Idaho Sets New Road Death Toll

By The Associated Press
With five days left in 1967, the Idaho traffic death toll was running one ahead of the previous record of highway fatalities.
The death of a Pocatello man, 58-year-old Dean Williams, brought the toll to 273 for the year, one higher than the former record set in 1962.
Williams was fatally injured in a two-car crash Sunday in Chubbuck, a suburb north of Pocatello. Idaho State Police said they plan to file charges against the driver of the second car.
The victim and a companion, Max Humble, 37, also Pocatello, were riding in an open-top vehicle when struck from behind, police said.
They were thrown from the vehicle.
Humble was listed in good condition by a Pocatello hospital.
Two other Idahoans, 41-year-old Heidi L. Foster of Boise and 25-year-old Virgil V. Evans of Cataldo, died from traffic mishaps earlier in the three-day Christmas weekend.
The 1966 traffic toll on this date was 264.

IN NOVEMBER BILLY G. Smith was killed by a land mine in Vietnam. He is shown here with his mother, Mrs. Martha Smith, Twin Falls before he went to war last April. Mrs. Smith said Tuesday her son gave his life for his country and she would let him go to Vietnam again if given the chance. "He fought for freedom and his death was God's will." She said she approved of the fight in Vietnam as a "way to stop communist aggression."

Vietnam Victim's Mother Not Bitter, Feels He Died For Sake Of Freedom

A Twin Falls mother who lost her only son in the Vietnam War last Nov. 12 said Tuesday she supports that war and what it stands for and "would approve of my son going over there again if the chance came."
Mrs. Martha Smith, living at the Rogerson Motor Inn, said the loss of her son "was God's will."
Billy G. Smith, serving with the Army in that war-torn country, stepped on a land mine last Nov. 12 and died of his wounds. His wife was presented the Purple Heart last week by Army officials.
Spec. 4 Smith was the son of Mr. and Mrs. William Smith of Filer.
Mrs. Smith said, "We are born to die. But when a young man is taken like this we must not question it. It is God's will."
"I know we question the orders sending our boys over to Vietnam to die. But we also know the communists want to rule the world. So many of our boys have expressed the desire to fight there than in America and we should appreciate the fact that they are giving their lives for this country."
She said, "I don't know what is going to happen in the future, but we know who rules the future. The Bible is being fulfilled and we must continue to have faith."
Mrs. Smith said, "It is my belief in God that has kept me going after Billy died."
Spec. 4 Smith is one of several area men killed in action in the Vietnam War.
Asked if she would want her son to go to Vietnam again if the chance came, she replied: "Yes. He wanted to do something for his country. He gave his country his life, for the sake of freedom."
Mrs. Smith said she does not understand the many protests against the war, adding: "It's for the freedom of this country that the boys are fighting there."

Arctic Air Stings U.S. Midsection

By The Associated Press
A fresh blast of arctic cold stung the nation's midsection today and sent a wave of ear-muff and mitten weather into the South as well.
Temperatures skidded below zero from the Dakotas to the Great Lakes and southward to Iowa and Nebraska. The mercury settled into the frosty 30s from Texas to Georgia.
Light rain and then snow preceded the new cold snap as it rolled eastward out of the Midwest. Rain dampened the coast from New England to Virginia while 1 to 2 inches of snow blanketed the country from lower Michigan to New York and Pennsylvania.

Death Probed

PRIEST RIVER, Idaho (AP) — Law officers continue an investigation here Tuesday into the Christmas eve beating death of a Yakima, Wash., man who died Sunday in a Spokane hospital.
Dead after the fight in a tavern was Harry B. Mosier, who was reportedly "in his late thirties."
Everett Hofmeister, Bonner County Prosecuting Attorney, said "it was too early to tell if murder charges will be filed, but an autopsy has been ordered and a coroner's inquest must likely will be called."

Peking Silent On Report Of Nuclear Test Blast

TOKYO (AP) — Peking kept silent again today about a report from the U.S. Atomic Energy Commission that the Chinese Reds had set off their seventh nuclear test explosion Sunday. The silence heightened speculation that something went wrong.
Official boasting and reports of celebrations in the streets followed each of Red China's six previous blasts. But a Radio Peking broadcast Monday made mention of the reported Christmas Eve explosion in the Lop Nor testing area of central Asia. Instead it reviewed the first six blasts and touted the thought of Mao Tse-tung.
The AEC declined to comment on the Chinese silence and said it would stand by its original statement, which reported the location of the blast and said the explosion equaled roughly 20,000 tons of TNT. That would be similar to the first atomic bomb, dropped on Hiroshima in 1945.
Japanese air force planes detected unusual radioactive fallout over Japan Tuesday, but the government said it was not great enough to endanger humans.
Peking announced its previous nuclear tests within 10 hours after detonation. But Japanese correspondents in Peking reported that there was no official word there Monday of the test.
A Japanese military writer Tadao Kusumi, said the latest Chinese test was believed connected with experiments with low-yield nuclear weapons. The low yield of the explosion could indicate the bomb was carried by a medium-range missile, experts in Washington said.
Kusumi said it was also possible the timing was political, as Mao's 74th birthday is today. Kusumi recalled that Communist China set off its fifth nuclear device last Dec. 29, or just after Mao's birthday.
The sixth test was carried out last June 17. It was Red China's first hydrogen bomb explosion.

Man Accused Of Robberies Is Arrested

Dennis L. Spor, 19, 1960 Addison Ave. E., was arraigned in Twin Falls police court Tuesday morning on charges of armed robbery. He requested a preliminary hearing.
Judge Harry Turner set bond at $1,500 and Spor was remanded to the custody of the county sheriff in lieu of posting bond.
He is charged with participating in the armed robberies last week of two Twin Falls service stations in which about $150 was taken.
Officers said a warrant was issued several days ago for the arrest of Dennis Spor. Shortly after midnight Christmas eve he telephoned the Twin Falls sheriff's office. He was taken into custody near the Sugar Factory where he told officers he would be waiting.
Also arraigned in police court Tuesday on charges of disorderly conduct was Richard Spor, 18, a brother. He was taken into custody Friday afternoon by city police after allegedly causing a disturbance at Shelby's market. He entered a plea of guilty and was sentenced to five days in the city jail.

Kennedys Gather

SUN VALLEY, Idaho (AP) — Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, D-N.Y., and his family celebrated Christmas here around a five-foot pine tree before going skiing on the slopes of Mt. Baldy. Kennedy, his wife and their children are on what has become an annual skiing vacation at the central Idaho winter sports area.

U.S. Warplanes Strike As Christmas Truce Ends

By GEORGE MCARTHUR
SAIGON (AP) — American warplanes dashed over North Vietnam Monday night as soon as the allies' Christmas truce ended and caught the Communists moving a massive amount of material south.
Air Force, Navy and Marine jet pilots reported they jumped a dozen or more small convoys and at least two big ones, including a string of 150 trucks stretched over seven miles.
"I guess they thought we were going to give them a night off," said a U.S. spokesman. "They found out different."
Acting on intelligence from reconnaissance pilots who flew throughout the truce period, the fighter-bombers found their targets as soon as they reached the major supply routes stretching down the North Vietnamese coast.
Although only a few minutes of light remained when the planes reached the target area, long strings of flares were dropped and bombing continued through Christmas night.
Initial reports on the biggest convoy hit said 23 trucks were destroyed and eight damaged, and billowing fires dotted the seven miles of roadway.
"That is just part of it," the U.S. spokesman said. "We are still looking at pictures and adding up the results. It will be a great day."
Officers speculated that the Communists had begun a major supply effort at 6 p.m. Christmas Eve when the allied truce began and U.S. air strikes were suspended.
For the next 24 hours, the enemy convoys were able to move unmolested. The North Vietnamese apparently decided to take the chance that full-scale U.S. strikes would not resume until dawn today.
However, the U.S. response was almost immediate. Officers would not say just how long it took the American pilots to get over the targets after the truce ended, but it appeared that the planes were armed and poised for takeoff as soon as the leash was removed.
One U.S. Marine photo reconnaissance Phantom crashed as it returned Monday to Da Nang, killing the copilot and critically injuring the pilot. The crash was attributed to a landing accident.
U.S. B52 bombers also went back to war shortly after the truce ended. They attacked areas south of Da Nang where the Viet Cong and North Vietnamese were suspected of assembling and suspected of base areas, gun posts and infiltration routes in the demilitarized zone northwest of the Marine outpost at Con Thien.
The ground war resumed more slowly. First reports from U.S. headquarters today listed only scattered actions. The Viet Cong had announced that it would observe a Christmas cease-fire for 72 hours, until 1 a.m. Wednesday (noon today E.S.T.).

Launch Date Set For U.S. Moon Craft

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — The space agency today officially set Jan. 17 as the target launching date for its first unmanned Lunar Module, the type craft which is to land U.S. astronauts on the surface of the moon.
The bug-like vehicle, perched upon the same Saturn 1 rocket that was on a nearby launch pad when three astronauts died there in a spacecraft fire last Jan. 27, will be launched on an earth orbital exercise lasting about 6 1/2 hours.
National Aeronautics and Space Administration officials said beforehand that 625 to 725 per-

Holiday Traffic Deaths Exceed Toll Of Year Ago

By The Associated Press
Christmas holiday traffic deaths topped the toll of a year ago but fell short of the record set in 1965.
Motor vehicle fatalities in the period that began at 6 p.m. Friday and ended at midnight Monday, numbered 680. The total compared with 484 for a non-holiday weekend of equal, three-day length.
The record Christmas death rate for a three-day period was 720 in 1965. In the three-day observance last year the toll was 584. The all-time high for any holiday period, 784, was set in a four-day Thanksgiving observance in 1966.
"It's a sad commentary if we have to take consolation from the fact that we didn't set a record this year," a spokesman for the National Safety Council said.
He said Americans apparently have forgotten the national effort about traffic safety that engulfed the Christmas season last year during a time Congress was considering the subject.
"If the popular concern with traffic safety showed up during the last 12 months were still in effect, the total this holiday probably would have been toward or below the low end of our estimate," he said.
The safety council, with headquarters in Chicago, estimated beforehand that 625 to 725 per-

Gas Scare Refugees Have Christmas In Gymnasium

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP) — Four hundred refugees from a chlorine gas scare sang carols in an undecorated gymnasium Christmas Day as a woman and her 2-week-old daughter sat at the centerpiece of a nativity tableau.
Until Monday afternoon, when the all-clear was posted for 300 families roused from their homes by police late Christmas Eve, the holiday was celebrated with strangers at the gym of Robert E. Lee High School or with friends and relatives.
Sufferers of respiratory disease and heart patients were told to stay away from the neighborhood, however.
Almost every home in an 8-by-10 block section four miles southwest of downtown Jacksonville was emptied because dangerous fumes were drifting toward them from 91 fire-tuned chlorine tanks at a nearby chemical plant.
Children carrying unopened Christmas presents were bundled in warm coats against a night so cold they could see their breath — unusual in Florida.
Adults toted blankets. One man took his holiday turkey to the car in an open roasting pan.
The gym, about two miles from the center of the affected area, was opened by the Red Cross as an emergency shelter. Filled bleacher seats slowly filled with people until coats and mattresses arrived in the early morning hours.

Extent Of Local Drug Use Hard To Fix

By FRED DODDS
Times-News Staff Writer
Is the illegal use of drugs widespread in Idaho or Twin Falls? This is a very hard question to answer.
A reporter, going into a story on narcotics use, cannot give a snap judgment. Narcotics investigators, prosecutors in the state, police officers and those who make the laws do not know the extent of the problem in Idaho.
For instance, a single report of a youth using LSD in the local high school does not mean the entire student body, or even a majority of the students are taking the drug.
A scare may exist in people's minds, but the incident must be treated intelligently and action taken based on all the facts.
In reporting on a drug problem in Idaho or even Twin Falls, a reporter must depend on information supplied by the police, the courts or an informant, if such can be found and if the informant will talk.
Usually informants or addicts are not willing to talk on illegal drug use.
It is this reporter's experience that police officers are qualified to delve into drug problems to find out what is happening. Police are methodical and good at finding out things. But it takes time.
In Twin Falls, police are making an effort to find out about illegal drug use.
Until the results are in, this reporter cannot say to what extent the illegal drug problem is in this area.
This series was done in a string of interviews, and the interviews, reflect the feeling about illegal drug use; how widespread it may be, and what is being done about illegal drug use.
Recently the House of Delegates of the American Medical Association, reporting to a committee of alcoholism and drug dependence said drug dependence in all its forms is a serious question.
Only an aroused public can meet the problem. Education of the public is important, it was reported.
And persistent vigilance by the police is needed. But the police need money to keep up the fight.
Often in Twin Falls people believe the police are not telling the whole story. When Police Chief FRANK BARNETT says he does not believe the use of drugs in Twin Falls is widespread, he is met with doubt.
"It can't be, look what's hap-

THE QUESTION OF illegal drug use was posed to Dr. Luther Thompson, local medical director of the Idaho Department of Health, in an interview recently. He said he is personally aware of isolated incidents locally and in other states, but added he has no statistics to show illegal drug use in Twin Falls is becoming a widespread problem. In the interview, Dr. Thompson said public awareness is the "best way to fight the problem of illegal drug use or any other medical problem that might endanger the public health."

pening in San Francisco," people will say.
In most cases, narcotics enforcement in Twin Falls is not up to the police, but the parents. For every trip taken on LSD that is discovered, there may be 1,000. Maybe. There may be only 10. There is proof in Twin Falls that there have been LSD trips taken by high school and college students.
Dr. Luther Thompson, director of health in this area, has no actual knowledge of the use of illegal or dangerous drugs. If the problem is widespread, he would be informed. So far he has virtually no statistics.
Dr. Thompson has statistics on venereal diseases. His staff makes an effort to control the spread of the disease.
He would make such an effort in the area of dangerous or illegal drug use if such a problem were widespread enough to create a public health hazard.
Twin Falls County Prosecutor Michael Felton said recently two police officers are investigating narcotics use in Twin Falls. But to date, Mr. Felton, informed by the police, has no knowledge of any widespread use of LSD, marijuana, cocaine, heroin or opium in this area.
In Boise, however, more than 60 arrests have been made this year. There is every indication that each arrest has brought in a user of illegal drugs. But there is no evidence supporting the arrest of a pusher — a person who makes a living out of supplying illicit drugs.
The result? Statistics seem to show that people who use or experiment with drugs are getting those drugs from friends, or friends of friends. Use seems to show people taking drugs for a quick thrill, or a temporary escape.
Idaho law officers have not, to date, arrested anyone connected with the mafia, cosa nostra or the "machine."
How widespread is illegal drug use in Twin Falls? What is being done. These questions will be explored tomorrow.

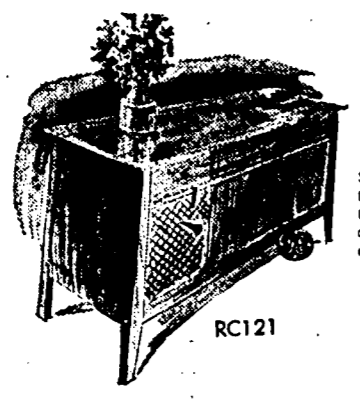

Nine Perish In Moscow Explosion

By JOHN WEYLAND
MOSCOW (AP) — An explosion shattered a six-story apartment building Monday night. And in an unrelated incident, a bomb blast damaged the empty car of an American correspondent.
Tass news agency said today nine persons were killed and several injured in the apartment house explosion. But a witness at the scene said a policeman told him more than 20 were killed and a bystander said 10 or 12 bodies were removed from the wreckage.
Police blamed a faulty gas main for the apartment house blast but said a powerful bomb wrecked the auto of Henry S. Bradsher, Associated Press bureau chief in Moscow. No one was injured in the car explosion, and it had no apparent connection with the other blast 10 minutes earlier on the opposite side of the Moscow River.
The apartment house blew up about 9:20 p.m., bystanders said. About 100 persons were believed living in the building's 24 apartments two miles southeast of the Kremlin.
Rescue workers with searchlights hunted in a heavy snowfall for victims while dozens of ambulances, fire engines and police cars gathered at the wreckage.
Most of the residents were believed at home because it was an ordinary weekday night. Russians celebrate Christmas on Jan. 7, according to the Julian calendar.
Gas explosions are not rare in the Soviet capital, although they are not publicly reported and officials refuse to disclose information on their frequency. The same general area was hit by a tremendous gas explosion last January that knocked out telephone communications for days. This was never publicly reported.
The Soviet press and radio maintained a blackout on the disaster Monday night also, and police, troops and barriers blocked off the mass of rubble and torn walls.
Hundreds of Russians gathered this morning to stare as a huge crane worked behind a board fence thrown up overnight. The police and soldiers refused to answer questions and would not allow Western newsmen to enter.

Crime May Be The Real Campaign Issue

WASHINGTON — Gene McCarthy to the contrary notwithstanding, the hottest debate during the hot campaign year 1968 may come on the issue of crime in the streets and not the Vietnam war. In the hallowed political tradition, the situation will be blamed on the other guy, and orators of both parties will have a point.

Congress failed to act on President Johnson's "safe streets" legislation during its first session because of a collision between conservative Republicans and Southern Democrats on one side and liberals from both parties on the other. The issue is how tough Congress can get with criminals without violating their civil rights.

Conservative Senators have opposed the administration bill to provide federal funds to local law enforcement agencies unless it also contains provisions to widen police interrogation powers and to permit wiretapping and electronic bugging by court order. Liberals have denounced both amendments as unconstitutional. The administration, whose own eavesdropping proposal would limit the practice to national security investigations, has urged that the police interrogation and wiretap issues be considered separately.

This jockeying is an example of Congress' awareness of where the votes are. Both houses passed without meaningful debate a crime bill for the voteless District of Columbia which would permit police to arrest and question suspects for up-to-three-hours without charging them. But what is good for the District is not good for the nation unless and until the politicians are assured that the nation will stand still for it.

My guess is that Main Street at this point is not inclined to split any constitutional hairs in a day when a body dare not venture out-of-doors at night lest he become an instant morgue statistic. After all, constitutional issues can still be appealed through the courts.

Under the detention section of the District bill, police would be required to tell a suspect of his rights to remain silent and to consult a lawyer during interrogation, in conformity with the Supreme Court's Miranda decision. But the bill also says a confession properly obtained during the three hours shall be admissible in court.

Crises have been raised by various opponents of the bill, notably a majority of the Washington City Council, that the section modifies the Supreme Court's Mallory decision, which invalidated confessions obtained during undue delay between arrest and arraignment. The question is what constitutes "undue delay?" Surely, the police should have the power to question suspects in a proper fashion, even if an innocent citizen occasionally is inconvenienced. Moreover, the citizen is protected by his right to remain silent and be represented by a lawyer.

Justice Department lawyers helped to write the bill for the District and indicated they believed it could pass a court test. The feeling among legal experts is that the Supreme Court would be inclined to uphold it on the grounds that the citizen's rights would be adequately protected even during a three-hour interrogation so long as the police hewed to the principles of the Miranda decision.

But there is another monkey wrench in the national bill. A republican amendment stipulates that state governments receive block grants for distribution among the cities at the state's discretion. The Justice Department wants the right to grant funds directly to city police and crime control agencies. Among other things, this would give Washington considerable political influence at the local level, negotiable in votes at election time.

Both sides so far have managed to ignore the vital point, which is that local police agencies need money now to beef up their operations. The side issues of widening police interrogation powers and eavesdropping practices should wait their turn while Republicans and Democrats agree on how the Federal money should be allocated. At this point, crime victims will settle for seeing an occasional cop on a street corner, even if his authority is limited to engaging the hoodlum in conversation while the citizen flees for his life.

BRUCE BIOSSAT Critics Are Not Realistic

WASHINGTON (NEA) — The last flurry of protest by a band of Senate liberals against the alleged inadequacies of the new Social Security bill was neither impressively realistic nor convincingly responsible.

Basically, the measure revises the Social Security system covering retirement, survivors' and disability benefits and related Medicare. Controversial welfare features are secondary.

The bill provides the largest single upthrust in Social Security benefits in the system's history. In calendar 1968, some $2.9 billion more will be paid out to U. S. citizens than would have been dispensed under the pre-1967 law. The rise in outlays will be even sharper in 1969.

A handful of liberal senators, mostly Democrats but including a few Republicans, extravagantly portrayed these milestone gains as virtually an affront to humanity.

It was not noticeable that they dealt candidly with means of financing the considerably more liberal benefit proposals many of them called for. The approved legislation is, on the other hand, supportable with visible revenues.

The enacted measure, for instance, lifts from $1,500 a year to $1,680 a year the amount of money a worker may earn and still qualify for full retirement benefits. The voted Senate version would have set the level at $2,400, a proposal estimated to cost $975 million right now and more later. Suggested financing was inadequate.

In 1967 some 24 bills were tossed into the congressional hopper to eliminate altogether this so-called "retirement test" related to earnings levels. That would cost the government another $2 billion now and more later. And it has been a pretty popular notion among wand-waving liberals.

There have been estimates from government sources that the higher benefits coming in 1968 and thereafter may elevate perhaps a million Americans out of poverty.

No analysis is available comparing this estimate with the possible uplifting effect of other federal antipoverty measures. But it would seem doubtful they could have so direct and sure an impact as nearly $3 billion added cash benefits in one year.

Curiously, and misleadingly, Maryland's Sen. Joseph Tydings and some others attacked the approved bill as a pitifully skimpy antipoverty undertaking.

Intentionally or not, the critics sounded as if they wanted to convert Social Security to an antipoverty relief program, pure and simple. Sometimes their assaults on disputed welfare provisions in the bill were so loosely phrased as to seem to condemn everything in it.

These attacks only compounded the already heightened confusion which today surrounds the sprawling Social Security system and its Medicare offshoot.

From its 1937 beginnings, the system always has been a compromise between a soundly structured old age and other insurance program and a form of welfare assistance to the elderly. Many Americans have received benefits (and still do) who have made little or no tax contribution to the system's funds.

Bombarded heavily lately for supposed weaknesses as an insurance program, Social Security, as the Senate liberals' attack underscores, is also getting it hard for alleged failure as an antipoverty enterprise.

But while the purists on both sides chop at its shortcomings, the system gets ready to pay out a record $25.2 billion in 1968 to 23.5 million Americans—roughly an eighth of total U. S. population.

Will You Be There?

On Jan. 2 four men will be sworn in as members of the Twin Falls city council. Three of these men are returning to the council, one is new. At this time, also, the council will either elect a new mayor or re-elect Egon Kroil.

After the November city election, this council meeting should be of prime interest to citizens in Twin Falls. We wonder how many will show up.

The election was more exciting than any in the city's past. And registration for the election was a record.

Conflict in the election seemed to be between the ultra-conservatives and those already on the council who felt they had done a good conservative job. Apparently the voters agreed, as all members of the council were returned to office.

Re-elected were George Bennett, Eugene Stacey and Frank Feldman. Frank Cook, supported by the incumbent slate, was also elected.

Calvin G. McIntyre, councilor for the past four years, chose not to run for re-election last November and Mr. Cook will take his place.

Mr. McIntyre is to be commended for a job well done. It is not easy to be a councilman.

But by Jan. 2 it will be all over. An end to a controversy that started in the fall when election fever struck.

Attendance at the Jan. 2 meeting should be a good indication of citizen concern for local government.

If no one shows up for the swearing in, it will be a sad commentary. It will be evident then that people care only for controversy and excitement.

Interest in local government is healthy. The people are the voice, and contrary to popular belief people do have a voice in government. This is evidenced every first and third Monday of the month in the city council chambers at city hall.

Councilmen DO listen to citizens. Councilmen weigh a citizen's request. A decision, which is in the best interests of the city, is delivered only after careful thought.

We urge more citizens to show more interest in their local government.

Bilingual Canada

Soon after he became prime minister of Canada, Lester Pearson obtained parliamentary approval of a commission to study means of removing grievances harbored by the country's French-speaking minority.

The first fruits of that study are at hand. They propose sweeping changes, and federal and provincial levels, that would make French the official equivalent of English.

This equality would prevail in parliaments, the courts, all federal departments and in those provinces possessing a French-speaking population of 10 per cent or more which elect to make the change.

The effect could be to draw more French-speaking Canadians away from their preserve in Quebec toward greater opportunity and more favorable living conditions in the untapped expanse of much of the rest of Canada.

The commission also supports Mr. Pearson's proposal that a federal district comparable to the District of Columbia be formed by combining parts of Ottawa and Quebec.

The recommendations are not likely to satisfy separatist extremists. Constructive moderates, however, like Quebec's Premier Daniel Johnson and members of the Quebec Liberation Foundation have been satisfied to work toward a more perfect union within Canada.

ART BUCHWALD The Man With The Solution

WASHINGTON — In answering the Administration's critics on the war in Vietnam, the President, the Vice President and the secretary of state have all declred the fact that although there are plenty of dissenters around, none of them seems to have any alternatives of his own to offer.

Just the other day President Johnson said, "I only wish those who bewail war would bring me just one workable solution to end the war."

When I read this, I thought about what would happen if a dissenter really tried to give the President a solution to end the war.

Perhaps this:

Exra Mullins appears at the west gate of the White House carrying a brief case. He is stopped by a uniformed White House guard.

"What do you want, Mac?"

"I came to see the President," Mullins says.

"Do you have an appointment?"

"No, but he said that anyone who had a workable solution to the war in Vietnam should present it to him."

"Just a minute, please." The guard puts in a call on the phone and Mullins is suddenly surrounded by four Secret Service men.

"Okay," says one of the Secret Service men. "Let's go quietly."

They lead him into an office in the White House annex. First they search him, and then they start questioning him.

"What have you got in the brief case?"

"My plan to end the war in Vietnam," Mullins says happily. "I think it's real smart of the President to ask someone else to come up with a solution to the war, since his people have run out of ideas."

The four Secret Service men stare at him.

"Of course, the plan isn't complete because I'm not privy to the same information available to the Administration, but if I can get the answers to certain questions, I can fill in the holes."

"All right, smart guy," one of the Secret Service men says, "what were you really doing trying to get by the White House gate?"

WAYNE BRANDSTADT, M.D. About Cooking

Q. Which foods contain vitamins A and B?

A. The foods richest in vitamin A are carrots, spinach, turnips, liver, sweet potatoes, squash, cold liver oil and apricots. Vitamin B is supplied by liver, dried brewer's yeast, milk, whole wheat bread and lean meat, fish or fowl.

Q. What are the symptoms of poisoning from too much vitamin A and D? Some vitamin capsules contain 10,000 international units of vitamin A and 1,000 of vitamin D. Is that amount harmful if taken daily?

A. Vitamin A poisoning causes loss of appetite, itching, loss of hair, bleeding under the skin and joint pains. Vitamin D poisoning causes peaplessness, nausea, weakness, headache and inordinate thirst. Since the daily requirements of vitamins A and D are 2,500 to 5,000 and 400 units, respectively, the amounts cited are excessive for daily use. Capsules that contain such amounts are used for quick restoration of persons suffering from vitamin deficiencies.

Q. I am told that our soil in California is so depleted we need to take vitamin capsules every day. Which vitamins can be stored in the body and which cannot? Do you have to take vitamin A in order to have vitamin B do its work? What effect does heat have on vitamins?

A. The soil depletion myth dies hard. Fruits and vegetables grown on soil so poor as to deplete their vitamin supply would be so inferior in appearance that they would not find a ready market. Vitamins A and D, the fat-soluble vitamins, are the only ones stored in the body and hence the only ones that can cause poisoning.

Although all the essential vitamins are necessary for proper body functioning, there is no specific interdependence of one vitamin on another. Cooking destroys a part of the vitamin B and C content of foods. This effect is due to the heat, exposure to air and the dissolving of the vitamins in the cooking water. This is a good reason for saving the "pot liquor" for use in soup.

Q. I have been taking nicotinic acid and rauwolfia for several years. My doctor says I must take them the rest of my life. What are they for? Will they have any harmful effects?

A. Niacin (nicotinic acid) is given for pellagra and to lower the cholesterol level of the blood. Rauwolfia is a tranquilizer and blood pressure reducer. When taken under medical supervision they may be taken indefinitely without harm.

MR. SPECTATOR The Unexpected Gift

All gifts are nice to receive — but the unexpected ones are the ones remembered in most cases. Such was the gift received by the Petersen family — all of them including Dale, Charles, Wade, Stuart, Harlan and Ryan!

It all started awhile ago when an envelope, containing pictures and a kind of unfinished letter was lost. The person who found it in the snow notified Mr. Spectator who in turn ran an article "Anyone Lose A Letter?"

Well, the Petersen family, at their new home in Sunnyside, Wash. (they used to live in this area until just a short time ago) received three clippings of the article and also the letter in question from the finder. On Christmas Mr. Spectator received a "thank you" note from Sunnyside. It said in part:

"Aren't Christmas gifts fun to receive? Especially the unexpected ones. We received one from you from three different sources. It was your article 'Anyone Lose A Letter?' As these articles arrived we read it again.

"We were especially surprised. You see, we were the Cobb who lost the letter to my Grandma Cobb. At the time I was in a predicament by running out of gas and had to go begging. In the process the letter slipped away and because it wasn't to be mailed, there was no address on it.

"Thankfully, it was found by a thoughtful person and they took it upon themselves to find the owner. What a better gift to give than one to a stranger.

"It meant a lot to us as we just recently moved away from Magic Valley where we have lived for 30 years. It makes one feel good to know there are people who have feelings for others. We have left Magic Valley but, really, it will always be our home."

MR. SPECTATOR SAYS:

Chances are a man who writes checks for all his bills on the first of the month will get an overdraft call from his bank in a couple days.

No Gwendolyn, the fact that the boss has been named vice president has nothing to do with his personal habits.

GIVEAWAY DEPT:

Just before Christmas, Mr. Spectator got a rash of pets for free gifts. Result, not all of them could get in the column — especially because there was a special column for Christmas. So today the holdovers are printed and we hope they are still available.

Have two male Australian puppies waiting for nice homes. Please call 423-5632 or 423-4940. Thanks.

How about a free and lovely little Australian - Shepherd puppy? If interested call Archie Turner at 1979 Eldridge Ave., which is 733-8818. You can pick them up anytime.

We have a purebred Cocker Spaniel puppy to give away. He has had all his shots and he is about eight months old. Call 934-5134 or 934-5387 at Gooding.

We have four male puppies, all light colored and a Cocker - Peke cross to give away. They would be fine for some children. We live one mile west and one-quarter of a mile north of the west Hunt entrance or you can call 825-5500. The Volk's children.

Have a female pointer and three male puppies which we must give away. Please call 733-1529.

Have a small and cute and friendly female pup — probably part Labrador — which came to our house and we already have a dog. This would make a nice pet and must be given away. Can be seen at 636 Center Street East in Kimberly or call 423-4952.

FUMIN'

Dear Mr. Spectator:

While fussin' and fumin' the other night, because my paper was late again, I had a thought! This time of year I think nothing of the mailman being late, so why can't I feel the same towards my paper carrier? There are more ads in the paper, so I'm sure it takes longer to make, and the paper is heavier, making it harder for the carrier.

So, instead of getting angry, I want to give my thanks to my paper carrier for the service I get at all times through summer heat and winter snow and the Christmas and New Year rush. Many thanks to mine and to all carriers.

PAUL HARVEY It's A Headache

Historically, during our Uncle Sam, spectators went out from Washington with picnic baskets to sit on the hillsides and watch the fighting. They became so numerous they interfered with the flow of supplies to the front, interfered with the strategic retreat and almost cost the federal forces a serious defeat.

Today, nursemaidling tourists around Vietnam is a monumental headache for our field command.

Most general officers in Vietnam want and would encourage visits by concerned members of Congress, but where invited entertainers may be tolerable and official inspections by members of appropriate congressional committees may be useful, visitors to Vietnam now include an endless procession of junketers, families, campaigning politicians and crusading do-gooders.

Actually, jungle war has no "front." The enemy is in front and behind and around and among. The Saigon street-corner flower lady may be a Viet Cong agent. Many hit-and-run grenade attacks are traced to boys on bicycles.

Recently, Sen. Charles Percy came under enemy fire.

Percy got a lot of headlines, acidized a lot of ulcers among our military security men.

New Jersey's Rep. Cornelius Gallagher was admittedly jealous: "Nothing so fortuitous ever happened to me there—especially during an election year."

So Percy's was the kind of near-miss politicians dream about — and military security men have nightmares about.

Percy was "up front" with his wife and a party of seven.

Civilian tourist traffic constitutes a shifting second front for our fighting men to defend.

Escorting a constant and unending succession of warfront spectators ties up officers, men and materiel, diverts scarce helicopters from combat and shuffles headquarters' routine with incapable social obligations.

In every war, it creates a problem of significance when the Chiefs of Staff must necessarily visit field headquarters. Junketing members of Congress are a nuisance, particularly when they insist on going into or flying over "the fighting." Such civilian scrutiny of a war front serves absolutely no constructive purpose.

But what we are discussing in the case of this unprecedented warless war in Vietnam is that anybody can go. There are no passport restrictions on travel in South Vietnam. Anybody can get the necessary visa from the South Vietnamese Embassy and — brace yourself — in 1968 the number of officials and tourists who went to Vietnam totaled 19,300! More than 50 a day.

This year will top that. January through September the number was already 14,060.

Vietnam is no barbaric gladiator spectacle. Official or not, it is still a dirty, ugly, deadly business, and nothing — and nobody — should be permitted to make it any more difficult than it is.

A THOUGHT TO REMEMBER

DALE PATTERSON

January 1, after all, is just another calendar date. But voices and noises join in mixed emotions. It means gaiety and gladness, a partying time for some people. It is a parting time for others who exile or disengage themselves from the past. All on account of a calendar date.

Some people will ponder and be proud of what was done in the past. Others will think of things done and can not now be undone. Some will say they will change the ways of their days; they will try to live better by the Book. . . . Others will try to live with a better pocketbook. All this too — on account of a calendar date.

The message Happy New Year is heard everywhere — on account of a calendar date. For ourselves, we simply say to all our friends who read this — "May you be happy . . . May God bless you" — on EACH and EVERY calendar date . . .

Cincinnati Prisoners Riot At Jail

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — Christmas dinner at the county jail was followed by a riot that brought out 100 policemen to battle 47 prisoners.

"A group of the prisoners said they were going to spend Christmas night at home," said jailer Elijah Hilton after police restored order with the help of tear gas Monday night.

Inmates smashed furniture, tore up bedding and set a fire in a trash can during the three-hour disturbance outside their cells.

No one escaped and there were no injuries reported.

Police armed with shotguns surrounded the Hamilton County courthouse, which houses the jail, while others entered to force the prisoners back into their cells. The trouble was in an area of the cellblock outside individual cells.

Because of the damage and lingering effects of the tear gas, the prisoners were transferred to a previously empty cell block. The jail has about 250 prisoners, many of them awaiting transfer to the Ohio State Penitentiary in Columbus.

About 400 persons gathered around the building during the disturbance despite freezing temperatures.

Authorities said the men refused to enter their cells as the lock mechanism on the main cell door jammed after they were returned from dinner.

After police halted the rioting and transferred the inmates to new cells, the prisoners jeered at the policemen, an official said. Police stationed canine corps units in front of the area.

Cincinnati and Hamilton County police along with Ohio state troopers combined to halt the disturbance.

Turquoise brings success in double measure, both in love and money, if the month of snow and ice gave you birth.

Ancient are the obscure and vague localities in Russia, Afghanistan, Tibet and China which for ages past supplied to Central Asia the turquoise so highly prized by Orientals for a host of carved and decorated objects which so much expressed their culture. Turquoise is found in the southwestern section of the United States — in Nevada, California, Arizona and New Mexico. We find abundant evidence that turquoise deposits furnished the items which graced aboriginal Americans of the great ancient days which have passed into the annals of time.

The December born who have a particular interest in the turquoise, and all of you who find the original Americans fascinating owe yourself the treat of visiting our Museum of Arts and Sciences, adjacent to Herrett's Jewelers building one of the finest collections of its kind in the country.

Ike Suggests Aides Make Fund Report

NEW YORK (AP) — Former President Eisenhower urges that "all elected public officials, particularly members of Congress, be required to make an annual certified accounting of their financial affairs—all income and all holdings."

Eisenhower, writing in the January issue of Reader's Digest, said such disclosures "should be part of the price of public office; if a man has nothing to conceal, why should he object?"

In the article, Eisenhower also urged that U.S. income tax laws be revised "to permit the taxpayer to treat a modest political gift as a deduction."

He said he was opposed to two other campaign financing plans — one to finance certain top-level campaigns directly from the public treasury and the other to allow taxpayers to designate one income tax dollar to a general presidential election fund.

Political Forecast Is Made

WASHINGTON (AP) — Republican control of the House plus deep GOP inroads into the Democratic Senate majority is forecast by a self-styled nonpartisan group, the National Committee for an Effective Congress.

In the year-end analysis, the organization predicted "a very close" race for the presidency in 1968.

"The possibilities are wide open, and the political waters are boiling," said the committee. It called the Vietnam war "the symbol and principal manifestation of the real question facing America."

"This issue is whether the United States is to seek its destiny as arbiter of the globe, or whether it will live by the cardinal rule of the postimperial world: That a nation must first find its salvation at home," said the group.

But while viewing Vietnam as the overriding 1968 campaign issue, the committee said Republican chances to gain control of the House—which would take a gain of 31 seats—depends on the popularity of the GOP presidential nominee.

A committee spokesman said it hasn't taken a stand on any of next year's House races but has endorsed 10 senators for re-election. It said Republicans may pick up as many as six Senate seats.

Those the committee backs, among them seven Democrats and three Republicans, either strongly oppose or give only lukewarm support to President Johnson's Vietnam policies.

They are: Democratic Sens. J. William Fulbright, Arkansas; Joseph S. Clark, Pennsylvania; Frank Church, Idaho; George McGovern, South Dakota; Ernest Gruening, Alaska; Wayne Morse, Oregon, and A. S. Mike Monroney, Oklahoma, and Republican Sens. George D. Aiken, Vermont; Thomas H. Kuchel, California, and Thurston B. Morton, Kentucky.

Mediator Says King Constantine Will Return To His Throne Soon

By GERALD MILLER

ATHENS (AP) — A close friend of King Constantine, serving as mediator between him and the Greek military junta, says he is "100 per cent certain" the 27-year-old monarch will return to his throne, perhaps "in the next few days."

This report from Haralambos Potamianos, a retired air vice marshal, was bolstered by a remark by Queen Frederika, the king's mother, who told photographers in Rome taking Christmas pictures of the royal family: "We hope to return to Greece soon."

The king fled to Rome after his attempt Dec. 13 to overthrow the military dictatorship collapsed in hours. A series of negotiators have been trying to arrange his return to Athens Monday after his second trip to Rome in a week.

Asked by newsmen in Rome if he would be returning for more talks, Potamianos said: "I hope not. I am one hundred per cent certain the king will return. It might happen in the next few days."

He disclosed that the king and Premier George Papadopoulos, the leader of the junta, exchanged Christmas greetings by cable over the weekend.

In Athens, one celebrated prisoner of the regime was free but a second was still in prison after the junta suddenly reversed a promise by Papadopoulos to free 2,600 political prisoners for Christmas.

Andreas Papanicolaou, son of ex-Premier George Papanicolaou, was reunited with his family, but composer Mikis Theodorakis, who wrote the score for the film "Zorba the Greek," was still in Averoff Prison in Athens.

The about-face on the amnesty meant that only about 300 persons would be freed, the secretary-general of the Ministry of Public Order, Col. John Ladias, said. He told newsmen the clemency did not extend to "hard-core Communists," and he included in this category the 2,600 persons arrested after the April 21 coup and held since then on the islands of Leros and Yioura.

World Returns To Work, War, Worry After Holiday

By PATRICK E. O'KEEFE
Associated Press Writer

The silent, holy hours of Christmas over, the world went back to work, war and worry today.

American troops in Vietnam, with a hot turkey dinner under their belts, took up their weapons for more clashes with the Viet Cong and North Vietnamese. As soon as the 24-hour allied truce ended Christmas night, U.S. warplanes streaked over North Vietnam to attack supply convoys which the U.S. Command said the Communists rushed south during the ceasefire.

Amid the war in Vietnam, enduring crisis in the Middle East and tension along the frontier in South Korea, Christmas 1967 occasioned prayers for peace from Pope Paul VI and many others.

After celebrating midnight Mass in the Sistine Chapel and two more Masses on Christmas morning, the pontiff spoke from the front balcony of St. Peter's Basilica. Looking tired but with an unflagging voice, he told a crowd of 200,000:

"Our wish today is united indeed with the renewed wish for peace... Let it now be our prayer for you and for the world, as even in these days our anxiety, our cares and our hopes have centered on peace."

The Pope did not mention Vietnam nor his visit Saturday with President Johnson.

The President celebrated Christmas at the White House with his family. The early-rising Johnson clan exchanged gifts around a five-foot Norway spruce, with a gold cross from Pope Paul going to 6-month-old Patrick Lyndon Nugent, the President's grandson.

In a Christmas radio and television message, Johnson conceded that to say "Merry Christmas" in wartime is not easy.

"But when you think of the bravery of the human spirit—and the power of life to triumph over pain and darkness—you are thankful," he said. "Your own spirits are lifted high; and you say it—and mean it—as I do now: Merry Christmas."

In Vietnam, Michigan Gov. George Romney, who seeks the GOP nomination to oppose Johnson in next fall's election, shook hands with American troops from Saigon to Da Nang and said over and over, "Merry Christmas," fellows, "Merry Christmas."

In the Holy Land, the Israelis were in control of Bethlehem for the first time, and only 9,000 pilgrims braved the rain to celebrate Christmas at the birthplace of Christ—about half the number anticipated.

Bethlehem's Mayor Elias

Bandak, a Christian Arab, said of the first Christmas under the Israelis: "Things went smoothly, and I have no complaints." The Israeli army posted heavy patrols to ward off Arab guerrilla attacks, and the only sabotage was a cut in the telephone lines between Bethlehem and Jerusalem. It interrupted the broadcast of the Christmas Eve Mass in the Church of the Nativity but was quickly repaired.

The bleak prospect of domestic belt-tightening in Britain to make devaluation a success led Queen Elizabeth II to call on her subjects to emulate the courage and enterprise displayed by Sir Francis Chichester in his solo sail around the world.

Christmas was merry in the Suez Canal for crews of 14 foreign ships trapped there since the Arab-Israeli war in June.

THE ANNUAL FIREMAN'S ball starts Dec. 30 at 9 p.m. at the American Legion Hall, and firemen are busy at the present time selling tickets. Even the young don't escape. Here Fireman Glenn Houk on the left sells a ticket to little Greg Vickers, 2, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Vickers, Focatello. Holding young Greg is Mrs. James Vickers, and on the right is Earl McAdams, a city fireman. The fireman's ball is called "The New Year's Eve Ball," even though it is a little early. Tickets are $1 each and may be purchased from any fireman or at the city's fire station or substation.

Birthday Noted 74th birthday with a greeting from North Vietnamese President Ho Chi Minh. But, as in the past, broadcasts from Peking monitored in Tokyo did not mention the anniversary and there were no indications who else had sent congratulatory messages. Ho's greeting was reported by Hanoi's Vietnam News Agency.

DID YOU OVERDO IT?

We suspect that everyone of you ate too much at your Christmas feast... we know we did. Special occasions deserve a little overdoing, but nobody wants that overstuffed feeling after every meal, we hope. We are happy to sell you antacids, etc., but we'd rather see you well.

Blaze On Ship Kills Three Men

NEW YORK (AP) — "We could see the fire in all the portholes all the way up to the superstructure," said one fireman describing the blaze in the Norwegian freighter Dianet which claimed the lives of 3 crewmen and injured 18 others. "It was glowing like an ember."

Fire Department officials estimated the blaze early Monday may have started as much as 30 minutes before an alarm was sounded and fireboats dispatched to the vessel's Hudson River anchorage off 87th street.

At Ostrica, La., a Mississippi River port south of New Orleans, 8 crewmen were burned early Monday when a string of barges rammed the SS Gulf Supreme and the 18,000-ton Gulf Oil Co. tanker was ripped by explosions. Two of the men were in serious condition.

New York fire officials said the freighter disaster was preceded by a rollicking Christmas Eve party. Said one: "You can get an idea what kind of a party it was by looking in the waste bins on deck. There must have been 200 or 300 empty cans of beer there."

The captain, I. J. Avilgavlego, and 5 crewmen escaped injury and remained aboard. Two of the 29-member crew were on shore leave when the fire broke out.

The Dianet arrived in New York on Dec. 17 and had been at anchor in the Hudson waiting for a berth at Yonkers, just north of the city, to discharge her 8,020-ton cargo of sugar. The ship is owned by Christian J. Reim of Prsgrunn, Norway.

Mr. Koch said that those working at K and T are considered to be in a hazardous occufirm's safety committee; Carl Berg, insurance agent; Wayne Stutzman, safety committee member, and W. G. (Bill) Koch, president of K and T. The men were honored at a banquet at the Holiday Inn.

Navy Recruiter's Brother Is Killed In Car Mishap

The brother of a Twin Falls Navy recruiter and his wife were killed in an automobile accident at Lewisville, Ga., last Friday, it was learned here Tuesday.

Grady Smith and his wife died at the scene. He was the brother of PO 1.C. Harold Smith. Funeral services were held Tuesday in Greenville, S.C.

Grady Smith, stationed at Jacksonville, Fla., joined the Navy in Twin Falls two years ago and was married last March. His wife was from Florida.

Navy officials said Harold Smith left Twin Falls during the weekend to attend services. Greenville is the home town of the Navy men, it was reported.

Infant Dies

Shelly Irene Bates, 2½-month-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Murray C. Bates, 1122 Blue Lakes Blvd. N., died Saturday afternoon at Primary Children's Hospital, Salt Lake City.

She was born Oct. 4, 1967, in Twin Falls.

Surviving besides her parents, are a sister, Glenda, Twin Falls; paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Bates, Fort Worth, Tex.; maternal grandmother, Mrs. Neva Shelton, Salina, Kan., and two great-grandmothers, Mrs. Cora W. Shelton and Mrs. Nettie Barker, both Salina, Kan.

Graveside funeral services will be conducted at 10 a.m. Wednesday at Twin Falls Cemetery by Rev. Earl Johnson. Arrangements are under the direction of Twin Falls Mortuary.

Protests Food

SALT LAKE CITY (AP)—When an inmate in the Salt Lake City-County Jail didn't like his Christmas dinner, he summoned the fire department.

Within minutes two big ladder trucks, four bright red pumpers, 25 firemen with razor sharp axes and a white-hatted battalion chief arrived.

Jail officials said an unidentified inmate had set fire to a piece of paper under an automatic fire detection device to protest his food.

He was hustled into isolation — where there are no automatic fire detectors.

Dear Abby

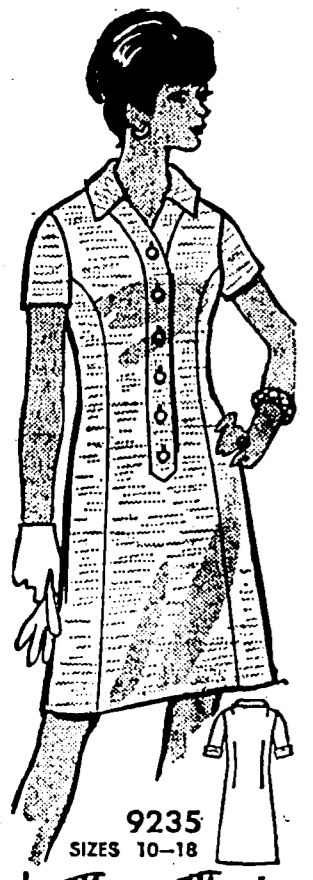

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN
DEAR ABBY: Mrs. Smith proudly writes that she has solved her children's birthday problems by taking ice cream and cake to school and treating the whole class. "The teacher," she says, "cooperates, and there is no fuss, no muss, and no frayed nerves." For whom? Perhaps not for the mother. But, I am a teacher, and if a mother came to me with such a suggestion I would quickly tell her that I am paid to teach, not to give parties. Furthermore, multiply this scene by 30 or 35, and considerable teaching time is lost.

When I first began to teach (and taught in a school that allowed it), I "cooperated" with one of those "no-fuss, no-muss" mothers who brought the birthday party to school. Games were played and the excitement ran high. The mother sat in the back wringing her hands while I tried my best to control the over-stimulated youngsters. Two children upchucked their hastily gulped refreshments all over the floor. (No fuss, no muss, eye?)

Couple Honored

Mr. and Mrs. John Ottersberg were honored at an open house at their home, 331 3rd Ave. W., for their 50th Wedding Anniversary. Mr. and Mrs. Ottersberg were united Dec. 28, 1917, at Hildreth, Neb. They have four children, Mrs. Erma Devers, Mrs. Dean (Dorothy) Howard, Mrs. Leonard (VallGene) Mills and Wayne Ottersberg, and 13 grandchildren.

New Members Honored By Buhl Auxiliary

BUHL — New members were honored when the Ladies auxiliary No. 2416 of the Veterans of World War I met at the VFW hall for a potluck dinner. Guests were Mr. and Mrs. Harold Chelme and Mr. and Mrs. Bert Weaver, all Gooding, and the state president, Mrs. Myrtle Sims, Glenns Ferry. Following the dinner, the men of the barracks retired to hold their separate meeting. The ladies met with Mrs. Lela Griffin, vice president, conducting the meeting.

The opening prayer was given by the chaplain followed by the salute to the flag. Visitations were reported, and Mrs. Paul Fingerson was initiated, as a new member.

Mrs. Chelme, district five president, reported that there would be a Western United States meeting in Boise in April by the Veterans and Ladies auxiliary.

Mrs. Weaver, district vice president, installed the officers for the coming year. Mrs. Sims reported on her attendance at the National convention at Indianapolis and gave the group pointers on procedure in their work.

The meeting closed with prayer and retiring of the flag. The next meeting will be held Jan. 2 at the VFW hall.

At a special meeting held at the home of Mrs. Lela Griffin the group accepted the resignation of Mrs. William Voorhees as president due to the illness of her husband. Mrs. Joe Petersen was elected to take her place and Mrs. Lee White was appointed membership chairman in place of Mrs. Petersen.

Naomi Circle Hosts Dinner

DECLO — A Christmas dinner for members of the Naomi Circle of the United Presbyterian Women's Union was held at the home of Mrs. Jake Bowers, with Mrs. Clifford Sutton giving the invocation.

Each member told of a related traditional holiday story carried down in their families. Rev. John Pickrell played a Christmas Negro Spiritual on the guitar.

It was announced that a congregational meeting, regarding the incorporation of the Burley Presbyterian congregation as a corporation of the state of Idaho, will be held Thursday.

A monetary gift was donated by each member for missions.

DEAR ABBY: I have a message for the wife who signed herself "IGNORED."

You are not alone. My husband eats his dinner like he is a fugitive from a good meal, then he rushes to the TV set without a word, and leaves me sitting alone at the table. In the morning he eats his breakfast with his head buried in the newspaper, then dashes out of the house.

I keep flexing my tongue to give it some exercise so it doesn't go into a state of paralysis. Take Abby's advice and condition yourself to the silent life. Some men never change.

Hansen Says Inflation Hurts Farmer
 WASHINGTON (AP) — Inflation in America hurts farmers more than any other segment of the economy, Rep. George Hansen, R-Idaho, said Tuesday.

Hansen Says Inflation Hurts Farmer
 "Food prices have been the only item in recent months that have declined. While the cost of living has continuously risen to where it is at an all-time high," Hansen declared in a statement. "Yet, providing our consumers with lower food costs has meant additional economic hardship for the farmer." Hansen explained that farmers have had a drop in income of $1.5 billion this year, while production costs have increased more than $1 billion.

Hansen Says Inflation Hurts Farmer
 "If it's any wonder," he asked, "that the recently released report by the President's national advisory commission on rural poverty shows 14 million rural Americans living in poverty?"

Policewoman Killed While Aiding Victim
 FREEPORT, N.Y. (AP) — While her mother and fiance gazed in horror, Nassau County's first policewoman was killed Christmas night as she went to help the victims of an accident.

Policewoman Killed While Aiding Victim
 "This is my job," said Kathleen Reilly, 28, as she spurned her mother's plea not to walk out onto the crowded Meadowbrook Parkway on Long Island. Stopping her car and was comforting an injured woman inside when another car plowed into the back of the crashed auto.
 A 5-foot-3 brunette, Miss Reilly was named to the Nassau County force two years ago and promoted to detective only three months ago and attached to the county juvenile aid section.

LYNWOOD SHOPPING CENTER

THE NATIONAL COWBOY Hall of Fame and Western Heritage Center in Oklahoma City, Okla., has honored Burley rancher Albert Anderson with a life-sized bust. The memorial was unveiled by Mr. Anderson's wife, Ora, recently. Mr. Anderson was elected a trustee of the national shrine in April. The national cowboy shrine was built by people in 17 western states to honor pioneers who settled the west.

Johnson Family Spends Holiday At White House

WASHINGTON (AP) — Stockings hung at a fireplace, a turkey dinner, a visit to church and lots of attention showered on a grandson marked President Johnson's first White House observance of Christmas. Like millions of Americans, the First Family rose early to gather around a tree and exchange presents Monday. The Johnsons are expected to leave today for the family ranch near San Antonio, Tex., where it's believed they'll stay until after New Year's Day.

Johnson, who returned early Sunday from a globe-circling trip, brought back with him clothes and a gold cross for grandson Patrick Lyndon Nugent, son of daughter Luci and Patrick Nugent. Johnson told newsmen he picked up the jersey and red and blue pants for the baby at a military post exchange for $1.58. The cross was a personal gift to the infant from Pope Paul VI whom Johnson visited in Rome on the homeward-bound portion of his trip to Australia, South Vietnam, Thailand and Pakistan. The baby's parents are Catholics.

Vietnamese Official Views Pursuit Right

PARIS (AP) — South Vietnamese Foreign Minister Tran Van Do said today that if necessary for "self defense" South Vietnam would pursue Communist forces into Cambodia.

Speaking with newsmen on his arrival from Saigon, Do was asked if "the right of pursuit into Cambodia would be exercised by South Vietnam."

"If it is necessary, yes," he replied. "Our war is a war of self-defense. We would be obliged to do so if the enemy troops use Cambodian territory as a sanctuary and cross the frontier to attack our troops . . ."

"But we have no intention of invading Cambodia, and on the contrary even, we hope very much to have friendly relations with this country. But for our defense we are obliged to follow the enemy if he crosses the frontier. We have responsibilities toward our troops and toward allied troops."

Do said he was stopping only for the day in Paris en route to Africa and dismissed speculation in the conservative newspaper Le Figaro and on the French national radio that he would contact the North Vietnamese legation here.

The North Vietnamese also denied that any meetings were scheduled. A spokesman told a reporter: "You know we don't have anything to do with these people."

For Mrs. Johnson, the Pope sent along a 15th Century Madonna and Child.

After opening presents—"more than you can count," according to the President—he and Mrs. Johnson attended Holy Communion service at St. Thomas Episcopal Church, about a mile from the White House.

Joining them at the services were the Johnson's daughter Lynda and her recently wed Marine husband, Capt. Charles Robb.

The White House lawn still had traces of snow from a flurry late last week as the family gathered around a decorated 5-foot Norway spruce to exchange gifts, some of them stored in seven large, red velvet stockings.

The chief executive called it a "wonderful, wonderful" Christmas.

Stocks

NEW YORK (AP)—Specialty situated issues were strong in a rising stock market late this afternoon. Trading was fairly active. U.S. Lines showed more than 11 points on news that Walter Kidde had offered to buy 700,000 shares of the company at $47.50 a share. The stock closed at $35.87 a share on Friday. Kidde gained a couple of points. It was a moderate gain overall but investors hoped that the traditional year-end rally would come about this year. It didn't a year ago.

Q. In the fall of 1963 my father sold most of his stocks and reinvested the money in shares of a mutual fund. At that time he was told that he would not have to pay any tax on the capital gain. But it turned out that he did have to pay that tax and it came to a fair amount of money.

Now, after his death, it has come to our attention that there were in existence rules which allowed investors to make tax-free exchanges of stocks for shares of special mutual funds. We haven't been able to find out much about this. How did the rules work? How might they apply to this case?

A. The rules on those tax-free exchanges stopped working in the spring of 1967. They cannot be applied to the case of your father's estate.

While those rules were operating, an investor could swap stock he owned for shares of certain mutual funds. They did not apply to all mutual funds—only to those set up for that specific purpose. These were known as "exchange funds" or "swap funds" or "Centennial-type funds" because they were all patterned after Centennial Fund, the first of that type.

Investors making those exchanges were not required to report and pay capital-gain taxes on the difference between the price they paid for their stocks and the value of their stocks at the time of the exchange. They postponed that tax bite until some later date, when and if they redeemed their fund shares.

But your father did not invest in one of those special types of mutual funds. So he was stuck with a tax on the profit he realized when he sold the stocks. Seems that he got some bad information.

If he had put his stocks into an exchange fund (without any tax bite) he would have had a bigger fund investment. And, chances are the estate he left would have been larger.

Small wonder that you're unhappy. But there's nothing you can do about it now. You can't correct a mistake made back in '63.

NEW YORK (AP)—Christmas is the beginning of the winter cruise season, as millions of advertisements, posters, announcements and exhortations remind everyone until Easter time.

In days gone by the season between now and Easter was one of little mobility. People stayed indoors near the fire as much as they could.

Now the once fortunate few who could afford a midwinter cruise has become the fortunate many. For the ranks of cruise passengers have swelled from 65,000 in 1952 to perhaps 400,000 this year.

These statistics, which are constantly growing, reflect the vast change in habits that have come over Americans in this age of affluence and leisure. America is now on the move throughout the year.

This development of the luxury midwinter cruise for the masses is almost in direct proportion to the loss to jets of passenger travel on the cold North Atlantic route to Europe.

For example, by the close of 1967, more than 5.5 million passengers will have traveled to Europe over the North Atlantic, but only 400,000 or so will have gone by ship.

Compare this with a 1948 total of 700,000 travelers to Europe, more than 500,000 of whom traveled by ship. Since then, however, the ratios have more than been reversed, and the advent of the superjets is bound to accelerate the trend.

Flying has, in fact, left relatively little business for the ships in the foggy North Atlantic and in some other oceanic routes as well, as the Queen Mary, a ship that was losing $2 million a year offering luxury when speed and transportation were desired.

While the Queen Mary was losing money, some of the big airlines were earning their first profits in many years. So successful were they in attracting business that air fares fell. Ships, were forced to raise theirs.

Finalists For Pro Grid Leagues Begin Working Toward Championships

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

With 21 other professional football clubs finished for the season, the Green Bay Packers, Dallas Cowboys, Houston Oilers and Oakland Raiders start working today in preparation for Sunday's championship games.

The Packers meet the Cowboys at Green Bay for the National League crown in a rematch of last year's title game won by Green Bay 34-27. The Cinderella Oilers, who rose from last place to first in the AFL's Eastern Division, play the Raiders at Oakland.

Only Oakland went into the final weekend of the regular season knowing it would be in a title game next Sunday. The Raiders, who finished their season with a 13-1 record and 10 straight victories by dropping Buffalo 28-21 Sunday, had clinched the AFL's Western crown two weeks ago.

Houston, needing a victory to clinch the Eastern title and eliminate any chance of a playoff against New York, romped to a 41-10 rout of Miami Saturday night. That made the Jets' 42-31 victory over San Diego Sunday meaningless.

Hoyle Granger and Woodie Campbell scored two touchdowns apiece for the fired-up Oilers, who finished last in the Eastern Division in 1966 and weren't expected to do much better this year.

Granger ripped Dolphin defenses for 160 yards in 21 carries and finished the season with 1,194 yards gained rushing, only 22 less than Boston's Jim Nance, who won his second straight rushing crown.

The Jets, who had dropped three straight, snapped off of the slump against San Diego, but it was too late to save the Eastern lead they had held almost all season.

Joe Namath threw four touchdown passes and set a pro passing mark, running his yards for the season to 4,007. He completed 18 of 26 for 343 yards against the Chargers, who finished third in the AFL's Western Division.

The Packers were stung for an early touchdown by Los Angeles but rebounded with a devastating defensive effort that beat the Rams 28-7.

Green Bay had dropped two straight games—one of them to the Rams—but with the NFL's Western crown on the line, the Packers won convincingly.

"We heard that theirs was a better defensive line than ours," said Henry Jordan, one of the Packers' veteran front four. "It gives you something to play for when you're only second best."

Jordan led a Packer pass rush that dumped Ram quarterback Roman Gabriel five times.

Fleet Travis Williams ran for two touchdowns, one of them a 46-yard sprint from scrimmage. "He's the best third string half-back in America," said Los Angeles Coach George Allen. Williams started only because injuries laid off Jim Grabowski and Elijah Pitts.

The incredible speed of Bob Hayes made the difference for Dallas as the Cowboys routed Cleveland 52-14.

Hayes set up two touchdowns with punt returns of 68 and 64 yards and caught an 88-yard scoring bomb from Don Meredith.

Meredith was close to perfect, completing 10 of 12 passes for 212 yards. "He called an excellent game," said Dallas Coach Tom Landry. "I would have to rate it as good if not better than Bart Starr's against Los Angeles."

Starr, piloting the Packers over the Rams, completed 17 of 23 for 222 yards.

Five Top Ten Teams Vie For Cage Titles

By The Associated Press

Five members of college basketball's Top Ten, headed by UCLA, place unbeaten records in jeopardy this week in tournament play all over the country.

And Tennessee, whose 4-0 record vaulted it from ninth last week to fourth this week, appears to have the toughest task.

The Vols are in the Los Angeles Classip, the same tournament top-ranked UCLA is in. Tennessee opens against Iowa Thursday after the Bruins 5-0, play Minnesota Wednesday.

Of the other unbeaten teams, second-ranked Houston, 10-0, plays Bradley in the Rainbow Classic at Honolulu Thursday; Indiana, 6-0, takes on Western Kentucky in the All-Sports Classic at Dallas Thursday and Utah, 8-0, battles Oregon in the Far West Classic at Portland Thursday.

Utah is the only new member of the Top Ten this week, jumping into seventh after defeating San Jose State, Southern California and Denver last week. Bradley slipped out of 10th place after losing to UCLA 109-73.

Utah could face possibly its toughest task this week in the Portland tournament. North Carolina, which dropped from fourth to fifth in the rankings, also is in the tourney, playing Stanford Thursday.

Two other Top Ten teams conceivably could clash in the Sugar Bowl at New Orleans, Davidson, which tumbled from sixth to eighth, plays Memphis State, and Vanderbilt, No. 9, takes on Michigan State, both Friday.

Vanderbilt was No. 3 last week but lost to Florida 74-72. Indiana moved into the third spot from fifth.

Kentucky climbed from seventh to sixth and has only one game this week—a non-tournament affair with Notre Dame Saturday at Louisville. Boston College, which fell from eighth to 10th, played Penn State today in the Holiday Festival in New York.

The Top Ten, with first-place votes in parentheses and total points on a 10-9-8-etc. basis:

USC Takes Favorite Tag Back To Work

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — The Yuletide holiday over, Indiana of the Big Ten and Southern California of the Pacific-8 get down to the serious work of preparing for the Rose Bowl football game New Year's Day.

The Trojans of USC, with a season record of 9-1 matching the Hoosiers, remain favored by two touchdowns as each team went back to the training grind.

To the Trojans the Rose Bowl is hardly unique. Most of Coach John McKay's team played in its last New Year's, losing a tough one to Purdue, 14-13.

But the lads from Bloomington, Ind., are frankly delighted to be here as their school's first ever Big Ten representative in the famed bowl game.

Coach John Pont, who since the team arrived here last Thursday has won a warm host of friends, explained his attitude.

"I want the team to see and do things out here, but I also want them to keep their minds on the game to be played."

Apparently neither Indiana nor Southern Cal has a major injury problem, or at least one that is of recent development.

The Trojans lost an outstanding sophomore defensive end, Jimmy Gunn, in the last game of the season against UCLA. But his injured leg spelled the end of the line for this post-season engagement.

The Hoosiers' starting tackle on offense, Bob Kirk, suffered a knee injury in the second practice of the bowl conditioning program.

He did not make the trip with the team but underwent knee surgery last week.

Sooner Coach Lauds Power Of Tennessee

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — The Oklahoma Sooners begin practice here today for the New Year's Day Orange Bowl football game with Tennessee, and Coach Chuck Fairbanks is determined not to steam up the Vols.

Tennessee arrives this afternoon.

Both teams have 9-1 records in regular season play. Kickoff for the annual classic at 8 p.m. (EST) as the finals to an all-day round of nationally televised bowl games (NBC).

Fairbanks didn't want to downplay the chances of Tennessee as his team arrived in Miami on Christmas Day.

"Tennessee is a great football team," said the rookie head coach. "And they get even better when they're playing the tougher opponents."

"They might have beat some of the other people worse, but I was more impressed by their rising to the occasion against such tough, capable opponents as Alabama and LSU," he said.

The Vols defeated Alabama, 24-13, and LSU, 17-14, in back-to-back games.

The Tennessee line is first in Fairbanks' mind, he said. But he was asked also to rate the backfield of the Vols.

"Containing several of them is a tough problem," he said. "Dewey Warren is an excellent passer. Charlie Ebron is a strong runner. Bubba Wyche proved what he could do against Alabama, and Richmond Flowers is among the country's fastest and most dangerous receivers."

And of his own Sooners who begin workouts today at Miami Military Academy:

"Football games are decided only on the football field and I feel our squad will give a good account of themselves."

All Play And Little Work Made 24-0 Losers Out Of South Team

By BEN FUNK
MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — "All-Star games are fun. There's no contact work and the practices are short."

That's what All American tackle Edgar Chandler of Georgia said last week as the South team prepared for the College All-Star game with the North Christmas Day. But it didn't turn out to be fun for the Rebels.

Scoring in every quarter, the North stamped the South 24-0 in an unexciting game played before 17,400 fans—the second smallest crowd in the history of the Shrine series for the benefit of crippled children.

Quarterback Greg Landry of Massachusetts led the Yankees on two touchdown drives and the other touchdown came easily after a pass interception by Dennis Coyne deep in South territory.

Coyne, a quick 190-pounder from Northwestern, won a press box vote as the North's most valuable player after intercepting three passes. A 235-pound defensive end from Tennessee—Martin, Gordon Lambert, was chosen the best of the South.

But the favorite of the crowd was Eldridge Dickey, who passed for 6,541 yards during his career at Tennessee A and I. Dickey's running and passing produced the few exciting moments in the South attack and the fans once protested loudly when he was taken out.

The choice of some pro scouts was Max Anderson, Arizona State running back who gained 98 yards to spark the North ground game.

Landry, outshining Navy's quarterback John Cartwright, directed the North 48 yards to a second period touchdown, and 93 yards to another in the fourth quarter.

He passed two yards to Bob Baltzell of Purdue for the first score and Oscar Reed of Colorado State got the other on a two-yard run.

Dwight Lee of Michigan State ran three yards for a touchdown in the third period after Coyne stole a pass from Mike Livingston of Southern Methodist and returned it 23 yards to the South 11.

Although he could not take the South in for a score, Dickey led all passers in yardage with 135 on nine completions. In 17 throws, Landry hit eight of 11 for 99 yards.

In the only other weekend bowl game, Colorado outslugged Miami, Fla., 31-21 behind the running and passing of Bob Anderson.

The quarterback shook off an ankle injury, entered the game just before the end of the first half and rallied the Buffaloes from a 14-7 deficit.

In all, he ran for touchdowns of two and 38 yards, carried 17 times for 108 yards and completed five of 10 passes for 49 more yards.

"Anderson made the option play go," said Miami Coach Charlie Tate.

The rest of the bowl program begins Saturday with two all-star games, the East-West at San Francisco and the Blue-Gray at Montgomery, Ala., the Gator Bowl between Penn State and Florida State and the Sun Bowl between Mississippi and Texas-El Paso.

ECAC Begins Week Of Cage Tournaments

By DICK COUCH
NEW YORK (AP) — Louisville's Cardinals, slow to jell this season despite the torrid scoring of All-American Westley Unsell, hope to get a flying start tonight in the ECAC Holiday college basketball festival.

The Cardinals, one of the pre-tourney favorites in the 16th annual Madison Square Garden classic, take on LaSalle in the nightcap of an evening double-header that also pairs potent West Virginia with slumping Columbia.

Louisville, defending champion in the tough Missouri Valley conference, has split its first six starts, dropping three of the last four. Unsell, however, has been averaging close to 30 points per game—compared to his 19.9 mark last season.

"He's been quicker and more aggressive than last year," says John Dromo, Louisville's new coach, of the 6-foot-8, 250-pound muscleman. Unsell teams with 6-3 Butch Beard to give the Cardinals one of the nation's finest scoring combinations.

LaSalle, 5-2, took consolation honors in last week's Boston Garden Christmas Invitational, trimming North Carolina State 68-63 after an opening round loss to Providence. Jim Harding, the Explorers' first-year coach, will count on high-scoring sophomore Larry Cannon, named to the all-tournament team at Boston, and backcourt flash Bernie Wilhams to counter Louisville's Unsell-Beard tandem.

Columbia, which opened with a string of four victories, has lost its last three starts. The Lions will be making their festival debut against the fast-breaking Mountaineers, 4-2, and their versatile standout, Ron Williams.

Sophomore Jim McMillian tops Columbia scorers with a 22-point average, but WVU Coach Bucky Waters is more concerned about stopping 7-foot Dave Newmark, who has been in-and-out thus far after being sidelined all last season with an injury. Newmark scored 29 points, however, in the Lions' 71-66 loss to Fordham last Friday night.

"We have trouble handling the big man," Waters said.

The survivors of tonight's twin bill advance to Thursday night's semifinals against the winners of the St. John's, N.Y.-Syracuse and Penn State-Boston College games played this afternoon.

point mark for the fourth straight game in a 114-63 victory over Notre Dame.

The three other members of the Top Ten that played last Saturday also won. Second-ranked Houston ran its unbeaten string to 10 by defeating Nevada Southern 94-85, and Vanderbilt, No. 3, and Kentucky, No. 7, won their own invitational tournaments.

Vanderbilt knocked off Oregon 70-59, and Kentucky downed South Carolina 76-66.

In some of the other action, Cincinnati edged Dayton 71-70. Seton Hall beat Wake Forest by the same score, unbeaten Utah won its eighth 99-87 over Denver, and California ran its record to 5-0 with an 89-72 decision over Illinois.

It was Utah State 87, Missouri 81; Stanford 87, Iowa 86; Army 70, Southern Methodist 66; North Texas 65, Arizona 62; Nebraska 82, Wyoming 74; Wichita State 80, Michigan State 80; Drake 97, Oklahoma 85; Jacksonville 69, Dartmouth 59 and Memphis State 65, Texas Christian 61.

Aussies Cinch To Retain Davis Cup

BRISBANE, Australia (AP) — Needing only one more victory to win the Davis Cup for the 11th time in the last 13 years, Australia sends the world's top doubles combination, John Newcombe and Tony Roche, into action against Spain Wednesday.

And as if the challengers' problems weren't bad enough, a strained muscle figures to slow up — or perhaps sideline — Luis Arilla, who, with Manuel Santana, represents his country's last, slim hope.

Holiday Tournaments At Dietrich, Hansen And Minico To Open Thursday

A pair of holiday tournaments at Hansen and Dietrich, an eight-team sophomore affair at Minico and a single game out of the district wind up the non-conference December season for Magic Valley basketball teams.

Richfield, Castleford, Dietrich and Bruneau get together for the annual two-night stand at Dietrich while the Snake River Holiday tournament, featuring Kimberly, Murtaugh, Valley and Hansen, goes on at Hansen. Both tournaments begin Thursday night. Burley, the only undefeated team left in the A-1 division, puts that boast squarely on the line by traveling to Skyline at Idaho Falls Friday night.

The Minico sophomore event is a single elimination with consolation bracket. Its opening pairings send Jerome against Pocatello at 2 p.m.; Twin Falls against Skyline at 3:30 p.m.; Idaho Falls against Buhl at 6 p.m. and Minico against Highland at 7:30 p.m., all Thursday. This will have the same format for Friday with the loser bracket playing the first two games while the finalists will meet at 6 and 7:30 p.m. Saturday.

The Dietrich holiday tournament is two years old and so far only Dietrich has won it. It appears the same thing might be in store this year. Dietrich, holding a 3-0 record, will take on a weak Bruneau team at 8:30 p.m. Thursday after Castleford and Richfield meet in the 7 p.m. opener. Richfield has a break-even 2-2 record while Castleford is 2-3. Castleford's schedule has been a bit tougher than the Tigers'. Richfield has shown a better scoring punch—better than it has had for a couple of years. Bruneau can't be overlooked by Dietrich but the Devils are expected to battle for the conference crown this year with Hagerman and Camas County. Camas County ripped Bruneau 83-51 last week.

The Snake River holiday event opens with a real bang. Murtaugh meets Kimberly at 7 p.m. at the Hansen gymnasium.

Murtaugh toppled Kimberly 67-53 in an earlier meeting but don't count that. It actually is a matter of Murtaugh's scoring punch of Billy Nebeker and Cary Quesnell fighting the tandem of Larry Reitz and Lynn McMasters of Kimberly. The

Sugar Bowl Alums Set Unusual Bet

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Bob Meeboer, president of the University of Wyoming alumni association, has challenged W. J. Evans, who heads the Louisiana State University alumni association, to an unusual wager on the outcome of the 1968 Sugar Bowl — which pits the unbeaten Cowboys against LSU.

The alumni groups have bet an LSU football jersey and helmet against a Wyoming football jersey and helmet.

Meeboer wrote to Evans that the jersey from LSU should be numbered to indicate the Tiger score and Wyoming's jersey would carry its score.

"The jerseys and helmets," wrote Meeboer, "will also be accompanied by an appropriately engraved plaque indicating the presentation of these jerseys and helmets, such as: won by Wyo. Alumni Assn. from L.S.U. Alumni Assn. in wager on the 1968 Sugar Bowl. Wyo 38 L.S.U. 0"

Evans immediately accepted the wager, but replied to Meeboer:

"Your idea of a wager on the hotter duo will decide the game. However, Kimberly can be a bit cooler since it figures to control the backboards. The Bulldogs are the biggest team in the tournament but their 2-3 record shows the team hasn't been able to bring that big advantage to full pressure as yet. Valley, holding a 4-2 record that is belied by a couple of close games, is expected to rim the winless Hansen Huskies.

Hansen hasn't won a game for a couple of years now and this is pretty rough company for upset hopes.

Valley is led by lanky Don Meyer, who is averaging 21.8 points per game, but after him, the Vikings can't call on any experience over six feet. Valley probably will start two sophomores, two juniors and a senior. However, the Vikings do hold a win over Murtaugh.

Civil Liberties Union To Help Clay

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — An attorney for the American Civil Liberties Union says the Justice Department overruled a recommendation by its federal hearing officer that former heavyweight champion Cassius Clay be granted a draft status of conscientious objector.

The charge came Monday as attorney Charles Morgan Jr. announced he would head a five-man ACLU team which has taken over the case of the flamboyant boxer.

Clay was convicted last June of refusing to be inducted into the armed forces. The case is being appealed primarily on the grounds that Clay's draft boards—first in Louisville, Ky., and later in Houston, Tex.—systematically exclude Negroes from their memberships and thus cannot legally draft Negroes.

Morgan, in announcing ACLU's entry into the case, said his contention that the Justice Department overruled its federal hearing officer was made in a brief filed last week before the 5th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals.

The attorney said the incident occurred when Clay's draft board in Louisville failed to grant him the status of conscientious objector on the basis of his being a Black Muslim minister. Morgan said Clay appealed that decision and a Selective Service board hearing was held last August before former Kentucky State Circuit Court Judge Lawrence Grauman, appointed by the Justice Department.

According to Morgan's brief, Grauman concluded that Clay "is sincere in his objection on religious grounds to participa-

Sugar Bowl game is as clever as anything I ever heard of, but your idea of the score has to be a typographical error."

Meeboer and Evans also have a personal bet on the game — albeit a small one.

"I will wager one silver dollar, minted in 1887, the year of the founding of Wyoming University, against a silver dollar minted in 1860, the founding date of LSU," challenged Meeboer.

"Silver dollars minted in 1860 had so little value in this section when they were produced and by the time those coins were distributed here, the 'coin of the realm' was a high grade of paper, and confederate money would be much easier for me to come by," replied Evans.

The LSU alumni president also claimed that "our football players are so skinny that I'm not sure we can put all those digits on one of our jerseys."

Cotton Bowl Is Basically Family Affair

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Texas A&M's football team comes in today to complete the setup for the biggest "family" squabble in the history of the Cotton Bowl. Alabama is already here with Coach Paul "Bear" Bryant having all his kind words for Texas A&M, because he once coached Gene Stallings at A&M and had him as an assistant at Alabama. And Stallings now is coach of the Aggies.

It all may be a little snow job though. The Bear doesn't like to lose football games anymore than giving up his two arms.

But the way these two coaches are helping each other out, you might think each wanted the other to win in the big game next Monday in the cavernous Cotton Bowl where 75,504 bug-eyed fans will be trying to figure out which team is which. Alabama is crimson and white, A&M is maroon and white.

Everybody's talking about the teams resembling each other. Neither has a good ground attack but each has a fine passing game. Each team's quarterback is the keyman and each has a great passing combination that resembles the other. With Alabama its Ken Stabler to All-American Dennis-Homan. With Texas A&M it's Edd Hargett to Bob Long. Both are quite sensational with the big plays.

Bryant needed to do some recruiting and didn't want to take time out to scout A&M, so he asked Stallings if he'd just get Coach Darrell Royal of Texas to send him his scouting report on the Aggies. In exchange, Bryant had Auburn send its scouting report on Alabama to Stallings.

They are studying each other's films—when they can get around to it. And do you know who recruited Homan for Alabama? Well, it was Stallings, when he was an assistant to Bryant at Alabama.

And do you know who recruited Stabler? Well, it was Dee Powell, who was an assistant at Alabama and now is an assistant to Stallings at Texas A&M.

Steel Industry Finds It Easier To Make Steel Than Money In Past Year

By ROBERT A. DOBKIN
PITTSBURGH (AP) — The steel industry found it easier to make steel than money in 1967. The industry poured 126 million tons—down from the record 134.1 million in 1966—but still comfortably above the once long-sought goal of 100 million tons for the fifth straight year. However, sales slipped 8 per cent and profits fell seven harder—off 31 per cent for the top 23 producers. When all the figures are in, profits should be around $200 million less than 1966, making it even tougher for the industry to support its planned $2 billion a year capital spending program. Analysts predict a good year in 1968 with an especially strong first half. Auto inventory orders alone for January are 30 per cent above normal. Some of it is attributed to strengthening market conditions as well as strike-hedge buying in anticipation of a possible midsummer walkout by the United Steelworkers Union. Although earnings improved in the fourth quarter, final figures coming in later won't offset the dismal nine-month profit picture. Production-cutting snowstorms in February, problems in bringing new equipment into use, and strikes in the auto and construction industries forced analysts at one point to revise downward their 126-million-ton production forecast. The two-month steel haulers' strike in the fall spread terror on the highways in the nation's steelmaking centers, delaying shipments at a time when demand for steel was beginning to head up. Adding to the squeeze on profits were steadily rising labor and material costs and foreign imports. Nearly 11 million tons flowed in, up slightly from the record 10.7 million in 1966. With the strong backing of the United Steelworkers, the industry appealed to the government for a temporary quota to limit imports. It said threatened nearly 80,000 jobs at home. Steelmen found protectionist sentiment in Congress, but President Johnson vowed to veto any import bill and action was put off until January. Of the Big Five, fourth-ranked National Steel Corp. turned in the smallest profit decline for the first nine months—10 per cent. Profits of No. 1 U.S. Steel Corp. skidded 36 per cent. Bethlehem was off 34 and Republic 29. Jones & Laughlin suffered a 46 per cent drop. Two producers—Wheeling Steel and Alan Wood Steel Co.—operated in the red. Only one, Kaiser Steel, showed a gain. Price increases helped offset some of the declines. Prices on products representing about 45 per cent of output were raised by piecemeal boosts, drawing only a mild rebuff from the government, a contrast to previous years. Contracts with the United Steelworkers expire Aug. 1. Demands haven't been spelled out, but pressure for a big wage increase is expected to be strong. A guaranteed annual wage may also be a possibility. A poll of the Steel Committee of the National Association of Purchasing Agents showed 78 per cent expect a strike, but a short one. With the realization that crisis bargaining would bring on industry-faring hedge buying, a flood of imports and the threat of government intervention, the USW discussed a joint union-management no-strike proposal that would have submitted unresolved contract issues to binding arbitration. The union turned it down. Movie Shown MALTA — A Christmas program of songs, poems, stories, dances and plays was presented at the Malta Grade School. Liver Patient Has Holiday At Her Home

PUEBLO, Colo. (AP) — Julie Rodriguez, 23 months, who has spent five months of relative quiet in a hospital since her historic liver transplant, returned to her home Christmas Day and was awed by two family reunions, presents and noisy youngsters. "She is acting so happy," Julie's mother said. Mr. and Mrs. John Rodriguez had not been sure if they would be allowed to bring Julie home for Christmas Day. At noon, however, doctors decided to let her make the 120-mile trip from the hospital in Denver to her home; provided she be returned to the hospital by 10 p.m. In Pueblo, she attended family reunions at both her grandparents' homes. "Julie was entranced by the lights on the Christmas trees," Mrs. Rodriguez said. Julie also wanted to run outside and play in the snow with the other children, but her parents refused.

Julie Has to be doubly careful. She underwent an operation last week for the removal of an abscess from her liver.

The trip was the climax for Julie's holiday season. Mrs. Rodriguez said gifts have been pouring into the hospital from all across the nation. "She got so many things," Mrs. Rodriguez said, "but I think her favorites were the musical toys." Since her operation July 23, Julie has been out of the hospital only four or five hours at a time. She has survived longer than any other liver transplant patient. "We are so grateful to medical science and Almighty God for prolonging the life of our daughter," Rodriguez said. Program Held ALMO — The Almo school annual Christmas program was held Friday evening at the LDS cultural hall. Christmas songs, plays and poems were presented by grade school children under the direction of Mrs. Elbert Durfee and William Jones. USE TIMES-NEWS WANT ADS FOR FAST-SELLING RESULTS

UNUSUAL SAFETY PLAY SUCCEEDS

One of the valuable by-products of membership in the American Contract Bridge League is the monthly bulletin sent to all members. In addition to news of bridge, it carries articles on bidding and play. Here is a hand discussed by Eddie Kantar in the November bulletin.

stock. One way to make the hand would be to cash the ace of spades, the ace of hearts and the ace-king of diamonds and try to make all clubs on a cross-ruff. The trouble with that line of play would be that the six of clubs would be likely to get over-ruffed.

Kantar points out that the winning line of play is to guard against 4-2 breaks in both clubs and diamonds by an unusual safety play. He suggests that after winning the first heart, South should lead a diamond and play low from his own hand. The defenders could lead any suit. Suppose a second heart, South wins in dummy, leads a club to his hand, ruffs a low diamond, draws trumps and makes his five club contract with an over-trick.

There is another way to make six that is really the same safety play by a slightly different method. South plays the ace of diamonds; leads a low diamond and discards from dummy, instead of ruffing. This leads to the identical situation later.

This is an article on play and since there are nine top tricks at three no-trump, we won't bother to comment on the bidding except to point out that South was trying to get to a slam and that if he had bid a slam in either diamonds or clubs he would have gone down because both suits broke 4-2. Playing at five clubs, South won the heart lead and took Holes In Her Ears, Not Her Head!

Dear Ele: I would like to comment on the letter written by "Holes in Whose Head?" He stated that girls with pierced ears are disgusting and barbaric. If he judges people by their personalities, I should think of him as a bit mentally unbalanced. Girls have good reasons for getting their ears pierced. Since good earrings are expensive, you stand to save a lot of money through the years if your earrings cannot slip off and get lost. To add to that, some girls can't stand the pain of a big ugly clip or a tight screw shutting off the circulation in their ear lobes. Furthermore, once your ears are pierced you have a much greater shopping range to pick from so that your jewelry will be right for you.

It's a misconception that getting ears pierced is painful. I went to a doctor and got mine pierced, and I can truthfully say that I would prefer to have my ears pierced a hundred times than to have one shot of novocaine in my mouth. I hope this makes Mr. Holes in the Head see the light. We are not "crude" and "savagelike." We're just using good fashion sense. — Told I Like It.

SHE WAITED TOO LONG
Dear Ele and Walt: Two years ago, when I was 15, I called one girl for about two weeks straight, trying to get her to go out with me. She refused every time. Naturally, I thought that was it. Now the same girl is calling me. Now she's ready to go out with me. But I'm not in the least bit interested in her anymore. I know it's sort of my fault, because I told her before if she ever changed her mind, she should call me. But in two years she added 30 pounds, got zits on her face, and acts really dumb. Am I stuck, or is there a polite way out?—"Rufus".
Dear "Rufus": Thirty pounds, zits and all, the girl is still a human being with feelings that can be hurt. If you don't have any current interest in her, don't give her false hope with a service project outing. Instead, tell her gently: "Agnus, thanks for calling, but right now my life is pretty full with other people and activities. Our timing always seems to be off for each other, doesn't it?" And then seal your lips. Don't tell one other person of the girl's approach. Check? Check! — Ele and Walt.

TRANSPORTATION PROBLEM
Dear Walt: The Winter Prom is coming up soon at our school, and I have asked a real nice girl to go with me. But the problem is transportation. I will get my driver's license the day before the dance and my folks and I have both agreed that I should pay the difference in the insurance rate. But even so, my dad says I can't take the car to the Winter Prom. He insists it's too soon after I get my license and that I would prefer to have my ears pierced a hundred times than to have one shot of novocaine in my mouth. I hope this makes Mr. Holes in the Head see the light. We are not "crude" and "savagelike." We're just using good fashion sense. — Told I Like It.

Vietnam War Tops AP News-Story Poll

By MARY CAMPBELL
AP Newsfeatures Writer

The Vietnam War, and attendant controversy and protest in the United States, has been voted the top news story of 1967 by AP member newspapers and radio and TV stations.

Other big stories of the year and the way they were ranked:

1. Arab-Israeli war.
2. Negro riots in Newark, Detroit, etc.
3. Three astronauts burned to death in Apollo test.
4. LBJ-Kosygin meet in Glassboro, N.J.
5. Britain devalues pound.
6. Congress votes not to seat Adam Clayton Powell.
7. Svetlana Alliluyeva defects.
8. Red Guards' rampage in China.
9. Election in Vietnam.
10. The Top 10 Stories were compiled before Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara announced that he is resigning his Cabinet post and becoming president of the World Bank.

Increased bombing of North Vietnam to halt the flow of men and supplies to the south began in August. Targets were bridges, shipyards and port cities which had previously not been bombed because of the danger of hitting Communist bloc ships and widening the conflict.

In three weeks in November, Hill 875 became the costliest objective in the battle of Dak To, the bloodiest battle of the war. When Hill 875 was secured at noon on Thanksgiving, Dak To had claimed the lives of 273 Americans, 32 South Vietnamese and 1,290 North Vietnamese, a toll exceeding that of the fight for the Ia Drang Valley in 1965. At the end of November, the number of Americans killed in Vietnam fighting since January 1961 was 15,058.

In the Senate, hawks debated doves over U.S. policy in Vietnam, with administration critics Sen. J. William Fulbright and Sen. Albert Gore, who called the war a quagmire, speaking loud and often. In August, 52 House members proposed a resolution calling for congressional re-examination of U.S. war policy.

Antiwar demonstrations during the year spread across the country on college campuses, at induction centers, near the White House and Pentagon and wherever administration officials were speaking. There was some draft card burning, violence, many arrests. In April, war protest rallies in San Francisco and New York drew 180,000 demonstrators. In October some 35,000 attempted to storm the Pentagon and were turned back by soldiers and U.S. marshals who arrested 683.

The six-day Arab-Israeli war, a smashing victory for the Israelis, was voted No. 2 story of the year. President Gamal Abdel Nasser announced a United Arab Republic blockade of the Gulf of Aqaba, Israel's only sea outlet to the south and east. Arab troops massed in the Sinai Desert and on the Jordanian and Syrian borders. On June 5 Israeli planes struck Egypt's airfields, destroying nearly two-thirds of the 400 combat craft on the ground and deciding the war's outcome in the first few hours.

Peace settlement proposals were made in the U.N. but no concrete action was taken there until late in November when the Swedish ambassador to Moscow was sent as the Security Council's representative to the Middle East.

There was sporadic gunfire across the Suez Canal after the cease-fire and in October the Israeli destroyer Elath was sunk near Port Said. Three days later Israel recommended that he be later Israeli guns destroyed 80 per cent of Egypt's oil refining capacity.

The bloodiest week in the history of U.S. race riots, in July, found violence in more than 40 cities. Since Jan. 1 there had been violence in at least 68 cities. The pattern was repeated: mobs smashing windows, throwing rocks, looting stores, burning buildings, shooting. Police and national guard responded with guns and tear gas to restore order.

In Newark, in mid-July, rioting reached its most severe toll since the Watts riot in 1965. Twenty-six died, more than 1,200 were injured, 1,316 arrested and more than $15 million in property was damaged. The next week, Detroit, after five days of rioting, had 39 dead, more than 1,000 wounded, 5,000 arrested and property losses of some $200 million. About 1,700 stores were looted and more than 1,300 burned. At top strength, the Army and National Guard in Detroit numbered 11,500.

CORE director Floyd McKissick said the Civil Rights movement was dead and black revolution had taken its place.

The other top stories:

4. Three astronauts died in a flash fire during a test of their Apollo spacecraft Jan. 27 at Cape Kennedy, just 218 feet above the ground. They were Air Force Lt. Col. Virgil I. Grisom, one of the original seven astronauts and first man to soar twice into the heavens; Air Force Lt. Col. Edward H. White II, first American to walk in space; and Navy Lt. Cmdr. Roger B. Chaffee, awaiting his first flight. They were to have been the first U.S. astronauts on the moon.
5. They died of asphyxiation within 18 seconds of the first report of fire, probably caused by an electrical malfunction that ignited their all-oxygen atmosphere. Heat and smoke prevented opening the hatch for five minutes. A $45 million safety overhaul of the Apollo was started after the fire, resulting in a hatch which can be opened in three seconds.
6. The Apollo program was delayed, the shoot being rescheduled for next July.
7. While Soviet Premier Alexei Kosygin was in America for U.N. talks on the Middle East in June, he and President Johnson agreed to meet halfway between New York and Washington. The two world leaders talked at Glassboro, N.J., on June 23, for five hours, and 20 minutes with only interpreters present, about worsening U.S.-U.S.S.R. relations over Vietnam and the Middle East crisis, and the possibility of limiting the nuclear arms race.
8. Kosygin had planned to leave the country the next day but stayed for another meeting. Both said the meetings were cordial and useful and they would keep in touch.
9. In November Britain devalued its pound sterling, from $2.80 to $2.40, in an effort to halt the exodus of exports that was threatening the stability of her currency. While the move made Britain more competitive in international trade, it caused a money-tightening increase in U.S. interest rates.
10. A select House committee found Adam Clayton Powell guilty of gross misconduct—using public money for private travel and dodging the courts of New York which held him in contempt because he didn't pay military leaders who favored seated as a House member with a stiff censure.

On March 1 the House turned down the recommendation and voted to declare vacant the House seat Powell had held for 22 years. Powell, on the Bahama Island of Bimini, called it a racist attack.

8. Svetlana Alliluyeva, only daughter of the late Soviet dictator Joseph Stalin, took the ashes of British Singh, her third husband, to his native India after his death in October 1966. While there, she decided to defect. She walked into the American embassy in New Delhi March 6, was flown to Rome, then Switzerland and finally to the United States April 21.

9. She left Russia, she said, because of disenchantment with Communism, a need to worship God and for "self-expression denied me in Russia." She later made the best-seller lists with a book of her family life.

10. Teen-age militants, the Red Guards, rampaged around China this year fighting for Mao Tse-tung against his chief antagonists, President Liu Shao-chi and Central Committee General Secretary Teng Hsiao-ping.

They plastered the country with posters and leaflets about Mao's cultural revolution, riot-ed, rallied, paraded; fought with spears, clubs and bricks, chopped off noses and fingers of their foes.

They besieged the Russian embassy and sacked the British chancellery in Peking, battled railway workers for control of Hong Kong-Canton lines. They disrupted farm, factory and railway economy so much that Chou En-lai ordered them to stop fighting and go back to high school.

11. The Sept. 3 election in Vietnam was won by Chief of State Nguyen Van Thieu and his running mate, Premier Nguyen Cao Ky, who had announced his candidacy, then later took second spot under pressure from military leaders who favored
