

James Cunningham Is New T. F. District Judge

A 51-year-old Twin Falls man who studied law books during moments snatched from his job as a court reporter, was appointed to the second judgeship in the Fifth Judicial District today.

Chosen for the assignment by Gov. Don Samuelson was James Cunningham, attorney with the law firm of Cunningham, Schwartz and Doerr, Twin Falls. Announcement of his selection was made in conjunction with one for the Fourth District, which includes Ada County. Named to the Ada County post was Alfred C. Hagan, Boise.

The appointments are effective Aug. 15. Gov. Samuelson said, and the terms will run until January, 1969. The two positions will be filled by private election in 1968.

The two new judgeships were created by the 1967 state legislature, increasing the number of judges in the state from 22 to 24. The action increased to four the number of judges assigned to the districts centered by Boise and Twin Falls. Mr. Cunningham has lived in Twin Falls for 14 years, serving as Twin Falls County prosecuting attorney from 1954 to 1955. He has been engaged in the private practice of law since 1958. Prior to moving to Twin Falls, he had lived in Gooding for 11 years. From 1952 to 1954, he was a district court reporter in Southern Idaho.

It was while being employed as a court reporter, he said Monday, that he began an individual study of law. A native of North Dakota, he was educated in Minnesota. Prior to moving to Idaho, he served as a county officer in South Dakota and was employed in the Bureau of Accounting, Social Security, in South Dakota.

Cunningham is married and has a 17-year-old son. He commented that he is "looking forward to serving as the district judge. Mr. Hagan obtained his bachelor's and law degrees from the University of Idaho and did graduate work at George Washington University in Washington, D. C. ## Probing Of Farm Groups To Continue

WASHINGTON (AP) - A House agriculture subcommittee will continue its investigation of national farm organizations Sunday and Saturday in Omaha, Neb. Chairman Joseph Y. Resnick, D-N.Y., said Sunday his subcommittee will look into the business activities and membership structure of the American Farm Bureau Federation, the National Farmers Organization and the National Grange.

Resnick, since the outset of his investigation several weeks ago, has engaged in a controversy with the tax-exempt American Farm Bureau Federation. He contends the federation has used its tax-exempt status to build a financial empire at the expense of the U.S. farmer.

The Full House Agriculture Committee has voted to disassociate itself from Resnick's charges against its federation. Resnick, however, said he wasn't impressed by the action because a majority of the committee members are also members of the federation.

Resnick said one reason for holding hearings in the Midwest is because "many farmers have written us with stories of highly questionable activities on the part of the farm bureau."

Romney Says Request Facts Are Distorted

DETROIT (AP) - Gov. George Romney accused the White House today of "a complete and absolute distortion" of his request for federal troops in Detroit racial violence fight week.

Romney said at a news conference that former assistant Secretary of Defense Cyrus Vance was quoted by the White House as saying "Romney concurred with him in the delayed commitment of federal troops. The governor added: "Romney said he further from the truth."

He marked the first time the Michigan governor, a leading prospect for the 1968 Republican presidential nomination, had criticized President Johnson for the handling of the riot crisis in Detroit last week.

At another point Romney said that Atty. Gen. Ramsey Clark appeared to be making "more a political request than a legal request, everything considered up to that point."

Jerome Man Killed In Canyon Fall, Ex-Burley Woman Dies

TUTTLE - Gooding county's third traffic death in as many days occurred Sunday night when a pickup truck driven by Jerome man left Highway 25 about one-half mile northwest of Tuttle and plunged into the Malad River Canyon.

Gooding Deputy Sheriff LeRoy Hess, 31, said the truck, driven by Mr. and Mrs. Carl Thompson, Jerome, was driving east on the highway when the 1948 Chevrolet pickup truck, which was driving left the highway about 60 feet from the edge of the steep canyon.

Two wreckers were called from Bliss to lift the demolished truck up from the river bottom. Mr. Barnes was still in the truck after the plunge, Deputy Hess said. The accident occurred about 8:30 p.m. and the truck was not retrieved until after 10 p.m.

The tragedy was observed by a truck driver who was following Mr. Barnes and notified Gooding Sheriff's officers. A log skidder was called to the scene to anchor one of the wreckers, officers said.

Three unidentified Hansen men from Bliss on the day before Hess in going down into the canyon to attach the cables to the truck. As the demolished vehicle was being hoisted out of the chasm, the motor and front axle fell out, the deputy said.

Officers noted that their work was hampered by some 700 passing motorists who stopped and insisted on crowding to the scene of the bridge, although they despite repeated pleas by officers to get back.

The pedestrians created a "dangerous traffic problem," Hess said.

Mr. Barnes' body is being sent by Thompson Chappo, Gooding, to the Boise morgue. The 28th traffic death in Magic Valley in 1967.

JEROME - Fifth Judicial District Judge Theron W. Ward denied three motions Monday by defense attorney James May on behalf of Michael Dillon, 25, charged with the first degree murder of Mrs. Alta Smerly, 61, Jerome.

Officers noted that their work was hampered by some 700 passing motorists who stopped and insisted on crowding to the scene of the bridge, although they despite repeated pleas by officers to get back.

Boise Cascade Plans Merger

BOISE - R. V. Hansberger, president of Boise Cascade Corp., announced Monday negotiations of an agreement looking toward a merger of U. S. Land Co., Indianapolis, Ind., with Boise Cascade.

The proposed merger would be made through an exchange of stock, according to sources around the present corporate head of the Snake River.

2 Persons Die In Milwaukee Violence

By The Associated Press
Two persons, a policeman and an unidentified woman, were reported dead in Milwaukee Monday night as rioting broke out in widely scattered Negro areas across the country, and then was quelled. Three battleships were ordered pulled out of Detroit as the situation eased there.

Officers of the two victims in Milwaukee were found near a burned-out house, Police said it had been a sniper's nest.

They counted 13 persons hospitalized, including 12 policemen. There were 70 fires and 100 persons were arrested in Milwaukee Monday night.

At any rate, federal officials say, the press American Falls Dam may be rebuilt because of its poor condition.

Board members adopted a resolution aimed at developing a "state water policy" which would tend to make Idaho less dependent on federal water resource development projects.

The resolution, it appeared, could open the door to Idaho participation in construction of the Snake and Salmon rivers.

A Northwest Power Co. claim had been licensed to build the high dam, but the U.S. Supreme Court invalidated the license.

A representative from the company, Don Starnes, said board members that the group of private power companies would oppose any effort to totally or partially participate in the dam's construction.

Board members agreed to stipulate at a Public Land Law hearing in Idaho Falls, Idaho, that the dam would probably be better handled by an aeronautics commission, highlighted the hearing session of the Idaho Air Transportation Authority. Subcommittees were set up in Washington, D.C., on Aug. 21.

The seminar was arranged by the Idaho State University College of Business Administration which just completed an in-depth study of the transportation situation within the state.

Speakers at the morning session included Frank D. Snelley, dean of the ISU business college, who also presided; Dr. James Kelly, associate professor of the college of business; Vaughn B. Clayton, Federal Aviation Administration; Bob Lake, City and Ed Wood, Twin Falls airport manager.

Afternoon speakers were to include Clot Moulton, director, Department of Aeronautics; Russ Durray, Mountain States representative; Pocotello; Richard High, State Senator, Twin Falls; and a representative of West Coast Airlines.

Dr. Snelley had evidence points to the fact that the community that loses a railroad dies, as does a community that loses a highway by bypassing it. It is reasonable to suppose that a community that is taken off the aviation map will also die, he concluded.

Dr. Kelly said the survey showed that in the past 10 years the IDFA has allocated $7 million to Idaho and the state has used only $1 million for airport construction.

U.S. Aircraft Carrier Forrestal Limp To Port With 76 Men Known Dead

By GEORGE MCARTHUR SAIGON (AP) - The aircraft carrier Forrestal, ravaged by flames and bomb blasts Saturday, limped into Subic Bay in the Philippines today and another fire broke out as she prepared to dock.

It was only a flash fire, nothing like the holocaust that let 76 of the crew dead, 69 missing and 191 wounded in a North Vietnam mess ambush Saturday in the North and South Vietnam. At Subic Bay, the cry of "Fire!" rang out from the Forrestal's loud-speaker system. No flames were visible to those on shore and Navy officials presumed the fire was small. The Forrestal later docked and no fire was visible aboard. The casualty figures for the carrier disaster were a revision from an earlier announcement of 71 dead, 78 injured and 112 missing. Presumably some of the missing were found on rescue ships which had come along with the carrier, and there had been duplications in reporting the missing and injured.

About 800 Marines invaded the buffer zone between North and South Vietnam Friday to raid Communist troops and gun positions. After reporting only 100 Communist troops, the Marines were hit by a mortar barrage Saturday as they moved south along a narrow trail about 1,000 yards north of the zone's southern boundary.

Some source said the Marine toll was at least 30 dead and 150 wounded and might go as high as 50 killed and 350 wounded. After a daytime battle, 40 enemy dead were reported left on the battlefield.

"They had us in a crosstie," said 2nd Lt. John Lengset of Portland, Ore., a platoon commander. "They were running across areas right where we had our machine guns."

The chain of fires and bomb explosions that raged through six of the 10 decks in the after part of the 76,000-ton Forrestal Saturday was the worst U.S. naval disaster since World War II.

It was believed to have begun when an F4 Phantom jet, preparing to take off, was attacked on North Vietnam, shot a sheet of flame from its jets and ignited a rocket on a plane behind it.

The missing men were below decks—many of them night crew. Shipyard mechanics who had just come to sleep—were injured—many who jumped overboard to escape the fire and were drowned.

Monday Holidays About To Get Push

WASHINGTON (AP) - A House Judiciary subcommittee has scheduled hearings for Aug. 17 on bills that would shift Washington's Birthday, Memorial Day, Independence Day and Veterans' Day to Monday. Several bills also would add Thanksgiving Day to the list.

With Labor Day already falling on a Monday, the measures would produce a string of short vacations throughout the year. Christmas and New Year's Day still would cycle through the days of the week.

The only real opposition comes from traditionalists who feel it impossible that the Fourth of July, for instance, should be celebrated any other day.

But supporters of the legislation have amassed a list of legislative

First Range Blaze Of Season Is Out

Demanding operations were a complete Monday on a 209-acre range fire located two miles northwest of Rogerson, Bureau of Land Management officials announced.

The blaze, apparently lightning-caused, was reported at about 5:30 p.m. Saturday. More than 25 firefighters were called to the fire before it was brought under control several hours later.

According to Phil Cloward, fire control officer for the Sawtooth National Forest Service, 2,400 gallons of fire retardant were dropped on the fire by the forest Service in a cooperative effort between the service and the BLM to bring the blaze under control.

The fire was the fifth, and largest to date, to hit the Magic Valley area this season. It is a 20 range fire which would have reported to officials by this time of the fire season, Mr. Cloward said.

Several fire crews and two torpedos blower planes were used to combat the blaze.

Area "Hot Shot" Crew Fights Fire In Montana

A special "Hot Shot" initial attack fire crew from the Magic Valley area joined more than 30 other firefighters Saturday morning in battling to contain two fires burning in Western Montana forests.

The crew includes 27 college students from local communities and is headed by Bob Berg, Twin Falls, foreman. The boys left on the Twin Falls Airport at 2:47 a.m. Monday for Rail, Mont., on their first fire call.

Formally called an Interregional suppression crew, the team is part of a national program designed to contain range and forest fires as quickly as possible. The crew is based at Big Smoky Guard Station along Fairfield and remains on call 24 hours a day for transport to any fire area west of Mississippi River, including Alaska.

Violence In Portland Area Is Studied

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP)—The most critical thing apparent in the outbreak of violence Sunday in the Albina area of Portland was complete lack of effective relationship with youth, Marko Haggard told a news conference early today.
 Haggard, state coordinator for War on Poverty activities, outlined the situation at the request of Gov. Tom McCall. He said he had been working with "all sorts of groups and people" in recent weeks.
 "No one seems to have effective relationship with youth in the area," Haggard told a news conference in the office of Mayor Terry Schrunk which was attended by state and city officials.
 "The first priority," Haggard said, "is to address ourselves to the frustrations of youth."
 And what they need most, he said, are jobs.

Two Flight Drill Plans Are Banned

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Federal Aviation Administration has banned two flight training procedures that were being used by a DC8 jet airliner when it crashed March 30 near New Orleans, killing 19 persons.
 The FAA eliminated the requirement that pilots simulate the failure of two engines of a four-engine jet aircraft on approach to an airport and banned hazardous flight training over congested areas.
 The DC8 crashed on approach to New Orleans International Airport into a congested area. Thirteen persons on the ground, including nine Jews, Wis., high school seniors, were among the victims. The airliner was simulating the two-engine-out procedure at the time.
 The FCC said Saturday it also was urging maximum use of ground simulators to avoid the more dangerous flight operations.

Tax Increase Will Cause Big Turmoil

By JOSEPH R. COYNE
 WASHINGTON (AP)—President Johnson is about to put from his legislative oven a tax package his administration has been mulling for more than six months. It's certain to create in Congress one of the biggest stirs of the year.
 The basic ingredient will be a surcharge on individual and corporate income taxes, but the exact recipe is still a well-kept secret.
 The complete cake, however, is expected to reach Congress very soon, perhaps as early as this coming week, although some sources say it will be later.
 It was Jan. 1 when Johnson proposed a 6 per cent surtax to "keep our economy growing without new inflationary strains, finance the needs of our men in Vietnam and the progress of our people at home; support a significant improvement in our export surplus and press toward easier credit and lower interest rates."
 The possibility of a rate as high as 10 per cent has been discussed since then. Johnson has said some adjustment of the 6 per cent proposal might be needed. His advisers, however, have ruled out anything less than 6 per cent.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Whites who expect middle-class Negroes to act as a restraining force on racial tensions probably are mistaking themes, a university study of the 1965 riots in the Watts section of Los Angeles indicates.
 Instead, it suggests a preliminary report by 10 University of California at Los Angeles sociologists, the impatience of middle-class Negroes to enjoy the same freedoms and opportunities as their white counterparts probably helps fuel racial tensions, such as Watts.
 The preliminary report also found widespread resentment among Negroes of all economic classes against alleged police brutality and exploitation of Negro consumers by white merchants.
 These findings were reported Friday by the Office of Economic Opportunity, which contracted for the UCLA probe. Only the 115-page preliminary section of the 12-part study was made public.
 Among the study's conclusions about Watts, scene of the most costly riot in recent years except for the Detroit uprising: "Those who are better off seem to evidence considerable antiwhite sentiment which is significantly related to their participation in violence. Those less fortunate rebel against discrimination and appear to be motivated mainly by economic discontent."
 "Misreatment or exploitation by whites (merchants and police) seems to be a source of riot support for all levels of the ghetto."

Wigwam Stands With Tents At Scout Camp

By JOHN VIVIAN
 FARRAGUT STATE PARK, Idaho (AP)—Boy Scout leader Saunders Bridges says he is convinced the Indians knew what they were doing when they lived in tepees.
 "This is why, among the thousands of tents at the Boy Scout World Jamboree, there proudly stands one wigwam."
 The 5,000-acre campsite, bordered by lush green mountains and the cool clear water of Lake Pend Oreille, is now being used by up to 50 more scouts from nearly 100 Free World countries arriving for the encampment, which begins tonight Tuesday.
 Until there is a nose count later in the week, it will not be known how many are here. The latest Scout prediction is 12,000, plus Bridges' tepee, which now has seen service at three international scout encampments plus nearly 50 other camping trips.
 His troop has used tepees at the National Jamboree in Valley Forge, Pa., the Pan-American Jamboree at Rio de Janeiro in 1964 and at an encampment at Packington Park, England, in 1966.
 Bridges said his scouts first built a tepee for demonstration purposes, and later—when the troop needed new tents—decided instead to try tepees.

 Using bleached white canvas and bamboo poles, the scouts built the tepees to authentic specifications provided by an Indian lore expert. "For poles, we used bamboo rather than lodgepole pine because we need something lightweight for travel," said Bridges.
 "Among the advantages of a tepee over a tent is the hole in the top," he said. "It provides ventilation when the sides are folded back a couple of feet. The warm air rises, drawing a breeze in at the lower levels."
 The hole too has a slight disadvantage, he said, because rain can drop in and drip down the poles that criss-cross at the peak of the tepee and almost fill the hole. "but seldom does enough come in to really get you wet," he said.

 Bridges pointed out that a tepee, because it has no lateral edges, is less prone than a tent to be blown over by the wind. He also said the roundness of a

A Senile Dream

President de Gaulle seems to have coaxed West Germany into sharing, even if tentatively, some of his special dream for Europe. After two days of talks, West German Chancellor Kiesinger agreed to the setting up of a joint commission to discuss political and security problems of the two countries may face in the decade ahead.

OCEAN CITY, Md. — This Atlantic beach resort can best be described as Coney Island with a plantation overseas accent. It is also, these days, a splendid example of the nation's submission to intimidation by its children.

WASHINGTON (AP) — How do Negro riots start? Republican party leaders suggest violence like that in Detroit may result from a conspiracy organized, planned and carried out on a national scale.

BARRY GOLDWATER Wrong Once Again

It was not necessary for Robert Strange McNamara to go all the way to Vietnam to be wrong once again. His track record so far is perfect. On every one of his trips to Vietnam he has been back some 20 days, but not for the kids on Sunday nights. Or saw a seam? Or perhaps, even, help with the dishes?

Dear Abby: My wife's mother raised her with the following advice about housework: "The less you know, the less you will have to do." When our kids were young, I was the one who thought I should give them back, but I want your opinion. Please put your answer in the column because if a letter came to the house my mother might open it and I wouldn't want to hurt her feelings. THE PUZZLED TEEN

DEAR PUZZLED: The presents intended as "going away" presents, and since you aren't going away, the gesture is inappropriate now. I know it's embarrassing and somewhat awkward, but return them anyway. Your mother is right.

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I preferred to be married at an intimate wedding 3 years ago, so we were. Our parents are quite prominent and we have a large family, so after our wedding, they sent out announcements. Several people complained that they had received a card inviting them to a wedding after it had occurred, so they couldn't have attended had they wanted to.

Apparently they didn't realize that what they received was an invitation, but an announcement, which is not the same thing. (We sent no invitations, we simply told the friends and relatives to invite them.)

I wonder how many people make the same mistake? It has been 3 years. STILL WONDERING

CONFIDENTIAL TO "Firm Father": You can be the lightning bolts of your son's life, but being disrespectful to his mother, but it won't help. Respect her. OGDEN, W. F. (Frances) Mongan, Miami, Fla. They have 13 grandchildren and five great-grandchildren.

How has the world been treating you? I intend your answers on Dear Abby, Box 83700, Los Angeles, Cal., 90069. For a personal, unpublished reply, enclose a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

DEAR ABBY: My father, because of his job, was transferred to another city and some friends gave me a nice going away party with presents. My father's transfer was suddenly canceled. My question is, should I give the presents back or not? My mother has already told me she

Eye-Grabbing Show Given On New Fashions

PARIS (AP)—One can always count on Esterel to put on an eye-grabbing show. He opened the Paris winter fashion section today by dropping the hemline to calf length and never higher than four inches below the knee. And he came up with a new capped silhouette.

Capes step forth in every length and always top straight funnel-shaped collared styles like calf-length gilette trousers. A favorite theme is plus four or bloomed cycling pants all stopping at mid-calf and brushing the top of high black vinyl of the new guinea stretch fabric topped boots. Spanish torador hats or almond shaped hats are invariably worn with a tight hood, black or white, adding to the drama.

Esterel plays on this theme and the result is a woman appearing like a secret police agent ready for action. Esterel plays with caps and styles them in moods. They were from the black and white King-size wool check sweeping out as the wearer moves with careful tailored detail to others in plain black recalling Arno Brunst, French chaussonier immortalized by Toulouse-Lotrec.

Miss Nuffer Edgar Marry In Temple Rites

SPRINGDALE — Vicki Lynn Nuffer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. Nuffer, Driggs, and Larry Frank Edgar, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank J. Edgar, Springdale, were married in a double ring ceremony July 7, at the Logan LDS Temple.

Accompanying the couple were their parents and other relatives. After the ceremony the bride's parents hosted a luncheon at their home.

The couple was honored at a reception that evening at the home of Center Linross Chapel, Weston.

The bride wore a wedding gown of antique white peau-de-ours with a rounded neckline set off by a lace overlay bodice. The dress featured long, bell-shaped sleeves and a-train of lace with scalloped edges. The train was attached at the shoulders.

The shoulder-length veil of illusion was held with a pearl de sole. The bride made up in the gown.

Her cascade bouquet of white orchids and yellow roses was tied with white streamers.

Ruth Westbrook was maid of honor. Jane Nuffer, Ann Nuffer and Linda Nuffer, sisters of the bride, were bridesmaids. Mrs. Nuffer and Valerie Nuffer, sisters of the bride, and Thelma Edgars, sister of the bridegroom, were flower girls.

David Edgar, Springdale, brother of the bridegroom, was best man. Ushers were Les Merrill, Burley; LeLand Johnson, Shoshone; George Hamilton, Blackfoot, and Edward Christensen, Idaho Falls.

A candle illumination with greenery and aqua ribbons was the setting for the receiving line.

The bride's table was covered with white lace over green and decorated with three-tiered wedding cake. The cake was trimmed with yellow roses and white lilies. The bride and groom were seated at the head of the table.

The bride wore a Bridal Original empire gown, accented with a chapel train of hand-clipped Chantilly lace, with scallops outlining the oval neckline and lily point sleeves. A lace appliqued organza rose secured the bubble pouf butterfly veil of English illusion.

She wore a single strand of pearls, a tulle garter, the bridegroom's ring, and a pearl baby rose-encrusted white orchid. Darlene Karb, cousin of the bride, was maid of honor and Edward Hatch was best man.

Solost, Sharon Johnson, was accompanied by Mrs. Eugene Christensen, who also played the traditional wedding music. A reception following the ceremony was held at the Cultural Hall. Helen Jones registered guests and gifts were displayed by Mrs. John Schmidt, Mrs. Billy Palmer, Mrs. Thomas A. Driessl, Marilyn Osterhout and Benita Osterhout.

The bride's table, adorned with a pink satin bow, covered with a handmade lace cloth belonging to the bride's grandmother. The four-tiered wedding cake was made and decorated by Mrs. Arun Walker and Mrs. Donn Saxton and decorated individual cakes.

Guests were served at quarter tables centered with soft-focus containing pink carnations and covered with white. Martha Tremayne, Ilene Tremayne, Chris Cagle, Carma Saxton and Laura Rasmussen served, assisted by Mrs. George Jones, Mrs. Ted Rasmussen and Mrs. Ruby Southern.

James Chabrun, Albion, was master of ceremonies for the program. After a trip to Seaside, Wash., the couple will reside at Albion.

"Cosmetivision" Predicted For Future Beauty Salons

NEW YORK (AP) — If men can be patient until 2001 A.D. and computerized "cosmetivision" is here, they won't have to wait more than an instant for their wives to emerge from the beauty parlor completely revamped.

In a future salon of the future, perhaps called a cosmetol, a woman will call her beautician on a cosmetivision, and he will push all the buttons necessary to make a host of other machines do the work.

Cosmetics will be sprayed on from a vending machine, hair will be cleaned, combed and set with an electrostatically controlled wand, and instant makeup and hairdries will be available in vending machines.

For romantic occasions a woman will be able to deposit a coin and be sprayed with a special perfume which attracts butterflies.

At least that is the way City, the beauty preparation manufacturer, claims it will be. The company made its prediction Monday to more than 200 fashion reporters here for a week-long preview of spring fashion collections called the American Designer Series.

Then Lady Bird Johnson's two favorite designers demonstrated their joint effort to beautify American women now.

Adelle Simpson and Mollie Parnis, who share equal control in the White House, also share the view that it is time to bring sex appeal back.

Though their approach was somewhat different, both chose princess-line styles with accented waists and eliminate the negative. Both whipped these graceful lines up out of sensuous satins and silks as well as slubby blacks.

"If black comes back, it must be sexy," according to Mollie, whose models wore plunging necklines and skirts and sliced to above the knee.

In their private war against the poverty look, both designers encrusted their costumes with jewels, or embellized them with sequins or rhinestones, or sparkled them with gold and silver.

A little patzaz was Adele Simpson's contribution, with manlike holly patterns from their hooded coats to their toes, with sleeveless coats over all, Razz-mattaz with sewn on jewelry was Mollie's forte.

The first true diamond "cut" was developed in the 14th century. Known as the "table cut," it had very little brilliance. Later, the "rose cut" with hexagonal facets was introduced. The 58-facet "brilliant cut" was invented in the 17th century. This is the beautiful "round" diamond-shaped stone found in most engagement rings.

There are also the "emerald cut," the "marquise cut" and the "pear cut."

Why is a carat called a carat? It is believed the original "carats" were seeds of the Coratonia siliqua, the carob tree. There are a very uniform weight of most of the seeds led to their use for weighing diamonds, gold and pearls in ancient days.

Today, the carat weight of a diamond is determined by scientific measurement. One metric carat equals one-fifth of a gram. Each carat is divided into 100 points.

Carat weight, color, cut and clarity are the "4 Cs" used in determining a diamond's worth. When you choose your engagement diamond here, you can buy the diamonds loose, where the quality can be proven, and mounted in a ring of your choice in a matter of minutes. Come to Herrett's with complete confidence in our integrity.

Student Evaluation Study Is Revealed

MOSCOW, Idaho (AP)—More emphasis is needed on vocational training and in curricular areas pertaining to every day living in the Pocatello and Idaho Falls area high schools, according to a recently completed survey of former students.

Increased emphasis on vocational information and career planning, more emphasis on curricular areas pertaining to everyday living since graduation including, sex education and home and family relations.

The survey showed that 75 per cent of the former students rated their high school program "good" and "average," while giving a low rating to guidance services.

Subjects reported as having value since graduation including English composition, typing, algebra, word study, bookkeeping, U.S. government, home economics, history, psychology and English literature.

The subjects which had the least value according to the survey were biology, plane geometry, physical education, chemistry, student service and English literature.

During the first year after high school graduation, 40 to 50 per cent attended an academic program and 25 per cent were employed full time.

Only 20 per cent of the graduates received a bachelor's degree and nine per cent earned a vocational diploma. Most of the respondents who earned bachelor's degrees attended institutions of higher learning in Utah and Idaho.

Twenty per cent of the graduates were married, 20 per cent were single and five per cent lost their spouses through divorce, death or separation. Sixty per cent had one or more children.

Family incomes averaged from $5,000 to $7,000 per year. About five per cent reported incomes below $3,000.

A comparison of geographic locations of employment and occupational levels showed a tendency for the highly trained graduates to leave Idaho, while unskilled or poorly trained tended to remain in the state near their hometowns.

Top German Industrialist Dies At 59

ESSEN, Germany (AP) — Alfred Krupp von Bohlen and Halbach, destined to be the last sole owner of the historic Krupp industrial empire, died Sunday night just two weeks before his 60th birthday.

A spokesman for the Krupp firm said the death was caused by a weak heart. Krupp was not known to have been seriously ill, although a family friend said he had been treated over the weekend for bronchitis.

Krupp died in the 15-room room in quiet luxury on the grounds of the family estate here.

His death came while he was in the process of converting the large holdings, which made him one of the richest men in Europe, into a public corporation.

His only son Arndt, 29, had already renounced inheritance of the firm, which has traditionally been passed on to a single member of the Krupp family. Arndt's death was not expected to change the plan to establish a Krupp corporation.

The victorious Allies confiscated Krupp's properties after World War II but they were returned to him on his early release from a war crimes prison sentence in 1951. He immediately set to work rebuilding the steel firm but publicly vowed it would never again produce weapons.

This was a major step for a firm that had grown rich and famous as the cannon-maker and armorer for Europe a century ago and had contributed mightily to the arming of Germany in two world wars.

Pied Pipers Of Medical Quackery Continue Work

WASHINGTON (AP) — Neither science nor Uncle Sam has been able to silence the pied pipers of medical quackery.

But the charlatans' tune, turning a billion dollars a year from desperate and gullible hospital patients, has become more complicated, says Dr. James L. Goddard, commission of the Food and Drug Administration, more difficult to pin down as fraud.

Once upon a time, the quack's black bag was a witches' brew of lizard eyes and snake fangs. Now it is more likely to be a sophisticated console of wires, toggle switches and flashing lights.

The technique has been refined, but the results of the modern medicine man are usually no better than his ancestor's.

A hair growing conceals a sophisticated console of wires, toggle switches and flashing lights. The technique has been refined, but the results of the modern medicine man are usually no better than his ancestor's.

How much does quackery cost? There is no precise estimate either in money, false hopes or lives.

"Anyone," says Dr. Joseph B. Davis of the FDA's division of medical devices, "can manufacture a device in the basement or backyard and put it on the market and it may take two or three years before we even hear of it."

U.S. Envoys Meet Turbulence In Far East

By JACK BELL
 WASHINGTON (AP)—The political turbulence two of his envoys are encountering on a flying Far eastern trip points toward fresh difficulties between President Johnson and Congress over Vietnam.

Liechtenstein's Taylor and Clark Clifford, representing the President in a search for larger allied troop commitments, already have encountered a couple of diplomatic rebuffs and possibly face more.

Congress almost is unanimous in the belief that U. S. allies should contribute many more men to the Vietnam war that Johnson says is aimed primarily at saving Asia from communism.

There is sharp, though usually subsurface, criticism of the Philippines, Australia and New Zealand for not supplying more of the fighting manpower which Gen. William C. Westmoreland says must be beefed up to meet the offensive in the conflict with the Communists. Westmoreland is U. S. commander in Vietnam.

South Korea draws praise from U. S. senators and representatives for its willingness to contribute fighting men, even though it is providing more troops, this may mean a heavier dispatch of U. S. combat forces to Vietnam and give new ammunition to congressional critics of Johnson's war course.

Philippine President Ferdinand E. Marcos canceled a scheduled conference with Taylor and Clifford, saying he had not to Vietnam recently and didn't need any American briefing. Marcos is involved in a pending election, with increasing opposition to Philippine commitments in the war.

To some members of Congress, the situation in the Far East is similar to that prevailing in Europe.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk and Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara have said members of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization are not meeting their defense commitments in Europe but still don't want any U. S. troops withdrawn.

Rusk noted that when asked to contribute more to the joint effort, NATO countries have said that tensions were easing and they had domestic problems.

On the other hand, he said that when the question of reducing U. S. forces comes up, these countries say, "But there is a threat and you people must not let us down."

50 Demos Ask Johnson Not To Run Again

WASHINGTON (AP)—Fifty individuals identifying themselves as former Democratic National Convention delegates suggested to President Johnson today he should best serve his party by not running for re-election.

Because of division over foreign affairs, they said in a letter to the President, "millions of Democrats will be unable to support Democratic candidates in local, state or national elections."

"There is no longer a unifying force within the party, and in its absence, a Republican landslide victory in 1968 seems inevitable."

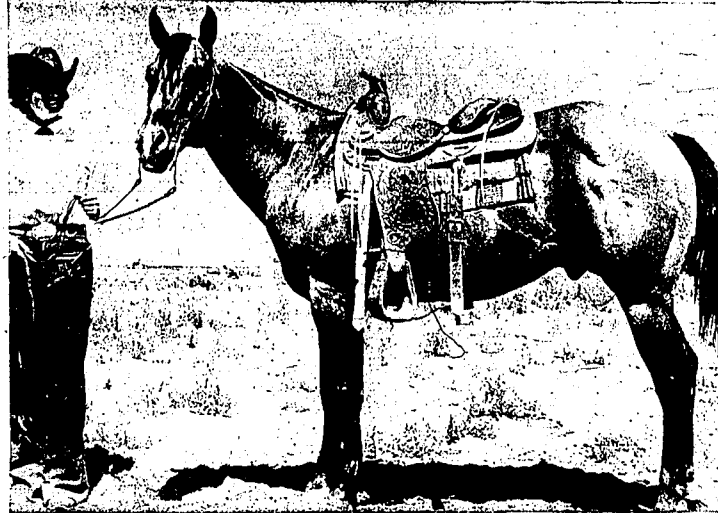

"An early decision to withdraw may insure victory by some other Democratic candidate. If it succeeds in reuniting the party."

The letter was distributed to newsmen by Citizens for Kennedy-Fulbright, a New York group urging Sen. Robert F. Kennedy over New York Gov. Rockefeller to run for President.

Fulbright has brushed them off. "With the comment that he doesn't know the organization's people and isn't a candidate for vice president."

Dr. Martin Shephard of New York, co-chairman of Citizens for Kennedy-Fulbright, called a news conference for today about the letter.

Royal Pair's Wedding Is Celebrated

By GEOFFREY ATKINS
 VADUZ, Liechtenstein (AP)—"We haven't had a ball like this in 600 years," said one red-eyed policeman early today as the royal couple danced on tables to celebrate the wedding of their crown prince.

The 22-year-old heir to the Liechtenstein throne, Crown Prince Hans Adams, and German Countess Marie Kinsky, 27, were married Sunday in an elaborate Roman Catholic nuptial Mass in a simple stone church.

As the newlyweds and 200 guests celebrated in magnificent Vaduz, Castle with champagne and roast duck, the 2,000 citizens of the world's tiniest monarchy and about 25,000 tourists got into a festive mood on 87,000 pints of beer, 52,000 pints of wine, 20,000 chickens and 40,000 sausages.

Liechtenstein's 18-man police force, bolstered by a contingent from neighboring Austria and some deputized firemen, was soon completely outnumbered by the revelers.

The police gave up putting drunks in jail because the country's only lockup holds just 20 prisoners. The revelers carried the count and cavorted unhampered.

At dawn one man fell out of a hastily departing tourist bus screaming, "It's too early to go home!" He staggered toward a beer tent.

Countess Marie, who works as a graphic designer, even from a family of German aristocrats who lost their fortune during World War II. Her new father-in-law, Prince Franz Joseph, Liechtenstein's 69-year-old ruler, is one of the richest men in Europe. The prince's art collection is estimated to be worth more than $100 million.

2 Solons Study New Car Prices

WASHINGTON (AP)—Two senators want the Bureau of Labor Statistics to determine how much consumers should pay for safety improvements in 1968 model cars.

Auto industry spokesmen contend a recent law requiring numerous safety devices in models coming out this fall will force price increases.

A breakdown of these increases was sought by Sens. Warren G. Magnuson, D-Wash., chairman of the Senate Commerce Committee, and Walter F. Mondale, D-Min.

Business Mirror

By JOHN CUNIFF
 NEW YORK (AP)—Two of the nation's problem industries, the railroads and the postal service, have been stumbling over each other's difficulties in their search for modernization.

For many decades these two were ideologically married, leaning on each other heavily, the postal service needing railroads to haul its sorting cars and the railroads depending heavily on the revenue so earned.

The marriage is ending now. As in many separations the couple has been drifting apart for a long while.

The final break came when the Post Office Department sent notices to many of the nation's railroads this month that it intended to cut back permanently on the use of railway post offices.

This provoked the heated response from some lines, especially the New York Central, that the loss of revenue was more than they could stand. On many trains, the Central said, mail revenue exceeded passenger fares.

The result, some railroad people believe, is that within the next couple of months the Interstate Commerce Commission and state regulatory agencies are going to receive an avalanche of applications to discontinue passenger service.

The inference in some of these statements is that the Post Office is to blame, an attitude that postal officials, among others, decline to accept.

The Post Office has its own problems, they say, and its officials have publicly broadcast them. And it has its own responsibility, the primary one being to provide mail service to the public rather than business to the railroads.

The fact is that the Post Office and the railroads, under the pressure of modern living, are assuming different characteristics. No longer do they share the same interest, except that of modernization.

Zip coding, for example, has changed the processing and routing of mail, but it is it as imperative that mail be sorted by postal workers riding a special car hitched to a long-distance passenger train.

Meanwhile, the railroads have been eliminating much passenger service as being unprofitable. This has led to less integration of schedules, making it a bit more difficult to route mail to distant points over the tracks of sparsely populated areas.

Floor rail service may have been a contributing factor in the Post Office decision. Many lines have been closed because the railroads this year because of a pattern of late arrivals.

Other forms of transportation also have led to less integration of schedules, making it a bit more difficult to route mail to distant points over the tracks of sparsely populated areas.

One of the biggest competitors for the Post Office dollar has been the airlines, which have received the greater use of trucks for distances up to 200 miles has cut into rail revenue also.

UNDEFEATED CHAMPION, Mrs. Doris Ingard, Twin Falls, displays a few of the trophies she won this year competing in field archery tournaments. The trophy Mrs. Ingard is holding is the one she received for winning the state championship that was held in Moscow earlier in July. She followed up by winning the sectional title last weekend.

Mrs. Ingard Cops Women's Title In Sectional Archery Tourney

Tired of sitting home as an archery weekend widow, Mrs. Julius (Doris) Ingard, Twin Falls, began accompanying her husband and son on shooting trips six years ago and the experience gained culminated last weekend when she won the women's championship of the northwest section of the national field archery tournament.

The victory, the biggest in her career, came on the heels of an undefeated competitive outdoor season but she is unable to carry her quest to the next logical step—the national title. Those were conducted this week at Jackson, Miss., but with the tournament slated for a Western site next year, Mrs. Ingard hopes to go after the biggest prize of all.

Two-time Idaho state women's champion, having successfully defended her title in Moscow this year, Mrs. Ingard also came out on top in invitational tournaments at Burley, Boise, Idaho Falls, Twin Falls, and Pocatello.

In field archery competition, a participant must fire three rounds at bulls-eyes, field and animal targets. Distances on the first two vary from 20 feet to eighty yards. Each round is worth 500 points but no one in the history of the sport has attained a perfect score. Mrs. Ingard took the sectional title with 469.

While the summer field archery season is the big item on a bowman's year, Mrs. Ingard keeps her hand in by participating in winter target sessions and sneaks out during moderate weather for some outside shooting.

Her husband and Mr. Ingard take part in the state's big game bow hunts and are presently interested in elk. In 1961 she downed a deer, but noted this was largely the deer's mistake for showing up in the wrong place. She was concentrating on an elk.

Bears Chase And Kill 400 Sheep

IDAHO CITY, Idaho (AP) - Bears apparently killed 400 to 500 sheep after chasing them into a blind canyon southeast of here, according to Boise National Forest officials.

The sheep, owned by the Carl Nicholson Sheep Co., were apparently driven into the canyon near Thurn Creek but a net must have trapped to death while mulling around the canyon.

Forest service officials said they were not sure how many bears were involved, but they were hunting for them.

The sheep were spotted Wednesday and U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service hunters Pat Reed was sent to locate the bears.

PILOT KILLED GUNTRIPPER, ALA. (AP) - A Miami, Fla., seaplane pilot, Lew Kochler, was killed Sunday when another hydroplane caused it to crash into the National Limited Hydroplane Championships on Guntersville Lake.

2 Home Runs Pace Pirates To 4-3 Win

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) - Roberto Clemente's two-run homer and a bases-empty blast by Maury Wills helped veteran right-hander Vern Law record his first victory of the season Sunday as the Pittsburgh Pirates edged San Francisco 4-3, snapping a three-game losing string.

Clemente's 15th homer, following a one-out single by Gene Alley in the sixth inning, broke up a scoreless pitching duel between left-hander Ray Sadecki and Law, a former Cy Young Award winner who had lost his first six decisions this year.

Law blanked the Giants on four hits until the ninth, when he was lifted after yielding singles by Willie Mays and Willie McCovey and a run-scoring double by Jim Hart.

Juan Pizarro came on and struck out pinch hitter Dick Dietz, then was replaced by Elroy Face. Bob Eshinger tagged Pizarro for a two-run single but the Pirate relief act ended it by getting Jack Hlatk to bounce out.

Pittsburgh 000 020 0-4 0 0
San Francisco 000 003-3 10 0
Law, Pizarro (9), Face (9) and Sanquellin; Sadecki, McDaniel (8), Herbel (9) and Haller. W-Law, 1-6. L - Sadecki, 3-3.

Home runs - Pittsburgh, Clemente (15), Wills (3).

U.S. Swim Team Batters World Records In Games

WINNIPEG, Canada (AP) - A fantastic Yankee swimming team battered three listed world records and a Canadian smashed a fourth Sunday night as the United States continued its domination of the fifth Pan-American Games.

United States athletes won five of six finals in swimming and took six of seven gold medals awarded in the day's track and field competition to fill the U.S. bag with 65 gold medals so far.

World records were set in swimming by Claudia Kolb of Santa Clara, Calif., in the women's 200-meter individual medley; Greg Charlton, Arcadia, Calif., in the men's 400-meter freestyle and the U.S. women's 400-meter medley relay team.

Elaine Tanner of Canada set a world 100-meter backstroke record with her left-hand leg of that relay with a time of 1:07.1. The U.S. team won easily with a time of 4:30, almost four full seconds faster than the record set by the 1954 U.S. Olympic team in Tokyo.

Lee Evans of San Jose State matched the listed world record in the 400-meter run but it was slightly slower than a pending world mark.

Charlton had the same trouble with his record-breaking time of 4:10.2 in the 400-meter freestyle swim. His time bettered the listed world record but a pending record of 4:08.8 by Mark Spitz of Santa Clara, Calif., was broken a full second off his listed record and bettered a pending record with a time of 2:26.1 in women's 200-meter medley. The only event the American swimmers didn't win was the men's 100-meter breaststroke which Jose Filolo of Brazil won with a time of 1:17.5.

American took other gold medals in women's platform diving, weightlifting and skeet shooting. Erica Bricker, a 17-year-old high school girl from Visalia, Calif., became the fourth girl in history to swim 100 meters freestyle in less than a minute.

A rhabud developed in the 20-000-meter walk after a tiff with a seller of Don Laird of 3000, Calif., the wrong way as he approached the stadium. Mexico made a formal protest but it was not allowed and Laird was allowed to keep his gold medal.

A LOT DEPENDS ON A RIGHT FINESSE
 Oswald: "If there were a heaven for bridge players, it would be a place where finesses always worked."
 Jim: "What about defenders? Wouldn't they be unhappy?"
 Oswald: "Maybe they should be imported from the other place to watch every contract made against them."
 Jim: "In this mundane sphere it seems that finesses work about half the time. Therefore, when you have a choice between trick with his jack of spades, it would really have been silly for Oswald to go for clubs. He could see that there was no way for him to lose his three no-trump contract if he went after the heart suit. He started with a spade trick and had three top tricks in diamonds and two in clubs. That made a total of six, so three hearts would be enough for his contract. He entered dummy with the king of diamonds, led the nine of hearts and let it ride."

 Oswald: "It doesn't really matter with today's hand but the nine was the right trick to lead the first time. This gave him a chance to play the five from his own hand and retain the maximum communication whether or not the finesse won."
 Jim: "West took his king of hearts and laid down his ace of spades. He lost a trick by this play but he would have looked mighty silly if he had not. South had bid his no-trump with the doubleton king-jack of spades."

Oswald: "West's five of spades opening is the sort of lead he is likely to be very effective against. No-trump game contract. It would have been this time if South took the wrong finesse."

Price Too High For This Romance

Dear Walt: I am a 15-year-old boy and I have been seeing a girl who is almost 22. I've been seeing her for almost three months now. I go to her apartment after school and sometimes she fixes dinner for me. I really like her a lot and she has told me that she loves me. But my friends tell me that I should stop seeing her and some of them are starting to spread rumors about her. Should I stop seeing her? How can I tell her that I won't be able to be with her any longer? My parents don't know about this girl. Should I tell them about her?

Dear Youth: This girl may be a wonderful person, but there's no getting around the fact that the relationship is costly to both of you. She's (1) losing her reputation; (2) risking legal charges for "contributing to the delinquency of a minor," and (3) isolating herself from most of her own age during her marriageable years.

Your becoming (1) separated from friends; (2) estranged from family (you can't hide secret without losing closeness); and (3) shortchanged on the carefree days of youth by this relationship.

Talk together about the future. Talk honestly. What's ahead? What she wants until you finish high school and college is the chance that you'll want to marry her when you're a man? Would you want to approach middle age unweaved on the chance that your relationship will survive? Or is it wisest to be grateful for the pleasure you have shared and cut things while the memories are happy? If you need help to sort your emotions out, you did. If you give him a chance, might be a real help. —Walt.

HER GROUP DOESN'T MINGLE
 Dear Ele: I'm in a Y-teen club ("girls ages 14-15) and it seems we are getting a reputation of being "stuck-up!" When our club and a boys club get together for a picnic or a dance, many of the girls gather in a bunch and ignore the boys. The boys think the girls are conceited, but they're just shy and self-conscious. The other girls who are the outgoing type try to get all the girls to socialize with the boys, but it's a lot of Y-teen clubs held a picnic, and all the clubs mingled except ours!

What can we do to break our reputation and get all the girls to be more outgoing??? —Mama Beatrix.

Dear President: The next time there's an inter-club event, try to volunteer for food preparation. With the boys, but a lot of time to freeze in the corner. Use the same pattern for functions with boys' clubs. Integrate your decoration committee, your food committee, etc., and the girls will find conversation easier. If you think it wise, a private Y-teen club, just see time might subtly tell the guys know your girls are shy, not stuck-a-girl is free to leave home up! —Ele.

GIRL WOULD LEAVE HOME
 Ele and Walt: When I finish high school (one year more), I plan to start working. After I get some money saved, I want to move to a nice room with my girlfriend. My parents are against this. Can you please tell me when your girls are shy, not stuck-a-girl is free to leave home up! —Ele.
