Magic Valley Heads Toward Jet Age As Interim Airport Board Organizes

By O. A. GUS KELKER
Times-News Executive Editor

Magic Valley's initial "big step" toward entering the jet age of flight had been taken Friday and indications were that the future of the area, in the not too distant future, would be able to make the entry a fact.

The important step was the organization of an interim board of trustees at a session held at Wood's Cafe in Jerome Thursday noon.

But even this organization meeting, which gets things rolling toward formation of a regional airport authority and the building of a regional airport, was not without an uncertain outlook which will have to be settled by an opinion from the office of the attorney general.

Senate Bill 166, which permits the establishment of the authority by vote of the electors of eight Magic Valley counties, is not too clear in a couple of instances and the opinion will be asked to establish clarification.

In no instance it is not clear if electors of a county can vote themselves out by failing to reach a majority in favor, although the overall eight county vote is highly in favor.

In the other, it is not clear as to whether the five per cent of the electors of each precinct needed to bring the issue to a vote, means that if one precinct fails in this five per cent total the entire issue falls or if the majority of the precincts will carry it in favor.

With these two parts of the law clarified, the interim board will get moving.

The five board members were appointed by Aeronautics Director Chet Moulton under terms of the law.

The members are Neil Weir, Rupert, who was named chairman at the organization session; Dr. L. V. Reubel, Jerome; Warren Barry, Twin Falls; Ed Novacek, Buhl, and Blaine Curtis, Burley.

Advisory alternates who will sit in on the board meetings are Ben Jewell, Ketchum; Jim Wilkins, Gooding, and Frank Titus, Jerome.

Board members and alternates have set the first regular session for July 10 at the Holiday Inn in Twin Falls with a dinner session starting at 7 p.m.

To the interim board members will fall the task of establishing a formula for the degree of financial participation in a regional airport authority. They will have to establish a formula for the degree of financial participation by each county and name the site for such an airport.

Board members and alternates will also be asked to vote on the matter was called for voting by the electors.

The method of forming the regional authority is really not complicated.

A petition signed by not less than five per cent of the electors from each voting precinct in the region must be secured and the signatures must be verified by members of the county commissions in each county. When verification of the signatures, if the five per cent is reached, the state department of aeronautics shall advise the respective county commissions of the date of the election which would create such district.

After such election carried out, the next succeeding primary election, the electors of AIRPORT BOARD, P. 2, C. 7

Miss Israel

JERUSALEM (AP)—A 19-year-old Israeli girl, Miss Israel, was chosen in a beauty contest in Jerusalem Thursday and was crowned by Jerusalem Mayor Teddy Kollek.

Israel's representative to an international contest at Long Beach, Calif., later this year has light brown hair and green eyes; measures 30-24-36; weighs 121 pounds and stands 5 feet, 8 inches tall.

Court Rejects Bid To Oust Cenarrusa

BOISE (AP)—Third District Court today rejected Idaho's request to state removed from office.

Judge J. Ray Dutschel ruled no evidence was presented to show that Secretary of State John Cenarrusa had failed to perform his duties properly.

Testimony was presented in court, Dutschel said, showing that (Gene G. Milleck was shown all documents dealing with his efforts to recall U.S. Sen. Frank Church.

Dutschel said his decision was based on three points:

- He could find nothing in the law which required the secretary of state, or any other public official, to make public all correspondence involving his office.
- If there was such a law, it would require that Cenarrusa had provided Milleck with copies of the letters involved.
- The demand was justified, regardless of whether evidence had been presented, because Idaho statutes provide that if a state official is to be removed, the removal must be accomplished by impeachment, not by a removal action such as Milleck instituted.

Mr. Doris Whitaker, deputy secretary of state, testified also showed copies of letters and attorney general's opinions to Milleck.

Decision Pending On Court Annex Appeal

Attorneys Michael Felton and Lloyd Webb, who appeared Thursday morning before the Idaho Supreme Court in a show cause hearing in regard to the County Judicial Building suit, said Friday they expect a decision by the state's top judicial body sometime next week.

The attorneys were asked to present information during the hearing on a request for a temporary injunction against the county requested by 10 area general contractors, who hope to start construction on the county's building.

A district court decision was rendered in favor of the county and contractors have appealed the decision to the supreme court, asking a temporary injunction to halt work on the building, pending action on the appeal.

Work is going ahead full speed on the building in the meantime with plumbing and electrical work scheduled prior to flooring and wall construction.

Prosecuting Attorney Michael Felton said Friday the information presented by the county and contractors Thursday was taken under advisement by the court.

Warplanes Stage Hit On MIG Airfield

SAIGON (AP)—American warplanes chipped up portions of a MIG airfield west of Hanoi and blasted two supply targets on the outskirts of Hanoi Thursday.

U.S. headquarters reported pilots flew 152 missions over North Vietnam, the heaviest directed at supply facilities ringing North Vietnam's capital and its major port city.

Ground fighting in the South amounted to only scattered skirmishes.

The military actions were far overshadowed by the surprise withdrawal of Premier Nguyen Cao Ky from the presidential election race and his agreement to run for vice president on the ticket of his chief military rival, Lt. Col. Nguyen Van Thieu.

Navy jet bombers from carriers in the South China Sea sank a petroleum storage barge and supply transshipment truck, both about 2½ miles west of Haiphong.

Freeman Lists Wheat Shares

WASHINGTON (AP)—Intermountain wheat allotments for 1967 were set Thursday by Secretary of Agriculture Orville Freeman.

Idaho received an allotment of 1,242,862 acres, compared to 1,248,554 in 1966.

The national allotment is 10 million acres below that of 1967.

Holiday Traffic Crush Expected

Magic Valley residents will be taking to the hills, fishing streams, swimming, and other outdoor activities during the long Fourth of July weekend—and law enforcement officers will be taking to the roads in force to try to get them all back home safely.

Idaho State Police, Twin Falls County Sheriff's officers and local law enforcement are anticipating a heavy influx of traffic during this period.

City Traffic Sgt. Clifton Sharrin reminds motorists to be especially watchful for the holiday, he noted many people will be visiting the Twin Falls area and the streets will probably be crowded with young children enjoying the fun of the Fourth of July.

"We said a 'full force' of city officers will be on duty during the Saturday in Tuesday period, and they will be especially watchful for the driver who has been celebrating by drinking, as well as others who display traffic law violations."

The Sheriff's Department also will be patrolling highways in strength during the long weekend.

He gave the note, however, that duties include not only traffic but they also are involved in mishaps involving boating, swimming, firecrackers, etc.

Deputy Sheriff Matt Vico has issued a plan for the Fourth of July and Independence Day in use caution and common sense in whatever activity they may be engaging in.

The Police throughout the area plan to be patrolling heavily during the long weekend, when many Magic Valley residents will have three or four days off from work.

All law agencies have stated their intentions of protecting the most driver and to be especially cracking down on the careless driver.

Showdown On Mideast Resolutions In U.N. Is Delayed By Maneuvers

By WILLIAM N. OATIS
UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—A showdown on rival Middle East resolutions in the U.N. General Assembly was delayed today by intense behind-the-scenes maneuvers in which Western powers were reported to have dropped their own proposal in favor of one sponsored by Latin-American delegations.

The Assembly ended its general debate this morning and scheduled an afternoon session for 4:30 p.m. to begin detailed discussion of resolutions.

Egypt, Jordan, Syria and Lebanon have held that, despite their armistice agreements with Israel in 1949, the Jewish nation was formed by war, they remain in a state of war with Egypt. One intention is to justify keeping Israeli shipping out of the Suez Canal.

The showdown involves two resolutions. One introduced by 15 nonaligned nations calls for an immediate Israeli withdrawal from Egypt, Jordan and Syria and asks that only after withdrawal should the Security Council consider "questions pertaining to the situation in the area."

Latin-American and Western delegations intended to submit a resolution today to have the assembly call for the withdrawal of troops and the denunciation of Arab belligerency, provide for a U.N. representative or mediator to help establish a settlement and ask the Security Council to work on further proposals.

Each side claimed privately that its resolution could receive the two-thirds vote needed for adoption.

But promotion of the Latin-American draft was considered to have undermined the more aligned resolution, while Israel's annexation of Jerusalem was considered a setback.

12 Persons Wounded In Buffalo's Racial Riots

By LYNN C. NEWLAND
BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP)—Twelve persons were wounded with shotgun pellets, 18 others injured and more than 100 arrested as rioting Negroes in Buffalo, N.Y., shot and killed a white man and injured a police officer.

The rioting started Thursday night in the city's shabby East Side for a third successive night.

Four hundred helmeted police, armed with shotguns and tear gas, moved in quickly to disperse crowds. Again and again, clusters collected and were broken up. Each time a police van carried defiant Negroes to headquarters for booking.

Newsmen described Thursday night's disorders as sporadic, despite the violence; more subdued than Wednesday when large gangs rampaged through the predominantly Negro area, looting, smashing and burning.

The subtle difference was in the attitude of the police, newsmen said. "They were on the offensive," a veteran reporter added.

The neighboring city of Niagara Falls also was affected for a second successive night. At least four persons were arrested and a policeman was struck by a thrown rock.

Police moved quickly into the troubled area, however, and quelled the disturbance by 3 a.m. today.

24 Perish In Plane Crash At Hong Kong

By FORREST EDWARDS
HONG KONG (AP)—A Thai International Airways jet reported carrying 53 Americans and 10 other passengers crashed into Hong Kong harbor in a rain squall today and 24 of the 80 persons aboard were reported killed.

Queten Elizabeth Hospital issued a list of the 56 survivors, and it included only 42 Americans. This indicated that 14 Americans were among the dead.

Airlines agents in Formosa said 34 members of a tourist group from Sacramento, Calif., and seven other Americans boarded the plane in Taipei.

The airline headquarters in Bangkok was the authority for the figure of 58 Americans aboard the Thai Caravelle.

In Sacramento, Calif., an official of Sacramento State College, Dr. H. J. McCormick, said the tourist group was on a Sunday afternoon tour through the Far East.

Seven of the 34 were unaccounted for, Dr. McCormick said, refused to say who they were.

McCormick said he received a cable today from the tour leader, Dr. Charles Hume, a faculty member, which said: "Tragedy struck state college travel group. Tentatively seven missing."

McCormick said he did not know the fate of the 27 tour members accounted for. He would not discuss the others' names.

Hume, a speech and drama professor, was directing a tour of art, drama, music and cultural centers.

Airport officials said their count listed 7 known dead, 17 missing and presumed dead, and 56 survivors. Several of the survivors were reported in serious condition.

Kosygin Will Confer With French Chief

By FENTON WHEELER
HIAVANA (AP)—Premier Alexei N. Kosygin will confer with Cuban Prime Minister Fidel Castro and will stop over in Paris Saturday to confer with President Charles de Gaulle.

Castro gave Kosygin a big sendoff with bands, and a 21-gun salute. Thousands of Cubans lined the road to the airport.

This was in contrast to Kosygin's arrival Monday, when the ceremonies were subdued.

An unofficial source said Kosygin's visit to Cuba had achieved "good results" because both men reached a "plain understanding."

No details of the talks were given, but one topic presumably was Castro's desire for armed revolution in Latin American countries where the influence and trade relations of the United States are strong.

Kosygin spent most of Thursday visiting Pham Do Rio Province in western Cuba, home of one of Castro's pet agricultural projects at Guanica.

He ended the day with a Soviet reception in Castro's honor.

Premier Ky Won't Run For President

SAIGON (AP)—Premier Nguyen Cao Ky, who has led South Vietnam's military government for two years, withdrew from the race for the No. 2 spot on a ticket headed by Chief of State Nguyen Van Thieu.

The decision came after three days of tense meetings of the powerful Armed Forces Council during which the competition between Ky and Thieu, who both had been running for the presidency, reached a climax.

Ky has gone from being the No. 1 presidential candidate to No. 2 man on someone else's ticket, making it apparent he would need great deal of power in the last three days.

Thieu, on the other hand, has now gained the top spot. The fact that he and Ky will no longer be competing for the 600,000 votes of the armed forces makes him virtually unbeatable.

The Thieu-Ky combination also eliminates the possibility that their competition would lead to a split in the United States has been expressing since Ky and Thieu both decided to run for president.

The No. 1 ticket was expected to register by midnight tonight, the registration deadline.

Johnson Signs New Draft Law

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP)—President Lyndon B. Johnson today signed a four-term extension of the military draft and changed student deferment rules.

Through an executive order, Johnson revised the basis for undergraduate deferments, requiring them for graduating students and sharply limited the "pyramiding" of deferments—getting one after another until, in the end, military service is avoided.

The order also includes standing by authority for the induction of 18-year-old first, but this will not be used immediately.

The old draft law had permitted drafting of 18-year-olds, but in practice older men in the 18 through 24-year bracket had been taken first.

"The Senate and House, in reports of committees, had approved the shift to the earlier age group."

Reagan Receives Record Budget

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP)—The California Legislature today gave Ronald Reagan a $5.13-billion budget Thursday, the highest in any state's history. It reauthorized a tax increase of almost $500 million.

The first-term Republican governor already has said he will sign the measure.

In three nights of rioting, the first department-estimated that about 150 fires had been set deliberately, many of them with home-made gasoline bombs. At least 20 fires, most of them minor, were touched off Thursday night.

Firemen said two gasoline bombs had been used to destroy a two-story frame house occupied by Alice McClure and her five children.

Police reported that looting Thursday night, as it had on Wednesday, when scores of business places were looted. They arrested almost anyone who failed to move along when ordered to do so.

Crisis Blamed On Israeli Raids

Editor's note: Dr. Raguel El Mallaki, the doctor claimed, the Mallaki, while understandably influenced by nationalistic feelings, is not a doctor, but a man who has up-to-date, first-hand knowledge of the causes and effects of the crisis in the Middle East.

San Antonio News feels the Israeli side of the crisis has been given more publicity in the national press than that of the Arab side. The Middle East crisis is the United States continues to support Israel.

Dr. Mallaki and his wife, who returned four months ago from a visit to the Middle East, are visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. I. Hendry, in Jerome.

In an interview Thursday, he said the Middle East crisis actually was caused by two major Israeli attacks on neighboring Arab states that were under-published in the United States. These attacks cost heavily in Arab lives and property, he said.

The first, he said, was the November 1956, attack on Jordanian town with heavy losses of Arab lives. The second was an attack last April by the Israeli army and air force on Syria, which reached as far as Damascus.

He charged the two attacks were played down in the American press. Israel said it was a reprisal for Arab terrorist attacks, in Israel's history of 19

Dr. Raguel El Mallaki predicts "land of milk and honey" will be "blessed with blood."

Medicare Celebrates First Anniversary

WASHINGTON (AP) — Medicare celebrates its first birthday Saturday, generally blessed by the elderly, acclaimed by administrators, and tolerated by doctors.

Whether the massive new plan of health care for the aged is viewed as an achievement or a mistake, the fact is evident: The system is in full operation, and the elderly are making extensive use of it.

More than 19 million of the nation's 19 million citizens 65 and over have received Medicare benefits totaling more than $3 billion.

Not all the elderly are entirely pleased with the way the program has worked so far.

Some have been disillusioned, confused and irritated. Some have suffered financial hardship by having to pay doctors' fees and then wait as much as seven months for the Medicare machinery to process their bill and for the insurance carrier to return their money.

As late as last Monday, the American Medical Association made clear its continuing opposition to the program.

Dr. Milford O. Rouse of Dallas, the president of the AMA, said his organization recognized the need for Medicare, but does not support or endorse it.

Federal officials maintain, however, that none of the complaints is fundamental and all are being overcome, or will be. And they say some such difficulties are inevitable in any new program of such scope and complexity.

finding they can live with Medicare, oppose expansion and any moves toward a general federal health care program — "socialized medicine."

Another purpose to eliminate the main paperwork problems of hospitals and carriers with simplified procedure for outpatient hospital billing.

For the present, the administration has proposed no major expansion or basic changes in Medicare.

But increased expenditures may not be far off. The government has announced a study of the feasibility of adding prescription drugs, one of the big costs of modern medical care.

Added benefits or not, no one doubts that the cost of Medicare will increase. Medical costs, on the rise for years, went up spectacularly in 1966. Hospital daily charges rose 16.3 per cent, doctors' fees 16.3 per cent. Studies forecast still more increases.

Veterans' Center Sets New Program

BOISE — A new program to reduce costs and improve service in out-patient care will be adopted Saturday by the Veterans' Administration Center, located in business conference.

The new program is being inaugurated nationally by the VA, following a successful test program in Colorado, Indiana and Alabama.

Since World War II, the VA has authorized outpatient care by private doctors at government expense, for certain qualified veterans with service-connected disabilities. Home visits by the VA's medical staff are made in cases when treatment at a VA medical facility would involve a long trip.

VA officials estimated how much care each of these veterans would need during the coming year, and issued an authorization to the private doctor, giving treatment at government expense.

Under the new program, VA identifies a physician and refers to him the type of treatment. Each patient will be allowed to select a doctor of his choice for the type of medical condition stated on his card.

Tests of the new system demonstrated that the costs of providing this treatment were reduced significantly. There was also a slight decrease in the average number of visits per veteran in a year.

For additional details on the program, information can be obtained from the VA office, 3 and 5 Fort St., Boise, Idaho.

Queen Begins Handshaking Part Of Tour

OTTAWA (AP) — Queen Elizabeth II, here for Canada's 100th birthday celebration, gets down to the handshaking, with the placing of her tour today, assured she is able to see some Canadians.

The Queen was reported wondering before she arrived if her royal view would be of the backs of red-coated mounties.

But Elizabeth's press secretary said the Queen was pleased to find that "security precautions aren't being frightfully obvious."

The royal party had been led to believe in London that it would be a virtually unimpeded from place to place by hundreds of police because of some anti-British sentiment in Canada.

Arriving here Thursday to begin a day tour, Elizabeth was welcomed by some 60,000 subjects along the route of her motorcade.

The press secretary said the Queen was staying at Government House, a mansion where she and her husband, Prince Philip, have a staff of 20 and a suite with two bedrooms, two bathrooms, chandeliers, beige carpets and gray-green walls.

Lost River Continues To Climb

POCATELLO (AP) — The Big Lost River in Idaho's central mountains continued to rise today as U. S. Army Corps of Engineers workers braced U. S. Highway 93 Alternate and attempted to confine the river to its channel.

Cropland and secondary roads between Arco and Mackay—100 miles northwest of Pocatello—have been flooded since Wednesday in some areas and the Mackay Reservoir was reported full.

Resident engineer Frank Anderson of the corps said the river rose four inches in 24 hours Thursday and was still rising, threatening crops as far south as Arco on the edge of the National Reactor Testing Station.

One bridge and a levee were destroyed by the waters Wednesday, Anderson said. The flooding is the result of an extraordinarily large snow pack in the mountains of central Idaho.

That Trip Abroad

Why is it that the nation most generally held to possess the most beautifully varied natural and man-made attractions in the world consistently runs a tourist deficit, with more of its people leaving on trips to other lands than come in from abroad?

This is the dilemma confronting the United States. For reasons which are only partly understood, more Americans go abroad and spend more money there than do visitors to these shores.

For years the disparity in tourist import and export has been explained as due to differences in spendable income, with citizens of the United States holding a wide edge. But for a long time Western Europe and other areas of the world have been enjoying high levels of prosperity. They are coming to the U.S. in increasing numbers, but still fall far short of matching the growing U.S. exodus.

Geography also plays a part in tourism meccas, although the disadvantage of distance continues to decline with improvements in jet transport. The concentration of different nationalities in a relatively small area throughout Western Europe does offer a magnetic attraction to tourists.

Europeans travel from one continental country to another about as easily as Americans go from one state to another.

Last year tourism in the United States showed a gain of 11.8 per cent. But it had a growth of from 12 to 25 per cent in every Western European country. Among other tourist groups, the U.S. Travel Agency would like to know why. Accordingly, the federal agency recently sponsored a U.S. tour by a group of foreign travel agents. Upon completion of their trip, the agents were asked for a frank appraisal of tourism in the United States.

Their reaction? Some complained about such things as postage stamp machines which sold stamps at a higher price than the Post Office, and chambermaids who entered hotel rooms without knocking. But almost all mentioned the language difficulties they had, and the irritation of American customs.

These are annoyances Americans seldom notice. But to a tourist they may be what he remembers longest. Looking at America from the viewpoint of a tourist is a good way to correct the things which prevent him from coming back — and bringing others with him.

Remember Grandma?

A writer makes a considerable case for Grandma-in-law-day-and-generation. All the talk about what a hard time Grandma had is bosh — if not baldheaded. He insists, and then proceeds to introduce evidence to prove his case.

Grandma did not put in long hours every day cooking, baking, washing, mending, as popular belief has it. Grandma had help, it seems. A full-time girl at $3 a week. Sewing for the whole family was usually done by a widowed relative, in return for board and room.

Grandma had other things to her advantage. She belonged to few or no clubs, was willing to let the designated authorities run the schools, had no cocktail parties to attend.

Grandma didn't keep house in the modern manner. No one was permitted to enter the parlor except in the case of a funeral or a wedding. The children took care of their own rooms, with the word regularly, and made no extra demands upon Grandma's time.

But Grandma did work, and at a disadvantage, regardless of the writer's opinion to the contrary. Grandma had no electric refrigerator, no automatic stove, no dish washer except her own two capable hands. Her family was well fed and well clothed, mainly through her own efforts.

As a planner, she may not have fought the Indians, but she met and overcame hardships which would appall many modern women.

UNPREDICTABLE COURT

That the U.S. Supreme Court would uphold the California Supreme Court on its ruling on a racially discriminatory state constitutional amendment was unexpected. Proposition 13, which California voters adopted in 1964 by a margin of nearly 2 to 1, prohibited the state or any subdivision from adopting any law limiting the absolute discretion of a local government in the exercise of its property. The amendment wiped out existing open-housing laws and forbade any future laws or ordinances which might seek to eliminate racial or religious discrimination in housing. It was a vicious step backward and the California Supreme Court held it to be in violation of the U.S. Constitution.

In the view of the U.S. Supreme Court's past opinions on civil rights matters, it was inconceivable that it would rule contrary to the California high court. Therefore, this week's opinion was not surprising.

But the narrow 5-4 margin by which Proposition 13 was thrown out by the federal court was startling. The California Supreme Court had voted 6-2 a year ago.

INTOLERABLE SITUATION

It is utterly intolerable that the United Nations, its delegates and its deliberations be harassed, annoyed, or subject to public pressure in any way. Although the expected organization has its own separate territorial status in New York City, nonetheless that body is, in the highest sense, a guest in the United States. That the checks of every American should be burnt with shame when he hears charges that individuals or groups have sought to badge delegates.

During the current Middle Eastern crisis, the delegates from both the United Arab Republic and Morocco have complained in and to the Security Council over harassment, cheered by the United States. Foreign Minister's address to the Council. We repeat: such tactics are intolerable. In the first place, they are extremely embarrassing to the United States as the host country. They are discourteous to foreign guests. They are an unwarranted attempt to project public pressure into an atmosphere which should be free from such pressure. Finally, spectators in United Nations galleries are, after all, guests of the world body and should not be such.

WASHINGTON — Now that Thurgood Marshall has been added to the Supreme Court, there is considerable pressure on Republican leadership in both the House and the Senate to push legislation designed to close loopholes in various laws against assault by the court's new 5 to 4 liberal majority.

GOP rank-and-file criticism is leveled at the court's tendency to rule not on the language of given legislation but on what the court believes Congress intended to say in that legislation. Led by Chief Justice Earl Warren, the liberals are fond of declaring that laws should conform to "national policy" and not to their wording.

There has been considerable unrest in GOP ranks. For example, over a recent court decision upholding fines levied by the United Auto Workers against members who crossed picket lines during strikes against the Allis-Chalmers Mfg. Co. In 1959 and 1962, in this case, the majority blithely dismissed the provisions of the 1959 Landrum-Griffin Act as irrelevant.

The Landrum-Griffin Act guaranteed to employees the right to form, join or assist labor organizations and engage in "concerted activities." It also made it unlawful for a union to fine or discipline a member "for exercising any right to which he is entitled."

To most citizens, refusal to honor a picket line comes under the right of refraining from "any" activity of the union, and it would seem that union which fines members for so doing is in violation of the guarantee to those members to exercise "any" right to which he is entitled. But in the majority opinion, Justice William Brennan insisted deadpan that Congress had intended to leave unions free to impose fines on strikers and to enforce those fines in court. "I cannot agree," with this conclusion.

It is difficult to perceive how Brennan was able after the fact to look into the minds of the men who wrote and passed the Landrum-Griffin Act. But instead of explaining this feat, Brennan based his opinion on how things should be.

"National labor policy," he wrote, "has been built on the premise that by acting through a labor organization freely chosen by the majority, employees have the most effective means of bargaining. The policy therefore extinguishes the individual employer's power to order his own relations with his employees."

That may be "national labor policy" as it is found in the Constitution, but it is not the rights of the individual, I doubt it. At any rate, it is not what the Landrum-Griffin Act says, and this was dutifully noted by the dissenters — Justices Hugo Black, William Douglas, John Harlan and Potter Stewart. They pointed out that a court-enforced fine can only be described as a violation of the law's strictures against coercion.

As usual, Black put his finger on it. He wrote that "the real reason for the court's decision is its OLDFATHERED CONSERVATISM."

Those who are not convinced need the power to impose fines on strikers and to enforce those fines in court. "I cannot agree," with this conclusion.

That is indeed a job for Congress. So far as I know, the Constitution still entrusts Congress with the job of writing the nation's laws. Likewise, the Constitution enjoins the Supreme Court to interpret these laws. But to interpret a law does not mean to rewrite it or to attach to that law a Congressional intent which is not merely debatable but is not found in the language of the law. The liberal majority of the Supreme Court of the United States has flunked reading again.

That Dangerous War Picture

WASHINGTON (NEA)—Struggling with the difficult question of how to pacify the Middle East, the United Nations stands in danger of seeing its already severely limited usefulness shrink all further.

In effect, the case of victorious Israel has been tried in free world newspapers and a verdict of "not guilty" returned on the charge of aggression leveled by the Arab world and its somewhat shaken counselor, the Soviet Union.

Against the now well-told story of the six-day war and its quite ugly Arab-Soviet prelude, the indictments in the U.N. reverberate with an unreal clarity.

It is widely appreciated that the beaten Arabs and their sometime friends in Moscow must act out their frustrations in this current charade. The danger lies in the probability that all too many U.N. member states—East European, African, Asian—will accept the unreal in place of the real.

It will be seriously damaging to the U.N. if its final verdict is merely a confirmation of this unreality.

Much of the English-speaking world, Western Europe, Western oriented parts of Asia, and perhaps other lands would not likely accept any significant endorsement of the outrageous positions spun in Cairo and Moscow.

Such an endorsement would strain to the breaking-point the U.N.'s credibility as even a modest stabilizer on the subject of war and peace. And it does not have much else.

The day has long passed when an Arab-Soviet alliance could look upon the United Nations as an agency able either to enforce or to restore peace in major international disputes.

Raised out of the horror of World War II, the U.N. is pacifist in intent. But it has no means of enforcing its pacifism. So living in a world less peaceful today than in 1945, it totters on the edge of fulfillment—its chambers most often a hippodrome of useless sound.

As has long since been hammered home, its Security Council with its veto power to any of five key nations, is designed to produce action only when major war is not threatened (when the big powers may therefore agree).

In its 22 years of life, the United Nations has shown itself to be no better and possibly no worse than the world which created it.

It reflects perfectly the entrenched hostility of the two great powers and their blocs, and the nations which try to keep out of those orbits.

It reveals well the complex make-up of India, which preaches international morality from every stump but supports Arab hatreds against Israel in a kind of war-pollitics maneuver intended to curry favor with Moslems in disputed Kashmir.

Black African nations, if not Moslem in sympathy, find other unity in nearly implacable opposition to the former colonial powers (and their American cousins). Old fires consume energies they need for building.

Many U.N. chairs are warmed by African "hatlins" which are more than tribes, or clusters of loosely-knit tribes, as in troubled Nigeria.

Black Africa has a certain utility as a meeting place and focal-point for these currents. But up to now it has managed something worse. For all its weaknesses, probably not curable by reforms, it still has had about it the aura of the great arena where the great peace could be honored verbally if no other way.

News Is Dizzy

WASHINGTON (AP) — You can't stay dizzy sitting down, trying to read the papers to keep up. There were those few days in the life of Soviet Premier Alexei N. Kosygin. And then there was King Hussein, Abba Eban, little Albania, Red China, Fidel Castro, and the long pronouncement of Kosygin on 50 years of the revolution.

After almost 10 hours head-to-head over two days in Hollywood, the two men were exhausted. Kosygin came out all smiles, shaking hands, saying pleasant things. The President got the premier a helicopter to return to New York.

The two men, side by side on television, had made it clear that they were going to settle everything, or even anything, it certainly was a good thing, and a nice one, this was to get together.

Kosygin was hardly back in New York before he went on television again, this time before a crowd in Moscow to announce the United States as an aggressor in Vietnam and Israel as an aggressor in the Middle East.

Since he had said all that about the Middle East before, you got the feeling that, maybe he felt compelled to say it because he knew the Arabs were watching and couldn't help wondering whether he made a deal with Johnson to sell them oil.

But they didn't say so. The Red-Chinese, who used to be so friendly to Kosygin, in Peking, accusing Kosygin of making a "vicious deal" to do Red China in, Red China is not a member of the United Nations.

But her only Communist neighbor, Jordan, a country left in tatters by the short war with Israel, slammed in the United Nations to ask the General Assembly to condemn the Israelis. He said there might be peace in the Middle East if the Israelis would just give the Arabs back the real estate they took in the war.

It was to be outside, Israel's Foreign Minister Abba Eban, exercising the right of reply, told the assembly, in effect, that what Hussein said was a lie, that Jordan attacked Israel first and got what was coming to her.

If you can make sense out of this you're what the world is looking for and badly needs — a magician.

Duck The Fishes

Which is safer, fishing or water skiing? According to the National Safety Council, skiing has a higher death rate. Here are some of the reasons fishing is so hazardous. Standing up and moving about in a small boat is a sure way to lose your balance. Most fish can be landed while you are sitting but, if you stand up, you will lose your balance and fall overboard.

If you are alone in a small boat you should step out on the bottom board, never on the seat, and avoid placing your feet near the sides of the boat. If you make a U-turn and your boat gets caught in the branches of a tree you should cut it loose rather than try to recover it. If the recovery means standing up, your balance, your motor or both. Rather you should set the motor on the edge of the dock, jump for a bit in another way of putting it. But poverty, hunger, embittered frustration will not wait on such easy prescriptions.

Linger for one last cast when darkness is approaching but not yet dark. If you are in your hurry to get back to your house in semidarkness without running fishes you may hit a submerged log or a floating log or another boat. These obstacles are easily avoided with better light and less speed. 74-Year-Old Mariner To Set Sail Again

MONTAUK, N.Y. (AP) — William Willis goes down to the sea again today — an ancient mariner in lonely quest of adventure and youth.

The sun-bronzed sailor hopes to set sail from here on a 100-day voyage to Plymouth, England — a 74-year-old man willing to battle 3,000 miles of open sea in an 11½-foot boat.

In 1961, Willis sailed alone for 201 days across the Pacific in a tiny cat-yawl from Peru to Australia.

Last year he went halfway from New York to England before he was lifted from his tiny craft after suffering an abdominal hernia 60 days out of port.

"I have two main objectives in view when starting on this Atlantic crossing," he told friends recently. "One is to do certain Yoga exercises which I think will keep me young for another 25 years and the other is to be in England when my autobiography comes out."

News Organizations Probe Assassination Findings

By JERRY DUCK
NEW YORK (AP) — The Warren Report and the critics who threw its findings into doubt have come under the searching inquiry of three major news organizations within the past two weeks.

The Associated Press and the Columbia Broadcasting System examined in detail the report and its critics, and reached similar conclusions: That despite shortcomings of the Warren Report nothing has been uncovered to reduce its finding that Lee Harvey Oswald acted alone — in view of no evidence to the contrary — in killing President John F. Kennedy.

The AP's findings were contained in a 20,000-word report released last Sunday. The CBS inquiry was broadcast this week in four one-hour parts Sunday, Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday.

In addition, the National Broadcasting Co. said in a one-hour program June 19 that the conclusion of the Warren Commission was "a major discovery of the critics — that Oswald couldn't have fired the Mammich-Carcano rifle — fast enough to get off three shots within 5.6 seconds. The commission had concluded on the basis of an amateur motion picture of the assassination that this was the time span.

CBS said it found "that most objections to the report — and certainly all objections that go to the heart of the report — vanish when they are exposed to the light of honest inquiry."

The network said its own tests significantly weakened a major discovery of the critics — that Oswald couldn't have fired the Mammich-Carcano rifle — fast enough to get off three shots within 5.6 seconds. The commission had concluded on the basis of an amateur motion picture of the assassination that this was the time span.

CBS said it demonstrated that three shots could be fired from such a rifle at a moving target within that time span.

An analysis of the film also suggests, CBS said, that the short Texas Gov. John Connally said he heard was the first shot — and it missed. If this was the case, Oswald had additional time to fire the rifle.

Concerning the New Orleans investigation William Gurvich, who resigned this week as Garrison's chief aide, said on CBS' Tuesday program that Garrison

SEARCH DISCONTINUED
POCATELLO (AP) — The search for Marine Capt. Curtis R. "Dick" Bohlschied, missing in action in Vietnam, has been temporarily discontinued, the Marine Corps has informed his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Curtis L. Bohlschied, 1750 S. East Street, Pocatello.

Capt. Bohlschied was flying a helicopter into a heavy combat zone when it was shot down by enemy fire and was seen to crash. It was then it hit the ground.

HEARING SET
BOISE (AP) — A hearing on a proposed rate increase by Intermountain Gas Co. has been set for Aug. 16, the Idaho Public Utilities Commission announced Friday.

The hearing will be conducted in the Statehouse in Boise.

Persons wishing to intervene, protest or participate in the hearing must notify the commission before Aug. 4, the PUC said.

Intermountain, in its application for an increase, said it needs higher rates to pay for a favorable earnings ratio on its investment.

Post Office Planning To Cut Deficit

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Post Office Department, currently running $1.2 billion into the financial red each year on its operations, has announced a plan that may help cut the deficit gradually.

The department said Thursday that starting July 4 it will furnish for a fee tentatively set at $1 — a half a cent — a recorded change of address.

A postal spokesman said requests for such address changes will be handled only when an individual has moved and left a forwarding address at his former post office.

Actually, the plan wasn't conceived to overcome the department's chronic operating deficit. It grew instead out of the new revision of information law which takes effect July 4.

GOP Leader Slams Policies

LANCASTER, Pa. (AP) — Rep. Gerald R. Ford, R-Mich., the House minority leader, accused the Johnson administration Thursday of "overriding its own policies in the Middle East" by arming the Arab states and sending $1 billion in economic aid to Egypt.

"It was (Egyptian president) Nasser who triggered the Middle East war, the Michigan Republican asserted.

He called on the major powers to "stop sending all aid — economic and military — to any nation which has a history of intentions of annihilating another nation."

"Such policies do not build peace — they promote war," he said.

COURT RULES
BOISE (AP) — The Idaho Supreme Court Thursday ruled that $4,062 held in escrow for Avery E. and Dorothy Rogers of Lewiston should go to the Nez Perce Roller Mills.

The First Security Bank of Idaho took the money in escrow for Rogers. The suit in question was to determine which agency would have first chance at the fund.

Nez Perce Roller Mills, Firstman's Fund Insurance Co. and Credit and Adjustment Agency, Inc., and Murphy Finance Co. all wanted to obtain the money.

MERGER COMPLETED
BOISE (AP) — Continental Life and Accident Co. of Boise announced Thursday it has acquired Provident Security Life Insurance Co. of Phoenix, Ariz., through merger proceedings.

The announcement, by Continental President William H. Langroise, said the merger has been approved by both companies and by the Idaho Insurance Commissioner and the Arizona director of insurance.

Langroise said the merger increases to $27 million the volume of insurance in force by Continental. The company now has assets of $9,935,730, he said.

JURY SELECTED
POCATELLO (AP) — Selection of a fifth district court jury in a fifth district court jury in the statutory rape trial of Edward Gene Rolfe, formerly of Pocatello, began Thursday.

Rolfe is charged in connection with a 15-year-old Pocatello County Prosecutor P. A. McDermott explained to the jury panel, statutory rape covers relations with a female under age 18, with or without consent.

The offense to which Rolfe has pleaded innocent allegedly took place Dec. 11.

Not long after the seven members of the Warren Commission issued their report Sept. 24, 1964, doubts began to overtake such a rifle at a moving target within that time span.

A barrage of books and articles hammered away at it until police showed most Americans had come to suspect its conclusion.

But in its study The AP said the "critics have produced little in the way of new evidence. What they have done is use what the commission provides in its 26 volumes of testimony and exhibits — but to different conclusions. The critics' case rests on the same bedrock as the commission's — the Warren Report.

"They have sat in judgment of the Warren Commission and found it wanting," The AP said. "But they are not judges. They have been prosecutors, making a case. Where fact has served, they have used it. Where it has not, they have not."

The AP also cited examples of conclusions reached by the critics that contradict the testimony on which they are based.

The AP report was written by Bernard Gaver and Sid Moody after several months of interviews.

Kennedy Round Talks Concluded

GENEVA (AP)—The Kennedy Round of traffic-cutting negotiations officially concluded today as representatives of 53 governments began signing the largest international trade package of modern times.

Ambassador Juan B. Martin of Argentina led off the ceremony. He stepped across the plush blue carpet of the vast assembly hall in the Palace of Nations and put out his signature to the 4,000-page document.

More than 500 people watched the event, presided over by Swiss Economic Minister Hans Schaffner. In a message to the gathering, President Johnson called the Kennedy Round "a proud chapter in the history of international commerce."

Western Europe Is Facing Growing Oil Shortage Threat

By JACK LEFLER

NEW YORK (AP)—Western Europe faces a growing threat of an oil shortage as production remains curtailed in the troubled Middle East and tankers cannot use the Suez Canal.

The situation is not yet critical because Western Europe had a three-month supply of oil on-hand or in transit when the war between Israel and the Arab nations broke out early this month.

An oil industry source here said although production of oil by Arab countries is less than half of normal, the biggest problem is a tanker shortage.

With the Suez Canal closed by vessels sunk during the brief war, tankers have to make the much longer trip around the southern tip of Africa.

J. Cordell Moore, assistant secretary of the interior, estimated this week that oil shipments from the Middle East to Europe are running less than 30 per cent of normal.

Britain is likely to feel the pinch more sharply than other European countries because the Arab nations have banned shipments to it. Britain normally gets about two-thirds of its crude oil from Arab countries.

Britain, the United States and West Germany were accused by the Arab countries of aiding Israel in the war.

Western Europe in 1968 consumed 8.5 million barrels of oil daily, about 80 per cent of it obtained from the Middle East and North Africa.

Production of oil has been resumed in Kuwait and Saudi Arabia, the biggest producers in the Middle East, since the end of hostilities. But because of unavailability of tankers Kuwait is producing only about 1 million barrels daily, down from a normal 2.4 million, and Saudi Arabia less than 2 million barrels daily, off from a normal 2.7 million.

The Iraq Petroleum Co. resumed exports from its Mediterranean terminal at Beirut, Lebanon, Wednesday. Deliveries were restricted to France and Turkey.

Libya, whose normal production of 1.4 million barrels daily went directly to Europe, continued to be shut down.

The Arab ban on oil shipments to the United States poses no supply problem for this country. Only 400,000 barrels of the normal U.S. daily consumption of 12 million barrels came from the Middle East.

It was estimated that the United States and Venezuela could increase their oil exports by 1.5 million barrels a day to replace Middle East supplies partially.

Texas and Louisiana already have increased their allowable production by 764,551 barrels a day.

The Interior Department approved Wednesday an emergency oil lift plan to help Europe. The plan drawn up by the government and 21 American oil companies with foreign operations must be acted on by the Justice Department and the Office of Emergency Planning.

It would permit the oil companies to cooperate in helping meet European oil needs without laying themselves open to antitrust prosecution.

The companies would be permitted to pool shipping facilities and, if necessary, increase production and divert supplies from this hemisphere.

United Pentecostal Church Sponsors Camp

Each year in July, a Youth Camp, sponsored by the Idaho District of the United Pentecostal Churches, is held in McCall. This year, the camp will be held from July 17-21, according to Rev. J. L. Chandler, pastor of the Twin Falls First Pentecostal Church.

Not only do the youngsters enjoy participating in typical summer activities, such as hiking, swimming and sleeping under the stars, but they also have an opportunity to attend religious services at camp, and to hear outstanding guest speakers of the church.

Featured speakers at this year's camp will be Rev. and Mrs. Gerald A. Mangum, Alexandria, La., where he is the pastor of the Alexandria First United Pentecostal Church. His wife is a soloist on the weekly broadcast "Harvestime." The couple has one son, Anthony, 17, who will attend the camp at McCall with his parents.

Special youth services are held at 8 p.m. each Friday at which there are question-and-answer periods on Bible topics.

The local winner is eligible to qualify for the district and state competitions. The winner of the state competition wins a plaque and represents his local church at the Youth Camp.

Thus far, the winner for this year has not been selected, says Rev. Chandler, but the choice will be made shortly.

Sunday services at the Twin Falls church, 262 Fifth Ave., include Sunday School, 10 a.m.; worship services, 11 a.m., and evangelistic services at 7:30 p.m. The parsonage is at 304 Fifth Ave. E.

Weekday services include prayer meeting and Bible study, 8 p.m., Wednesday, and the youth services at 8 p.m. Friday.

At the Friday night services, the young people take complete charge of the proceedings. They have their own organist, song-leader, pianist and speaker, besides the one who offers the prayers. Students who are interested in attending ministerial school are sometimes chosen to help in the regular Sunday services.

Rev. Chandler's present assistant is Loren Yaden, 21, Parma, He began his year of internship here last September, after graduating from Conquerors Bible College, Portland, Ore. He is also a graduate of Parma High School.

Also at the youth services, which approximately 30 young members attend, special missionary services are held occasionally throughout the year. They include missionaries from Africa, South America, China, Germany and Japan, as well as other foreign countries.

A week-long youth revival is held in Twin Falls every February or March, at which special speakers are featured.

The Twin Falls church was organized about 1921 by evangelist Mattie Crawford. The first building used for services was a tent on Main Avenue and Third Street East, where a Texaco-service station now stands. Two families attended the first services.

Since then, the local membership has grown to include 130 members of the Sunday School. The voting membership includes 45-50.

Children's services are held each Sunday at 11 a.m. for all ages. The singing group plays in a rhythm band and discuss Bible stories, under the direction of Mrs. Neva Fairbanks and Mrs. Donna Gann. Organists for these services are Rebekah Chandler, Naomi Gard and Ruth Stallons.

The Ladies' Auxiliary meets at 1:30 p.m. on the first Thursday of each month at the church. There are approximately 15 members who help with the foreign and home missionary programs, sponsor cooked food sales and rummage sales.

Mrs. Ron Hamilton will be in charge of the school, assisted by Mrs. Delbert Starr, Mrs. Willard Clark and Mrs. Clyde Hughes. Mrs. Hap Hughes will be in charge of crafts.

There is no charge for enrollment in the Bible School. Special graduation exercises will be held at 7 p.m. July 12 at the church. All children are invited to attend.

cradle-roll superintendent. Sunday School teachers are Mildred Newman, cradle roll ages 2 to 4; Elaine Yaden, beginners, ages 4 to 6; Mae Heron, primary, ages 6 to 9; Ann Hills, junior girls, ages 9-11; Lois Calder, junior boys, ages 11-13; Dale Orr, intermediate boys, ages 11-15; Mrs. J. L. Chandler, high school class, ages 16-18; Loren Yaden, young adults, and Rev. Chandler, adults.

Church board members are Elmer McGinnis, Arnold Smyth, Ivan Johns, treasurer; Gordon Hills, and LeRoy Messner, church secretary.

One feature of the church is the "20 Pieces of Silver" project, usually held around Easter Sunday. Each member is encouraged to contribute 30 pieces of silver in any denomination to the church 30 days before Mother's Day. All proceeds go to the district and to the national headquarters, located in St. Louis, Mo.

Another special project of the church is "Sheaves for Christ," held from April to September every year, during which time funds are raised for missionary equipment in foreign fields. Candy sales, "lemon squeezes" and other activities toward this effort are promoted.

Church members usually attend the spring and fall district conferences held in various churches of the district.

Each Sunday the church sponsors the program, "Harvestime," heard from 8 to 8:30 a.m. on radio station KILX.

Rev. Chandler and his family came to Twin Falls in 1959 from Montesano, Wash. He and his wife, Geneva, have a daughter, Rebekah, a junior at Twin Falls High School.

"We are evangelistic in worship services," this means that we believe in kneeling to pray, and in baptism by the Holy Spirit," says Rev. Chandler, who has baptized two-thirds of the present congregation in eight years. "Everyone is a willing worker in whatever he is called to do," he added.

Peace Corpsman To Defend Right

WASHINGTON (AP) — A 25-year-old Peace Corps volunteer dismissed for publicly expressing his opposition to U.S. bombing in Vietnam defended Thursday his right to express such an individual opinion even though a Peace Corps volunteer. The agency had said Bruce Murray of Newport, R.I., had been fired because it is Peace Corps policy not to involve itself in politics.

Methodist And United Brethren Merger Approved

NEW YORK (AP) — The merger of the Methodist Church, the nation's second largest Protestant denomination, with the smaller Evangelical United Brethren Church has received final approval, presiding bishops of both bodies announced Thursday.

The new denomination, to be known as the United Methodist Church, will embrace 11 million members—10.25 million Methodists and 700,000 in the EUB. Mueller of Indianapolis, U.S. president of the Board of Bishops of the EUB.

The new church will be constituted formally at a uniting conference of the two bodies in Dallas, Tex., on April 21, 1968.

Dear Abby

DEAR ABBY: After 12 years of marriage and two children, I learned that my husband had a girl friend. She's a divorcee, and nothing special by anybody's standards. He admitted that it had been going on for two years. Abby, we had a good marriage and a good sex life, so that wasn't it.

I divorced him, loving him and hating him at the same time. His divorce has been final for over a year, and he has not married the other woman. What's stopping him? He's free to marry, isn't he?

My question: Why would a married man fool around and risk losing a wife who loved him, and children who idolized him, and then not jump at the chance to marry the woman who caused it all? NO NAME.

She claims their children will be no darker than her husband. I say there is always a chance of a throwback to one of his darker ancestors and she could have a cantaloupe baby.

I know I'm right, but she's the type you can't tell anything in, so please put your answer in the paper so I can show it to her.

HER FRIEND: I hope you know about this because you're wrong because you are. When two individuals marry, only if there is Negro ancestry on BOTH sides, is the kind of "throwback" you describe possible. The rule is: A child will be no darker than his darkest parent.

DEAR NO NAME: Probably because he didn't ever really want her for a steady diet. Only a nut would. So no more nut men are fascinated with "playing house." They enjoy dreaming, planning, and verbalizing with somebody else, secure in the knowledge that it will never materialize, since they're safely married. But when circumstances change and the dream becomes a reality, the "dream" suddenly loses its appeal.

DEAR ABBY: I have a friend who is going to marry a man who has some Negro blood in him. (One of his grandmothers was a Negro.) I have seen him and his color is not very dark. My friend is very blonde, being of Swedish and German descent.

The bridesmaids' hats were like baby bonnets, and I looked like a monkey with my short hair and that thing on my head.

Now comes a bill for $19.95 for my gown. Abby, I had nothing to do with selecting it. I never wear it again, and I really did Yveta a favor by wearing it. Should I pay it? I don't want a faulty light, but it was under the impression that if I had selected the gowns without consulting the bridesmaids, she should pay for them.

LOOKED LIKE A MONKEY: DEAR LOOKED: You should not be expected to pay for the gown, but in the interest of family harmony—pay it.

Today's Market and Financial Report

Stocks

2:30 P.M. SUMMARY
NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market maintained a slightly higher edge late this afternoon in sluggish preweekend trading.

After an uncertain start, enough blue chips improved to give averages a nudge into plus territory.

But the just about outnumbered losses. Chances of leading issues ranged mostly from fractions to a pump, although there were a few wider moves.

IBM slipped more than 3 points while gains of about 2 were made by Bostin & Maine and United Nuclear.

Up a point or so were Pan American, Sulphur, Diners Club, Ryder Systems, Republic Corros, Xerox, Union Carbide and Du Pont.

Losses exceeding a point were taken by New York Central, TWA, and United Aircraft.

The major steelmakers showed scarcely any change. Most of the leading autos, including General Motors, lost fractions. Oils were mixed.

The stock market will be open Monday, July 3, and Tuesday, July 4, holidays.

Streeters are planning a four-day weekend.

Stocks were mostly higher in active trading on the American Stock Exchange.

Scurry Rainbow Oil rebounded a couple of points from its 1 1/2-point dip of Thursday.

CHICAGO (AP)—Wheat and corn futures displayed some weakness throughout most of the session on the Chicago Board of Trade today but showed some surprising strength.

An abundance of rain and snow, scattered sunshine, all pointing to favorable growing conditions, tended to influence lower corn and wheat futures. This also was a first notice day for traders to indicate whether they will stand for delivery of the July contracts. Since a large number of bushels were expected to be tendered prices declined.

Carrot receipts were estimated at: wheat 19 cars, corn 25 cars, 3 rye, none, barley 12, soybeans 24.

BRIDGE

EXPERT SKILL, AMATEUR LUCK

Stories of the unlucky expert and the very bad bridge player have appeared in this column before. Usually, even the unluckiest of experts comes out all right against a very bad happen to hold the singleton king of diamonds. South played out the ace of diamonds. As far as East knew he did hold the singleton king and he played it. South smiled happily and discarded a diamond to dummy's 10. East discarded a spade and South was about to lead another diamond when West asked, "No diamonds, partner?"

"No diamonds," replied East. "Look carefully," asked West. East looked carefully and suddenly discovered the jack of diamonds tucked among his hearts. He played it and won the trick.

Even then South might have been successful. East was a very bad player and might not have led a spade but, unfortunately for South, East had already exposed a spade and was compelled by rules to lead it. He did. West did the rest and the unlucky expert was down two on a laydown hand.

CARD SENSE

Q—The bidding has been:

You, South, hold:

What do you do now?

A—There just aren't that many cards in the deck but you can afford to bid five no-trump anyway. That opening club bid looks most peculiar.

TODAY'S QUESTION

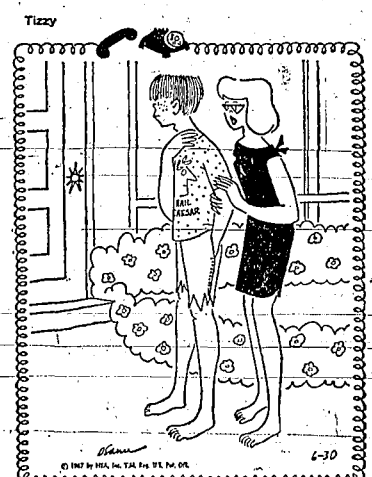

You bid five no-trump and your partner bids six clubs to show no kings. What do you do now?

bridge-player. This time the bad-bridge player's ineptness led to defeat for the expert.

South's three no-trump contract was normal enough but the spade lead was slightly embarrassing. He ducked the first spade on general principles but West continued the suit and South was in the hand was one of those typical laydowns. As you can see, the club finesse was on and South could take it and bring him his nine tricks.

South was ready to try clubs eventually but he saw an extra chance. East just might

If She Loves Two Can Love Be True?

Dear Ele: I'm going to have to decide in the next two weeks which of two boys I'm going to marry. I know that sounds crazy, but I like both of them. They're both nice, intelligent, and successful. I'm not sure I can choose between them. I've been thinking about this a lot, and I'm really torn. I don't want to hurt either of them, but I have to make a decision soon. I've been thinking about this a lot, and I'm really torn. I don't want to hurt either of them, but I have to make a decision soon.

Dear Ele: I don't like any of the romantic decisions. When you pick a mate, it's a forever proposition. "For richer or poorer, in sickness or health, to protect her sometimes. Maybe Suzy will want to help too and the choice is so close. I'd say get to know both boys better, and then ask yourself these questions:

(1) What do you want out of a husband? Good looks, companionship, luxurious living, consideration, what? Who can provide these things for you?

(2) Which boy shares common interests and hobbies?

(3) Which one allows you to be "you," not someone he wants to mold or possess?

(4) Which boy would you like to be the example for your children?

(5) Which boy would feel more comfortable and accepted by your family and friends?

(6) Which boy is more at peace with himself and his family?

(7) ... Well, what other questions would you advise a friend to ask, when picking a date for the next 17,000 days? Are you sure you love either boy?—Ele.

NINE, NEEDS HELP

Here's the youngest correspondent we've had. By letter (in large block letters) is writing Ele and Walt in care worth consideration by persons of all ages.

Dear Ele and Walt: I am only 9, but I need your help. My girlfriend Suzy is always asking me questions about my sister, daily errors printed in the newspaper as baseball players do?—

My sister has problems, like picking her skin, putting dirty clothes under her bed, and she's a real mess. I don't want to tell her about this, but I'm sure you can help. I'm sure you can help. I'm sure you can help.

SEQUALS, Italy (AP) — Pri-birth, his hulking frame wasted away, Carnera, the mountain brawler by the ravages of cirrhosis of the liver, died Thursday in the mountain town of his son, in poor health for three years, left Glendale, Calif., with his wife a month ago for a back home. Although the 60-year-old man vowed he would return to his adopted land it was generally known that he had gone home to die.

TV Signs 2 New Commentators

NEW YORK (AP) — Norm Van Brocklin, the former Minnesota Vikings' head coach, and Pete Elliott, former head coach at Illinois, California and Nebraska, have been signed as commentators for National Football League games this season by the Columbia Broadcasting System.

After the Cubs' 10th triumph in their last 11 games, the 36-year-old Banks drove a Pete Mikkelson pitch into the left field bleachers after Ron Santo singled with two out in the sixth. The homer was Banks' 15th of the season, enabling the Cubs' first baseman to match his entire 1959 home total.

Winning starter Joe Niekro singled across the Cubs' second run in the fifth. Outfielder Al Spangler's single in the fourth accounted for the first run.

After the Pirates scored their first run in the third, the Cubs assaulted Cal Koonce for their second and third runs in the fifth. Mike Squires singled to double provided the first, and Mike Mazeroski singled home the second.

Carnera fought 28 times in 1930, winning 23 by knockouts, 17 of them in succession. He fought 10 times in 1931, winning 10 of them in succession.

Carnera's last fight in the U.S. was against Leroy Haynes in 1932, a 15-round affair. Carnera made his way home to Italy, almost broke and friendless. He had two more bouts there in 1932 and made an abortive one-bout comeback in 1935.

With his country under German occupation, Carnera told friends he had served with a underground forces in Italy and personally killed four or five Nazis with his own hands.

After World War II, Carnera returned to the United States and, after a movie or two, began a career as a wrestler.

His property amounted to a villa in Sequala and real estate in California at Glendale and San Bernardino.

Hammer Hits 66 To Lead Canada Open

MONTREAL (AP) — Laurie Hammer, a tall blond from Sudasota, Fla., shot a sparkling, five-under-par 66 Thursday and led the charge of goldmine's newcomers through the first round of the Canadian Open Championship.

Such unfamiliar names as Roger Gundersen, Steve Reid, Dan Stockton and Hugh Reyer were scattered among the leaders.

Veteran Art Wall tied for second with Reid, a 30-year-old part-time performer on the tour, and Gundersen, 28. All had 67s on the compact, 6,600-yard, par 71 Montreal Municipal course.

Stockton and careered Richardson, winner of last year's Cleveland Open, shared fifth place with a 68.

When more were locked at 69, two under par, they included Jack Nicklaus, Billy Casper, Argentinean veteran Roberto de la Cruz, Labor Harris and Hugh Reyer.

Arnold Palmer, with Nicklaus the co-favorite, was one of those with big troubles. He finished with a 72, the same as defending champion Don Masengren, who gave him back in the park.

Hammer, a handsome, 6-foot-5, 24-year-old, has made only $2,100 in his 12 years on the tour but played with the aplomb of a veteran.

He stroked 12 two birdie putts of 12 feet, had another 18 feet, connected another six after an approach kicked off the lip of a trap and put another pitch a foot from the cup. He did not have a single bogey.

Orioles Take Rookie To Parent Club

BALTIMORE (AP) — Mike Adamson though he would be in Elmira, N.Y., Friday night. Instead, he will be in Baltimore pitching against the Cleveland Indians.

The Orioles announced Wednesday he had signed for a bonus in the neighborhood of $70,000 and Manager Hank Bauer last night telling the 19-year-old collegian he was staying with the champions.

"Until then, he had been checking his schedule to Elmira," an Orioles minor league team, wisecracker Harry Dalton, personnel director.

"Just give me the ball," was Adamson's confident reply to Bauer.

A right-hander, Adamson had been working out with the Orioles for 10 days.

Adamson, who lives in San Diego, Calif., was drafted two years ago by Philadelphia of the National League and reportedly rejected a $85,000 offer.

"They could have offered me almost anything and it wouldn't have made any difference," said Adamson, "because I had made up my mind to go to college."

He attended the University of Southern California for two years. He became available in a special draft earlier this month and the Orioles took him on the first choice.

Rodriguez Wants Shot At Cokes

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP) — Cuban Luis Rodriguez came off a decision victory over Jimmy Lester with a new demand that welterweight champion Curtis Cokes give him a title fight.

The Cuban's manager, Angel Dundee, said Thursday, "I think we have a good chance to get Cokes now. He's been refusing to fight Luis again."

Cokes holds a 15-round technical knockout over Rodriguez in a New Orleans fight 11 months ago. Dundee said he stopped the bout because Rodriguez had a badly cut mouth.

Cokes won the title after that. Rodriguez, 1937, former welter king from Miami Beach, Fla., used body punches, uppercut and head blows to win easily Wednesday night as he evaded explosive Lester's power punches.

Lester, 1950, of San Francisco, said he wants a return fight.

Bunning And Phils Blank New York 1-0

NEW YORK (AP) — Jim Bunning pitched a brilliant shut-out as Philadelphia blanked the New York Mets 1-0 Wednesday night.

Bunning, who pitched a perfect game against the Mets four years ago, struck out four batters in the first inning. He retired the first 10 batters in a row and finished by getting 14 of the last 15.

The tall right-hander struck out seven and allowed runners in only three innings, retiring New York in order six times.

The Phillies pounded three hits in the fourth inning for the game's only run. Bill White singled off Roger Jackson, who pitched one out. After Clay Dalrymple forced White, Tony Taylor singled. Then Bobby Wine slapped a hit off Jackson's glove and Philadelphia 0-0 100-0-1 9-0 New York 0-0 000-0-0-1 0-0 Bunning and Dalrymple, Fish, Lumbie (3) and B. Taylor, W-Bunning, 6-3, L-Fisher, 5-8.

Miss Haynie Has Women's Open Lead

HOT SPRINGS, Va. (AP) — Sandra Haynie, a 21-year-old Texan with a velvet touch around the green, struggled on the double bogey and shot into one stroke lead Thursday in the opening round of the Women's National Open Golf Championship.

After hitting an easy wedge shot into the water — and almost repeating the error on the 16th, the steady, 207-pound pro from Fort Worth ran home a 10-foot birdie put on the final hole for a one-under-par 70.

This was the only round that beat the 35-36-71 card of the mountainous, 61-year-old Upper Cascadene course. Many of the game's outstanding players, including former champions, found themselves struggling with the dense foliage and lightning fast greens for duffer-silly scores.

Three players were tied at 71 but none on the fourth hole. Sandra Haynie, 21, of Dallas, Texas, followed by 72, followed by a quartet tied at 73 four-time winner Betsy Rawls, Australian Margie Maister, Shirley Engle, 22, of New York, Idaho, and another amateur, Barbara Garbrelson, a 20-year-old college girl from the University of Georgia. Donna Caponi of Burbank, Calif., followed at 74.

Cliff Richey of San Angelo, Tex., was eliminated in straight sets, 6-4, 6-2, 6-4, by the little Australian left-hander Ray Ruffels. Richey's victory Wednesday over fourth-seeded Tony Roche lasted 89 games and it took the full even of the 20-year-old Texan.

Giants Bomb Cards With 11 Runs In First

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Jim Hart's three-run homer capped an 11-run first inning by the San Francisco Giants Thursday night as they pounded the St. Louis Cardinals 12-4 in the first of a two-game series.

The first eight batters readied base against Cardinal ace Bob Gibson, who was charged with nine runs.

Despite the big lead, Giants' catcher Carlton Fisk didn't finish the first inning—failing to retire a batter as the Cardinals got four straight hits and scored runs.

The Giants started with Jim Davenport topping a ball along the third-base line for a single. Then Willie McCovey, who had a home run in the first inning, singled, with Mays and Hart driving in one run apiece. Mays also scored on McCovey's lead-off single. McCovey's intentional walk, Ollie Brown's single, and Hal Lauer followed with a two-run single and then scored on Tito Fuentes' single.

After Gibson crunk out on a two-strike foul ball for the first out and Davenport popped up in his second at bat, Hal Lauer singled off reliever Nelson Briles ahead of Hart's 11th home run.

Orioles Take 4-1 Victory Over Chicago

BALTIMORE (AP) — Tom Phoebus hurled a three-hit ball and received home run support from Paul Blair and Russ Snyder as the Baltimore Orioles beat the Chicago White Sox 4-1 Thursday night.

Phoebus, raising his record to 7-1, was touched by Ken Berry for a home run in the second inning. The only other Chicago hits were by Tommy Agee in the third and Angel Delgado in the fifth. Blair connected off Chicago starter Jim O'Toole in the first inning and Super-homered with a mate aboard in the third.

The Orioles, who snapped a nine-game losing streak at the hands of the American League leaders, added an insurance marker in the seventh on a walk, a two-base throwing error by Tom McCraw and Brooks Robinson's single to Chicago 010 000 000-1 3-0.

O'Toole, Bushard (3), and McMahon (3) and Martin, Phoebus and Elchebarren, W-Phoebus, 7-1, O-Tpole, 4-2. Home runs—Blair (5), Snyder (3).

Redlegs Bury Dodgers With 18-Hit Blitz

CINCINNATI (AP) — Tony Perez, Don Pavlich and Dorcy Johnson slammed home runs in the Cincinnati Reds' 18-0 victory over the Los Angeles Dodgers Thursday night.

For the past two years Thomson has "taken a bath" in the annual survey of football fatalities. "I think I only lost four of them last year," he smiled. "But I just don't want them to start making it a habit."

Thomson, playing like he was broke, carded two eagles during the day which featured an up-and-down front nine 32 but a strong 31 on the back side.

He allowed association members full handicap plus seven strokes during the competition. Mrs. Vi Smith was the only one able to beat Thomson carding a net 62 while Dorothy Conrad and Marge Huchitt tied the standard.

Ryun Finds Loophole In Training Rule

LOS ANGELES (AP) — American's world mile record holder, Jim Ryun of Kansas, said Thursday he won't defy restrictions placed on athletes training in high altitudes for the 1968 Olympic Games in Mexico.

But Ryun said he may challenge the edict set forth by Avery Brundage, president of the International Olympic Committee.

Ryun spoke from his temporary training quarters at Alamogordo, Colo., altitude about 7,000 feet, where he is training with the U.S.A.-British Commonwealth team here July 8-9.

"Unless I misunderstood the ruling," he said, "I can't train in the last four months before the games at high altitudes as an organized group."

"As I interpret it, there's nothing against an individual training on his own."

Ryun broke his own mile mark at 3:51.1 at Bakersfield, Calif., last Friday.

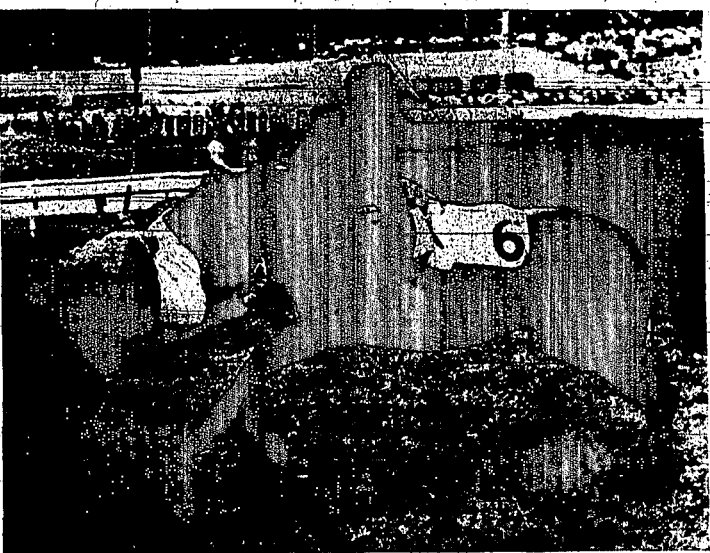

5-Year-Old Takes U.N. Trot In Upset

YONKERS, N.Y. (AP) — Perfect Freight of the United States Trot and an upset in the $100,000 United Nations Trot at Yonkers Raceway Thursday night.

The 5-year-old colt, ridden by Jockey David W. Miller, won the stretch when the favorite, Roaming Wind of France broke stride and finished fifth.

Perfect Freight, owned by Arthur Brown of New York, took advantage of the favorite's going off stride and finished the race in a commanding fourth of a length ahead of Do Sweet, another United States Trotter, who went off at 65-1.

Stylenator, son of the United States, finished third, a head behind Do Sweet and 2 1/2 lengths ahead of Fresh Yankee of Canada.

TAKING A HEADER. Leading Steeplechase jockey Thomas Walsh flew over the head of his mount, Rapidan, after completing a fence in the Iroquois Steeplechase at Delaware Park. Neither the jockey nor the horse was injured in the tumble. Happy, with Joe Altchamers aboard, was the winner of this race. (AP wirephoto)

Thomsen Has 63 In 'Beat Pro' Tourney

Professional Clyde Thomsen wiped out two years of frustration Thursday when he fired a 54 in the annual 'Beat Pro' Tourney. Thomsen, who lost his all but three of the field in the annual Twin Falls Women's Golf Association bent the pro tournament.

Thomsen, playing like he was broke, carded two eagles during the day which featured an up-and-down front nine 32 but a strong 31 on the back side.

He allowed association members full handicap plus seven strokes during the competition. Mrs. Vi Smith was the only one able to beat Thomson carding a net 62 while Dorothy Conrad and Marge Huchitt tied the standard.

Sharkey Calls Carnera Great Guy, Fighter

EPHING, N.H. (AP) — Former heavyweight boxing champion Jack Sharkey, who lost his title to Primo Carnera just 34 days ago Thursday, described the Italian as "a great guy, both as a person and as a fighter than people ever gave him credit for."

"He was one of the last from the Golden Age of boxing," the 64-year-old Sharkey said. "We fought twice but were never enemies."

Carnera, who died Thursday at Segrate, Italy, the mountain town where he was born, was a newcomer to the United States when Sharkey first met him.

"He and his manager came out to my house in Chestnut Hill in Newton, Mass., and we had a drink," Sharkey said. "I encouraged him to fight in the United States."

"It never occurred to me then that he would be a champion," he would like me for the title.

"He was a fellow who liked companions, just a big, good-natured guy you could help wanting to be with. My only regret is that as the years passed we each went our own way and saw so little of each other."

'Spearing' Described As Major Cause For Fatalities To Football Players

CHAPEL HILL, N.C. (AP) — They pointed to the hazards of spearing after finding that most football fatalities since 1960 resulted from head and neck injuries, and last year 23 of 24 deaths resulted from such injuries.

"Enforcement of the rules prohibiting spearing, properly fitted helmets and excellent physical condition will help reduce fatalities and serious head and neck injuries in football," the report added.

The 24 deaths resulting directly from football were one less than the year before. Twenty occurred in high school football and four in sandlot play.

Deaths from indirect causes—such as heat stroke or heart failure—totaled 8 last year compared with 24 in 1965.

About half the direct fatal injuries in football occur during regular games.

Defensive players have slightly more fatal injuries than offensive players.

Carter Given Two Straight Life Terms

PATERSON, N.J. (AP) — Former middleweight boxing contender Rubin "Hurricane" Carter after a five-year prison term, was given two consecutive life sentences Thursday for a triple murder slaying which the judge called "a cold-blooded massacre."

A third life sentence was made concurrent with the others, meaning the 30-year-old Carter will be eligible for parole in about 28 years. A codefendant, John Artis, 21, received three concurrent life terms and will be eligible for parole in about 14 years.

Superior Court Judge Samuel A. Lerner said, "The evidence reflects a clear-cut intent to kill every person in the tavern at the time."

Carter spent nearly five years in Trenton State Prison on an assault charge and earlier served five years in reformatory.

He was given a shot at the midnight weight title in 1964 but lost a 15-round decision to champion Joey Giardello.

Carter and Artis were convicted May 20 of shooting down three men in a tavern and two customers, one a woman, with a shot gun and pistol in a local tavern on June 17, 1966.

The judge sought the death penalty but the all-white jury of eight men and four women recommended life imprisonment. Both defendants are Negro; the victims were white.

Injury Shelves Detroit Player

DETROIT (AP) — Outfielder Gene Brown dislocated his left wrist in Thursday night's game with the Cleveland Indians and will be lost to the team for two weeks, Detroit Tigers team physician Dr. Russell Wright said.

Brown, injured while attempting to field a double by Cleveland's Chico Salmon in the fifth inning, was the second outfielder lost by Detroit in three days.

Al Kaline, the All-Star right fielder, broke a bone in his right hand Tuesday night.

A NEW SQUEEZE chute has been built by Leslie Ruby, right, and son, Lowell Ruby, Hill City-Corral ranchers.

Valley Farmer Constructs New Type Of Squeeze Chute

FAIRFIELD—Leslie Ruby and his son, Lowell, Hill City-Corral area farmers and cattlemen, are going right along with the growing trend of simplification and improvement.

For many years "Les," as he is known to his many friends, has been working on a squeeze chute that will simplify and improve the cattleman's tasks of de-horning, branding, castrating, vaccinating, and other operations related to cattle raising.

Grangers At Wendell Note Observance

WENDELL — The Centennial candle for Wendell Grange No. 82 was lighted Tuesday evening by Mrs. Raymond Ruby, chairman of the home economics committee in observance of Grange home economics month.

She was assisted in the program by Mrs. Elmer Johnson, acting chaplain, and Mrs. Kirk Hays, lecturer.

The National sewing project of play clothes for children and other types of sewing and needlework was used in the program. Another project of the committee concerning "to be poisoned or not to be poisoned" used in the program included in different "do's and don'ts" in the use of insecticides as well as facts concerning food poisoning and bites and stings.

Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Holmquist and Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Matthews were in charge of the social hour.

Trip Planned

KING HILL — Plans were discussed for an overnight trip for members of the 4-H Wranglers Horse Club when they met at the home of their leader, Bud Allen.

Mr. Allen distributed record books and asked all members to ride their horses to the next meeting for a showing and fitting demonstration. Refreshments were served by Nathan and Michael Jones.

The chute which he is using this spring is constructed from scrap iron from his ranch and is one of several he has made in his efforts for perfection.

Les' idea has been to develop a chute which will tip either to the right or left or will stand upright making it easier for the man to get to any part of the animal.

He uses two sizes of chutes which are connected to narrow runs enabling only one animal at a time to enter. The whole operation works like a production line and eliminates the need for chasing and roping the cattle.

This year Mr. Ruby has been assisted by Robert Eckridge and Herman Petrick who cut out and bring in the cattle. He handles the chute while his son, Lowell, performs the branding or other operation.

Bureau Speakers Talk To Grange

The last June meeting of the Knoll Grange was held at the community center with Al Hanks and Louis Reinko of the Farm Bureau present to speak on the relation of the grange and Farm Bureau.

The men discussed current agriculture problems.

Robert Wells played several cornet solos with his sister accompanying him on the piano. Mrs. T. M. Knight read the history of the Grange back to 160 years ago. The home economics division served pie and ice cream.

No Surplus Seen In Big Wheat Crop

There's no wheat surplus in sight for 1967 even though this year's wheat crop is forecast at a record level, Mr. Lewis Hargis, chairman, Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Idaho State Committee, said today.

The chairman pointed out that even though production of wheat for 1967 will total about 1.5 billion bushels, estimates indicate that domestic and export use will be at about the same level. Not only does this mean there would be no appreciable buildup of carryover supplies beyond current levels, but there should be no drop in market prices.

Wheat producers should consider taking advantage of price-support loans on wheat as a means of exercising control over market supplies and prices. Most producers are eligible for price-support loans which give farmers cash at harvest and at the same time permits them to retain control of their wheat so they can market it at a later date as they choose.

James Scheid, Jerome; Manning Patterson, Gooding; and Mr. Watt.

Award Given Local Stock Inspector

Bill Freeman, Twin Falls, was presented Friday with a certificate of appreciation for ten years service as a government employee working as a federal livestock inspector—for nine counties in Magic Valley.

Mr. Freeman, who has been in Magic Valley for six years, was presented the certificate by Dr. K. R. Hoyt, assistant director of the state-federal cooperative disease control program, Boise. The certificate was issued by the Department of Agriculture and signed by Secretary of Agriculture Orville Freeman.

Mr. Freeman's job calls for control of interstate movement of livestock and inspection for all contagious diseases. He has taken part in field work with area ranchers in brucellosis and tuberculosis.

Associated with the Market Cattle Testing Program, Mr. Freeman initiated the program in the Twin Falls area.

Storage Loan Requirements Are Modified

The Department of Agriculture has modified the eligibility requirements for farm storage and drying equipment loans, according to Carl Boyd, chairman of the Twin Falls ASC County Committee.

The requirement that a producer must be eligible for price support has been eliminated. This means that many farmers who previously were not eligible because of not participating in the voluntary adjustment programs are now eligible for farm storage loans.

Chairman Boyd pointed out that the firm has met the necessary requirements for seeking BLM approval-procurement of a feasibility report and filing on the land-development.

Dean Ruhler, Twin Falls, and Alvin Garrison, Buhl, were elected to the board of directors. Officers of the firm, which was reactivated in recent months, include Von Shieber, Buhl, president; John Ahrendsen, Buhl, vice president; and Raymond J. Ruffing, Castleford, secretary-treasurer.

Mountain View Irrigation Stockholders Hear Report

BUHL — Stockholders of the Mountain View Irrigation Co., Inc., heard the engineers' reconnaissance feasibility report at the first annual meeting Wednesday night at the Buhl City Hall.

A plan for diverting water from Box canyon through siphon to the west side of the Snake River and then on to a reservoir on Dead Man creek is proposed by two Buhl engineers for the project, Bill M. Chronis and A. T. Peterson.

The reservoir capacity would be 44,000 acre feet which would supply peak irrigation demands to some 25,000 acres which are envisioned for croplands. Two alternate plans also were described in the engineers' report, copies of which were distributed to stockholders.

Harry Lohfjorne, Twin Falls, managing agent of the company, who conducted the meeting, explained no action can be taken by the firm until approval for the project is received from the Bureau of Land Management.

He said the firm has met the necessary requirements for seeking BLM approval-procurement of a feasibility report and filing on the land-development.

Dean Ruhler, Twin Falls, and Alvin Garrison, Buhl, were elected to the board of directors. Officers of the firm, which was reactivated in recent months, include Von Shieber, Buhl, president; John Ahrendsen, Buhl, vice president; and Raymond J. Ruffing, Castleford, secretary-treasurer.

RECEIVING TEN-YEAR CERTIFICATE of appreciation from the Federal government is Bill Freeman, Twin Falls, Federal Livestock Inspector, right. Presenting the certificate which was issued by the Department of Agriculture is Dr. K. R. Hoyt, assistant director of the state-federal cooperative disease control program, Boise, left.

Water Supply Up

BOISE (AP)—Cool weather has slowed late spring snow melt, but the U.S. Bureau of Reclamation said today it is expected most irrigation reservoirs serving Southern Idaho will be filled to capacity.

Exceptions are the reservoirs on the Boise River in Southwestern Idaho. The bureau said three reservoirs back about 70,000 acre feet of being full at the present time and irrigation needs are about equalling inflow.

But the bureau said that normal irrigation water supplies will be available from the reservoirs throughout the season and there will be a substantial storage carry-over to next year.

Report Given

A report on the marking and coloring of horses was presented at a Highlander 4-H Club meeting by Valerie Kinsey, held at the home of Mrs. Leona Grange. A demonstration of rope-tying was given by Bob Billington. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Sommer, July 2.

INDOOR CITRUS PLANTS: Many homeowners who start their own citrus (such as orange, grapefruit, lemons, etc.) from seed find that some of the seedlings will flower when a year old, then after this stage is over, no more flowering for many years. Why is it, they ask, that a year-old seedling will flower, then never bloom again?

This happens quite often with most trees and shrubs which are started from seed. Some plants will go through a "juvenile" period after being started from seed and will not form flowers.

This juvenile period often lasts for many years, after which the plant will start to flower. Grapefruit seedlings often flower with the first few months of their lives, then refuse to flower again for a time. It's not a question of male and female flowers as many believe. Just what causes it no one knows.

This "juvenile delinquency" may be caused by the way the plant is started from seed. When you start a plant from cuttings, budding, or grafting, material from the parent plant is used. This material has a list of characteristics, and the resulting plants are not juvenile.

DOCTOR YOUR OWN PLANTS: Here are a few symptoms and trouble you can watch for now on your citrus plants, due to leaf disease, black spot, due to leaf scorch, and so on. Symptoms include yellowing, brown, due to spray or dust burn.

GREEN THUMB NOTE: Japanese Yews are very sensitive to excess soil moisture. Yews can be killed in as short as 24 hours, if the soil is waterlogged. If you are growing in a heavy clay soil, be sure to water. During the hot dry summer weather you can give each yew a slow deep soaking about every 10 days.

QUESTION OF THE WEEK: S.E. of Twin Falls: "Every year I try to raise zinnias. They come up nice, then about August they start to die off. We never used to have this trouble. What's wrong?"

Your trouble is Alternaria blight, a fungus that's carried in the seed and which also overwinters in diseased plant debris. Control should start in fall when all the plant debris should be burned. On young plants start spraying with maneb immediately.

Your next bet is to grow resistant zinnias, a more effective and less expensive method than the present one. Ask your local extension agent for a list of resistant zinnias, broken down into three groups:

HIGHLY RESISTANT: Lilliput, Baby's Bonanza, Rose Gem, Scarlet Gem, and Peach Blossom. Cupid, such as Snowflake and Tiny Tim. Also small flowers, such as Gloriosa, Persian Carpet, Old Mexico and Cut and Come again.

MODERATELY RESISTANT: (About 50 per cent of the plants) include Shiner, Giant Yellow, Fire Cracker, Red Man and State Fair.

ONLY SUSCEPTIBLE: Rosie O'Grady, Sun God, Sunny Boy and Blaze.

Keep this list for next year, and if you choose to work with zinnias, order highly-resistant seed and start your own plants.

A. D. Tuttle: "Last year I started to bloom nicely, then became full of tiny black bugs. These pests killed some plants and left others with lesions nearby. What can I do for aphids (plant lice) are causing the trouble?"

Spray with malathion, teaspoon to two cups of soapy water (or use Nicotine sulfate), making sure you cover the undersides of the leaves. Nasturtiums are highly susceptible to aphids and need spraying at least once every 2 weeks.

W. O. of Rupert: "I wish you'd settle a question for me. Is it better to cut or remove the clippings from your lawn, or do the clippings build up and the grass will die. Is that true?"

"Mowing" or "clipping" which is building up of layers of cut leaves, I don't think it's as bad as you claim. The average lawn, to me, is smarter to leave the decaying lawn clippings where they fall. An acre of grass can produce up to five tons of clippings and this is valuable as a source of humus and nutrients.

Hereford Cattlemen Consider Future And Problems Of Beef Cattle Market

KANSAS CITY, Mo.—This is a drawing of the ideal "profit" steer as visualized by a panel of the nation's leading authorities during the Hereford Evaluation and Judging Conference sponsored by the American Hereford Association recently in Kansas City, Mo.

The panel agreed that one type of animal could and should serve the industry in all sections of the country and stated that the only basic difference between show bulls and range bulls should be condition.

Early Cutting Of Alfalfa Discussed

BURLEY—High quality alfalfa may be the goal for all farmers producing alfalfa for feed or sale, said Glenn Biddell, Cassia Agricultural Extension Agent.

The value of the feed depends greatly on the stage of growth at harvest time. Research work indicates that the time the hay quality is best is just before bloom or when just a scattered bloom can be seen occasionally in the field.

In trials at Cornell University, alfalfa harvested on June 11 was 30 per cent higher in total digestible nutrients and was consumed at a rate 30 per cent greater than that harvested from the same July 9. About 40 per cent more milk was produced and one-half pound more body weight was gained per day by cows consuming the early cut hay in comparison to those fed the late cut hay.

This is borne out also by experience at Washington State University showing different stages of maturity and its comparative digestibility. In these tests crude protein varied from 16.1 per cent pre-bloom to 11.9 per cent at full bloom while crude fiber increased from 31.8 per cent at pre-bloom to 37.4 per cent at full bloom.

Digestible nutrients decreased from 58.9 per cent at pre-bloom to 54.7 per cent at full bloom. This shows that the food value of the hay decreases every day from its peak at pre-bloom or terminal bud stage.

Another point to consider in producing a top quality forage is to have all plants growing at near the same stage or growth as possible.

It is important because of exceeding crops. The next crop growth normally begins just before the pre-bloom stage and some shoots are approaching a height at pre-bloom than the cut with the oncoming crop. If cutting is delayed into the bloom stage, it happens then the plant starts up a new shoot from the crown which results in a very uneven next cutting.

This year a third factor is active which favors an early cut. Perhaps even earlier than the pre-bloom or terminal bud stage, if severe enough.

On cool wet years, a condition is created favorable to a fungus organism that blackens the base of the stems and works on down into the crown of the plant.

If severe enough, the disease continues to work in the crown area, destroying the new buds and shoots. This continues until the hay is cut and the air gets into the crown to dry up and arrest the disease. The plant then buds and sends up new shoots. This process often holds the next cutting back as much as three weeks before new growth appears.

Farm Strikes Under Study By Committee

WASHINGTON, D.C.—U.S. Senator Harrison A. Williams Jr. (D-N.J.) said today that he is requesting the report of the Senate Advisory Committee on the U.S. Commission of Civil Rights in the strike among farm workers in the Rio Grande Valley.

He said "The subcommittee will study the report of the civil rights group very carefully, with a view toward determining whether legislative safeguards are required in situations such as these."

"We also may want to explore at the hearings some of the testimony taken by the civil rights group. From the fragmentary reports we have received, there are some very serious allegations made."

The subcommittee expects to take testimony on bills to extend collective bargaining rights and the protections of the child labor laws to farm workers, as well as other legislation in the migratory labor field.

Members of the Subcommittee on Migratory Labor are Robert Kennedy (D-N.Y.), Edward Kennedy (D-Mass.), Gaylord Nelson (D-Wis.), George Murphy (R-Calif.) and Paul Fannin (R-Calif.).

The controversial question of farm labor is a subject which has been brought up, and amid thunderous applause it was dismissed by a panel member who stated, "We have so many major problems to face that it really isn't important what color shade they are if they are good enough to begin with."

It was agreed, however, that the basic Hereford markings should not be ignored.

The subject of performance cropped up throughout virtually every segment of the entire conference, and the final phase of the meeting was devoted to this subject.

The conclusion of the panel on Total Performance Records was, "Whether we want to admit it or not, a race is on. The Hereford breed can no longer simply rely on cattle and expect customers to beat a path to his door."

Cassia County commissioners, who have been pointed out, Hereford comes nearer than any other breed to being the perfect beef animal, but cattlemen of other breeds have been busy with test cutting, culling and identifying superior animals within their breeds.

Along Fences And Canals

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Chandler moved their range cattle from their ranch in the eastern end of the Elba Valley to their canyon ranch west of Elba this week. Helping with the drive were his nieces and nephew, Nadine, Carla-Todi, and Kenyon Tuttle. Mrs. Chandler drove the truck to haul the horses. At the end of the five-and-one-half mile drive, Mrs. Tuttle joined the group for a picnic in the canyon before returning home.

Mr. and Mrs. George Crofts have sold their farm in Emerson and are living at their ranch in Elba. A new ranch house will be started next week on the Crofts ranch.

Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Lloyd have sold their place in Elba to Mr. and Mrs. Leo Tracy, Rupert and Elba. The Lloyds are moving to Almo where he will work with his brother.

The Four Mile well north of Richfield has gone dry after 15 years of service to five ranches. Ranchers having to haul water, at least temporarily, are the Bruce Sorensens, Heber Kellys, Max Behre, Everett Wards, and Wendell Johnson who has stock at the Waymant ranch.

Alfalfa weevil and aphid have been noted in some Richfield hay fields where cutting has been delayed due to rain.

Farmers in the King Hill area are now getting their hay crops baled and harvested, having been delayed by so much rain. Ray Mitchell has been baling hay at the Ray Thompson ranch south of King Hill. Mr. and Mrs. Frank James, southeast of King Hill, have their hay up, and George Peter, east of King Hill, was one of the lucky ones who got his hay up before the rain.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Gluch and sons, King Hill, spent the weekend helping with farm work at the Elk Grove Ranch of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Kast, near Fairfield. Mr. Gluch is employed at the King Hill 101 Ranch.

Arlo Lloyd, Elba, is digging an irrigation well for Bert Tracy and William Tracy at Almo.

College Course To Treat Management Of Resources

A new division of the Max C. Fleischmann College of Agriculture, University of Nevada, will become a reality as of July 1 according to an announcement made this week by Dr. Dale W. Bohmolt, dean and director of the college.

The new division, titled Renewable Natural Resources, will include teaching, research and extension work in the field of natural resource management. At present, subject matter areas within the division will consist of forestry, watershed, range, game and park and recreation management.

Formerly courses and research concerning these areas were conducted as part of the Plant, Soil and Water Science Division of the college.

"With increasing populations in this country exerting more pressure on our land and water resources, especially as concerns recreation, it becomes more essential that we not only wisely and adequately manage these resources," said Dean Bohmolt, "but that we, through research, improve our techniques and methods of management."

The new Renewable Resource Division will serve to train young people as resource managers. It will also carry on a variety of research projects and apply successful results to problems in the field through the Extension phase of the college program.

Range Camp's Innovations Are Success

Rain came frequently and in quantity but failed to interrupt the schedule and activities of Nevada's 7th Annual Range Camp for Boys. The camp, sponsored by the Max C. Fleischmann College of Agriculture, University of Nevada, and the Nevada Section of the American Society of Range Management, was held June 12-17 in Elko County.

"The camp this year," said Jack Artz, cooperative extension range specialist for the college and camp director, "was something of an experiment. The previous six camps were all held at Kingston Canyon in the Toiyabe Mountain range of central Nevada.

"These camps remained at the same location throughout the week. This year's camp was a mobile affair in which we visited various natural resource management projects and installations and livestock operations. All in all, we think this type of camp is an improvement. We had an outstanding group of boys and the finest group of counselors and staff I've ever had the privilege of working with."
