Newark Is In Fourth Night Of Negro Riots

NEWARK, N.J. (AP) — Gunfire flashed again on a fourth successive night of midsummer Negro rioting Saturday, exacting a new toll of dead and wounded. Only a few hours earlier, 300 white and Negro citizens had crisscrossed through the slum area with a plea to end the racial rebellion.

The tempo of violence increased as darkness deepened and the hour for a second city-wide curfew drew near.

The four-day death toll climbed to 16-Negroes except for a white police officer, not included in the toll was another white detective, who died of a heart attack, attributed to exhaustion, although he had gone off duty.

Among victims brought into Newark City Hospital Saturday in police-maned ambulances was Hattie Gainer, fatally shot in the chest by a police bullet as she sat in the window of her slum home.

Once again the hospital itself became a target of nighttime snipers. Their bullets brought down a fire truck, and snipers with bayoneted rifles to throw a security guard around the building.

Earlier in the day, James H. Meredith spent six hours in the riot sector, where looting, fire-bombing Negroes have defied National Guardsmen, and snipers with bayoneted rifles to throw a security guard around the building.

Meredith said if armed troops were withdrawn, "I am sure there will be absolutely no more trouble."

"As far as the Negro is concerned, it's all over," he said upon his return to his home in New York. "They are in no mood for any more trouble. They want the troops and the state police to go away."

The Newark rioting, which began Wednesday night, was the second worst outbreak in the nation's recent era of disturbed race relations. It was exceeded only by the Watts riot in Los Angeles in 1965 that claimed 44 lives.

Mindful of the continuing threat to law and order, major Newark shops closed for a second day, not to reopen until Monday. Business was reported off 50 per cent in a city saddled with damages beyond estimation, but plainly in the millions. The Newark Post Office remained closed, and mail was diverted for storage to New York and Philadelphia.

Refugees Are Flown From Kisangani

KINSHASA, The Congo (AP) — American and Red Cross mercy planes flew 330 more refugees out of bullet-battered Kisangani Saturday, bringing nearly 650 the number evacuated since mid-July when mercenary pulled out of the city.

Some of those brought to the Congo's capital Saturday as 14 undisciplined Congolese troops, who were ordered to return to Kisangani and that those who heard, some Congolese officers were reported trying to stop the pillaging.

Four of the refugees said they had been beaten on route to Kisangani's airport by Congolese soldiers.

An American C-130 military transport plane, one of three sent to the Congo by President Johnson, arrived at Kinshasa with 150 persons. Two International Red Cross C-46 planes brought 90 persons each, and a Venezuelan C-47 brought provincial troops in the eastern Congo in a revolt following the seizure of power by Mobutu Sese Sese, exiled former Congo premier and Katangan leader who is under a death sentence or treason in his homeland. The rebels received little help from white settlers and withdrew after Congolese soldiers arrived.

GOV. DON SAMUELSON enjoys barbecued beef and lamb with Robert Rowan, center, Elko, supervisor of the Humboldt National Forest. Gov. Samuelson was guest speaker during the 71 Livestock Association's 50th Anniversary celebration Friday at Polo Creek Ranger Station, south of Three Creeks in Nevada. More than 200 persons from Southern Idaho and Northern Nevada attended the celebration.

Rewards Offered For Rescue Of Downed American Pilots

By GEORGE ESPER — The U.S. government, seeking recovery of more of the American flyers shot down over North Vietnam, is offering rewards of 50,000 dollars to anyone who can help find them. The offer is being made to help them escape. That's roughly $3,000.

Sixteen-million leaflets plugging the offer for assistance to downed Americans were scattered Thursday night over a 100-mile stretch of the country northwest from the international zone a U.S. spokesman announced Saturday.

The disclosure came in the wake of the loss of another plane, a Navy A-1 Skyhawk, grounded in one of 64 airplanes over North Vietnam Friday. The pilot is missing. The Skyhawk was the 80th plane officially listed as destroyed over the North.

The Da Nang air base, from which strikes are flown against Communist targets on both sides of the border, was reported to have been hit in a Red rocket attack in the night that killed eight U.S. servicemen, wounded 173 and destroyed or damaged 44 planes.

Glad For Fall

NEW YORK (AP) — "In a way I'm glad to take the fall," said Robert de Simone as he was arrested for bookmaking. "I lost $10,000 on the National League Tuesday."

He was seized by hippie-dressed detectives who had stalked out his office on Union Square.

The hippie outfits were to avoid detection while casing what the police said was a $30,000-a-day operation.

Blame Placed For Copper Industry Row

By The Associated Press — One of the nation's leading copper producers charged Saturday that exorbitant demands by United Steelworkers of America brought about an industry-wide work stoppage which has killed more than 27,000 workers in 12 states Friday.

Phelps Dodge said the steelworkers demanded wage increases totalling "more than $2 per hour." The firm made the charge in an advertisement in the Douglas, Ariz. Dispatch.

The strike, which began with an incident at midnight Friday, also involved Kennecott Copper Corp., Anaconda, American Smelting and Refining Co. (ASARCO) and numerous smaller copper producers.

The strike affects about 90 per cent of the nation's production. It is centered primarily in Arizona, Utah, Nevada, New Mexico and Montana.

Exact estimates of the total economic impact were not available, but a spokesman for Kennecott said past strikes had cost more than $4 million per day in its Western Mining Divisions.

Though no major copper shortages were anticipated immediately, the impact of the nation's annual production is earmarked for defense and a prolonged strike could prompt government to take prompt federal measures.

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Miss U.S.A., Sylvia Hitchcock of Miami, a student at the University of Alabama, was chosen Saturday night as Miss Universe 1967.

General Railroad Tieup Threatened By 2 Walkouts

WASHINGTON (AP) — Announcement of two strikes and a prediction of more built pressure here Saturday for swift congressional action on Monday to avert a crippling general railroad tieup.

Officials of Machinists Unions in Spokane, Wash., and Cumberland, Md., announced plans for their men to strike at 6 a.m. Sunday, local time, with out saving any national authorization by top union leaders.

The western walkout would affect six roads and the eastern one two others.

The strike leaders of these strike plants came a few hours after J. E. Wolfe, chief spokesman for the carriers in their proper hour. The firm made the charge in an advertisement in the Douglas, Ariz. Dispatch.

The strike, which began with an incident at midnight Friday, also involved Kennecott Copper Corp., Anaconda, American Smelting and Refining Co. (ASARCO) and numerous smaller copper producers.

The strike affects about 90 per cent of the nation's production. It is centered primarily in Arizona, Utah, Nevada, New Mexico and Montana.

Exact estimates of the total economic impact were not available, but a spokesman for Kennecott said past strikes had cost more than $4 million per day in its Western Mining Divisions.

Though no major copper shortages were anticipated immediately, the impact of the nation's annual production is earmarked for defense and a prolonged strike could prompt government to take prompt federal measures.

Forees Of Biafran Flee Loyal Troops

Lagos, Nigeria (AP) — Federal Nigerian troops were reported pursuing fleeing Biafran forces Saturday night after a battle that could be a turning point in the central government's fight to crush the revolt by its breakaway Eastern region.

A federal spokesman said the rebel forces of Lt. Col. Odumegwu Ojukwu had fled to a provincial university town of Nsukka, just 40 miles from the Biafran capital of Enugu.

Authorized no strike by the 137,000 affected workers.

Commenting on Wolfe's prediction, James W. Ramsey, vice president of AFL-CIO International Association of Machinists, said, "I haven't heard a thing from any of our general managers."

He reaffirmed the union leadership's opposition to any unauthorized walkout but added, "I can't guarantee what will happen in the way of wildcat strikes by local units."

The strike announced at Spokane would affect the Great Northern, Northern Pacific, Union Pacific, Santa Fe, Burlington and the Spokane, Portland and Seattle. That announced at Cumberland would be against the Baltimore and Ohio and the Western Maryland.

"If a widespread walkout begins despite pleas against it by the White House and congressional leaders, all senators and representatives will be pressed to hurry back here for prompt action," it was learned.

The deadlocked Senate-House compromise effort scheduled to resume at 3 p.m. EDT Monday would be advanced to 9 a.m., an informed source said.

Director of the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service, made the announcement on the tentative agreement, saying it would send the 12,000 workers in nine Goodrich plants back to work as soon as possible. He said the plants would be closed for a quick back-to-work status as soon as possible, depending on ratification by URW membership.

Goodrich said it pleased to announce that the B.F. Goodrich Co. and United Rubber Workers have reached a tentative agreement covering all aspects of the negotiations. Simkin said, adding that the agreement was subject to ratification. "The parties are in complete agreement," he said.

Simkin commended the union and the company for completing what he called "extremely difficult negotiations."

Peter Dommarito, president of the Rubber Workers, who with federal mediators has been carrying on the negotiations here, said the agreement "gives the blue-collar worker a piece of what we set out to achieve," including a supplemental unemployment benefit plan.

Goodrich is one of the five major rubber producers shut down by strikes. The march on work of plants in Akron and Waco, Tex. URW Local 9's executive board met Wednesday to set up machinery for the ratification vote. The board met Friday night, but an official said no action could be taken on the new agreement because a complete text was not available.

Israeli And Egyptian Jets, Guns Duel Along Canal

By The Associated Press — The other for starting the action — Egypt containing Israel sought advantages of some kind before the U.N. observers reached stations. Israel says the Egyptians had started shooting with no reasons apparent.

Israel claimed its forces had shot down five Soviet-built MIG-21 jets of the Egyptian air force, four in daylight and one by anti-aircraft fire.

Israel acknowledged the loss of one plane due to anti-aircraft fire but said the pilot was rescued after parachuting.

Egypt claimed no plane losses in which 33 persons were killed and 58 wounded. Seven of the killed and 22 of the wounded were Israeli, a military spokesman said. A Cairo communiqué said some of its casualties Friday were civilians.

Israel said Saturday's clashes had begun with Egyptians opening up on Israeli trucks on the east bank of the canal, and that the Jordanians returned the fire.

Shusha was reported around 10 miles, 50 miles north of Suez. The fighting appeared to be a continuation of clashes that Friday in which 33 persons were killed and 58 wounded. Seven of the killed and 22 of the wounded were Israeli, a military spokesman said. A Cairo communiqué said some of its casualties Friday were civilians.

The Egyptian city of Suez and its satellite towns of Firdan and Port Taufiq at the southern entrance in the canal were flash points in the new fighting. Other

Pope Decries Both Sides Of War

Twin Falls Times-News
Sunday, July 16, 1967

"Checkless" Society Is Predicted At Credit Meet

A "checkless society" has been predicted for members of the Consumer Credit Association and the Credit Women International.

Miss Nan Moon and Mrs. Nell Hartley, local delegates to the international conference of the two groups, made their report to the local group Thursday morning at the Depot Grill.

The delegates said Dr. Boris Yavitz, Columbia University graduate school of business, told the conference that "there will be no need for any company or group to own a computer. But that firms will rent the services and all purchases for merchandise or services charged through the computer.

These charges will be transferred directly to the customer's bank where the depositor's account will be debited and the firm's account credited, thus eliminating any need for checks.

Dr. Yavitz also commented that there were some limitations, including "basic propriety."

"It would be like a big ugly data book, having all the goods on all of us, and many would want to know right away who

Total Idaho Construction Is Reported

Total construction authorized by building permits in Idaho during June 1967 was 33.3 per cent below June a year ago, according to the Idaho Construction Report published by First Security Bank of Idaho.

Locally, James Phelps, senior vice president, reported that total permits issued in the central area which includes Twin Falls, Burley, Rupert, Jerome, Good and Shoshone numbered 283 during the first six months of 1967 with a value of $1,385,255.

In Twin Falls, 134 permits valued at $812,200 were issued in that same period. This included 30 dwelling unit permits for $350,000. Other construction activity included new commercial building for $210,000 and alterations and repairs totaling $216,420.

The upsurge anticipated by midsummer in housing construction has, as yet, not materialized, although some increases have been indicated, the publication said.

By BENNET M. ROLTON
VATICAN CITY (AP) — After years of attempting to moderate the war in Vietnam, Pope Paul VI has come to believe that both sides are wrong.

"It is necessary that bombing over North Vietnam territory cease," he said recently. "But it is necessary at the same time that infiltrations of arms and war materials into the South come to a halt."

At least 30 of Pope Paul's public statements in 1965 and 17 of them so far in 1967, have dwelt on the search for peace between the two Vietnams and his own "profound grief of soul" over what is happening there.

"The Pope loves Vietnam, all of Vietnam, North, central and South," said Pope Paul in May to a pilgrimage of Vietnamese. Beyond prayers and appeals, Caritas Internationalis—the international federation of Catholic charities—has poured almost $30 million in goods and cash into South Vietnam since 1954. It now is helping to fill a North Vietnamese Red Cross request for $1.5 million worth of hospital equipment for civilians in the North.

The war, as war and as part of U.S. government policy, divides American Catholics along with other Americans. "Hawks" and "Doves" exist as well among Italian, French, German and other Catholics around the world.

Just as Catholics everywhere don't see eye to eye on the politics of the war, Catholic theologians disagree on its morality.

Flies To London

PISA, Italy (AP) — Mrs. John F. Kennedy unexpectedly left her vacation villa at Lucca Saturday and flew to London aboard a special flight from Pisa Airport.

There had been reports when she came to Italy from Ireland five days ago that she might visit flood-damaged Florence attend the Festival of Two Worlds at Spoleto and possibly have an audience with Pope Paul VI.

Instead, Mrs. Kennedy spent her vacation in seclusion in a 17th century villa near Lucca as a guest of Count Dino Pecci at the Twin Falls Credit Bureau.

letter writers' argument that Christianity embraces without exception the theses of nonviolence and pacifism.

"A harmony between faith and reason must be exercised," concluded Father Centi. "Nothing so can be traced only to our own ignorance." Encouragingly, "in the name of ignorance" to give up what their reason suggests, he said, "only serves to make the religion we profess ridiculous."

The one place in the entire world where Catholic theologians generally concur is in the moral duty to be ready and willing to negotiate if and when a serious chance for it comes. Close aides say the Pope's desire to remain outside any political arguments of the belligerents has caused him to phrase his repeated peace appeals carefully. Yet the pontiff is said to have been aware over the past year of Washington's disposition for negotiation and Hanoi's rigid stance in the face of all suggested approaches.

While conscious of worldwide Marxist pressures to bend public opinion against America's role in the war, the pope continues the papacy proclaims a humane alarm over all that happens in Vietnam without intending to lend support to Communist psychological strategy.

Vietnam has been regarded as fertile ground by Catholic missionaries for 400 years. There has been church growth but it is relatively small within the predominantly Buddhist culture.

Before the 1950s, approximately there were some 1.6 million Catholics in all Vietnam, or about 7 per cent of the total population of 22.3 million.

With the French defeat at Dien Bien Phu and the 1954 Geneva agreements, the population of North and South were allowed to move from one zone to the other across the 17th parallel for almost a year. At the end of that time close to 900,000 Vietnamese had flooded the South. Among them—estimates vary—were 600,000 or more Catholics.

Why did more than half of the Catholics in the North move to the South?

One factor cited here was the creation of the so-called "movement of Catholics who love God and the fatherland," founded by the Communist regime in 1955.

The "patriotic Catholic" movement is led by the Rev. Ho Thanh Bien, 78-year-old pastor of St. Dominic's church in Hanoi. The Vietnamese priest is the movement's deputy president, responsible to a Communist government official for seeing to it that Catholics in the North stay behind the Hanoi regime's policies. It is politically inadvisable, "Catholicism is unacceptable to the Hanoi regime," said Father Bien as a lifelong friend of President Ho Chi Minh.

"We don't know what pressures Father Bien is living under," said a church official. "He appears to believe deeply in the cause he supports. We cannot make any judgment on him. He remains always a priest and we can only hope for him and pray for him."

Father Bien uses the argument with visitors that the southward exodus of Catholics 13 years ago was politically organized and directed; under the encouragement of Francis Cardinal Spellman of New York. Cardinal Spellman appears to have been singled out because his is the best known American Catholic name abroad and because he is military vicar for Catholic U.S. servicemen.

The Vatican is unable to calculate exactly how many priests are left in the North, but the best estimates say no more than 300—a reduction of two-thirds from the figure in the early 1950s. Seminarians total fewer than 100. As old priests die there will be few newly ordained to replace them.

Catholic schools, at least by Vatican standards, don't exist in the North—Worship is restricted and priests are able to preach to the people and instruct them only occasionally. The 12 bishops were kept by the Hanoi government from going to the Vatican ecumenical council.

Scouts Urged To Earn Auto Merit Badges

Local Boy Scouts are urged to earn automotive safety merit badges, local scout officials said Friday.

The rise in the number of automobile and motor bike accidents has prompted the increased interest in this particular badge. Several copies of the badge requirements were distributed to boys at Camp Bradley this week.

The badge requires that boys be able to identify and demonstrate several safety factors in cars and have specific knowledge of braking distances and the seriousness and size of the traffic accident problem in the United States, Idaho and the Magic Valley area. They must know how a passenger can contribute to the safe operation of an automobile, how to safely use a bicycle or motorcycle and information from the driver's manual.

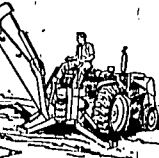

The boys are encouraged to work with local civic groups conducting a community vehicle safety check or organize their own. The badge is sponsored by the Traffic Safety Division of the Idaho Department of Law Enforcement.

Pool Jailed
WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep.
Joe R. Pool, D-Tex., spent about five hours in a suburban jail early Friday despite a claim of congressional immunity following a traffic accident.

He was then released without bond by Arlington County,
Va. Judge Thomas W.
Dodge, who said he assumed the congressman "didn't understand the procedure."
Pool was jailed when he refused to sign a traffic ticket to signify he would appear in court.
Arrested in Arlington, Va.,
also a Washington suburb,
he was charged with reckless driving and failure to show his car registration after the accident.

Heyburn Man, 56, Dies Of

Long Illness

HEYBURN—William Oliver, 56, Heyburn, died Saturday at Cassia Memorial Hospital of cancer.

He was born Feb. 11, 1911, at Return, S.C., and attended Taylor School at Ocean County, S.C. He married Virginia Kelly in 1937 in Ocean County. They were later divorced. He came to Idaho five years ago and worked as a trucker. He had lived in Heyburn the past four years.

He was a member of the Burley Lutheran Church. Survivors include two sons, Roger K. Oliver and Larry S. Oliver, both Heyburn; his father, Lonnie L. Oliver, Westminster, S.C.; five brothers, Howard S. Oliver, Newry, S.C.; Pierce Oliver, Seneca, S.C.; Hugh Oliver, Westminster, S.C.; Aaron Oliver, Warrenton, Ore.; and Eddie Oliver, Seneca, S.C.; one sister, Mrs. Monell Rhodes, Callahan Falls, S.C., and two grandchildren.

Funeral services will be conducted at 11 a.m. Monday at the Burley Lutheran Church by Rev. Glenn Koch. Final rites will be at Pleasant View Cemetery. Friends may call at Payne Mortuary Sunday afternoon and evening and until time of services Monday.

Pioneer Day Celebration Set At Oakley

OAKLEY — "Success through Cooperation" has been chosen as the theme for the annual forthcoming Pioneer Days celebration. Backed by several organizations, the affair promises to provide a full day and two full evenings of thrills and spills.

The American Legion will open the celebration with the traditional sunrise salute followed by a western hot-plate breakfast at 7 p.m. at the City Park, according to Kenneth Rosencrans, president of the Chamber of Commerce. Homemade sausage will be on the menu.

Mr. Rosencrans also notes that a special aviation is given any pilot in the Magic Valley area who might like to make use of the newly resurfaced airport and join in the festivities.

The Chamber also is anticipating a motorcycle from the Burley area as has been the custom in the past few years.

A Pioneer Day program will be given at 10 a.m. in the LDS Stake House. The Daughters of The Utah Pioneers will dedicate a monument following the program at the City Park honoring the old Cassia Stake Tabernacle which burned in 1955 after serving the Oakley community for so many years.

An open-pit, Western-style barbecue dinner will be served at the park at 11:30 a.m. by the Chamber of Commerce. This year the beef will be donated by the Anderson brothers. Horsec, floats and queens will be on hand for the parade along with many outstanding entries, according to James Nelson, American Legion Commander.

Linda Craner, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Hyrum J. Craner, will reign over the festivities and represent Oakley in the Cassia County Fair. Prizes will be given to winners in each division.

For those who enjoy movies, "Smoke" will be shown at the Cassia Stake Playhouse at 2:30 p.m. and other showings Monday and Tuesday at 8 p.m.

A softball game at 4 p.m. will be held at the High School ball park.

Monday afternoon a gymnastics will be held at the Vigilante arena at 2:30 p.m. and is open to all amateur contestants according to John Fennesbeck, chairman. This will consist of various forms of barrel racing, wild cow milking and other events, and he notes that children are welcome to enter if they care to and have a release signed by their parents if they are under 21 years of age. Closing day for the registration will be the morning of the celebration.

At 8 p.m. Monday, the Spur Rodeo Company's (IRA and ICA approved rodeo will be presented by Jake Pope with Ivan Pollard doing the announcing. Bareback riding, saddle bronc riding, Brahma bull riding, team roping, Brahma cut roping, bulldogging and a girls' barrel race with a $100.00 entry and $50.00 added to the purse, will be featured.

Added money will be $150.00 to saddle bronc riding with $100.00 to all other major events. The entry fees are $20.00 per event per man and the registration opens at 10 a.m. July 21, and closes at 8 p.m. July 22. Entrants should contact the rodeo office, 862-3263, or Mrs. Nathan Tanner, 862-2294. Local team roping, July 24, with an entry fee of $10.00 per team and a 60-40 jackpot also will be featured.

The Rupert Wranglers Riding Club will be featured on the 24th and the Burley sheriff's posse—the 26th-Rodeo-Koel—will entertain the children with his clowning and novelty acts will be given by Lola De Lude.

The first performance of the rodeo will be Tuesday night with the 25-mile pony express race which will start in front of the 24th and the Burley sheriff's posse at 8 p.m. A purse of $1,000 will go to the first place team, $400.00 for second place team and $200.00 for third.

Last year the Minidoka Wranglers won first place with the time of one hour, 11 minutes and 17 seconds. Another purse of $50.00 will be given or split if there should be a tie.

Anyone wishing to enter the race should contact Clyde Boff or Raddon Layton at 862-3352 or 862-3271, or Clifford Woodhouse at 862-3668.

Aviator Dies
MURPHY, N.C. (AP)—The man thought to be the last of the pioneer pilots of the Wright brothers flying machines has died at the age of 83.

Harry Nelson Atwood, who held several flight records set in the first part of this century, died Friday in a hospital near Murphy.

It was in the baby Wright—fimsy biplane constructed in the Wright brother's machine shop at Dayton, Ohio—that Atwood in 1911 flew 1,255 miles between St. Louis and New York City in 28 hours and 58 minutes.

He made 11 stops on that flight. According to newspaper accounts, almost all of the $10,000 prize he collected went to cover the expenses of the trip.

Jordan Claims Truce Broker

AMMAN, Jordan (AP)—A Jordanian military spokesman charged that Israeli troops fired three times across the cease-fire line on the River Jordan today and that Jordanian forces returned the fire, taking some Israeli casualties. The Jordanians suffered no casualties, he said.

Jordan filed a complaint to the U.N. Security Council over the incident.

The shooting broke out near the Damiya Bridge in the northern part of the Jordan Valley, upriver from the Alleby Bridge, the main crossing for Arab refugees fleeing the Israelis, the spokesman said.

World Is Spattered With Violence, Blood

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Special Correspondent

War, near war and armed violence spatter the map of the globe with blood.

In Asia, Africa and Latin America, trouble spots menace continental peace and threaten to embroil the big powers in new crises.

The most dangerous situations are in Asia. And a number of them could cause a clash of major powers and imperil the peace of the whole world.

Continents by Communist throughout, the vast area known as "the underdeveloped world," prospects look more dismal day by day.

ASIA

The United States is considering more U.S. troops to be added to the nearly half million already fighting the Viet Cong and North Vietnamese. Vietnam remains an obstacle to an approach toward better relations between the two mightiest nuclear powers, the United States and the Soviet Union.

Hong Kong represents a serious new threat to peace. Should Red China decide to apply heavy pressure to drive Britain out of her crown colony, Asian and possibly global war could be around the corner. The betting—though betting on Peking is precarious these days—is that the Chinese Communists will be prudent, reluctant to risk inviting attack on its new nuclear installations.

South Korea begins to look like another threat to peace. There is evidence that Communists from the North want to start something of a "people's war" in South Korea. There has been an alarming upsurge of guerrilla harassment. Communists have penetrated deep into the South, ambushing South Korean military patrols.

In Thailand, a budding guerrilla war is eyed warily by the government and its American allies. China long has been proclaiming an intention to support "people's wars" in Thailand.

In India, the government watches Chinese troops still encamped along Himalayan frontiers—a constant source of potential pressure, while New Delhi and Peking continue a war of words. Communists and Chinese agitate for rebellion among restless Indian tribesmen.

A little war of sorts continues in the Sinai Peninsula between Egyptians and Israeli troops planted along the conqueror's eastern bank of the Suez Canal. Settlement of the results of the conflict still seems a distant prospect, and the situation agitates U.S.-Soviet relations.

In Yemen, a persistent little "dirty war" remains. Egypt supports a revolutionary regime's troops against hillbilly tribesmen loyal to the ousted Imam, or King, King Faisal of Saudi Arabia supports the royalists, and his forces flower at Egyptian forces, despite their supposed "unity" in the war with Israel.

AFRICA

Nigeria is beset by a confusing civil war. Once, Nigeria was considered the most hopeful of new, independent African nations. Now the government at Lagos fights secessionists of the eastern region seeking an independent republic of Biafra.

In the Congo, seven years independent from Belgium, white mercenaries played a key part in a rebellion in the eastern area against President Joseph D. Mobutu's Kinshasa—formerly Leopoldville—regime.

The Congo in trouble is always a source of Soviet-American friction in the contest for influence in Africa.

In the last outpost of colonialism, and his forces flower at itself economically fighting rebellion.

LATIN AMERICA

There is violent trouble now, and possibly a good deal more to come. Bolivia's government organized guerrillas seeking power. Colombia is constantly harassed by bands of armed revolutionaries.

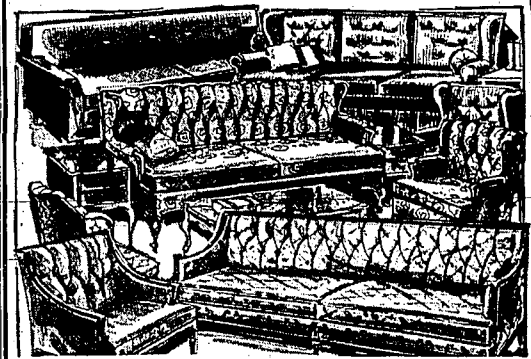

Communist-backed organizations, dreaming of power, through "people's wars," are preparing to hear the word from Fidel Castro's Havana late this month. Castro will be host to a Latin American solidarity organization, to plot more revolutionary activity in other countries, such as Guatemala and Venezuela.

Woman Urges Visiting Of Towns Throughout Valley

Editor, Times-News: I'd like to try to answer the letter of Mrs. Anderson and Mrs. Ordaz in the Sunday, July 9 edition of the Times-News. As a non-resident of Twin Falls city, but a resident of Twin Falls County, I wish to commend the Twin Falls business groups for not competing with Fourth of July celebrations in other small towns in Magic Valley.

We'd like to think the people of Twin Falls feel as welcome visiting us as we feel in Twin Falls. You don't really want to keep your "own" people home all the time, do you? We like you to see our towns, too. We hope you'll find a weekend night free soon to attend our Antique Festival Theatre; and hope you will enjoy as much as we from out of town enjoy the community concerts, lectures, Music Club programs, Children's Theatre, Messiah House, etc., which we drive to Twin Falls to see and hear.

VIRGINIA J. ASH (Buhl)

As the cultural, commercial and industrial center of the valley, as the governmental seat of the county, the location of county hospital, stamp redemption centers, employment office, internal revenue service, Twin Falls finds many, many license plates from out-of-city within its borders every day. Surely there is no harm in letting Twin Falls City licensed cars enjoying the hospitality of friendly neighboring towns once a year, on the Fourth of July. There are so many interesting events during the year: July 21, Harperman; Labor Day, Bellevue; Wagon Days, Ketchikan; Frontier Days, Twin Falls; the Filer and Burley Fairs; as well as the Fourth celebration at Rupert and Buhl and the Dilettante productions at Filer. We've appreciated many fine activities and parades in Twin Falls, too, and wish to thank all the public spirited men and women in the area who have made them possible.

Are We Ready For Fireworks Is Question Of T. F. Writer

Editor, Times-News: Well, hurrah for the Fourth of July! and hurrah for the fireworks, too! Let me be clear. I'm not opposed to fireworks on July 4th, and why I am so "enthusiastic" about fireworks. I drove out into the country, and decided to stop to see some friends. I slowed to make the turn into their driveway. A car which had been behind us for some time passed us at this moment. (In my mirror I had noticed some children in it.) Suddenly, something exploded in my face, with shattering noise, smoke and pain. It was a firecracker which had been thrown from the passing car through my open car window and into my lap. My dress was afire, and I jumped out of the car, shaking.

the firecracker off my clothes. My skirt was burned, - split scorched, and leg singed. - In course, it could have been worse. The firecracker could have struck my eyes as it flew about, and damaged the sight of my one good eye. Or I might have lost control of the car, causing a wreck. I escaped luckily enough, with only a ruined dress and frayed nerves. Does it appear that we are ready for fireworks these days? MRS. JAMES VANDENBARK (Twin Falls)

Britain To Disclose Plans To Phase Out Land Bases In Asia

By ARTHUR L. GAVSHON LONDON (AP) — Turning her back on 100 years of history, Britain Tuesday will disclose a program to begin phasing out her land bases in Asia.

The eight-year program is designed also to bring British air, land, and sea-force spending into line with the nation's dwindling resources and to transform commitments, assumed in the 19th century when warships of imperial Britain dominated the seas.

Advance word of the British decisions has dismayed Americans, Australians, New Zealanders, Malaysians, the people of Singapore and other friendly countries. In particular, President Johnson has been portrayed as feeling let down by Prime Minister Harold Wilson. It seems he thought he had the British leader's personal guarantee that America would not be left politically and psychologically isolated as the only major Western power actively seeking to stem the onrush of Red Chinese influence through the region. Moreover, some American authorities are concerned that Britain's moves at a time of heavy U.S. reinforcement in Vietnam will be taken widely as a sign of disaffection from the Johnson's policies in that embattled land.

A government white paper due Tuesday will serve notice that by 1971-72 British forces scattered through the vast east-Suez region will be down to around 20,000 to 25,000 men, about half their present strength. British land bases — garrisons, storage centers, naval docking installations, stockpiling depots, some airfields, repair and maintenance shops — will be shut gradually, sold, transferred or in other ways surrendered, in Aden, Singapore and the Malaysian territories.

means to fulfill those of its pledges to protect friendly states that remain valid in the late 1970s, even if different forms of protection have to be used.

And this is what the British propose to do, to break the traditional pattern of huge land forces and rely instead on an entirely new system of air-strike power, supported by the navy. The policy document also will tell of other planned force cuts in the nation's air, land and sea arms, but it seems likely to stay silent on one major decision in principle already taken by the Cabinet: that all British land garrisons will be out of the Asian mainland, meaning Malaysia and Singapore by 1970.

But all this will not signal to the British retreat from the east-Suez region by the late 1970s, for that is not contemplated. The Wilson government still expects to cover allied, or friendly, powers against any attacker. And the mission and facilities of the British air force will be filled in with those of Americans, Australians, New Zealanders, Malaysians, Singapore and others.

Son Of Local Couple Gets Federal Post

Jeffrey R. Cunningham, son of Mr. and Mrs. Russell E. Cunningham, 465 Sunrise Blvd., N., was named recipient by President Johnson as a Foreign Service Officer of the United States. He was sworn in at a recent ceremony held in Washington, D.C. with the Honorable John M. Stevens, Director General of the Foreign Service of the United States, as principal speaker.

The Foreign Service of the United States is a career professional corps of men and women who are selected by President to carry out the foreign policy of the United States. Mr. Cunningham received this appointment after successfully completing highly competitive written and oral examinations. He was graduated from Twin Falls Senior High School and received a B. A. degree from Ottawa University, Canada. Within a few weeks, he will be assigned to a position with one of the 119 countries with which the United States maintains diplomatic relations, or with the State Department in Washington, D. C.

Dr. Andrus, 82, Dies Of Illness

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP) — Dr. Ethel Percy Andrus, 82, founder and president of the National Retired Teachers Association and the American Association of Retired Persons, died Thursday after a short illness. Last month she received the Editor's Press award for excellence in educational journalism for an article published in January's NRTA Journal. She had also received community and youth service awards from the city and county of Los Angeles and the state of California. The state's first secondary school principal, she held the post from 1910 to 1934 at Lincoln High School and returned to active teaching after 41 years. After her retirement she founded first the NRTA in 1917 and, 11 years later, the AARP, whose membership now exceeds one million persons.

POINTING OUT THE 4,600 foot long airstrip which will be a unique feature of his real estate development between Halley and Ketchum is Ted Teren. Bill Casey, who will head sales of the five-acre plots for homesites, looks on.

Wood River Real Estate Development Will Feature Large Tracts, Airstrip

HAILEY—A young man who first came to Wood River Valley in 1948 to ski, has recently purchased a tract of land here and will put it to a use unthought of back in the days when it served as a ranching, railroading and ore shipping point.

Ted Teren has purchased the land surrounding the old Gimlet Railroad stop between Halley and Ketchum, and will be subdividing it into five-acre home sites, complete with an airplane landing strip.

Mr. Teren is purchasing the old railroad station house from the Union Pacific railroad and will reinforce it and move to what will be known as the Gimlet Airstrip.

He expects to have his 4,600 foot long, 50 foot wide paved airstrip, with turf taxi ways, ready for use by September. Grading is already completed and the strip is ready for paving, which will begin within the next few weeks.

Mr. Teren said his main interest in putting in the airstrip is to make the 400 acres of land bordering the airstrip, which he purchased from the Sawtooth Grazing last February, more desirable.

The homesites will be primarily for those who fly twin-engine planes in the Sun Valley area from Los Angeles, San Francisco, Portland and Seattle.

"They will be able to step into their planes in Los Angeles and land on the Gimlet airstrip within three hours, and then taxi their airplane to their back doors. From Portland it would take only two hours. They will not have the problem of transport at Halley, will start next week to erect buildings at the northeast corner of the airport. He will build his home there and will operate his charter service from the Gimlet Airstrip. He will cover all gas sales and maintenance.

Attempting to know all the history about Gimlet, he has found remains of roofs of old cabins on the east side, and survey stakes marked 1880.

Mr. Teren is enjoying talking with the Basque shepherders and campers who pass through this section of the country.

"It gives me an opportunity to keep brushed up on my Spanish. These men understand and speak it fluently."

Policy On Dam Project Protects U.S.

By PHIL KEIF

WASHINGTON (AP) — The administration's decision to bar foreign bidding on three Grand Coulee Dam power units protects American industry in the first round of worldwide competition to develop giant power turbines and generators. Among those kept out are the Soviets, whose interest in building units for the giant dam in the state of Washington had stirred some congressional criticism.

Secretary of the Interior Stewart L. Udall said the So-

Matson And Boston Head Strong Showing In Pan-Am Game Trials

By JERRY LISKA, Associated Press Sports Writer
MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (AP) — Two world record holders, shot putter Randy Matson and discus thrower Ralph Boston, headed an impressive show of American track and field power in Saturday's opening of trials for the Pan-American Games. Existing Pan-Am records were bettered in five of the seven men's finals and in five of the six women's finals contested there, 7,726 at the University of Minnesota's Memorial Stadium.

Twin Falls Drops Pair In Montana Meet

BILLINGS — The Twin Falls Legion team dropped a pair of lopsided games to Billings and Yakima in the opening two games of the Billings Legion Invitational.

Billings dropped Twin Falls 11-5 Friday night and Yakima came up with a 12-3 decision Saturday. Twin Falls goes against Rapid City, S.D., in the windy Sunday.

Billings went ahead in the second inning of the Friday game, winning pitcher Dick Ronning tripling home two runs after a pair of singles. The home team pushed the count to 6-0 before Twin Falls scored in the fifth when Gary Stimpson lived on an error and scored on Steve Feasell's single.

Mays Sideline Due To Flu Siege

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Willie Mays, recovering from a severe flu siege, was hospitalized Saturday and probably will be out of the San Francisco Giants' line-up for two or three games.

"Mays is recovering from a severe influenza attack and is in need of complete rest," said Dr. Edmund Mortinger, who recommended Mays remain in St. Mary's Hospital for two or three days.

It is not likely Mays will make the Giants' upcoming road trip to Pittsburgh and Chicago, the club said.

Mrs. Undhjem Cops Third State Crown

Twin Falls Women Blazes Through Final Round To Claim 5 And 3 Victory

IDAHO FALLS (AP)—Virginia Undhjem, Twin Falls, became the third woman in the 33-year history of the Idaho State amateur golf tournament to capture three consecutive trophies as she beat Rose Ann Osterstrom, Idaho Falls, 5 and 3.

at Pinecrest Municipal Saturday. Undhjem, who captured her home-state golf crown in 1936, sank a 40-foot putt on the 15th hole, a 24-foot putt on the 16th, which clinched the victory.

Howard Bats Senators Past Detroit 3-2

WASHINGTON (AP)—Frank Howard, who had struck out five straight times in the last two games, lashed a two-run single to cap a three-run rally in the seventh inning that gave Washington a 3-2 victory over Detroit Saturday, extending the Senators' winning streak to six games.

The two women were double-locked after the first 18 holes Saturday morning. Both shot 65, eight over women's par of 77.

Joe Foy Fires Red Sox Past Orioles 5-1

BOSTON (AP)—Joe Foy started a triple play in the first inning and led Boston's attack with a single, double and triple Saturday as the Red Sox defeated the slumping Baltimore Orioles 5-1.

Both women parred No. 10, a 200-yard par 3.

A strongly paraded Idaho Falls crowd then saw Mrs. Osterstrom, whose husband is a golf pro at the Idaho Falls Country club, apply the pressure by taking holes 12 and 13. She birdied both with 10-and-13-foot putts, giving her a 2 and 1 lead to 4 up.

Mickey Lolich, who had pitched out of several jams in a 2-0 lead and two outs in the seventh when the Senators struck, Bernie Allen singled to right, pinch hitter Doug Camilli followed with a single to center. Tim Lincecum drove in a run with another single.

Mrs. Undhjem made 4 1/2 up on No. 13, which she dropped to a 2 and 1 lead. She then settled to settle for after her approach shot landed to the right of the green. Her chip shot narrowly missed the cup for a par.

Mike Marshall relieved Lolich and walked Ken McMullin, lashing the bases and setting up Howard's game-winning hit.

Rose Ann, Wyoming's 1930 women's champion, finished with a 3 and 1 on the 18th put, which Virginia sank on an 18-foot putt. Virginia was on in five and dropped a five-foot putt for a bogey six on the 19th hole.

The Tigers scored twice off Barry Moore in the fifth on a single by Dick Tracewski, Ray Oler's triple and a single by Lolich.

Hein Princek, Buhl, who captured the title three times in the early 1940s, the mother of three, said, "This is the greatest and most exciting match of all three state titles I've won. Every phase of my game was going smoothly. It's the best I've played."

Killebrew; Oliva Lift Twins By A's

MINNEAPOLIS (AP)—Harmon Killebrew led off the ninth inning with his second home run of the game and Tony Oliva followed with a homer, lifting the Minnesota Twins past Kansas City 3-2 Saturday.

President Filgate—Blanche McMaster, Pocatello, defeated a 1-0 First Flight—Beverly Boines, Boise, defeated Sally Minor, Idaho Falls, 5 and 4. Consolation—Bert Roberts, Blackfoot, defeated Shirley DeMott, Rexburg, 1 up.

Pagan Sparks Pirates To 6-4 Victory

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Pinch hitter Jose Pagan drove in the breakthrough run in the eighth inning Saturday night, sparking Pittsburgh to a 6-4 victory over the St. Louis Cardinals, who lost pitching ace Bob Gibson for up to six weeks with a broken hand in his right leg.

Second Flight—Kerrie Quinn, Boise, defeated Joe Smith, Boise, and 1. Consolation—Grace Lewis, Idaho Falls, defeated Carol Schmidt, Idaho Falls, 1 up.

Queen Stops Mets, Reds Take 6-1 Win

CINCINNATI (AP)—Mel Queen, a former outfielder, fashioned a sparkling six-hit Saturday and pitched the Cincinnati Reds to a 6-1 victory over the New York Mets.

Barilo Baena, the leading money winner among the nation's jockeys the last two years, came back after a spill in the seventh race to give Dr. Fager a flawless ride.

Queen, who had a no-hitter going until John Sullivan and singles in the sixth, broke a personal three-game losing streak and pushed his record to 11-0 after he struck out three, walked two and hit one batter.

The Reds, meanwhile, had clipped starter Tom Seaver for a quick run in the first inning on successive singles by Floyd Robinson, Vada Pinson and Pete Rose.

Down Cleveland led off the eighth against reliever Nelson Briles with his second single and Gene Alley sacrificed. Cleveland took third on an infield hit by Jerry May and scored off Pinson's high homer to third, sending Pittsburgh ahead 6-4.

Toolson Fires 2-Under Par 69 To Lead Rupert Amateur Meet

RUPERT — Val Toolson, winner of the Von Elm golf tournament in Blackfoot last week, scored his 69 Saturday and seized the first day, lead in the Rupert Amateur golf tournament.

Succession of pars. His putt proved good to him on several occasions and the rest of his clubs kept the ball in play and on the fairways.

By Mike Nix, Rupert. In the third flight as his 85 gave him two strokes over A. Berensolo, Mountain Home, H. I. Peterson, Gooding, rode in third place with an 89 while Lynn Edelfsen, Rupert, had a 91.

Toolson shot a very consistent game, picking up his birdies and holding them with

Despite the 69 Toolson still wasn't out of the woods as Twin Falls' John Rohloff carved out an even-par 71. Don Toolson, who last month won the Burley Amateur, kept his hopes for a Mini-Cassia double alive with a 72 and Tom Church, Burley, fired a 73.

The hole-in-one "bonus" on the fifth hole — the lucky man receiving a new Camaro — came through unsentenced although several shots went up close to the pin. But the man coming closest to an ace was Anjoan, who had his tee shot within three inches of the cup on the 260-yard par three ninth hole.

DeVicenzo Weathers Late Challenge By Nicklaus

To Claim British Crown

By JOHN FARROW
HOYLAK, England (AP) — Relations between the two golfing gauchos from the Argentine, climaxed 20 years' friendship Saturday and beat out the American Jack Nicklaus by two strokes for the British Open Championship.

He won it dramatically, standing off tremendous pressure and gambling to the end.

The balding, bull-shouldered runner-up in 1959 and three other times in a campaign that started in 1945, fired a final round 70 over the hole score of 278, ten under par.

Nicklaus, the Golden Bear from Columbus, Ohio, who won the American Open just a month ago, gave it a charge but never managed to move closer than two shots of the Latin American.

De Vicenzo's winning total was just two shots off the all-time record in this 107-year-old tournament—the 276 registered by Arnold Palmer in winning at Troon in 1952. Palmer didn't complete here.

The winning purse was only $4,800, small by U.S. standards, but qualified De Vicenzo for the $100,000 World Series at Akron, Ohio.

It was strictly a two-man battle over the closing holes of the 6,995-yard, par 72 Royal Liverpool links as Gary Player of South Africa, in second place, two strokes back at the start of the day, encountered early putting troubles.

The little star from Johannesburg, three-putting the 10th and landing in a fairway bunker at the 18th, struggled home with a 74 for 284 and a tie for third.

T.F. "B" Team Takes 7-2 Win Over Elko

The Twin Falls American Legion "B" Team downed the Elko American Legion Team Saturday night 7-2.

Twin Falls took a one-run lead in the second inning after Rick Steen singled home one of two players that had drawn walks.

Twin Falls added one more came right back and tied the game going into the fifth inning.

In the fifth inning Twin Falls scored two more runs after it connected for three base hits.

The sixth inning was the big one for Twin Falls as it came up with three runs to put the game on ice.

The three runs came on one walk, four singles and a double.

Kinghorn (W) and Frazier-Patterson (L) and Calton.

Twin Falls High School has filled its coaching vacancies and in most cases the coaches may be picking up a few dollars from the players.

Al Busby, fresh off the University of Idaho football team, and Ken Kleinkopf, whose experience is also limited to playing, will handle the sophomore grid crew.

There will also be a reshuffling in the basketball department with Ron Watson evidently taking over the sophomore job after one year with the jayvee outfit.

George Mellate, the personally golf assistant pro who began this season at Twin Falls Municipal course, has been benefited from a deserved promotion.

Mellate has assumed the top job at the Burley Municipal course where he is handling the chores for Vern Durks who has the pro shop at both Burley and the Rupert Country Club.

One of the first things Ray McDonald did after getting his bonus from the Washington Redskins was buy a new automobile — and it wasn't a small, economy thing.

Just before the coaches' All-American game, Roy was driving along the Interstate in the Burley area. The water pump quit and Ray didn't notice. The engine was burned out.

The rightly dejected McDonald caught a plane out of Twin Falls to make the game, and in the confite he left his pants and helmet in Burley with the car.

Idaho had to fire some more down air freight to get the young man padded up for the exhibition.

Callison Claims PUBLIX Crown

SEATTLE, Wash. (AP) — Vernon Callison, 20-year-old Oregon Publix player, came from behind Saturday to win the four-day, 72-hole National Amateur Public Links off par 287.

Callison, a Sacramento, Calif., tavern operator, tamed the tricky 622-yard, par 36, 18-hole Park Municipal Course with 72 in each of the first two 36-hole rounds. He cut that to 71 in the third round and then shot another 72 over the 78 to beat Iron Skelley of Park Ridge, Ill., by one stroke.

Mike Zimmerman, 20-year-old Dayton University junior who led the field of 67 amateurs from around the country after the second and third rounds, faded to a 70 Saturday and wound up with a 291.

Torre, Boyer Lead Braves Past Phillies

ATLANTA (AP) — Pat Jarvis pitched a three-hitter and Joe Torre and Cleo Boyer drove in two runs apiece, leading the Atlanta Braves to a 2-1 victory over Philadelphia Saturday.

Jarvis, boosting his record to 9-3, nursed a 2-1 lead until the eighth inning, when Torre, who had homered earlier, doubled with a two-run homer.

The only flaws in the string were homers by Bill White in the fourth inning and Rich Allen in the ninth.

The loss went to Chris Short, 5-3, who gave up only five hits before being lifted for a pinch hitter in the eighth.

Torre, off of the second inning with his 13th homer, Boyer drew a walk, then took third on Woody Woodward's double and scored on Jarvis' single.

Rico Carty singled with two out in the eighth and Torre doubled him home, then scored on Boyer's 11th homer.

Late Homer Carries I.F. To Meet Win

RUPERT — Jack Robinson's seventh-inning homer ruined a perfect pitching performance by Ogden's Dan Couser and lifted Idaho Falls to a 1-0 championship victory in the second annual Rupert Pony League tournament.

Through six and two-third innings Couser had fanned 17 men and allowed only three to hit the ball into easy outs.

After Robinson's seventh-inning homer, Couser fanned the last man to make it 18 for the game.

Idaho Falls pitcher Pat Shoemaker worked himself out of tight jams in the fifth and seventh innings — to preserve the win.

In consolation play, Rexburg dropped Jerome Gas and Oil 4-0. In semi-finals, Jerome ousted Rupert Spartans 5-4 and Rexburg topped Springs of Twin Falls 8-4 in the consolation bracket.

In the championship semi-finals, Ogden claimed Kimberly 11-1 and Idaho Falls nipped Rupert Mustangs 2-1.

Damascus Comes From Last To Win Dwyer 'Cap

By ORLO ROBERTSON
NEW YORK (AP) — Damascus, surging from last place turned back the bid of lightly regarded Favorable Turn in the home stretch, won the $33,500 Dwyer Handicap at Aqueduct Saturday and remained the horse to beat for the 3-year-old title.

Under twoplight of 128 pounds, Damascus carried the white and red dotted silks of Mrs. Edith Bancroft over the sloppy 1/4 miles in 2:03 for his seventh victory, six in stakes, in 10 outings this year.

With Bill Shoemaker using his whip liberally through the final one-quarter mile, the son of Sword Dancer-Kerala hit the finish line three quarters of a length in front of Herbert Allen's surprising Favorable Turn.

It was another 2 1/2 lengths back to John M. Schiff's Blasting Charge, who beat Fort Drum by a head for third money.

As the strong choice of the crowd of 44,451, Damascus paid $3, $2.80 and $2.40. Favorable Turn, running his best race of the year with Ron Turcotte in the saddle, returned $11.20 and $8.20 while Blasting Charge paid $4.00.

Although seven lengths back midway of the backstretch Shoemaker said he never was worried.

"I had an easy running horse down the backstretch," he said. "There wasn't any place to go inside when we hit the half-mile pole so we went outside."

Rounding the last turn, Damascus made his strong move and, with no-quarter-mile remaining, was second, only a length off the front running Favorable Turn.

"My horse just smothered the less dual between McCormick and the Astros' Mike Cuellar in the sixth. Dick Dietz walked moved to third on a single by Hal Lanier and scored on a force play with Tito Fuentes beating a double play throw to first.

OK Belts All-Stars 10-5 In Slowpitch Exhibition

OK Tire Store, riding some timely hitting and benefiting from a leaky infield defense, rolled over the all-stars 10-5 Saturday night in the first Twin Falls slowpitch league, all-star game.

OK, leading the league with a 13-1 record, scored enough runs in the second inning to assure the victory as the all-stars failed to put together any kind of hitting attack. A crowd of about 300 watched.

The teams traded two runs in the first inning before the all-stars collapsed defensively in the second. John Ulrich opened the frame with a hit and Sengler and Miller lived on errors to end the bases. Crings singled to one run before player-coach Gaylen Groyer lofted a long sacrifice fly to leftfield. While the all-stars bounced the ball on the ground behind home plate all three runners scored.

OK added insurance in the sixth when Miller lived on a mis- and Joe Brooks pounded a homerun into right, center field. The big blow for the all-stars was a four-bagger off the bat of Buzz Mayhew.

Red Vietnam Planes Have Disappeared

By FRED S. HOFFMAN
AP Military Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — North Vietnam's air force virtually has disappeared from the Pentagon sources said Saturday.

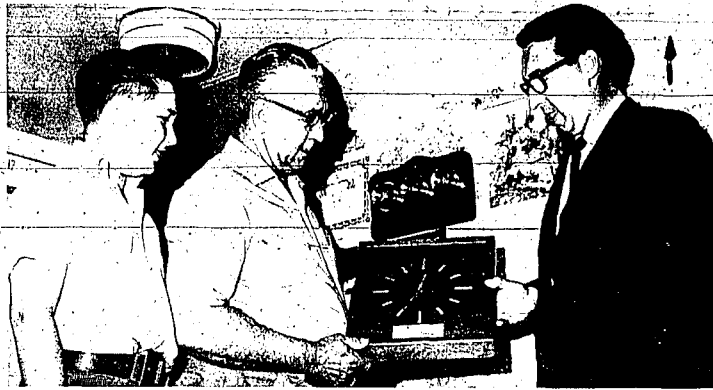

Records show that the last air combat between U.S. and North Vietnamese warplanes occurred June 5, when the 7th North Vietnamese MIG fighter of the war was downed.

Raiding U.S. planes have sighted North Vietnamese aircraft aloft on only two occasions since then, according to the reports.

The latest intelligence information indicates that North Vietnam has only about 70 MIG jet fighters left and that about half of these are kept out of harm's way in Red China.

Last February Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara estimated there were between 115 and 120 MIGs on North Vietnamese fields, plus an unspecified number in southern China.

Pentagon sources said the Russians appeared to have provided new replacement planes to North Vietnam in recent weeks. Although Red China has furnished MIGs to North Vietnam in the past, U.S. authorities say the Soviet-Union has been the to Egypt and Syria since early 1966.

One theory advanced by U.S. military analysts is that the Russians are strapped because they have been replacing heavy Arab MIG losses, resulting from the early June Arab-Israeli war. U.S. sources said possibly 200 Soviet warplanes have been sent

Still another theory is that North Vietnamese planes re-

Overall, the United States has seen 607 of its planes downed over North Vietnam, the vast majority of them by North Vietnam's increasingly intense air force. The United States has lost only 20 warplanes in air since 8,000.

In Defense Of Long Hair...

By PEGGY LALEY
Times-News Feature Editor

A lot of people shy away from culture (that's with a capital "C") and mutter something about "long hair." But I think they would find, if they gave themselves a chance, that the arts—drama, music, paintings—have a lot to offer to everyone.

This year's plays to be given by the Antiquo Festival Theatre can undoubtedly be labeled "long hair," but they each have an idea—a message, if you choose—even though that message may be purely entertainment.

And, too, the actors who work in the legitimate theatre are sometimes considered a breed apart—long hair—both in concept and appearance.

The Antiquo Theatre has in its company for this season scholarship winners who have come from all over the United States. These young actors have long hair and the actresses wear short skirts, sandals and shun lipstick. They have been subject to some disapproval from local residents.

However, I recall a time when girls donned their father's shirts and rolled up their jeans. The boys wore white corsets until they were so stiff with dirt they could stand alone. We were looked at with dismay and despair by our parents.

But it was only a fad; a symbol of our time, just as the stymie, the dangling beads, the bobbed hair and the racoon coat were symbols of the generation before us.

Today, it is mini-skirts and long hair. These are symbols of this generation. Under this exterior which flaunts convention are young people who, for the most part, are as much concerned with the world, its problems and its heritage as their parents were.

We should remember, you can't judge merely on the basis of appearance.

I met these theatre scholarship students in Buhl. I liked them. I spent the most part of one day watching them work. They are extremely serious about their work; they are well-mannered, well-educated and capable of deep thinking, although they would like to hide this fact, the same as any generation tries to hide its groping for the truths that are so vitally important during this age.

JERRY HIGGINS

Jerry Higgins, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred W. Higgins, Twin Falls, decided at an early age that he would like to be a teacher, but became interested in drama during his last two years at Twin Falls High School.

He has just finished his first year at CSI where, as a drama major, he worked with Fran Tanner in the Circo Theatre.

After he has been associated with the local Children's Theatre, the Dilettantes and productions at the high school. He would like to work with the Oregon Shakespeare Festival at Ashland.

Before he settles down to teaching he wants to broaden his experience by working, in any capacity, with a variety of producing groups in this country.

MARIE SCOTT

Marie Scott (Mrs. Robert Scott), Burley, majored in theology and psychology at Northwest Christian College and the University of Oregon.

Her strong interest in drama led her into the traveling company, The Heritage Players, which is a religious drama group, for two seasons.

In Burley, where her husband is employed by the Department of Public Assistance, she is active in church and youth groups. She has authored a very "modern and rather unorthodox" Christian drama.

Marie is not looking for a career in drama, but feels strongly about the relationship between the theatrical and human behavior problems.

DENNIS DUGAN

Dennis Dugan, another scholarship winner to the Antiquo Festival Theatre, plans to enter the profession of acting.

Dennis is the son of an insurance broker in Chicago and his mother is the former Marion Horton, part-time actress and director.

He was a drama major at Trinity College, San Antonio, Texas, and attended the Goodman Memorial Theatre School, Chicago. He has worked as a disc jockey in the Chicago area and with summer theatre on Lake Michigan.

JOHN O'CONNELL

John O'Connell's first experience in theatre occurred by accident. A student in his English class, Junior High school, was doing so badly in a school play that the director, in desperation, called on John to replace him. From that time on John was involved in every drama production at the school.

He will be a senior at San Francisco State College in the fall and has been favored in his choice of a major — "It's always been drama."

This June, he received the Best Actor's award at his college. This award is more coveted by students in the drama department than some of the money awards. He hopes to find a place as an actor-director in a professional company.

MARY OPPENHEIMER

Mary Oppenheimer has spent most of her young life studying ballet but she suffered a fractured hip when struck by a car and that ended all her dreams of a dancing career.

Mary has just completed her freshman year at the University of Colorado and was a member of the Shakespeare Festival at Boulder, Colo., last summer.

Mary would like to "wring" horses, too, but because of the hip injury can't do that either. So she has settled her love for animals on her year-old mongrel poodle, Trotsky, who has a minor role in the Antiquo Festival Theatre's "Diary of a Scoundrel" slated for this season.

SERENA SORESENSEN

Serena Sorensen vividly remembers seeing Audrey Hepburn and Mel Ferrer in a New York production of "Online." This was the beginning of her desire for a career in the theatre.

Like many city children, New Yorker Serena was packed off to a New England camp one summer, but when she rebelled against a summer of "roughing it" she was allowed to spend the rest of the vacation taking a course in drama from Nell McKenzie.

This did it, and when she was graduated from high school at 18 she enrolled in a summer course at the American Academy of Dramatic Art in New York City. That fall she became a full-fledged student.

During her senior year she had roles in productions with the American National Theatre Association in off-Broadway houses. When she graduated Serena joined the ranks of young hopefuls haunting agents' offices, standing in line for auditions and getting very few real chances.

When Serena married Philip Dietz, whom she had met at the academy, he was working with the Gateway Theatre in St. Louis and Serena might have joined the company but — the theatre burned down!

Last spring, Serena played Lady O'Connor in "The Lady O'Connor" at the Limestone Theatre in the San Francisco area.

She says she doesn't care about being a star or making a lot of money. She just wants to "work and work hard so that I can take pride in my profession."

PHILIP DIETZ

Philip Dietz says "I like fishing, hunting and sky diving and the one huge woolen thing about me is that I love my wife."

Philip attended the American Academy of Dramatic Arts, where he met Serena. She was 18; he was 21. He has played in several off-Broadway productions and worked in the theatre in St. Louis after serving in the armed forces.

Phil, who is afraid to climb the ladder to the Ramona Theatre light rail, will jump out of a plane at the drop of the proverbial hat. He is an enthusiastic sky diver, but his professional ambitions lie with the theatre.

He isn't much of a TV fan, but does admit that he would like to play the bad man in a cowboy film.

NICK BEREZENKO, JR.

Nick Berzenko, Jr., may have inherited his desire to be an actor, but it was buried until he was a student at the University of Illinois. Nick's father, who is a native of the Ukraine, had attended classes taught by the famous Stanislavsky in Kiev until the stars had him expelled, claiming that he was an "enemy of the state."

The Berzenkos spent several years moving about Europe as displaced persons before they finally boarded the plane that took them to Chicago.

In high school Nick was interested in sports and was the editor of the school paper during his senior year. He was a whiz at mathematics and entered college intending to become a theoretic mathematician.

About this time he was part in the University production of "Richard III" and this was the turning point. In addition to his involvement for two years in the school's drama department, he spent one summer with the Colorado Shakespeare Festival and then went to San Francisco seeking employment with the Actor's Workshop, where he spent one season.

Another summer with the Shakespeare group in Colorado, where Nick came into contact with three students who were 1966 scholarship grantees to the Antiquo Festival Theatre in Buhl, led to his 1967 scholarship to the local theatre.

So "long hair" they might have — but it covers a goodly amount of brains and a serious handworking desire to accomplish something with their lives and talents.

This scholarship program of the Antiquo Festival Theatre is something quite unique in the field of drama. Many beginners are expected to pay for the privilege of working with groups such as this.

The recipients of these local scholarships are awarded $200 to help them obtain this additional training in their profession. They come from all sections of our country to learn and by learning offer a rare opportunity for most of us to see, on the stage, some of the greets in drama.

VARYING SHADES of meaning are discussed by the cast during a break from rehearsal.

Four Classics Slated For This Season

Idaho's only classic repertory company, the Antiquo Festival Theatre, opened its 1967 season Friday evening at the Ramona Theatre in Buhl with a performance of George Bernard Shaw's "Arms and the Man."

Four plays will be presented during the summer on Friday, Saturday and Sunday evenings. During July "Arms and the Man," "Circle of Chalk" and "Diary of a Scoundrel" will each be presented three times.

In August "Queen and the Rebel" will be included in the series and each of the four plays also will be presented for a Thursday matinee performance.

This local theatre got its start in 1964 when Mr. and Mrs. Aldrich Bowler and El. Paul Kliss staged a trial-run play, Molliere's "Bourgeois Gentleman," in the old Ramona Theatre building.

That first cast included a salesman, three coeds home for the summer, a postman, several teachers, local dancers and singers and a local florist with a talent for costume design. The success of this venture was so great that soon articles of incorporation were drawn up.

During each performance evening the alley and courtyard adjoining the theatre are closed off and the Alley Fair is open for business.

The fair is a showcase for Idaho artists, and craftsmen. These items on exhibit are for sale and a portion of the sales goes into the Antiquo Theatre's scholarship fund.

SERENA SORESENSEN, left, as Madame Tournebise and Helen Gee as Madame Marcella will appear in "The Diary of a Scoundrel" which will be presented by the Antiquo Festival Theatre at the Ramona Theater, Buhl. Miss Sorensen is a scholarship recipient of the local theatre group. She was graduated from the American Academy of Dramatic Art in New York City. Mrs. Gee is a nurse at the Magic Valley Memorial Hospital and has appeared in many Magic Valley productions.

THE 14TH CENTURY Chinese melodrama, "The Circle of Chalk" will be included in the repertoire of the Antiquo Festival Theatre during this year's season. In the cast, standing from left, are Brad Hicokson, Twin Falls High School drama instructor; Serena Sorensen, scholarship student from San Francisco; and Mary Oppenheimer, scholarship student from New York. Seated are Chris Fehrsen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Guy Fehrsen, Buhl, and Jerry Higgins, scholarship student from Twin Falls.

The Money Box

BY FRANK SCHELL

First letter this week is from Jerome. "I found a 1942-50 cent piece and was curious to know if it is worth more than the 50 cent piece with a later date. If so, how much?" The letter is signed Mrs. K. I.

Answer: The only late-date (since 1934) 50 cent piece which commands much of a premium is the 1938-D. This coin is scarce and brings from $5 on up, depending upon condition.

Your coin is quoted at dealers' buying prices at 50 cents — face value — in everything but brilliant-uncirculated (brand new) condition. If the coin is brand new, it would bring you about a dollar.

We would like to get away from coins for a few minutes to recommend to our readers that they take a trip to Halley and visit the museum there.

Some time ago Frank Hewitt of Halley, sent last column some merchant's tokens (hickies) and Saturday we drove up to thank him personally. He recommended that we call on Joe Fuld, long-time resident of the town, and a nicer gentleman we never met. We talked a long time about the history of Halley, and then Mr. Fuld took us to the Halley museum. He has collected a vast amount of political campaign buttons, mostly presidential campaigns, over the years and the Halley museum has them to the museum.

Question from L. R. Twin Falls: I have a coin which is very shiny but light — almost like aluminum. On one side it looks like a bunch of wheat heads, with the date 1924. On the other side it says, "Weches Sield" and "Reichspfenning" with a "10" in the center. Can you tell me anything about it?

Answer: Your coin is a 10-pennig (penny) piece of Germany. (See illustration). After the first world war, Germany had a great amount of inflation and made a lot of their coins from aluminum-bronze. Yours is one of these. These were coined during the reform law of 1924. The coin has no particular value, being quoted to collectors in brand new condition at 10 cents.

Question from Mrs. S. D. Twin Falls: I have a bronze or brass coin with a hole in the center and some very decorative designs on one side. The other side says "I Piece" and "India" and there is a crown between the words. The date on it is 1943.

I imagine it is from India — but what in the world is "I piece"?

Answer: You are correct in assuming the coin is from India. The "I piece" is a standard coin in India, East Africa, Bombaya and Pakistan.

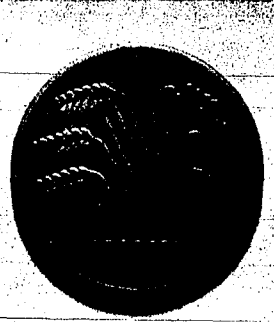

For any collector, the trip is worthwhile. Mr. Fuld's campaign buttons and buttons date back to 1840 and the William Henry Harrison campaign for president.

Besides Mr. Fuld's collection, the museum has many historical relics and you can spend a very delightful hour there. If you have not seen this museum, we urge you to drive to Halley and inspect it.

Interest in paper money collecting seems to be growing. We have had several letters asking about the relative value of two-ones of these. These were coined during the reform law of 1924. The government no longer produces two-dollar bills and they, like the silver certificate, are rapidly disappearing. How long it will be before the value increases is problematical.

In any case, very-worn bills will never bring you much over face value, but nice, crisp two-dollar bills will about double their value in another two years — so they are worth saving.

(Questions on coins and currency should be sent to The Money Box, c/o the Times-News, Twin Falls, Idaho 83401.)

THIS IS A 10-pennig (penny) piece of post-war Germany made from aluminum-bronze. These were coined under the reform law of 1924. This coin has no particular value, being quoted in brand new condition at 10 cents.

Need For Conservation Of Natural Resources Hit Hard By News Media

By JIM HUMBIRD
Idaho Fish and Game Department

Two big city newspaper editors recently charged some of the top wildlife conservation information officers of the Western American continent with playing down one of the world's most vital stories.

Pointing out that people are greedy and selfish, Shawn Hitt, editor of the Vancouver, B. C., Daily Press, stressed that the man in the street will not be interested in nature unless he knows for sure that his job, his family, his future, and even the survival of his country as a civilized nation, are tied to the struggle to save for all time his living wildlife heritage.

Another distinguished representative from the Canadian press, Fred S. Auger, publisher of the Vancouver, B. C., Daily Press, outlined ways of getting this big story through to the editors and millions of readers.

Andrew Snyder, a network television producer for the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation, added his remarks in the same vein on how to write acceptable copy and photograph suitable footage for use by the commercial television industry. He also showed a short, silent film clip to give visual examples of some of the points.

Dr. Durward Allen, keynote speaker and noted outdoor writer, lecturer and wildlife professor at Purdue University, hit his main theme hard with the words, "Man's mastery of the earth will pay him greatest tribute when he learns to leave some of it alone."

He built up his theme by breaking it down into simple steps that were easy to talk about and could be grasped by anyone. For example, he noted that "It is high time that businessmen cease looking upon the stock as a bird of good omen. This, of course, was a simple, colorful reference to a world-wide trend that generally is dubbed "population explosion."

Dr. Allen used figures to make the point. He said they were put out by the United Nations several years ago, as follows: "In 1700 the earth's population was growing at such a rate that it would double in 178 years. By 1800 the gain had stepped up a bit; numbers were doubling in 154 years. In 1875 the rate was 89 years, and in 1900 it had declined to 41 years. If the trend continues by the year 2000, the people of the earth will be doubling their numbers every 21 years."

with no exposure to the biological realities of human existence or of the natural world."

Dr. Allen said that the real breakthrough on this tough and universal problem was stated clearly by the President of the United States in his Jan. 4, 1965, State of the Union Message: "I will judge to help deal with the explosion of world population and its growing scarcity of world resources."

Later, the American President said to the world on the 20th anniversary of the United Nations, "Let us in all our lands, including this land, face forthrightly the multiplying problems of our multiplying populations and seek the answers to this most profound challenge to the future of the world. Let us act on the fact that less than five dollars invested in population control is worth a hundred dollars invested in economic growth."

As the Winnipeg writer said near the conclusion of two days of talk at the recent AACI Conference at Victoria, B. C., professional conservation information people are sitting on one of the most profound challenges before the world today. All they need to do is to learn how to tell it.

Cut Wood

PAUL — Members of the Paul Chamber of Commerce conducted a wood cutting detail Wednesday night at the United Co-op property on Highway 25.

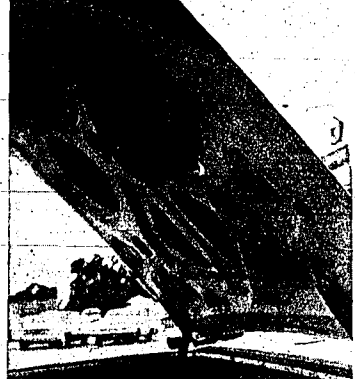

The apple wood, donated by the Co-op, was cut by the chamber members and will be stored until the 1968 Paul Farm Festival. The first annual festival was held last month at the new village shopping center and was attended by approximately 1,200 persons from the Minn. Cassia area.

Attachment To Car Formed By Wild Bee Swarm

GOODING — When H. O. (Christy) Christiansen returned to his car recently, he was surprised to say the least, to find that a swarm of wild bees had attached themselves to the inside of his car trunk lid.

Mr. Christiansen, a local business man, keeps his briefcase in the trunk and had left the lid open when he went into his office on Main Street.

A call to a local bee man, Lauren Shaver, resulted in a quick solution to the sticky problem.

A SWARM OF WILD BEES attached themselves recently to the trunk lid of a car owned by H. O. (Christy) Christiansen, Gooding.

Fashion Shop To Open New Store Here

Sweetbriar, a fashion shop out of Denver, will open a new store on Main Avenue, Twin Falls, sometime in August, according to John L. Sneed, executive vice president, who is presently in Twin Falls interviewing prospects for lease.

Sweetbriar lost its lease in Twin Falls after operating a store here for 20 years, and has been looking for a suitable location since that time, several years ago.

The building will be remodelled inside and out into one of Twin Falls' most attractive shops, Mr. Sneed said. The interior will be done in Mediterranean style with olive and antique gold fixtures against an oyster-white background. The entry will be in white and gold tile leading to olive carpeting. New lowered ceiling will feature new and decorative lighting. An assortment of refinished antiques will be used around the store as a means of display in the boutique manner.

The exterior of the shop will be recessed and feature hand-sawn beams and hand-carved cobblels from Spain, with imported lamps on either side of the door. The canopy will be of shake shingles.

The August opening will feature back-to-school and fall fashions for young women of all ages.

Commissioners accepted the resignation of Clyde "Pruess" from the fair board.

They approved purchase of 12 new juror chairs from Fletcher Furniture for a total cost of $769, and of an air conditioner for the office of the probation officer which will also benefit the justice of the peace office.

A beer license was transferred to Ernie Maricle from Fagg's Market.

Building permits for June in the county were new homes for Dotie Brower and Ray Arns; mobile home for Don Suchan and an addition for Donald Avery.

Situation On Weeds Noted

RUPERT — Mindoka County Commissioners gave considerable time to discussion of the weed situation in the county at their meeting last week, although no action was taken on the matter.

Meeting with the board to discuss the problem were David Spreer representing the Farm Bureau, and Dennis Morrison, county weed supervisor.

Morrison said there is a great increase in weeds this year, probably due to the rainy spring, and some farmers are not cooperating too well in control of noxious weeds.

ORBIT OF CHINA

By Harrison Salisbury
China's population is increasing at the rate of 20 million per year. Its present population is nearing 800 million.

Highly centralized government and the vast majority of the younger people are illiterate and Western. China now has the atom bomb. China, and all the other Asiatic nations, look upon the United States of America as the chief opponent of Chinese ideas and ambitions.

These facts make vitally necessary an understanding of China by United States citizens. Most of us know very little and don't seem to care about learning.

In the not-too-distant future, after a preliminary catastrophe that will make Pearl Harbor look like a minor happening, a few men including the author of this book, will have the sad pleasure of saying "I told you so."

Harrison Salisbury first came to public attention as an expert on the United States as an observer of Russian affairs. As early as 1958 he recognized the growing tensions between Russia and China.

In 1956 he traveled around the outer perimeter of China trying to find out what influence China has on the nations on its borders, and what the attitude of these nations may be towards the United States.

This book is a record of his travels and his conclusions. It is written in the past tense, and that adds strangely to its somber tone. There is no escaping the fact that the war in Vietnam has damaged the prestige of our country.

Most of the Asiatic countries fear "China's" domination, but China "thinks Asiatic." The United States does not. Communism, as a doctrine, has nothing to do with China. Buddhism is the predominant philosophy in Asia.

One of Salisbury's most interesting conclusions is that the problem of food for China's enormous population is a basic cause of Chinese aggression towards the West.

"No strong Chinese government would willingly let the Chinese people starve. . . . If they did not have enough land on which to grow it, they would look beyond their borders. . . ."

Small wonder that there is a "hot" posture in the outer world of a constant tone of aggression, of hysteria, of menace. It was fed by the ill-conceived and ill-considered "China's necessities."

The book's final paragraph tersely sums up the problems of the United States-China relations. "We must act or face possible obliteration. Better the political courage to take tough decisions which would save the nation and our way of life than the hesitation of hypocrisy which would doom us to disaster."

T. F. Man Named As Supervisor

HAYLEY — Don Edwards, Twin Falls, has been named by the Idaho State Tax Commission as district supervisor for 11 south central counties.

Included are Custer, Lemhi, Blaine, Cassia, Gooding, Lincoln, Minidoka, Cassia, Twin Falls, Jerome and Blaine counties. Custer, Lemhi and Butte counties were formerly included in the eastern district of the state.

On his first trip here this week, Edwards was accompanied by Phil Long of the Boise office.

Films Shown To Shoshone Group

SHOSHONE—Films of "Western Life" and "Bureau of Land Management in Idaho" were shown at the Rotary club meeting Wednesday noon by Don Savary, from the BLM, D. H. Hanson was brought to the club. Guests were Alan McCombs, Gooding; LaVera Jurdett, California; Roger Maxwell and Omer Shook, Shoshone. Local

TWO OLD FRIENDS, Bill Pressey and Dick Kloppenburg, met in Twin Falls and discussed the Vietnam war recently. Pressey was home on leave and has now returned to Vietnam. Dick has received his discharge.

Local Servicemen Meet, Compare Notes On Participation In Vietnam Conflict

Two young men whose lives have followed much the same pattern since childhood have paralleled in the Vietnam War. Bill Pressey and Dick Kloppenburg were graduated from Twin Falls High School together in 1959; both attended the University where they were fraternity brothers and they have both been fighting in Vietnam.

Bill is in the Navy Air Corps. Dick has recently been discharged from the Army Air Corps.

Bill returned to Vietnam last week where he will continue as a helicopter pilot involved in reconnaissance for the Vietnam.

There are no American ground troops in this delta in South Vietnam; the American helicopter crews notify the Vietnamese authorities when suspicious activity is observed in the ground. These authorities then inform the pilot whether or not he can fire.

Bill says that it is almost impossible for an American to tell the difference between the Viet namese and a Viet Cong, for about his first six weeks and from then on you judge if they are an enemy or a "friendly" by their actions.

He said that since they look alike and wear no uniforms you just have to look for someone who acts as if they had something to hide. Then, too, the Viet Cong are not above forcing women and children to accompany them to make it appear to be a family group.

Women and children also are involved in the fighting and Bill tells about one attack on his "copier by a 10 year old boy manning a machine gun.

In describing the Vietnamese as a people, Bill brought out the fact that they do not have a national loyalty as we know it. When the family group or village of three people is attacked then they become Vietnam fighters, but it is difficult for them to widen their concept of loyalty to an entire nation of people.

The delta section, where Bill was stationed, has a swampy area near the sea, but is covered with heavy vegetation in land and has proved a difficult place to clear of the enemy.

The Viet Cong are commonly called "one shot Charlie." They will fire one shot, two shots when they are caught, in the open and then duck into an adobe hut. . . . of a Vietnamese family knowing that the "copier crews will not fire on the hut.

Any crew that is shot down must be pulled out within one or two hours for the Viet Cong rarely take prisoners and their executions follow barbaric patterns of chopping up the prisoner or skinning him while he is still alive.

Rarely a prisoner is allowed to live and then only to be placed in a cage which is transported from village to village, on display, to endure the torments and abuse of the villagers until he loses his mind.

Although Dick Kloppenburg did not "fight his war" in the same areas as Bill, the operation in which he was involved also was reconnaissance. Dick flew a spotter plane, nothing new movements and activity, which were interpreted by a Vietnamese observer who flew with him. This information was then passed on by radio to the various fighting units.

He has flown a total of 600 combat hours serving in areas of adjusting artillery, visual reconnaissance, forward air control and adjusting naval gunfire.

He has also escorted convoys, participated in medical evacuations and covered infantry combat operations.

Before his discharge, Dick served six months in Bao Loe, Lam Don province, and six months in Phan Theit, Binh Thuan province.

He has received the Combat Air Medal with 11 Oak Leaf Clusters, the Combat Air Medal for Valor, the National Defense Service Medal, the Vietnamese Service Medal and the Vietnam Campaign Medal. He was nominated for the Bronze Star for Meritorious Service and the Distinguished Flying Cross.

Bill's group was a highly decorated one with every pilot in the group having received at least one Distinguished Service Cross. Seven or eight of the men have received Purple Hearts; some have been wounded twice.

Bill himself has been nominated for a Presidential Citation and has been awarded the Vietnamese Cross of Gallantry.

STANDING BESIDE his spotter plane; Dick Kloppenburg holds his rifle which was his constant companion during his year in Vietnam.

LOOKING LIKE a fugitive from a science fiction illustration, this helicopter has carried Bill Pressey over many miles of Vietnam territory.

Minidoka Schools To Hire Transportation Director

RUPERT — The Minidoka County School Board has decided to employ a transportation director for the school district, Supt. Cauden Meyer announced.

General responsibility of the position will be to supervise and direct the overall operations of the school bus fleet and all other school vehicles.

The man who is hired will employ all bus drivers, mechanics and related personnel; he will train drivers and conduct a safety program; he will be in charge of maintenance of all vehicles; approve all supply purchases; help to establish pay rates for drivers; he will set up specifications and bid sheets for buses, fuel, oil, tires; he will be in charge of the bus routes.

Other duties will also include record keeping; usually in Contracts were approved for portion of each vehicle; dismissal of employees when necessary; to work with drivers to help solve student discipline problems; and Ar Henderson, the board noted that Mr. Johnson and her husband drove to Georgia on their holidays.

Mr. Meyer reported that a group of individuals is interested in meeting with the board at its August meeting to discuss the possibility of organizing a baseball team at Minidoka High School. The high school never has had a baseball team.

Plaque Is Presented To Buhl Post

BUHL — William B. Hoppie presented an engraved plaque for second place in the annual judging of the community service scrapbook contest, to the post and auxiliary when the Thursday. These awards were of the Veterans of Foreign Wars met this week.

The plaque, which comes from national VFW headquarters in Kansas City, was presented to the Buhl post at the recent VFW convention in Rupert.

Mr. Hoppie reported on the convention and noted that he and Mrs. Hoppie were appointed community service chairmen for the state for the ensuing year.

It was announced that the VFW float won first place in the July parade. The float was the most patriotic entry. The VFW color detail led the parade.

The family picnic for members of the post and auxiliary will be held at 1 p.m. Sunday in Eastman Park. The post will furnish hotdogs, buns, pop and ice cream. Those attending are asked to bring potato dishes and table service.

Rena Asvonen, fifth or sixth grade; Diane Somson, fifth grade, and Afon Thompson, junior high school.

Three new 66-passenger buses will be delivered to the school district this week from Fort Valley, Ga. They are being driven by Sherman Peck, Virginia Johnson and Art Henderson. The board noted that Mr. Johnson and her husband drove to Georgia on their holidays.

Mr. Meyer reported that a group of individuals is interested in meeting with the board at its August meeting to discuss the possibility of organizing a baseball team at Minidoka High School. The high school never has had a baseball team.

Life in MAGIC VALLEY

A large gathering of "oldtimers" in the Twin Falls area gathered recently at the home of Mrs. James Sherman Stewart, 65, former Twin Falls resident who now lives in Santa Monica, Calif. The party, which was arranged by Mrs. Julia Hoops and Mrs. Jennie Stewart, also honored Mrs. Stewart's four children including Lynn Stewart and his three sisters, Mrs. Lois Arnett and Georgia Stewart, both Santa Monica, and Mrs. Charlotte Johnson, Walla Walla. Both Mrs. Arnett and Miss Stewart are former teachers in Twin Falls and their mother lived here from 1912 to 1944.

Mrs. Stewart and her late husband, who was in the real estate business, came to Twin Falls in 1912. She is one of the oldest PEO members in the United States, having been a member of the organization for 65 years.

Mrs. Johnson's husband, Dr. Norman, was in the former First National Bank in Twin Falls. Mrs. Stewart and her daughters went to Walla Walla this past week to visit at the Johnson home before returning to California.

Among the guests at the Twin Falls get-together were some pioneers and longtime residents older than the guest of honor. One was H. C. Gettert, Twin Falls, whose spryness belies the fact he will be 100 years young in January.

L. J. Mott, SHOSHONE, and James DeNeff, GOODING, can rightly be called "old" friends. Mott, who celebrated his 84th birthday on July 4, was host to a three-day visit from his younger friend, Mr. DeNeff, who was 90 last November.

An open house at the Mott home here provided the opportunity for oldtimers to visit and exchange memories of days past.

Mott and DeNeff became fast friends back in 1906-1907 when they roomed and boarded together at Cheney Norman school in Washington.

Mr. Mott recalls his trip to Washington state from Missouri in 1886. He came with his parents on a train car and he said there were no padded seats and there were no diners. The trip and has taken part in numerous community projects.

His wife and two of their children have died. His three living children are Mrs. Claire Harwood, Iowa; Mrs. Louise Williams, Seattle, and Mrs. Mildred Paulson, Dietrich. He has nine grandchildren and 17 great-grandchildren.

Mr. DeNeff retired from over 50 years of work as an electrical engineer with the Holton Power Co., in El Centro, Calif., and chose Gooding for his retirement home.

He was graduated from Washington State University, Pullman, June 20, 1907, with a B.S. degree in electrical engineering. He worked for the Washington Water Power Co. and in 1909 went to assist for the Bureau of Reclamation, designing the power generators and lines for the then new MILNER dam of the Minidoka Irrigation Project. Mr. DeNeff never married.

After this he worked for Idaho Power Co. in Boise, moving to Holton Power Co. where he worked until his retirement in 1953. He was born in Vombath, Minn. From the job in California, he went to HAGERMAN and farmed three miles east of there until he was 82 years old.

Wheeled Laboratory Joins Battle Of Air Pollution

An unusual vehicle is playing a definite, though generally unrecognized role in the lives of millions of people throughout the world.

It's the "Smogmobile" — a $50,000 motorized van or trailer-type vehicle, instrumented to give the gills' end capable of doing battle with many of the air pollution problems that haunt over 7,000 communities in this country alone.

Officially named the Mobile Air Quality Monitoring Laboratory by its developer, the "Smogmobile" is manufactured by Beckman Instruments, Inc., Fullerton, Calif., just south of a m.o.g.-troubled Los Angeles. Beckman also supplies much of the instrumentation used in stationary air pollution labs throughout the country.

These vehicles are rumbling through city streets and highways in a number of states already, and more can be expected soon. Customers have come from as far away as Munich, Germany, proving that impure air is a problem of international proportions.

When the need for air pollution control was first recognized, it became evident that instruments would be needed to identify and define the seriousness of a pollution problem before anything could be done about it.

Pollutants vary greatly from one region to another. Industrial and metropolitan areas pollute the air with hydrocarbons, oxidants, sulfur dioxide and many other undesirable compounds. Automobiles contribute carbon monoxide, hydrocarbons and oxides of nitrogen when unburned fuel passes out of the tail pipe. Climate also plays a role in determining whether air pollution is a seasonal problem or a year-round hazard.

Stationary air monitoring facilities have long been used to identify air pollutants by local state and federal agencies, as well as by private industry.

Today, however, these agencies and industries are beginning to recognize that the stationary facilities, in some cases, have limitations. Beckman's "Smogmobiles," in many instances, are providing the solution.

"The mobile vans can monitor specific locations and gather data on individual sources of pollution that may change with the seasons or even with the time of day. They can be used to determine if a need exists for permanent air monitoring facilities in a given area.

"Smogmobiles" are used increasingly to gather air quality data over a large area by moving about within that area. They prove particularly useful in outlying locations, beyond the reach of stationary facilities. Once set, instruments in the motorized vans operate automatically, with their readings being continuously recorded.

In addition to standard analytical instruments which can measure all the common air pollutants, the vans came equipped with sinks, cupboards, light and air conditioning. They are, literally, complete scientific laboratories on wheels.

2 U. S. Employees Receive Awards

Two members of the local Social Security district office staff were presented 10-year service awards during a special staff meeting recently.

Mrs. MaJean H. Russell started as a claims representative with the Twin Falls office in 1956 and holds the same position there currently.

James D. Davis also started as a claims representative with the local office. He began work here in 1953, with prior military service qualifying him for the 10-year designation. He was promoted to field representative in 1961.

"Pat" Young Turns From Building With Bricks To Building New Lives

Once upon a time, Floyd "Pat" Young built buildings with bricks, now he is building lives.

FLOYD "PAT" YOUNG

Pat's work for the past year has been Job Finder and Counselor in the special education program at Robert Stuart Junior High School. Before that he was coach at the Jerome High School.

At the end of the last school year, he took a new job as Vocational Rehabilitation Counselor for the state with Southeastern Idaho as his territory.

"I always wanted to work with kids," he said when he was asked, "how did you get into this type of work?"

But before Pat was graduated from Western Montana University, Dillon, at 28, he was a bricklayer.

Last year at Robert Stuart he worked with the physically and mentally handicapped students and was instrumental in assisting seven young people obtain well-paying jobs and in helping them take their place as productive members of the community.

In his new position, Pat will work with the physically handicapped over 18 years of age; helping them find jobs and counseling them for adjustment in a society of physically able people.

It wasn't until his senior year at the university that guidance and counseling was included for study in the teaching field. In that last year, Pat was able to take enough courses to build up a minor in the field which had always held his interest.

In Jerome he was adviser to the Key Club and senior class adviser as well as coach and vice principal. He is a leader of a Boy Scout troop here in Twin Falls and a Sunday school class at Our Savior Lutheran Church.

Pat, who is a navy veteran of the Korean War, is married and has three children. His wife, Carol, also has been a teacher. They are the parents of Greg, 12 years old; David, 6, and Amy, 8 months.

Pat works at a job, but his deep interest and belief in what he is doing has paid dividends and shows clearly in the success of the new (almost experimental) program carried on last year at Stuart.

The great strides made in the last few years in the rehabilitation of these unfortunate, so-called "untrainables" is really due to these dedicated people who, like Pat, believe in what they are doing and will stop at nothing to accomplish it.

Golden Wedding Circle Hosts Annual Social

By NORMA HERZINGER

Every time I talk with or read about a couple being married for 50 years or more, it brings to mind what someone once told me. Upon interviewing a couple who had just celebrated their golden year, the woman was asked if she had ever contemplated divorce. She paused for a moment, then without hesitation she said, "divorce—no, murder—yes."

Being married for 50 years or more would naturally bring on troublesome times, indifference and problems of every description, but to proudly observe a Golden Wedding Anniversary is indeed a great achievement, and a good and honest sense of humor is always listed as one of the major prerequisites.

The Golden Wedding Anniversary Circle of Twin Falls boasts the membership of many such Magic Valley residents who have observed at least 50 such anniversaries and more. Their annual gathering was held recently at the Odd Fellows Hall, Twin Falls, where a good time was had by all.

Rev. Harold Nye was featured speaker and a lively program of old time music was presented. Participating in the program were Penolo Callen, Mrs. Elva Olson, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Craig and nephew, Kerry Craig, and Mrs. Elmer Annis. Mrs. E. E. Crabtree read the benedictions and Mrs. G. W. Dyce gave the memorials.

Mrs. Pearl Buchanan registered the guests and Mrs. Roy Smith assisted with serving, along with Chris Annis and Beverly Annis.

Officers for the group were elected and included Mr. Annis, president; Mrs. Roy Durk, secretary-treasurer; Mrs. Dyce, first vice president, and Ed Walto, second vice president.

In the relaxed setting, where a great sense of dignity seemed to prevail, the zest for living was evident as all guests joined in group singing and exchanged views and experiences of the past.

ENJOYING LUNCHEON at the recent social are Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Pritchard who have been married 52 years.

SERVING ROLLS TO Mrs. Roy Durk, left, and Mrs. Lulu Farrar at the Golden Wedding Anniversary, Circle annual gathering is Beverly Annis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Annis. Mrs. Durk was elected secretary-treasurer.

MRS. VEDA TITUS, 82, proudly related she was married in 1896. All persons married 50 years or more, whether their partner is still living or not, were invited to the social gathering.

Judy McClain, Nale Exchange Wedding Vows

EDEN—Judy Jean McClain, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph McClain, Eden, and John Adam Nale, son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Nale, Idaho Falls, were united in marriage today in a garden wedding rites at the home of the bride's parents.

The wedding rites were performed by Rev. Raymond Wilson, Presbyterian minister of Hazelton and Eden Community Church. The background decorations included Esther Reed daisies, yellow chrysanthemums, Shasta daisies and a white arch flanked by baskets of daisies.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore an empire-styled gown of Chantilly lace. The fitted styling featured Chantilly lace on the high empire bodice and band of the sheath skirt. Scallops of clipped Chantilly lace outlined the oval neckline. The gown featured long lily point sleeves and a detachable chapeau train of hand clipped Chantilly lace.

The bride's veil was of white nylon net caught in the center with white roses and a Lilies of the Valley. She carried a bouquet of yellow roses and lily.

Margie McClain, sister of the bride, was maid of honor, Sandra McClain, cousin of the bride, was bridesmaid.

Bill Green, classmate of the bridegroom, was best man. Calvin Wilson, friend of the bridegroom, and Daryl Roberts, friend of the bridegroom, served as ushers.

Sophisticated Picture Noted In Fashions

BY JEAN SPRAYN WILSON AP Fashion Editor

NEW YORK (AP) — Is it square to be a lady? Is it passe to be subtle about sex appeal? Is it odd-ball to comb your hair, or wear plects? Or is it old-fashioned to have a hemline hovering about the knees?

You should think so, from what the nation's best known designers have stitched up for women this fall.

If you can pay the price of a sports car for a chinchilla-trimmed jacket costume with a Ben Zuckerman label, for example, your neighbors in their up-to-date striped legs and court-pipe unites won't dare sneer at you.

Decked out himself in a less than conservative pink shirt and a blue jacket, Zuckerman introduced to the visiting fashion press Thursday a pretty parade of well scrubbed ladies in suits and coat styles as timeless and as expensive as Rolls Royces.

Sleeveless, collarless, skimmer dresses with tiny bodices and subtle seaming were topped by jaunty little jackets, either short enough to be double-breasted or long enough to be lightly belted.

Needless to say, skirts ended modestly at the knee. With these the Dina Merrill-like ladies wore gloves and pumps, though they conceded to the flamboyance of matching their stockings to the suit color or going black-legged to coordinate with the black trim of a costume.

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN
DEAR ABBY: There is a very nice-looking, well-to-do gentleman in this town whose wife is dying of cancer. No one knows how much longer she'll last, but she's in the hospital now, so the end is probably near.

This gentleman would make a fine husband, and I know that the minute his wife dies there will be a rush of widows and divorcees at his doorstep.

I would like to beat the traffic, but I don't know how to do that without being obvious. Got any ideas? Would it be O. K. to invite him to my apartment for dinner some night? Or would it be more subtle to fix a nice hot meal and send it over to his house? Any advice you have on this subject would be appreciated. Keep by name and city confidential, please.

WIDE AWAKE WIDOW

DEAR ABBY: Sorry, I can't help you "beat the traffic," but since you've asked for advice on the subject, quit scheming. You'd fool no one. Least of all the gentleman.

DEAR ABBY: I am a nurse. My boy friend is an X-ray technician. We date weekends, but see each other daily at lunch during coffee breaks.

Until recently, we both smoked, but this is my source of trouble. My boy friend decided to quit smoking last month. He said it would be easier for him if we didn't meet for coffee breaks since the proximity to someone smoking might be more than he could withstand.

On our weekend date, I smoked a cigarette during a dance intermission. He didn't say anything, but he looked pained. When he said good night he acted cool, and his good night kiss was cooler.

Since then I learned that he's been dating some little student nurse who doesn't smoke! I am so mad I could burn.

DEAR ABBY: I don't want to lose him. STILL SMOKING

DEAR STILL: If you haven't really lost him, quit smoking or at least quit smoking during coffee breaks. Holding could become a torch.

DEAR ABBY: If a man is married to a woman who is "cold," or always "too tired" to satisfy her husband's physical needs, he gets a lot of sympathy. And he should go elsewhere for what's missing at home, no one blames him. But how about a woman? She can be love-starved for years, and if she looks as lonesome as her husband, she's considered a tramp.

Well, I'm not a tramp, Abby. I'm a decent, normal woman who has been married for 18 years to a man who has given me a fine home, children, financial security, and companionship. But for the last 4 years husband and sex has diminished to nothing.

We are both in our early forties, and I think we are much too young to consider the physical aspects of our marriage finished. Or am I wrong? I've tried everything to revive his interest in me, but it's hopeless. He refuses to discuss it, but he won't see a doctor. Meanwhile I'm left frustrated.

I've never been unfaithful in my life, and as far as I have had chances, I am attractive, look younger than my years, and lately I have been wondering if perhaps an affair on the side would save my marriage, or my rationalizing? Woman to woman, what do you think?

ONLY HUMAN

DEAR ONLY: Woman to woman, I think you ought to tell your husband that if he values his marriage he had better see a doctor for a thorough check-up. He could have a physical disorder which he ought to know about.

If it's not "physical," that's still another problem; but it's a marriage, not a man's job. Let him know you love him, but have serious doubts about how much longer you can remain faithful. Leave the rest to him.

Troubled? Write to Abby, Box 89700, Los Angeles, Calif. 90089. For a personal reply, enclosure stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Miss Ridgway, Callow Repeat Nuptial Vows

JEROME — Cynthia Ridgway, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Ridgway, and Lloyd Callow, son of Mrs. Angus Callow and Orval Callow, all Jerome, were united in marriage in a double ring ceremony June 16 at the First Church of the Nazarenes, Jerome.

Rev. Don McBride performed the ceremony before a background setting of baskets of white gladioli and an arch of lighted candles.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor-length gown of white lace over white satin. The gown featured a sleeved jacket of lace with a rhinestone scalloped edge on the sleeves. The chapel train of lace was enhanced with a rhinestone scalloped edge.

Her bouffant shoulder-length veil of illusion was held by a pearl and rhinestone crown. She carried a cascading bouquet of white carnations and pink roses enhanced with blue streamers on a white Bible.

Patricia Ridgway, Jerome, sister of the bride, served as maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Carol Bentinger, Jerome, a classmate of the bride, and Mrs. Laura Collins, Apple Valley, Calif., sister of the bride.

Best man was Mike Heltman, with Mick Hessler and Bill Agota, all classmates of the bridegroom, serving as ushers. Candlelighters were Bonnie Hilds and Elaine Johnston, Elmer Bentinger and Flora Meyers sang, and Mrs. Shirley Harwood, cousin of the bride, was organist.

Special Guest Welcomed By Jay-C-Ettes

BURL — Mrs. Dick Messersmith Ninth District vice president, was a special guest at the regular meeting of the "Burl Jay-C-Ettes," when the group met recently at the Colonial Room of the Rogerson Hotel.

Other guests were Jean Moore and Judy Steele, Twin Falls.

Mrs. Jim Stewart, president, reported on the district meeting held at the home of Mrs. Messersmith. She announced that the district will donate enough money to finance a "camper-ship" to Camp Ester Stal.

It was noted that the next president's meeting is at the home of Mrs. Darrell McRoberts, Burl. The summer district meeting will be held in August in Wood River.

Out-of-town guests attended from California, Utah, Pierce, Wyoming, the couple will reside in Jerome where both are employed.

Guests were registered by Judy Bolch. The reception was centered with a three-tiered wedding cake flanked by candles.

Cake was served by Mrs. Ila Schmidt, Mrs. Vera Ridgway, Jerome, and Mrs. Mae Ridgway, Haley, all aunts of the bride. Mrs. Alma Lewis served coffee and Mrs. Ann Prescott, of the bridegroom, poured punch.

After a honeymoon trip to Yellowstone National Park and Wyoming, the couple will reside in Jerome where both are employed.

Mrs. Wesley Rathbun reported that $29.41 was realized from the rummage sale. Mrs. Jim Lovder said that the ditty bag have been finished and turned over to the local Red Cross chapter.

Presbyterian Women Host Annual Picnic

MR. AND MRS. ROY H. MCNEELY will be feted at an open house in honor of their Golden Wedding Anniversary from 2 to 6 p.m., July 23 at the home of LeRoy McNeely, 1655 Shoup Ave., E., Twin Falls. The event will be hosted by the couple's children, Mrs. Arthur Peterson, Garden Grove, Calif.; Mrs. Noble Killinger, Montclair, Calif.; Mrs. LaVoy Thomas, Idaho Falls; Sydney McNeely, Bountiful, Utah, and LeRoy McNeely, Twin Falls. The couple has 18 grandchildren and five great-grandchildren. All friends and relatives are invited to attend the open house and the couple requests no gifts. Mr. and Mrs. McNeely were married July 21, 1917, in Pocatello.

Diana Krahn, Keithly Repeat Nuptial Vows

FAIRFIELD — Diana Krahn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Krahn, and Russell Keithly, Nampa, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Keithly, Nampa, were united in marriage June 16 in the Community Church, Rev. W. James Post officiated at the double ring ceremony.

Over 80 candles in candelabra lighted the ceremony. Baskets of giant white chrysanthemums decorated the chancel. Tall candelabers, entwined with ivy, lined the center aisle which was covered with a white carpet for the occasion.

Mrs. Ed Doorn, Eugene, Ore., was organist. Mrs. William A. Simon and Rev. Mr. Post provided the wedding music.

The bride was escorted by her father. Her floor-length gown of dulcinated satin and imported organza was fashioned with a portrait neckline and pointed, three-quarter length sleeves. It featured a panel of alencon lace appliques and medallions. Her chapel train of organza and illusion net was held by a pearl and applied medallions.

Her fingertip veil of French illusion was held by large satin covered blossoms trimmed with pearls and sequins. Her bridal bouquet was composed of white gardenias and stephanotis.

Sandra Johnson, Entwistle, Ore., was maid of honor. Kathy Herford, Vancouver, Wash., and Beverly Davidson, Pasadena, Calif., were bridesmaids. Cheryl Clark and Marylene Clark, Gooding, cousins of the bride, were flower girls. Jimmy Kracha, Boise, nephews of the bride, were ring bearers. Carolyn Keithly and Sandra Keithly, Nampa, sisters of the bridegroom, were candlelighters.

Bruce Keithly, Seattle, brother of the bridegroom, served as best man. Ronald Lancaster, Nampa, and Kay Kimura, Seattle, were ushers. Don and Denise Clark distributed bridegroom's cake.

A reception was held in the church recreation room after the ceremony. The bride's table was covered with white chintz. The four-tier cake was topped with a miniature wedding party and flanked by sweetheart cakes. The cakes were baked by Mrs. William Sweet, Mrs. Loy Vanakite and Mrs. Keith Strom and decorated by Mrs. Edward Krahn, mother of the bride.

Mrs. William Austin, Wendell, aunt of the bride, served the wedding cake. Others presiding at the serving table included Mrs. Loma Edgewood, Brandt, Nampa; Mrs. Russell Vinsonhater, Boise; Mrs. Clayton Krahn, Seattle; Mrs. Donald Krahn, Boise, and Mrs. Hugh Koosne and Mrs. Larry Sheeha Gooding.

Mrs. Patrick Pankhouser, Corral, and Mrs. Ed Doorn, Eugene, were in charge of the guest book. Gifts were arranged by Ellen Krahn, Marilyn Brandt, and Mrs. Larry Jasper, Piler.

Assisting at the reception were Mr. and Mrs. Gwen Rice, Mrs. Keith Strom, Mrs. Loy Vanakite and members of the Ruth and Niwon Society.

The bridegroom is employed by the Xerox Co., Sacramento, Calif., where the young couple will reside. Their honeymoon will be in Sun Valley and at Lake Pend Oreille.

The bride was feted by a shower given by Mrs. Walter Pearson, Mrs. Loma Edgewood, Mrs. Loy Vanakite and Mrs. Gwen Rice earlier in the month. Mr. and Mrs. Edward Krahn and Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Keithly hosted the wedding party at a rehearsal dinner.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy H. McNeely worked for the past 11 years for the district. Gifts were presented to the honorees from the employees of the Pumping Station.

Special guests were Mrs. Andersonberg and Mrs. Moffitt.

In charge of serving were Mrs. Clifford Sutton, Mrs. Arvil Voyce, Mrs. Jay Kidd and Mrs. Dean Wilcox, assisted by Mrs. Ray Schmidt and Mrs. Ralph Jibson.

Contest Team Captains Named By Auxiliary

Mrs. Emma Stone and Mrs. T. M. Knight were named team captains for a membership contest when members of the DAV Auxiliary met recently at the DAV Hall.

The losing team will entertain the winners at the close of the contest.

Mrs. Knight was senior vice commander pro tem and Mrs. V. R. Lawson gave the opening and closing prayers. Mrs. Merrill-Henderson and Mrs. Carl Satterfield posted and retired the flag.

An announcement was made that the social and birthday anniversary party will be held at the home of Mrs. Ruth Sievers. Members are asked to bring a gift for the exchange. Gifts are to be wrapped and the given name enclosed inside the package.

A thank-you note was read from Mrs. Viola Green, national DAV Auxiliary senior vice commander. She was a guest in Twin Falls during the department convention in June.

Mrs. Stone and Mrs. Sievers were appointed to a committee to purchase a fan for the hall. It was reported that Mrs. Dureta Atkinson is in the hospital and Leiland Rosendahl is a patient at the Boise Veterans Hospital.

The family picnic was scheduled for Aug. 20, with the chapter to furnish for cream and coffee. Members of the serving committee were named for the DAV dance to be held at 8 p.m. July 21 at the DAV Hall.

Auxiliary members joined the chapter members for a social hour.

Miss Marriage, Lt. Ramsey Repeat Vows In June Rites

FILER—Nancy Deanna Marriage, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. Dean Marriage, Milwaukee, Ore., and Lt. Jack Kimball Ramsey, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack F. Ramsey, Filer, were united in marriage June 10 at the Milwaukee Presbyterian Church.

Rev. Dr. Harvey J. Schmidt, Milwaukee, and Rev. Allen Reesor, Filer, officiated at the ceremony before an altar decorated with bouquets of white gladioli, snapdragons and spiraea chrysanthemums and candles among the flowers.

The bride wore a white linen empire gown adorned with Venetian lace. Her shoulder-length veil of illusion was held by a small tiara and she carried a bouquet of Phloxenopsis orchids and stephanotis.

Lois Marriage, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. Bridemaids were Julie Ramsey, sister of the bridegroom, and Jennifer Marriage, sister of the bride. Julie Gray, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clair Gray, Milwaukee, was flower girl.

Thomas Ramsey was best man and Guy Ramsey and Kirk Ramsey were groomsmen. All are brothers of the bridegroom. Ushers were Jerry Decker, Filer; Robert J. Suttell, Twin Falls; and James Lathrop, Portland.

Anno Ford, friend of the bride and bridegroom, was officiant. The reception was held in the Fireplace Room of the church. The tables were covered with lace and centers with bouquets of daisies and baby's breath. The tiered wedding cake was iced in white and decorated with yellow roses. It was topped by a decoration of pink daisies and baby's breath.

Among those serving were Mr. Lyle A. Frazier, Twin Falls, and Mrs. Gerald Jensen, Butte. Julie Gray, the flower girl, served the bridegroom's cake.

Among those attending the ceremony were the grandpar-

Refrigerator Care Explained For Vacations

SHOSHONE—When you take a vacation, what should you do about the refrigerator? Turn it off or leave it on?

If you are going to be away three weeks or less, take everything out but leave it turned on—advices—Mary Lou Ruy, county home economist. In case the absence is a month or more, or if the refrigerator is to be moved, other steps should be followed, empty the refrigerator of all food, defrost it completely, clean it thoroughly and disconnect it. Leave the door open about 24 hours to remove moisture that remains in the insulation after the inside appears to be dry. Thorough cleaning and drying are important in preventing mildew, mold and odors.

It is also a good time to leave the door open during the storage. Prop it open with a wedge. The reason, again, is prevention of mold and smell. If a refrigerator does develop a bad odor, about the only thing that can be done is to replace the insulation.

When the refrigerator is connected again, either from storage or after a vacation with only moderate temperature, be sure it is thoroughly cold before placing food inside.

Garden Club Tours Pottery

Members and guests of the Twin Falls Garden Club visited the Snake River Pottery after a potluck picnic and regular business meeting at the Hagerman Park.

A report was given by Mrs. Victor Nelson, treasurer. Plans for the fall booth were discussed.

Mrs. John Flatt was appointed yearbook chairman. An invitation was read from the Kimberly Research Station to attend the open house tour.

Members gave suggestions for the coming year's program, with Mrs. J. C. Reynolds as chairman.

Guests were Mrs. Alice Prescott, Mrs. E. R. Stevens and Mrs. Earl Peck, all Twin Falls, and Mrs. Bonnie Roberson, Hagerman.

The next meeting is a 9:30 a.m. coffee hour Aug. 2 at the home of Mrs. Stanley Bednar. Officers will be installed by Mrs. L. H. Perrine. Mrs. Nelson will give a talk on dahlias.

DEFENSE SLIP HELPS SOUTH

West's double of four spades is not recommended. He knows that South is in for some bad news in trumps but North and South have reached game with monds and led a second heart. South trumped in dummy, cashed dummy's ace of trumps and led a second heart. Then he started to play more diamonds. He discarded a club on the third diamond lead.

West ruffed and led a club. South went right up with dummy's ace and discarded his last club on another diamond lead. West ruffed and led a second club but South was able to ruff in his own hand; draw trumps stopping in dummy and make the rest of the tricks with what was left of the diamond suit.

How could West have beaten the contract? When he took his ace of diamonds he should have led a club rather than the second heart. Then when he ruffed for the first time he could have given his partner a club trick.

TODAY'S QUESTION
You bid five diamonds and your partner bids five spades. What do you do now?

Answer Next Issue

No strain at all and the double may give away the trump situation in time for declarer to guard against it.

It is a cardinal principle of bidding that you don't double when you may be jeopardizing the setting trick.

The double didn't hurt this time. West was sure of his two trump tricks anyway, but he slipped in the defense later on.

South won the heart lead and decided to attack the diamond suit before going after trumps. West rose with his ace of dia-

If You Hate Waste, Then Don't Hate

Whenever someone says his ideas adopted, he may gain "waste"—or "tragedy"—I think more of a feeling of acceptance of Phil. This is Walt, and "Phil" and lessen his obvious act. (4) Frankness might be the key story to his. For three years he worked with him on a number of projects. His ideas were excellent, but no one (including Phil) I don't know what's wrong with me, but everyone you open suggestion from him. The problem was personally. Whenever he opened his mouth, you automatically started to bristle. You see — Phil was a chip-on-the-shoulder guy. Everytime he made a suggestion, his condescending attitude (an unspoken "I don't give a damn what you think of this...") drowned out the merit of his notion. Undoubtedly, it was a defense, but it was too much for us.

I wasted a lot of time, and emotional energy disliking Phil. Would I do any better today? I hope so. A smarter (and much younger) pal recently spelled out the futility of this scene with, "Hating someone is like burning down your house to kill a rat." Perhaps there's a "Phil" in your life. If so, read over my shoulder and see if any of these suggestions might help you shed your hate hang-up.

MAKE A LIST
(1) Make a list of the admirable things about this difficult guy. You know his minuses so well. Now really probe to find abilities and qualities you can gold star. (Even on a smaller scale, I can recall that Phil was a "creative, systematic, ambitious, provocative and learned.") This study can push you past the point of looking at a cardboard villain, and help you to see a three-dimensional person with pluses and minuses.

(2) Now make a "hate" list of your own faults. Spell out the things that shame you about your own "Notice" or "Respect" of what they say, but if "being a good boy" earns no response, no re-endorsement approval, then this child is trained to be a pest.

(3) An idea should stand and be judged on its own merits, and not be automatically slighted because "Phil" is the author. The question after all is not who is right, but what is right. To get fair treatment, have each person write down his suggestion on a piece of paper, and have the chairman write the ideas on the board. If Phil sees some of
