Cyrus Vance Leaves Seoul Saying Talks Very Useful

By WILLIAM RYAN, AP Special Correspondent
SEOUL (AP) — U.S. presidential envoy Cyrus Vance left for Washington today saying his talks with North Korean leaders had been "good and very useful." South Korean officials expressed general satisfaction, but legislative spokesmen of both the government and opposition parties were critical.

The official spokesman for the ruling Democratic Republic party said: "It is hard to believe that the contents of the communiqué would eliminate the people's worries about increased North Korean provocations." Assemblyman Kim Yung-sam, floor leader of the opposition New Democratic party said: "So little has been achieved that we wonder for what the American presidential envoy came."

Vance and South Korean President Chung Hee Park wound up four days of bargaining sessions with a joint communiqué which denounced "increasingly aggressive and violent actions of the North Korean Communists over the past 14 months in violation of the armistice agreement." The communiqué said Vance and Park "recognized the need for continuing modernization" of South Korea's armed forces and Seoul's plan to bolster its defenses by arming Korean war veterans.

Latest Peace Probes Fail To Set Basis For Bombing Halt

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER, AP Special Correspondent
WASHINGTON (AP) — The latest round of peace probing between the United States and North Vietnam failed to produce any basis for halting the bombing of the North and opening peace talks.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk, in reporting this Wednesday, declared the United States remains interested "in a serious move toward peace in the Hanoi area." He said the United States is ready to move in that direction.

As well as Paris. State Department press officer Robert J. McCloskey, asked whether Rusk's totally negative report on the probes covered the Thant and Fanfani explorations, replied: "It takes into account everything we know." "At no time has Hanoi indicated publicly or privately," Rusk said in a statement, "that it will refrain from taking military advantage of any cessation of the bombing of North Vietnam. Nor has it shown any interest in preliminary discussions to arrange a general ceasefire."

New Concept Set In Antiriot Plan

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A new concept called SWAT is included in a comprehensive antiriot plan developed by the Los Angeles Police Department, which had to cope with the disastrous 1965 Watts riots.

The plan is in a 150-page outline disclosed today but prepared and published last month at request of the President's Commission on Civil Disorders. "We have a SWAT team," said police Inspector Morton W. Winter, commander of tactical operations planning for the department. "That's our Special Weapons and Tactics team which breaks into four-man groups—a rifleman whose weapon has telescopic sights, a sniper and two officers with shot-guns and hand guns to provide cover fire."

Fifteen SWAT teams are available for such duty as protecting police stations, firemen and equipment—objects of snipers during the Watts riots—and retaliation against snipers. Thirty more such teams are being developed.

U.S. Marine Jets Hit Hue's Citadel

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. Marine jets bombed the massive brown-walled Hue Citadel for the first time today and American destroyers kept up an offshore bombardment of pockets in the ancient city where North Vietnamese remnants held out for a 10th day.

The Marine fighter-bombers, which had heretofore limited their attacks to rockets, napalm and tear gas, started using 250, 500 and 750-pound bombs in the accelerated land, sea and air attack against the Communist hide-outs.

U.S. destroyers fired five-inch shells into Hue in a continuation of a naval bombardment that spokesmen said was begun several days ago to augment the fire of land-based artillery.

A suspicious number of men of military age among refugees seeking to flee from the north side area of the fighting to the comparative safety of the south led South Vietnamese soldiers to cut an escape route. Allied authorities believe Viet Cong were choosing this means to get away.

Hughey said his voice description compared with the newsmen's leading them to believe it was the same caller.

Monday night's caller described himself as a "psycho" and told of more killings to come.

Meanwhile, Cherokee County Sheriff Julian Wright linked the slaying and the latest incident as a slaying. A teen-age girl and a woman, both of Gaffney, were found strangled last week.

Summary, Extended Outlook

Warm moist air moving up from the southwest and overrunning colder air near the surface over light snows in much of Southern Idaho late in night. This evening light snow is expected to continue intermittently today, probably giving way to a light flurries in western valleys and Magic Valley. A period of at least partial clearing is expected tonight and Friday as drier air displaces the moist air over us today. Temperatures will remain rather cool this afternoon and tonight but should be 5 to 10 degrees warmer Friday.

A deepening storm well off the coast of California this morning will move eastward and threaten to dump some heavy rains on Southern California in the next two days with heavy precipitation spreading to Arizona today or Friday night. Rain and snow with this system will spread across Nevada and Utah and northward into Southern Idaho by Friday night or Saturday.

The extended outlook indicates considerable clearing with little or no precipitation Sunday and Monday. Temperatures will average a little above normal Saturday through Monday.

Snowfall amounts reported at 8 P.M. today are generally light. The heaviest was reported at Fairfield, where 2 inches of very light flurries snow contained only .06 of an inch of moisture.

Afternoon temperatures were slightly warmer yesterday in the Snake River Valley from Boise to Pocatello and low night was considerably milder in this sector. Highs were mostly in the 30s, ranging from only 18 at Idaho Falls and the low 20s in the Wang River Valley and Camas Prairie to the low 40s at Caldwell and Ontario. Low night were in the 20s in western valleys and Magic Valley but continued quite cold in snow-covered eastern and northcentral valleys. The coldest reports this morning were 18 below zero at Fairfield, 8 below at the Atomic Energy Site and 14 below at Bear Lake. Idaho Falls dropped to 1 below during the night but moderated to 15 above by 8 a.m. Mplad recorded a low of 2 above but had risen to 14 by 8 a.m.

Ex-Governor Takes Blame For Deaths

By JOHN WOODFIELD
ANNAPOLIS, Md. (AP)—Four Maryland Govs., Theodore R. McKeldin broke down Wednesday at a hearing on a bill to abolish capital punishment and said he had allowed prisoners to be executed during his term of office. "I should have had the character to do what I should have done."

"I am ashamed to say that I hanged four people," McKeldin told the Judiciary Committee of the Maryland Senate, his voice breaking.

He appealed to the public clamor, and may God forgive me," he said, covering his face with his hands.

McKeldin, testifying in favor of two alternative bills that would abolish capital punishment, said, "The vengeance that sends a man out of this world into eternity is not ours but the Lord's."

Several witnesses who favored the proposed measures preceded the former governor, but would eliminate the death penalty entirely.

A bill backed by Gov. Spiro T. Agnew would permit the court to impose the death penalty at its discretion upon persons convicted of capital crimes for a second time.

Head Rests Required In '69 Autos

WASHINGTON (AP)—A federal auto-safety standard announced by Highway Administrator Lowell K. Bridwell will require manufacturers to install head rests on all passenger cars built starting Jan. 1, 1969.

"The need for protective head restraints is strikingly apparent in that about four million rear-end crashes occur in the United States each year—and a substantial number of these crashes produce 'whiplash' neck injuries," Bridwell said.

The National Safety Council estimates one-fourth of all car crashes involve rear-end collisions.

The head rests will be behind the driver and right front passenger. New Volkswagens have head rests and some American cars already have the attached cushions.

launch a series of events in conjunction with the Elks centennial year.

Most of the lodge's special programs during 1968 will be held in with the centennial observance.

A highlight of the Friday night program will be the initiation of 17 new members to be known as the Elk Centennial Class. Mr. Wilkins will preside over the meeting and conduct initiation ceremonies, assisted by other lodge officers.

Those who will make up the centennial class are Leslie Anderson, Larry R. Everton, Robert W. Giles, John B. Hill, Carl L. Leih, George E. Sargent, Harry Betty, George Galle, Conle Green, Arthur Jones and William E. Linnell.

Others are Victor W. Daugard, Ezra Gardner, Eldon J. Larson, James F. Grimm, Richard E. McChristian and Donald L. Schultz.

Mr. Wilkins said some million and-a-half members of Elks lodges throughout the nation will join in observance of the founding of the organization Feb. 16, 1868. Approximately 2,100 lodges in 50 states are planning centennial observances.

The BPOE was originally organized by 15 actors and entertainers who wanted to encourage good fellowship among men of the theater and lend a hand to members in distress.

More than $10 million is spent annually in educational and patriotic work and other benefits to American citizens. Robert E. Boney, Las Cruces, N. M., is grand exalted ruler of the national Elks organization.

WASHINGTON—It is no surprise to discover certain members of Congress, notably Rep. James A. Burke, D., Mass., pleading the cause of special ethnic interests in opposing President Johnson's proposed foreign travel tax. And this is a country which often seems more concerned with the plight of the peasant in Salerno or Tipperary or Tel Aviv than the poor working stiff in Chicago. Burke has expressed "fear" that Ireland and Israel, which he said many of his constituents would like to visit, would be hard hit by the travel legislation. He says he "couldn't" in good conscience, vote for a bill like that.

Well, it's a lousy bill, but not because its enforcement might affect the economy of other countries. For the American it has the same unappealing aspects as the politicians' craven refusal to impose an equitable tax on the oil, gas and other industries which now may deduct a fat, usually 27 1/2 per cent, depletion allowance from their taxable incomes. In short, it's unfair to the plain citizen.

What Johnson is asking for is a regressive tax, which imposes the same rates for all, irrespective of income or ability to pay. I am impressed not at all by the prospect that people who visit Europe and free-load on relatives may pay little or no travel tax because they do not buy the theory that certain foreign countries are, in effect, ethnic shirners and therefore sacred. Nobody asked me if I desired to pick up part of the check for a pilgrimage to the old country.

The President's bill calls the tax a form of "equality of sacrifice." Bah! It hits hardest at the middle income traveler who has saved his hard-earned dough for years and now wishes to live it up modestly in a real European hotel instead of bunking in a hay loft with some third cousin in Krakow.

Moreover, the tax would be merely a paper-work nuisance to the jet set, most of whom are either up to here in big dough or can deduct the trip as a business expense. Meanwhile, the single person who spends $750 to travel in Europe for 20 days would pay a travel tax of $150, or 21 1/2 per cent, in addition to a proposed 5 per cent tax on a plane or steamship ticket.

In presenting this legislative proposal to Congress, Treasury Secretary Fowler has implied the Administration has no alternative if it is to reduce the balance of payments deficit. He has also renewed his demand for a 10 per cent income tax surcharge to help pay for the Vietnam war and to head off inflation.

Naturally, Fowler did not mention the possibility of repealing or reducing the depletion allowance as a device for raising more revenue against inflation. That kind of tax is being considered in Washington. But it seems passing strange neither he nor any other Administration official has suggested we might improve our balance of payments position by putting a little heat on our dead-beat pals across the sea.

As of today, foreign countries and international organizations, including the United Nations—own the U.S. government $42 billion. This sum is made up of World War I and II loans, foreign aid credits, Export-Import Bank loans and agricultural sales programs.

Great Britain, for example, owes us $7 billion in World War I debts. But forget that. Poor Britain is in no position to get up even the interest. However, Charles de Gaulle's prosperous France owes us almost $5 billion, prosperous West Germany $1.5 billion, and prosperous Italy $1 billion. Meanwhile, Uncle Sam holds nearly $20 billion in foreign aid IOUs. Even Spain, which was neutral on Nazi Germany's side during World War II, is on the list.

Secretary Fowler says the proposed travel tax is "uncongenial." It is also a fraud on the ruddy body politic, not only because it infringes on the American's constitutional right to travel. It says it is perfectly proper to gouge the U.S. taxpayer to bail out the Treasury, but that it would be ungentlemanly to put the arm on countries that owe us money. Cal Coolidge once had an answer for this argument. "They hired the money, didn't they?" asked Cal.

That Tourist Tax

Tax on tourists' overseas spending, which President Johnson has proposed to help reduce the unfavorable balance of international payments, attempts to meet protests against unduly burdening teachers, students and others traveling on small budgets.

Even though the tax rate doubles on spending of more than $15 a day, the total effect still may be more nuisance than deterrent. Similarly, the proposed 5 per cent excise tax on plane and ship fares would probably provide little or no restraint.

The President himself acknowledged as much in predicting, in his State of the Union message, that even under the proposed limitations Americans will travel more overseas this year than ever. Furthermore, the $500-million by which the President hopes to slow tourist spending is only about one-seventh of the deficit in the balance of payments.

So what Congress is asked to approve is a form of tourist harassment that at best would have a negligible effect on the balance.

Dangerous Game

Lacking not only the answers to some essential questions concerning the seizure of the USS Pueblo but, more importantly, lacking insight into the minds of the leaders of North Korea, it is impossible to estimate the full seriousness of this "incident."

Serious enough it is, to be sure. The capture of another nation's ship on the high seas is and always has been, according to what little law exists between sovereign states, an act of war. It fully warrants the limited military preparations this nation has made, in conjunction with its diplomatic protestations.

Korea, which would inevitably be drawn into any conflict, is not South Vietnam. It is a strong, unified, well-armed country immeasurably better able to defend itself than it was in 1950.

More likely is it that North Korea is confident that the United States will endure almost any provocation short of full-scale attack on South Korea rather than embark on another war, and that pulling Uncle Sam's beard is a good way to impress friends and influence other Asians.

Coming hard upon the exposure of a plot by North Korean infiltrators to assassinate the president of South Korea and other government officials, it suggests we are dealing with a bunch of fanatics who are itching for a replay of the Korean War.

It hardly seems possible, however, that North Korea actually desires to force issues to the point of war, that it is so out of touch with reality that it believes the United States is too over-extended in South Vietnam to undertake another military effort in Korea.

Even did the North Koreans believe that, they must be aware that South

Secretary of State Dean Rusk has advised the North Koreans to "cool it." But the danger at the moment stems from the fact that, thinking they have achieved some sort of propaganda victory, they may be playing it too cool.

North Korea's release of an obviously phony confession by the skipper of the Pueblo, its denunciations of President Johnson's proposed tax on travel, whether Congress will adopt the levy in the form put forward by the treasury is questionable. In Western Europe this is not an academic question. For a half-dozen countries the tourist dollar supplies the margin of essential foreign exchange. What is more, if American travel outside the hemisphere is substantially cut back the recession that has slowed economic growth in Europe will in all probability be accentuated.

Economists are fearful that it will bring reprisals, hastening a trend already evident toward the kind of tariff walls and a string of national self-sufficiency that spelled disaster in the early 30's. In some instances—France is one—the United States has a favorable trade balance offset in part by the spending of the American tourist.

Italy in 1966 had a favorable tourist balance of $1.109 billion. This represents the total spent

MARQUIS CHILDS Proposed Travel Tax Attacked

WASHINGTON — Cumber-some, regressive, awkward, un-enforceable—these are the more polite denunciations of President Johnson's proposed tax on travel. Whether Congress will adopt the levy in the form put forward by the treasury is questionable.

In Western Europe this is not an academic question. For a half-dozen countries the tourist dollar supplies the margin of essential foreign exchange. What is more, if American travel outside the hemisphere is substantially cut back the recession that has slowed economic growth in Europe will in all probability be accentuated.

Economists are fearful that it will bring reprisals, hastening a trend already evident toward the kind of tariff walls and a string of national self-sufficiency that spelled disaster in the early 30's. In some instances—France is one—the United States has a favorable trade balance offset in part by the spending of the American tourist.

Italy in 1966 had a favorable tourist balance of $1.109 billion. This represents the total spent by foreign tourists over and above the amount of spending by Italian travelers abroad.

For Austria the figure was $420,000,000, for Greece $102,000,000, for Portugal, $178,000,000.

A report based on Department of Commerce figures shows the American tourist making a relatively small contribution to these favorable balances. For Italy, for example, Commerce puts American spending in 1966 at $153,000,000. The Italians put it at nearly twice that—$285,000,000.

Many European countries are putting a determined effort into increasing tourism from the United States. They have invested in advertising and various forms of promotion to attract not only Americans but West Germans and other inveterate travelers. The American travel ban—if it is effective—will slow if not halt this spending stream.

Greece has developed an impressive tourist boom with thousands of new hotel rooms available on the principal Greek islands. A decline in revenue from tourism would coincide with the return of many of the half-million Greeks working in Western Europe, notably West Germany, as a result of the recession there.

Spain with a marked recession would be hard hit by a slowdown in travel, since 42 per cent of foreign exchange earnings come from tourists.

Secretary of the Treasury Henry J. Fowler had hardly finished reading his lengthy statement on travel taxes to the House Ways and Means committee before members of Congress were raising doubts about countries that should be exempted.

The impact on those countries that rely on tourism will be not only in the travel tax. The Treasury package calls for reducing the present duty exemption of $100 to $10 and cutting the current $10 duty-free gift mailed back home to $1. This means the American and the school teacher from Wichita will think twice before buying knickknacks at the foot of the Spanish steps in Rome.

MR. SPECTATOR

Jill Miller Is In Town

Every once in awhile someone comes to Twin Falls who adds a lot of zip to the community. Such a person is Jill Miller.

We first met her at a recent Kiwanis meeting where she was speaking to the assembled "business and professional" men. One thing we liked about her right off was that she talked loud enough that she didn't even require a microphone in the Legion Hall.

Which proves she's no "Whispering Smith."

And which also, by this time, should give you some clue as to her identity. Right? She is a performer, an actress, a director in the theater and she's in Twin Falls as director of the upcoming Dilettante production "Sound of Music."

If the production generates as much zip as the director has then it will be something because she practically bubbles over with enthusiasm. And this enthusiasm has to be contagious. When you are around Miss Miller you know she's there—and that's just the way it should be.

But getting back to that appearance at Kiwanis. Among other things she said that all the people are watching and that she has a lot from just watching other people. Common people like Mr. Spector and friends. She gains, she said, from their actions and their thoughts and deeds and many times draws on this fund of knowledge in making something click.

She was high in praise of the acceptance of an actor—professional or otherwise—by the public is the thing.

There's no doubt about it—Miss Miller will be good for Twin Falls. She'll add new "vim and vigor" to all she touches and she'll whip the local efforts toward "The Sound of Music" into a good, top-flight production.

You can bet four bottom dollars on that. So now all we non-performers have to do is wait for opening night—the night when we watch the actors and they watch us.

HELP NEEDED
 Dear Spector:
 Could you help me in any way to locate a Donald Watson? He used to live here in Twin Falls and he and his wife had a new baby girl several weeks past.

Here is my problem. We received a package today containing baby clothing and the names inside are Henry, Wanda and girls. It was mailed from the Z.C.M.I. store at Salt Lake City. The hospital suggested perhaps you could help in getting in Mr. Watson's present address. I called all the other Watsons in the telephone book but they couldn't help so we would appreciate it if you would publish this request.

You see, our problem is that our name is Donald Watson too—but we don't need the baby clothes and the other Watsons do! If anyone knows his present address they could write me at 1681 Second Avenue East or they may telephone 733-5083.

IT AIN'T THE WORD
 One of the ironies in the case of the four American sailors who deserted the U. S. Navy because of their Vietnam view is that the ship they jumped was the aircraft carrier Intrepid.

So they are occasionally referred to as newscasts as "the Intrepid deserters."

Grammatically, this may be sound. But the way it comes over the air, "Intrepid" hardly seems the appropriate term for deserters.

There must be a better way to phrase it.

Romney: Not Expected To Quit

WASHINGTON (NEA)—Some associates of Gov. George Romney of Michigan think he will stay in the fight for the 1968 Republican presidential nomination even if he loses both the New Hampshire and the Wisconsin primaries.

Even if they should prove wrong on this long-range forecast, even if two such defeats should dry up his big money sources and make really effective campaigning thereafter almost impossible, those individuals are convinced Romney will be a hard campaigner through the April 2 Wisconsin primary.

What they are saying is that, in the event of a really bad defeat in New Hampshire, the governor would not quickly take himself out of the picture and clear the way for Gov. Nelson Rockefeller of New York or some other moderate candidate.

Since Rockefeller is heavily committed to support of Romney, then so long as the latter's breath steams up his political mirror even slightly, the New Yorker is completely locked in.

Of course, Rockefeller already has said publicly and privately that he has no intention of moving to advance his own cause at any stage. But the point of this Romney-Rockefeller tie is that it cuts down Rockefeller's options. At least through April 2 and probably longer, he could not change his mind if he wanted to—unless he were willing to cast away his credibility.

Romney has done well so far in New Hampshire, according to most on-scene accounts. His ground-level, face-on campaigning has been every bit as good as predicted by the most optimistic backers. And, on such issues as Vietnam and related foreign matters, he has been much more plausible than he sounded through much of 1967.

But his open rivalry, Richard Nixon, is also off to a strong New Hampshire start and the polls indicate that he began with a sizable edge.

Possibly only some Nixon mistakes of high magnitude, or a sharp turn among New Hampshire voters, could turn the tide further disillusionment with the increasingly chaotic Vietnam war, could benefit Romney enough to make him a close threat in the March 12 primary.

What Romney associates fear, however, is that Romney's rather disastrous 1967 so thoroughly put voters off that the public in today virtually tuned out on him. Conceivably, he might be making as good a case today as any candidate in the field.

The question is: Who is listening?

There is no point at this juncture in reviewing all the 1967 events and utterances which have brought the Michigan governor to his present pass.

It is obvious that the effect of his verbal conditions on Vietnam was a cumulative one, and that his "brainwash" statement of early September was climactic. He has never really made it back from there.

But it also seems plain, in careful retrospect, that some of the published appraisals were overhyped and even unfair.

Perhaps the worst of this sort were some of the accounts of Romney's December trip to Europe and Asia.

This reporter's private conversations, though conducted in part with persons admittedly friendly to the governor's cause, turned up rather persuasive evidence that he held his own quite ably in his face-to-face meetings with chiefs of state and other prominent figures as he cut his way through the fields from Paris to Moscow to Saigon.

Moreover, there is pretty good reason to believe that the more horrendous reports of Romney's Vietnam visit, portraying him largely as a bumbling, insensitive clown, were badly distorted and appeared to reflect highly selective and seriously foreshortened versions of his performance there.

The sad lesson in this is that when a man is down, he gets stomped on. However much unfairness may have contributed to the public's impression of George Romney, the only consequential thing today is whether he has any real hope of altering that impression materially for the better.

With the New Hampshire voting just a month away, the prospect of inducing that important change is not bright.

Heart Trouble

Q — After an electrocardiogram, my doctor told me I had an incomplete right bundle branch block of the heart. Is this bad? I take Atarax, but only when I get pains in my chest. Is this the best treatment?

A — In heart block, the degree of seriousness (ranging from inconsequential to ominous) must be determined by a doctor with special training in heart disease. Since Atarax is a tranquilizer, I would assume that your block is not the serious kind. The latter is best treated by implanting an electronic pacemaker under the skin.

Q — About five years ago, I had my first attack of chest pain and difficulty breathing. My doctor told me to hold a nitroglycerin tablet under my tongue for these attacks. What causes the pain and will the attacks go away in time?

A — Your symptoms suggest angina pectoris. The pain is caused by a spasmodic cutting off of the oxygen supply to your heart. You feel the same type of pain in your arm when your doctor pumps up his blood pressure machine. Angina pectoris does not usually disappear spontaneously, but with proper treatment the attacks can be controlled.

Q — Is it harmful to use aspirin that smells like vinegar when you open the bottle?

A — When aspirin has been kept on the shelf for a long time either at home or in the store it breaks down into acetic and salicylic acids. It is the acetic acid that smells like vinegar. Since salicylic acid is much more irritating to your mucous membranes than aspirin, such tablets should be discarded.

Q — What causes a person to have styes?

A — A sty is a small abscess of the eyelid caused by the Staphylococcus. It may occur at any age but is seen most commonly in children and young adults. The infection may be introduced from the outside by rubbing the eyes. Hot applications help to bring the sty to a head. When this happens it should be opened and the pus evacuated.

Three Cheers!

Coast to coast, "welfare" is a public scandal. Hard-working Americans are overtaxed to support millions who won't work.

In Wichita, a typical city, the war on poverty gets $1,338,500 of your dollars this year. One-and-a-third million to aid 5,000 poor.

So Wichita war-on-poverty officials are adding an additional 110 employees to a permanent staff of 124. Regular employees average $5,000 each, part-timers $1,000 each.

So the people who are spending the money are keeping more than half of it!

In my hometown, if your payroll exceeds 25 per cent of your operating costs you're in trouble. This government agency thinks nothing of spending 54 per cent on payroll — not counting officers, supplies, cars and so on.

And to complete this typically deplorable mathematical formula: while Wichita's welfare employees get paid off in thousands of dollars, there will be left for the poor people of Wichita less than $133 each!

Newspaper executive Richard Capen recently hit the nail with his head when he said it's time Americans "have a little less pity for those who refuse to help themselves and a little more respect for those who do."

He's right. We're presently obsessed with concern for the chronic criminal, the drifter, the dope addict, the misfit — the loser. So some people have become deliberately unclean and unproductive. They strive to be unsuccessful. They adopt failure as a goal!

Professional troublemakers protested: "Give us money or we'll riot!"

And the more we paid them off the more they riot. Last year more than 100,000 rounds of ammunition were fired by Americans at Americans in America!

Capen believes — and I say amen — that we should start right now, reviving publicize for the more than 100,000 who, dear the achiever.

Our responsible majority has been threatened, coerced and blackmailed by the irresponsible until we are going broke "paying off."

Britain's government devalues the pound and the world trembles.

Our government, with extravagant spending, has been devaluing the dollar 3 per cent every year!

Any housewife, any business, knows that there are many luxuries which we would like to have but cannot afford; they simply are not worth going bankrupt for.

It's time the government recognizes this incontrovertible fact and spends public money only for necessities until it can afford frilleries.

And public money should never be spent, abroad or at home, to encourage indigence and idleness and certainly never to promote promiscuity.

Further, let successful governments and successful businesses and successful individuals stop apologizing for it. We're rich because we earned it. You talk about "fighting poverty"; American industry has created 10 million new jobs in six years; that's fighting poverty!

A hand please, for the worker, the producer, the achiever!

Three cheers for the upper dog!

Lincoln's name is immortal not because he lived in a log cabin but because he worked his way out of it!

Flood Victims, Striking Copper Miners Receive Special IRS Attention

By TOM KUHN
 OGDEN, Utah (AP) — Alaska flood victims and striking Western copper workers are getting special attention from the Internal Revenue Service as they file 1967 income tax returns.

"We're making a particular effort to help these people file early so they can get refunds back early," said Ronald A. Nickerson of San Francisco, a regional official of the IRS's Western States Region.

The computerized center at Ogden will gather $18.5 billion from taxpayers in California,
 Alaska, Utah, Idaho, Oregon,
 Washington, Nevada, Nevada, Arizona and Montana between now and the April 15 filing deadline.

Despite the economic plight of copper-producing states, the total tax bill from the 10-state region is expected to be $500 million greater than 1966 collections, Nickerson attributes this to California's population growth.

In Fairbanks, where floods last August damaged homes and businesses, federal tax men were helping residents prepare property damage claims for tax relief.

The IRS got the cooperation of copper companies in getting workers' W-2 income statements in the mail soon after Dec. 31.

"We went to the management of Anaconda Co. at Butte, Mont., to request that a special effort be made to get the W-2s out as early as humanly possible," Nickerson said.

Copper workers in Utah, Arizona, Nevada and Montana have been on strike since last July 15.

Like the Alaska flood victims, copper workers were advised to seek help from district IRS offices so returns could be filed early. Many were notified of the special service by flyers accompanying the W-2 forms from the employers. "We prepared the returns if they couldn't do it themselves," Nickerson said.

For idled Kennecott Copper Corp. employes in Utah, the IRS "tried to grease the tracks all along the line," said Roland Wise, district IRS director at Salt Lake City. Wise said the idled workers, as a group, filed early.

The special attention given strikers and those who suffered loss in the Fairbanks flood came at the mailbox.

The returns arrive at the Utah center as part of 150,000 pieces of mail received daily. Machines open the mail, and machines doublecheck arithmetic. Machines will also send out a $2.5 billion total refund this spring to Western wage earners and businessmen.

"The money will cover salaries of 4,100 employes who work on returns in the seven-acre-large IRS center and for sending back 1,000 incomplete returns weekly to taxpayers for signatures, W-2 forms and social security numbers.

"I haven't filed my own return," said Weaber. "I've been too busy."

Nixon Brings Strike Into Campaign

By RYLAND MORIN
 BOSTON (AP) — Richard M.
 Nixon has brought the strike of sanitation workers in New York City into his presidential campaign, declaring that breaking the law "cannot and must not be rewarded."

Two of his statements about the strike touched off thunderous applause, as he campaigned in New Hampshire for its March 12 presidential primary, the earliest in the nation.

Nixon is in Boston today for a $500 per day fund-raising event, a meeting with Massachusetts Gov. John A. Volpe and an address to the 101st annual Middlesex Club Lincoln Day dinner.

He told a tightly packed audience of 1,400 at a Republican rally in Derry, N.H., Wednesday, "there is no protest that justifies the use of lawlessness or violence to accomplish its end."

Earlier at the University of New Hampshire in Durham, N.H., on said of the New York strike,
 "breaking of the laws of the state of New York, or any other state cannot and must not be rewarded by giving those who break the law what they are asking for."

Mayor John V. Lindsay was correct, he said, in asking Gov.
 Nelson A. Rockefeller to send the National Guard into the city.
 Rockefeller turned down Lin-dsey's request for guard aid and ended the nine-day strike with a

PHASEOUT OF IDAHO STATE inventory tax was the topic of discussion at two meetings in Twin Falls Wednesday. Among those attending were: from left, William Roberts, R-Buhl, state representative from Legislative District No. 24; J. Tim Brennan, director of the Idaho Retailers Association; Howard Allen, now president of the Twin Falls Chamber of Commerce, and Joe Hall, director of the Idaho Dairyman's Association. The Twin Falls meetings were the first of a series to be conducted in the state by Mr. Brennan and Mr. Hall to clear up misinformation and confusion regarding the phaseout.

Political Strategists To Urge Fight

By NEIL GILBRIDE
 MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) —
 AFL-CIO political strategists plan to urge President Johnson into an open fight against Rep.
 Wilbur Mills, D-Ark., to win enactment of the President's proposed 10 per cent income tax surcharge.

Labor sources believe Johnson's income tax bill is dead unless he appeals to the voters over the head of Mills, who is chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee and a chief congressional opponent of the proposed tax hike.

"Unless pressure is built up in the congressional districts, there isn't going to be a tax bill," said one high AFL-CIO political expert who works closely with Congress and the White House.

"We're going to start giving him hell," the source said of the AFL-CIO's plans to fight Mills in the Senate of Johnson's income tax measure.

Asked if he thought Johnson might follow suit with a stiff political attack on Mills, the source said, "we hope he will."
 Labor sources think Johnson has been too soft on Mills in trying to work out a compromise on the tax legislation.

Alabama Area Has Gas Scare

LAMISON, Ala. (AP) — Some 200 residents of three small central Alabama farming communities fled their homes late Wednesday night after a Southern Railway freight train derailed and the highway patrol issued reports that deadly cyanide gas was escaping.

However, troopers later reported the gas had not escaped and residents were permitted to return to their homes.

COMPANY GROWS
 SPOKANE (AP) — General
 Telephone Co. of the Northwest,
 Inc. has become a $200 million utility serving customers in four states, Washington, Oregon, Idaho and Montana.

White Star would like to turn its back on you for a moment

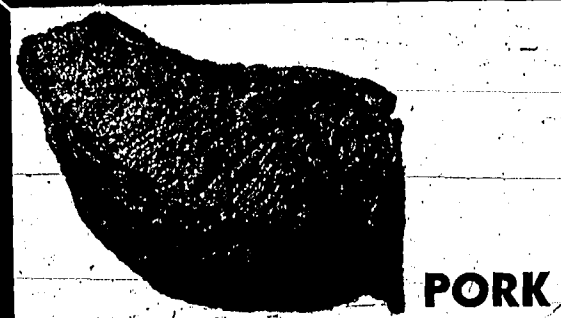

We'd like to take a minute to remind you that White Star and Chicken of the Sea tuna are one and the same—have been for years. It's just that in some parts of the country it's known by one name, in other parts the other name.

Soon, in the interests of unity, it will all be called Chicken of the Sea, no matter where it's sold.

The reason for this ad is that we want you to know, before we revise the label, what's really behind it.

BUT no matter what you call it, it's still America's favorite tuna.

ASKED TO REPORT
BOISE (AP) — Residents of the various regions of Idaho have been invited to report to a statewide seminar on health planning, scheduled for April 25 in Boise under the sponsorship of the governor's advisory council on comprehensive health planning.

Chairman Joseph E. Karpach, Boise, said the meeting will hopefully give the board an overall picture of what local residents consider to be the most pressing problems and will stimulate interest in developing regional health planning groups.

HEARINGS ORDERED
BOISE (AP) — The State Supreme Court has ordered further hearings on a claim by a Boise man seeking workmen's compensation for an alleged hernia. The Industrial Appeal Board had ordered the claim to be heard because the claim was not filed within 30 days of the claimant being aware of the condition.

The claimant, Wallace Y. Christensen, has requested a hearing to show the board his claim was legitimate. The 30-day limit is designed to prevent an employe from defrauding an employer with a false claim.

PERMIT GRANTED
BOISE (AP) — The Idaho Public Utilities Commission reported Thursday granting of a truck permit to Vincent J. Miera, Pocatello. It authorizes him to haul agricultural products within a 100-mile radius of Pocatello.

Founders Day Observed By Pershing PTA
RUPERT — Past presidents of the Pershing PTA were honored during a special Founders' Day program at the school recently. The program was under the direction of PTA president, Mrs. Kay Peterson.

Past presidents were given seats of honor before the PTA membership and each was presented with a gift from the group. The women received a pin and the men a tie tack. Those honored were Mrs. A. G. Fredrick, Mrs. Con DeToma, Jay Throckmorton, Mrs. Hugh Walker, Cecil Wilson, Wally Wilcox, Ed Engert and Mrs. John Tracy.

Unable to attend were Mrs. Wayne Sunstrand, Mrs. W. E. Aldridge, Wayne Drace, Johnson, Al Falls, Bill Raab, Ed Rensmeyer, Lillian Ross, Chuck Twitchell and Violet Griswold. The group sang oldtime songs, in keeping with the Founders' Day spirit, and special entertainment, also in the old-fashioned theme, was provided by a quartet of school children, Darlene Jensen, LaDawn Fredrickson, Michael Jensen and Royce Jensen.

A young combo, the Unprofessionals, played music of today.

Governor Has Signed All But 4 Bills
BOISE (AP) — Gov. Don Samuelson has signed all but four of the bills passed during the special legislative session. The governor signed eight Wednesday, including a bill appropriating $446,000 from the permanent building fund for a new state library and another to put $200,000 into the governor's emergency fund.

Also among those signed was a bill setting maximum limits under protective easements can levy for fire protection. Those limits are 18 cents per acre per year in areas roughly north of the Salmon River and 30 cents per acre per year in the south. The state owns slightly more than half the land in the associations.

The others were minor measures not involving appropriations. Among the bills remaining for the governor's attention is the measure appropriating $155,000 to pay legislative expenses.

BANQUET SET
BOISE (AP) — Idaho Democrats will hold a Jefferson-Jackson Day banquet March 2 in Boise with U. S. Sen. Henry Jackson, Washington, the featured speaker.

THREAT PROBED
BOISE (AP) — A telephone bomb threat brought early dismissal Wednesday for the 1,700 students at Boise's Borah High School.

Principal Richard Nelson said the caller, with a deep male voice said the bomb would go off in an hour. Police advised school officials it would take an hour to check the sprawling school. So students and teachers were sent home for the day. Police found no trace of a bomb, and at the expiration of the hour nothing happened.

Lawyers Hit Rules Against News Media

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — An organization of 25,000 lawyers denounced Wednesday a report by an American Bar Association committee setting up rigid restrictions of news media. The executive and policy committee of The American Trial Lawyers Association issued the statement at the group's mid-winter meeting.

The trial lawyers said the report, prepared by a committee headed by Justice Paul C. Reardon of the Massachusetts Supreme Court, "is not in the best interests of either the rights of the individual or the community."

The Reardon Report also was criticized Tuesday by the president of the Associated Press Managing Editors Association. "The ABA's House of Delegates is scheduled to vote on the Reardon report in Chicago Monday."

The report suggests that limits be placed on the amount and type of coverage which could be carried about a crime, an investigation, an arrest or a trial. The statement by the trial lawyers said the Reardon report "has placed unnecessary restrictions on police officials, lawyers, the courts and the press in its attempt to solve the long standing problem of 'fair trial and free press.'" It added that "we believe the solutions set forth in the Reardon report do not truly rectify the situation, are of dubious constitutionality and of doubtful practical value."

White House Television Tour Made

WASHINGTON (AP) — Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson took America on a television tour of the White House today to show them the paintings and antiques acquired since her husband took office.

The only previous such tour was conducted by Mrs. John F. Kennedy in 1962 during what Mrs. Johnson called her "wonderful restoration for which everyone is grateful."

Mrs. Johnson's tour was broadcast by the National Broadcasting Co. as part of the "Today" show.

As a symbol of the continuity of White House life, the First Lady showed an armchair in the Blue Room recently presented by a patriotic organization, which she did not name. It was one of 36 bought by President James Monroe after the war of 1812 and disposed of sometime later in the 19th century.

Three of the set came back to the executive mansion during the Kennedy administration and a fourth this year.

"It just shows the long continuity and the flow," Mrs. Johnson commented. "There's no end, it goes on and on, the history of this house."

Problems Caused Plane To Stray

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Pentagon says the U.S. Navy A-1 Skyraider shot down by Chinese MIGs Tuesday inadvertently strayed into Communist airspace because of navigational difficulties.

There was no immediate word on the fate of the pilot of the slow-flying, propeller-driven craft. The pilot of a second Skyraider which "escaped" the MIG attack and fled to Da Nang, South Vietnam, "last saw the other plane in a vertical dive and smoking," the Pentagon said.

Phil G. Gooding, assistant secretary of defense said the two Navy planes were about 50 miles from China's Hainan Island.

Red China, which claims a 12-mile water and airspace territorial limit, accused the United States of war provocations in a Peking Radio broadcast monitored in Tokyo.

"Navy pilots of the People's Liberation Army immediately dealt a heavy blow and shot down one of them and damaged the other," Peking said.

The Pentagon denied several hours later that the second plane had been damaged and said its pilot was unharmed. The Pentagon said it did not know how many MIGs were involved.

The Skyriders were on a ferry flight from Cubi Point in the Philippines to the aircraft carrier Coral Sea in the Tonkin Gulf.

It was the ninth reported penetration by U.S. planes of Chinese airspace. Another Skyraider came within a few miles of Hainan Island only a few days earlier, the Pentagon said, but turned back apparently without incident.

Civilian Dies In Campus Shooting
SANTO DOMINGO (AP) — Officials averted more fighting between police and students at National University Wednesday night by clearing the campus after a shooting exchange in which one civilian was killed and three policemen were wounded.

The government warned that troops would move into the campus unless students lay themselves up. To dislodge an estimated 50 leftist students holed up in university buildings, it was agreed that students who passed a brief screening by university, police and government representatives would be allowed to go home. Police would then search the campus.

Half a dozen students were detained for failing to produce satisfactory identification. The disturbance, most violent since President Joaquin Balaguer took office in July 1966, erupted after the government banned a student march in support of demands for more state subsidies for the university.

Blaiberg May Go Home In Two Weeks

CAPE TOWN, South Africa (AP) — Philip Blaiberg, the world's only surviving heart transplant patient, may be allowed to leave Grooto Schuur Hospital and go home in about two weeks, Dr. Christian Barnard indicated Wednesday.

Another man's heart was transplanted in Blaiberg, 58, last Jan. 2. Barnard, chief surgeon in the case, will leave South Africa Saturday for a trip to the United States, Puerto Rico and South America. He is scheduled to be made an honorary fellow of the American College of Cardiology and to visit Gov. Ronald Reagan of California.

Western Sicily Still Stunned, Afraid One Month After Quake

By GERALD MILLER
Associated Press Writer
PALERMO, Sicily (AP) — One month after the earthquake that killed hundreds of persons and wrecked or damaged 51 communities, Western Sicily is still stunned, bewildered and afraid.

Nearly all of the 30,000 homeless are still living in tents or in requisitioned buildings, miles from their former homes. So far 235 bodies have been recovered from the ruins of the 32 farm towns that were closest to the center of the quake. But scarcely a day goes by without another body or two being found by teams digging away at the wreckage.

It may be years before all the wreckage is cleared. Three towns—Gibellina, Salaparuta and Montevago—are but piles of ruin on the mountain side.

In others, like Santa Margherita Belice, Santa Ninfa, Salemi and Poggioreale, most of the buildings still standing are not safe. Nearly all will have to come down. Trucks and bulldozers pick away at the debris. More earthmoving equipment arrives from other parts of Italy. But one month after the quake Jan. 15, the wreckage looks almost unchangeable, except for pathways cleared through it.

For the refugees in the countryside, churches and hospitals have been set up under canvas. At the tent city outside Santa Ninfa, social workers have started a kindergarten. But everywhere one hears the same anguished question: "When can we at least move into the barracks?"

Most of the refugees are living in tent camps miles from their homes. Some of the men tried to get to the fields to work, but the distances were too great. There have been no facilities for truck or bus shuttles. The barracks are close to home.

There have been more than 115 aftershocks since the disaster, and almost daily new ones ripple through western Sicily. Palermo and other major cities escaped serious damage, but panic sent a large part of the population pell-mell into the countryside.

Fearing that one of the aftershocks may wreck the cities, thousands have still not returned. Thousands more who live on upper floors have moved in with friends or relatives on lower stories.

There is still fear of epidemics. When meningitis broke out early this month, there was a run on sulfa drugs. Fights broke out among customers. A black market sprang up.

Many still take daily doses of sulfa pills despite warnings in the press that this could be harmful.

Then meningitis fears closed Palermo's schools. They have not reopened. Adding to the tension is a growing fear that once the immediate suffering is alleviated, western Sicily—already the poorest part of the island—will end up even more impoverished because of the quake.

An estimated 15,000 persons have quit the disaster area for other parts of Italy. Thousands have already found jobs in the north.

On Feb. 14, all the labor unions of Sicily stopped work for two hours to call attention to their demand that something dramatic and comprehensive be done to help western Sicily and the rest of the island toward a better way of life.

The weather is the only bright spot in the situation. Spring has come suddenly. The bitter cold.

the snow and rain that hoist the stricken zone in the days after the quake have been replaced by sun and warmth. The fields around the ruins are filled with daisies and mimosa in bloom.

By the end of the month barracks outside Gibellina, Salaparuta, Montevago and Santa Ninfa should be ready for refugees. They will be cramped—and room per average family is planned—and in summer, under the blazing Sicilian sun, they will be stifling.

But the refugees will be inside, and close to what used to be home.

2 Senators Say Confidence In LBJ Ebbing

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP)—Two senators who support administration objectives in Asia say public confidence is ebbing in President Johnson's handling of the Vietnam war.

Their assessments paralleled Gallup Poll findings that only 35 per cent of the people surveyed approve of Johnson's war strategy.

Sens. Harry F. Byrd, D-Va., and Hugh Scott, R-Pa., who subscribe to the President's policy of opposing Communist aggression in Southeast Asia, said the people are disturbed because they can see no end to the war.

Byrd, who has called for stepping up the war to a winning pace, told the Senate Tuesday that in talking to more than 500 constituents during a recent tour, "I found deepening concern and increased dissatisfaction with the way the Vietnam war is being conducted."

He said Virginians support the troops sent to fight in Asia and "support our government in time of crisis, but increasingly they question the wisdom and judgment of our leaders."

Byrd called for a reappraisal of policies on the basis of widespread U.S. commitments he said make this country vulnerable in many areas, including Korea and the Middle East.

He said these "dramatize the need for the administration to develop a sense of urgency in bringing the Vietnam war to an honorable and early conclusion, which is not likely to be accomplished without a change in policies and procedures."

Scott told a student audience in Brookings, S.D., the people are frustrated "with an unpopular war to which no one sees an end" and by a "bath of solutions" that seemed likely to solve nothing at all.

Reviewing world problems, he added: "Wherever on the great globe itself the leaders of the people seem inept and their excuses for errors lack credibility, then the national mood of the country turns to frustration and depression. That is the national mood in the United States today."

Chairman Earle G. Wheeler of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, asked by Capitol Hill newsmen if he felt nuclear weapons might be required to defend the South, answered: "I do not think nuclear weapons will be needed" in defense of the allied base in South Vietnam where a mass Communist attack is believed imminent.

Gen. Wheeler declined to answer questions about circumstances that might require using nuclear weapons. And he wouldn't discuss whether U.S. nuclear weapons were stockpiled in South Vietnam.

AMONG THE MANY Magic Valley high school musicians who went to Boise Thursday to participate in the All-State Music Clinic are these three Wood River students, from left, David Rickey with horn; Sue Anderson, flute, and Jeff Gayatan, who "ham it up" as they prepare to leave. # Seven Yanks Advance In Net Tourney

SALISBURY, Md. (AP) — Jan Leschley of Denmark and seven Americans advanced to the quarter-finals with straight set victories Wednesday in the International Indoor Tennis Championships.

Leschley, top-seeded among the 21 foreign entries, settled down after a jittery start—during which time he complained of photographers and the noise of typewriters in the Civic Center— and defeated Gene Scott of New York 6-6, 6-1.

Charles Funnell, the top-seeded American seeking his third straight title, was wild at the start of his match with Bob Wilson of England but finished strong for a 6-4, 6-4 victory.

Arthur Ashe, seeded second behind Pasarell, overpowered Torben Ulrich of Denmark 6-2, 6-1.

In afternoon matches, Americans Marty Riessen, Bob Lutz, Clark Graebner, Stan Smith and Cliff Richey advanced easily through the third round.

Riessen, of Washington, Ill., scored mild upset in defeating former United States champion Rafael Osuna of Mexico 6-3, 6-4.

Seattle To Put Team In Domed Park

By JACK HEWINS
Associated Press Sports Writer
SEATTLE, Wash. (AP) — Seattle sports fans voted this city into the major league Tuesday and are planning now for the where and the when and the profile of their $40 million all-weather stadium.

Twice before they struck out at the ballot box, but this time the electorate of King County hit a home run with a whopping 62.3 per cent majority approval of a bond proposition to fund the project.

The city was given an American League baseball franchise for 1969 on condition it provide a suitable stadium. The election outcome saved the league from becoming an Indian river.

Major league football is expected to follow baseball's trail into the Pacific Northwest. For lack of a stadium, the region lost a chance for a National Football League expansion team in 1966 when the voters turned down a stadium issue. They had done the same in 1960.

The new stadium should be ready for use by 1971 or early 1972, said Joe Gandy, chairman of the State Stadium Commission appointed last year by Gov. Dan Evans. In the meantime, the Seattle Seahawks will play in Slick's Stadium, the only available plant, which is to be enlarged to seat 30,000.

Seattle will remain in the Pacific Coast League this summer—and then its new team will take over not only the PCL territory but the PCL president, Dewey Soriano. He will be general manager for Pacific Northwest Sports, Inc., owner of the new franchise.

The effect of the change on other PCL teams is unknown, but the team that will be reimbursed for the loss of Seattle and any other territory.

Whooping Crane Killer Fined $500

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — An Arlington, Tex., man was fined $500 Wednesday after entering a plea of guilty to a charge of killing a whooping crane.

John Harold Hamilton, 42, entered the plea before Federal Judge Woodrow Seals.

The whooping crane was shot Jan. 4 near the Arkansas Wildlife Refuge. It was rushed to the Seattle hospital at San Antonio but was dead on arrival.

Hamilton said he and friends shot the whooping crane accidentally while hunting snow geese in the Gulf Coast area near the refuge.

Hamilton said the whooping crane was wintering at the refuge and he was believed to have been there in the 1966-67 winter season.

MINI CO
Times-News Sports Editor
RUPERT — Catching fire in the second half, the Minico Spartans moved into the lead over Idaho Conference foe Bonneville by clinching at least a share of the title by downing the Bonneville Bees 74-66 Wednesday night.

against Skyline at Idaho Falls Friday.

Minico sophomore Jim Boatwright, 6-6, came off the bench to steady the Spartans midway through the first quarter and kept fast opening Bonneville from getting away. The end for the Bees came when Minico erupted for nine points to open the second half. After that the Spartans held away from five to 10 points.

Getting its first half points from a 10-0 run, Minico pushed Minico out of a man-to-man defense at the end of the first quarter and for a while penetrated Minico's zone for enough points to stay ahead. But Lee's production dropped to seven points in the second half and Bonneville had no one to answer the triple-pronged Minico attack of Tom Cook, Dean Mayas and Boatwright.

Minico hit 56 per cent for the night and got at least five fast-break crumples when Bonneville tried to get back on defense promptly. The Bees hit 49 per cent but that was down from the first two quarters.

The first half was everything a championship game should be. In the opening period the lead changed hands six times and there was one tie. Bonneville threatened to move away with 3:40 left when Stan Hatch hit twice, Perronoud once and Lee got a three-point play that opened up a 17-11 margin.

Minico then asserted Boatwright who immediately gave the Spartans control of the boards. Minico closed, in within two points and trailed 22-19 at the buzzer.

Boatwright shot Minico into a tie 40 seconds into the second half Wednesday night and a succession of four ties and three lead changes before Perronoud and Lee shot the Bees into a three-point intermission edge.

Minico's zone took effect immediately in the third quarter and gave the Spartans a fast break out of his forward spot, combined with Cook and Boatwright to explode the Spartans from a 36-33 deficit into a 42-36 lead. Mayas ended up the quarter with 11 of his 17 points.

The biggest lead came on an Irving ready hook at 33-43 with two minutes left.

Going into the final period, James hit two outside jumpers to cut the margin to five but that was as close as the Bees could come. Over the final two minutes there was a foul to break Minico's stall game and the Spartans hit eight straight from the line to preserve the lead.

The same thing applies to Dietrich, gunning for its third straight Northwest Conference title. The Blue Devils will be at Hills where their defense will have to hold a team capable of a lot of points. The chaser, Hagerman, has a tough chore of beating Camas County at Fairfield and hoping Bliss comes up with the upset. Again it's win or tie for Dietrich.

Bruins Invade Pocatello And Highland

At full strength for the first time in a month, the Twin Falls Bruins wind up their basketball schedule—with a pair of road tests at Pocatello and Highland Friday and Saturday night.

Von Weiz and Stapler, who both have recovered from ankle sprains and Coach Charles Farmer believes the takedown of the past couple of weeks, has been overcome.

The Bruins are real good in practice this week and the boys seem to be excited. I think we're going to make a good showing down there. We don't want Pocatello to win the SIC championship with an easy game against us," he said.

Pocatello, rated No. 3 in the state currently tied with Borah for the league lead. The Bruins are the only team on the schedule that the Bruins haven't beaten at least once.

Twin Falls has a chance to come out with a 9-5 SIC record, the best in several years.

Joe Pepitone Inks Contract With Yankees

Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Joe Pepitone—long black hair, sideburns, double-breasted pin stripe, lawyer and all—signed another $38,000 contract Wednesday and promised the New York Yankees he would be down all the way.

"Last year was a disappointing season for me and the Yankees," said Pepitone who hit only 251 and 13 homers for a ninth-place club. "I took things too easy, got on the field late and didn't loosen up enough before the games. Even when I went home to visit my mother, she didn't like me.

"The big thing is to try not to get hurt this year. I was hurt the last month of last season. Let's face it, I don't give it my best this year. I won't be around to talk to you fellows next winter."

Pepitone was one of five signings announced by the Yankees at a news conference. No. 10 was released but he was learned Pepitone got the same salary as last year, $38,000.

Pepitone, 27, never has lived up to his great promise. In fact, he has been moving backward in recent years, coinciding with the Yankees' slump into the second division.

"I'm not disappointed with my career," he said, "only with last season. I averaged about 25 homers a season. The big thing is bearing down and being in top condition."

St. Bonaventure Nips Seton Hall

SOUTH ORANGE, N.J. (AP) — Bill Butler's three-point play after 20 seconds of overtime triggered an unbeaten and fourth-ranked St. Bonaventure to an 81-71 basketball victory Wednesday night over lowly Seton Hall, a 12-time loser.

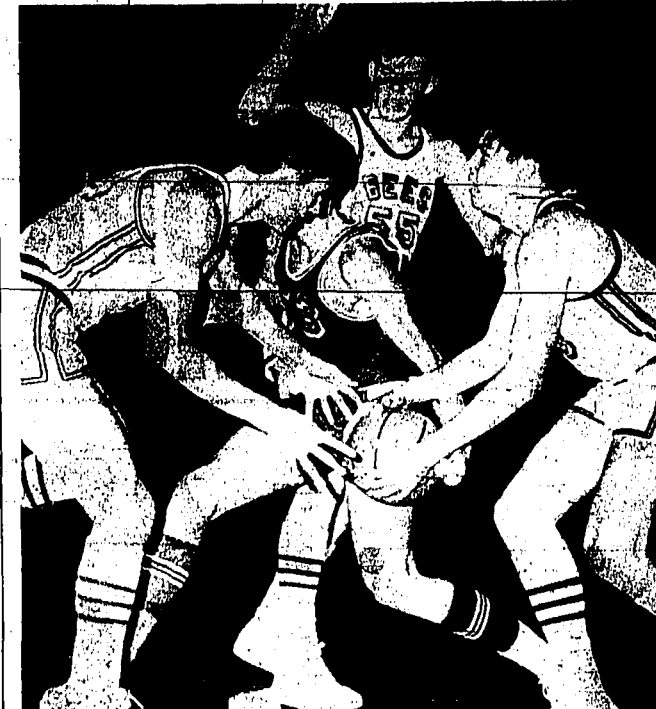

It was the 18th triumph of the season for the Bonnies, who blew an 11-point lead in the last 12 minutes of regulation time and played the final eight minutes without Bob Lanier, who 6-foot-11-center.

After Butler's basket gave the Bonnies a 66-63 lead, Seton Hall scored a field goal, but Johnny Hayes made two free throws and then tapped in a rebound. A three-point play by Hayes with 2:14 remaining opened a 73-67 lead.

Duke Trounces Wake Forest

DURHAM, N.C. (AP) — Big Mike Lewis scored 31 points and pulled in 29 rebounds while playing only 26 minutes Wednesday night to power 10th ranked Duke to a 105-85 Atlantic Coast Conference basketball victory over Wake Forest.

U.S. Speed Skaters Help Ease Skiing Disaster In Olympics

By WILL GRIMSLEY
GREENOBE, France (AP) — America's surprisingly successful skaters, doing their best to smooth over the deluge of disappointment that struck U.S. skiers, sparked again Wednesday as Terry McDermott captured one medal and Tim Wood closed in on another in the Winter Olympics.

McDermott of Birmingham, Mich., the 1964 Olympic 500-meter speed skating champion, but given little chance to place this year, overcame three-year retirement and poor ice to win a silver medal in the event.

Despite his 48th and last starting position, the gritty 27-year-old McDermott sped through pools of water in many sections and tied Medge Thomassen of Norway for second place in 40.5 seconds.

Erhard Keller of West Germany, a 23-year-old dental student who has the pending world mark of 39.2, won the gold medal in 40.3.

"I didn't come back to the Olympics just to skate," said McDermott, a sales representative who figured for a certain 1964 Olympics. "I wanted to win a medal."

Wood, the U.S. men's figure skating champion from Bloomfield Hills, Mich., sent American hopes soaring anew a few hours later by jumping into second place with the completion of the five compulsory figures.

Wood trailed only Wolfgang Schwarz of Austria, who became the heavy favorite following the shocking collapse of his countryman, Emmerich Danzer. The world champion figured for a certain gold medal plummeted from first after Tuesday's first two figures to fourth with virtually no chance of winning a gold or silver medal.

State Wrestling Tourney Opens In T.F. Tonight

The combined Class A and B state wrestling tournaments get under way in the Twin Falls gymnasium at 7 p.m. Thursday with the Class A division opening as a hectic race.

The B division looks like a battle among Teton, Parma and Middleton with Declo a definite darkhorse.

Class A coaches believe that the title might go for a record low in points. "I think," says host Coach Roger McChoner, "that a team that can get two state champions and fill in with maybe a runner-up or a couple of birds will win it. The balance throughout the various districts is just getting too good."

If his appraisal is accurate, no less than 12 Class A teams could take the crown. It also brings attention to Pocatello which will bring back two defending champions in John Caccia, going for his third state crown, and Orlando Millward.

But the Indians have only three district third places going for them for auxiliary points. The appraisal also turns attention to Idaho Falls, Twin Falls, Capital, Caldwell, Soda Springs and Boise—all with three or more district titles.

The first official action of the tournament will be a coaches meeting and weigh-ins Thursday afternoon. The first session will have four mats in action, running through 96 matches. Friday afternoon will see a jump to 130 matches with 48 set for Friday evening. Another 130 in the recall division will be held Saturday afternoon with the first through fourth places decided in the finals Saturday night.

All afternoon matches begin at 1 p.m. and evening programs at 7 p.m.

CSI Travels To Weber And Eastern Utah

College of Southern Idaho runs into a rough one-two weekend at Weber State frosh and College of Eastern Utah this weekend and the Eagles' proud 18-3 record may be in for a little shuffling.

The Eagles will complete their season next week by hosting Boise College in the home game of the season Tuesday night and wrapping it up with two games against the Montana State frosh Friday night and Saturday afternoon.

"We're surely going down there to win two but I think I'd stay home if someone would guarantee me a split," smiles Coach Sutton. "These are two of the best three or four ball clubs we've played all year."

The Eagles again apparently will be without Fred Trenkle who is still trying to shake off mononucleosis.

"Clarence Phillips' play against Idaho State was very encouraging last Tuesday and he may be able to give us some of the underhand help we need. But he's only 6-2, too," Coach Sutton said. "I know that if we are going to win on this trip we will have to be a better ball club than we've been in the last couple of games."

School Bus Purchased At Glens Ferry

GLENS FERRY—The Board of Trustees for School District No. 192 accepted at their Monday meeting the bid of Shrum Motor, Glens Ferry, for a school bus at bid price of $7,476.39.

Trustees discussed teacher contracts and the resignation of Roger Eakin, high school math teacher, and Norman Catron, second grade teacher who is to be married.

An additional day was approved for the spring vacation, which will extend from April 12 through 16, with school resuming the morning of April 17.

Don Carquhan, George Peter and Dick King will attend the state-sponsored trustee workshop in Twin Falls April 26. The classes, the G. P. Club, and the alumni fund have purchased an advertising board which will be located downtown, to make public announcement

Martin Has Scorn For Accusations

By EDMOND LEBRETON
WASHINGTON (AP) — Chairman William McC. Martin Jr. of the Federal Reserve Board brushed off an accusation that he was guilty of nonfeasance and malfeasance of office and spoke up again Wednesday for a tax boost at least as big as President Johnson recommended.

The accusation was fired by Martin's perennial antagonist, Chairman Wright Patman, D-Tex., of the House Banking Committee. Patman based it on his interpretation of a 1966 law that it is a mandate to the Federal Reserve Board to keep the home mortgage market supplied with funds by buying paper of agencies concerned.

Martin said there is no mandate and that the board was exercising its discretion.

Smiling, Martin said of Patman, "I have had many pleasant exchanges with him. I don't believe he is serious about malfeasance in office."

ONE OF TWO MEN nominated by the local Jaycees for inclusion in the 1968 edition of "Outstanding Young Men in America" J. Robert Alexander, has contributed markedly to civic affairs in Twin Falls. The other nominee, whose name will also appear in the publication, is Larry Christopherson, former elementary music instructor in Twin Falls. He has returned to college where he is continuing his education at Evanston, Ill.

2 T.F. Representatives Are Picked As Outstanding Men

A Twin Falls attorney and a former Twin Falls educator were picked a year ago by the Twin Falls Jaycees to receive the Junior Distinguished Service Award and the Outstanding Young Educator Award at the annual awards banquet.

The men were nominated earlier by the local Jaycee chapter. The two men, J. Robert Alexander and Larry Christopherson, were picked a year ago by the Twin Falls Jaycees to receive the Junior Distinguished Service Award and the Outstanding Young Educator Award at the annual awards banquet.

Mr. Christopherson, who taught elementary music for two years in Twin Falls, left the school system at the end of last year and is continuing his education. He is presently in Evanston, Ill.

Nixon Favors Stance Of Lindsay In Garbage Row

By RELMAN MORIN
DURHAM, N.H. (AP) — Richard M. Nixon strongly supported Mayor John V. Lindsay's position Wednesday on the strike of sanitation workers in New York, thus indirectly criticizing the action taken by Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller.

"The sanitation union broke the law, the state law," Nixon said, "and I think that the law having been broken, Mayor Lindsay was correct in their saying—and requesting—that the National Guard come in, in order, in effect, to do the job they were not doing."

"Breaking of the laws of the state of New York or any other state cannot and must not be rewarded by giving those who break the law what they are asking for."

"Thunderous applause from some 3,000 students and townspeople gathered in the University of New Hampshire field house interrupted Nixon at this point."

Rockefeller, although he continues to deny presidential ambitions, is considered one of Nixon's leading contenders for the Republican nomination.

The governor and mayor have been engaged in a dispute over handling of the sanitation strike. Nixon is campaigning in New Hampshire for the state's presidential primary election March 12.

Resuming Aid

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States is resuming military aid to Jordan, the State Department announced Wednesday.

"Details are now being negotiated with the Jordanian government," press officer Robert J. McCloskey told a news conference.

All U.S. military aid to the Arab countries and to Israel was suspended when their war broke out last June. The arms freeze was lifted, however, on Oct. 24, 1967, on deliveries to Israel, Lebanon, Saudi Arabia, Morocco, Libya, and Tunisia.

Earlier Date For Apollo Shot Possible

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — The space agency may orbit America's first three-man astronaut crew two months sooner than now officially scheduled and squeeze in three hitherto Apollo flights this year.

This accelerated launch schedule, made possible by recent successes in America's man-to-the-moon drive, is currently under consideration by National Aeronautics and Space Administration planners.

NASA's official schedule currently calls for astronauts Walter M. Schirra Jr., Donn F. Eisele and Walter Cunningham to ride the first manned Apollo moonship on an Earth orbital flight in the "last quarter" of this year, meaning no earlier than October.

Dear Abby

BY ABIGAIL VAN BUREN
DEAR ABBY: My husband is not what you'd call "handsome." He's middle-aged, a little on the flabby side, and he's losing his hair. But he's a bus driver, and Abby, I don't think you know how crazy some women are for bus drivers. It must be the uniform, because the women fall all over George like he was a marine captain or something.

George is that most of the women on his run are mental cases. They have tried to tip him, give him their phone numbers, and they fight for the seat right behind the driver as they can blow his neck. One lady even PINCHED him.

Should I ask George to get into some other line of work? Or should I let him stay on that bus with all those crazy women?

GEORGE'S WIFE

DEAR WIFE: Men who mess the public (in uniform and out) will be tipped, tempted, and even plucked occasionally. Give 'em lots of love. And trust him. If a man is happy at home, he won't know Sophia Loren from Phyllis Diller.

DEAR ABBY: I have a friend who has two adopted children. They are cute, but very spoiled. This friend seems to think that just because her children are adopted it's all right to brag about them all the time.

She starts out with, "I can brag about my children because they really aren't mine," then she goes on and on telling you how smart they are, and how beautiful they are, until you just want to scream.

Abby, I was taught that it was bad manners to brag about your own, but do you think because children are adopted and their parents had nothing to do with how smart and good looking they are (bloodwise, that is) it gives them the right to brag, brag, brag? And have you any suggestions for shutting this lady up?

READY TO SCREAM

DEAR READY: No one has the "right" to "have" others with talk of his or her children, be they adopted or otherwise. If you are a good friend, if you care about her up by tipping her off. But if you can't tolerate her, avoid her.

DEAR ABBY: When my son was living at home he was so fussy about his shirts if there was a little wrinkle in the collar he'd throw it back in the hamper for me to do over.

Well, he's married now, and you should see what he's putting up with. His wife never washes anything unless everything is dirty and they need something clean. I've seen her wash one shirt out in the kitchen sink.

BEST DEFENSE IS "HOOK" PLAY

Victor Mollo credits the defensive play in today's hand to Rafael Munoz, who has represented Spain in the European championships some five or six times. It is a fine play, but it also has been called a "hook" play, since a similar one can be found in most books.

It was the club suit. Here is where the book play came in. Senior Munoz led his king of clubs. South dropped the 10 and West signaled come-on with his eight. It was more than a come-on signal. It also was a necessary unblocking play. The five of clubs dropped South's queen. West was in with the ace and returned the deuce to give East two more club tricks with the jack and seven.

This whole play is worth studying. You should note there is no way for East and West to collect four quick club tricks unless East starts by leading his king. But if West leads on to his right the suit will block, provided declarer plays the six and not the nine on the third round.

Of course, an opening low club lead would have made the defense easy, but West does have a very normal heart opening.

CARD SENSE

Q—The bidding has been:
West North East South
Pass 1♣ Pass 2♣
Pass 3♣ Pass 3♦
Pass 5♣ Pass 7♦

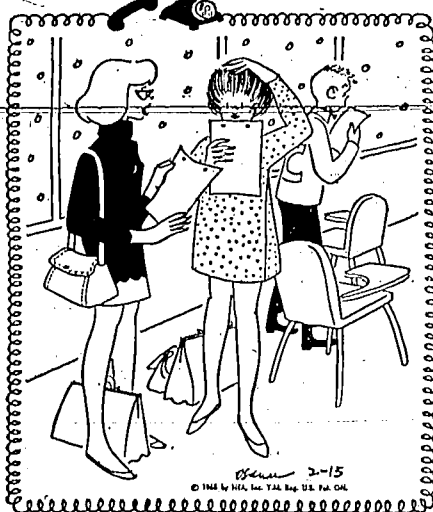

You, South, hold:
A♠ Q♠ J♠ 10♠ A♣ K♣ Q♣ J♣ K♥ A♥
What do you do now?
—The seven diamonds. Your partner must be showing a very good diamond suit, and at worst marked South with the queen of the suit. If you want to take a sure profit, just bid six diamonds.

TODAY'S QUESTION
Instead of bidding three diamonds, your partner jumps to four spades over your two spades. What do you do now?
Answer Next Issue

South wins the heart opening in dummy and plays the three-of-spades. The first tendency of anyone is to duck in accordance with the rule of partner must be showing a very good diamond suit, and at worst marked South with the queen of the suit. If you want to take a sure profit, just bid six diamonds.

Should Dad's Job Bar Friendships?

Dear Ele and Walt: My parents have managed a bar or tavern ever since I can remember. This never seemed to be a problem. But lately some of my friends can't come to my house because of this, and I can't understand why. I'm not allowed to enter the bar myself, and I've never had beer or whiskey and don't plan to. I've asked my parents why they can't do something else, but my mother says my father could never quit. He's just cut out for work like that because he likes being around lots of people. I've been asked to my friends' homes and desperately want to return the invitations. Please help! — Clean Home.

Dear Clean: Unfortunately, some people pluck their stereotypes from the movies. In Hollywood, bars come in just two varieties. Model 1 is the John Wayne "brawroom" with a breakaway furniture and flying customers. Model 2 is the sin and seduction center of so-called "sophisticated" films. You can't do much to alter this brainwash. So "return" the courtesy of invitations by bringing some homebaked cookies or a small bouquet to those families that won't permit their kids in your home. Don't take it as a personal rebuff, since you're obviously welcome in their homes! — Ele and Walt.

Dear Ele: I really have a problem! I like this really nice boy and up until a few days ago he liked me. Then this girl wanted to get back at me and she wrote a letter to the boy and signed my name to it. It was all full of rotten stuff such as "I'll leave no stone unturned" "stay out of my life." He switched the greeting and signature so that it was to me and from him, and sent me the letter. I don't want to accuse the girl, but I suppose it's the only way. Do you agree? — The Victimized.

State Land Rates May Be Raised

BOISE (AP) — The next regular session of Idaho's Legislature will be asked to consider raising the rates the state may charge persons who purchase state land.

Members of the Idaho State Land Board adopted a resolution Tuesday proposed by a board member, State Auditor Joe R. Williams, which asked that the legislature be asked to raise the interest, now at four per cent.

The veteran state official said the rate was lowered in 1953 from six to four per cent, but the lower figure is now far below the current market of 6.75 to 7.5 per cent interest on land transactions.

Most money from state land sales goes into the public school endowment fund, he said, and raising the rate would increase the fund.

The board decided to close to mineral leasing the South Fork of the Payette River below the site for the proposed Garden Valley Dam north of Boise.

The State Board of Corrections asked the Land Board for permission to acquire more than 1,200 acres near the new state prison site for pasture for cattle.

It was decided if any land in the area south of Boise were obtained, it should be the state's to acquire, he said, and the state would profit for state schools.

No action was taken, but land commissioner Gordon Trombley was directed to apply to the U.S. Bureau of Land Management for any land in the area suitable for agriculture as "flood lands" the state is due for Idaho school land taken over earlier by the federal government.

Future Events Reported At C. of C. Meet

SHOSHONE — Reports were given of coming events at the Chamber of Commerce meeting Monday noon at the Manhattan cafe.

Dennie Everett, agent at the Union Pacific Railroad, reported Trains 17 and 18 will continue to run through June 10. There will be public hearings, as advertised by the railroad. Decision as to whether the trains will be taken off or stay will probably be determined somewhat by public interest and their votes at these hearings, he said.

Guests urged chamber members to continue to sponsor a special event for farmers, whether it be a dinner or outstanding social program affair.

Waldo Faught, a guest at the meeting, announced the Wood River Soil and Water Conservation district hay and management meeting to be held at the courthouse this week.

Other guests were Corwin Silva and Floyd Silva.

The Scout breakfast sponsored last Sunday by the Chamber was attended by 110 Scouts and their fathers.

Howard Adkins led a discussion on the flood control projects as proposed and a committee will be organized to take action on that matter.

John George, legislator, reported on the special session of Legislature, stating major action centered around the fire fighting bills, money for education consideration and other corrective measures.
