it couldn't be done. We learned something about building reliability into the type of engine we use every day," Shelby said.

"Ferrari's engine is a racing engine from the ground up. It consists of cutting down the engine size won't help. They'll just build lighter cars and they'll go just as fast," Shelby said.

Olympian Calls On NCAA To Relax Rules

EASTCHESTER, N.Y. (AP)—Dr. James E. Luck, who placed fifth in the 400 meter hurdles at the 1964 Tokyo Olympics, has sounded a call for the relaxing of college eligibility rules and the same time directed a barb at the National Collegiate Athletic Association.

"Our colleges, unlike the colleges in other countries, are ruled by a number of rules, regulations which restrict rather than encourage participation," said Luck at the Westchester Rockland Newspapers all-probs dinner. "One rule prohibits students from attending varsity teams during their first year in college. While pretending to protect the first year student from the rigors of varsity competition while he adjusts to his college life, the rule in reality is an attempt to control the overzealous coach who would try to replace his graduating stars with athletes of equal ability, recruiting them from outside the college without regard for their academic qualifications."

"The second unnecessary restrictive regulation is that which prohibits graduate students from competing with varsity teams. This rule does not exist at the English universities which operate on a much less formal basis than ours do. In England, the athletes themselves have a great deal of control over the regulations which affect them," he said.

Luck, who has just received his engineering degree from Yale, also took a swipe at the NCAA.

"The college disregard for the well-being of the student is characteristic of the management of athletics at many colleges and is the most noticeable and disturbing fact in the tactics of the NCAA and its attempt to usurp the power of the Amateur Athletic Union."

Peters Hurls, Hits Chicago Over Twins

ST. PAUL, MINNEAPOLIS (AP)—Gary Peters held Minnesota to five hits and capped a five-run Chicago rally with a three-run home Saturday, leading the White Sox to a 5-2 triumph over the Twins.

The Sox got all their runs in the seventh inning with Pete Ward doubling in one, Ken Berry driving in another with a sacrifice fly and Ron Hansen singling in a third.

Then Peters singled off Jim Kaat, who relieved starter Dave Boswell, driving in the final two runs of the inning. Boswell had led Chicago to just two singles through the first six innings.

Peters, 10-3, yielded Bob Allison's 10th home run with the bases empty in the second inning.

Harmon Killebrew singled home Rod Carew, who had single and gone to second on a wild pitch.

Singer, 2-3, struck out 10 while also breaking San Francisco's streak of six straight victories at Dodger Stadium.

Marichal, 10-6, allowed only five hits, but three of them came in the sixth inning. Parker struck out with a single, was bunted to second and scored on Davis' single. Ron Fairly followed with a double before Marichal pitched out of further trouble.

Nelson Lifts Burley Over Jerome 2-1

BURLEY — Gary Nelson's single scored Victor Rodriguez with one out in the bottom of the seventh inning Friday night to give Burley a 2-1 American League victory over Jerome.

It was Burley's fifth straight victory. Art Benavidez went the way on the mound for Burley to collect the win with a one-hitter while Ted Blake, who also hurled a one-hitter, took the loss.

Rodriguez started the seventh off when he lived on the eighth. He moved to second on a passed ball and to third on catcher Bob Ramsey's sacrifice. Nelson followed with his game-winning single.

Burley's other run came in the fourth, again scored by Rodriguez when he lived on an error, stole second and came home on a pitcher's overthrow. Second on a pick-off attempt.

Jerome scored its only run in the sixth when Scott Tilley doubled and scored when Bill Bubak lived on an error.

Burley will play next at hosts Valley Tuesday night.

Tryout Area Stars Clout King And Court 7-3

RUPERT — With Bob Matthews and Doug Pember, providing the key blows, the Magic Valley stars trounced the King and his Court 7-3 Friday night in a softball exhibition that was marred by inclement weather.

A crowd of about 800 waited through a 30-minute delay at the outset and were immediately rewarded when Magic Valley jumped in front in the first inning. A trio of hurlers, Clint Nelson, Ron Brown and Ross Ryeling, held the touring party to seven hits.

Matthews, who was three-for-four, opened the game with a single and Jerry Praegriter bunted for a hit. After a fielder's choice, Pember, who enjoyed a three-for-three night with four RBIs, tripled in two runs and scored seconds later when Lynn Broadshaw's bounce was credited.

Magic Valley moved out of year in the fourth when Matthews doubled and Pember followed with a triple. Pember scored on an overthrow.

The visitors got single runs in the first, sixth and seventh innings with Al Jackson pacing the attack with four hits, including a homer, and two RBIs.

McCarver, Maris Escape Injuries

ST. LOUIS (AP)—St. Louis Cardinals catcher Tim McCarver, hit by a tip foul in the third inning of Saturday's game with the Philadelphia Phillies, and slugger Roger Maris, hit by a pitched ball in the same inning, apparently were not seriously injured, a club spokesman said.

McCarver suffered a broken nail on the right index finger, and it was feared—the base of the finger might have been fractured. Maris was hit on the right elbow by a Larry Jackson pitch.

However, wet X-ray prints made at City Hospital indicated no fractures. The films were to be taken by Dr. I.C. Middleman, the team physician, for detailed study.

Quillo Queen Upsets Furl Sail In Oaks

NEW YORK (AP)—Quillo Queen, who set Martin Anderson back 492,000 as a yearling, broke Furl Sail's spell on the 3-year-old filly division Saturday with an emphatic victory in the $31,750 Coaching Club American Oaks at Aqueduct.

Furl Sail, who had won the Acorn and Mother Gooss on route to eight victories, six of them in stakes, in 16 starts this year, wound up a mighty tired fourth as Quillo Queen hit the end of the 1/4 mile seven lengths in front.

Second place went to King Ranch's Muse, with her 86-year-old trainer, Max Hirsch, watching the race on television from a hospital bed where he recently was confined with a mild heart attack.

Another 1/4 lengths back came Pepperwood from the Meadow Stable. It was another 1/4 lengths back to Furl Sail.

Jerome Crew Wins Women's Invitational

Three Jerome association members teamed with a Twin Falls woman to win the second day's best ball championship in the annual Blue Lakes Country Club Women's Invitational Friday.

The four-woman team fired a 132 in 12 strokes under women's par to pace a field of 76. On the team were Jane Rogerson, Edna Emma, Maxine Watkins, Jerome, and Edith McAttee, Twin Falls.

The second-place was the Sun Valley crew that also took money-out-of-Thursdays' competition. Shooting the 133 were Anita Gray, Margaret Struthers, Jane Mezell and Carol Serel.

They were tied with Margaret Wall, Spin Bill, Sun Valley; Katherine Neher, Blue Lakes; and Nancy Ferris, Idaho Falls.

The two-day event was separated into two different competitions with "no carryover" between the two days. The event was based on double best ball per team and no individual prizes were awarded.

Rouse Jailed On Resisting Arrest Charge

MISSOULA, Mont (AP) — Top-ranked light-heavyweight boxing contender Roger Rouse was jailed Friday night on charges of drunken disturbance and resisting arrest, Police Chief Joe Hood said.

Rouse, of Anaconda, Mont., was arraigned before a police judge Saturday morning and was released on $25 bond.

Rouse, who has signed to fight champion Dick Tiger for the world light-heavyweight title later this year, won a 10-round decision Friday night over Bobby Rascon of Tucson, Ariz., in Missoula.

Hood said a bartender in a downtown tavern called police and said Rouse was creating a disturbance. "Two officers answered the call and Rouse told them he couldn't be arrested for creating a disturbance," Hood said.

Five more officers were called and Rouse and a friend struggled ensued before Rouse was placed in a police car.

The tournament — last warm-up event before Wimbledon starts Monday — ended in a drizzling rain.

The men's title went to John Newcombe of Australia, No. 3 seed for Wimbledon, who defeated Britain's Roger Taylor, 7-5, 6-3.

Ryun Makes Pacer Obsolete In Establishing 3:51.1 Mile Mark

By FRANK O'REILLY
BAKERSFIELD, Calif. (AP) — Amazing Jim Ryun, without collaborators, wrote another lustrous chapter in his continuing series of world mile records with a 3:51.1 in the National AAU Track and Field Championships.

Ryun, the lean but powerful

Kansas, had set his own pace Friday night and did so in exemplary fashion. But it was the 20-year-old runner, after a blistering start, who had broken the 3:51.3 he ran last July in Berkeley, Calif.

Los Angeles dealer Paul Wilson claimed the two-day competition at Memorial Stadium with another world record — 17 feet, 8 inches. The Southern California sprinter wiped out the mark of 17 established by teammate Bob Seagren just two weeks ago.

But the modest, smiling Ryun captured the sentiments of the 11,000 fans who thrilled to his solo virtuosity.

"I wanted the pace to go a little faster in the first lap," said Ryun. "When it lagged a little, I decided to go out on the pace by myself. I knew it would be harder, but it was the only way."

"When I heard the times, I said, 'I would get the record,'" Ryun added but he lurched in a 55.8 third quarter, then sprinted away from the field, bringing the screaming crowd to its feet with his classic finish.

Ryun's quarter-mile splits were 59.2, 59.8, 58.6 and 53.6 seconds, with 57.7, 57.7, 59.6 and 56.3 in his 3:51.1 last year.

Incredibly, the next six finishers also broke the once-formidable 4-minute mark.

Jim Grelle of the Multnomah Track Club was second in the field in 4:04.3. Dave Wilborn of Oregon, 4:05.2; Tom Von Ruden of Long Beach, Calif., 4:05.8; track club, 4:06.9; Roscoe Divine of Oregon, 4:07.5; Sam Bair of Kent State, 3:58.7; and high school

Nicklaus Is Canadian Open Pick

MONTREAL (AP) — The $200,000 Canadian Open Golf Championship gets under way Thursday with Don Massengale as the defending champion, Jack Nicklaus the favorite, and Arnold Palmer the big drawing card.

A field of 156 of the world's best shot-makers including all the U.S. Open and Masters champions from the past 10 years — has been assembled for the tournament that ranks as the fourth oldest in the world.

Nicklaus, whose record-setting victory in the U.S. Open two weeks ago snapped a season-long slump, is the top-heavy favorite in the tournament that has in recent years been dominated by newcomers.

In addition to Palmer, Nicklaus and Americans in the field include Sam Snead, a three-time winner of the event, Frank Chapp Gay Brewer, Frank Beard, Doug Sanders, Bert Young, Dave Hill, Dan Sikes, Miller Barber and Dave Marr.

Charges Against Allen Dropped

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Felony narcotics charges against UCLA basketball star Lucius Allen have been dropped in Los Angeles Municipal Court.

Judge Valino Spencer ruled Friday that Allen had not been properly advised of his constitutional rights by policemen who questioned him May 23 after saying they found four marijuana cigarettes in his car.

The judge also ruled that there was no evidence that the basketball player had any knowledge of how the marijuana got in the car.

UCLA has waived disciplinary action pending the court outcome.

Santana Faces Aussie Threat In Tennis Meet

LONDON (AP) — Manuel Santana of Spain starts the defense of his Wimbledon tennis title Monday with a pack of Australians snapping at his heels and the Americans rated as rank outsiders.

Veteran Wimbledon fans cannot remember an All-England tournament in which the seedings for the men's singles did not include an American.

But that is "the position" this year and it comes on top of the heels and the Americans probably will not include an American.

But that is "the position" this year and it comes on top of the heels and the Americans probably will not include an American.

Wilson, who still holds the national prep record of 18-63, set in 1953, was understandably pleased about orbiting into national prominence. But the Downey, Calif., youngster was as realistic about his mark as pole vaulters must be in this space age.

"The 17-2? It could fall in the next week," Wilson reasoned after missing by inches on two of his three unsuccessful attempts at 18'4".

Cardinals Nip Phils 2-1 For Seven In Row

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Julian Javier's two-run single and Bob Gibson's light pitching carried the Cardinals' winning streak to seven games.

Javier rapped his decisive single off right-hander Larry Jackson in the second inning after Orlando Cepeda's infield hit, an error by second baseman Tony Taylor, and a walk to Mike Shannon filled the bases.

The Phils scored in the seventh on Rich Allen's triple and a single by Bill White.

Gibson, running his pitching record to 9-5, allowed six hits and struck out eight. He has beaten the Phils 13 times in 17 lifetime decisions.

Jackson, who yielded only four hits before going out for a pinch hitter in the eighth, struck out his eighth in 10 decisions.

Apperspach Pegs Rupert Legion Past Hagerman

HAGERMAN (AP) — Tom Apperspach limited Hagerman to two hits Friday night as he pitched Rupert to an 11-1 American Legion baseball victory.

Rupert scored in all but two innings in making Apperspach's duty easy and the winners added a five-run outburst in the top of the seventh. Highlighting the six-hit attack off foser Randy Carpenter was a two-run triple by Gordon Hight.

Hagerman prevented the shut-out in the bottom of the seventh. Kenny Barton scored Hagerman's only run while Larry Smith was trying to get out of the bottom of the seventh.

Twin Falls Times-News A-1

... FOR SWIMMING. The swimming pool becomes the summertime "house" for many Twin Falls youngsters as they swim, dive and soak up the sunshine.

... FOR COOLING OFF. A nice cool dunking in the City Park wading pool can do wonders for a small fry's disposition on a hot summer day and it's great adventure to wade out into the "deep" middle.

... FOR FISHING. The Perrine coulee, which runs through Harmon Park, is good for many hours of fun whether you are hunting water snakes or fishing for one of the quite respectable-sized trout.

... FOR SUNBATHING. The picnic tables in the City Park are excellent for this purpose as well as for eating. One of the popular diminutive dolls shares this young sunbather's fun.

Well, in between queries of "Mom, what can I do now?" they seem to find a great deal to pass the time of school vacation. The parks and recreation areas swarm with youngsters, some taking part in the organized activities others making their own fun.

Grown-ups seldom can see things from a child's point of view, but try to consider just what you would do with three months of free time. To most of us that sounds wonderful — but three months?

Most city kids don't have many chores and that leaves a lot of hours to be filled.

These pictures were taken during one afternoon driving around the parks and recreation areas of Twin Falls and they are merely representative, not a complete overall picture of the activities of the town's younger set.

Chores about the home or for neighbors and summer jobs occupy a great deal of time for our young people, but this picture story is only concerned with what they do for fun.

In addition to the spur-of-the-moment recreation stemming from the ever-active minds of the young, Twin Falls offers a wide range of organized activities to keep our children busy during the school vacation period.

There are scores of baseball teams for boys and softball for girls, for all ages. There are swimming lessons at the municipal pools, golf lessons at the municipal course.

There are baton lessons, gymnastics, dancing, tennis, drill teams, tumbling, even jump rope sessions.

Each park has daily lessons in arts and crafts. There are checker tournaments as well as contests in practically any game you can name in which young people participate.

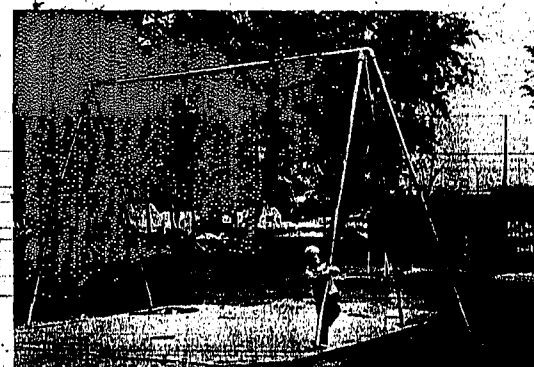

We hear much about the "bad" generation of today, and well we should because it is a serious problem, one to be deeply concerned about, but this page is dedicated to our young people who are still interested in the age-old pastimes of childhood and are so busy doing them that they don't have time to get into trouble.

... FOR BASEBALL. This game becomes the consuming passion for a great number of local boys as the City Recreation Department's program gets into full swing with practice games and tournaments.

... FOR TALL TALES. These two lucky boys can back their fish stories about their catch from the Perrine coulee. The park swarms with young people of all ages during these summer days.

... FOR SWINGING. The playground remains the most popular place for members of the younger set where a lot of fun can be had by just wandering about.

Fun Time!

... FOR BICYCLING. A bike ride is filled with busy adventures when you round up a couple of the guys and go for a spin through the town and surrounding countryside. Exploring has always been a favorite summer pastime.

Life in MAGIC VALLEY

Mrs. Annie Martin, 80, and still going strong, operates the Martin Hotel in EDEN. She was born Oct. 22, 1888, in Doniphan, Mo., to Mr. and Mrs. O. Buckley, and was the 10th child. Mr. and Mrs. Buckley made the trip from Tennessee to Missouri and Mrs. Martin when in need. Many people have made their home here for as many as seven years, two of them being Mrs. and Mrs. Guy Dixon.

Annie was married in 1908 at Diehlsdorf, Mo., to Lyvess Martin. They moved around somewhat in a gypsy way of life. She then came back to Idaho after various jobs and hardships and in 1935 she purchased the hotel which she thrived under her management.

Thirteen past members were guests at the Past Member Day at the Latawah Club at the home of Mrs. Clarence Hoffield, HANSEN.

Very interesting and funny incidents were mentioned in reminiscing during the afternoon by both the past member guests and present members.

Mrs. Lulu Sevrens, who was instrumental in organizing the club in 1915 with just four or five of her friends as a nucleus, gave some of the early historical events. She mentioned that Mrs. Pettigrove, Mrs. Baker, Mrs. McVey and she were planning to get together, but Mrs. Baker was called to California the day before.

They thought of the Southside Club, but later when searching for a name they chose Latawah, the Nez Percé Indian name for friends, following the suggestion made by Mrs. Sevrens's husband. For a long time they used the Indian salutation "Tas a may way Latawah," as their way of greeting to friends.

Mrs. Sevrens also mentioned that this was an era in which Indian made Battenberg embroidery, sometimes known as drawn work, and the members brought their work with them.

Mrs. Charlie Colner, one of the earliest members and also one of the first officers after the group broke up, stated she thought of the Latawah Club as a-Friendly club and remembers her many friends, gone, moved away, or still in the group.

Mrs. Ed Pettigrove, a sister-in-law of one of the charter members, herself became a member in 1920. She remembered the evening meetings for husbands and traveling to club in wagons because the roads were too muddy and bad for the early day cars, which some may have had.

Mrs. Marietta (Wall) Colner remembered that everyone took their children with them to the club; there were never any babysitters. Mrs. Arch Colner came to Idaho on her honeymoon and this was her first recollection of the club. She became a member in 1930.

Mrs. Charlotte (Willard) McMillan became a member in 1932. She mentioned many names of those who have gone or moved away. Mrs. Donald Dietz mentioned that she had always felt that she was a member coming here from the Midwest. She also remembered the first school lunches at school, which were sponsored by the Latawah Club members.

Mrs. Frances Gatterwhite always felt that it was home and friends, although she was not a member for long, as the taught school. Mrs. A. E. Gish mentioned that as a child and when her mother, Mrs. M. A. (Elsie)

Robison, was a member, she always felt that it was the "picnic" to be invited to be a member of the Latawah Club. Miss Elsie Lindgren stated that she had attended Latawah for 35 years and never paid dues. She was always bringing "mother," Mrs. Sevrens, and also giving programs. The club decided to make her an honorary member for her many thoughtful kindnesses to the activities of the club.

Mrs. C. C. Clarke, the member of the club the longest time, greeted the guests. She remembered that only one time at a club picnic they ran out of food. Mrs. Sevrens mentioned that one time at a potluck picnic, nearly everyone brought cake.

Mrs. Clarke gave a brief resume about the present day activities of the club.

A COMPLETE BLUR of both foreground and background of this photograph is a sign that the photographer moved the camera at the time of the shutter release.

THE COMBINATION of a still background and a blurry subject should tell you that your subject moved and not your camera.

This week we will explore the question of "What makes the amateur photographer's pictures fuzzy?"

The basic question of "what makes pictures fuzzy?" has a many complicated answers but by classifying it to the amateur snap shooter we can narrow the possibilities down greatly.

Some things for your fixed lens camera plugs to watch for are:

Be sure you don't shoot your flash pictures too close to your subject. A way you can check yourself is by looking at your negatives. If your subject is very black on the negative and the image is fuzzy this is probably what happened. A good way to prevent this is to buy a photolamp and Lighting Data booklet. It is put out by the General Electric Company and costs 10 cents. This booklet will tell you all you need to know about all types of flashbulbs.

More information is on the back of your bulb pack how to use your particular type of bulb.

Moving the camera as you take a picture is another common cause of fuzzy pictures. It doesn't matter how fast you push that shutter release your lens is still going to open and close at the same speed.

Just frame your picture in your view finder and slowly squeeze off a picture. The only way you can check to see if you are moving the camera is by remembering what you had framed in your view finder and see if that's what is in the picture.

If your subjects aren't in the center of the picture then there is a good chance you moved the camera. If it did.

The third major possibility is your subject could have moved as you took the picture. The only sure cure I know is to make sure your subject knows you're going to take a picture. You can tell if your subject moved by looking at the print. If the background is clear and the subject is blurry it was your subject.

One of the common problems for adjustable lens cameras is: Overexposing your picture because you didn't have the proper setting one way to cure the problems is get a light meter and use it properly. When using a light meter be sure to hold it four to six inches from your subject to insure the proper light reading. If your shooting a building front that is partially shaded, take your meter reading four to six inches away from the shady part of the building.

If you are having trouble with overexposed flash pictures, just follow the same corrective procedures as the fixed lens snap shutters do.

AS YOUR MINISTER SEES IT

Harold N. Nye, Minister of the First Methodist Church

More and more the forces of faith and devotion are dropping out of our lives. The forces of evil are joining together to work as a united group. And well we should. Need I remind the reader of some of the reasons why?

Uniting our forces is needful when one remembers the grievous moral sickness and decay of our generation. Alcoholism, narcotic addiction, corruption in business and in public affairs, decline in personal integrity and in social morality are rampant. Then in addition the breakdown of the home and family life.

Only recently J. Edgar Hoover reported a tremendous increase in our nation's crime over the last few months. This is so evident that it has caught the attention of practically every newspaper editor in our country, and each one is sounding an editorial warning.

Evilness—delinquency (the cause of which is undoubtedly adult delinquency) is increasing eight times faster than the population grows.

In the face of all these adverse reports we who would help avert the apparent catastrophe toward which we are headed must get together.

Then too, great changes have come into our way of life in the last fifteen years. Man has suddenly come face to face with ultimate questions about his survival.

We entered the decade in possession of the hydrogen bomb. It is now reported that the Chinese have also acquired the knowledge for the production of this kind of energy.

But more than this in the last 10 years we have become aware of two more threats to man's existence. One is the realization of what an uncurbed birth rate can do to us. Half the world now goes hungry. Every day 100 more babies join those already about the world's table.

The other is the sudden awareness that we have contaminated our environment, our air and our water resources, to a point dangerously near the catastrophic.

These are the urgencies that man faces on every hand. This gives an added incentive for uniting our forces. That sobriety and measured judgment may again be of influence. The current situation also inspires a greater determination to speak the words we can of hope in this troubled time. Our hope is beyond ourselves, for it is the Eternal.

Hope And Faith Are Solution

It is one of the major events of the shady part of the building.

Book Review

ANTIQUES YOU CAN DECORATE WITH George Grotz
The author asks, "Do you think this is just another book on antiques? Well, if you do, you are lead pipe wrong."

Here is a realistic guide to the use of decorative antiques in the middle-price range. It is accompanied by more than 400 drawings from photographs taken with the author's Polaroid camera.

They run the whole gamut, wooden eagles, brass birds, cranberry scoops, coffee grinders, earthenware, farm implements, "ancestor" paintings, sofas, tables, chairs, and many others.

It took two years travel in the United States and Canada to compile this comprehensive study, a humorous and well-documented account that does much to undo the myths, misconceptions, frauds, and just plain mistakes that surround the world of antiques today.

This book is a secret message! To be seen carrying it on the streets will put the bearer in danger from outraged antique dealers. Truth, a notorious hunter, is told about the antique business, and it hurts the pocketbook where antique dealers hurt the easiest.

Most antique dealers like to convey the idea they buy their merchandise from very secret sources, like little old ladies in New Hampshire who have been cultivating for years.

Today, there are thousands of middle men in the business called pickers. They find their stuff in areas of declining population and economic depression.

Beaches Are Golden Again On Britain's Coast, But There Is Little Shore Life

By GRANVILLE WATTS
LAND'S END, England (AP) — The once-fabled beaches of England again and the Atlantic waves roll freely over the Seven Stones Rocks, graveyard of ships off Britain's southwest coast.

But whole colonies of birds are gone from the shore. There are no limpets, no crustaceans, hardly any shore life at all, though holiday visitors are beginning to come.

Below the rolling offshore waves lies the cause of it all, the tangled wreckage of the British American-owned supertanker Torrey Canyon, providing still a major maritime problem: who pays?

The tanker spewed out millions of gallons of crude oil to the beaches of Cornwall and France after she crashed on the reef last March 18, and through thousands of troops and volunteers have done a fine job clearing the stinking black mess from the beaches, vacated by millions in the windows of guest houses along the Cornish Riviera speak for themselves.

Some say they still expect a 30 to 40 per cent drop in visitors this summer. The British government, which has officers in Hamilton, Bermuda, will battle against the British government's damage claim in Bermuda's Supreme Court later this summer.

Powerful detergents used to clean the oil, and the oil itself, have virtually eliminated all sea life close inshore.

Where the spraying of detergents was most successful, escapee has changed dramatically and somewhat tragically. All seaweed has disappeared from rocks, leaving them with a clean and polished look.

Plankton has been destroyed and battered useless things no longer wanted by his brothers and sisters, thus enjoying a subconscious security by being surrounded by dead piles of junk.

How to deal with the tricky dummies and to know frauds and fakes are interesting chapters. You find out that Johnny Coon, widely authority on antiques Women's Day, was unwittingly a victim of misrepresentation.

It is impossible to put a figure on the numbers—killed, but scientists say the whole balance of nature in the region has been disturbed—perhaps permanently.

In some areas of Cornwall, birds, you now can see only gulls. Gulls survived in greater numbers because they were probably able to regurgitate polluted food more easily than other sea birds and also they were able to feed inland.

Royal Navy divers who carried out a recent inspection said no more oil is leaking from the sunken wreck.

But although the oil has gone, the problem created by the Torrey Canyon is likely to become a turning point in maritime law on tankers.

The Council of the Intergovernmental Maritime Consultative Organization, after a two-day special meeting in London May 5, called for urgent studies of new precautions for ships like the Torrey Canyon.

These included the proposed establishment of sea lanes and a possible ban on the passage of large ships with dangerous cargoes through certain routes.

The Money Box

BY FRANK SCHELL
First letter this week comes from Mr. R. F. Twin Falls. He has enclosed a small copper coin and asks its origin and value.

The coin is a one Pfennig (penny) piece of the New Federal Republic of Germany (Western Zone). Actually the coin is made from steel, copper clad.

From Mr. L. B. Burley: Can you tell me if this money is worth something? I have some Austrian paper money from the year 1913.

I have one token—1 Guernsey. "Chambres De Commerce De France, Bon Four 50 Centimes." On reverse it says, "Commerci-Industrie." A woman sits on a chair on this side, and the date is 1928.

The column is writing you a personal letter about the rest of the coins you ask about. The column acknowledges the following letter from Mr. V. M. "Twin Falls" New stated last week someone wanted some nice Canadian coin: "I will sell 40 new 1958 silver dollars for $30.

It is probably true that many of the Canadian gold pieces will cross the Canadian boundary into the United States—legal or not—but our advice is still the same as it was in the column

Introduction Of Bighorn Sheep Termed Successful

A recent helicopter census of the California Bighorn sheep in Owyhee County located 56 animals. It has been reported by the Idaho Fish and Game Department.

Animals observed on the census included 32 mature ewes, one young ram, eight mature rams, three yearlings, and 12 lambs.

Norell noted that results of this census indicate three important points. (1) The sheep are able to live successfully in the area. Some of them have been there as long as four years.

(2) They have stayed in the area after they were released instead of straying into other areas. Forty-five of the sheep were found on Battle Creek within a few miles of the release site.

(3) There has been natural reproduction as indicated by the increase in herd size and the sighting of 12 lambs during the census. Without natural reproduction, no introduction can be considered successful.

Wheatmen To Attend Meet In Pocatello

BOISE—Executive director of the Idaho Wheat Growers Association Harold West said in Boise Friday that the Ogden Grain Exchange will sponsor a seminar in Pocatello next week which will give Idaho wheatmen an important opportunity to learn practical aspects of grain handling and the latest methods of proper grain grading.

He urged all area wheat growers and elevators to attend the one-day school to be held at 9:30 a.m. June 27 in the Pocatello library.

Mr. West said the seminar, which will be run under the supervision of the U. S. Department of Agriculture's Grain Division, will be conducted by T. Edward Butters, Chief Inspector of the Ogden Grain Exchange.

He indicated that the seminar will stress special application of grain sanitation laws which were recently revised and strengthened to afford greater protection to the consumer of grain products.

Compliance with these revised laws is important to Idaho wheatmen and this Ogden seminar gives us all a chance to learn up-to-date methods of grain handling, grading and sanitation from experts working in Ogden Grain's inspection department," he said.

Drop-Outs Find New Opportunities In Programs Of Women's Job Corps

By PEGGY LALEY
Times-News Feature Editor

The Economic Opportunities act of 1964 began one phase of the battle by our country to strengthen its most important natural resource . . . its young people . . . the future adults.

The Women's Job Corps was set up by this act and in the mechanics of its organization the Women in Community Services (WICS) was asked to take on the task of recruitment and screening of applicants for the corps.

This volunteer service organization was incorporated in 1964 by members of the National Councils of Catholic Women, Jewish Women, Negro Women and the United Church Women.

The focus of concern for this group has been to provide special efforts to assist young women at the bottom of the country's social and economic ladder.

Ms. John Ricks, who is a member of WICS and the local representative for the Women's Job Corps, points out that 20 percent of the young people in our country have not graduated from high school.

This is older people is applying because this is a day when skills and education are so "lutely necessary for a good job."

There are many reasons why our young people drop out of

Anglers Told Proper Care Of Game Fish

The proper care of game fish involves keeping it cool, keeping it clean and keeping it dry, fishermen have been reminded by the Idaho Fish and Game Department.

Each year far too many fish are lost because of improper care in the field. A few simple steps will insure a fine meal at home. Fish should be killed and cleaned immediately after catching. Cleaning involves removing the entrails, gills and the kidney tissue along the backbone.

At this point, the fish should be put in a cool, dry place. Although fish kept in ice water may not spoil, much of the flavor will be lost, and the soaking will soften the flesh. If wearing a coat, line it with dry grass and place the fish so they do not touch each other.

school. Most of them have the idea that they will be able to find good-paying jobs. Many of them feel it is ridiculous to waste time getting an education when there is big money to be had out in the world.

Too often these drop-outs find that this paradise of big money and easy living is non-existent. Sometimes it takes a while for this good-paying job. If they find it, they find out and the drop-out finds that desirable jobs—jobs with a future, require a skill; some require a college degree; all require a high school diploma.

The Women's Job Corps is a program which provides residential centers in many areas of this country in which 18 through 21 year-old girls have the opportunity to acquire the skills, education and the personal development necessary for productivity in this society.

The primary qualification for acceptance in the corps is that the girl be out of school and out of work. Usually they are school drop-outs who have found it impossible to get a job.

In the corps the girls receive vocational training in a field for which they show aptitude and also remedial education. The corps is not solely interested in providing the girl with a vocation; she is also interested in learning the skill to obtain and hold a job, but also the poise to get the job and to keep it.

Last week the first three Magic Valley enrollees left Twin Falls for the center located in

Civilian Jobs In Vietnam To Be Filled

Magic Valley residents having an interest in the welfare of the Vietnamese people, and who think they may like to work with an organization dedicated to the rehabilitation of Vietnam's people are urged to attend the Federal government interview Thursday and Friday, June 28 and 30 in Pocatello.

The two-day drive to recruit men and women for a wide range of civilian posts in Vietnam is directed by the U. S. Agency for International Development (AID)—a unit of the Department of State. A team will be sent into Pocatello to interview civilian specialists needed to help win the "other war" in Vietnam—the war against hunger, illiteracy, and disease.

Salaries will range from $6,500 to $19,000 a year, depending on the position and qualifications for the job. Up to a 25 per cent hardship bonus will be added to the basic salary, along with housing allowance, medical care and other benefits.

William A. Platt, Vietnam Public Affairs Chief, said that recruitment is being stepped up because the shortage of civilian skills in Vietnam has reached critical proportions and is hampering the civil action program in that country.

Applicants may call for an appointment on 222-7350. Persons living out of town may call collect. A temporary headquarters will be opened in the Pocatello Holiday Inn.

The positions for which persons will be interviewed are area development officers, vocational education advisers, economists, provincial agriculture advisers, public administration advisers, registered nurses, agriculture specialists, personnel officers, auditors and health education advisers.

Candidates must be United States citizens at least five years, be willing to be separated from their families for at least 18 months, and may be assigned to remote and possibly hazardous areas of Vietnam.

spring which emptied into a collecting basin. This basin was exposed to dust, leaves, birds and rodents had access to the water.

Since any of these things can carry contamination, the parks department with the advice of the South Central District Health Department has opened the spring source and placed collecting pipes in it. These have been sealed from air and the collected water is piped into the existing basin which is covered with a protecting structure.

This project has involved the construction of diversion ditches so that surface water cannot enter the collecting basin. A fence has been built around the area to keep animals and people from the water supply area.

The improved water is now piped to drinking fountains in the park below which are designated as safe for consumption. The health department warns users of the park facilities that all drinking water should be taken from these designated fountains since the sprinkling system is of irrigation quality only.

New Look

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Moshe Dayan look is hitting Congress.

Black eye patches like those worn by the Israeli defense minister and director of the lightning-fast military victory over the Arabs are coming to congress in the mail.

There's no hint to the sender's identity except for a Santa Ana, Calif., postmark.

Some recipients figure the "wls in Vietnam" card enclosed with each eye patch is a broad suggestion for the United States to employ Dayan's brisk offensive tactics in Vietnam.

We're Doing Our Homework so you'll always have lots of electricity

■ There has been nothing lachardaisical about the growth of power generating capacity on the Idaho Power system. In fact, it has been extraordinarily rapid, having nearly trebled in ten years. Next spring it will be some 40% higher than it is now. ■ This is solid evidence of sustained economic growth and development throughout the Snake River valley. Expansion of industry and agriculture accompanied by higher standards of living has dictated it, and electricity in abundance has been ready in advance of every need.

■ Planning ahead made it possible. ■ We've also been doing our homework on the power supply you'll need in years ahead—planning new generating capacity, transmission lines and substations. We'll make sure that electricity will never be too little or too late for area development or for the home appliances you'll want which haven't yet been placed on the market. ■ New power facilities requiring multi-million dollar investments will be needed for certain. Our engineers are up-to-date in their studies of new energy sources and techniques including the field of thermal generation. ■ You'll get the power you will need for growth. You can depend upon Idaho Power Company for that.

FEATURING THE LARGEST CARPETING SELECTION IN MAGIC VALLEY

By JEAN SPRAIN WILSON NEW YORK (AP) — When beatle John McCartney once was asked what he called his long hair, he replied, "Arthur."
"Arthur" is also a bright purple door on New York's chic
East Side, and the blackness beyond is punctured by glowing cigarettes and dancing pin lights from the ceiling. It is nimb watchers hunched on low stools—a restful—of sound, and frenzied bodies on a patch of dance-floor.

It is, in short, a discotheque.
Arthur is a rare place. Here secretaries and show girls in bizarre miniskirts and their bushy-haired escorts in vinyl suits and polka dot shirts mingle with the conventionally dressed: Jacqueline Kennedy and Mike Nichols, or Lynda Bird Johnson and George Hamilton.

It is one of the few spots where a girl can be complimented on her dancing without realizing how great the compliment is.

"I thought to myself, if that girl only knew that Frederick Ashton is choreographer for the British Royal Ballet!" said Sybil Burton Christopher, who reigns as queen at Arthur. Her night spot could be described as the personality cult of this petite, platinum-haired woman who made headlines when she lost
Richard Burton to Elizabeth Taylor.

"We were all surprised to find ourselves in this business," said Sybil in retrospect. "It started as a joke, you know. None of us had the slightest experience.
Opening night was frightening."

However, by sunset that night two years ago, New York's newest discotheque was already boiling with so many celebrities that Rock Hudson could not persuade the headwaiter to let him in.

At that time the so-called experts had already begun to toll the death knell for the rock 'n' disco business. Yet, with the exception of a few bad weather nights—the crowds have continued to turn up. Indeed, plans are now in the works to open more Arthurs wherever they can—Miami, Acapulco, Montreal, even staid Old Monaco.

By "we" Sybil refers to the 73
celebrity—socialites—friends such as Roddy McDowall, Edward Villella, Anthony Newley and Mike Nichols.

In lamenting over the lack of a swank and swinging watering hole like London's "Ad Lib," the group kidded each other about tossing a few thousand in the pot to start one, until the joking reached a "put-up-or-shut-up" stage. Suddenly these entertainment personalities had their own hangout—a sort of public private club. They came, and so did the celebrity oglers.

Since its opening Arthur has become less dependent on its famous name.

"Inverse-snobbery"—is what Sybil says has happened to Arthur. The regulars are young people who keep their cool about the celebrities. They leave Arthur to the tourists on Saturday nights, but drop in for a little while almost every night to dance and exchange news with acquaintances.
Incidentally, when Sybil set an anything-goes clothes policy at Arthur's inception, she hooked, in effect, a few million compliments for herself performed by the paying guests. Dresses are barer than bathing suits and sometimes sheerer than shades.
What men wear is equally as uninhibited.

No-Frost Units Are Geared To New Life

Calling the refrigerator the all-American appliance is almost literally true. In fact 99 1/2 per cent of our homes wired for electricity have one. More than one-third of the refrigerators in use are, hopefully inadequate for our modern way of life. They have only half the space needed for fresh food and no space at all for the safe preservation of frozen food. The necessity of the chop and mop of defrosting, every week or so, puts the old-fashioned refrigerator high on the homemaker's list of most-bated chere matters.

More than two-thirds larger than the former models. And this feat has often been achieved without increasing the outside dimensions of the appliance. This seeming magic is accomplished by thin walls of strong material and high-efficiency insulation.

On the average about one-third of this expanded capacity is devoted to a true zero-degree freezer. This freezer section is just as capable as a separate freezer when it comes to storing frozen foods for months and to fast-freezing fresh foods. Freezer sections can be obtained with capacities of more than 11 cubic feet.

No matter how big or new your refrigerator-freezer is, it is an obsolete unit unless you are sure to get the no-frost feature to both the refrigerator and the refrigerator. Identical appearing models are sold with and without no-frost, so be sure you know what you are getting.

Just what do the new refrigerator-freezers offer the homemaker?

Take the all-important matter of food-storage capacity. The capacity of the new units is now from about one-third to twice the capacity of the old units. The new units are now from about one-third to

Steel Helps Lower Price Of No-Frost

The U.S. Bureau of Labor Statistics keeps a complete score-keeping record of living. It is in the form of an index with the base number of 100 for 1957-59. The index tells a dramatic story about the cost of refrigerators and freezers.

Convenience features abound in Admiral no-frost refrigerator-freezer. Clockwise, starting above, are swing-up retainer-juice shelves, tilt-out juice-can dispenser, cantilever shelves and meat and egg keepers, party ice bucket, adjustable door shelves and dairy compartment.

In 1947 the index figure covering all consumer items was 77.8. Eighteen years later it stood at 119.8. The comparative refrigerator and freezer figures were 144.3 and 86.2. No, the latter figures are not reversed. The appliance cost has gone down 58.1 index points since 1947.

One of the reasons for this achievement, of course, is the design, production and marketing genius of the appliance manufacturers. Another reason is the ability of the makers of materials going into appliances to improve their product and lower costs.

Time Saved By No-Frost

Quick-frozen convenience foods and their built-in maid service are helping homemakers everywhere save time and money in meal preparation. Save time you believe, but save money, hmmm?

ly than the U.S. Department of Agriculture. They say that we spend $14.03 of every $100 of our food budget on convenience foods. The same food bought fresh would cost $15.10, or $1.07 more than ready-to-serve. And that doesn't include anything for your time or labor.

prelate the benefits of frozen convenience foods, for many they make a vital difference in the way people live. Included in this group are such people as the mother of small children, the working wife, the handicapped or elderly who can't cope with meal preparation from scratch, and the person living alone who finds it difficult to buy small quantities of food.

Ways Listed To Determine Size Needed

How big a no-frost refrigerator-freezer do you need? Consider your family. A rule-of-thumb used by experts is: four cubic feet of refrigerator space for two adults, plus two cubic feet for each child, plus two cubic feet for entertaining needs. Freezer requirements are more variable, ranging in urban areas from 1/2 to four cubic feet for each family member, to five or six cubic feet in rural areas.

New Dimensions Listed In Refrigerator-Freezers

Many pressures have created the demand for more and more capacity in no-frost refrigerator-freezers. More and more kinds of frozen foods are being eaten for one thing. Once a week food shopping is the norm with many families. This in turn requires miniature supermarket facilities at home. Supermarket bargain specials in meat and other perishables mean money saving where it counts—in the food budget. The family's biggest expense in meat and other perishables, of course, is the refrigerator. To meet these capacity challenges, refrigerator-freezer designers have moved into new dimensions, as well as almost magically increasing the capacities of the conventional models. Maximum capacities in the conventional no-frost refrigerator-freezers now approach 18 cubic feet in top-freezer models and 19 cubic feet in bottom-freezer models.

The designers' answer to the demand for even more capacity was a new type that for all practical purposes joined a family-size freezer side-by-side with a full-size refrigerator. Capacities in these side-by-side range to about 18 cubic feet in the refrigerator section and 11 cubic feet in the freezer section for a total capacity of more than 29 cubic feet for the unit.

The side-by-side features maximum accessibility to frozen foods through a full-length door. This feature has become so popular that side-by-sides are offered in capacities as small as about 18 cubic feet. These models fit in the same 32 inches of counter-front space as conventional models.

The amazing part of this interior-space revolution is the fact that a 1962 model that was 22 inches wide had a capacity of only 10 cubic feet. To a large degree, this achievement is due to thin walls of strong steel that are filled with foam that has the same insulation ability as other materials twice as thick.

Another new dimension in no-frost refrigerator-freezers is the recently introduced French-door type. These feature a refrigerator section with doors that open from the middle. This eliminates the choice of right-or-left-hand doors and requires only half the swing space of a full door. The French-door type is offered with top or bottom freezer. The bottom freezers swing out, or roll out.

Ice Maker Top Option In No-Frosts

Since the early developers of mechanical refrigeration discovered that their units were capable of freezing a small amount of ice while refrigerating the food, the ice cube has been an integral part of American life.

Also an integral part of American life has been the icy tenacity with which the ice-cube trays stuck to their shelves and the cubes themselves stuck to their trays. Then, of course, there were the loud family discussions over who neglected to fill the trays, to say nothing of the exhortations to be careful as one tried to balance a brimming tray between sink and refrigerator.

Penny A Day

You may have heard that a new refrigerator-freezer with the no-frost feature costs a lot more to operate than one without this convenience.

To test the truth of this report, an independent organization compared refrigerator-freezers in the 14- to 18-cubic-foot range. The appliances were identical, except that one group had the no-frost feature and the other group didn't.

The tests showed the no-frost feature costs 29 cents to 51 cents per month to operate. This means it will cost only one cent to one and one-half cents a day to be relieved from ever having to defrost again.

No-Frost Feature Is Explained

By FRAN SHERIFF

A new refrigerator - freezer can change your entire way of life. Exaggeration? Not at all. Unquestionably the freezer has done more to expand the American menu than any other appliance. Everything from lobster Newburg to blueberry pie or creamy macaroni, or unbaked loaves of bread can form the basis of a family meal—or add the extra touch guests will remember with pleasure.

In addition to the profusion of menus any homemaker can create as she ticks off her list against the supermarket freezer contents, a modern freezer makes it possible to "file" away casseroles, cakes and casseroles of your own making. There is always an evening when you may not have the time or inclination for doing any kind of cooking.

How nice to be able to turn on the oven and relax until delightful aromas wafting from the kitchen notify the entire family that it's time to wash hands before dinner!

This kind of freedom and flexibility requires modern equipment, pre-planning and organization use of equipment and shopping time. The new no-frost refrigerator - freezers provide the zero freezing temperatures necessary if food is to be stored safely for longer than a few weeks. Of course, it is much easier to find and identify foods in a no-frost freezer because there is no unsightly build-up of ice on the food packages.

One of the big things about the new no-frost refrigerator-freezers is that they are big enough to take full advantage of the convenience of frozen foods and regular refrigeration to a greater extent than ever there is no unsightly build-up of ice on the food packages. Larger items, such as turkeys or large roasts, and not be confounded by the fact that they are big enough to take full advantage of the convenience of frozen foods at peak of goodness.

Some refrigerator sections offer shelf adjustability, too, for tall bottles and the other odd-sized items found tipped hither-skelter in older, smaller refrigerators.

Most families really need more space in order to save shopping time by stocking up on more than a few days' supply of food at a time. Larger, more adaptable refrigerator-freezer space results in better planned meals, better use of preparation time, and less shopping time.

Size—To keep pace with the refrigerator and freezer requirements for our food-hungry cities are edging up to nearly twice the accepted space of only a few years ago.

Foods That Women Can Freeze Listed

What kinds of foods can you freeze in your no-frost refrigerator-freezer?

It is much simpler to mention the foods you can't freeze, and the list is short. It includes frozen meats, but not with eggs whites in the frosting. Freeze the cake before you wrap it. Keeps well for four to six months.

custard pies and those with meringue. Among the foods many people think cannot be frozen but which can be, very successfully, are:

Milk. Stored in original container it stays fresh for about a month.

Butter and margarine. Keep in the original package and wrap with foil or film. Keeps for six months.

Frosted cake, but not with egg whites in the frosting. Freeze the cake before you wrap it. Keeps well for four to six months.

Hard and semihard cheeses. Cut in half-pound pieces and use in three to five months.

Cured meats. Smoked ham and cured pork sausage keep about two months. Bacon is good for four weeks, but frankfurters should be used within two weeks.

Go light on spices and seasonings. Freezing weakens some and makes others stronger. It is best to do final seasoning when reheating.

The secret of the refrigerator-freezer's success is in fact that it has separate doors to the refrigerator and freezer compartment. All refrigerator-freezers have two doors, and at least two new models have three doors. Separate doors allow the freezer to be maintained at 0 degrees and the refrigerator to average about 37 degrees.

The newest trend is to maintain different parts of the refrigerator section at temperatures that best suit the kinds of foods stored there. It has been found, for instance, that fresh meat will stay in perfect condition for a week if the meat part is kept just above freezing.

Another refrigerator-section development is a moist-cold compartment that uses solid-state controls to keep uncovered food and leftovers from drying out. The large moist-cold compartment is formed in the refrigerator by a glass shelf and a vinyl seal on the door.

The two top features of the new refrigerator-freezers are no-frost and the automatic ice maker. Other new features to consider include a light in the freezer section, deep door racks for swing-out or roll-out freezer baskets, can-dispenser racks, thermal insulation, decorated front or changeable door panels, and separate cold controls in refrigerator and freezer.

The old war cry about having to spend entire days slaving over a hot stove won't be valid anymore.

If your family appreciates baked goods, you can save your self future time and trouble by baking six pies at a time, storing in your freezer, what you don't use immediately.

With a freezer, there's no longer a need for time-consuming canning to preserve your foods. Every day we hear of more foods being prepared in frozen form for the extra enjoyment of freezer owners. Virtually any food can be frozen successfully.

A no-frost refrigerator-freezer means a lot of things—fewer shopping trips, decreased food bill and more efficient housekeeping are some. But most important, it means freedom from drudgery for you, and simpler meals and leisure time for you and your family.

IT DOESN'T TAKE a Howland to get a week's food shopping in a modern no-frost refrigerator-freezer. The 20.5 cubic foot General Electric. Full-length side freezer gives maximum accessibility.

SAFETY GAINED THROUGH FINESSE
H. St. John Ingram of Kent, England, writes with typical British understatement. "Here is a rubber bridge hand of considerable interest. The queen of diamonds held the first trick and his jack the second. East playing the four and deuce. West made an error. He should Declarer made his error at trick four. His first two leads should have been the ten. This would leave a sure extra entry to dummy and he would have made the hand in spite of the use of either black suit to break evenly.

We can't agree with Mr. Ingram's criticism of West's failure to lead a heart since we can visualize lots of situations where he would be dropping the king-king-jack-ace sequence. But we do admire his suggestion of how South should have played the hand. On the other hand the suggestion play is one of those safety plays that don't appeal to us. It would be suicide against a 5-1 club break and singleton queen of spades, as an example.

We sort of favor a compromise play. South should cash the ace of spades at trick four, enter dummy with a club at trick five and lead a low spade to his ten at trick six. He wouldn't mind losing to a doubleton queen of spades in the West hand but he would still have his two entries to dummy. The only way this play could lose would be for West to hold three spades to the queen-and-return-the-suit-when-he got in.

has shifted to the king of hearts. East was marked with the ten of diamonds and the only hope for the defense was to collect either two heart tricks or one heart and one trump. Anyway, West led another diamond. Declarer ruffed and played ace and ten of trumps. His idea was to win the expected heart return, cash two clubs, ruff a low club, enter dummy with the jack of trumps and discard both heart losers on the last two clubs.

East was no fool and led a trump right back. Declarer could only discard one heart and lost four tricks.

Todays Question
West passes and your partner bids three diamonds. What do you trump back? Declarer could only discard one heart and lost four tricks.

He Hid With Friends; How To Make Amends?

Dear Eile and Walt: My parents are and faced by a diamond. Tell me, are unreasonable to my him, "Don't love you, but I'm friends. My parents think they not ready to say now whether know everything, but they don't. It's Smith's daughter, long since. Because I ran away from home surprise is an engagement ring, for a week, and my friends please cancel it. I simply can't help hide me, my parents say make any promises about the ring. I can't have anything to do with it. I am, and what I want out of that if my friends hadn't. That means waiting until helped me, I would have ended I'm on my own, and not just up living with my parents who is not quite right. So really my friends kept me out of trouble. If you stress your affection for Elv, can I make my par- friend of my life, he'll not feel sliced out of your life—Eile.

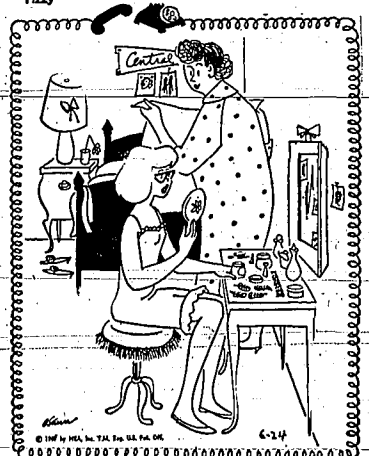

NO KISSES, NO SECOND DATES
Dear Vincent: Your parents must have been terribly worried about you. It will take time for their friend to fade. Let things rest for two weeks, and concentrate on being a good boarder at home. Do your chores, be pleasant, and don't lie. Then tell your parents that you are in an uncomfortable spot, that if they hadn't taken care of you, you might have gotten into serious trouble. Tell them why your timing and behavior are right, your parents will listen and possibly lift the ban. We'll cross our fingers with you.

FEARS PROPOSAL
Dear Eile: I am a girl of 15 and have been going with a guy for eight months. I love him very much. My problem is that he says in five months he is going to have a surprise for me and him—probably someone else in the future. I have talked this over with other girls at school and they said he is probably going to ask me to marry him. He is 18 and going to graduate this year.

BABS
Horrible thought: In another 20 years the United States will be covered in cost-of-living parking lot, traversed by 12-lane turnpikes!

YORK SYLVESTER

There's Refrigerator-Freezer In Any Style Or Size To Suit Every Family

Everywhere during June you will see Dagwood Burnstead and his family—comic-strip family urging you to "Buy Big—Buy No-Frost."

Dagwood and Blondie are joining manufacturers, retailers and U.S. Steel in a month-long campaign to show families all the new wonders of food preservation.

It's quite a story. The little round-shouldered box in the kitchen is a thing of the past. Now, there is a choice of a variety of styles and sizes to suit any family's appetite and esthetic sensibilities.

The thing nearly all the new refrigerators have in common is the blessing of no defrosting ever. It's true. If you are sure to get the no-frost feature in the freezer as well as the refrigerator, you'll never have to go through the periodic torture of defrosting ever again.

With the no-frost business firmly in mind, you can let yourself go when it comes to size, style and color. While no-frost refrigerator-freezers vary in size from about 11 cubic feet to nearly 30 cubic feet, they all share one vital characteristic: the refrigerator and freezer sections are separated from each other and are reached through separate outside doors.

MOIST-COLD compartment of Frigidaire no-frost refrigerator-freezer, at top of unit, is formed by glass shelf and vinyl seal on door. Solid-state controls prevent drying out of uncovered food.

MEAT KEEPER of Amana no-frost refrigerator-freezer is cooled by separate air path, without blowing on the meat itself, can keep meat pan as much as 10 degrees colder than rest of refrigerator.

Side-By-Side Combinations Are Bigger

More and more families are taking advantage of the unique opportunity to buy a family-size freezer and a full-size refrigerator in one unit.

Side-by-sides offer the largest capacities in refrigerator-freezers, as well as savings in first cost and operating expense. All of these units offer maximum accessibility to the frozen foods.

Most have full-length doors to the refrigerator and freezer compartments. Some models now have three separate compartments with doors. In one of these models there is a separate compartment for the ice maker.

In another there is a compartment that converts from freezer to refrigerator at the flick of a switch.

All compartments in all models are no-frost.

EASY DOES IT

To get the meat of a Brazil nut out in a single piece, freeze them first and crack the shells while still frozen.
