14,600 Reserve Airmen Called To Duty

Gardner Resigns His Post

WASHINGTON (AP) — The resignation of John W. Gardner as secretary of health, education and welfare was announced by the White House today.

Gardner, 55, asked to be relieved of his Cabinet post on or before March 1. He joins a growing list of high-level officials leaving their government posts.

No successor was named immediately.

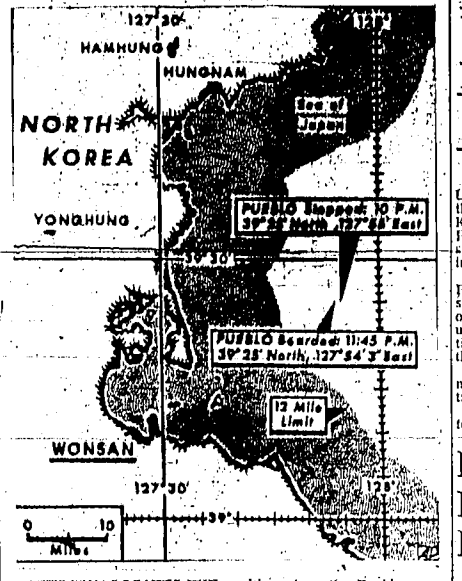

Gardner, a Republican, joined the President's Cabinet in July 1965.

In a letter released by the White House, Gardner said that when he came to Washington to take the HEW post he took a two-year leave of absence from the Carnegie Corporation and had "overstayed that leave half a year."

He said he now planned to return there as a consultant and would be working at "some special projects, relating to the problems of the cities."

Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara already is leaving the Cabinet by March 1 to become president of the World Bank, and the resignation of U.S. Ambassador Arthur J. Goldberg has been expected since last week.

The recent turnover also has extended to the budget director and chairman of the Council of Economic Advisers, Interstate Commerce Commission and Civil Aeronautics Board.

President Responds To Crisis In North Korean Ship Seizure

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States, moving to meet the crisis set off by the North Korean capture of the USS Pueblo, today called 14,600 reserve airmen to active duty.

The call-up was ordered by President Johnson, who, at the same time, was reported seriously considering asking for an urgent session of the United Nations Security Council to take up the Pueblo case.

Johnson asked for enough men to handle 372 fighter and transport craft.

The Pentagon acted speedily to call in 14,600 Air Force and Air National Guard reservists and 600 Navy air reservists.

The reserve call-up is the first since the Cuban missile crisis of October 1962.

A final decision on asking the Security Council to take up the Pueblo case probably will be made later today, it was learned.

The administration currently is reported to believe that the seizure of the Pueblo by North Korea Monday night and the reported attempt earlier to have a commando unit, infiltrated into South Korea, assassinate President Park Chung Hee, are evidence of a common pattern of aggressive pressures against South Korea and the United States.

Officials say they are not certain of the purpose behind North Korean strategy but believe it is an effort to divert the South Korean resources and U.S. resources from the war in Vietnam, where the U.S. and South Korea are allies.

The reservists being called up could be held on duty two years.

Army and Marine Corps officials said they have had no word of any plans to call up their reservists.

The Pentagon said in response to questions that both Secretary of Defense Robert S. Mc-Namara and the Joint Chiefs of Staff recommended the call-up of air reservists.

Orders to report to their bases began going out to reservists only Thursday, with Friday midnight the deadline.

Asst. Secretary of Defense Phil G. Goulding described the call-up as "a precautionary measure to strengthen our forces."

No overpress orders have been issued to the units, but Goulding did not rule out the possibility.

The Air National Guard's two tactical fighter wings which were called up—the 14th at Washington, D.C., and the 140th at Denver, Colo.—have 100 F100's each. In addition there are 54 RF101 reconnaissance planes in Louisville's 123rd tactical reconnaissance wing.

The Air Force Reserve units command 46 planes, including 22 C124 transports and 24 HC97 rescue planes.

The Navy Reserve units include a total of 72 planes—22 F4U squadrons of A4J Skyhawks and three F2H squadrons of F8 fighters. The Skyhawk is an attack bomber.

Johnson acted shortly after Clark M. Clifford, his choice to become the next secretary of Defense, resigned.

U.S. Bombers Pound Red Gun Positions

HO CHI MINH (AP) — An armada of American bombers pounded North Vietnamese gun and troop concentrations threatening U.S. Marines in the Khe Sanh valley for the sixth straight day today in one of the biggest air campaigns of the Vietnam war.

Despite nearly 6,000 tons of bombs and rocket attacks for the third day in a row against the dug-in North Vietnamese, enemy guns continued to hit the Khe Sanh base and the three strategic hills the Marines control just to the northwest.

By noon today, the North Vietnamese had dropped another 20 tons of bombs and rockets on the Marine positions protecting the northwest corner of the Khe Sanh South Vietnam—46 miles below the demilitarized zone.

Surprise Witness Appears At Trial

JEROME—A surprise defense witness took the stand in the first degree murder trial of Michael Dillon, Jr., Jerome, here Thursday morning and told the jury he saw two men and a woman taking a heavy object from the home of Mrs. Alta Simerly, murder victim, on last March 15.

Dewayne Butler, Gooding, an insurance salesman, was called to the stand by Defense Attorney James May to bring out new information concerning the March 14 bludgeoning slaying of Mrs. Simerly, 60, at her Jerome home.

Young Dillon is charged with beating her to death and taking her body in her automobile to a sandpit near Jerome where it was discovered several days later.

Mr. Butler told the court he was driving in the vicinity of the Simerly home at about 1 p.m. March 15, the day following the slaying. He said he saw the door of the home being opened by a woman and two men carrying an object that he took to be a mattress from the building.

Mr. Butler said he stopped at the nearby home of a client and when he left, the sedan, fitting the description of Mrs. Simerly's, was parked behind his own vehicle. It then followed him for some distance, he said. When he passed the Simerly home first, he said, the same vehicle was parked there with the trunk open.

Another defense witness Thursday morning was Dr. Lewis G. Minich, Salt Lake City psychiatrist, who examined the defendant. He said he believed the young defendant could be described as "aggravably" as that he would cooperate and attempt to please those questioning him.

Further, he said, the youth would not understand a statement about his legal rights in the same way as he, the doctor, would.

The testimony of two Catholic nuns highlighted the court session, Wednesday. Both nuns taught Dillon when he attended the St. Joseph's School in Twin Falls.

The testimony to the sisters attended school in the first grade.

Idaho Units Not Included In Orders

No Idaho units of Air Force and Navy Reservists were included Thursday after the President issued an order to call several thousand reservists to active duty because of the North Korean seizure of the USS Pueblo.

However, many Idahoans are attached to units outside the state and may be included in those called. As of Thursday noon, however, it appeared that no area men would be placed on active duty.

1st Lt. George Williams, Twin Falls, who is attached to a Naval Air Squadron at Alameda, Calif., said his unit, which includes 10 squadrons, would be a likely one to be called. He Four local people will be named to receive the awards and the public is invited. Tickets are available from Dale Patterson, chairman of the event.

Burley Auto Crash Claims Life Of High School Senior, Baby

BURLEY—A grinding two-car collision at a rural intersection southwest of Burley Wednesday evening has claimed two lives and hospitalized a third person.

Effie Beck, 13, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Beck, was killed instantly when the 1960 Mercury she was driving collided with a 1963 Ford operated by Mrs. Ralph Mitchell, 21, all right Burley.

The infant son, David Ralph Mitchell, 9 months, died about midnight at Cassia Memorial hospital where his mother was listed in fair condition Thursday.

State Patrolman Charles Peugh, investigating officer, said the Beck car went between two power poles, through a fence, and came to stop in a field. A photo of the wrecked car is on Page 3 of today's Times-News.

The Mitchell car spun around, skidded sideways and came to a rest in a borrow pit against a power pole guy wire, the patrolman said. The crash occurred three miles west and two miles south of Burley at 5:50 p.m.

The officer said the Beck car, which was traveling east, apparently failed to stop at the stop sign. Mrs. Mitchell and her son were traveling south.

The baby was thrown from the car and Miss Beck was paralyzed.

The first and second traffic deaths of 1968 in Magic Valley occurred Jan. 24 as the result of an accident in Cassia County.

thly out of the car. Mrs. Mitchell remained in the car.

The baby's body is at Payne mortuary.

Miss Beck was born Dec. 16, 1949, in Rupert and had lived her entire life in the Burley area. She was a senior at Burley High School where she was a cheerleader, belonged to the Pe Club and the Strepeters.

She was a member of the LDS church and was active in the Pella ward. She was graduated from the Seminary class in 1967.

Survivors include her parents, Burley; four brothers, Joseph Clayton Beck, Robert M. Beck, Frank Dunne Beck and Reid B. Beck, all Burley; six sisters, Mrs. Joseph (Marilyn) Lee, Ocean Springs, Minn.; Mrs. Paul (Ramona) Crouch, Carol Beck-Donna Beck and Shirlene Beck, all Burley; Phyllis Beck, Ricka College, Shreiner, and four nieces and nephews.

Funeral services will be announced by McCulloch Funeral Home.

10 Charged In Killing Of Rights Leader

HATTIESBURG, Miss. (AP) — Ten men were jailed Wednesday night on murder and arson charges stemming from the 1966 firebomb killing of a Negro civil rights leader.

They included a Laurel civil leader recently honored by his hometown Jaycees, a state Klux Klan chieftain and a lawyer who showed up to represent the arrested at his attackers' trial, it was learned.

In the state indictments, 14 were accused by the 11-man County grand jury, the 10 men were charged with murder and arson and two others were charged with arson. Arraignments is scheduled today.

The white men were accused of the Jan. 16, 1966, attack with firebombs, gas and bullets on the home of Vernon F. Dahmer, near Hattiesburg shortly before dawn.

Despite the names, Dahmer was not an attacker, a recurring allegation that allowed his wife, daughter and two sons to escape. Dahmer died in a hospital of burns. He had been a leader in a Negro voter drive. The five charged with arson included Sam H. Bowers Jr., 43, of Laurel, identified repeatedly as an imperial knight of the Ku Klux Klan.

Bowers was free on bond in connection on a federal civil rights conspiracy charge in the 1964 murder of three civil rights workers near Philadelphia, Miss. No state charges were filed in that case.

Those charged with both murder and arson in the Dahmer

Stock Market Is Hit By Selling Wave

NEW YORK (AP) — A wave of selling hit the stock market today following President Johnson's move to call up some reservists.

The Dow Jones average of 30 industrial stocks dropped about 4 points at noon.

The New York Stock Exchange ticker lagged 12 minutes in reporting transactions. Volume at noon ran one million shares, the lowest since the market had advanced, following a record series of 12 straight daily

Task Force

The final meeting of the Twin Falls Task Force for Education was held Wednesday night at Robert Stuart Junior High School, but results of the findings of the committee will not be available until sometime next week.

Superintendent of schools Dr. Ernest Raymond, said the findings of the group will have to be evaluated and studied before the results can be released.

The group has been using a questionnaire, Profiles of Excellence, in evaluating all phases of the local public school system.

The study has been requested by the state superintendent, D. F. Engelking, and findings of local committees will be sent to him.

Food Official Will Speak At Banquet

A new process in food preservation, food irradiation, will be the subject of a talk by Carl Wooten, of Wooten, Inc., at 7 tonight at the Holiday Inn.

The event is sponsored by the Twin Falls Chamber of Commerce and will be of special interest to those involved in the processing of wheat flour, potatoes, fish, seeds and meat.

If enough interest is exhibited by commercial processors in the area, the United States Atomic Energy Commission will send a portable irradiator to Idaho this fall, for demonstrations at area processing plants.

Tickets are available from the Chamber of Commerce.

IEA Group Sets Meeting Saturday In Pocatello

POCATELLO, Idaho (AP) — Local unit presidents of the fifth region of the Idaho Education Association met Wednesday evening in a special session called by R. D. Palmer, president of the executive committee.

A majority of those at the meeting, expressing the wishes of their members, agreed to call a special meeting for all teachers in southeastern Idaho for Saturday at 10 a.m. in the Highland High School in Pocatello.

Expected to be on the agenda of this meeting will be a request to Gov. Don Samuelson from the local IEA to consider the needs of Idaho education at the special session of the state legislature scheduled next week.

School districts expected to be represented are Aberdeen, American Falls, Malad, Marsh Valley, Burley, Caribou, Eastside, Westside, Blackfoot, Rockland, Snake River and Pocatello.

Residing at the meeting will be Ed Lovell, math teacher Blackfoot Junior High.

Cost Of Living Shows Big Rise

WASHINGTON (AP) — Living costs rose three-tenths of one percent in December as 1967 proved to be the second highest year of price rises in a decade, the Labor Department reported today.

"Almost everything went up in December except automobiles and gasoline," said Arnold Chase.

Holdback In Funds For Reclamation Work Won't Have Serious Effect

BOISE (AP) — The holdback in allocation of funds for Bureau of Reclamation work announced earlier in Washington will not have a serious effect on the Pacific Northwest, Regional Director Harold O. Nelson said today.

Major construction now under way in the state of Washington and Nelson said the holdback will affect that to some extent.

But Nelson said some of the work is ahead of schedule and delays this year should not affect completion dates.

The holdback will leave Washington State with a $40,170,000 program, Nelson said, with $1,622,000 earmarked for construction. Feasibility studies will get $219,000 and operation and maintenance, $8,030,000.

Of the construction program, $9,500,000 is for the "Columbia Basin Irrigation Project," and $19,745,000 for the third power plant at Grand Coulee Dam.

Nelson said the Columbia Basin Project has these allocations: Wahluke Branch Canal, fourth section, $3,370,000; start of block 25 lateral system, $307,000; drainage investigation and construction, $3,038,000; McInnis lateral and Potholes Canal enlargement, $1,571,000; engineering investigations and miscellaneous equipment and supplies, $372,000.

"The proposed program for start of construction of the Bacon siphon and tunnel and the installation of pumps seven and eight at Coulee Dam have been placed in 'budgetary reserve' for fiscal 1969," Nelson said.

"Other adjustments in the original Columbia Basin Project construction fund have been allocated to additional drainage construction and to construction of the Wahluke Branch Canal, where progress is ahead of schedule."

Nelson said about $318,000 of funds intended for the third power plant at Grand Coulee Dam have been placed in budgetary reserve for fiscal 1969.

In Oregon, the total available will be $3,368,000. Nelson said, with $356,000 for feasibility studies, $2,360,000 for construction and $100,000 for operation and maintenance.

The holdback will affect planning on the Tuntala Project near Portland, with $164,000 available compared with a requested $249,000. But Nelson said there should be no delay in the completion date if the withheld funds become available for a spending in future years.

A similar situation is true in Idaho, Nelson said, where the holdback will put $220,000 allocated for the Lower Teton Project in reserve. But the project in the planning stage, Nelson said, and if funds are replaced later the completion date should not be affected.

Idaho's total funds available for the Tuntala Project are $4,662,000, with $725,000 for feasibility studies, $300,000 for construction and $1,865,000 for operation and maintenance.

The holdback will cut $85,000 allocated for the Malheur Flood Control Project near Pocatello, but will have no effect on construction. He said the district itself will provide the funds and will be given credit on its repayment contract for the amount spent.

Young GI To Serve Instead Of Brother

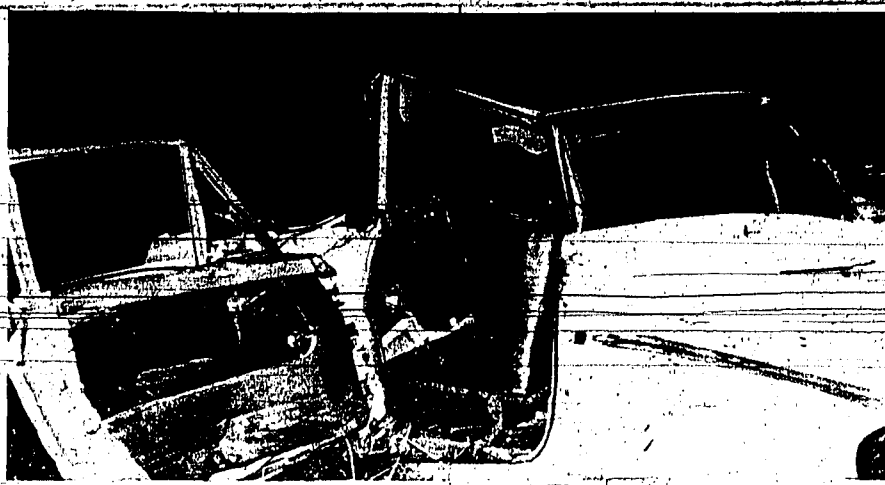

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn. (AP) — A battle-scarred 19-year-old soldier is heading back to Vietnam for the same reason that brought on his earlier tour—to keep his older brother from having to serve there.

Spec. 4 Thomas Clark volunteered for the war zone 10 months ago so that the brother, Spec. 4 Gary Clark, 22, could remain in this country with his wife, who was expecting a child. The younger Clark, who suffered a fragment wound in the shoulder and returned home on leave, now is volunteering for an extension because Gary again has orders to Vietnam.

"He wanted to stay but didn't want me to go back and risk my life again," Thomas said Wednesday. "I convinced him it was better for him and his family if I went."

"I knew how he felt about the baby and his family," said the younger brother, who is unmarried.

Thomas said he is seeking to return because of a Pentagon policy that allows only one brother at a time in a war zone.

THE WRECKAGE of a 1960 car driven by Ellen Beck, 18, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Beck, Burley, is seen here. The car and another driven by Mrs. Ralph Mitchell, also of Burley, collided Wednesday at a rural intersection southwest of Burley. Miss Beck was killed instantly and Mrs. Mitchell's 8-month-old son, David Ralph, died later at Cassia County Memorial Hospital. See story on page 1. The deaths are the first in Magic Valley this year.

Reagan Urges Warships Be Sent To Korea

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Gov. Ronald Reagan of California urged President Johnson on Wednesday to send U.S. Navy warships into North Korea's Wonsan harbor to rescue the USS Pueblo if the ship is not released within 24 hours.

Reagan topped the seizure of the most dangerous thing to happen in my memory in America.

"I cannot for the life of me understand why someone in the United States government—particularly the President—has not said that ship had better come out of that harbor in 24 hours or we are coming in after it," Reagan told newsmen at Los Angeles International Airport.

Reagan and his wife are in Los Angeles to attend a dinner.

Fruit Prices To Be More In '68

WASHINGTON (AP) — Consumers will have to get along with a much smaller supply of fresh and processed fruit during the first half of 1968 than a year earlier, the agriculture report says.

A survey of the fruit situation said prices of most fruits have strengthened and are expected to continue higher than a year earlier for the next several months.

JUST SAY CHARGE IT AT PENNEY'S!

WASHINGTON — Those strict don't vote on both sides of the aisle at the dawning of the second session of the 90th Congress are merely the cacophony of an election year. They do not necessarily mean that this will be a do-nothing Congress, but almost certainly indicate that what Congress does between now and the August political conventions will be relatively meaningless.

It is a year that will be dominated by bluster and lofty sentiments uttered by legislators with the principles of a laundretail chain. No longer do these politicians wait until fall to campaign. Even those opposed for nomination are facing token opposition. A long since embarked on a series of once wounding pilgrimages to their constituencies to nail down their re-election.

As a result, there simply will be no time to waste on legislating. This might be viewed as a blessing, given the kind of laws so often imposed on a captive electorate, except for the vast backlog of legislation left over from 1967.

The issue of cynicism in the streets, for example, cries for full-scale debate, not the perfunctory attention of office-seekers who exercise their right of dissent—the right to eviscerate the body, remember—by demanding the lynching of all Negroes.

Sure, money is needed to help the poor. But just as surely something must be done to curb the tendency of local anti-poverty officials to hire murderers and rapists with taxpayers' money. On one side, politicians would give the cop the power of life and death over the citizen in order to curb crime; on the other, they would virtually issue licenses to rob and kill in the name of all right wide law.

With such divisions of sentiment, it is obvious the proposed legislation waiting for action on the Hill needs the most careful study. But isn't that what Congress, especially in an election year, does? It buckles down and does a week's work like everybody else.

Even in what might loosely be called "Normal" years, Congress buckles down on only three days a week—from Tuesday through Thursday. The most important legislation scheduled from Friday through Monday because our legislators need those long English weekends to campaign back home. Indeed, this year it will be difficult to get quorums even for the mid-week working sessions.

To assure the beginning of sentiment in Congress for a Congressional five-day week, it could be arranged. All the House and Senate leaders would need to do is schedule full business sessions from Monday through Friday, and then publish the names of absentees. But the chances of this happening in the back-scratching, gentleman's-club atmosphere of Capitol Hill are roughly as good as those of Martin Luther King being elected governor of Alabama.

Senate Majority Leader Mike Mansfield is a shrewd man. It is talking as usual about a priority schedule of legislation to enable Congress to adjourn before the August conventions. Mike is a dreamer. Priority is merely a word—and a empty one at that—in a legislative whose opponent is giving him hell, back home. Self-preservation dictates that he let the public's business wait on his own.

The Taut Ship

"When a great ship cuts through the sea, the waters are always stirred and troubled. And our ship is moving—moving through new waters, toward new shores," said President Johnson in his State of the Union address.

It was an effective image which he offered as the explanation of why, when more Americans are living better, working more fruitfully, looking ahead more confidently than ever before in history, there is a certain "restlessness" abroad in the land.

By implication, only the ship—or nation—that is becalmed, going nowhere, leaves no troubled wake.

Really, however, does not quite match the image. The ship of state is not a captain whose orders are law. He may exhort, cajole, threaten or plead, but he cannot command the crew to follow the course he charts.

As for the crew—the Congress—what would be considered mutinous behavior on an ordinary ship is honored as loyal opposition on the ship of state. A great many of them dispute the direction in which the ship is headed and the manner in which it is being handled, and even if they didn't, they would still hope to replace the present captain with one of their own—if they can persuade enough of the passengers to side with them.

The passengers, who include all the rest of us, are willy-nilly carried along for the ride. But once every four years, we have the right to pass judgment on the man at the helm.

This is such a year and, because it is, the question in the mind of every Republican is: "What is the one issue, if there is just one, that could move a majority of the voters to elect a new administration?"

Is it Vietnam? Inflation? Crime?

Taxes? Poverty? Urban and Negro unrest? That ambiguous thing called the quality of life?

In each of these areas, the President has blueprinted more of the same kind of approaches that he has asked for in the past.

For Vietnam, perseverance and patience. For inflation, an income tax surcharge and what he calls a tight budget. For our domestic needs, more programs for the poor and disadvantaged, strengthened police and greater protection for the consumer.

The troubled waters around us the President sees as being caused by our own momentum. He wants that momentum maintained. Others disagree and warn that we are in dangerous seas full of hidden shoals and that a little slackening of speed and battering of hatches is in order.

Obstructionism or do-nothingism in an election-year Congress could itself create an issue, particularly on the question of the future of the dollar, something that hits closer to home with more people than air pollution or urban blight or even Vietnam.

Indeed, except for Vietnam, for which whatever is needed will be provided, the fate of all the President's other proposals revolves around this question of money.

If the deadlock between President and Congress over budget trimming and the tax surcharge is not resolved, if inflation continues to build up in the ship of state's boilers while captain and crew fight over what to do about it, there will certainly be some kind of explosion among the passengers come November.

Barring that possibility, about all that can be asked right now is: Are most Americans still enjoying the voyage on the SS Johnson or are they becoming a little bit seasick?

MR. SPECTATOR

Ode To The Vacant Lot

Some of the city fathers, planners and plotters are discussing the matter of play areas and the lack of them.

This indeed is a problem symptomatic of our helter-skelter age, but for us twentysoppers (anybody over 25) it's more a question of whatever happened to the vacant lots?

Those small fallow stretches between houses were the furnishings of being young. And you feel a little sad to think your son is growing up without them—without the privacy of the tall grass, without the sign of his own blue sky going on forever, without the cold-familiar press of the earth against his back, growing warm with his own warmth.

There just aren't many vacant lots anymore. For instance, the one when Mr. Spectator was a kid that was turned into a regular city. The "houses" for the most part were piano cases turned upside down and placed over a hole a couple of feet deep which had been dug by all participants. A sliding tilt entrance served as steps and from then on it was a castle—even complete with the dense smoke which practically stopped all breathing as a fire was lighted to get the piano warm.

But today, real estate men have been known to say that a vacant lot is a waste of land. Nonsense. But then, what kid can raise from $1,500 to $15,000 just to keep lot vacant, a small wild place for small wild people?

The vacant lot of our youth was a thousand things—and more. It was the glue which held a young neighborhood together. It was the mutual home of victory gardens, a place to burn leaves, a toboggan run, an ice rink, a baseball diamond or a football field.

But today's bulldozers seldom leave room for vacant lots anymore.

Occasionally there is a small park, but it seems sterile. Swings don't hang from trees. The land is graded level and there's no such thing as a touchdown run uphill.

Things are just too well-ordered now. The Little League ball game on a regulation field has replaced the sandlot game where everyone could play, and the sides weren't even, and rightfield was an automatic out, and justice was settled at home plate without an umpire.

Maybe someday parent will get together, pool their poverty and give one of the house lots on their block back to the wilderness again—and to the kids.

THE VERY YOUNG

The latest opinion polls indicate that President Johnson would beat any of the leading GOP Presidential contenders if the election were held right now.

All except one poll. Purdue University's Measurement and Research Center reveals that Sen. Robert Kennedy is the favorite to win both the Democratic presidential nomination and the election.

If high school students could vote, that is, for they were the ones questioned in this survey, the Purdue pollsters say, however, that past polls of high school students accurately mirrored actual adult voting behavior.

Coincidentally, Sen. Jacob Javits of New York has an article in the current Playboy magazine urging the enfranchisement of the nation's 12 million 18- to 21-year-olds. Javits is one of the congressmen who have cosponsored a resolution calling for a constitutional amendment to lower the voting age to 18.

He doesn't think it has a chance, however, because the prospect of these 12 million voters being added to the polls overnight "are the political pants off many local and state officeholders and party functionaries. They visualize a veritable hippie take-over of the country, with everyone over 30 being thrown out of office."

This wouldn't happen, of course. The nation's prior has always been able to assimilate transients of new ideas and new people, Javits points out.

Besides, Bobby Kennedy is over 30.

Presidential Pros Play Cool

WASHINGTON (AP) — The 1968 presidential race at this moment is a contest between professionals and amateurs, with the former letting the latter get the audience warmed up before they come on with their big act.

In short, they're playing it cool as long as they can although before the year is up they'll all probably be over-heat.

The amateurs are Michigan's Republican Gov. George Romney and Minnesota's Democrat Sen. Eugene McCarthy. Neither has ever bid for the presidency in any election, but both have been in politics quite a while. McCarthy longer than Romney.

Watching, perhaps amusedly, are three old pros who seem to have the best chance: President Johnson and two Republicans, former Vice President Richard M. Nixon and New York's Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller.

All three have been through the meat-grinder before. All three have had disappointments in their ambitions, an experience which is enough to make them realize eagerness for the presidency isn't enough and that tactics count.

While Romney and McCarthy talk their heads off, the three pros stay more or less mum as if deciding not-to-talk-until-they have to. None of the three has yet declared himself a candidate and Rockefeller says he won't be one.

From the standpoint of experience, Johnson and Nixon even have it on Rockefeller. Both won their party's nomination, at least once, in Rockefeller tried for it twice, in 1960 and 1964, but didn't get it.

Johnson tried for it in 1960 but lost to John F. Kennedy who, in the election, beat Nixon. Johnson had to settle for the vice presidency that time. He got both the nomination and the presidency when he tried again in 1964.

Nixon's defeat by Kennedy looked like the end of the road for him. And he seemed washed up forever when he tried for the governorship of California in 1962 and lost there, too. But the bug that bit him meant it.

While Nixon generally backs Johnson on the war in Vietnam—proving he's no dove in this conflict—he has also been critical of the President. But mostly what he has said has been obvious or non-controversial.

He's not sticking his neck out this early and, although the pollsters put his chances for the nomination No. 1 among Republicans, he has refrained from calling himself a candidate.

This doesn't mean much. He hasn't said he will enter any of the presidential primaries but has listed those states whose primaries he would enter if he makes the decision to run. He'll announce it Feb. 1.

If he doesn't make a good showing in the primaries, he said, he will withdraw instead of fighting on to convention time next summer in Miami. But while he was saying all that he made tentative reservations in a Miami hotel at convention time for 100 rooms.

Rockefeller, whose standing in the polls is high, insists he is not a candidate and supports Romney. But he won't have that excuse for holding back if Romney does badly in the primaries.

Then the Republican who would seem best able to get the nomination away from Nixon would be Rockefeller. Meanwhile he is not saying anything that can be used against him if he finally makes his bid.

In his State of the Union message to Congress this week—a brief, nonpolitical document—Johnson seemed to be following the Nixon-Rockefeller policy of the less said the better until he has to.

He doesn't have to yet, since McCarthy isn't much of a menace to him and the Democratic convention in Chicago isn't until late August.

WAYNE BRANDSTADT, M.D.

The TV Doctor

When you watch your favorite doctor on television, how accurate is his portrayal? The television writers and producers, not wishing to become a laughing stock, called on the Los Angeles County Medical Association created the Physicians' Advisory Committee on Television, Radio and Motion Pictures.

Its nine members represent 26 specialists. All programs are first cleared through the Broadcast Standards Office. The usual procedure when a writer has finished his script is for the office to send a copy to the committee. A doctor reviews it and telephones his suggestions to the broadcasting company.

As an example, a script called for a doctor in a hospital emergency room to mix toxins in a patient who had incurred a severe cut. The reviewer insisted that the doctor first give a skin test to insure that the patient was not allergic to horse serum. This is not only good medical practice but good medical education for the viewing public.

Again a well-known actor playing the part of a surgeon refused to wear a face mask in the operating room because it would hide his lovely features. The studio was persuaded that the image of a careful competent surgeon—in this case—was more important than the image of the matinee idol.

Sizzling love scenes between nurses and interns in the hospital corridors were deleted and a "change of venue" insisted on. Such scenes in real life do not take place on the "company's time." If a nurse went to answer your call within 30 seconds of the time you press your button, it is because she has many other patients who are just as sick as you are—not because it would interfere with her love life.

When medical subjects are properly presented on mass media they can have a tremendous impact on the viewer. In a woman who had a breast cancer, the attending doctor said that a routine periodic physical examination would save many women from fatal cancers of the breast and other organs. Keeping your car in good condition in your entertainment uterine is a valuable behind-the-scenes service.

BRUCE BLOSSAT

LBJ Hedges

WASHINGTON (NEA)—President Lyndon Johnson evidently wants to go on holding the White House for another four years without ever learning what crucial northern Democratic politics is all about.

The odd thing is that public opinion polls ranging from his own against various 1968 Republican prospects suggest that under most circumstances he just might get away with it.

Much is being made of the evidence that Johnson's 1968 Democratic rival, Sen. Eugene McCarthy of Minnesota, is not yet building an effective campaign in such key primary states as New Hampshire, Massachusetts, Wisconsin and California.

Less appreciated but perhaps more striking is the evidence that Johnson may triumph in these and other places not because he is gearing up properly for a fight but in spite of the fact that he is doing almost nothing on the party political front.

Key organization Democrats are complaining privately that they are stunned at the President's massive inactivity.

"I just can't understand it," says one. "The indications are he could win big in a lot of the places if he would just move."

Even as it is, Johnson may score a good smash in New Hampshire over McCarthy through a write-in modified by competent regular organization Democrats. He may do surprisingly well in Massachusetts and Wisconsin, according to fresh private sources.

But the big moves from the White House are not there. Judging from puzzled comment from top regulars, the real activity and timing from that source could be contained in a thimble.

Though quite properly it is being documented with fresh evidence, the story of the Democratic National Committee's futile and ineptitude is a long-standing tale.

As suggested by some major party sources, the key point is not that the President simply is stubbornly resistant to the obvious need for improvement of the party machinery from the top down.

The point is rather that he would not know what to do about it if he wanted it. In this, the view of many is the operative thing.

It does not act to fix up the national committee and provide guidance in key states. It is sad, because he fears to act. He knows from painful experience gained in 1960 and thereafter, what he does not know. Applicable today with perhaps greater force than ever is the comment a leading Democrat made in this reporter many months ago.

"The President has not only failed to master northern big city politics, but I believe he knows it, and has given up trying."

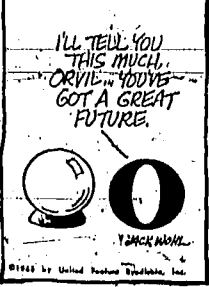

It is generally accepted that his appointments secretary, W. Marvin Watson of Texas, acts for him in one degree or another on political matters. But, competent executive aide though he may be, it is a misreading of Watson to portray him, so key sources say, as any kind of general political expert.

Watson's knowledge and experience in national politics is severely limited. In his political role, indeed, it is suggested by certain political figures that he is merely an appendage, not a large moving force, since the President is the true agent and does not want to move, Watson's moves are generally small and not greatly significant.

In inevitable consequence, the national committee is just a larger, inactive appendage and the whole party atrophies at its critical top levels.

It may be some sort of miracle if Lyndon Johnson gets re-elected while sitting but not prevailing over this moribund party structure and holding fast to his fears and the processes by which presidents are elected.

Shoeshine Girl Brings In Business

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Ellen Provost is a shining example of what a curvy young girl with lots of polish in a miniskirt can do for her business.

Since she became Pittsburgh's only shoeshine girl three weeks ago the customers at the Razor's Edge men's hair styling shop have looked sharp and shrewd.

"It's groovy," agrees Ellen, a 20-year-old, blue-eyed, brunette whose long tresses extend almost as far as her skirt.

"I'm supposed to look young and fresh and sexy," she said before sitting down to polish another pair of shoes.

She took the job, she said, because she was out of work and needed money to go back to school.

Now she makes $10, even on a bad day, at 50 cents a shine plus tips that usually are generous; working from 10 a.m. to 8 p.m. six days a week.

"I never had shined a pair of shoes," Ellen said. "The fellows just told me what they knew about it and I went for there."

But the brushing, all bush you, she said, "if I hadn't been a tomboy for years I might not have been able to do it. It gets you in the back."

THIS IS A GOOD way to spend a warm, winter day. Jim Wilfong is seen here. One of the major winter and early spring programs of the city parks and recreation department involves topping or pruning the city's several thousand trees in parks and on the golf course. Currently crews are cutting tops from elm trees in city parks in order to help in elm beetle control.

Total Killed In War Last Week Down

SAIGON (AP) — The number of men killed on both sides in the Vietnam war dropped last week, a period the U.S. Command said was a week of light to moderate action.

The U.S. Command said 218 Americans were killed, compared with 278 the previous week. The number wounded went up, however, from 1,323 to 1,798. Of the 1,798 wounded, 940 required hospitalization.

South Vietnamese headquarters said 223 of its troops were killed last week, 750 were wounded and 71 were missing or captured. The week before these totals were 357 killed, 946 wounded and 110 missing or captured.

Enemy casualties last week were reported to be 1,842 killed, 787 of them by South Vietnamese forces and 1,075 by U.S. and other allied troops. A week before the total was 2,216 enemy killed.

The U.S. Command said other allied forces reported 19 killed last week, 36 wounded and none missing.

The report raised to 16,477 the number of American killed in combat in the war, according to U.S. figures, and the number of American wounded to 103,993.

The U.S. Command said American military strength in South Vietnam increased 4,000 men last week to total 486,000 by last Saturday. The total the Saturday before also had been reported at 486,000 last Thursday, and spokesmen said the changes were administrative and represented "bookkeeping alterations."

Clifford's Nomination To Be OK'd

WASHINGTON (AP) — Signs indicate the Senate Armed Services Committee will give quick approval to the nomination of Clark Clifford to be the nation's defense chief.

Clifford, 61, tapped last Friday by President Johnson to succeed Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara, appears today before the committee.

The panel's chairman, Sen. Richard B. Russell, D-Ga., already has praised Johnson's selection of the lawyer and presidential adviser as an excellent choice and reaction from other panel members was along similar lines.

The committee's approval would send the nomination to the Senate floor for final action. Although both Democrats and Republicans on the Armed Services Committee applauded the nomination, some senators said they would make certain that Clifford disposed of any securities or other interests in corporations linked with defense contracts.

Clifford already has announced he would do this and sever all connections with his law firm here if confirmed.

Idaho To Have Season On Bighorn Sheep

BOISE, Idaho (AP) — Idaho is close to the time when it will have a hunting season on the now rare California species of the Bighorn Sheep.

Charles Haynes, game management supervisor for the State Game and Fish Department, said this may be next year.

The department started importing the California species in 1963 and brought in 50 to start two herds in Idaho's Owyhee County in the south eastern corner of the state.

They are called California sheep, Haynes explained, because they were first identified there as a species. Most Bighorn in Idaho are the Rocky Mountain Sheep.

The California species came to Idaho from British Columbia, Canada, in the area where the Chillicott River runs into the Fraser River in the central part of the province.

"One reason we wanted the California sheep in Owyhee County," he said, "is that they are a little more adaptable than the Rocky Mountain," he said.

"One of the problems with sheep — bighorn — is they are not competitors for feed," Haynes said.

Such animals as elk and deer are competitors, but Haynes said he suspects the major competition for the bighorns came from domestic cattle and sheep.

The State of Oregon has also obtained California sheep from British Columbia, Haynes said.

He said the most recent account of the Idaho herd — done last May — numbered 68, which included newborn lambs.

Any hunt would of course be controlled hunt with a limited number of kills allowed, he said.

The California sheep are about the same size as the Rocky Mountain, with males weighing up to 150-160 pounds, Haynes said. The main difference he said is the California does not have as tight a curl on the horns.

"We're having difficulty with the Rocky Mountain species and it's quite probably due to range conditions," Haynes said. "The survival of the young is not good."

A study of the Rocky Mountain Sheep which will take several years is now under way, he said.

T.F. Tree Surgeons Take Advantage Of Good Weather To Do Spring Work

Parks and Recreation Department workers have been taking advantage of the past two weeks of spring-like weather to get ahead with work, including pruning and topping of trees in city parks.

A number of the old elm trees in the City Park across from the county courthouse are being topped in order to help with the elm beetle control program.

Howard Johnson, superintendent of the department, said the trees have become so tall it is difficult to reach the tops with spray equipment and as a result there has not been a complete kill of the beetles during summer spray programs.

Between four and five men are working each day in the present tree-trimming program, and when City Park is finished they will move to Harmon and then to Shoshone Falls parks.

"This is one of our major off-season programs," Mr. Johnson said, "but we finish just about in time to start over again. We can't get to all of the trees each year but we do as many as we can and those in most need, leaving the rest until next year."

Other winter or spring work now under way by the parks department involves the spreading of fertilizer on the golf course, sludge collected from the sewage treatment plant is being broken up to be spread on the greens and fairways of the golf course.

City Owned PRINEVILLE (AP)

PRINEVILLE (AP) — This small city in Central Oregon says it is the only city in the United States that owns its own railroad.

The line — which has been in business since 1918 — has brought $1.5 million into the city treasury.

Over the years it has financed a city hall, a park, a swimming pool and various road projects. Because of the money from the railroad, Prineville doesn't levy any city taxes.

Alaska Democrat Defends His Land Transaction

WASHINGTON (AP) — An Alaska Democrat who received a big government disaster loan after his motel was flooded says a Republican congressman's allegations about a subsequent land transaction consist of "politically motivated half-truths."

L. Donald Pruhs, who received the largest Small Business Administration loan in Fairbanks after a major flood there last August, said Rep. H. R. Gross, R-Iowa, need only to check records "to learn the truth."

Gross told the House Wednesday that shortly after receiving an SBA loan of $894,000, Pruhs bought $203,100 worth of land in Arizona. "Where did the money come from for the Arizona deal?" Gross asked. The Iowa Republican said Pruhs' SBA loan was approved in the first week of October and that on Oct. 18 he made a $3,000 cash down payment on 160 acres in Yuma County, Ariz. Gross added that Pruhs paid $10,500 down on a 640-acre tract on Nov. 28, with another $24,500 payment due on this purchase by Feb. 1. Vernon Wright, recorder of deeds in Yuma County, agreed with Gross' statements in a telephone interview with The Associated Press. Pruhs said the value of his land purchases was "considerably below $203,000" but gave no specific figure in comments to a newsman in Seattle, Wash., after Gross' speech. "My wife and I bought 100 acres, ourselves, as an investment and put $3,000 down, but I was only one of several Fairbanks businessmen in the deal for the other 640-acre tract, and the $10,500 down payment was made by the group, not just by me," Pruhs said. Accusing Gross of half-truths, Pruhs said: "This is just politics in a political year, and an effort by the Republicans to blow something up out of all proportion." Pruhs, a member of the Democratic State Central Committee in Alaska, said, "Mr. Gross needs only to check the escrow instructions recorded in Yuma County to learn the truth." The AP reported last week that Pruhs got his $894,000 loan to repair his flood-damaged Golden Nugget Motel, while Republican Gov. Walter J. Hickel received half of the $1.2 million loan he sought for his motel, the Travelers Inn, damaged in the same flood. Gross has urged a congressional investigation of the situation.

Rights Program Is Given Little Hope

WASHINGTON (AP) — Even parts of it are making headway on a piecemeal basis. Shortly after he submitted his message, a House Judiciary subcommittee unanimously approved a bill to ban discrimination in selection of federal jurors.

Johnson offered the package Wednesday in a special message asking Congress for measures to ban discrimination in housing, employment and federal jury selection.

He also urged protection for Negroes and whites who are helping Negroes try to exercise their civil rights.

It marked the third time around for the program first submitted in 1966 and reworked last year. The House passed the package of measures in 1966, after modifying the President's opening proposal, but the legislation was strangled by a Senate filibuster.

Senate backers of the program take a gloom view of its prospects now, partly because of the climate created by riots and other racial disturbances.

But the President told Congress action should not be delayed because "the air is filled with the voices of extremists on both sides."

Although his over-all civil rights program is in trouble,

In the sale or rental of housing also is given no chance by its backers. Under the President's proposal it would take effect over a three-year period.

Nuclear Scientists In Greenland Say One Or More Bombs Ruptured In Crash

By BOB HORTON AP Military Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. nuclear scientists in Greenland assume that one or more of four missing hydrogen bombs ruptured in Sunday's B52 crash, scattering uranium or plutonium over an icy bay, sources report.

The report followed Wednesday's official disclosure that pieces of at least one of the weapons had been found at the crash site seven miles southwest of Thule Air Force Base. "Since there is radiation on the ice and on the parts we are assuming that at least one of the bombs ruptured," an official said.

The radiation detected on the boots of scientists, their dogged drivers and other helpers — was characterized as negligible. The Pentagon says it is alpha radiation which does not penetrate the skin. The only precaution necessary for men working in the area is to wash their feet after work.

The Pentagon's latest statement referred to the bomb pieces as "weapons-associated hardware" because, as a spokesman put it, "it isn't what the layman would normally think of as part of a bomb."

The small parts were categorized as pieces of the "bomb assembly." No other details were given. The interior composition of an atomic weapon is top secret. Sources said scientists could not determine immediately whether the pieces came from the same bomb. Less than a dozen chunks of bomb were found. Search teams have barely had a chance to go over the area. A source estimated the actual amount of search time since Sunday as four to five hours. Arctic darkness has shrouded the scene most of the time. And stormy weather forced cancellation of the 64-hour dogged trip from the coast to the impact area Wednesday.

There are only about two hours "sub-light" each day in the polar darkness. Nor is the ice flat. "It's more like a stormy ocean with the waves frozen in place," said one official.

The air-force bomber apparently disintegrated. Bits of debris and what appears to be a "fuel-burn pattern" extend over an area 50-by-500 yards. Sources acknowledged the possibility that the bombs are embedded in the seven-foot-thick ice covering North Star Bay or perhaps at the bottom of its 800-foot depth.

If so, any search could extend longer than the 30 days the Navy spent retrieving another hydrogen bomb off the Spanish coast in 1966. The ice covering North Star Bay does not thaw until about June.

If the bombs don't turn up on the surface, what is the next step? "Right now we just don't have a thorough estimate of the magnitude of the job," an official said. "We're trying to get an idea of how much area we will be looking over. It's too soon to be worrying about what's in the ice or in the water." The U.S. has more than 75 experts at Thule, including Strategic Air Command officers, nuclear and demolitions teams, plane crash investigation officers and radiation detection personnel. Denmark, also has sent in four scientists to check on the radiation hazard. Greenland is Danish possession.

 MEN'S AND LADIES' DOUBLE CUFF

Dear Abby

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN
DEAR ABBY: My husband died 10 years ago and left me a small estate which was to be security for my old age. Well, I have three daughters and one son. They are all married and have families. The girls have good, hard-working husbands who provide well for them, but my son has had such hard luck. He dropped out of high school so he can't get a very good-paying job.

My daughters' children have nice clothes, music lessons, good bicycles, and things like that, so naturally, my son feels that his kids are entitled to have it as good as their cousins, so he has asked me to help him out. I have helped him about as much as I can, and now all my money is used up.

My son can't pay me back, so now I have to go to live with him. I kind of planned on living with my son, but he says a mother's place is with her daughters, not her son. What do I do? If I tell my daughters where my money has gone they will surely be mad.

WORRIED-MOTHER

DEAR WORRIED: Your son seems more familiar with hard LUCK than hard WORK. You were foolish to have given your "security" money to your son. His children were "entitled" to have it, but your son was able to provide for them. Tell your daughters the truth, and take your medicine.

DEAR ABBY: When a man marries a girl fresh out of college the woman expects to get the world's greatest cook and housekeeper. But how brainy does a girl have to be to know she shouldn't starch her husband's underwear?

UNCOMFORTABLE

DEAR UNCOMFORTABLE: That's a pretty stiff question. Give her time.

DEAR ABBY: I feel I must talk to someone about a problem that has been on my mind for a long time. It's my mental-retarded niece. I'll call "Lucy."

She can't go to school with normal children. Lucy's mother has taken a day time job outside the home. Not that she needs the money, she says the child gets on her nerves and she has to get away. This mother will put Lucy off on anyone who will keep her. I've kept her quite a lot myself. She's a sweet child and seems willing to learn, but Abby, I have four of mine to look after.

Shouldn't Lucy's mother stay at home and teach that unfortunate child to do things for herself, so she won't go through life depending on others to do things for her?

Lucy is now 14, and she needs the teaching that only a mother can give a daughter that age if you know what I mean. Should I take Lucy full time? Maybe I should. Your answer will ease my mind.

CONCERNED AUNT

DEAR CONCERNED: Yes, take Lucy. That you would write about you have a heart and a conscience. You say Lucy can't go to school with "normal" children. I hope she is going to a school for retarded children. If not, please call your local Board of Education for information on such schools, and see that Lucy attends. God bless you.

Troubled? Write to Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Calif., 90069. For a personal reply, inclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Mid-Semester Fashion Show Set

WENDELL — "Around the Clock with Winter Fashions" has been chosen as the theme for the mid-semester style revue of the Wendell Future Homemakers of America to be held at the gymnasium at 8 p.m. Monday.

The mid-term revue will include clothing and the advanced sewing class girls. Division No. 2 have been busy with projects with woolen corduroy and plaid materials. They have worked with one way materials and selin sleeves and most of the dresses in this division are in casual wear.

The advanced group will show better dresses, coats and suits. They have been working with crepe, brocade and velvet.

The spring revue will be for the division No. 1 girls that will model skirts and blouses. This group will be taking child care classes and will be showing children's clothes they have fashioned.

Mrs. Hazel Lawton, adviser, hopes this separation will prove to present the style to more than just the girls. She extends an invitation to friends and relatives to attend.

This weekend will include the Madison-Burley offer the most action of the weekend. Every one is get into the act at least once.

Cal's Problem Eases As Players Practice

BERKELEY, Calif. (AP) — Presley, 6-foot Negro center, whose brief suspension last week touched off the controversy over the treatment of Negro athletes, has returned to practice Wednesday on schedule at the University of California and Coach Rene Herrieras expressed confidence that his anti-racial problems were solved.

"I'm satisfied I have a ball club," Herrieras told newsmen when all 11 whites and five Negroes on the squad checked into the gymnasium at 4:30 p.m. Wednesday.

"We are here because we want an education," said Bob Presley.

Fish, Game Unit Names Chairman

BOISE (AP) — Dr. William B. Durbin of Moscow was elected Wednesday as chairman of the state Fish and Game Commission, succeeding Arlio Johnson of Boise.

Major item at the commission's monthly meeting will be setting big game seasons dates. The commission heard testimony Wednesday from various citizens and persons representing organizations and will make decisions on the season dates later in the week.

The subject of fishing also came up at the meeting with Dave Pipes of Boise, representing the Northwest Steelheaders and Central City Conservation clubs, charging that "Indian people are being exploited by people on the lower Columbia River."

Pipes accused Oregon commercial fishermen of being the major exploiters and said Oregon law defines steelhead as salmon for commercial use and rainbow trout from the sports fisherman's viewpoint.

Howe Heads NHL All-Star Team

NEW YORK (AP) — Right winger Gordie Howe of Detroit was named to the NHL All-Star team for the 21st previous seasons was among the outstanding veteran players named Wednesday to the National Hockey League All-Star team for the opening half of the 1968 campaign.

Howe was joined on the circuit's first team by center Stan Miklin and left winger Bobby Hull of Chicago, goalie Johnny Bower and defenseman Tim Horn of Toronto and defenseman Bobby Orr of Boston.

Pat Madarieta Moves Up Area Prep Point Ladder

Hagerman's Pat Madarieta assumed the lead in fourth district scoring by average while Valley's Don Meyer is riding on top for total points scored, according to statistics on games through last Saturday night.

Billy Nebeker, Murtaugh, last week's average leader, was held to seven points by Valley and dropped to 21.7 against 22.6 for Madarieta. Nebeker is in total for the year to 278 points.

Overall things are lining out pretty much according to usual in area scoring with the Northside Conference again providing the most double-figure average scorers and based only on games reported by the schools. Some of the teams, particularly the Northside schools playing out of district at Brunau and Grand View, may be one or two light.

Bruins To Venture No. 1 Rating And SIC Lead Against Pocatello Schools

Highland-Rams Saturday in a field goal percentage 10 points better than the Pocatello schools. The Bruins are the only team in the state and Coach Wendell Fering hopes to come out of it in better shape than the team did last year. The Bruins will start of 1968 with a four-day Pocatello training night and continue against the Highland-Rams Saturday in a field goal percentage 10 points better than the Pocatello schools.

Last time the Bruins were rated No. 1 they came up with a sub-par performance. And, looked in the final seconds to Capital of Boise. That loss has prevented the Bruins from owning sole possession of the top spot. Twin Falls hasn't won the league title since 1953 and currently is tied with Burley and Caldwell with a 2-2 record.

"The No. 1 rating doesn't alter our thinking at all," says Coach Fering. "There's not a team in the league that we don't beat any other way. So that makes them all pressure games. The pressure is double on us because we have to win at home. Four of our most important games are at home and three of those are against teams that right now have the best records."

Highland has the poorest record in the SIC but figures to improve somewhat as head Larry Wilson is expected back to coaching. The Rams also have a 1-1 record in Craig Johnson, who is hitting .477 from the field and ranks second in the conference among rebounders.

Twin Falls' John Hennings has improved his scoring average to 20.0 but the biggest gains by a Bruin are being registered by senior Von Wells.

Wells has climbed to eighth in scoring and now holds a 12.1 average. He has done that with some great shooting, hitting his

Frenchmen Win Slalom; Kidd Is Fifth

MEGEVE, France (AP) — A pair of Frenchmen placed 1-2 and America's Billy Kidd came in fifth in the Megeve giant slalom race Wednesday, a tune-up for next month's Winter Olympics at Grenoble.

Georges Staudt, 34, of France, runner-up for the 1966 world slalom title, won Wednesday's race over a 1 mile, 640 yard course, with teammate Bernard Orcel second.

Swissman Hans Enniger won the slalom race, with the 23-year-old Enniger dropping 73 gates in 2 minutes, 29 seconds. Orcel was close in 2:02.95, with Switzerland's Willy Favre third in 2:04.41.

Kidd, 24-year-old Olympic veteran from Steamboat, Colo., who is America's best bet for a medal at Grenoble, clocked 2:05.37 for fifth place.

Hawkins Moving Up In Scoring

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Connie Hawkins of the Philadelphia Pipers has taken over second place, and is closing in on leader Levern Tart in the American Basketball Association's individual scoring race.

The latest statistics disclosed Wednesday that Hawkins lifted his scoring average from 23.9 points to 24.3 last week and 16.6 over a 12 game run-up position from Doug Moe of New Orleans, who fell to third. Moe is averaging 24.2 points.

Matson Is Voted Outstanding Amateur Athlete

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Dan Fleming, world figure skater, was named Wednesday as the outstanding amateur athlete at the 1967-68 season. Fleming, 23, of Colorado Springs, Colo., won the world figure skating crown last year and also added the U.S. and North American championships.

"I was real surprised to learn that I had been voted the outstanding amateur athlete," Fleming said. "I had never heard of the award before."

The award is presented annually to the best amateur athlete in the world. Fleming is the only American to have won the award.

Game Tonight

College of Southern Idaho's Golden Eagles will meet the Brigham Young University freshmen at 8 p.m. today at the Twin Falls High School gymnasium.

The Eagles took a 73-66 victory over the Cougar yearlings at Provo earlier this year but Coach Eddie Sutton rates them as one of the toughest foes on the CSI schedule this year.

T. F. Matson Cop Win Over Mtn. Home

The Twin Falls Bruins took the lead with three quick points to open the victory and added another victory with another heavyweight Logan Hagen to defeat the Mountain Home wrestlers 29-21 Wednesday.

Mountain Home's back Steven Hagen was well behind and could have snatched out the victory with a pin in the heavy weight division. But Twin Falls had the Hazen there and that wiped out the rally.

Twin Falls will meet Pocatello Wednesday.

Touring Pros Take Look At L. A. Course

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — Defending champion Arnold Palmer and his fellow pros got their first look at the new Los Angeles course in the Pasadena Brookside Park golf course in the $5,000 pro-am prologue of the $700,000 transplanted Los Angeles Open.

The weather was sunny and warm and the game was played for the first time of the 42nd annual winter fixture Thursday.

Pasadena welcomed the tournament when the Professional Golfers Association refused to continue it at Los Angeles' municipal course.

Italian Injured

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Italian driver Ignazio Giunti was rushed to a hospital Wednesday after a crackup at 130 miles an hour in test runs for the 24-hour Daytona automobile race.

Doctors reported that Giunti suffered a compound fracture of one arm that will take him out of racing for a year. He also will require skin grafts.

Roger Vincent To Leave On Concert Series Tour

YILER—Roger Vincent, well-known baritone soloist, will leave this weekend to join "The Serenaders," a professional male quartet, on a Community Concert series tour.

Mr. Vincent will replace the baritone who recently moved to Europe. The Serenaders will tour Illinois, Michigan, Indiana, Ohio, Kentucky, Texas, Kansas and Oklahoma.

Mr. Vincent has been granted a leave of absence from early rehearsals by the Dilettante Board of directors to accept this opportunity. He will return in time to sing the part of Capt. Von Trapp in "The Sound of Music."

The Serenaders, a quartet of matched voices, sing with an ensemble of tone that could only be achieved by serious musicians. Their repertoire is varied from Bach and Mozart to the musical comedies, all especially arranged for a male quartet.

Accompanied throughout the United States and Canada, the Serenaders feature Chicago's finest solo voices, blended into the Midwest's quartet. Their repertoire of concert has established them as one of the nation's foremost concert attractions.

For their most recent long-playing record, "On Wings of Song," they received an "Oscar" award for the "Best Quartet" from the National Evangelical Film Foundation.

The other three members of the group have appeared as artists with major opera companies and are oratorio and symphony soloists. The lead tenor, Ralph Melton, has appeared 28 times with the Chicago Symphony and spent five seasons with the Grant Park Symphony.

Second tenor, Ralph McFarlane, is originally from Twin Falls and has appeared as a soloist on "Artist Showcase," an NBC television production. He has also been a soloist with the Boston Opera Company and has sung numerous oratorios and concerts.

John Deagle, basso, has been a soloist on radio and television and has appeared on oratorio concerts from coast to coast.

House At Hansen Damaged By Fire

HANSEN—The home of Mr. and Mrs. Gene Walker was slightly damaged by fire Tuesday afternoon as a result of burning weeds along a ditchbank.

The Walkers were burning a ditch at the west of their home a mile south of Hansen, when the wind which had been from the east shifted to the west causing dry grass to catch fire which rapidly spread to the house.

A large evergreen bush next to the house caught fire and seemed to explode, according to Mr. Walker, blackening the side of the house and burning some of the roof. It was put out before, extensive damage was done and although the heat caused some storm windows to break, nothing else was damaged.

The Kimberly Volunteer Fire Department was called, but the fire was mostly out before they arrived. The fire was started about 2 p.m.

IMPROVED KING HILL—Mr. and Mrs. James Kling and family have returned from Nampa, where they have been with his father, James Kling Sr. who is in critical condition at the Veterans hospital in Boise. He was struck by a car in the street at Nampa recently.

Bruce To Talk

CASTLEFORD—The Castleford PTA will meet Monday at the high school. Robert R. Bruce, Twin Falls, will talk and show a film "Idaho Libraries Today."

This film was judged the best library documentary of 1966 at the American Association Conference held in San Francisco in June.

Don't Be Frightened By Computer Check System

By RAY DE CRANE
NEA Publications

The many national stories that have appeared about Internal Revenue's computers, labeling them as The Brain and The Monster, have probably served to frighten many completely honest taxpayers.

Don't let the computers deter you from claiming every possible legal deduction on your income tax return. This is your legal right. Internal Revenue expects you to claim no more—and no less—than your individual circumstance calls for.

The computer speeds up the processing of returns, it simplifies checking mathematical accuracy and it spots questionable entries.

But it has no way of discovering the fact that you may have been entitled to medical, charitable, interest and tax deductions you failed to report or feared entering on your return.

With the new medical insurance deduction available to you for the first time this year, this could be the ideal year for you to itemize all your deductions instead of settling for one of the lesser standard deductions.

Even the unmarried or the newly married who hesitated itemizing in the past because of the absence of mortgage interest and real estate taxes may find it to their advantage to itemize this year.

These are the types of mistakes the computer can detect and the number of returns it spotted such errors in last year: Mathematical errors, 2,500,000 returns. Incorrect or missing Social Security numbers, 1,000,000.

Questioned

VATICAN CITY (AP)—A Roman Catholic theologian yesterday questioned the morality of heart transplant operations today.

He declared that removal of hearts from persons "certainly not dead" was against the Church's moral law. He suggested that the recent sale of heart transplants seemed to be a "yielding to a competitive temptation."

Writing in the Vatican weekly magazine L'Osservatore della Democrazia, the Rev. Ferdinando Lambruschini said there were many controversial questions concerning when a person must be considered dead.

Use of wrong tax table, wrong line or column, 1,000,000.
Failure to sign return, 315,000.
Missing statements or schedules, 200,000.
Missing W-2 slips, 225,000.
Miscellaneous mistakes, 500,000.

This is the type of error or omission the computer was designed to detect.

Exercise care on your return avoid these pitfalls. But don't let that Monster frighten you away from claiming every deduction that is your due. (Next: When joint, when separate returns.)

OPENING LEAD TELLS STORY

West took a long while to select his opening lead. He went over the bidding carefully and finally came to the conclusion that his partner's spade raise had been used on four good trumps and little else. They had started to work out the North-South ing five or six odd, depending on whether West cashed a spade at trick two.

The duce of hearts lead was an entirely different proposition. South couldn't draw trumps because West still held the ace. If he played a spade, West would win, lead his ace of trumps and take two more spade tricks. South saw all this and also saw an extra shot or two in his locker. He played out his ace and jack of diamonds, entered the dummy with the ace and led a high diamond. East ruffed and South overruffed.

Then South led a second club. He thought about taking the club finesse but decided that it was wrong and he would go down two if he tried to make the hand that way.

Also, he would still make his contract if East had started with only two trumps so South rose with dummy's remaining high club and led a fourth diamond. East ruffed that also, and South had lost a game contract that would have made against any lead but the one that West had selected.

What do you do now?
A—Bid either five or six hearts. We rather favor the jump to six, but if your partner is an overbidder, the more conservative five heart call would be preferable.

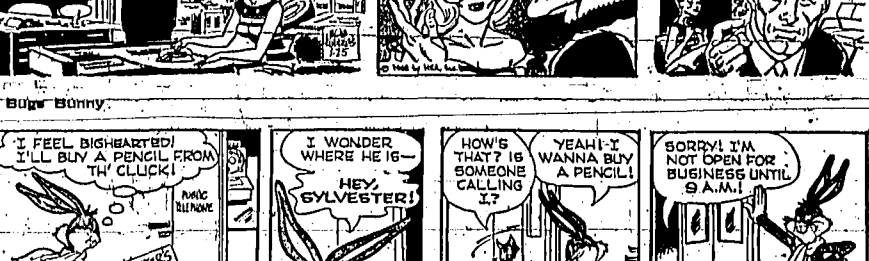

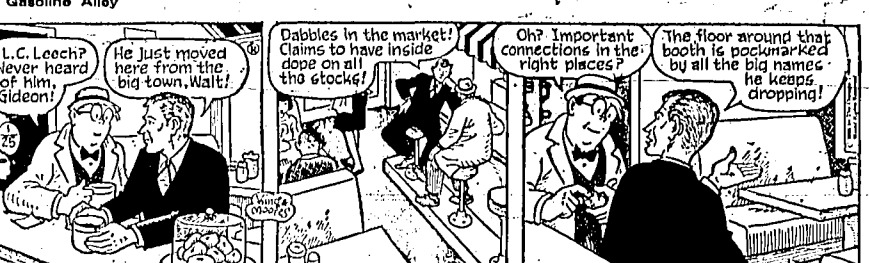

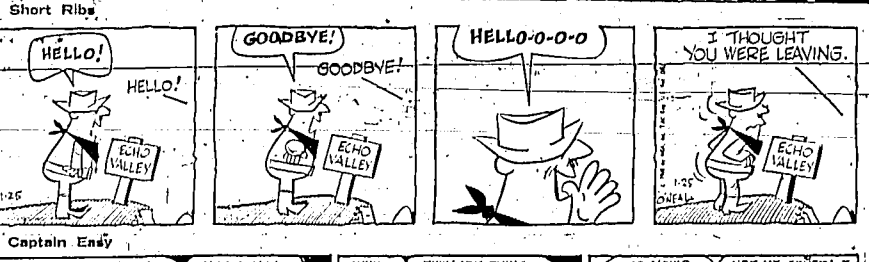

TODAY'S QUESTION

Instead of bidding five clubs, partner jumps to six hearts over four diamonds. What do you do now?

holdings. Obviously, South held minimum high card strength with probably a six card suit, three spades and doubloons in each minor. That would give North one spade, two hearts and five cards each in diamonds and clubs.

A trump lead was indicated to stop dummy's potential ruffing power and West almost had the ace of hearts out of his hand and on the table. It was lucky that he reconsidered and led the deuce of hearts instead. With the ace of hearts lead South would have had no trouble mak-
