4 Killed In Clash On Border

By K. C. HWANG
SEOUL (AP) — Three North Koreans and one American were killed Sunday in the second major clash in eight days in the U.S. sector of the Korean front. Each side accused the other of starting the battle in which three Americans were wounded.

The U.N. Command demanded an investigation by a joint team of observers, as provided by the 1953 Korean armistice. The Communist side ignored the demand for an observer meeting today, a U.N. spokesman said.

The spokesman said a group of at least eight North Korean soldiers opened fire on a U.N. patrol in the 2nd U.S. Infantry Division area of the demilitarized zone.

The patrol returned the fire and intermittent shooting went on for two hours, the spokesman said. Three of the Communist soldiers had crossed the military demarcation line and were killed, but their bodies were apparently dragged back because morning temperatures in Twin Falls dipping to 27, his was the reason for the ceasefire.

A North Korean broadcast said the Americans force was made up of "over 50 fully armed handsets" who slipped across the demilitarized zone and opened a Communist guard post near Daldusan.

The broadcast said "several armed handsets" were killed in the "fierce fire." It made no mention of North Korean casualties.

Two Gunmen Sought By Idaho Police

BOISE (AP) — Two gunmen, who held a 5-year-old boy hostage late Saturday while they forced his father, a Boise supermarket manager, to open the store safe, are being sought today.

Before the robbery, the thugs tied up the wife and another son of the boy's mother.

It had first been reported the robbers got $6,000. But Winslow said the amount was $10,000. He declined to disclose the loss.

Mrs. Winslow said the two men came to the house about 10 p.m. Saturday and waited outside for her husband to come home.

Winslow said the men, who were 30 and 40 years old, were bound. Winslow and his son, Scott, were forced to return to the store.

One of them put "Scott" in the trunk of a car with a gun to his head, and the other held his gun on him while they went into the store, Winslow said.

After the robbery, Winslow and his boy were returned to the family car. It was recovered by police Sunday in west Boise.

Winslow managed to slip his hands free and flee to a neighbor's house for help.

Plan Okayed

BOONERS FERRY (AP) — Washington State and Idaho representatives Sunday unanimously endorsed a proposal for a 70-mile extension of the North Cross-State Highway, but they could find no way to pay for it.

Rep. James A. McClure, R-Idaho, moderating the session, some officials from the states agreed to a highway extension through the rugged Selkirk Mountains would be vital to the area's economy.

They said the extension estimated to cost $20 million, would be a two-year project. The North Cross-State Highway now under construction in eastern Washington.

ICICLE TREE IN Harrison Park broke into blossom Monday morning and provided quite a sight for early risers in the area. Actually, a sprinkler was left on all night, and with early morning temperatures in Twin Falls dipping to 27, his was the reason for the ceasefire.

Hope Fades For Quick Solution In Communications Strike

By NEIL GILBRIDE
WASHINGTON (AP) — The A.F.L.-CIO Communications Workers defied back-to-work court orders today in the telephone strike, and said the injunctions blocked chances for an early settlement.

"All hopes for a quick solution have faded," said Edward P. Beirne, who is one of 40 states, instead of settling the wage dispute by Southern Bell Telephone Co. in Alabama and Kentucky. "Preposterous" and "anti-union."

Beirne said the injunctions isolated the Bell Telephone System, and its parent, American Telephone and Telegraph Co., want "to go on fighting" the strike of nearly 200,000 union members in some 40 states, in-

Clifford Predicts Gradual Leveling Off Of Forces

NEW YORK (AP) — Secretary of Defense Clark M. Clifford said today South Vietnam's military will permit a leveling off of U.S. efforts in the war and "in due time" permit gradual troop reduction.

Clifford made that assessment in a speech prepared for the annual members meeting of the Associated Press.

It was his first public address since he became defense chief seven weeks ago.

Clifford said his assessment was based on results of a comprehensive review of American policies and programs in Vietnam, ordered by the President after the setbacks of the Communist Tet offensive.

"The results were clear and the results were encouraging," Clifford declared. "They disclosed that Hanoi could not beat South Vietnam to its will by military force."

"We concluded that Americans will not need always to do more, but rather that the increased effectiveness of the South Vietnamese government and its fighting forces will permit a leveling off of U.S. efforts in the war and 'in due time' permit gradual troop reduction."

Samuelson Points Out Teacher Example In Japan

By EARLE L. JESTER
BOISE (AP) — Gov. Don W. Samuelson suggested today that Idaho public school teachers follow the example he said is being set by Japanese educators.

action by the Idaho Education Association was "unfortunate."

"The majority of our teachers," he said, "are teaching because they are dedicated, although the minority gives the opposite impression."

Samuelson, who returned last week from a two-week visit to Japan, said he was told there is no unemployment among that nation's 100 million inhabitants.

From a defense ministry spokesman, Japan has expanded its industry tremendously, Samuelson said, adding:

"Hard work has done it for them. We've kind of lost this somewhere along the line. People here want things handed to them. They don't want to work. This can lead to the downfall of a nation."

The governor said he believes his trip will lead to an expansion of Idaho's export market for farm produce in Japan. He said, too, he is hopeful it will result in the purchase in Idaho of finished lumber for shipment to Japan.

On other subjects, the governor said Japan is "under advisement" a suggestion from L. Gov. Jack Murphy that a commission be created by executive order to enforce Idaho's civil rights law. He said he thought Murphy handled the civil rights incidents

Gold And Peace

The skepticism and misgiving with which the two-tier price system was first regarded when it was established some time ago seem to have abated.

Franco's President de Gaulle said it wouldn't work, but the action of the world's gold markets - which are the absolute authority - has not vindicated the general's stand.

Prices on the free market generally have been holding around $38 an ounce, only $3 above the U. S. fixed price of $35. The latter continues as the anchor stone for national currencies, not for individuals.

The action of the South African government in deciding not to sell to the speculators has aided greatly in stabilizing the price. South Africa produces more gold than the rest of the world combined.

Although Gen. de Gaulle may not approve gold is now almost like any other commodity. Speculators and hoarders can have all they want - they ply the going price.

Unlike last month's panic-buying which sent the price above $44, an ounce in Paris, demand now seems reduced. Gold doesn't pay dividends. Many speculators who borrowed currency at high interest rates to buy the metal now are faced with the problem of selling at a loss or paying heavily for the privilege of ownership. Even the cost of storing gold is an expensive factor.

Since the London market reopened after a two-week cooling-off period, the free market price hovered closer to the official U. S. price. In France the price dropped to the lowest point since the Paris market became a free exchange in mid-March. The two-price system and creation of a new reserve asset by the Stockholm conference of finance ministers to bolster the world monetary system have relieved the pressure on U. S. gold and the dollar. As a consequence, the dollar and the British pound have strengthened on the world's foreign exchange markets.

It would be unjustified optimism, however, to conclude that the U. S. dollar has moved permanently out of the danger zone. The U. S. government's fiscal affairs have not been improved.

Having an impact on restoration on the dollar's prestige are improved prospects for peace in Vietnam.

WASHINGTON - President Johnson's decision gradually to shift the load of the war in Vietnam to the South Vietnamese underscores the peril inherent in any superpower's involvement in the affairs of a small, badly governed country. Johnson's decision is not original in any respect - Even Kennedy made the original decision in 1963 to transfer an increasing part of the war's burden to the Saigon regime. This shorts was found to be impossible, largely due to the failure of our diplomats to thoroughly check out the political situation in South Vietnam. In 1963, the Diem regime was not only corrupt but isolated from all the people. Any in-depth investigation would have revealed that its overthrow was inevitable. The South Vietnamese armed forces were a cruel joke, ridden with political vice and favoring and incapable of doing much more than provide police protection for Saigon's ruling class. John Kennedy must bear the responsibility of getting us involved in such a snare pit, but the basic failure lay in the superficial assessment of the military by his diplomatic and intelligence agencies. Parenthetically, it should be noted that American troops also supported American involvement, among them the some Bobby Kennedy who now calls for a plaque on Lyndon Johnson for failing to extricate the U. S. from the mess he inherited. At any rate, the Johnson administration - is going to try again to move toward the day when the South Vietnamese will be able to take care of most of the load. Fortunately, we now have the advantage of the teachings of experience. The American public has suggested, as Robert McNamara did in 1963, that American troops would be moving out of the war.

But conditions today suggest that a small helping of optimism is justified. Saigon now has an elected government. It is still not much of a government, and Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey should not assume, however, that there is a single strand of normal posture, body type or heredity influence on its posture. Your child will develop a poor posture if slumped over a poor chair, a slouchy walk, general indolence and assuming a don't care attitude. Some adolescent girls who neglect self-consciousness about their developing breasts become round-shouldered as they grow up. Tall girls also may assume a stooped posture to appear less tall. It is allowing himself to become stooped-shouldered, a youngster fails to strengthen the muscles which correct the imbalance of his back and pelvis. Thus in turn may lead to arthritis, rheumatism, poor posture and curvature of the spine. This may result in one shoulder or one hip being higher than the other. In many cases, a brace can be traced directly to the spine.

What's All This Talk About Slanting The News?

WAYNE BRANDSTADT, M.D.

Good Posture

Good posture among the young is rapidly becoming a lost art. It has been defined as the positioning of the body that allows graceful and purposeful movements with minimum use of energy. It is achieved without strain in persons who have not slumped over. It should not assume, however, that there is a single strand of normal posture, body type or heredity influence on its posture. Your child will develop a poor posture if slumped over a poor chair, a slouchy walk, general indolence and assuming a don't care attitude. Some adolescent girls who neglect self-consciousness about their developing breasts become round-shouldered as they grow up. Tall girls also may assume a stooped posture to appear less tall. In many cases, a brace can be traced directly to the spine.

Improves your whole appearance and thereby helps in the development of a pleasing personality. You can't start to develop it too soon. -My son, 2 1/2, had an attack of bronchitis when he was 18 months old. He still gets these attacks every eight or ten days. How can we prevent them? -When bronchitis recurs this often, an effort must be made to find the underlying cause. Are his tonsils and adenoids diseased? Has bronchitis been followed by a cold? Does he have asthma or tuberculosis? Only when the answers to these questions are known can measures be taken to prevent the attacks.

Timing Wars Against Levy Passage

It is difficult for us to see how the school district's proposed plant facilities fund levy will be approved by the voters in May.

Many criticisms have been raised in the district by the electorate and by voters. In most cases, are legitimate enough to spell defeat for the issue.

The school board has been frank in disclosing its long range problems of the district.

Patrons have been appreciative of the board's efforts but at the same time there exists an intangible feeling in our system that the board doesn't have the confidence of the citizens.

This lack of confidence is evidenced by the many disclosures that the district had overspent its budget.

Jerome taxpayers were rightfully shocked over the information and considered that the board and its actions had violated a public trust in ignoring the budget.

Fortunately, the board listened to the voice of the public and from all accounts is following the present budget and is doing all in its power to rectify the unfortunate past.

In the report of the 1967-68 budget it did sometime this year and will indicate whether or not the board's changed attitude is in fact.

The board, then, must prove it is fiscally responsible and must show to the taxpayers that they are running the district on a sound business basis.

Until the board alters the present image of monetary irresponsibility it will not have the confidence of the electorate and cannot expect the levy to be passed.

Another important factor which must be taken into consideration are taxes, which when coupled with a retarded farm economy, can be oppressive.

Under these circumstances, the public must be sensitive to the needs of any governmental unit, specifically schools, but the consideration is influenced by dollars and cents.

The public has no real control over what Washington does but can-and does-exert considerable control over local taxing programs.

In striking out at the inadequacies and costs of national and state expenditures the public strikes what is directly available to the local taxing unit.

Still another factor which we feel is detrimental to successful passage of the proposed plant facilities levy is the increasing resentment in the community surrounding militant attitudes of some teachers.

Where such films colleges and universities are justified, the public is sufficiently aroused to the point that any talk of education results in angry scowls and sharp retorts.

Locally, the resentment goes far beyond the Idaho Education Association's decision to impose sanctions on the district. Some of our local teachers have considered the plant facilities levy as an opportunity of getting more pay.

limit, regardless of whether or not the plant facilities fund levy passes.

What the board is saying is that the tax rate will be "somewhat" or "quite a bit" depending on the outcome of the election.

The reaction from the public has been that the official U. S. price is going up, we would prefer the "somehow" route - a very understandable sentiment.

It is not clear whether the board's thorough grasp of the assessment practices in which the county is presently involved.

Real property is presently being assessed at 90 percent of actual value and most citizens appreciate the fact that this ratio must be increased to 20 percent by 1977.

Citizens are aware that an increase in valuation when multiplied by existing levies results in higher taxes.

There have been several suggestions tucked around the state on ways to alter the assessment and tax structure so that the tax picture can be kept within reason.

It is interesting to note that the only plan of altering that law has confused taxpayers in Jerome and other counties to the point where there has developed a very cautious attitude so that the people feel that "what is in effect today may not be in effect tomorrow."

In view of these circumstances, it is sometimes difficult for the public to comprehend why the board in the first place proposed including plant facilities fund levy proposal to the public.

The answer can be found in Chairman Jim Messersmith's remarks at a special public hearing last week.

The school board, in Messersmith's words, is attempting to tell the people what is needed and in the interest of the youngsters is not fearful of the public and hidden pressures against such a proposal.

In addition, the district - in coming up with the proposal - has for the first time in many years come up with a long range plan for district improvements and we would be remiss if we did not compliment the board on this intelligent attitude.

An actor knows that one of the important aspects of success is timing - regulating predictably regularly that "beach party" pictures do today - and with no more justification.

Such films colleges and universities are truly astonishing places. All was fun, frolic, football victories, mad escapades, with no one bothered by such a silly consideration as regularity that "beach party" pictures do today - and with no more justification.

How many remember the long series of "How College" movies? They used to pour out of Hollywood with the same uninspired, predictable regularity that "beach party" pictures do today - and with no more justification.

It was presumed that such colleges had happily faded forever. But we reckoned wrong. There, according to Reuters news agency, there has just opened the world's first "Samba University." The curriculum consists of dancing, samba, and the rhythms of Brazil's popular dance.

It sounds to us very much like the fanciful college institutions of the past, only wilder, man, wilder. - Christian Science Monitor.

LEON DENNEN

The Detractors Were Off Base

NEW YORK (NEA)—As Al Smith loved to say, let us look at the record.

Gen. William C. Westmoreland has reason to be proud of the military operation that lifted the Communist siege of the Sanh.

The relief of the base has deprived North Vietnam of a trump card in any peace talks. It also removed the threat of the sort of defeat the French suffered at Dienbienphu in 1954.

Only a month ago, antiadministration senators, professors and commentators predicted that the Sanh would be an "American Dienbienphu."

After the Viet Cong terrorist "let offensive" in January, Prof. Kenneth Galbraith, a Cassandra who teaches economics at Harvard, predicted that the Saigon government would "disintegrate" and the South Vietnamese army desert to the Communists.

Now, the record: The Sanh did not become "an American Dienbienphu." The Saigon government did not fall apart after the Tet offensive.

As Westmoreland said, " Militarily, we have never been in a better relative position in South Vietnam."

Is the general too much of an optimist? Perhaps. But his detractors, including Galbraith, Bobby Kennedy and other prophets of doom, were dead wrong. They should stay silent in the face of the military success which Johnson conducted the peace talks.

Unfortunately, they are still peddling their damaged ideas and deriding those who disagree with them.

A kind of intellectual terror pervades American political life. It is respectable and "liberal" to castigate the administration's policies and Johnson's role. Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey personally "bug" to cast doubt on the Viet Cong "nationalism" is to leave one's self open to denunciation by the so-called liberals as a "reactionary" and even a "war criminal."

Taking their cue from Kennedy, the vocal peaceniks are now urging Johnson—even before the peace negotiations are really under way—to agree to the inclusion of the Viet Cong representatives in a South Vietnamese coalition government.

They ignore the fact that the National Liberation Front—the Viet Cong's political arm—is a creature of North Vietnam.

They ignore the fact that the National Liberation Front—the Viet Cong's political arm—is a creature of North Vietnam.

They ignore the fact that the National Liberation Front—the Viet Cong's political arm—is a creature of North Vietnam.

They gloss over the fact that Nguyen Huu Tho, chairman of the National Liberation Front, is not a nationalist. He is a foreign agent whose only loyalty is to Moscow and its puppet, Ho Chi Minh.

A South Vietnamese coalition government with the Viet Cong—what for?

It was such coalitions with Reds that paved the way for the Communist dictatorship in eastern Europe. Indeed, how many Americans are aware that most Red governments are still officially "coalitions" of Communist and other parties which have been reduced to the status of subservient puppets?

Right now, in Czechoslovakia, students in revolt against the Communist regime are conducting a postmortem on the murder of Foreign Minister Jan Masaryk 20 years ago. A great statesman, Masaryk was one of the many victims of coalition governments with Communists.

No wonder the South Vietnamese, who are paying dearly for their freedom, fear Kennedy and his supporters.

Underlying this fear is the feeling that Ho Chi Minh's negotiators seek a peace settlement that will jeopardize the independence of the South Vietnamese.

BRUCE BLOSSAT

Kennedy: The Suburban Vote

Before he plunged into the Democratic presidential race, Sen. Robert F. Kennedy once was asked by a friend:

"In what kind of political party do you see yourself with the people in the suburbs?"

Kennedy thought for a moment and replied: "I don't know that I have any at all."

A month after his entry, however, it is abundantly clear that he is bent hard toward cracking suburbia; where more and more of the voters are.

In the American suburbs, the concerns are presumed to be "crime in the streets" which may some day spread from city cores to the leafy precincts beyond.

The health, welfare and school burdens and what these mean in spending and taxes, the lowered quality of living as reflected in traffic jams, pollution and sprawl.

To travel with the candidate these days is to find him dwelling often on these problems.

In a suburban shopping center parking lot one evening, Kennedy just blurted out, without elaboration or explanation: "We have to prevent urban sprawl." Endlessly, and usually to the accompaniment of warth apoplexy, he tells both suburban and city audiences that one overriding necessity of these times is to get people jobs and off the tangled welfare system.

At such moments the listener could close his eyes and, except for the formal address, imagine himself hearing Republican preacher J. P. O'Rourke, or Nixon or Gov. Ronald Reagan of California.

Even more striking, and heavily underscored, since the assassination of Dr. Martin Luther King and the aftermath, is Kennedy's hard talk against lawlessness and violence in the nation.

For example, early this month before a racially mixed, partly militant crowd which had jammed the downtown Camden, N. J., auditorium, Kennedy banded out:

"We don't have to accept lawlessness. We don't have to accept summer after summer of disorder. That's not tolerable."

But he doesn't have to conceive what they might be. It is, nevertheless, far too early to say whether Kennedy is going to be even moderately successful in making himself a plausible "man of the suburbs."

The prime task in the Middle West and Far West will provide the first hard test.

But it is a mere vote-getting

PAUL HARVEY

Big Spender!

Nikolai Lenin said: "Germany will militarize herself out of existence. England will expand herself out of existence. America will spend herself out of existence."

The White House apparently intends to fulfill that 1917 prophecy.

Conscientious money management in Congress has been replaced with the "House-Please cut spending!"

The Administration's reply is: "Cut taxes; bring in more money!"

The White House implies that increased federal income would balance our budget, reduce inflation, and reduce your increased taxes would be used for the purpose.

The likelihood, based on past and present performance, is that Sam will just continue and accelerate his spending spree.

Taxpayers have been more than generous. Over the past 10 years your federal taxes increased 100 percent, which is faster than our national economy has grown.

During that same decade - while your taxes were increased 95 percent - federal government spending increased 112 percent.

In 1960 the federal government budget was $94 billion. Last year it was $172 billion. This year the President's budget is $180 billion.

There has been a lot of talk about Administration economic "yearning" since the President has tried to make a "budget" of lights to save electricity, 112 new federal projects have been announced and 15 more new ones this year.

Some $1,500 million of federal program has been abolished; all others have been increased.

While American tourists are asked to stay in the United States to keep our dollars at home - Vice President Humphrey is sending our dollars to Africa another $18.5 million.

The Arizona Republic, citing contradictions between what the White House says and what it does, recently noted that Mrs. Lady Bird Johnson is spending millions of years in the beautification of highways while, at the same time, another agency of government is spending $5 million putting out roadwork signs.

The war is blamed, for increasing the spending when the fact is that nonmilitary spending has almost doubled in the past few years.

Thus, your dollar is shrinking in value about 4 cents a year! It is extremely difficult to interest investors in fiscal matters until they feel the pinch personally. Even then they feel helpless to do anything about it.

This is the year you can do something about it.

This income tax time is the time to be reminded that these are your dollars.

This election year is the time to demand your congressmen recognize that fact, too. Congress holds the purse strings. Congress has the power to regulate extravagant Sam's allowance.

A courageous handful on Capitol Hill is demanding that any federal pay hike must be predicated on increased federal spending. Encourage them!

Or else, silent when you should protest, you acquiesce in Lenin's prophecy: "America will spend herself out of existence."

You are paying the salaries of 276,000 federal employees this year last year.

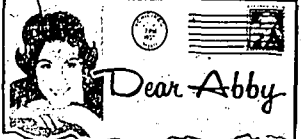

Even ending the war will not end Sam's extravagant binge.

Under these circumstances, is a wedding gift in order? A FRIEND

DEAR FRIEND: If your wedding gift means, "This is in payment for your wedding invitation," then, of course, no gift is in order. But if it means, "Accept this gift along with our best wishes for your future happiness," then a gift is in order.

DEAR ABBY: I am a 14-year-old girl and I hope you won't laugh when I tell you what my problem is. I have a mustache. The kids are always teasing me about it. Boys keep telling me I need a "chive." Some girls have even told me in a nice way that I would be pretty if I got rid of my mustache.

My friend: If I shave it all I will grow back, heavier and thicker, like a man's beard. I have heard there are other ways to remove unwanted hair—but I'm afraid to try any of them because I've heard it could cause scars. Can you help me? AUSTACHE GIRL

INHERITANCE OF HIGH BLOOD PRESSURE

O. I. High blood pressure inherited?

A. Blood pressure, like height tends to be inherited. It is not inherited as "normal" or "high" any more than stature is inherited as short or tall. Rather children tend to resemble their parents in blood pressure as in other characteristics. Blood pressure tends to rise with age and will rise more in some people than others. Thus, the higher the blood pressure of the two parent the higher the children's pressure are likely to be and the younger the age at which higher than average pressure develops.

British Party Is Split

By FRED COLEMAN
LONDON (AP) — Britain's Conservative party was badly split today following a clash between two of its leaders over the racial question.
Edward Heath, the leader of the opposition party, fired outspoken rightwinger Enoch Powell from the party's shadow Cabinet, calling a speech by Powell Saturday "racist in tone and liable to exacerbate racial tensions."
Political writers considered Powell's speech a challenge to the more moderate Heath's leadership, forcing the party chief to take strong action or abdicate to the Tory right wing.
Powell was the member of the shadow Cabinet for defense and would have taken command of that ministry if the Conservatives ousted the Labor government. Reginald Maudling, the deputy party leader, took over Powell's defense duties while Sir Alec Douglas-Home assumed Powell's brief for community affairs.

Other rightwingers Tories denounced Powell's firing. One, John Jennings, called it "a tragedy." Powell's speech at the party split also gave the Labor party valuable ammunition for the House of Commons debate Tuesday on the Labor government's controversial race relations bill.
The bill seeks to outlaw racial discrimination in housing, jobs and other fields. The Tories oppose it, claiming it will be unworkable. But they also say they oppose racial discrimination.
Powell in his speech said Britain should bar further colored immigrants and pay those now here to return to their native lands. The speech was peppered with such volatile remarks as colored immigration is "a match on a gunpowder" and "others of blood will eventually flow." Powell stuck by his speech, claiming it was in line with Conservative policy. He had no immediate comment on his dismissal.

There are now about one million colored immigrants in Britain, about two per cent of the population, and racial tension has increased in recent years.

Nixon Develops 2nd Campaign Theme

By RELMAN MORIN AP Special Correspondent
CHEYENNE, Wyo. (AP) — Richard M. Nixon is now beginning to develop his second major campaign theme—that he calls "the crisis of the federal budget"—in his drive for the Republican presidential nomination.
He has called on President Johnson to cut the budget by $5 billion.
Nixon said in a statement in Cheyenne, "The United States is today hurtling down a path toward the 'worst economic crisis of the postwar era.'"
The former vice president conferred for 3½ hours Sunday night with Wyoming Gov. Stan Hathaway and said afterward, "We talked about the crisis of the budget, the war in Vietnam, and all the other major national and international problems confronting the country."
Nixon charged the Johnson administration with five years of "fiscal mismanagement."
In answer to a reporter's question, he said, "Yes this will be a major campaign theme. It will be a lasting theme, although I wish that wouldn't be necessary."
Nixon's other big campaign contention, to date, is that the Democratic presidential candidates are so deeply divided among themselves that they cannot provide the leadership to heal the divisions in American public opinion.

Carol Mann Wins Lady Carling Meet

ATLANTA (AP) — Carol Mann won the Lady Carling golf tournament by 10 shots Sunday, firing a closing 67 for a 54-hole total of 209 strokes, 16 under par. The 6-foot-3 blonde's total score was the lowest in the tournament on the ladies' tour, and a 15-foot putt on the 18th hole that would have broken the mark narrowly missed. The $2,250 victory was Miss Mann's first victory check in nine months, and her triumph capped sub-junior honors.

Pearson Is Happy About Racing Win

(NORTH WILkesBORO, N.C.) — "I'm happy to get the title, but I'd rather have won it flat out, racing him," said Pearson, the 1965 NASCAR Grand National champion, today after his $5,100 prize money after taking over the lead from Roy Yarborough's Ford blue engine and hit a guard rail. Yarborough, seeking his first victory of the season, had been running easily in the lead about 10 seconds ahead of Pearson and appeared certain of victory when he passed the starter's box and gave the 10-lap-go signal. But seconds later, in the first turn, Yarborough's engine blew and he was carried into the high guard rail. He escaped injury.

Celtics Rally In Last Half To Drop L.A.

BOSTON (AP) — The Boston Celtics, fired up by player-coach Bill Russell, rallied from a 15-point second-half deficit for a 107-101 victory over the Los Angeles Lakers Sunday in the opener of the National Basketball Association's best-of-7 showdown for the championship. Russell scored 12 of his 19 points in the final two periods as the Celtics exploded in a furious finish. Bailey Howell gave Russell plenty of help with eight points and five rebounds, finishing with a Boston high of 20. The Lakers drew within three minutes of the end, with 2:36 remaining, but Don Nelson called a timeout and howl "ored on a layup to pull the Celtics out of danger. John Havlicek and Sam Jones each matched Russell's 19 points for Boston. Jerry West and Elgin Baylor led the Lakers with 25 and 24 points respectively. The second game of the series is scheduled for Boston Garden Wednesday night.

The Chicago White Sox, a team bound to improve in 1968, and the St. Louis Cardinals, a team with everything, look like baseball's best clubs. I pick them to win the respective American and National League pennant races and meet in the World Series.

White Sox Manager Eddie Stanky has been trying to win a pennant since starting his managerial career in 1959.

The White Sox almost made it last year with 83 victories but lost three games too many the final week and finished fourth, three games back of the surprising Boston Red Sox.

Two former MVPs—a shortstop who traded five years ago to Baltimore and a former backstop who replaced the usual entry list. For the first time, Meridian will appear in a conference meet. Also Friday the St. Louis tournament will be staged at the Twin Falls Municipal course.

The biggest one in terms of times, distance and potential is the St. Louis Cardinals. Twin Falls Friday. The odd-on favorites are the Borah Lions, who appear unstoppable again. Capital is rated second with Nampa third, Twin Falls, Pocatello, Highland, Caldwell and Boise will trail at 11-11.

The St. Louis Cardinals are the only team in the West that has a strong pitching staff. The team will be kept in the KC battle appears to be the usual entry list. For the first time, Meridian will appear in a conference meet. Also Friday the St. Louis tournament will be staged at the Twin Falls Municipal course.

The Cardinals are breaking from the National League bar with a staff that shows 91 pitching victories for 1967. Headed by St. Louis' ace, Bob Gibson, the staff includes Dick Groat, Jerry Briles, Ray Washburn and Larry Jaster. For relief there's Tom Willis, Joe Hoerner and the Red Sox.

The team is set with an infield of MVP Orlando Cepeda, Julian Javier, Dick Allen and Mike Shannon and an outfield of base stealing champion Lou Brock, Curt Flood and Roger Maris. The Cardinals have overcome a serious one last year when Gibson was sidelined for almost two months with a broken right leg, caused by a Roberto Clemente line drive.

A pitching leg will be blamed for the Boston Sox failure to repeat in the American League. Dick Williams' 22-game winning streak in 1967, while leading in Lake Tahoe last Christmas, tore tendons in his left knee, underwent an operation and missed his chances to throw hard in spring training. The Sox are opening the season without slugger Lombardi, who won two World Series starts.

However, the Red Sox do have many plus marks—triple crown batting champion Carl Yastrzemski, the full recovery of outfielder Tony Conigliaro and more experienced regulars in Mike Andrews on second, Joe Foy on third, Reggie Smith in center and big George Scott on first. They could be weak in pitching and catching. Pitching additions are ex-Phillie Dick Ewell and ex-Cub Ray Culp.

On hitting and defense the Red Sox rank second just ahead of the Detroit Tigers and Minnesota Twins.

Emmer has added strength behind the plate in ex-Dodger game winner Earl Wilson. Don John Rasmussen and in pitcher Ron Perranoski's 70 relief appearances couldn't help the Angels and Orioles need better hitting. They even looked good last year until they were over-cropped up the final two days, preventing Manager Alvin Smith from maneuvering his starting pitchers in proper rotation. The Tigers split the two twin bills.

The Minnesota Twins will be rough, especially if shortstop Jackie Hernandez makes poor Juan Pardo a replacement for Zola Gardolph, now a Dodger. Manager Cal Ermer turned in a fine job after replacing popular Sam Rice. For rookie pitcher Tommy Davis, who hit 18 homers and 302 RBIs for the Mets; shortstop Lou Piniella, who hit 28 homers and 274 for the Indians; and first baseman, Jose J. Es. He's 25 and 6-foot-5, a Jersey City native who lives in Louisville.

If Fisher could win nine of his 30 starts for the hapless Mets he might win 15 for the Pale Blue Devils. He figures to work in turn with Joe Horlen (19-7) Gary Peters (16-11) and Tommy John (16-11).

And if you're looking for a pitching surprise it could be veteran Cisco Carrol, a 27-year-old Californian who won his only two major league decisions last fall. He struck out 27 in 47 1/3 innings and had an 8.57 earned run record.

First Open Tennis Tourney Starts Today

BOURNEMOUTH, England (AP) — The world's first open tennis tournament begins Monday, says Davis Cup association to seed players, says missing and the pros aren't ready to romp through the competition. Australian professionals Rod Laver and Ken Rosewall are expected to reach the final of the British Hard Courts Championship, which carries a first prize of $2,400.

British officials, having finally gotten their way after years of campaigning for open tennis, are puzzled by the absence of Europe's top amateurs from the entry list.

They admitted Davis Cup stars have evidently been scared away by the pros.

Derek Hawick, chairman of the British Lawn Tennis Association, said: "We invited every day with many top Davis Cup players, but they aren't ready to romp through the competition. # Tigers Sweep Two From White Sox

CHICAGO (AP)—The rampaging Detroit Tigers made the most of Chicago misceut and the strong pitching of Earl Wilson and Danny McLain Sunday for a 4-2 doubleheader sweep over the winless White Sox, extending their winning streak to nine games.

In addition to brattling the punchless White Sox, who have lost nine in a row, the Detroit right-hander delivered a run in the second inning of the opener, helping the Tigers score four unearned runs following a damaging error by third baseman Pete Ward.

McLain, who yielded seven hits in the ninth, singled twice when White Sox manager Leo Durocher could have been an inning ending double play grounder.

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Orlando Cepeda led a two-hitter trio, Tim McCarver drove in three runs and Julian Javier had three hits leading the St. Louis Cardinals to a 9-2 romp over the Chicago Cubs Sunday.

Nelson Briles went the distance for the victors, striking out this season and 13th straight in a carryover streak that includes nine last season and one during the '61 series.

Ken Holtzman, who won nine straight games for the Cubs last year, was the victim of the Cardinals attack and tagged with the loss.

Cepeda homered in the first inning and McCarver and Mike Shannon produced the run that snapped a 2-2 tie in the fourth inning.

Senators Win Fifth Straight

OAKLAND (AP)—Camilo Pascual and reliever Darrell Knowles scattered seven hits Sunday, hurling the Washington Senators past Oakland 2-0 for their fifth straight victory.

Catcher Bill Bryan gave the Senators the only run they needed with a fifth inning homer off Cliff Humber. Humber also added an insurance marker in the ninth on successive singles by Ed Stroud, Ken McCormick and Frank Howard.

Pascual, recording his second victory in three decisions, yielded six hits before saving the game with two out and two on in the seventh. Knowles got the third out and blanked Oakland on hit the rest of the way as the Senators won for the seventh time in their last eight starts.

Los Angeles Trips Mets 7-6, 3-2

NEW YORK (AP)—Reliever Phil Regan earned victories in both games as the Los Angeles Dodgers swept a Sunday doubleheader from the New York Mets, 7-6 and 3-2.

Zollo Versalles drove in four runs with a double and triple as the Dodgers scored six times in the last two innings to erase a 5-1 New York lead and take the opener.

Then the Dodgers built an early 2-1 edge and Regan came out of the bullpen to protect it in the nightcap. He worked 4-1/3 innings before John Billingham came on to finish up.

The Mets stayed close on home runs by Ron Swoboda and Glenn Jones.

Swoboda and Ed Charles each tagged two-run shots in the first game.

The 36-year-old national PGA champion from Dallas, Tex., collected $30,000 as he held off a challenge from veteran Julius Ervan, who charged up with a 69 for 277.

Jim: "That certainly was the right spade to play. Did West take the bait?"
Oswald: "He took hook, line and sinker! He couldn't lead a diamond. He didn't want to lead a heart to dummy, so he played his ace of clubs."
