Contract Announced Agreement Ends Strike Deadlock

WASHINGTON (AP)—Kennecott Corp. announced today a tentative contract agreement providing $1 per hour pay increases in the first major break in White House negotiations aimed at settling the eight-month-old copper industry strike.

But the company said the tentative agreement, covering 1968 workers, does not mean an immediate return to work at Kennecott properties. "We do not believe we can meet demands at the local level at Kennecott plants in Utah, Nevada, Arizona, New Mexico and at the Kennecott Refining Corp. near Baltimore, Md.," the company said.

The tentative agreement is subject to ratification by the coalition of 26 striking unions, each international union, the company said.

Kennecott gave no further details but it was believed the tentative figure was a wage increase over a 40-month contract.

Gold Price Hits $44.36 Per Ounce In Paris

PARIS (AP)—The price of gold reached $44.36 an ounce in the Paris market today, more than $9 above the $35 price guaranteed by the United States. Wild speculation in London kept the price to $40.47 while the London gold market suspended operations under government decree.

France refused to go along with other major European gold dealing nations in action to dampen buying.

Normally, the Bank of France intervenes to keep the price just above the $35 dollar figure. But today, because the market did not receive fresh supplies from the seven-ton gold pool in London, the Paris price was allowed to find its own level in accordance with local supply and demand.

However, the Bank of France played a major role. It allowed the price for one kilogram—2.2 pounds—to rise to an unprecedented 7,000 francs or $1,100 from the outset of dealing in a bid to hold down demand.

Today's overall volume was $436 million compared with $25.6 million Thursday. Thirty tons of fine gold, excluding coin, changed hands compared with 10 tons Thursday.

50,000 U.S., Vietnamese Troops Engaged In Most Extensive Operation Of Conflict

By ROBERT D. O'HANNA Associated Press Writer

SAIGON (AP)—At least 50,000 U.S. and South Vietnamese troops are sweeping between Saigon and the Cambodian border in the biggest offensive since Jan. 31 and U.S. Command announced today.

Elements of six divisions and two special task forces moved Monday in an amphibious operation designed to regain the initiative seized by the Viet Cong with their countryside assault on Jan. 30.

The allied force has killed 215 enemy soldiers, seized 22 weapons and uncovered three huge arms caches, spokesmen said.

U.S. losses were reported as 11 killed and 94 wounded, while the Vietnamese Command said its troops had suffered light casualties.

The exact operation named Operation National Police, which is anchored in Saigon and extends in a semicircle through the provinces of Binh, west and south of the capital.

It is the first significant operation since the Vietnam War began, which was launched by Gen. William Westmoreland, the commander of U.S. forces in South Vietnam, since Viet Cong forces broke the city into a battlefield.

While the first goal of the operation is to destroy enemy units, it also aims to restore a sense of security and confidence among the shaken civilian population, officials said.

For the first time in the war, the Viet Cong were included in the battle plan of an allied offensive—search-and-destroy operations.

Probably the best thing to do would be to still, said one economist. Some have sought refuge in gold-mining stocks, which have increased in price recently. But this is a personal investment judgment.

Q—What can a person do to protect himself in these uncertain monetary times?

A—It would tend to take the steam out of inflationary pressures. It would reduce purchasing power and dampen what economists call "inflationary psychology. People expect prices to go up, so they ask for higher wages, say economists.

Q—What is the price at which the United States is guaranteed since 1934 to buy and sell gold?

A—$35 is the price at which the United States is guaranteed to buy and sell gold. It's the keystone of international finance.

Q—Why a price increase for gold?

Gold Frenz Prompts Government Action

WASHINGTON (AP)—The market was closed and Canada lifted the frenzied wave of gold raised its discount rate from 7 to 8 percent in Europe, the government triggered higher interest today.

For the United States, the discount rate is now at its highest level since the late 1950s, when it was 12 percent.

The upward move will mean higher interest rates in the United States, which must pay for money they borrow from the Federal Reserve.

The Treasury Department said it is studying the possibility of raising the discount rate to 10 percent.

PRAGUE (AP)—President National Council, Ctutice, 53, Antonin Novotny, himself fighting off reformist pressure to resign, tonight fired two high government officials who backed the liberalization drive.

Novotny ordered the resignation of Alexander Dubcek, who supplanted Novotny as party chief in January, and Sejna, who was involved in abortive attempt to mobilize armored troops to keep Novotny in the party leadership.

Questions Answered About Gold Price Effect On 'Man In Street'

By GEORGE TAYLOR AP Business Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—What happens to your pay check if the price of gold rises? Will it cost you more money?

Q—How would a man in the street be affected by the increase in the price of gold from the present rate of $35 an ounce?

A—An increase would mean that the United States had devalued the dollar. At home, pay checks, bank accounts, the cost of domestic products and real estate would show no change.

Q—How much gold does the United States have?

A—The regular Treasury gold stock is about $11.4 billion, plus $1.4 billion in gold price.

Q—Would anyone—benefits immediately from a gold price increase?

A—Hoarders and speculators in foreign countries would reap the immediate profits if they had bought gold for $35 an ounce and sold it, say, $70.

Q—Some economists say the price of gold would rise and speculative attacks on the dollar since hoarders and speculators would buy gold at the higher price.

Q—Could there be detrimental effects?

A—Some economists foresee a breakdown in world trade and commerce, which has been pegged to gold being worth $35 an ounce. If world trade slumps, jobs would dwindle. Over the long run an inflationary trend would develop.

Q—Where would the price of gold hold at $35 an ounce?

Q—What can a person do to protect himself in these uncertain monetary times?

A—It would tend to take the steam out of inflationary pressures. It would reduce purchasing power and dampen what economists call "inflationary psychology. People expect prices to go up, so they ask for higher wages, say economists.

Why Not A Trip In Time?

Mr. Spectator gets battered about a lot of things—but his life is not being able to travel where we please, at least not without a lot of additional red tape and more expense, seems a little out of line. Why? Mr. Spectator contends that if a person has enough money to go and see the sights of Europe, why not go? Practically everyone living in our country today came from the "old country" through pioneer relatives. It seems sort of way out for us to start a new country for Americans from across the ocean.

Marine Wills Insurance To Church

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — A conscientious objector who was mortally wounded while helping to rescue a fellow Marine at Khe Sanh in South Vietnam has left part of his life insurance to his church.

Johnathan Nathaniel Spicer, 19, wrote that he was laughed at by fellow Marines at Khe Sanh because of his anti-war views after he was assigned to that beleaguered fortress as a medic.

They treated me with disdain and contempt," Spicer wrote to his father, William, a former Methodist minister who is a social studies teacher at a junior high school.

At Khe Sanh a month ago Spicer charged from a bunker to help stretcher bearers loading wounded into helicopters under fire. He was wounded by sharp fire.

Open heart surgery and hospitalization in Vietnam were followed by transfer Tuesday to a hospital in Japan where he died Wednesday.

The elder Spicer said he and Mrs. Spicer received their son's last letter two months ago. Spicer also is survived by three brothers, Rocky, 21, and Timmy, 17, a Marine recruit undergoing training.

His father said he has a will and testament. "He wanted $1,000 of his $10,000 worth of Army insurance to go to the church in Khe Sanh for our practice of tithing. Another $200 is to be used to buy his younger brother a house and he said the rest is to be used by the family."

Reruns, Regular Programming Vie For Longest TV Seasons

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Television's winter season seems to be getting shorter. Rerun time used to start in May, but April Now it has moved into March.

The Smothers Brothers had their first "Smothers" rerun on Sunday night, brought on all the crew to thank them and bid the audience farewell. Reruns of their variety hour will start next Sunday, and later there will be a replacement variety hour with Pat Paulsen and singer Glen Campbell.

"The Andy Griffith Show" also on CBS, tonight will be the first of a series of reruns. Andy and associates will introduce Ken Berry as a new character. "And... it is hoped," Griffith says, "that the show will get a head start on next season's sequel, 'Mayberry, R. N. D.'"

All three networks should have already begun to schedule reruns of their feature movies. Two of the major networks each devote two nights a week to feature movies, and the three networks schedule stand-over there will be 10 new series arriving in September. In recent years, the number has been around 20, and even more in the days when the half-hour situation comedy was more popular than it is today.

Safety Rules Advised For Kite Flying

BOISE—Youngsters in southern Idaho and eastern Oregon were urged by Idaho Power Company's safety director Wednesday to heed eight basic rules for "enjoyable, yet safe" kite flying.

A. G. Blair also asked parents to check the kites and strings to be used by their children, as well as the locations in which the kites are to be flown.

"Kite flying can be fun as youngsters observe eight simple rules to prevent 'accident' accidents," he said.

1. Always use dry string—not wire or anything metallic.
2. Always use wood and paper in your kite—not wire or metal.
3. Always fly your kite on days when there is no rain.
4. Always avoid busy streets and highways while flying your kites.
5. Always fly your kites away from TV and radio aerials.
6. Always keep away from fallen wires.
7. Always fly your kite far from power lines.
8. Always call your power company if your kite gets snagged in power lines.

Blair said the rules are listed in a booklet, "Kite Flying Safety," which is being distributed as a public service to schools throughout its area.

Dear Abby

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN
DEAR ABBY: My sister and I are both widows (in our sixties) and live in separate houses in a small town. We are very congenial, go everywhere together, enjoy each other's company, and you might say we are inseparable. My married daughter lives in another town close by. She says I am in a rut, (she is right)—that my sister and I see too much of each other and need to go our separate ways for a while. So my daughter has invited me to take a vacation with her just to get away from the same old routine—and perhaps my sister.

Communication Read At Meet
WENDELL—A communication from Mrs. Ann Spencer, department secretary-treasurer of the American Legion Auxiliary, has read at the meeting of Unit No. 41 describing the new downtown building.

DEAR ABBY: Can you help me get the message across to my 15-year-old daughter that it is in extremely poor taste for young people to put on a show of affection in public? I refer to the disgusting manner in which a girl will hang on a boy's neck and let his hands all over her. Our daughter walks down the street with her arm around her boyfriend's waist and vice versa. And when they drive together in an automobile, they practically sit on his lap.

T.F. Girl Wins Colt For 4-H Work

UNIVERSITY OF IDAHO, Moscow—An 18-year-old Twin Falls girl with an outstanding 4-H record is the owner of a registered Morgan yearling colt, state 4-H award sponsored by the Idaho Morgan Horse Association.

Patricia R. (Pat) Light, daughter of Mrs. Leona Light, Route 2, Twin Falls, was selected for her overall achievements in 4-H horse project work, D. E. Warren, state 4-H leader at the University of Idaho, said in announcing the award.

She topped a field of 18 county nominees from all areas of the state, Warren said. Entries were limited to 4-H'ers between the ages of 14 and 19 with at least three years of horse club work. They were judged for experience in project work, leadership and growth in personal, community and civic responsibilities.

Miss Light has been a member of the Twin Falls County Boats and Bows 4-H Club for seven years and a junior leader for the last four years. In addition, she has been an active member and past president of the local junior riding club, and has taken part in horse shows and riding events throughout the area.

Pat has worked with three different horses in her 4-H career and she comments, "They helped me a great deal in growing up. Raising, understanding responsibility and a better outlook on life are only a few of the things these horses have helped me obtain."

Her close contact with animals she's had 4-H projects in swine and dogs as well as horses — also influenced her career plans. She is now a freshman at the University of Idaho studying pre-veterinary medicine. Funds from her 4-H project and a $200 Union Pacific scholarship are financing this first year at the university.

PAUSING FOR A PICTURE on her way in classes at the University of Idaho is Patricia R. (Pat) Light, daughter of Mrs. Leona Light, Twin Falls. Miss Light was named winner of a registered yearling colt by the Idaho Morgan Horse Association. A student of veterinary medicine at the university, she was selected for the award because of her overall achievements in 4-H horse project work.

SHOSHONE—A film on civil defense was shown members of Wood River Center Grange by Reid Newby, county Civil Defense chairman. Mrs. Newby, accompanied by Mrs. S. M. Hill sang two solos. Mrs. M. E. McKeeth gave a poem.

Mrs. Donald Sandy said facts pertaining to the United States flag will be given at each meeting.

A recent card party netted $25 which was sent to the state home economist chairman and divided with $12.50 for the child development center, and $12.50 to CARE.

Mrs. S. M. Hill, women's activity chairman, asked members to save their old eye glasses for the eye project.

Along Fences And Canals

Three Tuttle farmers have been branding and vaccinating cattle this past week. Raymond Wright and Gene Turner helped Ed Davis brand his cattle and then Mr. Davis and Mr. Turner helped brand Mr. Wright's calves. They plan to do some more branding and vaccinating next week as they didn't finish the job this past week.

Yewlings were cut out of the herd on the Elitch Fork Ranch, King Hill, for spring pasture, feedlots and for market. The poorer yearlings were taken to the sale ring. The ranch is owned by Mrs. Mary Knox.

Karl Anderson, a new employe with Co-Operative Oil, Glens Ferry, has been delivering fertilizer to ranchers in the area this past week. With farmers in the field this week, the demand for fertilizer has increased.

In spite of the spring-like weather, people passing the Lloyd farm south of Malta were surprised to see Stanley Lloyd combing grain. The grain had been cut in windrows last fall but was covered with snow before it could be threshed, Lloyd said very little of the wheat had shelled during the winter. Four hundred bushels were threshed, after which the straw was baled.

Ario Lloyd, Elba well driller, has finished a well on the James Hill at Malta and moved the rig to the Lloyd farm south of Malta where a well will be cleaned. The well on the Hill ranch was successful, pumping some 200 inches from an 80-foot drawdown.

Lee Trull and his son-in-law, William Pruett, are cleaning up the former Anderson ranch south of King Hill and have started to plow the ground for spring planting. Mr. Trull bought the ranch last fall from Mr. and Mrs. Karl Anderson, who have moved into King Hill.

Rollin McKeeth, Glens Ferry, removed two large poplar trees at the Lloyd Lish residence in King Hill. The huge trees have stood at the residence since the early days. He also cut down trees at the Elmer Bahnging and Cecil Burt homes in King Hill.

Mrs. W. W. Knox has sold the former Lester Hill home located west of King Hill to William Heath, Hammett. It was recently occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Ellwood Thomas and family, employes at the Welch Fork Ranch of Mrs. Knox.

C. F. Chatfield has purchased some of the ranch holdings of his brother-in-law, Mack Proctor. The Proctors have retained their home ranch at Richfield and plan to pasture much of the place.

Farmers Warned About "Fertility Quacks"

Has the "Fertility-quack" but he does not guarantee the called on you? Usually the micro-nutrient content. Usually the salesman is a persuasive talker who makes great claims for his product. Evidently he looks upon farmers as easy prey.

Samuel R. Aldrich, agronomist at the University of Illinois, offers some ways to spot one of these quacks in the February issue of Crops and Soils, a magazine published by the American Society of Agronomy, quack often says, "Don't ask me. I probably wouldn't know the value of our product, so he wouldn't recommend it."

When asked what the county agent thinks of the product, the quack often says, "Don't ask me. I probably wouldn't know the value of our product, so he wouldn't recommend it."

Always seek advice before you sign up with a dealership for an unproven product, says Aldrich. Agricultural scientists regularly test new products that show promise of benefiting the farmer.

Occasionally a university is asked to test a product that it believes has no possible value to the farmer. This type of request is turned down regardless of whether financial support is offered.

So all farmers are asked to beware of the "fertility quack," says Mr. Aldrich.

ELLEN — Dr. Robert Barter, Arco, president of the International Arabian Horse Association, told the group at a recent meeting that he had examined the Twin Falls County Fairgrounds, was much impressed with it and considered it probably the finest in the Intermountain area.

The Arabian Horse Show will be held in the fairgrounds July 4, 5 and 6. The show will feature over 70 classes which will include cutting, racing, half-Arabian-halter and performance, junior classes and Region II halter championships for 4, 4 1/2 and 5-year-old mares and geldings.

The Regional Championships which include Western, Montana, Idaho, Washington, Oregon and part of British Columbia, were explained by Dr. Barter. A horse must have won in this region to be eligible to compete but not necessarily owned in this region.

Tractors--Work Horses On Today's Farms

Fifty-one years ago the sweat and tears of animals and men was required for putting in the world's food crops, until tractors eased the burden.

The breakthrough came with Henry Ford's mass production Fordson in 1917, which was compact and relatively inexpensive. Since then tractors have changed considerably.

Many farmers throughout the country at first did not accept tractors and continued to use horses and mules in their farm work. Years later the use of tractors started to increase until now there is hardly a man or horse left in the country that is used for farm work.

After Ford's first tractor, many other kinds of tractors were built, some were large and some were small, and all used gasoline.

Today most farmers throughout the area are using diesel engine tractors, which produce more horsepower and also are bigger than some of the gas engine-type tractors that are still used.

These diesel engine tractors are becoming popular on the farms because they are economical to operate and produce more power for less fuel.

Allis-Chalmers

One of the popular Allis-Chalmers tractors today is the One-Ninety KT, a practically changed type of tractor from others. This tractor has comfort for long days in the field.

convenience for safe, easy handling, precise power-control and clutch control, allows you to shift speed ranges "on-the-go" without using the foot clutch and also allows you to change ground speed independently of engine and PTO speed.

Allis-Chalmers also has the One-Seventy and One-Eighty models.

Massey-Ferguson has a tractor for this year that transfers great amount of traction weight to the rear wheels. This tractor is the MF 1100 with pressure control under load with one-lever clutch and without touching the throttle.

The hydraulic drive unit is a piston-type pump and a piston-type motor. The pump converts mechanical energy from the engine into hydraulic energy. And the motor converts this hydraulic energy back into mechanical energy for power at the drawbar. You select speed with one SR control. Change on the go, no pause, no lurch and no clutch.

John Deere

Farmers who like John Deere tractors will find the 2210, 3020 or the 4020 John Deere tractors will do the job they want done. Of the three, the 3020 is the most popular among local farmers.

The tractor, the 3020, has the power, speed and lugging ability to handle most any job. Here is the means to solve problems of limited working time, high cost labor and the nagging of weather. Large, heavy rotating engine parts, plus more built-in weight, move you through tough spots at a steady pace, even with heavy equipment in use.

The popular Synchro-Range Transmission is popular on this tractor. It provides eight forward and two reverse selections for fast, on-the-go shifting. This tractor, as well as the other two models, has several other features, too numerous to mention here.

An option of these tractors is the roll-guard for protecting the driver of the tractor.

For an all-purpose Ford tractor, whether for small jobs or large ones, the Ford 5000 tractor is available in 55.0 horsepower diesel or 60.0 horsepower gasoline models.

Massive four-cylinder engines have excellent lugging ability with remarkable efficiency. This heavier, stronger, tougher Ford is balanced for stability and handling ease.

The Ford 5000 has the 10-speed Select-O-Speed transmission, allowing you to "power shift for power-thrift" instantly, from any forward gear to any other, on the go, without clutching.

Oliver

Oliver has made some drastic changes this year in its lineup of tractors. There are nine models and are built in six power classes about a plow bottom apart, and ranging from 24- to 165 certified PTO horsepower.

These models include constant utility units for all-around duty, row crop types in various versions, models for prairie lands, vineyards and vegetables.

Some of these models also are available at four-wheel drive in adverse footing.

Case

The Case 510 is a tractor with high-torque power from a modern-speed 101 cubic inch diesel tractor engine. Full four-pow-

Lockwood-made 17 changes to make the Precision Potato Seed Cutter even better in 1968...you won't notice most of them.

A few of the changes in Lockwood's 1968 Precision Potato Seed Cutter will be apparent right away—biggy workmanlike design for greater wear and tear, heavy-duty spreader-rot-action for more positive cutting, an optional seed-traiting attachment.

A lot of them were not so obvious, and you won't notice them until you lift shields...or until you begin cutting seed.

There are no wing-headed drive chains and leaves to prevent breakage from clogs or rocks, the horsepower of the electric motor has been doubled to give you greater capacity without any worry of overloading, sponge roller speed has been increased for a glass-smooth cut with less power.

The new design spool sizer gives more accurate sizing and discoloration-free tubers. And the slat slope has been revised to prevent downward-burly tubers, but it moves potatoes across the roller better.

You'll recognize the seed cutter we introduced in 1966 with the color-coat grading conveyor, from bronze polishing, and other features that made that year's PRECISION Seed Cutter an immediate success.

All Lockwood, we keep improving on the best. And you benefit.

SEXTUPLETS were recently born to this ewe on the Flax Top Sheep Ranch northeast of Rupert. Here the ewe and her lambs crowd into a corner of a pen. Joe Ruabak, 30-year-old shepherd, played middle to the ewe, but had a difficult time convincing manager Dennis Burks that the event really happened. Mr. Ruabak took three newborn lambs from the ewe one night. Then he took another and another, all from the same ewe. All six are still alive and healthy.

J.W. Swan Re-Elected President Of Producers Livestock Marketing Group

Producers Livestock Marketing Association with headquarters in Salt Lake City experienced an outstanding year in 1967 handling over 1,000,000 head of cattle and calves totaling $125 million, according to J.W. Swan, director, who was re-elected president of the association.

Mr. Swan said during the recent annual Board of Directors meeting at San Diego, that the association found 1967 a year of growth and progress.

Producers Livestock made vast expansion in the North Salt Lake auction and in livestock handling facilities. Plans at the auction were remodeled, the main auction building installed. Modern equipment was installed to handle transactions faster and more efficiently.

Producers in 1966 also leased the Burlington, Colo., auction which now expands their operations to include 10 offices in Utah. The term for each director is three years.

The directors on the board are: Frank Carlton, Yuma, Ariz.; Phoenix, Ariz.; and Judge Dan Hughes, Montrose, Colo.

This year two new directors were elected to the board by the membership of the Producers Livestock Marketing Association. They are Olaf George, Kanab, Utah, who was elected as a director of Utah District Four replacing Curtis J. Armstrong, Ephraim, and Lloyd Johnson, Arden, Utah, as a director of District Three succeeding Ulrich Jones, Newcastle, Utah. The term for each director is three years.

through an extensive remodeling program on the corral and loading docks. The new facilities that have been added have greatly increased the efficiency of the operation. With these new facilities, the cattle can be handled much faster and can be loaded and unloaded at the same time.

Last year the Jerome Auction handled around 35,000 head of cattle and 8,500 hogs with a gross value of over $2,000,000.

The outlook for the coming year is even better. The Jerome Auction is expected to handle over 400,000 worth of livestock in the first four months of the new year.

Northeast Elko Soil District Sets Luncheon

JACKSON—New-Ten-North Elko Soil Conservation District will have its annual luncheon meeting and election at noon Tuesday at the Elko Hotel.

According to Harvey S. Hale, chairman of the district's Board of Supervisors, the luncheon is a no-cost affair.

Guest speaker will be Dr. Joe Robertson, Reno, Department of Renewable Resources, University of Nevada. He will give a slide-illustrated talk on livestock in Kenya, Africa, where he has directed a wolverine tracking assignment.

Mr. Hale states the district was organized on May 30, 1963. In 1961 the district set up a Pilot Soil Conservation District. The purpose of this approach was to develop a coordinating land improvement program where all agencies having responsibilities in the district could work together with the ranchers. In 1963 the district program was revised.

The district has an agreement with 19 ranching units and of these, 14 have conservation ranch plans. To date, five coordinated conservation ranch plans have been developed for a total of 30,000 acres.

In other accomplishments, the district completed over 4,000 acres of brush control, built two diversion dams, installed 10,400 feet of irrigation pipe and 1,480 feet of irrigation pipelines and installed two sprinkler irrigation systems.

During the meeting Tuesday, plans will be given by each state and federal agency assisting the district. Mr. Hale said. Also two supervisors will be elected.

Meet Set

BURLEY — The Water Forecast meeting for the Cassia, Blaine, Clear, Creek and Fall River drainage basins has been scheduled for 7:30 p.m. Wednesday in the Malta Grange Hall.

Following the water forecast will be Morlan Nelson, Boise, state snow survey leader of the Soil Conservation Service. He also will give a show with his trained eagles.

Wednesday afternoon, Nelson will show his eagles to students of the Raft River High School in the school. Also speaking there will be Gary Post, Burley, unit soil conservationist.

Filer Man Simplifies Spring Yard Work

FILER — Spring yard work has begun and Neal Allen, line man for the Filer Mitten Telephone Co., has two ingenious inventions which he attaches to his garden to simplify the work of cleaning up his lawn.

A fan attachment, which he retrieved from an old sawmill, creates a blower which sucks up the grass clippings, small twigs and other debris and retains them in a large sack, much as a vacuum cleaner.

The bag, a large wool sack, is fastened to a length of pipe which is attached to the vacuum cleaner. Previously Allen emptied the sack from the open end at the top but this year he has sewn in a six foot zipper which will facilitate emptying.

Last year he wore out two wool sacks doing lawn work for friends and neighbors as well as his own.

For removing dead brown grass from the lawn he has constructed a rather unique renovator or "licker," as he calls it. Spring tooth bars from an old slide rake have been welded in staggered positions and book-mounds of dead grass which are deposited in the large bag.

Lawns treated in this fashion after raking out the dead grass from the lawns, Allen and vigorous growth results. A surprising amount of dead grass is raked up from most lawns and until Allen constructed his vacuum cleaner he had to rake the grass into piles and then haul it away. The large bags only need to be emptied several times to a lawn.

THIS FILER MAN is getting a head start on spring clean-up work with a vacuum cleaner attachment which takes up dead grass and other debris from lawns. Neal Allen first goes over the lawn with a renovator, then follows with this attachment which deposits the dead grass in a large bag. Lawns thrive from this treatment as dead grass, if left on, tends to choke new growth.

Idaho Feed Supplies Good

BOISE—Idaho feed supplies, Portland prices for barley, the major feed grain in Idaho, were higher this winter than they were a year ago. Livestock numbers were also greater. The situation was shown today in the March issue of "Economic Facts for Idaho Agriculture," by Quentin D. Banks, marketing information economist of the University of Idaho extension service.

There was 10 per cent more feed grain in January, however, and older was the lowest since 1977. All classes of beef cattle showed an increase. Feeding ranges fed in use Feb. 1 was in good condition, according to the USDA crop and livestock reporting service. The current condition improved from a month earlier and is better than it was a year ago. Stock water supplies are adequate. Feed supplies are adequate in all parts of the state, with price and demand low.

Cattle numbers throughout the United States increased again during 1967, the summary said. Estimates indicate there were 108,810,000 cattle and calves Jan. 1. This shows there have been within half a million head of the 109 million peak reached in 1955 and maintained three years. However, dairy cattle numbers declined three per cent last year while beef cattle increased one per cent. The only class of beef cattle that declined was steers one year and older. They dropped one per cent.

A recent USDA report on feed supplies in 1967-1968 at 212 million tons. This is six per cent larger than last year, but a little below the 1951-1955 average. The combined stocks of the four feed grains on hand Jan. 1 was 156 million tons. Government stocks, owned by the Commodity Credit Corporation and under loan, were 25 million tons—three per cent less than a year ago. "Free" stocks were 11 per cent larger.

Domestic use of feed grains during October-December was only slightly less than the usual increase in total feed grains. The final quarter of 1967. Exports were about 8 million tons—six per cent more than a year ago.

Ketchum Lad Is U.S. Junior Ski Downhill Champ

BOZEMAN, Mont. (AP)—Dan Ketchum, Idaho, swept the 12-mile downhill cross-country race Thursday in 1:43.2 to place first in that event of the Junior National Ski Championships at nearby Bridger Bowl. Shirley Frith of Inuvik, Northwest Territory, Canada, won the 5-kilometer girls individual cross-country race in 19:18.7. Leading the boys in the 5-kilometer cross-country race was Malcolm Hunt of Inuvik in 10:18.7.

TV Camera Proves Boon At Track

MIAMI (AP)—The camera's eye now enables racing officials to see every horse and rider every step of the way around the race track and make decisions on the action even before jockeys can dismount.

"How is this done?" Through one of the most complex and yet compact television networks ever devised.

Installed at Florida tracks for the first time this season, eight cameras and four video tape machines give stewards a full picture of action on the track and feed information to some 90 monitor screens throughout the plant.

Thus the public is able to see the post parade, pre-race odds and a running description of the race and number of the first four horses superimposed on the screen.

After the races come the official and "official" results; a photo finish if one is called for; and pay-off prices.

Meanwhile, the stewards, who are concerned not with who won the race but how it was run, have access to four television views during the running and a replay of any or all long before riders have returned to the finish line and weighed out.

The head-on rear shots are particularly valuable, showing in toward the rail, any bumping or interference, and whether a foul claim is justified.

All-American Match Tops NCAA Openers

By MURRAY ROSE
 Associated Press Sports Writer

A matchup of All-Americans Elvin Hayes of Houston and Wes Unseld of Louisville at Wichita, Kan., and a shoot-out among four Top Ten teams in Raleigh, N.C. feature second round play Friday night in the sprawling NCAA major college basketball tournament.

In addition, UCLA renews its bid for a second straight NCAA title and a fourth in five years while Houston and St. Bonaventure strive to become the fifth team to climax an unbeaten season with an NCAA championship.

Nine of the nation's Top Ten teams will be involved in the eliminations at four centers—Raleigh, N.C., Lexington, Ky., Wichita, Kan., and Albuquerque, N.M. Duke, 10th ranked, is in the NIT at New York.

The second round winners Friday at each site will meet Saturday to determine the four semifinals. The semifinals and finals, March 22-23, will be held at the Los Angeles Sports Arena.

Georgia Tech Adds 'Brain' Man-To-Staff

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP)—The complexities of modern college athletics require many specialists on coaching staffs, but Georgia Tech added a new "brain" coach by naming a "brain" coach.

Athletic Director Bobby Dodd announced the addition of George Slayton, a mathematics professor to the staff with full-time duties of academic coach.

Slayton, 38, holds mathematics and physics degrees from Emory University and is in charge of all academic counseling, will handle a tutoring program and will advise high school seniors on Tech entrance requirements.

He said Slayton would perform such duties for the entire year of this year's college crop. Prospects will be able to hold a convention in Wichita.

Finalists Set For NCAA College Meet

EVANSVILLE, Ind. (AP)—Jerry Newsum landed in 23 points Thursday night to lead the Sycamores to a 77-67 victory over Trinity of San Antonio in the semifinals of the NCAA College Division Basketball Tournament.

The Sycamores, 23-7, will face No. 2 Kentucky Wesleyan 27-3 Friday night for the championship.

Wesleyan advanced by defeating the Ashland Eagles of Ohio 85-75 in its first home winning streak in the school's 44-year history.

The Sycamores took the lead after the first three minutes of the game and never relinquished it. They piled into a 34-20 intermission margin at Newsum, a 6-foot-7 senior, collected 12 points.

The Panthers increased their winning streak to 20 games and a season record of 27-3 and virtually beat the Eagles at their own home.

The Eagles, finishing with a 2-6 record, had held foes to an average field of 37.8 points coming into the tourney.

At halftime, the Panthers led 16-13 and the Eagles had been charged with a technical foul for failure to take aggressive action after being warned by officials to do so.

Nicklaus, Barber Lead Citrus Open

ORLANDO, Fla. (AP)—Scotterman Jack Nicklaus and surprise New Zealand katie Bob Barber, diminutive Deane Beaman, Tom Weiskopf, Don MacKenzie, and Australia's Bruce Devlin were all bogged with 85.

Tied at 62 were Bert Yancey, John Lutz, Bob Murphy, and Lee Trevino. Veterans Gary Player and Ken Venturi were among the 70 shooters, with Arnold Palmer and two-time 1967 winner George Knudson of Canada shooting 71.

South African Gary Player, playing in his first U.S. tournament this year, shot a 72 along with Doug Sanders. Defending champion Julius Boros slipped to a 73.

Nicklaus, gally decked out in cherry-red slacks, drove into the pine trees on at least three holes and bounced a drive off a spectator on another hole, but fortunate bounces and deadly iron play got him out of trouble.

Barber, 36-year-old winner of only two tournaments in 10 years on the pro tour, was elated with his round in which he sank four long birdie putts.

"That was one of the best rounds I've ever played under these conditions," said Barber after his finish on the wind-whipped Rio River course.

Nicklaus missed a chance to take charge in the $15,000 meet-

Death Penalty Opponents Ask Jury Duty

WASHINGTON (AP) — Major Protestant and Jewish groups, driving for a ban on the death penalty, have urged the Supreme Court to allow opponents of capital punishment to serve as jurors in death cases.

"The rule of law excluding from a jury persons with conscientious scruples against capital punishment is deeply prejudicial to the accused," they said in a brief.

Later this year the court will review the longtime practice by which prospective jurors who say they have scruples against the death penalty can be disqualified.

This nationwide procedure, being tested in a murder case from Chicago and a rape case from North Carolina, has been opposed by opponents of capital punishment to assure "hanging juries" for prosecutors.

The constitutional argument before the court is whether a defendant is being "tried by a cross-section of the community when opponents of the death penalty are disqualified.

The religious organizations, all opposed to capital punishment, are: American Friends Service Council; Council for Christian Social Action of the United Church of Christ; General Board of Christian Social Concerns of the Methodist Church; the United Presbyterian Church; Board of Christian Social Concerns of the American Baptist; and the Commission on Social Action of Reform Judaism.

Their attorneys said at least half of all Americans are opposed to capital punishment and that the death sentence is not necessary for the community's protection.

About 400 prisoners in the United States are under death sentence.

Attend Meet

Two Twin Falls men were among delegates to a two-day conference of the Idaho Vocational Rehabilitation Service this week in Boise.

Thomas Moreland and Pat Young of the local office returned Thursday after two days in Boise with other representatives from Moscow, Pocatello—a national conference included addresses by Dr. Marvin W. Filfield, director, center for retardation studies; Dr. James E. Carvie, associate professor, business management, Idaho State University; and Dr. Robert C. Carvie, associate professor, special education, University of Idaho.

What Time?

WASHINGTON (AP) — A private congressional briefing on Idaho's complex time-zone problem was delayed 30 minutes Thursday because three Transportation Department officials, confused about the meeting's starting time, arrived late.

"It is only fair to say you didn't know what time it was," asked Sen. Vance Harke, D-Id.

"Yes sir," said one of the officials. "We don't know at that time it is either here or in Indiana."

Efforts are under way to settle a dispute in Indiana concerning use of Eastern and Central times in different parts of the state.

6th Deserter Returns To United States

STOCKHOLM (AP) — The sixth U.S. serviceman to change his mind about taking refuge in Sweden to get away from the Vietnam war left the United States today, American sources reported.

They said the soldier arrived in Stockholm Wednesday but within 24 hours turned himself in at the U.S. Embassy without formally applying to Swedish authorities for asylum.

The embassy provided him a plane ticket to New York.

Informants declined to disclose his identity. They explained that in cases such as this, where the serviceman has not involved himself too deeply in Vietnam war efforts, he actually requesting asylum and has had a change of heart, they feel "he should be given a break."

There is speculation in the American colony here that the number of American soldiers deserting to Sweden is increasing here and may decide on a "reverse defection."

Beautification Project Slated

JEROME — Plans to paint barns, fences and other structures in Jerome County Fairgrounds were made when the Teens United met at the extension office.

A swimming party is scheduled for March 22 at Banbury's. The group will attend a meeting March 21 in the new Power Co. auditorium, Twin Falls, to hear the functions of the coop explained.

The group will have a booth at the Jerome county fair this year.
