Fire Hazard Cancels Ketchum Jeep Rodeo

KETCHUM — Second annual Jeep Rodeo sponsored by the Ketchum-Sun Valley Chamber of Commerce for Labor Day has been canceled.

The action was taken at the Chamber's regular meeting Wednesday noon at the Alpine cafe when President Merwin (Bud) Esterholdt said Sawtooth Forest and Bureau of Land Management officers had requested the cancellation of the event because of the extreme fire hazard which exists.

Members voted to back the Arco Chamber of Commerce in its effort to have that portion of the Yellowstone-Sun Valley highway between the Park and Idaho Falls completed immediately.

President Has Veterans Benefit Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — A bill greatly increasing a long list of benefits for veterans, including those who have served in Vietnam, has been sent President Johnson by the Senate.

The bill's final provisions, said Sen. Russell B. Long, D-La., its floor manager, go far beyond the administration's budget requests. But he said he is confident the President will sign it.

The bill includes these main features:

- Pension increases for two million veterans and their widows amounting to 5.4 per cent for most recipients, with hikes up to 8.5 per cent to widows in the lowest income categories.
- Vietnam veterans would receive the same levels of benefits as veterans of other conflicts.
- Educational allowances for veterans qualifying under the "Cold War" G. I. Bill would be raised and several categories of training would be added.

Hailey Disbands Benefit Group

HAILEY — The Hailey branch of the North American Benefit Association has disbanded and will hold no further meetings here. All members should now send their dues to head offices of the company in Port Huron, Mich.

Only a handful of members remain and following the death of Mrs. Anna McKay, who was treasurer, no one was able to take over this responsibility.

When the Women's Benefit Association, predecessor of the present company, was organized 30 years ago, they had a membership of 50.

Members Voted to Donate $50 to Wagon Days Committee

A discussion on underground wiring for the Ketchum business district was held, with Robert L. Vernon, manager of the Idaho Power Co., and William House, manager of the Mountain States Telephone and Telegraph Co., leading the discussion.

Clayton Stewart, representing the Blaine County Commissioners, reported they have signed a 10 year lease with the State of Idaho Land Board for 20 acres of land up Ohio gulch to be used by the cities of Ketchum, Sun Valley, Hailey and Bellevue as an improved dump ground.

The matter of widening the present road, which leaves U. S. Highway 93 about half way between Ketchum and Hailey, was discussed.

Guests at the meeting were Mr. House, Mrs. Bessie Murphy, Patrick Daly, new assistant manager of the First Security Bank in Ketchum, and Mike Mayho, who has been transferred from the Bank of Idaho offices in Boise to the Ketchum branch.

Two Jobs

PARIS, Ohio (AP) — Martha Henrich, slender, single and 22-years-old, has two jobs—farmer and truck driver.

"I'd rather wear out than rust out sitting around," she says.

During the summer she farms 313 acres turning out about 300 head of cattle a year.

When things slow-down in the winter she jumps in the cab of a tractor-trailer and hauls steel around the country.

I've seen no disrespect from men despite my competing with them," she says. "I try to act like a lady and that usually results in even rough, tough truck drivers treating me like a lady."

Take Tour

KETCHUM—Thirty secretaries and clerks from the Forest Service Intermountain Regional office in Ogden took the "Show Me" trip into the Wilderness area Tuesday and Wednesday.

The group spent their first night at Ketchum, and Wednesday night at Redfish Lake Lodge. Ralph Cisco, Sawtooth Valley ranger, guided the tour.

BILL INTRODUCED

WASHINGTON (AP) — Twenty-four House members introduced legislation Wednesday that would abolish the death penalty for federal crimes.

Racial Scene Dominated By Post Mortems

By The Associated Press
Riot hearings and post-mortems dominated the racial scene Wednesday as quiet continued in the nation's cities. New Haven, Conn., saw only scattered incidents from an otherwise peaceful night.

Mobile police patrols enforced an 11 p.m. curfew in New Haven, making the first time since Sunday the curfew hour had been later than 8 p.m. Police reported a reduced number of arrests.

The Senate Judiciary Committee turned Wednesday to Negro youths in an attempt to find out what they want and how looting, burning and rioting can be prevented.

Young Negroes from Harlem, Washington and Tampa, Fla., said the Negro wants people to show that he is respected, that he is wanted and that he is regarded as a human being.

Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, D-N.Y., told a union gathering in New York that a "legacy of past indifference" has caused America to become embroiled in crises at home and abroad. "We have rebuilt our cities with gleaming stores and new housing, but we have destroyed the neighborhoods of the poor and imprisoned them in ghettos," he said.

Warren M. Christopher, new U. S. deputy attorney general, said the cure to ills that sparked summer riots lies in the nation's overwhelmingly white suburbs but said the suburbanites aren't likely to help right now. He predicted they would not now accept closer ties with the Negro inner city neighborhoods that might help alleviate big city problems but said suburbanites eventually will "overcome fear and prejudice."

A spokesman for the real estate industry contended in Washington that the drive for open housing has hindered attempts to improve housing for the urban poor. Alan L. Emlen, a director of the National Association of Real Estate Boards, told the Senate Banking subcommittee those "attempts have bogged down" by identifying these programs with the goal of residential integration. But representatives of three major religions and labor supported open-housing legislation as a sound base for attacking discrimination in housing.

WEARING PROTECTIVE gear police carry blasting powder and other explosives captured early Wednesday in a series of raids on Bronx homes and business establishments owned by persons identified by authorities as "right wingers." The raids collected 250,000 rounds of ammunition, an anti-tank gun, sub-machine gun, dynamite and wire. (AP wirephoto)

Leaders Of Two Unions Clash Sharply

WASHINGTON (AP) — Leaders of two unions that were part of a nationwide rail walkout last month clashed sharply as a White House panel opened hearings into the prolonged labor dispute.

Sen. Wayne Morse, D-Ore., head of the presidential board assigned the task of engineering a settlement, heard spokesmen for both labor and management Wednesday, then called for written statements and recessed the hearings until next Tuesday.

The argument between the labor leaders flared outside the hearing.

J. W. O'Brien, vice president of the AFL-CIO sheetmetal workers union, fired the first shot in calling the two-day walkout "senseless and useless" and contending it shackled all the unions with compulsory arbitration.

Writing in a union publication, O'Brien blamed the strike on P.L. "Roy" Slemiller, president of the AFL-CIO International Association of Machinists.

Slemiller responded quickly, writing in a letter to his own union's members that O'Brien was only trying to justify himself with the sheetmetal workers for not having joined the strike sooner.

The machinists launched the strike July 16 and were followed the following day by the sheetmetal workers and four other shopcraft unions — electricians, carmen, boilermakers and firemen and others.

President Johnson pushed emergency legislation through Congress that ended the strike and created the five-member Morse panel to try to get a settlement within 90 days.

New Hope?

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Hugh Carey said during a House debate on birth control and foreign aid that he doesn't oppose family planning—it was impossible, he said, to have his 14 children "without the most exquisite planning."

"Every time a baby is born in India, the New York Democrat added, it is evidence of God's hope for the human race.

"I hope this doesn't mean," said Rep. Charles S. Joelson, D-N.J., "that each time a baby is killed in Vietnam this show God's despair for mankind."

Pearson Cool After Remark By De Gaulle

OTTAWA (AP)—Canadian Prime Minister Lester B. Pearson kept cool Wednesday despite a new overture to French-speaking Quebec from French President Charles de Gaulle.

The French Cabinet announced it would accelerate its cultural and technical aid to Quebec "to help the French of Canada in their effort to maintain and develop their personality."

Speculation that the move would worsen Canadian-French relations diminished when Pearson told a news conference. "The report I have seen doesn't disturb me," the French announcement brought no repetition of the indignant outcry in Canada's English-speaking provinces which greeted De Gaulle's espousal of the French-Canadian separatist cause during his visit to Montreal last month.

Speaking at a public rally then, De Gaulle cried, "Long live free Quebec!"—the slogan of the minority that wants to separate the French-speaking province from Canada. Pearson called that "unacceptable," and De Gaulle canceled a visit to Ottawa and went home.

The prime minister said Wednesday that the report of expanded French aid for Quebec is no more disturbing than "if Britain made a cultural exchange with any province." He said the aid came under a 1965 Canadian-French agreement and that he would comment further if it was required when he had more details from Paris.

Mud Is Big Hazard In S. Vietnam

SAIGON (AP) — There are all kinds of hazards in South Vietnam, and mud is one of them.

Look at what happened on Wednesday about six miles northeast of Saigon, where U.S. Army helicopters were lifting four battalions of American and South Vietnamese troops into a search area.

Warrant Officer Carl A. Waterman of Salmon, Idaho, an aircraft commander, approached one landing zone and four infantrymen jumped the remaining few feet from the chopper to a rice paddy below. Then, before they knew it, the ground troops were up to their armpits in mud and stuck fast.

"I looked back," Waterman said, "and I saw the troops were in solid and couldn't move. I tried to get close enough to the men so they could grab the chopper's skids and be pulled out, but it didn't work."

Finally, Waterman told his door gunner, Pfc. Howard L. Leako of Badin, N.C., to make loops out of seat belts and use them for slings.

Leako rigged the seat belts and lowered the emergency sling to the stuck troops. One by one they were hauled back into the helicopter. After 20 minutes, they moved on and made their somewhat delayed assault landing in a less sticky zone.

Brooke Echoes Urban League

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — Gen. Edward Brooke of Massachusetts echoed one of the goals of the National Urban League Wednesday by calling for political organization of the Negro slums.

The Republican and first Negro popularly elected to the U.S. Senate challenged the Johnson administration's handling of the Vietnam war and problems at home.

He said leadership is needed to solve the problems of urban revolt which has gone through its fourth summer of rioting.

HOLIDAY OBSERVED
WARSAW, Poland (AP)—The Polish air force celebrated its annual holiday today by praising its Soviet equipment and political reliability of its men while sharply criticizing the United States.

Exercising

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (AP) — David Salk's pet, Sherwood, slipped off Wednesday.

"I guess he wanted some exercise," David said of his 8-foot python.

David's father is Dr. Herman L. Salk, a Palm Springs veterinarian, whose brother, Dr. Jonas Salk, developed the antipolio vaccine.

The 12-year-old youth said the python isn't dangerous.

Salvation Army Invades Hippie Cafe

NEW YORK (AP) — Offering free coffee and sympathetic understanding, the Salvation Army has invaded the stronghold of the hippie and the teenybopper from a Greenwich Village cafe called The Answer.

"They think the army's a real groove and a beautiful thing," says Ed Herzberg, a 23-year-old soldier to the hippies who helps run the storefront cafe on MacDougal Street near Bleecker Street.

Since it opened three weeks ago, The Answer has become a popular gathering place for young people—generally between 14 and 22—and its narrow interior fills quickly each night.

An oversize brooding portrait of Gen. William Booth, founder of the Salvation Army, looks down from one wall and flower generation graffiti are painted on the opposite side.

For entertainment there is a hi-fi set and sometimes singers use the tiny stage at the back of the room. There are chess sets, books, and always a friendly soldier to listen.

"We make no bones about the fact that we're Christians. Christ is the answer," said Capt. Brian J. Figueroa, 24, who runs The Answer. But, he added, "it's a subtle ministry. There's no hard sell."

Cassia Slates School Bond Vote On Oct. 10

BURLEY — Cassia County School Board trustees announce that Oct. 10 has been set for a two and one-half million dollar school bond election.

The funds will be used to build a new 600-student Junior High School at Burley; a new 18-classroom elementary school at Burley; ten additional rooms at the Burley High School; a nine-classroom elementary school at Declo; additional three classrooms at Raft River High School; additional three classrooms at Declo High School and a library facility to Oakley High School.

A three to four mill increase over 1966 property taxes will pay for the 2½ million dollar bond, school board officials stated.

Trustees unanimously agree that these bond funds are urgently needed.

"The need for school facilities throughout our district is crucial and the welfare of our children depends on a successful bond election for the needed facilities," board members said.

Fed Cattle Price Higher At T. F. Sale

The Daily Investor By WILLIAM A. DOYLE

2:30 P.M. SUMMARY NEW YORK (AP) - A stock market recovery lost its steam and the market turned mixed with industrial lower late this afternoon. Trading was quiet. In early trading the market rebounded smartly from three straight days of decline. Even then, however, blue chips were lagged; Gradually the plurality of gainers faded and the list was about even in the afternoon. Allis-Chalmers sank more than 3 points as it reacted from its Wednesday gain based on a rumor, later denied, that General Dynamics was offering what amounted to $45-a-share for Allis-Chalmers stock. Penn-Dixie and Control Data were active, and down a point. Johnson & Johnson was ahead about a point on heavy volume. Losses of a point or so were taken by Boeing, United Aircraft, Eastman Kodak, IBM, U.S. Smelting, United Air Lines and Merck. DuPont and Polaroid sank about 2 points each. Johns-Manville stubbornly held a 2-point gain. Prices were mixed on the American Stock Exchange.

Stocks MARKET AT A GLANCE NEW YORK (AP) - Stocks - Mixed; moderate trading. Cotton - Mixed. CHICAGO: Wheat - Lower; good harvest. Corn - Lower; liquidation. Oats - Lower with corn. Soybeans - Higher; active trade. Hogs - Lower; top $21.25. Cattle - No price test.

Dow-Jones, 2 p.m. 30 Industrials 902.51, off 0.60. 20 Rails 256.77, off 0.65. 15 Utilities 130.77, off 0.03. 65 Stocks 324.58, off 0.20.

Q. A company in which I own some common stock just announced that it will issue "rights." What in the world are rights and what will I do with them, if I get them? A. You'll get them. Don't worry about that. As a stockholder of the company, you'll be entitled to receive them. A right is a piece of paper which gives its holder the opportunity (the right) to buy a security at a certain price for a fixed period of time. Suppose we use our reliable example - XYZ Corp. Say that XYZ Corp. needs to raise a bundle of money to build or expand a factory, to buy out another firm or for some other purpose. There are a number of ways to raise money but we'll say that XYZ's management chooses to go the rights route. It makes a "rights offering." It issues to its stockholders one warrant (a right) for each share of stock held. The terms of a rights offering can vary all over the lot but we'll say that each stockholder is entitled to one new share of XYZ common for each 20 shares held. You then need 20 rights to buy one new share. If you already own 100 shares, you'll receive 100 rights - giving you the opportunity to buy five new shares. The price, of course, is important. A rights offering is normally made at less than the going market price of the stock. We'll say that XYZ stock is trading at $50 a share and that the rights offering is made at $45 a share. So, you can turn in 20 rights and $45 cash money to buy one share. You should see that the 20 rights are worth $5-25 cents a right. If you don't want to "exercise" your rights by buying the new shares of stock, you can sell your rights. Rights are traded, much the same as stocks are. There's a market for them. And they do "expire" in reasonably short order - 10, 20, 30, seldom more than 60 days. After that, they become worthless. So, you should either exercise your rights or sell them within the time limit set by the particular rights offering. If you hang on to them and let them expire, you're throwing money out the window. Q. I have read with interest your replies to readers in regards to the income tax consequences of winning $100,000 in the New York State Lottery. I recall that a number of military men and politicians who wrote books were allowed to declare their earnings as long-term capital gains - with maximum tax bites of 25 per cent. I believe the reasoning was that they were not professional authors. By the same line of reasoning, couldn't the lottery winner be allowed to declare his winning as a long-term capital gain. After all, he wouldn't be a professional lottery winner - not the first time he wins, anyway? A. That might be your reasoning. And I'm not going to fight with your logic. But the Internal Revenue Service (and the state and local tax people) take a different viewpoint. They're the ones you would have to fight with. They take the position that lottery winnings are "ordinary income" and are taxable as such. For some people this can mean a kick r.p. up into the 70 per cent income tax bracket.

CHICAGO (AP) - The nearby September soybean contract advanced nearly four cents a bushel on the Chicago Board of Trade today. However, grain futures prices were mostly lower. September soybeans, reflecting a tightness in deliveries by farmers of country elevators, have been relatively strong for a week. After the good advance under local support, prices declined somewhat under profit-taking. Wheat and corn futures were under selling pressure from the outset, but trade was largely local. There were periodic spurts of outside interest, commercial, export and elevator buying and selling, but it was not sustained. Carlot grain receipts were estimated at: wheat 13 cars, corn 88, oats 15, rye 3, barley 18, soybeans 25.

Ware Still In Jail After Bond Is Cut - NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) - Even with his bond cut in half Black-Power disciple George Washington Ware remained in jail today while officials debated the sedition charges which put him there. The bond was cut Wednesday from $10,000 to $5,000. The charges brought against Ware by two Nashville lawyers were criticized by Mayor Beverly Briley and U.S. Atty. Gilbert Merritt. Merritt said he had advised Briley that the U.S. Supreme Court has ruled 12 years ago that Congress has reserved sedition for the federal courts and pre-empted state courts in this matter. He said such charges must be brought in federal court. Briley called a news conference to attack state Rep. Charles Galbreath, one of two men filing the charge, and added, "I do not believe the people of this community desire that our city be a publicly center for activities of this kind." During the past 10 years, this study shows, the country club member's dues have increased about 47 per cent. And his other country club purchases and expenses have risen 18 per cent. The heat seems to be on the city clubs as well. Not only are annual dues some 36 per cent higher in the past decade, but each club member is spending 60 per cent more for food, drink, lodging and incidentals. It does not go good to point out to the club set that a 6 per cent increase in some items is a lot less than the rise in the cost of living during that time. Everyone, rich and poor, bemoans inflation. Nobody can afford it. Here are the costs of one year of country club life as compiled by Harris, Kerr, Forster & Co. a firm which specializes in hotels, clubs and the feeding business. Regular member dues - $497; food purchases $312; beverages $163; sports activities $74; "all other services," which presumably includes the cost of Turkish baths and shoe shines, $138. The city cousins spend a lot less but, unlike the family-oriented country clubs, city clubs are often for men alone. Dues in the past year averaged $268, food $213, beverages $95, room rentals $50 and incidentals $70.

GRAIN FUTURES CHICAGO (AP) - Wheat High Low Close

Business Mirror BY JOHN CUNIFF AP Business Analyst NEW YORK (AP) - Prices seem to be rising everywhere. At the country club, for instance, they're complaining not only of the summer sun searing the greensward but also about the persistent inflation that is burning up their green dollar billies. The country club set feels it is being scorched both ways, and now, thanks to an accounting firm which surveyed the devastation, it can produce the statistics too. During the past 10 years, this study shows, the country club member's dues have increased about 47 per cent. And his other country club purchases and expenses have risen 18 per cent. Secret Memorandum Against Antipoverty Bill Causes Furor

By JOE HALL
 WASHINGTON (AP) — A secret Johnson administration memorandum attacking sharply the $2 billion antipoverty bill drafted by a Senate Labor subcommittee is causing a furor among Labor Committee Democrats.

bill by subcommittee Chairman Joseph C. Clark, D-Pa. Deletion of a requirement that the Office of Economic Opportunity disclose the projected five-year cost of the antipoverty program. The memo said "this would create political problems for the administration in an election year."

Robert F. Kennedy, D-N.Y., and Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y. The memo said "this will invite slashing amendments on the floor and will seriously affect passage of the legislation."

The memo said Johnson particularly was exercised about the subcommittee revisions because "the President has spent more time on the language in this bill personally than he has on any other domestic legislation that has been sent to the Congress this year." The memo was discussed at a closed meeting of the full Labor Committee earlier this week. Clark declined to discuss the matter but a newsmen obtained the memo from other sources, who gave this picture of the furor: The memo was drafted in OEO after a meeting in the White House office of Joseph A. Califano Jr., special assistant to the President. The meeting was held after the subcommittee approved its version of the antipoverty bill.

Copies were sent to all Democrats on the committee except Clark. The White House said later Clark was omitted by mistake and it had apologized to the Pennsylvanian. Clark quickly learned about the memo and read it at the committee session Monday. Some Democrats on hand denounced the administration's handling of the matter as "stupid" and said their reaction was to support the subcommittee bill.

The subcommittee bill authorized $2.2 billion for a one-year extension of the controversial program, $148 million more than Johnson asked. But it also tied to the bill Clark's proposal, growing out of this summer's riots. For a $3 billion emergency program. Clark said in an interview he was not surprised at the President's rejection of this program. It was inevitable because of the budget stringency resulting from the Vietnamese war, he said. Clark opposes U.S. policy in Vietnam.

GO TO SCHOOL SHOSHONE — Mr. and Mrs. Craig S. Hadden, son-in-law and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harrell A. Thorne, left Tuesday for Rexburg where they will register at Rick's College. They have spent the summer working in Pilot Rock, Ore.

Buhl Softball Squad To Meet Spokane In Opening Round Of Regional Meet

BUHL — "We hope to make a better showing this year than we did last year. That one year's experience under our belts should help," says Ron Brown, member of the state softball champion Faux Cigar Store-Farmer's Bank team that left early Thursday afternoon for the regional tournament in Spokane.

It will be the second straight trip for the team, which made it two state titles in a row by downing a Boise team early Monday morning.

The Buhl club will make the trip with almost the same line-

Marichal Waits For Leg Injury To Heal

By CHARLES McMURTRY
Associated Press Sports Writer
SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Only Juan Marichal—out of action three weeks and with his hopes of a fifth straight 20-game winning season threatened—can say when he'll pitch again. Even he doesn't know.

He hasn't started since Aug. 1, when he beat Pittsburgh, 3-1. Three days later, he pulled a hamstring while running wind sprints.

He has missed five starts. If he feels able, he will resume his spot in rotation Friday night when Atlanta opens at Candlestick Park.

When Marichal passed up a scheduled start Monday, pitching coach Larry Jansen said, "It's still his leg," and shrugged when asked about his next start.

Manager Herman Franks, angry after losing both the ball game and a bitter argument with umpires, growled, "Ask him."

At Candlestick Park Wednesday afternoon, Marichal said, "I feel fine" when asked how he is and "Yes" when asked if he would be ready to pitch Friday. He didn't elaborate, but four words are a long conversation for him.

The Giants were in second place, 8½ games behind National League-leading St. Louis, on Aug. 6. A few days later they went into St. Louis, optimistic and hopeful. They won only one game of four and left Cardtown in fifth place and 11 games back.

There are strong indications that Franks, impatient at Marichal's slowness to resume, has taken the attitude that the high-kicking righthander can earn his way back into pitching rotation.

Instead of putting him on a when-ready basis, Franks has had Marichal on rotation the past week. Juan missed two starts in that time.

Ray Sadecki, Mike McCormick and Gaylord Perry have pitched so superbly recently—winning or losing heart-breakers by a run or two—that Franks seems reticent to break up the rhythm of their rotation.

Clinic

BURLEY — Three Idaho State University football coaches will conduct a clinic for coaches of the Snake River Junior football league at 7:30 p.m. Friday at the Ponderosa Inn.

Conducting the clinic will be Tom McDonald, backfield coach, and Tom Jewell and Verne Rose, line coaches. Persons interested in attending should contact Wayne Konrad by Thursday evening.

McCormick Stops Cards For 17th Win

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Mike McCormick became the National League's first 17-game winner Wednesday, shutting out St. Louis on five hits as San Francisco beat the Cardinals 6-0 with the help of a two-run homer by Willie Mays.

The Giants jumped off to a four-run lead in the third inning on Mays' homer, his 10th of the season, and Willie McCovey's run-scoring double. Hal Lanier drove in a run in the second with a single, scoring Jim Hart who singled, stole second.

They added two runs in the seventh on Jim Davenport's run-scoring single and Alex Johnson's fielding error.

McCormick, 3-0 against the league-leading Cards this season, gave up three hits to Orlando Cepeda, the top hitter in the circuit.

Broncos Must Solve Many Problems Before Becoming Factor In AFL Race

By MURRAY CHASS
Associated Press Sports Writer
DENVER, Colo. (AP) — Now that the Denver Broncos have made history, they'd like to make progress.

The Broncos started off the regime of Coach Lou Saban in historical fashion — They became the first American Football League team to beat a National League team when they defeated Detroit three weeks ago.

But they can't afford to stay up on the stratosphere where they mentally soared after that victory. They have too much work to do and too great an area to traverse before they can become a serious contender in the AFL's Western Division.

In an attempt to progress to that level, the Broncos' owners hired Saban last December as coach and general manager with a 10-year contract.

Saban, heading a team that had a 4-10 record last year, has been in this position before. When he took over the Buffalo Bills in 1962, they were a mediocre team going nowhere. In two years, they were a championship team with nowhere else to go.

"When I first went to Buffalo," Saban explained, "we were able to get people who had some experience but who needed time. They weren't coming in cold. They at least had been kicked around in other places."

"But those kind of guys are not available now. We have no choice. We've got some excellent young talent, and we're going to use it."

A player who was available, thought, was Steve Tensi, a third-year quarterback whom Saban acquired just a week ago from the San Diego Chargers.

To get the former Florida State star, Saban had to relinquish his first draft choice for the next two years. But quarterback was his biggest problem, and he sought Tensi after deciding neither Scotty Glacken nor Max Choboian could solve the problem.

Tensi joins an already large group of youngsters, including five rookies who represent Denver's best draft crop ever — halfback Floyd Little, linebacker Pete Duranko, tight end Tom Bee and linemen George Goeddeke and Mike Current.

There are many other new faces on the team, and many old ones are gone. Saban has dealt away nine players — including receiver Lionel Taylor, running back Abner Hanes and acquired 13 — including Cookie Gilchrist, Dave Costa, Ernie Par and Rex Mirich.

Little, who could be as spectacular a runner as Gale Sayers and Mike Garrett, will give Charlie Mitchell a battle for the halfback spot. Gilchrist, who was with Saban at Buffalo, conceivably could win the fullback job from Wendell Hayes.

Al Denson, who has moved from tight end to flanker, rounds out the backfield.

Beer moves into Denson's old spot while Mirich, Current, Goeddeke and Park could add a lot of power to the interior of offensive line.

Costa, Duranko and rookie linebacker John Huard should help the front of the defense with the secondary manned by returnees Lonnie Wright, Goldie Sellers and Nemiah Wilson.

Wildlife Field Men Discuss Hunt Seasons

SUN VALLEY — Recommendations for game bird seasons and bag limits plus fur-bearing seasons were the main topics of a Fish and Game Department personnel meeting.

Field men from Magic Valley and Salmon regions met at the Trail Creek cabin near Sun Valley with staff personnel from the state office at Boise and Ray J. Holmes, fourth district commissioner from Twin Falls.

Data collected by the field men on game birds and fur-bearers during the past few months was presented at the session. This information was examined and discussed in detail during the day. The recommendations resulting from this meeting will be submitted to the Idaho Fish and Game Commission for consideration at their August meeting.

Braves' Skid Stirs Rumors Of Shakeup

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — The current skid of the Atlanta Braves has renewed speculation that a major shakeup of the club is planned this winter, with Manager Billy Hitchcock among those likely to go.

Considered a leading candidate to succeed Hitchcock if he is not rehired is Luman Harris, manager of the Atlanta's International League farm club at Richmond and a protégé of Paul Richards, vice president in charge of baseball for the Braves.

Alvin Dark, fired as manager of the Kansas City Athletics, also would be considered, according to Atlanta insiders.

However, Harris would appear to be the man Richards would turn to if the team is reorganized.

Athletics Ask Probe Into Finley Feud

BALTIMORE (AP) — The Kansas City Athletics requested Wednesday that baseball commissioner William D. Eckert hold a formal hearing and investigation of their dispute with club owner Charles O. Finley.

The A's met before the night game against the Baltimore Orioles and voted unanimously to seek the hearing.

Pitcher Jack Aker, the team's player representative, notified Marvin J. Miller, executive director of the major league players association, of the decision.

The Athletics have been involved in an open dispute with Finley since he suspended pitcher Lew Krausse last week for an alleged incident aboard an airliner.

Krausse has been reinstated, but in the wake of the original dispute, Finley fired Manager Alvin Dark, fired Aker for missing curfew and handed first baseman Ken Harrelson his unconditional release.

Dark was dismissed after the players issued a statement criticizing Finley for what they called "undermining the morale of the team" by employing a spy to inform on them.

The statement supported Dark and suggested that Finley rely on the manager rather than interfere himself.

Conservation Of Hawaiian Beauty Is Big Concern

way of life — that leisure Twin Falls Times-News A-7 called "aloha." Aug. 24-25, 1967
Both Schmitt and Wenkam expressed their concern about the "erosion of the aloha spirit." Wenkam said mass tourism causes the "whole quality of life in Hawaii to shrink, and this will reflect upon the feelings of us who live here."

By WILLIAM H. DONHAM HONOLULU (AP) — The island into which this city nestles is called Oahu. It means "gathering place" in Hawaiian. And that may be the trouble.
Last year it was the gathering place for more than 710,000 tourists and nearly 7,000 American soldiers resting and recuperating from the rigors of Vietnam.

Airline ads beckon more and more mainlanders to this island paradise. And the Hawaiian Visitor's Bureau, a nonprofit outfit that is about twice the present population.

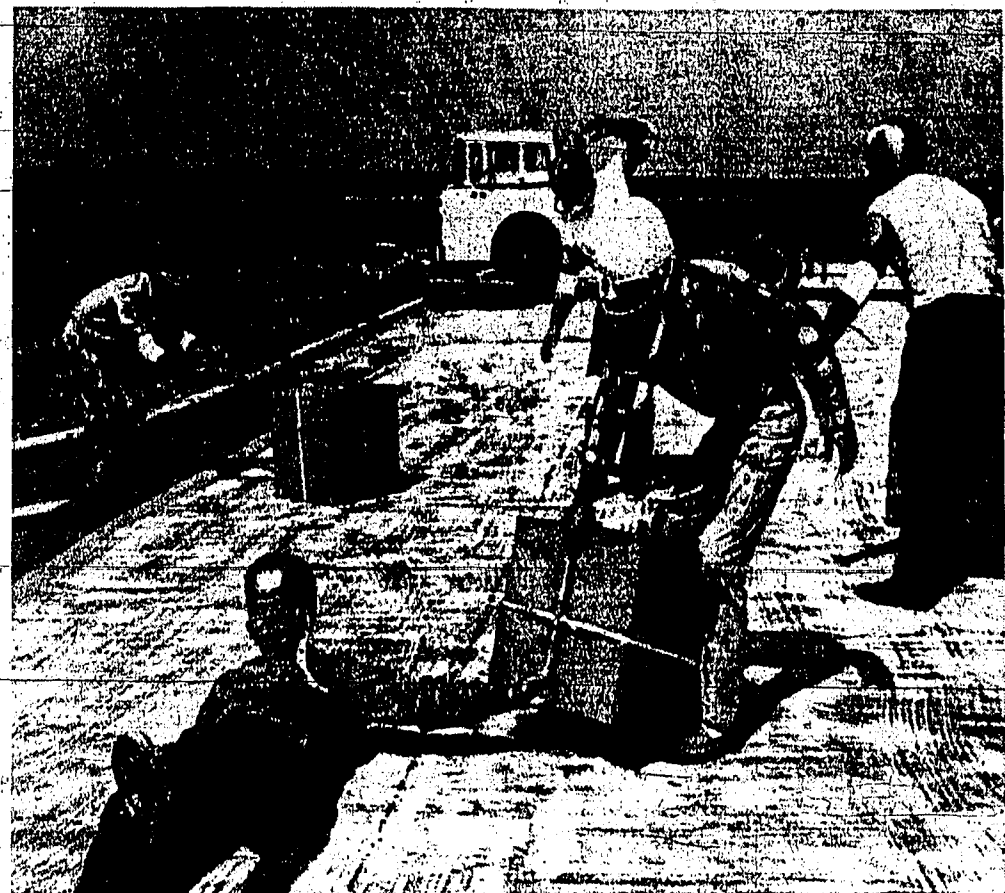

It has awakened voices for and against tourism. One of those disturbed by the growing number of people is state's scenic areas. His pronouncements have brought the wrath of politicians and others. Just recently the State Senate refused to confirm his reappointment to the Land Use Commission.

Wenkam said: "This tourism, coupled with population, could well be the greatest threat to the scenery of Hawaii, probably the primary reason most tourists come to Hawaii."
"We're already beginning to get the first symptoms of smog in Honolulu. You can find sewage floating in the water off Waikiki almost any day of the year. The highways, if they're not becoming crowded, are becoming interstate expressways. The beaches themselves are becoming crowded."
"It's not too difficult to find tourists who have been coming to Hawaii for several years who say, 'I'm not going to come anymore; it's too crowded.'"

The more tourists who come, the more the complaints about Hawaii. Robert C. Schmitt, state statistician, said one of the most frequent complaints is the lack of a Polynesian appearance. Why?
"There is a mass exodus of Hawaiians to the mainland," he said. "The Hawaiian population can't live here anymore, partly because they are a low income group."

Tourism is second only to the military in the amount of money brought into the islands. Last year the military spent $509 million. But like the military, Schmitt said, much of the tourist dollar is almost immediately siphoned off and returns to the mainland for goods and services consumed by the tourist but manufactured outside Hawaii.

Not only is the possibility of the destruction of Hawaii's natural beauty a subject of concern, but perhaps more important is the fear that the constant influx of people will destroy the FIREMEN, in football helmets and knee pads, act as rioters for a demonstration of a new product called Riotrol. When the powder is dusted on a street and sprinkled with water it can turn a riot into a Keystone Kops style comedy. Researchers for the Western Co. call the powder "instant banana peel." Several firemen were hired to try and carry packages the weight of portable television sets and they did everything but stand up straight. (AP wirephoto)

Tickets Are On Sale For T.F. Rodeo

FILER — Reserve seats for the rodeo held in conjunction with the Twin Falls County Fair, Sept. 6-9, are now on sale, stated Tom Shouse, secretary-manager.
The tickets may be picked up at the fair office in Filer or persons may call the ticket office collect at 326-4338. Prices are the same as last year.
A new section of 25 seats has been added on the north end of the grandstand, according to Mr. Shouse. These seats are under cover.

Five Persons Hurt As Car, Truck Collide

Five persons were taken to Magic Valley Memorial Hospital for treatment of minor injuries at 8:30 a.m. Wednesday following the collision of a pickup truck and automobile four and one-half miles east of Murtaugh on U. S. Highway 30.
Deputy Sheriff Charles Johnson said Glen A. Briggs, 73, Murtaugh, was traveling east at a slow rate of speed on U. S. 30 as he approached the intersection with a county road.
Another vehicle, driven by James E. Edgell, 30, Idamay, W. Va., also traveling east, collided with the Briggs truck. Officers said the out-of-state driver was facing into the sun and unable to judge the speed and distance of the slow moving vehicle.
Mr. Briggs, and passengers in the other vehicle, Wanda Edgell, 27; Susan, 9, James, 6, and Jewell Ann, 5, all were treated for cuts and bruises and released at Magic Valley Memorial Hospital.

Glass On Streets Rapped In Burley

BURLEY — Residents are reminded by Police Chief George Warrell that there is a city ordinance against throwing any kind of glass bottles upon the streets.
Tires have been cut by broken glass on the street, he said, and to people walking over or around broken glass it becomes a hazard.
Gary R. Vincent, 20, 710 E. 27th St., Burley, was fined $50 by Police Judge Roland E. Willis for throwing a beer bottle out of an auto onto the street. Mr. Vincent received an additional fine of $15 for failure to obey the citation.

Celebrities Do Manage To Avoid Draft

By TOM TIEDE
NEW YORK (NEA)—Unlike previous wars of this nation, there has been a noticeable lack of prominent young men fighting in Vietnam. Influential people can now escape combat and still fulfill military obligations.

The escape hatch is the six months' reserve program. Each service has it in one form or another, but essentially they all add up to the same thing: an active duty tour of 28 weeks which virtually guarantees no Vietnam assignment.

This reserve tour has become the legitimate "way out" for hundreds of draft-age athletes, entertainers and others with either financial or social leverage. A case in point is basketball player Bill Bradley. In 1965 he led Princeton University to the Eastern Regional title. After that he spent two years studying in England on a Rhodes scholarship. He came back home this spring to sign a reported $500,000 contract with the National Basketball Association's New York City franchise.

At 24, Bradley is getting on for an NBA rookie. Were he to be drafted for two years' military duty at this time any chance of a professional career might be ended.

So he will spend six months of active duty in the Air Force Reserve. Such a tour in today's air service is next to impossible to obtain, but Bradley made it. He'll be out in time to play half the coming NBA season.

All of this is no reflection on Bill Bradley. The six months' program (followed by 18 months in active reserve) is there to be used.

But the implications of the Bradley case have led to criticism of the program. Opponents feel that any plan offering non-combat assignment in time of war is liable to privileged flinching.

In theory the six months' program is open to all young men, prominent or not. But it is regulated by a supposedly inflexible quota system that is designed to prevent overcrowding and the draining of manpower from other enlistment needs.

And this is where some of the flinching occurs.

Today the reserve quotas are filled almost everywhere. In

New York, the waiting list for the Army's six-month tour is crammed with 3,000 to 4,000 names.

When openings occur in the reserve ranks, the top names on the waiting lists are supposed to be drawn first. Only it doesn't always work this way. The "right" names at the bottom of the lists are sometimes chosen instead.

Statistics

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—U.S. Atty. Gen. Ramsey Clark said Tuesday, "About 38 per cent of all murders involved members of the same family."

Another 40 per cent, according to the latest Justice Department statistics, involved "close friends." The remaining 22 per cent Clark said, can be charged to mentally unstable persons and others "for just plain meanness."

Baltimore, Md., and Green Bay, Wis. In some places recruiting officers have acted almost as adopted mascots of various teams.

New York may be the worst of all. Here the manipulations are not confined to sports. Young entertainers on six-month duty have been known to arrange the short stint and then take their training in or around the city so that their regular careers can continue uninterrupted.

Celebrity fathers have used their influence where their sons were concerned. Some reserve commanders have been pressured by their civilian bosses to "see what you can do for the boy."

In general, such instances are believed to be isolated. But even the military, though minimizing the extent of preferential treatment, admits some star-struck recruiters are handing out favors now and then.

It's not authorized, officials emphasize, but it happens.

Filer Youth Is Attending Circle K Meet

FILER—Lloyd N. Hardesty, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd E. Hardesty, is attending the 1967 Circle K International convention at the Chateau Laurier Hotel, Ottawa, Canada.

Hardesty, who is Utah-Idaho Circle K District governor, was selected to serve as chairman of the Awards Committee during the four-day convention by James Smith, Baton Rouge, La., International president.

This will be the third Kiwanis Youth Group Convention Hardesty will attend. While serving as president of the Filer High School Key Club in 1965 he attended Key Club International in New York City, where he served as chairman of the projects committee.

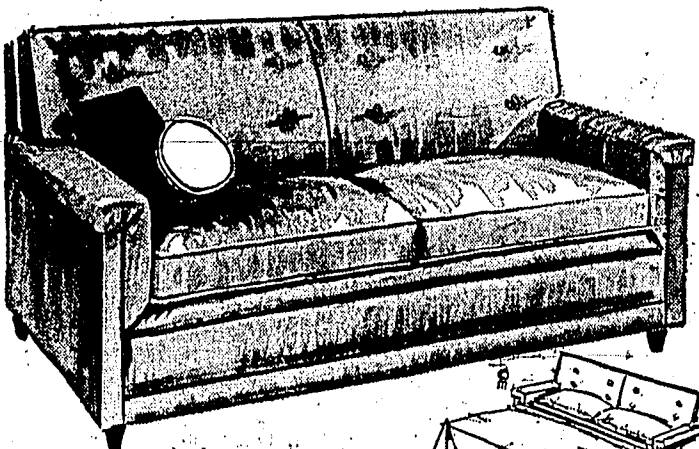

Last year, as past president of the Idaho State University Circle K Club and Utah-Idaho Circle K District secretary, he attended the International Convention in Dallas, Tex.

Circle K is a Kiwanis-sponsored men's collegiate service organization with clubs on colleges and universities throughout the United States and Canada.

A CONFIDENT CRIPPLE deftly lifts the helmet from a snoozing victim in a Sao Paulo park in these photos by Brazilian photographer Ivo Barrell of Sao Paulo's O Estado who happened by with a telephoto lens. The man probed his victim's pocket, top, extracted the wallet, center, and coolly counted his take before escaping with a companion who stayed nearby in case of trouble. The sleeper awoke seconds later, but didn't realize he had been robbed until it was too late. (AP wirephoto)

Advertisement for 'Let WANT ADS Work for You'. It features a cartoon character holding a newspaper and text explaining how to convert unwanted items into cash for as little as $1.15. It includes a table with pricing for different durations (1 Day, 4 Days, 7 Days, 10 Days) based on the number of words.

Table showing advertising rates. Columns include 'Number of Words' and '1 DAY', '4 DAYS', '7 DAYS', '10 DAYS' with sub-columns for 'Chg.' and 'Cash'. Rates range from 1.35 for 14 words for 1 day to 9.75 for 33 words for 10 days.

TO FIGURE COST... Print your ad in the order blank. Then count the number of words. Include phone number or address in word count. If your item sells before your schedule is completed, we will charge only for the times run... and will rebate any overpayment.

Form for placing an advertisement. It includes fields for 'THE TIMES-NEWS, CLASSIFIED DEPT., TWIN FALLS, IDAHO', 'Starting Date', 'Run My Ad For' (in days), 'Number of Words', 'Remittance Enclosed', 'Bill Me', 'Name', 'Phone', 'Address', 'Town', and 'PRINT YOUR AD HERE'. It also includes a 'CLASSIFIED DEADLINE' section with times for previous day, Saturday, and Sunday, and a 'CLASSIFIED OFFICE HOURS' section with times from 8:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. Monday through Friday, and 8:30 a.m. to 12:00 p.m. Saturday.
