PAUL — Plans are getting under way for the second annual Paul Community Farm Festival sponsored by the Paul Chamber of Commerce.

The event is scheduled for 6:30 p.m. June 21 in the parking lot of the new shopping center located on Highway 25, here.

The chamber is planning to feed 1,500 persons this year, according to Joe Bauer, president and general chairman, who noted that community response last year exceeded expectations. A beef barbecue with trimmings will be served to two or even three feed-lines this year.

Local clubs and organizations will provide cooked food booths and there will be round and square dancing to live music. Pony rides will be provided for the children and the N.F.O. will sponsor a pig scramble.

Tickets are being sold by chamber members and 30 prizes will be given away with two bicycles as the grand prizes.

The event was initiated by members last year as a means of showing appreciation to the public for supporting local establishments. The event was so successful that the chamber decided to make it an annual occasion.

THE REIGNING MISS Idaho, Kristine Phillips, takes a look at a scholarship check that will cover her expenses for the past two semesters at Idaho State University. At left is W. C. Skinner, Idaho Falls, chairman of the Idaho Pepsi Cola bottle's scholarship fund, and at right is Jay G. Jensen, ISU dean of men. Miss Phillips is from Rupert.

Honored

RUPERT Andrey Fil was honored for 10 years of service at the Kraft Foods plant in Rupert.

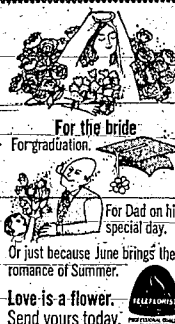

The 10-year service award, a gold tie bar bearing the Kraft emblem was presented at a ceremony in the plant office attended by fellow workers and executives.

Thanks...

Thanks to the people of Magic Valley for your response to our annual NATIONAL FRIGIDAIRE WEEK.

It was by far the most successful FRIGIDAIRE WEEK in our 22 year history. We are now ahead of our projected sales for the year.

Frigidaire has held their same low prices for years. However they have announced price increases as of June 1. We have placed an order for another car shipment in order to beat this price increase. As long as our stocks last we will maintain our present low prices.

THANKS AGAIN!

Cabbies Demand More Protection

NEW YORK (AP) — A hearing hearing the coffin of a robbed and slain cab driver, followed by a cortege of 500 taxis, circled City Hall Friday in a cable demand for more police protection.

The funeral procession started from the Bedford-Stuyvesant section of Brooklyn where driver Leroy Wright, 50, was killed during a robbery last week. After leaving City Hall, the procession returned to Brooklyn where Wright was buried in Evergreen Cemetery.

Wright was the fourth cab driver slain by robbers in the past 17 months.

Vandals Slow Job At New Park

Youngsters are vandalizing Cascade Park improvements and most faster than the city can build the new facilities, City Engineer Ron Scheuffele said Friday.

He urged parents of children in the area to stress to their children that these facilities are being built at taxpayer expense for the benefit of the youngsters. Mr. Scheuffele said parents are responsible for the damage and that each concrete pour costs approximately $1,300.

Vandals are walking in the fresh concrete, writing their names or even throwing large boulders and bottles into the new tennis and basketball courts. Unless the concrete is smooth it is useless for tennis and basketball play, the engineer explained.

In most cases the city is attempting to patch up the damage and a guard has now been posted to keep vandals away from the area.

In some cases, the children even scratched their last names in the concrete, Mr. Scheuffele said, and parents have been contacted and warned of their responsibilities.

Two tennis courts and one basketball court have been completed, the engineer added. Later this summer the city plans to add a recreation building, a unique monument and drinking fountain, numerous recreational facilities, curb and gutter and landscaping.

The park is located in the northeast part of the city and when completed will provide an important new recreational area for the expanding residential area in that region, the engineer explained.

"If these young vandals will just give us a chance, we will have a first class park for their enjoyment," Mr. Scheuffele said.

Diana Hopperstad Is In Miss T.F. Event

A young lady with plans to become a professional entertainer, and who already has a good start toward that goal, will be among the 10 candidates seeking the Miss Twin Falls title in the June 6 Lions Club sponsored pageant.

She is Diana G. Hopperstad, 18, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Green, 651 Madison Circle.

Miss Hopperstad was graduated from Twin Falls High School in 1967 and took her freshman year at the College of Southern Idaho. She is 5 feet 3 inches tall, with dark brown hair and brown eyes. Her weight is 120 pounds and her measurements are 35-26-35.

Miss Hopperstad has training in piano and dancing. For her talent demonstration in the contest, she will present a skit featuring her talent on drums, piano and singing.

For her hobbies, she enjoys musical activities and local restaurant in her spare time during the past few months.

Miss Hopperstad hopes to devote more time to music in the future and would like to work with a USO tour entertaining overseas. She is now employed at the Mountain States Telephone Co., has a black toy poodle and would like to form a combo group for tours.

Dog Stealing Is Suspected At Shoshone

SHOSHONE — Two family pet dogs have disappeared here within the past 10 days. Owners in both cases have reason to believe the animals were stolen and are fearing that a ring may again be operating in the area where the dogs might be stolen and then sold to laboratories for experiment purposes.

Mrs. John Thomas said her pet dog, medium sized white with brown markings, was last seen about 5 p.m. on Sunday, May 19. She said the animal was extremely afraid of strangers and felt concern that he would not have followed anyone or taken up with someone without a struggle.

Kenneth Adams had left his little Pekingese in the cab of his pickup while he went into the cafe in downtown Shoshone and after eating his dinner and returning to the truck the dog was gone.

He said there was barely a crack to the window left open where she might have escaped and the said to the window entirely down she was too small to get out alone. This happened Wednesday.

Both Adams and Mrs. Thomas said they would gladly pay a reward to anyone returning the dogs or providing information that might lead to apprehension of those who took them.

About three years ago, a ring of apparent operators were around and dogs were lost throughout Magic Valley.

Consolidation Of Law Enforcement Units Viewed

By ALLEN M. BAILEY
BOISE (AP) — A Legislative Council proposal to consolidate city and county law enforcement agencies has drawn criticism from an economy standpoint, but some law officials strongly object to certain provisions.

The proposal would consolidate agencies under an appointive police commissioner. Sheriffs provided for in the constitution would remain as administrative officials.

Under the proposal, prepared for the Local Government Committee, the commissioner would be appointed by a committee of mayors of each city in a county, a representative of the county commission and the county's sheriff.

"They had better have an elective official," declared Ada County Sheriff Paul Bright, adding if an appointed official dies or quits, "the county that appointed him wants, he can be replaced."

The Idaho Sheriffs' Association recently opposed the consolidation proposal, saying its Salmon meeting sheriffs should continue in their present status as the head county law officers.

Bright and Boise Police Chief John Church both said money could be saved by consolidating their record keeping, communications, telephone answering, supply purchasing and automobile purchasing and maintenance programs.

For instance, when a man is arrested by city police, he is photographed and his fingerprints and other data are recorded. Then, Bright said, when the man is arraigned and turned over to county authorities, he is again photographed and fingerprinted.

"Why do we need two copying machines?" Bright asked. Church added his department's record-keeping systems were inadequate for the county's computerized record-keeping system in cooperation with the county. Church would not support the consolidation proposal without reservation, but favored a county-wide police commissioner "if he could be properly selected and if you get the kind of man who is professional."

"The further you remove law enforcement from politics, the better," Church declared.

He cited the Federal Bureau of Investigation as an example of "what can happen when you get an able leader." FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover, in his position more than 40 years, "is the mainstay of this country right now, in my book," Church said. The director has kept the bureau from being infested by political pressure, he explained, and made it the elite law enforcement agency in the country.

Allen Willis, staff member who prepared the consolidation proposal, said the Local Government Committee had adopted no recommendation on the matter.

Under present Idaho law, law enforcement agencies may contract with each other to perform various services. Willis said the question before the committee will be whether such cooperation should be made mandatory in the form of consolidation.

There is already much informal cooperation among law enforcement agencies, such as sharing of radio facilities. Willis said a city and county in Idaho recently pooled resources to build a common jail facility.

In Boise, the Boise police and Ada County Sheriff's office have a "hot line" for immediate communication without going through an outside telephone. Bright said. Some Boise police have been deputized to allow them to pursue outside of the city department's jurisdiction.

California Man Killed In Crash
BOISE (AP) — A Riverside, Calif., man was killed early Saturday when his car struck a concrete bridge abutment on Idaho Highway 55 about 11 miles northwest of Boise, according to Ada County sheriff's officials.

Officers said Harold Adolph Reimann, 49, was dead at the scene after his car struck the abutment head-on. His body was cut from the wreckage with a trench, officers said, because the impact pushed the car's engine so far back.

The accident happened at 4:05 a.m.

Study Is Asked By Governor

LEWISTON, Idaho (AP) — Gov. Don Samuelson said an in-depth study of Idaho's higher education is needed to eliminate duplication.

Samuelson said Friday such a study, authorized by the State Board of Education, is a prerequisite for establishing the future of state colleges.

He said Lewis-Clark Normal School of Lewiston should undergo a gradual transition from a four-year liberal arts college to Idaho's first vocational-technical school, although some liberal arts courses would have to be retained.

The school currently has a limited vocational-technical program enrolling 800 students.

Petition Set On Law For Projects

BOISE (AP) — A Boise group has filed an initiative petition which proposes to change state law to require an election on questions of starting or changing urban renewal projects.

The petition, filed Friday by Sylvia McKeeth, had three more than the required 20 signatures for filing with the Secretary of State.

To get the proposal on the November election ballot, voters must collect 25,250 signatures, which is 10 per cent of the number of votes cast for governor in that election.

Deadline for collecting the signatures is July 7. They cannot, because of procedural laws, begin the signature campaign until July 15 after the filing with the Secretary of State.

The proposed law change would require the vote in a majority on the question of renewal question be held at either the general election or a special election.

Law Enforcement Course Set For Gem Boys State

BOISE (AP) — Delegates to Gem Boys State in Boise this week will receive a comprehensive course in law enforcement procedures.

Idaho Penitentiary Director E. A. Hagler said 10 hours of instruction will be provided in probation and parole, rehabilitation, investigative measures and an explanation of laws.

Boys State begins Sunday afternoon. Some 264 delegates are expected. "City officials" will be selected.

Davis said Ray Anderson raised his family, then sold his home at the university, enrolled as a freshman in the school of pharmacy. His wife went to work.

Anderson's son, John, and daughter-in-law, Susan, were graduated Friday with Anderson.

His son receiving degrees Friday were 273 graduates of ISU's School of Vocational Training.

Idaho Man Is Arraigned On Murder Count

PARIS, Idaho (AP) — A 66-year-old Montpelier man has been arraigned on a first degree murder charge in the shooting deaths of two elderly sisters.

Bear Lake County Sheriff O. E. Monson said William Radabaugh was arraigned Friday by Justice of the Peace Clem Humphrey at Paris.

Radabaugh is charged in the deaths of 72 and Mary Villanova, 76. The two sisters were shot in their apartment in a Montpelier hotel they owned.

Radabaugh is being held without bail for a June 10 preliminary hearing.

Monson reported there was a dispute over Radabaugh's life and declined to say where the prisoner was being held.

Dr. Marks Named Head Of Division

BOISE (AP) — Dr. John R. Marks, superintendent of the State School and Hospital at Nampa, has been named head of the new Mental Retardation and Child Development Division of the State Health Department.

Creation of the new division, which becomes operative today, was announced Friday by Dr. Terrell O. Carver, state health administrator.

The move was prompted in part by "plans currently in the way to develop three regional child development centers in Idaho — at Idaho Falls, Twin Falls and Lewiston, Carver said.

Humphrey Is Moving To Ambush Drive In Michigan

WASHINGTON (AP) — Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey is moving to ambush what his aides say is a "strongly segmented" drive in delegate-rich Michigan by the combined forces of Sens. Robert F. Kennedy and Eugene McCarthy, his rivals for the Democratic presidential nomination.

And the vice president is making what could be a unifying gesture toward one of the Johnson administration's sharpest critics on the Vietnam war, Chairman W. Fulbright, D-Ark., of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee.

Humphrey wings out of Washington today. His first stop is Detroit, where Michigan Democrats are in convention to choose the delegates who will carry the state's 98 votes into the August national convention in Chicago.

How the Michigan convention swings may be a strong indication of whether a Humphrey bandwagon is rolling in the aftermath of Kennedy's setback in the Oregon primary last Tuesday.

Humphrey's aides say they have evidence that McCarthy and Kennedy staff members are working together on the delegates at the Motor City.

Humphrey is considered to be far ahead of either Kennedy or McCarthy in the nationwide roundup of delegates, even though he is not running in the primaries. Humphrey said this week he has more than 600 pledged delegates and he emphasized pledged rather than those simply leaning in his direction.

Some Humphrey supporters feel he could win the nomination at the first ballot if the convention were held today.

Some observers say Michigan was the most likely place to defeat Humphrey's delegate tallying effort, which loaded more delegates at Pennsylvania and Florida this week.

Humphrey plans to speak to all the Michigan delegate candidates before flying on to Fayetteville, Ark., where the vice president is to speak at the University of Arkansas convocation. Fulbright is expected to be in the hand for the ceremony.

The Arkansas senator has not been a favorite passenger on

High School Session To Start Monday

Summer school at Twin Falls High School will begin Monday with about 50 students already registered, reports John Lawrence, principal.

Mr. Lawrence said that other students planning to enroll should do so as early as possible Monday. Registration closes Wednesday.

He said that three periods, from 8:30 to 11:20 a.m., will be offered during the seven-week session.

He said arts and crafts, Spanish and French will not be offered because of lack of interest, but that personal typing will be offered.

Filer Baptist School Staff Noted

FILER—The adult staff has been completed for the vacation Bible School to be held Monday through Friday at the First Baptist Church.

Mrs. Bert Walker will have charge of the beginners; Mrs. Gene Kovar, Mrs. Lyle Abel, Mrs. Alex Melton and Mrs. Ron Stokesberry, primary, and Mrs. Virgil Wright and Mrs. Price Holloway, juniors.

Sessions will begin at 1:30 p.m. each day and the theme is "God's Word, Today's Hope."

Mrs. Norman Stutzneeger will be in charge of music; Mrs. Joe Miller, director, and Mrs. Glen Parish and Mrs. Lauren Butts, assistants.

Activities will include Bible truths for daily living, Scripture memorization, hymns and choruses; Bible-correlated-crafts, and mission studies.

Several contests between departments and between pupils in each class will be featured all week and winners will receive rewards.

Pre-registration is very essential this year and all children in the community from kindergarten age through sixth grade are invited to stop at the Butts home, 724 Yakima, and fill out registration blanks.

Four Fires Keep City Crews Busy

No major damage was done in four fires reported Friday and Saturday by the Twin Falls City Fire Department.

At 2:15 p.m. Friday a garage at 1929 Elizabeth Blvd., owned by Mrs. S. L. Ball, San Mateo, Calif., was damaged by fire. One truck responded to the call.

At about 7 p.m. Friday two trucks were called to put out a fire at the Arctic Circle on Main Avenue. It was reported that grease in a french fryer caught fire and the fire spread to the ceiling area. Minor smoke and fire damage was done.

The wiring in a car owned by Glen Sheen was damaged when it caught fire about 1:15 p.m. Saturday. The car was parked at Elizabeth Street and Maurice Street.

No damage was reported to the Mayfair Shop about 1:50 p.m. Saturday when two trucks responded to a call there. Firemen said some wiring had apparently shorted out, but fire did not break out.

News Of Record

CASSIA COUNTY
Burley Police Blotter

Samuel J. Spencer, 36, Oakley, was cited for being drunk in an auto following a one-car accident at 3:30 a.m. Friday at the corner of Albin Ave. and 14th St. Burley. Spencer was driving a 1958 Oldsmobile south on Albin Avenue and at 14th street the auto jumped the curb, traveled through a two-foot high cement siding and through a fence at the north end of Burley Junior High School football field.

Evelyn M. Maxey, 48, Route 1, Rupert, was cited for following too closely after a two-car accident at 7:53 a.m. Friday on East Main Street and Hilland Avenue, Burley. Mrs. Maxey was driving a 1963 Ford west on East Main Street following a 1953 Chevrolet driven by Truman C. Morrison, 21, Heyburn. Morrison, traveling in the outside lane, was slowing to make a left turn onto Hilland Avenue at the time of collision. Mrs. Maxey was unable to stop and her car collided with the rear of the Chevrolet. Damage was $100 to the Chevrolet and $200 to the Ford.

Researchers Busy Digging In Desert

YERMO, Calif. (AP)—Archaeologists are back at work in the community of Yermo, a man's presence in this arid land with a 30-day reprieve.

A miner, Glenn S. Gunn, who holds claims to the barren-Mojave Desert site of the diggings had given the scientists until sundown Friday to leave, but said later "We'll have it worked out in 30 days."

The researchers are working to prove that rock fragments taken from 20-foot-deep pits in the "Cultus" Mountains, 10 miles east of Barstow, are Stone Age tools which may date back as far as 120,000 years, or that the fragments show evidence of being worked by such tools.

This would be the earliest evidence of man's existence in the Western Hemisphere.

Dr. Louis S.B. Leakey, discoverer of the earliest known human remains, supports their contention. He has said the findings are "unquestionably the result of human activity."

But the first problem for the scientists is to remain at their diggings long enough to further substantiate their find.

Gunn says the excavation work is complicating attempts to complete negotiations involving part of his claims and is keeping him from mining bentonite, a rare earth. After granting the dead-end extension, Gunn expressed certainty that an agreement could be reached to allow the scientists to remain at the digging site.

Asst. U.S. Atty. Thomas Coleman said his office was ready to assist the archaeologists by seeking an injunction to prevent any action endangering the diggings. The land is federally owned and the researchers are working under a federal Antiquities Act permit. Gunn has held claims on the land since the early 1950s.

Administration Will Try To Preserve Its Major Great Society Programs

By JOSEPH R. COYNE

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Johnson Administration reportedly will try to preserve its major "Great Society" programs in the $8-billion spending cut back Congress is expected to include in a bill to raise income taxes 10 per cent.

And the current thinking inside the Administration is to carve the cut back evenly—about $3 billion from defense spending not directly related to the Vietnam war and another $3 billion from civilian programs.

"We're going to try to protect the key social programs," one official commented.

A final decision on specific cuts probably won't be made for several months and will depend largely on how much Congress chops from the budget through appropriation bills still awaiting action.

Federal construction projects, including highways and rivers and harbors, are considered ripe for cutbacks.

The $1.6 billion in federal pay increases scheduled to go into effect on July 1 throughout the country is now apparently safe from the economy ax.

It would take action by Congress to delay the increase and one government source said neither Congress nor the administration is willing to take this step.

The $6 billion in spending cuts came closer to reality last week when the House refused to go along with the $4-billion figure agreed to reluctantly by President Johnson, however, said later he would sign the compromise plan calling for the $6 billion in cuts coupled with the 10 per cent income tax surcharge. He said the War and any defense cuts would be a stable economy.

The House has scheduled a vote on the package for June 12. If adopted as now expected in mid-June, Americans would begin paying higher taxes about July 1.

Government sources said before last week's House vote, the administration still retained some hope that Congress would cut spending by only $4 billion.

"But now it's here and we've got to live with it," one official said.

Government departments and agencies already are reviewing their programs to determine where cuts can be made.

Under the compromise package, no cuts would be made in war spending, interest on the federal debt, veterans and social security benefits.

Officials said about $50 billion in defense spending is not directly related to the Vietnam War and any defense cuts would

Two Hurt

BURLEY—Two Idaho Falls men were treated and released from Cassia Memorial Hospital Friday night after the 1968 Volkswagen in which they were riding was demolished.

James Lanham, 24, was cited for failure to keep his vehicle under control after he apparently fell asleep and the car overturned twice west of Burley on Interstate 80N. He and his passenger, Lyle Kluger, 22, Idaho Falls, received only minor injuries, reports State Patrolman John Brewer, investigating officer.

Pageant

... nears with ten young lovelies vying for the title of Miss Twin Falls. The current Miss Twin Falls, Velma Guyer, will relinquish her title to one of these young ladies during the annual Miss Twin Falls Pageant set for 8 p.m. Thursday at the Twin Falls High School Gymnasium. Theme for the pageant is "Americanism," with Roger Vincent scheduled as master of ceremonies and J. Hill as organist. The pageant is sponsored annually by the Twin Falls Lions Club and this year Edd Bosard is general chairman. Miss Guyer will be representing Twin Falls in the Miss Idaho Pageant slated for June 18 in Boise.

Dinner-Dance Highlights Newcomers Year

Blue Lakes Country Club was the setting for the Twin Falls Welcome Wagon Newcomers spring semi-formal dinner-dance. Over one hundred club members, husbands and their guests attended the cocktail hour, dinner and the dance, with music by the Rubalvats.

General chairman of the dance was Mrs. Mike Green. Other chairmen included Mrs. Murray Bates, decorations; Mrs. William Linsell, catering; Mrs. Gary Hazen, invitations; and Mrs. B. H. Kennington, tickets.

Incoming president Mrs. William Kahn, and outgoing president Mrs. Tom Nelson, and their husbands were members of the reception line during the evening. Other club members and their husbands who welcomed dinner guests were Mr. and Mrs. Duane Way, Dr. and Mrs. Jack Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Green and Mr. and Mrs. Tom Flannagan.

Other activities carried out by the Newcomers Club during the month have included a clothing drive to assist poor children in the area. During the board meeting at the home of Mrs. Marvin Glascock, the group of outgoing and newly installed officers and chairmen decided to continue the drive through the summer. The drive chairmen, Mrs. George LaGrange and Mrs. Jack Tisaw, reported that the group could begin taking specific requests for clothing at the beginning of the school term.

The new officers and chairmen were given the information and files they would need during the year from the outgoing officers. New officers for the coming year include: Kahn, president; Mrs. Kermit Lehr, first vice president; Mrs. Dave Perkins, second vice president; Mrs. John Hicks, recording secretary; Mrs. Gale Diamond, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Ralph Magnuson, treasurer. Mrs. Jack Tisaw, historian; Mrs. Larry Simmons, hobbies; Mrs. Marvin Glascock, reservations; Mrs. E. E. Gardner, newsletter; Mrs. James Puggiano, bridge; Mrs. Jim Evans, bowling; Mrs. Joseph Kuzara, knitting; Mrs. Ben Hawkins, lunch; Mrs. George LaGrange, decorations.

Mrs. Duke Demick is baby sitting chairman; Mrs. Matt Smith is chairman of the committees; activities: Mrs. Larry Komloske, pinocchio; Mrs. Orval Bradley, golf.

The membership of the club was during the May luncheon to donate money toward corrective shoes for a needy child in the area, and also to contribute toward Twin Falls County's obligation to Booth Memorial Home, Boise. The board members designated the amount spent for each.

Summer activities have already been scheduled by the club for the benefit of members and any newcomers. Summer picnics on the first Tuesday of each month, and an informal coffee hour July 15. A complete picnic tentatively set for Aug. 17. Any new residents may call Mrs. Kahn, 733-5447, for information regarding the activities of the club.

Area Newcomers Club Has Final Meet Of Season

BURLEY — Meetings for the season were concluded by the Newcomers Club with a dinner meeting recently at Stampedo Cafe, with Mrs. Fergus Klimar, outgoing president, giving the welcome and reading the program for the year.

Honored guests were Mrs. Pat Deltine, Mrs. Myrlan Nelson, Mrs. Melba Morley, Mrs. Shirlee, Mrs. Karen Munching, Mrs. Elnie Martin and Mrs. Nanette Woodland, all past presidents.

Each retiring officer was presented a gift from the club.

Special thanks were extended to Mrs. Val Gierich and Mrs. Woodland for their continued efforts in calling on newcomers to the area and keeping the club active. Mr. and Mrs. Sneed received special thanks for their donation of a flag to the club.

New members introduced by Mrs. Gierich were Kathy Brown, Joyce Bauer and Romie Rawlings. Guests were Margie Williams and Mrs. L. Wanger.

Table decorations were provided by Sadie's Gift Center, a new sponsor of the club.

Arrangements were directed by Mrs. Monica London and Mrs. Roxann Schuler. Mrs. E. Nelson was awarded the May basket centerpiece.

Avoid Disappointment; Know Idaho's New Marriage Laws

By BONNIE BAIRD JONES Times-News Staff Writer

So you're going to be a June bride? Then heed the advice of Twin Falls County Clerk Harold Lancaster about current Idaho marriage laws.

Each month a number of young couples meet disappointment because they were not aware of new regulations adopted by the past legislative session and becoming effective just a year ago.

Mr. Lancaster's advice is to not wait until the last minute to purchase that marriage license.

Under present Idaho marriage laws if either the boy or girl is under 21 years of age, there is a three-day waiting period before the time the application for license is made and when it can be issued.

It is also necessary if the boy is under 21 years of age or the girl under 18 years to have proof of parent's consent to the marriage before the clerk is permitted to issue the license.

In some instances it has even gone so far as to postpone a wedding ceremony although several hundred invitations may have been sent and other details completed down to the selection of the flowers.

If a couple plans to be married on a Saturday or Sunday and faces the three day waiting period because of age, they must make application for their license by Tuesday of that week.

Usually there are no problems for local couples but often when the bride is attending school or working in some other state but planning to be married at home, she and the bridegroom wait until one or two days before the ceremony to apply for a license and then find they must delay the wedding as a license cannot be issued for three days.

The clerk points out he has no alternative in the matter. He faces a $100 fine in the event he waives the regulations knowing the couple is under legal age.

To apply for a license, couples may call at the county clerk's office on the second floor of the county courthouse from 8:30 a.m. to 3 p.m. Monday through Friday. The office is closed on Saturdays.

Couples if young, should have proof of age and if under age limits, proof of consent arranged for the marriage. It is required in Idaho that all couples have a certificate of blood test from the Idaho Department of Public Health laboratory.

Because earlier laws in Idaho did not require parent consent unless both were under 18 years of age, many young couples now come to Idaho without parent consent hoping to be married, only to find the law has been changed.

Mr. Lancaster said many such cases come to his office each month because they have checked the old law, or even consulted an attorney who did not know of the law change.

Those who are registered with the Idaho Department of Public Health laboratory, Mr. Lancaster said Idaho was, until a year ago, one of the very few states with such liberal marriage laws. Those now in effect are an improvement but could undergo some revisions for more workable regulations will probably be recommended in the coming convention of Idaho Commissioners and Clerks.

Activities For Baptist Women Are Reported

A special executive board and committee meeting was held by members of the First Baptist Church, and because of this, no general mission meeting was held.

Members of the Tracy Gipson Circle met at the home of Mrs. Emma Lyda, with Mrs. Minnie Stoykendall, leading the prayers. Reports were given on the work accomplished in the major foreign fields. Mrs. Betty Winkler was in charge of the program, assisted by Mrs. Lyda, Mrs. Bess Brown, Mrs. Emma Lyda, Mrs. Althea Tyler and Mrs. Kaykendall. Mrs. Anna Hallway gave the devotional service in honor of mothers.

MR. AND MRS. DAN ALBERTSON

Roberta Flinn, Albertson Say Nuptial Promise

Roberta Flinn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard H. Flinn Jr., became the bride of Dan Albertson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dean Albertson, Hazelton, in a ceremony at the First Christian Church, Twin Falls.

Rev. Donald Hoffman performed the double ring ceremony before an arch of green-boughs and blue carnations, flanked by lighted candelabra and baskets of blue chrysanthemums and carnations in evergreen boughs. Traditional organ music was played by Mrs. Hoffman. Vocalists were Mr. and Mrs. Robert Nelson, accompanied by Mrs. Hoffman.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a Bridal Original gown of French-designed Chantilly lace. The fitted bodice featured a sabbine neckline outlined with sequins and traditional long lily point sleeves. The skirt was fashioned with tiers of lace ruffles caught in back with an apron effect from which tiers of ruffles cascaded down into a watusu chapel train. A forward effect of organ and Chantilly lace petals held her elbow-length veil with a butterfly face veil of English silk illusion.

"Mad Hatters" Social Held By Women's Club

FAIRFIELD A "Mad Hatters" event was the theme for the annual Mother-Daughter dinner-social of the Town and Country Christian Women's Club meeting at the American Legion Hall.

The meeting featured modeling of hat styles since 1896, with Joana Maitland, Seattle, as narrator. The hats were loaned by the Sperry-Hutchinson Company.

The models were clothed to represent the year of the hat. Those modeling included Mrs. Willard Wilson, 1896; Mrs. Lee Barron, 1908; Mrs. David Le-norris, 1914; Mrs. Hershel Lange, 1919; Mrs. Marion Kerns, 1924; Mrs. Lin Vanshike, 1929; Mrs. Lee Daniel, 1935; Mrs. Kary Thomson, 1938; Mrs. Percy Trader, 1943; Mrs. Frank Wolfe, 1950 and Mrs. Jack Exon, 1960.

Mrs. A. J. O'Neill, Nampa, was the devotional speaker and a story from her life. Musical numbers were presented by Mrs. Dale Reedy and Ruth Post. Accompanists were Mrs. James Post and Mrs. Hershel Lange.

Mrs. Calvin Eckles was pianist for the style review and also played background music.

Mrs. Edwin Rex, fifth number of the year, reported on some of the events of her trip to New York and the National Mother of the Year event.

The room was decorated with a huge hat tree and there were maypole on each table. Favors were miniature hats and purses of felt. Mrs. William A. Simon was mistress of ceremonies. Mrs. John Gankill gave the invocation.

Mrs. Rex O'Neill, Mrs. Hugh Koonce and Mrs. Carl Ashmead catered the dinner.

Area Precaptor Group Organized

BIH. A meeting was held at the home of Mrs. Ted Diehl to organize the new Precaptor Group of Beta Sigma Phi Sorority. This group will consist of ten women who have completed at least six years in the Exemplar Chapter and will be progressing to a higher degree.

Mrs. Diehl served refreshments.

Sandra J. Moore Is Bride Of Bill Gene Rayl

Sandra June Moore and Bill Gene Rayl were united in marriage in a ceremony May 21 in the family room at the home of the bridegroom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Rayl Jr., Twin Falls.

Bishop Howard G. Arlington of the LDS Church performed the ceremony before a setting of baskets of pink peonies and white bouquets.

The bride wore a blue linen A-line gown, fashioned with a scalloped and re-embroidered bodice. The gown was accented with scalloped and re-embroidered bell-shaped sleeves, and was made by Mrs. Roberta Cravens, sister of the bridegroom. A blue net pillbox, made by Mrs. Nadine Williams, white accessories and a corsage of pink baby roses complemented the bride's gown.

Mrs. Donna Jo Osterhout was the bride's only attendant. Larry Osterhout served as best man.

Fair Booth Plans Made

SHOSHONE-The North Shoshone Home Improvement Club held its May meeting recently at the home of Mrs. Ada Sandy. Members decided to apply for a game-booth at the county fair in August.

As a project for this year, members were asked to sew gowns for the Wood River Cul-de-sac Center.

Dean Guthrie is in charge of the program. Mrs. Nephi Clark won the contest. Mrs. W. P. Dill was welcomed back to the group as she spent the winter in Arizona. Mrs. Duane Sigall was accepted as a new member and was appointed flower girl for the club.

The June 20 meeting is at the home of Mrs. Russell Kelley.

Miss Krueger, Kirschenmann Reveal Plans

A reception was held immediately after the ceremony, where the bridegroom's three daughters, Deborah, Pamela and Lisa, served cake and punch.

Special guest at the ceremony was J. E. Watson, Twin Falls graduate of the bridegroom's three daughters will reside in Hollister.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Claris H. Cronkite, Campbell, Calif., and Thomas M. Huff, Alascadero, Calif. She is a graduate of Amador County High School, Sutter Creek, Calif., and is employed locally.

The Fashion Industry Needs You

A lifetime of beautiful clothes begins the day you choose a career in the

SECOND LARGEST INDUSTRY

Every year, the exciting and glamorous world of Fashion Merchandising expands, with countless new job openings in retailing, designing, television, and many other new positions. It is one of America's largest industries. Fashion is BIG BUSINESS, and it is a MONETARY FASHION GIRL OPPORTUNITY for girls who have the talent and training and who love clothes, know clothes, and are trained in the merchandising of clothes. In fact, fashion is one of the few careers in which women can compete with men for top salaries.

Patricia Stevens training is invaluable for those wanting the most highly and profitable world. Our curriculum is oriented for those who are interested in prestige careers. Like Fashion Advertising, Fashion Coordination, Merchandising, Buyer, and Sales, and from "retailing" to "designing".

Course includes classes in areas like Fashion Fabrics, Textiles, Merchandising, Retailing, Principles, Home Furnishings, Fashion Writing, Sales Promotion and other fascinating subjects that will hold your interest and attention every session. You'll graduate with professional knowledge and attitudes that are so essential when you get your first job. You'll learn from "Fashion Professionals". All faculty members who teach Fashion Merchandising are highly trained in areas in which you will be taught. School equipment is up-to-date, and textbooks are written by recognized authorities in fashion, advertising, retailing, television, and related fields.

Patricia Stevens center training is geared toward the practical, we encourage all of our students to participate in on-the-job training. These girls gain priceless job experience that makes the transition from school to career smooth and happy one.

And because the world of fashion is a sparkling and glamorous one, you'll receive a BIG EXTRA GET-OUT-THE-DOOR bonus! While you're in training, you'll study make-up, hair styling, accessories, shoe styles, voice and diction, figure control, and personality development. And because you may direct models, or even model yourself, you'll receive comprehensive instruction in the techniques and application of professional fashion modeling.

New Events Scheduled For Mrs. Idaho Contestants

Mrs. Idaho contestants will be subjected to several new events this year, during the state finals to test their homemaking abilities, poise and accomplishments. All events will be conducted at the Borah High School, Boise. According to Mrs. T. H. Hazzard of 5 Mile Road, Boise, contest chairman, "Each final contestant will plan a birthday party for 5-year-olds in complete detail, suggesting party-theme, cost, favors, activities and so on. The best party ideas will eventually be published in booklet form for other homemakers to share." According to Mrs. Hazzard, each woman will also decorate a birthday cake appropriate to her party theme. "Every homemaker at one time or other during the year is called upon to plan a birthday party. We think this new event is a very important one and helps in keeping with the Mrs. Idaho contest," she said. A second event is planned, according to Mrs. Hazzard, the Creative Expression Event. "Creative Expression is whatever a woman does apart from her housekeeping responsibilities that gives her pleasure. For this event each woman will be free to do whatever she pleases, from oil painting, to singing, to modern dancing," Mrs. Hazzard said. "Other events planned, which will test accomplishments are: Safe driving. Each contestant will drive through an obstacle course and will be graded whatever she wants. Then she'll be asked to prepare a ten-dollar meal," said Mrs. Hazzard.

Social Calendar

Friendship Circle of the Women of the Moose will meet at 8 p.m. Monday at the home of Mrs. Jack Atkinson, 228 Filter Ave. Officers will be elected. ### Dear Abby

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN
DEAR ABBY: I am 16 and am going with a guy who is 18. We plan to get married as soon as I graduate from high school. I have a part-time job after school and on Saturdays, and here is our problem: we want to start our married life with nothing, so we started a joint savings account at the bank. My mother found out about it and said it wasn't "right" for us to have a joint account. Why not? My mother says that she believes in saving, but he should have his and I should have mine, and she has never heard of a 16-year-old having a joint savings account with a guy before they get married.
Abby, I don't see what's wrong with it. My mother listens to you, so please put your answer in the paper. UPSET.

DEAR UPSET: I am pleased to learn that your mother listens to me, but since you wrote to me, I hope you will, too. I agree with your mother. Send me your name and address and I'll explain more fully in a personal letter.

DEAR ABBY: What is your opinion of a man, 42, dropping his bride of 10 months off at the hospital to have their first baby, and then driving over to play 18 holes of golf during the event? On the following weekend he was also out playing golf when friends drove from distant cities to see the baby. He said having this baby made him the happiest man alive. Sign me WONDERING IN HOUSTON

DEAR WONDERING: You have a right to be fed up, trapped by a hacker like that, I'd say that your husband's conduct was below par, especially while the baby was being born.

DEAR ABBY: Please help me. I am so depressed. I am 65 years old and have always thought I had average intelligence, but now I am beginning to have my doubts. For years I have wanted to learn how to drive an automobile, but my husband strongly objected to paying for a driver's course. Well, three years ago I saved up my own money and secretly took a driver's course, but I failed the driving tests three times.

My instructor told me that I was a very good driver, but Abby, for some reason every time I roll down before an examining officer to take that written test I can't seem to come up with the right answers. I can't enroll in my children. Do you think they would think their mother is a frantically idiot. (They all got their drivers' licenses on the first try.)
Abby, do you think there are some people who just shouldn't drive an automobile?
DEPRESSED

DEAR DEPRESSED: Yes, but you may not be one of them. Try again. Ask your husband to do a little more of the material that most motor vehicle departments provide. Don't be ashamed that you talked to Abby. Lots of drivers (and good ones, too) freeze on the paper work.

Stock Market ... The feeling in Wall Street was that this provided greater assurance Congress would enact the measure. This not only spurred general optimism but helped such "strong" price advances as loan holding companies and the utilities, whose attraction is based mainly on their yield. It also helped the immediate brick-rally in U.S. Treasury bonds...

U.S. Regains Trade Surplus ... Part of the March decline was attributed to an East Coast drought which had cut production of goods and a portion of the April rise was due to a catching up on shipments. William H. Chartner, assistant secretary of commerce for economic affairs, predicted the trade surplus will improve over the balance of the year. He said that President Johnson's goal of a $500 million improvement in the trade surplus over 1967 will be met.

Stage Door Johnny Wins At Belmont

Surprise Champ's Stretch Sprint Ends Triple Crown Chance For Forward Pass

NEW YORK (AP) — Stage Door Johnny, who won his first race 23 days ago, caught Forward Pass on the eighth mile from home and won the 10th running of the Belmont Stakes Saturday to smash the dreams of Calumet Farms for the first Triple Crown winner since 1919.

Tigers Come From Behind, Edge Yankees

DETROIT (AP) — Bill Freehan drove in three runs, including the tie-breaker in the seventh inning, as the high-flying Detroit Tigers battled from behind to nip the New York Yankees 5-4 Saturday.

The victory was the Tigers' fifth straight and boosted their American League lead to 3½ games over second place Baltimore, which dropped a 5-1 decision to Boston.

Freehan's team thing thingie off reliever Dooley Womack scored Jim Northrup from third base, Northrup led off the seventh with a single, stole second and took third when catcher Jake Gibbs' throw went into center field.

New York took second on a wild pitch but was thrown out at the plate by Roy White on Willie Horton's single to left. Steve Hamilton came on to cut off the rally.

New York took a 4-0 lead in the first inning, jumping on Detroit Lee Cain for a single. But Pat Dobson and winner Fred Lasher, 3-1, held the Yankees to one hit the rest of the way.

Callison, Phils Bury Reds 12-0

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Johnny Callison drove in four runs with a homer and double in an early scoring surge that swept the Philadelphia Phillies past the Cincinnati Reds 12-0 Saturday night behind Woody Freyman's four-hitter.

The Phillies combed Cincinnati starter Milt Pappas, 2-5, and three relievers for 10 runs and 11 hits in the first three innings with Callison drilling a three-run homer and run-scoring double before being hit by a Bob Lee pitch in the third and leaving the game.

Cookie Rojas stroked a bases-empty homer and two singles and Tony Gonzalez contributed three straight singles as the Phils scored four runs in the first inning, four more in the second and two in the third.

Freyman struck out eight in bringing his record to 7-4 with his fourth straight victory. It was the southpaw's first triumph over Cincinnati after six losses and his fourth 1968 shutout.

White Sox Beat Chance, Twins 1-0

CHICAGO (AP) — The Chicago White Sox, held hitless by Dean Chance for 8 1/3 innings, defeated the Minnesota-Twins 1-0 Saturday on singles by Bill Voss, Tom McGraw and Dick Kenworthy.

Chance, pitching on his 27th birthday, was making a serious bid for the second no-hitter of his career and the third in the majors this season.

He started the ninth by getting Luis Aparicio on a routine grounder. Then he threw a "chickie" fast Voss, before the Chicago right fielder beat out a hit that went off Rich Rollins' glove at third.

McGraw then beat out another Chicago single, a high chop to Rollins.

Chance got Tommy Davis to force McGraw at second, but was narrowly followed with a bloop single to center and Voss raced home with the only run of the game.

Chance, who pitched a no-hitter last Aug. 25, didn't get much offensive support from the Twins.

Cisco Carlos allowed just two hits through the first six innings and Minnesota managed just two more against relievers Bob Locker and Wilbur Wood, Minnesota. 000 000 000—0 4 0

Howard Hits 20th, Senators Whip Indians

CLEVELAND (AP) — Frank Howard's 20th home run started a four-run rally for Washington in the sixth inning Saturday and the Senators beat the Cleveland Indians 6-2.

After Howard's mighty blast into the upper left field stands, Bernie Allen, singled and came home on Paul Casanova's double, chasing Stan Williams from the mound and putting the Senators ahead 4-1.

Reliever Eddie Fisher walked Ted Brinkman; and pitcher Darold Knowles, who replaced Dick Bosman in the fifth, tripled two more runs home.

Ken McMillen hit his 10th homer for Washington at the start of the fourth inning.

The Senators' first run, in the first inning, was a force-out following singles by Ed Stroud and Howard — a walk — Howard also singled in the eighth for his third hit of the rally afternoon.

Bosman blanked the Indians on two hits through four innings but was chased in the fifth by four singles, two of them bunts. The Indians got their first run before Knowles put down the uprising by fanning pinch hitter Tommy Harper and throwing out Jose Cardenal with the bases loaded.

A's Rally Early, Topple Angels 4-0

OAKLAND (AP) — John "Blue Moon" Odum's three-hit pitching and a four-run first inning burst carried the Oakland Athletics to a 4-0 victory over the California Angels Saturday night.

Odum breezed to his second shutout of the season and evened his record at 4-4 after the A's chased California starter George Brunet, 5-5, in the four-run first.

A walk, a single by Sal Bando and Jim Paganaroni's sacrifice fly produced the first run and Danny Cater's single knocked in another. When Floyd Robinson followed with a single, Marty Zito replaced Brunet and corked two straight wild pitches, allowing Cater to score.

Mike Horabarger then poked an RBI single, completing the scoring for the night.

Jerome Women Host Magic Valley Meet

JEROME—The annual Times-News Magic Valley women's amateur golf tournament will be conducted June 20 and 21 at the Jerome Country Club.

The event will bring together the top women players in the nine counties comprising Magic Valley. Expected back will be defending champion Sergeant Sorenson of Burley who ended the seven-year reign of Twin Falls, Virginia Underhill in last year's tournament played at Gooding. Those two along with the other top names in last year's championship, including Helen Spradling of Buhl, Jackie Gasser of Twin Falls, Helen Luck of Buhl and Doris-Kays of Jerome, will be the ones to watch. Mrs. Kays, a consistent top five finisher, will be especially watched this year as she will be competing on her home track.

Mrs. Ralph O'Harrow, representing the host Jerome Women's Golf Association, said the field may play at its convenience on June 20 with the contestants being flighted and paired for the final day. She said additional registration will be June 19. Social highlight will be a closing day luncheon.

Homer Gives Cards Win Over Mets

NEW YORK (AP) — Mike Shannon's eighth home run of the season with one out in the 10th inning gave the St. Louis Cardinals a 6-5 victory over the New York Mets Saturday.

Shannon, who had doubled a run across as the Cards rallied for three and tied the game in the seventh, unloaded against reliever Cal Koonce, and his shot landed deep in the left field bleachers.

The Mets had tied the score in the bottom of the eighth on Ed Charles' pinch homer.

That made it 5-5 after the Cards had taken the lead in the top half of a single by Orlando Cepeda, a passed ball and Tim McCarver's single. It was the first run scored this season off Koonce, who had worked 20 2/3 scoreless innings until Saturday.

Drysdale Makes It While Jaster Falter

By The Associated Press
Don Drysdale and Larry Jaster both flitted with baseball's record book. Drysdale made it. Jaster, well, it was a nice record. Drysdale, the towering, right-handed veteran of the Los Angeles Dodgers, pitched out of a 3-0 lead in the eighth inning over the San Francisco Giants late Friday night. It was big Don's fifth consecutive shutout, tying the White Sox's Chicago White Sox and breaking the National League record. Jaster, a poker-faced young left-hander for the St. Louis Cardinals, retired the first 23 batters he faced and appeared on his way to a perfect game before Greg Goosen

Modell Sends Letters To NFL Veterans

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Art Modell, president of the National Football League, has sent a letter to all veteran players, the Associated Press learned yesterday, clarifying the owners' position on player requests. "It was the decision of the players' union to suspend the negotiations," Modell wrote to John Gory, president of the NFL Players' Association. Copies of the letters were sent to all veterans. "We continue ready to meet with you at any time and any place to discuss the matters that you have put before us, both economic and non-economic. "We want to reach an agreement that is mutually satisfactory at the earliest possible date, but we will not accept terms that require the clubs in our league to pay nothing of the AFL clubs with whom we must merge by 1970." Modell outlined the league's position on a financial summary by a leading accounting firm showed an increase of almost 20 percent in player salaries and bonus in 1968 and 1967 and a decrease of almost 25 percent in earnings. He pointed out that five NFL clubs averaged less than $80,000 in earnings before taxes. Modell's letter said the major demands of the players—$100,000 additional for each club into the league in 1969 and a $500,000 game-for-exhibition contests would impact the financial condition of 11 of the 18 clubs and jeopardize the 1970 merger with the American Football League. The letter denied that the clubs had refused to sign veterans.

Kinghorn, Soran Hurl T. F. Legion To Two Wins

Pitchers Kurt Kinghorn and Tim Soran took turns shutting out Mountain Home and provided a lot of the scoring with timely hitting Saturday night as the Twin Falls Legion breezed to a doubleheader sweep, 15-0 and 11-0. Kinghorn, a strapping 6-4 fireballer, mowed down Mountain Home on one hit in the first frame and added a three-for-four night at the plate, worth five RBIs. Soran followed with a two-hitter and closed a two-run homer in the second frame that put the game out of reach. Both came close to no-hitters. Kinghorn went five and Soran went four in their third innings before Mountain Home started bunting in an attempt to break the no-hit bid. Hoyer did it with one gone in the sixth. Soran went five in the sixth and Soran went five in the seventh and sent in two more with hits in the fourth and sixth. Doubles by Jack Heffrecht, Dave Frazier and Ron Blackwood got two Twin Falls hits in the first inning of the opener and Twin Falls led it with eight runs in the second. Kinghorn clubbed a one-run single in that uprising and sent in two more with hits in the fourth and sixth. In the second game, Joe Paterson cracked a two-run double to send in Will Ward and Blackwood in the first inning and Soran belted his homer after

Granatelli Boils As Owners Seek Ban On Turbines

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP) — The pot of controversy surrounding the turbine-powered race cars continued to boil Saturday at the Indianapolis Motor Speedway. Andy Granatelli, STP Corp. president and backer of the three Lotus turbines which ran well but failed to finish in the 500-mile race Memorial Day, said, "I don't see how the U.S. Auto Club can ban turbine the way the 500 turned out." He was commenting on a recommendation to USCA Friday by the National Championship Car Owners Association that the turbines be outlawed from the racing field next year. Meanwhile, Granatelli said he definitely would run his No. 60 turbine with Joe Leonard of San Jose, Calif., as the driver in the next USAC championship race at Milwaukee June 8. It was not known yet if the No. 22 turbine would be repaired in time for Milwaukee, Granatelli said. Art Pollard of Medford, Ore., drove the car in the 500. Granatelli blamed a sheared gear that helps turn the fuel pump as the reason for the failure of his turbine. Leonard was waging a head-to-head duel with 500 winner Bobby Unser of Albuquerque, N.M., when his car quit on the main straightaway. He finished 12th and Pollard 13th. Some pre-race predictions were that the turbines might run away from the field and finish 1-2-3. Bob Wilke of Milwaukee, owner of the winning car at Indianapolis and a leader against the turbines, said, "There is just no way to compute the horsepower of a turbine and a reciprocating engine." Wilke said, "There is a new Pratt & Whitney turbine being developed that will put out 80 percent more horsepower and be 80 pounds lighter."

Orval Hansen Backing Fish Saving Laws

ST. ANTHONY—The salmon and steelhead runs are not expendable," State Senator Orval Hansen (R-Idaho Falls) Republican candidate for Congress declared while taking part in activities at the annual Fisherman's Breakfast at St. Anthony Friday afternoon.
"Any plans for future development of the state's resources must take into account the present and potential future economic value of salmon and steelhead fishing in Idaho," Senator Hansen said. "Because the salmon and steelhead are an important part of our state's fishing resources, anything that further restricts these fish runs will do serious injury to a major Idaho industry."

"Anyone who has not discovered that sport fishing is an asset of great and growing value to Idaho should visit a few of the many streams and lakes on a peaceful day," Hansen said. "Thousands of fishermen from other states will pour millions of dollars into the state's economy during the coming season."
"Sport fishing is a key element in Idaho's fast growing tourist and recreation industry, which is on the way to becoming the state's largest producer of income," Senator Hansen noted. "The opportunity to spend an afternoon or a weekend on a favorite trout stream has attracted many to come to Idaho to raise their families, to buy property and to seek jobs."

When a child or a hunter is lost, it often requires ground and air search through high and rugged terrain. Coordinating efforts in such an event are J. D. Turner, pilot, Sheriff Paul Corder, W. H. Herrick of the Twin Falls County Sheriff's Office, Fred Dodds, and Steve Swoper, one of the volunteers providing four-wheel drive jeep equipment when needed by the sheriff's office. Through combined personnel on the sheriff's staff and the many volunteers who have offered time and equipment, officers are ready for almost any type of emergency.

If it's an air search or just an unusual situation that requires fast transportation such as picking up a prisoner from some distant state, the Twin Falls sheriff's office has the necessary talent. Here Sheriff Paul Corder, at right, checks flight charts with three members of his staff, all licensed pilots. In the plane is Deputy Mike Vice, veteran law enforcement officer and pilot with J. D. Turner, left, and T. M. Kendrick, deputies and pilots.

Sheriff's Operation May Save Lives

By BONNIE BAIRD JONES, Times-News Staff Writer

Summer weather brings out the adventurer in people of all ages and as they take to the lakes, rivers and begin climbing and hiking in such places as Snake River Canyon the unhappy consequence is frequently an accident.

Through the combined talents of the local sheriff's force and the volunteer services of a number of other citizens, the Twin Falls sheriff's department is ready to meet almost any emergency.

Among the 13 men, and two women who make up Sheriff Paul Corder's staff are three licensed pilots who frequently fly planes from the Twin Falls Flyers Club, Roper Flying Service or the Buhl Flying Service to aid in searching for missing persons. These include Matt Vice, a law enforcement officer of many years experience, J. D. Turner and T. M. Kendrick, Buhl deputies.

Deputy Turner is a man of many talents. He is also a SCUBA diver and joins other divers in emergencies in Twin Falls County and surrounding counties to probe lakes or rivers when there is a drowning, capsized boat or missing fisherman. Another Twin Falls Deputy Sheriff, Ivan Kistler, is also a diver, and there are four volunteers available on call with equipment and training. These include Fred Dodds, W. Gardner, Norman Fillmore, all Twin Falls, and Ladd Smalley, Buhl.

The Sheriff's department has its own 18-foot boat and trailer available at all times with dragging equipment.

For the not too infrequent occasion when a youngster falls while exploring rugged Snake River Canyon, and becomes trapped on a ledge, possibly with an injury, the sheriff's department has acquired the services of a cliff scaler.

He is Terry Quinn, Twin Falls, an experienced climber with necessary harness and rope equipment to descend a rock wall and effect a rescue.

Mr. Quinn is working with other volunteers and officers to train them for additional assistance in this field. Leon Wright, Twin Falls, is one of the volunteers for this training and also SCUBA diving.

Working closely with the sheriff's office in any emergency is the Magic Valley Ambulance Service, operated by Cloyd Edwards. In addition to his fleet of regular ambulances, Mr. Edwards has added a four-wheel pick-up truck with equipment for converting to an ambulance for bringing injured persons from mountain or other rugged areas.

Steve Swoper, Twin Falls, has also volunteered use of his four-wheel Jeep by the sheriff's office when it is necessary to go into remote regions.

One of the first steps to be taken by Sheriff Corder following his appointment was to establish first aid classes for advanced first aid training for all members of the staff. James Mildon, who is employed by the

Because of the beautiful but often dangerous Snake River Canyon and other rocky ledges in the immediate Twin Falls area, the local sheriff's office is often called upon to rescue a fallen hiker or injured child from a high ledge. To handle this special assignment, the sheriff's department has obtained the special services of Terry Quinn, shown here being lowered into the canyon. Ropes attached to the front of a four-wheel drive ambulance unit of the Magic Valley Ambulance Service are guided by Jim Mildon of the ambulance service, J. D. Turner and Sheriff Paul Corder, from left.

a way with words

We had some interesting comments on last week's "A Loser Is..." section of A Way with Words. Here are a few more, we have come up with at this end:

—A loser is a man who needs a new fender for his Edsel.

—A loser is an LDS Bishop with stock in Folger's.

—A loser is a man who gets his nose fixed and then his mouth won't work.

—A loser is a man whose mother-in-law survived the Titanic.

—A loser is a Christian Scientist buying Band-Aids.

—A loser is an atheist saying "Gesundheit" when someone sneezes.

—A loser is a gravedigger with claustrophobia.

And finally:

—A loser is a female impersonator who gets pregnant.

Sunday Feature SECTION

Sunday, June 2, 1968 Twin Falls Times-News A-1

Summertime plagues law enforcement officers with worry over boating, swimming and fishing mishaps. Should a drowning occur, the Twin Falls County Sheriff's office boat is ready for service along with two members of the department and a number of volunteers. Escalating for an alert are Sheriff Paul Corder, Terry Quinn and J. D. Turner, deputy and pilot, in the boat from left, and volunteers Wm. Gardner and Fred Dodds, in SCUBA equipment.

By JAN ARTHUR SAINSBURY, Times-News Feature Editor

It is a matter of poor taste. I am a modern, or at least I like to think I am. I like modern clothes, and modern ideas, and modern women. I like the way our society has been able to shake in a remarkably short time a great many puritanical notions which have inhibited social growth and personal interaction with people of other cultures for a thousand years. I am glad it is the 20th Century, and that I will probably live to see a good part of the 21st.

But there are a few things today which because of a lessening of social restrictions, formally at least, seem now to be a matter of poor taste. Unfortunately those involved fall to see the reason.

When I was married, some nine years ago my wife told me, "Dear, if I can possibly do it, you will never see me with my hair in curlers." Amused, I have been nearly 100% right. Since the day we were married I have never seen my wife in hair curlers during the day . . . and on very few occasions at night. I have no idea how she does it . . . but she does it. Her hair looks nice all the time . . . and she has gone to bed only four or five times in our married life with curlers in her hair . . . and on each of those occasions she asked my permission before doing so. And the reason she gave seemed important.

Now what I can't understand is why so many women insist on wearing curlers in their hair, underneath a transparent headscarf, while they walk up and down Main Avenue in the middle of the day, taking time out only to have lunch in the dining cafe I do. There are few things I dislike more than eating across from a woman who looks like she just got up from the electric chair.

If nothing else it is a matter of poor taste.

Some of the most serious offenders are the so-called "beauticians." I say "so-called" simply because if beauty is in the eye of the beholder, these girls are missing the point . . . They put their streaked and striped hair up in massive rollers, resembling a conduit pipe to go out in front of all the people downtown, and all those unfortunate enough to eat lunch on the same establishment they do, and comb it out later so their girl friends can see how "beautifully" their hair looks after dark.

Undoubtedly they have few boyfriends, scaring most of them off in the daylight hours. Unless, of course they only hunt after dark.

Still, it's unfair. If you meet a girl with an attractive hair style, why must she look like Medusa for ten hours out of the day, and the "dream-girl" she really is, for only two or three?

It is a matter of poor taste.

The same seems to apply to mini-skirts, tight shorts, short-skirts, bikinis, etc. I think I enjoy the mini-skirts, the shorts and bikinis, as much or more than the next guy. In fact

I'd bet ten-to-one I enjoy them more. Unless, of course, they are on Miss Ugly of 1942.

For some reason there seem to be a few women in every town that have never looked at themselves in a mirror, or glanced at themselves in a store window. Had they ever seen their true image they would have turned into a pillar of salt.

Now before the girls in question reply . . . if they have the courage . . . or for that matter, if they even recognize the symptoms, may I say at the outset that as a man I am no raving beauty myself. But knowing that I do not wear Bermuda shorts, bathing suits, or tanling towels.

It is a matter of poor taste. So if I don't do these things because I realize that the result will not be as pleasing as mere conventional attire might be, why can't some women see the point also?

There is nothing quite as repelling to the male animal as an overweight woman testing the strength of halter straps while adjusting a fatigued waistband. There is no such thing as rippling beauty.

Now, I'm not knocking people who are overweight. I'm overweight. But I do go thumbs down to those few who either don't realize that they look better with less showing, or don't care.

The only solution is to stop kicking sand in the 90 pound weakling's face, and kick it toward the 180-pound bathing beauty's bikini, instead.

It is a matter of poor taste. Our society has established that women smoking in public are acceptable. And I for one find it unobjectionable . . . unless they continue to talk with a cigarette dangling from their mouth.

I find nothing wrong with women telling risque stories, getting as they don't try to pretend they don't get it after they're finished.

There is very seldom to be no reason why women can't compete in men's athletic events on an equal basis if they wish. Although the broadjump would undoubtedly take on new meaning.

It is a matter of taste. It was not long ago that women refused to appear on the street unaccompanied, lest the public know her calling.

Her collar was high and her walk proper. And it had to be just a bit dull.

The modern sight of a miniskirted well shaped girl with a bouncy walk full of self-confidence and charm is a most pleasant experience. And if you don't believe it, watch the heads turn the next time one goes past.

It is true that heads turn for other reasons too, such as a somewhat gassy smile. But the smile of approval rather than the glare of incredulity seems to mark the well shaped girl dressed in a modern, if abbreviated, style.

There is nothing distasteful about the exposure of beauty. It is the exposure of that which is not beautiful that seems to be a matter of poor taste.

A Matter Of Poor Taste . . .

Life in MAGIC VALLEY

While many people have knit sweaters, the distinction of knitting and then presenting one to a governor is the rather uncommon achievement of a TWIN FALLS 4-H member.

Glen Ward, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Glen Ward, who is president and Junior Leader of the Gem State 4-H Knitting Club, delivered her handwork in person to Gov. Don Samuelson in the capitol in Boise recently.

She was accompanied by other members of the club who include Vickie Ulrich, Linda Armstrong, Shanna W. Thiel, Sally Ward and Cheryl Armstrong, leader of the group is Mrs. Arla Williams.

The young knitter used double strand beige worsted yarn and put in the design in blue and gold. She knit the "State of Idaho" in blue, marked the Idaho capitol with a gold star and added the words "Gem State" in blue.

On the front pocket of the sweater are the words "Gov. Don" also in blue yarn. The yarn was purchased with money club members earned at a socked foot sale. Mrs. Ward accompanied the group to Boise for the presentation which also was attended by Mrs. Samuelson.

"Peoples in other lands" is more than just a phrase for seventh grade students in Mrs. Al Morgan's social studies class this year at O'Leary Junior High School, Twin Falls.

Poplars still are being regaled from letters and tapes prepared by the students and sent to far-flung places such as the Ilo of Iona in the Hebrides, Scotland; New Zealand and the Republic of South Africa. In-

Statistics On Death Show Closeness Counts

The old notion that people close to one who dies are likely to die soon after him, seems to be reaffirmed by a recent British study. And surviving spouses, the study further indicates, are the most likely to die of any.

Dr. W. Dewl Rees, a general practitioner, and Sylvia Lutkins, Research Officer of University College of Wales, chose the population of an area centered on the small town of Llanidloes, Wales, for their study.

The mortality rate among close relatives (spouses, brothers and sisters, offspring) of 371 deceased persons was compared with the rate among close relatives of 371 living persons in a carefully matched "control" group.

The fact that Dr. Rees knew, or had known, nearly all these people well adds weight to his findings, since the two groups could thus be matched quite accurately. Comparisons during the first year after death were emphasized.

The bereaved group, the researchers say, 4.76 per cent died during this period. In the control group, however, mortality among close relatives during this time was only .69 per cent. So the difference was sevenfold.

Male relatives of the recently dead appear to face a greater risk than do females. The figures were 6.4 per cent for males, for females 3.5. Also, more than twice as many widowers than widows died in the first year; the percentages were, respectively, 10.0 and 8.5.

For widowed people—as a group the risk was highest. During the one year period this group's mortality was 12.2 per cent, compared with 1.7 per cent for the control group. Of

BY FRANK SCHELL

In answer to many letters of inquiry we will clarify the situation which now exists regarding the status of Silver Certificates. Although June 24 is the deadline for presentation of certificates for redemption in silver, most dealers have set June 15 as the last day they will accept certificates and make payment.

That is—you may present them in person for redemption, but you will not be able to sell them at a premium to dealers.

At the present time, the average price dealers are paying is about 60 per cent over face value. Most of them pay a percentage of the closing price of silver on the exchange, but 60 per cent is a good average.

In other words, you can get $1.00 each for $1.60 Certificates, $8.00 for a $5.00 Certificate, and $16.00 for a $10.00 Certificate, providing the rate of market silver does not drop.

After June 24, Silver Certificates will still be legal tender, but will no longer be redeemable in silver.

In order to get silver for your Certificates, it is necessary that you present them, in person, or through an agent, at the U.S. Assay Office in San Francisco or New York. These agencies will not accept notes through the mail. Readers of this column are invited to send us a post card requesting dealers' names. We will be glad to forward you several names and you may sell to whomever you want to. There is no charge for this service, but we ask that you send a self-addressed, stamped envelope for the reply.

We advise you to keep all the Silver Certificates you have, especially the earlier dates, if they are in crisp, uncirculated condition, since they will become collector's items and will bring you more money in that category in a few years' time.

It might interest our readers to know exactly how much profit Uncle Sam makes on the new clad coinage which we now have.

First, any profit which the government makes between the face value and intrinsic value of a coin, is called seigniorage. The profit made on silver coinage was small, since the silver content was worth almost as much as the coin itself.

This is not the case with the new coinage. The following is a seigniorage chart recently released by the U.S. Government:

Denomination:	Profit:
1 Cent	0.0075
5 Cents	0.045
10 Cents	0.090
25 Cents	2.402
50 Cents	2.820

The seigniorage ranges from three-quarters of a cent on a one-cent piece to over 28 cents on a half dollar and if the silver is discontinued in the half-dollar, the profit will approach 100 per cent.

The above chart shows that it is indeed very profitable to manufacture money out of base metal. If you check the chart it is apparent that the 25-cent piece is almost pure profit.

From A. L. Burley, Idaho: I have a shiny coin, very light in weight with a hole in the center. On the front is a bunch of grapes, with a big "10" on each side of the hole and underneath it looks like the letters "VENTA" except the "V" is upside down. On the back are some more letters and a wreath around the hole with a crown on top. It is dated 1854. Can you tell me about it?

Answer: You have a 10 "Lep-Assy" piece of Greece. This is standard coinage and is worth, to a collector, about 15 cents, brand new.

Fear Has Its Light Side

By FRED BOODS
Times-News Staff Writer

"Fear, for some reason, can evoke laughter, but in almost all instances the laughter comes after the fear through either relief or because the individual concerned has performed something out of character.

Many people know many stories about fear and they chuckle about the incidents through the years.

Each of the incidents related here actually happened and are presented to show how fear and laughter go together.

Frank was a big man—in his 40s. He had a third grade education but despite his handicap was a good off-the-cuff philosopher and was respected among his co-workers in the kitchen of a large city hospital.

Frank was cutting vegetables one day and commenting on the weather. Then he got a smile, as close to a laugh as he could ever get, and related the story of the time he worked as a night janitor in a morgue.

Everybody had left at five o'clock and the clean, tiled halls echoed with emptiness. Frank worked slowly into the night, never quite at ease among his silent companions.

The morgue was a big place, and dimly lighted. The still figures of the dead were added to the beriness of the place.

Along about 10 o'clock, Frank had swept up the administration quarters and was working his way into the big room where the newly arrived dead were placed on flat slabs. He always hated to sweep in this room toward the alley door, so he could lock the doors and leave.

Every sound bounded through the room, and it was cold.

Frank told the story in his soft, deep voice.

He had cleaned half the room and was working from front to back toward the alley door. It was at this point that he backed into one of the slabs accidentally.

Unknown to him, one of the hands of the dead man on the slab fell into his rear pocket. The hand was stiff with death and it had a good grip on the back of his pants.

"I moved forward and felt something holding me," Frank said. "I moved back, then forward again, but something held that pocket tight."

The scene can easily be visualized, Frank's eyes wide now, his heart beating out of his chest, despite the fact that he was somewhere around the alley door but I wasn't going back."

"That's when Frank changed his line of work."

Another is the story of the old bear hunter who was asked to shoot a grizzly that had been bothering sheep in central Idaho.

The old veteran came on the trail that night, and early the next day, with trusty rifle in hand, climbed up a trail that led through the trees and thick brush.

"Tracks of the bear had been seen by a crew in the area and I was looking for the tracks as I worked my way through the brush."

Not far from the spot where the bear was seen, the old veteran stooped to catch his breath.

At that point, a large crowd of sheep came running and the bear decided to fly.

"It made a heck of a racket getting out of that brush, but I heard it for a moment in the veteran said. He dropped his rifle and beat a hasty retreat, stopping only to mount his horse and ride away.

"That bear's still there for all I know," he said.

He thinks he broke the world record for the mile run.

Then there is the story of the mortician in Utah who had to drive to Strevell to pick up a man that died in a car near the border.

The man had been dead for some time and he was found in a sitting position, the mortician related.

Because of certain difficulties with the ambulance the mortician had taken to Idaho, he couldn't lay the body down in the rear. He had to set the dead man next to him in the front.

"When I started back to Utah it began to rain," the mortician said. "Lightning flashed in the summer sky and rain began to pelt the windshield as he held a steady 50 going back."

"Man, that was weird. It was quiet and all minute I expected him to turn and start a conversation."

A few miles from his destination he got stuck in a pothole and got out of the car. "I called the boss and told him to send out another car. I just couldn't go any more mile with that body in the front seat."

It was several hours later when a relief crew arrived. The mortician was in a quandary.

The story here was about the same in the south several years ago, with one interesting twist.

The mortician in question stopped for gas and a hitch-hiker asked for a ride. Glad for the companionship, the mortician told the hitch hiker to "climb in." The man did so, but was later seen running down the road. In his haste he had forgotten a suitcase, but he did not return to claim it.

During the mid 50's, three friends of mine left their house on the north side of the city. All three were sitting in the front seat of Bill's car. Bill had a large firecracker with him and the three decided to light it and throw it in a residential neighborhood near the high school.

The firecracker sparked and fumed and one of the men in the car tossed it toward Bill's window. The window was closed, however, and the firecracker dropped into Bill's overcoat pocket.

In panic, all three tried to climb out the right-hand door, but three more in the car, they jammed and the firecracker went off with a loud bang. It blew Bill's pocket off and the car ran off the road and into a ditch.

No one was hurt. But Bill does not allow firecrackers to be lighted in his car these days.

Magic Valley Ambulance Service is a first aid instructor and has volunteered his services to the area.

When the going gets too rough even for the four-wheel drives or where a closer search may be needed, such as in the case of a missing hunter, the sheriff calls out the Twin Falls County Sheriff's Mounted posse.

Captain D. A. McGuire has 25 expert horsemen, each with their horses, trailers and other necessary equipment available on call. Several members of the department including Sheriff Corder, also have their own horses and equipment for such work and there are other volunteer mounted posse members if needed. While the public is more familiar with the posse members for their work in rodeo and horse show arenas, they also perform a valuable service in time of emergency, Sheriff Corder points out.

In the courthouse basement approximately once or twice a week, another sheriff's office program is under way. Here any law enforcement officer in the area is invited to attend physical fitness classes and work out. Much of the equipment is donated for officer use by Wayne Kinney, local businessman.

Dennis Haynes, deputy, and Mr. Kinney are qualified instructors in weight lifting and other physical fitness work. Deputy Sheriff Tom Majors instructs in hand-to-hand combat, important to officers in self defense.

Sheriff Corder noted it is important all officers keep in top physical condition because of the unusual demands of their work.

"We would like to think there won't be any drownings, lost children or injured hunters, or even any falls into the canyon this summer," commented Sheriff Corder. "But if we do have the usual number of accidents we will be ready to meet just about any situation with the assistance of the many public service minded citizens who have volunteered their equipment and time to help others."

"Whenever there's an emergency, Sheriff Corder pointed out, all law enforcement agencies fall in with their full support. State and city police are always on hand to assist when an accident or other emergency occurs. By the same token, the sheriff's office is available to assist city and state police if needed."

Other agencies such as the U.S. Forest Service have also provided an all out effort when something occurs in forest regions.

Book Review

ORBIT OF CHINA

This is a book written by a multilingual journalist who is a reporter—neither political nor military. He talks with the high and the low of the many countries bordering on China, which are as influenced by China.

He calls his first chapter "The Road to Lohan" and notes that all along the boundary that separates China from the New Territories, there are strands of barbed wire and wooden towers from which the Communist Chinese and the Hong Kong Chinese watch each other. If the Chinese can not talk with Chinese at Lo Wu, how was it ever going to be possible to get a dialogue going between the West and Peking?

He feels that the event of the twentieth century was China's renaissance. What do you really know about her? What does she know about us? Our contacts with her have been fleeting and traumatic. They go back not more than 100 or 150 years. China's culture, her language, her philosophy, her races—all this has been and still is alien to us. As a rule, the author stresses the need for contact, especially to the Asiatic countries, for food—and the fact that population has increased so far beyond the ability of any of these countries to feed themselves. Not only lack of knowledge but floods and pests have taken their toll. It is easy to criticize the Japanese for permitting trade with China, easy to say Cambodia should not trade with the enemy, easy to speculate as to how much smuggling is going on over the Chinese border. But food is necessary.

In Cambodia, the author witnessed the ancient rite of plowing the earth which takes place each year as it has for a thousand years. He says that will change this though Cambodia is so close to Vietnam that it has been damaged by the conflict which, especially in a country which has the ill luck to be a neighbor, Cambodia is a beautiful country and she would like to live in peace.

Thailand is greatly influenced by China since many of the business men and politicians are Chinese or of Chinese descent. It is a rich country—much of

The codling moth has been found in the area, and apple and pear growers should start control programs immediately. Twin Falls County Agent Donald Youst announced.

The moth infests apples and pears and looks like a large worm inside the fruit, Mr. Youst said.

Yet in the hotel lobby the young Mongols, clad in mode of the Mods, listen to American jukeboxes.

PROBATE JUDGE LEROY BLACKER, right, talks with Duane Peterson, Minidoka County Probation Officer, about a new juvenile petition just handed their office. The juvenile work is always a pressing matter. Duane Peterson is also the State Youth Rehabilitation Counselor for the Department of Health.

FOUR MINIDOKA COUNTY BOYS "work out" a "Juvenile Petition" involving eight hours of physical labor as part of a new rehabilitation program initiated last spring in the county. The photograph, by Arvetta Savage, is an actual scene during a work period. The bridge cleaning is one of several projects—the program has planned—for young offenders. Juveniles tend to remember the work sessions more vividly than probation.

on probation and they went ahead and did just what they wanted to anyway." In all honesty, this boy said he felt the physical labor was the best. One boy spoke out against current recreation funds going towards Emerald Lake instead of developing a Boys Sport Club in the Rupert Civic Building. The boys complained about tired hot feet. One boy described the event as, "the work is great—but the pay is lousy."

Near the end of the day, and they weren't finished yet, they said the bridge was longer than they had remembered while previously driving across in a car.

When the bridge-cleaning crew took a look at the bridge, they thought it would be pretty easy work and they could get through in a hurry and have nothing else to do.

Where people were looking at him. Another boy said the pressure of hiding his guilt was making him upset and after officers picked him up, his conscience got bothering him so much and he didn't think this would ever happen again. Each of the boys was asked if this punishment was effective and if it will impress upon them the seriousness of going outside the law. The majority of answers were "yes." Except for one boy who was really working hard. He looked up for a minute and answered "THIS will never happen again." The reporter asked if "THIS" meant the crime committed or if it meant "getting caught."

The tired boy stood erect, smiling and uttered the phrase... "I refuse to answer on the grounds that it might incriminate me."

All in all the program seems more effective than the traditional but less imaginative probation.

Crash Permit?

When you're 15 years old and obtain your first driver's license it goes without saying it's a great day. But for Beverly Annis, 15, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Annis, it didn't turn out so well.

Shortly before 10 a.m. she was issued her first driving permit—a daylight license. With her father accompanying her she left the county courthouse parking lot a legal driver—at last.

As she pulled out of the parking lot at 10:03 a.m., she collided with a parked 1968 sedan owned by Owen Rome, 1772 Borah Ave. E.

There was one "bright" side to the story, there were no injuries and damage was only $30—all paid by the automobile.

"Yes," interrupted his buddy, "but, I have friends that were in a picture. He felt it was punishment enough just working there by his department."

Some of the youths will be placed on probation after this workday and others may not, depending upon the seriousness of the offense.

When a youth is placed on probation, the biggest responsibility is still with the parents to see that the probation conditions. The probation officer makes regular checks at the homes. If a boy is caught violating his parole, and the violation is of a serious nature, then another hearing is held.

If it is not serious then the court works out something else which will be for the good of the youth. Mr. Peterson said his department does not use any force with the boys, because "you can't get a boy's head and underneath officers find a good boy who is feeling inferior and somewhat insecure inside."

The boys at county ones until they are sent to a State-operated institution such as St. Anthony, then they are State cases. Mr. Peterson follows through the entire process as he

Start Working: Here Come Da Judge

By ARVETTA SAVAGE
Twin Falls Correspondent

HEYBURN — "These boys are the lucky ones," expressed W. E. Satchwell, State Highway Department employee, as he supervised a work detail of boys Monday under the jurisdiction of the Minidoka County Probation Court.

And the 10 tired boys agreed with him — "well kinda."

The boys on Juvenile Petition were working out an eight-hour physical labor sentence as part of a new rehabilitation program initiated last Spring by Probate Judge Leroy Blacker and Duane Peterson, county probation officer and State Youth Rehabilitation counselor of the Department of Health.

Speaking in terms of being stopped before a serious crime is committed, most felt extremely lucky.

Six youths took in borrow pits along State Highways 24 and 25 gathering litter, while four others swept and shoveled dirt and gravel from the creek beds of the Donnered Bridge.

The youths had mixed emotions about the labor sentence, but each agreed that the Judge was fair. Some said they were not used to "this kind of work," but to the farm boy it was right down his line and he rather enjoyed it.

"Anyway it beats sitting in the hoose-gow," smiled a lad who had applied more pressure to the shovel.

Public opinion was a drawback to certain ones and embarrassment was hard to accept. Having to "work like that" in plain sight of the public was punishment in itself. But then there were some that felt that the physical exertion and feeling good doing it.

Offenses committed included malicious destruction, unlawful entry and liquor violations.

State employees supervising work details were Dennis Loosli, Jerry Rent, Ray Ivie and Mr. Satchwell. Officials used State Highway equipment and transported the boys in a state-owned van.

Working conditions were slightly opposite of what the boys had expected and expressed relief to find that boys were not treated as slaves and "worked by a man holding a whip." They were glad to find that State supervisors were but human beings who didn't try to belittle the boys because of the reason each was there.

Whenever any difficulty seems to arise, such as a rebellion, the supervisor takes time to sit with the boys and discuss. Supervisors spoke highly of the boys and the boys expressed appreciation for the manner with which the men handled the situation.

The State Department of Highways has been very cooperative and employs have donated their own time to assist the project in hopes that it "helps a boy."

Judge Blacker and Mr. Peterson said their department has received full cooperation of the State, but the county and city have failed to assist in any way with the new program.

The State law prevents the court to fine a juvenile, so in lieu of a jail sentence, Judge Blacker "requested" certain boys to donate $25 to a local Lions Club assistant fund with money each has earned himself and not been given by his parents. Besides the donation, each is sentenced to eight hours labor cleaning up the county.

Judge Blacker explained that sometimes physical labor is what a boy needs and felt this would be more effective than sitting in jail three days and then going on probation. If a boy is not cooperative or shows rebellion then the court will work out another method to rehabilitate the youth.

Officers maintain that the average boy coming before the court is a "good" boy with great possibilities of providing the court can change the atmosphere and environment.

The Judge noted that some boys, which had gone through a period of rehabilitation, repeated the offense because the environment he had to go back to had not been changed.

"If parents would accept their responsibility as parents, than we would not have the problem we do in our courts," he said.

Both he and Mr. Peterson have observed the greater problem stems from boys not given responsibility in the home, and they are treated as "quasi" and not as a responsible member of the family.

Sheriff Thel Johnson recently in local PTA meetings that parents were "making baby sitters" out of law enforcement officers, instead of supervising their own child's activity and knowing where the child is and what he is doing.

Minidoka County dealt with 147 juveniles through Probate Court in 1967. Nineteen of these were sent to St. Anthony.

Juveniles committing an act to bring them within the purview of the Youth Rehabilitation Act are brought in on Juvenile Petitions. Petitions are filed by the arresting officer and signed Dennis Loosli, State employee, who files it with the Probate Court.

The first hearing is set up, youth advised of his rights and a plea made. At this time the Judge may conduct a preliminary investigation and if the offense is considered serious, then a disposition is signed and a second hearing set up. The following steps taken include probation, work assignment, jail or St. Anthony.

According to Mr. Peterson, county facilities are are about "the poorest in the state." He said that other counties have adequate juvenile facilities, but this county has failed to provide any for its youth.

The only thing we have to work with here," he said, "is work detail, juvenile detention, probation — and St. Anthony."

The Judge and probation officer have tried different methods to help the youths. The Judge tried to put this program into effect when he was put in office three years ago, but was unable to get cooperation from the county. So last Spring when the State informed the court it would provide men and equipment to assist work details, then the program was put into effect along State-maintained highways only.

State officials say this program is saving the department time and money.

The State Department of Highways pays employees who help the rehabilitation program during work days, but on Saturdays, employees willingly donate time to supervise work details.

Four work details have been conducted since the program first was employed. Supervisors place two boys in each borrow pit along the highway and each carries a "burial sack" which he fills with litter as he walks along.

Boys working on the detail Monday, walked approximately five miles each during the day. Each was given a lunch hour and periods of rest.

Each boy participating in Monday's work detail, felt the Judge was fair in sentencing but not all were happy about it. One felt probation was more effective because this would deny him privileges he enjoyed. "Yes," interrupted his buddy, "but, I have friends that were (herein-called the "Purchaser") in connection with the purchase from the Dealer of the motor vehicle described as follows, such vehicle being herein called the "Vehicle":

Year ..... Make ..... Type .....

Motor No. .... Serial No. .... Stock No. ....

1. Subject to the provisions and conditions hereinafter set forth, the Dealer warrants that the Vehicle has been inspected, road-tested and reconditioned as necessary to be in serviceable condition at the time of sale, and, in the event of mechanical failure of the Vehicle, the Dealer agrees as follows:

(a) For a period of 30 days beginning ..... 19 ....., the Dealer will pay 50% of the parts and labor bills, with the exceptions noted below, necessary to keep the Vehicle in serviceable condition under normal use, provided that the repairs are taken care of in the Dealer's shop at the Dealer's regular retail price, that the remaining 50% is paid in cash by the Purchaser, and that such repairs do not qualify for adjustment under any new vehicle warranty applicable to the Vehicle.
Expressly excluded from the above are tires and tubes, glass, radio, air conditioning; any damage resulting from collision, accident, abuse or misuse. Nevertheless, the Dealer will furnish replacement tires, tubes and/or labor during the 30 day period specified above at a discount of 25% from the Dealer's regular prices if the remaining cost is paid in cash by the Purchaser.

(b) For a period of two years following the expiration of the 30-day period specified in (a) above, the Dealer will pay 15% of the parts and labor repair bills necessary to keep the Vehicle in serviceable condition under normal use, provided that the repairs are made in the Dealer's own shop at the Dealer's regular repair price and that the remaining 85% is paid in cash by the Purchaser.

2. This Warranty and the Dealer's undertakings hereunder shall not apply if the Vehicle is used as a for-hire vehicle.

3. This Warranty is issued by the Dealer only and not by the manufacturer of the Vehicle.

4. This Warranty is expressly in lieu of any other warranties, expressed or implied, including any implied warranty of merchantability or fitness for a particular purpose, and any other obligations or liabilities on the Dealer's part, and Dealer neither assumes nor authorizes any other person to assume for it any other liability in connection with the sale of the Vehicle.

5. This Warranty must be available with the Vehicle at the time of payment for any repairs or adjustments, and it is not transferable or assignable.

6. This Warranty is not valid unless signed by the Dealer's authorized department head and by the Purchaser, who is to retain a copy.

ANNOUNCES THEIR STOREWIDE EXPANSION

we're Remodeling

Starts Monday. Ends when $85,000 worth of merchandise is moved from our $250,000 inventory

FRIGIDAIRE APPLIANCES

The freezers will have to be moved from the 2nd floor and the dishwashers from our kitchen department into our regular appliance department. 20 pieces must be moved to accomplish this.

For many months we have been planning an extensive remodeling program, which will give us more display area and increase our efficiency and service to our customers. We have now agreed on a plan . . . a $35,000 project and we are anxious to get under way with it.

FIRST WE MUST MOVE APPROXIMATELY $85,000 WORTH OF MERCHANDISE.

We will then condense the remaining inventory into areas not affected by the project. This all has to be done before our contractor can start to work.

DINETTES AND DINING ROOM

All dinettes and dining room furniture has to be moved from the 2nd floor. Remodeling project involves this area.

SPECIAL TERMS FOR THIS EMERGENCY LIQUIDATION

- 90 DAY ACCOUNTS
- FALL PAYMENTS
- FARM PLANS

There is extreme urgency

TIME IS IMPORTANT

our contractor is scheduled.

LIVING ROOM SETS

Literally hundreds of living room pieces must be moved so we can move the remaining chairs and Sealy Redibeds from the 2nd floor during remodeling.

Selections are big
MARKDOWNS ARE DRASTIC

WE WILL DELIVER LATER

We will store your items in our trackside warehouse.

PAY NOTHING
'TIL FALL

HELP US WITH OUR URGENT PROBLEM.
HELP YOURSELF TO SAVINGS.

BEDROOM SETS

Our bedroom and bedding department has to be condensed to half its size during remodeling. Big selections now - Suites from 99.00 to 890.00. Sealy mattress and redibeds reduced to clear.

MAPLE SHOP

We would like to move every item from our big Maple Shop so we can move the remaining dinettes and dining room pieces to the lower level from the 2nd floor, (during remodeling).

TV AND STEREO

80 color TV sets Zenith and Curtis Mathes including portables, table models, consoles and home entertainment centers. Our Paris Department is to be moved to this area. Every color set must be moved Now! 20 console stereo sets must clear.

CHAIRS

Hundreds of chairs (all styles) including recliners, must clear from the 2nd floor. All unsold chairs will be moved temporarily to the main floor and lower level.

CARPET

Every roll of Mohawk Carpet has to be moved. (the contractor starts here). Two walls have to be removed so we can move our carpet department into what is now our Parts Dept. (It goes to the 2nd floor.)

THIS IS A TELEVISION SET, PERHAPS THE MOST IMPORTANT INVENTION OF THIS CENTURY.

A TV SET IS NOT INVULNERABLE. LIKE ITS HUMAN OWNER, IT WILL SOMETIMES GET SICK.

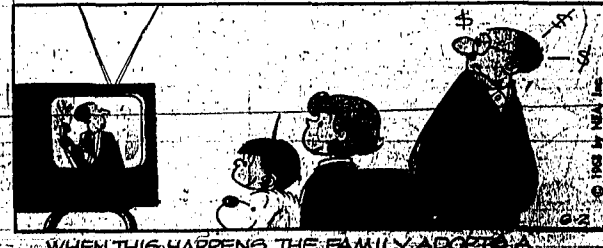

THIS IS A TV REPAIR MAN. HE WILL TRY TO MAKE IT WELL AGAIN.

USUALLY HIS KNOWLEDGE AND SKILL WILL BRING ABOUT A MIRACULOUS RECOVERY...

BUT, SOMETIMES...

WHEN THIS HAPPENS THE FAMILY ADOPTS A NEW TV SET, AND EVERYBODY IS HAPPY AGAIN, WELL... ALMOST EVERYBODY.

AFTER EMBEDDING HIS MEAT AX IN A TREE FOLLOWING A WILD SWING AT KEVIN, PIGMAN AND HIS SON FLEE FROM KEVIN'S FURY

FAITH, HORSE, IF THEY WERE AFTER MEAT-- FROM YOU OR FROM ME-- THEY'VE LOST THEIR NEED FOR IT IN A HURRY!

YOU'RE TOO WEAK TO CARRY ME, POOR FELLOW, YET TOO BIG FOR ME TO CARRY, BUT WE LEAVE TOGETHER!

AND IF THIS MAKES ME A HORSE THIEF, SO BE IT!

I DON'T KNOW YOUR NAME, PARTNER--I'LL GUESS YOU'LL BE MCDONALD'S. I SHALL CALL YOU MAC!

KEVIN DOES NOT SUSPECT THAT HIS HUNGRY LINKEMPT EQUESTRIAN COMPANION IS A LIPIZZANER CAVALRY HORSE, EUGENE.

WHEN WE REACH YONDER VILLAGE, MAC, WE'LL BOTH FARE BETTER, YOU NEED FEEDING AND GROOMING-- DAYS OF BOTH!

YOU'RE A DEAR UNCLE EMILE, BUT I KNOW HOW TO TAKE CARE OF MYSELF!

I PROMISED YOUR FATHER I'D LOOK OUT FOR YOU, HE TOO WOULD NOT TRUST THIS FELLOW WHO PAYS YOU ATTENTION!

WHICH FELLOW? MY ADMIRERS ARE MANY!

AH, BUT I SPEAK OF THE ONE NAMED STRUKEN, A MEAN, SHIFTY AND, I SUSPECT, TREACHEROUS BRUTE!

BESIDES, I DON'T LIKE HIM!

WELL, STRUKEY, THE GARRISON'S LADY KILLER--HOW COME THOSE SCRATCHES?

THE KITTEN HAS CLAWS?

The LITTLE NEWS

by Walt Scott

Somebody, a human, no doubt, dumped his waste paper into our valley!

And now we gotta pick it up before Old One sees it!

I hear somebody sobbing!

It's coming from over that rise!

It's Morton Mink!

Why the weeps, Mort?

You'd weep too!

Look at this!

SEW-IT-YOURSELF PATTERNS Dresses for Town or Play

PLUS: RED SCHOENDIENST on winning the World Series... TAYLOR CALDWELL on witches... and JOHN LINDSAY on raising children.

ILLUSTRATIONS BY JIMMYE JONES

Ask Them Yourself

FOR JOHN V. LINDSAY,

Mayor of New York City
I have heard you were the youngest child in your family. Does the youngest child have special problems?—N. D., Niagara Falls, N.Y.

● No. A child's ability to cope with persons of different age levels depends as much on his emotional development as on his age. Children mature at varying rates—and the guidance provided by parents in shaping a child's personality is crucial. If parents react honestly to their children's individual characters, the child will develop the emotional maturity necessary to handle himself well.

FOR RED SCHOENDIENST,

manager, St. Louis Cardinals
What was the most important factor in your winning the 1967 World Series?—Dennis Pence, Marion, Ind.

● Bob Gibson's quick recovery from the broken leg he suffered in mid-July. He always has been an outstanding performer in pressure contests, and he proved it by pitching three complete game victories over Boston. Another important factor was the great play of Lou Brock.

FOR EDITH HEAD,

Hollywood script writer
When do you think the mini-skirt craze will end?—Mrs. Irene Drefka, Las Vegas, Nev.

● As far as I'm concerned the mini-skirt is out. I never used it unless the script called for a hippie or far-out character. Most designers disagree with me. They feel it's here to stay.

FOR REP. FRANK HORTON

of New York
What has been done about collecting our World War I debt from France?—D. E. McCohen, Walsworth, N.Y.

● On Jan. 31, 1968, I joined several of my colleagues in introducing legislation calling for immediate payment of France's World War I debt. This debt should be paid because 1) it is legal and binding; 2) France has pursued policies inconsistent with the best interests of the U.S. and the Atlantic Alliance; 3) the crisis in our economy requires new income; 4) the American people should not subsidize the 50-year-old debt.

FOR TAYLOR CALDWELL, author

Do you believe the persons who were burned at the stake during the Salem witch hunts were really persons gifted with ESP?—Mrs. LaWanda Crinklaw, Cedar Falls, Iowa

● Yes. According to much I have read about them, the Salem "witches" were quiet, studious, curious about others and the world, delicate of perception, and lonely personalities. The well-educated "witches" knew the danger of reckless speech; the less educated did not and thus became the unfortunate victims. It is untrue, however, that witches were burned at Salem. They were usually hanged or drowned.

FOR GEORGE SCHAFER

producer-director
Which is easier, producing or directing?—D. B. Pierre, S.D.

● Producing. A producer is responsible for the physical accoutrements. But a director is responsible for the treatment of the play and the performances. You can have beautiful accoutrements, but if the performance is rotten, the play fails.

FOR ED AMES

Why are you leaving the "Daniel Boone" series? Is it true you are feuding with Essi Parker?—R. L. Gadsden, Ala.

● I am not feuding with Essi. I'm leaving in quest of new horizons—the stage, film, and Broadway.

FOR ELSTON HOWARD,

catcher, Boston Red Sox
When a young pitcher is having trouble, what do you say to calm him down?—Mary Boyles, Marina, Calif.

● Usually a pitcher in trouble is working too fast. So I go out to the mound to slow him down and get him back to his normal delivery.

FOR JEANE DIXON

Is it true that you have predicted the death of President Johnson?—Charlotte Crump, Carlsbad, N.M.

● No. But I did predict that there would be three Presidents in this decade.

WHAT IN THE WORLD!

"Seeing-Eye" Cane Science is now using light to help blind people get around in their dark world. A new laser cane uses invisible laser beams and photoelectric cells to detect objects or holes. Vibrating pins in the cane handle signal when there's danger ahead. Still another new device for the blind uses sonic instead of light beams to find objects and tell how close they are.

Laser aid for blind

In the Mind Doctors disagree on how dangerous those little birth-control pills are. But Dr. Aquilino Sobrero, director of the Margaret Sanger Research Bureau, thinks that lively imaginations cause many of the accompanying symptoms. "The more educated a woman is, the more side effects she will have. We have, for example, very few side effects in India."

Candy Store Parents who have been complaining about fast toys break can now buy their kiddies items that will last a lifetime. They're Rudy Sam's giant sculptures of ice cream cones, peppermint sticks, and lollipops. They're for the child who has everything, to be given by the parent or doing grandmother who has $1,500 to $3,500 to spare. If the price seems high, Sam's points out that his sculptures have a built-in bonus. "Can" art for confection—helps develop a child's taste for the finer things.

Mini-Moguls' To meet the rising costs of hamburgers and higher education, some 25,000 college students now own and operate their own undergraduate businesses. According to a new book, "How to Succeed in Business Before Graduating," many of them earn more than $10,000 a year. These junior tycoons sell anything from buttons to insurance to gram boxes (snack packages for exam time). The most unique enterprise, though, is one that guarantees to put 25 tickets in front of the White House for any cause you care to name.

Laugh-Out—The gag lines that used to flash across the bottom of the tv screen during Rowan and Martin's "Laugh-In" have been banned. They looked so much like news bulletins that some people took them seriously. Dan Rowan tells of one line, "Help, help. I'm being held prisoner in the newsroom." In many parts of the country, police were flooded with calls. In Springfield, Ill., the police actually, raced to the tv station with riot guns. Some of NBC's own newsmen called the network to volunteer in the great "emergency."

Rowan and Martin

What Your Child's Artwork

Now there's a simple, five-minute drawing test that may help predict how

IN A STRAW HUT in Vietnam, a ragged child begins to draw a house.

At the same moment, in a California split-level, another girl in a starched dress with a yellow ribbon in her hair stands before her easel. She, too, is drawing a house.

Though they are growing up in such different worlds, the two children will end up drawing the same house. Each will make a big square to shape the house, a smaller square to show a window, and an elongated square for the chimney, with a curly scribble that looks like smoke to grown-ups but is only a pleasing design to the children.

"The art of young children everywhere is identical," says Rhoda Kellogg, who examined thousands of pictures by children from all over the world for her CRM, Inc., (San Diego) book with Scott O'Dell, "The Psychology of Children's Art." She found that, until they are old enough to be influenced by the culture around them, all children draw the same things in the same way.

They use many of the shapes and symbols we find in primitive art. "The magic is that children in each new generation use this language from the day they make their first scribble on paper or patterns in the sand or circles in the air."

Children draw alike because they tend to grow alike, going through the same stages at much the same ages. As Miss Kellogg explains, a child at age two creates scribbles, placing them in patterns that look accidental to a grownup but actually are carefully chosen by the child. By three, he has usually begun to outline shapes. Between four and five, he starts to produce pictures that adults can vaguely recognize. And, at about that same age, he begins to draw people.

Because children generally follow this pattern of growth, we can tell many things about a child from the way he draws. Psychiatrists have been doing this for years, searching a child's artwork for clues to why he acts the way he does.

For example, does the young artist squeeze his picture into one corner of the paper? This kind of child drawing may be a signal of his inner fears and insecurity. Does he draw a person but leave off the feet? For some psychiatrists, this may be a sign that the child himself isn't sure where he stands.

Up until now, you had to be well trained in psychology before trying to interpret a child's artwork. Now, the things that the psychiatrists have learned over the years have been systematized into a test that is simple and easy.

Called the Evanston Early Identification Scale and issued by the Follett Publishing Company, the test is designed for five- or six-year-olds. Given by a layman, the test by no means should

Tells About Him

By CLAIRE SAFRAN

your child will do at school

All children tend to draw the same thing, giving scientists a clue to their character development.

be taken as absolute proof of a child's possible behavior in school. It serves here merely as an example of how such tests are given by professional people.

A great many kindergarten and first-grade teachers now are using it to spot which children will do well in school and which children are likely to run into trouble. It doesn't tell them why the child may have trouble, but it is a warning signal that this child needs to be observed closely or to be referred for further, more sophisticated tests by the school psychologist.

The value of the test lies in spotting possible trouble when the child is first starting school. The cause could be something physical, such as a problem with depth perception, or it could be emotional. By spotting it early, the child won't get a "low intelligence" or "poor conduct" rating that he doesn't deserve, and he can be helped before his early troubles in school breed new troubles of their own.

How to Test Your Child

All you need to test your own child is a blank piece of paper and a lead pencil. Have the child sit at a desk or table and then tell him, "Please draw someone; draw anyone you wish. Draw just one person." If he asks whom he should draw, just repeat, "Anyone you would like to draw." If he asks how he should draw the person, your answer should be simply, "Any way you want to." Let the child have all the time he wants, but don't offer any help to him or volunteer any extra information.

When the child has finished his drawing, send him off to play in another room. Don't score the drawing in front of him and don't tell him what his score is. And remember, this is not a test of intelligence or of artistic ability, but simply a clue to possible trouble.

To score the test, you add up the points for parts of the body that are missing in the drawing. A box on this page gives you the key.

What the Score Means

If your child scores four or less, he is a "low-risk" child. That means he's not likely to have any problems in school.

If he scores between five and seven, there is a possibility that he may have some difficulty in school. Such a "middle-risk" child may be maturing more slowly than other children, or he may need further testing or special treatment.

If the child scores eight or above, he is in the "high-risk" group. He can be expected to have problems in school and would probably benefit from the attention of a child specialist or school psychologist.

In school, such a child may sit still and daydream or he may wander restlessly about the classroom. He may have trouble following directions or understanding what is discussed in class. He may be easily frustrated, confused by changes in routine, and fearful of new situations. He may have a short span of attention, or he may become aggressive in an effort to be accepted by the other children.

If you give this test to your five- or six-year-old and he "flunks," there's no reason to be alarmed: It doesn't mean he's unintelligent or a budding delinquent. It does mean that you should consult with a professional teacher, psychologist, or counselor—who can tell you about other tests that can help pinpoint whatever is troubling your child.

Probably it's something minor, the emotional equivalent of a cold. The important thing is to catch it early. If you neglect a cold, it may go away by itself, or it may develop into pneumonia. That's a chance parents don't like to take with a child's body—or his mind. +

Now! A World-Famous Trainer of Champions says:

Break All the Rules, and Win a 35-Year-Old Body at 50-60-70—and Beyond!

This 70-Year-Old is Lifting a 100-Pound Man, As Easily As If He were Made Out of Cotton!

Who says that you have to be weaker at 50 or 60 or 70 than you were at 20?

He couldn't hold an ordinary desk job! Read his amazing health story on this page. Percy to yourself his wonder-working, "rule-breaking" health secrets—activity at his risk—today!

For example: forget your callushees today? Congratulations! They're a waste of time. Too much love in your life! Nonsense!

Gratify your instincts and grow stronger every year, says this 70-year-old "physical wonder" who surrounds doctors with his 35-year-old body... who wins a 100-pound man in a single day at close to the age of 55... and who now trains world-champion athletes by teaching them to BREAK ALL THE RULES, AND WIN A 35-YEAR-OLD BODY LIKE WATER FROM THEIR BODIES!

Now's This For A New Definition Of Youth? Stronger At 70 Than You Were At 30! With More Pep And Energy Than Your Own Son Or Daughter!

Right now, look again at the photo of this 70-year-old man lifting a 100-pound friend though he was made of cotton. And then realize this:

This very same name—Percy Cerutty—was at 43 years of age so broken in health that he was actually unable to keep working at an ordinary desk job! Face to face at that time with agonizing sickness and momentary death, Percy Cerutty began a desperate search for scientific health secrets that would give him back his strength. Within two years he was stronger than ever before—stronger than he had been for years earlier. Today, his body is medically written-up as being a 35-year-old body. This man—entirely able to outstep ordinary men FIFTY YEARS HIS JUNIOR!

The simple health secrets that turned this dying "man of 43" into the vigorous "young man" today, at 70, lie simply too precious for Cerutty to keep so hidden. Therefore, almost twenty years ago he began using them to train world-champion athletes in his native Australia. You can measure his success by realizing that his students have already set over FIFTEEN WORLD RECORDS in the last few years alone!

And now, Percy Cerutty reveals these, same, same wonder-working, "rule-breaking" health secrets to you—to every man and woman... willing to have a 35-YEAR-OLD BODY AT 70, AND BEYOND!

Here's what you'll find—the very first time you glance through this startling new book!

You Start With Wonder-Working Health Secrets 4,000 Years Old!

To begin with, Percy Cerutty asked himself why modern men—with all his medical knowledge—still had a "strong" 170 or 80 lbs primitive Australian Aborigine! His immediate answer was an intensive study of the most primitive peoples—as well as the natural, instinctive health secrets of the world's animals (whose active sex life for example, is far times longer than modern man's). From these studies, Cerutty discovered certain health principles that can only be called "Health Magic!" For example:

He firmly believes that heart trouble, high blood pressure, rheumatism and perhaps even some forms of cancer are all preventable. Page 10 of his book tells you how, for example to keep your blood cleaned and your heart strong—and double your resistance to disease!

He discovered that most strenuous exercises give you nothing except harm. Therefore, he decided completely to forget them. Instead, read Chapter 11 to find out the secret to the healthiest and most powerful way to exercise as your body—and how, if you will simply add to it this wonder-working secret exercise, your total health, then, then you can let your external muscles take care of themselves!

And perhaps most important of all, Cerutty proved to his own satisfaction that as much as 95% of all your ills, can be avoided simply by your food intake! In fact, certain types of food—right on your supermarket shelves—can actually poison your health! Read Chapter 8 to find out which they are—and then avoid them like the plague!

Old Age Is A Disease, Says Cerutty And Therefore It Can Be Prevented And Even Reversed!

But this is just the beginning. Now Percy Cerutty turns to the vast discoveries made by modern medical science, and tells you in practical detail of reversed, finished and finally that will enable both men and women alike to swim, play golf and tennis, ride horseback, dance till dawn, outwork most youngsters, even climb mountains if you wish to—and do them all WELL! FAST! 20!

... Just a few more examples:

Your lungs CANNOT rebuild themselves, of course. But follow the simple breathing advice in Chapter 3, and you may keep them as every powerhouse for a century!

On page 144 he tells why, if you wake up groggy in the morning, you're a lot better off than the so-called "health addict" who broadens out of bed and goes each day with a cherry "hello!"

On page 64 you learn a basic principle that will win you respect—and help you to control fear. In fact, you'll be able to make the fear worse for you. You can use this principle immediately! It will help you innumerable times daily!

On page 82 you're given two simple, obvious "truths" that may trouble you to escape the disaster of a coronary or heart seizure, stroke—even help you prevent high blood pressure! (Even though they're obvious—most people don't even realize them!)

On page 136 you're shown an exercise which requires NO support effort (less NO more than one minute)—yet becomes a remarkable "relaxer" for you. And, you can do this simple exercise almost anywhere! (In fact, as soon as you act to page 136, try it immediately.)

If you want to extend your life—enjoyably—past the 100 mark, you simply must keep FOUR ESSENTIAL ORGANS healthy. 95% of all health-care is due to the breakdown of these four vital body parts alone! You'll find out how to keep them strong, powerful, functioning on pages 41 to 49.

Prove It Yourself—Entirely At Our Risk

And remember—this revolutionary new book is NOT concerned with time saving. It's the customary physical decline that sets in on 90% of all men and women after 30. Its objective is actually to ARREST the deterioration of age in your body!

On page 134, Mr. Cerutty actually LISTS the symptoms of "old age" he wishes to help you eliminate. Such as:

Slowness of movements... stiffness of joints... lachrymose (tearful) eyes and colorless skin... blue-ruined, marbled-looking arms and legs... chronic tiredness... and all the rest!

These signs of old age are NOT inevitable at 70—or beyond! Percy Cerutty has proved that HE can avoid every one of them! And that he can help you do the same! Actually give you the strength, health, vitality and sheer attraction of a "younger" of 35—AT 70 AND BEYOND!

Isn't it worth one short week of your time to test this theory for yourself? We ask you to return the enclosed NO-RISK coupon at once. Why not send in the NO-Risk Coupon, below—TODAY!

QUIPS AND QUOTES

Spotting a friend in the beauty parlor, the woman ran up to her and asked breathlessly, "Have you heard the latest?"

"Heard it?" the friend replied
"My dear, I started it!"

—Flora Rand

A clergyman: one who works to

—Wilfred Beaver

Each time the hospital nurse brought the patient his meals on a tray, she would announce: "I have brought your nourishment."

At dinner one evening, when he was ravenously hungry, she appeared with the usual skimpy tray of food and offered the usual greeting: "I have brought your nourishment, Mr. Brown."

"Look here, nurse," the man exploded. "I'm tired of nourishment. What I want is something to eat!"

—F. G. Kernan

Two is company and three's a

The man offered to sell what he claimed was a talking dog for $10. "Please buy me," the dog begged a prospective buyer. "My master is mean and beats me, but I'm really a great dog. Why, when I was in the Canine Corps, I won the Distinguished Service Cross and a Purple Heart."

"It's amazing," the prospective buyer exclaimed. "He really does talk. Why do you want to sell him for only $10?"

"Because," the owner explained, "I can't stand a liar."

June Is Dairy Month

MELANIE DE PROFT Food Editor

Here are recipes chosen especially for this month, calling attention to milk, cream, buttermilk, sour cream, cottage cheese, butter, and ice cream—those wonderfully delicious and nutritious dairy products.

Creamy Hot Potato Salad with Franks

- 1 tablespoon butter
- $\frac{1}{4}$  cup sliced green onion (including tops)
- $\frac{1}{4}$  cup green pepper pieces
- 1-lb. frankfurters, cut in 1-in. pieces
- 4 cups cubed cooked potatoes
- $\frac{1}{2}$  teaspoon salt
- 1 cup dairy sour cream
- 1 tablespoon regular all-purpose flour
- 1 cup (4 oz.) shredded Cheddar cheese

1. Heat butter in a large skillet. Add onion, green pepper, and frankfurters and cook 5 min., stirring occasionally. Sprinkle potatoes with salt and lightly mix with ingredients in skillet. Cover and heat 15 to 20 min. over low heat.
2. Blend sour cream and flour. Stir into skillet mixture. Heat 5 min.; do not boil. Stirring—cheese over top and heat until cheese is slightly melted. 8 servings

Cottage Cheese Stuffed Tomatoes

- 6 medium-sized ripe tomatoes
- 2 cups cream-style cottage cheese
- 2 tablespoons salad dressing
- 5 slices bacon, diced and fried until crisp
- 2 tablespoons grated onion
- 4 teaspoons capers
- $\frac{1}{2}$  teaspoon pepper

1. Scoop out tomatoes, drain, sprinkle generously with Accent, and set in refrigerator to chill.
2. Mix cottage cheese and next five ingredients. Chill thoroughly.
3. Spoon cottage cheese mixture into the tomato shells. Set a stuffed tomato on frilly greens lining one side of each luncheon plate. On the other side, pile barbecue-flavored potato chips. 6 servings

Buttermilk Salad Dressing

- 1 cup buttermilk
- 2 tablespoons plus 2 teaspoons prepared horseradish
- 2 teaspoons sugar
- $\frac{1}{2}$  teaspoon dry mustard
- $\frac{1}{2}$  teaspoon salt
- $\frac{1}{2}$  teaspoon black pepper

Blend all ingredients. Chill thoroughly. Stir or shake well before pouring over salad greens.

About 1 cup dressing

Bittersweet Chocolate Sauce de Luxe

- 12 oz. semisweet chocolate pieces
- $\frac{1}{2}$  cup (2 oz.) unweetened chocolate
- 1 cup heavy cream
- 1 teaspoon vanilla extract

1. Heat all ingredients together in top of a double-boiler set over hot (not steaming) water; stir frequently until smooth.
2. Sauce may be stored, covered, in refrigerator. Serve hot for ice cream sundaes or cool for ice cream sodas. 2 cups sauce

Mold Loaf Cake

- 2 cups sifted regular all-purpose flour
- $\frac{1}{4}$  teaspoon baking powder
- $\frac{1}{4}$  teaspoon salt
- $\frac{1}{4}$  teaspoon ground mace
- 1 cup butter
- 2 teaspoons grated lemon peel
- $\frac{1}{2}$  teaspoons vanilla extract
- $\frac{1}{2}$  teaspoon almond extract
- 1 cup plus 2 tablespoons sugar
- 4 eggs (about 1 cup)

1. Sift the first 4 dry ingredients together; set aside.

2. Cream butter, lemon peel, and extracts; gradually add sugar, creaming well. Add the eggs, one at a time, beating thoroughly after each addition.

3. Fold dry ingredients into creamed mixture. Turn batter into a greased (bottom only); waxed paper-lined and greased again  $9\frac{1}{2} \times 5\frac{1}{2} \times 3$ -in. loaf pan and spread evenly to edges.

4. Bake at  $325^{\circ}\text{F}$ . about 70 min., or until cake tests done. Cool 15 min. in pan on wire rack before removing from pan. Peel off waxed paper and cool cake completely. One  $9\frac{1}{2} \times 5\frac{1}{2}$ -in. loaf cake

Note: To prepare pound cake to be used as a base for Baked Alaska, bake in a  $9 \times 9 \times 2$ -in. pan for about 45 min. When cool and ready to use, split into two layers.

Baked Alaska

Line a chilled 2-qt. mold with 1 qt. chocolate ice cream. Fill center with 1 qt. strawberry ice cream. Freeze. Use one layer of Pound Loaf Cake (see note) and trim about  $\frac{1}{2}$  in. larger than mold. Place cake on a wooden board. Unmold ice cream onto cake. Working quickly, completely cover ice cream and cake with Meringue (see recipe). Set in a  $400^{\circ}\text{F}$ . oven for 4 to 5 min., or until meringue is lightly browned. Serve immediately. 12 to 16 servings

Note: For a loaf shape, use 1 qt. of brick ice cream.

Meringue: Put 5 egg whites,  $\frac{1}{4}$  teaspoon salt, and  $\frac{1}{4}$  teaspoon vanilla extract into a bowl and beat until frothy. Gradually add  $\frac{3}{4}$  cup sugar, continuing to beat until stiff peaks are formed.

Cold milk, Creamy Hot Potato Salad with Franks, and crispy cucumber sticks with tomato slices are basic for a family's hurry-up lunch or supper.

Whose Work Is Harder—
His or Hers?

By JOHN E. GIBSON

Here's a true-or-false quiz based on Doctor Gordon's findings. The answers are below (right).

1. Ironing requires as much energy as plowing with a tractor.
2. Scrubbing is harder than wall plastering.
3. Peeling vegetables takes more energy than driving a taxi.
4. Sewing on buttons or mending socks is more energy-consuming than deck work.
5. Making beds takes more effort than shoe repairing.
6. Every time a wife has to climb stairs, she expends more energy than a lumberjack felling trees.
7. Mopping floors is harder work than carpentry.
8. Hanging out the wash is more taxing than tractor plowing.
9. Ironing is more fatiguing than backslapping.
10. Sweeping the floor requires more effort than driving a car through traffic.

Doctor Gordon also has drawn up this handy chart which you can save for decisive answers the next time your husband or wife pops-up with, "What a hard day I've had." The figures show how many calories you use per minute in each of the activities listed. *

Answers:

1. True; 2. False; 3. True; 4. False; 5. True; 6. True; 7. False; 8. True; 9. True; 10. False.

It is a rare home indeed in which an argument hasn't raged over who has the tougher job—the husband laboring at his profession or the wife caring for the household.

Science now has entered the fray as a referee. Dr. Edward E. Gordon, director of the Department of Physical Medicine at Michael Reese Hospital in Chicago, has evaluated the results of a series of tests designed to end the controversy. The tests measured the amount of energy a man burns in the course of earning a living as compared with a woman performing her household chores.

Dresses for Town or Play

By ROSALYN ABBEVAYA

Keep cool and look delightful this summer with a trio of spare little dresses that back-zip and mark Tashiro's return to dressmaker-details with buttons, a hint of pockets, or belting.

How versatile these Laurence Gross designs can be depends on your imaginative use of fabric. If you prefer them for more casual wear, choose light-colored solids or the latest "flower power" prints. For town or an evening at a summer theater, select striking new Dacron double-knits, cotton broades, or featherweight voiles.

All these styles can be run up quickly at home—and aren't a bit intricate. The A-line "wrap" dress doesn't really wrap, for instance, but achieves its look via a simple-deep side pleat.

To start your summer wardrobe, order patterns below. ♦

Here, a style that could be made in voile, jewel-buttoned.

A crisp neckband, closer fit make fashion points.

PIN-WORMS A FAMILY AFFAIR

Nidating, loss of sleep and a tormenting itch are often telltale signs of Pin-Worms... fully parasitic that medical experts say infect 1 out of every 3 persons examined. Pin-worms may be victims and not know it. To get rid of Pin-Worms, they must be killed in the intestines where they live and multiply. That's exactly what Jay's P-W tablets do... and here's how they do it. First—a scientific coating carries the tablets to the bowels before they dissolve. Then—Jay's medicine, medically-approved ingredient, goes to the site of the Pin-Worms, quickly, easily, ask your pharmacist. Do not take with vigorous, highly contagious Pin-Worms which infect entire families. Get genuine Jay's P-W Tablets, small, easy-to-take tablets... special sizes for children and adults.

We have something for the day you need a little comforting. Sooner or later, when that woman feels that she's not a woman feeling either, and she could use a good, old-fashioned medicine then... could you feel a little more, or maybe more. You add your own special oil and herbs and you get a little more of the same. Lydia E. Pinkham Tablets are made with the best ingredients that work to help you feel better. When you start changing, you could use a good old-fashioned medicine for an old-fashioned problem. And you don't run any chance of being harmed, like other pills you can get from some of the newer drugs.

ENTERTAINMENT

Ed Sullivan—The

The "Living Mount Rushmore" celebrates his to analyze his "no-talent" success

ED SULLIVAN celebrates his 20th anniversary in tv this month—a longer track record than any other "big show."

I'm proud that I've appeared on the Ed Sullivan show more than any other performer, not counting dancing elephants and somersaulting poodles. I've made 54 appearances—the 55th will be tonight (June 2), his 20th-anniversary show.

Most of my stints have gone about eight minutes—Ed wouldn't give more than that to Nero fiddling against the original back-drop—that figures out to be about seven hours of a good night's sleep. People tell me it looks like Ed is getting just that while I'm working.

Because I've known Ed as friend and boss, people ask me, "How can such a 'no-talent' be so successful in tv?" and I reply, "You know, he started about the same time Milton Berle did. Great talent, that Berle. Say, where is his show now?"

Ed—and I date back some 25 years. I landed my first big job at the old Leon and Eddie's on 52nd street about then. Ed was doing a daily Broadway column, and he reviewed me this way: "Who's this young upstart at Leon and Eddie's? If Broadway doesn't watch out, somebody is going to be paying him big money."

And do you know who eventually paid me that big money? Ed Sullivan.

I live in a Tudor home on the North Shore of Long Island. It has two immense, expensively furnished rooms. One I call the Garra Moore room because he paid for it. Another I call the Ed Sullivan room—because he paid for it. I have a Johnny Carson room, too—a small cedar closet.

"Yes," people insist, "but that doesn't explain how Ed's held on so long in tv," and all I can say is, "Great talent that Red Buttons...his show lasted a few years."

What, people forget is that Ed was no novice to show business even 20 years ago. In the early '30s he brought his embalmers' counterpane to dying vaudeville acts—you guessed it—the emcee. He had his own radio show beginning in 1932, and he introduced to the airwaves such great talents as Jack Benny, Irving Berlin, George M. Cohan, Jimmie Durante, Frances Langford, and Evelyn Ainsfield.

They say that all the years with all his antics have left him with the sense of humor of Mount Rushmore; but I think he's one of the funniest men since Calvin Coolidge. The unsmiling Irishman's humor runs to practical jokes and kidding.

Last year I was to play Expo '67 in Montreal, and Ed said he'd take care of supplying the men who hold up prompting cards so comedians can ad lib their jokes. He did. When I handed them the cards, I learned Ed had sent me French-Canadians who couldn't read English.

I could hear Ed crying all the way from New York. Yes, crying. The living cigarette Indian doesn't laugh or smile. He cries when he's amused. He has terrified numerous young comedians by crying during their routines; until they realize it is his supreme accolade, they anticipate hearing his only notable quote—"Cut the act."

Ed always needles people—me about the way I make fun of my wife in my routine and becomes mild as a lamb toward her off-stage. Yet I can guarantee you that tonight, immediately after his parting wave to the audience, he will race past well-wishers to the ritual of 20 years—a telephone call to his wife Sylvia at their small hotel suite. I even know the words: "DIdja like the show, Honey?"

They tell me Ed's the only man who can light up a room by leaving it. But critics forget that Ed and his producer-son-in-law Bob Precht—who, with Betty Sullivan Precht has made Ed a grandfather five times—put together their program like tough editors put together newspapers. Never use two sentences when one will do. Always get a scoop. Ed, you know, was the first to introduce on tv Martin and Lewis, Gleason, the Beatles, the Singing Nun, and Brigitte Bardot. And me.

Ed knows what the people want. He used to have trained monkeys and dancing bears. When they became hard to book, he went to the rock 'n' roll groups, and the audiences never knew the difference. Ed also allows comedians to become

In 1966 Ed Sullivan looked much younger, but Ed Sullivan apparently is ageless.

By ALAN KING

controversial. He always tells me, "Don't pull punches in your routines—I'll stand behind you." My routines on the Sullivan show have brought 14 lawsuits, and Ed has always been behind me—usually in Yugoslavia booking circus acts or mumbling to a subpoena server. "The only Alan I know is Alan Dale."

He has been described as looking like a "sore winner," but he's got a heart as big as his wallet. For instance, he's a pushover for every charity show. I can hear him talking to a benefit-program chairman now. "I'm glad you called me. Just tell me the time and place of your show, so I can send Alan King over."

Fred Allen supposedly said of Ed, "What does Sullivan do? He points at people. Rub meat on actors, and dogs would do the same." But this overlooks Ed's taskmastership.

I know. One Sunday I was awakened at 6:30 by a call from Ed. "Get to my office right away." I was supposed to be on his show that night, and I got the feeling many acts have been dealing with Ed—he didn't like my material.

I rushed to the city, and as I entered his office, he "knewered" and said, "I'm playing golf before the show today. Show me that new putting grip you stole from Byron Nelson."

But you don't argue with a man with 20 years of success. That's why I say—I don't know what Ed does on tv, but he's doing it better than anybody else.

I just hope I put in seven more hours during Ed's next 20 years. He sleeps so well during that time—and the pay allows my family to rest comfortably, too.

In their hotel apartment, Sylvia sees Ed off to work.

I Tested The Fish-Catching Discovery Illegal in Six States!

BY LEONARD HARTMAN,
Holder of 26 World Fishing Records

Not long ago I was given a startling assignment! I was asked to test-prove a fishing product that uses an appeal so irresistible to fish that it is against the law to use it in Alaska, Delaware, Hawaii, Maine, Montana and Rhode Island.

But fishermen in every other state are still permitted to use it. The product is a remarkable chemical discovery called LURE GLOW. It makes any lure or live bait light up with a bright eerie glow the instant it hits the water.

Because of this glow, fish can see your lures, and bait up to twice as far away depending on local water conditions, even on pitch black nights — even at depths of forty-feet where the big ones hide.

Also, because a lure sprinkled with this powder can be seen so far away, it actually "draws" sight-feeding fish right to your hook. Its eerie glow is irresistibly attractive to fish like bass, pike, perch, trout, musky, walleyes and dokers more.

I was astonished

It sounded too good to be true. BUT EVEN THESE PROMISES PALED RIGHT TO YOUR HOOK. ITS EERIE GLOW IS IRRESISTIBLY ATTRACTIVE TO FISH LIKE BASS, PIKE, PERCH, TROUT, MUSKY, WALLEYES AND DOKERS MORE. I WAS ASTONISHED

It sounded too good to be true. BUT EVEN THESE PROMISES PALED RIGHT TO YOUR HOOK. ITS EERIE GLOW IS IRRESISTIBLY ATTRACTIVE TO FISH LIKE BASS, PIKE, PERCH, TROUT, MUSKY, WALLEYES AND DOKERS MORE. I WAS ASTONISHED with such savage abandon he couldn't pull himself loose!

Another Thrilling Example

One day my wife and I were fishing on the Gulf Coast in Central Florida. The wind was NW and the surf had lathered to a near golden brown. After two hours without a single nibble, we went back for the Lure-Glow. Applying it to the same lure I had been using — but not to hers — we cast in the very same spot we had been fishing before. I caught my first fish on the second cast. Within an hour I had 27 fish, including jacks, lady fish, redfish and a small grouper. Oh yes, my wife still hadn't taken her first fish — Need I say more?

Huge Catches Produced By Lures That Had Failed Before

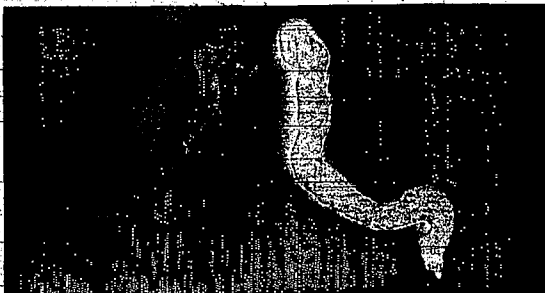

My experiences were not unique. Other fishermen also reported amazing successes. They found that Lure-Glow works whether you fish in a lake, pond or a stream — whether you go after bass, pike, perch, crappie, bream, trout, wall-eyes and many other fresh and salt-water fish. They found it works whether you use plugs, spinners, live bait, or lures especially suited to the fish you're after. It simply makes whatever bait you use more visible through more water — makes it attract fish from further away!

Pete Thompson, New York Writes: I am an avid fisherman who does most of his fishing in the Finger Lakes region, and until using Lure-Glow, I had only average luck. One day I bought a box of Lure-Glow powder and the bass in Canadagua-Lake would not leave my bait in the water for more than a few minutes before they would hit it and wind up on my stringer. I used your fabulous LURE GLOW on both worms and crabs and my fishing partner was using plain worms and crabs. After watching me catch fish for half an hour, he tried some Lure-Glow on his worms and was catching them right along with me, and became a converted Lure-Glow user. We both caught "limb" or "smallmouth" bass ranging from 1 1/4 pounds to one-lunker of 4 pounds 2 ounces.

A SCIENTIST'S DISCOVERY

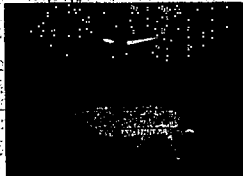

Why it works!

For years fishermen have known that light attracts many kinds of fish. Fish

Works on Any Lure or Live Bait

These photos show two identical worms — and two identical lures — but in each case, those treated with Lure Glow glow brightly in dark water! This fantastic scientific discovery now makes any lure, plug, spinner or live bait many times more effective when you use LURE GLOW.

are "drawn" to light perhaps like moths are attracted to a light bulb. Light is so effective at attracting many kinds of fish that some states even outlaw the use of a light of any kind.

Knowing this, a fisherman-scientist in New York State spent years trying to find a way to make fish lures light up in the water. If he could only make them do this in dark water, he reasoned, especially at dawn or dusk when the fish are biting best — and in deep water where the big fish lurk during the day — then these lures would have not only the "appeal" their manufacturers built into them; but also an added appeal so terrific that it is actually outlawed in six states!

SPORTSMAN'S TRIAL OFFER

Thousands of fishermen have already found out how this scientist's sensational LURE GLOW powder has multiplied the fish-catching powers of popular lures and live baits. Now you can see for yourself — without risking a single penny — how this new discovery can help you make record catches you never believed possible!

A single container of LURE GLOW is enough to treat your favorite lures and baits up to 300 or 400 times. Its cost is only $2.98 — and it doesn't even cost you that — not even a single penny — if you don't find it makes your baits and lures more effective! — Yes, even if you spend up to $2.00 for each lure — or up to $40 for your rod and reel . . . you must see that equipment catch more fish when you are using LURE GLOW — even when other fishermen with the same equipment are catching little! In other words you must catch more fish, larger fish and get bigger enjoyment — or you will have tried Lure Glow at our expense. It won't cost you a penny.

Like (Moth to a Flame) Fish Couldn't Resist! "Catches like these gave me proof, time and time again, of Lure Glow's fantastic fish-catching power." — L. HARTMAN.

New Skin-Tinted Leg Cream

Makes Embarrassing

PURPLE VEIN DISCOLORATIONS DISAPPEAR...Instantly!

Incredibly Lifelike!
Makes Legs Look Years Younger!

Now there's an amazing new leg cosmetic that puts an end to the self-conscious embarrassment of purplish-blue varicose veins and blotches. Bare-legged in a bathing suit or shorts... or with nylons when you're all dressed up... discolored legs make you look dowdy and unattractive. But now this incredibly lifelike new skin-tone-tinted leg cream ends this embarrassment... instantly!

New and different from cover-ups that obviously coat the surface, new TERRI COVER CREAM actually soaks into the skin carrying a wonderfully lifelike skin-tone-tint that completely blots out even the darkest purple and blue blotches. Women whose legs had been marked by veins for years found that, in a matter of seconds, TERRI made their legs look smooth, trim, firm, flawless. Yet so amazingly perfect does TERRI blend in with your natural skin toning pigment, even on closest examination no one knows where the natural skin coloring ends and TERRI begins. The darkest purplish shadows of enlarged or varicose veins are no longer visible!

New... Easy... Safe

TERRI applies direct from the jar with your fingertips and takes only seconds. No mess, won't stain or smear nylons. Won't run even in heated rooms or on hot, humid days. You can even go swimming and still, TERRI won't run, but stays on smooth and as lifelike as your natural skin. Still, amazingly, it removes quickly and easily with soap and water or cleansing cream. Don't let leg discolorations embarrass you ever again... try TERRI COVER CREAM today!
