His companion, an 18-year-old girl estranged from her husband, was forced from her car parked on a lover's lane just before Kaufmann was killed and then driven to a nearby area where, she told police, she was repeatedly raped.

Kaufmann was the son of Charles L. Kaufmann, an officer of the U.S. Agency for International Development (AID), now stationed in Washington. The parents flew here Sunday to claim the body. Police Chief Melvin Flohr said the girl questioned Saturday and Sunday has told her story with no significant changes and was unable to provide additional clues.

January To Bring Annual Big Storm

DUBLIN, N.H. (AP)—The big January storm of 1967 will be repeated in 1968, but next spring will be early and sunny, the Farmer's Almanac says. Predicting the weather a year in advance is the principal claim to fame for the publication, now in its 176th edition. The almanac accurately forecast last year the end of the drought in New England during 1967 and the January storm this year which was a blizzard in the Middle West and heavy rains in New England. The weatherwise, the almanac's weather forecaster, predicts that 1967 will be marked by nice spring weather, interrupted only by a major storm from Chicago to New England in late April. The weatherwise is the pen name of Robb Sagendorph and Rob Trowbridge who publish the almanac. They use a secret formula, current atmospheric data and charts dating to 1802 in plotting the forecasts.

2 Veterans Vie For Paul Mayor

PAUL—Interest in the Nov. 7 municipal election was stimulated here last week when two veteran board members tossed their hats in the ring for position of city mayor. Both have been favorites of the people in the city government for several years and each has held the position of chairman of the board, and have been called "mayor" by the community. Harold Wilson, manager of Henry's Farm Sales, and Tom Felton, retired businessman, each have filed petitions. Wilson is current mayor, defeating Mr. Felton in his bid for re-election two years ago. Mr. Felton has served about 44 years on the board, with most of this time as chairman of the board. Mr. Wilson has served three terms. Petitions also have been returned for Marvin Looile, 20-year veteran, and Otto Riedlinger, who has served the past five years. Both are seeking four-year terms as councilmen.

British Christians Meet Reds In 3-Day Dialogue

LONDON (AP)—Christians met Communists in a three-day dialogue over the weekend and the British Council of Churches, which helped organize the get-together, was promptly accused of acting like a Marxist agency. Fifteen Christians and 15 Communists ate, drank, and argued about Marx and the Bible, world poverty and social action, in an East End mission hall. Their chairman was the Rev. Alan Eccleston, vicar of a parish in the industrial city of Sheffield, who has been a Communist party member since 1942 and an Anglican parish priest since 1948. He was the only person present who was both a Christian and a Marxist. "I am ready to talk to anyone who comes to me about Marxism or Christianity," the 63-year-old vicar explained today, "but I'm not seeking to convert anyone to either. They have to seek me out first."

Guest speaker during the meeting was Randy Stoker, recent delegate to Boys' State. He was introduced by George Abo, member of the Paul American Legion.

Man Arrested For Murder Of Couple

NEW YORK (AP)—A 26-year-old man was arrested today in the bludgeoned murders of a teen-age daughter of a wealthy Greenwich, Conn., family and a long-haired, tattooed man, whose bodies were found Sunday in the boiler room of a hippland tenement. Donald Ramsey, a Negro, who lives in the building, was ordered held for booking on a homicide charge by Asst. Dist. Atty. Daniel Harris. The couple's nude bodies, about 10 feet apart, lay face down on a concrete floor. Their heads had been severely battered. Blood stains were on the floor and walls. The girl was identified by a stenoist as Linda Fitzpatrick, 18, a daughter of Irving Fitzpatrick, president of the Knickerbocker Mills, a tea and spice import firm at Totowa, N.J. Her home was a 30-room mansion. The man, who had a police record in both New York City and New England, was identified as James Leroy Hutchinson, 21, of Central Falls, R.I.

Student Body Heads Named At Heyburn

HEYBURN—Heyburn School student body leaders recently elected are announced by Mrs. John Gornik, PTA publicity director. Bruce Stimpson was elected president with Merlin Whitaker, vice president and Wendy Whitesides, secretary. Eighth grade cheerleaders include Nancy Horner, Kathy Price and Leslie Vandever. Susan Cheney, Vickie Henderson and Debbie Barton are seventh grade cheerleaders. Susan Cheney is school reporter. The first grade enrollment has grown to about 110 students making it necessary to add another first grade class. Mrs. Walter Assen, Burley, is teaching the fourth first grade class. New sixth grade teacher is Mrs. Charles Clark, Paul. Current enrollment for the Heyburn schools is 722, according to Boyd Earl, principal.

Ohio College Employees OK Contract

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A strike by non-teaching employees at Ohio State University ended today as members of the American Federation of State, County, and Municipal Employees voted to accept the latest university contract offer. The university and the union announced the settlement after a standing vote of from 500-600 employees. An estimated 1,300 union members were affected by the walkout which began at midnight last Thursday. Classes were not affected except for a few called off by instructors sympathetic with the strike.

Ho Not Likely To Agree To Talks

By RAY CROMLEY
If Ho Chi Minh is the same man he was two decades ago or one decade ago or three — he is not likely to agree to genuine Vietnam peace talks.

Those who believe Ho will be brought to his knees or to a peace table by heavy bombing should study Ho's past. At one time, after World War II, Ho himself ordered the destruction of all two-story houses in all the villages of North Vietnam in order to convince the French there was nothing in the country worth taking — and certainly nothing worth fighting for.

No amount of U. S. bombing would equal that self-planned destruction.

This reporter has talked to men who hate Ho but know him well. They agree that bombing and destruction will not bring Ho to the conference table. If Ho comes to talk, it will be for different reasons.

This is not to argue that the bombing is bad or futile. Proper bombing can have other values. But it's not likely to weaken Ho's will.

On the other hand, a bombing halt would almost certainly be just as futile. If Ho is the same man he was, he would take this bombing pause as a sign that the United States will be weakening. He would believe that his worldwide campaign of pressure was beginning to take effect.

The French learned this lesson in several attempts they made to induce Ho to negotiate. Ho inevitably interpreted French concessions as proof the Communists were winning and that a continuation of terror tactics was called for.

Ho and Mao Tse-tung have both spelled out that the only value of negotiating is either to stall for the time while building strength and covertly whittling at the enemy's defenses or to accept the surrender of a defeated enemy.

The question to ask ourselves is: "What is it Ho would gain by peace negotiations?" For Ho isn't likely to come to talks without hope (or certainty) of a major gain.

Are the U. S. and the South Vietnamese governments ready to give Ho half of South Vietnam? Are we ready to give the Viet Cong such important posts in the South Vietnamese government that they will have the strength to rule the south openly or behind the scenes? Are we ready to give the National Liberation Front such important segments of the army or air force that they could overthrow the government? Is the United States willing to withdraw its forces with no enforceable guarantees against a terrorist or Red military take-over in the south? If we are ready to offer these major concessions, then Ho would come to the peace table. But then there would have been no purpose in helping South Vietnam in the first place.

Teen-Ager Rescues Girl From Canal

SOUTH BAY, Fla. (AP) — A teen-aged girl plunged into the waters of a 25-foot deep canal Sunday and rescued a 3-year-old girl from a sinking car that carried the child's mother and grandparents to their deaths.

The rescuer, Paula Scoggins, 14, of Miami, said a woman handed the baby out of the window of the car and cried, "Save her! We can't swim!" as the car sank to the bottom of the murky water.

Miss Scoggins swam to the bank, about 15 yards away, handed blonde Laura Ann Schick to her boyfriend and swam back to try and save the other occupants.

"The car was gone," said state Trooper J.L. McLean. The doors were still closed when the car and its three occupants were recovered, McLean said. The rear doors were still locked, he said.

Miss Scoggins, a junior high school student, said she was traveling along the highway when she saw the car suddenly veer off an isolated section of U.S. 27 and plunge into the canal at a 45-degree angle. The victims were identified as the child's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Michael J. McGill, and her mother, Mrs. Joan Schick, all of Hollywood, Fla.

800 Tokyo Students Stage Protest

TOKYO (AP)—About 800 students rallied at four Tokyo universities today to protest "police butcher" at a leftist demonstration Sunday that left one dead and 500 injured. The incident was the worst in Japan since violence in 1960 caused the cancellation of a visit by President Dwight D. Eisenhower.

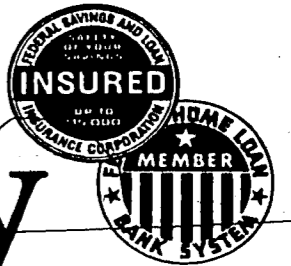

Government officials began investigating means to prevent possible new eruptions triggered by leftists opposed to Prime Minister Eisaku Sato's coming visit to South Vietnam.

Sato arrived in Jakarta on the first leg of a five-nation swing and began talks with Indonesian government officials on financial assistance for the coming year.

Playboy Manville Dies At Age Of 73

NEW YORK (AP) — Tommy Manville, playboy of the Roaring 20's and Depression 30's whose marriages and monetary settlements made headlines for almost five decades, died Sunday of a heart attack. He was 73.

With him at the end was his 11th and last wife, the former Christina Erdien, 26, at their Westchester County residence in Chappaqua, some 30 miles north of Manhattan.

Manville took his first wife, a chorus girl, in 1911 when he was 17, and his last in 1960. He remarried twice, was divorced 10 times, and widowed once. He was heir to a $10 million asbestos fortune, and his divorce settlements cost him in the neighborhood of $1.5 million.

"Marrying Manville was no misnomer for the son of the founder and chairman of the Johns-Manville Corp. He had a decided, and oft-announced, penchant for showgirls, squiring dozens and marrying five of them.

Manville, during his hectic nightclubbing and pursuit of beautiful women, once said, "I'm too lonely—I just can't live alone. The first thing I say to a girl is 'Will you marry me' and the second thing is 'How do you do?'"

As for his settlements, the tireless man-about-town remarked, "Manville is not cheap. At least I keep my money in circulation."

He spent other millions maintaining what he called his "honeymoon cottage," a luxurious estate in New Rochelle called Bon Repos—Good Rest. He sold it in 1955.

He often said that, in addition to the millions his father left him, he had "lots of shares of Johns-Manville," and added: "That's where I got most of my dough."

TOMMY MANVILLE, asbestos heir noted for his 11 marriages, died Sunday at Doctors' hospital in New York after a long illness. He was 73. He is shown with the former Christina Erdien, his 11th and last wife. During his career he had spent more than $1.25 million on his marriage settlements. (AP wirephoto)

Ambassador Coerr Is Leaving Ecuador Upon Its Request

By JORGE JURADO QUITO, Ecuador (AP) — U.S. Ambassador Wymberley DeR. Coerr prepared to leave Ecuador today after the Ecuadorian government requested his withdrawal for what it called "publicly and openly criticizing" President Otto Arosemena Gomez.

Ecuador's complaint was over a speech in which Coerr, 54, defended the Alliance for Progress and called it a success in Ecuador. Arosemena had criticized the American program in a speech two weeks ago.

"The Ecuadorian government saw itself forced to ask for his withdrawal to protect the national dignity and demand the respect due by a foreign envoy to the chief of state," a Foreign Office statement said.

Coerr, a career minister and member of the Foreign Service since 1939, spoke Friday at the American School in Guayaquil. Ecuador asked Washington Saturday to have him out of the country by tonight.

The U.S. State Department said that under traditional diplomatic practice its only possible response is withdrawal of the ambassador. It considers Ecuador's request "to be unjustified by the circumstances" but added that it sees no reason to ask Ecuador's ambassador to withdraw in retaliation.

Coerr's speech did not name the Ecuadorian president but did quote a number of remarks made by Arosemena as published in Ecuador's newspapers.

Arosemena had complained about high interest rates for loans, high costs for materials that had to be bought in the United States and the cost of the services of U.S. technicians under the Alliance for Progress.

In his speech, Coerr said interest rates were one per cent in the first year and 2.5 per cent thereafter. He said that of the total of $216 million in alliance loans to Ecuador, only $26.5 million had to be spent in the United States and only half of one per cent was needed to pay U.S. technicians.

He acknowledged some alliance failure in Ecuador but said "The alliance not only has been a success in the economical aspects in Ecuador but also in the social progress of this country."

Police Clash With Housing Demonstrators In Milwaukee

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP) — Police clashed twice with open housing demonstrators in Milwaukee's virtually all-Negro inner Core Sunday night. Thirty persons were injured, including a policeman hit by a rock.

Police arrested 20 marchers. Among them was Negro comedian Dick Gregory, a leader of the protests now in their 43rd day.

The violence was the first to flare in this racially troubled city since mid-September double city night marches, and counter-marches by opponents of open housing.

A shotgun blast shattered the windows of a police car in the neighborhood of the disturbances. The officers in the car escaped injury. No arrests followed the incident.

Most of those arrested, including Gregory, were seized after about 400 marchers moved from the sidewalk into the center of the street in opposition to police orders.

Earlier, police moved in on the demonstrators when they attempted to approach a band of white opponents of open housing also marching in the Inner Core where most of Milwaukee's 86,000 Negroes live.

Three open housing marchers were arrested in that clash.

The rival groups had been parading on opposite sides of the same street.

COURT TO RULE ON DRAFT CARD BURNING LAW
WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court announced today it will decide whether the 1965 federal law that forbids the burning of draft cards is constitutional.

At the same time the court will decide if a draft card burner can be sent to prison for not possessing his card.

The Justice Department had asked the court to hear the case after the U.S. Circuit Court in Boston ruled unanimously that the 1965 law abridges free speech and is therefore unconstitutional.

Two U.S. circuit courts — in New York City and St. Louis — have upheld the ban on draft card mutilation, which Congress added to the Selective Service law in 1965. And last February the Supreme Court refused to review the ruling by the federal court in New York.

However, the decision by the U.S. Circuit Court in Boston in April put the federal appeals courts in direct conflict.

The current case centers on David P. O'Brien, 20, of Framingham, Mass., who burned his draft card on the steps of the South Boston courthouse in March 1966 to protest against the draft. He was sentenced to six years in federal youth correctional institutions.

Chief Judge Bailey Aldrich of the Boston federal appeals court said O'Brien could stand convicted for not possessing his draft card — but could not be convicted for burning it.

"Darling You're a Jewel!"
NORMAN HERRETT
Probably, at one time or another, every married man in the world — in his native tongue, whatever that might be — has told his wife that she is a jewel.

She is his helpmate, his "heart of hearts" — and he would do anything to make her supremely happy. What is one of the first things he does? He buys her a diamond engagement ring, a wedding ring and, as the years go by, he buys her other rings and bracelets and brooches and trinkets that adorn her and make her a radiant personality.

What does she do with all this jewelry? Lots of times she puts it hit or miss in the top drawer of her dressing table. And quite often, too, she places some of it and puts because she wanted desperately to wear that special pin or pair of earrings.

I have an answer to this. Get her a gem like Jewel Box. We have a most extensive display of them and they are all most beautiful. There are genuine leather jewel boxes with mirrors in the lids and all satin lined. There are jewel boxes that have several compartments with an up-swung tray for rings and pins. Prices? Well you can get a handsome jewel box for as little as $3.95 — others up to $15.00.

Come in today and see them. Easy credit terms, of course and our sincere desire to make you happy with any purchase.

P.S. to you women readers — we have a nice selection of men's jewel boxes too, that make appropriate gifts for any occasion.

HERRETT'S JEWELERS, 1220 Kimberly Road, Twin Falls, 733-0868.

Near Disaster
PORTO CONTE, Sardinia (AP) — Actress Elizabeth Taylor had a brush with disaster Saturday. Her dressing room trailer plunged over a 150-foot cliff into the sea moments after she left it.

The $10,000 mobile dressing room was lost. Movie company officials said the trailer, which was parked on a slope, slipped its brakes and rolled over safety blocks. It contained personal mementoes of her 25 years as an actress.

Miss Taylor and her husband, Richard Burton, are filming scenes for their movie "Go-forth."

Dear Abby

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: Some years ago I remember reading in your column a lot of letters from ladies who wanted the shoe manufacturers to get rid of the high-heeled, pointed shoes, and if I recall, you were on their side.

Well they did just that, and I think the new shoes are terrible looking. Do you ladies who wanted them can go ahead and wear them and may the Lord bless you. Me? I'm still with POINTED TOES AND PENCIL HEELS.

DEAR POINTED: You are correct. My voice was among the loudest in protest of the needle-toed, spindle-heeled shoes. But after a while, I became accustomed to them. (Yet they ruined my feet.) Now that the baby-doll, Cuban heels are back, I admit they look as strange to me as the pointed-toes looked at first, but I am wearing them. And I must confess, I LOOKED better in the old cripplers, but I FEEL better in the new ones.

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I have been happily married for almost six years, and we have two beautiful children. My problem is my mother-in-law. She refuses to admit to me the kind of person my husband's ex-wife was. I know that she knows because she has told other people, but every time I bring up her name, she defends the woman as tho she were a saint. (Believe me, she isn't.) Please print your answer as this is getting me down.

DEAR PEEVED: Forget your husband's ex-wife, unless you want to reveal your own insecurity. For that, more than anything else, is what is really "getting you down."

DEAR ABBY: After reading the letter from the lady who signed "Hurt in Eugene" I have to speak up for the sitters. I agree, it wasn't very nice for that teen-ager to have left the note. "CLEAN UP YOUR FILTHY HOUSE. PLEASE," but, Abby, I honestly know how she must have felt. I am 15 and I was asked to sit for a lady whose husband was out of town. She was going to a luau and called me at the last minute. If she hadn't driven off as soon as I set foot in her house, I would have walked right out the door. When I say her house was filthy, I am not kidding. The kitchen looked like a cyclone had hit it. The sink was piled high with dishes, and there were pots and pans on every inch of counter space, and even on the floor which looked like it hadn't seen a mop in a year. I tried to lift a bowl from the table and it stuck! There were even ants crawling around. I didn't even want to sit down in that house.

The lady was gone for seven hours, during which time I had to give her children dinner and put them to bed. She left no instructions, but told me to fix them "anything" they wanted to eat. She said nothing about bedtime, so when I suggested going to bed I had a terrible time with all of them. These are so-called upper middle class people, Abby.

When the lady got home, she apologized for being late, underpaid me, until I corrected her, and drove me home. I wish I had had the nerve to leave her note telling her to clean up her filthy house. Thank you. TEEN-AGER SITTER

Gibson Nabs Second Series Win As St. Louis Topples Red Sox 6-0

Boston Has Back To Wall, Not Giving Up

ST. LOUIS (AP) — "We have our backs to the wall." That was the opening statement of Manager Dick Williams Sunday after his Boston Red Sox dropped a 6-0 decision to the St. Louis Cardinals and fell behind 3-1 in the World Series. "We're not giving up, though," Williams added quickly. "We've come back all season long, so let's see what happens. I know we've looked bad the past couple of days, but we looked bad at times during the season. Nobody quit then and nobody will now. We've rebounded all along the way. "Now it's do or die. We'll go with (pitcher) Jim Lonborg tomorrow to keep us in there." Williams laughed when asked if he thought the Red Sox could duplicate the feat of the 1903 club, which came back after trailing 3-1 in games to beat Pittsburgh 5-3 in a best-of-nine World Series, the first official fall classic. "That's something I didn't know—I wasn't around in 1903," Williams said. "But I'll tell you one thing: We'll give it every thing we've got."

Party Hunting Illegal In Gem State

BOISE (AP) — Idaho law prohibits the practice of skilled hunters and fisherman killing extra game and fish to fill out bag limits of unsuccessful members of the same hunting or fishing party. Conservation enforcement officer Hawley Hill of the State Fish and Game Department said bag limits for all species of Idaho birds and animals were set with the idea that some sportsmen would go home empty-handed. That way, the limited hunting or fishing ability of some offsets the high success averages of others. However, Hill said, "party hunting" is illegal and upsets the overall harvest figures for game in Idaho. Violation of the law is a misdemeanor.

Sets Record

Captain Joann Sanborn Chapman fired a perfect score at the 1967 California State Smallbore rifle championships in Los Angeles last week. Capt. Chapman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Grant Sanborn, Twin Falls, is one of the few women shooters ever to accomplish the feat. Last year in the same match she became co-holder of two national records by firing a 400-35x in the Dewar course to tie the mark held by Capt. Lones Wigger, Olympic gold medal winner. She also became co-holder of the national women's record.

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Big Bob Gibson pitched the favored St. Louis Cardinals within one win of the world championship Sunday with a five-hitter while his mates blasted the Boston Red Sox pitching staff for nine hits in a 6-0 victory in the fourth game.

Nine Cardinals went to bat in a four-run first inning that routed Jose Santiago and left the American League champs on the brink of elimination.

Only three clubs in the long history of Series competition have come back from 3-1 deficits and one of them was the 1903 Red Sox in the days when a Series was best-of-nine games.

Gibson, easing along to his second Series triumph and his fourth in a row dating back to 1964, was in complete charge of the faltering Red Sox.

Boston never got a man as far as second base until Carl Yastrzemski opened the ninth with a double.

Another sellout crowd of 54,575 watched their favorites roll to an easy victory on a chill, damp afternoon with the thermometer reading on 55 degrees at game time and lights turned on all the way.

Tarkenton Paces Giants Past Saints

NEW YORK (AP) — Quarterback Fran Tarkenton threw two touchdown passes and set up two others with a pair of 44-yard strikes Sunday in pacing the New York Giants to a 27-21 victory over the winless New Orleans Saints in a fiery National Football League game that ended in a near riot.

New York and New Orleans players exchanged punches at mid-field and near the Giant bench after the gun sounded and spectators swarmed from the stands to get a closer look at the melee.

The Giants' defensive back, Freeman White, was involved in a swinging skirmish with tackle George Harvey and end Jim Garcia of the Saints before teammates rushed in to intervene.

Uecker came to the Braves on June 6 in a trade with the Philadelphia Phillies for Gene Oliver. In 80 games this year he batted .193.

Gibson also walked once. Jim Lonborg, the Red Sox's 22-game winning ace who threw a one-hitter against the Cards Thursday for Boston's only win, will try to keep the American League alive Monday afternoon at Busch Stadium.

Steve Carlton, the rangy 22-year-old lefty who had a 14-9 record for the Cards in regular season play, will try to snuff out the Red Sox in his Series debut.

If Boston wins Monday, they will take a day off for travel and resume in Boston Wednesday afternoon. The weather forecast for Monday was clear and cool.

Gibson, a 31-year-old former Harlem Globetrotter who suffered a broken leg July 15 and was out of action until Sept. 6, was simply superb. Bearing down when he needed to, the hard-throwing right-hander struck out six and walked only one.

After Yaz opened the ninth with a double and moved to third on George Scott's outfield fly, Gibson struck out Reggie Smith and made Jerry Adair ground out. Yaz also singled in the first, Scott in the fourth and Jose Tartabull in the sixth and eighth.

Brock opened the big first with a single on a close play at first, beating Jones' throw to the bag. Curt Flood lined a single to left and Roger Maris, the ex-Yankee, came through with a two-run double to the left field corner. Maris scooted to third on Orlando Cepeda's fly and scored when Tim McCarver ripped a single to right.

Santiago, the 27-year-old Puerto Rican who had been moved out of the bullpen to a starting role in late season. Gary Bell, routed Saturday, came on to put out the blaze.

The Cards tore into Jerry Stephenson, third Boston pitcher for two more runs in the third. Cepeda's second hit of the Series was a double down the left field line. He took third on a wild pitch and scored on McCarver's sacrifice fly to Smith in center.

A walk to Shannon and a double by Javier to the left field corner drove in Shannon with the sixth run. That was all and more than enough.

When newsmen asked Manager Red Schoendienst if he thought Williams went too long with Santiago, he replied, "I've got enough trouble running my own club without bothering with them."

Gibson said he thought he was better in Boston because he had more rest. This time he had three days off and presumably would be ready to work the seventh game, if it goes that far with three more days rest.

Schoendienst said Dick Hughes, loser in the second game, would oppose Gary Waslewski in Boston if the Series returns to Boston for a sixth game.

JACOBY'S REVIEW

Jim: "We have just received the official book of the 1967 World's Championship. The ACLB has certainly done a wonderful job of preparation."

Oswald: "As usual, Italy won with the North American team of Bill Root, Alvin Roth and Edgar Kaplan of New York, and Norman Kay of Philadelphia heart contract on the bidding shown in the box. The American West opened the three of clubs. D'Alelio rose with dummy's queen and proceeded to make his contract to score plus 420." Jim: "A trump lead would have beaten the contract but we can't really blame our West player. Give East the black queens instead of the spade king and club jack and a club lead might have been essential."

Oswald: "The sad feature of the hand came when America sat North and South. They reached the safe contract of three diamonds. West opened the ace of spades and continued. South decided that West was underleading the king and rose with dummy's queen. This took away all chance to get rid of his losing club. Then South led a heart to dummy's jack and Garozzo of Italy ducked. The next play was a diamond finesse which lost. Rorquet of Italy led his second heart and Garozzo gave him a ruff. Italy still managed to get a club trick and America was down one at the safe contract."

ELE AND WALT DULANEY

His 'Real' Parents Are Right There

Dear Ele and Walt: I was legally adopted when I was 2 years old. I've known this ever since I can remember, but late-ly, since I became 16, I've had dreams night after night about my real parents. My adopted folks don't know anything about them, but they're willing to help me trace them if there's any way to do it. Is there?—16-Plus.

Dear 16: Only a lawyer could help you unravel the mystery of your parentage. But before consulting one, meditate on these two ideas: (1) Your "natural" parents gave you up. If you traipsed back into their lives today, you might cause them all sorts of needless suffering and pain. (2) Your "real" parents are the ones who reared you. By dint of their day-by-day love, they've given you life and a future. Is it really so necessary to look back now?—Ele and Walt.

WANTS JUSTICE AT HOME
Dear Ele and Walt: The other day my older brother hit me across the mouth because I was tapping to music and it bothered him. My dad saw him do this and said nothing. Today my brother was singing real loud and I wanted to hear my favorite song on the radio, so I slapped him and my dad sent me to my room. Things are always like this. Whatever "dear brother" does is fine. But anything I do is a big crime. How can I get some justice at home?—14.

Dear 14: We draw a blank here. Let's see if your fellow readers can pull some suggestions out of their pants. Just what can a "second child" do to get equal treatment? Or is "grin-and-bear-it," the only answer?—Ele and Walt.

KEEP IT FRIENDLY
Dear Ele: Please tell me if it's proper to keep writing to a girl friend I used to date, who has since moved away and has informed me she is going steady with a boy in her new community. —Air Mail Male.

Dear Male: Two questions: (1) do you have any indication that the girl enjoys your letters?

9 Petitions Filed At Heyburn

HEYBURN — Nine petitions for office in the Heyburn municipal election have been filed with only one day remaining before the filing deadline.

Four posts are to be filled in the Nov. 7 election.

W. I. Duff, owner of Master Painters and Decorators, announced Monday that he will run for the office of mayor, opposing Harold Hurst, 14-year board veteran.

Petitions are available at the city office for any qualified voter who wishes to run for either mayor or city councilman, but they will have to be filed by Tuesday.

Terms expiring this year are those of Harold Hurst, current chairman of the board, J. R. Brown and Jack Strauss. Also to be filled is a two-year term to complete the unexpired term of Ross Corless who recently resigned and moved from the area.

Persons running for four-year terms besides incumbents, Jack Strauss and J. R. Brown, include Ivan Eliason, Glen Tritley and Fred Dayley. Mrs. Lazelle Greenhalgh, veteran board member, and Robert Hambleton each are seeking election for the two-year term.

All residents are urged to make certain of being registered and may check with the city clerk. Anyone not voting in the last election or recently moving here must register again.

NEWSWEEK BANNED SAIGON (AP)—The government has banned the Oct. 9 issue of Newsweek magazine from newsstands because of an article critical of the South Vietnamese armed forces.

Republican Senator Hugh Scott Endorses President Johnson's Vietnam Policies

WASHINGTON (AP)— Sen. Hugh Scott, a Republican moderate, endorsed President Johnson's Vietnam policies today and said "it is imperative that we do not undermine the stature of the President as commander-in-chief and as the nation's chief diplomat."

He said the Republican party should not "misconceive its role as to become a 'peace at any price' party."

The Pennsylvania said he supports present policy because "I know of no better alternative."

His position contrasts with recent criticism of Johnson and his policies from such GOP moderates as Sens. Charles H. Percy of Illinois, Thurston B. Morton of Kentucky and Clifford P. Case of New Jersey, and Gov. George Romney of Michigan.

But it follows Senate Republican leader Everett M. Dirksen's defense of Johnson policies and his recent warning against de-meaning Johnson.

Scott's remarks were in a speech prepared for Senate delivery.

Scott said charges of a credibility gap in administration statements on Vietnam "can be remedied by greater candor with the American people within the legitimate bounds of national security."

"Meanwhile, I reiterate my own trust and confidence in the President in his persecution of our basic strategy in Vietnam, because I know that he is not deliberately trying to deceive the American people on such a serious matter."

In a speech to a Democratic fund-raising dinner Saturday night, Johnson said he knows he could boost his popularity by adopting policies aimed at getting the United States "out of trouble cheaply and fast"—but he said they would be irresponsible.

"I do know that we are following the road of responsibility in Vietnam, as we are at home. I know probably as well as any man, save those who are fighting there at this hour, that it is a rough road to travel. But the road does lead to a free Asia—and a more secure America."

A former president, Dwight D. Eisenhower, said Saturday he is supporting a new organization called "Committee for Peace with Freedom in Vietnam." He named former Illinois Sen. Paul H. Douglas as a prime organizer. Douglas said only that a policy statement has been signed by 40 to 50 persons but is not ready for release.

Eisenhower said signers include former Sens. Lucius Clay and Omar Bradley.

Another organization concerned with the war, Negotiation Now, heard former presidential aide Arthur Schlesinger Jr. call the U.S. military leadership in South Vietnam "as disastrous as any we have had in the life of our nation."

He said Sunday the administration is acting under the mistaken assumption that military men know how to win wars.

"There is nothing infallible" about the Joint Chiefs of Staff, he said. "I know what they recommended during great crises of the Kennedy administration—the Bay of Pigs, the Berlin crisis of 1961, the missile crisis of 1962, the test ban debate of 1963—and in each case their recommendations were plainly wrong."

The historian said if the administration persists in its Vietnam policies, the country, "if it is to save itself," requires new leadership within the present two-party system.

Hells Canyon Dam To Close Gates Tuesday

HELLS CANYON (AP)— The gates will close Tuesday and the water behind Hells Canyon hydroelectric dam on the Snake River will begin filling its 23-mile reservoir.

Blocking of a diversion tunnel—bored through solid rock—through which the entire flow of the Snake River has been channeled, marks near-completion of a 45,000-kilowatt facility on the river.

One of three harnessing the stretch of the Snake as it flows between Oregon and Idaho, the dam is expected to begin producing power in early November.

The series of dams was constructed by the Idaho Power Co.

A company spokesman said filling of the reservoir will be accomplished in two stages. The first, requiring about five days, will fill it halfway.

The second, utilizing water from the upstream Brownlee and Oxbow reservoirs, will be completed by Nov. 1.

Cadillac for 1968 elegance in action

Show room 1801 Couve de Ville, Cadillac Motor Car Division

The master builder of the V-8's introduces the fourth great V-8 engine design in motoring history.

Automotive critics are highly enthusiastic about the 1968 Cadillac equipped with the totally new 472 V-8 engine.

The largest, smoothest engine ever put into a production passenger car, its quiet operation is remarkable, its response in traffic surprising and its stamina on the turnpike truly amazing! Its torque, or usable power, surpasses that of any other passenger car engine.

This unmatched combination of performance and smoothness is in no way compromised by the operation of Cadillac's usual conveniences.

The debut of the new 472 V-8 engine marks the fourth time Cadillac has led the industry with a major V-8 engine development. The first time was in 1914, when the first production V-8 was lowered onto a Cadillac chassis.

Each of the 11 new 1968 Cadillacs has the new 472 V-8. Test-drive one soon—and enjoy a truly exciting discovery.
