Explosion Shakes Soviet Embassy

WASHINGTON (AP) — A pre-dawn explosion shook the Soviet Embassy just four blocks from the White House today and President Johnson called the incident a "senseless act."

The White House issued a statement saying a vigorous investigation is under way and "the President has asked that every effort be made to apprehend those responsible."

Press Secretary George Christian said the inquiry was primarily being pressed by the Federal Bureau of Investigation, Police and Soviet officials said no one was injured by the 5:52 a.m. explosion that shattered windows in the embassy and nearby buildings and scattered debris across a wide area.

Police could not say immediately what type of explosive was used. It apparently was detonated on the concrete ledge of a first-story front window. The bureau has offered the services of its laboratory and identification facilities and will investigate any leads developed outside of Washington. An FBI laboratory technician was sent to the scene at police request.

investigation was hampered, according to Soviet informants, because no debris from the bomb apparently survived the blast. Informants also said that no message was left.

An FBI spokesman said although Washington police are handling the investigation, the bureau has offered the services of its laboratory and identification facilities and will investigate any leads developed outside of Washington. An FBI laboratory technician was sent to the scene at police request.

An Army lieutenant and a master sergeant, both wearing fatigues, entered the four-story stone and brick building several hours after the blast, but would not say whether they were demolition experts.

Police Capt. Francis Conley replied, "I don't know," when asked what type of explosive was used. "That's why our lab people are here collecting evidence," he said.

At midmorning, police permitted newsmen to inspect the window where the blast occurred. One newsmen said a heavy wooden desk which apparently had been near the window was

U.S. Marine Jets Return To Hue

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. Marine jets returned to the battle for Hue today for the first time in five days as one of the Vietnam war's most savage and sustained campaigns went into its fourth week.

The Marine pilots sent bombs, rockets and napalm into Communist troops dug in among a row of shanties just outside the south wall of the Citadel.

AP Correspondent George McArthur reported that the bombs scored a direct hit on Communist ammunition dump touching off a spectacular flash and a fire that cast a pall of black smoke over the city.

Marines on the south bank of the Perfume River, across from the 15-yard strip bombed by the jets, could see figures running in the "war" and firing with their machine guns.

Earlier the Marines on the south side of the river broadcast warnings across telling civilians to leave the area and the North Vietnamese and Viet Cong holding out in the former Imperial Palace to surrender or die.

When no white flag went up, the Marines sent artillery barges slamming into the Communist positions and the Viet Cong with tear gas. This touched off a heavy fire-fight that echoed all over the coastal city 400 miles northeast of Saigon.

Lt. Gen. Robert Cushman Jr., commander of the U.S. Marines in Vietnam, said the battle in Hue could go on for several more weeks because the enemy still was able to send in fresh supplies and troops.

Cushman told newsmen in Da Nang one Marine battalion had suffered serious casualties in the fighting and would be replaced.

He estimated that the Communists had put an entire division into the Hue battle and said they are committed to fight to the last man. The enemy is believed to be moving in fresh men and supplies through gates they control in the northwest and southwest corners of the Citadel and through tunnels and sewers beneath the east wall.

Cushman said soldiers of the U.S. 1st Air Cavalry Division were attacking a fortified village on the outskirts of Hue along the Communists' supply route and, once it falls, the soldiers would move to seal off the last enemy approach to Hue.

The Communists still hold all of the Citadel's south wall, much of the west wall, and control sections south, east and west of the Citadel, despite the efforts of 4,000 allied troops to dislodge them.

U.S. Marines and South Vietnamese troops have reported killing 3,000 enemy soldiers since the Communists seized most of Hue Jan. 31 in the lunar new year's offensive against 35 cities and towns.

About 100 Marines have been killed and many more wounded. Lt. Gen. Hoang Xuan Lam, commander of the 1st Corps area, said 400 of his troops had been killed and 700 wounded in and around the Citadel.

$986,000 Loan For Salmon Tract Approved By Interior Department

WASHINGTON — Sen. Frank Church announced Wednesday that the Department of the Interior has approved a $986,000 loan to the Salmon River Canal Co., Hollister, for improvement of the company's water distribution system.

The Idaho senator said that Sec. of Interior Stewart Udall signed the final approval papers Wednesday and sent the application to congress.

The loan, to be made under the Small Reclamation Projects Act, goes before the interior committee of both the House and Senate. The application remains with the committee for a period of 60 days. If no adverse action is taken by either committee the loan then becomes effective.

Bureau of Reclamation officials said the funds will be used to line the canals of the company's system in order to prepare for possible increases in water supplies. Still pending is a feasibility report which could provide additional water to the Salmon River Canal Co. from the Snake River, from surplus flow from Rock Creek and ground water from the Snake River Plains recharge system.

William Lanting, Hollister, president of the Salmon River Canal Co., said in Twin Falls Wednesday that the application for the loan was filed about a year ago.

He said the major portion of the $986,000 loan will be used to line the first five miles of the main canal in the upper portion of the Salmon Tract. He said after this part of the canal is lined, there would be a gain of about eight per cent more water than farmers presently are getting.

The other part of the loan will be used to replace small structures and for replacing an old flume across Deep Creek.

Backers Of Rights Bill Plot Action

WASHINGTON (AP) — Some Senate backers of President Johnson's civil rights bill, already dealt one serious setback, plan jettisoning an open-housing provision in an effort to salvage the original measure.

Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield said he will propose tabling the controversial open-housing section — an amendment to the administration bill — when debate resumes today. Tabling would kill the amendment.

Other supporters of open housing talked of a bid to modify the amendment in hopes it might be made more acceptable to opponents.

Both strategies aim at saving the civil rights bill itself, which would make it a federal crime to interfere with Negroes and civil rights workers pursuing equal rights.

The Senate voted 55 to 37 Tuesday for cutting off the debate, seven short of the two-thirds vote needed for closure. The debate has been going on since Congress reconvened Jan. 15.

Swedish Aide May Serve As Mediator

SEOUL (AP) — A ranking Swedish diplomat who arrived today to join the four-nation commission which supervises the Korean armistice may mediate in the Pueblo case, reliable Korean sources said.

The sources said Lt. Gen. Tomar Finmark, a former ambassador, arrived without the usual announcement and other protocol procedures. No comment was available from either the Swedish delegation to the Neutral Nations Supervisory Commission (NNSC) or U.S. spokesmen.

Lloyd Webb Seeking Congress Nomination

Lloyd Webb, Twin Falls attorney and former Eleventh Judicial District Judge, Wednesday announced his candidacy for the Republican nomination for Second District Congressman, a post now held by George Hansen.

Mr. Webb is the third candidate to officially announce for the post following a Feb. 12 announcement from Cong. Hansen that he will vacate the seat to run for the U.S. Senate position now held by Sen. Frank Church.

Earlier this month, State Sen. Don Loveland, Burley, and Dick Smith, Rexburg, a member of the state Board of Education, announced their candidacy for the U.S. Congress position on the Republican ticket. Also mentioned as likely candidates are George Forschler, Burley, and Mary Adams, Idaho Falls, Bonnevile County Probate Judge.

In announcing his decision to seek the Republican nomination, Mr. Webb said he would campaign aggressively and "do all possible to keep the Second District in responsible Republican hands."

Members of the Twin Falls County Republican Central Committee endorsed Mr. Webb for the candidacy in their February meeting and voted to urge that he seek the office.

As to issues in the 1968 election, Mr. Webb said he believed the primary items are the "chronic mishandling of foreign affairs by the Johnson Administration; their lack of interest in and inability to solve the problems of the American farmers; their grossly inadequate approach to the rebellion in the cities by American young people, and in general, their 1930 reaction to 1970 problems."

Samuelson Sees No Objection To Bargaining By Teachers

BY BARLE L. JESTER
BOISE (AP) — Gov. Don W. Samuelson said today he sees no objection to local bargaining by teachers on salaries and working conditions.

He added that he would "emphasize that he sees no basic differences between the Idaho Education Association and a labor union which enrolls teachers as members."

Asked if he thought a union of teachers would be good for education in Idaho, Samuelson replied: "We have them in everything else. If they are led properly, and are really out to improve education instead of just pouring more money into it, I see nothing wrong."

Asked if he could see a difference between the Idaho Federation of Teachers, now in the process of formation, and the Idaho Education Association, he replied: "Not on the surface."

He said he understands the purpose of both is for teachers to work together to improve conditions in their profession.

He said that local bargaining by a teachers' organization with school district boards of trustees may be of some value because "problems vary from district to district." In a news conference ranged over a wide area, the governor also said he:

— Will decide in the next few days whether to accept an invitation to join nine other governors in a trip to Japan. He said he likely will accept if he is convinced the visit would aid Idaho industry. He noted Idaho sells $10 million worth of wheat and $1 million worth of peas and lentils to Japan annually.

— Also has been invited to visit Vietnam en route home from Japan but probably will not do so. He said the decision on what to do in that country is up to military authorities. He added his personal view is that the United States either should exert enough power to win, or get

McNamara, Fulbright Still Disagree On Naval Action

WASHINGTON (AP) — Heavy adversaries after a 7 1/2-hour confrontation, Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara and Sen. J. W. Fulbright still disagreed on the real story of the naval engagement which prompted the first U.S. bombing of North Vietnam.

McNamara issued a 21-page account of the affair, over Fulbright's objection, "contending the administration proved conclusively that the U.S. destroyers Maddox and Turner Joy were attacked by North Vietnamese torpedo boats in international waters on Aug. 4, 1964.

He termed "monstrous" any suggestion the United States induced the attack, seeking an excuse for its subsequent retaliation.

Fulbright, the Arkansas Democrat who heads the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, said the public statement McNamara issued "does not tell the whole story by any means."

Fulbright did not relate his

Rain On Main Fills Drain Creatures From T. F. Gutter

Admittedly there has been some excess moisture in Twin Falls in the past few days, as is evident by gutters and intersections still filled with water because of the city's lack of storm sewers.

However, Robert Adams who operates the Tropic Aquarium, 559 Main Avenue W., is wondering if the water will eliminate change hasn't gone a bit too far.

Tuesday he acquired four salamanders. The amphibians, normally residing in swampy regions, were found in the gutter across the street from his aquarium by a number of children and brought to him for his safekeeping.

The ugly creatures resemble a lizard and measure about 10 inches in length. They have a gill at the upper top of their heads and are able to stay in water for long periods of time by surfacing and breathing at intervals. Mr. Adams said he has not yet decided what to do with the creatures or where they came from originally.

Mr. Adams said he thought they had come out of the storm sewers until he learned there are no storm sewers in Twin Falls.

City Engineer Ron Scheuffele said there is a cross drain in the vicinity of the intersection where the salamanders were found and the cross drain is designed to carry rain water across the street under the pavement, usually remains with some water in the lower portion of the pipe, even after normal rain water has cleared the streets.

He said probably when rain water caused the drain to fill, the salamanders floated or swam into the gutter.

Reports from the U.S. Weather Bureau in Kimberly show there has been at least some rain recorded each day for the past seven days and during that period a total of 1.14 inches of rain has fallen.

In the local area the heaviest storm was Monday night and Tuesday morning with .51 of an inch in that storm. As of 9 a.m. Wednesday the weather bureau reported .15 of an inch of rain, with indications it would continue, increasing to at least a half-inch during the day.

For the next five days, the bureau forecasts more of the

Postponed

Preliminary hearing scheduled for Wednesday at 10 a.m. in Twin Falls County Probate Court for Ed Heath, former Twin Falls police officer charged with planting false evidence has been postponed.

Judge Richard Reed postponed the preliminary hearing until March 20 at the request of Prosecuting Attorney Michael Felton who asked for additional time because of the recent workload of his office. Douglas Kramer is defense attorney for Mr. Heath.

SO YOU THINK it's been a little wet in Twin Falls the past few days? What's coming up out of the gutters. Young Robert Adams inspects three of the creatures that were found by youngsters in his neighborhood and turned over to him by the Tropic Aquarium at 559 Main Ave. W. The animals apparently were swept from a damp cross drain under the street by rising water in the gutter.

Gov. Kirk Returns To Florida Amid Criticism

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP) — Gov. Claude Kirk returned from California today amid criticism because he was out of state during a teachers' walkout that kept more than a half million pupils out of class.

"I will go into the county as I always do and break the core. That is to say, I will go to Miami," the governor said. Kirk has said the source of the dispute is in the state's bigger cities.

The governor took note of criticism about his six-day absence from the state. "I can handle my job by telephone," Kirk said. "Is it true that I have to be there hourly? Do you think the phones don't work in California? Does President Johnson have to be in Vietnam to handle the situation in Vietnam?" Kirk said.

Florida Atty. Gen. Earl Faircloth said Tuesday night the suits that school boards and taxpayers have filed to try and force teachers back to work are academic.

"How can you force teachers to teach?" he asked in a speech at Gainesville. "How many do you put in jail for violating an injunction?"

The Board of Education met Tuesday and voted to give State

School Supt. Floyd Christian emergency powers to cope with the crisis that closed schools from Pensacola to Miami and has kept about half of the 1.3 million pupils out of class.

Some 26,000 of the state's 66,844 teachers had quit their jobs in a group to reject what they consider stingy financing of the state's 1,800 public schools.

Kirk planned a round of meetings with advisers, including his legal aide, Wade Hopping. Hopping said Tuesday he did not agree with Kirk's claim at a Los Angeles news conference that the walkout would be solved quickly.

"I think he's being counterproductive to Phil Constantis (executive secretary of the Florida Education Association) who has been saying the walkout is a complete success when it's not," Hopping said.

Mothers, church school teachers, legislators and engineers were among those recruited as substitute teachers. Pupils in Titusville and Daytona Beach walked out of school Tuesday protesting their substitutes and, in many counties with classes open, attendance was reported down.

—Dade County's school board, faced with 217,000 pupils out of class, issued an ultimatum to teachers to return by Feb. 29 or face legal action.

The powers voted to Christian Tuesday after he called the situation a "violation of everything we stand for in America" included authority to pay unlimited substitutes with state funds and to shorten the school day so teachers can hold double sessions.

The teachers contended the special session of the legislature, which ended last Friday, provided just $110 million in funds for public schools while $267 million is needed.

Minidoka Trustees Eye Building Plans

RUPERT — Minidoka County school trustees have scheduled a meeting with Grant Brower, a Pocatello architect, March 6 to discuss building proposals for two new junior high schools for the county. Mr. Brower designed Memorial School for the Minidoka County.

The scheduled meeting came as a result of a recommendation by a University of Idaho survey team which evaluated the county's school system a year ago.

The team decided the system's schools were overcrowded and that possibly construction of the new schools, one in the east end of the county and one in the west, would alleviate the situation.

No definite plans for the construction or bonding have been undertaken at present, according to Asst. Supt. Doyle Lowder, who said the trustees are now in the process of determining if the district can build and studying proposed costs and financing.

Lowder said the trustees have visited other new schools in the state to study new facilities. When the board has completed its study of the proposed building situation, he continued, it will present the information to a citizen's committee, which will in turn determine the feasibility of the proposal.

If the plans appear feasible to the committee, they will present them to the public.

The next meeting will be held March 4.

Israel To Host World's Great Gourmets In Annual Eat-In

By Hal McClure
JERUSALEM (AP) — The Israelis, showing courage above all odds, have invited the world's great gourmets to hold their annual eat-in here this year.

It's a real challenge.

For 2,000 chefs, gastronomes, gourmets, hoteliers and members of the "Chaine des Rotisseurs" are expected here Nov. 3-10 on a race of sightseeing and feasting.

Israel, as many long-suffering hotel guests will attest, has won a reputation for being a culinarily oasis.

Indeed, Jewish ritual slaughter and dietary kosher-law even add to the blandness of the Israeli diet.

"Asking the world epicureans here to eat could be compared with inviting the chef of the Waldorf to your home for a mashed potato sandwich," grunted one dyspeptic tourist.

What will prevent the delegates from taking bicarbonate and staggering out?

"Israel food, that's what," retorted one tourist official responding to the critics.

"They'll love our food, don't worry," he said, adding, "They'll eat Israeli avocados and citrus. St. Peter's fish on the shore of the Sea of Galilee, milk and honey in a kibbutz and food of the desert nomad."

"Why we even have developed an Oriental gefilte fish. It's carp stuffed with eggplant, moistened with tangerine juice and baked. Delicious."

The Israeli official responsible for arrangements wasn't worrying either. Ayre Avisar admitted Israel's shabby-culinary past, but blamed it on the public, not the cook.

Israel can draw from a large reservoir of good cooks—immigrants from all over the world who brought along their national dishes, Avisar said.

Avisar's training department of the Ministry of Tourism has launched a crash program to acquaint the average Israeli with the fine food available and to arouse a greater interest in

Medicine Man, 87, Will Be Sentenced For Practicing Without License

OGDEN, Utah (AP) — An 87-year-old Indian medicine man, who has practiced in Idaho and claims he can diagnose illness by looking at a person's eyelids, will be sentenced Monday for practicing medicine without a license.

Six persons testified during a trial that Clarence Patrick Sundance cured them of such ailments as cancer and crippling arthritis.

But the prosecution said the old Indian didn't have a state medical permit, and that Utah law says "practicing medicine" means diagnosis and treatment of human illness.

The jury found the former Apache tribal herbalist guilty as charged. Lenency was recommended as the foreman told the backskin-clad medicine man the verdict.

During the trial, which ended Wednesday, Sundance examined the eyelids of Pros. Atty. C. DeMont Judd Jr., diagnosed bacterial infection and recommended the attorney "take a laxative."

Two days later, Judd excused himself from the courtroom because he was ill with flu.

Sundance, white hair falling Apache style to his shoulders, says he administered healing herbs the first time when a 14-year-old youth on an Arizona reservation claimed he can cure anything from intestinal gas to cancer.

Mrs. Lola Cook of Ogden testified in court she sought help from the "Old Indian" as a last resort, after four physicians told her she had cancer.

"He gave me herbs, told me exactly how to take them and what foods to eat," the woman said. "The fourth morning she woke up and thought I was dead because there was no pain."

—She said she first sought Sundance's help when he lived in Lava, Idaho.

Ex-professional wrestler Dory C. Detton was another of the defense's six witnesses. He said the medicine man cured him of gouty arthritis, so that he could walk again.

Heart attack, stroke, high blood pressure, hardening of the arteries, inborn heart defects, rheumatic fever — these are some of the major heart and blood vessel diseases which kill about one million Americans a year.

This is greater than the toll of all causes of death combined. The heart and blood vessel diseases are also the nation's greatest crippling and disabling. Close to 22½ million Americans have some form of cardiovascular disease.

The vigorous partnership of scientists, physicians and the general public has made it possible to launch a concentrated crusade against heart disease problems through programs of research, professional and public education and community heart services.

The American Heart Association is the only National Voluntary health organization dedicated exclusively to combating the heart and

Heart Month Goal

Nowadays, when the subject of hearts is mentioned, everyone immediately thinks of heart transplants. Since this is Heart Month, it would seem to be an ideal time to put the whole matter into more realistic perspective. So far, four persons have undergone this amazing operation. One still lives. But even if the great problems of tissue compatibility, organ rejection, donor availability and doctor training, as well as all the ethical, legal considerations, were to be solved tomorrow, the most optimistic forecasts do not envision more than a few hundred such operations being possible each year.

"During my 30 years as a pathologist," says Dr. Edwards, "I have seen the result of this unfilled need many thousands of times. It happens like this: A patient at the peak of his career and family responsibility enters a hospital with an acute heart attack. In a moment of crisis when his heart action suddenly becomes ineffective, falls or even stops, there is no monitoring system to signal his distress. In his moment of desperate need, there are no means of summoning trained personnel to restart a heart that has stopped or is in trouble."

When the heart is examined after death, says the doctor, there is usually found more than an adequate amount of healthy heart muscle for good heart function. The patient is dead with a heart "too good to die"—a heart that might still be beating had its owner been fortunate enough to have been placed in a coronary care unit.

Coronary care facilities improve the survival rate about 30 per cent. Yet of about 5,000 U.S. hospitals treating acutely ill heart patients, only about 800 have coronary care units or their equivalents. A desirable and attainable goal is at least one such unit in every hospital.

But this takes money. Which, of course, is what Heart Month is all about. In Idaho and Magic Valley the Heart Association is extremely active. When you are asked to help, be sure you do.

Wary Sportsmen

Sportsmen have had to defend themselves ever since hunting became a popular outdoor sport against accusations of lawless and irresponsible behavior in the field. The charge came up again recently in a story in a Washington, D.C., newspaper written by an Audubon official and headlined "In-Gun-Control—Legislation Enough?"

accused for years in the case of littering. Sportsmen have been blamed for marring the landscape with trash and, as a result, more and more land is being posted against hunting and fishing. Some statistics gathered in a study by Keep America Beautiful, Inc., and published recently, provide vindication for the sportsmen. Sportsmen were found to be the least offenders when it comes to littering. They were responsible for only 5 per cent of the litter in rural areas investigated. Picnickers were responsible for 25 per cent and passing motorists for 70 per cent.

It is also interesting to note that the annual cost for cleaning up national parks and monuments is $1.5 million. These areas are closed to hunting. It is not surprising for a proponent of the protectionist philosophy to speak out against hunting. In doing so, however, he should not allow his emotion to cloud his reasoning.

MR. SPECTATOR

Pity The Poor Parents

There's something wrong with the way we do things these days. Take the matter of raising a family. From all sides there comes the suggestion that parents could spend a lot more time with their children. They should be around constantly to guide them—keep them out of sin and the gutter, as it were.

about the sorry mess of the family circle—then assigns a reporter to three consecutive night meetings so the reporter will be away from the kids just that many nights. Teachers insist more parents should be giving advice to their children at homework time—and then assign work involving new math, new English, new history and a host of other new things that the parent never heard of.

So the parents decide to take the time to stay with the kids. Then what happens? As often as not both parents get a request to work harder in the Chamber of Commerce, to help out more in that civic organization to which they belong, to help in arranging that dance program that is scheduled for the country club not too long from now or to go to church every Sunday and sing in the choir and attend at least a couple of religious training meetings each week to boot. Oh, yes, we almost forgot the constant pounding that the parents should aid in the Boy Scout or the Camp Fire Girl movement. Work for the good of the community by giving much of your time to promotion of various groups! That's the big cry!

Most of these suggestions, by themselves, are worthwhile. But when Mom and Pop get them from all sides that's something else again. Some parents find themselves away from home four or five nights a week. Mr. Spectator is quite lucky this week—so far—only three meetings are scheduled for six nights! So what should everyone do? Should parents raise their kids or raise the community? Any suggestions?

WASHINGTON—There is already a lighthearted air in the 1968 Presidential campaign. The candidates are such crazy mixed-up cats you can't tell them apart even with a scorecard. What on earth kind of an election year is it when Republican governors have spending taxpayers' money like drunken Democrats and some of Bobby Kennedy's and Dick Nixon's speeches sound as if they were written by the same ghost? Verily, the old order passeth so suddenly the voter can be excused if he takes another hard look at Harold Stassen, new wig and all.

In all the confusion of other years, the one constant aspect of the quadrennial circus was the Republican demand for economy and "fiscal responsibility." This year, Govs. Romney of Michigan, Rockefeller of New York, Reagan of California, and Chaffee of Rhode Island—among others—have asked their legislatures to okay record budgets. They are all planning to spend more money than any Democrat before them.

as of today they're a pretty sad lot. Moreover, Nixon lately has joined Kennedy in plumping, if only implicitly, for a speedy, negotiated end to the war. They put it differently, of course. Bobby demands that we negotiate directly with the Viet Cong. Nixon chides the Johnson administration for failing to use our "diplomatic resources" to end the war.

New Hampshire And The Money

MANCHESTER, N. H.—While New Hampshire's state sweepstakes has been less than a success as a money raiser for the primary contest in making up for it. With the candidates on the mark for the last lap money is being thrown around as though it had just been invented. If any of the hundred thousand or so voters fail to get the benefits they must be held up in some way beyond the reach of even the intrepid George Romney.

the front runner, Richard Nixon, he is talking about the issues, and above all about Vietnam, with vigor and forthrightness. In the Democratic primary Sen. Eugene McCarthy is taking his case against the Johnson administration to the people of New Hampshire at the crossroads, factory workbenches, town halls and colleges and wherever a few are gathered together. From the Democratic governor on down through the whole organization there is a determined effort to blank him out. It is so determined, as evidenced by the signed and numbered pledge cards Democrats are asked to sign—that it could backfire.

ney is given 30 per cent of the total vote. This will be a sufficient showing to persuade him to go on to the Wisconsin primary. The remaining 30 per cent will be divided between Gov. Nelson Rockefeller of New York and Gov. Ronald Reagan of California as write-ins, with a scattering of votes for marginal candidates. It is entirely possible that Nixon, with his sharp insight into the political realities, is deliberately over-estimating the Romney vote so that the Nixon total will look even more impressive when the results are in.

The primary does in point of fact resemble a lottery that often seems just about as relevant to the issues of the day. Perhaps the analogy is a great big slot machine, with the managers for the several candidates stuffing in hundreds of thousands of dollars in the wild hope of hitting the jackpot. When the lever is pulled on March 12 and all the symbols stop whirring around, the result will have decided something as among five or six men but very little about what the voters feel on the problems confronting a troubled nation.

He believes he will take 40 per cent of the vote and the entire slate of delegates. In 1964 Henry Cabot Lodge got 30 per cent and he was 10,000 miles away in Saigon as Ambassador to South Vietnam. Confident that he has most of the Republican organization behind him, Nixon is nevertheless planning to spend almost as much time in the state as Romney.

On the Nixon score card Romney is given 30 per cent of the total vote. This will be a sufficient showing to persuade him to go on to the Wisconsin primary. The remaining 30 per cent will be divided between Gov. Nelson Rockefeller of New York and Gov. Ronald Reagan of California as write-ins, with a scattering of votes for marginal candidates. It is entirely possible that Nixon, with his sharp insight into the political realities, is deliberately over-estimating the Romney vote so that the Nixon total will look even more impressive when the results are in.

BRUCE BLOSSAT

Nixon Is For Total Victory

MANCHESTER, N.H. (NEA)—Contrary to some reports, Richard M. Nixon is taking a consistent hard line on Vietnam as he moves leisurely about New Hampshire in his initial bid for the 1968 Republican presidential nomination. Whether he is talking to night-time rallies of adult Republicans or to groups of restless, inquiring students on college and secondary school campuses, Nixon's fundamentally h.a.w.k.i.s.h. theme is the same: "There must be no rewards, 'if whole or in part,' for Hanoi's aggression in South Vietnam. We must make no settlement in Vietnam which can be interpreted either in Asia or anywhere else as a defeat for the United States."

voters he is wooing in this first 1968 primary campaign or reflects awareness of new opinion polls showing a sharp jump in popular support for the war. The fact is, however, that he settled upon this theme months ago and has outlined it to this and other reporters in private conversations in his New York law office. Furthermore, in those conversations he expressed very bluntly another idea—which he has not so far broached directly in his front-running New Hampshire campaign: "We need to win the war in Vietnam because, once our large military presence is removed from Southeast Asia, it would be almost impossible for an American president to lead this nation into another similar war in Thailand or the Philippines or anywhere else."

New Hampshire people and others that the goal of our future diplomacy must be to strengthen other countries seeking freedom, so that they can fight their own wars if necessary and not call on us to fight for them. This approach has an obvious appeal to puzzled, war-weary voters. But there is nothing in it to suggest a new Nixon softness on Vietnam."

To a crowded hall at nearby Derry he said: "The debate in this country over Vietnam is not about how we are going to lose this war, but about how we're going to win it." Earlier at Dover, he had underscored in the strongest terms the necessity for an American victory—on the battlefield and at the negotiation table. Some political analysts suggest that Nixon's tough line is mostly either a special response to the alleged "hawkish" sentiments of the New Hampshire

Nixon believes that the sustained, highly vocal opposition which has accompanied this complex limited war, plus the war-weariness of an American people engaged three times in battle since 1841, constitute evidence enough that U.S. leaders will shy desperately away from such conflicts in the future. The strongly held Nixon view explains "more" than anything else why he has been telling stiff warnings to his listeners that if America allows Hanoi any semblance of reward for aggression in Vietnam, then Reds in Hanoi and Peking and Moscow will be emboldened to try the tactic of a "national liberation war" somewhere else soon again—and we will be in it to augment a new Nixon softness on Vietnam."

Because Vietnam is the liveliest issue, the Bobby-Dick foreign policy romance is the most intriguing. Both Bobby and Dick keep insisting that the U.S. is not strong enough to police the world unaided. Bobby sneers at the Saigon regime as a gang of cutpurses and dismissed the South-Vietnamese troops as part-time warriors. Nixon demands that the U.S. train the South Vietnamese to take over a major share of the fighting, thus agreeing with Bobby that

Quo, by golly, Vadis? Still, Nixon has one advantage. Bobby presents himself as opposed to almost everything. Lyndon Johnson does, and yet his aid will support the President for re-election. Nixon has confirmed his opposition to Johnson's policies by running against him. Meanwhile, those other GOP candidates keep dipping into the public till, a circumstance which must sorely tempt the Democratic National Committee to indict them for a policy of "tax and tax, spend and spend, elect and elect."

WAYNE BRANDSTADT, M.D.

Unstable Blood

Q—If a person's blood pressure was 170/98 and the prescribed medicine brought it down to normal in one week would that be lowering it too fast? A—This would depend on several factors. In general, a more gradual lowering over three or four weeks would be preferable. Q—Is it possible to have a high and low blood pressure at the same time? A—It is possible to have a very unstable blood pressure so that, when the doctor first takes it, the upper reading is 100 or more and when he takes it again a few minutes later it is only 120. It would be rare, however, to find an abnormally low reading—a systolic reading of less than 100—in such a person. It is also possible to have a high systolic (upper) and a low diastolic (lower) reading with a leaky aortic valve. Q—Could high blood pressure cause a film over the eyes, or blindness? A—A film of mucus over the eyes is usually caused by a chronic inflammation of the conjunctiva, not by high blood pressure. Hypertension can, however, cause blindness. Q—Is it true that if a person loses part of his vision from hemorrhages in the eye due to hypertension there is no treatment that will restore his sight? A—If the retina disease is in its earliest stage (inflammation only) and the process can be checked, the inflammation will subside, the blood clots will be absorbed and some improvement in vision can be expected. In most cases, however, a part of the retina is destroyed and cannot be replaced. Q—Could gelatin desserts cause high blood pressure? A—No, not even if you ate a double portion every day. Q—What is the danger when the blood pressure stays around 190-105? A—This complication includes damage to the kidneys and retina and rupture of arteries that have hardened (coronary disease) if they are in the heart and stroke if they are in the brain.

Out Of The Book

WASHINGTON (NEA)—The Viet Cong, in their terror attacks on 45 South Vietnamese cities and towns, were following principles and using tactics laid down in Mao Tse-tung training schools this reporter once saw in North Vietnam. If VC units are laid down in these Mao courses, the guerrillas hoped to attain seven objectives:—Strike such terror in the cities and towns that the troops and police would resort to heavy reprisals. The VC hoped the U.S. and Vietnamese armies would bomb, strafe and direct artillery fire into churches and temples and into heavily populated areas of the cities. They hoped the police would resort to grenade and gunfire attacks. The Communists believe heavy police and military reprisals create hatred for the police, the Americans and the Vietnamese army and win new VC converts.

This explains the many seemingly futile suicide strikes on police stations, and city U.S. and Vietnamese government and military installations. It was, in fact, to attract this heavy retaliatory gunfire that the VC held up temples and residential districts. —Quickly set up kangaroo courts to try and execute certain officials and local leaders before withdrawing as a warning to the people that no one who cooperates with the government or the Americans is safe from retribution. Some American civilians report that their close Vietnamese friends now look the other way when passing them on the street. —Cause fighting so widespread and of such intensity that the government would declare martial law. This would, Red theory goes, make a mockery of the new constitution, the elections and the legislature. —Cause such turmoil in the cities and suburbs that shops would close, food deliveries decline, and many people grow desperately hungry.

LBJ Depicted As Confident Over Release Of Ship's Crew

By JACK BELL
WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson is depicted by White House visitors as quietly confident that diplomacy eventually will win release of the captured intelligence ship Pueblo's crew.

In the face of a new North Korean threat to try the 82 surviving crew members, Johnson was said to believe a way will be found to reach a settlement after the other side has had its day of hectoring.

At the White House as a part of the game when dealing with the Communists. More important, it was said, was that after early shouting sessions at Panmunjom, real negotiating now is going on.

100 Singing Mothers Set Friday Concert At Rupert

RUPERT — More than 100 voices will be raised in song at 7:30 p.m. Friday at the Rupert Third-Fourth Ward Chapel when the Mindoka Stake Relief Society Singing Mothers present a concert which is the culmination of several months work and preparation.

The group, under the direction of Mrs. Len Brady, has prepared a varied program. Selections will be secular, patriotic, semi-classical and popular.

Agnes of the women differ as much as 50 years. Some are young mothers in the early 20s and some are grandmothers in the early 70s.

Altogether the women have nearly 700 children, grandchildren and great grandchildren. They have been meeting each week on Friday afternoon for practice sessions with a special practice on Monday evenings for the members who work and are unable to attend the regular practices.

Guest conductor for the concert will be Dr. Florence Jepserson, Madison, renowned conductor and composer.

Dr. Madsen studies at Chicago Musical College where she received her Bachelor's degree and also her Master's degree in music.

Johnson's confidence has been to try to cool South Korean demands for retaliation while efforts are made to reach some accommodation with the Communists. Even though the trip to South Korea of his personal representative, Cyrus R. Vance, was only partially successful in this respect, the administration's feeling is that time may help in the solution of this particular phase of the problem.

Johnson reviewed the Pueblo matter, along with Vietnam and other international problems at a 90-minute White House session Monday night with the Senate's party leaders.

Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield declined to disclose the substance of the talks.

Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen would say only that he came away from the session with new personal hope the crew's release may be brought about sometime soon.

Prisoner-Artists At Indiana Prison Are Receiving Rare Recognition

By CHARLES GENE McDaniel
CHICAGO (AP) — Prisoner-artists at Indiana State Prison have won recognition rarely achieved by inmates.

Their work is being displayed in the school of the Art Institute of Chicago, one of the nation's leading art schools.

The show is comprised of nearly 100 pieces, all oil and watercolor paintings, except for one piece of sculpture. It represents the best work done by the 38 members of the Progressive Art Club in the prison at Michigan City, Ind.

Four students were so enthusiastic after seeing the inmates' first public showing at the prison that they asked their acting dean, Roger Gilmore, to have an exhibit at the school.

Dean Gilmore told an interviewer he agreed because it was both good for the prisoner-artists to have their work shown in such a setting and good for the students to have an opportunity to see it. He noted that the paintings give a directness about them which he thought would be instructive.

The show at the school is attracting visitors other than students, who come over from the adjoining museum of the Art Institute.

The paintings are for sale on a bid basis, with 5 per cent of the purchase price going to the art club for supplies and the remainder to the prisoner.

The inmates receive 20 cents a day for their prison work, so the sale of a painting is a real windfall.

Patrolmen Shoot 3 In College Riot

LORAIN, Miss. (AP) — Gunfire erupted during a riot by 200 male students at all-Negro Alcorn A&M College early today and three persons were shot by highway patrolmen and campus guards.

Flying glass and debris slashed six other students, but only one was injured seriously. The 40 highway patrolmen, 11 campus guards and sheriff's deputies escaped injury.

Students were firing guns, throwing bricks and chairs and they set one building on fire, reported Chief Deputy Dan S. McCay of Claiborne County.

The officers said they were forced to fire on the crowd when they tried to disperse the students and were fired on by one shotgun and several pistols.

McCay blamed the riot on three students who suspended for drinking and the other two for cursing the school's president.

Negro leader Charles Evers, a candidate for Congress, had claimed Monday the three—not the rioting students—were distributing his campaign literature. The college denied it.

The rioting students denounced Alcorn President J. D. Boyd and accused him of shackling political freedom at Alcorn, which has 2,700 students.

The rioting at the co-ed college, located deep in rural southwest Mississippi, began Tuesday night. Four hours later—by 7 a.m.—the shooting stopped and the campus was quiet.

Release Urged On Desert Entry Lands

GLENN'S FERRY — Glenns Ferry Chamber of Commerce members have urged the immediate release of desert entry land to private enterprises to the Water Resource Board.

Stipulated acreage for such entries now is so much that a private individual finds it prohibitive in view of the financing necessary to place water on the area, according to Mrs. R. L. Bybee, secretary, after Monday's meeting.

Some of the Chamber reasoning is that Elmore county is suffering from a lack of taxable land, and the open desert, across government land, yielding no tax income.

Another reason would be the encouragement of industrial projects in the area which would be tied closely to future development. The soil sampling has shown that it is superior to that of some of the other projects along Snake River, and it would be excellent for crop production.

One objection suggested was "Why develop more land for agriculture when crops are subsidized now by the government?" However, this land, it was explained, would produce crops not subsidized, such as potatoes.

The Chamber urges that upstream water rights should be utilized first. Individual enterprise development would provide future homes rather than produce one large corporation for the community.

It was emphasized that this type of development should be accomplished under the private mutual type canal company which is not a corporation, but of mutual assistance, among individual farmers for developing the land.

Ex-Elmore Engineer Is Given Award

GLENN'S FERRY — Frank S. Wayne, highway engineer in the transportation system branch of the regional engineering division, was presented with an award during a recent four-day conference of Forest Service Northern Region engineers in Missoula.

Wayne, formerly of Glenns Ferry, and whose wife is the former Fleeta Lantz of this city, was credited "for improving the quality of engineering on regional road construction work through exceptional competence, integrity, and inspirational leadership in training of young resident engineers."

JURY RULES
RIGBY, Idaho (AP) — A Jefferson County coroner's jury Tuesday afternoon found Mrs. Bertha M. Wilson, 27, drowned her three children in a bathtub at their home in Terrell on the night of Jan. 17.

The jury ruled Mrs. Wilson committed the act after she had suffered a psychotic mental break and that she was not in her right mind.

The jury further ruled there was no criminal means involved in the death of Mrs. Wilson, who was found in a field by her husband, Joseph Clyde Wilson and Joseph Potter, Jefferson County deputy sheriff Jan. 17. The jury ruled Mrs. Wilson died of exhaustion and exposure.

Presiding at the hearing was Norman Hall, county attorney.

ISSUE APPROVED
BOISE (AP) — Property owners in Boise's northwest sewer district approved by an 81 percent margin a $2.77 million bond issue at a special election Tuesday.

The vote was 1,602 in favor to 382 against.

The bonds will aid in financing construction of a sewer system in an area in which there are an estimated 2,400 residences. The state Health Department said prior to the election that the district was the largest urban area in Idaho which lacked a sewer system.

Sen. Church Views Rejection Of Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Frank Church says congressional rejection of President Johnson's bill to remove the 25 percent gold cover on U.S. currency would help force a change in American foreign policy.

Church, an Idaho Democrat who has persistently criticized Johnson's Vietnam policies, said any defeat of the gold reserve measure would force the United States to cut back its overseas commitments and thus reduce the chances of its involvement in foreign affairs.

Meanwhile the house headed for a vote on the gold bill after opening floor debate Tuesday.

Withdrawals of gold by foreign governments and central banks have left the Treasury with about $12 billion in gold of which $10.7 billion is blocked by the reserve requirement. This leaves only $1.3 billion in free gold to use for international transactions.

House proponents of the legislation argued this country needs the full amount to fight off attacks on the dollar. They said the strength of the U.S. economy and not a partial gold cover actually guarantees the value of the currency.

Senate Republican leader Everett M. Dirksen said Republicans may try to add a spending rider to the bill. He said most GOP senators regard the bill as an effort to buy a little time, adding that the basic need is to eliminate federal deficits.

Sen. Republican leader Everett M. Dirksen said Republicans may try to add a spending rider to the bill. He said most GOP senators regard the bill as an effort to buy a little time, adding that the basic need is to eliminate federal deficits.

Church said he could not support the measure and would also vote against a touring tax bill because it is "grossly unfair."

Church's views came in a speech prepared for Senate delivery.

They contrasted sharply with those of Chairman Wright Patman, who said the House Banking Committee, who said the bill's defeat would have financially fatal results.

Pro-Johnson Demo Wins N.Y. Election

NEW YORK (AP) — Bortram L. Podell, a pro-Johnson Democrat, defeated Melvin Dubin, an avowed peace candidate, and two others Tuesday night in a special election for Congress that was fought over the Vietnam war issue.

Assemblyman Podell, a self-described "100 per cent" supporter of President Johnson, ran about 4 to 3 over party maverick Dubin in the Brooklyn contest.

A reform Democrat, Dubin ran as an independent. He said he would not fight in Vietnam if he were of draft age unless Congress first declared war.

With all 358 election districts reporting, the final unofficial count showed 35,917 for Podell; 27,664 for Dubin; 4,909 for Republican Gerald L. Held and 4,200 for Conservative party candidate Michael V. Ajello.

The result made the political lineup in Congress 247 Democrats and 167 Republicans. There is one vacancy.

Podell, 42, campaigned in the heavily Democratic 11th district as a supporter of the President but said he favored a softer approach on the war. He called his victory "a display of confidence for Lyndon B. Johnson as President."

Dubin, 44, backed the presidential campaign of Minnesota Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy who is challenging Johnson for the party nomination. McCarthy made one campaign appearance on Dubin's behalf.

Navajos Plunge Into Stock Market

WINDOW ROCK, Ariz. (AP) — The nation's largest Indian tribe is taking a $10 million plunge in the stock market seeking more funds to educate its youngsters.

The 120,000-member Navajo tribe always has invested in treasury bonds drawing 4 percent annual interest. This brought in $400,000 interest a year for Navajo students.

The Indians now are buying a portfolio of securities including $2.5 million in long-term corporate bonds drawing 6 1/2 percent annual interest and common stocks picked from their sold earnings power, Don Brunton, Navajo tribal comptroller, said.

The primary aim, he said, is to help support Navajos through college until they achieve a bachelors degree and help pay costs of other Navajos seeking vocational training.

Brokers in Albuquerque, N.M., say other Indian tribes already have more invested in the stock market than do the Navajos but this is the first time tribal trust funds have been withdrawn from the U.S. Treasury to do this.

Previously tribes used funds which were outside the trust funds, such as money awarded them as compensation for lands taken by white settlers.

The Navajos, whose reservation includes land in New Mexico, Arizona, Utah and Colorado, make most of their money from oil and gas leases and royalties.

Senate Plans Training For Welfare Lists

RUPERT — Idaho State Sen. Don Loveland, R-Cascade, an announced candidate for the congressional seat now held by Cong. George Hansen, said today that the state's Senate Finance Committee is in the process of putting together a plan for the rehabilitation and training of those people now on the state's welfare rolls.

He said the committee felt that Idaho should "scrutinize the applications for welfare much closer than we have in the past and further that we provide training and employment which can be done."

He also said that he is optimistic that the number of people on welfare in the state will not increase in the near future.

One of the problems of the "years," the Durley senator continued, "has been that in order to get aid for dependent children, a separation of the parents must be made. This is not good as it tends to break up families that shouldn't be. Every effort should be made not to separate families in order for them to participate in the welfare program in Idaho," he concluded.

Sen. Loveland is chairman of the power Senate Finance Committee.

Gov. Romney Predicts He Will Beat Richard Nixon In Wisconsin Primary

By The Associated Press
Michigan Gov. George Romney predicts he's going to beat fellow Republican presidential rival Richard M. Nixon in the Wisconsin primary—and says he's joining on Nixon in the New Hampshire contest.

"I expect to win them both," Romney told reporters Tuesday. Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy, Democratic presidential candidate, meanwhile, accused President Johnson of "eroding and weakening the structures of government."

And a showdown appeared to be developing between Sen. Everett M. Dirksen, R-Ill., and Republican governors over control of the platform committee at the Republican National Convention.

Romney's predictions of primary victories over former Vice President Nixon came as he brought a temporary end to his Wisconsin campaign to return to New Hampshire.

The governor told a Rice Lake, Wis., news conference he is "still an underdog" in New Hampshire, but he said he is gaining on "my primary opponent."

Romney is not scheduled to return to Wisconsin before the New Hampshire primary, the first in the nation, March 12.

McCarthy—who is challenging Johnson's Vietnam war policies—said in Madison, Wis., that the President also is blurring the traditional separation between the Supreme Court, Congress and the military.

"The use of the military to defend political policies," McCarthy said, "has been an increasing trend, particularly since the United States became involved in a large scale in the Vietnam war."

The GOP platform committee showdown was indicated in a report by Washington Post writer David S. Broder that Republican governors have decided to demand that Pennsylvania Gov. Raymond P. Shafer be named co-chairman.

Dirksen—whom the governors fear would not produce a moderate stand on issues—has indicated he would agree to Shafer as the committee's vice chairman but not as its co-chairman.

Books Added
FILER — The Filer Public Library has recently placed 45 adult mystery books on its shelves, according to Mrs. F. C. Albin, librarian. Also added this past week were 30 novels from the State Library.

A story hour for children is held each Saturday from 2 to 2:30 p.m. and books are circulated from 2:30 to 3 p.m. A total of 702 books was circulated during January, the librarian reports.

Man Is Bound Over In Murder Case

YERINGTON, Nev. (AP) — After nearly a week of preliminary hearings, Glenn Frederick Lucas, 45, of Reno, has been bound over to District Court on a murder charge in connection with the slaying of two Wyoming men.

He is charged in the shooting deaths of Robert F. Stucker, 30, and Larry Olinger, 33, both of Jackson.

Lucas was remanded to the custody of Lyon County Sheriff George Allen Tuesday without bail.

Also charged in the slayings are Ted Linn, 34, and David Goldsmith, 44, both of Jackson. They were arrested Jan. 19, and await extradition from a Lander, Wyo., jail to Nevada.

A fourth man, Robert L. Linblad, 34, believed armed, is being sought in connection with the slayings, Allen said.

The bodies of the two men were found in a shallow common desert grave near Dayton, Nev., last Oct. 29.

MR. AND MRS. FRANK R. BRUNYER (Ambrose photo)

Wedding Vows Recited By Vicki Stocking, Brunyer

CAREY — The Carey Ward LDS Chapel was the setting for the Jan. 13 wedding of Vicki Rose Stocking, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wallace (Buz) Stocking, Carey, and Frank Robert Brunyer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Brunyer, Twin Falls.

The wedding party entered the chapel to the traditional wedding march played by Mrs. Bob White, by cousin of the bride, Darrel R. Olson, accompanied by his wife, Linda, was soloist. The double ring ceremony was performed by Bishop Veri W. Simpson, uncle of the bride, before a setting of pink and white-colored pompons in tall baskets flanked by slide lamps.

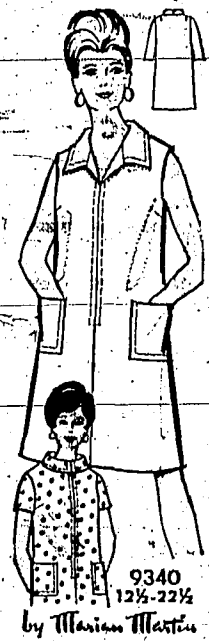

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a Bridal Original fitted gown of Chantilly lace with a tiered full skirt cascading into a train. Her veil was of French illusion held by a crown of pearls to form a rose.

She carried a bouquet of cascading dark red Japanese roses and pink carnations.

Linda Simpson, cousin of the bride, was maid of honor, and bridesmaids were LaDeane Stocking, sister of the bride, and Sandra Ingamier, roommate of the bride.

The rings were carried on a heart-shaped pillow by Bruce Peterson and flower girl was Gweni Peterson, both cousins of the bride.

HOLDING AN ARRANGEMENT OF red roses presented to her as Valentine Queen for Xi Omega Chapter, Beta Sigma Phi, is Mrs. Don Worthington. Mrs. Worthington was crowned queen during a meeting at the home of Mrs. Ransom Brown. She was selected by ballot by members in September and is entered in the Beta Sigma International Valentine contest.

Xi Omega Chapter Honors Valentine Queen For 1968

BURLEY — Mrs. Don Worthington was honored recently as Xi Omega Chapter, Beta Sigma Phi, Valentine Queen for 1968.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Sugg and Mrs. Brown, co-hostesses.

Mrs. Worthington was selected by ballot by members in September and is entered in the Beta Sigma Phi International Valentine Queen contest.

Two large white hearts, outlined in wide red ruffles, provided the background setting for the Valentine throne. Mrs. Worthington received a gift from each chapter member and an arrangement of long-stemmed red roses adorned with a large red bow from the chapter.

Prior to traveling to the Brown home for the business meeting and honoring the Valentine queen, the members met at the Thaxton Painting Co., 223 2nd Drive, Burley, for the cultural lesson given by Al Thaxton, owner of the business. Floor coverings of all kinds, background on walls and textiles were discussed by Mr. Thaxton. Carpet is being used everywhere with the latest being a indoor-outdoor carpet. Patio and outdoor steps are now being covered with carpet. Wallpaper is again very much in demand. Drapes and wall accessories were also discussed. The lesson was arranged by Mrs. Odean Redman.

During the business meeting, a thank-you note was read from Mrs. Dorothy Cox, teacher at Burley Junior High School, for funds donated by the chapter to the special education class.

A thank-you card was read from Mrs. Jack Mason for the surprise Order of the Rose Ritual degree given to Mrs. Mason for over 15-years of active membership in Beta Sigma Phi.

Mrs. William Sugg gave a report on the come-you-are-party hosted by Xi Omega Chapter for Beta Eta and Alpha Zeta Chapters.

Mrs. Redman and Mrs. Worthington gave a report on the recent city council meeting. Officers for city council elected are Mrs. Leonard Rehn, president; Mrs. Redman, vice president; and Mrs. Gene Morton secretary.

The tour of homes was discussed which the chapter is planning for this spring.

Exchange Held

SDEN — A Valentine party and handicraft exchange were featured during the Russell Lane Harmony Club meeting at the home of Mrs. J. W. Paul.

Mrs. Phyllis Lit was a guest. Mrs. Emil Martens was in charge of the business session.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Bruce Gordon in Twin Falls. The program on lighting will be presented by Mrs. Helen Walker from the Idaho Power Co.

Mrs. McCall conducted the fellowship of the least coin. The next meeting is a potluck and quilting bee at the home of Mrs. Neva Dalton.

DEAR ABBY: My husband (43 years old) came home with a Valentine's gift from a 35-year-old single girl at work. It was a T-shirt of the best quality. With it she enclosed a little note telling him to get with it — that sleeveless undershirts were out, and that real sharp guys wear T-shirts instead.

The very next day my husband went out and bought himself a complete supply of T-shirts and asked me if I knew someone who could use his old sleeveless undershirts as he was discarding them.

Now he wears the kind of undershirts the girl at the office recommended. How do you like that!

HIS WIFE

DEAR WIFE: I don't know what this girl sees in your husband, but she obviously sees thru him. Since an undergarment as a "Valentine" hardly qualifies as a practical joke, perhaps you should regard it as a warning flag.

DEAR ABBY: I am 20 years old and work in a large office. When I was younger I fell down and broke my nose, and have always wanted to have it operated on to make it prettier.

The doctor says I will have to be in the hospital for a week, and it will take about three weeks more before all the black and blue marks and swelling disappear completely. This means a whole-month away from work.

My problem is that I don't want anyone at the office to know why I am going to be gone for a month, but I have insurance here at work that will take care of part of the expense, so I will have to let them know. How can I keep my secret?

WORRIED

DEAR WORRIED: Since you're sensitive about it, tell them at work that you are going into the hospital for some "corrective surgery" . . . and don't wait around for further questioning. When you return, the improvement will be obvious, but don't be embarrassed. Cosmetic surgery is nothing to be ashamed of.

DEAR ABBY: That letter from the mother whose adolescent son was "embarrassed" because he had to take a lamp treatment, naked, in the presence of a "young girl" made me see red.

The mother said her son was 17 and the girl couldn't have been much older. Well, she had to be at least 21 to be a nurse.

These people who think nurses and doctors take a personal interest in their patients make me sick.

I am a registered nurse and I'll never forget the time I had to perform a personal service for an elderly gentleman because no orderly was available. The man shouted, "I don't want no WOMAN in here." I called my superior in and she said, "Simmer down, Dnd, we are not WOMEN, we are nurses!"

And a few years ago I was in the room with the doctor and his male patient who had just come from the recovery room after surgery. His wife was present, too. Then the doctor said to his wife, "Would you please stop out." The wife replied, "If that woman can stay, so can I. I can do anything SHE can do!" Whereupon the doctor handed her a stethoscope and chart and said, "Fine, we're short of help, so will you please check all vital signs every 15 minutes, blood pressure, heart, etc. and request the lab for blood work, check all output and intake, etc." She certainly changed her tune in a hurry.

Six Adventurers Leave For North Pole

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (AP) Six American and one Canadian left Wednesday for their overland attempt to reach the North Pole.

Led by Ralph Plaisted, a St. Paul insurance man, the expedition of five Americans and one Canadian hopes to become the first to reach the Pole by surface since Adm. Robert Peary made it in 1909.

Peary made the trip by dog sled. Plaisted and his crew will use snowmobiles.

Plaisted failed to complete the trip last year when his expedition was forced to turn back.

In May after 38 days, 370 miles from the Pole.

His reason for attempting the difficult and dangerous polar trek a second time is simple: "It's there and the challenge is ours. Even if we fail, we have more satisfaction than those who remain in the gray area—the warm house, the television set—of those who never try and can never know success or failure."

Accompanying Plaisted are a pathologist, a geography instructor and three engineers. They are amateur explorers, but they are not inexperienced.

In addition to the experience they gained on last year's attempt, they have been training on weekends since December in the frozen meadows and timber of northern Minnesota.

With Plaisted on the trip will be Donald E. Powellek, 40, of St. Paul; Arthur C. Auderhede, 43, of Duluth; Gerald R. Pitzl, 34, of St. Paul; Jean Luc Bombardier, 29, of Montreal and Walter H. Pederson, 40, of St. Cloud, Minn.

Plaisted said the first expedition was defeated by blizzards and the spring ice breakup. Since then Plaisted has trimmed the size of his party from eight to six, lightened the load, reduced the number of snowmobiles from 10 to four and increased the machine's horsepower from 10 to 14. The crew hopes to start over the ice cap by March 1 from their base camp at Ward Hunt Island. That would give them a 29-day headstart over last year and they would be 200 miles further north than last year's start at Eureka, Northwest Territories. The starting point will leave the expedition a zigzag trip of about 600 miles across the top of the world to the Pole.

Girl From Vietnam Is Burley Guest

BURLEY—Exchange student Mal Ngo, from South Vietnam, was guest speaker during the Monday noon luncheon meeting of the Chamber of Commerce at Bryan's Cafe. Mayor Wendell Johnson, Rupert, introduced the guest speaker.

She gave a brief history of her family who lives at Saigon, South Vietnam. Her father is a judge, mother is a housewife, a brother is studying law and a younger sister and brother are at home.

There are five years of elementary school and seven years of secondary school prior to going to college for the student in Vietnam. The main industries are rubber, rice, cans, tea and pepper. Prior to the war Vietnam was the second largest producer of rice, but presently the country is importing rice, she said.

"After I return to my homeland I want to study law and become an ambassador," she stated.

She spoke of the respect for older people in her home land. "We would never speak back to our parents or use sharp words," she said.

Rap Brown Faces Government Move

NEW YORK (AP) — Black Power advocate Rap Brown and his lawyer, face a government move in New Orleans to restrict Brown's movements under a court order. Brown's lawyer, even if it took him to California, "I was in the area. He was with me," Kunster said.

Federal Judge Lansing Mitchell ordered in New Orleans last September that Brown's movements under bail be restricted to New Orleans, New York or SNCC headquarters in Atlanta, Ga., unless he obtained permission to travel elsewhere.

The U.S. attorney's office in Richmond wants to have Brown's $10,000 bail there forfeited and to have Brown jailed in a case that involves a riot in Cambridge, Md., last summer. The terms of the $10,000 bail in Richmond restricted Brown's movements to the Richmond area and New York, except for such trips as might be necessary in connection with various charges against him.

Kunster said he planned to accompany Brown on a similar trip to Richmond, Va., on Friday.

Brown, arrested at a Manhattan apartment Tuesday morning on a request by the federal court in New Orleans, was released in Kunster's custody about 9 p.m. after day-long detention by federal authorities. A judge ordered Brown to appear in the court in New Orleans this afternoon.

A court hearing here for Brown, 24-year-old head of the Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee, was delayed until the return of Kunster from the West Coast.

At the hearing before federal Judge Marvin E. Frankel, Kunster said Brown was arrested at a friend's apartment without the warrant from New Orleans and he contended that the arrest was illegal.

Kunster also argued that Brown had a right to be with his lawyer—even if it took him to California. "I was in the area. He was with me," Kunster said.

Solid Waste Control Topic Of T.F. Meet

Solid waste control is swiftly becoming a problem in Idaho and the nation and to meet this growing problem the State Health Department has made recommendations to aid the public.

Landfill specifications and abandoned cans got attention Tuesday afternoon when sanitation, waste control was discussed at the Twin Falls city hall. Three officials from the Idaho Department of Health visited to explain

National Police Arrest Militant Buddhist Leader

SAIGON (AP) — National police arrested the militant Buddhist leader Thich Tri Quang today a few hours after arresting two other prominent political opponents of the South Vietnamese government.

U.S. Embassy officials said the arrests were a remarkable case of bad timing since they came shortly before a new anti-Communist front, "The People's Congress for National Salvation," announced that it had succeeded in uniting political friends and foes of the government. The congress is backed by the government.

Associates and friends of all three arrested men are members of the new congress. There was speculation that they might quit because of the surprise arrests.

In addition to the monk Tri Quang, the police arrested Truong Dinh Dzu, who ran a

Pope Names Archbishop Of St. Louis

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pope Paul VI has appointed Bishop John J. Carberry of Columbus, Ohio, to succeed the late Joseph Cardinal Ritter as archbishop of St. Louis, the Vatican announced today.

The 63-year-old native of Brooklyn has been bishop of Columbus since Jan. 10, 1965. Cardinal Ritter died last June 10.

The archbishop of St. Louis is traditionally a cardinal, and Bishop Carberry is expected to be elevated at the Pope's next consistory to create new princes of the church.

Nine cardinals have died since the last consistory last June and his elevation that the Pope will call another one before Easter, April 14.

It is expected at the Vatican that by then he will have named a new archbishop of New York to succeed the late Francis Cardinal Spellman and that this prelate also will get his red hat.

the department, and Don Bybee, chief of the health education division of the department. About 30 people attended the meeting to hear an explanation of solid waste control recommendations for the state that will be presented to the Idaho Legislature next year. Similar meetings are to be held in other parts of the state later this spring.

Abandoned snowmobiles were not included in the recommendations but were mentioned by a Forest Service official, who said he anticipates the vehicles will begin to dot the landscape in future years.

The Twin Falls landfill near the airport is nearly full and a new site will have to be selected in the future, it also was learned.

The meeting lasted about two and a half hours. Other meetings will be held later this month in other parts of the state and a formal public hearing will be held in about April, Mr. Olson said. The final hearing will be in Boise.

2 Counties Name Public Defender

GORDON S. NIELSON

RUPERT—Gordon S. Nielson, a partner in the Nielson and Nielson law firm, Burley, has been appointed the first Public Defender for both Mindoka and Cassia counties.

Mr. Nielson is a 27-year-old graduate of Stanford University and of the University of Utah College of Law. At Stanford he earned a B. A. degree in economics, then enrolled at the U. of U. where he was named outstanding senior during his final year and awarded a John Raulins scholarship. He earned a Juris Doctor degree there and was admitted to the bar last September.

A native of the Burley area, Mr. Nielson married the former Donna Dicker, Seattle, and they have one daughter, Natalie, who is 2 years old.

Mr. Nielson's salary as public defender is shared by both Mindoka and Cassia counties, and his efforts are divided between the two, "wherever he is needed most."

4 Governors Suggest New Organization

FARMINGTON, N.M. (AP)—Governors of the four corner states of Utah, Arizona, New Mexico and Colorado have suggested what they want a new organization to concentrate on working toward economic development of the area.

The governors approved unanimously Tuesday a resolution intended as initial guidance to the Four Corners Economic Development of transportation, highways, education, agriculture, minerals and industry.

The four-hour meeting was the third such session between Govs. Calvin Rampton of Utah, John Love of Colorado, David Cargo of New Mexico and Jack Williams of Arizona.

The date for their next meeting regarding the commission, with regional headquarters at Farmington, was not announced.

Jack Ruby Case Judge Dies At 60

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—Judge Joe B. Brown, the state district judge who meted out the death sentence for Jack Ruby only to see his verdict overturned, died Tuesday of a heart attack at the age of 60.

Brown was a big, affable man who insisted on courtesy but allowed a relaxed atmosphere in his court, had several heart attacks before, and after the Ruby trial.

Ruby shot to death Lee Harvey Oswald, accused assassin of President John F. Kennedy, at Oswald was being transferred from the Dallas City Jail to a cell in the county jail.

The soft-spoken Brown told friends of "drinking a Dr. Pepper with old Jack" during recesses of the Ruby trial. "You know," he said, "I kinda liked talking to him."

He refused a change of venue for Ruby, one of the items on which the Texas Court of Criminal Appeals later reversed the original decision and sent it back to Wichita Falls for retrial.

Later, after Ruby died of cancer in 1967 in the Dallas County Jail, Brown told friends he "doubted that Jack Ruby could get a fair trial anywhere."

Ruby died while his new trial was pending.

Publicly, he would never comment, but he said of the Ruby trial held in Dallas: "I think his trial here was as fair as any man could have gotten under the circumstances."

Couple Visits Deserter Son In Sweden

MOUNT POCONO, Pa. (AP)—A Pennsylvania couple just back from Sweden where they visited their son, a Navy deserter, said he does not plan to return to the United States.

"My son has no intention of returning," Charles Lindner said today. "The trip was a success in that we talked with him and got a great understanding of how he feels."

The son, Michael Lindner, 20, and three other American sailors deserted their ship, the USS Intrepid, while it was in Japan. They said they were protesting America's involvement in Vietnam.

The sailors went to Russia before going to Stockholm to seek political asylum, which later was granted.

The elder Lindner, who with his wife works at a nearby Army depot, said he supported his son's stand, but repeated he did not approve of the way "he had done it."

Lindner also said he has not been contacted by Washington officials.

Contest Won By Miss Osborne

FAIRFIELD—Lucinda Osborne was first place winner in the Gettysburg Address contest sponsored by the Camas Young Republican club.

Rumor-ry was Nikki St. Clair, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard St. Clair. Miss Osborne is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dwight Osborne and is a freshman at Camas County High School.

She will give her oration at a school assembly and be awarded her prize of $10. Judges were Mrs. Phil Brackenbury, Robert Callison and Mrs. Sten Frostenson. The contest was open to students of Camas County High School.

ORDERED TO LEAVE—ATHENS, Greece (AP)—The Greek military government today ordered the British Broadcasting Corp. to leave the country.

Mouse Trap

DALLAS, Ore. (AP)—The Dallas, Ore., chapter of the Future Farmers of America has built a better mouse trap. Here's how it works:

You take a coffee can with a plastic top and fill it with water. Then you cut several slits in the plastic top, making its surface very weak.

Next you put peanut butter on the underside of the top. Then you bury the can in a field that has a mouse problem.

The nice-smell peanut butter, step on the ill-plastic, fall into the coffee can and drown—the future farmers hope.

Agriculture In 1967 Is Inconsistent

By ED DE MOCH
AP Business Writer
CHICAGO (AP) — The year 1967 will undoubtedly be remembered by the agricultural industry as one of many inconsistencies.

Farmers were exhorted by the Johnson administration to produce more grain and they did. Crop production records were set in wheat, corn and soybeans.

They believed that exports of soybeans and products and grain would continue at a good, or even increased, rate. They did not.

Some foreign countries which for years had been buyers of United States grain had record yields in 1967 and turned exporters, vying with the U.S. for trade.

The market for soybean meal and soybean oil abroad had been climbing for several years but hit some opposition in 1967 because fish meal had been turned out in record amounts around the world and sunflower seed oil became a surplus item with Russia and other Eastern European countries.

The record domestic production, lack of exports and strong competition from former customers of the United States combined to produce a long line of declining prices for commodities to the American farmers. And, as his prices declined, so did prices of grain futures.

Through the first 11 months of 1967, the only figures currently available, there were 5,389 million contracts for commodities traded on the Board of Trade, compared with 7,047 million for the same period the previous year. This represented a loss of 23.5 per cent in business in 1967, compared with 1966.

In June, when Israeli forces battled Arab countries for five days there was a price reaction. On June 5, prices generally opened from 4 cents to 5 cents a bushel higher. Wheat, corn and soybeans advanced near their permissible limits. Then came a few penalties. Wheat declined a few cents, about 1/4 to 1/2 cent higher than the previous close. Thereafter, prices resumed their decline, with occasional bulges depending on the influence of the day.

Nation's Top Drug Official Is Given Signal To Testify

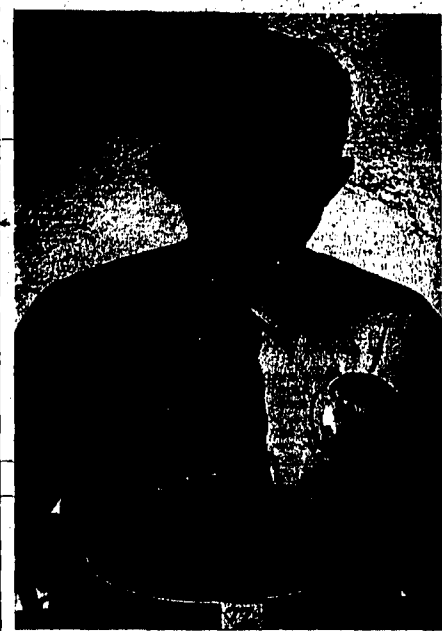

By JACK MILLER
WASHINGTON (AP) — Administration officials, saying they weren't attempting to silence Dr. James L. Goddard's opposition to President Johnson's LSD-control proposal, announced Tuesday the engagement of his daughter to a drug official has been given a go-ahead to testify on Capitol Hill.

Goddard's availability to appear before a Senate panel looking into the LSD proposal was made known Tuesday, one day after it was learned he was kept from testifying at a scheduled Monday hearing.

Goddard, food and drug commissioner, has declined to discuss the issue with newsmen. But he previously told Congress he doesn't believe in making possession of LSD a federal crime.

Johnson has asked Congress to make possession of the powerful hallucinogen a misdemeanor, punishable by up to a year in jail.

O. Crom, assistant food and drug commissioner, said when and if Goddard testi-

Woman From Illinois Wins Bakeoff

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Judges awarded the buttercream pound cake of Mrs. Albert L. Lider from Oak Lawn, Ill., a Chicago suburb, the $25,000 grand prize Tuesday in the Pillsbury Co. bakeoff.

Mrs. Lider used lemon frosting mix for the flavor and poppy seed in one of the nation's favorite recipes to triumph over 89 other finalists in the annual contest.

Three other women shared $5,000 runner-up prizes in the 10th annual event. Mrs. J. David Taylor of Dallas, Mrs. Lee Holcomb of Farmington, N. M., and Mrs. Edward Schumann, Oshkosh, Wis.

Peter Russell, 17, of Shawnee Mission, Kan., claimed a $2,000 junior class award with "poppy fresh barbecues," a snack with barbecued meat inside refrigerated tenderloin biscuits topped with cheese.

Mrs. Smedley, Burley, Dies

BURLEY — Mrs. Laura Mollina Smedley, 72, died Tuesday at her home in Burley of a short illness.

She was born March 21, 1895, at Knob Noster, Mo., and attended school there, and at Kansas City, Mo. On Jan. 14, 1913, she was married to Dr. Raleigh Elwood Smedley at Kansas City.

They came to Idaho that year, settling in Downey and moved to Burley in 1920. She had resided here since. Mrs. Smedley belonged to the Burley Christian church and a former member of Ruth Rebekah Lodge here.

Survivors include her husband, Burley; three sons, Raleigh W. Smedley, San Bruno, Calif.; Jack E. Smedley, Arlington, Va.; and Russell E. Smedley, Twin Falls; one daughter, Mrs. Lloyd (Lorraine) Sperry, Nampa; one brother, Frank Stark, Fullerton, Calif.; two sisters, Mrs. Don Chapman, Kansas City, Mo., and Mrs. John Montgomery, Los Angeles, Calif.; 13 grandchildren and three great-grandchildren.

Funeral services will be conducted at 2 p.m. Saturday at the First Christian church, Burley, by Rev. Warren Sechler. Final rites will be held in the Pleasant View Cemetery. Friends may call at the Payne Mortuary Friday afternoon and evening and Saturday prior to services.

PRESENTS PAPERS WARSAW, Poland (AP) —

Miss Pamela Ann McDougall, Canada's new ambassador to Poland, presented her credentials to President Edward Ochab Tuesday.

When Goddard was scratched from appearing at the opening of the Senate panel's hearing, Chairman Thomas J. Dodd, D-Conn., postponed the hearing indefinitely. He reportedly told the administration, if Goddard couldn't appear, he didn't want anyone else.

Officials said there had been no intention to silence Goddard. They said the reason he couldn't testify Monday was that he had to be available to help with briefings for reporters at the White House if the President's health message to Congress were issued that day. It wasn't.

Ralph K. Hult, assistant secretary for legislation of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare, said officials originally had felt that Justice officials should testify on the LSD

African Pathologist Praises Blood Donation Services In Transplants

Dr. M. C. Botha, pathologist in charge of the provincial blood grouping laboratory at the Groote Schuur Hospital in Cape Town and one of the key members of the heart transplant team, said in an interview that he was surprised at reports that stated as a fact that blood transfusions in South Africa would not be made across racial lines.

"The law of the country does not preclude this. What we do is to label all blood donations at Groote Schuur Hospital because we do know there are prejudices and it is not our duty to disregard these.

"In my experience it is as common for a non-white to accept a transfusion from a white as it is the other way around. Also, Asians are sometimes concerned about giving blood to Africans.

"I would say that out of 25,000 blood transfusions given a year at Groote Schuur, one patient shows an interest where the blood comes from."

Dr. Botha also gave high praise for the role played by voluntary blood transfusion services in the two heart transplantation operations in Cape Town.

"Our blood transfusion services and societies are without parallel in the world. The contribution made by blood donors over a period of 10 years has been a major factor in the excellence of open heart surgery in Cape Town and culminated in the two successful heart transplantation operations."

Dr. Botha said that, as far as blood transfusion services are concerned, the essential difference between South Africa and major centers overseas arose from the fact that in Cape Town donors were prepared to donate blood at times—considered inconvenient in other parts of the world—such as on Sunday afternoons or Monday mornings, and regularly over weekends and on public holidays for emergency operations. In the major centers abroad they have to work with blood which has been stored for several days, due to organizational difficulties.

Dr. Botha praised the spirit of cooperation shown by the donors who were called in for Dr. Blumberg's operation. Twenty donors of blood group B (Dr. Blumberg belongs to that group) were approached and asked to remain at center overnight on the night of the operation. They agreed to come on Monday eve-

Antarctic Explorer Will Address Knife-Fork Club

BURLEY—Capt. Finn Ronne, authority on the vast Antarctic, will be guest speaker at 7 p.m. Monday during the Burley-Rupert Knife and Fork Club dinner meeting at the Burley Elks dining room.

CAPT. FINN RONNE

"Antarctic Challenge" is the title of Ronne's book. He has been making trips to Antarctica with the regularity of a boy going to school and made his first trip to the area 33 years ago.

Ronne is a vigorous young man and shows the solidarity and strength of his early Norwegian youth. Now an American citizen, he has been awarded three Congressional medals for his exploration and research work in Antarctica.

Ronne's father was a member of the Capt. Roald Amundsen Expedition to the South Pole in 1911. Thus, young Ronne inherited a background that put the emphasis on daring, courage, and the survival of unusual hardships.

His first adventure came in 1935 when he made a trip to Antarctica as a ski-export, dog-driver and trail operator.

Since then his experiences in the Antarctic read like a fairy tale. He has accomplished things no explorer before him has ever dreamed of and on the way to doing them has earned the gratitude of our government for the polar exploration and science.

Streams Are Receding In North Idaho

KELLOGG, Idaho (AP)—Streams were receding and emergency crews moved to repair the damage Wednesday left by flooding of feeder creeks throughout the region Monday and Tuesday.

Officials said the worst from the recent storm appeared to be over as the Coeur d'Alene River created Tuesday night about one foot below flood stage.

Heavy rains the past three days which dropped a total of four inches on this northern Idaho mining region had slackened to light rainfall Wednesday morning.

Rural tributary streams spilling over their banks caused damage on all sides of Kellogg. A bridge spanning Latour Creek west of here was washed out, leaving about 16 families temporarily. County crews were attempting to lay a makeshift wooden bridge Wednesday morning and had put down wooden planks for children to cross over the churning stream to meet the school bus.

In the Deadwood Gulch area south of here, part of a mining rail line was washed out by a rampaging stream, which also swept into the yards of houses along the gulch.

Planting Set

APPLE VALLEY, Calif. (AP)—It's called Apple Valley but there isn't an apple tree in sight.

Cowboy stars Roy Rogers and Dale Evans, residents of the community, will help plant the first 1,000 apple trees in a ceremony Sunday to begin the project, "Apples for Apple Valley."

"We're tired of hearing there are no apple trees in Apple Valley," a spokesman said Tuesday.

PUC Okays Rate Cuts For Power Users

BOISE (AP)—The Idaho Public Utilities Commission reported today an approval of rate reductions for Idaho customers of the Washington Water Power Co.

The company, with headquarters in Spokane, serves areas in North Idaho.

The PUC said annual savings for Idaho customers are estimated at $142,000.

"The major changes approved by the commission," the agency said in a statement, "are lower rates for customers whose usage exceeds 650 kilowatt hours per month and a new low end step of nine mills per kilowatt hour for all energy used above 1,000 kilowatt hours per month."

"The revision approved by the commission is a combination of modernization program that was started in 1967 which is designed to make it easier for customers of the company in Idaho to avail themselves of air conditioners, electric heating and other products."

The commission said the new rates will be effective with meter readings beginning March 25.

his second tour in Vietnam ahead of a man who had been back in the United States for two years.

Presumably, many of those rushed over would not have to serve another full year in Vietnam.

Pentagon To Keep 1-Year Vietnam Tour

By FRED S. HOFFMAN AP Military Writer WASHINGTON (AP)—The Pentagon apparently intends to maintain the one-year Vietnam duty tour regardless of any other actions to bolster U.S. military manpower in Southeast Asia. "There is no sentiment in favor of stretching the tour," one high official said. "The one-year tour is awfully useful as a morale builder."

Defense authorities are studying several possible measures to ease the manpower pinch resulting from the ever-rising demands of the Vietnam war.

Possible actions include calling for active duty thousands of National Guardsmen and reservists, increasing draft calls, shortening the interval between tours of duty in Vietnam and bringing more troops back from Europe.

An already tight manpower situation would become worse if President Johnson should order an increase in authorized troop levels for Vietnam beyond the currently planned 525,000 by mid-summer.

Message From Tiny Community Could Save Astronauts' Lives

By JAKE BOOHER, JR. WASHINGTON, N.M. (AP)—A message from this tiny community high in the Sacramento Mountains of southern New Mexico could save the lives of manhood astronauts.

The main business at Sunspot is watching the sun—and trying to predict the awesome solar disturbances which send deadly proton showers flashing through space.

late this year a new 200-ton, 328-foot vacuum telescope, largest of its type in the world, which, Evans hopes, will provide the best solar data obtainable by earthbound instruments.

When solar storms send their X-rays and gamma, ultraviolet and infrared rays into the earth's atmosphere, our atmosphere's ions react in such a way that it is difficult for radar to see through them.

By evacuating from its interior the air that can smear the sun's image, it is hoped that the 30-inch-diameter reflecting telescope can at least triple the amount of time in which first-class images of the sun can be obtained.

"We will be disappointed if it doesn't triple it," Evans said. "The trouble is, you've got to have an instrument of this sort to find out."

Association Claims Country Failing In Obligations To Mistreated Child

By LOUDON KELLY DENVER, Colo. (AP)—The American Humane Association said today this country is failing in its obligations to mistreated and neglected children.

In a report based on a two-year survey, the association charged that not a single state has a child protective program adequate in size to meet the service needs of all reported cases of child neglect, abuse and exploitation.

Vincent De Francis, director of the children's division of the association, said in an interview that "we are at least 25 years behind the times in giving the right kind of care and protection for the abused or neglected child."

The AHA has its headquarters in Denver. The report is based on a survey of all 50 states plus Washington, D.C., Guam, Puerto Rico and the Virgin Islands.

change in laws to define more clearly protective services and emotional neglect, and two-thirds said adequate financing is needed.

De Francis told a reporter that "there probably are 100 cases of child abuses for every one that gets into the newspapers." He said the association is hopeful the lengthy report "will be a yardstick by which each state can measure what it is accomplishing."

Wide Open Race Looms In A-2 District Tournament Starting At Buhl Thursday

BUHL — A wide open A-2 basketball tournament opens at the Buhl High School gymnasium Thursday night in a situation that should bring more pressure on players, coaches and fans than any other in the classification's brief history. The thing is so close that any one of the teams could win it.

Montreal Is Leader In East Division

MONTREAL (AP) — The Montreal Canadiens have zoomed into a solid lead in the East Division of the National Hockey League by winning 18 of their last 19 games. But Coach Toe Blake is characteristically looking behind him.

"Sure, we're in better shape than we were a month ago. But it doesn't take long to go down," Blake said Tuesday. He added that the Chicago Black Hawks, New York Rangers and Boston Bruins all have a chance of catching his streaking club in the final six weeks of the regular campaign.

The Black Hawks are in second place, six points behind the leaders. The third-place Rangers are eight points back, one point in front of fourth-place Boston.

The Canadiens themselves were in last place in the six-team division a little more than a month ago. They put together an unbeaten string of 16 games, including 12 straight victories, though, and moved up quickly. The skid ended when they were beaten by the Rangers, 3-0 on Feb. 4.

Now, Montreal has another five-game winning streak going. "I would have to make our improvement a combination of everything," Blake said. "When you can put lines together—the same men—for a few games in a row, then the team starts to roll."

very slight. Gooding apparently has started to come a little after a mid-season slump and the Senators have the talent to win it. Jerome needs only to find a little more consistent scoring punch to take the title and Pflis, capable of winning it, too, if the outside shooting is there.

Two Plan To Build Six Turbine Cars

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP) — Anthony Granatelli of Chicago, president of STP Corp., and Colin Chapman, builder of Lotus cars in London, announced Tuesday they will build and enter six turbine-powered cars in the 32nd Indianapolis 500-mile auto race May 30.

The engines are the same size as Pratt & Whitney power plants which Granatelli had in his 1947 Turbocar and which the United States Auto Club has outlawed for 1963 through a reduced maximum intake port rule.

Granatelli has sued USAC in U.S. District Court in an attempt to have experimental cars exempted from their former status.

Three former Indianapolis winners will be carrying Granatelli's colors as they did last year—Parnell Jones of Torrance, Calif.; Jimmy Clark of Dunsmuir, Scotland; and Graham Hill of London. Granatelli said a fourth top ranking driver would be sought but the other two cars would be kept in reserve.

Granatelli said the new cars will be entirely different from the Turbocar in which Jones led most of the race until a bearing failed.

The first two places will go out to the state tournament in Pontiac on the first week in March.

Examiners Delay Bid For Sports Access In Canyon

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Moe Drabowsky, a bullpen hero in the 1966 World Series and a mainstay of the sixth-place Baltimore Orioles last season, has signed his American League contract for 1968.

Drabowsky, 32, received a reported raise to about $30,000 after posting a 7-5 record, with 11 saves, last season, when Baltimore dropped to a tie for sixth after its 1967 pennant and World Series victories.

He joined 21 other batters Tuesday in spring training workouts here.

Steelhead Catch Must Be Listed

BOISE (AP) — The Idaho Fish and Game Department reminded today that steelhead caught this year must be listed on permit cards, showing the date and place they were hooked.

All sportsmen who fish for catch or possess salmon or steelhead must have the permit cards, the department said. This includes youngsters under 14 and others exempted from buying a regular license.

Boycott Of Olympics Picks Up Momentum As More Withdraw

NAIROBI, Kenya (AP) — The boycott of the 1968 Summer Olympics in Mexico City picked up momentum Tuesday, and three Scandinavian politicians urged Norway, Sweden and Denmark to reconsider the decision reinstating South Africa in the Olympic family.

Examiners Delay Bid For Sports Access In Canyon

Action by the Idaho Fish and Game Department to bring access to Maple Valley sportsmen on the north side of the Snake River was at least a temporary delay Tuesday when the state board of examiners refused to approve purchase of about two miles of river frontage for lack of firm appraisal prices.

Drabowsky Signs Pact With Boston

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Moe Drabowsky, a bullpen hero in the 1966 World Series and a mainstay of the sixth-place Baltimore Orioles last season, has signed his American League contract for 1968.

Cardinals Net $600,000

ST. LOUIS (AP) — The St. Louis Cardinals made $600,000 net profit during their 1967 pennant-winning year, a club spokesman said today.

Despite the 2.1 million attendance last year, profits were about the same as for the 1966 season when the Cardinals spent part of the season in the old Busch Stadium. The club official said this was due to the fact the Cardinals do not share parking and concession receipts at Busch Memorial Stadium.

Boycott Of Olympics Picks Up Momentum As More Withdraw

So far 15 countries have declared themselves out of the Games, several others have indicated they will pull out, too, and Soviet Union officials have said they have withdrawal under consideration.

The other 11 who have said they will not participate are Ethiopia, Algeria, Uganda, Tanzania, Ghana, Guinea, Mali, Gambia, United Arab Republic, Syria and Somalia.

Trinidad, Zambia, Singapore and Malaysia indicated they will not compete either.

South Africa was suspended by the IOC in 1963 because of the country's racial policies.

It was reinstated by the IOC at Grenoble, France, last week when it gave assurances that it would field an integrated team, traveling and living together wearing the same uniforms and marching under the same flag.

Meanwhile in Mexico City, foreign minister Antonio Carrillo Floras said the Mexico City Organizing Committee acted correctly in inviting South Africa to participate. Another official said Mexico voted against reinstating South Africa.

Carillo Floras said he hoped all invited countries would realize that Mexico was merely fulfilling its international commitments.

They called for reversal of the IOC's decision reinstating South Africa as long as racial discrimination continues in that country.

Hagerman And Dietrich Favored In A-4 Tourney

GOODING — Dietrich and Hagerman, the two teams that led the fifth district-based Northside Conference throughout the season, are expected to battle for the district championship at the Gooding State gymnasium but the two favorites will sit out the first night.

With Grand View and Brunson being shifted into the fourth district this spring, the fifth district tournament settles down to an all-Magic Valley squabble.

The 7 p.m. Thursday game will send the Camus County Musters against the Bliss Bears with the Carey Panthers meeting Richfield at 8:30 p.m. The Carey-Richfield winner will go against Hagerman at 7 p.m. Friday with Dietrich meeting the winner of the Camus County Bliss game in the nightcap. The meet will continue through Saturday night and start again next Wednesday.

Boosters Meet

The Bruin Boosters will hold their regular weekly meeting in the basement of the Elks Building at 7 a.m. Thursday. The results of the wrestling season and the previous basketball games will be the main topics of discussion. Everyone is welcome.

Hawkins Is New Scoring Leader

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — For the first time in 11 weeks, the American Basketball Association had a new scoring leader Tuesday in Connie Hawkins of Pittsburgh.

The versatile Piper star took over the scoring lead from Levern Tart of New Jersey with a 25.1 average for 53 games through games of last Saturday. Tart, the pacesetter since the second week of the season, has 21.7 for second. Doug Moe of New Orleans is third with 21.4.

The two favorites are exact opposites. Hagerman has the height and firepower but the Pirates don't like to play defense too well and they don't utilize their tall men inside or on the offensive backboards. They can shoot with about any club and still hold the edge in rebounding well enough to win this tournament.

On the other end, Dietrich is short and plays every percentage. The Devils forte is defense and a calculating offense that makes few errors. The Devils lack no one over six feet tall, with the shortest being at 5-5.

That makes the road awfully hard for the other four teams. All of them are capable of beating the favorites on a good night but their accounts for only one win.

Camus County comes closest to filling a darkhorse bill with the Musters having two and three good shooters who on given nights are capable of piling up a lot of points. Lack of quickness inside hurts the Musters and they aren't tall enough to battle the taller teams evenly.

Carey has a great scoring punch in Jim Murdock and any team that lets him have a free hand out front will pay dearly. But the Panthers also could use more height and at times their defense is quite porous.

Richfield, one of the smaller teams, lives and dies with its full court press. The night Coach Neil Anderson's press unsettles the other club is the night Richfield breathes. It has two pretty consistent scorers.

Bliss also is offense oriented and at times has put all five starters into double figures. But the Bears have to cut down on their turnover and tighten up the defense somewhat to make a strong bid for the crown.

Late Free Throw Shooting By Boise Carries Broncos To 68-66 Win Over Eagles

Clutch free throw shooting by the Boise Broncos over the final three minutes carried them past the College of Southern Idaho Golden Eagles in a slanting defensive duel Tuesday night.

The battle, which was tied at halftime and five other times during the game, settled down between the two. They beat each other on the home floor this season and, with a little tournament luck, could meet again in Boise in two weeks for a berth in the national junior college tournament.

"If we can get past Treasure Valley (in the JC regional), I expect we'll have to play CSI again," said Coach Murray Satterfield of Boise after the game. "They are a fine team. We played one of our best games of the year—we always seem to play better away from home—and it was just barely enough."

On the other side Coach Eddie Sutton said overall he was quite pleased with the effort of his charges. "We just didn't quite play well enough," he said dejectedly.

It was a great game from the opening tip. The Broncos hit 54 percent from the field and the Eagles 52, both winding up with 12 goals. The difference came when Boise hit 14 straight from the foul line, not missing until Wendell Hart missed a pair with four seconds left. CSI hit 12 of 15.

CSI could trace its defeat to two goals. Midway through the first half the Eagles went six minutes and six seconds with only three points while Boise pulled into an 11-point lead.

Lanky Tom Bush brought them back to the halftime tie, however, after that lapse. Then, with 14:13 left in the game CSI muffed a 48-45 lead but failed to score on three straight times down the floor.

CSI seemed to control things over the opening minutes of the second half and generally held one- to three-point leads. But after Bush made it 48-45 the Eagles hit a scoresless spell and Bill Oley and Burt Chaffee tied it for the Eagles. Boise went ahead by three with 9:45 remaining and the Eagles could never get back.

Five times CSI cut the margin to two points but each time the Broncos went back to four. In the closing three minutes Boise went into a slowdown game and the Eagles had to pull Boise back to within one point. Boise kept making the charity tosses while Fies Vann put on a great maneuvering and scoring display to keep the pressure on.

In the final 30 seconds the Eagles stole the ball but Adams was caught on an offensive foul trying for a bucket on a roll pass. After Hart missed his two free throws, the Eagles got off a desperation 60-footer but it bounced off the boards.

The Eagles remain in action Friday night and Saturday afternoon, hosting the Montana State freshmen.

Three Teams Are Picked For Tourney

NEW YORK (AP)—Army, Oklahoma City and Fordham were picked Tuesday to play in the National Invitational Basketball Tournament in the New Madison Square Garden. The Cadets moved into the NIT after rejecting a bid to participate in the NCAA's University Division tourney.

The Garden tournament opens March 14 and closes March 23.

Army has the best record among the first three teams selected for the 14-team tourney. The Cadets have won 18 and lost 4. Oklahoma City has a 17-6 mark while Fordham is 14-6.

John Beck, the Rams' coach, is the chairman of the NIT's selection committee.

Earlier in the day, the NCAA said that Army had been invited to play at-large entry but had refused.

Brown Gets Back Into Professional Football

NEW YORK (AP)—Paul Brown is living, again, coaching a professional football team.

After five years on the sidelines, Brown is back as part owner, coach and general manager of the Cincinnati Bengals of the American Football League.

"I'm bloody well happy to be back as a coach," he said Tuesday at a news conference during a break of the pro football meetings. "I'm living again. I feel like I'm waiting my life. There was nothing purposeful to look forward to."

"You people who think retirement and pension are everything will find out that things go beyond money and retirement in this world."

Brown is finding pro football a little bit different from when he left the Cleveland Browns in 1962 after starting with them from scratch in 1946.

It is much more difficult or impossible to coach today than in 1946, he said. "The talent is spread out more thinly. It is more difficult from the standpoint of getting football players. As for the changes in football...

Boston, Houston And Chicago Loyola Earn Berths In NCAA

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Boston College was picked to represent Duquesne and unbeaten, top-ranked Houston drew Chicago Loyola as its first opponent in the first round pairings announced Tuesday by the NCAA for its 30th University Basketball Championships starting March 9.

Duquesne rejected a bid from the NCAA to await an NIT bid.

Houston, 23-0, faces Chicago Loyola 13-7, in the 7 p.m. game at Utah March 9 with New Mexico State, 18-4, meeting the Big Sky Conference champion at 9.

In the first round at Rhode Island, it's a single game, Boston College, 13-7, vs. 4th-ranked St. Bonaventure, 19-0, at 7:30 p.m. EST.

The Ivy League champ meets the Middle Atlantic champ at 1:15 and the Southern Conference champion meets St. John's of New York, 15-0, at 7:15 in an afternoon first round double-header at Maryland.

Kent State of Ohio will host two first round games, with the Ohio Valley Conference winner facing Florida State, 17-5, at 7 p.m. EST, and the Mid-American Conference champ facing 10th ranked Marquette, 19-3, at 9.

Winners of the seven first round games at March 9 will advance into the four NCAA regionals at North Carolina State, Kentucky, Wichita and New Mexico March 15-16, along with the Southwest and Western Athletic conference champions, both of whom were given first round byers by the NCAA.

These nine will be joined in the regionals by seven more conference champions, all of them automatic qualifiers. Then the four regional champs play at Los Angeles March 22-23 in the final round of four.

Here are the regional pairings:
East Regional at N. C. State—The first round winners at Maryland meet at 7 p. m.; Atlantic Coast champ vs. Boston College-St. Bonaventure winner at 9.

Midwest Regional at Kentucky—Big Ten champ vs. Ohio Valley-Florida State winner at 7; Southeastern Conference champ vs. Mid-American-Marquette winner at 9.

West Regional at New Mexico—Pacific Eight champ vs. Big Sky-New Mexico State winner at 7; West Coast Conference champ vs. WAC champ at 9.

CUTTING INSIDE, College of Southern Idaho's Tom Bush tries to score against Boise during action Tuesday night but after a foul committed himself with two free throws. Boise took the game 68-66 to even up the season series between the two.

Boston Romps Past Cincinnati

BOSTON (AP)—The 1968 Jones boys' cut got Boston off swinging Tuesday and old reliable Dennis Howell hit steadily in a 26-point performance as the Celtics romped to a 126-110 National Basketball Association victory over the Cincinnati Royals.

Rookie John Jones and veteran Sam Jones had two field goals apiece early in the first period as the Celtics ran nine straight points for a 13-4 lead, and they stayed ahead the rest of the way.

The Jones boys finished with 14 each.

Brecher Says Fans Are Not Sole Problem

DENVER (AP)—Concerned over crowd behavior at Western Athletic Conference basketball games, Commissioner Paul W. Brecher has chided not only the fans but also coaches, officials and hometown newspapers for contributing to the problem.

Brecher took up the matter in a letter to WAC presidents, faculty representatives, athletic directors, basketball coaches and officials. The letter followed a disturbance at Saturday's Utah-New Mexico game.

"It seems to me that there is no single factor which is creating the chaos, but rather it is a combination of several problems," he said.

This is an age when many believe it is groovy to dissent, disrespect and show lack of respect for authority, Brecher said, and "this has led to a deterioration of sportsmanship."

He said a feeling has developed among home crowds that the visiting team never deserves to win. "Consequently, visiting players and coaches are under constant harassment and intimidation, even to the extent of the local fans throwing objects at the players, officials and onto the court."

Brecher charged that coaches, in the heat of battle, still are guilty of coming onto the floor without permission, verbally abusing officials and inciting the public to riot.

He said newspaper writers and sports broadcasters also often have the view that the home team cannot legitimately lose.

Pocatello Rated No. 1, Minico And T.F. In Top Ten

By The Associated Press

Pocatello's Bill Emerson's Pocatello Indians, already champions of the rugged Southern Idaho Conference, added still another laurel this week, when the sportswriters and sportscasters of the Associated Press, voted the Tribe No. 1 in the final prep poll of the season.

Of the 37 voters, 11 saw fit to name the Pocatello crew No. 1 in the state and this helped total 164 points or 14 points better than the Bears of Moscow High. Moscow drew five first place votes while three ranked Nampa picked up the other top spots.

coming on the home floor of the Indians.

Pocatello thus replaces Soda Springs at the state's mythical champions after the Cardinals went through the 1967-68 season with a perfect 20-0 record.

The Borah Lions have won the crown three times, taking all the marbles in 1963-64, 1964-65 and 1965-66.

With the regular season out of the way, all but a handful of games this weekend, the teams now settle down to the task of gaining places in the various state tournaments dated March 7-9.

Volkswagen introduces the automatic stick shift.

After to these many years our humble little bug has gone automatic. Gone is the clutch. Gone is the wily whine, "It's cute, but I can't drive it." Gone is an era of Volkswagendom. Sniff. And in its place? A Volkswagen you can drive all over town without shifting. Only on the highway do you shift. Once, it is an economy move. Which, after all, is still the name of the game! But you do have a choice in the matter: you can drive it the easy way described above. Or you can start out in low and take it through the gears like a regular stick shift. The automatic stick shift is an option: you pay a little more. But you do get a little less.

Bar Association's Press-Trial Rules Limit Flow Of Information

By BARRY SCHWEID
CHICAGO (AP) — At the moment, the American Bar Association's press-trial standards are what ABA officials have insisted all along they be called—recommendations.

Undoubtedly, they will encourage lawyers and policemen to limit the flow of information to the public about arrests and trials. In fact, the ABA discovered, some already have.

Eventually, though, in the wake of one top news official: Publishers will go to court "to prove that prior restraint on official news sources amounts to censorship in advance in violation of the First Amendment."

Only after this court fight, predicted by J. Edward Murray of the American Society of Newspaper Editors, will it be known if the standards will stick.

Immediately in the offing is this: The proposed restrictions on what prosecutors and defense lawyers may say about a pending criminal case will be forwarded to an ABA committee that is in the process of revising the organization's ethical code.

ABA President Earl F. Morris expects the first draft of the new code to be ready next summer and the final version, he hopes, will be presented to the House of Delegates for adoption a year from now.

Morris says the standards then would be binding on the members of the ABA. This includes, about 120,000 practicing lawyers.

He and Bernard G. Segal, a Philadelphia lawyer who will become ABA president in August 1969, expect state bar associations to generally follow suit, adopting the ABA codes as their own.

Also, Morris says, in some areas state supreme courts probably will adopt rules along these lines.

The result of all this would be that from then on, from arrest through trial, lawyers who gave out certain information or expressed their opinions publicly about a case would run a risk of reprimand, suspension or even disbarment.

Two Japanese Sailors Rescued
TOKYO (AP)—Two Japanese sailors were rescued today after being trapped in the hull of an overturned coastal tanker for 30 hours. But rough seas forced rescuers to abandon a search for seven other men believed trapped in the vessel.

Officials believe the seven remaining crewmen of the No. 11 Daitor Maru, died after high winds capsized the 37-ton vessel just inside Tokyo Bay Tuesday night. Two other crewmen were thrown clear and were picked up by a passing ship.

But Murray, managing editor of the Arizona Republic, emphasizes that "neither the ABA nor the House of Delegates makes the law."

And, he says, "House of Delegates action has only advisory, not compulsory, force at the state and local level."

As for the bulk of the ABA proposals, Morris says, "Implementation depends on police departments, state courts and possibly state legislatures."

These proposals deal with the conduct of police officials, judges and court officials—with use of the contempt power by judges, and suggest closing some court proceedings to the press and public.

It is in these areas—particularly the exclusion of the public and the press, at the request of the defendant's lawyer, from pretrial hearings and portions of the trial itself—that there are likely to be court fights.

Justice Bernard S. Mayer of the New York State Supreme Court, a member of the ABA's Fair Trial-Free Press Committee, told the House of Delegates "there is no absolute right of the press to be present at all stages of the criminal process."

David L. Shapiro, a Harvard law professor who helped prepare the Reardon report, told the delegates "the right to free press is not absolute."

And the head of the committee, Justice Paul C. Reardon of the Supreme Judicial Court of Massachusetts, speaking of his report on the whole, said it could be carried out "without in any true sense damaging constitutional freedoms."

Still, several news officials believe the Constitution is on their side.

Hu Blunk, chairman of The Associated Press Managing Editors' Freedom of Information Committee, says it is probably unconstitutional to bar newsmen from preliminary hearings or parts of a trial "at the whim" of the defendant's attorney.

Blunk, managing editor of the Wenatchee, Wash., Daily World, thinks that if the judicial branch tried to force restrictions on police, courts would declare the action unconstitutional.

Similarly, Murray says there probably will be a case testing "the disputed power of either courts or legislatures to compel compliance of the police, who are members of the executive branch, in violation of the principle of separation of powers."

And Michael J. Ogden, president of the American Society of Newspaper Editors, says that letting the policeman, rather than the editor, decide what the public needs to be told about a crime "could only result in prior restraint on news sources, certainly in violation of the spirit of the 1st Amendment."

Registrars, Polling Places For Election Announced

Election machinery is already being set up by county officials for the 1968 general elections.

Twin Falls county commissioner Tuesday announced the appointment of registrars and the selection of polling places for the August primary election and the November general election.

Registration books will open March 4, County Clerk Harold Lancaster reports, and they will remain open until Aug. 3 at 9 p.m. Individual registrars are required to post election and registration notices in their precincts listing the hours they will be available to register voters.

Persons who have moved from one precinct to another, are new in the area or have not voted in previous general elections must register to be eligible to vote in August.

The 51 voting precincts in the county are divided into three commissioner districts with each commissioner responsible for appointments of registrars in the precincts of his district.

Appointed in the first commissioner district by Morris W. Carlson, Filer, are Mrs. H. W. Lehman, Buhl number 11; Mrs. Cary, Buhl number 2; Mrs. Hopper, Rodig, Buhl number 3; Mrs. Wade Qulpley, Buhl number 4; Mrs. Ed VanOstran, Buhl number 5; Mrs. Cary, Buhl number 6; Mrs. William L. Chances Are Bleaker For Strike Break

By NEIL GILBRIDE
AP Labor Writer
MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Chances appeared bleaker today for any break in the nationwide copper strike after union leaders slapped down a government proposal to get talks moving again in the seven-month-old walkout.

"It looks pretty grim," said strike leader Joseph P. Molony after his committee representing 26 striking unions rejected Tuesday a federal suggestion that the unions drop their demands for companywide bargaining.

The strike leaders, with the approval of AFL-CIO President George Meany, said the federal plan is unacceptable because it is unworkable and would not resolve any of the basic problems which caused the strike.

They said the 60,000 striking workers in 22 states can't hope to wipe out inequities in wages and working conditions at four major copper firms if the unions give up their demands for companywide bargaining.

"I hope they will continue with this strike until our objectives are met," said Molony, vice president of the United Steelworkers-Union, "but it is for the members to tell us what to do."

The rejected proposal was issued by a three-man federal panel and endorsed by Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz and Secretary of Commerce Alexander Trowbridge, who had appointed the panel.

Selected in the second commissioner district by William Chancey were Mrs. Frieda McBeth, Twin Falls 1; Mrs. H. L. Wares, Twin Falls 3; Mrs. Helen Swartley, Twin Falls 3; Myrtle Anderson, Twin Falls 4; Mrs. Cecil Gault, Twin Falls 5; Mrs. Damer Bertsch, Twin Falls 6; Mrs. Ray Deleski, Twin Falls 7; Mrs. Gale Killinger, Twin Falls 8; Mrs. Ann O'Hilloran, Twin Falls 11; Mrs. Emma Spencer, Twin Falls 14; Mrs. Lloyd LeClair, Twin Falls 15; Mrs. Mary Stansbury, Twin Falls 16; Mrs. Tom Merry, Twin Falls 17; Mrs. Anna Smith, Twin Falls 18; Mrs. Peter F. State Highway Board Denies Re-Hearing

BOISE (AP)—The State Highway Board has informed an eastern Idaho delegation it could not hold a re-hearing on a proposed highway routing without placing the board on legal jeopardy.

The group told the board a proposed routing of U.S. 101-20 through Rigby was "an inequity" and said they would attempt to change the decision.

But C. Ed Flandro, board member from Pocatello, told the delegation Tuesday the board would be subject to suit by the city of Rigby if it called for a re-hearing. He said if the city requested a re-hearing, one could then be held.

Cecil Greene of Rigby and Agron of Rexburg headed the delegation. Greene said "95 per cent of the people" desired the highway to be rerouted around Rigby, as a by-pass.

At a 1964 hearing, Rigby and Jefferson County representatives approved construction of a new four-lane section of the highway through the small eastern Idaho city.

Board Chairman R. Doyle Synms read letters Tuesday from the Rigby Chamber of Commerce, mayor and city council which asked the present route through the city be retained.

The chamber's letter said the highway board was being pressured by "a group that does not represent the city."

Board members authorized a permit on a research basis for the next six weeks to operate a "three bottom" motor freight train with a weight limit of 52 tons daily from Twin Falls to the Nevada line.

The three-vehicle train, which conforms to Idaho's 98-foot length limit, already operates between Jackpot and Las Vegas in Nevada.

HAND HOGGERS NEVER QUIT

Today's hand has appeared in our column before. Oswald Jacoby was North and one of the greatest hand hogs of all time sat South.

This hand was played in the early days of contract when any suit response to one no-trump

So he made a second underbid of four hearts.

Sure enough, the hand hog came right back with four no-trump. He had 4-3-3 distribution and even though his four card suit was the one his partner had been bidding, South wanted to play the hand.

At this point Jacoby finally decided to bid his values and jumped to six hearts. South bid six no-trump!

South made a valiant effort to make his no-trump slam. He ducked the first club in order to set up a notable squeeze. He won the second club and ran hearts. East ducked a club as soon as possible to give West a count of that suit. Then East hung onto his diamonds while West just held whichever black cards South dealt.

Of course, six hearts would have been a cinch because one of South's hearts could have been used to ruff that fourth diamond. Jacoby was mad then. He is still mad 35 years later. He blames himself for trying to get the hog to let him play a hand.

A—Bid four clubs. You want to be in game if your partner holds five little clubs and nothing else.

TODAY'S QUESTION

Instead of bidding three clubs your partner jumps to four spades over your two spades. What do you do now?

was a one round ruff. South also hated to have his partners jump so Jacoby contented himself with a two heart response although he knew that he wanted to be in game at least.

South's jump rebid to three no-trump showed at least 17 points. He played indefinitely but strong no-trumps. Jacoby visualized a heart slam at this point but was afraid that a jump to the heart slam would merely lead to a six no-trump contract.

His Brother Uses Parents For Alibis

Dear Ele and Walt: My brother would do this to her supposed best friend?—Trish not Trish. Since we go to the same school I learn a lot of what he says. The problem is that he blames everything that goes wrong in his life on his parents. Like for instance he doesn't drive because he failed the exam twice, yet he told the kids my folks were keeping him from driving.

Then he told everybody my folks made him come home two months early from the ranch where he was supposed to work all last summer. The real story on that was that the ranch manager telephoned long distance and told my folks to bring him home because he was too lazy to work. I could give you many more examples, but what I want to know is this: when he tells lies about the kids the right story? And should I tell my folks? It does no good for me to try talking to him. He calls me—"Punk."

Dear Kid Brother: Apparently your brother already is ashamed of the facts of his life, why else would he lie to the kids at school? So if you're going to tell anyone, confide in your folks. They might know how much he's separating from reality. Perhaps it will give them the push they need to seek professional counseling for him.—Ele and Walt.

SOME FRIEND
Dear Ele and Walt: Saturday was supposed to meet Jill for a movie date. I waited one hour and fifteen minutes and then came home since I didn't want to be out after dark alone. When I called to see what had happened, Jill said some boys had dropped in and she decided to stay home to entertain them and didn't have any way to telephone me at the place she was supposed to meet me. Do you think a real friend as the person to reopen old wounds, then you must be willing to stick around and hear the person out completely even if it takes hours. Are you?

So, when there's a divorce in your circle, please don't pry. If your friend wants to tell you, he will—Divorced at 18½.

Escobedo Gets Prison Sentence

CHICAGO (AP) — Danny Escobedo, whose name identifies a landmark U.S. Supreme Court decision in a murder case, was sentenced Tuesday to 2 years in prison for dealing in heroin.

Judge Alexander J. Napoli of U.S. District Court assessed the penalty on Escobedo's conviction earlier this month on charges of possessing and selling the narcotic. The maximum punishment would have been 100 years in prison and a $150,000 fine.

Federal agents testified during a seven-day trial that Escobedo, 29, and an accomplice sold them heroin on several occasions last year. The agents said $1,300 was paid for the drugs.

In 1964, the Supreme Court handed down what has become known as the Escobedo Decision. The court set aside the murder conviction of Escobedo in the killing of his brother-in-law because it found Escobedo had not been allowed to consult a lawyer before making a statement to authorities.

County Jail Escapee Held In Oregon

Sheriff Paul Corder said Tuesday morning he has received word from Pendleton, Ore., that Donald Barnett, who is wanted for escape from the Twin Falls County Jail, has been apprehended there and will be held for extradition.

A warrant charging escape was prepared Tuesday and sent to Pendleton. If the defendant waives extradition he will be returned immediately, the sheriff said.

Barnett was taken into custody Monday in Pendleton and was sentenced to 30 days there on a charge of illegal riding of a freight train.

Sheriff Corder said the man escaped from the Twin Falls County Jail Nov. 25, 1967, after cutting his way out of the cell and forcing bars at the entrance of a stairway leading from the fourth floor jail area of the building.

Barnett had pleaded guilty to charges of first degree burglary and was sentenced in Fifth Judicial District Court to one year in the state penitentiary. When he escaped, Sheriff Corder said, he had been returned here for a hearing after he began his sentence.

Indians To Discuss Use Of Peyote

BLACKFOOT, Idaho (AP) — Representatives of the Shoshone-Bannock Indian tribe will meet Saturday with state officials to discuss use of peyote in certain religious rites.

Peyote is a hallucinatory drug obtained from a plant and is specifically named in a new state law restricting the possession, use or sale of certain drugs.

State Sen. Cecil Sandberg, D-Blackfoot, said he was contacted by Alvin Buckskin, a member of the tribe's council on the Fort Hall Reservation who asked him about use of the drug.

Sandberg said C. D. Barnette of the State Drug Control Bureau told him that a representative from his office or that of Atty. Gen. Allan G. Shepard would be at the Saturday discussion.

Sandberg said Barnette told him that if peyote were used strictly for religious ceremonies, the law would probably not be enforced. Indians who belong to the Native American Church reportedly have a charter from the federal government permitting use of peyote for religious purposes.

Rupert Man To Face Charges Of Embezzlement

RUPERT — Ronald Rawson, 24, Rupert, was returned here over the weekend from Twin Falls on charges of embezzlement which allegedly occurred two years ago.

Rawson turned himself in late Friday to the Twin Falls police after Minidoka county officers had issued a warrant for his arrest. He has a net worth of $125 in cash and some gas from a service station where he was employed.

The theft took place two years ago and Rawson had not been seen since. After turning himself in and returning to Rupert, Rawson was arraigned Monday in probate court and requested a court-appointed counsel.

He is in sheriff's custody in lieu of a $500 bond.

PANCAKE SUPPER
KIMBERLY — The Kimberly Methodist men will hold an annual blueberry pancake supper next Monday from 5 to 8 p.m. at the Kimberly Methodist Church.

RESUSCI ANNE, held by LuDell Waldron, left, and Mrs. Glen Cannon, will be featured during an art show sponsored by the Twin Falls Soroptimist Club set Feb. 21 and 22. Purpose of the art show is to raise funds to enable the purchase of Resusci Anne, an artificial respiration teaching aid, for the local Red Cross Chapter. Mr. Waldron is president of the Twin Falls Red Cross Chapter, and Mrs. Cannon is president of the Twin Falls Soroptimist Club.

Soroptimists Sponsoring Art Show To Raise Funds For Resusci Anne Model

An art show to raise funds for the purchase of artificial respiration teaching aids will be held at the Methodist Church in Twin Falls this weekend.

Sponsored by the Soroptimist Club of Twin Falls, the showing will feature paintings by four well known local artists.

Mrs. Glen Cannon, president of Soroptimists, said Wednesday that proceeds from the event will go for a Resusci Anne artificial respiration training model. This model which has been presented to the Twin Falls Chapter of American Red Cross is a life size inflatable mannequin.

In use by a first aid student it simulates the actual mouth to mouth breathing process.

Karen Griggs, Safety Services chairman for the local Red Cross Chapter, said the Resusci Anne model would be on display at the art show. She indicated it would be available for use by persons interested in learning mouth to mouth resuscitation.

In expressing her committee's appreciation for Resusci Anne to the Soroptimist Club, Miss Griggs said the gift would be a valuable asset in teaching first aid classes and for demonstration to interested groups. Several Idahoans have been saved in recent months by knowledgeable persons trained in this resuscitation process, Miss Griggs said.

She also expressed her hopes that local groups would take advantage of learning this life saving method by calling the Red Cross office to schedule a demonstration.

The four artists displaying their works in the benefit art show will be Mrs. Bill Grange, Mrs. Keith Evans, Lee Logan and La. Mae Steel, art instructor at the College of Southern Idaho. A painting by Mrs. Grange will be given away on Sunday evening.

Hours for the show are 3 to 5 p.m. Saturday and noon to 5 p.m. Sunday. Tickets are on sale by Soroptimist members, at Helmer's Record Shop and will be available at the door. Refreshments will be served.

DR. HOWARD RONK, left, receives an honorary lifetime PTA membership in the Idaho State PTA from Pat O'Connor, president of the Morningglade School PTA. Dr. Ronk was presented the certificate and pin during the Founders' Day meeting held Monday night at Robert Stuart Junior High School. Dr. Ronk has held every office in the local council.

Dr. Ronk Presented PTA Council Life Membership

A life membership award was presented — Dr. Howard Ronk Monday night during the annual Founders' Day program of the Twin Falls PTA council.

Dr. Ronk has been active in PTA organizations including the council for a number of years. A cash award which accompanies the life membership will be used by the Twin Falls Special Education program for scholarship purposes to assist teachers engaged in special education work.

Following the business meeting, council members were given a tour of the special education building where handicapped youngsters are being educated. Mrs. Charles Radcliffe conducted the tour and presented slides of some of the students and their work.

The next meeting April 8 will feature an address on UNESCO by Mrs. John Brockenkridge.

Magic Valley Cutter Group Wins Traveling Prize

PAUL — Members of the Magic Valley Cutter Racing Association won the traveling trophy for the second year Sunday when they defeated the National Cutter Racing Association from Rigby.

The Association winning three consecutive years will keep the trophy permanently. This is the second year for Magic Valley.

Magic Valley won 20 races out of 29 during the Saturday event, and won 19 out of 29 on Sunday. Races were held at the Burley Airport.

Ron Nielsen, who had remained undefeated this season, was toppled by the Crystal and Ashment team of Rigby, which is the only undefeated team in that association this season.

According to Clyde Kendall, Magic Valley president, this defeat will not count against Nielsen and he will run as the undefeated champion at the Worldwide Cutter Racing trials to be held the last two weekends in March at Pocatello.

Clyde Kendall and Jim Collett, who tied a week ago for third place towards the Worldwide event, resulted in another defeat last weekend. A runoff is scheduled again for March 3.

It was decided that four teams will now represent Magic Valley association during the Worldwide event, and this runoff will not eliminate a team, but will determine placement instead.

Nielsen will go as champion of this association and Don Vandenberg in second place.

Nielsen also was named recipient of the Horsemanship Award for this season, and the Sportsmanship award went to Garland Markham.

Magic Valley winners during the Saturday event included: Stevens, Jerry Smith, Gale Rortz, Decker and Loveland, Owen Osterhout, Garland Markham, Les Koyle, Scott Loveland, Buzz 'N'B's, Gene Funk, Lee Jolley, Harris Bros., Clint Decker, Ben and Burns, Vester Ashby, Jack Funk, Jim Asher, Ron Nielsen and Parish and Kowitz. Dee Avery and Jim Poulton resulted in a deadheat.

Sunday winner from Magic Valley were Ed Martin, Jim Poulton, Jerry Smith, Decker and Loveland, Garland Markham, Les Koyle, Scott Loveland, Buzz 'N'B's, Gene Funk, Lee Jolley, Harris Bros., Clint Decker, Ben and Burns, Vester Ashby, Jack Funk, Jim Asher, Ron Nielsen and Parish and Kowitz. Dee Avery and Jim Poulton resulted in a deadheat.

The association will meet with the Wasatch Slope Cutter Racing Association this weekend at Ogden, Utah.

Mr. Kendall reported that there will be 28 cutter racing associations competing during the Worldwide Cutter races to be held next month at Pocatello and teams will be running three abreast.

He noted that teams will be competing with other teams of the same class and will not have to run against a team which has had more wins during the season.
