State Action Against Sierra Life Dropped

Dismissal Thursday of a re-habilitation petition against Sierra Life Insurance Co., that has been pending in Fifth Judicial District court in Twin Falls since early in the year, has returned the firm's operation to normal, company officials report.

Judge James M. Wray dismissed the legal action brought against the company by John B. Blaine, Idaho Insurance Commissioner, dismissed after a stipulation was reached between Max Elden Jr., assistant attorney general, representing Mr. Blaine, and Joseph M. Imhoff Jr., Boise, attorney for Sierra Life.

The court ruled the action be dismissed in that the Twin Falls based company has divested itself of questionable assets and is now in full compliance with the Idaho insurance law.

Fred M. Frazier, president of Sierra Life Insurance Co., Twin Falls, said the company appreciated the cooperation and assistance of the department of insurance in resolving questions concerning the financial condition of Sierra.

"While new sales have been affected during the past several months," Mr. Frazier said, "they were not off as much as might have been expected fol-

Senate OKs Sawtooth Area Bill

WASHINGTON — The Senate, just before 11 a.m. (MST) Thursday, passed a bill sponsored by Sen. Frank Church (Idaho) and Sen. B. Jordan (Idaho) establishing a Sawtooth National Recreation area in central Idaho.

Passage came on a voice vote with no objections. Rich Raphael, press secretary to Sen. Church, said passage of the bill came just after both Senators described the attractions of the 351,000-acre mountain and valley area in the Stanley Basin. The bill now goes to the House of Representatives for consideration. Mr. Raphael said action by the Senate at this time put the measure about a year ahead of schedule.

Sen. Jordan said the recreation area would be geared to "serving the maximum public benefit with the least possible negative impact on existing or potential business and the tax-paying ability of the local government."

of mineral resources would be authorized but regulated. Sen. Church said establishment of the area would guarantee protection of the present Sawtooth Primitive area. "The upper branches of the Salmon River constitute one of the last remaining nurseries in the Northwest for salmon and steelhead, the fish that fight their way up from the Pacific Ocean to spawn."

Saturn 5 Successful In Its Maiden Test Flight

By HOWARD BENEDICT AP Aerospace Writer
CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — America's Saturn 5 super-rocket scored a resounding success on its maiden test flight today, orbiting a record after a perfect countdown — something that few people believed possible for such a complex machine.

The historic flight gave this nation's man-in-space program a much-needed shot in the arm and revived hopes that U.S. astronauts can still land on the moon in this decade.

Of today's rocket, only the Apollo spacecraft was to come home to earth. The main module, the fiery dive would de-first stage fell apart, plunging into the Atlantic, although a chunk, eight feet long was sighted in the sea. The second and third stages and the Apollo service module were consigned to destruction in fiery re-entries.

It will do a lot for the progress in coming months of the Apollo program. "Yesterday," Phillips said, "I would have said that I think we have a reasonably good chance of accomplishing a manned lunar landing by the end of 1969. Today, I think that reasonably good chance is maybe a notch above reasonably good."

Chrysler Plants Idle Despite New Contract

DETROIT (AP) — Much of Chrysler Corp.'s car and truck building operations remained idle today despite a new, three-year contract worked out Wednesday night in a final 34-hour bargaining session.

The United Auto Workers union and Chrysler reached tentative agreement on the new pact which will cover some 85,000 of Chrysler's 103,000 UAW members.

UAW president Walter P. Reuther predicted it would take a couple of days to get Chrysler back to near normal production. Some Chrysler-UAW units jumped the gun Wednesday and staged local walkouts in advance of the UAW designated strike deadline of last midnight.

More Aid

BOISE (AP) — Idaho got additional federal financial aid Thursday but it was more than offset by a bill for added costs of last summer's fire fighting work.

A check for $62,500 was received from the federal office of emergency planning, state land commissioner Gordon Trombley reported. That was the balance of a $350,000 allocation made to the state after it was declared a disaster area last August because of widespread forest fires.

Idaho Fair, Rodeo Meeting Opens Here

Members of the Idaho State Fair and Rodeo Association will begin gathering at the Rogerson Hotel tonight for the 31st annual meeting of the group.

The program starts Friday morning with continued registration. The convention opens at 8:30 a.m. with a welcome from President Walter H. Yarbrough, Grandview, Twin Falls Mayor Egon Kroll will welcome those attending, and also giving short talks will be Ray Rostron, manager of the Twin Falls Chamber of Commerce, and Harold Hove, president of the Twin Falls County Fair Board.

The convention continues Saturday with more panel discussions and reports from various state committees. Election of officers will be at 11:30 a.m. There will be adoption of a 1968 calendar and selection of a 1968 convention site.

But Trombley said the state also received from the Priest Lake Timber Protective Association, of which it is a member, notice of an additional assessment of 40 cents per acre on all land within the association's district.

Johnson Plans Multistop Tour

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson plans a multistop tour of the nation this week-end, visiting military bases in observance of Veterans Day.

The program starts Friday morning with continued registration. The convention opens at 8:30 a.m. with a welcome from President Walter H. Yarbrough, Grandview, Twin Falls Mayor Egon Kroll will welcome those attending, and also giving short talks will be Ray Rostron, manager of the Twin Falls Chamber of Commerce, and Harold Hove, president of the Twin Falls County Fair Board.

UAW President Walter P. Reuther called it "the best agreement we've ever had" even bigger than the estimated 6 per cent gains the union got at Ford two weeks ago to end a 46-day strike.

Almost identical to the Ford pact, the Chrysler contract provides wage and fringe benefit gains of more than $1 an hour, will some wage gains alone amounting to 93 cents an hour over the three-year life of the pact.

Leaves May Create Problems In Late Autumn, But Not For Children

SCENES LIKE THIS can strike fear into the heart of any mother, but she doesn't know what the children are doing. Leaves make islands of danger and offer hours of interesting play for the young. Here, from left, Steve Quale, Duane Quale, Linda Ann Myrland and Robert Myrland show how fall can really be enjoyed. Young Robert seems to be under the spell of fall leaves; however, he's got an itch. Steve and Duane are the sons of Mr. and Mrs. Met Quale, and Linda and Robert are children of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Myrland.

By FRED DODDS Times-News Staff Writer
Children and leaves don't mix, mothers will say. But mothers only see the problem from one angle. The attraction between leaves and children is one of the all time great mysteries.

Leaves get in your hair and in your clothes, they taste bad when eaten and they itch when crumbled and rubbed on the skin.

But that doesn't matter to children. Leaves make soft beds or dark places to hide. They can be thrown like snowballs and a child can burrow in a sack of leaves like a mole. Leaves can build forts and spaceships, boats and cars. They can be shaped and shaken, formed and fun.

Leaves and children mix like sugar and milk or Laurel and Hardy. The attraction is like the gravitational pull between the earth and the moon. The law of leaves and children is a law of nature. Newton may have thought of this when that apple conked him on the head.

And, as any hard-working parent knows, leaves and children can lessen the work load — for about an hour.

Children work like demons, raking and stacking; getting the logs, leaves, golden and red with the touch of frost, into huge piles. If the wise parent only know when to make them stop. But alas, they don't.

Because once that stack is made, it becomes a fort, an object to overcome. Children quickly choose sides—how the idea comes into so many tiny brains all at once no one knows—and the fun begins.

The leaves are scattered on the lawn once again. And battered and beaten, leaves sticking in the hair and in the ears, the children go home.

"Tomorrow, mom, we're going to build a huge dam and fill it with water. Huh mom? Huh?"

What can a mother say? But even though leaves are playthings of fall, they create headaches for the parent, who through the long, hard years has lost the imagination children have. Leaves, once on the lawn, must go.

Somewhere between the first touch of cold weather and the swirl of snow, parents must rake and stack, pile and worry.

The city attempts to help. Sanitation crews will haul away leaves that can be dumped into a sanitation truck. City crews also patrol the city during the fall, picking up and carting away stacks of leaves that are piled near curbs. And the city sweeper will scoop up leaves in gutters, but cannot handle flags.

There is no "heat" followed by leaf pickup is handled by the city. City officials urge residents to cooperate in raking leaves near curbs. The burning of leaves is not recommended.

THE CAMERAMAN got too close and received a handful of leaves in the face. It was all in fun—fall fun, when the leaves are dry and golden and other colors. A good stack of leaves will make a child's mouth water with excitement. And excitement is in Duane Quale and Linda Ann Myrland prove here. At night, though, a good bath is the only solution to the problems leaves and children bring. (Photos by Times-News Feature Editor Jan Salisbury)

Meeting Held To Explain Project Plan

The fourth in a series of meetings to acquaint tenants and landlords with plans for the Twin Falls Urban Renewal project was held Wednesday night at City Hall.

Joe Citek and L. James Koutnik, members of the Twin Falls Urban Renewal Agency who conducted the meeting, said the purpose of the hearings is to contact all persons who will be directly affected by the project and let them know, prior to the public hearing, what options they have in re-selecting, re-building, remodeling, or whether their property will be affected at all.

They also are informed as to loans which will be made available to them to help them accomplish what is necessary.

The preliminary hearings are being limited to small groups for ease in dealing personally with each of the interested parties. Present at Wednesday night's meeting were three tenants, one tenant landlord and two landlords.

Mr. Citek said four more of the preliminary meetings probably will be held next week. It is hoped that all preliminary steps in planning the Urban Renewal project will be completed so a public hearing on the matter can be held either about the middle of December or just after the first of the year.

Five-Day Forecast

Westerly winds aloft have developed and are pushing a series of incite storm systems into the Pacific. The weak frontal system that was along the west coast yesterday is moving into eastern portions of Idaho. As a result partly cloudy to cloudy skies are being reported in Southern Idaho valleys.

The heaviest concentration of moisture is oriented to the west and north of us. A few traces of rain fell in Magic Valley after 8 a.m. yesterday but the storm failed to produce any moisture in eastern valleys. This latest front now moving through Southern Idaho brought .09 of an inch to Boise and .03 of an inch was recorded at Kuna. Trace amounts fell in other western valleys as far east as Mountain Home. Again the storm weakened fast and the front has faded.

Red Nuclear Arsenal Set By Experts

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Defense Department estimates Wednesday that the Soviet Union's current arsenal of intercontinental missiles could destroy about 100 American Minuteman nuclear weapons and that by 1973 the destruction could be about three times greater.

But Paul Nitze, deputy defense secretary and head of the American missile industry, said the Soviet arsenal "inflict unacceptable damage on the U.S.S.R."

The Pentagon estimate of Soviet missile capability was prepared for Sen. Henry M. Jackson, D-Wash., who asked for information to use in replying to a statement Monday by Rep. Craig Hooper, R-Calif., who urged the Senate-House Atomic Energy Committee that the expected increase in numbers and capability of Soviet missiles would, sometime between 1969 and 1972, give the Soviets a nuclear missile force equal in numbers to that of the United States.

Nitze called for an increase in the number of American missiles, an antiballistic missile system against the Soviets as well as against the Red Chinese, and for maintenance of the manned bomber force which he said "may well be the balance of power on one side of the equation if numbers alone do not tell the story of missile capability."

A 56-year-old Twin Falls County housewife has given the reputation of the woman driver an all time set-back.

Mrs. Dorothy Custer, Route 2, was driving west on Kimberly Road Wednesday afternoon when she dozed at the wheel temporarily, and awoke to find herself confronting a power pole at the edge of a road car lot.

After the dust settled city officers totaled up the score—six automobiles and one power pole. Officers said the car left the highway and struck the power pole, which came crashing down to demolish the woman's car. Her vehicle then crashed into a row of automobiles in the lot.

Damages listed on the police report included $1,800 to Mrs. Custer's vehicle, $50 to a 1955 station wagon, $100 to a 1951 sedan, $400 to a 1952 sedan, $200 to the final vehicle, a 1950 sedan, and the price of one power pole.

CHICAGO (AP) — Slight declines in traffic deaths and the traffic death rate were reported today by the National Safety Council.

The total for the first nine months of 1967 was placed at 39,130, a 3.9 per cent decline over the corresponding period of the previous year.

Motor vehicle travel has gained about four per cent this year. As a result, the death rate per 100 million miles of motor- ing edged down from 5.5 to 5.2.

Traffic deaths in September numbered 4,700. The total was four per cent higher than the 4,610 toll for September 1966.

Reputation Of Women Drivers Gets Set Back

A 56-year-old Twin Falls County housewife has given the reputation of the woman driver an all time set-back.

Mrs. Dorothy Custer, Route 2, was driving west on Kimberly Road Wednesday afternoon when she dozed at the wheel temporarily, and awoke to find herself confronting a power pole at the edge of a road car lot.

After the dust settled city officers totaled up the score—six automobiles and one power pole. Officers said the car left the highway and struck the power pole, which came crashing down to demolish the woman's car. Her vehicle then crashed into a row of automobiles in the lot.

Damages listed on the police report included $1,800 to Mrs. Custer's vehicle, $50 to a 1955 station wagon, $100 to a 1951 sedan, $400 to a 1952 sedan, $200 to the final vehicle, a 1950 sedan, and the price of one power pole.

"Imagine having to explain that to your husband," commented one of the investigating officers.

Cast For "Sound Of Music" Is Announced

THE VON TRAPP FAMILY cast for "The Sound of Music" is composed of seven children and the parents, Capt. and Mrs. von Trapp, played by Mrs. David (Marty) Mead, Twin Falls, and Roger Vincent, Filer. The seven children have been double-cast, however, and will perform on alternate nights during the March performances. From left, bottom row, are Julie Sallsbury, John Mead, Barbara Beckstead; second row, Janie Mead, Melody Youitz, Mrs. Mead, and top row, Jim Sallsbury, Velma Guyer and Mr. Vincent. The cast for the Dilettante Group of Magic Valley production was selected after auditions the past few weekends.

Two people who started in the first Dilettante Group of Magic Valley production, "Carousel," 10 years ago, are back together for the 10th anniversary show, "The Sound of Music," at the Uhlrig Ranch on Highway 20. Roger Vincent, Filer, and Mrs. David (Marty) Mead, Twin Falls, have both played leading parts in shows during the 10 years, but this is the first time they have played opposite each other since "Carousel."

In that 10 years the two, and the Dilettante Group, have come a long way. Mr. Vincent and Mrs. Mead are recognized throughout Idaho for their singing and acting ability, and the Dilettante Group is recognized as one of the finest amateur theatre groups in the state.

Each year the members of the Dilettante present a musical-comedy and have chosen "The Sound of Music" this year. It will be presented in March.

The two stars, minor leads and other cast members were selected for their various roles after auditions the past few weekends. As a result of having so many talented youngsters, about 100, turn out for auditions, the von Trapp children have been double-cast and will perform on alternate nights.

Mrs. Mead will play Maria Rainer, who marries Capt. von Trapp, played by Mr. Vincent, and helps rear his seven children.

Double-cast as the children are Joyce Guyer and Velma Guyer, Liesl; Ron Braun and Jim Sallsbury, Friedrich; Teresa Skinner and Janie Mead, Louisa; Mark Pierce, Castleford, and John Mead, Kurt; Tammy Joslin and Melody Youitz, Brigitta; Aileen Ann-Road, Buhl, and Barbara Beckstead, Maria; and Mira Erkins, Buhl, and Julie Sallsbury, Gretel.

Among those cast in minor leads are Mrs. Byrl Carr, Mother Abbess; Helen Roberts, Sister Berthe; Mrs. Alan Pierce, Castleford, Sister Margareta; Mrs. Rex Reed, Buhl, Sister Sophia; Neal Barth, Max Detweiler, and Mrs. Roy Nicholson, E's a Schreder.

Other roles include Jim Williamson, Frans, the butler; Helen Geo, Frau Schmidt, the

Vultures Returning To Miami

By KAY BARTLETT
MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Miami's 20th century vultures — some think like the swallows of Capistrano but more like the messy starlings of northern city halls — are back in town, once more forsaking the wilderness of the Everglades for gracious urban living.
Again they're soaring over bustling, neon-lit downtown Miami as though it were a game preserve.
The city-slicker vultures — with wing spreads up to six feet — decided 10 or 12 years ago that the Dade County courthouse, despite crowded conditions and the noise that goes with urban apartments, would make a good homestead.
Their less-onlightened country cousins continued the tired-old migration to the Everglades. "It's unique. I don't know of any other city where vultures roost on a building," said Dr. Oscar Owre, ornithologist at the University of Miami. "They usually don't favor civilization."

And the courthouse, one of the tallest buildings in downtown Miami, is the only building favored by the vultures, kin to the soaring condors of Peru and California.

WASHINGTON — Without so much as lifting a hand or raising a voice on his own behalf, California's Ronald Reagan could eliminate both George Romney and Dick Nixon from the 1968 Republican Presidential sweepstakes only four months hence. His instrument would be the March 12 primary in New Hampshire.

Reagan is not running in New Hampshire. He has even publicly disavowed a write-in campaign in his behalf. But sources at the Republican National Committee report that some of Reagan's financial angels in California are just about ready secretly to contribute $50,000 to the write-in effort.

Considerable newspaper has been lavished on the premise that Reagan is a threat only to Dick Nixon, in that he will split the conservative vote. This is not necessarily so. Soundings by the pros at Republican headquarters here show that Reagan is immensely popular among voters of all ideological shades in New Hampshire. It is not inconceivable, say these pros, that if the write-in campaign is properly financed Reagan will beat both Nixon and Romney, as Henry Cabot Lodge Jr. beat Goldwater in 1964. Although Reagan thus far has snubbed the write-in gimmick, he is not compelled by any political ethic to restrain his financial support. Indeed, by winking at this secret backing, Reagan puts himself in the position of a candidate with everything to gain and nothing to lose. By officially staying out of the race, Reagan will escape the onus of defeat if the write-in effort flops. If it succeeds, he has taken a giant step toward the Republican nomination. That is why it is almost certain that Reagan will not interfere with the investment of California money in New Hampshire.

It is only almost certain, because there remains the question of whether Reagan and Nixon have entered into a deal whereby Reagan will do nothing until after the New Hampshire primary. Such a deal would be attractive to Reagan, since his intention is to hide his time, to stay loose, at the plate as an unannounced potential candidate. But few politicians could resist an opportunity to eliminate two rivals so early in the game at no personal risk.

Having noted all this, it is important to point out that Dick Nixon already has hammered out a platform most likely to conciliate with the ambivalent attitude of most Americans toward the Vietnam war. He has pledged his support to "our fighting men," but has also promised to stay out of any future unilateral commitments of that kind.

Reagan, meanwhile, is a hawk who would let the generals decide how the war should be fought, a polly that sends shivers down many an American spine. Romney is still groping for a peace platform to fit his own peculiar posture of bland equivocation.

Far Right Indictment

Twin Falls voters Tuesday gave resounding approval to the city manager form of government and served notice that they are in favor of a progressive administration that will guide the city forward in orderly growth.

It was not an endorsement of liberal political philosophy against conservative philosophy, as some would have you think. In the first place, the four men elected would stand out as pretty fair examples of conservative thinking just about anywhere. What somewhat confused this issue was that a four-man ticket of ultra-conservatives named themselves the "Conservative Ticket" early in the campaign, leaving the impression with some people that the other candidates must be something else.

If anything in the political philosophy line, the election must be considered an indictment and thorough defeat of extremists in the ultra-conservative far right.

One of the ultra-conservative candidates was Joseph Stumph Jr., who made no bones about the fact he was a former member of the extreme John Birch Society and Western States representative for the equally extreme Liberty Lobby.

Mr. Stumph, a resident of Twin Falls for only about two years—and this not all during one period—had little to recommend him for a seat on the city council except his ultra-conservative views, including a deep hate for urban renewal and dislike of the city manager form of government. He was not well-founded in the city's problems and did not have a background of management or governmental experience.

The total vote for Mr. Stumph was 1,180. Figuring that a couple of hundred persons or more traditionally would vote for him just because he was against the current administration, this would seem to indicate that there are somewhat less than a thousand extreme ultra-conservative voters in Twin Falls.

Nolan Victor, who led the "Conservative Ticket," ran a commendable race, coming in fifth and picking up 1,584 votes. The situation outlined for Mr. Stumph does not hold true for Mr. Victor.

Mr. Victor is a long-time resident of Twin Falls, has operated a real estate business here for many years and has enough knowledge of local affairs and problems to have picked out a couple of beauties to bedevil the incumbents with. For instance, his big gun was the new water project. True, it's a good water project, was sorely needed and will be of tremendous benefit for the city's future.

But it brings up a sore spot. The city never did get across to the voters who approved the water bond issue just what it was going to mean to them in increased water bills. What actually happened was that in fiddling around with average figures, the voters got the idea that their bills would be increased by only an insignificant amount.

In fact, some residential water users found some monthly bills were about doubled, while a lot of businesses and industries had relatively insignificant increases. This was explained by saying the residential users were the ones who made it necessary to improve the water system, and thus should pay a major part of the cost. But it still doesn't set well with many residents and Mr. Victor's arguments on this issue fell on a lot of willing ears.

Mr. Victor also has an engaging personality when met on a friendly basis and he conducted an active, hard, personal campaign. This would appear to account for the fact he did so much better than the other on his ticket.

Lawrence Tolman and C. G. Pope, the other two men on the "Conservative Ticket" let themselves get caught in the position of having Mr. Stumph and Mr. Victor do most of their talking for them. Mr. Tolman probably can credit his personal popularity and regard earned through active church work with the fact he came in second to Mr. Victor on the ticket.

Two of the three independents ran strong races. Delbert McGuire, actively supported by the Twin Falls Jaycees, came in sixth with 1,536 votes, and Lloyd Cox came in seventh with 1,524 votes. Both of these men have many personal friends and also picked up some votes from persons who weren't exactly satisfied with the current administration, but yet couldn't go along with the ultra-conservative stands of Mr. Victor, Mr. Stumph, Mr. Tolman and Mr. Pope.

Howard Burkhardt, the third independent, was in the unfortunate position of being associated with the city administration as a former city commissioner, yet not having the backing of either the incumbent group or the ultra-conservatives. His vote would seem to reflect purely personal regard for his abilities.

Obviously the four-man "Incumbent Ticket" had the support and backing of the majority of the voters. But, as incumbent Eugene Stacey noted, the strong minority showing must be considered by the council.

Mr. Stacey suggested it might be in order for the council to "trim its sails" in view of this. We hope, by this, he does not mean the city should hold back or cut down on progressive improvements, which apparently got a vote of approval in Tuesday's election.

Rather, it might be considered a reminder to the council that there is a sizable group of Twin Falls residents, a minority if you will whose voice doesn't get heard very often, except at election time. But their problems and wishes should be the concern of the council, as well as those of the majority.

MR. SPECTATOR

How About A Fast Count?

That slow count! It seems to be something that comes with every election in Twin Falls. The polls close at 8 p.m., and yet more than four hours later some counting is still going on. What is the reason?

Tuesday's election brought out a good, heavy vote but looking at it from the practical standpoint there were only four council seats to be filled. Even with a thousand or more voters in a precinct to be counted that only meant 1,000 or more pieces of paper to be handled and, we believe, there were about 12 people in each instance to get the job done. In at least one precinct there were more than that.

At election time people are anxious to know who the winners are but in Twin Falls it seems that unless you are a person who likes to stay up until the wee morning hours you never know the results until the next day.

To offer some civic relief we might point out a group of local precinct officials announced during the day that when the polls closed at 8 p.m. they were going to have dinner and then come back and count. Fortunately they didn't or the results would still have been dark secret. This delay is nothing new for Twin Falls.

JUST A THOUGHT

We're so accustomed to seeing those little slogans printed next to the stamp on metered mail — "Pray for Peace," "Support Mental Health," "Hire the Handicapped," "This Is A Republic, Not A Democracy," "Live Better Electrically," etc., etc. — that we must confess we've long since ceased paying any attention to them.

But an envelope from the Kentucky Department of Public Information, Travel Division, has just brought us up short. It says: "Life Will Go On Without You."

RAY CROMLEY

Protesters Ignore Rights

Three recent newspaper items show how far the advocates of "free speech" have gone in denying the rights of free speech and action to others.

Maryland — "Thirty members of the Students for a Democratic Society sat in at a University of Maryland engineering building office, blocking interviews from entering a room to see a CIA (Central Intelligence Agency) job recruiter." New York — "A pushing, dragging, club swinging clash between students and the police erupted on the Brooklyn College campus. A student demonstration to protest the appearance of two Navy recruiting officers."

holding job interviews

"The protesters selected Dow because it manufactures napalm for the Vietnam war." William Sewell, chancellor of the university, suspended the Dow interviews temporarily. In the anti-Vietnam march on the Pentagon, the protesters demanded their "rights." But when they met with others who carried pro-Vietnam signs, they forgot their "free speech" stand and destroyed the signs of those who disagreed with them. Late last year, it will be recalled, students harassed Defense Secretary Robert McNamara when he went up to speak at Fordham. In another without move, students of a Washington, D.C., campus attempted to prevent Lt. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey from speaking. In protesting the rights of the protesters, what about the rights of the young men who might want to work for Dow Chemical Co., or CIA, or might want to join the Navy? This business of rights cuts both ways.

Notice that most of the items above relate to college campuses.

A college is a place where, first and foremost, professors should be inculcating in their students a respect for the rights and the opinions of others. Yet, more and more frequently, professors are speaking out emotionally on issues in their classrooms, selling their own prejudices, rather than presenting the facts and teaching students to think logically from those facts. In such classes there is often strong professional animosity for those who disagree with their particular thesis. Colleges are where the leaders of the next generation are trained. If too many students are taught that only their own opinions matter, only their own causes sacred, then we are, indeed, in for trouble. Luckily, there is evidence that such students are only a small minority. That small minority must be prevented from blocking out the rights of the majority.

BRUCE BLOSSAT

That Errant LBJ Wire Again

WASHINGTON (NEA) — The case of the "misdirected" White House telegram which fell into California Gov. Ronald Reagan's hands aboard the Governors' Conference cruise ship is a fabric of inconsistencies that deserves to be highlighted rather than forgotten.

Except for a couple of minor jobs at two Republican governors, the message itself was an unexciting recital of past resolutions by the governors of both parties in support of President Johnson on Vietnam. It went from presidential aide W. Marvin Watson to Price Daniel, director of Office of Emergency Planning and the new White House-Nelson man with the interest in the fact that Republican governors saw it as Exhibit A in proof of their argument that the President—for his own political purposes—tries to maneuver personally to muster the governor's support of his war policies.

Fortified by this shipboard disclosure, GOP governors this year refused to back a Vietnam resolution, and none ever reached the conference floor. But how the disclosure came about is still an unresolved mystery. And the inconsistent comments of some of the principals to the affair only deepen the mystery.

Reagan says that somewhere between 9 and 10 o'clock on the morning of Oct. 10, a ship's steward tapped on his cabin door aboard the SS Independence and handed him the original of the message.

Reagan says he received a duplicate copy of Daniel's message among a batch of other messages while he sat in a full Governors' Conference session that same morning. A check of working schedules for Oct. 18 suggests this must have been between 9:30 and 10:45 a.m.

Reagan offers several variations of what happened at the outset. When he first spoke to newsmen that night, after his aides passed the White House telegram, he said an aide handed him the message at the conference and he gave it back when he saw it was not for him. Next day he told a reporter he quickly concluded the message was for "general distribution" and had read it through surprised at the end by state at Governor Rhodes of Ohio and Chief of Rhode Island. At Sacramento, after the cruise, Reagan told newsmen Daniel got the original 20 hours earlier than he got his copy, which would put Daniel's receipt of it back to the afternoon of Oct. 17.

But Daniel insists he got it the morning of Oct. 18. And ship company officials say it came in over regular ship's radio between midnight and 2:30 a.m. Oct. 18.

Reagan said at Sacramento that conference aides gave the message to his own helpers, one of whom passed it to him. In Des Moines one day later, he said he got it directly from a conference aide or a ship's crewman on the conference floor. Reagan's whole effort to suggest that the affair was just a happy accident seems underscored by a smiling comment he made to aides on shipboard after the telegram story had broken widely. "Somebody up there must like me."

ART BUCHWALD That Other War

WASHINGTON — The operations room of the U.S. Army Recruiting Corps was tense with excitement. Gen. Rubicom, the commanding officer, came in with his staff and stared at the map on the wall. "Any news from the front, colonel?"

"Yes, sir. We've heard from the Darimouth patrol. They've managed to get on campus unseen and got their card table set up in the administration building. They report they signed up four students for Officers Candidate School before they were discovered and had to retreat."

"Any word from Princeton?" "No sir. Not for two days. The last report we had was that Capt. Reilly and his men were surrounded by students who wouldn't let their car move. They're running short on water and food, and I don't know how much longer they'll be able to hold out."

"Call the Air Force and ask them if they'll make a drop." "I did, sir, but the weather's been bad and all planes are grounded." "Damn it, colonel, we've got to get relief to them somehow."

"I know, sir. We were thinking of sending in a relief force, but we've used all our reserves at Harvard."

"What's the situation at Harvard?" "Lt. Shivers is trapped with three recruiters in the office of the Harvard Campus."

"Lt. Shivers? A major cried. What's his business. How can you get a kid up to a place like that?" "Easy does it, major," Gen. Rubicom said grimly. "Lt. Shivers knew what he was doing when he volunteered for the 24th U.S. Army Recruiting Corps."

"Sure, you can say that standing here in this nice comfortable air-conditioned room underneath the Pentagon. But what about the kids you send out day after day to Ohio State and the Universities of Michigan, Wisconsin and Berkeley? What are you running, a suicide mission?" "Major, I will overlook your insubordination because I know how you feel about your brother. But I would just like to assure you that I'm not heartless. How do you think I feel every time I send a patrol out to Yale or Columbia or Oberlin? Sure, I know they may never come back. But we've got a job to do, and I can't let emotion stand in the way of the Army's recruiting plans. Somebody's got to do the dirty work. War is hell, son."

"At this juncture, the colonel says, "Sir, we've just got word from Reilly at Princeton." "What does he say?" "His message reads: 'Send us more students.'"

"The general smiles. "Isn't that typical of Reilly, colonel? I want to recommend him for the distinguished recruiting cross, and send out that quote to the press. We need a hero at a time like this."

"Sir, the 1st Provisional Recruiting Brigade has just got back from Stanford," a staff officer says. "How many missing?" "Five. Schwarz, Wescerhill, Puchinski, Kelly and Aetherell were last seen going into the student union to rescue a Dow Chemical Co. recruiter and they never came out."

"The general looks off into space and says, "Why do the good ones always go first?"

Abstinence

Q. My niece drinks a lot. Is there any drug that is safe that she could take to stop drinking?

A. Disulfiram can be given for this purpose but only under medical supervision. It is dangerous to give it without the full knowledge and consent of the patient. Q. My father-in-law, 79, drinks a half-gallon of wine a day. He appears to be in good health. Will the wine hurt his liver? If so, how can we get him to cut down his wine intake or give it up?

In two years may have recovered much of its function. Your husband should have liver function tests made to determine the present status of the liver. If the tests show the slightest loss of function, he should meet his social obligations by drinking a bloody Mary without the vodka, a bitter lemon without the gin or a concoction without the whiskey.

Q. What effect will three or four shots of liquor (and sometimes much more) have on a person? Will it affect his coordination? A. Allowing at least an hour between each drink, it will have very little immediate effect, but over a period of 15 or 20 years it may cause cirrhosis of the liver. Taken at a faster rate it will cause intoxication with impairment of judgment and muscular coordination. Q. How do niacin and vitamin B help an alcoholic? A. Alcohol destroys the vitamin B (including niacin). Injection of vitamin B complex into a vein helps to counteract the alcohol and shorten the hangover period. Q. What are the symptoms of alcoholic arthritis? A. The symptoms of any arthritis are pain and swelling in the joints but I can find no evidence that any of the many kinds of arthritis are caused by alcohol.

Voting Turnout Was One Of City's Best

By BONNIE BAIRD JONES
Times-News Staff Writer

Statistics from elections over the past 20 years in Twin Falls show the Tuesday vote was one of the largest candidate elections held, and with approximately 87 per cent of the registered voters going to the polls, one of the best showings local voters have made. Traditionally candidates have taken a back seat to issues in Twin Falls voting, City Clerk Constance Leiser said Wednesday in looking back to previous elections. Generally liquor slot machines, or dog leash ordinances bring out far more interest than do the men who administer the city's government. In the Tuesday election there were 4,669 votes cast with 5,377 registered voters eligible. On the city's first liquor by date election struck a slow pace again when 1,812 out of 8,033 registered voters made one of the city's poorest showings percentage-wise. In 1963, 1,642 of 3,757 registered voters balloted on candidates and another dog leash law advisory question. In 1965, the water bond issue carried but only 2,598 persons voted. There were just 3,810 on the registration books.

SOMETHING NEW IS being added at a number of railroad crossings throughout the Twin Falls Highway District. Here Dow Rathbun, assistant maintenance foreman, left, and W. H. Whitten, heavy equipment operator, join efforts to install one of the approximately 30 new stop sign pairs going in at previously open railroad crossings. The project is being completed under new regulations approved by the past session of the state legislature to cut down on car-train accidents at rural crossings.

Stop Signs Installed At Rural Rail Crossings

There are approximately 20 stop signs in the rural area around Twin Falls that were not in existence a few weeks ago. These are the new signs being installed by the Twin Falls Highway District crews at specific railroad crossings. In complying with House Bill 82 adopted by the past session of the state legislature, the Twin Falls Highway District's maintenance foreman and road director conducted a survey of all railroad crossings within the district. The law states that stop signs shall be placed at railroad crossings except where they would constitute a greater hazard by being installed.

Gregory Says Faith Should Not Be Issue

SALT LAKE CITY (AP) — Negro comedian Dick Gregory says religion should not be an issue against Michigan Gov. George Romney, should he get the Republican presidential nomination next year.

Gregory told a group of Salt Lake City anti-poverty officials Tuesday that "if Romney gets the nod, and the Democrats start appealing to my black brothers by using the Mormon religion, then I'm going to have to take sides with Romney."

The LDS Church doesn't allow Negroes in its priesthood. Church headquarters are in Salt Lake City.

"The Mormon church ain't no more dirtier than the Catholics, than the Baptists, than the Methodists," Gregory said. "They're just a little more obnoxious with their (discrimination)."

Mrs. Kennedy Rests For Royal Dinner

By PETER O'LOUGHLIN
BANGKOK, Thailand (AP) — Mrs. John F. Kennedy passed up the sights of Bangkok today, pleading fatigue from her travels in Cambodia, and rested for the royal dinner being given in her honor tonight by King Bhumibol and Queen Sirikit.

But Charles Bartlett, the Washington newsman who is a member of Mrs. Kennedy's party, said today she is not ill.

She's just tired from all the travel. We really worked touring these temples at Angkor," he said.

The party spent a week in Cambodia, including three days climbing around the ruined temples of the ancient Khmer empire of Angkor.

The former U.S. first lady was to have visited Thailand's National Museum today to view priceless collections of Buddhist heads, sculpture and woodcarving 1,000 years old.

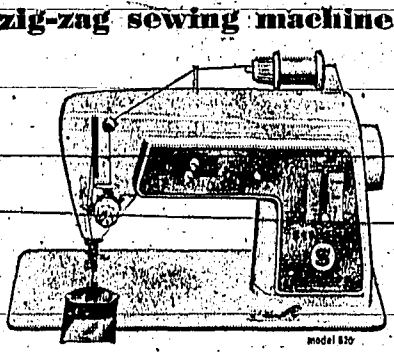

When the visit was canceled, Bartlett explained: "Mrs. Kennedy wants to rest up for the dinner tonight at the royal palace."

At the premier's dinner Mrs. Kennedy watched classical Thai dancing and "really enjoyed herself," Bartlett said.

One member of Mrs. Kennedy's party, Lord Harlech, the former British ambassador to Washington, left Wednesday night for London. The rest of the group, including Bartlett, his wife and Michael Forrestal, the son of the first U.S. secretary of defense, are to leave Friday night for the United States.

King Hussein's Visit Ends In Puzzlement

By ENDRE MARTON, Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP)—Jordanian King Hussein's visit to Washington, which opened with hopes he might bear radical new Arab proposals for ending the Middle East crisis, ended in puzzlement over what the Arabs really want.

The optimism in Washington's diplomatic circles was based on statements Hussein made in a New York interview last Sunday, among them that the Arabs are ready to recognize Israel's right to live in peace and security.

Saying he spoke not just for Jordan but for the Arab world, Hussein stated that under certain conditions, the Arabs might recognize Israel's right to use the Strait of Tiran and the Suez Canal.

Hussein called this a "very tremendous change" in the Arab position, and the Johnson administration's experts agreed. But in two later public speeches in Washington, the king gave no hint of any policy change, tremendous or otherwise.

Hussein's statements to President Johnson during Wednesday evening White House talks remained a secret. Informed sources reported, however, that during his Monday conference with Secretary of State Dean Rusk the king failed to repeat the possible Arab concessions he mentioned in New York.

In his Tuesday speech before the National Press Club the king, whose everybody's appetite by announcing he brought a "new and positive approach" to the Middle East problem, a message from Arab heads of state.

But the message turned out to be a generalist Arab desire to achieve "lasting peace."

Otherwise Hussein's speech contained only advice to Israel—that it should withdraw from the occupied territories, solve the 20-year-old refugee problem and behave in the future so as to gain acceptance by the Arabs as their neighbor.

Highly placed U.S. sources stress they don't doubt Hussein was sincere in presenting his "tremendous change" formula last Sunday and equally sincere in believing he had a mandate to speak for all Arabs. The question, which puzzled experts here, was how much of Hussein's New York performance.

Fulbright, Humphrey Clash Verbally Over Administration Aims in Vietnam

By JACK BELL
WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. J. W. Fulbright and Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey reportedly clashed verbally over administration aims in Southeast Asia at a White House briefing on Vietnam.

Humphrey reported Wednesday to President Johnson, Cabinet, Security Council members and lawmakers of both parties on his Southeast Asia survey trip at a session in which attending Senate and House members were allowed one question each.

In the course of this round-robin, Fulbright, Arkansas Democrat and chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, is said to have contended the administration is taking conflicting positions on what is trying to accomplish in Vietnam.

A persistent war policy critic, Fulbright reportedly cited statements of U.N. Ambassador Arthur J. Goldberg that the United States is fighting to insure the right of the South Vietnamese to political self-determination.

On the other hand, Fulbright reportedly said, Humphrey's statements have supported a thesis Johnson has laid down in recent utterances—that the real enemy is aggressive Asian

Civil Rights Leaders Say Antipoverty Plan Necessary

By JOHN BECKLER
WASHINGTON (AP)—Civil rights leaders say Congress will be inviting a national disaster if it does not continue the antipoverty program with adequate funding.

The warning came as the House began consideration Wednesday of amendments to a bill that would authorize the Office of Economic Opportunity to carry on the program for two more years.

A group of religious leaders also endorsed the bill, calling for its passage on moral grounds.

With many members planning an early departure from the Capitol to attend Veterans Day ceremonies, no key votes are expected before next week.

A joint statement by the civil rights leaders said Congress made a commitment to help the poor when it passed the Economic Opportunity Act in 1964.

"We give solemn warning now that to break the national promise of three years ago would be to invite national disaster," they said.

Among those signing the statement were A. Philip Randolph, Whitney Young Jr., Roy Wilkins and Clarence Mitchell, heads of individual organizations who have banded together in the Leadership Conference on Civil Rights.

The Interreligious Committee Against Poverty said in a statement that "strong, well-funded antipoverty legislation with assured maximum participation and self-determination by the poor, especially at the neighborhood level, will be the best insurance for the realization of justice for all persons in our society."

Signers of this statement included the Most Rev. Robert E. Lucas, Roman Catholic archbishop of San Antonio, Tex.; Louis Steth, president of the National Jewish Welfare Board; and Dr. Arthur S. Flemming, president of the National Council of Churches.

AS debate continued on the bill Wednesday it drew support from two members who have opposed antipoverty legislation in the past, Reps. Joe D. Waggoner, D-La., and Frances P. Bolton, R-Ohio.

Both Parties Claim Comfort In Outcome Of Tuesday Elections

By WALTER R. MEARS, Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP)— Democrats and Republicans both claim comfort in the outcome of Tuesday's off-year elections—balloting which provided answers but also posed new questions about the mood of the electorate one year before the contest for the White House.

Chief among the questions was the 1968 potency of the so-called white backlash vote, defeated but by thin margins with the election of Negro mayors in Cleveland and in Gary, Ind.

Democratic National Chairman John M. Bailey said those voting for Negro Democrats, coupled with Boston's rejection of the controversial Louie Day Hicks, "put the so-called white backlash in its place."

That place did not appear, an insignificant one—particularly with the approach of statewide elections in which big-city results often are the decisive factor.

Another item for the political strategists: The potential impact next year of the war in Vietnam. San Francisco voters rejected a proposal urging a cease-fire and U.S. withdrawal and President Johnson's Democratic supporters called for a continuance of support for his policy.

Republicans, on the other hand, raised the war issue in Kentucky and New Jersey and scored big victories.

Republican Sen. Thurston B. Morton and John Stigler, U.S. Senator, stood in opposition to Johnson's stand contributed to the election of Louie B. Nunn as Kentucky's first GOP governor in two decades. New Jersey Republicans, who won control of the state legislature, said the same thing.

Negro Democrat Carl B. Stokes was elected mayor of Cleveland with 125,829 votes to 127,328 for his white, Republican opponent, Seth C. Taft.

Cleveland's voter registration is Democratic by a 10 to 1 margin. Stokes got virtually all the Cleveland Negro vote and about 20 per cent of the white ballots.

Ray C. Bliss, Republican national chairman, boasted of sharp reductions in Democratic

Dear Abby

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN
DEAR ABBY: That letter signed "Just an in-law" got my goat. Why should in-laws be "hurt" over what they are (or are not) called? If the relationship is right, they will be called whatever the new son-in-law or daughter-in-law feels comfortable calling them. If they aren't called anything that's all right, too. The most important thing is for everyone to feel at ease. I don't think there is any problem unless a person makes one.
VINCENY

DEAR ABBY: Will you please tell me how mother-in-law got to be such a dirty name? I have friends with married children who detest being referred to as "my mother-in-law." Why? That's what they are.
 I do not wish to be called "mother" by anyone other than my own children. It sounds so forced and artificial.

A young woman comes into the family as a stranger, really, and after having properly dressed me as "Mrs. Jones" during the time my son courted her, suddenly I am "mother"! No thank you.
CALL ME GLADYS

DEAR ABBY: Would you believe that I have been married for 4 years and have avoided addressing my mother-in-law directly because I do not know what to call her?
 If she would only say, "Please, call me Hilda, or mother, or mom," I would be so relieved. Please print this as many of my friends have the same problem.
BEWILDERED

DEAR ABBY: My darling daughter-in-law didn't have to worry very long about what to call me. She (and everyone else) started calling me "grandma" 5 months after my son married her. I don't recommend this as a solution, but it did solve a problem.
GRANDMA

DEAR ABBY: Don't tell me about young wives who call their mother-in-law "mother" out of respect.
 I have several friends who call their mother-in-law "mother" to their faces, but you should hear what they call them behind their backs. Respect? Hah!
AMUSED

DEAR ABBY: I think complete honesty is the answer to what to call the in-laws.
 The night my daughter's beau showed up with the ring, he turned to my husband and me and said, "After Marie and I are married, what would you like me to call you?" I said, "Anything you like."
 He replied, "I have a mother and father of my own, so I don't want to call you 'mother' or 'father'." He called you "Belle" more and "Beau" fewer. And that's the way it's been for many years.
HAPPY IN QUEBEC

DEAR HAPPY: Tres bien. If you have "de gaulle,"

Shoshone To Complete Fence Soon Along River

SHOSHONE—In response to a letter from the Civic Club asking for city cooperation in completion of erection of a fence along Little Wood River in the city park, Shoshone City Councilmen report the work will be completed as soon as possible. Before it can be done, however, the river must recede to a point where rip-rapping can be done along a section of the river channel and channel cleanup finished.
 The city had used city crews to erect most of the fence along the river, a project of the Civic Club from two years ago, which club leaders say will be a protection against small children getting into the river while at the park.
 There have been few accidents in the river and in recent years none among Shoshone children who have been taught the dangers there.
 However, two children, a Jerome child who went swimming, and a tiny tot who left the family picnic tourist group, drowned. This prompted the Civic Club to the fencing project.
 At the council meeting Tuesday night, a letter was read from the Chamber of Commerce asking the city council to look into the need of a sewer system for the city. The mayor and councilmen were invited to the next chamber meeting, which will be held at 12:30 p.m. Monday at the Manhattan Cafe.
 Building permits were granted for Mrs. Dorothy Reynolds to build a garage and bedroom on her residence; Mrs. Dorothy Beilto; garage; Mrs. Margaret Strom, garage; and Robert Parkhurst, carport.
 An agreement was entered into with the Union-Pacific Railroad for use of ground at the fairgrounds and ball park and for a portion of right-of-way for parking facilities. The lease extension will expire in December, 1972.

Hope Is Still Held For Tax Increase

LOS ANGELES (AP)—President Johnson's chief economic adviser says it would be difficult but not impossible to get the administration's proposed tax increase through Congress this year.
 Gardner Ackley, chairman of the President's Council of Economic Advisors, told a news conference Wednesday that the tax hike was needed to avert "potentially serious trouble with respect to prices."
 "We certainly haven't given up on it," Ackley declared. "It's critical that it be passed this session."
 Ackley spoke to business leaders in a conference called by the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce.
 Tuesday will be given in January. They are Paul Jacobson, Norvel Rutherford and Charles Belz.

Betty Bollar, Clifford Say Wedding Says

SHOSHONE—Betty Rose Bollar, daughter of Mrs. Clommo Bollar, and D. Clayton Clifford, son of Mrs. Vera Clifford, all Shoshone, were married Sept. 30 at the local LDS Church, with Bishop D. H. Hanson officiating.

The church was set with baskets of seasonal flowers. The bride, given in marriage by her brother, Lorenzo Bollar, wore a street-length white bonded wool knit dress with a lace jacket. The neckline was scalloped and it buttoned down the back. Her veil of illusion net was shoulder-length trimmed in lace and held by a diamond tiara.

She carried a bouquet of red roses and dahlias. Mrs. M. J. Dille played the wedding marches and prelude music. Mrs. Rold Newby was piano and vocal soloist.

Rold Newby was best man and Mrs. Carmen Willard, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. Mrs. Lorenzo Bollar was bridesmaid.

Guests at the reception, held at the 100th hall after the wedding, were registered by Faye Peano, Jerome, Carolyn Rodden, Jerome, general chairman of arrangements for the reception.

Others assisting there were Mrs. Carmen Willard, Mrs. Lorenzo Bollar, Mrs. Arlio Claycombe, Jerome; Joyce Burbank, Shoshone; Mrs. Dan Shubert, Sun Valley; Mrs. Arnold Shiras, Jerome; Mrs. John Tigner, Twin Falls; and Mrs. Bernice Marshall, Salt Lake City. Children carrying gifts were Bernita Marshall and Laurie Ann Marshall, Salt Lake City.

After a two-week wedding trip to Washington, Oregon, California and back home through Nevada, the couple reside in Shoshone where he is assistant city supervisor and she will continue working at the Manhattan Cafe.

IDAHO HISTORICAL AUXILIARY members, from left, Mrs. Dale Stillwell, Mrs. George Frazier and Mrs. Caxton Rhodes, are among the many members working on the unit's cookbook project. The women researched historical files and contacted many Idaho families before compiling the book. The Auxiliary is marking the publication of its cookbook with an informal dinner dance Nov. 17 at Riverside Ballroom, Boise.

Publication Set For Gem Pioneer Cookbook

BOISE—Members of the Idaho Historical Society have taken a long and interesting journey into the past to write a new cookbook, "Historical Treasures From Idaho Kitchens." It will be published Nov. 13.

The auxiliary has marked the publication of its cookbook with an informal dinner dance set for Nov. 17 at the Boise Riverside Ballroom. This ballroom, which has been a dance palace, a skating rink and a banquet hall through the years, will be decorated by the auxiliary members who are borrowing pioneer artifacts from the state museum. Mrs. Richard Hermacha is in charge of arrangement.

Under the direction of Mrs. Brad Shaw, chairman, Mrs. Ralph Hull and Edward Riddle contacted every Historical Society and Pioneer Association in the state to acquire information for the cookbook.

From names submitted by these groups, letters were written for recipes and their history. Mrs. Dale Stillwell used resources of the Idaho State Department of Commerce and Development for names of pioneer families. Mrs. Carol Ann Sawyer, Mrs. Robert Rawlins and

Mrs. George Frazier assisted in contacting government and business leaders of Idaho for old recipes in their families. Recipes were tasted with Boise families eating suet pudding, Indian stew, sourdough hard-rolls and other items. A spring luncheon featured many of the dishes. The recipes are categorized and sorted in the cookbook, but left in the original form with a few pointers for 20th century cooking.

Mrs. David Hanford supervised actual publication of the cookbook, and Mrs. Caxton Rhodes and Mrs. Charles Mertei typed while Mrs. Brad Shaw and Mrs. Brad Stauder worked on art layouts for division pages.

Mrs. Tom Adams hand-set many pages with lino type and print from the original now-type of the Idaho City publications.

Advance orders for the cookbook are being taken by Mrs. Charles Mallory, 1503 Warm Springs Ave., Boise.

Twin Falls To Entertain Second-Ranked Borah In Football Windup Friday

The Twin Falls Bruins (5-4) host the ever-rugged Borah Lions (6-1) at 8 p.m. Friday in Bruin Stadium with the chance of redeeming an otherwise mediocre year.

VETERAN LINEBACKER Jay Ulrich, 6-0, 160-pounder, will make his last start for Twin Falls Friday night when the Bruins host the Borah Lions. Ulrich became the Bruins' middle linebacker as a sophomore.

Blake Has Southern Idaho Rushing Lead

Twin Falls' Bob Blake moved into the rushing lead while the rest of the leaders maintained their holds in individual statistics released today by coaches of the Southern Idaho Conference.

Blake moved ahead of Le Roy Nelson, Capital, 611 yards to six in six conference outings and also became the first SIC runner to top 1,000 yards for the season. The 160-pound halfback has 1,001.

Davis Ober, Nampa, continued to pull away in total offense with 1,348 in six SIC games while Mike Trujillo, Highland, leads in passing yardage with 881.

Nampa's Dennis Doman hiked his pass catching lead to 29 for 533 yards and one touchdown. The touchdown leader is Mike Kelly, Highland, with four. Rick Buchanan, Pocatello, is tops in punting with a 39.7 average and Rich Drury, Borah, is well ahead in punt returns with 157 yards. Craig Panner, Highland, holds his kickoff lead with 324 yards.

In scoring Roger Price, Borah, is tops with 68 for the conference although Ober had moved to within four. Price also had 102 for the year.

Huskers Still Top Defense Statistics

NEW YORK (AP)—The Nebraska Cornhuskers place the nation's major college football teams in total defense for the second straight week—the latest statistics showed Wednesday.

The Cornhuskers have given up an average of only 144.3 yards a game. Tulsa took over first place from Syracuse in rushing defense. The Hurricanes have an average yield of 48.5 yards a game. Syracuse, in second place, has a 52.1 yard mark.

Georgia is the top team in pass defense with a 70-yard average while UCLA leads the punting list with 44.5 yards in 27 punts in seven games. The figures were compiled by National Collegiate Sports Service.

The Oklahoma Sooners, who have blanked four of their six opponents, have the best defense against scoring. They have allowed only 10 points for a 2.7 average.

DEADLOCKED
PITTSBURGH (AP)—AB McDonald batted in a rebound with 4:52 to play, giving the Pittsburgh Penguins a 1-1 tie with the Philadelphia Flyers in their National Hockey League game Wednesday night.

Seek Games

DIETRICH—Dietrich High School is seeking December basketball games with any team in the area that hasn't filled its schedule as yet.

Coach Wayne Parron reports the Blue Devils have open slots on Dec. 2, 3, 8, 14, 16, 17 or 19.

WSU Ready And Mad For Idaho

PULLMAN, Wash. (AP)—After a practice session here Tuesday described as "long and hard", Washington State University football coach Bert Clark said his Cougars "will be mad and ready for Saturday's game with Idaho."

Clark indicated that there will be no lineup changes for the game, which pits the Cougars against the University of Idaho Vandals and is called the "Annual Battle of the Palouse."

In the Tuesday session, Clark said the Cougars practiced operating inside the five yard line against a simulated Vandal defense.

"We are going to make sure that if we get inside the five yard line this week, we are going to take the ball in and score," Clark stated.

Saturday's game starts at 1:30 p.m. on WSU's Rogers Field.

Buoniconi Honored For Defense Job

NEW YORK (AP)—Nick Buoniconi, Boston's man in the middle, introduced himself rather abruptly to Houston's Roy Hopkins. And he didn't even say how do you do.

Buoniconi, named the American Football League's Defensive Player of the Week by The Associated Press Wednesday, spearheaded the defensive effort that carried the Patriots to an 18-7 victory over the Houston Oilers last Sunday.

He personally accounted for two of those points by tackling Hopkins, a rookie runner, in the end zone for a safety on the last play of the third period.

The tackle was one of six unassisted stops Buoniconi made against the Oilers, who learned the hard way that Boston's tough linebacker is regaining his oldtime form.

Willie Mitchell of Kansas City intercepted two passes, returning one for a touchdown as the Chiefs bombed the New York Jets 42-18.

Mitchell also had 11 tackles and broke up another pass as the Chiefs' defense kept Joe Namath under constant pressure.

Summer Chinook Season Planned

BOISE (AP)—Sports fishing for both spring-run and summer-run chinook salmon is likely in Idaho next year, the State Fish and Game Department said Wednesday.

Fishing for summer chinook salmon on the South Fork of the Salmon River and in other waters where they are found will stay open through July 31, the department said in a statement.

"Unlike the past three seasons, this will give some fishing on the summer-run chinook, because these parts of the Salmon River have been closed."

"However, all salmon fishing in the entire Salmon River drainage will be closed next year from Aug. 1 to Dec. 31."

Mayor Picks Police Chief

CLEVELAND (AP) — Cleveland Mayor-elect Carl B. Stokes picked Police Inspector Michael J. Blackwell Wednesday night to be his chief of police.

Stokes had said during his campaign that if elected he would replace Chief Richard Wagner.

Leaders in the Negro community have been critical of what they call poor police-community relations.

Stokes, Cleveland's first Negro mayor, said that he and Blackwell agreed with the "basic recommendations" of a controversial Little Hoover Commission report calling for more uniformed policemen on the streets and increased community relations efforts by the department.

The 64-year-old Blackwell has the reputation of being a tough, racket-busting policeman. For the past 10 years he has been in charge of the basic patrol.

Stokes called him "the man with the image, record and performance to meet the needs of fighting crime in the streets of Cleveland."

Army Gals Are Eager To Go To Vietnam

By TOM TIEDE
 WASHINGTON (NEA)—There is some serious, if unofficial, talk among Army people here that future troop deployments to the Vietnam war may include more women.

The possibility draws only scant comment from Pentagon brass of either sex, but it is obvious to even the casual observer that the noncombatant Women's Army Corps is one of the nation's most tempting and available escalation resources.

At present, the service has 10,000 women in ranks. A crash recruitment program under way will swell the total by 3,000 officers and enlisted personnel by the end of 1969.

Few of the girls can fire a rifle, but they are strong, capable of handling dozens of combat supporting responsibilities. The corps' record in Vietnam to date, though limited, has been spotless.

For their part, the gals are anxious to go.

"We're always standing by," says Corps Director Col. Elizabeth Holington. "We're well-trained and ready. We'll do whatever Uncle Sam tells us to do."

The Department of the Army has said nothing at all. Until it does, we'd rather not speculate.

As it stands now, the WACs are only slightly represented in the war. There are 120 of them in Vietnam today, or about 1 percent of the total force. By comparison, the regular Army has over 25 per cent of its force in Southeast Asia.

The women, however, have increased their contingent noticeably in past two months. Until the fall of last year, there were less than two dozen WACs in Saigon.

The build-up was in the form of a 50-woman company of typists. They were ordered to Vietnam late in 1966 and, according to a spokesman, "began straightening out the impossible mess left by the men who had previously handled the office work."

The WAC force is strictly voluntary. It includes 20 officers, including three colonels. Each As a result, WACs are training Vietnamese women both in Sni-gon and the United States (Pt. McClellan) and are thereby influencing an important faction of Viet society.

Col. Holington points to this "advisory responsibility" as an indication that the corps is not in Vietnam simply to spring donk-ridden GIs loose for combat.

"Says she: "Twenty-five years ago when the WACs were created, the idea was to put efficient girls in many of the office slots . . . and that way the men could forget all the details and get on with the fighting."

"It doesn't work that way any more. In all cases, clerical or whatever, the jobs we have in Vietnam are interchangeable with those of men or women can and do handle them, depending on who is available.

"We are not replacing any men in Vietnam. We are part of the Army's regular table of distribution and, as such, are handling Army jobs rather than feminine jobs."

However they're described, WAC jobs in Saigon seem to have a magnetism about them. Many corps women are extending their war tours by six months, and the waiting list for replacement is, according to Col. Holington, "crammed."

"Thus, volunteers for any war call-up are no problem.

Many of these girls hope they get the word soon. They say they crave the excitement, the responsibility and the $65 combat pay. "Besides," writes one of them, "any place with half a million GIs in it sounds like a good place to work."

SOUTH IGNORES MAJOR SUIT CUE

One advantage of Landy and similar conventions is that few people have learned how to defend against it. Actually the defense is simple if you and your partner have worked it out.

The Landy two club bid asks for major suits. If you, as partner of the no-trump bidder, fact that you know your opponent is likely to hold five trumps against you.

You may also ignore the two club call completely as Jeff Glick of Miami did some years ago when Alvin Landy was making one of his few appearances at the table. Joff and Alvin were one of our great partnerships once upon a time, and Alvin handled the three no-trump contract superbly.

He won the heart opening, led a diamond to dummy's king and finished against East's queen-115-did this because he knew that West was long in the majors. Then he cashed his ace of diamonds, ordered dummy with the ace of clubs; ran the rest of the diamonds, came back to his hand with the king of clubs, laid down the ace of hearts for his 10th trick and threw West in with a heart.

West had been forced to hang on to the ace and queen of spades and had to give Alvin one more overtrick.

Californians Have Vote On Viet Policy

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — This first major city in the nation to vote on Vietnam policy smashed down by a nearly 2 to 1 margin Tuesday the idea of a ceasefire and immediate withdrawal.

The vote was 132,402 to 64,702, yet by citizens of the area where there have been several massive antiwar demonstrations—the most recent an October attempt to force a shutdown of the Army Induction Center in Oakland.

Attorney Joseph Alloto, the former mayor, who won reelection as mayor, shouted "good" over the outcome of Proposition P—the Vietnam issue. In Washington, congressional supporters of President Johnson's Vietnam policy hailed the result as a victory. But advocates of de-escalation termed the result meaningless.

Mayor-elect Alloto said the result could not be interpreted as a victory for the "hawks"—those who favor escalating the war effort. Alloto, a Democrat, conceded "This is a war we all hate" but he denounced the proposition as a "betrayal" of the men in uniform.

Gov. Ronald Reagan, a Republican who recently has attacked what he describes as the Johnson administration's "chickenhearted" policy on the war, opposed Proposition P. He said "I don't believe cities should have foreign policies."

Attorney Gets Speed Count Dismissed

Lloyd Walker, partner in the law firm of Kramer and Walker, Twin Falls, appeared in Twin Falls Probate Court Wednesday morning on a charge of speeding.

As might seem logical, he was represented by his attorney, Douglas Kramer, and he left court with the charge dismissed. He was cited Sept. 14 by State Patrolman Ronald Groves while allegedly driving 72 miles per hour on a highway posted for 60 miles per hour.

Mr. Walker's attorney argued successfully under the Idaho Supreme Court ruling that posted speed limits are prima facie and can be rebutted by showing the driver was reasonable and prudent in view of circumstances and conditions. Mr. Kramer introduced testimony to show the weather was clear and traffic was light at the time of the alleged offense.

Probate Judge Richard Reed granted the defendant's motion that in view of this the charge be dismissed.

Three Winners Of Blue Pencils

Curt Garrison and Bill Foster won blue pencils Monday night in the best speech division at the Toastmasters No. 703 meeting at Kay's Supper Club. Wayne DeSpain won a blue pencil for the best table topic.

Dr. John Carter presided and was in charge of table topics. Ron Finney was toastmaster and Tom Kunkle, timer. Evaluators were DeVort Douglas and Jim Hoag and general evaluator was Wayne DeSpain.

Shoot Set

Beer License Applications Being Taken

Establishments and individuals planning to make application for 1968 beer licenses in Twin Falls County would do well to submit their application as early as possible, County Clerk Harold Lancaster advised Wednesday.

He said applications may be submitted now for the coming year. Under a resolution passed Tuesday by the board of county commissioners, all applications for the sale of beer or liquor in Twin Falls county must be submitted to a committee including the prosecuting attorney, sheriff and the state liquor law enforcement officer of this area.

These officers will inspect the establishment involved in the application and submit their recommendations to the board of county commissioners before the license is issued or denied.

When license applications are being received in large numbers, such as at the beginning of the year, it might require several days before inspections can be made and commissioners meet to consider recommendations. To avoid being caught without a license during such times, Mr. Lancaster urged applicants to act immediately.
