

South African Girl Announced As Field Service Student For TFHS

Teritia Blignaut, 18, Potchefstroom, South Africa, will be the 1967-68 American Field Service student at the Twin Falls High School. It is announced by Mrs. David McClusky, student and family liaison chairman.

The exchange program which permits a foreign student to spend a school year at the local school is made possible by the Twin Falls High School student body which raised $750 to bring the student to the United States, and by the local chapter of AFS members made up of parents, teachers and many persons in the community who have been past host families and who guide and aid the students.

Miss Blignaut resides with her parents and has two older sisters. She will be a senior at the Twin Falls High School and comes here as an American Field Service International Scholarship student. Her father is a civil servant in the Department of Agriculture in South Africa and her mother is a housewife.

Ballet is one of the main talents of the girl which also include eurythmic gym and modeling. She plays the piano by ear. She speaks English and Afrikaans very fluently. Sketching in art was one of her matriculation subjects. Biology, history and mathematics are also listed as interesting to her.

In the field of sports she maintains an interest in water skiing, tennis, basketball and swimming.

Mrs. McClusky said that the girl has been active in singing in her church choir, teaching a five-year-old level Sunday school class and playing the church organ. She is a member of the Methodist church in her home community.

Following her year in Twin Falls she plans to return to South Africa and attend a university with a view to becoming a physiotherapist.

Miss Blignaut stated in a communication that "the motto and the opportunity of the American Field Service has made me think a great deal about peace. This is surely one of the solutions to the problem, living with and learning of people of other nations."

The host family for the school year will be Mr. and Mrs. John H. Peterson, 1921 San Larue Avenue. Their daughter, Christine, will be a senior at the local high school and will be host sister.

Officers of the AFS chapter here are Mrs. Vern Routh, president; Mrs. Dick Baun, vice president; Mrs. Sally Bright, secretary-treasurer; John Lawrence, high school principal, adviser; Mrs. McClusky, student and family liaison; Kenneth Kail, school relations, and Mrs. Robert R. Harvey, American Abroad chairman.

TERTIA BLIGNAUT
from Potchefstroom, South Africa, will be the American Field Service student at the Twin Falls High School during the 1967-68 term.

Local Girl Gains Degree In Nursing

Claudia Brown, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Claude Brown Jr., Twin Falls, has been graduated from the Kaiser Foundation School of Nursing in Oakland, Calif.

Miss Brown was one of 31 members of the graduating class. She was graduated cum laude.

It was the first time that graduates of the three-year nursing school received an Associate of Arts degree in addition to the normal nursing diploma, school officials pointed out.

The additional degree was the result of arrangements concluded with Contra Costa College. Most of the student's first year has always been devoted to studying English, science, and the humanities at Contra Costa or from Merritt College instructors at the nursing school.

The Kaiser Foundation School of Nursing is a non-profit educational institution which offers a three-year diploma program accredited by the National League for Nursing and the California State Board of Nursing Education and Nurse Registration. It has consistently been the top nursing school in California in scholastic standing.

Graduation exercises, which were attended by Miss Brown's parents and other members of her family, were held at the First Presbyterian Church in Oakland. The graduation address was by Clyde F. Diddle, recently retired director for the Kaiser Foundation Medical Care program.

Miss Brown is a graduate of the Twin Falls High School.

CIA Accused Of Plotting In Sudan

CAIRO (AP) - Sudan's information minister says the U.S. Central Intelligence Agency is plotting to overthrow the Sudanese government in hopes that new leaders would yield to U.S. pressure to sign a peace treaty with Israel.

Abdel Majid Abu Hassabu said in an interview with the Cairo daily Al Ghomhouriya: "The CIA and its British and West German allies are paying huge sums to Sudanese political parties and politicians" to get them to support the alleged plot.

Sudan severed relations with the United States after the Arab-Israeli war broke out June 5 and since has turned away from its traditional Western suppliers of weapons and asked the Soviet Union to help strengthen its armed forces.

Iraqi President Abdel Rahman Aref and leaders of Socialist Syria discussed "mobilizing Arab, particularly Iraqi and Syrian efforts, to eliminate Israeli aggression from a b soil," during Aref's two-day visit to Syria, foreign ministers of the two nations said today. Israel occupies parts of Syria, Egypt and Jordan captured in the six-day June war.

Glenns Ferry Will Vote On Sewer Bond

GLENN'S FERRY—On Sept. 12 the voters in Glenn's Ferry will vote on a $250,000 sewer bond to provide sewer lagoons for sewage treatment, and new sewer trunk lines and a storm sewer system in the downtown business area. Total cost of the proposal would be $360,000, with the Federal Government already approving grants totaling $110,000.

The storm sewer system would provide a 12-inch line on Idaho Avenue from Canyon Creek to Oneida Street, with eight-inch lines running north on Commercial, Logan and Oneida streets. These would run north one block.

A 12-inch line would run from Canyon Creek to Commercial Street on Second Avenue, with an eight-inch line running north of it one block on Ada Street. A 12-inch line would run east from the creek to Commercial on Harrison Avenue with an eight-inch line running north on Ada Street, and another south on Oregon Street. All of these would drain into Canyon Creek.

Since it has been determined through a study that a storm sewer system is needed, and construction of such a system would allow the size of the main sewer line along the river from the present sewer system to be reduced in size, and that the savings in the cost of the pipe would pay for the storm sewer system, this has been included in the plan.

This proposal calls for a 12-inch main sewer line from the present sewer outlet to the proposed site on the Hampton farm, and a 10-inch main line from the area around the high school to Canyon Creek and down that stream to First Avenue, where the line would be enlarged to 12 inches. This line would flow the general direction Canyon Creek takes and into the sewer lagoons. It would flow without pumping.

A four-lagoon complex is proposed with two large lagoons and two small ones. The large ponds would have a surface area of 15 acres each, while the two smaller ones would have surfaces of 1.1 acres each.

Sumner Johnson, engineer, noted that this was just the preliminary proposal, and a few minor changes may be necessary in the final plans. He said that the addition of new industry in the community between the time the proposal was first made and now, may change the final design, but that the cost of the project need not be changed.

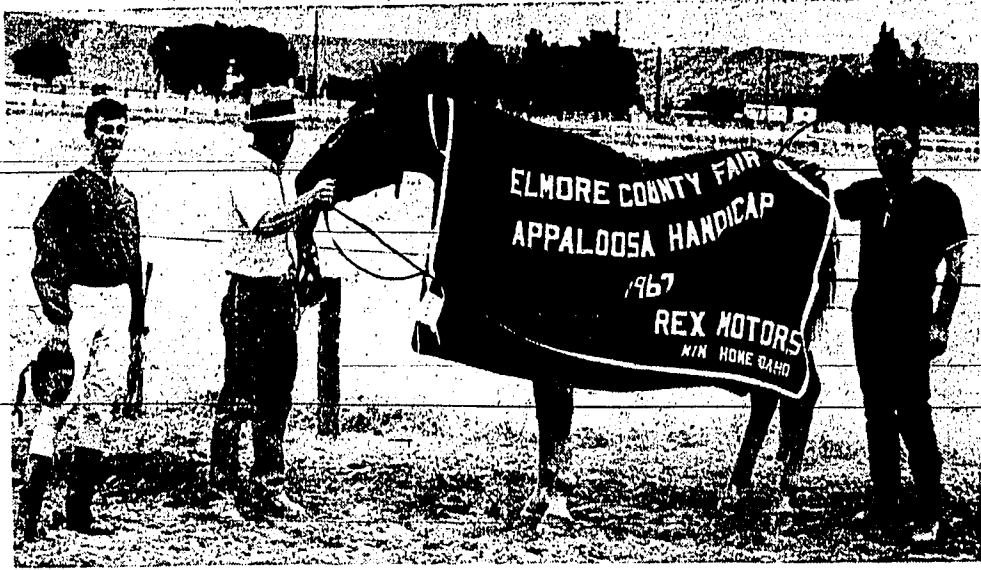

A public hearing on the proposal will be held, an informational meeting is planned, and a copy of the sewer ordinance appearing in a local paper, so that everyone may study the proposed sewer bond issue.

Popular Conception Of Lawbreaker Is Inaccurate—He's Only 15 Years Old

By TOM TIEDE
PEORIA, Ill.—(NEA)—The popular conception of the common criminal is grossly inaccurate. Unshaven? See a my-face? Bulky and belligerent? Chuck most of the adjectives. The only one that fits is "belligerent."

The average lawbreaker today doesn't shave at all. His face is smooth, not seamy and he hasn't had time to grow much bulk. He is, after all, only 15 years old.

He is a kid named Gary B. who sits nervously on an oak bench in a Peoria recreation center. He is dressed in stove-pipe trousers and a T-shirt. His hair hangs limply over his ears. He stares at his feet. His eyes are red and his hands dirty.

He is a burglar. He has been arrested twice. He doesn't care. "Why do you do it?" "Where are your parents?"

A laugh. "Do you know you're headed for serious trouble?" A yawn.

Gary B is symbolic of this nation's juvenile delinquent miseries. Last year kids like him accounted for nearly 25 per cent of all law enforcement arrests. Peoria Police alone made 5,296 such arrests (under 17 years old) . . . some for theft, arson and you name it. Thirty-four were detained for narcotic misdeeds, 213 for burglary, three for murder.

Says juvenile detective Frank Fosco: "Kids under 17 commit every well-known crime in this town and some others, like glue sniffing, that aren't well-known. It's tragic. I'd say that over 70 per cent of all Peoria crimes involve juveniles."

That guess, while shocking, is not rare. Peoria kids are neither worse nor better than those in other cities. According to a congressional report by Chicago Congressman Roman C. Pucinski, juvenile crime in the nation has increased to a level where it now accounts for an annual public loss of $4 billion.

Pucinski's facts are stupefying. Among them:—Considering all ages, from the cradle to the grave, the most frequently arrested law breakers in the United States today are 15-year-old boys.

—Eighty-eight per cent of all car thefts in the country are committed by persons under the age of 25. Thirty-five per cent of all car thefts are by persons under 18.

—Youngsters between 11 and 16 make up only 13 per cent of the U.S. population but commit over half of all lawbreaking property offenses.

And, stiff though the statistics are, the probability is they will get stiffer. Over a quarter of the U.S. population is under 10 years old and police are worried about tomorrow.

"I can't speak for other cities," says a Peoria policeman, "but I look for juvenile crime to get worse and worse in this area. Why? Because there's almost nothing the police can do about it. Society won't let us treat the kids as crooks."

The man's complaint is in obvious reference to the strict-legal limitations imposed in juvenile crime work. Police say such limitations are asinine. They say the laws make a 17-year-old robber a "dirty thug" but a 16-year-old robber a "misguided boy."

"Until recent years," says detective Fosco, "we were not even allowed to fingerprint or photograph a juvenile suspect. And things aren't much better now. We're told it's all for the good of the accused. Well, what about the good of the victims?"

Local police are especially disgruntled over the functionings of the juvenile courts. "We arrest somebody and for what? The judges just turn the kids loose." Thus of 5,296 juvenile arrests here last year, police bothered sending only 243 to trial.

And even when courts convict, they do not placate police bitterness. Under Illinois law, juveniles are not charged with specific crimes, only delinquency in general. Even suspected murderers are but sent away to state correctional schools and the average stay in one of the institutions is four or five months.

Therefore, the police problem is apparent. Regardless of their diligence they can only clear delinquents off the streets for a few months at best . . . and then only if they are fortunate, get through the red tape and get a conviction.

To compound the woe, at least in Peoria, the kids take advantage of the situation. They feel they're untouchable. Grips a disgusted cop: "They're laughing at us."

Gary B. for one, is certainly laughing. "I've been arrested twice," he says, "but nothing ever happened. The cops knew I stole the stuff. But nothing happened. They just questioned me and let me go."

says. Finally, in a moment of generosity, he admits "he" almost feels sorry for the police. "Until I'm 17," he concludes, "I can get away with murder."

Food Prices Push Living Cost

By JOHN T. WHEELER
SAIGON, (AP)—Soaring food prices have pushed the Vietnamese cost of living up some 35 per cent so far this year and the overheated economy may spin out of control entirely in the months ahead, economic sources indicate.

Because of the impact on the peasants and working class, the economic battle is considered a vital part of the political war in Vietnam.

Not all economists are agreed on how serious the current situation is. However, one who had watched the spiraling economy for many months predicted that an increase in prices from 30 to 50 per cent this year could prove disastrous.

The chief causes of the spurt in prices—12 percent since June—are rising food costs and the tremendous amount of money being poured into the Vietnamese economy.

break-away inflation, huge imports of motorcycles, sewing machines and other durable goods stemmed the tide. Because the United States put up the dollars to finance this, it had some control.

and ponds in the country to around $1.35 for ocean fish. The price of top grade pork now is around $1.50 a pound. And a dozen eggs now sell for around $1.

Some economists have attributed the rise in food prices in recent weeks in part to the inability of farmers in the Mekong delta to move perishable food items by road along national highway 4 north to Saigon. Viet Cong troops have cut the highway many times with mine.

Johnson, Caught Between Doves And Hawks, Gambling On Vietnam Vote

By JACK BELL
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson, caught in a cross-fire between Senate doves and hawks, is gambling that the Vietnam elections will turn out better than expected and that he can fend off demands for intensified bombing.

While the doves are complaining that the Sept. 3 elections are likely to become a fraud, the hawks are mounting a campaign to force intensified bombing on North Vietnam.

In this uproar, supporters of Johnson's limited-war policies seem largely to have gone underground temporarily. They have been reading polls that indicate a majority of the people are not satisfied with the way the war is going. Most of them are keeping quiet to see what happens.

Sen. Russell B. Long, of Louisiana, the assistant Democratic leader, made it clear the administration is banking heavily on the outcome of the September balloting to silence critics who say the United States should get out of Vietnam if the Saigon military regime perpetuates itself by rigging the election.

Long put into the record a statement urging his colleagues not to expect too much from a people struggling to "lay the first foundation stones of a democratic system."

The assistant leader said he gathers that critics who spoke at length in the Senate Friday are "unhappy that full fledged democracy has not suddenly been born in the trouble countryside of Vietnam."

"They seem to expect the Vietnamese to do in a few months what we and others have been trying to do for nearly two centuries— not always with unblemished success," he said.

Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, D-N.Y., insisted that something more is needed than just sending observers to South Vietnam. A Saigon government invitation to have a congressional delegation observe the campaigning and voting was rejected by leaders of both parties.

Kennedy said in an interview that American diplomatic and press representatives can be counted upon to report fully and fairly on the campaign and election. He said such reports indicate the elections "already may have become fraudulent."

With presidential backers such as Sen. John O. Pastore, D-R.I., joining in demands for reassessment of the American commitment if the elections are rigged, Johnson's support seems to be eroding somewhat.

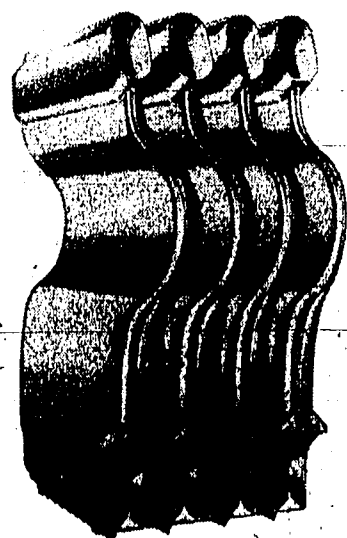

On the other hand, the hawks are trying through a parade of military witnesses before the Senate preparedness subcommittee to push Johnson into escalating the bombing of North Vietnam.

Mary wrote the lyrics to "Queen of the House," a big smash, as well as the words and music to most of her own Capitol recordings. Many of her songs have been recorded by the top recording artists in the business. Recently Dean Martin recorded "Today Is Not the Day," another of Mary's songs.

Fresh Guerrilla Surge May Result From Castro's Oratory

By FENTON WHEELER Associated Press Writer

HAVANA (AP)— A burst of fiery oratory from Fidel Castro has sent Latin America's leftists home to carry out the resolutions of revolt they adopted here last week. Observers say the result may be a fresh guerrilla surge for "Latin Power."

Whatever its long-term success, the first conference of the Latin American Organization of Solidarity gave Castro an unparalleled platform to expound his activist revolutionary line. Events were carefully arranged to make it that way. The phrase "Latin Power" reflected the presence of Stokely Carmichael, Black Power advocate from the United States and Castro's prize exhibit at the 11-day meeting. The Communist prime minister called Carmichael "comrade" and urged U.S. Negroes to join Latin American leftists in a common revolutionary movement. When the conference hit a lull early last week, the Cuban government brought out six captured exiles from Florida whom it accused of being agents of the U.S. Central Intelligence Agency hired to kill Castro. Before the meeting ended Thursday, Castro's partisans got the delegates from 27 hemisphere nations to declare support for the Communists in Vietnam, the Black Power movement in the United States and for guerrillas in Colombia, Bolivia, Venezuela and Guatemala. The organization appears to be a better vehicle for revolution in the hemisphere than was the tricontinental-anti-imperialist conference that spanned it here in January, 1966. That meeting of 500 leftists from Asia and Latin America was plagued by the Soviet-Red Chinese ideological dispute. This conference had its differences, too, between proguerrilla delegates and more moderate revolutionaries who were mostly members of established Communist parties. But these differences were muted in a declaration that Castro's policy of armed revolution is basic but that less violent means are acceptable temporarily if they lead to the same end. Castro appears to have caught the imagination of the hemisphere's young leftists with his slogan that the only real revolutionary is he who acts like one.

Hearing Set Aug. 29 On Regulations For Billboards, Junkyards, Dumps

A hearing on proposed rules and regulations controlling billboards, junkyards and dumps adjacent to Idaho's interstate and primary highway system will be held at 8 p.m. Aug. 29 in the district court room, Twin Falls County Courthouse, according to officials of the Highway Board, Boise.

Under the law, the Department of Highways has the responsibility of screening existing junkyards within 1,000 feet of the interstate and primary highways outside of zoned and unzoned industrial areas. However, owners of dumps, not classified as a business, would be required to screen or eliminate them.

License will be required of all junkyard and billboard owners, and permits will be required of dump owners. In addition, individual permits must be obtained from the department for each billboard.

The Highway Board agreed that it should go to the hearings with a proposal that billboards in zoned and unzoned industrial, business and commercial areas along primary highways should be a minimum of 50 feet apart. The proposed rules would space billboards in such areas on the interstate highways system a minimum of 500 feet apart.

Soldiers Wear Kilts, But Miniskirts Not Popular

By JAMES M. LONG
 ATHENS, Greece (AP) — In this country where the toughest soldiers wear the shortest kilts, the miniskirt for women has simply not caught on.

Strangely enough, it's the army big brass that likes the skirts on the elite Royal Palace Guard but doesn't like them on the girls.

Even so, the puritanically inclined colonels in the junta that seized power in Greece April 21 are not about to risk ridicule by banning the miniskirt outright. But the official frown seems to be enough.

Some of the smart little side-street boutiques do have some shapely plastic models decked out in miniskirts that are cool enough for Carnaby Street.

But inside a saleslady explains: "They're mostly just a window attraction. People stop and look, all right. BUT THEY DON'T BUY."

When the military regime announced its widely criticized ban on beatniks, it also ruled out miniskirts for school girls. That ban was not extended to women in general. But women in general seemed to go along with it.

They couldn't compete with the Evzones anyway.

The tough guardsmen wear a centuries-old folk costume with a flaring, pleated, white skirt that is about as mini as possible. Full-length white stocking-leggings are worn underneath.

Mr. Ulrich has earned letters in basketball and football at Twin Falls High School, where he will be a senior this fall.

Jay Ulrich Attends Fellowship Of Christian Athletes Meeting

Jay Ulrich, 17, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Ulrich, Route 1, Kimberly, left Saturday afternoon to attend a conference of the Fellowship of Christian Athletes to be held through next week at Estes Park, Colo., according to Rev. Forrest J. Hibbard, chairman of the Support of Churches Committee, Twin Falls Kiwanis Club.

At the conference, he will meet with well-known athletes in "huddle groups," in which they will "share their Christian faith and study their faith," according to Rev. Hibbard.

Those who have attended in past years include Felipe Alou, Billy Wade, Don Demeter, Bobby Richardson, Vernon Law and Otto Graham.

Coach Eddie Sutton, head coach at the College of Southern Idaho, also is a member of the FCA.

During the conference, clinics on baseball, football and basketball also will be conducted, Rev. Hibbard said.

Decree By Pope Boosts Rome Curia

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pope Paul VI decreed today that bishops chosen from dioceses around the world would be assigned posts in the Rome Curia to give the Vatican wider international representation.

The decree put into effect a recommendation of the 1962-65 Vatican Ecumenical Council.

It is part of the developing process of reforming the traditional conservative Curia, a process recommended by the council and promised by the Pope.

Pope Paul declared that appointment of the diocesan bishops — ordinarily seven for each Curia congregation — would be up to him.

He said that to avoid excessive interference with their diocesan duties, the bishops would normally come to Rome only for an annual plenary meeting of the congregation to which they are assigned.

But the bishops will have full membership rights along with the Curia Cardinals resident in Rome who are assigned full time to the Curia, the central offices of the Roman Catholic Church.

This marks a major step forward for the bishops in the overall running of the church's affairs.

Albertsons Buy Colorado Stores

BOISE (AP) — Albertson's Inc., a Boise-based food store chain, announced Saturday the purchase of eight supermarkets in the Denver and Colorado Springs areas of Colorado.

The stores formerly were owned by Furr's Inc., the announcement said, and the sale is effective Sunday.

J. L. Scott, president, said the stores are the first for Albertson's in the Denver area. He announced appointment of Warren McCain, now district manager at Cheyenne, Wyo., as Albertson's Denver district manager.

The acquisition increases the Albertson chain to 196 stores, Scott said.

14 Graduated From CSI Practical Nursing Course

Fourteen members of the 12th Magic Valley Memorial Hospital-College of Southern Idaho practical nursing course received graduation certificates during a brief ceremony at the hospital Friday.

The ceremony marked the completion of the second such course to be sponsored by CSI. Since the course was initiated in Twin Falls in 1952, 188 licensed practical nurses have been graduated.

This year's course began Sept. 12, 1966, after careful screening of each of the prospective students. Applicants each take two tests, one given by the office of the employment security agency and one by the National League for Nursing. In addition to the testing, each applicant has a physical examination and must submit a transcript of prior schooling.

Final selection of students is done by the Practical Nurse Advisory Committee, which is composed of hospital, college and school officials and nursing personnel.

The course includes instruction in all areas of nursing and the hospital and is divided into 600 hours of academic instruction and 1,200 hours of clinical work. Included in the academic theory are vocational adjustment, anatomy and physiology, nursing fundamentals, individual, family and community health, basic nutrition, the life span, drugs and solutions, maternal and newborn care.

King Gives Reasons For Rioting

By MIKE BARRON
ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. blames racial rioting in America on the Johnson administration, timid white moderates and a Congress he says is "more anti-Negro than anurat."

America must listen to the advocates of nonviolence or violence may result, the Negro civil rights leader told the National Association of Radio Announcers Friday night.

"We must all learn to live together as brothers, or we will all perish together as fools," he declared.

King said he still believed nonviolence is the Negro's best weapon in his struggle for freedom. "Riots hurt more Negroes than anything else," he said.

The blame for riots can be laid to four things, he said, adding that he was not only going to condemn riots but point out "the real culprits."

1. "Timid white moderates who believe more in order than in justice."

2. "A national administration which is more concerned with winning the war in Vietnam than in winning the war on poverty."

3. "A national administration which spends $500,000 to kill an enemy soldier but only $53 to aid a poverty-stricken man."

4. "An insensitive Congress which is more anti-Negro than anurat." He referred to Congress' vote against the rat control bill and its reduction of the demonstration cities bill.

Scholars Meet For Conference

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP) — Scholars from as far away as Outer Mongolia gathered in Ann Arbor today for the 27th Congress of Orientalists.

The conference, which opens Sunday at the University of Michigan and will meet through the week, is being held in the United States for the first time.

Some 1,500 scholars from universities throughout the world are attending, and some 500 papers will be presented.

Sponsors of the conference said that long-range effects of the Congress will be reflected in new curriculums, new approaches to scholarship and possibly new national programs.

Rings

DETROIT (AP) — Five thousand times a month, Detroiters pull up to parking meters and, instead of depositing a nickel, insert a pulling-ring from a beer can.

Deputy City Treasurer Robert Temple said Friday his department and the Department of Streets and Traffic have collected more than 20,000 of the rings in the last five months.

Temple said he has heard that major can companies met with meter manufacturers last month in an effort to prevent further use of beer can rings.

Meteors Help Solve Riddle Of Reception

WASHINGTON (AP) — The currently appearing, fast-stepping Perseid meteors have won credit for giving scientists new help towards solving a celestial riddle bearing on night-time radio reception.

The annual Perseid shower—a five-or-six-day event peaking to night—is one of nature's most spectacular free shows.

Dr. Herbert Friedman of the Naval Research Laboratory, a pioneering rocket-astronomer, told a reporter the current Perseid display has yielded new evidence that may help unravel a mystery of the radio signal-reflecting ionosphere. The latter begins some 60 miles above the earth.

He said an Aerobee rocket fired from White Sands, N.M., before daybreak Friday gave perhaps the strongest evidence yet that meteor debris may keep the ionosphere perking at night. The rocket was fired when a few Perseids were beginning to appear.

Friedman, explaining the sun is the ultimate generating force in creating the ionosphere—a blanket of electrified air—said scientists long have been hard put to explain why the blanket persists at night, after the sun goes down.

But lately, he said, there has been growing evidence—strengthened by Friday's rocket-shoot—that debris from burned-out meteors provides a kind of reservoir of electrified atoms lasting through the night. And this, he said, apparently sustains the ionosphere when the sun has fled.

Congolese Charges Are Disclaimed

LISBON, Portugal (AP) — A foreign Ministry spokesman said today Congolese charges that mercenaries were operating out of Angola were "false, ridiculous and without foundation."

"This is not the first time such charges have been made and for the Congo to continue to make them is ridiculous in view of the fact that guerrillas trained in the Congo operate in Angola," he said.

Congolese Foreign Minister Justin Bomboko said in a letter to the U.N. Security Council that radio communications had been intercepted between mercenary troops in Bukavu in the Eastern Congo and two bases in the Portuguese African territory of Angola. He also asserted that a number of former mercenaries and planes were in the Angolan capital of Luanda and declared that this was contrary to Security Council resolutions which call on governments to prevent their territories from being used to plan the overthrow of the Congolese government.

Probe Slated For Cause Of Rioting

By JOHN CHADWICK

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. John L. McClellan says he'll begin immediately to carry out a Senate mandate for a full-scale investigation of Negro rioting across the land.

The Senate adopted a resolution Friday night assigning the probe to its permanent investigations subcommittee, a nine-member unit headed by McClellan, an Arkansas Democrat and veteran of numerous previous Senate crime probes.

After nearly three hours of debate, however, the Senate rejected 36 to 26 an amendment to specify the investigation should include social and economic causes having a bearing on the violent disorders.

Sen. John Sherman Cooper, R-Ky., and others who supported his amendment, said the Senate should let slum residents know that its intent was not to suppress those responsible for the riots.

As Sen. Phillip A. Hart, D-Mich., put it, the Senate should give assurance it does not believe that "night sticks and riot guns" alone will provide domestic tranquility.

McClellan, however, contended the resolution as written was all-inclusive. He assured Cooper, "There is not one thing your amendment calls for that will not be done."

The resolution authorizes $150,000 for the investigation. It sets deadlines of Oct. 2 for an interim report and July 31, 1968, for a final report. It was approved by a 59-0 vote.

McClellan told a reporter after the vote he will assemble additional staff as quickly as possible, probably drawing in part on government agencies. Meanwhile, he said, the present staff will lay groundwork for hearings.

He said it was impossible at this time to say when hearings would get started, but added "the expectation and intent" is to cover all aspects of the civil disorders.

Asked if Black Power advocates such as Stokely Carmichael and H. Rap Brown might be called to testify, McClellan said he was sure their activities would be investigated.

But he said he did not think the subcommittee would want to give them "a forum to spew their poison."

Toastmistress Workshop Slated

BURLEY — A council officers training conference for Snake River Region, International Toastmistress Clubs, will be held Aug. 26 at the Owyhee Hotel, Boise. Council Seven of Snake River Region includes clubs from Burley and two clubs in Twin Falls.

The conference will begin at 10 a.m. under the direction of Esther Corrigan, Regional Supervisor. Reports will be heard for various officers of the region including Mrs. Olin Baker, Burley regional treasurer.

A question and answer assembly will be held prior to the luncheon at noon. Forms will be held during the afternoon and the meeting will adjourn at 3:30 p.m. officials announce. The theme will be "Now is the Time."

Mrs. Baker recently returned home from attending the International Toastmistress Convention at the International Hotel, Los Angeles Airport. Nearly 1,000 members of the organization were registered for the convention with several foreign countries represented.

The Snake River Regional Conference for 1968 will be held at Sun Valley, hosted by Council Eight, Pocatello.

Commemorated

LONDON (AP) — Karl Marx, the father of communism, was commemorated today in this city of capitalism.

A round, blue plaque was unveiled at 28 Dean St. in the Soho district, one of five places where Marx lived in the 34 years he spent in London. The plaque reads: "Karl Marx 1818-1883 lived here 1851-1856." The site now is occupied by an Italian restaurant.

Married

NEW YORK (AP) — To the tune of foghorns in New York Harbor and the Statue of Liberty as a witness, a young "mod" couple were married Friday aboard a tugboat.

The bride, Susan Patner, 21, wore a modest mini-wedding gown. Her nails had been painted in psychedelic colors by her groom, Michael Horn, 24, a mod-music composer and freelance artist.

The couple, natives of Chicago, intend to marry again Aug. 29 in their home city at a formal Jewish ceremony.

Unique Fair Booth Is Planned

FILER — This year, Twin Falls County fairgoers will view one of the most unique fair booth exhibits ever displayed by the Idaho Department of Highways, according to officials at the department.

Theme of the exhibit is "Panorama 1967", including a series of professionally prepared slide presentations that will take fairgoers over the major highways in Idaho, and help tell the Highway story to the public. A large color map of Idaho, with information panels, orients the visitor as he tours Idaho.

Persons viewing the display will be counted by an ultrasonic head which reflects a signal from the person and activates a counter to compile figures of how many people have seen the display.

"Comment cards" also will be used. The public is invited to discuss highway matters with a Highway Department representative personally, or they may fill out cards which will be collected. Complete information will be sent back to inquirers by mail.

The Twin Falls County Fair will be held Sept. 6-9 at the Filer Fairgrounds, and the public is invited to attend.

2 Idahoans Attend Meet

DENVER (AP) — Two Idaho state officials and two legislators were listed Saturday as participants in the annual Western Conference of the Council of State Governments beginning Sunday.

The conference president, Washington State Sen. Al Henry, predicted about 200 state lawmakers and officials would attend the meeting.

Among Idahoans attending will be Rep. William Laning, R-Twin Falls, who is vice president of the conference and speaker of the Idaho House of Representatives, Harold Snow, R-Moscow, Atty. Gen. Allan G. Shepard and Agriculture Commissioner Stanley Trenhaile.

Straw Stack Still Smoking Near Wendell

WENDELL — A straw stack fire at the M. M. Hunter farm southeast of Wendell was still smoldering Saturday afternoon as members of the family began to assess the damage caused to a truck, tractor, hay baler, hay chopper and pickup by the blaze.

The fire was reportedly ignited as a load of straw was being unloaded from the truck at about 8:30 p.m. Friday. Two fire trucks and 10 men from the Wendell Fire Department and one truck from the Jerome Fire Department had the fire under control by early Saturday morning.

An all-night watch on the blaze was maintained by five members of the Wendell Fire Department. The farm is located about five and one-half miles south and one and one-half miles east of Wendell. Exact cause and amount of damage caused by the fire is under investigation.

Course May Be Offered On Shelters

UNIVERSITY OF IDAHO, Moscow — Tentative arrangements have been made to offer a college credit course in fallout shelter analysis at Idaho Falls during the fall semester 1967-68, announced Dr. Paul Kaus, coordinator of continuing education at the university, announced Saturday.

According to Dr. Kaus, the course is designed especially for professional architects and engineers, and enrollment will be limited to those individuals, he said.

Seniors majoring in architecture or engineering may enroll, but cannot be certified until after they complete their degrees. The course is made possible through a contract with the National Society of Professional Engineers.

Prof. Rosario Fasolino, Idaho State University department of architecture, Pocatello, will instruct the course. He will be assisted by Prof. Ralph Binford, ISU, engineering department, and David Hanson, University of Idaho civil defense extension program.

Credit will be offered for the course by ISU, with registration via Idaho Continuing Education. Three hours of undergraduate or graduate credit will be offered upon successful completion.

Successful completion will result in national certification by the Office of Civil Defense, Department of the Army, as a qualified fallout shelter analyst.

REGISTRATION EARLIER
UNIVERSITY OF PORTLAND, Ore.—Registration will be one week earlier than in past years, with residence halls opening Sept. 6, and registration for freshmen and new students set for Sept. 7, according to officials at the university. ## Wall Begun 7 Years Ago guards. The guards' number 14, per 70 persons have been 500 along West Berlin's 100-mile borders with East Germany.

BERLIN (AP) — The Communists started building the Berlin Wall seven years ago Sunday—and there is no sign that the barrier will come down.

West German statistics give the number of East German refugees who fled to the west from Aug. 13, 1961, through the end of 1966 as 25,180, despite the wall and mine fields along the East German border.

The anniversary of the wall the Communists started building Aug. 13, 1961 is particularly bitter for many citizens because there have been no general passes for West Berliners to go to East Berlin for 14 months.

The East German regime has refused to negotiate a new passage agreement unless a measure of recognition is included. The West does not recognize East Germany.

West Berlin city authorities hope to break the deadlock in the next few months so there may be passes again by Christmas.

The Communists never have stopped improving the barriers that ring West Berlin since the East Germans first put up the wall to halt a massive flow of refugees.

In the past year, they have accelerated work on a new, higher wall and mesh fences that replace barbed wire. They have laced a border death strip with a moat-like ditch to stop any vehicles from attempting to break through.

In the past week, they again plowed under or removed graves from a cemetery along the mid-city wall to improve visibility for their border

WELL DONE !

Beef production is big business in Idaho. White faced Herefords, Angus and Shorthorns grow fat by the thousands on Idaho's fertile rangelands. There is a constant demand in markets throughout the west for this superb quality beef. Natural gas plays an important roll in Idaho's meat packing industry. Packing plants require steam and hot water in huge and endless quantities. Natural gas heats water faster for less money than any other source of energy.

The availability of natural gas has attracted 100 new industries to Idaho and made it possible for many more to expand their facilities by converting to gas. Today, Intermountain Gas Company is supplying natural gas to 64,000 residential, commercial and industrial customers throughout southern Idaho at a cost equal to or below that of any other natural gas utility in the northwest.

Eight Fires Burning On Area Land

Heavy clouds and accompanying rashes of lightning brought the total number of fires reported on Sawtooth National Forest land to eight Saturday, Forest Service fire dispatcher Darrell Smith reported.

Lightning-caused fires were reported in the Howell Canyon area near the Pomerelle Ski Lift above Burley and in the Black Pine Division south and east of Malta. Both fires were controlled by Saturday afternoon.

The Howell Canyon blaze burned less than an acre of Douglas Fir before being brought under control by four firefighters. The fire was reported at 9 a.m. Saturday.

Only two men were required to bring the Black Pine Division fire under control. The fire burned less than an acre after being spotted Saturday morning. Reeder Flying Service planes and Forest Service officials continued to patrol the area, which is now generally listed in the high to very high fire condition category, by plane Saturday. No new spot fires were reported, although several have been located by air within the last few weeks, Ken Heppner of the flying service said.

Drying vegetation is causing a rapid rise in the fire hazard in the Sawtooth area, George B. Fry, Twin Falls district forest ranger, noted. The large amount of vegetation produced by this year's wet spring is now drying out and this abundance of fuel is causing concern to local foresters.

As of Saturday, eight fires had been reported in the area, three of which were man-caused. "It is extremely important that good fire prevention is used by all visitors to the National Forests to prevent costly fires," Mr. Fry concluded.

Two TBM planes from the Reeder Flying Service had earlier Saturday been dispatched to brush fire behind the FMC chemical plant west of Pocatello, Mr. Heppner reported. The fire was reported by the Chink's Peak lookout station near Pocatello at about 3 p.m. Friday, and was brought under control after about seven hours. Some 600 acres of grass-covered land burned.

Crews from Burley, Pocatello and the Fort Hall Indian Reservation battled the blaze, according to Charles Falk, investigation officer with the Bureau of Land Management District Office in Burley.

Senate Bans Use Of Funds For Soviets

By JOE HALL
WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate, dealing a sharp blow to President Johnson's bid for expanding U.S.-Communist bloc trade, has voted to ban use of Export-Import Bank financing for a Soviet auto plant.

Voice vote adoption of this ban Friday along with earlier acceptance of another prohibiting Export-Import Bank financing of exports to countries which trade with North Vietnam represented stiff personal setbacks for the President.

Johnson, in a speech last year, specifically endorsed Export-Import Bank financing for purchase by Italy's Fiat Motor Co. of $50 million in American machine tools to be used in a plant Fiat will build in the Soviet Union.

A long-time Republican foe of Johnson's proposals to increase East-West trade hailed Friday's action as sounding the death knell for such an expansion.

And, added Sen. Karl E. Mundt of South Dakota, sponsor of the ban: "It is likely to shorten the war in Vietnam."

After adopting Mundt's amendment, the Senate passed by voice vote the bill extending the life of the Export-Import Bank for five years.

That action sent the measure to the House, where Democratic leaders have predicted it will encounter further difficulties.

Sponsors said it was unlikely the House would begin debating the bill until after the 10-day Labor Day recess.

Good Economic News Boosts Plan

By EDMOND LeBRETON
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson's forces, heading for a showdown with an unhappy Congress on increasing taxes, have picked up some last-minute ammunition in the form of favorable economic news.

The administration is sending to the opening hearing Monday by the House Ways and Means Committee its first-string fiscal team—Secretary of the Treasury Henry G. Fowler, Chairman Gardner Ackley of the Council of Economic Advisers and Budget Director Charles L. Schultze.

To back up their arguments that the national economy is strong enough to stand a 10 percent surcharge of individual and corporate income taxes and postponement of excise reductions they can cite a series of upward-pointing developments.

Of 21 economic indicators culled from business statistics, 17 now point upward. A final bonus was a Commerce Department report that, for the first time in six years, manufacturing and trade inventories have declined.

The buildup of the stocks of unsold goods, getting in the way of new factory output, had been one of the main reasons for doubting government experts' predictions that economy would have to convince the lawmakers to stand a 10 percent surcharge of individual and corporate income taxes and postponement of excise reductions they can cite a series of upward-pointing developments.

Johnson's surcharge proposals would mean tax increases like these, selected from Treasury computations:

For a married man with two children earning $5,000, no increase over what he paid last year; for the $7,500 family, $69 more; for the $10,000 family, $111 more; for the $20,000 family, $316 more.

With few exceptions outside the Democratic leadership, congressional reaction to such proposals has ranged from outright opposition to statements that the administration will

Encouraging Signs Point To Climb From Doldrums

By JACK LEFLER AP Business Writer NEW YORK (AP)—The economy produced encouraging signs this past week of the start of a climb from the doldrums in which business wallowed during most of the first half of this year.

—Retail sales increased in June to a record total. These developments and other factors prompted Secretary of the Treasury Henry H. Fowler to say that the danger of recession is now past and the outlook is for economic expansion.

So great was the interest in the market, however, that on Wednesday volume soared to 10.1 million shares, well above the record-breaking average of 9.9 million shares for the first seven months of this year.

Great activity by the so-called "performance" mutual funds and other institutional investors which are adopting more and more of a trading attitude rather than an investment attitude was cited as a reason for the heavy trading.

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Orlando Cepeda singled home Curt Flood with the winning run in the sixth inning and Jack Lamabe pitched 6-2-3 innings of scoreless relief as St. Louis edged San Francisco 3-2 Saturday Night.

Flood's triple to right-center field had driven home Roger Maris with the tying run before Cepeda's sharp single.

Allison Belts Homer For Twins Victory

MINNEAPOLIS — ST. PAUL (AP) — Bob Allison belted a three-run homer to cap a four-run Minnesota uprising in the seventh inning Saturday which carried the Twins to a 6-2 victory over American League leading Chicago.

The victory pulled the surging Twins who have won four of five games, within a half game of the White Sox.

Allison, on a hitting rampage with nine hits in 15 times at bat, slammed a pitch from Hoyt Wilhelm 390 feet to left-center as the Twins paraded four unearned runs across the plate in the inning.

Chicago got runs off winner Jim Kaat, 9-11, in the first and fourth and touched Kaat for nine hits, but could do no more damage. Rocky Colavito singled home a run in the first and Ron Hansen drove in the run in the fourth with a single.

Koonce, acquired early this week from the Chicago Cubs, allowed the only Pirates' run in the first inning when Willie

Plans Are Still On For Fight

NEW YORK (AP) — Plans went ahead Saturday to hold Wednesday night's lightweight title bout between champion Carlos Ortiz and Ismael Laguna as scheduled despite police concern over a possible riot.

The fight is slated for Shea Stadium. "The fight will go on and we will have an orderly bout," Harry Markson, director of the sponsoring Madison Square Garden Corporation, said. "We have enough private police to insure security."

Mayor Lindsay earlier released an exchange of letters between Police Commissioner Howard Leary and State Athletic Commissioner Edwin Dooley in which Dooley asked for more police protection and Leary replied in part:

"In view of the dangers inherent with these contests, cited in your letter and our experiences with recent local disorders, I find it difficult to understand why these bouts have been authorized by the Commission for this summer."

In the past 21 months there have been three riots in Madison Square Garden after bouts involving Puerto Rican boxers. Ortiz is from Puerto Rico, Laguna from Panama. The Puerto Rican population in the city is around one million. It is estimated there are 5,000 Panamanians here with 2,000 others perhaps flying in for the fight.

Three Share Lead After Third Round In American Golf Classic

By JOE MOOSHIL-Associated Press Sports Writer AKRON, Ohio (AP) — South African Allan Henning, Kermit Zarley and Jack McGowan—a threesome with only one tournament victory among them—tied for the lead Saturday in a helicopter-skelter third round of the $125,000 American Golf Classic.

All three were two strokes under par with one round to go and a shaky one stroke ahead of the more illustrious pair of Jack Nicklaus and Arnold Palmer.

Henning, a 23-year-old with a mod haircut who is making the tour for the first time, and Zarley, 25, have never won on the pro tour. McGowan, 36, a pro for 12 years, claims victory only in the 1964 Mountain View Open.

All three took advantage of the collapse of Rex Baxter Jr., who led the tournament after 36 holes and went from six under par to one over in a disastrous round of 42-35—77 and a 211 total, three strokes behind the leaders.

Angels Score 2-1 Victory Over Boston

ANAHEIM (AP) — Jim Fregosi delivered a tie-breaking single in the sixth inning Saturday night and Minnie Rojas hurled three shutout innings of relief as the California Angels beat Boston 2-1.

The victory was the Angels' third straight and lifted fifth place California within two games of the American League lead.

A pinch double by Tom Satriano and a sacrifice by Jose Cardenal set the stage for Fregosi to break a 1-1 tie with his sixth-inning infield hit off loser Gary Bell.

Rojas hurled the last three innings to save the victory for Jack Hamilton, 6-2. The Red Sox tied the game against Hamilton in the third inning when Reggie Smith singled, Bell sacrificed and Joe Foy singled.

Don Mincher hit his 18th homer of the season for the Angels in the second inning. The victory was California's 41st in its last 62 games.

Fighter Retains Flyweight Crown
BUENOS AIRES (AP) — Horacio Accavallo of Argentina retained his world flyweight boxing championship by outpointing Hiroiyuki Ebihara, the Japanese challenger, in their 15-round title bout Saturday night.

A crowd of 21,500 saw the fight at the indoor Luna Park Stadium and paid a gross of $57,000.

LOW NET WINNERS in the Times-News Women's golf tournament in Gooding were, kneeling from left, Lera Bruce, Jerome, and Barbara Harder, both of whom were low net in the second flight behind Oleta Hahn, Buhl, and would have been in a playoff if Mrs. Hahn had won low gross honors, since a golfer could not win both divisions of a flight. Standing from left are Lois Anderson, Rupert, low net winner in third flight; Ethel Martin, Jerome, low net in fourth flight; Sharon Peterson, Buhl, low net in first flight; Helen Spradling, Buhl, who lost playoff with Doris Kays, Jerome, far right, for low net in championship flight. Fifty area women were entered in the annual event.

U.S. Women Lead In Wightman Cup Event

By RICHARD H. SMITH
CLEVELAND (AP) — With straight set victories, the top two U.S. women's singles players got the United States off to a 2-0 lead in opening day play of the 39th Wightman Cup matches Saturday.

Nancy Richey of San Angelo, Tex., playing in the No. 2 spot, upset Great Britain's No. 1 female player, Mrs. Ann Haydon Jones, 6-2, 6-2 after Mrs. Billie Jean King had beaten Britain's Virginia Wade, 6-3, 6-2 in the opening match.

The best-of-seven series sends Miss King of Long Beach, Calif., and Rosemary Casals of San Francisco against Britain's Christine Truman and Miss Wade in doubles Sunday. The third singles match Sunday has Miss Truman opposing Miss Casals.

Two singles and a double match conclude play Monday. The United States has won six years in a row and leads 32-6 in the competition begun in 1923.

The United States and Britain compete annually for the Cup, a test between each country's top amateur women tennis players.

Miss Richey won applause from the crowd of 5,285 as she demolished the 28-year-old British star with a service that took three games at love and a hard-hitting ground-game that kept Miss Jones from doing anything at the net.

Miss Richey, 24, broke the British veteran's service in the first game of the first set and again in the seventh game. Miss Jones saved her service in a 24-point struggle in the fifth game, but then lost seven straight games.

Miss Richey lost her own service only once, in the sixth game of the second set when she double faulted twice and held a 4-1 lead.

Her victory took only 55 minutes and Mrs. King, the Wimbledon champion, needed only 47 minutes to dispose of

Hunters Get Concessions On Waterfowl

WASHINGTON (AP) — Hunters of migratory waterfowl got a few concessions in the official regulations announced Saturday by Secretary of the Interior Stewart L. Udall.

Generally, the regulations are a little more restrictive on ducks, because the government's experts say the fall flights probably will be down from last year due to a disruption of early nesting.

But the Atlantic Flyway won a continuation of its special season on black ducks in Maine, Massachusetts and New Hampshire, although on a reduced scale.

And the Pacific Flyway will be allowed a daily bag and possession limit of two canvasbacks whereas the other three flyways must hold it down to one in the bag and one in possession.

Favorites Are Victors In Net Event

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP) — Favorites Rod Laver and Dennis Ralston stormed into the finals of the $15,000 Colonial National Invitation Tournament Saturday.

The top-seeded Laver, displaying his customary finesse, whipped Pancho Gonzalez, one of the game's all-time greats, 9-7, 6-3. Gonzalez was seeded fourth.

Ralston, the No. 2 seed, banged out a 6-1, 6-8, 6-4 decision in a blistering match with third seeded Fred Stolle, the lanky Australian with the whistling serve.

Ralston, rookie sensation of the professional tour, and Laver, current ruler of the tour, clash for the championship Sunday night.

The winner will pocket $1,700. The runnerup will receive $1,250.

Schollander Churns To Set Pending Record At National AAU Swim Meet

By JERRY LISKA
Associated Press Sports Writer
CHICAGO (AP) — Don Schollander, 1964 Olympic star, blasted an "old man" role with a fantastic clocking of 1:55.7 in the 200-meter freestyle to take the spotlight from still-sizzling

17-year-old Mark Spitz Saturday in the National AAU outdoor swimming meet.

Schollander, a badly beaten fifth in Friday's 400-meter freestyle, slashed three tenths of a second from his pending world 200 freestyle record of 1:56.9 set in the recent Pan-American Games. He also smashed his current world record of 1:56.2.

Spitz, meanwhile, became a double winner by grabbing the 200-meter butterfly title in 2:06.4 to match his pending world record also set in the Pan-Am Games two weeks ago. Friday, Spitz took the 100-meter butterfly in :56.7, bettering the existing world mark, but below his pending world mark of 56.3.

Two other double winners appeared in the second day of competition at the new Rehm pool in the Chicago suburb of Oak Park.

Charles Hickcox of Indiana University swam the second-fastest 100-meter backstroke in history at :59.7 and added that to the 200-meter backstroke he won Friday. Hickcox, of the Indiana Athletic Club and Phoenix, Ariz., was one-tenth a second slower than the 100-meter backstroke world record of 59.6 set by Thompson Mann of the U.S. in the 1964 Olympics.

Ken Merten a graduate of Southern Methodist, added the 200-meter-breast stroke crown to the 100-meter breaststroke title he won Friday.

Schollander finished eight feet ahead of Greg Charlton of Arcadia, Calif., to retain his 200-meter freestyle title.

Charlton's second place time was 1:58.1. Third place went to Canadian-Ralph-Hutton, representing the Football Athletic Club of California, in 1:59.1.

The breathless Schollander, 21, commented after his record-smashing race: "I wanted to squelch the rumor that I'm an old man which I didn't particularly feel happy reading about after my 400 race."

Schollander won the 100 and 400 meter races in the 1964 Olympics, where he also won gold medals on two free-style teams.

Firms Won't Make Offer Until Aug. 28

By A.F. MAHAN
Associated Press Writer
DETROIT (AP) — General Motors, Ford and Chrysler aren't likely to make the United Auto workers a new contract offer before Aug. 28 or possibly Aug. 31.

A Chrysler vice president says it is "a fairly reasonable assumption" that no company offer will be made before a planned demonstration by skilled tradesmen Aug. 23, a week from next Wednesday.

There would be only a week left before current three-year agreements run out on Sept. 6 if an offer were delayed to Aug. 31.

Douglas Fraser, UAW Chrysler department director, said Friday "the longer the delay, the greater the risk" of strike.

By the 28th UAW negotiators are expected to have membership authority to call a strike if and when they decide one is necessary.

Fraser disclosed Friday that Chrysler local union leaders were told this week to begin bargaining on strike authorization as soon as they please and to have the results into UAW headquarters by Aug. 25. He said some locals likely will begin voting next week.

Previously, GM and Ford locals had been ordered to vote the week of Aug. 20. Presumably, their results also would be reported by the Friday of that week.

Overwhelming authorization is a foregone conclusion. Any other result would cut the ground from underneath UAW President Walter P. Reuther and his negotiating teams.

Between 200 and 300 skilled tradesmen from the Detroit area have defied UAW international headquarters and voted to carry through on a demonstration Aug. 23 at Ford headquarters.

UAW chiefs had recommended the demonstration be called off, holding it would be "ill advised and ill timed." They expressed fear it would hold up company offers and that a small turnout might embarrass negotiators.

The Battle of the Bands program, originated by John W. Agnew, Jr., a member of the Weymouth, Mass., Jaycees, began as a town project in 1963 ton Gardens.

This year there are 29 states represented and Jaycee officials expect all states to be represented in 1968. The first International Battle of the Bands is slated for 1969.

The Money Box

BY FRANK SCHELL

First letter this week comes from Mr. A. L. Hagerman, Idaho and reads: "I found an 1892 Indian Head Penny. Could you tell me how much this coin is worth?"

Answer: The 1892 Indian Head was minted in the number of 37,649,832 pieces—and it is not a scarce item. The price range on this cent ranges from 30 cents in Good Condition up to $3.00-in-Very-Fine.

I have no way of knowing how good your coin might be. Most of the Indian Head Cents from 1887 up to 1909 are quite common and were minted in very large numbers, except for the 1894, the 1908-S and 1909-S.

From Mrs. R. D., Burley, Idaho: "I have saved a lot of those 1943 lead pennies. Are they worth anything more than face value, and what are the chances they will increase in value?"

Answer: The 1943 cents were made of zinc-plated steel, not lead. Mintages from the three mints (Philadelphia, Denver and San Francisco) exceed one billion—and although the government has destroyed a great many of them, there are millions of them still outstanding. Very few people but have some of these around—saving them for a price raise.

At the present time, you can sell them, if not rusty, for about $2.50 a roll of 50, if Denver or San Francisco mints. The Philadelphia do not command much of a premium. There is not much chance that these coins will ever be very valuable—unless someone gets rid of them at the same time.

With reference to a great many letters we have had asking the value of Lincoln Cents: While a great many Lincolns command more than face value, there are actually only 16 dates which would bring you any appreciable amount over face value in the average condition found in circulation. The 1909-S has a mintage figure of less than 2 million, and is worth in the neighborhood of $25.00, the 1909-S-VDB, (484,000) commands a price of about $100.00 in Good (Average Circulated) condition.

The 1910-S, 1911-S, 1912-S, 1913-S are all worth in the neighborhood of $3.00. The 1914-D (2,000,000) is a $25.00 coin but increases rapidly in value in the better grades. Again, the 1914-S, the 1915-S, and 1922-D are about $2.00. There were no cents struck in Philadelphia in 1922, but the Denver Mint struck some after the die had filled with metal, and no "D" appears on these coins. The coin will bring you from $12.50 on up. The 1924-D is scarce, as are the 1926-S and 1931-D. The 1931-S was selling very high for a number of years, but has dropped considerably in value this past year and is valued at about $20.00 in Good condition. The 1933-D is hard to find and will bring you about a dollar.

In 1955 some of the Philadelphia Mint production of Lincoln cents was "double struck"—that is, all the lettering and Lincoln's head appear to be double—and this coin commands a premium of about $100.00. The only other scarce, coinage in the late years is the 1960-Philadelphia small date cent which is now selling for around $3.50 in brand new condition.

This is not to say that other Lincoln cents are not worth extra value—but they are not nearly as scarce nor expensive as some dealers would have you believe and a complete set of circulated Lincoln Cents, from 1909 to the present is selling for about $125.00; that is, the dealer will pay you that much for them. Any Lincoln Cents before 1940 in brilliant, uncirculated condition are worth much more than face value.

We have a letter from a young reader, A. N., in Buhl. I had an argument with a friend. I say the first coin to have the motto "In God We Trust" on it was the Lincoln cent. Is that right?"

Answer: You lose. The Lincoln Cent was the first cent to carry this motto, but the two-cent piece, minted in 1864, first carried the motto.

(Questions on coins and currency should be sent to The Money Box, c/o The Times-News, Twin Falls, Idaho 83301).

Idaho Medical Commission To Answer Two Questions

By EARLE L. JESTER
Associated Press Writer
BOISE (AP) — Two primary questions are before the eight-member Idaho Medical Study Commission and the answer to one likely will determine whether there is an answer for the second.

The commission was created by the 1967 Legislature and instructed to have a report ready by Nov. 1, 1968.

The legislation creating the commission does not, directly, ask the two questions. But state Sen. Fred Bagley, R-Boise, committee chairman, says it is clear what they are.

The first is: Does Idaho need a medical school?

And Bagley says that if investigation determines there is such a need, then the second question is: Can Idaho afford it?

That question needs to be answered only if the answer to the first is: Yes.

Idaho now is a member of the Western Interstate Commission for Higher Education, an organization formed many years ago. Its primary purpose is to bring about cooperation among states in the joint use of higher education facilities, particularly those of a technical nature.

Thus, a state which had a medical—or dental, or architectural, or veterinary—school, would make those facilities available on a resident basis to students of other states.

Instead of being required to pay non-resident fees to attend such a school, an out-of-state student would pay the same charges as would a resident—with his home state compensating the school for the difference.

To finance Idaho's participation in that program, the 1967 Legislature provided $550,000 for the two-year period which began last July 1.

Backers of a medical school for Idaho contend the program has not been completely satisfactory, that Idaho students, for example, have not always been able to obtain admission to medical schools on a basis comparable with home-state students.

The Idaho State Board of Education, to which the study commission's report must go, gave the new agency an outline of the course it might follow. The board emphasized that it was not attempting to dictate to the commission, but was simply offering suggestions.

"The basic question that must be answered by the investigation," the board said, "is essentially one of the feasibility of creating, designing, constructing staffing and operating a school of medicine in Idaho."

TWIN FALLS, IDAHO, SUNDAY, AUGUST 13, 1967

MISS TWIN FALLS, Velma Guyer, and Clyde Smith provided entertainment during the well attended Phi Theta Kappa Italian sidewalk cafe recently at the Lynwood Shopping Center. Both are students at the College of Southern Idaho.

The College of Southern Idaho has, for several years, been one of the things people in the Magic Valley area have been most proud of.

This pride has resulted in an almost fierce loyalty to its projects aimed at the education of the area's young people.

CSI scholastic leaders, members of the Phi Theta Kappa scholastic honorary recently became poignantly aware of this loyalty when they launched their first money raising project — an Italian pastry booth and sidewalk cafe at the Lynwood Shopping Center. The club members had hoped to raise $100 for a general scholarship to CSI.

Although the funds raised fell a little short of the goal, it was "not from lack of support," according to Phi Theta Kappa members.

Cakes, pies, cookies, doughnuts, etc., came from everywhere. Many people simply brought their goods, placed them at the booth with a "heard you were trying to raise money for a scholarship and thought you might need some help!" and walked off.

Many of the donating groups, according to Phi Theta Kappa president Joan Edwards, had not even been asked to contribute toward the project.

A run on bread and pies during the first day of the event induced Phi Theta Kappa members to conduct a midnight baking session.

Homemade bread proved to be the favorite with the many people who stopped at the booth. Tables were set up, Italian sidewalk cafe style, so patrons could eat their goodies there, or they could buy whole items of homebaked goods and take them home.

The scholarship is the first to be given by the club. Miss Edwards said that no stipulations about qualifying for the scholarship had yet been set by the honorary's 37 members.

Entertaining during the event were Miss Twin Falls, Velma Guyer; her sister, Joyce Guyer; Robert Thompson, Clyde Smith and Nancy Brackett.

Officers of the honorary, which is dedicated to the promotion of scholarship and service to the school and community are Miss Edwards, president; Larry Weeks, vice president; Kathy Meeks, secretary; Janice Jones, treasurer; Bruce Wojcik, historian, and Denise Keat, artist.

The club was chartered in the fall of 1966 during CSI's second year.

Donating goods for the booth were the American Association of University Women; the Junior Club; Modern Misses, Merry Marrieds and Neighborhood Club, all Homemakers Clubs; and 4-H clubs including Happy Go Lucky; Town and Country Lads and Lassies; Rim Rockettes; Country Cousins; Six-tenths; Starlighters; Handy Helpers; Happy Shamrocks; Classy Lassies; Stitch-n-Chat-ter; Clover Cookie Cutters and the Tip Top Club.

Mrs. Fran Tanner and Mrs. Marshall LeBaron are faculty advisors for Phi Theta Kappa.

Miss Edwards said it is hoped that the group can raise enough money each year to give an annual scholarship.

OH BOY! Look at all the goodies! Decisions, decisions was the problem of from left, Terry, Kevin and Jana Kramer, children of Mr. and Mrs. Don Kramer, as they decided what to buy during the Phi Theta Kappa sidewalk cafe.

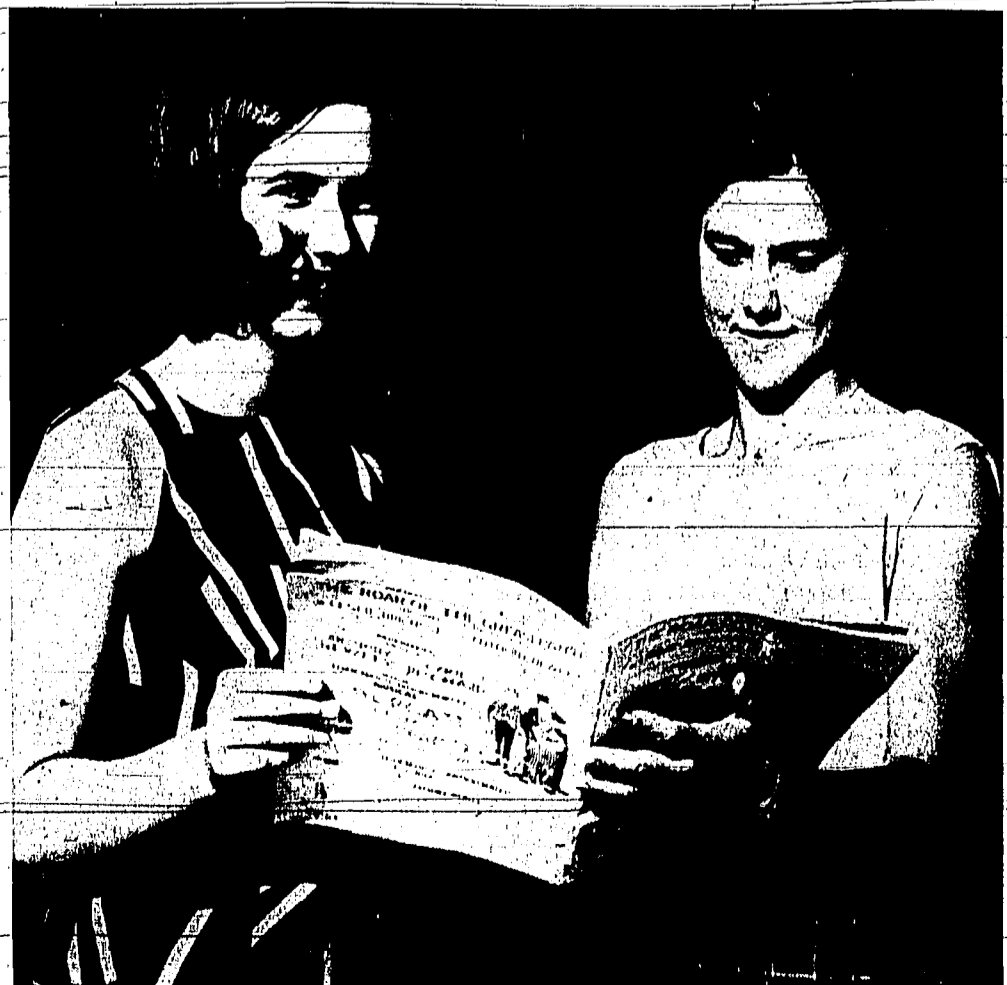

SHADY SPOT and cool refreshments at the Phi Theta Kappa Italian sidewalk cafe induced Mr. and Mrs. Gale Larson and son, Matt, Twin Falls, to stop and take a break.

Bernice Brooks (Bee) Whittlesey, daughter of Mrs. Horace Belden Whittlesey and the late Mr. Whittlesey, Twin Falls, was married to Wellington Conrad (Skip) Pierce, son of Mrs. J. K. Riggle, Kennewick, Wash., and the late W. C. Pierce, in rites July 20 at the Twin Falls First Presbyterian Church.

The double ring ceremony was performed by Rev. Earl C. Johnson before an altar banked with baskets of light yellow gladioli and white majestic daisies under a daisy-trimmed candle arch. The yellow and white theme was carried out in bouquets throughout the church and aisle candles set in variegated ivy with white bows.

The bride, given in marriage by her brother-in-law, John Hadley Hemingway, wore a Bridal Original gown in candlelight of Gazar.

The gown was fashioned in an empire silhouette with Venise lace motifs and shell edging on the sleeves. The skirt, bordered with matching Venise lace, was made in tunic style with a chapel train flowing from the waist. Organza petals with lace and pearl trim in matching candlelight held her float length butterfly face veil of English silk illusion. She wore a pearl and diamond pendant, a gift from the bridegroom.

The bride carried a bouquet of phalaenopsis orchids mixed with sprays of odontolossus orchids and a touch of baby's breath.

Mrs. John Hadley Hemingway, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Larry Kaseberg, Wasco, Ore., sorority sister of the bride, and Margot Hemingway and Muffet Hemingway, nieces of the bride.

Dear Abby

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN
DEAR ABBY: Recently a "thank you" letter came in the mail for my husband of 39 years. Perhaps I shouldn't have opened it, as it was addressed to him alone, but I'm so used to opening all the mail that comes to the house, I never gave it a second thought.

It was from a high school girl graduate, thanking "Dear Snookie-Poo" for the portable TV set. Now I would say that's a rather expensive gift for a high school girl to get from a man whose wife has never even heard of her, wouldn't you? It was signed with lots of love and a whole string of "X's." And then her name.

Should I ring up the girl's mother and ask her if she knows that her daughter has a 64-year-old admirer by the name of "Snookie-Poo?"

SNOOKIE-POO'S WIFE
DEAR WIFE: Don't ring up anybody. Confront "Snookie-Poo" with the evidence and ask him to explain his generosity and also his interest in a high school girl. If he doesn't make sense to you, look into the situation with a doctor on one side and a lawyer on the other. He may need the counsel of both.

DEAR ABBY: My problem concerns grandparents. It is a fact that a mother and her daughter are much closer than a mother and her son, but why should the grandchildren suffer?

Must it always be the daughter's children who receive the big surprises, and the pleasure of spending the night and going out to dine with their grandparents? Our children are as well behaved and quiet as the other grandchildren, so that can't be the reason they are slighted.

Adults can take oversights in their stride, but it is difficult to explain these things to children. My husband and I have never had words over this, but believe me, it's been hard for me to keep silent. Have you a solution for this problem? Unfortunately my own parents are dead.

A MOTHER
DEAR MOTHER: Perhaps it's time you had a few words with your husband about it. Don't whine, complain or blame him for the "slights" committed by his parents. But do point out the unfairness of it, and ask him to speak to his parents about it. There are many grandparents who lean over backwards to treat all their grandchildren with equal generosity. Too bad you didn't draw that kind.

DEAR ABBY: My wife works just to have something to do. I get home from my job about an hour before she does, so I do the marketing and get the dinner started. We eat together, but she is always in such a rush to get through and clear the table. I am constantly getting up to retrieve a spoon, or the sugar or cream pitcher. Before I've finished my coffee, she's yelling from the kitchen, "Want another cup," meaning she wants to wash the coffee pot.

The object of all this rushing is so she can stretch out and spend the evening on the living room couch. Will you break a rule and give me clearance to belt her?
MARRIED 20 YEARS

DEAR MARRIED: First tell her you'd like the pleasure of her company for a leisurely dinner. If she still insists on giving you the rush act, ask Old Speedy to please leave everything on the table, and the coffee pot intact, but don't belt her. She's apt to belt you back.

Troubled? Write to Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Cal. 90069. For a personal reply, enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

BLUSH PEOPLE... Most naturally fair-haired people have fair, thin skin. So the sudden rush of blood that produces a blush is more noticeable in blondes, whose blood vessels are nearer to the surface. You can't rinse off a blush of embarrassment, but you can rid a fair skin of pore-clogging grime and make it all off with plain water. The rinse off cold cream is for both oily and dry skin. Carrying a baby like a papoose is a new vogue. A manufacturer of infant's seats came up with a heavy-duty twill sling to meet the trend. ### Romantic Long Look Returns To Loungewear

By HELEN HENNESSY
NEW YORK (NEA) — Fall is a big season for weddings and the season offers good news for the bride who is getting together her lounge-wear trousseau. The romantic long gown is back. Twigg, mini and groovy styles may reign supreme by day, but in the late quiet hours, at-home clothes have never looked more elegant and feminine.

What's around right now in romance via the clothes line? If you're slender, empire gowns gathered under the bosom with tucks, ribbons or gathers are great. Body skimming shifts of ten slit to the hip, free flowing tents, far Eastern cutouts, palazzo pajamas and swishy culotte dresses are right for any figure type. Tall brides look glamorous in ankle-length Grecian-styled skirts that enhance their statuesque appearance.

Gone are the wishy-washy pastels. Trousseau lounge-wear now comes in strong true shades like sunny yellow, lush peach, bright grass green, deep pink and jungle violet. The colors solo or combine into zingy stripes, Pucci-type prints, geometric and abstract patterns. Ankle-length peignoir sets, robes and gowns have been gone from the bridal fashion scene because of the time and effort needed to keep them handbox fresh. But fabric manufacturers today have played Cupid and created luxurious man-made tricot fabrics for all of the latest at-home looks. Machine washable and dryable tricot fashions need little if any ironing.

And "after the honeymoon is over" the stereotyped tableau of the young wife wearing a wrinkled robe over a droopy, faded gown as she serves breakfast to a husband hidden behind the morning paper is a thing of the past.

Today's loungewear will catch and keep his eye only on her.

PROTECT YOUR EYES
Glare, both outdoors and in, is highly irritating to the eyes. Outdoors, protect your eyes from excessive light with sunglasses. Even with sunglasses, you should never look directly at the sun. The intensity of its rays can cause permanent damage. Indoors, make sure you read and work in well-lit areas free from glare. Never work near a naked light bulb, or use low-wattage bulbs in reading or working areas.

All but the slimmest figures make a better appearance on the beach if snug briefs and bras are worn under figure-revealing swim suits. To achieve a smooth exterior, such undergarments should have as few seams as possible. These, like the swim suit itself, should always be sused out after each wearing.

Ward B. Rawson Of Shoshone Marks 50th Anniversary As Starting Point

SHOSHONE — The good and evil of retirement is often considered by people approaching that time in life and some dread the inactivity as much as they look forward to a "let up" on daily grind.

Not so with Ward Rawson, Shoshone, however. In fact he has not "let up," but rather has just shifted his activity elsewhere, and in fact does not yet consider himself completely retired, though he closed his business doors on Shoshone's Rawson Chevrolet Company the middle of 1964.

He expects it will take about one more year to completely wind up all business transactions from that concern and before he can consider himself fully retired.

The Rawsons were in business in the firm for 23 1/2 years, having chosen Shoshone as a site for the business after their three children were grown and married, and as a place where they could be their own "boss" and do the work themselves.

They did handle the office part of the firm by themselves, with Mrs. Rawson the efficient bookkeeper. A few men were hired to help with sales and repair work.

Dealing in automobiles was not new to Rawson when he came to Shoshone in January of 1944. He started retail selling of automobiles in 1921, in Ogden and Salt Lake City, for Ford and Chevrolet.

From 1931 to 1937, he worked for the Ford Motor Company as a zone truck manager, covering Utah, parts of Idaho, Nevada and Wyoming.

He held the same position with the Chevrolet Motor Division from 1937 to 1944 when he came to Shoshone. He purchased the business in Shoshone from Leo Rice and Larry Barnes.

It was on tours for the Utah firms that brought Rawson to this area and acquainted him with what he chose later to be his home.

He said he always wanted to stay in Shoshone when he was on duty in the area; with its good access to fishing in the northern part of the area, he could catch his limit of fish, call his wife in Salt Lake City, put the fish on a train and get them to her in good shape, then go on with his work for the automobile company.

This also acquainted him with a number of people in Shoshone before he decided to move here in 1944.

Rawson was born in Idaho Falls, then known as Eagle Rock, Idaho. He left there in 1911, moved to Ogden, Utah, returned to McCammon, Idaho, in 1914 and there began working for the railroad and attended school.

He met Nina Halford at McCammon and they started their courting in the "horse and buggy" style. They were married Aug. 3, 1917, and have been celebrating their 50th wedding anniversary this summer.

Family members were in Sun Valley for a reunion July 9, and the family sponsored a Golden Wedding observance at the Shoshone LDS Church on July 11.

At the Golden Wedding observance in Shoshone, some of the guests made memorial contributions in the Rawsons' name to the LDS Church building fund. The contributions totaled over $150, and were among the prized expressions of congratulations the couple feel they received.

Mrs. Rawson's family, the Halfords, were at the Reunion, and in addition, a number of his family traveled great distances, and friends came from all over Magic Valley and the Wood River Valley to pay their "best wishes."

A highlight of the event was the display of pictures of the couple at the time of their courting. They also received a framed poem written by their daughter, Virginia Ashworth, Salt Lake City, who wrote the story of the couple, the children's appreciation for them, the type of lives they had in the Rawson home and brought the story up to date with the Golden Wedding observance. The poem is called "Golden Memories."

WARD B. RAWSON

Their other children are Eugene H. Rawson, Boise, and Mrs. Lois Bradley, Salt Lake City. They have eight grandchildren and three great-grandchildren.

In addition to the Halford family reunion and the Golden Wedding party, a Rawson family reunion was held on July 1 at Santa Cruz, Calif. A grandson was married at Logan, Utah, Friday, July 21 and a granddaughter was married at Meridian, Idaho, on July 22.

Mr. and Mrs. Rawson attended all of the events, and observed the actual date of their anniversary, Aug. 3, with a party at the home of their daughter, Mrs. Lois Bradley, 2517 Lynnwood, Salt Lake City, Utah.

As if attending all these social events wouldn't be a full-time job for many younger persons, Rawson has kept up a daily project at the LDS Church farm, where he is working as chairman of a "calf project" as a fund raising project for the Church building fund.

J. O. Freeman, who is more than 80 years old is his partner in the project, and the two men make at least one and sometimes two daily trips to the farm to care for the animals. They have 25 cows and 15 calves.

Mr. Rawson now holds the position as ward finance chairman of the building committee at his church, and in addition he hopes to pay off the Shoshone Ward assignment toward the stake house at Richfield. "They have plans," says Rawson, "to promote in the not too distant future an addition program for the Shoshone church."

The zeal with which Rawson takes to this type of work has been evident since early 1950 when he was made Branch President of Shoshone LDS Church and initiated the original building program for a chapel. This was the first LDS Church in the Shoshone Community and membership since that time has necessitated the additions.

In 1952 Rawson was made Counselor to Valdo D. Benson in the Blaine Stake Presidency of his church, where he served 10 1/2 years. At present he is Counselor in the Stake Sunday School and is a home teacher in addition to the farm work.

Over the years he has worked on countless drives and served on countless committees for community improvement, having served as officers in both the Chamber of Commerce and Rotary Club.

Building new highway shops in Shoshone by the State was initiated and promoted by Rawson and a group of interested men about 15 years ago. He recalls work on the rodeo grounds and continued use of the area since and with the Wood-River Sales Corporation projects.

Mr. and Mrs. Rawson now keep a large garden and beautiful yard. They pick their own vegetables, and fruit, can and freeze them, and distribute them throughout the year, as they visit with their family.

More than 40 quarts of frozen raspberry jam is a welcome gift to their grandchildren when the Rawson's go on a trip their way.

In viewing the years in Shoshone, their activity, and their present involvements and future plans, the Rawson's revealing any immediate plans to sit down and fold their hands.

But they do feel it an appropriate time to pause and thank the many people of the area who are their friends, and those who were their patrons over the years.

They state with a note of sincere appreciation, "These past 23 1/2 years here have been good years." What more could be said?

2 Kimberly Girls Injured In Accident

KIMBERLY—Two young Kimberly girls suffered minor injuries and one was charged with driving without a license as a result of a single-car accident Thursday afternoon two and one-half miles southwest of Kimberly on a county road.

Officers said Sharon Steele, 15, Kimberly, was driving the vehicle, a 1959 stationwagon, with four other young passengers. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Vern Steele, Kimberly, and was cited for driving without a permit.

Miss Steele was admitted to Magic Valley Memorial Hospital and was reported in good condition Friday.

Another passenger, Jackie Plew, 13, was treated for minor injuries at the hospital and released. Other passengers including Debra Steele, 13; Denny Plew, 16, and David Plew, 15, escaped uninjured.

Officers said the young driver told them an unidentified vehicle approached from the opposite direction in her lane of traffic and she swerved from the road, crossing an irrigation ditch and coming to a stop in a field as she tried to avoid a collision.

DID SOUTH MAKE THE BEST PLAY?

North's jump to four hearts was designed to show just what he held. A minimum opening bid with very good hearts. South was interested in seven but was happy to settle for the small slam when his partner showed only one king.

and finessed a diamond. West was in with the queen.

If West had had a diamond to lead back South would have been set but West had to lead a club away from his king or a spade to give South a chance to ruff in dummy and discard his losing club.

North didn't like South's play. He suggested that it would have been better to play ace-king and another diamond in case the queen failed to drop on the second lead.

West felt that South should have left diamonds alone and played ace and another club.

All three lines of play are reasonable and all three would have worked the way the cards lie. At the risk of getting into a lot of trouble we will state that South did adopt the best line and leave you readers to study the problem if you wish.

4♦ 4♥ 4♠ 4NT
5♦ 5♥ 5♠ 5NT
6♦ 6♥ 6♠ 6NT
7♦ 7♥ 7♠ 7NT

What do you do now?
A—Bid three hearts. This does not shut out three no-trump; warns your partner about diamonds and shows the ace of hearts if he is trying for a slam.

TODAY'S QUESTION

You do bid three hearts and your partner goes to four diamonds. What do you do now?

When South saw the dummy he was rather unhappy about his contract. Not that it wasn't a good one but rather that he had the choice between several good lines of play.

He started by winning the spade lead in his own hand. Two rounds of trumps took care of that suit and he played his ace of diamonds. Then he entered dummy with the ace of spades

Don't Let Uniform Set You Apart

Every once in a while we luck out and a column walks right into our office. This one is named "Sam." Sam's a serviceman. He lives in our town (for a 21-month hitch), and he has strong ideas about making the service livable.

"The way I see it, many of your male readers will be in uniform within a few years. Why not start thinking now about getting the best out of the experience?"

Sam's an ideal fellow to offer such hints. In a city that, like many, is cool to servicemen, he has a good number of local friends. "The main thing is to realize that you're a stranger in a new community. It's not one's going to go out to discover you. Why should they? They already have their friends and family. If you're going to get in with the local people you have to go to at least 90 per cent of the way toward them, none of this 50-50 stuff.

"Lots of guys are dumb about this. They cuss out the blank-blank town, and all the blank-blank people, and blank-blank this and blank-blank that. And they do it sitting in bars, or walking four abreast down the sidewalk, or worse yet lying in their bunks on Sunday afternoon."

HE'S NO LOAFER

It's hard to imagine Sam ever lying around on his day off. Weekend mornings he volunteers as a lifeguard at a "Y" pool. Free evenings he's assisting backstage at a local community theater. On Sundays there's a round of church fellowship activities.

"A serviceman must face facts: a lot of the guys who've gone before him have made it tough for him," Sam explained. "Maybe it's not fair, but it's true. If you see a bunch of guys staggering down the street at 2 a.m. or making cracks at girls in the afternoon, and they're in regular clothes, you think 'cruddy guys,' and let it go at that. The next person who comes along doesn't get associated with them—in your mind.

"But if the guys were in uniform, it's pretty hard not to count the next guy in uniform in with the troublemakers. For that reason, you've got to go out of your way to get associated with good activities in your new community. If you've got the nerve, it's wisest to go in by yourself. People will talk with a lone newcomer, where they won't approach three or four guys. I guess that's because it looks like they already have their group."

The obvious void in a serviceman's life is female companionship. "There's no neat answer here. I meet girls through the 'Y,' the theater and the church. Frankly, most of the girls I'd want to date don't date me. They already have relationships going, or they're suspicious of servicemen. Too many guys lie about the ties back home. Too many guys are so lonely that they pounce. I've seen many guys stick like glue to the first girl who smiles at them, and bug her with constant phone calls and push things far too fast.

"If my schedule were very erratic, at least I'd get out of the barracks and play tourist and see all the local points of interest, including the zoo! The absolute worst thing is to just sit around and pity yourself, or to decide you're going to be the terror of the town and match fists with the local boys. That's nowhere, man!"

"Sam's a guy we're proud to know. He has the sort of attitude that insures success in any undertaking, even the life of a draftee. May you follow in his stride!"

Do 3-Year-Olds Fiddle Around? It's One Way To Play Concert Violin

By ANN WILLIAMS
Times-News Staff Writer.
(Editor's note: Ann Williams, a summertime reporter for the Times-News, was also a violin student of Mrs. Del Slaughter during her high school years 1960-63. At that time she played in the Twin Falls Civic Symphony and the Dilettante orchestra.)

A graduate of Brigham Young University she plans to teach music this fall at Sandy, Utah. She is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Williams, Route 3. She plays violins that her father has made. In the past six years he has made 13 violins and one viola.

What do kids like to do during the summer?
Ask most kids this question, and you'll get typical answers, such as, "playing—baseball,

YOUNGEST PUPIL OF THE revolutionary Suzuki violin method taught by Mrs. Del Slaughter is Teri Bingham, 3, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Deloy Bingham, Route 3, Twin Falls. She is holding an eighth-sized violin and bow, which are comfortable for her tiny fingers. Teri will begin regular violin lessons this fall with Mrs. Slaughter, who began the method on an experimental basis about four years ago.

News Of Record

MINIDOKA COUNTY State Police Blotter
Tom Vibbert, 17, Rupert, was cited for reckless driving and leaving the scene of an accident and his car was demolished in a speeding accident Sunday morning on Highway 24 near J Street in Heyburn. Vibbert was traveling south on the highway, apparently at a high rate of speed, when he lost control, the car went off the right side of the road, striking and demolishing a parked vehicle, then continuing into a street light and stop sign and coming to rest 630 feet from where the car left the highway.

Police Blotter
Hazel E. Patterson, 67, Rupert, was cited for backing when not safe to do so in an accident at 9:55 a.m. Sunday near the post office involving her 1966 Mercury and a 1962 Chevrolet driven by Dennis E. Schleffelbehn, 39, Boise.

GOODING COUNTY Hagerman Marsh
Three persons escaped serious injury Sunday afternoon in a two-car accident on Highway 30 about 2-miles south of Hagerman. Kenneth Barton, 18, Hagerman, driver of a 1966 Mustang owned by his father, John Barton, began to pass a 1951 Ford driven and owned by John P. Nichel, 72, Buhl, just as Mr. Nichel made a left hand turn into a private driveway. Both vehicles were traveling swimming, riding bikes," or just plain lying under a shady tree with not much of anything planned.

Would you believe that there are several Twin Falls youngsters who, literally, as well as figuratively, like to "fiddle around" — all year long? That's right...They play violins — and love it.

Four years ago, their teacher, Mrs. Del Slaughter, began experimenting with the revolutionary method of violin instruction recently popularized in Japan by Shinichi Suzuki, a concert violinist who studied at Berlin's High Institute of Music, and founded the Talent Education Institute in Japan about 19 years ago.

His method of teaching music to children attracted world-wide attention several years ago. Since a child learns to speak by listening, not by reading, Mr. Suzuki maintains that a child can learn music the same way — by listening, not by reading notes. He has taught children as young as 2 years of age to play the violin by this method.

"Never force children," he warns. "Coax them. When they begin to fawn, it is time to stop." The child's early introduction to violin playing is limited to two strings, E and A (the two highest-pitched ones), and the use of three fingers in one pattern. Steady rhythm of bowing and clear, precise sounds are emphasized.

"Twinkle, Twinkle, Little Star" is one of the first musical compositions children learn to play, because it has an easy fingering pattern, and is familiar to most children. By watching the slow fingering of the left hand, and bow movements of the right hand repeated many times, they are able to memorize the basic motions and rhythmic patterns — and imitate them amazingly well.

After the student masters this song, with six bowing variations to the other two strings, D and G, and then listens to the "Listen and Play" records, distributed by the Summy-Birchard Co.

By listening to these records, and to his teacher play, the student receives a clear aural concept of how a good violin tone sounds. Then he imitates this sound.

An advantage of the program is that children are unencumbered with music stands, written music and chairs.

"It is difficult enough for a child to learn how his instrument feels and works at first, without having to memorize strange symbols on paper, besides," says Mrs. Slaughter.

Reading notes comes later. Free of the distractions of chairs and stands, the student is better able to concentrate on the mechanics and "feel" of playing the violin.

"The younger the pupil, the better," says Mrs. Slaughter, who maintains that it takes 10 years for a string player to develop the same level of proficiency on his instrument that a wind player can develop in five. A child does not have to wait until fifth or sixth grade to learn to play the violin, with the Suzuki method. By that time, it is almost too late, for the younger a child is, the more readily he imitates what he sees — and hears.

His mind and ears are all-absorbing at the age of three or four years, and Mrs. Slaughter says that these are excellent ages for children to start the study of violin.

The first thing Mrs. Slaughter does when she begins to teach a child by the Suzuki method is to sing with him to see if he can match musical pitch, commonly known as "carrying a tune." When she discovers he can, she chooses the size violin when over 100 young girls and boys, some only kindergarten-age, played, entirely from memory, the music of Bach, Beethoven, Mozart, Vivaldi and other great composers.

One of the unique features of the program is that the youngsters are always able to play together excellently without rehearsing beforehand.

How do they do it? Mr. Suzuki maintains that "children throughout the world are educated to speak their native languages, and they develop their linguistic abilities successfully to an extremely high level."

"Children who grow up in Boston will, by an imperceptible process, become speakers of American English with a distinctive Bostonian melody, while those who grow up in New York will also gradually become speakers of New York English. This is so because of the conditions under which the ear for language develops. The same conditions apply also to the development of the ear for music," he continues.

Once the student has his instrument, she teaches him in a group. She teaches the students to hold the violin and bow by leading them in games, exercises and other activities that enable them to "get the feel" of their instruments. They do stretching and balancing exercises while they play, which lets them relax.

The ideal situation is to teach the mother, along with the very young child, according to Mr. Suzuki, because the child readily imitates his mother and has close contact with her.

In Japan, this is far more successful than in the United States, for in this country, mothers are often too busy to do more than drop their children off at their music lessons and hurry back home.

Mrs. Slaughter did not teach any of the mothers of her students, primarily for this reason. She does welcome mothers to come and learn with their children, and to encourage them during practice sessions at home. In Japan, the mothers practice violin with their children; they don't send them into the next room to do it themselves.

These particular students, seven to 11 years old, now study privately with her, but they meet once a month to perform together and give recitals.

On July 26, they were invited to participate in a string teacher's workshop at Idaho State University, Pocatello, conducted by Mr. Clifford Cook, professor of stringed instruments and music education at Oberlin College Conservatory of Music, Ohio. He has studied with Mr. Suzuki in Japan.

The eight students recently returned from ISU, where they heard a string quartet performance, consisting of members of the Utah Symphony, and they also performed with other young violin students of Southeastern Idaho.

About the only disadvantage of the Suzuki method, says Mrs. Slaughter, is that it can be applied effectively only to the study of private violin, and therefore, would not be appropriate for school string programs, which include violas, cello and stringed basses. Embryonic work of this type is being done with cello study, and Mrs. Slaughter is hopeful that this method will be used by all stringed instruments in the future.

She plans to begin teaching this method to very young chil-

that best suits his fingers and arms. The violin comes in sizes of 1-16, 1/8, 1/4, 1/2, 3/4 and full size.

Embryonic work of this type is being done with cello study, and Mrs. Slaughter is hopeful that this method will be used by all stringed instruments in the future.

She plans to begin teaching this method to very young children this fall. Already signed up for the class are Teri Bingham, 3, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Deloy Bingham, and Julie Salisbury, 5, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Salisbury.

In Japan, children too young for kindergarten play in violin ensembles. Their performance is what might be expected from high-school students in America.

Each year, in spring, Japanese children come from all over the country to play at the String Festival, now in its 13th year, held in Tokyo. Approximately 2,000 youngsters play their violins together, without notes or rehearsal. Their keen sense of listening, and the fact that their teachers all have been trained by Mr. Suzuki, explain the students' phenomenal ensemble playing. They range in age from 5-13 years.

"I'm very excited about this method," said Mrs. Slaughter, "because the students are able to progress rapidly — and they love it," besides.

With such an abundance of different-sized violins, and the creative, all-absorbing eagerness of any child, not just a talented few, but all children, can be taught to develop their potential, or obvious, musical capacity by this revolutionary but successful violin method.

Two T. F. Pools To Close Aug. 18

The weather may not indicate it, but summer is drawing to a close.

Twin Falls Parks and Recreation Superintendent Howard Johnson said Aug. 18 will be the final day of swimming for the public in the Twin Falls swimming pools.

Both will close on that date, although Harmon Park pool will be open the next two days for a state swimming meet.

This has been an excellent season for the Harmon and Harry Barry Park pools, Mr. Johnson said. Records when completed, he said, will show an increase in both season and daily tickets for the two pools.

Proposed Changes In Idaho Election Laws Explained

A tentative draft of revised election laws for Idaho, now under study by the election laws committee of the Idaho Legislative Council, would result in several major changes for Idaho voters.

This was reported Thursday by State Senator John Barker, Buhl, vice chairman of the election laws committee.

He said proposed changes include reducing the length of residency for a qualified voter to 60 days for state and local officials as well as presidential and vice-presidential electors. Another proposal is to eliminate pre-election registration with the voter merely signing an electors oath when voting. This, Mr. Barker said, was proposed by an Idaho county clerk but was opposed by representatives of both parties. They explained the only state with such a system, North Dakota, had a smaller voter turnout than did Idaho.

Legislative council staff members were asked to give further consideration to the proposal of holding the primary election on the Saturday following the first Monday in September. A counter-suggestion was to hold the election on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in September.

Election judges and clerks would be given a salary increase to $20 under the new proposals and it is suggested a central registration point such as the county clerk's office be designated for those not able to contact the registrar or for times when the registrar is away. Voter qualifications would be changed to prohibit only those persons under guardianship, idiotic or insane or in prison for criminal offenses from voting. Presently persons living in or entering into celestial marriage are prohibited from voting.

Mr. Barker said the final report of the election laws committee is to be ready by Dec. 31 at which time the committee hopes to complete a final proposal on law revision.

Sen. Arthur Murphy, Mullan is chairman of the committee and other members are Sen. Robert Rowett, Mountain Home; Rep. Ernest Permann, American Falls; Rep. John Pino, Pocatello, and Rep. Jay Webb, Boise.

The committee met last week in Boise with Legislative Council Staff members and the advisory committee, to hear and review the tentative proposals.

Disposal Of 200 Hogs Is Ordered

Mrs. Alma C. Stranathan, Twin Falls, was sentenced in Twin Falls County Probate Court Friday morning to a $150 fine which was suspended providing she dispose of some 200 head of hogs within 90 days.

Mrs. Stranathan was found guilty Thursday by a Probate Court jury on charges of maintaining a public nuisance. The six-member jury deliberated several hours before returning the verdict.

Charges were filed against Mrs. Stranathan in connection with her property on Osterloh Street, just outside of the city limits where neighbors complained of odors and other nuisances in connection with the hogs and cattle fed on the property by the defendant.

EXAMINING A PLANT which he terms the most pampered weed in all Twin Falls, Bob Magel, 1816 Elizabeth Blvd., says it is the only thing which came up after he planted about $15 worth of bulbs and seeds this spring. Despite ribbing of his neighbors, Mr. Magel continues to water the weed and has even attached an artificial bloom purchased at a drug store to the plant so that, he too, can sit and look out at his "flower garden."

Life in MAGIC VALLEY

Bob Magel, 1816 Elizabeth Blvd., TWIN FALLS, says he has the most pampered Asclepiadaceae in all of Twin Falls. Impressed by the attractive flower beds of his neighbors, Mr. Magel decided he would beautify his yard. After about $15 in bulbs and seeds and some extensive digging, planting and all the other work that goes with gardening, he sat back to await the appearance of the little green leaves and spears.

He waited two weeks, three — but nothing.

"Maybe I planted them upside down," he commented.

Finally something did show up in one of the beds adjoining his house. It was first just one round green leaf, but it began to grow "like a weed," until finally it began to look like one.

After several weeks there was no question — it was a weed. But it was the only thing that came up in the flower bed so it received the royal treatment.

Despite good natured ribbing from his neighbors, Mr. Magel let the weed continue to grow and even gave it a little water every now and then. Now about four feet high, the one spindly stock of milk weed has a colorful orange-red bloom. The weed is somewhat rare—it only grows in about two-thirds of the country.

The bloom is something from the artificial flower counter at the drug store, but it gives Mr. Magel the feeling of belonging when he looks across the fence at the flower beds of his green thumb neighbors.

Two SHOSHONE city employees who have retired after many years service were honored at a dinner at the Manhattan cafe. Mayor Victor Bozuto was in charge of arrangements and introduced the guests, Bert L. Terry, who has been city superintendent, and Mrs. Hazel Haddock, city clerk.

Mr. Terry came to Shoshone in the fall of 1918 to work in the harvest. He had been attending high school in Brigham City, Utah. In 1920 he was employed by the railroad in Pocatello and eventually came to Shoshone again as a railroad worker. He has been employed by the city since 1930.

Mrs. Haddock, also a lifelong Shoshone resident, was wife of the late Ross Haddock, attorney-at-law, who served as both prosecuting attorney and probate judge for Lincoln County.

Mr. Terry received a citation from Gov. Samuelson recently stating "Whereas Bert L. Terry has served the people of Idaho with distinction, with loyalty and with ability for 36 years, and whereas such service is worthy and deserving of commendation and recognition, now therefore, I, Don W. Samuelson, governor of the state of Idaho, by virtue of the office and for and on behalf of this office and for and on behalf of all Idahoans, do hereby extend the thanks and appreciation of a grateful people to this citizen who has served our state so ably and well."

When Mr. Terry first began working for the city, he recalls unpaved, narrow, rough streets for which he used a water sprinkling system to keep down the dust.

Horse-drawn sprinkler wagons were used. The last of the horse-drawn equipment was sold about 1935 when the town was made modern and a truck was purchased for street work.

In 1933, a portion of North Rail street was paved, the first paved street in the city. In 1934, Terry was made city overseer, a job which not only included the town but also the care and maintenance of the cemetery.

Garbage hauling was a contracted job, but all other city chores, which included caring for streets, water supply, park and cemetery, were handled by a crew of four men.

Time off for a vacation was another modern comfort that was not included in the job,

2 Women Held On Check Counts

Two women appeared in Twin Falls Police Court Friday morning to answer charges of no account checks and forgery following their arrests Thursday by Twin Falls city police.

Francis Mag Reed was charged with forgery in the attempted passing of a check for $54.86 made out to the Bonanza '88 Store and signed by Jackie Herron. She was in custody in lieu of $2,000 bond after requesting statutory time to answer the charge.

Also held under $2,000 bond pending a plea was Mary E. Allen. She was taken into custody at King's Variety Store, Lynwood Shopping Center, and charged with attempting to cash a $15 check on the Kimberly branch of the Twin Falls Bank and Trust without an account.

Officers said they recovered a similar check from Albertson's bearing her signature.

ing the Columbia Poolhall. On South Rail a fire of some consequence destroyed a meat market which had belonged at one time to Mrs. Mary Custer. It damaged the Rex Theater and Manhattan cafe.

Although change seems to be gradual and not too eventful in Shoshone, Terry said many changes have taken place over the years he has been overseer, some of them noteworthy improvements.

There are the paved roads, new gymnasium for the high school, Wood River Convalescent Center, new state Department of Highway shops, new city hall and library buildings and many new dwellings.

The Manhattan cafe was later completely destroyed by fire and in remodeling, was expanded to its present size.

The retired overseer states he will continue to make his home in Shoshone.

L. M. Hatmaker has been appointed his successor, and Mrs. Carlos Berriochoa Jr., is successor to Mrs. Haddock in the clerk's post.
