Red Offensive Is Crushed By Allies

By GEORGE ESPER
SAIGON (AP) — U.S. and South Vietnamese officials said today their forces were crushing the biggest Communist offensive in the war with skyrocketing losses to the enemy. But Red troops were reported in control of much of Hue, the ancient imperial capital, and South Vietnamese dive-bombers still roared over the streets of Saigon attacking Viet Cong holdouts.

Associated Press correspondent John Lengel reported from Hue, 50 miles south of the demilitarized zone that four battalions of Viet Cong and North Vietnamese controlled most of the streets in the coastal city. Lengel said U.S. Marines and infantrymen and South Vietnamese troops were battling more to maintain their positions than to oust the enemy. South Vietnamese President Nguyen Van Thieu and U.S. Ambassador Ellsworth Bunker Acheson went on television to assert that the Communists were being defeated with unparalleled losses. The U.S. Command said 10,533 of the enemy had been killed in the four-day countryside assaults on the cities and towns of South Vietnam. Allied losses were put at 917 dead and 2,817 wounded, including 281 Americans killed and 1,105 wounded.

Thieu said, "The back of the Viet Cong attack has been broken." He said there is still Communist resistance "in a few provincial capitals... but we can consider they have been totally defeated."

"Although the enemy raided numerous cities and towns throughout the republic and achieved some temporary successes, they have failed to take and hold any major installations or localities," said a U.S. communique. "Although some enemy units are still occupying positions in a few cities, they are rapidly being driven out. The allies have detained 3,076 suspects and captured over 1,300 individual and over 300 crew-served weapons."

But as Thieu and Bunker broadcast, South Vietnamese bombers were strafing a block of houses near the racetrack in the northwest and the Viet Cong to clear out Communist troops. Rockets streaked from armed helicopters. Other Viet Cong entrenched in a crowded apartment area in a northwestern suburb of the capital.

There was fighting in at least half a dozen other spots in Saigon. Marauding bands of guerrillas roved the capital's streets, sniping at helicopters approaching the top of the six-story U.S. Embassy building. South Vietnamese rangers caught one group of Viet Cong eating soup at a sidewalk restaurant.

The heaviest fighting was reported in the southwestern section of the city around the Buddhist An Quang Pagoda. Lengel reported the Communists in Hue were attacking with machine-guns, mortar and rockets. He said the enemy fire was so intense that two U.S. helicopters were shot down as they tried to run the gauntlet to collect wounded.

Ground Reservist Call-Up Is Not Expected

WASHINGTON (AP) — Military officials say they don't foresee any imminent call-up of ground force reservists as the United States readies today a second bid to recover the USS Pueblo through talks with the North Korean captors.

These were the major developments in the ongoing Asia crisis.

The State Department announced Thursday U.S. willingness to engage in fact-to-face talks with North Korea aimed at gaining return of the Pueblo and her 83-man crew.

The action followed a broadcast hint by North Korea that a settlement might be possible through new talks at Panmunjom, the Korean War truce site. —President Johnson said U.S. bombing of North Vietnam will continue until the enemy gives "some better sign" that a halt would not result in stepped-up terrorism and a return to hostilities against South Vietnam.

He spoke as the Communists continued widespread assaults against major South Vietnamese cities and U.S. command. Gen. William C. Westland warned the enemy's "main effort" is yet to come.

—Military sources at the Pentagon indicated the heat is off, at least for now, on any call-up of Army Reserve or National Guard ground units.

The surprisingly strong Communist attacks in South Vietnam—along with last week's call-up of some 14,000 air reservists in response to the Pueblo crisis—had generated Capitol Hill speculation that a major muster of reserve ground forces might be in the works.

Defense officials said last week's call-up was intended to show North Korea the United States determined to recover the Pueblo and her crew. Any further muster of reservists, they said, is likely to depend on whether the President feels the point should be made more emphatic.

Bill Concerning Timber Protective Unit Given

By ALLEN M. BAILEY
BOISE (AP) — A bill-arily regulating state participation in timber protective association was introduced today in the Idaho Legislature's special session by five House Democrats.

The measure would establish minimum acreages of non-state land in the protective associations, minimum total acreages for the associations and require proportionate representation for the state on the associations' governing boards.

The Joint Finance-Appropriations Committee cut in half the proposed $1 million appropriation which would finance the disaster and conservation reserve fund authorized in a bill approved in the Senate Thursday.

Sen. Don Loveland, R-Burley, committee chairman, said there was some sentiment to provide no appropriation at all.

The status of the timber protective associations, of which the state is a member, stirred considerable controversy during and after the long fight against forest fires last summer.

Idaho is presently a member of three of the timber associations, one of which—the Priest Lake Timber Protective District, but he said the state had insufficient representation on the district's governing body.

Locally, the bill would require that at least 100,000 acres of association land would not be owned by the state. And to insure reasonable budgets and financial bases, Ravenscroft ex-

New Bailiff Named For Local Court

Appointment of a new bailiff and law librarian for Fifth Judicial District Court in Twin Falls was made Friday by Judge Theron W. Ward.

Albert Wegener, 239 Fillmore St., has been selected by Judge Ward to succeed the late Tom Johnson, Mr. Wegener, who began his duties Friday, has been a resident of Twin Falls since 1936 and formerly operated the Washington Market on Blue Lakes Boulevard near the Washington School.

He came to Idaho from Nebraska as a youth with his parents and resided in Buhl until moving to Twin Falls. For some 18 years he owned and operated a farm three miles east of Twin Falls. After selling this he operated the market until selling it about two years ago. Since that time he had worked at the Drive-Way Market until accepting the position as bailiff.

U.S. Destroyer And Soviet Ship Collide

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Defense Department reported today a "minor collision" between an American destroyer and a Russian merchant ship in the Sea of Japan Wednesday. No casualties were reported.

The department said the accident occurred in a crossing situation. It claimed the destroyer had the right of way under international maritime rules.

The department issued this statement: "Soviet merchant ship Kaplan Vislobokov and the destroyer U.S.S. Rowan (D-782) had a minor collision in the Sea of Japan approximately 93 miles east of Pohang, South Korea, at 1:53 p.m. EST on Wednesday, Jan. 31."

"There were no personnel casualties aboard the destroyer Rowan and no casualties were reported by the merchant ship. The Rowan sustained 'minor damage,' a three-foot hole above the water line on the port bow. When queried by flashing lights, the Vislobokov signaled 'no assistance required' and 'damage to my stern two meters in length.'

"The collision took place at 30 degrees 06 minutes north and 130 degrees 28 minutes east. The accident occurred in a crossing situation, with the Ro-

Missionaries Are Slain In Red Assault

NEW YORK (AP) — Five American missionaries were slain in a Viet Cong assault on a village in the highlands of South Vietnam, it was announced today.

A spokesman for the Christian and Missionary Alliance said the alliance had been notified by radio telephone that the five were killed when enemy forces overran the town of Ban Me Thuot.

Two other missionaries were injured in the raid, but were reported under medical care by American forces, and were to be airlifted out of the area.

The organization's mission buildings, including a leprosy ward, on the edge of the village, were reported obliterated in the onslaught.

Two churches, used by Vietnamese tribal congregations, also were destroyed.

Bodies of the slain missionaries were reported left in the area, with body bags attached to them when American forces reached there.

The dead were identified as the Rev. Robert Ziemer, 40, Toledo, Ohio; the Rev. C. Edward Thompson, 43, and his wife, Ruth, 44, of New Kensington, Pa.; pastor Ruth M. Willing, 42, Cleveland, Ohio; and Leon C. Griswold, 56, of White Plains, N.Y.

'Credence' Is Given Prison Graveyard

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP) — Prison Supt. Thomas O. Murton said Thursday "there had been indications of threats" against the life of a convict and they lend credence to the prisoner's story that murdered convicts are buried at Cummins Prison Farm.

Murton told a news conference that the prisoner, Reuben Johnson, 59, was transferred to the smaller Tucker Prison Farm near Cummins Wednesday after he received word from other prisoners that "several of them were going to wipe him out."

"I don't know if the report was valid or not but it might be and it certainly lends credence to his story," Murton said.

Johnson told newsmen Tuesday at Cummins that he helped to bury 10 or 12 murdered inmates.

Fourth Bank Applies For T.F. Branch

Twin Falls may have a fourth major bank in six months if approval is given to applications made by the Bank of Idaho.

Joseph Bianco, President of the Bank of Idaho, said Friday applications for a charter to build a branch office in Twin Falls have been sent to the Federal Reserve Board and the Idaho Department of Finance.

"In the normal course of events, it will take about six months for action on these requests," he said.

Presently there are three banks in Twin Falls: the Twin Falls Bank and Trust, First Security Bank and Fidelity National Bank.

Officials of the Bank of Idaho were in Twin Falls recently checking out figures on local economic conditions.

The Bank of Idaho has branch offices in most major cities in Idaho and recently opened a new branch office in Jerome.

Plans at the present time call for construction of a new building to house the bank's main office, Mr. Bianco said. He added the new building may house additional office spaces that will be rented. He said that office construction would be in addition to the quarters needed for the bank.

Approval is given for the charter, he said construction could begin in late summer.

A possible location for the new bank, if charter approval is given, has not been determined.

Johnson And Meany Launch Political Road Show

By DOUGLAS B. CORNELL
WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson and AFL-CIO President George Meany launched a political road show aimed at lining up the 14 million-member labor organization behind the Democratic ticket.

They were in back-patting rapport on Vietnam and a wide sweep of domestic programs and problems.

And they were in total agreement Congress should enact job and housing programs, additional education and health measures and, as Johnson put it, "at the same time protect freedom."

Johnson dismissed the idea that domestic problems can't be tackled while the Vietnam conflict rages.

"It's just the same as saying you can take care of one child and you can't take care of the other," he said.

This was in a conversation filmed at the White House Jan. 15, for a "primer" Saturday in New Orleans and showings from then on at union meetings and regional sessions of labor's Committee on Political Education.

Veteran political rail birds could recall no parallel to the movie.

In it, Johnson and Meany spent considerable time on mutual compliments without ever questioning the President's leadership to run for another term and that Meany is going all the way with LBJ on both foreign and domestic policy.

In a bit of political whip-cracking at the end, Meany said elections are won back home by leaders of the labor movement and they should start now getting registration drives underway and collecting cash for COPE.

The President nodded appreciatively to labor, mothers and teachers for giving a helping hand with "a massive educational measure" supplemented by more than 20 other education bills.

He also thanked the AFL-CIO for helping to pass the medicare and medicaid bills.

Johnson had 17 kind words for businessmen.

"I am happy to say that the businessmen generally have tried to listen and to cooperate," the President said.

Meany assured the President that "we are convinced that you are on the right track" in Vietnam. Johnson agreed with him that America is big enough to battle for freedom and independence there while improving the home front.

"I am the father of two daughters," the President said. "When I hear this argument that we can't protect freedom in Europe, in Asia, or in our own hemisphere and still meet our domestic problems, I think it is a silly argument."

"If I had the saying that I can't take care of LBJ because I have Lynda Bird, I've had to take care of both of them and we have to meet them head on."

Yes, Virginia, There Really Is A Groundhog

The groundhog—or rockchuck, depending on what part of the country you are from—confirmed Friday what Magic Valley residents have been hoping for since last November. Winter is over.

The furry little creatures abound in the rock that line the many canyons in the valley and ancient belief has it that when a groundhog sees his shadow on Feb. 2, it scares him back into his hole and winter will last six more weeks.

Well, it was cloudy Friday and Valley groundhogs didn't see their shadows, so they didn't crawl back into their burrows for 40 more weeks.

one reported seeing a groundhog. The rule book does not explain what happens when a groundhog doesn't even bother to come out of his hole on the day honoring his name and habits.

Some experts in the field say winter will last another six weeks, despite Mr. Groundhog's failure to show up. Others say the little beast overslept and other observers are still looking.

In the light of all the confusion, the Times-News called the weather station to get a modern prediction of the weather.

There was no answer. Weathermen were out-looking for groundhogs.

But come to think of it, no

Moderate easterly to southerly winds today will be followed by westerly or westerly winds, 15 to 25 miles per hour at times tonight and Saturday, with considerable drifting snow likely. Precipitation should be mostly light with some snow, probably receiving an inch or two of new snow. No large changes in temperature are expected.

The extended outlook indicates temperatures averaging a few degrees above normal Saturday through Wednesday with small to moderate day to day changes. Daily highs should be mostly in the 30s in the eastern and north-central valleys and in the 40s in Magic and Western valleys. Lows should be mostly in the 20s.

The purchases, to be made under Section 32 of the Agricultural Adjustment Act, will remove potatoes from regular market channels for redistribution to needy families, Sen. Church said.

The Idaho senator expressed hope that this action would have a favorable effect on prices, and said potato processors across the country are now being queried.

Blue Cards Eliminated For Burley

BURLEY — Directors of the local Chamber of Commerce decided to eliminate the blue cards issued by the chamber for collection of local residents by automats, during the directors meeting Wednesday at the Ponderosa Inn. New president Robert S. Saxkv conducted the meeting.

Residents are reminded by the directors, "that a City of Burley ordinance provides that salesmen be licensed." If the salesman has met requirements for a license he will then be free to collect on Burley residents.

The chamber will no longer be responsible for granting or withholding a blue card, but will conduct an educational campaign.

A budget of $12,005 for 1938 was submitted by T. J. Sedam, chairman of budget committee, and was approved by the directors. The budget covers operational expenses and cost of various programs and projects sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce.

The annual Chamber dinner plans were completed. Tickets for the annual dinner, which will be held Feb. 15 at Ponderosa Inn, are now on sale.

Nixon Officially Opens Campaign

By The Associated Press
Richard M. Nixon has officially opened his campaign for the White House and prominent politicians of both parties are his favorite to win the Republican presidential nomination.

At 55, Nixon is eight years older than when John F. Kennedy beat him by a whisker in the 1960 election. He said those years gave him the chance to reflect on the tasks and problems the nation faces "and believe I have found some answers."

The former vice president, who made his official announcement Thursday, headed for New Hampshire today to launch his campaign to win the March 12 primary there. His prime opponent in Michigan Gov. George Romney and polls indicate Nixon is the 3-1 choice among the Granite State voters.

Democratic National Chairman John M. Bailey said in Washington Nixon has the edge. "Neither candidate loves nor hated within his party. Nixon swims in the middle stream," Bailey said in a statement. "He is in the best position to attract all persuasions of Republicans."

California Gov. Ronald Reagan, who has been mentioned as a possible GOP presidential candidate, said Nixon is pulling farther ahead of Romney.

Interviewed by the Gannett newspapers, Reagan said unless Romney stages a comeback, "It's difficult to see how they can have a meaningful contest."

As for himself, Reagan said he isn't interested in being vice president and wouldn't accept the nomination for the second spot under any circumstances.

Nixon's official plunge also brought reaction from Romney and New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller.

Romney issued a statement welcoming him into the race. And while referring to Nixon by debate issues, he said he welcomes "the occasion in New Hampshire and later to engage in discussion with him on domestic and world problems and opportunities."

Rockefeller said Nixon's entry into the New Hampshire primary "crystallizes the race" but added he hopes and feels Romney will win that primary.

Florida Gov. Claude Kirk indicated he wants to test his popularity in New Hampshire before deciding whether to let his name remain on the GOP ballot there. His name was entered by State Rep. Aram Parnagian of the New Hampshire House.

"This was done without my knowledge or consent," Kirk said. The Manchester Union Leader, biggest paper in New Hampshire, praised Kirk as a man of vigor who would make "a very good vice presidential candidate."

Chamber To Name Four At Banquet

Four new directors of the Twin Falls Chamber of Commerce will be announced at the annual banquet at 7 p.m. Thursday at the Holiday Inn.

Reservations for the affair may be made by calling the chamber office and chamber manager Ray Rostron reports that reservations will be limited to 300.

The four new board members have been elected by a mail ballot, but the names will not be disclosed until Thursday evening. Candidates for the four positions are Steve Bancroft, Stan Dunham, Lloyd Hamilton, Larry Harvey, Polly Housburg, Voy Hudson, Paul Jones and Jack Sears.

Guest speaker at the event will be E. L. Barnhardt, vice president of the Adolph Coors Co., Golden, Colo.

Lloyd Webb will act as master of ceremonies.

Richfield Boy, 9, Getting Therapy At LDS Hospital

RICHFIELD—One of the newest patients at the LDS Primary Children's Hospital in Salt Lake City is Steven Sanders, 9, son of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Sanders Jr., who is receiving extensive therapy treatment for the use of his arms.

The boy was accidentally shot in the neck with a .22-caliber rifle at his Richfield home Dec. 27. After surgery for removal of the bullet at St. Alphonsus hospital, Boise, the boy has been left paralyzed from his chest down.

Steven entered the Primary Hospital Jan. 8 and is receiving extensive therapy treatments and shots are helping him move his arms. Immediate further surgery has been postponed.

Information received this week from his mother, Mrs. Andrew Sanders Jr., tells of Steven starting regular school work in a classroom in the hospital. He attends Primary and Sunday School each week. Last week a movie was shown and he was able to attend.

"His spirits are so high, you just can't help but have all the faith in the world that he will be all right," Mrs. Sanders writes.

Richfield children of the ward are saving their pennies to be sent to the hospital in Steven's name. It is reported by Mrs. Mark Bowers, Ward Primary president.

Children from all nations and all religions benefit from the pennies sent to the Primary Children's hospital. Free services are given to children whose parents are unable to pay.

The Inevitable

"Right now escalation of the war in the Pacific seems inevitable. Seizure of the USS Pueblo by North Korea, coupled with the recent great build-up of border incidents in Korea, could only be a calculated diversionary act to embarrass the allied stance in South Korea and in the Vietnam theater of war.
The sense of crisis was deepened by President Johnson's decision to call up reservists.
But this is a relatively small activation of selected units drawn from a total of 132,000 air reservists. Their function is to man and support 372 additional fighter and transport planes for service at various bases.
Most Americans would like to pull the strings which would permit our forces to get our stolen ship and get the men who were on her. But this feeling must, of necessity, be tempered with caution.
When the crisis over Berlin arose in 1961, President Kennedy said the nation was confronted with a choice between "humiliation and holocaust." To lessen the possibility of either, he called up 76,500 military reservists who, fortunately, never were required to fire a shot in anger.

In the Cuban crisis of 1962 President Kennedy received congressional authorization to activate 150,000 reservists. Some 10,000 air reservists were summoned but released within a month because Khrushchev backed off.
Each international crisis has its own characteristics. In the present instance acceptance of humiliation must never be considered.
The various paths of international justice should be followed but not without the thought that if, within a reasonable time, nothing is accomplished, then we must have guts enough to get the job done. We must get our men and our ship back home.

Domestic Issues Cause Concern

WASHINGTON — Recent polls have offered a reason for the upsurge in sentiment for Gov. Nelson Rockefeller of New York and at the same time have pinpointed one of Richard Nixon's problems in the race for the Republican Presidential nomination.

That is to say, both the Harris and Gallup polls indicate that the country is more liberal on domestic issues than it is on matters touching on foreign policy. This state of mind, or mood, also accounts for the slow but sure erosion of Ronnie Reagan's Presidential hopes for 1968.

Consider the Harris poll which showed public confidence in Congress has reached a five-year low. A majority of those interviewed criticized the first session of the 90th Congress for not passing gun-control legislation, and for cutting back anti-poverty funds and aid to the cities.

The majority also approved Congress' extension of the draft law, its vote to increase Social Security payments and its reduction of foreign aid appropriations.

This is a picture of an electorate that favors help for those Americans who need it, is concerned about crime in the streets, is tired of "handouts" abroad, and is opposed to those who have attacked the draft.

It is also a picture of a people who appear to be increasingly concerned with domestic issues. In other words, of a people who are liberal, but not far-out liberal.

Rockefeller meets the qualifications thus laid out. He is an authentic liberal on domestic issues, as his record as governor of New York shows. At the same time, he has strong support from the Johnson-Vietnam policies in the past, although recently he has been silent about them.

Rockefeller meets the qualifications thus laid out. He is an authentic liberal on domestic issues, as his record as governor of New York shows. At the same time, he has strong support from the Johnson-Vietnam policies in the past, although recently he has been silent about them. His foreign policy approach has always been pragmatic, tied to the national interest, and thus he could be expected to find a common ground with those voters who are disenchanted with foreign aid.

Imagine between now and convention time, without alienating the conservative, he must persuade the voter that he is pledged to helping the poor and the pensioners, cleaning up the slums, assuring the Negro of his rights. This is a big order, because he cannot risk jarring the conservative conservatives which support his candidacy.

George Gallup's poll shows that Rockefeller has nearly doubled his support among Republican voters since last November. He now is the choice of 27 per cent of the rank and file, while Nixon is the choice of 42 percent. The significance here is that Rockefeller apparently has fallen heir to all the liberal votes that previously went to George Romney, Sen. Chuck Percy, John Lindsay and the like. Nixon hasn't lost ground, but he hasn't gained any, either. He was also the choice of 42 per cent of those interviewed last November, while Rockefeller was the choice of only 15 per cent.

In such a situation, professional politicians see signs that a candidate — in this case, Nixon — has reached his peak, perhaps soon.
Moreover, last November Gallup found that any of four GOP candidates — Nixon, Rockefeller, Romney and Reagan — could beat Lyndon Johnson. Today, his poll shows Johnson would beat any one of the four. This is no longer a possibility — if it ever was — that "anybody" can win over Johnson. And in that situation, the Republicans have to be tempted to pick a "winner" such as Rockefeller over a "loser" such as Nixon.

Nation's Mood Seems To Cool

WASHINGTON (AP) — The first reaction in this country was dismay that this might mean another war, astonished that it could happen at all, and anger that it did happen.

In the days since the North Koreans captured the USS Pueblo, an electronic spy ship, and forced it into Wonsan Harbor with 83 men aboard, the mood in this country seems to have cooled a bit.
President Johnson led the cooling, ignoring some of the hawk cries in Congress, he set about trying to get the ship back in a peaceful way, first by appealing to the Russians to intercede, then to the United Nations.

If the cooling keeps on, but the peaceful efforts fail, this country may find it embarrassing to take military action at all without some fresh Korean prodding, the aroused American anger all over again.
The possible products of military action would, by themselves, be enough to make Johnson hesitate before trying it. But another factor may be the cloudy condition of the whole episode.
In the first place, there is the unresolved dispute between the United States and North Korea on where the Pueblo was when it was captured.

This country insists it was in international waters, more than 12 miles off the Korean coast. The North Koreans insist it was spying within Korean territorial waters. There is not much doubt the "electronic ship was spying, in or out of Korean waters, and that that was its mission.

On Jan. 24, the day after the Pueblo's capture, the North Korean delegate to the military armistice commission in Panmunjom, Korea, Maj. Gen. Pak Chung Kook, told the U.S. delegate, Rear Adm. John V. Smith:

On Jan. 29 he had complained to the United Nations that the United States had sent a "number of armed spy boats" into North Korean waters, along with a group of South Korean fishing boats which were used as a shield.

Despite his complaint on Jan. 29, Pak said, the United States had done the same thing on Jan. 21, Jan. 22, Jan. 23 (when the Pueblo was taken) and even the next day, Jan. 24.

to be concerned about world opinion before it takes any fierce action in Korea it has the Korean charges to think about.

It also has to think about the kind of military action it might take.
If it moved into Wonsan Harbor to blast the fortifications and sink the Pueblo, so the North Koreans couldn't keep it, they might retaliate by executing the 83 men captured on the Pueblo.

Besides, if the United States started blasting the Wonsan area or other parts of North Korea, it might precipitate a war all over again by the North against South Korea.

Still worse, Red China, as it did if the first Koreans, might move in against the United States. And there's no telling what the Soviets might do.

When he made his accusations on Jan. 21, Pak told the United States all it has to do is admit "military provocation" (with the spy ship), apologize and assure North Korea "you will not recommit such criminal acts."

Judging from the way American emotion has cooled down, and the delay that will be inevitable if the United Nations gets involved, the answer to all this may be some form of American-Korean compromise.

Pious Falsehood

"Pious falsehoods," the theologians used to call them—fiction presented as fact in order to drive home a moral lesson or impress unbelievers.
The credulous and superstitious Middle Ages saw the wholesale production of fabricated miracles and historical events that never happened; but our own scientific and enlightened day is not without them.

The story about six students in Pennsylvania who were blinded by the sun while under the influence of LSD is a modern pious falsehood.
It evidently was conceived with the heat of intentions—to warn against the dangers of this powerful, mind-altering drug. Presumably, it could have happened, for there are other cases on record of youths diving out of windows or running into traffic while in LSD-induced deliriums.
But the trouble with pious falsehoods is that, when they are exposed, they have the opposite effect from what was intended. Learning that the blindness incident was a hoax, many young people may wonder how much truth there is in any of the stories they have heard about LSD, or any of the other drugs currently popular in hippeland.
Each new generation of youth goes through a phase of rebellion against the values of its parents, but today's young people are especially impatient with what they consider to be their elders' gullibility and hypocrisy.

They want not rules but reasons for those rules—in drugs, sex behavior, social conduct, citizenship, everything. And if they are given no reasons, or if they feel that the reasons are insufficient, they do not hesitate to break the old rules and write new ones.

In the matter of drugs, for example, they want to know why possession or sale of LSD; if it is so dangerous, is only a misdemeanor but for marijuana it is a felony. Receiving no answer, they are experimenting with both.
This is a questioning and questing generation which, wisely or unwisely, simply will not buy the pious falsehoods that may have frightened or satisfied less sophisticated youths in the past. It demands hard facts upon which it can build its code of behavior, not dogmatic prohibitions or ready-made ethics decreed from above.

If young people are as intelligent as they seem to be, they are not likely to make too many mistakes—if only they are given the facts.

How About Our Train?

The old train that pulls and jerks in and out of Twin Falls once or twice a day—depending on the weather and the will of the railroad—might yet amount to something. We have in mind Prineville, Ore., which is a community with no city taxes. That's right—no city taxes! Why? Because the citizens therein own a railroad.

Right now it's the only city in the United States owing one. The line, that has been in business since 1918, has brought $1.5 million into the city treasury.
Over the years it has financed a city hall, a park, a swimming pool and various road projects. Because of the receipts from the railroad, there is the lack of taxes.
Now where does this put Twin Falls? It has long been known that the Union Pacific is not especially concerned with the service they give to the Twin Falls area. From all appearances they would just welcome a chance to call it quits.

Why can't we buy the railroad, say from here to Kimberly and from here to Buhl. Buy one train—preferably an old coal burner. If one could be found—and we would be in business.
Think how the money would come rolling in—and we could reduce our city taxes.
It would be interesting, once more, to see passengers riding the train in and out of here.
But then we remember too well the proposition that was made to the Union Pacific, six or seven years ago. The Twin Falls County Historical Society officers wanted to have the railroad provide a train for a ride from Twin Falls to Wells—and return.
The Historical people estimated 500 would make one train—scores of them people who had never been on a train before. So the railroad heads were contacted.
Result—they were not interested at all. So the next best bet is to own a train of our own.
MR. SPECTATOR SAYS:
Some men manage their own money. The rest of them are married.

I have two cute, two-months-old, house-broken kittens for some good home. The mother is Siamese and the father half Siamese and they are (the kittens) smart cats. They are also two-barn-cats-to-beat-all. They are real good mousetrappers. My telephone is 324-4291. Jerome, and my address is route one. Thanks, Georgia Klueder.

DON'T DUCK
If you have a choice between being hit by a golf ball and being hit by an automobile, pick the automobile (all other things being equal, if that's possible).
A study of verdicts in personal injury suits by Jury Verdict Research, Inc., of Cleveland, Ohio, indicates that juries apparently feel that anyone indulging in a sport "does so at his own risk."
They are more inclined to favor the defendant (the one who caused the injury) in such cases, since less than half the injured parties recover a money award.
Least favored are golfers and baseball players. Only about one out of five of those who sue over injuries from swimmers, bowlers and horseback riders have a somewhat better chance.
But in any kind of sport accident, the research group found, awards are generally less than for a similar injury suffered in a traffic accident.

HEAR WITH US
A woodsman in the state of Washington is concerned over the fact that black bears congregate outside his mountain cabin to watch television through his window—even when the well-known bear star "Gentle Ben" isn't performing.
The forest ranger says it just isn't normal for a bear to stay up half the night watching the late, late show.
Of course, his visitors may be thinking the same thing about him.
After all, who should be able to hear up under it better than they—even though the program may not be a honey?

Why Insist On Butter, Too?

WASHINGTON (NEA)—Wide acceptance exists here for the notion that reasonably certain passage of President Truman's tax increase proposals would foreshadow a change of heart by Ways and Means Chairman Wilbur Mills, chief adversary.
Conceivably this might be so, even though indications are that many Republicans and Democrats still might hold out against a new tax bill unless accompanied by massive administration spending cuts.

There is, however, no real evidence either from Mills or from sources close to him that any early change of heart is in prospect.
Whatever the chairman's presumed grievances over reported slights by LBJ, he continues successfully to found his opposition on the spending issue and, to some extent, on economic factors which lend him question the gravity of the inflation threat.
The "climate" surrounding the spending issue makes this opposition easy for him to sustain.
As noted in a previous report and freshly documented in public opinion polls, the country's hostility to more taxes is growing apace. All aside from war, the public's wonder is where the enlargement of government—and its cost—will steadily higher.

Federal public assistance outlays alone are more than $3 billion. U.S. government spending for education cost $20 billion in the Korean war's final year; today it is moving past $2.8 billion. Health services and research take nearly $5 billion today. In Truman's time they were quite insignificant.
Furthermore, there are assorted large outlays in the fast-moving new national programs and several billion dollar category, for such things as land, and water resources and commerce and transportation—all vastly bigger than in the Truman era.

All this, of course, reflects not only new national growth and matching federal expansion, but highly-ambitious now-programs like Medicare (partly financed from general moneys), aid to education, vocational training, development and community development.
Having won these programs over long-resisting Republicans, the President chose not to starve the efforts but to pay out increasing sums to match rising head counts in education, health, housing and other fields.

Therein lies his dilemma, in holding on to and pushing forward these gains, he lost the compelling note he now needs to get new taxes to ease the country's consequent financial plight.

Truman's entire cost for health, labor and welfare matters in fiscal 1957 was $2,052 billion. Today the figure ranges above $11 billion and is heading

Angina Pectoris

Can a man who has angina pectoris live to be very old? How much exercise can he take? Would being overweight add to his risk?

Angina pectoris is a warning that coronary insufficiency may develop. If the warning is heeded and if you carry one of the quick-acting nitrates with you at all times, you may outlive your doctor.

Moderate exercise, such as walking and swimming, is recommended but should be stopped immediately at the first sign of discomfort in the chest. Learn to gauge the amount of exercise you can take without causing pain or fatigue. Being overweight would definitely add to the risk of more serious heart trouble.

I have angina pectoris and am taking Peritrate twice a day. Does it have any bad side effects?

Side effects are rare but in some persons this drug causes mild headaches. It should not be taken by anyone who has glaucoma.

Q—I have had two attacks of what your doctor calls coronary vasospasm and am taking nitroglycerin and Librium. Will I have to take these drugs indefinitely? What is the normal prothrombin time?

Coronary vasospasm is another term for angina pectoris. The nitrates will prevent or relieve the spasm and can be taken indefinitely. The diazepam is an anticonvulsant. Most doctors prescribe it for six months to three years, then stop it. Librium is a tranquilizer which you should not let yourself become dependent on. The normal prothrombin time is 11 to 13 seconds.

My mother has angina pectoris. A small white pill under her tongue will stop the attack. If I should get a similar attack would it be all right to take one of her pills before the doctor arrives?

No, not until your doctor can make a definite diagnosis.

The Cool It Call

WASHINGTON (NEA)—Paradoxically, President Johnson's limited call-up of the Reserves in the USS Pueblo incident may be aimed more at Vietnam and Russia than at North Korea.

If the Soviet Union is to be persuaded not to attempt future dangerous moves similar to Khrushchev's attempt to put nuclear missiles in Cuba, Brezhnev and his aides in the Kremlin must be convinced President Johnson does not lose his nerve under pressure.
Experts on the Kremlin who advise the U.S. government say the Soviet Union now has no serious intention of probing in Africa, the Middle East and Asia in an attempt to find weak spots to exploit.

One part of this probing will be reported Soviet attempts to measure the precise extent of U.S. interest and determination. The North Koreans invaded South Korea in 1950 because the Soviet Union misread U.S. determination. Soviet political intelligence men, as informed Moscow, the United States would not defend South Korea.

Khrushchev put the big missiles in Cuba because he read the Bay of Pigs debacle as a U.S. lack of will.
Captured North Vietnamese Communist officials operating in South Vietnam have said Ho's rapid escalation from underground guerrilla infiltration to blatantly open military invasion a few years back was because U.S. statements had convinced North Vietnamese leaders the United States would not enter the war in force, even if South Vietnam were about to go down.

These Communist agents were angry because they believed Washington had misled them. They felt betrayed.
Johnson is merely making certain the Communists will not be misled in the future.

If the Vietnam war is to be won, it is essential that Ho Chi Minh and the people of North and South Vietnam watch the United States stand firm when the pressure is on.
Ho's future war strategy will be decided to a considerable degree by how determined he believes the United States to be.
If Ho can convince the Vietnamese his victory is inevitable, many will swing to him. But if the people begin to believe he will lose, many will switch to his enemies. Ho won with psychological strategy in the war against France.

The capture by U.S. Navy ships, if allowed to stand, could be used by Ho's men to convince many South and North Vietnamese the United States is a paper tiger and that Hanoi will win in the end.
Ho has had morale problems of late, both in the north and the south. He could recoup a chunk of his loss if the Red cause were bolstered by a North Korean psychological victory.

New Talent Appears As Principal Roles Rotate

Professionally, understudies, actresses or actors who don't just "cut the mustard," as far as performing a lead part.

In the Dilottante Group of Magic Valley, the opposite is true and those cast as understudies this year in "The Sound of Music," have cut pretty wide swaths as lead players in years before.

That's one of the beauties of the Dilottantes, according to Jill Miller, this year's director. You're apt to find last year's lead playing this year's scenery, or filling a minor role and understudying a major one. The rotation of major roles is a very good thing, Miss Miller states.

James LaGrone, Castleford, and Mrs. Ernie Willis, Twin Falls, are understudying the major role of "Capt. von Trapp" and "Maria," and are both cast in non-stellar roles which they also must learn.

The understudies — and there are many, since every major part is covered — spend one night each week in rehearsing the part they are understudying.

But, one night a week is penuria, compared to the seven-days-a-week schedule the Dilottantes rigorously follow until the show goes into production.

"These people not only have to have an aura of brilliance to be able to step into a lead role, but they have to have a real dedication and loyalty," she noted.

If something should happen to prevent Mrs. David (Mary) Mead or Roger Vincent, either from going on as "Maria" or "Capt. von Trapp," or any of the other principal players from appearing, the understudies have a real chance to prove their ability and importance.

And, what does Miss Miller, who has an extensive background in professional theater think of the Dilottantes? "They are much more professional than most amateur groups and their 10 years of experience has given them a semi-professional quality."

Mr. LaGrone has been in the Dilottante Group since the second production nine years ago and has appeared on stage in nearly every show since then. He has performed several dance leads, but his most unforgettable role was as "The Music Man."

Mrs. Willis joined the Dilottantes three years ago and has appeared in minor leads until last year when she played the female role of "Sharon," in "Finian's Rainbow."

Tickets for the show, to be presented March 8, 9, 10, 11, 13, 14, 15 and 16 at the Filer High School auditorium, will go on sale Feb. 19, at the Boy Scout office.

UNDERSTUDIES FOR PRINCIPAL roles in "The Sound of Music," forthcoming Dilottante Group of Magic Valley production, James LaGrone, Castleford, and Mrs. Ernie Willis, look over the script of the show. The two spend much time learning the leading roles as well as non-stellar roles in which they also are cast.

Miss Newberry, Roberts Wed In Local Ceremony

Beverly Ann Newberry, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Floy Newberry, was married to Jerry E. Roberts, son of Leo Roberts, at Twin Falls, and Mrs. Grace Roberts, Sulina, Okla., in a candlelit ceremony Dec. 28 at the First United Brethren in Christ Church.

Rev. Robert Schreckenberg performed the double ring ceremony.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a white shantung, featuring a round neckline and full-length sleeves trimmed in white satin. The gown was fashioned by the bride's sister. Her veil of silk illusion was held by a pearl tiara and she carried a bouquet of pink rosebuds and white chrysanthemums.

Shirley Newberry, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. Candelighters were Barbara Burney, cousin of the bride, and Nancy Howe, niece of the bridegroom.

Kenneth W. Roberts, brother of the bridegroom, served as best man, with Gary Ireland and Donald Howe, nephews of the bridegroom, serving as ushers.

A reception was held immediately after the ceremony. The bride's table was covered with a lace cloth over pink and centered with a three-tiered wedding cake topped with a miniature bride and groom and decorated with pink roses.

Cake and punch was served by Mrs. Dorothy Burney and Mrs. Elma Chavers, adults of the bride, and coffee was poured by Mrs. Virginia Howe, sister-in-law of the bridegroom.

Guests were registered by Mrs. Cullen Howe, sister-in-law of the bridegroom. Gifts were displayed by Elouise Skeen and Sharon McCarthy, cousin of the bridegroom, and carried by Keith Cook and David Burney, both cousins of the bride.

Mrs. Robert Schreckenberg played traditional wedding music and accompanied Mrs. Mona Hansen, soloist.

Out-of-town guests attended from California, Washington and Hansen. The couple will reside at Pocatello, where the bridegroom attends Idaho State University.

A pre-nuptial shower was given for the bride by Mrs. Dorothy Burney and Mrs. Elma Chavers.

'Better Dress'

HAILEY - A second "better dress" workshop will be held Feb. 9 in the Blaine County Courtroom.

Fifteen women attended the organizational meeting held two weeks ago, at which Mrs. Mary Lou Ruby, extension home economist, University of Idaho, showed a film and gave preliminary instructions.

She emphasized the importance of choosing good quality fabric, which, she said, need not be expensive. Pre-shrinking the material and being sure to cut on a true grain; and the choosing by each member of a style pattern becoming to her, were stressed.

Mrs. Ruby set the Feb. 9 meeting several weeks ahead to give ample time for shopping. Each member should bring their dress fabric, with lining and interlining if desired, and her pattern to that meeting.

After that date the workshop will be conducted weekly.

Mrs. Ruby said a few more women may sign up for the workshop if they have had the basic blouse and skirt and cotton dress workshops.

WHY SOUTH BLEW TOP

One of our readers is quite bitter about today's hand. It seems that in a team match he and West opened the six of hearts against the diamond manding a slam if North could take the second heart lead.

In any event, the slam wasn't too bad a contract. We have bid and made many worse ones.

Why was our friend bitter? It seems that the South player on his team chose the underbid of two diamonds. North might have passed but saw no reason not to raise to three diamonds. Then this South corrected his previous underbid in the worst possible way. He went to three no-trump.

West made his normal opening of the fourth best heart, but the defense opened up with five heart tricks. They still had to make either the king of diamonds or queen of clubs, so plus 100 for heating six diamonds turned out to be a loss of 100 points of three International Match Points.

Our friend claims that he was quite philosophical about this but really blew his top when the South member of his team criticized him for not doubling the diamond slam.

Get Out The Vote On Real Issues

Campus elections too often are cute popularity contests electing high ability personalities to no-voltage jobs. There is a growing dissatisfaction with this charade. More and more student leaders are crying for reformation of the system. Here is our contribution to the cause: a six-plank program to make student government more real.

1. Start with education of the voters. If they've been brought up with "Let's vote for Johnny because he's such a nice guy," you much teach them to ask, "Can Johnny do the job?" This means a thorough definition of exactly what the job is.
2. The principals, advisers and administrators must be helped to see the need for frankness so that they will clearly define the limits of student power. Students should not be allowed to run-for office expecting authority that will not be theirs.
3. Election procedures should be reformed so that all registered students are allowed to run, not just those who crest the honor roll or earn Brownie points from the Misses Grey, Green and Blue. All students should be given the chance to grow in office, not just those who've already arrived.
4. At least once in each campaign candidates should be faced with a situation where they must shed the razz-dazz and spell out their programs. This factual statement of their goals and methods should be subject to no pre-censoring.
5. Both students and administrators, however, should be able to cross-examine them. One question we'd expect each candidate to answer: "How much exactly do you know—and care—about those outside your own social or IQ level?"
6. Finally, we urge the students to find ways to improve conditions for their advisors. Discouraging a few happy exceptions in private school, most advisors have little more than love for their officers as well as the district and state VIPs to win protection and better recompense for their advisors.

He summed up this talk by saying that to "protect the Dairy Industry, the price structure should be changed; laws should be changed and more promotion and research should be made."

Imitation Milk Threatening Dairy Industry

By ROBERT VANAUDELN
Times-News Farm Editor

The impact of "imitation or filled" milk in some areas of the United States is being felt by the dairy industry, says Denton (Joe) Hall, manager of the Idaho Dairyman Association.

Mr. Hall made this statement during the annual meeting of the Twin Falls County Dairy Herd Improvement Association.

Mr. Hall said because of the imitation or filled milk situation, the dairy industry has completely lost the coffee cream and topping business in restaurants today.

He said most of the imitation milk sold on the market today is "filled" milk. This means that butterfat is taken out and replaced with vegetable oil—mostly coconut oil, which is cheaper than most oils.

"This is a growing problem," Mr. Hall said, "that the dairy industry is facing. Manufacturers and bottlers of this product are the same ones that are bottling and processing whole milk. They even are using the same facilities and equipment."

"This problem is the same all over the country. In Phoenix a survey showed that four to five per cent of sales of fluid milk was from imitation or filled milk sales."

"There is a filled milk product now being sold in Idaho, but has not been sold through grocery stores yet. This product is being sold mostly in the Boise-Caldwell area, but could reach this area very soon."

Mr. Hall said the challenge is up to the producers, the dairymen, to work together and fight for dairy industry.

He said bottlers all over the United States don't care about dairymen because if they can make money with imitation or filled milk, they will sell imitation or filled milk.

To combat this situation, Mr. Hall said, many propose that the price of butterfat, of which is used in imitation or filled milk, be raised, thus reducing the margin of cost between imitation or filled milk and whole milk.

Mr. Hall noted that it costs about 13 cents to manufacture a half-gallon of imitation or filled milk while it costs about 25 cents per half-gallon to process whole milk.

Some others propose to reduce the price of butterfat. Still others propose legislation.

Mr. Hall said in legislation, it should state that bottlers of imitation or filled milk be required to meet the same sanitation requirements that producers and bottlers of whole milk are required to meet.

Also to help combat this situation, some present legislation should be changed.

Also, he said, the dairy industry should promote their products more than they have. Surveys show that the areas where the dairy industry has increased their promotion of products, sales have increased.

The price of the products probably should be reduced, Mr. Hall said, as another way to combat this issue.

He said in any good dairy breeding program there must be several things considered. It is necessary that the individual develop some objectives before he plans a dairy breeding program.

The one objective, he said, that places the greatest emphasis on efficient milk production is the one that would apply to most dairymen. In the construction of a dairy breeding program the characters, traits and different principles of breeding that help obtain this objective will be considered.

One thing that has to be considered by every dairymen in a good breeding program is to be able to identify some of the different traits in dairy animals that might contribute to attaining this chosen objective of efficient production, Mr. Cleveland said.

Dale Williams, Filer, was elected president of the local association. He replaces Calvin Graybeal, Castleford, who has been president for two years.

Elected secretary-treasurer was Alvin Smutney, Twin Falls. Gary Custer, Twin Falls, was elected to a three-year term as a director. Holdover directors are Mr. Graybeal, Everett Andrews, Filer, and Alan Pierce, Castleford.

"It is up to you, the producer, to work together and fight for the Dairy products."

Also speaking during the meeting was George Cleveland, University of Idaho extension agronomist. He spoke on the modern dairy breeding program.

Minidoka Beet Growers Have No Plans For New Contract

RUPERT—Sen. Frank Church told members of the Minidoka County Beet Growers Association at the annual meeting that he was sure the budget for agriculture would be tighter for the coming year than it has been.

He spoke to the group of the agricultural situation as he sees it today.

The association's contract with the Amalgamated Sugar Company was discussed.

The association has no plans at the present for meeting with the Sugar Company to discuss a new contract but Richard Westendorf, secretary of the group, says he is quite certain there will be plans made in the next week or so.

Mr. Westendorf stated that one point on which agreement still is to be reached is the statement which the sugar company has asked growers to sign saying that the growers hold title to beets piled and not yet processed as of Jan. 1.

Growers feel that since the company has accepted the beets and made partial payment for them, they belong to the company.

Mr. Westendorf says the law has never been interpreted to classify the piled beets as inventory and there is no tax on them, however, the sugar com-

Number Of Cattle Feeders Dropping

WASHINGTON (AP)—An Agriculture Department survey indicates that the number of cattle feeders in this country declined from 217,185 at the start of 1967 to 211,473 at the beginning of 1968.

These large corporate enterprises can operate these farms and still lose money, thus force

AGRICULTURE SCENE in America is being discussed by Kent Kirk, left, Twin Falls office manager of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service, and Ralph Coates, Fayette, state ASC committeeman. Corporate farming was Mr. Coates' main topic when he was in Twin Falls recently to meet with community committeemen.

ASC Aide Says 'Dark Cloud' Covering Agricultural Scene

A "dark cloud" covers the agriculture scene today, states an Idaho Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation committeeman.

Ralph Coates, Fayette, said this "dark cloud" covers the entire community, people and agriculture. This "dark cloud" is corporate farm development by corporations who are not primarily in agriculture.

He made these statements during a training session recently in Twin Falls for community ASC committeemen.

This large corporate farming is now much in the potato industry today, but they are branching out to other products, Mr. Coates said. Some of these corporations, he added, include gas companies, processing corporations and even rubber companies.

These large corporate enterprises, he added, also are damaging retail business in small communities as well as small farmers, because of large purchases direct from the manufacturer. Sometimes these purchases cost less to these corporations than it does to dealers in the area, Mr. Coates added.

Mr. Coates said, "The total effect is that farm boys are not wanting to stay on the farm because of the financial situation," and those that want to stay are being forced out of business or "absorbed" by the large corporation enterprises.

Angus Bull Sale Is Set For Feb. 10

FILER—The Idaho Angus Association's annual bull sale has been scheduled for Feb. 10 at the Twin Falls County Fairgrounds at Filer.

acreage inspected in 1967 was found to have some halo blight and remember that all bean acreage is not inspected. A grower might be tempted to gamble when dealing with this possibility of loss but certainly the more conservative person would want all the protection available when dealing with a problem such as halo blight," Parker stated.

Directors elected were Ralph McLean, Jack Matheny, both Eden; Ed Schwesiger, Declo; Cecil Noble and John Rensberg, both Rupert; Hugo Meyers, Filer; Clarence Werner, Kimberly; Charles Gummerston, Burley; H. N. Gentry, and T. A. Rosen, both Wendell.

The directors re-elected their officers which were John Rensberg, Rupert, President; Clarence Werner, Kimberly, vice president and W. G. Priest, Jerome was re-appointed secretary-treasurer.

Halo Blight Topic Of Burley Meeting

BURLEY—The South Central Idaho Bacterial Blight Control Association, Inc. held their fourth annual meeting recently at Burley—Eliza—Lodge—Mall—Directors and officers were elected and Dr. M. C. Parker, Twin Falls, research director for Gallatin Valley Seed Co., was featured speaker.

Dr. Parker spoke on "What the Control of Bacterial Blight Means to the Garden Seed Industry."

During 1963, 1964 and 1965 three of four varieties were the ones found most often with blight. In 1968 this changed markedly and in 1967 scarcely an acre was lost to these same varieties if the seed had been grown in Idaho the year before.

The threshing process has been one of the major causes of blight spread. The seed people are attempting to counteract this problem with the use of seed disinfectants such as streptomycin sulfate added to seed treatments.

A final step in seed processing the seed should be treated with a slurry treatment containing the streptomycin sulfate and then packed in clean containers preferably disposable paper bags.

The combined efforts of growers, seed companies, and the state inspectors and experiment station workers are resulting in a lessening of this disease problem.

We must not let up in our control efforts or research on this problem as we may completely lose some of our seed markets, for Australia one of our big markets is aware of bean disease in the United States.

As seedmen we will attempt to provide disease free seed stocks treated with the best chemical protection we can discover.

Growers were urged to follow seven practices: one, plant beans on ground to be watered by furrow irrigation and believe to be free of halo blight; two, practice crop rotation; three, use preplant herbicides for weed control to reduce number of cultivations necessary and allow a cleaner field for inspection; four, split bean fields with all varieties of corn, grain or alfalfa.

So that spot infections of a secondary nature can be eliminated without destroying the entire field; five, stay out of fields when they are wet and avoid unnecessary traffic in fields at all times; six, report any suspicious plants to fieldmen or County Agents as soon as observed and comply with any plow down order as soon as possible. In the connection be sure to disinfect any machinery used in the diseased field or plow-down operation.

The last practice is that all growers of contract beans and those growing the more susceptible commercial types protect themselves for part of their liability by joining the South Central Idaho Insurance. The payment for crop destruction if you have insurance or belong to the Pooling Group will at least offset part of your loss.

About four per cent of the

Prior to 1963 when there appeared a major outbreak of halo blight in Southern Idaho, most everyone connected with beans in any way considered that bean seed produced in Idaho would be free from seed-borne bacterial disease such as halo blight. However, the severe blight spread experienced in this area in 1963, 1964 and 1965 resulted in a lot of blighted bean seed being sent all over the world, and users of this seed had severe losses due to blight and obviously lost confidence in Idaho as a bean seed producing area.

Remember this area had been producing about 85 per cent of the world's garden bean seed," Parker stated.

In some cases the seed companies that shipped this seed had to make stable cash settlements to the processors who planted this diseased seed, making such settlements just covered the wounds of those who were hurt, it did not restore confidence in Idaho produced seed," said Parker.

In studying the halo blight situation in Southern Idaho it has been learned that prior to 1963 there was some halo blight practically every year and during the past 30 years there were several rather severe outbreaks.

Dr. J. C. Walker, University of Wisconsin, complained several times during the 1940's and 1950's of seeing halo blight in the fields of Wisconsin canners planted with seed produced in Idaho. Over 10 years ago Dr. Walker issued a public statement that some lots of bean seed produced in Idaho were causing halo blight in Wisconsin bean fields.

Commercial bean growers in Colorado, Wyoming and Nebraska have complained many times, over the years of receiving blight infected seed from Idaho.

"While Idaho was enjoying the reputation of being blight free for many years, in reality we were not totally free of blight," Parker stated.

The latest outbreak of halo blight became serious because several heavy blight seasons occurred in succession. "How serious? Well it was practically a disaster."

Figures reveal that there were 1,000 acres found infected in 1967 and 1,171 in 1968 and 924 acres in 1967.

The State of Idaho instituted an official Halo Blight Control Program in March 1965 which limits importation of seed into Idaho for planting and provides for disinfection of fields found to be infected with several bacterial diseases of beans. This control order also spells out in detail the qualifications for any bean seed to be planted by any bean grower in Idaho. "If you are not familiar with this control order get in touch with Clyde Butcher, state pathologist, before you start planting beans."

Destruction of infected fields tend to lessen the danger of secondary spread of the disease and require the use of all fields intended for use as seed to use for future planting in Idaho does tend to find and eliminate infected seed stocks.

Inspecting fields planted from seed of fields inspected the year before the year before that is the key to this program. It is readily apparent that such a system coupled with other control measures, is certain to result in dilution or elimination of disease inoculum. If the disease inoculum is eliminated we can have no disease.

The control program has now been in operation for three years. "I feel that while a lot of progress has been made the real improvement is to be expected from here on," Parker stated. "The just my reaching the point in knowledge where improvement can really be expected from such a program," he added.

Output Down

BOISE — Production of honey in Idaho during 1967 was estimated at 10,272,000 pounds, reports the USDA Crop Reporting Service for Idaho.

This year's crop is two per cent less than last year and five per cent below the 1961-65 average production. Colony numbers at 214,000 was two per cent larger than a year ago. Yield per colony at 48 pounds is two pounds below a year ago.

FEDERAL CROP Insurance Corp. policies are being discussed by these FCIC officials. From left are Vernon Ingebreten, Boise, state director for Idaho and Utah; Peter Cole and Jerry Puppe, both Washington, D.C., sales management

Federal Crop Insurance Corp. Uses Closed Circuit Television At Meet

One of the most sophisticated teaching devices—closed circuit television—was used during a four-day meeting here this week for supervisors and fieldmen of division of FCIC, and Douglas Bertoch, Salt Lake City, former Twin Falls resident, district director. These four men, along with others, conducted a training session this week for FCIC fieldmen and supervisors in Twin Falls.

farmers in person, and explain the program. They feel the growth of crop insurance in the Idaho-Utah area will continue in the years ahead, because farmers are steadily feeling the rising cost of production, and they are business-minded enough to seek protection for the hard cash they must invest at the mercy of the elements.

"They, perhaps more than anyone, realize the tremendous effect of any community, when widespread crop failure occurs. It affects just about everyone for miles around. I like to feel we offer a service that fills the need for a defense against these losses."

Signup Dates For Grain Programs Set

Signup dates for farmers in Twin Falls County who wish to take part in the 1968 feed grain and wheat programs have been announced by Carl Boyd, chairman, Twin Falls Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation County Committee.

All commodity program signups will be held during the same period — Feb. 5 through March 15. Signup applications indicate the farmer's program intentions, including the extent of his participation in the programs. Under the feed grain for 1968, farmers may earn diversion and price-support payments as well as quality for price-payment loans on their corn and grain sorghum crops; feed grain diversion payments will be available at program participants in 1968. The wheat program provides price-support loans and marketing certificates to bring returns up to full parity on the part of the wheat crop allocated for domestic use; no diversion payment is available for wheat.

While the signup period for 1968 commodity programs will extend through six weeks, the chairman urged that farmers who wish to take part in the program file their applications as soon as they decide on 1968 production plans. "Time has a habit of getting away from us sometimes before we know it, so it's a good idea not to delay in filing program intentions," he said.

LOANS SET RECORD

WASHINGTON—A record $548 million was loaned to 76,397 family farmers during 1967. The funds were used to buy, enlarge or develop farms, refinance debts and make needed adjustments or pay operating costs.

Summarizing the FCIC program, Mr. Ingebreten said, "Our biggest job is to talk to the

New Type Of Beef Quality Test Is Shown At Gooding

GOODING—Something new in beef quality testing was demonstrated by Dr. R. H. White, recently in Gooding County, according to Edward Koester, Gooding County extension agent. Dr. White showed how the rib eye size was determined by ultrasonics on the live animal. Cattle were taken from Stapp and at the Beef Evaluation Center, operated by Ross Parker and Dick Nelson. Drs. Stapp and Stapp breed Red Angus cattle and Parker and Nelson are producing Charolais cattle. The animals were weighed as part of the test to measure the rib eye per 100 pounds of weight. The average rib eye for heifers is 1.7 inches per hundredweight, for steers, 1.85 inches, and bulls, 2 inches.

What is ultrasonics? Ultrasonics or high frequency sound waves (sometimes called somatoscope, Sonoscope, or sonar) are used to measure fat and muscle characteristics of live animals. There is no sound that you can hear and no sensation to the animal. It gives a cross section of the longissimus dorsal or ribeye muscle, Mr. Koester said.

Research work has shown that the larger the ribeye, the greater the retail value of the carcass. It also appears that animals with large ribeye muscles make fast, efficient gains on feed. This trait is highly heritable and, therefore, rapid progress can be made by selection. The accuracy of ultrasonic readings depends largely upon the skill and experience of the operator. Some university reports show accuracy of over 95 per cent.

Ultrasonic evaluations can be made at any time during the life of an animal, but is best done at or near one year of age. It can be applied to any sex or breed. Readings are adjusted to 1,000 pounds live weight equivalent to facilitate direct comparisons.

Dr. White represents the International Agribusiness Services of Park Forest, Ill. Several visitors observed the ultrasonic demonstration at the Clarence Wells farm.

Jerome 4-H Club Elects New Officers

JEROME — New officers of the Appleton Livestockers 4-H Club were elected recently. They are: Verlene Shawborn, president; Philip Shewmaker, first vice president; Annette Schaefer, secretary; Roger Shewmaker, treasurer; Galen Miller, reporter; Mike Schaefer, historian; Graydon Stanley, song leader; and Debbie Shewmaker, sergeant at arms. The Double Life of Danny Dillon, the care of teeth, was shown by Alex Schaefer, district health officer. He also talked on problems related to general health and sanitation of a community.

The next meeting will be held at 8 p.m. Feb. 9 at the home of Alex Schaefer. A first aid film will be shown.

Stocks

CLOSING SUMMARY NEW YORK (AP) — Gains were being cut rapidly as the stock market closed today in active trading.

In the closing minutes, advance outstanding declines by less than 50 issues and the Dow Jones Industrial average was up slightly.

In early trading the market continued a sharp technical recovery of Thursday which was added by reports the United States is willing to negotiate at Panmunjom for release of the Pueblo.

With the outcome of the new Viet Cong offensive very much in doubt, traders decided to lighten commitments in advance of the settlement.

Many foreign stocks which were up in early trading showed losses.

Teledyne was off half a dozen points in late dealing, SOCOM and IBM about 5, Control Data 4, Sperry Rand and Litton in decline a point or more.

Weakness also was shown by blue chips, including Chrysler, American Smelting and Unifrom.

Prices were irregularly higher on the American Stock Exchange.

The Daily Investor

By WILLIAM A. DOYLE

Q. I have a problem. My wife and I have a mutual fund investment for our three children. Our idea is to open three accounts, each with my wife and myself as joint tenants.

Then, we would turn the accounts over to the kids when they reach college age. I guess you would call these trust funds.

What do you think of this idea? A. The idea of investing to meet the ever-increasing costs of college education is excellent.

And good mutual funds are wise choices, because the values of the shares of most mutual funds have increased over the years.

Many of them have gone up much faster than the skyrocketing cost of tuition and such.

Also, mutual funds make it easy to invest specified amounts of money on a steady basis, by the use of accumulation plans through which you make investments every month.

On the other hand, these steady analyses of some stocks is said to be raising the standard of all investment research.

They have helped fatten pension accounts. They have introduced millions of persons to stock market profits.

Among them were the managers of big mutual funds, administrators of corporate pension plans, conservative insurance men who soon hope to be running mutual funds, and sharp young millionaire brokers.

The heads of college endowments mingled in the crowd, since they are now concerned with making money grow, as are the career, cautious oldsters who for years ran the big trusts at a return of one or two percent a year.

This was the first Institutional Investor Conference and it began as a triumphal one, the past year having been one of big capital gains. But this first meeting glittered only briefly and then turned more somber.

First, stocks were being battered, ironically by their own trading. The high flyers, which had doubled and tripled in a year, were being bombed. In addition, critics had begun to question the management methods of some favorites.

Gustave Levy, New York Stock Exchange chairman, sounded the theme early. He responded and professional, he said, Face problems "or others will do it for us because great public interest surrounds a business that handles other peoples' money."

Where to buy them? Any brokerage firm and most banks can arrange the purchase for you. (Mr. Doyle will answer only representative letters of general interest in his column. He cannot answer phone queries.)

Q. I just purchased some Series II, U.S. Savings Bonds. Now I realize that U.S. Treasury Bonds yield more interest. Can I transfer my II bonds for Treasury bonds?

A. No, you can't swap your II bonds for Treasury bonds. It's possible to exchange Series E bonds for Series H bonds, and that's often a good move. But your own II bonds have a higher yield than Treasury bonds.

You say you "just purchased" those II bonds. I hope you know that you must hold II bonds for at least six months before redeeming them and that you must give one month's notice, if you plan to redeem them before they reach maturity.

II bonds now pay interest (by check every six months) at an average annual rate of 4.15 percent if they are held to maturity. Many U.S. Treasury bonds and notes are now selling at prices where their interest payments result in much higher yields—some five percent or even higher.

But you should realize that Treasury bonds are a different type of investment than savings bonds. You can always turn in a savings bond and get a stated redemption price. When you have to redeem your II bond, you get the face value. You have no worry about losing the money you paid for the II bond.

But Treasury bonds are something else, again. They are marketable securities. Their prices can fall in line with the general trend of interest rates. When interest rates go up, bond prices go down. If you keep a Treasury bond until it reaches maturity, you know you will get par value. If you sell before maturity, you might get more or less.

Where to buy them? Any brokerage firm and most banks can arrange the purchase for you. (Mr. Doyle will answer only representative letters of general interest in his column. He cannot answer phone queries.)

The association continued support through Dorothy Bryant, of the "adopted patient" in a foster home at Moreland, Idaho.

The association also plans to hold a no-host dinner was sponsored in November, with Dr. Myrick Pullen guest speaker. Letters were sent to all PTA's offering a speaker or films for their meetings.

Five billboards were purchased and the Coggriff Advertising Co. in Twin Falls offered to put them up at various locations where there were empty billboards. At various times of the year four were used.

Booths were set up at three county fairs, Lincoln, Gooding and Jerome.

After-care and patient services were handled through a representative and a delegate was sent to the IMHA convention in Pocatello.

Goals for 1968 include support of the National Association for Mental Health, by conforming to their program emphasis and support of their national research program, as well as support of the Idaho association.

A legislative program which will include prevention of mental illness and better care and treatment for the mentally ill will be supported and a legislative seminar will be sponsored for further education.

A delegate will be sent to the Idaho Mental Health Association annual conference, mental health week will be observed and a fund raising drive will be conducted, programs will be provided for organizations desiring the mental health story to schools will be devised and a teacher's workshop on the subject may be sponsored.

The association will work with Mr. Myrick Pullen and State Hospital South in establishing better communications between the hospital and the local community.

Literature to public health nurses, clergymen and doctors also will be provided.

When this type of accounting runs a deficit the government is stimulating the economy. When it runs a surplus federal activity has a depressing effect on the economy.

The deficit was the first for a calendar year since 1964 when it ran $3 billion into the red.

This account started into deficit during the third quarter of 1966, and the deficit ran at an annual rate of $14.7 billion by the second quarter of last year. It has declined since but only slightly.

The budget President Johnson submitted to Congress last Monday projects a declining deficit in this type accounting to $2.5 billion over-all for the fiscal year, which begins July 1. It presumes passage of a 10 per cent tax surcharge.

Henry H. Fowler recently referred to the tax bill "as proposed or in amended form" and it has been learned the phrase "amend form" was used deliberately to show the administration isn't taking an all-or-nothing stand.

Sen. John F. Williams of Delaware, ranking Republican on the Senate Finance Committee, said he talked in detail with administration officials before proposing a 6 per cent surcharge for individuals and 8 per cent for corporate income.

The council's report on income also showed Americans saved more after-tax income—7.1 per cent—than at any time since the Korean War and that the federal government "did more economic pump-priming in 1967 than in any year since World War II."

Preliminary figures indicate federal spending and receipts based on a national income accounts basis and spread over calendar 1967 instead of a fiscal year ran a deficit of $12.6 billion, the largest since World War II.

This is the accounting system economists consider the best guide to the impact of federal activity and policy on the economy.

When this type of accounting runs a deficit the government is stimulating the economy. When it runs a surplus federal activity has a depressing effect on the economy.

The deficit was the first for a calendar year since 1964 when it ran $3 billion into the red.

This account started into deficit during the third quarter of 1966, and the deficit ran at an annual rate of $14.7 billion by the second quarter of last year. It has declined since but only slightly.

Inflation Takes Biggest Percentage Bite In 7 Years From Pay Increases

By JOSEPH R. COVNE

WASHINGTON (AP)—Inflation took the biggest percentage bite in seven years from pay increases and other income gains won by Americans during 1967, the federal government reports.

The after-tax income average for every man, woman and child in the nation last year rose by $181—to $2,725—the government said today, but when adjusted to take in inflation's effect on prices the gain boiled down to only $74, when figured at 1968 price level, the per capita income would be $2,300.

The report came in the newest compilation of economic data prepared for the Senate-House Economic Committee by the President's Council of Economic Advisors.

President Johnson's key argument in his fight for congressional approval of his 10 per cent income tax surcharge proposal is that it would help stem inflation. But he has run into strong opposition on Capitol Hill and there were increasing indications the administration would settle for something less than a 10 per cent hike.

Arbitration Board Gives Ruling In Track Row, But End Still Not In Sight

By TOM SEPPY
WASHINGTON (AP)—A federal arbitration board issued its long-awaited report Thursday on the feud over control of amateur athletics, but it failed to call a halt to the battle between the two major regulatory bodies.

The U.S. Track and Field Federation, an arm of the National Collegiate Athletic Association, issued a statement Thursday night in which it said it "will continue to conduct meets for members without obtaining AAA sanction."

The NCAA and the American Athletic Union are the parties to the battle in which the board, headed by Theodore Kheel of New York, had hoped to mediate a peace.

The statement by the USTFF's president, the Rev. Wilfred C. Wiley of Los Altos, Calif., was issued approximately 5 1/2 hours after the board set up three categories of track meets in this country—with varying sanctions—and proposed a five-year binding arrangement.

Washington Coasts Past Montana State

BOZEMAN (AP)—The Washington Huskies coasted with a 10-4 lead after four minutes and led it throughout the game. Washington tied at halftime 20-20.

Dave Carr, the only veteran on the Washington-Idaho squad, sparked the early Husky spurt with three successful jump shots in one minute that put his team ahead to stay.

Carr and Montana State's Jack Gillespie tied for the game's high point honors with 20 each.

Senomore George Irvine added 17 points for Washington and Dave West got 15 points besides playing trigger man on a sparkling fast break with Rafael Stone, another guard.

Gillespie was the only Bozeman player in the final Washington made 34 of 71 field attempts for a 48 per cent mark, and Montana State got 27 out of 68 for 40 per cent.

The Huskies outscored the Bobcats 31-38, and turned in a hot 20-12 accuracy mark of 30 out of 34.

Phillips May Be Paroled To Bengals

EAST LANSING, Mich. (AP)—Jesse Phillips, one-time Michigan State defensive back, may go from a state prison camp into pro football camp.

Phillips was a fourth round draft choice of the newly organized Cincinnati Bengals of the American Football League although he is currently serving a prison term on a bad check charge.

He was sentenced on Nov. 13, 1967, to 15 months to 10 years, charged with killing a bad check for $369 at Kalamazoo.

Phillips is a Camp Pontiac of the Michigan Corrections Department camp program.

Corrections department officials said that with good behavior, Phillips could be considered for parole as early as July.

In an effort to settle the dispute, Father Crowley said the USTFF "will continue to operate for maximum development in track and field."

He said the federation "could not make a final decision on the sports arbitration board's findings until the report is corrected and clarified."

Crowley said the board unanimously recognized the need for a single purpose track and field organization but "it is regrettable that the board and the Senate Commerce Committee have failed to pursue that objective by the only solution to the problem."

In its report, the board conceded the ideal situation would be for a single organization to govern the sport, but added it had no hope of that.

"It is impossible to set up a new organization by decision of this board—or by legislation—unless the parties are willing to cooperate in making the organization a success," the report stated.

The board reported that efforts to work out such an agreement invariably were blocked by either the AAU, NCAA or USTFF.

In its report, the board said the AAU must sanction all international and open domestic track meets. The NCAA could hold domestic meets which are closed to all but full-time students.

The NCAA could sponsor open competition over the board's ruling but would need the sanction of the AAU. This sanction would be automatic if the NCAA satisfied all the AAU's international requirements.

The report calls for a coalition of representatives consisting of equal numbers of members from the AAU-National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics and the NCAA-USTFF with an impartial chairman to be chosen by the groups involved or the vice president of the report to be his.

All disputes over the interpretation, application and alleged violations of the rules contained in the report or any other disputes would be decided by the committee with the chairman casting a deciding vote in case of a tie.

The rules set down by the board would last five years.

Kheel, whose board was created in December 1965 by Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey, said the report is his "best effort to bring the parties subject to its rules 'out out to frustrate our decision, they would probably succeed. But if they do, they will do a great disservice to all the amateur athletes involved."

The report asks that the presidents of each of the organizations involved notify the Senate Commerce Committee by Feb. 10 whether they will abide by the rules. A more formal notification date when the executive councils of the organizations would take up the matter.

Sen. Warren G. Magnuson, D-Wash., chairman of the commerce committee which set up

Hayes Hits 39 As Houston Tops Marshall

NEW YORK (AP)—Elvin Hayes scored 39 points in leading the unbeaten top-ranked Houston Cougars past troubled Marshall 102-93 Thursday night at the 20th victor.

The Cougars, a bit sluggish in their first Madison Square Garden appearance in two years, had leads that reached 40-27 in the first half and 65-49 in the second, but heavy underdog Marshall always came back until All-American Hayes climaxed his performance with Houston's last seven points.

After the Cougars had taken their 16-point spread as Hayes led a 9-2 spurt, reserve Rickey Hunter hit three baskets and nudged behind the Thundering Herd to within 70-74.

The lead shrank another point, to 85-81, on George Stone's basket with 5:35 left before Hayes sandwiched two baskets against a pair of free throws by teammate George Reynolds and Carlos Bell added two more free tosses for eight straight points, a 93-81 lead and the game ball.

Last Year's Champion Is 100-1 Shot

LONDON (AP)—Want a tip on a horse?

Folnavon, sensational winner of last year's Grand National, actually blanked the NUII goal-scoring terror for the fourth straight time in recent Chicago, New York play. Hull got his goal on a second period power play while the Rangers were short.

"It's nothing new," Hull said. "It's about the same all through the league. Just about every club has someone on my back."

"Toronto let up on me a little last Saturday night and I was fortunate enough to score two goals. The next night we played the Maple Leafs again in Chicago and Ron Ellis was strapping on to me again."

Hull scored 52 goals two years ago and a record 54 last season despite his unwanted companions. But he'd like to be able to shake the shadows for keeps.

"I don't mind them skating with me like that so long as they do something offensively as well," he said. "This is supposed to be a two-way game, you know."

Schlee, who used a four-iron, had to settle for just the nice because there is no longer a $50,000 reward for the feat in the classic.

Twin Falls Thumps Buhl Matmen 46-5

The Twin Falls Bruins wrapped up their dual-wrestling season Thursday night beating the Buhl Indians 46-5.

Twin Falls dominated the Indians more than expected, losing one match and watching another end in a draw. Buhl also might have been severely hurt when junior 168-pounder Dan Turco injured his left shoulder and had to default early in his match with Jerry Young; it appeared nothing was broken but being only a week away from the district tournament any kind of injury would hamper the title contender.

Twin Falls heavyweight Logan Hazen wound up an undefeated dual record.

Results of the matches, Twin Falls men listed first, include 98 pounds, Stone won by forfeit; 106, Wunderlich drew with Hart; 115, Emmons pinned Schwidtz; 121, Plummer pinned Eckert; 130, McKain dished Palmer; 136, D. Qualls dished Koonitz; 141, Buckendorf pinned Baird; 148, Florence pinned Brower; 157, K. Qualls dished Barlow; 168, Young won by default over Turner; 183, O'Dell was dished by Walker, and heavyweight, Hazen pinned Barron.

Hull Doesn't Like Shadow Defenseman

NEW YORK (AP)—Shadow boxing is not one of Bobby Hull's favorite pastimes. But it appears the Chicago Black Hawks superstar will be doing just that for the remainder of the National Hockey League season.

"I don't see how they can call it hockey," the Golden Jet said after the Hawks' game in New York Wednesday night—a game in which he finished his 35th goal but spent an otherwise frustrating evening trying to escape the clutches of close-checking Ranger forward Ron Stewart.

Stewart, following Hull stride far stride throughout the game, actually blanked the NUII goal-scoring terror for the fourth straight time in recent Chicago, New York play. Hull got his goal on a second period power play while the Rangers were short.

"It's nothing new," Hull said. "It's about the same all through the league. Just about every club has someone on my back."

District Six A-4 Meet Set For Burley

BURLEY—The sixth district A-4 basketball tournament will be run off entirely at the Burley High School and conclude in the middle of the week, the five schools comprising the district have agreed.

The tournament will open at Burley Feb. 21 with Oakley meeting Rockland and Murtaugh going against Hansen. Raft River will have the first round bye.

On the second night the winner of the Oakley-Rockland game will have the bye while the winner of the Murtaugh-Hansen game meeting Raft River will meet in the opening game.

Due to conflict with the A-1 tournament, the A-4 meet will be off Friday then come back with the championship semi-finals and loser bracket quarter-finals Saturday night. It will resume again Tuesday of the following week and wind up on Wednesday.

The early championship game was decided upon as the coaches felt it would be to their advantage to be able to scout their opening state tournament foes when they were winding up their district playoffs.

Weightlifting Duo Draws Good Crowd

Jerry Engelbert and LeRoy May, a pair of Jerome strongmen, staged their first serious weightlifting effort of the season Thursday night and about 100 people turned out to watch it.

Engelbert wound up with a total of 975 pounds while May hit 840. Both found the enthusiasm of the fans a good starting point.

Engelbert is trying to build himself for a peak in July when, if he is satisfied with his weight total, he will try for the U.S. Olympic team. May said he does not plan to enter national competition but with only five years of lifting behind him feels he will find his maximum.

Engelbert's 975 total was the same amount lifted in taking third place in last year's national competition. "But the record is 1,040 and the competition for the Olympics will be a lot better. "I'll have to improve before I'll consider trying for the team," he said.

Engelbert went 325 pounds in the press, just five pounds under his all-time best. "That would have to be the most satisfying one," he said afterward. He hit 285 in the snatch, 15 below his best and 365 in the clean and jerk, another 15 pounds off. His best three-lift total of one session is 800 pounds.

May had an 840 total, going 300 pounds in the press—10 over his previous best, 220 in the snatch, five under, and equalled his best-ever at 320 in the clean and jerk.

"It's really great having a good crowd like this," Engelbert said of the people that crammed the small weight room in the basement of Lincoln School. "A crowd puts the pressure on us. If we're here alone we can have a good or bad night and it doesn't really matter. Having the people watching makes you lift better and focus your attention."

Engelbert, who laid off on total weight for two years and just recently has started building back, said "We'd like to have two more of these (public exhibitions), about six or eight weeks apart. That way we can measure our progress quite accurately."

Engelbert is having trouble lifting a four-year-old son, but he really is a mental block hurt anymore. "It's that same wrist injury, the one that I got during training for a shot at the last Olympic team. I know there's nothing wrong with it but it really is a mental block with me," he said.

He added, he and May will now change their training routine for the next two or three weeks and then start building again for another maximum effort.

"We'd really like to thank everyone who came out tonight," he concluded. "The people don't realize just how much they helped us."

Green, former head coach at Vanderbilt and captain of Army's national championship team, left Lawrence Monday for Waco, Texas, to become defensive assistant.

Kansas Coach Pepper Rodgers immediately elevated Donohue to his varsity staff. Donohue, 23, helped coach Kansas freshmen last fall.

Lombardi Steps Down As Coach Of Green Bay

GREEN BAY, Wis. (AP)—Iron-willed Vince Lombardi stepped down Thursday night as coach of the world-champion Green Bay Packers and named long-time assistant Phil Bengtson to succeed him.

Lombardi said he would remain in Green Bay as the National Football League club's general manager.

The decision came only a month after Lombardi guided the Packers to a third straight NFL title and a second straight Super Bowl triumph.

The coach told a gathering of Packer directors and newsmen that the responsibilities of both coaching and running the team as general manager had become too much for one man.

The growth of professional football, the problems created by the merger of the National and American Football Leagues and the increasing burden of player-related demands demanded a full-time general manager, Lombardi said.

"I must relinquish one of the jobs," Lombardi said.

He then announced he was turning over head coaching duties to Bengtson, whom he described as a "loyal and dedicated assistant."

Under his leadership and direction, Green Bay football will continue to be excellent, Green Bay football will continue to grow," Lombardi said.

Declo Stuns Castleford In 57-44 Contest

DECLO—Declo's third-quarter zone press paid a 27-point dividend Thursday night as the Hornets stunned the second-place Castleford Wolves 57-44.

The result opened up a two-game lead for Magic Valley Conference-leading Oakley.

Declo used a straight man defense in the first half and built up a 23-13 lead, Castleford managing only five points in the opening quarter.

The third-quarter press unsettled long enough for Declo to pull out of reach and although Castleford replied with a press of its own—the same one it used to nip Declo earlier—the Wolves couldn't get back into the game.

Lead Shifts In Bob Hope Golf Classic

PALM-SPRING, Calif. (AP)—The more famous golfers remained among the also-rans but still in close contention Thursday as Kermit Zarley, winner of the recent Kaiser International and Australian, Bruce Devlin took over the lead after two rounds in the $12,000 Bob Hope Desert Golf Classic.

The 30-year-old Devlin fired a five-under-par 67 over the tough Eldorado Country Club course on Thursday, 36, from Seattle, Wash., had a 68 as they tied at 133.

Play was under ideal conditions over four courses—Eldorado, La Quinta, Bermuda Dunes and Laguna Wells—each with par 36-36-72.

The two big names of the event, Arnold Palmer and Billy Casper finished the 36 holes deadlocked at 142—Palmer with a 70 and Casper a 72, both at Eldorado, for 148.

The first-round leaders, Bob Rosburg and Bill Collins, 100 back, Rosburg had a 74 for 141 and Collins a 73 for 142.

Judge Ends Boycott At Santa Anita

By JACK STEVENSON
ARCADIA, Calif. (AP)—A federal judge ordered an end to a horsemen's Santa Anita boycott Thursday, but there will be no racing there Friday.

Owners forced cancellation of Friday's card by failing to enter their horses for the races in a dispute over purses paid by the track.

Judge Charles H. Carr of U.S. District Court in Los Angeles issued a temporary limited restraining order ruling that horsemen may not act together in preventing operation of the track.

Officials of the Los Angeles Turf Club, operator of Santa Anita, had sought the federal action under antitrust statutes against the Horsemen's Benevolent and Protective Association.

A standing vote by horsemen on Wednesday night indicated they would not return until the purse schedule is raised.

Judge Carr said he would not permit such action pending a full hearing to be held on Feb. 12 before Judge Albert Leo Stephens Jr. in U.S. District Court.

The action apparently means resumption of racing Saturday when Damascus, Horse of the Year in 1967, is scheduled to run in the $100,000-added Charles H. Strub Stakes.

Braves Place Top Pick On Local Roster

ATLANTA (AP)—The Atlanta Braves have signed their No. 1 draft choice in the regular phase of last week's free agent baseball draft in New York.

The Braves announced Thursday James Leo (Jim) Breazeale, an 18-year-old catcher from Houston, was signed to a contract with the Braves' Twin Falls club in the Pioneer League.

Breazeale has been an outstanding hitter while playing high school and American Legion ball at Houston and comes to us highly recommended by one of our top scouts, Al Lavanola, said Eddie Robinson, the Braves' minor league administrator.

Breazeale is 6 feet 2 and weighs 190 pounds. He hits left handed and throws right handed.

Two free throws by McCann, 10 seconds left in the third overtime period, hoisted Agrow past Rialto Bar of Jerome 42-41. Carl Harris had 14 for Rialto, McManless 14 for the winners.

Penny-Wise won by forfeit over the Log Tavern.

Lead Shifts In Bob Hope Golf Classic

PALM-SPRING, Calif. (AP)—The more famous golfers remained among the also-rans but still in close contention Thursday as Kermit Zarley, winner of the recent Kaiser International and Australian, Bruce Devlin took over the lead after two rounds in the $12,000 Bob Hope Desert Golf Classic.

The 30-year-old Devlin fired a five-under-par 67 over the tough Eldorado Country Club course on Thursday, 36, from Seattle, Wash., had a 68 as they tied at 133.

Play was under ideal conditions over four courses—Eldorado, La Quinta, Bermuda Dunes and Laguna Wells—each with par 36-36-72.

The two big names of the event, Arnold Palmer and Billy Casper finished the 36 holes deadlocked at 142—Palmer with a 70 and Casper a 72, both at Eldorado, for 148.

The first-round leaders, Bob Rosburg and Bill Collins, 100 back, Rosburg had a 74 for 141 and Collins a 73 for 142.

Game Tonight

The College of Southern Idaho Golden Eagles will entertain the College of Idaho freshmen at 8 p.m. today in the Twin Falls High School gymnasium.

The Eagles will stay home Monday to entertain the Weber State frosh.

Declo Stuns Castleford In 57-44 Contest

DECLO—Declo's third-quarter zone press paid a 27-point dividend Thursday night as the Hornets stunned the second-place Castleford Wolves 57-44.

The result opened up a two-game lead for Magic Valley Conference-leading Oakley.

Declo used a straight man defense in the first half and built up a 23-13 lead, Castleford managing only five points in the opening quarter.

The third-quarter press unsettled long enough for Declo to pull out of reach and although Castleford replied with a press of its own—the same one it used to nip Declo earlier—the Wolves couldn't get back into the game.

Judge Ends Boycott At Santa Anita

By JACK STEVENSON
ARCADIA, Calif. (AP)—A federal judge ordered an end to a horsemen's Santa Anita boycott Thursday, but there will be no racing there Friday.

Owners forced cancellation of Friday's card by failing to enter their horses for the races in a dispute over purses paid by the track.

Judge Charles H. Carr of U.S. District Court in Los Angeles issued a temporary limited restraining order ruling that horsemen may not act together in preventing operation of the track.

Officials of the Los Angeles Turf Club, operator of Santa Anita, had sought the federal action under antitrust statutes against the Horsemen's Benevolent and Protective Association.

A standing vote by horsemen on Wednesday night indicated they would not return until the purse schedule is raised.

Judge Carr said he would not permit such action pending a full hearing to be held on Feb. 12 before Judge Albert Leo Stephens Jr. in U.S. District Court.

The action apparently means resumption of racing Saturday when Damascus, Horse of the Year in 1967, is scheduled to run in the $100,000-added Charles H. Strub Stakes.

Braves Place Top Pick On Local Roster

ATLANTA (AP)—The Atlanta Braves have signed their No. 1 draft choice in the regular phase of last week's free agent baseball draft in New York.

The Braves announced Thursday James Leo (Jim) Breazeale, an 18-year-old catcher from Houston, was signed to a contract with the Braves' Twin Falls club in the Pioneer League.

Breazeale has been an outstanding hitter while playing high school and American Legion ball at Houston and comes to us highly recommended by one of our top scouts, Al Lavanola, said Eddie Robinson, the Braves' minor league administrator.

Breazeale is 6 feet 2 and weighs 190 pounds. He hits left handed and throws right handed.

Faux' Win Skein Comes To End

The end of a three-year win streak and a triple overtime marked Thursday night's action in the Twin Falls city recreation basketball league.

Clark and Silman Construction, getting 20 points from Ron Adamson, handed Patx Cigar Store of Buhl its first defeat in three years 40-36. Larry Shark got 10 for the leaders.

Two free throws by McCann, 10 seconds left in the third overtime period, hoisted Agrow past Rialto Bar of Jerome 42-41. Carl Harris had 14 for Rialto, McManless 14 for the winners.

Penny-Wise won by forfeit over the Log Tavern.

Future Events Planned By Magic Grange

SHOSHONE — Members of Magic Grange were reminded of coming events of interest to farmers when they met at their hall in North Shoshone.

A grass-impervious school was announced for a week, to begin at 8 a.m. March 1. The school will last until 4 p.m. each day that week. A $10 registration fee will be charged. Anyone interested may contact the county agent.

A hay and pasture meeting was announced for 9 a.m. March 13 at the courtroom of the Shoshone Courthouse.

Mrs. George Horn, lecturer, posted names of families and dates each will be responsible for programs at Grange meetings.

Mrs. Horn also read the lecture given by National Grange master, and Barbara Horn gave educational material on "Competition With Irrigation Milk."

Williams May Be Candidate For Governor

BOISE (AP) — Sources close to state auditor Joe Williams said he is actively being courted to run for the Democratic nomination for governor in 1970.

Williams, 63, considered running in 1966 and then decided against the idea, and, in a statement, suggested some other potential candidates to be courted.

They didn't and the five-man race for the party's nomination — with three competing in the primary — left Idaho Democrats badly split.

That intraparty strife is considered a large factor in the defeat of Democratic candidate, former state Sen. Cecil Andrus, in the 1966 general election. Republican Gov. Don Samuelson won in a four-man race, with Andrus second.

Williams, now in his third term as state auditor, has done increasingly better, on a county-by-county basis, each time he has run.

"Before I reach any kind of a decision," he says, "I'd want to have a pretty good idea of sentiment generally."

Records show eight drivers involved in fatal accidents during January had a total of 39 traffic law violations.

January was a record month on Idaho highways with 24 deaths.

Dividend And Charity Regulations Explicit

By RAY DE CRANE
NEA Publications

Dividends receive special treatment on your income tax returns. This results from the fact that they represent corporate profits which have already been taxed once by the company paying them.

The first $100 in dividends received from qualified corporations (generally all U.S. corporations) is exempt from tax. On joint return this exclusion applies to the first $100 in dividends received by each husband and wife.

This does not mean that a husband and wife are automatically excluded. If the stock upon which the dividends are paid are all held in the name of one spouse only $100 in dividends is excludable. And if one partner does not have enough stock in a firm or other entity to claim the full $100 the other partner may not claim any of the unclaimed exclusion.

People who own mutual funds will frequently note on their annual report that they have benefited with capital gains dividends. Together with the first $100 in dividends, these are subtracted from gross dividends in determining the taxable dividends. The capital gains dividends are then accounted for on Schedule D where only half the dividends will be found taxable. Contributions to any recognized charity are fully deductible on your tax returns. However, contributions to individuals — no matter how worthy the cause might be — are never deductible.

Generally, contributions will include your church, Red Cross, United Appeal, a college or hospital building fund drive, or a similar agency.

In addition to cash contributions you may also have a deduction for works of art, clothing, furniture or home appliances to a recognized charitable group. In such cases the fair market value of the item (what you could have sold it for on the open market) determines your allowable deduction. Explain how you arrived at the figure in a statement attached to your return.

There never can be a deduction for the value of your personal services in behalf of charity. But in some instances, out-of-pocket expenses while performing as a delegate to a club convention, attending meeting as a chair member, serving as a Gray Lady, hospital volunteer or as a den member to Cub Scouts or a Brownie troop, or similar organizations, are deductible.

Such expenses might include transportation (you may charge five cents a mile for the use of your own car), the cost of required uniforms which are not adaptable to ordinary wear and, if you were away overnight, the cost of meals and lodging while performing a such voluntary work.

Cut in Appropriations Of U. S. Education Funds Made

College of Southern Idaho President Dr. James L. Taylor returned from Boise Wednesday where he spent two days at a Higher Education Facilities Advisory Council meeting.

Dr. Taylor said that appropriations for four-year and junior colleges in Idaho have been cut by one-third this year. He said that in the 1963 account, for junior colleges, Idaho has been granted $321,680.

He said that although the amount due CSU has not been determined yet, CSU will be applying for a portion of the HEF junior college allocation.

Allocated to four-year colleges in Idaho is nearly $500,000. If funds in this account, 104, are not used by four-year schools, the State Commission on Higher Education may transfer funds to the junior college account.

The funds are to be used for construction with four-year schools standing two-thirds of the cost.

Snow Depths Are Above Normal

FAIRFIELD — Snow depths are above normal and water content below normal in Cassia County, according to a survey made last week by Dave Crnkovich of the Soil Conservation Service.

He states that new snow the beginning of this week was responsible for the pattern. The survey was made at the Soldier Ranger Station snow course above the ski area.

There was 36.1 inches of snow with a water content of 6.9 and a density of 17.1 per cent. Last year at this time there was 48.2 inches of snow with a water content of 12.2 and a density of 25.4 per cent.

The 10-year average for this course at this time is 20.9 inches of snow with a water content of 7.7 and a density of 17.7 per cent, according to Mr. Crnkovich.

Demos To Meet

BOISE (AP) — Idaho Democrats meet Saturday in Boise to discuss plans to increase the party's representation in the legislature at the polls in November.

Gets Notice
KEESEVILLE, N.Y. (AP) — Michael Ryan of this northeastern New York village says he recently received an induction notice, but cites two reasons why he should not go into the Army.

Ryan explains that he was turned down by draft officials during World War II "because I had heart trouble." Besides, he adds, he is now 63 years old.

Dial-A-Vote Plan Set By Senator Long

By WALTER R. MEARS
WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Russell B. Long proposes a dial-a-vote system to speed decision making in the Senate.

"I'm just quietly trying to do a little behind the scenes work," the Louisiana Democrat said, "trying to get them to wake up to the fact that the telephone exists."

His objective: A system which would permit senators who are away from the floor to vote by telephone on bills and have their votes counted. He suggested the Senate secretary could handle the telephone dialing.

Long said in an interview the Senate wastes the equivalent of 300 days a year delaying votes to accommodate absent members or waiting for people to show up for roll calls.

"If you just let a guy call up and say 'I want to be recorded this way or that way' then we could get on with the business," said Long, the assistant Democratic leader.

"We just waste a world of time because a senator wants to protect his absenteeism record," he added.

This happens in many ways. Often, a senator who is going to be late or absent asks a colleague to make sure the Senate keeps talking until he gets back. Major votes seldom are scheduled on Fridays or Mondays because many members are out of town.

Frequently, after the roll has been called, senator after senator rises to ask the chair whether his vote has been recorded and, if so, how. That slows the process while absent senators hurry to the chamber from their offices or other spots in the Capitol.

Long, discussing his absentee vote idea on the floor, said lay in the city's alleys. There were no coffins for them, only communal graves outside the city.

Coffin Makers Are Busy In Saigon

By PETER ARNETT
SAIGON (AP) — The only shops open in Saigon today were the coffin makers. Business was brisk.

Watchful Vietnamese soldiers stood guard as the artisans worked busily to meet the demand resulting from the devastating battles that have swept across the suburbs of South Vietnam's capital this week.

All other shops and businesses in the city of three million people have been ordered closed during the crisis. The population was told to stay indoors under a 24-hour curfew.

Vietnamese police and soldiers fired into the air to break up knots of curious bystanders that gathered on some streets. Roads leading to many government and U.S. buildings in the heart of the city were blocked off.

Cars and trucks pulled up at the half dozen coffin shops. Tearful relatives loaded the brown varnished boxes, decorated with highly colored religious symbols.

No official count has been given of the number of civilians killed in the fighting. The three main public hospitals reported more than 100 dead in their morgues. Scores more were known to be inside the blocks of squatters' shacks and refugee houses devastated by mortar and helicopter fire on the northwestern and southwestern outskirts of the city.

Hundreds of dead Viet Cong members who arrive at the last minute to cast votes usually don't have much information on the issue involved.

Paintings Displayed At Jerome

JEROME — A showing of paintings by Mrs. John A. Davies, Hailley, is being featured at the Jerome library the next 10 days.

Mrs. Davies, the former Joan Vaughn, Hazelton, has nine paintings on display, including four character studies, one still life, three landscapes and one seascape. Her mediums were oils and pastels.

The landscapes were inspired by Boulder Flats, Pettit Lake and other scenes in the high Sawtooths. The still life is her portrayal of "Praying Hands."

Mrs. Davies first became interested in painting immediately after graduation from high school and has studied with Olaf Holtz, Rupert, and Merlin Enabitt, Chicago.

Clerk Agrees With Salary Hike Refusal

RUPERT — Minidoka County Clerk August Bethke Thursday expressed agreement with the recent decision of county commissioners in refusing the request of the extension service for an increase in salaries for the county agents.

The request was for an increase of $20 per agent for 1968 and $500 per year per agent thereafter. There are two county agents and one Minidoka County extension agent.

The extension service receives $43,000 from the county budget, converted to $37,770 for the sheriff's department; $31,550, auditor and clerk; $24,120, assessor; $21,885, probate court, and $15,600, treasurer.

Mr. Bethke pointed out that the proposed general fund budget is $258,634, while the anticipated revenue for the general fund is $252,000, which is a deficit of $6,634.

Commissioners have approved cutting that amount from the county budget program in order to balance the general budget, Mr. Bethke explained.

The county clerk said he upheld the decision of the county commission to refuse the salary increase both because of the deficit in the general fund and because of the recent increase in total appropriation by the 1967 and 1968 legislature for the extension service.

This amounts to a total increase for the biennium of $454,500 or a 15.15 per cent increase, he said.

He also pointed out that the county agents get considerably higher salaries than any other county employees. Vance Smith, receives $12,878; LaMont Smith, $10,708, and Renee Alder, the former demonstration agent, $7,240.

Salaries of other county posts include auditor, $7,000; sheriff and assessor, $6,000 each, and probate judge and treasurer, $6,700 each.

BERRY'S WORLD

WHAT CAUSES JADE TO LOSE ITS LEAVES? The jade plant (Crassula argentea) is one of the most common of all foliage plants. Resembling the cactus (which it isn't), this item has thick oval leaves, and if you're lucky enough small star-like flowers in clusters. Jade will tolerate shade and adverse conditions but will grow best in a bright window and without too much water.

Troubles: Leaf drop. Due to poor light or excess water. This item does not like to have a soggy soil. Some leaf drop is natural, especially when you shake or lift the plant. Keep the soil evenly moistened most of the time.

Allow it to approach dryness between waterings. Start new plants by stem or leaf cuttings inserted into a jar of moist sand. Mealy bugs may be a problem. Pick off the cottony masses and burn.

ORDERING VEGETABLE SEEDS OR PLANTS. Home gardeners who order vegetable seeds or plants should buy them by variety name. Don't ask for just any tomato or melon. You buy cars, dogs, plants by name so buy your plants by variety name.

When you can't get the variety you want, buy the seed and start it yourself. A common mistake is to start your plants too early indoors. As a result, you often get tall, leggy transplants. Young, stocky plants are usually better than tall leggy ones.

For example, a five to seven week-old pepper and cabbage plant will generally grow better than a 10- to 12-week-old plant. March is usually early enough to start your own.

When you sow seed or set out plants, don't worry about "planting by the moon." There's no scientific evidence to support the idea that seed or plants should be set according to phases of the moon.

The point is: buy good seed and order varieties that are different from those you have. Varieties of tomatoes and sweet corn as between breeds of dogs and horses.

BIRCH LEAF MINER: This is the pest which causes leaves of birch to turn brown and wither. It is a small, white, larva which causes leaves of birch to turn brown and drop. It's difficult to control with sprays, and the insect is present from May to October, in overlapping generations.

United Spanish War Veterans' Official Hits Draft Dodgers

By STAN BENJAMIN
WASHINGTON (AP) — They were all volunteers in their war back in 1898 and they don't cotton to the antics of young men who don't want to serve in today's war in Vietnam.

As James H. McElroy, adjutant general of the United Spanish War Veterans, will tell you, the 8,000 living veterans of the Spanish-American War rank patriotism, Americanism and respect for the flag high among the virtues.

"I'll tell you, we're all behind

Kindergarten Signup Is Slated

FILER—Parents with children of kindergarten age are reminded that registration for the spring sessions will be held from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m., Saturday at the Filer Elementary School, according to Mrs. Lester Peterson, association president.

Registration fee will be $20 per child. The sessions will begin March 4 at the American Legion hall and will last for eight weeks. Information may be secured by calling Mrs. Peterson at 326-5408 or Mrs. Marvel Palmer at 735-7176.

Gen. Hershey, he's right," McElroy volunteered in a telephone interview, referring to Selective Service Director Lewis B. Hershey, who has suggested speedy induction of youths who violate the law while opposing the draft.

"There'll be a day of reckoning," McElroy continued. "In our day, it was 'My country, right or wrong.' We were all volunteers in the Spanish-American War. Now young fellows are trying to get out of serving their country and are forming belligerent groups."

"We can't pull out of Vietnam," he said. "And I'm talking for the whole damn organization—when I say that, we fought that out at our last convention."

McElroy, 80, heads an organization whose members are, on the average, slightly older than he is.

The average would be a little higher, he explained, except some members were only 14 when they entered the Navy as apprentices in 1898, and they're only 83 now.

As might be expected, their main concerns now revolve around pensions and medical benefits for themselves and the widows of their departed comrades.

A pension bill Congress passed last year was a great victory, McElroy said, and the battle for it took far longer than the Spanish-American War.

The war lasted only three months, Spain abandoned Cuba and ceded Puerto Rico, Guam and the Philippines to the United States.

Some 458,000 Americans served in the war. Those still living are almost the oldest American veterans, predating only two veterans of the Indian wars—Frederick Frusko, 98, of Chicago, and Reginald Bradley, 100, of Oakland, Calif.

The last veteran of the Civil War died in 1959.

The Spanish-American brotherhood is in its twilight.

"Its lines are steadily growing thinner, and the tramp of its columns is with ever-lessening tread," says an anonymous tribute circulated by the organization.

But thousands of them have lived to see the Cuba whose independence they helped to secure turn against the United States. Do they now regret helping Cuba so long ago?

"No, we're not sorry about it," said McElroy. "We're just kind of proud that we did such a short job of it."

CLAUDE BOWMAN, right, retiring president of the Rupert Chamber of Commerce, is presented a plaque in recognition of his services by Ken Bell, new president, at the annual meeting of the chamber Monday night. Officers were installed at the meeting of the Rupert Elks Lodge.

"HARD ARGUMENT"
SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — Gov. Ronald Reagan said he still isn't interested in becoming vice-president, but conceded "it would be a hard argument" to resist. He had been the Republican ticket in 1968 to bolster party unity.

Here's To Stuart Brown, He's Cleanest Kid In Town

All is okay at the David Brown home, but you can bet the bathroom door will be fixed. Mrs. Brown and her young son, Stuart, spent five and a half hours in the bathroom Tuesday when the door got stuck.

It was a long afternoon. Mrs. Brown said floor covering on the outside of the door jammed when she attempted to open the door from within the bathroom.

"I tried everything, but the door wouldn't budge," she said. "Thank goodness I didn't have anything cooking on the stove while we were in there."

The bathroom window wouldn't open, either. Young Stuart took a bath lasting an hour and a half. "He's the cleanest kid in town," she said.

The young mother and her son were rescued when Mr. Brown came home Tuesday evening.

The Browns live south of Twin Falls.

One In Every Four Americans To Feel Increased Social Security Tax Bite

By BRUCE BLOSSAT
NEA Publications
WASHINGTON (NEA) — Only one in every four Americans at work will feel any increased Social Security tax bite in 1968 as a result of major 1967 revisions in the law.

That does not mean that the many other millions of workers paying into Social Security coffers will be relieved indefinitely from paying a share of the higher cost of benefits due to be lifted an average of 13 per cent for nearly 24 million recipients with their March-2 checks.

The stiffer tax load for everybody else has simply been postponed for a year.

In 1969 more than 80 million working Americans will get hit harder in their pay checks as Social Security tax deductions rise. (The actual work force is not much above 72 million, but enough people are on and off the employment rolls in the short run, like Christmas workers, to account for the higher total.)

Here is why roughly one in four Americans on the job will get nipped a bit more in 1968:

The new rule raises from $6,600 to $7,800 the level of annual earnings from which the Social Security tax is to be taken. But it does not elevate the 4.4 per cent tax rate in 1968. The net of it, then, is that people who earn more than $6,600 in 1968 will pay more than they did in 1967—but nobody else will.

In 1969 this will happen:

The earnings base from which the tax will be drawn will hold at the $7,800 level—as it will indefinitely thereafter. But the Social Security TAX RATE will rise from the present 4.4 per cent to 4.8 per cent. From that point on, every working individual will feel the bigger tax bite.

That will not be the end of it. Five times more between 1971 and 1987, the Social Security TAX RATE will rise, until it reaches a scheduled peak of 5.9 per cent.

The last four of these upward changes will come as a result of slight increases in the charges for the Medicare portion of Social Security—which even in 1987 will still represent only about a sixth of the total Social Security tax.

All through this rising cycle, of course, your employer will be paying more, too, since he must match your payments into the established benefit trust funds.

Self-employed persons, having no employer to match their own contributions, have always had to pay more as individuals and will continue to do so. Their 1967 tax rate of 8.4 per cent holds through 1968, then escalates to 8.9 per cent in 1969-70 and rises five more times to a 1987 peak of 7.9 per cent.

The most a man at work could be taxed in 1967, with a $6,600 base, was $280.40. The worker who makes $7,800 or more in 1968 will pay $343.20.

Thereafter his Social Security tax will rise to a maximum of $460.20 in 1987 and after.

For the self-employed, the 1967 figure was $422.40, the 1968 figure $498.20, and the 1987 figure $616.20.

Clearly the millions who are

BAD BID NETS LUCKY SLAM

For the luckiest hand of 1967 we have to fall back on an old friend, the "unlucky" expert. He will let him tell the story in his own words.

"East showed out on the first diamond, so I could finesse twice with perfect safety. I wound up with one spade, two hearts, four diamonds, five clubs and 1,440 undeserved points. Maybe my luck has changed."

Our friend really was lucky. Even with a bad partner, the two no-trump bid was hended for trouble while a three club bid should be all right. Then, we note that North had a lot of better bids. . . six no-trump at his disposal. . . show or otherwise, we like to bid them both. And, of course, North should have started by bidding diamonds. If he wanted to bid only one diamond we wouldn't say he had made a real underbid, although we do favor an opening two.

The real luck came when South was able to make the no-trump slam. If North had played at a normal six clubs, East would have opened a spade. He could have made his slam by an immediate double finesse in diamonds, but we think he would have taken the more normal play of leading out a high diamond first and blown the hand out the window.

Reagan Has Political IOU's That Helped Nixon And Goldwater Get Nominations

By JERRY RANKIN
SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — Gov. Ronald Reagan, already a million-dollar-plus fund raiser for the Republican party, is collecting the kind of political IOU's that helped Richard M. Nixon and Barry Goldwater win presidential nominations.

Betty Canary's Wonderful World

Some weeks ago I took a little poke at a Troy, Mich., high school and apparently it landed right on the nose of a young lady who says she is a student there.

She wrote to me, presenting her arguments in a thoughtful, well-ordered fashion and I liked hearing from her. I'm a former Michigan resident and happened to be in Troy as well as Mount Clemens, Royal Oak and Detroit, this summer. Probably it was a slip-up on the architect's part, but I have never noticed this high school was built in the shape of a sacred cow.

However, Miss Student, you leveled at these serious charges, so now I will give you a serious answer.

Man is the animal capable of reasoning. He is also the animal having the ability to laugh. Americans, more than any other people, have the ability to laugh at themselves and I think that is a wonderful thing, don't you?

Your faculty has some new ideas and other educators will watch and eventually adopt some of these notions for their students. There might even be some mistakes made and this should not offend or embarrass you because making mistakes is an all right thing. It proves that at least somebody has been trying to do something.

No, I do not want you back in an old-fashioned school. I want the best for you and all young Americans, as do most adults. You say I am trying to stop progress? Well, if you are attending public schools, the legislation and the money came from me and other adults who want better schools and more opportunities for our children just as our parents wanted more than a jump on the bandwagon.

However, one nice old thing I want to hang onto in our sense of humor. In this country a television comedian can even poke a little fun at the President. So can you and so can I and we should be glad about it. In fact, pointing out the follies of even our most august institutions, including the Senate, House and the Supreme Court, is almost a national pastime. Do not expect your high school, wonderful though it may be, to imitate I would say those getting the most praise and plaudits should hold the lighter to their sense of humor. It can get awfully lonely there among the laurel leaves.

Also, I would not make the mistake of thinking that the person of vision is always deadly serious. As a homely old philosopher said, "Man with jaw of granite likely to have head of stone."

Touring Unit Planned By Buhl Theatre

BUHL—The Antiqua-Festival Theatre of Buhl has included for 1968 plans to turn a major portion of its efforts toward a touring company which will present appearances on the road.

The board of directors met recently to make plans for the 1968 season. John Barker, chairman of the board of trustees, reported that the financial status of the corporation is in good standing and made proposals for budgeting the coming season. Included in the budget are the raising of funds for the theatre's scholarship program.

Aldrich Bowler, producing director, said that notices for general and scholarship applications will be sent this month to local major educational and professional theatre organizations. He noted that application requests have a ready been made for the summer season.

Although final repertoire of the touring theatre will not be determined until later this month, Mr. Bowler said that two invitations have been submitted for the company to appear in Lewiston and Caldwell.

It was also announced that writer Renner from the Buhl Theatre will appear Feb. 12 in McCall for their production of "Don Juan in Hell."

To Enter Contest

WASHINGTON (AP) — Michigan Gov. George Romney will formally enter New Hampshire's Republican presidential primary contest Feb. 12.

Romney, who is due to return Wednesday from a world tour, will leave for New Hampshire within hours after he delivers his "State of the State" address to Michigan's legislature next week.

New Hampshire's primary election March 12 is the nation's first. Romney is the only major announced candidate for the 1968 GOP nomination, although former Vice President Richard M. Nixon is expected to make

James Halley of the California Republican Central Committee. Reagan will test his appeal in the heartland of the East—the Establishment of Dewey, Wilkie and Eisenhower—on a tour next month of New York, Pennsylvania and Washington, D.C.

The name Reagan to date has meant money to hard-pressed party finance officials in Oregon, Seattle, Houston, Dallas, Des Moines, Milwaukee and Columbia, S.C. Gratitude for similar favors created blocs of loyal national convention delegates for Nixon in 1960 and Goldwater in 1964.

Reagan keeps insisting he is not a candidate and hopes only to head a "favorite son" delegation from California to the 1968 convention.

In answer to questions at a Dec. 19 news conference, Reagan conceded that the backing of conservative Republicans who want him to run for president is "gratifying, there is no question about that."

He added, however: "My position hasn't changed at all. I'm not a candidate."

Nevertheless, the remark by Gov. Tom McCall of Oregon that Reagan is "the hottest political property around" is becoming a favorite saying among Reagan watchers.

In dollar terms, Reagan raised nearly $1.4 million in September and October for de-facto GOP coffers, says Tom Reed, a wealthy 35-year-old former appointments secretary who handles the governor's out-of-state political contacts.

National speech-making tours are described by Reagan as "hardy chores that should be done." He is well aware that such ventures heighten speculation they are fronts for a full-scale campaign for the GOP presidential nomination.

Reed refuses to reveal how much Reagan is paid for appearing at party events on the ground that it's a private matter, but he denies an "absolutely false" report that Reagan got $15,000 for a Milwaukee speech in September.

All Reagan's appearance fees go into a special trust fund set up within the California Republican party—strictly to finance the governor's out-of-state political trips, Reed said.

Reed says he expects the fund to break even for 1967, but if there is a surplus, it will be refunded to states where Reagan

Reed appears on "a fair and equitable basis" to be determined by Reagan.
