DETROIT (AP) — Profit sharing, a major item in the United Auto Workers union's contract demands, has run up against a wall of opposition. Ford-Motor Co. dusted off an old answer Monday to the UAW demand: "No."

Timy Island's Parliament Has Meeting

DOUGLAS, Isle of Man (AP) — The 1,000-year-old Parliament of this tiny holiday island in the Irish Sea met today to decide whether to go to the United Nations with charges of colonial oppression against the British government.

As citizens of "an independent sovereign country under the British crown," the Isle of Man's 50,000 residents are free to decide their own internal affairs, but Britain looks after their foreign affairs.

The British brought Manx resentment to a boil by insisting that Radio Carolina North, a favorite pirate radio station anchored off the island, must shut down by Aug. 15 in accordance with British legislation banning all radio pirates which beam commercial plugs and pop records into the United Kingdom.

Negroes Lag Behind In Job Chances

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two federal commissions say Negroes continue to lag far behind whites in job and education opportunities. And the staff director for one says recent Negro riots could be one outgrowth.

In reporting failure of most Southern and border states to desegregate their public schools—13 years after the Supreme Court ruled segregation unconstitutional—the U. S. Commission on Civil Rights called Monday for laws to push adherence to the high court ruling.

That recommendation coincided with issuance of a separate Equal Employment Opportunity Commission report showing Negroes and Spanish-Americans have failed to obtain job parity with whites.

There's a time-honored saying that "old soldiers never die; they just fade away," which could also be effectively applied to railroad men.

However, after more than 45 years of service with the Union Pacific Railroad, Melvin F. Cutler, 818 3rd St. E., has no intention of "fading away," although he officially went into retirement this week.

"I want to do more fishing, traveling, and hunting and keep interested and as active as I can in community and civic affairs," Mr. Cutler said.

His job responsibilities with Union Pacific were to inspect, repair and keep cars and commodities on the rails—to "keep them rolling," as he put it.

Mr. Cutler was born Oct. 1, 1898, at McCammon and attended schools in Inkom and Pocatello. In 1917 he went to work in the car department of Union Pacific at Pocatello. From 1918 until 1922, he farmed at Inkom, and then returned to the Pocatello car department and worked there as a car man and car inspector until 1936, when he was transferred to Twin Falls to fill a newly created position of district traveling car and commodity inspector. He has held that position for 31 years and four months, until his retirement.

From 1934-36, Mr. Cutler served as the first president of the Brotherhood of Railway Car Men, Lodge No. 94, at Pocatello, and for one year he was president of the Union Pacific Old Timers' Club, Twin Falls.

Along with railroad work, Mr. Cutler has been interested in the Boy Scout program, and is a 30-year Scouting veteran who has served in both district and council divisions.

In 1943, he was elected a member of the Council executive board of the Snake River Area Council, and in 1952, was elected a national representative, and traveled throughout the United States in this position. He is the holder of the Silver Beaver Award, Scouters' Award, is a Brotherhood Member of the Elks Club, and a member of the International Wood Badge Group.

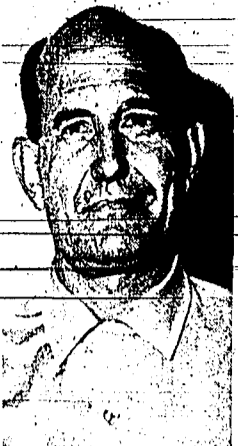

He has attended many scout encampments in the area, and in 1960, he attended the National Scout Jamboree in Colorado Springs, Colo.

After holding all offices in the R. B. Perrine Toastmasters' Club, Mr. Cutler served as president for one year.

For 17 years he served as a high councilman in Twin Falls LDS Third Ward, in charge of MIA and Scouting. From 1960-66, he served as bishop of that ward. He also earned his Master M-Man Award in the church. In 1917, he married Carolyn French, and they have two the troops had arrived sooner. The administration position is that Romney consumed a lot of time trying to make up his mind.

Romney, Johnson Tussle Along

One of his favorite themes is that the state should exhibit more self-reliance and less dependence on the federal government.

The citizen Hochman looks down the nose at Alger for suggesting that "the pinnacle of human accomplishment" was money and material success.

Moreover, as the review acknowledges, Alger also often took a dim view of the very rich, especially rich boys.

However, I accept the reviewer's premise that the Alger formula is old-fashioned. Boys today learn quickly that they can get ahead faster by employing gim micky r.

WASHINGTON — The worst thing the United States could have done was to introduce television to South Vietnam.

is urge them to have elections in 1968 and hope they put in people who sincerely care about the country.

Meddling Uncle

Russia finally learned the hard way that the United States has long known—that one likes a meddling rich uncle only when he writes his last will and testament.

As far as Castro is concerned the Russians are still cramping his revolutionary style. In this, incidentally, he agrees entirely with Red China's Mao Tse-tung.

Consider Moscow's problems with Nasser's Egypt and Fidel Castro's Cuba. With North Vietnam, these are Russia's most costly clients.

The Russians in the 50 years of the existence of their Communist dictatorship, never let revolutionary ideology interfere with the national interests of the Soviet state.

Even by conservative estimates the Kremlin spent some $3 billion to arm and feed Egypt.

Last March the Cuban dictator, in an undisguised attack on Russia, condemned those who trade with "oligarchic" regimes in Latin America.

Considerable evidence now indicates that Egypt's dictator ignored Moscow's counsel when he sparked the Middle Eastern conflict by blockading the Gulf of Aqaba.

Like Red China, the Red Cuban leader in effect told the Red Russians that they were fake Marxist-Leninists.

Russia's trouble with Castro's Cuba is more proof that "wars of national liberation" and proletarian internationalism are an extremely expensive and frustrating business.

Did Kosygin change Castro's mind during his sojourn in Cuba?

Yet when Premier Kosygin went to Cuba after his Glassboro meeting with President Johnson he was treated to a very frigid reception.

Judging by Castro's unbridled attacks on the pro-Russian Communist party of Venezuela and the stepped-up guerrilla warfare in Bolivia and other Latin-American countries, the Soviet premier's counsel of caution and moderation fell on deaf ears.

Only after Kosygin agreed to increase Russian economic aid to Cuba and not to meddle in Castro's revolutionary affairs did Havana's bearded dictator call out school children to wave little Soviet flags for the departing premier.

The U.S. taxpayer long has been accustomed to that fact of life.

However, Castro is not easily appeased. He still refuses to stop biting the Soviet hand that feeds him.

Just Complaints

Everybody complains about high taxes, but nobody does anything about them except just that — complain.

If the people were as concerned about rising costs as they profess to be they would be marching on state capitals and demanding change.

People continue to put up with inefficiency and waste in government, even when the power is in their own hands to correct it.

It may be that one day the people will awaken to the fact that their government on all levels is costing them a great deal more than is necessary.

Ode To The Pavement

They took a little gravel and took a little tar, with various ingredients imported from afar. They hammered it and rolled it and when they went away they said they had a pavement that would last for many a day.

that more and more area residents are starting to actually read the "tv hilities" as a result of these "reviews."

Dear Spectator: I have come to the conclusion that a lot of people who rap the people who sweat blood while trying to fill television "columns" in the newspapers don't know what they're talking about.

All of which prompts a bit of controversy and hence increased readership. The increase is admittedly on a small scale, but it exists nonetheless.

Mr. Spectator says: If you consider you're having a rough time keeping up with the Joneses, think how much worse off the Joneses are.

Those Public Brickbats

WASHINGTON (NEA)—If four summers of riots reflect in part a major failure of leadership in this country, it may also be said that Americans in the postwar years have developed a large capacity for chopping up their potential heroes.

ated catalogue of their flaws, one has to wonder how any of the candidates for the 1968 Republican presidential nomination can possibly be nominated.

atically about the truly massive programs needed to wipe out the ghettos than do any of those "leaders" who are supposed to know "what the ghetto is thinking."

Some have even dared to elevate antiheroes in their stead. The radical right never has been content to fight its battles on issues alone.

After Detroit's week of fire and death, Mayor Jerome Cavanaugh, so recently honored as one of the ablest of mayors and a man with a large political future, appears today to face a very shaky tomorrow.

Some of these latter types can only be labeled genuine antiheroes. The worst, of course, are Stokely Carmichael and Rap Brown, professional agitators who are in fact counselors of self-defeat and self-destruction for the Negroes they pretend to espouse.

apply cold compresses for 15 to 20 minutes two or three times a day—for the first two days, then hot compresses for three or four days.

A—Blepharospasm is a persistent spasm causing firm closure of the eyelids. It may be caused by abnormal sensitivity to light, inflammatory diseases of the cornea or an emotional strain.

Q—I am a woman, 61. My eyes have ceased to produce tears. My doctor says there is no cure and that I must use eye drops the rest of my life.

A—Dryness of the eyes may be caused by trachoma, diphtheria, burns and drooping of the lower lids or any other condition that prevents complete closure of the lids.

"The dean's office has been repeatedly pressed by members of the freshman class for a statement of the college's administrative position with respect to the use of drugs including marijuana and LSD. If it will help anyone, I am pleased to clarify our position.

"As anyone bright enough to be at Harvard knows perfectly well, possession of, or distribution of marijuana and LSD are strictly against the law and taking the drugs involves users in psychological dangers and contacts with the criminal underworld.

"The college is prepared to take serious disciplinary action, up to and including dismissal, against any student found to be involved in the use or distribution of illegal and dangerous drugs.

"In sum, if a student is stupid enough to misuse his time here fooling around with illegal and dangerous drugs, our view is that he should leave college and make room for people prepared to take good advantage of a college opportunity.

McCALL (AP) — Crews were being reduced Tuesday after a forest fire which burned an estimated 100 acres of timberland was brought under control.

Payette National Forest officials said cool temperatures during the night helped firefighters retain a firm control on the blaze, which had burned since Saturday in the Corduroy Creek area about 25 miles north of McCall.

About 200 men, using five bulldozers and aerial support, managed to complete control lines around the blaze late Monday.

The complaint alleges Trowbridges' car crossed the center divider on U.S. 99 in Madera County, Calif., and struck a car driven by Fisher.

Potential Budget Deficit Will Be Argument For Taxes

By JOSEPH R. COYNE
WASHINGTON (AP) — Government witnesses are expected to use the potential size of the budget deficit—up to $29 billion—as their main argument in urging congressional approval of higher income taxes.

This blueprint emerged today as Treasury and budget experts drafted testimony for next Monday's opening hearing by the House Ways and Means Committee on President Johnson's plan for a 10 per cent surcharge on individual and corporate taxes.

Henry H. Fowler, secretary of the Treasury, is the first scheduled witness.

Other arguments — higher Vietnam war costs, the danger of inflation and high interest rates—also are expected to be cited in administration testimony.

But the top argument will center on the potential deficit, sources said.

One top official said he expects a round of speeches and fireworks against the President's plan but once these are over Congress will have no reasonable choice except to raise taxes.

He said it's impossible to cut spending enough to make a tax increase unnecessary, as some Republicans are contending.

In proposing a 10 per cent surcharge, Johnson fixed the size of the deficit for the current fiscal year at between $14 and $18 billion depending on the size of spending cuts.

This figure, however, includes the $6.3 billion in revenue expected from the surcharge proposed for individual income taxes beginning Oct. 1 and for corporation taxes retroactive to July 1.

Other contingencies could raise the potential deficit as high as $29 billion, Johnson said.

T.F. Graduate Is Directing Research Unit

Dr. George E. Jakway, son of Mrs. Dale Jakway, 282 Blue Lakes Blvd. S., assistant professor of paleontology at California State College, Los Angeles, who recently visited Twin Falls, is leading a group of research personnel of the Los Angeles County Museum.

They are working in the sand beds and gravel deposits of the Ringold Formation at White Bluffs, near Pasco, Wash. He is directing research at the site in cooperation with Battelle-Northwest, Wash.

So far, the group has found fossils of at least 12 animals that lived at the prehistoric lake-shore in the Pasco Basin. Some of the fossils include remains of camels, wild pigs, bear, beaver, elk, lion-sized cats, dogs, and a giant marmot, which is considered to be a major discovery, since it is the northernmost discovery of marmot fossils, according to Dr. Jakway.

He is a former Twin Falls resident who attended Twin Falls schools and graduated from Twin Falls High School in 1949.

He received his bachelor's degree in 1953 from Idaho State University, Pocatello, and spent two years in the U. S. Navy. He received his M. A. degree from the University of Kansas, Lawrence, Kan., and his Ph. D. from the University of Nebraska, Lincoln. He has taught at California State College for the past six years.

GETTING THE BID AT THE RIGHT PRICE

There is an easy way for South to get to three no-trump with today's hand. He just opens with one no-trump and his partner raises him. South has the points for a no-trump opening two diamonds, South can still bid two no-trump and hope for a diamond lead or for something in spades in the North hand with two hearts in his correct bid.

West's three-diamond bid keeps pressure on North. His two-club bid was a good one and he feels justified in bidding again and certainly can afford to bid four clubs but North had first-time and North knows that nine tricks are enough for game at no-trump while 11 are needed in clubs.

North can have his cake and eat it, too, if he uses a delayed cue bid, so North bids three spades.

This bid can't be interpreted as a slam try. North only bid two clubs at his first chance to act. It must tell South that North is willing to play at four clubs but if South can stop diamonds, North thinks that three no-trump is the right place to play the hand.

South is delighted to bid three no-trump and has no trouble collecting his nine tricks.

CARD SENSE

Q—The bidding has been: West North East South 1♣ 1♦ 1♠ 1♥ Dble ? You, South, hold: ♠K9♥AJ5♦432♣K1076 What do you do?
A—Redouble. This tells partner that you hold the balance of power.

TODAY'S QUESTION

West bids one spade. North and East pass. What do you do now?

Answer Next Issue

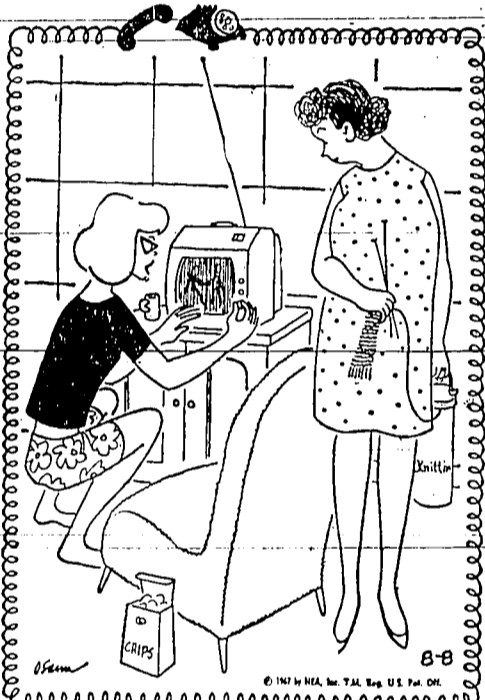

NORTH				WEST				EAST				SOUTH (D)
♠K72	♥964	♦76	♣AJ854	♠AJ10853	♥94	♦K5	♣J54	♠93	♠AJ10853	♥94	♦QJ82	♣K109832	♠10	♠Q8	♥A973	♦AQ	♣KQ782
Both vulnerable				West				North				East
				1♠				2♣				3♦
				Pass				Pass				Pass
				Pass				Pass				Pass
				Opening bid—♦4

but it is usually poor tactics to open one no-trump with a 5-4-2-2 distribution.

North can get there just about as easily after the club opening and the spade overall if he bids one no-trump but North will have a lot of worries against a spade opening. With North as declarer spades are only stopped once. A spade lead up to South as declarer produces two spade stoppers.

In any event North's raise to two clubs is superior to a one no-trump call. After East bids

Do You Rate Dates As Points Or People

For many of us, dating is a large rating game. We don't look for compatible partners, we search for points to boost our score. "If I date our Gretchen, all my friends will be impressed!" "Sam's so smooth, he dresses so well, everyone likes him, why not accept that invitation?"

Somehow, things have gotten off the rails. Instead of the primary question ("How do I feel about this person?"), a mass of secondary considerations dictate our choices. Success, status, possessions, social acceptance, public opinion crowd the person himself out of our minds.

Dating as a rating game is nothing more than plain and simple EGO MASSAGE. Meet Wally: "I've dated dozens of girls, but until last summer, I'd never known one of them. Sure, I could list their interests, I knew what they wanted to be (or at least what they claimed to aim at), and all that stuff but it was just IBM data I'd punched out. I wasn't really interested in the girls themselves. I knew how to entertain them but I had no idea what it meant to be human with them."

SHE GETS BELOW SURFACE Carla changed things for Wally. "I almost didn't date her," she recalled. "She had such a line, he was so busy being fascinating, that I knew I was just a fancy mirror, he could see himself reflected in. I decided if I couldn't get him off the 'Carla's with 30 points' klick in one month, that was the end!"

Wally again: "We'd gone out maybe four times and I was getting restless. It always happened to me because I was so superficial in everything. Then one evening Carla gave me the word."

"It took nerve," continued the pretty dark-haired girl, "but I wasn't going to be a robot anymore. So I told him, 'Wally, when you look at me, you see a girl your friends whistle at, the president of the French Club, who lives in a nice home, has a car of her own, a good reputation, and could invite you to Junior Yacht Club dances. What you don't see is a girl who feels lonesome sometimes and has uncertainties and temptations. You're a good guy but that's not enough, I want someone as a date who'll be a real person to me, and allow me the same privilege.' Then I told him, 'Either cut the act and look at me, really look at me, or let's call this our last date.'

"I was mad at first," Wally admitted. "I thought, 'Who is she to issue orders?' But underneath it all I was scared. She'd called me phony and that hit close to home. I'd worried about that myself plenty of times before."

HE QUIT, BUT RETURNED Carla's ultimatum caused a break in their dating. Wally was uncomfortable, professed to not understand what she was talking about and took her home. Two months passed.

"I dated several other girls, but I couldn't shake what Carla said," Wally continued. "I realized for the first time how I had dehumanized girls. After school started, I called Carla."

"He was like another guy," Carla said. "He sounded like a little boy asking for his first date, not the Big Operator anymore. But I respected him for his honesty. He said, 'Carla, I want to go someplace and talk. I don't care how you dress, or who does or doesn't see us together or whether you ask me to the Yacht Club Dance. I just want to try to get to know something about you, and have you know me. This scares her, it's all new to me, but I want to try.' So I said, 'yes' and here we are."

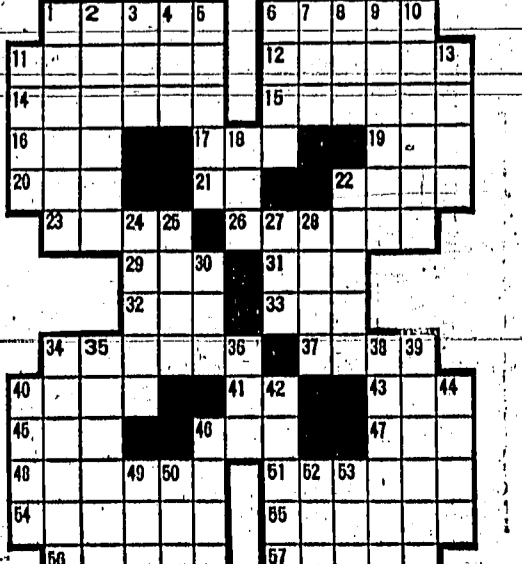

"Here" for Carla and Wally is a warm relationship laced with romance. There's a little "someday we might get married" talk but it consumes little of their time. "There's too much to share and try to understand about each other," Wally said. "Looking back at what I had when I was trying to get 'Wonderful me' points from my dates—and this, well, it's a world better now."

How about you Charlie? What's the real motivation of your dating? And don't dodge, Linda. Are you dating a person or a step ladder to boost your social status?

THE LIVERPOOL FIVE, an internationally known rock and roll group, will be at the Filer Fairgrounds Thursday night, sponsored by the Uniforms for '68, a group of Kimberly residents sponsoring a fund-raising campaign to purchase high school band uniforms. Dancing will start at 9:30 p.m. and continue until 12:30 a.m., according to those in charge of arrangements.

Rock, Roll Group To Make One Night Stand At Filer

There will be a lot of activity down at the Filer Fairgrounds Thursday night and hundreds of followers of the rock and roll advocates are expected to turn out to see, listen and dance to the music of The Liverpool Five. The internationally famous group—signed as RCA recording artists—will make a one night stand at Filer. They are sponsored by a group of Kimberly parents who have banded together to raise funds for purchase of new uniforms for the Kimberly High School band. The parents call themselves the Uniforms '68 Group.

In addition to producing unique music, the Liverpool Five have another habit that is also unique. Where some other groups offer their recordings for sale during such a dance session, these young men throw records to the crowd several times during the evening.

Those in charge say that all proceeds realized from this dance will go into the uniform fund. Finance committee members are Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Fisher, Mr. and Mrs. L. Joe Goss, Mr. and Mrs. Holland L. Houfburg and Mr. and Mrs. Donald R. Whitehead.

Advance tickets are available from all Kimberly band members and they will also be available at the door at $2 per person.

Buhl Slates Crazy Duds Parade Soon

BUHL—The Crazy Duds Kids Parade will be held Aug. 12, according to Jim Smallwood, general chairman of the event.

The parade, which foretells the return to school by West End youngsters, is sponsored by the merchants committee of the Buhl Chamber of Commerce. Morris Sattagast, merchants committee chairman, is assisting with the arrangements.

A grand total of $150 in cash prizes will be awarded for the best and craziest costumes in the parade. Entry in the parade is limited to boys and girls under 12 years of age.

The parade and prizes will be divided into two categories, one the story book and TV character division and the other the Crazy Duds division. First place in each category will be worth a $10 cash prize, second place in each category will be worth a $5 cash prize and third place in each category will be worth $2.50. There will be 115 other cash awards for best entries in the parade.

The parade will start in the 100 block on 14th Ave. N., with everyone to be in line ready for judging at 9:30 a.m. At 10 a.m. the parade will move onto Main street and pass through the business district to the post office bloc where the cash awards will be made.

BPW Names Woman Of Achievement

BUHL—The major highlight of the Buhl Business and Professional Women's recent meeting was the selection of the "Woman of Achievement." The selection is made during BPW week and this year Mrs. Louise Konecny was the recipient of the award.

A "Girl of the Month" program also is observed. With the assistance of faculty members from the high school, nine outstanding students are selected on the basis of leadership, scholastic and business ability. The girls were honored at a meeting held at the home of Mary Tomlinson; each of the girls were presented BPW charms.

Lillian Bagley and Mary Tomlinson made a flag depicting the "Jolly Green Giant" and it was entered at the state convention held in Idaho Falls.

Mary Tomlinson was presented the Gold Card for obtaining new members through the year.

Lillian Bagley represented the club in the best cook contest. Meetings are held the first and third Tuesdays of each month and membership is open to any business or professional woman actively engaged in her profession.

Special speakers during the year included State Representative Bill Roberts, Mrs. John Unzicker, Idaho Mother of the Year; Ed Novacek, president of the Buhl Chamber of Commerce; Prosecuting Attorney Mike Felton; Pat Hamilton, president of Farmers National Bank, and Merle Stoddard of the Easter Seal Society.

Projects during the year have included a cooked-food sale in August, and selling tickets for a swag grape cluster lamp made by Bonnie Johnson.

During the summer, the group meets for a picnic in place of the regular meeting. The installation banquet for the new officers was held at the Rogerson Hotel. Mrs. Al Iverson showed slides of their trip to Japan and China. Officers for this year are Mrs. Dee Marlow, president; Mary Tomlinson, vice president; Mrs. Nina Conrad, secretary, and Mrs. Peggy McArthur, treasurer.

Arrive In Kenya

NAIROBI, Kenya (AP)—Singers Bing Crosby and Phil Harris have arrived for what Crosby called two weeks of "Kenya's lazy crazy days of summer."

They landed at Nairobi Monday. Crosby said he plans to shoot sand grouse and guinea fowl as part of the American Broadcasting Co. television series on American Sportsmen.

IEA Speaker Explains Proclamation

BOISE (AP)—Idaho Education Association spokesmen explained Monday just what their "sanction alert" proclamation issued Saturday meant.

In a resolution, the IEA committee ruled Monday that offering or accepting a teaching position in Idaho during the coming school year would "not be considered unprofessional or unethical conduct."

The "sanction alert" announced Saturday would merely be a warning to Idaho education and political powers that something would have to be done to improve spending and development of Idaho public schools.

"A stronger sanction will be applied if there is no indication of satisfactory improvement of conditions for the 1968-69 school year," the committee's resolution said.

"Stronger" measures, apparently would mean recommendations that teachers across the country not accept Idaho teaching positions.

Activities In Forest Areas Continuing

KETCHUM—Summer activities for visitors in the Sawtooth National Forest areas will continue at full speed until Sept. 15, Forest Service officials announced Tuesday.

The scope of free entertainment ranges from guided tours through the various areas to slide program and motion pictures of the forest sites.

Kickoff point for many of these activities is the Redfish Lake Visitor center at the entrance to the area. The center is open from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. Sunday, Monday and Tuesday and from 9 a.m. to 8 p.m. throughout the rest of the week. Featured are exhibits, information, tours, trails and other programs.

A special twice-weekly feature of the area is the bear trap nature walk, offering an exploration of an old bear trap constructed by a trapper in the pioneer days. Participants are instructed in the geology of the Sawtooth Range and interesting features along the tour route are identified.

The nature walk leaves the Visitor Center at 2 p.m. Thursday and Saturday.

The Chinook Salmon auto tour, which takes off from the Visitor Center at 2 p.m. Wednesday and Friday, is another attraction offered by the Forest Service during the summer.

The tour members travel four miles by car from the Visitor Center to the Salmon River. Here a forest naturalist explains and discusses the life cycle of the Chinook Salmon and the 800-mile journey taken by these fish from the Pacific Ocean to the headwaters of the Salmon River.

Evening programs feature motion picture showing and slide exhibits of the Sawtooth area. The films are shown at the Redfish Lake Amphitheater at 8:15 p.m. Thursday and Saturday and at the Alturas Lake Resort at 9:15 p.m. Wednesday and Friday.

The areas remain open longer than Sept. 15, Forest Service officials pointed out, but Visitor Information Centers close at that date and supervised summer activities are discontinued.

A Column for Sports Fans

By Bob Reese

A newspaperman first got the idea for the annual College All-Stars football game, pitting the best college stars against the professional champions in an August kickoff for the coming pigskin season.

That first All-Star game was back in 1934. Ever since some 80,000 fans or more jam Soldier Field in Chicago for this gridiron classic.

Arch Ward, who started it all for the Chicago Tribune Charities, claimed that the greatest moment in the series was the young little 5' 8" Eddie LeBaron, an unknown quarterback from College of the Pacific, suckered the powerful Philadelphia Eagles with a long bomb to Charley "Choo Choo" Justice, then led the All-Stars to a 17-7 victory.

Others remember 1958, when King Hill of Rice brought the All-Stars out on top over the roaring Detroit Lions, 35-19, or the great day Mike Ditka of the Bears had in 1964, when it always took four men to bring the big Bear end down as he powered his team to a 28-17 win.

It's always a great game, and a promise of thrill, to come for the new season . . . which reminds us of the thrill you have in store when you get behind the wheel of a new Dodge or Chrysler from our showroom. We're out to make the deal we can give you just as exciting as this great car!
