Retroactive Pay Arrives

Postmen Get Christmas Gift

Christmas is not usually the brightest time of year for employees of the post offices, but this year the season was brightened somewhat when a bundle of retroactive pay checks arrived.

The 65 Twin Falls Post Office employees were just a few who benefited by the pay increase granted last week to all federal employees and military personnel.

"But it couldn't have come at a better time for us," Postmaster Fred Sanger said Tuesday when the salary increases and the retroactive checks arrived.

For the average local Post Office Department employee, the postmaster said, the retroactive checks represented about $50.

Most of the workers, he said, have been handling an all-time record volume of mail and are tired from the long hours and heavy work loads. The salary increases and additional bonus from retroactive pay will brighten the situation in addition to helping the individuals with extra Christmas expenses, he pointed out.

ONE OF MANY federal employees and military personnel enjoying salary raises and retroactive pay checks this week is George Taylor, postal carrier in Twin Falls. Checks were especially appropriate for postal workers, who are now in the most difficult time of the year, with heavy mail loads due to the holidays.

Soldier Ski Area Opens On Saturday

FAIRFIELD — Soldier Mountain Ski area will have its grand opening Saturday and will be open every day during the holiday season, including New Year's Day, according to Robert Frostenson, one of the owners. The lifts will be open from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. daily.

A new two-story addition has been built on the lodge this year. It features a new kitchen and dining facilities. Modern conveniences, a lounge and fireplace, a sun deck and panel windows with a view of the ski slopes are some of the improvements incorporated in the new addition.

Work has been done on the slopes to improve skiing conditions. Plenty of new snow this week should make ideal skiing this weekend. Roads are kept plowed to the area which is just 10 miles north of Fairfield.

Robert and Stan Frostenson and Levard Hansen and other workers have been busy all fall getting the area ready for the grand opening this year.

The slopes have Poma, J-Bar and rope tows for the various classes of skiers.

All ski areas in Magic Valley will be open this weekend with Magic Mountain to open also on Saturday. Rotarum, Sun Valley and Pomerelle already have begun operation for the season.

Bad Weather Saves Hanoi From Raids

SAIGON (AP)—Foul weather gave Hanoi respite today from U.S. air raids that had been largely centered around the North Vietnamese capital since last Thursday. U.S. officers reported. Most strikes were limited to the southern panhandle.

Pilots returning from missions Tuesday said they shot down two more of the MIGs that have challenged them in fierce dogfights during the unusually clear skies in a season when monsoon storm clouds normally veil North Vietnam's headlines.

Two other Soviet-designed jets were reported probably destroyed.

The 11th U.S. Infantry Brigade, made up of 4,300 jungle fighters, arrived by ship at Qui Nhon for duty in South Vietnam. This followed up the arrival of the bulk of two fresh brigades of the 101st Airborne Division last week in the biggest Pacific airlift of the war, part of a buildup toward a roll of 525,000 by next June.

Emergency Supplies Rushed To Navajos

By HOWARD GRAVES

WINDOW ROCK, Ariz. (AP)—More emergency food supplies were rushed toward the Navajo reservation today after a new storm and whipping winds during the night left thousands of Indians fighting waist-high snow.

Nearly a foot of snow fell in some areas of the 16-million-acre reservation, the largest in the United States.

Air Force rescue helicopter crews stood by to ferry food to Navajos living in sparsely settled areas. A White House aide, Ralph Burns, was sent to Phoenix for a look at the situation, termed the most critical period of modern Navajo history by Tribal Chairman Raymond Nakai.

Thomas Sembera, an Office of Emergency Planning official, was in Santa Fe, N.M., and Nakai hoped to get both men out to the reservation.

Tribal officials said the known death toll on the reservation from seven days of snow remained at three persons. But they say about 60,000 Navajos are affected to some degree by the storms.

The weather picture was similar over much of the snow-smothered Southwest. Nearly seven feet of snow was reported on the ground at Flagstaff in northeast Arizona. Eight deaths during the past two days were attributed to snow in California, where snow fell at Porterville in Tulare County for the first time in four years.

A different weather hazard—rising temperatures which could cause flooding—was reported in some areas of Arizona. Several persons were evacuated at Miami, Ariz., when water in the Bluebird Mine Reservoir was just a foot below the top. Floods were reported in a Phoenix residential area after a downpour.

The U.S. Weather Bureau had heavy snow warnings in effect during the night for much of Arizona and New Mexico.

The federal government had taken no action on Nakai's request that the Navajo reservation be declared a disaster area so that additional heavy equipment could be obtained to help clear snow-plugged roads to villages and hogans.

Goldberg Says U.N. Meet Up To Johnson

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—U.S. Ambassador Arthur J. Goldberg said today the question of calling a meeting of the U.N. Security Council on Vietnam is now in the hands of President Johnson.

Goldberg told a news conference he had completed a survey of sentiment among council members Tuesday and transmitted a report to the President. He expressed belief that a decision would not be reached before the beginning of the new year.

The U.S. delegate declined to say what sentiment he had discovered in his consultations. He did say, however, that he stood by previously expressed views that the United Nations has a basic responsibility in the Vietnam conflict.

He said he saw no great significance in the recent request of the Viet Cong to have its political program circulated to U.N. members as an official document.

Much of the questioning was

LBJ Outlines 5 Peace Plans Based On Policy

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Johnson says "the war could be stopped in a matter of days" if South Vietnam's president talks informally with South Vietnamese Communists and wins their agreement to abide by the Geneva accords.

And on curbing violence at home, Johnson says he's going to tell American businessmen either they help in hiring a half-million hard-core unemployed or the government will offer them jobs "as expensive as it is."

Johnson spoke hopefully of "good results" through Saigon talks with members of the National Liberation Front, the Viet Cong political arm, during a wide-ranging pre-taped television interview broadcast nationally Tuesday night as he winged toward Australia.

Administration sources said the President may stress this point privately with President Nguyen Van Thieu, of South Vietnam, who also is headed for the Melbourne memorial service for Prime Minister Harold Holt.

Thieu has been rebuffed by Hanoi in his call for direct negotiations with North Vietnam. He has refused to recognize the National Liberation Front (NLF) as a government, but has left the way open for informal talks with its members.

Johnson outlined five peace proposals based on existing U.S. policy "leave your neighbors alone." They were:

1. The demilitarized zone between North and South Vietnam must be respected in accordance with the 1954 Geneva agreements.

2. The unity of Vietnam as a whole must be peacefully negotiated and adjusted.

3. North Vietnamese troops must get out of Laos and stop interfering with that country's internal affairs.

4. South Vietnam must be governed on the basis of a constitutional "one man-one vote" agreement, which the President said an overwhelming majority of her people want.

5. Informal discussions between President Thieu and NLF representatives could produce good results.

The President was interviewed in his White House office Monday morning by correspondents from the three major networks, which trimmed his remarks to fit the one-hour program.

Chatting earnestly and leaning forward occasionally in his rocking chair as he stressed a point, Johnson also made these observations:

"I don't know what the effect of the Kennedy-McCarthy movement is having in the country" but "I do know of the interest of both of them in the presidency and the ambition of both of them—I see that reflected from time to time."

A spokesman for Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, D-N.Y., said, "It seemed a very curious way for the President to promote party unity."

Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy of Minnesota, an avowed candidate for next year's Democratic presidential nomination, could not be reached immediately for comment.

While Johnson again declined to say whether he'll seek reelection, he said he's sure the Republicans still will wind up in See PEACE PLANS, pg. 2, col. 7

County Commissioners Listen To 'Heart Beat' Of Public On Taxes

By O. A. (Gus) KELKER
Times-News, Executive Editor

Interested taxpayers from this section of Twin Falls county—and there was a hall full of them—were told commissioners what they want included and what they want left out when it comes time to add new items to the final budget.

Discussion of the tax situation—pro and con—highlighted a marathon session which lasted more than three hours at the Idaho Power Co. auditorium Tuesday night.

The meeting was sponsored by the Twin Falls County Farm

Bureau, and the county commissioners were there to take the heart beat of those who pay the bill.

The "beat" was long and loud in some instances and when it was all over the commissioners had several hard given recommendations.

Discussion of the proposed city-county cooperation in improving the present city airport took more than an hour before a decision was reached. When the matter did come to a vote, however, it was decisive and there were no dissenters.

The commissioners were urged to investigate the possibility of revenue bonds being issued for the contemplated city-county airport and also to look into other financial backing areas if this was not possible.

But they also were told that if other ways were not practical then the commissioners should set up an amount of $50,000 in the budget and earmark it for airport use.

The directive given the commissioners assures upgrading of the local field over a period of years because only recently the city officials had made a formal request for such cooperation from the county.

It also marked the death knell for a new regional airport—which already has been rejected by some taxing bodies of Magic Valley counties—and if carried to conclusion will assure the local field receiving federal aid in the process.

Officials pointed out the airport is now about 40 per cent self-supporting and that with increased facilities, which would permit increased traffic and bigger planes, it would be more so.

West Coast Airlines will begin jet service to Twin Falls in 1970; and even before that if the field is ready for the bigger planes.

Aide from the airport problem, commissioners were given recommendations on a variety of other projects which, if added to the budget, will raise regular revenue costs to the taxpayers.

The taxpayers present, by vote, showed that they wanted:

(1)—A civil defense program which would upgrade conditions as they now exist in the county. Actual cost not known but estimated at from $8,000 to $15,000.

(2)—Hire a public defender for Twin Falls County as proposed. See TAX MEET, pg. 2, col. 4

Pending Lawsuits May Have Big Impact On Water Rights

BOISE (AP)—Two lawsuits pending in district courts could have a major impact on Idaho water rights, it was learned Tuesday.

The lawsuits were filed some time ago in district courts in Twin Falls and Fremont counties, ostensibly to clarify existing rights. They were brought by water users against the watermaster of Snake River Water District 36.

But because there was an indication they might affect the state government in its authority over water rights, State Reclamation Engineer Keith Higgins has intervened.

Higgins declines to discuss the lawsuits, except to acknowledge that he is now a party to them, on grounds they are matters for the courts to decide. It was learned from sources who declined to be named, that some of the top legal authorities on water and reclamation law are involved.

Involved specifically in the legal actions is the ownership of water that flows down the Snake River during flood periods.

Some eastern Idaho Irrigation districts have made it a practice to divert from the river during flood periods more water than they were entitled to on the basis of their original water rights.

Some of this water was used for irrigation but some simply flowed through the districts' canals and back into the river. But it was measured and the districts, in the lawsuits, are asking the courts to declare that this water now belongs to them.

It is the position of some state officials that this water is not needed by the districts.

If this water is not assigned to these districts but remains as part of the unappropriated streamflow of the Snake River, it then could be allocated for irrigation purposes downstream, particularly in south central areas. Some of them lack an adequate supply in normal runoff years.

State law requires that a water right, to be maintained over the years, must involve the beneficial use of the water.

Some attorneys contend that the floodwater affected by the lawsuits is not being put to a beneficial use, because it is not normally needed in the area which claim it. They argue that it should be assigned to arid land which needs it to grow crops.

There also are contentions that much of the water stored in Palisades Reservoir and which is allocated to various water companies or districts in eastern Idaho, is not needed for irrigation purposes and thus is not being put to a beneficial use.

They argue that the entire water situation, particularly in the Upper Snake River Valley, should be surveyed and if there actually is a surplus it should be appropriated for beneficial use downstream.

Washkansky's Condition Reported Deteriorating

By DAVID J. PAINE
CAPE TOWN, South Africa (AP)—The condition of heart transplant patient Louis Washkansky, 53, deteriorated today, a bulletin issued by Grootes Schuur Hospital said.

The worsening condition followed a statement earlier in the day to Radio South Africa by Dr. Christian N. Barnard, leader of the heart transplant team, that Washkansky had shown improvement.

The hospital bulletin said: "There has been a further deterioration in Mr. Washkansky's condition and breathing has now to be assisted by artificial ventilation. His pulse and blood pressure remain satisfactory."

The government radio had quoted Barnard as saying Washkansky's lungs were responding to treatment and his chances of recovery were good. There are no signs of the body rejecting the heart, the broadcast said Barnard added.

Earlier today a hospital bulletin said there was no change in Washkansky's condition and he "is still seriously ill." But the doctors Tuesday night said he had a slight gain after a transfusion of white blood cells.

Troop Withdrawal From Germany Begins In April

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Pentagon announced today that the withdrawal of up to 35,000 U.S. Army and Air Force troops from Germany to the United States will begin in April.

Plans for the redeployment were announced last May 2. The aim is to reduce the gold-dollar drain stemming from heavy U.S. overseas spending.

The forces being withdrawn will remain committed to the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

The Pentagon said: "The forces and aircraft deployed to the United States will be maintained in a high degree of readiness, and equipment will be maintained in the Federal Republic of Germany in sufficient quantity and readiness to insure that the forces and aircraft can be promptly redeployed to Germany."

The Defense Department has said that under emergency conditions it would take about two weeks to fly the Army troops back to Germany, much of them up with their equipment stockpiled there, and have them ready for combat.

The theory is that there would be time enough to redeploy the troops—that a period of tension would precede any outbreak.

The action will drop U.S. Army and Air Force troops in Germany to 222,000.

This is the first long-term reduction in the U.S. garrison in Europe since the Cold War began nearly two decades ago.

The announcement said that two brigades of the 24th Infantry Division and associated units will be moved to Ft. Riley, Kan.

The 3rd Armored Cavalry Regiment will be based at Ft. Lewis, Wash.

The three squadrons of the 49th Tactical Fighter Wing will go to Holloman Air Force Base, N.M., and the 417th Tactical Fighter Squadron will shift to Mountain Home Air Force Base in Idaho.

While the moves will begin in April, they will continue over a number of months.

One brigade of the 24th Infantry Division will remain in Germany on a rotational basis. The two other brigades of the division and the four fighter squadrons will return to Germany yearly to take part in maneuvers, the announcement said.

Based on the statement, it appeared the armored cavalry regiment to be brought back to Ft. Lewis, Wash., will not be returned to Germany for exercises, but only in event of emergency.

This means that the U.S. ground presence in West Germany, across the Iron Curtain from the East bloc, will be reduced to four Army divisions—two infantry and two tank—and two armored cavalry regiments, which function as a screening force, plus the Berlin Brigade.

Also remaining will be five fighter plane squadrons.

Just last week, NATO ministers met in Bellarm and, among other things, reevaluated the threat from Communist conventional forces from the other side of the Iron Curtain and decided the threat was not as great as had been felt in the past.

Arrives

CAMBERRA, Australia (AP)—President Johnson came to Australia Thursday for the second time in 14 months, this time to represent the United States at an memorial services for Prime Minister Harold E. Holt, his ally in Vietnam.

The President's plane landed here at 4:30 a.m., 1:30 p.m. EST today.

He was met by the interim prime minister, John McEwen, and the U.S. ambassador to Australia, Ed Clark.

Kennedys Take Skiing Instructions

SUN VALLEY, Idaho (AP)—Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, D-N.Y., and his family are at this southern Idaho resort for a Christmas skiing vacation and they spent the first two days doing exactly what they came for.

The senator, his wife Ethel, and 7 of their 10 children, spent Monday and Tuesday on the slopes of Mt. Baldy with Austrian ski instructor Len Erharter. Erharter, who is a Sun Valley instructor, has given the Kennedy family skiing lessons the past two years during their Christmas vacation at the resort.

The Kennedys arrived Sunday evening along with Mrs. Dean Markham, a friend, two of her children and two secretaries. Kennedy's sister, Mrs. Pat Lawford, and her children are expected to join the party today.

A brother, Sen. Edward Kennedy, D-Mass., and his family will arrive Dec. 26.

The Kennedys are staying in the Harriman Cottage, a guest house outside the main Sun Valley lodge and named after Averill Harriman who founded the resort in 1936 when he was board chairman of the Union Pacific Railroad.

Expected to join the Kennedys after Christmas are astronaut John Glenn, mountain climber Jim Whitaker of Seattle, singer Andy Williams and Pierre Salinger and their wives.

A spokesman said Mrs. John F. Kennedy would not be at the resort this year.

The Robert Kennedys are scheduled to return home Jan. 5.

SHOPPING DAYS TO CHRISTMAS

With deadline for entry in the annual Times-News and Idaho Power Co. Christmas lighting contest at 6 p.m. Friday, judges reported Wednesday interest is keen in the competition for a share of the $150 in prize money.

The official entry blank, which appears on Page 2 of the Times-News, must be filled out and mailed or brought to the paper before the deadline. Only displays which are officially entered in the competition will be judged, it is pointed out.

The judges, who will be announced publicly in Sunday's Times-News, along with the names of the winners, will make the rounds of displays Friday evening. Only those officially entered, however, will be judged.

Contestants must live within the city limits of Twin Falls, must have lighted displays visible from the street (but they may be outside or inside displays) and the winners must leave these displays lighted until the evening of New Year's Day.

First prize will be $60, second $35, third $20 and fourth $10. There will be five honorable mentions at $5 each.

There is no entry fee for the contest. Checks will be mailed the winners in the name of the person sending in the entry coupon.

Munitions Truck Hits Stalled Car

BURLEY—A transport truck loaded with 37 bombs weighing 1,000 pounds each was damaged extensively in an accident early Wednesday on Interstate 80N. The bombs remained intact, unexploded.

State Patrolman John Brewer said injuries from the spectacular accident were minor. A 1964 truck pulling a 1967 trailer which contained the bombs was driven by Jim Patton, 34, Arvada, Colo. He received facial lacerations and his assistant driver, who was in the sleeper compartment, had minor injuries.

The transport-truck struck a stalled 1964 stationwagon which was towing a rental trailer. Matthew Blalock, who was moving to Nampa from Florida, told officers his stationwagon ran out of gas.

He was parked in the outside lane next to the center line about 16 miles east of Burley. Patrolman Brewer said the transport truck, which approached from the rear, ran over the rental trailer.

Impact of the collision carried the two vehicles 200 feet down the highway, with the transport truck on top of the stationwagon.

The officer said the two vehicles then went down a 10-foot embankment, and into a field, tearing down a fence. They traveled another 200 feet after leaving the highway.

Mr. Patton, who was cited for parking his vehicle on the main portion of the highway, was not in his stationwagon, but was trying to flag traffic with a small flashlight at the time of the accident.

Forecast

Considerable cloudiness with a few snow-flurries today. Partial clearing tonight becoming partly cloudy Thursday. Areas of fog through Thursday. Continued cold. High 15 to 25, low 5 to -5, except Camas Prairie high in teens, low -15 to -25. Probability of measurable precipitation 40 per cent today, 20 per cent tonight and 10 per cent Thursday. Outlook for Friday occasional light snow. Temperatures at 8 a.m.: 14 at Jerome, 13 at T. F.

Five-Day Forecast

Pressures continue low over the western states, but the center of low pressure has moved east of the continental divide. Snow is falling today over a wide area from the Rockies through the Dakotas and Western Nebraska and scattered light snows continue in the Northern Intermountain Region. A deep mass of cold air lies over the western third of the nation.

Occasional light snow is forecast for Southern Idaho and Eastern Oregon valleys this afternoon with heavier snows in the mountains of Eastern Idaho. Partial clearing will occur tonight and Thursday. Temperatures will be somewhat colder in all sections with afternoon highs in the 20s in most valleys and in the teens in Camas Prairie, the Wood River Valley and upper portions of the Snake River Valley. Lows tonight and Thursday night will be between 10 and 10 above in the western half of Southeastern Idaho, but dropping to 10 to 20 degrees below zero in some of the higher valleys.

The outlook for the next five days indicates temperatures averaging below normal but with a moderating trend over the weekend to near normal temperatures by the first of next week.

FOG

Weather Bureau with 89 per cent humidity, 14 at T. F. Entomology Laboratory with 96 per cent humidity, -3 at Fairfield, 15 at Rupert, 12 at Buhl, 14 at Castelford, 12 at Gooding. At noon, 20 at T. F. Weather Bureau with 91 per cent humidity. Barometer: 29.81. Soil temperatures: At T. F., four-inch 28-22, eight-inch 30-28, 20-inch 35-34, 36-inch 44; at Rupert, four-inch 30-28; at Buhl, three-inch 30; at Castelford, three-inch 29-28.

Normal maximum and minimum temperatures for this period are Boise 38-24, Gooding 36-21, Twin Falls 40-22, Burley 39-20, Pocatello 35-17 and Idaho Falls 33-14.

In the extended outlook the deep pressure trough and abnormally cold air will move eastward and will be replaced by a flat pressure ridge and a more westerly flow over the intermountain west by the end of the week.

Scattered light snows will occur about Saturday with more general precipitation likely about Monday and some of this may be rain in the lower valleys. Total precipitation for the next five days will probably range between .05 and .20 of an inch in most valley areas. The weekend will be windy at times with winds mainly from the south and west.

Highs yesterday were mostly in the upper 20s with a few low 30s. Lows last night ranged between 20 below zero at Fairfield and 18 above at Malad with readings above zero at nearly all reporting stations.

Snow fell mainly in eastern sections yesterday and last night. Heaviest precipitation reported for the 24-hour period ending at 8 a.m. was two inches of new snow at Pocatello.

Dismissal Is Ordered In Assault Case

A charge of rape against a Jerome man, William Trujillo, was ordered dismissed in Twin Falls Police Court Wednesday on the grounds there was insufficient evidence to support the charge.

Sy Kolman, attorney for the defendant, asked for the dismissal during a morning session of a trial that started last week and was then continued to Wednesday to allow the appearance of additional witnesses.

Trujillo was accused of raping a Twin Falls woman on Aug. 29. The incident was alleged to have happened in Twin Falls.

Judge Turner granted the dismissal.

Riot Control Training Set In January

Riot control training will be offered in Twin Falls Jan. 11 and 12.

Taking part will be area law officers and National Guardsmen. Earlier this fall, the National Guard here held a two-day riot control training session, with much of that training devoted to breaking up mock riots in various parts of the city.

Lt. Ervin Dunn, training officer for the Idaho State Police, said four schools are being offered throughout the state, with the first school set Jan. 9 and 10 in Boise. The training in Twin Falls will be at the National Guard Armory.

Similar schools were offered earlier this month in North Idaho. Instruction is given by Idaho State Police, National Guard officers, FBI agents and officials of the Idaho attorney general's office.

Lt. Dunn said when all the schools are completed more than 260 law enforcement officers will have received instruction in riot control.

The training programs were ordered by Gov. Don Samuelson.

Death Takes Mrs. Reynolds

EDEN — Mrs. Lillian Reynolds, 89, died Tuesday at Wendell Manor in Wendell, of a long illness.

She was born Feb. 28, 1878, at Whiteville, N. C., and came to Marysville, Idaho, with her brother as a young woman. On March 7, 1911, she was married to Edward Reynolds. They moved to the Milner area and then to Eden where they homesteaded a farm.

They farmed until 1928 when they sold to the McClain family. Mrs. Reynolds died May 25, 1954. Mrs. Reynolds was graduated from Wesleyan Girls College, Macon, Ga., and belonged to the Eden Ideal Rebekah Lodge, the Baptist church and was a charter member of the Eden Grange. She had received her 50-year pin from the Rebekah lodge.

Survivors include one niece, Mrs. Robert Harper, Chino, Calif.; four nephews, John Council, Patmudra, Calif.; Robert Council, Las Vegas, Nev.; Dean Council, Long Beach, Calif.; and Paul Rockwell, Asheville, N. C.

Funeral services will be conducted at 2 p.m. Friday at the White Mortuary Chapel, Twin Falls, by Pastor Kenneth Brown, Jerome Seventh-day Adventist church. Final rites will be held in Sunset Memorial Park.

Southeastern Idaho Has New Snow

By The Associated Press

New snow was reported in southeastern Idaho today and elsewhere over the state highways had many stretches of ice or snow. There was some drifting and some fog.

The State Highway Department listed road conditions including:

U.S. 95 — Canadian border south to Camas Prairie, icy in spots; Whitebird Hill, snow; Grangeville and Culesac Hills, broken snow floor; Madras and Mesa hills, broken snow floor, fog; Marsing to Oregon, icy snow floor, snowing.

U.S. 95A — Entire route, broken snow floor.

U.S. 10-Interstate 90 — Coeur d'Alene, Kellogg, Wallace, icy spots; Fourth of July Canyon, broken snow floor.

U.S. 12 — Orofino to Kooskia, icy spots; Lolo Pass, snow floor.

State 55 — Banks Canyon to Cascade, broken snow floor; McCall to New Meadows, snow floor.

Tax Meet

ded by the U.S. Supreme Court—mainly a salary cut.

(4)—Mental retardation center. In favor of including money in the budget (approximately $15,000) to get the project under way as soon as possible.

(5)—Do not include money in the budget to purchase parking land at the south end of the county fairgrounds. Rather, ask the fair board to raise admission prices to the fair with this additional money being earmarked for land purchase without additional taxes.

(6)—Provide nothing in the budget to aid a proposed traveling library setup in the county.

(7)—Provide no money in the budget for purchase of access land to the Snake River as part of a parks and recreation program.

At conclusion of the session, over which Louis Reinke, president of the Farm Bureau presided, Charles Harris detailed the organization's program, which called for a change in the tax base.

Under this plan, property would no longer be the criteria of a man's ability to pay. In other words, the property tax as it now stands would be paid down. Income received by the taxpayers (wages) would also be considered as property and a man's income would be higher.

Mr. Harris said that this method of taxation would be "just about as fair as you could get," because practically everyone would be taxed and would thus aid in local projects which are now born almost entirely by property owners.

In addition to the county commissioners, members of the county's delegation to the state legislature were also present.

Dahomey Chief Given Asylum

COTONOU, Dahomey (AP) — Gen. Christophe Soglo, who lost the presidency in a bloodless coup, has received asylum in the French Embassy here.

The 58-year-old general took his French-born wife with him to the embassy Tuesday.

Soglo's two-year regime was ended by a group of young officers headed by Maj. Maurice Kouandete. Soglo took power in December, 1965, in the same kind of bloodless coup.

Cold Weather Brings Lull To Major Work At CSI

Unusually cold weather has caused a lull in construction on the College of Southern Idaho campus, according to Dr. James L. Taylor, college president.

He said the project is ahead of schedule, however, and contractors are able to keep working on some phases of the project.

Power lines are being run in to the maintenance building and some inside work is being done. Taylor said the maintenance building is about 85 per cent complete. He said a high voltage line which will serve the campus will be put underground, removing the present overhead lines on the east side of campus.

Cold weather has stopped masonry and concrete work, but forms for concrete slabs on the fine arts center have been completed. Pouring can begin as soon as weather improves.

The base for a high-rise tower in the central park-on-campus has been completed. The structure, which will be a focal point of the campus, will also serve as a communications tower.

Included in the first phase, which is being financed by federal and private funds, are the maintenance building, fine arts center, academic building and two heating and cooling complexes.

Former T. F. Man Dies In California

BISHOP, Calif. — Wyatt E. (Ernie) Thomas, 54, died Monday in Bishop of a heart attack. It was announced in Twin Falls Wednesday.

He was born Oct. 30, 1913, in Rock River, Wyo., and came to Twin Falls with his family in 1920. He lived most of his life in the Twin Falls and Boise areas. He had lived in California the past year.

Mr. Thomas was a World War II veteran, serving as a surgical technician in Rome, Southern France and Central Europe.

He was preceded in death by his parents and a brother.

Survivors include six sisters, Mrs. Don Malone, LaGrande, Ore., Mrs. Marcella Snow, Bishop, Mrs. Max Galley, Hansen, Mrs. Warren Staley, LaCrescenta, Calif., Mrs. Jack Staley, Sparks, Nev., and Mrs. Ed Hodkins, Twin Falls, and two brothers, C. E. Thomas, Portland, and T. E. Thomas, Klamath Falls, Ore.

Funeral services were held Wednesday in Bishop.

Woman Listed Serious After Auto Crash

FILER — A Jackpot, Nev., woman was listed in critical condition Wednesday at Magic Valley Memorial Hospital of injuries she received when an auto she was riding in went out of control and rolled three times near here.

According to State Patrolman Frank York, Mrs. William Flint Jr., 48, received facial and head injuries and underwent internal injuries when the auto driven by her husband rolled, throwing her from the auto. The auto came to rest on top of the woman.

The accident occurred about 7 p.m. at Dead Man's Corner north of Filer on U.S. Highway 30.

Mr. Flint told officers he went to sleep and lost control of the car. The car went off the left side of the road and traveled 278 feet, rolling three times.

Passing motorists rolled the car off Mrs. Flint.

Mr. Flint complained of back injuries but officers said he did not appear badly hurt. The couple's 14-month-old baby, Tonya Rutter, received bruises.

Mr. Flint said that when the auto left the highway the baby was thrown from the back seat to the front. Mr. Flint grabbed the baby and held it as the car rolled.

Assisting Patrolman York at the crash scene were State Patrolman Duane Owen and Twin Falls County Sheriff's officers Curt Pryor and Dennis Haynes.

Rupert Lists Deadline For Yule Contest

RUPERT—Friday is the deadline for the Christmas lighting contest sponsored by the Rupert Chamber of Commerce.

Residents living in the city limits as well as rural residents will be included in two separate divisions. A third division will include outlying towns of Paul, Heyburn, Norland, Acequia and Minidoka.

Winners for the last three years will not be eligible to participate this year. Anyone wishing to enter the contest should call the Rupert chamber office between 10 a.m. and 4 p.m. this week.

Judging will be done Tuesday and Wednesday between 5:30 and 10 p.m. The committee for the contest includes Vernal Smith, chairman; Merle Hannah, Neff Douglass, Graht Catmull, Ralph Ramsey and L. Christenson.

First and second place prizes will be awarded with a grand prize of $25. Most entries are solicited, committee members said.

Appointment Of Deputy Is Reported

Sheriff Paul Corder announced the appointment of an additional deputy Wednesday.

Ronald Garey, 1214 Spryng Drive, will begin immediately on the night desk job at the sheriff's office. Mr. Corder said. He is a native of Filer and has a wife and four small children.

A veteran of four years in the Marine Corps, Mr. Garey is currently completing studies at the College of Southern Idaho Police Academy. He will be able to complete his training there while working at the sheriff's office.

Mr. Corder said he will transfer Ivan Kistler, who has held the night desk position for the past year, to a job as county range officer.

Mr. Kistler will work with livestockmen in the south hills range area and with livestock yards and will assist in other law enforcement in the county, the sheriff said.

Dr. Spock Talks To Soviet Women

MOSCOW (AP) — Dr. Benjamin Spock, the American pediatrician and antiwar campaigner told Soviet mothers today children should be taught to refrain from violence as a way of settling disputes.

Children must be reminded often that man "should be affectionate and noble" wrote Spock in the current English language edition of Sovetskaya Zhenshchina (Soviet Woman).

He implied that such children would be most likely to keep the world peaceful in the future.

Better To Grow Up Where Folks Work

WASHINGTON — An interesting point of view seldom advanced nowadays—especially by politically appointed public welfare officials—has been voiced by Mary E. Switzer, head of the Social and Rehabilitation Service of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare. (May a printer's curse descend on these interminable bureaucratic names.)

Miss Switzer told an American Public Welfare Association convention that "children are better off growing up in a home where work and wages are the principal source of the family's support." Her deposition received less exposure than it deserved, possibly because it was delivered in defense of a House-Senate conference bill on Social Security which required welfare recipients, including mothers, to take jobs or work training.

Her stand was particularly brave, since what they call the "traditional thinking" in professional welfare circles has always insisted that the best interests of welfare children lie in having their mothers at home. This is a tough thing to challenge because of course everybody is in favor of the stay-at-home mother. We're all against man-eating dragons, too.

But it is my suspicion that Miss Switzer has a valid point. She has touched on the need of all children for something almost as important as a mother's faceless benefactors who, somehow seem better than he is, even though they are not. He is deprived of the almost unconscious pride that comes of the knowledge that his parents are paying their own way—just like the parents of the kids across the tracks. He cannot hold up his head quite so high.

There is no doubt that this feeling of inferiority pursues the child into adulthood. In many slum areas, living on relief has become a way of life, and too many children graduate to a maturity which regards acceptance of a welfare check as a part of their natural and inevitable status in life. There are able-bodied young men on relief today whose grandparents and parents were on relief. Never having enjoyed a sense of pride, they see no point in trying to climb out of their condition.

Med with cases like the youth arrested for speeding, who was paying for his car out of his relief check and whose parents were buying a color TV set the same way.

Miss Switzer put her finger on a sore spot among many citizens in noting "the frustration that comes from a seemingly uncontrollable rise in aid costs without an accompanying effort to reduce the relief load by alternate ways of dealing with the problem of need." What she means is that the government, by such methods as requiring welfare recipients to take jobs or job training, should limit relief to those who can't work by cracking down on those who won't.

Public welfare, after all, originally was designed as a stop-gap remedy. Until now, at least, it was not viewed as a permanent form of guaranteed income. Or, as Miss Switzer put it, "No public welfare program can serve as a substitute for personal responsibility and the will to help oneself."

Words such as Miss Switzer's probably will continue to fall on deaf ears for the simple reason that poverty has become a political football, with its sufferers a source of great blocs of votes for our ersatz statesmen. But at least someone has had the guts to say them. Progress has been launched with much less.

Autos With Unimproved People

You want to get the cold shivers? Stand on any street corner for 15 minutes and study each passer-by.

That elderly gent with the thick glasses.

The large woman with the vacant stare.

The hungover one with the faltering step.

Then tell yourself that minutes or hours or days from now you are going to meet that person again. Next time he will be hurling two tons of steel in your direction a mile a minute.

Americans have suddenly become hyperconscious about safety features in automobiles, yet we remain unperturbed by the fact that the improved cars are being driven by unimproved people.

We are told that one in 10 Americans not now in a mental hospital is eligible—yet we persist in passing out a driver's license to almost anybody. Most states do not even examine eyesight, much less physical reflexes and emotional stability.

If the states don't get busy and unlicense irresponsible drivers, they are inviting further federal government supervision.

Sure as shootin', one of these days another Ralph Nader will come along and use this valid excuse to promote a federal license law.

"Since automobiles use federal highways built by federal funds," I can hear him say, "the licensing of their drivers is a federal responsibility."

We don't want that, but we are asking for it if the states fail to act.

Presently only one state, Utah, requires any preparation by a driver's license applicant.

No state requires a driver to be road-tested on the highway.

No state requires a driver to react to an emergency situation.

Yet with a "license" any driver can drive anywhere.

Thus does the negligent state issue a license to kill.

Several states allow oral exams for illiterate applicants.

Recently, the federal government has increased requirements for licensed pilots flying our increasingly crowded skyways in increasingly sophisticated machines.

The pilot of the simplest private plane must pass a thorough physical, a three-hour written exam and 40 hours of lessons from a qualified instructor—plus solo practice time and follow-up instruction.

He is flight-tested in emergency procedures and maneuvers. After licensing he is periodically re-examined.

With fast cars on crowded roads, the operator's responsibility is no less. And as surely as we continue to slaughter 100-plus persons per day on highways, our federal government is going to make driver's licensing its business, too.

And too late there will be weeping and wailing and gnashing of teeth by those who insist the individual states are competent to regulate their own affairs.

Before we back into further subservience under an already top-heavy burden of taxation, bureaucracy and regimentation, individual states must make their driver's license examinations and renewals meaningful. Padded interiors and bigger bumpers are no protection if there's a loose nut on the steering wheel.

A Collector Of Short Squibs

WASHINGTON — Upon looking diligently in almost any newspaper, one can find a number of short items. Generally these are furnished by news agencies as a special service to hurried editors who sometimes need short blocks of type to fill in empty spaces.

I have been a collector of these squibs for many years. There is much information and knowledge in them. My only complaint, if you can call it one, is that many of the items do not go far enough or fully state the case. By way of illustration, today I give you a selection of such material, with my added comments in the parentheses.

"Elephants vanished from North America about 10,000 years ago." (To date, they have not been found.)

"The James Russell Lowell gave the name of 'Battle Hymn of the Republic' to Julia Ward Howe's stirring hymn." (She wanted to call it "The Grapes of Wrath.")

"Emmy Lazarus, American poet, was born in New York City of Jewish parentage." (And so were a number of other people.)

"Buenos Aires, Argentina, is often called the 'Paris of South

America.' (But, oddly enough, Paris is NEVER called the 'Buenos Aires of Europe'.)

"Paper currency of the United States is made only at the Bureau of Engraving and Printing in Washington, D.C." (And in a few basements and garages here and there.)

"The Samoa Islands were once called the Navigators' Islands." (This is because many navigators became lost and were stranded there.)

"First man to serve in the U.S. House of Representatives and later become President was James Madison." (This started a trend from which the country has never really recovered.)

"Life of a U.S. $1 bill is about 13 months in circulation." (Out of circulation a dollar bill loses in value approximately three cents per year.)

"London's Westminster Abbey was founded in 1065 by Edward the Confessor." (It had been lost several years earlier by Ignatz the Stupid.)

"World's longest avenue of palms is the three-mile Victory Drive bordering Savannah, Ga." (Unless you count Collins Avenue in Miami Beach, where the hotels are. That consists of 10 miles of overstretched palms.)

"The Swan Islands were named for the 17th Century pirate who made his headquarters there." (Yes, His full name was Orville G. Islands.)

Do you realize that now that both of LBJ's daughters have gotten married, Nancy Dickerson may never get on television again?

Now that winter's here White House correspondents have some company. Sanitation Department employees who clean the driveway likewise must go to the White House for snow jobs.

Restaurants here are competing to see which can attract the most celebrities. And the celebrities are competing to see which one has to pick up the check.

A Defense Department official's daughter was arrested during an anti-Vietnam War demonstration. Why is she against the war? Is she trying to put her father out of work?

WAYNE BRANDSTADT, M.D.

Early VD

Q—What are the symptoms of gonorrhea and syphilis? What is the treatment?

A—Usually the first sign of gonorrhea is a severe burning on urination, which appears five to six days after exposure.

There is also a discharge of pus from the urethra that is especially noticeable on arising in the morning. In some women with this disease there are no symptoms in the early stages but later the uterine tubes may become involved. In this case the symptoms are similar to those of appendicitis.

Syphilis starts with a small hard tumor called a chancre which develops 10 to 90 days after exposure. It is located at the point where the causative organism enters the body. As with gonorrhea, this stage may go unnoticed in women. About four weeks later, in untreated cases, there may be a skin rash.

In persons who receive no specific treatment or inadequate treatment, late manifestations of syphilis may cause serious damage in any part of the body.

Both diseases can be cured in the early stages with penicillin.

Q—If one had a venereal disease could it be detected with any of the following tests: PBI, CBC or urinalysis? If not, what test must be taken?

A—The PBI (protein-bound iodine) test is given to determine thyroid function. A CBC (complete blood count) is made to give a quick clue regarding anemia, leukemias, several acute febrile diseases, parasitic infections and allergies. Urinalysis gives information about the kidneys and bladder.

Aside from the fact that a microscopic examination of the urine would show many pus cells in a person with gonorrhea, none of these tests have any special value in the diagnosis of venereal diseases. The diagnosis of gonorrhea is based on a microscopic examination of a stained smear of the discharge.

The diagnosis of syphilis is aided by a serologic (blood) test, a special microscopic (dark field) examination of serum from a chancre or a relatively new procedure call the TPI (treponema pallida immobilization test). Treponema pallida is the name of the causative organism.

Q—Can a girl catch an infection of the genital organs from a toilet seat?

A—No. The germs of both gonorrhea and syphilis die very quickly when exposed to drying or a temperature below that of the body.

Please send your questions and comments to Wayne G. Brandstadt, M.D., in care of this paper. While Dr. Brandstadt cannot answer individual letters, he will answer letters of general interest in future columns.

RAY CROMLEY

The Big Stick

WASHINGTON (NEA) — A Japanese research man writes that the threat of Communist China's nuclear military power to Japan and other Asian countries is a present fact and not a future possibility.

He says China's nuclear weapons are already exerting a political influence on the countries of Asia. No matter how small the number of nuclear bombs Communist China is able to put into military use, the fact that Peking has nuclear bombs at all puts other Asian countries in the same position as was Japan at the end of World War II, when the United States had only two rather small atom bombs.

Communist China, with its Badger bomber, or perhaps an intermediate range missile, could launch its bombs today if it decided to do so.

Peking's only problem, this Japanese says, is the reprisal that would be forthcoming from America and perhaps the Soviet Union.

These sentiments echo those voiced by this reporter's other contacts in Thailand, Japan, Laos and Singapore. These men believe it is only the ability and the determination of the United States to hit Red China with overwhelming nuclear force if necessary that keeps their lands from being politically blackmailed or taken over by Red China.

On the other side of the world these men see Western Europe protected against Russian threats of nuclear bombing by the certainty the United States has the ability and will to retaliate against the Soviet Union in the event of an attack.

Note that in each case the Asians known to this reporter stress U.S. "will" as well as U.S. ability.

This certainly is relatively new. It has been clear for a considerable number of years, of course, that the United States has had the ability to saturate any country in the world with nuclear attacks. For a long time, however, many Allied peoples were convinced that when the chips were down, and the United States faced with a nuclear showdown, Washington would renege on its commitments rather than take the chance of atomic war.

It was during those years that many Asians made accommodations with the Communists and moved into a neutrality which enabled the Communist undergrounds to make progress in their countries.

Today in Indonesia, Malaysia, Singapore, Laos, Japan, South Korea, Formosa, India and even in Burma, men are able to stand up against persistent Communist threats, some veiled and some open, because they know the United States will come to their aid firmly and with speed.

Men in a half-dozen Asian countries have made it clear to this reporter in no uncertain terms that were it not for this certainty, they would have to make the best deal they could with the Communists.

They have made it equally clear that it is the persistent determination of the United States in South Vietnam that makes them certain Washington will back them up in a showdown with Red China and its Communist allies.

They have made it equally clear that it is the persistent determination of the United States in South Vietnam that makes them certain Washington will back them up in a showdown with Red China and its Communist allies.

The Danger

Christmas is a time of joy and good cheer. But we are too painfully aware that danger lurks in every Christmas tree.

Because of this, the Twin Falls Fire Department is promoting home safety during this holiday season. It's not that firemen don't want to go out on a cold day. It's just that they hate to see anyone lose a home. Especially at a time of year when people should be happy.

A Christmas tree is a pretty thing. And decorated with colored balls, popcorn and tinsel, it is a wonder for the eyes of children and adults to behold. The tree in America is a tradition. But being a tree, it burns.

The forest fires in North Idaho last summer should convince even the most doubtful.

Twin Falls Fire Chief L. Z. Bartlett reports that a Christmas tree, when dry, can explode when exposed to an open flame. A tree can also ignite if the pine needles overheat from Christmas tree lights.

Problems also result when there are bare wires that connect the lights from branch to branch. And gaily wrapped packages under the tree do not help matters.

Mr. Bartlett recommends that people turn off Christmas tree lights when retiring for the night.

He also asks that the tree be well watered while it is in the house, and that it be removed within a week after Christmas.

Above all, he recommends that people keep a close watch on their tree and asks that people observe common sense precautions when the tree first comes into the household.

Let's make this Christmas happy and safe. It is a season of happiness, but it is also a season of danger.

GAO Carries On

Perhaps it is to be expected that in an age of apathy the public will not concern itself overmuch with reports of extravagance and outright waste by those responsible for the husbanding and dispensing of public resources. But between the yawns there must be some taxpayers who every so often have cause to be thankful for the General Accounting Office.

The GAO is somewhat unique in government operations. It spends almost all of its time investigating the expenditure of public funds by the executive branch of the national government. But it reports to—and is responsible only to—Congress. It is this feature of responsibility which has brought respect to the GAO by file clerks and department heads alike in the federal establishment.

Unlike other investigative units, such as the Hoover Commissions, for example, the GAO does not have to depend entirely upon cooperation of the executive departments for its work to be effective.

The public exposure it generates by reporting to congressional committees on waste and extravagance, and the memories the lawmakers have of these offenses when the next appropriation hearings are held, are strong tonics.

Defense Department purchasing agents for many years have been among the favorite targets of the GAO, and with notable successes. It is not too surprising to find an agency of government responsible for the expenditure to tens of billions of dollars decade after decade makes some monumental blunders, but if the GAO did not find them and embarrass the Defense Department into taking corrective action, who would?

In a review of nine bases in five Air Force commands and four supply depots of the Air Force Logistics Command, the GAO found discrepancies in orders then current which it estimated could involve the unnecessary purchase of $103 million worth of goods the Air Force either already had on hand or no longer had use for. The Air Force has since indicated it is taking corrective action.

Chalk up another one for the GAO. Amid the red faces of the Air Force brass a lesson has been learned, the taxpayers have been saved some money—a sizable chunk even by today's standards—and, most important, those responsible for the costly errors can be expected to see it doesn't happen again.

STILL A FIGHT FOR CLEAN WATER

Fish taken from the lower Portneuf River (if you can catch them) are fit to eat now. That's State Health Department Engineer Howard Burkhardt's commentary on the recent progress of water pollution. Lava Hot Springs' two-year-old sewage treatment plant has helped, and Inkom has let bids for one.

Idaho is in the vanguard of the nation's clean-water campaign, being one of the first 10 states to have their water quality standards approved by the Secretary of the Interior. Eastern states have furthered to go. Senator Frank Church commented here recently that Lake Erie is a "sewer" and the Potomac River at Washington is nearly as bad. Things aren't that bad here, but they are not good on the Snake, with its industrial wastes and sewage.

To gain the federal approval of its standards, Idaho set a tough goal for itself for the next six years. The state's technicians will have to identify waste sources, list treatment levels, recommend the treatment needed and schedule the dates by which the treatment must be accomplished. The water quality will have to be constantly monitored to maintain the standards. That's a lot of work.

One more thing needed is more help for the Health Department's overworked engineering and sanitation staff. They now have only two full-time and four part-time men working on water sanitation. One of the part-timers is the head man, Vaughn Anderson in Boise. The State of Washington will have a 75-man staff next Jan. 1.

Meeting Idaho's new standards will require 33 cities and towns and 40 industries to install new or improved waste treatment facilities by 1973. Pocatello, Blackfoot and Twin Falls are among them.

The Legislature could help the cities by appropriating funds to pay 25 per cent of the cost of their treatment facilities. Then, the federal government would pay half the costs, leaving only 25 per cent for the cities. At present, the federal government pays only 30 per cent and municipalities have to bear 70 per cent of the cost.

It's going to take money and concentrated effort to help Idaho's beautiful streams and lakes fight off the effects of growing population and expanding industry.—Idaho State Journal

SPACE UPSMANSHIP

The Russians have succeeded in bringing two unmanned spacecraft together in a rendezvous and docking maneuver, and while this surely is a brilliant technical feat, it is questionable whether the achievement is of sufficient importance to justify the conclusion of some international space experts that it puts the Soviet Union clearly ahead of the United States in space exploration.

Our National Aeronautics and Space Administration says it knows how to hook up precision on-board radars with maneuvering jets to join unmanned spacecraft automatically, but has not attempted this because it sees no practical reason for it. Rather, we have concentrated on the techniques of pilot-guided space rendezvous, and have nine such successful exercises in our record. If in the future we decide to assemble in space a large orbiting observatory, we expect to do it with men, not machines, guiding the components into position.

However, if all goes well, the United States next week will answer positively in our favor the question of who's ahead in space technology at the moment. Tentatively scheduled for launch next Tuesday morning is the first Saturn V, the enormous rocket that someday is to take U.S. astronauts to the moon. This giant vehicle, standing 364 feet high, or twice the height of Portland's Hilton Hotel, is almost four times the size of the Titan rocket which put our Gemini astronauts into orbit, and is much larger than any rocket the Russians are known to have. A successful firing will give NASA the clear right to say: OK, fellows, let's see you top that one.—The Oregonian

SENTENCING DELAYED.

MOUNTAIN HOME (AP) — Sentencing of Thomas Clark Linn, Mountain Home, has been delayed until Jan. 2, District Court officials reported Wednesday. Sentencing originally was set for this week.

Linn was convicted earlier this month of second-degree murder. He was accused of killing Telesforo Garcia, 18, Caldwell, last June 25.

MANAGER NAMED

BOISE (AP) — The Mountain States Telephone Co. reported Wednesday appointment of John E. Lattin, El Paso, Tex., as Idaho vice president and general manager.

He succeeds W. O. Jacobs, who is being transferred to company headquarters in Denver as vice president—public relations.

FINALIST CHOSEN

NEW YORK (AP) — Mrs. Rada Hull, a Pocatello, Idaho, mother of two teen-age sons, has been chosen one of five finalists in the National Teacher of the Year awards contest.

Mrs. Hull, the Mormon wife of D.L. Hull, is an English teacher and librarian at the Alameda Junior High School in Pocatello.

Mrs. Hull, who was named the 1967-68 Idaho Teacher of the Year before reaching the finals, was nominated for the big title by Idaho State Superintendent of Public Instruction D.F. Engelking.

Chamber At Burley Has Yule Program

BURLEY — A Christmas program was presented during the Monday luncheon meeting of the Burley Chamber of Commerce at Bryan's Cafe.

Lloyd Hollinger, president, expressed his thanks to all chamber members for their support of all projects during the 1967 year. Highlights of the year, he said, included the establishing of the Del Monte plant in Burley and the annual banquet sponsored by the Chamber.

A Christmas message was given by Ernest Blauer. Musical entertainment was presented by Cara Lee Putnam and Gil Putnam who sang several numbers.

Guests were Mrs. Hollinger, Mrs. Al Putnam, Mrs. Mack Crouch and Mrs. Edgar Moorman.

The next Chamber of Commerce meeting will be at noon Jan. 8 at Bryan's Cafe with Robert Saxvik, 1968 president, presiding.

SUBMIT ONLY BID

BOISE (AP) — A Seattle firm, Dale Madden Construction, Inc., submitted the only bid Tuesday on a North Idaho bridge project, the State Highway Board reported.

The firm bid $669,982 for constructing a 623-foot steel and concrete bridge over the Kootenai River on West Side Road near Copeland, Boundary County.

DRAFT QUOTA UP

BOISE (AP) — Idaho's draft quota for February was announced Wednesday as 70. Maj. Gen. George B. Bennett, state selective service director, said the total was more than double the 29 men who were called up in February, 1967.

The Idaho quota for January is 99 and for December, 48.

Red Military Power More Formidable

NEW YORK (AP) — Government officials now conclude privately that enemy military and political manpower in South Vietnam is numerically much more formidable than previously reckoned, the New York Times said today.

The officials are now estimating 418,000 to 483,000 foes—compared with 285,000 reported in 1966, the Times said in a dispatch from Washington.

The newspaper said the consensus was that there had been some decline in enemy strength this year, but that the total had been grossly underestimated a year ago.

"In terms of destroying the enemy's structure of power, we are farther away from our goal than we thought we were last year," a government analyst was quoted as saying. "The more we find out, the worse it looks. It looks worse than a year ago."

Gen. William C. Westmoreland, U.S. commander in Saigon, estimated this fall the armed strength of the enemy had declined from 285,000 in late 1966 to 242,000.

Gen. William C. Westmoreland, U.S. commander in Saigon, estimated this fall the armed strength of the enemy had declined from 285,000 in late 1966 to 242,000.

That included North Vietnamese and Viet Cong regular units, local guerrilla units and the Viet Cong logistics and administrative structure.

Constitutionality Of Christmas Viewed

By HAL COOPER

NEW YORK (AP) — Debate has broken out in various parts of the country this holiday season over the question: "Is Christmas unconstitutional?"

A number of people argue that some aspects of it are, including Christmas decorations with a religious motif in public places such as schools.

Others contend that school singing of Christmas carols associated with religion also runs afoul of the First Amendment, which provides for the separation of church and state.

Mayor Norman A. Myers of Overland, Mo., was stunned by a letter from two lawyers demanding on constitutional grounds, the removal of a nativity scene from the City Hall lawn.

The mayor said he would ignore the letter and commented: "If this is the type of Constitution we are living under, it certainly is in line for revision."

In Duluth, Minn., an unbeliever named Gary DeYoung, 44, took umbrage when one of his children brought home a program indicating that traditional carols would form a part of a school Christmas program.

DeYoung asserted that "the school's use of a religious holiday to present a religiously oriented program constitutes an affront to non-Christians and is a direct violation of the First Amendment."

After taking counsel with the school board attorney, Principal Donald Olson deleted the carols from the program.

The Florida branch of the American Civil Liberties Union advised school officials throughout the state that Christmas pageants with a religious content are unconstitutional and should be avoided. Reaction in general was outraged. Said Sheriff Leigh Wilson of Brevard County: "If I am handed a warrant to arrest some teacher, somebody else will have to serve it—I won't."

In Eugene, Ore., defenders of the "Constitution" obtained a court order forbidding the city to light up a 40-foot cross which is erected each year in a municipal park. City officials turned to the state Supreme Court.

The New Mexico branch of the Civil Liberties Union wrote the State Department of Education objecting to Christmas religious programs in the schools. The department sent copies of the union's letter to all school superintendents with no recommendation one way or the other.

But in the same envelopes went copies of a retort by Albuquerque school officials saying that the observance of Christmas is as much cultural as religious and that they intended to continue it.

In East Paterson, N.J., Mrs. Shirley Friedman stood up at a school board meeting and objected to paintings of Christ and other biblical figures on windows and doors of the Memorial Junior-Senior High School.

The 10 board members walked out of the school, where they were meeting, looked at the decorations, walked back in and went on to the next order of business without taking any action on the protest.

Folksinger's Accident Is Investigated

GLENDALE, Calif. (AP) — A Los Angeles police investigator says singer Jimmie Rodgers apparently suffered his serious head injury as an off-duty police officer stood by. The officer had stopped Rodgers after seeing him driving erratically.

Lt. Pierce R. Brooks said an inquiry established that Rodgers fell early the morning of Dec. 1 as he stood talking to officer J.P. Duffy. He said Rodgers struck the back of his head, fracturing his skull.

Brooks said Duffy had stopped Rodgers by honking his horn and blinking his lights upon seeing the singer's car making U-turns on the freeway.

"There was no one person responsible for Mr. Rodgers' falling," Brooks said. He added that there was "no criminality" involved.

Brooks said Rodgers' head could have struck the asphalt or a large metal manhole cover.

He said an investigation is continuing into the actions of Duffy and two on-duty uniformed policemen he summoned to the scene.

Tuesday's disclosures were the first indication that police knew how Rodgers had been injured. A police statement Dec. 7 said officers had checked him and left him in his car, apparently asleep.

Brooks refused to say if he knew how Rodgers got back in his car, where he was found by a friend about an hour later.

Idaho Is Leading Nation In Estimated Potato Production

WASHINGTON (AP) — Idaho leads the nation in estimated potato production in the Agriculture Department's final crop report for 1967.

It said Idaho produced 63,900,000 hundredweight on the basis of 210 cwt per acre from 304,000 planted acres. Maine per acre yield was larger at 240 cwt, but total production for the New England state was 38,160,000 cwt.

The nation's estimated potato production is 305,906,000 cwt, compared with 306,902,000 cwt last year, and the five year average of 272,787,000 cwt.

This year's wheat crop was set at a record high of 1,524,349,000 bushels. This compares with the 1966 revised estimate of 1,311,702,000 bushels and the five-year average of 1,214,024,000.

Production of spring wheat (other than durum) was estimated at 249,225,000 bushels, compared with last year's revised estimate of 186,571,000.

The department said Idaho's winter wheat production was 42,355,000 bushels on the basis of 42-43 bushels per acre from 985,000 harvest acres.

National sugar beet yield was placed at 18,366,000 cwt, compared with 20,342,000 cwt last year, and the five year average of 20,717,000 cwt.

Department statistics place Idaho beet production at 2,946,000 cwt on the basis of 20 tons per acre from 174,300 planted acres.

Utah sugar beet production was at slightly more than 18 tons per acre for 460,000 cwt from 25,400 planted acres.

Sugar cane harvest was 26,210,000 tons, while last year's yield was 22,490,000 tons.

In other crop reports, Idaho produced 6,516,000 pounds of an estimated national hops harvest of 49,513,000 pounds.

Idaho dry bean production is at 1,565,000 cwt. The national estimate is 15,472,000 cwt.

Barley from Idaho is at 25,921,000 bushels, compared with 370,246,000 bushels nationally.

Other estimates:
 Hay 120,361,000 tons; 121,027,000 last year; 120,113,000 five year.

Apples 5,461,000 pounds; 5,751,200,000 and 5,917,800,000.

Tax Collections Low In November
BOISE (AP) — Tax collections from virtually all types of levies were down in November as compared with the totals a year earlier, the Idaho office of tax collector reported Wednesday.

Exceptions were in beer tax collections, up $9,644 to $124,560, and motor fuels tax revenue, up $70,907 to $1,841,933.

Income tax revenue was down $330,676 to $2,894,744; sales tax revenue was off $28,815 to $2,775,056, and the cigarette tax brought in $377,590, down $5,163.

CACTUS PETE'S

NEEDY CHILDREN in Twin Falls will get a gift-filled Christmas after all, thanks to many area civic and service clubs and Twin Falls firemen. Firemen repaired all toys donated during the past month, and Sunday they will begin delivering the toys. Names are being furnished by the YW-

Influenza Puts Bug In Holiday Preparations Across Nation

By EDITH LEDERER
Associated Press Writer

Influenza and influenza-like respiratory infections are putting a bug in Christmas preparations from Oklahoma to Maryland.

Across the Midwest, mid-South and mid-Atlantic states, outbreaks of various respiratory ailments—many as yet unidentified—have forced schools to close early and businesses to curtail activity.

Though the "bugs" have left some last-minute Christmas shoppers with sore throats, fever, aches and chest pains, their arrival was not totally unexpected.

Last summer, the government's Communicable Disease Center in Atlanta forecast an influenza epidemic in the eastern United States this winter.

Unfortunately, the prediction appears to be coming true. Flu in the Far West is either nonexistent or below normal. In the East and Midwest, however, several epidemics and near-epidemics are already in full swing.

Legarde, county health officer, labeled the outbreak an "epidemic of viral respiratory diseases."

Last week, the Oklahoma State Health Department described the Asian flu outbreak in the northeast city of Bartlesville as the worst in the nation.

Dr. LeRoy Carpenter, director of the Epidemiology Division, said the State Health Department was taking blood tests of suspected cases in other cities "just to make sure we know about an outbreak as quickly as possible."

In Bergen County, N.J., medical authorities said Tuesday there appeared to be a minor epidemic of Asian flu. Absenteeism in the northern New Jersey county's 16 schools ranged from 10 to 35 per cent.

"The state is full of something," said Dr. Arnold M. Reeve, of the Iowa State Health Department. Though tests to pin down the bug have not been completed, he said it looked like a virus other than influenza.

An influenza-like virus running through the Washington, D.C., area raised the absentee rate in some schools to nearly 30 per cent and cut the staffs of some federal agencies. The Department of Agriculture reported Monday that the number of visits to its health unit hit a peak.

Holidays

Trash will not be collected on either Christmas Day or New Year's Day, officials of the Elden Corp. announced Wednesday.

The corporation handles sanitary services for Twin Falls.

Workmen, however, will work harder the day after each holiday, picking up two days of trash in one day, it was reported. What is normally picked up Mondays (both holidays fall on Mondays) will be picked up Tuesday afternoons.

Valley Gets 12 Inferior Ratings

EDEN-HAZELTON — It has been reported by Dr. Tom Utterback, superintendent, that out of 123 possible ratings, Eden-Hazelton School District received only 12 inferior ratings and only four below average at a recent evaluation.

A task force composed of Rex Wood, school board chairman; Harry Kurtz, elementary supervisor; Barbara Balsch and Betty Cochran, PTA officers; and David Follingstad, music director, recently completed an evaluation of Eden-Hazelton schools on the basis of the National Education Association "Profiles of Excellence."

They took an uncompromisingly objective attitude during the evaluation so as to present an accurate picture of the school system in competition with the finest schools in the country, Dr. Utterback said. This kind of evaluation has been prompted by the State Department of Education this year for use by all the schools in the state.

The inferior ratings were on items such as data-processing equipment, paid sabbatical leaves, and not maintaining a 13th and 14th year academic program. Many inferiors were a direct result of lack of available funds and showed the lack of ability to compete with large school operations where money is no problem, the superintendent said.

The areas of professional compensation and local professional organizations received the lowest ratings while maintaining a slightly above average composite rating.

The task force unanimously agreed that the evaluation showed the Eden-Hazelton School District No. 262 to be doing everything within its power to maintain high standards and constantly improve its educational program.

Holiday Road Death Toll Is Estimated

CHICAGO (AP) — The National Safety Council estimated today between 625 and 725 persons may die in Christmas holiday weekend traffic, half of the number in crashes in which liquor will be a factor.

The period covered by the estimate will extend from 6 p.m. local time Friday until midnight Monday, Christmas day.

"Somewhere in the neighborhood of 375 Americans are likely to die from traffic accidents related in some way to alcohol," William G. Johnson, council general manager, said in a statement.

"Probing a variety of fatal crashes, researchers in several states agree generally that the rate of alcohol involvement reaches—or surpasses—50 per cent," the Johnson said.

The last three Christmases provided three-day weekends. In 1966 there were 600 traffic fatalities, in 1965 a record 720 and in 1964 there were 596. During a normal nonholiday period of identical length the count would be about 500.

Rules Relaxed

NEW YORK (AP)—The New York Times said today the White House has relaxed restrictions on American pilots, permitting them to fly through the buffer strip along the Chinese border and a 20-mile circle around Hanoi.

Cosa Nostra Influence Investigated

NEW YORK (AP) — Manhattan Dist. Atty. Frank S. Hogan is investigating suspected Cosa Nostra influence in more than one city department, according to published reports.

The reports Tuesday came after a federal grand jury indicted former Water Commissioner James L. Marcus and a reputed Cosa Nostra leader in an alleged $40,000 kickback on an $800,000 city contract.

Mayor John V. Lindsay told a news conference Tuesday that if the federal charge against Marcus were true, "then it's clear that Mr. Marcus lied to me."

"To say I have been ill served and the public also is an understatement," he said of the worst scandal in his two-year Republican administration. "I consider this a betrayal of a personal and public trust."

Lindsay declared that he fired Marcus, his friend and a key aide, after Marcus became the object of an investigation by Hogan's office. The letter of resignation was worded to appear voluntary.

The mayor said it would be improper for him to comment on reports that other city departments were being investigated.

Marcus, 37, was indicted with Cosa Nostra bigwig Antonio "Tony Ducks" Corallo and four other men Monday on charges of conspiring to violate federal ant racketeering laws.

Corallo posted $10,000 bond and the others were freed without bond pending a hearing. The maximum penalty upon conviction for each defendant is five years in federal prison and a $10,000 fine.

New Officers Take Over For Air Force Association

New officers of the Magic Valley Chapter of Air Force Association took office Monday night during a meeting at the American Legion Hall, Twin Falls.

Man Rescued From Depths Of Old Well

APEX, N.C. (AP) — John Lipscomb emerged unhurt from a well where he had been buried for six hours Tuesday. "Thank You, Lord-Jesus. I was praying all the time," he said.

A smile wrinkled the mud-caked face of the 62-year-old laborer as he was hauled from the 20-foot well which had caved in while Lipscomb was at the bottom cleaning it.

Lipscomb was led about a dozen steps to a stretcher where he removed his jacket and lay down, his workman's helmet toppling from his head.

His wife grabbed the hat and clutching it to her breast said: "They say this old hat saved my man's life."

Rescue workers had said that the helmet protected Lipscomb from injury and allowed him to keep rock and clay away from his face so he could breathe.

Lipscomb was working in the well alone when the walls caved in, burying him under about five feet of bricks and mud.

Ben McCoy, one of two men working on the surface, said he heard a rumble when the sides caved in. He looked down and "Lipscomb was gone. I couldn't see anything but dirt."

The workers summoned assistance. The Wake county sheriff's office, the Apex fire department and the Raleigh rescue squad and volunteers joined in the rescue.

Soon they succeeded in worming a hose through the debris to Lipscomb and started pumping oxygen to the trapped man. After about four hours the workers uncovered Lipscomb's head.

They are Maj. Adam (Bud) Schubert, Gooding, president; M. Sgt. Richard Ryall, Twin Falls, vice president, and Lt. Col. Paul F. Carl, Twin Falls, secretary.

Speaking to members of the association during the meeting was Andrew F. James, Gooding County prosecuting attorney, who is the military relations director for the state Air Force Association.

The group also endorsed a statement by Maj. Schubert to the effect: "The Air Force Association concerns itself with the ability and the will of the United States to utilize its vast resources with prudence, not only for Southeast Asia, in a limited war situation, but also to ensure the maintenance of a secure nuclear defense posture."

"The Air Force Association reaffirms its support of national policy to defend South Vietnam against Communist aggression. This support is based on our deep belief in the importance and the urgency of this struggle."

"It is this belief which moves us to ask, as we have before, that the strength and versatility of American military capability, and especially its air power, be brought to bear at whatever level may be necessary to bring the war in Vietnam to a successful conclusion at a minimum cost of lives and resources of the United States and her allies."

Mike Novosel, chairman of the arrangements committee, will be assisted by Richard Moncur and Kendall Dayley and members of the club.

Uniforms?

UTAH STATE PRISON (AP)—Santa's helpers take on strange uniforms.

At Utah State Prison they wear numbered overalls. Galyne Blackburn, inmate services coordinator, says prisoners in the furniture industries shops are refurbishing bicycles, rocking horses and other toys.

He said the prison "Toy plant" is set up like a factory production line. Last year, inmates repaired toys for 1,800 children, Blackburn said.

met Monday night at the American Legion Hall in Twin Falls. Andrew F. James, Gooding County prosecuting attorney, was featured speaker during the meeting. The group endorsed a policy statement by Maj. Schubert.

DEAR ABBY: In defense of the interior decorator whose "advances" the lady said she had to fight off: I have been a painter for many years, and have been around all kinds of women. I have them categorized:

There is the "clutcher." She is always wearing a housecoat that's open. She keeps clutching it and releasing it, but she never closes it. Then there's the body beautiful type who is always dressed for swimming or sunbathing. The sun hasn't been out for a week and the pool is empty, but she's got her suit on. There's the stepladder mama. If I'm up, she's down with a very low-neck blouse. If I'm down, she's up with the other-end exposed.

I have seen them all. Years ago a very wise painter who knew all the tricks of the trade, gave me some very good advice. He said, "Sammy, always get your money first, and if they still want to play games, it will be for fun." Sincerely,

SAMMY

DEAR ABBY: Why didn't you advise that girl who was jealous because her boy friend had SHARON tattooed on his chest to have "I LOVE MILLIE MORE THAN SHARON" tattooed over it. That's what I did.

WIFE

DEAR WIFE: I figured the guy had already had enough needling.

DEAR ABBY: Just yesterday I found out that the "diamond" engagement ring I received from my gentleman friend is not a real diamond. The gentleman who gave it to me is a wonderful person and I would not have thought less of him were I given none at all. But to have been given one that is "only a fake" as the jeweler put it, hurts me so, I don't know what to do. This gentleman has been so good and kind to me, I almost can't believe he would do such a thing. This was going to be the second marriage for both of us.

I don't want to lose him by making him feel that having a real diamond is all that important to me. It isn't, yet I hate to be fooled. Everything depends on how I react. I can't just pretend I don't know. Yet if I make too much of it, it may be fatal. Can you please help me?

WAITING

DEAR WAITING: Assuming the ring IS "only a fake" either your gentleman friend was also taken in, or he is trying to fool you. In either case, you must tell him that you were told the stone is not a genuine diamond, stressing that the value of the stone is of less importance to you than the value of his word.

GOP Governors Say Their Ranks Will Increase

WASHINGTON (AP)—The 28 Republican governors say their number will increase to 31 after the 1968 elections but in their predicting they don't name the five states where they expect to capture state houses from the Democrats.

The prediction was made on Tuesday in the Republican Governors Association's new publication, "Governors News Log." They said the Democratic incumbents in seven states may run for the Senate next year, listing these states as Illinois, Iowa, Kansas, New Hampshire, North Dakota, Utah and Vermont.

News Of Record

ELMORE COUNTY Sheriff's Office

A 1967 Chevrolet truck loaded with potatoes was involved in an accident with a 1965 Chevrolet on U. S. Highway 30 business road two-tenths of a mile east of Glens Ferry at 8 a.m. Monday.

The truck was owned by the Land Creek Farms, Glens Ferry, driven by Edward R. Dewey, 53, Glens Ferry. R. L. Prickett, Mountain Home, 50, was owner and driver of the car, which slid into the front end of the truck and went off the road, doing $100 damage to the car. There were no injuries.

At 1 a.m. Sunday a 1967 Ford pickup truck overturned three and one-half miles east of Glens Ferry on the Pasadena Valley Road. It was driven by Chester W. Qualls, 28, Glens Ferry, and owned by Anderson Brothers, Burley. The truck ran off the road, doing $300 damage. The driver complained of cuts and bruises but did not seek medical aid.

Burley Pink Ladies Dress Infants In Christmas Socks

BURLEY — Dee Ray Blacker, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Blacker, Heyburn, was dressed in a red and white Christmas sock for his trip home from Cassia Memorial Hospital.

The charming Christmas socks were made by the Pink Ladies of Cassia Memorial Hospital for all babies going home between now and Christmas. Mrs. Lewis Dille is serving as chairman of the Christmas sock project for the infants and is assisted by Mrs. Gennie Buttar and Mrs. Charles Barnes.

Open house was held Wednesday in the Snack Bar hosted by the Pink Ladies. Christmas cookies, fruit and nut breads and candies, all made and donated by the Pink Ladies, were served with punch or coffee.

Enjoying the open house were employees of the hospital and residents of the area who just happened to be in the hospital visiting ill relatives or friends.

The large Christmas tree in the lobby of the Cassia Memorial Hospital was decorated by Mrs. Ralph Kruse, also a Pink Lady.

The Pink Ladies are planning a Christmas party for the senior citizens who are hospitalized at Cassia Memorial at 2:30 p.m. Friday. Each senior citizen will be presented a Christmas gift. The gifts have been donated by various churches of the Burley area.

Christmas entertainment will include readings and musical numbers.

Lavar Steele Is Speaker At Guest Day Tea

BUHL — Members of the Buhl Art Guild hosted a Guest Day Tea recently at the Civic Room in the Buhl City Hall.

Lavar Steele, art director at the College of Southern Idaho, spoke on art techniques and the different kinds of paintings.

He announced that evening adult courses in art will be open to anyone interested. There are also children's classes held on Saturdays with the 11 to 16-year-olds in the mornings, and the 7 to 11-year-olds in the afternoon. He asked that anyone interested in the courses please enroll before Jan. 15 in order for him to arrange the schedule.

Mr. Steele offered constructive criticism of the member's paintings that were brought to the tea.

The next meeting is at 1 p.m. Jan. 4, with Mrs. Frank Karel in charge of the program.

COUPLE VEGETABLES

Couple—two—complementary vegetables and you'll need only one serving dish to bring them to the table. Carrots and celery make an excellent combination; so do creamed potatoes and green peas.

Installation Scheduled By Job's Daughters

WENDELL — Anna Schrenk, honored queen, conducted the business meeting at the regular Bethel meeting recently. It was announced that installation of officers will be Dec. 29. Practices are set for 4 p.m. Wednesday and 2 p.m. Dec. 27.

The new queen is Ynes Ydaraga. The Rose Ceremony will be used at her installation service.

The refreshment committee includes Janet Callen, Leslie Sullivan, Kay Henderson, Pam Parr, Vicki Pepper and Anna Schrenk.

Janet Callen and Peggy Morgan were appointed to the investigating committee.

Marcia Meistad, Helen Maltz, Leslie Sullivan and Terry Klimes were appointed to the entertainment committee for the installation.

Cindy Brown presented "To Santa From Becky" for her 11-year-old son.

Teri Cooper, Pamela Parr and Lana Baker passed their proficiency tests.

Mrs. Joe Klimes Jr., guardian, congratulated the girls on their proficiency work. She also urged the girls to be at the practices on time.

It was announced there are still Christmas wreaths and corsages that have not been sold.

Noble Grand Is Elected

FAIRFIELD — Mrs. Kenneth Peck was elected noble grand of the Occident Rebekah Lodge No. 58.

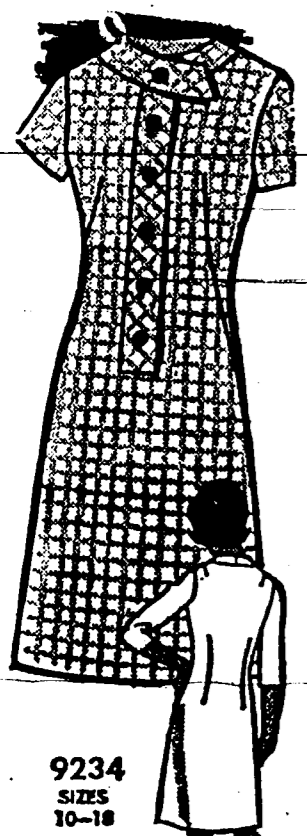

Mrs. Kenneth Wilson is vice grand; Mrs. Zane Harrison, financial secretary; Mrs. Donald Cox, recording secretary, and Mrs. George Perkins Sr., treasurer. Mrs. Earl Wilson is first trustee; Mrs. Perkins, second trustee, and Mrs. Dave Howard, third trustee. Mrs. Zane Harrison was re-elected staff captain.

Joint installation with the IOOF will be held at 2 p.m. Jan. 14 in the American Legion Hall.

Lodge members voted to donate to the fund for the Christmas street decorations. Seventeen sick calls were reported since the last meeting. Mrs. Dale Lee and Mrs. Kenneth Wilson were hostesses.

The Christmas meeting and gift exchange will be held on Dec. 28.

Research Guides Are Set

WASHINGTON (AP) — State Department officials maintain federal agencies will follow new guidelines barring secret government backing of university research abroad even though no enforcement machinery has been provided.

The department's 14-point guidelines published Tuesday specify: "The fact of government research support should always be acknowledged by sponsor, university, and researcher."

In short, a U.S. government financial grant for studies undertaken at a foreign college or university would be made public by the government as well as the university.

But State Department officials acknowledged that while many federal agencies dealing in overseas research projects have adopted the guidelines, there's no existing way to force compliance from any agency that desires to keep secret its connection to such projects.

Neither do the guidelines legally or administratively bind the State Department's Foreign Affairs Research Council, set up to oversee granting of research contracts following a 1965 uproar over a secret Chile project.

The 1965 incident resulted from disclosure that the Army had put researchers in Chile to study potentially disruptive social and political factors. Some critics contended it appeared the Department of the Army was attempting to mount a counter-insurgency effort in the Latin American nation.

Said the new department recommendations:

"Covert support to institutions of higher education is contrary to national policy, on the broad and vital principle that it runs contrary to the spirit of our institutions, and on the pragmatic basis that it may reduce the reliability and credibility of the research project's conclusions, and eventually result in damage to the reputation of our scholarly community."

Bridge Played

BURLEY — The Burley Duplicate Bridge Club met Tuesday night at the Elks Lodge with four and one-half tables playing the Howell system.

Dan Hunter and Art Norby were first; Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Holmes, second; Barbara Robinson and Jean Archer, third, and Mr. and Mrs. Terry Warnke, fourth.

WON'T RUN AGAIN

TOPEKA, Kan. (AP) — Sen. Frank Carlson, R-Kan., said today he won't seek re-election in 1968, after serving 40 years in public office without an election defeat.

MANAGER OF THE Burley plant of Ore-Ida Foods, Inc., Paul Bandy, presents a $50 check to Sheila Webb, 17, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Webb, Milner. She was winner of the Best of Show with an original art painting. Miss Webb is a senior at Burley High School.

Winners Are Announced For Ore-Ida Foods Art Contest

BURLEY — Winners of the Tanner, third, all students of first annual art contest for Cassia, Washington Junior High School, and Minidoka County students sponsored by Ore-Ida Foods, Inc., are announced by Pete Williams, personnel manager, and Paul Bandy, plant manager, Burley.

The contest was open to students in both Cassia and Minidoka counties, grades 7 through 12. The contest has been held in past years at the Ontario, Ore., Ore-Ida Foods plant, but this is the first it has been held for the Burley plant.

Best of show winner was Sheila Webb, 17, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Webb, Milner, a senior at Burley High School. She received a check for $50 from Mr. Bandy for her entry which was an original drawing.

In the Senior division winners were Julie Doman, Burley High School, first; Alfred Perez, Minidoka High School, second, and the only oil painting entered; Marylou Roberts, Burley High School, third; Pat Nelson, Oakley High School, and Nancy Ellen Rasmussen, Burley High School, both honorable mention.

The Intermediate division winners were Kristine Bates, first; Elva Aguilar, second, Janene

Romney Says War Solution Can Be Found

By HENRY S. BRADSHAW

MOSCOW (AP) — Gov. George Romney said today his tour of five European capitals, including a long talk with Soviet Premier Alexei N. Kosygin, "has encouraged me to believe in the possibility of finding a political solution" for the Vietnam war.

"A satisfactory solution for Vietnam must be found in not purely military but also political means," Romney said as he left Moscow for Israel.

"Broadly speaking, on my European trip I found uncertainty and concern about our foreign policy," said Romney, who has visited Warsaw, Paris, Bonn and London, as well as Moscow, and London, as well as Moscow, Monday. The Michigan governor, a candidate for the Republican presidential nomination, said he regarded Kosygin as a reasonable, logical, intelligent individual who spoke clearly to the point. The norm or was personally friendly but spoke frankly, Romney said.

Good Reason

ST. JOSEPH, Mo. (AP) — A St. Joseph woman charged with running a school stop sign had good reason not to appear in Municipal Court Monday as scheduled. Judge W. Harry Wilson reported an attorney called to say the woman was involved in an accident on her way to court and had been taken to a hospital for examination. The judge continued her case.

Greek Military Leaders Resign

ATHENS, Greece (AP) — The top members of the Greek military regime resigned today from the army to make an all-civilian government.

The switch from army to civilian status was disclosed in the Government Gazette.

Involved were the premier and defense minister, Col. George Papadopoulos, strong man of the junta that seized power in the April 21 coup; the deputy premier and interior minister Brig. Stylianos Patakos and the minister of economic coordination, Col. Nicholas Makarezos.

BILL PRESENTED LONDON (AP) — The government introduced Tuesday night a bill to tighten Britain's loose laws on gaming houses.

Kimberly Nips Oakley 73-72 In Overtime

OAKLEY — Larry Reitz jumper from the corner just before the buzzer pulled Kimberly into a tie Tuesday night and the Bulldogs went on to nip the Oakley Hornets 73-72 in overtime.

Getting fine scoring from Lynn McMasters in the first and third quarters, Kimberly staved just ahead of the Hornets until early in the fourth period. Then, Bulldog Tomlan, Robert Holms and Craner fired Oakley into an eight-point lead with three minutes left.

Kimberly managed to cut the margin to two points but Oakley looked like a winner, owning the lead and the ball with 11 seconds left. But a bad pass sailed out of bounds and Kimberly set up the play that had Reitz let fly with the tying bucket with six seconds left.

Bulcher's driving crippler and a free throw by Kernin staked Kimberly to a quick three-point lead in the extra session and the Bulldogs stayed on top. Craner hit five free throws—two after the final buzzer—to account for all of Oakley's overtime points.

Aaron Is Named MVP Of Atlanta

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — Hank Aaron, named the Most Valuable Player of the Atlanta Braves for 1967, says he never gets tired of trophies.

"It always gives me a thrill no matter how many I win," Aaron said when he was told Tuesday he had been named MVP by the Atlanta chapter of the Baseball Writers' Association of America.

Aaron will be honored Feb. 4 at a baseball banquet sponsored by the writers and the Braves 400 Club, a day before he marks his 34th birthday.

The Braves' slugger, heading into his 15th big league campaign, led the National League in home runs with 39 and in total bases with 343 last summer, scored more than 100 runs for the 13th straight year, batted .307 and led the team in stolen bases with 17.

Aaron, who beat out third base man Cleo Boyer for MVP honors, said he is already looking forward to the 1968 season.

"I'm ready to go to spring training right now," he said. "I've had enough vacation."

Bradley Gains Ranking Position In College Basketball Poll

By BEN OLAN
The unbeaten Bradley Braves have won seven straight games and gained a ranking position in The Associated Press' major-college basketball poll. But they'll have to put up a brave front this week.

The team from Peoria, Ill., faces the leaders in two polls, taking on San Diego State, the pacesetter in the small-college voting, Wednesday night and powerful UCLA, No. 1 among

T.F. Matmen Roll Over Wood River

The Twin Falls matmen got two quick pins and coasted to a 36-16 win over the Wood River Wolverines Tuesday night.

The results of the match with Twin Falls men listed first are: 98, Stone pinned Sproule; 106, Wonderlich pinned Nelson; 115, Emmen decisioned Goicoechea; 123, Plummer decisioned Sherman; 130, McKain was decisioned by Deckard; 136, D. Qualls pinned Deckard; 141 Buckendorf pinned Torres; 148, Quessnell was decisioned by Duffy; 157, K. Qualls was pinned by Fife; 168, Touchette pinned Barber; 183, T. Qualls was pinned by Nicholson, and Heavyweight, Hizen pinned by Simms.

Cincinnati Drops Southern Cal

CINCINNATI (AP) — Rick Roberson who scored a game-high 25 points headed a late spurt to help Cincinnati open up a 10-point lead and go on to defeat Southern California 69-58 in basketball Tuesday night.

Roberson scored six points midway in the second half to bring the Bearcats from a 44-44 tie to a 57-47 advantage with 7:07 to go and lead them to their second straight victory.

The Bearcats put together best shooting effort of the season as they connected on 11 of 19 second-half field goal attempts and hit 50 per cent from the field for the game.

Cincinnati also outbounced the Trojans 44-35 with Roberson pulling down 16.

Jim Marsh hit seven of nine field goals and added three of four from free throws to top the Trojans, now 5-2, with 17 points.

major-colleges, Saturday night. The Bruins, 3-0, this season, have won 37 games in succession over three years.

Bradley, No. 10, and Tennessee, No. 9, are the new teams in the Top Ten released Tuesday in the latest balloting by a national panel of 32 sports writers and broadcasters based on games through Sunday.

UCLA, idle last week, collected 32 first-place votes and 318 points while Houston held second place with two votes for the top position and 276 points.

Points were awarded on the usual basis of 10 points for a first-place vote, 9 for second, 8 for third, etc.

Houston, winner of three games last week for a 7-0 mark, overcame Minnesota 103-65 Monday night. The Cougars take on Arizona Friday and Nevada Southern on Saturday.

Vanderbilt remained in third place with 241 points. The Commodores suffered their first setback of the campaign Monday night, 74-72 to Florida.

North Carolina downed two of last week's ranking teams, Kentucky and Princeton, and advanced three places to fourth. The defeat dropped Kentucky from fourth to seventh and Princeton out of the first 10.

Twin Falls JV Wrestlers Top Kimberly

KIMBERLY—The Twin Falls junior varsity wrestling team won the last three matches to take a 36-22 win from Kimberly Tuesday night.

The results of the match with the Kimberly man listed first are: 98, Johnson pinned Wonderlich; 106, Mason was pinned by Hansney; 115, Murphy pinned by Thompson; 123, Kennedy was pinned by Carr; 130, Dodge was pinned by Sommer; 136, Ledbetter pinned Turner; 141, Thorn was pinned by Ochsner; 148, Feldhusen pinned Wagner; 157, Shoemaker drew with Huddlestone; 168, Eldridge was pinned by Penton; 183, Klimes was decisioned by Arrington, and Heavyweight Steel was pinned by Little.

Indiana zoomed from ninth to fifth after beating Kansas State and North Carolina State. Davidson climbed two places to sixth while Boston College, beaten by St. John's of New York in overtime, slipped from sixth to eighth.

Louisville, No. 5 a week ago, also dropped from the list of rated teams after losing to Dayton.

Valley Men Pin Loss On Filer

EDEN - HAZELTON — The Valley Viking wrestling team won the first three matches and went on to defeat the Filer matmen 34-16 Tuesday night.

The results of the match with Valley men listed first are: 98, McClain pinned Shetter; 106, Waters pinned Gross; 115, Kroll pinned Slaughter; 123, Dean decisioned Lutz; 130, Taylor pinned Dietrich; 136, Muntz was pinned by Lassen; 141, Waters decisioned Henstock; 148, Dilley pinned Harshbarger; 157, McNurlin decisioned Ulrich; 168, Sligar was pinned by Nelson; 183, Lance was decisioned by Sheppard, and Heavyweight Fellers was decisioned by Orthel.

Colorado Back Is Hard Blocker

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Fullback Doug McGee, whose University of Miami team meets Colorado in the Bluebonnet Bowl Saturday, earned a reputation as a fierce blocker on the practice field as well as in regular football games this fall.

Just ask Ken Shipp, backfield coach for the Hurricanes, who is nursing a dislocated thumb. "I thought I'd help out by holding a dummy on a blocking drill," Shipp said. "Never again—particularly if McGee's doing the blocking."

Head Coach Charlie Tate said the 205-pound senior "does a tremendous blocking job and he's a tough inside runner."

"Now I'm going into my 11th ball game this season and I feel pretty good about it," said McGee. "But this Bluebonnet game is my last for Miami. And I'll probably remember it 20 years from now."

Twin Falls-Buhl Tilt Opens Short Weekend Slate

Twin Falls will repay a visit to Buhl Thursday night to start off a short weekend basketball schedule as Magic Valley teams wind up the December tuneup season.

Twin Falls, ranked sixth in the state, defeated Buhl badly in the season opener and the result isn't expected to change this time. However, Buhl Coach Gary Matlock feels his boys will make a better showing. "We're fighting a lot of inexperience," says Coach Matlock, "but these kids are trying real hard. They're cutting down on their mistakes and they're trying to boost each other's morale all the time. This leads me to believe that our season won't be a failure even if we don't show up with many wins."

Also on tap Thursday night is a game at Malta with the Raft River Trojans playing host to North Gem of Bancroft.

On Friday evening Buhl travels to Wood River for a rematch, the Wolverines holding the first decision. Gooding, which was hit by flu and two losses last week, will be at Glens Ferry while 15th ranked Declo invades Shoshone. North Gem stays in the area Friday, traveling to Murtaugh.

Three games wind it up Saturday. Wood River moves down the hill to test the Jerome Tigers while tall, tough Hagerman goes up the hill to play Valley in the return battle.

Raft River Wrestlers Defeat Oakley

RAFT RIVER—The Raft River wrestling team trounced the Oakley Hornets 50-10 Tuesday night.

The results of the match with the Raft River men listed first are: 98, Kessman was pinned by Jinks; 106, Booth was pinned by Jackson; 115, Robison pinned Severe; 123, Erdow pinned Mullen; 130, Hodges pinned Rodriguez; 136, Durffey pinned Whitely; 141, Robison pinned Lindgren; 148, no wrestlers; 157 Oakley forfeited; 168, Taylor pinned Hathaway; 183, Tracey pinned Burgener, and heavyweight, Niwerth pinned Hathaway.

Americans Down Nationals 83-65

RUPERT — The AAU Americans defeated the AAU Nationals 83-65 Tuesday night for the second time this season.

The Americans had a 45-30 lead at halftime and had no trouble after that.

Milt Horton led the scoring department with 33 points and Brott had 23.

Filer Catches Shoshone Cold, Cops 49-39 Win

FILER — Filer's Wildcats caught the Shoshone Indians ice cold Tuesday night, unglazed the bench and swept home with a 49-39 victory.

Shoshone went the first 11 minutes without scoring from the field and by the time George Arrossa hit it, Filer was coasting along with a 20-4 lead. The Wildcats, with a good height advantage, used a zone defense to hold the shorter Indians out and dominated the boards. Shoshone didn't get an offensive rebound until the second quarter — that leading to Arrossa's first Shoshone field goal.

Filer Coach Al Musser went to the bench early and got some good outside shooting to stay ahead generally from 12 to 16 points. Twelve Wildcats broke into the scoring column.

Shoshone made a late effort to put a little tension in the game and succeeded in trimming the score to seven points with just over a minute to play.

Robbins-Led Bears Down Richfield

RICHFIELD — Jim Robbins hit 11 of his 37 points in the final period Tuesday night, to give the Bliss Bears a 67-61 win over the Richfield Tigers.

The Tigers had pulled to within four points of Bliss in the fourth frame, but Robbins hit five quick free throws to pull Richfield out of trouble.

The Richfield Jayvee team won the preliminary 51-10.

North-South Teams Ready For Game

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — "Is everybody warm enough?" Notre Dame defensive back Jim Smithberger asked sarcastically Tuesday as the Yankees practiced under a broiling Florida sun for the annual North-South game Christmas Day.

Both North and South coaches said their teams were coming along well and getting accustomed to playing together.

Mike Perrillaird of Auburn, who started at four different positions for the Tigers in the past three years, was added to replace flanker Richard Trapo of Florida, who suffered a rib injury in the Florida-Miami game Dec. 9.

Perrillaird can play running back, flanker, wing back and defensive safety.

Ken Hebert of Houston operated at Flanker Tuesday working without shoulder pads for the second straight day because of a shoulder bruise. He said it wouldn't bother him by game time.

A few North players ran the 40-yard dash after practice for professional football scouts. Bill Fritz, a 6-1, 220-pound end from Wisconsin, turned in the best time, a 4.9 seconds.

Press Helps Camas County Beat Carey

FAIRFIELD — The Camas County Musers hamstrung Carey with a full-court press in the third quarter Tuesday night and coasted into a 77-54 North-side Conference victory.

Camas County, getting double-figure scoring from four men, took an early lead and held it throughout the half, but never could shake away. In the third period the press unsettled Carey long enough for the Musers to hustle into a 34-point lead. The Musers' outscored Carey 28-3 during those eight minutes.

Carey came back with 21 points in the final quarter.

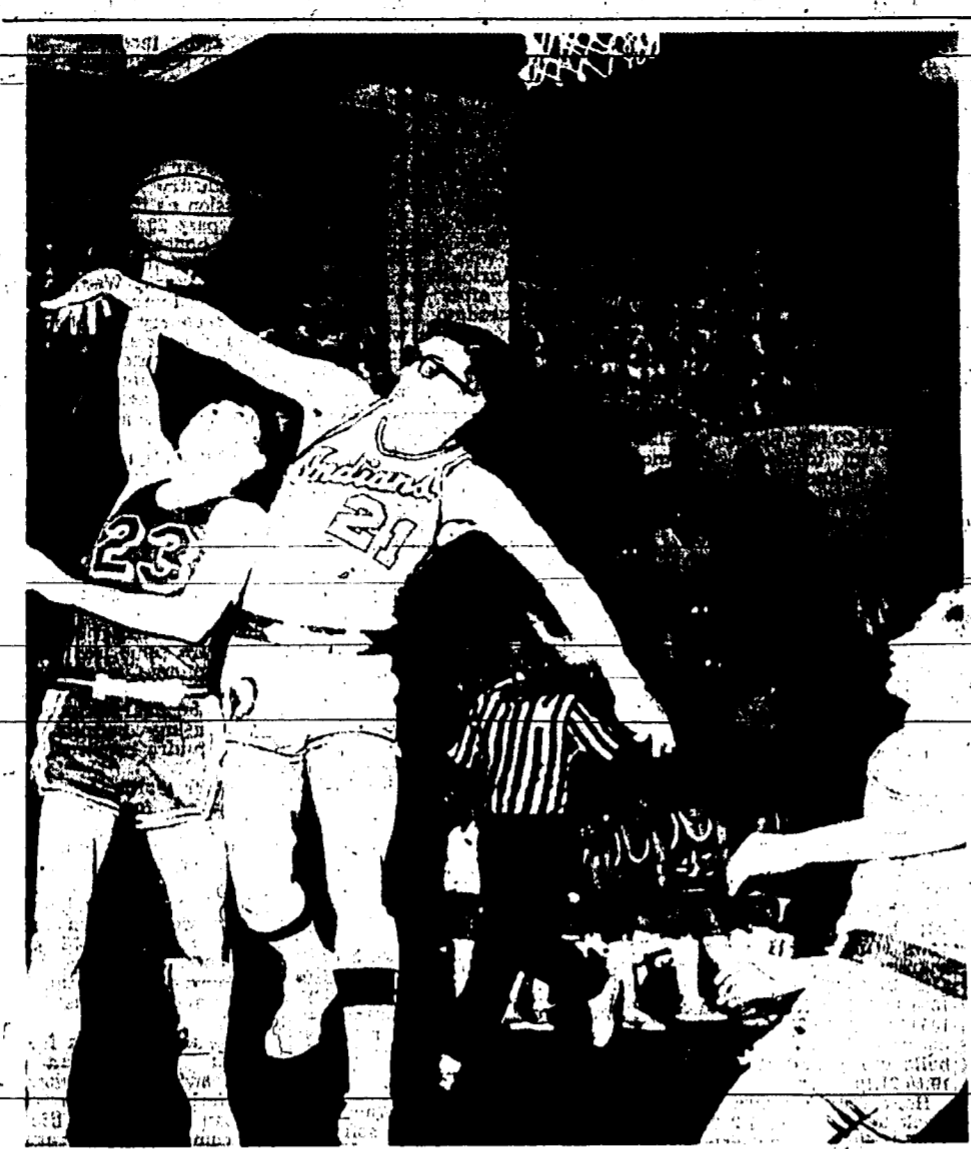

Camas County also won the preliminary 54-49.

New York Drubs Royals 133-118

NEW YORK (AP) — The defensive play and ball handling of rookie backcourt men Walt Frazier and Bill Bradley led a New York fourth quarter surge, and the Knickerbockers went on to drub the Cincinnati Royals 133-118 in a National Basketball Association game Tuesday night.

Stealing the ball, forcing several Cincinnati turnovers and moving the ball down court quickly, the two rookies helped the Knicks increase a 95-82 third-period lead to 115-100 advantage with 7:12 left.

SPORTS

HACKING ON THE arm of Bill Boats during a shot brought a foul to Shoshone's George Arrossa (21) during action Tuesday night at Filer. The Wildcats, watching Shoshone go without a basket for 11 minutes at the outset, coasted into a 49-39 win.

Utah State Wins

110-93 in an intersectional basketball game Tuesday night.

LOGAN, Utah (AP) — Utah State, passing the 100-point mark for the third straight in a swing through the Inter-State, defeated San Jose State mountain area, Monday night points.

Utah dropped the Spartans in Salt Lake City 82-81.

Three USU outside men combined for 91 of the Aggies' 110 points.

Borah Is Still No. 1; T.F., Burley, Minico And Declo Rated In Top 15

By The Associated Press

Using a narrow one-point win over Pocatello and a two-point verdict over Capital, the Borah Lions remained atop the Idaho high school prep poll with nine of 17 first place votes.

Caldwell, which started in fifth place last week, climbed into the runner-up slot with seven first place votes and a total of 149 total points, just 10 behind the Lions.

This will be the final poll of 1967, the resumption of voting coming the second week in January after the holiday season.

Moscow, with a perfect 4-0 record, claimed the 17th first place vote and moved up from sixth to fourth behind third place Pocatello which didn't get a first place vote but managed 132 points.

The Nampa Bulldogs, losers to Pocatello, dropped from third to fifth to finish the first division of the top ten. Twin Falls, off a narrow win over Boise and a loss to Caldwell, climbed from seventh to sixth while Capital (also loser to Nampa) dropped from second to seventh.

Undefeated Shelley (4-0) moved up from 19th to eighth and Weiser (6-0) vaulted from 11th to ninth with two straight wins. Boise High dropped from the ninth to 10th with the loss to Twin Falls and a win over Highland.

Highland, eighth last week, wound up 13th this time around with Burley (5-0) and Minico (4-1) ahead of the Rums.

A smattering of games are on tap this week but not enough to make a noticeable difference in the poll. The week between Christmas and New Year's also has a handful of games but again not enough. Heavy action will resume Jan. 5-6.

Indiana Edges Notre Dame 96-91

FORT WAYNE, Ind. (AP) — Fifth-ranked Indiana overcame two rallies by Notre Dame and captured a 96-91 victory in a match between two unbeaten basketball teams Tuesday night.

The Hoosiers, now 6-0, built an 8-2 lead. Notre Dame melted that with 14 straight points which gave the Irish a 16-8 edge. But sophomore Joe Cooke hit two baskets in the last 10 seconds of the first half for a 48-46 Indiana margin at halftime.

Notre Dame used a press to trim Indiana's 83-71 lead to 92-89 with 1:41 left. Then the Hoosiers stalled and forced the Irish into a foul to lock up the game.

Earl Schneider scored 23 points and Vern Payne hit 19 for Indiana, while Bob Whitmore and Weiser (6-0) scored 30 and Bob Arzen 21 for the Irish, now 5-1.

Grain

CHICAGO (AP) — Corn futures fell two cents a bushel on the Chicago Board of Trade today and were a strong factor in lower prices for other commodities.

Before the close, however, prices moderated with some developing strength in soybeans, corn and wheat.

The principal factor in the corn sell-off was a U.S. Department of Agriculture crop report issued after the close of business Tuesday. It said that despite heavy rains, which held up harvest work, corn production totaled a record 4.7 billion bushels this year. The wheat crop totaled a record 1.5 billion bushels and soybeans a record 972 million bushels. While wheat and soybeans records were set, the yield was not as high as anticipated earlier this year.

Choice steer calves closed on an irregular tone but held fairly good support of local traders and commission houses.

NEW YORK (AP) — For an industry with a long-range future assured by rising population and incomes, housing seems to be unusually beset by short-term problems.

It is, in fact, America's problem industry, and not entirely through its own fault.

Last year tight money forced the industry as close to a depression as it has experienced in the past 20 years. The number of houses on which work was begun fell to the lowest level since World War II despite population increases.

The recovery has been steady since last year's low annual rate of 848,000 private housing starts. Money has again become plentiful and contractors have reassembled crews and are back to work.

The latest figures on housing, released this week, seem to indicate a healthy gain, and maybe it is. Housing starts in November rose for the fifth straight month, reaching an annual rate of 1,566,000 units, nearly 72 per cent higher than the 1966 low.

But, coincidental with these figures are some less encouraging symptoms: mortgage interest has now risen to its highest rate of the year, prices are up and housing permits, which foretell future construction, are lower.

In other words, housing may be headed for trouble once again, with money once more the disease in a body that otherwise might be in roaring good health.

This is what new home purchasers were offered in October: interest rate, 6.52 per cent; length of loan, 34 years; loan to purchase price ratio, 74 per cent; and purchase price, $27,500.

These are averages from the Federal Home Loan Bank Board, and include rather widely differing rates for savings and loan associations, life insurance companies, mortgage companies and commercial and mutual savings banks. But, as averages, they still tell a story.

Average interest rates actually were lower in October than a year earlier, but a steady increase for several weeks accelerated in November, and rates now are near last year's high. In addition, home prices have risen $1,800 in one year.

Partially offsetting these costlier factors are steadily rising incomes for most families, more jobs and less unemployment. Few analysts believe, however, that these financial pluses offset the higher costs of buying a home.

The most disturbing aspect of the present situation is that the demand for housing is building up powerfully and, if mortgages were available at more reasonable rates, would amount to a boom.

The biggest demand, potentially, is from the large number of persons born immediately after World War II. Another source of demand is from the great number of families which last year postponed purchases.

As a result, vacancy rates are now at their lowest of the 1960s, a fact that can be established in many areas of the country simply by checking the number of units vacant in any large apartment house.

Because of this potential demand, many economists foresee a market of two million homes a year by the early 1970s.

Q. Back in January, 1962, we purchased some stock which was then being traded on the American Stock Exchange. Not long after that the stock was removed from the exchange because of some irregularity.

Since that time we have written to the company repeatedly. But we have been unable to obtain any information concerning its financial condition or activities.

Isn't a corporation required to furnish stockholders periodic reports? How can we obtain the information to which we feel we are entitled?

A. Yes, companies are required to furnish stockholders reports. They are, that is, if they are going concerns. The rules on this (administered by the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission) are a bit complicated. But they boil down to this: If the company has 500 or more stockholders and at least $1 million in assets, it is supposed to send reports to stockholders at least once a year.

Now, the stock you're stuck with and which you named in your letter seems to have dropped out of sight. I can't find a price quotation on it anywhere. It could be that the company has gone bust.

You had better check this out with a brokerage firm. Go to the broker you bought the stock from or one with which you now do business. Tracing out or possible.

These are the things you should watch for, when you're looking for a place in which to put your savings. Interest rates are one thing. The method through which interest is compounded is another.

Q. If an investor decides to sell shares of a no-load mutual fund, can't very well go through a broker. How does he do it?

A. The same way he would "redeem" (sell) shares of a fund which has a commission charge — butter known as a "load." He would turn his shares back to the mutual fund for cash.

(Mr. Doyle will answer only representative letters of general interest in his column. He cannot answer phone queries.)

LEGAL ADVERTISEMENTS NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING BEFORE THE DEPARTMENT OF INSURANCE OF THE STATE OF IDAHO Pursuant to Title 67, Chapter 52 of the Idaho Code, there will be a Public Hearing in the Senate Caucus Room in the State Capitol Building, Boise, Idaho, on the 4th day of January, 1968, commencing at 10:30 A.M. Governor Seeks New Air Service

By EARLE L. JESTER
BOISE (AP)—Gov. Don W. Samuelson disclosed Tuesday he is actively seeking to interest a new company in an intrastate commercial air service for Idaho.

He said he has had discussions with several persons — whom he declined to identify — who have indicated an interest in providing such a service.

The governor made his comment at a Board of Examiners meeting during a discussion of travel claims. State Auditor Joe R. Williams said such claims added up to $240,000 for November alone.

Samuelson said an intrastate airline could not handle all of the travel represented by those claims, but he expressed belief it would substantially reduce travel costs.

He said, too, it would prove particularly valuable in transporting high-salaried state officials more quickly, thus reducing the time they would be away from their desks.

"This would amount to something of a subsidy," the governor said of his proposal.

He said probably four planes would be needed and he said the plan would require regular travel schedules.

"We're not thinking of interstate travel," Samuelson said. "This is taken care of adequately. We're thinking of such travel as from Idaho Falls to Coeur d'Alene, for example.

"At present you can go to Florida and back quicker than you can make a round trip by commercial airline between Idaho Falls and Lewiston."

In regular business the board approved a request from State Treasurer Marjorie R. Moon that she be authorized to reinvest $2 million in idle state money which will become available during 1968. The money now is invested in long-term securities which will mature during the year.

Air Force Defends Pilot Over Crash

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP)—The Air Force believes the Canadian pilot of an F4D jet tried to guide the fighter toward an unpopulated area before ejecting seconds before it crashed into the rear of a shopping center, killing at least four.

Tucson police and firemen said Tuesday the fact that more than 50 people were not burned to death is a near miracle. More than 50 people are believed to have been in the Food Giant supermarket when the flames from 17,000 gallons of jet fuel whooshed through the store Monday night. Three of the shoppers died and five were injured. Another five firemen received treatment for smoke inhalation.

Brig. Gen. Ralph Taylor, commander of the U.S. Air Force Tactical Fighter Weapons Center at Nellis Air Force Base, Nev., said that Royal Canadian Air Force Flight Lt. Jack R. Hamilton encountered his problem at the worst possible time — immediately after takeoff.

"The plane was not yet high enough to do any maneuvering; it was in the critical phase of the flight," Taylor said.

"We believe he tried to turn toward a dark area to the right, possibly a golf course."

Witnesses said Hamilton left the plane at the last possible second, his chute opening seconds before he hit the ground.

Hamilton and his navigator, U.S. Air Force Capt. Gary L. Hughes, were hospitalized at Davis-Monthan Air Force Base. Hamilton's plane was one of four that took off from Davis-Monthan, apparently on a return flight to Nellis AFB. The plane hit about a mile northwest of the end of the runway.

FDR To Replace Washington As Most Seen On Stamps

By STEPHEN M. AUG
WASHINGTON (AP)—Franklin D. Roosevelt will replace George Washington as the face most seen on U.S. postage stamps when the cost of mailing a letter goes from 5 to 8 cents next Jan. 7.

The Post Office Department made public Tuesday the designs of five new stamps in connection with the increase, but the present brown 6-cent stamp bearing FDR's profile remains unchanged.

The Roosevelt stamp, issued early in 1968 as part of the "Famous American series," now will become the basic U.S. postage stamp, replacing the George Washington 5-cent stamp.

The Bureau of Engraving and Printing produced 16,871,932,000 George Washington stamps in the last fiscal year out of a total of about 24 billion stamps of all kinds.

Postal officials told newsmen at a briefing on the postal rate increase voted by Congress that the stamp honoring Roosevelt, a Democrat, simply succeeded to the position of the most commonly used stamp—and it was not by design.

Washington has been on the 5-cent stamp since 1963 when the letter rate went from 4 to 5 cents. FDR replaced Theodore Roosevelt on the 6-cent stamp in 1966.

Washington has been on more stamps than any other president, and traditionally, though not always, he has been on the basic letter rate stamp. During the 4-cent days, from 1958 to 1963, Abraham Lincoln was the most familiar face, and under the 3-cent rate from 1954 to 1958 it was Thomas Jefferson.

Although the 6-cent Roosevelt stamp remains the same, the department plans to issue five new stamps as a result of the rate increase.

These include a 6-cent stamped envelope bearing the head of the Statue of Liberty; a triangular picture of an airplane on a 10-cent stamp air mail envelope; a new 10-cent air mail stamp showing 50 stars against a white background; a 1-cent green stamp honoring Thomas Jefferson, and a 5-cent postal card with Abraham Lincoln's likeness.

Effective Jan. 7 first class letters will go up from 5 cents to 6 cents an ounce, air mail from 8 to 10 cents an ounce, postal cards from 4 to 5 cents each, and air mail cards from 8 to 10 cents each.

Ralph W. Nicholson, assistant postmaster general in charge of finance and administration, said the postal deficit will drop from $644 million this year to $478 million in 1968. He predicted it would be $415 million in 1969 and $438 million in 1970.

Well Armed

Shortly after receiving an Oregon broadcast on a man wanted for bank robbery in that area, and reported armed with one or two guns, officers in the Twin Falls Sheriff's department were advised that a man was walking along the highway carrying two guns.

Two teen-age girls had seen the man and reported him to their father, who, in turn, called the sheriff's office.

On investigating, officers learned a local resident had run out of gasoline, and was walking in search of assistance. Not wanting to leave his guns in his pickup truck, he was taking them along.

Appointed

BURLEY — Clyde J. Condie has been appointed representative for the United Farm Agency in Burley and the surrounding territory, President V. R. Langford announced from the firm's national headquarters in Kansas City, Mo.

United is one of the nation's largest brokers of rural and suburban real estate and has more than 400 local offices in 31 states throughout the country. The local office is located on 5th Street North and Overland Avenue.

Attorney Is Convicted Of 2 Murders

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Suspended Deputy Dist. Atty. Jack Kirschke was convicted on two counts of first degree murder Tuesday in the gunshot slayings of his wife and her alleged lover.

A jury of six men and six women, who began deliberating last Thursday after a trial of nearly four months, next will meet anew to fix the penalty—death or life imprisonment.

Kirschke, 46, was accused of killing in anger his wife, fashion designer Elaine Terry Kirschke, 43, and engineer Orville "Bill" Drankhan, 41, last April 8 as they lay embraced on a bed in the Kirschke apartment at Naples, a suburb of nearby Long Beach. She was partially nude.

Each was shot in the head. Jurors spent about 23 hours in actual deliberations. They buzzed a few minutes after noon that they had reached a verdict. It was announced when court convened shortly after 2 p.m.

Superior Judge Kathleen Parker ordered the jury to return Jan. 8 to determine the penalty.

The graying, raw-boned Kirschke shook his head slowly after hearing the verdict and, to some observers, he appeared to sob silently.

Later the defendant, who before the trial was himself a prosecutor, told newsmen, "I'm sure the jury was conscientious and attentive but juries sometimes make mistakes."

EAST WAITS WRONG GUESS

Boris Raymond of New York did not have the time to play in many national tournaments, but in the metropolitan area he was known as one of our very best players. The Eastern Open at all popular in the West because he liked to pass pretty big hands and back in later, but no one could find any fault with his technique of dummy play and defense.

Boris held the East cards in today's hand. He had no problems in the bidding and his play of the diamond seven at trick one was automatic.

South had no problems in the early play. He went right up with dummy's ace of diamonds, drew trumps with three leads and ran off the heart suit in order to discard two diamonds and a club from his own hand.

Boris did not have any discarding problem, but he did a little counting while South was running the heart suit. South had five heart tricks, four spades of his own, plus the fourth spade in dummy to ruff a club with.

The ace of diamonds gave him an 11th trick. South needed a club to make his contract, so when eventually South led the jack of clubs from dummy, Boris played a low club.

South finally had a problem and guessed wrong. He played low. West made his queen and the contract was beaten.

Pairs is just another Regional today but it is the oldest contract tournament, and the list of winners includes most of the great old-timers as well as many of the younger generation.

When Oswald Jacoby won for the fourth time in 1954, it was thought that this record would stand up, but Boris, who had not played in it till then, tied that record when he won it four times, including 1966 and 1967. His untimely death last month undoubtedly stopped him from winning it again, since Boris seemed to be almost unbeatable in this event.

Boris had a distinct bidding style that wouldn't have been

We Would Like Your Opinions

We've a letter today that, we feel, is important to all of you. Read it, and then if inspiration strikes, write your answer. We're not interested this time, in the opinion of anyone past high school age.

Dear Ele and Walt: We are writing to you about marijuana. While it is known that marijuana is illegal, we have many friends who get their kicks by smoking "grass." We don't know how they are able to obtain it, but there seems to be no problem as long as they have the money to pay for it.

At first we thought nothing of it. We had always thought that this would be just a passing fancy, nothing more, and that in time, they'd soon tire of blowing their minds and kick the habit. But the habit has continued for more than a year now, and there are no signs that they intend to give up smoking grass. It's hard to determine whether they just enjoy it or they just can't give it up.

What do we do? — Concerned Friends.

OK, that's the letter. The young authors are deeply concerned. Prime points to consider in framing an answer: (a) the writers do not believe in the use of marijuana; (b) the "high" friends are not only using it themselves, but encouraging others to join the grass team; and (c) if the authors were caught in the company of marijuana smokers, they could land in serious trouble.

Whatever your stand on marijuana, if you're under 18, we'd like to read your answer to "Concerned Friends." You can share it by writing us in care of this newspaper.

Want help planning ahead? Ele and Walt Dulaneys will send you their Timetable Newsletter, suggesting a schedule for dating, going steady and growing some time, but we can't seem up, if you'll send a dime and a stamp, self-addressed envelope, to them in care of this newspaper.

Army Spec. 4 William D. Murphy has arrived home for the holidays after being discharged. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald M. Murphy, 119 Polk St. He is a graduate of Twin Falls High School and attended the University of Idaho before joining the Army.

Robert E. Grace, son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Grace, Halley, is en route to Vietnam for duty. He enlisted in the Army in July and underwent basic training at Fort Lewis, Wash. He trained for two months in Missouri and has just completed a 20-day leave at home with his family.

Obesity

RALEIGH, N.C. (AP) — North Carolina's entry in the heaviest turkey contest has gobbled himself to death. In a letter to Gov. Dan Moore, State Agriculture Commissioner James A. Graham said: "It becomes my regrettable duty to inform you that our entry for the national heaviest turkey contest is deceased. The winner of the weigh-in ceremony held at the North Carolina State Fair died from obesity."

Dinner Party Is Held By BPW

Annual Christmas dinner was held by the Twin Falls Business and Professional Women's Club Sunday night at the Senior Citizens hall.

The Twin Falls High School chorus sang several seasonal numbers. They were introduced by Mrs. Elna Olson, music chairman.

Rev. Henry Gernhardt, Twin Falls, spoke on the meaning of Christmas.

Food, clothing, bedding and household articles were brought and delivered to a needy family which the club has adopted for the year.

Wanda Widener and Mrs. Alberta Knight were co-chairmen of the dinner.

Mail Handling Record Is Set

More than one million pieces of mail were handled by the local post office during the week of Dec. 9-15, according to Fred Sanger, Twin Falls postmaster.

Mr. Sanger said this is the first time the local office has handled that volume of mail in a one-week span. The total of incoming and outgoing mail for that period was 1,184,349.

The total incoming and outgoing mail handled between Nov. 18 and Dec. 15 was 3,424,662, Mr. Sanger noted.

Auto Sales In 1968 Expected To Top Nine Million Mark

By CHARLES C. CAIN AP Business Writer DETROIT (AP)—The top four men in the auto industry agreed today that new car sales in 1968 would top the nine million mark.

Year-end predictions of the four board chairmen—Henry Ford II of Ford Motor Co.; James M. Roche of General Motors; Lynn A. Townsend of Chrysler and Roy D. Chapin Jr. of American Motors—followed pretty much the same pattern. They said this year's sales would wind up at about 8.4 million cars in the U.S. market.

Ford was the most optimistic as he foresaw a 9.3 million car year—just about equal to the record year of 1965—for next year. Ford attached a big "if" to his prediction, namely that no federal income tax increase would be put into effect by early January.

Roche and Townsend predicted sales would be over nine million but neither would get any more specific. Chapin settled on a forecast of a 9.1 to 9.2 million car sales year.

Chapin predicted his firm—American Motors—would up its sales to 300,000 next year compared with the 240,000 sales it chalked up in 1967. AMC officials said previously that 300,000 was the breakeven point in their auto operations.

Twin Falls Times-News A-7 Dec. 20-21-1967

With trucks and imports included, Roche anticipates total sales in the U.S. next year will amount to 10.7 million cars and trucks, which would be the highest total ever.

Such a development, he said, will depend on several things, including concern about Vietnam and the cost of the war, "questions of government expenditures, taxes and fiscal policy," and whatever eventual results English devaluation of the pound sterling may have.

Idaho Man Testifies At His Trial

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP)—Gerald Wilson, a Lewiston, Idaho businessman charged with receiving stolen government property, testified at his U. S. District Court trial here Tuesday that aircraft parts he bought came from successful bids for government property.

Wilson, 42, a Lewiston aviation company official, said he met a San Antonio government surplus property dealer in 1959. He said the man, Allen Gary Kane, offered to be a middle man for shipment of aircraft parts from Kelly Air Force Base here.

Wilson said the parts were acquired through successful bids. Kane is under indictment for conspiracy in connection with stolen government property. He testified in the trial last week that Wilson knew aircraft parts he was buying were stolen from Kelly.

In testimony Monday, Jack J. Strelbick of Lewiston and W.M. Lennington of Vancouver, Wash., testified that they knew Wilson and that he had a good reputation for honesty and fair dealing.

The government rested its case Monday.

Solon Flays Wheeler For Statement

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. George McGovern, D-S.D., sharply criticized Gen. Earle G. Wheeler Tuesday for, as McGovern put it, "blaming Hanoi's refusal to surrender on American critics of U.S. Vietnam policy."

The senator, a critic of the Vietnam war, said a recent statement by Wheeler, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff is "both irresponsible and irrelevant."

"The Pentagon and State Department are running out of excuses, so now they are blaming the failure of their policy on those who warned all along that it wouldn't work," McGovern said in a statement.

Wheeler, in a Detroit speech Sunday, said Americans have a right to dissent "but they also have a responsibility to recognize and acknowledge what their dissent means."

He declared: "The single most important factor prolonging the war is Hanoi's calculation that there is a reasonable possibility of a change in U.S. policy before the ultimate collapse of the Viet Cong manpower base and infrastructure."

Retires After 40 Years

TOPEKA, Kan. (AP) — Sen. Frank Carlson, R-Kan., who never lost an election, said Tuesday his 40th year in public office will be his last.

Carlson who will be 75 next month, said he won't seek reelection in 1968 and will return to live as a private citizen in Kansas, where he operated a farm until his election to the Kansas House in 1928.

His decision opened for office-seekers in Kansas political doors leading to the Senate, one or more seats in Congress, possibly the governorship and other lesser offices.

"I think now is the time for this senator to yield," Carlson said in announcing he will retire at the end of his present term.

Carlson, the son of Swedish immigrants, said at a breakfast meeting his career in public office was the realization of "the American Dream."

He served in the Kansas House for two terms, the U.S. House of Representatives for six terms, nearly two terms as governor and is serving his third regular term in the Senate. He also served part of an unexpired term.

LEGAL ADVERTISEMENTS

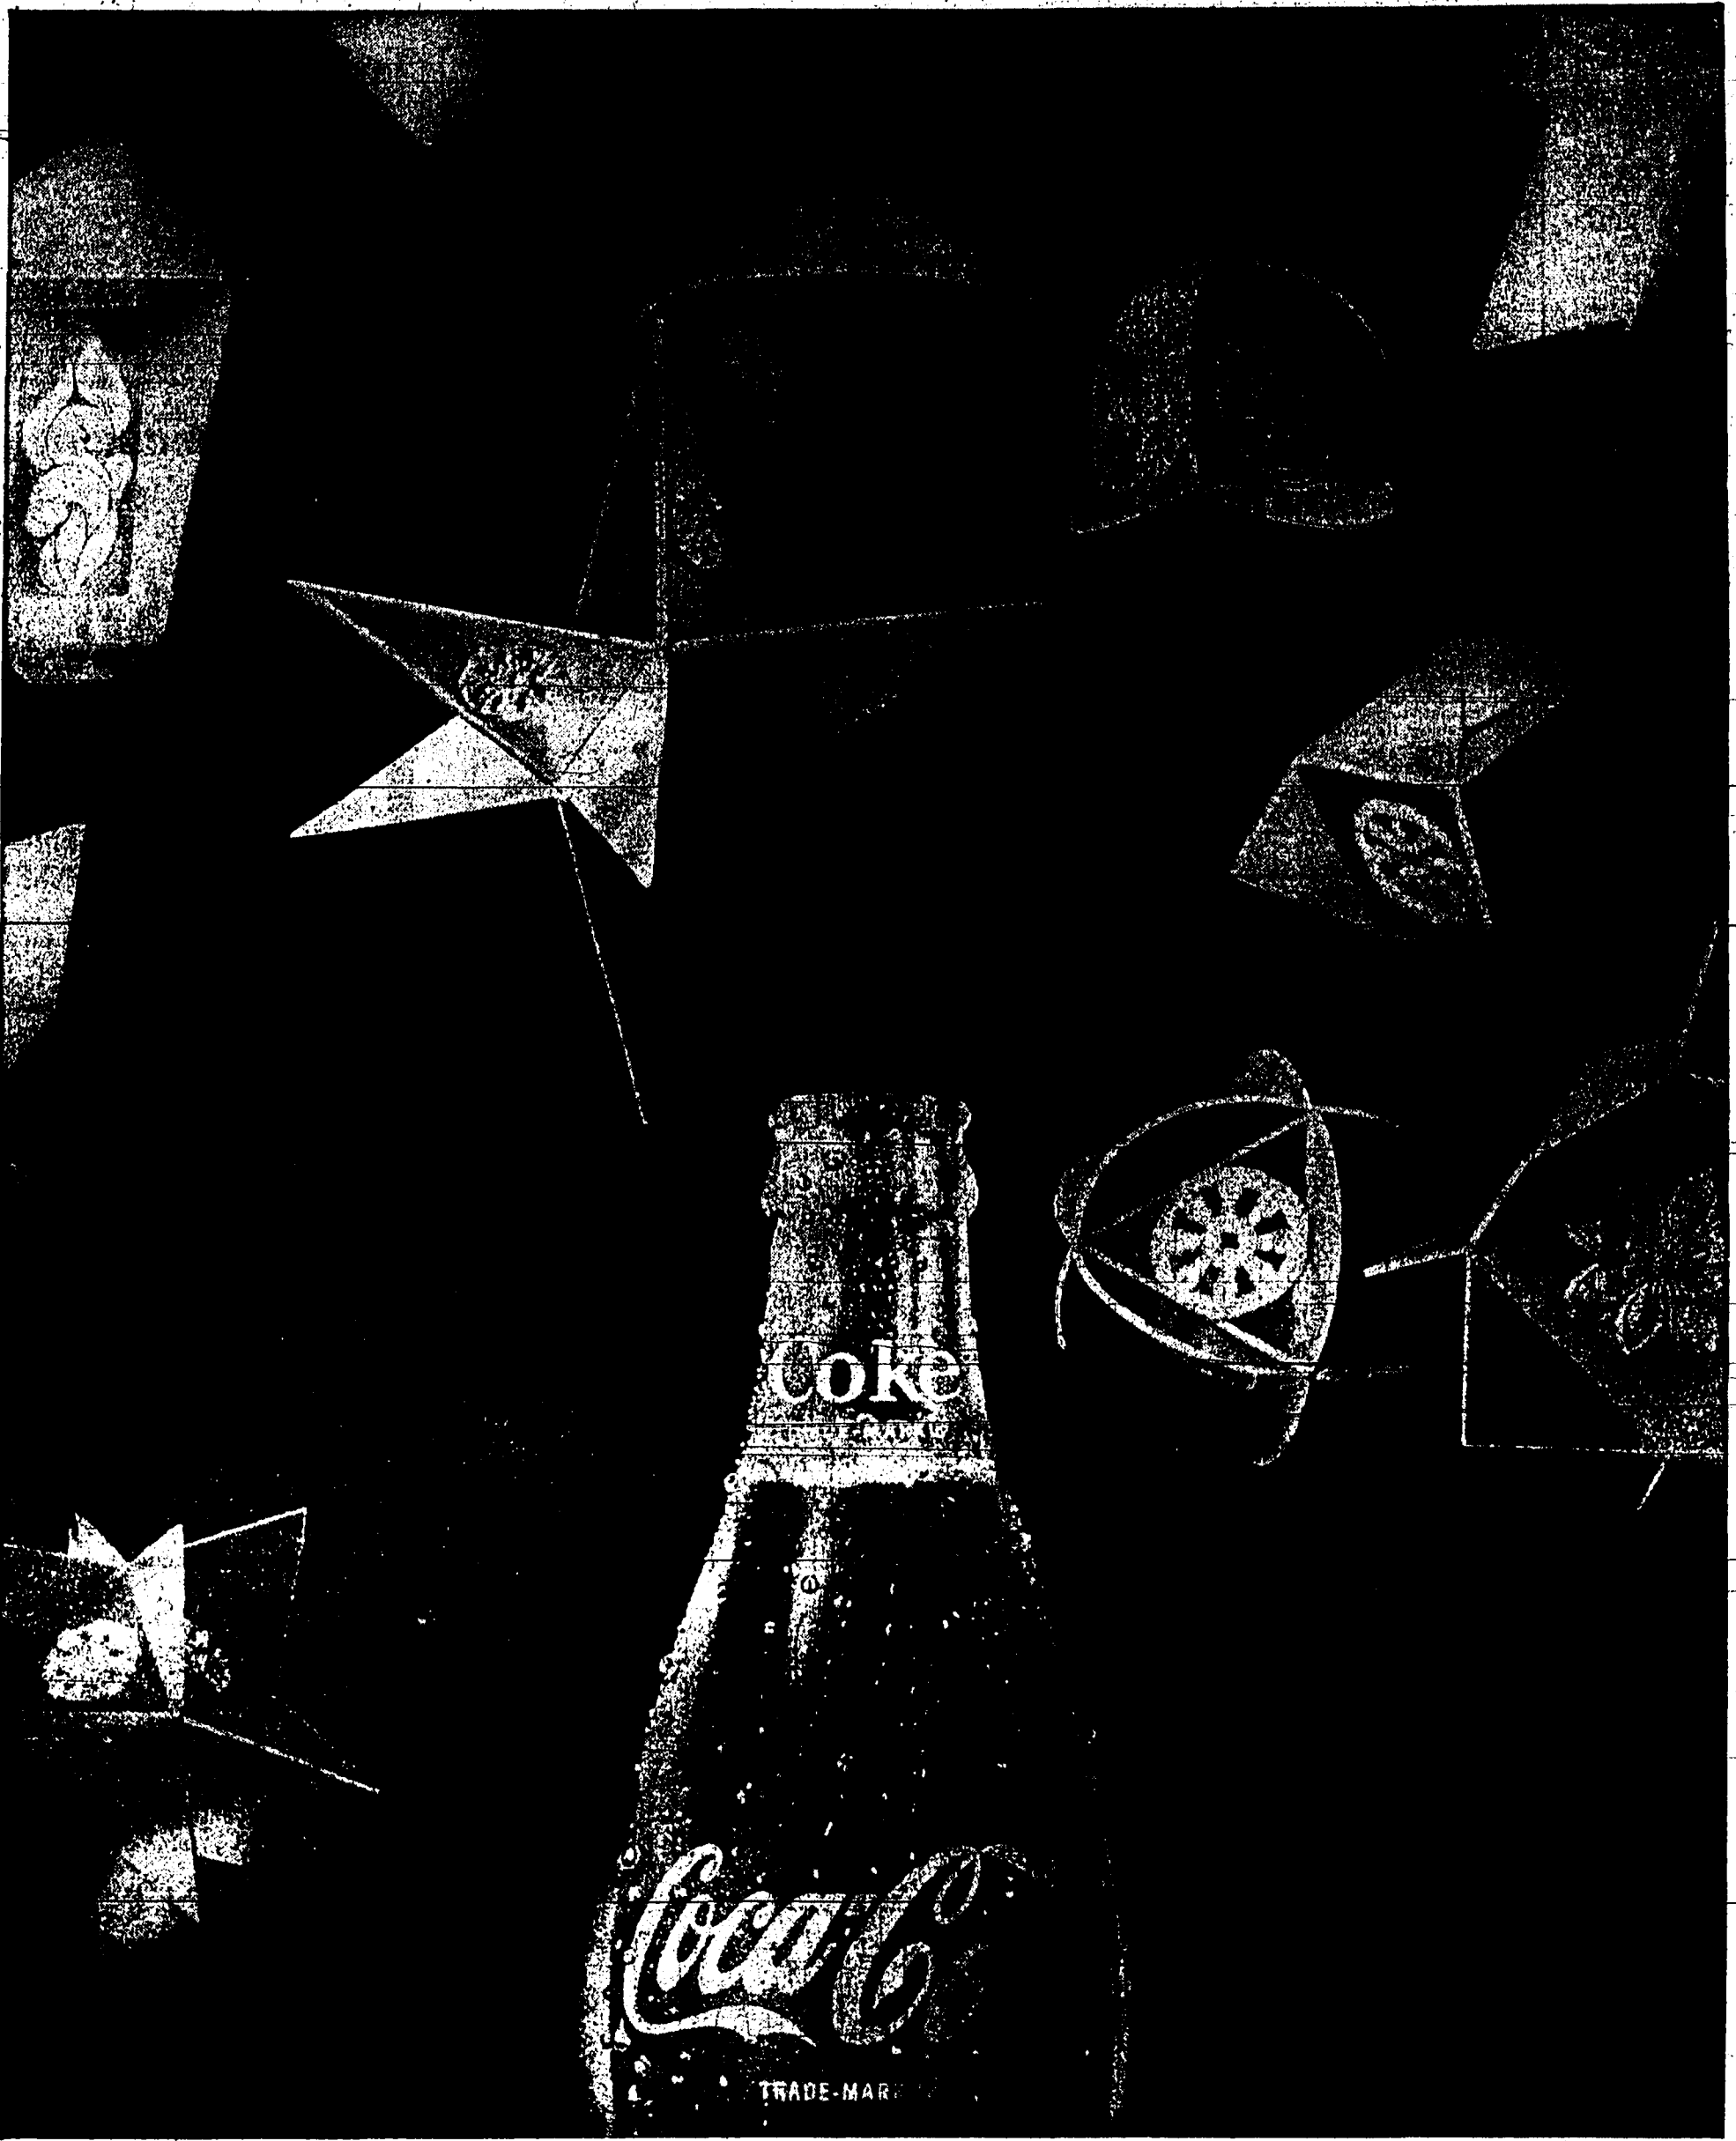

COLLEGE OF SOUTHERN IDAHO JUNIOR COLLEGE DISTRICT NOTIFICATION TO BIDDERS

The College of Southern Idaho Junior College District does hereby invite bids for furnishing the College with the following described equipment for office use and instruction:

- One—typing-accounting machine equipped with the following features:
 1. Control Console—carriage and programming of function controls to be positioned in 1-10th inch increments (1-10th inch tabulation).
 2. Typewriter Section—unit (box) typewriter for printing mechanism to contain 84 characters of type.
 3. Carriage Section — twenty-two (22) inch motor driven carriage.
 4. Programming — to be accomplished by means of 4-way control panel located in rear of machine, so as not to interfere with insertion or removal of forms. Control panel with selector knobs to provide: (a) For a minimum of four (4) distinct and separate jobs, with the ability to change from job to job by merely turning the selector knob; (b) Capability of programming instructions 1-10th inch apart; (c) Programmed control of carriage opening, carriage movement (tabulation, skip, and return), form spacing, repeat of machine operation or repeat of machine operation and keyboard, red ribbon shift, and nine-position print control.

Said bids shall be submitted in person or by mail to the Business Office of the College, 148 Third Avenue E., P. O. Box 1228, Twin Falls, Idaho 83421, by 4:00 P.M., Wednesday, December 20, 1967. The College reserves the right to reject any or all bids; awarding the contract for purchase will be subject to the approval of the Board of Trustees.
