"MUSH, FANG!" Rex Christensen, aboard the skis, took advantage of a day out of school Tuesday to put his dog through a workout. The large bird dog was a willing steed as he pulled young Christensen down a snow-coated Twin Falls street. Lynn Greener gives his friend and dog some encouragement. The two boys were among about 6,500 Twin Falls school students who were out of classes Tuesday because of heavy drifting in the rural areas.

Saigon Quiet After Attacks On Capital

By GEORGE ESPER
SAIGON (AP) — The U.S. Military Command reported early Thursday that Saigon was quiet "except for some sporadic small arms fire" after a day of attacks on the capital that saw a Viet Cong suicide squad killed at the U.S. Embassy. The Communists also seized part of Hue, the old imperial capital, far to the north.

The attacks Wednesday on Saigon and other cities and installations were costly, the Communists told in a victory broadcast. President Johnson said Thursday that the Viet Cong had proclaimed martial law throughout South Vietnam.

"It is felt" the U.S. Command said, "that the Viet Cong is now in a position to react to enemy military actions but are seeking out the enemy."

At the same time, the command reported that a power plant in Saigon was blown up by the Viet Cong.

Two allied tanks and an armored personnel carrier moving on patrol north toward Bien Hoa were attacked by enemy forces on a Saigon street 15 minutes after midnight.

Thirty minutes after midnight, a U.S. spokesman reported there was still sporadic small arms fire at Tan Son Nhut air base and minor contact in a village to the north of it.

In one of the series of coordinated enemy attacks, the Viet Cong appeared to have seized part of Hue, military reports indicated. A Viet Cong broadcast said the Communists held the inner part of the city.

A U.S. spokesman reported that just before midnight Wednesday the section of Hue north of the imperial city was "surrounded by (enemy) with automatic weapons."

Asked if this meant that Viet Cong troops were holding that particular section of the city, he said: "It looks like that from what I've got here."

"The U.S. Military Command in Hue is in no significant danger," he said, "but it is receiving sporadic small arms fire."

The Viet Cong also claimed control of the provincial capital of Quang Tri south of the demilitarized zone, although no attacks on the city have been reported since Tuesday.

Sappers were reported still firing on parts of the sprawling Tan Son Nhut air base, some of them only 200 yards away from the new "Pentagon East," U.S. headquarters of Gen. William C. Westmoreland, as darkness fell Wednesday. U.S. Army helicopter gunships raked Viet Cong troops believed trapped at the west end of the base.

Korea Unhappy With U.S. Action

By K.C. HWANG
SEOUL (AP) — South Korea's foreign minister asserted today that more attention should be paid to the Communist attempt to assassinate President Chung Hee Park than to North Korea's seizure of the USS Pueblo. His remarks were interpreted as an expression of government displeasure with U.S. handling of the current Korean crisis.

The South Korean government will "categorically oppose" any additional U.S. moves to emphasize the Pueblo case in efforts for an over-all settlement of the Korean situation, Foreign Minister Choi Kyu-hah told a news conference.

Choi said his government also will object to any direct bilateral talks between the United States and the North Koreans and to any proposal to exchange the Pueblo crewmen for North Korean infiltrators.

"A basic settlement of the current crisis lies in taking firm measures to assure the security of the Republic of Korea and prevent recurrence of any provocative acts by the North Korean regime," he declared.

The ruling Democratic Republic party and the opposition Shinmin party put aside their political squabbles to provide bipartisan support for the Park government in the crisis.

The National Assembly went into special session and was expected to adopt resolutions asking for decisive action against North Korea.

In Washington, the White House continued to put heavy stress on diplomatic efforts to free the Pueblo crewmen. Sen. J.W. Fulbright, D-Ark., chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, said after breakfast Tuesday with President Johnson he got the impression that the U.S. was expected to adopt a more flexible position.

Diplomats Focus On Mediation

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — U.N. diplomats swung their private talks on the Pueblo incident today to renewed consideration of seeking intermediaries to try to work out a solution between the United States and North Korea.

A source involved in the backstage negotiations said the question of inviting North Korea to participate in the Security Council deliberations had been set aside. He said this was due to the "adamant position taken by the United States" and the focus was now on mediation.

Sources have said that the United States will support an invitation to North Korea but only after the ship and her crew of 82 have been released.

But other diplomats comment that once this happens, there will be nothing left to discuss here and the North Koreans know this.

A proposal for mediation was made informally last Friday by Canadian Ambassador George Ignatieff at the opening meeting of the council. It found little support, largely, diplomats said, because in North Korean eyes Canada is too closely linked to the United States.

Soviet Naval Buildup Is World Threat

NAPLES, Italy (AP) — U.S. Adm. Charles D. Griffin said today the Soviet naval buildup up the Mediterranean represents a significant threat to Italy, Greece and Turkey, the southern flank of the Western alliance.

Griffin, retiring commander of the southern European forces of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization, said the Russians had greatly increased their power position in the Mediterranean and Middle East since the Arab-Israeli war in June 1967.

He added that the Soviet force included 25 to 40 naval surface ships and "a sizable number of submarines."

The admiral made some of his remarks at a news conference and others at a ceremony Tuesday over his command of the Mediterranean Sea Force.

Horacio Rivero, who comes here from the post of vice chief of naval operations in Washington.

Attack Is Fatal For Rupert Man

Lost Submarine Believed Spotted

PERTH, Australia (AP) — The U.S. Navy submarine Triton, missing off the Australian coast since July 1963, is believed to have been spotted 20 miles east of Esperance, off the southwest coast.

An airline charter pilot said he sighted the submarine two miles offshore with a badly rusted gun on deck and the conning tower above water.

The Triton disappeared after leaving Fremantle, then a big U.S. submarine base.

Split Proposed

WALLACE, Idaho (AP) — Hecla Mining Co., the nation's largest silver producer, Wednesday proposed a split in capital stock to give each shareholder one new share for each now owned.

President L. J. Randall said.

President Asks Nonpartisan Support For Proposals Regarding Asia Crisis

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson told congressional leaders from both parties today that crises in Asia might require him to propose special measures which he hopes will be considered in a nonpartisan atmosphere.

Press secretary George Christian said Johnson did not discuss any specific measures that might be considered. And Christian emphasized that there may be no need for any such proposals.

One of those who attended the morning meeting said the emphasis in the discussions was on Korea. He said he would not be surprised if the President asked Congress for more military aid for South Korea.

Johnson spent two hours at a breakfast meeting with eight Congress members—the top Democrats and Republicans on the Senate and House Armed Services, and Appropriations committees.

This followed a presidential conference Tuesday night with Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois and House GOP Leader Gerald R. Ford of Michigan.

Such administration leaders as Secretary of State Dean Rusk, Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara and Gen. Curtis E. LeMay, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, participated in both conferences.

7 Perish In Pittsburgh Explosion

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The death toll climbed to seven early today in an explosion that rocked the business district of suburban Ingram, a shakling home a half mile from downtown.

One person was still reported missing and 17 injured after firemen pulled a badly-burned body from the wreckage.

The explosion left no without warning as a crew of Equitable Co. workmen were trying to find a gas leak.

"The explosion happened in the street, then it went through the buildings," an Equitable spokesman said. "We have no idea at this time what happened."

Eleven of the injured were Equitable employees.

Bag Found

TOULON, France (AP) — A sailor's bag of the type used by submarine crewmen was discovered today by searchers looking for some trace of the French submarine Minerve, missing since Saturday with 52 aboard.

The plastic bag was spotted by a helicopter near the spot off Toulon where a large oil slick was seen on the first day of the search for the 800-ton sub. Technicians meanwhile continued taking sonar soundings but reported no response that could indicate a submerged submarine.

Decision Due Tuesday On Plea By Gooding Hospital For Funds

By FRED DODDS
Times-News Staff Writer
GOODING — A decision that may or may not resolve Gooding County's hospital problem will be delivered next Tuesday and at the moment it's anyone's guess on what the outcome will be.

The question has been under consideration by the hospital advisory board of the State Department of Health for several months.

It all started last October when Gooding residents, led by area legislators, protested a Health Department action giving Hill-Burton funds to a Boise hospital—St. Alphonsus.

Gooding residents wanted to build a new hospital. A bond election making this possible was passed and a request has been in for several years for federal funds to complete the job at Gooding.

There is about $1.2 million available in Hill-Burton funds. The only school absent from the Gooding Memorial Hospital board of directors, said Gooding was led to believe it would get some of those funds.

The bond election was for $550,000 and about $300,000 more in asked from the state to build the hospital. Mr. Wagner estimates the hospital serves an area of 17,000 people.

It was charged that St. Alphonsus Hospital in Boise was a lower priority than Gooding. But despite this, the hospital advisory board recommended the Hill-Burton funds go to St. Alphonsus if approved, which all the 1968 funds would have gone to the Boise hospital, and a large portion of the 1969 funds would also be allocated to Boise.

If Gooding does not get funds and start work on a hospital in another year, the hospital will lose the bond already approved by the citizens of the area.

A site on four acres of land just north of the state school for the Deaf and Blind has already been picked for the home of the new Gooding Hospital.

Gov. Don Samuelson, head of the request from Gooding to have the matter heard again, ordered the Hospital Advisory Board to take another look at the situation. A hearing was ordered and held in November.

It was announced at that time that a decision would be delivered on Feb. 6, or next Tuesday.

Schools Resume After Area "Snow" Holiday

Schools were back in session throughout Magic Valley Wednesday and after an early morning fog through part of the valley, the sun shone brightly in Twin Falls on a veritable winter wonderland.

Another general snowfall Tuesday evening left trees and bushes covered with "frost" across the valley. The new snowfall, although light, left roads snow-covered and slick, according to the district office at Shoshone. Many country roads are still clogged, but all major routes were passable.

The only school absent from closed Wednesday was Valley High School and Eden and Hazelton grade schools and this was because of flu, not the snow, Harry Kurtz, grade school principal, said there were more than 80 students absent from high school Monday and it was decided to close until Thursday.

About an inch of new snow fell in the Twin Falls area Tuesday night with four inches reported at Shoshone and Jerome and two at Burley and Rupert.

The highway district reported fog at Gooding, Shoshone and Richfield and at Craters of the Moon.

Richfield got four and one-half inches of new snow Tuesday night and a school bus driven by Mrs. Grant Haws had to be pulled out of the borrow pit by two tractors. It was reported the bus slid into the ditch while passing a truck. Students were about half an hour late to school. The mishap occurred in North Richfield.

In the Wood River Valley the snowstorm abated by Tuesday evening, but about one foot of new snow fell in the Halley-Ketchum area Monday night and Tuesday. There was little wind and no schools have been closed there.

Twin Falls school students returned to classes Wednesday after being out Tuesday because of bad weather. It was the first time in 17 years that weather had prohibited the convening of classes.

Dr. Ernest Ragland, superintendent, said that absenteeism Wednesday was only about normal—five per cent.

More than 6,500 public and parochial school students were affected by the one-day closure in Twin Falls, but east and west roads, which were driest about Monday night and Tuesday morning, had been mostly plowed open Wednesday. Some parents had to bring their children to roads where the buses could travel as some country roads are still snow filled.

U.S. Military Analysts Study Viet Cong Assaults

By FRED S. HOFFMAN
AP Military Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Some U.S. military analysts say the synchronized Viet Cong assaults against Saigon and other South Vietnamese population centers aim at forcing a pull-back of American troops from the key border sector where North Vietnamese regulars have been massing.

They suggested the attacks, hitting eight widely spaced cities and towns, also were intended to impress on the South Vietnamese people that the Communist guerrillas are still to be reckoned with.

The military specialists spoke against a background of obvious high-level U.S. government concern over the bold Viet Cong strikes, particularly in Saigon against the U.S. Embassy.

The White House called the Saigon outbreak "pretty serious" and said President Johnson was receiving periodic reports on it.

The State Department interpreted the rash of assaults as a major effort to subject large numbers of the Vietnamese people to maximum terror and intimidation.

Military officers say the Viet Cong assault, sprung by suicide squads, appears part of the Communist winter-spring offensive, which also has featured North Vietnamese thrusts and probes from North Vietnam, Cambodia and Laos. The overall plan is regarded by some observers as a Communist bid to score territorial and battlefield gains in advance of possible peace talks.

A major North Vietnamese assault has been expected for weeks against Khe Sanh, a strategic strong point in the northwest corner of South Vietnam.

Some officers said U.S. cancellation of a lunar New Year truce along the Demilitarized Zone may have crossed up North Vietnamese plans to hit Khe Sanh and possibly other important points when American troops were not expecting enemy attack.

The U.S. Command has been building up troop strength to probe against any massive North Vietnamese drive in South Vietnam's northernmost area.

Sources said combined U.S. and South Vietnamese manpower there now totals as high as 68,000.

Meanwhile, the North Vietnamese reportedly have positioned four and possibly five regular divisions totaling 40,000 or so soldiers in the DMZ near Khe Sanh.

Pentagon sources said that when he was here in late November, Gen. William C. Westmoreland forecast in secret military briefings that Viet Cong harassment would increase 100-fold as soon as U.S. reinforcements moved up to the DMZ area.

Search For Boise Youth Continuing

MCCALL (AP)—The search for Rick Crabb, 18, Boise in rugged, snow-covered areas northeast of McCall was continuing but hopes of finding the youth alive were dimming.

Crabb's companion, Gary Shannon, 17, also of Boise, was found dead Monday.

The pair had been on a snowmobile trip over the weekend.

Their abandoned snowmobiles were found Monday and search authorities speculated the machines were abandoned because of the rough terrain.

Snow and wind were hampering search efforts, with night temperatures well below freezing.

Road Crossing Dangers Probed

BOISE—Two Magic Valley state senators held a breakfast meeting with State Engineer Ellis Mathes and Wayne Summers, secretary of the highway board, yesterday.

Sen. Don Loveland, of District 25, and Sen. Mary Brooks, District 21, said the danger of the Alfreco Road and Highway 27 crossing were discussed, and they pointed out to state officials that many accidents have occurred there.

The highway officials agreed to investigate the problem and decided what measures could be taken to reduce the hazards to the driving public.

pending the law requiring licensing of dealers in substitute dairy products.

Manning and fellow Democrats Ed Williams, D-Lewiston, and John Piro, D-Pocatello, introduced Tuesday a bill appropriating $2.1 million for legislative expenses.

The bill would provide the approximately $100,000 needed to pay salaries for the session and the remaining $2 million would go for teachers salaries.

The bill was referred to the printing committee where it was held after a vote that split along party lines. Reported reason for holding the measure up was to prevent a no-confidence motion from the attorney general.

Rep. Eugene Bush, R-Idaho Falls, an attorney, said his "substantive opinion is that you can't go around the constitution like that."

Subjects to be considered at a special session must be specified in advance and the session refused to put public school finance on the agenda.

Meanwhile, both Republicans and Democrats caucused Tuesday and it was reported after-noonly parties decided to drop plans to urge Senate action to add education to the agenda.

A senate group led by North Idaho legislators say they intend to request the governor to add the subject of dredging to the agenda.

An application is currently pending by a firm that wants a dredge, mine operation southeast of Wallace on the St. Joe River.

The firm has filed a petition with the Supreme Court seeking to halt the state Land Board's attempt to hold a public hearing on the matter. The board has apparent legal power to grant or deny the application.

Police Probe Burglary At Klover Klub

Approximately $130 was taken from the Klover Klub, 402 Main Ave. N., in a burglary sometime after 2 p.m. Friday at Emmannuel Lutheran Church by Rev. Harold Iben. Final rites will be held at the Eden Lutheran Cemetery. A memorial wreath has been established. Friends may call Wednesday, Thursday and until noon Friday at White Mortuary.

Police were notified of the burglary Tuesday by one of the club's employees, who reported both doors of the building were unlocked when he came to work Monday morning. Entry was gained by moving a trash barrel under a window at the rear of the building, police said.

Once inside, officers said, burglars used a sharp pry bar and a screwdriver to break into a cigarette machine, the music box and cash boxes on the pool table and shuffle board and from the cash register.

About $60 was taken from the cigarette machine and $30 from the music box with the remaining amount from the other sources.

Several bottles of whiskey on which seals had been broken were missing from the bar; officers reported.

Magic Of Rubinoff And His Violin Pleases Audience

By MARJORIE LIERMAN
Times-News Correspondent

FILER—The magic of "Rubinoff and His Violin," presented in a concert Monday evening in the Filer High School auditorium, proved to be a magical event for music lovers in Magic Valley.

Despite high winds and drifting snow, people drove to the concert from all the surrounding towns and the large auditorium was well-filled. Everyone who came felt captive to the spell of this famous violinist and two-century-old Stradivari violin which is valued at $100,000.

The accompanists for all of the great maestro's numbers were pre-recorded and synchronized to his playing, and featured piano, electric organ, choral voices and a number of musical instruments.

Beginning the concert with one of his own compositions, "Dance of the Peasant," This was followed by the hauntingly beautiful "Clair De Lune" by Claude Debussy. Before playing this selection, the violinist told of the romantic but tragic love story which inspired Debussy to write the famous piano solo.

Rubinoff presents it as a violin solo. As the lovely tune of the melody hung in the air, there was a moment of complete silence in the auditorium as the deafening applause began.

"Hora Staccato" by Diniu Helfetz was followed by the "Warsaw Concerto," originally written as a piano solo by Richard Addinsell and another premiere performance as a violin solo by Rubinoff. Addinsell himself plays the accompaniment for Mr. Rubinoff's performance.

On the lighter side were "Fly Me to the Moon" and "Jalousie" and the final number of the first half of the concert was a TV special composed of many well-known tunes from famous television shows. The audience showed its delight as members recognized the theme songs which precede many of their favorite shows.

Chopin's "Polonaise (Opus 53)" opened the second half of the concert after a 10-minute intermission, and following it the very popular "When Day Is Done." A lively "Fiddlin' the Fiddle" number, written by Rubinoff himself, was enthusiastically received by the crowd.

The violinist explained that after hearing his friend, Irving Berlin, state there were no "hot fiddle" numbers ever written, he went home and spent a whole night writing this "hot" number to prove there could be.

The maestro made a substitution for the fourth number and

More than 18 inches of new snow has fallen in the past four days at Magic Mountain ski resort and skiing will resume Thursday.

The area closed last week when warm temperatures reduced the snow cover on ridges and upper sections of the face runs.

The College of Southern Idaho ski program will continue on Friday and facilities will be in operation for the weekend. Dunes and parking areas have been plowed and are in good condition. Snow tires or chains are suggested.

Public Meeting On Waste Control Slated To Be Held In T.F. City Hall On Feb. 20

A public meeting concerning proposed regulations for solid waste control will be held in Twin Falls at 1:30 p.m. Feb. 20. The meeting will be held at city hall and is being sponsored by the Idaho Department of Health.

National studies show, according to the Department of Health, that the average person discards 4.5 pounds of garbage and rubbish every day. When manufacturing, construction, recreational and agricultural wastes are added, the total amount of waste is more than eight pounds of waste a day for every American.

At this rate, the refuse continues, Idahoans are disposing of nearly a million tons of solid waste a year, much of which goes to a variety of disposal sites ranging from sanitary landfills, open burning dumps and rivers and streams.

The policy of the State Board of Health is to provide for a solid waste control program. The effect of the public hearing is to determine the sanitation needs locally and to recommend a timetable for a provision for minimum facilities to prevent health hazards.

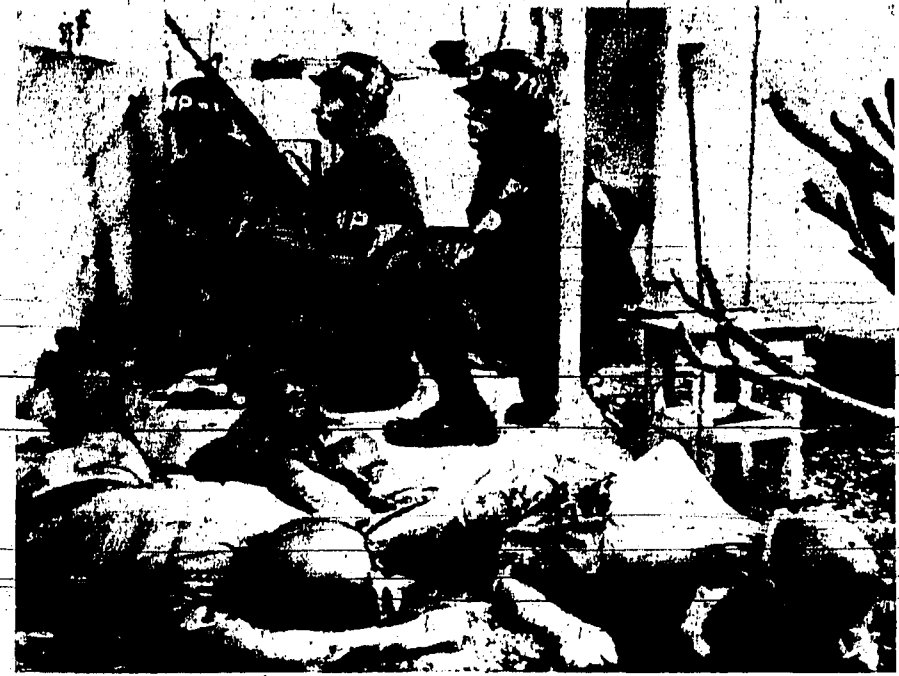

At the present time, all garbage and solid wastes must be stored, collected, treated and disposed of in a manner that does not create a health problem. A health problem is considered anything that attracts or helps breed insects, contributes to air pollution, contaminates water, surface or underground. Problems shall not contribute to human disease.

Much Work Remains To Be Done On Newest Nuclear Missile Warheads

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States disclosed today much work remains to be done on its newest nuclear missile warheads.

But officials voiced confidence that "real, reliable hardware" would be ready for production when newly expanded plants are opened to handle the work.

Word that further, non-clear development work remains to be done on the warheads came out only two days after the Atomic Energy Commission revealed plans for a major new expansion of eight of its weapons production plants.

Will The Goblins Really Get Congress?

WASHINGTON — Possibly, as President Johnson has warned, the goblins will get Congress if it doesn't pass his 10 per cent income tax surcharge this year, but I suspect the legislative branch will take its chances and tell Johnson to forget it.

This is, after all, an economy-minded Congress and there are no signs that it is abandoning its position of last year that the way to give aid and succor to the economy is to cut government spending, not raise taxes.

the state of the Gross National Product (GNP). These reveal the startling intelligence that the rate of real economic growth last year fell to the lowest level since the recession year of 1959, despite an upsurge during the last six months.

extent to which inflation is making inroads on the national pocketbook. In the last quarter of 1967, the GNP jumped nearly $42 billion for a total of $785.1 billion for the year.

Thus, the real gain of 2.5 per cent was far below the 4 per cent target of the President's Council of Economic Advisors, mostly because the Council underestimated the impact of higher prices.

Moreover, no one seems to be paying any particular attention to a phenomenon occurring in a period of unprecedented prosperity. People are not saving money at the rate the economists think they should.

Apparently, shoppers are resisting the higher prices. At the same time, most heads of families are concerned over the uncertainties of their own economies. They never know when they'll pick up a newspaper and find they have to pay another

Most states and cities already have slipped them with new tax increases. So they're putting off buying that new television set or refrigerator—or do-it-yourself LSD machine.

The National Industrial Conference Board puts it in business English: "Consumer caution conveyed by recent samplings of consumer attitudes contrasts with optimistic retail sales forecasts for big-ticket items."

Lyndon Johnson is dreaming if he thinks Congress will give him what he wants in new programs and new money for old ones. But, of course, Johnson is no dreamer, but a great politician. In an election year, he is in the enviable position of having taken his stand to do something for the people, with the comforting knowledge that he can blame somebody else, namely Congress, if he doesn't get what he asked.

Test For Republican Writer

WASHINGTON—"So you want to work as a speechwriter for the Republican Party in 1968?"

"Yes, Sir."

"All right. Did you see the television show the other evening when the Republicans answered President Johnson's State of the Union address?"

"Yes, Sir. And it was a brilliant performance by one and all."

"Okay, forget the soft soap. Let's get on with the test."

"I have to take a test?"

"Of course! If you're going to work for the Republican Party, you're going to have to know where it stands on the issues."

"I know where it stands."

"Well, let's just see. First question: What kind of integrity does the Republican Party stand for?"

"The integrity of the American dollar."

"Okay. What has the Johnson Administration failed to do?"

"It has failed to make clear our goals, and it has not been candid with the American people in facing up to the complex and difficult road that lies ahead."

"By heaven, you did watch the show. Now let's go on to the Ship of State: Where is the Ship of State?"

"It is wallowing in a storm-tossed sea, drifting toward the rocks of domestic disaster, beaten by the waves of worldwide fiscal crisis that threaten shipwreck."

"And what can save the Ship of State?"

"A new captain at the helm who will call up full power, break out new charts and hold our course steadfast and inspire the crew to bring us through the storm."

"Good. Now let's go on to cities. What are the cities boiling with at the moment?"

"Frustration and unrest."

"It's unrest and frustration, but we'll accept your answer. And why are they boiling thusly?"

"Because the Administration has been long on promises and short on performance."

"And what situation are we confronted with because of this?"

"Lawlessness, crime in the streets and abuse heaped upon our police and elected officials."

"That's well put. Now let me ask you this: What does the Republican Party have abiding faith in?"

"The individual."

"Why did you hesitate?"

"I thought it might be the American free enterprise system."

"We've got abiding faith in that, too. Either answer would have been correct. Let's go on to inflation. What does the President have to do to cut it?"

"He's got to cut back on federal spending and impress on the people that we have to live within our means here at home."

"And if he doesn't, where will the American people be sacrificed?"

"On the golden altar of economic expediency."

"What kinds of chaos do the American people face in the challenging years ahead?"

"Domestic chaos as well as chaos abroad. And because of this, we are forfeiting our leadership overseas and our credibility at home."

"Okay. Now let's go on to Vietnam. What kind of Communist aggression are we trying to stem there?"

"None."

"Fine. You seemed to have passed the test. You can start writing speeches in the morning."

"Thank you."

"Thank you from the bottom of my heart, so help me God."

Skipped Beats

Q—I have had extrasystoles for over nine years. They are worse after I eat. The doctors tell me not to worry about them. Is there any way to stop them?

A—Extrasystoles or skipped beats are often more noticeable after a meal or when one is excited. Since they are no threat to your health, the best treatment is to learn to ignore them just as you have learned to ignore the taking of air into your lungs 18 or 20 times a minute.

Q—I have attacks of PAT which come on with no warning. When I have an attack, it is hard to speak. I get nervous and breathless but have no pain. My doctor has prescribed an attack by pressing on my carotid sinus. Would it be safe for me to do this myself?

A—Paroxysmal atrial (auricular) tachycardia (PAT) is characterized by sudden attacks of rapid pulse without warning. If pressing on my carotid sinus. Would it be safe for me to do this myself?

Q—I had a coronary heart attack a year ago. One doctor told me to take Metamine twice a day and another said to take it once a day. What is it for? Is two a day too many?

A—Metamine is given to relieve or prevent the pain of angina pectoris. Two a day is not too many if one day fails to give you complete relief. Some persons have to take an even larger dosage.

should teach you to do this yourself. Deep pressure on the eyeballs may be equally effective. Guanethidine or quinidine (both are prescription drugs) may be used if these methods don't work.

Q—My heart beats so hard it jerks my whole body. Is this just something to be expected with advancing years?

A—Palpitations may occur at any age. It is caused by the pouring of adrenaline into your blood due to apprehension or similar emotions. In some women, it is more prevalent after the menopause. As with an emotional disturbance, it is important for the victim to take stock of his life situation and adopt a calmer attitude.

Clark Clifford

WASHINGTON (AP) — It was no secret, when President Johnson announced he had picked Clark Clifford to be his defense attorney, that Clark Clifford was a hard-liner on the Vietnam war.

He made that clear Thursday, without exaggerating it or offering more information than he was asked, when he testified before the Senate Armed Services Committee, which then unanimously approved his appointment.

Clifford, 61, is a Washington attorney whose firm's clients include some of the biggest corporations. But he has also been an advisor to Presidents Harry S. Truman, John F. Kennedy and Johnson.

He approved the bombing of North Vietnam but he offered a way for starting peace talks if the North Vietnamese were willing to accept. There can be no question that Johnson thinks his judgment is good.

Otherwise he would hardly have had him as an adviser or picked him for the defense job. But Clifford has two other precious assets which should help Johnson in this presidential election year.

He will be new in the job and he is extremely well-liked in Congress where Robert S. McNamara, the retiring secretary of defense, had built up a lot of antagonisms.

But McNamara was also a handy target for the antiwar critics outside Congress. This was a condition he couldn't help since the retiring secretary since 1961 and has been closely identified with the war as Johnson.

In a way, he had become a symbol of the war. If the war goes on long enough, and Clifford remains as secretary long enough, almost inevitably he will encounter the same kind of hostility that fell on McNamara.

McNamara had continued as secretary through the recent antiwar campaign, he would have been a target for a lot of criticism and abuse.

This wouldn't have hurt Johnson's election chances if by some miracle it couldn't happen. McNamara was so isolated and all the antiwar criticism was limited to the defense chief.

But Johnson, even more than McNamara, is in center of criticism on the war. And since Johnson is responsible for what McNamara did, if McNamara remained Johnson would have no relief from the criticism.

With McNamara gone, some of the criticism of the war will have to be diluted, and this should be of some help to Johnson politically.

When Clifford takes over, there will be a difference for Johnson. Although he is a Johnson adviser, he can't be identified with the war as closely as McNamara. Therefore, it should be months before the abuse piles up on him.

Since he is a brilliant lawyer, and adroit in what he says and does, he might be able to last through the campaign before real trouble begins for him. The longer it is delayed, the less criticism Johnson will have to bear.

If this reasoning is correct, then it should be no surprise to see Dean Rusk, secretary of state, resign and be replaced before the political campaigns get feverish later this year.

Rusk has been even more of a punching bag for the war critics, in and out of Congress, than McNamara. With McNamara and Rusk both gone the critics would be deprived of a lot of talking points against the war.

For the time being, the better for Johnson, politically.

Traffic Control

Traffic control in cities is a continual, but changing, problem for police officials, and Twin Falls is no exception. Residential growth of a certain section of the city, establishment and growth of a shopping center, opening a nearby Interstate route and a variety of other things can change traffic flow and create problems in new areas.

Somewhat of a problem now exists at the intersection of Blue Lakes Boulevard North and Filer Avenue. It adjoins a busy shopping center, handles traffic going northward to the Interstate 80 interchange and to the popular Sawtooth winter and summer resort area, is located in the fastest growing residential section of the city and takes care of traffic going to the high school.

Complicating matters somewhat is the fact that Filer Avenue East is a four-lane street and Filer Avenue, on the other side of Blue Lakes Boulevard North, is only two-lane—a wide two lanes, but still two-lane. To try and ease the situation, the city has made the right-hand lane of Filer Avenue East for westbound traffic a "right turn only" lane. All traffic coming to the intersection in this lane is supposed to turn right onto Blue Lakes Boulevard North.

This is designed to keep traffic in the two westbound lanes from jamming together as it strings out into the single lane across the intersection. There has been some difficulty in educating the driving public to the new pattern and police have had to hand-out a number of citations for violations. Several near-misses to acidents have been reported because of drivers failing to observe the "right turn only" regulation.

The present pattern might not be the best solution for the problem, anyway. In the first place, it seems logical that more westbound traffic will turn left off Filer Avenue East towards downtown Twin Falls, than will turn right and northward. As it is, at many times of the day a long line of cars queues up at the traffic light in the interior lane waiting to go straight or turn left, while the "right turn only" lane stays comparatively clear.

Police Chief Frank Barnett says his original feeling was that the interior lane should be left turn only, but that it was decided to set up the other pattern because of added expense and engineering involved in adding a left turn signal to the stop light.

One of the complications is that the stop light is traffic actuated, and now pressure plates would have to be installed. Chief Barnett estimated the expense might amount to several thousand dollars. It might be possible to do away with the traffic actuated phase of the stop light, but the traffic flow is so irregular on Filer Avenue because of CSI and Twin Falls High events at the school facilities, that even greater problems might develop.

Perhaps the state highway department and the city can get together and find enough money in the near future to change the stop light so it includes a left turn signal. Meanwhile, the only thing for people to do is become familiar with and obey the "right turn only" lane regulation.

MR. SPECTATOR

History Always Turns Up

W. H. (Bill) McDonald, who has been around these parts for a long time—worked 35 years at the local post office—always seems to be surrounded by history.

Although retired for eight years he still maintains interest in things. And therein lies the tale in this written tale.

The other day he was going through some of the effects of his father who died in Twin Falls on May 18, 1925. The town started in 1904 and that is the year his father got here.

Among other things he found two mighty interesting articles—history wise. One was a brochure which was put out by the Twin Falls Land and Water Co. offering land for sale in this area. The late Mr. McDonald must have believed what he read because he bought, among other property, land which is now in the vicinity of the Holiday Inn.

The other "piece" of history was a newspaper—a four-page edition—that was printed on Saturday, Jan. 4 in 1860 at Kingston in Ulster County, New York. The "Gazette" which was owned by a Samuel Freer and son, has many interesting bits of advertising, for instance, in addition to stories of the times—including reports on happenings at the American Congress.

Also prominently displayed was a poem "On The Death Of General Washington" which was written by a young lady especially for the Gazette.

Also in the paper is an account of "Washington Entombed" which stated that "on Wednesday last, the mortal part of Washington The Great, the Father of his country and the Friend of Man, was consigned to the tomb with solemn honours and funeral pomp." The article was somewhat complete, even listing the order of participants in the funeral procession; and was written Dec. 20, 1800 at George Town.

And so it goes. Mr. McDonald's father tucked away a piece of local history—and years later son Bill finds it.

We didn't ask him, but we are sure that if there are any serious scholars who want to study either the piece of history of early Twin Falls or the newspaper published some 168 years ago, Bill McDonald will arrange it. He lives at 1412 Eighth Avenue East in Twin Falls.

GIVEAWAY DEPT.

We have a four-month-old puppy that is grey, black and yellow with white markings. To give away. The dog is a female with medium long hair, is friendly and likes children. Its mother is a small type dog, a good bird dog with a trace of Cocker Spaniel. This dog may be picked up for only $100.00 and one mile east and three-eighths of a mile north of Jerome. Or you can call 324-4094 and ask for any of the Chagnack children on Route One.

FAT KNEES?

Every red-blooded American male was relieved to learn that a government warning about the perils of wearing miniskirts in cold weather was just a hoax.

Some wags at the Federal Housing Administration in Washington were just pulling the generously exposed legs of female coworkers when they circulated a "bulletin" from the agency's Health Division that claimed that cold temperatures cause a rapid build-up of fatty molecules in said unprotected limbs.

It was a chilling thought while it lasted. Winter presents a cheerless enough vista as it is without banishing short skirts all these long months. Nor was it pleasant to contemplate having to tell the lights of one's life en route to work, "You've got fat legs—FAT legs!"

Now take those long, long "midskirts" the fashion moguls are currently pushing. There's a real danger, girls. Did you ever see a slender Eskimo? And they cover up completely.

SHAME ON US!

Shame, Mr. Spectator, trying to put the blame on the city water for your overweight.

A few years ago I lived in a city that pumped water directly from the river. A few miles above the pump was a sugar factory.

We put muslin sacks over the outlet of water taps to strain out the goo from the water. One day I got curious and dumped the contents from the screen onto a paper.

I found: two one-half inch minnows, one small anglerworm, about a teaspoonful of decaying beet pulp, and some unidentified material that could have been sewage.

Complaining to the city officials, one of them said: "What are you complaining about. You're getting your meat and vitamins free, ain't you?"

"Two years later we got spring water piped into the city. Yours for progress."

THE LAW

Black power advocates who claim that the law and law enforcement are stacked against the Negro may get a laugh, if not a lesson out of this:

In the last session, the Ohio Legislature gave new powers to city authorities to cope with civil disturbances. Though no one would admit it publicly, the law was a consequence of and a precaution against Negro rioting.

A Cleveland area mayor was forced to invoke the new power for the first time in the state the other day—not to clamp down on colored people in the city's blighted areas, but to stop a violent altercation between opposing factions of a church in a white suburb.

BRUCE BLOSSAT

Tax Increase: Voters Rebel

WASHINGTON (NEA)—There seems no visible foundation for the argument made by Minnesota Sen. Eugene McCarthy and some others that Congress hangs back on the President's tax bill, because it fears U.S. citizens do not want to pay for a war they do not like.

This reporter tapped a number of congressional sources and found many of them scoffing at the idea. They simply do not believe that discontent over the Vietnam war, whatever its true measure, is playing any kind of key role in lawmakers' reluctance to give the President the 10 per cent income tax surcharge he wants.

Probing into Lyndon Johnson's difficulties on this score needs to be persistent, since there is no later-day precedent for the situation he finds himself in.

Though there was, of course, no attempt to put the financing of whopping World War II costs on a pay-as-you-go basis, the late President Roosevelt engineered massive tax increases to shoulder part of the load.

Former President Harry Truman while steering the country through the three-year Korean war, jammed two major tax increases past the Congress back-to-back in 1950 and 1951 and had an outside chance of getting a third boost in 1952. The first lifted federal revenues by $5.8 billion, the second $5.7 billion.

The Vietnam war, as a major U.S. military enterprise, is today almost exactly as long as the Korean conflict. Yet in those three years the President has won no tax hikes and has only the slimmest prospect of getting one if this costlier-than-ever fourth year of war.

If no increase is voted in 1968, then it is plain the nation is in for the worst unbalancing of the budget since World War II when for five straight years federal deficits ranged from $20 billion to $27 billion.

With a smaller population and a much smaller total product, it was deemed then that any tax program which came even close to balancing the steep wartime budgets would be crushing.

The same arguments cannot be advanced now. If Truman could slap on new levies to help pay for the war and check inflation, why cannot even closer Johnson manage the same? Judging from congressional views expressed both publicly and privately, lawmakers feel the real rebellion in the voting citizenry is against rising taxes as such—and not against their use in a puzzling war.

Congressmen who have been going home just in recent days find this mood more acute than ever.

They hear from people whose property taxes have been soaring on a steady curve for many years, who in many cases are paying, or soon may pay, higher state income and sales taxes, who see no end to the upward spiral.

In the view of many legislators, Johnson's proposals, if enacted, could be the straw that breaks their backs at the polls next November.

It might be different, some will say, if the President's plan could be simply and stoutly defended as a "war tax," as Truman came close to doing.

Widespread belief on the Hill is that it is too late for that. Johnson has told the country again and again it could have both war and social programs, and this has taken the steam of urgency out of his tax increase proposals.

Kennedy Rejects Idea Of Opposing LBJ Head-On

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Robert F. Kennedy publicly rejected the idea of opposing President Lyndon B. Johnson's Vietnam policies into a head-on political battle with President Johnson.

Kennedy told newsmen Tuesday he will not run against Johnson in any Democratic presidential primaries "under any foreseeable circumstances."

This still left the way clear for the New York senator to enter the race against Johnson if the president seeks his party's renomination as expected. But he says he is not planning to use the term "foreseeable circumstances" in connection with his bid for the presidential nomination.

Although Kennedy would not spell out any circumstances that might cause him to change his mind, it was indicated Vietnam war developments may hold the key to his future position.

A sudden cease-fire or opening of peace talks in Vietnam, some observers have reasoned, could spell political disaster for any would-be nominee critical of Johnson's policies.

Washington (AP) — Sen. Joseph S. Clark, D-Pa., told newsmen Tuesday his basic opposition remains unchanged after a visit to Vietnam.

Clark, who has said he'll support Johnson for re-election, said he's optimistic the administration will find a way to scale down or end the war before the election.

Fulbright said he sees no value in continuing to criticize the President's war policy on every occasion.

Son. Wayne Morse, D-Ore., similarly has toned down his criticism of the President over Vietnam although he maintained last week on conflict of interest charges, was sentenced Tuesday to six months imprisonment.

Another war-policy critic, Chairman J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee has told his friends his position for re-election, when he seeks re-election is that everyone knows how he stands on Vietnam.

LOW BIDDER

BOISE (AP)—Hartwell Excavating Co., Idaho Falls, was the low bidder on a Central Idaho highway project. His offer was $40,565. There were five other bidders. The State Highway Department said the project involves furnishing aggregate for road mix and covering materials in stockpiles adjacent to Idaho-28 in the vicinity of Gilmore, Leadore and Lemhi, in Lemhi County.

PLAN OPPOSED

BOISE (AP)—Two Democratic state auditor Joe R. Williams and state treasurer Marjorie R. Moon have expressed opposition to an administration proposal to put state employees on a bi-weekly instead of monthly pay schedule. Williams said the plan would be too expensive and Miss Moon said it would double the work of her office.

TWO CHARGED

BOISE (AP)—Two Idahoans have been charged with drilling wells in Idaho without drilling licenses. State Reclamation Engineer R. Keith Higginson said Wednesday. Higginson said Ray Cape, Terreton, in Eastern Idaho, and Ted Siaperas, Pocatello, were charged under a law passed last year by the Idaho Legislature.

LAND PURCHASED

BOISE (AP)—Two 160-acre units of Idaho land in Caribou County have been sold to Domingo V. Egullor, Paul, the State Land Office announced Wednesday. Egullor bought one unit appraised at $8,800 for $31,900 and one unit appraised at $8,800 for $32,000.

PRIZE ANNOUNCED

BOISE (AP)—A $500 scholarship was announced Tuesday as the prize in an oratory contest sponsored by the Boise Lincoln Day Banquet Association. President Lloyd E. Haigh, Boise, said the award would go to the high school senior judged as making the best delivery of Lincoln's Gettysburg Address. The contest is open to seniors of Boise's four high schools. Each school will name its individual winner and the four chosen will compete Feb. 8 for the scholarship.

INCREASE PREDICTED

BOISE (AP)—The State Department of Commerce and Development predicted Wednesday that Idaho manufacturing employment will increase by 2,700 workers during 1968. The department, in its quarterly economic report, said four areas will continue to increase after a record year in 1967. Tourism brought an estimated $202 to Idaho last year, the report said, the sixth consecutive year to set a new record.

California Mail Moved By Hippies

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Post office has discovered it has a set of hippies, wearing "flamboyant and outlandish garb," delivering the mail in San Francisco.

"I was somewhat taken aback by some of the carriers that I saw walking down the main streets of the town," said Richard J. Murphy, assistant postmaster general in charge of personnel who is just back from a trip to the west coast.

Normally, Murphy said, the Post Office doesn't interfere with the private lives of its employees. But, he said, bear coats, beads, beards and bells are not appropriate for representatives of the federal government on duty. "I simply am not going to have it." A set of clothing and grooming regulations will be issued soon, Murphy said. He said the hippies are hired because they are very near the top of the civil service register—they score very well.

Dredging Laws Viewed By Senator

ST. MARIES, Idaho (AP)—No federal or state regulations apparently prohibit proposed dredging of the St. Joe River, Sen. Frank Church said Tuesday. During a luncheon he said continued pressure on the Idaho State Land Board seemed the only way to stop the proposed digging of the river. Church said the board, with apparent power in the issue, was the only agency which could deny the necessary permit needed by the Idaho Mining Co. to proceed with the dredging. The company, with headquarters in Texas, has proposed the dredging in the St. Joe National Forest in Shoshone County. A hearing on the proposal has been scheduled in Wallace by the Land Board, but constitutionality of the hearing has been questioned.

High To Present Resolution

BOISE (AP)—State Sen. Richard High, R-Twin Falls, says he will introduce a resolution in the senate opposing the Idaho Water Resources Board in its intervention in the High Mountain Sheep Dam case. High is chairman of the Senate Irrigation and Reclamation Committee. He said Tuesday the committee members have agreed to putting in the resolution.

Biafran Secessionists In Nigeria Fighting With Their Backs To Wall

By MICHAEL GOLDSMITH
PORT HARCOURT, Biafra (AP)—The Biafran secessionists in eastern Nigeria are fighting with their backs to the wall. Their leader, Lt. Col. C. Oduwagwu Ojukwu, is determined to fight to the finish to keep federal troops out of Biafra's heartland.

The army of the Nigerian government in Lagos, seeking to end the eastern region's eight-month secession, has cut off Biafra from all sides, but the bearded colonel is convinced he can hold out for three or four years if necessary. The population is mobilized for total war. As more and more factories close for lack of raw materials, the workers are absorbed by Ojukwu's militia and trained for guerrilla war.

When weapons are short, recruits use machetes or dummy rifles. Notices everywhere call for vigilance. A poster shows a helmeted soldier with fixed bayonet. "This man is ready to meet the enemy. Are you?" asks the caption. Other posters urge the 150,000 residents of Port Harcourt, Biafra's largest remaining city, to report any strange faces to the police. Life goes on virtually as normal in the countryside. Only salt is hard to get. Last week, three fishermen tried to smuggle in a basket of salt from neighboring Cameroroon. They were caught by a patrol boat of the blockading federal navy and summarily shot. An Irish missionary found their bodies.

The blockade is virtually complete. Supplies come in only by charter plane. The planes, piloted by American crews, come from Lisbon and land at Port Harcourt by night, with all lights turned off. Before daybreak, they must leave for fear of being bombed by the Soviet-built MIGs of the federal air force.

Federal air raids have slackened since the beginning of the year. An exception was last Thursday, when by Biafran account two MIGs repeatedly bombed and strafed a civilian hospital at Iru on the Cross River, killing four patients and wounding 20. Scottish physician in charge, Dr. Murray Philip, Philip had recently published a pro-Biafra article in a British magazine. Biafran officials said numerous hospitals and schools have been bombed by the Egyptian-piloted MIGs. All schools in

Arkansas Inmate Reveals Graveyard

By ED SHEARER
CUMMINS PRISON FARM, Ark. (AP)—An inmate whose long memory of a graveyard for forgotten men led to the unearthing of three skeletons buried Tuesday that 20 other Arkansas State prisoners were shot to death on Labor Day of 1940.

Reuben Johnson, 50, a hefty 6-footer who first went to prison in 1927 for killing his brother, said that years ago he helped bury 10 or 12 convicts who were "shot with a pistol, a shotgun or just beaten to death."

Most of them were Negroes, Johnson said, adding: "But they killed some white ones on Labor Day in 1940. They killed a bunch of them—I'd say about 20."

"We were all scared. I thought I was going to get it. A lot of mornings I thought I wouldn't come back to the building."

Prison records showed that 36 men escaped Sept. 2, 1940, and that one man was killed trying to escape. The records also showed that 24 escapees were recaptured quickly, and a prison staff member said it was possible others were recaptured later.

Meanwhile, a grim, exploratory digging operation was halted for the time being on the prison grounds. State police took charge of the investigation and said that, before resuming, they "need to see what we have first."

On Monday, Johnson led officials to the unmarked graves of three men, the remains encased in coffins buried in the rich soil of the Arkansas River bottoms. The prison farm is 60 miles southeast of Little Rock.

A former prison board member said the skeletons might be part of a paupers' graveyard. Former Prison Supt. Dan D. Stephens said he was aware all along that there was an old prison cemetery in the area where the bodies were found, one headless, one with the head smashed and a third with the legs broken, apparently to fit the body into the casket.

Stephens said the burials dated back many years, and that no convicts were buried at Cummins during his tenure in 1904-65. The search for bodies was launched on the basis of rumors that flickered and faded for years in the dark recesses of the farm where 1,300 prisoners are incarcerated.

"According to testimonials of inmates on the farm... there have been burials that were other than legal," said Prison Supt. Thomas J. Murton, who launched the inquiry.

Prison legends told of convicts slain in sadistic outbursts, their graves and the victims described as escapees, who never were recaptured.

Superintendent Murton has called the Arkansas State penitentiary system a "throwback to the Middle Ages."

More than 200 inmates, he said, have been listed as unapprehended in escapes dating back to 1900.

Dr. Edward Barron Jr., the prison physician, said earlier: "I feel reasonably certain there are more bodies out there... as many as 100, if not more."

"I have also been told that sometimes if an inmate had something against another one he could arrange a payoff to get rid of the other man. These sound like wild stories, but this today could lend some credibility to them. This is twenty-sixth century."

A sharp-tongued penologist, Murton, 39, was hired by Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller last year as assistant superintendent at Tucker prison. After instituting reforms there, he was named superintendent earlier this month of the prison system, reforms there, he was named superintendent earlier this month of the prison system, responsible for Cummins as well as Tucker.

Assault Vessels Planned By Navy

By BOB HORTON
AP Military Writer
WASHINGTON (AP)—The Navy plans to build nearly $1 billion worth of battle-size amphibious assault vessels to carry Marines, helicopters and landing craft to combat areas.

The new ships, designed LHA's, would vastly streamline Marine-over-the-beach and amphibious tactics by combining features of four specialized Navy vessels. They would be more than twice the length of a football field.

Industry proposals for the first of several LHAs to cost about $123 million each were submitted to the Navy late last week for evaluation, officials said Tuesday. The Navy will pick the winning design within four months, these sources said.

The fiscal 1969 defense budget unveiled Monday provides the money for one LHA, and other funds will be laid out next year for items for three more.

The Navy hopes for four or five beyond those. Although the exact configuration is still being ironed out, the amphibious assault ship would displace about 40,000 tons, extend about 700 feet and measure 100 feet by so across the beam—narrow enough to go through the Panama Canal.

By comparison, the battleship New Jersey, being reactivated for the Vietnam war, is 45,000 tons, 887 feet and 108 feet at the beam.

The LHA could carry at least a Marine battalion landing team of 1,600 men, their necessary supporting equipment, 30 or so helicopters, tanks, other vehicles and several landing boats.

"The landing craft would be carried in a floodable well in the LHA, allowing embarking Marines to head directly from the big assault ships into coastal waters, aboard fully loaded boats.

Helicopters launched from flight decks above the well would aid amphibious tactics.

To undertake a similar operation now the Navy would use more vessels: The LPD or amphibious transport dock, the LPH helicopter carrier, the APA attack or transport and the LSD or dock landing ship.

In the running for LHA money are General Dynamics' Quincy Division, of Quincy, Mass.; Litton Industries' Advanced Marine Technology Division at Culver City, Calif.; and Newport News Shipbuilding & Drydock Co., Newport News, Va.

Chicago Has List Of 10 Most Wanted Chronic Parking Ticket Violators

By F. RICHARD PICCONE
CHICAGO (AP) — The slender fashion model plucked the parking ticket from the windshield of her Cadillac and tossed it on the front seat.
No hum. It was the 65th time she had done it.
And then she became a member of the 10 most wanted chronic traffic violators.
Chicago has borrowed a technique from the FBI to help crack down on chronic traffic violators who ignore their fines. A list of the "10 most wanted parking violators" is compiled and made public with arrest warrants issued.
Any patrolman would have coveted an assignment to track down the slinky model, not for a fine but it was a computer that got the goods on her and 150 other drivers who failed to pay for multiple parking violations in 1966.

The model, 23, slipped 65 tickets under the visor, in the glove compartment or into the gutter, in 1966. For that, Judge Raymond Berg slipped her a fine of $975.
Chicago policemen issue two million parking tickets a year. At $10 a copy, this is big business. A few years ago, however, the city noticed that collections weren't so good because drivers were ignoring the yellow envelopes tucked under their windshield wipers.
Irwin Cohen, assistant city attorney, explained how the electronic investigator got its start. "The idea was born in 1965," Cohen said. "Judge Felix Buocchio, chief of the traffic division of Circuit Court, realized that manpower couldn't handle the volume of work, sorting out tickets and pinpointing the violators by checking registration of license plates."
The computer was purchased in 1965. Like any police rookie, it wasn't a perfect sleuth. "It had some bugs," Cohen said. "It didn't fully mature until programming difficulties were resolved late in 1966."
Once the computer was set up to record the parking tickets issued and tied in with the secretary of state's records of license plate registrations, it was only a matter of time before the first "10 most wanted" list appeared in Chicago newspapers.
"We put out warrants for 110 arrests," Cohen said. "About 10 persons have come in voluntarily and 30 persons served with warrants have appeared in court and have been fined."
The first 150 offenders tagged by the computer had more than 40 tickets each for 1966. After this batch is disposed of, the computer will continue until every parking ticket is matched with the car owner.
Few of the violators have paid in full. Judge Berg accepts a partial payment and sets up an installment plan payment schedule.
"If they come in voluntarily," Cohen said, "we try to give them as much of a break as possible. Once a warrant has been issued for their arrest, then we ask at least $15 a ticket to cover the additional expense."

Business has been booming since the first of the "most wanted" lists was published, Cohen said. "Our traffic department payment office has been swamped by people who know now that they have to pay parking tickets or get caught by the computer."
Cohen said that drivers license numbers, which are now required with license plate applications in Illinois, will soon be fed to the computer. In the future, a policeman can check any driver he stops to learn if parking violations are on the motorist's record.
The computer is also linked with the police department's criminal records computer for quick checking of various records.

Stewardess Testifies In Suit

SALT LAKE CITY (AP) — A stewardess who was burned but survived a 43-death jetliner crash held a courtroom appeal Monday as she told of the holocaust in a damage trial Tuesday.
Annette Folz of Denver was stationed at the back of the United Air Lines Boeing 727 that crashed and burned at the Salt Lake Airport Nov. 11, 1965.
She told how her hair caught fire and she was badly burned attempting to evacuate passengers.
She said seconds after she was jarred by the landing "flames spouted right up from the floor to the ceiling of the fuselage."
She said passengers began to panic.
Miss Folz is now a clerical employee of United Air Lines.
She filed but later dismissed a suit claiming $350,000 damages against the Boeing Co.
She was one of eight witnesses who testified in the second day of a $2.5 million damage suit filed against United Airlines by nine persons.
One of the original nine—Mrs. Ena Steffensen of Boise, Idaho, widow of Vern R. Steffensen—settled her claims out of court just before trial began. Terms of the settlement were not available.
The trial is before U.S. District Judge Willis W. Ritter.

You owe it to yourself to investigate the styling, performance and price of the leader in Color TV before you buy. Find out why more people buy RCA than any other kind. Let us tell you about the RCA Super Bright Hi-Lite Picture Tube, Automatic Fine Tuning and the many other reasons why RCA is the world's most popular Color TV.

THE WORLD'S FIRST 2-SPEED, 6-CYCLE DISH-WASHER

Whirlpool

We've added another water speed to make your new Whirlpool dishwasher even more versatile, more pleasant to use. It's a new gentle water speed that provides a special "take-in-easy" washing action. For delicate things like shimmering crystal and heirloom china, select the CHINA CRYSTAL cycle. For lightweight like Melamine plastics, aluminum pans and pie tins, choose GENTLE WASH. Immediately the water speed and pressure "slow down" for gentle, yet completely thorough washing. On the other hand, when you want to put some extra "muscle" and speed into the water action, SUPER WASH really goes to work to scour away stubborn soil like heavy greases and cooked-on food to get dishes so clean they "squeak."

Dear Abby

BY ANIGAIL VAN BUREN
DEAR ABBY: Our 18-year-old daughter has graduated from high school and has steady employment, so now she says she can do as she pleases. She is living at home, but she doesn't care what anybody thinks about her actions.

Her "old-fashioned" parents want to know if we have the right to set some rules for her. We have asked her to be home by 1 a.m. when she goes out on a date. (She's been coming home anywhere from 2 to 3 a.m. when she goes out to her going to her boy friend's bachelor apartment to watch TV for an evening she says we have "dirty minds.")

She tells us if we don't "get off her back" she will move out and rent with girl friends. I'm feeling a little bit to assert her independence, but we think she's overdoing it. Please give us bewildered parents some guidelines. BEWILDERED

DEAR BEWILDERED: Tell your daughter to sit down with a pen and paper and figure out exactly how "independent" she is. Advise her that when she is able to support herself entirely—and that means pay for her room, board, clothing, transportation, entertainment, travel, doctor, dentist and insurance, then she may live where she chooses, and by her own rules. But as long as she lives with you, she will have to live by yours.

DEAR ABBY: This will amuse you, I'm sure: The other evening I was in the company of an elderly couple I have known for over 30 years. The subject of your column came up and the lady remarked that she doubted very much if all those letters in your column were "real." And the gentleman agreed that you surely must make them up yourself because people couldn't be that "peculiar."

Briefly, here is the background of this couple: They are not married, but have been engaged for 49 years! They have traveled all over the world together, she as "Miss" and he as "Mr." They are both independently wealthy and neither has ever been married. I once had nerve enough to ask her why they never got married. She replied, "If I married him today, he would ask for a divorce tomorrow. A man needs his freedom."

This lady is past 80, seems

J. B. (AMSTERDAM, HOLLAND)

DEAR J. B.: Thank you for writing. (Could your friends have originated "The Dutch Treat"?)

DEAR ABBY: We are three girls with a problem. There is this creepy girl at school who is a real queer. She dresses funny, is very homesy, and has no friends. Well, she just won't leave us alone. She hangs around my locker and tries to eat lunch with me and my friends.

She is causing us to lose all our friends because people are beginning to think we are a friend of hers. We hate to hurt her feelings, but we don't want to let her go around with us. How can we get rid of her? We are all in eighth grade.
TROUBLED TRIO

DEAR TROUBLED: Be kind to her. She needs it. To treat this unfortunate floundering girl with common courtesy will do your reputation no harm. (It might even improve it.) You needn't cultivate her friendship outside of school, but when she seeks you in school, treat her as YOU would like to be treated if you were in her unhappy shoes.

Tiny Island Becomes Independent

SYDNEY, Australia (AP) — The tiny, phosphate-rich island of Nauru, in the Southwest Pacific just south of the Equator, became one of the world's smallest independent republics at midnight Tuesday.

Five hundred Islanders watched the flag of Britain, Australia and New Zealand hauled down for the last time. The three countries had administered Nauru for 21 years under a United Nations trusteeship.

Today, beneath Nauru's new blue, gold and white flag, a five-member executive council was being elected to govern the island about 12 miles in circumference, has an area of 5,203 acres, a population of about 6,000 and plenty of money. Revenue from phosphate exports averages about $3,000 a year per family, with much of it invested for the benefit of the population after the phosphate is gone.

Patricia Neal Returns To Work On Film

NEW YORK (AP) — Three years ago actress Patricia Neal's career appeared ended when she suffered a stroke that left her without sight, speech or use of her limbs.

Now happily recovered, Miss Neal returned to New York Tuesday to begin work on the film version of Frank Gillroy's Pulitzer Prize play "The Subject Was Roses."

"I hope I will make a beautiful film. I hope it all goes well," she said on her arrival at Kennedy airport from London. She was wearing her "lucky" 21-year-old forest green hat and eyed-black tunk coat.

Suspended Youths Ask Union Aid

NORWALK, Conn. (AP) — Boys suspended from Brien McMahon high school for letting their hair hang over their eyes, ears or collars have enlisted the aid of the American Civil Liberties Union.

Burton Weigstein, a volunteer lawyer from the Fairfield County ACLU chapter, said Tuesday he has agreed to represent in court four of the boys at first and probably more later.

Most of the 53 students suspended from school for the length of their hair defied a cut-your-hair order. A dozen cut their hair and returned to school Tuesday.

About 10 parents of students suspended for wearing their hair long appeared Tuesday night at a School Board meeting but were not allowed to discuss their position.

Some students picketed the school Tuesday, carrying such signs as "Does Society Hang by a Hair?" and "Jesus, Shakespeare, Washington and Lincoln wore long hair. Who should we look up to?"

But many sided with Principal Luther A. Howard, who visited every classroom Monday, deadline for lock-lopping, and suspended 53 boys whose hair covered their eyes, ears or collars. The school has 1,700 pupils.

Help With Tax Forms Offered

Persons wishing assistance with their 1967 income tax returns should call at the local Internal Revenue Service office on Mondays, Edwin R. Stone, local agent advises.

On Monday's the office has a larger staff on hand to give assistance. Usually, Mr. Stone said, a telephone call is sufficient to obtain the answer to most questions, but for those who wish to call at the office, Monday is the most suitable day as most field agents are busy with field work and not in the office during the remainder of the week.

Brownell Wants Court To Keep Lid On School Suits

By BARRY SCHWEIB
WASHINGTON (AP) — Former U.S. Atty. Gen. Herbert Brownell wants the Supreme Court to keep a lid on taxpayer suits that would block federal aid to parochial school children. Brownell spoke for 15 New Yorkers whose children get remedial education training in Jewish, Lutheran, Roman Catholic and Greek Orthodox schools. "The lid was put on by the Supreme Court in 1923. It decided payment of taxes alone does not give a citizen the right to sue to block large government programs. The court will re-examine that ruling later this term. If it reverses itself, Brownell said in a friend-of-court brief filed Tuesday, some children in poor neighborhoods could be excluded from the benefits of welfare legislation "by reason of their religious beliefs or affiliations."

The federal government spends an estimated $1.0 billion a year under the 1965 Elementary and Secondary Education Act to provide special education programs and library services for children attending parochial schools in poor areas. The children of the New Yorkers Brownell spoke for get speech therapy, remedial reading, remedial arithmetic and guidance counseling in their parochial schools. "There is no allegation that any funds are being used, even indirectly, to support religious worship or instruction," Brownell said. "The test case was brought to the court by seven civic and education leaders in New York opposed to federal funds being provided to such schools. They have the support of the American Jewish Congress, the New York Civil Liberties Union, the United Federation of Teachers and the United Parents Associations. Additionally, the National Council of Churches has told the court there is "grave doubt" federal programs aiding church-affiliated schools are constitutional.

Tax Tip

Teachers were reminded Tuesday by the Twin Falls office, Internal Revenue Services, that if they did not pay an estimated tax on interest received with a repayment of contributions to their retirement fund, they must file their federal income tax returns by Jan. 31, or as soon after that date as possible. Teachers should not wait until April 15, it was pointed out, because the penalty charge, although nominal, accumulates beginning Jan. 15, the estimate due date. Exceptions are those who are filing refund returns or if there is less than $40 tax to be paid with the return.

Smylie Says Wallace Will Do Well

BOISE (AP) - Former Idaho Gov. Robert E. Smylie predicts Republican congressmen and former Alabama Gov. George Wallace will do well at the polls this year.

Smylie said Wallace, a third presidential candidate, could carry five southern states and make inroads in the north.

Speaking at a meeting of the Idaho Press Club, Smylie said he disagrees with Wallace's philosophy but believes he should have the opportunity of going before the voters.

Smylie said he believes Republicans have a good chance this year of gaining control of the U.S. House of Representatives but are likely to have difficulty winning the presidency.

He termed President Lyndon Johnson "a master of events," and said Johnson will likely make a strong peace effort that will win him many votes.

Stocks

CLOSING SUMMARY NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market sank lower in active trading at the close today. Prices were at their lowest level of the day and the New York Stock Exchange index type was one minute late in reporting floor transactions at the final bell. The recently high-flying glamor stocks were clipped again and the erosion spread to the blue chips. The margin of advances among individual stocks over declines ballooned to more than 500 issues. Brokers said investors' discontent with the dollar is being compounded as a market factor by apprehension over the critical Asian situation and the dissatisfaction expressed over President Johnson's budget. Occidental Petroleum gained more than 2 points and Signal Oil jumped 5. Bethlehem Steel, which increased its dividend, advanced half a point. Motors, rubbers, mail order, retail, farm implements, aircraft, electronics, utilities, non-ferrous metals, rail, oil, tobacco and drugs were mostly lower. Prices declined on the American Stock Exchange.

The Daily Investor

By WILLIAM A. DOYLE. Q. The other evening, on the television news, the commentators made the following statement: "The New York Stock Exchange index lost 22 cents. Here are my questions: How many shares listed on the New York Stock Exchange does the figure apply to? What does the figure represent? Is it a gain or a loss amount?" A. That figure is the result of calculating the ups and/or downs of all the common stocks listed on the New York Stock Exchange. So, when you hear or read that the NYSE index dipped 22 cents on a certain day, you know that the average price of stocks on that exchange declined by that amount on that particular day. Please note that I wrote "average." This doesn't mean that all stocks fell by that amount.

U.S. Steel Reports Drop In Profits

NEW YORK (AP)—U.S. Steel Corp., the biggest steelmaker, has reported a 19 percent drop in profits in 1967 from 1966. Bethlehem Steel Corp., second-ranking producer, reports today and its results are expected to follow the U.S. Steel trend. U.S. Steel said Tuesday its earnings last year dropped to $172,400,331, or $3.19 a share, from $249,238,569, or $4.60 a share in 1966. Sales in 1967 declined to $4,009,319,100 from $4,434,705,400 the previous year. In the 1967 fourth quarter, U.S. Steel earned $51,721,141, or 86 cents a share, on sales of $1,053,110,470. This compares with $59,859,802, or $1.11 a share, on sales of $1,076,272,487 a year earlier. Directors declared the regular quarterly dividend of 60 cents a share.

Board Strength Of Brown Pulls Vandals To Win

Junior Steve Brown came off the bench to even up the backboard battle and the University of Idaho pulled away in the final 12 minutes Tuesday night to defeat the Idaho State Bengals 72-64 in a non-conference game.

Bowling

MAGIC BOWL: Guys and Girls League. The Splitters defeated the Rocks 3-1. The Rollers defeated the Swingers 2-1. The Lancers defeated the Aces 4-0.

GOING FOR TWO, University of Idaho's Steve Brown snaked in two points off a baseline drive against Idaho State's Bengals during action Tuesday night in the Twin Falls gymnasium.

usually carried a small edge. ISU's Ed Wilson and Tom Baird were the tough rebounders. But that evaporated midway through the second half when the Vandals pulled away from a 42-42 deadlock and into a 57-48 lead. Idaho State never came closer than five points after that.

A crowd of about 2,000 braved the icy streets to attend the game, the first of four between the state's arch rivals. The next three will count in the Big Sky Conference.

Idaho wound up hitting exactly 50 per cent from the field against 43 for the Bengals. But the Vandals carried the win at the four line, hitting 22 of 33 while ISU managed only 14 of 23. Idaho held a 46-27 rebounding edge.

Idaho State started out well against Idaho's box zone with a one-man chase on high scoring Ben Boone. The Bengals hit up a quick 6-0 margin on two turnovers and points from Tom Baird, Boone and Ralph McGeer.

But Idaho, using a deliberate offense, started coming back and with 10:18 left in the half fashioned a 17-17 tie on a Tony Traweck free throw. From then on it was a horse race, the lead being tied six times — but Idaho led only once. The half ended 34-31. ISU's Ed Wilson carried the first half scoring punch.

Diminutive Tom Kecker sparked the Vandals into the lead early in the second half, the 5-foot, 10-inch junior pumping through 10 points. For a while it was Thacker against the front line of Baird, Boone and McGeer, scored to nullify his outside shooting performance.

Twice the Vandals moved four points in front but each time the Bengals came back, the last time at 42-41 on a field goal by Charlie Parker.

Thacker picked up four points the next two times down the floor — two from the line — and ISU was compromised when Boone picked up his fourth foul and was taken out for about 15 minutes.

ISU's last minute of hope came with 12:03 left when McGeer's free throw reduced the Idaho lead to 46-45. Then came the Vandal blitz. Tony Traweck hooked and Steve Brown rebounded. Jim Johnson's 10-7 four-way tie for the Southern Idaho Conference lead.

Boone claimed six first place votes, Pocentello five, Twin Falls and Weiser two each and Borah and Bonneville one each.

Idaho State lost Boone for the night with 3:48 remaining but the Bengals still came back to within 63-58 and 65-60 before Idaho took it away.

Moscow Climbs Back Into First Place In Prep Basketball Poll

By The Associated Press. Take me to your new leader. That's the theme of this week's Associated Press prep club ratings as the Moscow Bears climbed back into the No. 1 slot as a result of votes by 17 sportswriters and sportscasters.

It marked the fifth consecutive week that a different team has been atop the Idaho ratings; but it was the third visit in those five weeks for the northern quintet.

Last week's leaders, the Twin Falls Bruins, dropped a 68-65 overtime clash to Pocentello and slid from first to third as the Indians followed it up with a 69-56 win over Capital to gain a four-way tie for the Southern Idaho Conference lead.

San Francisco Signs Mays For $125,000

By CHARLES McMURTRY. Associated Press Sports Writer. SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Willie Mays signed again for $125,000 with the San Francisco Giants who announced Tuesday that six big-name players had agreed to terms in what amounted to a $360,000 salary package.

McCormick, Willie McCovey, Tom Haller, Jim Davenport and Jim Hart were the others in the fold.

Giants Vice President Charles "Chub" Feeney said the players were signed individually even though the six were included in an announcement. All were one-year contracts.

Mays, 36, retained the same salary he has received the past two seasons despite a slump in 1967 in which he was hampered by a pulled muscle, and then by influenza.

Mays and pitcher Juan Marchal were the highest paid on the Giants club a year ago. Feeney said Marchal has not been signed yet, "but we are optimistic he will be back."

McCormick, after a brilliant 22-10 season in which he won the Cy Young and Comeback Player of the Year Awards, possibly doubled his own salary from previous $30,000 to an estimated $55,000 to $60,000.

McCovey was believed signed for $60,000, perhaps a slight increase from the salary received in 1967 when he hit 31 home runs and knocked in 91 while hitting .370.

Haller, malnasty of the catching staff, Davenport, who capably fills the infield positions as a utilityman, and Hart, expected to be in left field this season, probably each received about $25,000.

Mays, appearing eager as usual, exclaimed to teammates as he entered the press room at Candlestick Park, "Retire? I feel like I could play another 15 years."

Open Tennis In U.S. Faces Uphill Battle

WASHINGTON (AP) — Donald Dell, a former member of the U.S. Davis Cup team, says the proposal for open tennis in the United States faces an uphill battle because promoters making under-the-table payments to players do not want to lose their influence.

"For every penny (the amateur who gets paid), there also is a penny," said Dell, who will plead in case for open tennis as an official representative of the players at Saturday's annual meeting of the U.S. Lawn Tennis Association in Coronado, Calif.

Instead of under-the-table payments, those players whom Dell calls amateurs would receive purses at each tournament. Billie Jean King, the outspoken queen of women's tennis, said two years ago that a top American amateur could clear $35,000 a year under-the-table.

Dell played in the Davis Cup matches for the United States against Iran in 1963. It now is an Iranian and a special assistant to Secretary of State, director of the office of economic opportunity.

Great Britain's tennis leaders recently worked to open this year's Wimbledon tournament not to amateurs and professionals but to the finance of the International Lawn Tennis Federation.

Brown Is Traded To Baltimore

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Tim Brown, one of the top offensive backs in National Football League history, was traded Tuesday by the Philadelphia Eagles to the Baltimore Colts for defensive back Alvin Harrison.

Brown was the last of the stars who carried the Eagles to the 1960 NFL title. He is only one of eight players in NFL history to gain more than 10,000 yards. The 25-year-old Raymond has played four seasons with the Colts, having graduated from Southern Illinois.

Cutter, Chariot Racing Are Competitive Sports

By BRUCE FOX
KMYT-Twin Falls
JEROME, Idaho (AP) — The starting gates swing open and the cold, wintry air is shattered by the thundering of 16 hooves and two sets of wheels. Quickly the teams, reach 40 miles an hour, hurtling down a frozen dirt track to the cheers and shouts of hundreds lining the quarter-mile railing. The drivers, bracing themselves on small platforms between two open wheels, lean into the wind, grasping the reins to stay aboard the lurching chariots.

The teams flash across the finish line with a final burst of speed. Another Sunday afternoon chariot race is over.

Looking like something out of the Roman Empire, modern-day chariot racing actually had its origins in more recent times and closer to home. In the mid-1930s in the Afton, Wyo., area, several ranchers decided to race with workhorses. A pair of horses was hooked to an open one-man sled and matched with another team for a quarter-mile race across the frozen fields.

In parts of the country where snow is not abundant, the sleds or cutters are replaced with two-wheeled chariots. It takes from $7500 on up to get into the game. For the basic price, you can buy a good team of horses, a chariot with wheels, a cutter with snow runners, and the various essential tack items like harnesses, reins, bridles and blinkers.

Most competitors prefer quarterhorses for this game of speed, although many use cow ponies. Occasionally, a team of thoroughbreds shows up at the starting gates. The horses generally are multipurpose animals, filling other roles besides racing.

Cutter and chariot racing is beginning to catch on in popularity. There now are some 900 members in Idaho, Utah, Wyoming, Montana and Colorado. These members belong to 24 associations that offer a race nearly every Sunday afternoon from December through March. At the end of each season, the top three teams from each association gather in Pocatello in mid-March for the World Championship Cutter and Chariot races.

Kennecott Official Hits Union Action

By NEIL GILBRIDE
AP Labor Writer

WASHINGTON (AP)—An official of Kennecott Copper Corp. said today that union insistence on company-wide negotiations had made a farce of collective bargaining in the 6½-month-old strike shutting down most U.S. copper production.

E. J. Flynn, Kennecott attorney, said there had been no bargaining since Dec. 27 involving Kennecott's western mines.

Kennecott is the largest of the copper firms affected by the strike. Flynn testified before a special federal panel named to seek a solution to the strike of some 40,000 members of 26 unions.

Flynn also said union demands for higher wages and fringe benefits would total more than $3 per hour, more than 11 per cent a year. Kennecott has offered a three-year pact worth four per cent a year, Flynn said.

Flynn said the unions' demand for company-wide bargaining is illegal and is holding up settlement of other issues.

Operations To Release Ships Suspended

CAIRO (AP) — The Egyptian Foreign Ministry said Tuesday night that operations to release foreign freighters trapped in the Suez Canal have been suspended indefinitely because Israeli troops fired on Egyptian boats trying to survey the northern half of the waterway.

Despite the official statement, the semi-official newspaper Al-Ahram said today that Egypt is "resolutely determined" to continue the canal operation.

"Regardless of Israel's allegations and regardless of Israel's stand," said Al-Ahram, "we are totally determined to exercise our legal right of sovereignty over our territory and our canal and are determined to go on with the work of clearing the canal and releasing the trapped foreign vessels."

Fifteen foreign ships and an Egyptian tanker have been trapped in the canal since the six-day June war between Israel and the Arabs.

Israel has agreed to sufficient clearing operation of the Canal's southern sector to free the ships, but said any operations in the northern part would violate a cease-fire agreement that neither Egyptian nor Israeli forces would use the canal. When Egyptian survey boats took to the water Tuesday between Ismailia and Port Said, a 90-minute tank, artillery and machine-gun battle ensued across the canal from each other.
