

City Council Candidates To Face Voters At Political Rally Tonight

Voters of Twin Falls will have an opportunity tonight to learn more about the 11 candidates seeking the four positions on the city council next Tuesday.

Sponsored by the League of Women Voters, a voter service meet-the-candidates rally will be held at 7:30 p.m. in the American Legion Hall. Each of the 11 candidates will be introduced and given approximately four minutes in which to discuss his views on issues, to bring up issues he feels are important in the coming election.

Those attending the meeting will be invited to submit written questions to any of the candidates following the short speeches. Questions, League officials say, must be restricted to the issues and matters concerning the coming election, and not deal in personalities. These questions will be answered as long as time and interest continue.

Mrs. Robert Nelson, League president, said the meeting is being held to give voters an opportunity to meet all of the candidates at one time and to compare their views and qualifications. She urged interested voters to attend.

For those unable to attend, she said, the entire program will be broadcast live from the American Legion Hall by Radio Station KTFI.

Mrs. Nelson will moderate the program and Mrs. Charles Glasgow will be program chairman.

As another part of their Voters Service program, the League has compiled and distributed several thousand candidate information sheets.

In the information sheet, the League committee asked each candidate to select what he felt to be one of the most important issues of the coming election.

George Bennett, incumbent candidate and member of the four-man slate running as Citizens for Continued Good City Government, listed the main issue as bringing about the most economical operation possible for the community, without hurting good operation facilities, good methods and compatible results.

"This will be done," Mr. Bennett said, "by men, each successful in his own business, experienced in civic government and of unquestionable integrity."

H. H. Burkhart, a former city councilman, now running as an independent, said he feels the city manager government, feeling it is the most economical and efficient way of handling city affairs. The result of this form of government, he said, depends entirely on the city commission, those elected to the office by the citizens of the city. The commissioners formulate the policy and the city manager should carry out their instructions.

"I am a conservative, favoring the expenditure of money for only that which the city needs, its feasibility and providing the city can afford the project or the service. I feel to be a true conservative is to spend the city money as you

Frank Cook, Twin Falls business man, running with the incumbent ticket, although a supporter of city politics, selected good city economy as the most vital issue.

"I strongly believe in economy in city government which is consistent with my interest in issues which will benefit, improve and revitalize the city of Twin Falls. I want continued growth in our city and a clean and great place to live," he said.

Lloyd V. Cox, also running as an independent, and a local businessman, having owned and operated Yellow Cab Co. for several years, also chose to discuss the city manager form of government. Pointing out he infers this form of government, he said he felt the city council should exercise more control over the city and possibly eliminate some subordinate unnecessary positions.

"I want immediate action on our airport problems to maintain at least the service we now have. Economy should be exercised at all times and we should strive to facilitate better job opportunities by the encouragement of new industry and to assist existing industries," he said.

Frank H. Feldman, also an incumbent and a local realtor, pointed to the present council's record of providing many new facilities and services needed by local citizens, and at the same time reducing the city mill levy by sizeable amounts. He said he looks forward to continuing to work toward traditional improvements such as the urban mental rehabilitation center, improved traffic and parking facilities, better library and recreation facilities and services.

"We seek greater cooperation with the other local governmental units with the avowed aim of securing better values for the tax-dollar spent," he said. "Twin Falls is in good financial condition because of good management," he continued.

Delbert McGuire, trout farm manager and candidate sponsored by the Jaycees, pointed to the city manager form of government as a major issue.

"I firmly believe in the city manager form of government," he said.

LBJ Hits Congress For Its 'Inaction'

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson, accusing Congress of "faking the inaction route," says it is essential to prove his proposed income tax hike already is costing Americans by feeding inflation.

At a hurriedly called news conference Wednesday in the White House Cabinet Room, Johnson touched on topics ranging from Vietnam to the stock market, but time and again came back to the theme that things are not going his way in Congress.

Later, this prompted Sen. Karl E. Mundt, R-S.D., to suggest the President should look to his own party. With a heavy majority in both House and Senate, "the Democrats must take the blame or credit for what is done or not done," Mundt said.

Asked about his high-priority request for a tax increase, the President said he is still plugging for it, but that his fate rests with the House Ways and Means Committee.

"We think that it will cost the American people much less by taking the tax route that we have suggested than by taking the inaction route that is now being used," he said.

Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield responded to the prodding by pledging "we'll do our best to give him what he wants."

Mansfield said he agrees with the President that Congress should stay in session until it passes a tax-increase bill.

Chairman Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., of the Ways and Means Committee, said he will try to see Johnson, P. 2, Col. 7

Pace Of Political Campaign Is Increasing As Election Nears

Comments on campaign issues and political statements assumed a greatly stepped-up pace here Thursday as 11 candidates for the four city council positions involved in Tuesday's election entered the home stretch of their campaigns.

One of the four members of the city's incumbent ticket issued a statement of clarification of the city audit, which has been under fire from the "conservative ticket." Eugene Stacey added the city audit as a "full and complete" audit by all standards of the accounting profession of which he is a member.

Joseph Stumph, conservative candidate and Nolan Victor, one of his running mates, continued to blast away at city administration and incumbents.

Mr. Stumph criticized the explanation of Frank Feldman, incumbent, in the Wednesday report on city finances. Mr. Victor called on the city council operator to deny the charges of Mr. Victor, not challenge the latter to prove his statements.

"Constructive criticism is always welcomed by the Twin Falls City Council," Eugene Stacey said Thursday.

"The issue of a city audit which has been brought up by our opposition has had a favorable result. It has given us an opportunity to explain to the public just what an audit involves."

Mr. Stacey, one of the four candidates seeking election next Tuesday on a basis of continued good city government, is a certified public accountant and has served about six months on the city council.

"State law," Mr. Stacey said, "formerly required only a full audit by cities every two years."

"Twin Falls has always had a full audit each year with auditors making their studies of city books four times during the year," he said.

He pointed out that Vernon Riddle, former city auditor, has been criticized along with the present administration for "special interest" connections since the city auditor is now in business with Mr. Riddle.

"Circumstances" since Mr. Riddle concluded his term of office on the council have been that Clyde Koonz, former city auditor and now city collector and chairman of the business tax commission, sold his business to Eldon Evans, who audits the city books at this time. A short time ago, Mr. Evans and Mr. Riddle consolidated their accounting firms," Mr. Stacey explained.

He pointed out that no time while Mr. Riddle served as a commissioner did he have any accuracy check," Mr. Stacey explained.

"I am sure the voters' and most for the other candidates do not know what a full city audit involves," he said.

Every department in the city that receives money of any kind must issue a receipt. Every dollar that is spent is represented by a purchase order, he added.

Auditors check out every single receipt in their annual audits. It is followed from the person issuing the receipt to the clerk's office to the city treasurer and into the bank account. On the purchase a similar process is followed, he explained, with each purchase requiring approval. Those over $25 are approved by the city manager and those over $1,000 by the entire city council.

Many other minute details, he said, are checked—such as investigation of those who pay the city, or receive money from the city who are asked to verify the amounts. Even the number of water hookups are checked against water department records or receipts, he added.

Twice each year, in December and June, the city receives its share of property tax payments from the county, he said.

These funds are reinvested by the city to earn interest on a short term basis until they are needed to meet city expenditures.

Joseph Stumph Jr., conservative ticket candidate opposing the incumbent slate for office Tuesday, said in a statement Thursday that he continues to feel the present councilmen are "stealing in double-talk and fooling the public."

Mr. Stumph referred to a news release of Wednesday by Frank Feldman, incumbent candidate, regarding city finances.

"In defending misleading advertisement in the Sunday Times-News," Mr. Stumph said, "Mr. Feldman had little choice but to vacillate on the usual

Jet Bomber Crash Claims 7 Crewmen

ROME, N. Y. (AP) — The flaming crash of an Air Force jet bomber from North Dakota took the lives of seven crewmen today, Air Force spokesmen said.

They said the eighth crewman was found dangling in a tree and apparently was not injured seriously.

Names were withheld pending notification of next-of-kin.

The eight-engine B52 Stratofortress, from Grand Forks, N.D., smashed into a wooded area near this Central New York City while trying to land at Griffiss Air Force base, a Griffiss spokesman said.

The spokesman said the pilot had reported to the control tower that he had engine trouble. He was heard telling the crew to eject, and at least two did.

One or two men apparently died after the crash, which occurred about four miles north of Griffiss.

Omaha headquarters of the Strategic Air Command said the plane carried no weapons.

It was reported to have barely missed a trailer park.

marks on the body.

Enriler, police said Green may have been slipping while sleeping in a truck bed on a hamburger. Detectives said two students at the University reported they had been administered sleeping drugs in unusual circumstances in the area where Green was vanished.

Green's shoeless body was found wrapped in a sleeping bag and clad in dungarees and a shirt.

Dist. Atty. Arlen Specter said the trunk in which Green's body was found was bought in "the recent past" at a center city store, by someone who inquired whether it was waterproof. He would not identify the purchaser.

Synopsis, Farm Summary

A cold front moved through this area yesterday with extensive cloudiness but almost no precipitation in the valleys of Southern Idaho. A major snow storm developed east of the Rockies, however, with a low over the Canadian border to central Colorado and into the Dakotas, Nebraska and northern Kansas this morning. By 7 a.m. five inches of snow were reported in parts of Montana and northern Colorado. It was nine inches deep at Sheridan and six inches at Lander, both in Wyoming.

The cold front is now south of us moving through southern parts of Nevada and Utah this morning and a cold dry air mass has spread over Southern Idaho. Skies were mostly clear during the forenoon with some scattered cloudiness in the extreme east and cold northerly winds of 10 to 25 miles per hour were reported in valleys of southeastern Idaho.

All of Southern Idaho will be much cooler this afternoon with a hard freeze tonight. As winds subside temperatures will drop into the teens in the eastern half of Southern Idaho and into the 20s in western Magic Valley. Western and central valleys should warm-up a little on Friday. Eastern valleys will remain in the 20s and 30s on Friday. The extended outlook indicates fair to partly cloudy weather continuing into the first of next week with a warming trend during the weekend and into harvesting and other field work should make good progress.

30-Day Outlook

The weather during October in the southern-central valleys of Idaho was cooler than normal in most areas and generally a little wetter than normal. Mean temperatures for the month ranged from 0.3 degrees above normal at Burley to 3.1 degrees below normal at Buhl. The monthly mean temperature at Fairfield was 40.9 degrees and at Halley 45.9 degrees. Monthly-mean temperatures in Magic Valley ranged from 47.2 degrees at Gooding, both daytime and nighttime temperatures as a rule averaged below normal. Both Jerome and Burley were the only stations reporting a daytime reporting of 30 degrees or above. Burley also recorded the lowest nighttime reading in Magic Valley of 18 degrees on Oct. 27. Fairfield reported a low of 12 degrees on the same night.

Gooding was short .06 of an inch from receiving their normal precipitation during October. All other stations in southern-central valleys reported from .06 to .4 of an inch more than normal. Heavier rains on Oct. 28 were responsible for nearly one-half of the monthly total at some stations.

Farm activities were moving into final stages of the season as the month came to a close. Sugar beet harvest was still in progress with most other harvest activities completed. Heavier rains the latter part of the month may allow for some plowing to be done in dryland areas. Fall grains were mostly up and looking good with sufficient soil moisture going into the color months.

Climate data for the Twin Falls Entomology Laboratory: Average maximum temperature 64.0, 2.9 degrees below normal; average minimum temperature 44.0, 2.9 degrees below normal; mean monthly temperature 48.3, 2.7 degrees below normal; this was the coldest October since 1949 when 46.1 degrees was recorded.

Highest maximum temperature 81 degrees on the 12th, lowest minimum temperature 25 degrees on the 27th. There were no days with 90 degrees or above, 17 days with 32 degrees or below. Total monthly precipitation 0.07 of an inch, this was an inch above normal. This was the wettest October since 1901 when 1.16 inches were recorded.

There were seven days with .01 of an inch or more of rain and two days with .25 of an inch or more.

There were 21 clear days, three partly cloudy and seven cloudy days. Prevailing wind was from the west averaging 7.3 miles per hour.

Shakes Hands With Charlotte, N. C. (AP)

Henry Glenn was told several weeks ago that he should undergo surgery for the removal of his right arm because of cancer.

"No, until after Wednesday, Nov. 1," he said. "I have a feeling that my son will be home."

His son, David, telephoned Tuesday night from San Francisco that he was en route home from Vietnam on a brief leave.

Father and son met at Charlotte's airport Wednesday - Nov. 1 - and their hands gripped. "That's what I wanted," said the older Glenn. "I wanted to shake hands with my son."

Glenn, a doctor, planned to check into Charlotte Memorial Hospital today.

Hansen May Be Candidate For Senate

WASHINGTON (AP) - Rep. George V. Hansen, R-Idaho, said Tuesday evening he might be a candidate for U. S. Senate. He said he was "looking at it very seriously, but not ready to announce anything yet."

In Idaho, a top Republican state official in Boise who presiding over the U.S. Senate, Humphrey laughed. "Mine is more wobbly in more ways than one."

The vice president's arrival in the Malaysian capital from Vietnam Tuesday night touched off scattered anti-American demonstrations, but none were reported today.

Humphrey later took his shoes off to visit the national mosque and exchange gifts with Malaysia's king, Yang di-Pertuan Agang.

Meantime in Indonesia, another Republican leader questioned Tuesday said he was unaware of Hansen's intention to announce his candidacy, but did know that the congressman was supposed to "let people know" whether he planned to run by Nov. 1 - Wednesday.

He did not know which "people" Hansen was to let know.

Hansen has been an outspoken advocate of military escalation in Vietnam. Church, a member of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, has been sharply critical of administration policy in Vietnam.

Hansen is among four persons mentioned as possible candidates for the Republican nomination. Others are Atty. Gen. Allan G. Sheppard, Lt. Gov. Jack Murphy, and State Sen. Lloyd Barron, R-Fairfield.

Humphrey Backs Effort In Vietnam

By MYRON BELKIND - KUALA-LUMPUR, Malaysia (AP) - Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey said today "there isn't a responsible U.S. politician here who says we should withdraw" from Vietnam.

Humphrey, making an impromptu speech before about 300 members of the American community here, said: "We're there and we're not going to leave. I don't care how many demonstrations you have. The nation is committed."

Humphrey said the responsible American political figure advocated withdrawal, adding "they just argue where we should be at a particular moment."

The vice president, here for three days on a swing through Southeast Asia, talked to American Embassy Ambassador James Bell.

The vice president earlier took an architectural tour in the Malayan sun. He looked at mosques and monuments and a Parliament tower.

Humphrey, here for three days on a swing through Southeast Asia, guided his tour off the itinerary to go inside the modern, 18-story tower. He sat down in the Parliament speaker's chair, praised the acoustics, and wished they could be as good in some Washington buildings.

Asked how the U.S. compared with the one he was presiding over in the U.S. Senate, Humphrey laughed. "Mine is more wobbly in more ways than one."

Man Queried In Slaying Kills Self

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) - A 28-year-old man questioned in the rape-slaying of a pretty southside teen-ager shot himself to death Wednesday afternoon before he was to return for further police questioning.

Police said Donald Howard, who lived just two blocks from Maxine Ruth Cummings, 17, used a high powered rifle to take his own life. He left a note to his wife, but police did not immediately reveal the contents.

The teen-ager's partially nude body was found draped over a half-filled bathtub in her home in southwest Oklahoma City Tuesday afternoon. Her father discovered the body.

An autopsy report indicated she had been raped. She was nude from the waist down. Her throat had been slashed and she had been stabbed several times.

In Howard's pickup truck, police found a torn man's shirt, and another man's shirt with blood on it was found in Howard's garage.

Howard's wife collapsed in front of her home shortly after learning of the suicide. The couple had two daughters, ages 4 and 10.

2 Hospitals Ask Consideration Of Board

POCATELLO (AP) — Indignant representatives of two small county hospitals, including loss of federal Hill-Burton construction funds to a large Boise hospital, asked the State Board of Health Wednesday to reconsider apportionment of the funds.

The board controls Hill-Burton grants in Idaho. The board may make a final decision during its Thursday and Friday sessions here and in Blackfoot.

Gooding County Hospital is asking $284,397 in federal money toward construction of a new 25-bed hospital in Gooding. The Oneida County Hospital requests $241,971 to help build a 16-bed hospital and 18-bed nursing home combination structure in Malad. Both counties have bond issue money to finance the balance of construction costs. Both are only provisionally licensed by the state because of structural and fire safety deficiencies.

Some 25 Malad citizens were present to support their application. The Idaho Hospital Advisory Council, appointed by the governor to advise the board of health on Hill-Burton grants, recommended in September that approximately $3 million in federal funds be allocated toward construction of a new $8.5 million St. Alphonsus Hospital in Boise. St. Alphonsus' 75-year-old building also is provisionally licensed.

The council's recommendation was approved by individual board of health members after being relayed by telephone by Health Administrator Dr. O. Carver.

Wednesday's hearing was scheduled after Gooding and Oneida officials met with Gov. Don Samuelson in September. Gooding Memorial Hospital Board Chairman Leo Wagner told the board Wednesday that the proposed grant to St. Alphonsus would leave only $155,000 in Hill-Burton funds for Idaho for the 1968-69 and 1969-70 fiscal years. "The state has an obligation to improve medical service in rural areas," Wagner said.

Both Oneida and Gooding officials told the board their areas had been on the "A" priority list for Hill-Burton funds since their construction plans were completed a couple of years ago.

State Sen. John Evans, D-Malad, said the state's action in approving the big grant for the Boise hospital has led to charges in the press of "playing politics and giving political patronage."

William Jenkins, Malad banker and hospital trustee, told the board if the grant isn't received $245,000 in bond money will have to be invested to pay off bonds and the hospital will be closed.

SMALLPOX FLARES

GENEVA (AP) — Smallpox flared sharply during the first seven months of this year but is staying within its traditional geographic boundaries, the World Health Organization reported. It said 60,041 cases were reported as of Aug. 1, compared to 43,509 for the corresponding period in 1966. Asia had the most victims, followed by Africa and South America.

A big 16 by 20 truck wheel left a Minidoka County school bus and traveled approximately 600 feet down busy Highway 25 Monday at Paul to make a gigantic grand opening for the newly remodeled Becky Ann cafe. Force of the wheel broke a hole in the brick wall, shattered two large windows and spun the juke box around, moving it several feet away. Thomas Hill, operator of the cafe, which opened five days ago after a two month remodeling period, is surveying the wayward tire. The grand opening will still be held next week providing repairs can be made.

Shots Fired At Candidate In Louisiana

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Four rapidly fired shots missed U.S. Rep. John Rarick, D-La., candidate for governor in Saturday's Democratic primary, today.

Police began a search for three, possibly four men, in a black compact car from which the shots were fired.

Rarick had been at a television station WWL-TV preparing a message for use in the final days of the campaign.

The shots were fired as the 43-year-old congressman, his wife and Executive Assistant Neil Edwards returned to their hotel in the French quarter and left their car in the garage.

Edwards said that when the first shot was heard, the group either fell down or ran between cars parked in the garage. No one was injured. One shot chipped part of the garage.

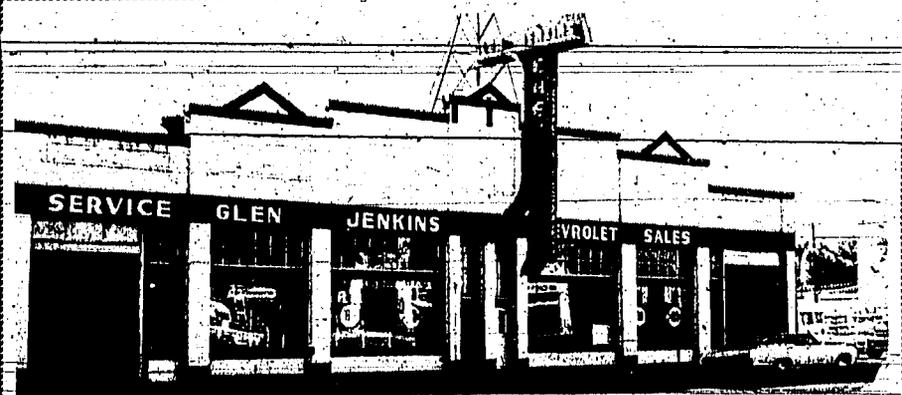

The congressman, a native of Goshen, Ind., is one of four candidates running against Gov. John McKeithen.

WASHINGTON — Possibly it is less majestic to suggest that Martin Luther King suffers from the same weaknesses that assail us as common-clay types, but I'll stand up and recite at least one that I find annoying. His threats of "civil disobedience" are mealy-mouthed. This is not to say that I applaud King for suggesting a massive "camp-in" by the so-called poor to disrupt Washington if Congress doesn't appropriate enough billions for the poverty program. In such a case, I should hope the administration would find enough guts to keep the government operating even if it meant turning the Pentagon into a gigantic jail.

But in making such a threat, King turned on the most unattractive quality of his personality — the compulsion to strike noble and pious poses. He apparently doesn't have the backbone to call a "camp-in" by its right name, to wit, sabotage, but fools around with flippant phrases like "escalating non-violence" and "uncivil disobedience." Does the man really think he's kidding anybody? Since he is not stupid, King must realize that a threat to cripple the seat of the federal government sounds just as bad coming from a clergyman employing nice euphemisms as it does from some Black Power hoodlum using four-letter words. "Just camp here and stay here — the thousands and thousands — and make it clear that the city will not function," King advises his flock. The civil rights movement, he says, has a responsibility to "pressure" a Congress so that it can "no longer elude our demands."

Yes, he is still capable of warning against violence, which he calls — in another Kingism — "uncivil disobedience."

Now I am virtually certain that King would never throw a rock at a cop or an American soldier or even loot a liquor store. What he is doing, however, is urging that a situation be created which would afford others the opportunity to indulge in such adventures. He knows ruddy well that even in this era of the creep the U.S. government would be forced to take whatever measures it deemed necessary to control or disperse the campers — no matter how many sanctimonious incantations King might feel called upon to murmur.

King, in fact, is threatening a dose of anarchy that would make the recent peaceful demonstrations at the Pentagon look like a convention of paraplegic deaf mutes. When he says the city will not function, he means everything that moves or works in the city. A city that is not functioning is a city in which buses and cabs are not operating, bridges are closed, police and firemen are unemployed and employees at both Sam's Elite Clothing Co. and the Agriculture Department are kept from their jobs.

Church Speaks Out

Politics can be confusing these days. Idaho's Democratic Senator, Frank Church, recently made a speech to members of the Idaho Press Club. In it were statements that are certain to bring the youthful Republican votes in 1968. With this support and his holdover Democratic strength, Sen. Church will be a hard man to beat.

But this windfall was brought about by Sen. Church's convictions, long ago stated, and does not represent a sudden change in his political philosophy — a change that has been seen in other American leaders.

Sen. Church is a leading "dove" in Washington. He has been for some time.

While his stand has not changed through the years, the administration's stand has. We refer to President Lyndon Johnson's policy stand during the 1964 election. At that time, he said: "We are not about to send American boys 9,000 or 10,000 miles away from home to do what Asian boys ought to be doing for themselves."

Right now there are 500,000 boys in Vietnam, and the war has spread to Laos and Thailand. It is anticipated that in this decade, if the course of the war is not changed, the war will be widespread in Southeast Asia.

Sen. Church now says he is unsure if he will back the President in the 1968 election. It is a sure sign of a Democratic split that could lose the party the Presidency next year.

Sen. Church's views reflect turmoil within the party. His views and that of moderate Republicans are far apart, but his views are also certain to gain the youthful Idaho Senator Republican votes.

Republicans sometimes side with the President on Vietnam, saying escalation of the war is the only way to bring about an honorable peace.

Sen. Church does not think this is the answer.

He believes Congress should take a positive policy stand on Vietnam, and in his recent speech came close to saying President Johnson exercised dictatorial powers in getting America into the Vietnam War. He asserts the power should rest with Congress.

He has a good argument.

Sen. Church feels that if Congress were to study the Vietnam matter, a solution could be reached in time.

We feel that Sen. Church's recent remarks, which may gain him Idaho votes, were not made for that sole purpose. We also feel his remarks merit some attention.

He has often been a spokesman for the party on various issues. We wonder if his speaking out now on the war might be an indication of things to come within the Democratic party?

BRUCE BLOSSAT

MR. SPECTATOR

George Hansen On Rights

Every now and then we receive a refreshing communication. One to fall into this field is a report from Washington received from Congressman George Hansen.

He was writing about how he had personally witnessed the anti-Vietnamese war rally in Washington which, he said, was at one and the same time a demonstration to the world of the rights and privileges enjoyed under our system of government — a demonstration of abuse of those rights and privileges.

"I approve of the decision of our government to allow the rally to take place," Rep. Hansen said. "But I thoroughly disapprove the decision allowing the protesters to march to the Pentagon with the intent of disrupting the war effort."

The congressman said that at the memorial the crowd numbered about 45,000, were in a festive mood and that most were of college age and "many were notable for their obvious boycott of barber shops and beauty salons, and for their apparent aversion to soap and water."

Things happened at the Lincoln Memorial, he wrote, that made his blood boil — such as a moment of silence for the communist leader, Che Guevara. Many marchers carried North Vietnam flags and posters with various slogans, many of which were unparaphrasable obscene.

Mr. Spectator commends Mr. Hansen for speaking his mind and for saying, in a way, that the demonstrators stunk.

And then the congressman added a refreshing thought in a description of an otherwise obnoxious minute in the history of the United States.

He praised the soldiers — the troops — who were involved and who were there to preserve the peace.

"After spending several hours with the militia, the dropouts from society, the communist sympathizers and the out-and-out communists, the actions of these fine young men in uniform were reassuring to say the least," he said.

"And thankfully, it is they — and not the protesters who comprise a minuscule fraction of our young people — who will be our leaders of tomorrow. I am sure our future will be in good hands."

YOU'RE RIGHT

See where the court ruled that the legislators would now receive $3.50 a day for each day they are not in legislative session.

This will make a nice little hunk of change for them. It is expensive to the taxpayers but it might have untold benefits.

Perhaps the money will attract men who actually know what they are doing when they get to Boise.

HOOKAH FOR UNICEF

Dear Spectator: The other night our daughter aided scores of other boys and girls in collecting Halloween donations which went to the United Nations International Children's Education Fund — more commonly known as UNICEF.

At our home the woman of the house shut the door in our daughter's face, with the comment that she wouldn't give to a communist organization such as UNICEF.

When she arrived home, our daughter asked us why this woman had such an idea. We explained that some of the children aided in the program, naturally, live in Communist nations. This gives some people the idea that the funds are communist controlled.

Well, we explained it this way to our girl. A boy or girl in a communist nation is a communist because they are born in that nation. That is all they know. Likewise, we told our daughter that to be perfectly frank about it she was born in the United States and that was why she was an American. It was all she knew. It's just as simple as that.

We also told our daughter that America is one of the few nations in the world where the woman who shut the door in her face could have got away with it.

NO OBSCULENCE

They don't make 'em like they used to? National Aeronautics and Space Administration's Goddard Space Flight Center reports that the tracking beacon on the TIROS II weather satellite is still sending out signals after almost seven years in orbit. This makes it the oldest satellite still operating, say NASA.

TIROS III, launched a year later, is also operating.

The box-shaped TIROS II has now completed more than 35,000 revolutions of the earth and traveled more than 95 million miles. It transmitted 36,100 pictures of world weather over a period of 376 days.

TIROS III's camera functioned for 230 days and returned 35,000 pictures, including the first detection and tracking of a hurricane from space.

Both satellites were originally designed for a mission life of three months.

Solid Backing For Johnson

WASHINGTON (NEA) — Most of the nation's Democratic governors who made the Governors Conference cruise to the Caribbean seem to believe genuinely that President Johnson's critics on the Vietnam war have not made even the beginnings of a case.

In contracts to Republicans who are eager to modify hawkish attitudes to lure voters discontented with the war, these Democrats are planning no shift away from solid LBJ support.

It can be argued, of course, that Johnson is their president, that they are stuck with him and thus have no choice. But this reporter's soundings, taken among the Democratic governors on their cruise, suggest that the deeper truth is that they do not see any real choice in Vietnam.

With one exception among those interviewed, they argue for some sort of prudent middle course in the war which, in any case, would not be far from the President's own path. They see no virtue in withdrawal, phased or otherwise. They oppose a massive step-up. But they think we must pursue the conflict to prevent Red conquest of South Vietnam.

Perhaps the most interesting case history is that of Gov. William Guy of North Dakota. A self-professed dove-until-late August this year, he went to Vietnam just about that time as a member of the President's 22-member team to observe the presidential election there.

He came back with a markedly hardened attitude, and his support of the President is now firmer. Moreover, he believes the same thing happened to all those who went and that this would be the consequence for nearly anyone who chose to visit Vietnam.

It has not escaped the governors' notice that virtually none of their dovish Democratic colleagues in the U.S. Senate has ever been to Vietnam — and certainly not in the critical 2 1/2 years since heavy U.S. participation.

The Democratic governors naturally are not immune to voter trends. In most instances they share the citizens' bewilderment over a dragging war.

"We are all puzzled in our minds," says Gov. Harold Hughes of Iowa, "Nobody likes to see the coffins coming home."

Yet with rare exception they say flatly that the United States in its own national interest as well as Saigon's, must block the outward flow of tyrannical communism in Asia.

They do fault the President on this score — for coming around so belatedly to stressing the lowest-possible theme which they say lies at the heart of our Vietnam-endors-and-continue, if understood, make the war more bearable by the American people.

It is at this point in argument that the governors' basic unhappiness with Johnson as a leader shows through.

A maker of forward-looking domestic social programs, he does not disappoint them. Where they indicate he lets them down is as a man to inspire the American people, to articulate the country's national and world purposes and to express the ideals which frame those goals.

Just as the Republican governors sense their need for such a leader to counter the Republican party next year, so the Democratic governors wish they had one and are regretful that they do not.

Nevertheless, the Democrats interviewed on the governor's cruise are surprisingly confident that Lyndon Johnson, despite the war and his present low status in the polls, will win re-election in 1968.

This confidence is really rooted in two things — their judgment, stated here at the outset, that there is no other route in Vietnam except the middle one; and the conviction that the Republicans heading into 1968 will neither be able to find a better path nor to choose a presidential nominee who will look and sound remarkably exciting when set beside the President.

Q. What is the best treatment for congestion in the nostrils after having the flu? I have a continual postnasal drip.

A. Although upper respiratory infections are a common cause of nasal congestion other factors, such as the normal spontaneous opening and closing or partial closing of alternate sides of the nose, must be considered. Such decongestants as Afrin, Oriniv and Primine (obtainable only on a doctor's prescription) all give temporary relief but when used too often or for too long they lose their effectiveness. When you are excited or too busy to do anything else, you are doing your breathing is improved, even when you have a cold. This makes it hard to evaluate the benefits of these decongestants.

Q. For the past two years I have had a red nose. I don't use alcohol or coffee. What causes it and what would you suggest for it?

A. The commonest cause of a red nose is cirrhosis of the liver. Although cirrhosis may be due to excessive use of alcohol this is by no means the only cause. A red nose may also occur as a hereditary trait or for no discoverable reason. I know of no treatment beyond a liberal application of face powder.

Q. What causes a person to have phlegm in the throat every morning? How can I get rid of it?

A. This is known as post-nasal drip and is caused by a chronic sinusitis or an allergy. If your doctor can discover the cause he should be able to prescribe an appropriate treatment.

Q. What causes moles? Is there anything that will remove them except surgery?

A. Even though they may not develop until late in life, they are caused by a hereditary predisposition and almost everyone gets a few in time. The ordinary brown mole is no threat to your health and is best left alone. If you consider it unsightly you can cover it with a masking cosmetic.

Q. I have a large mole on my left cheek. Lately it has become sore and swollen. How do you tell whether it is malignant?

A. A malignant lesion has a stony hardness. Your doctor can usually tell whether it is cancerous and, if there is any doubt, it should be removed and examined under a microscope.

The Grinding Ax

WASHINGTON (AP) — People with a special ax to grind in this case, foreign trade have been busy lately which is not unusual. They have been busy all through American history.

When the American government began in 1789 the very first piece of legislation passed by the first Congress was a tariff act putting a tax or restrictions on certain imported goods that might compete here with American products.

Down through the years since then Congress has passed a steady stream of tariff acts, lowering or raising as the mood of the country or the needs of special interests changed.

In the midst of the depression the Congress's biggest bonanza was the 1930 Smoot-Hawley Act which raised tariffs to their highest point in American history. It was a bad time to do it.

Other countries retaliated by raising their tariffs on imports from America just when American industries and producers, hit by the depression, needed to sell their goods abroad. This, of course, caused a reaction.

And under President Franklin D. Roosevelt in 1934 the United States did an about-face, giving up its high tariff policy to keep out of the depression and to help other countries.

This empowered the president to work out agreements with individual countries by which they would reduce their tariffs on American exports and this country could reduce its tariffs on imports by as much as 50 percent.

Congress repeatedly renewed this Trade Agreement Act up to the end of World War II when American thinking turned to a much broader arrangement of tariff agreements among a number of nations.

Congress kept on passing the Trade Agreement Act which, for the protection of American interests, had a number of escape clauses letting the United States eliminate or modify an agreement if some American producer was suffering from foreign competition.

Many of the agreements had become more and more protectionist, thus making the Trade Agreement Act look a little dublous as a means for reducing tariffs.

Finally in 1962 President John F. Kennedy got Congress to put through the Trade Expansion Act whose basic idea reflecting the desire of American producers at the time was to expand foreign trade.

While this gave the president more elbow room in making agreements, at the same time it provided many protections for American business, which meant the act in some ways was more liberal, in some more protectionist.

But the idea of multiple agreements grew. And in June the United States and 52 other countries signed an agreement to reduce tariffs on one another, starting next Jan. 1.

By their the American policy of reducing tariffs had reached a point where cuts had averaged 35 percent on 6,000 items. But the fun began after this latest agreement, which needs no congressional approval, was signed.

Johnson would almost certainly veto any bill reducing quotas in a broad, perhaps even in a few, number of imports. But he would be reluctant to veto a Social Security bill. So some advocates of the cuts thought it would be a good idea to tack them on the Social Security measure rather than handling them separately.

But Congress is anxious to get home. It is unlikely to do anything this year.

Muscular Dystrophy Drive Starts In T. F.

The Twin Falls Muscular Dystrophy Drive started officially Wednesday with a luncheon at the Holiday Inn attended by 10 members of the campaign committee.

Gregory A. Monk, president of the drive, presided. The goal of the drive, which lasts through November, is $2,200, with proceeds going to aid research in muscular dystrophy.

Idaho's muscular dystrophy poster children, Douglas and Grant Jacobson, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Jacobson, Shoshone, attended with their mother.

An estimated 128 coin-collection canisters will be placed in businesses in Twin Falls soon. Also, 20 roll-a-coin canisters will be placed. Mr. Monk said the new type canisters give a person a chance in getting his coin back. He said one of the canisters was placed in one business and collected $3. In two days, compared to two cents in the regular type collection canister.

On Nov. 18, between noon and 4 p.m., a roadblock will be placed on Addison Avenue West. Motorists will be asked to donate. And on Nov. 21 and 22, members of the Twin Falls Jay-C-Ettes will make a house-to-house march for muscular dystrophy donations.

Avery Floyd is publicity chairman.

Mrs. Edna Waldron is special events chairman; Karen Monk is in charge of house-to-house, and Ethel Martin is in charge of the speaker's bureau. Willie Peterson will direct a DeMolay effort in the drive and Mrs. Ivan Allred is canister chairman.

Indictments Filed Against 2 Negroes

NEW YORK (AP) — Indictments charging murder and rape have been filed against two men in the deaths of an 18-year-old girl, member of a rich Greenwich, Conn., family, and her hippie boy friend during an LSD party in the East Village.

The Manhattan grand jury indictments were handed up Wednesday against Donald Ramsey and Thomas Dennis, 28-year-old Negroes.

The victims, both white, were Linda Fitzpatrick and James Hutchinson, 21, who was known as "Groovy" in the East Village hippie colony where he was a chieftain of sorts.

In addition to the murder charges, Ramsey and Dennis are accused of raping Miss Fitzpatrick. The two men have been held without bail since their arrest shortly after the bludgeoned bodies of Miss Fitzpatrick and Hutchinson were found in a tenement house basement Oct. 8 by Fred Wright, 31, assistant superintendent of the building.

A separate indictment handed up Wednesday charged Wright and Ramsey with raping a 22-year-old woman in the same building just before the murders. Wright has been held in lieu of $50,000 bail.

Hoover Flays U.S. Parole Systems

By STEPHEN M. AUG Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover, reacting to the killing of two policemen during an Illinois bank robbery, assailed again Wednesday what he called maladministration of the nation's parole systems.

Hoover also called for legislation on the federal, state and local levels to "tighten up parole administration and add: 'The preceding hours of this country have had their say too long.'"

The 72-year-old director made his unscheduled remarks at graduation ceremonies for the 99 members of the FBI National Academy, a 12-week school for law enforcement officers.

Hoover took advantage of a pause in the ceremonies to recall that two men arrested Tuesday night at La Porte, Ind., and charged with the $83,783 holdup of a Northlake, Ill., bank in which two policemen were killed—both had been paroled from a federal prison.

"It again shows the maladministration of the parole systems of this country. As I have many times stated, I believe in parole, but I do not believe in the sloppy method in which it is administered at both the federal and local levels," Hoover said.

Hussein Brushes Off Proposal

LONDON (AP) — King Hussein of Jordan has brushed aside a proposal by Premier Levi Eshkol of Israel that they meet for peace talks in either Israel or Jordan.

On a national television program, the king Wednesday night gave a long answer but ended by agreeing with the interviewer that he was saying "no—with a lot of buts, but no."

McCall's Sales Tax Package Passes In Oregon House

By MATT KRAMER

SALEM (AP) — Republican pushed Gov. Tom McCall's sales tax package through the Oregon House of Representatives Wednesday, but it was a close squeak.

In fact, the key measure—the final one of the day—failed to receive enough votes on roll call, and it was not until several minutes later that Rep. Robert Packwood, R-Portland, changed his vote and pushed the measure through the Senate in this session.

The Senate is expected to take up the six-bill package Monday, giving supporters several days to try to change the 14-16 sentiment against the sales tax in that chamber.

The key measure that was a failure for a few minutes is the one that will be on the ballot next May. If the Senate approves it would ask the voters to approve a 1/2 per cent sales tax to provide $100-million in property tax relief. The sales tax money would go to public schools. New tax bases would be established for schools, a new school support formula would go into effect, and a 1/2-cent increase in the budget could increase without a vote of the people.

All these things are in the key measure, which would be submitted to the people as a constitutional amendment. The other bills passed Wednesday provide the details of these formulas and limitations.

The sales tax measure received a 32-28 edge in the morning.

FOR FAST SELLING RESULTS USE TIMES-NEWS WANT ADS

The major tax package would coat some areas of the state money.

Rep. Frank Roberts, D-Portland, said Portland would pay $20 million in sales tax and get only $14.5 million in property tax relief.

Budget cutting will occupy the legislature Thursday.

National Labor Disputes Keep 200,000 Workers Off Job Today

By GLENN WOLF
Labor disputes across the country kept more than 200,000 workers off the job today and partially tied up production in a variety of industries, ranging from automobiles to machine guns.

Also involved were such diverse service-type employees as bus drivers, newspapermen and hospital nurses.

Longest, and least optimistic of settlement, was the industry-wide copper strike which entered its 11th day. The walkout widened overnight and there was little hope of settlement before the year's end. More than 50,000 have been idled since the bulk of U.S. copper production was halted July 15.

Although a new national contract between Ford Motor Co. and the United Auto Workers union was ratified and signed days ago, assembly lines regained at a standstill over the sometimes thorny issue of at-plant agreements on the local level. Twelve UAW Ford locals were yet to come to terms on these supplements to the national contract.

Production of the M16 machine gun, widely used in the Vietnam war, was halted Wednesday night when 1,500 workers struck the Now Engon division of the Marenton Corp. at Saco, Maine. Some 1,000 members of the Tool Workers Union of America, AFL-CIO, voted Tuesday to reject a new 34-month contract offer. No further negotiations were scheduled.

A walkout by six men in Colorado, equipment installers for Western Electric Co., spread into New Mexico, Arizona, Texas and Utah. A spokesman for the Communications Workers of America, Local 8490, said before a strike assignment, dispute is settled, all 900 of the local's members may be on strike in the seven states where Mountain States Telephone Co. operates.

The lengthy copper industry dispute hit one of the last two major production sites Wednesday night when 1,100 members of United Steel Workers Local 4885 struck Anaconda's International Smelting and Refining Co. at Perth Amboy, N.J. Sources close to the big four producers—Kennecott, Anaconda, American Smelting and Refining Co. and Phelps Dodge—said the dispute may last into January.

While Ford has called back 20,000 of the 160,000 UAW members who struck the company at midnight Sept. 6, a Ford spokesman said production can't resume until all or virtually all plants are ready to resume operation. A union spokesman said: "The pace they're going (local negotiations)—I would think it would be in a week's time."

Despite a temporary court injunction ordering 800 bus drivers and maintenance men back to work in Cincinnati, Ohio, there were no buses on the traffic-clogged streets. Lawyers for the union indicated they would go to court and seek to have the injunction overturned.

The strike by the Independent Amalgamated Transit Workers union, Cincinnati's first transit walkout in 64 years, began when the union's contract expired at midnight Tuesday.

Limited operations were resumed at the Stuebel (III) Community Hospital with volunteers filling in while a labor dispute with the hospital's 139-member nursing staff still simmered. The hospital had been virtually shut down since Oct. 7. The nurses resigned last week rather than accept a court injunction that enjoined them to end the walkout over salary demands.

A three-day photoengravers' strike that shut down both of Cincinnati's daily newspapers ended today when the union and publishers signed a new contract.

The union and publishers of the Morning Enquirer and the afternoon Post & Times-Star said the contract calls for a wage increase for the photoengravers of $2 a week during a 33-month contract plus fringe benefits.

Dear Abby

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN DEAR ABBY: After 18 years, my husband and I are finally building our dream house. Our problem is our 14-year-old son, Clyde. He thinks we should decorate it according to HIS taste instead of our own. My husband and I like Early American, but Clyde likes modern. We compromised and decorated his bedroom in modern, but he isn't satisfied. He wants us to decorate the family room in modern, too. Clyde says if we do it in our "square" Early American style he will not bring his friends over, but we've worked hard for this lovely new home, and think we should be able to decorate it the way we want to. Your opinion would be greatly appreciated. TROUBLED MOTHER

DEAR MOTHER: It's one thing for a 14-year-old to express a preference in decor, but for him to threaten his parents with refusing to bring his friends home unless he gets his own way, I think is a bit much. Do the family room in Early American, and I'll bet Clyde will overlook the "squareness" and come round with his friends.

DEAR ABBY: I have read your column for years and this is the first time I have ever felt compelled to write and protest one of your answers. It is in regard to "CONCERNED AND FURIOUS," who was upset over a neighbor's allowing her preschool children to play in the nude in the back yard in full view of the public. "Abby, what 'public'?" Busy

Law Enforcement Is Big Job In T. F. County

By FRED DODDS
Times-News Staff Writer

Law enforcement in Twin Falls County is a big job. It includes many agencies working together, with crime control funneled upward from the townships on the beat through Fifth District Court.

To get an idea of what law enforcement is like, how it works, and what its objectives are, the citizen must understand the chain of command.

Local law officers in Twin Falls County include the Sheriff's Office and the Police Department. For the state, there is the Idaho State Police and liquor law division of the Department of Law Enforcement.

Federal offices include the Federal Bureau of Investigation, the Internal Revenue Service and the Treasury Department.

Each of the agencies has a function and specific job guidelines.

Each differs from the other, but in ways each overlaps. Twin Falls police officers patrol certain "beats" within the city and have a duty of protecting residents of the city. Sheriff's officers, on the other hand, patrol in the county, often serve civil papers issued by the courts, and in effect undertake a law enforcement job more rural than that of city police.

State police enforce speed limits and highway regulations, but often help out county and city officers in the event of emergency clear such as bank robbery or murder.

The federal offices take care of enforcing federal regulations. And, on request from the local unit of law enforcement, can step in to give a hand in the investigation. Local law officers sometimes work through the FBI in the investigation of local crimes.

Working with the city police and county officers is the Prosecuting Attorney's office, under the direction of elected Prosecutor Mitchell A. Foley. He sees to it that suspects charged by law officers are charged correctly, under the desired Idaho law, and then sees to it that the suspect is prosecuted in court.

Following a situation from crime, through arrest, and into court, an example may be like this: A man holds up a local business by showing a gun under a clerk's nose. He demands money, then escapes.

The first report would be by telephone to the city police. City police in turn notify sheriff's officers and state police. Roadblocks are set up. By this time, all officers have been furnished with a possible description of the suspect, and the vehicle, the suspect used in leaving the scene of the crime, if possible.

Law officers are notified by radio, through dispatchers in the police station, sheriff's office, or state police headquarters.

Robbery suspects are hard to identify, simply because the person being held up usually is too upset to make an accurate identification. But a sum in such an identification is made over to the suspect's capture by police officers, the suspect is then charged with the crime of robbery—a felony.

"The suspect is advised of his rights, which include the rights of remaining silent, to have an attorney present during all questioning or legal proceedings, and to have an attorney appointed if the suspect cannot afford an attorney.

Once the charge has been filed, either through the Justice Court or Probate Court judge or a city magistrate, the defendant is afforded an opportunity to be released on bail. In Idaho there is only one crime in which bail cannot be set—first degree murder.

Bail is collateral. It is set to guarantee that the defendant will appear in court again on a date scheduled.

This setting of bail is called the arraignment.

Once the defendant is arraigned, another court date is set. The time between arraignment and the second appearance is to allow the defendant time to consult with an attorney about the charge he faces.

In the second arraignment the defendant is asked if he wants a preliminary hearing.

Often an attorney for the defendant will ask for more continuances. This is to allow the defendant and his attorney time to build the case, and often continuances are granted for up to a month—often more—until the defendant either requests the preliminary hearing or waives it and is ordered bound over to a higher—in this case

Fifth District Court to answer the felony charge of robbery.

All felony matters—crimes in which a defendant could go to prison or be fined more than $300—are in the jurisdiction of a district court. All misdemeanor matters are handled in the lower city, justice or probate courts. A misdemeanor is a crime in which a defendant can be fined up to $300 and sentenced up to six months in the county jail.

If the defendant does not waive preliminary hearing, a hearing is ordered and usually is held in Twin Falls Probate Court.

The hearing is held to determine if a crime has been committed, and to determine if there is reason to believe the defendant had a part in that crime.

If these two points are not established, the defendant is ordered released and all charges are dropped. If not, the defendant is ordered bound over to district court, to either enter a plea or have one entered for him.

An innocent plea in the higher court will get a trial for the defendant. A guilty plea will bring about sentencing, with a slight delay allowed for the defendant. No plea at all will bring an automatic entry of plea of innocent from the court judge.

Bail is then set again for the defendant, and if the defendant cannot pay that bail, he is held in the county jail.

Trials are scheduled each calendar call, or four times a year, in January, April, July and October.

If the defendant is arrested in May, his trial in most instances, will be scheduled by one of the two judges in Fifth District Court in the July calendar call.

Benefit Hike Bill OK'd By Committee

WASHINGTON (AP) — A bill to increase Social Security benefits and taxes by a minimum of 16 per cent has passed the Senate Finance Committee in nearly the form called for by President Johnson.

The administration bill entails a much higher percentage increase in the lowest brackets, the minimum monthly payment would be raised from $44 to $70 — than the House version passed in August.

The House bill included a 12 1/2 per cent across-the-board increase with a $50 minimum. Any difference between the two final versions will have to be settled in a compromise by a House-Senate conference.

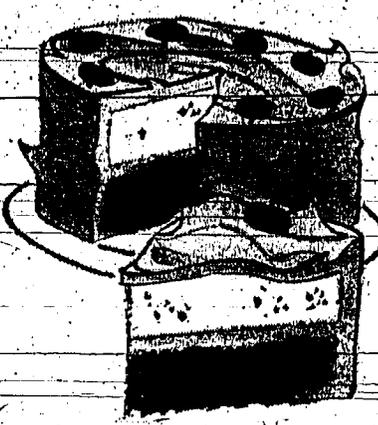

As they now stand the two versions also differ in the amount of increase in the payroll tax—matched by the employer—and the wage base against which the tax is levied.

The Senate panel voted to raise the individual tax to 4.8 per cent next year compared to 4.4 per cent now. The House voted to begin the higher rate in 1969. The House also voted to raise the wage base to $7,600 in 1968, compared to $6,800 this year.

Chairman Russell B. Long, of the Senate panel, said it probably will settle on a $7,800 base next year as proposed by the administration.

MR. SWENSEN SAYS:

LET THEM EAT CAKE!

*This was said by Marie Antoinette to the poor people of France about 200 years ago. It was kind of a cruel thing to say because bread was high priced and cake was even higher. But now you might as well eat cake, because it's almost cheaper than bread, and best of all, Eating Cake is MORE FUN (YEA). With these low prices on cake mixes, you can pack the lunches with bologna, cake sandwiches, tuna-fish, cake sandwiches, stuff the turkey with cake crumbs, and still have enough money left to buy the rest of the Great Specials at Swensen's Magic Markets.

(Continued From Page One) manager form of government as opposed to the mayor type. With a budget of more than $2 million at a city has, I believe it should be run as a business with a fully qualified and experienced administrator," he declared.

A member of the four-man conservative ticket, and a retired construction business official, P. C. Pope also chose nomination as a major issue, but said those who asked him to run for office did so because he was firmly convinced the present administration is not following a desirable course.

"Various projects which they have projected are not the sensible program to have followed and this has alarmed me," he stated.

"It is my belief that more horse sense should be used and less surveys in the running of the city government," Mr. Pope added.

Eugene Stacey, an incumbent candidate, and member of the city council for the past six months, a certified public accountant by profession, said the continuation of a positive, forward looking city council is the major issue on Tuesday.

"My short experience on the council has convinced me that our city government is being operated efficiently and economically. Decisions of the council have been made after mature consideration of all aspects of any problem under consideration and with the object of keeping Twin Falls a progressive city and better place in which to live. The city manager and all city employees have carried out the council's decisions in a spirit of harmony and cooperation. Another member of the conservation ticket and new to the area and to city politics, is Joseph K. Stumph, Jr. He said more efficient operation of the city is the keynote issue.

"The central issue is the same for all of us on the ticket, Nolan Victor, Lawrence Tolman, Jack Pope and myself. This will be more efficient operation of the city, less spending by looking at every proposal for projects calling for the use of public funds and by hiring local talent whenever possible instead of going outside the county or state for high-priced experts who do not have as much personal concern for our city as those who live here," he declared.

"Also a member of the conservative ticket, Lawrence Tolman, a roofing and tile firm owner and former high-level city employee, declared, "I want to see government at all levels stay within its budget. We cannot go on spending ourselves more and more in debt. We are not being fair to future generations to leave our debts for them to pay. We should stop putting out relief in bondage through federal aid and spending."

Nolan Victor, local realtor and member of the conservative ticket, said he was prompted to run for office by his strong opposition to the thinking of the present administration.

Mr. Victor said he is greatly opposed to "continuous pushing of projects and programs spending vast sums of tax money to be paid for in the future which have questionable value to the community."

"All levels of government should operate on a cash basis just as you and I should do out the council's decisions and their other duties in a spirit of harmony and cooperation. Another member of the con-

Junkyard And Billboard Rules Are Set

BOISE (AP) — Regulations of billboards and junkyards adjacent to Idaho's highways were adopted in final form by the Idaho State Highway Board Wednesday and will become effective in 20 days.

Adoption of the regulations was necessary to keep Idaho in line with the National Highway Beautification Program and to insure that the state will get all available highway construction aid funds.

Basically, the regulations provide that no advertising signs may be closer than 600 feet to interstate or primary highways and that the billboards may be no larger than 750 square feet.

Junkyards must be screened from view from the highways. After the regulations go into effect, there will be 120 days in which to comply with them.

Board members also set 24 hours as the maximum time a person may stop in an interstate highway rest area.

Campaign Getting Hotter As Election Date Nears

"In defending the ad," Mr. Stumph continued, "the candidate finally spells out clearly what they meant by 'annual budget.'"

"I believe the voter of 'average intelligence' would get the impression that if I told the 'annual budget' of the city was $715,000, that would mean annual expenditures."

"Not so with the city council," he continued. "They seem to prefer not to discuss expenditures which jumped $458,033 in the past year from the 1966 budget of $1,830,628 to $2,288,661."

"Too often," he said, "public officials find themselves having to explain what they really meant when they are cornered in their falsehood propaganda."

Nolan Victor, a member of the conservative ticket which has been critical of present city operations, said Thursday it is up to Earl Fuller, superintendent of the Twin Falls Sewage Treatment Plant to "prove his accusation that the city health department's intent to demand a second plant to be built for better filtering of the murky filth now contaminating the Snake River... from the Twin Falls plant."

"The information that this plant is strictly a primary system and the health department was applying force came directly from Mr. Fuller," Mr. Victor said.

In an earlier statement, Mr. Fuller challenged Mr. Victor to prove by tests and samples that the Twin Falls sewage plant is contaminating the river. Mr. Fuller has never denied that secondary treatment may be required in the future of Twin Falls and all other Idaho cities now operating with primary treatment plants.

State Health Department officials are considering such questions, the plant operator said, and if no certain revisions would have to be made of present facilities to convert to new state regulations.

"Any person visiting the plant will have to admit that the discharge coming from the plant and entering the river is murky," Mr. Victor said.

The plant operator said slightly cloudy effluent is true in the case of all primary plants; but this effluent is treated as it leaves the plant to protect against any contamination of the river. Tests show the local plant meets all health department requirements at the present time, Mr. Fuller said.

Turning to the use of federal funds to achieve city projects, Mr. Stacey pointed out that Idaho is one of the states in the country which receives more money back than it pays into the federal government. This is probably because more than two-thirds of the state is either federal or state owned land, he said.

Federal funds, he said, are a means of providing services and projects needed in less heavily populated areas where local funds are not sufficient to meet costs.

"Our railroads, highways, many hospitals, airports and even home financing for the house buyer are federally financed," he added.

He pointed out the federal government's guarantee of FHA and GI loans permits many persons to purchase homes, helping the individuals, the community and the restorer.

Pointing out he hopes to continue his term of office as a city councilman, Mr. Stacey said the six months he has spent with the council has been an education many citizens are not privileged to receive.

"Many times after technical information and complete investigations have been made and all information concerning material in the table we find we accept or reject a proposal often in direct opposition to our previously formed views," he said.

In an advertisement in the Oct. 29, issue of the Times-News boasting the three incumbent commissioners and Frank Cook for commissioners in the Nov. 7, election the alleged ANNUAL BUDGET for Twin Falls was listed for the years 1957 thru 1967. The figures quoted in the ad are false for each of the ten years listed. Figures for only two years.

Annual Budget according to the advertisement.	Actual Expenditures
1966—$727,500	1966—$1,830,628
1967—$713,900	1967—$2,286,661

(Anticipated)

The actual expenditures figure is taken from the Twin Falls financial statement signed by Eben H. Krell, Chairman of the City Commission and attested by Constance J. Lelzer, City Clerk. Why would these men try to deceive the public into thinking the 1967 budget was less than a million dollars when in reality it is more than two million?

Notice that in a single year expenditures jumped $456,033, more than half the total ANNUAL BUDGET claimed by the advertisement.

'Dead' GI Shows Signs Of Life Under Army Embalmer's Knife

WASHINGTON (AP) — A young American soldier, pronounced dead of boobytrap wounds, showed signs of life while under the knife of a U.S. Army embalmer in Vietnam.

Spec. 4 Thoky C. Bayne, 22, of Fort Mill, S.C., was pronounced dead near Chu Lai last July 18 after doctors had worked for 45 minutes trying resuscitation.

His seemingly lifeless body was sent routinely to an Army graves-registration section nearby and it was sometimes long when the embalmer's knife made its first incision.

There was a faint flicker of life and Bayne was rushed back to a field hospital. After more resuscitation and numerous blood transfusions there, were other signs of life.

Today, more than three months later, Bayne is moving toward at least limited recovery at Walter Reed Hospital in Washington.

The Bayne story was published today by the Knight newspapers after research and Interviews by James Batten of the Washington Bureau.

Army doctors at Walter Reed call the Bayne story "amazing" and "astounding." No doctor interviewed could recall such a case before.

An official spokesman at the hospital emphasized that the Bayne case is a medical rarity and should cause no worry to relatives of men fighting in Vietnam.

"Every effort," said the hospital spokesman, "is made to apply resuscitative measures whenever there is any hope of saving a patient."

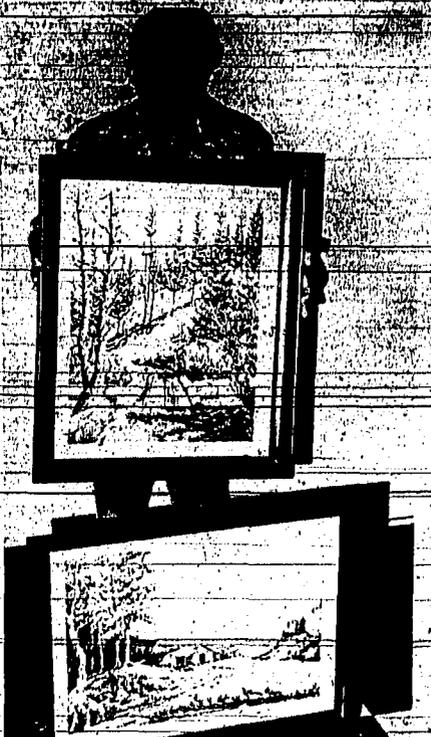

Army doctors use a variety of tests to establish death before giving up on men wounded in combat. Only when there is no spontaneous breathing, no audible heart beat, no pulse and no activity on an electrocardiogram do doctors conclude that the patient is dead.

In the Bayne case, all these signs of death were apparent. "By all the accepted criteria he was dead," said one Army doctor.

Mr. Klinghorn has been with the Department of Highways since 1955, according to Blaine Sessions, district engineer. He and his three sons, ages 13, 10 and 3, moved to Shoshone in 1966.

Twin Falls Seeks To End Losing Streak In League Battle With Pocatello

The Twin Falls Bruins, once riding a 4-1 record, try to break a three-game losing streak when they entertain the Pocatello Indians in a Southern Idaho Conference test. Game time is 8 p.m. at Twin Falls Stadium.

Although the offensive team still is piling up good yardage, the Bruins have dined defensively, allowing 86 points in the past three games and an average of 346 yards per game. Although Pocatello has won only one conference game, it can't be counted out for two reasons. The first is Mike Heberlein, who was leading the SIC in rushing until missing a game due to an injury. Heberlein has been described by several conference coaches as the best runner in the loop — and that covers considerable area according to the statistics released this week.

The Indians also have a classed passer type in Lynn Mabe, who has been coming on strong in the last three games. Mabe flows directly over the top with picture-book form. He likes to throw to end Hugh Putnam, who has 12 conference receptions for 276 yards.

Senior halfback for the Twin Falls Bruins is moving toward the 1,000-yard mark in rushing this season. The 160-pounder will lead the Bruins against the Pocatello Indians at 8 p.m. Friday in Twin Falls Stadium.

Declo, Oakley Ready For Playoff Battles

Declo and Oakley are as prepared as they can get for Saturday's playoff action at American Falls in the Magic Valley Conference winds up its season with its one-two punch going against the conference winners from the fifth district.

Oakley will meet North Gem of Bancroft at 11 a.m. on the American Falls High School field with Declo taking on underdog Westside in the second game. It is strictly a conference playoff and the state has ruled no championship designation can be awarded by any school representatives.

Coach Edon reports, "Our scouting reports indicate that Heberlein is dangerous until he definitely is on the ground. He's moving at a blistering pace and good at breaking them."

"Although we were beaten last week by Capital, I felt the boys played pretty well, perhaps the best of the year. They beat us once on a long pass and got another long touchdown on a great run. We had our shots at the runner but couldn't get him down and in a situation like that they deserve the points."

"We moved the ball well and could easily have scored more. Two passes that looked like touchdowns were dropped, and a third was overthrown," he continued. "I'm sure we'll be both offensively and defensively combined with crasing a couple of three mistakes should get us a win this week."

Mays Cited For Defense For 11th Year

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Willie Mays of the San Francisco Giants made his 11th consecutive appearance on the Sporting News National League Gold Glove baseball team, which honors fielding excellence.

All Kaline of the Detroit Tigers made the newspaper's American League Gold Glove line-up, chosen by managers and coaches, for the 10th time.

Coach Kleinkopf has ample evidence to support such a claim. Blake scored both touchdowns against Idaho Falls on quicks of 42 and 68. Went 60 yards in the final minutes against Caldwell to win that one. Popped another for 51 yards against Capital last week. He also blew through the line against Highland but this time it was only for 11. Againstampa he shifted out to split and caught three passes, two for touchdowns of 40 and 60 yards and a third for a 30-yard gain.

Blake Won't Reach Peak, But He'll Gain Plateau

When Twin Falls halfback Bob Blake opened the season he set an unattainable goal for himself and has steadily been trying to prove it was not unrealistic. Blake, only 5-9 and 160 pounds, got his sights on 1,500 yards and while he won't get there, he should get to the coveted 1,000-yard mark before he's through as a Bruin.

Going into Friday night's battle against Pocatello, the 160-pounder has gained in rushing yards and in passing. He also raised his punting average to 38.7 last week. Brof Staples and Blake are three-fourths in kick-off returns and senior end John Giesler, playing his first year of football, is fourth in pass receptions with 15 for 192 yards.

Idaho To Use Option In Weber Game

MOSCOW, Idaho (AP) — University of Idaho coach Steve Musson, seeing great things ahead with the passing arm of quarterback Steve Garman, put the Vandals through a "tough" scrimmage Wednesday to polish the quarterback option.

"The option play is Garman's specialty and we are going to put it in full use" against Weber State Saturday at Ogden, Utah, Musson said.

Garman elected to pass on the majority of option plays run in Wednesday's scrimmage with emphasis on short patterns.

Fearing the front line will not be able to hold back Weber State's defensive charges, Musson said Garman likely will be throwing on the run, instead of from the pocket.

1966 Champs Missing In NFL Stats

NEW YORK (AP) — The halfway point in the National Football League race finds none of the 1966 champions at the top of the 1967 individual tables.

Chicago's Gale Sayers, the 1966 rushing champion, is down in 13th place among the current statistical leaders with Cleveland's Leroy Kelly showing the way with 584 yards.

Bart Starr of Green Bay was the leading passer last season but the current pacesetter is Sonny Jurgensen of the Washington Redskins. Starr is No. 18.

Charley Taylor of Washington is currently out of action due to injuries but is only one behind the leader, Willie Richardson of Baltimore, who has 36.

Bruce Gossett, the Los Angeles Rams' place kicker and defending scoring champion, is running fourth in a department led by Jim Bakken of St. Louis with 81 points.

Baltimore's Dave Lee, the top punter of last season is No. 11 while Pat Studstill of Detroit is out front with a 45.4-yard average.

Sayers was the kickoff return champ a year ago but rookie John Love of Washington is just ahead of him this year. Johnny Roland of St. Louis, top punt return man in 1966, has given way to Rickie Harris of Washington.

Larry Wilson of St. Louis led the interception department with 10 in 1966. Currently rookie Lem Barney of Detroit and the veteran Dave Whitsett of New Orleans are tied with six each.

Warriors Hike Streak To Six

DETROIT (AP) — The San Francisco Warriors stretched their winning streak to six straight Wednesday night as they roated away from the Detroit Pistons in the final quarter to score a 137-132 National Basketball Association triumph.

With the team dominated at night, the Warriors ripped off eight straight points on baskets by Nate Thurmond and Jim King.

Poker Game Puts Hawkins On Carpet

BALTIMORE (AP) — Alex Hawkins, split end and kicker, team specialist for the Baltimore Colts, faced disciplinary action by the National Football League club Wednesday after being arrested at 4:45 a.m. at a poker game in the rear of a suburban barber shop.

Eight other men, including Bert Bell Jr., former business manager of the Colts and son of the late commissioner of the NFL, also were arrested. All were released on $35 bond for preliminary hearing Nov. 17.

A spokesman for the Colts said there will be disciplinary action taken by the club against Hawkins because of the time of the raid. "Curfew is not strict when the team is at home," the spokesman said. "But certainly 4:45 is a little past bedtime especially when there is a practice that day."

No Chance

ST. LOUIS (AP) — A St. Louis attorney was running through assorted papers on his desk Wednesday and came across a crumpled brown envelope marked only "Mr. Harris."

The attorney, Alfred I. Harris, opened the envelope and found three tickets, one for game four and two for game five of the 1967 World Series at Busch Memorial Stadium Oct. 6-9.

"These are the kind they were selling for $100 apiece," Harris said. "I'm going to telephone club president Guslo Busch and see if I can get my money back."

Huskies Conduct Even Workout

SEATTLE (AP) — The Washington Huskies went through a balanced football workout Wednesday, devoting nearly equal time to their offense and defense.

There was little body contact, enabling fullback Gary James and halfback Gerald Wea to break loose on some long runs. However, some plays fizzled as fumbles struck the Huskies on a cold, crisp day.

Plank Jim Cope made some excellent catches of passes thrown by quarterback Tom Manke.

Washington hosts Stanford in a Pacific-8 Conference game Saturday.

Hawks Rally To Defeat Royals

CINCINNATI (AP) — St. Louis held Cincinnati to only one field goal in 23 attempts in the third quarter to rally from a seven-point deficit and grab a 101-98 National Basketball Association victory Wednesday night.

Joe Caldwell tossed in eighth third-quarter points to lead the Hawks' comeback that helped them extend their winning streak to three games.

The Jets are second in both team offense and defense, averaging 379.6 yards a game and limiting their opponents to an average of 225.7.

San Diego is tops offensively with 386.7 yards a game but stands only seventh defensively. Oakland, meanwhile, is best defensively, allowing 196.1 yards a game, but is fourth on offense.

The Jets have the best passing mark of 276 while Kansas City's rushing figure of 350.7 is tops.

Defensively, Oakland has held its opponents to 70.3 yards a game on the ground, and Buffalo has limited opponents' passing to 110.3 a game.

Jerome-Solon, Filer-Buhl Rivalries Set Friday; Burley To Host Skyline

The traditional battles start Friday while Burley hosts Skyline and Twin Falls entertains Pocatello in the second-to-last weekend of the football season.

The fare is divided into afternoon and evening battles with the top draws on the west end of Magic Valley finding Filer at Buhl at 1:30 p.m. and Jerome at Gooding at 8 p.m. Burley and Skyline battle at 2 p.m. Friday

EIC Total Offense Lead Changes Hands

Things remained about the same in the Eastern Idaho Conference last week with the major change finding Skyline's Kim Hall moving past Burley's Leroy Fink and into the total offense lead.

According to statistics released today by conference coaches, Hall is leading in total offense with 527 yards and has picked up 421 of them in passing.

Meredith's Return Buys Dallas Hopes

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Don Meredith returns to the Dallas Cowboys after missing three games with injuries, and Coach Tom Landry is hopeful they will signal a return to a missing offense, too.

"You don't know exactly what's wrong with the offense but since Meredith has been hampered by injuries all season, you assume that this is the reason," said Landry at his weekly press conference.

Anyway, Meredith has recovered fully from a rib injury and pneumonia and will be the starter Sunday when the Cowboys meet improving Atlanta in the Cotton Bowl.

The Cowboys lost their first game in four starts last Sunday as they fell to Philadelphia 21-14 and as a result had their lead in the Capital Division of the National Football League cut to one game.

Landry observed that the Cowboys had one half of the schedule yet to go and that it "is the toughest part."

He also said that if the Dallas offense didn't start jelling the Cowboys couldn't hope to equal last year's showing when they were Eastern Conference champions.

Keyes Leads Colleges In Point Total

NEW YORK (AP) — Leroy Keyes of Purdue has taken over the scoring lead among the nation's major college football players, the latest statistics disclosed Wednesday.

Keyes scored four touchdowns in the Boilermakers' 41-22 victory over Iowa last Saturday, increasing his point total to 72. This is 12 more than Ric Elton of Tulsa and Duke Colson of East Carolina, who are tied for second.

The figures compiled by National Collegiate Sports Services also revealed new leaders in other departments. Ace Hendricks of New Mexico is the pass setter in passing yards with 22 completions. Don Bean of Houston took over first place in punt returns with 452 yards and Steve Inturia of West Texas State is No. 1 in interception returns with eight.

Joe Casas of New Mexico held first place in kickoff returns with 535 yards.

Gerald Warren of North Carolina State and Ken Juszkowich of West Virginia share the top position in scoring by kicking. Each has accounted for 46 points, Warren with 10 field goals and 10 extra points and Juszkowich with 11 field goals and 13 extra points.

with Twin Falls and Pocatello meeting at 8 p.m. Two teams leave the area with Shoshone at Aberdeen and Minico traveling to Mountain Home. On the non-conference scene, Wells will be at Valley and Wendell will host Hagerman in one of those special eight-man, 11-man meetings.

Burley, moving to 10th place in the state ranking this week, will run into a tough Skyline crew that scores a bunch but statistically must be a defensive monster.

In four Eastern Idaho Conference games Skyline has allowed opponents only 218 yards on the ground and 62 in the air. Skyline has scored the most points in the conference with 141 and is second only to Idaho Falls in total offense.

So it will be up to Burley's defense to keep Skyline close enough for the Bobcats offense to overhaul. Burley is third in conference offense, fourth in defense so far.

Skyline is undefeated for the year, although tied once at 7-7 by Highland of Pocatello. Coach Rulon Budge's Bobcats take a 5-2 record into the game.

Another defensive battle is home at Gooding where the Senators have been whittled down by injuries in the past two weeks. And the Senators haven't been scoring too well of late. Jerome, the young offensive team getting a little stronger each week, hasn't been able to find a sustained scoring punch. It figures to be a low scoring affair, especially if Gooding's speed isn't able to come back this week.

In a topay-turvy season nothing has been more unpredictable than Buhl. The Indians found a new way to lose a game last week at Malad—on a blocked punt on the last play of the game. And so the Indians vacillate from good to bad.

On paper Filer doesn't figure to have the firepower of the Indians but that overlooks a couple of things. One is that Filer traditionally plays its best game against Buhl and the other is Clyde Wright, who can break away on any play.

Defensively, Filer has to worry about Dan Turner.

Minico's defense, which has kept the Spartans in good shape all year, faces a single wing test at Mountain Home, engineered by full-back Steve Holden. The Spartans have little left of its starting backfield and those playing have a little more than nuisance bruises.

Minico hopes to have its top ground game, Dennis Hobbs, ready for this one after missing the Idaho Falls game.

Hagerman wants a victory at Wendell to cap a undefeated season while the Trojans would like to play spoiler to sweeten an otherwise sour year.

Shoshone's little but pesky Indians will be out to make it two straight over Aberdeen, an unknown quantity in this area.

Valley, pointing toward its Veterans Day game with Shoshone, tunes up against Wells, a team that defeated Castelford and lost to Murtaugh.

Following this week the area will have only five games left on the slate.

Bengals Plan Switch At Quarterback

POCATELLO (AP) — Football Coach Leo McKillip said Wednesday he may start sophomore Leroy Keyesback at quarterback Saturday night when Idaho State University plays University of Hawaii at Honolulu.

McKillip gave no reason for the possible change at quarterback, where passing ace Bill Ingram has been a fixture for two years.

The Bengals left via commercial airliner for Honolulu Thursday morning and are due to return home next Tuesday.

Keyes will take the 6-7 yardage against the Rainbows, who currently have a season mark of 2-3.

This will be Idaho State's first trip to Hawaii since 1958, when they were beaten by the Rainbows 45-13. Hawaii also won the return game in Pocatello 14-0 in 1959.

ISU closed its home slate last weekend in a 19-7 loss to Weber State. After the Hawaii game ISU goes to Parsons College Nov. 11 and completes the season at Portland State Nov. 23.

Ron Barry, Burley, remained comfortably ahead in punting with a 39.6 average while Craig Lords, Skyline, is rushing away with the punt return title and now has 318 yards on 35 tries. Gary Revollo, Skyline, leads in scoring with 42 points.

O'Leary Trims Sooner Linebacker Stuart 28-14 In City Duel

O'Leary Cubs trimmed cross-town rival Robert Stuart 28-14 Thursday night behind a stout defense and the offensive work of Larry Blackwood and Rich Borah.

The Cubs, heavily favored in the game, built up a 21-0 lead through the first three quarters, watching speedy Richard Warner spark Stuart to two quick touchdowns and then closed it out with a clinching touchdown.

A fumble recovery by Charles Tennant early in the second quarter set O'Leary up on the Stuart 30-yard line and O'Leary cashed in on a 12-yard touchdown pass from Blackwood to Roger Campbell. With 52 seconds left in the half the same passing duo hit again for 27 yards and the second score.

Early in the third quarter Borah made a great catch of a Blackwood pass for a 15-yard touchdown. But then came Stuart's turn. Warner shed off his speed with a 60-yard scamper and early in the fourth quarter hit Rick Renze on a 17-yard touchdown strike.

But Stuart hopes faded quickly as Borah returned the kick off to the 34 yard line and on the next play cut back and covered the remaining distance for the final score. Blackwood netted four O'Leary extra points on runs and Warner booted a two for Stuart.

High for the Lakers were Elgin Baylor and Mel Counts with 23 and 22 points, respectively. Los Angeles led throughout the first half. Reed put on a brilliant shooting display in the second period with an assortment of shots, pouring through 24 points. But the Lakers held on to lead at the half 61-57.

The Knicks caught the Lakers in the third period when Carlisle Russell and Reed in ripping the nets. New York led 90-85 after three periods.

Is Lineman Of Week

By RON RAPOPORT Associated Press Sports Writer "I love collisions," says Dan Pflimmer. "They make me happy, give me a deep-down satisfaction."

There was a whole game full of deep-down satisfaction last Saturday for Pflimmer, the Oklahoma linemaker who is the Associated Press college football Lineman of the Week.

The Sooners downed Missouri 7-0 in a bruising defensive battle and a lot of the bruising was done by Pflimmer. A check of the game films showed the 6-0, 185-pounder made no less than 31 tackles.

"Pflimmer played a whale of a game and chased the ball real hard," said Coach Chuck Fairbanks.

Pflimmer showed up unannounced at Norman last year, a transfer from Trinity of Texas, and quickly won a job in the spring workouts.

Another fine performance, albeit for a depressing cause, was Emilio Valle, New Mexico who caught 17 passes for 247 yards. Trouble is the University of Texas, El Paso, beat the Lobos 75-12.

James Moyle, a Texas Tech tackle, prevented an SMU touchdown by knocking a pass into the hands of a teammate, batted down another pass and recovered a fumble as the Red Raiders won 21-7.

Mississippi linebacker Jimmy Keyes kicked two extra points in a 14-13 victory over Houston and recovered a fumble that led to an Ole Miss touchdown.

Tulane's defensive ends, Scott Haber and Jim Wallace were outstanding in the Green Wave's 23-12 upset of Georgia Tech. Both made a number of tackles and Wallace recovered a Tech fumble.

Students Protest Wide Variety Of Issues

By BOB MONROE
Associated Press Writer

Issues ranging from the campus presence of CIA recruiters to the bulldozing of a favorite lounge lawn prompted student protests Wednesday at various colleges around the nation.

There were also expressions of support for open recruiting at Columbia University and a vote by University of Texas students against an immediate ceasefire in Vietnam.

Central Intelligence Agency men were recruiting at Stanford University when 75 to 100 students climbed a fire escape to a high-rise collision involving four vehicles Wednesday on a two-mile stretch of heavily traveled U.S.-90 near the Mississippi-Louisiana border.

Among them was a New Orleans couple and one of their daughters. Three other daughters were injured. The family, along with the boyfriend of one of the girls, was on an All-Saints Day outing to the Mississippi Gulf Coast.

The Mississippi Highway Patrol said a westbound car traveling at a high rate of speed crossed the painted center line on the highway and collided with three oncoming vehicles.

the presence of a Marine Corps recruiter touched off a kicking, shoving melee.

No injuries were reported but campus police called on some 60 city police to help make the arrests. The demonstration was staged by the Students for a Democratic Society.

About 300 University of Michigan students in Ann Arbor staged a sit-in at the administration building to protest the school's involvement in a $1 million counterintelligence project in Thailand.

The school newspaper disclosed recently that the school had the contract. The demonstrators called for an end to the Thailand project and creation of a faculty-student committee to review university research policy.

At City College in New York 49 students were arrested as they sat in muddy ditches dug for the foundations of a building they say encroaches on a favored student lounge lawn.

The demonstration by some 400 students was the second in three weeks over the issue. More than 80 policemen forced a circle and locked arms to prevent the construction crew at the site.

A few blocks to the south of Manhattan's West Side, students of Columbia College and the university's School of Engineering were voting strongly in favor of open recruiting by an organization.

With more than two-thirds of the 1,775-member undergraduate student body voting, the tally showed 67 percent said they did not object to any governmental or private employer interviewing students.

"Although many students feel that the war in Vietnam is wrong, people do not feel that suppression of certain types of speech is a suitable means of protest," commented Edem Weisman, president of the sophomore class.

A majority of University of Texas students voting in a campus election expressed themselves as against an immediate ceasefire and withdrawal of U.S. troops from Vietnam.

Approximately 20 per cent of the university's 29,841 students cast ballots with 1,724 for halting of the war.

Cut In Rates On Telephone Are Told

Reduced rates for long distance telephone calls between states went into effect Wednesday, according to Mountain States Telephone District manager.

The major cut in rates since constant-cost service was inaugurated in 1955, he said. The new economy calling period has been established for direct distance dialed calls between midnight and 7 a.m. The rate for the first three minutes is 75 cents or less for a call within the continental United States, except Alaska.

The present night and Sunday station-to-station rates will also be advanced to start at 7 p.m. instead of 8 p.m. on weekdays. A three-minute station-to-station call anywhere in the continental United States, except Alaska, during the evening period of 5 p.m. to 7 p.m. will be lowered to $1.25, a reduction of 25 cents, he said.

Some person-to-person rates will also drop. The lower night person-to-person rates will be extended to apply all day Saturday and Sunday instead of just Sunday, and to apply from 5 p.m. to 7 a.m. weekdays instead of from 8 p.m. to 4:30 a.m.
