TEN CENTS

In Silent Tribute For Those Who Have Died

Americans Honor War Dead On 100th Memorial Day Observance

By The Associated Press Americans honored their war dead today, the 100th anniversary of Memorial Day, as President Johnson told the nation's armed forces "We yearn for an end to war, for a time when the guns will be silenced forever."

The sound of taps, the fragrance of flowers and the measured tread to martial music will accompany the speeches, readings and memorial observances in cities from coast to coast.

As the casualty lists continued to grow in Vietnam, many Americans gathered in sorrow before fresh graves, 16 plain flags and flowers in the tradition that was begun on May 30, 1868.

Then it was Gen. John A. Logan, commander-in-chief of the Grand Army of the Republic, who decreed that the day should be set aside "for the purpose of strewing flowers or otherwise decorating the graves of comrades who died in defense of the country in the late rebellion."

Defense Secretary Clark Clifford was to place the President's wreath on the Arlington National Cemetery tomb of a young child in their care.

Two women employees of the nursery in suburban Naperville perished while trying to save the young children in their care. "When you're a war widow, you can't find them," said L. F. Reeves, who works nearby and plunged into the shattered building to help rescue the children.

Three major networks said in separate announcements Wednesday that they would make network time available for joint appearances by the two candidates in the California ballot, and also by Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey, if he wished to participate in the election.

Officially the United States and North Vietnam have so far ignored the possible impact of the upheaval on their conferees.

Amphibious W. Averell Harriman and Xuan Thuy and their delegations have gone about their meetings without interruption of any serious inconvenience. They live and work in a world apart from the demonstrations of students and workers, the street battles in the Latin Quarter, and the political delegations in Minnesota Saturday night and Sunday—make it impossible for Humphrey to participate in a debate.

And through periods of peace and a succession of wars the practice continued.

Many Problems

TOKYO (AP)—North Vietnam said today there are "many concrete problems" to be discussed at the Paris peace talks but Hanoi's demand for an unconditional halt of U.S. military actions against North Vietnam must be settled first.

"Only when a solution is found to this question can other problems of concern to the two sides be taken up," said the party daily Nhan Dan.

The Nhan Dan article was written by a commentator, a popular pseudonym for a high-ranking official.

The Idaho Investment Corporation of Twin Falls has had three lawsuits filed against it in Fifth District Court by three Eastern Idaho couples who allegedly own stock in the corporation.

Defendants in the suit include the officers, Frank Frazier, Theodore McPhee, and three salesmen, Leo Nelson, Donald Reynolds and another whose name is unknown to the plaintiffs.

Plaintiffs in the case, asking a total of $20,700 plus costs, are Mrs. M. F. Frazier, Mrs. M. P. McPhee, Mrs. M. P. Reynolds, Mrs. M. P. Reynolds, and Mrs. M. P. Reynolds.

The National Broadcasting Co., the Columbia Broadcasting System, and the American Broadcasting Company have agreed to hold a five television debate this weekend.

DeGaulle To End National Assembly

PARIS (AP)—President Charles de Gaulle said today he is not resigning and is keeping Premier Georges Pompidou in office as he dissolves the National Assembly.

Speaking vigorously on the national radio network after a cabinet meeting on France's grave economic crisis, De Gaulle said he was putting back the date of the scheduled June 18 referendum on his proposed reforms of the economy and universities.

"France is menaced by a dictatorship," De Gaulle said.

He asserted that if the present showdown of strength continues with the striking workers and dissident students allied against the government, he would take day, "It doesn't look good now." He said he thought Wednesday night "we had something."

The radio transmission was heard at 8:28 p.m. EDT Wednesday by a surveillance plane about 110 miles east of here. Six ships also monitored the broadcast.

NORFOLK, Va. (AP)—Navy submarine warfare officers were reported today to "put very little faith in the radio transmission" that seemed to have come from the missing submarine Scorpion.

This was reported by a Pentagon source in Washington as the 99 crewmen dimmed. More than 14 hours had lapsed after receipt of a radio message whose sender identified itself as the missing craft.

Six destroyers were sent to the area of the transmission but reported this morning finding no evidence of the missing sub nor any more broadcasts.

A naval source also said today, "It doesn't look good now." He said he thought Wednesday night "we had something."

public affairs officer, who told a news conference earlier today.

The submarine and its 99 crewmen—missing since Monday—is the object of the greatest air-sea search ever mounted by the Navy—10,000 men, 55 ships and 2,000 aircraft.

The radio message was picked up when the patrol plane receiving it was 110 miles east of Norfolk. Search units were concentrated in an area stretching from 110 miles to more than 300 miles east of Norfolk. But no further radio transmissions were reported.

The sole message said: "Any station this message. This is available."

He said the Scorpion "certainly would know a search was in progress" and that a transmission of this type could be originated by a submarine that may be submerged or bottomed in that vicinity—the general area where the signal was heard.

He left abruptly Wednesday shortly after a scheduled Cabinet meeting had been cancelled without notice.

The council is expected to approve the broad lines of a speech Premier Georges Pompidou is to make to the National Assembly later in the day during a debate on the crisis.

Political circles carried reports that De Gaulle would abruptly expect the threat to disappear in the face of determined governmental action.

The president said that Pompidou would suggest changes in ministerial jobs.

The president returned to the Elysee Palace after a hurried about De Gaulle's hurried helicopter flight to his summer home was why it took five hours instead of the usual one hour.

Peace Talks May Be Shifted From Paris

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER AP Special Correspondent PARIS (AP)—The Vietnam peace talks which the French government has welcomed last month ago may have to be shifted away from Paris in the next few weeks if France's domestic crisis continues.

U.S. spokesman William J. Jordan told reporters Wednesday that to date the crisis has had no effect on the work of the delegations in Paris.

Paris and Brussels by his order can until two days ago when a military field year Paris was opened to commercial air traffic.

They and other members of the North Vietnamese delegation in the Latin Quarter, two weeks ago. The move was understood to mean they were settling in for long negotiations here.

Kennedy Says California Will Provide Ultimate Test, Makes Whistlestop Tour

By JOSEPH E. MOHAT
LOS ANGELES (AP) — Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, calling California's approaching primary the ultimate test of his presidential bid, takes his campaign on an old-fashioned whistlestop tour today.

The seven-stop route runs from Fresno in central California more than 150 miles northward through rich farmland and small towns to Sacramento, the capital.

When the New York senator campaigned in Los Angeles and nearby cities Wednesday, thousands cheered him, threw confetti and lunged for a handclasp as he had in the Oregon primary to Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy the day before.

But Kennedy's statements had changed. —He said for the first time he'll support the Democratic party's nominee. —He said he'll accept one or more of three network television offers to debate McCarthy, stating he spurred before a debate was in the works for Sunday.

—He stopped directing his life at Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey—who isn't entered in the California primary—and said, "we'll now have to beat McCarthy."

Calling the June 4 primary his "ultimate test," he said, "I will abide by the results of that test."

When asked if that meant he would drop out of the race, he stuck to his statement.

But Kennedy's statements had changed.

Vietnamese Censorship Is Lifted

SAIGON (AP) — South Vietnam's government lifted censorship today for the first time in almost four months.

It marked the first official act of the new information minister, Ton That Thien, an editor whose own English-language newspaper has been banned for a year and a half.

Newspapers have been appearing with blank spaces where government censors had cut items. The censorship included speeches by President Johnson and members of the Saigon government.

The lifting of the ban is not expected to give complete freedom to newspapers. The House of Representatives here has approved a law which provides prison terms of up to life for newsmen who praise the Viet Cong or advocate neutralism.

For Us, The Living

To the Americans numbered in millions who have served their country in battle, the return of Memorial Day recalls a theme and scene that is wondrously, if terribly, familiar. It is like a play seen many times, which in the beginning was not a play at all but a personal experience that ran the full scale of human emotion.

Where Americans gather on this Memorial Day for devotion and tribute, they will feel this same inadequacy. We would that our tongues might utter the thoughts which arise within us. Still, we know they cannot, and it is best that we know it, grateful for the lesson that words may never pay a debt.

NEW YORK (NEA)—It probably jeopardizes our specialty to admit this. But the plain fact is that we are finding it quite difficult to justify man's ways to God this week. We would have thought the last place on earth for a bloody riot was the American college campus.

By and large, the inquiry into these items has been very productive, with new satellites going up and new hearts going in all over the place. Consequently, it has been rather hard to understand why anybody would want to battle against higher education.

There is simply no percentage in fighting success. But from what we can see, that doesn't seem to make any difference. To wit: ITEM: It is a generally held axiom by college-educated people that the proper study of mankind is man.

For Foundation said. And by an overwhelming faculty vote at an Ivy college last week, a student can now fulfill his requirements in history by taking two courses in child development.

Q—What would cause a person's bones to go out of joint? First it was my shoulder, then my knee, then my ankle. A dislocation occurs when a long bone is forced into an unnatural position and the joint capsule tears, allowing the bone to leave the joint. This dislocation of the knee is rare, but locking of the joint due to a torn knee cartilage is common.

Dislocation

Q—What is the best treatment for it? A—A torn cartilage in the knee will cause intermittent attacks of locking of the joint, pain and an accumulation of fluid in the joint. X-ray films are negative because they do not show soft parts (skin, blood vessels, nerves, tendons, muscles and cartilage). Once torn, a cartilage rarely heals and the only cure is surgical removal of the torn fragment.

Wayne Brandstadt, M.D.

Q—What are the symptoms of a torn cartilage in the knee? A—Water on the knee is an accumulation of synovial fluid in the joint, due to inflammation. Various treatments have been used, depending on the individual circumstances. The individual kneecap is elevated and applying ice bags for two or three days, withdrawing the fluid and injecting hyaluronate into the joint or, in chronic cases (those of at least three years' duration), injecting a colloidal radioactive gold solution.

MR. SPECTATOR

Long Ago -- Not Far Away

A couple of weeks ago Mr. Spectator discussed a teacher's monthly report that he had found a few years ago blowing around the ghostly and deserted streets of old San Francisco. It was dated 47 years ago and was the monthly report for District J-11 in Owyhee County, A Mrs. V. V. Caldwell was the teacher.

"My wife knew all those people you mentioned in the article. Tom Jones is with the Pacific Fruit Co. down in one of the Southern States. He is head of buying and sales for the company. Frank is farming down at King Hill. The last I heard of Henry Rice was when he was just a small boy. I don't know if there are any of the Franks left."

IRRITATED

This is something I have been threatening to do for some time, and now, before I read the Times-News, let me ask: Why can't the TV schedule be put, say, on the back page of some certain page each day? Of course we read every page of the paper but—by the time we thumb through said paper, looking for the schedule, we sometimes find the program we are interested in is in progress.

We have three very cute puppies to give away. The mother is a registered Samoyed and the father is a Collie. One is male and two are females. The male is white and brown. One female is also white and brown and the other is black and white. All have the Samoyed curly hair. Please call 425-4716 at Elmer or you can see them two miles west and one mile north of the southwest corner of Elmer at the Frank Sharp residence.

THOSE GRADS

Commencement speakers must have had a tough time making their personal clichés sound convincing to the class of '68. "You're going into a hard world, troubled world." Every graduate in the past has done the same, and those of the future will have the experience.

Dear Mr. Spectator: This is something I have been threatening to do for some time, and now, before I read the Times-News, let me ask: Why can't the TV schedule be put, say, on the back page of some certain page each day? Of course we read every page of the paper but—by the time we thumb through said paper, looking for the schedule, we sometimes find the program we are interested in is in progress.

McCarthy: California Doldrums

SAN FRANCISCO Sen. Eugene McCarthy, who likes irony, may not have thought of the irony reflected by his presence the other evening on the Frank Cow Palace platform where the Republicans nominated Barry Goldwater for president four years ago.

There is no sign McCarthy is adding anything to his own to the base of strength he had weeks ago. Without a big inroad from Humphrey supporters, they see his potential as sharply limited. Says one veteran leader: "Here in San Francisco, I see relatively little for McCarthy in the Mission District, the great area south of Market Street where labor and some of the minorities reside."

ANDREW TULLY

Western Europe

(While Andrew Tully is in Europe on a fact-finding holiday, this space is being occupied by such well-known contributors as Senator Majority Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana, who contributes a thought of particular interest in his article on the president pro, Mansfield seems to suggest that Western and Eastern Europe combine to form an economic and political bloc for independence for both European blocs from the "two superpowers"—American and the Soviet Union.

Like Daisies In The Spring

NEW YORK (AP) — They come and go, the little starlets of the screen, like daisies in the spring. Or, like a summer meteor, they flash across the sky in a stab of brightness, then disappear into oblivion. One out of a hundred or so has enduring qualities. Her luminous laments. She becomes a star.

HAL BOYLE

gether, she had been in seven films. "I'm very surprised to find I can act," she said candidly. "I never thought I could." "Until I was 18 I wanted to be a veterinarian and since my way across all the great gulches of the world to trendy apartment. I was a pretty starry-eyed girl."

Then the letter of Mr. Wilcox, who went into more detail as to the school, the students and the "living" in those days. But his letter speaks for itself. "I don't know whether anyone has answered you as to where this school district J-11 is or not, so here goes for my two-bits worth of information. From what information your record showed, it would lead a person to believe that way back in the sagebrush I-11 was a joint school of Elmore and Owyhee County. The school house was on the north side of the river at King Hill. It was of two-story brick or stone construction and had a full basement. I believe you had found a number of the records now at the county superintendent's office at Murphy.

Several experienced Democratic appraisers in California told me that McCarthy is pulling well in this city's affluent suburbs. In Monterey and in the Jewish-intellectual-university complex around UCLA in the Los Angeles area. "Let Kennedy draw an astonishingly warm response when he strode into a packed West Los Angeles Jewish temple where he had been scheduled to keep waiting two hours while he mined the vote gold on the crowded streets in the Mexican-American areas of Pico Rivera and East Los Angeles. "It is plain that, for all his pulling power with the better-educated whites, McCarthy continues to handicap himself by somehow conveying the notion he is not a serious candidate. Comments a key Democrat here: "If you told McCarthy and his people they were going to start running the country tomorrow, I think they'd all disappear."

minimize the present usefulness of this modest term. One Democrat dismissed "GEC" followers as persons who "get their jollies from 'taking positions that will make the world not work.' The more realistic McCarthy reading seems to be in the hope—and it is only a hope—that the mystery of where Humphrey's support lies will be solved in his favor on June 4.

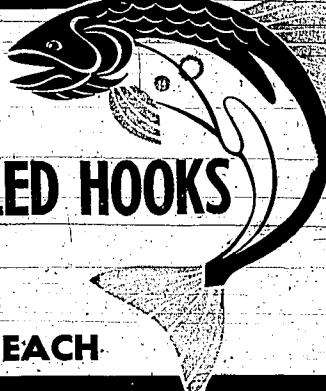

Europe also finds itself pressed between two military giants with such enormous conventional arms and nuclear arsenals that attempts at description are virtually impossible. It is in this, it seems to me, that Europe is in a predicament. Western Europe to emphasize Europe's independence from both superpowers.

There are, of course, political and economic problems in individual countries. Britain, for example, has had serious economic difficulties. But the British Government now appears to be coming to grips with these difficulties—and doing so in a way we might well admire. The British have come to realize that foreign commitments must be realistic relationships to domestic conditions. In the world of today, the course of empire may lead not to richer, but to ruin.

Idaho Traffic Toll Continues To Rise

By The Associated Press
 Idaho's traffic death toll has risen to 107, one more than the number killed on Idaho highways by the end of June in 1967. The latest victim was Robert P. Boyer, 14, of Regina-Sank. The boy died in a two-car and truck accident Wednesday, on U.S. 2 west of Priest River, Idaho. He was riding in a car driven by his father, Edwin C. Boyer, 53.

A four-year-old Utah girl died late Tuesday in a Boise hospital from injuries received last week in an accident on Idaho about two miles south of McCall. She was Wendy White, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kent T. White of Bountiful, Utah. The mother, along with another daughter, Jolynn, 11, were also injured. The other daughter was reported in critical condition.

Teamsters Step Up Bid To Organize Public Employees

By NEIL GILBRIDE
 AP Labor Writer
 WASHINGTON (AP) — The Teamsters Union is stepping up its bid to organize public employees ranging from garbage men to school workers, the nation's most rapidly growing field of labor organization. "We are organizing them, accepting them as members and representing them vigorously," said Frank E. Fitzsimmons, acting president of the Teamsters.

The organizing effort puts the independent 1.9-million member Teamsters in increasing competition with the AFL-CIO American Federation of State County and Municipal Workers, long the most active union in the field.

"We have been having battles with them right along," said Jerry Wurf, president of the 400,000-member State, County and Municipal Workers. But Wurf said his union—with membership he said soaring by some 100,000 a week—was worried about the competition. "We beat the pants off them!" in most election contests for union membership, Wurf said in an interview.

The Teamsters, despite its greater size, represents a far smaller proportion of public workers than Wurf's union.

The two most notable strikes of the two unions this year involved garbage men.

The Teamsters represent New York City sanitation workers, who struck for nine days in February. Wurf's union represents Memphis garbage men, whose long strike sparked major civil rights demonstrations during which Dr. Martin Luther King was slain by a sniper.

The two unions also compete to organize school, hospital, welfare, police and fire department employees in many areas.

Fitzsimmons in an article in the Teamsters Union magazine, said public employees are "catching up on a public debt" by demanding higher pay and better working conditions.

Both Fitzsimmons and Wurf contend most public workers should have the right to strike, except possibly police and firemen in some cases. Many states forbid public employees from striking.

Locomotive Sets Fan Club Excursion

BOISE (AP) — One of the last of Union Pacific Railroad's steam locomotives will make a trip through Boise in September on a fan club excursion.

The locomotive—Number 8444—last saw regular service in 1954 and is now maintained at Union Pacific yards in Cheyenne, Wyo.

The trip, which will be from Cheyenne to Huntington, Ore., and back, will be sponsored by the Boise Association of Model Railroaders.

The 25-year-old engine is kept in perfect operating condition but railroad officials say its life is limited due to lack of parts and a shortage of workmen who can service the old steamer.

A. L. Wright, president of the model railroads association, said the September excursion trip could be the last opportunity for people to ride on a genuine steam train.

Hospital Issue Goes To Voters

COUR D'ALENE, Idaho (AP) — A $200,000 bond issue to expand Kootenai Memorial Hospital in Cour d'Alene will go before Kootenai County voters again June 18.

The issue failed to get the necessary two-thirds approval by a narrow margin May 21, when submission of the issue was ordered by the hospital's board of trustees.

Plans Opposed
 BOISE (AP) — Plans to convert landscaped grounds of the Veterans Hospital at Boise into a parking lot have been opposed by U.S. Sen. Frank Church, D-Idaho, who says he will urge federal authorities to review and reverse the proposal.

Charges Fly Over Payment Handling

BOISE (AP) — Charges and countercharges by the state auditor and an agency of the governor's office over handling of state social security payments continue. Meanwhile an administration agency says it is proceeding with a study to determine if state-sick leave wages are taxable.

Gov. Don Samuelson says an accounting firm has advised him sick leaves wages are exempt from social security taxes. State Auditor Joe R. Williams says they are not exempt. Williams directed the Department of Administrative Services, headed by Budget Director James Defenbach, to investigate.

Defenbach said Wednesday Williams has been "grossly negligent" in looking into the matter, and he was issuing a "public appeal" for Williams to cooperate in the study.

Williams said he will cooperate "100 per cent," but added Defenbach's statements are politically motivated.

"If Gov. Don Samuelson was truly motivated to save the state of Idaho and its employees social security taxes," Williams said, "he would have handled the matter in a business-like manner rather than let Mr. Defenbach attempt to continue in his political campaign against me which he started in 1962, the year he lost the state auditor race against me. Since being appointed budget director by Gov. Samuelson, Mr. Defenbach has continually tried to usurp the fiscal duties of my office for his own personal political gain."

Ask Two Heyburn Women, Calories Do Count!

By ARVETTA SAVAGE
Times-News Correspondent
HEYBURN — "Die or die," wasn't exactly the most comforting phrase to hear, but it apparently "carried a couple of weight" to make two Heyburn women, weighing a little less than 300 pounds each, sit up and take notice.

During the past 13 months Mrs. Lois Fiores Pelton, 32, has removed 121 excess pounds, and Mrs. Faye McClintock Cole, 28, has shed over 101. Each is a mother of two small children.

The situations concerning the problems of the two were not the same, but each brought the same result — too much weight.

Mrs. Cole, weighing over 254, and who at one time had tipped the scales at 292, along with Mrs. Pelton, who weighed about 267, were miserable. In their eyes, the world was staring at them with disgust, and they were filled with self-pity as an everyday indulgent.

But apparently the two could not bring themselves to admit they were in the "shape they were in" and would not admit that the common everyday problem of obesity had happened to them.

In February of 1967, Mrs. Cole consulted her doctor concerning chest pains she had at the time the true picture was unfolded with realism coming to light. Mrs. Cole was beginning to fight for her life.

The villain in her case was not the man dressed in black with a handbar moustache. This villain would have been easy to deal with if it were not for the one she was faced with.

Mrs. Cole realized that she not only was the victim, but she was the villain. For at the time she had to find the courage and willpower to help the victim overpower and master the villain.

Her problem was being overly fond of food and the obesity was causing greater problems from high blood pressure. The doctor did not let her eat at this time, but waited until after she had gone through three weeks of strenuous dieting. At the second check-up she weighed 254.

In March of 1967, Mrs. Pelton, weighing 262, consulted her doctor for some type of miracle to help her. Her physician told her to eat, but that her body did not burn up a normal amount of calories, he said.

The doctor gave her a diet and some impressive thoughts and Mrs. Pelton left the office in tears. He told her she was in good health but she must do as he said and she could go without food for a long time and be able to live off her excess.

Mrs. Pelton, who stood five-foot, two inches, went on a strict 20 calorie-per-day diet. She lost 20 pounds in the next few days but soon was faced with discouragement as six pounds of creeped back. She felt a twinge of panic and desperation in wanting to go back to where she started, she consulted her doctor again. They both knew what she was up against.

One day she called Mrs. Cole, who lived on the other side of town, and suggested they visit the TOPS Pamper Club at Paul's. Mrs. Cole said she was currently following a strict diet also and that she would attend the meeting with her.

Now, Mrs. Cole admits that she really didn't want to go to the meeting, but she just went to help Lois. Right now both admit to being leery about other diets and admitting to the world how much I weigh.

They also will tell people that this problem is similar to that of an alcoholic — you have to admit that you have a problem before you can attempt solving it.

TOPS Club was not the miracle each had been looking for, but with the help of members, who were having the same problem, it gave the two a glimmer of hope.

At TOPS Club, members shared the gains and praised the losses, and they seemed to have Mrs. Cole and Mrs. Pelton in a special competition with each other.

"I didn't want to let her down," she couldn't overeat, knowing that she was going without, "I knew she was determined and I didn't want to let her down," she was just a few of the comments the two ladies remember saying.

Anybody can start a diet, but very few can follow through. The two women knew the theory all too well and went through periods of actual suffering, both mentally and physically.

They spent afternoons together, chewing on crushed ice, drinking tea water or during periods of a sheer desperation, would "chew back out of a piece of celery."

"Sometimes I would go to bed and eat," she couldn't remember really hit hard," remember.

IS IT HARD TO BELIEVE that excess pounds being carried on persons can be great enough to make a complete human adult body? The two ladies standing in the center represent the amount of weight the outside woman recently lost. Mrs. Faye Cole, left, with her other self, Sandy Savage, weighing 101; and Mrs. Nona Jenks, second from right and weighing 121; to equal the amount of weight lost by Mrs. Lois Pelton, right.

bers Mrs. Pelton. "But I knew that if I could last they out they would quit after a while and they did. But sometimes they would go on and on, and for a few minutes they can really hurt."

"I think the worst part of all of this was right at the very first. We had so much to lose before anyone could even notice that we were losing. Being so hungry, so weak and nobody noticed."

Last June when the struggle was going nip and tuck, Mrs. Pelton was watching television. The newscaster showed a Vietnamese who had lost 60 pounds (the same amount as her up to that time), and he remarked that no one knows the suffering this man, who was skin and bones, had gone through while losing those pounds. Mrs. Pelton observed to herself, "I know — believe me, I know."

The man had had no food to eat, but Mrs. Pelton had all kinds of food before her and yet couldn't touch it — she knew the pangs and had a sample of the suffering.

The two women spent afternoons together and when this wasn't possible because of their individual families, they would use the telephone to give words of encouragement to each other.

"We can't make it — we just can't possibly make it — do you realize that I would have lost over 100 pounds? I'm two weeks, I can't go any further!"

After the usual sentiments of self pity, one of them would suggest they try it one more day, and they did. They learned to try each hour, each day and week as it came.

Each became weak in both length and spirit, but sometimes they found the strength to proceed. One day they met at Mrs. Cole's house to jump rope and receive music-toning by a violinist.

During one period of workout,

Mrs. Cole ended her rope jumping episode by weakly crawling on her hands and knees into the other room where Mrs. Pelton was using the vibrator.

They laughed at each other and they cried for each other and still no one realized or knew the immense struggle the two were having.

Sometimes Mrs. Pelton will look in the mirror and miss seeing "the other Lois." "It's just like losing someone very close to you that you have known all your life," she said. The women say that losing all this weight is almost like going into another time zone — you know everyone, but to them, you are a stranger.

The women have changed both in appearance and personality. Each finds it necessary to change old habits and get away from anything that may tempt them into going backwards. Both have an amount of energy and ambition that each thought to be impossible to have.

Both are enjoying new entertainment with their families and Mrs. Cole has taken up gardening and even rides a bicycle frequently. Both appreciate the new experience of setting their small youngsters on their feet. Instead of the end of their knees, and they can stoop over or even climb on a chair to reach into the kitchen cupboards. They are finding bones they never realized were there.

And they can stoop over or even climb on a chair to reach into the kitchen cupboards. They are finding bones they never realized were there.

They know the problem isn't whipped and that if they let themselves, they could eat a meal meant for "three people."

When Mrs. Pelton goes to a movie with her husband and someone in front of her starts "crunching" on popcorn or candy, she gets in the "last crunch" by pulling out her celery and carrot sticks and going to it.

"A whole new world is out there that I've never seen before," said Mrs. Cole. "It makes you want to try everything good there is to take up."

The two women are close to reaching the goals set over a year ago and are looking forward to enjoying this new life. Comments of the two have changed tremendously in the past few months and self pity never enters in. In fact the keyword seems to be:

"She's going to make it — and I know I'm going to make it."

When Mrs. Pelton got so used to using force and an extra hard jerk to get her body out of bed mornings, that after she lost 100 pounds and attempted the same method to get herself out of bed, she came close to throwing her body nearly through the bedroom wall.

Sometimes Mrs. Pelton will look in the mirror and miss seeing "the other Lois." "It's just like losing someone very close to you that you have known all your life," she said. The women say that losing all this weight is almost like going into another time zone — you know everyone, but to them, you are a stranger.

The women have changed both in appearance and personality. Each finds it necessary to change old habits and get away from anything that may tempt them into going backwards. Both have an amount of energy and ambition that each thought to be impossible to have.

Both are enjoying new entertainment with their families and Mrs. Cole has taken up gardening and even rides a bicycle frequently. Both appreciate the new experience of setting their small youngsters on their feet. Instead of the end of their knees, and they can stoop over or even climb on a chair to reach into the kitchen cupboards. They are finding bones they never realized were there.

Miss Jacobson, Riley Disclose Wedding Plans

RICHFIELD — The engagement of Patricia Mary Jacobson, Pocatello, to Patrick James Riley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Riley Jr., Richfield, has been announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon H. Jacobson, Pocatello.

The engagement was announced during a Welcome Wagon mad hatter party in Pocatello. Scralls inside tiny hats were tied to each guest, and each plate. They read, "Don't keep it under your hat. Wedding bells for Patrick and Pat."

Miss Jacobson has been a model with the Welcome Wagon group. She is a 1967 graduate of Pocatello High School and is a freshman student at Idaho State University, where she is majoring in English. She is employed by the YWCA.

Mr. Riley was graduated from Richfield High School in 1964. He attended Idaho State University for two years and majored in pre-engineering. He received a two-year certificate in drafting and design this May from ISU School of Vocational-Technical Education.

Mr. Riley received a vocational-technical spring semester scholarship, has been a class officer, and is treasurer of Tau Alpha Pi. He is employed by S. and A. Fabricating Co.

The wedding will take place June 15 at Trinity Episcopal Church, Pocatello. The bridegroom's parents will host an open house for the couple at the Riley ranch home June 28.

Bethel No. 56 Conducts Last Meet-Of Season

The last meeting of the season for Bethel No. 56, International Order of Job's Daughters, was held recently at the Masonic Temple, with Kay Griffith, honored queen, presiding.

Introduced were Mrs. Lucille Kelly and Roy Weatherly, guardian and proxy, associate guardian of Bethel No. 56, Mrs. Marian Jenkins, past guardian of Bethel No. 56, and Mrs. Robinson and Betty Grosse, members of Bethel No. 18.

The grand council was discussed and plans made for the installation which is scheduled for Wednesday, a practice for installation will be held at 6 p.m. Tuesday at the Masonic Temple.

"Jobie of the meeting" was Kay Davis and birthday girls were Sally Deane, Cacia Grabert and Ann Harvey.

A party honoring the seniors was held after the meeting. Cheryl Machamer was in charge of the decorations.

Homemakers Set June Meeting

SHOSHONE — "Freeze Yourself Some Spare Time" is the timely subject selected for the Young Homemakers meeting set for 2 p.m. June 6 at the courts house here.

Helene Walker, Idaho Power home service adviser, will give the educational program.

Points on how and how to freeze will be discussed and colored slides will be shown. There will also be information on "blanching" of vegetables before freezing, the type of containers to use, and the cost. Questions will be welcome.

The USDA and University of Idaho bulletins will be available for the homemakers on freezing of fruits, vegetables, meats, prepared foods and jam. All bulletins are free of charge, states Mrs. Mary Lou Ruby, home economist here.

Social Calendar

GOODING — Melody Squares will dance at 8:30 p.m. Saturday at Hansen's Cafe, Glenns Ferry. Myron Bliss is the caller. Those attending are asked not to bring food for this dance, as a small cover charge will be asked for refreshments.

Club Activities Are Planned

Plans for the forthcoming year and the new yearbooks were planned with members of Beta Theta Chapter met at the home of Mrs. Ina Knox, president.

An auction was held, with Lucille Brize being the highest bidder. A special prize was given to Betty Newbury.

The next meeting is set for June 13 at the home of Mrs. Newbury.

Mother's Day Program Given

FAIRFIELD — A Mother's Day program was presented by Mrs. Boyd Harrison and Mrs. Zane Harrison for the regular meeting of the Occident Rebekah No. 58 Lodge.

It was reported that 22 sick calls have been made since the last meeting. Plans were made to visit a sick member on her holiday. Plans were made to serve the lunch for the State Grassman of the Year Tour as the Everett Coates ranch June 7.

Hostesses were Mrs. Carrie Reedy and Mrs. Tom Sanford.

Buhl Pageant Ideas Discussed

BUHL — A discussion on helpful and new hints for backstage ideas for the Miss Buhl Pageant was held when the Lady Lions met at the home of Mrs. William Shriver, president.

The pageant will be held June 8 in the Buhl High School Auditorium.

A meeting was planned for June 19 at the home of Mrs. Alverson to take care of the summer business. It was decided a book with the requirements for the pageant should be made.

Mrs. Jim Hopkins and Mrs. Shriver were hostesses.

Aid Ladies Meet

BLISS — Mrs. Charles Hobday recently hosted the Bliss Ladies Aid Club. The devotional service was given by Mrs. Effie Butler.

Mrs. Marvin Laidig offered the prayer.

The afternoon was spent quilting and embroidering tea towels and pillow cases. Mrs. Les Parsons can be contacted for terms such as those that the club sells. Proceeds are used for community projects.

The next meeting is June 7.

Couple Marries In Double Ring Wedding Rites

VIEW—The LDS Chapel was the setting for the May 11 wedding of Mrs. Leta Bronson Jones and the late Mr. LaMar Bronson, and Larry Woolstenhulme, son of Philip Woolstenhulme and the late Mrs. Philip Woolstenhulme.

Bishop Deloss Stoker officiated at the double ring ceremony. Mrs. LeRoy McBride was organist, and Samuel Garrett, brother-in-law of the bride, gave the opening prayer. Alfred Woolstenhulme, uncle of the bridegroom, gave the closing prayer.

The bride wore a floor-length, ruffled, styled gown of white tulle with a ruffled neckline and long sleeves, trimmed with beaded pearls. The pleated floor-length train was draped from the shoulders. Her elbow-length veil of illusion was held by a crown of white roses. She carried a cascade of white daisies accented with white satin streamers.

The gown was made by the bride's mother.

Matron of honor was Mrs. Brent (Shirley) Stauffer—twin sister of the bride. Bridesmaids were Del Jeanne Garrett, sister of the bride; Pamela Parish and Brenda Cox.

Kyle Hansen, friend of the bridegroom was best man. Ushers were David Warren, Brent Stauffer and Jerry Coombs.

A reception was held after the ceremony in the cultural hall, with Mrs. Kay Anderson, sister of the bridegroom registering the guests. Gifts were arranged by Patty Lu Kelly, Lavonia Ford and Kathy Kelly. Gift carriers were Robin Garrett, Janie Garrett and Samara Garrett, nieces of the bride.

The bride's table was covered with white lace and centered with a three-tiered wedding cake decorated with archid wisteria and topped with a miniature bride and a bridegroom on a heart-shaped pedestal. The cake gift from heaven because a year later we were blessed with our own little son! And the following year, another son. We should be happier than ever, but here's the problem:

My husband's father, who was against our adopting the little girl in the first place, goes out of his way to hurt the child. He favors the boys with gifts and treats, and leaves the little girl standing without a hurt and pleading for recognition. Behind our backs he refers to the girl as "that illegitimate b--- John took to raise." She is a sweet and adorable child, and much prettier than his own "blue blood" granddaughters.

We don't want to cause trouble so we make excuses for Grandpa's slighted but how can I stand by with my blood boiling and say nothing? When we leave his home a promise I'll never take the children there again, but I always weaken and do hoping he'll behave better. What can be done?

NO NAME, PLEASE.

DEAR NO NAME: If you subject your daughter to Grandpa's cruel treatment you are as guilty as Grandpa. Let him know that you will tolerate no more of his unfair and unfeeling conduct. Deny him the privilege of seeing all your children until he agrees to mend his ways. He may never agree, which will be his loss.

Malta Social Club Hosts Tea

MALTA—Members of the Malta Social Club hosted a Senior Tea recently at the REA Conference Room, Malta, honoring senior girls of the Raft River High School and their mothers.

Mrs. Idaho for 1967, Mrs. Linda Harvey, Twin Falls, home economics teacher at Henson High School, was the featured speaker. She told the group of her experiences as Mrs. Idaho and details of the contest. She advised the girls on "How To Be Ladies." Mrs. Harvey was accompanied by Mrs. Roger Vincent, Piler, Mrs. Idaho of the club.

Mrs. Bruce Hall, president, welcomed the guests, and Mrs. Cecil Newirth introduced the guest speaker.

Each girl introduced her mother and told her plans for the future. Each received a gift from the club.

Committees for the tea included Mrs. Ronald Walters, Mrs. Mayon Whiting and Mrs. Blaine Wright, refreshment; Mrs. Frank McElwain, invitations; Mrs. Glen Parke, gifts; Mrs. John A. Pierce, program; and Mrs. Wilber Schoner, table decorations.

Plans Made For Sagebrush Days Celebration

Buhl—Plans for the annual Sagebrush Days celebration were made when the Buhl Jay-G-ettes met at the home of Mrs. Jack Fields for the May meeting.

It was decided to donate the prizes left from the last Fourth of July to the Camp Fire Girls for their carnival. It was also decided to leave the painting of the planters in downtown Buhl pending a decision from the local Kiwanis club.

Mrs. Marvin Lively, president, noted that May is Mental Health Month and that the club would spearhead a campaign to raise $500 in the community. Mrs. Lively and Mrs. Willie Price will co-chairman the project.

Informative panel discussions concerning venereal disease and narcotics are being planned. A rummage sale will be held Saturday with Mrs. Jack Price in charge.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Fields and Mrs. Ken Hanson.

Parliamentarian Gives Lesson

Mrs. Boyd Smith, parliamentarian, gave a lesson on the duties of officers and committees during the Goodwill Club meeting, at the home of Mrs. K. H. Carr.

The flag salute was led by Mrs. J. W. Carr and prayer given by Mrs. Ed Orndorf. The thought for the day was given by Mrs. Ivan Waring.

A special gift went to Mrs. George Rigdon and a secret pal anniversary gift was presented to Mrs. H. C. Thompson. Mrs. W. W. Carr conducted a program of contests, with Mrs. Orndorf, Mrs. Gene Tynes, Mrs. Lloyd Kelley and Mrs. Emery Treat winning prizes.

The next meeting is June 12 with Mrs. H. W. Carr. A silent auction will be held and secret pal names will be revealed.

NOTICE TO ALL EARLY BIRDS

HERE IS AN OPPORTUNITY FOR YOU TO GET THE WORM!

For many months we have been planning an extensive remodeling program which will give us more display area and improve our efficiency and service to our customers. We have finally agreed on an overall plan — a $35,000.00 project, and we are anxious to get under way with it.

However, we first must move about $85,000.00 worth of merchandise from our $250,000.00 inventory and condense the remaining inventory into areas not affected by the project—before the contractor can get started.

Our official announcement of this remodeling project and the liquidation of inventory will be made next Sunday June 2nd.

You can feel lucky you didn't take a Memorial Day trip this year. You can be an EARLY BIRD and beat the crowds of next week.

THE RUPERT CITY Secondary Sewer Treatment Plant, now 85 per cent complete, involves the construction of this four-acre aeration pond, which will hold up to five million gallons of treated water that has traveled through the grit chamber and the clarifier. When completed, the pond will contain a floating motor, which will operate a "mixmaster" to draw process water from the aeration pond, pump it to neutralize it. The project is 85 per cent complete.

Secondary Sewer Treatment Plant Is Delayed At Rupert

RUPERT — A hold-up in an order for necessary controls for Rupert's new secondary sewer treatment plant under construction at the city's sewer plant southwest of Rupert will mean a completion delay until July 15, according to city engineer Ron Klebe.

The plant is now about 85 per cent complete and should be completed with the exception of the control assembly within the next few weeks.

Funds for the $150,000 project have been provided through redeemable bonds and by a federal grant of $40,000. Mr. Klebe pointed out that the new secondary plant is at no additional cost to the city's residents.

At the sewage plant, the waste water goes through a grit chamber and from there travels to a clarifier. In the clarifier, or primary system, the solids and materials are dropped from the water and eliminated in a digester.

When the secondary plant is completed, the settled water will then be pumped from the clarifier to a four-acre pond, or aeration pond, which actually composes the secondary system.

In the pond, which holds five million gallons of water within its nine-foot walls, the water will remain for four days. This is known as the detention period.

While under detention, the water will be tested to determine the amount of oxygen and soluble solids contained therein. The results of the tests will control the amount of air then pumped into the water.

Mr. Klebe explained that the aeration process has a neutralizing effect which changes the water back to 95 per cent of its original purity. After the four days, the water will then be pumped back to the river.

Until now, the waste water has gone directly to the river without the final elimination of waste material in the aeration pond. The pond was necessary in order to comply with state and federal regulations concerning water pollution.

General contractor for the construction is the City of Rupert, and city crews are being used as much as possible to cut expenses, according to Mr. Klebe, who also said that it is hoped enough funds can be saved to allow for the landscaping of the bank of the pond and the grounds around the sewer plant.

He said it is tentatively planned to have the landscaping done this fall, if the money is available, otherwise it will be done as the money comes in.

Tires Stolen

Three tires, valued at approximately $40 each were reported stolen Monday night from the Union Oil Co. bulk plant on Eastland Drive.

City police said Dean Shipley, manager of the plant, reported the building had been entered sometime between 6 p.m. Monday and 7:40 a.m. Tuesday. The manager reported the burglar entered through a hole in a fence behind the building and forced a lock on a door on the south side.

Nothing else in the building was disturbed, but police were continuing their investigation Tuesday.

Three Suits Filed Against T.F. Company

Three damage suits were filed in Fifth Judicial District Court in Twin Falls Wednesday afternoon by investors in the Idaho Investment Corp., Twin Falls.

The suits name the Idaho Investment Corporation, Fred M. Frazier, Herbert Richards, Lyle M. Jones and Theodore M. McPhee as officers of the corporation and as individuals in the damage suits.

All three suits were filed by R. M. Whittier, Pocatello attorney, representing the three couples who purchased stock in the firm.

Plaintiffs in the suits are Eugene F. and Barbara A. Landers, Montpelier; Merrill and Winnie Sharp, and August E. and Minnie J. Miller, all Pocatello.

The plaintiffs allege the corporation's sales representatives used fraudulent sales material and information in selling them stock. The complaints all state representatives listed assets in the way of property, manufacturing plants and savings-and-loan companies, not owned by Idaho Investment Corp., as a basis for their stock sales.

Mr. and Mrs. Landers seek damages of $2,000 plus attorney fees and other costs they say they lost by investing with the corporation. The other claims include Mr. and Mrs. Miller, $5,010, which they invested in stock according to their complaint, and Mr. and Mrs. Sharp who seek $4,000, which they say they invested in Idaho Investment Corp. stock. The investments were reportedly made in 1965.

Marichal And Mays Defeat Cardinals 2-1

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Willie Mays clubbed a two-run home run and carry the San Francisco Giants past the reeling St. Louis Cardinals 2-1 Wednesday night.

Juan Marichal became the league's first eight-game winner, stopping St. Louis on six hits as the first pitcher who have won six of their last eight, moved 1 1/2 games ahead of runner-up Atlanta, which was reeling Wednesday night.

Worthington Feels 2-Fold Need To Save

ST. PAUL, MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Al Worthington's life is focused in the techniques of saving.

The 39-year-old relief pitcher picked up his 10th mound save Wednesday night when he relieved Jim Perry and pitched the Minnesota Twins' 2-1 victory over the Cleveland Indians by retiring all four men he faced.

After a dawn rush by thousands of racing buffs into the vast, muddy infield of the 53-acre plant and traditional pre-race music and hoopla, track owner Tony Hulman will trigger perhaps the most revolutionary 500 in history with the admonition: "Gentlemen, start your engines."

The death knell of the piston engine Indy race, a muffled warning last year when the lone turbine driven by Parnelli Jones was out because of a $5 bearing failure 7 1/2 miles from easy victory, may really reverberate.

Reds Erase Big Deficit, Edge Dodgers

CINCINNATI (AP) — Cincinnati spotted Los Angeles a five-run lead in the third inning, caught up in the eighth and beat the Dodgers 6-5 Wednesday night on Zolfo Versalles' error with two out in the ninth.

Alex Johnson, who scored the tying run in the eighth, began the night when the relief of Dodger reliever Jim Brewer. Tony Perez sacrificed him to second and Johnny Bench was purposefully passed. Brewer framed Lee May but shortstop Versalles' bobbled Len Cardena's grounder and Johnson, sped home from second.

Boswell-Led Twins Edge Indians 1-0

ST. PAUL, MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Dave Boswell blanked Cleveland on three hits and drove in the only run with a foul pop-up, leading Minnesota to a 1-0 victory over the Indians Wednesday night.

The Twins edged in the fifth inning after Cesar Tovar singled with one out, stole second and moved to third on Jackie Hernandez's error.

Boswell lofted a pop fly into foul territory about 50 feet past first base. Tony Horton made a diving catch at first base and tagged up and broke for home.

Clear Water Conditions To Produce Bonanza For General Season Opening

It will be fishermen's choice Saturday when the 1968 general fishing season opens. Low water year has created nearly ideal conditions everywhere. With the exception of a couple of areas, the large army of worms dredged and fly experts from Magic Valley will be found across the southern part of the state.

The Fish and Game Department reports streams generally are running about 75 per cent of normal and some are less than that. With the mild winter, a good carryover of fish is anticipated and hatchery trucks have augmented most waters with stocked fish. The only exception may be the South Fork of the Boise River. A tight planting schedule may preclude planting a good amount of fish in the stream, below Skeleton Creek, until after the opening week.

Working at Magic Valley, the regional office reports Sublett Reservoir near Malta is clear and full, offering good prospects for the week. Clear and high and clear and have been planted.

Most of the road systems into the South Hills country are now open and streams are low and clear—planted, Shoshone Creek and Big Creek in the Shoshone Basin are somewhat open and streams are low and clear and the Jarbidge river is low and clear.

On the North-side of the Snake River, the Hagerman, Crane, Waters, Riley Creek, Billingsley Creek and Malad River, are all planted. The Hagerman Ranch Dam will feature trolling as the best bet, and water conditions are good. Dollarhide Summit Road is closed.

On the Camas-Prarie-Crinity Lakes are closed.

On the Camas-Prarie-Crinity Lakes east of Fairfield is stocked and the area is clear and low and clear. Mormon Reservoir is still producing good catches and will continue to do so. The Hagerman Ranch Dam will feature trolling as the best bet, and water conditions are good. Dollarhide Summit Road is closed.

Phillies And Cubs Trade Decisions

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—John Callison's two-run pinch hit homer broke a 3-2 tie and the Philadelphia Phillies went on to beat the Chicago Cubs 5-3 Wednesday night in the second game of a two-night doubleheader.

Bobo Phillips—fielding and Ken Holtzman's two-pitching helped the Cubs to a 9-2 triumph in the opener.

Callison's homer, his fourth of the season, came with two out in the bottom of the eighth and reliever Phil Regan, who replaced starter Rich Nye after Gary Sutherland's leadoff single.

Regan retired Don Lock and pinch hitter Bill White before Callison batted for Roberto Pena and homered over the right field wall.

The Phillis added three more runs when Tony Gonzalez and Clay Dalrymple singled and pitcher Rick Wise doubled them home. Wise also scored when shortstop Don Kessinger threw the relay into the dugout.

The Cubs took advantage of a fielding error to score five-earned runs in the opener.

Holtzman, 43, allowed the Phillis both their runs and hit the first inning of the hitless ball the rest of the way, retiring the last 17 batters in one out.

Trailing 2-1, the Cubs scored three earned runs in the third and fourth and wrapped it up with three more gift runs in the fifth on three hits and three Phillie errors.

They added three more runs in the ninth.

Palmer Hopes To Regain Title Touch

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP)—Arnold Palmer hopes to put the brush young challengers back in their place in the Atlanta Classic Golf Tournament which starts Thursday.

"I'd like to turn back those youngsters," Palmer said on the eve of the $115,000 tournament on the 7,037-yard Atlanta Country Club course which sweeps through the forests where Civil War battles were fought 60 years ago.

"I'd like to turn back anybody in fact and get going myself," added Palmer, winner of 50 titles during his career on the tournament tour but having only a 50-50 season this year.

"Frustrated," Jack Nicklaus, Masters champ Bob Goalby, Tiger Woods, George Archer and veterans Dan Sikes, Don January and Gary Player also are in the star-studded field.

But some of the unknown youngsters are attracting much of the attention, including Mac McLendon, 22-year-old Alabama, who has won 49,050 in two weeks on the tour.

McLendon, Memphis Open champ Bob Lunn, Steve Reid and Tom Weiskopf are among the upstarts who have thrown the pro tour into a wide open battle at every stop.

Fifteen of the fuzzy checked golfers have left a part of the names—Nicklaus and Doug Sanders—without a victory this year.

Idaho To Aid In Revising Columbia Pact

PORTLAND (AP)—The Governors of three Northwest states met here Wednesday and established an advisory committee to the Oregon-Washington-Columbia River Compact.

The committee will include the directors of the game departments and fish departments of Washington and Oregon and the Idaho Fish and Game Department.

Gov. Dan Evans of Washington had expressed concern that Idaho, source of many of the migratory fish, was not represented on the compact, which covers the sports fishing interests of the three states.

The compact sets the commercial fishing seasons on the Columbia. Friction has developed this year between sport and commercial fishermen when the winter commercial season was extended. Sports fishermen were concerned that the extension would be harmful by the extension.

Woodworth, Director of the Idaho Fish and Game Department, was named acting chairman. The advisory committee will report back to the governor within 60 days.

The committee will draft proposed changes to the 50-year old compact. The changes include admittance of Idaho to the compact where it has specific interest in the fishery, admittance of fish and game representatives from Washington and Oregon, and development of means for minimizing the steelhead catch and export. They have only one vote on the compact but the loss of the number of departments involved.

Oakland Pins 7-4 Defeat On Red Sox

OAKLAND (AP)—Danny Cater drove in four runs and Jim "Catfish" Hunter checked Boston after a shaky start as the Oakland Athletics whipped the Red Sox 7-4 Wednesday night.

Hunter was clipped for three runs in the first inning, then blanked the Red Sox until the ninth in posting his fifth victory against three losses.

Cater keyed a three-run Oakland lead in the first inning with a two-run single, knocked in the go-ahead run with a ground out in the third and delivered a sacrifice fly in the seventh.

Singles by Jose Tartabull and Dalton Jones, errors by Mike Hersherberger and Ted Kubacki and sacrifice flies by Ken Harrelson and Reggie Miller helped the Red Sox jump Hunter for a 3-0 lead.

"I've tied it in their half of the first on singles by Bert Campanaris, Sal Bando and Carter plus a walk and infield out by Mike Ankles and Jim Pitarone, singled in the third before Kuback scored on Carter's ground out.

Hunter's double, Campanaris' single and 22nd stolen base, and a two-run single by Kuback sent the A's ahead 6-3 in the fourth.

States Hail Supreme Court Ruling Restricting Off-Reservation Fishing

(EDITOR'S NOTE: The following dispatch by Spokane Spokesman-Review Outdoor Writer John Reid gives the reaction of a Washington State official to the U.S. Supreme Court decision on off-reservation fishing by Indians.)

By JOHN REID
The United States Supreme Court decision this week restricting off-reservation fishing by Indians was hailed Tuesday by an official of the Game Department as a victory for the state's resources.

"This victory is not for the Indians, not for the sportsmen and not for the state, but for the resource itself," Walter Neubrech, chief of the department's Enforcement Division, commented in Olympia.

"It will be a great advantage to us and to the Department of Fisheries in that now we can plan fisheries programs in advance," he added.

"We are a bit premature in making any comments at this time," Neubrech said. "Since our attorneys have not had an opportunity to study the decision. But some of the language in the opinion carries its message encouragingly."

The manner of fishing, size of take, the restriction of commercial fishing and the like may be regulated by the state in the interest of conservation, he added.

BYU, Weber Open NCAA Playoffs

OGDEN, Utah (AP)—Brigham Young University and Weber State colleges will start Friday at Ogden's John A. Fick Park in the first game of the Region Seven NCAA baseball playoffs.

The playoff series is scheduled for Saturday in Provo. A possible third game may follow in Provo, determined by the state.

BYU has beaten WSC three times this season, twice in a doubleheader in Provo and once in an extra-innings game in Ogden.

Weber coach Dick Williams said Wednesday that freshman Tony Smith will be starting Friday for WSC, with BYU coming from pitchers Brad Meyring, Rich Zinnfer, and Ken Crosby to start the opening game.

The playoff sites were determined Monday by BYU's Floyd Millet, and WSC's Dale Gardner, athletic directors of the schools. BYU elected to play the opener in Ogden.

Rockets Sign 5-10 Rookie

DENVER, Colo. (AP)—The Denver Rockets announced Wednesday they have signed their sixth round draft choice, Vernon Payne, a 5-foot-10, 160-pound guard from Indiana University.

Payne, 22, comes to the American Basketball Association team after leading Indiana in scoring last year.

Chicago Ends Loss Skein, Tops Orioles

CHICAGO (AP)—Joe Horlen pitched a five-hitter and Tom McCraw drove in two runs with a first inning triple Wednesday night as the Chicago White Sox broke a six-game losing streak with a 3-1 victory over the Baltimore Orioles.

The loss snapped a six-game winning string for Baltimore.

Horlen extended his streak of scoreless innings to 37 before the Orioles nicked him for a run in the sixth while bringing his record to 4-5.

Orioles southpaw Dave McNally walked Luis Aparicio with one out in the first inning and hit Pete Ward behind the right ear with a pitch. Bill Voss ran for Ward and was forced at second by Duane Josephson before McCraw crashed his triple.

As these runs built up the unregulated Indian fishing increased proportionately. They fished commercially for steelhead with nets on silver west coast streams and for salmon in the Columbia above Bonneville Dam, which is off limits to all others.

Over the years the dispute became bitter. Shots were fired, heads of law enforcement people bloodied, nets were damaged by sportsmen and several court cases lost by the officials.

The one decided Monday was started nearly two years ago when the Indians petitioned for steelhead on the Nisqually.

Rev. Abernathy Emphasizes Nonviolence Philosophy After Incident

By JACK MILLER
WASHINGTON (AP) — The Rev. Ralph David Abernathy has emphasized again that non-violence is the guiding philosophy of the Poor People's Campaign following a window-breaking incident at the Supreme Court building.

But more militant figures in the campaign talked Wednesday night of the possibility of bloodshed if the government does not respond to their demands for better welfare programs.

At a songfest and campaign rally in the John Wesley A. M. E. Church, Abernathy said of the smashing of four windows at the Supreme Court building during a campaign demonstration there earlier in the day: "I did not come to Washington to break windows. . . I came to move the Congress of the United States."

The Negro civil rights leader repeated his contention that the windows were broken by outsiders trying to discredit the protest movement.

Other speakers rallied bitterly against the American system. . . The Rev. Jesse Jackson, manager of Resurrection City, the poor people's camp of wooden huts, said "Capitalism as we know it . . . does not serve the best interests of the people."

At the Supreme Court, the most militant protest of the campaign led to three arrests after some demonstrators tried to lower the American flag in front of the white marble building.

During the protest at the Court against a ruling upholding denial of fishing rights to Indians in Washington State, a small group of youths charged into the structure shouting "Viva Viva!" Court security forces ejected them.

Meanwhile, the campaigners made progress with one of their demands. The Senate voted to authorize Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman to use about $200-million extra funds for food aid to the poor.

ICC Orders Hearings On Rail Merger

WASHINGTON (AP) — Additional hearings on the proposed merger of the Chicago, Milwaukee, St. Paul & Pacific and the Chicago and North Western railroads have been ordered by the Interstate Commerce Commission.

Wednesday the ICC ordered the action after its Bureau of Enforcement said more information was needed to obtain full disclosure of the corporate and financial structure of Northwest Industries, Inc., a holding company with 90 per cent of C&NW.

The merged line would create a new railroad with more than 20,000 miles of track, mostly in the Midwest and Northwest.

Classes in baby sitting for boys and girls who have completed the fifth grade will again be offered this summer by the YWCA.

Certain issues have been raised particularly those dealing with the effect which the holding company will have upon the consolidation agreement and the stock-exchange rating between the railroads, the ICC said.

The course includes instruction from the police department, fire department and public health department, covering knowledge a baby-sitter should have in the care of young children.

The order also mentioned deferring significance of the holding by Northwest Industries of a controlling interest in the outstanding stock of the proposed merged lines.

Hearings on the merger ended last Jan. 12. To date there has been no examiner's report on the case.

JUST THE RIGHT SHAPE of the hat can be an important factor in winning the queen title. Karen Lavens James, former Miss Rodeo America, left, advises Lana Brackenbury, Jerome, Miss Brackenbury is one of 20 girls who will be attending an Idaho Rodeo Queen contestant clinic in Twin Falls June 8 and 9. Entries for the training clinic will be accepted through Friday.

Rodeo Contestant's Clinic Scheduled To Be Held In T. F. June 8 And 9

Approximately 20 girls, some from as far away as Ontario, Ore., are expected to participate in the two-day rodeo queen clinic sponsored in Twin Falls June 8 and 9 by the Idaho Rodeo Queen's Association.

Entries will still be accepted through Friday night, Mrs. Karen Jones, Twin Falls, co-chairman of the event, announced Wednesday.

Mrs. Jones said response has been good for the clinic which will be the second one to be held in Idaho and one of the few if not the only clinic of its type in the West.

"During the two days, girls interested in participating will be given training in proper dress, hair styles, general appearance and personalities. They will also receive pointers from experts in horsemanship, designed to help them win points in the arena while being judged in queen contests or competition events.

Many young girls, adept at riding and attractive enough to win a queen's title, fail to enter contests because of inexperience and lack of knowledge as to procedure, how to dress or what the clinic will be held Saturday at the Elks building, and the horsemanship events will be held on Sunday at Frontier Field.

A banquet Saturday night in the Elks building will be held at 7 p.m., open to the public.

Working with the Idaho Rodeo Queen's Association as members or advisors will be a number of former title holders, including Karen Lavens James, Jerome, hair stylists, make-up specialists, clothing experts and horsemanship experts will also donate their time to assist the girls.

The shoes that won't fight back even if you walk all over them.

There's a lot of supple give in a Weyenberg Massagic no matter how tough you may get with it.

In fact you think they're the most comfortable shoes in the world. But there's no big secret to making one. Anyone who has the time, skill, and wants to work hard enough can do it. All you need are the finest possible leathers. Then design the shoe with a molded sponge rubber lift to support the arch. A double rubber cushion in the heel. An air-celled rubber cushion in the sole. Add a steel shank for extra strength. ... And Weyenberg's 60 years of experience.

Richfield Boy Is Shot In Leg

SHOSHONE — Steven King, Richfield, 17-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Manuel King, was treated by a local physician for a gunshot wound in his left thigh.

The boy had gone across the road from the family residence, was about to shoot a bottle when he dropped the rifle. In falling it discharged and the 22 long bullet went into his leg.

He is reported recovering satisfactorily, law enforcement officers here report.

Commission Probes Cost Of Buying And Selling Stocks

By JOSEPH R. COYNE
WASHINGTON (AP) - The Securities and Exchange Commission has launched a full-scale inquiry...

One purpose of the hearing, the SEC said, will be to decide whether a minimum commission structure is needed.

Also to be considered is the justice Department's challenge to the system which permits the exchanges to fix minimum charges.

The SEC opposes fee-splitting and contends any savings in large volume purchases of stocks by mutual funds should be passed on to investors.

The SEC scheduled a hearing beginning July 1 on its inquiry of commissions that brokers collect on stock transactions.

SOUTH RELISHED NO-TRUMP BIDS
Today's hand was played in the early days of contract. Not exactly this hand, but one similar enough so that the result was the same.

Opening lead—4♣.

South was one of the first great contract authorities. He was young Oswald Jacoby. The game was rubber bridge and the stakes quite high for those Depression days although they would mean little in today's inflation.

South liked to bid no-trump and was an indelible part of a long hand with no-trump distribution. Needless to say, four aces and a King-filled-the-hill nicely. As you can see North responded with a two heart call. He knew that South would bid again. When South jumped to three no-trump, North went after 100-honors in hearts and redib his nice suit. When South persisted with no-trump, North decided to bid properly that South held all the aces. North bid a heart slam.

—I did him no good. South went right on the no-trump and North gave up the hopeless struggle.

South played with perfect technique. He won the 11th opening and led a low spade to set up a possible squeeze if diamonds did not break. Unfortunately for North and South the diamonds did not break and the squeeze didn't materialize. South got his 150 points for the aces but game, slam and rubber had gone into limbo.

Oswald Jacoby was mad then. He is still mad 35 years later but with the passage of time some of his a-g-e-r is turned against himself.

He knew that his partner liked to play no-trump. He should have realized that he was not going to get to play the hand and should have given up at three no-trump.

To be, the heart slam was there since playing at hearts he could ruff his fourth diamond, but what good is a heart-slam when you can't get to be play in hearts?

Her Mom Ignores Her Social Life

Dear Ele and Walt: Whenever I get offered a baby-sitting job, I take it. This means I never can know what to say when my friends ask me to go places with them or whether to dance or concert. Someone might call and ask me to sit and rium my plans.

Can I get my parents to let me decide whether or not to accept baby-sitting jobs? I first whether the guest comes from financial need. If the family needs your help, ask your parents for a weekly income goal, and then plan schedule with the hours to provide the needed capital.

Invest 50 cents in a calendar and start a reservation book. When there's a special outing coming up, ask mom's permission. If she says yes, write the event on your calendar and have her initial it. Then if anyone calls when you're out about a sitting job, she can look at the calendar, remember you're already committed and suggest alternate blank days.

If you doubt she'd agree to this plan, try to win her over for one parent afternoon or evening off. If she knows you never sit on Saturday from 1 to 8 p.m., then she'll steer clear of booking you those hours.—Ele and Walt.

HARD LESSON
Dear Ele and Walt: I want to warn anybody who thinks that running away will solve their problems. I was having trouble at school and my parents kept bugging me about it. So I decided to get away from it all and took the money from my savings account and went to Los Angeles.

I thought there were all these people who would help me. Wasn't that the only people who wanted anything to do with me either, wanted my money, or wanted me to do disgusting things with them? When my money was gone, I went hungry for two days before I went to a priest who called my parents. Now that I'm back home, my problems are bigger than ever. I lost three weeks of school and it's awfully hard to understand what's going on. I'll probably be kept back to repeat the 10th grade because of this.

To make it worse, my girl's parents have lost faith in me and she's making it hard for us to see each other. My own parents don't trust me anymore and won't let me have the family car. My advice is: Stay where you are when you have problems the time to enjoy dozens and work them out. Running of friendships with the opposite sex. Don't let your matchmak- Experience.

STILL FICKLE
Dear Ele and Walt: I'm almost 17 years old and yet I'm as fickle as a half dozen boys at the same time. How do I get out of this stage?—Gloria.

My advice is: Stay where you are when you have problems the time to enjoy dozens and work them out. Running of friendships with the opposite sex. Don't let your matchmak- Experience.
