U. S. Population Hits 200 Million

By JOSEPH R. COYNE
WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson was interrupted in the middle of a speech today by the recorded arrival of the nation's newest citizen — an unknown who raised the U.S. population figure above 200 million for the first time.

The interruption came at 11:04.15 a.m. EST when the census clock showed the United States had officially joined Communist China, India and the Soviet Union as the only nations with more than 200 million residents. Johnson, who was posing challenges for America's third century and next 100 million persons, paused just in time to see the historic figure appear on the clock. An overflow crowd at the ceremony cheered and applauded. The President said the nation faced three questions over and over during the past 200 years: "Shall we be a free nation?" "Shall we be one nation?" and "Shall we be a humane nation?"

U.S. POPULATION passes the 200 million mark Monday morning, according to the demographic counter at the Commerce Department Building in Washington. Figure is computed by adding a birth every 8 1/2 seconds and an immigrant every minute while subtracting a death every 17 seconds and an emigrant every 23 minutes—a net change of an additional American every 14 1/2 seconds. Photo was produced by multiple printing from two negatives. (AP wirephoto)

Derailment Of Gas Car Causes Evacuation Of Alabama City

NEWTON, Ala. (AP) — Residents of Newton, evacuated because of the danger of an explosion after a railroad tank car of deadly chlorine was derailed Saturday, were expected to be permitted to return home today. An emergency call brought additional water pumps as firefighters tried to cool the tank car.

Officials said the danger of an explosion apparently is passed. Newton, with a population of about 3,000, was deserted except for state patrol officers who cruised the town to guard against looting. Only a few firemen and rescue workers remained at the scene of the train wreck where small fires had threatened to set off the tank car containing

Reds Surround U.S. Battalion On Hill

SAIGON (AP) — North Vietnamese regulars surrounded a U.S. paratrooper battalion on a hill near the Cambodian border in South Vietnam's central highlands today and with heavy ground assaults and mortar attacks apparently inflicted heavy casualties. An American relief force reached the scene at dusk. The battalion of the U.S. 173rd Airborne Brigade was cut off for 24 hours before the reinforcements arrived to break it. Communist attack and bring out dead and wounded. Heavy enemy ground fire kept rescue helicopters away. Associated Press correspondent John Laney reported from Dak To, about 15 miles from the fighting, the heavy communist fire set off a huge explosion inside the U.S. perimeter, possibly causing heavy casualties. It could not be determined immediately what caused the blast. The fighting, perhaps the most vicious yet in the highlands campaign, came as U.S. planes bombed the Hanoi-Haiphong area for the 11th straight day on Sunday. The attacks included blows against the fifth and six targets to come off the Pentagon's restricted list in four days. They are a concrete plant and a barge yard near Hanoi. The U.S. Command announced the loss of four planes, bringing the total number of losses over the North to 740 aircraft. The four planes carried six crewmen, all of whom are missing. The belief grew among American commanders that the Communists at Dak To are trying to do what they chafed earlier this year just below the demilitarized zone.

Nationalist Hits Possible Red China Seating

BY WILLIAM N. OATIS
UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP) — Foreign Minister Wei Tao-ming of Nationalist China told the General Assembly today that he would urge Communist China to be excluded from the United Nations. He would encourage Peking in aggression to the point where war would be necessary. Wei's remarks were for the assembly's annual debate on the China issue. Cambodian Ambassador Huot Sambath launched the debate with introduction of a resolution to substitute Communist China for Nationalist China and all related bodies.

Diplomats generally expected the assembly would vote down that proposal, and friends of Nationalist China said it would do so by a wider margin than last year. The Chinese minister said the Red Chinese claimed the right to subvert the independence of neighboring states and U.N. membership would not "change their allegiance" but "only give them an opportunity to carry out their long-standing threat to reform or rather destroy the United Nations." Those who want to see Peking not admitted by fear of war, he said, but to admit Pe-

No Decrease

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The Supreme Court told the Gov. Ronald Reagan administration today it could not cut back Medicaid by $210 million a year. The high court upheld a decision by a Superior Court that invalidated new regulations adopted by Governor W. WILLIAMS, Health and Welfare Department administrator. The majority opinion said the amended regulations violated mandatory requirements of the Medicaid Act.

Florida Plane Is Hijacked

HOLLYWOOD, Fla. (AP) — A single-engine plane was hijacked here today and the pilot radioed that he was being forced to fly to Cuba, the Federal Aviation Administration reported. William Leverett of the Miami FAA office said the pilot reported at 12:30 p.m. EST that he passed Key West en route to Havana and had two other men aboard. The plane took off from Hollywood after filing a flight plan for Miami in the Bahamas. In Atlanta, the FAA said the pilot, identified as J.V. Raymond, reported that the hijacker was armed and "intended to take the plane to Havana." The co-pilot was identified as Jeff White. The passenger, who chartered the plane, gave his name as Felix J. Marisy, the FAA said.

A voice, presumably of the hijacker, warned once on the radio that if the two F104 aircraft for Homestead Air Force base did not stop following he would kill the pilot and co-pilot. The FAA said Havana had radioed the FAA flight service center at Miami and said that Cuba would permit the airplane to land, that the passenger would be permitted to disembark, and the plane would be allowed to return to the United States. Names of the pilot and copilot were unknown immediately, but the FAA said the plane was owned by General Aviation and the flight was scheduled from Hollywood, Fla., to Miami. It took until 1915 to reach the first 100 million but the bureau said the 200 million mark could be reached by the turn of the century, in only 33 years.

Westmoreland Hopes For Token Troop Withdrawal

WASHINGTON (AP) — Citing "very serious manpower problems" among the North Vietnamese and Viet Cong, Gen. William C. Westmoreland says a token withdrawal of U.S. troops from South Vietnam may be possible within two years. "We have evidence through our intelligence that the enemy has very serious manpower problems in the South," said the commander of U.S. forces in Vietnam. "But he warned that any phase-out of U.S. troops "may be taken at first" and remains conditional on improvement in the South Vietnamese forces. Westmoreland's statements Sunday confirmed reports of the assessment he gave last week to the House Armed Services Committee. Westmoreland appeared along with Ellsworth Bunker, U.S. ambassador to South Vietnam, on the NBC television-radio program "Meet the Press." The war was pictured in a far more gloomy light by political columnist Walter Lippmann. He said President Johnson is as bogged down in Vietnam as President Herbert Hoover was by the 1932 depression and "he's got into a position from which he can't get out, just as Hoover did." Lippmann, a long-time critic

Reserve Board's Discount Rate Is Moved Up Notch

By JOSEPH R. COYNE
WASHINGTON (AP) — The Federal Reserve Board's discount rate moved up a notch today in what officials described as an effort to protect the dollar in the wake of the British pound devaluation. The rate rose from 4 to 4 1/2 percent. It is identical to one put into effect on Dec. 5, 1965, but that was for a different reason—to stem inflation. It triggered a year-of-tight money. This time, however, the move is designed to prevent a heavy flow of dollars overseas in search of higher interest rates. It's expected to have little immediate effect on consumer interest rates in this country. When it devalued the pound on Saturday from $2.80 to $2.40, Britain also raised its discount rate from 6 1/2 to 8 percent. The U.S. discount rate is the interest commercial banks must pay the Federal Reserve for money they borrow from the system. Other rates are pegged upward from it. In this case, however, the board is bringing its rate more in line with interest rates elsewhere in the world economy rather than tracking new ground. Interest rates generally are at their highest level in almost half a century. But some officials said the higher discount could tend in the long run toward an increase in rates—consumers pay for loans. In this connection it could have an anti-inflationary effect but officials emphasized that would be only a side effect. The Federal Reserve acted at an emergency Saturday night meeting and its decision was announced Sunday.

Prisoner Escapes Again At Rupert

RUPERT — A Minidoka county jail inmate who was returned here just three weeks ago from a previous escape, eluded officers Sunday night as he was being returned from a trip to the hospital. Dennis Clark, 23, who was serving time for forgery, jail break and grand larceny, is believed armed and considered dangerous, sheriff's officers said Monday. It is believed that he took a red and white Chevrolet truck which was stolen sometime between 7 and 10 p.m. Sunday from the Leon Ziegler residence in Rupert. Mr. Ziegler, who manages Van Gas, and his family were away from home. The Ziegler house was entered and a 270 rifle and shells were stolen. Officers said there was a .16 gauge shotgun in the pickup truck.

The man broke away from the jailer and officer about 8 p.m. Sunday as he was being returned to jail from Minidoka Memorial Hospital, where he was taken for X-rays of his left wrist. He told officers he injured the wrist when he fell out of a bunk. As the men were behind the jail, Clark eluded officers in the nearby shrubbery. He is described as 5 feet, 5 inches tall, weighs 135 pounds and has brown hair and blue eyes. He was wearing red sweater and blue and white slacks. They think the man may have removed the metal splint from his wrist. Clark originally was jailed in 1965 for forgery and later escaped. He was picked up in Huntsville, Tex., by Sheriff Theo Johnson and returned here last month.

Court Annex Open For Business

The first occupants of the new Twin Falls County judicial building were at work in their new quarters today. Probation officers Helen Henderson and Larry Hauer, whose former office space already is being remodeled to house newly arrived 1968 license plates, moved into their offices during the weekend. Ivan Johnson, bailiff for Fifth Judicial District Court, also is maintaining his offices in the new law library of the building, except when on duty in the old building during court sessions. Also nearing completion are the offices for the county clerk, facilities of the county clerk, auditor and recorder office. Car-pooling was completed in these offices during the weekend and Clerk and Recorder Harold Lancaster already has moved most of the current court records into the records rooms adjoining his offices. The auditor and recorder activities will be maintained in the present offices on the second floor of the old building. The law library has been moved into new quarters for more than a week, although workmen still are busy in all other portions of the building. Nearing completion is the courtroom which will be used primarily by Judge Theron W. Ward. It will feature built-in mahogany paneled jury box and See COURT ANNEX, pg. 2, col. 5

Five-Day Forecast

Dry weather is forecast through mid week followed by another storm around the end of the week. High pressure will persist the next few days but will weaken in the latter part of the week. A cold front system will enter our valleys late Thursday and Friday. Temperatures in the valleys of Southern Idaho and Eastern Oregon will average near normal Tuesday through Saturday. Night and morning fog will persist through the week with heavy clearing in the afternoon hours. No major temperature changes are indicated until cooler the end of the week. Daytime temperatures will be in the 40s into the 50s with nighttime temperatures mostly in the 20s to low 30s. Some normal maximum and minimum temperatures for this period are Storm activity will again be quite limited during the next few days in Southern Idaho valleys as high pressure persists. A more vigorous surface storm is expected to develop Thursday night and Friday which will produce measurable amounts of rain and snow. Moisture amounts will range from .10 to .25 of an inch. Night, an incoming valley fog will continue. Light sunshiny will outline this week with around 45 to 55 per cent of possible sunshine expected. Wind will be slightly stronger around mid week and become stronger again the latter part of the week.

Synopsis, Farm Summary

Fog and low clouds are reported in valley areas of Southern Idaho as higher pressure at the surface and aloft are returning. Wind circulation has been insufficiently strong to move the fog out. Some clearing of the fog and low clouds occurred in western valleys into yesterday afternoon. As a result, Malad reported a high of 61 degrees and Grace 57 degrees. Maximum readings were mostly in the 40s in western and central valleys. Dry weather is forecast for the next two or three days but fog and low cloudiness will tend to persist. Some lifting and partial clearing is possible in the afternoons but fog will form again during the night and early morning hours. High pressure will force storms to the north and east of us during this time. A minor disturbance aloft moving into the Intermountain region may help to clear out some of the valley fog in eastern portions of Southern Idaho Tuesday and Wednesday. No large changes in temperatures are expected in our valleys today and Tuesday. Partial clearing in the afternoon would bring some local warming with the maximum temperatures today and Tuesday. Minimum readings will be in the 20s into the mid 30s. Little additional precipitation has been recorded since 8 p.m. yesterday morning. Soda Springs had .11 of an inch to report and Grace .04. Bear Lake, Castleford, Buhl and Mountain-Home all reported .02 of an inch. The only other measurable amount was .01 of an inch at Boise. Temperatures yesterday were from 10 to 22 degrees lower in Magic Valley where dense fog remained through much of the day. Only one or two degrees variation between high and low temperatures occurred at some points in Magic Valley. Elsewhere, it was a little warmer during the day in western valleys and slightly cooler in eastern valleys. Minimum temperatures ranged from 24 degrees at Parma and 25 degrees at Ontario and Bear Lake to 39 degrees at Mountain Home.

Breakin At High School Investigated

High School chemical department was being investigated at noon Monday by Twin Falls city police. Detective Chief Tim Qualls said the only item known to be missing is a Welch scale for measuring chemicals, valued at approximately $75. He said since both high school and college students use the same rooms and chemicals it is not known if there are any chemicals missing. Entry was gained, the officer said, by use of a glass cutter to cut a hole in an outside window which was then unlocked and opened. Officers said apparently the entry was made sometime Friday night, as the hole in the window was discovered Saturday by a janitor. Not until Monday morning did school officials realize the building had been entered and the scale taken.

Death Takes Former-Decl Leader, 87

DECLO—John Charles Darrington, 87, former Declo resident, died Sunday in the Salt Lake City LDS Hospital of a lingering illness. He was born Aug. 12, 1880, at Elba and married Karen Marie Rasmussen Nov. 1, 1905, in the Salt Lake City LDS Temple. She died Oct. 4, 1942, and he moved to Salt Lake City in 1944. On Dec. 15, 1944, he married Maud E. Rasmussen in Salt Lake City. Mr. Darrington was a retired farmer. He moved from Elba to the Minidoka Southside project and homesteaded in Marshfield, now Declo, in 1908. He attended school in Elba and the Oakley Academy and the former Brigham Young College in Logan. He served a two-year mission for the LDS church in the Western States. At Declo he was presiding elder, bishop's counselor, pastor of the Declo ward, and in the High Council of Burley stake. For several years he served on Declo school board and was active in county politics and served as Cassia county commissioner. ### Surgeons Ready For First Human Heart Transplant

By ROBERT GOLDENSTEIN CHICAGO (AP) — Surgeons at California's Stanford Medical Center are ready to make the world's first human heart transplant whenever the ideal donor and ideal recipient appear there at the same time, the Journal of the American Medical Association said today.

"We think the way is clear for trial of human heart transplantation," Dr. Norman E. Shumway, head of Stanford's division of cardiovascular surgery, was quoted as saying.

"We have achieved a degree of experience with (animal) heart transplantation in the laboratory which makes us confident we can take appropriate care of the patient with a cardiac transplant," he said.

The journal article said these types of recipients are being considered at the Palo Alto medical center.

"A patient whose heart cannot be restored to normal pulse when taken off a heart-lung machine during open-heart surgery.

—Children born with heart defects for which there is no corrective surgery or treatment.

The ideal donor would be a relatively young person dying of causes unconnected with heart disease.

—Shumway said the ideal donor and ideal recipient have not been patients in the center at the identical time, although patients of both types have been treated there recently.

—Experiments have shown that if the heart is removed from the donor within a half-hour after death, the organ suffers no damage from lack of oxygen. The time span can be lengthened somewhat if the heart is immersed in cold salt water.

This limits heart transplantation attempts at present to emergency situations in which both donor and recipient are immediately available.

Development Of Resources Is Urged

MCCALL, Idaho (AP) — Idaho's chief executive told the first Governor's Conference on Natural Resources today he hoped meeting would result in "a unified effort for full development and far-sighted multiple use management" of Idaho's resources.

In remarks prepared for delivery at the conference, sponsored by the Southern and North Idaho Forestry associations, Gov. Don W. Samuelson expressed his hopes for the full development of the state's assets.

Samuelson outlined Idaho's present development of agriculture, mining, forestry, wildlife and tourism for the conference.

"But proud as I am of the achievements of our great state, I must emphasize that the job is far from done," Samuelson said. "There lies before Idaho a challenge unparalleled in the history of our state."

"The need for more of everything that the forests, mines, ranges and mountains of Idaho offer must be met from harder working and more productive acres," he said. "One acre may have to produce the benefits of five."

Varied patterns of land ownership by federal, state and private units make it necessary for cooperation among the land owners in development of resources, he said.

"We cannot be static. We must look to the future."

The governor suggested quickened research efforts into the conditions, the productivity and potential of the state's resources.

Moon Space Craft Moved For Launch

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — The first model of a manned lunar landing craft has been moved to a launch pad, aiming for a mid-January launching date.

The space agency and Grumman Aircraft Engineering Co., the prime contractor, placed the first Lunar Module atop a Saturn I rocket on launch pad 37B Sunday.

The rocket is the same one that was on pad 34 last Jan. 27 when three astronauts died as fire erupted in their Apollo 1 spacecraft.

The Saturn I is to place the module in an orbit more than 100 miles high for a flight scheduled to last 0.5 hours. During the test, the craft's two main engines each are to be ignited twice.

These are the descent engine, designed to drop the bug-like craft and its two-man crew to the surface of the moon, and the ascent engine, which is to lift them off. Leak problems with both engines have delayed the first test flight several months.

Old Man, 106, Back From Trip

NEW YORK (AP) — Beryl Roth, 106 years old, returned by plane Sunday night after a three-week visit to Israel.

At Kennedy Airport he was greeted by his son Harry; his daughter Mrs. Frieda Rifkin, with whom he makes his home in the Bronx, and other relatives from three generations.

"I had such a time," said Roth. "Half, Tel Aviv and three days in Jerusalem. It's beautiful."

Pursuant to Section 60-108 Idaho Code, Thursday is hereby designated as the day of the week on which legal notices will be published.

WASHINGTON—Despite Secretary of State Dean Rusk's promise to Congress to "review" aid programs to Latin-American countries using their limited funds to buy expensive military equipment abroad, the United States already has confirmed in earlier orders to ship supersonic F-5 jet fighters to "sovereign" of those countries, a department source has revealed.

Both Peru and Brazil probably will go through with plans to buy French Mirage warplanes because of Washington's earlier refusal to permit delivery of F-5's until late 1968. Thus the United States is leaping headlong into a Latin-American arms race the Johnson administration had affected to deplore. In the spirit of the old imperishable motto, "Washington has adopted the policy that it is quite proper for these nations to squander their resources on American-made military hardware, but immoral if they do so to buy from other countries. The F-5 "flyaway" price is about $1 million. It is probable that "selected" Latin-American governments in the next two years will spend something better than $150 million on these jets — which could only be used against their neighbors. The deal makes a farce of the "assurances" given Congress only 10 days ago, when Rusk dispatched a letter to Rep. Thomas E. Morgan, D-Pa., chairman of the House Foreign Affairs Committee, pledging both the State Department and the Agency for International Development (AID) to avoid any sales of military equipment which would siphon off aid money to Latin countries. On the strength of this pledge, the House forthwith passed a $2.67 billion foreign aid authorization bill already cleared by the Senate.

Rusk's letter, of course, was carefully hedged. He made no mention of the dispute over the projected F-5 sales, but instead referred to a section of the bill directing the President to terminate financial or food aid to any country "diverting its own resources to unnecessary military expenditures." Rusk said both the department and AID "would review all pertinent programs to assure full compliance with such an amendment."

The House was buying a gold brick, and even its more dimwitted members must have known it. In the first place, a "review" is no guarantee in this jungle of a government that anything will be done. And second, the amendment provides for cutting aid only "when the President finds" U. S. aid is being diverted. Since George Washington's time, Presidents have skulked behind the excuse that they didn't "find" anything wrong with something they wanted to do. What has happened now is that the United States has joined most of Latin America in renouncing one of the principles of the Alliance for Progress. That principle, adopted at Punta del Este last April, pledged the signatories to eschew "military expenditures... not indispensable in order to carry out the specific missions of the armed forces." "Supersonic" jet fighters are indispensable only to the making of war. Sen. Frank Church, D-Idaho, has been proved right in a speech he made Oct. 24 in which he denounced the planned F-5 sales as a "sordid business" that betrayed the Alliance for Progress. He described the State Department's policy as "saying, in effect, 'Don't believe us... when we talk about rapid economic growth for all the people and the need for restraint in the armaments field. Our guiding principle is Buy American. Don't believe us if we turn you down the first time, we'll come around in the end if you find another source of supply.'"

Prosperous 1968

Highs in spending and lows in unemployment will characterize a prosperous 1968, according to the Prudential Insurance Co.'s annual economic forecast.

Average family income is expected to rise to $8,400 in 1968, an impressive 6.3 per cent, or $500 gain. Unemployment will be close to the 3.5 per cent historic minimum.

The U.S. gross national product—total value of all goods and services—will rise $63 billion to $848 billion according to the forecast prepared by Prudential's chief economist, Dr. William C. Freund.

This represents an eight per cent gain, of which five per cent will be "real growth" and three per cent inflation. Without a surcharge on the federal income tax, the forecast points out, inflation may be even more serious.

The continuing growth of the total economy next year will be due to increases in spending by government, business and the individual consumer.

Federal spending will rise about 10 per cent to $100 billion, Prudential's forecast says. This will result from increases in defense spending, a federal pay hike, and other programs.

While defense is one of the primary elements of government spending, the forecast says that peace in Vietnam would provide "welcome relief from an overheating economy." Appropriate federal actions, moreover, could minimize dislocations and hardships produced by the "shifting of gears from military to civilian production."

At the state and local levels of government, 1968 expenditures will rise to $95 billion, up $8.5 billion over this year's estimate. The outlays will respond to a growing need for schools, highways and social services. Business spending will be a major factor in next year's economy, the forecast states, especially in the area of inventory investment.

During 1967, bulging warehouses led to a cutback on inventory buying and at the same time exerted "a massive drag" on production of new goods. During the first half of 1968, inventory buying will be at a healthy $7 billion rate, leveling to a full-year's total of about $5.5 billion.

Plant and equipment outlays will rise $5 billion to $87.5 billion in 1968.

Housing stands on the verge of a resurgence in 1968, depending on the availability of mortgage money. Prudential's forecast calculates that the demand for new housing—spurred by the lowest vacancy rate since 1959—can easily support 1.6 million starts.

Prudential expects housing starts to total 1.5 million units during 1968, with the rate approaching 1.6 million by the fourth quarter. This will bring housing outlays to $28 billion, up $3.7 billion.

Elsewhere on the consumer scene, expect a new spurt of buying—cars, furniture, appliances, color television sets, as well as services.

This year, consumers have been cautious, both in their spending and in taking on new debt. At the same time, savings have risen from a typical 5.5 per cent of disposable income to 7 per cent.

That 1.5 per cent difference the forecast points out, amounts to about $7.5 billion in retail sales.

Consumer spending—always the largest segment of the gross national product—will rise seven per cent in 1968 to $27 billion, a $34 billion increase.

Church Budgets

This is budget time in most churches and it is a good moment to analyze the current financial problems of the religious community.

The congregations are few that do not spend anxious moments wondering where the money will come from. Next year's operation hangs in the balance of the current budget drive.

Costs, expense and overhead of the churches of Magic Valley is no small thing. This is true whether the church in question is long established, with a large congregation, or small with only a few members.

If all boils down to one thought—if you believe in something then you should help pay for it.

Why is church budget time important?

A great majority of the churches have only one yearly budget drive. At this time the members pledge their support—in money—for weekly or monthly contributions. Church officials, like downtown businesses, set a budget expense which will stay within the anticipated revenue.

If this revenue fails to materialize, then the expenditures must stop. Paying the parson a salary, aiding or providing him with an adequate home, maintaining upkeep on the church building—these are only a few of the expenses which go on day by day.

Regardless of what church members may think, this period of budget drives for churches is not a period of letting George do it. There are not enough Georges to go around so the Teds, the Johns, the Jays, the Franks, the Arthurs and all the rest must pitch in and do their part.

The spiritual side of life is not to be slighted in the scheme of things. It is as important as breathing in and breathing out.

MAYBE DOWNTOWN SHOULDN'T BE NEAT

A subcommittee of the Lewiston City Planning Commission has properly recommended the elimination of flashing and revolving lighted signs in the downtown business zone. To motorists who must negotiate these streets at night, particularly in foul weather, they can be distracting to the point of being hazardous.

The subcommittee is on shakier ground in some of its other recommendations, however. For aesthetic purposes, it would eliminate billboards and over-the-sidewalk business signs in the downtown zone and permit no illuminated signs to face the Snake or Clearwater rivers from the city or port district.

If billboards are not to be permitted in the commercial zones, then where will they be? Federal and state pressures gradually are forcing them out of the countryside and the subcommittee's recommendation would eliminate them here altogether.

It is good public policy to restrict the use of billboards, but we doubt whether it is good public policy to outlaw them. The subcommittee reasons that billboards are aesthetically offensive, and to some people they probably are. But there may be more people who enjoy the bustle and stir, the excitement of the street corner, and the mixed-up, unorderd and unrestrained hodge-podge of advertising signs that give downtown much of its special quality. Main Street would appear wider and clearer if all business signs were placed parallel with the building fronts, as the subcommittee has recommended. But would it be esthetically more pleasing, or would it simply be dull? Many people are offended by billboards along country roads; we are by no means certain that great numbers of them are offended by the clutter of business signs in the city or their reflections in the rivers nearby. Until we are, we probably should refrain from imposing arbitrary esthetic standards upon an area which must appeal to all sorts of people in all sorts of ways.—Lewiston Tribune.

MONEY FOR SOMETHING ELSE

Consumers of electricity in the Tennessee Valley saved some $300,000,000 in the last fiscal year through the operations of the Tennessee Valley Authority and its retail distributors. The figure represents the difference between their actual bills and what they would have paid at average national rates. Savings on residential electric bills averaged $80 a customer. In 28 years total savings stand near $2,500,000,000.

These are indeed massive infusions of purchasing power into the economy of the region. And they benefit not only consumers but a wide range of enterprises with goods and services to sell. For every dollar saved in electric bills a dollar is released for spending with some other business than the utility. That is why the lowest-percentage electricity feasible is good for business in general as well as good public service.—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

U.S. Now On The Hot Spot

WASHINGTON (NEA) — Defense Secretary McNamara's announcement of Russia's orbiting "bomb" program was misleading in five respects:

1 — McNamara said he is "not concerned." This statement does not mesh with the worried activity in U. S. military technical circles ever since Russian progress on the orbiting "bomb" was confirmed some time back. It is known by this reporter that indeed the Russian program has caused deep concern in the Pentagon, both among the military and civilian technical men.

2 — McNamara suggested strongly that the new Russian orbiting warhead would not be limited in its usefulness. This is a half truth. Such orbiting weapons can be made considerably more accurate than intercontinental ballistic missiles if allowed to orbit several times before firing.

3 — McNamara suggested the major objective of the Russian orbiting "bombs" would be against U. S. manned bombers. While no one can read the Russian mind, technical men suggest the major Moscow target would be whatever anti-ballistic missile systems the United States installs — thin or thick.

Quite possibly, depending on their sophistication, the Russian orbiting warheads could slip through currently planned types of U. S. ABM systems — thin or thick.

4 — McNamara suggests Russian orbiting weapons would be linked for a considerable time to come to quite small payloads. He neglects to point out that the anticipated Russian payloads could nevertheless be three times as large as the payload of a Minuteman or Polaris missile.

5 — McNamara spoke of over-the-horizon radar as the answer to Russian orbiting nuclear weapons.

The fact that a weapon was known to be orbiting would not help the defense, necessarily. If the ABM-sensor system couldn't determine where the "bomb" was heading until too late, or if it divided at the last minute and headed in several directions.

The Russians could really confuse things by keeping a considerable number of orbiting platforms in operation continuously. All of these could be unarmed. Then at a crucial moment, the Russians could put up a batch of armed orbiting missiles calculated to look exactly like the unarmed "scientific" type. There are a number of ways, the scientists say, for the Russians to operate such an orbiting system in ways that could outmaneuver presently planned U. S. defensive measures.

Despite McNamara's bland assurances, a strong effort is under way to find countermeasures.

Subject Of Death

Since death is a part of life, it is important to help your child understand and face it. When children are not aware that they are overheard, they often speak of death and try to work out ideas about it that satisfy them emotionally. How well they succeed depends upon reactions they have observed in their own families. If they become too worried, they will ask questions that indicate how well they have adjusted to the idea.

A child who is only three will have learned that flowers fade and birds and insects die. When, by extension, he asks whether his parents will die, he is seeking reassurance rather than bare facts. It is a mistake to change the subject abruptly as though it were taboo. Rather, you should tell him that all living things die but that he and his parents are pretty sure to be around for a long time. If the subject comes up again, tell him that, even if both of his parents died, grandparents or other relatives he knows and loves will take care of him.

When the question is no longer theoretical and a close relative dies, it is reassuring to a child to see that you are grieving for the one who is gone. Grief is an honest emotion and he will know that it is one way of showing how much you care for him and all the loved ones who are still living. It is a great mistake to tell a child that his grandfather has gone on a long journey. He will sense that this is not the whole truth and will form an emotional reaction to words suggesting any kind of trip — even one that might be pleasant.

If you tell a child that his favorite aunt is dead and he refuses to accept the fact, you should neither try to persuade him that he is wrong nor go along with his fantasy. If, after three or four months, he is still insisting that she is alive and that he often talks with her or sees her, he may need psychiatric help.

Finally, and hardest of all, is what to tell a child who has a fatal illness. A study of 51 such children revealed that they were all worried. Members of the hospital staff, all trained to "protect" the child from worry, were instructed to give each child an honest answer to his questions. The spirits of all 51 were improved. It is easier to face the known than the unknown.

If you can teach your child in his prayers to say, "If I die before I wake, you can teach him that death, like everything else in life, can be met wholesomely. It combats with serenity

About Policemen

Don't credit me with this mongrel prose; it has many parents — at least 420,000 of them: policemen.

A policeman is a composite of saint and sinner, dust and deity. Cuffed statistics wave the fan over the stinkers, underscore instances of dishonesty and brutality because they are "news."

What that really means is that they are exceptional, unusual, not commonplace.

Barred under the froth is the fact: less than 10% of policemen mistreat their uniform.

That's a better average than you'd find among clergymen.

What is a policeman made of? He, of all men, is at once the most needed and the most unwanted.

He's a strangely nameless creature who is "in" to his face and "out" behind his back. He must be such a diplomat that he can settle differences between individuals so that each will think he won.

But — if the policeman is neat, he's conceited; if he's careless, he's a bum.

If he's pleasant, he's a flirt; if he's not, he's a grinch.

He must make up an instant decision which would require months for a lawyer.

But — if he hurries, he's careless; if he's deliberate, he's lazy.

He must be first to an accident and infallible with a diagnosis. He must be able to start breathing, stop bleeding, tie splints and, above all, be sure the victim goes home without a limp.

Or expect to be sued. The police officer must know every gun, draw on the run and hit where it doesn't hurt.

He must be able to whip two men twice his size and half his age without damaging his uniform and without being a coward.

If you hit him, he's a bully; if he hits you, he's a bully. A policeman must know every-

Sex Just Isn't A Shocker

WASHINGTON — Newsweek magazine has just done a cover story on the "Permissive Society." The article, illustrated with a nude Jane Fonda, deals with the great strides that have been made in the last few years with respect to sex in films, songs, fashions and, of course, books.

Since you can't shock Americans any more with sex, a new school of writing is now in the making and I interviewed its leader, Malcolm McMorall. He is the author of the first anti-pornographic novel, "A Kiss on the Cheek."

"Malcolm, I have read your book from cover to cover and didn't find one obscene word. Did you have a reason for eliminating all the dirty words or were you just trying to shock your readers?"

"I'm not criticizing you for putting the kiss in. I'm criticizing you because there is absolutely no sex in the book at all. Do you think it's fair for people to pay $5.95 and not have at least one really hot scene somewhere in our novel?"

"All I can refer you to is the Supreme Court decision of 1943 which says that you can publish a book without a love scene in it, providing it has some social value."

"So you justify your lack of love scenes in the book on the grounds that it has social value?"

"Yes. Some dirty-minded people have accused me of writing a clean book for money. Well, I say, who is to judge whether a book is clean or not? Sure, there are clean passages in it, but you have to have those if you're going to deal with reality."

"In your book the husband doesn't even commit adultery. Don't you think that's going a bit far?"

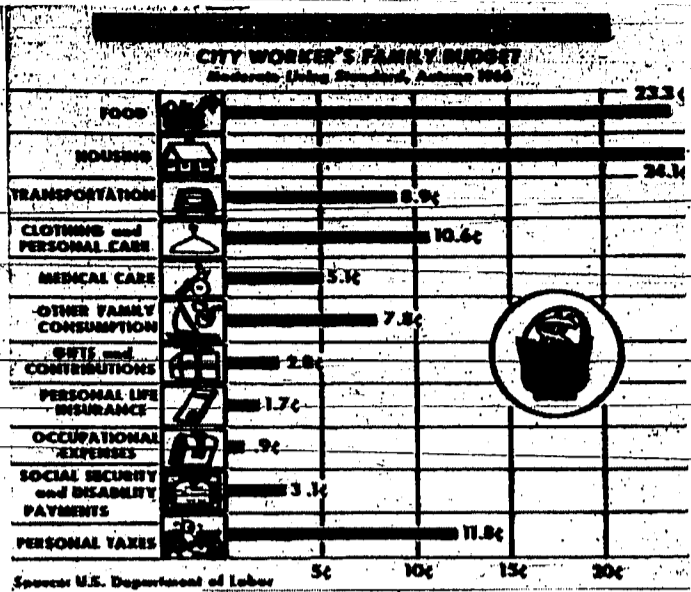

"Not in the context of the story. If you take it out of context, certainly it might sound that way. But the husband happens to be in love with his wife and that's why people have said it's a clean book. There are a lot of cleaner books in drugstores now, so I don't know why my book should have been singled out."

"Yet your novel seems to be some sort of breakthrough, and there is fear that other writers might start copying you, particularly if you prove there's money to be made in writing a clean book."

"That's not my problem. If I didn't do it, somebody else would do. Society is changing all the time. It's true that the clean novel is considered avant-garde at the moment, but that doesn't mean it's wrong. Clean books will be so many clean books on the market that no one will be shocked any more."

Honolulu, Hawaii, Cost Of Living Registers On Top

By The Associated Press
If you're married, have two youngsters and earn around $8,000 a year, Honolulu is not for you. Austin, Tex., is more your speed.

That was the gist of a recent federal report that said the two cities were, respectively, the most expensive and least expensive of 39 U. S. metropolitan areas studied.

A random sampling of 33 items from houses to hamburgers by Associated Press reporters in both cities buttresses the Bureau of Labor Statistics report.

The cost of a new three-bedroom ranch-style house in a good, but not exclusive area, in Honolulu was put at a huge $27,000. The figure for a similar house in Austin: $22,500.

And in Honolulu most homes are built on leased land. You buy the house but rent the land it sits on.

The annual property tax for the Honolulu house would be $483. In Austin it would be $360.

Rental housing also was found to be more costly in Honolulu, where a two-bedroom apartment in a new apartment house rents for about $150 a month. The comparable Austin figure: $125.

The federal report said that a typical family of four — parents in their late 30s, son 13 and daughter 8 — would need $11,100 annually to live moderately in Honolulu, Hawaii's major city. The figure for Austin was approximately $8,000.

Why the big difference? According to Arthur Chace, assistant commissioner of the Bureau of Labor Statistics, the basic reason is that most items in the family budget must be shipped to Honolulu and these costs push up prices.

Austin is said to be typical of many smaller metropolitan areas in the South where housing and transportation costs are lower.

Another factor is weather. On the southern United States mainland, families don't have to spend so much for heating, heavy clothing and basic heavier housing construction costs that run up the prices in colder climates.

Honolulu is an exception to this because its weather advantage is more than canceled out by shipping costs.

Teacher's House Raked By Gunfire

SALT LAKE CITY (AP) — A high school teacher's house in southeast Salt Lake City was raked by gunfire early Sunday. There were no injuries to Robert D. Jones or his sleeping family.

Salt Lake County deputy sheriffs are guessing students of Jones probably fired the shots from a car about 3 a.m.

Jones teaches at Skyline High School. He told investigators he has experienced trouble with several boys as the result of his duty to patrol school grounds looking for youths smoking and loitering.

SPOKANE (AP) — A dance Saturday night climaxed the fund-drive of Wesley J. Stone, Moscow, Idaho, to raise money for research on the disease, cystinosis.

Two of Stone's four children are afflicted with the malady, a metabolism disorder usually fatal by the age of 10 years.

Stone walked this week from Moscow to Spokane to publicize the need for research funds on the disease.

Rabbit Hunt?

CENTRALIA, Ill. (AP) — Three teen-age hunters uncovered more than $11,200 on a Sunday-afternoon rabbit hunt.

Roger Ashby, 15, Jerry Self, 16, and Ardie McDonald, 15, all of Centralia, brought the money — $9,900 in savings certificates and $1,300 in cash — to the police department. They found it in a glass jar on farm land.

Police said the certificates were registered in the name of an elderly man, owner of the farm, who now lives in a nursing home. The name of the man and the location of his farm were not disclosed.

"We don't want to start a treasure hunt," a policeman explained.

October Economy Hurt By Strikes

WASHINGTON (AP) — Strikes, the Commerce Department says, slowed the nation's economy in October and were a leading factor in the smallest gain in personal income recorded in six months.

Labor disputes were partly to blame for a softening in wages and salaries which in turn accounted for much of the slower rise in income, said the department.

Personal income rose by $1.6 billion to an annual rate of $206 billion, smallest advance this year except for April's $300 million increase.

Viet Cong Camp Discovered Four Miles Inside Cambodia

EDITOR'S NOTE: The U.S. Command in Saigon for years has charged that Viet Cong and North Vietnamese forces find sanctuary in neighboring Cambodia, charges which Cambodia's ruler, Prince Norodom Sihanouk, has repeatedly denied. Western newsmen were admitted to Cambodia to cover the visit of Mrs. John F. Kennedy. Two Associated Press men went to the border across from War Zone C, which they have covered from the Vietnamese side.

By GEORGE MCARTHUR and HORST FAAS
PINOM PENH, Cambodia (AP) — The discovery of a Viet Cong camp site four miles inside Cambodia has angered Prince Norodom Sihanouk and raised doubts about his past denials that Vietnamese Communist forces were given sanctuary in his country.

Cambodia's ruling prince reportedly regards the discovery by American newsmen as a fabrication and part of a campaign against him by the U.S. press.

We found the Viet Cong camp, very recently used, on the border opposite War Zone C, about 70 miles northwest of Saigon. It had been used for several months and was most probably a staging area for the Loc Ninh battle, only nine miles away, earlier this month.

Cambodia's ruler, who contends the United States is the aggressor in Vietnam, reportedly told intimates our reports were part of a campaign inspired by the U.S. Command in Saigon to justify military operations against Cambodia.

We informed Prime Minister Son Sann of the camp site before the stories were published. His initial reaction was cautious, and he said he would make an official investigation. However, Prince Sihanouk reportedly accused us of hypocrisy, said our evidence was doubtful and questioned whether the camp site existed.

Evidence of Viet Cong sanctuary found in the camp included military records written in Vietnamese, North Vietnamese medical supplies and similar items. Dated scraps of paper indicated the camp had been used for several months dating back to last February.

There were unmistakable signs that several hundred men, probably from a major headquarters command group, had used the camp. Occupants had left only a few days before. From the camp a heavily traveled road went through the dense jungle to the frontier, crossing it nine miles from Loc Ninh. Logs had been put down to counteract the monsoon mud. Tracks indicated many heavy trucks had used it.

One embarrassed young lieutenant escorting us said perhaps the road was used by timber thieves. Another suggested it was built by the forestry department.

American officers have charged for years that the Viet Cong and the North Vietnamese use Cambodia as a sanctuary when the going gets too rough for them.

American authorities in Vietnam have pinpointed at least 20 permanent camp sites, many of them are in a five-mile area adjoining the border where the Cambodian army does not patrol and has no significant posts. Frontier security is left almost entirely to village militiamen, a questionable force open to Viet Cong pressure and infiltration.

Competent authorities say the Viet Cong operate just as clandestinely in Cambodia as they do in Vietnam. They select areas where they are unlikely to meet Cambodian soldiers, particularly the virtually uninhabited northeast where Cambodia, Laos and Vietnam come together. Here the Ho Chi Minh trail from Laos joins the Sihanouk trail in Cambodia. In this desolate, jungle area, the border is not marked and Cambodian troops stay away.

Sato Claims North Must De-Escalate

HONOLULU (AP) — Prime Minister Etsuko Sato of Japan said Sunday that before there can be a meaningful pause in the Vietnam war, there must be some de-escalation from the North.

The prime minister, speaking at a news conference, said it is not "appropriate to condemn only one side."

Sato said while "the bombing is taking place in the North, the fighting is continuing in the territory of South Vietnam."

"So both sides must resolve to decide to stop the fighting. That, it seems to me, is the important thing."

The prime minister told newsmen that Japan seeks peace. "A peace where the cessation of the bombing of the North would take place, but where the fighting in the South would also stop. All the fighting will cease."

SHOT IS FATAL
ARCO, Idaho (AP) — A 17-year-old Arco youth died Sunday after being accidentally shot with a 12-gauge shotgun.

Butte County Sheriff Ben Johnson identified the victim as Richard Moss, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Moss of Arco. Moss died on route to the hospital. Johnson said Moss apparently was standing outside the door of the home of a hunting companion, Terrell Techick, 18, after the pair had returned from a hunting expedition.

Johnson said Techick told him he had triggered over a pillow in his hands. The gun discharged through the screen door, hitting Moss, Johnson said. No inquest is planned at this time, Johnson said.

MONTPELIER, Idaho (AP) — The death of a 3-year-old boy Sunday raised the Idaho traffic death count for 1967 to 258.

The victim, identified as Bryan Williams of Montpelier, was killed when the car in which he was riding rolled off the road after hitting an icy spot. The accident occurred 16 miles east of Montpelier at the intersection of U. S. 30 and U. S. 34. Officers said the car was driven by Nancy T. Williams, 24, Montpelier.

The traffic toll a year ago today was 243.

National Health Crisis Is Foreseen

By DOUGLAS B. CORNELL
WASHINGTON (AP) — A presidential commission warned today a national health crisis may "be upon us now or just around the corner."

Already, it said, the system of care for Americans is in a state of crisis, with costs rising far faster than living expenses and gaps apparent in the quality and distribution of services.

The commission questioned whether the country is getting its money's worth from the increasing billions going into health care since there has been only a small gain in life expectancy. It suggested health might be improved more by comparable expenditures in such areas as sanitation, education and better housing.

Among more than 50 curatives for current problems, the commission prescribed: — For doctors, dentists and other professionals: Periodic examinations for competence and their licenses as a prod to keep up their skills and knowledge and to discourage "unnecessary or overly expensive tests and treatments" on the part of some. The commission listed reviews by peers or associates as one of its most important recommendations.

— For hospitals: Financial rewards for efficiency and quality care so the better ones might expand and prosper and the worse ones go out of business.

— Federal financial help to medical and dental schools to improve quality and expand enrollment. Loans to students covering full tuition and living costs, repayable over a period of years or in two years' time given to a national service other than Selective Service.

— Highest priority for improving health care of disadvantaged persons.

President Johnson named the 15-man commission last May.

He asked it to recommend ways of improving the availability and use of health manpower. Representatives of labor, finance, education, industry, hospitals, medicine and the press served under the chairmanship of J. Irwin Miller, chairman of the board of Cummins Engine Co., Inc., Columbus, Ind.

New Armored Boot To Be Tested

By FRED S. HOFFMAN
AP Military Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — The Army soon will field test in Vietnam a new armored boot designed to save infantrymen from crippling wounds inflicted by Communist land mines.

Mines and booby traps have caused a higher proportion of American deaths and wounds in this war than in World War II and Korea.

Some, 800 pairs of a new blast-protective tropical combat boot will be sent for field evaluation to Army and Marine troops in South Vietnam.

Another 100 pairs will go to soldiers patrolling the truce line in Korea, where armed clashes with North Korean infiltrators occur from time to time.

The boot, under development for the past four years at Army laboratories, incorporates a stainless steel wedge filled with aluminum honeycomb and covered on top with aluminum plate.

The wedge protects the heel and the arch areas of the foot and has a slanted cross section to deflect the blast upward and outward.

The protective shank weighs only seven ounces.

Research by Army experts also has led to development of an overboot which was found to increase the potential "save" of the foot from 45 to 99 per cent.

This overboot also guards the bony structure of the lower leg.

According to the latest available statistics, mines and booby traps have accounted for about 9 per cent of the combat deaths in Vietnam. This compares with a 3 per cent rate in World War II and 4 per cent in the Korean War.

Nonfatal wounds attributable to hidden explosive devices have been running at the rate of about 13 per cent of all wounds suffered by U.S. troops in Vietnam. A comparable rate in both World War II and Korea was 4 per cent.

Army scientists and technicians are also concentrating on improved body protection for American soldiers and Marines fighting in Vietnam's jungles, mountains and swamplands.

Under development is a bullet-proof body armor that will supplement the standard protective vest worn by infantrymen to shield against grenades and other fragmentation weapons.

This armor will weigh from 10 to 24 pounds.

Lightweight felt body armor vests also are being tested and evaluated in Vietnam by soldiers of the 1st Infantry Division.

This 4½-pound protector is intended to be worn in place of what is now a standard 8½-pound anti-fragmentation protective vest.

The Army's laboratories at Natick, Mass., have come up with special body armor fashioned to save helicopter pilots and crewmen from small arms fire aimed at them from the ground. Some 18,000 such armor items have already been sent to Southeast Asia.

There are three types, aimed at protecting the torso, thighs and legs of helicopter crewmen who have been at the mercy of ground riflemen and machine gunners, particularly while hovering low during the landing of troops or the picking-up of wounded in a fire fight.

Western Senators Sponsor Bill For Heavier Truck Loads

WASHINGTON (AP) — Seventy-one Westerners in the Senate are sponsoring a bill to permit heavier truck loads and remove what one called a federal straitjacket from 13 western states.

The measure was introduced by Sen. Warren G. Magnuson, D-Wash., Senate Commerce Committee chairman, who said standards for trucks were set years ago when bridges and roads were inferior.

"The new highway system is designed for and entirely capable of sustaining more liberal standards," Magnuson said.

"Until modern standards are authorized the nation's economy — particularly in the West — will continue to be artificially restrained."

Magnuson said his proposal would "remove a straitjacket and allow the states to set standards up to new limits... contingent upon action by state legislatures reviewing their own laws."

Sponsors claim support from western legislators, highway officials, industry groups and the Western Conference of the Council of State Governments. D-Utah, said the 1956 standards are known in the West as "the freeze."

"Frozen into law was inequity," he said, "a system of size and weight limits that varies widely from state to state."

"It is ironic," he said, "that the freeze has operated to hamper the western states, precisely the region which most needs low cost transportation."

"It hampers these states because they generally had lower limits when the bill was enacted," Moss said.

Since 1956, Moss said, "billions of dollars have been spent on highways that can't take larger and heavier trucks than are permitted in many western states."

Sponsors of the bill include both senators from most of the western states, including Utah and Idaho.

Mississippi Bombings May Be New Terror Seige

JACKSON, Miss. (AP) — Law enforcement officers are afraid the recent bombings in Mississippi, which shattered the pattern of past racial blasts, may be the beginning of a seige of terror planned by an undisciplined band of extremists.

The latest victim was Robert B. Kochitzky, whose two-story frame house on a tree-lined street was heavily damaged by dynamite Saturday night.

Kochitzky, his wife and a house guest, a minister from Washington, had left the living room only minutes before the explosion tore the porch away, blew a hole in the living room wall, and propelled debris with enough force to penetrate the opposite wall.

Wednesday, the home of the Rev. Allen Johnson, a Negro minister who had been active in voter registration work, was bombed in Laurel.

Investigators are puzzled by the turn of events, because of the recent bombings including heavy damage done to a Jackson synagogue and lesser damage done to the home of a white dean at predominantly Negro Tougaloo College near Jackson — fit the pattern of past bombings. None of the victims were "hard-core" civil rights workers and all had some connection with churches. Along among them, Tougaloo College has been a focal point of civil rights work, but that has tapered off in the past year. It is primarily supported by the United Brethren Church.

One investigator said a renegade band of extremists may be planning a series of bombings "just to teach us a lesson."

Kochitzky said Sunday he had received "no threats, no letters, no phone calls" to alert him that an attack might be planned, but had noticed some suspicious men sitting across the street in a car several times during the summer.

Kochitzky attributed the bombings "to the attitude my wife and I have on race — our attitude toward Negroes — as human beings is basically the issue."

Fog Front Holds Local Air Travel
Fog that has hampered airline flights in Idaho since last Wednesday continued to dampen the spirits of travelers Monday.
A flight in Boise was delayed an hour and a half, but in Twin Falls all West Coast Airline flights were on schedule.
Sunday, seven flights out of the Twin Falls airport were canceled, with only one getting the go-ahead. Saturday, flight operations were not bothered by the rain and fog.
Monday, the storm front continued to move over the Magic Valley and officials at the airport had no idea how much longer the fog would hang around. Weather locally Monday was termed good for flying and good for ducks.

Protocol Night Set At Minico

RUPERT — J. V. Bollar, student body president at Minico High School, issued an invitation to Rupert Chamber of Commerce members to attend Protocol Night at 8 p.m. Dec. 12 at Minico High School when students from the high school presented the program at the weekly Chamber meeting.

Protocol Night is held to acquaint parents with the workings of the student government. Mike Caldwell, senior class president, announced that seniors will be busy selling senior plans, holding noon sales, and sponsoring an after-dinner dance to raise funds for the Senior Ball Dec. 23.

He noted that the senior class is making plans for Senior Week the last week of school, the banquet, picnic, slave sale, and five-year reunion.

The Junior class president, Randy Severo, reported on activities of juniors who have just completed the Iowa Achievement tests which took two days.

He stated that the juniors are preparing for the future. While there are a few students who either can't or won't accept responsibility, 95 per cent of the students are willing and able to be leaders, he declared.

President Claude Bowman advised the group of a request from the National Chamber asking members to contact Congressmen urging modification of the Social Security Bill.

There will be a meeting of the Fair Board and Redco Committee at 1 p.m. Tuesday at the fairgrounds.

Del Hollinger, chairman of the nominating committee, reported on the slate of nominees for the coming election of officers. Nominations from the floor were called for.

Ballots will be mailed out to members and should be returned to Chamber office by Nov. 30, when the next meeting will be held.

Jack Bell was a guest.

Ex-Soldier Billed For Absence Pay

LAKEWOOD, Calif. (AP) — A former soldier who sat at home waiting for U.S. Army orders for 223 days in 1966 says the Army has billed him for $1,238 paid him during his extended absence.

John Brown, 24, said he went to the Army at least once a month during the period, trying to get the Army to solve the problem. He said everyone laughed at the mixup until he told them his hitch was up and he wanted out.

Then the post commander at nearby Ft. MacArthur found out about Brown's predicament.

"He thought I had done a real bad thing," Brown said that weekend. "I tried to tell him and the record showed it—that I had been honest with the Army. I wanted to do what was right—but they couldn't seem to figure out what 'right' was."

Brown's dispute followed by a week the complaint of Pfc. Joseph A. Smith, who says he spent 18 months of his two-year Army hitch at home at Marysville, Calif., and now wants out of the Army.

Both Brown and Smith were home on leave with orders to go to Vietnam. Both received instructions canceling previous orders and telling them to wait for further instructions.

Both said they waited and no further word came. Smith, a draftee, says he will go to court to get his discharge if the Army doesn't let him out.

The Army is testing Smith at San Francisco to determine what action it will take.

Brown said the Army finally gave him his discharge July 31, 1966, with the notation that he had taken 223 days excessive leave. He said he is credited for three years of service for GI benefits, though he actually served over five years. He also says the Army owes him $1,300 in back pay and allowances.

Church Service

A Thanksgiving service, open to the public, will be held at the First Church of Christ Scientist at 11 a.m. Thursday.

A specially prepared sermon will be read, and there will be organ music, a solo and hymns of Thanksgiving. There will be no collection, it was announced.

Rockefeller Continually Endorsed, Even Though He Claims No Interest

By The Associated Press
Gov. George Romney of Michigan has jumped into the Republican presidential nomination race but a chief backer, who continues to spur the swim—keeps getting endorsements.

Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York, who hailed Romney's Saturday announcement of candidacy and has repeatedly said he's not interested in the GOP nomination, won praise Sunday from veteran political columnist Walter Lippmann.

"I think the man who ought to be president next is Rockefeller," said Lippmann. "He went on to call the New Yorker 'the ablest candidate in either party for dealing with our internal affairs.'"

Romney also trailed Rockefeller in a Gallup preference poll of Republicans—but former Vice President Richard M. Nixon led both by a wide margin.

Nixon, who is expected to announce his candidacy early next year, was shown by the Gallup poll to be the choice of 42 per cent of the GOP rank and file.

Soviets To Send Rocket Similar To Saturn 5

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Soviet Union is likely to launch a rocket equal or larger than Saturn 5 within a year or so, the chairman of the House Space Committee said Sunday.

Chairman George E. Miller, D-Calif., commented as he released a report prepared by the Science Policy Research Division of the Library of Congress, reviewing the first 10 years of Soviet and U.S. space efforts.

"The pace of Soviet space flight has picked up by about 60 per cent this year over the corresponding 10 months total of last year," Miller said. At the same time, he said, U.S. space efforts "appear to be slackening."

Both Brown and Smith were home on leave with orders to go to Vietnam. Both received instructions canceling previous orders and telling them to wait for further instructions.

Both said they waited and no further word came. Smith, a draftee, says he will go to court to get his discharge if the Army doesn't let him out.

School Traffic Safety Is Heyburn Concern

HEYBURN — Traffic safety for school children remains one of the biggest concerns of Heyburn city councilmen and school officials.

The school, although several blocks from the city's main street, is still confronted with the problem of heavy and necessary flow of traffic.

The school is located north of the J. R. Simplot Co. property and is lined on the west by O Street, more commonly known as "Simplot Road."

Several near-tragedies have occurred around the school and school officials have sought cooperation from the public.

Ironically, the greatest danger has come from vehicles driven by parents coming to school for various reasons.

School officials have pleaded with the public through the PTA, newspapers and special newsletters.

The city council has officially closed 17th Street between the two buildings, during school hours, and Boyd Earl, school principal, has put up barricades with painted signs of police warning.

Mr. Earl said that no traffic is permitted between barricades and warrants against violators will be signed by him.

City police now patrol in crosswalk areas during times when children are coming or leaving buildings.

Simplot Road is heavily traveled by potato trucks going to and from the Simplot plant.

The road also picks up traffic heading north towards the Amalgamated Sugar Co. factory at Paul.

The 17th Street is a "connecting link" between main street and industries south of the school along Simplot Road.

So, although the school is not located near the city's main street, it still seems to pick up an equal amount of traffic, and from heavier vehicles.

Speed limit signs and warning signs were erected a few years ago but apparently have been ignored by motorists, who have witnessed close calls with youngsters.

When "safety Susan" wooden figures were placed on the crosswalk on Simplot Road, some vehicles hit the figures.

One man said he slowed right down at that intersection and some children "ran" into the side of his car.

City councilmen agree that steps should be taken immediately but are not certain as to what should be done to be the best for both the children and traffic. Stop signs or lights have been considered.

Dear Abby

DEAR ABBY: Last Friday I wanted to buy a diamond engagement ring for my girl, and every store I went into, they tried to sell me a whole set, an engagement ring and a wedding ring to go with it. Abby, I didn't want a wedding ring. All I wanted was an engagement ring and I had $1,600 cash on me to buy it.

Let me see what being engaged is like, and if I like it, I'll get married. Maybe I'll decide I don't like it, and don't want to get married. Then what am I going to do with the wedding ring? So, why, when a guy asks to see only an engagement ring, does the salesman look at him like he's some kind of nut? NO NUT

DEAR NO NUT: "Sets" are popular because most couples who become engaged have a wedding date in sight. And since the two rings are worn side by side, they look better if they match. Next time, tell the salesman that you are interested only in an engagement ring, and if he looks at you like you are some kind of nut, ask for the boss. The "nut" is his salesman.

DEAR ABBY: I am a 22-year-old, 5' 8" female, engaged to a 22-year-old, 5' 11" male. College graduate. This man is kind, handsome and intelligent. I should be very happy, and I am, except for one small problem—my mother. Having married a man 6-3" with massive shoulders, etc., she insists that my fiancé is a runt and that I am settling for less than a man. She is beginning to get on my nerves and I can't seem to convince her that one does not measure a man's worth in feet and inches. She reads your column every day, so any help you can give me will be appreciated.

RUTH

DEAR RUTH: If your mother is really "getting on your nerves" for the reason you mention, you have a bigger problem than your mother. It's YOU, and how you react to absurd and foolish remarks intended to needle. Go beyond the remark and try to understand why it was made. Suppress the anger you feel with understanding, and you will soon find fewer things getting on your nerves.

DEAR ABBY: My mother is in love with her new son-in-law. Well, "in love" may be a little strong, but she seems to have trouble keeping her hands off him. "Boobie" (as she calls him) doesn't know how bad it looks. He is 33, mother is 48 (but looks 30), and the whole thing is pretty nauseating. Mother is either nuzzling on his lap, scratch-

Idaho Heritage

Reviewed For DAR Members

An authentic story of "Our Idaho Heritage" was given by Helen Porterfield of the Idaho Historical Society during the luncheon meeting of the Twin Falls Chapter, National Society Daughters of the American Revolution, at the Rogerson Hotel Desert Room.

She cleverly took members from the early explorer days through the trapper era of the Hudson Bay Company, to the early mining days and the miner with his mushrooming camps into territorial Idaho with the coming of the missionary.

Mining called for the development of agriculture; agriculture reclaimed the desert from the unfenced range of the cattlemen and sheepman, and the homesteaders claimed Idaho for a permanent place to live, establishing homes. The Snake River became the "Nile of Idaho" and brought irrigation.

The talk was climaxed by showing pictures taken throughout Idaho.

The president general's message was read and a special report given on the American Indians by Mrs. C. J. Silgor.

The Dec. 11 meeting is at the home of Mrs. Frank W. Brown, 12 10th Ave. E.

Donations Made To Moose Hall By Buhl Lodge

BUHL—Approval was given for donations to the kitchen by the Mooseheart committee of a kitchen stool, and by the child-care committee of a can opener with knife attached when the Women of the Moose met at the Moose hall.

Mrs. Reed Rooms is chairman of the Mooseheart committee and Harp is chairman of the child care committee.

Committee reports read included the college of regents, public child care, home-making and Mooseheart program night. Mrs. Clifford Brown, drill chairman, reported on the drill practices.

It was noted that the officers meeting and ritual practice was held earlier in the month and the Academy of Friendship held a meeting after the regular October meeting.

It was voted to cater a smorgasbord for Rangen, Inc. Dec. 2. The publicity committee will serve the meal under the direction of Mrs. Marcella Povajewski, publicity chairman.

The lunch committee for the evening included Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Lamb, Mr. and Mrs. Darrell Loos, and Mrs. Carrie Morris. The mystery box was won by Mrs. Tom Novacek.

Sorority Holds Jewels Ritual

JEROME—Mrs. Gib Anderson hosted members of Psi chapter of Beta Sigma Phi sorority at her home in Twin Falls recently.

The Ritual of Jewels degree was conducted for two members, Mrs. Nell Allen and Mrs. James Cassell. They received their Ritual of Jewels sorority badge.

Receiving the pledge ritual during a candlelight ceremony were Mrs. Gail Gunning, Mrs. Russ Arbuckle, Mrs. Ron Pippitt, Mrs. Ellery Summer, Mrs. LeRoy Craig and Mrs. Jon Wilmoth.

Mrs. Jerry Nelson, vice president, presented them their pledge pin which they will wear during their six months as pledges of Psi chapter.

Following the rituals, a dinner was held in the Colonial house in honor of the new members.

Each pledge received a yearbook with a calendar of the year's activities and names of secret sisters were exchanged among the new members.

Arrangements for the evening were by the social committee chairman, Mrs. Jack Adams, assisted by Mrs. Cassell and Mrs. Anderson.

Mrs. Anderson Conducts Meet

VIEW—Mrs. Edwin Anderson conducted a homemaking meeting for the View LDS Relief Society.

Bishop Joseph Preston, Declo, talked on "Family Protection—Insurance." Mrs. James Nowland gave a demonstration on Christmas decorations and Mrs. LeRoy McBride displayed Christmas gifts.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Raymond Searle, Mrs. Nowland and Mrs. Anderson. Prayers were given by Mrs. Jerold Anderson and Mrs. Leland Woodbury.

HAGERMAN—Mrs. Varda Wood presented the social relations lesson on "Faith" at the Hagerman Relief Society meeting conducted by Mrs. James McInch.

Prayers were given by Mrs. Sam Collier and Mrs. Rex Barlogi. Mrs. Elda Haycock directed the music.

Mrs. Childers Is Buhl Guest

BUHL—Mrs. Irene Childers, Filer, district deputy president, was a special guest when the Buhl Rebekah lodge met at the IOOF hall. Mrs. Anna Kunze, Pocatello, was also introduced as a guest.

Mrs. Bertha Tilley introduced the Calvary Trio, consisting of Mrs. Robert Pearson, and her sisters, Arlene and Linda, Garrison. They sang two selections.

Linda Bowman was elected to membership in the lodge. Mrs. Frances Langford and Mrs. Misha Sinclair participated in the birthday march.

Mrs. Stanley Babington and Mrs. Anna Leth, both representatives to grand lodge of the Rebekah assembly, gave their reports. Letters from former members were read by Mrs. Adolph Machacek, Mrs. Guy Ulrich and Mrs. Leth. Mrs. Childers gave a short talk.

Lodge recessed while members joined the Odd Fellows to hear the talk given by William Boyd, the grand master of grand lodge of Idaho.

The refreshment committee, Mrs. Minnie Rodig, Mrs. Harry Stewart and Mrs. Leth, assisted by Odd Fellows, served lunch.

MR. AND MRS. BERT SEEDALL (Art Craft photo)

Rupert Couple Will Observe 50th Wedding Anniversary

RUPERT—Mr. and Mrs. Bert Seedall will be honored on their 50th Wedding Anniversary from 4 to 9 p.m. Saturday at the Rupert Snake Tabernacle Cultural Hall, Eighth and G Street.

Assisting the couple with the arrangements are their five children, Don Seedall, Idaho Falls; Donald Seedall, Rupert; Mrs. Lyle (Margene) Schofield, Lancaster, Calif.; Jerry Seedall, Rupert; and Mrs. LaVern (Renee) Jackson, Durley. The couple has 13 grandchildren.

Mr. and Mrs. Seedall were married Nov. 27, 1917, in Pocatello, by President William A. Hyde.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Seedall were born in Idaho Falls and resided there until the spring of 1944 when they moved to Rupert to make their home. Mr. Seedall has farmed most of his life as well as raising cattle and sheep.

They are members of the LDS Church, American Legion.

Job's Daughters Attend Official Visit Meeting

HAGERMAN—International Order of Job's Daughters, Bethel No. 45, held an early meeting recently in order that they might also attend the official visit of Ila Romy, Nampa, grand guardian, to the Wendell Bethel.

It was reported three girls have passed their proficiency tests. They are April Bishop, Joy Standa and Lynn Moerles. Initiation and an election of officers will be held at the next meeting.

It was reported 18 girls attended the "Go to Church" Sunday at the Wendell Presbyterian Church.

After the meeting at Hagerman, the guardian council served a dinner for the girls before they went to Wendell to attend the Bethel meeting there. Furnishing transportation were Frank Lonker, Mrs. Rollin Phillips, Mrs. Leland Brooks and Neil Slane.

Yule Luncheon Set At Wendell

WENDELL—Plans were made for the December meeting at a meeting of the Home Improvement club held at the city hall.

The Christmas event will include a potluck, guest luncheon at 12:30 p.m. Dec. 12. Each member is to bring a guest, table service and covered dishes. Mrs. C. T. Crow will be hostess. Appointed to decorate the tables was Mrs. Phares Schiffer.

A report was given on the recent county-wide Christmas festival held at the Gooding Grange hall. Mrs. Hugh Caldwell reported that $35 had been realized from the food sale in conjunction with the Christmas festival. The money will be used for county council projects.

Club members will make favors for the guests at Magic Valley Manor for the Christmas season. Appointed to the committee were Mrs. Caldwell, Mrs. H. B. Lorain, Mrs. Earl Lowry and Mrs. Glen Harrison. The committee will meet at 2 p.m. Dec. 5 at the city hall.

The program will be planned by Mrs. Roy Dean, Mrs. Lyle Lower, Mrs. Harmsen, Mrs. Ruth Wahler and Mrs. Lorain. "What is Your Buy Q?" was the program presented by Mrs. Wahler. A nominating committee was appointed to report at the next meeting. Appointed were Mrs. Arthur Byce, Mrs. J. C. Kendrick, Mrs. Clyde Peterson, and Mrs. Robert Simerly. Mrs. Harmsen and Mrs. Schiffer were in charge of the social hour.

Altrusa Notes Holiday Project

Plans were made to send gifts to Vietnam orphans as a Christmas project when members of the Altrusa Club held their dinner meeting recently at the Rogerson Hotel Colonial Room.

Members of the community service committee gave reports on the accomplishments in taking underprivileged children to the dress rehearsal of the Children's Theater "The Invisible People."

Mrs. Floyd Sanders, Jerome, was a special guest.

Brig. Marie Anderson of the Salvation Army of Boise will be featured speaker at the unit's Nov. 30 meeting at the home of Mrs. Jim Reynolds.

OR: "What to do if you run out of whipping cream."

REASON 1. — It's the money (Aha, just as you thought)

REASON 2. — Would anyone believe it's kind of nice if you happen to run out of something?

REASON 3. — It's not that we're unthankful or un-patriotic... we already close on 52 other holidays a year — THEY ALL COME ON SUNDAY!

SO... WHEN IT COMES TO CLOSING on Holidays, we're about 45 days ahead of most other grocery stores.

Airport Needs Are Discussed

HEYBURN — Jim Wilkins, owner of Sun Valley Airlines with home base at Gooding, states bigger and better facilities are needed in order to keep up with the continuing changes being made with jets, used both for freight and passengers. He feels that none of the airports in the area are adequate to handle the larger aircraft and Mr. Wilkins addressed the Heyburn Chamber of Commerce last week. He explained three locations being considered for possible sites and pointed out that one is on BLM property, another on lava and the third, involves extending across Highway 30 and go into the municipal golf course. The highway could be directed further east into the golf course, he explained. He noted that the Twin Falls airport presents the problem of being in a wrong location, where there are problems with wind. He said the Twin Falls airport boards about 20,000 passengers a year and that a central airport could board about 40,000. Surveys are being made to determine proper location and a most important factor, which he said was whether or not the public could afford the development.

Udall Views Religion Of Gov. Romney

SALT LAKE CITY (AP) — A leading Democrat says George Romney's Mormon religion will not be a factor in the Michigan governor's bid for the Republican presidential nomination next year. Romney announced Saturday his plans to seek the GOP leadership in '68. Interior Secretary Stewart Udall compared Romney's membership in the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints (Mormon) with President Kennedy's Roman Catholic religion. "I wouldn't think Gov. Romney's religion will present any problem near the problem that President Kennedy faced," Udall said during a brief stop-over at Salt Lake City airport a few hours after Romney announced. Udall also is a member of the Mormon Church. He said Mormonism is "highly regarded" in the nation and may provide helpful ties in some states for Romney.

3 Highway Aides To Be Elected Dec. 4

SHOSHONE — Three commissioners will be elected Dec. 4 for the Shoshone and Dietrich Highway districts. At Shoshone polling place is the Maxwell agency, from 1 to 7 p.m. while at Dietrich polls will be open at the highway office for the same hours. All persons who are qualified electors of the districts are entitled to vote in their respective districts. One commissioner for a two-year term will be elected at Dietrich subdivision 1 and one for a four-year term will be elected in subdivision 3. At Shoshone one commissioner for subdivision 3 will be elected for a four-year term.

Deadly Fumes Claim 3 At Ohio Motel

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — Carbon monoxide fumes killed three guests, including a bridegroom, during the weekend at a plush motel. Sixty others needed hospital treatment. "Everyone was having a good time. Then people were getting sick and having difficulty breathing and were keeling over," said George Miller of Cleveland, who was attending a Masonic dinner at the hotel Saturday night. Thirty-two ambulances carried the stricken to hospitals from the seven-story, 210-room Yankee Clipper Inn near here. Killed were Bruce Plagman, 22, of Cleveland, who was married Saturday afternoon; Betty Ann Bishop 50, a dance school owner, and her sister Mary Bishop, 50, a registered nurse, both of Elgin, Ohio. Five persons, including three policemen and Plagman's bride, were kept in hospitals through Sunday night. A faulty burner on a swimming pool heater caused a vent to clog, and deadly, odorless carbon monoxide fumes wafted through the ventilating system of the inn. Fire Chief Robert M. Wright of Boston Heights said. Doctors who took blood tests of persons brought to a hospital confirmed that guests were stricken with carbon monoxide poisoning.

Senate Prepares To Wrap Up Work On Social Security Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate appears ready to wrap up before Thanksgiving its work on one of the most sweeping Social Security bills ever considered by Congress. Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield has set early opening schedules for the next two days and obtained a strict limitation on debate on all remaining amendments. This is expected to bring final passage of the legislation on Wednesday. The final form of the measure will be determined in a conference between the Senate and House, which passed the bill last August. In three days of debate last week, the bill's managers succeeded in maintaining it in nearly the form in which it won Senate Finance Committee approval. Many more amendments remain to be acted on. The biggest test is expected on a Republican move to substitute the House bill for the version worked out by the finance panel. In passing on this, the Senate will determine whether it wants to go along with a much larger benefit increase and also much higher taxes that the committee wrote into the legislation. The committee's bill would assure all persons now on the benefit rolls at least a 15 per cent increase with a 59 per cent hike for those at the bottom of the scale. The minimum payment would be raised from the present $44 a month to $70. The House voted for a boost of at least 12 1/2 per cent in benefits and a $25 minimum. On the tax side, the big difference between the two versions is in the eventual wage base on which the payroll taxes would be paid. The House voted to boost the base to $7,000 a year from the present $6,000. The Senate Finance Committee plan would raise the base to $8,000 next year and eventually to $10,000 in 1972. Sen. John J. Williams of Delaware, senior Republican on the committee, said the GOP attempt to substitute the House bill probably will come Tuesday.

Horses Killed

EL MONTE, Calif. (AP) — High voltage electricity killed two horses Sunday but the two young women riding them escaped injury. Donna McCrosson, 21, and Sheila Armitage, 27, said they rode their horses between a power pole and a chain link fence. One horse brushed the pole, the other the fence and the two colided. Police blamed a short circuit in the power pole. They said the two women apparently were insulated from the current by their saddles.

Wood River Fire District Election Set

SHOSHONE — The Wood River Fire Protection district will hold its biennial election from noon to 7 p.m. Dec. 4 at the Wood River Center Grange. One commissioner will be selected for sub-district 2 for a two-year term, and one commissioner from sub-district 3 for a four-year term. R. B. Kelley and Kenneth Coulter both are seeking re-election. From 1 to 7 p.m. Dec. 12, three directors of the American Falls Reservoir district No. 2 will be elected. Polling places are Precinct 1, Shoshone; Lincoln County Courthouse; Precinct 2, shop on Norman Johnson farm, Hunt, Jerome County; Precinct 3, IOOF hall, Richfield; Precinct 4, Manuel King Jr. farm at Richfield; Precinct 5, office of Carrico & Oakley, Gooding; Precinct 6, office of American Falls Reservoir district at Gooding; and Precinct 7, Frank Palmer farm residence, northwest of Shoshone.

TOPS Club At Murtaugh Has Election

MURTAUGH — Mrs. Ronald Crossman was elected leader of the Pounds Chaser's TOPS Club at the regular three-month party held recently at the LDS Church. Officers will be installed in January. Others elected were Mrs. Arthur DeGiorgio, co-leader; Mrs. Percy Christensen, secretary; and Mrs. Earl Watts, treasurer. Mrs. James Miller was appointed weight recorder. Each member who gained weight during the past three-month period brought a gift to be auctioned. Mrs. Ed Stasny and Mrs. Christensen were named division winners. Mrs. Dale H. Peterson, who has recently moved to Washington, was named best loser for October and was presented the hair-styling award. Mrs. DiGiorgio was welcomed as a new member.

Filer Scouts Given Awards

FILER — Tenderfoot rank awards were presented John Olson, David Olson and Jimmy Dolbeck at a Court of Honor of Boy Scout Troop 73 at the American Legion Hall this week. NEW YORK (AP) — Mrs. John F. Kennedy returned home Sunday after a 23-day trip to Southeast Asia and Italy. She arrived by plane from Rome accompanied by Michael Forrestal, New York attorney and son of the late Defense Secretary James V. Forrestal. The former First Lady, smiling but appearing a bit tired, did not make any statement at Kennedy Airport. She was hatless and wearing a white minicoat with a brown belt.

Premier Dong To Consider U.S. Visitors

TOKYO (AP) — Premier Pham Van Dong of North Vietnam said his country would consider "more carefully" any request by U.S. congressmen to visit and assess the effect of U.S. bombing raids; Hamlet's Vietnam News Agency reported Monday. The agency broadcast the text of an interview in which French journalist Olivier Todd of Le Nouvel Observateur suggested the possibility of visits by U.S. senators and representatives to "see with their own eyes" the damage being done by U.S. warplanes. Dong said, "That is an interesting idea to be closely studied." He said it raised "a number of problems," including security of visitors. "Besides, under the present circumstances, one may wonder whether American politicians may want to allow themselves to come here," he said. The broadcast also reported that Dong has ruled out any compromise with the United States to end the war. "Our struggle is a struggle of principles," he said; "and when principles of such greatness, such importance, are involved there is no compromise. There cannot be any compromise."

Battle For Post Season College Bowl Berths Is Nearing Showdown Stage

By The Associated Press
A citrus fragrance pervades the college football picture as the jockeying for postseason bowl berths reaches the showdown stage.

In California, land of the Rose Bowl, the fragrance is orange-scented specifically orange juice. It was the spectacular running of O. J. "Orange Juice" Simpson that sparked Southern California to a 21-20 victory over UCLA Saturday and a berth in the Rose Bowl.

Simpson rambled 64 yards for

Snead Passes Eagles Past Saints 48-21

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Quarterback Norm Snead completed 10 of 27 passes for 309 yards and four touchdowns Sunday as the Philadelphia Eagles reversed their most humiliating 1967 defeat with a 48-21 victory over the New Orleans Saints in a National Football League game.

Only two weeks ago, the Saints stunned the Eagles in New Orleans 31-24 for the first year since the initial NFL triumph. Sunday's 48 points was the Eagles' top offensive output since they ran up 40 against New York in 1959.

Sam Baker started the carnage in the first period with a 21-yard field goal after New Orleans' John Gilliam allowed a punt to slip through his hands in the Eagles recovered on the Saints' 18.

Snead took over in the second period, firing TD passes of 10 yards to Ben Hawkins; 35 to Jim Kelly, and 13 to Tom Woodcock, who also tallied on a five-yard run.

New Orleans was in the game for only a brief moment in the second quarter when Gary Cuozzo passed 22 yards to rookie Dan Abramowicz and Charlie Durkee converted to trail on 10-7.

Jets Score Early To Hold Boston

BOSTON (AP) — The New York Jets built a commanding lead with the help of a pair of scoring bombs by Joe Namath and then withstood a furious Boston finish to edge the Patriots 29-24 Sunday in an American Football League thriller.

Namath connected on a 45-yard touchdown pass to George Sauer in the second period and then hit Don Maynard on a pass maneuver covering 75 yards early in the finale before the Patriots suddenly came alive.

Trailing 20-3, former Baylor star Don Trull, making his first start since being acquired in midseason from the Houston Oilers, rallied the Patriots for three touchdowns before time ran out on the comeback.

Trull capped the comeback drive by smacking the final stride into the end zone.

Then he capped a 48-yard advance by rolling out to the left for two yards and a touchdown with 1:13 remaining.

Boston recovered an on-side kickoff and Trull promptly hit Jim Whalen on a 40-yard scoring toss. The Patriots tried another on-side kick, but the Jets recovered and ran out the clock, boosting their record to 7-2-1.

The Jets, leading the AFL Eastern Division, took the opening kickoff and moved downfield to set up a 40-yard field goal by Jim Turner.

Late in the first period, Johnny Sample intercepted a Trull pass and returned to the Boston 45.

In fourth quarter touchdown that gave the Trojans their victory against the previously unbeaten Bruins. The powerful running back also scored USC's first TD on a 13-yard run and gained 177 yards for the day.

His performance overshadowed a gallant show by UCLA's Gary Debau, who completed 10 of 24 passes for 301 yards and just one minute before Simpson's long TD run, had passed the Bruins into the lead.

While USC clinched its bowl date, the Trojans can't be sure who they will be facing. Minnesota scrambled the Big Ten picture by walloping previously unbeaten Indiana 33-7.

The victory tied Minnesota with Indiana at 6-1 in Big Ten play with the Hoosiers going up against third-ranked Purdue while Minnesota faces wireless Wisconsin next week. Purdue, 6-0 in the conference, played in the Rose Bowl last Jan. 1 and is ineligible to return.

Curt Wilson led Minnesota's romp, racing for four touchdowns and passing for another. All of his 70 yards came from 40 yards as Minnesota turned two Indiana fumbles into scores.

Tennessee virtually wrapped up the Southeastern crown and an Orange Bowl bid by whipping Mississippi 20-7. The Volunteers have only lowly Vanderbilt and Kentucky standing in the way of their first conference title since 1956.

Tailback Walt Chadwick passed for one touchdown and ran for another as Tennessee pushed its record to 7-1. Fumble recoveries by Dick Williams set up two of the Volunteer scores.

Tennessee's likely opponent in the Orange Bowl is Ole Miss, 7-1, which clinched a Big Eight title with a 14-10 victory over Kansas. The Sooners fell behind 10-0 before Steve Zabel caught a 30-yard pass from Bob Warwick giving the Sooners the lead in the fourth period.

Changes, sold by the state land outside the stadium in anticipation of a bowl bid, rained down on the field.

Alabama, 7-1, may have nailed down a Cotton Bowl bid by blanking South Carolina 17-0. Kenny Stabler and Dennis-Homan combined for a 38-yard scoring play—the first touchdown pass completed against South Carolina this season.

Any one of four teams still

Raiders Keep League Lead, Down Miami

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP) — The Oakland Raiders maintained a one-half game lead in the American Football League's Western Division Sunday with a 31-17 decision over an inspired young expansion team from Miami.

The victory kept Oakland in first place with an 8-1 record. San Diego defeated Kansas City 17-16 to remain second 7-1-1.

Miami took a 3-0 lead in the first quarter on Booth Luster's 47-yard field goal. The Dolphins made it 10-7 with only 29 seconds left in the half on Bob Griese's five-yard pass to Doug Moreau.

It was the first time Miami had led at halftime since the season opener, when the Dolphins beat Denver 35-21.

The Raiders went ahead to stay early in the third quarter after Rod Sherman returned the kickoff 40 yards to the Miami 47. Lamonica passed 38 to Bill Miller and Clem Daniels ran it over from the one for a 14-10 lead.

But it took an 11-yard field goal by veteran George Blanda after a Miami goal line stand and Darryl Lamonica's 20th touchdown pass of the season to keep Oakland ahead.

alive in the Southwest Conference, could be the Cotton Bowl hosts. Texas A&M leads the conference with a 5-1 record after knocking off Rice 18-3 while Texas, 4-2, was losing to TCU 24-17 on a last-minute touchdown by Ken Post.

The Aggies can win the crown outright by beating Texas on Thanksgiving Day but there's a chance of a four-way tie with Texas Tech, 4-2 and TCU, 3-2, still after Tech beat Baylor 31-29 on Kenny Vineyard's 37-yard field goal in the final half minute of play.

Colorado, 7-2, remained a Sugar Bowl possibility by walloping Kansas-State 40-8 as Bob Anderson ran for two touchdowns and passed for a third.

Louisiana State, still hoping to attract a Sugar Bowl bid despite a 5-3-1 record, smashed Mississippi State 55-0 as Tommy Moriel caught three touchdowns.

Tenn. State, 7-2, and 15-14 winner over Ohio, is also a Sugar possibility.

Jurgensen Leads Skins Past Cowboys

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Sonny Jurgensen passed for touchdowns Sunday and led Washington to a 27-20 National Football League upset of ruffling Dallas Sunday.

Washington rushed out to a 27-6 margin over the favored Cowboys before Dallas started back behind Craig Morton, who took over at quarterback for starter John Meredith.

He passed for two touchdowns and had a capacity crowd of 75,538 at the Cotton Bowl roaring as he led the Cowboys on the move when time ran out.

The loss cut the Dallas lead in the Capitol Division of the NFL to two games with four to play.

But Morton was intercepted with only 1:13 left in the game. The Cowboys, using their three time-outs, got possession again in the final seconds, but could not assemble a scoring drive.

Dallas errors set up most of the Washington touchdowns. A 25-yard kick by Danny Villanueva led to the first. Jim Shorter intercepted a Meredith pass to get Washington on the way to 18 second and Bob Hayes fumbled a pass he had taken on the Washington 25 and the Redskins marched to another touchdown.

Dallas got a break when Mike Johnson intercepted a Jurgensen pass on the Washington 38, but the Redskins rushed Meredith into an incomplete pass on fourth down and then rolled 69 yards for their fourth touchdown.

Dallas scored in the second period on a 74-yard drive with Meredith passing for 62 of the yardage. The payoff was a six-yard shot to Lance Rentzel.

The snap from center was bobbled on the extra point try and Jerry Rhoads was stopped short as he tried to run it across.

Washington led 7-6 at this juncture and Dallas never could catch up.

Jurgensen's touchdown throws were 29 yards and four yards to Jerry Smith, 14 to A. D. Whitfield and a five to Bobby Mitchell.

Gridcasting Season Ends In Spectacular Style

By Major Amos B. Hoopler
Equal We've wound up the season in spectacular style. This week we are not giving money to three people, but to four—due to a point tie for third place.

Our final weekly champion is Third Schooler, Twin Falls, who missed only two games and will receive the $10 first prize.

Nine persons tied with three incorrect selections and the point told this tale. Runner-up, worth $5, is Monty Smith, Heyburn, while Bill Brady, Twin Falls, and Renee Davis, Twin Falls, each missed by 57 points and divide the $2.50 third-place money.

Honorable mentions go to Jalo Smith, Twin Falls; Stacy Winn, Heyburn; Bertina Campbell, Twin Falls; Mrs. Emanuel Miller, Hazelton; Ray Baker, Jr., Twin Falls, and Kurt Hall, Twin Falls.

The season is over for those of you who didn't win money or an honorable mention during the year. For the select few I'll be back with a bowl contact ballot, probably the first week in December, and you can slug it out for the annual drudgery.

Rams Strike Late To Drop Falcons 31-3

ATLANTA (AP) — The Atlanta defense for a stubborn Atlanta defense for 35 minutes, scored two quick fourth-quarter touchdowns Sunday and rolled to a 31-3 National Football League victory over the Falcons.

Quarterback Roman Gabriel scored on a plunge and tossed a 57-yard touchdown pass to Bernie Casey in a three-minute spurt that sent the Rams to their seventh victory. They have lost once and been tied twice and trail only unbeaten Baltimore in the Capitol Division.

Atlanta, now 1-6-1, trailed only 7-3 before Randy Johnson's pass was tipped by the Ram's Deacon Jones into the hands of linebacker Doug Woodliff, who returned the ball nine yards to the Falcon four on the last play of the third period.

Gabriel scored two plays later and then threw the long scoring strike for Casey to clinch the triumph. Gabriel passed two yards to Dick Bass for the first Los Angeles touchdown after Jack Pardee returned an intercepted pass to the Atlanta 23.

The Rams added a final touchdown with four minutes left on a fake field goal with holder Ed Muehrer throwing an 18-yard strike to Billy Truax, and Bruce Gossett kicked a 27-yard field goal with two minutes to play.

For 1968, Mercury's got it! The Fine Car Touch inspired by the Continental.

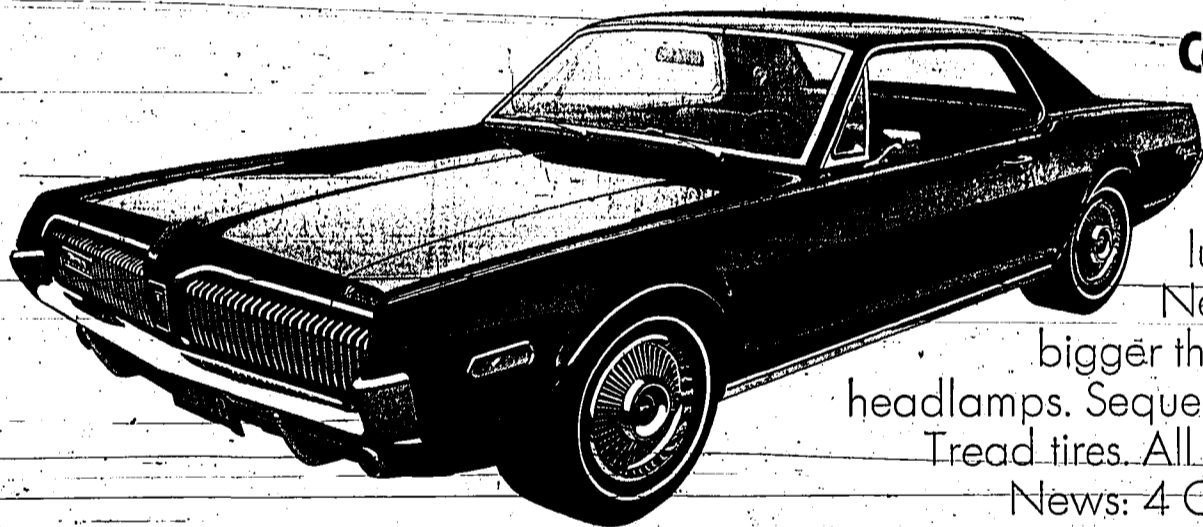

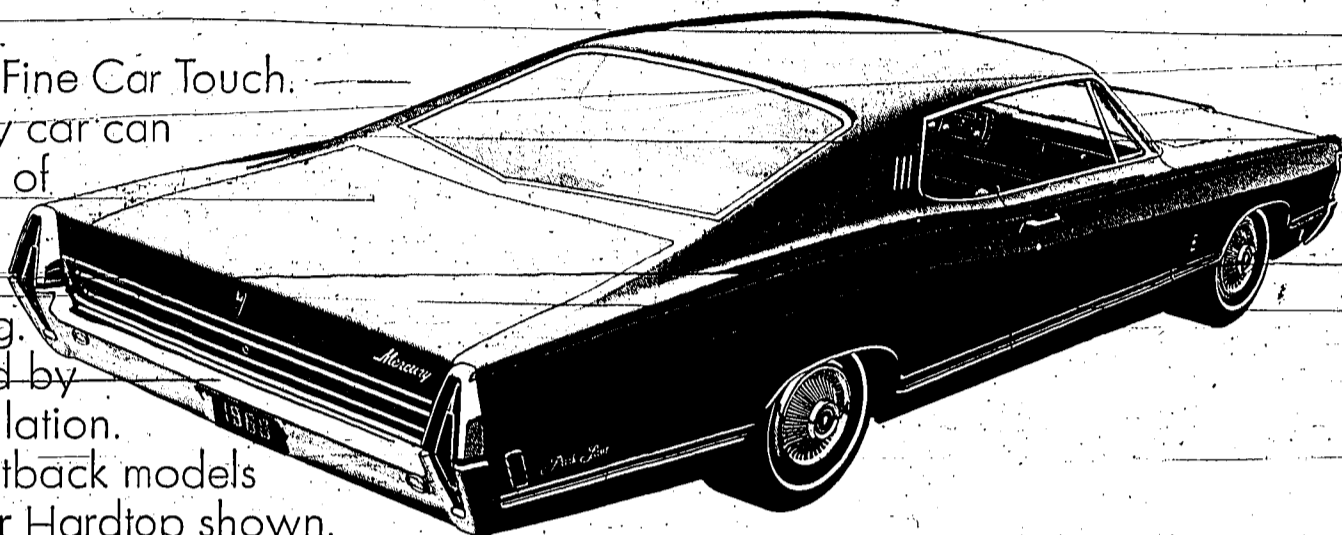

Mercury is rolling again. We've got cars. With plenty more on the way. Each features the Fine Car Touch inspired by Lincoln Continental. Our mood is, "Let's catch up." So you'll find us very friendly indeed—ready to make it easy to own a great new Mercury:

Mercury's got it. The Fine Car Touch.

Mercury is the closest any car can come to the ride and feel of the Lincoln Continental. With the Fine Car Touch in the rich nylon carpeting.

And in quiet created by 123 pounds of sound insulation.

Totally new: 3 sweptback models like the Park Lane 2-Door Hardtop shown.

Cougar's got it. The Fine Car Touch.

So much of it, in fact, that pound for pound and dollar for dollar, Cougar is the best equipped luxury sports car in America.

New 302 cubic-inch V-8 engine—bigger than ever. Bucket seats. Concealed headlamps. Sequential rear turn signals. New Wide Tread tires. All standard.

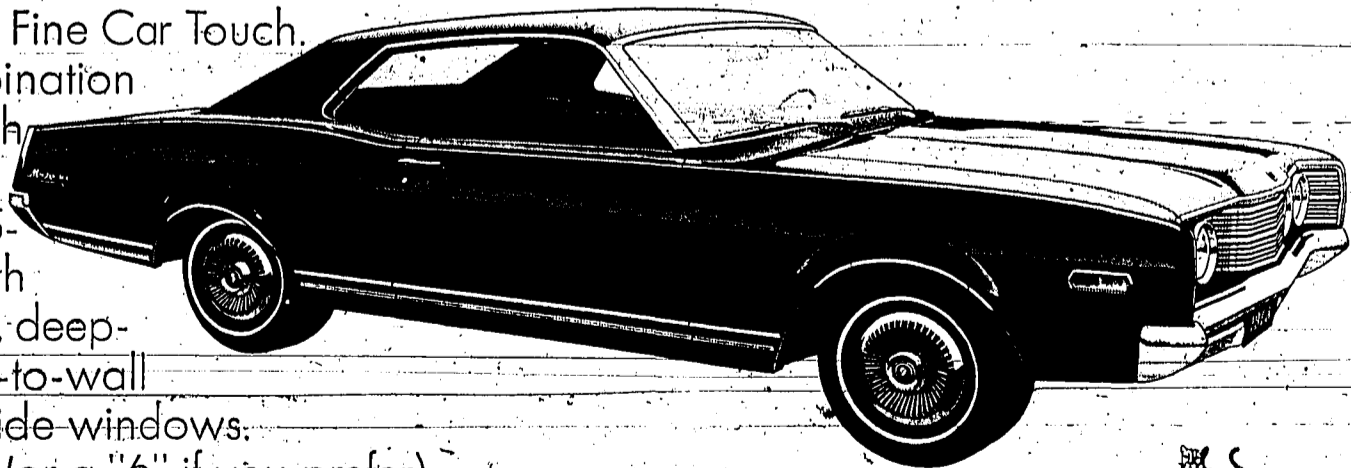

News: 4 Cougars to choose from in '68!

Montego's got it. The Fine Car Touch.

In Montego, it's the combination of Cougar excitement with full 6-passenger comfort.

Luxuries include a 5-pod instrument cluster with walnut-grain vinyl inserts, deep-foam padded seats, wall-to-wall carpeting, curved-glass side windows.

302-cubic-inch V-8 (or a "6" if you prefer).

 Jim: "How does it feel to have 10,000 Master Points?"
 Oswald: "Sort of relieved. As you know I just accumulated 10,000 Master Points up to 1959 without them. Then I decided to go after the No. 1 ranking seriously. It took me three years to get that and Oswald: "My favorite hand of the event is one played by the Boss. When West doubled two diamonds I decided to double. I really hoped that someone would run out, but no one did. West opened the king of spades and continued. The Boss ruffed, took a club finesse, ruffed another spade, led a club to the ace, ruffed a club and started on the heart suit."

 Jim: "I don't suppose that she did this with any speed."
 Oswald: "No. Each card was played as if someone were pulling it out of her hand with pliers, but she had eight tricks in and poor West was down to four trumps. She led her last heart. West had to trump and lead a diamond to her, so she wound up with two overtricks."
 Jim: "It was just as well she did. Judy and I got into real trouble ourselves and thought that our 1,100 East-West minus at two spades doubled was a sure loser, but your plus 1,810 took care of it!"

as an incidental, I won the McKenny trophy for most points four out of the next five years. Then I decided to go on to 10,000. Now that I am there, I intend to take things easy and will expect to be passed by several people in the next few years."
 Jim: "Judy and I think that it was wonderful that you hit the mark at home in Dallas by winning a team event with an all-Jacoby team!"

Date-Line

By ELE AND WALT DULANEY

She Bowled Him Over!

Dear Ele and Walt: I'm a things?—Tom.
 Dear Tom: After your parents come home after a long, hard day's work, they may say, "I've got to go to bed." You girls I've gone with tell me they like me right away because of the straightforward way that I show my interest. I'll walk up to a girl in the bowling alley or lunch line and start a conversation. Then I simply say, "I'd love to date you. Can you date?" If she says "yes," then I tell her truthfully, "Good. I loved you the minute I saw you!"
 Well, this weekend I saw a girl, a brunette, who is so beautiful and curvaceous that I fell in love with her right away—no joke. She saw that I almost dropped a bowling ball on my foot because I was looking at her, and she smiled at me. I was so happy that I won the game with a 111-101. I discovered she is two grades below me. Do you think people would rank down a high school sophomore for dating a junior high school 8th grader??? — Considering.
 Dear Considering: If you see something more in this girl than just physical attraction, it doesn't matter what your classmates think about the age difference because you can truthfully point out the qualities that make a girl a constant right important to you. Two. But watch the casual use of the word "love," or you'll devalue it altogether. When you spot a gal across a crowded bowling alley and go into orbit, it's a sex attraction not capital Love.— Ele and Walt.
SHOULD HELP AROUND HOUSE
 Dear Ele and Walt: I just reached the age where I'm supposed to be supporting myself. I live with my parents and pay board every week when I'm laid off by this factory, but expect to be called back within two weeks. I draw a small amount of insurance which I pay my board. The trouble is my parents are always commenting: "We have to go out and work for a living, and then have some home and support—can someone who is of age." This help you end a steady relationship makes me feel like a kind of a sponger and very obliged. Do you think they are doing with your request to Dateline, right to keep saying these words of this paper.
