TEN CENTS

LIFE BEHIND THE WALL at the Idaho State Penitentiary in Boise starts quickly for any inmate. Here, two new arrivals are ushered into the prison compound by a receiving guard. The new prisoners are Robert F. Thatcher, light hair, and Donald Barnett, sentenced in Twin Falls recently. They live behind the state for the next five years. They will eat and

In November of 1967, in line with Gov. Don Samuelson's requests, an administrative survey of the Idaho State Penitentiary was conducted. The investigation reached into every corner of the prison, and the findings are pleasing.

When the new Board of Corrections was appointed last fall and when Dr. Vill Stiles was hired to head the massive job of overhauling the prison system began. Many changes have been made in private one day. The changes have many goals, but the prime one is rehabilitation for inmates. Progress in the area of inmate care and completion of the new prison site south of Gowen Field in Boise are other goals.

In the summer of 1967 Dr. Dan McLees, the man who set up the rehabilitation system in Colorado, visited the Idaho State Penitentiary. His study was requested by the Board of Corrections because of recent Supreme Court rulings, also, more prisoners are awaiting appeal in various courts each year, and there are 100 inmates being sent out on parole each year.

There is a big job ahead in Idaho. This will stabilize in future years the inmate population in Idaho is expected to climb again.

RISE SEEN
By 1972, it is anticipated the prison population in Idaho may be nearly 60,000 men, 10 women. These are the men and women to the present efforts being made at the Idaho State Penitentiary. Rehabilitation is one of the most important goals in Idaho today. It affects every man, woman and child in every home in Idaho.

The theory of rehabilitation is simple. A prisoner will one day walk away from the penitentiary a free man in Idaho. This is a fact. No one gets life in the strict sense of the word. A man convicted for a crime, has served four years and is looking forward to release in the next few years.

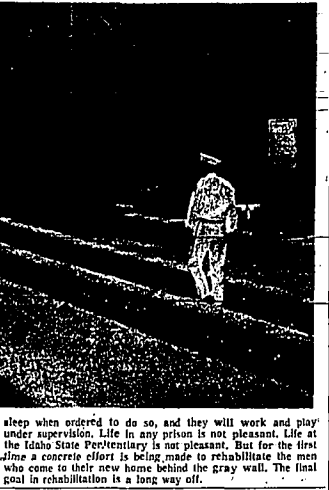

Reaction to this man's release freedom may well set the example on what citizens feel about rehabilitation. Freedom is not a luxury, it is a right. This individual will, no doubt, be looked upon with disfavor by society.

Content feel the man has not been "punished enough."

PUNISHMENT
And this is where everyone makes a big mistake. "Punishment" is not the key to the prison exists to correct people from society. It does not exist to punish lawbreakers.

A good example of this theory is the case of Murray Teigh Bloom. Prisoner sentenced to long terms are placed on an island. They are given tools to farm. They are allowed to have their families with them.

During this long time, the very much like a city council. It is allowed to have their families with them. The land is and happy and secure, removed from society.

Motion Denied

BOISE (AP) Dist. Judge Alfred Higinbotham has agreed to take jurisdiction in a court suit aimed at getting former Attorney General George Wallace on the Idaho penitentiary. Higinbotham denied Thursday a state motion that the case be dismissed.

The suit was filed on behalf of Wallace and the American Independence Party in Idaho, with Secretary of State Pete Conrath named as defendant. Conrath was represented by attorney Daniel Slavin, who argued the case should be dismissed because there has been no demonstration of the Wallace organization that there is public interest in Idaho.

Armed Man Held By Sheriff After Chase

A 43-year-old Seattle, Wash. man was in custody of the Twin Falls County Sheriff early Friday morning following a chase by county and state officers in which he allegedly eluded one officer and sped through a roadblock.

Prosecuting Attorney Michael Feltton said the man was charged with speeding and investigation is continuing.

He was identified by Sheriff Paul Corder, as Robert C. Koenig, 43, 151st Ave. S.E., Seattle.

His driver's license, issued in Idaho, listed an address of 449 Taylor St., Twin Falls.

State Patrolman Cole Watkins stopped the man near Hansen in connection with a speeding citation. He was arrested after being stopped and fled traveling east on Highway 30.

Officer Waddell said the vehicle did not stop at the roadblock, but pulled to the side of the highway a short distance away and sped through the roadblock.

FBI Cancels Order On Suspect

By GAYLORD SHAW
MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — The FBI issued a withdrawal of a request that Florida police help locate Eric Starvo Galt, a white man, as the investigation of the assassination of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. entered its second week.

Federal agents wanted to say why they were seeking Galt, whose last known address was Birmingham, Ala.

A source in the Deade County Public Safety Department in Miami said the FBI bulletin believed Galt was in the area of the rooming house from which King was shot last Thursday.

At about the same time the pickup order was sent in Florida, federal agents in Atlanta impounded a white Mustang.

House during the past few weeks. The source said Secretary of Defense Clark M. Clifford was drawing up for a gradual shift of the major war effort from U.S. to South Vietnamese forces.

Gradual War Effort Shift Encouraged

By FRED S. HOFFMAN
WASHINGTON (AP) — The Johnson administration showed hope for a gradual shift of the major war effort from U.S. to South Vietnamese forces.

Clifford stressed that it is a long-range plan which he said will require "a period of testing."

Although Clifford appeared to be referring to the U.S. military, Pentagon sources said the new defense secretary had in mind the same decision about which Westmoreland had said when he was in Washington last November. The record is replete with U.S. expressions of confidence and hope that the South Vietnamese forces would shape up to the task of carrying the biggest part of the job of turning back enemy military efforts to overthrow the country.

But in the past, the Vietnamese forces have fallen short of most expectations. The U.S. military has been in the Lunar New Year offensive that many South Vietnamese units are at half strength and highly vulnerable because officers and men were on holiday leave. At the same time, U.S. forces had remained on a full war footing.

Vietnamese Lose Security In Offensive

By BARRY KRAMER
SAIGON (AP) — The Communists' Tet offensive robbed a million South Vietnamese of security. Hundreds of thousands of people are living in areas with less security than before. The figures, compiled by computer with information from South Vietnam's cities and 12,736 hamlets, also showed that the Viet Cong brought 326,000 more people under total control. Hundreds of thousands of persons who formerly lived in secure areas now live in areas classed as "contested."

Statistics are those of the U.S. Embassy's Hamlet Evaluation System—HES—which has been providing computer analyses of security in South Vietnam since last December.

The statistics showed 61 per cent of South Vietnam's 17.2 million people living in secure areas on March 31. This compares with 67 per cent immediately before the Tet offensive, a drop of 6.2 per cent and the lowest in more than a year.

The population living in contested areas grew from 16.3 per cent to 20.7. Now under Viet Cong control are 18.3 per cent of the population compared with 16.4 per cent before Tet.

This means that 1,093,000 persons who formerly lived in secure areas are now in contested or Viet Cong areas. The number of people in secure areas dropped from 11.5 million to 10.4 million. The number of people in Viet Cong-controlled areas jumped from 2.8 million pre-Tet to 3.1 million March 31.

Hearing Held On Property At Buhl Meet

BUHL — A public hearing on the zoning of the Barnes Hotel property was held by the Buhl city zoning committee prior to the regular council meeting Tuesday evening in the council chambers. William Aldrich, committee chairman, presided over the hearing.

Acting upon the recommendations of the zoning committee, the council authorized the city attorney to draw up an ordinance zoning the property for business. The property, located at the southeast corner of Buhl between 11th and 12th and Candensary Road, is owned by Harold Lloyd Anderson, who plans to remove the old model buildings and put in trailer spaces with accommodations for seven trailer houses.

The old service station located on the property will be converted into a store. Plans also call for sewer hook-up and a public restroom facility to comply with the city ordinance governing trailer courts.

The council also approved the hiring of Claude Raymond Larpay as a full time fireman for the city.

Following a recommendation from Lee Monroe, fire chief, the council authorized the removal of a fire hazard at any time of the summer and early fall.

Mountain State telephone Co. requested permission to install buried cable on Broadway, between 11th and 12th and 5.5 per cent, for the sewer la-son hook sinking fund.

Three members of the Buhl city council were suspended and sentenced to jail in lieu of fine, and Mr. Robinson, $300, sentenced to jail in lieu of fine, driving on a suspended license; and Mrs. Robinson, $300, sentenced to jail in lieu of fine, driving on a suspended license; and Mrs. Robinson, $300, sentenced to jail in lieu of fine, driving on a suspended license.

Cookies For Easter Baskets

On Easter morning, children love to find a basket full of prettily decorated raisin Easter egg cookies and perhaps a bunny or two hiding in the grass.

What makes these cookies so unusually tasty are California seedless raisins and bits of ferociously sugar-brittle in the dough. Make the brittle first, then stir into the dough along with the chopped raisins.

To make Easter eggs, simply mold the dough into oval shapes. The rabbits can be made in a number of ways — merely flatten different size balls to make body, head and tail and add little bits of dough for the ears. After baking, pipe on decorative icing, tinted pastel shades if you wish. The cookies are such a good one, you'll want to bake it in different shapes for other special occasions.

In a fragrant sauce for ham, hot cross buns, fancy breads or maybe a luscious pie filling California raisins are a must for Easter feasting. Their convenience makes them a favorite of the Easter bunny, too, to hide in little baskets with assorted candies. Or maybe your Easter bunny will hide in a basket of raisins tied up in bright ribbons this year.

- RAISIN CRUNCH EASTER COOKIES
- 1/2 cup sugar
 - 2 1/2 California seedless raisins
 - 1/2 cup soft butter
 - 1 egg yolk
 - 1 teaspoon vanilla
 - 1 teaspoon milk
 - 1/2 cup sifted flour
 - 1/2 teaspoon salt
 - Ornamental icing

Heat one-third cup sugar in small skillet, stirring until melted and light brown. Turn out at once into flat pan and let cool. Crush into small bits. Chop raisins. Beat butter with remaining one-third cup sugar and egg yolk. Blend in vanilla and milk. Add flour and salt, mixing well. Stir in raisins and crushed caramels.

Shape into one and one-half dozen egg-shaped ovals about one and one-fourth inch long. Do not flatten. Bake in slow oven (300 degrees F.) 20 to 25 minutes. Let stand in pan a few minutes, then lift off carefully with broad spatula. Cool on rack. Decorate as desired with icing and piping. Makes one and one-half dozen cookies.

ORNAMENTAL ICING: Blend one egg white with one and one-half cups sifted powdered sugar. Makes about one cup. Tint as desired.

TO MAKE RABBITS: Shape oval ball and flatten for body, smaller round ball for head, tiny ball for tail. Elongate bits of dough and pipe on rabbit's shape, remove pan from oven after five minutes baking. Reshape, edges with small spatula.

A BASKET FILLED with decorated Easter egg cookies is a delightful surprise for any youngster. Tied in bunny or other interesting shapes, these special-Easter cookies are so good, you will want to make them in different shapes for other special occasions.

Dear Abby

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I have a friend who is always looking for dirt in somebody else's house. The minute she walks in she looks in the corners for a speck of dust that might have been overlooked.

I have even seen her open closets, cupboards and drawers. She's a habit—she looks behind the doorpost, under cups and saucers, and if it weren't for my garden and the freezer I don't know what I'd do.

My husband banks every penny he gets his hands on. Our oldest is ten and wants to take piano lessons, but my husband says we can't afford it. Our house is paid for, we don't owe a dime and we have over $10,000 in the bank. Please put something in your column to help me. He reads it and thinks you're smart.

DEAR TURNING: It may be more than a few words from me to start your husband from his money. The poor man seems to be obsessed with the fear of being broke. (Probably due to a nervous childhood and a good memory.) I don't recommend extravagance, but a man owes it to his family to provide them with as fine an education (musical, social) and as pleasant surroundings as he can afford.

DEAR ABBY: We have a foreign exchange student from an Asian country living with us. We were laughing hysterically while reading the letter in your column about the man who gave a "birthday" party every year for his wife who had been dead for 12 years. (He said he'd invite his friends for a regular "birthday party" after which they'd all go out to the cemetery.)

Jobs' Daughters Plan Car Wash In Wendell

WENDELL—Plans were made for a two-day car wash, Friday and Saturday, beginning at 10 a.m. at the Taste Treat on East Main Street by members of Wendell Bethel No. 1, International Order of Job's Daughters.

Ynez Yarrago, honored queen, appointed Leslie Solt as in charge of the Friday work and Nancy Bunn in charge for Saturday work.

Introductions included Peggy Frith, past honored queen and past guardian; Anna Schrenk, past honored queen; Mrs. Joe Kimes, Bethel guardian, and past Bethel guardian of Jerome Bethel No. 14, and Mrs. Lillian Bunn, Mrs. Blanche Bunn and Mrs. R. J. Marlow, past guardians.

A decision was reached to have a skating and pizza party for the past queen's party. The time was discussed and will be announced at a later date. It was decided to have a salad bar at 6 p.m. prior to the April 20 meeting honoring the mother of Job's Daughters. Members whose names begin with A through G are in charge of the clean-up.

An invitation was read for members to attend the installation and installation of the new Bethel at Shoshone at 7 p.m. April 20. Action was taken to present a monetary gift to the new Bethel.

New members, Barbara Hoagland, Terri Peterson; Betty-Lyn Trueman and Pam Kimes, took the proficiency test.

The birthday song was sung for Mary Dunn, Peggy Frith and Mrs. Barton. It was announced that more than 3,000 articles have been collected to be placed in the gadget bags for Grand Council to be held in Twin Falls soon.

"Teachers' Week" was the title for the librarian's report by Terri Cooper.

Unit Ceremonial Is Conducted

The Da-Wa-Kan-Ri-Ya Camp group held its first ceremonial at the home of their leader, Mrs. Robert Parr.

Those receiving honor beads include Kristin Kendall, Bheci Coultrill, Terri Jo Sampo, Lisa Gerber, Lisa Elorriaga, Jessica Holland, Sheri Parr, Rajean Messersmith and Kelly Johnson.

The group made St. Patrick's Day their favors for patients at the hospital and are planning several field trips. One trip is set for the Bull and Hatcher and another to the Twin Falls Police Station.

Queens Crowned

Three-month weight-loss queens were honored and crowned by the Twin Falls Trim-Tops Club leader, Betty Frantz, at a recent meeting at the Salvation Army building.

Cattle Truck Flips Stock Into Ditch

A truck driver and his cargo of 13 heifers and steers escaped injury in a traffic accident Wednesday just east of Twin Falls on State Highway 50.

The truck, which carried a beef herd that dumped from the side, was being used to carry the cattle. When the vehicle went into the borrow pit, the dumping mechanism went into action, and tossed the cattle.

They ran into a field owned by Jim Mason, but were apprehended by officers and a volunteer constable, Diane Westbrook who just happened to be riding on his horseback.

Gene Helms also arrived from the Twin Falls Commission Co. with his mule to assist in the "roundup."

Officers said damage to the vehicle was not serious.

Hansen Says Bill Needed Study

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. George Hansen (R-Idaho) Thursday voted against considering the civil rights bill because it needed more study.

He said the bill contained 65 pages when it was sent from the House to the Senate but contained 59 pages when it returned to the House.

Heroic War Dog Dies In Battle With Police At Indianapolis

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP) — was very upset about his pet's death, Miss Hoover said neither she nor the ex-captain could understand how it could have happened.

"The dog of no distinct breeding, whom Brissman named Meatball, was killed in a fight with police after a salesman reported he had been bitten.

Police said Wednesday Meatball died of a broken neck after he dropped a dog catcher's maul on him at Brissman's apartment here. They said as the salesman approached Brissman's apartment, the dog attacked.

The salesman's wife, who was helping him, called authorities. Patrolman Harold O. Drummond answered the call and said Meatball tried to bite him and some children.

Brissman, 23, could not be reached for comment, but his fiancée, Rita Hoover, said he was a "nice guy."

Meatball ran growling toward the snipers, Brissman said. The dog kept charging and ran the sniper out into sights of Marine rifles, Brissman said.

One Marine in the Indiana soldier's platoon gave Meatball a Bronze Star for his action.

Later, Brissman and his pet were sitting on a banker near the house when Meatball began tugging on my arm. I had learned to take his advice, he said, and was on hand to greet the Marine and Meatball when they arrived in Indianapolis in July.

The canine was wearing sergeant's chevrons, two Purple Hearts, a Bronze Star and a Good Conduct Medal.

Brissman told reporters that in September, 1955, while he was on patrol with the pooh.

Cost Study Conducted By Minidoka NFO On Spuds

RUPERT — The potato committee of the Minidoka National Farmers Organization reports results of a study conducted to determine the average production cost per acre for potatoes in the county. Members said the study was determined whether or not a holding action on potatoes will be necessary.

Committee chairman, John Hansen, said the survey indicated the total cost per acre for growing potatoes is $288.92. That figure was arrived at, Mr. Hansen said, after committee members circulated questionnaires designed to evaluate production costs here. The results were then tabulated to arrive at an average cost. Hansen said the study offered this year, according to Mr. Hansen are the same as last year—generally $1.50 on a cent—except with the incentive clause for 10-bounce and quality. "If a grower can make .25 to 400 bushels yield he can make money on a contract," Hansen said. "We have no quarrel with the processor," he continued, "as they are being squeezed, too. Processors say they lost money last year. We have not accounted for more than half the grower and processor."

Northwest Wheat Exports Continue On High Level

BOISE — About 40 per cent of most of the western white wheat is grown in northern Idaho, Oregon and Washington. Production in the Northwest has increased since the adoption of new high-yielding varieties. Grains wheat accounts for more than half the acreage planted in 1967.

Western white wheat has been used extensively in the food trade in India and Pakistan. Commercial exports have also increased as a result of heavy purchases by Japan. Total U.S. exports of both red and white soft wheat increased sharply from a year earlier during the first half of the current marketing year. The figure for the entire year will probably be smaller than the record 439 million bushels last year, Banks said, but may be the second or third largest in history.

"With the large U.S. supply of wheat, exports under Public Law 85-625 have increased. India, which received about 150 million bushels in 1966-1967, has now received 180 million bushels in 1967-1968. Last year, India's grain needs were met by wheat and rice. U.S. shipment of grain was 100 million bushels.

Based on the season average price of $1.47 per bushel and total marketing cost of $1.25, the net return to producers for the 1967 crop are estimated at $2.22 million more than last year's previous record. The average price received by farmers Jan. 15, 1968 was $1.36.

Farm AND Ranch

JOHN PASTOOR, chairman of the Twin Falls Soil Conservation District's snow survey committee, shows on a chart the water forecast for the 1968 irrigation season on the Salmon and Roseworth Tracts. The water on the Salmon is to be in short supply — the driest since 1961. The allotment for Salmon Tract farmers is set at 388 acre feet.

Water Supply 60% Of Normal On Salmon, Roseworth Tracts

By ROBERT VANAUDELIN, Times-News Farm Editor

HOLLISTER — Farmers on the Salmon Tract are to have less water than they have had since 1961 when it was the driest year in some 30 years.

Moran Nelson, state snow survey leader for the Soil Conservation Service, told farmers that the water supply this year is about 60 per cent of normal. He said the expected Salmon Reservoir inflow with normal spring precipitation, will be about 45,000 acre feet.

He said this forecast of 45,000 acre feet is dependent on spring precipitation. Last year 35,000 acre feet was predicted in April and because of heavy spring precipitation, the inflow was 71,000 acre feet, thus giving Salmon Tract farmers more water per share than was forecast.

On the Roseworth tract, the inflow to Roseworth has been forecast at 5,000 acre feet as compared to 11,000 acre feet on the Salmon Tract, there that flowed into the reservoir. However, that amount resulted from the heavy spring rains, because the forecast a year ago was 6,000 acre feet.

The allotment per share to Salmon Tract farmers has been set at 388 acre feet share as compared to 6 acre feet the farmers received during 1967. The forecast allotment last year was 460 acre feet because of the heavy spring rains, the allotment was raised to 6 acre feet per share.

Job Pastoor, chairman of the Twin Falls Soil District Snow Survey Committee, stated there will be a total of 23,187 acre feet to be delivered to farmers over water.

For Roseworth farmers the allotment per share is 1.37 acre feet per share. There are 3,000 shares representing 5,000 acres in the district.

Zinc

The University of Idaho Extension Service, in conjunction with the University's branch experiment station and the Snake River Conservation Research Center, both at Kimberly, have just released a new bulletin on zinc. This bulletin, Idaho Current Information Series No. 68, is a revision of the old bulletin on zinc for beans. The new bulletin gives more details on zinc and recommendations for use of zinc and the different kinds of materials.

These bulletins will be available to area farmers at the nearest county agent's office.

Russia Sets Goal On Farm Output

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Foreign Agricultural Service reports the Soviet Union has set a goal of increasing farm production 14 per cent this year over last year. The service said much of this gain would need come from the livestock sector.

By comparison, the European Economic Community seeks an increase of 4 per cent over last year. The area's production last year increased 2.3 per cent over 1966.

The service said U.S. farm exports to western Europe during the year ending June 30 will drop some from the previous year's volume.

Claude Mull, Hagerman, has recently painted the sheds, fences and a "barren red" on his farm east of Hagerman.

Several albino pheasants have been seen in the Hagerman area this spring. A pair of them were seen at the Federal Fish Hatchery this week.

Landro (Shorty) Ruis and son, Bernardo, Richfield, have moved their sheep out to rangeland. The sheep were sheared two weeks ago.

Camas County farmers who had their cattle in the lower country during the winter have been bringing them back to the prairie the last few weeks. Most farmers who moved out for the winter have returned to their home farms.

All but a few Camas Prairie farmers have been able to get in the fields the past few weeks for spring work. Stan Frogtrom, who farms in the Manard area, states that this year is the earliest that he has been able to get into his fields since 1934. Crows, falcons and other spring flowering birds started blooming on the prairie nearly a month early this year.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Solders, Tuttle, and Nolen Solders, Wendell, assist in branding and vaccinating calves at the ranch of Mrs. Maxine Solders, Sheehans.

Mr. and Mrs. Chester Loucks have improved their farm at Tuttle by constructing a Cinder block garage. Gene Turner also rented their land for this summer.

Roger Noble, Mounia Home, is helping with farm operations for two weeks at the ranch of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Robinson at Tuttle.

Dan Wicher, whose home ranch is on Cold Springs Creek, has taken his cows and calves off Shuff's Island in the Snake River where they were wintered. Kenneth Scence, whose home is on the River, has seen of Glenn Ferry, says he has turned his cattle out now and is starting to prepare the soil for his corn and melon crops. About 20 acres is put into corn for roasting ears, cantaloupes and watermelons.

Donald Pancoast of the Indian Cove community says they are busy now getting the plowing and soil preparation completed, ready for spring planting. Others in his area who have cattle are all turned out now.

Cattle branding is being finished this week at the J. H. Hensley ranches on Cold Springs Creek, and just in time with the potential turn-out date about April 10. The Gilbert Walker Ranch, on Cold Springs Creek finished their branding last Saturday and are all ready to get out on the Taylor grazing acres as soon as permissible. Neater Glenn Ferry, the Samuel S. Blackwell ranch west of town was the scene Sunday for branding of young cattle.

Mrs. Ray Blah of the Blair Reservoir Ranch, reports the men are plowing and disking now, readying for planting barley. Their other crops are winter wheat and corn. The cattle branding was completed last weekend.

Spring grain has come up very well in Hagerman valley and the fields are a carpet of green.

Doran Butler branded some of his Angus cattle with the cold-trog method last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Dee Althebaugh and family, Yuba City, Calif., have moved their household furnishings to their new ranch south of King Hill which they bought from Mr. and Mrs. Clark Chaffin, who have farmed in the community for many years. The Chaffins are going to do some traveling and enjoy the outdoors.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Masterson are having some remodeling done on their ranch home east of King Hill. Mr. and Mrs. Karl Alexander, Glenn Ferry, and Ralph Lash, King Hill, are doing the carpenter work.

2 New Bean Varieties Introduced

Two new bean varieties, as yet unnamed, were announced today to the members of the Idaho Bean Commission meeting on the University of Idaho campus.

In making the announcement, Dr. Arthur M. Finley, head of the Plant Science department, commented that the two new varieties are resistant to cur top, a virus disease that can be particularly devastating in susceptible varieties.

These resistant varieties are stimulating interest in commercial bean processing in southern Idaho and southeastern Washington. Both varieties have been under extensive commercial trials for three years.

Dr. James W. Guthrie, University plant pathologist, reported on the latest progress in his halo blight research. He discussed the progress made in establishing sources of halo blight for gene stock.

About the new varieties he has developed, he said that he has identified all known pathogens that cause various diseases in beans and bean seeds, including halo blight.

The Bean Commission members also heard progress reports on research to develop new varieties resistant to common root rot, a problem of the bean grower for 25 years.

The University agricultural experiment station has had several very heavy types yield trials for the first time this year that looks promising.

Harvey Orentzel was named to chairman the county committee again this year. Assisting him will be Donald Young, Twin Falls County agent, and Clarence Hedrick, SCS unit conservationist.

The Grassman of the Year program was explained by Hugh Hough, Boise, assistant chairman of the program. He also told what the state committee plans to do and how the program will be handled.

The purpose of the program is to encourage better farming and agriculture operations through the use of grass which provides green manure that Mother Nature intended.

He said the program also helps bring businessmen and farmers closer together.

A county planning meeting will be scheduled in the near future, says Mr. Orentzel.

Field Day At Caldwell Station Set

CALDWELL—Results of feeding various combinations of feed mixtures to steers will be compared May 4 at a public field day at the Caldwell branch experiment station of the University of Idaho. Joe Doherty, superintendent, announced today. The program will also include reports on disease research.

James E. Kraus, dean of the college of agriculture; R. D. Ziegenfuss, associate director of the experiment station; and T. Donald Bell, head of the animal science department, will be in attendance.

Noy Brackett, Hagerman, president of the Idaho Cattlemen's Association, and Richard Blinn, county agent, will be in attendance. The program will begin at 10 a.m. and wind up with a dinner of the feeders' association at the Golden Pleasant in Caldwell. Noon lunch will be served at the station.

In an experiment, 80 Angus steer calves were individually fed several combinations of treated corn silage. The silages are pit silage, pit silage plus a preservative, Seal-Sac method, and Seal-Sac method plus a preservative.

In the other test 60 light Hereford steer calves have been "backgated" on three pre-conditioning rations during the winter. Early in March all were switched to concentrates for the final fattening phase.

Dr. Floyd W. Frank, head of the veterinary science department, will report on progress in bovine vibriosis research. Dr. Donald G. Wahlman, microbiologist at the Caldwell station, will discuss calf scours.

The research advisory committee of the Golden Pleasant FFA Association will meet in the afternoon.

Spray For Alfalfa Weevil Now

Damage by alfalfa weevil can best be prevented or held in check by applying insecticides to the larvae, Donald Young, Twin Falls County Agent, reminds farmers this week. Early spring treatments are not practical because the chemicals that kill over-wintering adults leave residue prohibited by federal regulations. The county agent urges farmers to not take chances by using an unregistered insecticide.

Accurate timing is, therefore, very important, according to Larry O'Keefe, Entomologist of the University of Idaho extension service. Timing, he said, must be based on thorough and frequent examination of fields.

Adult weevils feed on alfalfa but do not seriously injure the crop. Feeding by larvae on the first crop reduces yield and quality. In severe conditions, entire fields take on a greenish leave residue prohibited by federal regulations.

Those that have not completed their development continue to feed on buds of alfalfa crops. This delays the second crop and may cause serious damage if water is short, the season is short, or the second crop is left for seed.

"Damage to the first hay crop is not covered, severe injury to 75 per cent of the plants terminals show larval feeding,"

Project OKAYED — LIBBY, Mont. (AP) — The Great Northern Lumber Co., Salt Lake City, was given approval this week by the U.S. Corps of Engineers in Seattle to begin construction on the Kelley Flats airfield seven miles south of Libby.

Farm Groups Divided On Legislation For Bargaining

By OVID A. MARTIN
AP Farm Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Farm groups showed an agricultural conference Monday they are sharply divided on legislation to broaden farmer power to bargain for better prices.

The Johnson administration sought farm expressions on bargaining in a developing program to which it had invited officials from more than 150 farm and rural development organizations.

The conference did not, however, bring sharp criticisms of the administration's present farm policies, as a similar meeting did a year ago.

Most cases speaking said there is need for government programs designed to stabilize farm production and prices.

The lack of criticism and complaints about farm programs was in sharp contrast to that which marked last year's conference. This conference brought expressions of surprise from some farm spokesmen, since farm income dropped 11 per cent last year, and proposals for improvement this year are uncertain.

Strong support for the administration came from leaders of the National Farmers Union.

Twain Falls Times-News, April 12-13, 1952

By C. W. McMillan, executive vice president of the American National-Cattlemen's Association, said present laws permitting farmers to work together for better conditions are adequate. He said his organization believes it can attain satisfactory prices through a voluntary self-discipline program of production restraints.

Rupert Herd Ranks For Third Month

RUPERT—A herd of registered Holsteins owned by Jack Hutterbrand, Rupert, topped the Minidoka County Dairy Herd Improvement Association for the third straight month in March, according to B. T. Candler, DHIA supervisor.

Reports show a total of 21 herds tested during the month, including 1,255 cows, 1,142 of which were milking. Total pounds of milk produced was 1,281,000, and total pounds of butterfat produced was 49,478.

Average pounds of butterfat produced per cow, including dry cows, was 1,001—and average pounds of butterfat produced per cow, including dry cows, was 35.3. The number of cows producing 40 pounds or more of butterfat was 118.

The 10 top place individual cows were owned by Louis Bott and sons, Jack Hutterbrand, and the Sunnys all Rupert, and Don Woodward and the Hillcrest Dairy, both Paul.

Three Area Cows Listed In Report

Dairymen in this area have cows listed in an official production testing report released by the National FFA Association of America. Included with the pounds of milk and butterfat are the amounts of solids-not-fat (SNF) produced by each registered Holstein since last calendar year.

The Holstein Association's testing program has provided for determining SNF nutrients since 1961. This is the part of the test that contains protein, lactose, minerals and other elements so important to the nutrition of milk.

The nutrient testing is sponsored by the Holstein Association in a five-year step-with-today's consumer demands. The Holstein Association is improving the overall performance of its herds. The milk producer can use it as a measure of milk's food value.

The animals and their actual production levels are:

- Tami Inka Colombia 5585832, a five-year-old Registered Holstein, has a record of 21,800 pounds of milk, 747 pounds of butterfat and 1,815 pounds of solids-not-fat in 305 days.

Princess Jewel Stars 5585812, a four-year-old, had produced 19,670 pounds of milk, 611 pounds of butterfat and 1,620 pounds of solids-not-fat in 302 days. Both are owned by Louis Bott and Sons, Rupert.

Tami Inka Burke Melano 4881079, a seven-year-old Registered Holstein cow, owned by Gordon Warren, Jerome, produced 23,900 pounds of milk, 790 pounds of butterfat and 1,867 pounds of solids-not-fat in 300 days.

Production sampling and testing procedures were supervised by the University of Idaho in cooperation with official Holstein-breed improvement programs.

Beautification Discussed By Teen 4-H'ers

BEAUTIFICATION was the topic of discussion during a recent meeting of Teen 4-H'ers at the Tom Parks Pavilion.

Barbara Burkhardt and Lynn Ramsey talked on beautification. They stressed the importance of keeping the parks and roads clean. They suggested that the Teen 4-H'ers start a project of the same type of beautification.

Olan Gen, Twin Falls County 4-H Agent, suggested that the group start on the Tom Parks Pavilion by planting trees or shrubs around the building.

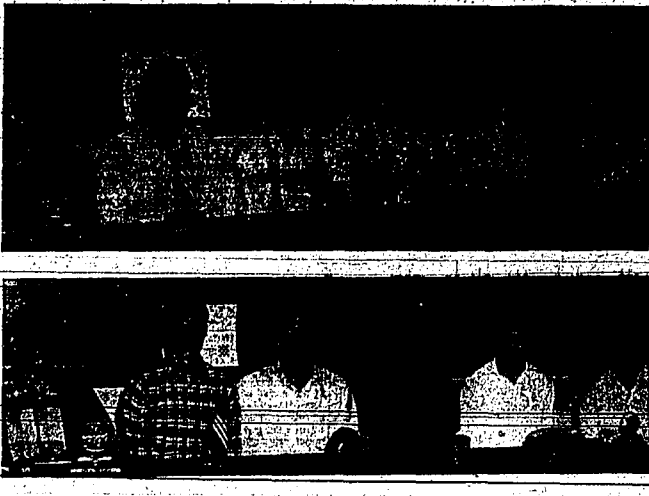

Club Congress will be discussed at the group's next meeting on April 27.

After the meeting a dance was held with the "Variety Pack" furnishing the music.

Vocational Agriculture At Rupert Unique

By LIZ BOLTON
Times-News Correspondent
RUPERT—The Minico High School Vocational Agriculture Department has, in the past 13 years, received many awards for outstanding accomplishments. It has even been classified as unique in the nation for being large enough to have two FFA chapters. Farmers of America chapters in Rupert with her sister, Kathy, her mother, and grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Stewart.

Chris is a sophomore at Minico and is really quite typical, taking all the regular courses except she's interested in agriculture.

She explains, "I'm Jewish and want to be able to go to Israel to teach the people there about American Agriculture."

It was a tough go at first, just trying to get into the local agriculture class. Chris had begun the course at the beginning of the school year in California, but when she transferred here and requested the course, they just stared at her. "No female had ever been interested before."

Finally, however, by going through Boise to get permission, Chris was allowed to enroll in Vernon MacNeil's morning class. Being born of a rancher, Chris plans to continue the study through high school and on into college, at the University of Idaho.

Because of the earlier consolidation of the four local high schools, Minico couldn't respond to the tremendous demand for Vocational Agriculture without splitting them between two instructors. Today, Vernon MacNeil and Herb Merrill teach some 180 students, and lead two individual FFA chapters.

The West Minico chapter, headed by Mr. Merrill, and Mr. MacNeil heads the East Minico Chapter, both state award winners over the years.

1968 officers for the West Minico chapter are Dave Horner, president; Don Rasmussen, vice president; Randy Knopp, secretary; Ron Gomez, treasurer; Sam Mahler, reporter, and Bruce Fredrick, sentinel.

The Minico Vocational Agriculture shop, which is shared by the two men, is filled with more welding machinery and has a larger production capacity than that of many local industrial steel plants—those in about the $1-million bracket.

The department purchases more than four tons of welding rod per year, which costs about $6,000, and produces equipment equivalent to $13,200 is sold on the open market. The students construct their various projects, then purchase them.

Much of the production equipment in the shop is war surplus material. This includes hydraulic presses, jathes, power neck saws and drill presses.

Some of the individual projects under construction include heavy land corrugate openers, head yard machine trailers, stock racks, potato bulk beds, cultivators, picnic tables, post

Two Youths Get Railroad Scholarships

Gall Hoekvee, Hagerman, and Mike O'Dell, Twin Falls, were among 16 young Idahoans who were awarded Union Pacific Railroad Scholarships at the recent Future Farmers of America convention at Meridian.

The awards were made by Boyd Baxter, Union Pacific agricultural agent at Boise. Baxter said two of the 500 scholarships are awarded each year by the railroad in each of 193 counties. He said in the West to encourage talented students to further their education in agriculture and related fields, one going to a vocational agricultural student and one to a 4-H Club member.

Since the railroad started the scholarship program in 1922 more than 10,000 scholarships have been awarded. Mr. Baxter said, with more than 1,600 of them given in Idaho.

County Agent Says Use Certified Seed

Certified potato seed is more essential this year than ever, Donald F. Youtz, Twin Falls County agricultural agent, emphasized this week. Only certified seed, he said, can meet the threat of leaf roll in commercial production.

Leaf roll was more extensive than usual in the 1967 commercial crop. Internal leaf necrosis, a detrimental condition associated with leaf roll, has been evident in nearly all potato producing areas of the county.

Richard E. Ohms, potato specialist of the University of Idaho Extension Service, stressed an adequate supply of certified seed, the best means of assuring high quality and yield in 1968. Certified seed, he said, should eliminate the threat of leaf roll if there are no sources of the virus in the community.

Sources that might threaten the commercial crop are fields planted with non-certified (convey-out seed), and old stock potatoes. Systemic insecticides, Ohms said, will help to meet the problem and should be used in all potato fields.

He recommended that growers do three things:

- Use certified seed.
- Control and rogue out volunteer potatoes growing in other crops on the farm.
- Apply a systemic insecticide at planting to slow down the rate of leaf-roll spread to fields planted with certified seed in case populations of aphids build up early in the summer.

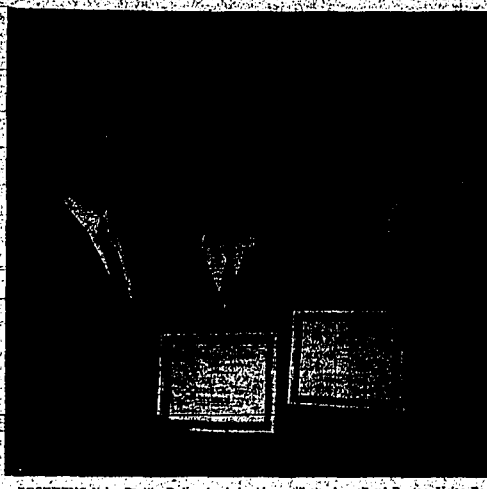

Work Force Down

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Agriculture Department reports the farm labor work force late in March was down four per cent from a year earlier. The total was 3,341,000 compared with 3,420,000 in March 1967. Hired workers totaled 845,000, down 8 per cent from last year.

The level of farm wage rates on April 1 was 7 per cent higher than a year earlier. The average per hour without board or room was $1.43 compared with $1.34 on April 1 last year.

Planning Is Topic For Farm Meet

SHOSHONE—Richard Payton, north Shoshone farmer, who spoke at the subject of farm planning at the Wood River Soil-Water Conservation meeting, stressed the need for planning ahead in order to make farming operations successful.

Farm planning is not merely a "do it when you see the need" proposition, nor can the farmer merely be looking over the surface of his farm, anticipative and plan for the solution of his problems, Mr. Payton said. He relies on his soil man to tell him what is beneath the surface of each field, and armed with that knowledge he can plan his irrigation of each field, based on the water requirements of the crops to be grown.

The depth of soils considered in learning the intake rates and water holding capacity, then it can be determined how often to irrigate.

Frank Dallas, Farmers Home Administration official—Shoshone, spoke on the Technical Action Panel which consists of heads of Department of Agriculture organizations in the State, federal and county organizations.

He named Paul Bancroft, north Shoshone, to the panel from this area.

Meetings for the local group are held at 1:30 p.m. the first Monday of the month at the local ASCS office.

Handbook For Selecting Roses Offered

Just in time for spring garden planning, the American Rose Society is announcing its booklet, "A Handbook For Selecting Roses," which is designed to aid the home gardener.

The "Handbook For Selecting Roses" offers important information on all roses currently available in the United States. The handbook is the result of continuous expansion of the Society's ever-popular Guide For Buying Roses.

The handbook lists more than 1,000 roses and give pertinent information such as "height of plant, color, horticultural classification and the valuable American Rose Society rating. Each rose is assigned a national rating based on a 10-point scale. These ratings are obtained through an annual survey of more than 17,500 American Rose Society members who report on the roses as they perform in their own gardens.

This handy pocket-sized booklet also lists the high-rated roses according to horticultural and color classification. Other features include complete descriptions of the 1967 All-American Rose Selection winners, valuable information on the programs of the American Rose Society and its services to the home gardener.

You will want to receive the new 1968 "Handbook For Selecting Roses" in time to evaluate your rose garden and the roses on the market before spring planting. Send a self-addressed, stamped, standard size envelope and 10 cents in coin to the American Rose Society, Dept. B, 408 Rowena Place, Columbus, Ohio 43214.

Potash Adds Punch To Extra Alfalfa Cuttings

WASHINGTON, D. C. — Potash adds punch to extra alfalfa cuttings, Michigan State University scientist Milo Tesar reports.

"Potassium influences alfalfa quality but does it more indirectly than nitrogen increases protein in grass," he explains in a crop quality report issued by the American Potash Institute.

Dr. Tesar reveals how potassium improves alfalfa feeding value by increasing the yield of more frequently cut, more digestible alfalfa.

More frequent cuttings—three times instead of two—actually improves feeding value or plant tissue quality," Tesar explains. "The younger forage has more feeding value than older material."

He reports trials where high potassium variety helped a third cutting give an extra ton of high quality alfalfa on sandy loam. Another trial showed the feeding value of alfalfa raised primarily from potash fertilizer and three cuttings in a year.

Adequate potash not only encourages bumper yields of extra cuttings, but also strengthens stems—winter, weeds, non-desirable species, and even insects in some cases, the Michigan agronomist reveals.

In one trial, as high potash treatments boosted alfalfa yields the amounts of weeds remained constant or under control. In another case, dandelions

UNUSUAL SALE is held by Mike Quessell and Archie Quessell, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Quessell, Twin Falls. This calf was born with its heart outside the rib cage and in the throat area. The calf is now two months old and is living a normal calf's life.

Local Hereford Heifer Is Born With Its Heart In Throat Area

Once in a while you hear of a calf being born with two heads or two tongues or no tail or even blind. But you probably have not heard or seen a small calf with its heart in its throat.

Archie Quessell, who lives 2 1/2 miles south of Twin Falls, has a two-month-old Hereford heifer calf which was born with its heart in its throat.

Mr. Quessell told Dr. Ivan Jackson, a Twin Falls veterinarian, a few days later about the calf, and a week or two later the doctor went out to see the calf.

After examining the calf, Dr. Jackson said the heart definitely was outside the rib cage and in the throat area.

Mr. Quessell said the calf is normal in every other way, is healthy and eats well. He said usually the calf has no problem swallowing or breathing.

Dr. Jackson said this is very unusual and that he has never seen anything like it. Mr. Quessell said this is the first time he has ever heard of a calf born outside the rib cage in calves.

He said in the years he has been raising cattle, he has had some calves born blind and some without tails, but never anything like this.

Mr. Quessell said he plans to keep the heifer and raise her until she is about a year old and then will have her slaughtered for meat.

But in the meantime the young heifer is enjoying life like other calves.

HAND of Archie Quessell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Quessell, Twin Falls, shows the area of this calf's throat where the calf's heart is located. The calf was born with its heart in the throat area, outside the rib cage.

Chemicals Advisable For Wild Oats

To get the jump on wild oats, use chemicals as advised according to Donald Youtz, Twin Falls county agent.

Timing of applications to fit certain stages in the growth of crops and the weed is important for effective control, he says. Cultivation is recommended. Crop rotation also has an essential role.

Kinds of agricultural chemicals to use on wild oats in grain crops and when they should be put on are told in a leaflet, "Control Wild Oats," just published by the college of agriculture. It was written by Higgins and C. J. Seely, a research agronomist.

In spring wheat and barley, the agronomists suggest that the Farmer's Apply and Incorporate Two-Way fertilizer be used in planning. Less injury to the crop will occur if application is made after planting but before the sprouts are half an inch long. Carbyne may be used when most of the wild oats are in the two-leaf stage.

Here are other recommendations: In peas apply and incorporate Avadex BW before or after planting and incorporate L.P.C. shortly before planting. Apply Carbyne when wild oats are in the two-leaf stage or apply Dalapon before sugar beets are in the six-leaf stage.

The wild oat is an annual grass similar to tame oats. Wild oats have a long, black, twisted awn and a sucker mouth where the oat breaks off the plant. Tame oats do not. Young wild oats can be distinguished from wheat by a papery growth at the base of the leaf.

When young wild oats can be told from barley because they do not have ear-like projections around the stem at the base of the blade. Barley does.

There are several strains of wild oats. They vary in resistance to herbicides.

MEETING PLANNED

SEATTLE (AP) — Executive board members of the Communication Workers of America have called to Washington, D.C. for a meeting Monday. The meeting is scheduled for 10 days before a strike deadline set for all Bell System telephone firms.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Breeding and Mr. and Mrs. Ray Astendorf showed slides and narrated the Alaska trip the couples took last summer.

Grain Storage Capacity Drops

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Agriculture Department reported today that grain storage capacity on the nation's farms declined 50 million bushels during 1967, at the beginning of the year. It totaled 5,440 million bushels.

Texas led with 881 million bushels followed by Kansas with 698 million, Nebraska with 608 million and Illinois with 443 million.

Petersens Accepted At Area Grange

Murtagh — Mr. and Mrs. Henry Petersen were accepted as members by demit at the Friday night meeting of Murtagh Grange.

Harold Hagerer gave an agricultural report on the school on basic soil which he is attending at CSU and stressed the importance of fertilizer and lime. Jim Byer read a resolution on crop reports from Lacerna Grange.

Will Beck Reported on a weed control meeting he attended in Portland, recently, and held information on chemicals and their use, inside and outside buildings. He also reported on the telephone meeting held in Twin Falls last week which was attended by 17 interested persons from the Murtagh community.

The annual Booster Night and potluck supper will be held April 19 and guests are welcome. After discussion on the need for a junior at the hall the executive committee was named to take care of hiring someone. The secretary is to name a day for the Grangers to meet for a cleanup day for the ball grounds.

The home economics committee presented the program which included poems by Kim Breeding, Julio Petersen, Jimmie Kirkpatrick and Debbie Kirkpatrick.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Breeding and Mr. and Mrs. Ray Astendorf showed slides and narrated the Alaska trip the couples took last summer.

Inventory Tax Statements Due

Clifford Thompson, Twin Falls county assessor, Thursday, January 10, advised county merchants that statements listing merchandise for inventory tax purposes must be returned to his office as soon as possible.

He said several hundred were mailed to merchants during January asking they be returned by March 1. As of April 1, he said only 50 per cent have been sent to his office.

The delay in obtaining the information from these statements, Thompson said, "is holding up our entire tax processing program."

"We would like to get back to merchants to get these reports in as soon as possible," he added.

BEEF AND HOMEMADE

EGG 'NOODLES' MRS. HOWARD ABRINGTON

Route 2, Twin Falls
Put chunks of short ribs or meaty boiling beef in large kettle and cover with cold water. Add one carrot cut in pieces, a stalk of celery, one-half onion, a small bay leaf and one teaspoon salt.

Bring to boil, skim and turn down heat. Simmer, covered, for about three or four hours. Let meat cool in broth. Drain broth off through a colander and let cool in refrigerator so excess fat can be taken off.

Cut the meat from the bones and fat, into bite sized pieces. Place about 1/2 quart skimmed broth into kettle and bring to boil. Add noodles slowly so boiling does not stop. Lower heat and cook for 10 minutes. Then add meat, chunks. Broth may be thickened with cornstarch.

For extra flavor marjoram, thyme or a dash of garlic salt may be added.

EGG NOODLES

1 medium or large egg
3 or 4 tablespoons cream or evaporated milk
3/4 teaspoon salt

Beat ingredients well with fork or egg beater and stir in one cup flour. Continue stirring until mixture forms a ball and leaves the sides of the bowl. Turn onto floured board and knead 15-20 times.

A little more flour may be added so mixture is smooth and elastic, not sticky. Flour a wooden board and continue rolling. Roll firmly from the center to the edge. Roll very thinly into a rectangle at least 16 by 24 inches. Roll up and cut. Unroll and let dry for 3 to 4 hours.
Makes six generous servings when cooked with beef.

MEAT BALL CHOWDER

MRS. SILAS DAYLEY

Route 1 Box 113, Hansen
2 pounds ground lean beef
2 teaspoons seasoned salt
1/2 teaspoon pepper
2 eggs, slightly beaten
1/2 cup finely chopped parsley
1/2 cup cracker crumbs
2 tablespoons milk
2 tablespoons salad oil
4 to 6 onions, cut in eighths
6 cups water
6 cups tomato juice
6 cups bouillon cubes
6 carrots, sliced (3 cups)
2 to 4 cups sliced celery
2 to 3 potatoes, diced (2 to 3)

1/2 cup long grain rice
1 tablespoon sugar
2 teaspoons salt
2 bay leaves
1/4 to 1/2 teaspoon marjoram, optional

1 1/2 ounce can Mexicorn
Combine meat, seasoned salt, pepper, eggs, parsley, cracker crumbs and milk. Mix thoroughly. Form into balls about the size of a walnut. (Makes about 40.) Dip in flour.

Heat oil in 8-10 quart kettle. Lightly brown meat balls on all sides (or drop unbrowned into boiling vegetables.) Add remaining ingredients, except add corn the last 10 minutes of cooking. Bring to a boil. Cover. Reduce heat and cook at slow boil 30 minutes, or until vegetables are tender.

If dinner must wait, turn off heat at this point. Takes only 10 minutes to reheat. Serve in big soup bowls. Makes six to seven quarts.

GOURMET TOUCH

When preparing ham, roast pork or smoked tongue, add a gourmet touch by glazing the meat with this flavorful mixture.

Combine one jar Gerber strained apricots with brown sugar, dry mustard and spices. Mix well and spread generously over meat.

Combine 2 cups sugar, 1/4 cup light corn syrup, 1 1/2 cup hot water and 1/4 teaspoon salt in two-quart saucepan. Cook and stir until sugar dissolves and mixture comes to boiling point. Cook to hard ball stage (250 degrees) without stirring. Wipe crystals from sides of pan with fork wrapped in damp cloth. Remove from heat.
Immediately beat two egg whites until stiff. Pour hot syrup slowly over beaten whites, beating constantly at high speed on mixer for about five minutes.
Add 1 teaspoon vanilla and beat until mixture forms soft peaks and begins to lose its gloss. Add 1/2 cup chopped nuts.
Drop candy by teaspoonful on to waxed paper. Twist tops. If divinity becomes too stiff for twisting, add a few drops of hot water.

QUICK SAUCE
For a quick spaghetti sauce for lunch, use leftover vegetables and meat, diced, combined with tomato sauce, with cheese and a little oregano. Serve hot over cooked spaghetti.

THIS SCOTCH VEGETABLE SOUP calls for the traditional lamb, base and barley as a thickener, but it's made the modern way with convenient frozen vegetables. Served with a hot bread and butter from the freezer, it provides a hearty, satisfying meal appropriate for friends or family.
