Coordination Of T.F. Downtown Projects Planned

The Twin Falls city council Monday night ordered that $3,000 be transferred from the 1967 budget to the 1968 budget to hire a marketing analysis firm for a study on coordination of projects in the downtown area.

City Manager Herb Derrick said the study is needed "to coordinate the efforts of several agencies so everyone is not going in different directions."

He said the firm of Larry Smith and Co. has offered to do the study and will begin if approval of hiring the firm is granted. Action on this will be taken at the Jan. 2 council meeting.

The study was proposed in the city's comprehensive plan. Agencies making plans to convert the downtown area into a shopping mall are Future Twin Falls Unlimited, downtown businessmen, and the Urban Renewal Agency.

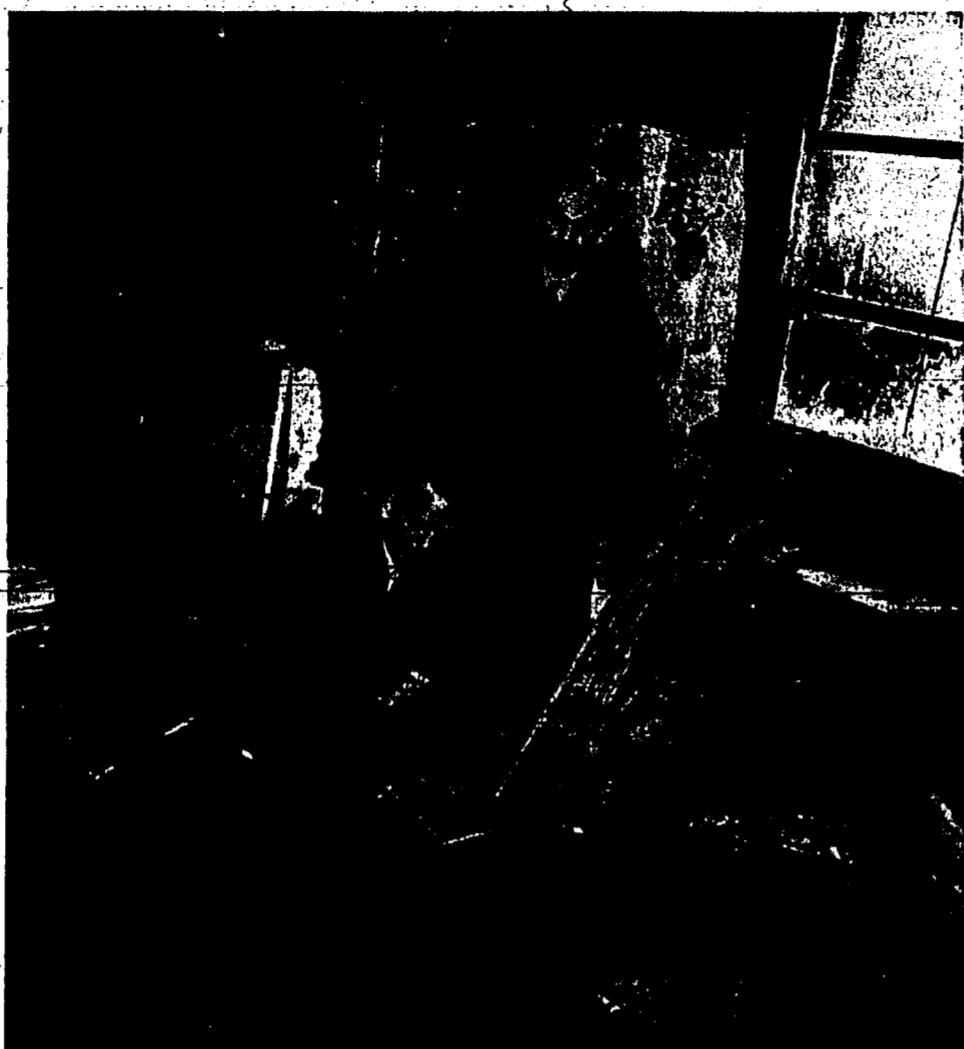

Mr. Derrick said the firm would come up with suggestions on how the city and the various agencies could work together on projects in the downtown area.

In other business, the council agreed to adjourn to 4 p.m. Dec. 27 a matter concerning the granting of a beer license to Hugh Faulkner of the Turf Club. Mr. Faulkner said at the meeting he needs the license to retain his state liquor license.

City Attorney William Langley said he is unaware of any plans to have the Turf Club remodeled, saying Mr. Faulkner only wants the beer license. The Turf Club has been closed for several years.

Mayor Egon Kroll reported on a meeting between the Twin Falls County commissioners and the city councilmen on joint financing of airport improvements. He said the commissioners "were impressed" with the idea and plans for joint financing will be discussed at budget time. The meeting between the two governments was held Monday.

THE PRINCIPAL OF Jerome High School, Ace Ballard, left, and Supt. William Lipscomb check damage done in the faculty room of the high school Monday night. Fire interrupted a Christmas concert and an estimated 400 people had to be evacuated. Fire damage was confined to the faculty room, but there was water damage to the library, under the faculty room. Class routine was normal for students Tuesday.

City Asks County For Airport Funds

A formal request for county financial assistance for the improvement and operation of a county-city airport in Twin Falls was submitted to county commissioners Monday afternoon by a four-man delegation from the Twin Falls city council.

City officials, making the appeal before the annual budgeting deadline of Jan. 8 did not ask for a specific amount of money, or for a specific levy from the county. The county's tentative 1968 budget must be complete by Jan. 8.

"We have been thinking in terms of a mill," Heber Loughmiller, chairman of the county commission, said.

A one-mill levy in Twin Falls County would bring in about $50,000 a year, he added.

In the city of Twin Falls, two mills are levied to bring in about $35,000 a year.

Mr. Loughmiller said Tuesday that no commitment has been made by the county, but the county officials are glad to have the request before budget time.

The county commission chairman said the airport levy re-

Navajos Appealing For Federal Help

By HOWARD GRAVES
WINDOW ROCK, Ariz. (AP) — Navajo reservation officials are appealing for federal and state help as severe weather conditions continued today in southwestern areas blanketed by six days of snow.

Tribal Chairman Raymond Nakai, in asking, President Johnson to declare the 16-million acre reservation a disaster area, said the situation was the most critical in the modern-day history of the Navajo nation.

Three persons were known dead on the reservation as a result of back-to-back winter storms which in the past week had claimed at least 32 lives in

Fire Stops Concert At Jerome

JEROME — This year's Jerome High School Christmas concert will never be completed. Fire interrupted the event at 9 p.m. Monday, forcing an estimated 400 people to evacuate the building.

The fire was confined to the faculty room on the second floor and water damage resulted to the library below. School was in session Tuesday.

Insurance agents were appraising the damage Tuesday. They said the faculty room, which is about 15 by 25 feet, will have to be rebuilt. A wool carpet was burned and some equipment in the room was damaged.

All books from the library were removed to avoid damage from the water coming through the ceiling. A school official said, "The library sure is a mess."

Witnesses indicated there were some frantic moments as the audience was evacuated from the auditorium, but no injuries were reported.

It was pointed out the concert cannot be re-scheduled between now and Christmas because other events are planned.

Jet Crashes Into Shopping Center Leaving Four Dead

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP)—Authorities said today four persons were killed when a U.S. Air Force jet plane crashed at the rear of a supermarket, spewing flames into a shopping center and demolishing two homes.

Earlier the death toll in the accident Monday night had been placed at six, with nine missing. Searchers continued sifting the ashes of the supermarket, but it was believed all missing were accounted for.

Authorities said the earlier higher toll figures resulted when firemen in the first hurried checks mistook sides of beef from the meat department for human bodies.

Flight Lt. Jack R. Hamilton of the Royal Canadian Air Force, the pilot, and Capt. Gary L. Hughes of the U.S. Air Force, the navigator, bailed out of the F4D plane soon after it took off from nearby Davis-Monthan Air Force Base with 17,000 pounds of fuel aboard.

The abandoned plane hit the roof of the supermarket and fell between the rear of the store and houses on an adjacent street, spewing flaming parts and blazing fuel into the shopping center and three homes.

The dead were:
Sherry Tilton, 19, trapped in a bedroom in one of the blazing houses.
Mrs. Glenn Bush, 34, a meat packer in the supermarket.
Mrs. James O. Palmer, 55, a shopper.
A 17-year-old Mexican-American girl, also a shopper, whose identity was withheld pending notification of her next of kin.

The Air Force described the plane's flight as a routine training mission. The nature of the trouble which caused the two crew members to take to their parachutes was not disclosed. The men are stationed at Nellis Air Force Base, Nev.

Witnesses said the F4D jet flew on a direct course toward the back of the store, Roswell Burk, 15, one of those near the scene, said it looked like one of the wings hit the corner of the building first.

"I had been expecting this," said Fred Cirillo, 38, operator

Tornadoes Continue To Erupt Over Alabama

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP) — Deadly tornadoes are continuing to erupt over Alabama, and the Weather Bureau said one funnel sliced across a section of the Municipal Airport here shortly after 5 a.m. today.

Three aircraft hangars and two aircraft were damaged, the Weather Bureau said. There were no injuries.

Additional damage was reported in the western section of the city, the Weather Bureau added. It said at least one trailer home was overturned by the violent winds and a number of trees was uprooted.

The Weather Bureau said the tornado which hit the airport was one of two reported in the area. The second apparently did not touch ground, it said.

Today's storms came less than 24 hours after Alabama Gov. Lurien Wallace ordered state Civil Defense authorities to obtain information necessary to seek federal disaster aid for other tornado and rain damaged areas of the state.

Mrs. Wallace issued the order after a killer tornado, spawned by unseasonably warm weather, struck the Huntsville, Ala., area shortly before dawn Monday, killing two persons and injuring about 30 others.

In addition, two others drowned as heavy rains drenched the northern section of the state.

Damage totals are still incomplete, officials said, adding that

Johnson Leaves To Attend Holt Rites

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson flew to Australia today to attend memorial services for Prime Minister Harold Holt.

The White House said he had no plans to hold a Vietnam summit conference while in Australia.

However, there was speculation he might go on from Australia to pay a visit to the troops in Vietnam.

Johnson's plane took off on the 30-hour trip to Melbourne from Andrews Air Force Base at 12:02 p.m. EST. Mrs. Johnson was not with him.

An hour before departure time, assistant press secretary Tom Johnson told reporters at the White House that Prime Minister Harold Holt, who disappeared while swimming in the surf off the southeast coast Sunday, is to be memorialized at a service in Melbourne Friday attended by President Johnson. The President's decision to make the 10,173-mile flight was an unusual gesture of respect for his staunch ally in the Vietnam war.

Three other Vietnam war allies—President Nguyen Van Thieu of South Vietnam, President Ferdinand Marcos of the Philippines and President Chung Hee of South Korea—announced they would attend the Melbourne service also. There was speculation they would hold an informal summit conference with Johnson and Australian leaders on the prosecution of the war.

Informed sources in London said British Prime Minister Harold Wilson might also fly to Australia.

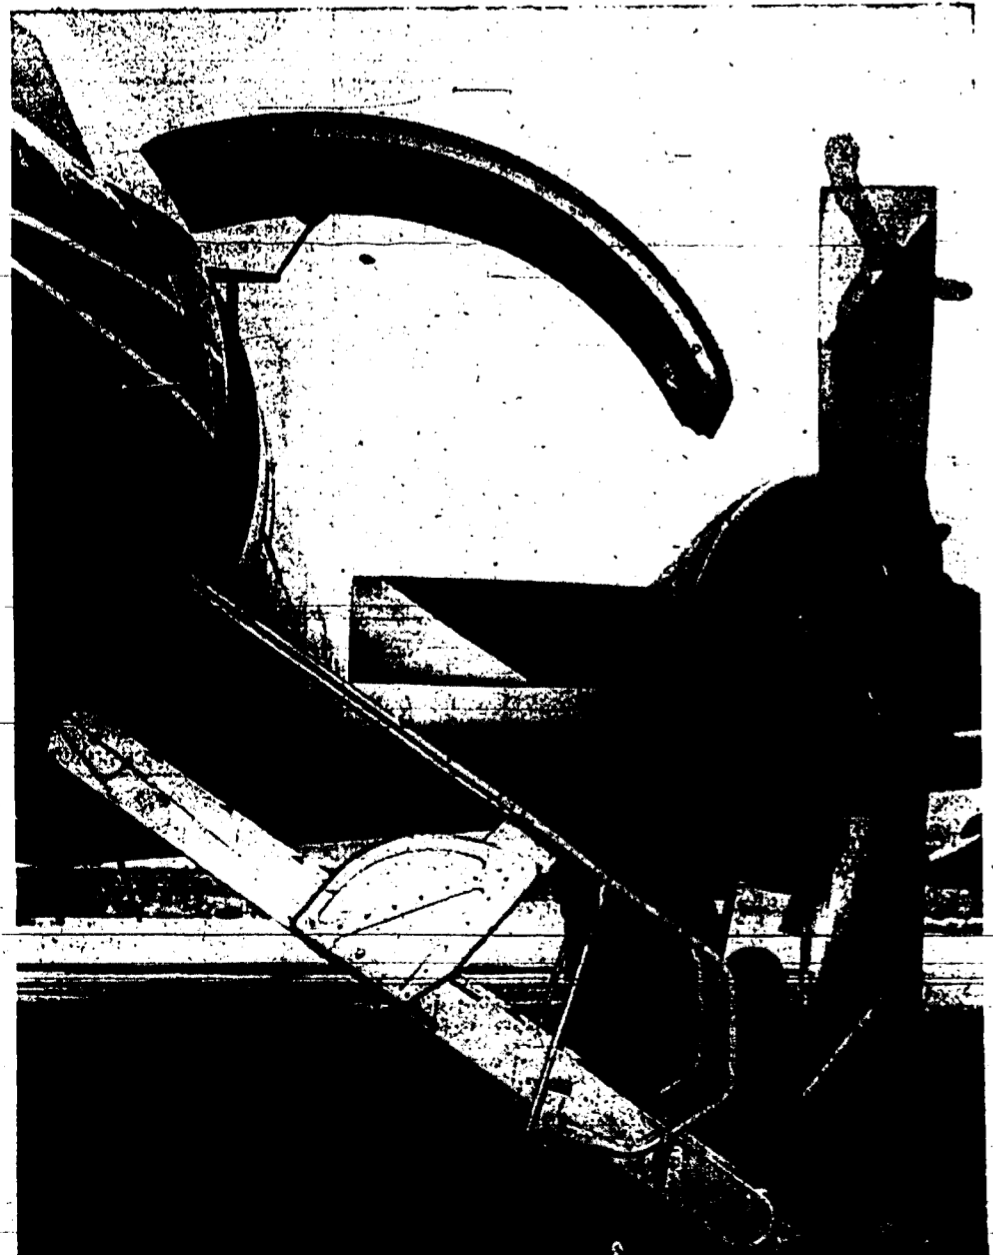

Gorton May Be Man To Succeed Holt

By GORDON TAIT
CANBERRA, Australia (AP) — Australia's minister of education and science, Sen. John Grey Gorton, emerged today as a likely compromise successor to Prime Minister Harold Holt.

Holt, who disappeared while swimming in the surf off the southeast coast Sunday, is to be memorialized at a service in Melbourne Friday attended by President Johnson. The President's decision to make the 10,173-mile flight was an unusual gesture of respect for his staunch ally in the Vietnam war.

Three other Vietnam war allies—President Nguyen Van Thieu of South Vietnam, President Ferdinand Marcos of the Philippines and President Chung Hee of South Korea—announced they would attend the Melbourne service also. There was speculation they would hold an informal summit conference with Johnson and Australian leaders on the prosecution of the war.

Informed sources in London said British Prime Minister Harold Wilson might also fly to Australia.

IN FRONT OF the massive propellers of a Convair 580, turbojet, Bill Horan, chief pilot on the craft, gets ready for a return flight from Joslin Field to Bridgeport, Conn. Mr. Horan piloted the Kennedy party, now vacationing in Sun Valley, to the Twin Falls airport, which is often used by smaller jets as a gateway to the world-famous resort. Mr. Horan will return to Twin Falls when he receives word from the Kennedy party.

Weather Blamed For Power Outage In Mini-Cassia Area

BURLEY — The entire Mini-doka-Cassia county area was without electric power for about an hour Tuesday morning when the automatic switches at the Heyburn substation malfunctioned. Fog and icing conditions were blamed for the outage.

Dale Brooks, Bonneville Power Administration official here, said when a line faultage occurred between the Paul and American Falls substations, the automatic switches at Heyburn for some reason remained open, causing an outage between the American Falls and Paul substations operated by Idaho Power Co.

The power went out at 7:34 a.m. and was restored from the American Falls substation at 8:33 a.m. and at Paul about five minutes later.

Emergency manual switching along the 138,000 kilovolt line returned power electrical service to some 12 communities in the two-county area.

Idaho Power carries BPA power over its lines in the area, but service to individual customers is by municipal systems which get their electricity from the PBA.

Tax Meet

Everyone complains about taxes, but seldom do they have an opportunity to do anything about them.

Such an opportunity is offered Tuesday at 8 p.m. in a public meeting in the Idaho Power Auditorium sponsored by the Twin Falls County Farm Bureau.

County commissioners will be present, seeking views from the taxpayers regarding various proposed county programs and services which could be provided at a cost to the taxpayers or which can be eliminated if taxpayers do not choose to foot the bill.

Similar meetings are being planned in Filer and Buhl.

Kennedy Pilot Says Joslin Field Used As Stopping Spot By Many Small Jets

The spacious Convair 580 turbojet which brought Sen. Robert F. Kennedy and a family party of 15 to Idaho Sunday, took off from Joslin Field early Tuesday morning for the return non-stop flight to Bridgeport, Conn.

Piloting the turbojet was Bill Horan, chief pilot for the Great Lakes Carbon Corp., owners of the airplane.

"We arrived at Twin Falls Sunday," said Mr. Horan, "and the Kennedys went on to Sun Valley."

According to Mr. Horan the Kennedys will send word when they are to be picked up after their stay at the skiing resort.

"We had no trouble landing at the Twin-Falls airport," said Mr. Horan, "but we would have returned to Bridgeport yesterday if there had been a north-south runway." The wind was wrong and we couldn't leave yesterday."

Bill Horan picked up the Kennedy family in Washington, D.C. Sunday and arrived in Twin Falls less than six hours after takeoff there. The trip back to Bridgeport is expected to take about five hours and forty minutes, non-stop.

Horan reported that he flies to Twin Falls at least three or four times a year, piloting either the Kennedys or a group of businessmen who hunt and fish in Idaho. He mentioned that his

Joan Baez, 30 Demonstrators Arrested At Oakland Center

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP) — At least 30 demonstrators, including folksinger Joan Baez, her mother and author Kay Boyle, were arrested today as crowds attempted to block entrances of the Oakland Armed Forces Induction Center.

It was the second straight day of outbreaks in the wake of bloody violence during Stop The Draft Week in mid-October.

It also was the second arrest for Miss Baez, who was taken into custody Oct. 16 as five days of demonstrations began at the center.

Police said attempts were made today to stop buses carrying young men bound for armed service, but all the inductees were delivered inside the building.

Miss Baez served a 10-day jail sentence after her October arrest.

Officers estimated that 350 persons were in the vicinity of the center as the arrests were made.

More than 200 were arrested Monday as the new demonstrations began.

All were scheduled for arraignment in Municipal Court today, booked mostly on suspicion of trespassing, disturbing the peace, failure to disperse and disorderly conduct.

Workers Change Signs On 2 Routes

BOISE (AP) — State Highway Department workers are changing signs along two Idaho highways, giving the routes a uniform number, 55, the department reported today.

The change becomes official on Jan. 1 and the department said new signs will be in place by that time all along the route.

Idaho 55 will provide an alternate route to U.S. 95 between Marsing, on the south, and New Meadows, on the north.

Between the two terminals it serves Nampa, Boise, Horseshoe bend, Banks, Smiths Ferry, Cascade, Donnelly and McCall.

In the past, the portion of the route between Boise and New Meadows has been designated as Idaho 15 and that between Marsing and Nampa has been called Idaho 72. The new Idaho 55 will follow the U.S. 30 and Interstate 80N routes between Nampa and Boise.

U.S. 95 between Marsing and New Meadows goes by way of Home Dale, Wilder, Parma, Fruitland, Payette, Weiser, Midvale, Cambridge and Council.

Successor Gets Spellman Estate

NEW YORK (AP) — Francis Cardinal Spellman will inherit his entire estate, estimated in the neighborhood of $30,000, to his successor as archbishop of New York, for the benefit of the archdiocese.

The will dated April 30, 1960, was filed for probate Tuesday in Manhattan Surrogate's Court. Cardinal Spellman died Dec. 2 at the age of 78 of a stroke. His successor is yet to be appointed. The petition for probate stated that the cardinal's estate amounted to not more than $30,000, including a legacy which the cardinal intended to transfer to the archdiocese, but which he had not yet received when he died.

Synopsis, Farm Summary

The storm which passed through Southern Idaho yesterday was centered over east-central Nevada this morning, while a secondary low pressure center remained along the Oregon coast. Low pressure and moist air still prevailed over most of the western states. Light snows are expected at times today and tonight in Eastern Oregon and most of Southern Idaho and there is still a chance of heavy snow on the eastern mountains. Occasional snow is forecast for the east with partial clearing in western and central sections Wednesday. Western valleys and Magic Valley will be somewhat colder this afternoon and all sections will be colder tonight and Wednesday but less windy than yesterday.

The outlook for the rest of the week indicates temperatures well below normal for December but probably not quite as cold as last week. Snowfall should be light in most valleys with a chance for heavier snow in the mountains and higher valleys of Southeastern Idaho Thursday but little or none the latter part of the week. Heavy snows yesterday or last night were reported in parts of the upper Snake River Valley, the Wood River Valley and Camas Prairie. Fairfield had six inches of new snow and 18 inches of new snow fell on the airport at Halley. New snow measured 4 inches at Idaho Falls and 3 inches at Rexburg. Snowfall reported in other areas ranged from traces on the south side in Magic Valley to one inch at Mountain Home.

Yesterday was a little warmer than Sunday in all sections of Southern Idaho with afternoon readings in the 20s in eastern and north central valleys and in the 30s in Magic Valley and western valleys. Last night was a little warmer in central and most eastern valleys and colder than Sunday night in the west and some southeastern valleys. Only One Day Is Left To Pay Tax

There may be four more shopping days until Christmas, but there's only one day left for real property tax payments.

Wednesday marks the final day for payments either by mail or in person at the county treasurer's office for the 1967 tax bills which were sent out about the first of the month.

Clifford Thompson, county assessor, reminded those paying personal property taxes they have until Dec. 26 to make their payments at the assessor's office in the basement of the courthouse. Regular deadline would be Dec. 25, but because of the Christmas holiday, payments will be accepted Dec. 26.

2 Men Hurt In Accident Near Hansen

Two men were taken to Magic Valley Memorial Hospital by Magic Valley Ambulance Service at about 4 a.m. Tuesday following a one-car accident at the east edge of the Hansen overpass on Highway 30.

Deputy Sheriff Charles Turner said a car driven by LeRoy G. Slater, 27, 2310 Miller Ave., Burley, was going west on the highway when it hit a patch of ice caused by a snowdrift across the entrance of the overpass.

The vehicle skidded into a guard rail, spun and came to rest in a field near the overpass. Officers said the vehicle, 1965 sedan, owned by Bernice Decker, Burley, was demolished.

A passenger, Roy Decker, 23, Burley, was hospitalized but was listed in good condition Tuesday at noon with lacerations and bruises. Mr. Slater was treated and released. Officers said the driver was able to walk from the accident to a nearby farm house to telephone for assistance.

day afternoon in the courthouse. Councilman Cal McIntyre was commended for his service on the council for the last four years. He will leave the council Jan. 1 and be replaced by Frank Cook, who was elected last November.

Recently re-elected Councilmen George Bennett, Eugene Stacey, Frank Feldman and Mr. Cook will be sworn in Jan. 2. A new mayor also will be elected at that time.

A resolution for presentation to the State Highway Board Jan. 9 was approved. The resolution outlines plans to re-route Highway 30 on Main Avenue in downtown Twin Falls. Re-routing plans have been presented by the council several times in the past.

The plan is to divert traffic off of Main Avenue in the downtown area to improve shopper trade.

The Veterans of Foreign Wars were denied a request to place up to 250 trash barrels in Twin Falls. Mr. Derrick said it would cost the city $2,400 a year to empty the barrels.

The city was informed it has been sued for $1,288.33 by Shirley and Mendiola and Koto's Cafe for alleged damage done when a sewer backed up in August.

Work on the city's new water tank north of the city is still suspended pending a warmer weather, Mr. Derrick reported.

An ordinance vacating the alley right of way behind the Twin Falls Clinic and Hospital was approved. The clinic plans to build an addition over the alley.

John Angerbauer was appointed to vote the city's 2,751.39 shares of stock at a Twin Falls Canal Co. meeting Jan. 9.

Ernest H. Gyer was appointed to serve a five-year term on the Twin Falls Housing Authority Board.

A THOUGHT TO REMEMBER

WILLIAM BOYD

"Christmas isn't what it used to be." The saying is both true, and false, depending on area of age. A young tot would not say it because time has not yet blurred a memory. Christmas complaints lose gloom in the gay glitter of gifts when children's gaily brings forth adult geniality. There is no change (or should not be) in the gladness of person to person relationships among families and friends that helps us forget the faults of time and people.

The mellowed sentiment of treasured memories is a special gift at Christmas. For some, the cherished memory may be a baby touching and toying, perhaps breaking an ornament on the first Christmas tree. Or it may be the memory of a doll being loved and mothered on Christmas, perhaps being passed on New Years. Yes, Christmas is a special time for special memories for all of us. As we celebrate the birth of the Baby born in a Bethlehem manger, let us remember He gave us many gifts, including the blessing of happy memories. The birth of Christ was God's Greatest Gift; the original and only cause for ALL Christmas memories.

Americans Leave Top Of Hill 875

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. troops have moved off the top of Hill 875, scene of an epic five-day battle last month, but are still patrolling actively in the general area in the central highlands, American officers said today.

A spokesman for the U.S. 4th Infantry Division said American infantrymen destroyed all of the North Vietnamese bunkers and other fortifications on top of the hill near Dak To, then moved off.

"The area is still under active patrol," said one U.S. senior officer in Saigon, "but we wouldn't keep anybody there on top of Hill 875. We don't go into a place like that and stay. No hill is that critical to hold forever. There are plenty of hills in that area."

The sprawling central highlands is dotted with hills in the Dak To area.

The 21-day battle of Dak To, the costliest of the Vietnam war for both sides, included the bloody fighting for Hill 875. American paratroopers of the 173rd Airborne Brigade finally took the hill on Thanksgiving Day after nearly 150 Americans were killed and almost 300 wounded.

The main elements of the three North Vietnamese regiments that fought the Americans at Dak To are believed to have pulled back across the Cambodian and Laotian borders to regroup after suffering severe losses. Only minor skirmishes with small groups of Communist soldiers have been reported in recent days.

U.S. Headquarters reported that 1,836 North Vietnamese troops were killed by American and South Vietnamese forces in the fighting around Dak To. Total U.S. losses for the same period were 280 killed and 1,037 wounded, the U.S. Command said.

Personal Income Jumps In November

WASHINGTON (AP) — Personal income took its biggest jump in more than two years during November, with rising wages and salaries accounting for the bulk of the gain, the Commerce Department reported today.

Income rose by $5.8 billion at an annual rate during the month to reach a record pace at $641.7 billion. It was the biggest advance since September 1965.

The department said wages and salaries increased by $5.4 billion and only $2 billion of this stemmed from the ending of automobile and other strikes which had depressed payrolls the previous two months.

Continued economic expansion accounted for most of the gain in payrolls, the department added.

Storms Cause Food Prices To Climb

SALT LAKE CITY (AP) — Storms in the West and Southwest which have devastated crops are causing food prices to rise, Wally Pimborough, president of the Salt Lake Retail Grocers Association, said Monday.

Pimborough said egg prices were three cents a dozen higher Monday.

Pimborough said chickens have been ignoring food to huddle together for warmth and "when they don't eat, they don't lay."

He said carrot, cabbage, celery and lettuce crops have been seriously damaged by the storms.

Dee Howell, of Associated Food Stores, said low temperatures in Mexico have seriously damaged tomato, cucumber, pepper, zucchini and green bean crops.

Howell said California oranges in Salt Lake City have gone from $3 a crate last year to $7, and probably will go even higher.

Train Hits, Kills Cattle At Shoshone

SHOSHONE — An estimated 17 head of cattle owned by George Arkoosh, who farms northeast of Gooding, were killed or so badly mutilated they had to be destroyed when they wandered onto the Union Pacific Railroad tracks and were struck by Train No. 17.

Sheriff Thomas Connor was called by the railroad to investigate the accident about 1 p.m. Friday. The train was going west and the cattle were on the track about three miles west of Shoshone.

The sheriff said the engineer tried to stop but was unable to do so and "plowed right through the herd." Sheriff Connor said he counted 10 animals on the track and others were lying nearby with their legs severed.

The cattle were all full-grown cows and heifers.

WASHINGTON—Suddenly the emphasis has shifted in the moderate, or Rockefeller, wing of the Republican Party. The war cry now is to stop Ronnie Reagan, not Dick Nixon.

running against Nixon. A man can lose it all that way.

ART BUCHWALD

A New Ambassador To France

WASHINGTON — U. S. Ambassador Charles Bohlen is coming home from France, and a desperate search is now under way to find a suitable replacement.

Most Americans would like to send over Bonnie and Clyde, but President Johnson still hasn't made up his mind.

"He should be a man," a high State Department official told me the other day, "who understands De Gaulle, who will be welcomed by the French, Foreign Ministry and who has access to the Elysee Palace at all times."

"That sounds like Premier Kosygin."

"No," said the official. "He has to be an American."

"I knew it wouldn't be easy," I said.

"Our candidate must also understand the problems of gold."

"What about Arthur Goldberg?"

"Are you going to be serious, or are you going to mess around?"

"I'm sorry."

"He also has to be able to present Great Britain's case for admittance into the Common Market."

"Too bad Twigg isn't a man," I said.

"Not only that, but the new American ambassador must be able to explain our commitment in Vietnam in terms that De Gaulle will understand."

"Then you've got to go with Dr. Spock."

"I don't think he's under consideration," the State Department official huffed.

"Why don't you send over a general?" I suggested.

"De Gaulle doesn't seem to have much use for American generals. It reminds him too much of what the American Army did for him in World War II."

"Then send a doctor," I pleaded.

"That wouldn't work either. De Gaulle would think we were concerned about his health, which, of course, we're not."

"I don't envy your job. What about Secretary McNamara?"

"It's too late. You see, President Johnson didn't tell him about the World Bank job first, so it would be hard not to tell him about the ambassadorship now."

"There's always Bobby Kennedy."

"I've heard the President say many times he'd like to send Bobby somewhere, but it was never Paris."

"We probably don't have diplomatic relations with the place the President wants to send him," I said.

"I'm afraid not," the State Department official replied.

"Well, there's got to be somebody in this country who would be acceptable to us and President De Gaulle. What about a clergyman?"

"We've considered it, but De Gaulle doesn't like to be reminded there's another deity."

"This is ridiculous," I said.

"Do you realize if you don't appoint an American ambassador to France we'll have no communication with De Gaulle at all?"

"The idea gets more appealing as each day goes by."

History Or Myth

It has been proved time and time again that much of what we call myth is based on actual history.

One famous example is that of Heinrich Schliemann, the amateur archeologist who discovered the site of the ancient city of Troy by using Homer's "Iliad" as a guide.

But how much of what we believe to be history is actually myth—things that never happened?

For that matter, how much of history is what historian Daniel J. Boorstin calls "pseudo-events"—things that actually happened but were essentially phoney? A stagemanaged "confrontation" between demonstrators and the police, with the alerted press looking on, falls in the pseudo-event category.

The questions are provoked by three recent items in the news.

One is the announcement by New York's Metropolitan Museum of Art that its famous bronze statue of a horse, once believed to be a superb example of Greek sculpture dating from about 400 B.C., is actually a forgery made in this century.

The horse is still a superb example of art, but it is no longer "real" in the sense we thought it was.

The second is a story from France about some documents which have come to light that indicate that Joan of Arc was never burned at the stake. Moreover, she was not a peasant girl but a noblewoman, who married one Robert des Armoises and lived happily ever after.

According to the last living descendant of the family, the stake-burning legend "was a big publicity stunt, one of the earliest in France's history," and was devised to serve political ends.

Finally, in London the other day, thousands of dollars worth of fake first editions of famous books, printed by a book dealer named Thomas Wise in the late 19th century, were auctioned off to eager buyers at Sotheby's.

Not only have the forgeries attained historical value in their own right, but a counterfeit of one of Thomas' fakes actually sold for more than the "genuine" fake.

All of which brings to mind the brilliant idea of an Englishman about a hundred years ago and what has to be the greatest forgery of all.

Seeking to reconcile the then-raging controversy between the evolutionists and the anti-evolutionist, zoologist Philip Gosse claimed that both were right.

The earth was indeed created in six days in 4004 B.C., as the fundamentalists believed. And yes, the newly discovered geological and paleontological evidence that pointed to a far older age was quite correct.

How could this be? Because God had created the world with a built-in history. The marks left by glaciers, the fossils of extinct types of animals and men, all the evidence that the world and its life forms had gone through a long process of change and evolution was quite real—and quite fake. Just as Adam was created with a navel but never had a mother, so the earth was created with a past that never happened.

So what's the moral? Perhaps, that "history" at any given moment is pretty much the creation of the present, and that men will go on discovering it and undiscovering it, making it and remaking it in the same groping way they always have.

It is, after all, the only history we've got.

Yuletide Poetry

To say that Christmas today is different than it used to be is, of course, a crashing understatement. It is as different as gold cellophane and white tissue paper, as different as flashing electric lights and candles, as different as highways jammed with sleek automobiles and a country farmyard with the horses being led from the cutter to the warmth of the barn.

In an earlier day there were more fathers—doubtless there are still some today—who took an ax on the day before Christmas and went out to the woods to cut the family tree. And there were mothers who directed the children in stringing the cranberries and popcorn to decorate the green branches—unless it happened to be one of those families where the tree was a secret until Christmas Eve or Christmas morning.

But it would be wrong to think that, because the customs of Christmas have changed, they have disappeared—or have lost their hold. The Christmas tree is no less a wonder because it is more splendid than ever. The Christmas dinner is no less a feast because it takes only a day to prepare it instead of days. If Christmas gifts are more lavish, it is still true that the best of them are those that come from the heart.

Someone once said that the function of a poem is to make the memorable unforgettable. We enact a poem at Christmas, with as sure an instinct as we ever did.

ANOTHER BITE FROM TAXPAYERS

More Americans are becoming painfully aware of social security taxes. That's because the bite is getting bigger.

The withholding rate next year is expected to remain the same, but it will apply to $7,800 of income, instead of $6,600 as present.

This is somewhat fairer to the poor, who have been paying higher proportion of their incomes than the well-to-do, but still regressive.

According to Dan Cordtz, writing in the December issue of Fortune magazine, 18 per cent of all federal taxes are raised through the social security system. The trust funds from which benefits are expected to play a large fiscal role—a deflationary one—over the next decade. Under the present tax benefit schedule, receipts might exceed benefits by some $100 million in this period. Thus the program will create a "fiscal drag."

To be sure, Congress may elect to eliminate this drag by re-distributing the surplus in the form of higher benefits, as will happen next March when checks distributed this month reflect an increase which should be authorized this week.

But that only exacerbates another problem associated with the system. Instead of redistributing income from the prosperous to the needy, the system now gives to the aged poor and the aged rich alike, principally at the expense of younger, middle-income families.

And says Cordtz, some proposals for raising benefits pose a threat to the private pension schemes on which a growing number of Americans now depend for retirement at more than subsistence level. The proposed heavier taxes could preempt the resources available to purchase more flexible and individually satisfactory pensions.

For many young persons, the bigger tax bite now looms as a greater factor than a retirement check which may be decades away.—Idaho State Journal.

THERE ARE WHITE SLUMS, TOO

A report prepared by the Wall Street Journal reporters indicates that there is plenty of poverty in the United States. They found in Chicago a white slum area that is comparable to the Negro ghettos.

There 33,000 people live. They suffer from all the problems of ghetto Negroes—lack of education, lack of skills, bad housing and poor health.

These people are migrants from the rural South. They are like thousands of southern Negroes who have migrated to northern and western cities looking for something better.

The Journal reporters found a Negro slum community near Cleveland that has no water or sewers. They also cited examples of Spanish-American people in Texas, Colorado and California. One family was getting major financial help from a son in an Idaho Job Corps camp who sends $50 a month. His schooling ended with the third grade.

Poverty is not wholly a problem of any single group or single race.—The Statesman

BRUCE BLOSSAT

Little Robert Plays It Cool

WASHINGTON (NEA)—Some supporters of New York Sen. Robert F. Kennedy see a golden 1968 chance for him in Minnesota Sen. Eugene McCarthy's Democratic presidential candidacy, but some party leaders think it could be Kennedy's biggest headache since he gained a Senate seat.

In Wisconsin, one of the states where McCarthy will enter next year's primary, a veteran political appraiser says of the pro-Kennedy elements:

"They've really got their meters up."

A long-time Kennedy friend, former Lieut. Gov. Patrick Lucey, is said to have told some of the senator's more eager followers to cool it for awhile and take their cue from Kennedy himself, who presently is playing a detached, neutral game.

A Democratic source in New York says Bobby's devotees there think that McCarthy, in challenging President Johnson, is inevitably opening the way to a 1968, rather than a 1972, nomination bid by Kennedy. They are not convinced that the Minnesotan himself could possibly be the ultimate beneficiary, even if his primary state campaigns should prove surprisingly successful.

Leading Democratic figures in several other states tapped in an NEA survey are certain that anti-Johnson elements in their areas want Bob Kennedy now and think of McCarthy only as an instrument who might help them break the party loose from loyalist moorings to Johnson.

Yet a number of party politicians suggest that matters may not be all that promising for Kennedy.

For one thing, this reporter, in surveying more than 10 states, could not find a single seasoned Democratic leader who thinks that if McCarthy wins just two or three primaries—currently the very most optimistic forecast by his more realistic advocates—that he would either force the President's withdrawal or open the way to his defeat for the 1968 nomination.

Many of these experienced party chiefs believe McCarthy could not gravely injure Johnson's chances of 1968 renomination unless he scores a virtual sweep of five or six primaries and picks up additional delegate strength in state convention states.

McCarthy's close associates and numerous party regulars agree that if he managed such a triumph he would have to be taken seriously as a prospective nominee in his own right, and not simply as a paver-of-the-way for Kennedy.

"Nobody looks for this kind of McCarthy sweep, anyway, so considering Kennedy's chances against this prospect looks pretty much like an academic question."

If the widespread party judgment be accepted that merely two or three McCarthy victories would not unhorse

Johnson as a contender, then Kennedy's outlook in the developing 1968 picture would seem even further diminished. He has made it utterly clear he has no intention of challenging Johnson directly.

Some party figures say Kennedy can derive nothing but a headache from the McCarthy undertaking if, in the end, it amounts mostly to an effort to bring the anti-Vietnam war forces into some kind of focus within the Democratic party fold.

Though Kennedy recently has spoken out on this subject more strongly than for some time, there often have been great gaps between his generally dovish utterances on Vietnam. Those who think they know him say he fears to mount the attack too often. Since his criticisms tend almost inescapably to be read as fresh evidence of deep-seated feuding between himself and the President.

McCarthy's 1968 campaigning may make these recurring Kennedy silences seem increasingly painful—both to him and to his actual and potential supporters. Neutrality may be a hard stance to maintain in the clamor of a nomination fight centering so sharply on the Vietnam issue. Says a fellow Democratic senator:

"For Kennedy, McCarthy is trouble. He may wind up putting more pressure on RFK than he does on LBJ."

Intoxication

According to the old song, "tis the season to be jolly." This being so, or at least widely believed, the question arises: Are you the type who needs to take several drinks to be jolly? If so, after these drinks, do you always say, "Of course I'm sober enough to drive?"

If this is the case, the season may not be as jolly as you had anticipated.

Because so many traffic accidents are the result of drinking, this seems to be a good time to review some popular misconceptions about alcohol. For example, the belief that you will get more intoxicated if you mix your drinks (gin after whiskey or vice versa) is completely false. It is the amount of alcohol you consume in a unit of time that causes intoxication, regardless of the type of drink.

If you think you can safely drive when two hours have elapsed since you had two highballs you should revise your thinking. You might make it home without an accident, but a wait of three hours is safer.

The old notion that a little alcohol acts as a stimulant and makes you more alert is false. Alcohol depresses your nervous system. Some persons, aware of this danger, drive more carefully than they would otherwise but, should an emergency arise, their reflexes would be a little slower than normal.

Do you take a shot of liquor to warm you up when you have to go out on a cold night? Don't do it. The alcohol will warn your skin by dilating the surface capillaries but the total effect will be to cause your body to lose heat more rapidly.

Do you always accompany your alcohol consumption with eating onions or garlic or chewing cloves to fool the police? If so, you will lose that round, too. The modern chemical test for alcohol in the expired air is specific for alcohol. And don't forget that your ability for self-criticism is lost before there are any obvious signs of intoxication.

BARRY GOLDWATER

Wrong Approach

Lt. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey, boss of the draft, has taken the most wrong-headed approach of all in his threat to draft young men whose antiwar protests impede the work of military recruiters.

If these protesters resort to actions that could be considered illegal, the course toward their punishment should lie in the courtroom, not the induction center. Punishment by executive action is a poor and dangerous substitute for law in a free society or a society that wants to remain free.

Also, the very people against whom Gen. Hershey wants to aim his guns are about the last people in the world he should want in the military service. To put them in uniform would do a disservice to the uniform and surely it would be an act that would irritate more than assist the war effort.

On the one hand, curiously, Gen. Hershey maintains that the draft is a good thing. He often refers to being drafted as a "privilege." On the other hand he threatens to use the draft as a form of punishment. The logic of such a position is just about as bad as the morality of it.

Unfortunately, others on both sides of the political fence seem as ready as Gen. Hershey to use the draft for purposes that go far beyond anything ever planned for it.

One prominent Republican has urged that all young people be drafted for some form of national service. To hear such a suggestion from a representative of a party which is opposed to government coercion, and which believes that the state is the servant of the people and not vice versa, is another indication of how badly the draft system has warped the judgment of otherwise sensible persons.

Worst of all is the fact that the largely emotional hassles over the draft system have pretty much obscured the one answer that could resolve the entire issue—the creation of a fully voluntary military service. Study after study has indicated that it is well within the economic capacity of the nation (perhaps particularly if it were not so spendthrift on purely political spending schemes) to raise and maintain a fully professional and fully voluntary armed force.

Pay scales, of course, would have to be raised dramatically all along the line, most emphatically in the enlisted grades. The morale which has been destroyed by years of downgrading of the military by bitterly antimilitary civilian managers would have to be restored.

The ramifications of building a voluntary military would be great and constructive. Much of the smoldering dissent regarding Vietnam centers on the draft rather than on the war.

If the draft were removed as an issue, there is every reason to believe that the war could be more successfully prosecuted. Given policy support of other sorts, it could be more quickly won. At least other such wars could be more effectively prevented by the fact of a superior armed force in being.

It is to such matters that those involved with the draft should address themselves. The burning of draft cards by college students or the revocation of exemptions by Gen. Hershey accomplish nothing constructive.

4 Governors Ask Federal Aid To Areas Stricken By Blizzard

By GORDON G. GAUSS
Associated Press Writer
DENVER (AP) — Four governors joined Monday afternoon in a personal appeal to President Daniel, director of the Office of Emergency Planning, for federal aid to areas of Arizona and New Mexico hard hit by the winter's worst blizzard.

The four called Daniel from the office of Gov. John A. Love of Colorado where they met for a meeting of the Four Corners Regional Development Association.

The four were Love, Gov. Jack Williams of Arizona, Gov. David Cargo of New Mexico and Gov. Calvin Rampton of Utah. Williams asked Daniel for vehicles capable of traveling on snow and for helicopters as well as ski troops.

He said there is 60 inches of snow in Flagstaff, Ariz., the heaviest of any city in the West, that food is running short and that there is no ground transportation for farm homes. He said a crisis is developing on the Navajo and Hopi Indian reservations and in the area to the south, from Kingman, on the western border of New Mexico. He reported 3,000 travelers are stranded in Grants, N.M., unable to proceed westward.

Gov. Cargo stressed the same point, saying that motorists unable to proceed are backing up along U.S. 66 in New Mexico.

The Utah chief executive reported that some cattle are stranded in southeast Utah, from Blanding toward the Four Corners area, but said "There is nothing we can't take care of on a state basis."

The governors met, as members of the Four Corners Regional Development Commission, to select a site for the organization's headquarters but turned their major attention to the situation resulting from the storm.

They deferred action on the site selection without public comment. Love, who was presiding, simply said it was his understanding "from our conversations that no agreement has been reached."

Love said the governors would try to make a selection by Jan. 15 but did not elaborate.

The governors, in a separate action, decided against taking any position in the copper strike and also decided to make a protest to the Interstate Commerce Commission about plans of the Denver & Rio Grande Western Railroad to abandon the narrow gauge track between Alamosa and Durango, Colo.

The governors said after the meeting they will try to agree on the headquarters site by telephone conferences. Their next meeting will be in Albuquerque, N.M., the first part of February, with the exact date to be fixed later.

Orren Beatty Jr., federal co-chairman, said three of the governors and the federal co-chairman must agree on a headquarters site.

Charles E. Shumate, Colorado's chief highway engineer, said a semi-official Four Corners Highway Commission is nearing completion of a plan for building 382 miles of paved highways meeting federal standards in the Indian reservations. Included, Shumate said, will be 270 miles in Arizona, 130 miles in Utah, 127 miles in New Mexico and 65 miles in Colorado. He said the plan will not interfere with the long-range plans of the Bureau of Indian Affairs for local service roads.

Beatty said there is a need for roads in southern Utah, east of Lake Powell, behind Glen Canyon Dam, so that tourists may see the many scenic attractions.

Cargo, stressing the need for roads, said that in some places children are missing 40 per cent of each school year because they cannot get to schools.

Economy Grows To Convince Congress Higher Tax Needed

By JOSEPH R. COYNE
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Government economists say the nation's economy, rebounding strongly from recent strikes, is expanding at a pace that will convince Congress of the need for higher taxes.

Reports of surging personal income, production and home building and a sharp drop in unemployment came too late Monday to do the administration any good during the congressional session which ended last Friday.

But the economic data now in for November paints a bullish picture of the government experts had hoped for when Congress considered President Johnson's proposed 10 per cent income tax surcharge earlier this year.

It should give the administration fresh ammunition when it resumes its bid for the surcharge before the House Ways and Means Committee about Jan. 22.

"They're awfully good-looking statistics," one analyst said of Monday's reports of the sharpest rise in personal income in more than two years and the fifth straight monthly advance in home building.

These reports from the Commerce Department followed announcements last week of the biggest jump in industrial output in three years, the sharpest drop in the unemployment rate in six years and a 1.5 per cent rise in retail sales which wiped out most of October's decline.

When Johnson submitted the surcharge proposal to Congress on Aug. 3, officials had hoped to back their arguments for passage with strong statistics of an expanding economy headed for inflation.

The signs were there but were inconsistent, especially when workers at the Ford Motor Co. struck in September. The copper strike and another by steel haulers added to the slowdown in statistical data.

But during November the major signs of economic activity moved ahead smartly in unison. Government experts hedged their earlier predictions, however, on the assumption there would be no major automobile strike.

"I hate to say every road leads to Rome but every one of these statistics leads to Detroit," one economist said of the slowdown in economic activity during September and October.

The experts are glad to see their forecasts confirmed by the November data but the strong expansion indicates the economy is getting hot—uncomfortably so—one source said.

The Commerce Department report showed personal income up $5.8 billion to a record annual rate of $641.7 billion. Housing starts jumped 4.7 per cent to an annual rate of 1,556,000 units, the highest since December 1965.

Family Matter

ALEXANDRIA, Va. (AP)—A fight broke out in a florist shop and police were called as two family factions argued over flowers for a relative's funeral.

Four persons were arrested in the plant-throwing fracas and the store operators said they had to close for three hours to clean up the mess.

Both sides of the family refused to discuss the incident, saying, "It's a family matter."

Civitan Members Plan Fruitcake Sale Thursday

Members of the Twin Falls Civitan Club will be making a final drive this week to complete selling of about 2,000 fruitcakes.

The club has sold about 1,600 and has about 400 more to go. Chairman of the sale, William Armga, said a door to door sale will be conducted Thursday night and it is possible the remaining one-pound cakes will be sold then. If not, club members will be back in the downtown area winding up the sales this weekend.

Proceeds from the sale finance club projects during the coming year. Last year the group financed a Twin Falls performance by the Army Band.

Mrs. Armga said it is hoped between $800 and $900 profit will be made.

Trenhaile To Appeal Decision

BOISE (AP) — Former chief meat inspector Dr. C. H. Kennedy will not be reinstated without a court order, Idaho Commissioner of Agriculture Stanley Trenhaile says.

Trenhaile made the statement Monday after a legal motion to defer action on an Idaho Personnel Commission order to reinstate Kennedy to his old job or a similar one was denied by the commission.

The commission also turned down Trenhaile's request for a rehearing on the case. Trenhaile had fired Kennedy early this year and Kennedy appealed the dismissal to the commission.

The commission ruled early this month that Kennedy must be reinstated by Trenhaile and paid back wages for the time of his suspension and dismissal.

Trenhaile said Monday he intends to appeal the decision of the commission in Fourth District Court.

Kennedy reported for work Dec. 11, but Trenhaile told him to go home. Trenhaile says he told Kennedy he recognized his right to back pay if the commission ruling is upheld.

Trenhaile and Idaho Atty. Gen. Allan Sheppard were to confer on the appeal. The attorney general's office is representing Trenhaile in the case.

When Kennedy was fired, Trenhaile said he had failed to perform his duties as head of Idaho's meat inspection program. But the Meridian veterinarian contended he had been fired for "political reasons."

The commission findings alleged that Kennedy had been fired because of "pressures" by Trenhaile by "a segment of the meat packing industry."

At a weekend meeting in Boise, directors of the Idaho State Employees' Association unanimously adopted a resolution upholding the commission's ruling.

The Kennedy case was the first of its kind handled by the commission since its creation by the State Merit System Law in 1965.

SEN. AND MRS. Robert F. Kennedy, D-N.Y., walk back to their lodgings in Sun Valley Monday after spending six hours skiing on the slopes of nearby Baldy Mountain. The Kennedys are on a two-week skiing vacation with several of their 10 children. The family spent the previous Christmas at the resort. (AP wirephoto)

Flotilla Begins Dragging River

By HOLGER JENSEN
Associated Press Writer

POINT PLEASANT, W. Va. (AP) — A flotilla of small craft begins a 14-mile dragging operation on the Ohio River today in an attempt to find the bodies of those missing in the suspension bridge collapse.

Searchers have recovered 19 bodies since the Friday disaster. Civil Defense officials estimate there are still 42 missing.

Army officers in charge of the recovery estimate the dragging operation will take several days. They said small craft will drag "every inch" of the river bottom from the mangled wreckage of the collapsed Silver Bridge to the Gallipolis dam 14 miles downstream.

Meanwhile, federal and state officials from Ohio and West

Virginia continue to probe the cause of the disaster. President Johnson sent a telegram Monday night to Gov. Hulett C. Smith of West Virginia, promising federal aid to restore transportation across the river and for plans to build a new bridge.

"Every possible help will be rendered," said Johnson. "The nation has been saddened by the Silver Bridge tragedy."

The West Virginia Road Commission has engaged a consulting engineering firm—Modjeski and Masters of Harrisburg, Pa.—to provide what Road Commissioner Burl A. Sawyers called "an independent analysis" of possible causes of the collapse.

Harry Stephens, the road commission's chief bridge design engineer, said his investigators already have ruled out one possible cause—failure of the anchorage at each end of the suspension span.

"The anchorage has not moved and we can rule that out altogether," he said.

Ohio Highway Director P. E. Masheter has ordered inspections of three other Ohio River bridges. West Virginia's Road Commission has closed the Ohio River bridge at St. Mary's, 80 miles north of here, because it is of the same type as the fallen bridge and was built about the same time.

Several other bridges on the Ohio and Kanawha Rivers are being inspected by West Virginia authorities.

Traffic on the Pomeroy, Ohio-Mason, W.Va. bridge is being spaced by state police to eliminate overloading. The Pomeroy bridge is 20 miles north of Point Pleasant and is in heavy use since the disaster.

The New York Central Railroad started a shuttle car service over the river this morning on a railroad bridge 300 yards upstream of the former Silver Bridge.

The West Virginia Public Service Commission has approved emergency ferry service and is seeking clearance from the Interstate Commerce Commission and the Army Corps of Engineers.

State Atty. Gen. C. Donald Robertson has estimated damage claims totaling millions of dollars will be filed against

STORE ROBBED

BOISE (AP) — An undetermined amount of money was taken in an armed robbery of a Boise fruit and vegetable stand by two men Monday night, police said.

Owner of the store, Mrs. Ed Wallace, said two men forced her and another woman to the back of the store at gunpoint and demanded money. One kept his gun on the women while the other emptied the cash register, she said.

18 STRICKEN

BOISE (AP) — As many as 18 persons were stricken with food poisoning after eating in a Boise cafe, health authorities said. All were reported recovering.

City-County Health Director Dr. F. D. Koehne said the poisoning was of a staphylococcus type which either results in death or recovery within 18 hours.

The poisoning was isolated to a meat sauce, Koehne said. It resulted from unsanitary handling, he added.

Dr. Sheppard Reinstated By Board

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Dr. Samuel H. Sheppard has received permission from the State Medical Board to resume the practice of osteopathic medicine and surgery in Ohio, an attorney for Sheppard said Monday.

The attorney, Benjamin Clark of Columbus, said he was notified that the board had reinstated Sheppard's certificate at a Dec. 14 meeting. Sheppard requested reinstatement Nov. 28, Clark said.

However, Sheppard has indicated he doesn't plan to resume practice in Ohio. He is now living in Europe, and recently applied to join the Peace Corps. His last known address is in Duisburg, West Germany, Clark said.

Sheppard's certificate was suspended indefinitely after his 1954 conviction in the slaying of his wife in suburban Cleveland.

Committee Is Bottleneck For Legislation

By JOHN CHADWICK
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Judiciary Committee proved an impassable bottleneck for anticrime, antiriot and gun control legislation in the first session of the 90th Congress.

And there's evidence the same conflicts that caused the stalemate on all three measures may be equally difficult to breach in the next session beginning Jan. 15.

The Judiciary Committee, with Sen. James O. Eastland, D-Miss., as chairman and Sen. ... ate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen the top-ranking minority member, is closely divided on all three issues.

Southern Democrats and conservative Republicans on the panel have tended to back the antiriot bill, which would make it a federal crime to cross a state line with intent to incite a riot, while opposing the measure to prohibit interstate firearms sales.

Liberal and moderate committee members from both parties generally oppose the antiriot bill but strongly endorse the gun sales measure.

The liberals-conservatives bipartisan split also affects the anticrime bill.

Liberals have backed President Johnson's original proposal for providing federal grants to local law enforcement agencies for training and new equipment.

Conservatives have backed a Judiciary subcommittee's amendments to remove Supreme Court-imposed restrictions on the admissibility of confessions in criminal cases.

The subcommittee also broadened the bill to authorize wiretapping by law enforcement officers acting under court orders.

Johnson has called for a ban on all wiretapping and electronic eavesdropping except in cases involving the national interest.

Both sides in the committee wrangle over the anticrime bill were maneuvering cautiously when Congress went home last weekend.

From time to time reports cropped up that the administration might be willing to accept a wiretap provision if necessary to get its anticrime bill out of the committee, but sources said they knew of no foundation for them.

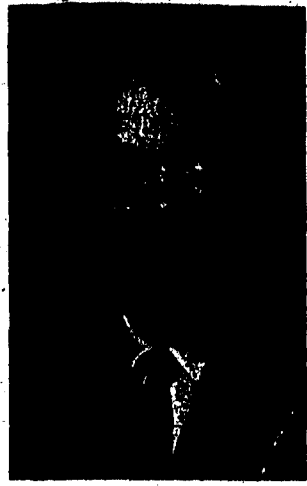

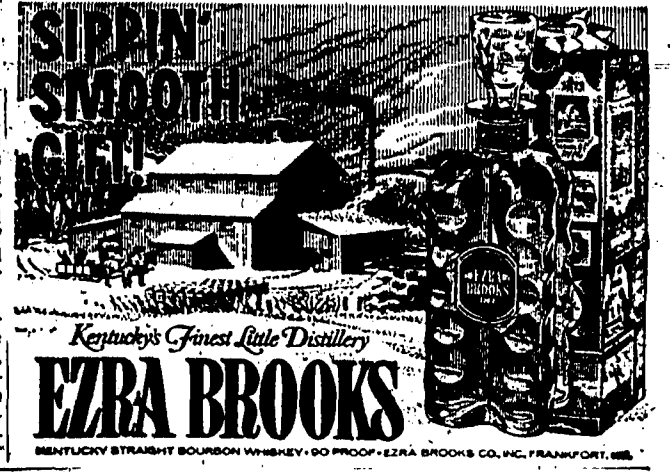

Sen. Roman L. Hruska, R-Neb., a key supporter of limited authority for police wiretapping, also said he knew of nothing to indicate any weakening in the administration's opposition.

There was occasional talk during the last session that all three bills might be combined into some sort of package deal.

But no compromise was reached and the outlook is not promising for the next session.

The House passed the antiriot bill last summer and the Senate committee completed hearings on it before Labor Day. But the efforts of Eastland and other backers to dislodge the bill proved unavailing in the face of the opposition of Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., and other liberals.

Wrangling over the gun control bill has gone on within the committee for years. Kennedy, with the backing of the administration, was among leaders in the fight for this but got nowhere against the conservatives.

Suit Rejected

WASHINGTON (AP)—An Illinois man's $100,000 trespass suit against the government, which grew out of an overnight stay by President Johnson in a motel near his home, has been rejected by the Supreme Court.

Anthony J. Scherer Jr. of Des Plaines, Ill., contended federal agents wouldn't let him stay in his home—about 300 yards from the presidential sleeping place—on Oct. 7, 1964.

In opposing the suit, the Justice Department said Scherer, a licensed firearms dealer, was told he could remain in his home if he would give federal agents temporary custody of weapons he was known to keep there.

The weapons, several rifles, a machine gun—and a cannon capable of penetrating concrete walls.

Orofino Man Being Held Without Bail

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Richard J. Noble, 20, Orofino, Idaho, was held without bail today on murder and arson charges in connection with a fire at a University of Pennsylvania fraternity house which claimed three lives.

Noble's attorney, Bernard L. Segal, postponed Monday his plea for bail for Noble. He said the district attorney's office asked him to make a formal appeal and said he would do this as soon as possible.

Noble's parents arrived in Philadelphia Monday.

His mother said: "We came to see him, to give him what aid and support we can. We feel he has suffered enough alone."

3 Killed As Molten Pig Iron Dumped

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—Tons of molten pig iron dumped by accident killed three men and injured 30 at the Armco steel mill.

The metal, heated to 2,800 degrees Fahrenheit, spilled 40 feet from a giant ladle Monday into an open hearth area and splattered 120 feet.

Leo Bell, 53, and Houston H. Kreuger, 55, both of Houston, died about seven hours after suffering burns Monday.

A third employe, Norman E. Doss, 49, of Houston, died early today.

Of the 30 workers suffering injuries, 17 remained in hospitals, many in critical condition. Attendants said several may be blinded. Others were treated at the plant for minor injuries and one was dismissed after hospital treatment.

Burke Huber, plant assistant safety supervisor, said most of the injuries resulted from clothes set afire by the metal.

Officials reported about 440 persons work at the mill but did not say how many were present at the time of the accident.

Spokesmen unofficially blamed the accident on a bent mechanical arm that held the bowl-shaped ladle in place.

Plant Manager, W.M. Rankin said an overhead electric crane supported the ladle that carried 30 tons of molten iron from special rail cars to the hearth. The crane lifts the ladle to the second-floor level, 40 feet off the ground.

Inflation Hits Farmers Hardest

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. Odin Langen, R-Minn., said today farmers are hit harder by inflation than any other members of the economy.

"Inflation," said Langen, chairman of the House Republican Task Force on Agriculture, "is one of the major factors that has caused a decline in farm income."

Langen said the farmer has done absolutely nothing to create inflation, yet he is its victim, due to greatly increased production costs.

"Food prices have been the only item in recent months that has declined," he said, "while the cost of living has continuously risen to where it is now at an all-time high."

Langen said farmers this year have experienced a drop of more than $1.5 billion in net income.

Copper Strike Talks Resume Wednesday

WASHINGTON (AP)—Negotiations between 22 striking unions and one of the major copper producers for settlement of a strike which has idled 50,000 workers for five months will be resumed Wednesday.

The Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service said its director, William E. Simkin, will head a panel of mediators in talks between the Phelps Dodge Corp. and spokesmen for United Steelworkers and the other unions.

The negotiating sessions will be held beginning at 2 p.m. Dec. 20 in Douglas, Ariz.

Phelps Dodge two weeks ago submitted a proposal averaging about 65 cents an hour increase over a three-year period. This was the first move of any of the Big Four copper producers away from an original offer of about 50 cents.

Although the offer was not accepted by the Steelworkers, representing the other unions, a reopening of negotiations was urged last Thursday by Sens. Mike Mansfield and Lee Metcalf, Montana Democrats, as perhaps the only way to bring a settlement of the strike.

Phelps Dodge is the only one of the four large copper producers without a source of foreign copper for import. The other companies are Anaconda, Kennecott and American Smelting and Refining.

Marcus' Matters Probed

By BOB MONROE
NEW YORK (AP) — City investigators, working on the direct orders of Mayor John V. Lindsay, begin today a painstaking probe into all matters dealt with by former mayoral aide James L. Marcus, accused of a Cosa Nostra figure in a city contract kickback scheme.

Marcus and five other men, including labor racketeer Antonio "Tony Ducks" Corallo, were arrested Monday in what one city official described as the most spectacular city scandal since the Seabury investigation of the early 1930's that led to the resignation of Mayor James J. Walker.

According to the federal grand jury indictment, Marcus allegedly pocketed $16,000 of a $40,000 kickback in the award of an $800,000 city reservoir cleaning contract while serving as commissioner of water supply, gas and electricity.

It was one week ago today that Marcus, a friend and confidant of the mayor, abruptly resigned his $30,000-a-year job. He had been one of the best-liked and fastest rising young men in the Republican mayor's two-year-old administration.

The defendants, each charged with conspiring to violate federal antiracketeering laws, face a maximum penalty upon conviction of five years in federal prison and a $10,000 fine.

At their arraignment, federal Judge Constance Baker Motley set bail of $100,000 for Corallo but released the others without bond for a hearing Dec. 28. Marcus, 37, refused to comment to newsmen.

The others indicted were Henry Fried, 60, head of S.T. Grand and Co., and a prominent New York horse breeder; Herbert Itkin, 41, a New York City labor lawyer and a law associate, Charles Rappaport, 30; and Daniel Motta, 57, of Greenwich, Conn., president of New York Local 350, Bakery Workers Union.

John J. Malone, assistant FBI director in New York, said organized crime was apparently "making attempts to infiltrate the administration of the city, but added there was no evidence of appreciable success.

BY ABIGAIL VAN BUREN
DEAR ABBY: I was married for over 30 years and for reasons I do not care to disclose we were divorced four years ago. From this marriage I have seven wonderful children who are now grown and married. Three months ago I married again. Here is my problem. On Christmas eve all my children come home and we exchange gifts. Their father comes also. Now that I have remarried, the children are worried about whether their father will be here for Christmas. I have talked it over with my husband and he has no objections to my ex-husband's being present. I believe he is sincere as he is very understanding.
Do you think it would be right to invite my ex-husband?
WORRIED

DEAR ABBY: This is for the 15-year-old girl who threatened to get herself pregnant so her parents would "have to" let her marry the boy she loved. (He was 18.)
I hope your parents knock some sense into your head before you do such a foolish thing. I married at 15. The boy I couldn't live without was 16. We had four children by the time I was 19. He quit school to marry me, and the jobs he can get without an education do not bring in very much, so now I am knocking myself out trying to get my education. My family is suffering from my neglect, but I MUST get an education.
There is a time in life for everything, and 15 is no time for marriage, no matter how "mature" a girl thinks she is. She is only a baby, and can't possibly know what characteristics she will value in a man when she grows up. And 9 chances out of 10, the man she marries will not possess them. I wish my parents had been less "understanding" and more demanding when I was 15.

Percy Asks Help On Arab Problem

TEL AVIV (AP)—Sen. Charles Percy, R-Ill., called on the Soviet Union today to help solve the Arab refugee problem. Percy, considered a potential candidate for the Republican presidential nomination, arrived here from Tehran on his round-the-world "study mission."

He said in answer to a newsman's question: "The Arab refugee problem is a great problem, the kind that in humanitarian interest the Soviet Union could join in helping to solve."

In answer to another question, the senator said "whether under czars or commissars" the Russians have attempted to "exert power and influence in the Middle East."

Percy was to meet Prime Minister Levi Eshkol and other Israeli and American officials and tour an Arab refugee camp. He said in a prepared statement: "It is my profound feeling that Israel is providing an example of creativity and determination for progress which should be a model for all developing countries. I regard my country and myself as friends of Israel."

Percy leaves Thursday to ski with his family in Switzerland.

Gold Back To Normal On Mart

LONDON (AP) — Demand for gold suddenly dropped back almost to normal on the London gold market today, indicating the gold rush in Europe may be ending.

The price dropped in Hong Kong, and market specialists said the rush appeared ended there also. Hong Kong speculators were reported convinced by the U.S. government's pledge over the weekend that the United States could—and would—hold the price of gold to $35 an ounce.

Bullion dealers in London reported turnover today ranging from moderate down to practically normal.

Sellers stayed out of the market, however, holding onto the hoards of gold they piled up during the past month of uncertainty over the stability of the dollar following devaluation of the pound.

Gold opened in London at $39.1975, unchanged from Monday and just a quarter of a cent below the official ceiling.

Utah Loan Firm Depositors Will Get Some Money

PROVO, Utah (AP) — Depositors in the Utah Savings and Loan Association, which is under state control, will get about 10 per cent of their money back in January.

The liquidation return was announced Sunday by W. Smoot Brimhall, state banking commissioner.

Brimhall said a staff of 22 has been working on the project to begin paying back the association's 10,000 depositors.

Increase Output

TOKYO (AP) — Two Japanese auto-makers, Toyota and Nissan, expect to increase production to one million vehicles next year to meet increasing demand in foreign markets. So far in 1967, Toyota has produced 830,000 vehicles and Nissan, 800,000. Two other auto manufacturers, Mitsubishi and Honda, are planning major expansions of production facilities.

TWIN FALLS COUNTY was given a financial boost Tuesday when A. J. Johnson, left, handed a check for $80,061 to Ruth Jones, county treasurer. The payment represents property taxes for the first half of 1967. The payment is from the Union Pacific Railroad Co. Mr. Johnson is the railroad's land and tax agent from Salt Lake City.

Union Pacific Railroad Tax Payment Is Given To County

The Union Pacific railroad tax bill in Idaho comes to more than $4 million a year, and Tuesday Twin Falls County received a check for $80,061 as payment for the first half of 1967 taxes for the railroad.

Ruth Jones, county treasurer, accepted the checks from A. J. Johnson, the railroad's land and tax agent from Salt Lake City.

1,062 Books Are Loaned At Hagerman

SHOSHONE — A total of 1,062 books were loaned through the city library the past month, according to Mrs. Marx Nielsen, librarian.

There are 541 cards in use at the present time, which means an average of 42 books are checked out each time the library is open.

She also reported 12 adults and nine students had asked for special reference material be procured for them at the Magic Valley Reference Center.

There were 31 juvenile, 21 adult non-fiction and 13 adult fiction books bought this month plus the addition of 60 donated volumes.

The possible rural types of library service were discussed by Robert Bruce with the County Commissioners, school representatives and other interested persons.

DISTURBANCE SEEN
TRENTON, N.J. (AP) — Another disturbance hit Trenton Central High School today with students throwing plates and food against cafeteria walls.

Computer Tested

OTTAWA (AP) — Canada's first computer to help control air traffic is undergoing final testing at Gander International Airport.

The machine will take over routine functions, giving air controllers more time to supervise Gander's increasing traffic. The airport logged 83,728 flights last year and will have more than 161,000 by 1976.

Desegregation Policies Will Back Integration

WASHINGTON (AP) — Changes forced by Southern congressmen in the government's school desegregation policies actually will strengthen the federal integration effort, says the official in charge.

The whole civil rights compliance procedure will become "more orderly, more disciplined and will provide greater certainty for the school districts involved," said Peter Libassi, director of the Office for Civil Rights of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare. Libassi said in a Monday interview: "Now, when we start a case, we'll have to conclude it—we'll avoid negotiations that go on indefinitely."

The new policies, agreed to by HEW Secretary John W. Gardner, provide the department will not—with two exceptions—cut off federal funds to any school district between Sept. 1 and June 1 of the school year for failure to comply with the 1964 Civil Rights Act.

Sen. Richard B. Russell, D-Ga., on receiving the Gardner assurance, dropped his Southern-backed proposed amendment to the federal aid to education bill. His proposal would have barred the government from cutting off or deferring federal funds during a school year.

Gardner's agreement stipulates funds could be cut off during a school year if:

—A school district is told in writing by March 1 before the year of the cutoff that it probably is not in compliance.

—A district is given notice of opportunity for a hearing on alleged noncompliance by Sept. 1 in the school year of the cutoff. The procedures now affect mainly Southern school districts. But they will take on meaning in the North under the new effort HEW will begin early next year to check for violations of the Civil Rights Act in the largely segregated big-city Northern school systems.

Southern congressmen often have sought to reduce the government's authority in its program to end dual school systems for whites and Negroes in the South.

Administration officials feared Russell's amendment to the aid to education bill would have seriously weakened the compliance program.

But they say the new procedures will limit only slightly the department's flexibility, and Libassi said: "I'm not sure it means much."

Allen And Shula Share National Football League Coach Of Year Honors

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — George Allen of the Los Angeles Rams and Don Shula of the Baltimore Colts share the National Football League Coach of the Year honors in the voting of an Associated Press panel.

Allen and Shula each received 16 votes from the committee of sports writers and sportscasters, three from each league city. Vince Lombardi of Green Bay drew six votes, Allie Sherman of New York got three, George Halas of the Chicago Bears and Blanton Collier of the Cleveland Browns two each and Tom Fears of New Orleans one. Two members of the panel did not submit votes in this category in the poll that was taken before the final games.

Allen drew solid support for his fine job in bringing the Rams through a 14-game season with an 11-1-2 record, winding up with eight straight victories including a dramatic 27-24 win over Green Bay to stay alive and a final 34-10 triumph over Baltimore which had been unbeaten.

Although the Rams and Colts finished with identical 11-1-2 records in the Coastal Division, the margin of points in the two games between the clubs (they tied 24-24 on Oct. 15), was in favor of Los Angeles. Consequently, the Rams go into Saturday's game with Green Bay at Milwaukee, Wis., for the Western Conference title.

It was the second year in Los Angeles for Allen, who created a wild scene when he left the Bears to take the Ram's job over the protests of Halas. Allie Sherman, a defensive coach with the Bears, took over a last-place 4-10 team, moved them up to 8-6 last year and won the division this year.

The Rams, of course, are based on that big defensive front line of Deacon Jones, Merlin Olsen, Roger Brown and Lamar Lundy, known as the Fear-some Four some.

Roman Gabriel has come of age as a fine quarterback and the addition of Bernie Casey gave him another fine target. Les Josephson and Dick Bass did most of the running and Casey, Josephson, Bill Truax, Jack Snow and Bass most of the catching.

Baltimore rolled through the first 13 games without defeat, having been tied by the Rams and Minnesota Vikings, but saw their title hopes vanish in one afternoon at Los Angeles.

Coach Shula did a tremendous job in keeping the Colts on the move despite injuries that sidelined men like Raymond Berry, Jimmy Orr, Bobby Boyd, Lenny Lyles and Alvin Haymond for extended periods.

Shula, a former defensive back, has coached the Colts for five years, winning the Western Conference title in 1964 but losing to Cleveland in the finals. In 1965, the Colts tied Green Bay but lost in a sudden death playoff. Shula is 37, Allen 45.

Lombardi's ability to keep the Packers on the move despite injuries to key men like Elijah Piltz and Jim Grabowski was recognized by six members of the panel.

The Packers, champions of everything last year when they beat Kansas City in the first Super Bowl, breezed to the Central Division crown but lost four games and were tied once.

Lombardi is shooting for a third straight NFL title, a feat never accomplished since the league was divided into conferences in 1933. Green Bay did win three straight from 1929 to 1931 before playoffs.

The New York Giants' surge from 1-12-1 to 7-7 and third place in the combined Eastern standings brought them three votes for Sherman, whose team produced a potent offense with the addition of Fran Tarkenton.

Halas, the senior citizen of the league and owner-coach of the Bears, gathered his troops together after a sad start in the exhibition season and wound up at 7-6-1, an outstanding accomplishment with several new men in the line-up.

Collier's Browns took the Century Division title with a 9-5 record, winning when they had to. Cleveland nailed it down by beating the Giants and St. Louis on successive December Sundays.

Fears also received recognition for the Saints' feat of winning three games, a fine showing for an expansion team. New Orleans knocked off Philadelphia, Atlanta and Washington after losing its first seven. Fears was an assistant at Atlanta last year.

Tom Landry of the Dallas Cowboys was the 1966 winner.

SPORTS

DON SHULA, COACH of the Baltimore Colts, looks over film of Baltimore's loss to Los Angeles Sunday which gave the Rams the Coastal Division title in the National Football League. Shula and Ram Coach George Allen were named the league's co-coaches of the year Monday in the annual Associated Press poll.

Yastrzemski Sweeps AL Batting Honors

BOSTON (AP) — The pennant-winning Boston Red Sox with Triple Crown winner Carl Yastrzemski leading the way, virtually swept team batting honors in the American League for 1967.

The official figures released Saturday by League President Joe Cronin showed that Boston took team honors with a .255 batting average, 158 home runs, 666 runs batted in, 722 runs scored, 1,394 hits, and 2,162 total bases. They tied Minnesota for the lead in doubles with 216.

The only major categories in which the Red Sox did not finish on top were triples and stolen bases, where the speed-minding Kansas City Athletics showed the way with 50 and 132, respectively.

The figures showed Yastrzemski dominating the individual statistics. The slugging outfielder won his second batting title with a .326 mark and also led in runs batted in with 121 while tying Minnesota's Harmon Killebrew for the home run championship with 44 to win the Triple Crown Honor.

In addition, Yaz topped the league in hits 169, total bases 360 and runs scored 112, while his 31 doubles put him second to Minnesota's Tony Oliva, who led with 34.

Other departmental leaders include Baltimore's Paul Blair with 12 triples, and Kansas City's speedy Bert Campaneris, who led in stolen bases for the third straight year with a career high of 55.

Namath May Have Injury But Will Play

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP)—Jet Joe Namath won't learn until Tuesday afternoon whether he has a fractured cheek bone, but he's a clinch to play for New York against San Diego Sunday.

Namath is within 83 yards of the all-pro total yardage record and won't let a minor injury interfere. He set the American Football League mark Sunday at 3,664 as he threw for 370. Sonny Jorgenson of Washington raised the National League and all-pro records to 3,747 as he ended his season Sunday.

Namath and all other Jets were excused after Sunday's game until Tuesday noon when they will report to Coach Weeb Ewbank at Escondido, near San Diego, to prep for Sunday's regular season finale.

Then Namath will have his swollen jaw X-rayed. It was injured as his Jets lost 29-38 to Oakland Sunday.

Dr. James A. Nicholas, the Jets physician, okayed the X-ray delay.

Team officials didn't know where or how Namath was spending his two days holiday from training.

If his cheek is fractured, it will be wired, and he'll wear a plastic face shield. It shouldn't affect his play, said Jet publicist Frank Ramos.

Namath will have the AFL's two leading pass receivers to help get the yardage record when the Jets play San Diego. They are George Sauer, who leads the AFL in receptions, 70 for 1,085 yards and 8 touchdowns, and Don Maynard, whose 1,293-yard lead-the-league. He has caught 63, including 7 for touchdowns.

Mrs. King Receives Top Rating

NEW YORK (AP) — Mrs. Billie Jean King of Long Beach, Calif., was listed No. 1 Monday in the recommended ratings of the women's ranking committee of the U.S. Lawn Tennis Association.

Mrs. King was given the top spot for her overpowering play throughout the year, which included singles, doubles and mixed doubles championships at Wimbledon and the U.S. singles title at Forest Hills, N.Y.

The No. 2 spot went to Nancy Richey, who won the National Clay Court crown and every other domestic tournament she played in but who was sidelined for much of the year with an injury.

Rosemary Casals of San Francisco, dropped from the third to the fifth spot, was replaced as No. 3 by Mary Ann Eisel of St. Louis.

Peaches Bartkowicz of Ham-tramck, Mich., advanced from fifth to fourth, and Carole Graebner of Beachwood, Ohio, returning to action after a year's layoff, entered the top 10 as No. 6.

Rounding out the top 10 are Stephanie De Fina, Hollywood, Fla., No. 7; Kathy Harter, Seal Beach, Calif., No. 8; Lynn Abber, Orinda, Calif., No. 9, and Wicky Rogers, Rye, N.Y., No. 10.

A Column for Sports Fans

By Bob Reese

December is a long way from baseball season, but the Hot Stove League is in full session. This is the time of year when general managers, and fans, are busy figuring out the trades that mean a pennant for the home team.

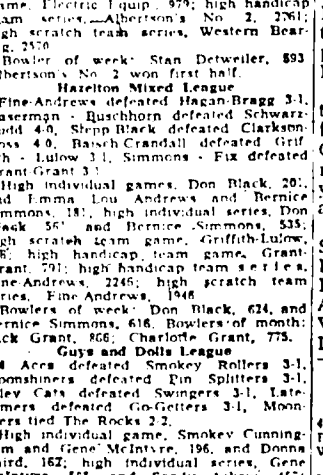

Probably the greatest trade of all time was the one where the Yankees got a pitcher-buffaloe from Boston in the winter of 1919. All he did was hit 54 homers for New York in 1920 (a record) and go on to become the games' greatest slugger, the Bambino, Babe Ruth.

Detroit acquired Mickey Vernon from the Philadelphia Athletics in the winter of 1933, and went on to win two straight pennants in 1934 and 1935. Cincinnati traded Frank Robinson and a pennant to the Baltimore Orioles in the 1965-66 Hot Stove bomb-shell.

So "trading" can be a good winter game for the avid fan, and (sometimes) the team. . . . It's great trading time on a new car, too, at BOB REESE'S where you'll find the season's best selection of models and colors. . . . and we're ready to trade! Come in now!

WEST'S BIDDING HINTS SINGLETON

The recent death of Ivan Erdos at the age of 43 took away one of the best and most colorful of our players. According to Oswald, Ivan was a youngster. From Jim's viewpoint he was middle-aged. From any viewpoint he was a great player. Ivan won his first national title was that he didn't care about criticism. He wanted to win. Here is a hand from a rubber bridge game that illustrates this. Ivan refused to take a sure profit against seven clubs. He ruffed the opening club lead and led a trump to dummy's king. Then he led back a trump and proceeded to think for some time after East played the seven spot.

The standard play would be to go up with the ace or queen and, as you can see, the standard play would have lost. Everyone would have said, "Tough luck." There would have been no criticism.

Ivan played his nine. If West had produced the jack or ten, North would have exploded. East, West and the kibitzers would all have laughed, and there would be a story going around about the expert who couldn't handle a 3-2 trump break.

All this meant nothing to Ivan. He decided West's bidding had shown a singleton spade. Ivan wanted to win and did.

Young America's Date-Line

By ELE AND WALT DULANEY

Key Word? It's Trust!

Dear Walt: At what age do you think a boy should have his own key to the House? I'm 16, and I still have to wake my parents up each time I come home from a date. They haven't complained, but I feel funny getting them out of bed. — Brad.

Dear Brad: It's my feeling that as soon as parents feel comfortable to leave a child home alone without a baby sitter, he should be entrusted with his own house key. I don't know the why's and wherefore's of your locked-out state, but I suggest you ask your folks at first opportunity for your own key. Perhaps they'll feel more comfortable if you'll promise to write your return time on the kitchen blackboard after each date. But, you make such a pledge, don't cheat on the hour or "forget" to sign in.—Walt.

LIES HURT HER REPUTATION

Dear Ele: I am 13 and well developed. My best friend has an average figure. When she is away from me, she tells boys that I have a wonderful sex life (which I don't) and that I do anything for a laugh. Then boys try to make her tales come true! What should I do or say to shut up this big-mouth? — Embarrassed.

Dear Embarrassed: Tell her, "Shirley, according to my definition, a friend is someone who really cares about your welfare. Is that right? OK, if that's so, then you've got to choose between continuing those sex lies about me or being my friend. The stories make trouble for me and hurt my reputation. What's more important, being my friend or smearing my name to get the boys to listen to you?"

Then if she continues to offend, bring the next boy in tow to her, and ask her, "Shirley, John said you said that I'm easy. Is that really true, or were you making up stories?"

If she's embarrassed that way once or twice, her wagging tongue should be leashed.—Ele.

WANTS OLDER BEAUX

Dear Ele: What's wrong with me? I'm a sophomore girl two months shy of 16. I'm mature for my age and pretty. The trouble is this: my mother says I'm too particular about boys. I received four invitations to one party, but I turned them all down because I didn't care for the boys. Everyone at school thought I was crazy because four guys asked me and I didn't go. I can't help it if I don't like immature and show-offish guys who are always trying to prove something when you go out with them.

The only guys I care to date are guys older than I because I can feel comfortable with them because they're not trying to prove anything. These guys are kind and considerate and are interested in keeping me happy. They treat me like a grownup and they act their age.

Now please tell me if you think something's wrong? I'm getting sick and tired of people telling me I'm crazy.—Sixteen-minus.

Dear 16—: While you certainly have the right to refuse a date, I disagree with your blanket condemnation of all boys 16 and under as lecherous show-offs. There are guys your age and younger who, when given the chance, are attentive gentlemen. If you'll judge each guy as an individual, fine, but ruling out by age categories seems unjust to me.—Ele.

Ele and Walt have special suggestions for late-night parties, where keeping the noise down to a dull roar would be appreciated by parents and neighbors. For a copy of their "Games-Letter," write to Teenage Date-Line, in care of this newspaper, enclosing a dime and a self-addressed envelope.

THERE'S A GIANT IN TODAY'S PAPER!

In fact there is more than one. There are a couple of hundred of them, and they are the smallest giants you ever saw.

Each one of them is in the paper to do an important job, and each one of them works with super strength to get that job done.

These are the little giants of advertising, the Want Ads. Each year over 300 million of them are born in the newspapers of North America. Their lives are short, because they do their jobs quickly and disappear.

The little giants are waiting to work for you. You can hire one for as little as 53c per day, and it will do any one of hundreds of useful jobs, jobs which can be done no other way. Read the Want Ads and see what they are doing for your neighbors.

It is very easy to put a Want Ad to work. Simply pick up your phone and call 733-0931 and ask for an ad-visor. A friendly, well trained person will help you word and place your ad.
