TEN CENTS

1,000 March On Induction Center, Protesting War

NEW YORK (AP) — More than 1,000 antiwar demonstrators chanting "Peace now!" marched on the Whitehall Induction Center in Lower Manhattan today, but failed to shut it down. Police arrested almost a third of them before the demonstrators dispersed after five hours.

Among the first to be arrested was Dr. Benjamin Spock, baby doctor and a leader of the "Stop the Draft Week" demonstration. Poet Allen Ginsberg also was arrested.

Police set up a special office in the nearby Criminal Courts building to handle those arrested. Most were charged with disorderly conduct.

After the arrests, some of the demonstrators continued to march quietly in the streets between police barricades. The only injury appeared to be to a demonstrator whose head was bleeding as he was led away by police.

Inside the center, Lt. Col. James J. McPoland, the commander, said operations were normal and he expected them to continue that way. The center processes about 250 enlistees and draftees daily, he said.

Most of the demonstrators were in their late teens or early 20s, but there were several older people. A few hippie types were among the demonstrators, most of whom were neatly dressed.

Crowds of financial district workers and commuters coming from the Staten Island ferries walked past the pickets. Some exchanged words with them.

The protest was sponsored by "The Stop the Draft Week Committee," which described itself as a coalition of some 50 antiwar and civil rights groups.

Leaders said they expected 5,000 demonstrators by mid-morning.

They began gathering in Battery Park at the tip of Manhattan as early as 5:30 a.m. and started the trek to 39 Whitehall St. shortly after 6 a.m.

Police had cordoned off the area. Barricades lined the streets and all civilian traffic was barred. The marching column broke down into two main groups—one at the intersection of Bridge Pearl and Broad streets and the other about Water and Bridge streets.

Arrests started when some of the demonstrators began to sit in the street and in front of the center doors. Those seized were hauled away, many of them being bodily carried by police.

Some claimed they had been struck by police "nightsticks" when police charged their horses to break up the street group. At least one man emerged with a bloody head. He was taken to a hospital.

The center opened officially at 7 a.m. and enlistees began trickling through police lines and going inside. Pickets chanted "Don't go! Don't go!"

Spock, who earlier told reporters he came "to be with these courageous young men who are jeopardizing their freedom and future careers," said he was later "cheerfully straight-armed by a patrolman."

Ginsberg said he offered the

Death Probed

KELLOGG (AP) — School authorities were investigating today the circumstances surrounding the death by electrocution of a 17-year-old athlete in a whirlpool bath at Kellogg High School.

The victim, Thomas Brainerd, a senior and a football and basketball player, died at West Shoshone General Hospital after artificial respiration failed to revive him.

School officials said the 5-foot-8 basketball guard complained of a sore thigh and went to soak his leg in the device.

He was discovered by assistant basketball coach Loren Solum who said he was unconscious.

Collapse Of Bridge Claims 30

MEXICO CITY (AP) — About 20 Mexican workers were believed still missing today in the wreckage of a bridge under construction which collapsed into a deep canyon on the outskirts of Mexico City.

Ten bodies were recovered and one survivor was pulled from beneath a pile of rock before search operations were suspended at midnight because of poor visibility and the danger of a further collapse.

Jose Cruz Bolanos, an agent of the public works ministry, said about 30 workers were believed killed when the center span plummeted into the canyon early Monday night. The exact number of men on the bridge was not known, he said.

The survivor, Angel Aguirre, said 19 others were working around him.

Rescue workers said there was little hope that anyone else survived.

No explanation for the collapse had been found Monday night.

Paul Corder, Kimberly, To Take Over As Next T. F. County Sheriff

A KIMBERLY RESIDENT since 1950, Paul Corder was informed Tuesday by the Twin Falls County Commissioners that he is the new sheriff. He will take over from James H. Benham next week. Mr. Corder and his wife are seen here in Kimberly just after being told of his selection. He said he plans no personnel changes and will run for election in 1968. Mr. Corder was endorsed Monday night by the County Republican Central Committee.

By BONNIE BAIRD JONES
Times-News Staff Writer

Paul Corder, Kimberly, a member of the Twin Falls County Sheriff's Department since 1962, was appointed Tuesday morning by the board of county commissioners to fill the unexpired term of Sheriff James H. Benham.

Mr. Corder will be sworn in as county sheriff next Monday at 9 a.m. and will serve on the appointment until the end of 1968 at which time he will seek election.

Sheriff Benham, who has held the office the past 12 years, resigned effective next Monday to become Idaho Brand Inspector. He was appointed last week by the state brand board.

Heber Loughmiller, county commission chairman, said the appointment of Mr. Corder was unanimous by the county officials and was made in conjunction with an endorsement from the Twin Falls County Central Committee in a meeting Monday night.

"We felt the new appointment should come from the present sheriff's staff," Mr. Loughmiller said. "We feel Mr. Corder has a good background and will do an excellent job as county sheriff."

Two other members of the present staff had also applied for the position, I. M. Kendrick, Buhl, and Matt Vice, Twin Falls, and were also endorsed by the central committee in the event the county commissioners did not appoint their first choice, Mr. Corder.

The new sheriff will move into quarters near the county jail on the fourth floor of the courthouse. His wife, Betty, will succeed Mrs. Beth Benham in preparing meals for the county prisoners. The county pays for the service.

Commissioners said they feel they have had excellent law enforcement in the county in the past and believe the appointment of Mr. Corder will assure this is continued and that the same staff will continue to serve. Mr. Corder said he plans no changes.

A resident of Kimberly since 1950, Mr. Corder was endorsed Monday night by the County Republican Central Committee.

Viet Cong Inflict Death And Destruction On Small Village

SAIGON (AP) — Hundreds of Viet Cong rangers rampaged through a South Vietnamese village early today with flamethrowers and grenades, inflicting death and destruction, U.S. officials reported.

The U.S. official said latest reports indicated that about 20 persons were killed and 30 were wounded in Dak Song, about 130 miles northeast of Saigon.

First reports had said 300 persons were killed, which would have been the worst terrorist attack reported in the war. But Wilbur Wilson, the assistant director of U.S. civil operations in the area, said later reports indicate this figure "is much reduced."

Wilson said the latest report was about 20 dead and 30 wounded. He said 30 or 40 homes were burned down by the attackers, who were estimated to number about 400 guerrillas.

Wilson said he assumed the hamlet was inhabited by Montagnards, the mountain tribespeople who often fight under U.S. direction against the Viet Cong.

Dak Song is located in an area along the Cambodian border where there has been a large buildup of North Vietnamese and Viet Cong troops in the past few months. U.S. and South Vietnamese forces have had two big battles this month with Communist troops at Loc Ninh and Bu Dop, southwest of Dak Song and also near the Cambodian border.

Wilson said it had not been determined yet from intelligence sources what was behind the attack. But the Viet Cong often raid villages to show that the South Vietnamese government cannot provide complete protection.

Dak Song is a "new life" hamlet, which supposedly is sufficiently protected to be free of Viet Cong terrorism.

In the air war, the U.S. Navy strengthened its arsenal of bombers striking at North Vietnam and sent a new light attack jet into action Monday for the first time.

runs against a bridge near Vinh, about 150 miles south of Hanoi. The Corsairs' 5-inch rockets heavily damaged the span, preventing returning to the carrier. One squadron of about 20 of the 12 million jets is about the carrier.

The U.S. 7th Air Force will soon add the plane to its strike force also. The Corsair was first ordered in 1964 as a replacement for the A4 Skyhawk to provide a subsonic plane which could carry a heavier load of weapons than the Skyhawk.

Overcast weather from the northeast monsoons again limited activity of the 80 U.S. missions Monday to areas south of Hanoi but radar guided Air Force F105 Thunderchiefs to at least three targets above North Vietnam's capital city.

Headache Of City's Budget Comes Early

Budget time, a headache to any city official, comes three months early, the Twin Falls City Council was informed Monday night during regular session.

Mayor Egon Kröll said he was informed just before the meeting by City Attorney William Langley that Idaho law states that an interim budget must be passed by the city council by the first meeting in January.

The budget is to meet city expenditures until a regular budget is approved, usually in the latter part of March of each year.

City Manager Herb Derrick said in a joking manner: "Maybe it's time for me to take a vacation."

It means he must have a budget for the first three months of 1968 prepared and ready for action by the council later this month, possibly when the council meets next Dec. 18.

In other business, the council disapproved a request by Police Chief Frank Barnett to have a trailer set up in front of the C. C. Anderson building for the sale of fruitcakes. Mr. Barnett sought permission on behalf of the Civitan Club, of which he is a member.

The council said it would open the door for other requests, which the council might not be able to approve.

A zoning variance allowing construction of an addition to the Twin Falls Clinic and Hospital was allowed. The variance allows construction of the clinic addition to the curb of Seventh Avenue East. Action on another ordinance concerning an alley easement for the clinic was deferred until the Dec. 18 council meeting. Easement from property owners in the area had not been turned into the council, but are expected in the near future.

Water was termed safe for December, and an audit report submitted to the council indicated "all receipts and expenditures are accounted for and are proper."

Twenty-one building permits for a total of $162,954 were issued in November at the city clerk's office.

Mr. Derrick reported that work on the water tank for the city water system has slowed during cold weather, and completion of the tank may be delayed until warmer weather.

An estimated 40 per cent of 5,000 new street naming signs have been received, and placement of those signs will begin.

Paul Man Is Held After Shooting

PAUL—Rudolph Schaeffer, 55, Paul is in custody of the Minidoka county sheriff, charged with assault with a deadly weapon on Monday night at the home of his former wife in Paul.

Officers alleged the man shot eight times outside the house where his former wife, Mrs. Clara Schaeffer, and two children were. Two of the bullets penetrated inside, but no one was hurt, it was reported.

The sheriff's office was called about 11:15 p.m. by Mrs. Schaeffer who said her former husband was shooting in the yard. When officers arrived, the man had left, but they saw his vehicle on another street and chased him for about three miles west of Paul where he finally stopped.

Before he stopped, the man threw something out of his car window, officers said. They found a .22-caliber pistol.

Labor Chiefs To Demand More

By NEIL GILBRIDE
Associated Press Labor Writer

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — AFL-CIO leaders, throwing their support to President Johnson for re-election in 1968, are serving notice they will demand more from the Democratic administration and Congress on many labor issues.

"The United States, in the familiar phrase, can easily afford 'guns and butter,'" said George Meany, president of the 14 million member labor federation, in pledging support of both Johnson's Vietnam war policies and social programs at home.

"This is the program that I say here right now is the program of Lyndon Johnson, and labor must back that program and must get Lyndon Johnson the type of Congress that can put the program over," Meany said.

But Meany lambasted administration officials as "stupid" for allowing the U.S. Merchant Fleet to deteriorate in time of war. He also demanded that the government cancel defense contracts at firms which Meany said flout labor laws.

Meany alluded to the "guns and butter" debate in a report to the AFL-CIO's policy making Executive Council.

"The fact is that without 'butter'—the solution of the urban crisis and the continuing enrichment of American society—the guns will be futile," Meany said.

"They will be futile, that is, as weapons in the eternal crusade for the security, prosperity, the progress and the freedom of mankind," he said.

Meany said no one wants a successful end to the Vietnam war more than Johnson, but that "hawks and doves" in and out of Congress are using it as an excuse to block further social legislation.

T.F. County Zoning Revisions Set To Protect CSI Campus

Revisions in the Twin Falls County Zoning ordinance have been completed and will be presented to the county's Planning and Zoning Commission in a meeting later this month.

George Ottens, county zoning administrator, said in general the ordinance has been clarified and duplications eliminated. The major change, however, is the establishment of a special zoning around the College of Southern Idaho campus. At the request of college trustees a special residential zone has been created for property around the campus site.

This will be known as R-3 and will permit one and two family dwellings, apartment houses, dormitories and rooming houses. No commercial establishment of a special zoning college property, Mr. Ottens said, despite the fact that several property owners already have made requests for commercial zoning of their lands.

Only commercial establishments now established will be permitted under the ordinance revision, the administrator said.

In a meeting with the college trustees and Twin Falls city officials the zoning board was asked to curtail commercial development around the college as a more desirable climate for the institution and to make it more attractive to other counties to join the college district.

If approved by the county zoning board, the ordinance revision will be discussed in a public hearing before it is finally adopted. A hearing site will be set by the zoning board, Mr. Ottens said.

Auto Workers, GM Set News Blackout

DETROIT (AP) — Negotiators for General Motors and the United Auto Workers Union imposed a news blackout today on labor contract talks at the nation's largest automaker.

In a joint statement, both sides said they had agreed to refrain from public discussion of matters under negotiation at the bargaining table until further notice.

"The UAW and GM agreed today to make every effort to achieve a sound and satisfactory national agreement by the target date of Dec. 14," the statement said.

"Both the union and the corporation placed comparable weight and importance on the target date of Dec. 14 as though it were in fact a strike deadline."

The announcement came as bargainers held their first main table session after a week of subcommittee work on the industry's last major contract of the year.

The session brought UAW President Walter P. Reuther and GM's top negotiator, Louis Seaton, together for the first time in hard bargaining.

"Bargaining progress has been made during many meetings of the various subcommittees," the statement said, "and this effort will continue, supported by meetings of the bargaining committees at the main table."

It added that GM made an economic offer to the union along the lines of agreements already reached at Ford Motor Co. and the Chrysler Corp. earlier.

The union last week set Dec. 14 as a target date for a settlement.

If no agreement is reached by then, Reuther said, the union will set a strike deadline for sometime after the holidays.

GM already has said it will follow the basic economic outline of contracts reached by the UAW at Ford, after a 50-day national strike, and at Chrysler after widespread disruption through local disputes. Those pacts gave union members roughly $1 an hour in wage and benefit increases over the average of $4.70 an hour.

Heart Transplant Patient Put On Soup, Egg Diet

By KENNETH L. WHITING
CAPE TOWN, South Africa (AP) — The transplanted heart of a dead girl beating steadily inside him, Louis Washkansky was put on a diet of soup and a soft-boiled egg today, and one of his doctors said he is gaining ground.

"All is going as well as any open heart operation can have," said Dr. S. C. W. Bosman, heart surgery registrar at Groote-Suur Hospital, where the 55-year-old businessman received the heart of Denise Ann Darvall, 25. In a five-hour operation Sunday, the girl was killed in an auto accident.

The respirator pump that helped Washkansky breathe after the landmark surgery has been removed.

"His breathing under his own steam now," said Dr. Jacobus Burger, medical supervisor at Groote-Suur.

Washkansky, who doctors said probably would have died today or Wednesday of a deteriorating heart without the transplant, drank water, orange drink and milk Monday. He also spoke his first words since the surgery, saying, "I am feeling much better."

Heart specialists say the next crucial challenge to Washkansky should come from his body's defense mechanism against foreign objects toward the week's end.

To suppress the bodily mechanism that naturally tries to destroy foreign objects—such as Miss Darvall's heart—doctors were giving Washkansky a number of drugs. One danger is that these drugs reduce a patient's ability to combat other harmful foreign objects, such as germs.

"If the heart is rejected by the patient," said one specialist, "we are at the point of no return."

Prof. Jan H. Louw, who supervised what is so far the first successful human heart transplant in history, said the most serious chance of the body's rejecting the heart "will come at the end of the week."

Dr. Burger commented, "The longer Washkansky goes on the better; although that does not mean the heart will not be rejected later. The body could decide in 5 or 10 years' time that it doesn't want this heart."

Washkansky could be kept alive by a heart-lung machine if his body rejects the girl's heart, said one specialist, but only for 24 hours at the most.

"I wish Mr. Washkansky lots of luck and hope that he will pull through," said Miss Darvall's father. He gave permission for the transplant and said he knew his daughter herself would have done so had she been conscious before she died.

Makarios Wins Diplomatic Victory In Cyprus Crisis

By GERALD MILLER
NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP) — President Makarios appears to have won a striking diplomatic victory in the Cyprus crisis.

Despite pressure from the United States and the threat of a Turkish invasion, the Greek Orthodox archbishop who heads the government of Cyprus—and the Greek Cypriot majority—refused to bow to Turkish demands.

The general feeling is that Makarios called Turkey's bluff and won.

Makarios gave up almost nothing. The yielding came from Turkey and Greece. The archbishop accepted unconditionally only one point in U.S. envoy Cyrus Vance's original package—withdrawal of Greek and Turkish troops illegally on Cyprus. Technically he would have had no say on that anyway since they are the forces of another nation and not subject to his control.

Where the proposals touched on matters pertaining exclusively to his administration of Cyprus, he did not budge. These proposals were finally dropped.

Makarios said no to the Turkish demand that he disband his national guard. He said no to the Turkish demand that the Turkish Cypriot minority get the legal right to form their own police forces and governments inside their enclaves.

Makarios has doubts about enlarging the mandate of the U.N. peace force on Cyprus. According to Secretary-General U Thant's last peace appeal, this will be a matter of further negotiation.

The Democrats Lean Toward Dick Nixon

WASHINGTON — Making winter book on next year's presidential election Democratic strategists are now all but taking it for granted that the Republican candidate will be Richard M. Nixon. In their order of preference for an opponent Nixon is No. 2.

No. 1 is Gov. George Romney of Michigan. They rate him easiest to defeat because, as they see it, he has skittered from side to side on so many issues. His compulsive prolixity induces in the end simply boredom.

In both the recent Associated Press poll and the Gallup Poll Nixon topped all other potentials in a survey of Republicans by three to one. The reasons are not hard to find. Week in and week out over the past five years he has done the party spade work that has won friends among the faithful who will select the nominee at the Miami Beach convention.

In at least 60 congressional districts Nixon has gone in to speak for Republican candidates. Money raising has been one of his major functions. Thanks to his alliance with Helen Clay Frick, daughter of the Pittsburgh steel master, Henry Clay Frick, who fought unionization with bold and fearless defiance, he has been able to hand out sizable sums when needed in critical congressional races.

The Republicans will be hard pressed to make the contrast with Lyndon Johnson as wheeler-dealer. The "can't win" tag will be a handicap. No one will be allowed to forget his public explosion after his defeat in the race for governor of California in 1962. That performance—taking himself out of politics with a furious blast at his critics astonished reporters assembled to hear him make a statement conceding the election.

What Makes A Marriage Tick?

What's the stickum that holds some marriages together? In an era when statistics say 40 per cent of all marriages end in divorce (though this figure should be and is not adjusted for "repeaters"), how come many mates live to celebrate their golden wedding day?

Daily, local newspapers nationwide have advised my office when local couples passed significant milestones. Careful scrutiny of these, seeking common denominators, has revealed only one: most are triangles.

Portland, Ore., married 68 years. Ed is a retired Baptist minister. In Tampa, Fla., Pearl and Clarence Patch, 62 years, "a leader of his church." In Howard, Kan., Myrtle and Frank Simons, "happy together for 68 years." He is "on the board of the Methodist Church."

The issue promising to dominate the campaign next fall is the most unpopular war in which this country has ever been involved. Nixon has taken the hardest of hard lines, attacking the administration for not prosecuting the war in Vietnam more vigorously. For all his agility it is hard to see how he can shift his ground in accord with a rising demand to get out and the growing fear of a greatly enlarged conflict with China and the Soviet Union increasingly drawn in.

Hill 875

Hill 875 takes its place alongside the names of all the other battles in all the other wars in which American fighting men have distinguished themselves.

Having said that, however, it is impossible at this moment to estimate what importance military historians will give it when they come to write the final history of the Vietnam war.

The fighting in the Dak To region of South Vietnam did not take place along a front that can be neatly drawn on a map. It was not part of a general offensive aimed at piercing the enemy's lines and sweeping his armies back in confusion.

The enemy is everywhere in South Vietnam, and the battles against him erupt from one end of the country to the other.

It is ironic that at the height of this battle — the most fiercely fought thus far — General Westmoreland was telling the American people that the war was entering a phase in which "the end begins to come into view," a phase in which the South Vietnamese begin to assume the brunt of the struggle and the United States begins to reduce its forces.

From the statistics alone, it was an allied victory. The four North Vietnamese regiments engaged lost an estimated 1,377 dead and an unknown number wounded. American casualties were 274 dead and 939 wounded. South Vietnamese: about 75 dead and 200 wounded.

Simple arithmetic tells us that if the war goes on long enough and the "kill ratio" continues as it has, the United States will win it.

But the war is not a numbers game, of course, and it will not go on that long.

The casualty figures from Dak To could tell another story — that the enemy, far from weakening, is fighting more confidently than ever.

Was Hill 875 a decisive North Vietnamese defeat, or was it more like the American "defeat" at Bunker Hill?

Although the American attackers in 1967, unlike the British in 1775, paid a smaller human price than the defenders, no battle from which the enemy main force withdraws intact to fight somewhere else another day can be called more than just one more bloody episode in an increasingly bloody war.

ART BUCHWALD

Why Japanese Men Are Happy

TOKYO — American women could learn a lot from Japanese wives. Despite subversive attempts to liberate her, the Japanese wife is still a slave to her husband, who is her "only master on earth."

husbands baths. There is an old Japanese proverb that a "family who washes together sashes together," and anyone who has been bathed by a Japanese woman will never want to take an American shower again.

Contrast this to the average American wife not only refuses to bow to her husband when he comes home, but in some cases won't even give him a bath.

This has not only made for happiness in the Japanese household, but it also has kept the divorce rate down to 10 per cent, as opposed to in the United States where 25 per cent of all couples seem to find reasons to split up.

Unlike the American woman, a Japanese wife looks forward to giving her husband a bath. She stays home all day cooking the hot water so it will be just right when her husband arrives from a hard day at the office.

Most American wives will run the water, hit their husbands a couple of times with a washcloth and then hand him a towel and say, "Dry yourself."

What are the major differences between the American and Japanese woman? For one thing, the Japanese woman is much more concerned about the welfare of her husband. On cold mornings, for example, I was told a good Japanese wife will prostrate herself on her husband's side of the bed, so he won't have to step down on a cold floor.

No wonder American husbands are irritable and hard to get along with at the end of the day. You would be, too, if your wife refused to walk on your back.

American women are afraid that if they offer to bathe their husbands, they will be considered inferior. This is ridiculous. A wife who knows how to bathe her husband in the Japanese style is a superior person, and one whom any husband would be proud of stepping on when he gets out of bed in the morning.

The Need Apparent

Twin Falls County commissioners and city officials should give serious thought to building new jail facilities. The city jail is outdated to the point that it is almost a crime to house prisoners in facilities at the police station. Things aren't quite as bad in the county, but conditions are far from ideal.

There have been three escapes from the county jail in recent months. It can be expected there will be more, through no fault of the sheriff or officers concerned.

It can also be anticipated that someday, during an escape, someone will be hurt. Quite possibly very seriously. Building a jail, on the other hand, is not an easy thing to do. There are many worthwhile projects the county and city need to undertake. Many of these projects cost money, a lot of money.

It's not easy to justify an expenditure devoted to house people who, for a time, are found unfit to live in society.

And jails are highly expensive to build. One national estimate is $10,000 per inmate. That would mean a figure of more than $500,000 for Twin Falls County.

Sheriff James H. Benham advocates either a new jail or improvements in his present jail. Both are expensive matters, although the latter would be the easiest to do, and the least expensive.

But if the present facilities are improved, it would only mean prolonging what must someday happen. The courthouse is old. Maybe we will be in a better position to build a new courthouse and jail in 20 or 30 years, but there should be some planning now.

Because jails are so expensive to build and operate, we think commissioners and city officials should consider combining jail facilities. The cost would be less in the long run, and it would be more efficient to have all prisoners in one jail.

Going farther, it might be a good idea to give some consideration to housing both the sheriff's office and the police department in one building.

Governmental jealousy aside, it would be a good way to save money and increase effectiveness of our law enforcement agencies.

With this in mind, it might be well to give some thought to building the facilities near the courts. Possibly near the present courthouse annex.

Other cities in the nation, and even in Idaho, are faced with this problem. Many are meeting it by combining efforts. We do not advocate this; we merely suggest there be some study in this direction.

Anyone Lose A Letter?

Mr. Spectator gets all kinds of letters, notes, telephone calls and requests but one received just yesterday is from a person—a Kimberly resident—who admits reading other people's mail.

Now, before you get all excited, let us point out that this particular letter was found by this person so it was opened and read good in an effort to find out where it went.

Even the close reading failed to disclose the "home" it got lost from so the reader asked Mr. Spectator.

So here goes the query in full. If you know anything about this letter in question then get in touch as requested:

"Normally I do not read other people's mail but I have read this letter very thoroughly because I found it under a bunch of leaves. I do not know this person so perhaps this will find them."

"Within the envelope was a note addressed to Grandma and signed by Charlene. She speaks of Keith, Ray, Leona and Betty. Then she tells Grandma that the pictures are for her."

"The pictures are slightly curled from the moisture but they are still clear and good. Four fine looking boys are pictured. Their names are on the back of the pictures and apparently they are all Petersen boys. Their names are Ryan G., Harlan G., Stuart D., and Wade L. Petersen."

"The envelope only says Grandma Cobb

—so if anyone wishes to claim these pictures and the letter please call 423-5880 at Kimberly."

To which Mr. Spectator adds—if you know about them then go get them and thank the unknown person who found the letter for all the trouble she went to find the owner.

GIVEAWAY DEPT.:

Have two girl and one boy rabbits to give away. You can pick them up at 326 Locust St. North in Twin Falls.

NEED A JOB?

Mr. Spectator got a hurryup call from an official of the Hansen school district the other day. Seems as though they need a school bus driver.

They will be accepting applications starting immediately so if you are interested—and can qualify—you had better get in touch. Bill Barnard is the superintendent of schools down that way so you should either call him or see him in person.

Now—you who want to work—on your way!

RAY CROMLEY

Viet Way Of Life

WASHINGTON (NEA) — The other afternoon a man asked this reporter if it wasn't impossible to create a democracy in an Asian country such as South Vietnam.

He says he believes elections in South Vietnam are bound to be meaningless and meaningless by the people impossible regard less of how sincerely the United States attempts to encourage freedom and self-rule.

This man is not alone. In the past few years more than a hundred men and women have asked me, "Are Asians capable of democracy?"

Somehow many Americans and Europeans believe Asians are somehow different and not suited by nature or tradition to democratic ways. There seems to be a belief that Asians are in some unexplained way, radically different from Americans, Europeans and other Westerners.

A study of Asian history gives a very different picture. Particularly the detailed history of the area which is now South Vietnam is the story of men much like those who peopled Western Europe and the United States.

Before the French took over in South Vietnam, the people in the hamlets and villages had a high degree of self-rule. They selected their village and hamlet officials locally.

Though the central government of what is now South Vietnam was not democratic, that government, in the main, left the hamlets and villages to manage their own affairs, carry on their own government, solve their own problems.

For many years before the French came, the local South Vietnamese citizens — though poorly armed and not well-organized nationally — had fought so zealously for their communities and their local constitutions that the Chinese, who many times conquered what is now North Vietnam, were never able to exercise any real control over the south.

The French, themselves, found the south a continuous problem because of the independence of these villagers who ruled themselves.

The South Vietnamese did not destroy these democratic institutions in the southern villages. It was the French who finally, after much travail, destroyed them by military force. In many years of effort, the French gradually uprooted this village self-rule. The village and hamlet governments were subordinated and then taken over by French-appointed officials from the capital. That is, democracy in the villages was slowly smothered.

War Discussions May Cut Protests

By JACK BELL
AP Political Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Edward M. Kennedy says his discussion of Vietnam issues such as Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy, D-Minn., plans in presidential primaries may help cool violent student antiwar demonstrations.

McCarthy has said he will enter the April 30 Massachusetts primary. But Kennedy said he wants to see what happens before the filing deadline in late March before he makes any predictions about voting in his home state.

"I expect President Johnson to be renominated and I will do everything I can to help him get re-elected," Kennedy said. However, he has already ruled out the possibility that he would become a Massachusetts primary stand-in for the President.

Although he is not as vigorous a critic of Johnson's Vietnam position as McCarthy, the Massachusetts senator took the same position as his brother, Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, D-N.Y.—that it will be a good thing to have widespread debate on war issues.

"I have been distressed about the student demonstrations which have brought violence," he said. "Hopefully, this kind of debate will take the issue away from the extremists and other elements who promote violence and put it in the ballot box. That would be a worthwhile accomplishment."

Kennedy said that although he supports Johnson for re-election, he expects to continue to speak out on Vietnam policies when he believes the occasion demands it.

He said he does not intend to become involved in the primary campaign because he feels the voters of Massachusetts "are fully aware of my position on Vietnam and are perfectly capable of making their own judgments on the discussions that take place."

Kennedy is in line to head the Massachusetts delegation to the Democratic National Convention in Chicago if House Speaker John W. McCormack decides not to take the chairmanship.

If McCarthy should be the lone entry on the Democratic primary ballot, delegates would be required under Massachusetts law to vote for him on the first ballot at the convention. After that, they could vote as they please.

At this point, no one expects Johnson's name to be entered. But if it should be, Kennedy said the President "would run strongly."

A fellow Minnesotan and long-time political associate of McCarthy, Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey, said meanwhile he doesn't believe the senator's decision to enter four or more primaries will split the Democratic party.

Humphrey told an interviewer in Rochester: "I think a good debate on the subject matter of our foreign policy is not destructive. I think it can be a healthy thing."

AFL-CIO President George Meany pledged Monday to support Johnson for re-election next year despite what he called the unpopularity of the war. His statement came in advance of Thursday's opening of the 14-million-member labor federation's convention in Miami Beach, Fla.

New Mexico Town Wants Race Track

RUIDOSO, N. M. (AP) — Residents of this central New Mexico village have voted to continue efforts to buy a nearby horse race track, the revenue from which would be used to pay bills and promote village development.

Residents voted 334 to 181 in Monday's special election to authorize village officials to continue negotiations with the Ruidoso Racing Association Inc. for purchase of Ruidoso Downs. Track assets are estimated at $2.5 million.

Distraught Father Of Riot Victim Is Seized

DETROIT (AP)—Two detectives seized the distraught father of a Detroit riot victim today as he emerged briefly from his fortress home where he had held scores of police at bay for 16 hours while locked inside with as many as nine people, some hostages.

Eugene Ector, 62, came through the front door of the West Side house and stood on the porch where he was immediately seized by the two detectives, like Ector and the people locked in the house, both Negroes.

Ector was taken to a hospital in a squad car. A police spokesman said "We want him examined."

Police said no one was injured in the siege that started at 3:30 p.m. Monday when Ector, dependent over the death of a son in the July riot, ended an hours long drinking spree by firing a volley of shots and locking himself in with two women and three children.

It was not immediately clear through the brief tussle on the porch whether Ector had emerged with the two guns he had used during the night to hold scores of police at bay or whether relatives and friends had talked him into giving up.

The people in the house, apparently hostages at first, had been free to come and go as dawn came. Seven left and two later returned.

Armed with a Luger pistol and an M1 rifle Ector had spent the night firing sporadically into the floor or walls of the house. A policeman said he "meant to show he meant business."

Police said an argument with Ector's 37-year-old girl friend, who was in the house throughout, but unharmed, apparently contributed to the outburst.

Ector triple-locked himself, two women and three children in the house at 3:30 p.m. Monday after firing several shots that drew scores of police. The shots apparently followed a drunken spree, fueled by an argument with the girl friend and grief over the riot death of his son, police said.

Armed with a Luger pistol and an M1 rifle he fired several more wild shots during the night apparently into the walls and ceiling of the house, but opened the door briefly at midnight to admit four relatives who tried to talk him outside.

Gentry said one of the relatives told him Ector was dozing fitfully with the guns in his hands and the keys to the doors in his pocket.

Earlier, a youthful sounding woman who would not identify herself told The Associated Press on the telephone that "everybody" in the house was asleep, including Ector.

COUNCIL TO MEET

BOISE (AP)—The Idaho Judicial Council will meet Friday and Saturday in Boise to review judicial reform and interview candidates for a state's district court judge.

Idaho Supreme Court Chief Justice C. J. Taylor, council chairman, said the body would consider the court measures which were passed by the 1967 Idaho Legislature and vetoed by Gov. Don W. Samuelson.

As required by the law creating the council, its members will recommend to Samuelson at least two candidates to fill the vacancy created by the death last week of District Court Judge Paul Crane, Blackfoot.

RULING EXPECTED

BOISE (AP)—The three-member Idaho Personnel Commission is expected to rule on the dismissal of Dr. C. H. Kennedy, former Idaho meat inspection chief, when it meets Friday.

The commission also will be asked to review and approve classification and pay plans affecting employes in 10 or more state agencies, William Peterson state personnel director, said.

Peterson said one of three actions is open to the commission in its decision involving the Meridian veterinarian, who charges he was dismissed last spring by Commissioner of Agriculture Stanley I. Trenhale for "political reasons."

WILL ATTEND MEET

BOISE (AP)—Gov. Don W. Samuelson will attend a meeting of the Republican Governors Association in Palm Beach, Fla. this weekend.

He plans to leave Boise Wednesday and return early next week.

PLEADS GUILTY

BOISE (AP)—A Kamiah man, Gabriel Francis Antelope, entered a guilty plea in U.S. District Court Monday to a charge of stealing a check from the mail.

Judge Fred M. Taylor remanded Antelope to the U.S. marshal pending a pre-sentence investigation. Antelope is accused of taking a $41 check from the mail Nov. 4 at Kamiah.

Diplomats Are Secretive On Cost Of Gift

WASHINGTON (AP)—The diplomats were discreetly diplomatic about the cost of the six-piece silver tea service they gave President Johnson's daughter Lynda and her fiancé Capt. Charles S. Robb as a wedding present.

"It's a secret," said the smiling dean of the diplomats, Ambassador Guillermo Sevilla-Sacasa of Nicaragua after he made the presentation to the young couple at a reception for diplomats Monday night in the Georgetown home of Ambassador and Mrs. W. Averell Harriman.

The envoy indicated the 117 chiefs of missions and their wives wanted to do the same for Lynda that they had done for her sister, Luci, when she married in August 1966.

So they got Lynda the silver service in her pattern—Graham's Chantilly—even as they had provided Luci a service in her pattern, S. Kirk & Son Co's, Old Maryland.

The price of Luci's gift did not become the subject of speculation. It was promptly disclosed that the diplomats paid $2,300 for it.

And it really isn't hard to check on Lynda's gift. A local department store quickly added up the price it would charge for the same Chantilly silver—$6,770.

Vietnam War Has Now Claimed Nearly 3,000 U.S. Planes And Helicopters

By BOB HORTON
AP Military Writer
WASHINGTON (AP)—The Vietnam war has now claimed nearly 3,000 U.S. planes and helicopters—mechanical victims of enemy guns, sabotage, accidents or wear and tear.

The dollar loss amounts to more than $3 billion. It mounts higher daily in air operations reaching unprecedented levels. Already the amount of bombs dropped in North and South Vietnam exceeds all the American tonnage dropped in World War II.

The latest breakdown from the Defense Department—as of Nov. 30 listed 2,966 fixed and rotary-wing aircraft losses in the war zone.

This includes 1,401 planes and helicopters destroyed by enemy action in the air or on the ground in North or South Vietnam, and 1,555 others lost to hostile action in other areas of Southeast Asia—Laos and Thailand—as well as to accidents and attrition.

The hostile class includes 758 fixed-wing and 8 helicopter losses over North Vietnam and 215 fixed-wing and 420 helicopters in South Vietnam.

The accidents-attrition category includes 622 fixed-wing craft—fighters, bombers and transports—and 377 helicopters.

When asked about the heavy losses, the Pentagon counters

Technique Of Space May Aid Paralyzed

WASHINGTON (AP)—A space-age technique may eventually permit paralyzed patients to propel their wheelchairs simply by moving their eyes.

The experimental device was described to a House Small Business subcommittee Monday by Richard L. Leshner, assistant administrator of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration.

He explained NASA commissioned research on a switch operated by eye movements because it felt artificial gravity produced by the take off and re-entry of space ships might prevent an astronaut from using his hands or feet to operate controls.

This didn't prove to be the case, Leshner said, so NASA didn't pursue the idea. But the agency invited the medical profession and industry to explore the device's possibilities.

A prototype of a motorized, eye-controlled wheelchair has been produced by Hayes International Corp. of Huntsville, Ala., which worked on the NASA research project, Leshner reported. The chair can be made to stop, back up and turn by use of the eye-controlled switch and relay.

The process is based on the differing reflective qualities of the light and dark portions of the eye. NASA said a small, harmless ray of infrared light is beamed on the eyeball. The reflection is picked up by a light-sensitive element.

By moving his eye so the reflection varies between bright and dim, the user can flash signals which are converted by electronic relays into commands for the machine.

Prospect Of Johnson-Wilson Talks Points To Peace Moves

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
AP Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON (AP)—The prospect of an early conference between President Johnson and Prime Minister Harold Wilson of Britain points to new moves toward opening Vietnam peace talks.

Wilson may discuss with Johnson the possibility of using an open-end truce in the fighting, including the bombing of North Vietnam, during the forthcoming holiday period to try to create a more favorable opportunity for starting talks.

In Vietnam the most important of the winter holidays is Tet, the Lunar New Year anniversary, which comes a few weeks after the new year in the Western calendar. A year ago Tet was the focus of major peace probing involving Johnson, Wilson and Soviet Premier Alexi N. Kosygin. Johnson told a Monday news conference, "Mr. Wilson will be welcome any time he chooses to come," but added no arrangements for such a visit had been completed.

London reports also said the conference is still under consideration and that Wilson was interested in visiting Washington in January. Diplomats here predicted plans for a meeting would be announced soon.

U.S. officials privately professed great skepticism about the success of any peace probes at this time. They say they see no evidence Communist leaders in Vietnam are reconsidering their position—although some Washington authorities also believe Hanoi may soon be compelled to do so because of military reverses in the South and the bombing toll in the North.

The Johnson administration is preparing—probably in a few days—to ask the U.N. Security Council to move into the situation and see if it cannot get talks under way.

One interest of the United States, officials agree, would be to get the Security Council to invite North Vietnam and the National Liberation Front—political arm of the Viet Cong in the South—to send representatives to the United Nations to sit in on a debate on peace proposals.

State Department spokesmen still refuse to confirm officially that a Viet Cong-NLF representative recently expressed interest in coming to U.N. headquarters and the United States blocked his move. He would have needed a U.S. entry visa.

State Department spokesmen would say only that U.S. policy calls for supporting an invitation issued by the Security Council. That meant, officials agreed privately, the United States is opposed to allowing a formal Viet Cong representation at the U.N. General Assembly.

Since Vietnamese Communist leaders have denied for years that the united nations had any right to intervene in the conflict even as peacemaker, U.S. officials said it was impossible to go to the General Assembly for any purpose other than to build up support for his cause. But these officials said a formal Security Council invitation issued for the specific purpose of discussing peace possibilities would present very different opportunities.

The appeal to the Security Council was urged on President Johnson Nov. 30 by an 82-0 vote of the Senate. Administration informants said the only questions for decision were those of exact form and timing. They were not hopeful about a prompt or positive response from North Vietnam or the Viet Cong in light of past rejection of U.N. appeals.

Unions Reject Kennecott Suggestion

By The Associated Press
The unions have "formally rejected" a suggestion of Kennecott Copper Corp. that workers return to their jobs with a pay increase while negotiations continue.

Joseph P. Molony, International vice president of the United Steelworkers of America, made that comment in Miami, Fla., Monday.

He said Kennecott's suggestion that a vote of the strikers be taken on the proposal "is an attempt to tell us how to manage our internal affairs."

In another development in the national copper strike, Gov. Tim Babcock of Montana appointed a three-member "Montana Strike Fact Finding Committee" to investigate issues behind the strike and report to him. Gov. Babcock also sent a telegram to President Johnson asking him to appoint a presidential fact-finding commission.

John C. Kinnea, Jr., general manager of Kennecott's Western Mining Divisions, offered the work-talk proposal over the weekend.

U.N. Meet Expected Soon To View Thant's Plans

By TOM HOGE
UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—The U.N. Security Council is expected to meet in a few days to discuss Secretary-General U Thant's proposal for a broader role for the U.N. peace force on Cyprus.

That has not only urged an expanded mission for the United Nations on the divided island but also suggested that the 4,200-man force be enlarged to give it "broader functions in regard to a realization of quiet and peace in Cyprus."

Greece, Turkey and Cyprus have all accepted in principle the secretary-general's proposals aimed at averting war on Cyprus. But Cypriot President Makarios said any enlargement of the force would have to be considered by the council "with due regard to the sovereignty of Cyprus."

The council must meet soon anyway to vote on extending the life of the U.N. Cyprus force whose mandate expires Dec. 28. Makarios, last of the three government leaders to respond to Thant, called Monday for withdrawal ultimately of all Greek and Turkish troops on Cyprus.

Thant had proposed withdrawal of Greek and Turkish troops above the levels prescribed in the 1960 Cyprus independence agreements. They provided for 950 Greek soldiers and 650 Turkish troops in the Mediterranean island republic. The Greeks are reported to have about 12,000 troops on Cyprus and the Turks about 1,200.

Turkish Premier Suleyman Demirel stressed in his reply to Thant his government's demands for the disbandment of the 10,000-man Greek Cypriot national guard and for the restoration of special political rights granted the Turkish Cypriots by the 1960 agreements.

But with the threat of a Turkish invasion averted for the moment, Foreign Minister Spyros Kyprianou of Cyprus told a news conference in Nicosia the Turkish Cypriot minority must ultimately accept the rule of the Greek Cypriot majority with safeguards for minority rights, possibly through a U.N. guarantee.

"No other country can decide our future," Kyprianou said. There are 480,000 Greek Cypriots and 120,000 Turkish Cypriots. Turkish Foreign Minister Ihsan Sabri Caglayangil told his parliament—the threat of war would remain unless the provisions of the Cyprus settlement are carried out in full.

Idaho Falls Charts Community Program

IDAHO FALLS, Idaho (AP)—You're a stranger in town and you need help: to whom do you turn?

Residents of this eastern Idaho community are attempting to provide the answer, be the question financial, physical or spiritual.

By pooling the ideas, talents and resources of social service organizations ranging from the Chamber of Commerce to the churches, the plan is "to get help to the persons most needing it at the least cost."

A nonprofit corporation has been formed to coordinate the activities of such organizations, including city, county, state and federal government health and welfare agencies.

Its directors hope to be able to provide an office with a full-time staff member to counsel and guide persons needing assistance.

President of the organization—formally named the Bonneville Interagency Council—is State Sen. Orval Hansen, R-Idaho Falls.

"The idea," Hansen said, "grows from the recognition that there are a great many organizations furnishing social services that duplicate each other and overlap."

By bringing the service organizations together in a coordinated front, Hansen continued, the interagency council hopes to accomplish three objectives:

—Provide a flow of information among the agencies themselves.

—Provide information to prospective recipients on what services are available and where they can be obtained.

—Provide some new services not presently furnished by an existing agency.

Emphasis of the council will be not only on helping the indent, but also those whose problems fall outside the usual categorical qualifications for assistance.

For instance, the council eventually hopes to provide a debt-counseling service, Hansen said.

"In addition, we also envision providing the services of a professional in determining the needs of a person," he said. "He will be a case worker type."

The council also might qualify as the agent for federally financed community action programs under the Office of Economic Opportunity.

Dirksen Proposal Stalls School Aid Bill

By JOE HALL
 WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen's proposal to ban use of federal funds for busing students to overcome racial imbalances in schools is stalling Senate consideration of a giant school aid bill.

The Senate took three votes on the amendment Monday night, settled two of them by ties, and ended up right where it started.

The amendment and a modification of it proposed by Sen. Robert P. Griffin, D-Mich., are back before the body today.

Dirksen indicated he would say more before the question is settled. Indications in Monday's third roll call were that he would end up on the losing side.

Also waiting action before final passage of the bill were some equally controversial amendments by Southern senators.

They supported Dirksen but his proposal did not go to the heart of matters they are concerned about.

Their amendments would tie the hands of the Health, Education and Welfare Department in issuing desegregation orders.

The $14.2 billion bill would extend for three years the Elementary and Secondary School Act and other important federal education aid programs.

Dirksen, in offering his amendment, pointed out it already is illegal for HEW to require busing of students to achieve racial balance in schools as a condition for receipt of federal aid.

He said Congress should go a step further and prohibit use of any federal money for this purpose.

Sen. Wayne Morse, D-Ore., floor manager for the bill, denounced the amendment as "federal control of the grossest kind."

Morse insisted that Washington should remain neutral on the issue, allowing local school districts to use the money for this kind of busing if they wanted to.

Griffin, agreeing with Morse then proposed a modification of Dirksen's amendment, adding to it language to permit busing if this were decided on by a state or local education board without pressure from HEW.

Dirksen roared this would "gut my amendment" and called for its defeat.

Griffin's rider did lose 38 to 38 on the first vote. However, Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, D-N.Y., who supports it, walked into the chamber immediately after the vote.

Kennedy moved to reconsider the vote. Dirksen sought to kill this with a tabling motion, but lost 39 to 39.

The vote then came on Kennedy's motion. It was adopted 40 to 38, bringing the Griffin proposal back for another test.

Morse served notice on the Southerners he was going to oppose all their amendments in the civil rights area, declaring he had the backing of the Johnson administration. Some Southerners said there might be lengthy debate on the bill.

Gov. Wallace Hits Supreme Court Ruling

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP) — Gov. Lurleen Wallace predicts "the people are ultimately going to change the effect" of a U.S. Supreme Court ruling upholding court-ordered desegregation in Alabama's public schools.

The court affirmed Monday a three-judge panel's March 22 decree.

Mrs. Wallace made a brief statement to newsmen at the Capitol, calling the ruling "a part of the master plan being pushed and sponsored by the enemies of our constitution to nationalize our schools."

The court affirmed the ruling of the panel that the governor and other state officials "take affirmative action to disestablish all state-enforced or encouraged public school segregation and to eliminate the effects of past... discrimination."

She called the decision "unfortunate since it takes from the state and the people the right to operate its own school system."

The governor's husband, former Alabama Gov. George C. Wallace who preceded her in office, said the ruling would "in effect, destroy neighborhood schools" because it would result in widespread busing of pupils to equalize racial composition of classes.

Wallace, campaigning in San Bernardino, Calif., to put his American Independent Party on California's primary ballot, predicted that the courts would extend the desegregation order throughout the nation.

"We can have freedom of choice if you choose like they (the courts) think you should choose," he said.

Mrs. Wallace refused to answer questions from newsmen about her statement. However, aides referred them to her March 30 speech in which the governor suggested Alabama might need to invoke its police power giving the governor or the legislature authority to administer the schools.

Locked Up

Incumbent Keeps Richfield Post

RICHFIELD — Orin Capps, incumbent, was re-elected to the Richfield Highway District board in Monday's election. He received 25 votes for the post in sub-district No. 3.

Three directors also were elected Monday in the first election of the newly formed Richfield Fire Protection District. Albert Pelly received 25 votes for a two-year term, and William (Bill) Morgan and James M. Brown were named to four-year terms with 26 and 24 votes respectively.

Indicted Man Is Hunted

JEFFERSON, Ga. (AP) — A hunt was under way today for one of five men indicted on murder charges Monday in the gangland-style slaying of Floyd G. Hoard, a state prosecutor.

The other four men, including 76-year-old convicted bootlegger A. C. "Cliff" Park, were in custody in different jails in the north Georgia area.

Capt. J. E. Carnes of the Georgia Bureau of Investigation said George Iras Worley, about 40, of the Commerce area, was being sought.

Wesley Channell, who succeeded Hoard as Piedmont circuit prosecutor after Hoard's death four months ago, said Worley had not been seen since Wednesday.

Named in the indictment with Worley and Park, who live at nearby Pendergrass, were Lloyd George Seay, 23, of Dawsonville; John Hyman Blackwell, 27, of Ball Ground, and George Douglas Pinion, about 40, of the Commerce area.

The Jackson County grand jury returned the indictment after several hours of hearing evidence.

Arraignment was set for Dec. 15 by Superior Court Judge Mark Donahoo, who called a special term of court for Dec. 18 to try the murder charge. Donahoo, who issued bench warrants for the men, ordered that bail be denied.

Channell said there were some sudden breaks in the investigation of the Aug. 7 dynamite bombing slaying of Hoard, a crime-fighting prosecutor.

"In the past few days, it reached the stage where we could present evidence to the grand jury," Channell said.

The indictment was announced in Atlanta by Gov. Lester Maddox.

Hoard, 40-year-old father of four, was killed when he turned the ignition key of his car and set off a dynamite bomb wired under the hood. He was headed for the courthouse and a grand jury session, at which apparently routine auto theft and liquor cases were to be presented.

Transport Federation Plans Action

LONDON (AP) — The 7-million member International Transport Workers' Federation said today it is considering "concerted action" against all of Greece's ships and planes to protest against the Greek military dictatorship's anti-union policies.

Authoritative sources said this could mean a total boycott.

The move is to protest "interference by the Greek military regime with the freedom of ITF affiliated trade unions in Greece and the victimization of trade union leaders," the ITF said.

More than 1,600 ships fly the Greek flag.

Eleven transport workers' unions in Greece are affiliated with the ITF, which has its headquarters in London. Seven are civil aviation unions. The others represent seamen; dockers, railwaymen and road haulers.

The ITF management committee met in London Saturday and asked General Secretary Hans Imhof to discuss possible action with affiliated unions.

It was not known when a decision would be made or for how long a boycott—if decided upon—would last.

Wife Of Slayer Is Sentenced

SALT LAKE CITY (AP) — The wife of a convicted murderer was sentenced to an indeterminate term of up to three years in prison today for attempting to help her husband escape from death row at Utah State Prison.

The sentence was meted in Third District Court to Donna Maxine Lance, wife of Myron D. Lance, by Judge Merrill C. Faux.

Mrs. Lance, 27, was found guilty Nov. 13 of carrying a .22-caliber pistol into the prison concealed in her cowboy boot.

Strange Places

LOA, Utah (AP) — Two Utah babies may have a little trouble explaining exactly where they were born.

Both arrived as their parents raced the stork 50 miles from Loa to Richfield in a remote area of central Utah.

The latest was a 4½-pound boy born Saturday at 8:30 p.m. in the mountains near Fish Lake, with the temperature 12 below zero. It was the first baby for Wayne Grundy, 19, and his wife, Geraldine, 17, of Loa.

Nov. 19 Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Okerlund of Lyman only made half the distance to Richfield when their fourth child, a six-pound girl, arrived. She'll have to list her birth place as Oak Springs Campground.

Diplomat Will Shift To New Position

WASHINGTON (AP) — Veteran diplomat Charles E. Bohlen will be leaving his post as ambassador to France and will replace Eoy-D. Kohler as deputy undersecretary of state for political affairs.

The White House, announcing the top-level shifts in the foreign affairs line-up Tuesday, said the 59-year-old Kohler is retiring to become a professor at the University of Miami's Center for Advanced International Studies.

There was no word on when Bohlen might be replaced in Paris. He has been home for consultations since Nov. 15.

Both Kohler and Bohlen are former ambassadors to the Soviet Union. Kohler was in Moscow for four years prior to becoming deputy undersecretary of state a year ago. Bohlen, now 63, was in Moscow from 1953 to 1957.

Kohler, who will be 60 next February, is the No. 4 official of the State Department and the highest ranking diplomat in the foreign service. His official title is deputy undersecretary for political affairs.

The slight 5-foot-8 diplomat had been U.S. ambassador to the Soviet Union before his appointment to his present job in November 1966. He joined the foreign service in December 1931.

Kohler is regarded as one of the few first rate Kremlinologists in the foreign service.

Festive Colors In Fireplace Can Be Created

SHOSHONE—Festive colors in the fireplace can be created at home with common fuels and chemicals according to Ivan Hopkins, county agricultural agent. He offered the reminder this week, as Thanksgiving day activities paved the way for the Christmas season.

Many sorts of fuel are well adapted to production of colorful flames, passing on tips from Vernon Burlison, forester of the University of Idaho extension service.

Weather pine cones, sticks, chips, sawdust and tight rolls of newspaper about one inch in diameter do nicely. All fuels must be dry before they are given a color treatment.

The following chemicals create the colors indicated.

They are Borax for vivid green, copper sulfate for green, calcium chloride for blue, lithium chloride for orange, potassium chloride for purple and sodium chloride for yellow.

"But don't use chlorates, nitrates or potassium permanganate," the specialists advise. They may cause explosions.

To make the amount of treating solution chemicals for one color, dissolve the chemical in water at the rate of one pound per gallon. Earthen crocks, porcelain buckets or pans, and wooden planters soaked until they are water tight make good containers.

Wide-mouth glass jars are all right for small quantities.

Put the fuel in bags of mesh or thin cloth. Submerge them in the solution 24 hours, holding them down with a brick.

If the fuel is aspen, poplar or cottonwood, the soaking time is less. Try a bit of treated material to see if it is "done."

And be sure to do all treating outdoors. Wear rubber gloves. Be careful of spills on floors, walks and clothing. Keep the chemical away from children and pets.

At the end of the soaking period, hang the bags of treated fuel above the vats until they stop dripping. Then spread them out until thoroughly dry.

Burn the fuels only in well-drafted fireplaces. The most vivid colors can be obtained when small amounts of the treated fuel are added to a bed of glowing coals.

MR. AND MRS. LARRY D. HUGHES (Dudley photo)

Leslie Cline, Larry Hughes Wed In November Ceremony

HAILEY—The First Methodist Church was the setting for the Nov. 11 marriage of Leslie Lois Cline, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Cline, Hailey, to Larry Douglas Hughes, son of Mr. and Mrs. Everett Hughes, Eden.

The double ring ceremony was performed by Rev. Harold Nye, Twin Falls.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of white velvet. The empress style featured long pointed sleeves, a sweetheart neckline and a cathedral train, accented with a velvet bow at the empire waistline, and seed pearls around the neckline and train. The gown was made for the bride by Mrs. Jerry Johnson, Hailey.

Her veil was fingertip-length of imported English lace, held by a headpiece of seed pearl petals. The bride wore a single pearl necklace and matching earrings, a gift from the bridegroom. Her blue garter was a shower gift from Mrs. Don Gelsky. She carried a spray of deep pink roses and white Stephanotis on a white Bible.

Maid of honor was Patti Broadie, Boise, friend of the bride.

The bridesmaids were Nancy Hawkes, Granger, Utah; Elaine Cloughton, Bellevue, and Elizabeth Sheffield, Hailey.

Best man was Larry Luper, Jerome. Ushers were Luper, Stamps, Lampoc, Calif.; Paul Kasperman, Eden, and Roger Johnson, Twin Falls; all friends of the bridegroom.

Pre-nuptial showers were held for the bride in Eden and Hailey. A rehearsal dinner was hosted by the bridegroom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Roger Johnson, Twin Falls; all friends of the bridegroom.

The flower girl was Wendy Faulk, niece of the bride. Ring-bearer was Corky Strain, nephew of the bridegroom.

The church was decorated with arrangements of large white chrysanthemums and pink gladioli, white bows and candelabra. Soloist was Jay Fowles, Shoshone, accompanied by his wife, Lorraine.

The reception that followed the ceremony was held in the basement of the church. The bride's table was covered with a white linen tablecloth and centered with the wedding cake. Small green leaves decorated the base of the cake. A centerpiece of chrysanthemums and carnations decorated the punch and coffee table. The guest tables held centerpieces of floating carnations.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Margaret Watts, Mrs. Teddy Hawkes, Mrs. Susan Snyder and Mrs. Sylvia Harris.

Gifts were received by Wade Faulk and Scott Faulk, nephews of the bride, and displayed by Mrs. Barbra Strain, sister of the bridegroom; Mrs. Myrta Faulk, sister-in-law of the bride, and Mrs. Brenda Luper, friend of the couple. The guest book was attended by Sharon Hughes, sister of the bridegroom.

Pre-nuptial showers were held for the bride in Eden and Hailey. A rehearsal dinner was hosted by the bridegroom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Roger Johnson, Twin Falls; all friends of the bridegroom.

The couple will reside west of Eden, where the bridegroom is engaged in farming.

Guests attended from Keichum, Jerome, Salt Lake, Jackpot, Nev.

Wifford Richins Feted At Party

DECLO—Wifford F. Richins, long-time Declo resident, was honored at an open house in observance of his 80th birthday anniversary at his home recently.

Many friends and relatives were served at a table covered with lace and centered with a three-tiered birthday cake decorated in yellow and white. Vases of chrysanthemums flanked the cake, which was topped with a large numeral "80."

Presiding at the serving table were Mrs. Earl (Lucille) Darrington and Mrs. Heber (Geneal) Huft, daughters of the honoree, and two daughters-in-law, Mrs. Orva Richins and Mrs. Gale Richins.

Granddaughters assisting with the serving were Pamela Hunt, Denise Hunt, Elaine, Carleen and Lisa Richins, and a great-granddaughter, Carolyn Hurst.

Bouquets and floral arrangements sent by friends decorated the Richins home.

Friends attended from Utah, Pocatello, Twin Falls, Burley, Rupert and Oakley.

MR. AND MRS. GROVER BEEM... Filer, will celebrate their Golden Wedding Anniversary with an open house at their farm west of Filer from 2 to 5 p.m. Dec. 10. All friends and relatives of the couple are invited to attend. The couple requests no gifts. Mr. and Mrs. Beem were married Dec. 9, 1917, and are parents of four living children. One daughter, Mrs. Mary Louise Holste, died in 1954. Their children include Mrs. Cora Lucille Lloyd, Philadelphia, Pa.; Eugene I. Beem, La. Dear Abby

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN DEAR ABBY: My husband and I recently made a shocking discovery. We happened to come across our daughter's bank book, and found she had deposited more than $1,000 in her savings account since June!

Our daughter is 20, and worked as a cashier last summer. Most of her paycheck went for clothes, and she said she was saving "a little." She worked only 10 weeks, and she couldn't possibly have saved that amount from her earnings. There's only one way she could have gotten that much money and that was to steal it. How she ever managed to get away with it is beyond us.

She is back in college now (less than 100 miles from home) and is doing well. We want to know how to handle this. Should we go to her ex-employer, whom we have never even met, and ask him if he will please take the money back and not press charges? Or should we do nothing and hope that her conscience bothers her enough to do something about it herself? Please help us, Abby. We are well aware that if her former employer wants to be ugly about it, he could send her to jail.

CAN'T SLEEP

DEAR ABBY: My boyfriend is in the navy and soon will be discharged. He is a very good looking sailor and looks terrific in his "blues."

My problem is trying to get him to wear his uniform when we go out. He says he is sick and tired of looking at uniforms and it's bad enough wearing one when he has to.

He looks good in his civies, too, but a girl is proud to be seen with a guy in service, and I would much rather have him wear his uniform when we're out. We argue about this all the time. Can you help me!

NAVY BLUES

DEAR BLUES: I know how you feel. If I also know how he feels, but your man is being discharged soon, ask him to do you a favor and hold still long enough for you to get a picture of him in his blues. In the meantime, get off his back and let him cover it with a suit of his choice.

CONFIDENTIAL TO Deeply Troubled: By all means, see your minister, but don't expect miracles. The help a minister gives is not a shield to hide behind, but a sword to fight with.

Problems? Write to Abby, Box 63700, Los Angeles, Cal. 90069. For a personal reply, enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

DEAR ABBY: What do you think of a married woman who carried on with a bachelor for 26 years, and then drops him and goes with a married man for 9 years? Then her husband dies, and for 4 years she's been going with a kid young enough to be her son?

WONDERING

DEAR WONDERING: I think she must be a very old woman

Magic Valley Favorites

MRS. B. FISHER 490 Filer Ave., Twin Falls

Turkey Newburg in Patty Shells

1 package frozen patty shells
1 cup sliced mushrooms
3 tablespoons butter or margarine
1 tablespoon flour
2 cups diced cooked turkey
2 teaspoon ground thyme
3 egg yolks
1 cup light cream
1/2 teaspoon white pepper
1/2 teaspoon salt

Sprinkle of nutmeg

Prepare patty shells according to directions on package. Sauté mushrooms in butter for five minutes. Stir in flour and cook one minute. Add turkey and thyme and cook two minutes longer.

In top of double boiler, beat egg yolk slightly. Add cream and seasoning. Stir to mix well. Place over hot, not boiling, water and cook, stirring constantly, until just thickened. Add mushrooms and turkey mixture. Continue to stir and cook until well blended and thickened to consistency of heavy cream. Serve at once in hot patty shells.

Johnson Relies On Words More Than Action

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson is apparently relying more on words than action so far to counter any threat of a wage-price spiral posed by impending hikes in steel prices.

Johnson was something less than vehement at a Monday news conference in reaction to the steel price boosts.

When a reporter said other prices usually follow when steel boosts its prices and asked whether Johnson planned any action, the President replied, "We have exercised such rights as we had in the matter."

But he added the administration will continue to urge labor and business to keep a damper on price and wage boosts.

Otherwise Johnson stood on what he called "our very strong-felt views", as stated Saturday by Gardner Ackley, his chief economic adviser. — Reacting to a price boost on steel sheets announced by U.S. Steel Corp. the day before, Ackley said it represented "another turn in the price-wage spiral" and called for enactment of the tax increase Johnson wants plus "more responsible behavior on wages and prices by both labor and management."

At almost the instant Johnson was talking about the steel situation with newsmen, Bethlehem Steel Corp. announced it was following U.S. Steel in boosting the base price of cold rolled sheets—used in the manufacture of autos and appliances—by $5 a net ton as of Dec. 15.

Johnson also was asked whether he was considering asking Congress for emergency wage and price controls as an alternative to his beleaguered proposal for a 10 per cent income tax surcharge.

"No such proposals are under consideration at this time," he replied. Then he added: "I say, nothing at this time."

The news conference developed without prior announcement when reporters were ushered into the Cabinet Room at the White House.

Miss Switzer Aims To Find People Jobs

WASHINGTON (AP) — Mary Switzer, the silver-haired director of the federal-state welfare program, says her prime aim is to help people get off relief by finding them jobs.

"We simply have never really tried," says Miss Switzer. She promised—with the help of legislation she expects to be passed soon by Congress—to make the attempt. "But we haven't got much time," she said in an interview.

She said taxpayers are rightfully fed up with the growing cost of welfare. And she said those on welfare have reached a point of dangerous frustration.

"There isn't anything that's so destructive of the inner life of a country as despair," she said. "And when you have so many millions of people who can't see the light at the end of the tunnel, then you've got some trouble."

Miss Switzer said the program to get people off the rolls will take "the maximum effort to provide work and training for those for whom it's appropriate."

The House and Senate are ironing out differences on slightly varying plans that for the first time would provide large amounts of money to give job training to welfare recipients. The plans also would finance day care for children of welfare parents who work.

Miss Switzer, 67, was named in August to head the newly created Social and Rehabilitation Service of the U.S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare. She had won acclaim as director of the federal program to train and get jobs for the handicapped and hopes to apply the same principles to employable families on welfare.

New Brunswick Has Heavy Snow

FREDERICTON, N.B. (AP) — Residents of much of New Brunswick began shoveling out today from a record snowfall that spilled 25 inches in 18 hours Monday on the capital city of Fredericton.

The storm caused cancellation of all flights to and from the city and brought automobile traffic to a near halt. One train was derailed, but no injuries were reported.

One death was attributed to the snow. A car struck a five-year-old boy on a storm-swept highway in the Gloucester County community of Losier Settlement.

Lt. Gen. Chapman Is Marine Commandant

LT. GEN. LEONARD CHAPMAN

Announcing his decision at a Monday news conference, Johnson gave no hint of the behind-the-scenes heat generated for months by rival backers of Lt. Gen. Victor H. Krulak and Lt. Gen. Lewis H. Walt.

The quiet, unspectacular Chapman, 54, has been assistant commandant since July and more than three years before that was chief of staff under Gen. Wallace M. Greene Jr., the present commandant. "It happens that the commandant is going out and his first assistant is going in," was the way Johnson put it.

Chapman will become the 24th commandant of Marines, now numbering more than 300,000, when Greene retires Dec. 31. He will be elevated to the four-star rank of full general if, as expected, the Senate confirms his nomination.

Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara, who will leave the Pentagon sometime next year to become president of the World Bank, was reported to have recommended Krulak to become the next Marine commandant. Krulak is chief of the Fleet Marine Force Pacific.

Marine sources said Krulak has indicated previously he might retire if he didn't make commandant.

Big, broad-shouldered Walt, who became a public figure while commanding the Marines fighting in Vietnam, is widely admired at corps headquarters, where he is in charge of personnel matters.

Walt has been criticized privately by some Army generals who disagreed with his tactics and employment of troops in both pacification and combat operations against North Vietnamese forces.

There were reports last week that Army Gen. William C. Westmoreland, U.S. commander

Election Laws Committee To Meet Dec. 18

POCATELLO, Idaho (AP) — After agreeing to meet once again before a Dec. 31 deadline, the Idaho Legislature's Election Laws Committee wound up a one-day meeting amid partisan grumbling.

The committee adjourned Monday after a party line vote defeated a Democratic proposal to draw party central committee membership from legislative districts rather than counties.

The group earlier believed its task of revising the state's election laws could be finished Monday, but decided to meet again Dec. 18 to polish up details.

A report on proposed changes is to be submitted to the full legislative council by Dec. 31.

The report may be included on the agenda of a special legislative session planned for January although consideration of it at that time has been opposed by the State Republican Central Committee.

In Vietnam, was for Walt but Westmoreland denied injecting himself into the situation. Chapman had the advantage of being liked by just about everybody of consequence, the sources said.

Peace Corps Applications Are Down

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Because of the "cynical" attitude of many young Americans, applications to join the Peace Corps have declined 30 per cent this year, says the corps' national recruiting director.

Ray Holland attributed the drop off to troubles such as the Vietnam war and U.S. rioting which he says have "made young Americans cynical about their ability to change anything in the world."

The corps is concerned about the drop, he said Monday. But so far its programs have not been affected. He declined to give comparative nationwide figures on the number of applications.

He was confident that the year-end total would be closer to 1966's total because the corps this year departed from its tradition of doing heaviest recruiting during the fall and spread it more evenly throughout the year.

Some "big" contributing schools haven't been hit yet, Holland said.

"None of us subscribes to the belief that the Peace Corps is dying, or is gravely ill, or that it is no longer a valid option for all Americans," said corps selection director Joe Farrell, who joined Holland on a recruiting team visiting California schools.

Holland said there is "an increasing reluctance on the part of young people to become associated with the U.S. government, which they see waging a war they cannot support."

Lynda's Wedding Cake Unveiled

WASHINGTON (AP) — It's six feet high, weighs 250 pounds and its five layers are encrusted with sugary scrolls, loops, braids, flowers and love birds in flight.

After it is unveiled Saturday in the East Room of the White House—the mammoth wedding cake will be cut with a Marine Corps sword wielded by the President's daughter and her groom, Capt. Charles S. Robb.

The cake was prepared for Lynda Bird Johnson by pastry chef Clement Maggia of the Greenbrier resort at White Sulphur Springs, W.Va.

Glenns Ferry Farmer Fete Set Jan. 20

GLENN'S FERRY — Annual Farmers' Night Dinner of the Glenns Ferry Chamber of Commerce will be held Jan. 20, it was decided at Monday's luncheon meeting in Hansen's Cafe.

The meal honoring the local farmers will be served in the Glenns Ferry High School.

Vern Ahlschlager, first vice chairman, presided at the meeting. Supt. George A. Powell told about recent decisions affecting the Glenns Ferry High School football squad.

Glenns Ferry will play in the Little Six League, comprised of Hagerman, Filer, Gooding, Wood River and Glenns Ferry. The squad also will play several games in the Big Eight schedule.

Next Monday's meeting will be election of officers for the chamber.

The group discussed possibilities of sponsoring a Santa Claus night in Glenns Ferry, and Mr. Ahlschlager was named to contact the businessmen who might be interested in such a venture.

Trees Gone

To anyone who wants to cut a Christmas tree in the South Hills, forget it.

This is the word from the Forest Service. Officials said Tuesday that the family Christmas tree supply in the area has been exhausted.

More people than were anticipated cut trees during recent weekends.

Forest Ranger George B. Fry said the only planned area left for the cutting of Christmas trees, is snow-bound, making access impossible.

Author Appeals Against War

LONDON (AP) — John le Carre, author of such cold war thrillers as "The Spy Who Came in from the Cold," signed Monday a public appeal denouncing the Vietnam war.

The appeal, also signed by Sir Julian Huxley, actor Peter Ustinov and author Nancy Mitford, appeared as an advertisement in the Times. It urged Britons to lend moral and financial support to Americans seeking to evade the draft to avoid service in Vietnam.

Court Strengthens Workers' Rights To File Charges

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Supreme Court strengthened today the rights of workers to file charges against their employers with the National Labor Relations Board.

Ruling 8 to 0, the court said Florida—and by implication all other states—may not disqualify laid-off workers from unemployment benefits for filing charges with the NLRB.

"Congress," said Justice Hugo L. Black, "has made it clear that it wishes all persons with information about such practices to be completely free from coercion against reporting them to the board."

As long ago as 1819, Black said, the Supreme Court declared the states are without power to impede or in any way control, the operation of constitutional laws enacted by Congress to carry out powers vested in the federal government.

Today's ruling was given in a case involving Mrs. Minnie E. Nash, a 54-year-old employe of the Stanley Building Specialties Co. in Miami.

As a member of the United Steelworkers union, Mrs. Nash had joined in a strike against the company. A month after she returned to her job she was laid off—because, the union claimed in a complaint to the NLRB—of her union activities.

All states consider a strike a "labor dispute" and disqualify striking workers from unemployment benefits—at least for a specified period. The state industrial commission of Florida, however, extended the "labor dispute" concept to cover Mrs. Nash's complaint to the NLRB and barred benefits for her while the complaint was pending.

The Florida commission relied on a state law that Black said had been applied in conflict with the federal Constitution.

Congress, in setting up NLRB machinery, Black said, made the filing of an unfair labor practice charge necessary before the board can begin unfair labor practice proceedings.

Florida's action, he said, had a tendency to frustrate "the purpose of Congress to leave people free to make charges of unfair labor practices to the board."

The state, Black said, applied its unemployment compensation law so that a worker who believes he has been wrongly discharged has two choices: (1) he may keep quiet and receive unemployment compensation until he finds a new job or (2) he may file an unfair labor practice charge.

If he files the charge, Black continued, he surrenders his right to unemployment compensation and runs a risk of financial ruin if the litigation is protracted. "Even the hope of a future award of back pay may mean little to a man of modest means and heavy responsibilities faced with the immediate severance of sustaining financial funds," Black wrote.

Williams Asks Marking Of State Cars

BOISE (AP)—State Auditor Joseph R. Williams urged Tuesday that all state-owned cars be marked front and rear to show their ownership.

He said he believes it would be a deterrent to fast driving on the highways.

In a letter to Gov. Don W. Samuelson, Williams suggested that the word "Idaho" or words "State of Idaho" be painted "in letters large enough to be legible by people traveling upon the highway" on the front and back of all state cars.

"I would like to urge you," Williams told the governor, "to give the utmost consideration to the benefits in the way of reduced traffic accidents that could come from the conspicuous marking of all state operated vehicles and to solicit your effort to give such a program a try in our state."

Jehovah's Witnesses Hold Events

The local congregation of Jehovah's Witnesses is sharing this week in a special program under the direction of D. G. Pike, Circuit Supervisor of Jehovah's Witnesses for Idaho Circuit No. 3, according to R. C. Shaw, presiding minister of the Twin Falls congregation.

"It will be a week of special activity in that Mr. Pike will be assisting members of the local group to improve in their door-to-door and Bible Study Ministry. A special week of meetings have also been arranged to derive the most from Mr. Pike's visit," said Mr. Shaw.

The Theocratic Ministry School will be conducted at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday followed by the service meeting. The congregation Bible Study, normally held on Tuesday evening, will be held on Thursday evening at all locations at 8 p.m. Saturday evening the congregation will all participate in a special program on "New Things Learned."

The highlight of the week will be a public Bible talk given by Mr. Pike at 3 p.m. Sunday, entitled "Science, the Bible and Your Faith." This will be followed by the Watchtower Study on the subject "Let Down Your Nets for a Catch."

All interested persons are welcome.

BOSTON (AP)—The first 10 amendments of the U.S. Constitution were proposed in 1789 to the first Congress of the United States and ratified in 1791.

Massachusetts, however, did not ratify the amendments until March 2, 1839.

Charles Robb Family Tree Is Traced

BERN, Switzerland (AP)—The Swiss news agency said today it traced the family tree of President Johnson's future son-in-law and discovered that he is a direct descendant of Swiss nobility.

Capt. Charles Spittal Robb will marry the President's daughter Lynda Saturday. The agency's research showed he is descended on his mother's side from the famous old Bern family of Von Grafenried. His great-great-grandmother was Cicely de Grafenried, a member of the so-called Worb branch of the family founded by Abraham von Grafenried, born 1580, who married Ursula von Diesbach-Wrob.

Abraham's grandson, Aton von Grafenried (1639-1730), was the first one in the family to get mixed up with the Anglo-Saxons when he became a member of the English Academy of Science.

Court Rules Unions May Hire Lawyers In Recovery Cases

WASHINGTON (AP)—Unions may hire lawyers to represent members in compensation cases, the Supreme Court ruled today.

The 8-1 decision, given by Justice Hugo L. Black, rejected the idea that this amounts to unauthorized practice of law by the union.

It specifically endorsed a plan used by the United Mine Workers in Illinois and the decision could serve to encourage similar arrangements for other unions, associations and church groups.

Black rested the decision on the guarantees of free speech, assembly and petition by the First Amendment to the Constitution, and on the bar that the 14th Amendment erected against state infringements of these rights.

"That the states have broad power to regulate the practice of law is, of course, beyond question," the justice wrote. "But it is equally apparent that broad rules framed to protect the public and to preserve respect for the administration of justice can in their actual operation significantly impair the value of associational freedoms."

For this reason, Black said, the high court was reversing a ruling by the Illinois Supreme Court that prohibited the Mine Workers' arrangements.

Under the plan, set up in 1913, UMW District 12, which represents 15,000 members in Illinois and Iowa, hired a lawyer for $12,400 a year and expenses to handle the members' injury claims. The UMW has a similar plan in about 15 other states.

The dissenter, Justice John M. Harlan, said the decision "cuts deeply into one of the most traditional of state concerns, the maintenance of high standards within the state legal profession. I find myself unable to subscribe to it."

The Illinois Supreme Court's ruling in May 1966 was on a suit brought by the state bar association. The bar group contended UMW members' injury claims could not be handled properly by a union-hired lawyer.

A disparity between the median incomes of white and Negro families is evident in all sections of the United States, according to the U.S. Department of Commerce. Negro families in 1965 were about one-fifth larger, on the average, than white families, but the average income of Negroes in 1964 was only about 54 per cent that of white families. Median income for Negro families in 1964 was $3,700 per year, as compared with $6,900 for whites. Widest difference was in the south, where Negro family income averaged $2,900, to $5,900 for whites.

Put your foot down on LOOK BINDINGS

From Beconta's "Best of Everything" Group
The Look Nevada Toe Unit and the Look Grand Prix Heel Release Turntable are as good for beginners as they are for experts.
Used together, the action is so efficient you can use a very light setting without worrying about accidental release. The non-freezing enclosed cam mechanism of the heel unit provides a shock-absorbing effect to help avoid accidental release. Yet the instant you face a real forward or slow twisting fall, the Look Nevada and Grand Prix are ready to release instantly, cleanly, safely. After that just step in, put your foot down and you're on your way again.

One more example of the quality brand names you'll find in our collection of ski equipment and clothing. Come in and see the others.

MORE CUES THAN IN POOL HALL

In the first days of contract there were no forcing bids at all. If someone picked up today's South hand in those times, he would probably jump right to six spades over East's club opening. Or maybe he would settle for game only.

He used the cue bid to show some sort of very distributional hand. Today most experts have followed along, although they use the weakish cue bid over a minor to show both majors. South was playing that convention but still bid two clubs over the one-club opening. He wasn't happy about his chances of getting anywhere because, as far as he knew, his partner had a fairly weak hand.

South didn't have that weak hand. He had the old-fashioned rock crusher cue bid. He might have jumped right to six hearts but South was willing to try for the grand slam. He bid three clubs as a repeat of his initial cue bid.

North perked up. The first cue bid might have shown a poorish two suiter. The second said, "Hold everything. I have a real hand." North still couldn't be sure if his partner really held no clubs, but North did hold the ace of clubs and saw no reason not to show it.

He bid four clubs. South knew that this was a real cue bid and this left South with no further problems. He closed the bidding at seven hearts.

CARD SENSE

The bidding has been:
West North East South
1 ♣ 1 ♠ 1 ♣ 1 ♠
2 ♣ 2 ♠ 2 ♣ 2 ♠
3 ♣ 3 ♠ 3 ♣ 3 ♠
4 ♣ 4 ♠ 4 ♣ 4 ♠
5 ♣ 5 ♠ 5 ♣ 5 ♠
6 ♣ 6 ♠ 6 ♣ 6 ♠
7 ♣ 7 ♠ 7 ♣ 7 ♠

As dealer he would have a similar problem. Then a combination of Ted Lightner, Waldemar von Zedtwitz and Oswald Jacoby invented the forcing two bid and we had a way to handle the South hand as the opening bidder. It wasn't long thereafter when someone thought of bidding your opponent's suit to show that same type of big hand, and the cue bid of the opponent's opening was a second game force.

South's two-club bid didn't quite mean that. About 10 years ago the late Mike Michaels invented the Michaels cue bid.

Unwed Mother Tells Her Story

Today we're turning our entire column over to a guest "expert" who offers insight to an increasingly common tragedy.

Dear Ele and Walt: The letter recently in your column from "lost" prompted me to write to you.

When I read that letter, I was lying in the hospital the day after giving birth to a beautiful baby girl. I am 18, an only child from an upper-middle class home, recently graduated with a partial scholarship, and very much unmarried. I love and respect my parents very much, though I have often felt almost "unloved" since they are away from home so much. I want to point out that having an illegitimate child can happen to nearly any girl. From any class in life or any social status. Two of my best friends became pregnant while unmarried in the last two years. One lost her baby and the second married and has a baby girl just a year old. But both came from fairly well-to-do families.

DIDN'T LOVE THE GUY
Your advice to "Lost" was the best you could have given her. But for me, all it took was a little alcohol and being alone. It only takes ONCE, and if people are going to fool around with sex, they are going to have to be prepared to take the consequences. The guy and I had discussed marriage after I graduated, but before I knew I was pregnant, I decided I did not love him, and we stopped dating. When I told him I was pregnant, he again asked me to marry him, but I refused. He agreed to pay all medical expenses for me, and help however he could.

My parents were really wonderful. My mother even told my father, and "calmed him down." I managed to finish school, and received a great deal of moral support from my folks. I also don't think I could have made it without my wonderful doctor, since I was in labor almost 18 hours. Thanks to him, I was never frightened or excited - even during delivery which was "natural birth."

REAL FRIENDS STAND BY
Keep telling these girls: There is no such thing as HAVING to get married. No marriage will really work unless there is love and maturity on both sides. There is only unhappiness for both individuals and especially for the child involved. There may be some "embarrassment," possibly the parents may suffer more "social embarrassment" than their daughter. But the real friends will stick by you, and a little embarrassment for a while is a lot better than the destruction of the happiness of three people. I was lucky enough to have my parents want me to stay at home. But in many cases, it is much better to go to a home for unwed mothers. Good counseling is available to help girls get through an emotionally difficult time.

FOR ADOPTION
I decided on my own to give up my baby for adoption. I made this decision shortly after learning I was pregnant. But I recommend that any girl who finds herself in that situation, please, in nine cases out of 10, the best thing for both the girl herself and the baby is give it up for adoption. The Child Welfare Department should always be the one to handle any proceedings of this type. They will see that it is done legally, and the baby will have the best possible home almost immediately after birth. My Welfare worker was marvelous. After the birth of my baby she helped me a great deal to accept the fact that I was giving her up for her own good and future happiness.

Ele and Walt, I hope you can continue to give advice to young people. Your column is wonderful since even just giving kids an outlet to express their problems sometimes does a world of good. Thank you for letting me get this off my mind. -Sincerely, An Unwed Mother.

And thank YOU for a thoughtful, honest letter. Just one point is omitted, and it's this: no unwed couple in this day and age has a right to play Russian Roulette with sex. If the pair is mature enough to have relations, they owe it to our society to take adequate safety precautions. Why? Because even the best loved of adopted children may suffer subtle psychological scarring from the fact that he was given up by his natural parents. This should not be permitted in this age of enlightened birth control.

Ele and Walt have special suggestions for late-night parties, where keeping the noise down to a dull roar would be appreciated by parents and neighbors. For a copy of their "Games-Letter," write to Teenage Date-Line, in care of this newspaper, enclosing a dime and a self-addressed envelope.

A few party games to break the ice are always handy tricks for a wise hostess to have up her sleeve. Ele has a wide selection in her pamphlet, "Ele's Ice Breakers: 33 Mixer Games." For a copy, write to Teenage Date-Line, in care of this newspaper, enclosing a dime and a self-addressed envelope.

"I'm sort of rushed, Father, so could you let me have a dollar and give me the lecture some other time?"

Stocks

NEW YORK (AP)—A strong stock market rally advanced through a tough area of resistance in heavy trading late this afternoon. Volume for the first four hours was 9.34 million shares compared with 8.36 million Monday. The Dow Jones Industrial average rose 7.39 to 890.89. The Dow Industrials penetrated the 885-890 zone which shortened last week's rally. Whether the average would hold the gain to the close was the question. Further fuel to bullish sentiment was added when Armco followed Bethlehem and U.S. Steel in raising prices for cold rolled sheets. Armco and Bethlehem were up about a point, U.S. Steel traded about unchanged and other major steelmakers showed fractional gains. Brunswick leaped to the top of the most active list, gaining 2 1/2 points. Also very active, McDonnell Douglas and SCM rose about 3 each, United Engineering and Armour more than a point each. Boise Cascade was heavily traded and down 1. Xerox dropped 5. On the American Stock Exchange, prices rose.

Grain

CHICAGO (AP)—The possibility that Congress may approve a bill that would create grain stockpiles in this country tended to strengthen prices on the Chicago Board of Trade today. Prices had been at or near their day's lows when word was circulated that another stockpile bill might be offered in the Senate. What futures thereupon advanced about a cent a bushel and corn and soybeans about 1/4 cent. Oats and rye closed a shade firmer, while soybean meal lost ground and soybean oil advanced. Choice steer trade was slow and prices closed irregular.

The Daily Investor

By JOHN CUNIFF AP Business Analyst
NEW YORK (AP)—While Congress and the administration battle to an impasse over taxes and spending, the battle of the pocketbook becomes more difficult. The ammunition in that battle just doesn't have its old firepower.

The green bill that was worth $1 in 1960 is now down to some where around 88 cents. The quarter, therefore, is worth about 22 cents compared with 1960. And the nickel is more for making change than for buying goods. This is the penalty of inflation, which many analysts feel can be solved only by higher taxes or government spending cuts, or by a combination of both. But Washington is stalemated.

The Daily Investor

Q. I am 67 and plan to retire in Ireland. I will buy a small house in Cork for about $9,000. Living is cheaper over there and medical expenses are low. I own a two-family house here. Between Social Security and rent (from the apartment and three garages) I have an income of $400 a month. The house is worth about $40,000. When I go to Ireland, would you recommend that I keep the house I have here? Or should I sell? A. Sure, now, when you "go home" (as the old folks in the Doyle family put it) it's not going to be easy managing the property in this country. Transatlantic arrangement of rent collection might not be too difficult. But you could have real problems handling real estate tax payments, meeting all the other bills and keeping the two-family house in good repair. Unless you have someone who can manage the property for you (at a reasonable cost to you) my vote would be to sell. Then, you can invest that $40,000 and live a worry-free retirement on the old boy. You can put the money in a good income-producing investment. It's easy to get five per cent or better in dividends in many high-quality stocks, such as electric and gas utility companies these days. On $40,000 a five per cent yield gives you $2,000 a year. That's not as much as you can get in rents from your property. It's probably not too much less than you would end up with, after meeting all the expenses of running that property from across the wide Atlantic. Q. You have explained that when a person "sells short," he borrows stock and sells it — in hopes that he can buy back an equal number of shares of the same stock at a lower price. When he "covers" by buying the stock, those shares are then delivered to the person he borrowed the stock from in the first place. Here's my question: Where does the short seller borrow the stock from? A. Normally he borrows it from another customer of the brokerage house with which he does business. All the arrangements are handled by the broker. Many people leave their stock certificates with their brokers in "street name" — meaning that the shares are registered in the name of the brokerage house. And many customers give their brokers the right to put their stocks out on loan. As a matter of fact, this is standard procedure for stocks held in "margin accounts" — in which the customers put up only part of the purchase price and borrow the rest through their brokers. So, if you sell 100 shares of XYZ stock short, your broker normally uses 100 shares of XYZ left with him by some other customers. And, if no other customer of that broker has 100

British Tennis Officials May Waiver Plan For Open Tourney

By GEOFFREY MILLER
LONDON (AP) — British tennis officials showed the first signs Monday of wavering on their revolutionary plan to stage an open Wimbledon tournament.

J. Aton Wimbledon, British delegate to the Executive Committee of the International Lawn Tennis Federation (ILTF), admitted it might be a good idea to postpone open tennis for at least a year.

Britain's bold position was shaken by failure of the other two big tennis playing nations, the United States and Australia, to back up the move.

The Lawn Tennis Association of Australia, in a meeting in Brisbane Monday, confirmed opposition to the trial open, saying it ran counter to international rules. The U.S. Lawn Tennis Association earlier said its players would be forbidden to compete, unless approving action was taken by the ILTF.

The decision has to be made by the British Lawn Tennis Association (LTA) next week. The LTA Council has recommended open tournaments in a bid to smash amateurism and put professionals and amateurs on the same level.

Griffith was back from an ILTF meeting in Paris, where he was told clearly that British players and officials will be suspended from Jan. 1 if plans for open tournaments go forward.

He told newsmen he found fiercer resentment over Britain's proposals than he ever anticipated.

But Britain gained one point: The ILTF promised to set up a committee to go into abuses of amateurism.

Herman David, chairman of the All-England Club which promotes Wimbledon, was determined as ever to throw it open to pros and amateurs alike—even if it leads to Britain's suspension.

David told newsmen: "This is not just a Wimbledon problem. It's a question of right and wrong. The first thing is to get rid of the hypocrisy and make the game honest."

Most Hunting Seasons End This Month

BOISE (AP) — Most hunting seasons end this month. Seasons for migratory waterfowl, chukar partridge and cottontail rabbits run into 1968.

The chukar and Hungarian partridge seasons runs until Jan. 21 in the Hells Canyon region of the Snake River.

The cottontail rabbit season is open throughout the state until Feb. 28.

Migratory waterfowl seasons have varying closing dates.

Season for ducks and coots runs until Jan. 14 in the 24 counties within the Columbia Basin mallard area. For all other parts of the state the season ends Jan. 4.

Jan. 4 is also the closing date for geese.

Weeks Quits As Coach At New Mexico

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. (AP) — New Mexico head football coach Leo Weeks quit his job Monday, ending a third straight losing season for the Lobos, resigned Monday and asked to be reassigned to other duties at the school.

New Mexico Athletic Director Pete McDavid said the search for a new head coach would begin immediately.

McDavid said contracts for assistant football coaches would be honored for the remainder of the school year.

Weeks, head coach at New Mexico for eight years, coached his teams to conference titles in 1962 and 1963 and a share of the title in 1964, when New Mexico was 9-2. But in 1965 New Mexico was 3-7, fell to 2-8 in 1966 and 1-9 in 1967, finishing in the Western Athletic Conference cellar the past two years.

School officials said Weeks would be reassigned to academic or administrative duties.

Weeks joined the university in 1966 as assistant to head coach Dick Clausen. Weeks was an end coach under Clausen and a backfield coach for two seasons under Coach Marv Levy, Clausen's successor.

Weeks became head coach in 1960.

A graduate of Iowa State University, he twice was named to the all-conference team as a quarterback and was holder of most Iowa State passing records for more than 10 years.

Hart To Become Sales Executive

CHAMPAIGN, Ill. (AP) — Jack Hart, assistant football coach at the University of Illinois since 1964, said Monday he is giving up coaching and will become a sales executive.

Hart, 30, offensive backfield coach, said his decision to quit, effective Jan. 1, stemmed from the Big Ten's punitive action against the school and some personnel resulting from a slush fund scandal last winter.

Two other assistant coaches, Buck McPhail and Bill Taylor, previously had left the school. Head Coach Pete Elliott was dismissed.

Hart said he feels the Big Ten's last offensive effort Sunday at the Cowboys lost 23-17 to Baltimore. Hayes' injury was described as a pulled muscle in the hamstring area of his right thigh.

Coaching Job At ISU "Wide Open"

POCATELLO (AP) — The vacant head football coaching job at Idaho State University is "wide open" today according to ISU Athletic Director Milton "Dubby" Holt.

ISU has been seeking a new coach since Leo McKillip resigned Nov. 16.

While no names have been tossed out by school officials, it was learned from reliable sources at the university that top contenders may include Marcelino "Chelo" Huerta, Parsons College, Bobby Thompson, assistant coach at Oklahoma State University and Wyoming State University, and Wyoming assistant coach Paul Roach.

Huerta, former head coach at Wichita University and Tampa University, has led Parsons three seasons. His teams also defeated Idaho State the past two years. Huerta also is director of athletics at Parsons.

Also being mentioned are several top junior college coaches and others currently on major college football staffs in the area.

Holt declined to release names of applicants, but said ISU officials are "well pleased so far" with the list of applicants now on file.

"We have several good applications among the 50 or so already in. We plan to screen further, then bring in three persons for interviews," Holt added.

Holt said the school hopes to be able to name the new coach some time before Christmas so that he could be able to begin recruiting duties and line up his football coaching staff.

Idahoans Place In Finals Rodeo

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — Two Idaho cowboys placed Monday night during the fourth go-round of the National Finals Rodeo.

Dean Oliver, Boise, was third in calf roping and Ken Stanton, Weiser, tied for second in bull riding.

The national championship in team roping remained a tossup as the duo of Arch Arnold, Buckeye, Ariz., and Dale Smith, Chandler, Ariz., took first place.

The nation's top 15 cowboys — according to their winnings through the year — are competing for national championships and $71,250 in prize money in the one-day event.

Comigliaro's Vision Improves

BOSTON (AP) — Tony Conigliaro, Boston Red Sox slugger whose career was nearly ended when he was struck near the left eye by a pitch Aug. 18, is enthusiastic after three baseball workouts.

"My best day yet," Conigliaro said Wednesday after his batting-and-fielding-drill in Harvard's indoor cage. "The vision in my left eye is very good. There were no blurs at all."

Funeral Set

NEW YORK (AP) — Funeral services for Harry Wismer, famous as a football announcer and team owner, will be held Thursday in Port Huron, Mich.

Wismer, Founder Of AFL, Dies At Age 53

NEW YORK (AP) — Harry Wismer, who lived a stormy life in both the National and American Football Leagues, died Monday from an undisclosed ailment at the age of 53.

Wismer, at one time a nationally-known sports announcer, feuded fiercely with George Preston Marshall, owner of the NFL Washington Redskins, and then carried his controversial ways into the American League, which he helped found in 1959.

Meeting with five other owners in Chicago in 1959, Wismer began his tenure as head of the New York Titans peacefully enough.

He even helped formulate a revolutionary television plan by which the league would negotiate one TV contract and all of the teams would share equally in the revenue.

The first contract, with the American Broadcasting Co., brought the AFL $1,785,000 the first year. Today the league has a five-year contract with the National Broadcasting Co. worth $36 million.

Wismer was not finished with pro football, however.

In January, 1967, he told of an agreement between him and Mrs. Catherine Marshall Price that would make Wismer president of the Redskins if Mrs. Price were to regain control of the stock owned by her ailing father, George Preston Marshall.

The agreement also supposedly included Marshall's son, George Jr., but the son later denied that any such agreement existed.

Wismer was a minority stockholder in the Redskins in the 1950s. As such, he feuded with Marshall, accusing him of refusing to sign Negro players.

In 1957 he filed a $500,000 suit against Marshall, charging the owner had diverted Redskins funds to his personal use. The suit later was dismissed.

Before becoming involved with the Redskins, Wismer had an interest in the Detroit Lions, also of the NFL. In fact it was just three years ago that Wismer settled a $280,000 claim to $1,120 shares of Lion stock.

The stock had been owned by his former father-in-law, Edgar Bryant, but Wismer contended Bryant had purchased it in 1948 in his behalf.

Backcourt Men Among Top Scorers

NEW YORK (AP) — Backcourt men have that forward look in the National Basketball Association scoring race.

League statistics released today show five backcourt men among the top 10 scorers.

They are Dave Bing of Detroit, first with 628 points and a 28.5 per game average; Hal Greer of Philadelphia, fifth with 582; Walt Hazzard of Seattle, sixth with 573; Len Wilkens of St. Louis, ninth with 567, and Jim King of San Francisco, 10th with 534.

Wilt Chamberlain of Philadelphia is tops in field-goal percentage, 559; Jon McClocklin of San Diego leads in free throw percentage, 878; Nate Thurmond of San Francisco is the best rebounder, 618, and Wilkens is first in assists, 211.

Twenty-One Schools Will Be Represented In 43rd Annual East-West Game

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Twenty-one schools will be represented by the 28 players on the East-West football game Dec. 30 at Candlestick Park. The selections were announced Tuesday by Ted Balliet, potentate of Islam Temple, which sponsors the annual Shrine charity game.

With Gary Began, UCLA All-America and Heisman Trophy winner at quarterback, the West will have three powerful runners in Lee White of Weber State College, Don Hass of Montana State, and Warren McVea of Houston.

For receivers the West will have Phil Odle, Brigham Young end and flanker who ranked first nationally in the college season, Haven Moses of San Diego State, and Joe Koonz, San Francisco State's record touchdown receiver.

The defensive squad will include star linebackers Skip Vanderbund of Oregon State, Mike Sweatman of Kansas, and Ed Mooney of Texas Tech.

Meeting Set

The Magic Valley Trail Machine Association will hold its regular meeting 8 p.m. Wednesday in the Idaho Power auditorium. The main topic of discussion will be the possibility of joining the Fourth District Associated Sportsmen organization. This would give the group a firm voice in the management of the natural resources.

Retired

LOS ANGELES (AP)—No football player at UCLA will wear the number "16" again. Chancellor Franklin D. Murphy announced at the Bruins' football banquet Monday night that the jersey, worn by Heisman Trophy winner Gary Beban has been retired.

DiMaggio, Camilli Are Teammates

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP)—The major leagues' Most Valuable Players of 1941, who opposed each other in the World Series, have come together again, as teammates.

Executive Vice President Joe DiMaggio of the Oakland Athletics said today Dolph Camilli has signed as the A's scout in the Pacific Northwest.

DiMaggio of the New York Yankees was the American League's MVP and Camilli, then with the Brooklyn Dodgers, was MVP in the National League.

Camilli, who began with the old San Francisco Seals, played with the Chicago Cubs, Philadelphia Phillies and Dodgers, was an NL All-Star in 1938 and 1941 as a first baseman. He managed the Oakland Oaks in the Pacific Coast League in 1944.

Olympic Ski Team Works Out In Utah

By ROBERT KUESTERMAN ALTA, Utah (AP)—Sprawled out on a davenport in a ski lodge, the coach of the U.S. Olympic ski jumping squad said: "This is a fine place, good for the squad, but it is a regrettable and aggravating situation."

The U.S. team came to Alta, 25 miles from downtown Salt Lake City, Thursday "because of the early snows and the good hill," but wasn't able to get in the planned practice.

"We spent all Friday scraping two feet of snow off the jump," said Art Tolkie, coach of the U.S. Olympic jump team for the past five years.

Saturday, they put a ski school right in front of us and we couldn't begin until afternoon. They treated us as if we were nothing," Tolkie said.

One member of the squad said: "They want Olympics held in Utah, and then they treat us like this."

Lamont Murphy, president of the Nord-Alp Ski Club, said Alta was not notified of the team's visit until the preceding Monday.

Murphy said he did what he could in helping the team clear snow from the jump, and on Saturday he had the ski classes moved away from the jump area as soon as they were organized. He said the area was roped off by 10:30 a.m. and held up the Olympic squad no more than one hour.

Defensive Backs

Defensive backs include a couple of the Smith boys—Jim of Oregon and Bob of California, along with Harry Cheatwood of Oklahoma State and Neal Starkey of Air Force.

Curley Culp of Arizona State, Blaine Nye of Stanford, Steve Thompson of Washington and Cam Molter of Oregon will make up a powerful front four.

The West squad will arrive in San Francisco Dec. 20 and will train at Stanford University under coaches Ben Martin of Air Force, Dee Andros of Oregon State, and Ray Wilsey of California.

The West roster: OFFENSE—Ends, Harry Gunner, Oregon State, 6-6, 230; Phil Odle, Brigham Young, 5-11, 190; Joe Koonz, San Francisco State, 6-1, 195.

Tackles, Bob Richardson, Washington, 6-3, 250; Larry Slagle, UCLA, 6-3, 245.

Guards, Ernest Ruple, Arkansas, 6-5, 244; Dave Middendorf, Washington State, 6-3, 230.

Centers, John Erquiaga, UCLA, 6-2, 217; Ron Hudson, Washington, 6-4, 230.

NEW MEXICO IS HUNTING COACH ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. (AP)—The University of New Mexico has begun the search for a new head football coach to succeed Bill Weeks, who resigned Monday after the Lobos' third straight losing season.

Weeks asked Tom L. Popejoy, president of the university, to assign him to another position in the school, and Popejoy said the request would be granted. Popejoy did not say what position Weeks would occupy except that it would involve academic or administrative duties.

WINS TROPHY NEW YORK (AP)—Penn State, bound for the Gator Bowl against Florida State, Monday was named winner of the Lambert Trophy, symbolizing the best major college football team in the East.

SPORTS

MANUEL SANTANA WAVES his hands in victory Monday after defeating Cliff Drysdale of South Africa in Davis Cup Inter-Zone match at Johannesburg, South Africa. The 6-3, 3-6, 6-2 victory gave Spain a 3-2 Inter-Zone victory. For the second time in three years (Santana will lead Spain's tennis team against Australia in the Davis Cup Challenge Round. Santana Will Lead Spain In Cup Finals

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP)—For the second time in three years, the veteran Manuel Santana will lead Spain's tennis team against Australia in the Davis Cup Challenge Round.

player, Santana applied immediate pressure, cracking Drysdale's service in the first game. Drysdale attacked strongly with his two-fisted backhand but Santana, poised and composed, met the challenge with smooth ground strokes and almost flawless play at the net.

The quick, gifted Spaniard needed only 21 minutes Monday in winning the decisive set from Cliff Drysdale of South Africa in a postponed final singles match that gave Spain a 3-2 Inter-zone victory.

The score was 6-3, 6-3, 3-6, 6-2. The match had been postponed because of a rain storm Saturday with the two teams deadlocked 2-2 and Santana leading two sets to one.

The Challenge Round is scheduled Dec. 26-28 in Brisbane, Australia, with the Aussies heavily favored to retain the trophy they have won seven times in the last eight years—the last three in a row.

Santana and his mates were beaten 4-1 in 1965 at Sydney.

The Spaniards are almost unbeatable on clay, figured in all three of his team's points, beating Ray Moore in the first round singles and teaming with Luis Arilla for a doubles triumph over Drysdale and Moore. South Africa's two victories were scored in singles, Drysdale and Moore both beating the No. 2 Spaniard, Manuel Orantes.

South Africa had the disadvantage of playing without Australian-born Bob Hewitt, who injured his ankle against India in Barcelona a few weeks earlier.

Resuming the postponed match against Drysdale, a tall, smooth-stroking international

Caruthers Is Opposed To

Negro Boycott

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP)—Ed Caruthers, the nation's most consistent high jumper, is opposed to the proposed Negro boycott of the 1968 Olympic Games in Mexico City.

"I'm in sympathy with what they're trying to do," the University of Arizona senior said Monday. "But boycotting the Olympics is all wrong. Athletics have been mighty good to the Negro."

Caruthers cleared 7-feet 23 inches last season and jumped a record 7-2½ in winning the Pan-American Games.

"It is a pridelful thing to be able to participate in the Olympics," said Caruthers.

FREE TO PLAY NEW YORK (AP)—Basketball star Bill Bradley has fulfilled his six months' active duty requirement with the Air Force and is free to play with the New York Knicks immediately. The Associated Press learned today.

Non-English Speaking Fighter Vows To Be Heavyweight King

By MICHAEL A. LUTZ

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Argentina's Oscar Bonavena, who speaks no English, vows he still someday will become the heavyweight champion of the world.

The conviction of his remark lost nothing in the translation. It was mostly the future he talked about in the Bonavena camp today, only hours after a flurry of lefts and rights from Jimmy Ellis shuttled Bonavena to the sidelines in the World Boxing Association heavyweight championship tournament.

Bonavena's manager, Dr. Marvin Goldberg, said Bonavena had a bright future and is still "a qualified contender" He said there were at least two possibilities as future opponents.

"We might go against Buster Mathis in the new Madison Square Garden," Goldberg said. "There's also been some talk about a fight with George Chuvalo in Texas."

Goldberg said Bonavena definitely would be fighting again despite Ellis' unanimous 12-round decision over Bonavena in their semifinal bout of the WBA tournament Saturday night.

Bonavena took the loss without much emotion. "I go home to Argentina and rest two months. Then I start all over again. I will be champion someday. You wait and see."

While Bonavena is preparing for a comeback, Ellis is awaiting an opponent for the championship.

Ellis will fight the winner of the Thad Spencer-Jerry Quarry bout for the WBA championship. The tournament evolved when the WBA took the title from Cassius Clay for refusing to be inducted into the Army.

Ellis enters the championship round with a whole host of new believers in his ability, among them, Goldberg.

"I want to go on record as saying Oscar lost to the next heavyweight champion of the world," he said. "Ellis proved with this fight that he fought the best when he was hurt."

Ellis, now with a 26-5 record, used classic boxing techniques and a blazing start to defeat the South American champion. Bonavena went down in the third and 10th rounds. Ellis received a cut over his left eye in the eighth round but it gave him

Bucyk Takes Lead In NHL Scoring

NEW YORK (AP)—Veteran Johnny Bucyk of the Boston Bruins, with help from linemates Johnny McKenzie and Fred Stanfield, has wrested the National Hockey League's individual scoring lead from Chicago's Bobby Hull, the latest statistics disclosed Monday.

Bucyk collected seven points in last week's games, giving him 31 points for the season. Hull, the goal-scoring leader with 19, dropped into a second place tie in the points race with McKenzie and Stanfield, each with 30 points. Hull managed only one goal and two assists last week.

Bucyk, a left winger, is the first Boston player since Bronco Horvath in the 1959-60 campaign to lead NHL in scoring. Last week, Bucyk set Bruins' career records in goals with 243 and points, 607.

The Toronto Maple Leafs have the best goaltending tandem in Johnny Bower and Bruce Gamble. The two have combined to post the lowest goals-against-average of 2.17. Montreal's Gump Worsley, though, has the lowest individual average, 1.68.

Don Awrey, a Boston defenseman, is the circuit's leader in penalty minutes with 81.
