Johnson And Thieu Have Talk

CANBERRA, Australia (AP) — President Nguyen Van Thieu of South Vietnam met here tonight with President Johnson and publicly agreed that Johnson's latest suggestions for promoting peace in Vietnam "were fully consistent" with the policy of his government.

Johnson and Thieu issued a joint statement following a working dinner which sought to dispel any idea the two leaders were in conflict over possible informal talks with representatives of the Viet Cong's National Liberation Front.

The joint statement said Thieu "reaffirmed willingness to discuss relevant matters with any individuals now associated with the so-called National Liberation Front, while making it clear that his government could not regard the front as an independent organization in any sense."

Johnson, in a taped television interview in Washington Tuesday, said "I have said that I think the war can be stopped in a matter of days if President Thieu's suggestion that he informally talk with members of the NLF are carried out, and if they would agree to what they have already agreed to in the 1954 accords and 1962 accords, and other points I mentioned—like one man, one vote under the present constitutional government."

Thieu was interpreted as taking a countercourse to Johnson's in the remarks he made on his departure from Saigon for Australia, where the two leaders have joined others to attend memorial rites Friday for Prime Minister Harold E. Holt, lost in a weekend swimming accident.

Johnson received assurances from Australia's interim prime minister that its pro-American Vietnam policy won't change.

Valley School District Gets High Rating

EDEN - HAZELTON — Dr. Thomas Utterback, superintendent of the local school district, said Thursday recent National Education Association ratings given his schools were "misleading."

He said a misunderstanding arose when the school was given 12 inferior ratings by a task force of local school officials. The 12 were out of a possible 123 ratings. The school district also got 59 superior ratings, 28 above average and 20 average.

"The 12 inferior ratings could not be helped, here or in any other school in the state. There is no black and white in the way a rating is given," he said.

He added: "The inferior ratings are given because of a lack of a 13th and 14th year of high school, lack of data processing equipment and so on. Few schools, if any, have these facilities," he said.

Dr. Utterback said his school district was "above average compared with every other school in the United States, based on the way these ratings are given out."

The ratings were based on the National Education Association's Profiles of Excellence.

New District 26 Senator Named

BOISE (AP)—Appointment of John C. Anderson, 38, Ariz., as Idaho State Senator for District 26 was announced Thursday by Gov. Don W. Samuelson.

Anderson replaces J. Burns Beal, Moore, who resigned to accept appointment to the Public Utilities Commission.

Both men are Republicans. Anderson is employed as an administrative coordinator by Phillips Petroleum Co. at the National Reactor Testing Station.

He said the hope is based on the possibility that redemption of the forest fire fighting deficiency warrants might be delayed and the indication that the bill for federal assistance in fire fighting will be slow in coming.

But he said that hope is overbalanced by the need to provide more money for future emergencies.

The governor said a decision on the special session likely will be reached when he confers Jan. 6 with legislative leaders: He said if it is decided it is necessary the session probably will be called for about Jan. 15 to 20.

Earlier, the governor had indicated the session might be delayed until February, in anticipation of receiving word from the federal government as to how much it expects Idaho to pay for the assistance it gave in controlling last summer's widespread forest fires.

BURNED OUT OF his home Thursday morning, Harold Vance sifts through debris here to find cash and checks in his house when it caught fire. The fire, at 1855 Osterloh Ave., started at 7:45 a.m. Mr. Vance, his wife and five of their children were forced to flee another home two weeks ago because of fire.

Twin Falls Family Burned Out Of Second House In Two Weeks

A Twin Falls family of seven burned out of their home two weeks ago, suffered another loss Thursday when fire broke out in their borrowed home and destroyed all their belongings, including about $250 in cash and checks.

Harold Vance, upset over the loss, watched his temporary home at 1855 Osterloh—burned while firemen attempted to extinguish the roaring flames.

Firemen managed to have the fire out within minutes of arrival, but damage was extensive. The two-story structure was gutted.

Two trucks responded, one returned to the station in an hour and the second remained another hour. The fire started at 7:45 a.m.

The home was occupied by Mr. Vance, his wife, and three daughters and two sons. Another son is at college.

Just two weeks ago fire broke out in the rear of the Vance home, which is next to the house that burned Thursday. The family was forced to move, as the first fire had destroyed a bathroom, kitchen and bedroom and burned through the wall and roof.

Mr. Vance said cause of the second blaze is unknown. The house that burned Thursday is owned by a brother, Floyd Vance.

Firemen helped Mr. Vance sift through charred remains of clothing to try and find the money in the house. Mr. Vance, firemen said, was able to recover some bills and coins, but Mr. Vance estimated his loss at about $250 in cash and checks.

The money had been borrowed for repairs on the first home. Neighbors chipped in to help the family, but a plea went out from friends for clothing, food, bedding and shoes for the children.

Mr. Vance and his family were offered shelter at the Seventh-day Adventist Church until Mr. Vance's original home can be repaired, which will be in about a week.

"They'll get a Christmas, but they sure need help," a neighbor who refused to be identified, said.

Donations may be given to the Vance family through the Seventh-day Adventist Church.

Tornadoes Hit Missouri Towns Leaving 3 Dead

By THOMAS K. HARVEY
POTOSI, Mo. (AP) — A line of tornadoes skipped across Missouri and Arkansas early Thursday leaving death, injury and thousands of dollars damage in their wake.

Potosi was hardest hit. The Missouri Highway Patrol reported three dead here and the Washington County Civil Defense said it has counted 39 injured. At least 18 of the injured were treated at Washington County hospital in Potosi, then transferred to Bonne Terre because there was no electric power in Potosi.

Six to eight persons were injured slightly at Fort Smith, Ark., and two at nearby Van Buren, Ark.

Ten business establishments and 20 homes in Potosi were heavily damaged and another dozen homes received some damage.

Just north of Potosi, two trailers were ripped apart and six others were damaged. At least 10 homes north of the mining town also were damaged.

In the area of East Main Street in Potosi, the city hall was heavily damaged and the Arkansas and Missouri Power and Light Co. building and Jarvis A and G store were demolished. Also damaged were the Washington County Welfare Office, Carmillo Insurance Co., Plaza Laundry, Loomes Drug Store, two doctors' offices, and the Washington County Library, all in a shopping center.

Dead were identified as Julia Hunter, 9, who lived in a trailer court at Potosi, and Jess Haggard and his wife, Hester, both about 65, who lived two miles northeast of Potosi on rural route E.

Mrs. Helen Irvin, former civil defense worker in Washington County, said it hit the east end of Potosi, a town of 3,000 75 miles southwest of St. Louis. It destroyed all but one building in a shipping center and wrecked four homes on Lilac Drive, she said.

An electric clock at Civil Defense Headquarters in Potosi stopped at 1:17 a.m.

Two homes were reported destroyed at Rover, Mo., south and east of Willow Springs at about the same time.

The Hunter girl's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Hunter and two other Hunter children, Joyce, 6, and mortem indicated the patient died of a severe localized infection of the lungs.

Dr. Marthinus C. Botha, a pathologist, also said at this stage there is no clear evidence that rejection played a part in the outcome of the operation.

Barnard and Botha appeared at the news conference with cardiologist Prof. Velva Schrire, pathologist R.J.G. Thomson and cardiologist Dr. A. Forster.

A statement issued to the press shortly before the news conference said: "Clinically the cause of death was respiratory failure due to bilateral pneumonia. This was confirmed at post-mortem by Prof. J. G. Thomson."

Asked if he considered Washkansky's death "negated the experiment" Barnard replied,

"Firstly, I would not consider it an experiment—it was a treatment for a sick patient."

"The problem of infection was loaded against the surgical team," he said.

Washkansky had an infected leg and diabetes.

Thomson said that had pneumonia not played a part there was the possibility Washkansky would have lived for a few years.

The post-mortem showed Washkansky had sustained an unusually heavy attack of pneumonia, he said.

In cases of heart disease there were changes in the liver, but the post-mortem on Washkansky showed the new heart had restored his liver to normal.

The post-mortem examination had been largely a visual one and more tests would be made to examine all Washkansky's organs microscopically, the doctors said.

Prof. Schrire told the news conference there had been no circulatory trouble. The heart stood up remarkably well until the point of death, he said.

The anesthetist, Dr. J. Ozinsky, said both Washkansky's lungs were affected by patches of pneumonia caused by a very virulent form of germ.

The infection had spread below the chest "in a small way" but Washkansky was otherwise "as clean as a whistle," the doctor said.

Ozinsky said the post mortem vindicated the principle of heart transplants.

Lung Infection Fatal For Heart Patient

By DAVID J. PAINE
CAPE TOWN, South Africa

(AP) — Prof. Christian N. Barnard said today the death of the world's first heart transplant patient left no evidence that heart transferrals should be discontinued.

Barnard, who performed the heart transplant of Louis Washkansky Dec. 3, said a post-mortem produced no clinical evidence that rejection played a part in the patient's death.

As soon as the occasion arises he will do the next heart transplant, Barnard told a news conference less than eight hours after Washkansky, 53, died in Groote Schuur Hospital.

Earlier Washkansky's anesthetist reported that the transplanted heart worked well until the very end and that the post-mortem indicated the patient died of a severe localized infection of the lungs.

Dr. Marthinus C. Botha, a pathologist, also said at this stage there is no clear evidence that rejection played a part in the outcome of the operation.

Supplies Are Dropped To Navajo People

By HOWARD GRAVES
WINDOW ROCK, Ariz. (AP)

Medical cases and food drops were priority missions today as helicopters reached farther over the snow-choked Navajo Reservation to help thousands of Indians.

Pilots said they were trying to reach Navajos at the western limits of the reservation along the Colorado River near Grand Canyon National Park.

"This area has not been touched" by rescue operations after the past week's snow storms, Navajo Police Lt. Herman P. Tsosie said. "There are an estimated 17,000 to 20,000 people in that area."

He said the only long-range military helicopter on the reservation had been kept busy elsewhere and today's mission would be the first to the western edge of the reservation.

Turning Point

ATHENS (AP)—Greece's political crisis appeared today to be reaching a turning point after King Constantine said he would return if the junta announced a firm timetable for restoration of democracy.

The 77-year-old monarch's condition appeared easy for the ruling junta to accept. He called for an "acceptable date" for publication of a new constitution, an early date for a national referendum on it and assurances to the Greek people that they will be able to elect a new government.

Constantine did not stipulate what should be in the constitution, what his powers should be or when the election should be held.

WASHINGTON (AP)—North Vietnam has curtly returned 231 Christmas packages sent by wives and parents to American fighting men held prisoner by Hanoi, the Pentagon announced today.

Daniel Z. Henkin, a member of the Defense Department's Prisoner of War Policy Committee, told newsmen the 231 packages reached North Vietnam through international postal channels and were returned the same way bearing the "court notation," refused by the postal service of North Vietnam.

"The persistent refusal of the Hanoi government to deliver Christmas parcels is another shocking manifestation of callous disregard for the rights of prisoners of war under the Geneva Convention," Henkin said.

Henkin noted the same thing happened last year.

"If there had been hopes that the Hanoi regime would act with humanitarian consideration for the prisoners of war it holds and for their loved ones at this holiday season, these hopes have been dashed," he said.

MAN EXECUTED
TAIPEI, Formosa (AP) — Chen Ching-yuan, 21, was executed by a firing squad Wednesday for stealing gasoline from a Chinese Nationalist air force base in South Formosa, the government announced today.

The real need for the session, he added, could be to replenish the emergency funds. The fire-fighting cost took all of the governor's $250,000 emergency fund plus the $160,000 appropriated for fire suppression.

There has been less pressure for more money for the schools, Samuelson said, since disclosure that the state eventually may be asked to pay the federal government $4 million for fire costs, a sum in excess of the anticipated $3.5 million general fund surplus.

"They are beginning to realize" he said, "that there just isn't going to be any money."

SPEAKERS AT A meeting of the Committee of Nine District No. 36 meeting at the Ponderosa Inn, Burley, Tuesday were Norman H. Moore, left, assistant regional director of the Bureau of Reclamation, and Ed Neal, Boise, superintendent of the Irrigation division. Both men are from Boise. Problems of stream pollution and the water outlook for 1968 were discussed.

Blame For Pollution Concerns Irrigators

BURLEY — "Our problem as such a project will be carried out as funds are available

The speaker asked that any information obtained by irrigation district personnel concerning water quality be sent to the Bureau of Reclamation where it will be processed and used to provide periodic summaries.

"It is important that we learn just how irrigation affects water quality," he declared.

"We feel that orderly, economic investigation will establish the facts, determine corrections, if any are required, and maintain the image of irrigation as a community and national benefactor," Mr. Moore stated.

H. Eagle, Idaho Falls, Snake River watermaster, reported the outlook for the 1968 irrigation season is good, with snow cover in the watersheds presently slightly below normal, but it is believed all reservoirs will fill.

T. Gulley, Burley, Bureau of Reclamation, reported that reservoirs hold more than 50 percent storage and the project storage river water is four million acre feet.

A progress on repair work at Minidoka Dam was given by Jim Skiles, civil engineer and chief maintenance and construction official.

The Bureau of Reclamation operating budget for 1968 was presented by Glenn Simmons, Burley, superintendent of the Minidoka project. Because of increases in costs, the budget shows a larger increase than any previous year, he noted.

The Committee of Nine will meet March 4 at Idaho Falls.

Governor Has Hope Of Avoiding Special Session

By EARLE L. JESTER
BOISE (AP) — Gov. Don W. Samuelson said today he has some hope — but not much — that a special session of the Idaho Legislature early next year can be avoided.

He said the hope is based on the possibility that redemption of the forest fire fighting deficiency warrants might be delayed and the indication that the bill for federal assistance in fire fighting will be slow in coming.

But he said that hope is overbalanced by the need to provide more money for future emergencies.

The governor said a decision on the special session likely will be reached when he confers Jan. 6 with legislative leaders: He said if it is decided it is necessary the session probably will be called for about Jan. 15 to 20.

Earlier, the governor had indicated the session might be delayed until February, in anticipation of receiving word from the federal government as to how much it expects Idaho to pay for the assistance it gave in controlling last summer's widespread forest fires.

Earlier, the governor had indicated the session might be delayed until February, in anticipation of receiving word from the federal government as to how much it expects Idaho to pay for the assistance it gave in controlling last summer's widespread forest fires.

Now Samuelson said it is unlikely the bill can be received in time to permit a thorough audit and yet permit consideration at a special session in either January or February. In that event, he said, the bill likely will be held for the regular session in January, 1968.

Deficiency warrants now outstanding total about $140,000, with indications about $30,000 more must be issued, Samuelson said.

He said he has had indications the banks would be pleased to carry the warrants—which draw 6 per cent interest—for some time. The interest cost on the $170,000 worth of warrants, Samuelson said, would be less than the probable cost of a special session.

The real need for the session, he added, could be to replenish the emergency funds. The fire-fighting cost took all of the governor's $250,000 emergency fund plus the $160,000 appropriated for fire suppression.

Tornadoes

Another tornado touched down six miles south of Gainesville in Ozark County southwest of Potosi near the Arkansas line about midnight. The sheriff's office said it damaged outbuildings and trees, but there were no injuries.

The tornado struck as thunderstorms and high winds lashed widely scattered sections.

The patrol said a tornado damaged 15 to 18 homes, destroyed several barns and other farm buildings and knocked down power and telephone lines late Wednesday night between Willow Springs and Burnham in extreme southern Missouri. Several persons were reported injured, none seriously.

Today a tornado hit near the communities of Viburnum and Bixby in the Clark National Forest. The patrol said at least four persons were injured, one at Bixby and three at Viburnum. Several homes were damaged, power lines and trees downed.

The Weather Bureau said communities suffering damage are located on a line extending from southern Missouri northeast toward the Missouri-Illinois border. Potosi is in the center of the largest lead mining district in the world, about 80 miles southwest of St. Louis.

The severe weather reached northeast across Illinois to Rantoul. High winds or a possible tornado took the roof off a night club and bowling alley near Jerseyville, about 40 miles northeast of St. Louis.

Synopsis, Farm Summary

Pressures are rising in the western states today; the deep pressure trough and coldest air moves eastward out of this area. Warmer air moving in from the coast at upper levels will stabilize the air over the Northern Intermountain Region with conditions becoming more favorable for night and morning fog. The air will continue moist enough to keep skies mostly cloudy with occasional light snow mostly over and along the mountains today and Friday in Southern Idaho and Eastern Oregon.

Temperatures this afternoon will be about the same as yesterday in most sections and a little colder north and east of Idaho Falls. Western sections will not be quite as cold tonight and a gradual moderating trend will affect all sections Friday. The extended outlook indicates further moderation in temperatures Saturday through Monday with some increase in southerly to westerly winds, mostly cloudy skies and light snow at times. As the air warms there will be some risk of freezing rain in the lower valleys.

Most of Southern Idaho was 5 to 10 degrees colder yesterday. Rexburg was 17 degrees colder with a high of only 13. Most sections were colder last night. In the west lows ranged from 5 below at Ontario to 8 above at Boise, in Magic Valley from zero at Rupert to 11 above at Burley and Buhl, and in the east from 19 below zero at the Atomic Energy site, 10 below at Rexburg and 5 below at Grace to 9 above at Pocatello. Snowfall was mostly light and scattered with moisture amounts from traces to .05 of an inch. Two inches of very light, fluffy snow was reported at Rexburg.

West Coast Aide Defends Gem Service

BOISE (AP) — A spokesman for West Coast Airlines said Wednesday his firm is now "providing intra-state service to the major markets in Idaho."

Don R. Cooper, Boise, Utah-Idaho district manager for the firm, complained about a statement by Gov. Don W. Samuelson that commercial airline service now available required a longer time to travel round trip between Idaho Falls and Lewiston than between Idaho and Florida.

"Our schedules," Cooper said, "are designed to take care of the needs of the masses of people in Idaho."

"You can travel from the state capital to any city we serve in Idaho, conduct a day's business and return home that night. You also can travel from any city we serve in Idaho to the state capital and return to your home city that night."

"But we realize fully that Idaho Falls-to-Lewiston is not a traffic pattern that the masses in Idaho would use."

J. E. ALLRED SR. died of a heart attack Wednesday at the home of his son in Twin Falls.

Heart Attack Is Fatal For J. E. Allred

J. E. Allred Sr., 69, Route 3, Twin Falls, died suddenly Wednesday morning of a heart attack at the home of his son in Twin Falls.

He was born April 10, 1898, at Richfield, Utah. He married Edith Pearl Fillmore Nov. 25, 1915, at Richfield, Utah. Their marriage was solemnized Jan. 9, 1924, at the Salt Lake LDS Temple.

They moved to Twin Falls March 29, 1928, where he had been active in the LDS Church and was engaged in farming until retiring several years ago.

He was a former bishop of the Twin Falls First Ward, former councillor of the Twin Falls LDS Stake Presidency and a former member of the Twin Falls Stake High Council. He had also served as Sunday School superintendent and MIA and was a trustee of the Union School board. He performed more than a hundred marriage ceremonies.

Surviving, besides his widow, are a son, Ernest Allred Jr., Twin Falls; a daughter, Mrs. Kenneth (Maxine) Chapman, Twin Falls; a grandson, Max Chapman, Los Angeles, Calif.; three granddaughters and four great-grandchildren.

Funeral services will be conducted at 2 p.m. Saturday at the Second Ward LDS Chapel on Fourth Avenue North by Bishop Gilbert Anderson. Friends may call until 1:30 p.m. Saturday at White Mortuary Chapel. Final rites will be at Sunset Memorial Park.

Suspect Held Here Awaits Extradition

Henry Alexander Neal, Twin Falls, refused to waive extradition Wednesday afternoon when he appeared in Twin Falls County Probate court on a fugitive warrant from California, charging him with separate counts of burglary and grand theft.

Twin Falls County officers apprehended him Saturday in connection with the theft of nine saddles from the Bakersfield, Calif., area.

Sheriff Paul Corder said Thursday he believes proceedings will be started with the governors of California and Idaho to extradite Neal. In the meantime Neal is in custody in the local county jail in lieu of posting a $5,000 bond.

Robbers

The two men were broadcast throughout the surrounding area.

LaMar Anderson said his two sons, Donald, 17, and Steve, 14, were closing the station at 9:20 p.m. when the two men approached from across the street and asked if they were closed.

"We want something," one of the men told Donald.

When asked what he wanted, the man drew the gun and replied, "All your money."

Mr. Anderson said one of the men remained with Steve, who had just gotten into the automobile to go home, while the other accompanied Donald back into the station to get the money. Loss at the Anderson station was $119, city police reported.

At one point, young Donald said, he was reassured by the robber that he wasn't going to hurt him, although he lifted the hammer on the gun to firing position at two different occasions. The other man, Mr. Anderson said, held a gun on his younger son throughout the ordeal.

Mr. Tomlinson said he was alone at the Conoco station when the two men walked in and drew guns, again demanding all his money. He said the station was open for business at the time but there were no customers.

Earlier Wednesday, local officers were asked to watch for a suspect in an armed robbery in the Boise area. Police said they are unable to say if there is any connection.

Officers said they have no identification on a second suspect in the Twin Falls robbery. He was also described in his late teens or early twenties.

Second Man Charged In Death Probe

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — District Atty. Jim Garrison charged Wednesday that Edgar Eugene Bradley did "wilfully and unlawfully conspire with others to murder John F. Kennedy."

It was a new name and a fresh charge in Garrison's controversial Kennedy assassination probe. Bradley was not identified in the announcement.

The 6-foot-6 district attorney filed a similar charge last March 1 against a wealthy, retired New Orleans businessman, Clay L. Shaw, 54. No trial date has been set in that case.

"Like Clay Shaw, Bradley's name did not come up in the federal 'investigation' of the assassination nor is his name mentioned anywhere in the 26 volumes of the Warren Report 'inquiry' into the case," said Garrison's announcement.

Garrison filed a bill of information naming Bradley as a conspirator in the murder of the President with the Orleans Parish clerk of court's office.

Bradley's name was not listed in either the New Orleans telephone book or the city directory.

Plane Crash In Scotland Claims 13

EDINBURGH, Scotland (AP) — A Royal Air Force reconnaissance plane slammed into a mountain in the misty Scottish highlands today, killing all 13 persons aboard, the RAF reported.

The crash occurred at Lochalort near Mallaig on Scotland's west coast.

The propeller-driven Shackleton was on a routine training mission from Kinloss air base. This was the third Shackleton to crash in the last seven weeks.

The first disappeared into the Indian Ocean at the beginning of November. The second, also from Kinloss, went into the sea off southwest England Nov. 18 with 11 men on board.

Reds Fire Rockets At U. S. Bombers

SAIGON (AP) — Communist missilemen fired three of their Soviet-built rockets Wednesday night at a flight of American B52 bombers attacking Red targets in the demilitarized zone, but all missed, the U.S. Command reported.

Radio Hanoi followed up with a declaration that two of the $8-million craft were shot down today over the Vinh Linh district, just north of the DMZ. The Air Force in Saigon emphatically denied this.

"We have not lost any B52s to hostile action," a spokesman said.

The Wednesday night attack was reported launched from a temporary site about 10 miles above the DMZ.

Zoo officials chose the name from 1,405 entries submitted in a nationwide contest. The winning entry was submitted by a Miami ninth grader, Jackie Edmond.

Aardy is the second aardvark born in captivity, and the first ever in the Western Hemisphere.

Heart Transplant Patient Dies, But Not Idea

By JOHN BARBOUR
AP Science Writer

In the end it was the man who died, but not the idea.

For a time a 53-year-old South African grocer with a falling heart had been given hope, indeed had lived 18 days with a strange new heart beating in his breast, and smiled and talked cautiously about the future.

Then he died, and with him the chance for success in this first attempt to transplant the human heart from one person to another.

The experiment was born out of the desperate frustration of doctors watching the whole man die for want of one healthy organ.

It will be tried again for the same reason.

In the last days, something began to accumulate slowly in the body, in the lungs, of Louis Washkansky. Perhaps it was the mysterious poison of rejection, or the subtle strands of an infection. Doctors are not sure which.

On Dec. 3 in daring surgery they had replaced Washkansky's sick heart with the more vital heart of Denise Ann Davall, 25, an auto accident victim. But now they were powerless to stop the secret forces moving against Washkansky.

The failure points up the gaps in man's knowledge. The doctors know how the heart works, how the blood courses through this vital pump to the lungs to be refreshed, and back through the heart to carry food and to cleanse the distant cells of the body.

They know how to keep a man alive briefly with a heart-lung machine. They know how to take a heart out and place it in another body.

They know that a certain white blood cell called a lymphocyte is a keystone to the body's ability to fight off infection, to build immunity, to reject things foreign. They know that somehow the lymphocyte recognizes protein intruders and mobilizes against them.

They know that the body produces antibodies against germs and against foreign tissues.

They know these antibodies are designed to attack specific targets.

But no one knows just how the immunity forces, the rejection mechanism, work. No one knows just how the body recognizes a transplanted heart or kidney or liver or spleen as a stranger. No one knows for certain whether there are one or many systems at work to protect the body.

The doctors give transplant patients powerful drugs to drive down the immunity forces, to make the body more tolerant although they know that when they do this they are nearly stripping the body of its weapons against even normally harmless infection.

Thus, the body may learn to tolerate its new kidney or heart.

The doctors see strange signs in the lungs and wonder if it is bacteria they can fight with antibiotics, or a fungus, or a virus against which they are powerless.

The lungs, one of the body's filters, become the collecting point of trouble. Here doctors may find blood clots that form elsewhere, or clumps of cells, or slowly accumulating fluids when the heart shows signs of failure.

So it was with Louis Washkansky. If his lungs were infected, the infection did not respond to penicillin.

New Challenges

In a series of landmark civil rights decisions over the past few years, the Supreme Court has steadily progressed

From the courtroom, with rulings that gave indigent defendants free trial transcripts and the right to have legal counsel provided by the state—

To the station house, with a decision requiring that suspects be informed of their constitutional right to silence before they may be questioned—

Until finally it has arrived at the very cop on the beat and entered an entirely new legal thicket.

Four cases now before the court—two from New York, one from Cleveland and one from New Orleans—involve several fundamental questions: "Has a policeman the right, acting just 'on a hunch,' to stop a person on the street and question him as to his reasons for being there?"

At what point does the interrogation turn into an arrest and the "It is my duty to warn you..." business comes into play?

Must a policeman have good reason to believe that a person may do him harm before he may search him? What is good reason?

May evidence found in such a search be used to justify arrest and prosecution?

And how does another decision of the court—the Mapp decision barring the use of evidence found incidentally while police were looking for evidence involving an entirely different matter—apply here?

In the Cleveland case, a detective observed a man acting "suspiciously" in front of a jewelry store. He stopped him, searched him and found a gun. The man was subsequently convicted of carrying a concealed weapon.

In one of the New York cases, acting under that state's "stop-and-frisk" law, police found narcotics in the pocket of a "suspicious" character.

Defense arguments in these cases contend that, in the absence of actually observed criminal activity, the police acted without sufficient cause in depriving the defendants of their protection against unreasonable search and seizure under the Fourth Amendment.

The fact that in these cases police suspicion turned out to be well-founded does not answer the objection that there are hundreds of other stop-and-frisk episodes in which no evidence of criminal activity or intent is found, and that they are an overreaching of police authority and are violations of the right of every citizen to be secure in his person and his effects and his walking abroad.

Yet the cases go beyond Fourth Amendment considerations to touch on a fundamental, though often forgotten, function of a police officer—not just to catch criminals in the act or after the act but to deter them from acting at all.

Supporters of stop-and-frisk point out that the mere knowledge that they may be stopped and questioned at any time puts an effective damper on criminals. Where the police have been aggressive in this preventive function, crime rates have fallen.

It also happens that where they have usually been most aggressive in slum and ghetto neighborhoods, and that those they are usually most aggressive toward are Negroes. This opens up another field of civil rights controversy.

It is indeed a tangled thicket the Supreme Court is entering.

MR. SPECTATOR

All Hail Christmas Cards

Well, by now—like Mr. Spectator—you have probably received your quota of Christmas cards. They are nice, to say the least, and the thought behind them is beautiful.

Only trouble is there's always some joker who thinks he (or she) is so well known that the first name is all that is needed as a signature.

That's right, Mr. Spectator received a card which was signed: "Your friend, George." Now just who is George? Your guess is as good as Mr. Spectator's. Perhaps this George is the guy everybody wants to do their work—you know, the let George do it—but Mr. Spectator will never know. That is unless George comes up and asks if Mr. Spectator got his card!

Come to think of it, Mr. Spectator received one card that carried more punch than the "Dear George" one.

There was no stamp on it—so Mr. Spectator had to pay first class postage (plus) just to get it out of the post office.

And, in closing, let Mr. Spectator point out one more he received. From an old friend—who hadn't written for years! You guessed it—warm greetings on the inside and no return address on the outside—and it was from New York!

And a Merry Christmas to you, too!

JOSEPH

It was well that he was older
And knew what to do
When her great moment came,
"Though his talents were few."
It was well he was older
And knew what to do
When a cruel despot
Slew male babies, new.
It was well he was older
And could follow the way,
As he led the small donkey
Day by weary day.
As she held the Babe Close,
Mayhap Mary's smile
Made his step lighter
—And made shorter, the mile.

HOW ABOUT ACTION?

Dear Mr. Spectator:
There ought to be a law against it! I mean the county treasurer urging people to hurry up and pay their property taxes.
Every day I read another story about how important it is to hurry and get the check in to the treasurer. The paper seems full of this request. Then what happens?
I send mine in. I never get a receipt back. I wonder if she got the check. If I got a receipt back as promptly as I paid my tax I would not have to wonder.

Burdened

Dear Mr. Spectator:
Of course, hurricanes bear girls' names; whoever heard of a male blowhard doing any damage?

Dear Mr. Spectator:
Two pups for free. One of each sex. They would love new homes, and hopefully in the country. They are small dogs and a mixture between a Pomeranian and a "Peke." Call 733-9101 or see at 1136 Addison Avenue East.

Have a small shepherd dog to give away. Is a male and loves children and is not quite one year old. Would prefer a farm or country home. Call 324-4196 at Jerome.

We have two cute little pups and a female Cocker to give away. They are small dogs and love children. They will make wonderful Christmas presents. The mother won't feed them much so we have to find new homes for them. You can see them at the University Experiment Station northeast of Kimberly or you can call 423-5132 and ask for Mike LeBaron.

Have a female black and white dog, five and one-half months old, and also a solid black kitten to give away. Both dog and kitten are gentle. Please call 733-6311 after 7 p.m.

MR. SPECTATOR SAYS:
Of course, hurricanes bear girls' names; whoever heard of a male blowhard doing any damage?

Dear Mr. Spectator:
I spent eight months in the combat zone with a group of men who literally worked themselves to death on humanitarian projects. We built roads, a hospital, dug water wells and did countless acts of civic improvement, such as working with Catholic and Protestant orphanages.

Then, returning to the U.S.A., I find... questions like, 'Are you still burning innocent villages and shooting civilian women and children?'

'I'm sick to death of battlefield experts who have never left home, and of mushy Christians who have never been to an area where to believe in Christ means torture and death. Let them go over and talk to the refugees from China and North Vietnam, and I'll talk with them.'

'May God have mercy on these political and military experts who debate in a classroom and never get more than a hundred miles from home. May God have mercy on us all for condemning so easily and commending so slowly...'

'What frightens me is that our people are not getting a good and true picture of the Vietnamese conflict, even though I'm sure it is the best-covered news event in history. When I tell people... that the Communists... savagely blew up our hospital and maimed our men with ambushes, no wants wants to listen.'

'I hear continued criticism of our presence in Asia and continual harping to withdraw... Why isn't there more condemnation of the raping, looting, burning and the hell the Communists are spreading south of the demilitarized zone?'

'When I tell folks back here about the work the boys are doing there — building, teaching, healing and cleaning — I get a sweet smile, a knowing look, and a reply something like this: 'Oh, yes, it is wonderful what our boys are doing. But don't you think these people are just taking advantage of us, and they really aren't in favor of us being there, and wouldn't they be just as happy and well off under the Communists?'

'The first several times I heard this, I was too surprised to reply. Then I was too mad to talk. Now I want to go into a corner and weep!'

'How stupid can we get? I know that this war is a terrible thing... I know that... Oh, Lord, how well do I know this — as does anyone who has been there for a few months.'

'But how would you like to have someone say to you, 'Let them go, don't help, they will be happy under communism! It's an old truism that if we sit here smugly in our freedom and not help others preserve theirs, we wouldn't have ours very long! We're so smart we know this, but we are so dumb we don't want to do anything about it.'

'There is no doubt in my mind that this is the Good Samaritan Parable War! We've got bruised and bleeding South Vietnamese desperately in need of help. And a lot of Americans fear getting involved by stopping to help. The thing that breaks my heart is that, having been one of the many who did stop and try to help a little, I straighten up and turn around, looking for our church to help — and I don't find it! What's wrong with being on the side of freedom?'

'I think the thing that burns the soul of every soldier is to come home and hear some... denounce our country's policy, and spout off about a war... he has no first-hand knowledge of.'

More people ought to be saying "well-done" to the men we send to Vietnam.

ANDREW TULLY

Today Travel Is Unsafe For Johnson

WASHINGTON — In my occasionally indefatigable search for the truth, I have discovered something that would be considered appalling in a less permissive day. It is that more than a year ago the Secret Service informed President Johnson that it was not safe for him to travel anywhere in the country. Period.

In effect, the President was urged to imprison himself in the White House. Otherwise, he was told, there could be no reasonable guarantee of his safety.

At the risk of being labeled old fashioned, I think I will classify this state of affairs as appalling. If the politicians are still counting votes, they should at least take cursory notice of a situation without parallel since Abraham Lincoln journeyed from Illinois to Washington to be inaugurated. So far as I know, it is a situation which exists in no other country generally regarded as civilized in even the hippie sense of the word.

Lyndon Johnson, of course, felt he could not accede completely to the Secret Service's urgings. He has made trips to Philadelphia, Kansas City, New York, St. Louis, Miami, New Orleans and Montreal this year, as well as visits to his Texas ranch. But he has approved a drastic tightening of security measures. Little or no advance notice has been given of these trips out of town, and special efforts have been made to provide relatively secure landing and takeoff schedules and to route the President's party in such a way as to obtain the greatest possible security. For example, there was no advance notice of Johnson's flight to New York for Cardinal Spellman's funeral. His plane landed at Floyd Bennett Naval Air Station and he was flown to Central Park in a helicopter. Central Park and St. Patrick's Cathedral, where the funeral services were held, were sealed off by police.

The reason for such elaborate precautions is two-fold: 1. The increasing violence of protesters against the Vietnam war and Black Power demonstrators. 2. crime wave.

Most of the danger to the President, it has been emphasized, comes from the savage antics of the various organizations comprising the Bully Boys for Peace. Both the Secret Service and the FBI fear that tensions have risen to the point where some nut will decide the only way to end the war is to kill the man who is directing it. There also is the danger that the President might be injured, perhaps fatally, during the shoving and hauling of some mass demonstration.

In this connection, it is possible to report that the Secret Service and FBI have bales of evidence of anonymous threats to the President's life. At no time in the country's history have so many threats been received.

Moreover, the situation has been worsened by the spiraling

Increase in crime in the streets. Statistics aside — robberies up 60 per cent during the first nine months of 1967 in New York City — the Association of Chiefs of Police has informed the Justice Department that local law enforcement agencies no longer can cope with the situation. In hush-hush talks here, the association has warned that only a massive infusion of Federal money — in the billions — can provide the cities with enough policemen to make their streets safe.

All this has been known for some time by the plain citizens living in those cities. Although conditions in New York are scandalous, the murder rate for each 100,000 there is the lowest among the nation's 10 largest cities and 18th among the 25 largest. Violent crime is up 30 per cent in Washington, and rape is almost as common in fashionable Georgetown as it is downtown.

Now, however, there is at least a slim chance that somebody on high will decide that America has indeed become a vicious and lunatic jungle in which no man, woman or child can walk safely. When those charged with guarding the President of the United States cannot guarantee he will be safe from harm if he ventures outside the White House, the revolution preached by the more hopped-up protesters and other assorted creeps has already reached its first chaotic stage.

Chaplain's Reply To Critics

WASHINGTON (NEA) — One thing that deeply bothers GIs back home from Vietnam is the cynical attitude of some Americans toward what they've risked their lives to accomplish.

Typical is the thinking of a Navy chaplain who writes: "I spent eight months in the combat zone with a group of men who literally worked themselves to death on humanitarian projects. We built roads, a hospital, dug water wells and did countless acts of civic improvement, such as working with Catholic and Protestant orphanages."

Then, returning to the U.S.A., I find... questions like, 'Are you still burning innocent villages and shooting civilian women and children?'

'I'm sick to death of battlefield experts who have never left home, and of mushy Christians who have never been to an area where to believe in Christ means torture and death. Let them go over and talk to the refugees from China and North Vietnam, and I'll talk with them.'

'May God have mercy on these political and military experts who debate in a classroom and never get more than a hundred miles from home. May God have mercy on us all for condemning so easily and commending so slowly...'

'What frightens me is that our people are not getting a good and true picture of the Vietnamese conflict, even though I'm sure it is the best-covered news event in history. When I tell people... that the Communists... savagely blew up our hospital and maimed our men with ambushes, no wants wants to listen.'

'I hear continued criticism of our presence in Asia and continual harping to withdraw... Why isn't there more condemnation of the raping, looting, burning and the hell the Communists are spreading south of the demilitarized zone?'

'When I tell folks back here about the work the boys are doing there — building, teaching, healing and cleaning — I get a sweet smile, a knowing look, and a reply something like this: 'Oh, yes, it is wonderful what our boys are doing. But don't you think these people are just taking advantage of us, and they really aren't in favor of us being there, and wouldn't they be just as happy and well off under the Communists?'

'The first several times I heard this, I was too surprised to reply. Then I was too mad to talk. Now I want to go into a corner and weep!'

'How stupid can we get? I know that this war is a terrible thing... I know that... Oh, Lord, how well do I know this — as does anyone who has been there for a few months.'

'But how would you like to have someone say to you, 'Let them go, don't help, they will be happy under communism! It's an old truism that if we sit here smugly in our freedom and not help others preserve theirs, we wouldn't have ours very long! We're so smart we know this, but we are so dumb we don't want to do anything about it.'

'There is no doubt in my mind that this is the Good Samaritan Parable War! We've got bruised and bleeding South Vietnamese desperately in need of help. And a lot of Americans fear getting involved by stopping to help. The thing that breaks my heart is that, having been one of the many who did stop and try to help a little, I straighten up and turn around, looking for our church to help — and I don't find it! What's wrong with being on the side of freedom?'

'I think the thing that burns the soul of every soldier is to come home and hear some... denounce our country's policy, and spout off about a war... he has no first-hand knowledge of.'

More people ought to be saying "well-done" to the men we send to Vietnam.

Government And Comic Books

WASHINGTON — The government seems to be going into comic book production in a big way. This, of course, is to the growing consternation of educators and moralists, who say comic books corrupt the minds of the young.

But, then, some of the minds the government is trying to reach are ALREADY corrupted. So perhaps it should not be condemned for utilizing the appeal of cartoon characters, which, after all, are a means of getting the message across.

With all of that out of the way, let us now turn to some recent examples of the Government's Printing Office's foray into the field of illustrated, pulp literature.

A strange thing happened to the Office of Economic Opportunity's Job Corps comic book on the way to the public. This book was produced by Mr. Al Capp, the creator of "Li'l Abner." The book was supposed to tell underprivileged youngsters how they might better themselves by joining the Job Corps.

Unfortunately, it featured a voluptuous girl and leering boy drop-out. The message seemed to be that the girl wouldn't give him a tumble until he learned a skill in the Job Corps and started making money. Critics thought the whole thing a trifle too sexy and OEO put the books "in storage," where they have remained now for several years.

Another Federal comic book is entitled, "Joe Wheeler Finds a Job and Learns About Social Security." It is easy to read. Example, Page Three: "Joe Wheeler lived on a small farm for many years. In 1965 Joe Wheeler moved to a big city. Why did Joe Wheeler move to the city? To make more money." (There is a drawing of Joe Wheeler.)

The book goes on about Joe getting a job and explains the joys of Social Security and how the small deductions from his pay check insure him a happy, carefree, secure life in his old age. To that I can only add this:

"The book leaves something out. What does it leave out? It leaves out these things: That Joe Wheeler will have to live to be 110 to get out of Social Security all the money he'll put into it. That it is impossible to live on a Social Security check. This book lies. Why does it lie? Because the government published it."

Another government comic book is called "Hooked." It tells how a boy starts on marijuana and ends up on heroin. He becomes a thief and his girl friend becomes a prostitute, just so they can get more dope. She dies from an overdose.

Pretty strong material, I guess, but maybe the government's planning to sell the movie rights.

Romney's returning to Vietnam. I guess he sends his brain out for washing every year, whether it needs it or not.

Sen. Everett Dirksen says he's against busing. Judging from all the photos showing him kissing the ladies, he certainly isn't against busing.

A shop near a park where the flower children hang out here has this sign in the window: "Merry Christmas and a Hippy New Year!"

WAYNE BRANDSTADT, M.D.

The Imitator

Q. The report from my STS was "doubtful." Will more treatments result in a negative report? When the blood is doubtful, can I transmit syphilis to others? If the disease is cured, can the STS become positive again in later years?

A. When an STS (serologic test for syphilis), made for an initial diagnosis, is inconclusive it should be repeated and other tests should be made. If the STS is made on a person who has been adequately treated, the blood is usually negative but in some persons it is doubtful or persistently positive. This being the case, the test is not a clear indication of the effectiveness of the treatment. If your disease is cured and the STS is negative, it will become positive again only if you contact a fresh case of syphilis.

Q. I have heard that syphilis is a great masquerader and that it can imitate almost any illness. What are some of the diseases it could imitate?

A. The first stage (chancre) may be mistaken for a wart, especially if it occurs on the lip or finger. The second stage rash may be mistaken for mea-

les. The third stage, occurring in many cases after the victim has forgotten that he ever had syphilis, is the real fooler. Since it can involve any part of the body, the possibilities are too numerous to mention.

Q. What is a culdoscopy? For what would it be done?

A. A culdoscope is similar to a cystoscope which is used to view the interior of the bladder, but the former is used to view the pelvic organs. It is introduced into the pelvic cavity through a small incision in the back of the vagina and is used chiefly to diagnose ectopic pregnancy and to determine whether there is an obstruction in the uterine tubes. Although a culdoscopy may be performed in a doctor's office, it is usually done in a hospital.

Q. My husband has been taking Darvon Compound. Does it have any bad side effects?

A. This pain reliever, obtainable only on a doctor's prescription, contains propoxyphene, aspirin, phenacetin and caffeine. Side effects are rare when it is taken as prescribed, but full relief of pain cannot be guaranteed.

Musical Chairs

The game of musical chairs now being played in the White House is another unhappy reminder that the President absolutely and resolutely refuses to level with the people of the United States.

Robert McNamara's resignation was handled so deviously, for instance, that even today it is impossible for anyone to piece together a straight story. I have yet to read two consecutive reports of the incident that come anywhere near one another in agreement as to what actually happened.

Take your pick. Each of these theories is from a repeated responsible American newspaper and journal.

McNamara and the President worked the entire thing out amicably over a period of months, with the final date being chosen simply because the World Bank — to which McNamara is going — had to have an answer right then.

McNamara and the President had talked about it, but McNamara hadn't the foggiest notion, at the time the deed was done, that the President was actually going to relieve him of the one job and send him to the other.

McNamara and the President eye to eye on the war in Vietnam and virtually everything else. Thus, there is no possible reason to believe that a disagreement lay behind the resignation.

McNamara and the President disagreed on the war.

McNamara and the Joint Chiefs are great buddies. McNamara and the Joint Chiefs are very much at odds with one another.

Bobby Kennedy started it all. Bobby Kennedy doesn't even know what they're talking about.

There is nothing facetious in that compilation. It is a flat summation of just how wildly at variance are the major, serious reports of the McNamara resignation. The President, except for some "leaks" — to hand-picked reporters (saying that the entire resignation situation was friendly and that the odd timing was just one of those things) — and a public attack against "kids" who spread rumors about resignations, had done nothing convincing to clear the air. Neither did he do anything in advance to make sure it would be clear when the event occurred.

There is also the case of Arthur Goldberg. One day everyone is saying that rumors of his resignation from the United Nations are absurd. The next day it is announced that he actually is resigning.

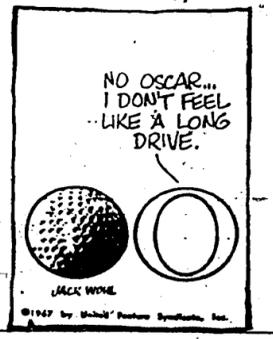

Also on the list are the secretaries of agriculture and the treasury. They aren't resigning it says here. They are resigning it says there. And the White House says nothing or, when it does, tries to say yes and no at the same time.

There has been a clear pattern to all of the President's dealings with nationally crucial appointments. First, they have been made on political balance and for political impact. Second, they have been made as matters of personal presidential dealing.

An appointee so luckless as to have the fact of his appointment aired by anyone other than the President has characteristically been denied the post of his hand, no matter his qualifications or the needs of the job.

It is this sort of personal politicking and now the musical chairs game that in large part are responsible for a widening confidence gap between the President and the people.

Rotarians Hear Talk On Psychology Of Christmas

An account of the psychological and sociological impact of Christmas was presented to the Twin Falls Rotary Club Wednesday by John Milner, Twin Falls native who now is professor of social work at the University of Southern California, Los Angeles.

Pointing out that Christmas is a joyous holiday, he noted that it has just the opposite effect on many people, intensifying their feeling of loneliness and in some cases stimulating an urge to be cruel to others.

There is a great need of understanding of this condition on the part of all during the Christmas season, he declared.

Mr. Milner also stressed the need for parents to acquaint their children of the value of giving, during the holiday season. Most children are overwhelmed with receiving gifts and favors at Christmas, he said, but human beings can't be happy just receiving — they also have to know how to give.

Born in Twin Falls of pioneer parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harley O. Milner, the speaker recounted tales he had heard his elders tell of the first Christmas in Twin Falls.

Mainly a city of tents and shacks in 1904, he related, Twin Falls nevertheless had a merry Christmas. The men went into the desert and brought back sagebrush, out of which they constructed a Christmas tree, and it was decorated with popcorn and cranberries. The cranberries had been shipped in earlier.

Gifts had been ordered from Salt Lake City and were to be sent by rail. When they had not arrived by the day before Christmas, he said, the women of the community sat up all night making rag dolls and other gifts for the children to have on Christmas morning.

Mr. Milner, who is visiting friends here, was introduced by Hugh Phillips.

Aerospace Industry Sales Higher

WASHINGTON (AP) — Large purchases by military and civilian users pushed aerospace industry sales to $27.3 billion this year, a 13 per cent increase over 1966, the Aerospace Industries Association said today.

The sales total is expected to increase 6.8 per cent to $29.2 billion by the end of next year, the association said in a statement.

In a year-end review and forecast, the association said the industry now employs 1.4 million persons and is "the nation's largest single manufacturing employer."

About 12 per cent of this employment is tied to the Vietnam conflict through the production of helicopters, fighters and attack aircraft, the association said. It said significant factor in the industry's future growth will be the development of the $5 billion antimissile missile system.

Singer To Spend Holidays In Jail

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP) — Folk singer Joan Baez is going to spend the holidays in jail.

The 26-year-old singer pleaded no contest in Municipal Court Wednesday to a charge of disturbing the peace, in connection with a demonstration in which Vietnam war protesters sat in Tuesday at the Oakland Induction Center.

Miss Baez was sentenced to 90 days in jail, with 45 days suspended and a year on probation.

Bird Census

ST. LOUIS (AP)—The St. Louis Audubon Society will hold its annual bird census Saturday in St. Charles County, Mo. Following the census, the group will be served a chicken dinner.

Blood Pressure Can Be Serious

WASHINGTON (AP) — So-called "moderate" high blood pressure may quickly develop into severe or fatal stages unless treated with drugs hitherto reserved mostly for patients whose blood pressure was extremely high, government scientists report.

The new findings, said Veterans Administration medical researchers, suggest that what is called essential hypertension may not be the slowly progressive disorder as doctors have thought.

GIRDER OF THE Clear Lakes Bridge was extensively damaged when it was struck by flying boulders during blasting operations for the new bridge being built to replace the present span over the Snake river north of Buhl. Cut on the north side of the canyon can be seen in the background. Rocks from the blasting also hit the guard rail on the bridge, but the structure is usable. Because of the bridge's age, highway officials request cooperation of all truckers in observing the 13 ton gross weight limit. This view shows a strip of sheet metal that has been welded along the bent girder to help strengthen it.

Castro Jails 40 Pro-Soviet Workers

HAVANA (AP) — Prime Minister Fidel Castro's Communist government has jailed about 40 pro-Soviet party members, including a central committee member, for opposing Castro's policy of exporting revolution, informed sources say.

The sources said Wednesday night that the dissidents could not be described as being against the government but favored a Soviet-style line of concentrating on domestic economic problems. They also reportedly opposed the party's campaign to eliminate material rewards for workers.

They said the old-line Communists were arrested three or four months ago. The purge appeared to be part of a crackdown reported earlier against lesser known Communists and a handful of Havana University professors and students.

The sources said the leader of the group was Anibal Escalante, who was denounced by Castro in 1962 for "sectarianism" and for having old ideas. Escalante later was reported studying in Poland and the Soviet Union and returned to Cuba about two years ago.

Stewardess Class Has High Takeoff

KETCHUM — West Coast Airlines, which is preparing to merge its mountains with Bonanza's deserts and Pacific's coastline early next year, helped inaugurate the nation's new ski season by staging its latest — and possibly last — stewardess graduation atop a snow covered mountain.

Thirteen young Pacific Northwest women got a lift as well as their wings in ceremonies on Mount Baldy at Sun Valley last week.

This was the highest takeoff of any airline stewardess class since the profession was established three decades or so ago. Mount Baldy is 9,200 feet above sea level.

Another feature was the sky blue Pendleton slacks which West Coast adopted especially for occasion. The girls made the half-hour chair lift ascension to the Round House without a anceled flight. They rose both ways.

Sigi Engl, director of the Sun Valley Ski School, presented the wings and afterwards had his corps of ski instructors entertain the class with demonstrations of form and agility.

The graduation had a profound effect on the weather as well as Engl's ski staff. Before the girls got there, the temperature was 14 degrees below zero; by the end of their exercises, it was in the 20's.

Stuart Erwin Dies At His Home

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif. (AP)—Stuart Erwin, whose television portrayal of a bumbling but lovable father made his face familiar in American households, died today of a heart attack at his Beverly Hills home. He was 64.

Police were summoned to the Erwin home at 2:30 a.m. by Erwin's wife, actress June Collyer. She told officers Erwin had gotten out of bed when she heard a thump and found him unconscious on the bathroom floor.

ANOMALY FOUND
KELLOGG, Idaho (AP)—Geochemical prospecting at Sidney Mining Company's silver-gold exploration project in southern Idaho has disclosed an anomaly similar to those around old producing veins.

That was the word today from company president M. C. Brown. The anomaly was found several hundred feet east of the area trenced and drilled last year, Brown said, and trenching work followed by drilling is planned for next spring. Work was halted at the site near Silver City 10 days ago.

HEARINGS SET
BOISE (AP)—Land Commissioner Gordon C. Trombley said Wednesday hearings on proposed log scaling regulations will be conducted next month.

The hearings are scheduled Jan. 3 in Coeur d'Alene, Jan. 4 in Lewiston, Jan. 9 in Boise and Jan. 10 in Idaho Falls.

MAN CONVICTED
OROFINO, Idaho (AP)—A Pierce, Idaho, man convicted this week of second degree murder in Second District Court is to be sentenced Thursday, Judge Thomas Felton said.

Kermit Davis, 63, was convicted in connection with the 1966 shooting death of Clarence Hedges, of Pierce, in a tavern. The sawmill worker was convicted of shooting his former wife's husband.

SURVEY DISCUSSED
BOISE (AP)—Gov. Don W. Samuelson said Wednesday that a recent survey of Idaho homes for possible shelters against radioactive fallout showed about 314,000 spaces besides those already known.

Idaho disaster relief and civil defense director Charles M. Rountree said about 79 per cent of questionnaires mailed to homeowners in Idaho were answered. But he said sections of the state were surveyed personally by census enumerators, bringing the total return to 92 per cent.

The U.S. Bureau of the Census performed the survey at the request of the governor earlier this year.

DIVIDEND DECLARED
BOISE (AP)—Bank of Idaho President Joseph Bianco announced Wednesday that directors of the institution had declared a 20-cent extra dividend.

Robert Halliday of Boise was elected a bank director. He is executive vice president of the Boise Cascade Corp., Bianco said, and replaced W.D. Eberle, who resigned to become head of the American Standard Co. in New York.

Bianco said deposits in Bank of Idaho, as well as loan volume and earnings, hit all-time highs this year, with depositors exceeding $120 million.

T.F. Jaycees To Treat Children To Free Movie

All children of Twin Falls are invited to be the guests of the Jaycees Saturday for a free movie at the Idaho Theater.

Two showings of "Smoky," the story of a horse, will be featured Saturday, the first at 9:30 a.m. and the other immediately following at approximately 11:30 a.m.

The free movie is part of the annual Jaycee Christmas program for youngsters of the community. In addition, some 100 children are being taken on a Christmas Shopping spree by the Jaycees and given an opportunity to purchase gifts for members of their families.

These same youngsters will be guests of the Jaycees in a Christmas dinner and party Saturday afternoon at the American Legion Hall.

This part of the program, Chairman Steve Lund reported, is designed to give children who would not otherwise receive them, some of the Christmas season advantages.

FOUND INNOCENT
WASHINGTON (AP)—John Steinbeck, IV, son of the author, has been found innocent of a police charge of maintaining a nuisance in connection with some marijuana found in his apartment here.

Gets Push

NAPA, Calif. (AP)—Seeing their duty, two citizens in a car flagged down a Napa County sheriff's deputy Wednesday to inform him of another driver creating a disturbance nearby.

The deputy got back in his cruiser, but it wouldn't start. At his request, one of the Samaritans pushed the officer to the scene of the disturbance. The deputy made an arrest—but again his car wouldn't start.

Again the helpful motorist gave a push, this time to the county jail.

Idaho Power Company Pays $257,265 Tax Bill Here

Payment of $257,265 was received by Twin Falls County Treasurer Ruth Jones from the Idaho Power Co., it was announced Thursday.

The check marks payment of the first half of 1967 property taxes. Idaho Power President Albert Carlsen said initial installments in Idaho counties total $3,260,000, which is an increase of more than $400,000 over 1966.

"This marks the first time in the company's history that Idaho Power property taxes have climbed above the $5 million mark," Mr. Carlsen said.

Nearly $3.5 million of Idaho Power's property tax bill will be used in support of education, he said.

"Our property taxes in Twin Falls County alone have increased by more than $59,504 since last year," he said.

The company's property taxes have totaled more than $40.2 million since 1958, he reported.

He said the increase in Idaho Power's 1967 bill resulted from the completion of new facilities valued at about $12.8 million. Among the new facilities were the company's third 250,000-volt transmission line between Boise and the substation near Jerome; major additions to a substation near Pocatello, and a steelhead fish hatchery at Niagara Springs that is the world's largest.

Striking Miners Have Few Yule Presents

By STEVE MOORE
BUTTE, Mont. (AP)—Three little brothers sing Christmas carols for pennies in the streets of Butte to buy presents for their strikebound family.

Mrs. Clifford Gustavsen, who is pregnant with her eighth child, counts food stamps and a $10 weekly union food coupon and says "It's going to be pretty hungry around here this Christmas."

Mrs. Fred Chase, mother of five and wife of a struck copper miner who is too proud to take welfare money, says, "You can't tell a small child Santa Claus is on strike."

This is Christmas time, 1967, for 3,500 copper miners and their families in Butte. Christmas Day will mark the 165th day of the nationwide copper strike for higher wages and change benefits.

There will be few gifts under striking miners' Christmas trees, and many will be eating deer they killed themselves instead of turkey.

"Our backs may be bowed, but our knees aren't bent," said Fred Chase, 42, a veteran of 15 years in the underground mines. "We'll just cheer each other up this year."

"I want my daddy to go back to work," said 9-year-old Mike Gustavsen. His father, Clifford, a muscular miner, sits at home babysitting and plunking a guitar.

Mike and two of his brothers, Kenneth, 11, and John, 8, earned a handful of change singing Christmas carols in the streets in zero cold and snow, holding out their hands to passersby.

They used the money to buy for their four brothers and sisters a coloring book, some canes, a truck and two model flying saucer kits.

Mike's grandmother gave him a dollar for helping clean her house. He bought gloves for two of his brothers.

Senator McCarthy Claims President Misunderstands Opponents Of War

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy says President Johnson misunderstands opponents of the Vietnam war and compounded confusion over the issue in his television-radio interview this week.

The Minnesota Democrat, who says he'll run as an antiwar candidate in several 1968 presidential primaries, issued a statement Wednesday asking for equal time from the three major networks carrying the presidential interview on Tuesday night.

The networks had no immediate comment.

McCarthy disagreed with what he called Johnson's suggestion he's power hungry or a conspirator working for Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, D-N.Y., another war policy critic.

"I think the President misunderstands me and greatly misunderstands what is troubling so many decent Americans," McCarthy said. He added the Johnson interview "only compounds the confusion of the administration's objectives in this ever-widening struggle."

Johnson, asked during the interview to comment on speculation that McCarthy is running just to generate support for Kennedy, replied: "I do know of the interest of both of them in the presidency and the ambition of both of them," but said he didn't know just what they would do or whether they would act in concert.

McCarthy denied "I am challenging him for the presidency because of some sort of ambition for power on my part, or, alternatively, that I am engaged in a conspiracy."

Kennedy, on a skiing holiday in Sun Valley, hasn't been available for comment on the Johnson interview.

McCarthy and Kennedy aren't the only Democrats opposed to Johnson's Vietnam policy, according to a survey by the Charleston (W.Va.) Gazette.

The newspaper said today it polled more than 2,800 delegates to the 1964 Democratic national convention and replies from more than 900 showed only 45.7 percent supported the President's war policy, with opinions about equally divided between those favoring a stepped-up war and those opposed to the war.

But the poll also showed an overwhelming majority of the 1964 delegates support Johnson for re-election.

As for Republican presidential prospects, 54.8 per cent of the Democratic delegates replying to the newspaper survey listed New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller as the strongest possible opponent. Trailing well behind were former Vice President Richard M. Nixon, California Gov. Ronald Reagan and Gov. George Romney of Michigan.

The Gallup Poll meanwhile said the Vietnam war was named the strongest single issue the Republicans could use in the 1968 campaign by the 1,898 local GOP leaders throughout the country participating in a separate survey.

But Republicans polled by Gallup said domestic problems taken collectively—government spending, crime and living costs—were considered stronger than the war issue.

Liver Transplant Patient Sets Mark

DENVER, Colo. (AP)—Julie Cherie Rodriguez, who extends liver transplant survival records every day she lives, reached milestones of another sort Wednesday—she met her new baby brother and was told she may be home from the hospital for Christmas.

Perhaps because she's not quite two years old, and has had little experience with Santa Claus and none with baby brothers, she seemed not at all impressed.

Neither does she yet understand what it means to have survived longer—five months Saturday—than anyone else known to have undergone the delicate liver transplant operation.

But her parents have watched for months now from the brink of heartbreak and they know. And knowing the risks and rewards, is making this chance at a quiet Christmas at home with their two children a blend of anxiety and thanksgiving.

"I just hope and pray to God that Julie doesn't get sick again and we can keep them both," said her father, John Rodriguez of Pueblo, Colo.

On the other hand, his wife Louise, who gave birth to 7-pound, 14-ounce John Anthony Monday, has said, and her husband agrees: "I've had her almost five months longer than I would have otherwise."

Julie wore a blue and white nursery version of a minidress, white tights and a red Christmas cap to the meeting with John Anthony. He wore a diaper.

Julie pouted a little when she was brought into the room where baby John was snoozing between bottles in their mother's arms.

Later, after she was in her mother's arms, she relented a bit and even laughed when Mrs. Rodriguez tickled John's feet.

The Christmas trip to Pueblo, about 125 miles south of here, hinges on whether Julie's condition remains stable, as it has for some time now. She must return to the hospital within a day or two, in any event.

Airport Action Rapped

BURLEY — "The future of the entire Magic Valley is threatened by action of Twin Falls city and county officials in their move to join in major development of Joslin Field, the Twin Falls Airport," Ed Elliott, Burley, president of the South Idaho Chamber of Commerce, said Thursday.

Twin Falls City Council has asked the county to join in the expense of enlarging the runway of Joslin Field so that jet planes can land at Twin Falls and to make other major improvements on the airstrip south of the city. Several of the county commissioners were quoted as being in favor of the move which would call for a county levy to supplement the money already being raised from a city levy.

"This would eliminate Twin Falls county from participation in the proposed regional airport," Mr. Elliott stated. "It would mean that Twin Falls would have an airport in an out-of-the-way location for other valley communities that could not be developed to take care of all the future needs of the area," said Mr. Elliott.

"Twin Falls officials have become excited over the possibility of West Coast using their field for the new jet passenger plane they plan to put in service by 1970," Mr. Elliott noted.

"They could enlarge their runway sufficiently to accommodate this one type of jet, but when they do that they have reached the absolute limit in space available for landing," stated Mr. Elliott.

"A plane of the future, requiring more room could never be able to land because there just is no land available. In addition, experts have pointed out time and again that the wind is wrong for Joslin Field and there are other features that would cause severe handicaps.

"Just a week ago, West Coast was unable to land at Joslin Field and several flights were forced to miss Twin Falls, while at the same time normal service could be had at the Burley Airport and other fields in the area," he added.

Mr. Elliott pointed out that at a recent meeting of the South Idaho Chamber of Commerce Board of directors a resolution was adopted supporting the stand taken by the Interim Regional Airport Commission in asking Twin Falls City and County to delay any major developments of Joslin Field until FAA officials complete their study of proposed regional airport sites and recommend a specific site.

"We should have that report within three or four months now," Mr. Elliott said, "and then we could go ahead with plans for an airport in South Idaho that would serve Twin Falls better than Joslin Field can and at the same time have the support and good will of all of the other communities in Magic Valley."

The South Idaho Chamber of Commerce was instrumental in getting laws passed in the last session of the state legislature to set up the regional airport concept. An interim airport commission to work out the details of the project for this area was appointed last summer by Gov. Don Samuelson with Neil Blair, Rupert, chairman, and Elaine Curtis, Burley, as one of the five members.

The commission has held several meetings and called in the FFA for advice after the proposed sites had been narrowed down to two. The FFA promised to make a study of the two sites and give a report within six months. This was more than two months ago.

The Burley man pointed out that Twin Falls county commissioners are going to decide by Jan. 8 whether they will join the city and impose a county levy for airport development.

ARCHIE LANGDON, LEFT, outgoing most excellent high priest of the Twin Falls Chapter No. 15, Royal Arch Masons, extends the gavel of office to the new most excellent high priest, Glen McCoy. 22 Copper Unions Reject Wage Offer

DOUGLAS, Ariz. (AP) — The 22 unions of striking copper workers have rejected a wage offer made by Phelps Dodge Corp., and have made a counter-proposal.

Orville Larson, United Steelworkers representative and chairman of the union bargaining committee, said Wednesday. "We hoped that after five months of strike the Phelps Dodge Corp. would have made a more realistic proposal and that at least it would have refrained from distorting its value."

He said, "Even the company's inflated valuation of its offer falls far short of the pattern of settlements in American industry this year."

Larson said the company's figure of 63.7 cents per hour increase in wages and benefits over three years included 7.7 cents which the company termed "impact."

He said the offer is worth no more than 56 cents by Phelps Dodge's own valuation.

"Nor is this a 6 per cent annual improvement as claimed in company releases, since 56 cents is only about 4 per cent of the present total hourly wage and fringe benefit figure," Larson said.

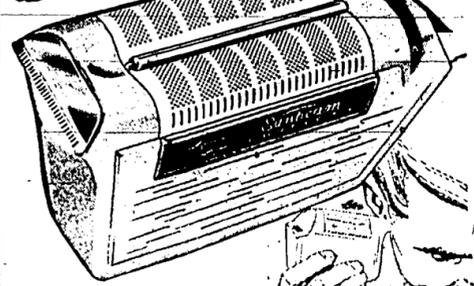

"The unions find themselves forced to reject Phelps Dodge's unrealistic offer. Nevertheless, in an effort to settle the strike the unions today have submitted a revised proposal which we believe can be the basis for some real collective bargaining."

Neither Larson nor Phelps Dodge would comment on the offer.

Attending the bargaining session was William Simpkin, head of the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service in Washington.

Simpkin was to be on hand Thursday when negotiations continued.

Dear Abby

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN
DEAR ABBY: My husband and I have long been faithful readers of your column and as I have no one to turn to in my hour of despair, I must talk to someone.
 How does one go on when his faith in prayer is shattered and the bottom has fallen out of everything? I feel my life is over and even my prayers are useless now.
 We adopted a little boy when he was just one week old. We loved that child more than our own flesh and blood. We prayed for him constantly. Yet, between the ages of 15 and 18 he went from skipping school to robbery to rape!
 Our hearts are broken. Our son was raised in a good Christian home. We went to church every Sunday and have always set a good example. We never had tobacco or liquor in the house.
 Where have our prayers gone? We cannot understand it. We are numb, sick and brokenhearted. God bless you if you can help us.
HIS MOTHER.

is, "Why don't you wear a freshly pressed suit? You've got a closetful. Why don't you change your shirt? You've got a drawerful. Why don't you shave? Why don't you get some new shoes? Do this, do that, do this, do that, etc." In other words, he is nagged to death, and the only way he can punish the wife is to ignore her and go around looking like a hobo.
ANOTHER MILLIONAIRE HOBO
DEAR ABBY: Please tell "DOG TIRED" for me that if his dog is a slob, there is a good reason for it. The animal is owned by a slob. And if he is unwanted and unloved by the family (with the exception of the kids who like to play with him, but refuse to care for him) she should get in touch with her Humane Society (or Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals) and let them take him off her hands.
 And if the dog has suddenly become valuable, moneywise, she should place a "For Sale To A Good Home" ad in her local newspaper.
 Just sign me,
"PEOPLE TIRED"

DEAR MOTHER: You speak of "prayer" as though it were the premiums you paid for insurance against all ills and evils. It is not. Prayer is simply "a talk" with one's God. No amount of praying will protect another, in this case your adopted son, from the consequences of his own behavior. Each man must do his own praying. Just as each man must accept the consequences of his own acts.
 I do not know where your son went wrong. But your faith in prayer should not have been shattered because he did.

DEAR ABBY: Recently my wife and I spent a night in Topeka, and I bought a copy of the Topeka Capitol Times. I was amused by a letter in your column from a wife whose husband was a millionaire who went around looking like a hobo. He wore suits for months without having them cleaned and pressed, didn't change his shirt for three or four days, bought the cheapest socks and underwear, etc. If my wife had not been traveling with me, I'd have sworn she wrote that letter.
 Your answer was good, considering you didn't know the other side of the story, but since I do, and can speak from experience, let me back you up. The millionaire who goes around looking like a hobo does so out of protest. All he hears at home

Out Of Christmas Ideas? Try "Wood Flake" Hairdo

By NORMA HERZINGER
Women's Page Editor
 The fashion makers and trend setters of our country have nothing on me, because today I started a new trend—well—at least in the Times-News editorial office.

to toe. That's when I was told, "Don't be embarrassed; start a trend."
 My red hair, piled high on my head as usual, was a little tousled from my fall, but now it was completely filled with sawdust resembling the glitter women often put in their hair for parties—only I wasn't going to a party. And since I use my share of hair spray, the sawdust wasn't going anywhere either.

I understand all fads that really go for the weaker sex are those created on the spur-of-the-moment or quite by accident—and this was quite by accident.
 The morning started off fine enough (as far as my mornings are concerned) with the usual hustle and bustle of getting to work on time. I only managed to slip and fall once on the icy doorstep of my home as I went out to start the car so it would be nice and warm to drive the kids to school. The fact that I had to take a few more minutes to change into another skirt, which I soiled as I fell, and another pair of hose, which I ruined when I fell, was just chalked down as "one of those days."

So, as I drove to the office I was thinking strongly of turning around and going the other way as I remembered how hectic the past two days had been. You see, our office has been "under construction" for several days and working conditions have been a little trying. The carpenters have been very busy sawing, hammering, blasting and sanding to make our office nice, warm and cozy against the winter elements.
 Being the dedicated worker I am, however, I drove straight to the office, parked my car and walked into the new entranceway. That's when it happened. I opened the new door and walked right in, just as one of the carpenters, seated above the doorway, poured all the sawdust off the boards he just finished sawing. Needless to say, I was covered from head

Miss Fetzer, Lower Disclose Wedding Plans
PAUL: Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Fetzer announce the engagement of their daughter, Patricia Lynn, to Michael Craig Lower, Pocatello, son of Mr. and Mrs. Eldon Lower, Phoenix, Ariz.
 Miss Fetzer was graduated from Minico High School in 1965 and is attending Idaho State University, Pocatello. Mr. Lower was graduated from Highland High School, Pocatello, served a tour of duty in Vietnam and is attending ISU.
 The couple plans a June wedding.

Now I had several choices, I could just forget it and leave it there and hope everyone would think I did it on purpose, or take the chance that everyone would really think I didn't use Head-and-Shoulders. My first impulse was to call my hairdresser and yell "HELP," but as I look around me I see the other women in my office are sporting a few flakes here and there too. Nothing quite as drastic as mine, but they either like the effect it has in their hair, thus constituting a new trend, or they are trying to make me feel better.

"Drummer Boy" Is Dance Theme
DECLO: "Drummer Boy" was the theme of the Christmas dance sponsored by the Declo Ward MIA held in the Cultural Hall of the church which was decorated with drums and drummer boys painted by Mrs. Dennis Curtis.
 A large decorated tree centered the hall and added to the festive spirit.
 The theme song was played by Terrell Hurst on trumpet, and Stanley Preston, drums. A drill, performed to the music of "Toy Soldiers," was presented by Jana Taylor, Karen Meade, Lena Fil, Wendy Jacobs, Patricia Matthews, Carma Saxton, Anita Engstrom, Carolyn Zollinger, Lorna Moon, Benita Caterhout, Judy McGraw, Joan Mattews and Sheryl Anderson, members of the Declo High School Stingerettes.
 Refreshments were served after the dance by officers and teachers.

Social Events
TUTTLE: The Hilltoppers Square Dance Club will have a Christmas dance at 8:30 p.m. Saturday at the Tuttle Grange Hall. A potluck dinner and gift exchange will be featured. All square dancers are invited to attend. Vern Schroeder is the caller.

Exchange Held
HAZELTON: A gift exchange was held when the Camp Fire Girls, sponsored by the Hazelton Lions Club, met at the home of Mrs. R. C. Stepp, leader.
 Mrs. Milton Cunningham assisted the girls in making hand cream while Mrs. Stepp helped others in the group learn to make decorative clothes hangers. A few of them made candles, all to be used for gifts for Christmas.
 Snacks were served to the group by Jill Burnett and Carolyn Metcalf. The next meeting is Jan. 4 at Mrs. Cunningham's home.

Officers Can't Get Good Count On Enemy Strength

WASHINGTON (AP) — "We just don't know how many Viet Cong there are in South Vietnam," says a veteran military officer who holds a key Pentagon staff post and has seen both field and staff duty in Vietnam.

This officer, who asked that his name not be used, was long involved in the frustrating effort to get a reliable count of enemy strength in South Vietnam.

His view was echoed by other officers who have wrestled with the problem.

They acknowledged that some of the estimates boil down to educated guessing, based on analysis of intelligence gathered from captured documents, interrogation of prisoners and defectors, and reports from Vietnamese and U.S. sources.

Recent estimates have ranged from a low of 223,000 North Vietnamese and Viet Cong up to 400,000-plus.

Much depends on the terms of reference—whether those doing the estimating count only Communist soldiers or whether they add political cadre as well; whether they count regular and guerrilla soldiers or also include the much more shadowy "secret self-defense forces."

About a month ago, after better than a year of refining methods and studies, the U.S. intelligence community came up with what it regards as the most reasonable estimate of enemy strength.

The U.S. Command in Saigon announced Nov. 24 that it now calculates the Communist "order of battle" to range between 223,000 and 248,000 Viet Cong and North Vietnamese.

This was about 50,000 fewer than the figure used before that in official statements.

It also varied from Gen. William C. Westmoreland's estimate of 242,000 which he gave to a Pentagon news conference two days earlier.

Westmoreland's estimate and the Saigon command's figures later that week both left out the political cadre which, though important, they chose not to count as part of the fighting force faced by nearly 500,000

Americans and allied soldiers in South Vietnam.

The official Saigon estimate, which now is quoted at the Pentagon as well, omits the self-defense element of the Viet Cong, basically local Communists who are for the most part unarmed, U.S. officers say, and serves as a kind of manpower pool for Red forces.

The unofficial estimates published in some quarters include both the political cadre and the amorphous "secret self-defense forces."

While claiming U.S. intelligence has improved markedly, authorities concede there is still a considerable variation in the firmness of the data on which their judgments are made.

They claim U.S. intelligence is good when it comes to estimating the strength of North Vietnamese and Viet Cong regular units. The Nov. 24 official estimate placed this force, including Viet Cong local units, at 118,000 men. Since then, sources said, the estimate has declined to about 115,000.

Their estimate of 70,000 to 90,000 Viet Cong guerrillas is not as firm as in the case of the calculations of the enemy regulars.

This appears to be the trend as the analysts go down through the less identifiable levels of the

Carols Banned

LONDON (AP) — Christmas carols have been banned from the public address systems of nine London and suburban train stations.

"I can imagine the ribald remarks passengers waiting for late running trains might make when they hear 'God rest ye merry gentlemen, let nothing you dismay,'" said Charles Cruddock, the railway manager for the area.

Financing Of Dam Viewed By Council

SEATTLE (AP) — The Public Power Council considered various means of financing the High Mountain Sheep Dam on the Snake River Wednesday, but made no decisions.

One financing proposal was for joint construction by the Washington Public Power Supply Systems and the Pacific Northwest Power Co.; John Nelson, superintendent of Seattle City Light, said.

Nelson said a recent proposal by Washington Public Power for a federally built dam financed by the public utilities is similar to a proposal by the Bonneville Power Administration.

He said the Columbia Storage

Power Exchange in Canada was formed on a similar basis.

Owen Hurd, managing director of Washington Public Power, said the decision to join the private power combine was made because it was not felt Congress would authorize funds for the project.

Hurd said: "A review of alternate options indicates that from the standpoint of power supply benefits, risks and costs, the WPPSS-PNP licensing route appears to be the most favorable to our participants."

Twin Navajo Babies Delivered In Storm

By HOWARD GRAVES
WINDOW ROCK, Ariz. (AP) — Elroy and LeRoy Nez, 1-day-old twins, were doing fine today along with their mother, Amy, in a nearby hospital.

The Navajo babies were delivered Wednesday afternoon by their great grandmother in a remote hogan crowded with 14 other persons on the Navajo Indian Reservation, which has been crippled by severe snow storms and wind.

They were taken out by an Air Force helicopter which reached the hogan in the northwest corner of the reservation 30 minutes after the boys' birth. The babies and their 34-year-old mother, who was hemorrhaging badly, were flown to a small clinic at Chinle, Ariz., about 60 air miles to the southeast.

Mrs. Nez was given medical attention, then rushed to a U.S.

Public Health Service hospital at nearby Ft. Defiance.

A hospital physician said one of the boys weighed 6 pounds, 2 ounces, and the other 4 pounds 15 ounces. The latter was placed in an incubator.

John F. Land, a civilian photographer at Kirtland Air Force Base in Albuquerque, N.M., who was on the helicopter, quoted a flight surgeon on the aircraft as saying the great grandmother "did a good job of delivering. She tied the umbilical cord with a piece of string."

James F. Pickett, a kindergarten teacher in the Inscription House area where the twins were born, also caught a ride on the helicopter.

Pickett said Mrs. Nez wanted "to name the boys, but couldn't think of any names. She took the first names of the people in the helicopter."

Two other pregnant women were airlifted into Window Rock later Wednesday.

Mrs. Ginny Benally was transferred to an ambulance and gave birth to a child while en route to the hospital.

The other woman, who was not identified, reached the hospital with no difficulty.

Idaho Road Construction Projects Told

BOISE (AP) — About $25 million worth of interstate highway projects were among those listed Wednesday as Idaho's 1968 highway construction program by the State Highway Department.

Bringing the total of approved projects' costs to $38 million were about $13 million worth of projects for primary, secondary and urban road systems, according to a department statement.

However, not all of the projects may be started during fiscal 1968.

"Traditionally, the highway board approves more projects for the current construction year than can be financed with available funds," the statement said.

"This action is necessary to assure a full construction program, recognizing that some of the projects are usually delayed due to the unpredictable nature of certain preparatory activities such as right-of-way acquisition, utility adjustments, community agreements and legal problems," it said.

Also authorized were forest highway projects totaling $5.4 million and $2.5 million in county-federal-aid secondary roads.

Projects on Idaho's three interstate highways included several major projects along north Idaho's Interstate 90, involving construction west from the Montana border and also from near d'Alene west toward Washington.

On Interstate 15, the north-south route through eastern Idaho, new construction is planned in the Downey area, south of Pocatello. Some surfacing, sealing and landscaping projects north of Idaho Falls are also on the schedule.

On Interstate 80N, which crosses southwestern Idaho and goes into Utah, projects are planned in the Boise area, between King Hill and Bliss, and from the Malta area to the Utah state line.

Passport Decisions Handed Down

WASHINGTON (AP) — The State Department can deny passports to persons who intend to use them to visit restricted countries—but can't block travel to such off-limits nations as Cuba if the passport isn't used in getting there, a court rules.

These decisions were handed down Wednesday in separate decisions by a three-judge U.S. Court of Appeals.

In ruling the State Department can't withhold a passport on grounds an applicant won't promise not to visit a restricted country, the court upheld the appeal of Straughton Lynd, who visited North Vietnam in 1966.

The State Department subsequently revoked Lynd's passport despite the then-Yale professor's assurances he wouldn't use it in any future travel to restricted nations.

In a second case, the court upheld Secretary of State Dean Rusk's power to deny a passport to a person who won't promise not to use it to visit restricted lands. The case involved Jane Wittman, a New York teacher who visited Cuba in 1964 and later refused to pledge she wouldn't so use her passport in the future.

In a third case, the court rejected comedian Dick Gregory's request that it declare invalid the State Department ban on using passports to visit restricted countries. Gregory made his request last year when the department said he couldn't use his passport for his proposed trip to North Vietnam.

Gregory said at the time he planned to entertain U.S. prisoners of the North Vietnamese. He later canceled the trip, citing reasons other than the department's ban.

WIDOW OF VIETNAM casualty, Spec. 4 Billy G. Smith, was presented the Purple Heart and accompanying medals Wednesday by Capt. Bruce Wulf, ROTC Department, Idaho State University. Mrs. Smith, Twin Falls, was notified the middle of November that her husband, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Smith, Filer, had died of wounds received in Vietnam. Capt. Wulf explained that the Purple Heart is the oldest decoration in existence and that it was initiated during the Revolutionary War by George Washington.

Man Held For Shooting Of Patrolman

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A man who said he wanted to die in a gun battle with police was in the prison ward of a hospital today suspected of killing a highway patrolman.

Thomas E. Spychala, 38, of Maywood, Calif., was arrested in a drug store in Lomita, about 12 miles south of Los Angeles. Police said he had taken arsenic from the druggist at gunpoint and swallowed it. His stomach was later pumped and he was reported in satisfactory condition.

He leaves a widow and 5-year-old son.

Spychala's arrest ended a daylong search that started when one of his neighbors told police Spychala had stolen his car and was armed with five guns and looking for police officers.

Police also had been warned by a minister that Spychala had a "death wish," to die in a gun battle with police, and that he intended to find his victim by breaking traffic laws.

Andrews had stopped the car allegedly stolen by Spychala, and was killed in an exchange of gunfire.

Reedy And Mayes Sparkle As Minico Overpowers Idaho Falls By 80-57

IDAHO FALLS—Irvin Reedy and Dean Mayes staged a strong rebounding and scoring show Wednesday night to lead the Minico Spartans past the Idaho Falls Tigers 80-57 in the Eastern Idaho Conference opener for both clubs.

The Spartans controlled the boards well as Reedy pulled down 20 rebounds and hit 19 points and the ever-steady Mayes had 15 takedowns and 21 points. They were joined by everyone else in the scoring column as the Spartans hit 50 per cent from the floor and never were in any serious trouble. Getting some early points from Bob Seamons, Minico bounced into a 15-7 first quarter edge and boosted it slightly to 36-24 at halftime.

The Spartans blew it wide open in the third quarter when Idaho Falls tried a full-court press. Coach Les Roh's crew romped over and through it for a succession of easy shots and crumples and quickly piled up a 20-point margin. Minico's lead finally hit 28 points at 76-48 before the Spartans coasted in.

Minico hit 32 of 64 shots from the floor for an even 50 per cent while Idaho Falls was considerably colder with 33 per cent on 19 of 57. Minico dominated the backboards at a two-to-one ratio on rebounds.

Colorado Minimized Errors, Got Bowl Bid

HOUSTON (AP)—Eddie Crowder says his Colorado Buffs gained their 8-2 season record while applying part of theory behind the Split-T formation to the passing game.

"I don't mean the four yards a try but of not making mistakes," Crowder said as his Ray Schmidt and Dr. J. C. Rushton turned in big games Tuesday night at the Magic Bowl during Valley League competition.

Dr. Rushton carved out a 207 game for the weekly honors there as his total eclipsed Schmidt's best effort by two pins. But Schmidt had the best series, going on to post a 670. Schmidt is a member of the Gateway Trailer team while Dr. Rushton bowls for Club 93.

49ers Fire Coach After 7-7 Season

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Coach Jack Christiansen was fired Wednesday in a face to face meeting with President Lou Spadia of the San Francisco 49ers after a 7-7 break-even season in the National Football League.

Spadia said he has held no interviews and has none scheduled for a possible successor, "but I would like to start talks as soon as possible. I hope to have a new head coach to work with our personnel director and general manager in time to plan for the player draft Jan. 30."

Lynn O. Waldorf is personnel chief and Jack White general manager. Christiansen commented, "That's one of the things that's going to happen to a coach if he doesn't win. Mr. Spadia gave no reason. He said things didn't work out like he hoped, and he wanted a change."

"I'm disappointed. I had hoped to be given a chance to continue after we won our last two games." He pointed out his record the past three years was 20-19-3 after he took "the 49ers at the very bottom" from fired coach Red Hickey, 6-3 in 1963. Under Christiansen the club was 2-9 the balance of that season and 4-10 in 1964.

ISU Shows Well In Big Sky Statistics

By The Associated Press Idaho State dominates Big Sky Conference basketball statistics as the six teams go into a slack weekend, then face a heavy tournament schedule after Christmas.

Idaho State, with four victories in five games, boasts the league's top scorer in Ron Boone. His 131-point total averages out at 26.2 a game. Leading rebounder is Ed Wilson of Idaho State with a 22.5 average in five games. Ralph McGee, another Bengal, is tops in field goals with 62.2 per cent, hitting 23 of 37.

The Bengals also hold the team leads in offense, field goals and rebounds. The University of Idaho has the top rungs in team defense and free throw percentages.

Montana State, Montana and Weber State hold most of the second places in the week's statistical columns. For the Bengals, Jack Gillespie is the top scorer and rebounder and the squad is second in team rebounds.

Idaho has the second rung in individual free throws with Jim Thacker's 29 of 34. Montana is second in team offense and team field goals. Weber is second in team defense.

Gonzaga's sole first place comes on the free throw hitting of Paz Rocha whose 16 of 17 gives him a percentage of 94. The schedule has Idaho and Montana State idle until conference action opens the first weekend of January. Weber State plays host for the Golden Spike Tournament in Ogden, Utah, beginning Dec. 27. That same day Idaho State faces All-College Tournament action in Oklahoma City.

Gonzaga will begin Albuquerque, N.M., for the Lobo Tournament while Montana enters the Evansville Classic in Indiana Dec. 28.

Buffets entered the final phases of heavy work in preparation for Saturday's Bluebonnet Bowl game with the Miami Hurricanes.

The 7-3 Miami team arrived Thursday morning.

"The Split-T was based on trying to make every play work by cutting the margin for error to the minimum," Crowder said.

"Now we figure you should complete well over 50 per cent of your passes and hold your interceptions under five per cent."

The Buffs completed 54.5 per cent of their passes this year and had 4.8 per cent intercepted.

They did a pretty good job holding their own mistakes to a minimum while intercepting 21 passes and recovering 18 fumbles. Only eight of their own passes were intercepted and they lost the ball 12 times on fumbles. That is an average of two turnovers a game and four of the 20 were in their worst game, a 23-0 loss to Oklahoma.

"We don't have a super star," Crowder said. "We have to grind it out and like to keep our running and passing pretty well balanced. Our defense did a good job and contributed to a number of our scores. They gave us the ball in good position a lot of times."

Hardy Angler Can Still Catch Trout

Hardy Magic Valley anglers still have several fine trout waters open to fishing during the winter months.

Some of the more familiar spots include Mormon Reservoir, Niagara and Crystal Springs, Salmon Falls Creek Reservoir, and the main stem of the Snake River. The 1968 Fishing Regulations should be consulted for complete information on all water open during the winter months in Magic Valley.

Three popular winter fisheries, Roseworth Reservoir west of Rogerson, Little Wood Reservoir north of Carey, and Fish Creek Reservoir northeast of Carey are open the first of January 1968 to winter ice fishing. These three reservoirs have received plantings of hatchery trout the past two years to beef up the winter ice fishing. In fact 400 Rainbow surplus brood stock averaging three pounds apiece were recently planted in Fish Creek Reservoir. A similar planting is scheduled for Roseworth.

Fishing through an opening broken or cut through the ice with more than one line or pole per angler is legal. In other words an angler may fish with as many poles as he thinks he can handle at one time.

A fishing license is not required of resident children under 14 years of age. Non-resident children under the age of fourteen, who are accompanied by a holder of a valid fishing license, may also fish without a license. However, any fish caught by the non-resident child shall be included in the bag and possession limit of the accompanying holder of the valid fishing license.

Boston College Blasts LaSalle

BOSTON (AP)—Boston College, the nation's eighth ranked basketball power, trounced North Carolina State 72-55 and Providence outclassed LaSalle of Philadelphia 77-56 Wednesday night in opening round games of the second annual Christmas College Tournament at the Boston Garden.

The BC Eagles built a 19-point lead before North Carolina State rallied briefly to close to within 36-25 at the half.

The Wolfpack moved to within six points 40-34 in the first four minutes of the second half, but the Eagles quickly regained a comfortable margin on a pair of field goals by Steve Adelman and one by Bob Dukiet.

After Dick Braucher hit on a jumper, Dukiet added two more field goals and the Eagles merely ran out their fourth victory in five starts.

ROUITS TORONTO, MONTREAL (AP)—Dick Duff rammed home three goals and Henri Richard got four assists to lead the Montreal Canadiens to a 5-0 rout of the Toronto Maple Leafs in a National Hockey League game Wednesday night.

Idaho Uses New Lineup To Top Ohio

MOSCOW, Idaho (AP)—Idaho, using a revised lineup, jumped to an early lead and was never in trouble in defeating Ohio University 78-64 in an intercollegiate basketball game here Wednesday night.

Coach Wayne Anderson moved Jerry Smith to center, switched Steve Brown to forward with Tony Traweck and used Phil Waddell at guard along with Jimmy Thacker.

With 11 minutes left, Ohio closed it to 51-45, then lost the momentum when Thacker hit four times from the foul line. He led the Vandals with 19 points. Waddell and Jim Christensen scored 10 apiece.

Fred Cluff took game honors with 21 points while teammate Mark McClintock had 14.

Horlen And Peters Lead AL Pitchers

BOSTON (AP)—Joe Horlen and Gary Peters changed the billing from a year ago but the two Chicago White Sox pitching aces still managed to keep everyone else out of their act atop the American League's earned run average department.

In 1966, left-hander Peters took top honors with a 1.98 average while the right-handed Horlen finished second at 2.43. This season, according to the official figures announced Tuesday, it was Horlen, 19.7, who finished on top at 2.06 while Peters 16.11 took runner-up honors at 2.28.

Teammate Tommy John, 10-13, was fourth with a 2.48 mark as the brilliant Chicago staff dominated the league for the second straight year with a club average of 2.45. The second-placed Minnesota staff was far behind at 3.14.

Cleveland's Sonny Siebert, 10-12, was third individually at 2.38, while Minnesota's Jim Merritt, 13-7, finished fifth at 2.51.

Boston's Jim Lonborg, 22-9, the Cy Young Award winner as the league's top pitcher, also led in strikeouts with 246. Minnesota's Dean Chance, 20-14, pitched the most innings, 284, and had the most complete games, 18.

Five pitchers tied for the lead in shutouts with six each—Horlen, John, Steve Hargan of Cleveland, Mickey Lolich of Detroit and Jim McGlothlin of California.

Raiders Put Lamonica, Cannon, 4 Others On AFL Dream Team

By HAL BOCK

NEW YORK (AP)—Quarterback Daryle Lamonica and tight end Billy Cannon, who emerged from obscurity to lead Oakland to the American Football League's Western Division crown, head a contingent of six Raiders named to AFL's All-Star team by an Associated Press panel of 27 sports writers and broadcasters.

Three-man committees from each of the league's nine cities made Lamonica and Cannon strong choices along with Oakland center Jim Otto on the offensive team.

Defensively, the Raiders placed end Ben Davison, tackle Tom Keating and cornerback Kent McCloughan.

The six selections were one more than the Kansas City Chiefs, displaced Western champions, McCloughan was the only Raider chosen last year.

KC placed running back Mike Garrett and tackle Jim Tyrer on the offensive team and tackle Buck Buchanan, linebacker Robinson on the defensive unit. All except Garrett made the first team last year.

The only rookie on the team is Houston's massive linebacker, George Webster, one of four Oilers on the team.

Webster, cornerback Miller Farr and defensive end Pat Holmes were the Oilers chosen on defense. Bob Talamini, a guard, was picked for the offensive team.

Lance Alworth, a nearly unanimous choice at flanker, leads a trio of picks from San Diego. Other Chargers selected on the offensive team were tackle Ron Mix and guard Walt Sweeney. Mix and Alworth both made it last season.

Boston notched two spots, both repeaters from last year. Jim Nance, who gained more than 1,000 yards rushing for the second straight year, and middie line backer Nick Buoniconti are the Patriot representatives.

New York, battling Houston for the AFL's Eastern crown, pulled down only one spot on the first team. That went to split end George Sauer, a strong con-player on the first team. Buffalo's only representative is safety George Salmes. Miami and Denver were the only teams to miss placing a

Oakland's Rauch Named Coach Of Year In AFL

NEW YORK (AP)—John Rauch, who piloted the Oakland Raiders to their first American Football League Western Division title ever, has been selected AFL Coach of the Year by a nationwide Associated Press panel of sports writers and sportscasters.

Rauch outdistanced San Diego's Sid Gillman and Wally Lemm of Houston in voting by three-man committees in each of the AFL's nine league cities. It was a romp to the Western crown by the underdog Raiders, who trailed Kansas City in preseason estimates but made a shambles-of-the-race-by-drumming the Chiefs and prime contender San Diego, that gave Rauch the nod.

In only his second year as head coach of the Oakland entry, Rauch molded the Raiders into title contenders with a re-designed defense and one of the AFL's stingiest defenses.

The year has been a coach's dream, but one which Rauch had a great deal to do in molding. He stepped up to the top job as coach succeeding Al Davis before the 1966 season. The 8-5 record was good, but not good enough.

During the off-season, he swung a controversial trade which sent longtime Oakland quarterback Tom Flores and split end Art Powell to Buffalo for quarterback Daryle Lamonica, who had warmed the Bills bench for four years, and Glenn Bass, a wide receiver.

Bass failed to make the Raiders in training camp and the deal looked like a bust.

Containing Bart Starr, Runback Specialist Are Two 'Musts' For Rams

By BOB MYERS
LOS ANGELES (AP) — The stock answer of any football coach — worth his weight in clichés is to say, after a bad first half and an improved second half:

West All-Stars Come From Packers, Rams

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The Green Bay Packers and the Los Angeles Rams, the top teams in the Western Conference of the National Football League, each placed nine players on the West's All-Star squad for the Pro Bowl game Jan. 21.

The squad, selected by vote of the coaches in the Western Conference, was announced Wednesday by special events directors Glenn Davis of the Los Angeles Times and Dave Brandman of the Herald-Examiner, sponsors of the game.

Heading the roster were quarterbacks Johnny Unitas of the Baltimore Colts, who will make his 10th appearance in the Pro Bowl, and the Los Angeles Rams' Roman Gabriel, his first Pro Bowl action.

Two star rookies from the Detroit Lions make the squad — halfback Mel Farr and defensive back Lem Barney.

Miss Meyer Is Woman Of Year

MOSCOW (AP) — Debbie Meyer, the 15-year-old world record swimmer from Sacramento, Calif., has been selected the world's outstanding "Sports-woman of 1967" in a poll of 13 news agencies in Europe, America and Asia by Tass, the official Soviet news agency.

Idaho Coach Candidates Cut Down

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A "workable list" of candidates for the University of Idaho's head football coaching job has been submitted to the Athletic Board of Control for Christmas holiday interviews.

Roland O. Byers, chairman of the board, said Wednesday the screening committee submitted the list of an undisclosed number of candidates.

Byers said interviews with the various candidates would start during the Christmas vacation. He did not indicate when a selection could be expected.

Refusing to say what is a "workable" number of candidates, Byers said those expressing interest in the job had been screened carefully by the committee and that "the full board felt they had made some fine recommendations."

Oakley JVs Top Minico Juniors 68-54

OAKLEY — Sophomore Kim Martindale sparked a third quarter scoring spree that carried the Oakley Juniors to a 68-54 decision over their counterparts from Minico Tuesday night.

Buhl and Stuart Trade Victories

BUHL — The Buhl freshmen took a cliff-hanging victory over the Robert Stuart frosh Friday afternoon after the Robert Stuart eighth graders won a pair of decisions.

The frosh game was the highlight with the score tied with 15 seconds left. Then Buhl hit two free throws to halt it away.

Earlier, one half of the Stuart eighth grade team topped the Buhl seventh graders 36-26. In an eighth-grade confrontation, Robert Stuart won 43-24.

Tennessee Sinks Wake Forest

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — Five Tennessee players scored in double figures as the ninth-ranked Volunteers defeated Wake Forest, 81-63, Wednesday night for their 28th consecutive basketball victory on their home court.

Turbine Car Sets Speedway Record

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla. (AP) — An experimental turbine car circled Daytona International Speedway at 176.056 miles an hour Wednesday, a record for turbine-powered autos on a closed track.

It beat Parnelli Jones' 168.075 M.P.H. at Indianapolis last May.

Ray Heppenstall, 35-year-old veteran sports car driver and head of the Howmet car project, drove the 1,400-pound streamlined car in its first test against the official speedway timing system. He made a lap at 176.6 M.P.H. and then two laps in a row at 176.2.

Starr and Jones 'Musts' For Rams

"We made some adjustments during the half," the Los Angeles Rams coach — worth his weight in clichés is to say, after a bad first half and an improved second half:

termismission of their first game with Green Bay Dec. 9 and the big one coming up Saturday in Milwaukee.

One will be to try to contain the Packers' great quarterback, Bart Starr, in the passing pocket. Another would be to aim the football on a kick anywhere but the immediate vicinity of rookie speedster Travis Williams.

The Starr matter: It was positively sinful, from the Rams' viewpoint, the way that man scampered and scrambled. Bart has always been regarded as a conservative type of quarterback, none of that Fran Tarkenton behavior.

"I can't wait to play against Starr and Johnny Unitas," said the Rams' noted quarterback-eater, David "Deacon" Jones. "I always know where to find them — in the pocket."

That was before the Green Bay game. After it, the Deacon was an exhausted man. He chased Bart all over the place and seldom caught him. On one play Jones must have run 100 yards trying to throw Starr for a 7-yard loss.

The same was true of Jones' fellow All-Pro, Merlin Olsen, and other warriors on defense. "He was sure different," said Lamar Lundy.

It happened to be Jones' 29th birthday. "Whew," said Deac. "I feel like I had 20 birthdays today. Look at those gray hairs."

Starr had an argument in rebuttal. "It was not my choosing that I was running around the way I was. I was just forced out of the pocket."

Then there was the case of Travis Williams. The Rams knew he had returned three kickoffs for touchdowns this year, and in the first half Bruce Gossett's kickoffs were of the squib variety.

But in the second half the Rams played it bold, booted to Williams and all he did was break a tackle about eight yards out of the end zone and continue a speedy journey of 104 yards and six points.

Allen is bound to think up an adjustment for that strategy.

The Rams won the game, 27-24 — remember, in the final 34 seconds? — but that was doing it the hard way. There must be an easier one.

Packer Front Four Know Their Objective In Sunday's Contest

By KEN HARTNETT
GREEN BAY, Wis. (AP) — The Green Bay Packers' front four, relatively unsung but sometimes spectacular, have an obvious objective Saturday.

"We've got to keep the pressure on Gabriel," said Willie Davis, the Packers' All-Pro end and defensive captain.

"We've got to get Gabriel off balance," said tackle Ron Kostelnik.

Roman Gabriel is the quarterback for the Los Angeles Rams, the team the Packers meet in Milwaukee Saturday for the National Football League's Western Conference title.

Gabriel got the better of Davis, Kostelnik, Lionel Aldridge and Henry Jordan two games ago when the Packers lost to the Rams 27-24.

The tall, quick and strong Gabriel was hot that day. He was even hotter last Sunday when he completed 18 of 22 passes in a rout of the previously unbeaten Baltimore Colts.

The Packers' pass rush is a key element in their defense — the best over-all in the NFL. But in the last few weeks, the rush has not been what it used to be.

"We haven't had one for the past two or three games," said Aldridge. "We have to have a hell of a lot more than what we've had Saturday and I think we'll get it."

Tackle Henry Jordan, 6-foot-3, 240 pounds, will be matching moves with the Rams' Tom Mack, who is almost 10 years younger and 10 pounds heavier than Jordan.

"He's a real good one," said Jordan.

Davis will be up against Charlie Cowan, the tackle who won the game ball after keeping Davis off Gabriel's back two weeks ago.

Cowan is 6-foot-4, 265 pounds and a converted guard, which is an indication of his speed. Davis will be playing with a 20-pound weight disadvantage and a one-inch handicap in height.

Davis has great respect for Cowan. "He's good. You have to say he ranks with the better ones, especially in pass protection."

Kostelnik's opponent is Joe Scibelli, 6-foot, 255 pounds. Kostelnik is 6-foot-4, 260 pounds. "He's short and strong, a fine player," Kostelnik said.

Once the rush gets by the blockers, it encounters another problem — Gabriel himself. "A rush can't be a one man thing," Kostelnik said, noting that Gabriel is strong enough at 6-foot-4, 230 pounds to shrug off the single tackler.

"And he moves so well," Kostelnik said. "He's just so damn big, he's hard to get."

Taylor Only Man To Keep NFL Crown

NEW YORK (AP) — Washington's Charley Taylor, the National Football League's top pass receiver in 1966, is the only individual champion to defend his crown successfully, NFL statistics disclosed today.

Taylor caught 70 passes, two less than last year, beating out teammate Jerry Smith who had 67. Bobby Mitchell was fourth with 60, giving the Redskins the best showing ever by a trio of receivers on the same team.

The man who threw to that trio, Sonny Jurgensen, wound up as the top passer in the league and also set three records: 508 attempts, 298 completions and 3,747 yards.

Cleveland's Leroy Kelly won the rushing title, gaining 1,205 yards, and Jim Bakken of St. Louis won the scoring race with 117 points.

Rookie Lem Barney of Detroit and Dave Whitsett of New Orleans tied for the pass interception lead with 10 each, but Barney posted more return yardage, 232 to 178.

Atlanta's Billy Lothridge was the top punter with a 43.7 average. Ben Davis of Cleveland led all punt returners with a 12.7 average and Travis Williams of Green Bay was the best kickoff returner with an average of 41.1 yards.

Bradley Buries Top-Rated Aztecs

PEORIA, Ill. (AP) — Tenth-ranked Bradley, hitting a torrid 71 per cent from the field, ran away from San Diego State late in the second half Wednesday night for a 95-76 basketball victory.

Bradley outscored San Diego 22-5 in the last six minutes after the Aztecs, ranked number one among small college teams in this week's Associated Press poll, had edged within two points, 73-71.

The victory ran the Braves' unbeaten string to eight. San Diego now stands at 5-2.

Bradley trailed most of the first half until Joe Allen, who ended up with 25 points, and Al Smith teamed up with 5-14 remaining for nine straight points to put Bradley ahead.

CLUB FINESSE HAD TO WORK

"Why did I get involved with this slam?" thought South to himself. "Guess I shouldn't have bid that nine-high suit. Or maybe I shouldn't have jumped to three no-trump. No, I fear that North would have gotten me to a low club and finessed dummy's jack. Things started well. His next plays were a high trump and a low club back toward his hand. If clubs were 4-1, East just might ruff, but East followed to the second club and South was ready to go after that queen of trumps.

That is, he was almost ready, because he noted that he did not really need to pick up the queen. As long as trumps would break 3-2, he could simply cash the last high trump and let whichever opponent held the queen make it at his leisure. Then he cashed dummy's last high trump and proceeded to play the rest of the clubs. East didn't trump, but nothing could do him any good. All he could make was that one trick whenever he chose to make it. If South had tried the trump finesse, East would have taken his queen and led the suit back. South could discard one spade and one heart on clubs and ruff one spade and one heart, but he would be left with a loser at the finish.

Then South looked the hand over to see just what was his chance of actually making the hand. If West held both minor suit queens and both suits broke, everything would be wine and roses. How about if one queen were wrong? South studied a while more and saw that he had to pick up the club queen in any event, so at trick two South led

Mom Won't Budge So He's Stuck!

Dear Ele: I have a bad problem: My mother! My father works Tuesday through Sunday night and is home on Monday nights. My mother is scared to stay home alone at night. Whenever there is a football game or a nighttime school activity, I am not allowed to go because my mother won't stay alone. Now my father has joined a bowling league that has games on Monday nights, so there goes my only night out. Mom refuses to go to the bowling alley with him! Do you think this fair?—Claude

Dear Claude: Granted the situation is ridiculous, still your mother's fears are very real to her. So let's try to work around them. For example, could you drop your mother off at a friend's home on your way to a date? Or could you encourage her to enroll in some evening club or class to keep her occupied and accompanied while you socialize? Dad's the guy to discuss this with, since you'll certainly need an accomplice to get "Mrs. Sit-By-the-Fire" away from her hearth.—Ele

FATHER'S PREROGATIVE
Dear Ele and Walt: You've touched this question once before, but you didn't give any answer. This time I want you to simply say yes or no. Here is the question: do you think a father should have the right to forbid his daughter to date or receive phone calls from a boy simply because that boy takes part in peace demonstrations and the girl's father is a Hawk?—The Dove
Dear Dove: A father is responsible for the welfare of his daughter. If he sincerely feels that the activities of some of her acquaintances could eventually bring her into danger, then he has an obligation to terminate those relationships. Thus if you insist on a yes or no reply, we'll have to check yes, even though it tremendously oversimplifies an agonizingly

Grain

CHICAGO (AP)—Two bearish government reports tended to influence lower prices for wheat and soybeans on the Chicago Board of Trade today.

The principal influence on wheat was a U.S. Department of Agriculture report issued after the close of business Wednesday. The report anticipated about the same amount of winter wheat as was produced in 1967, but with a surplus bumper crop this year the figures for next year were construed as bearish.

Another report showed that there were more soybeans in processor's hands at the end of November than a month ago. Oats and rye displayed some good firmness but trade was light. Corn had good buyer support.

Light trade and irregular prices featured the choice steer market.

Lawsuit Is Filed By Land Concern

A complaint filed in Fifth Judicial District Court Wednesday afternoon by the Golden Valley Land and Cattle Co., Inc., Burley, seeks to collect $5,543 from the Federal Crop Insurance Corp.

The complaint alleges the federal agency owes the land company as a result of alleged transactions between the agency and the land owners.

Donald M. Gary and Mike Wolverton and A. H. Jamleson, owners of the land company, allege that on May 27 they entered contracts with Federal Crop Insurance for insurance on individual farm units. On March 7, they say, the defendant reviewed the contracts and made a single contract asking for payment of $11,218.25.

The plaintiffs refused to pay the amount and on Aug. 15, they allege, the defendant took $5,542.82 "by way of set off moneys owed the plaintiff." Further, the complaint alleges, the defendant threatened to take the remaining $5,674.43 in the same manner.

The plaintiff asks the court to order the agency to return the $5,542.82, plus interest since Aug. 15, and to prevent the agency from acquiring the additional amount.

Business Mirror

By JOHN CUNIFF AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market's year-end rally is becoming as much an institution in financial communities as Christmas parties and bonuses, both of which have been plentiful and bountiful this year.

There still remains some slight uncertainty, however, about the appearance of the traditional rally—in 35 of the past 40 years it has arrived on schedule, but you don't have to look far to find exceptions.

Last year, as the culmination of a nearly year-long decline, the market faded in the final week. As if to emphasize the year's bearishness, prices fell on each day between Christmas and New Year's.

There are a few indications this year also that the year-end rally might not be as pronounced or as financially rewarding as it has been in most years. But neither are prices expected to fall very much. It is a safe bet.

The factors that keep prices buoyant are numerous, but perhaps nothing in recent years has played a bigger role than income taxes. Shareowners early in December often sell stock to establish gains or losses for reporting on their tax forms in April.

This often depresses the prices of many shares and sets the stage for a quick recovery, especially if such tax selling has depressed prices into the big value category. There are always buyers looking for real values.

Selling to establish tax losses is a more important factor than selling to realize gains, for those who have big declines for the year are very much inclined to recoup some of their losses through tax rebates. The law says $1,000 per person in losses can be deducted from income each year.

In anticipation of a busy Christmas season, most shareholders get their tax selling out of the way by Dec. 25. This leaves them with proceeds to reinvest and, in the Christmas spirit, they frequently do just that.

Institutions increasingly are doing their bit to assure the year-end rally, for many of them dress up their portfolios with new stocks before the year-end report. A big list of strong stocks is their best window display.

All these coincidental factors act to boost prices during the final week of the year and very often well into January of the next year as well.

Psychological factors also play a role. December is the month of economic forecasts, and few analysts of the American economy are consistently bearish. Hope and optimism reign, at least in the financial realm.

This year two other factors will be influencing the year-end attitude. First, inflation is unrestrained at the moment and very likely will remain unchecked into 1968. A good many people believe stocks are inflation's best hedge.

The other factor might work to dampen a year-end rally. Again this factor involves taxes, but it is a widespread feeling that income taxes will be raised next year. As a result, many shareholders are bound to sell and take their profits this year.

The Daily Investor

By WILLIAM A. DOYLE

I own 400 shares of stock in a Canadian company. Some are registered in her name; some $1 a share in dividends last year. So, I should have received $400. But 10 per cent was deducted for Canadian income tax.

Ten months ago my company declared a stock dividend. My wife received a certificate for one more share and a check for $9.50. I received nothing. I went to the office of the registrar of the stock and was told to write a letter to that office. I did. Two months later I received a letter telling me that my letter had been received. But, up to now, I have received nothing else. Do you have any idea why there is this mix-up?

A. You can't. But you can report that Canadian tax when you file your U.S. income tax return, thereby reducing the total tax you have to pay in this country. You do this by claiming a foreign tax credit.

Canada and a number of other countries have withholding taxes on dividends paid to non-residents. That tax is taken out at the source. Canada won't give it back to you.

There's where the foreign tax credit comes in. Here's what you do: On Form 1040 of the Federal income tax return you file for this year you list the foreign tax you paid. You do it in the line provided in Part V, on Page 2. Then, you also list it on Line 13, Page 1; subtract it from the tax you would have had to pay (Line 12) without the credit; end up with a lower tax bill.

You must also attach a copy of Form 1116, on which you detail the foreign tax withheld. Just remember that you claim your foreign tax credits in U.S. dollars. As I write this, a Canadian dollar is worth 92 1/2 cents in U.S. money. In your case $40 in Canadian currency was withheld. That figures out to $37 in U.S. money. So, you claim a $37 foreign tax credit when you file your U.S. income tax return.

Q. My wife and I each own the same amount of stock in a certain company. Some are registered in her name; some $1 a share in dividends last year. So, she and I always received dividend checks for the same amount of money.

Ten months ago my company declared a stock dividend. My wife received a certificate for one more share and a check for $9.50. I received nothing. I went to the office of the registrar of the stock and was told to write a letter to that office. I did. Two months later I received a letter telling me that my letter had been received. But, up to now, I have received nothing else. Do you have any idea why there is this mix-up?

A. The best guess would be that the letter to you containing a certificate for one share and a check for $9.50 (as payment for a fractional share) was lost in the mail.

Unfortunately, these things do happen. And it can take time to straighten them out. But there's no excuse for the long delay you have been going through—after calling the situation to the company's attention. (As a stockholder (a part owner) of the company, you should get faster action.)

Try again. This time write both the office of the treasurer of the company and the transfer agent. Both the transfer agent and the registrar are usually big banks. The transfer agent issues and mails out the certificates. The registrar just keeps tabs, to be sure that no more than the authorized number of shares are issued.

(Mr. Doyle will answer only representative letters of general interest in his column. He cannot answer phone queries.)
