Crash Of X15 Rocket Plane Leaves Probers With Mystery

EDWARDS AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (AP) — "I'm in a spin...I'm in a spin." Those words from the calm-voiced pilot of an X-15 rocket plane that plunged into the desert from an altitude of more than 50 miles Wednesday left investigators with a mystery. Air Force Maj. Michael J. Adams went down to his death with the plane. Adams reported control troubles, but officials say that alone wasn't enough to cause the crash. A National Aeronautics and Space Administration spokesman said Adams may have delayed pulling his ejection mechanism in a last-ditch effort to gain control. That delay may have cost him his life. Adams may have tried to eject from the craft and been unable to, but the spokesman said there is no indication this happened. "There was apparently some kind of control malfunction as the pilot attempted to pull out of his descent," a NASA spokesman said. "Pull it up... get some G on it, Mike," ground controllers told Adams seconds before the crash. "Mike, do you read? Pull it up!" Adams had reported control problems with the plane's dampers—devices to reduce oscillations as the craft is controlled. Then radar trackers showed he had regained control—but only for a very few seconds. The NASA spokesman said there could be "any number of reasons" why Adams failed to eject after he lost control of the X-15 the second time. "He could have blacked out, maybe the Gs (the powerful force, several times that of gravity, caused by changes in speed or direction) got to him." The problem with the dampers once he returned, he said, "but that alone wouldn't have been enough to cause the crash. There had to be something else, perhaps a major malfunction, perhaps not."

Sato, U Thant Plan Talks In New York

NEW YORK (AP) — Japanese Prime Minister Eisaku Sato, hearing a promise from Washington after two-day policy talks with President Johnson, also was without fanfare. Sato received a promise the United States will return the Bonin Islands, including the World War II battleground of Iwo Jima, to Japan within a year. But the 66-year-old Japanese leader was unable to win a timetable promise from President Johnson for a similar return of strategic Okinawa to Japanese control. The key American defense base is only 350 miles from the Chinese mainland. Sato flies to New York today for meetings with U.N. Secretary General U Thant after two days of hard bargaining sessions with Johnson over Okinawa, a politically explosive issue in Japan. Expectations have been building up in Japan for months that the United States would yield control of Okinawa while maintaining American use of military bases there for the security of Japan and the non-Communist countries of east Asia. Instead, Johnson and Sato worked out an agreement to es-

"Let My Shed Burn," Paul Firemen Told

PAUL — Everyone has his "off" days, and members of the West End Fire Department are no exception. The fire department received a call at 3:30 p.m. Tuesday reporting a fire at the Paul Labor Camp. The fire truck, with siren and flashing red light clearing traffic on Highway 25, headed east—officially—as ever—towards the camp. Two volunteer firemen who are employed by the county highway district joined the fire truck immediately in front of the fire truck. The two firemen didn't know where to go so about a mile from the labor camp they pulled off the road to let the fire truck pass. When Fire Chief Alvin Simpson was driving the truck, he did not see smoke around the corner at the labor camp and thought there was a mistake in directions, he pulled off the road with the other vehicle and jumped out to extinguish a blazing shed on the George Suchan farm. "Don't put that out," said a man Mr. Suchan, who quickly explained that he was having a struggle getting it to burn—and he was trying to dispose of it. Firemen then climbed back in the trucks and proceeded to the labor camp where the corner of a county storage building was burning. Chief Simpson said the building somehow had caught on fire after Dennis Morrison, employe of the county weed control division had attempted to burn nearby weeds, but said the weeds "refused" to burn. The event had a good ending. Firemen saved the labor camp building. Mr. Suchan saved his burning building from the firemen—and Morrison, who incidentally is also a volunteer fireman, is still trying to get those weeds to burn.

Determined

UNITED NATIONS N.Y. (AP) — Britain plans a determined effort to prod the U.N. Security Council into unanimous action toward a settlement to the Middle East stalemate, declaring that the "time to decide has come." The United States urged the council Wednesday to reach an accord calling for Israeli withdrawal from captured Arab lands but also supporting Israel's insistence on "secure and recognized" boundaries. "Only the parties themselves can make peace," added U.S. Ambassador Arthur J. Goldberg. The super-hour tie-up caused thousands to be many hours late getting home—some past midnight. Elsewhere in parts of New England, especially Maine, Vermont, New Hampshire and western Massachusetts, up to 13 inches of snow piled up on main highways. Six fatalities were attributed to the storm. This morning most commuters to Boston left their cars home and jammed public transportation. They took to the public vehicles in response to a state police statement that many highways leading into Boston were clogged with abandoned cars. The storm struck Greater Boston with a breaking force, said the weather bureau, which said the storm center, which had left deep snow in other sections, was moving off the New England coast. The Weather Bureau explained that a cold front swept in behind the major storm but warm moist air remained stationary long enough to cause the conditions. That brought the sudden, violent storm into the Boston area within an hour after skies had partly cleared. Robert Jones, a Massachusetts Bay Transportation Authority bus driver, said students from area colleges, including Harvard, Radcliffe, MIT and

3 Terrorists Will Not Be Executed

By BARRY KRAMER Associated Press Writer SAIGON (AP) — Premier Nguyen Van Loc today reprieved three convicted Viet Cong terrorists who were scheduled to die before a firing squad in a Saigon prison at dawn Friday. The Viet Cong's clandestine radio had threatened reprisal, saying, "The U.S. aggressors and the Thieu-Ky (government) clique must account for the lives of the three South Vietnamese patriots they have decided to execute tomorrow." American officials were disturbed when they learned today of the planned executions—set for 5:30 a.m. Friday—at the Chi Hoa Prison since twice in the past American prisoners of war have been killed in reprisal for the execution of Viet Cong terrorists by the South Vietnamese government. U.S. officials also felt the decision was poorly timed in view of the recent release of three U.S. Army sergeants by the Viet Cong.

Antipoverty Bill OK'd, Both Sides Claim Victory

By JOHN BECKLER WASHINGTON (AP) — An antipoverty bill cut by $400 million has cleared the House and both the budget-cutters and administration supporters claim a victory. Republicans succeeded in cutting the money total well below President Johnson's request but the pared-down version—with all its controversial programs intact—then sailed through 283 to 120, the biggest margin in its three-year history. As it passed the House Wednesday night after a long, frequently raucous session, the bill would extend the Office of Economic Opportunity's programs for one year at an authorized spending level of $1.6 billion. That's the amount the OEO had last year. Johnson had asked for $2.06 billion to expand the antipoverty program this year. The Senate has already authorized $2.25 billion and a compromise agreement will now have to be worked out. After three frustrating days in which they were defeated on every major attempt to cut funds and revise the program, the Republicans scored on their final thrust just before passage. Their motion to cut back to $1.6 billion was approved 221 to 100, with 148 Republicans and 73 Democrats, mostly from the South, supporting it. Opposing the slash were 162 Democrats and 28 Republicans. On final passage, 144 Democrats and 97 Republicans voted for the bill and 50 Democrats and 70 Republicans opposed it. The entire top leadership of the Republican party either voted or was paired against the bill. The bill's supporters shrugged off the cut in funds as a small price to pay for keeping alive a program that at one time appeared doomed. The coalition of Republicans and Southern Democrats that rewrote major administration education and crime control bills earlier in the year had made a complete revision of the antipoverty program its main goal. When the summer's riots soured many former supporters of the program, the House leadership laid the bill aside and even considered dropping it for this year to keep it from being chewed up.

Snowstorm Jams Boston Traffic

BOSTON (AP) — Sunny but frigid weather today helped Boston clear highways of cars abandoned during the heavy snowstorm Wednesday which caused a massive traffic jam in the area. Metropolitan Boston got only 4 inches of snow but the storm was completely unexpected and motorists were caught without snow tires or chains. Sliding accidents were common and many drivers gave up and left their cars on the highways. The supper-hour tie-up caused thousands to be many hours late getting home—some past midnight. Elsewhere in parts of New England, especially Maine, Vermont, New Hampshire and western Massachusetts, up to 13 inches of snow piled up on main highways. Six fatalities were attributed to the storm. This morning most commuters to Boston left their cars home and jammed public transportation. They took to the public vehicles in response to a state police statement that many highways leading into Boston were clogged with abandoned cars. Gov. Samuelson Talks At Peace Officers Conclave At Jerome

JEROME — Too little regard for law enforcement at all levels was pointed to by Gov. Don Samuelson during a speech to members of the Magic Valley Peace Officers Association meeting in Jerome Wednesday evening. "This condition probably will exist until law enforcement and law enforcement officials are given the widespread respect they deserve," the governor stated. Bringing up the serious problem of drug use, the governor said, "During the past several years, an alarming increase has become apparent in the use and abuse of dangerous drugs." "Idaho and its communities have not escaped this trend," he said, adding that the last legislature "strengthened the drugs and narcotics laws of this state. But this is just the beginning. We must stay alert. We must recognize the danger signs and we must be prepared to combat this evil." Drug abuse is a social evil, he noted and "cannot be eliminated through the application of law enforcement techniques alone."

Conservation Work Needs State Funds

BURLEY — "The day is past when a local district can do the entire conservation job," Mr. Woodall stressed the need for some kind of state tax support and said two-thirds of the district supervisors in Idaho supported attempts to get a half mill levy through the last legislature. He expressed disappointment over failure of the measure and said he hoped this gathering will acquiesce the legislators' support. Several districts are working with urban officials, county commissioners and others for wider conservation efforts. He criticized the trend toward reduction of soil-conservation service work units and technical help. "Districts are being asked to expand their program and take on more responsibilities, yet at the same time to reduce their personnel. We must have more technical help to expand our program," he declared. Rev. Francis O'Driscoll gave the invocation and Richard Lawson, Tensed, vice president, also presided. Mayor Joe Peters welcomed the delegates to the Burley area and Glenn Nelson, Twin Falls, division four director, responded. Reports were given by Mrs.

$300 Stolen In Burley Hotel Armed Robbery

BURLEY — Three men accused of robbing a Burley hotel of $300 and binding several occupants with adhesive tape early Thursday were apprehended about 5 a.m. east of American Falls. Burley police officers were en route to Pocatello Thursday noon to return James William O'Neill, 67, Billings, Mont.; Philip Harris, 34, Bridger, Mont.; and Paul Robert Marr, 30, Billings, here to face charges of armed robbery. Police were notified of the incident about 4 a.m. by Rev. Bonasik, who operates the Pine Room hotel on West Main Street in Burley. She told police the men were wearing ski masks and winter jackets. One reportedly had a snub-nosed revolver and the other two had .22 long-barreled auto-

Gen. Westmoreland Gives Group 'Cautiously Optimistic' Report

WASHINGTON (AP) — Gen. William C. Westmoreland gave the Senate Armed Services Committee today what was termed "an optimistic—cautiously optimistic"—report on the war in Vietnam. "But he does not see any early termination of the war," Sen. Richard B. Russell, D-Ga., the committee chairman, told newsmen. Westmoreland spent more than an hour in closed session with the committee, and left immediately afterward for the White House, where he met at noon with President Johnson. Informal sources presided that meeting would bring agreement on earlier deployment of additional troops already authorized for Vietnam. These sources said Westmoreland was not asking for a bigger commitment of U.S. troops. Russell said that while the whole tenor of Westmoreland's statement to the committee was cautiously optimistic, he never failed to make a statement about a gain without mentioning some of the difficulties encountered. Among the difficulties cited, Russell reported, were the sanctuaries the Communist forces have in Cambodia and Laos, and the demilitarized zone, and "the tremendous supplies of mortars, artillery and rockets from some source." Russell said he presumed the weapons were being supplied by the Soviet Union. On the other hand, Russell said Westmoreland reported that while the enemy force's equipment is consistently good, their morale is deteriorating and some of their best troop units have been practically decimated. Westmoreland flew in from Vietnam Wednesday for his conferences with the President and other officials. The general, his wife and their 11-year-old daughter, Margaret, spent the night at the White House as guests of the President and Mrs. Johnson. Westmoreland's talks with Johnson continue high-level Vietnam conferences begun Wednesday when the President met with Ellsworth Bunker, U.S. ambassador to South Vietnam. Joining the President and Bunker at luncheon were Secretary of State Dean Rusk, Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara, Chairman Earle G. Wheeler of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, director Richard Helms of the Central Intelligence Agency and special presidential assistant Walt W. Rostow. After talking with Westmoreland today, Johnson is to meet with Robert Komer, chief of the U.S. pacification effort in South Vietnam. Bunker reportedly gave Johnson a "cautiously optimistic" report on American progress in Vietnam, and Westmoreland, on his arrival by plane Wednesday from Saigon, told newsmen: "It is very, very encouraging. I have never been more encouraged in my four years in Vietnam." Military progress by U.S. and South Vietnamese forces was reportedly behind Westmoreland's request that authorized troop levels be reached more quickly than now scheduled. There now are about 468,000 American fighting men in Vietnam and Johnson earlier this year authorized boosting the total by 57,000 troops to 525,000 by next July. But Westmoreland is said to feel that the extra troops should be deployed faster to allow him to keep maximum military pressure on the enemy. In the belief—both the North Vietnamese and Viet Cong are reeling from recent defeats.

County Officials Study Food Aid Program

Surplus food supplies to help supplement the grocery budgets of low-income and senior citizens families were offered officials and families in northern Idaho counties in a meeting in Twin Falls Wednesday afternoon.

Representatives of the Consumer Marketing Service, a federal agency with headquarters in San Francisco, met with the commissioners from the three counties to explain what food surplus project has been under way here for some time and with good success.

Foods available would include cereals, dried beans, dry milk, cheese, butter, flour, raisins, peanut butter, canned meat and several other items.

Each individual would be eligible for $1 to $7 worth of the surplus food per month, Mrs. Canata said. In a family of five, this could provide up to one-third or one-fourth of the grocery costs for the month, leaving additional funds for fresh produce, meat and other items.

The food would be distributed through the Department of Public Assistance and the same state agency would approve applicants for the surplus foods. The only cost to the counties, the officials said, would be providing transportation of the items from a designated center, probably Boise or Pocatello.

Commissioners attending the meeting said they would give the proposal further consideration before taking action.

Some storage facilities would also be necessary for brief periods of time while the food is being distributed locally. Refrigeration for butter and cheese would be needed.

Counties participating in the program must adopt resolutions to this effect and submit them to the Department of Public Assistance. Many of the items made available, Mr. Warren said, are locally produced and are purchased by the Department of Agriculture through the surplus program.

Three Valley Girls Attend Teacher Meet

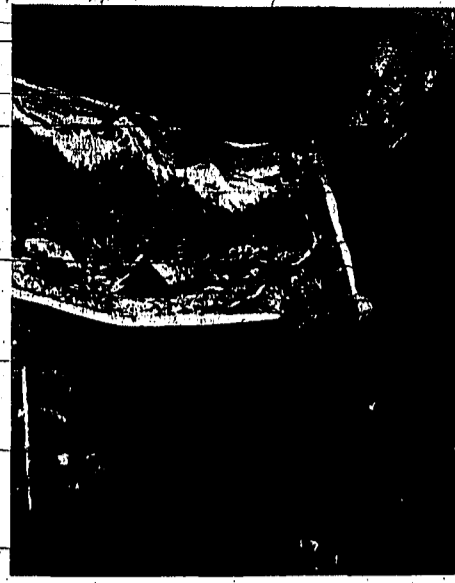

IDAHO STATE UNIVERSITY, Pocatello — Three Magic Valley girls were among those who reported to a Future Teachers Conference this week when 500 students from Idaho attended a day-long session there.

The students, all members of future teachers groups in Idaho high schools, were challenged to "think big and dream big dreams" if they want to be the kind of teachers America will need in the future.

Dorothy Zimmerman, Salt Lake City, acting executive secretary of the Utah Education Association, issued the challenge.

Magic Valley students who reported to the conference included Linda Clark, DeLoe, Jackie Bailey, Rupert, and Denny Pierce, Rati River.

Democratic Backing Of Bill Viewed

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Senate Republican leading opposition to a Democratic-backed Social Security bill charges it is based more on political factors than on sound financing.

Sen. John J. Williams of Delaware, who fought in the Senate Finance Committee against the bill proposing the biggest cash benefit increases in Social Security history, told the Democrats as full Senate debate began Wednesday.

"You want to boast of all the benefits you're giving the people before the election year and then put on the taxes to pay for them after the votes are counted."

Williams referred to a provision under which total benefits would be hiked by $3.5 billion next April, and by another $5.8 billion in 1969, and financed by a hike in maximum annual payroll deductions from the current $200.40 annually to $352 next year and $422.40 in 1969.

Williams and other Republicans on the committee contend the tax increases next year—election year—would not be sufficient to cover the proposed hike in benefits.

But Chairman Russell B. Long, D-La., of the Finance Committee maintained the financing plan is conservative. He said the proposed increases in benefits and taxes would mean a $2.2 billion surplus in the Social Security fund.

Businessmen To Ask U.S. 30 Re-Routing

Downtown businessmen organized under the name of Twin Falls Unlimited are pushing ahead on two major phases of their project to improve the main business district of the city in line with the Twin Falls Comprehensive plan.

Rudy Ashenbrenner, president of Twin Falls Unlimited, said meetings Wednesday night and Thursday morning resulted in a decision to meet with city council members Monday night to present a proposal for re-routing U.S. Highway 30 through the city. The proposal follows that of the plan already approved by the city and outlined in the comprehensive plan. It would bring the one-way couplets which now carry the highway traffic one block in each direction to circumvent the downtown area.

This would free Main Avenue for use of local-shopper traffic through the mall type development that is proposed. Mr. Ashenbrenner said city officials would be asked to meet with the Department of Highways and ask for approval and cooperation and possibly suggested alternate proposals.

The other phase of the present work of Downtown Unlimited members is the study of costs for forming a local improvement district through which the downtown property owners would finance costs of their redevelopment.

Robert Harvey, information officer for the group, said before members are asked to approve formation of such a district exact costs must be established over a definite period of time. He said property owners would carry their own financing without federal assistance, but the downtown improvement would be coordinated with the Urban Renewal district which would be adjacent to the local project.

Another matter discussed in the two meetings was the acquiring of professional planner services. Mr. Harvey said the group has a man in mind who could spearhead the project, something local businessmen do not have the time and talent to handle. Cost of hiring such an expert also was discussed and is now being worked out, he said.

Negro Leader Refuses To Take Oath

By BOB GILBERT
Associated Press Writer

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — Fred Brooks, 20, controversial Black Power Negro, refused today to take the oath of allegiance signifying his induction into the Army. His case was turned over to state and federal officials for action.

Refusal to be drafted, under federal law, is punishable on conviction by up to five years in federal prison. The U.S. district attorney's office, state and local draft officials were notified of Brooks' action, but a state Selective Service spokesman said it will be "several days before we can process the case."

Brooks, chairman of the Nashville Chapter of the Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee, reported as ordered to his local draft board office this morning. But an Army spokesman said he refused to step forward when it came time to take the oath.

"I don't think the Army wants me," Brooks told a newsman at the draft board office. "I think I'd do more harm than good."

Brooks, who directed Nashville's controversial summer Liberation School for young Negroes, had been scheduled to testify today before the Senate investigations subcommittee regarding rioting on Nashville Negro college campuses last spring. The subcommittee, however, postponed this week's hearings a week in order to permit him to be drafted.

Delegates to the annual meeting of the Columbia Plateau Resources Council in Spokane, Wash., Dec. 14 and 15, will be asked to consider the new recommendations drafted by the action committee last week in a meeting in Spokane.

Mr. Carlson pointed out the CPRC is devoted to conservation and preservation of resources in the northwest and this year's efforts are aimed at pollution control.

One of the major problems, Mr. Carlson said, is the enforcement of the quality control standards. In order to assist in this, action committee members urged a reduction in the percentage of votes required to pass bond issues on sewer and water projects.

In most areas, it was noted, bond issues receive a majority vote of support, but not the two-thirds majority now required.

Legislative action would be necessary to change this, but committee members felt it could be accomplished.

Five other recommendations included adoption of full county and city zoning laws as a means of regulating location of industries and other operations that contribute to pollution, and the support and encouragement of new laws that would provide penalties for failure to comply with pollution control measures.

Mr. Carlson told the group that while county zoning proposals might bring strong opposition originally, once passed they reap benefits and gain support of the citizens.

The committee also favored efforts by county leaders and users of larger cities to encourage smaller communities to seek federal assistance for equipment treatment facilities and for common problems of water pollution faced by all areas and to complete such information and distribute it to the citizens of the areas.

Residents of the communities also should be made aware through public education efforts of federal assistance programs available for community improvement; the committee said.

The committee members urged research to determine the program that will outline corrective steps for the area involved.

Pollution of ground water, Mr. Carlson said, in another important field the committee is considering and one which can have an important bearing on future growth of the entire area.

Idaho and other Northwest States, he said, are not yet faced with the problems that plague other parts of the country.

Officials Slam One Another

By EDMOND LEBRETON
WASHINGTON (AP) — The two white-haired Southern, both lawyers and seasoned public men, addressed each other in the Capitol Hill hearing in the politeness of tones and with expressions of personal regard. But the things they said!

Rep. Wright Patman, 74, 6 Secretary of the Treasury Henry H. Fowler — "It is very seldom that anyone in the Treasury Department, let alone the secretary, in himself, shows enough interest in the massive problem of tax-dodging via foundations to travel all the way to the Hill."

Fowler, 59, to Patman — "That comment could only come from one most uninformed."

Patman — "All I can say is I hope the Treasury is not dead, but I have not detected any promising signs of life."

Fowler, after remarking Congress has had Treasury recommendations for revising foundation laws for two years — "I could say that Congress is dead. It wouldn't advance the dialogue."

The Small Business subcommittee Patman heads, and before which Fowler appeared, is investigating Americans Building Constitutionally (ABC) of Barrington, Ill., which provides information on setting up foundations intended to be tax-free.

But the Patman-Fowler questions and answers Wednesday hit the main subject on occasionally, and bounced off in various directions.

Patman, who contends ABC is a factory teaching high-income people how to dodge taxes, delivered his East Texas-flavored sermon in a flat schoolmaster's voice. Fowler kept his Virginia accents disciplined, but not quite so emotionless.

Patman: "The United States Treasury has distinguished itself by indifference, indolence and bungling."

"We would not now be plagued by the ABC if the Treasury had been on its toes instead of its back."

"The Treasury has traditionally treated the foundation tycoons with great sympathy and understanding."

Fowler: "Your remarks ... again are a reflection of complete ignorance of what is going on."

Junior Miss Pageant Set Here Nov. 25

For eight young high school girls Nov. 25 will be an exciting night. They have already started planning and practicing for the activities that will take place at O'Leary Junior High School.

The eight girls began their work toward the event by holding their first practice session earlier this week. Willa Dawn Nielsen of Nielsen Dance Studios is directing the girls with their presentations and stage manner.

The girls are judged in five areas of competition, with the Judges Conference being most important in the percentage weighings. The Judges Conference counts for 35 per cent of the girls' total score, and the girls are judged earlier in the week, before the performance night, on their ability to carry on meaningful conversations as well as answer both light and serious questions.

They are also treated to a dinner with the judges, who then are given a chance to see all the candidates in a social situation. The girls' performances in creative and performing arts counts 20 per cent toward their final rating, with poise and appearance, youth fitness, and scholastic achievement a 11 counting 15 per cent each.

Competing in the Junior Miss event will be Mary Lynn Burkhardt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Darwin Peterson, Twin Falls, will present her version of the Charleston for the pageant audience.

FBI, Justice Department At Odds On "Strike Force"

By STEPHEN M. AUG
WASHINGTON (AP) — The FBI and its parent agency, the Justice Department, are at odds over the department's new "strike force" concept for fighting organized crime.

As a result, the FBI has refused to join fully the new anti-eyewitness force—practically the only civilian federal investigative agency—to decline full participation.

Atty. Gen. Ramsey Clark made public the new concept earlier this week in a New York speech when he announced the department will set up several "strike forces" to probe organized crime in selected areas.

The decision was based on a highly successful operation during the past year in Buffalo, N.Y., which resulted in 14 indictments affecting 31 defendants.

Under the strike force concept, seven federal investigative agencies work together on an intensive drive against organized crime in a selected area for a year or two.

Although Justice Department officials refused to discuss the disagreement, it is known they feel their job would be much easier if the FBI participated fully in the new technique.

FBI participation so far has been passive. It has not assigned agents to work on the strike forces but has made available its vast intelligence sources.

Technically, the attorney general could order FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover to assign agents to the strike force, but Clark is said to be reluctant to do so. Although the FBI is part of the Justice Department, it operates practically as an autonomous agency.

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Gaines Wilson Jr. didn't campaign and didn't spend any money while running for office last May but he still wound up in the red, $44.85 worth.

Wilson was fined $10 and ordered to pay $34.85 in court costs after he pleaded guilty to failure to file financial reports with the Kentucky Registry of Election Finance.

Wilson, who had sought the Democratic nomination as secretary of state, was the first person to be indicted under the new state law tightening requirements on reports of contributions and expenditures.

NAACP Starts Campaign For Schools

NEW YORK (AP) — The National Association for the Advancement of Colored People has announced the start of a new school desegregation campaign aimed at the district lines that prevent children of poor families from attending well-financed and well equipped city and suburban public schools.

Officials of the NAACP said Wednesday it had begun the first of a series of cases, primarily in the North, seeking to make equal educational opportunities for all children the responsibility of states.

NAACP General Counsel Robert L. Carter said he is concerned with the amount of money a school district can afford to spend on each pupil, as well as the degree of "integration." He said a poor district cannot make education "a viable tool for Negro kids."

Carter said at a news conference that it will be up to the states to decide how to provide equal educational opportunity, and he added:

"Whether this be by abolishing district lines, merging of districts, drastic revision of the state formula governing aid to education, or a combination of all these methods, the methods are available. They must be utilized."

The first direct move in the NAACP campaign was a request to the Wyandanch school district on Long Island, whose school enrollment is 80 per cent Negro, to disband and divide its pupils among five neighboring, wealthier districts. The Negro school enrollments in the five districts range from zero to 8.9 per cent, according to statistics of the civil rights group.

Carter said court action will be taken against the Wyandanch district, if necessary. Other cases will be filed without waiting for a final decision on the first, he added.

Professor Is New Critic Of Warren Report

By BOB MONROE
NEW YORK (AP) — A new critic of the Warren report claims that three gunmen in three different locations fired a total of four shots in the assassination of President Kennedy. Joseph Thompson, a philosophy professor turned investigator, disputes the Warren Commission finding that Lee Harvey Oswald was the lone killer of the President.

Writing in the Dec. 2 issue of the Saturday Evening Post, Thompson says he based his conclusion on detailed analyses of the pictures of the assassination and testimony of certain witnesses.

In a statement, William A. Emmons Jr., the magazine's editor, said, "With painstaking care and formidable logic Thompson demolishes the Warren report by building a case for three assassins."

In an editorial accompanying the Thompson article, the Post said: "We declare once again that we believe the Kennedy mystery has not been solved, that the case is not closed."

Thompson, 32, who teaches at Haverford College, is a graduate of Yale University and Navy veteran. The article was extracted from his book "Six Seconds in Dallas" to be published Nov. 27 by Bernard Geis Associates.

Thompson said his "new evidence does not prove that the assassination was a conspiracy. Nor does it prove Oswald's innocence. It shows that the question of Oswald's guilt must remain—four years after the event—still unanswered."

In his "reconstruction," Thompson argues Kennedy was hit by the first and third shots fired at the presidential motorcade. He believes they probably came from the Texas School Book Depository but were not necessarily fired by Oswald.

Thompson claims the second shot came from a building to the rear of the Motorcade—probably the Dallas County Records building—and was the bullet that wounded Gov. John Connally.

Commenting on the Thompson thesis Wednesday, Gov. Connally disputed the fourth shot theory. "I still contend there were three shots fired. I don't believe there was more than one assassin," he said.

Almost immediately after the third shot hit Kennedy in the head, Thompson claims a fourth shot also struck the President's head. He believes this shot was fired from behind a fence to the right and in front of the motorcade.

In part, Thompson based his conclusions on a study of an amateur movie filmed during the assassination by Abraham Zapruder, a spectator. The film was also central to the Warren Commission findings.

Thompson draws his theory of three assassins from interpretation of the facts of timing of the frames of the Zapruder film, but he does not speculate on who the gunmen were.

Marcos Sure Of Control

By TONY ESCODA
MANILA (AP) — President Ferdinand E. Marcos appeared assured today of the control of the Philippine Senate needed to provide firm ground for his 1969 re-election campaign.

With more than half the votes in Tuesday's off-year elections counted, Marcos' Nacionalista party was ahead in six of the eight Senate races. The president needed that many more seats in the 24-member Senate to assure passage of the economic programs on which he expects to campaign.

Mrs. Magnolia Antonio, an independent riding a wave of sympathy, also seemed certain of election. She substituted for her husband who died in a helicopter crash less than 24 hours before balloting started.

Nacionalistas also ran up substantial leads in provincial and municipal elections. In 65 governorship races, they were ahead in 41. Liberals led in 13 and independents in the 24-member Senate.

Manila gave the Liberals their only other major victory. Mayor Antonio Villegas, a critic of Marcos with anti-American leanings, trounced the president's handpicked candidate, Pablo Ocampo, by 50,000 votes.

The traditional violence that surrounds Philippine politics brought death in 60 persons since the start of campaigning early this year, the national police reported. Despite nine election-day killings, the police called the balloting "generally peaceful."

The Philippine News Service reported 107 political killings for the year and said more than 30 persons were slain on election day.

Dear Abby

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN
 DEAR ABBY: The teacher called me for a conference because of an essay my daughter had written as part of a class assignment. It was entitled "My Father," and it went like this: "My father is the worst father in the whole world. I am ashamed of him. He left us when we were small and my mother had to work to feed us. I hate him."

(the background, FBI better to investigate psychiatric help for your daughter and be told she doesn't need it than not to seek it when she does.)
 DEAR ABBY: The letter from "WORRIED MOTHER" who is concerned about telling her 11-year-old son the facts of life, sounds like many parents with whom I have talked.
 After teaching elementary school for 17 years, I have found that the parents of 11-year-olds who think they are going to tell their children something new in revealing the facts of life, have a lot to learn themselves. Sincerely yours,
 DAVID S. MILLS, PRINCIPAL
 DOW, ILLINOIS

Abby, my daughter was four years old when her father left us, and she hasn't mentioned him in all these years. She is a moody child but I think it is just her nature. My other children seem happier and better adjusted.
 Well, this teacher suggested I take my daughter to a psychiatrist. I don't believe too much in psychiatry. I went to one after my husband left me, and many hundreds of dollars later all I got out of him was the sage advice that I should "adjust" to the situation and make the best of it.
 I don't want an emotionally disturbed child on my hands, but I can't afford to pay a psychiatrist just because a teacher says she thinks my child needs one. What should I do?
 CONCERNED

DEAR ABBY: I am an only child and have been married a few years. All of a sudden, after 25 years of marriage, my parents say they can no longer put up with each other's "foolishness" and they want a divorce. I think they are being very foolish and it upsets me terribly, but I don't know how to help them solve their problem.
 Incidentally, don't suggest that I try to get them to see a marriage counselor because they wouldn't, not if it was the last thing they did together.
 FORLORN

DEAR CONCERNED: Ask your family doctor for his recommendations, after telling him

DEAR FORLORN: Have your parents asked for your help with the problem? Will they have been helpful because when two people agree that they've had "enough" of each other, as far as they're concerned, there's no problem.
 The only problem I see here is yours. It's the inability to solve a non-existing problem between your parents.

Positions In Copper Strike Unchanged

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service reported Wednesday the completion of talks with the "Big Four" copper producers and said there had been no significant change in their positions concerning the nationwide strike, now in its 125th day.

William E. Simkin, FMCS director, said another meeting with union representatives tentatively set for next Tuesday had been postponed.

Attending the Washington meetings were representatives of Kennecott Copper, Phelps-Dodge, Anaconda and American Smelting and Refining.

Meanwhile, Sens. Wallace F. Bennett, R-Utah, and Paul Fannin, R-Ariz., announced Wednesday they have introduced a bill which would permit striking union members to vote on whether they want to remain on strike.

The bill would require that a striking union cancel its walk-out for at least 90 days if the majority of members voting decided to return to work.

Last month striking workers were surveyed and 70 per cent of the union members favored returning to work, the senators said.

"This bill would give the union members themselves a major voice that will be heard, and that will be backed up by federal law," Bennett said.

Fannin said all indications given him were that striking copper workers would vote now to end the strike if they could. Union members, he said, now vote on whether to go on strike, but don't have a voice to decide later if the strike should continue.

"We have a perfect example in the West where 45,000 copper workers have been idle for 124 days while management and union officials have been calling meetings on and off with monotonous regularity," Bennett said.

He said the proposal "is fair and in no way is intended to take away the rights to strike for lawful objectives under lawful circumstances."

Nampa State School, Hospital Need Funds

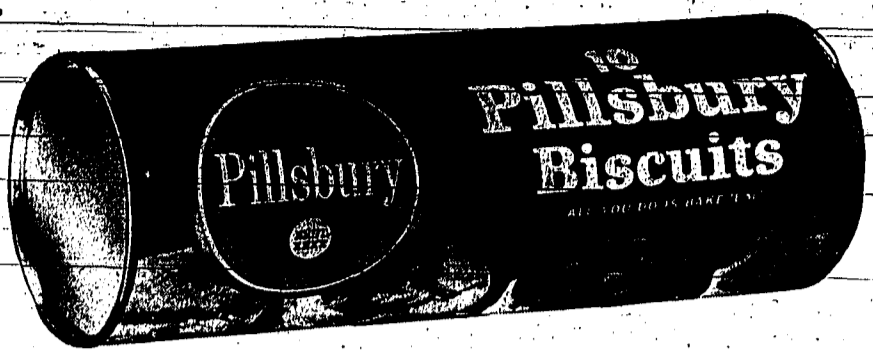

By J. SCHIFFERDECKER Idaho Statesman

NAMPA, Idaho (AP)—A cursory tour of the immaculate and attractive grounds of the State School and Hospital at Nampa gives rise to a feeling of self-satisfied pride that Idaho's more unfortunate citizens are being well cared for.

The other side of the coin isn't nearly so pleasant. There are more than 700 persons at the school. For many says Superintendent John R. Marks, it's the end of the road. The state school is operating with 20 un-filled vacancies in staff positions. They will not be filled this biennium. In addition, about 10 more will be let go soon if the 4 per cent budgetary cutback continues.

Marks says it costs just under $200 a month to keep one person at the school. The school presently has 30 persons ready for placement in outside communities, capable of communicating with their fellow citizens, of holding jobs and paying taxes.

Yet they can't be placed because of the lack of guidance personnel in the field. During a typical month about a dozen who have demonstrated the capacity to hold a job may be permanently discharged.

Copper, Steel Industries Plan Price Increase

WASHINGTON (AP) — Leaders in the steel and copper industries plan price increases as the government reports a second straight monthly drop in the nation's industrial output.

As the price hikes were being announced Wednesday, Chairman William McChesney Martin of the Federal Reserve Board urged Congress to enact a tax hike to stem inflation. President Johnson's proposed 10 per cent income tax surcharge appears all-but dead for this session of Congress.

Martin said disruptive forces already are at work on the economy. Adding to the economy's woes were continued, scattered strikes in the auto industry.

U.S. Steel announced it will hike prices of most types of wire and various materials for railroads by less than 3 per cent, effective Nov. 27. The nation's biggest steelmaker said the products involved represent about 3 per cent of its total shipments.

The increase is the latest in a series of steel industry price boosts this year. The items involved account for more than 25 per cent of industry shipments.

Phelps Dodge Copper Products Corp. said meanwhile it will increase prices of its full range of tube products about 4 cents a pound beginning Friday.

The copper industry has been hit by a strike of miners since July 15. Phelps-Dodge said its boost will partially compensate for the cost of obtaining points in September, largely because of strikes—the biggest at announcing the decline in industrial output, blamed strikes and a 6 per cent drop in oil production resulting from an improved supply from the Middle East.

The board's index of industrial production dropped five-tenths of one point in October to 106.2 per cent of the 1957-59 base period. The index slipped 1.5 points in September, largely because of strikes—the biggest at unexciting showing and cited the strikes as a factor.

Last week, the government reported a 4.3 per cent unemployment rate—the highest in two years, and a 2 per cent drop in retail sales during October. The Ford strike was listed as a factor in the sales drop.

A similar argument was made by the President's Council of Economic Advisors. Chairman Gardner Ackley predicted last week the index would make an Ford Motor Co.—and the curbed oil production.

This marked the first time since the economic slowdown last February and March that the index dropped in two straight months.

Martin, speaking before the new index was announced, said strikes have clouded the economy's basic strength.

Q. I am interested in paying for my tax bill. If I have the $100.00 in the New York State lottery, I have been going through a booklet, listing and explaining Federal taxes like you.

A. None. Sorry, but that's the answer. You can't use the provisions of the Federal tax code that apply to gift tax to duck income tax. These are two entirely different taxes.

That's a point most people don't seem to realize. I suppose that a natural thing because relatively few people ever have to pay Federal gift taxes. You have to be very rich and very generous to be hit with that tax bite.

Suppose we start from the beginning. You pay income tax on your income. The money you win in a lottery is counted as ordinary income. You are required to report it and pay Federal income taxes on it.

Now let's get to the main question. You win $100,000. You have to report it and pay Federal income taxes on it.

Yastrzemski Is MVP Winner For American League

By MARVIN R. PIKE
Associated Press Sports Writer
BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP)—Just about a year ago Carl Yastrzemski walked into a gymnasium and began working out two hours a day six days a week. It paid off.

"I built up power and endurance," the 28-year-old Boston Red Sox outfielder said, "and that did it."

What he meant was the power coupled with endurance — his ability to finish strong at the end of the season — were a key factor in his being voted the American League's Most Valuable Player in 1967.

Yaz, the league's Triple Crown winner this year, picked up 10 of the first-place votes cast by 20 members of the Baseball Writers' Association of America. The 20th vote went to Minnesota's Harmon Killebrew, who played second- and third bases and center field.

"I was disappointed the vote wasn't unanimous," Yastrzemski said on the eve of Wednesday's announcement that he had been named MVP.

A week ago the writers voted unanimously for Orlando Cepeda of the St. Louis Cardinals for the same honor in the National League.

"Twins' slugger Harmon Killebrew, finished second to Yastrzemski with 161 points, Catcher Bill Freehan of Detroit, with 137, was third followed by pitcher Joe Horlen of Chicago, 91, outfielder Al Kaline of Detroit, 88, and pitcher Jim Lonborg of Boston, 82. Tovar, who batted .207, last season, finished in a seventh-place tie with shortstop Jim Fregosi of California. Each had 70 points.

The voting by two baseball writers from each city was on a basis of 10 points for a first-place vote, 9 for second, 8 for third down to 1 for each 10th place vote.

Yastrzemski, who led the Red Sox to their first pennant since 1918, became the first Boston player to take the MVP award since Jackie Jensen in 1948.

Yaz, in winning the Triple Crown, batted .320, drove in 121 runs and tied Killebrew for the home run title with 44.

Yastrzemski, in Buffalo to speak to teen-age baseball players, said "our team deserves the award, not just me."

"Our players had a lot of determination and drive. And that's what won us the pennant. We have a tremendous chance to do it again.

"Many times we should have quit and settled for second or third. But we — especially my teammates — didn't do it."

Rouse, Tiger Ready For Title Match

LAS-VEGAS, Nov. (AP)—Challenger Roger Rouse of Aguadon, Mont., is taller, heavier and has a longer reach than light heavyweight champion Dick Tiger but the statistics, oddly enough, satisfy both fighters who meet for the title here Friday night.

The 15-round bout, Tiger's second defense of the 175-pound division crown, will be nationally televised, starting at 7 p.m. PST, in the Las Vegas Convention Center.

The 38-year-old title holder from Biafra, Africa, plans to weigh in at about 169 and Rouse, 32, at 174.

Rouse, the No. 1 title contender, stands 5-foot-11 and has a reach of 73½ inches. Tiger is 5-9, with a reach of 71.

"The tall ones," said Tiger on Wednesday, "must go down looking for me. That leaves the inside open to me."

Advised of the champion's reflections, the easy-going Rouse observed, "I'm not at all unhappy about being taller. I know Tiger likes to fight inside. He's aggressive and likes to wear a guy down, being such a busy fighter. I like to jab and move."

Sauer Given Weekly AFL Offense Pat

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer
Slender George Sauer learned his trade bouncing off fruit trees in his back yard. Now, he bounces off defensive backs and gains yards instead.

Sauer, the New York Jets split end, was named the Offensive Football League's Offensive Player of the Week by the Associated Press Wednesday for his performance in last Sunday's 20-10 victory over Buffalo.

He caught six passes for 170 yards and one touchdown against the Bills and took over first place among AFL receivers in his third year. Sauer has become one of the league's top targets. His development wasn't an overnight thing.

"When I was a little kid," Sauer recalls, "my dad used to throw the ball to me by the whole bunch of fruit trees in the back yard and I binged into 'em plenty catching 'em passes."

Against Buffalo, he was hanging into Butch Byrd, one of the AFL's top defensive backs.

"Anything I get off Byrd," says Sauer, "I have to work for. When you catch the ball, he really lays it to you. I have the utmost respect for him."

The big day gave Sauer 46 catches, top in the AFL, for 700 yards this season. Tennessee Don Maynard and San Diego's Lance Alworth share second place with 45 each after big days Sunday.

Pro Golfers Launch New PGA Tour

PALM BEACH GARDENS, Fla. (AP)—The Professional Golfers' Association approved plans Wednesday to launch a second PGA tour, probably in 1968, and invited bids from prospective sponsors of the proposed $25,000-tournaments.

Don Clarkson, retiring PGA vice president and chairman of the special tour-planning committee, said five requests for tournament dates already have been received.

Clarkson said no difficulty was anticipated in arranging a schedule of 15-20 tournaments for the second tour next year.

PGA President Max Elbin said present plans are to stock the new tour with fledgling tournament players, seasoned veterans and other local golf professionals who are confined by club affiliations to tournaments in their immediate area.

Keyes Nears Collegiate Point Title

By The Associated Press
Leroy Keyes, Purdue's all-purpose halfback, is close to clinching the individual scoring title this year among major college football players.

The Ballmacker ace scored three touchdowns in his team's 41-17 rout of Minnesota last Saturday and raised his year's point harvest to 108.

Statistics released by the National Collegiate Sports Service, Wednesday show Keyes has a 30-point lead over his closest challengers, Butch Colson of East Carolina and Doug Dalton of New Mexico State, who are tied at 78.

Rick Eber of Tulsa is fourth with 68, followed by five players tied at 66—Lee Jones of Buffalo, Roland Moss of Toledo, Dave Dickey of Arkansas, Gene Morla of West Texas State and Gary Behan of UCLA. Gerald Warren of North Carolina State rounds out the top ten with 64.

The only new leader in this week's statistics is Ron Sellers of Florida State in pass-receiving. Sellers now has 63 receptions in nine games—two more than Rick Eber of Tulsa and Phil Odle of Brigham Young.

Joe Casan of New Mexico continues to top the list in kickoff returns, with 599 yards in 22 attempts. Steve Haterius of West-Texas State leads in interceptions with 11 steals for 80 yards. Vic Washington of Wyoming is best in punt returns, returning 52 for 555 yards.

TREMEUDOUS SPRING

In his legs supplements Ron Poyser's 8-9 frame to make him particularly awesome on the boards. Although he is a rookie with the 68ers, Poyser is no stranger to the team as he opposed them last year in the National AAU Basketball League when he played with the now disbanded Cleveland Almatic Valves. He led Cleveland in rebounds last year and was among the NABL's top five in that category. The former starting center-at-Indiana-University was a high school standout in Chicago Heights, Illinois. He and the Oilers will meet Cleveland at Southern Indiana at the Burley High School gymnasium Monday night.

Sportsmen To Meet In Oakley Saturday

OAKLEY—Bird and big game hunting seasons plus recommendations for filling seasons will be the chief topics of discussion here Saturday at the fall meeting of the Fourth District Associated Sportsmen's Clubs. The meeting is slated for 10 a.m. at the Oakley American Legion Hall with the Cassia Rod-and-Gun Club serving as host.

The usual format is planned for the event with reports from federations, B.L.M., Fish and Game Department and other organizations in the morning session. After lunch the group will break into committee meetings with each committee reporting back in the final hours for review of resolutions. A banquet is planned for 7 p.m.

The major item is expected to be the oft-discussed South Hills deer herd. The topic has been the focus of several dozen meetings over the past 15 years and has blazed again this year.

Namath Aids 2 Teammates To AFL Leads

NEW YORK (AP)—Joe Namath's aerial circus has vaulted two New York Jets to the top of the American Football League's pass receiving statistics.

George Sauer, Namath's split end, moved into first place among AFL receivers, according to statistics released Wednesday. He has caught 46 passes, one more than teammate Don Maynard, who is tied for second place with San Diego's Lance Alworth at 45.

Namath, meanwhile, remains fourth in passing statistics behind Kansas City's Len Dawson, San Diego's John Hadl and Oakland's Darrel Lamonica.

Dawson has completed 138 of 223 attempts for a 61.9 percent success rate—has thrown for 17 touchdowns and less than Lamonica, the AFL leader.

Boston's Jim Nance remains the rushing leader.

Bruins' Blake And Ulrich Are Named To All-South Idaho Conference Squad

Bob Blake, co-sharing back of the year honors, and Jay Ulrich, a repeater from last season, are the only Twin Falls Bruins earning first team recognition on the All-South Idaho Conference squad selected by sports-writers-casters from the five member cities.

Blake, the only man to rush for more than 1,000 yards, for the season shared the back of

Coach John Reschert loses

Sports FROM ALL ANGLES

By LARRY HOVEY
Times-News Sports Editor

It has been a great week for rumors, mostly concerning the insularity of football coaches.

For instance, we heard that Idaho State fired the whole football coaching staff in a supposedly secret meeting Wednesday morning. We heard that Ed Peterson, formerly of Buhl, was going to take over the reins at Twin Falls High School. We heard that Jerry Kleinkopf was going to retire from football coaching at Twin Falls. But we knew that was purely a rumor—and a lute one at that—since Coach Kleinkopf resigned as offensive coach last week.

We also heard that Ed Troxel and Ed Knecht are strong contenders for the Boise College job, but the inside man right now is Assistant Ray Lewis and perhaps Bob Connor.

We know that Steve Musseau will be back at the University of Idaho next year since the recommendations for another one-year contract have been passed up through the ranks.

Of course, you have probably heard as many or more, so you can shake them all together and come up with whatever you want.

Although College of Southern Idaho has defeated the two stronger AAU teams in the area, the Golden Eagles aren't looking like a team that plans on going against Phillips Oilers next Monday in Burley.

Coach Ed Sutton sent the crowd home Wednesday night after the 75-56 scrimmage and put the boys through a long drill. "We've been looking pretty good at times during practice but the boys aren't keeping the edge real well," he said.

Nonetheless, we'd predict the Eagles will be pretty sharp Monday night at Burley. Incidentally, you should get your tickets for that one earlier. You save four-bits over the box office price at the gymnasium.

A look at Bob Satterwhite, ex-Twin Falls grizzer now playing defense for Idaho State. A hotly major, Bob is carrying an accumulative grade average over .5.

Those are the kind of reports all football aficionados love to see and hear.

The other night Filer had one of those girls football games, complete with pads, tackling and blocking. It was a great success and everyone enjoyed it.

One sticky moment arose late in the game, however, after one of the teams had scored. The girls lined up in punt formation to kick the point-after. The officials were hoping the air would at least drop a little, as the rule allows. But happily everything came out fine. The girl did punt the ball but the kick was short. Dead through the uprights, but short.

Next time out we'll give you our idea of a fourth district all-star football team — then run for cover.

West and Baylor had seven assists and 17 points each.

Seven Lakers were in double figures with Archie Clark leading the way with 24.

Flynn Robinson scored a career high of 34 for the Bulls.

The Lakers, with a mixture of balanced scoring and sharp passing overcame several turnovers to charge ahead of the Bulls 27-22 in the first quarter.

Robinson's deadly shooting brought Chicago back in the second quarter but Jim Barnes joined Clark and Baylor to shoot the Lakers ahead at intermission 65-52.

West had been sidelined with a leg injury.

Returning Starters And Height Brighten Minico Hoop Outlook

RUPERT — About the only change apparent at Minico High School basketball practices these days is that it appears a little better on the floor.

The most part everyone is back from the regional A-1 championship and luckless Coach Leo Roh can't really break out too convincing a tale at the crying towel sessions.

Actually, Minico lost two men from the club that challenged for the Eastern Idaho Conference title most of the way and then won the regional playoffs for a trip to state. They are Claude Roman, now a freshman on the College of Southern Idaho hoop club, and Tom Alperspach.

Coming back is bigger Bob Seamons — he's grown an inch to 5' 8" — and Dean Mayes and Irvin Reedy. That adds up to about 45 points a game and most of the rebounds.

Seamons wheelhorses the crew around, being a fine outside shooter and ball handler. Last year Mayes played with a harness holding a separated shoulder together and was described as the best one-armed player around. An operation canceled the need for the harness and Mayes will have two hands available. He also will be one of the best two-handed players around.

Reedy, the tallest among the veterans at 6' 4", is entering his third year as a Minico star, breaking into the lineup late in the season as a sophomore. He's basically a rebounder but can shoot well and score off the offensive board.

On from the fresh club is 6' 6" sophomore Bontwright who undoubtedly will get an early blooding, although Coach Roh hopes to bring the boy along slowly.

"In many respects I think he's ready for varsity ball now," says Coach Roh. "But there's always the matter of confidence. We don't want to use him in places where a mistake or something would cause him to begin doubting himself and we still want him in often and long enough to pick up all the experience he can. Another thing we don't want is for our fans to expect miracles from him because he's tall and not zambone, being that he's still young. He's a fine boy, though, and has a fine future ahead of him here at Minico."

Seniors striving for starting spots are Tom Cook, a six-foot guard, and 6' 1" Dan O'Don-

Brave Idaho Leaves For Houston Tilt

MOSCOW, Idaho (AP) — Coach Steve Musseau surveyed his thinning University of Idaho Vandal football squad in a light contact workout Wednesday, the last home practice in preparation for Saturday's game against the University of Houston at Houston, Tex.

"We've been playing hurt the last three games," Musseau said, noting the last hard break came with the dislocated shoulder of offensive sparkplug Rudy Linterman in last week's game with Washington State.

Musseau said he does not now have enough manpower to rotate individuals to give them a proper rest.

The Vandals leave for Houston Thursday morning from the Spokane airport. A Thursday night practice is scheduled, as well as Friday workout to acquaint the team with the Astrodom's synthetic turf.

If You Were A Philadelphia Lawyer . . .

you still couldn't tell whether tires you see advertised are bargains or gold bricks!

What cord is best in a tire? Is butasyn rubber better or just a talking point? Are radial tires better than conventional? What tire cross-section is safest and most efficient? Are 4 ply tires always better than 2 ply? Are some tires better than others on slippery streets? Why are so many drivers disgusted with tire performance? Are tire guarantees worth anything?

Who can answer all these questions factually? Certainly the average driver can't. Some tire dealers who can, won't. If they did they wouldn't sell as many tires as they do.

When you want to buy new tires that will deliver the utmost value to you — you can't depend on pictures, claims or guarantees. You have to depend on a human being . . . the man you buy your tires from.

If he's out to build a great broad cross section of customers in the community who will return to him every few years whenever they need tire service, you can trust him. If he's out for a quick profit and all he can get . . . you might as well buy blind.

We've been in business for over 50 years in Twin Falls and we like it. We are dealing to remain in business many, many, more years. Our customers will tell you that we deal that way.

We're not Philadelphia lawyers. We can't look at a tire and tell how good it is any more than you can. We have to go by the records of the people we deal with, and the promises they keep with us. Tire business may not be the shadiest business on earth, but it's shady enough to offer extraordinary long range opportunities for HONEST DEALERS, or extraordinary short term opportunities for fast buck artists.

IF YOU'RE UNHAPPY WITH THE TIRE WEAR and service you've been getting, maybe what you need is a talk with us. It costs nothing to find out. No one can offer you a better deal than we can, and we believe very few can offer a deal as good. Check the other deals . . . then come around and get our story. You'll find out what we mean.

TORONTO, Ont. (AP) — A professor who heads an accident research project here predicts cars in the 1970s will be vividly colored. Dr. Peter Bothwell explains that the brighter colors will make the vehicles more visible and help reduce accidents.

Steel Union President Under Fire

By NEIL GILBRIDE
AP Labor Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — I. W. Abel, craggy-faced president of the United Steel Workers Union, is under considerable fire in trying to steer his big union past the twin shoals of a major strike or mass layoffs next year.

The center of the controversy is a no-strike plan being discussed with the steel industry at a time when labor militancy and strikes across the nation are at a 15-year high.

"There is a big element of steel union leadership that believes it is nonsensical to give up the right to strike," said one labor source outside Abel's union.

Steel Workers Union aides say Abel is angry at being accused of cozying up to the steel industry—the main issue on which Abel ousted David J. McDonald from the union presidency in a 1965 election.

Abel, who guided the Steel Workers to major contract gains without a strike later this year, is reportedly undergoing his first major internal union struggle over the no-strike discussions.

The plan, which would submit major contract issues to voluntary but binding arbitration in the event of a bargaining deadlock, is far from approved and the current debate could kill it.

Population Concerns Portuguese

LISBON (AP) — Portuguese economists and development planners are desperately trying to prevent tiny Portugal's population from concentrating in its capital city.

According to the latest estimates, Portugal will have 10.5 million inhabitants in 1980, and about one million Portuguese citizens will be working in other countries.

The last census in 1960 showed the country had 8.20 million inhabitants, 18 per cent living in the Lisbon area.

Planners are faced with an alarming flow of population to this historic port city, causing housing headaches and congested automobile traffic.

It is estimated that by 1985 Lisbon's population will reach the two million mark.

Experts of the Public Works Ministry are anxiously calling for development plans which would divert the present population flow. Suggestions are now being studied by the Corporate Chamber.

The exodus of workers from the provinces to Lisbon is aggravating the labor shortage, which is in turn damaging the economy, already badly shaken by emigration and a multiple-front ambush war in three African territories.

Teacher Is Top Influence In School

CHICAGO (AP) — "Whether a school is a good one or poor one for a child depends more on his teacher than upon the physical facilities or the amount of equipment or the other children."

This is the view of Eveline B. Omwake, director of the department of child development of Connecticut College, New London, Conn.

She expressed her viewpoint during a one-day symposium on early education and psychology at a meeting of the National Association for Education of Young Children.
