Preview Of Things To Come--Downtown T.F. Gets Ready To Bloom

By O. A. (Gus) KELKER

The proposed downtown development project, of which 42 local people got a sneak preview during a one-day air jaunt to the San Francisco Bay Area earlier this week, will have the wraps removed and will get a public showing in Twin Falls Wednesday.

Those backing the downtown project have worked for years to arrive at this point. Their theory is that the city center must be maintained as a major tax base and that any new shopping center here would surely go outside the city limits—thus putting more of a burden on businesses and individuals within the city limits.

In recent years the downtown area—like the downtown areas in many communities throughout the nation—has been deteriorating to the point that tax revenue is being lost as a result. The improvement program would change this trend.

If all goes well it will take about three years to get the job done in Twin Falls after the initial start is made. Such a project as planned here will be the first in Idaho and, for that matter, the first in the Intermountain Area.

The city is making the effort to San Francisco viewed similar projects at Los Altos, Santa Clara and Palo Alto in the Bay Area.

That of Los Altos, a community comparable to Twin Falls and one which had similar problems, seemed to strike a responsive note in the thinking of the local people.

The rejuvenation of Twin Falls' downtown section could add from 2 to 4 million to the evaluation of the city, and on the air trip City Manager Herb Derrick told this Times-News writer that "all property owners would benefit directly from such a situation."

Money for such improvements would mostly come from the property owners involved and the federal government and Mr. Derrick said (regarding use of federal funds) "I can't see anything wrong in this."

"The West and Northwest have been subsidized ever since there has been a United States. We have seen this money back—the railroads, the highways and the airports."

"Some people seem to think that federal money is a bad word, but it is well known fact that many Western States, like Idaho, get back twice as much money as we pay in. And why shouldn't we accept this help which is actually coming from the heavily populated areas?"

"If this downtown area dies, then the residents of Twin Falls are really in for something we won't like," Mr. Derrick declared.

In announcing the unveiling of the public of contemplated improvements in Twin Falls' downtown area, Joe Cilek, owner of Kregg's and also chairman of Urban Renewal in Twin Falls, and Voy Hudson, a board member and owner of Hudson's in the downtown area, said that one feature would be a model of the area as it will look when planned work is completed.

This model was shown to tour members in San Francisco and it will be shipped here for the session next Wednesday. In addition, there will be artists sketches of various planned improvements—photos of the area as it is today and aerial photographs of the town.

At the Wednesday session, program sponsors and officials of various units to be involved will detail finance plans as well as major changes to be undertaken.

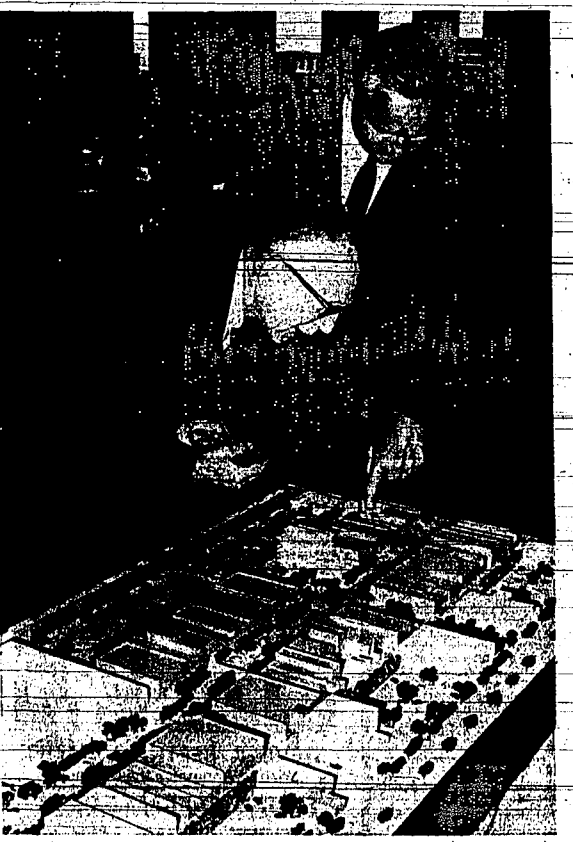

Mr. Cilek said that all citizens of the community are urged to attend the session. There will be no admission charge.

Officials to speak at the meeting will be announced the first of next week.

Concerning the trip to the San Francisco area to look at the renewal projects there, Mr. Hudson said it showed interest in the improvement was general among all merchants and others directly involved.

"It showed us we are together on this thing and if we are ever going to do the thing is right now," he concluded.

Other pictures of the San Francisco Bay area series are on Page 12.

RUDY ASHENBRENER, owner of the Price Hardware Co., in downtown Twin Falls, points out location of his store on a model of the area as it will look if a proposed project of improvement is adopted. John Angerbaumer, city councilman, leans over for a better view. The two men were among 42 local people who visited similar projects in the San Francisco Bay Area earlier this week. The model shown here will be featured at a meeting in Twin Falls next Wednesday.

Tornadoes Lash U.S. Midsection Killing 70

By The Associated Press

The most vicious onslaught of tornadoes this year slammed across the midsection Tuesday, leaving a trail of destruction and a score of other missing persons today. Property damage ran into the millions.

Hundreds of persons were injured by twisters, was hard hit with 43 dead. Iowa counted 14 dead and 20 missing. The twister blew today as twisters and severe weather and rain from the wall of water as the university city of Konesboro, Ark., reported 34 dead and injured.

Five of the communities hit in Arkansas—Oll Trough, Tucker, Manila, Marion and Black Oak, are in the state's tornado alley, battered by frequent storms.

In northeastern Iowa, Charles City, Delwin and Maynard are in the state's tornado alley. The Red Cross estimated 60 percent of Charles City was damaged, with 90 businesses wrecked or damaged, 300 homes destroyed and hundreds of persons injured.

Tornadoes or severe thunderstorms swept almost the entire length of Illinois starting before noon Wednesday and continuing into the night.

Hardest hit in Illinois was Freeburg, near East St. Louis, where four died and scores were reported injured.

Two died at Wavelle in central Illinois. Communication was lacking with Wavelle, and authorities feared the toll there would go higher. An elderly woman died of a heart attack after a tornado swooped across Natrona, also in central Illinois. A University of Illinois student was electrocuted by a downed traffic signal in a flooded Campaign street intersection.

6 Coal Miners Delivered From "Living Death"

By HOLGER JENSEN

SIX COAL MINERS, isolated deep in a flooded mine shaft and presumed dead for nearly 10 long days, were rescued today. All were termed in "good shape."

"Thank you, God," said Larry Lynch, the first to reach the mine entrance in pre-dawn darkness this morning. "You have delivered us from this living death. I made a vow all day of us would be out here together to thank the Lord."

Four other men trapped in the same area were found dead and their bodies were brought to the mine opening about 8 a.m. (EDT), about four hours after the six reached safety.

One report yet to be confirmed was that two of the dead men drowned while trying to jump from the wall of water as it broke in the mine. There was no report on how the other two died but officials said they probably were drowned. Another man was rescued last Saturday.

The six paused for prayer at the mine entrance, received quick medical checkups and were taken to the 400-bed, five-story Heart Hospital in Richmond, 15 miles away.

"Who said miracles don't happen?" said one of the men who alighted from an ambulance at the hospital's entrance. "People say God is dead but he's alive and here with us."

The men slipped hot chocolate in their hospital beds. All appear to be in good health.

Finance Commissioner John D. Silva said the plan calls for selling some $200,000 in loans to Equitable Savings and Loan.

There are 1,907 shareholders in Burley and 1,400 at Preston, Mr. Parson said.

Shareholders had slightly more than $2 million in loans out when it was closed Feb. 7, 1967.

The state said the savings and loan association was closed because of "inadequate liquidity, high loan delinquencies, an excessive amount of real estate owned resulting from foreclosure, and impairment of capital assets."

Only an hour later a twister whipped into Oelwein, 50 miles from Charles City, striking first Storms were reported in the small community except the high school was destroyed.

The rash of tornadoes—the weather bureau reported more than 30 in a nine-state area from Kansas to Ohio, swept through the front clashed with warm, humid temperatures in the mid 80s.

Shortly before striking in Illinois, a twister struck northeastern Iowa. A funnel cloud roared through downtown Charles City around 4 p.m. Strong winds and heavy rain were over and police reported most buildings in the eight-block area were damaged.

Shareholders Okay Firm's Settlement

BURLEY—A spokesman for shareholders of the defunct Prudential Savings and Loan Association which had headquarters here, Thursday expressed approval of the settlement plan proposed by the Idaho Department of Finance.

Bill Parson, Burley, attorney for the shareholders committee, said the plan, which will allow 30 per cent recovery now and a total recovery of about 75 per cent in two to three years, previously had been approved by shareholders in the Burley area. The firm also had an office at Preston and shareholders have formed committees in both places.

Herchel Bedke, Oakley, chairman of the Burley area committee of shareholders, was unavailable for comment.

The firm has 1,771 shareholders. The amount of real estate owned of outstanding shares was not available.

Conflict Develops During Peace Talks

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

AP Special Correspondent

PARIS (AP) — A serious disagreement developed during the opening in the Paris peace talks over re-establishing an effective buffer zone between North and South Vietnam as an important step toward scaling down the war.

U.S. authorities analyzing the problem are reported to be developing discussions so far about it to be a real issue.

North Vietnamese representatives, Xuan Thuy, demanded Tuesday that the United States halt all military actions against North Vietnam, including the bombardment of artillery bases in the southern part of the DMZ, as well as air strikes there and elsewhere.

He also demanded that the United States withdraw troops from the zone, but U.S. officials said neither the United States nor its

Ex-Legislator John Sanborn Dies In Boise

BOISE (AP) — John C. Sanborn, 62, a former U.S. congressman from Idaho's 2nd District, died today after a lengthy illness. He had been under treatment at a Boise hospital for two months.

A rancher in the Hagerman Valley area of Southcentral Idaho, Sanborn served for two terms as representative in Congress. He was elected in 1948 and was re-elected in 1950.

A Republican, he was a former seven-term state legislator and had been a candidate for U.S. senator and for governor and lieutenant governor.

A native of Chenoa, Ill., he was born Sept. 28, 1885. He attended Columbia University and earned a master's degree in political science and a degree in law.

He moved to Hagerman in 1913 and had since made his home there.

'Poor' Campaign Leaders Say It's Penniless As Its People

By AUSTIN SCOTT

WASHINGTON (AP) — Some organizers of the Poor People's Campaign say it is as penniless as its people. It is bringing to Washington.

"If we don't get more money, we'll have to stop construction," said the Rev. Bernard Lafayette, campaign coordinator. But he didn't say when the money would come.

Lafayette placed the cost of building "Resurrection City, U.S.," now about one-third city would be finished.

"We have faith in the American people. We have faith in our government. He wouldn't say how much had been spent, but he claimed a $100,000 reserve fund members held a 90-minute meeting Wednesday with the SCLC leader, the Rev. Ralph Abernathy, and his top aides. Participants who commented called it very helpful.

Afterward, Sen. Edward W. Brooke, R-Mass., and Philip A. Harr, D-Mich., and Rep. Ogden R. Reid, R-N.Y., drew up the framework for a 15 to 17-man House-Senate committee to meet with the protest leaders and mold specific programs.

Abernathy set no price on his broad goals of more jobs, better housing and an end to poverty. Sen. Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., said private speculation ranged as high as $30 billion.

Fair Exchange

As soon as Leo Soran, local restaurant owner, walked into Twin Falls Police court Wednesday afternoon with a citation for violation of the city dog ordinance, Judge Harry Turner reminded Soran to owed the man a small bill.

"I owe you some money," said the judge.

"Well, it looks as if I may owe you some, too," added the restaurant owner, who said he couldn't recall the amount of the judge's bill, off-hand.

On with the business of the court, Mr. Soran was advised of all of his rights, but if he chose to plead guilty the fine would be $3 and he would have to check my $8.

Mr. Soran concluded this was somewhat high, but primarily his best course of action would be to pay the $3 and drop the matter.

Again the judge reminded him of his own small bill.

"I'll have to check my records," added Mr. Soran, "but I think it's going to come to about $8."

Building Falls Killing Several

LONDON (AP) — The side of a brick and concrete apartment building in London's East End collapsed after an explosion at dawn today. Ten persons perished and are missing.

Police said the bodies had been recovered from the wreck.

Cost-Of-Credit Disclosure Bill Nears Success

WASHINGTON (AP) — An eight-year Capital Hill battle to enact a landmark cost-of-credit disclosure bill is within three steps of what President Johnson termed "a great victory for the American consumer."

Senate-House conferences reached final agreement Wednesday, after weeks of work on a compromise measure requiring that most borrowers be told the dollar-and-cent cost of credit on loans and purchases.

Senators estimated the bill would cover approximately $100 billion annually, on installment purchases, loans and other credit.

Sponsors said there is no question the House and Senate will approve the compromise version of the bill, probably next week.

Johnson left no doubt that the third remaining step, his signature on the legislation, would follow quickly.

He called it a long-overdue, "strong truth-in-lending" bill.

Under the measure those extending credit or making consumer loans would have to disclose two things on most transactions.

The annual interest rate figured on the declining balance of the obligation.

The total cost of credit in dollars and cents over its full life.

The battle for the legislation began in 1960 when it first was introduced by former Sen. Paul H. Douglas, D-Ill.

It finally was passed 92 to 0 last July 11 by the Senate, and 352 to 4 on Feb. 1, this year by the House.

But the House added a number of provisions to the measure and this led to a long-drawn-out conference. Most of the House items were retained in the final version, but several were revised.

The annual interest rate involved revolving credit, which has become increasingly popular with retail chain stores.

The change contended it was very hard to figure an accurate annual interest charge on such accounts.

The Senate voted to allow them to state only the monthly interest rate, often 1 1/2 per cent, but the House insisted on an annual rate which would be 18 per cent. Monthly charges were 1 1/2 per cent.

Under the compromise, the store would have to give both of these but could also state, if it chose, an effective rate based on its annual yield from such business. This would normally be the less attractive rate.

Also, a minimum revolving credit charge of 50 cents a month or less would not have to be based on the basis for the interest disclosure.

Senate Rejects Crime Bill Amendment To Ban Interstate Mail-Order Of Guns

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate rejected today a crime bill amendment that would have banned interstate mail-order sales of guns and handguns.

The vote was 53 to 25.

The amendment was offered by Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., whose brother, President John F. Kennedy, was assassinated and to the slaying of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. last month as he told the Senate Wednesday.

It is the rifle that has been the tool of vicious assassins who have brought us national tragedy and international shame. And discussing slum riots, beatniks, importers and dealers.

6 Miners

 peared cheerful and unharmed but hospital authorities barred newsmen from talking to the men while they chatted with their families.
 There had been no contact with the men since the water rushed in from the abandoned mine just before noon on May 6. It was believed that the men were in a point where they were thought to be and touched water. Officials announced they had been rescued.
 One of the rescued men told officers of the Guley Coal and Coke Co., operator of the mine, they had rationed the sandwiches on them.
 They said they also drank the murky water which flooded the passageway. "A doctor at the hospital said the water had to be considered as contaminated because of the danger of typhoid and dysentery exists."
 A search team spotted tracks this morning on the other side of the road. The search party followed them and followed them to the men. The trapped men had left their underground prison at the edge of the water as it receded.
 The six then followed the search team on their hands and knees for 800 yards to a mine shaft where they were rescued by a conveyor belt which they rode to the mine entrance. The cart skipped the track but one official said it fell to the ground. "We were in good enough shape to put it back on the track."
 At the three-story hospital, the men were shielded from newsmen by camera checkers and they talked with their families.
 "Thank God he's alive," said Mrs. Olie Gifford of Baltimore, Md., who knuckled her way through a maze of wires and gave up hope for all this time, and we will call believe it. He's my only brother and he's better than down that damn mine again."

Man Through Car Windshield

BUHL — John Nichel, 72, Route 3, Buhl, was listed in fair condition Thursday noon at Magic Valley Memorial Hospital after being struck through the windshield of his car at an intersection crash in Buhl at 8:15 a.m.
 Police Chief Dick Frazier said Nichel fell to the ground in the flight of way at the intersection of Church Avenue and Poplar Street and his 1962 Comet station wagon was crushed. He was killed by brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Karl Carnahan, and family, this week on route to the Interstate Pioneer school in Rock, Ariz. Mr. Carnahan's brother, Mr. Berret, judges flowers at fairs all over the world and she raises choice roses at her home. Mrs. Nichel's attorney was in Buhl and the Carnahans fled to the Christopher car.

Review Of Contempt Ruling Asked

Another round in the case of Police Chief Frank Barnett versus Probate Judge Richard R. Scoggin was started Monday with the filing of a petition for writ of review by Chief Barnett.
 The writ was filed in Fifth District Court before Judge Charles Scoggin, who heard the original complaint, and asks the judge to review the hearing on the complaint on the grounds that he exceeded his jurisdiction in the original action against the police chief.
 Action arose from a contempt of court ruling by Judge Reed during a preliminary hearing for former city police officer Ed Scoggin, charged with preparing of false evidence. Judge Reed ordered the police chief to show his personal notes, although they were not used on the stand by the officer during his testimony.
 Chief Barnett refused and was held in contempt of court and ordered to pay a fine of $100. Finally the judge had ruled the officer did not need to produce the notes but reversed this ruling on appeal.

Summary, Extended Outlook

High pressure dominates the valley. The extended weather forecast for the region today and fair skies and warming temperatures should be beyond the agricultural valleys above normal in all valleys of Southern Idaho today, tonight and Friday. The only threat for some light showers or showers over the extreme eastern valleys this afternoon. Precipitation was scattered over the area. Wednesday with heavy amounts over the mountainous areas. Some rain in the eastern valleys. Rexburg received .39 inches. Maximum temperatures were 74 to 78 degrees. Little change in the eastern valleys. Highs ranged from 67 at Fairfield to 38 at Malheur and Parma.

Public Defender States Philosophy Of New Job

James J. May, Twin Falls attorney who was appointed Wednesday as the county's public defender, said Thursday his firm will perform the services required by the appointment although he will operate from his offices at 516 Second St. E.
 Mr. May, a resident of Twin Falls since 1962, was elected to the office in 1960 and held that post until 1967, when he was appointed to the position of public defender. He has always been interested in criminal law, and in talking with other prosecutors and defense attorneys, he believes one of the most important things in a prosecutor's job is to protect the rights of all citizens including those charged with a crime, are more important than property rights decided in civil cases.
 Mr. May said he feels the Idaho Supreme Court decisions on criminal law have done much to remove the differences in the treatment of the prosecution and the defense. "I have always been interested in criminal law, and in talking with other prosecutors and defense attorneys, he believes one of the most important things in a prosecutor's job is to protect the rights of all citizens including those charged with a crime, are more important than property rights decided in civil cases."

 to peace arrangements in the hands of such neutral Asian states as Burma, India and Indonesia.
 Harriman signed American thinking on the subject in presenting his government's first policy statement in the past several days. He said any new agreement would need international supervision but on a stronger basis than the Communist-Western-neutral committee set up by the 1954 Geneva accords—that ended "France's war in Indochina."
 Experience has demonstrated the shortcomings of the existing procedures," said Harriman. "We believe one of our major tasks will be to supervise more effective ways of supervising any agreement and insuring the fair and equitable investigation of complaints, except the monitoring of any agreements reached."
 On the face of it, this would imply to offer Communist China a part in the policing job, but the diplomat, sources stressed that the Americans have no quarrel with the Chinese and Washington was membership in an anti-control system confined to neutral or nonaligned countries.  After the second session Wednesday, at which they said the Communists were blocking the consideration of larger issues, an American spokesman commented: "We still find a few things which we believe we have a common interest."
 The conference recessed until Saturday.

Engineer Asks Continuance Of Gas Tax

BOISE (AP)—The Idaho Highway Department's planning director, Marvin Daniels, Friday asked the state legislature to continue the seven-cent state gasoline tax, which is scheduled to drop back to six cents on Jan. 1, 1970.
 "If the seven-cent tax should expire," Daniels said Tuesday, "Idaho's only recourse would be to reduce federal highway construction or drop out of present level of maintenance."
 Daniels and Law Enforcement Commissioner Warner M'Entee were among speakers at the Idaho Highway Speakers Conference in Boise.
 Mills said there have been abuses of Idaho's new motor vehicle inspection law.
 He said some service stations licensed to make inspections have been over-charged. Steps have been taken to revoke licenses of two stations, he said.
 The law requires that every motor vehicle be checked in 1968 and in each year thereafter. Mills said only about 23,000 of the approximately 500,000 vehicles in the state have been inspected so far.

Twin Falls Times-News May 16-17, 1968

Preliminary plans for a city-county jail facility which would house prisoners from throughout Twin Falls County gained favorable support in a meeting Wednesday afternoon of county officials and municipal representatives of Twin Falls, Kimberly, Filer and Buhl.

County Commission Chairman Heber Loughmiller said following the meeting that county officials desired an expression from the towns where there are now separate jail facilities before going ahead with a renovation plan at the county jail.

"We need to know what we will be planning for before we begin remodeling," Mr. Loughmiller told the group.

Sheriff Paul Corder explained his proposal for revising present jail operations on the fourth floor of the Courthouse to fully utilize space that is available, but not currently in use, for prisoners.

He said the county could share municipalities that wish to utilize the county facility on a basis of daily board costs for their prisoners.

Egon Kroll, Twin Falls mayor, and City Manager Herb Derrick said they would be interested in a joint facility, but would need to know immediately if such a plan is going to materialize.

A new city fire and police building is a major part of the proposed downtown renovation in Twin Falls and the city is now making plans for the renovation program. If there is to be a change to eliminate city jail facilities, the matter must be settled as soon as possible, they said.

There are jail facilities maintained in both Kimberly and Buhl, Sheriff Corder said, but most prisoners are transferred to the county jail following court appearances.

Other joint projects discussed between the county and city delegates Wednesday included the county-city airport proposals, handling of junk yards and other sites including where to do about old automobile bodies.

Jack Allen, Farm and Home Administration representative in Twin Falls, announced plans for a tour and meeting Tuesday morning and invited delegates to attend.

Mr. Allen said the tour will cover the upper area of Rock Creek and a proposed dam site which would hold water for irrigation of ranches along the creek. This, he said, could also provide additional recreational benefits for the area.

The tour will also cover the lower area of Rock Creek where a city-county plan calls for another holding reservoir to utilize canal-company and Rock-Creek flood waters for watering lands on the Shoshone.

Mr. Allen said the group may inspect the entire length of the creek with a thought toward recreational and irrigation development that could establish still further benefits.

Herb Derrick, chairman of the Idaho Water Pollution Control Committee, told the group that the time has come to set deadlines on when municipalities and industries must begin meeting pollution control standards set by the state.

"If we don't take this action on the local level and take it to the state, the state government will force the issue, telling us how and when we must eliminate pollution," Mr. Derrick warned.

COOPERATION BETWEEN MUNICIPALITIES and the county could result in lower cost jail facilities, Sheriff Paul Corder, center, tells Twin Falls city and county officials. Discussed were Twin Falls City Manager Herb Derrick, Sheriff Corder and County Commission Chairman Heber Loughmiller, seated, and Jack Allen, FHA, and Commissioner William Chancey, standing, all from left.

SHOSHONE — High school graduates were honored at the Wood River's Episcopal Parish of Lincoln an Gooding County. Events were sponsored by the vestries of the parish through the respective Christian Education Commissions.

A baccalaureate celebration of the Holy Communion was held at 8 a.m. at Christ Church, Shoshone, for Hal Ross Jr. and Marilyn Manning, young wives of Shoshone High School. Ross has served as a member of the Acolytes guild of Christ Church for nine years and has been active in appreciation projects and in the Methodist-Episcopal Teens.

Miss Manning has served her church as organist and earl-learner, has been a member of the church school staff and has been a member of the Junior Altar Guild for six years.

After the service, a breakfast was served to the graduates and their families by members of the vestry. Christian education chairman Max Goffman presented the graduates with a gift from the congregation.

Four graduates of Gooding high school were honored at a Baccalaureate celebration of the Holy Communion Sunday service at Trinity Church, Gooding. Steven Kelly was recognized for his service to the congregation as acolyte and junior lay leader. Appreciation was shown to Lucinda Schubert and Kathy Stuart for their activities in the Methodist-Episcopal Teens.

Court Blocks Merger Of 3 Railroads

WASHINGTON (AP) — A three-judge federal court today blocked indefinitely the merger of the Great Northern, Northern Pacific and Chicago, Burlington & Quincy railroads — called the northern lines.

The decision was by a 2-1 vote with Edward M. Curran, chief judge of the U.S. District Court, dissenting.

The two-page order said the merger, approved by the Interstate Commerce Commission last Nov. 30, "shall be stayed pending decision on the merits of this case or further order of the court."

The two-member majority for staying the stay was composed of David L. Bazelon, chief judge of the Court of Appeals in Washington, and Charles Fahy, senior circuit judge of the appeals court.

The court acted in a case filed by the Justice Department, challenging the ICC order.

Officials of the railroads were ready to sign the final merger papers May 10 when the merger was stayed temporarily by the Justice Dept. action.

The stay would have expired next Monday.

Programs Offer Work In Summer

By RAY GROMLEY
NEA Publications

The Army, Navy, Air Force, Treasury and Commerce Departments, the Federal Communications Commission, General Services Administration and the National Aeronautics and Space Administration operate a cooperative work-school program for students with a group of participating colleges.

Under this program, students alternate periods of college study and work for the government. Students are paid for the work phase. The work is considered an essential part of the college course and is required for a degree.

Most of these programs are in science and engineering and require five years for a B.S. degree.

Under another program there are summer "internships" available through the Youth Opportunity Campaign. The federal government has summer training employment for young people 16 through 21.

Most of these programs are supervised by the Civil Service Commission, Washington, D.C. Positions are filled for the most part through competitive examination for Office and Science Assistant and Post Office Seasonal Assistant.

The State Department Foreign Service, the U.S. Information Agency for International Valley Authority, the Atomic Energy Commission, the Central Intelligence Agency and the Bureau of Medicine and Surgery of the Veterans Administration have their own programs.

Employment is limited to 700 hours during the summer. The minimum wage is $1.40 an hour. First priority is given needy youth.

For information, contact the nearest State Employment Service office or the Youth Opportunity Campaign Unit, Department of Labor, Washington, D.C.

Some offices of United States federal agencies offer still another plan of part-time employment during the school year and full-time employment during vacation periods. College students 16 and older are eligible.

In most cases, appointees must be enrolled in or accepted for enrollment in an accredited high school, college or other institution of higher learning.

Employment during the school year may not exceed 20 hours a week. While employed, appointees must maintain an acceptable school standing. They must need the earnings from the employment to continue in school.

Appointments under this authority are made for not more than one year, but there can be extensions.

Some Czech Reds Hope For Move By United States

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Special Correspondent

PRAGUE (AP) — Some Czechs who have fled to the United States to escape Communist rule are expressing hope privately for a gesture from the United States which might bolster their morale in what looks like an uphill fight against Moscow-inspired pressure.

Non-Communist sources point out, however, that anything beyond a gesture might add danger to an already potentially explosive situation developing between Czechoslovakia and other members of the Communist bloc.

Communist informants say the United States, without appearing to interfere in the current situation, could do two things which might have a material effect in terms of morale in a country whose economic problems present formidable barriers to liberalization.

One of these, the informants say, would be to extend most-favored-nation status to Czechoslovakia in trade with the United States. The other would be to reach an agreement in the dead-end quarrel over $20 million worth of Czechoslovak gold imported by the United States since World War II.

American trade with Communist Czechoslovakia reached a peak in 1956, an overall exchange figure of $65 million. The United States sold this country mostly grain, fertilizers and other agricultural products. Last year, the trade figure fell off by half.

The present regime, under Alexander Dubcek, first secretary of the Communist party, has made clear it would like more freedom in the handling of the policy of the U.S. administration in that an agreement should be negotiated.

The administration favors similar procedures in the case of Romania, also a maverick in the European Communist camp. However, the U.S. Congress has been unwilling to act.

The gold in question is Czechoslovakia's share of what was looted by the Nazis in Europe during the war. The United States, as a victor nation, pledged itself to seek the rightful owners. The gold was impounded.

Since the Communist takeover in Czechoslovakia, however, and the subsequent nationalization of all property, including that of foreigners, the gold is now held by the U.S. Treasury. The U.S. claims, plus $41 million more in interest.

After the Communist takeover, the United States also forfeited a steel mill for which the previous non-Communist Czechoslovak government paid $17 million. The United States has since sold it to the Czechs, which was applied against some of the claims. The present Prague government insists that it is $12 million more than the Americans agreed in 1951 on a lower claims figure. The United States did imply it might forget about the interest.

MAN KILLED

HARRISON, Idaho (AP) — Glenn R. Jantz, 46, Bonners Ferry, Idaho, was killed in a plane crash which destroyed a portable crane and struck him on the head.

Kootenai County Sheriff John Bender said Jantz, who is survived by his widow and 10 children at the home, was helping dismantle the crane when the accident happened.

WORKSHOP SET

BOISE (AP) — The State Department of Education has announced three workshops in teacher training for adult basic education have been made available to Idaho teachers and administrators.

The workshops, which are from two to three weeks long and carry a $15 per week stipend, will be at the Universities of Wyoming and Colorado, the department said Wednesday.

IDEA SAID PREMATURE

WILDER, Idaho (AP) — Sen. Phil Batt, R-Wilder, said Wednesday the recommendation by the Public Forces and Services Commission that equalized assessment of property be completed by 1972 is premature.

Current law requires equalization by 1977. The last legislature created a committee, headed by Batt, to study the matter. The committee is scheduled to report by November.

ATTEND CONFERENCE

BOISE (AP) — The State Department of Commerce and Development reported Thursday approximately 50 Idahoans are attending the tri-state Travel Council progress at Yreka, California, at the Yreka Convention Center.

Louise Sladdock, secretary of the Idaho department, is scheduled to speak at the program Friday. She will discuss state advertising and promotion projects.

DRAFT QUOTA CUT

BOISE (AP) — Idaho's draft quota for June has been reduced from 75 to 53 men, Maj. Gen. George A. Bennett, state selective service director, reported Thursday.

Bennett said the reduction was in line with a national cut of 32.2 per cent.

MEETING SCHEDULED

BOISE (AP) — The Idaho Home Association, announced Thursday it will hold its annual meeting and workshop next Saturday and Sunday, in Boise. The speaker will be Dr. Robert M. Levenson, Seattle.

Prosecutors Ask Steps To Protect "Unadaptable"

PARIS (AP) — A jury gave a suspended sentence Wednesday to a father who stabbed his mentally retarded daughter to death with a pocket knife and pleaded that it was a mercy killing.

It was the third case since 1956 in which French courts have acquitted "unadaptable" parents of sentences to parents who killed deficient children.

Prosecutors have been pleading for steps to protect nearly 70,000 "unadaptable" children for which public facilities are inadequate.

IMPROVEMENTS SET

POCATELLO (AP) — The Pocatello City Airport Board has approved plans for improvements including runway extension, 300 large jet aircraft can land.

The board met Wednesday and discussed adding 652 feet to the present 8,250-foot runway in addition to increasing its load bearing capacity.

The committee plans to have recommendations and cost estimates concerning the project by June 15.

The improvements include: the 1989 city budget.

WILL ASK APPROVAL

POCATELLO (AP) — A housing authority in Pocatello has agreed to request approval for a $1.8 million federal housing project for the elderly.

Ray Christensen, chairman of the authority, said Wednesday they plan to develop 100 units and they will ask the department of housing and urban development for a $60,000 advance loan.

Christensen proposes to have the construction done by private developers and Christensen said meetings will be held soon to obtain site location proposals.

RANCH TO OPEN

FAIRFIELD (AP) — The University of Idaho Extension Service announced Wednesday the 3,000-acre Angus and Hereford cattle ranch that won Everett Coates the 1957 "Gene Award" will be open June 7 for public inspection. It is located 14 miles northeast of Fairfield.

ABUSES FOUND

BOISE (AP) — Law Enforcement Commissioner Warner C. Mills said Wednesday some abuses have been found in operation of Idaho's new mandatory vehicle inspection law.

But he told the mid-year meeting of the Idaho Highway Inspection Conference that the inspection program is "important and just" and "will remove many unsafe vehicles from the highway."

Mills said some instances have been found of overcharging by the private service stations licensed to make the inspections. He said steps have been taken to revoke licenses of two stations.

McCarthy Is Campaigner Vital To Strategies Of 2 Opponents

By WALTER R. MEARS
OMAHA, Neb. (AP) — In primary election defeat, Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy has become a campaigner vital to the White House strategies of both Robert F. Kennedy and Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey. Kennedy needs an active opponent to contest in Oregon's May 23 Democratic primary, and in the windup races in California and South Dakota on June 4.

And McCarthy, loser of two outings in a row, said he will be there, campaigning through them all.

Kennedy lieutenants acknowledge they cannot afford to lose in Oregon where McCarthy maintains he now has an even chance.

And should Kennedy fail to match his showing in Nebraska, where he captured 51 per cent of the vote Tuesday, his cause would suffer.

"If I do well in the primaries, my choice for the nomination will be higher and Kennedy, who also won in Indiana on May 7, polling 42 per cent of the Democratic vote there."

Evidence Of Old Hammer Unearthed

WASHINGTON (AP) — A National Geographic Society expedition has unearthed evidence an ancestor of man was using a crude stone hammer 10 million years earlier than man himself had been thought to be using any tools.

The society said Wednesday Dr. Louis S. B. Leakey, famed British anthropologist, found evidence at Fort Ternan, Kenya, that the man-like creature "Kenyanthropus wickeri" apparently hammered open animal skulls and bones with the stone hammer 12 million years ago.

Leakey had discovered some years ago at Olduvai Gorge in Tanzania remains of the two-million-year-old "Homo Habilis," a direct ancestor of man which long was believed to be the earth's first toolmaker.

But the society quoted Leakey as saying the new discovery indicates the prehuman creature was using tools in the Pliocene period, 12 million years ago.

McCarthy Is Campaigner Vital To Strategies Of 2 Opponents

McCarthy now ambitions to a front man for fellow Minnesota Humphrey, but they acknowledge they do not want McCarthy out of the race, "that would put us in Nixon's position" one Kennedy politician said.

What he meant was that Nixon has been without an opponent since Michigan Gov. George Romney dropped out as a candidate 10 days before the opening race in New Hampshire.

And Nixon strategists have had trouble convincing people that their massive primary victories without active opposition from another candidate mean very much.

McCarthy Is Campaigner Vital To Strategies Of 2 Opponents

McCarthy got 31 per cent of the Nebraska vote.

Humphrey is not on the primary route, and is disapproving write-in efforts. He is instead concentrating on states which select their delegations in convention.

"Obviously, he is the major opponent," Kennedy said.

Humphrey drew only 8 per cent of the Nebraska vote, but insulated himself against a loss's label by shunning the miniature campaign conducted for him here.

If McCarthy can match his claims that he is even with Kennedy in Oregon and ahead of California, he could inflict major damage on the Kennedy drive.

But Kennedy aides claim that Nebraska, conservation-oriented and largely rural, will do for Robo, what West Virginia's primary did for his brother, the late President John F. Kennedy eight years ago — prove broad voter appeal and prove him through the rest of the primaries.

Kennedy clearly is discounting now the possibility that McCarthy might secure the nomination himself. But potent McCarthy showings in the West Coast primaries would be an assist to Humphrey.

Already, Kennedy men are

Some Czech Reds Hope For Move By United States

By WILLIAM I. RYAN, AP Special Correspondent.

PRAGUE (AP) — Some high-ranking Czechoslovak Communists stand for liberalization of the regime, express hope privately for a gesture from the United States which might bolster their morale in what looks like an uphill fight against Moscow-inspired pressure.

Non-Communist sources point out, however, that anything beyond a gesture might add danger to an already potentially explosive situation developing between Czechoslovakia and other members of the Communist bloc.

Communist informants say the United States, without appearing to interfere in the current situation, could do more than which might be met materially and in terms of morale in a country whose economic problems present formidable barriers to liberalization.

One of these, the informants say, would be to extend most-favored-nation status to Czechoslovakia in trade with the United States. The other would be to reach an agreement in the deadlocked quarrel over $20 million worth of Czechoslovak gold, which was "looted" by the United States since World War II.

American trade with Communist Czechoslovakia reached its peak in 1966, an overall exchange figure of $65 million. The United States sold this country mostly grain, feedstuffs and other agricultural products. Last year, the trade figure fell off by half.

The present regime, under Alexander Dubcek, first secretary of the Communist party, has made clear it would like most-favored-nation treatment. The policy of the U.S. administration is that an agreement should be negotiated.

The administration favors similar procedures in the case of Romania, also a maverick in the European Communist camp. However, the U.S. Congress has been unwilling to act.

The gold in question is Czechoslovakia's share of what was looted by the Nazis in Europe during the war. The United States, under the terms of a 1945 agreement, pledged itself to seek the rightful owners. The gold was impounded.

Since the Communist takeover in Czechoslovakia, however, and the subsequent nationalization of all property, including that of foreign-born Americans, citizens have registered $2 million in claims, plus $41 million more in interest.

After the Communist takeover, the United States also confiscated a steel mill for which the previous non-Communist Czechoslovak government paid $17 million. The United States has registered $9 million, which was applied against some of the claims. The present Prague government insists that the $17 million is deductible from any bill presented by the Americans.

There have been long and bitter negotiations about the gold. The Czechoslovaks say the Americans agreed in 1961 on a lower claims figure. The United States claims it might forget about the interest.

MAN KILLED (AP) — Glenn R. Smith, 45, of Boise, Idaho, was killed Wednesday when part of a portable crane fell and struck him on the head.

County Sheriff John Bender said Jantz, who is survived by his widow and 10 children, was at home, was helping on the crane when the accident happened.

WORKSHOP SET (AP) — The State Department of Education has announced three workshops in teacher training for adult basic education have been made available to Idaho teachers and administrators.

The workshops, which are from two to three weeks long and carry a $75 per week stipend, will be at the Universities of Oregon and Colorado, the department said Wednesday.

IDEA SAID PREMATURE (AP) — Sen. Bill Bateman, D-Idaho, said Wednesday the recommendation by the Idaho Task Force for Education that equalized assessment of property be completed by 1972 is premature.

Current law requires equalization by 1977. The last legislature created a committee, headed by Bateman, to study the matter. The committee is scheduled to report by November.

ATTEND CONFERENCE (AP) — The State Department of Commerce and Development reported Thursday approximately 20 businessmen attending the tri-state travel conference in progress at Yellowstone National Park.

The Idaho department is a scheduled speaker on the program Friday. She will discuss state advertising and promotion projects.

DRAFT QUOTA CUT (AP) — Idaho's draft quota for June has been reduced from 78 to 53 men, Maj. Gen. George B. Bennett, state selective service director, reported Thursday.

Bennett said the reduction was in line with a national cut of 32.2 per cent.

MEETING SCHEDULED (AP) — The Idaho Heart Association announced Thursday it will hold its annual meeting and workshop next Saturday and Sunday, in Boise. The speaker will be Dr. Robert M. Lovenson, Seattle.

Prosecutors Ask Steps To Protect "Unadaptable"

PARIS (AP) — A jury gave a suspended sentence Wednesday to a father who stabbed his mentally retarded daughter to death with a boy scout knife and pleaded that it was a mercy killing.

It was the third case since 1960 in which French courts have acquitted or given suspended sentences to parents who killed deficient children.

Prosecutors have been pleading for steps to protect heavily handicapped, "unadaptable" children for which public facilities are inadequate.

McCarthy Is Campaigner Vital To Strategies Of 2 Opponents

By WALTER R. MEARS

ONCE known in primary election defeat, Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy has become a campaigner vital to the White House strategies of both Sen. Robert F. Kennedy and Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey.

Kennedy lieutenants acknowledge they cannot afford to lose in Oregon, where McCarthy maintains he now has an even chance.

And Kennedy failed to match his showing in Nebraska, where he captured 51 per cent of the vote Tuesday, his cause would suffer.

"If I do well in the primaries, the chance for the nomination will be high," said Kennedy, who also won in Indiana on May 7, polling 42 per cent of the Democratic vote there.

McCarthy got 31 per cent of the Nebraska vote.

Humphrey is not on the primary route, and is disavowing active efforts. He is instead concentrating on states which select their delegations in convention.

"Obviously, he is the major opponent," Kennedy said.

Humphrey drew only 8 per cent of the Nebraska vote, all written-in ballots, but insulated himself against a loser's label by shunning the maturation campaign conducted for him here.

"If McCarthy can match his claims that he is even with Kennedy in Oregon and ahead of California, he could inflict major damage on the Kennedy drive."

But Kennedy aides claim that Nebraska conservation-oriented anti-target runoff will do for Robert West Virginia's primary did for his brother, the late President John F. Kennedy eight years ago.

They say McCarthy's broad voter appeal and propel him through the rest of the primaries.

Kennedy clearly is discounting now the possibility that McCarthy might secure the nomination himself. But potent McCarthy showings in the West Coast primaries would be an asset to Humphrey.

Evidence Of Old Hammer Unearthed

WASHINGTON (AP) — A National Geographic Society scientist has unearthed evidence an ancestor of man was using any tools.

The society said Wednesday Dr. Louis B. Leakey, famed British anthropologist, found evidence at Fort Ternan, Kenya, that the man-like creature "Kenyanthropus" wickered apparently hammered open animal skulls and bones with the stone hammer 12 million years ago.

Leakey had discovered some years ago at Olduvai Gorge in Tanzania remains of the two-million-year-old "Homo Habilis," a creature whose long which was believed to be the earth's first toolmaker.

But the society quoted Leakey as saying the new discovery indicates the prehuman creature was using tools in the Oldocene period, 12 million years ago.

Reagan Pleased With Vote

HONOLULU (AP) — California's Gov. Ronald Reagan, gratified by his showing in the Nevada primary, says he will not refuse the Republican presidential nomination if it is offered to him by the party.

"Once the party has made its choice, I don't think anyone would say no to that," the first term governor told a news conference Tuesday.

But Reagan also said, "I could never foresee myself so far from the job. I have always believed it is a job that seeks the man, not the other way around."

Reagan commented on the election after a session of the Western Governors Conference, the showing in the primary vote pleased the governor and his supporters.

His backers believe he can capture the party's presidential nomination in the event of a deadlock between New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller and former Vice President Richard M. Nixon.

Reagan did not campaign in Nebraska. "I have heard some people say they would be happy if the vote turned out to be 50 per cent," he said. "It is surprising to me, I am gratified to think that there are that many people who feel that way."

Reagan said he would allow his name to be placed in nomination at the Republican National Convention in Miami Beach because "I am a favorite son candidate in my own state."

Recovery Of Accounts In Firm Viewed

The Department of Finance recently proposed to the shareholders of Prudential Savings and Loan Association one of two plans that would enable partial recovery of their share accounts and call for a vote by the shareholders.

Substantially all of the votes have been received and of the 1,771 votes, 1,678 people favor the plan recommended by the Department of Finance.

This will enable a recovery of approximately 30 per cent (now and a total estimated recovery within two to three years of 75 per cent.

The accepted plan calls for the selling of $500,000 and $600,000 of qualified loans to Equitable Savings and Loan which will purchase the loans at par.

It should be noted that the buying of loans at par in today's market is extremely beneficial to the shareholders in that discounts are now approaching seven per cent.

The shareholders will be advised via letter during the next 30 days as to how the funds will be paid out. The initiation of this recovery plan is now predicated only on approval by the court. Shareholders will be advised as to pay-out procedure via letter and pay-out will commence within 30 days after receipt of court approval.

THUNDERBIRDS AERIAL DEMONSTRATION team will be the highlight of the Armed Forces Day observance Monday at Mountain Home Air Force Base. An open house at the base will begin at 11 a.m. and the Thunderbird performance will be at 5:30 p.m. Throughout the day a variety of military aircraft and equipment will be on display.

Colorado River Plan Nears Voting

WASHINGTON (AP) — A $1.3 billion Colorado River water development plan — product of a half-century of conflict and compromise — is scheduled to be voted upon in the House of Representatives for the first time.

Sponsors from the Colorado River Basin states produced a narrow victory in voting expected Thursday.

The bill would authorize the long-disputed Central Arizona Project, already approved three times by the Senate — on conditions that could lead to additional additions to the water supply of the arid Colorado River system.

The certainty that the Columbia River's abundant water supply will be appraised as a potential source of water for diversion into the Colorado River has crystallized united opposition among congressmen from the Pacific Northwest states.

The Northwesters will center their fire on an authorization for a feasibility study. The study would seek ways of augmenting the Colorado River and of committing the United States to fulfillment of a 1944 treaty obligation with Mexico for delivery of 1.5 million acre feet of water annually without shorting any of the seven states of the Colorado River basin.

The Central Arizona Project, now estimated to cost $780 million plus $100 million for a distribution system, was passed by the Senate in 1950 and 1951. But it was stymied in the House Interior Committee by California challenges to Arizona's right to use the water.

Can't Buzz

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif. (AP) — In case the bees haven't heard — no longer can they buzz in Charles Caballero's backyard. An order to this effect was signed Wednesday by Superior Court Commissioner James P. Natoli. Caballero, 77, complained the bees living in the yard of his neighbor crossed over property lines.

Mountain Home Base Sets Armed Forces Day Event

Armed Forces Day at Idaho's Mountain Home Air Force Base, will be observed Monday with a day-long open house and demonstrations of military equipment.

Flyovers by F-102s, B-52s, T-33s and RF-4Cs, are scheduled from 3 to 4:30 p.m.

Military equipment including helicopters, tanks and a jet engine, will be on display throughout the day.

The Thunderbirds, the aerial demonstration team, will arrive at noon, following the beginning of the open house at 11 a.m.

Strikes Costly To U. S. Economy

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Labor Department says strikes in the first three months of 1968 cost the nation's economy 9.9 million man-days of working time, the highest first-quarter figure in 18 years.

There were 1,130 strikes involving 573,000 workers during the period, the Bureau of Labor Statistics said Wednesday.

Downtown Preview

TWIN FALLS DOWNTOWN area, as it looks today, would be vastly different if a rebuilding program gets under-way. Plans for the rebuilding will be unveiled to the public at a session next Wednesday evening. This aerial photo of the area involved and the surrounding district was taken by Gus Keller from a plane flown by Ken Heppner.

MEANDERING MAIN STREET in Los Altos, Calif., which features an offset center line, permitting angle parking on one side and parallel parking on the other, is noted in this picture. The picture, taken this week in the Bay Area city during a visit there by 42 residents of Twin Falls, also shows the elimination of overhanging signs in that community.

PART OF GROUP from Twin Falls crosses trellised Main Street of Los Altos, Calif. That community's development program has been much like the one contemplated in Twin Falls. Private investment is near the $5 million mark.

SANTA CLARA'S Post Office is just barely visible in this picture of an interior court in that community's completely rebuilt downtown area. Also noted is a Parliian type bulletin board. Stores border this area.

Civitan District Meet Scheduled In T.F.

Speakers for the district convention of Civitan Clubs of the Intermountain District scheduled in Twin Falls Friday through Sunday will include International Civitan President Francis Essic, Misheim, N.C., to be the convention committee chairmen, he announced Thursday.

Sessions will be held in the Holiday Inn with delegates from 14 clubs and 140 members. States expected to attend. District Gov. Dr. Howard Miller, Nampa, will conduct the business sessions. The dinner will be elected and special awards will be presented. Outstanding clubs and members will be honored.

Assisting as a convention speaker will be International Vice President Robert Fears, Billings, Mont.

R. Adamson, Twin Falls, convention chairman, said registration will begin at 7:30 p.m. Friday, with business sessions starting on Saturday and Sunday. Mr. Adamson, district lieutenant governor, is assisted by H. C. Cheney, president of the Twin Falls club, and other club officers and committee members.

Mr. Essic, a native of North Carolina, is one of the youngest to have served as Civitan president and was elected to the top position in 1966. He has been associated with the service organization for 14 years and had held office in Twin Falls. He has served numerous other international offices and assignments. He is a veteran of several years in the U.S. Air Force and currently is director of alumni affairs and head basketball coach for Pfeiffer College in his home town.

Mr. Fears, international vice president, is a funeral director in Billings, Mont., and is well known in his local community as a square dance caller. He is active in Boy Scout work and Presbyterian Church. He was elected president of the Billings Civitan Club in 1958 and has served as district governor before being elected to the international office in 1966.

Ernest Hill, Idaho Falls, will be installed as district governor, succeeding Dr. Miller, during final convention sessions.

A CHECK FOR $200 is presented for the Easter Seal Center by Mrs. Hal Ross, Shoshone, vice president of the Burmah Club, Shoshone, to Mrs. Frank Stearns, Shoshone, Easter Seal Center trustee for Lincoln County. Looking on is Pamela Freeman, Shoshone, who receives special therapy through the center. The Shoshone club members made quilts and collected the $200 for use by the center. Presently, four persons from Lincoln County, two adults and two children, are receiving help from the center.

Airline Pilots Learn To Live With Growing Problem Of Crowded Sky

By TOM TIEDE
KANSAS CITY, Mo. — (NEA) — A few weeks ago, Trans World Airlines pilot James Ronholm, 37, was maneuvering a tri-engine 727 passenger jet toward the final approach at Denver's snow-white Stapleton airport. He was on course, moving at 200 knots. Then, moments away from his touchdown, there was the unbelievable sight of another aircraft immediately ahead. It was a small white Cessna, slowly fluttering by. Ronholm closed an alert. The two planes clipped. Luckily, they missed. But just barely.

For Capt. Palmer Ronholm it was a stunning moment. But it was nothing entirely unusual. He's had "God, I don't know how many" similar experiences. So, apparently, have most other veteran airline pilots.

Federal Aviation Agency reports that at least 500 "near misses" occur each year in the air. Experts say the actual annual total is probably thrice that.

And it's small wonder. In 1945 there were 37,800 civilian aircraft competing for U.S. airspace. Today there are 120,000. By 1977 the total will be well over 200,000. The big sky is getting smaller and smaller.

Sighs Capt. Ronholm: "We just have to learn to live with it."

Some of us, unfortunately, will also have to learn to die with it. Midair collisions accounted for 111 air carrier fatalities last year and the probability is that the situation will get worse before it gets better.

Pilots hope not. They say it's bad enough to risk the number of passengers in today's jetliners, but the future is still bringing 350 capacity aircraft and visionary hints are that 900-seaters are likely within a decade. "Lord," says a United Airlines pilot, "can you imagine a piddly little Beech Bonanza flying with a 747? That's almost unbelievable. Ideally, the situation should change, at least ease, before such a catastrophe is born. But few observers count on it. Jetliners are only two years away from operation, but significant air traffic improvement is nowhere on the horizon.

Still, pilots are pumping for a hurry up.

"The trouble is," says Mowhawk Capt. Dino Ciancetta, "we all agree on the air traffic problem. But we just can't get together on the solutions."

Some of those problems:

- Airlines gripe that too little has been done to establish air traffic priorities at airports. Thus a jet with 150 passengers has to wait its turn, and less-crowded jets are being held back.
- During 25 years of fantastic improvement in the air travel industry, the air traffic control system has lagged dangerously behind. It's still basically one man in a tower directing a dozen planes, while a string of jetliners and "looks at" on a small screen.
- Radar, a remarkable tool for the most part, is inadequate at the absolute backbone of air control and going, it's far too limited. One complaint is that radar paints (radar) birds and birds, to the confusion of all.
- But machinery and systems to the contrary, the real problem of air congestion is more fundamental. Simply put, there are too many planes in too few places.
- Actually, talk of the "crowded sky" is somewhat misleading. Airline pilots say they are generally not flying in the same areas, but each craft would have a square-mile-of-private space.
- What is crowded, though, is the sky over certain areas, usually air terminals — in the country. O'Hare at Chicago, as an example, where 1,500 planes come and go daily. And Kenwood at New York where take-off delays average 40 minutes.
- The culprits in these jammed areas are easily identifiable. Airline pilots say they are general aviation craft, springing instrumented, often jockeyed by teenagers, but still demanding minimum amounts of air-trafficability.
- Explains TWA's Capt. Ronholm: "The real worry in this thing is the weekend pilot. The guy who has a couple drinks at his club on Long Island, then invites his gang to board his jet and 'take a little ride over the area.'"
- "Maybe he's a good pilot. Maybe not. But in any case he shoots up and down Long Island, unscheduled and unpredictable, and in the process botches things up at three major terminals, Kennedy, LaGuardia and Newark."
- According to Ronholm, such weekend sightseers are what cause the 500 near-misses each year, and are what endanger the life of every airline passenger.
- At first study, the answer to the dilemma seems easily apparent. For the safety of all, general aviation should be (1) banned from problem airports during critical traffic hours, or (2) banned from such ports altogether.
- But there is fat chance either will happen.
- General aviation is not without influence. The weekend fellow in his Lear Jet is quite possibly a corporation president, the friend of a dozen people in high places, and not a fellow to be easily robbed of his freedom.
- Besides, general aviation has as much right to airport access as passenger aviation. The ports built with taxpayer contributions, and anyone who can afford a $30,000 runabout airplane is a considerable tax contributor.
- Still in all, something must be done.
- Perhaps conciliation is the answer. One day the airlines may have to, say, begin round-the-clock scheduling to help relieve rush hour choke ups. In return, general aviation may be forced to separate instrumented and pilot efficiency to qualify for future arrivals — departures at many large airfields.
- Until then, however, air traffic will remain at the flash point.
- And every plane that goes up is a potential spark.

Hansen Gives Warning On Peace Talks

JEROME — A warning against placing too much faith in the Paris peace talks on Vietnam was given by Rep. George Hansen, Republican, Tuesday night at a dinner meeting of the South Central Idaho District Medical Society at Wood Cafe.

The candidate noted that while we all hope and pray the talks will bring the better struggle in Vietnam to an end, Hanoi has shown no signs of any de-escalation "on her part — and still insisting that we unilaterally stop all other actions of war."

Rep. Hansen quoted from an article in the current issue of U.S. News and World Report that the foreign minister of Thailand believed "the Paris talks could have started six months ago if Hanoi had not been encouraged by the talk of doves in the U.S. Senate who dreamed of an American 'pull-out'."

"Ever since I have been in Congress, and before, I warned that the doves and those in the Senate foreign relations committee have encouraged Ho Chi Minh to continue his aggression," he declared.

Dr. John McKain, Twin Falls, was program chairman of the medical society meeting in Jerome.

Three Youths Plead Guilty To Burglary

RUPERT — Three Magic valley youths have pleaded guilty to a charge of first degree burglary in connection with a burglary of about $2,500 worth of tires from Wynn's Tire company in Paul last month.

The youths, Jan Anderson, Twin Falls; Mickey Barnes, Jerome; and Fred Suhr, Paul, appeared before Fifth District Judge Sherman Bellwood last week after waiving rights to a preliminary hearing in Mindoka County Probate Court last week.

The judge ordered a presentence investigation before sentencing.

A fourth youth, Allen Meyers, Jerome, also has been charged with the offense. He is currently free on a $1,500 bond and had not yet appeared in district court.

Psychiatry Seminars Set At Star Weather Ranch, Hailey

HAILEY — Star Weather Ranch will hold seminars for its second year starting July 28. The ranch is located some four miles north of Hailey on 350 acres of pasture land, woodland, beaver ponds, and a trout-filled stream.

Mrs. Josephine Price, owner of the ranch, named it "Star Weather Ranch" because on clear nights every star in the Idaho and now of Mt. Pleasant, Iowa, is visible. Living on the ranch regularly!

are chipmunks, muskrats, mink, rabbits, owls and a wide variety of birds and ducks. Regular visitors are deer, elk, and blue heron.

Star Weather Ranch Institute was incorporated as a nonprofit educational organization under Idaho laws Feb. 27, 1967.

Mrs. Price, a psychiatric social worker for many years in Blaine county school guidance director, vice-president, and charge of the first seminar July 28-Aug. 2. She was conference porter, secretary and treasurer. Directors are Ray Jefferson, Ketchum school principal; John Lister, Sun Valley musician; and Richard Meyer, Sun Valley architect.

While only one seminar was held last year, two will be presented this summer. Hannah Weiner, a psychodramaist affiliated with the Moreno Academy at Beacon, N. Y., will be in charge of the first seminar July 28-Aug. 2. She was conference porter, secretary and treasurer. Directors are Ray Jefferson, Ketchum school principal; John Lister, Sun Valley musician; and Richard Meyer, Sun Valley architect.

This seminar is intended for psychiatrists, psychiatric social workers, psychologists, pastoral counselors, school guidance counselors and advanced graduate students.

There will be demonstration of warm-up, ego building techniques, and various projective action techniques. Spouses and teenage children will be welcome at the sessions, Mrs. Price said.

The second seminar will be held Aug. 11-16 with Virginia Saitt teaching. Mrs. Saitt, who conducted last summer's seminar, was formerly director of the League's outstanding rookie training for the Family Project at the Mental Research Institute for Palo Alto, Calif. She is currently a director of the ESALER Institute at Big Sur, Calif., and is the author of "Conjoint Family Therapy." Children are encouraged to attend these sessions.

ROOKIE NAMED
Jerry Des Jardins, 23 has been named the American Hockey League's outstanding rookie for last season. He tended goal at the Mental Research Institute for Cleveland.

WASHINGTON (AP)—In an ivory-colored tower overlooking the Pentagon works a group of thinkers who feel much misunderstood and a bit besieged. They work for the Institute for Defense Analyses, and their job, not coincidentally, is to analyze. As its annual report says, "The basic objective of IDA is to provide an independent and objective source of studies and advice for the federal government and, in particular, for the Department of Defense."

Chester Friesen

RUPERT Chester A. Friesen, 52, died Thursday morning in the Boise Veterans Hospital of a long illness. He was born Feb. 4, 1916, in Nelson, British Columbia, Canada, and lived in Rupert most of his life. In December, 1943, he married Lucille Miller in Rupert. They later were divorced.

Masami Semba

Masami Semba, 78, R. 2, Twin Falls, died Tuesday evening at Magic Valley Memorial Hospital of a brief illness. He was born Sept. 11, 1891, in Kumamoto, Japan. He came to the United States on July 23, 1921, settling in Seattle. He moved to the Twin Falls area in 1942. He was a member of the Buddhist Church. He married Etsu Iwakima in 1944 at Kumamoto.

Bengals Test Montana In Big Sky Meet

POCATELLO — How many points does coaching champion get you? Coach Bob Beeten hopes it's worth a few points because the Bengals will be tested in a Big Sky Meet Friday and Saturday in Ogden, Idaho.

The Grizzlies of Harley Lewis have been more than a better times or distances than ISU's best in 12 of 18 events, and also have the depth to back up their top individuals. ISU's main hope to upset the Grizzlies is that the pride of defending champs will bring additional points into the contest, and that such individuals as Randy Montgomery (W.S. sprinter-and-long jumper), Jim Thomas (MSU long and triple jumper), Steve Brown and Vern Deal (Idaho high jumper and steeplechaser respectively) can score points counted on by Montana.

ISU-Weber Twin Bill Will Decide Title, NCAA Bid

POCATELLO — Idaho State lost a pair of baseball games Saturday to Weber State in Ogden and will depend on an ISU-WSC twin-bill to be held Saturday at 1 p.m. in Idaho Falls.

By dropping the two to Weber, ISU dropped to second in the BSAC baseball race, despite the Bengals' slick 7-4 season record. Weber is now 6-2 and ISU 7-3. Weber was raised out of a pair with Montana State and will play two less games than ISU. The Saturday twin-bill will close out the regular season for both teams.

Culver And Reds Blank New York 3-0

NEW YORK (AP) — Right-hander George Culver scattered seven hits Wednesday night in hurling the Cincinnati Reds to a 3-0 victory over the New York Mets.

The Reds, who had lost six of their previous seven games, tagged rookie Jerry Kosman, 22, for nine of their 13 hits and two runs in the six innings he pitched.

Culver, a former relief specialist acquired from the Cleveland Indians last winter, evened his record at 2-2 with the help of two-tinning double plays.

Johnny Bench led off the second inning with a single and Ada Pinson beat out a bunt, bench scores on the first off Tommy Helms' three singles and Pinson tallied on Leo Caranous' two-out single, giving the Reds a 2-0 lead.

Wendell Battles Homedale For B State Title; Borah And I.F. To Duel For A

By LARRY HOVEY
Times-News Sports Editor

Homedale fights Wendell and Borah in duals today. Falls for the team championship in the combined Class A and B state track and field finals Saturday in the Boise College Stadium.

From the performances of all three regions last week, it appears that Homedale rates about a three-point edge over Wendell while Borah will win the Class A title if junior sprinter Don Caylon can surpass Idaho's Fred Kirk in a race or two.

Magic Valley's best efforts will come from its Class B athletes who should take the 200-yard ribbon out of the finals even if the team trophy should elude them. Decio and Hagerman figures to get second place efforts and could finish up in the top six or seven. On the Class A side, only seven area men will be going but there is a chance of Wendell's three or four championships—all things going exactly right.

Wendell is in the same position it was in regional last week, trying to catch up. The Trojans sustained a big setback when Dennis Jacobsen failed to qualify for the 220-yard dash and it means the Homedale must help, particularly in the pole vault, to overhaul the third district crew.

Wendell should be strong—in the three relays, the 800-yard mile and medley quartets, and Brandon Eaton, in the 100 and 200 yard dashes. The team has 10 points. Jacobsen defends his state 440-yard dash title and his stiffest competition figures to come from Homedale's Deshaun, who has beaten him two out of three now, and one of the Gray twins from IHM of Boise. Alene, Tracy will be Wendell's only field finalist competing in the district.

The field events are where Homedale will be toughest, figure 18 points. And that is based on the opinion that Bruce Darrington of Declo can stay ahead of Wendell's duo of Garcia and Haylett. It would be to Wendell's advantage if someone could sneak in ahead of the Homedale.

Bishop of Bliss and Eaton will be fighting the northern contingent in the 100-yard dash with Eaton leading the pack. The 440-yard dash is the three-way battle listed before and the half-mile will pit Kimberly's Doug Fister against the other Gray twin from IHM.

The area should dominate the relays—excepting the 440-yard relay. Wendell has the edge in the 800-yard and medley relays while Kimberly, with Emerson, R. Erickson, D. Erickson and Wendell, has the edge in the mile, but only winning by inches over Parma and Wendell last week.

Tom Overlie appears capable of repeating in the low but Hagerman junior will be bucking a 15.7 hurdler from north Idaho in the high. The Darrington boys Bruce and Carl should get timber points along with Glenns Ferry's Bob Timm in the high.

Karl Darrington will be back, long heads with Nelson of Coeur d'Alene in the high jump honors and Horzout of Castor has the best regional broad jump. Homedale's strength, in addition to the pole vault, comes in the weights with the Pearson boys and Rick Kushlan. Mike Madarieta and Gallo of Hagerman could help Wendell plenty in the shot.

On the side, it falls down to this, Scott Cryder of Twin Falls, who will be able to go in the pole vault.

Also for Twin Falls, Von Wells could win the high hurdles—and could be the star of the meet if he beats the boys who will be there. The same thing is true in the shot-put where Jay Ulrich could win it all or finish as low as fourth. He has the best shot of the year, however.

Minico sophomore Mike O'Donnell is the other contender, being a consistent six-foot high jumper. His youth and the state pressure will be his biggest assets. The finals are full of six foot leapers.

On the track, Filer's Bill Shank should get points out of both the 100 and 220-yard dashes but with Minter and Kirk around first place appears just out of reach, barring a great start in the century.

The other individual is Jay Wardle of Burley, who has had some fine broad jumps—and could win, but the Meridian duo of Pirtle and Gunther have been a little ahead of him in distances most of the spring.

A preliminary quarter mile and distances, shows that Bluff will run away with the A side if Minter is able to master Kirk. It seems that barring the unforeseen—like a dropped baton in a relay, Kirk would have to win both sprints and anchor a victory in the quarter mile relay for Idaho Falls to retain its team crown. It would also have to hold up in all other events.

Mays Cracks 571st, Giants Topple Astros

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Caylon Perry survived a ninth inning scare with relief help and Willie Mays cracked a two-run homer Wednesday as the San Francisco Giants defeated the Houston Astros 7-3.

Mays belted his seventh homer of the season and 571st of his career with two out in the first inning. Ray (Doc) Hund reached base on an error.

The Giants added another run off loser Denver Lemaster 3-4 in the second.

Perry, 4.2, was breezing along with a two-hitter until a single, an error and Doug Rader's three-run homer broke the spell in the seventh.

Then in the ninth, the Astros loaded the bases with one out on two walks and a hit before Jay Gibbon relieved and struck out pinch-hitter Bob Appromonte and reliever Frank Linyz got pinch hitter Julio Golay to ground out.

Boston Is Ordered To Build New Stadium Or Lose AFL Franchise

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP)—The Boston Patriots must be in the process of building a new stadium or lose their franchise to the AFL, the league's owners have ordered.

The resolution approved unanimously by AFL and National Football League owners calls for all member teams to have stadiums with a capacity "in the vicinity of 50,000 by 1970."

The NFL has had the requirement for several years. The merger of the two leagues provides that any new team must have a stadium which would seat at least 50,000.

Another AFL team outside of Boston that falls below the minimum is Detroit, but the biggest stadiums in the process—Buffalo, which has a stadium which seats about 44,500. This could be considered too low but it would be a decision by the owners whether it falls in the vicinity of the minimum.

Bro football Commissioner Pete Rozelle conceded to newsmen that Boston probably is the stadium which has the longest time to be affected. He said the Patriots "will be told they have to have an adequate stadium or they will lose the franchise. Plans are not underway to build such a stadium by at least 1970."

However, Rozelle said, "The owners are in the process of deciding whether stadiums meet the requirements."

There have been reports that Boston may move the franchise because of the seating in their stadium, which holds about 37,000.

Birmingham, Ala., is among the cities openly seeking the franchise.

The threat to the Boston franchise came after the owners unanimously agreed to experiment with an extra point change in 23 exhibition games between the two leagues this summer in which kicks would be prohibited.

The experiment requires that the team in possession of the ball pass for one point on a conversion attempt after a touchdown.

However, the owners voted to retain the old scoring systems in games matching teams of the same league. Games between NFL teams in the exhibition season will see the teams kicking as usual. Teams in the AFL will be able to kick for one point or run or pass for two as they have in the past.

The old rules also will apply during all regular season games between the two leagues.

The experiment is being tried to see if it will produce more points in the exhibition season. Most automatic in both the NFL and AFL, and AFL kickers hit

Andretti Sure 170-MPH Barrier Will Be Broken

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP)—Mario Andretti, who has broken the Indianapolis Motor Speedway's 170 m.p.h. barrier will be shattered in Saturday's qualifications for the 52nd 500-mile race, May 30.

The Nazareth, Pa., driver predicted in a poll Wednesday that the top average in Saturday's current qualifying trials of the Speedway, set last year, is 168.882 for the 10 miles and a best lap of 169.778.

Predictions in the poll of 15 top drivers averaged 170.406 for the pole car. Saturday with a best lap of 171.307 and a minimum of 163.62 to make the 33-car starting field.

Dan Gurney of Santa Ana, Calif., International racer who started beside Andretti in last year's 500, predicted the pole car would average 170.7. Gordon Johncock of Hastings, Mich., who completed the 1967 front row starting field.

Proctor J. of Houston, Tex., who won his third Indy 500 last year, estimated it would take 171.1 to sit on the pole this year.

Nobody reached 170 m.p.h. in the first two weeks of practice. Mike Spence of Eireland canceled his start at 169.555 in a new Lotus turbine car, then was injured fatally in a crash in a sister car the same day.

Graham Hill, former world champion and 1966 Indianapolis winner, also has been in 169 in another Lotus turbine.

Niagara's Second Crop Of Steelhead On Way To Sea

By LARRY HOVEY
Times-News Sports Editor

WENDELL—The second year planting of middle Snake River steelhead in the Pahsimeroi River is about 75 per cent complete and the third crop is hatching, reports C. R. (Bob) Quidor, superintendent of the Niagara Spring Steelhead Hatchery.

Quidor said about 1,200,000 steelhead smolts, running about eight to a pound, have been started on their way down the Pahsimeroi and Salmon River drainages toward the Pacific Ocean and another half million are being sent after the vanguard daily.

Backed by the experience of the first-year operation, Quidor said this season's performance has been much smoother. One major step taken this year has been forcing the fish in levers of the benevolent hand of man and starting the trip toward the sea and adulthood.

Under the project, underwritten by Idaho Power in compliance with their licensing of three dams in Hells Canyon, the entire middle Snake River steelhead run is to be transplanted into the dammed Salmon River drainage. The adults are taken at Hells Canyon and stripped of spawn. The eggs are cycled there and transferred to the new, modern Niagara Plant where hatching is completed and the fish are reared for a year to smolt size. At that time they are hauled in a specially built tanker to a holding pond on the Pahsimeroi River. Theoretically, the fish were to leave the pond as the migration urge hit them.

Last year, about one-third of them became W-A-like, electing to stay in the ponds or refusing to leave the Pahsimeroi, the Idaho Fish and Game Department believes there was com-

Cards Still Win Despite Bat Slump

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Most of their regulars are gripped by a batting slump, but the world champion St. Louis Cardinals still threaten to run away with the National League pennant again.

Although Orlando Cepeda, Tim McCaver and company were swinging around the 250 mark, they still have a 3 1/2 game lead going into Wednesday night's game against Pittsburgh.

Cepeda's batting slump is a manager's Red Schoendienst insists it won't be a runaway, though, even after his stars begin hitting. But he does say they'll snap out of the slump... and he does think the Cards will win again. But not easily.

"I think almost every club is pretty much equal this year... there's much more balance. It won't be a runaway, though, even after his stars begin hitting. But he does say they'll snap out of the slump... and he does think the Cards will win again. But not easily.

James Named To Idaho Cage Post

MOSCOW, Idaho (AP)—Dale James, a Lewiston high school coach and native of Pendleton, Ore., was named Wednesday to the vacant position of assistant basketball coaching job at the University of Idaho.

Paul Ostyn, athletics director, said James will serve under head coach Wayne Anderson, coaching the freshman team and helping to recruit James, who was graduated from Idaho in 1961, won the O'Connell award for sportsmanship in 1960 and the Jay Gano outstanding player award in 1961.

He has been coaching at Lewiston since 1962. His teams have won 83 games and lost 55.

Strike Zone Too Big, Says Aaron

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Frank Aaron says they ought to narrow the strike zone.

Narrowing the strike zone could be akin to issuing a license for the next 400 hitters, Aaron, however, says the pitchers have all the best of it as things now stand. They get the corners, the knees and the legs.

Getting back to the strike zone, someone suggested the plate umpire be replaced with an electronic eye to judge while playing for the same calling device. How would it be like that, "Fine," he said, "if I can control it."

Doubtful

Participation of Scott Cryder, Twin Falls, in the state track meet remains extremely doubtful, according to Coach Jerry Kleinkopf.

Coach Kleinkopf said the two-time state champion and state record holder's ankle was still badly swollen and held almost no hope for him being able to make even one try—waiting until after the rest of the field was hit.

Greyder injured the ankle in trying for a record at last week's regional.

Frazier Signs To Meet Ramos

NEW YORK (AP)—Mexican heavyweight champion Manuel Ramos said Wednesday he will fight Joe Frazier of Philadelphia in Madison Square Garden June 24 for one square of the world heavyweight championship.

"I'm sure our guys will start hitting," Schoendienst said. "Nobody's hitting around the league now. Wait until the pitchers have to work in warm weather. They won't be strong in the late innings. They will be swinging and but plodding. It will be a different story."

Kathryn Vawdrey Is Miss T.F. Contestant

A Jerome contestant in the June 6 Miss Twin Falls Pageant sponsored by the Twin Falls Lions Club says she wants to be a good wife and mother.

She is Kathryn Vawdrey, 613 East Ave. B., Jerome, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eldon C. Vawdrey. Miss Vawdrey will be graduated this month from Jerome High School and then plans to attend the College of Southern Idaho.

She will give a reading for her talent demonstration in the pageant. A tall-brunette with blue eyes, Miss Vawdrey is 5 feet, 10 inches tall and her weight is 145 pounds. Her measurements are 38-27-38.

She enjoys swimming, tennis, other sports and singing. After college, the Jerome miss hopes to become a chiropractor, but her first interest is marriage and a family.

KATHRYN VAWDREY

In high school, Miss Vawdrey has played tennis for four years and is a member of the National Honor Society. For two years she has been active in the Drama Club, active in the Literature Club and was elected as a Girls' State delegate, active in the PEP Club, annual staff member and has been active in church organizations.

Inflationary Effects Seen After Strike

ANACONDA, Mont. (AP) — Settlement of the lengthy copper strike "will have profound inflationary effects throughout the business world for years to come," C. Jay Parkinson, president, said at the Anaconda Co. stockholders' annual meeting, which he said there was no reason to believe a less expensive agreement at an earlier date could have been reached without "ceding to the ultimately more costly issues such as multi-industry company-wide bargaining, common expiration date, uniformity in wage and benefit provisions and changes limiting operational efficiency."

Charles M. Brinkerhoff, Anaconda chairman, reported Wednesday that company operations are generally normal since the strike ended.

School Plans Roof Repair At Hagerman

HAGERMAN — Supt. George Carnie was asked by the board of trustees to secure at least three bids for roof repair and resurfacing the gymnasium at the board meeting of school district 233 Monday evening.

Specifications for the roof resurfacing call for a cold process with all bubbles and breaks patched, preferably with fibreglas, the ridge repaired with fibreglas and re-coating the entire roof.

Wayne Ills, agriculture instructor, reported on his program and subjects covered for each agriculture class.

The board voted to hold the next meeting June 3 instead of June 10. This will be a re-organizational meeting and Oscar Anderson, re-elected member of the board, will be sworn into office. The board also decided to begin the June, July and August meetings at 9 p.m. instead of 8 p.m. as most of the board members are farmers.

Following the meeting, board members viewed the film, "Teaching the One and the Many," filmed last winter at the Hagerman Learning Center by the National Education Association.

Oceanographers Seek Buried Treasures

World's Most Scientific Drilling Ship To Sail

By RALPH DIGHTON
AP Science Writer

LA JOLLA, Calif. (AP) — The world's most scientific drilling ship sails June 15 on an 18-month voyage across two oceans seeking long-buried treasures of vast potential to man's mind and purse.

The 400-foot Scripps Institution of Oceanography vessel will draw on craft orbiting in space for navigational guidance and warning of storms as it probes "record depths" in the primordial ooze that covers sevenths of the planet.

Dr. Melvin N. A. Peterson, chief scientist for the National Science Foundation's Deep Sea Drilling Project, says the goals are both academic and practical.

Students In Pharmacy Get Awards

Garv Isom, Hailey, received the Delbert Putnam Memorial Award for character and potential to pharmacy at a recent All-Pharmacy Dinner Dance at Idaho State University.

He was one of 50 outstanding pharmacy students honored during the evening. Besides the award he received scholarships from the American Foundation for Pharmaceutical Education, the Health Professions and the Joint Dargavel Foundation.

James C. Wetzel, received the Rho Chi Award for the junior student with the highest scholastic average, and also a Health Professions scholarship award.

Brent Fricke, Rupert, received a Refill key for service to Refill magazine.

Although the ship is rigged much like those that drill for oil in the comparatively shallow waters of continental shelves, officials are hoping fervently they will not actually find oil.

Striking oil and the gases bit into anything that looks like oil sands we'll pull out and move off in a hurry."

The Scripps project calls for drilling 40 to 60 holes as deep as 20,000 feet in the Atlantic and Pacific. Aboard the ship will be 15 scientists, engineers and crewmen including expert geologists and drillers.

Peterson believes rich deposits of minerals may lie on the slopes of the great rises—much like mountain ranges—jutting up from the floors of the Atlantic and Pacific oceans.

One of the goals of the project is to take samples of the sediment on the slopes.

The ship that will make this possible is the Glomar Challenger, due to sail June 15 from Ocean, Tex., on a maiden voyage.

The latest thing in drilling ships, it has a 42-foot-tall derrick over a 202-foot-tall derrick through which as much as 23,000 feet of five-inch pipe can be lowered to core into the ocean floor.

Peterson says this will be the longest drill string ever suspended from a ship or floating platform.

Cores from the rotary-drilled holes will be pulled up continuously through the drill pipe.

These cores will be the real prizes of the expedition. From the layers of sediment scientists hope to be able to reconstruct the history of the planet by dating the fossil remains of plants and animals which have died and fallen to the ocean bottom.

When evidences of oil or mineral wealth are found, the locations will be marked and the information released to industry.

The ship's first drilling test will come about July 1, when it will start boring into some mysterious blumps dead center in apart at a rate of an inch or so every 10,000 feet below the surface of the ocean, are known to oceanographers as the Sigsbee Knolls mass and split up and began to slide down the opposite coasts of the Atlantic Ocean seem to match, like the opposite shores of the Atlantic and on to the Pacific to test a spectacular new concept that the ocean do not match is sometimes explained as being due to sun from the great undersea rises, giant land-collapse in the middle and spreading the continents of that much wider ocean.

Rule Granted On Plan For Funds Shuffle

WASHINGTON — Congressmen George Hansen said in Washington Wednesday that the house committee on Rules has granted the transfer of $30-million from the Commodity Credit Corporation to the Farmers Home Administration loan fund.

Hansen, who co-sponsored the resolution, said he is contacting the House leadership asking that it be brought to a vote in the immediate future.

The Idaho legislator said "speedy approval of the measure by both the House and the Senate would provide a badly needed funds for farmers who are now in dire straits because of the lack of funds by the FHA."

Valley Traffic Courts

Finied in Rupert Police Court by Judge Jake Wall for traffic violations were Earl Moser, 50, Preston, 113; Marilyn Koch, 24, 1550, Brunk driving; Ronald Smith, 20, Rupert, 523, and Duane Thurber, 17, Rupert, 523, driving without due regard and John Bradley, 35, Twin Falls, 10 fine suspended and $3 costs, failure to stop at a red light.

Finied by Judge Wall for speed violations were Russell Uhl, 18, Paul, 520; Dean Hunter, 18, Rupert, 417; Myron Bean, 32, Rupert, 312; Emil Wilkinson, 28, Heyburn, 110; Thomas Lohr, 16, Rupert, 520; Veola Kent, 46, Acacia, 515; Melrose Burgess, 47, Paul, 515; and Jon Bailliant, 17, Rupert, 113.

Filer Student Is Award Recipient

James F. Bever, Filer, a student at Idaho State University, received the South-East Idaho Rod and Gun Club ROTC Rifle Match Award during recent ceremonies at ISU.

Military Science I cadet James E. Dauven, Buhl, was presented a superior cadet award.

Gov. Don Samuelson presided at the ceremonies.

"Swen and the Peastalk"

Once upon a time a poor little boy named Swen was taking the old family cow to market, as his mother had directed, in order to buy some food. Before he reached the market, Swen foolishly traded the cow for a handful of old peas. You can imagine what happened when little Swen got home, but anyway his mama threw the peas out the window, and next morning... well... there was a great big pea stalk outside the window covered with canned peas. Quick as a flash, Swen and his mother chopped down the pea stalk and converted the stalk of peas into a stack of peas.

Right now, you're probably wondering what happened to the giant in the story!

Fifth grade winners included a poem, "Spring," by Dee Wilson, first, and "The Easter Rabbit," Judy Crockett, second. "Gimme Pies," by Martin Harmon, first, and "Christmas," Sabrina McFarland, and "My Pen," Steven Allen, all received honorable mentions.

Kurt Daw, with his poem, "Being Human," won first place for the sixth grade, with "My Watch," by Alan Larson, second. Kurt Daw received an honorable mention for his poem, "The Secret Message."

The poem, "A Sad State of Affairs," by Martin Harmon, was first prize winner in the seventh grade. Ralph Hopkins was second place winner with his poem, "The Tree." Martin Epperson with his poem, "The Waves of the Seine," and Terry Schab's poem, "Springs," received honorable mentions.

Pamela Houston was first place winner with her poem, "Beauty," for the eighth grade entry, and Jim Hopkins was second with his poem, "When I'm Riding My Horse." Dean Pettygrove won an honorable mention with her poem, "Lonely Destiny."

Nancy Hollifield was first prize winner for the high school entries with her poem, "My Inner Self," and Christi Brown was second with the poem, "I See It Now." Honorable mentions were received by both girls with their poems, "They, the First," Christi Brown, and "A Friend," Nancy Hollifield.

The same budget committee was retained to serve this year. Mrs. L. R. Carter, Mrs. Clarke, Mrs. W. C. Klutz and Mrs. Thoma Steinhilber. Suggestions for items to be included in the community projects by six clubs and presentation of various awards is slated for the Sunday Brunch. Area clubs assisting as hostesses for the conference are: Richland, Walla Walla and Pasco-Kennewick.

Annual May Day Luncheon Held By Area WSCS

CASTLEFORD — The Castleford Women's Society of Christian Service held the annual May Day luncheon recently at the Methodist Fellowship Hall.

The tables were centered with May poles accented with pastel streamers. Small dolls and crabbapple blossoms were used at the heads of the poles.

Mrs. Heidel, program chairman, welcomed the members and guests and led the pledge to the flag and to the Christian flag. She introduced special guests, Elsie Lindgren, Twin Falls; Lucille Houston, and Mrs. Martin Miller, Subal, and Mrs. Willis Owen, president of the Castleford Baptist Missionary Society. Miss Lindgren and Mrs. Miller each received a corsage.

Mrs. Heidel read several May Day poems. Mary Rose McClain sang a solo, accompanied by Cindy Herzinger. Miss Herzinger played a piano solo. Lisa Kinyon, Susan Brown, Diana Sanforn, Joy Barinaga and Dena Herzinger sang, accompanied by Cindy Herzinger.

Guest speaker, Miss Lindgren, Twin Falls teacher and writer, chose "The Art of Being" as her topic. The next meeting is June 19 under the name of Mrs. Parley Harmon.

Articles Read At Club Meet

SPRINGDALE — "The Homemakers Creed" and "The Emulators" were read by Mrs. James Bronson, president of the Springdale Happy Homemakers Club, at a recent meeting at the Bronson home. She also presented the lesson, "Dress to Fit the Part."

Mrs. Donald Adams gave the lesson, "Hints for a New Treatment," and information pamphlets were distributed. Mrs. Kathern Kerbs was a guest.

Colored films and reports on New Zealand will be given by Dorothy Zollinger at the June 10 meeting at the home of Mrs. Ray Zollinger. Miss Zollinger returned recently from serving an 18-month LDS mission there.

Refreshments were served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Adams and Mrs. Zollinger.

MR. AND MRS. TEDDY E. SYVERSON

Nuptial Mass Celebrated For Miss Delate, Syverson

Serving as best man for his brother was Kenneth Syverson, Murtaugh. Ushers were Ray McFarland, Murtaugh, brother-in-law of the bridegroom; Albert Lockwood, Hazelton, and Don Thomas, Pocotello.

At the reception held at St. Joseph's Hall, the cake was served by Mrs. Dennis Welsh, Phoenix, Ariz., and Mrs. John L. Vincent, Anchorage, Alaska, sisters of the bride. Mrs. Barbara Yamada presided at the punch-bowl and Mrs. Paul Daniels, Twin Falls, poured coffee.

The reception table was covered with white net over yellow and white with a net heart. A yellow satin bell topped the three-tiered cake. Yellow candles completed the table decorations. Tiered double bowls held yellow carnations on the guest table and the quartet tables were centered with a miniature bride and bridegroom on yellow cloth, framed by a yellow heart.

Vivian Hansen was in charge of the guest book and gifts were arranged by Shirley Syverson, sister-in-law of the bridegroom, and Anita McFarland, sister of the bridegroom.

The bride is a junior at Idaho State University, Pocotello, where she is majoring in elementary education. The bridegroom is employed by Blair Motor Co., Out-of-town from Twin Falls, and is a resident of Phoenix, Ariz.; Salt Lake City, Boise, Blackfoot and many Magic Valley towns.

Hansen Circle Has Luncheon

HANSEN—A potluck luncheon was held by members of the Women's Society of Christian Service Hansen Circle at the home of Mrs. Thomas Steel-smith, Mrs. Edna Wall and Mrs. Fred Karl, Enterprise, Kan., where guests were entertained.

A plea for children's clothing and baby things was made. Members are asked to bring them to the General WSCS meeting.

A letter was read explaining a "boarding house" school for high school students whose parents are in Mexico.

Mrs. Vera Allen led the devotional service and a lesson was given from the Methodist Women's "Church Women in the Congo." She was assisted by Mrs. Bryan Harris and Mrs. Kenneth Nor. Mrs. Alvin was instrumental reading on the "Lord's Prayer," accompanied by Mrs. Steelsmith.

The June 5 meeting is Guest Day at the home of Mrs. Ralph Nelson, with Mrs. Marlon Wall as program leader.

Former Resident Reveals Truth

BOISE—Rev. and Mrs. Oval Walker, Boise, former Twin Falls area residents, announce the engagement and forthcoming marriage of their daughter, Yvonne, to Louis Jackson Ward, Corinth, N. D.

The bride-elect, a graduate of Jerome High School, attended universities in Phoenix, Ariz., and Houston, Tex. She is working as a programmer at the National Cash Register Co.

Mr. Ward attended the University of Plattsburgh, Plattsburgh, N. Y., and is presently serving with the Air Force, stationed at Mountain Home.

A June 7 wedding is planned.

OUTGOING LEADER of the Twentieth Century Club, Mrs. Earl Johnson, presents the gavel to Mrs. Leonard Albee, new president, during installation ceremonies conducted recently at the YM-YWCA. A special musical program in observance of National Music Week was presented by Mrs. Donald Youtz, featuring music scholarship winners.

Local 20th Century Club Has Annual May Breakfast

The Twentieth Century Club held its annual May Breakfast on the Fourth District convention held recently at the YM-YWCA, with Mrs. Earl Johnson, president, giving the welcome.

The invitational was given by Mrs. M. A. Kempton, and in keeping with the theme, "Music Week," the tables were decorated with spring flowers arranged around musical staff and lily pads by Mrs. Carl Boyd and Mrs. Carl Boyd.

Mrs. Doris Youtz, program chairman, presented a musical program featuring Twin Falls Music Club scholarship winners. Among those on the program were: Jan Olson, Fredwin Hansen, Jamie Alfred, Mary Kinney, Vicki Rayborn, Melody Youtz, Tammy Roehrig, Carl Young, Peggy Knicker and Ellen Kutz.

During the business meeting, the program chairman for the year were introduced and Mrs. D. Edgar gave a report on the art work in local, district and state contests.

Projects Noted For Lutheran Women's League

Various projects were named during the May meeting of the Lutheran Women's Missionary League of Immanuel Lutheran Church. Those projects will be conducted through funds left to the LWML in the estate of Mrs. Nellie Pastour.

Members voted to support the aid for two Philippine boys who want to study for the ministry in the Seminary in the Philippines—funds for the Missionary League for Christ Lutheran Bible Translators, and funds for charity treatment at Immanuel Hospital in New Guinea.

Mrs. Donna Johnson was welcomed as a guest in the opening devotional services were led by Mrs. Willard Thayer.

A report was given by Mrs. Keith Lierman on the LWML convention held in Ogden. The topic for the evening was on Women of Biblical Times, presented by Mrs. Don Heller, Mrs. Tom Moore, Mrs. Art Eacker, Mrs. Duane Einspahr. The closing devotional service was led by Mrs. Ralph Hann.

Mrs. Humphries Is President Of Jerome Club

JEROME—Mrs. Chet Humphries was elected president of the Falls City Civic Club when the unit met recently at the home of Mrs. Thomas McClure.

Other officers elected include Mrs. Tom McClure, vice president; Mrs. Warren Adamson, secretary; and Mrs. Laurence Campbell, treasurer. Mrs. Vernon Kohntopp and Blanche Ott were guests. Mrs. Russell Halstead played a record, "The New Generation," by Paul Yearwood.

The June luncheon was planned for June 13, at 1 p.m., at Wood Cafe. It will be no-host event. Mrs. Bob Dougherty is in charge of the program and Mrs. Laurence Campbell and Mrs. Byron Kleinkopf are in charge of decorations.

Mrs. Myron Brownlee and Mrs. Darrell Brownlee assisted the hostess serving refreshments.

Dear Abby

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN
DEAR ABBY: I go to a private school and share a room with a girl I'll call Mary. She is a lovely girl from a very good family. She started going with a boy who goes to a prep school near here. I guess you could call it "love at first sight." They saw an awful lot of each other. Too much, really. Well, Mary finally broke down and told me she was "worried." She thinks she's pregnant. She hasn't gone to a doctor and won't go to one because she's afraid her folks will find out. She won't tell her boy friend. I'm the only person she has told, and I promised on my life I wouldn't say a word to anyone. Abby, she is starving herself to keep this and she cries all the time. What can I do to help her?

DEAR ABBY: There is a new assistant clergyman at our church who seems to be very well-liked by everyone—especially the young people. I was shocked and disappointed last Sunday to see him standing out in front of the church right after services smoking a cigarette. This bothered me so much that I wrote him a note telling him I thought he was setting a bad example for the young people, and if he had to have a smoke he should at least wait until he could do it behind closed doors. He telephoned me and told me that he "regretted" his smoking habit, but he had it bad, and he would be more ashamed sneaking a smoke in private than smoking in public. What is your opinion?
CHURCHGOER

DEAR CHURCHGOER: I admire the young clergyman's honesty, but I deplore his weakness.

DEAR ABBY: The girls in our bridge club invite your opinion or comments about a person who sends a strange substitute in her place when she cannot attend without mentioning it to the hostess.

We have one member in our group who always does this. Afterwards she says that she owed "so and so" an invitation, and this is how she pays back her social obligation. We have never heard of this, and we all feel that if one of our members cannot come, we would prefer inviting our own substitute. (We all have friends to whom we "owe" an invitation.) Several of us have gone to the door when we entertain the stranger who announces that she has come to substitute for "Frankie."

What do you suggest?

BRIDGE GALS

DEAR GALS: I suggest that you "gals" get together and vote on the method for providing a substitute should a member be unable to attend. Then give Frankie the word, and if she doesn't observe the rules, give her the gate.

DEAR ABBY: I did what you advised the mother of a teenage daughter to do. I gave up nagging at her about her messy room and simply closed her bedroom door.

Today, my once-sloppy teenage daughter is a married woman and I can't believe what a terrific little housekeeper she has turned out to be. When I visited her one day last week, I draped my sweater over a chair. She very indignantly said, "Muhurr, please let me hang up your sweater—you are messing up my whole house!"

Make Wood Fiber Corsages

Wood fiber corsages, directed by Mrs. Carrol Utley were made by members of the Maglo-V-Jiley Saintpaulia Club when they met recently at the home of Mrs. Alma Regan.

Fiber is the pith of a tree, and flowers made from fiber are flowers made from fiber. Fiber is a very natural material for making flowers. The members were told that Formosa is the best place in the world for producing the best grade of fiber suitable for flowers. Trees making the best fiber are the three-year-old stock and are usually cut from February through June of each year. The trees are cut in about three-foot lengths, and a sharp stick is used to pop the pith of the three-foot lengths. After it is dried it is shaved into sheets and shipped to Seattle to be processed.

Birthdays anniversary gifts were received by Mrs. William Chancy and Mrs. Nellie Connerly. The next meeting is at the home of Mrs. Elvia Utley.

Mrs. Shillington Is Honored By Jerome Women

JEROME—Mrs. Roy Shillington, longtime member of the Pleasant Plains "This is Your Life" when the Pleasant Plains Club held its annual Mother's Day party at the Pleasant Plains School. It was compiled and written by Mrs. Everett Andrus and Mrs. Willie Thompson.

Guests were seated at quarter tables decorated with spring flowers. Mrs. Sherrill Shinn, president, welcomed the guests, including Mrs. Eva Rudolph, first president of the club in 1921. Mrs. Robert Goley was program chairman and Mrs. LeRoy Larsen was in charge of the guest book and prizes.

Craig Wallin gave a reading, "Mother," and Sharon Bloumer presented two accordion numbers. Connie Prescott gave a reading, "What Is Mother," and Mrs. Sally Towle gave an original reading, "Remember the Pioneer." The girls' sextet from the junior high school sang two numbers. Mrs. "Dreton" Thibault was in charge of refreshments.

Mother's Degree Is Presented

BURLEY—Mt. Zion Chapter, Order of DeMolay Drill Team, presented the Mother's Degree for members of Evergreen Chapter No. 46 during a meeting at the Masonic Temple.

Mrs. Dorothy O'Bryan, worthy matron, and Edward VanWinkle, worthy patron, presided. Special guests were Alton Clayton, past grand patron; Mrs. C. S. Knorr, grand Esther; Mrs. Siro Powers, grand representative for the grand jurisdiction of Rhode Island in Idaho; Mrs. Glen Simmons, assistant grand warden, and Mrs. Genevieve Schodde, 50-year member.

Mrs. Lloyd Driskell was installed in the position of Martha. Mrs. Helen Erwin and Mrs. Gerald Larson were awarded certificates of proficiency.

A social hour was held after the meeting in the dining room, with red roses honoring mothers used as table decorations. Hosts were Mr. and Mrs. Walter Jensen, Mrs. Kenneth Barry, Mrs. Harlan Jensen and Mrs. Clair Wyatt.

Anniversary Is Observed

YOST, Utah—Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Tracy Yost, were honored on their Golden Wedding Anniversary at an open house recently at the home of their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Richard G. Barnes.

Mr. and Mrs. Tracy were married May 6, 1918, in the Logan LDS Temple. They spent the first three years of their married life working at the Ketchikan-Ranch. Mr. Tracy was ranch foreman and Mrs. Tracy cooked for 14 months.

The Ketchikan they moved to Yost where they have resided since.

The Tracy's children are DeVere Tracy and Bryce Tracy, Malta, Rhea Tracy and Nevo Tracy, Burley, and Mrs. Richard Barnes. They have 14 grandchildren.

STAYMAN BID
IN MANY WAYS
There are almost as many variations of the Stayman convention as there are players who use it. We call our form Jacoby Stayman and combine it with the Jacoby transfer bid.

Thus, our two-club response is known as nonforcing Stayman. It is a one-round force but only forces partner to rebid two cards if he has no four-card major, or two hearts or spades if he holds a four-card with a three-level suit bid, we are forcing the game or maybe on our way to a slam.

Today's hand shows nonforcing Stayman in action: North does not want to play a trump and bids two clubs with the intention of rebidding to two diamonds. Note that partner must reply in a suit. He is not supposed to rebid two no-trump over our two clubs.

South happens to rebid two hearts and North is happy: A four-four fit in hearts has been found.

Two hearts is the right place for North-South to play the hand. South can make it by attacking spades immediately after winning the club lead, but even if South plays poorly, he will only be down one. One no-trump would go down at least one and so would two spades.

Your partner continues to five clubs. What do you do now?

major. Later on we may pass in response to our two clubs if our second bid is just two hearts or two spades, we are showing a poor hand and he is supposed to pass. If our rebid is two no-trump, we show eight to nine points and a four-card major somewhere.

If it is three no-trump, we show the same type hand but with 10 to 15 or maybe 18 points while if we follow up Stayman

Ways To Insure Good Sleeping During Hectic, Pressure Periods

We're just going through the busiest season of our year. It's mounted up to 16-hour work days, you're too knotted to fall asleep even if you try very hard. There has to be some sort of answer on the theory that you're facing much the same pressure with exams round the corner, suppose we share a few of our unwinning ways to insure good sleeping during hectic, pressure periods.

SKY AND STARS: The walls get to be a cage after a time. It also isn't fun to get a breath of fresh air and to notice something that's not man made. Even throwing open a window and looking out helps. But inhaling the fresh air deeply like some savory perfume, and then exhaling like a smoker blowing smoke rings, really blows out the cobwebs and fog feeling.

MUSIC: Virtually the best in the world is the music of the street. Put on a portable cassette player and listen to some of the great recordings of the past. It's a good idea to have a record of late night, waltz music, or a record of the past. It's a good idea to have a record of late night, waltz music, or a record of the past.

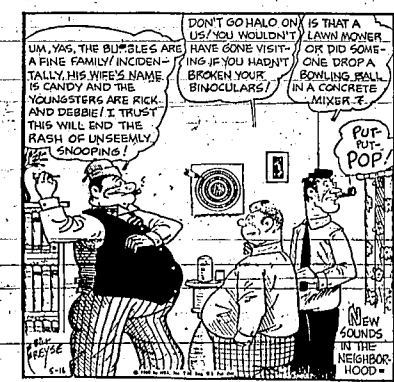

TRIVIA: If you've got anything that involves simple repetition, it's a good idea to have a record of late night, waltz music, or a record of the past.

WATER: It's classic strategy for family harmony in any house, no matter what the hour. The one earning the watch singing along. Invariably you'll sing counter-melody to what's on the record and that rings flat to the person who can't hear what you do play.

SHAKE LOOSE: Luckily, we live in a house surrounded by vacant lots, so if we choose, we can do exercises or dance (frequently with earphones plugged in) to shake loose that uptight feeling. Be it push-ups, bicycling in the air, or Zorba-free movement, it helps to unwind physically. If you're in an apartment, it's best to watch the vibrations. Now, excuse us, planning all the domestic exercises can still do the trick. Ask a coach or librarian for a lead.

READING: There are two "Dating Hints"—an interesting and informative pamphlet. For most casual detective story is a copy, write to Teenage Line in care of the newspaper, holds for a weighty historical romance to put you to sleep.

News Of Record

MINDOKA COUNTY
 Rupert Police Court — Juan Zamora, 20, Rupert, $12 improper backing; Mark Dean Hadden, 14, Paul, $13, driving at night on a daytime license; Robert Diewers, 16, Rupert, $13, and Walter Schoopp, 17, Rupert, $11, fine suspended upon payment of costs, faulty mufflers.
 Rupert Police Blotter — Alvin Louis Sibbett, 74, Sacramento, Calif., was cited for backing when not reasonable and safe to do so Saturday after the 1967 Ford he was driving collided with a 1967 Ford pickup truck driven by Barry Whitaker as Sibbett was backing from a parking place on the north side of the city square in Rupert. After striking the Whitaker vehicle, the Sibbett auto traveled across the street and hit a parked 1963 Plymouth, owned by Eddie Connell, pushing it into a 1964 Chevrolet, also parked, belonging to Verden Hyder.
 The impact drove the Chevrolet into a fifth auto parked 1963 Ford, belonging to Geneva Lobusch. Damage to the Lobusch auto was estimated at $550, $300 to the Whitaker vehicle, $700 to the Connell Plymouth, at $450 to the Hyder auto, and at $100 to the Lobusch Ford. No injuries were reported.
 Damage to a 1967 Ford driven by Alan Udy, 66, Rupert, was estimated at $600 Sunday after Mr. Udy apparently swung too wide while making a left turn from 2nd Street onto Highway 24-25 in Rupert, and struck a high pole. No citations were issued.

 Julie A. Facer, 16, Rupert, was cited for backing when not reasonable and safe to do so Saturday after the 1968 Ford she was driving backed into a parked 1963 Pontiac, owned by Ed Schater, also Rupert. Damage was estimated at $15 to the Facer auto, and $75 to the Schater vehicle.
 Sheriff's Blotter — Two Paul residents suffered minor injuries Tuesday morning when the car in which they were riding collided with a 1967 Ford pickup driven by John Merrihan, 40, Paul, who was attempting to make a left turn into a farm lane nine and one-half miles northeast of a Paul.
 The second auto, a 1965 Ford driven by Mary Maughan, 43, also Paul, was approaching from the opposite direction, came over the tip of a hill and sideswiped the pickup truck.
 Injuries were "fair" Maughan, 79, and Sherilyn Maughan, both passengers. In the Maughan auto, no citations were issued. Damage to the pickup truck was estimated at $125, and at $500 to the Ford.
 State Police Blotter — Lulu Corless, 86, Paul, was cited for failure to yield the right of way Saturday after she pulled from a stop sign two miles west of Paul on Highway 25 and her car struck a 1969 Oldsmobile driven by Roland Jones, 59, Rupert. Damage to the Olds was set at $250, and at $100 to Mrs. Corless' 1960 Chevrolet.
 "Two late" model Plymouths were demolished Monday eight miles south of the Cotteret-Port of Entry on U.S. highway 30 S., and the incident resulted in a citation for failure to keep a vehicle under control for Clifford Nelson, 32, Salt Lake City. The incident occurred when Mr. Nelson was driving a 1965 Plymouth convertible. The towed auto apparently began to weave and Nelson lost control, ran into a borrow pit, back onto the road, and both cars overturned. No injuries were reported.
 Citations are pending investigation of a one-car collision Monday 11 miles east of Burley on Interstate 80. Shaun Meade, 19, Declo, was headed west when she lost control of the auto, which traveled for 93 feet into the median, then flew through the air another 42 feet, bounced another 12 feet, and slid 45 feet more before coming to a rest.
 The 1965 Mustang she was driving was demolished and the driver received minor cuts and bruises.

Glenns Ferry School Fund Is Approved

GLENN'S FERRY — At an un-protested budget hearing, the board of trustees for Joint School District No. 192 Monday evening approved the 1968-69 budget for $418,458.61, and certified a 30-mill levy to the county auditor. It also reduced the bond liquidation from 9.5 to 7 mill.
 The school calendar for the next school year was set, with the opening planned for school Aug. 26. George Powell, superintendent, was authorized to apply for Title III and National Defense Education Act funds for science equipment, amounting to $319.32.
 Also approved was use of the old grade school building for the summer recreation program. Included will be planned activities for the youngsters under-12 years, for the morning hours, and various games offered, but more in the type of youth center in the afternoons.
 The headstart program will be conducted during this year and will run for eight weeks, under the direction of the Elmore-Ada County Action Agency.
 Mrs. Rebecca Montague, clerk, said that the board members discussed possibility of a two-mill plant facility levy to be used to improve grounds and the hot lunch program.

Power Commission Urged To Forego Dam

By STAN BENJAMIN
 AP Regional Service
 WASHINGTON (AP) — The Interior Department urged the Federal Power Commission today to forego the proposed High Mountain Sheep Dam in favor of a federal dam farther upstream on the Middle Snake River.
 The department recommended a multipurpose project at the Appaloosa site, eight miles above the High Mountain Sheep location.
 "The petition from Secretary of the Interior Stewart Udall was the latest maneuver in a long struggle over the middle Snake River in Idaho and Oregon — federal dams to make the most of the last major undeveloped hydroelectric site in the Northwest.
 It also was part of the reconsideration ordered by the Supreme Court last year, when it set aside a license the FPC had granted to a private organization, Pacific Northwest Power Co., for construction of the dam.
 The undeveloped 90-mile stretch of river is a hydroelectric mainstay between the Mountain Sheep Dam in favor of a federal dam farther upstream on the Columbia River system and three Idaho Power Co. dams upstream.
 Whether this area should be developed privately or added to the federal system is the key issue.
 Udall repeated today his earlier reasoning that any dam on the middle Snake should be integrated with the downstream federal dams to make the most of their potential.
 Udall said protection of fish runs was the major reason for the proposal that the dam be built at the Appaloosa site.
 The Interior Department at first accepted the High Mountain Sheep location above the Salmon River confluence.
 But Udall said today further study showed it was too close to the Salmon River. Releases of water from the dam flowing past the confluence — fluctuating, turbulent and oxygen-deficient — would still cause many migrating fish to turn into the wrong streams, where they could not spawn, he said.
 A High Mountain Sheep dam, Udall said, would have a larger reservoir and could operate more of the time. But an Appaloosa dam could meet peak demand needs with on-and-off bursts of power — a function where water power is most efficient.
 Udall suggested that his department's Bureau of Reclamation build the Appaloosa Dam and the Army Corps of Engineers build a re-regulating dam at China Gardens, below Appaloosa but still above the main Salmon River confluence.

Bermuda Voters To Fill Seats

HAMILTON, Bermuda (AP) — Bermuda's voters will choose among 107 candidates for 40 parliamentary seats May 22 in the British island colony's first general election under one-man, one-vote rules.
 Qualifiers were announced Tuesday — the campaign has been proceeding quietly following rioting April 25-26 attributed to youths complaining of police brutality and top jobs going to immigrants.
