Exclusive Interview

Senator Gives Views On Issues

By O. A. (GUS) KELKER
Times-News Executive Editor
Sen. Frank Church, Idaho's senior senator, gave a candid and exclusive interview with President Johnson's idea to attempt a curtailment of foreign travel by American citizens, and adds that drastic curtailment of our foreign spending can no longer be postponed. The senator also expressed the opinion that the course of the war in Vietnam cannot be predicted for 1968, but he said emphatically that "we can't, I'm certain, impose a military solution if we want to end it in the time we want to."

Slowed Down

KINASHASA, the Congo (AP) — About 160 shouting Congolese youths, wearing U.S. banners, slowed Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey's motorcade today shortly after he reached this country on a nine-day African tour. The vice president, who flew in from Accra, Ghana, told Congolese dignitaries in a brief arrival statement: "The American people will be among your strongest admirers as the Congress and prosper, proud of our mutual friendship and our mutual belief in the social justice of mankind."

NBC Says Heart Transplant News Rights Were Violated

By DAVID J. PAINE
CAPE TOWN, South Africa (AP) — Dennis Philip Blalberg, getting along fine after his heart transplant operation, had contracted before the surgery to sell certain news rights in his case for $50,000, a court affidavit showed Wednesday. National Broadcasting Co. said it had agreed with Dr. Blalberg and his wife to pay this sum in three parts — for exclusive rights to take pictures and interviews before, during and after the operation when he received another man's heart. Since pictures were forbidden by the hospital during the operation, Tuesday, court sources said, NBC's contract apparently was nullified. With Dr. Blalberg reported recovering well from the operation, NBC went to court to re-

U.S. Infantrymen Pursue Reds In Area Near Da Nang Bases

By GEORGE MCARTHUR
SAIGON (AP) — U.S. Infantrymen today pursued North Vietnamese Communist forces in an area near Da Nang, and the Communist death toll in South Vietnam's five northern provinces climbed to at least 400 since the New Year's truce ended Tuesday. The North Vietnamese kept up heavy machine gun fire at American helicopters moving troops and supplies into the Que Son Valley south of Da Nang. One helicopter was shot down today, making a total of five downed in two days. The crew was rescued, and U.S. fighters were tried to knock out the enemy guns.

Airline Terminal Here Records Busiest Year

West Coast Airlines' Twin Falls terminal marked its heaviest traffic year despite a nine-day traffic strike which nearly tripled air traffic in June and July, one of the peak passenger periods. Ronald (Hap) Masoner, local agent, said 17,000 passengers boarded West Coast flights in 1967, a 15 per cent increase over 1966 when 14,500 passengers were boarded. The 1967 figure represents about 100 more passengers a day than the Federal Aviation Agency's West Coast recorded its heaviest day

Bowles To Attend Meet In Cambodia

By FRANCES LEWINE
SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — President Johnson announced today he is sending Ambassador Chester Bowles to confer with Prince Norodom Sihanouk of Cambodia on the question of use by Communist Vietnamese of his country as a sanctuary. The Texas White House issued this one paragraph statement today. "The United States government is sending a representative to Cambodia in response to the indication given by His Highness Prince Norodom Sihanouk, chief of state of Cambodia, that he would accept to receive an embassy of President Johnson, Ambassador Chester Bowles has been selected for this mission and the governments of Cambodia and the United States are in agreement that Mr. Bowles should arrive in Phnom Penh within the next few days. Bowles is U.S. Ambassador to India. At issue in such talks suggested last week by the Cambodian chief of state is what U.S. officials term the growing use of Cambodia as a sanctuary for North Vietnamese and Viet Cong troops battling the United States and her allies in South Vietnam. Bowles, 69, has previously attempted to restore harmony to U.S. Cambodian relations. Bowles participated in talks in New Delhi with Cambodian officials in 1965 with Sihanouk broke diplomatic relations with the United States. The prince at that time accused the Central Intelligence Agency of plotting against him. In the current situation, Bowles cut short a holiday in South India to rush back to New Delhi on New Year's Day for a special appointment with Prime Minister Indira Gandhi at which to discuss the Cambodian question. Since Dec. 29, U.S. officials from President Johnson on down have been voicing a deep interest in a reported offer from Prince Sihanouk to discuss the issue of use by North Vietnamese and Viet Cong of Cambodia for a hideaway. It had accompanied the bid with assurance that he would refrain from using his own forces against American troops engaged in hot pursuit of Vietnamese Reds in unpopulated areas of Cambodia. Sihanouk first took this stand in an interview published by the Washington Post in which he said he was "caught between the hammer and the anvil." Reacting to a New Year's Day news conference at his Tomy ranch, Johnson said that "we" read the prince's quoted statements "with a great deal of interest—and I might say pleasure—and they were being studied carefully. To say, too, that 'we are encouraged by the reaction of the prince' is an overstatement of his own position. If Mr. Johnson wants to send an ambassador to Cambodia, it is negotiable," he said. "It is possible, but what is going to be negotiated? There will be negotiations so that the two countries do not become enemies."

Differences

VATICAN CITY (AP) — The Vatican denied today that there was friction between Pope Paul VI and President Johnson at a meeting last month where they discussed the Vietnam conflict. "The cordiality of the meeting was not disturbed by misunderstandings," said a communique printed in the Vatican daily, L'Osservatore Romano. The Vatican denial came in reply to press reports that the Dec. 23 meeting had been frigid and that there was little agreement. The communique did not deny there were differences of opinion.

Hearings Set In Evidence Planting Case

Separate preliminary hearings have been set in Twin Falls County Probate Court for two former police officers charged with preparing false evidence against two Jerome men. Judge Raymond Reed set Jan. 15 at 9 a.m. as the time for hearing requested by Mike McGarvey and Jan. 29 at 9 a.m. as the hearing date for Melvin Heath. Both are free on bond following arraignment last week in which they requested hearings. They were dismissed from their police jobs after being accused of planting marijuana in an automobile in which they had arrested two Jerome men on suspicion of possession of narcotics.

County, Hospital Officials Review Emergency Needs

By BONNIE DAIRD JONES
Times-News Staff Writer
County and Magic Valley Memorial Hospital officials met Wednesday night to discuss emergency medical services at the hospital after criticism following a New Year's Eve shooting that fatally injured two persons and critically injured a third. In the Wednesday night meeting, County Commission Chairman Heber Loughmiller said his board and the executive committee of the hospital board discussed the extent of the problem and means by which a solution could be reached. Mrs. Irene Oliver, hospital administrator, said another meeting will be held, probably Thursday night, with the executive committee of the medical staff. Commissioner Loughmiller said the hospital and county were concerned with determining the extent of the problem and working with the medical staff in reaching a suitable solution. Since the doctors will have to provide this solution, he said, the county will not be able to plant behind a meeting should the men with the medical staff leave as soon as possible.

estimated and the situation is not as critical as reported. Under the present system doctors are called for one week in some four categories, but most of the emergency calls are for surgeons. If the doctor who is "number one" on the call is unable to accept, calls on is involved with a private patient, he is responsible for obtaining a replacement or the second doctor on the list is notified that he is on call.

Normally, hospital officials said, the system works out well but officers said there are frequently long delays for accident victims must wait in the emergency room for a doctor to arrive. Whenever possible, the victim's family physician is called. County officials, who said they would not add every four hours being made, added they felt it should be reviewed for possible improvement.

Heart Transplant Appears Successful

By DAVID J. PAINE
CAPE TOWN, South Africa (AP) — Dr. Philip Blalberg reported in "entirely satisfactory" condition today, 48 hours after he received a heart transplant. His attorneys announced the retired dentist and his wife will not keep for personal use the money they are due to receive under a contract for television rights they signed last week. The contract was disclosed Wednesday night when the honor fees of the estate of New York sought to protect it. The contract was for $50,000 but half this sum apparently fell by the wayside when pictures of the operation were forbidden. Dr. Blalberg received Tuesday the heart of a 56-year-old young actor who died of a stroke. Groote Schuur Hospital said today the dentist is fully conscious and in good spirits, but has had no solid foods yet. Dr. Jeanus Burger, medical superintendent of the hospital, said the chances were "very promising" that the 55-year-old patient's body would reject the heart. Blalberg is expected to remain in an oxygen tent for another three or four days. He was under constant observation, with checks being made on his pulse rate and blood pressure at least every half hour. His blood gases are analyzed twice daily, and the chemical content of the blood is tested every four hours. The hospital spokesman said to guard against infection and too much emotion, Blalberg would not be allowed to see his wife for several days. The spokesman also said that radioactive cobalt treatment to counteract the body's natural tendency to reject a foreign object would be given. The heart would be within a few days of being transplanted. Dr. Christian Barnard, who headed the surgical team for the transplant on Blalberg and for medical history's first recorded heart transplant Dec. 3 on Louis Washkansky, had indicated that Blalberg would be given less antirejection treatment than Washkansky. The treatment was believed a factor conducive to the pneumonia which killed Washkansky 18 days after the operation.

Meanwhile, the National Broadcasting Company went to court in an attempt to block a contract for television rights which it said threatened to infringe on its contract with Blalberg and his wife for exclusive photo coverage and interviews before, during and after the operation.

Israel Premier Leaves For U.S.

TEL AVIV (AP) — Israel Premier Levi Eshkol left for the United States today to ask President Johnson for U.S. arms to offset the "tremendous Soviet arms supplies to countries in the region." Eshkol, accompanied by his wife, Miriam, and several aides, planned a two-week tour to United Nations headquarters in New York, the FBI Ranch in Texas, Canada and London.

Effective Mumps Vaccine Is Licensed

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Public Health Service announced today licensing of what officials described as the first "clearly effective" vaccine against the mumps. Dr. Bruce Dull, assistant director of the Communicable Disease Center in Atlanta, Ga., told The Associated Press the new vaccine gives total immunity for at least one year and hopefully for life. Although mumps is a relatively mild childhood disease, it can cause sterility when it strikes adult males. Dull said in a telephone interview following the licensing announcement in Washington the vaccine gives 95-100 per cent immunity against the disease. Dull said a vaccine which has been available since the 1950s provided total immunity for only about 50 per cent of those vaccinated. License was granted to the Merck, Sharp and Dohme research laboratories at West Point, Pa. The Public Health Service said the firm had developed the vaccine over a period of five years. Surgeon William H. Stewart, U.S. health secretary, said in a statement the vaccine should be administered to children, approaching puberty, to adolescents and to adults—especially adult males. Only those who have not had mumps should be vaccinated, he said, because there had been no proven cases of people catching the highly contagious disease more than once.

Stewart said young children should not at this time be inoculated because the length of immunity from the vaccine needs further determination. An official said Stewart was saying in effect it is better for children to get the disease when they are young because it is not yet known whether the new vaccine will provide lifelong protection. The vaccine, which is given in one injection, is known as a live variety because it contains live—but extremely weak—viruses.

The older vaccine contained dead viruses. The new vaccine is prepared from an embryo culture of the chicken. The National Institutes of Health, Division of Biologic Standards, put the vaccine through extensive tests for safety and potency during the past 18 months. Licensing was authorized after approval by the Public Health Service's Advisory Committee on Immunization Practices.

Shoulder Straps Now Required

Buckle Up For Safe Travel

by RUTH KOONCE MITLER
Times-News Staff Writer

As of Jan. 1, 1968, new cars rolling off assembly lines in the nation's automobile factories are being equipped with dual seat belts, a combination of the old around-the-waist type and a new shoulder harness type.

The new safety feature has been made necessary because of a federal regulation and the cost—about $22 to $32—will be passed on to the new car buyer.

New cars now in stock at Twin Falls automobile dealers are not equipped with the new belts, but they should begin arriving later this month.

The new belts undoubtedly will be safer. They will decrease, if not totally eliminate, the possibility of automobile drivers and passengers going through windshields or into steering wheels.

Shoulder harnesses also add another important feature. While waist-type belts have decreased injuries and deaths, the belts themselves have caused some injuries. Dislocated hips, broken ribs and severe bruising have been caused by tremendous pressure of the belt on its wearer during wrecks.

Whether the belts themselves actually will do much good is up to the automobile driver and passengers. Federal statistics have provided for several years that all new cars be equipped with seat belts, but how many people actually use them?

Sheriff Paul Cordor estimates that only about 25 per cent of the people who have seat belts use them. He said that it is very seldom that officers investigate a wreck where seat belts in the car are actually in use.

"Generally they show a clear down under the seat," he noted.

Statistics have provided that the original waist-type belts are lifesaving. Very few traffic fatalities were wearing seat belts, and many of the cars they were in were equipped with belts.

People give many reasons for not wearing the belts—they're uncomfortable, they're inconvenient, they're messy, they're where people would have been killed if they had seat belts.

Statistics also have proven that seat belts are relaxing. They eliminate road fatigue because drivers and passengers do not have to brace themselves for every curve, etc.

Getting used to buckling them is all a matter of habit. It's no more trouble than moving the seat back after your wife has been driving the car. It's been killing it if they had been wearing seat belts, but statistics also prove there are a lot more people who would be alive today if they had worn them.

One automobile dealer in Twin Falls said he understood the new belts would increase the safety factor from 30 to 70 per cent over the old type.

The new belts will be much more restrictive than the old ones. Automobile passengers will not have much freedom of movement but freedom of movement is what kills a lot of people.

A distinct advantage of the new belts is the virtual elimination of passengers falling out of open doors in the case of rollovers, another dealer stated.

"I'm a firm believer in seat belts," stated a Twin Falls automobile dealer. "We watch our customers as they come in, and a good percentage of them are using their seat belts."

Special reinforcement in coil spring portions of cars will be required to install the new belts in vehicles. They are even available in convertibles, although federal regulations do not require that they be installed in that type of car.

BUCKLING UP FOR safety in a new way is Beverly Richman, Hazelton. The new shoulder harness-type seat belt has been combined with the old waist-type belt in all 1968 cars rolling off assembly lines after Jan. 1. Federal regulations have made the installation necessary in an attempt to decrease fatality statistics, but how much good the new belts will do depends on the person who wears or doesn't wear them.

She told the board she found the machine frozen when she went to work Wednesday morning after the temperature hit 19 below zero here. The board approved her request.

Gov. Romney Returns From 4-Week Tour

DETROIT (AP)—Presidential hopeful Gov. George Romney, back from his four-week, 17-nation global tour, says "the world desperately needs an example of national integrity."

"I received credentials for the Republican presidential nomination, Romney told newsmen and the 200 placard-waving well-wishers who met him at the Detroit airport. "There is an explosive cynicism and discontent across the globe. Leadership must help, replace it with vision and vitality," said Romney, who leaves next week to open his campaign in the New Hampshire presidential primary.

The Michigan governor, who spent Christmas in Michigan, said the war there "is the single most consuming issue throughout the world."

Plugging that there would be no abandonment of South Vietnam elected, Romney said in the weeks "without" he would be setting forth his specific findings and proposals stemming from his world-tour, "particularly in connection in Vietnam."

Prince Of Cambodia Says His Country Is Pinned Between Hammer And Anvil

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
Prince Norodom Sihanouk of Cambodia says his country is pinned between the hammer and the anvil, evidently meaning the hammer of U.S. power and the anvil of communism. This might explain why he keeps all sides guessing about exactly what he intends to do if the Americans engage in hot pursuit of Vietnamese Communists across his borders.

The arrival of communism may be looking more menacing to him right now than the American hammer. Thus, his words indicate, he would in the proper circumstances be persuaded to look the other way in the event of hot pursuit.

Sihanouk leaves the impression that he is seeking insurance, and in so doing is fighting fire with fire.

Statements of the Cambodian chief of state perplex many Westerners and probably many Communists, too. He seems to say one thing one day and another the next. But Sihanouk himself appears perplexed, and from this standpoint there is no certain consistency about his words. Despite his florid denunciations of American intentions, he is keeping the door open, while at the same time keeping in wary eyes on the Communist side.

On New Year's Day, Sihanouk said he would "never let any foreigner occupy the least square meter of our territory without acting to drive him out," but in the case of partial occupation we must first use protests and diplomatic means to make the adversary withdraw.

The operative word in that seems to be "occupy." The case of swift pursuit across borders where the United States claims the Communist have set forth his specific findings and proposals stemming from his world-tour, "particularly in connection in Vietnam."

The perplexity arises from a series of Sihanouk statements, seemingly contradictory.

The upshot of all these words appears to be that basically Sihanouk hopes he will not have to face up to the problem of hot pursuit at all—but should it happen, he would want it to be so limited that there would be reasonable insurance against Cambodia herself being dragged into the Vietnamese war. That, with Communist pressure on him at home and from abroad, could spell the end of Sihanouk and Cambodia's independence.

A Tragedy

As so often happens, a tragedy has called public attention to a situation that should have been corrected years ago. The situation in question is the procedure for insuring physicians are available to handle emergency cases at Magic Valley Memorial Hospital. The tragedy is the triple shooting on New Year's Day in which a man and his wife died and a second man was critically wounded.

resent from the present one is needed. The way things are set up, a doctor always is on call—where he can be contacted immediately by the hospital to handle emergency cases. If he cannot be available during his on-call period, an alternate doctor is designated.

Where Were You?

Not long ago we entered a plea for interest in city government. This plea, at least on the surface, was ignored. Someone said once: "The people deserve the type of government they get."

And of those 25, at least half were city employees. To the 12 or 13 people who came to the council meeting to just watch we extend our congratulations. To the other 5,000 plus voters in the city, where were you?

WASHINGTON (NEA) — To be effective, a U.S. nuclear weapons complex must achieve three ends: 1—Deter anomalies from starting war. 2—Help win the war if one starts. 3—Preserve as many of our people and resources as possible from destruction in war so that this nation can recover in a reasonable time.

civilian or military planners expect. Once, this unpredictability of war was accepted, then the folly of depending too heavily on a weapons system that has never been tried in war becomes apparent.

When a war breaks out, it is also obviously necessary to insure to far as possible that the people of our nation and its resources endure but the nation recovers as rapidly as possible—or a U.S. victory may be in reality a defeat. Secretary of Defense McNamara apparently is gambling that his missiles will surely prevent all-out war. This reporter believes that this is too much of a gamble.

Aid To Science

From time to time I get letters asking how to go about leaving one's body to science. This is a very worthy intention. As the Demonstrators' Association puts it: "Let the dead teach the living." Our medical and dental schools are chronically handicapped by having an inadequate number of bodies for their students to work on now that the once-popular robbing of graves is generally frowned on.

I have willed my body to a School of Medicine for the purpose of medical research and teaching. Since I have developed a bequithal kit of legally valid forms which you may fill out. It is worth, however, to make sure that the relative who will be responsible for disposing of your body is in sympathy with your generous intent. Otherwise he can, in most states, have that portion of your will set aside.

Whether these systems should be adopted or not is not certain. What is certain, however, is that some such protective system is necessary. Any GI whose life has been saved by a fox hole or a slit trench knows this.

Mental Center Finances Studied

Twin Falls County Commission are continuing to meet in special sessions in an effort to complete drafts on the tentative 1968 county budget due next Monday, and are continuing to receive requests for special programs and services.

Chairman of the commission, Heber Loughmiller told a delegation from Harbor House and the organization to promote a mental retardation center for Twin Falls that commissioners are obligated to hold the line in every way possible.

He said if the money could come from some source other than the property taxpayer, he would support the Harbor House and a retardation center. However, he said he would oppose Harbor House if it put the county in the position of operating an orphanage, which Mr. Loughmiller said he believed it would.

Harbor House, a delegation headed by Mrs. Kenneth Briggs appealed to the commission to restore the $13,500 budgeted a year ago for Harbor House, a facility to provide homes for children temporarily homeless.

Last year Harbor House members elected to give up their budgeted $13,500 in county funds to assist the Mental Retardation Center in acquiring matching funds needed to assure federal appropriations for the center in this area.

At that time it was believed the center would be able to provide facilities planned by Harbor House.

Now, Mrs. Briggs said, it appears that such will not be possible in the first phase of the program and some type of facilities are needed now to house youngsters who are wards of the county and temporarily homeless because of misfortune or actions of their parents.

Ray Lincoln, state representative who has spearheaded the efforts for a retardation center, and Tom Nelson, chairman, urged the commission to provide funds for both projects, as the retardation center will operate without county costs once it is established through matching funds.

He said funds last year donated by Harbor House must be appropriated to provide legal and financial services.

As it is already obligated as matching money.

Frank Hicks was appointed city attorney. The rest of the city employees will be appointed at a special meeting.

Bills were approved for the month of $2,262.44. The council approved Ordinance No. 280, the 1968 interim budget, totaling $93,454.25, which includes some of the expenses occasioned by the forthcoming sewer project.

Mrs. Wozh Montgomery Sr. was reappointed to the library board.

Jailer Slain Before He Could Testify

TERRA AMARILLA, N.M. (AP) — A jailer scheduled to testify at the trial of 20 persons charged with making an armed raid on a courthouse, has been found beaten to death.

The body of Eugenio Salazar, 54, was found Wednesday 15 miles west of Tierra Amarilla in northern New Mexico.

"He was a brother officer," said New Mexico State Police Chief Joe Black. "Let's get the guy that killed him. It was the worst beating I have seen given in 30 years as a police officer."

Salazar, who weighed only about 100 pounds, had been shot in the face and chest during the June 5 raid on the Rio Arriba County courthouse in Tierra Amarilla.

The autopsy is to be performed and an inquest held in Salazar's death.

Shortly after the body was found Cristobal Tijerina, 35, Albuquerque, and Felix Martinez, 20, Tierra Amarilla, were assigned on charges of being accessories to a murder and held as material witnesses.

Tijerina's brother, Reles, the president of the Federal Alliance of Free City States, was named last month as a defendant in a $1 million suit filed by Salazar and state policeman Nick Satz, also wounded in the raid, seeking damages in connection with the courthouse shootings. Salazar named Reles Tijerina as one of the persons who shot him.

The Federal Alliance of Free City States is a militant Spanish-American land-grant organization that seeks title to millions of acres of land in the Southwest under old Spanish land grants.

Dist. Court Judge Joe Angel ordered the 20 defendants arrested Wednesday night, recalling bonds of the 20 defendants charged in the June raid. Within a few hours, all but three of the defendants were back in custody. Authorities said, however, that the persons were not directly connected with Salazar's death.

Meet Slated

GLENN'S FERRY — Glenns Ferry Chamber of Commerce will reconvene its Monday luncheon meetings in Hanson's Cafe Jan. 8.

Mrs. Anderson was struck by an auto as she was crossing Shoshone Street at Third Avenue West about 5:50 p.m. Wednesday. Magic Valley Memorial Hospital reported Thursday morning that Mrs. Anderson was in fair condition, and has a ruptured knee ligament.

Mid-Winter Tour Set By MVCC Chorus

MAGIC VALLEY CHRISTIAN COLLEGE, Albion — The 20-voice cappella chorus of Magic Valley Christian College will be in its mid-winter tour Friday under the direction of Elo B. Eldred, chairman of the music Department of the college.

The group will sing at 7:30 p.m. Friday at the Church of Christ in Twin Falls. Saturday members will travel by charter bus to Reno, Nev., where a program will be presented at the Church of Christ.

The chorus will next go to San Joaquin Valley in California for presentations in Sacramento, Concord, Salinas, Santa Maria, Bakersfield, Tulare, Turlock and Stockton.

An outstanding feature of the chorus program is a series of folk tunes by the Little Peoples. This group has performed on many occasions throughout the Magic Valley area and has been enthusiastically received, Mr. Eldred said.

The singers will return to the campus Jan. 14. They will present their tour program selections at 8:15 p.m. Thursday in Bockert Hall at MVCC.

Rep. Taft May Run For Ohio Governorship

WASHINGTON (AP) — Some Republicans say the decision by Rep. Robert A. Taft Jr. not to seek Senate re-election in 1970, might mean he could run for Ohio's governorship in 1970.

Republican Taft's announcement that he won't seek the GOP nomination to oppose Lausche obviously took a load off the mind of the Ohio Democrat, who probably will face a stiff fight in his own party's primary May 7.

"I presume that Taft's decision was made after a careful survey of the situation in Ohio," Lausche said in an interview Wednesday. "I am gratified that he decided not to run."

Lausche said he does not expect Gov. James A. Rhodes to become a candidate for the Republican gubernatorial nomination. He added he has no idea about the likely GOP nominee.

Some Republican leaders had hoped to interest Rhodes in running for the Senate this year but the governor is reported to have firmly rejected that idea.

Rhodes is serving his final four-year term as state executive and the thinking is he prefers to take on Sen. Stephen M. Young, D-Ohio, two years from now.

Taft's decision not to contest Lausche or any other Democratic nominee this year could leave him the choice in 1970 of backing Rhodes, an acknowledged statewide vote getter, for the GOP senatorial nomination or seeking some other office.

Taft has run for election to the House then as he plans to do this year, but those who know him well say his ambition is to follow his late father to the Senate.

They say this could involve a deal, with Taft seeking the governorship in 1970 as a possible prelude to a later senatorial race.

Operation On Heart No Good

PORTLAND (AP) — A 72-year-old woman died Wednesday night after a team of doctors had transplanted a human valve into her heart.

A statement from Good Samaritan Hospital in Portland said Mrs. Ota Churchman, 72, of Newberg, Ore., died at 7:40 p.m. — about two and a half hours after the operation.

The hospital said she suffered a sudden heart irregularity, known as ventricular fibrillation.

Mrs. Churchman had been well and stable until the fibrillation occurred, the hospital said. In fact, she had been listed in good condition shortly after the operation.

The doctors who performed the operation said the valve grafts functioned properly at all times. The hospital said that both the patient and the doctors were aware of the risks of open heart surgery in any form in this age group.

Dr. Melvin Reeves, who headed the surgical team, said the six-hour operation Wednesday afternoon went well. He said the first 21 hours after the transplant would be the most critical.

Mrs. Churchman received her valve from an anonymous donor. There were three human valves available for the operation, along with a supply of artificial plastic valves.

This was the first time a human valve transplant had been attempted in Oregon. Doctors have successfully transplanted artificial heart valves in Oregon hospitals for several years.

The live valve transplant has been performed in other states and in other countries, however.

Dr. Reeves said the advantage of human valves over plastic ones is that they do not create as many blood-clotting problems.

Delay Of Road Improvement Is Requested

PULLMAN, Wash. (AP) — E. N. Klengard, Whitman County port of entry manager, has requested a delay on improvement of U.S. 195 between Colton and the Idaho State border.

Klengard said in a letter to Sen. Warren G. Magnuson, D-Wash., made public Wednesday.

"We wish to urge the delay in contracting and spending $1.2 million for improvement of U.S. 195 from Colton to the Idaho line where it connects with an inadequate mountainous road into Lewiston, Idaho."

He said an alternate route from Colton via Steptoe Canyon to Lewiston is the best route and is feasible and economic.

Charles Bright, Washington State highway director, said the Colton to Idaho line project is justified even if the Steptoe Canyon route is built at some future time.

By PHILIP WECHSLER ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP) — After several years of racial tension and periodic violence at Atlantic City High School, the white and 30 Negro youths, who have formed their own group, "The Peace Corps," after five policemen were assigned full-time to patrol school corridors and yards. The police, one member described as "cool men" are still at the school.

The organization has no officers and acts on a consensus basis. Of the present sessions, Negro senior Cory Clairborne says, "It's surprising how frankly students, both Negro and white, have spoken of their feelings. A pretty blonde sophomore admitted at a corps discussion that she feared Negroes and when she saw a Negro boy in the school corridor she would walk to the other side."

The four communities, Ventnor, Margate, Longport and Briantown, have a total of three Negro families. There are 23,000 Negroes in Atlantic City. "Judgment, confident social segregation of the races spurs prejudiced white parents to insist in their children a fear of Negroes and when their daughters begin horn they're scared."

Because of this, fear of the lack of Negro enrollment in the elementary schools of four of the small surrounding communities, whose pupils attend the high school, the only public high school in the area, under a tuition arrangement.

Each other, how they think, how they react and their goals. One successful corps program has been the effort made at the last basketball game to integrate the starting at games. Previously whites and Negroes voluntarily sat in separate sections.

But he is optimistic about the corps and the progress it has made so far. "Just by getting the students to talk together that's half the battle licked," he says.

CHEDDAR CHEESE adds the right spark to Tempting Tuna Bake. The ingredients are simple enough and so is preparation. It makes a fine family fare as well as an excellent buffet feature. Ripe olives and crunchy toasted almonds add zest to the dish and the simplicity of preparation makes it a favorite of all.

Tuna And Spaghetti Make Tasty Dish

Tempting Tuna Bake is aptly named. Who could resist the appeal of tuna and spaghetti combination enrobed with creamy sauce and zesty Cheddar cheese and laced with crunchy toasted almonds, ripe olives and a little onion? Further enticement comes from a sprinkling of Cheddar added just at the end so it melts to a mellow degree. The ingredients are simple enough and so is preparation; nevertheless, there's a perfect balance of flavors that make very special eating of Tempting Tuna Bake. It's fine family fare with an excellent buffet feature.

TEMPTING TUNA BAKE
2 tablespoons margarine
2 tablespoons flour
1 1/2 cups milk
1 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon pepper
1 1/2 cups spaghetti, cooked, drained
1 1/2 cups tuna
1 cup sliced ripe olives
1 cup sliced onion
1 3-oz. can sliced mushrooms, drained
1 1/2 cups (8 oz.) shredded sharp natural Cheddar cheese

2 7-oz. cans tuna, drained, flaked
1/2 cup silvered almonds, toasted
1-1 cup sliced ripe olives
1-1 cup sliced onion
1-1 3-oz. can sliced mushrooms, drained
1 1/2 cups (8 oz.) shredded sharp natural Cheddar cheese

Make a cream sauce with margarine, flour, milk and seasonings. Add remaining ingredients, reserving one-half cup cheese for topping; mix slightly. Pour into 1 1/2 quart casserole; bake at 350 degrees, 25 minutes. Sprinkle with remaining cheese; return to oven until cheese melts. Six to eight servings.

Romney May Be Setup For Nixon

By WALTER R. MEARS
 WASHINGTON (AP) — Michigan Gov. George Romney, who concedes he trails Richard M. Nixon in popularity polls, "may be a setup" for Nixon in New Hampshire's Republican presidential primary, says a liberal GOP group.

The Ripon Society said in its current newsletter a Nixon-Romney contest in New Hampshire could be similar to the West Virginia Democratic primary of 1960 in which John F. Kennedy defeated Robert F. Kennedy.

Humphrey quit the presidential race after his defeat and Kennedy went on to win the nomination and the White House.

"Romney may be a setup for Nixon just as Humphrey was for Kennedy," the Ripon Society said. "As John Kennedy demonstrated in 1960, a candidate who never really had a chance, can be made a convincing selling point in the campaign for delegate votes in other states."

Romney told news men Wednesday in New York after completing his foreign tour: "I am an underdog and I have my uphill battle. I'm not accustomed to this."

Idaho Mines Half Of Silver Dug In U.S.

SPOKANE (AP)—Idaho mines accounted for more than half of all the silver dug in the United States in 1967, and virtually all of Idaho's silver came from mines in the Coeur d'Alene Mining Region.

This is shown in preliminary annual reports issued by the U.S. Bureau of Mines. The reports indicate Idaho produced $25.9 million of the $40 million worth of silver produced in the United States last year. Idaho's silver output was estimated at 15.8 million ounces, of which 16.3 million ounces came from the Coeur d'Alene mines.

Total production was down an estimated 14.8 per cent, about 2.6 million ounces, from 1966 because of long labor strikes at the Galena, Lucky Friday and Page mines.

However, higher silver prices brought the value of Idaho's 1967 silver output to $373,000 more than the 1966 value of $25.5 million.

Fire District Plan Downed At Dietrich

STONESHOP — A proposal to secure a fire protective district at Dietrich was lost in an election Tuesday at the Grange Hall there.

There were 110 persons who voted; 68 against formation of the district and 42 for it. Lucile L. Kinsey, county clerk, said there were 230 registered voters at Dietrich and 162 of that number voted in the 1964 election.

Persons promoting the district formation feel perhaps some of the registered voters who could have voted did not realize they were qualified. Persons could vote whether they owned property or not, as long as they were registered voters.

This is the second time an attempt to form a fire district has been made in Dietrich. The first time, however, support was lacking to secure sufficient signatures on petitions to even present to the county commissioners.

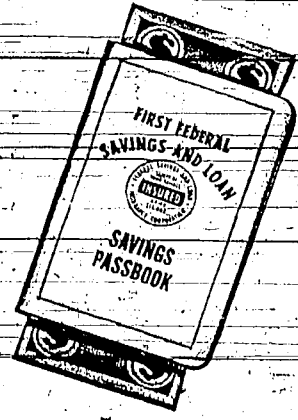

This time, sufficient, even extra, signatures were secured for the petitions and after presentation to the board of county commissioners the election was set as required by law.

Those supporting the proposal before voters attempt to form for a fire district state they expect it will be "something" before another attempt to form a district is made.

Social Security System In Constant Race With Rising Cost Of Living

By BRUCE BLOSSAT
NEA Publications
WASHINGTON (NEA)—Every time the Social Security system is altered to widen its coverage, increase benefits and raise taxes to pay the cost, the question inevitably is heard: "How long can this go on?"

This time out, there were serious doubts about the final defeat of proposals to lift the earnings base not moderately from $6,600 to $7,800 as was done, but to $10,000.

The approved (final) new tax rate for those not self-employed is set at 6.9 per cent, to take effect in 1987. But there was talk that the rate might have to be hoisted higher by that time or earlier—possibly to 10 per cent.

For a considerable number of working Americans the Social Security tax is the only federal levy they pay outside of gasoline taxes and various excises. Their annual incomes are too low to compel them to pay federal income taxes.

Should the Social Security tax finally reach 10 per cent or more, it will become a large factor in their financial lives.

At the same time, the American citizenry seems to be demanding more and more of the Social Security system. From four years back, hospital insurance and related protection under Medicare has been included—and with the 1967 law this is somewhat enlarged and improved.

The system is in a constant race with the rising cost of living. Since the new benefit levels taking effect with March 2 checks go up an average of 13 per cent for beneficiaries, temporarily this puts the system ahead in the inflation game. It is not fairly quickly followed by an 8 per cent since January, 1965, the last time higher benefits were voted.

But Social Security specialists and economists do not imagine this advantage will last long. Price rises can be expected to eat fairly quickly into the extra benefit cushion.

No expert in the field dares guess when the moment of truth will come — when taxpaying workers will resist higher Social Security tax rates demanded to pay for still higher benefits, to pay for the rising cost of living rises (sometimes talked of now).

Some analysts and public figures, not least Sen. Robert F. Kennedy of New York, are arguing today that the system henceforth should break away from crucial dependence on the insurance principle — with contributions by employe and employer — and turn to the general United States treasury to finance further advances.

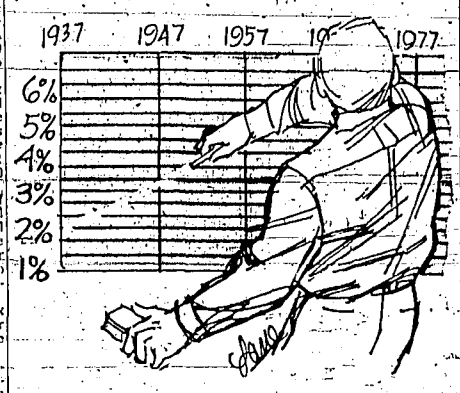

The U. S. Senate's largely squelched more liberal version of the 1967 benefit-interest proposals did not seem, in the view of more conservative congressional types, to add up to the financing problem.

But Kennedy brought the issue into the open. And he evidently had some company among some opponents of the present system who think America is now sufficiently affluent to lay a heavy part of the Social Security burden directly on the treasury.

Yet it should be understood we are talking about big money. Even the Senate's less than drastic proposals for higher cash benefits and a more liberal retirement test (the amount a man can earn and still get full retirement benefits) would be cut nearly $3 billion in the immediate future, and much more later.

Plainly the insurance principle partly supporting the program will be ching to for a good many years to come. But the pressure to break loose from it will inevitably mount as demands upon Social Security rise and the taxpayer's Social Security tax dollar looks frailer and frailer as a chief support.

Safety Of Workers Is Big Concern

By FRED S. HOFFMAN
WASHINGTON (AP) — The Pentagon is acting to provide for the safety of its late-working secretaries, who must walk across areas of darkness to reach their autos in distant parking lots.

Several measures aimed at this safety are in the works. Included are: motor patrols and what is described as emergency-type lighting around parking areas.

About two weeks ago, authorities started a special "ladies" shuttle bus service after nightfall between the Pentagon's main entrance and the parking lots, some of which stretch a half mile away.

Officials report one recent attempt at attack on a woman employe, just outside the 880-acre Pentagon reservation.

But they indicated the safety moves grow out of a general concern rather than specific cases.

About 27,000 people work in the Pentagon on the average work day, at least half of them women clerks and secretaries.

Most of the working force normally is on its way home around 5 p.m. But a small number of secretaries—some of them working for civilian and military officials who keep long hours—aren't ready to go home until late in the evening.

The Pentagon sits by itself in the middle of a wide expanse of lawn and parking lots, and after nightfall the building is surrounded by barely unrelieved darkness.

Death Of 10 Children Is Mystery

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — "Rides, please we don't want to say anything, it's just heart-break, just heart-break."

That was the quiet plea of a stunned father, comforting a shocked and sobbing mother, as the couple pondered the death of their 10th child.

"It happened" late Tuesday suddenly, unexpectedly. The other nine—last a 5-month-old Arthur J. Noe—died in infancy.

The cause of all the deaths, going back to April, 1949, remains shrouded in mystery.

Arthur Noe, a 46-year-old warehouseman, was red-eyed but composed. His wife, Marie, brushed aside tears as she slowly took down a string of Christmas cards hanging across the living room of their small Northeast Philadelphia home.

"We don't want to say anything," he said Wednesday. "We have too much in our hearts. We have been through this so many times, so many times. It is too much of a stretch to keep going on like this."

Little Arthur—the second Noe son—to bear the father's name was seemingly healthy until Friday Tuesday. He had a cold but it wasn't bothering him.

Then—it happened. Mrs. Noe, through it before, called a fire rescue squad. But the infant was pronounced dead at St. Christopher's Hospital for Children.

"There are no reasons to believe they are not natural deaths," said Dr. Joseph W. Spillman, Philadelphia's medical examiner and one of the nation's top pathologists.

"But what is the disease is what the metabolic or genetic defect is. We do not know. We have no idea."

Dr. Spillman acknowledged Wednesday his office has studied the Noe infant remains for years, sending microscopical slides of tissues and blood to pathologists all over the nation.

TEAMWORK MAKES EXPERT DEFENSE

Good defense may merely be a matter of individual brilliance. Really expert defense requires co-operation of both partners and mutual confidence.

Our favorite hand of this type for 1967 occurred in a New York

South, Mrs. Johnson covered her partner's queen with the king. South took his ace and played ace and another heart. Dummy's jack lost to East's king and the three of spades was led.

South cuffed and Jacoby was in with the queen. It was now up to him to make a key play and he did. He was sure his partner had started with exactly three diamonds. If she had only two, then South would have five, if she held four she would not have played the king. Where was the ten of diamonds in that case? In the East hand, East would not have played the king from king and two small.

Jacoby led his nine of diamonds and Mrs. Johnson was careful to put on the ten. Then she led her deuce of spades.

South went up with the ace, entered dummy with a club, played the queen of hearts, cashed the rest of his clubs when the ten of hearts failed to drop and settled for down one.

CARD SENSE

The bidding has been:

| West | North | East | South |

| 1♠ | 1♠ | 2♠ | 2♠ |
| 2♠ | 2♠ | 3♠ | 3♠ |
| 3♠ | 3♠ | 4♠ | 4♠ |

You, South, hold:
 ♠ 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2

 ♦ 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2
 ♣ 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2

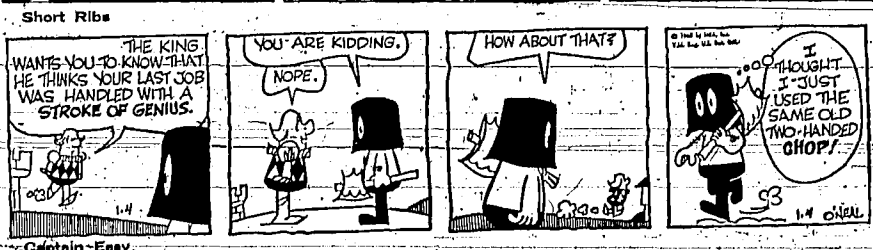

What do you do now?

— Pass. Your partner must be prepared to play at two spades with a singleton in your hand.

TODAY'S QUESTION

You pass. West doubts North and East pass. What do you do now?

If He Gets Mean, Cut The Scene

Dear Ele: What does it mean, everything; I have no idea. I want to know what you say. But what's most embarrassing is that you're just standing four feet away and giving me all these looks and shaking your head back and forth - all on his lap! Even when you're saying "too bad," it really is pany I present! What can I do, too bad, all the time looking do? I have no mother. - Wants directly at you? This is really Right.

Even when you're saying "too bad," it really is pany I present! What can I do, too bad, all the time looking do? I have no mother. - Wants directly at you? This is really Right.

Dear Kate: Obviously, the boy wants to attract your attention. For what purpose? Only he knows at this point. The "what's too bad?" question might elicit any of the following answers: "It's too bad that we've never gone out." "Your hair and makeup are all wrong." "It's a shame you're letting that luscious body go to waste." "It's too bad you waste yourself on Jim, when you and I could have such great times together." But no matter what I say, your curiosity will finally trigger the cue - he's been waiting for it. When it comes, the answer shocks you, don't give him the satisfaction of a scene. Just turn and walk off without a word. A lady uses silence to deflate her opponents.

Dear Ele: I'm 15 years old. However, my dad treats me as if I were 18. Picture this: Every time I do something wrong, in I go and down go both pants. When I was 13, we had a party celebrating my cousin's return from the service. Well, I drank too much pop and got too excited and set the bed the first time in years. So out came a dish towel for a diaper the next night, and up till now he still puts it on me.

I thought at 15 you were to have a little more freedom, too. I've never been allowed to go to a school dance or party. Will you ever give me a little more freedom, too?

Organized Crime Unlikely To Push Drugs In Idaho

By FRED DODDS
Times-News Staff Writer

"Anyone who thinks organized crime is going to push drugs in Idaho is crazy," a police officer said recently.

"It was a man versed in the ways of narcotics use. He spent 20 years of his life chasing down 'hippies' in Los Angeles.

"I once saw a man going through withdrawal," he said. "This hippie was in a cell and he was sweating and screaming with pain. He tried to dive off a top bunk head first to knock himself out."

The detective revealed that the addict or "narco" finally died. Withdrawal was too much for him. He called it "Big E" or "Horse" was the drug. The addict was shooting it into his vein sometimes 10 times a day, when he could get it. He had been responsible for more than 700 burglaries in Los Angeles during his 15-year association with "Horse."

"That's the only way he could pay for the stuff," the officer said.

A heroin addict, contrary to popular belief, is not a dangerous person, unless there is a threat that his heroin supply will be cut off.

"A hint of jail and loss of 'horse' will send an addict into a frenzy of terror. An addict will do almost anything to escape being locked in jail.

"To be addicted to heroin is not necessarily dangerous in itself. In fact, heroin addicts may be in better shape than most other people. Use does not necessarily harm the body.

But an addict loses all sense of moral values. Addicts do not like to eat. They love the dream world heroin provides. Addicts will nod a lot. They have a vacant stare in the eyes.

An addict may take up to 45 minutes to put on his shoes. Time is of no importance.

"The big danger to heroin addicts is withdrawal, blood poisoning, malnutrition and overdose.

Heroin has been big business to organized crime for years. The larger cities in the United States breed addicts, but smaller cities are not bothered to a great degree.

"It is dangerous for suppliers to ship heroin, cocaine or other drugs any great distance. There is always the chance the supply will be found. And if it is found, it is a loss of a big organized crime. There is another danger if shipment is lost, it has to be replaced. The addicts have to have the fix.

Loss of supply to any mass of addicts is highly dangerous to organized crime. Hopheads have been known to turn in a number or go crazy because a fix was not available.

And, business in New York alone is so much greater than all of Idaho. It would not be worth the effort to ship drugs into the Gem State.

Anyway, this is the feeling of a lot of police officers who know about such things.

Dope, at any rate, is not that big a thing with Cosa Nostra or the Mafia. Gambling, sports, the loan shark game, legitimate business, all pay well and have far less danger than dope.

Dope means heroin, morphine, morphine base, opium, marijuana, LSD, STP, DMT, morning glory seeds, glue, cocktail freezers, plastic, gasoline, sleeping pills, tranquilizers, etc. The list is almost endless.

But how does LSD and marijuana get into Idaho?

More important, how does it get into the hands of teenagers?

Marijuana, or Mary Jane, and LSD or Acid are the two main drugs used in Idaho simply because of their attraction and because of publicity surrounding these drugs. And also because there is the belief that neither are addictive.

The drugs we call them drugs for simplicity, but they are far more complex probably come from the West Coast. They got into the hands of teenagers by way of other teenagers, or youths just out of school.

A few hours in San Francisco, and almost anyone can find cubes of LSD or this or marijuana.

Marijuana also can be grown in Idaho, and LSD can be made by those skilled in chemistry.

There are enormous social reasons why youngsters take them. The problem is so complex there is, according to physicians, no simple answer.

Needless to say youngsters in Idaho and Twin Falls do not hold of the stuff. They experiment. There is no evidence gangs use the drugs in well attended pot parties. There is no evidence that any appreciable number of the high school student body are taking marijuana or LSD.

There is some evidence, however, that some is being taken by a few.

Marijuana is a plant, the leaves of a weed. It looks much like ivy, with long thin leaves. It is green and is grown in desert-like country. Growing it has been outlawed since the 1930s.

It is used throughout the world, in China and India and South America.

It was crushed and smoked in a cigarette called a reefer. It has a sweet smell and its effects are of well being. People who smoke it or chew it are also highly open to suggestion, and its use can make a person very irritable.

Horses used to be called marijuana. The Indians called marijuana "loco weed."

People who have smoked marijuana can commit crimes of violence, and an entire room of people smoking marijuana can cry over a dirty doorknob, simply because the idea was suggested to them.

Funds Released

WASHINGTON (AP) — Release of $7,150,000 in Federal highway funds for use in Idaho was reported Wednesday by Sen. Frank Church, D-Idaho.

The money is for use in the current fiscal year to aid in financing highway construction.

THE PROSECUTING ATTORNEY for Twin Falls County is Michael Felton, a youthful lawyer who just finished his first year in public office. One of his jobs is to prosecute drug crimes in the county. He was interviewed about a drug problem locally and he replied his office was unaware of any problem. "We are fortunate here," he said. Mr. Felton is working with county sheriff's officers and city police in an effort to gain an insight into how drugs may be supplied locally. The end result, he hopes, will be improvement in law governing illegal drug use.

Britain Acts To Limit Travel

By GRANVILLE WATTS
LONDON (AP) — Efforts to stem a rise in travel to the Amazon, Ski in Switzerland.

The annual avalanche of travel to the Alps and Britain, like the United States, wants to keep it within bounds. It has found that it can discourage people from traveling abroad, but can't stop them under current restrictions.

Britain will through foreign shores through legally their spending abroad is limited to 50 pounds a person. When this limit was imposed in June 1966 it was equivalent to $140. Now, with the pound at $240, it amounts to $120.

Anticipation of currency has entered in passports when they are checked at departure points. Travelers are advised about the restriction when they apply for tickets or foreign currency.

The general feeling in the trade is that the 50-pound limit has not prevented people from traveling, says the Association of British Travel Agents.

About 2 1/2 million Britons went on overseas vacations last year, an association spokesman estimated.

There was a big increase in package deals with charter air flights, hotel charges and other travel expenses paid in a lump sum to agents at the start of the vacation," he added. "The 50-pound limit is also allowed for each child, so a family with small children manages quite well. It's not so good for a single person or a married couple on their own."

Charges for air fares and hotel costs in the package deals are deducted from 50 pounds before travelers leave, but the charge by travel agents on a child's fare and may result in juggling of the charges in terms of foreign currency. There are other ways of getting around the spending limit.

Ferocity Of 'Great Proletarian Cultural Revolution' Waning

BY WILLIAM L. RYAN, AP Special Correspondent

Mao Tse-tung's fourth wife, Chang Ching, has dropped from public view in Communist China, according to an official statement, hints that the ferocity of the "Great Proletarian Cultural Revolution" is on the wane.

Mao Tse-tung now is 74. If his grip on the reins of power, loosened by the massive purges of the cultural revolution gradually takes away, it is possible that moderate elements will command more influence, even to the point of making Peking more approachable by other nations.

Just a year ago this month the political upheaval reached its peak of violence in what was called "the January revolution." Revolutionary rebels and teenage Red Guards were appointed to run the schools and to force the hand of party persons in authority who have taken the capitalist road.

The Chinese Communist press is renewing an appeal to Mao's supporters to "wipe struggle by reasoning and by force." This effort is being made to restore some order to the educational system, disrupted since August 1966 by the cultural revolution movement which kept youngsters out of schools and turned them against their teachers.

The movement probably will continue in one form or another for some time. But a year and a half has been a long time even for the most fanatical to keep up in full-blown state.

The failure of Mao's wife to appear at public functions could be significant. A Canton newspaper has said that "arduous struggle (in the cultural revolution) has impaired Communist China's mental health, but Russian commentators brushed this aside as unlikely.

"Foreign observers," said a Moscow broadcast in Chinese to China last week, "feel that Chang Ching's illness was due to the pressure of her role in the hand of party persons in authority who have taken the capitalist road."

Negroes Unhappy Because Alabama Community Is Without Phone Service

By Hoyt Harwell, DOUGIE CHITTO, AP

This central Alabama community spread out along dirt roads, has no telephone service and the Negro residents are unhappy about it.

"The TV comes on and talks about getting different phones in each room, different colors and all that. We can't even get one in our community," says Charles Pettis, who runs one of the two businesses in the rural community—a small garage.

The unpaved roads is one of the 100 dirt roads and more than 100 yards in front of Pettis' home, one of the most homes are one and two room shacks with few conveniences.

Southern Bell Telephone Co. says Pettis and other Dougie Chitto residents will get telephones but not soon.

The Negroes, however, hold a grudge at what they see as the utility's public relations manager, Joe Healey. "We have rural pockets all over the state which are extremely expensive to service," Healey says. "We have to consider each one of them on a pure basis of economics. We schedule them on the basis of economic feasibility of the project. The most we can do is first on down to the least."

"It will be some time before we get to this one, but we will get to it."

"Our applications don't indicate any."

The Southern Courier, a pro-civil rights publication based in Montgomery, quoted Mrs. Willie Pugh as saying she had been trying unsuccessfully for 10 years to get a phone.

"Right down the road here," she was quoted as saying, "there's a lady between two white folks' houses. They both got phones, and we can't even get a phone."

Healey said eight houses are on this one, "there's no way to put anybody else on it. We want to fill up every eight-party
