U.N. Talk Held To Aid Ties

By TOM HOGE
UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Informed sources said today that talks at the United Nations between the United States and Egypt are partly aimed at re-establishing relations between the two governments as a step toward a Middle East settlement.

The informants stressed, however, that overtures for revival of diplomatic ties are coming from the Egyptians and that the United States is taking a "deadpan" approach.

The informants said the meeting Monday between U.S. Ambassador Arthur J. Goldberg and Egyptian Ambassador Mahmoud Riad was designed primarily to get guidelines for a Middle East representative to be appointed by Secretary-General U Thant.

They said such action would be facilitated by renewal of relations broken by Egypt during the June war with the claim that the United States and other Western powers were giving military aid to Israel.

Goldberg and Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Vasily V. Kuznetsov met separately Tuesday with Thant but announced no plans to see each other.

Goldberg told newsmen he hoped "that in the normal course" he would see Kuznetsov, considered one of the Soviet Union's most able negotiators. He has dealt with the Middle East in the past.

Soviet Craft Lands Package On Venus

By HENRY S. BRADSHAW
MOSCOW (AP) — The unmanned Soviet spacecraft Venus 4 flew into the atmosphere of cloud-shrouded Venus today and dropped an instrument package that transmitted data showing a temperature range from 104 to 536 degrees Fahrenheit, an announcement said. It reported the package made a soft landing by parachute.

The planet's atmospheric pressure varied from the equivalent of that of the earth to about 15 times as great, the announcement said.

"The measurements have shown that the atmosphere consists almost exclusively of carbon dioxide," it was added. "Hydrogen and vapors account for about 1 1/2 per cent and no noticeable traces of nitrogen were detected."

Signals from the spacecraft's instruments were monitored in Britain for an hour and a half after they apparently landed on Venus.

But later, Tass quoted astronomer Vitaly Bronshien as saying the instrument package will give more information in the future. He said communications are being maintained with it.

An explanation of the way the instrument package reached the surface of the planet suggested that the temperature variations occurred as the measuring devices got closer to Venus, but this was unclear.

The explanation said the instrument package was jettisoned from Venus 4 after its four-month ride from earth.

Measuring instruments took readings as the device "was making a distance of 15.5 miles for 1 1/2 hours," the Tass explanation said. This suggested that in Venus's heavy atmosphere, it took the parachuted package that long to float down—an average speed of 10 miles an hour.

Radio transmissions from Venus 4 monitored at Britain's Jodrell Bank Observatory stopped at 12:38 a.m. EDT. Before that time, the planet's surface was hit by the surface. Fifteen seconds later, the observatory picked up new signals, fainter and different in tone.

"This is tremendous, amazing," Sir Bernard Lovell, Jodrell Bank's director said. "The signals we are now receiving are coming from the surface of the planet Venus. It seems that the Russians know for the first time what the surface of Venus is like."

The signals ceased at 2:14 a.m. EDT, after more than one and a half hours, and Lovell said the instruments might have been switched off.

Soviet scientists made no immediate announcement. In fact, Lovell said he got a telephone call from a man at the Communist party newspaper Pravda in Moscow who had heard nothing from Soviet sources and wanted to find out what happened to Venus 4.

But it seemed that the Soviet Union had successfully sent a 2,438-pound package on a curving, 213-million-mile four-month course in an effort to unlock some of the secrets of earth's cloud-covered "sister planet" 43 million miles away.

U.S. sources said 10 previous Venus shots and seven Mars shots, not all of them reported by the Russians, had failed.

The 540-pound U.S. Mariner 5 spacecraft is due to fly past Venus at a distance of 2,500 miles Thursday morning, carrying instruments to measure the planet's diameter and aspects of its atmosphere. The United States has launched two probes toward Mars and three toward Venus, with one of each termed successful.

Area School Talks Featured In T.F.

Superintendents of schools in South Central Idaho and members of the boards of trustees from those school districts set meetings in Twin Falls Wednesday to discuss broadening participation in a study of education.

The study committee was appointed by the Idaho Advisory Council to the eight-state project aimed at charting a future for education 15 years from now. The Idaho group is seeking to map plans for the near future.

"We need citizen participation in our study," Mr. Engelking said. "Unless we get it we won't really know whether the program we come up with will get general acceptance."

The news media was not informed in advance of the Twin Falls meeting Wednesday, and Dr. Ragland said he had no idea what would be discussed, or if Mr. Engelking would attend.

Mr. Engelking, in his announcement Wednesday, said the committee has organized two subcommittees, one to study problems of small schools, and the other to discuss needs of the large schools.

Oakland's Violence Ends In Picketing

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP) — Antidraft demonstrators shifted to peaceful picketing at the Oakland Armed Forces Induction Center today after capping a violent 24-hour period with a decision to avoid new battles with police.

Some 500 persons maintained a quiet vigil at dawn. There were no confrontations.

More than 20 persons were hurt earlier when police broke up a massive attempt to blockade the center. Nearly 150 persons have been arrested in two days of protest by antiwar groups.

The demonstrators strategy change developed at a three-hour rally on the University of California Berkeley campus. One speaker said "too many people got hurt."

Police used clubs and an eye-stinging chemical spray in clearing demonstrators from the center. They cleared a path for nine busloads of draftees.

As he did Monday night, Dean of Students Arleigh Williams warned those at the Berkeley campus rally that they were defying a temporary order.

Gov. Spiro T. Agnew of Maryland, who has never wavered in his support of Rockefeller as the best candidate the GOP could nominate, said the New Yorker's disclaimer sounded "pretty definite."

"I'm convinced he won't run unless he is drafted," Agnew said. "If he were drafted, it would take a pretty emphatic individual to turn it down. But did anybody ever hear of a genuine draft?"

Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller of Arkansas, who discussed the statement with Agnew, said his brother's stand is "no different" now than it was before.

"I am not a candidate," Rockefeller told newsmen Tuesday. "I do not intend to be a candidate. I do not want to be president."

2 Companies Ambushed By Reds

By ROBERT TUCKMAN
SAIGON (AP) — A veteran Communist regiment ambushed two companies of the U.S. 1st Infantry Division in canopied jungles 41 miles north of Saigon Tuesday. After a day of fierce fighting, 58 Americans and at least 103 Communist had been killed and 61 Americans were wounded.

The battle took a costly toll of U.S. officers. Among them were Maj. Don W. Hollender, voted most valuable player on Army's 1955 football team, and Lt. Col. Terry Allen Jr., whose father commanded the 1st Division in Tunisia and Sicily in World War II.

Hollender, a brigade operations officer, had replaced Allen in command of a battalion after the latter was killed. A battalion intelligence officer and a platoon commander also were killed and two company commanders were wounded.

Hanoi claimed five planes were shot down Tuesday.

As the pace of the war quickened, there were these other developments:

1. The Australian Destroyer Perth came under one of the heaviest coastal shellings of the war off North Vietnam and one hit wounded four of her crewmen. North Vietnamese shore batteries fired an estimated 300 rounds at the Perth, which arrived for duty off Vietnam a month ago.

2. South Korean Marines reported 431 enemy troops killed and 16 captured on the Batangan Peninsula about 350 miles northeast of Saigon in a sweep that began Sept. 5 about 12 miles southeast of the allied base at Chu Lai. The area has been a Communist stronghold for 20 years and an important water supply route for the Reds, a Korean spokesman said. Korean casualties were termed light in the operation.

3. Infantrymen of the U.S. 9th Division, continuing a search of a vast tunnel complex 30 miles east of Saigon, uncovered more enemy weapons and munitions. The huge cache so far has yielded 1,150 weapons and 142,500 rounds of ammunition, division officers reported.

Jury Asked To Convict 17 On Trial

MERIDIAN, Miss. (AP) — The Justice Department asked an all-white federal court today to convict 17 of 18 men on conspiracy charges in the 1964 deaths of three young civil rights workers, but pleaded the other be acquitted.

"What you 12 people do here today will be long remembered," said Asst. U.S. Atty. Gen. John Doar in final arguments. "If you find these men are not guilty, you will declare the law of Neshoba County to be the law of Mississippi."

Doar, using just over an hour to argue the case, said he did not think there was enough evidence for a conviction of Travis M. Barnett, 39, a Meridian garage owner.

The Justice Department contended during the 10-day trial that the militant White Knights of the Ku-Klux-Klan plotted the murders and a band of Klansmen shot the three to death on a backwoods road on June 21, 1964.

Catholics Ask Pope To Liberalize Birth Control

By DAVID MAZZARELLA
ROME (AP) — The world Congress of Roman Catholic laymen, after hours of unruly debate, called on Pope Paul today to liberalize the Church's birth control policy and leave Catholic couples to choose the contraceptive methods they prefer.

The laymen pressed the pontiff for a firm new statement on birth control that would leave the choice of methods "to the conscience of parents in conformity with their Christian faith and in consultation with trained medical and scientific advisers."

The Pope has withheld decision on a papal commission's report last year recommending that the Church ease its ban on the use of any birth control method other than abstinence from sexual relations during a woman's fertile cycle. But there have been indications that the Pope would make no change in the policy.

Five hours of noisy exchanges, walkouts and catcalls preceded overwhelming passage by the heads of 103 national laymen's groups of a resolution advocating "responsible parenthood" by all Christians.

The resolution said: "Facing the anguishing problem of demographic expansion, the assembly recalls the need of a clear statement of the teaching authorities of the Church concentrated on the fundamental moral and spiritual values, without proposing, themselves, scientific or technical solutions to achieve responsible parenthood, leaving the choice of the means to the conscience of parents in conformity with their Christian faith and in consultation with trained medical and scientific advisers."

2,529 Voters Are Signed For Election

With just over two weeks of registration time remaining, there were 2,529 registered voters on the city books at noon Wednesday.

City Clerk Constance Leiser said registration is continuing at a steady pace and many retired persons have been registering or verifying their registration during the past few days.

As a special service to working people, books will be open the three final evenings of registration. On Nov. 2, 3 and 4, the city clerk's office will be receiving registrations during regular business hours. In addition the office will reopen on those three days from 7 to 9 p.m.

Rockefeller Doesn't Want Presidency

By JACK BELL
ABOARD SS INDEPENDENCE (AP) — Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York has made his strongest statement yet to kill off moves by party moderates to push him for the 1968 Republican presidential nomination.

"I do not want to be president," Rockefeller told reporters on the sun deck of this National Governors Conference cruise liner en route to the Virgin Islands.

Gov. Spiro T. Agnew of Maryland, who has never wavered in his support of Rockefeller as the best candidate the GOP could nominate, said the New Yorker's disclaimer sounded "pretty definite."

"I'm convinced he won't run unless he is drafted," Agnew said. "If he were drafted, it would take a pretty emphatic individual to turn it down. But did anybody ever hear of a genuine draft?"

Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller of Arkansas, who discussed the statement with Agnew, said his brother's stand is "no different" now than it was before.

"I am not a candidate," Rockefeller told newsmen Tuesday. "I do not intend to be a candidate. I do not want to be president."

Ike's Ailment Diagnosed By Doctors

WASHINGTON (AP) — Army doctors reported today that former President Dwight D. Eisenhower has a "benign (noncancerous) enlargement of the prostate gland," but that surgery is not indicated at this time.

Doctors at Walter Reed Army Hospital said that Eisenhower had symptoms indicating a partial obstruction within his urinary tract system.

But they said his spirits are good and that he is "up and around" and out of bed.

The statements were given as answers to questions submitted Tuesday night by an Associated Press reporter, not in a formal medical bulletin.

The doctors also said that it has not yet been determined how long Eisenhower will remain in the hospital. He was admitted to the hospital Tuesday with his third illness in five months.

Delay Of Special Legislative Session Depends On Idaho's Banks

By MARK BROWN
BOISE (AP) — Whether a special session of Idaho's legislature can be delayed until after the first of the year appeared today to be dependent upon the state's banking community.

If banks agree to buy — and hold — state deficiency warrants until the legislature can appropriate funds to repay them an immediate special session likely will be avoided.

But if the banks determine that federal rules prevent such procedure, it is likely the lawmakers will be called to Boise within the next two weeks.

A decision was expected by the end of this week.

Knowledge of possible stumbling blocks to banks' cashing state deficiency warrants came public Tuesday after Lt. Gov. Jack Murphy and officials of three Idaho financial institutions conferred.

Murphy announced that "legal technicalities" blocking acceptance of the warrants by banks might necessitate calling a special session of the legislature immediately to pay an estimated $750,000 in fire debts not covered by appropriated state funds or federal disaster money.

Spokesmen for the banks said they are probing the legality of accepting the warrants in light of Federal Reserve Board regulations.

"We're doing all we can to help the State of Idaho through its financial crisis," said Ralph Comstock, president of the First Security Bank of Idaho.

Murphy said the banks are "to be complimented" on their efforts to serve as cashing agents for the warrants, which would be held for six per cent interest.

The only other alternative mentioned is an ill-defined plan to obtain a loan to pay the state's assessment of $193,000 to the Priest Lake Timber Protective Association.

The State Land Department already has sent $100,000 of a $187,500 federal allotment to pay part of the assessment.

The $187,500 is the initial installment of $250,000 allocated to the state when it was declared a federal disaster area in August.

The balance is expected by state officials within 30 days.

Three questions must be answered if the banks are to take the warrants:

—Will the federal reserve system which regulates the banks accept the warrants as legitimate debt instruments?

—May the state legally issue the deficiency warrants?

—If issuance is legal and if federal reserve approval is granted, will the legislature appropriate money to redeem the warrants?

One banker said his legal staff was checking statutes to determine whether the state may legally issue the warrants, even though Atty. Gen. Allan Shepard has said it might.

Another said the question of whether the warrants would constitute a legitimate investment by the bank has been put to officials of the federal reserve system and the U.S. Comptroller of the Currency.

If found agreeable to all parties, the warrants would be handled in this manner:

—The land commissioner would forward claims against the state's fire protection fund to State Auditor Joe Williams who would issue a warrant.

—The holder of the warrant would take it to the bank for cashing.

—The bank would register the warrant with the state treasurer and begin drawing interest.

—Eventually the Idaho Legislature would meet in special session to appropriate enough of the state's estimated 1965-67 general fund budget surplus of $1.5 billion to redeem the warrants.

Thus far, no deficiency warrants have been issued. And land commissioner Gordon Trombley said Tuesday that the $87,500 federal cash in hand comes close to the amount of claims actually presented so far.

Trombley estimated the total direct state costs, including the timber protective district assessment, to be $1.4 million.

The 1967 legislature had appropriated some $400,000 in fire protection and emergency funds. That amount has been spent.

Although Trombley says the $250,000 federal allotment will handle pressing claims, some $750,000 in additional claims are expected before Jan. 1, 1968.

In addition, an undetermined amount of fire suppression charges may be presented to the state by several agencies.

Forecast

Fair today. Increasing clouds tonight. Partly cloudy and cooler Thursday with clearing. Thursday night. Winds 10 to 20 miles per hour and gusty at times Thursday. High in 70s, low in 40s, except Camas Prairie high 65 to 75; low 28 to 36. Rainfall probably 10 per cent or less. Outlook for Friday: Fair with little temperature change. Temperatures at 8 a.m.: 42 at Jerome, 35 at T.F. Weather Bureau with 60 per cent humidity.

Synopsis, Farm Summary

Fair and warm weather with prevail this afternoon with high clouds beginning to move into western valleys. Increasing clouds and moderate south winds will keep temperatures a little milder tonight. Thursday will be partly cloudy and cooler with fairly strong southwest or west winds. Thursday night will be colder again as skies clear and winds subside, with the risk of a hard freeze in most sections, although the coldest temperatures may be delayed till Friday night in eastern valleys. Little or no rain seems to be indicated for the agricultural valleys.

Five-Day Forecast

Atmospheric pressure will be rather high over the plateau much of the time during the next five days and the path of storm centers moving inland from the Pacific will be far to the north in Canada. Temperatures Thursday through Monday will average two to five degrees above normal. Thursday and Friday will be about 10 degrees cooler, followed by slight warming over the weekend. Coldest temperatures appear likely about Thursday night, possibly Friday night in eastern valleys, with early morning readings in the 20s in eastern and north central valleys and in the upper 20s and low 30s in Magic and western valleys. Little or no precipitation of consequence is expected before the middle of next week. Weak cold fronts associated with storm centers moving through western Canada will cause variable cloudiness and fairly strong west or southwest winds at times but little or no rain in most agricultural valleys. Some new snow is likely on the higher mountains to the north and showers may be sufficient to cause some delay in potato harvesting in the upper reaches of the Snake River valley. Otherwise conditions are expected to be suitable for continuing harvest operations and other field work. Sunshine during this period will probably average 70 to 80 per cent of possible, with considerable cloudiness and wind Thursday and near the first of next week.

30-Day Outlook

The 30-day period from mid-October to mid-November will be average warmer and drier than usual. A westerly flow will predominate in the upper air and atmospheric pressure will be high much of the time over the northern Intermountain Region. Temperatures will average two or three degrees above normal. The normal seasonal cooling trend reaches a maximum rate during this period. Normal daily highs drop 15 to 18 degrees from the 60s in mid-October to the middle and upper 40s by mid-November and normal daily lows cool 8 to 11 degrees from the 30s to the 20s during this time. We will also lose about one hour and 20 minutes of daylight between now and the middle of November. Precipitation in the next 30 days will probably not exceed .50 to .75 of an inch. Rains will be associated mostly with Pacific storms moving inland near or north of the Canadian border. These will cause occasional snow in the mountains, but little or no snow should reach into valleys of less than five thousand feet elevation. Better-than-average conditions are indicated for last harvesting, fall plowing and other field work, but the outlook is not so promising for fall seeded grains in dryland areas where moisture is low at this time.

He was named by House Minority Leader Gerald Ford recently to serve in the post. It is the third time Mr. Hansen has served in this capacity.

Mr. Hansen reported Wednesday that House debated legislation to provide for the safety of capitol buildings and grounds.

An attempt to pass the bill three weeks ago was stopped when the House voted to send it back to committee demanding that the President trim at least $5 billion from expenditures during the balance of this fiscal year, Mr. Hansen said.

Work Begins On Hill City, Elmore Road

FAIRFIELD—Construction work has begun on the last link of Highway 68 between Hill City and Mountain Home.

About five miles of the road west from Hill City, already being re-aligned with an entirely new roadbed being constructed that will by-pass the present road to the north. It will eliminate curves and shorten the distance as it will go straight through some farmland in the area.

Work is being done by the Western Construction Co. with their equipment based by the Hill City store. If the weather permits they hope to grade and gravel the road this fall.

Highway 68 construction is an asset to Camas Prairie and the Wood River country as it is a shortcut to Mountain Home and Boise. Construction has been under way the past few years on sections of the road.

This summer all but the last eight miles of the new construction project is completed there will be about 13 miles of the road yet to be oiled to complete the Yellowstone cut-off.

Koch began working at KCAP Radio in Helena in May, 1960, and was made general manager of KCAP in January, 1965, until January, 1967, at which time he was transferred to Missoula to assume the position of sales manager of KGVO Radio. In April of 1967 he became sales manager of KGVO TV.

Koch is a graduate of Hettlinger, N.D., High School and attended the University of Minnesota and the University of Maryland. He is a graduate of the Brown Institute of Radio.

KTFI Radio is a recent addition to the Western Broadcasting Co., which presently owns and operates KGVO Radio and Television in Missoula and KCAP Radio in Helena.

Former Hansen Man Is Injured

HANSEN—Mrs. A. F. Daw reports her brother, Oliver Everett, a former Hansen resident, was injured in an automobile accident last week near Idaho Falls, near his home.

Mr. Everett was in a pickup truck with his stepson and a grandson; when, at dusk, the pickup truck and another car hit almost head-on. None were seriously injured; however, they were hospitalized for observation and treatment. Mr. Everett received head cuts and lacerations and his mouth was injured severely due to broken teeth.

It was believed that drivers of both cars were proceeding slowly, since there were no serious injuries.

The Inns in the top eight per cent were selected on the basis of inspection ratings from the company's team of inspectors who make quarterly reports on all Inns of the chain.

The Holiday Inns of Mason City, Iowa, and Louisville, Ky., tied for the Inn of the Year award.

Equitable Firm Has 'Get Acquainted' Meet

Over 100 Twin Falls and area businessmen met at the Twin Falls Holiday Inn Tuesday to hear an address by Harold C. Cake, president of the Equitable Savings and Loan Association.

Mr. Cake, who is from Portland, was in Twin Falls to answer questions about his organization and to continue arrangements with Ernie Burby, manager of the Twin Falls office of Equitable Savings and Loan Association.

The Twin Falls office is the last of five Idaho offices to open after having purchased some of the assets of the now defunct Idaho Savings and Loan Association.

The mayor of Twin Falls, Egon Kroll, was introduced and commended for his work by the Equitable president, Harold C. Cake.

The president of the Twin Falls Chamber of Commerce, Earl Faulkner, also addressed the group.

According to Mr. Faulkner, "This is the best thing that has happened to Twin Falls in 15 months . . . ever since Idaho Savings and Loan closed. We have a new business in town, much of what was lost by investors will be returned and an empty building in Twin Falls' downtown area is being filled."

The Equitable office in Twin Falls opened officially last Friday, and the first distribution of money to depositors will take place this Friday in front of the present location at 220 Shoshone Street East.

The president of Equitable, Harold C. Cake, commented on the history of the Savings and Loan industry and how it has only been during the past 22 years that the industry has made a significant impact on the financial world.

He discussed the restrictions placed on the savings and loan institutions by the government and states, "It is a good industry," said Mr. Cake. "It is good because individually we are sound . . . Equitable has a broad geographical spread which tends to level out business. We are aggressive in our contacts with people and conservative in our financial outlook."

Equitable has purchased over $7 1/2 million worth of loans from the Commissioner of Finance for Idaho, taking over those assets once held by Idaho Savings and Loan.

Also attending the meeting were George Young of Boise, who is vice president in charge of Idaho operations, and Wilber Bishop, vice president in charge of advertising and public relations.

Fined by Jerome Police Judge C. J. Shupe for speeding were Lonnie R. Martin, 10; Eldon T. Coleman, 14; Chris L. Carlson and Nada L. Kimbrough, both 12, all Jerome.

Linda E. Bartlett and Michael F. Russell, both Jerome, were fined $10 each for failure to stop at the scene of an accident. Also fined by Judge Shupe was Luther M. Bailey, Rogerson, $35, for failure to drive reasonably and prudently.

Nobel Prize Awarded To Three Scientists

STOCKHOLM, Sweden (AP)—The 1967 Nobel prize for physiology or medicine was awarded jointly today to Ragnar Granit of Sweden, Haldan Keffer Hartline of Boston, Mass., and George Wald of Harvard University.

The three scientists were cited by the awarding Royal Caroline Institute medical faculty for "their discoveries concerning the primary chemical and physiological visual processes in the eye."

The prize sum this year amounts to $62,000 to be shared equally among the trio.

Hartline, 64, who studied medicine at Johns Hopkins University of Baltimore, currently works at the Rockefeller University of New York City. He was head of the Johns Hopkins department of biophysics 1949-53 before joining the Rockefeller Institute of New York.

Wald, 61, who is one of the world's greatest authorities on the biochemistry of perception, has been professor of perception, Harvard since 1948. Earlier he studied at Columbia University in New York and, like Hartline, in Germany before the war. He received the Lasker Prize in 1953 and the Rumford Medal in 1959 for his biochemical researches.

Wald is married to the former Ruth Hubbard who has been his collaborator at various experiments in the field of visual perception physiology.

Prof. Granit, born in Helsinki, Finland, in 1900, started his academic career as a psychologist at the University of Helsinki. He took a special interest in the mechanisms of perception early in his career.

Granit is a member of the Royal Society and of the Swedish Academy of Science, which awards the Nobel Prize for physics and chemistry.

Granit started a medical career after being graduated in 1927. As assistant professor of physiology, he obtained a research fellowship at Pennsylvania University where he worked at the same institution as Hartline in 1929-31.

In 1937 Granit was appointed professor of physiology at the University of Helsinki. He joined the Caroline Institute here in 1940 as research professor in neurophysiology.

Farmer-Businessman Dinner Set Nov. 2

RUPERT—The annual Farmer-Businessman dinner sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce, has been set for Nov. 2, according to chamber officials. Mrs. L. A. von Colbert, chamber secretary, said the featured speaker will be Dr. Earl Riley, Salt Lake City minister, and well-known public speaker.

The evening is planned as a dinner and entertainment evening, and is set for 7:30 p.m. at the Catholic Parish Hall.

Keith Nielsen, superintendent of Glacier National Park, spoke at the last chamber meeting. Mr. Nielsen discussed the park itself and many of his experiences with the park service, with which he has been affiliated for 37 years.

Since he became superintendent, Mr. Nielsen said he has instigated a program for providing more camp sites, and there are presently accommodations for 2,500 campers, "far behind our needs." He indicated that during the last six years the camping trend has completely reversed itself, from two-thirds tent campers then to two-thirds wheel campers during the past season.

National legislation has recently provided that an airport be built near the entrance to the park, and the superintendent indicated that this is also indicative of the times.

Government Of France Put In Minority

PARIS (AP)—The French government was put into a technical minority twice early today in a parliamentary vote on sections of the 1968 budget bill. The votes were not on an issue of confidence, however, so the government did not fall.

One vote on an extension of a tax on agriculture went against the government 241-239.

The second vote on an increase of farmers' contributions to an old age benefit plan was a 241-241 tie, which under the rules of the National Assembly meant rejection.

After modifications by the government, the bill was cleared by the assembly and sent to the Senate. The votes indicated the fragility of the Gaullist majority in Parliament.

"It's A Girl"

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Determining the sex of a baby aardvark is difficult, but the people at Miami's Crandon Park Zoo have proven equal to the test. They have a girl aardvark.

Usually the zoo doesn't really care whether its aardvarks are male or female, but this one had the distinction of being the second born in captivity and the first to survive more than a few days.

Dr. Gordon Hubbell, the zoo director, disclosed Tuesday that the gender of Crandon's baby aardvark was determined by the process of elimination and a good deal of waiting.

Joan Baez Receives Jail Sentence

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP)—Folksinger Joan Baez, her mother, Mrs. Joan Baez, and sister, Mimi Farina, were sentenced Tuesday to 10 days each in the county jail for blocking the entrance of the Oakland Army Induction Center Monday.

No alternative of fines was offered.

All had pleaded no contest earlier to charges of disturbing the peace.

They were among 50 persons sentenced to 10 days by Municipal Court Judge Delmar W. Brobst.

A district attorney's spokesman said charges against Miss Baez and her mother and sister of trespass and creating a public nuisance were dropped "in the interests of justice."

WASHINGTON — Sometimes it seems as if the ghost of Oklahoma's Sen. Bob Kerr lurks in the cloakrooms of the Capitol, twisting arms and making deals in behalf of the space empire of Kerr's onetime protege, James

Webb. Despite government-published testimony that Webb's National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA) was guilty of outrageous blundering and casual errors of omission in the Apollo accident that cost the lives of three astronauts, Congress is still making only tentative passes at reducing NASA's budget. In all the talk about economy and the need for higher taxes, Administrator

Webb seems to be immune to any meaningful wing-clipping. With hooraws which might have been better saved for the signing of a Vietnam peace treaty, the House cut $316 million from the $5.1 billion NASA budget more than a month ago. But the other day, the Senate restored $85.5 million of this cut and there is now talk that NASA's lobbyists — mostly agents of peace contractors — have made a deal by which the Senate-House conference will restore another $150 million. I do not pretend to know what kind of a deal has been made, if any. But in matters of this kind, especially with an election coming up next year, the only kind of a deal politicians understand is one promising substantial campaign contributions to the acquiescent legislators. With or without a deal, NASA wheedled a $4.6 billion budget out of the Senate, only $500 million less than it requested.

This is a curious circumstance at a time when the Vietnam war is costing $25 billion a year and problems at home are outpacing the probable benefits of landing a man on the moon. It is even more curious when the worth of the space program has been judged and found wanting by so many members of Congress and by the plain citizen. Congressional mail is heavy with taxpayers' complaints about the huge sums spent on space exploration. Rep. Joseph Karth, D-Minn., noted recently that "of the thousands of letters arriving in Congress every week, none that I know of have asked for an increase in the space budget, and few have opposed cuts." That NASA's deficiencies have penetrated the consciousness of the grass roots is also shown by a recent Harris Poll, which reported that for the first time a majority of Americans wants to abandon the moon project. The poll revealed that 54 per cent of those interviewed felt the project was not worth the cost whereas, in 1965, 45 per cent said it was. Only the fact that the Russians are involved in space exploration lessened the erosion of public sentiment against the space program. The poll showed that if the Russians were not in space, 60 per cent would be opposed to the American program.

Nevertheless, Congress seems determined to muddle along and wind up by administering only a light tap on the wrist to Jim Webb. The man seems to be untouchable, thanks to his background. Congress clearly is still influenced by the fact that Webb's appointment was engineered by Bob Kerr, a pal of Lyndon Johnson's, presumably in return for services rendered by Webb as an employee of Kerr's Oklahoma corporation, Kerr-McGee. But Kerr is dead and Lyndon Johnson is not king. It is therefore rather odd that Congress continues to pamper a man who blocked the celebrated Phillips report critical of spacecraft manufacturing procedures. Webb's explanation of why one Senator had trouble getting NASA to acknowledge the report is typical of his Imperialistic complex. "Some people," said Webb, had put the Senator up to asking for the report. He did not explain what this had to do with NASA's long concealment of the report.

Ma'am, Could You Give A Little Push— The Door's Stuck

The "New" Doctor

Remember the "good old family doctor?" You're showing your age if you do, for there aren't many left.

One who remembers, and laments, is a doctor himself. The general practitioner, writes Leon H. Dembo, M.D., in "Cleveland Physician," the bulletin of the Cleveland Academy of Medicine, is rapidly becoming the forgotten man of medicine.

The GP was the kind, sympathetic, conscientious medic who sat at a patient's bedside asked a few questions, used his eyes, ears, hand and brain, and invariably came up with a correct diagnosis, idealizes Dembo. His treatment was simple but effective. He knew nothing of pretense or synthetic bedside manner. He made house calls any time of the day or night and never was too busy to have a short chat with the family. He was, in brief, a doctor, friend, father-confessor and adviser.

He didn't need a dozen laboratory tests to make a diagnosis, and when he sent a patient to the hospital, "you can bet your Aunt Nellie's pajamas that the patient was seriously ill." In those days, when the specialist was called in, the patient most likely had one foot inside the Pearly Gates.

Years ago, a doctor had 25 to 30 years of general practice behind him before he became a specialist, says Dembo. Today, medical graduates take a year of internship, one of two years of residency in some special field and emerge as specialists.

"Young Doctor X, during his residency at a university hospital, engages in a research project (with a grant of $100,000 or more) on the home life of the kidney glomeruli.

"Cognizant of the 'publish-or-perish' edict, he also writes papers—important papers—such as: 'The Rate of Heat Radiation in Pregnant Chipmunks' or 'The Basal Metabolism of Honda Riders.' These are published in journals specializing in 40-page bombastic articles which are highly successful in befuddling the readers and adding to the sum total of medical confusion."

Now medicine is deep in specialists. We have obstetricians, gynecologists, internists, laryngologists, otologists, proctologists, allergists, ophthalmologists, psychiatrists, neurologists, pediatricians, etc., etc.

Even the specialties are split into sub-groups, so that we have pediatric allergists, pediatric neurologists, cardiac surgeons, vascular surgeons, etc., etc.

We're not far from the point, thinks Dembo, when there will be "dextral" eye specialist who treat only diseases of the right eye and "sinistral" ophthalmologist who take care of left eyes. Or orthopedists who specialize in fractures of the arms, others who limit themselves to fractures of the legs.

The doctor exaggerates, of course, to make a point. No one would want to give up the medical advances of the past 50 years in exchange for a return of the "good old family doctor," no matter how kind, sympathetic and willing to be put-upon he was.

What will happen to the family doctor? asks Dembo. Either he'll become as extinct as the dodo bird or remain in business, as a cartoon in recent medical publication suggested.

It showed a specialist at the bedside of a patient. The caption read: "I and my other consultants would like your permission to call in a general practitioner."

Who knows?—general practice may be the coming specialty.

Election Reform

Election reform is a topic which has given politicians endless mileage with their constituents. If a member of the House or Senate wishes to say something for the record but has temporarily exhausted his repertoire, election reform is always good for an encore.

Election reform is something everyone is in favor of, but nobody ever does anything about. Take the current session of Congress. The Senate has passed unanimously an election reform measure, but the House appears to be hopelessly bogged down in trying to turn the Senate version into something meaningful.

The bill passed by the Senate will never accomplish reform. If for no other reason, it provides for administration of the measure to be put in the hands of the House clerk and Senate secretary who—although entrusted with similar responsibilities in the past—have never reported any violations.

A House version, under consideration by the Administration Committee, would set up a five-member federal elections commission to administer the public disclosure provisions, which are the heart of the proposed bill. Violations would be reported to the Justice Department for prosecution.

Among the main provisions of the House version are an extension of financial disclosures by all candidates to primary contests and conventions, as well as general elections for all presidential, Senate and House nominees. Political committees operating in a single state, now exempt from the law, would be covered under the House version.

The use of political contributions for personal purposes also would be outlawed under the House version, but not under the Senate's. In a number of other ways the House bill is stronger and broader in scope than that of the Senate. If meaningful reform is to be accomplished, it will have to be developed under a plan similar to that proposed in the House. The Senate bill is nothing but a copy of ineffective measures already on the books.

OUR GIFT TO CANADA

Setting about the joyous task of spending billions on an anti-ballistic missile system, the Pentagon generously notes that parts of Southern Canada will share in its benefits. Many Canadian cities as well as American missile bases will be "protected" from Chinese nuclear rockets by the system, so Pentagon officials say, and if the Canadians want to enlarge their own defenses, our Government will be happy to sell them the necessary equipment.

It is too early yet for the returns from Canada, but when they come in we doubt that they will be exactly brimming with gratitude. Canadians are unlikely to be as impressed as the Pentagon is with what may be called the "insane Chinaman" theory of defense.

As Secretary McNamara acknowledged in his speech announcing the decision to build the "light" ABM system against China, the idea of a Chinese missile attack on the United States in the mid-70s lacks a certain credibility. Even if China does acquire by then the nuclear warheads and the rockets to mount such an attack, the disparity between its nuclear power and ours will be so enormous that a Chinese leader would have to be "insane and suicidal," as Mr. McNamara said, to undertake it. Nevertheless the Pentagon insists that our defense strategy must "protect" us against this theoretical mad Chinese. We doubt if most Canadians, who live in a somewhat clearer atmosphere than that of the Pentagon, will agree.

More important still, the Canadians will discover when they think about it that any unsolicited "protection" they get from our missile defense will be offset by the horrible consequences to them if it ever comes into play. If rockets fly from China, they will come over Canada. If our first-line anti-missiles do intercept them in space it will be done above Canada. If Chinese rockets are destroyed they will release clouds of deadly radioactivity which will descend first upon Canada.

Thus it is a vital part of our Chinese-oriented ABM system that a large number of Canadians shall die or become diseased with radiation if the system ever does actually go into operation. We are proposing to defend ourselves by commandeering Canada's air space as the battlefield for the missiles. The Pentagon can say "Sorry about that" but somehow we do not expect Canadians to be comforted.—The Oregonian

MARQUIS CHILDS

Tragedy--The Farce In Greece

WASHINGTON—What is happening in Greece today would be a farce if it were not a tragedy. Aristophanes and Sophocles might have collaborated, with some help from a far-out television script writer, to put together the scenario being played out in Athens.

The military dictatorship is notorious not so much for its cruel repression as for its bungling incompetence. And the lurching from side to side, which at times makes the operation look like a Mack Sennett comedy, causes acute dismay in our State Department. Policy in the department is premised on the wistful belief that somehow the colonels and the generals will get the show back on a Constitutional track.

Greece is in many ways a dramatic illustration of the poverty of American policy. Having put close to $4 billion into the country to save it from communism the end result is a dictatorship by a military junta with fascist attachments that is now saying, "If you don't send more help the communists will get us."

The colonels and the generals would have rejoiced if they could have heard the oratory on the House floor the other day. No less a luminary than L. Mendel Rivers of South Carolina, chairman of the House Armed Services Committee, championed Greece as a loyal NATO ally with a commitment by the United States to Greek security.

The occasion was a measure approving loans of American war vessels to a number of countries. This is a phase of the military aid program which like death and taxes has achieved perpetual status. The United States has on loan to Greece two destroyers and a submarine and the only conclusion from Chairman Rivers' oratory is that these vessels are essential to the defense of the west.

Voices were raised in protest, suggesting that it might be wise at least to see the direction of events in Greece and whether there was any chance for a new constitution with a deadline set for Dec. 15. Rep. Don Edwards (D., Calif.), arguing the need for a debate on American policy toward Greece, pointed to the latest instance of the junta's folly.

Mrs. Helen Vlachos is the courageous publisher of two Athens newspapers. A conservative, she refused to publish under the censorship by the military after the coup on April 21. To publish would simply have meant carrying the official line of the dictatorship both in the news and on the editorial page, and this in all conscience she would not do.

Two weeks ago Mrs. Vlachos talked to newspapermen in her office. She attacked the regime, charging they had failed to live up to a promise to restore freedom of the press. This interview appeared in an Italian newspaper. Later a team from CBS went to Athens to film an interview with Mrs. Vlachos for the Face the Nations program.

Promptly she was put under house arrest, her apartment searched by the military, the threat of trial by a military court for insulting the government held over her head and her husband, a naval hero out of World War II, also under arrest. The maximum sentence could be eight years but it is believed the outcry around the world will at least mitigate her punishment.

As this was going on two prominent Greek officials — Dimitrios Galanis, governor of the Bank of Greece, and Constantine Thanos of the Ministry of Coordination—were calling on government and international loan officials to assure them that everything was lovely in Greece. Despite what they reported as an eight per cent drop in tourism the pair presented figures to show that, thanks to the closing of the Suez Canal, receipts from Greek shipping are up and the fiscal position of the country improved. While, according to officialdom, they made no pitch for more help, 53 house members signed a letter saying that any move to restore aid would do "most serious damage" to America's position in the world.

Some Americans who were in Greece this summer are saying that the people seem happy. Gas station attendants and hotel clerks say they admire the regime. This sounds a bit like the visitors to Italy in the early days of fascism who were so pleased to find that the trains ran on time. One can only wonder what Greeks meeting foreign tourists could be expected to say under a dictatorship where insulting the government is a crime.

ART BUCHWALD

Story About The Three Bears

WASHINGTON — Lynda Bird Johnson has just written an article for McCall's magazine on how she announced her engagement to Capt. Chuck Robb of the U.S. Marine Corps. In the article she tells that she crawled on her hands and knees into her mother's bedroom at three in the morning, and, finding her mother gone, crawled into her father's bedroom, woke them both up and got into bed with them and announced she was going to get married. So help me, I didn't make a word of this up. It's all there in McCall's for everybody to read.

And then there were these three bears. There was Papa Bear, Lady Bear and Lynda Bear. "One night they came home and Papa Bear said, 'Someone's been sleeping in my bed.'" Lady Bear said, "Someone's been sleeping in my bed." And Lynda Bear said, "Someone's been sleeping in my bed." Papa Bear said to Lady Bear, "How do you know someone's been sleeping in your bed?" "Because I was sleeping in YOUR bed."

"And how do you know someone's been sleeping in your bed?" he asked Lynda Bear. "Because I looked for mama in her bed, and then I looked for her in your bed, and then I got into bed with both of you."

"Well, then, who slept in Mama's bed?" Papa Bear asked. "You did," Lady Bear replied. "You said the Lincoln bed wasn't big enough for three people."

"That's right. I did say that. OK, but who slept in Lynda Bear's bed?"

"I did," said Lady Bear. "Why?" Papa Bear demanded.

"Because you were sleeping in my bed."

"That's right, Papa. None of us did get too much sleep."

"Let's get this straight," Papa Bear said. "I slept in Mama's bed, Mama slept in in Lynda Bear's bed and Lynda Bear slept in my bed."

"That's correct, Papa. I drove the Secret Service bears crazy," Lady Bear said. "What I don't understand," Papa Bear said, "is why Lynda Bear couldn't sleep in her own bed." "Because I'm going to marry Chuck Bear and I wanted to tell you about it. Don't you remember?"

"All I remember is seeing you down on your hands and knees, and the thought occurred to me you should be walking upright. You're a big bear now."

"I was just pretending I was a baby bear," Lynda Bear said. "Like I used to when I was little."

"That's right, Papa," Lady Bear said. "Don't you remember how she used to crawl to us when she had something to tell us?"

"I suppose so, but let's get tonight squared away. Who's going to sleep in whose bed?"

"You sleep in your own bed, Papa. I'll sleep in my own bed, and Lynda Bear will sleep in her bed."

"Won't the other bears think that's kind of grizzly?"

"Who would tell them?" Lady Bear said. Lynda Bear said, "I have to. I'm writing a piece on the hibernating of bears for McCall's magazine."

About The Pill

Since writing, in answer to a nursing mother, that contraceptive pills would not be harmful to her or her baby I have received a communication from La Leche League International which states that these pills should not be taken by nursing mothers. The chief reason is that they dry up the mother's milk supply. The drug may also appear in the milk and cause enlargements of the infant's breasts. For these reasons other means of contraception should be used as long as the mother is nursing her baby.

Q—A neighbor boy, 8, is always hitting his 7-year-old sister very hard in the kidney region with his fists. The father says this is doing no harm. What do you think?

A—Heavy blows to the kidney region may cause blood to appear in the urine—not necessarily gross blood but blood that can be detected by a chemical test. Regardless of whether or not this boy is causing physical injury to his sister, he is developing an abnormal behavior pattern that will be hard to overcome unless it is checked promptly and completely. This type of behavior can hurt him psychologically and socially.

Q—My aunt says you don't think it proper for girls in high school to take showers together. What are your reasons?

A—I don't recall making such a statement and would be interested to know what reasons prompted someone else to make it. Boys take showers together without suffering any evil consequences, and in some highly civilized countries entire families bathe together without benefit of swim suits. It all depends on what you are used to.

Q—Our son was born with hypospadias. He has had several operations to correct it. What effect does this condition have on a child?

A—in this congenital defect in boys there is a failure of the urethral groove of the embryo to close. As a result the urethral opening may lie anywhere in the penis short of the normal location. The condition should be corrected in early childhood to prevent your son from developing a feeling of inferiority. This usually requires a plastic operation in two or more stages. If the operation is successful, the victim can lead a normal life in every way.

Delinquent Youth

WASHINGTON (NEA) — The Russians are having their own problems with delinquent youth. These problems, of course, have led to intensive official studies.

The Soviet investigators looked into "capitalistic influences," but were unable to place the blame there.

Instead, they found 80 per cent of the delinquency cases they looked into were connected with "parental neglect."

These men concluded that a major cause of juvenile delinquency in the Soviet Union today is parental "indulgence." They placed heavy blame on parents who accustomed their children to "unjustified gratification" of their desires.

The Russian investigators found that as income goes up, the parents are more indulgent. The overindulgence of some children, the investigators said, in turn seemed to stimulate their classmates to demand equal rights to indulge themselves. This put the pressure on the nonindulgent parents to follow along with the indulgers.

The researchers noted that half the juvenile crimes were committed at hours when the young people should have been at home if the parents had been living up to their responsibilities.

The data showed that the percentage of lawbreakers among youngsters raised in what the investigators called "incomplete" families was 50 per cent to 200 per cent greater than in "complete" families.

"Incomplete" families were homes in which there was only one parent or in which one parent was away constantly on prolonged trips or inactive because of a long illness. Families in which both the father and mother worked were also "incomplete."

The research men decided the reason for this high percentage of lawbreakers from "incomplete" homes was because in these families youngsters were not watched over adequately.

Other findings:

A fourth to a third of the delinquents were children of parents who drank heavily.

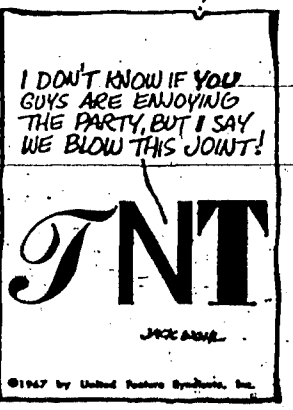

Only 10 per cent of the employed youngsters who committed crimes while intoxicated had learned to drink after they had begun work. Ninety per cent had learned the drinking habit at home from their parents.

Constant family quarreling and fighting exist in half of the homes which produce juvenile delinquents.

Most juvenile delinquents neither worked nor went to school. Most of those in school were two to three years behind. Less than a seventh were at the proper grade level.

Do these findings sound familiar? They give no comfort to those who argue that the cause of juvenile delinquency is in the social system, in poverty or in a lack of opportunity.

"Sound Of Music" Auditions Scheduled

The children of this area will have a chance to "get into the act" this spring when the Dilettante Group of Magic Valley presents "The Sound of Music."

The show, which is a lively musical comedy set in Austria, features the seven Von Trapp children. All seven are principal parts that feature singing, acting and dancing.

Because of the large number of children's leads, the group will be conducting children's auditions differently this year. At 2 p.m. Saturday an open house will be held for children interested in auditioning for a part.

The aspiring young actors and actresses must be accompanied by at least one adult. The open house will be at Washington School auditorium. Purpose of the open house will be to acquaint the children with the show and what will be expected of them at auditions and at rehearsals.

The children will not be expected to perform during the open house. A preliminary audition will be conducted at 2 p.m. Oct. 28 at the Washington School auditorium. Final auditions will be announced later.

Any child in the valley interested in joining "The Sound of Music" cast is urged to attend the open house Saturday. Anyone who is not able to attend, but desires to attend auditions, should call Larry Harvey at 733-9697 or Mrs. Robert Blastock Jr. at 326-4935 in Ellet.

The Von Trapp children, Liesl, Friedrich, Louisa, Kurt, Brigitta, Marta and Gretl, and their parents have been made famous through the stage and screen productions of "The Sound of Music." The ages of the five girls and two boys range from 16 on down.

"SEE MY LEDERHOSEN," says Renee Slotten, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Slotten, to Lance Harvey, son of Mr. and Mrs. Larry Harvey, and Mrs. Marion Tanner. Lederhosen are the leather shorts all good Austrian children wear. The two children are attired in the costumes in preparation for children's events scheduled in connection with the Dilettante Group of Magic Valley's production of "The Sound of Music," a musical comedy set in Austria. The seven Von Trapp children play principal roles in the show. Mrs. Tanner is a member of the group's board of directors and is on the audition committee.

Typhoon Kills 35 Persons Near Manila

MANILA (AP) — Thirty-five persons have been reported killed in Typhoon Carla, which raked the northern tip of the Philippines with 90 mile per hour winds Tuesday before moving into the South China Sea.

Hardest hit was Baguio, a mountain resort 97 miles north of Manila where 21 children and five women were buried in a landslide.

About 60,000 acres of rice paddies were laid waste and officials said 20,000 or more tons of rice may have been lost. Roads, bridges and railroad tracks were washed out, leaving several towns isolated.

The typhoon today was reported heading in the general direction of Hong Kong and the Chinese mainland.

Fur Flies
PITTSBURGH (AP) — Stolen furs went flying in one direction, and the crooks in another. Police got the furs—but not the crooks.

Acting on a tip, police moved in on an uptown apartment Tuesday hoping to bag the thieves and stolen furs worth $20,000.

They said the sound of their footsteps apparently alerted the occupants who hurriedly tossed 30 furs out a window.

Police said the three dashed out a back door, hoping to pick up the furs, but had to flee without them.

Project OK'd
WASHINGTON (AP) — Two neighborhood youth corps projects — one in Boise and the other in Troy — have been approved, Sen. Frank Church, D-Idaho, said Tuesday.

Church said the projects would be financed in part with $40,000 federal funds.

Arsonists May Have Set Part Of California Fires

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Fire fighters say arsonists may be responsible for at least a third of the 50,000 acres that have been destroyed by Southern California brush fires.

One major fire still raged uncontrolled late Tuesday, a 7,000-acre blaze edging into Los Padres National Forest north of Santa Paula, about 50 miles northwest of Los Angeles. Fire officials said the blaze had a perimeter of about 12 miles, with about four miles of that perimeter burning out of control, but that it was moving steadily away from populated areas and into rugged mountain terrain.

An earlier fire in the Santa Paul area roared across 15,000 acres and burned within a quarter-mile of the town before firemen brought it under control Tuesday.

A spokesman for the California Division of Forestry said Tuesday night arson investigations are being made in at least three of the fires that have shortly before the fire broke out. The fire joined another blaze to form a 25,000-acre inferno.

He said the combined fire, which raged out of control through Sunday and Monday, was 90 to 95 per cent contained late Tuesday. It menaced the town of Thousand Oaks and forced evacuation of 50 homes and two schools before firemen and winds turned it back.

JOB UNIFORM
BOISE (AP)—Uniform job classification under Idaho's new merit system probably will be put into effect by Jan. 1, Personnel Director William H. Petersen said Wednesday.

A study preparatory to adoption of the uniform program has been under way for several months, Petersen said. In the past there was pirating of employees by one state department from another. The merit system, including uniform job classification and pay scales, was authorized by the 1965 Legislature.

BACK TO DUTY
HONOLULU (AP)—A Boise soldier is back to normal duty at Ft. Shafter today, instructed to learn the value of patience. Spec. 6 Richard E. Westly, Boise, was stopped by army officials here just before boarding a commercial airline flight to Vietnam.

Lt. Col. W. G. Barrett said Westly had requested a transfer from Ft. Shafter to Vietnam earlier this year. The soldier was told to wait until his request goes through channels.

SUGGESTS LIGHTS
BOISE (AP)—Lt. Gov. Jack Murphy suggested Tuesday that while driving in Idaho, motorists keep headlights on night and day through Sunday. "Each driver who does so will be encouraging others to do the same and to drive in a safe and sane manner," he said.

ALLOTMENT VIEWED
BOISE (AP)—A second quarterly allotment in public school monies to school districts brings to nearly $8 million the amount distributed so far this year, the Idaho Department of Education said Tuesday. The state's 117 school districts are due to receive more than $32 million in state funds during the current fiscal year, D. F. Engelking, superintendent of public instruction, said.

Western Teachers Slow To Strike
BURLINGAME, Calif. (AP)—West Coast teachers are more reluctant to strike than their Midwest, Northeast and Southeast counterparts, a National Education Association opinion poll shows. Western teachers are the least enthusiastic about strikes because California, Oregon and Washington legislators have passed professional negotiations laws, he said.

INJURIES FATAL
COEUR D'ALENE, Idaho (AP)—A resident of Worley, Idaho—Virgil Westerlund, 56—died Monday night in a Coeur d'Alene hospital of injuries received in a traffic accident two weeks ago.

Idaho state police said Westerlund was injured in a one-car accident on a rural road near Worley Oct. 3. His death was the 22nd in Idaho traffic this year—one more than on the corresponding date last year.

CITIZENS HONORED
BOISE (AP)—The chairman of the First Security Bank of Idaho's board of directors has been named Idaho Chamber of Commerce distinguished citizen for 1967. He is J. Lynn Driscoll, cited by the chamber for "his record of achievement, devotion to principle, and service to his corporation."

The award is made annually by the Idaho chamber.

Romney's Opportunity Yanked Away

WASHINGTON (AP)—An opportunity to tell a congressional committee the details behind his now-famous charge that he was "brainwashed" on Vietnam has been abruptly yanked away from Gov. George Romney. Rep. Wayne L. Hays, D-Ohio, said Tuesday (the House) Foreign Affairs subcommittee he heads would not hold hearings after all to get the lowdown on Romney's claim that he was given slanted briefings during a 1963 tour of Vietnam.

The announcement that the hearings would be scratched followed by one day Romney's acceptance of an invitation to testify. Hays said the subcommittee's only reason for wanting to hear from Romney was to find out whether State Department personnel had given false information to the Michigan governor and other governors making the VIP inspection trip.

Hays noted that Romney's chief present foreign affairs adviser, Jonathan Moore, was a State Department official who did some of the briefing for the governors' tour in 1965. Hays claimed he was dropping plans for hearings because Romney's letter of Monday and one that came from Moore at the same time answered the questions the subcommittee had been reading.

Attack Mounts Against Import Quotas

By JOE HALL
WASHINGTON (AP)—The Johnson administration mounts a massive counterattack before the Senate Finance Committee today against a congressional drive to slap import quotas on commodities ranging from steel to milk. Five Cabinet officers, led by Secretary of State Dean Rusk, and the President's top trade negotiator, William M. Roth, will present the administration's case. They are trying to put down one of the strongest threats to the nation's liberal trade policies since the reciprocal trade law was enacted in 1934. The law has led to continuing tariff reductions which culminated last June in cuts averaging 35 per cent on 6,000 items.

The State Department has described the congressional push as a "protectionist threat to the overall prosperity of the American people and the foreign relations of the United States." Roth has said if the quotas are enacted, swift retaliation by U.S. trading partners could cut U.S. exports by more than $3.3 billion.

Who says they don't make Westerns like they used to?

Remember what was so great about the Westerns you used to see as a kid? It was the action, wasn't it? Plenty of action. And entertainment you didn't need an analyst along to explain. You were given a Good Guy, a Bad Guy and a Pretty Girl. And action.

George Peppard's the Good Guy. He only draws when drawn on. But if he carved notches, he'd have no handle.

Dean Martin's the Bad Guy. The top gun in a town of guns. And his sense of humor is very limited.

Jean Simmons is the Pretty Girl. She once loved the bad guy but waits for the good guy.

United Fund Supports Varied YMCA Activity In Twin Falls

The Twin Falls United Fund Drive, with a goal of $72,000, will help the Young Women's Christian Association, along with seven other agencies.

This is just one of the agency stories. Others will appear individually throughout the month, as the drive progresses.

The YWCA serves women and girls, and sometimes boys, in the community by providing opportunities for people to get together, work and learn. The association provides many varied programs, according to Mrs. Luther Thompson, spokeswoman.

There are three Y-teen clubs. The YWCA furnishes the physical plant for gatherings and the association sponsors two Y-wives Clubs. In the latter, wives learn homemaking skills, develop leadership and serve the community as a service club.

Mrs. Thompson said the association is interested in helping migrant women and their children, and work goes on to provide for the needs of these mothers.

A camp program for children, most of whom could not go to camp without aid, is sponsored each summer by the YWCA, in cooperation with the YMCA.

The Youth Legislature each year is part of YWCA activities. The association also provides athletic programs.

Work done by the YWCA is financed by membership dues, special events, gifts from women in the community and the United Fund.

Plant facilities are shared by the YWCA.

Mrs. Thompson said some of the programs are self-supporting, but costs of an executive secretary, clerical help, utilities, janitorial work, insurance, and equipment must be met through donations or by other means.

She said the community needs the YWCA and "the YWCA needs the community's help through the United Fund."

China's Last Emperor Dies

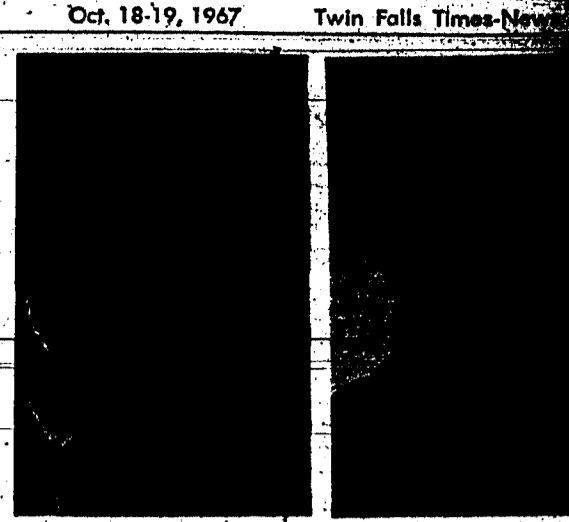

TOKYO (AP) — Henry Pu Yi, last emperor of China and Manchukuo, died Tuesday in Peking of complications resulting from cancer, a Japanese newspaper reported today. He was 61.

Born in Peking in 1906, Pu Yi became emperor under the title of Hsuan Tung when he was two years old. He succeeded his uncle, Emperor Kuang Hsu.

The Ching dynasty ended when Pu Yi abdicated in 1912 at the age of six, after the Chinese republican revolution succeeded.

The Japanese later made him emperor of the puppet state of Manchukuo they created in northeast China.

The Peking correspondent of the newspaper Nihon Keizai said Pu Yi died of leukemia after suffering from kidney cancer.

Sun Valley Airlines Plans Sale Of Stock

A public subscription of stock in Sun Valley Airlines, the money to be used to finance improvements in equipment and routes, was announced in Twin Falls Wednesday by D. J. Wilkins, president.

The airline, with fixed base located at the Gooding municipal airport, now operates a daily flight each morning from Gooding to Sun Valley to Twin Falls.

Mr. Wilkins, who resides at Gooding, said that the airlines boarded 4,769 passengers on scheduled flights from March 1, 1965, to March 31, 1967.

The first scheduled flight of the line, which operates under license by the Federal Aviation Administration, was made on Dec. 26, 1964. Since that time, for instance, it has accommodated more Sun Valley passengers than any other air service, Mr. Wilkins points out.

The stock, he said, will be offered only to residents of Idaho and a value of $100 a share has been placed on it. It will be non-assessable. A total of 1,240 shares will be offered at this time.

Officers of the airline in addition to Mr. Wilkins, as listed in the prospectus, include W. W. Knox, Glenns Ferry, board chairman; Peter J. Boyd, Caldwell, first vice president; K. Ray Barlow, Burley, second vice president; and Allie M. Wilkins, Gooding, secretary-treasurer.

At the present time, shop facilities are maintained at Gooding. Construction of a waiting room at the Halley airport has been requested and this is expected to be completed next year. A waiting room at the Salt Lake City municipal airport is maintained at Gate 8 of the South Concourse.

Full particulars regarding the company and the stock offering, according to Mr. Wilkins, can be had by contacting airline headquarters in Gooding.

Fourth Solar Observatory Is Ready

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — The National Aeronautics and Space Administration is set to launch the fourth in its series of orbiting solar observatories to study the sun and how it affects conditions on earth and other planets.

The satellite, OSO 4, is scheduled to ride into space aboard a three-stage Delta rocket between 11:58 a.m. and 12:22 p.m. (EDT). The space agency hopes to settle it into an orbit 350 miles above the earth, where its instruments can peer at the sun from above the distorting blanket of the atmosphere.

The 599-pound payload carries nine experiments to continue solar investigations begun by three earlier OSOs launched in 1962, 1965 and earlier this year.

A total of seven observatories is planned in the series to chart a full 11-year solar cycle—from a quiet period in 1962 through a period of peak activity when numerous explosions on the sun spill torrents of radiation into space. A period of maximum activity is just starting to build.

Steinbeck's Son Arrested In Drug Case

WASHINGTON (AP) — Novelist John Steinbeck's son, John Steinbeck IV, has been arrested for maintaining an apartment where police say they found a large quantity of marijuana and other narcotics paraphernalia.

Twenty pounds of "pot" was found in a suitcase belonging to Steinbeck, police said.

The 21-year-old Steinbeck, who is assigned by the Army to duty at the Naval Weapons Plant here, pleaded innocent Tuesday night to possession of marijuana and maintaining "a common nuisance."

His trial in the Court of General Sessions was scheduled for Nov. 16.

"I certainly hope this business doesn't upset him," he said of his father, "because I am afraid he is in serious condition."

The elder Steinbeck, winner of the Nobel Prize for his writings, is in a New York City hospital for an exploratory operation for a tumor, his son said.

Young Steinbeck, a specialist fourth class, recently returned from service in Vietnam. In his present assignment he is a writer and announcer in a publications unit.

In his spare time, he said, he has been preparing an article for "The Washingtonian" magazine on narcotics use by American servicemen in Vietnam.

The magazine's publisher, Laughlin Phillips, confirmed that Steinbeck was preparing "a couple" of articles.

Demonstration Honors Guevara

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

MOSCOW (AP) — Latin-American students in Moscow memorialized Ernesto Che Guevara today in a demonstration outside the U.S. Embassy after Pravda hailed him as a revolutionary hero.

About 150 students from Patrice Lumumba University assembled in front of the embassy with pictures of Guevara. They chanted anti-American slogans, daubed an American diplomat's car with red ink and shook their fists at the people inside the Embassy.

Conservatives Keep Control In Ontario

TORONTO (AP) — Premier John Robarts and the Conservative party have retained control of Ontario's provincial government but in the election Tuesday made their weakest showing since 1948. The Socialist New Democratic party scored the biggest gains.

A surprisingly heavy vote gave the Conservatives 69 seats, the Liberals 28 and the NDP 20 in the enlarged 117-seat legislature. The result put the Conservatives 21 seats above the combined opposition. Their majority was 46 seats after elections in 1963.

Two veteran Cabinet ministers were among the Conservative losers, while a Conservative husband and wife team were elected.

The Conservatives have been in office since 1943.

Farm Union Leader Makes Charges

WASHINGTON (AP) — Immigration Service inspectors took the other way rather than stop farm workers from Mexico from being used as strikebreakers, a farm union leader charges.

A Labor Department regulation prohibits Mexican day workers who enter the United States with "green card" residence permits from working on farms where strikes are in progress unless they were hired before the strikes began.

But the rule is widely ignored, Cesar Chavez, director of the AFL-CIO United Farm Workers organizing committee, said Tuesday in a radio interview.

"For instance, when we approached the Immigration Service in Bakersfield, Calif., with a request that they go into the fields and investigate," Chavez said, "we were told point blank that they were unwilling to do so because if they went behind our picket lines looking for the green cards they would incur the wrath of the growers."

Dear Abby

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN
DEAR ABBY: My husband and I are friends with another couple and we visit back and forth in each other's houses all the time.
 Please understand, they are very nice people, but something puzzles us. This man has the walls of his den covered with "PLAYMATES OF THE MONTH." (You know, those big-busted girls from Playboy magazine.)
 His wife doesn't seem to mind, but how about the children? They have three, the oldest is 6. Those youngsters go in and out of the den all the time. I know it's nature and all of that, but it seems so vulgar to me.
 Do you think it could do the children any harm?
FORT WAYNE

DEAR FORT WAYNE: It won't do the children any harm, but it might confuse them when they're told to go out and find themselves some "playmates."

DEAR ABBY: This will probably seem trivial to you, but it is a big problem to me. My mother died when I was born, so my father named me Louise, after mother.
 I am now 32 and happily married. My husband doesn't especially like the name Louise, so he calls me Lou.
 Well, every time my father hears him call me that he becomes very angry and there's an argument. My father says my name is Louise and not Lou, and I should be called LOUISE.

 My husband says that I am his wife and he will call me Lou if he wants to.
 Honestly, Abby, this is for real. What is the solution?
LOUISE OR LOU?

DEAR LOUISE: Since you were named for your mother who died at your birth, it wouldn't hurt your husband to call you LOUISE. If only to please your father. But if your husband is adamant, your father shouldn't make an issue of it.

DEAR ABBY: After repeated invitations, my husband and I decided to visit my sister and her husband. Before starting out on the trip, we telephoned to let them know when to expect us. After driving 1,200 miles, we arrived to find the lights on in their home, the door wide open, and a note saying they were out, but we should help ourselves to whatever we found in the refrigerator, and if we didn't want to wait up for them to go to bed.

My husband wanted to turn around and walk out right then and there, but I persuaded him to take me out to dinner. We returned two hours later, and they still weren't home. The phone rang several times, but since it wasn't our home, we let it ring. At midnight my sister and her husband appeared.
 They weren't in the least apologetic, in fact they were rude, bawling us out for being so dumb as to let the phone ring. We stayed a week, during which time they had three pre-scheduled social engagements, which they kept, leaving us home alone to shift for ourselves.
 What kind of treatment would you call this? And how should we behave toward them in the future?
INSULTED

DEAR INSULTED: The treatment was shabby. And if you maintain more than a distant, polite relationship with these people they will have every reason to assume that either you enjoy being insulted, or are too insensitive to recognize a snub when you get one.

Troubled? Write to Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Calif. 90069. For a personal reply, enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Landowner, Sportsmen Council Of Magic Valley To Be Started Thursday

On the near-eye of two of Magic Valley's biggest hunting seasons, a Magic Valley Landowner-Sportsmen Council will be organized at 8 p.m. Thursday at the Holiday Inn in Twin Falls.

With the South Hills deer season opening this weekend and pheasant shooting slated to begin Oct. 28, the meeting is designed to help both sides prepare for the onslaught.

The Southern Idaho Fish and Game Association, a Twin Falls area sportsmen group, is spearheading the organization. At the moment, it is drawing support from Vern Ravenscroft, Hagerman, state council president and Gooding County legislator, plus agricultural and farming interests and the three governmental agencies closest to the situation.

Fred Frith, Twin Falls, is serving as chairman of the Thursday meeting, and reports invitations have been mailed to all Granges, Farm Bureaus, livestock associations and other agricultural groups in Magic Valley. He noted some may have been overlooked in compiling the mailing list and urged anyone interested to attend regardless of contact by mail.

He held a meeting similar to this at the request of some farm organizations in the Eden-Hazleton district a couple of weeks ago and everyone thought it was very beneficial to both sides," Frith said. "The farmers were able to get complete and accurate answers concerning questions about their rights and so were the sportsmen."

"Both sides feel that the breakdown in contact between the factions is the basis for most of the trouble that springs up every fall. Of course, we don't pretend that even with a maximum participation from all parties that we will not have a few incidents. Our basic aim is to keep both sides up to date on all legislative and other changes and to reduce these unfortunate incidents to the very minimum."

Ravenscroft, who has been active in this continuing struggle for years, brings both sides of the coin with him to all council meetings. He is a farmer in the Hagerman area and also an ardent sportsman. He is an articulate speaker and a big plus for the Thursday meeting which is designed to be to the point and as brief as possible without missing anything appropriate. Ed Scholes, regional enforcement supervisor for the Idaho Fish and Game Department, and Martel Morache, regional conservation educator, will be able to provide answers to all questions pertaining to trespass laws and the department. Officials also will represent the Bureau of Land Management and the Forest Service.

Don Zuck, president of the sponsoring association, said this marks his group's first major step into the area of landowner-hunter relations. "Our association for many years now has been providing hunting by permission-only signs for landowners and completed several projects aimed at specific parts of this problem but now we are committed to it entirely and for the future."

Williams Surprised By Manager Award

RIVIERA BEACH, Fla. (AP) — "I'm the one who's overwhelmed," said Boston Red Sox Manager Dick Williams when informed Tuesday that he was an overwhelming choice as the American League's Manager of the Year.

Williams did not know he had been chosen until reached by a sports writer in mid-afternoon. Of the 397 baseball writers and broadcasters who participated in the annual Associated Press poll, 324 voted for the 38-year-old manager.

"It's wonderful," Williams said. "I'm so pleased and happy. I want to thank all members of the Associated Press who had anything to do with the vote."

"It really is one of the great personal rewards of the year," he said. "I really am surprised."

Asked if during the season he had any hopes of being named American League Manager of the Year, Williams replied:

"Now and then I thought about it, but once we'd won the pennant, individual laurels meant nothing compared to the team result."

"I think (Carl) Yastrzemski and (Jim) Lonborg should be the Most Valuable Player and Cy Young winners. Then if Dick O'Connell should be recognized as the No. 1 front office man, we would really have a sweep."

Williams referred to Richard H. O'Connell, executive vice president and general manager of the Red Sox.

Eddie Stanky of the Chicago White Sox was a distant second in the balloting, with 35 votes. Bill Rigney of California placed third with 15 followed by Mayo Smith of Detroit, nine, and Cal Ermer, Minnesota, eight.

Mets Welcome Hodges To New York

NEW YORK (AP) — The New York Mets bid a grateful welcome to Gil Hodges Tuesday with the unstated yet heartfelt hope that he could deliver them from the cellar in which they have dwelled for nearly all of their National League existence.

Hodges, former Brooklyn Dodger star who left the Washington Senators' managerial spot to sign on with the Mets last week, was the star at a luncheon at Shea Stadium where the club hierarchy congratulated him and itself on his three-year contract.

The Mets also took the occasion to announce the signing of three of Hodges' coaches with the Senators. Al "Rube" Walker will be the pitching coach, Joe Pignatano will work in the bullpen and Eddie Yost will coach at third base.

Yogi Berra remains the lone coaching holdover from the 1967 Mets. Sheriff Robinson, Harvey Haddix and Salty Parker all departed along with retiring manager Wes Westrum.

"I really am surprised," he said. "I really am surprised."

Lakers Edge Chicago 107-105

CHICAGO (AP) — The Los Angeles Lakers lost a 17-point advantage but fought off a furious fourth-quarter surge to edge the Chicago Bulls 107-105 in a National Basketball Association contest Tuesday night.

The victory was the first for the Lakers against no losses while the Bulls suffered their second straight setback.

Confidence Is Soaring In Rookie Star

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Kent Nix was thrown into the Pittsburgh Steelers' quarterback job three weeks ago, a nervous and scared rookie.

"I just wasn't sure of myself," he said. "I was real nervous — but I guess that's to be expected. I wasn't sure I could do the job. I didn't have confidence in myself."

Now Nix says the pressure has lessened and his confidence soars with each game. Although the Steelers have lost all three, he's conceded a good chance to keep his job even when Bill Nelsen comes off the injured reserve list.

"Every game I feel less pressure and more confidence in knowing what I can do," Nix says. "I feel I've done an adequate job but I'm still not wholly satisfied. I've got a lot to learn."

Nix, the only first-year quarterback playing regularly in the National Football League, was an instant hit with the Pittsburgh fans by doing well some of the things that gave Nelsen trouble.

They like the way he avoids being thrown for losses, scrambling when in trouble, throwing under pressure, or out of bounds if necessary. And each week he gets better.

Nelsen was dumped nine times in two games and it looked like the Steelers again would lead the league in quarterback losses. But since Nelsen has been out, Nix has been thrown for losses only five times.

Toscano Named Back Of Week

DENVER (AP) — Paul Toscano of Wyoming, who led a 28-0 victory over Utah Saturday, has been named Western Athletic Conference back-of-the-week for the second time this season.

Toscano threw two touchdown passes Saturday to bring his season record to 12, one below the school record for a season. In the five games he has scored twice, the last time in Saturday's game. He completed 10 of 19 passes for 126 yards Saturday.

Toscano also was named WAC back-of-the-week after the Cowboys defeated Air Force 37-10. Split end Phil Odle of Brigham Young earlier was named WAC lineman-of-the-week for his play Saturday against Oregon State, in which he had 11 receptions for 504 yards and 13 touchdowns in four games. Odle has had this season.

'Bama-Tennessee Tilt To Scramble National Ratings

By MIKE RECHT, Associated Press Sports Writer

Alabama's Crimson Tide is making a strong comeback after an early season difficulties. The Tennessee Volunteers have moved onto the list of ranking teams in the Associated Press college football poll for the first time this year.

The two Southeastern Conference teams clash head-on Saturday and the loser is likely to meet the same fate that befell Notre Dame. The Irish are conspicuous by their absence from the Top Ten after their 24-7 setback by top-ranked Southern California.

The Trojans have no easy target this weekend, either. They'll be playing Washington on the Huskies' field. The Huskies have been flexing their muscles after dropping their opener to Nebraska, and have won four games in succession, including a 26-0 trouncing of Oregon last Saturday.

Southern California collected 36 first-place votes and 432 points in the balloting by a national panel of 444 sports writers and broadcasters based on games through last weekend. USC has a 5-0 mark.

Purdue remained in the No. 2 spot after trampling Ohio State 41-6. The Boiler-makers drew seven first-place votes and 389 points on a basis of 10 points for a first-place vote, 9 for second etc.

Georgia's 29-20 loss to Mississippi dropped the Bulldogs from third to eighth in the standings and resulted in additional position-shifting.

UCLA, a 37-14 winner over California, took over the No. 3 spot. Colorado, which beat Missouri 23-9, zoomed from sixth to fourth and North Carolina State, a 31-9 victor over Maryland, leaped from ninth place to fifth.

Alabama moved up one notch to sixth followed by Tennessee. Houston, idle last Saturday, advanced from 10th to ninth and Wyoming, another new team in the rankings, took over the No. 10 slot.

Nebraska, beaten by Kansas 10-0, dropped from the list of the first 10. The Cornhuskers were No. 8 a week ago.

Idaho Will Try To Break Tradition

MOSCOW, Idaho (AP) — This coming Saturday in Eugene, Ore., the University of Idaho Vandals will try to break a 17-year-old "tradition" of losing to the University of Oregon Ducks.

Tuesday, Vandal football coach Steve Musseau had his eyes set on breaking the "losing tradition" and sent his team through what was described as "a rough and tumble scrimmage."

The Vandals have not beaten the Ducks in a grid clash since 1950.

"We are going to be up against a hard-nosed football team and I want the Vandals to be ready," said Musseau.

Saturday's game will start at 1:30 p. m. in Eugene's new Aut-wen Stadium.

Unbeaten Frazier Stops Utah Boxer On Technical Knockout In 2nd Round

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Unbeaten Joe Frazier scored a technical knockout over Tony Doyle of Salt Lake City, Utah, in 1:04 of the second round of their heavyweight fight Tuesday night for his 18th victory.

The 204-pound Philadelphia dropped the 23-year-old Doyle for a count of eight in the opening seconds of the second round of a scheduled 10-round bout, then finished him with a barrage of rights and lefts to the body and face.

Doyle, who came in at 197½, landed less than a half dozen light jabs during the abbreviated fight. Referee Zack Clayton said that after Frazier decked Doyle with a left hook, he could see nothing but the whites of Doyle's eyes.

Frazier, who is ranked the number one contender by Ring Magazine for Cassius Clay's vacated heavyweight title and ninth in the World Boxing Association's rankings, never worked up a sweat as he polished off a hand-picked opponent.

Doyle played the part of a road runner from the first bell as he backed away and moved from side to side. The 5-foot-10 Frazier stalked his 4-foot-4 opponent, banging savage left hooks to the body, which raised red welts around Doyle's mid-section.

When the fighters came out for what proved to be the final round, Frazier threw the left hook that has carried the 22-year-old U.S. Olympic champion to the forefront of the heavyweight ranks.

Doyle crashed to the floor, took a count of four and then staggered to his feet as the mandatory eight count was reeled off.

It was obvious that Doyle was finished as he grabbed Frazier and hung on, attempting to clear his head.

He never threw another punch.

Sensing that Doyle was helpless, Frazier drove him across the ring with right-and left-hand punches. Doyle finally fell forward on his face and was caught by Clayton just before he hit the canvas. The referee signaled the fight was over.

Doyle, who boasted an 18-4-1 record, including a draw with California's unbeaten Jerry Quarry, earned $10,000 for his pains.

Frazier, the one-time meat cutter, is hopeful of fighting the winner of the current WBA-recognized heavyweight title elimination tournament. He was guaranteed $15,000 for Tuesday's fight in the new $12 million Spectrum.

Promoter Herman Taylor and the Madison Square Garden Corp., who co-promoted the fight, estimated a crowd of 7,500 turned out at the 18,000-seat arena for a gate of $50,000. No official figures were given.

Finley May Get OK To Move A's

CHICAGO (AP)—There are indications that Charles O. Finley will get permission to move his Kansas City baseball franchise to Oakland, Calif., when American League club owners meet in Chicago Wednesday.

But Finley is the first to admit that as far as he knows he is assured of only one vote, his own. He needs six more to make the move.

"I'm hopeful and that is about all," he said.

Finley still is in the market for a new manager after firing Al Dark and says he will name a new administrative assistant within a few days. Ed Lopat resigned from that post Monday.

Linked with the Athletics' shift are expansion plans which will receive more spade work during the meeting. The target date is 1969, or 1970 by the latest.

Reportedly, two new franchises are up for grabs among Kansas City—if the A's go to Oakland — San Diego, Fort Worth-Dallas, Milwaukee, and Seattle.

Hero Gets Big Welcome In Home Town

OMAHA, Neb. (AP)—A man who grew up as a fatherless kid in Omaha's Negro ghetto came back Tuesday to a hero's welcome and with advice to the community's kids that they can make it big if they work.

Big Bob Gibson, whose strong right arm earned him some of the greatest fame in baseball and won three World Series games this year, had proof that he practices what he preaches.

Displaying painful blisters on his right forefinger as a memento of his 27 innings of Series pitching, Gibson told the student body of Technical High School, "You have to work. You might think baseball is fun, but it's a job. And if I don't work hard, somebody's going to take my job."

A Tech high grad of 1954, the Cardinal fireballer also urged the students to stay in school. "It's getting so that you can't even get into professional sports if you don't have a college education. I could have been a dropout and a nobody. But my teachers put out 100 per cent to help me."

The largely Negro student body was also told that "you must learn to appreciate what people do for you. You'll learn that as you get older, but you must learn it while you're young."

Lopat Resigns Post With A's

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Ed Lopat, a coach, manager, scout, vice president and administrative assistant for owner Charles O. Finley of the Kansas City Athletics since 1962, has resigned saying he hasn't always been in agreement with Finley's policies.

Lopat said he informed Finley of his decision Monday and their parting was amicable.

But Finley, contacted in Chicago Monday night, said "Mr. Lopat's successor was selected two weeks ago, and the announcement will be made in a few days." He declined to elaborate.

Manager Picks New Coaches

PITTSBURGH (AP)—New Manager Larry Shepard of Pittsburgh announced Tuesday the appointments of former Pirates Bill Virdon and Don Lerpert to the coaching staff.

Virdon, who thrilled Pirate fans for 10 seasons with his spectacular catches in center field, was named batting and outfield coach.

Lerpert, a Pirate catcher in 1961 and 1962, is the new catching and bullpen coach.

Russell Gives Knicks Win

NEW YORK (AP)—Cazzie Russell dropped in a 30-foot jump shot in the last second and lifted the New York Knicks to a 124-122 National Basketball Association victory over the San Francisco Warriors Tuesday night at Madison Square Garden.

Russell, who led all scorers with 23 points, had given the Knicks a 122-120 edge with 14 seconds remaining but the Warriors pulled even in the see-saw finish on Rudy LaRusso's layup with five seconds to go.

Bonavena Asks For Delay

BUENOS AIRES (AP)—Oscar Bonavena, Argentina's contender for the world heavyweight championship has asked for a postponement of his fight with Jimmy Ellis of Louisville, Ky. The bout now is scheduled for Nov. 11.

The announcement was made by Juan Carlos Lectorre, Bonavena's manager.

Lectorre said he sent a cable Monday to Louisville requesting a postponement because Bonavena again is suffering from pains in the back. They forced him to cancel his training session Tuesday.

Borah, Capitol, Kelly Top Prep Grid Poll

By The Associated Press

A trio of Boise-area high schools managed last weekend to roll up a total of 149 points against their opponents, keeping their respective Idaho prep football records clean at 6-0.

They are Borah, Capital and Kelly.

Mackbee Is Named Top NFL Player

NEW YORK (AP)—Earsell Mackbee seldom gets his name in the papers. When they use his name, somebody usually spells it wrong. But a few more games like last Sunday's effort against the Green Bay Packers, and the whole football world will know about Mackbee, the unknown from Utah State.

Mackbee's contribution to the Minnesota Vikings' upset of the previously unbeaten Packers 10-7 earned him "The Associated Press" selection as "Defensive Player of the Week in the National Football League."

The third-year pro, signed as a free agent in 1965, was awarded the game ball by the Vikings after intercepting two of Zeke Bratkowski's passes. The Vikings turned the second theft into the winning field goal with eight seconds to go.

"It just happened to be there," said Mackbee, a 6-foot-1 195-pound cornerback. "The line gave a good rush to Bratkowski."

Mackbee intercepted only two passes all during the 1966 season but none could compare with last Sunday's production.

The first interception came in the opening period to give the Vikings the ball on the Green Bay 26 but the threat was blunted when Bob Jeter intercepted a Joe Kapp pass.

With less than two minutes to go, the Packers were starting a drive to break a 7-7 tie. It was second and seven on the Packers' 26 when Mackbee cut over in front of Elijah Pitts, the intended receiver, and caught the ball just before falling out of bounds on the Green Bay 45.

Kapp, Dave Osborne and finally Fred Cox, with a field goal, did the rest of the job.

As Bud Grant, the Vikings' coach, said, "We needed a win, whether it was over Green Bay or the Little Sisters of the Poor."

Pistons Crush Cincinnati 131-108

DETROIT (AP)—The Detroit Pistons unveiled their "new look" Tuesday night with a 43-point third period to crush the Cincinnati Royals 131-108 in the National Basketball Association opener for both teams.

The Royals made 13 of their first 14 shots in the game to open a quick nine-point lead, but Detroit came back to trail by only 61-58 at half-time.

The Pistons, with six new faces out of 12 players this season, sparked in the third period by Dave Bing, last season's top rookie in the NBA.

WSU Preparing For Arizona State

PULLMAN, Wash. (AP)—The Washington State Cougars raced through a rugged workout Tuesday in what football coach Bert Clark called "an attempt to find the defensive combination to stop the tremendous running attack of Arizona State."

Clark said he was heartened by the return from the injured list of last end Bob Simpson and 240-pound defensive tackle Ty Hansell. Simpson was injured three weeks ago and Hansell had been out with a pre-season injury.

Clark said the Cougars also stressed "correcting the serious blocking errors that were so apparent in the Stanford game" last Saturday.

Recent publicity of statements attributed to Clark after the Stanford game "has only made the ball players more determined to win," Clark said Tuesday. Clark was quoted as saying it's hard to play against some Pacific-8 Conference foes "with a bunch of midgets."

Girls' Football? Buhl's Coeds Set Thursday Tilt

BUHL—Mini-skirts are out at the Buhl lettermen's club—logically, since only boys would think of it.

The only thing known for sure is the seniors will suit up 37 girls while the juniors will have 30. But since none of the contestants would allow anyone to be around when they stepped on the scales let alone have it blared in a program for all to see, just where the weight advantage lies isn't known.

"We're guessing that the seniors will average about 180 pounds and the backfield will be around 160 pounds," says Coach Garry Matlock. "Of course, the juniors will be bigger." And that statement should keep him out of the halls for the next two weeks.

In practice it appears the girls have a little trouble hanging onto the ball, as they all show a tendency to throw their arms up and elbows out when they run.

Also there is concern among the long-haired ones, who are demanding that tackling by the pony tail be made a more serious violation than grabbing the face mask. They also have petitioned that each girl be allowed a different style and color of uniform and have expressively vetoed the thought of wearing black football shoes, even low cuts.

While the girls demonstrate how football should be played on the field the boys pep clubs will be led by cavorting male cheerleaders.

Manager Picks New Coaches

PITTSBURGH (AP)—New Manager Larry Shepard of Pittsburgh announced Tuesday the appointments of former Pirates Bill Virdon and Don Lerpert to the coaching staff.

Virdon, who thrilled Pirate fans for 10 seasons with his spectacular catches in center field, was named batting and outfield coach.

Lerpert, a Pirate catcher in 1961 and 1962, is the new catching and bullpen coach.

Russell Gives Knicks Win

NEW YORK (AP)—Cazzie Russell dropped in a 30-foot jump shot in the last second and lifted the New York Knicks to a 124-122 National Basketball Association victory over the San Francisco Warriors Tuesday night at Madison Square Garden.

Russell, who led all scorers with 23 points, had given the Knicks a 122-120 edge with 14 seconds remaining but the Warriors pulled even in the see-saw finish on Rudy LaRusso's layup with five seconds to go.

Tulsa Leads Colleges In Total Offense

NEW YORK (AP)—Tulsa, scoring points at an amazing rate, leads major colleges in football's total offense and passing as well as scoring, according to statistics released Tuesday by the NCAA.

Tulsa's average is 47.7 points a game. Only the 1944 Army team, with a 58.0 average, scored more over the entire season. Tulsa's total offense mark is 489.3 yards a game, second place Rice has 438.7.

In passing, the Golden Hurricane has piled up 388.3 yards a game, far more than New Mexico's 372.8 average. UCLA leads in rushing offense with 269.8 yards a game. Harvard is second to Tulsa in scoring with 43.0 points a game. Tulsa's 77-0 rout of Temple last Saturday was the second-highest score attained by a major college in the last 16 years. Only Army's 81-0 victory over Furman in 1955 beats it.

A GERMAN-BORN model, Erika Rita Bunne, 23, a key prosecution witness in an international cocaine smuggling case, is believed to have been kidnaped and possibly murdered to insure her silence. Witness In Smuggling Case Believed Kidnaped

NEW YORK (AP) — A pretty 23-year-old model, a key prosecution witness in an international cocaine smuggling case, is believed to have been kidnaped "and possibly murdered to insure her permanent silence," a federal prosecutor says.

Asst. U.S. Atty. Raymond B. Grunewald said in court Monday that the model, German-born Erika Rita Bunne, has disappeared from her $325-a-month Manhattan penthouse.

Grunewald told U.S. Dist. Court Judge Joseph C. Zavatt in Brooklyn that Miss Bunne was to have testified in the case growing out of a raid on her penthouse last May in which $600,000 worth of cocaine allegedly was seized.

The prosecutor said he and Miss Bunne had been in touch daily until last Tuesday, when she phoned him and he told her to be ready to testify last Friday. Nothing has been heard from her since Tuesday, Grunewald said.

Grunewald said the government has information that the woman had been threatened some time ago and that an attempt on her life had been started but was thwarted by agents

South Americans, have been indicted on charges of conspiracy to smuggle four pounds of pure cocaine from Ecuador. One has pleaded guilty, and one is scheduled for a separate trial.

Two of the defendants—Susan Wheeler, 21, and a boy friend, Robert Wyler, 28, both of Brooklyn, are under indictment in Sullivan County on charges of murdering ex-convict Robert Capparelli, 31, who was shot through the head last April 1 on a lonely road near Monticello, N.Y.

AN ARTIST'S VIEW OF the race toward Venus by United States and Soviet space probes is seen here. At top is the Russian's 2,438-pound Venus 4, followed by the 540-pound U.S. Mariner 5, which is equipped with an umbrella and venetian blinds to shield it against intense solar heat. The Venus was launched last June 12, the Mariner two days later. (AP wirephoto)

Soviet Space Probe Approaching Venus

By ANTHONY C. COLLINGS
Associated Press Writer
MOSCOW (AP) — The unmanned Soviet spaceship Venus
4 approached the planet Venus Tuesday seeking information on its atmosphere and possibly attempting the first soft landing on earth's sister planet.
A top Soviet scientist said the 2,438-pound probe was expected to reach the surface of Venus by 12:30 a.m., EDT, Wednesday.
The U.S. Mariner 5 spacecraft is due to fly near Venus Thursday but no landing attempt will be made.

Mikhail V. Keldysh, president of the Soviet Academy of Sciences, disclosed at a news-conference that Venus 4 was not designed to take pictures of the mysterious, cloud-wrapped planet.
Asked if the spacecraft was designed to make a soft landing, Keldysh said: "The main task is the study of the atmosphere. It is impossible to be sure that everything will go in such a way that it will be possible to land softly.

He said all equipment on Venus 4 was working well as it approached the planet, indicating that radio contact with earth remained good. All three previous Soviet probes of Venus over the past six years have failed to send back information on the planet because their radios have gone dead.

The possibility of a soft landing attempt was raised by hints in earlier Soviet statements and a request Monday for Britain's Jodrell Bank radiotelescope to help track it because of the probe's "extraordinary importance and significance."
While avoiding saying whether a soft landing was planned, the Soviets made it clear Venus
4 was to make contact with the planet.
A report last month said the vehicle was sterilized "to prevent any terrestrial microorganisms from being carried to the surface of Venus."

Keldysh said a radio transmitter aboard the probe was specially designed to overcome problems, such as a radiation barrier around Venus, which might impair the sending of information from the planet to earth, a distance of about 43 million miles.
The U.S. and Soviet probes of Venus both were launched in June.
Of five previous U.S. and Soviet probes, only one—America's Mariner 2—was a complete success.
It flew near the planet in 1962 and radioed such information as a report that the temperature
on Venus was about 800 degrees, enough to melt lead.

Academic City Draws Soviet Scientists From All Over

By JOHN WEYLAND
Associated Press Writer
NOVOSIBIRSK, U. S. S. R.
(AP) — You can see power
lawnmowers and two-car garages in a community near here. These are unusual sights in the Soviet Union.
The community is a model garden city for scientists, designed to put them in a mood to keep the Soviet Union strong in the field of new discoveries.

The Kremlin has gathered 30,000 people to live in an idyllic suburb called Academic City.
It has only one purpose—
scientific study.
The community was carved out of virgin forest 10 years ago, now there are 20 institutes covering modern science from cybernetics to nuclear research.

The top people live in "Golden Valley," with two-story houses and yards—uncommon in this country. The store buildings are full of glass and blond wood.
Restaurants with sunken lights and cozy booths look like something in Scandinavia. The movie theater could be American.
Streets are quiet and tree-lined.

Scientists have been drawn to Academic City for all over the country. Officials decline to reveal salaries, but living conditions make it obvious that here

New Officers Take Office

WENDELL—The initial meeting of the newly installed officers of Orchard Valley Grange
No. 428 was held last Friday.

Frank Orth, grange master, reported concerning the advisory council meeting. "Without support," he stated, "Gooding county will lose the assistant county agent who is in charge of 4-H."

Melvin Gibson spoke concerning the increase in property valuation and stated that this will mean an increase in taxes. Mrs.
Gibson reported that dinner had been served to the workers for the recent Bloodmobile visit.

Plans were made for a pot-luck dinner at 7:30 p.m. Oct. 26 with Tom Ambrose to speak on his recent trip to the United Nations and other interesting places. His talk will be highlighted with pictures. The public is invited to attend this meeting.

Potluck dinners during the months of November and December will be held the second Fridays of the month instead of the fourth Fridays. Mrs. Orth announced a hobby table will be featured at each meeting.

The lecturer's program included a piano solo by Jimmy Orth.

WASHINGTON (AP) Bride-to-be Lynda Johnson has selected all American makes for her china, glassware and silver,
she announced Tuesday.

The silver flatware is Gorham's Chantilly, a pattern her mother uses.
The glassware is the same as the White House crystal, purchased by Mrs. John F. Kennedy from the Morgantown (W.
Va.) glassware guild. It is known as the "President's House" pattern and is a simple clear glassware in tulip shape.

The china is "Tuxedo" by the Lenox China Co. of Trenton, N.J. It is white with a thin gold border and a circle of gold in the center of the plate.

Dissatisfaction Is Unifying Hippie Theme

By DICK KLEINER
SAN FRANCISCO (NEA) — This is the Haight-Ashbury district, hippie haven. At first, they didn't mind that word — hippie — but lately it has acquired an unpleasant connotation. "Don't call us hippies," one of them says. "Call us Young Americans Redefining Freedom."

Most of them are serious about their purpose. They see themselves as pioneers, 20th-century pioneers. Instead of finding new land, they are, they say, finding new ways of living. "We're dropouts from the rat race," a Young American Redefining Freedom says. "With acid — LSD — and grass — marijuana — to help them, and lofty thoughts, see splendid visions, hear glorious and profound words. Grass is $8 to $10 a lid, $80 to $120 a key — those are the measures of bulk purchase. Acid is 75 cents to $2 a cap — That makes it expensive to think lofty thoughts, see splendid visions and hear glorious and profound words. Bread — store owner. "They don't like dog manure on the street." "They come in here to buy bits of wire," says the proprietor of an electrical store. "It's not worth the trouble."

"The police are glad that the hoodlums have moved in," says one native San Franciscan. "They know how to deal with gangsters, dope pushers, but they didn't know how to deal with flower children." "It's disgusting," says another, "that this could happen in San Francisco." The voices of The Haight. Different voices, different people, but there is one unifying theme — dissatisfaction.

A RUPERT WOMAN, Mrs. W. H. Dickinson, president of the Idaho State Federation of Women's Clubs, is greeted in Olympia, Wash., by Gordon Newell, author of the Reader's Digest article "The Common Sense of Magic Birch Cottage." Mrs. Dickinson is taking part in a Reader's Digest workshop on the rehabilitation of delinquents. The group will visit Birch Cottage, an isolation facility for the most seriously delinquent girls in Washington State.

money — is the big problem for the hippies. "You panhandle," says one. "Or people take you in. Or maybe you get a part-time job somewhere." "It's all very vague, this business of making money to eat, sleep, buy the acid and the grass. There are groups who try to provide free food. And the complete lack of inhibitions makes it O.K. to sleep anywhere. Haircuts and laundry are no problem. They talk, that's free. "The true hippie is an evolving thing." "If the war ended, parents and children could get back together." "Planning ahead is the illusion — it's all right now." "There are no more leaders." "With the right kind of trip, you know — you KNOW — there is a harmony in the universe." "The senses are the key to vision — not the intellect. Wisdom comes through the senses, not the brain." They're very friendly, open, confiding. They have their problems, and they'll tell you. Right now, the big one is that The Haight has been out of grass for three weeks. "So many people are turning on," they say, "that the supply can't keep up with the demand. It's a bad scene. I heard the syndicate is moving in." The others talk, too, the old San Franciscans who worry about The Haight. "The tourists are at fault," one says. "They made it what it is. It's just like a play — if people don't go to see it, it flops." "I don't like it," says a shopkeeper, who is trying to stay there. "They sit in the doorway and seven, eight times a day I have to go out and tell them to move. Besides it's hard for my delivery trucks to get in and out, with all the tourists' cars." "My old customers don't come here any more," says another

Federal Budget Blueprint To Clarify Bookkeeping Proposed

By STERLING F. GREEN
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — A new unified blueprint for the federal budget was proposed to President Johnson Tuesday to clarify the government's three-headed bookkeeping and to end charges of fiscal gimmickry.

The plan was presented by David M. Kennedy, chairman of a 16-member President's Commission on Budget Concepts. He said the experts tried to produce "a budget that makes sense to Congress and the public." Johnson will use the new format and some of the specific changes in his fiscal 1969 budget, already being prepared for submission to Congress in January. Some changes, however, will take until 1971. A few may be rejected.

Driver Arrested After Car Crash

Dennis R. Kniep, 18, 141 S. Blue Lakes Blvd., Twin Falls, escaped with minor injuries but landed in custody of the Twin Falls County Sheriff on charges of driving while intoxicated following an accident at 5 a.m. Tuesday just east of Twin Falls. Officers said Mr. Kniep was traveling east when his vehicle left State Highway 50 three miles east of Twin Falls. It went off the north side of the highway, traveled 45 feet through the air, bounced once and became airborne again for 22 feet before striking a power pole. Officers said paint marks on the pole indicated the car collided with the pole at a point 18 feet above the ground. Both the car and pole were demolished, but Mr. Kniep suffered only cuts and bruises.

DEFENSE BIDS SOUNDED GOOD

Every time someone tells us that he just played a perfect game we know that he is going to follow up by complaining about his bad luck.

This is just what happened. Benito Garozzo jumped right to three spades. He wanted to make it hard for Al Roth to get into the bidding but Al was not going to be shut out. He was sure that Bill had hearts and a stronger hand for his takeout double. Later Bill admitted that he wanted a better hand but no one had dealt it to him.

Forquet had pretty good defense against four hearts. On the other hand his opponents had bid confidently and Forquet did not expect spades to go around twice. He decided to take a small loss at four spades.

If he had passed Roth would have been doing one trick. Doubled, it would have cost 200 points.

When four spades came around to Roth he doubled and Forquet's loss turned out to be 300 points. The actual cost to Italy was six IMPs because at the other table America played three spades down one.

What do you do?
A—Bid three hearts. This tells partner that you were a little too strong to bid three hearts directly but just too weak to jump to game.

TODAY'S QUESTION
Instead of bidding two hearts your partner bids one no-trump over your double. What do you bid now?
Answer Next Issue

less you step out of line occasionally. Some of these steps will be disastrous but if you gain more than you lose you will be a winning player.

Bill Root's vulnerable double of Pietro Forquet's nonvulnerable one spade bid represents one of these gambles. If his partner held a bad hand with mostly black cards the double might lead to a large penalty, if his partner held a good hand they might get too high.

"Edward? Oh, you know the type: a heart of gold and no silver in his pockets!"

Some people come on in first meetings like the United States Marines. The force of their personality is so overpowering, we're dazzled; then there are those other people who are virtually anonymous through ten "hello" scenes.

Any discussion of whether it's better to command immediate attention, or to win gradual respect, is useless. We are what we are — period. But both the "wham" guy and "Mr. Anonymous" need to be granted the right to have more in them than appears at first meeting. Three-dimensional real-life people don't display their entire story on first confrontation.
