TWIN FALLS, IDAHO, TUESDAY, APRIL 2, 1968

END OF AN ERA for public school instruction in Twin Falls School District No. 411 will come this spring when Union School closes its doors. The school, midway between Fillet and Twin Falls, will no longer offer classes to elementary students.

according to a recent decision by school trustees, the 84 students there are to be bused to Twin Falls to attend classes next fall. Union School is the last of five country schools to be shut-down since the district was formed 20 years ago.

Last Of Country Schools In T.F. District To Be Closed This Fall

By RUTH MILLER
Times-News Staff Writer
The last of the country schools in Twin Falls School District No. 411 will be shut down this spring. Dr. Ernest Ragland, superintendent, said Union School, located midway Twin Falls and Fillet, is currently operating with 84 students, three instructors and a budget of more than $20,000.

Union School students can enroll in these classes with no undue strain on space or instructors. Ragland said that Union School should be closed down partially because of the cost involved. Another reason cited by the board was decreasing enrollment in elementary schools and high school. The trustees felt that the extra manpower could be better spent in the high school.

Report Is Made On T.F. Urban Renewal

Approval of an application from the Twin Falls Urban Renewal Agency for Part I of the proposed urban renewal project in Twin Falls will be expected within the next 60 days at which time the city will hold open public hearings on the project plans before entering the execution stages.

Principal at Union School, James A. Miller, is retiring at the end of this term, and the other two teachers there will be reassigned to schools in Twin Falls.

County Aides Report On Pollution

Twin Falls Times-News, April 23, 1968

By O. J. SMITH
Times-News Managing Editor

One thing was crystal clear Monday night after the symposium on Red China and Southeast Asia—there's nothing that's crystal clear about the situation.

Certainly the majority of the audience had only the vaguest idea about what is going on there, and at times even the learned experts on the panel couldn't agree.

"But, then, that's what it was all about. With this country so deeply involved in Southeast Asia and so deeply concerned about Red China, the League of Women Voters and the College of Southern Idaho joined to sponsor the appearance here of these outstanding expert on affairs of that area and give residents of Twin Falls the opportunity to learn more about its culture, aims and problems."

The experts were Dr. Joseph A. Hearst, dean of the College of Liberal Arts at Idaho State University and a student of Southeast Asia; Dr. Phillip S. Sperry, associate professor of political science at Utah State University and a student of Red Chinese affairs; and Robert L. Smith, Mampa attorney and former Methodist missionary in Malaya.

The panel was moderated by Charles Alban, political science instructor at College of Southern Idaho.

The audience heard Dr. Hearst explain the rise of nationalism in Southeast Asia and characterize the role of the area as a "buffer zone" between Red China and the West. He pointed out that the countries of Southeast Asia reject not only India and China, but also the West.

As for the prospects of capitalism in Southeast Asia, Dr. Hearst noted that to the people of that area capitalism means exploitation and foreign domination that they wind up in—in the way of economic and political philosophy will be something that fits them, he declared, not something imposed on them from outside.

Mr. Smith explained the difficulty people of the West have in understanding the people of Southeast Asia—primarily because of the language barrier and the wide difference in customs and basic difference because of religions.

In a talk interspersed with anecdotes and personal touches, he brought home to the audience that the "westerner" and particularly the American, is not the most beloved person in Southeast Asia. Father, they are meddling foreigners.

Dr. Sperry had the difficult task of trying to explain what is going on behind the closed bamboo curtain around Red China. In capsule form he traced the ups and downs of the two leading forces of Red Chinese Communism—the Reds or ideologists, and the experts or technologists.

Since its inception, he asserted, it has been a case of one factor, say the Reds, being in control until the economy drops to the brink of ruin. Then the experts get the upper hand and keep it until the economy is again "brought up" whereupon the ideologists again take over.

The Red Guard revolution in China in the last two years has been a case of the Reds taking over. He implied, with the future prospect of the economy again taking a nosedive.

He said in his conviction that Red China does not pose nearly the threat to the rest of the world that most people learned experts on the panel couldn't agree.

Mr. Smith differed with him on this point, declaring that he had reports from friends who had returned from Red China to point out the dramatic scientific and technological strides made in that country. "Red China can't be written off (as not being a threat)," he contended.

The presentation was well received by the audience of some 150 to 200 persons, and interest in the subject was demonstrated during the extended question period that followed.

The presentations and answers to the audience questions were both interesting and informative, and if there was one thing more out of them than the realization that the Southeastern Asian situation will deteriorate, one, that cannot be judged and evaluated by Western standards, it was well worth while.

The one thought that stood out when it was all over was that the experts agreed the policies, is completely out of place in Southeast Asia, and unless the policies change the Southeast Asian will deteriorate, rather than improve.

amounts of waste and gas from metropolitan as well as urban areas.

The said delegates to the conference were informed that about 25 per cent of the West's population is served by sewage treatment facilities adequate sewer systems.

At the same time, Mr. Carlson said, speakers noted the growing connection between cancer and pollution.

"We were told that in the future, the length and quality of life will depend on the amount of pollution controlled," he said.

That Desalting Plan Is Really Good

WASHINGTON—These days, when even some Americans are depicting the United States as the world champion bully, it is nice to note what is happening out in California and to savor a speech made recently in Warsaw, Poland, by Atomium Energy Commission Chairman Glenn Seaborg. We've still got a few practical dreamers around and about.

speech. He painted a picture of a future made more beautiful by the creation of "desalting complexes" all over the world. Just one such complex, producing a million gallons of ammonia and 400 million gallons of water every day, could:

- 1. Support the daily production of 160 tons of ammonia and 320 tons of phosphorus.
2. With a single high-yield crop, produce more than a billion bushels of grain, enough to feed 2.5 million people at a level of 2,400 calories a day.
3. Export enough fertilizer to other agricultural areas to cultivate 10 million more acres.

North Vietnam May Take Advantage Of Bombing Cut

By BOB HORTON
AP Military Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Air Force officials say the North Vietnamese are likely to take advantage of the U.S. bombing limitation by preparing a massive supply run southward.

The allied forces face the job of trying to intercept the new flow of goods ticketed for enemy troops in South Vietnam, the Air Force sources added.

They said a month-long bombing halt would permit the Communists to rush 100,000 tons of supplies South.

In other Pentagon reaction to President Johnson's Sunday night speech on Vietnam, defense officials said the administration plans to mobilize up to 60,000 reservists. But they stressed the figure could vary up or down depending on Pentagon studies under way.

The Pentagon is expected Wednesday to issue an initial mobilization order affecting 15,000 men.

The President has ordered limited air attacks to the area above the Demilitarized Zone, automatically freeing Communist trucks and rail movement in the upper bulge of North Vietnam.

Johnson expressed hope the de-escalation move would produce peace talks with Hanoi.

One of the President's major warpolicy critics, Chairman J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, said if the North Vietnamese "have not lost all sense of perspective" they will respond quickly to Johnson's bid.

"The North Vietnamese will be extremely foolish if they do not respond favorably, and will themselves be in the arbitrary position . . . I would say that within a few days they should make some move."

The key communications line between North Vietnam and the South is the Ho Chi Minh trail, which runs from Red China into Hanoi. The line carries a substantial amount of small arms from China.

This rail line has to be hit regularly to disrupt its use. In addition, the military would have liked to continue striking industrial plants and military complexes located in the same northeast quadrant.

How much the enemy benefits from the cessation—assuming Hanoi doesn't move immediately toward negotiations—will obviously depend on how long the bombing halt lasts, officers said.

Defense officials who declined to be identified told newsmen there is no time limit on the bombing cessation.

But these officials also pointed out the United States is two months away from the best flying weather over North Vietnam—throwing open the possibility American planes might resume full operations this summer if Hanoi takes no reciprocal act of de-escalation.

Defense officials declined to state exactly what area may be bombed under the President's guidelines.

Johnson said the area now immune to attack "includes almost 90 per cent of North Vietnam's population and most of its territory"—the Hanoi and Hanoi centers, obviously included.

Somewhere down the southern leg of North Vietnam, air attacks are permissible.

Military sources initially indicated this probably would be a section south of Dong Hoi, a supply transfer point about 35 miles above the DMZ.

But defense officials did not deny reports that attacks would be permissible all the way from the DMZ up to the 20th parallel, but 60 miles or so south of Hanoi. This would leave approximately 200 miles of North Vietnam's gasoline country open to aerial bombardment.

Spirit Of Stevenson Hovers Over McCarthy's Campaign

By JACK BELL
AP Political Writer

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP) — The benevolent spirit of the late Adlai E. Stevenson must be hovering delightfully over the campaigning of Sen. Eugene McCarthy, D-Minn., for the Democratic presidential nomination.

Like Stevenson, whom he admired greatly, McCarthy is imparting a freshness of wit and good humor to the ordinarily dull grid of grubbing for votes.

There is one difference. Stevenson, twice his party's presidential nominee, looked primarier. He complained that all of the chores of making set speeches, ploughing through crowds grasping every hand in sight and attending cocktail parties for local political bigwigs didn't give a man time to think.

McCarthy, on the other hand, seems to take all of this traditional campaigning in stride. He never had so much national attention before and he is basking and expanding in it.

But there is nearly always on McCarthy's countenance the same wary smile of secret amusement that Stevenson used to wear. The faintly arched eyebrow hints at the inward wonderment that a man should be required to go through all the campaign enties to make himself a contender for the world's highest elective office.

If it had been left to Stevenson—and if it were left to McCarthy—the world would be calm, serious, and free of the issues. And cut out the monkeyshines.

Perhaps he doesn't do it as

Implantable Artificial Heart Development Seen By 1973

By FRANK CAREY
AP Science Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — A high-ranking government heart researcher forecasts development by 1973 of a totally implantable artificial heart based on a new concept of energy-supply: Use of the body's own digested food and inhaled oxygen.

Electrical energy to pump the robot heart would come from a fuel cell that would burn oxygen from the blood stream and also glucose, a form of sugar produced by food digested in the normal fashion.

Dr. Frank Hastings, chief of the artificial heart research program of the National Heart Institute, told The Associated Press that promising results have been achieved at the laboratory level in developing the fuel-cell concept.

He said it looks like the best prospect yet for ultimately making completely implantable artificial hearts available to hundreds of thousands of patients newly stricken each year. He indicated it would eliminate the need for human heart transplants.

The idea would be to graft the fuel-cell—consisting of a porous but tough, jelly-like plastic material—into the aorta, the body's major artery, beginning at the point where the blood vessel normally connects with the natural heart. The cell would employ a thin sheet of gold-alloy fibers which would act as a catalyst in promoting energy-producing chemical reactions.

"Electrical energy produced by the Associated would flow to the muscles of the nearby implanted artificial heart, enabling it to pump blood in and out of itself.

"The robot heart itself would consist of a tough but flexible

DIVIDEND DECLARED
BOISE (AP) — Albertson's, Inc., Monday declared a regular quarterly cash dividend of 9 cents per share.

D. Scott, president of the Boise-based firm, said the dividend would be paid to shareholders on record April 22, 1968, and payment will be made May 1.

REPORT PRESENTED
BOISE (AP) — The control board of the Idaho Bureau of Mines and Geology met Monday with Gov. Don W. Samuelson, and presented its annual report.

Bureau Director Roland R. Reid, head of the University of Idaho School of Mines in Moscow, said the report was the main item on the agenda.

rubbery material, which would be covered with a thin envelope of living tissue fashioned from a vein in the patient's leg.

Indicating that energy supply is the major problem in the quest for perfecting artificial hearts, Hastings said the fuel-cell concept has certain theoretical advantages—including potentially greater safety over a system that employs toxic radioactive plutonium as the power source. A version of the latter system is also being developed by the National Heart Institute in cooperation with the Atomic Energy Commission.

Hastings said the fuel-cell is being developed under a $235,000 NIH contract by the Monsanto Research Corp. of Everett, Mass., one of many firms cooperating in the institute's many-deceted, $2.5 million-a-year program aimed at developing improved "circulatory assist devices," including artificial hearts.

He said that while certain problems remain to be solved, the first robot heart employing the system should be ready for human use "in four to five years."

Tennis Officials Accuse Rulers Of Retreating On Question Of Open Meets

By GEOFFREY MILLER
LONDON (AP) — Tennis officials in the provinces bitterly accused Britain's tennis rulers of retreating on the question of open tournaments.

British delegates won approval for open tennis at a special meeting of the International Lawn Tennis Federation in Paris on the week-end.

But the British officials had declared their intention of abolishing all distinctions between professionals and amateurs in open tournaments.

Organizers of three other tournaments, who had expected to run their events on open terms, complained they had been let down.

Homers Lift Yankees Over Tigers 6-5

By The Associated Press
— Steve Whitaker hit two solo home runs for the New York Yankees Monday, leading the club to a 6-5 exhibition baseball victory over the Detroit Tigers.

Both of Whitaker's homers came off leading pitcher Dennis McLain in a game played at Lakeland, Fla. Ray Oyler and Jim Pierce hit homers for the Tigers, while pitcher Steve Peterson.

Hector Torres' squeeze bunt with one out in the ninth drove in Bob Aponte and gave the Houston Astros a 2-1 victory over Oakland at Cocoa, Fla. Aponte had doubled, leading off the inning and went to third on the throw to second.

Mike Shannon's four straight hits including a third homer in the eighth inning, giving Pittsburgh a 3-1 victory over the Chicago White Sox at St. Petersburg, Fla. Bob Gibson retired the last 13 batters he faced in seven innings on the mound.

Boog Powell's two-run double and Curt Bleafly's homer led Baltimore to a 3-2 victory over Washington at Pompano Beach, Fla. Frank Coggins had two triples for the Senators.

Jose Fagan's third hit of the game, a run-scoring single, drove in the winning run in the eighth inning, giving Pittsburgh a 4-3 victory over the New York Mets at Fort Myers, Fla. Many times hit a two-run homer for the Pirates.

Reggie Smith's first-inning single drove in Mike Andrews with the only run in Boston's 1-0 victory over Atlanta at West Palm Beach, Fla. Gary Washburn hit the go-ahead home run in the eighth inning, Smith also had a pair of doubles.

The Chicago Cubs scored five runs in the eighth, leading four runs by Los Angeles to beat the Dodgers, 5-3 at Mesa, Ariz. An error by Mickey Conover let in the Cubs' last two runs after Don Kessinger's homer snapped a 4-4 tie.

Mrs. King, Emerson Sign Pro Contracts

By JACK STEVENSON
Associated Press Sports Writer
INGLESWOOD, Calif. (AP) — Billie Jean King, the world's No. 1 ranking women's tennis player, turned Monday along with three other girls and Australia's Roy Emerson.

Mrs. King, of Long Beach, Calif., could earn up to $70,000 in her first year of play-for-pay.

Also signing with the National Tennis League, headed by former Davis Cup captain George McCall, were Ann Haydon Jones of England, Françoise Durr of France and Rosemary Casals, a 24-year-old star from San Francisco.

"A great deal for me and a great deal for tennis," declared Mrs. King, a 24-year-old who has not had a dozen United States championships.

"I have always wanted to be a professional, if you're a true amateur, you're nobody."

McCall didn't announce the exact figures of the contracts, but said Emerson was guaranteed about $75,000, King between $30,000 and $50,000 and the other three women in the $25,000-$30,000 neighborhood.

The new professional group which already had included Ron Laves and Rosewall, Fred Stolle, Andres Gimeno and Pancho Gonzalez, met in an American debut at the forum in Ingleswood on Sunday.

McCall said the pros will compete in the open tournaments of both Phoenix and Wimbledon, England, and he hopes to have them compete in others.

They are scheduled solidly through the middle of August, he declared.

The professionals in the National Tennis League will play the best two of three sets under regular rules.

Vandal Star Is Dropped From Squad

MOSCOW, Idaho (AP) — Steve Brown, 1967 NCAA high jump champion, Monday was suspended from the University of Idaho track team along with a teammate after both failed to show for a meet in Seattle last Saturday.

Coach Doug MacFarlane said the suspension against both was "for disciplinary reasons."

Brown, who set the NCAA high jump record with a "fish-belly" performance, was alleged to appear for the Idaho-University of Washington meet along with teammate Jim Johnston, a middle distance runner.

Idaho lost 16 of 17 events and MacFarlane said it was "a disaster."

A university spokesman said Brown and Johnston apparently got sidetracked in Portland, No. reasons given.

MacFarlane said he took the action after conferences with both athletes Monday. The spokesman said MacFarlane showed "his primary interest was not in track at the present time."

Ice Is Gone

According to Martel Morache of the Idaho Fish and Game Department, the ice melted off Mormon Reservoir last weekend, but the fishing is slow.

Schofield Signs With St. Louis

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP) — Veteran utility infielder Dick Schofield, released by the Los Angeles Dodgers this year, was signed Monday to play with the St. Louis Cardinals.

A Redbird spokesman said Schofield's addition brings the club strength to 30. Five players will be pared from the list before the Cardinals leave their spring-training camp.

Schofield played with the Cardinals in the mid 1950s. He has since played with Pittsburgh, the New York Yankees and the St. Louis Cardinals.

Getting In Shape Is Sole Aim Is Spring Training For Giants

By JIM CHURCH
Associated Press Sports Writer
PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — You have to look hard to find chicks in the San Francisco Giants' armory, but they are there.

Except for getting in shape, spring training and its necessary exhibition games mean nothing, contends Manager Horace Frank.

Yet the Giants were worried enough about first baseman Willie McCovey's lack of hitting to send him to a hospital for a checkup.

McCovey, who hit 276 with 31 home runs and 31 runs batted in last year, had only one extra-base hit, a double, in the first 10 exhibition games.

"He's not getting his bat out in front," said hitting coach Hank Bauer.

Jack Hant, a 273 hitter while playing most of his 13 games as a catcher last year, and Ty Cline, 270 in 64 games as an outfielder, have played first in spring training.

Besides McCovey, the only left-handed hitters are Cline and rookie Ken Henderson. Don Mason and Bob Schroeder, hitters and Mason are expected to play the Pacific Coast League.

Ron Hunt, acquired from Los Angeles, and shortstop Hal Lanier, will give the Giants a solid pitching double play combination.

The Giants gave up long ball hitting catcher Tom Haller for Hunt and infielder Nate Oliver. Dick Dietz, who hit .225 in 56 games for the Giants last year, is regarded as most likely to catch the opening game. He and Don Barron, who hit .293 in 103 games for Tacoma, Wash., of the PCL last year, have hit well this spring.

Bob Knepper, 25-4-4 making a strong bid for third base, Edgerly hit .225 in 91 games last season for Phoenix.

He is good insurance in case Jim Davenport can't go the full season at third.

The outfield is set with Jim Davenport, 29-23-23 homers last year, in left; Willie Mays in center; and Jesus Alou, the Giants' leading hitter at .292 in right.

Ollie Brown, 267 in 120 games last year, is the fourth outfielder.

Mays, who had his poorest season in 1966, says he is fit and ready to play.

It is believed the Giants will go into opening day with nine pitchers and eight infielders.

Ray Sadecki, Mike McCormick, Ron Herbel, Bob Bolin, Gaylord Perry, Joe Gibbon and Frank Linsky.

That leaves veterans Bill Henry and Lindy McDaniel among the Giants' most hot pitching.

If they are to improve on another year from 60-Young Award winner McCormick, pitchers must be hitless.

Mays was 14-10 last year after four straight seasons of 20 or more victories.

Then he would cash his last trump or trumps and come down to two diamonds, high one and deuce, in dummy and three diamonds to the queen in his own hand. East would be down to three cards and would have to lead a diamond go in order to hang on to a high spade.

The two points of interest in this play are that South concealed a trick early in order to make the squeeze possible and that he made use of a third spade. We led so that West could not hold a high spade and protect his partner from the squeeze.

It is even more interesting to note that the expert would surely make his overruff and that the player who did not work out the squeeze would probably make the same overruff because of careless defense.

Son Is Upset By Mom's Barbed Remarks

Dear Ele and Walt: Recently my mom was released from the hospital after minor surgery. Since then she finds to many things to complain about that I think she rehearses them when you are out.

—Worst of all everything she says in front of us is barbed to make me feel like a failure. Mostly the centers on how she doesn't spend enough time with his loving family. The truth is he works very hard and is with us every spare moment. When you get sick he even quit his job to keep after him in class—

I'd like to speak up but I know how emotional mom gets. If you argue with her, and Dad refuses to hear any negative things about her. So what can I do?

Dear Son: Without knowing how you feel about your mother, I'll be happy to help you. Certainly you or pop ought to alert mom's doctor to her condition. There are medical checkups he can provide to help her to a more positive state.

Finally, do what you can to make home more tranquil. As a woman you are to have a rest from cleaning the house and cooking, to shopping and baby-sitting—anything that reduces friction will be a help to your hard working dad.

Dear Sister: Brother has a more attractive style of eating and adopted it. That's the reason he goes to collect to learn more ways of doing things, then to pick the best method as a woman might do. Long as he doesn't cover up his manners should cause you to write. It is certainly not un-American—

Dear Ele:—Everyday at third period, I get really sleepy in class. It's so bad that I can't keep my eyes open. I get eight hours rest at night, and eat a good breakfast, and I don't hate the teacher, so there must be the reasons. By fourth period I'm wide awake, and I'm OK the rest of the day. Can you suggest anything for me to do to be alert third period too? My parents won't let me take pills.

Dear Grace: We wish we knew you felt about your third period subject. In college, Walt was required—and we'll mail you a copy of to take two years of science, one of our favorite columns on And for two years he broke out popularity.
