WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Appropriations Committee called today for budget cuts of nearly $3 billion, including large new slashes in government employment and research. The committee's "cockpit" of three-cornered economy fight involving Republicans and Congress, some Democrats and President Johnson's administration, tied its cutback orders to an emergency bill to finance government departments whose regular appropriations are still pending.

G. McGonigal, Blaine Aide, Dies At Age 37

GANNETT — George G. McGonigal, 37, chairman of the Blaine County Commission, died Saturday at the Twin Falls Clinic Hospital of a heart attack.

He was born Feb. 28, 1930, at the "Spring of Gladness" Ranch near Gannett. In 1947 he was graduated from the Hailey High School. On Sept. 30, 1950, he married Marie Louise Inchausti.

A veteran of the Korean War, Mr. McGonigal was elected Blaine County commissioner in 1960 and became chairman of the group in 1966. He was chairman of the Bellevue Cemetery District and at the time of his death was in partnership with a brother, John McGonigal, operating a ranch and making post drivers.

Survivors include his widow, three sons, Patrick McGonigal, 13; David McGonigal, 5, and Dennis McGonigal, 3; one daughter, Maurine McGonigal, 7; mother, Mrs. Mary McGonigal; Gannett's three brothers, Michael McGonigal, Helen A. Mont., Thomas McGonigal, Baker, Mont., and John McGonigal, Hailey.

Rosary will be recited at 8:15 p.m. Tuesday at St. Charles Catholic Church. Requiem mass will be celebrated at 11 a.m. Wednesday at St. Charles Catholic Church by Rev. Francis DeNardis. Military rites will be held at the Bellevue Cemetery under the direction of Bird Funeral Home, Hailey. The family suggests memorials to either the heart fund or angelus bells fund of St. Charles Church.

Viet Cong Appeal On War Efforts

TOKYO (AP) — The Viet Cong appealed to both the American people and the Vietnamese today to step up a struggle against U.S. war efforts, the Vietnam News Agency reported.

Hanoi's official news agency said the appeal, issued by the newly founded "South Vietnam People's Committee for solidarity with the American People," considered the antiwar movement in the United States as "a coordinated action of the two peoples against their common enemy."

U. S. ARMY INDUCTEES climb over a sit-in group of anti-draft demonstrators blocking the doorway of the Oakland, Calif., induction center early Monday. About eight moved into the building in this manner, while about three elected not to cross the sit-in group. Oakland police then moved in and arrested those sitting. They were immediately replaced by another group as soon as the police moved away. (AP wirephoto)

800 Antidraft Demonstrators Try To Block Oakland Center

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP) — About 800 antidraft demonstrators attempted to block entrances to the Oakland Army Induction Center today, and 35 or more were arrested, including folksinger Joan Baez, one of the leaders.

The long-haired vocalist was leading a crowd in a hand-clapping chant, "Want my Freedom now," when police moved in and led her and a dozen others to a waiting patrol wagon.

Two busloads of draftees arrived two hours later and entered a side door while Miss Baez and her group were being arrested.

The picketing was organized and led by a group calling itself the Civil Action Day Committee and claiming support of various other Bay Area peace groups.

The demonstration was a stormy prelude to University of California student plans for an all-night "teach-in" against the draft, to be followed by an attempt to immobilize the induction center Tuesday morning.

Among those arrested was Joan Baez, the folksinger. About 50 helmeted police moved up to the entrance where she was singing, and arrested her and 12 others. All went quietly to a patrol wagon.

Police arrested them after twice warning them they were trespassing.

The demonstrators ranged from youngsters to bearded, sandaled hippie types to gray-haired women and some conventionally clad middle-aged men.

Brush Fire Besieges Los Angeles Region

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A searing brush fire swept into another Los Angeles residential area today, boosting to 28 the number of homes left gutted in its path and threatening about 100 more on nearby hillsides.

The fire near suburban Chatsworth about 30 miles northwest of Los Angeles was one of two major blazes which have blackened an estimated 26,000 acres and left one person dead since Sunday.

Tired firemen, who battled through the night, said the major danger was that hot, dry winds might return.

At the most destructive point of the 10,000-acre Chatsworth fire four homes were reported destroyed today.

Some 100 others stood in the path of the flames.

There were 22 homes destroyed Sunday in the area.

To the southwest about 10 charred miles away, a second fire front burned toward new homes about three miles east of Thousand Oaks. However, firemen said no homes there were immediately threatened.

About 1,000 firemen fought the fingers of fire which nibbled over hills and into canyons and gullies.

Fire officials said the Chatsworth blaze combined with a 3,000-acre fire in the Simi Valley of southern Ventura County.

Both fires were burning on a 20-mile perimeter bordering U.S. 101, the Ventura Freeway.

and other motorists were hospitalized. Traffic on the Ventura Freeway to the Simi area was backed up for eight miles at one point.

"I lost everything," said Edward Collins whose home went up in flames, "everything—house and furnishings. My son and daughter lost their home too. I stayed to fight the fire until it got so hot I had to leave. Now I have nowhere to go. All I have is on my back—pajama top, trousers and shoes."

No homes were damaged in Simi but a tract of homes near Thousand Oaks was threatened during the night. The fire burned around the Rocketdyne testing center of North American Rockwell Corp., destroying several small sheds.

A blaze threatened homes in the residential suburb of Whittier about 15 miles southeast of Los Angeles.

"It burned right up to the back doors of some houses," a Los Angeles County fire official said, but the flames were contained before there was any structural damage.

In Santa Paula, 100 miles northwest of Los Angeles, two ranches were destroyed in a blaze that had swept across 16,000 acres.

It was still reported burning out of control Sunday night.

The hot, dry Santa Ana winds which fed the flames had died down during the night but the whirling air current was expected to gain momentum again.

The mountainous path of the fire was inaccessible to most fire fighting equipment.

Many Calls

City Clerk Constance Leiser and members of her staff reported being swamped with telephone calls Monday by persons who said their names were not on the list of registered voters published in the Sunday Times-News.

She emphasized the list obtained by the newspaper were of persons registered as of Sept. 21. Persons who have called at the city hall to register since Sept. 21 when the books opened for the coming Nov. 7 election, will not be on the list, but their registration is recorded at the city hall and they are eligible to vote.

Mrs. Leiser said nearly all of the persons calling Monday are registered, but have registered since Sept. 21.

Crash Kills Two Hailey Youths, Third Critical

HAILEY—A one-car accident north of Hailey early Sunday morning has claimed the lives of two Hailey youths with a third in critical condition at Sun Valley Hospital.

The deaths of Richard Wayne Dugger, 17, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert W. Dugger, Hailey, and James E. Peck, 18, son of Thomas E. Peck, Bellevue, and Mrs. George Kirschner, Hailey, make a total of three members of the Wood River High School senior class of 85 killed in traffic accidents in as many days.

The earlier victim, Kenneth Petersen, 19, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dale H. Petersen, Hailey, was killed in a one-car crash early Thursday morning when his car failed to negotiate a curve four miles south of Shoshone on Highway 93.

Reported in critical condition from the Sunday morning accident three miles north of here on Highway 93 is Roy Robertson, 18, Hailey, son of Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Robertson, Hailey.

The Dugger youth died early Sunday morning in the Sun Valley Hospital and the Peck boy died later in the day at St. Alphonsus Hospital, Boise. The accident occurred at 12:45 a.m. Sunday.

State Patrolman Larry Platt said all three youths in the 1963 across the highway, throwing all the occupants out. All three received head injuries.

Twin Falls Deputy Sheriff Tom Majors and Leonard D. Miller, who were traveling north, reported they were forced to leave the highway to miss the rolling car.

The Leichter car came to rest on its wheels but was demolished, Patrolman Platt said. He was assisted in the investigation by Sheriff Orville Drexler.

Joint funeral services for the two victims are scheduled for 3 p.m. Wednesday at the Wood River High School Gymnasium by Rev. Francis DeNardis. Last rites for both boys will be held in the Hailey Cemetery. Friends may call at the Bird Funeral Home Tuesday evening and Wednesday until noon.

Richard Wayne Dugger was born Jan. 28, 1950, at Sun Valley and was a student at the Wood River High School.

He is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert W. Dugger; one brother, Johnathon Lee Dugger, all Hailey; two sisters, Mrs. Marcia Jean Berry, See CRASH, pg. 2, col. 7

Japan Trade Delegates Visit Idaho

BOISE (AP) — Idaho State officials today a Japanese trade delegation told they hoped Idaho would share in any increase in Japanese purchases of United States wheat.

Lt. Gov. Jack Murphy, the state's acting governor, told the visitors Idaho "raises a lot of wheat."

"If you're buying," he added, "we'd like to sell some."

Murphy and other elected and appointed officials visited in the governor's office for 30 minutes with the six Japanese businessmen. Five of them are government officials, connected with the Japanese food agency or the Ministry of Agriculture and Forestry.

The sixth was Paul Sone, spokesman for the group, who is assistant director in Tokyo of the Western Wheat Associates of the United States. Idaho is a member of that group.

The Japanese conferred earlier with federal officials in Washington, D.C., then visited wheat growing areas in the Midwest and in Montana before coming to Idaho.

They will go to Coeur d'Alene for a meeting of directors of the Western Wheat Associates on Thursday and Friday, then will return to Japan.

Surveyor Awakes After Slumber

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — America's Surveyor 5 space vehicle, awake after a two-week slumber on the moon, has started sending radio signals back to earth again.

Officials said the Surveyor 5 stirred to life Sunday after a tracking station at Canberra, Australia, gave the command which turned its radio back on.

All this was related by Mr. Stumph recently. He said he was a central figure in the movement. The story reflects only his statements, no others.

Those people met to discuss the recall of Idaho Democratic Sen. Frank Church. They met again two weeks later, and this time Ronald Rankin, Coeur d'Alene, attended.

The rest is history. "The Victory in Vietnam Committee" was formed, under the leadership of Gene Mileck of St. Maries. Mr. Rankin, a member, offered advice, but Mr. Stumph, although a voice in the background, was not a member.

The political storm that followed created interest through-

Lawyers Move Stream Of Witnesses

MERIDIAN, Miss. (AP) — A dozen defense lawyers kept a stream of witnesses coming today as they neared the end of their case in the trial of 18 white men charged with conspiracy in the 1964 deaths of three civil rights workers.

The defense indicated it hoped to rest by the end of the day, if cross-examination of witnesses did not take too long.

As the trial began its second week, the number of defense witnesses—testifying primarily to the character and alibis of the defendants—neared the 50 mark.

Federal Check Deposited For Fire Fighting

BOISE (AP) — A federal check for $187,500 was deposited Monday in Idaho's state treasury to aid in paying costs of last summer's fire fighting.

The money represented three-quarters of a $250,000 allocation made to Idaho by the Federal Office of Emergency Planning after the state was declared a disaster area because of the widespread forest fires.

The remainder of the $250,000 is expected within 30 days and state officials said they are hopeful some additional federal money will be received. The state reported emergency fire fighting expenditures of $1.4 million and told the federal government it had only $410,000 to pay the bill.

If no additional federal money is received, the State Land Board last week authorized use of deficiency warrants. They would be retired later by a legislative appropriation.

The $1.4 million fire fighting cost does not include repayment to federal agencies for assistance they provided. Gov. Samuelson said earlier that if the state is billed for that, the total cost could climb to $4 million.

Ford Company And Union Continue Secret Talks

DETROIT (AP) — Ford Motor Co. and the United Auto Workers union continue their contract talks in secrecy again today.

UAW President Walter P. Reuther and Malcolm L. Denise, Ford vice president for labor relations, were expected to head the bargaining teams in the third straight day of face-to-face talks.

They met for 10 hours Sunday, but neither side reported the results of that session.

A news blackout the two sides imposed at 9 p.m. Tuesday remained in effect.

The strike by 160,000 Ford workers is almost six weeks old with a total wage loss the company estimates at more than $140 million. The damage to Ford's business won't be fully known for months to come, but its new car sales in the first 10 days of this month were 60,000 below those of the same period a year ago.

Workers struck at 11:59 p.m. Sept. 6 when the old three-year contract expired.

Prior to the 9 p.m. Sunday recess, there had been speculation that settlements were so close that the bargainers would continue talks on an around-the-clock basis to wrap up the contract.

SAIGON (AP) — Premier Nguyen Cao Ky intends to visit the United States in the near future, Vietnam Press, the official government news agency, reported Monday.

Governors Set Sail For Virgin Islands

NEW YORK (AP) — Most of the nation's governors set sail today for the Virgin Islands, with some of both political parties saying they didn't think President Johnson's Vietnam war policies will be an issue during the eight-day conference cruise.

The cruise ship Independence is the setting for the annual Governors Conference.

Ahead of the governors lay six days of working sessions at sea and two days in the Virgin Islands.

and Otto Kerner of Illinois said in separate interviews they did not press for any endorsement of Johnson's Vietnam policies.

Both of the Democratic governors noted that 20 of their colleagues had endorsed the general policies of Johnson in Vietnam at a luncheon Sunday in the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel.

The Democrats had reaffirmed their support of the President's course in Vietnam. Most of them had criticized it at a meeting in White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., last December.

in St. Louis, Mo., meeting subsequently.

Twenty-three of the 25 Republican governors and 22 of the 25 Democratic governors were expected aboard the liner Independence today for the annual Governors' Conference.

Gov. John Love of Colorado, head of the Republican Governors' Association, said he doesn't think the cruise conference will produce any unanimity on Vietnam.

this issue and they have a candidate and we don't."

The declaration of Michigan Gov. George Romney, a Republican, that Johnson was following a "ping-pong" policy in Vietnam seemed to leave the governors as cold as the unsupported statement of Republican Gov. Ronald Reagan of California that the United States may be "doing much better in the war than we're being told."

Reagan said Johnson was waiting until a politically opportune time in the 1968 campaign to announce that "we've turned a point in the war and perhaps we're winning."

He spoke on ABC's program "Issues and Answers."

Gov. James Rhodes of Ohio, a Republican who had taken the initiative two years ago in lining up the governors behind Johnson's Vietnam policies, said he is not interested in taking any similar action now.

Asked why, he said he thinks there is too much Republican dissent.

"I'm not running for anything and I'm not supporting anybody who is," Rhodes said.

Violence sprang up on the highways again Sunday night after several days of relative calm. Six shots were fired into the cab of a rig hauling steel coils near White Marsh, Md. Police said the shots all narrowly missed the driver, Samuel F. Sherman, 43, of Baltimore. It was the first shooting incident of the strike in Maryland.

State police reported about a dozen rock throwing incidents on the Pennsylvania Turnpike. John W. Krock Jr., of Greensburg, Pa., was hospitalized for cuts around the face after a rock crashed through his windshield near Somerset.

The two trucking groups rejected the original agreement giving the truckers $10 an hour after two hours. Truckers in most areas approved the plan.

State PTA Meet Slated Here Nov. 1

The program for the state convention of the Idaho Congress of Parents and Teachers, to be held in Twin Falls Nov. 1-3, was announced Monday by local PTA Council officials.

All PTA members in the area are invited to attend sessions which will be held in O'Leary Junior High School. Each local unit is entitled to a voting delegate for each 25 members, based on last spring's membership.

The first general meeting is scheduled for 7:30 p.m. Nov. 1 with an address by Robert Gibb,

Court Rules On Parochial School Aid

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court agreed today to decide if taxpayers can bring lawsuits challenging federal education programs that aid parochial schools.

This means the court will re-examine a 1923 decision that has barred individual taxpayers from going to court to try to block large-scale government spending programs.

Thus the court directly stepped into the controversial church-state area for the first time since its 1964 ruling barring required Bible reading in the public schools.

The target of the current lawsuit is assistance to parochial schools under the 1965 federal Elementary and Secondary Education Act.

A three-judge federal court in New York City dismissed the suit, brought by seven civic and education leaders, last June by a 2-1 vote.

This prevented determination of the taxpayers' claim that spending of federal funds for parochial schools violates the principle of church-state separation contained in the 1st Amendment to the U.S. Constitution.

U.S. Circuit Court Judge Paul R. Hays, joined by U.S. District Judge John F. X. McGohey, said the seven taxpayers had no standing to sue because they could not show they directly suffered damages.

U.S. District Court Judge Melvin E. Frankel dissented, saying taxpayers have the right to attack a law "respecting an establishment of religion."

The test case was supported by the American Jewish Congress, the New York Civil Liberties Union, the United Federation of Teachers and the United Parents Associations.

The federal program provides funds to finance guidance services, purchase of textbooks and some instruction in religiously operated schools.

Changes Mind
DURHAM, N.C. (AP) — Magistrate Jeannette Johnson was about to perform the marriage ceremony when the would-be groom took a deep breath and rushed from their courthouse office.
But not for long.
His would-be bride ran after him, and the couple returned in a few minutes. The young girl was beaming and the boy was red-faced and nervous.
Magistrate Johnson started the ceremony again and all was fine until she reached the words "and forsaking all others and keep ye only unto her so long as ye both shall live?"
Suddenly, the boy shouted: "I won't."
He bolted out of the office and this time the bride didn't chase him.

A Sad Tale: The Poor Colombia Rich Guys

WASHINGTON—We got a live one-way down-yonder in Bogotá, Colombia, where a gutsy president named Carlos Lleras Restrepo is giving the rough side of his tongue daily to rich deadbeats and thereby providing an answer to what is wrong with Latin America.

What is wrong, of course, is that the rich either don't pay their income taxes at all or make only token contributions to the treasuries of nations whose politicians spend most of their time begging handouts from good old Uncle Sucker in Washington. Lleras Restrepo is trying to make tax reform in Colombia something more than a cruel joke on the plain people, and he may get somewhere if only because he's got such a sardonic sense of humor.

Recently, for instance, Mr. Restrepo went on nationwide television to read some tax returns filed by assorted well-to-do citizens, and gave a socko performance. With tongue firmly fixed in cheek, he asked his viewers to join him in extending sympathy to Colombian millionaires who were having trouble making ends meet.

The President named no names, unfortunately, but he came up with one joker who declared assets of nine million pesos ($558,000) and expressed concern that the man should have suffered such losses during the year that his taxable income was zero. "Surely," commented the President, "some changes are indicated in this man's investment portfolio."

There was also the taxpayer, to use the term loosely, who declared a worth of 26 million pesos yet managed to eke out only a niggardly 1 percent on his assets. "The state has ruined him," said Lleras Restrepo with fine sarcasm. But the President affected a show of relief over the tax return of a company with 37 million pesos in declared assets which had shown a taxable profit of 2 percent.

Needless to say, there has been a storm of opposition to the President's tax reforms from the business world. Lleras Restrepo also has been indicted by these elegant welters for allegedly strangling credit with his stringent fiscal policies. But the President's viewers must have marveled that in the face of such adverse credit conditions so many wealthy citizens and companies had been able to incur so many debts that they were left with no taxable income.

There also have been cries, familiar to Americans, that the government has wiped out all incentives by its policies. Possibly, replied Lleras Restrepo, but how come one basic industry made four million pesos profit on a declared gross worth of only 17 million pesos—and yet declared no taxable income?

All this may seem so provincial as to have no interest for the average American, but in terms of U. S. aid to Latin America no issue is more important to Main Street's pocketbook. Most Latin-American nations are unable to pay their way because their governments have always been either unwilling or unable to collect taxes from the fat cats who hog between 80 and 90 per cent of the money. As long as this situation prevails, Washington will continue to pick the pockets of the American taxpayers to support those governments in the caviar-and-Cadillac style to which their politicians have become accustomed.

Colombia's Lleras Restrepo therefore is like a breath of fresh air to the citizens of Lubbock, Texas, and Springfield, Ohio, because he is trying to save them money. Lleras Restrepo says he will keep his promise to initiate and enforce tax reforms. He adds, "If it is wished that the government should sell out the country will have to look for another government. I will not be there. There must be a street we can name after a guy like that."

That Boy Of Yours

If you are parents of a son, and he is about nine years old, he is half through living at home.

Somewhere down the line, since the early pioneer days, things have become all twisted. Today most parents do things for their children but only a few do things with them.

Now, in Twin Falls at least, those who have young sons will have a chance once again to do something with them—to be a "buddy" instead of just a parent who digs into the pocketbook at every turn, believing that shelling out money is all that is needed to raise a boy.

The opportunity is being presented by officials of the Snake River Area Council, Boy Scouts of America.

On Tuesday night boys who want to become a Scout will have that opportunity. They are invited to come to any public-grade school, or St. Edward's school at 8 p.m., and take part in a unique School Night For Scouting.

At that time the Scouting program—which in this area is without a doubt the best in the United States—will be reviewed for them. It is an open invitation to any boy between eight years and 11 years to sign on. So if your boy is in that age bracket, and is not yet a Scout, why not go with him to a grade school Tuesday night. It might well prove to be the step that you have been looking for—a step to do something with him, as well as for him.

Nation-wide the Scouting program attracts 5,200,000 boys. The membership in the Snake River Area Council this year will be in excess of 6,500.

The Council ranks in the top five per cent of the Councils in America. Throughout the valley a total of 56 per cent of all boys between the ages of eight and 18 are enrolled.

In the past three years this Council has moved from 329th place to second out of 529 Councils in America in the number of boys participating. Last summer, for instance, 2,200 boys participated in the camping program.

The purpose of Scouting is citizenship training, character building and physical fitness.

The opportunity to help your boy, to go along with him, is now presented. The invitation to join has been issued and Tuesday evening is the time.

Perpetual Debt

Speaking of revolutions, here's another that has taken place in the past 50 years—the debt revolution.

Between 1917 and 1967, a period in which the U. S. population doubled, the following has occurred:

The national debt has multiplied 109 times.

Short-term installment debt has increased nearly 50 times.

Mortgage debt is 30 times the 1917 figure.

Personal bankruptcies are 20 times larger.

Consumer installment financing was in its infancy 50 years ago, says the Family Economic Bureau of Northwestern National Life Insurance Company, reporting on a study of our changed attitude toward debt.

If you paid cash, you were considered a stable, thrifty person. If you couldn't pay cash, you didn't buy, unless you wanted to fall into the clutches of a loan shark.

To buy a home in 1917, a wage or salary worker could borrow up to a maximum of 40 or 50 per cent of value on a first mortgage, which was due in three to five years. After that, he could renew the mortgage by paying another substantial financing fee.

Short-term consumer debt was about $2 billion in mid-1917; it totaled $95 billion at mid-1967 and will nudge $100 billion by the end of the year. Today almost anyone can borrow hundreds of dollars on his unsecured signature from a bank or loan company, and a home buyer can borrow up to 80 or even 100 per cent of the appraised value of a home and take half a lifetime to pay it off.

Stores now offer a variety of credit plans. Under the "revolving charge" plan it is possible to stay perpetually in debt by making modest payments that merely prevent the balance from exceeding a certain level.

Millions of Americans trade in for new automobiles every year or two before the old one is paid for, and the monthly payment has become as permanent a part of their lives as the grocery bill.

Business bankruptcies are no more numerous than they were 50 years ago (about 17,000 a year), but 11 of every 12 bankruptcies now are personal ones—about 175,000 in 1967.

Old Man Debt's public image has indeed changed, says the bureau. Now, like Santa Claus, it is the source of good things. Debt is viewed as a status symbol instead of a secret shame.

But though 50 years have brought spectacular gains, there are also serious, mounting problems.

By far the most frequent reason people apply for personal loans is for consolidation of debts. Many loan customers habitually live only two to four weekly paychecks ahead of insolvency. Credit counselors complain of a childish "gimme now" psychology and that many debtors seem to lack a feeling of moral obligation to pay.

How can we promote more realistic attitudes toward debt and sounder use of credit?

Federal, state and local governments should put their own houses in order, says the bureau. A basic course in personal and family spending should be required in high school. Evening classes in family budget control should be available everywhere for adults. Consumers should be taught that impulse buying should be curbed, and that budgets should be reserved at least 10 per cent of regular income for a safety margin.

Finally, we should all keep in mind the old saying: "Credit is a good servant, but debt is a hard master."

Switch Report Riles Rocky

WASHINGTON (NEA) — New York's Gov. Nelson Rockefeller is said by intimates to be furious at the man he blames for published reports that he is moderating his long-held hawkish stance in support of President Johnson's Vietnam policy.

The man is Emmett J. Hughes, a magazine columnist and former adviser to President Eisenhower and to the governor himself.

The report is that Hughes, an outspoken dove, submitted a position paper to Rockefeller, urging him to shift toward middle ground on Vietnam. The governor says flatly to friends that he rejected it.

Whatever others may say about the matter, the governor is sternly convinced that Hughes tried to "lever" him by passing word that his outlook of the war was undergoing a change.

The governor is sufficiently vehement on the subject so that one of his entourage now brands Hughes' alleged maneuvering as "perfidious act."

Both privately and publicly, Rockefeller is insisting that he has not altered his fundamental position. Sitting nearby when an aide took a telephone call on the issue, the governor shouted encouragement when the man said "no change" several times. His simplest public comment, uttered on an upstate tour, was: "Not true."

Again and again on the tour, he declared: "When I change, I'll tell you."

Yet many Republican figures, including New York City Mayor John Lindsay and New York's Sen. Jacob Javits, believe the governor HAS taken up a more flexible Vietnam stance and, at the very least, will stop commending the President's policies.

One leader says the governor's effort is "to move to the middle without getting caught." It is hard to see how Rockefeller can bring this off, what with assorted chroniclers poking into his private utterances on the subject.

Some think they find signs of change even in his denials of change. An example from his recent tour: "I have not said anything about Vietnam and I am not going to, except to share the hope of the American people that an honorable settlement can be reached."

The phrases "honorable settlement," "achievement of peace," and "quest for . . . peace" do crop up frequently in his current comment. Dovish types and realists eager to move the GOP in the direction they think public sentiment is trending (disenchantment with the war) seize hopefully on these Rockefeller words.

Rockefeller has no present intention of making a major, detailed restatement of his Vietnam position. He is fending off attempts to draw him out. Relative silence has been his posture for a long time, on the theory that "outsiders" lack the information needed to develop specifics on Vietnam.

He did not always see it this way. On April 27, 1964, during the Oregon primary, he issued a 3,000-word Vietnam policy statement (it was a year before our heavy entry into the war), calling for South Vietnamese bombing of Red supply routes in Laos and North Vietnam, for South Vietnamese "hot pursuit" of Viet Cong guerrillas into sanctuaries in those two countries and Cambodia, for warnings to these lands to close out the sanctuaries, for an end to U. S. military adviser withdrawals until a better situation justified the action. The governor even blamed administration approval of a neutral Laotian government as helping to demoralize South Vietnam.

Plainly, any imaginable centerward shift by Rockefeller might need to travel a good deal farther than just away from President Johnson's policies.

OH, TO BE YOUNG AGAIN

The suburban Detroit grandma who booted a pretty, young blond junior high school art teacher for wearing a miniskirt, later hiked up her own dress in the principal's office and asked how he'd like it if she walked around like that.

The Associated Press didn't reveal what the principal replied. He probably was as polite as he could be under the circumstances and didn't express his real opinion, which, one may be sure, was not exactly favorable.

Miniskirts are like funny stories which vary greatly in funniness depending on who tells them. Some can wear miniskirts and some can't. A grandmother, unless she's built like Mariene Dietrich, had better let her legs go no higher than the knee. But a good-looking, 24-year-old blonde might be a dream in a miniskirt.

Finally students of the male sex would be distracted by a teacher so garbed. But if that's the way teachers dress these days, pass on quickly a Lower Slobovian Soap-plot—The Oregonian

WHAT CUTBACKS?

President Johnson wants Congress to appropriate all the money he asked so that he can see where economies can be made in expenditures. Some congressional skepticism about this procedure may be noted in a report from Rep. Wendell Wyatt of Oregon's First District.

Mr. Wyatt notes that in December, 1965, the Administration announced a cutback of 25,000 civilian employees on the executive department payroll, with a prospective saving of $100 million. But by July, 1966, 190,000 were added to government payrolls.

In September, 1966, the Administration made headlines with an announcement of a freeze on new hiring. But, in one year, the government added 108,910 new civilian employees.

"It is no wonder the term 'credibility gap' is in common use," Rep. Wyatt commented in relation to this total addition of some 300,000 civilian federal employees since the original "cutback" was announced.—The Oregonian

Keeping Up Johnson's Morale

WASHINGTON — As the President's popularity sags more and more, White House staffers are searching for historical precedents to bolster the President's morale.

Nothing makes Mr. Johnson happier these days than to hear about another President who was in a worse pickle than he is right now, and White House aides are vying for the honor of bringing him the bad news of other administrations first.

"You know, Mr. President, James Madison was in worse trouble than you are."

"Tell me about it."

"Why, when the British burned down Washington and he had to flee with Dolly Madison, his political enemies chortled with glee and he was the laughing stock of the country."

"Good old Jim Madison. What have you got, Marvin?"

"Well, I just heard from a very reliable source that President Polk suffered terrible humiliation during the U. S.-Mexican war. Daniel Webster even wanted to impeach him, and Abe Lincoln, of all people, attacked Polk in the Congress. The intellectuals of the time hated the war, and Henry Thoreau wrote an essay on civil disobedience and refused to pay his taxes."

"Ah've always had a warm spot in my heart for Polk. He must have felt the same way about the intellectuals as Ah do."

"Sir, did you know Abe Lincoln was plagued by peace movements that almost wrecked the Civil War?"

"Ah didn't know that, Douglas, but Ah'm glad you found it out."

"He also called him King Lincoln and said the war between the states was a failure. He also had the worst time with the draft."

"Poor Lincoln. Ah certainly know how he must have felt, all alone, being chewed up by his enemies and his so-called friends; doing what was right even though it might be politically wrong; knowing in his heart you can't please all of the people all of the time."

"Oh, Mr. President, if the people could only hear you now."

"Never-mind that. What did you find out last night, Harry?"

Ulcer Treatment

Q — How long should a duodenal ulcer that was bleeding be treated? My doctor says I must stay on my ulcer diet indefinitely.

A — Because so many bleeding ulcers occur without previous symptoms anyone who has had one and has been cured is well-advised to use every caution to prevent a recurrence. Your doctor has set you on the right track. Don't disappoint him.

Q — My brother - in - law is taking aluminum for his ulcer and says his ulcer doesn't bother him any more. Is this drug a cure for ulcers? Could it cause any bad side effects?

A — Various aluminum hydroxide preparations are used in the treatment of ulcers. These antacids protect the ulcerated surface by coating it. They cause no harmful side effects but they represent only one phase of the treatment. Finding and eliminating the underlying cause is the most important part.

Q — What does Bellergal do for an ulcer? How long must an antacid be taken? What is the usual length of time necessary to heal an ulcer when the diet and medicine are taken regularly?

A — Bellergal is a combination of ergotamine tartrate and belladonna, given to inhibit certain nervous impulses, and phenobarbital, given to reduce nervous tension. It will not directly affect an ulcer but, since nervous tension is a causative factor, it helps to remove this cause and prevent a recurrence. Many ulcers heal within three or four weeks under skillful treatment but, even with the best treatment, recurrences are common, especially if the underlying cause is not removed.

I've been taking vinegar and honey in water every day. Could this cause an ulcer in time?

A — No, but it is not a sensible treatment. Claims for its much-touted benefits have been thoroughly disproved.

Q — Could a 21-year-old woman have congenital adrenal hyperplasia? My arms and legs are very hairy and I tire easily. My menstrual periods have always been painful.

A — Adrenal overactivity is more common in women than in men and usually has its onset between the ages of 20 and 40. It is characterized by hair on the face and chest rather than on the limbs, and by scanty rather than painful menstrual periods. Easy fatigability may have many causes, including a lack of sufficient regular exercise. What is needed in your case is an examination that will lead to a positive diagnosis.

BARRY GOLDWATER

We Could Win!

More and more Americans are coming to believe that the war in Vietnam simply cannot be won.

There is compounded tragedy in this needless and wrong feeling. The war can be won. The growing fear and frustration about it is due in major measure to the very Administration that is in charge of the fighting.

No matter how often President Johnson asserts our will to stick it out to win, other members of his Administration continue to undercut him and to escalate the crisis of confidence which remains the enemy's best hope of winning politically a war which he cannot possibly win militarily.

U. N. Ambassador Arthur Goldberg has been a major factor in escalating the crisis of confidence. Lately, he flatly told the General Assembly that "a military solution is not the answer" in Vietnam.

Half a million American lives are on the line in Vietnam. Some 13,000 have lost their lives there. The war has become the longest in which we have ever engaged. It is one of the most costly and surely one of the most crucial. It is war with an enemy that has attempted by force of arms to invade a neighbor, with an enemy that is part of a declared and unabated attempt to destroy the government and freedom of every non-Communist nation, not just in Southeast Asia.

And yet our own ambassador to the United Nations can blandly tell the world that "a military solution is not the answer." In a war, a military solution is the one answer which must first be given before the political solution of the conference table can begin to take shape.

From Ambassador Goldberg's emphatic statement, we can expect new heart to be given to every "get-out-and-give-up" effort that has been or can be launched. As usual, a significant number of these efforts will not be aimed only at bringing peace to Vietnam, but will be aimed specifically, and unabashedly at gaining a victory for the Viet Cong.

It is to such efforts that Ambassador Goldberg's ill-conceived and ill-timed remarks will be a division-strength reinforcement.

"A military solution is not the answer; we cannot win" they will chant up and down the land — and the same Administration whose own official statements give rise to such chanting will then publicly wonder why people cannot understand what is going on and why the war must be pursued.

Goldberg is not alone in this escalation of the crisis of confidence. Obviously, despite Dean Rusk's magnificent holding of the line, the State Department contains a department-within-a-department which steadily undermines the Administration's war effort. A recent shambles was created when an ex-journalist was encouraged to negotiate with the North Vietnamese in an obvious attempt to tell Ho Chi Minh that many influential Americans are prepared to take a softer line than that of the President.

Then, of course, there are errors in the President's own office, as when spokesmen have suggested that a coalition government with the Communists would be an acceptable basis for peace negotiations — thus handing the Communists at the conference table exactly what they have fought for all along.

INMATES CAPTURED

BOISE (AP)—Two inmates of the Idaho State Penitentiary who walked away from a prison farm last August were back in custody Monday.

Officers said Kenneth Dale Watson, 26, was arrested in Burley and David Clark Reese, 23, was picked up in Tyrone, Pa. Both men were charged with escape, in addition to the charges on which they were serving at the time of their walkaway.

Watson was serving 15 years for first degree burglary in Canyon County. Reese was serving a five-year term for receiving stolen property in Shoshone County.

SPEAKER NAMED

BOISE (AP)—Featured speaker for the annual two-day convention of the Idaho chapter of the Navy League of the United States will be Rear Adm. Draper L. Kaufman, commander of the U. S. Naval Academy.

More than 200 persons are expected to attend the Oct. 23-24 convention.

NO AUTOPSY SET

KUNA, Idaho (AP)—No autopsy or inquest is planned into the death of an 18-month-old Nampa boy found Sunday in Indian Creek near here.

The Ada County coroner says the body of Frank L. Warick Jr. was found six miles from the point where he was believed to have fallen in the creek Sept. 21. The boy's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Frank Warick of Nampa.

Travel System Designed For U.S. In 2000

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP)—A transportation system for American cities in the year 2000 has been designed to move people and goods more effectively at greater speeds, a research report says.

Called Metrotran 2000, the system, drafted by Cornell Aeronautical Laboratory scientists, envisions a floating motel, a vehicle called the Urbmobile, 100-mile-per-hour express water air-cushion vehicles, vertical takeoff aircraft, and auto-free downtown sections.

None of the ideas requires technical breakthrough and all are feasible, says Robert Wolf, who conducted Cornell Lab's two-year study.

Wolf, head of the laboratory's Transportation Research Department, elaborated on the possibilities most likely to replace other transportation systems: Aquamotel, a name for a leisure-time traveling marine motel, which would transport up to 200 persons and their autos on overnight trips between major cities.

The Urbmobile system combining the high capacity and the speed of an on-time train with the door-to-door convenience of a small, fume-free electric car. The electric car would utilize a train-like set of rails for travel between city and suburbs but could be used on city and suburban streets. The vehicle would obtain power from an electrified rail when on tracks and would be powered by an electric battery for local driving.

137,000 Rail Workers Get Wage Hikes Under Mandate

By NEIL GILBRIDE AP Labor Writer

WASHINGTON (AP)—Wage hikes dictated under a mandate from Congress go into effect today for 137,000 railroad workers. The boosts range up to 28 cents per hour.

The pay raises ordered by a White House board in the first case of its sort, go to members of six rail shopcraft unions working for virtually all the nation's railroads.

Chief industry spokesman John P. Hiltz Jr. said the railroads decided against going into federal court to upset the wage increases, which Hiltz previously called "clearly inflationary."

"Our people have had to wait a long, long time for a pay increase," said chief union spokesman Thomas Ramsey. "I know they will be happy to get the money."

Congress created the presidential board in a special law to halt a two-day nationwide rail strike last July and gave the board power to impose the wage terms if there was no voluntary agreement. The law also forbade any further strikes until Jan. 1, 1969.

While the railroads dropped any consideration for a court appeal, they refused to write the compulsory wage terms into a voluntary contract agreement. "The railroads will fully comply with the provisions of the

PICKETS APPEAR

WALLACE, Idaho (AP)—Striking pickets appeared outside the Hecla Mining Co.'s Lucky Friday mine Monday after their contract expired at midnight Sunday.

An estimated 700 miners were idled by the strike after contract talks reportedly broke off Sunday. No new talks were reported.

WOMAN SHOT

POCATELLO (AP)—Mrs. Marilyn Seward, 20, Chubbuck, is listed in fairly good condition Monday with a gunshot wound in the head, and her husband Jesse Seward, 27, is being held in the Bannock County jail for investigation.

According to Chubbuck Police Chief Carl Hensley, Mrs. Seward was shot once below the ear as she was lying in bed Sunday at about 1:15 a.m. in the Big Injun Trailer Park.

Hensley investigated when Intermountain Ambulance was called to the Seward mobile home. The officer said he found Seward leaning over his wife's bed. The police chief found a .22-caliber revolver under the bed. Hensley said events prior to the shooting were unclear as yet, but that the couple apparently had "been out partying."

MAN HELD

POCATELLO (AP)—A Utah man accused of the robbery Friday of the Bank of Idaho in Idaho Falls will probably be held in the Bannock County Jail here for arraignment Nov. 6 in U.S. Court.

Ted Robinette, 30, Brigham City, was arrested minutes after the bank was robbed of $3,200. A deputy U.S. marshal brought Robinette here Saturday.

U.S. Marshal George Zeal said here Monday that as far as he knows Robinette will be held here until U.S. Court convenes Nov. 6. At that time Robinette will probably be arraigned, Zeal said.

DELEGATE NAMED

BOISE (AP)—Mrs. Helen Thomson, Boise, has been designated official representative of Gov. Don W. Samuelson at a meeting of the National Council on the Aging in Minneapolis this week.

The announcement was made Monday by Samuelson's office. Mrs. Thomson is director of public information for the Idaho Foundation for Medicine and Biology.

Coupons Help Get School Bus

SEATTLE (AP)—Eighteen months of clipping 1 1/2 million coupons from food product containers has resulted in a new $7,500 bus for Fircrest School.

The North Seattle Junior Women's Club sponsored the drive to obtain the bus for the school for the retarded.

The coupons will be redeemed by General Mills of Minneapolis, and the bus is expected about the first of the year.

CHANGES PLANNED

BONN, Germany (AP)—The Kiesinger government plans to replace the Ministry of Posts—which delivers the mail, runs telephone-telegram services and operates a savings bank—with a public corporation, like the one that runs the railroads. It would operate like a private business, hopefully beyond political influence.

The five-man White House board, headed by Sen. Wayne Morse, D-Ore., ordered a 6 percent wage hike retroactive to Jan. 1 and a second raise of 5 percent effective next July 1, plus a total of 20 cents per hour for 100,000 skilled workers.

The first 10 cents of the skill increases go into effect immediately, with 5 cents retroactive to April 1 and 5 cents retroactive to Oct. 1. An additional 5 cents will go into effect next April 1, and the final 5 cents next Oct. 1.

The workers had previously averaged $2.90 per hour, and skilled workers $3.05. The top paid men will get 28.3 cents per hour more immediately under the formula, bringing their pay to $3.33. They will be earning a fraction under $3.60 when the rest of the pay raises go into effect next year.

Other workers will get varying lesser hourly increases depending on present pay. The workers include machinists, electricians, boiler-makers, sheet metal workers, oilers, carmen and firemen.

Mysterious Weapons Fool Experts

By FRED S. HOFFMAN AP Military Writer

WASHINGTON (AP)—U.S. intelligence experts are puzzling over mysterious shapes spotted in a Communist Chinese rallyard just above the North Vietnamese border.

At first, some experts thought the shapes might be tanks covered by tarpaulins on rail flatcars. But sources say there is a growing belief the objects may be heavy self-propelled artillery, possibly bigger than any guns yet used by the North Vietnamese.

U.S. Marines at Conthien already have been battered by Communist artillery from north of the boundary separating North Vietnam from South Vietnam.

About eight tarpaulin-covered objects are among the mass of material which U.S. authorities said has been building up in the big rail complex of Ping Hsiang, which lies on the important train line between Hanoi and Nanning in south China.

Officials said the Chinese obviously have been stockpiling supplies and rail-rolling stock at Ping Hsiang in preparation for the extended period of bad weather, now closing in.

Under cover of this heavy rain and clouds, the Communists can hope to move supplies over the battered—but repaired—rail line to Hanoi while foul weather badly hampers U.S. bombing.

Sources said self-propelled artillery has been reported being unloaded from Soviet ships in Chinese ports.

Some government sources said there are indications the Soviets may be bypassing the port of Haiphong with war material and landing it instead in Red China, for shipment by rail and truck to North Vietnam.

The shapes which appear in U.S. reconnaissance photos are of the dimensions of either tanks or heavy self-propelled artillery, sources said. As always, they would not discuss the origin of the pictures.

One source said it looked as though the guns under the shroud might be somewhere between 140 and 160 millimeters.

Marine authorities in Washington have said the biggest guns known to be firing at Con Thien are about 130 millimeters. Such guns could reach about 18 miles south of the Ben Hal River boundary between North and South Vietnam, covering much of the important Marine front and extending to a point just above the city of Quang Tri.

Recently, Pentagon officials said somewhere around 70 Communist artillery pieces have been bombarding these Marine positions.

Ordnance officers suggested the mystery weapons possibly awaiting movement south from Ping Hsiang could be 152 millimeter Soviet heavy assault guns.

These have about a 80-mile reach and hurl a heavier projectile than the artillery the Communists now have trained on Con Thien.

Lynda And Robb Choose Time And Minister For Wedding

By FRANCES LEWINE Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP)—Lynda Johnson and Marine Capt. Charles Robb have picked romantic sunset time for their Dec. 9 White House wedding and have ruled out television coverage of the ceremony.

The Rev. Canon Gerald McAllister, a personable young Texas Episcopal clergyman, will perform the marriage, the White House also announced Sunday.

Guest list for the East Room nuptials of the President's elder daughter will be held to about 500 persons. That's 200 less than Lynda's sister, Luci, invited to her Aug. 6, 1966 cathedral wedding and White House reception.

This will be the first time in 53 years that a presidential daughter has been married in the White House. The Johnsons announced that "lack of space" will limit coverage by news media.

Only a pool of reporters will be permitted to cover certain portions of the event. There will be no television coverage of the wedding ceremony itself, a White House spokesman said.

Lynda and her young Marine fiancé have set their Saturday wedding for 4 p.m., about a half hour before sunset.

Elizabeth Carpenter, press secretary to Mrs. Johnson, said the time of the wedding would be "an hour that suits the couple—and it also depends on the honeymoon destination." A locale that remains secret.

In choosing the minister, Lynda didn't look far from home. She picked the tall Texas clergyman, who only two weeks ago offered prayers for Lynda and Charles at St. Barnabas Episcopal Church in Fredericksburg, Tex., 15 miles from the LBJ Ranch.

He was so surprised when Mrs. Johnson called Saturday to ask him to perform the ceremony, "we didn't even discuss the details."

Two weeks ago when news-men asked him if he would preside, he replied, "No. That's a job for a bishop."

The Rev. Mr. McAllister, son of W. W. McAllister, mayor of

Conviction Reversed By High Court

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Supreme Court reversed today the conviction of Johnny Coleman, a Negro under death sentence in Alabama in the slaying of a white mechanic.

The court said in an unsigned opinion that although evidence is in dispute as to whether Negroes were included in grand petit jury panels in Greene County, Ala., it appears that no Negro served on the grand jury which indicted Coleman or on the jury which convicted him.

Besides, the court said, "it further appeared that up to the time of petitioner's (Coleman's) trial, no Negro had ever served on a grand jury panel and few, if any Negroes had served on petit jury panels."

Citing a ruling in an earlier case, the court said this "in itself made out a prima facie case of the denial of the equal protection which the Constitution guarantees."

The court went on to say that Alabama did not present evidence adequate to rebut Coleman's claim of systematic racial discrimination in jury selection and therefore he was entitled to have his conviction reversed.

The mechanic, John D. Johnson, was shot and killed Aug. 30, 1961, outside his home at Eutaw. Coleman had escaped from jail in Eutaw several days earlier.

Coleman was convicted April 4, 1962.

No School

RUSSELL, Kan. (AP)—Last spring, the residents of the Pioneer School District voted against closing the district's one-room school. The school board, therefore, hired a teacher and made plans for the fall school term. The first day of school the teacher appeared but not one child showed up—there are no school-age children in the district.

Woman Leaps Into Water After Husband

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—"If Tom's gone, I want to go too," the young woman said and gave herself up to eight-foot waves that had washed her husband from the sinking boat they had been clinging to, survivors said.

"She removed her life jacket," the survivors said, then she slipped away.

Wainwright Vickers, 39, and his wife Barbara, 40, told of the deaths of their companions and their own rescue after being thrashed for 14 hours by wind-whipped waves on Biscayne Bay.

They said they joined Tom Carter, Miami Central High School principal, and his wife, Dolores, for the Saturday outing in a borrowed boat.

The foursome was bound for home, Vickers said, when a squall struck about 8 p.m.

The boat's anchor slipped from the bow and snagged on the bottom, he said, and the line fouled in a propeller of the twin-engine craft.

He said the 17-footer "snapped around," tearing an engine and part of the transom from the boat.

It began to take water and soon swamped, Vickers told officers, leaving the four occupants clinging to the bow.

Sometime later—Vickers told police he wasn't quite certain when—Carter "just disappeared in the dark."

Mrs. Vickers said that shortly afterward "Dolores said, 'If Tom's gone, I want to go too.' Then she disappeared."

Vickers told officers he donned Mrs. Carter's discarded life jacket and that he and his wife floated through the night clutching the boat, then each other after it sank.

Mrs. Vickers said when a fishing boat spotted them and changed direction, she thought: "It was a man sent by God."

Leroy Pendarvis said when he and his partner, George Apostol, saw the Vickers, they thought they were skindivers.

"When she waved with both arms like that I knew there was something wrong and went straight to them. They were pretty well exhausted. They told me two other people drowned," Pendarvis said.

Vickers, operator of a Miami funeral home, and his wife were hospitalized and treated for exposure and skin irritations caused by floating gasoline.

Mountain of LIGHT

NORMAN HERRETT

The Koh-i-noor... which means "mountain of light"... is the oldest of the world's famous diamonds, dating back 4 or 5 thousand years. Originally it weighed 186 carats. It has since been recut to 108.93 carats and is now in the crown of the Queen of England.

The largest of all known diamonds was the Cullinan... 3,106 carats... discovered in South Africa in 1905. It was expertly cut into over a hundred gems, the two largest of which are now the largest cut diamonds in the world.

As a gem mineral, diamonds is in so many ways an unusual substance that we are fully justified in considering it as standing apart among the gems in a class by itself. Diamond is composed of a single element, carbon. It may be considered unique because it is the hardest natural substance known; therefore requiring distinctive technique in cutting and polishing as compared with other gem stones. Color, lustre, brilliance, fire and other optical characteristics give the diamond its exceptional beauty, and each of these factors is a function of light. This must be captured through the fire ability and knowledge of the diamond-cutter. Next week we will talk about diamond cutting and the various shapes of diamonds.

When you are buying a diamond, you can come here with confidence that the diamond you select will pass the most exact test of the "four C's": Carat weight, color, cut and clarity. Here you can buy your diamonds loose, where the quality can be proven, and mounted in the ring of your choice in a matter of minutes.

Official Visit Observed By Chapter No. 54

JEROME — Jerome Chapter No. 54, Order of Eastern Star, observed the official visit of the worthy grand matron of Idaho recently at the Jerome Masonic Temple.

A salad bar luncheon was held at noon, followed by the school of instruction.

Helen Thomas, Boise, worthy grand matron, and Walter Culbertson, Pocatello, worthy grand patron, were honored guests. Special introductions were given to Donna Heaton, Lucille Culbertson, Emma Knodle and Lillian Barton. There were eight Grand Chapter committee members, nine worthy matrons and one worthy patron introduced.

The worthy grand matron was presented a miniature doll of herself, while Keith Johansen sang, "Oh You Beautiful Doll."

Mr. Johansen and Mrs. Warren Van Camp sang a duet for the worthy grand patron as Joe Rose, worthy patron, presented him a gift.

Mr. Schansen and Mrs. Van Camp sang an original song written by Mrs. Larry Fleming to the tune of "Some Where My Love." The song was dedicated to the worthy grand matron and worthy grand patron.

The worthy grand matron complimented Jerome on the outstanding young people of the community. In particular she mentioned Carm Wagmont, master councillor for the State of Idaho, Order of DeMolay.

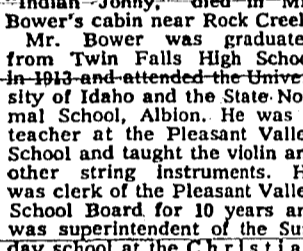

The worthy grand matron spoke on "Keep Alive the Dream." She said, "As long as you have a dream in your heart you will never lose the meaning of life."

Refreshments were served in the dining room after the meeting.

Dear Abby

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: Thank you for saying thru no fault of her own, just as a widow is. Most people aren't willing to give a divorcee a kind word. I am a divorcee because a wealthy widow decided she wanted my husband.

"FOOD FOR THOUGHT"

DEAR ABBY: The letter from the widow who wonders why widows keep losing all the eligible men to divorcees is one that I would like to answer. My qualifications: A bachelor who has had a great deal of experience dating both.

On a man's first date with a widow, she will first take a picture of her dearly beloved, deceased husband" out of her purse and then tell you how "wonderful" he was, and what a beautiful life they had together. (If you ask around, their life wasn't nearly as "beautiful" as she said it was.)

Then, to show you how domestic she is, she invites you to her home where, on the living room wall, hangs a big picture of "HIM" staring you in the face all evening. (If you had any romantic ideas about her, this will kill them fast.)

Her conversation is about how "good" he was to her and the trips they had together. It is sickening.

A divorcee, on the other hand, will seldom mention her ex-husband's name. And if she does, she doesn't make you feel as if you are competing with a saint.

I've known exceptions, of course, but as a rule, divorcees are much better company. Sincerely,

DEAR ABBY: I was quite interested in your article a while back where the widow complained that she has lost out several times to divorcees, and asked you why.

As you know, the longer a woman is a widow, the greater was her husband, and it often gets to the point that he was the most magnificent human being who ever lived. The following story may illustrate the point:

"The greatest man who ever lived was Huggins. Broad-minded, tolerant, generous, temperate, patient, brilliant, yet he died with all his good qualities unsuspected."

Well, how did you manage to find out so much about him? "I married his widow."

Sincerely yours,
ALBERT M., SAN FRANCISCO

Sylvia Swenson Is Bride Of Terry Cummins

HANSEN — Sylvia Sue Swenson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O. K. Swenson, Montana, was married to Terry Cummins, son of Mr. and Mrs. Aubrey Cummins, Hansen, in rites Sept. 21 at the Murtaugh LDS Chapel.

Bishop Roger Tolman performed the ceremony.

The bride wore a Bridal Original gown, fashioned with long lily point sleeves. Scalloped Chantilly lace formed a redingote effect on imported rayon organza with a crescent waistline and an oval neckline encircled with pearls. Small miniature self-covered buttons were featured on the closure from the neckline down part of the waist-chapel train.

Organza flowers trimmed with pearls and lace formed a nosegay headpiece that held her elbow-length veil with a butterfly face veil of English silk illusion.

Maid of honor was Judy Brooks, with Vicky Smith and Terrie Hanel as bridesmaids. Flower girl was Margo Porter. Ringbearers were Christine Jensen and Eric Jensen.

Best man was Allen Cummins, with Doug Watts and Mark Cummins as groomsmen.

Guests were registered by Mrs. Andy Cooper. Punch and cake were served by Judy Cummins, Joan Russell, Mrs. Fern Jensen, Debbie Cummins and Julie Bourn. The cake was made and decorated by Mrs. Jensen.

In charge of the gift-table were Mrs. Helen Bourn, Mrs. Gladys Jensen, Mrs. Virginia Cummins, Mrs. Zona Lewis and Mrs. Diana Snider. Gifts were carried by Cheryl Jensen, Yvonne Jensen and Katie Cooper.

The couple will reside in San Diego, Calif., where the bridegroom is stationed with the Navy.

Dan Kelley Gives Program Regarding Drugs

SHOSHONE — Dan Kelley, liquor law investigator, spoke at the First Baptist Church Mission Society meeting recently regarding drugs, their effect and asked for those present to be alert to report any questionable activity along that line.

He was introduced by Mrs. Luella L. Kinsey, program chairman of the evening.

Mr. Kelley said drugs used most frequently still remain opium, morphine and heroin. He explained the ways they are used and how they affect the person using them.

"Morphine," he said "is used more by women than men," and he warned against the infection so often resulting in heroin users, due to their homemade injection material.

He told of marijuana plants having been found in the center of a corn field and in potted plants, and said it is a problem now because it is cheap and is supposedly not habit forming.

"It is a felony to possess or smoke marijuana," he pointed out.

It may cause users to commit violent acts and scientists say it will cause brain damage.

Tracing the history of LSD since its discovery in 1943, he told of the serious results of using this drug and pointed to the arguments for and against it.

Mr. Kelley also noted other types of drugs used, such as drinking juice from boiled morning glory seeds, sniffing glue and the now current popular fruit cocktail.

In introducing the program for the evening, Mrs. James Holt, who gave the devotionals used the topic "Violating God's temple," referring to use and care of the human body.

Mrs. L. M. Hatmaker conducted the brief business meeting during which the annual smorgasbord dinner was announced for 5:30 to 8 p.m. Oct. 24 at the church fellowship hall. Funds will go to the building project.

Mrs. Vern Johnson is general chairman, with Mrs. Herbert Forbes and Mrs. Howard Adkins assisting.

Worthy Grand Matron Feted By Area OES

HAILEY — Mrs. Helen R. Thomas, Boise, worthy grand matron of Idaho, Order of Eastern Star, was honored by members of Bethany Chapter when she made her official visit.

Past matrons hosted a noon luncheon at St. Charles Parish Hall. Mrs. Ward Beck, vice president of the club, gave the welcome and Mrs. Leonard Knight, worthy matron of Bethany Chapter, introduced Mrs. Thomas.

After the luncheon, Mrs. Thomas conducted a school of instruction for officers at the Masonic Temple.

A banquet was held at 6:30 p.m. in the temple dining room. As had been done at the luncheon, Mrs. Thomas' chosen colors of gold and white were used to decorate the tables and dining room.

A rainbow arched over the tables, ending at a pot-of-gold at the feet of the honored guest.

Prayer was given by Mrs. Roberta McKeercher, who also sang the special songs of Mrs. Thomas and Walter Culbertson, Pocatello, worthy grand patron.

Mrs. Thomas and all other special guests wore gold and white chrysanthemum corsages, gifts from Mrs. Knight and Theodore Broyles, worthy patron.

Other guests receiving special introductions included Mrs. Mildred Schopewm, Montpelier; Mrs. Lillian Barton, Wendell; and Mrs. Beulah Schaefer, Bellevue, past grand matrons;

Evelyn Hirschi Is Married To Gary L. Merrill

VIEW—Evelyn Hirschi, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Heber Hirschi, Rockville, Utah, was married to Gary Lynn Merrill, son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald G. Merrill, View, in rites Sept. 1 at the St. George LDS Temple.

Accompanying the couple to the temple were their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Merrill, brother and sister-in-law of the bridegroom; Alan Wilson and Dennis Hadley.

A reception was held that evening at the home of the bride's parents, Rockville. Another reception was held for the couple Sept. 8 at the View LDS Cultural Hall.

The reception line was flanked by tall beauty baskets of blue and white chrysanthemums enhanced with white ribbon bows.

The bride wore a floor-length gown, fashioned of French satin with appliques of chiffon and seed pearls down the skirt front. It was styled with an empire waistline, a sabrina neckline of lace and long lily point sleeves. She carried a cascade bouquet of green and blue carnations centered with a pale green orchid.

Mrs. Lee Merrill, sister-in-law of the bridegroom, was matron of honor. Lee Merrill, brother of the bridegroom, was best man. Ushers were Alan Wilson, Willis Mabey and Arlyss Mabey. Guests were registered by Mrs. Ross Crichtfield, cousin of the bridegroom.

The bride's table was covered with lace and centered with three-tiered wedding cake. The cake, designed with three square tiers, formed a stairway from which a miniature bride and bridegroom were descending onto a flat cake base where a miniature bridal party stood. The cake was made and decorated by Mrs. Leslie Dana.

Cake was cut and served by Mrs. Calvin Merrill and Mrs. Orval Merrill, aunts of the bridegroom. Guests were served at quartet tables centered with wrought iron candle holders holding blue and green candles nestled in blue and green feathers.

Reception assistants were Mrs. Clarence Gumow, Mrs. Alfred Crane Jr., Mrs. Joseph Durfee and Mrs. Floyd Robinson, aunt of the bridegroom.

Serving were Beth Robinson, Brenda Wrigley, Jeannan Grubwell, Jill Gibby, Karol Hatch and Mary Alice Angus.

Gifts were arranged by Mrs. Michael Brady, Mrs. Dean Wallace and Mrs. Elmo Christopherson, cousin and aunts of the bride. Gifts were carried by Robert Merrill, Kaye Merrill, Duane Merrill and LeRoy Robinson.

Master of ceremonies for the program was Spencer Kunzler. Prayers were given by Bishop Milton C. Payne and Bishop Deloss Stoker.

Music for dancing was provided by the John Stone Orchestra.

After a honeymoon trip to San Francisco, the couple will reside in Provo, where the bridegroom is attending Brigham Young University.

Science Shrinks Painful Hemorrhoids Stops Itch—Relieves Pain

Find Way That Both Relieves Pain and Shrinks Piles in Most Cases

New York, N.Y. (Special): Science has found a special formula with the ability, in most cases, to shrink hemorrhoids, stop itching and relieve pain.

In case after case doctors proved, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction (shrinking) took place. The secret is Preparation H. There is no other formula for hemorrhoids like it. Preparation H also soothes irritated tissues and helps prevent further infection. In ointment or suppository form.

2:30 P.M. SUMMARY NEW YORK (AP) - A stock market decline broadened late this afternoon after a small early rise was canceled. Trading was active.

Volume for the first four hours was 6.52 million shares compared with 6.73 million Friday.

Weakness in pivotal blue chips dragged down the industrial average despite liveliness in specialty situated issues.

Du Pont sank more than 3 points following a report of low earnings. Eastman-Kodak dropped more than 2 1/2.

Chemical giant reported record quarterly earnings - but profits for the first nine months were below the year-ago level.

Losses of a point or so were taken by Goodyear, Sears Roebuck, Control Data, High Voltage Engineering, United Air Lines and Eastern Air Lines.

Polaroid and Illinois Central sagged about 2 each. Symington Wayne advanced 2 points as it paced the list on activity.

Motorola climbed nearly 1 1/2. In active trading, Standard Oil of Indiana, Pfizer, Merck and Procter & Gamble.

On the American Stock Exchange, stocks put on a scrambled performance.

CHICAGO (AP) - Moderate to heavy rain during the weekend over wide sections of the Midwest influenced higher prices for soybeans and corn today on the Chicago Board of Trade.

The two commodities opened on a higher tone and quickly advanced.

After soybeans had advanced about 1 1/2 cents there was some profit taking but prices firmed up near the close.

Corn also sold down around midsession but picked up some buyer support near the close.

Wheat trade was light and prices closed slightly higher, influenced to some extent by good export notices.

Estimated carlot receipts were wheat 56, corn 224, oats 6, rye none, barley 35 and soybeans 106.

Heart Attack Was Cause of Death IDAHO FALLS (AP) - An autopsy Monday revealed that Jay Adamson, 47, Idaho Falls, who was believed at first a traffic accident victim Sunday morning, died from a heart attack.

Dr. Hazel L. McGaffey, Bonner-Idaho County Coroner, said the autopsy showed that Adamson died prior to the accident. Chemical tests indicated that the man did not drown after his car left the Crowley Road some 10 miles northeast of Idaho Falls Sunday morning and overturned in a canal with only three inches of water in it.

Adamson was found dead in his automobile in the irrigation canal.

Business Mirror

By JOHN CUNIFF A.E. Business Analyst NEW YORK (AP) - This may be an historic week in trade relations, a frustrating one for free trade advocates, a significant one in revealing the changing sentiments of America.

Five years ago, in October 1962, the most ambitious round of tariff cuts ever attempted in the century was begun with passage of the Trade Expansion Act.

This week a wave of protectionist sentiment is expected to be heard from Congress, a remarkable and partially inexplicable change of directions in only five years.

American enthusiasm for cutting trade barriers five years ago was great. Through lower worldwide tariffs the United States hoped, among other things, to boost its exports enough to reduce the balance of payments deficit.

The trade act passed with a large majority of both houses was extolled as the beginning of an era, for nearly five years negotiators for the big trading nations huddled away at tariffs.

Early this year, finally, the Kennedy Round of tariff cuts, named for the president who persuaded other nations to join in the tariff-cutting attempt, reached a successful conclusion.

The European Common Market reduced tariffs on more than $10 billion of imports. The United States, Canada, the European Free Trade Association and Japan, among others, agreed to gradual reductions in trade barriers.

Now the opposite of free trade could be gaining support. Several widely supported bills are before Congress to protect domestic industries, mostly by restricting imports through quotas. Among them are textiles, watches, steel, oil.

To William Roth, special U.S. representative for trade negotiations, the prospect is appalling. Protectionist sentiment, he believes, could "restore the chaos in international trade that we know during the depression of the 1930s."

He may be on the eve of a movement, he said, "that will wipe out the progress of 30 years unless those American industries concerned with world trade make themselves heard loud and clear."

Roth feels that an increase in American tariffs or a reduction of imports through quotas would result in similar moves against American products. This retaliation could be enormous, he feels, because pending U.S. bills would effect $3.6 billion of imports into the country.

"And this is a very crude estimate, definitely a minimum, not a maximum," he said in a speech. The $3.6 billion total is "our rock bottom estimate."

A lot of senators and representatives feel differently. Today, a bill for mandatory steel import quotas is expected to be introduced into Congress. Curiously, one of the arguments in support of quotas is the balance of payments, the same argument used by free traders.

Sen. Vance D. Lind, feels that "surging steel imports have aggravated the U.S. balance of payments deficit, adversely affected employment opportunities... and posed a threat to national security."

Another bill, already passed by the House, would permit the president to limit imports of foreign products produced under labor standards inferior to ours. This, of course, would include many thousands of items.

Another bill, with 20 senators supporting it, would establish quotas on products that contribute to economic production of domestic producers. And 40 senators desire a bill that would increase the number of cases on which antidumping duties might be applied.

Protectionists and free traders always have put on good battles through American history, their fundamentally different philosophies sometimes stripping a lot of confusion from issues. The battle is on. It should be a good one.

10 PERSONS DIE ON OREGON ROADS

Ten persons died in Oregon traffic accidents over the weekend, bringing the 1967 traffic fatality total to 511 in the Associated Press count. It was the bloodiest weekend on the state's highways since the July Fourth holiday period. A year ago at this time 525 persons had lost their lives in Oregon traffic accidents.

The Daily Investor By WILLIAM A. DOYLE Q. I used to sneer at your advice against trading in the market. Now I would like to commend you for warnings against hot-shot, in-and-out buying and selling of stocks. Unfortunately, it took me years to learn (the hard way) that you are right. I am a dentist and earn about $20,000 a year. When I was a trader, I spent at least 15 hours each week studying and thinking about the market. I read everything I could get my hands on and was in almost constant contact with brokers. Results were poor. Seven years of that effort produced a profit (after taxes) of about $4,500. If I had used the time more productively (in my dental practice) I could have made 10 times as much. If I had bought early in the game, I would have been way ahead. Oh, well! Trading was fun while I still believed in it. And it did do a lot for my brokers. Right? A. Absolutely. I'm not in the habit of printing testimonials in this space. And I don't want to get on the "I told you so" kick. But your letter is too good to let go by. Hopefully, it will steer some other would-be traders away from that definition. And, considering all the costs involved in mutual fund investing, you and other shareholders should expect that fund (or any other mutual fund) to do a better job than just stay even with inflationary pressures. That's what the high-priced "management teams" are collecting salaries for. They are supposed to invest the fund's money in securities that, hopefully, will rise in value. We might as well face it. The mutual fund in which you have been investing has a poor record. And it hasn't improved to any great extent since that new "management team" came in. Most other mutual funds have done much, much better. (Mr. Doyle will answer only representative letters of general interest in his column. He cannot answer phone queries.) Russians Take Two Gold Medals In Opening Day Of Pre-Olympic Games

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Soviet athletes won two gold medals and Mohamed Gammoudi of Tunisia defeated a caddy field in the 10,000 meters Sunday as Mexico's third international sports competition opened in sporadic confusion.

Parilli Passes Boston Past Miami 41-10

NEWTON, Mass. (AP) — Ageless Babe Parilli threw five touchdown passes—three to Jim Whalen and two to Larry Garrison—in firing Boston's American Football League gypsies to a 41-10 victory over the Miami Dolphins Sunday.

Parilli, a 37-year-old one time Kentucky star, hit Whalen on a pair of nine-yard scoring shots, another of 23 yards and uncorked payoff tosses of 17 and 41 yards to Garrison.

Often booed by Boston fans, Parilli had most of the 23,955 fans cheering from the outset as he took charge in the Patriots' 1967 home debut, forced into Boston College Stadium because of the late finish of the World Series at nearby Fenway Park.

The Patriots, who posted a disappointing 1-3-1 record in the first five games away from home, spotted Miami a 3-0 lead when the Dolphins capitalized on a fumble recovery by Bob Petralla to set up a 34-yard field goal by Gene Mingo five minutes into the first period.

Parilli, starting on his 27, quickly directed the Patriots to a touchdown in just five plays. After he ran 14 yards for a first down, he flipped a screen pass to Jim Nance, who carried to the Miami 17 and then tossed a strike to Garrison to put Boston in front to stay.

Boston hiked the count to 13-3 when Parilli hit Art Graham on two passes for 19 yards and Garrison sprinted 20 before he hauled in a 41-yard aerial in the second period.

A pair of fumble recoveries set up Parilli's scoring passes to Whalen, sending Boston into a 27-3 halftime advantage.

Parilli tied his Boston club record with a 41-yard touchdown pass to Whalen after an overhead theft early in the third period.

Baker Wins National Auto Race

CHARLOTTE, N.C. (AP) — Young Buddy Baker, who cut his teeth on a piston ring when he was 3, won the National 500-mile stock car race Sunday to put an end to close friend Richard Petty's domination of the sport in the South.

It was the first racing victory for the 26-year-old Baker, son of all-time great driver Buck Baker, and it couldn't have made the crowd of 60,000 happier.

Driving a Dodge Charger owned by veteran car builder Ray Fox of Daytona Beach, Fla., Baker led the final 100 miles of the hotly-contested event over the 1.5-mile Charlotte Motor Speedway and finished more than a lap ahead of veteran Bobby Isaac, driving another Dodge Charger.

Baker's average speed for the 334-lap grand was 130.185 miles per hour despite eight caution flags that slowed the race for 63 laps.

Third was Dick Hutcherson in a Ford and fourth place went to rookie Charlie Goltzback in a Dodge Coronet.

Field Gold Gives Vikings 10-7 Win Over Packers

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP) — Fred Cox kicked a 12-yard field goal with eight seconds left to give the previously winless Minnesota Vikings a 10-7 victory over the previously unbeaten Green Bay Packers Sunday in the National Football League's biggest upset of the young season.

It was the first defeat inflicted on the world champion Packers in 12 official games and the first for the Packers since the Vikings subdued them 20-7 Nov. 6. The Vikings, able to gain just one first down in the first half, pulled the surprise with a pair of interceptions of Zeke Bratkowski passes late in the rain-soaked game. Both steals were converted into fourth-period scores by the Minnesotans, who brought a 0-4 record with them into the game.

Eddie Sharockman grabbed the first interception and returned it 37 yards to the Packers' 37-yard line. Ten plays later, Bill Brown hammered over for the touchdown from the Packers one, and the score was tied 7-7.

With 2:11 left to play, Earsell Mackbee, who played a brilliant defensive game, intercepted a Bratkowski pass on the Green Bay 45.

Six plays later, after Dave Osborn had given the Vikings a vital 21 yards with a scamper around end, Cox kicked his field goal.

The Packers, held to less than 40 yards rushing, got their only touchdown when Bratkowski teamed with end Carroll Dale on an 86-yard scoring pass play.

Other opening day competition was in gymnastics and weightlifting.

Gaston Roelants of Belgium, holder of the world record in the 3,000-meter steeplechase, was leading the field of 23 when Gammoudi and Haase whizzed by him like they were running the 100-meter dash. Their final time was slow, almost four minutes off the world record, but their finish was spectacular.

Gammoudi was timed in 30 minutes, 16 seconds. Haase was two-tenths of a second slower. At least those were the times finally termed as official. There was some confusion at the stadium about times, and those from the results service often differed from those announced at the track.

Kone's time in the 100 was first announced as 10.1 seconds, a tenth of a second off the world record. But the results service said it was 10.2.

The service claimed to be accurate but one had a U.S. javelin thrower as a contestant in the 100 meters. That mistake was allowed to sink away, hopefully unnoticed, when the 100-meter final was run. John Carlos of New York, not even on the re-

Willard Lifts 49ers Over Eagles 28-27

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Ken Willard smashed four yards for the winning touchdown Sunday as the San Francisco 49ers overcame a series of bad breaks and crippling penalties to beat the Philadelphia Eagles 28-27 in a National Football League game.

Willard's run capped an 11-play, 69-yard drive which was given impetus by a personal foul and pass interference penalties against the Eagles.

He cracked over on third down with 4:04 gone in the final period to overcome a 27-21 Philadelphia lead.

The 49ers ran up a 21-10 halftime lead on a 22-yard touchdown run by Gary Lewis, Bob Windsor's recovery of a Willard fumble into the end zone and a three-yard scoring run by Lewis.

The Eagles' 10 first half points came on Sam Baker's 32-yard field goal and a 10-yard pass to Mike Ditka from Norman Snead, who threw three TD passes in the game.

Philadelphia rallied in the second half to take a 27-21 lead on touchdown passes of 17 yards to Tom Woodeshick and 31 yards to Ben Hawkins in the third quarter, and a 33-yard field goal by Baker on the first play of the final period.

Willard's TD capped the hard fought contest before a sellout throng of 60,825 at Franklin Field, although Baker was short with a 54-yard field goal attempt with 3:25 left.

gold medals in the javelin and the triple jump. Burly Gausoussu of the Ivory Coast won the 100-meter dash, and Gammoudi got the very first gold medal of the two-week Pre-Olympic Games when he finished the 10,000 meters, barely ahead of East Germany's Jurgea Haase.

The confusion was most evident in the Olympic Stadium as the track and field events unfolded but it popped up in some of the other five events on the opening day card.

About 2,500 athletes from 57 countries are entered in this final tune-up for the 1968 Olympic Games.

Eduardo Tovar of Mexico took the lead in the modern pentathlon, and rowers from 12 countries went through elimination events.

Results service list of qualifiers or contestants, came up on the final official listing with a third place.

No one came close to breaking any sort of record and Carlos' third place was the best showing of the day for the Americans.

Ian Luis won the Soviet Union's first gold by throwing the javelin 278 feet, 6 inches. Victor Sanner got the second in the triple jump with 54-4 1/4. Frank Covelli of Long Beach, Calif., perhaps flustered at finding himself listed among the dash men, was sixth in the jav. In.

Browns Use Mistakes To Tip St. Louis

CLEVELAND (AP) — Cleveland turned three St. Louis mistakes into an 11-point halftime lead, then held off the Cardinals' second half rally for a 20-16 National Football League victory Sunday and a share of the Century Division lead.

The four-point margin was on Lou Groza's two field goals, his first two connections this season. The second, a 34-yarder, came with 58 seconds left in the game.

It was the first time in five years the Browns have beaten the Cardinals in Cleveland. Both clubs now have 3-2 records for the season.

Cleveland's 17-6 halftime lead was whittled to one point when Jim Bakken connected on his third field goal, a 14-yarder, with 10:23 left.

Two interceptions in the last two minutes put the game out of reach for the Cardinals, who have come from behind to win the last two weekends.

Cardinals quarterback Jim Hart plunged one yard to make it 17-13 in the third quarter after Jerry Stovall's interception set it up.

Bill Glass recovered two fumbles by the Cardinals' John Roland, and Erich Barns intercepted a Hart pass in the first half.

Glass got the first bobble on the St. Louis 36-yard line, and Groza connected from the 40.

Barnes intercepted on the next series at the St. Louis 31. Two plays later, Frank Ryan hit Leroy Kelly down the left side for a 10-0 lead.

The Cardinals made it 10-3 on Bakken's 42-yard field goal after misses of 46 and 49 yards.

Glass recovered the second fumble with 4:58 left in the second quarter as Roland broke through the left side of the Browns' line to the Cleveland 39.

Ryan hit Gary Collins for a 32-yard touchdown play and the big flanker wrestled the ball away from Pat Fischer at about the five-yard line and went in for the score.

Lamonica Leads Raiders Past Bills

By MARVIN R. PIKE Associated Press Sports Writer

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — The Buffalo Bills chased former teammate Daryle Lamonica all around the backfield Sunday but he withstood the pressure and led his Oakland Raiders to a 24-20 American Football League victory over the Bills.

Lamonica, traded to Oakland during the winter, passed for two touchdowns, including one in the fourth period that put the game out of reach.

He wasn't the only one who found out what it was like to be pursued. Buffalo quarterback Jack Kemp was nailed 11 times for a loss of 96 yards. Lamonica was caught five times for a loss of 50 yards.

Tom Janik's interception of a Lamonica aerial early in the game set up Buffalo's first touchdown, scored at 4:42 of the first period on a 30-yard pass from Kemp to end Paul Costa.

Oakland waited until 10:09 of the second period before getting on the scoreboard, as veteran George Blanda booted a 31-yard field goal. Three minutes and three seconds later, the Raiders were ahead 17-7 as Lamonica passed 41 yards to Fred Biletnikoff for one touchdown and linebacker Dan Connors went 30 yards with an interception of a Kemp toss.

Buffalo pulled within three points at 9:48 of the third as Keith Lincoln ran three yards for a six-point, set up by Jim Dunaway's pass interception.

The highest game rolled in the tournament was by Virginia Tolma, Homedale, with a 248.

The high series, 568, of the tournament was bowled by Shirley Blake, Twin Falls.

Those women who received pins for bowling a 200 game or better include: Virginia Tolma, Homedale, 248; Rita Stradley, Twin Falls, 230; Shirley Blake, Twin Falls, 226; Ann Lierman, Buhl, 226; Alice Vandenberg, 224; Lola Vazquez, 218; Shirlee Klassen, 212; Kit Petersen, 208; Mary Lou Nield, 205; Joan Cubit, 205; Donna Ward, 204; Irene Dockstader, 204, and Leona Hankins, 203, all Twin Falls.

Tarkenton's Pass Gives Giants Win

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Fran Tarkenton's 59-yard touchdown pass to Joe Morrison off a razzle-dazzle triple reverse in the final two minutes gave the New York Giants a 27-24 upset over Pittsburgh Sunday in a National Football League game.

Tarkenton's scoring pass, his second to Morrison, came on the first play after New York's Clarence Childs recovered a fumble by the Steelers' Don Shy.

The winning play started when Tarkenton handed to Ernie Koy, who pitched the ball back to speedy Homer Jones. Jones lateraled to Tarkenton, who passed to Morrison all alone at the Steelers' 30.

Pittsburgh led 24-14 going into the fourth quarter, but an interception by Bill Swain set the Giants up in Steelers' territory and Tarkenton took them 37 yards in nine plays to score.

Tarkenton scored the touchdown himself, going seven yards with a lateral after Koy had apparently been stopped on a fourth down play.

After an exchange of punts, rookie quarterback Kent Nix moved the Steelers across mid-field on a 37-yard pass to J.R. Wilburn.

But two plays later, Shy fumbled and Childs recovered at the 41. There were two minutes left. Tarkenton conferred with Giant Coach Allie Sherman at the sidelines, then came back with the wild play—which resulted in the winning touchdown.

The Steelers led 17-14 at halftime, scoring both its touchdowns as a result of New York fumbles.

New York scored first, going 78 yards the first time it had the ball with Tarkenton throwing 19 to Morrison on fourth down in the end zone. Tarkenton took the Giants 79 yards in the second quarter before sub quarterback Earl Morrill dove over from the one.

Dallas Takes 14-10 Victory From Saints

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — An end-around for 28 yards by Pettis Norman set up a touchdown and Craig Morton passed for another as Dallas beat New Orleans, 14-10, in a National Football League game that had a frantic finish.

Played in the rain, the contest saw New Orleans bogged down by penalties—the Saints got nine for 105 yards.

Dallas also was hampered by penalties, drawing 78 yards on seven and one of them almost lost the game.

Cornell Green, Dallas cornerback, was called for pass interference on the Dallas 12 but it was Green who intercepted Gary Cuozzo's pass in the end zone to halt the threat.

Dallas took the lead just four seconds before the first period ended when Norman dashed to the New Orleans nine. Don Perkins then went over from the two.

Quarterback John Hadl scored the first San Diego touchdown and threw a pair of touchdown passes to Lance Alworth before 45,355 in San Diego Stadium as the Chargers put their record at 4-0-1.

Duncan first grabbed a Mike Garrett fumble and ran for a touchdown. Then he picked off a Len Dawson pass at the Chargers' goal and raced it up the sideline the length of the field.

He surpassed by one yard the longest previous AFL interception return by Oakland's Dave Grayson six years ago.

Trailing 45-17, the Chiefs came back with two late touchdowns, one on a 16-yard pass from Dawson to Chris Burford and a 15-yard run by Frank Pitts. The Chiefs' record sank to 3-2.

McRae's clinching touchdown came with 6:13 left, minutes before Sayers pulled the Bears out of a hole with a 70-yard jaunt deep into Detroit territory.

Sayers scored the game's only other touchdown on a three-yard run to cap an 83-yard drive under thunder, lightning and rain.

Detroit's deepest penetration in the first half was to the Bear 37, and the Lions lost their only threat—halfback Mel Farr—early in the second quarter when the former UCLA star suffered an ankle injury.

At that time, Farr had carried eight times and gained 31 yards. Sayers, who finished the day with 142 yards in 22 carries, and quarterback Jack Cannonon figured heavily in the only scoring drive of the day.

But the Falcons drove back and Traynham's kick was perfect as the Redskins saw victory evaporate in the final seconds for the second straight week.

Dallas pulled out a last-minute victory a week ago. Traynham had kicked a 31-yard field goal with nine minutes to play for a 17-14 lead, but Jurgensen moved the Redskins 83 yards in an outburst in which Mitchell had catches of 24 and 28 yards before his touchdown catch.

Namath Saves Jet's Tie With Houston

NEW YORK (AP) — A game ending tackle by quarterback Joe Namath saved the New York Jets as Houston's defense intercepted six of his passes and helped the Oilers to a 28-28 American Football League tie with the Jets Sunday.

Namath, attempting to pass for the game-winner on the final play of the game, had his aerial picked off by W. K. Hicks on his own 25-yard line. After two razzle-dazzle laterals, cornerback Larry Cade found himself with the ball and was running towards the New York goal line when Namath stopped him at the four-yard line.

The Jets needed a last period touchdown by Emerson Booz and a two-point conversion pass from Namath to Don Maynard to earn the tie. At Atkinson set this up with an interception on the Oilers' 15.

Miller Farr intercepted three passes for the Oilers. He returned one for a touchdown and another 67 yards, setting up the only score Houston's offense managed.

Bears Defeat Lions 14-3 On Muddy Field

CHICAGO (AP) — Bennie McRae's 20-yard touchdown run with an intercepted pass and the fabulous running of Gale Sayers through a muddy field gave the Chicago Bears a 14-3 victory over Detroit Sunday in a National Football League game.

McRae's clinching touchdown came with 6:13 left, minutes before Sayers pulled the Bears out of a hole with a 70-yard jaunt deep into Detroit territory.

Unitas Signs New Contract, Colts Tie

BALTIMORE (AP) — A three-year contract, worth an estimated $375,000 to quarterback John Unitas, was given scant notice Sunday by the Baltimore Colts.

Instead of calling a mid-week conference to capitalize on the news value of the agreement, the Colts made a terse announcement just prior to the kickoff for the Baltimore-Los Angeles National Football League game.

"Attention, press box," the public address announcer said. "John Unitas has signed a three-year contract."

That was the extent of the announcement.

Unitas, in his 12th season, threw two touchdown passes in the 24-24 tie, raising his all-time NFL record total to 241.

The Baltimore quarterback attempted 34 passes during the game, giving him a record career total of 3,935—which surpassed Y. A. Tittle's old mark of 3,817. With 21 completions, Unitas moved to within six of Tittle's record of 2,118.

Unitas is believed to have agreed previously to the monetary terms of the new contract, but additional time was needed to work out ways of easing the tax bite.

The Los Angeles Rams rallied for 10 points, six on the third touchdown pass thrown by quarterback Roman Gabriel in the fourth quarter for a 24-24 National Football League tie with the Baltimore Colts.

It was the first time the Colts had been denied victory in five games.

The Colts remain the only undefeated team in the National Football League and on top in the Coastal Division of the Western Conference. Los Angeles and San Francisco, the two other strong contenders in the division, each has one loss.

The Colts appeared to be sitting pretty when John Unitas tossed his second touchdown of the game early in the fourth quarter for a 24-14 lead.

But the Rams scrapped back, picking up three points on a 47-yard field goal by Bruce Gossett that hit the crossbar and bounced over. Maxie Baughan then gave the Rams their chance with a tying touchdown by intercepting a Unitas pass and returning it 23 yards to the Colts' eight.

Duncan Lifts Chargers Past Chiefs 45-31

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — Speedy Leslie Duncan raced 35 yards with a recovered fumble for one touchdown and traveled a record 100 with an intercepted pass for another as the explosive and undefeated San Diego Chargers whipped Kansas City 45-31 Sunday in their American Football League battle.

In beating the defending champions, the Chargers ran up the largest score ever against the Chiefs.

Quarterback John Hadl scored the first San Diego touchdown and threw a pair of touchdown passes to Lance Alworth before 45,355 in San Diego Stadium as the Chargers put their record at 4-0-1.

Duncan first grabbed a Mike Garrett fumble and ran for a touchdown. Then he picked off a Len Dawson pass at the Chargers' goal and raced it up the sideline the length of the field.

Falcons And Skins Battle To 20-20 Tie

ATLANTA (AP) — The Atlanta Falcons, stung by criticism from their boss and boos from their fans, tied Washington 20-20 Sunday on Wade Traynham's 31-yard field goal with two seconds left.

The tying boot snapped a four-game National Football League losing streak for the fired-up Falcons, who last Sunday were booed and chastised by owner Rankin Smith for their disappointing play.

Traynham's kick came just 40 seconds after Sonny Jurgensen had given the Redskins an apparent 20-17 victory by tossing a 24-yard touchdown pass to Bobby Mitchell.

But the Falcons drove back and Traynham's kick was perfect as the Redskins saw victory evaporate in the final seconds for the second straight week.

Dallas pulled out a last-minute victory a week ago. Traynham had kicked a 31-yard field goal with nine minutes to play for a 17-14 lead, but Jurgensen moved the Redskins 83 yards in an outburst in which Mitchell had catches of 24 and 28 yards before his touchdown catch.

Indiana's Redistricting Forces Rep. Celler To Abandon Provision

By JOHN BECKLER
WASHINGTON (AP) — A congressional redistricting impasse in Indiana is forcing Rep. Emanuel Celler, D-N.Y., to abandon his effort to write an anti-gerrymandering provision into law.

The provision has deadlocked a House-Senate conference on a proposed redistricting law. Celler has said he would rather see no law than give up a fight he has been waging for 30 years.

But the pressure from Indiana representatives threatened with having to run statewide for Congress in 1968 instead of from districts has apparently ended the fight.

The House and Senate conferees are scheduled to meet Wednesday and are expected to approve a bill that would prohibit statewide elections for Congress but would leave control over gerrymandering to the states.

The bill will also provide that, starting in 1972, the maximum permissible variation between the largest and smallest congressional districts in a state would be 10 per cent.

Celler has been holding out in conference for a provision in the bill passed by the Senate requiring that all districts be "as compact as possible." But of the five Senate conferees, only one, Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Miss., favors it.

The other four senators are insisting on language leaving it to the states to determine whether the districts are "as compact as practicable."

Gerrymandering means to draw districts with roundabout boundaries so as to benefit a party.

At the last conference more than a month ago, Celler said he would never yield to the Senate conferees. "To turn this matter over to the states," he said, "would mean merely to continue the practice of gerrymandering. I have been striving for 30 years to stop this practice and I will not back down now."

Celler is now yielding, not to the Senate conferees, but to Indiana's 11 congressmen—five Democrats and six Republicans. They say they need a law passed quickly banning at-large elections, which is an uncontroversial provision in the deadlocked bill.

A federal court has ruled Indiana's present districts are unconstitutional. The divided Indiana legislature, with a Democratic Senate and a Republican House, has been unable to agree on new districts and is not scheduled to meet again before the 1968 elections. If nothing is done all candidates for Congress will have to run statewide.

The Indiana delegation hopes congressional requirement that all candidates must run in districts will force an agreement on redistricting that a special session of the legislature will approve before the 1968 elections.

Saboteurs For Arabs Lose Hope

By ED BLANCHE
Associated Press Writer
TEL AVIV, Israel (AP) — Under unrelenting pressure from Israeli security forces, Arab saboteurs appear to have given up hope of starting a guerrilla war in Israeli-occupied areas west of the Jordan River.

Sources here said El Fatah gangs backed by Syria are pulling out of bases from which they have carried on a terrorist campaign for the last six weeks.

The sources said the raid on the Ma'oz Hayyim kibbutz in northern Israel Sunday is a strong indication that the saboteurs have reverted to the tactics they used before the Middle East war last June—hit-and-run raids across the Jordanian border.

Four bombs caused damage at the kibbutz but no casualties were reported. Army spokesmen said the tracks of three men led to the Jordan River, a mile east, and that 15 Soviet-made submachine-gun magazines, grenades and other ammunition were found near the kibbutz.

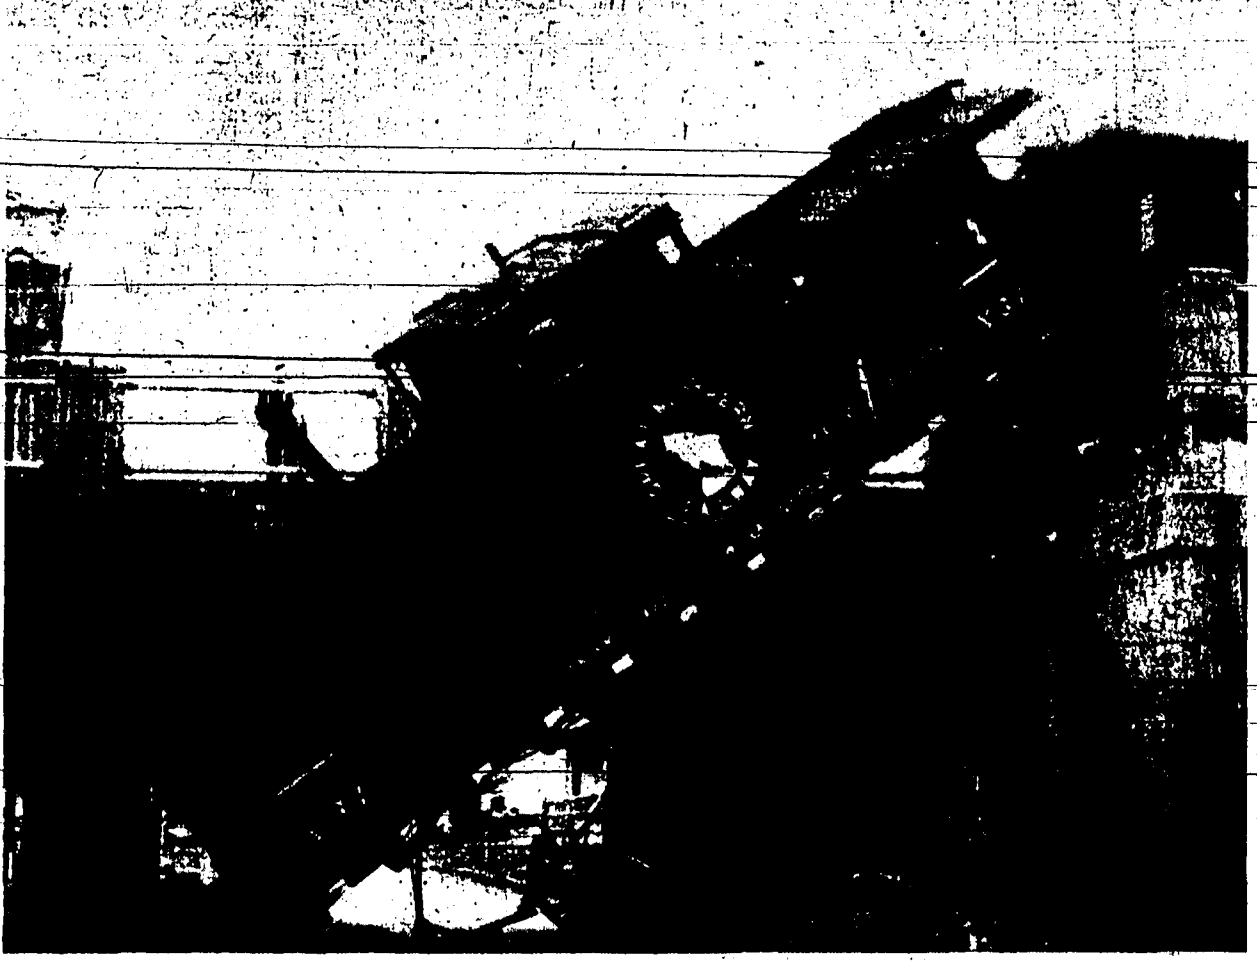

Israeli security officials say they have rounded up at least 200 terrorists west of the river. They claim they have broken the most successful group of saboteurs and have uncovered an El Fatah operations center in Jerusalem.

Arabic-speaking Israeli agents are still searching adobe villages for isolated resistors but curfews and other restrictions are being eased in Nablus, Tulkarm and Jenin, formerly saboteur centers.

Israeli tank gunners pounced suspected El Fatah bases east of the Jordan Saturday after snipers began firing near Sheikh Hussein Bridge. It was the fiercest battle on the Jordanian border since the war.

The raid on Ma'oz Hayyim was the fifth in two weeks in the Beisan Valley, which runs south from the Sea of Galilee 25 miles to the old Israel-Jordan frontier.

The lush valley is vulnerable to sabotage raids, lying along the only sector of the border unchanged by the war and the only direct point of entry to Israel from Jordan.

THREE GREAT NORTHERN Railway cars broke loose in a Wenatchee switchyard Friday night. One of them landed in this underpass on Thurston Street after it ran out of track. The caboose jumped retaining posts. (AP wirephoto)

Castro Says Revolution In Latin America Will Continue

By FENTON WHEELER
HAVANA (AP) — The revolutionary movement in Latin America will go on despite the "hard blow" of guerrilla leader Ernesto Che Guevara's death in Bolivia, Prime Minister Fidel Castro says.

In a broadcast speech Sunday night, Castro said that "imperialism has a fear of Che after death." He said Guevara has been eliminated physically but his example "can never be eliminated by anything or anyone."

Castro spoke softly in a low voice, his characteristic flamboyance muted by sadness, as he said he accepted as "bitterly true" reports that Guevara had been killed in a battle with troops in Bolivia's jungles.

The prime minister said he could not doubt the authenticity of photographs of the dead man and that they were "real." Guevara, who fought with Fulgencio Batista and became Castro's right-hand man in government, Guevara had dropped from sight in Cuba in 1965.

It was the first official Cuban comment on the reports of Guevara's death.

Castro, dressed in an olive green major's uniform, said he was declaring three days of mourning and that a memorial tribute to Guevara will be held Wednesday night in Havana. He said the Cuban flag would be flown at half-staff for 30 days and announced that Oct. 8, the day Bolivian authorities claimed Guevara's death, would be henceforth a holiday.

Castro said he accepted Bolivia's report of Guevara's death in part because its government he said there were "strange and contradictory things" surrounding the story and suggested that Che had been betrayed by a deserter.

He said he believed the Bolivians killed Guevara after taking him captive and not, as reported, during a five or six-hour battle. He said a battle that long is out of line with guerrilla strategy.

Castro ridiculed a Bolivian army report, contradicted in Bolivia by some military officials, that Guevara gasped before his death, "I am Che. I have failed."

The Cuban leader said Che would never have said anything to aid the enemy.

Mrs. Guevara and her four children have been reported out of Havana for the last few days.

Teddy Jokes About Brother's Aspirations

TOPEKA, Kan. (AP) — Does Robert Kennedy want to be president?

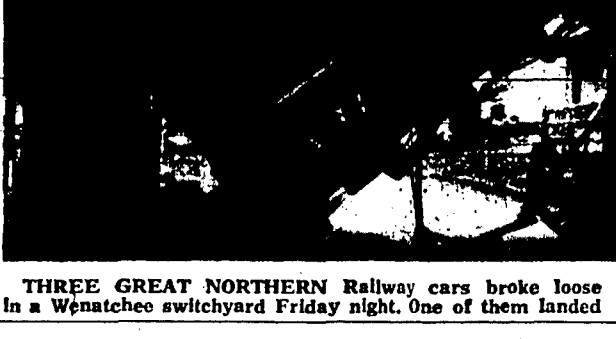

Ask his brother Edward. You'll probably get a tongue-in-cheek reply.

Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., told a crowd of nearly 2,000 in Topeka Saturday night that Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, D-N.Y., is telling everybody he doesn't want to be president.

"If you ever want to hear a short conversation," the Massachusetts senator said, "it's my brother, Bobby, telling someone he doesn't want to be president."

Kennedy's remark came after a telegram was read at a party fund-raising dinner in honor of Gov. Robert Docketing. The New York senator sent birthday greetings to Docketing, who was 42 last Monday.

The telegram from Robert Kennedy said: "I'm sorry I cannot be with you tonight but I've sent my brother to read my speech for me. When he's through with it, please send him right home."

"Unlike my brother Bobby," Edward Kennedy chuckled, "I do know where my home is."

Priest Says Catholic Church 'Dead'

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (AP) — The Rev. James Kavanaugh said Sunday the Roman Catholic Church is dead and he will practice the priesthood in his own way.

The priest said, "I want the religious freedom that Vatican II promised me."

He addressed about 400 persons at the University of Notre Dame in a talk sponsored by the school's Academic Commission of the Student Union.

Father Kavanaugh, 38, who wrote the book "A Modern Priest Looks at His Outdated Church," returned to La Jolla, Calif., where he is marriage counselor at the Human Resources Institute. He has been on leave from his diocesan work in Kalamazoo, Mich.

He said in his address that the institutional church is dead.

"The bishops at the synod in Rome are wasting their time. We the Catholics of America are getting our theology second hand from European theologians who don't have answers either," he said.

Father Kavanaugh said those who need the traditional forms of the Church will stay in it while those for whom the traditional is irrelevant and legalistic will leave.

"I want the freedom to be myself, the freedom to find God without arrogant priests telling me I can't," he told the audience. "I will remain a priest in my own way even as I leave the institutional priesthood."

Although he has no definite plans, Father Kavanaugh said he will marry.

"I don't know how I as a man can find God and meaning without marriage," he said. "I need the close personal relationship of a woman. I need it and I intend to have it."

GILLETTE, Wyo. (AP) — Workmen were clearing the area around an oil well fire 12 miles west of Gillette today in preparation for setting off explosives to snuff out the flames.

The oil-fed fire started last Tuesday when a spark from a truck ignited crude oil gushing from the well. A drilling tower was quickly destroyed.

Middle-Class Negroes Are Against Plan

By BOB VOELKER
Associated Press Writer
PITTSBURGH (AP) — Middle-income Negroes are spearheading opposition to a proposed housing project that would move nearly 40 families of low-income Negroes and whites into their neighborhood.

A Negro, Harold Arkie, complained vigorously.

"We've worked hard to build our homes and keep them nice. We don't want anybody to come in here and lower the property values."

"Race means nothing. I'm a Negro myself and if you're right, you're right."

A private developer has proposed to the city the building of a 37-unit housing project in a weed-filled lot in the city's West End. The homes, which would rent for $35 to $50 a month, would go up beside a group of $18,000 to $28,000 homes in a predominantly Negro neighborhood.

Among the community leaders opposing the project is Mrs. Allan Goode, a Negro who lives in a new $18,000 home a few feet from the vacant lot.

"The ones who lived in projects before," she said, "are the ones who are most strongly opposed to the project. They worked hard to get out."

"We're not fighting our own race. But we just don't want it here. Why do they have to put it here?"

Arkie said: "I lived in a project for awhile, and I know what happens. They go down down. Nobody takes care of them and they get dirty and ugly."

The controversy is dividing Pittsburgh Negroes. Those Negroes opposing the project are being accused by other Negroes of being snobs.

Gov. Docking Predicts LBJ Will Win Vote

LACONIA, N.H. (AP) — Gov. Robert Docking, D-Kan., has predicted re-election for President Johnson, but denied that he was sent to New Hampshire by the President to discourage supporters of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, D-N.Y., for president in 1968.

Docking told newsmen the President "is not my appointment secretary."

The governor, a friend of the Kennedy family, addressed the state's Young Democrats Sunday night at the request of the Democratic National Committee.

Some Young Democrats have been conducting a write-in campaign for Kennedy for the state's first-in-the-nation, presidential primary next March 12, but he has disavowed their efforts.

Docking said he is "optimistic that Lyndon Johnson and Hubert Humphrey will be re-elected in 1968," and used the words of the late President John F. Kennedy to defend American presence in Vietnam.

"Americans are in Vietnam because we have determined that this country must not fall under Communist domination," he said in quoting a letter written by President Kennedy in March, 1963.

5 Firemen Perish In New Jersey

CLIFFSIDE PARK, N.J. (AP) — The deaths of five firemen trapped by a collapsing wall, leaves 14 children under the age of 21 fatherless.

The Ridgefield volunteer firemen also are survived by five widows.

A fire department spokesman said $8,000 had been pledged to a fund for the survivors sponsored by the Hudson Dispatch, a Union City newspaper.

Bergen County authorities say they are investigating the possibility of arson in the fire Sunday at Cardinal Lanes bowling alley in this town just across the Hudson River from New York City. The Ridgefield Fire Department scheduled memorial services for Wednesday.

One civilian and 10 other firemen also were injured when the cinder-block wall collapsed as about 130 firemen from eight communities tried to control the fire in the one-story building.

The civilian and one fireman remained in a hospital today, but their conditions were not serious.

Joseph Licata, a volunteer fireman from Palisades Park, said, "The trapped firemen were just about to enter the building. Then, all of a sudden, the whole place just went 'whoosh' and the flames traveled right down the building from front to back, blowing out the roof and a side wall."

The sole survivor of the hose crew, Henry Dengler Jr., 22, said he was at the end of the hose and farthest from the wall.

Spacecraft Ruled Out In Horse's Death

By BURL OSBORNE
Associated Press Writer
ALAMOSA, Colo. (AP) — Snippy the horse may have been done in by an infection and varmint of the prairie, but he certainly was not killed by a flying saucer, a Colorado State University scientist says.

Dr. Robert O. Adams of the university's college of veterinary medicine and biomedical sciences, examined the carcass and reported Friday there were natural, earthbound explanations for everything he found.

"I know it's going to pop the bubble, but the horse was not killed by a flying saucer," he said.

The flying saucer theory was advanced by Snippy's owner, Mrs. Berle Lewis, after the 3-year-old Appaloosa gelding's carcass was found on a remote prairie 20 miles northeast of here, with all flesh stripped from the neck and head.

Mrs. Lewis also reported finding exhaust-like marks in the area, a high level of radioactivity and no tracks around the horse.

Mrs. Lewis' view was shared by many residents of this sparsely populated San Luis Valley, where reported sightings of unidentified flying objects are common.

Later checks showed a normal radiation level, and Adams said he found nothing indicating an extraterrestrial visitor.

He said his findings were speculative, but said, "There was some evidence that severe infection had been present in the right flank area. That can kill a horse in a short time."

He said he also found evidence that the skin in front of the shoulder had been incised. This, he continued, could mean someone found Snippy down and suffering and ended the pain by cutting his throat.

Mrs. Lewis, however, held fast to her flying saucer theory. She said Adams failed to explain the absence of blood on the ground, the absence of tracks in the area and the odor.

5 Boy Scouts Die In 2-Car Collision

PARKERSBURG, W. Va. (AP) — Five Boy Scouts were killed Sunday in a two-car collision near this Ohio River city.

The victims were Enoch Ferrell, 17; Bob Cooper, 13; and Drew Damos, Raedy Hood and John Alderson, all 14. They were sons of employees at the Kaiser Aluminum plant in Ravenswood.

The driver of the other car, John Rexroad, 25, of Parkersburg, is in serious condition in a local hospital with internal injuries. His 4-year-old daughter, Terry, is listed in "good" condition with a broken back.

The scouts were returning from a weekend encampment at Camp Kootaga, about eight miles east of Parkersburg. Police said their compact car, driven by Ferrell, went into a skid and was rammed by Rexroad's vehicle.

Virginia City Law Could Be Repealed

VIRGINIA CITY, Nev. (AP) — A Virginia City ordinance banning horses from streets in this historic Comstock boom town may be repealed to permit a 14-year-old boy to deliver his newspapers.

Dist. Atty. Robert Schouweiller said Saturday the county commission was considering repealing the ordinance.

Gordon Barkley Jr., who delivers Reno newspapers on horseback, went to court to have the ordinance repealed. He obtained a temporary injunction permitting him to ride his mare, Lady, through Virginia City streets.

Barkley had argued that the ordinance threatened to put him out of business because the mare was his only means of delivering newspapers along his mountainside route.

Schouweiller said the commission did not want to hamper the boy's job.

The ordinance was aimed at riding stables catering to tourists "who did not understand the interest commissioners had in the streets," he said.

Hazelton Names Deputy Registrar

HAZELTON — Mrs. Bertha Belmont, city clerk, reports Richard Bloxham at Hazelton Drug will be the deputy Hazelton registrar while she is on vacation. He will register voters until her return on Oct. 30. The election is Nov. 7.

Persons who have filed petitions for councilmen for the four-year term are Mrs. Don Crumrine, Robert Stokesberry and Richard Bloxham. Seeking the two-year term are Dr. Jack Grant and Kermit Douglas.

Joseph Wagner, incumbent board chairman, was the only person to file a petition for the mayor post for a two-year term.
