

U.S. Crime Rate Rose 11 Per Cent In '66

(Editor's Note: See related Editorial on Page Four of this issue of the Times-News.)

WASHINGTON — The FBI Thursday made available figures from its annual publication Uniform Crime Reports - 1966 which, according to Attorney General Ramsey Clark, disclosed there were more than three and one-quarter million serious crimes in the United States in 1966, an increase of 11 per cent over 1965.

FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover said that in 1966 all crimes used in the index to measure nationwide crime trends recorded increases with the violent crimes as a group up 11 per cent led by murder up 11 per cent, forcible rape 10 per cent, robbery 14 per cent, and aggravated assault 9 per cent. Each of the property crimes recorded an increase and as a group rose 11 per cent. Burglary was up 10 per cent while larceny $50 and over in value and auto theft each recorded a 13 per cent upward trend.

According to the FBI Director, since 1960 the total volume of serious crimes reported in the United States has risen 62 per cent with the violent crimes showing a 49 per cent rise and the property crimes a 64 per cent increase.

The suburban areas continued to show the sharpest upswing in volume with a 13 per cent rise in 1966 over 1965. Large core cities over 250,000 population were close behind with a 10 per cent increase and serious crime in the rural areas also rose 10 per cent.

Crime increases were recorded in each crime category in each geographic region with the volume up 15 per cent in the Southern States and 12 per cent in the North Central States. The Western and Northeastern States recorded increases of 10 per cent and eight per cent, respectively.

In 1966, the crime rate rose 10 per cent. Since 1960, the risk of being a victim of serious crime has risen 46 per cent. Crime rates represent a victim risk rate since rates are more indicative of victim involvement than the number of criminals. With the volume of crime up 62 per cent since 1960 and a 9 per cent increase in our national population, crime continues to outstrip population growth by almost 7 to 1. Mr. Hoover noted that during 1966 there were more than 6,500 murders and 43,500 aggravated assaults by gun; and over 89,000 robberies where a weapon of some kind was used. In discussing crime costs, the FBI Director said the value of goods lost in robberies, burglaries, larcenies and auto thefts exceeded $600 million.

He reiterated that while these costs represented a staggering loss to the American public, they do not include the inestimable additional costs to victims and their families which resulted from personal injury, loss of human life and property damage.

Nationally, in 1966 there were 36 arrests for all criminal offenses, except traffic, for each 1,000 persons in the United States. During this year there was a seven per cent rise over 1965 in juvenile arrests while adult arrests decreased slightly. This decline in adult arrests was primarily the result of fewer police arrests for gambling, drunkenness, disorderly conduct and vagrancy.

In reviewing long-term arrest trends for serious crimes, the FBI Director noted adult arrests have risen 23 per cent since 1960. Among the serious crimes contributing to this upward trend were a 47 per cent jump in adult arrests for aggravated assault, 38 per cent for auto theft, 25 per cent for larceny-theft, 24 per cent for murder and 19 per cent for forcible rape. Arrests of persons under 18 years of age for serious crimes increased 54 per cent during the seven-year period. There was a 116 per cent rise in arrests of this age group for aggravated assault, 66 per cent for larceny-theft, 55 per cent for robbery, 48 per cent for auto theft and 45 per cent for murder. In this respect, it is noted the young age group population, 10-17 years, rose 19 per cent in the seven-year period 1960-1966.

Arrests of persons under 18 years of age made up 23 per cent of the total police arrests nationwide in 1966. In the suburban communities this young age group was represented in 33 per cent of all arrests and in the rural areas 20 per cent. While arrests disclose a high percentage of juvenile involvement in crime, a relatively small percentage of the total young population became involved in criminal acts—about 5 out of 100.

During the last calendar year, law enforcement agencies successfully solved on the average 24 per cent of the serious crimes which came to their attention. The percentage of these index crimes cleared by law enforcement agencies in 1966 was a substantial eight per cent below 1965. In fact, this percentage decrease in solution is equal to the eight per cent drop experienced for the entire period 1961 through 1966.

The decrease was noted in every Crime Index offense with robbery solutions showing the sharpest decline, down 14 per cent from 1965. Police were able to clear by arrest 89 per cent of the murders, 82 per cent of the forcible rapes, 72 per cent of the aggravated assaults, and 32 per cent of the robberies.

In crimes against property, where the victim is generally not confronted by the offender, solutions are usually lower. On the average, police nationally solved 22 per cent of the burglaries, 19 per cent of the larceny-thefts, and 23 per cent of the auto thefts. The FBI Director noted that the rising crime rate, the increasing demands for police service, both criminal and noncriminal, restrictions on police investigative and enforcement practices, and increasing criminal mobility are contributing factors to the reduced clearance rates.

Another means of measuring involvement of young persons in crime is through the solution of crime. In 1966, 33 per cent of all Crime Index offenses cleared by arrest were solved by arrests of persons under 18 years of age, a 10 per cent increase over 1965. In considering these figures it must be remembered that the 10-17 year old age group now makes up approximately 15 per cent of the total United States population.

The FBI Director noted that the Careers in Crime study is beginning to provide some informative statistics on the performance of the criminal justice system. A follow-up on almost 18,000 offenders who were released by the Federal criminal justice system in 1963 revealed that 55 per cent of these offenders were rearrested for new crimes within two and one-half years. Specifically, 47 per cent of the offenders who were convicted and released on probation in 1963 were rearrested for new offenses within two and one-half years.

For those released on parole 57 per cent were rearrested while 67 per cent of the prisoners released in 1963 after earning good time were rearrested for new offenses within the two and one-half years. A significant statistic was the fact that 83 per cent of those persons acquitted or who had their cases dismissed in 1963 were rearrested for new crimes within 30 months.

Mr. Hoover said that 57 law enforcement officers were murdered by criminals in 1966 and since 1960 the number of these tragic deaths has risen to 335. Firearms continue to be the instruments of death in virtually all police murders. In 1966, 55 of the 57 law enforcement victims, died from gunshot wounds. Since 1960, firearms have been used as the murder weapon in 96 per cent of the police killings. In this group where firearms were used, 77 per cent of the murders were committed with handguns.

The increasing tendency toward public disregard for law and order is pinpointed by the fact that over 12 of every 100 officers were the victims of attacks in 1966. The highest assault rate occurred in the East South Central States with over 19 assaults for every 100 officers. Of all officers assaulted in 1966, over one-third suffered physical harm. This included some who will be incapacitated for life as a result of the injuries sustained.

Sweet-Talking Italians Get Cold Shoulder On Beaches

MILAN, Italy (AP) — Italy's beaches, abounding in girl tourists from abroad, have long been happy hunting grounds for this country's young "Latin lovers."

But more and more during this hot summer, the sweet-talking Italians appear to be getting the cold shoulder.

"It will be a national catastrophe if the situation doesn't change," wrote Milan's respected Corriere Della Sera about the results of a random survey on the tourist-packed Adriatic shoreline.

"German, French and English girls vacationing on the shores of Romagna are beginning to turn their backs on the legendary fascination of the young Italians."

The Corriere poll came up with plenty of documentation. Here are some of the complaints the Italians made about the visiting damsels:

"They don't flirt at all."

"They don't believe us like they used to."

"If you get romantic they start laughing."

"If you offer them a boat ride, they drag along a girl friend."

"They sponge a pizza off you and then along comes Fritz to take them home."

The Germans, the Englishmen and the Frenchmen especially the Frenchmen seem to be carrying off most of the girls on the beaches this year, Corriere Della Sera said.

The paper blamed the phenomenon on changing times.

While the foreign girl once fell for the Italian's romantic invitation to a solitary cruise or a quiet dinner for two, they now apparently prefer parties, jam sessions and group boat rides.

"We talk about it often among friends," a 17-year-old German girl told Corriere's polltaker.

"We're all agreed that it's not worth letting yourself be courted by Italian boys at the shore because right away they begin to cling." Corriere discovered the Italian youngsters talking more favorably about Italian girls, whom they found more carefree than in the past.

N.Y. Teen-Agers Clear Slum Streets Of Garbage

By JOHN VINOCCUR
NEW YORK (AP)—Two blocks from where teen-agers recently chanted "Puerto Rican border, don't cross, flatfoot," fake roses are blooming in windowboxes—and kids are putting the broom to Spanish Harlem. Across town, behind the tenements that crowd toward the Hudson River, more teen-agers are tying bandanas around their mouths and digging into court yards filled with what they call "air mail express" garbage—the kind thrown from Harlem apartment windows. Both projects are meant to touch many bases: cleaning up slums, getting kids work, and bringing pride to apathetic neighborhoods. Far from every one is sure they will succeed. Adrian Rodriguez, a small man in a bow tie and green beret, came out of his butcher shop called La Novillera Carneria, and watched a boy putting a windowbox on a second floor ledge. It was almost around the corner that policemen fired volleys of shots and a man was killed in Puerto Rican rioting two weeks ago. "The flowers are a very nice idea," he said, "but flowers are for the outside of the building and it is the inside of the building which is bad. The people are scared to say anything. If they speak, the landlord raises the rent." Skepticism even affected an 8-year-old watching the Harlem clean-up. "People are too lazy to bring the garbage down from the top floor. They just throw it out the window," said Andre Pleasant. But the kids worked hard. They swept streets with big Sanitation Department brooms, shoveled out alleys that looked like narrow-gauge garbage dumps, and piled bed stands, beer cans and soggy cartons onto trucks. A Sanitation Department representative explained that when the youths went into the courtyards they were penetrating territory technically out of his men's jurisdiction. The landlords are responsible for the areas, but because the average fine for failure to remove the refuse is $2 and some 40 per cent of the summonses issued are ignored, he said, the yards tend to stay filthy. Hugh Marius, a deputy sanitation commissioner, looked in at both the East and West Harlem projects. "Some kids cleaned up a lot a week or so back," he said. "It stayed clean. They watched it and they told people not to dump garbage there. They said, 'Look, it was my sweat that cleaned it, so let it alone.' People have got to learn."

Bar Urges Congress To Pass 2 Bills

HONOLULU (AP)—The American Bar Association has urged Congress to pass two administration-backed bills aimed against discrimination in selection of federal and state juries. Endorsement of the measures after heated debate Wednesday in the ABA's House of Delegates marked the first time the 90-year-old bar organization had supported pending civil rights legislation. Both bills are in committee and hearings have been held only on the one that strikes at federal jury discrimination. This measure, a key section of the administration's 1967 civil rights package, would provide for the random selection of jurors in federal courts and prohibit discrimination on account of race, color, religion, sex, national origin or economic status. The second, already endorsed by leading federal judges, would prohibit discrimination on these grounds in jury selection in state courts. It would empower the U.S. attorney general to bring suit against discriminatory county or state jury selection. The federal measure was approved by voice vote, the second by a standing vote of 78 to 47. The House of Delegates overrode suggestions that the measures would lower the level of jury competence—and even put "rioters" and "hippies" on juries.

Vietnamese Candidates Ask Security

By BARRY KRAMER
SAIGON (AP)—Seven of South Vietnam's 10 civilian presidential candidates refused today to hit the hustings unless their military opponents assure them transportation and security. "We will not campaign until we have final word from the government to provide transportation and security," said Tran Van Hung, considered the leading civilian in the race. The civilian candidates previously postponed their campaigning following a mixup last Sunday in arrangements at the first stop of a 22-town tour. Arriving in Quang Tri Province 425 miles north of Saigon, they found no official party to meet them and returned to Saigon charging Chief of State Nguyen Van Thieu and Premier Nguyen Cao Ky were trying to sabotage their campaign. Thieu and Ky are the military candidates for president and vice president and are expected to win the election Sept. 3. The angry candidates wrote Thieu and Ky on Tuesday demanding assurance that there would be no further hitches if they resumed the tour. When no reply was received, six of the candidates and a representative of a seventh met today. After talking for three hours, they announced they would stop all public campaigning until the government replied to their letter.

Commerce Aide To Be Appointed

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—Howard J. Samuels of Canandaigua will be appointed by President Johnson as undersecretary of commerce. The Associated Press has learned. The 47-year-old millionaire businessman, who was the Democratic candidate for lieutenant governor last year, was not available immediately for comment. The White House declined Wednesday to discuss the report.

Hansen Views Benefit Changes

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. George Hansen, R-Idaho, invited his constituents Wednesday to tell him what they think of Social Security changes proposed by President Johnson's administration. Hansen said the changes call for higher benefits, and also increased payroll taxes. "Our Social Security system," he said, "should be of vital concern to everyone."

WITH A BANDANA over his mouth to lessen the stench of accumulated garbage, a teen-ager in New York's Spanish Harlem carries part of a discarded bed from a private alley. Youths are hired by the city to clean up areas that are technically off limits to Sanitation Department men. (AP wire-photo)

Water Skiers Meet Slated At Murtaugh

A meeting to discuss water skiing facilities and safety factors at Murtaugh Lake has been set by the Twin Falls Waterways Commission for 8:30 p.m. Tuesday at the Murtaugh Grange Hall, Fritz Bybee, Castleford, commission chairman, announced today. All water skiers who use Murtaugh Lake are urged to attend. Mr. Bybee said docks at the lake will have to be moved because of the moss and the commission is anxious to have the opinion of skiers as to the most effective location. Use of the docks along the shore by skiers will be curtailed or stopped because of safety factors, the chairman noted. Commission members feel that a definite safety hazard exists at the lake, Mr. Bybee said, and the commission is anxious to have suggestions from water skiers as to the best solution to the problem. Members of the Waterways Commission as well as county commissioners are expected to attend.

FOUND DEAD

CALDWELL (AP)—A young farm worker was dead on arrival at a Caldwell hospital Wednesday night from a bullet wound in his shoulder after he was reportedly found beside a county road west of Wilder. Canyon County Sheriff Dale Heile said the victim was Ricardo Pastello, about 21, but no other information was immediately available about him. Heile said investigation into the shooting death would continue.

Parachute System Tested By Soviets

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet Union is testing a new parachute system in an effort to eliminate the malfunction blamed for the death April 24 of cosmonaut Vladimir M. Komarov. Russian scientists launched two unmanned Sputniks—Cosmos 170 on July 31 and Cosmos 171 on Tuesday—to try to iron out the problem, informed sources said. A tangled parachute failed to slow down Komarov's new type of spaceship, Soyuz 1, on its return from orbit. The Russians have announced no manned space flights since Komarov's death.

"Strip Cities" Bloodmobile Sets Jerome Visit Monday

BOWLING GREEN, Ohio (AP)—By the year 2000, a sociologist says, the Eastern Seaboard, the southern shore of the Great Lakes and the West Coast will be sprawling "strip cities." Dr. H. Theodore Groat, a Bowling Green State University sociologist, also said in a research project that population trends show that 5 of every 6 Americans will live in these urban chains by 2000—only 33 years from now.

JEROME — The Red Cross Bloodmobile will be in Jerome from 2 to 6 p.m. Monday at the Moose Hall, Second Ave. East and South Lincoln. Jerome's quota is 150 pints. The last drawing netted 124 pints, the best turnout in about three years. It is reported that there are a number of people who need replacements, including some who have to have regular transfusions of whole blood, plasma or gamma globulin.

3 Jerome Women Hurt In Mishap

JEROME — Three Jerome women were hospitalized after a one-car accident at 1:15 p.m. Tuesday four miles south of Jerome on Highway 79. State police said Mrs. Gilbert Tilly lost control of her car which went off the left side of the road, through a fence and came to rest in a grain field. Passengers were Mrs. Iola McGill and Mrs. Dorothy Detweiler. Mrs. Detweiler and Mrs. Tilly are in fairly good condition and Mrs. McGill is listed in fair condition.

SAFEWAY PROMISES YOU PERFECT-EATING MEAT...

A combination of things makes our money-back guarantee possible:

USDA CHOICE BEEF and LAMB
Every steak, chop and roast of beef or lamb you buy at Safeway is from meat awarded the USDA CHOICE grade by strict and impartial Government meat graders. (All of our pork, veal and calf, too, is from top grades.) Only by starting with fine quality meat can you expect to get consistent tenderness, juiciness and excellent flavor.

SPECIAL CARE PROTECTS QUALITY
Our meat experts, using modern equipment and proven techniques, leave nothing to chance in bringing Safeway meats to you. Humidity and temperature are carefully controlled to protect the tenderness, juiciness and flavor of each cut.

EXCESS BONE and FAT TRIMMED OFF
Our close-trim method of preparing meat for sale gives better eating and better value. Each cut is prepared just right for the way it is to be cooked. Note, too, how little fat and bone remains on Safeway steaks, chops, and roasts when they are weighed.

GUARANTEE

If ever a purchase of Safeway Meat fails to please you for any reason whatsoever, just tell us. We will refund your money promptly, courteously. There's no need to return the meat.

Dear Abby

By ARIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: My 6-year-old daughter finished kindergarten in June. A 6-year-old boy in her class called her on the phone last week. He was the first boy ever to call her, so naturally she was excited. (So was I.) He called her nearly every day for a week.

She refers to him as her "boy friend." I thought it was cute. My husband says that by allowing the boy to call and seeming to be pleased about it I am encouraging the boy-girl relationship much too early. He says 6-year-old girls shouldn't have "boy friends," that he sees nothing "cute" about it, and we shouldn't allow him to call.

Abby, I'm not sure what I think. I don't want to be a mother who pushes her daughter into trying to be popular with the boys at too early an age, but I see nothing wrong with this. How do you think it ought to be handled? PERPLEXED

DEAR PERPLEXED: To make a big thing out of it now, telling her she's too young to have a "boy friend" and forbidding him to call, I think would give your daughter the idea that there is something "wrong" with a boy-girl relationship. Let it run its course. It's natural and inevitable, though somewhat premature. He may not call her again until she's 15.

DEAR ABBY: My husband is in the marines and is stationed in Vietnam. Shortly after he arrived in Vietnam I gave birth to a baby boy.

Abby, my baby is nearly 6 months old and my father-in-law has been over to see him only three times! I told him he was welcome to come any time. (He is a widower.)

On Father's Day I sent my father-in-law a card and I heard nothing from him. My husband would be very hurt if he knew how his father is slighting me. What is the best thing for me to do? SLIGHTED

DEAR SLIGHTED: Call your father-in-law. Maybe he isn't well. Whatever you do, don't write to your husband about this. If there's anything a marine in Vietnam doesn't need, it's a letter from his wife complaining about how his father is slighting her.

DEAR ABBY: I am a married girl (22) and my husband is 26. I have a brother-in-law (21) who is getting married soon. He and his fiancee are planning a nice wedding, but they don't have much money. They are counting on the wedding gifts of cash-to-pay-for the wedding dinner and reception, as many couples do.

They came right out and told us that the wedding dinner will cost $6.75 a plate. My husband and I are both working and we expect to pay our share, but how about the other folks? Should they be told how much the dinner will cost so they'll be sure to give at least enough to cover it? WANTS TO HELP

DEAR WANTS: That "many couples count on wedding gifts of cash to pay for the dinner and reception is news to me. If the bride's parents cannot pay for the wedding, the bride then pays for it herself. In any case, I have never heard of a wedding where the guests go "Dutch."

CONFIDENTIAL TO "Worried in Anaheim": Yes, a man who has been married nearly 30 years can have the "problem" you mention. Molesting other men in a steam bath is adequate evidence of his problem, "illness," or whatever you wish to call it. If you love your husband and want to help him, insist that he see a doctor at once before he and his "problem" lands on the front page and into jail.

Problems? Write to Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles, California. For a personal reply, enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Karen Sue Cook Weds Fowers In Home Ceremony

PAUL — Karen Sue Cook, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elias W. Cook, Route 1, Paul, and Randy Frank Fowers, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leslie C. Fowers, Rupert, were united in marriage July 15 at the bridegroom's home in Rupert.

The double-ring afternoon ceremony was performed by Bishop Van-Sorenson. The bride, given in-marriage by her father, recited vows in a floor-length white gown of crystalline over lace styled with an empire waist line, a round neckline and mid-sleeves. Her jewelry was a pearl teardrop necklace.

Her shoulder-length silk veil of illusion was held by a lace bow accented by seed pearls. Feathered chrysanthemums centered with an orchid and a miniature bride and bridegroom formed her bridal bouquet.

Sandra Lee Cook, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. Flower girl and ringbearer was Jodi Lynn Cook.

Tom Mortenson was best man. Lila Neibaur played the traditional wedding music and Peggy Neibaur sang a solo.

Following the ceremony, the newlyweds greeted guests before a setting of beauty baskets of yellow chrysanthemums and gladiolus accented with large yellow bows, at the home of the bride, north of Paul.

The bride's table, covered with a lace cloth, was centered with the wedding cake on a large mirror and topped with a miniature bride and bridegroom and wedding bells. A miniature bride and a yellow rose in a bud vase flanked the wedding cake.

Refreshments were served by Jackie Hansen, Regina Hansen and Karen Montgomery.

Mrs. Beverly Evans, sister of the bride, registered the guests. Gifts were displayed by Mrs. Gary Cook, sister-in-law of the bride.

Pre-nuptial events were a kitchen shower hosted by Sandra Cook and Mrs. Gary Cook and a personal shower hosted by Rance Johnston.

Out-of-town guests attended from Hooper, Roy, and Ogden, Utah; Montevieu, Rigby, Burley, Rupert and Paul.

The newlyweds will reside in Altamont, Utah, following a wedding trip to Yellowstone National Park.

AAUW Picnic Held Recently
The American Association of University Women met recently for a backyard picnic at the home of Mrs. Russell Miller.

A short business meeting was conducted after the social hour by the president, Mrs. Gareth Wilson.

She announced that a study group is being organized to study the politics of public education.

First vice president in charge of programs, Mrs. J. P. O'Connor, announced that general meetings will be devoted to discussions on society's reflection in the arts.

Plans for a membership function were discussed.

TAN TONER
Often a summer tan does not go with autumn wardrobe colors. To tone it down, do this before bathing: Squish up thick soap suds on a wet sponge, squeeze lemon juice on the suds and rub this mild bleach over your body. Let the suds and lemon poultice remain on the skin for about 15 minutes before rinsing off and then bathe as usual.

Valley League Plans Retreat
BUHL — Mrs. Edwin Meyer, Mrs. Ray Schmidt, Mrs. Wayne Jagels and Mrs. Leo Gilring presented the opening devotional service when the LWML met recently. A hymn was sung during collection of the Mite boxes. Rev. Thomas Johnston presented a selection on the topic "We Are Not Our Own."

Mrs. Martin Kniep, president, opened the meeting with a prayer. It was announced that the retreat for league members will be held Tuesday through Friday at Camp Perkins.

Mrs. Elmer Fischer conducted a quiz on hidden books of the Bible. Hostesses were Mrs. Vernon Lassen and Mrs. Ray Ohlenschlen.

Mrs. Raymond Haller, S a n Leandro, Calif., was a guest.

Couple Wed In Elko Ceremony

BURLEY — Sherrill Warner daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O. D. Brown, Burley, and Delwyn L. Hanks, Grace, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Hanks, Route 2, Burley, were united in marriage July 24 at Elko, Nev.

The bride recited her wedding vows wearing a street-length white bonded A-line lace dress with pink and green ribbon sash, and short sleeves. She wore a white lace pillbox hat, and a white pearl pin.

The double ring morning ceremony was performed by Elko County Justice of the Peace.

Mrs. Marvin McIntosh, Burley, was maid of honor and Mr. McIntosh was best man.

Following a wedding trip to Jackson Hole, Wyo., the newlyweds will reside in Grace, where the bridegroom is employed by Custom Heating.

The bridegroom is a graduate of Burley High School and was employed for several years in Burley in the plumbing and heating business prior to moving to Grace.

Tiny Waist Is Emphasized In Norell Line

By JEAN SPRAIN WILSON
NEW YORK (AP) — If you have a lot of money and a little middle, you are all set for the revised version of the Norman Norell classics.

Though the 65-year-old dean of American designers may have at times ignored the feminine figure indentation traditionally located slightly above the hipbone, he made up for it in his fall and winter collection presented Monday night.

To be sure, there were the usual simple jerseys, long-sleeved bare-armed, with tiny Mao collars, and bodies as unfigurative as exclamation points. But mostly there were dresses, coats, and jacket costumes with belts, wide or tiny, of stitched fabric or shiny patent leather, which "cinched" the generally fleshless figures of the manikins anywhere between their bosoms and natural waistlines.

Diminutive midriffs were obviously absolute necessities, too, to carry off Norell's '67 ball-gown, antebellum inspired voluminous skirts of velvet or brocade, starting narrowly at wide cummerbunds of contrasting color, standing wide at the hem because of bands of sable, fox or mink.

Not only the waistline but every extra breath was evident among Norell's cut.

Judy Lindstrom Installed As Honored Queen

RUPERT — Judy Lindstrom was installed as honored queen of Rupert Bethel 39, International Order of Job's Daughters, during ceremonies at the Rupert Masonic Temple.

Members of Mt. Harrison Chapter of DeMolay served as escorts and Mrs. Bynum Williams, guardian, opened the meeting with the welcome address.

Also installed were Joan Toews, senior-princess; Mary Isaak, junior princess; Jennifer Creason, guide; Elsie Linard, marshal; Chris Somsen, chaplain; Debbie Williams, treasurer; Judy Merkey, recorder; Gail Stoller, musician, and Cindy Isaak, librarian. The five messengers installed were Gail Stoller, first; Linda Stoller, second; Terry Cook, third; Marsha Wiley, fourth, and Norma Icenbice, fifth.

Others installed included Christina Isaak, outer guard; Nancy Barton, inner guard; Susan Sullivan, custodian, and Debra Barton, junior-custodian.

The honored queen-elect was last to be installed and she was ushered to the altar by the guide and present honored queen Mary Rush, who officiated at the installation.

Panhellenic Summer Party Hosted By Local Students

Two Twin Falls girls, both students at Idaho State University, were co-hostesses at a National Social Sororities Panhellenic summer party recently.

Cathy Wyllie and Pamela Warner arranged the poolside party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Warner.

Maureen Fries, Shiela Peckhardt and Betty Heck assisted with arrangements and greeting the guests, all students or prospective students at Idaho State University.

About 30 girls, most of them from Magic Valley, attended the evening party.

During the evening the young ladies, many of whom are members of National Social Sororities at Idaho State University and many who have registered for the fall semester at the Pocatello college, enjoyed swimming.

Other entertainment included a sneak preview of new fall fashions and general "girl talk" centering around college and sorority life at Idaho State University.

Femininity Of Handbags And Shoes Returns

By HELEN HENNESSY
NEW YORK — (NEA) — After seasons of tough chic, everything is going pretty and feminine — even shoes and handbags.

The shoe stylists and handbag designers who recently won the tanning industry's top honor, The Leather Industries of America Designer Awards, were in agreement that a romantic and elegant feeling will pervade the footwear and handbag field next spring.

Although toelines will remain comfortably wide, lasts will be elongated to give the foot a narrower, more feminine look.

Heel heights will rise in evening shoes but remain low for day wear. However, there will be new heel interest — the cut-out heel, the scalloped heel and the heel covered in contrasting leather and color.

The designers will even make casual shoes pretty with the use of color and texture combinations. One example is a flatie that teams bright pink smooth leather with pale green suede.

One award winner proposes a pump in hot lilac and green, highlighted by a cut-out petaled flower applied over the pump.

Predictions on after - dark footwear lay heavy emphasis on gold and silver kid leathers, with more shoes back on the gold standard than ever. Another evening look will be the strapped leather sandal, trimmed along the strap with leather flowers and leaves in jewel tones.

Handbags will be small but roomy, with a definite trend to elegance in styling for dress wear, the little ovoid vanity box will make a return to fashion.

New will be the combination of genuine patent leather and contrasting colored velvet trim, worked in strips.

The shoulder bag is still in. Next spring's versions will be smaller but more elongated. And both sporty and dressy versions of the shoulder bag will be favorites.

Party Held For Anniversary Of Golden Ages

The 10th anniversary of the Twin Falls Golden Age Club was celebrated recently when 43 members and several guests attended a party.

The club was organized in July, 1957, by the City Recreation Department and the Twin Falls Chapter of the Soroptimist Club.

Charter members of the Golden Age Club in attendance at the event were Mr. and Mrs. E. I. Brackett and Mrs. G. W. Bice, who was the first secretary of the group. Mrs. Bice read several of the initial minutes and by-laws of the club during the program.

Mrs. Brackett read several poems and appreciation stories dedicated to the Soroptimist Club. Mrs. Elva Olsen and Alice Woodley, Hermiston, Ore., sang "The Old Refrain."

Group singing was conducted. Mrs. Lora Doss, representative of the Soroptimist Club, who was president of that club at the time the Golden Age Club was formed, introduced a special guest, Mrs. A. F. Oslund.

Mrs. Oslund was vice president of the Soroptimist Club 10 years' ago and was general chairman of the formation of the Golden Age Club. There were 22 members during the first meeting 10 years ago.

During a business meeting John Henderson was elected president; Hattie Craggs, vice president; Louise Harrall, secretary; Emma Stone, treasurer; Addie Radakovich, music chairman; and Elva Olson, pianist.

Sack lunches were served and the Soroptimist Club presented the group with an anniversary cake.

A REACTOR OF THIS TYPE will be installed Friday at Idaho State University, Pocatello, to be used in the new nuclear science and engineering program there. It can be utilized both as a training device to demonstrate the principle of nuclear theory and operation, as well as a laboratory device on which low-level experimentation can be performed, according to ISU President William E. Davis. It is being provided by Idaho Nuclear Corp., a joint subsidiary of Aerojet-General Corp. and Allied Chemical Corp.

Low-Power Test Reactor To Be Installed At ISU

IDAHO STATE UNIVERSITY, Pocatello — Installation of a low-power AGN-201 training reactor to be used in the nuclear science and engineering program at the university is scheduled to start Friday, announced Dr. William E. Davis, ISU president.

Two weeks ago, he said, ISU received a construction permit from the U. S. Atomic Energy Commission, authorizing installation of the reactor. Installation is expected to take about five days.

Providing the reactor for ISU is Idaho Nuclear Corp., a jointly-owned subsidiary of Allied Chemical Corp. and Aerojet-General Corp., and a prime contractor for the AEC at the National Reactor Testing Station, Idaho Falls.

The reactor is being shipped by moving van from Aerojet-General's nuclear facility, San Ramon, Calif.

President Davis pointed out that "This reactor will be of great significance in the university's new nuclear science and engineering program."

Dr. C. H. Trent of Idaho Nuclear Corp. announced last fall that the reactor would be provided for the university, at which time he explained that the corporation committed itself to provide $500,000 at approximately $100,000 per year over its five-year contract period for supporting and developing educational opportunities in cooperation with Idaho and area universities.

The reactor stands about nine feet tall, and is about six and a half feet in diameter.

Tax Exemption Rolls Increase

Tax exemption rolls for Twin Falls County have increased for the current year to 519 as compared to 471 for the previous year, County Auditor Harold Lancaster reported.

He said the 519 widows and veterans who qualified for real and personal property exemptions own property representing an assessed valuation of $329,938. A year ago the valuation was $284,319.

In the past session of the legislature, the tax exemption limit was increased from $3,600 to $6,000 in assets for a qualified widow or veteran eligible for exemption. Mr. Lancaster said this was due to the increasing ratio which had previously been cutting many hardship cases from the exemption lists.

As a result, the numbers are now building back up and those World War I veterans or widows who have less than a total of $6,000 in total assessed valuation have become eligible for exemption again.

In order to receive exemptions, taxpayers must apply with the county assessor and applications are then reviewed by the prosecuting attorney's office, then by the board of county commissioners and finally by the clerk and auditor's office where they are processed with regular tax records.

This year only 13 applicants were denied and the previous 66 were disqualified by county officials.

Tax Mystery Is Confronting U. S. Treasury Department

By JOSEPH R. COYNE

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Treasury Department is facing a tax mystery it sees little, if any, hope of finally solving. Outside consultants also have failed to come up with its answer.

Immediate effect of the mystery is to reduce the department's estimate of revenues from the individual income tax by about $3 billion for the current fiscal year which began July 1.

This $3 billion loss was cited by President Johnson last week as one reason for proposing a 10 per cent surcharge on individual and corporate income taxes to help shrink a potential $29 billion-budget deficit.

The same mystery helped produce extra tax revenues in recent years that permitted the administration to boast of a smaller deficit than it earlier anticipated.

For about 10 years beginning in 1954, the Treasury could figure it would get in additional taxes roughly 10 to 11 per cent of the yearly increase in personal income. It estimated increased revenues on this basis and came out fairly close to the mark.

But in 1964, something happened and even the experts say they aren't sure just what did occur. But this so-called marginal tax rate jumped to 13.6 per cent. It went to 16.6 per cent in 1965, so the Treasury figured it henceforth would follow this basic upward trend.

In late 1966 when the department was trying to estimate revenues for the fiscal year which began July 1, it projected a marginal tax rate of 19.2 per cent for calendar 1967. In other words, the Treasury figured that for every $100 increase in personal income this year it would get $19.20 in new tax revenue.

At that time of calculating, the Treasury didn't have figures for 1966 available to help in the estimating.

It became apparent this spring, however, that the marginal rate had not risen during 1966 but had actually fallen to an estimated 13.5 per cent.

The Treasury quickly recalculated its 1967 estimates, lowering the marginal rate to 15.5 per cent, thus cutting that $3 billion from revenue estimates.

Orbiter Snaps First Photo Of "Full Earth"

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — Lunar Orbiter 5 has snapped the first picture of the "full earth," but earthlings won't get to see it for several days.

Flight controllers at Jet Propulsion Laboratory say the photograph, taken Tuesday, will be televised to a tracking station at Madrid, Spain, on Friday.

It may be several days after that before the picture is released by the U.S. space agency in Washington.

Previous Orbiters have taken pictures of earth in partial shadow. The globe was in full sunlight when the latest photograph was shot.

Geologist Harold Masursky of the U.S. Geological Survey, Menlo Park, Calif., speculated that astronauts may find frozen liquid on the floor of some perpetually shaded craters near the moon's poles.

He said photographs show definite indication of "fluid material" meandering from lunar craters and added that some of it may be frozen in the polar regions. How useful the frozen fluid—possibly condensed gases—may be cannot be determined until man explores the moon, he said.

Jamboree At Corral Will Not Be Held

FAIRFIELD — For the first time since 1954, there will not be the annual Mannie's Jamboree on the second Sunday in August.

Mannie Shaw, Corral rancher and well known fiddler, has announced that he will not have his jamboree this year. He stated that there already have been fiddling events at Gooding and Shoshone this year and the annual session at Weiser.

The first jamboree was held in 1954 when a group of Mannie's friends gathered at his ranch for a day of music. Since then it has grown to where about 2,000 signed the guest register last year. People came from all over to either play or just listen to the oldtime music.

Mannie Shaw has done much to make oldtime fiddling and related music popular in Idaho and has received many honors for his efforts.

The sound of hoe-downs, waltzes, polkas and oldtime ballads will be missed in the Corral area this Sunday.

BEST BETS FOR MOVIES

7 p.m., 2B: 8 p.m., 5—"Lilies of the Field" (1963) A warm, beautiful little film that won an Oscar for Sidney Poitier. "Lilies" is a living testimony to the old adage that they can't bring back the good one often enough. This time around, you might want to concentrate on Poitier's sensitive performance as an itinerant handyman who reluctantly helps a group of German nuns in Arizona. Lillie Skala, as Mother Maria—leader of the nuns—brings honesty and truth to her role as a woman who sees man as a simple tool of God. Spiced with a little comic relief, the film is nothing less than perfect, and comes highly recommended.

Colonists on planet Omicron-Ceti 3 have been infected by spores that produce a strange disease—perfect physical health and complete peace of mind. Writer D. C. Fontana offers some food for thought, and his view of an idyllic existence is very provoking indeed.

Housing Agency Moves Too Slowly

By JACK MILLER

WASHINGTON (AP) — The head of the Federal Housing Administration says his agency has been too slow in launching a program to provide decent private housing for families of low to moderate income.

Responding to charges this week by Sen. Edward W. Brooke, R-Mass., FHA Commissioner Philip N. Brownstein said: "We do have a complex procedure." But he added in an interview: "We are working diligently, assiduously and, I think, successfully to reduce our processing time" on project applications.

Brooke charged in a Senate speech Monday that since the FHA's low-income housing program was authorized in 1961, only 40,000 housing units have been completed—a pitifully inadequate number.

FHA is considering plans and has earmarked funds for proposed projects that would total 143,000 units and cost $1.9 billion of the $2.1 billion available for the program to date.

Under the program the government provides loans at three per cent interest—well below the market rate—to private, non-profit groups such as churches, labor unions and foundations. The housing is designed for families whose incomes are too high for them to qualify for public housing—but too low for them to afford adequate private housing.

Units built under the plan must rent for 30 per cent less than they would normally.

While Brooke referred to the program as low-income housing, Brownstein pointed out it "doesn't touch the really poor people."

Negro Colonel Hits Black Power Move

DA NANG, Vietnam (AP)—Total freedom has been attained," Carmichael said in Havana. He is attending a meeting of Latin American revolutionaries and helped write a resolution calling for unity of Latin American guerrilla movements with the Black Power campaign in the United States.

"Black Power—I don't know what that is," said James, the tall, soft-spoken deputy commander of the 8th Tactical Fighter Wing.

The majority of American Negroes oppose the extremists of their race, said Col. David James Jr., 47, of Pensacola, Fla., a pilot with 56 combat missions over North Vietnam. "But we must speak out firmly against them and violence."

"Before, when the Negroes were on the receiving end of the mob, many whites were opposed but they didn't raise their voices to stop it. Now, we're doing the same thing."

"This thing got to me, the lawlessness—rioting," James declared in an interview. "Men like Stokely Carmichael acting as if they speak for the Negro people. They don't, and they've set civil rights back 100 years."

"Carmichael says he will fight with guns. Well, who has the guns? You can't physically overpower the majority and if you could it would be wrong—it is just stupid."

Carmichael, former head of the Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee, was quoted by a Cuban magazine Wednesday as saying that "if the people in the United States had been armed, they would have taken good care of (President) Johnson."

"I like the idea of having the people armed, but this is possible only in a free country where

Freeman To Make Trip Down Salmon

SALMON, Idaho (AP)—Secretary of Agriculture Orville Freeman and his wife will make a three-day float trip down part of Idaho's famed River of No Return this month.

The white waters of the Middle Fork of the Salmon River race through a primitive forest area in Central Idaho.

U.S. Forest Service officials say the Freeman trip will be Aug. 16-19. In the party will be Edward P. Cliff, head of the Forest Service.

The Freemans will make a stop in Utah before going to Idaho for the raft ride down the churning Salmon.

They will be guests of Gov. Calvin L. Rampton in Salt Lake City Aug. 15. The secretary will also inspect the 119,000-acre American Fork-Dry Creek Watershed Project while in Utah.

Freeman and his party plan an early morning start on the River of No Return. They will launch their rafts at Bernard Checking Station, about 45 miles west of Salmon.

Firefighting Unit On Blaze Near Salmon

A scheduled return home for members of the Fairfield-based interregional fire suppression crew was canceled Tuesday night when fire broke out in the Reynolds Creek area west of Salmon and the team was sent to its third fire of the season.

The crew, informally known as the "Hot Shots" of Magic Valley, had been one of the many groups of firefighters battling a 100-acre blaze north of McCall in the Payette National Forest. After the Payette fire was brought under control Tuesday night, three days after being started, the crew had been scheduled to return to its Fairfield base.

The team left from McCall for Salmon at about 10 a.m. Wednesday. The Reynolds Creek fire is about 150 miles north of McCall near the border between the Salmon and Bitterroot National forests. The blaze was apparently started by lightning just hours after the McCall fire was brought under control.

The 25 men on the Fairfield interregional crew had joined more than 200 others in fighting the McCall blaze. For the newly-organized fire fighting team, it was the second exposure to the fire lines.

Earlier, the crew had helped control a forest fire in the Flathead National Forest in Western Montana.

The team is one of several in the Western United States that were formed by the National Forest Service in an effort to quickly provide trained men for "new" fires. The "IR" approach to firefighting has been in existence for several years, although this is the first year a crew has been based in Magic Valley.

Simplot To Open Plant On Aug. 15

HEYBURN—The J. R. Simplot Co. will resume operations at 8 a.m. Tuesday, Aug. 15, announces Hugo Dalsoglio, assistant area manager.

The company official reported they are currently in the process of getting crews lined up for the three-shift operation. He noted that the plant will start out this season with a smaller number of employees and call more in as the need requires. About 300 employees will be called back to work in the frozen and dehydration departments of the company.

The starch plant will begin operation around the last of September. Approximately 260 employees have remained at the Heyburn plant through the summer for clerical and maintenance work and according to Mr. Dalsoglio, these persons will remain on the payroll along with the expected 300 to be hired this week.

The company has made some improvements in the equipment this summer and has done a lot of repairs and maintenance work with facilities.

Potatoes will be shipped from the Caldwell area starting Monday and plant operations will begin the following morning.

MAYOR AL BALLARD, San Bernardino, Calif., displays one of the shotguns he has ordered carried on all city fire trucks as guard against violence. Firemen in cities hit by riots have found themselves targets for bottles and bullets and some have died. Despite the new hazards, fire department officials responding to an Associated Press Survey, say the danger hasn't lowered the firemen's morale. (AP wirephoto)

Advice Given On Selection Of Helmets For Motorcyclists

By BOB COCHNAR and DAVE BURGIN

NEW YORK (NEA)—Woe betide the safety official (government or otherwise) who advises motorcyclists to clamp on a safety helmet at the same time they buckle up their seat belts.

It's tough enough to get Joe Driver to buckle up for safety even though it has been proved and proved again that thousands of drivers have been caught dead sitting on their seat belts.

Hard hats can help save lives, too, but gung-ho I'm-the-best driver-on-the-road types would rather smash their foreheads on splintered windshields than "look silly" in a helmet.

Well, we're not about to preach to run-of-the-mill hardheads. But we will say that any motorcycle buff who kick-starts his bike without first putting his safety helmet on is just plain stupid. In some states—not yet enough—helmets are mandatory.

And anybody thinking about racing (sports cars, hot rods, etc.) should know he won't be allowed to start his engine helmetless, thanks to the rigid safety rules of national sanctioning bodies.

Assuming, then, that you agree about the need for a helmet, you should also realize that just any kind won't do.

Your helmet had better be approved by the Snell Memorial Foundation, the United States of America Standards Institute (formerly the American Standards Association) or the British Standards Institute. If it isn't, chances are it's not very good.

We discussed helmet design and testing with one of the leading U. S. manufacturers, Buco Products, a division of the American Safety Equipment Corp. Buco has been involved with protective headgear since 1957 when helmets, more often than not, were just supposed to keep the hair from getting dirty.

It's possible, Buco says, for the neophyte to choose a hard hat which he thinks is a safe helmet. Instead, he ought to keep these rules-of-thumb in mind when helmet-shopping:

Shell. The shell must prevent penetration, distribute the impact load over a large area of the head, prevent abrasion while sliding over rough surfaces. It should be made of a hard, rigid, smooth, durable material. The buyer should not be able to indent the shell with his hands.

Liner. The function of the liner is to distribute the force and absorb the energy of impact. It should be made of a firm, compressible material at least a half-inch thick. The liner should cover all of the inner area of the shell.

Retention System. The helmet must stay on the head if it is to provide protection. A crude test of the retention system is to snap the helmet on and try to pull it off. The chin supports and strap should be nylon or similar material which is not subject to deterioration.

Comfort. Since helmets are often worn for long periods in all types of weather, it is important that they be comfortable to avoid the temptation of removing them. Weight, ventilation and fit are some of the factors which affect comfort.

There are more than two million motorcyclists registered today. The National Safety Council estimates that some 60 per cent of them do not wear safety helmets. This majority death wish is bound to change, however, by regulation.

The National Traffic Safety Act of 1966 stipulates that any state which does not have mandatory helmet laws by January, 1968, will forfeit 10 per cent of its federal highway fund.

Spinoffs: About half the nation's motorcyclists are in danger of losing their cool while breezing down the highway this summer. Half of all cars checked by the Goodyear Tire and Rubber Co. are found to have cracked, glazed or frayed fan belts. And when the belt breaks, your water pump and fan fails and the engine goes clunk. Check that belt every couple of months . . . Looks like another ho-hum automotive year in 1968. There aren't any radical styling departures. But you'll be seeing a lot of fastbacks which recall the late '40s and early '50s when Detroit was cranking out those sloped-deck cars. The word "fastback" was invented then.

Compulsory Birth Control May Be Needed

In the tight streets of our inner cities, trucks are timed at an average speed of six miles an hour. Horse-drawn vehicles in 1910 moved faster.

One ponders the growing proliferation of people and cars and envisions the end of civilization as a massive bumper-to-bumper traffic jam. All car radios are turned to the civil defense bands, listening for reports of help—that never comes. The white sidewalled, chromium-trimmed sedan becomes a convertible; convertible, that is, from car to coffin.

Grim fantasies come easily when one couples awareness of current problems of smog, water pollution, transportation, urban light and crowded playgrounds and schools with knowledge of proliferating populations.

The world adds 1.3 million people every week — another Houston, Prague or Saigon.

And these lovely optimists who see the vast reaches of space as the new frontier to absorb the growth must be referred to the president of the Population Reference Bureau, Robert Cook.

This Paul Revere of population problems has pointed out that if we could build and launch every hour a space ship larger than any ocean liner man has ever built, we could stabilize population. How large? Each one would have to hold almost 8,000 people.

The optimists persist. They point to the ever-expanding wonders produced by science and technology to assure us that the world can absorb more and more people.

Yet population experts, no less optimistic about the break-throughs in science, point to the great backlog of people who still do not enjoy a decent quality of life on this already crowded planet.

The Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations estimates that 10,000 people die of starvation every day. The great famines are yet to come. Almost two billion of the world's people will go to bed hungry or malnourished tonight.

Let's emphasize that runaway population growth is not simply a problem for India, China and Latin America. It exists here in the United States.

The National Academy of Sciences has warned that here at home "decreasing land and increasing people are on a collision course . . ."

While the U.S. economy still manages to grow more rapidly than population, the increases in population are exacerbating such problems as crime, juvenile delinquency, the quality of education, recreation and air and water pollution.

J. Edgar Hoover has pointed out that "since 1958 the increase in crime has been almost six times greater than the population growth," adding that "a relationship is indicated between population growth and the crime rate . . . those areas having the fastest growing populations generally are reporting the highest crime rates."

We proudly cherish the extraordinary degree of individual freedom in the United States. But our forefathers, if they were Caucasian, enjoyed greater freedom. The frontiers have gone. Escape to new opportunities or from particular forms of oppression are ever more circumscribed. Proliferation of population brings new laws, ordinances and regulations, which inhibit individual freedom.

There is a common canard uttered against the 40 million people in our own poverty group; that if they weren't lazy, if they had "get up and go," they'd find lots of opportunities. Opportunities do exist, but in this technical age they don't resemble the opportunities of decades past. They require training and education that isn't being provided to the degree necessary.

And those who think of our own poverty group as being essentially nonwhite should read a new report of the Social Security Administration which shows that there are four times as many poor whites as there are nonwhites living in the big city areas of our country.

In the past 20 years our national policies have been predicted on defending freedom from foreign threats. To this end we spent in the period 1947-66 more than $900 billion for national defense. But today the greatest threat to freedom comes not from other ideologies and weapons but from proliferating populations at home and abroad. Present and projected expenditures to curb runaway population are relatively infinitesimal.

We have begun to move, albeit slowly. In the past two years there has been rapid acceleration in the efforts of the federal government, both at home and abroad, to help provide fertility control information. Domestic and foreign birth control programs in 1967 are expected to cost $25.3 million—10 times the amount of two years ago.

Yet this greatly expanded effort figures out to only one penny for every 2,000 pennies allocated for defense programs.

Frederick S. Jaffe, vice president of Planned Parenthood World Population, has estimated that "the average cost of providing adequate birth control service, including supplies, is no more than $20 per year per patient." A massive program to reach 5 million additional women might cost taxpayers $80 million.

The savings in health and welfare services, education and capital investment for water, sewage disposal, fire and police and other services would amount to more than $2 billion.

Of the total U.S. appropriation related to family planning, an estimated $8.4 million will be expended for foreign assistance by the Agency for International Development.

While the AID population budget is more than twice that for 1966, it still represents less than the cost of one hour's operation of our defense establishment!

Some opponents of federal expenditures for birth control decry the possibility of government pressure on the indigent to adopt contraception for family planning. But the advocates of family planning contend that the children of the poor have an equal right to be born "wanted" and that family planning assistance permits the indigent to have the children they want—births by choice, not blunder.

Serious and humane students of population problems are already projecting a necessity for compulsory birth control. Anthropologist Ashley Montagu has written that "voluntary birth control cannot be depended upon." He would add compulsory birth control to "compulsory education, the compulsory draft, compulsory taxes, compulsory vaccination and compulsory obedience to law."
