Thant, Red Envoy Talk

This Is War--

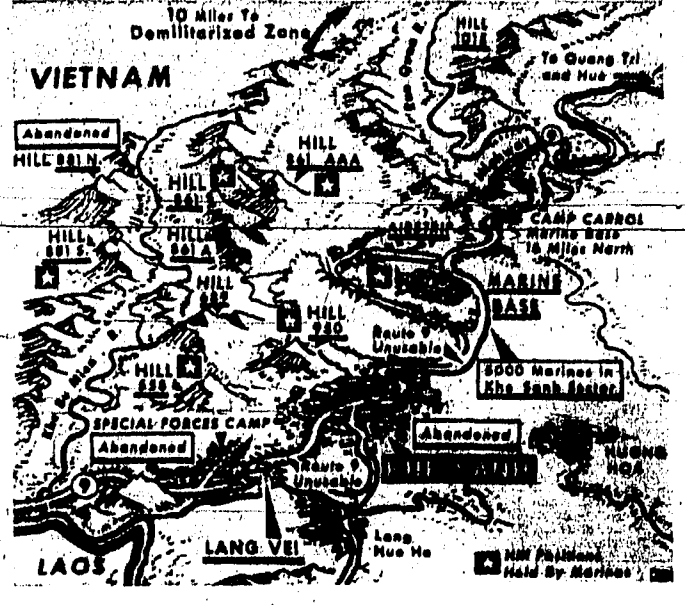

Sorrow

The sorrow of thousands of Vietnamese refugees is typified in the expression of this old woman as she sits in a refugee assembly point in Huc, where heavy fighting between Allied forces and Communist troops continued Wednesday. (AP wirephoto)

Exchange Of Peace Notes Is Presumed

By RONALD THOMSON
PARIS (AP)—U.N. Secretary-General Thant came to Paris today and called on a top North Vietnamese diplomat, presumably to get a message from Hanoi on peace negotiations.
Thant talked for 75 minutes with Mai Van Bo, North Vietnamese general delegate in Paris. No information was disclosed, but a U.N. statement said the conversation was held in a "friendly atmosphere."
Thant called on Mai Van Bo on a "personal basis" and not formally as U.N. secretary-general, the statement said.
After lunch, Thant drove to the Elysee and met with President Charles de Gaulle, a critic of U.S. policy in Vietnam.
Thant delayed his return to New York from London Tuesday after lunch that took him to India, the Soviet Union and Britain seeking to open the door to talks to end the war.
There were reports in London that a message from Hanoi was waiting him at Mai Van Bo's house. It was said to be a reply to proposals for peace talks Thant made in New Delhi to Nguyen Hanoi, North Vietnam's consul-general.
Information Minister Georges Corse, asked by reporters about Thant's visit, replied: "We are not unaware that there are indirect contacts going on to try to settle the Vietnamese affair. But nothing for the moment permits us to think that this is a prelude to veritable negotiations."
Corse made his statement after a cabinet meeting and before Thant met with President Charles de Gaulle.
As in Paris, there was little optimism in London that See VIETNAM, P. 2, C. 7.

Necessity Of U.S. Stand At Khe Sanh Questioned

WASHINGTON (AP)—Republican Sen. Thurston D. Morton questions the necessity of an American stand at Khe Sanh in northwestern South Vietnam, where an expected Communist attack may ignite the biggest battle of the war.
Morton, after a spokesman for Senate Republicans critical of President Johnson's war policies, predicted in an interview that there will be sharp challenges forthcoming in Congress to the strategy of fighting a battle at an outpost difficult to supply.
"I think there is a lot of feeling around the country that we had no business getting into Khe Sanh, that we may be asking for it there," the Kentuckian said.
"I don't see what advantage Khe Sanh is to us except for what effect it has on cutting off supply lines from the North to the South. There aren't any people around there to amount to anything," said Morton, adding: "We ought to give up these search and destroy missions and concentrate on the business of protecting and securing the 80 per cent of the people who live in the more populous areas."
Morton said he thinks the initial U.S. public reaction to the Viet Cong attacks on South Vietnam cities will support President Johnson fighting an eventful war.
"That's the natural reaction of Americans when they see our fighting men threatened," he said.
"But I think more and more senators are coming to feel that we ought to revise our strategy in Vietnam," said Morton. "A lot of Democrats who feel that way are not going to say so because they don't want to attack their President in an election year. Some Republicans don't want to attack a President in the middle of a war even though they are uneasy about what's going on," he said.
Morton, a former GOP national chairman, said Republicans seem to be getting their best response by attacking the credibility of the Johnson administration in reporting war developments.
"Everywhere I go, people ask me 'what's really going on out there?'" he said. "Of course, I can't tell them because the administration doesn't tell senators any more than anybody else."

Koreans Threaten U.S. With War

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
Special Correspondent
PANNUNJOM, Korea (AP)—A North Korean representative said today there will be war unless the United States gets out of Korea, and the U.S. delegate replied that the North could insure peace by stopping acts of aggression.
The harsh exchange came at a meeting of the Military Armistice Commission called to discuss charges by the U.N. Command of armistice violations by the Communists. There was no discussion of the fate of the 83 crewmen of the Pueblo, the U.S. intelligence ship seized by North Korea Jan. 23.
Meanwhile, U.S. special envoy

Cyrus Vance extended by still another day his visit to Seoul, where he is trying to patch up U.S.-South Korean differences over U.S. priorities in Korea.
The South Koreans have complained that the United States is paying more attention to the Pueblo incident than to the attempted assassination of South Korean President Chung Hee Park Jan. 21 by 31 North Korean commandos who invaded Seoul.
Sen. Adm. John V. Smith, senior U.S. representative on the armistice commission, cited the assassination attempt today and said there had been 74 other serious trace violations by the North in the last 44 days.

"The decision whether there is peace or hostility depends upon the will of an apparently irresponsible North Korea," he said. "Your side can have peace merely by unilaterally stopping acts of aggression. You must stop dispatching armed murderers into the Republic of Korea."
North Korean Gen. Pak Chung Kook, placed at Smith and replied: "We don't want war but we are not afraid of it."
He said North Korea would match buildup for buildup, blow for blow "and all-out war with all-out war" if it should come to that.
Pak added that it would come to war unless the United States agreed to "take your bloody hands off Korea and withdraw from South Korea."
The only mention of the Pueblo was a charge by Pak that the United States was taking advantage of the incident to make "full preparations for war" and create a climate in which hostilities could be touched off "at any moment."
It seemed unlikely that the Communists had the usual of apologizing for the attempt on President Park; and the American posture indicated little intention of bowing to a Red demand for an apology for the Pueblo's alleged intrusion into North Korean territorial waters.

Declining

LOVELAND, Colo. (AP)—Love as measured by Valentine mailings at Loveland is on the decline this year.
Postmaster Fred C. Brewer said today 70,000 valentines were sent to him for remailing this year, down 30,000 from the annual average of the past few years.
Each valentine remailed from Loveland was hand-stamped with this poem:
Dan Cupid isn't partial;
His darts fly everywhere,
So let your heart be target
For one with love to share.

Minidoka Officials Defend Cutting Cities From Special Recreation Levy

RUPERT — Minidoka County Commissioners Wednesday defended their decision to exclude the cities of Rupert, Heyburn and Paul from shares of a special tax levy of one-half mill for recreation when they outlined seven reasons for the action.
Commission Chairman Burt VanEemery said, "In reaching our decision on this matter we have considered the following among other grounds: For every dollar invested in the Emerald Pond by the county matching funds are received. Consequently a disbursement of $2,500 to the cities will mean a loss of $5,000 to the project."
"In years past the public was able to make much more use of the river for bank fishing, swimming, etc. However, the present uses of the river frontage for home sites and the removal of the river swimming areas at the Heyburn bridge have done away with this, and there is therefore a considerable demand for areas like Emerald Pond."
"The investment to date in Emerald Pond makes dropping the project out of the question. The wide use of Emerald Pond even in its present limited development indicates its acceptance.

"No funds are available for the city's request after the payment of currently projected cost of Emerald Pond. Funds received under House Bill 141's levy can only be used for the acquisition, maintenance and operation of public parks or public recreational facilities and not for a general recreation program."
See MINIDOKA, P. 2, C. 4.

Gardner Focuses On Urban Ills

WASHINGTON (AP)—John W. Gardner will turn full attention to the nation's urban ills when he steps down as secretary of health, education and welfare on March 1.
He will become chairman of the Urban Coalition, formed in the wake of city riots last year. Its major goal has been to find jobs for the unemployed in private business and government work projects.

Firemen Continue Drive For Petition Signatures

Twin Falls firemen Wednesday continued gathering signatures on petitions asking for a 40 cent an hour wage increase.
The effort started Tuesday and will continue through next Monday, Monday evening at the city council meeting the petitions will be presented as a protest against the 1968 city budget.
The budget is expected to be passed following a public hearing.
Firemen contend they are underpaid about $4 a month and have said if the council does not include a firefighter's pay raise in this budget they will ask for a referendum vote to let the people decide.
The indications are, if the request is not approved, firemen will seek a referendum ballot as soon as possible.

City officials last week announced they have included $3,000 in the 1968 budget for a complete Fire Department study. The results of the study will show what is needed for Twin Falls and will outline a wage program.
Councilmen also contend other city employees are underpaid and it wouldn't be fair to raise firemen's wages and leave the other wages as they are.
Firemen have protested the budget several times in the past. Tuesday night, at a kickoff session, an estimated 100 citizens visited the fire station to sign petitions supporting the firemen in their request.
The budget hearing Monday is at 7:30 p.m. in City Hall.

U.S. Bombers Down Two MIG-17 Jets

By GEORGE ESPER
SAIGON (AP)—U.S. fighter-bombers shot down two MIG-17 jets today, blasted three North Vietnamese airfields and lent a hand to U.S. Marines trying to drive dihard Communist holdouts from the walled Citadel of Hanoi.
Two Air Force F-4 Phantoms encountered the MIGs 30 to 40 miles northwest of Hanoi and brought them down with missiles and 20mm cannon, the Air Force said.
The pilots stated the total number of MIGs estimated to be in aerial combat in the last three years to 110, compared with 40 American warplanes lost to MIGs.
The U.S. Command said that during strikes against North Vietnam Tuesday, Air Force and Navy bombers attacked the airfield six miles southwest of Hanoi, the Dai Thuong field 70 miles south of Hanoi, and the Vinh airfield 140 miles north of the demilitarized zone.
As the battle for Hue continued into its third week, U.S. Marine jets streaked down on the former imperial capital of Vietnam to bomb, strafe and rocket an outer wall of the old Citadel behind which remnants of the North Vietnamese regiment stubbornly held out.

Meetings Held Here To Explain State Inventory Tax Phaseout

By RUTH KOONCE MILLER
Times-News Staff Writer
The first of a series of public information and education meetings on the phaseout of the inventory tax was conducted Wednesday morning at the Twin Falls Chamber of Commerce.
Tim Brennan, director of the Idaho Retailers Association, and Joe Itall, representing the Idaho Dairyman's Association, also conducted a similar luncheon meeting attended by county commissioners, legislators and others.

The two met pointed out that a lack of understanding and misinformation concerning the phaseout was provided by a legislative bill passed in 1967. Mr. Brennan stated that the inventory tax is not a major revenue tax that it brings in less tax funds than the cigarette tax.

It was pointed out that revenue lost to counties because of the phaseout will be replaced by the sales tax. In 1968, when the county tax is phased out, it will be taxed, five per cent of the sales tax will be returned to counties.
Over the next three years when inventory tax decreases and increments of 25 per cent, the county tax is not returned to counties will increase in increments of five per cent. The eventual level of sales tax return will have reached 20 per cent by 1971 when the inventory tax vanishes.
An argument against the inventory tax, the man stated, has been that it is difficult and expensive to collect. William Roberts, R-Burli, representative from Legislative District No. 24, pointed out that the sales tax is simple and inexpensive to collect. See TAX MEET, P. 2, C. 6.

County GOP Backs Webb For Congress

Lloyd Webb, Twin Falls attorney and former Eleventh Judge, Tuesday night by the Twin Falls County GOP Central Committee as a candidate for the Second District Congressional seat being vacated by Republican George Hansen.
Mr. Webb will be contacted by members of the committee who urged to become a candidate for the office in the coming primary elections. On Tuesday Congressman Hansen announced he will seek the U.S. Senate post now held by Frank Church, Democrat.
Speaking on the endorsement of Mr. Webb, William Lanting, speaker of the Idaho House of Representatives, commented, "It is time a man from this area is elected to Congress. A candidate with the excellent qualifications that Judge Webb has would certainly stand a good chance of being elected." Ray Lincoln, also an Idaho legislator, representing the 23rd District in the House of Representatives, added, "I have the highest regard for Lloyd Webb. I am impressed by his honesty, his integrity and his ability. I hope that it will be his decision to become a candidate for the U.S. Congress. If so, he will have my unqualified support." Mr. Lincoln added.

Other endorsements of Mr. Webb included that of William Chaney, Twin Falls County commissioner.
Mr. Webb has not announced his decision on whether or not to seek the office but told Republican party officials following the Tuesday night meeting he will give the matter full consideration and announce a decision at an early date.

$164,975 Is Granted For CAA Activity

The Headstart program for pre-school children will be coordinated by the Twin Falls School District No. 150, Mullan School District No. 418 and Joint School District No. 151.
The program will be available to eligible children of Twin Falls, Cassia and Blaine counties. A. W. Morgan is director of the program.

Commission Believes Summer's Riots Were Spontaneous

By GAYLORD SHAW
WASHINGTON (AP)—The President's Commission on Civil Disorders is reportedly moving toward the conclusion that last summer's urban riots were spontaneous—not the result of a conspiracy.
Unless new evidence is unearthed within the next few weeks, commission sources said that will be a major point in the panel's final report, now being written for release about March 1. Another section will make urgent recommendations on steps to prevent disorders.

"In each case we found agitation before, during and after the riots, but not any planned conspiracy," one official said. "As far as we can tell, all broke out spontaneously."
"That part of our investigation is proceeding right up to the last moment."
Thus far, the commission's findings correspond with testimony it received last August from FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover. In the six months since then, some of the commission's top aides have devoted much of their time to searching for evidence that the riots were planned.

One investigator reported he encountered in quiet visits to several urban areas, individual agitators "who like to claim credit for disturbances they had in their cities. But they really can't."
The 11-member panel was appointed by President Johnson last July 29 to investigate the causes of riots that scarred Detroit, Newark and other cities and to recommend preventative action.
The first two sections of the report—what happened and why —are virtually complete, sources said, and members "are down to the nitty-gritty, the real tough decisions on the third segment—prevention."

Recommendations will cover employment, housing, education and welfare programs, one official said, plus proposed steps to improve police-community relations.
Katherine Graham Peden, former Kentucky commerce commissioner and the panel's only woman member, said in a telephone interview that "I was shocked at the inequality of education" in urban areas.

In Watts, she said, the "poor quality of education is the number one burning issue" cited by "most mothers" she talked with.
"They realize this is the only way to break out of this trap they are in."
Employment and job training programs also are vital, Mrs. Peden said.
"Realize that housing conditions and living conditions cannot be improved unless they have gainful jobs... and you've got to have a better education in get a better job."
"They become so intertwined that you can't separate one from another," she said of the programs. All of this has got to be accomplished."

Gov. Otto Kerner of Illinois, commission chairman, has predicted the findings "will be uncomfortable for the people of the United States."
Another commission member, Sen. Fred R. Harris, D-Oklahoma, said a report, "We all have to understand that this is a crisis and we've got to treat it in this manner. We can't keep on with business as usual and hope these things can be straightened out."

Cassia Commission Okays Budget Hike

BURLEY — Cassia County commissioners approved the county budget Monday for $442,920 which is up $13,450 over last year. The increase figures include $11,119.50 tuition for Junior College students and $12,000 for election expense.

It was pointed out that money from the county's share of liquor tax is being used for the tuition for students attending the junior college from Cassia County.

The amount of $12,000 for election expense was not in last year's budget since it was not an election year.

The current expense budget is $282,645 compared to $226,291 last year for the operation of departments. The departments are auditor, clerk, recorder, district court, sheriff, treasurer, prosecuting attorney, county commissioners, elections, agricultural extension service, department of public health, coroner, probate court, probation officer, justice court, county building, general and civil defense.

The county budget is simply for the operation of the county offices and services and does not include other taxing units in the county such as the City of Burley and the School District, commissioners pointed out.

Proceeds from this game will be added to a fund for the purpose of building a fireplace in the main lodge at the 4-11 Camp in Quadrant Gulch above Ketchum, in memory of the late Raymond Alzola.

Mr. Alzola was Camas County agent for several years prior to his death in November and various organizations have donated toward the memorial.

The memorial committee planning this event are Wesley Fields, chairman, Dwight Osborne, Mrs. T. T. Wokorseln, Mrs. Boyd Harrison and the Rev. James Post.

The public is invited to attend this game and tickets may be purchased from Camas County fire leaders and members or at the door.

Heart Attack Fatal For Mae Marsh

HERMOSA BEACH, Calif. (AP) — Mae Marsh, who was the little sister in D.W. Griffith's silent screen classic, "The Birth of a Nation," is dead of a heart attack at 72.

The actress died Tuesday at her home in Hermosa Beach, 20 miles south of Hollywood, where she and her husband Louis Leo Arma had lived for 47 years.

Griffith was captivated by her "frail, wispy look," he said, when he discovered her on a Hollywood lot at the age of 14. Five years later, in 1915, he cast her in his epic.

The Auburn-haired girl became one of the silent film era's most popular actresses, earning as much as $250,000 a year.

After appearing in Griffith's "Intolerance," she left him to star for Samuel Goldwyn and became the original "Goldwyn Girl."

Although her career survived the transition to talkies, Mae Marsh's face appeared older than her age and she was cast in character roles. She retired in the late 1920s but returned in 1931 in the early sound film, "Over the Hill."

She played minor roles in several later films and appeared as

Once Over Lightly In Good Clean Fun

WASHINGTON—Just for practice, or something, let us imagine something that is not beyond the realm of imagination. Let us imagine that one of those mentally shoeless branches of the Ku Klux Klan hired a violent, mouth-frothing white supremacist playwright to stage one of his works at a student assembly in a public school in, say, Montgomery, Ala.

answered by a chorus onstage. Let us further imagine that some of the questions and responses went like this: "Who murdered the white man?" "The niggers, the niggers." "Who (sic) should we lynch?" "The niggers, the niggers." "What do we know, without doubt, who happened?" "Well, Mrs. Balderdash, we know absolutely that President Johnson would summon a press conference to express his outspoken over a happening which incited the white man to murder his black brother. We know that Alty Gen. Ramsey Clark, that sterling protector of civil rights, would dispatch a tank force to Montgomery to determine how many white men should be arrested and tossed in the jug. We know that every weeping, glandular, myopic super liberal would demand that the Montgomery school system be purged forthwith and its officials replaced by a panel nominated by Stokely Carmichael. Okay. So this is what happened in a predominantly Negro school in New York City's East Harlem last week, only the play reminded the pupils that it was the white man who murdered the black man and the chorus demanded that the white man be lynched. At this writing, however, the incident has been passed over lightly as good clean fun.

There has been no yelp of outrage from Lyndon Johnson, Ramsey Clark appears to be busy with other matters. The school, Intermediate Public School 201, is still being operated by a local "governing board" of community control of local schools. No prominent super liberal has uttered any public comment.

The circumstances are an indication of just how sick has become our Great Society. The play—written by LeRoi Jones, a Negro writer who specializes in four-letter words and who has been sentenced to two and a half to three years in the New Jersey State Penitentiary for having two loaded revolvers in his car during last July's riots in Newark, Herman B. Ferguson, "special advisor" to the governing board," was suspended from his post as assistant principal of a Long Island school last fall after his indictment for participating in an alleged Revolutionary Action Movement plot to murder moderate civil rights leaders.

Ferguson so far has remained undisturbed by a play which caused one teacher to demand and get a reassignment and three others to walk out in disgust. The play, Ferguson told the New York Times, was "another educational experience for the children. There was nothing racial as far as I was concerned. It had a historical flavor." Historical flavor? I suppose so. But so does a play whose message demands the return of the black race to its former state of slavery.

Copper Strike

President Johnson's concern over Vietnam, the balance of payments and the stability of the domestic economy continues to overlook a serious detriment to all three. That is the copper strike, now in its seventh month. This unfortunate strike has cost our neighboring state of Utah millions of dollars in revenue and direct income and officials there are more and more concerned as the strike drags on. Although probably not noticeable on the surface, it is a foregone conclusion in financial circles that what it had for Utah is also bad for Idaho. Copper is an irreplaceable ingredient of military equipment, especially its electronic components. As a result, defense contractors have been forced to import copper at prices 50 per cent above the dwindling domestic market.

The adverse effect of purchasing abroad alone accounted for $181 million of the balance of payments deficit in the last quarter of 1967. In the face of such evident disservice to the national interest, the Johnson administration has been inexplicably remiss. It steadfastly has refused to invoke the Taft-Hartley Law, which would have put the mines back in operation while setting an 80-day period for intensified negotiation. Instead, the President belatedly got around to appointing a three-man mediation panel whose operating procedure since mid-January has been as casual as the administration's. With the copper stockpile down to 23 per cent of the "safe level" recommended by the Joint Committee on Defense Production, the time for casual procedures has expired.

The 12-Mile Limit

A bill to increase America's three-mile territorial sea limit up to 12 miles should be passed by Congress. The bill, introduced in the House by three Kansas Republicans, would not apply to nations which observe a three-mile limit off their own shores. As Rep. Dole points out, it makes no sense to allow communist ships to cruise within three miles of U. S. shores while this nation observes the 12-mile limit claimed by communist bloc countries. The congressmen may be overestimating the value of being close to shore for spying purposes because advancement in electronic gear has made observations from great distances possible. However, in these days of hot and cold war and mounting communist aggression and intrigue it is best to take what advantages are available. The Pueblo incident puts new emphasis on the importance of territorial waters, and makes a reappraisal of America's offshore policy advisable. Only 29 of 98 nations with shorelines now observe the three-mile limit.

Why The Viet Cong Failed

WASHINGTON—One of the many discussions still raging in the nation's capital is whether the Viet Cong did or did not get into the American Embassy in Saigon. The official government position is that they did not. One of our public servants told me, "You newspaper people went overboard on the story. The truth is that although the Viet Cong penetrated the embassy grounds, they never did get into the chancery. Since they did not achieve their objective, we consider this one of the worst defeats the Communists have ever suffered in the downtown district of Saigon." "That may be true," I said, "but there are some people who feel that penetration of the embassy grounds by the Viet Cong—the American effort—in Vietnam a black eye." "Balderdash," my friend said. "The question was never, in doubt. Even if the Viet Cong had captured the embassy, we weren't worried." "You weren't?" "Of course not. Everyone knows the Viet Cong don't know how to operate an American Embassy."

program, the AID program, as well as transmit daily body counts to the White House. How they ever expected to do these reports with only 19 men, I'll never know. "Maybe they were going to bring in more people after they captured the embassy," I suggested. "It isn't just a question of paperwork and reports," my friend continued. "An American Embassy has to keep up relations with the government as well as other embassies. Do you think anybody in a prominent position in Saigon would come to an American Embassy reception if he knew it was being catered by the Viet Cong?" "Socially, they'd be curdled," I agreed. "It wouldn't have taken more than a week before the Viet Cong realized the disastrous mistake they had made," my source said. "Bogged down in paperwork, besieged by requests from Washington for optimistic reports on how the war was going, faced with the prospect of dealing with President Thieu and Marshal Ky, it would have just sign a letter of resignation. The Communists came to us on their hands and knees and begged us to take back the American Embassy." "Would you?" "Only if they indicated by some sign or action that they really wanted peace in South Vietnam."

passports or handle the fantastic amount of paperwork that an embassy of this size requires? "Well, they aren't trained for it," I had to admit. "Of course they're not. Our intelligence showed that not one of the 19 Viet Cong who invaded the embassy grounds had any foreign service experience at all." "Then why would the Viet Cong try to take over the American Embassy?" "Because they're smug, and it's this smugness that going to defeat them in the long run. They think they can just walk into one of our embassies and have it running smoothly in six hours. Well, they found out they couldn't. It wasn't just a case of knowing how to issue passports. Do you know not one of those guerrillas was capable of writing a report to Washington that anyone could have understood?" "I forgot about writing reports to Washington." "It's obvious they did, too, or they wouldn't have sent a much higher caliber man to Washington to write a report to the military assistance

Yes, We Get The Hint...

When congressmen start saying publicly that "the help needs more pay," you can be assured they have a salary raise in mind for themselves. Wouldn't it all be wonderful if we could all get a raise by just wishing for it? Last autumn we were warned of rumblings out of Washington about the "dire circumstances" under which lower echelon personnel in the various departments were being held—because of inflation, rise in the cost of living, etc. Now there is more bad news for you taxpayers. A blue-ribbon Presidential panel has called for pay hikes, too—but this time for top administration officials. The committee, headed by Frederick Kappel, former president of the American Telephone and Telegraph Co., recommends: From $43,000 to $60,000 for the vice-president. From $30,500 to $38,000 for Supreme Court justices. From $30,000 to $45,000 for federal district judges. From $35,000 to $55,000 for Cabinet members. From $28,000 to $41,000 for under secretaries of the departments. From $20,000 to $38,000 for assistant secretaries. Oh yes—we almost forgot to mention: From $30,000 to $45,000 for members of Congress.

LEAP START OF LEAP YEAR More than five weeks of the current leap year has passed, and there is no visible evidence that the girls are taking advantage of the prerogative it traditionally bestows upon them and popping the question. Perhaps the modern female does not require the aid of the calendar in achieving the desired results. The leap year custom began in Scotland in Caesar's time the calendar was three months behind, accounted for by the extra six hours in each year which add up from the earth's travels around the sun. It takes 365 days, 5 hours, 48 minutes and 16 seconds for this route, and the time left over mounts and has to be used up somewhere. So Caesar set things ahead again, since by this time winter was supposed to be fall were really winter, and that wouldn't fit his battle and vacation schedules. He decreed every fourth year should have 366 days, which took care of matters for some time. But, by 1582, the calendar was out of kilter again. The old boy had supposed the year to be six hours longer than 365 days, which is too long by one day in every 128 years. In 1582, Pope Gregory ordered Oct. 5 changed to Oct. 15, and decided that century years—those with the 00s—should not be leap years. The girls are excited, divisible by 400. Even this is not perfect. The Gregorian method exceeds the length of a true year by 26 seconds each year. This will amount to an extra day in 3,233 years, but nobody has yet figured a solution to this problem. Now, anyone in Magic Valley is still worried about what is going to happen to them in this leap year—just remember Caesar and remember that his chances are dead, too!

COLD COMFORT Miniskirted girls in London have a gripe against the city's transit authority, we hear. The girls are complaining that new experimental glass fiber seats in subway cars are too cold against their legs. GREEN STUFF Dear Mr. Spectator: I believe a lot of people missed the most important observation that was made by George W. Abbott, chairman of the Nevada State Republican Committee as he spoke at the recent Lincoln Day banquet in Twin Falls. He hit the nail right on the head when he said it was going to take a lot of things to win for the Republicans in November but most important was his choice of words—short and to the point: "The color of political blood is green." Green money, that is. Party Worker SUGGESTIONS Dear Mr. Spectator: Concerning "Lament of A Poor Husband" there is a solution. He should put a sign near his back door, and one near his front door, both worded thusly: "No peddlers or collectors allowed." This will keep all scoundrels away. Our neighbor has such a sign on his gate post—and even political candidates will not enter his yard. It's unlawful to go past this sign so hope that "Lament" tries it. Mrs. Delbert Brown Bliss, Star Route

Keep The U.S. Spread Thin

WASHINGTON (NEA)—A pattern is beginning to develop in the seemingly unrelated Communist provocative acts popping up throughout East Asia. Consider the recent list of Red activities: The North Korean capture of the USS Pueblo on Jan. 22. The Brazos attempt by 31 North Korean commandos to assassinate South Korea's President Park Chung Hee in Seoul on Jan. 20. The sharp rise a number of months back of North Korean military provocations in the demilitarized zone. The heavy infiltration of North Korean agents into South Korea. The great increase in Soviet military aid for the North-Vietnamese of late. The recent North Vietnamese military attacks in Laos, which this reporter's Asian contacts say are of a more aggressive character than the periodic rice and opium gathering attacks of the past year or so.

The sustained Communist-organized and led Hong Kong riots of a few months back. The increasing Communist terrorist activity in Thailand and the stepped-up Red provocations in Burma. The arrogantly open North Vietnamese military actions in Cambodia which seem designed to get U.S. and South Vietnamese troops to move into that country. The heavy build-up of North Vietnamese forces in the Khe Sanh area and the suicidal Viet Cong attacks on 45 outposts and towns in South Vietnam. Add to these incidents, the recent Russian-provoked Arab-Israeli war and the Soviet harassment of American warships in the Mediterranean. These widespread Communist actions add up to three conclusions: The Communists hope to create no many problems for the United States worldwide in places where Americans have vital interests that we might be tempted to cut our losses in Vietnam and agree to Ho Chi Minh's terms for peace. The Communists desire to widen the area of the war in Southeast Asia and thus stretch U.S. troops as thin as they will be unable to handle Red military infiltration or protect South Vietnamese people. The Viet Minh used this technique very effectively against the French in Indochina. Mao's Communist troops used the same methods against the Japanese in China during World War II. The Communists want to get the United States tied down in so many trouble spots this country will be reluctant to move men and equipment from these areas to South Vietnam. If the Reds can keep the waters ruffled in Korea and Thailand, the Koreans and Thais would be less willing to change for sending additional units to Vietnam.

A Barber's Job

BUENOS AIRES (AP)—A government campaign against hippies turning Argentine policemen into expert barbers. At least 108 youths have been picked up by the police in raids in Buenos Aires recently. Dozens more were taken into custody at beach resorts. Many of the youths had their hair trimmed before being released. One complained a policeman cut off his shoulder-length mane with blunt shears. Some charged the police beat them. The government two-month-old antihippie drive, stems from two pet interests of the military regime of President Juan Carlos Onganía: morality and anticommunism. "Maybe they've not been admitted officially but a top official said privately: 'By leading a promiscuous sexual life and leaning generally toward an extreme leftism, the hippies represent both a moral and a political danger.' The hippies say the charge is nonsense. 'We have a right to live as we choose,' a bearded, 20-year-old boy said. 'We don't bother anybody and all we ask is to be left alone.'

"We may practice free love, but that's nobody's affair except for the people involved," he added. "As for politics, there are no more Communists among us than you would find in any group of young, rebellious people anywhere in the world." The influential weekly news magazine Bohemia said the campaign is "a paranoic witch hunt." A hippie said police repression is backfiring—He said the hippie movement is spreading as a result. "I don't think there were more than a few hundred of us in Buenos Aires some months ago," he said. "Now you count us by the thousands." Long-haired boys in tight jeans and brightly-colored shirts are now a common sight in Buenos Aires' fashionable shopping district, walking hand-in-hand with girls who often look like the boys—or the other way around. The drive against hippies is the government's second morality campaign in one year. Onganía, a religious, 53-year-old cavalry general, last year sent vice squads raiding lovers' lanes, parks and hotels and hauling couples into jail.

JAMES MARLOW

He's The Fifth

Editor's Note: Mr. Marlow is today's column is written by Gary P. Leubsdorf, Associated Press writer. WASHINGTON (AP)—George C. Wallace's decision to run for president in 1968 as the fifth man for third-party candidate of the 20th Century—None has come close to winning. But one, Theodore Roosevelt, ran a strong second in 1912 and had a lot to do with Woodrow Wilson's victory. The others were less successful. Sen. Robert LaFollette Sr. won only his home state of Wisconsin in 1924. In 1948, States Rights party candidate Strom Thurmond and Progressive party nominee Henry A. Wallace failed to prevent President Harry S. Truman's re-election. George Wallace declared in announcing his candidacy last week he thinks he can win. The former Alabama governor nominating Wallace as the candidate in the race he could win a state's entire electoral vote with as little as 34 per cent of its popular vote.

Wallace's estimate of his own political strength may be optimistic, but knowledge of history was accurate. In 1912, Roosevelt failed to wrest the Republican nomination from President William H. Taft, his chosen successor four years earlier. He formed the Progressive party and ran against Taft and Wilson, the Democratic candidate. Wilson carried 40 states with 435 electoral votes, to six with 88 votes for Roosevelt and two with eight votes for Taft. But in 26 of those 40 states, Wilson polled less than half of the combined vote and was victorious solely because of the GOP split. These included such key states as New York, Illinois and Ohio. Wallace's popular vote—8,286,214—was less than the combined total of 7,699,942 for the two Republicans. It was even less than the 6,409,109 polled in 1908 by Democrat William Jennings Bryan when he lost to Taft who drew 7,879,000 and had an electoral majority of 321 to 162. In 1924, LaFollette ran against Republican President Calvin Coolidge and Democrat John W. Davis. The senator polled 4,822,850 votes or 15.75.000 for Coolidge and 8,385,588 for Davis. Of the 35 states Coolidge car-

Contract Let For New Addition To Clinic

Construction of a modern brick and concrete addition to the Twin Falls Clinic and Hospital is expected to begin within 30 days, Louis Melgs, business manager, announced Wednesday. He said a contract has been awarded Skyline Construction Co., Salt Lake City, for the addition to be located on Shoshone Street between Sixth and Seventh Avenues East. The addition will be built on the Seventh Avenue side of the present clinic and hospital with the alley running from Shoshone Street to Second Street East to be closed. Designed by architectural firm of Hamill and Shaw Associates, Boise, the new addition will increase the hospital capacity to 39 beds. It will include pediatrics, isolation and nursery areas with coronary treatment provided by an intensive care suite with two beds. Another feature will be monitoring units for remote observation of four private rooms from the nursing station.

Decision Expected On Idaho Grain Shipment Rail Rates

SEATTLE (AP)—A decision is expected within 10 days on whether grain shipment rail rates from North Idaho, Washington and Oregon to the Pacific Coast will be reduced. W. R. Watson, chairman of the North Pacific Coast Freight Bureau, said Tuesday the rates would become effective 60 days after the decision is announced unless a complaint is filed with the Interstate Commerce Commission. Watson discussed the matter at a public hearing in Seattle. He said the reductions would range from 15 to 30 per cent, but they would be linked to elimination of a number of services provided for grain shippers at present. However, he said shippers could send their grain under present provisions or under the reduced rates and services plan. Under the reduction plan, shippers would not have the right to have grain inspected while in transit, grain could not be unloaded along the route to be milled and then reloaded to complete shipping, loading time would be cut from 48 to perhaps 24 hours, and unloading time would be trimmed from five days to possibly 24 hours.

Masterpoint Is Played By Club

BURLEY — The Burley Duplicate Bridge Club met at the Burley Elks Lodge with nine and one-half tables in play for masterpoint. North and south winners were Esther Norby and Bill Kennedy, first; Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Holmes, second; Mr. and Mrs. Bob Weaver, third, and Mr. and Mrs. Max Hoag, fourth. East and west winners include Mr. and Mrs. Rex Wood, first; Mr. and Mrs. Les Saunders, second; Mr. and Mrs. Chuck Hunter, third, and Billie Ross and Julia Brown, fourth.

BRICK AND EXPOSED structural concrete beams form the design of a contemporary new addition to the Twin Falls Clinic and Hospital. The addition, designed by Hamill and Shaw Associates, Boise, will be erected by Skyline Construction Co., Salt Lake City. Construction will begin within 30 days and be completed by early next winter. The two-story section provides surgical, obstetrical and patient quarters. The lower area will be for covered parking and entranceway. Land for the building was acquired just north of the present building and the alley running behind the present structure will be closed to allow overall development from Sixth Avenue East to Seventh Avenue East at Shoshone Street.

Time Inc. Purchases Newark News

NEWARK, N.J. (AP) — An agreement to sell the Newark News to Time Inc. was announced today. No price was given in the announcement. Time will acquire all assets and liabilities of the News, New Jersey's largest daily and Sunday newspaper, from the 85-year-old Evening News publishing company headed by Richard B. Scudder and Edward W. Scudder Jr. in exchange for 325,000 shares of Time common stock. The stock closed at 88 1/2 Tuesday. The Newark News would become a wholly owned subsidiary of Time Inc. The agreement provides that time will assume a debt of about $5 million. James A. Linn, president of Time Inc., said it is anticipated that both Scudders will continue to be actively associated with the newspaper. Richard is publisher and Edward is president. Not involved in the sale are Gordon State Paper Co. and Newark Broadcasting Corp., which operates radio station WVNI. Final conclusion of the transaction is contingent upon a favorable ruling by the Internal Revenue Service on the tax-free nature of the transaction and final approval by Time directors and the News owners. LOS ANGELES (AP) — Judge Jean Dempsey Klein disapproved of the "minkskirt worn" by another blonde Judge, Noel Cannon. "She's a constant source of embarrassment to me and to every Municipal Court Judge I know," Judge Klein said Tuesday at a news conference called to announce her candidacy for the Superior Court bench. "We feel her conduct is not befitting a member of the court." Judge Cannon delights some and appalls others by wearing minkskirts.

Meany Predicts Johnson Will Step Up Rebuilding Of Slums

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — AFL-CIO President George Meany reportedly is betting that President Johnson — despite Vietnam war problems — will sharply accelerate rebuilding of the nation's big city slums this year to ease the threat of new Negro rioting. "Meany is very anxious that there should be a massive attack on the ghettos," an informed labor source said, and he wants the labor movement to take the lead. Meany, who supports Johnson's war policies, views slum problems as the nation's most pressing homefront crisis and believes the United States can handle both problems, the source said. "This thinking reportedly is behind the new pledges of the AFL-CIO construction unions to cooperate fully with federal officials in solving labor problems stemming from the federal model cities program, and to actively recruit more Negroes into the building trades unions. The 18 construction unions representing some 3.5 million workers have long been the targets of racial bias complaints and charges of dragging their feet in settling labor disputes growing out of plans to rebuild the cities. Meany is one of three labor members on a White House

Another bill appropriates $14,400 to the State Board of Health for expenses in its radiological inspection program. The third measure changes the name of the timber fire protective fund to the forest protective fund. USE TIMES-NEWS WANT ADS FOR FAST-SELLING RESULTS

Biafrans Talking Of Peace

By ARNOLD ZEITLIN
LAGOS, Nigeria (AP) — The hard-pressed Biafrans are talking peace but making daring attempts to counterattack in the seven-month-old Nigerian civil war.

The Nigerian federal military regime claims it has beaten back Biafran efforts to regain Nsukka, a university town which fell to federal soldiers 10 days after the civil war erupted last July.

Nigerian federal officials also discount a Biafran bid for peace talks which brought British Commonwealth Secretary-General Sir Lester B. Pearson for intensive talks with the federal regime over the weekend.

Authoritative sources in the federal regime said Tuesday that before peace talks can begin, they must see more concrete signs that Biafra, the former eastern region of Nigeria, is willing to return to the federation.

In the talks with Smith, they said, there was no consideration of using Commonwealth or other foreign troops to guarantee security of the predominantly Biafran during a ceasefire.

But there was some sentiment for using "observers" as "moral pressure on federal soldiers and to enable the Biafrans to change to permit a new frame of mind," they added.

About 8 million of Biafra's 13 million people are the tribesmen and they claim the federals are waging a war of genocide against them.

Smith arrived in Lagos Friday with what sources said he considered strong evidence the Biafrans were ready to renounce secession and return to the Nigerian federation, the highest government circles, however, still consider the Biafran stand basically unchanged and unacceptable for peace talks.

WASHINGTON (AP) — After three weeks of work, Congress is taking the first in a series of scheduled vacations that will do little to insure the Aug. 1 adjournment its leaders claim is possible.

This recess, which began last Thursday, is in honor of President Abraham Lincoln's birthday—anniversary two days ago. Republicans traditionally spend the week making speeches in honor of the first president of their party.

The Senate, which met for five seconds on Monday, meets today to resume regular business. But with a filibuster in progress against civil rights legislation, little if anything is expected to be accomplished.

The House, which met for 33 minutes Monday, plans a token session Thursday in order to adjourn until next Monday, when legislative business will be resumed.

Next week will also be a short week because Washington's birthday falls on Thursday.

Although the leadership of both houses talked of adjournment before the start of the political conventions Aug. 5, little has happened since to warrant that optimism.

While most presidential messages detailing proposals outlined in the State of the Union message have come to Capitol Hill faster than in past years, accompanying legislation has not always been ready. As a result, committee work is just starting.

Moon May Have Moist Warm Areas

By RALPH DIGHTON
AP Science Writer
LOS ANGELES (AP) — New studies indicate the moon may have moist, warm areas—possibly conducive to microbial life—a lunar scientist reports.

Dr. Jack Green told a seminar of the University of California at Los Angeles chapter of the American Institute of Aeronautics and Astronautics Tuesday that evidence of moisture was found in specially filtered telescope pictures of an area near the crater Aristarchus.

Aristarchus, in the upper left portion of the lunar disk, is the site of red fires—possibly indicating volcanic activity—reported by several astronomers.

Green said his belief that there may be warm, moist areas near the crater is based on apparent detection of sulfur with a filter-aluminum spectrograph in which that mineral shows up black. Large black areas several miles square were found in photographs recently made to investigate earlier indications, Green said.

"On earth sulfur, the most abundant volcanic mineral, is always found in the presence of hydrous, or water-bearing rock," he said. "If this holds true on the moon, then there must be large areas near volcanic craters which bear water and moist and conceivably could support small organisms."

"Bacterial life has been found in boiling water in numerous hot springs on our planet," Green, research scientist for McDonnell Douglas Corp. and a consultant on the space agency's Surveyor program, said his study covered only an area near Aristarchus but he hopes to survey other craters later.

Green said a soil-testing device taken to the moon by recent Surveyors was not equipped to detect sulfur.

Water-bearing rocks near sulfur deposits on earth, he said, can be made to yield up to a gallon of water per cubic foot of rock by heating them to 500 to 800 degrees Fahrenheit. On the moon, where surface temperatures rise to 250 degrees at noon, such temperatures could be achieved by focusing solar rays on hydrous rock, Green said.

He suggested that if his interpretation of the "black" areas is correct, manned bases on the moon should be established near volcanic craters to take advantage of water and warmth.

"The possibility of finding water seems to me to be far greater near volcanic craters than in the plains areas tentatively selected—because they are smoother—for astronaut landings," Green said.

Idaho Getting Instant Law Enforcement

By BONNIE BAIRD JONES
Times-News Staff Writer
Instant law enforcement is coming to Idaho.

On Feb. 15, major Idaho law enforcement agencies will tie in with the Federal Bureau of Investigation's National Crime Information on known criminals, wanted persons, stolen vehicles, weapons or property.

Police Chief Frank Barnett said the local police department will provide the tie-in for his department and the Twin Falls County sheriff's office. The teletype now in use by the two agencies and located in the police department, will provide the communication link with the Boise center of the FBI service.

The Boise headquarters of the Idaho State Police has been designated as the Idaho terminal point. It will be in operation 22 hours per day, seven days a week under the direction of Owen Starr, chief radio and teletype dispatcher, and Sgt. Richard Burns, officer in charge of ISP's criminal identification system.

A REQUEST FOR INFORMATION in connection with an investigation in the Twin Falls area is teletyped by Rose Swan, one of the local department teletype operators, for Frank Barnett, police chief. Almost as soon as the message leaves, a reply is on the way back, thanks to the new tie-in between the local department, the Boise Terminal, and the FBI Crime Information Center in Washington, D.C.

The entire system is computerized and each message going into the center must follow an exact form and the computers will tolerate no typing errors, Chief Barnett said.

As a result the two participating agencies may purchase a tape perforator so messages to the crime center can be typed and dispatched without interruption or error.

This will be the only cost to the local agencies for a service local officers say could speed up investigations and arrests by up to 100 per cent.

Although the facility is not officially in use until Feb. 15, Chief Barnett said several tests have been made by the local department and a reply has been on its way back within seconds after the request was sent.

Should an officer on patrol duty sight a vehicle he believes to be stolen, or in which he believes a wanted person might be traveling, he can radio the local dispatcher who will place a query on the teletype to Boise.

The Boise terminal is tied in directly with the FBI center in Washington, D.C., and as soon as the query is received there the computer begins sending back information to the local officer or involved in a suspected crime, the officer will have the reply while still keeping the vehicle under surveillance.

It works both ways, however, Chief Barnett said. "We must send in all information we have on wanted persons, stolen vehicles and other property so we may take full advantage of the service and feed information to other agencies."

Chief Barnett said the system will be of even greater value as soon as all agencies throughout the country tie in with the network to provide 100 per cent coverage.

There are 15 teletype stations in Idaho that will provide contact with all law enforcement agencies and the crime center computer system. From Twin Falls, the police and sheriff's offices will relay information and requests for information from other communities in the county.

Only about 15 seconds at the most is spent from the time a message reaches the crime center in Washington, D.C., and a reply is on the way back over high speed teletypes to Boise or some other terminal and from there by teletype, radio or telephone to the original source.

"With all law enforcement

Actress Is Honored By Sales Club

NEW YORK (AP) — The weekly luncheons of the Sales Executives Club of New York soon will be invaded by a long-legged perturbed valentine: Actress Joan Crawford.

The Academy Award-winning star gets enrolled officially to day as the first female member of the 35-year-old club. She receives a membership card—and a frilly red valentine—from her male colleagues.

Though a veteran at breaking into the man's world, Miss Crawford was nonetheless excited at joining the largest organization of sales and marketing executives in the world.

"How would it feel to any woman to have 3,400 men around you?" she asked. "It's pretty sensational and I'm extremely flattered and honored."

Summing up her own busy career on screen, in the board room and at home with her children, Miss Crawford said: "We may not get much sleep, but we get things done."

Traffic Study Planned At Intersection

Engineers from the State Highway Department will soon begin making a survey of the intersection at Shoshone and Fourth Street, South and West. It was announced.

City Engineer Ron Schuffele said the survey should start in two weeks.

At the intersection is a flashing traffic light—yellow for traffic on Shoshone and red for traffic on Fourth. There have been complaints that traffic is slowed at the intersection and there is a bottleneck during rush hours.

Truckers also report having trouble getting trucks across Shoshone at certain times of the day.

Before the change to flashing lights there were time delay lights at the intersection.

Highway officials, however, said there was not enough traffic through the intersection to warrant a time delay light and the change was made.

Mr. Schuffele said, "It was known at that time there would have to be a study of the intersection, but we decided to wait until people had a chance to get used to the change."

"The flashing lights have been at the intersection about a month."

Mr. Schuffele said it is undetermined what the survey will recommend.

He said the change in lights at the intersection is not part of a city-wide traffic survey.

Couple Hurt In Rupture Accident

RUPERT — Two Rupert residents were injured Sunday when a pickup truck driven by Delbert J. Osterhout, 40, Rupert, failed to negotiate a curve about seven miles north of Rupert on Highway 24.

Osterhout was treated and released at the Mindoka Memorial Hospital, while his wife, Zoe Osterhout, a passenger in the vehicle, was held overnight for observation and treatment. She received a broken arm.

Osterhout was cited for failure to keep a vehicle under control.

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN
DEAR ABBY: I am a teenage girl with the same kind of problem every other teenage girl has. BOYST! First, let me explain that I am not "boy crazy." I'm just tired of going out with my girl-friends.

In our social setup, the boys reserve the right to take the girls to go out with them, marry them, etc. This is stupid. All the boys I know are shy and have no initiative. It is very frustrating!

Could you do me a favor and tell the boys of the world to open their eyes and notice that there are girls around, and to please pay some attention to them, to call them up and show some interest?

And, Abby, if you know of a planet where it is acceptable for a girl to ask a boy for a date, please let me know. I am packed and ready!

A PROTESTER
DEAR PROTESTER: I agree. The system is all wrong. Not only do the girls outnumber the boys, but they mature earlier and are ready, willing and eager to commingle while the boys stand around with their hands in their pockets, blushing it up. No wonder the women are becoming the more aggressive breed. And over the years, fighting is the undeniable increase of men who don't care whether they lead or follow.

DEAR ABBY: This is for the girl who wants to change her name. I am a girl with a name that is shorter and easier to pronounce. Don't do it.

"My name has 14 letters in it, too, but I've known how to spell it since I was three. (I'm 10 now.) Nobody can spell it, and very few people pronounce it right, but do I care? No, Sir! I am proud of my name, and your fiance is probably proud of his, too. Just think of someone with a name like "Elouthera, Irene du Pont de Nemours." How would you like to sign a check with a name like that? You would be doing your fiance a great favor by keeping his name like it is. You may even learn to like it yourself.

A "BRETTSCHEIDER"
DEAR ABBY: To the girl who was engaged to a man whose last name had 14 letters in it. NO name is unpronounceable. Some just require a little more practice.

I wouldn't recommend changing one's name, but it might simplify matters if one were to change the spelling. For instance, Hyszczyzny can become Hieschinsky. And Ardziewsky can become Arifsky. There isn't much you can do with Baccigaluppi, but as it stands, it isn't ridiculous to one who has used it all his life.

There are 39 William Johnsons in the Seattle telephone directory. Why not enjoy an unusual name?

Special Topic Is Presented
BUH — "What items do you usually carry in your purse" was a special topic when members of the Lucerne Community Club met for their regular meeting at the home of Mrs. Elbert Stewart.

The Lucerne Community Fund Breakfast was discussed and donations volunteered. The husband's party is set for Feb. 22.

Mrs. Harold Traxler reported that subscriptions for one year each for a magazine were paid at the high school and at the library.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Stewart. The next meeting is at the home of Mrs. Robert Cornie.

Landmark Is Now House Of Beauty

By NORMA HERZINGER

One of the old landmarks of Twin Falls, a house that has been filled with music for the past 20 years, will now be a "house of beauty" and remain about the same as when it was built in 1910.

The home at 511 2nd Ave. W., built for the Peter J. Costello family, was sold by its second owner, Mrs. Teala Bellini, to Mrs. Margo Butterfield, who has recently opened the home for many women to see as Salon El Margo.

The beauty salon, co-managed by Mrs. Butterfield and Elva Knowles, will feature the original decor "so popular back when" and still very elegant today.

The salon will feature seven stylists and a manicurist, with a facial department planned for the near future. A complete wig salon is offered along with styling of the wigs.

The upstairs of the home will not go unused, as several of the stylists reside there. Grand opening for the salon was Jan. 28.

There have been no exterior changes in the house since it was built, the architect being that of the home the Costellos had in Decatur, Ill., where the family resided before coming to Twin Falls in 1906.

According to Mrs. C. L. (Irene) Bohlscheid, Pocatello, daughter of the Costellos, she was delighted and surprised recently when she went through the home to find it was the same as when the family sold it.

"The 'hall tree,'" she noted, "and the dining room furniture, which were sold with the house, were still there. These pieces of furniture are what the others at that time, 1913, were all shipped from Chicago. This seemed most unusual to me in that day of renovating and change."

Because of the size of the house, Mrs. Costello rented rooms for company. Her daughters, Fern (Mrs. Z. H. North, Wooster, Ohio), and Florence, now residing in Seattle, Wash., were of college age and were away at school after 1914. It was a large place for a mother and one daughter, Mrs. Bohlscheid recalls.

First they had three school teachers who stayed with them until they were married or left for other positions. One teacher Mrs. Bohlscheid recalls very well, Ruth Hewitt, now Mrs. Summerville of Livingston, Mont.

Then for a few years, instead of school teachers, some young lawyers just starting their law practices, lived with them. Two of these were the late Frank L. Stephens and Charles A. North who were there until they married. The next were nurses who were with Mrs. Costello until the house sold, the late Teresa Hayes, the late Laura Davis, Jessie Devlinney and Mrs. Lucy Boughton.

"As I look back," Mrs. Bohlscheid noted, "I can think of no home that has had any more living than ours at 511 2nd Ave. W. No one had more wonderful friends, and no one loved people more than my mother. The Roswell Robertsons from Chicago spent two summers with mother and me, which I would say influenced their moving to Idaho. Mrs. Robertson now resides in Gooding, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Dice Sr. and daughter-in-law, Sally, were there for a short stay before they welcomed their only grandson, Mrs. Dice Sr. now resides in Shoshone and Mrs. Dice Jr. in California."

For a year the home was rented to Mrs. Frasier, who had a "Party House" serving luncheons and dinners.

Mrs. Costello then returned and a year later the house was sold to the Bellinis. From the time the home was sold until Mrs. Costello's death in 1956, she resided in the Reed Apartments. The three daughters returned to Twin Falls frequently as they own a farm south of town, operated by Marvin F. Custer.

This farm is the only property remaining in the family. Mr. Costello had been in the grain brokerage business in Illinois, but operated a real estate and insurance business in Twin Falls.

When told the home would now be a beauty salon, Mrs. Bohlscheid remarked to Mrs. Butterfield, "Being the third owners of the 'old home' I can think of no greater tribute to my parents than to have it stand as they built it, filled with music for 20 years and now a house of beauty. I know it will be there for many years to come, and I can take my two grandchildren there to see the house where grandmother was raised."

CUTTING THE RIBBON marking the opening of Salon El Margo at 511 2nd Ave. W. is Earl Faulkner, immediate past president of the Twin Falls Chamber of Commerce, along with Margo Butterfield, left, and Elva Knowles. The home, which is a landmark in Twin Falls and previously owned by Mrs. Teala Bellini, has been filled with music for the past 20 years and recently sold to Mrs. Butterfield for a house of beauty. The salon features all Castilian furnishings to coincide with the original styling of the home which will remain the same as when it was built by the Peter J. Costello family in 1910. There have been no changes in the exterior architecture since it was built. The home was sold by the Costello family to the Bellinis in 1939 and recently to Mrs. Butterfield. The salon will be co-managed by Mrs. Butterfield and Mrs. Knowles.

Betty Spence, Gossett Say Vows In January Ceremony

Betty Spence, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Marion J. Spence, Winnsboro, La., became the bride of Warren Gossett, son of Mrs. Violet Gossett, Twin Falls, in double ring rites Jan. 4 at the Eastside Southern Baptist Church, Twin Falls.

Rev. Robert Schreckenberg performed the ceremony before a white arch decorated with huckleberry greenery, flanked by baskets of yellow chrysanthemums and pompons. The church also was marked with greenery and yellow pompons, enhanced with white bows.

The bride, given in marriage by William Hoops Jr., wore a wedding gown of white tulle, fashioned with a high, wide neckline and elbow-length bell-shaped sleeves. The floor-length empire gown was accented with a large satin bow. Her fingertip veil of tulle was held in place by a matching satin bow. Both the gown and veil were made by Mrs. Jesse Borahn.

The bride wore a tulle-crepe pendant centered with a diamond, a gift from the bridegroom. She carried a cascade bouquet of white feathered chrysanthemums and golden Garnet roses.

Maid of honor was Carrie Ruth Spence, eldest of the bride. Charles Gossett, brother of the bridegroom, was best man. Gary Snell was usher. Mrs. Robert Schreckenberg played the traditional wedding music.

After the ceremony, a reception was held in the basement

Space Success May Permit 3 More Flights

By JIM STROTIMAN
AP Aerospace Writer
CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — Recent successes in America's man-to-the-moon drive may permit the space agency to squeeze in three manned Apollo flights this year, with the first launch perhaps two months sooner than scheduled.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration's announced schedule calls for astronaut Walter M. Schirra Jr., Donn F. Eisele, and Walter Cunningham to ride the first manned Apollo mission into earth orbit in the "last quarter" of this year, meaning no sooner than October.

Unofficially, however, sources say the flight could occur much earlier, perhaps August. They point out that current schedules call for the spacecraft to arrive at Cape Kennedy toward the end of March. The planned launch preparation time is about four months.

The success of America's second Saturn 5 superrocket launching, now scheduled for March 21, plus some key administrative decisions to be made in the next few weeks by NASA planners will determine whether the Schirra-commanded mission is in fact moved up and whether two manned Saturn 5 flights are attempted this year.

Navy Capt. Schirra, Air Force Maj. Eisele and Cunningham, a civilian will be orbited by a Saturn 1 rocket, a smaller booster than the Saturn 5 which will be used to launch men to the moon.

The official schedule now includes another Saturn 1 launching this spring for a second unmanned test of a lunar module, the craft that will ferry astronauts between the moon's surface and an Apollo command ship in lunar orbit.

Although a decision is not expected until March, most experts now agree that the first lunar module test last Jan. 22 was so successful that a second unmanned flight will not be necessary, permitting launch crews to concentrate on the Schirra mission.

The first manned flight aboard a Saturn 5 now officially is not scheduled until the fourth launching of the superrocket. However, project officials have left open the possibility that the second Saturn 5 is as successful as the first—NASA may decide to skip a third unmanned test of the mighty booster.

In this event, the Apollo spaceship now scheduled to fly on the fourth Saturn 5 could be launched aboard the third, possibly in October or November.

Another trio of Saturn 5 pilots then possibly could be launched in December for a dress rehearsal in earth orbit of the man-to-the-moon flight.

Sanitation Strike Talks Broken Up

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — Negotiations in the three-day-old Memphis sanitation strike broke up early today. An estimated 2,000 tons of garbage and rubbish is stacking up on the streets daily.

Talks between the city and the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees were to resume in the office of Mayor Henry Loeb. No progress was reported.

The garbage collectors and drivers are seeking city recognition of the union as their bargaining agent. They also are asking 55 cent hourly pay raises for laborers, now paid $1.80, and 60-cent bonus for the truck drivers, currently making $2.10.

City officials have branded the walkout as illegal under a 1966 Chancery Court decision forbidding municipal or county workers from striking or picketing.

Double Fee

MANILA (AP) — City Councilor Cesar T. Lucero proposed this Valentine's Day that the government double the marriage license fee in Manila.

Lucero, a bachelor, hasn't anything against marriage. He wants to increase the city's revenue and says no man would mind paying 50 cents for his marriage license instead of 25 cents.

War Becomes Big Issue In Primary

By REILMAN MORIN
AP Special Correspondent
CONCORD, N.H. (AP) — The battle in the New Hampshire primary campaign between Richard M. Nixon and Gov. George Romney of Michigan now appears to be narrowing to a single issue—the war in Vietnam.

"In the main, New Hampshire is a hard line state," said Stewart Lamproy, president of the State Senate and Nixon's fiscal agent. Nixon has been taking a hard line in respect to the war.

A top Romney lieutenant, who asked not to be identified, said, "If we can draw him (Nixon) in on a meaningful basis, I am prepared to make Vietnam the issue." And he added, "What really are his solutions to Vietnam?"

He indicated that Romney's aides would argue that "Nixon's view of the war doesn't differ much from President Johnson's."

As further evidence of the importance attaching to the war issue in the campaign, the Romney chief said that starting immediately only one highway board slogan will be posted for Romney instead of the four now seen throughout the state. He said it will read, "Romney's right. We must be told the truth about Vietnam."

Until now, the Romney billboards have touched on four separate issues.

Nixon and Romney are the principal Republican candidates in the New Hampshire election, scheduled March 17.

The war in Vietnam is the chief topic presented to Nixon in question-and-answer sessions, especially among students.

One New Hampshire observer said, "Seventy-five per cent of the interest in the election relates to the war."

Nixon remarked to students in the Wisconsin recently, "I'm not naive about politics. I know it would be popular to go out and be against the war. But I couldn't live with myself if I did."

LAST YEAR'S WINNERS of the Twin Falls and State Battle of the Bands Contest, the "Disciples," look over the trophies which will be presented locally this weekend. From left are Jerry Christian, David Day, Danny Bronson and Carter Wilson. The contest, sponsored by the Twin Falls Jaycees, is open to any teen-age, amateur band in the area. About 10 bands already are entered for the event, which will be held from 8 p.m. to midnight Friday and Saturday at the National Guard Armory. The state contest will be held in May in Twin Falls. The "Disciples" placed fifth in the national contest last year.

9 Members Join C. Of C. At Hagerman

HAGERMAN—Nine new members have joined the 85 individuals and firms already belonging to the Hagerman Valley Chamber of Commerce. It was reported Tuesday by Mrs. Ralph Sullivan, publicity chairman.

They include William Chloes, Thomas Fausett, William Howkes, Idaho Power Co., Earl Skidmore, Mountain States Telephone Co., Lowell Chamberlain; Glenn Patterson, Sportsman Lodge; Paul Alexander; James Warren and Dean Williams.

It was reported by Lyle Potter, chairman of the office space committee, that the city council has agreed to rent the north-west space of the council building to the chamber.

A special committee composed of John LeMoine, chairman, and Roy Kenitzer and Ed Larson, prepared a detailed report on the need for a fish testing diagnostic laboratory in Hagerman. This report was forwarded to Sen. Frank Church and Len Jordan and Rep. George Hansen.

It was reported that the Arts, Science and Historical committee, headed by Aldrich Bowler and including Vey Cook and Leslie Lynch, is planning further development of the Hagerman fossil deposit. Plans are being considered for the establishment of a museum to house skeletons which have been removed from the deposit and sent to the Smithsonian Institute.

James Warren solicited support for the Snake River Boy Scout Council. Bylaws prepared by Harry Davonport, chairman, and Ivan Dunham and R. H. Lawrison, will be presented for adoption at the March 8 meeting.

Idaho's Class A And B Wrestling Tournament To Open In T.F. Thursday

The big three of Class B wrestling in the state, Teton, Parma and Middleton — with Declo trying to mushroom it to four — are expected to produce the Idaho state wrestling champions in that classification this weekend while the Class A division appears up for grabs. The tournament, which is the sport's brief history, will begin at 7 p.m. Thursday in the Twin Falls High School gymnasium and run over four more sessions through Saturday night. In all, 324 men will take the mat in the crammed facility. The tournament with Class A having 16 entrants per weight and Class B 11.

To get through that mob, four mats will be in action Thursday night, Friday afternoon and Saturday morning. The tournament is being held in the gymnasium of the school which is open at 7 p.m.

T.F., Minico Climb In State Poll

By The Associated Press
The showdown week in Idaho prep cage circles as the majority of the schools close out their 1967-68 regular season state this week and Pocatello's Indians hold a 28-point lead over Borah high of Boise in the weekly ratings.

The Tribe pulled down 12 first place votes and 158 points in the Associated Press poll to keep in a row, while Borah managed three first place votes and 128 points for runnerup honors.

Pocatello and Borah currently are tied at 0-3 in Southern Idaho conference play and each has a pair of games this weekend. Borah is at Nampa Friday and hosts Caldwell Saturday while Pocatello hosts Twin Falls Friday and Capital Saturday.

With a 71-65 loss to Pullman, Wash., the Moscow Bears slipped from second to third this week. Weiser, with a pair of wins, climbed from fifth to fourth and Twin Falls, with a victory over Capital, jumped from eighth to fifth.

White Sox, Solons Make 6-Man Swap

CHICAGO (AP)—The Chicago White Sox' brisk rebuilding for 1968 continued Tuesday in a six-player deal with the Washington Senators which shipped veteran shortstop Ron Hansen to the Senators.

Hansen, 28, about to be supplanted by Ex-Baltimore Oriole Luis Aparicio, and pitchers Denis Higgins and Steve Jones went to Washington for infielder Tim Cullen and pitchers Bob Priddy and Buster Narum.

Cullen, 25, Santa Clara University product who batted .228 for the Senators last season, is tabbed for second base to form a new Sox keystone combination with Aparicio.

In the process of earlier acquiring such prime newcomers from the New York Mets and Russ Snyder from the Baltimore Orioles, the White Sox traded off two second basemen, Don Buford and Al Wein.

In Hansen, the Senators get a veteran shortstop of six seasons with Baltimore and the White Sox. Hansen led the American League in assists and double plays last season and batted .233, three fewer points than Cullen.

Right-hander Higgins, 28, was benched most of last season by a detached retina in his left eye, now reported to be mended. He had a 1-2 record, but was regarded as a strong bullpen performer. Jones, 26, a lefty, pitched a 9-3 record for Indianapolis and 2-2 for the White Sox last season.

Priddy, 28, and Narum, 27, both right-handers, appear to become the Sox mound staff, considering the league's strongest. Priddy had a 3-7 record and 3.44 ERA for the Senators in 1967. Narum was 9-8 with Hawaii and 1-0 with Washington.

The Duke Blue Devils, knocked out of the Top-Ten last week, regained a ranking position in The Associated Press major-college basketball poll today. Other gains were recorded by New Mexico and Columbia.

Duke took over 10th place after winning three games last week and lifting its record to 14-3. New Mexico and Columbia each advanced one spot, the Lobos to fifth and the Lions to sixth.

Houston, unbeaten in 21 games, maintained its solid hold on first place in the poll based on games through last Saturday. The Cougars collected 28 first-place votes and 351 points in the balloting by a national panel of 36 sports writers and broadcasters.

UCLA, which received the other eight first-place votes, held second place with 22 points, the latter awarded on a basis of 10 for a first-place vote, 9 for second, eight for third, etc.

Houston trounced Oregon 107-56 in its only start last week while UCLA defeated Oregon State 54-52 and Oregon 104-63 for an 18-0 mark.

Association Has Monthly Meeting
The Southern Idaho Fish and Game Association held its regular monthly meeting Tuesday night at the Twin Falls Motel.

The highlight of the meeting was a program presented by Lenny Moore of the Bureau of Land Management. Moore showed slides of his two-year study of the desert big horn sheep in southern Utah.

The association heard reports from all of the committee chairmen, but most reported there was a lull in most developments because of the winter months.

The association voted to make a window display for National Wildlife Week, March 17-23, and set it up in a downtown store. It also voted to supply Idaho Fish and Game Department with targets when they begin their annual program of gun safety in the seventh grade.

Michigan Teams Deny Breaking Rules
EAST LANSING, Mich. (AP)—The Big Ten faculty representative from Michigan State University said Tuesday there are no indications those who have charged rules violations in connection with MSU athletes weren't conversant with Big Ten rules.

The statement came from Dr. John Fuzak in connection with allegations printed by the Michigan Daily, the student newspaper at the University of Michigan at Ann Arbor.

The newspaper also has made similar allegations about dealings with athletes at Michigan.

The newspaper's sports editor, Clark Norton, when told of Fuzak's remark, said, "We have the Big Ten rulebook. We can read. We are conversant with the rules."

Norton wrote the stories in a story from East Lansing, Mich., by David Condon, Tribune sports writer. Daugherty was quoted as saying:

"Anyone who suggests I'm dishonest had better be able to prove it. I want my attorney's opinion on whether that story in the Michigan Daily was libelous."

The Daily said MSU football players received discount prices for tickets to movie theaters, an act Big Ten rules forbid unless such discounts are available to the entire student body.

The Sky: A Vast Wasteland Slowly Becoming A Huge Sewer

EDITOR'S NOTE—The choice for man may very well be: clean up the air or stay indoors and live like a mole. The alternatives result from man's heedless poisoning of his environment. The following third of five articles on what man has done to his "home" tells of steps being taken to alleviate the situation.

By ALTON BLAKESLEE
AP Science Writer

To breathe enough oxygen to stay alive, you must draw some 1,600 quarts of air into your lungs every day. —But civilized man is making a sewer out of his sky and air. Too much of our daily air is polluted, containing increasing quantities of noxious, offensive and poisonous gases and solid particles.

Health officials say they can only guess at the real cost to health both from killer smogs and from chronic exposure to carbon monoxide, sulfur dioxide, ozone, lead, dust, soot, and a host of new chemical compounds.

The national bill for air pollution damage to clothing, metals, buildings, crops, paints and fabrics is estimated at $12 billion per year—about $80 per man, woman and child. Federal funds were boosted in legislation passed last year, but some experts say it's not enough. "Americans have a choice:

clean up the air and live like human beings, or stay indoors and live like a mole," warns John W. Gardner who recently resigned as secretary of health.

The earth is a spaceship whose outer "walls" are only its atmosphere hugged to the planet by gravity.

Each day into this atmosphere, 89 million motor vehicles are pouring 180,000 tons of carbon monoxide, 33,000 tons of hydrocarbons, and 17,500 tons of nitrogen oxide.

Memorial Is Planned For Mrs. O'Leary

Members of the family of the late Mrs. Vera C. O'Leary, a former principal at O'Leary Junior High School, have requested that any memorials which are made be put into a special O'Leary Junior High School fund.

John Campbell, principal of the junior high school, said it has not been determined just what the funds will be used for. He said Paul O'Leary, Salt Lake City, son of Mrs. O'Leary, who died Friday at Salt Lake City, notified him that a fund was being set up in his mother's memory and would be presented to the local school.

Mr. Campbell said it is the family's request that the funds not be used for a plaque or similar decorative item, but for something "which will improve the quality of instruction."

Mrs. O'Leary was principal at O'Leary from 1925 until 1961 when she retired. Memorials should be taken or sent to Mr. Campbell, care of O'Leary Junior High School here.

Each day, factories, homes and power plants using fuel oil and coal heave up 100,000 tons of more of sulfur dioxide.

Damage to agriculture and livestock from polluted air is estimated at $500 million annually.

Much of some 800 million pounds of trash, garbage, leaves and the like is burned daily in incinerators, many of low efficiency, pouring more pollutants into the air.

Some 7,300 U.S. communities suffer from varying degrees of air pollution, says the U.S. Public Health Service.

During smogs, daily death rates soar above average as polluted air takes a toll of people with weakened respiratory systems and hearts.

A London smog was blamed for 4,000 excess deaths in 1952; one in Donora, Pa., for 20 dead in 1948. Thanksgiving week smog in New York City in 1966 was blamed indirectly for snuffing out 168 lives prematurely.

Polluted air is blamed by some medical authorities for causing some lung cancers, for exacerbating asthma, the lung disease emphysema, tuberculosis, and congestive heart failure. Years of chronic, low-level exposure presumably take some toll.

"When people just don't feel well from air pollution, how do you fix a price?" asks Dr. John T. Middleton, director of the Public Health Service's National Center for Air Pollution Control in Washington.

The auto driver consuming carbon monoxide for an hour or so daily may become a highway hazard from monoxide effects on his nervous system," he declares.

An initial step has been taken to choke off some of air pollution from motor vehicles, which some experts say contribute 50 per cent or more of all air pollution.

By federal law, all new cars starting with 1968 models must be equipped with devices that reduce the usual exhaust emissions of hydrocarbons by about two-thirds, and carbon monoxide by one-half.

It costs the new car buyer about $50. There is no legal requirement that the new efficiency be maintained as cars age, nor do older cars have to be similarly equipped. The government has proposed more stringent controls for 1970 models, cutting by one-third the amount of exhaust pollutants permitted in 1968 autos.

Some cities have pioneered clean air programs, notably among them Los Angeles, Pittsburgh and St. Louis.

East and west winners include Mrs. A. J. Meeks, Mrs. Robert Tucker, first; Mrs. R. J. Skeem and Mrs. T. T. Greenhalgh, second; Mrs. J. A. Mirany and Mrs. W. H. Newcomer, third; and Mrs. C. H. Jackson and Mrs. Walter Miller, fourth.

But as yet, says Dr. Middleton, most state programs lack adequate authority and resources to clean up what is everyone's air. And regional programs have been virtually nonexistent.

The federal government is putting more muscle into the struggle for cleaner air.

Under the Clean Air Act of 1963, and subsequent amendments, Congress supplied increasing funds for air pollution abatement programs, matching grants to states, research, training of personnel, and pilot programs to demonstrate specific means of reducing air pollution.

The budget to the Department of Health, Education and Welfare last year for all such efforts was $64 million. State and local governments were spending another $20 million.

The Air Quality Act of 1967 boosts spending to $428.3 million over a three-year period. This includes $125 million for research over a two-year period.

HEW will set standards, designate air quality regions, and enforce the standards. The new act has been praised as a great step forward, and criticized as too complicated and as slowing down needed efforts to control air pollution.

No one denies that the problem is urgent, and complicated. "There is little or no political mileage to be won yet in working for cleaner air," says Ron M. Linton, chairman of Urban America Inc., a nonprofit organization in Washington, concerned with urban needs. "The pressure groups fighting for it are not in the political mainstream."

"You wonder," he adds, "whether we have to wait for real disaster, the loss of many lives in a smog, before we begin all-out efforts to control air pollution."

City Officials Near End Of Program To Place T. F. Street Naming Signs

About 40 per cent of the Twin Falls city street sign program is now complete but as the edge of the clamps. Even the bright reflectorized green and white signs are installed, shop crews report an unusually high rate of vandalism.

City Engineer Ron Scheuffele said the signs are being installed daily, but crews spend a large amount of time repairing broken or bent signs as soon as they are installed. Especially in the vicinity of the junior high and grade schools, he said. Youngsters apparently are climbing up or jumping up and swinging on the bright green name plates.

Ed Johnson, street department employe, said the signs are mounted with clamps and when

Buhl Woman Gets Citation

Buhl—Myrtle A. Gallaher, 55, Buhl, was issued a citation for failure to yield the right of way Monday after police said she turned in front of another car, and the two vehicles collided.

Idaho State Police said Mrs. Gallaher, driving a 1965 Rambler, was traveling east on U.S. Highway 30 about one-fourth mile east of Buhl at 8 a.m. Monday when the accident occurred. Officers said a westbound 1965 Volkswagen, driven by Paul F. Bach, 15, Buhl, approached an intersection of U.S. 30 and a private driveway at the same time Mrs. Gallaher did. Mrs. Gallaher told officers she was concentrating on a car that was following her and did not see the Volkswagen.

Passengers in the Volkswagen were Vicki Turdy, 16, and Marzie Atkins, 17, both Buhl. Bach and Miss Atkins both received minor injuries and were treated by a Buhl physician.

BOTH SIDES HOLD GRAND SLAMS
One of the most sensational hands of all times occurred in a match in Sweden some time ago. Elmar Werner, secretary of the Swedish Bridge Federation, sat South at one table and wait-hang on to the king of hearts, and a successful club finesse brought the grand slam home. This was total points, and the Werner team scored 2,470 at that table.

At the other table, the East-West bidding went rather peculiarly and East wound up as declarer at seven diamonds doubled. At some stage of the proceedings, North had doubled a club bid by West and South opened the queen of clubs. This produced the king, ace and a small trump. East drew trumps and overtook the 10 of clubs through North for a ruffing finesse. This set up enough clubs in dummy to give East a chance to discard all his losing hearts. The grand slam was worth only 1,630 because East and West were not vulnerable, but the total of 4,100 points settled the match easily.

Also an interesting note is that the right opening lead would take care of both grand slams.

He Got Her Number, But Not The Girl!

Dear Walt: I would like your advice on something. I met this girl-at-a-school-dance-I-liked her very much, and she gave me her telephone number. I told her I was going to call around six the next evening. I called at five after six, and asked to speak to her. When she came to the phone, I said "Hi, it's me, Fred," and she said, "I don't know if you should call me because I'm kind of going with this guy." So I said "forget it" and hung up the phone. Was that right?—Worried.

DRINKING AGE
Dear Eile and Walt: What do you think about letting the age for drinking be dropped to 18 years instead of 21? And what about giving 18-year-olds the right to vote in Presidential elections?—Draft Bait.

SORORITY NEEDS HELP
Dear Eile: I'm a sophomore girl and have pledged one of the two private sororities that our school disapproves of (partly) because of the way they invite us. We spent the first two days of pledging being degraded in front of tons of boys at a popular teen hangout. None of us wore makeup, we had beehives and blue or green nail polish, red lipstick was smeared all over our faces, and we carried green boxes in our hands. We did noises (birds, planes, air raids and toilet flushes), proposed to strange boys and even carried them!

12-Year-Old Vietnamese Photographer Looks For Trouble In Saigon Streets

By JOHN NANCE
SAIGON (AP) — One of the most unusual sights in a city overflowing with strange sights is the slight figure of a 12-year-old Vietnamese boy darting in to the street battles, scrambling among the rubble, deliberately heading for trouble.

While other youngsters flee danger, he looks for it. He is a professional photographer and he has a thick stack of published pictures to prove it. Not much taller than four feet and only a smidgen over 60 pounds, bright-eyed Lo Manh Hung wears his cameras like a badge.

He has been taking pictures professionally more than two years, since his locally well-known father, Lo Vinh, was injured covering street fighting and needed help in his work. With the father, who is 38 years old, the pair form a team consisting of Saigon's oldest and youngest working photographers. The father, a camera man for 44 years, was born in North Vietnam, studied art and literature at a French university, but turned to his hobby of photography for income when times got tough.

For years he traveled, taking pictures throughout Indochina, and didn't marry until he was 43. A few months later he and his bride fled the Communists in the North and came to Saigon. They now have eight children. At 17, Lo Manh Hung is the oldest. The youngest is 18 months old. Lo Manh Hung and his father arise every day at 5 a.m. to be early on the job and usually don't finish until after 9 p.m. "That's 355 days a year," the father says.

In less hectic times, the pair scout about the city on a motorbike to cover official government affairs, weddings, airport arrivals, parties, fires, whatever may make news.

Lo Manh Hung helps with the film processing and printing, then turns messenger-salesman, peddling fresh prints to local newspapers and foreign news agencies.

His small, slim frame and curly hair are both hindrance and help in his work. Police invariably stop him as he tries to pass through official gates, demanding: "Where do you think you're going?"

He explains calmly he is the son of a photographer. Lo Vinh produces his credentials and cameras, and usually continues on his way.

But not always—and that, he says, is his biggest problem: convincing police he really is a working man and photographer.

The indignity of this size has been seen often by the Saigon press corps. As photographers jam together, elbowing, pushing, clawing for the right picture angle of an arriving dignitary, a crowded news conference, or a crowded news conference, who squirms through? Lo Manh Hung.

He snakes through a crowd not all fours, emerges in the front of the lot and clicks happily away with the best angle of all. He is so short he never blocks those behind and they let him be.

Prayer Is Subject For Malta Meet

MALTA — "Prayer works," Elder William J. Critchlow Jr., assistant to the Council of 12 Apostles of the LDS church, declared at the Rift River Stake quarterly conference Sunday at the Malta stakehouse.

"Is prayer working in your home? Do you pray often?" he asked. "If your prayers are answered, because mine have been," he continued.

"God is not dead. He is alive and hears your petitions and your pleadings. He is concerned about you and loves you when you keep His commandments, but He is angry when you disobey Him," he said.

In discussing service to others, the speaker noted there are three kinds of giving, grudge, which is a sense of obligation, and thanksgiving, which comes from a full heart.

Elder Critchlow is a former utilities executive and church leader from Ogden, Utah, and has been active with the Red Cross and Boy Scouts. Prior to his present church appointment in 1958, he was president of the South Ogden Stake.

Other speakers were Edwin H. Paskett, who presented the general and stake officers to the membership for sustaining vote. He also discussed the importance of paying tithing and fast offerings and the blessings received from keeping the Lord's commandments.

Blaire Wright of the stake presidency spoke on honesty. Jay Nielson, member of the stake presidency, discussed the value of music in one's life. He also spoke of good morals and the value of clean living.

Mrs. Critchlow also spoke to the group. Special music was presented by the Malta Singing Mothers with Mrs. Brent Udy conducting and Mrs. Deon Warr organist. Congregational singing was directed by Mrs. Ellen Warr with Mrs. Udy accompanist.

Prayers were given by B. Doyle Ward and Elbert Durfee. Special leadership and executive meetings were held Saturday and Sunday afternoon under the direction of Elder Critchlow.
