Gooding Residents Carry On Fight For Funds To Build New Hospital

By FRED DODDS
Times-News Staff Writer
GOODING — Someone once said, "You can't fight city hall." But whoever said it didn't know Gooding area residents. Because right now a small group representing Gooding's 25-bed Memorial Hospital is fighting the state of Idaho, and a large Boise hospital to boot.

board of directors, explained the situation: Simply, this is the background: The Gooding hospital board wanted to build a new hospital. A bond election to do this was passed, and a request has been in for several years for federal funds to complete the job.

In light of this money being awarded to St. Alphonsus by the Department of Health, on recommendation of the Hospital Advisory Council of the Department, Gooding residents have appealed to Gov. Don Samuelson.

He said it was decided in 1965 to replace the present Gooding hospital, and last March 14 a $550,000 bond election was passed. He added that it was assumed that the state would approve an estimated $300,000 to supplement the bond election funds.

Increase In City Speed Limits Suggested By State Engineer

Plans for upgrading speed limits on all state and federal highways within the city of Twin Falls to more evenly match the speeds at which the majority of the traffic travels were presented city officials Monday night by Ron Dehlin, traffic engineer for the Idaho Department of Highways in the local district.

Mr. Dehlin said 25 miles-an-hour speed limits would be retained only in the downtown area on Main Avenue and Second Avenues South and West. Elsewhere the 25-mile-an-hour limits would be increased to 35 miles. Areas on Blue Lakes Blvd. N., from the pole line road to a point near Blue Lakes Shopping Center were suggested for 50 miles per hour and then reduced to 35 miles-per-hour to Five Points East.

Ordinances were requested drawn up on all five matters for a vote at the next meeting by the council. The issues involve revision of sign regulations in the C-L zone, a request for 4

Third Hailey Youth Dies Of Injuries

HAILEY — The third victim of a one-car crash died Monday afternoon at St. Alphonsus Hospital, Boise.

Roy Robertson, 18, son of Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Robertson, Hailey, had remained in critical condition since the crash early Sunday morning which claimed the lives of two companions.

The other victims were Richard Dugger, 17, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert W. Dugger, Hailey, who died early Sunday morning in the Sun Valley Hospital, and James E. Peck, son of Thomas E. Peck, Bellevue, and Mrs. George Kirshner, Hailey, who died later Sunday at St. Alphonsus Hospital. The Robertson boy died from head injuries at 2:30 p.m. Monday.

The three were riding in a 1963 sedan driven by the Peck. See YOUTH DIES, Pg. 2, Col. 5

Utah Pilot Claims He Was Chased By Object

BURLEY — A report of harassment of a Utah pilot by an unidentified flying object between here and Nevada was received by the Federal Aviation Agency flight station at the Burley Airport Monday night.

Stan Fredrickson, Salt Lake City pilot, was en route from Elko, Nev., to Burley when he reported to the Burley station that the unidentified object as big as two normal houses followed him to a point over Murtaugh before disappearing.

The object, which gave the appearance of being an intensely bright light, would approach from in front of the Bonanza Mr. Fredrickson was flying, then pull up at the last moment to miss him. The bright object would stay on the Utah plane's tail, then fly both above and below him, he radioed to the FAA station.

Total Eclipse

SALT LAKE CITY (AP) — Utah and Idaho residents will be able to see a total eclipse of the moon early Wednesday.

Mark Littmann, director of the Hansen Planetarium, said the moon will begin to enter the earth's shadow at 2:25 a.m. and total eclipse will occur at 3:45 a.m.

Brush Fire Rages On 2 California Fronts

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A major brush fire raged on two fronts today — one heading toward the rugged timberlands of Los Padres National Forest and the other toward a town of 20,000.

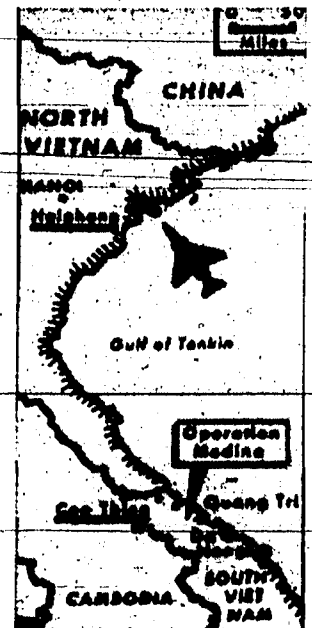

Firefighters declared victory Monday over a two-day brush fire which blackened 25,000 acres in another part of Ventura County and threatened the town of Thousand Oaks.

A spokesman for the Los Angeles County Fire Department estimated that fire destroyed 43 homes in Los Angeles County and 17 in Ventura County.

Some 600 firefighters struggled on both fronts of the fire through the night as the toll of charred land grew to 3,000 acres, said William Waltrip of U.S. Forest Service.

On the other front, firefighters strained to keep the flames from timberlands. From 500 to 600 acres of brush in the national forest were consumed, Waltrip said.

The fire near Thousand Oaks, a 10-mile long blend of two separate outbreaks that began Sunday in Los Angeles County and Ventura County, resulted in the

New Land Operation Planned

SAIGON (AP) — The U. S. Command today announced a new ground operation aimed at taking pressure off South Vietnam's northernmost provinces.

The operation began Oct. 11 but was not announced until today for security reasons. Marine intelligence reports indicate there are 17 Communist battalions operating around the DMZ and in Quang Tri Province, perhaps more than 7,000 enemy troops.

Operation Medina is under way in the dense, jungled mountains near the southern boundary of Quang Tri Province, nine miles south of the provincial capital of Quang Tri.

U.S. spokesmen said heavy monsoon rains were making the operation difficult. The heaviest fighting so far occurred last Thursday when 300 Marines ran up against about 400 North Vietnamese troops in a battle that raged for 4½ hours.

Protesters Of War, Draft Arrested Across Country

By The Associated Press
Scores of persons have been arrested in antiwar and anti-draft demonstrations staged by thousands in cities from coast to coast. Hundreds burned what they said were their draft cards.

At Boston's Arlington Street church the strains of "We Shall Overcome" sounded as 67 youths, mostly college students, burned their cards at the altar Monday.

The draft cards of several Americans in London wound up in the "lost" and found department at the U.S. Embassy there after they tried to hand the cards over to embassy officials.

Spokesmen at a demonstration in New York said their action was part of a nationwide mobilization of those resisting the draft. Protests took place in 30 cities across the country.

Some 5,000 anti-draft demonstrators jammed onto the University of California's Berkeley campus Monday night in defiance of a court injunction barring any campus antiwar teach-in.

Hostile bystanders jeered as five young men burned what they said were their draft cards during a rally outside Independence Hall in Philadelphia.

No action was taken against the protesters. A university spokesman said "it is not in the best interest of public safety to move in with a wedge of police."

Four demonstrators were arrested in Chicago after some 250 persons tried unsuccessfully to push their way into the federal building to surrender their draft cards at the U.S. marshal's office.

There were also demonstrations in Denver, Cedar Rapids, Iowa, Albany, and Poughkeepsie, N.Y., Pittsburgh, Providence, R.I. and San Francisco.

Soviets May Be Ready To Seek Peace In Mideast

By TOM HOGE
UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The arrival at the U.N. General Assembly of Vasily V. Kuznetsov, a Soviet deputy foreign minister and key negotiator, raised hopes today that the Russians may be ready to join in seeking peace in the Middle East.

One high-level Communist delegate said that Kuznetsov's arrival Monday was "a good sign" for possible solution of the Arab-Israeli stalemate. Kuznetsov was sent to New York in 1962 to negotiate with the United States over the Cuban missile crisis.

Union, Ford Firm Have Late Talks

By KIT KINCADE
DETROIT (AP) — Negotiators for the United Auto Workers and Ford Motor Co. early today ended their longest bargaining session since the union struck Sept. 7.

The joint statement described the negotiations "as serious, good-faith collective bargaining."

The United States is keeping a tight lid, however, on its role in the talks on the Middle East.

After meeting for more than 16 hours at Ford headquarters in suburban Dearborn, the bargainers broke off their talks at 3:15 a.m., ending hopes that they were engaged in round-the-clock discussions which would herald an agreement on a new contract.

It was the first statement issued through a news blackout since the two sides announced last Friday that the company had made a new contract offer and that the union had responded with a counterproposal.

U.S. sources confirmed that Ambassador Arthur J. Goldberg was meeting with Egyptian Foreign Minister Mahmoud Riad, but they said nothing would be made public on the substance of the talks. An Egyptian source said they met Monday for 90 minutes.

They planned to meet again today at 11 a.m.

It was issued as negotiators took an hour break for dinner and came shortly after a bargaining table source told The Associated Press that the company appeared to be bending on the union's No. 1 demand-guaranteed annual income.

Attempts have been going on for more than three weeks to work out a meaningful resolution on the Middle East deadlock for the Security Council.

Despite the length of the session, and an optimistic statement issued Monday night, there was no solid evidence that a settlement would come today or even in the next few days.

The bargaining table source said that Ford had given an "inkling" of willingness to meet the demand for guaranteed annual income.

One proposal reported to have considerable support is for the council-to-list general principles for a settlement and authorize Secretary-General U Thant to name a special representative to work out details between the opposing sides.

Walter P. Reuther, UAW president, and Malcolm L. Dennis, Ford vice president for labor relations, were expected to lead their negotiators back to the table.

But he said that no figures had been laid on the table by Monday afternoon.

Fight Over Resolution Endorsing War Policy Rocks 'Floating' Conference

By JACK BELL
AP Political Writer
ABANDON SS INDEPENDENCE (AP) — A fight over a resolution endorsing President Johnson's Vietnam policy shaped up today as the floating National Governors' Conference steamed toward the Virgin Islands.

Utah Democrat Calvin L. Rampton said he would offer his 44 colleagues a motion backing Johnson's pursuit of the war. He received immediate support from the conference chairman, Gov. William L. Guy, D-N.D., who said: "I favor a resolution in support of the commander in chief."

Republicans are just about as divided as the Democrats on this issue and they have a candidate and we don't."

The incident was reported to the Times-News by Ken Hepper, chief pilot for Reeder Flying Service, Twin Falls.

Utah Democrat Otto Kerner, pointing out that a conference of governors announced support for Johnson's position earlier in the year and that 20 Democratic governors lined up with the President in a caucus Sunday.

There was some speculation that Johnson might fly to Virginia Saturday to address the conference, but the chairman of the Democratic governors' caucus, Gov. Harold E. Hughes of Iowa, said he had not been informed of any such plans.

Mr. Hepper said they could see the bright light at quite a distance, but the Twin Falls plane was not bothered.

The incident occurred about 9:30 p.m. Mr. Fredrickson, who runs an air conditioning business in Salt Lake City, landed at the Burley airport at 9:36 p.m. Monday. He left later for

Also apparently wary of war policy pronouncements were Republicans John A. Love of Colorado and James A. Rhodes of Ohio, who said they did not think there would be a statement of policy.

"After all," Love said, "We

Man Charged With Murder Of His Wife

COEUR D'ALENE, Idaho (AP) — Police Monday charged the husband of a woman found dead last May 9 with second degree murder. Police said the arrest came after months of extensive investigation.

John Brunell, 50, was charged with the death of his wife, Frances. Her body was found early on the morning of May 9 in the rear of a downtown tavern, which she owned and operated.

Prosecutor Pat Arney was reported earlier as saying homicide was suspected. He said Monday an autopsy had revealed the woman was strangled to death.

Brunell appeared Monday before Magistrate Craig Kosonen where arraignment was continued until Tuesday. Brunell was released in the custody of his attorney.

Pedestrian Hit By Car

A 74-year-old Twin Falls woman received injuries about noon Tuesday in a car-pedestrian accident at Third Street and Main Avenue West, according to Twin Falls City Police.

Officers said Mrs. Harriett Jones was walking across Main Avenue at the time of the mishap. They said a 1959 Ford station wagon driven by Mrs. Barbara Barnes, 37, also of Twin Falls, had stopped at the stop sign on Main Avenue and was making a left turn when her vehicle struck Mrs. Jones.

Mrs. Jones was taken to a physician's office where she was treated. Officers said she received injuries to her right leg and right arm.

Two Contractors Nearing Final Stages On Water Project Jobs

Two contractors on the second phase of the Twin Falls Water Improvement Project are nearing final stages of their work. Herb Derrick, city manager, told the City Council Monday night.

He said Crom Prestressing Inc., has done about 95 per cent of the work on the dome at the five-million-gallon water reservoir. When this is complete, he said, walls will be wrapped with several tons of steel wire-type bands which will be pulled tight. Then final wall coats of gunnite will be sprayed on.

Mr. Derrick also explained plans for finishing the interior of the tank and decorating exterior finishing, which will make it an attractive structure.

Payment of $45,617 was approved to Crom Prestressing for work completed up to the present time.

Mr. Derrick said Kloefer Construction Co. also is nearing completion on the pipe installation, with only a few hundred feet in the Snake River Canyon yet to be complete. Work will meet the Nov. 22 completion date, he said.

Brickwork also is under way on the pumping booster station at the site of the new reservoir, Mr. Derrick said, and the Newell J. Olsen and Sons contract is moving ahead on the pumping station in the canyon.

Mr. Derrick, who serves on the board of directors of the Intermountain Section, American Water Works Association, was authorized to take a day of his annual leave Wednesday to attend a meeting of the organization in Ogden, Utah.

Mr. Derrick also introduced

It was suggested other property owners be contacted to determine if all of the property could be annexed at the same time.

Clear Lakes Bridge Costs Increasing

Costs to agencies sharing in the construction of the proposed Ken Curtis Memorial Bridge in the Clear Lakes area of Snake River canyon has increased, Twin Falls county officials noted Tuesday.

The bridge, originally scheduled for local, state and federal construction, at a cost of $19,280 in Twin Falls county matching funds, is now expected to cost the county $29,228.57. Total cost of the bridge is estimated at $185,000.

The bridge is being built with matching federal funds with local amounts to be provided by Twin Falls and Gooding counties and by the Buhl and West Point Highway Districts. Twin Falls county levied a special levy last year to raise the anticipated county share.

A total of $24,250 was provided through the special levy giving the county about $5,000 above what was actually anticipated as the cost.

Because bids received by the highway department did not come within the budgeted amount, county commissioners said Tuesday they will have to budget about another $5,000 in the coming year to meet their share of the obligations.

Commissioners said Tuesday they understood the contract is being let by the state but that work is not yet under way on the structure. A new concrete and steel bridge will replace the 50-year-old single lane span which links the two counties.

Jury Rules In Death Of Store Manager

BONNERS FERRY, Idaho (AP) — A coroner's jury ruled Monday that James I. Schoun, 37, took his own life after fatally assaulting Robert C. Mayo, 51, last Wednesday morning.

The six-man jury found that Mayo's death was caused by a series of blows to the head. A hammer was identified as the weapon used in the attack.

Mayo was manager of a grocery store here, and Schoun was an assistant manager. Mayo's body was found in a walk-in freezer of the store. The jury said Mayo died at 8:07 a.m., the time at which his wrist watch had stopped.

Schoun was found dead Wednesday evening in his car seven miles south of here, near the farm where he lived with his family. He had been shot in the head, and a .22 caliber revolver was found in his hand. The jury said Schoun died between 10 a.m. and noon.

Witnesses at the inquest included five store employees who testified that no ill feeling existed between Mayo and Schoun.

from Charles Hopkins for zoning of his residential property to permit a nursery, revision of the double frontage lot set back requirements; a provision that all parking areas and driveways of drive-in restaurants be paved to eliminate dust problems, and a request from the Twin Falls Clinic Hospital for a zoning variance to permit their proposed new hospital building addition to the north of their present structure. Closing of the alley behind the present

A report was presented by the city's planning and zoning commission approving all five zoning changes.

Louis B. Meigs, business manager for the Twin Falls Clinic Hospital and the hospital's architect met with the council to explain plans for expansion of the hospital on Shoshone Street at Sixth Avenue East. The plan calls for an increase from 15 to 40 beds, with the addition to extend to Seventh Avenue East.

As the addition would be built on concrete "stilts," parking space would be available under the new portion. Closing of the alley would give the clinic full use of the property. The firm would pay for the moving of utilities in the alley, Mr. Meigs said.

St. Edward's Catholic Church and School joined the clinic in asking for closure of the alley through the entire block. Edward Benoit, attorney for the church, said access would be maintained behind the church, but closing of the alley would be a safety factor for the school and youngsters.

City officials also approved the bid of Magic Valley International, Twin Falls, for a turf tractor for the parks department. The bid was $2,737.17 and was the lowest of four submitted.

An application from William Grange for a 20-year franchise for Magic Valley Cable Vision was under consideration. Mr. Grange said his firm is planning extensive improvements which would bring cable vision viewers some 12 channels, but the company hesitates to undertake the expense without an extension of the present 15-year franchise, which expires in five years.

Election constables and two judges were named for the Nov. 7 election and the city officials approved an agreement with the Oregon Shortline Railroad Co., and Union Pacific for water crossings on railroad property.

Appeal On Mobile Home Ruling Made

An appeal that could set a new precedent for mobile homes on private lots within the city of Twin Falls was presented the Twin Falls City Council Monday night.

Lloyd Webb, Twin Falls attorney, presented the appeal to the city council, sitting as a board of appeals.

He said a building permit was denied by the city building inspector and a stop order was issued on the project at the intersection of Washington Street North and Filer Avenue.

The petition, submitted on behalf of William VanDyke, Twin Falls, asked permission to locate a mobile home, or prefabricated building, on a foundation at that location. Arrangements for hookup of utilities and the sewer have been made, Mr. Webb stated.

The pre-built home, he said, is 55 feet by 26 feet and has been transported to the site.

Reed Coulam, building inspector, said the permit for Mr. VanDyke was denied on grounds that a mobile home cannot be located on a separate lot except in an industrial zone.

He said further, the building did not meet structural requirements for location on a lot as a prefabricated building.

He said the owner was prevented from continuing work on the structure in that he did not have a building permit and when he applied for the permit on Oct. 9, it did not meet requirement for building in the commercial zone.

Mr. Webb said the home is not a "trailer house," but rather a prefabricated home which was transported on wheels and which expands in both directions to a 26-foot width. He said homes of this type are acceptable in Boise and other cities as meeting building codes and zoning ordinances.

City officials referred the matter back to the city attorney and building inspector for further study.

Cars Collide

Two drivers escaped injury, but damage was estimated at approximately $500, when their vehicles collided Sunday 1:10 p.m. at Maurice Street and Maplewood Drive.

Peggy Kelker, 17, 1516 Addison Ave. E., was traveling south on Maurice Street, city police reported, when a car driven by W. N. Victor, 44, 1528 Addison Ave. E., backed from a parking lot and collided with the Kelker automobile.

Damage was estimated at $450 to the Kelker automobile and $75 to Mr. Victor's automobile. Mr. Victor was cited for failure to yield right of way.

Johnson Is Charged With Bad Approach

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Michigan Democratic State Chairman Zolton Forncy charged today the Johnson Administration is using a "shape-up" or "ship out" approach to keep Democrats in line for next year's campaign.

Forncy, head of the Michigan Democratic party since 1962, aired his views in a statement released through state Democratic headquarters.

Forncy, who was the unsuccessful Democratic candidate against Republican Gov. George Romney last November, has declined in the past to indicate his personal choice for the Democratic presidential nomination in 1968.

Patler Indicted In Nazi Murder

ARLINGTON, Va. (AP) — John Patler, an ex-storm trooper in the American Nazi Party, was indicted on a murder charge Monday in the slaying of George Lincoln Rockwell, the party's self-styled fuhrer.

Patler, who has been held without bond in the Arlington County jail since a preliminary hearing Sept. 29, will be arraigned Thursday in Circuit Court.

The indictment against Patler was one of 29 returned by a county grand jury before Judge Walter T. McCarthy.

Patler, an ex-Marine, is accused of being the sniper who shot Rockwell, 49, in the chest Aug. 25 outside a laundromat in an Arlington shopping center.

All bids must be made on forms furnished, and must be signed by the bidder with his name and post office address.

No bids may be withdrawn after the scheduled time for receipt of bids for at least 30 days.

The Regents of the University of Idaho reserve the right to reject any or all bids or to waive informality, or to accept the bid deemed best for the University of Idaho.

Each bid must be accompanied by a certified or cashier's check on an Idaho bank, or bid bond with Idaho State Licensed Surety Company as surety, in an amount not less than 5% of the total bid, made payable to the University of Idaho. This surety shall be forfeited by the bidder in the event of failure to execute the contract or furnish the necessary 100% performance bond and 50% payment bond.

Bidders shall be licensed in the State of Idaho in accordance with provisions of an act known as "Public Works Contractors' State License Law," H. B. No. 283, Thirty-third Legislative Session 1955. The term Public Works Contractor includes contractor, sub-contractor, specialty contractor, regardless of dollar value involved.

Attention of the bidders is especially invited to the provisions of Sections 44-1001, 44-1002, and 44-1003 of the Idaho Code, which give preference accorded to Idaho artisans and laborers and prevailing wage rates.

As it is the purpose of the University to accomplish this contract in the shortest time consistent with good construction, the possession of adequate equipment and efficient organization on the part of the Contractor is mandatory.

Terrorist Bomb Sinks Police Launch

By FORREST EDWARDS
HONG KONG (AP) — A terrorist limpet bomb sank a Hong Kong police launch today as Red newspapers threatened increased violence in retaliation for raids by British colonial authorities on Communist schools. Police said the bomb was planted below the launch's water-line before dawn by saboteurs who may have swum underwater or approached silently in a sampan. The launch was at its mooring on an island six miles from Hong Kong Island. The device, probably many sticks of gelignite, blew a hole in the craft's hull but four constables on board were not injured, police said. The Communist newspapers Wen Wei Pao and Ta Kung Pao said in nearly identical front-page stories that "British fascist authorities suppressing our compatriot students will get the iron fist from our combat vanguards." Wen Wei Pao warned that Communists would purge schools and liquidate school authorities who cooperate with the government's crackdown on Red students.

Communist terrorists have planted scores of real and false bombs around Hong Kong in the past five days in a renewal of their campaign to weaken British rule in the colony on Red China's southern border. Egged on by statements of support from Peking, the Communists began inciting riots and labor strife in May. Forty-three persons have died in the disorders, including four as a result of bombs. Government officials said they have conclusive evidence that some Communist schools are being used to store bombs and that older students are carrying and planting bombs.

WASHINGTON — President Johnson is playing a dangerous game in mapping his political plans for 1968. Now that the House Ways and Means Committee has shelved his 10 percent surcharge proposal, he seeks to blame Congress in advance for what he says will be a "tax of inflation" on the people.

Johnson is reaching for the jugular. All members of the House and one-third of the membership of the Senate will be up for reelection next year, and an electorate burdened with a new increase in the cost of living could be whipped into a fury by the reminder that it wouldn't have happened had Congress done it Johnson's way.

charge have little or no effect on the uptrend in prices, the blame properly will shift to the White House. Congress would be vindicated in its argument that the way to curb inflation is to cut expenditures.

The situation is further complicated by nagging doubts of the perspicacity of the President's economic advisers. Led by Gardner Ackley, chairman of the Council of Economic Advisers, they have been wheeling out statistics they say indicate a strong new economic upsurge is in the making. But the fact is that at this writing only 43 percent of the leading economic indicators are pointing upward. To be sure, such indicators as employment, personal income and industrial production are up. But these indicators do not necessarily predict the future; they show where the economy is now, not always where it is going.

For example, the leading indicators in the first half of 1967, seemed to show that the country was headed for a recession. Instead, the economy merely turned sluggish for several months. And only last year an administration "consensus" resulted in restraints imposed on lending by the Federal Reserve Board which caused a money crunch and a sharp decline in the real Gross National Product for the first quarter of 1967.

Such previous blunders are one reason the House Ways and Means Committee voted by a whopping 20 to 5 to defer further consideration of the surcharge proposal. Another, of course, is that members of Congress have been hearing from their constituents, who are up in arms over a tax bill that would hit the plain citizen hard but close none of the loopholes enjoyed by the rich, including the scandalous 27 1/2 percent oil and gas depletion allowance.

"I Hear Those Gentle Voices Calling—"

All-Out Bombing Best?

The war we are bringing to North Vietnam is not directed against the people of that country but against its government. The aim is to make it as difficult as possible for Hanoi to wage guerrilla war in South Vietnam and ultimately to convince it of its futility. We are prepared to stop the bombing any time the North Vietnamese indicate they are willing to talk to us.

It is an evil government, however much we may feel it does not represent the true aspirations of its citizens.

Extreme pains are taken to minimize civilian casualties in our raids. We are told that targets are removed with "surgical precision," although it is inevitable that bombs will stray and that there will be deaths among the civilian population.

We fail to consider that when people find bombs raining down upon them, they get mad. Their resolve stiffens, and larger political considerations mean nothing in the face of attacks by an alien enemy.

We are also told that we have dropped as much tonnage on North Vietnam as in three years of bombing of Nazi Germany.

Hitler made the same mistake in Russia. He was unable to understand that Russian love of country transcended whatever desire the people may have had to be free of dictatorial communism.

Against that former enemy, our policy was one of unconditional surrender. The object was to smash Germany completely. It was total war, against both people and government. The needless obliteration of a city like Dresden in the last months of the war was one fruit of that policy.

All the simple North Vietnamese peasant knows is that American pilots are dropping bombs on him and that these Americans are as much an enemy as were the Japanese and the French.

Unconditional surrender was a mistake, some historians argue. There were many in the German army and government who were ready to overthrow Hitler if the Allies had offered a negotiated peace. Whether this is true or not, whether some other alternative to unconditional surrender could have shortened the war, remains one of the imponderables of history.

He knows nothing of Geneva accords and cares not a whit about international legal niceties. He remembers only that all of Vietnam was once one country, and that one foreign power was driven out and has now been replaced by another.

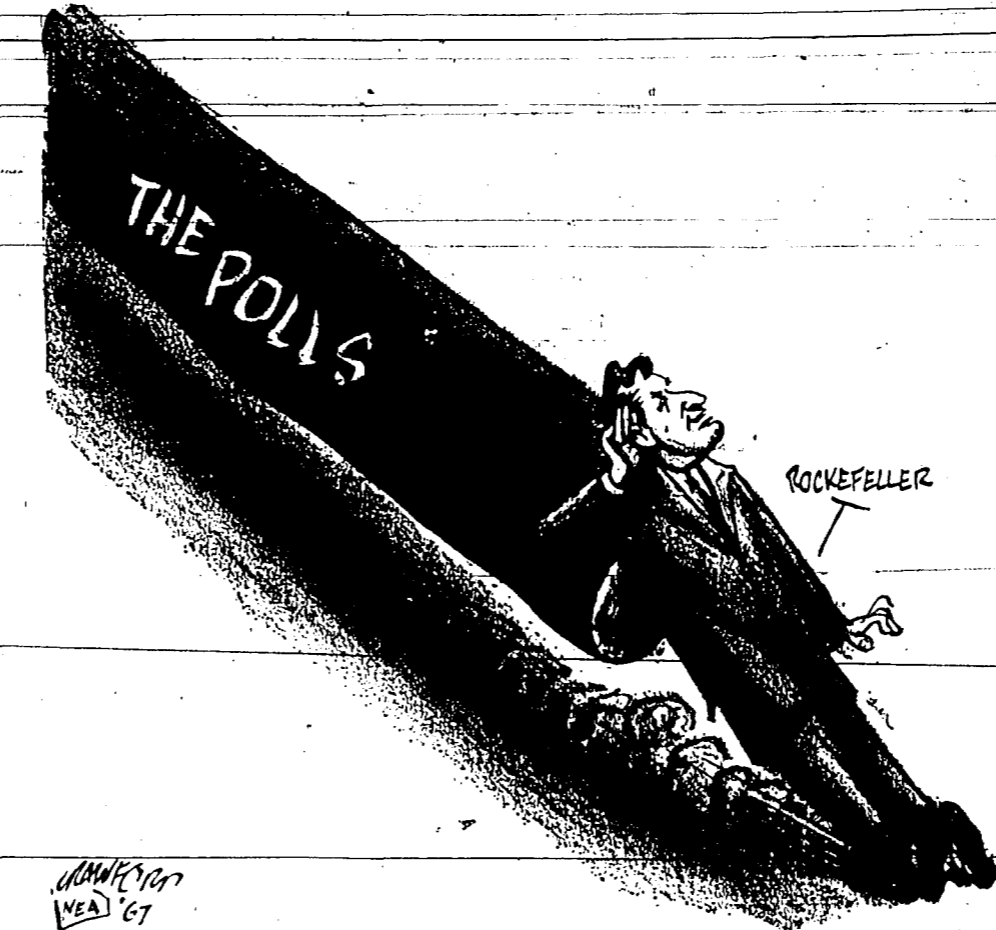

Yet future history is being written in Vietnam right now, and we have time to choose between alternatives.

Sen. Strom Thurmond of South Carolina, for one recent example, complains that "we are fighting with one hand tied behind our backs. We could make this war so hot for them they couldn't take it."

It is impossible to wage war—limited or otherwise—against a government and not against the people it rules, however convinced we are that

The United States certainly did not tie its hands in the war against Germany. Is it really conceivable that if we unleashed our full bombing power against the North Vietnamese they would suddenly collapse, that they would prove any less willing to stand up and take it than Germans who had no great love for Hitler?

Why should Hanoi offer assurances of any kind in exchange for a cessation of the bombing? Would we?

MARQUIS CHILDS

The Troops Abandon The Field

WASHINGTON — In the battle of the tax increase the President is like a general who finds that his troops on both the right have abandoned the field. For quite different reasons he is opposed by both the liberals and the conservatives in his own party.

At the start of the struggle many weeks ago Rep. Melvin Laird, the shrewd Republican who understands the tides of opinion and prejudice in the House as well as anyone in either party, was saying the tax boost would not be approved until February or March of 1968. The President would need approximately 60 Republican votes for passage and they would not be forthcoming until then.

Under an antiquated law of 1872 claims are being granted covering millions of acres to supposedly independent claimants. Douglas suspects that the big oil interests are behind this operation. And once the oil shale, worth potentially trillions of dollars, passes out of government ownership it can be exploited with the 27 percent bonanza. The Department of Interior seems unwilling or unable to face up to what is happening.

That is where it stands today, and for the President it is an impossible situation. Even the full 10 percent surcharge, and this is unlikely, will be too little and too late, coming on the eve of the election campaign. Apart from World War II the deficit is certain to set a record.

The demand for a cut of $5 billion in non-defense spending in short, with a war costing closer to $3 billion a month than $2 billion, it is a question of priorities and this Johnson has never resolved. The priority the liberals in Congress put at the top of the list is tax reform. They do not believe the private assurance from the treasury that tax reforms are being drafted to be presented after the surcharge is approved.

In any event they are convinced that the whoppingest loophole of all will be excluded so long as there is a Texan in the White House. That is the 27 percent depletion allowance for oil and a host of minerals that benefit with one percentage or another. The depletion allowance is the source of the biggest after-tax incomes in the country. For the oil boys an even greater bonanza looms on the not-too-distant horizon. Former Sen. Paul H. Douglas of Illinois, long one of the most ardent and best-informed critics of the tax privileges of the few, has been scouting in Colorado the way in which claims to the huge government-owned oil shale deposits are being passed out. Douglas testified before a senate committee the other day that this has the making of a scandalous giveaway far greater than tea-pot dome.

Untidy Fat Men

NEW YORK (AP) — Jumping to conclusions: Fat guys with cigar ashes on their vests are almost always faithful husbands. They can't find any girl who wants to cheat with them.

ties somewhat limited. He's too tall to earn a living as a midjet and too small to become a top pro basketball center.

Most tourists have the kind of fun in London that they thought they'd have in Paris. It's always more fun to sin in your own language.

Nothing cuts down my appetite more than sitting at lunch with a man who orders tripe and then follows it with blueberry pie as a dessert.

Half of today's young college radicals will be voting the straight Republican ticket before they're 40.

My favorite exercise is listening to my doctor explain why he can never seem to find the time to get enough exercise himself.

If you want to get rid of a girl who has matrimony in mind, just give her a dictionary as a birthday present. No girl wants to marry a fellow who's dumb enough to do that.

There has been a revival of interest in Mark Twain recently, but if the old man were alive today he'd have a hard time making a living as a writer. The market for his brand of vitriolic common sense is too limited.

Alaska is probably the only state in the union which has more polar bears than dope addicts.

Men and women live by different standards. For example, it doesn't bother a woman's inherent sense of honesty to wear false teeth, but once a man gets false teeth he can never afterward expose them in a big smile without feeling uneasily hypocritical.

This kind of big-money maneuver sharpens the contrast with the President's request for an across-the-board tax increase hitting everyone except those in the very lowest brackets. Although the liberals' demand to close the tax loopholes will be ignored, in the showdown next year many may nevertheless vote for the tax increase. That is what Douglas says he would do if he were in the senate today.

Without a tax increase the deficit will be close to $30 billion. The banks will then have no recourse but to finance this with checkbook money. The total quantity of money in circulation will be greater than the supply of goods and this is the definition of inflation.

The path to the dead end in which the President finds himself is strewn with might-have-beens. In December of 1965 Chairman William McChesney Martin of the Federal Reserve Board was urging the President to propose a tax increase in the following year. He pointed to the danger of inflation in paying for the Vietnam war through deficit financing.

A tax increase proposed in January, 1966, would in all probability have been passed by the middle of the year. A sober case could have been made for fiscal responsibility. While Democrats up for re-election would have been unhappy, they could hardly have taken a worse beating than in fact they did in November.

That is melancholy hindsight. The tax increase has now been projected into next year's presidential contest. Combined with a deficit that may even in the surcharge top $20 billion it will be an ominous backdrop for the President and the members of his party who must run with him.

PAUL HARVEY

Let 'Em Eat Bread

Looking back, I would want things to have been easier for my mother. Looking ahead, I want things to be easier for my son. But God was and is wiser than Paul Harvey.

est-fine loans, a new knitting machine and a two-week annual paid vacation for the mother."

There was no government aid for dependent children when my widowed mother reared and schooled two children by renting rooms in our modest home. We went without a lot of things we consider necessities today.

So don't be too sure that the Rougiers of the world won't intimidate enough politicians to get what they want — as long as it lasts.

But because the first multi-racial radios were far beyond our meager budget, I was inspired to build a cat's whisker crystal set in a discarded cigar box with parts that cost less than a dollar.

Recently in American cities—Washington, New York, Los Angeles, Chicago, Philadelphia, St. Louis, Cleveland, Cincinnati, Miami—welfare recipients have been parading, demonstrating, picketing city hall, demanding more of your money.

There was no time for mischief for my sister or me because we both worked most after-school hours—delivering groceries, mowing lawns, building those cigar box crystal sets and eventually selling them.

Rewarding indignance and promiscuity worsens the situation we are trying to correct. Many American families have been five generations on relief. We have 3.5 million children and 1 million parents collecting welfare, though only 150,000 of those parents are "legitimate fathers."

So that is one way for deprived families to manage—with energy and effort and a restless unwillingness to settle for things as they are.

Paul Harvey, remembering 40 years ago, can see some merit to ADC. But as with most all efforts by government to tax Peter to pay Paul, it is the greedy Rougiers of the world who — offered bread — demand cake.

Last month (September) a Paris mother wrote a letter to President De Gaulle demanding more government aid or else: or else she will abandon her children.

Mdm. Andre Rougier's black-mail letter gives the French government until Oct. 21 to "pay up or come and get the children."

Her husband works as a lathe operator, makes $250 a month, which is par by French standards. In addition they receive $332 a month family allowance from the state. But Mdm. Rougier says that's not enough for their very large family, so she demands that the government assume responsibility for them.

She demands "a bigger apartment, subsidies for gas, electricity and children's shoes, intermieland, he told examining physicians.

It was a script any Hollywood screenwriter would have been proud of:

A drugged Russian physicist, spirited out of the Soviet embassy in London and forced into a limousine . . . the race to the airport where a Red airliner awaited . . . alert British police surrounding the plane to prevent its departure . . . Bobbies tussling with the crew and finally rescuing the man . . . another Commie plot foiled.

The Kremlin is outraged and Downing Street is embarrassed, though still peeved at the cheeky way the Russians handled the whole affair. We trust, however, that after an exchange of diplomatically indignant notes, the Case of the Purloined Physicist will be forgotten and Anglo-Russian relations will get back to normal.

It happened like that in London the other day. Only not quite like that. Instead of a cliff-hanging Hitchcockian climax to a thrilling spy drama, it turned out to be a Foreign Office boo-boo of international proportions.

But it is comforting, even a little inspiring, to think that Her Majesty's bureaucrats would stick their stiff necks out in such a manner, risking who knows what repercussions, to rescue one individual—and a foreigner at that—whom they had reason to believe was being kidnaped by the forces of totalitarianism.

The young Russian was not a would-be defector, as the British thought. He was mentally ill and had been given a sedative, not a sinister injection. He really wanted to go back to Com-

The Malthus Theory

People do not laugh at the Rev. Thomas Robert Malthus anymore. They did laugh when the 19th century English churchman put into formal thought the proposition that population expansion would endanger the world's food supplies.

II and the rise of wholesale starvation as a major problem in an unprecedented age of prosperity are strong signs of the imbalance foreseen by Malthus.

Later generations continued laughing when agricultural advances made it possible to produce more per acre and keep ahead of population growth. Industrial nations in particular seemed perfectly capable of producing more and better food all the time.

Malthus did not limit his economic contributions to dire predictions. He also had some solutions to starvation. Emigration was one, reforms in laws which penalized poor persons was another. He pointed to education as an important factor in influencing a man not to have more children than he could reasonably support.

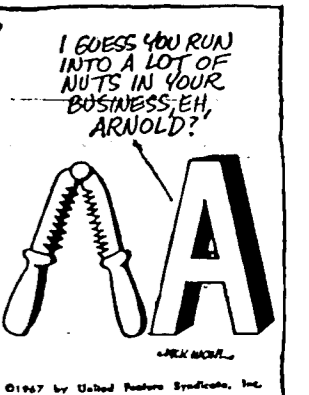

Two world wars and a number of smaller ones in the space of a half century also contributed heavily to keeping population densities down. But all that is in the past. The present doesn't look quite so smug, with countries like India on the verge of wholesale starvation and affluent countries such as the U.S. wiping out food surpluses trying to aid the less fortunate. And what of the future?

Stressing foresight, prudence and "moral restraint," Malthus linked the laws of economics with the character of man. It is an important lesson to remember in an age when easy answers are available for almost any problem.

Is the Malthusian theory that population will increase geometrically while food production increases arithmetically now being borne out? The population explosion since World War

Population and food problems will not be solved simply by recognizing the soundness of Malthusian pronouncements. But the wisdom of the ages is a frequently overlooked tool available at no cost to help tackle reoccurring man-made obstacles to a better life.

Infection Control

Q—My feet keep breaking out with little blisters. I have gone to skin specialists but nothing helps. What do you advise?

Q—My doctor says I have Raynaud's disease. The ends of my fingers get blue and painful. What causes this?

A—You probably have a ringworm infection. These infections are notoriously hard to get rid of. Control of the condition is easier if you keep your feet clean and dry. Change your stockings daily and wear open-toed shoes. The most recent solution to be used on this type of infection is tolnaftate (Tinactin), obtainable only on a doctor's prescription.

A—The cause of this disease is unknown. The victim gets attacks of spasmodic constriction in the small arteries of his fingers or toes. The spasms may be triggered by emotional stress or exposure to cold. Smoking aggravates the condition. A vitamin B-6 deficiency is sometimes a contributing cause.

Q—How can I get rid of a fungus infection in my ears?

Q—My wife has Raynaud's disease. She is taking calcium tablets and some capsules to improve her circulation. If she stops these for a few days, the attacks come back. Is there any cure for this disease?

A—These infections can be cured by using ear drops that contain crystal violet, salicylic acid or bichloride of mercury. If one doesn't work, switch to another.

A—There is no cure for it but it can be controlled. Many drugs are used to dilate the blood-vessels. Since your wife is taking one of these under supervision, I would not worry about harmful effects. If you develop, your doctor can switch to another drug. In addition to the treatment prescribed, your wife should protect her hands from the cold and use no tobacco. Some victims of Raynaud's disease of long standing are helped by cutting some of the sympathetic nerve roots. The effects of this operation, however, are not permanent.

Q—I own two dogs that I keep in the house all the time. I am told that dogs carry a fungus in their fur that causes lung infections. Is this true?

A—Fungus diseases have become a sort of bogey man lurking in every dark corner. The fungus infections of dogs and other animals are usually not infectious for man, and those that are involve the skin rather than the lungs. The only lung disease spread to man by dogs is asthma and that is not a fungus disease, but an allergy.

BRIDGE CLOSED
BOISE (AP) — The Idaho Highway Department closed to heavy vehicle traffic Monday an Idaho 13 bridge over the south fork of the Clearwater River at Harpester, 11 miles northeast of Grangeville.

Department spokesmen said the bridge was damaged when a truck crashed into it. Only passenger cars and pickup trucks were permitted over the span Monday.

BILL INTRODUCED
BOISE (AP) — A bill to limit imports of steel and iron to a fixed percentage of consumption has been introduced in the U.S. Senate, Sen. Len B. Jordan, R-Idaho, said Monday.

Jordan is a co-sponsor of the measure.

RADAR DOUBLED
BOISE (AP) — Idaho State Police are doubling use of radar speed-detection equipment in an effort to cut down on traffic deaths, the state superintendent said Monday.

Superintendent Clark Hand said excessive speed is the main cause of one-car accidents.

MINE SHUT DOWN
WALLACE, Idaho (AP) — Operations at the Hecla Co. Lucky Friday Mine were shut down today as a strike affecting 170 workers entered its second day. Negotiations were scheduled to resume today.

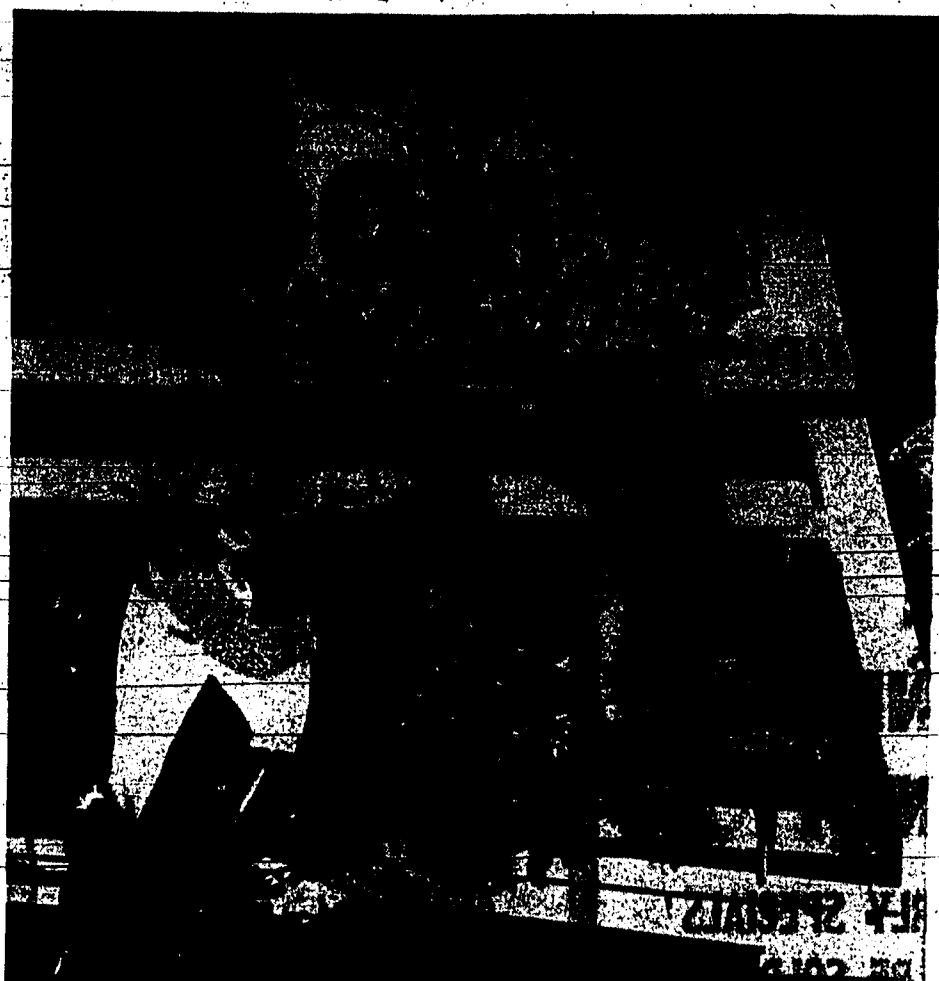

Members of the striking United Steelworkers of America carried pickets in front of the mine Monday.

The Lucky Friday is the third Hecla mine to be closed by striking Steelworkers. A total of 250 men are idled by the walkouts.

The contract for miners at the Lucky Friday plant expired Sunday at midnight.

The Steelworkers reportedly seek an increase of 80 cents an hour. The company said the union had rejected an offered 50-cent increase.

WEEK PROCLAIMED
BOISE (AP)—Lt. Gov. Jack Murphy has proclaimed this week as National Poetry week in Idaho.

MRS. MARY CHAPOT of the United States Equestrian team is thrown off her horse, White Lightning, landing behind the jump as her mount leaps over her head knocking down the jump. Mrs. Chapot's horse balked, throwing her to the ground in international jumping competition at the Pennsylvania National Horse Show in Harrisburg. She walked away only slightly injured. Officials Perplexed With Russ Position

By HENRY S. BRADSHAW
MOSCOW (AP) — Diplomats here profess perplexity about the Soviet Union's current position on how the war in Vietnam might be brought to an end.

The position seems no longer simply a matter of demanding a halt to U.S. air raids on North Vietnam, withdrawal of American forces from the South and recognition of the Viet Cong's National Liberation Front—the NLF—as the only legitimate representative of the southern people.

Possibly nothing much has changed. But the whole history of Communist leaders' careful choice of words to reflect untested policies argues against this.

One possibility is that the Soviet Union is working behind scenes to try to soften positions of the participants in the war, especially those of Washington and Hanoi, so that peace talks might be arranged.

Perhaps the most intriguing possibility is that the Soviet Union is seeking to split the Vietnam problem into two parts—stopping U.S. air raids on the North and negotiations with the NLF—to prevent Hanoi from blocking a settlement.

Some diplomats put this interpretation on the most recent statement by a Soviet leader on ending the war, Premier Alexei N. Kosygin said two weeks ago that the way to solve the Vietnam problem was to end the bombing of North Vietnam and recognize the NLF's program.

Kosygin and other Soviet leaders before and since did not restate the whole package of North Vietnamese demands or even refer directly to Hanoi's four points that summarize them. Previously they were usually mentioned in top-level Soviet speeches.

The Soviet Union has also not reacted quite so sharply to recent U.S. raids around Hanoi as it did to earlier extensions of raiding targets.

The NLF program adopted in August calls for "an independent, democratic, peaceful, neutral and prosperous South Vietnam" with eventual "reunification of Vietnam... step by step and through peaceful negotiation" between the North and South.

Splitting the Vietnam problem could open the possibility of peace talks in the South while the North simply dropped out of the war once it was no longer bombed. Diplomats here speculate that Kremlin leaders may have this in mind.

This could reduce the influence on events of Red China, an advocate of fighting on as long as necessary. The Soviet Union is assumed by diplomats here to want the war ended.

16-Member Family Needs Two Houses

DETROIT (AP) — One house was not enough for the 16-member Girard Nefcy family, so they became a two-house family.

When the family decided the bathroom backup had become unbearable, says Mrs. Nefcy, they considered an addition to their two-story brick home in northwest Detroit but were deterred by the prospect of living at a construction site.

And also, who would buy an eight-bedroom home after the children had gone?

So when neighbors across the street put their home up for sale, it took the Nefcys only about a day to decide this was the answer.

The six Nefcy teen-agers—four boys and two girls—moved in and set up a dormitory while the other youngsters have spread out in the original home.

The Nefcys say there will be no misbehavior across the street—the penalty for such conduct is being returned to headquarters.

They commute across the street for meals, and a schedule of Saturday housekeeping duties keeps both homes in shape.

"It's delightful," says Mrs. Nefcy. "Having two houses has removed a lot of the friction between the big kids and the little ones."

The strict rule for the dormitory is that no one may entertain a guest or date there. Entertaining is allowed only at the main house.

For Nefcy, a truck engineer at Ford Motor Co., the greatest advantage is noticeable every morning—the addition of 2 1/2 baths. The family also gained four bedrooms.

Until last June, Mrs. Rosebud Roberts led the typical housewife's life. Then she read a newspaper story about 700 children said to have died of hunger in Mississippi in the past year. She estimates that since then she and a handful of helpers who give talks and "go begging" to raise money, have sent some $10,000 worth of food, clothing and medical supplies from Pennsylvania to impoverished Negroes in Mississippi's Delta region.

Aside from being disinterested in civil rights activities, Mrs. Roberts says the plight of Negroes in the South has worsened because of the activities there of Dr. Martin Luther King and his followers.

"You can sing all you want and march all you want and when you're done, you still have nothing," she says.

"I don't believe in all this singing and marching around and I don't see any need for me to get involved in civil rights," she adds.

After Dr. King's voter registration drives in Mississippi, Negroes were thrown out of work and state officials used technicalities to deny them federal aid, Mrs. Roberts claims.

Mrs. Roberts, mother of a 16-year-old boy, has never seen the Delta country to which her supplies are carried. Although she spent the first 18 of her 38 years living on a farm in Georgia, she never witnessed the poverty she reads so much about.

"I thought the South was pretty nice when I lived there," she says. "The white people I knew didn't try to keep us back. In fact, I didn't know such things went on in the South until I moved to Philadelphia and read about them."

Recently, William Mathis, chairman of the Philadelphia chapter of the Congress of Racial Equality, who had gone to Mississippi to distribute the clothes and food, brought back a gravely-ill 33-year-old mother of nine, suffering from a number of diseases. Mrs. Roberts arranged for her to be treated at Lankenau Hospital. Doctors agreed to forgo their fees, but it's costing about $30 a day for room and tests. Mrs. Roberts is trying to raise the money.

After that's paid for, she plans to launch Project Hope, whereby money she raises will be used to refurbish homes which now have dirt floors and no windows, and buy land so Negro sharecroppers can become independent farmers.

Negro Mother Leads Crusade To Help Impoverished Mississippi Farmers

By PETER E. BRACKMAN
PHILADELPHIA (AP) — A Georgia-born Negro mother who doesn't take much stock in civil rights activities has led a crusade to help impoverished Negro sharecroppers in Mississippi.

Until last June, Mrs. Rosebud Roberts led the typical housewife's life. Then she read a newspaper story about 700 children said to have died of hunger in Mississippi in the past year. She estimates that since then she and a handful of helpers who give talks and "go begging" to raise money, have sent some $10,000 worth of food,

Fort Hall Man Caught After Wild Chase

JACKSON, Wyo. (AP) — A 25-year-old Fort Hall, Idaho, man identified as Thomas Louie, was being held here Monday night after a high speed chase by the Highway Patrol.

Authorities said the chase occurred after motorists had complained they had been run off the road by a speeding car.

The patrol said after Patrolman Boyd Hall had handcuffed his prisoner and strapped him down with the seat belt of the patrol car, the man kicked the patrolman, jumped out of the car and disappeared over a hill.

Hall said the man was apprehended again when Clarence Allison of Dubois, riding a horse, roped him.

reacted quite so sharply to recent U.S. raids around Hanoi as it did to earlier extensions of raiding targets.

The NLF program adopted in August calls for "an independent, democratic, peaceful, neutral and prosperous South Vietnam" with eventual "reunification of Vietnam... step by step and through peaceful negotiation" between the North and South.

Saturn Occulted By Moon Monday

NEW YORK (AP) — The ringed planet Saturn was occulted or hidden by the moon for more than an hour Monday night, a rarity that had not been seen in New York since 1951.

Hayden Planetarium astronomers said the occultation occurred above New York from 7:47 p.m. to 8:53 p.m. but cloud cover limited visibility here.

The phenomenon was also visible in areas of the United States and Canada east of the Rocky Mountains.

Clay Shaw Trial Set For February

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — The trial of Clay L. Shaw, charged with conspiracy in the assassination of President John F. Kennedy, has been set for mid-February but the defense has indicated a change of venue will be sought.

Criminal Dist. Court Judge Edward A. Haggerty chose the February trial date Monday as a compromise between the office of Dist. Atty. Jim Garrison, which asked for a speedy hearing, and the defense, which wanted a six-month delay.

A Column for Sports Fans

By Bob Reese
Coach Vince Lombardi of the Green Bay Packers coined the phrase about the men who "run for 'daylight' in the back" who make a successful football team click.

Paul Hornung and Jim Taylor were among those great Packers runners, no longer running for daylight for Green Bay. Pro ranks include some stellar replacements, though... the new breed of great runners.

Funny thing is, they're all men who have overcome handicaps. Like Leroy Kelley of Cleveland, who stepped into shoes no man could fill, those of Jimmy Brown... and did the job. Or Mike Garrett of the Kansas City Chiefs. At 5' 9", he was just too small for the pros... but he met the challenge, too, and ran for daylight.

There are others... Johnny Roland of St. Louis, rookie-of-the-year in 1966, could not run fast or bowl people over, or pass. All he could do was find that hole when yards were needed... and score... They're a great new breed... and that describes the 1968 Dodges and Chryslers, the cars that are scoring with buyers the country over. Come in, take a look and a test drive, at the cars that are running rings around all the others!

Move To Limit Imports Fought

WASHINGTON (AP) — The administration is hustling five cabinet members up to Capitol Hill Wednesday for a fight against moves to limit imports.

Protectionist sentiment has brought on proposals to limit imports of such diverse products as zinc ground fish, fur and baseball gloves.

State Department officials say more than two-fifths of U.S. imports—which totaled about $25 billion last year—would be affected if all the proposed limitations were adopted.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk will head the administration witnesses before the Senate Finance Committee. Cabinet mates Alexander B. Trowbridge of Commerce, W. Willard Wirtz of Labor, Orville L. Freeman of Agriculture and Stewart L. Udall of Interior also are listed for testimony.

So is William M. Roth, President Johnson's special representative for trade negotiations, who handled much of the dealings during the Geneva tariff talks. They ended earlier this year with agreement among principal non-Communist traders on a wide variety of tariff cuts.

The State Department said Rusk's decision to appear personally underlines the seriousness of the current protectionist threat to the continued prosperity of the American people and the foreign relations of the U.S.

Jerome Seeks State Opinion On Election

FRANK TITUS

J. S. RUSSELL

JEROME — Jerome city officials have asked the state attorney general's office for an opinion as to how winners of the two four-year terms for the city council election Nov. 7 will be selected.

Five candidates are seeking three posts and the winner of the race between Elwin L. Tinker and Frank Titus will serve the two-year term. But, according to city officials, there is some uncertainty as to how the two four-year terms will be selected.

Candidates for these two posts include Marshall Everheart, J. A. Russell and S. N. (Shorty) Weeks. Councilman Darrel Darling has decided not to seek re-election and Mr. Weeks is seeking re-election to his post. Indications are that the two candidates who poll the most votes will assume office as councilmen for the two four-year positions.

Elwin L. Tinker states, "I will strive to serve all the residents of Jerome towards greater improvements of our city with regards to keeping an eye on taxes and where and what for our money is spent."

Frank Titus said "that he would like to contribute his ability and efforts to the continuance of good city government in Jerome."

"I am under obligation to no one but the people of Jerome," said Jack Russell, adding, "I have previous experience and the necessary time to work at it."

Marshall Everheart said, "I believe the people of the city of Jerome as well as the council should receive a published agenda of the meetings."

Mr. Everheart also stated, "Only bills of a true emergency nature under suspension of rules, should be voted on until a published report is studied."

Mr. Weeks states that he "stands on his record as a conservative, has fulfilled all his campaign promises and strived to represent all of the people to the best of his ability. If reelected I will continue this fair impartial service."

Depression May Turn Into Storm
MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—A tropical depression, which could grow into the season's eighth tropical storm, was centered midway between Miami and Bermuda today, the National Hurricane Center said.

The depression was expected to drift toward the west northwest for the next 24 hours, the center said.

'Real' Masks
KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP) — Two men and two women artists here estimate they may frighten at least a million people this Halloween. With their faces, they say, they can't fall.

The foursome, designers for Hallmark cards, created Halloween "fright" masks by photographing their own faces. These are the first masks ever produced that reproduce the faces of actual people.

Equitable Savings goes far beyond insured safety in the protection of savers

Savings accounts at Equitable are, of course, insured by the Federal Savings and Loan Insurance Corporation. But, Equitable has these important additional safeguards: $280 million in assets, including more than $20 million in reserves, and the most important safeguard of all—a 76-year record of safety and sound money management. Equitable is the oldest savings and loan association in the Northwest, having served Idaho people since 1897. It is also one of the nation's strongest savings and loan organizations. Since 1890, Equitable's doors have been open every business day through seven major depressions, including the "Bank Holiday." This financial strength and insured security are the reasons over 85,000 savers throughout Idaho, Oregon, and Washington save with confidence at Equitable. Equitable's size and financial strength, plus insurance of accounts by the Federal Savings and Loan Insurance Corporation, gives each saver maximum assurance of the safety and availability of his money. You are invited to open a savings account at Equitable. Earnings are attractive: 5.10% at maturity on One-Year Savings Certificates; $1,000 (minimum) or more in multiples of $100. 4.75% current annual rate on Passbook Savings, compounded semi-annually.

Air Taxi Service Carries First Class Mail

In a move aimed at getting long distance mail to its destination sooner, the Post Office Department has done away with transporting some first class mail by railroad and gone to use of the airplanes.

Railway post office service in South Idaho ended early last Friday for first class mail, and at the present time air mail and first class mail are being sent out of Twin Falls by pilots with Reeder's Flying Service.

Packages, other classes of mail and some first class mail, when space is not available on a flight, goes by train or truck. But for the most part, the railroad is now out of the post office picture.

It's all a part of the Post Office Department's look to the future, an effort to get the mail delivered as soon as possible.

To get the mail out of South Idaho and to a point where it can be relayed to its destination, air taxi services carry the mail to and from Boise and Salt Lake City. Eastbound mail goes to Boise and westbound mail goes to Salt Lake City.

For South Idaho, two emergency authorization air taxi routes have been set up.

The services fly six days a week. One flight starts at Idaho Falls at 9:25 p.m. and goes through Pocatello bound for Salt Lake City. It returns the same way, arriving at Idaho Falls at 3:25 a.m.

The other flight by Reeder Flying Service starts at Twin Falls at 9:05 p.m. and arrives at Pocatello at 9:50 p.m. Fifteen minutes later it's on the way again, and arrives in Boise at 11:05 p.m. On the return flight, it hits Pocatello, and arrives in Twin Falls at 3:30 a.m.

The air taxi pilots meet in Pocatello to exchange mail. Reeder carries about 2,100 pounds of mail a night, according to Ken Hepner, flight manager at Reeder.

Mail to outlying areas is delivered by truck. The postman in Twin Falls still walks his duly appointed rounds. Postal officials have still not found a way to have mail delivered to house by air.

Mr. Hepner said Reeder is currently negotiating for a mail-carrying contract with the postal department and the present flights are on an emergency basis only. Twin engine planes with instrument-rated pilots are used on each mail flight out of Twin Falls, he said.

The nationwide delivery of mail has been speeded up, Fred Sanger, local postmaster, said, because mail sacks coming from Salt Lake carry mail only for unloading in the area in which it is sent. In other words, mail as it has been on the train, Mr. Sanger said it is hoped that first-class-and-air-mail letters can be delivered in the same day they are mailed from Twin Falls.

It is sorted quickly on arrival here, and is not sorted en route

Haight Changes With New Breed Of Hippie

By DICK KLEINER
SAN FRANCISCO (NEA) — The Haight — that's what the hippies call it — is changing. Everybody agrees on that. Only thing is, there's a big difference of opinion about how and why. Bells around the neck, beads around the ankles. They tinkle as they walk, slowly, aimlessly up and down, up and down.

The Haight-Ashbury district is very small. Only about five blocks long through Haight Street, across the main intersections of Ashbury and Masonic. It's an old section, a section which used to be prim and proper and solidly middleclass. Then came the hippies, turning it into Greenwich Village West. Flowers. A yellow zinnia tucked into a beard. A red carnation behind an ear. A pink hibiscus clutched in a dirty hand. The flower children, they're called, and some of them try to live up to the name.

The old-timers didn't mind it at first. A few oddballs added spice to the neighborhood. But lately the variety of oddball is changing. The place became nationally popular and attracted the dissidents, the angry, the disenchanting, the rebels from all over. Pets. They walk along, leading dogs on ropes, dogs of all shapes and sizes, mostly dogs who are not up on such niceties as curbing. They like animals and they have pet mice and rats who cling to their shoulders and they carry caged birds.

Haight Street 20 years moved away. Old ladies who had spent their lives on Haight Street moved away. They were abandoning The Haight to the hippies. Hippie merchants took over the stores, selling beads and posters and baby rats. Hippies piled into the old houses, six or seven to a room. They hawk the hippie newspapers to the tourists driving by. "Read all about the geeks." "Read all about love." "Buy a paper, baby." "Read all about the Haight."

Tomcat Is Honored In South Africa

PORT ELIZABETH, South Africa (AP) — A white and ginger tomcat, which saved the lives of two young Port Elizabeth children by attacking a cobra ready to strike, was awarded a medal for valor by the Eastern Province Cat Club at its championship show.

Leoloe, the cat, was lying in the shade of a tree at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Boetie Grassman, in suburban Westering, while their son Frederick, 6, and daughter Jennifer, 4, were playing in the garden.

Suddenly a five-foot-cobra slithered between the children. Jennifer tried to kill the snake by stamping on it. She stood on its tail and the cobra reared for attack.

Leoloe, seeing the danger, leapt up and charged the snake. Swiftly the cat pounced on the cobra, biting it behind its hood. The children dashed into the house to call their father.

The snake eluded the cat and headed after the children. Once more the cat attacked, preventing the snake from chasing the children. The cat kept the snake at bay until Grassman came from the house and killed it with a stick. The excitement over, the cat strode back to the tree and calmly went back to sleep.

Mrs. A.M. Henderson, president of the Eastern Province Cat Club, said the bravery of the cat had been brought to her attention. The committee agreed to make its first award for bravery to the cat.

Sen. Percy Says LBJ Has Lack Of Trust

BOSTON (AP) — Sen. Charles Percy, R-Ill., accused President Johnson Monday night of having "lack of confidence, lack of trust and lack of honesty."

Percy flew in from Washington to address 1,450 women attending the 15th annual Eastern Republican Women's Conference.

"Any combination of leading Republicans" can defeat President Johnson next year, Percy said. He listed Richard Nixon, George Romney, Nelson Rockefeller and Ronald Reagan as possibilities for the nomination, but declined to state his preference.

Percy told the crowd President Johnson had said before U.S. troops in Korea that his great-great-grandfather fell at the Alamo. The senator added, "not a shred of truth can be found" to support that statement.

Touching on Vietnam in comments to newsmen before his speech, Percy said he favored a negotiated settlement that would be honorable. He added the United States should make sure of international guarantees against a possible "bloodbath" against South Vietnamese who supported us before considering a withdrawal from Vietnam.

Dear Abby

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN
DEAR ABBY: My problem concerns my best friend, Agnes. She named her baby "Ricky," after my husband. Maybe I'd better start at the beginning. Agnes was always crazy about Ricky, in fact they went together before Ricky met me. It turned out that Ricky liked me better, so they broke up, and Agnes married Doug. (she went with Doug before she went with Ricky.) First Agnes and Doug got married, then Ricky and I got married, and Ricky had to go to Vietnam.

Well, two months ago Agnes had a baby boy and she named him RICKY! (To make matters worse, she calls him "Little Ricky.") People are wondering if maybe my husband isn't the baby's father. Poor Ricky is in Vietnam and can't defend himself. Doug either doesn't care or he's so dumb he doesn't know the difference. What should I do about it?

RICKY'S WIFE

DEAR WIFE: There is nothing you can do about it. There are lots of "Ricky's" in the world. Maybe she just liked the name. At least she didn't name him "Ricky Jr."

DEAR ABBY: Could you please tell me how to fight blackmail? Once I went with a friend on vacation. He took some pictures of me which are unclean and very suggestive. At the time I was very fond of him so I didn't mind.

Since then, our love has faded and he isn't the wonderful man I thought he was. Now he is holding the threat over my head that he will show the pictures around and ruin my reputation if I don't give him money when his finances are low.

I have given him quite a bit of money already, but he keeps coming around asking for more. Don't tell me I never should have let such a thing happen. The question is, what can I do about it now?

NO NAME PLEASE

DEAR NO NAME: See a lawyer. Better to pay him once to protect you from a blackmailer than to pay a blackmailer forever to protect your reputation.

DEAR ABBY: Why must adults feel compelled to comment on the size of a child? Church people are the worst offenders. In my case, it's "My, how TALL we are!" I have daughters who are very tall for their ages. (I am tall and so is my husband.) It is as cruel to mention a girl's height as it is to comment on her blemished complexion. In fact, it's more cruel to mention height, because medication and cosmetics can improve a girl's skin, but she can't cut her legs off.

I know how my daughters must feel because I had the same problem when I was a girl. I can recall as many as a dozen remarks about my height on one single Sunday while leaving church. It got so that I used to hurry as I left the church to get to the family car before the rest of the con-

Miss Pickel, Hayes Exchange Nuptial Vows

HANSEN — Virginia Pickel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Pickel, Hansen, became the bride of Rick Hayes, son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Hayes, Hansen, in rites Sept. 9 at the Kimberly LDS Church.

Bishop Edwin Crockett performed the ceremony before a setting of baskets of pink and white carnations.

Frank Keller was soloist, accompanied by Mrs. Cecil Stanger.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a street-length dress of white lace over taffeta. Her shoulder-length veil was held by a crown of seed pearls. She carried a bouquet of white carnations accented with pink rosebuds accented with pink streamers. She carried an heirloom handkerchief belonging to her great-grandmother.

Maid of honor was Gail Pickel, sister of the bride. Rev. Kalsner, served as best man, with Henry Keyes and Randy Hayes as ushers.

A reception was held after the ceremony at the church. Julie McEwen, cousin of the bride, registered the guests and Carolyn Jennings and Delores Jennings arranged the gifts. Rene McEwen and Frieda McEwen carried the gifts.

The bride's table was covered with white and centered with a three-tiered wedding cake enhanced with pink roses and topped with pink wedding bells.

Presiding at the bride's table were Mrs. Shirley McEwen, Mrs. Phillip McEwen and Mrs. Donald McEwen, aunts of the bride.

The couple will reside in Kimberly, where the bridegroom is engaged in farming with his father. The bride is employed in the business office of the Times-News Publishing Co.

Budget Move Met With Little Satisfaction

By EDMOND LOBRETON
WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Appropriations Committee's move toward a $2.85 billion budget cut apparently has satisfied neither Republican critics of the Johnson administration nor Democrats who say the price of a tax increase is a deep spending slash. Chairman Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., whose Ways and Means Committee shelved President Johnson's tax boost proposal two weeks ago, declined direct comment on the Appropriations Committee action. But he said he has no plans to reconvene the Ways and Means Committee to consider tax legislation. Mills has said the House would not pass a tax increase bill without spending cuts between $5 billion and $10 billion—and perhaps not even then. Rep. Frank T. Bow of Ohio, senior Republican member of the Appropriations Committee, said in an interview he'll still try on the House floor to win adoption of a $5 billion spending cut.

The Appropriations Committee rewrote an emergency financing bill Monday to direct a $2.85 billion cut in federal spending—about $1.4 billion of it in the current fiscal year.

Bow lost on a party-line vote when he tried in committee for a $5 billion cut all in the current year. But he said "I think we might win on a close vote" when he renews his fight Wednesday during House consideration of the bill.

Original purpose of the bill was to grant once more interim spending authority to government agencies whose appropriations for the budget year that began July 1 still haven't been approved by Congress.

Bow said the committee budget cut "is a step in the right direction but it still doesn't do enough."

The committee bill would require a 5 per cent payroll cut for federal executive agencies to absorb without extra funds the $625 million pay increase now pending, and cut research spending 10 per cent. Exceptions are made for Vietnam and other urgent spending.

Bow and other Republicans want a much deeper slash in actual expenditures to reduce the prospective budget deficit. Some Republicans say also they may attempt to extend the reduction in government payroll funds to the employees of Congress and the judiciary.

The Appropriations Committee said the restriction would eliminate about 110,000 government jobs, but there would be few if any firings since turnover is heavy and positions could be left unfilled.

Rep. Frank T. Bow of Ohio, senior Republican member of the Appropriations Committee, said in an interview he'll still try on the House floor to win adoption of a $5 billion spending cut.

Romney Accepts Invitation To Amplify Charges That He Was "Brainwashed"

WASHINGTON (AP) — Michigan Gov. George Romney has accepted a congressional invitation to amplify charges he was "brainwashed" by U.S. military and diplomatic leaders in South Vietnam.

"I believe a full congressional review would be very appropriate," Romney said Monday in accepting by letter the invitation of Chairman Wayne L. Hays, D-Ohio, of the House foreign operations subcommittee.

Romney generated a political furor recently with his charge he was "brainwashed" during a visit to Saigon in 1965. He later explained he felt military and diplomatic sources failed to give him an accurate picture of the war's progress.

No date has been set for any appearance by Romney before the House panel.

U.S. programs of aid to South Vietnamese civilian victims of the war came under attack meanwhile from Chairman Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., at a Senate Judiciary subcommittee hearing. Kennedy, whose panel has probed care of civilians affected by the war, said: "The job just isn't getting done."

William S. Gaud, administrator for the Agency for International Development, which handles the civilian care program, responded to Kennedy's statement: "For heaven's sake, I haven't said or intend to say this program is being operated 100 per cent perfectly, but I do say there has been improvement."

In other Vietnam-related developments: The New Zealand Embassy in Washington said the nation will send a second infantry company of 170 men to serve in South Vietnam.

Australian Prime Minister Harold Holt announced in Canberra that his nation would increase its troop strength in South Vietnam from 6,300 to more than 8,000 men.

Sen. Vance Hartke, D-Ind., urged his colleagues in a Senate speech to study proposals made in an article by former White House aide Theodore Sorensen. In his first public statement on the war, Sorensen urged an indefinite suspension of U.S. bombing of North Vietnam.

A petition asking clemency for three soldiers imprisoned for refusing Vietnam service was presented at the White House by a small delegation. The White House had no comment on the appeal in behalf of Pfc. James Johnson and Pvt. Dennis More and David Samas, currently serving terms at the federal military prison at Ft. Leavenworth, Kans.

Former Rep. Walter Judd, a Minnesota Republican, told newsmen he gave President Johnson an optimistic report on Vietnam. But Judd also told reporters outside the White House "Our zeal for negotiation is reducing our chances of getting it."

Welsh Village Lashed By Rain, Gales

LONDON (AP) — Rain and gales lashed Britain throughout the night and early today it appeared the worst-hit spot was the Welsh village of Aberfan, near the first anniversary of a coal sludge disaster that killed 24 persons.

More than 350 men, women and children were evacuated from their homes when the Taff River burst its banks and swept into two Aberfan streets. But a mine engineer said there was no danger that the rain would weaken the huge piles of mine wastes overlooking the village and start another disastrous slide.

Emergency services were rushed into Aberfan, and coaches carried the evacuees to schools on high ground to spend the rest of the night. Between 50 and 60 houses, some flooded to a depth of six feet, were emptied.

It was feared an onrush of water would engulf the houses in a bend of the river.

Last Oct. 21, a towering pile of mine waste, undermined by a rain and a swollen underground stream, slid onto the village. It buried a school and houses and killed 116 children and 28 adults.

Elsewhere in Britain, the first severe storm of the autumn blacked out power links and endangered shipping.

Parts of the city of Birmingham were flooded. Eight families were evacuated at Nantyllyn, Wales, when a culvert burst. Bus passengers at Mountain Ase were rescued by boat from a flooded road.

Thousands of houses in Hampshire were darkened when power lines snapped.

Strikes Causing Drop In Output

WASHINGTON (AP) — Strikes in the auto, copper and steel-making industries caused the biggest drop in U.S. industrial output in seven months, says the Federal Reserve Board.

Knoll Grange Committees Appointed

Committees for the Knoll Grange were appointed at a recent grange meeting, it was announced Tuesday.

Serving on the agriculture committee will be Carl Davis, George Benham, Leslie Jones and Gene Hull. Legislative, Kenneth Park, Sherman Knauss, Franklin Sharp and R. B. Moore. Resolution, Elmer Dosssett, Bryan Platt and Thad McCullough, and building and grounds committee, T. M. Knight, Elmer Annis, John Gibson and Albert Cederbury.

Relief, Mrs. Carl Davis, Mrs. Elmer Annis, Mrs. Warren Williams and Mrs. Leslie Jones. Youth, Mrs. Glen Dosssett, Robert Rowe and Mrs. Ted Triple. Membership, Mr. and Mrs. Glen Dosssett, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Rowe, and Mr. and Mrs. Glen Debban.

The home economics committee is planning to have a birthday party each quarter for those having birthdays, it was also announced at the meeting. The next meeting will be open, with a Halloween party. Each family is to bring a pumpkin pie, and prizes will be given for the best mask worn.

At the same time, however, the Commerce Department reported a 3.8 per cent upward spurt in home building to an annual rate of 1.48 million units, highest in 21 months.

3 Demo Congressmen Heap Criticism On Administration

SALT LAKE CITY (AP) — Three Democratic congressmen Monday heaped criticism on a Johnson administration proposal of a 10 per cent cut back in federal highway assistance to the states.

The three spoke at the opening of the 53rd annual convention of the American Association of State Highway Officials in Salt Lake City.

House Public Works Committee Chairman George H. Fallon, D-Md., called the suggested trim "a body blow to the federal-state partnership concept."

"This kind of unilateral action will ultimately lead to a demand from the states that the federal aid program be abandoned," said Fallon, author of the 1956 Highway Act which established the current Interstate system.

Sen. Jennings Randolph, D-W.Va., Senate Public Works Committee chairman, said highway construction in big city ghettos "was a serious point of complaint" in the summer's rioting.

The chairman of the House Subcommittee on Roads, John C. Kluczynski, D-Ill., told the more than 1,000 state highway officials, "Last year we were facing a freeze on highway funds when you met. This year we're facing the prospect of one."

"The plain fact is that cutting highway construction funds won't improve the federal deficit situation by a single dime," Kluczynski said.

Rep. James C. Cleveland, R-N.H., a member of the House roads subcommittee, also spoke and called the proposal "an obvious sledgehammer tactic to bludgeon the Congress into passing the tax surcharges the President

Bicycle Safety Program Is Being Conducted At Burley

BURLEY—The Bicycle Safety Program is under way for Cassia County. Sponsoring the program are Cassia County PTA Council, Veterans of Foreign Wars and State Jaycees. Endorsing the program in Cassia County are Ray G. Mitchell, Cassia County Sheriff; George Warrell, Burley Chief of Police; Carl Burt, Department of Law Enforcement, Boise; Mrs. Annjean Scholer, Cassia County Extension Homemakers. Fluorescent tapes are to be placed on each bicycle in the country, two red and two white. The tapes have been donated by the Veterans of Foreign Wars for the bicycle safety program. All bicycles are to be inspected by persons sponsoring the program. A certificate of merit for bicycle safety will be awarded to the bike owner after the owner has completed a bicycle safety course. It is the hope of the groups sponsoring the program that all bicycles in Cassia county will be checked, and receive the safety tapes and the certificate of merit.

Soviet Craft Won't Take Moon Photos

MOSCOW (AP) — A top Soviet scientist said today a Soviet unmanned spaceship scheduled to reach Venus Wednesday will not take any photographs of the planet, but he left open the possibility of an attempted soft-landing. Asked at a news conference whether the Venus 4 spaceship will attempt such a soft-landing, Mstislav V. Keldysh, president of the Soviet Academy of Sciences, did not answer directly but commented: "The main task is the study of the atmosphere. It is impossible to be sure that everything will go in such a way that it will be possible to land softly." He was asked if the probe, which is scheduled to reach the cloud-wrapped planet at 12:30 a.m. EDT, will try to radio information to earth from Venus despite fears by some scientists that heavy radiation around Venus would interfere with such radio transmissions. "Of course," he said, "difficulties about the atmosphere exist, but the apparatus is designed to overcome difficulties." The probe was launched June 12.

3 Area Couples Named To Serve College Of Idaho

CALDWELL — Three area couples have been named to the board of directors of the College of Idaho Parents' Association, it was announced Tuesday. Serving will be Mr. and Mrs. A. K. Dodds, Kimberly, and Mr. and Mrs. Richard S. High and Mr. and Mrs. Frank DeLuca, all of Twin Falls. They will serve with 37 other people on the board of directors and will act as an advisory group for the association's activities at the college.

Youth Jailed After Wife, Infants Shot

GRANGER, Utah (AP) — One infant was shot to death Monday and another critically wounded in a shooting spree at their grandmother's Granger home. The grandmother also was shot. The Salt Lake County sheriff's department said Keith Haggard, 17, was jailed shortly after the shootings. He was described as the estranged husband of the babies' 20-year-old mother. The dead infant, Michael Haggard, 2½ months, was found shot through the head in a recreation room at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. K. Foulger. A twin sister, Michaelle Kay, was in critical condition in a Salt Lake City hospital following brain surgery. Mrs. Foulger was hospitalized in fair condition with a bullet wound in the shoulder. Deputy Ferris D. Andrus said a gunman entered the Foulger home Monday while the children's mother, Cheryl Haggard, was shopping. Andrus said the man fired at Mrs. Foulger, who was holding Michelle. The baby was hit in the head. The bullet also penetrated Mrs. Foulger's shoulder. Mrs. Foulger ran for help. When officers arrived they found the boy in the recreation room, shot in the head. The youth was arrested at a service station.

Appointments To T. F. Airport Commission Told

Three appointments to the Twin Falls Airport Commission were approved Monday night by the Twin Falls City Council. On recommendation of Mayor Egon Kroll, the council named John Roper, who was serving the unexpired term of the late Lionel Dean, to continue for a full term. Kenneth Hepner of Reeder Flying Service was named to represent airport interests and to replace Ronald Masoner. Armour Anderson was appointed to fill the term vacated by Lowell Willis. All of the men will serve four-year terms.

Family Planning Has Some Success

SUVA, Fiji (AP) — The Fiji Family Planning Association reported some success in its efforts to reduce this colony's high birth rate. It said in its annual report that attendances at the British colony's family planning clinics were good in 1966 when the birth rate was 34.87 per 1,000 of population. Ten years ago the rate was 41.91.

Six Idahoans Will Attend Heart Meet

Six Idaho men will be attending the Annual Meeting and Scientific Sessions of the American Heart Association Thursday through Tuesday in San Francisco, according to Dr. Roy O. Shaub, Twin Falls, state president. Attending will be Dr. Robert E. Hay, Nampa, president-elect of the Idaho Heart Association; Donald L. Harris, Caldwell, chairman of the Heart Board of Directors; Dr. William D. Forney, Boise, past president of the Idaho Heart Association, and staff members, Ray H. Willy, executive director, and A. D. Kelly and Robert Hill, field directors.

Dr. Shaub said the six men will be among 6,000 physicians, research scientists, nurses and lay leaders expected to attend the session. Newest developments in a nationwide effort to control and conquer diseases of the heart and blood vessels will be discussed. These types of diseases account for more than half of the nation's deaths, Dr. Shaub noted.

Policeman Talks Against Owing Guns

NEW YORK (AP) — "There should be no right to possess a gun of any sort in 20th Century New York City," says former Police Commissioner Vincent L. Broderick. Broderick said at a public hearing at City Hall Monday that he believes no one except policemen, members of the armed forces and other persons required to carry guns should have the right — constitutional or otherwise — to possess any kind of a gun in the city. He said that local legislation to restrict sales of rifles and shotguns, now being considered by the City Council, does not go far enough. He said the idea that there is a "right" to own rifles or shotguns is "all wrong."

Drug Usage Is Soaring In Seattle

SEATTLE (AP) — The use of heroin and other "hard drugs" is soaring in Seattle, especially among teen-agers. The Seattle Times reported Monday. The Times said heroin may be easier for a teen-ager to buy here than a six pack of beer. The article, latest in a series on drug use among young people in the area near the University of Washington, said that "dealers today have trouble keeping up with the demand for morphine. Opium is coming up strong." The Seattle Police Department confirmed that drug use is much worse here than a year ago. A police spokesman said the use of marijuana has increased far more than the use of "hard drugs." The Times article said that dealers are diluting pure heroin to make an estimated 8,000 per cent profit. Cases of drug substitution also were reported, and the reporters, Robin Yeager and Don Duncan, said they encountered one first-hand when they bought some marijuana for $20 as part of their investigation. "It wasn't marijuana," they wrote. "It wasn't opium either. The best guess of experts was that it was catnip, which can get a smoker 'high' but leaves him awfully sick."

GROPPi, left, a Roman Catholic priest leading Milwaukee's open housing movement, rests on the shoulder of Lawrence Friend, a member of the Youth Council of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People. Compromise Unit Created To Break Open Housing Deadlock

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP) — A compromise committee of aldermen and citizens was created Monday night in the Common Council's first official move to break an open housing deadlock that has persisted through 50 consecutive nights of Negro demonstrations.

The creation of the 11-member committee weighted 6-5 in favor of open housing advocates was called the "first ray of hope" by Alderman Vel Phillips, the only Negro member of the 19-member Milwaukee Common Council.

The action came after a six-hour hearing before the council's judiciary committee. The hearing, which drew more than 600 persons, focused on proposals to end the impasse, including a new version of a Mrs. Phillips-backed ordinance rejected four times in the past.

The committee rejected a measure offered by Mayor Henry Maier that would have Milwaukee adopt an open housing code contingent on enactment of similar codes in at least 14 of the city's suburbs.

The Rev. James E. Groppi, a white Roman Catholic priest who has led the Milwaukee Youth Council of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People in nightly marches since late August, declined comment on the compromise plan.

After it was announced, the youth council held a two-hour meeting, then resumed demonstrations for another night.

Mrs. Phillips, the only alderman ever to vote for a Milwaukee open housing law, was named to the special committee along with four of her council colleagues. Five of six citizen members of the panel will be chosen by groups already on record in favor of Mrs. Phillips' ordinance.

Milwaukee has been the scene of sporadic violence since the marches began.

Its Negro population of more than 86,000 is clustered for the most part in the city's Inner Core, a sprawling five-mile belt that begins on the near North Side. Few Negro families live elsewhere in Milwaukee and less than 70 Negro families live in the score of suburbs ring the city.

Prayers Cost

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP) — Charleston paid $225 for prayers last fiscal year.

The city's financial report shows that the city government paid $12.50 each for 18 prayers at city council meetings during the 12-month period.

A total of 21 council meetings are held in a year — which indicates six sessions either had no prayers, or a half-dozen ministers refused to accept the fee they are paid for praying.

DECISION HIT TOKYO (AP) — The Peking People's Daily said today that Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara's decision to construct an electronic barrier between North and South Vietnam is a foolish act.

Casualties Inflated 40 Per Cent

WASHINGTON (NEA) — An administrative error has inflated the report of U. S. casualties in Vietnam to 100,000. Actually, when judged by the standards of World War II and Korea the figure should be 40 per cent less.

Thus the actual figure for Vietnam killed and wounded is closer to 60,000. Of these, about 13,000 are dead.

The error, according to a high-ranking information officer, resulted from a decision four years ago — when U. S. participation in Vietnam was light — to count anyone receiving the Order of the Purple Heart as wounded.

The services award the Purple Heart for virtually any wound, no matter how superficial. Secretary of Defense McNamara has already revealed that more than half the 80,000 reported wounded did not require hospitalization.

In many cases, it is now revealed, the medal was given to soldiers who received minor flesh wounds, were bandaged by a corpsman at the front and never left their units. Thus a man who received three scratches and three medals automatically ran up three more casualties in the accounting system the services were stuck with.

The situation came to light when the World Almanac and Book of Facts sought accurate casualty figures for its 1968 centennial edition.

A senior official now reveals that perhaps half of the 40,000 reported "wounded" were at all times carried on unit rolls as "present, fit for duty."

"A man carried 'present and fit for duty' and for whom rations are being drawn on a daily basis cannot be considered a casualty in any sense of the word, even though the serviceman might have been awarded a Purple Heart 15 minutes earlier for a scratch treated by a company aid man," the officer said.

"In the early days of the Vietnam involvement," the officer said, "we started passing out Purple Hearts for cuts and scratches which would never have qualified a man for one

"Because of the nature of the war in Vietnam, we do not have clear-cut lines of medical evacuation," the officer said. "Hence, the Purple Heart has been awarded at lower echelons than previously."

Luman Long, editor of The World Almanac, has offered the Department of Defense a solution to its dilemma.

Long proposes that the Defense Department, in issuing casualty reports, classify casualties with an additional category — "superficially wounded, combat effectiveness not impaired." The men of the latter category could still be awarded Purple Hearts "for military merit" but they would not be carried as casualties, thus inflating the figure of out Vietnam war losses.

Area Toastmistress Meet Set At Burley

BURLEY — Mrs. Esther Corrigan, Spokane, Wash., Snake River Regional Supervisor, will be guest speaker during a luncheon meeting of Council Seven Toastmistress Club Saturday at Ponderosa Inn.

Registration will be from 12:30 to 1 p.m. and lunch will be served at 1 p.m. followed by Council Seven Toastmistress meeting. Reservations are to be made for luncheon with Mrs. T. Wayne Woodland, Burley.

A Parliamentary Law Workshop will be conducted by Mrs. Corrigan, a registered parliamentarian who teaches parliamentary law. At present she is second vice-president of the Washington State Association of Parliamentarians. In 1962 she joined the Toastmistress Club at Spokane, and this spring was elected Toastmistress Supervisor for Snake River Region.

Other Snake River Regional Officers who will attend the Council Seven Toastmistress meeting are Mrs. Grace Hillmer, secretary, Pocatello, and Mrs. Olin Baker, treasurer, Burley.

Council Seven Toastmistress members are from Twin Falls, Jerome and Cassia Counties.

Officers of Council Seven Toastmistress are Mrs. LePage Layton, Burley, chairman; Mrs. Douglas Volimer, vice-president, Magic Club, Twin Falls; and Mrs. John Burkhardt, treasurer, Twin Falls Club.

A new council secretary will be named during the meeting Saturday to replace Edith Narcolas, Jerome, who resigned because of illness of her father.

Council parliamentarian is Mrs. LeRoy Arrington, Twin Falls; Mrs. Ellis Fuller, Twin Falls, is serving as council membership stabilization chairman, and Mrs. Sterling Larsen, Twin Falls, is the council speech contest chairman.

The Council Seven Toastmistress luncheon meeting is hosted by Burley Toastmistress Club.

in Korea or World War II.

"As the number of our people out there increased, the policy continued and the incidence of minor abrasions grew and our casualty rate — on paper — snowballed."

"Our dilemma is that we do not want to discredit the men who have served honorably and come home with valid Purple Hearts," he said. "But at the same time, we have been giving the American people and the enemy a seriously exaggerated picture of our losses."

The Marine Corps recently was reported to have stopped giving Purple Hearts for minor wounds. However, Marine spokesmen here deny there has been any change in policy.

Marines who are awarded three of the decorations while fighting in the northern sector of Vietnam are eligible for transfer out of Vietnam.

"The Purple Heart is America's oldest military decoration, having been established by George Washington. The medal itself bears only the inscription, 'for military merit.'"

It was not issued in World War I, but was revived by an act of Congress after that war and issued retroactively to all men wounded in the 1917-18 conflict.

Since then it has been awarded for wounds or injury received as a result of enemy action requiring medical attention. In World War II and Korea this usually meant evacuation from the man's unit at least to the division clearing company or field hospital.

Today's Market and Financial Report

Stocks

2:30 P.M. SUMMARY - NEW YORK (AP) - The stock market cut its losses late this afternoon amid reports that Ford and the United Auto Workers may be ready to push for a settlement of the auto strike. Trading was active. The Dow Jones industrial average slashed a 6-point deficit to less than 2 and many issues made strong recoveries. Losers still outnumbered gainers. Avco, off 1, paced the list on volume. Polaroid responded to record earnings by running up a dozen points. Control Data gained 8 and Occidental Petroleum 5, aided by its Libyan oil discovery. Ford held about unchanged but General Motors showed a gain of about a point. Gulf & Western Industries was active and ahead more than 2. Steels, rubbers, rails and farm implements remained generally lower. Aluminum stocks were lower on report of price weakness in the industry. Prices were mostly lower on the American Stock Exchange.

Grain

CHICAGO (AP) - Progressive liquidation sent most grain futures prices lower in moderate dealings on the Chicago Board of Trade today. Prices opened on a mostly irregular tone then weakened within an hour when the liquidation got under way. Trade was mixed with all facets on both sides of the activity. Estimated carlot receipts were wheat 13, corn 72, oats 1, rye none, barley 8 and soybeans 8.

Gunmen Shot In Battle With Police

SEATTLE (AP) - Two masked gunmen were shot, one fatally, in a pistol battle with police as they tried to flee after robbing a jewelry store Tuesday. Authorities said Walter Joseph Sykes, 46, Seattle, was shot to death. They identified the wounded man as Herman Archibald Burns, 44, Seattle. He was in critical condition with chest and leg wounds. Five officers saw the men enter the Harry Kid Matthews Tavern in downtown Seattle, wearing sunglasses and pulling on stocking masks. The back door of the tavern they were confronted by three officers. Patrolman W. D. Hatterson said: "I yelled, 'Hold it, police officers,' and the big guy (Sykes) started to raise his pistol. I fired. He fired back, and everybody fired." The officers recovered a sack containing more than $500.

The Daily Investor

By WILLIAM A. DOYLE. Q. I, too, intend to sell my home and invest the money for retirement income. So, I was most interested in the column in which you explained that a person 65 or older does not have to pay tax on the so-called "protected" sale of his home, if the selling price is less than $20,000. I hope to enjoy my 65th birthday in September, 1968. Can I sell the house at any time that year and still be eligible for the tax savings? Or, do I have to wait until the exact date of the birthday? I had in mind selling in the spring. In order to use this provision of the Federal tax code, you must be 65 or older when the house is sold. In other words, you can change the sale beforehand but the closing date for the actual passing of title (ownership) from you to the new owner must be on or after your 65th birthday. "This should not be a problem for you. If you sell your home up for sale, you can find a buyer right away. You can date your lawyer's closing the sale contract to draw up the title which will pass on a certain date - after you reach the age of 65. The simple precaution of timing the closing date back to save you tax dollars. If the "adjusted selling price" of your home is $20,000 or less, you pay no tax at all on the profit. The adjusted selling price is the total sales price, minus all expenses - commissions, fees and such. The profit is the difference between your "cost basis" (purchase price, plus all improvements) and the adjusted selling price. Normally that profit would be taxable as a long-term capital gain. And if the adjusted selling price is more than $20,000, part of your profit still escapes tax - in the ratio that $20,000 bears to the adjusted sales price. This is a fairly complicated formula. So, you had better have an accountant work it out for you. It must be pointed out that this is a once-in-a-lifetime tax thing for people 65 or older. It has been effective only since 1965 and is some small recognition, in the Federal tax code, of inflation. When old folks sell their homes they get more dollars than they paid. But those dollars buy a great deal less. The "profits" are mostly illusory. Q. What is the real difference between Series E, U.S. Savings Bonds, and the new "Freedom Savings Bonds"? I have been told that the latter are only available to individuals who buy E bonds. True or false? A. True. You can buy "Freedom Shares" (the proper name) only when you also buy Series E bonds through either a Payroll-Savings Plan where you work or a Bond-a-Month Plan where you bank. When you buy an E bond through either of those steady methods, you can buy a Freedom Share of the same size. But, while you can put up to $15,000 into E bonds each year, the annual limitation on purchases of Freedom shares is $1,350. Other than that, the basic difference is that Freedom Shares pay higher interest than E bonds. With either type you buy at one price and redeem (cash in) at a higher price. The difference between the two prices is accrued (built up) interest. The E bonds now accrue interest at an average annual rate of 7 1/2 per cent, when held to maturity. And the E bonds now being issued reach their first maturity in seven years. So, if you buy an E bond for $75 now, you'll get $100 for it in seven years. Freedom Shares, on the other hand, accrue interest at an average annual rate of 4.74 per cent and mature in four and a half years. So, if you buy a Freedom Share for $75 now, you'll get $100 for it in four years, six months.

Business Mirror

By JOHN CUNIFF AP Business Analyst. NEW YORK (AP) - The stock market now is emitting airs that are vaguely, disturbingly familiar, like the notes of an old melody that haunts because we cannot recall the words or the time or place we heard them. The words are these: I. Speculation is rising; 2. Volume is continuing to increase; 3. Borrowing to purchase stocks is at a very high level. In the background, can be heard a chorus of confidence that tomorrow is just another day of higher stock prices. This, after all, has been the exultant mood of the market through much of the 1960s. Many people will remember the optimistic chorus being sung as far back as the Roaring Twenties and as recently as 1961, the beginning of the Soaring Sixties. In both instances the chorus was the prelude to more sober music. Others, however, will not hear. Inevitably, there is a quota that is intelligent but uninformed, careless, overly subjective or otherwise with some defect or weakness. The latest evidence that the stock market, as with the entire economy, may not be in the healthiest stage of its existence came with the announcement of customer debt, a key indicator of speculative activity. In September, the New York Stock Exchange said, the margin debt of member firm customers rose 3.2 per cent over the previous month to a record $5.78 billion. Margin debt is the money borrowed by a customer from a broker in order to purchase stock. The requirements now are at a maximum of 70 per cent cash, meaning the customer may borrow the remaining 30 per cent from his broker. This total of $5.78 billion, large as it is, still represents as little as 70 per cent of the purchase price, so the total of stocks now held partially on borrowed money is certainly closer to $10 billion. This current debt is the result of 780,000 margin accounts, some $85,000 more than just one year ago and 10,000 more than one month earlier. "It could possibly go to the jury late today," Buckley said. "But I doubt it. The jury will probably get the case Wednesday morning." Buckley said the defense could have finished Monday, but the battery of 12 attorneys decided at a weekend meeting to put additional witnesses on the stand. There were 57 witnesses called during a seven-hour session Monday. Before the weekend break, the defense marched 40 witnesses to the stand. Two Negroes told the all-white seven-member jury that they saw the Klan leader, W. M. Hollaway Bowers was "a good man." J. C. Powe and Arnie Coleman both gave that description of the Klan leader. Mrs. Coleman added, "and he's a very nice person." The witnesses fell in one of two categories: alibi or character. Witnesses gave 13 of the 18 defendants alibis for the night of the slaying in Neshoba County on June 21, 1964. Mrs. Marie Canoy Taken By Death. BUHL - Mrs. Marie E. Canoy, 78, died Monday afternoon at the Harrah Nursing Home of an extended illness. Cement Truck Damaged In Train Crash

RUPERT - Some $3,000 damage resulted to a 1960 International truck with bulk cement trailer when it was struck by a Union Pacific engine on the 24th Street crossing on Highway 8 in Rupert at 3:58 p.m. Monday. Clyde N. Coates, 37, Rupert, driver of the truck owned by Bishop Red-Mix Co., of which he is manager, was back at work Tuesday, apparently no worse for the mishap, although he was pinned in the cab after the collision. Rupert police said the truck was struck on the right side of the trailer by Engine No. 251, a double unit engine with several cars. William Mealer, 62, Rupert, was the engineer. Police said the cement trailer overturned onto its side, dragging the unit 75 feet and causing the cab to overturn onto its side. Mr. Coates was freed from the cab by passersby. Damage to the train engine was not reported.

Yastrzemski, Lonborg, Cepeda And McCarver Named To All-Star Team

By BEN OLAN
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Outfielder Carl Yastrzemski, the American League's triple crown winner, and right-handed pitcher Jim Lonborg of Boston plus first baseman Orlando Cepeda and catcher Tim McCarver of the world champion St. Louis Cardinals were named Monday to the 1967 major league all-star team.

The pennant winners were the only clubs to place more than one player on the squad selected in a vote of 403 baseball writers and broadcasters in the annual Associated Press poll.

Lonborg won 22 games, tying McCormick and Detroit's Earl Wilson for the major league lead. Wilson finished third in the voting for best right-handed pitcher.

Clemente topped the National League in batting with a .357 mark while Aaron paced the circuit in home runs with 39. Cepeda had 25 homers, a league leading 111 RBI and a .325 batting average.

Frazier To Meet Doyle On Tuesday

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Unbeaten Joe Frazier fights another "dream" in Tony Doyle Tuesday night when the two heavyweights mix it up in a scheduled 10-rounder at the new $12 million Spectrum.

Frazier's manager, Yancey Durham, claims he usually dreams about Frazier's opponents before accepting a match. The Cloverly Corp.—Frazier's 200 plus backers—hope the husky Doyle from Salt Lake City, Utah, doesn't turn out to be a nightmare.

Ranked No. 1 among heavy-weight challengers by Ring Magazine, and No. 9 by the World Boxing Association, Frazier seeks his 18th victory in a meteoric career that has seen him vault to the forefront of the division. Durham says his onetime moneymaker will be ready to fight for the title in the fall of 1968.

The 1964 Olympic heavy-weight champion, Frazier has victories over Argentinian Oscar Bonavena, Canadian George Chuvalo, and Eddie Machen, a boxer in the twilight of his career. He also whipped a plumpish Doug Jones.

Frazier, 24, is a hard hitter with 15 knockout triumphs, and has indicated he can take a punch. Twice he got up after being floored by Bonavena. The Philadelphia is a plodder, who stalks an opponent in the Rocky Marciano mold. The 24-year-old hopefully is standing by waiting to fight the winner of the WBA's elimination tourney to decide a successor to the deposed Cassius Clay.

Doyle, a 23-year-old with a record of 19-1, promises the biggest upset of the year. "I have all the qualifications to beat Frazier and that's what I'll do," he says.

Mounted Golden Eagle Mascot Given To CSI

A beautiful adult Golden Eagle, whose natural characteristics have been coveted through adoption of the nickname for College of Southern Idaho, was presented to the college administration Monday by Bill Herrett, Filer. The mounted bird, prepared by Tom Scheirmer, Twin Falls taxidermist, currently is being displayed at the Fidelity National Bank of Twin Falls in a glass showcase. It will reside at the bank until CSI is able to give it a prominent display home, probably in the foyer of a new health and physical education building.

Herrett, who has been active in the Golden Eagle Boosters since its inception, located the bird through the Idaho Fish and Game Department. It was discovered on a dirt road south of Twin Falls, evidently struck by a car. Since the bird is under federal protection, Herrett applied for and received a permit to have the bird preserved and in private possession.

Dr. James Taylor, CSI president, and Eddie Sutton, athletic director, received the gift from Herrett on behalf of the school.

Dallas Defeats Anaheim 129-125

DALLAS (AP) — Player-coach Cliff Hagan showed his Dallas Chaparrals and an enthusiastic season-opening crowd of 3,200 how the game of basketball should be played Monday night in leading Dallas to a 129-125 victory over the Anaheim Amigos in American Basketball Association play.

Hagan, the former St. Louis Hawks' NBA star, hit for 20 points in the first quarter and ended with 35.

Former Duke All-American Bob Verga was second high scorer for Dallas with 34 points. Top point producer for the Amigos was 7-foot Larry Bunce with 20.

Hagan's driving layups and long looks got his team off to a blistering first quarter lead of 37-31.

Burgess on Waivers

CHICAGO (AP) — The Chicago White Sox asked waivers Monday on pinch-hitter Smoky Burgess for the purpose of his unconditional release.

Burgess, 40, is the major league's top pinch hitter with 144 hits. But he got only eight in 60 times at bat this season.

Gibson Gets Car For Series Performance

By RON RAPOPORT
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — With a deep bow in the direction of Lou Brock, St. Louis Cardinals pitcher Bob Gibson posed happily in the driver's seat of his new Corvette Monday.

The car, given annually to Sport Magazine's choice of the outstanding player in the World Series, is the second the big Cardinal hurler has won. Only the fact that he sold his 1964 award keeps him from having a matched set.

"My kids are getting a little bigger," Gibson told a luncheon crowd. "I think I'll keep this one."

Gibson won three games in the Cardinals' seven-game victory over the Boston Red Sox, allowing just 14 hits and three runs. Still, he said Brock, the St. Louis outfielder who hit .414 and stole a record seven bases in the Series, was the real hero.

"I'm not sorry I won the car," the 31-year-old right-hander said. "But I believe he should have won the thing. The type of Series he had was just unbelievable. That's the way it was all season. Without Lou on the bases, we just didn't win."

Gibson's emotions were somewhat soothed by the fact that a St. Louis radio station took it upon itself to award a car to Brock.

The ceremony was just the beginning of the offseason award circuit that figures to last until spring training begins and will boast Gibson and Brock, along with Boston slugger Carl Yastrzemski, as its major attractions.

Brock, in fact, was supposed to be at the luncheon, but begged off to go to Los Angeles for a television show. Gibson's next appearance is Tuesday in a lunch in Omaha, Neb., that is to be followed by a tour of the city's Negro ghetto in which he grew up.

A's Pitcher Is Elected To Committee

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Pitcher Jack Aker who figured in the recent dispute between owner Charles O. Finley of the Kansas City Athletics and his team has been elected to the pension committee of the Major League Baseball Players Association, the Kansas City Star reported Monday.

The Star said it also learned that the players association's executive board had taken a unanimous stand in support of the association's action against Finley during the hassle.

Marvin Miller, executive director of the association, filed an unfair labor practices charge with the National Labor Relations Board, charging Finley with harassing his players over an appeal to the commissioner of baseball.

Miller was accused at the time by player representatives of the Chicago Cubs and the San Francisco Giants of oversteering his authority by filing the charge.

Unanimous approval of his action by the executive committee indicates this attitude has been reversed, the Star said.

Miller's charge, filed Sept. 8, was the outgrowth of the finding and suspension of pitcher Lew Krausse over what Finley described as "conduct unbecoming a major league player."

In the wake of the action against Krausse, his teammates issued a statement critical of Finley. "They maintained the fine was unjust and that the club owner relied on informants."

The dispute led to the firing of manager Al Dark, the firing of Aker for breaking curfew and the outright release of Ken Harrelson, A's first baseman.

Mounted Golden Eagle Mascot Given To CSI

A beautiful adult Golden Eagle, whose natural characteristics have been coveted through adoption of the nickname for College of Southern Idaho, was presented to the college administration Monday by Bill Herrett, Filer. The mounted bird, prepared by Tom Scheirmer, Twin Falls taxidermist, currently is being displayed at the Fidelity National Bank of Twin Falls in a glass showcase. It will reside at the bank until CSI is able to give it a prominent display home, probably in the foyer of a new health and physical education building.

Herrett, who has been active in the Golden Eagle Boosters since its inception, located the bird through the Idaho Fish and Game Department. It was discovered on a dirt road south of Twin Falls, evidently struck by a car. Since the bird is under federal protection, Herrett applied for and received a permit to have the bird preserved and in private possession.

Dr. James Taylor, CSI president, and Eddie Sutton, athletic director, received the gift from Herrett on behalf of the school.

Mounted Golden Eagle Mascot Given To CSI

A beautiful adult Golden Eagle, whose natural characteristics have been coveted through adoption of the nickname for College of Southern Idaho, was presented to the college administration Monday by Bill Herrett, Filer. The mounted bird, prepared by Tom Scheirmer, Twin Falls taxidermist, currently is being displayed at the Fidelity National Bank of Twin Falls in a glass showcase. It will reside at the bank until CSI is able to give it a prominent display home, probably in the foyer of a new health and physical education building.

Herrett, who has been active in the Golden Eagle Boosters since its inception, located the bird through the Idaho Fish and Game Department. It was discovered on a dirt road south of Twin Falls, evidently struck by a car

South Idaho Conference Grows To Nine Members As Meridian Is Admitted

The Southern Idaho Conference, the largest athletic alignment in the state on basis of enrollment, grew to nine members Monday when principals of the eight member schools voted unanimously to accept Meridian High School into membership.

Principal August "Gus" Hein offered Meridian's petition for membership. Although increasing the SIC to nine members will cause several problems, the principals evidently did little more than talk about these. It set up a meeting in mid-November to resolve scheduling and other problems.

In a tersely worded statement following the closed session the principals said:

"The application of Meridian High School to enter the Southern Idaho Conference has been accepted by unanimous vote by member schools."

"Schedules will be discussed and formulated for the 1968-69 year in mid-November at a special meeting of school representatives."

Those attending the session were reluctant to discuss the problems and opposition if any heard. But it appeared that the most eastern members, Highland and Pocatello, were more apprehensive about the ramifications than the other schools.

"It definitely will cost us more money," said Lionel Bowser, Highland principal.

The Pocatello schools, which almost left the SIC last year to join the Eastern Idaho Conference, will be required to make an additional trip on alternate years to the Boise area in football plus add another Boise-area game to their basketball schedules which will necessitate an additional overnight trip and accruing expense.

Bowser would not enter into the discussion.

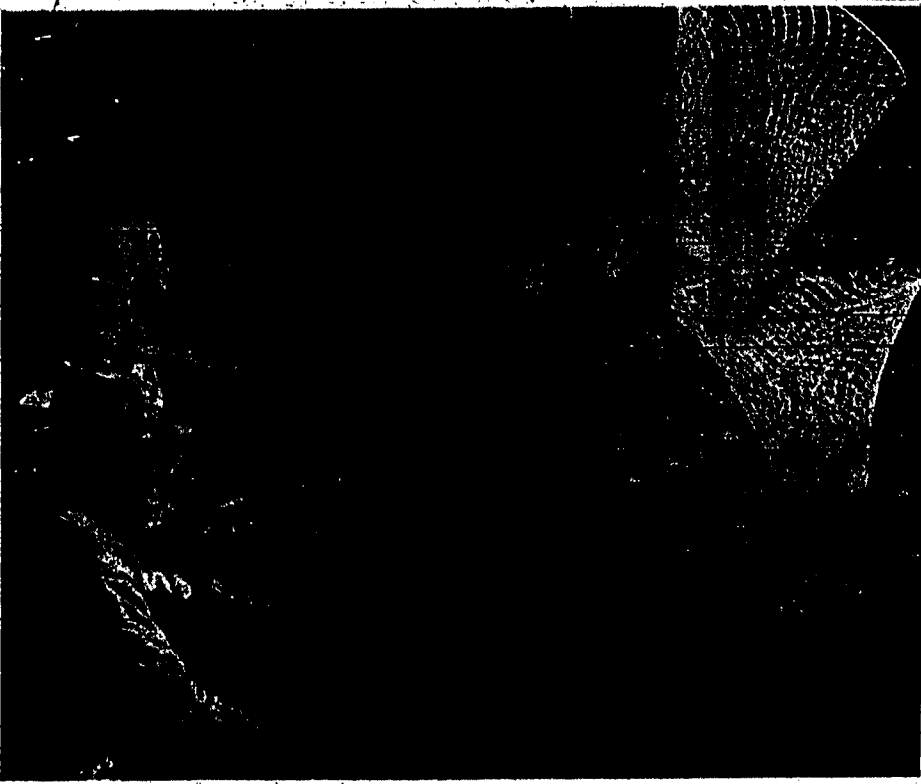

Twin Falls, sitting in the middle, evidently will keep its Veterans Day football game as Hein said Meridian definitely would wish to keep Bishop Kelly High of Boise as its traditional season finale opponent. But Twin Falls' position would be weakened if the Pocatello schools left for economic reasons, leaving the Bruins on the extreme outside.

Basically it appeared the SIC had come through quite harmoniously, although the matter of unanimity on the vote may have been more on the promise of problem resolving in the future than in immediate reaction.

At the mid-November meeting the conference will have to tackle the difficult assignment of fitting in the uneven number of teams plus keeping conflicts out of Boise and Pocatello, which have multiple member schools. Meridian, by keeping the Veterans' Day game for Bishop Kelly will be forced to start its conference schedule a week early and all members will have to round up non-conference games late in the season.

The possibility of Meridian participating in the conference track meet next spring was brought up but that decision also was left to the November meeting.

SPORTS

ALL NETS LOADED, a haul strikes after a brief flurry during salvage operations on the Richfield Canal by personnel of the Idaho Fish and Game Department. Some 3,800 pounds of trout, ranging from one and one-half to eight pounds, were taken in the two day salvage and replanted in Magic Reservoir and waters of the Wood-River valley.

Richfield Canal Yields Annual Harvest, Coho Crop Is Failure

The Coho experiment appeared a failure and growth rate was down a little this year in the annual Richfield Canal Salvage conducted by the Idaho Fish and Game Department.

The electronic fishermen pulled out 2313 fish of which 1857 were wild trout and 421 planted last spring. Only 35 were Cohos.

Overall, the yield was very good with 3,800 pounds of the "instant lunker" variety being planted in Magic Reservoir, Big Wood River and Silver Creek.

The trout ran about one and one-half pounds each and 15 in length. This is below the average of 17 and two pounds last spring. Only 35 were Cohos, a surprising failure. The department planted 2,300 in the three-inch norm last spring and these had grown only to about six inches. This put the canal behind other area waters—for perhaps the first time—as a culture for the land-locked Salmon experiment.

Salmon Falls Reservoir, south of Twin Falls; Mormon Reservoir, Blackfoot Reservoir, Anderson Ranch Reservoir and Mackay Reservoirs all provided a uniform eight-inch average on the small Cohos over six months in the wilds.

"Evidently the reports we had of anglers taking Cohos up to 10 and 12 inches were the result of misidentification," says Bob Bell, regional fish biologist. He added the matter of recovering only 35 of the 2,300 was of little consequence. "If they had no more size than that they could easily slip through our (electronic) screen."

The trout growth rate would be good for any water but Richfield Canal, which has a big reputation to uphold. The size of big fish recovered was down, most of them in the four to five-pound class. "We caught most of the big fish toward the end of the canal on the second day, but the biggest was about eight pounds," Bell reports. Usually the crew pulls out a couple

"hawgs" in the 10 to 12-pound class.

Bell said the reason for the dip in production is theoretical, but he believes the muddy water earlier this year caused algae and plankton to bloom late in the year. This retarded the build up of fresh water shrimp, which after all, are the big reason the canal can make lunkers out of minnows so quickly.

All things considered, however, area anglers can go forth next spring knowing that there are lunkers available in some of the area's most accessible waters.

Quarterbacks Are Passing Ball More

By FRANK BECK
AP Newswire Staff Editor

They're passing the pigskin more than ever. Terrificianratty of Notre Dame, Paul Gosano of Wyoming, Edd Harger of the Texas Aggies and Ken Habler of Tennessee average collectively about 28 passes a game.

Yet there are some who resort to the old-fashioned gallop by staying on the ground.

There are some great ball carriers in the collegiate ranks this fall. Coach Bill Yoeman of the Houston Cougars says he has the best in Warren McVea of San Angelo because the 180-pound senior has quick and deceiving moves.

In his first three games the speedy McVea—he's also a dash man in track—tore up the turf for an 8.6 yard average on 33 carries. Last year McVea averaged 8.3 yards. No, he's not slipping, just getting warmed up.

Two other thrilling operatives along the ground are O. J. Simpson of Southern California and Greg Jones, a San Francisco playing halfback for UCLA. Jones is only a soph so when he runs he's got up their football schure, Coach Tommy Prothro said.

Jones with the promising pass. I think he'll make it; mine even be a big gainer on his quickness."

Prothro was right, at least in the first three games. In them, Jones only 19 and 185 pounds, averaged seven yards on 54 carries and getting three TDs and setting a few others.

O. J. Simpson handles really every time he carries almost every time he carries for College the fans shouted.

"There goes Orange!"

In two years of JC he scored 54 touchdowns, even threw one pass which was a TD against a Michigan State team. It was only pass he threw in his first three varsity games.

Simpson, incidentally, was a member of last spring's world record breaking 440-yard relay team.

The completed forward pass may electrify crowds and bring faster touchdowns in a wide open game. Yet, there still are coaches who believe in good running backs. On the other hand, some coaches hate to put the ball in the air and risk an interception.

Leroy Keyes, a brilliant junior from Newport News, Va., can carry the ball but you won't find Purdue coach Jack Mollenkopf making a ball-carrying workhorse out of this 190-pound 6-3 halfback. He's too valuable.

Keyes does it all as he showed in the upset of Notre Dame. He runs, catches passes, kicks and plays cornerback on defense where his specialty is intercepting enemy passes. Late in that game he grabbed a Notre Dame aerial and the Irish were done.

Club Formed To Support Legion Ball

A new booster group dedicated to keeping American Legion Baseball in Twin Falls was organized Monday night and Addison Irwin was named as its president.

The American Legion Baseball Booster Club will throw all its support behind the summer program which has been taking a financial beating for the past two years.

Ken Brown, business manager for the club over the past two seasons, noted that in trying to maintain a 40-game schedule against some of the best competition in the Pacific and Intermountain West, the local program has fallen $3,400 in debt.

He said the revenue anticipated from gate receipts has been way down and almost negligible.

The 20 men attending the meeting came up with several ideas for raising the needed funds and also discussed ways of building the sub-structure of the program.

The group will next meet at 7:30 p.m. Nov. 6 at the Depot Grill.

Joining Mr. Irwin on the officers list were Dale Patterson, vice president, and M. L. Gates, secretary. Named to the board were Ken Brown, Leo Soran, Dennis Pratt, Harold Brown, J. Ted Davis, Ted Florence, W. W. Frantz, John Holladay, Art Duncan, Ken Klinghorn, Ken McClain, Howard Allen and George Semba.

Prognosticators Not Experts On All Teams

By MAJOR AMOS B. HOOPLE

Aha, we've bared the truth about the Magic Valley grid prognosticator. He is not an expert on football teams—only of the top 10.

Given a few of the solid Eastern Establishment to pick, they not only fall down—they cry. However, my years in the West must have dulled my own intuition about those familiar names like Albright and Gettysburg because I didn't do ripping well. (Ed's note: not even fairly).

But there were no surprises for the Barth family of Twin Falls. It took out the top two prizes this week—and probably will forever lose the east. Neal Barth won first place with only three misses and will collect $10,000 on the basis of point predictions, beat 14 others at the plateau and claimed the $5 second prize.

This place prize went to Albert Higley, Paul, who will receive $2,500.

On the honorable mention list are Clarence Hatt, Burley; Tom Haggerty, Wendell; J. A. Smith, Twin Falls; Tim Hudson, Buhl; Gerald Stromire, Rupert; Chris Dietz, Rupert, and Elaine Anderson, Burley.

This week we toyed with the idea of giving you 20 high school games to wrestle with, highlighted by Welppe at Lapwai. But due to the threats of last week, we didn't. We're back to the same old, junk and those studying the situation will win. There's no need for luck this week. Skill will do it.

Last week, to set your minds at ease, we didn't use the Hagerman-Camas County game since it was played early. In the meantime, send in your entries and remember the Friday noon deadline.

Clay fires lawyer, then gets sued

By LAWRENCE LEE

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—Cassius Clay fired his lawyer Monday, but not before New York attorney Hayden Covington sued the heavyweight fighter for $209,615.10 in legal fees.

"As far as I'm concerned, he's the best lawyer in the world," Clay said. "He is due his salary. He should be paid his money. Now, all of a sudden since the government has stopped me, they won't let me pay my debt."

Covington defended Clay last June when the boxer went on trial for refusal to enter military service. Clay was convicted, drawing a five-year prison sentence and a $10,000 fine.

Two Horses Take Honors In Racing

Dr. Fager and Assagal take the spotlight in thoroughbred horse racing this week.

Dr. Fager, beaten 10 1/2 lengths by Damascus in the Woodward Stakes, is scheduled to go in the $100,000-Hawthorne Gold Cup at the Chicago track Saturday. Assagal renews his campaign for grass course horse of the year honors in the $100,000 Man of War Stakes at Aqueduct.

Johnny Nerud, trainer of Dr. Fager, hopes his 3-year-old colt will be "on his own" in the Hawthorne Gold Cup. He feels Dr. Fager's defeat by Damascus in the Woodward was mainly due to the speed horses sent out for the express purpose of dueling with Dr. Fager for the lead and let Damascus come from far back to win.

Damascus, already invited to the Washington, D.C. International at Laurel Nov. 11, was scheduled to make his first start on the grass against Assagal in the Woodward, but trainer Frank Whiteley, Jr. changed his plans. Damascus' next start will be in the Jockey Club Gold Cup at Aqueduct Oct. 28.

That leaves Assagal with an opportunity to reverse his neck defeat by Pin To in the United Nations Handicap at Atlantic City last month. Pin To is expected to go in the Man of War along with Munden Point, winner of last week's Manhattan Handicap at Aqueduct on Columbus Day.

Vitrollic came from far back and beat Iron Ruler by two lengths in the $179,500 Champagne Stakes at Aqueduct in last Saturday's top race. It was the fourth straight year that jockey Brasilio Baeza has won the 2-year-old stake for the Ogden Phipps' clan.

Williams Is Looking For New Players

BOSTON (AP)—Dick Williams, armed with a fat three-year contract as manager of the Boston Red Sox, shopped around for pitching and catching strength today to help his young charges defend the American League pennant in 1968.

Williams, a 38-year-old former journeyman player, frankly discussed his needs after being rewarded during the weekend with the long-term contract calling for a reported $50,000 a year.

"We'll be looking to strengthen our pitching and catching next year," Williams said. "This is what we'll trade for if the opportunity presents itself. I'm not up to date on the trade situation, but we've been laying the groundwork."

Williams, who directed the Red Sox from a ninth-place finish in 1966 to the championship in his rookie season as manager, was re-hired immediately after carrying the St. Louis Cardinals to seven games in the World Series.

Matson Wins Shotput At Pre-Olympics

MEXICO CITY (AP)—Randy Matson won the shot put in the Pre-Olympics Monday, but didn't wait around long enough to collect his gold medal.

Matson, whose throw of 65-2 1/4 was well shy of his world record of 70-7 1/4, left immediately to catch a plane back to his studies at Texas A&M. Rickand Bruch of Sweden was second and Yoshijisa Ishide of Japan third.

Earlier, Charlotte Cooke of Washington, D.C., won the United States' first gold medal, setting a games' record of 52.4 seconds in the women's 400-meter dash.

Gaston Roelants of Belgium, world record holder in the 3,000-meter steeplechase, won his specialty handily in 8:57.8, about 30 seconds off his world mark.

"It was a very easy course," Roelants said. "I ran my own race."

France got its first gold medal in the 800 meters won by Jean Claude Dufresne in 1:48.8. Miquelina Cobian of Cuba won the women's 100-meter dash in 11.4, three-tenths of a second off the world record.

Valentin Gaurilov won Russia's third gold medal with a high jump of 6-11 1/4. Jon-Serban of Hungary was second and Phil Shinnik of Los Angeles was third, both at 6-8 3/4.

This is no run-of-the-mill Bourbon. It's Bourbon with a richer, more robust taste. More of the taste that Bourbon was meant to have. It's Bourbon aged till the years have rounded out the taste and worn away the edges. It's Bourbon as smooth as a man could ask for. With all the taste of old-time whiskey, yet easy and mellow going down.

If you know enough to know good Bourbon, this one is worth trying.

Spymaster Has Defected To America

By PETER REHAK
Associated Press Writer
BONN, Germany (AP) — A Soviet spymaster has defected to the United States, leading to the smashing of two spy rings, one reaching into the West German Foreign Ministry, officials said Monday.

They declined to identify the Russian. But a State Department spokesman in Washington said he was Lt. Col. Yevgeniy Yevgeniyevich Runge, of the KGB, the Soviet security and espionage agency.

Informants reported that Runge, now in the United States, approached U.S. authorities in Germany a week or 10 days ago.

In defecting, Runge tipped off German authorities on the two spy rings he had operated in West Germany. Authorities said the second spy ring operated in the French Embassy.

West German officials said the two rings operating independently, were smashed with the arrest of four Germans. One of them, a woman secretary in the West German Foreign Ministry, hanged herself in her cell Sunday, they said.

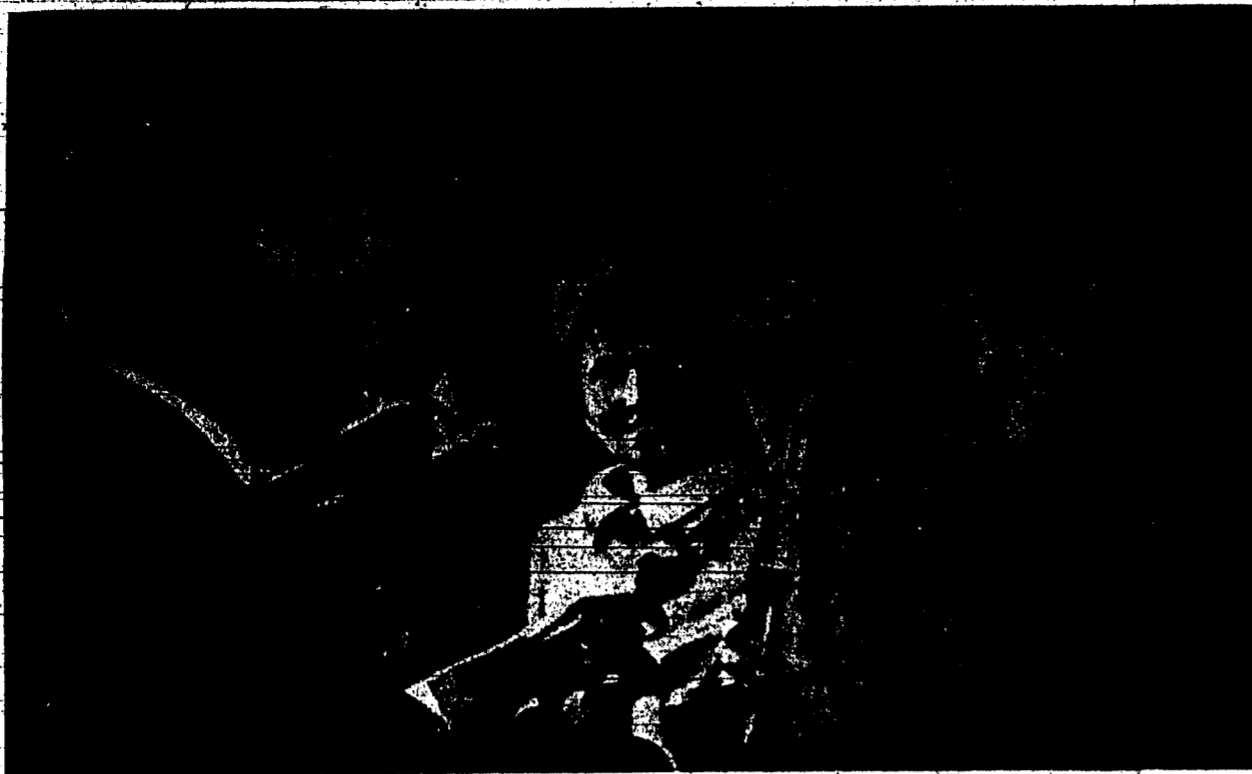

Arrested with the secretary, Leonore Suetterlin, 39, were her husband, Heinz, 43, a photographer; Leopold Pleschel, 44, a messenger in the French Embassy in Bonn, and Martin Marggraf, 41, a waiter who is Pleschel's brother-in-law.

The arrests, made last Wednesday, and the suicide, were announced by federal prosecutor Ludwig Martin at a news conference in Karlsruhe.

Officials in this West German capital were reluctant to assess the importance of documents accessible to the accused spies. But Martin said the two rings had supplied the Russians with secrets "of a high order."

A Foreign Ministry spokesman said Mrs. Suetterlin had been employed by the ministry since 1955 and that her last job was that of a secretary in the personnel department.

Martin said Mrs. Suetterlin brought home documents which

20 Terrorist Bombs Seized In Hong Kong

By FORREST EDWARDS
Associated Press Writer
HONG KONG (AP) — Police seized 20 terrorist bombs Monday at a Communist school, raided a second school and arrested 15 classmates of a teenager who was injured when a bomb he was about to throw exploded.

While Communist terrorists planted 20 real bombs and more than 80 fakes during the day, their activities eased off at nightfall as heavily armed police and British troops patrolled the streets.

Reports spread that the police and soldiers have been ordered to shoot to kill anyone seen throwing an object that might be a bomb.

One of the real bombs, equipped with a booby trap trigger, wounded a British army demolition expert trying to deactivate it.

He was one of more than 90 wounded since the Communists resumed bombing on a massive scale four days ago. Four have been killed, bringing to 43 the number of persons killed since the Chinese Communists began a reign of terror in May.

The Chinese apparently are trying to overthrow British rule in this colony on Red China's south border. They are egged on by Peking, which repeatedly lays claim to Hong Kong.

Hong Kong's Communist newspapers devoted front pages to red-ink headlines of accounts—most of them greatly exaggerated—of the bombings and "courageous attacks by patriotic Chinese patriots against Hong Kong British Fascist authorities."

But they dropped, for the day at least, their calls for increased violence and for greater "combat participation" by students in Hong Kong's 20 Communist and pro-Communist schools.

Two Catholic Traditions Are Assailed

By DAVID MAZZARELLA
Associated Press Writer
VATICAN CITY, (AP) — The Roman Catholic bishops synod was told Monday the church should drop its historic demand for promises that the children of mixed marriages be reared as Catholics.

The advice was also heard in the Catholic world Laity Congress, where the promises were termed "irrelevant or worse for many Christians."

Bishops inside the synod and Christian unity experts outside claimed the document emphasized the traditional view on aspects of mixed marriage.

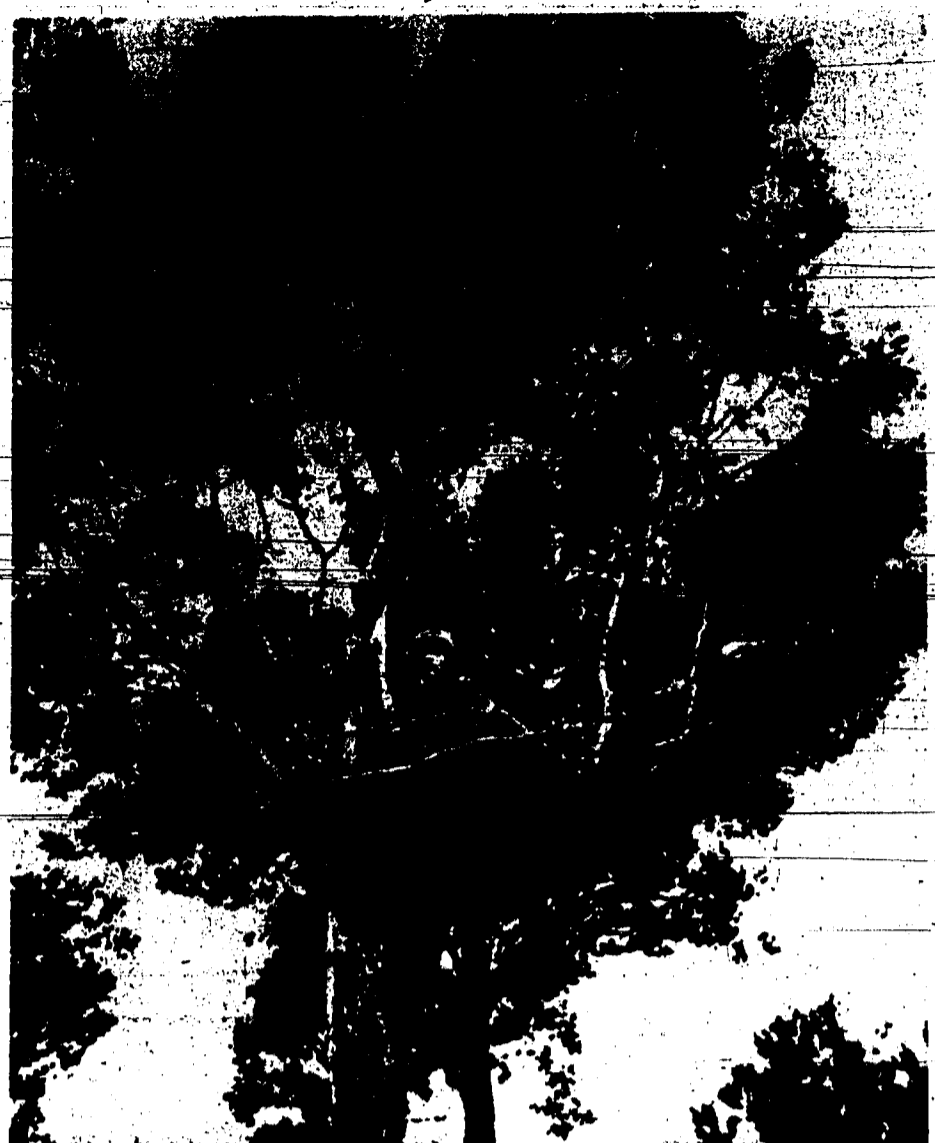

Justin Cardinal Darmasidjawan of Indonesia assailed both the promises and the report, which he said should be thrown out.

Referring to the promise which the Church requires of non-Catholic partners in mixed marriages on the religious life of children, the cardinal said: "The Church must affirm clearly that married couples have a genuine and common responsibility for their own spiritual life and that of their children. It would be in order to eliminate unilateral promises."

At the congress of 2,500 Catholic laymen, Patrick Crowley of New York told a workshop on ecumenism: "The Vatican statements on freedom of religion make the issue of promises to the Catholic faith at the altar either irrelevant or worse for many Christians."

In March, 1966, Pope Paul VI ruled that the promises need no longer be written. But he did not eliminate them altogether.

Because of this, the Archbishop of Canterbury, Dr. Michael Ramsey, and other non-Catholic churchmen have declared that the Pope's move did not go far enough.

Former Aide Urges Prompt Bombing Halt

NEW YORK (AP)—A former White House adviser says an opportunity may be coming in the holiday season to end the Vietnam shooting by Christmas. He urged a prompt and unconditional end to U. S. bombing of North Vietnam to test what the Communist response might be.

Theodore C. Sorensen, former special counsel to both Presidents Johnson and John F. Kennedy, says that while bombing of North Vietnam could not force negotiations, "it may well be preventing them." Since in his opinion Hanoi would not talk while the homeland was being attacked.

"The time has come," he wrote in the Saturday Review being issued Tuesday, "for us to suspend indefinitely and unconditionally our bombing of the North, in order to test Hanoi's sincerity and see how it will reciprocate."

Sorensen, a critic of the administration's Vietnam policy, wrote that he was told by a Soviet diplomat in Moscow that the Russians are obliged to give Communist North Vietnam whatever it wants in the way of men and material to resist the Americans, and that this pointed up "the urgency of our stopping World War III now, before it starts."

He saw a possibility that a frustrated, divided America, under growing pressure from the military, might in desperation take steps such as mining or blockading the North Vietnamese port of Haiphong or landing behind the North Vietnamese lines.

"Then the entry of the Chinese and possibly Russian 'volunteers' will be a very real threat and possibly an inevitable fact, as inevitable as the fact that their entry will lead eventually to a world-wide nuclear war," Sorensen wrote.

As a possible avenue to peace, Sorensen proposed an American de-escalation of the war, limiting U. S. military commitments and objectives and consolidating positions in the most populous areas of the South. This, he said, would cost fewer lives, less money, no territory and no

"face," while better permitting the Americans to wait until other events, such as the Communist camp divisions, made negotiations more possible. The essential step after unconditional cessation of the bombing, he said, would be to bring the combatants, including the Viet Cong, together.

Miami Man Is Freed After Court Ruling

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP)—Charles E. Horner of Miami won a five-year battle for freedom from prison Monday when he walked out of jail as the result of a federal court order branding his state court trial as a product of venom by the prosecution.

Horner served five years of a 10-year sentence in the state prison at Raiford and in the jail here on a conviction of extortion at Miami in April 1962. He spent virtually every waking minute of it trying to convince state and federal courts of his innocence.

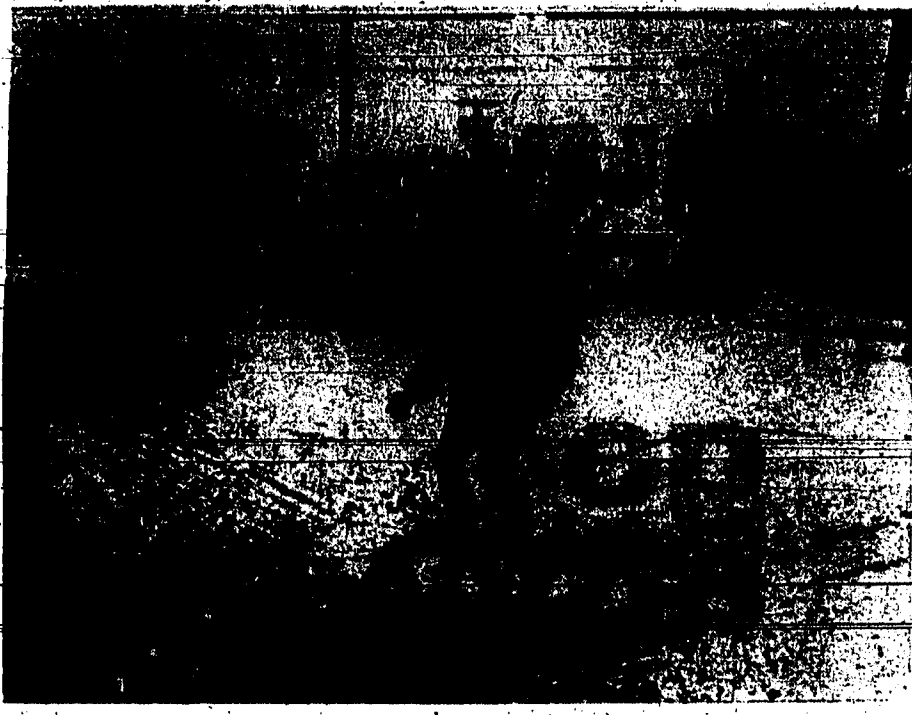

Horner, 46, told a newsman: "Being locked up for a crime you didn't commit and being refused the opportunity to prove your case is terrifying. Those first six months are the worst. After that, you realize what you're up against and you seek help."

His appeals were rejected 28 times, but U.S. District Judge William A. McRae finally held two hearings on a habeas corpus petition and ruled Monday that Horner should be freed.

The state has 60 days to appeal, but McRae provided that Horner should be free during the time the appeal is pending.

"One of the trial prosecutors, Robert Metzker, had formerly been associated in the real estate business with Horner, had shared offices with Horner and had represented Horner as legal counsel in real estate and mortgage transactions," McRae said.

"The obvious contradictions and conflicts in the testimony of (Alfonso C.) Sepe before this court, when compared with other testimony in previous hearings and depositions, seriously impair his credibility," McRae said in reference to the other prosecutor.

Committee Okays Slice From Budget

By EDMOND LeBRETON
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP)—The House Appropriations Committee approved Monday legislation for a $2.85-billion reduction in President Johnson's budget, but Republicans stepped up their campaign for deeper and quicker cuts.

The showdown comes Wednesday when the House takes up an emergency measure to finance for a month government agencies whose regular appropriations still are pending. The budget cut legislation is attached to this measure, which must be passed by House and Senate by next Monday. If the present emergency funding is not to expire.

The reductions ordered by the committee hit hardest executive agency payrolls and research. Some 110,000 government positions might be abolished but the committee said this could be done largely by leaving vacancies unfilled rather than by firing employees.

The $2.85 billion estimate of cuts embraces some $1.35 billion in reductions already voted by the House in appropriation bills, but still subject to change. The effect of House and Senate passage of the committee measure would be to nail down the full $2.85-billion reduction, regardless of future action on individual bills.

Court To Review School Aid

By BARRY SCHWEID
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP)—The Supreme Court agreed Monday to hear a major challenge to growing government aid to parochial schools.

The issue directly up for decision is whether individual taxpayers can sue the government to try to block federal aid to church schools. A lower court ruled that seven taxpayers had no standing to sue because they could not show they directly suffered damages.

However, the high tribunal's taking the case means the justices almost necessarily will wrestle with the broader claim that such assistance unconstitutionally breaches the First Amendment wall separating church and state.

In 1923 the court barred such taxpayer suits. If the current court reverses this stand, the way may be cleared for massive attacks on government spending programs—even in fields far beyond education.

The justices' agreement to hear the challenge to aid to church schools under President Johnson's major education program dominated the court's second business session of the term.

Otherwise, in major actions, the court accepted cases questioning police search powers in a suspect's home and whether convicts being quizzed about crimes unrelated to their conviction have the right to a lawyer's help.

Additionally, the justices threw out the murder conviction of an Alabama Negro, Johnny Coleman, on a finding that no Negro had ever served on a grand jury panel in the county and that few, if any, Negroes had served on petit jury panels.

And the court turned back a plea that its one-man, one-vote doctrine may apply to the Board of Supervisors of Suffolk County, New York. This means the 10 towns in the county will continue to have one representative per town on the board regardless of their large variations in population. The 1965 Federal Elementary and Secondary Education Act—the centerpiece of Johnson's education program—provides federal aid to parochial school students as well as to public schools.

SOUTH'S ERROR IS CAUTION

How can any good player go down at four spades? The Italian South had no trouble at all making the contract. Of course, he got there without adverse bidding and a club opening took care of all his problems.

The bidding in the box shows what happened when the Ameri-event Belladonna elected to double the four spade contract. Avarelli opened the ten of diamonds. This lost to South's ace. South led the ten of spades and overtook dummy's jack. The spade spots were such that he knew he would be able to force one entry to dummy.

Belladonna had looked over dummy carefully and noted that his partner could not have much for his diamond raise except a singleton trump and four diamonds. He might have the king of hearts or even the ace of clubs. In either event it was imperative that clubs be attacked immediately and Belladonna led the queen.

This could have solved South's problems but he couldn't see the king of clubs in Belladonna's hand. South decided that Avarelli held four clubs to the king and that his only way to make the contract would be to duck the first club, win the second and eventually shed two clubs on two hearts. He ducked, Belladonna continued with the deuce, South played his ace and lost his contract.

Young America's Date-Line

By ELE AND WALT DULANEY

How To Get In Step With A Stepfather?

Dear Walt: My mother re-married last year. John, her husband, is all right, but we don't get along too well. To be fair, I guess I may resent taking orders from him now because for the last five years I was the man of the house and she depended on me. On his side, I think he resents it because she and I have lots of old jokes and memories that don't include him. Maybe you might say he's jealous of me. Reasoning this out hasn't helped much, and I know it bothers my mother, and we don't get along better. So what can we do?—Another Walt.

Dear Walt II: Right now you rank John as an intruder into your cozy home. But wait a few years until you want to step out and live on your own. Then you'll see John as a liberator, freeing you from guilt feelings at "deserting" Mom. To ease friction why not suggest a family conference to set rules re: allowance, curfew, home chores, car use, and privacy? Added here: whoever you find yourself chuckling at a memory he doesn't share, take time to give him the whole story so he won't feel so "out."—Walt.

Dear Ele and Walt: I have a few comments to make to the "Big Spender" who wrote protesting because he spent $35 on a "cold fish" date. Even though I am a girl, I realize that it costs fellows plenty to furnish a pleasant evening. However, that is what men must put up with, since it is their privilege to ask for dates in the first place. A girl does not have the same freedom. Consequently she may accept a date, even though she has little feeling for the young man in question. I used to feel very guilty to have a boy spend even small amounts of money on me, and so I'd ACT affectionate, even though my feeling for him was at a minimum. My dorm counselor straightened me out. She asked, "Are you a prostitute?" I emphatically answered "No!" "Well," she said, "then you don't have to pay for a date with your body."

So, Big Spender, next time you plan an expensive evening, ask a girl whom you know will enjoy your company, and then you'll have nothing to complain about. You see, for a girl affection is something to be bestowed on only those we like. Even something seemingly as trivial as holding hands IS a sign of affection. And we know that affection used sparingly has far more value and meaning than that given to just anyone, let alone given as a guilty payment for an expensive evening.

I hope that some of what I have said seems logical to you. I do not always adhere to the letter of the above remarks. If I did, I would be less apt to think lower of myself, especially after an evening when I gave affection that had no meaning, either for me or for the male involved.—College Sophomore.

A few hilarious games can really spark up an outdoor party. Ele and Walt have 35 suggestions in their pamphlet "Go-Go Games," that are almost guaranteed to make any outdoor party a success. For a copy write to Teenage Date-Line, in care of this newspaper, enclosing a dime and self-addressed envelope.

Legislative Redistricting Meet Is Off

By IRWIN J. MILLER
INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP) — A special Indiana legislative subcommittee on congressional redistricting scrapped a plan for daily meetings and recessed Monday until Nov. 9 with its partisan impasse unbroken.

Four votes in Monday's meeting rejected new proposals and continued a deadlock which has blocked agreement since the subcommittee was created in July. A two-thirds vote is needed on a plan for submission to a special legislative session which probably would have to start by Nov. 27.

The 12-member bipartisan subcommittee agreed on the long recess after noting that a Senate-House Committee in Washington is expected to approve Wednesday a bill outlawing election of members of the national House by statewide vote rather than from districts.

Indiana's six Republican and five Democratic congressmen all oppose running at large and have brought pressure on the conference committee to approve the provision.

The bill also provides that the maximum population variation between the largest and smallest districts in a state would be 10 per cent starting in 1972. An anti-gerrymandering provision, to prevent drawing of districts to benefit one party, appeared certain to be left out of the measure.

The Indiana problem arose when a three-judge federal court panel here declared the state's 1965 redistricting law unconstitutional and void. The decision came last January as the regular 1967 legislative session was getting under way.

BERRY'S WORLD

"When I was a kid we had fun getting all dressed up for Halloween—nowadays, kids wear costumes all year 'round!"

With Republicans controlling the House and Democrats the Senate, the legislature failed to enact a new redistricting law. Only a special session can replace the 1965 act, and Gov. Roger D. Branigan, a Democrat, said he will call one when legislative leaders of both parties report to him they have agreed on a plan which can pass.

PROFESSOR SPEAKS
EASTHAMPTON, Mass. (AP) — Dr. Peter A. Baldwin, assistant professor of ministry at the University of Chicago, told a recent teachers' meeting that stuffing pupils' minds blocks creative expression, while "curiosity and an invitation to mutual discovery releases — opens up" pupils' minds.
