Communists Accuse U.S. Of Delaying Peace Talks

TOKYO (AP) — North Vietnamese Foreign Minister in a statement — if the United States really wanted to negotiate — "deliberately" delaying preliminary peace negotiations on the Vietnam war by its "stubborn and cunning attitude." The statement, issued from Hanoi, said the United States, which it said was creating "unfavorable conditions" for the initial contacts, was creating "unfavorable conditions" for the talks.

Khe Sanh Reveals Secret

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. forces sweeping the area near the Khe Sanh combat base, long under siege by the North Vietnamese, uncovered a major enemy arms cache Saturday and captured it after a brief fight. U.S. officials said that among the stores of arms and ammunition were 5,000 rounds of mortar shells. The discovery came as the war was in a general lull throughout South Vietnam. Ground action was described officially as "light and scattered."

... Freckles And Curiosity

The U.S. suggestions have included Geneva, New Delhi, Vietnam, Laos, and Rangoon, Burma. At the United Nations, U.N. Secretary-General Thant appealed to Washington and Hanoi to reach prompt agreement on the site for the talks, which both have agreed to conduct. "Any further delay," Thant said in a statement, "... would be most unfortunate in view of the fact that massive destruction of life and property is still going on in North Vietnam and the United States have been exchanging proposals for a number of days on the location of the talks, which Hanoi said should deal with complete cessation of the U.S. bombing of the North as a prerequisite to formal peace negotiations. U.S. officials say the contacts should be made in a neutral location, where both sides have diplomatic representation and communications facilities for U.S. negotiators. Although neither North Vietnam suggestion has been rejected, the United States says Warsaw would not be a neutral site and, since the United States and Cambodia do not have diplomatic relations, Phnom Penh would lack secure and speedy communications facilities for U.S. negotiators. The North Vietnamese Foreign Ministry statement was signed by U.S. officials to delay the talks.

White Usher At Funeral Didn't Belong

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — A white man who was an usher at the funeral of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. was not authorized by the arrangements committee to direct security precautions for Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey.

It was learned Friday that the usher was an encyclopedia salesman named Floyd "Buddy" Ayers of Stone Mountain, Ga.

The King family thought he was with the Secret Service, the minister in charge of arrangements thought he was a governor's aide and the Secret Service apparently thought he had clearance.

Ayers, who had seated former Vice President Richard M. Nixon at the funeral, was identified by Kennedy, D.N.Y., to a new.

An Associated Press spokesman overheard him say to the senator, "Come right this way, Bobert. We have security here."

The reporter first met Ayers when the salesman attended a murder trial with the defense counsel, James Venable, who heads the National Knights of the Ku Klux Klan Inc.

He said the hospital waiting list for kidney replants has 13 names on it and doctors "will continue with these operations as donor kidneys become available."

EASTER PRAYER

By THE REV. JOHN D. RILEY, B.D.
The Church of The Ascension

Lord, why? You lived such a great life. You said and did such wonderful things. You were hunted down, right, and exciting to be with. You turned people on right and left and you accompanied people who didn't know they were persons until you were with them. You have brought out personhood in all of us, Jesus.

Then the crucifixion. Why did you go through it all for us, Lord? You know us to be what we are; don't you? We've missed the mark so many times, and you know it. We've treated places with the people of your own day, Lord. We are the leaders, the biggest, the ruthless, the narrow-minded. We protect our own. You went through a lot-for-us, bringing this way.

And now we celebrate your Victory, and ours, even ours! You are new again and here again and with us every day, Lord. We are the leaders, the biggest, the ruthless, the narrow-minded. We protect our own. You went through a lot-for-us, bringing this way.

And now we celebrate your Victory, and ours, even ours! You are new again and here again and with us every day, Lord. We are the leaders, the biggest, the ruthless, the narrow-minded. We protect our own. You went through a lot-for-us, bringing this way.

Thank You, Lord. Amen.

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — President Johnson, with members of his family scattered all the way from Vietnam to Washington, will be in Austin, Texas, for Easter weekend at his ranch home Saturday.

Johnson, of course, was being kept advised about diplomatic fencing with Hanoi on arrangements for preliminary talks on Vietnam. And he had to contend with the usual batch of paperwork that follows a president wherever he goes.

The emphasis, however, was on getting some rest and relaxation after a couple of extremely busy weeks and before the trip to Honolulu Monday for meetings with military leader Sheng Sheng Hsiang, Chung Hsiang Park of South Korea. The President's daughter, Luci, was with him. Daughter Luci was due at the ranch 68 miles west of her home here, for Easter dinner with her parents—and with her mother, Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson, who was in Washington, did not plan to join the family gathering.

"After spending a day in prison, taking pictures of course, he returned to Twin Falls to get pictures for Easter Sunday.

NFO Relaxes Boycott Of Meat Market

CORNING, Iowa (AP) — After two months of effort, an Illinois group has secured a relaxation of its 35-state boycott of National Farmers Organization (NFO) products.

NFO President Oren Lee Stanley insisted that the meat and farm organization's headquarters here had the holding action, keeping products off the market to force prices up, will continue.

In a recorded message heard by NFO members in Belgium, Wis., Stanley said the NFO will begin a bloc selling of "new strategy" and to relieve pressure on farmers.

The group will involve members pooling their meat animals and selling them collectively, much as the "NFO" has conducted group sales since April 1965, when it started a "marketing arrangements" program.

Meridian Road-area to the city of Rupert. The ordinance calling for the annexation of the area to the city will go before the Rupert City Council Tuesday night for the third and final reading before action is taken.

During the special meeting Thursday, Mr. Schlemmer expressed his opinion that legal action should be taken before the final reading of the ordinance. He also advised the group that should they decide to file legal action against the city, it would very likely be in the form of injunctive proceedings.

The chairman of the committee noted that the landowners along Meridian Road were almost 100 per cent opposed to the annexation action. Meridian Road is the avenue to Grandview Addition. He also pointed out that estimates supplied by the Rupert Mayor, the city, and other reliable sources indicate that the eventual cost of annexation could amount to between $95,000 and $39,000.

"At the base of any annexation proceedings," Mr. Schlemmer said, "should be the legal, equitable and moral question of whether or not those people in the area to be annexed approve or desire to become residents of the city. The city of Rupert has had the unequivocal answer of the majority of the people in this area and that answer is that they do not wish to become part of Rupert."

Another meeting of the protesting group is scheduled for 8 p.m. Monday at the Rupert Elks. It was discussed taking legal action against the city.

Erwin Schwiebert To Talk To Burley Group Thursday

BURLEY — Erwin H. Schwiebert, assistant to the president of the College of Idaho, Caldwell, will be guest speaker at a 7 p.m. Thursday dinner meeting of the Burley-Rupert Knight and Fork Club at the Ponderosa Inn.

"Money, money, money," will be discussed by Schwiebert, who is a western economist. He is quick to make it plain that the money application tacked on him does not mean that he is "loaded." Quite the reverse is true, he insists.

The money title comes from the fact that he has been especially successful in carrying out the Endowment Development Plan of the College of Idaho.

Raising money, however, is not the reason for Mr. Schwiebert's appearance here. He will speak on the very current subject of "Your Dollar, Past, Present and Future."

Earning dollars hasn't presented much of a problem these past years, but keeping them has, and it is this part of the personal economic picture about which Mr. Schwiebert is concerned, in the same as are club members.

He isn't a miracle-man on money. But ever since he took graduate study in economics about 30 years ago, he has been concerned about money, one way and another—his own, and other people's.

Hansen Talks At MVCC Graduation

ALBION — Congressman George Hansen, R-Idaho, told an audience at the Magic Valley Christian College Saturday that "self-reliance and initiative" remain the number one hope of the American Free Enterprise system.

"It is in such an atmosphere that this country prospers. I am convinced the single most important phase of American democracy is the right we all have as individuals to register our agreements and protests at the ballot box," said Hansen, an announced candidate for the Senate post now held by Democrat Frank Church.

"Freedom," he said, "is not free. In each generation there is a price to pay. Things are no different today than in the dark ages. We face perilous times—times in which it seems the things we have worked and fought for are going up in smoke. But our system will survive if citizens like you and I have the courage to stand up."

"I am tired of people running down our country with words and burning it down with riots and fires," the congressman continued.

Congressman Hansen was in Albion to address a luncheon meeting in connection with graduation exercises at the college. Some 200 persons attended the meeting including graduates, other students, parents and interested Cassia county residents.

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The city's Commission on Human Relations is distributing 5,000 cards with the inscription: "Today I will do one small deed which will further the dreams of Martin Luther King."

Clarence Farmer, commission chairman, said the idea was conceived the day after the civil rights leader was slain. He said 4,000 of the cards have been distributed by staff personnel and 5,000 more are available.

Woman, 3 Daughters Wed In Rites

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Margaret Smith, a 35-year-old widow, and her three teenage daughters were married Friday in a quadruple ceremony in a line across the front of tiny St. Ignace church.

Three sailors and an oil rigger were married in a business-like ceremony performed by James P. Sandefur, Seaman Michael Ray Blakely, an elder of the Primitive Baptist Church.

"At first it was more of a joke than anything," said Yeoman Blakely. "A background recorder played wedding just grew on us."

Blakely's bride was Laura Lyon, 16.

Her mother, a waitress, married the oil rigger, Minford Arthur McCoy, 38, of Muleshoe, Tex.; Edna Carolyn, 16, married Navy Gunner's Mate Richard Stone, 21, of Tampa, Fla.; and Ruchel Elaine, 19, married Seaman A.C. Charles D. Haines, 21, of Stafford Springs, Conn.

Prison: A Place Of Hate, Hope

IDAHO STATE PENITENTIARY Warden Orvil Stiles often visits inmates inside the wall. Here he is seen chatting with a prisoner in the penitentiary's hospital. Shortly after this picture was taken, the Warden ordered the inmate taken in a wheelchair to a porch on the hospital "so he could get a little sun." The hospital has a full time physician.

"THE OUTLAWS" play softball through the summer months and teams from all over the state have played inside the wall before. This season, however, the prison softball team will be allowed, under guard, to play in competition outside the wall. Warden Stiles says the team will take a championship this year.

THIS WHITE BUILDING used to be known as "The Hole." Prisoners who violated prison regulations were often put in the hole for extended periods of time. It had no lights, no floor and no heat. Use of this building was discontinued a year ago and the doors to the building have been removed by the new administration to "make sure it is never used for punishment again." (All Idaho State Penitentiary photos were taken by Times-News Feature Editor Jan A. Salisbury)

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the first installment of a series on the Idaho State Penitentiary.

By FRED DODDS
Times-News Staff Writer

BOISE—In the first two installments of this series, the new face of the Idaho State Penitentiary was presented. The series was published in this order to give the reader a little information on what is going on behind the big gray wall in Boise. Now we can present some background information.

The Idaho Territory was organized by Congressional March of 1863. The first Idaho prison came into being in 1845 and it was located in Idaho City.

In the late 1860's, President Andrew Johnson signed a law creating the territorial prison at Boise and construction began at that time. When Idaho was admitted to the Union in 1890, the prison in Boise was finished and occupied. It became known as the Idaho State Penitentiary.

Buildings constructed at the time are still used today. A warehouse, filled with supplies, bears the date 1889 on its weathered stone wall.

Through early statehood, the Governor, Secretary of State and Lt. Gov. Russell Sherridge, Filer attended the Governor's banquet in the banquet rooms of Woods Cafe. K. Clark, master of ceremonies, introduced the guests. Gov. Sherridge told the members to "Be a builder, get personally involved."

Sherridge Albertson was in charge of the program, consisting of several songs by the Justice Kiwanis chorus directed by Mrs. Alicia Duck. Lyle Kooled presented a French horn solo, accompanied by Wayne Carrey.

Kiwanians Hold Confab At Jerome

JEROME—District Gov. Joe Shee was the guest speaker for the Kiwanis spring conference of Utah-Idaho district, Division 5, at Jerome last week.

Nearly all officers of the clubs from Buhl, Burley, Declo, Filer, Twin Falls, Rupert, and Jerome met with the district governor and Howard E. Watts, Ogden, secretary and treasurer and Lt. Gov. Russell Sherridge, Filer.

The afternoon session was training classes for officers.

About 45 Kiwanians and wives attended the Governor's banquet in the banquet rooms of Woods Cafe. K. Clark, master of ceremonies, introduced the guests. Gov. Shee told the members to "Be a builder, get personally involved."

Sherridge Albertson was in charge of the program, consisting of several songs by the Justice Kiwanis chorus directed by Mrs. Alicia Duck. Lyle Kooled presented a French horn solo, accompanied by Wayne Carrey.

Jerome Library Has New Books

JEROME—The Jerome Civic Club Library announces the arrival of a new collection of books.

"Don't Drink the Water," by Woody Allen; "Generation," by Gordon Lasker; "The White Boat," by Palmer; "Testimony of Two Men," by Caldwell; "Hundred Acres," by Whitney; "Trader Vic's Pacific Island Cookbook," by Mrs. Alicia Duck; "Who Put the Bomb in Father Murphy's Cucumber," by Friskie; "The Cooking of Provincial France," by Time-Lite; "The Last Unicorn," by Bessie; "The Legend of Grizzly Adams," by Dillon; "Ben Preserve Us," by Berrand; "Spanish Duet," by Clifford; "The Founding," by Meyer; "Cape Cod," "The Maine Woods" and "Walden" by Thoreau; "Faulkner's Country," by Valdes; "The Games by the man," "Adventures in Knitting," by Ayles; "The Search for the Girl With the Blue Eyes," by Stearns; "Shady Grove," by Gilles; "Dorothy Gringo," by Muller; "The Hair Hunters," by Ballinger; "The Captors of the Golden Bull," by McEvert; "The Resurrection of Man," by Walsh and "Know Your Antiques," by Kovel.

here that all incoming prisoners changed from punishment to rehabilitation.

When the inmates are moved to the new prison in another four years, penitentiary officials want to be ready. It will be late no matter how you look at it. Eighty-two years late in coming into the 20th century.

reception building now, but years ago there were piles of floor-horses-pulling wagons.

Through the turnkey's office, a steel door is opened and the yard is visible. Prisoners lounge here and there. There is a walkway into the yard and it is bordered by a small hedge.

Prisoners are not allowed to go down the center of the walkway. There is also a dead-end inside the wall. To approach within five yards of the wall from the inside is inviting death. Guards man towers at each corner of the wall, and they are good shots.

After a prisoner is admitted, he is assigned a number. Later he is tested and interviewed. Not long after his admittance he is assigned to a work detail. If he has a long term to serve, his work will be inside the wall. If it is a short term, he may be placed on a trustee status within months of his admittance.

Trustees can live outside the gray wall and work in the sunshine or in heated buildings when it is cold. They have much more freedom than the men behind the wall.

A violation of prison rules can get a man into solitary confinement. Not too many serve time in solitary these days.

Once there was a place behind the wall known as "The Hole." Today it is not used. The hole was unlighted and had a dirt floor. There were no lights. The prison also has a day hospital and dental facilities. There is a chapel and a large meeting hall recently remodelled by the prison's Jaycee Club.

The prison has changed little through the years—in appearance. The buildings look the same. But the attitude has changed. The emphasis has Southern Architects' drawing of the CSI dormitory for the College of Southern Idaho campus has been completed and now awaits approval of the board of trustees. The project may be bid by mid-summer, according to college president Dr. James L. Taylor.

Flag Education Is Urged By Official

PAUL—The flying of flags at half-staff this week in the city of Rupert, in honor of a fallen soldier, was a moving but only a gesture, said Paul McGill, flag education chairman of the Idaho American Legion, said Saturday.

"There is no doubt that the brave man in whose behalf the gesture was ordered was fully deserving of the highest deference—in line with appropriate procedure," he said, "but to half-staff the United States flag for any occasion other than a state of national mourning is clearly a breach of flag etiquette and a violation of congressional statute."

The official noted that under Public Law 82 of the 77th Congress, the National Americanism Commission has made the following interpretation:

"Since the flag symbolizes the nation; it should be half-staffed only in cases where it is appropriate to indicate that the nation mourns and then customarily by proclamation of the President of the United States."

Mr. McGill stated that such a proclamation embodies the collective, delegated voice of the entire American people—not just a single city, county or state.

"When the American flag is used to symbolize regional or local sentiment, then it loses its unique status as an emblem. A city or county flag would be the appropriate banner to symbolize a sentiment which relates almost exclusively to a local community," he noted.

Mr. McGill, he noted, is a local official and organizational leader who directed the half-staffing of the flag in Rupert last Thursday with the highest sympathetic and respectful motives. "But that such a failure to regulate themselves

Plans Completed For CSI Dormitory, Bids May Be Called By Mid-Summer

Plans for a 156-student dormitory for the College of Southern Idaho, have been completed by Jones-Fellberg Architects, planners of the campus and designers of the buildings currently under construction there.

Dr. James L. Taylor, college president, said that the board will have to approve the plans for the co-educational complex. The project can hopefully be bid by mid-summer, with construction beginning shortly thereafter. The dormitory will join a fine arts center, academic building and maintenance building on the newly developed campus.

The structure will be financed with some type of self liquidating funds—either revenue-bonds or a loan from the Department of Housing and Urban Development.

Representatives from the First Security Bank, fiscal agents for the project, will be in Twin Falls Tuesday to meet with board members on revenue bonds on the project.

The fiscal agents will meet with the board at 8 p.m. Tuesday during a regular board meeting.

The site for the dormitory has been placed between the new academic building and the city's water reservoir, near the southeast corner of the campus, excluding Frontier Field.

At a cost of $25 per pint of blood used by Cassia County residents, they saved $4,673 through the county's replacement blood program. Mrs. A. J. Toews, county blood chairman reported that in the past 100 pints more blood was used in Cassia County than were donated during the successful drawings.

It was pointed out by Mr. Bowler of the Red Cross services available during natural disasters, such as Monday night fire at the Overland Shopping Center here in Burley.

The Red Cross is available to supply coffee and sandwiches for the fire fighters, and had the disaster involved people and some such as the treatment building behind the shopping center, the national organization can provide housing, clothing, food and emergency medical services where needed," he stated.

"The Red Cross helps only with natural disasters, and not involved where civil disorders or riots are the cause of the disturbance," he added.

The Reaching-Out program of the Red Cross was discussed as a program where families of servicemen are contacted and made aware of Red Cross services available.

Tracy Swearingen, Pocatello Red Cross field representative stated she would meet with local Red Cross volunteers in getting the Reaching-Out program started in Cassia County.

The business meeting was conducted by George Forscheimer, county chairman.

It was reported that last fall's "Jud-Drive" netted $1,753.27 for the Red Cross. This fall's Red Cross drive will be held Nov. 1-15, and Gene Ritzel, chairman. A community holiday dinner-dance will be held Nov. 12 to conclude the drive with proceeds from the dance going to the Red Cross drive.

The National-Red Cross Convention will be held May 5-8 in Denver. Mrs. Toews and Mrs. Helene Coffey are planning to attend.

Man Thinks Death Of King Will Serve Communist Cause

Editor, Times-News: If I was one who wanted to destroy America and eventually be part of the small elite group which hopes to be the master of the rest of humanity, one of my master strokes along the way would be the assassination of the Rev. Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. After all, the John Birch Society and other patriotic organizations had been so successful in exposing Mr. King's attendance at a Communist meeting in Montreal, Tenn., and his association and affiliation with some sixty Communist organizations in the U.S., Mr. King's sphere of influence had become so narrowed and so discredited, what with J. Edgar Hoover calling the Rev. King "the most notorious liar in the United States" that Dr. King's death would be a great world success, best, by becoming a martyr for the cause.

Woman Believes Tribute To Slain Negro Is Disgusting

Editor, Times-News: The morals of America have sunk to a new low when our president proclaims a national day of mourning with flags at half-staff in honor of the slain Rev. Dr. Martin Luther King. King's death was a tragedy, but his death should not be a cause for national mourning. King was a man who lived a life of sin and hypocrisy. He was a man who preached the gospel of love and non-violence, but who lived a life of violence and hatred.

Hats Are For Fun And Games As Easter Marks New Season

By NORMA HERZINGER

It is not "Which twin has the Toni?" — It's which hat is for funnies and which hat is for real.

Several of the gals pictured on this page recently participated in buffoonery-type Easter hat parades, sponsored by various local women's clubs, and several have been trying on hats looking for that "just right" traditional Easter bonnet.

Women have, down through the ages, taken more heckling from their husbands over their hats than any other single thing — which brings about the point in question. If confronted, are husbands as observant as they maintain where women's hats are concerned, or, if asked about in current selection, would they just smile and say, "that's nice, dear?"

The query came up recently at a club luncheon I attended when one woman, who won the prize for making and modeling the funniest hat, quite dejectedly made the remark that her husband told her (as she was modeling the hat the night before) that she looked better in that particular hat than any she had ever bought. She didn't (at that time, anyway) tell her husband she had just made the hat in about 15 minutes from discarded articles she found in her home and that she was going to model it the following day at a crazy-hat luncheon. Her name will remain anonymous because she might want to use this incident to prove a point at a later date.

"Her remark about her spouse brought up several other interesting quotes, all notably implying that men are great connoisseurs of women's millinery. It is interesting to note that all the harassing women get on their hat selections — they always come back for more. A new chapau when bought on the spur-of-the-moment or during a "get even with hubby" episode for special crazy ideas includes those worn by Ethel Owens, Rita Bradley, Diane King, Ola Cannon and Carol Seng. Those worn by Hope Samaco and LuAnn Farrer were modeled during the Paris Co. and the one shown by Esther Nicholson, a well-known local hat designer, is an elaborate black velvet cocktail hat.

Mrs. King, Mrs. Owens and Mrs. Bradley all won prizes for their creations at a recent Newcomers Club luncheon. Mrs. Seng and Mrs. Cannon showed their hats at the Ladies of Elks hat parade.

In all, gals, a woman's hat has always been her most perfected accessory and will continue to be so. The following opinions given by the opposite sex, which are given only in jest most of the time. An Easter opens the door to special one can play almost every role from ingenu to sophisticated lady by the proper selection of a new hat, and with so many new styles available it can make the forthcoming season the most exciting ever.

Big, Little And Secret Sisters Exchange Gifts

Members of the Girls' League at Twin Falls High School exchanged everything from colorful flowers and candy, filled baskets to lively young rabbits recently as Easter favors for their "big, little and secret sisters."

Every year each sophomore girl is assigned to a senior by the Girls' League. These senior girls, known to the sophomores as "big sisters," help the younger girls become acquainted with the school and older students.

Not to be left out, the junior girls each receive the name of another junior girl to whom they become a "secret sister."

The girls exchange small gifts at most holidays and at the end of the school year the junior girls are revealed to their "secret sisters." They also sponsor the annual Sweetheart Ball.

To aid the Foreign Exchange Program at Twin Falls High School, the Student Council has

Twin Falls Times-News 13 Sunday, April 14, 1968

Wednesday, April 10, they held a special collection with the classes competing for the highest donation. The juniors won with a donation of $17.51.

For the year the project brought in $152.73.

Each year the Foreign Exchange Program enables a student from a foreign country to reside in Twin Falls and attend high school here.

Dear Abby

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN
DEAR ABBY: My wife and I have a 24-year-old son who is engaged to the girl next door. He has lived at the home of these people for over 20 years and has always been very friendly. My problem is known to you.

See, I am the father of her daughter, which puts my son in the position of marrying his half sister.

The lady next door refuses to tell her daughter, and insists it is my place to tell our son. I do, he will tell his mother, who is sure to raise Cain, although herself, has left the trail a couple of times that I know of early in our marriage. Hurry your advice, as time is running out.

STUMPED
DEAR STUMPED: Tell your wife and be prepared for whatever follows. She might solve your problem by telling you that the boy is NOT YOUR SON.

DEAR ABBY: I have been married for a year and a half, and I guess before another six months I will be pregnant. Not that I am ready, but I am made to feel that it is my "duty"—and to keep putting it off shows my "fidelity."

All I hear from my friends and relatives is "Aren't you pregnant yet?" And my mother-in-law has been married 20 years, and she has had 10 children. The plain truth is that I am not ready to have a baby. It is so awful of me to enjoy my freedom? To do so reflects honest about it, I would like to wait about 5 years before having my family. Once a baby comes, you are tied to that boy for your life is never the same. Oh, I know there are many blessings here, but there are a lot of worries and headaches, and I am in no hurry for them.

Some of our friends who have had families right away seem so tired and irritable, and they don't get along with each other as well as they used to.

NOT READY
DEAR ABBY: Don't worry about what others say. You have to answer only to your husband and your own conscience. Until and unless your attitudes change, and you can think of good reasons for wanting a child, remain childless. If you have a baby because you fear childlessness, I feel sorry for the child.

DEAR ABBY: That letter from George the bus driver caught my eye because I am also a bus driver. And to add to the coincidence, my name is also George.

Where are all those lovely flirtatious ladies who like to get the seat directly behind the driver so they can whisper sweet things in his ear, press their telephone numbers into his palm, and coquettishly blow on his neck?

I've been a bus driver for 8 years and I have never had that kind of luck. Our uniforms are good looking, and I wear mine with pride. But it seems

NEW CSI PROSPECT, Larry Reitz, Kimberly, signs a scholarship contract while College of Southern Idaho Coach Eddie Sutton looks on. Reitz, the leading scorer in the 1967-68 season, was all-state selection and a member of this year's state A-3 all-tournament team, is the first to sign with the Eagles this spring.

Reitz Takes Golden Eagle Scholarship

Larry Reitz, a two-time fourth district basketball pick and a first-team selection on the state A-3 all-tournament team this year, has accepted a scholarship at College of Southern Idaho.

The 6-1, 125-pound sharpshooter, who won the Big Six Conference scoring title with a 19.7 average and scored 390 points last year, is the first prepster signed by the Golden Eagles.

Coach and athletic director Eddie Sutton said "We're very pleased that Larry has selected CSI as he will be an asset to the school both on and off the court." Sutton added the local college is trying to sign at least four more district men for next year's cage club.

Sutton said he believes Reitz would fit nicely into the Eagle brand of basketball. "He is a fine shooter, good ball handler, very well for his height. But the most impressive thing about Reitz is his ability to find the open man and get the ball to him. Not many players are good passers.

"We expect him to be of help this upcoming season, particularly after the first of the year and he has had time to adjust to college basketball," Coach Sutton said.

Georgia's hard luck Tommy Aaron, without a tournament victory to show for six years in the pro ranks, and Jerry Pittman followed at 213 shooting 77 and 70, respectively.

Idaho Staters Trounce Utah State 10-2 To Take Baseball Tourney Crown

Idaho State erupted for two four-run innings and winning pitcher Bill Ingram capped it all with a two-run homer Saturday to give the Bengals a 10-2 decision over Utah State and the championship of the Magic Valley Intercollegiate baseball tournament.

Idaho State won all four games in the round-robin three-day affair while Utah State was 1-1. Boise College 7-2, Ricks 10-0.

Sports FROM ALL ANGLES

By LARRY HOVEY Times-News Sports Editor

For a while there the other night it appeared that Charles Grumman was about to end the most miserable week of his existence. But with the tranquility of his domestic life, he came back like a bull in a china shop and re-established his male supremacy.

Of course the horns in his head were a little bit more than really his wife, Hovey.

Actually, it was a 277 game Mrs. Jean Crumrine fired during the second game of the weekly Hazelton Mixed League bowling session on the 27th.

Charles, getting an immediate reprieve from those watching the proceedings, knew it was now or never, but in the second game he just looked like a man. But in the third game he started striking and pretty quick had nine runs in the first inning. The eight and 10 pins sat there wiggling. The eight finally toppled but the 10 was obdurate.

Charles got it with the second shot, then pressured it through the hole. He wound-up with a 278 and vindication.

Mrs. Crumrine gave him a bump on the shoulder.

Of interest during the past week was the announcement by Phillips Oil Company of Bartlesville that there no longer would be a Phillips Oilers amateur baseball team.

The company cited the receding competition of two professional leagues and noted that no longer was possible to get iron-line players. So the Oilers' history ends after 40 years of AAA competition. Worthy of note is that three past company presidents first became associated with Phillips Oil through "management trainees" on the basketball team.

The big city rioting in the big cities last weekend caught CSI Coach Eddie Sutton in Washington, D.C., on a weekend cruising trip. "The curfew was 5:30 in the afternoon and I was in my room at 5:15. The first was $30 or in days for getting caught breaking curfew and I couldn't afford either one," he reports.

Filer school superintendent Tom Turner informs us about last week's commotion at the all-Boys Filer track field for specific individuals that are deserving of special mention. Dan E. Chadwick is credited with instigating the project. The Hollister man got together with board of education member Charles Boss in working out the details of the track-athletic year ago. Mr. Chadwick then enlisted the aid of his friends from the Hollister area for much of the volunteer labor and machines and Mr. Chadwick felt so made available the grave and hardpan necessary to build a proper foundation. Bill Bracke also assisted Mr. Chadwick in the project as did the Filer Kiwanis Club.

We hear reports that a local area is thinking about installing a special racing strip on some property he owns, basing the decision on the fact that he has a couple of weeks ago. The thing still is in the talking stage, although a contract has been called in for his ideas on the site. The strip would include seating for spectators and the whole she-bang.

Kudos to L.L. (Buzz) Langdon and his fine work in running off the Magic Valley college baseball tournament this weekend. Sounding the effort for the YMCA, Langdon was everywhere all three days and a marvel at stages in the knock-out of out of the park to boot.

He also came up with the cube of the week in discussing the tournament with the press. "We knew that school would be out so we started our selling pitch toward the merchants. We had an agreement that we were really offering 20 hours of baby sitting for a buck."

College 1-4 and College of Southern Idaho 0-1.

In Saturday's action Boise's pair of unearned runs to pin Ricks 2-0 and came back a game later to blank CSI 7-0. The Bengals dropped Ricks' run in the final game.

ISU, running its season record to 12-1, spotted Utah State an unearned run in the second inning and led it in the bottom of the frame. Don Hollinger got Utah State in front when he was hit by a pitch, moved up on two passed balls and scored on an error.

ISU lead-off man Lonnie Rogers walked on a wild pitch fourth ball and moved in second when the ball caromed into the dugout. Mark Mathews singled him in before the next two batters went out easily. Then Boyd Galley singled in Matthews and Billy Satterfield and Ingram walked. Louis Knudson struck two runs in with a single to center.

In the fifth, an error and consecutive hits by Chester Dickey, Rogers, Matthews and Tom Klingnerth got four more. An inning later, Knudson struck two runs in ahead of Ingram, who slapped a change-up out of the park.

In the first game Ricks committed two errors and both were costly. Boise's Vince Williams, who by a single moved up on an error and scored when George Saphire slapped a hit to right.

In the sixth, Ken Kuylen lived on an error and scored on Peter Peterson's double.

Jim Blanchi's double brought in Boise's first home run against CSI in the second and an inning later Peterson homered to hammer Tom Smith.

Smith highlighted a three-run fifth with a two-run triple and later scored on a sacrifice. Peterson also got the front Boise run, singling and eventually scoring on Rich Youc's sacrifice fly.

CSI's Ken Burrow's extra-base effort. He drove in five of Utah State's runs in the fourth. Burrow grand slam homer and a double. He also connected for a triple in the fourth. The four-run out-came in the second and moved Utah State out of Ricks' reach at 5-0.

Loop Plans To Set Expansion Guideline

CINCINNATI (AP) — The National League will hold a special meeting in Chicago Friday which league President Warren Giles said will be highlighted merely by guideline setting.

Giles said Saturday the league expansion committee will be formed to study the possibility of adding 12 clubs by 1971 at the latest. But an earlier expansion date established by the American League is causing the National League to reconsider where it will increase its number of teams, the president said.

Giles said the expansion date will also be a topic at the session Friday morning, but he expects no major action to be taken on any subject or any "final decisions, I am sure."

NCAA Council To View Track War, Infraction Cases

KANSAS CITY (AP) — The vote to censure a school but never announce such action. The NCAA Extra Events Committee, headed by Stan Bates of Washington State, will meet April 20 to consider and sanction next season's football games and to certify All-Star games such as the East-West Shrine contest and the North-South game.

Marv L. Plant, of Michigan, NCAA president, will report to both organizations on the election by the NCAA's U.S. Track and Field Federation of the peace settlement proposed by Vice President Humphrey's Sports Arbitration Board.

The council usually considers some infractions cases at its regular meetings, and it's possible a school or schools may be penalized. However, neither the council nor the infractions committee ever announces whether such items are on the agenda. It's possible, too, for the council

Crom, Birrell Retained In Bowling Posts

Long time president Stan Crom and secretary-treasurer John Birrell have been retained in their positions by the Twin Falls Men's Bowling Association.

Crom will be serving his seventh term at the helm while Birrell has held his job since 1954.

Joining them in the hierarchy are Bob Wington, assistant secretary; Paul Miller, A. Linder, Jack Cubit and Fred Wanspan—all vice-presidents, and incumbents Dick Irwin, Dick Kunkel, Larry Irwin and Harold Erickson, board members.

It was reported the 1968-69 meet will be held in Idaho Falls with Twin Falls and Butte to co-host the 1969-70 event. After that the state tournament will move to Lewiston, marking the first time it has ventured north of the Caldwell area.

Judge Upholds Right For Aid In Financing

BOISE (AP) — Dist. Court Judge Charles R. Donaldson has upheld the right of the State Fish and Game Commission to aid in financing a non-government project.

The suit involved use of a department postage meter to mail invitations for a conservation awards banquet.

Norman Tague of Boise brought the lawsuit contending the action was illegal.

"The court feels that the promoting of conservation by the Idaho Fish and Game Department is a valid purpose," the judge said in his ruling.

What's Going On At The End Of Cherry Lane?

By JAN ARTHUR SAINSBURY
Times-News Feature Editor

Standing on the south rim of the crazy Snake River Canyon at the end of Washington Street North, an observer can see the Perrine Bridge supporting its line of traffic a sharp distance to the east and below him, looking smaller than it should, is the Blue Lakes County Club.

The old Snake River Bridge, directly beneath, straggled, aged and rotten planking, now supports huge pipes which surround the flow of fresh water from Alpheus Creek to hungry reservoirs above.

Over the years since man first stood at that point to view the increasing evidence of the Snake River's excessive power, the scene has changed.

At one time only water and land was visible to the observer. And then trails were made and roads were cut and bridges were built.

Buildings provided a startling contrast between nature and the work of man. And now, years after that first man viewed the Snake River twisting through the wedge it had patiently gouged in the earth, more of man's works rise on the canyon rim, and dip into the lowland below the horizon.

Now, standing on the south rim of that same Snake River Canyon at the end of Washington Street North, an observer can see the plan of sunlight against steel and aluminum as twisted cables span a half mile of space from a massive steel tower on the south rim to the north rim on the canyon's floor and up again.

The cables hang gracefully, their tremendous weight supported primarily by the twin towers, one on each rim of the canyon.

The undertaking, begun early in February, will be complete by the middle of May. Right-of-ways were acquired by Idaho Power Co. for the lines which travel from the canyon south on Washington Street North and then over in the Twin Falls Substation on Filer Avenue.

The new line, the second 135,000 volt transmission line into Twin Falls, provides the city with an alternate transmission line adequate to handle its needs in case of an emergency. The line was added because of the necessity of rerouting the present 135,000 volt transmission line, which first served Twin Falls in 1912, across the property being used by the College of Southern Idaho without the additional line an interruption of power to the city would have to be made.

In the bottom of the canyon, below the new line, now spanning the gorge, are the older 60,000-volt transmission lines serving Twin Falls. The new lines were strung along their rim towers to the wooden poles in the center of the canyon without coming into contact with the lines below that they touched, the city of Twin Falls would have lost all power.

The men from Idaho Power working on the project, under the direction of Jim Servis, Supervisor of Construction for the company, placed a synthetic rope of tremendous tensile strength over the wires and on the tree covered ground from rim to poles, and from poles to rim. The metal cable was attached at the bottom of the canyon to the ropes and the slack taken up. The rope lifted off the power lines in the canyon and soon, hanging above the ropes and trees, traveling through pulleys, into large grounded take-up reels operated hydraulically—and controlled by men—designed to prevent the cable from slacking onto the wires, the cables were pulled across the canyon.

Connected, the 135,000 volt, three-phase line will provide an alternate power line for Twin Falls. From the Twin Falls Substation on Filer Avenue, the line moves to Washington Avenue North on a single pole, equipped with stand-off insulators, and follows Washington to the canyon rim. From there it spans the canyon and from the far rim travels north another two miles until it connects with the Hagerman-American Falls line.

Work on the total project, according to Earl Haroldson, of Twin Falls, who is District Manager for Idaho Power in Southern Idaho, the total project, which involves the transmission line from the substation to the point at which it intersects with the Hagerman-American Falls line, it has been done at a cost of one-half million dollars.

Haroldson attributes rapid completion of the project to relatively easy attainment of easements and right-of-ways due to single pole structures being used rather than the more traditional H-poles commonly seen. The single steel poles can be placed at the side of a roadway where the H-poles cannot. This is accomplished by the use of stand-off insulators developed for just that purpose. The insulators, made entirely of porcelain cost $185 each and over a hundred were used on the project.

The Snake River Canyon will never cease to change. Man finds both beauty and barrier in expanse.

It is a divider of land, and therefore of people. And yet it is the reason the first few here settled in this region, and therefore it is also a bond to many.

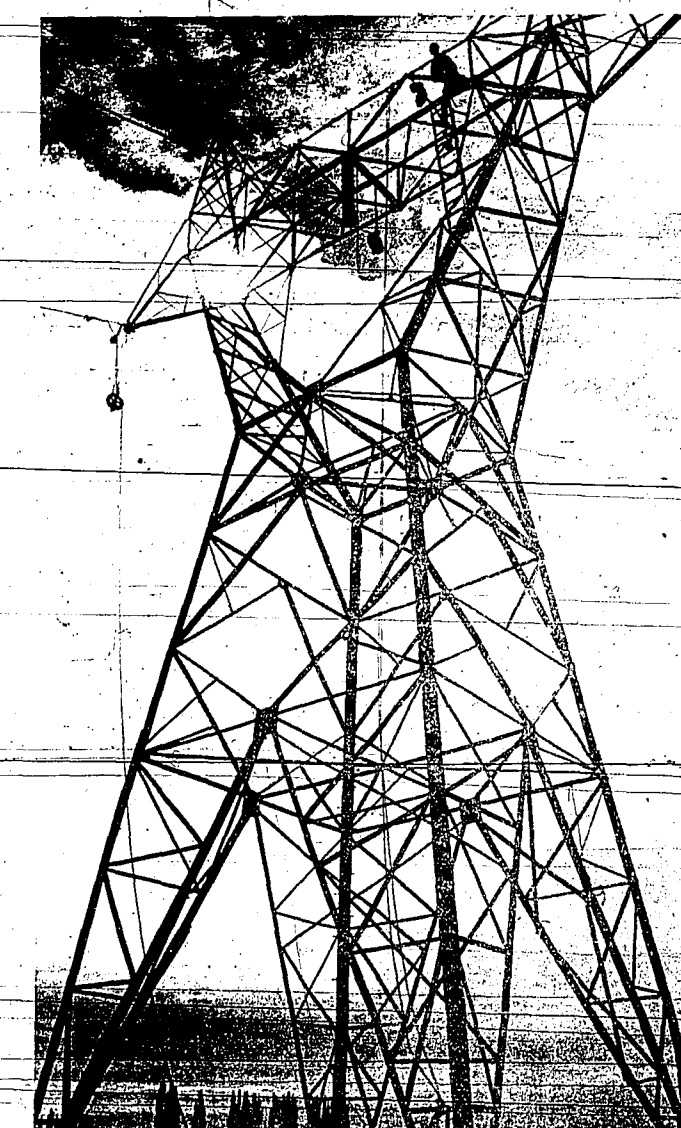

Driving near the end of Washington Avenue North, a place some still call Cherry Lane, an observer can remember how cherry trees lined the avenue once. Now must be gone, and the memories of Cherry Lane rest in the minds of those who took their girls for moonlight drives and parked at the canyon rim.

The cherry trees for the most part are gone, and now the landmark is a steel tower, its cables catching moonlight, carrying it into the canyon below, and up again.

The cross-members cut the moon into pie wedges, and the wires hum in the wind.

The canyon will need more cables carrying electric power strong from rim to rim for another 20 years or so. And by then electric power may be carried on a laser beam or on the thoughts of man. Who knows?

Twenty years ago electricity was still a baby, and twenty years before that an embryo in some westerns of Idaho. Its development and spread has been rapid, due to the need of people for the convenience and neces-

a way with words

A true story is reported this month in the FBI Law Enforcement Bulletin about a man who was adept enough at quick thinking and quick acting, that he needed few words to get out of serious trouble. The Bulletin reports that, "While burglarizing an apartment during early morning hours, a burglar heard the shrilling sound of sirens. He rushed to the window and saw numerous police cars surrounding the building. Soon he heard voices in the hall outside the apartment. He quickly slipped a pair of his victim's pajamas over his street clothes, snatched his head out the door, and asked the policeman why they were in the building. Later, when the coast was clear, he escaped with his loot in a "borrowed" suitcase.

Judge Phillip Gillian, of Denver's Probate Court, had an observation to make in Twin Falls recently as he addressed a Boy Scout banquet. "I never could understand," said the Judge, "why we so seldom find a Jewish delinquent. I thought for a long time it must be their close family ties, until one day I asked a young Jew what his opinion was of the phenomenon. And the boy said, 'What, Judge, like you say, crime doesn't pay.'"

A research article by Robert Nathan, called "Digging the Weens," is currently lampooned; certain conclusions archaeologists could come up with when they dig up our remains in the year 3500. He points out that the archaeologists have discovered the "Weens," so designated because, he says, they called their country the "US" or in another form of translation, "We." Hence, "Weens," to apply a name to the people. He also points out in the year 3500 that the diggings show that the capital city of the "Weens," was called "Peund Laundry," although some other scholars translate it to mean, "Washing Ton."

Of interest to some, as Miss Isabel Sandmeyer of Buhl points out, is that the English language has in it only two adjectives which have plural forms—the demonstratives "this" and "that." Plural forms being respectively, "these" and "those." How about that?

Pocatello, Idaho, failed to pass a bond election recently for a new airport terminal, despite the fact that anyone who has landed at the Pocatello terminal can do little but laugh at the dilapidated structure. Perry Swisher, writing in the Intermountain Observer a couple of weeks ago, cited a story circulating among airline hostesses which went like this: The plane is making its approach and the stewardess says, "Ladies and gentlemen, we will be landing at the Pocatello airport. Please set your watches back 24 years." And from all appearances, the joke will continue for the next 25 years (with only the date being changed to save the story).

They say a single oyster produces 10 million eggs in a season—which makes you wonder what a married oyster could do!

Have you heard about the new candidate doll? You wind it up and it keeps denying it's a doll.

A Chicago eddyist (that's a stripper, if you haven't got a dictionary handy) bills herself as "Miss Bonnie Ann Clyde and Her Blazing 45."

According to Playboy Magazine, The Lichee Tree, a Chinese restaurant in Greenwich Village, is currently serving martinis with fortune olives.

A woman can get a man to eat out of her hand if she holds the popcorn at the movies.

The Five Point Cleaners in Twin Falls advertises, "We Clean Birdyday Suits Free."

Hear about the boy who asked the girl for a date, and she said, "How about July 3, 1776?"

Someone was once seen wearing a button which read, "Save our forests—don't buy the Sunday New York Times."

Quotation of the Week: From Mrs. Holton Price, Jr., national president of the Girl Scouts: "Sometimes I think we expand a great deal of energy to teach a girl to love a chipmunk when she thinks she is already in love with a boy."

Show me a manhole at a street intersection and I'll show you a connoisseur.

The story is told of a businessman who, nway on vacation and reading his hometown paper, was somewhat taken aback to come across his own obituary. Angry, and to say the least, shocked, he called the editor long distance. "I'm calling about the report of my death you published in your paper last Friday," he exclaimed. And the editor calmly replied, "And where are you calling from?"

If you haven't anything better to do with your money an ad in The New Yorker explains that you can purchase a "Charming Reproduction of a 19th Century English Cherub Holding a Basket, made of enduring lead, for $375." Personally, I hold that a resourceful person could come up with a real cherub for 375 bills.

And in a New Yorker cartoon one "Private Club" type turns to another, resting in a leather easy chair, and says, "I feel an intense pride, Robert, that I live in a country rich enough to have war and peace at the same time."

A swinging Army officer was seen recently carrying a sign during a recent peace demonstration which said, "Make Love AND War."

The Triumph of Love

 In Romans 5:8 "But God shows His love for us in that while we were yet sinners Christ died for us." This is the vindication and the victory of love.

These selected excerpts from the New Testament epistle to the Romans make it abundantly clear that the love of God is the power and the life of the cross, and that the love of God is the power and the life of the cross, and that the love of God is the power and the life of the cross.

56 Years Ago Today, Unsinkable Ship Sank

By FRED DODDS
Times-News Staff Writer

At 10:53 p.m. on a cold Sunday night, 56 years ago today, just 100 miles off the coast of Newfoundland 1,517 people went to their deaths. Even before a rescue ship could arrive on the scene the word was flashed throughout the world.

"The Titanic has sunk!" screamed headlines in New York City.

Miser, vice president of the Draper Pepper Co., another ship, the Carpathia, was 55 miles away from the Titanic when the latter struck the iceberg. It steamed for the scene at top speed, but just after the stern of the Titanic had disappeared under the water, the Carpathia, directed still does the deaths were in vain. young person today get a job that requires experience when employers refuse to employ them in an effort to give them some of that experience?

And finally: How come nobody remembers the names of the young men who were killed in the sinking of the Titanic?

The Twin Falls News, published weekly at that time, carried an account of the sinking in its front page the following Thursday. "More than 2,000 Lost in Mid-Ocean," the headlines read.

The word was sent to Twin Falls via the Associated Press from the Campedown wireless station at Halifax, Nova Scotia. It arrived at 4:30 p.m. April 17, three days after the Titanic sank.

It is similar to the feeling one gets when someone says a word such as "antiquarianism," and I know it means something to do with art, like "pigeon-faring," but it sounds something like "birding."

When President John F. Kennedy was shot in Dallas, Tex., the Times-News was informed by teletype within 15 minutes. His death was confirmed shortly after it happened in Dallas.

Another thing: Why do parents tell their children about the birds and the bees? It was my observation that the birds and the bees know almost nothing about sex.

Another problem: How does a young person today get a job that requires experience when employers refuse to employ them in an effort to give them some of that experience?

Now for a so-called educated man who has put his time in a university, and who reads a great deal, there are a fantastic number of simple problems which I find totally stump me.

For example, I am a fan of the "Three Musketeers" and I have read the book many times. I am sure that I know the names of the three musketeers, but I cannot figure out why they are called "The Three Musketeers."

Another problem: Why is it that a man gets looked up in a main street tavern, he is considered a drunk, but when he gets drunk at the country club he is considered a sport?

Another item: Why is it when the kids were stealing hamburgers and beating up little old ladies in the subway, the adults "understand" and knew the kids would grow out of it—but now that they are peace-loving and wear long hair, the adults can't tolerate them, maybe it's the fact that apes don't really attract after all. Possibly, in hamburger stealing, the business man could see a chin off the old block running slightly amuck, but as a non-violent seeker of truth with long hair, the adult just don't fit the Chamber of Commerce mold.

School Guidance Underway At Kimberly

In the world today there are a very meaningful experience covering the 15-week period to a large bulletin board around hundreds of pilot programs and for the students and has provided its share. Usually it is an opportunity for students to take many months or even years before these pilot programs prove out.

However, in the Twin Falls area there is one pilot program and test interpretation. This is a program that is proving very successful. The program is in the field of education.

"Orientation services" have been greatly expanded under the pilot program. The following units have been developed: orientation to employment, orientation to military service, orientation to college and orientation to vocational practice.

The pilot program is under the direction of the Northwest Educational Research Laboratory of Portland, Ore.

The first major objective of the Small School Guidance Program is to help students in adjusting to changes in their school life. This is done through the use of a variety of materials, including individual counseling, group counseling, and self-help materials.

Some Things Aren't Right

It is like that with a "great" many other things.

For example: To this day I cannot figure out how seedless oranges are grown and I'm embarrassed to ask someone. I figured out that the variety was probably developed by grafting and so forth, but what bothers me is after a seedless orange is developed, how are them more plentiful if the fruit growers in need? Now that really bothers me.

School Budget Is Approved For Valley

EDEN-HAZELTON—The board of Valley School District No. 202, Eden-Hazelton, was accepted without protest at a public hearing last night.

About 25 persons attended and heard Dr. Thomas Uterback, superintendent, explain the $5,000 budget. He said the total expenditure would leave a balance in the general fund, bond interest and transportation and plant facilities funds. Trustees expressed appreciation to Dr. Uterback for his administrative services.

Trustees approved attendance at the State Administrators' meeting in Baker April 19 and 20 for Dr. Uterback.

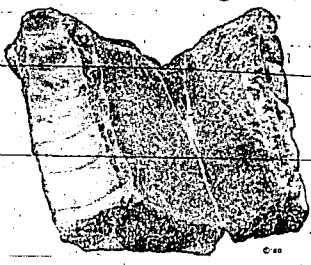

The trustee election will be held May 7. Albert Brown is incumbent in zone 4 where a trustee will be elected.

Board members approved the showing of the film on communicable venereal diseases sponsored by the Idaho South Central Health District.

The school district has received a state safety award for the 1967-67 school year with commendation for having proper safety procedures, it was announced.

Meeting Time Decided By Area C. Of C.

SHOSHONE — Chamber of Commerce meeting for Shoshone will continue to be held on the second and fourth Fridays, at 12:30 p.m. at the Manhattan cafe. The decision was reached after discussion of meeting places which will accommodate the most members.

The local Chamber will convene again with the Area Chamber for the July 4 celebration this year, scheduled to be held at Jerome.

Roid Newby reported the Eastern trip had been planned for Saturday under Chamber sponsorship. The event will be held at the city football field and fairgrounds.

The event had been held at the city park, but was changed because of the age of children involved and the danger of the river at the park.

Children 6-9 will hunt eggs at the football field, and those under 6 years old will hunt them at the city park. Scouts will help supervise the event, which will begin at 1 p.m.

J. R. Churchman reported on the Mountain States Telephone and Telegraph Co. meeting held at Boise. Plans regarding extension of area service. Views were heard and before action is taken a survey will be made of users.

The majority of the public as far as has been determined to date, is not in favor of the addition, as expenses will mean an increase of from $2 to $5 per month for the individual telephone fee.

Ward Mills reported on the Farmers' Night banquet and success of the event.

PTA Council Hears Speech On UNICEF

Mrs. John Breckenridge explained the UNICEF program, its support from the Parents-Teacher Association during the annual president's report meeting held at Mountain View.

She said the program is designed to assist needy children in all United Nations countries. The organization was established in 1946 by the General Assembly of the United Nations.

More than two per cent of the children receiving needed food and other aid through UNICEF live in communist countries and these are the communist countries of the United Nations, she said.

Plans were announced for a training meeting May 4 in Buffalo for all PTA officers. Registration will be at 9 a.m. with workshop sessions during the afternoon.

R. Summerfield, council president, announced the national PTA convention for 1953 will be held in San Diego, Calif. in May. He appointed Mrs. Pierce Ryan and Conrad vice president. Mrs. Stewart and representatives from the local council.

Annual reports were given by presidents, Mrs. Glenn Griffin, Bickel, Jack Mulrow, Harriett, Mildred Reedy, Mrs. Bessie, David McClure, Washington, and Mrs. Eugene Sturml, O'Leary Junior High School.

Samuelson To Speak At Glenns Ferry

GLENN'S FERRY — Gov. Don Samuelson will speak at the Glenn's Ferry Chamber of Commerce May 22. Arrangements for the dinner meeting to be held at Hanson's Cafe, are being made, according to Bill Thompson, chairman of arrangements, because of limited seating facilities.

Plans for the governor's appearance here were made at this week's chamber meeting at which William Beckert, state director, outlined development of the Three Island Parks project which will include 200 acres. He noted it is one of the best locations in the area from a historical standpoint. There will be facilities both for picnic and overland campers as well as a building for a museum. A caretaker's house will be included, with one maintenance person scheduled at first, with more to be added as more units are completed.

John Strum was appointed to head the chamber's participation in the grand opening of the Covina apartments, planned for May 24.

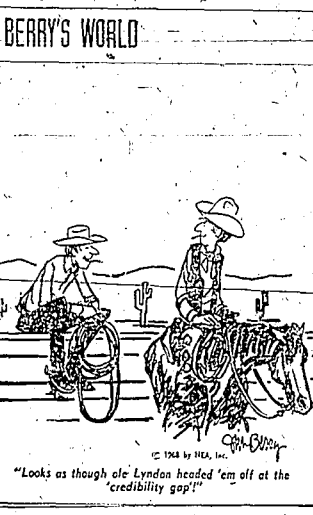

Calla L. Anderson, Mountain Home, will show a film on Hells Canyon at the next meeting, April 15.

Bill Walker, president, reported that he had sent out 19 mime copies of the desert land entry resolution, and he had a number of appreciative replies for these letters.

Clara Tamm, chamber membership chairman, said there are 22 business representatives as well as 18 individual memberships.

Heyburn Petitioned For Sewer Service Extension

HEYBURN — A petition for sewer service for residential areas in the Rose Addition and Heyburn housing area was submitted to Heyburn city council Wednesday night during the regular council meeting.

The petition called for signatures of the 17 homeowners. Because of the expense to the city to extend this facility and financing arrangements required of residents, councilmen decided to check with each resident involved to make certain that this service is wanted at this time.

According to the sewer authorities, all homeowners must hook up with the sewer if their lines are within 200 feet of their property.

There was a question concerning the $2.50 monthly sewer charge being passed each month to the light bills, and it was explained to be a misstatement for which is charged to every city residence whether or not sewer is connected.

The Heyburn fire department will receive practice drills soon when certain houses in the Rose Addition are burned, according to LeRoy Stetter, addition owner. Mr. Stetter met with the council concerning methods of cleaning up this addition and it was decided that they should burn the houses and haul the debris away afterwards.

Mr. Stetter requested the city should abandon cars parked from various premises which he recently purchased. Bud Sewell was assigned to work with Mr. Stetter on this project.

Earl Rose was instructed to meet with the Chamber of Commerce this month and make arrangements for the annual cleanup campaign. The city will provide trucks and drivers for this operation in the Rose Addition.

Bob Hamilton reported that "gray and uncleaned days are here" and it is the new city catcher. He noted that persons are becoming aware of the expense of a four dog leash law. The catcher was granted an adjustment on his commission.

A sign sign will be erected at the intersection of Elva Drive and Villa in the Rose Addition. Bud Ehlthorn, chamber chairman, requested sewer facilities extended to his property east of Samuelson and was told an engineer would check it for level.

Elva Johnson was selected chairman of arrangements for the meeting. Other members include Max

Ask Them Yourself

FOR LADY BIRD JOHNSON

How has your role of "First Lady" changed your life?—Susanne Ahn, Tyler, Texas

● I enjoy being Lyndon Johnson's wife; the fact that he is President does not change this basic feeling. On trips, I bring back the feel of the country, impressions about how our government programs are working, and then he uses me as a sort of sounding board about speeches and about plans. Since moving to the White House, I have lived more intensely, with a keener awareness that I want every day to count.

FOR JACK DREES, sportscaster

When covering important games, do you ever have a rooting interest in one team?—Mike Pirto, Neenah, Wis.

● No. A sportscaster with any experience is unlikely to be partial to a team unless so instructed by his employer, and then never unfaithfully so. My only hope is that I cover exciting contests.

FOR RAYMOND BURR of "Ironside"

Being a robust man, does portraying an invalid on your tour to series bother you?—Susan Hill, Doeran, Ga.

● No. It's a real challenge to make the character of an invalid as vital as many such men really are. If I can portray Ironside as a man whom nobody would dare ignore, perhaps I can do a service to all the wheel-chairbound.

FOR HARRY KURTZMAN, author

When you put together a book such as "You're Too Young to Vote, Kid" and put quotes in politicians' mouths, are you in danger of being sued?—B. L. Dangor, Maine

● I haven't been sued yet. Most politicians are good sports about such books.

FOR DINA MERRILL, actress

Do you feel slighted about being left out of this year's Social Register?—N. R. Rockford, Ill.

● After 20 years, I'm only glad they finally decided I'm an actress.

FOR SEN. EDWARD LONG

of Missouri

Do government officials testifying before your subcommittees tell the truth about the extent of Federal wiretapping?—L. Stepen, Dayton, Ohio

● I think so. The trouble is, however, that top officials of many government agencies simply don't know how much wiretapping is going on. They try to be truthful but often lack information.

FOR EVELYN MARSHALL,

comics expert

What are the most gorgeous faults women have in applying make-up?—E. H. L., Reading, Pa.

● The most obvious make-up mistake is choosing the wrong color foundation—it should be chosen to match the skin tone so no line of demarcation shows at the neck. I also feel that many women apply make-up too heavily.

FOR J. EDGAR HOOVER

Should our elementary schools teach about the threat of communism?—R. P. Huseinauer, Rochester, N.Y.

● While it is not my prerogative to say what should or should not be taught in schools, I think it is vital that teachers on the elementary level instill in their students a love of country, respect for the law, and an understanding of our national heritage. Students armed thus can better resist the menace of communism later in life.

FOR JUNE LOCKHART

of "Lost in Space"

You recently were hostess of the "Miss-United States Eggplant." Have you ever entered any beauty contests?—Mrs. H. G. Laughlin, Boise, Idaho

● No, I've never been in a beauty contest, and I've never had the urge to.

FOR SAM LEVENSON

What would you do if a member of your family wanted to become a "hippie"?—P. R. R., Delphos, Ohio

● I would oppose it vehemently. You don't make a better world by resigning from the human race.

WHAT IN THE WORLD!

Heart Transplants In the storm of excitement over the heart transplants, the operating-room nurses who assisted are on a island of stretched calm. When they came together recently from Palo Alto, Calif., Brooklyn, N.Y., and Cape Town, South Africa, they all agreed, "It was just like any other operation." What about the moment the heart started to beat? "We never thought," says Ludmila de Palo Alto, "that it would do anything but beat." South Africa's Peggy Jordan does admit to a preliminary hiccup. When the call came for the operating, her nursing team came straight from a fancy-dress ball still wearing 1920 bathing costumes!

Folk Tale "The only plan I have is I don't make any plans," says folk singer Buffy St. Marie. She didn't sing to go college, become a singer, or get married. Yet she has done all three. The marriage was the result of an incognito vacation to Hawaii. "I met this in the Stars: Astrology may be just a fad in the U.S., but it's a fact of life in Japan. Witness the birth rate there for the last two years. In 1966 it was the Year of the Fire Horse, a zodiac phenomenon that occurs every 60 years. Children born during that year are considered to be aggressive, domineering, and headstrong. That's fitting for boys, but fatal for girls—so the Japanese tend to avoid parenthood during such a year. The birth rate dropped almost 30 percent! It soared again in 1967 when the Japanese made an error last time—under favorable stars.

boy on the beach. I lied to him and told him my name was Marie. We were engaged before I told him who I really was. Now my name is Mrs. DeWaine Komakitalan Bugbes, but he and his family still call me Marie."

God's Bad-Tempered Angel!

When he let the troubled kids in the jails pray in their own languages, Chaplain Carl F. Burke got a moving order to the God-is-dead philosophers. Now he has collected the inmates' prayers in a new book, "Treat Me Cool, Lord." A sampler: "Lord, we sure enough need someone to keep us from being scared to get collared chicken."

Putting on the Dog Even though dogs are man's best friend, they're rarely invited to his best parties. But New York's Barbetta Restaurant hopes to change all that. At a recent costume bash, they invited pooches and the people they own to come in matched pairs. A "sailor" poodle turned up with Madams' Butterfly, a whippet "Bonnie" arrived with a humpin' Clyde. A schnouer "baby" came with his Nanny. There were flower children, clown, and a bride, and groom. Could start a doggone trend!

Women Take a New

This Easter finds more women active as pastors, ministers, and missionaries

IN NORTH SULLIVAN, Maine, a Methodist minister who increased the size of congregations while serving as pastor at five churches recently was promoted to district superintendent in charge of 43 churches.

In New Rochelle, N.Y., a determined group from the North Avenue Presbyterian Church posed as insatiable gamblers in order to ferret out evidence that exposed a seven-million dollar bookmaking operation and brought the arrest of five ringleaders.

In Cincinnati, Ohio, 44 Catholic clerics, disenchanted with a bishop's restrictions on them, withdrew from their order, and founded the non-denominational Federation of Communities in Service to assist the poor in Appalachia.

The Methodist pastor, crusading Presbyterians, and dissident Catholic clerics all had one thing in common: they were women. More important, they illustrate the type of roles that American women are taking in all phases of Christian religion today.

Consider, first of all, ordained women ministers. Obviously women pastors won't be delivering a substantial percentage of sermons in the nation's 253,708 churches this Easter. But the significant fact is that, until the late 1950s when nearly all church laws forbade their ordination, there virtually were no ordained female ministers.

There still is considerable resistance to women ministers. The Catholic church, for example, forbids them. And when the Rt. Rev. James A. Pike, retired Episcopal bishop of California, recommended that a 48-year-old widow be ordained a deaconess, she was refused Holy Orders.

But there now are enough female pastors of other Protestant denominations to form an American Association of Women Ministers, support a magazine called Woman's Pulpit, and achieve some truly remarkable successes despite considerable discrimination.

"There is no reluctance to appoint women ministers to charges," says Mrs. Porter Brown, general secretary of the Methodist Board of Missions, "but there is such a reluctance by most congregations to accept a woman pastor that she not only receives the small, underpaid charges but also may have to preach at several churches."

Perhaps no woman minister has been more adept at this technique than Dr. Margaret Henriksen who affectionately has been called the "point-to-point preacher." She serves seven New England churches up to 60 miles apart—incredibly at one time!

Equally enterprising social programs are being undertaken by church laywomen. Besides teaching Sunday School and soliciting food, clothing, and money for the poor, many of them have mobilized to bring reforms in their community.

Nuns are now coming forward both civically and socially, such as at this Christian Unity drive in Racine, Wis.

For sheer tenacity, it is difficult to surpass a project undertaken by the Georgia branches of Church Women United, a national organization of Christian women. Early last fall, the women became concerned that there was no compulsory inspection of Georgia's county jails to prove or disprove the rumors of horrifying conditions.

Whereupon, groups of Church Women United wrote to the 139 county sheriffs in Georgia announcing they had designated Oct. 1 as "Annual Visitation Day" and requested permission to inspect their jails. After receiving only 20 answers, the women mailed a second letter to the sheriffs and sent the carbon to local newspapers. Still, only 22 additional sheriffs responded. Ninety-seven sheriffs remained unswayed.

Finally—the church women announced that a sheriff's failure to reply evidently meant that he automatically welcomed "everyone" at his jail's "open house" on Oct. 1. Within a week, all 97 sheriffs "invited" the Church Women United to inspect their jails.

The women found conditions in the jails ranging from reasonably acceptable to deplorable. They also found enough fresh paint and shiny new plumbing to suspect that many jails had been repaired shortly before they arrived. The suspicions were confirmed at one jail when a group of Baptist women inadvertently arrived two hours earlier than expected—and bumped into two painters. The women have written a report that they hope will ultimately result in improved conditions at the jails.

Comparable aggressiveness has been shown by many of the nation's 175,000 Catholic nuns in an attempt to attain the status and self-determination accorded priests. As one nun put it: "We've not only been discriminated against in the Church by men who insist that Jesus Christ had only men as apostles and disciples and that the Scriptures mention 'no women are to have authority over men,' but one Church Canon even includes our legal rights in the same class with wives, children, and the insane."

Enough nuns have questioned and petitioned to give impetus to the Vatican Council II's recent directive to all Catholic orders to "re-examine" their regulations. Changes have been transpired already so that some sisters remark that they are undergoing a "revolution."

Instead of wearing long black robes, for example, many sisters wear restyled habits which one sister maintains "looks more like clothing worn by an airline stewardess." Many nuns have also resumed using their real names. Liberalized rules in some convents now allow sisters to determine when they sleep, rise, have a cup of tea, write, phone, or visit their parents.

Role in Today's Religion

dispelling the myth that God's ministry is "for men only" By BILL SURFACE

Women missionaries distribute gifts at Saigon hospitals. Dr. Eleanor Vietti—captured by the Viet Cong.

Religious libraries like this one in Akola, India, provide missionaries direct contact with the people.

As a result of their "revolution," nuns are gradually leaving their cloistered life to participate in social activities. Nuns can be seen picketing, forming grocery cooperatives, holding "sing-ins" in slums, or even living in an apartment like three young Franciscan Missionary nuns in Portland, Ore.

Instead of wearing habits, the nuns wear regular dresses and a cross hanging from a chain as they teach remedial reading and advise slum dwellers and other needy persons on everything from organizing ball games to finding a lawyer to help someone in jail.

All denominations of Christian women are making their presence even better known as missionaries—and are engaged in such diverse projects as 1) broadcasting daily sermons over amateur radio stations to friendly Congolese living in rebel-controlled areas to 2) solving crises at hospitals like the one operated by the Maryknoll Sisters in Hong Kong.

In a reasonably-typical case, a young-but-distraught Chinese weaver's wife trudged up to the Maryknoll hospital seeking "a place to sleep until I die." After quelling down, the woman explained that a Chinese herb doctor had diagnosed her pains as "bad cancer." The woman's HUSBAND, already angered at her apparent inability to bear children, refused to pay for medication and "waste" money that he needed to "buy a baby."

Moreover, the landlord evicted her from their shanty on grounds that it was "against the law to die in a rented house." The sisters X-rayed the woman, then found a surgeon who operated on her for a slipped disc. She now has two healthy babies and a husband who attends church every Sunday.

Many women missionaries, though, face violent death by accepting assignments in war-torn areas. That fact has been tragically illustrated at the Protestant-Christian and Missionary Alliance's Banmethout Leprosarium in Vietnam's Central Highlands.

On the night of May 30, 1962, a Viet Cong platoon stormed into the leper hospital just after a doctor's meeting ended. The Viet Cong took all the medicine and kidnapped Dr. Elspeth A. Vietti, a missionary doctor from Houston, Tex., and two male nonmedical missionaries, presumably making Dr. Vietti the first U.S. prisoner in the Vietnam war.

Some missionaries heard that Dr. Vietti is dead. Others have been told that she was being forced to treat communist troops in a jungle hospital in the Viet Cong-held Zone D. Yet the women missionaries did not abandon their hospital patients.

Mrs. Betty Mitchell, wife of one of the captured ministers, remained at Banmethout for two years, for example, to help train a Radey jungle tribesman to treat lepers in the event the missionaries were ever driven away.

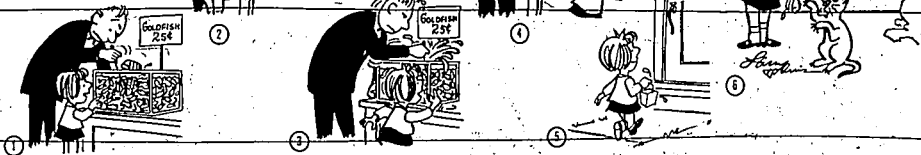

That came during the communists' recent Tet assaults in Vietnam. Two Viet Cong battalions overran Banmethout's local militia, destroyed the leprosarium, and, in addition to killing three ministers, massacred three women missionaries—Carolyn Griswojd, Ruth Witting, and Mrs. Ruth Thompson.

Still there has been no decrease in the number of women volunteering for potentially dangerous assignments. Says Gerald Smith, a member of the Christian and Missionary Alliance's executive staff: "Women missionaries are just so anxious to get started today that they take the isolated dangerous posts that men often regard as too important."

That type of spirit is characteristic of many women in religion today, and it shows every sign of growing into a viable counteraction to the seeming weakening of religion in other aspects of modern life. ↓

JULIE ANDREWS: She's Still Searching for Happiness

By PEER J. OPPENHEIMER

POSSIBLY the No. 1 movie star in the world today is lovely Julie Andrews.

While even a combination such as Richard Burton and Elizabeth Taylor can flop at the box office, Julie can make a bad picture and still mobs will rush to see it.

As Shirley MacLaine explains it, "The only way to tell if a star is really a star is when he or she is in a bad movie, and the movie makes money anyway." Julie is one of the very few stars who can make that prestigious claim.

Julie may be movies' reigning queen, but she's still a woman in search of her idea of success—personal happiness.

The most obvious change in her private life has not been a happy one. Her marriage to set- and costume designer Tony Walton ended last October.

"Tony has been a great influence in my life," says Julie. "It is a very thingy-thingy to say, but we are still very close, and I hope always will be. I adore him, and I hope he feels the same way about me. But marriage is a hard state to maintain. Often marriage exists before the marriage certificate does, and sometimes it never does. I am sorry it didn't work out."

Julie's marriage problems started almost as soon as she came to Hollywood for her first film, "Mary Poppins." She went to public functions with her agent and her publicist (okayd by Tony). It was not until she met producer-director Blake Edwards, however, that she became romantically involved.

While gossip columnists had a field day with speculations, Julie remained discreetly ladylike in the subject.

There are a sizable number of people who think that Julie has "gone Hollywood." Her reluctance to cooperate with the press is cited as one reason. She won't give interviews unless she is working and then only to a few, selected publications.

Last year, Julie moved from a modest home to an expensive, luxury one in Beverly Hills, complete with pool, guest-house, a projection room, and staffed by a nanny for her five-year-old daughter Emma Kate, a "man Friday," a gardener, a full-time secretary, cook, and two maids. Maybe Julie has gone a bit overboard, but that's the way she is with everything—she is constantly searching for perfection. As one of her associates says, "Julie is 90 percent work and 10 percent relaxation. She may look calm and composed, but I have never seen such drive."

Julie is the first to admit she does not have enough time to be a proper mother and has difficulty in making the most of what time she has. "I can't even take Emma Kate to the zoo without being mobbed," she complains. "Shopping trips with Emma are out, too, for the same reason." That's why her new home has become so important to her.

What has always attracted people to Julie is her honesty without arrogance, her niceness without being saccharine, her ability to be appreciated by men without being resented by women.

Although Julie has a tendency to look for the bright side of things, she's no prissy Pollyanna. She readily admits to "a flaming temper, as hot as anyone's, maybe worse. When things are really bad, I get blue or turn whacky."

That happened after Audrey Hepburn snatched the role Julie created on Broadway in the movie version of "My Fair Lady," Julie drove past the Warner Brothers' lot, stuck out her tongue and yelled, "A good morning to you, too, Mr. Warner, and the best of luck!"

Contrary to what she may appear to be, Julie is by no means an uncomplicated person. In spite of her professional success and personal popularity, she has doubts about herself, her ability to handle her own life and that of Emma Kate.

That's why she has spent sessions in psychoanalysis. With Julie, who guards every moment of her free time with a vengeance, this is a serious attempt to find fulfillment not only as an actress but a woman and a mother. "No one can ever please everybody," she says, "but I think everyone has the responsibility to try and live up to her own expectations."

What are those expectations? For Julie, it's the successful blend of a fantastic movie success with a happy, fruitful home life for her and her daughter. The two just don't seem to go together yet.

But then for Julie Andrews there is little that isn't possible in the future. ■

The GRACE OF GOD— What Does It Mean?

Even among Christians, there is often misunderstanding of the nature and effects of this supernatural gift.

Saved from misfortune... or blessed in a worldly way... some pious and well-meaning people are wont to say: "It was only by the grace of God." This may reflect a worthy attitude of appreciation—toward God—but it doesn't necessarily reflect the understanding of divine grace every Christian should have.

In general, grace has been defined as a supernatural gift infused in the soul, making it pleasing to God. No one can merit divine grace, or acquire it by his own unaided efforts.... by grace you are saved.... that not of yourselves, for it is the gift of God" (Eph. 2:5-8).

There are, moreover, distinctions in the kind, quality and purposes of divine grace. The first distinction is between sanctifying grace, which the Church calls a permanent "quality" in the soul, and "actual" grace, described as a transient movement from God that comes and goes and acts on the soul rather than in it. Sanctifying grace makes the soul pleasing to God and remains there.

permanently unless expelled by serious sin. Actual grace moves us to do good works.

There are other kinds, qualities and purposes of divine grace with which every Christian should be familiar. Lacking space to describe them here, we have published an interesting pocket-size pamphlet called "GRACE—Without It, You're Dead... and we will be happy to send you a copy free upon your request."

This new pamphlet covers such topics as "The Supernatural State"... "Grace—What Is It?"... "Actual Grace"... "Other Kinds of Grace"... "Ways to Obtain Grace"... and "How Can We Merit God's Grace?" It explains what we must do to make ourselves worthy of God's freely given gift of grace... how the Sacraments and prayer open the channels through which the grace of salvation is poured into our souls.

Every Christian... in fact, everyone seeking the favor of God through grace... should read this interesting pamphlet.

The Skirt is Back!

What's a sure sign of togetherness in this spring's fashion picture? It's a skirt and skirt—sometimes seen hobnobbing with a vest.

Chalk it up to nostalgia or disenchantment with the shift, but not since women wore the "sweater set" have skirts—especially the dirndl look—rated so high on the popularity charts.

Forget about altering one of your old ones, though. If it happens to be an airtight sheath, that style has become as extinct as the dodo. Newly designed skirts (even those with men's-wear touches) are definitely softer in line, fuller, and created to show the waistline.

As for hemline lengths, no designer has the final word. But you might rely on that wise saw: "Skirts, like speeches, should be long enough to cover the subject—and short enough to be interesting!"

...what if it's TRUE?

A man who claims to be God's Son dies on a cross, and then lives again. Fact... or fiction? You can believe it, ignore or deny it. But if it is true, can you afford not to get the facts?

Can you be indifferent to such a claim? Certainly it's worth investigating! The man who painstakingly provides for his family's welfare after he's gone may fall in the greatest provision of all... his own life after death.

Is the Resurrection more than a possibility? Christians say it's an actuality!

Today, as the universe shrinks, doubts are growing. You owe it to yourself to re-examine this unique event. If Jesus Christ really did die and rise again, it could make a great difference, not only to your future, but to your daily life right now.

The insights of this free booklet can help you resolve your questions. Send for it... and weigh the evidence for yourself!

EGG Concoctions For Supper Or Brunch

MELANIE DE PROFT Food Editor

Ingredients called for in the recipes are likely to be staples found in most kitchens. So, concoct any one of these egg favorites for supper tonight. Happy Easter!

Egg Curry

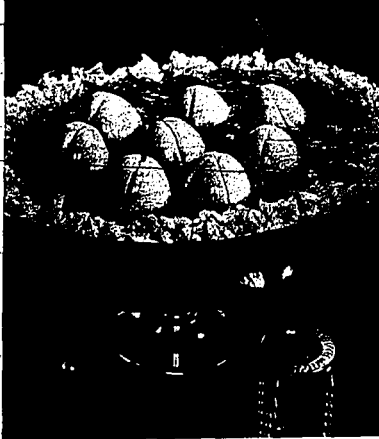

- 1/2 cup finely chopped onion
- 3 tablespoons butter or margarine
- 2 1/2 tablespoons regular all-purpose flour
- 2 teaspoons sugar
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1/2 teaspoon pepper
- 1 teaspoon curry powder
- 2 cups milk
- 8 hard-cooked eggs

1. In a saucepan cook onion until tender in hot butter or margarine. Stir in a mixture of flour and next four ingredients. Add milk gradually, stirring until blended. Bring to boiling, stirring constantly, and boil 2 minutes.

2. Cut an "X" into small end of each hard-cooked egg.
3. Line a shallow serving bowl with hot fluffy rice, put eggs upright in rice, and spoon the hot sauce around them. Serve immediately. 4 servings

Stuffed Egg Curry

Follow recipe for Egg Curry; omit step 2 and stuff eggs with any mixture as for deviled eggs or see Stuffed Eggs Sophisticate. Gently press halves together. Proceed as in step 3 or portion them into small casseroles.

Hard-cooked eggs, slit or stuffed with a tempting egg yolk filling, are nestled in a curry sauce over rice for a satisfying supper.

Eggs Florentine

- 2 pkgs. (10 oz. each) frozen spinach
- 1 teaspoon seasoned salt
- 1/2 teaspoon Accent
- 1/2 cup (about 2 oz.) shredded Swiss cheese
- 1 tablespoon butter or margarine
- 1 tablespoon regular all-purpose flour
- 1/2 teaspoon garlic salt
- 1/2 teaspoon white pepper
- 1/2 cup milk
- 1 tablespoon butter or margarine
- 4 eggs
- 1 tablespoon butter or margarine, melted
- 2 tablespoons shredded Swiss cheese
- 2 tablespoons fine dry bread crumbs

1. Cook spinach according to package directions, adding seasoned salt and Accent to the cooking water instead of salt. Drain thoroughly.

2. Put one half the spinach into a greased shallow 5-cup baking dish. Sprinkle lightly with ground nutmeg and then with the 1/2 cup cheese. Top evenly with the remaining spinach.

3. Set in a 325°F. oven and heat 15 minutes. Remove from oven.

4. Meanwhile, heat 1 tablespoon butter or margarine in a saucepan. Blend in a mixture of the flour, garlic salt, and pepper. Heat until bubbly. Add the milk gradually, stirring until blended. Bring to boiling, stirring constantly, and cook 1 to 2 minutes. Set aside and keep warm.
5. Heat 1 tablespoon butter or margarine in a skillet until hot. Break the eggs, one at a time, into a saucer and slip into skillet. Reduce heat, cover, and cook slowly until eggs are JUST SET, about 4 minutes.

6. Arrange eggs on the hot spinach in a longwise row, overlapping the edges slightly. Spoon sauce around egg yolks. Sprinkle a mixture of the remaining ingredients over sauce. Serve immediately. 4 servings

Stuffed Eggs Sophisticate

Serve hard-cooked eggs filled with assorted stuffings along with a platter of succulent ham slices and hot buttered biscuits.

- 12 hard-cooked eggs
- 3 oz. (1 pkg.) cream cheese, softened
- 1/2 cup dairy sour cream
- 2 tablespoons melted butter or margarine
- 1/2 teaspoon liquid hot pepper seasoning
- 1/2 to 1 teaspoon salt
- 1/2 teaspoon dry mustard

1. Cut eggs longwise into halves and remove egg yolks, leaving egg whites intact. Put egg yolks through a sieve. Set aside.

2. Beat cream cheese until fluffy; blend in sour cream, butter or margarine, liquid hot pepper seasoning, and a mixture of the salt and mustard. Add egg yolks; mix lightly.

3. Fill egg whites with yolk mixture. If desired, sprinkle with paprika. 2 doz. stuffed egg halves

Note: To vary, mix 1/2 teaspoon curry powder with salt and mustard.

Against the HUMAN PARASITES Who Want to Steal Your Life!

This may be the most important (as well as painful) advertisement you have ever read. It is based on three simple facts:

BEWARE ESPECIALLY OF THESE FOUR TYPES OF HUMAN PARASITES!

There are two types of people in the world; the Givers, and the Takers. For every Giver, there are a hundred Takers. They are constantly trying to latch on to you... to make you carry them on your back... to force you to give meaning, and value, and direction to their lives.

The Takers have a hundred different disguised—hundred different—"hidden strategies" to force you to become their constant servant. Your first task, therefore, if you want to achieve your own goals and your destiny, is to UNLEARN them... to expose the hidden weaknesses behind their so-called "motive motives"... and to throw them off your back, and onto their own feet, for good! This book unmask them, one by one, for you like this—

THE PERFECTIONIST:

May be a man or woman—wife or boss or fellow-worker. Always sits you down... forces you to follow... Therefore, seek himself up as the judge of your life... always makes sure that you will never succeed... that every one of your achievements will fall short of his "standards"—and you must endlessly keep trying to please him. You break his hold on you with one simple device. It is given so on page 190 of this book.

THE INJUSTICE-COLLECTOR:

Controls you by continually stinging you! Manufactures "incidents" in which you are trapped into doing this (or better) feelings. Then makes you pay for "corrections" and "reparations" that he wants. This trap is so subtle that you may not even realize it at any point. This point is shown to you on page 112 of this book.

THE HUMAN SWAMP:

Never stops telling you how "weak" and "powerless," and "dependent" (the formula!) it is. You have the "swamp" periodically—until you try to get her to do something for herself. Then something happens... the returns to me a larger... develops all kinds of tricks and "wiles" so as to let him help himself... until he is dependent on you to do for her all your "swamp" fun. You can show... of these people... with you... you are attracted to them; or they are related to you—then you can UNLEARN the technique given you on page 227 of this book.

THE LOVE DOMINATOR:

Perhaps the most vicious of all. First makes you feel guilty... then forces you to give every piece of your "affection" to him. He will use your "affection" for all sorts of purposes, including: Friendship with other women; Friendship with other men; Friendship with "romantics" that settle down outright on to a lifetime of domination... and, continues coming-etc-etc. This one of these else can make your entire life a living hell. It is NOT argument. You'll find it on page 103 of this book.

THE GREATEST SIN OF ALL—THE SIN OF OBEDIENCE

These Exploiters are universal; they intrude in every life. Therefore, every man or woman ever born has some fundamental problem... shows all things: how to stop the cleverest but that break kind of people; how to avoid them... it is far simpler than you have ever dreamed... you learn the precise way YOU CAN UNLEARN THE LOVE DOMINATOR... THE GREATEST SIN OF ALL—THE SIN OF OBEDIENCE. The choice is yours to you; You can enjoy others; or you can run them over your life from a corner again. The key to such a choice lies in this book. Why not read it from cover to cover, at one hit, TODAY!

- (1) Most people spend 90% of their time doing what other people want them to do—instead of what THEY want to do themselves. This is Robot-Living. And there is a way to break out of it for good.
- (2) Most people are haunted by self-destructive feelings they don't understand—feelings that frighten and depress them. For example: The constant fear that other people are somehow "better" than you. Or that you are new, and will always remain in "second-class citizen" in life. Or the crushing realization that you always feel "poor" no matter how much money you earn, and always feel "inadequate" no matter how great your accomplishments.
- (3) Because of these two crippling pressures—the attempt of other people to constantly exploit you, combined with your own self-destructive feelings of inferiority—you like most other people! spend yourself in an emotional prison instead of a palace. You also yourself to be controlled by others, instead of directing them. This is the only one of three facts that you are really able to accomplish. You also yourself to be controlled by others, instead of directing them. This is the only one of three facts that you are really able to accomplish. You also yourself to be controlled by others, instead of directing them. This is the only one of three facts that you are really able to accomplish.

There are Robot-Feelings. They are emotional leavers from your childhood, and are very completely out of place in your adult life. In a moment, you will learn how to get rid of them for good.

Also again, this is Robot-Living. And there is only one way to change it. Not by "will power." Not by "psychic attack." Not by "digging up the dead memories of your childhood."

A New Kind of Psychology; That Says: "Forget Your Past, Forget Your Feelings of Inadequacy, AND TAKE FULL COMMAND OF YOUR LIFE—TODAY!"

There are people, of course, who are trapped so tightly by these double pressures that their lives are scarcely less almost complete disaster. These are the chronic failures—the alcoholics—or the compulsive neurotics—or the those whose mental weakness and "inferiority" is forced to itself through with final till they swell up like balloons.

But here is the all-important point: Even these self-destructive individuals have had outside of their people's lives—years—that have been almost invulnerable to ordinary psychological treatment—have seemed to disappear of their own volition when these people tried a new kind of Neurotic Self-Therapy on them!

This new kind of Psychology is both startling and simple, and is incredibly effective. In essence, it says that: "Instead of what you have to do is that UNLEARN the mental habits that are keeping you a psychological slave today!"

In order to escape from this double-pressure-of your mind, you need not waste anything at all! No rules—no formulas—no lessons at all!

UNLEARN the mental habit that makes you automatically feel small when you meet an important new stranger—and you'll have taken the IMPERIAL ON HIM from the very first word you speak.

UNLEARN the mental habit that makes you depend on other people to make out little pieces of your respect, enjoyment and "interest"—and you can go out tomorrow and carve out as big a slice of life as you can realize.

In fact, this New Psychology is so drastically different that it will actually RE-SHAPE your life of what you're "love" and "respect" and "interest" actually mean. It will expose deep psychological traps in the lives that have been misleading you to frustration, empty goals all your life. It will show you how other people use these very words to control you every move by obscuring to deprive you of them.

The main goal in behalf of this new Psychology is LIBERATION—FREEDOM—YOUR OWN FREEDOM FROM THE "PARASITES"—THE "FRIENDS" because of this goal, the startling new book which brings you closer to you than you have ever been before. This is actually called BEYOND SUCCESS AND FAILURE!

Here is just a few of the traps it can free you from—starting with the very first reading you open its cover:

The Only Real Way to Win Other People's Hearts and Minds: BY SATISFYING YOURSELF FIRST!

One word of warning, however: This book is full of paradoxes. Statements like the one above will seem ridiculous at first glance—because even frightening. But then, as you read on, they will reveal themselves to be filled with the deepest and most ingenious truth.

For example: Page 215 shows you why you must NEVER try to justify yourself when someone belittles you. And how to destroy their attack by doing nothing.

Page 66 shows you why the person who is trying to overwhelm you with their importance, is actually bringing you far the one thing all humans cannot resist: and "insanity." And why, if you know the right way to look, you will actually find such a person "marked under their boot" once!

Page 24 shows you why fear, hate, anxiety are NOT your emotions in themselves, but are the disguised inside you of hidden, hidden emotion from your childhood. And why, when you discover that collecting self-hatred is a waste of time, you will find it impossible to give up.

Page 178 shows you why when you feel "pulling" at a bad habit, you double its power to make you repeat it again. And page 181 demonstrates that the power of the slightest one in giving up shame-hatred. And why, if you want to break them for good, you have to reject yourself out of them.

And then, starting on page 194, you are forced to confront the supposedly "unleashable" personal problems that are tearing your life into shambles—and learn why they never actually do the easiest to solve of all. Again, you are shown the paradox that the more years such a problem has plagued you—and the "nicer" you believe it to be, the quicker the true solution can take effect. ONCE YOU STOP FIGHTING THE PROBLEM, AND LET IT BEGIN TO CURVE ITSELF!

Read It From Cover to Cover Entirely At Our Risk!

Plus so much more that we cannot even begin to outline it for you here. This book—and we ask you to read it from cover to cover entirely at our risk!

One point must be made again, however: This is probably the simplest—and most beautiful—book on psychology you have ever read. This New Psychology believes that we are NOT bound by our past, but that we can UNLEARN our past. It is not a "self-help" book. It is a book of NEGATIVE ideas. These tests can be done—and are—listed in language a wayward child can understand. They can be grouped immediately into four sections:

And they work. They are literally a new way to meet, and overcome, the painful and destructive situations other people (and ourselves) set up for us. They are hard-headed and ruthlessly realistic. And if you have the courage to try them, they can make a breath-taking difference in your life tomorrow.

Why not prove this to yourself—entirely at our risk—by sending in the enclosed coupon TODAY!

Never Take a Laxative Again!

New Miracle Regulator
Helps Relief Come
Naturally

New York, N.Y. (Special)—Research has discovered a wonder-working substance that helps correct constipation without laxative.

Doctors say most constipation occurs when waste loses moisture in the colon. To give relief, laxatives have to force action—flush, irritate or disturb the intestine.

The new miracle substance works in a completely different way. It helps natural moisture in the colon work more effectively. Thus by working on the problem, not on you, it helps correct constipation as no laxative can.

This discovery is now available under the name REGULATOR. It is not habit-forming. No warning on the label—no prescription needed. Try REGULATOR—you may never take a laxative again!

HOW YOU CAN HAVE

A Beautiful Garden—

An expert says growing flowers is easy if you make it a labor

THE DAMP spring wind is blowing now, and across the land the garden brigade is crouched at the starting line, trots in hand.

But for too many of these people the summer will be a season of disappointment and disaster—of the dahlia that produces a magnificent crop of leaves but no flowers; of the zinnia that ups its roots and inexplicably tips itself over in a heavy rain; of the rose leaf that's turned to lacework overnight by insects; of a thousand sudden deaths and slow, undetectable debilitations.

Take heart, fellow gardeners! Most of the things you are doing wrong are easy—and inexpensive—to correct. In fact, the chances are you are working too hard and spending too much money.

So says William B. Harris, who is in a better position than most to understand the problems of the amateur gardener. He is a New York banker who taught himself gardening and built a weekend flower bed in Connecticut into one of the country's most successful nurseries.

Basically, Harris' advice is: relax. "Most gardeners read a lot of ads for specialized gadgets and chemicals, and then they bone up in garden books that lead them down with details only a botanist needs to know. They wind up with the idea that gardening is a kind of occult science that is beyond all but the select few who possess a 'green thumb.' Actually, it's just simple farming with a few common-sense rules."

Here are some of his common-sense rules, based on practices that Harris himself applies.

When doctoring sick plants, be a general practitioner, not a specialist. "Every garden is subject to the attacks of dozens, even hundreds, of different bugs and fungi," says Harris, "each coming at a different time and showing different symptoms. If you try to hit each one with a specific medicine, you'll soon become a plant hypochondriac. You'll wind up the season with a garage-full of special poisons, most of which you'll eventually throw away."

With prayers, just keep two points in mind. First, there are three main garden enemies to worry about: sucking insects that nourish themselves on the juice of plants, chewing insects that gobble foliage, and fungi that feed on plant tissue. Second, in recent years, powerful wide-spectrum poisons have been developed.

As a result, today you can buy a single general-purpose spray which, by combining three or more chemicals, will be good all summer long against almost anything.

Do the work before you can see the need for it. If you start spraying as soon as you see a single leaf curling abnormally or a single stem crowded with aphids, you will already have lost half the battle. Within a relatively few hours the enemy will be all over the place.

The essential tactic in the battle of the bugs is to hit the enemy before he hits you; begin spraying as soon as new plant growth appears in the spring, and repeat the dose every three weeks so that you will coat new growth as well as old. Do this even if no signs of damage appear on your flowers all summer; in fact, with this kind of spraying schedule, the chances are excellent of getting through the summer with no damage at all.

Weeding is not only the commonest and most onerous job in gardening, it is also the easiest to avoid. Says Harris, "Simply do what the farmer does: don't weed, cultivate." Cultivating means turning over or scuffing the top inch or so of soil with a sharp hoe periodically to destroy weed seedlings before they can get their root systems developed. Do this every 10 days or so (but not when there is a forecast of heavy rain; rain undoes your work by repacking the soil and resetting the seedlings), and you'll have a weed-free garden with very little labor.

Soil Tests. Code numbers, like 10-8-8 or 6-8-6, must by law appear on every bag of commercial fertilizer. The numbers indicate the mixture's percentage of nitrogen, phosphate and potash; chemicals which promote the growth of, respectively, leaf, root, and branch.

Suppose your zinnias are extra-lush with foliage, for instance, but tend to topple over in a rainstorm. This probably means two things: you've got a too-high first number (too much leaf) and a too-low second number (not enough root development to anchor the plant securely). So if you have been using a 10-8-8 (high in nitrogen), it would be a good idea to shift to something like a 6-10-8 (less nitrogen, more oxygen). Similarly, spindly branches would be a signal for more of the last number, potash.

Don't force your problems to go underground. Because roots are invisible to the gardener, they are probably the most neglected and misunderstood part of the plant. If you keep a couple of very simple points in mind, however, you can improve the performance of newly planted flowers and shrubs enormously.

The first point to remember is that plants have two sets of roots that perform two separate basic functions: the structural job of holding the plant up and the physiological job of sucking food out of the soil.

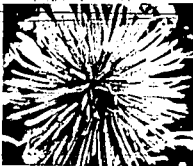

The roots that are most noticeable are the big, muscular structural

roots which can take relatively rough treatment. The ones most easily overlooked are the finer roots that produce the microscopic, rosemary-white tendrils whose job is to thread out through the soil in search of food and water. These finer roots are so delicate that if they are allowed to dry out for only a few minutes the plant may die.

"It's the worst single cause of failure in planting," says Harris. "Time and again a gardener will write that of the dozen rose plants we sent him only ten arrived alive. Almost invariably we find that the 'dead' ones were the last two he planted. What probably happened was that he laid the bushes on the lawn in the sun while he was planting—and by the time he got to the last two, the more delicate roots had dried out."

Dahlia

So whenever you buy bare-rooted roses or shrubs, keep them moist until planting time, and then take them to the planting site in a bucket of water.

The second point to keep in mind about roots is that, in planting or transplanting, the essential need is to duplicate the way the root system had been growing before it was dug up. Remember, first, that the roots spread out as they grew; they didn't bunch together, and, therefore, you must dig a hole big enough to take them in spread-out form.

Second, the ground they originally spread out into was tightly packed, not freshly dug; this means you must avoid leaving the soil loose and full of tiny air pockets. The best way to do this is by firming the soil and muddying in" the plant. After positioning the plant, surround the roots with soil, stamp in firmly with your foot, then add more water until you have mud. "In planting," says Harris, "the most important tools are the human foot and a bucket of water."

Another point about roots that too few gardeners realize is that they are not very particular about when they are moved. Says Harris, "It is true that shipping plants long distances must generally be done only at certain times, but moving them around the garden is a very different thing. If you get a reasonably good ball of earth, there's not a plant that won't transplant successfully at any time of year."

Don't let winter fool you. One of the commonest and most damaging garden misconceptions is that winter protection for plants means protection against the cold. Actually, plants that are suitable for growing in cold climates need the cold; it puts them to sleep for the winter, providing the dormant period of rest that is as important to the plant as hibernation to the bear. This is why delphiniums, for instance, are much easier to get through a bitter winter in northern Maine than in southern New Jersey.

What, then, does winter protection protect against? Mainly the heaving action of the ground. Take chrysanthemums. The hardy types can survive temperatures down to zero or below, yet in most gardens a large percentage are killed by a winter with temperatures that never go below zero. What kills them and other shallow-rooted perennials is soil movement, its rising and falling as it freezes and thaws through the winter, tearing the shallow roots and exposing them to the air, which kills them by drying them out.

The solution: wait until the ground freezes deep; then, when the roots are frozen solid, cover the ground with something very shady but airy, like evergreen branches. This will keep the sun away, collect the snow, and keep Weird New Sonic Lure Caught Fish Like Crazy!

By Lyman Walton, Co-Inventor

As-Told-to-Paul-Stog-The-Weekend-Fisherman

Think of it! My new VIBRATING LURE gives loud, GURGLING, SPLASHING, BUBBLING sounds as you skitter it along the surface of the water! Sends out up to 200 vibrations every minute underneath that water! Looks COMPLETELY UNLIKE ANYTHING THAT ANY FRESH WATER FISH HAS SEEN BEFORE.

And has already used this weird sound and weird sonic vibrations — in one of its very first Summer trials — to lure fish into attacking it so savagely that they actually knocked it out of the water. Hauled in trout, bass, muskie, walleye, and pike, even when other lures had caught little or no fish right next to it! Here's why —

CAUGHT! 120 FISH IN ONE HOUR!

Yes! Imagine that YOU were there — at Cattail Lake, Illinois, on August 20, 1967 — a hot summer day. A beautiful stream-fed pond — 90 by 60 feet wide! Fishermen trying lures, flies, natural bait! But despite the fact that this is a stocked trout farm with no limit, there is only an occasional strike. It looks like a wasted day!

And then, three die-hard friends decide to try their luck with me! We start to cast from the edge of the water. At the end of our lines is an ENTIRELY DIFFERENT LURE — a weird little metal monster that casts like a bullet, and flutters back through the water like a drowning bat!

EVEN EXPERIENCED FISHERMEN WATCHED IN AMAZEMENT! Almost at once THAT QUIET WATER EXPLODES INTO ACTION! The first strike causes a bout of excitement! And then a second strike! A third, fourth, sixth, seventh, eighth! Beautiful rainbows and browns all shimmering from the water — being pulled in at the rate of more than one every minute!

Now the water is almost exploding with fish striking! Sometimes four and five trout savagely attack one lure at the same time! Fifty — seventy — ninety fish are caught and released! Plenty along the shore stop to watch the spectacle!

In one short hour, we have caught and released 120 fish! ALL WITH the very same weird little lure that can go to work for you next week, without your risking a penny!

WHAT'S THE SECRET? UNDERWATER SONIC VIBRATIONS!

Why did this bat-shaped lure catch fish by the stringer-ful — even after ordinary lures, and natural bait have caught little or nothing? For this simple reason —

Because this lure gives off unique GURGLING - BUBBLING - SPLASHING SURFACE NOISES — plus up to 200 sonic vibrations every minute underneath that water — that I believe FISH FIND IRRESISTIBLE!

Yes! I am certain that sonic pulsations are the answer to every fisherman's prayer. I have studied the Navy Fish Biologist reports about the sounds fish make between themselves in the water! I have seen fish follow the propellers of a boat as though they were hypnotized by the sound!

And I have always believed that if I could take those gurgling, bubbling, splashing surface sounds and underwater vibrations — that actually seemed to CALL FISH TO THEM — and build that sound into a "Vibrating Lure" then it could haul in eye-popping catches, even where ordinary lures had caught little or nothing at all! Even in hard-headed waters where the wise old fish run away from ordinary lures!

JUST READ THESE FISH-CATCHING ACHIEVEMENTS!

TRY IT AT OUR RISK!

Yes! Research showed me that lures, like fish, create Sonic Vibrations in the water by their movements! So I have designed a lure that I estimate FLUTTERS THROUGH THAT WATER UP TO 200 TIMES A MINUTE! Wing-shaped, bat-like — GURGLING AND FLUTTERING MADLY THROUGH THAT

THIS IS AN ARTIST'S CONCEPTION OF THE VIBRA-BAT LURE AND ITS SONIC EFFECT UNDER WATER! I believe it to be irresistible to fish! Try it centrally of our risk!

WATER — SENDING OUT IRRESISTIBLE SONIC WAVES — GURGLING, SPLASHING, BUBBLING SURFACE SPLOUNDS THAT TRAVEL THROUGH WATER IN EVERY DIRECTION. AT THE RATE OF FIFTY FEET EVERY SECOND, THE ACTUAL SPEED OF SOUND UNDER WATER!

No wonder this "VIBRA-BAT" lure caught a 10 pound 7/8 ounce Northern on one of its first tests — only moments after it hit the water — hauled in six bass in sixty minutes in another test, all 2 1/2 pounds or larger — pulled in perch by the dozens in a third test at Belmont Harbor, Illinois, even after live bait and lures had scarcely a strike, and CONTINUED to land so many fish, so quickly, THAT FISHERMEN WATCHED IN AMAZEMENT!

No wonder our tests show this revolutionary new lure hauls in trout, bass, muskie, walleye, pike, salmon and other fresh water fish even in hard fished waters — produces strikes even when other fishermen alongside it are going almost unrewarded!

SPECIAL NOTICE

Sportsman's Lures has told us this page is a amazing story of the VIBRA-BAT as related to us by Lyman Walton.

We have received signed statements from Lyman Walton and other fishermen that these facts are correct.

Incidentally — the words "Gurgling — Splashing — Bubbling" are Walton's particular translation of the weird sound. Actually no two fishermen would agree on a description of this sound. But you will agree on its amazing results, or your money back!

Gardening Made Fun

the ground frozen and the roots buried. And don't let a few warm days in early spring fool you into removing the cover too early; wait until all chance of freezing and heaving is gone.

Know the tricks of the trade. The flower-growing industry is as hard-sell as any other, and inexperienced gardeners waste large amounts of money every year on meaningless "model changes" and dubious bargains. Two coins—ones reveal the kind of tricks to be wary of:

First is the 100-bulbs-for-a-dollar bargain. If you buy them at that price, you probably are buying the small bulbets that sprout from full-grown bulbs, and it will be practically impossible to produce satisfactory flowers.

The second come-on to be wary of is the annual "model change" gimmick. Says Harris, "With flowers, 'new' does not necessarily mean 'best.'" Not only is the price of brand-new varieties generally higher, but their growing habits are far less certain. To understand this, you should realize that hand-pollination makes it almost as easy for a flower-breeder to create a new color or shape as for a painter.

This is done by the hundreds every year with all the most popular plants—chrysanthemums, phlox, day lilies, iris, hybrid tea roses, etc. The result is many dozens of new listings in each spring's catalogues. In appearance, these new ones are often hardly distinguishable from the old ones except by their high prices and their new names. In their growing habits they are frequently inferior.

Says Harris, "It takes several years of testing under garden conditions to know whether a new plant will grow well. In fact, in the last 30 years there have been only about a half-dozen really significant new perennial plants introduced to gardeners. These include the fabulously hardy and prolific Peace rose, introduced in 1946; the new disease-resistant lilies developed by the great lily breeder, Jan de Graaf, in Oregon; a new strain of azaleas developed by Baron de Rothschild in England; some new floribunda roses and some lovely phlox.

If you're considering buying a brand-new seed variety, look for the seal of an All-American Selections committee. That way you can at least be sure that the plant has been successfully test-grown for several years under a wide range of climate-conditions and has been approved by a group of experts. Also, the indication on a seed packet that a flower is an "F-1" (first generation) hybrid is a good sign that it may be really new and worthwhile. This is because for annual plants (as opposed to perennials), the seed companies have developed radically new hybridizing methods, and in recent years have produced many remarkable improvements in color, shape, and growing habits.

Without indications such as these, says Harris, you would probably do best to wait until the price comes down. He cites as typical the grower whose 1957 catalogue listed 17 new day lilies, priced at an average of $17 per plant. By 1962, the price averaged $1.50 a plant, and in the 1967 catalogue it was down to a dollar.

What it all adds up to is that gardening, like many other things, can be as expensive and complicated as you want to make it. If you want to load up with soil-testing kits and specialized poisons and the newest varieties of plants, you are, of course, welcome to. But me, I'm with Harris when he says, "A green thumb is merely a dirty thumb, plus a little common sense." ♦

BOOK-DIVIDENDS: A library-building plan every reading family should know about

THE EXPERIMENTAL MEMBERSHIP suggested here will not only prove, by your own actual experience, how effectively membership in the Book-of-the-Month Club can keep you from missing, through oversight or overbuying, books you fully intend to read; it will also demonstrate another important advantage enjoyed by members: Book-Dividends. Through this unique profit-sharing system Book-of-the-Month Club members can regularly receive valuable library volumes—at a small fraction of their retail prices—simply by buying books they would buy even if they were not members.

If you continue after this experimental membership, you will earn, for every Club Selection or Alternate you buy, a Book-Dividend Credit. Each Credit, upon payment of a nominal sum, often only $1.00 or $1.50—somewhat more for unusually expensive volumes or sets—will entitle you to a Book-Dividend which you may choose from over a hundred fine library volumes whose retail prices now average $7. This is probably the most economical means ever devised for building a well-rounded personal library. Since its inauguration, over $430,000,000 worth of books (retail value) has been received by Book-of-the-Month Club members through this unique plan.
