Student Transfer Expected

BURLEY—An undetermined number of students in Cassia School District may be transferred to Oakley this fall to alleviate overcrowding in the Burley schools, according to a decision made this week by Cassia School trustees.

Those who may be affected would include secondary students in grades 7 through 12 who live south of 200 South or Farmers Corner. There are several geographical divisions being considered, and an exact number of students has not been stated.

Trustees will discuss the proposal with parents at 8:30 p.m. Friday at a special meeting at Oakley High school. The Oakley school has some extra space available for secondary students, board members feel. Enrollment in the combined junior and senior high school there was 167 students.

Burley senior high school had 125 students last year. The year and Burley Junior High School an enrollment of 890.

The overcrowding in Burley schools has existed for some time and voters in the county-wide district have four times turned down bond issue proposals to alleviate the situation. Two bond issues were presented to voters during the past year alone.

The last issue was for an elementary school which would have allowed junior high school students to take over one of the grade schools. A solution to the overcrowded situation in the Burley Junior High School seems most desirable to trustees.

Students in the area being considered for transfer would be bused to Oakley instead of to Burley as in the past.

Trustees urge all interested parents to attend the Friday meeting. It is not how long the transfer of students will relieve the pressure on Burley schools has not been stated by trustees. The transfer proposal is expected to be temporarily correct. This situation since trustees do not intend to present another bond issue in the near future.

Jaycees Hear Report From CSI President

An explanation of the College of Southern Idaho's purposes and goals was made by Dr. James L. Taylor, its president, at the Monday meeting of the Twin Falls Jaycees at the Holiday Inn.

"Open door" was a phrase used by Dr. Taylor in describing the college—it has some courses for all members of the community. He stated it was a fully accredited college whose academic course credits are accepted in every college and university in the U.S.

From its first-year enrollment figure of 640 in 1964 it has grown to some 1,700 expected to enroll this fall. Dr. Taylor said the long-range plan is to develop an educational complex of 240 acres with an eventual enrollment of 5,000 students.

Finally, Dr. Taylor compared the junior college to the four-year institution and answered questions about CSI.

In other business, Darrel Wolfe and Doug Vollmer reported on the Jaycee National Convention held June 17-20 in Phoenix, Ariz., and Roy Graham was voted in as a new member.

Woman's Body Is Recovered

CLARKSTON (AP)—The body of Mrs. David N. Herndon, missing in the Snake River since June 10, was recovered Tuesday by Arasin County Sheriff's deputies.

Mrs. Herndon and two of her children died when their truck went off U.S. Highway 410 west of here and went into the river. A passing motorist rescued one of the children, six-month-old Kady, and recovered the body of Steven, 3. The body of Christine, 8, has not been recovered.

Super Sailor Suspended From Job

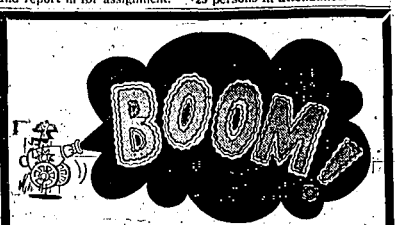

HOMESTEAD, Fla. (AP)—Super sailor Hugo Vilhen was suspended from his job as a jet pilot for Delta Air Lines but his boss here says he should shave, see a doctor and show up for work.

Vilhen won't talk about the letter he received earlier in the week from Delta ordering him to Atlanta Thursday for a conference about his job future. John Crouse, a public relations man representing Delta in Miami, said "there was reason to assume" Vilhen was suspended because he was overdue since June 1 reporting back.

On Their Way To Stardom

By GARY STRODER
Times-News Staff Writer

An opportunity for an exciting trip, a large sum of money and the pleasure of entertaining American troops aboard was won by two young people from Twin Falls Monday night.

Mike Wendling and Diane Hopperstad, both 18 years old, won a regional contest in Salt Lake City to represent the United Service Organization abroad. The act was one of five winners picked for a six-month tour which probably will begin in December. They were the only contestants entered from Idaho.

A big plus going for this combination was their versatility in presenting their winning act. They sing, dance and, between them, play the banjo, piano, drums, guitar and tambourine.

Fifteen acts were presented at the contest held at a large estate in Salt Lake City and attended by about 600 persons, including guests from Bolivia, Peru and Puerto Rico. The other winners included "The Visitors," a jazz-singing group, "Four of a Kind," pop singers; Vicki Davis, a pop vocalist, and a girl presenting a tap dance.

The Twin Falls twosome flew to Salt Lake Sunday night and returned to Twin Falls early Tuesday morning. During their stay in Salt Lake City Mr. Wendling and Miss Hopperstad were driven around the city and assisted in preparations for the contest by Armour Anderson, Twin Falls.

Although plans have not yet been completed, the Twin Falls winners probably will entertain the troops in Vietnam and in the Caribbean Islands. They will each receive $1,000 a month for their efforts on the tour.

Eugene Jelenik of Salt Lake City picked the contestants who participated in the show. Usually, only one act is chosen from this region. However, this year the talent was considered so outstanding that the five acts were chosen.

Mr. Wendling, who plans to enter the Air Force in September of 1969, commented on winning the contest. "We are very privileged to be going along on this and it should be a great experience. Also, we'll make a lot of money on the tour. Actually, though, something like this mean a lot to any performer."

Miss Hopperstad also felt that the tour will be a wonderful experience and that they will be able to develop more by entertaining the troops and working with the other acts in the show than anything they could do in this area.

AWAITING A TRIP abroad to entertain American servicemen are two young people from Twin Falls, Diane Hopperstad and Mike Wendling. The pair won a regional contest in Salt Lake City Monday night to represent the United Service Organization. They will leave for a six-month tour in December.

Both members of the act plan to make entertaining their profession, although probably as single acts.

Miss Hopperstad recently was chosen Miss Twin Falls of 1968, also winning the talent division in that contest. She attended College of Southern Idaho last year, majoring in music, but will not attend this coming school year due to the length of the USO tour.

The USO generally is considered a good morale booster for the American servicemen and a help to international relations. The pair will live in officer's quarters during the time spent abroad.

Santa Monica Trash Is Piling High

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP) — Trash mounted on Santa Monica streets and beaches today as a strike of most city employees for higher pay went into its sixth day.

Police in this Los Angeles ocean-side suburb of about 85,000 residents supported the strike Tuesday but voted against participating in the walkout.

Unless a settlement was reached today, strikers said they would stop performing emergency services such as hauling rubbish from hospitals and rest homes, repairing and maintaining street lights and making emergency utility repairs.

The city employees are asking an increase of 10.5 per cent for all 1,000 city workers. The City Council approved pay hikes ranging from 5.4 per cent to 11 per cent but strikers say the average is less than 7 per cent.

Koreans Display "Boat"

PANNUNJOM, Korea (AP) — North Korea displayed a 12-foot outboard-motor boat today and claimed it was the "U.S. imperialist spy boat" it reported sinking off Korea's west coast Saturday.

The boat was set up outside the meeting place of the Joint Military Armistice Commission. It had the name of a Japanese maker, Yamaha Motor Co., on the hull, and two Mercury 500 engines made by Klekhafer Corp. of Fond Du Lac, Wis.

The North Korean delegation brought the boat to the 27th meeting of the armistice commission. The boat had some bullet scars but otherwise looked intact.

Radio Pyongyang has claimed that North Korean patrol boats sank an American spy boat Saturday off Boopo, also known as Pukpo, near the North-South Korean border, and killed all the crew.

Both American and South Korean authorities said the U.S. or South Korean military vessel was sunk off Korea Saturday. A South Korean newspaper said the vessel was a South Korean fishing boat.

In another dispatch today on the incident, the North Korean Central News Agency indicated the boat was refueled.

Hippie Group Invades N.Y. TV Studio

NEW YORK (AP) — A group of hippies invaded a television studio Tuesday night, took over a live interview and mouthed obscenities never heard on TV before, police said.

The 20-minute, on-camera incident occurred over WNDT, the city's educational TV station.

Police, arriving after the last of five calls from station personnel, arrested seven of the intruders, six men and one woman. The others scattered. The number was estimated at between 20 and 40.

During the takeover, station officials said, the hippie group knocked down a station guard, tore the shirt of an associate studio director, and shouted obscenities and cursed over the airwaves.

Former astronaut John Glenn, an interview guest earlier who was still at the studio, smilingly said later, "And they say there is violence on commercial television."

Len Hayes, the producer of the "Newsfront" show, then on the air, said that despite a deluge of phone calls from startled viewers, "I decided to allow the camera to continue to run, even though they had taken over the entire program and were running it."

"I was afraid that if I cut them off the air, they might do physical harm to my staff. I know a call had been made to the police, and I decided to wait until they arrived."

The guests on the panel show who were interviewed by the "underground" press, small newspapers which cater in large part to the hippie crowd. The trio was being interviewed by a New York Times reporter, Steven V. Roberts, when the hippies burst in, five minutes into the interview.

The hippies complained that the metropolitan press had not adequately treated the story of the April-May student uprisings at Columbia University and elsewhere.

Idaho Reclamation Engineer Suggests Irrigation Agreement

By ALLEN M. BAILEY
BOISE (AP) — Idaho's reclamation engineer has suggested that an agreement among southeastern Idaho irrigation groups might be the basis for control of agricultural development.

R. Keith Higginson made the comment in an announcement that the state was withdrawing its intervention in a series of suits involving continued use by some irrigators of two to six times as much water as their crops need.

The parties to the lawsuits, Higginson said, have reached an agreement, so the state's intervention can serve no purpose.

He explained that the only water users affected by the agreement would be those involved in the suit and possible future users.

Idaho law says that in order for a water right to be established an applicant must show he can put the water to beneficial use.

Experiments have shown, Higginson said, that the maximum amount of water consumed by any crop is three acre feet of water per acre of land. However, he said some of the irrigators involved in the lawsuit used up to 17 acre feet, with the average between 7 and 15 acre feet.

"The result," Higginson said, "is an extreme waste of water."

A U.S. Soil Conservation Service official recently described such irrigation practices as "deplorable" and "downright illegal" — and Higginson heartily agreed.

Hearing Set In Beating Death

BOISE (AP) — Two men accused of the May 22 beating death of 28-year-old James Funderburg of Boise will appear at a preliminary hearing July 9.

A U.S. Soil Conservation Service official recently described such irrigation practices as "deplorable" and "downright illegal" — and Higginson heartily agreed.

"Such ideas are as ancient as the horse and buggy, particularly in view of the ever-increasing demand for water," he declared.

PUC Approves Bus Fare Hike

BOISE (AP) — A five percent increase in Idaho's intrastate bus passenger fares was approved Tuesday by the Idaho Public Utilities Commission.

The new rates are to be effective July 1.

The bus lines contend their operating costs have increased, making the higher rates necessary.

Lanting Says Legislature Likely To Debate Gun Control

By BUD JORGENSEN
BOISE (AP) — Idaho House Speaker William J. Lanting, R-Twin Falls, says gun registration and control of mail order firearms sales likely will be debated at the next session of the legislature.

Lanting said he is opposed to federal gun controls but believes the state should take some action before the Congress preempts the field.

"I think we can handle it, and we must get at it," Lanting said.

Gov. Don W. Samuelson has clearly stated his opposition to gun controls of any type.

However, the governor, when asked if he would veto a gun control bill passed by the legislature, said he would have to see the bill first.

Lanting said he believed some type of gun control bill could be passed by the legislature.

Sen. Len B. Jordan, R-Idaho, has urged discussion of gun control legislation at the state level before the federal government moves into the field.

Members of the congressional delegation said mail to their offices was running from 70 percent to more than 90 percent against gun controls.

Aides in Samuelson's office said mail to the governor was almost unanimously opposed to gun controls and many writers expressed fears that registration would lead to confiscation.

Sen. Frank Church, D-Idaho, and Rep. James McClure, R-Idaho, said organized citizen reaction in Idaho is in favor of gun control.

Man Fights To Save Maple Tree

SAVILLON, N.Y. (AP) — Ramon Blanco, 75, is fighting to save a tree he says once saved his life.

Blanco refused Monday to let a State Traffic Department crew cut down an old maple tree that stands between Route 32 and his 200-year-old home.

Blanco told the crew, "That tree saved my life once, when a car hit it while it was in my yard. Without it there would be nothing but my wire fence to ward off any high speed traffic that might not be able to make the curve."

With that comment, Blanco and his wife, Clara, sat down on a small bench beneath the tree.

"I'm not going to budge even if the tree falls down on top of us," said the silver-haired man firmly.

The highway crew, after checking with a supervisor in Poughkeepsie, left the Blanco property and went to work farther down the highway, where they cut down another tree.

In Poughkeepsie, Douglas Vogel, the assistant maintenance engineer for the State Traffic Department, said there were no plans for widening the two-lane road. He said current plans call for resurfacing the road and a two-foot shoulder.

But Blanco says he has seen the road grow a little wider with each resurfacing to the point where it is now less than 10 feet from the corner of his home. He said he intends to hire a lawyer to protect his property.

The elderly man has lived in the two-story colonial house for nearly 40 years. Removal of the tree and further widening of the roadway at this point, he said, would make it impossible for him to continue to make his home there.

Poor People Get More Than Told

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Poor People's Campaign appears to have gotten more out of the Agriculture Department than most officials are willing to admit publicly.

"There is no question that we moved more rapidly in some programs because of the poor people," a high department official said Tuesday, the day after campaign organizers were evicted from their Resurrection City campgrounds.

The official, who did not want to be identified, said the department expedited certain timetables after the Rev. Ralph David Abernethy, leader of the campaign, presented demands to the department April 23.

Expansion of food commodities for direct distribution to needy families, greater emphasis on infant and child nutrition, accelerated buying of such foods and examination of food stamp practices were cited as some areas where the department focused more attention.

Women's Section

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN
DEAR ABBY: I am an unmarried, middle-aged, professional man. While working in another state last summer, I became acquainted with a young woman who worked as a car hop. She had a pretty 11-year-old daughter, and was having a hard time making both ends meet. Since I was going to take an extended trip through the West, I offered to take the child with me. They were both enthused and the mother gave me the girl's birth certificate "in case I needed it."

Upon returning from the trip, the mother was nowhere to be found. I spent several days trying to locate her, but to no avail. The forwarding address she left was phony. I notified the local police, but they couldn't find the mother, nor did they try to remove the girl from my care. They took my permanent address and said they'd notify me if anything turned up. When I commenced my present job in this town, I presented the girl "as a relative."

She is now 12, very happy, and doing well in school. She never asks about her mother. I think I am doing an excellent job of raising her and it would be a shame to be separated now. Can you advise me as to the legal and social aspects of this?
NORTH CAROLINA

DEAR NORTH CAROLINA: I think you need a lawyer to help you establish a legal guardianship over the child, satisfying whatever preliminary actions that are required. However, well-intentioned, you are now vulnerable to a number of unpleasant charges.

DEAR ABBY: I am writing to you because I don't have a mother and my dad wouldn't understand. I am 14 and have a boy friend named Gary, who is also 14. This might be only puppy love, but I do like him a whole lot.

My problem is another girl. She likes Gary, too, and she's trying to get him away from me. She is having a party and she invited Gary but not me. I think she just made up this party as an excuse to get my boy friend.

I felt just terrible and cried in my pillow last night. I keep thinking that if Gary really liked me he wouldn't go.
Gary's Girl

DEAR GIRL: Try to be a good sport if it kills you. DON'T say a word to Gary about the party or the other girl. The surest way to lose a boy friend is to be possessive, and bossy. Give him all the freedom he wants and you won't be able to get rid of him.

DEAR ABBY: Perhaps Elmer could solve his problem in some manner such as this. Inscribed on the tombstone in an eastern state are these words: "Here lies Elmer, who was between his two wives."

HANSEN — Mrs. Rose Wiseman was program chairman at the Friendship Club meeting at the home of Mrs. Lewis Reed. She presented games with Mrs. Reed, Mrs. Burton Harmon, Mrs. Doug Geo. and Debbie Ball winning prizes. Thank-you notes were read during the social hour.

Both ceremonies were conducted by Mrs. Margaret Miller, chaplain, assisted by her supporters, Mrs. Floyd Beeghly and Mrs. Bertha Tilley. The assembly president's letter was read and also a thank-you card from Mrs. Lawrence Roubinek. It was reported that 13 hospital calls and 44 home calls have been made. 51 cards sent and 13 attended funerals, eight sent flowers and 12 donated food. Mrs. Wilke Kambrich, Mrs. Leslie Stroud and Mrs. Gertrude Farlinger served refreshments during the social hour.

Nuptial Mass Said For Miss Mingo, Currie

Mary Virginia Mingo, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Mingo, Twin Falls, and Timothy Currie, son of Sgt. and Mrs. James L. Currie, Denver, Colo., were united in marriage in a Nuptial Mass June 1 at St. Edward's Catholic Church.

The Rev. Msgr. Edmund Cody performed the double ring ceremony, with Joe Mingo, second cousin of the bride, and Mark Butler, altar boys.

The altar was decorated with pink chrysanthemums, a stock and candelabra enhanced with matching flowers. Beth Britt played the traditional wedding music and Mrs. Roger Graefte was soloist.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a full-length Bridal gown of silk organza, fashioned with elbow-length bell sleeves and a sabinna neckline. The gown was trimmed with Chantilly lace and mother-of-pearl sequins over a fitted bodice sole slip. Her train was self-styled of silk organza and trimmed with lace, cut at the top V-shape to reveal a row of covered buttons down the back of her gown.

Her shoulder-length veil, also styled by the bride, was of illusion net held by pink organza. She carried a cascade bouquet of pink, white roses and lilies of the Valley fastened to her grandmother's pearl rosary.

Susan York, former Twin Falls resident, was maid of honor, with Jeanne Nuttle, Twin Falls, and Carolyn Chiline, Las Vegas, Nev., serving as bridesmaids. Miss York and Miss Nuttle were roommates of the bride at the University of Idaho.

Vaughn Yemey, Koooskia, roommate of the bridegroom, was best man, and William Malberg and Gene Malberg, uncles of the bride, served as ushers.

The reception was held at St. Edward's Parish Hall. Guests were registered by Mickey Malberg. Melinda Mingo and Earleen Meyers carried the gifts. Coffee was served by Mrs. W. C. Malberg, aunt of the bride, and Mrs. Robert Malberg, cousin of the bride, served punch. Mrs. Florence Baker and Mrs. E. V. Ericson arranged gifts and cut and served the three-tiered wedding cake.

The bride's table was centered with the three-tiered wedding cake. The flowers were separated with tiny cordial glasses and trimmed with rosebuds. It was topped with a miniature bride and bridegroom, backed by an ancient symbol, the Christogram, XP, formed into a cross. The bottom of the cake was encircled with two tiny wax hands clasped, an heirloom of the bride's maternal grandmother. The hands were used on her wedding cake in 1902 and have been a family tradition, used at all their weddings.

Guests were seated at tables covered with lace over pink to match the bride's table. Each table was centered with a glass snifter containing two lovebirds holding a silver wedding band nestled in pink net.

Special out-of-town guests included the bridegroom's parents; Mrs. Ora G. Currie, Boise, paternal grandmother of the bridegroom; Mr. and Mrs. Richard Kuriz, Denver, uncle and aunt of the bridegroom; Mr. and Mrs. George Yurri, Ontario, Ore., and Mr. and Mrs. Howard Long, Boise, uncles and aunts of the bridegroom; Mr. and Mrs. Larry Yurri, Portland, Ore.; Miss Cheline Las Vegas; Miss York, West Haven, Conn.; Mr. Yemey, Koooskia; Mrs. Robert Malberg, Burley, and Mrs. Patricia LaRose, Seattle.

A rehearsal dinner was hosted by the bride's parents and the bride party attended a dinner at Kay's Supper Club after the wedding. Compliments of the bridegroom's parents, a buffet luncheon was held at the Mingo residence for the bridegroom's relatives prior to their departure.

The bride was feted at a surprise shower at the University of Idaho by her classmates at McCoy Hall and a local shower hosted by Mrs. W. C. Malberg Jr. and Mrs. W. C. Malberg Sr.

The newlyweds returned to Moscow to make their home, where Mr. Currie is employed at the Engineering Experimental Laboratory at the University of Idaho Campus, where he will resume his education this fall. He is a senior majoring in electrical engineering.

Jerome Couple Celebrates 50th Anniversary

JEROME — Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Ricketts celebrated their 50th Wedding Anniversary recently at the First Presbyterian Church. Approximately 125 friends and relatives joined in the celebration.

Mrs. Ricketts wore a turquoise crepe dress fashioned with a face jacket trimmed in satin accented with gold accessories. She wore a yellow orchid corsage given to her by her family.

The reception table was centered with a three-tiered cake, flanked by gold tapers and a garland of flowers with gold centers. Gold dishes were used for the nuts and mints.

Wayne Carter was pianist. Mrs. Warren Van Camp and Keith Johansen sang. Rev. Mr. Barrett then called the honored couple up and they renewed their vows.

Assisting with serving were members of the Supper Club to which Mr. and Mrs. Ricketts have belonged for 45 years. They include Mrs. Dick Callen, Kimberly; Mrs. Duran Henry, and Mrs. Earl Johnson, Twin Falls, and Mrs. Norma Crandall, Twin Falls, who also decorated the table. Serving during the second hour were Mrs. Alma Eastman, Twin Falls; Mrs. Teller Hall, Lake San Marcos, Calif.; Mrs. Glen Shulsen, Twin Falls, and Mrs. C. R. McCall, Amity, Ore.

The author's sketch and Mrs. Leloy Elder, a new member, gave a brief sketch of herself and her family.

Mrs. Mecham, Mrs. Burt Hush and Mrs. LuDell Waldron were co-hostesses in charge of refreshments.

Past President's Pin Is Presented To Mrs. Eldredge

At the recent meeting of the Magic Valley club members to the convention. More information will be available at the council's September meeting.

The program for the afternoon was on safety. Mrs. Reed introduced Clarence Norris, Jerome, Idaho, State Vehicle Inspection Department, who gave a talk on the "Why of Vehicle Inspection." He stated that all means of transportation, cars, trucks, trailers, etc., that you purchase licenses for require an inspection. This must be done before Jan. 1, 1959. The main reason for having these inspections is to help cut down on accidents. Accidents can be caused by defects in the car's operation as well as by the car's driver. Any corrections or repairs must be done before a sticker can be issued and the inspection completed.

Mrs. C. J. Boss, Twin Falls, council president, asked all clubs to appoint chairmen to correspond with the committee chairmen in the council.

The state convention at Cour d'Alene set for Oct. 15 and 16 was announced by Mrs. Reed. Plans were discussed concerning chartering a bus to take the

High School Girls Heading For Europe

Two groups of students from Twin Falls High School will be leaving the first week in July for a six-week tour of Europe.

One of the groups, under the sponsorship of Mrs. Ethel Warberg, will be studying English literature and the other, with Mrs. Vaughn M. Pond as their sponsor, will study with Foreign Language Schools in Europe.

Two letters and a book will be presented from this city's mayor and Chamber of Commerce to the mayor of Nottingham, England, by the 15-1968 graduates of Twin Falls High School in the group headed by Mrs. Warberg.

Egon Kroll, mayor of Twin Falls, and Howard Allen, president of the Twin Falls Chamber of Commerce, have written "good will" letters to Nottingham's mayor. The letters and a copy of Vardis Fisher's "Gold Rushes and Mining Camps of the Early American West" will be presented him by the group, which is traveling under the auspices of Foreign Language Schools.

The 15 students will leave for England one minute before midnight July 8. Their first four weeks will be spent at the University of Nottingham, their fifth at Goldsmith College in London and their final week in Paris.

Mrs. Ethel Warberg, journalism teacher at Twin Falls High School, organized the tour. She first announced it in classes and interested students able to go signed a preliminary list. She will accompany the students.

Nine students under Mrs. Pond plan to leave July 2 for the tour-in-Europe-with-the-Foreign Language Schools.

The local group will be studying English literature at the University of Nottingham in Nottingham, England; the University of Edinburgh at Edinburgh, Scotland; and the University of London in London, England.

The Foreign Language League is the oldest and largest nonprofit, tax-exempt, international high school in the world. As part of its continuing program, the league has sponsored dorms and school buildings and schedules tours and classes. The students will spend mornings in classrooms and afternoons, evenings and weekends are filled with planned excursions, field trips and tours. The curriculum ranges from foreign languages, ancient civilizations, and Bible history, comparative governments, music history, English drama and literature.

The goals and objectives of the Foreign Language League Schools is to provide American high school students with an opportunity to gain an appreciation of Europe and its people through living and studying in the European environment. As the oldest and largest nonprofit organization for the foreign people and their culture, he is also gaining a better appreciation of America and the American way of life.

The group will fly from Twin Falls to Washington, D. C., spending several days there and in New York City before leaving Philadelphia on the evening of July 6 by chartered jet plane for Nottingham.

Leaving on the trip will be Deanne Larson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Morgan; Cathy Pond, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Vaughn M. Pond; Cathy Cover, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Cover; Norman Jones, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Jones; Paty Dove, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Dove; Dave Frantz,

Rebuild Bridge

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP)—The missions board of the Christian Churches Disciples of Christ is going to rebuild the bridge over the River Kwa.

The bridge isn't the one in the movie but a small one that spans the Kwa headwaters in Thailand near the Burma border village of Sangka.

First Pope's Remains Are Identified

VATICAN CITY (AP)—Pope Paul VI announced today that the Vatican has conclusively determined that mortal remains found under St. Peter's Basilica are those of the apostle revered by the Roman Catholic Church as its first pope.

"The relics of St. Peter have been identified in a convincing manner," the 70-year-old pontiff told his weekly general audience.

The tomb of St. Peter was located in 1850 under the Altar of Confession of the basilica. Pope Pius XII announced then that bones had been found in it but that it was not proven they were St. Peter's. Some archeologists claimed they belonged to an old woman.

"Very patient and accurate investigations were made... with results which we believe positive, encouraged by the judgment of worthy and prudent competent persons," Pope Paul said.

It was not known what scientific tests were used to determine that the bones were St. Peter's.

According to tradition, St. Peter spent his last years in Rome and died in the year 64 or 65.

MELEE BREAKS OUT

RICHMOND, Calif. (AP)—Members of a crowd of about 250 Negroes fought police and looted and threw rocks at stores Tuesday night. Police said the melee broke out after a patrolman shot a teenager fleeing from a car believed stolen.

WHITEFISH, Mont. — Robert E. Warner, 61, a well-known newsman who worked for the Times-News in the 1930s, died Tuesday of a heart attack. He was at the Montana Broadcasters Association Convention in Whitefish when he died.

He was advertising manager in Twin Falls for a number of years and was active in community affairs.

He also worked at Ogden and Idaho Falls and at the time of his death was district manager for western Montana properties of Community Television, Inc.

He was a graduate of the University of Oregon, was past president of the Montana Broadcasters Association and was former manager of KXOT radio station in Great Falls. He is survived by his widow and five sons and two daughters.

Mrs. Thorne

BURLEY — Mrs. Lydia E. Thorne, 87, Burley, died Tuesday at Cassin Memorial Hospital of a lingering illness.

She was born Oct. 20, 1880, at Wedale, Ala. She was married to Heber Thorne July 1920, at the Salt Lake LDS Temple. He died four years ago.

She had made her home in Burley since 1914, moving here from Oregon.

Survivors include two daughters, Mrs. Ruth Davis, Burley, and Mrs. Nora Baldwin, Lincoln City, Ore.; two brothers, William Kidd and Theodore Taylor, both Burley; two sisters, Mrs. Lila Barrett, Arco, and Mrs. Lillie Blingham, Pasco, Wash.; six grandchildren, 13 great-grandchildren and 20 great-great-grandchildren.

Funeral services are pending at McCulloch Funeral Home, Burley.

Wendy Ann Smith

HAGERMAN — Wendy Ann Smith, infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Timothy D. Smith, Omaha, Neb., died shortly after birth June 14 at an Omaha hospital.

Survivors include her parents; her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Smith Jr., Omaha, and Mr. and Mrs. Ezra Casper, Lava Hot Springs, and great-grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Smith Sr., Chicago, Ill., and Mr. and Mrs. Everett Williams, Malden, Mo.

She was preceded in death by a brother, Matthew D. Smith, in 1965, and a sister, Stacy Elma Smith, in 1966.

Graveside services will be conducted at 5 p.m. Thursday at Hagerman Cemetery by Lloyd A. Casper, White Mortuary, Twin Falls, in charge of arrangements.

Lady Bird Asks Architects To Restore Human Values

PORTLAND (AP) — Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson called on architects today to help restore human values over commercial values.

"Too often," she said, "we have sacrificed human values to commercial values — under the bright guise of progress."

The first of the 100th anniversary of the American Institute of Architects, she said, "is to let a crisis gather which threatens health — and even life itself."

Now the nation faces the vital question: "Must success spoil Nature's bounty?"

"If we are to obtain the vital balance of nature and architecture and man, the architect must become a thoughtful political activist," Mrs. Johnson said.

She made her remarks in a speech prepared for delivery at the 100th convention of the American Institute of Architects.

Mrs. Johnson outlined a three-point program that she called the New Conservation.

"For the American architect," she said, "I think the New Conservation means first a concern for the total environment, not just the individual building, but the entire community."

"No one knows better than you that the best building can be nullified if there is no sign control ordinance, or if it sits in a pocket of hazy gray smoke."

"Secondly, the New Conservation will ask that the architect design with people in mind — seek to build an environment on a human scale."

The third point, she said, is emphasis upon areas of natural beauty, both inside and outside the city.

She called unsightly shopping centers "urban strip mines" and spoke of the ugly, tagged city fringes — the blighted neighborhoods at the entrance to "metropolis."

She asked the architects to help in eliminating such ugly urban spots.

Mrs. Johnson cited examples of what she called exciting examples of architecture "made for the enjoyment of those who inhabit it."

She mentioned the pedestrian plaza planned for the top of the new Delaware River Expressway in Philadelphia; Ghirardelli Square in San Francisco; Nicollet Mall in Minneapolis; and the restoration of historical homes in Washington and Savannah, Ga.

"The Nature we are concerned with, ultimately, is human nature," she said.

Appearing as panelist after Mrs. Johnson's was Sec. Freeman of Agriculture Orville Freeman; Dr. M. Gordon Wolman, Johns Hopkins University; and Marvin B. Durning of Seattle, the 1965 "conservationist of the year."

Mrs. Johnson planned a visit to Mt. Hood, 55 miles southeast of Portland, after her talk. She returns to Washington on Thursday.

Candidates Must Report Finances

BOISE (AP) — Candidates for United States senator now are required to report their financial interests. Secretary of State Pete F. Conrad said today.

He said he received from the secretary of the Senate forms to be used by senatorial candidates. He said he will pass them on to the two Idaho candidates, Sen. Frank Church, Democrat, the incumbent; and Rep. George Hansen, Republican, his challenger.

The forms ask each candidate to list his business connections, interests in property, interests in trusts and to report his liabilities. Information on 1967 income tax returns also is asked. This information is confidential, the report form says.

Each candidate also is asked to report all contributions and honorariums he received during 1967 and explain how the money was spent.

Conrad said he was advised the information is required under new Senate rules adopted earlier this year.

Defense Of Dollar Will Fall Short Of Goal

Twin Falls Times-News
June 26-27, 1968

By STERLING F. GREEN
WASHINGTON (AP)—President Johnson's drive to mobilize the nation in defense of the dollar has had only spotty success so far, apparently will fall far short of its goal.

The target set by Johnson on New Year's Day was to cut $3 billion from the national 1967 balance of payments deficit, which rose to an ominous figure of $3.57 billion.

In the nearly six months since the President's main success was getting Congress to approve a 10 per cent income tax surcharge, which along with an accompanying $6 billion in spending cuts was expected to help restore confidence overseas in the stability of the dollar.

Because the balance of payments deficit—the what the United States spent overseas over what it took in—has not fallen as high as had been hoped, the world's banking centers about inflation and the drain on American gold holdings.

Treasury Secretary Henry H. Fowler told the Senate Finance Committee Tuesday there had been "a quick and quiet substantial recovery" in the first quarter of this year when the payments deficit fell to $666 million.

If the $666 million figures is projected for the rest of the year the deficit would fall only to $2.42 billion.

To reach the relatively negligible deficit figure of $500 million to $600 million, Johnson had sought a combination of legislation and controls, both mandatory and voluntary. These included:

- A mandatory $1 billion curtailment in direct industry investment overseas.
- A $500 million voluntary reduction on bank loans abroad.
- A $500 million voluntary cut-back in travel outside the country.
- A drop of $500 million in government spending.
- A $500 million savings by enlarging the U.S. surplus in merchandise trade.

Trade—The goal will not be even closely approached. Johnson hoped to increase last year's $4.1 billion surplus in commodity trade to $4.6 billion, by increasing exports and other means. The trade surplus may shrink instead.

Investment—The mandatory curbs on business investment are working. Companies invested a total of $468 million in the first quarter, which, sustained, would cut the outflow of capital in direct investment more than $1 billion from last year's $2.2 billion.

But the goal cannot be achieved, officials say, because of a decision to exempt investment in Outer Space.

Government Outlays—Secretary Fowler told the Finance Committee Tuesday that a government cut in outlays—conservative dollars is "well under way." He referred to the 12 per cent reduction in overseas deficits of embassies and other missions ordered on March 30, along with further tightening of travel abroad. AID has been ordered to cut $100 million from its 1967 overseas spending level. That of 1968. Fowler made no claim that the $500 million savings goal for the government could be achieved this year.

Bank lending—The restraint on foreign lending, initiated Jan. 1, is off to an impressive start. A decline of $50 million seasonally adjusted, was reported for the first quarter of the year.

Travel—A drive to increase major American cities. And foreign travel to the United States has been launched. But any of the three Johnson proposals to reduce the outflow of dollars caused by rising American tourism overseas.

The three recommendations were: Extend the five per cent airline excise tax for international flight tickets; reduce the amount of duty-free merchandise a returning U.S. traveler can bring home; impose a temporary tax on the spending of American travelers abroad.

Minister Defends "Blackstone Rangers"

CHICAGO (AP) — Dusk drops over 63rd Street, and under the elevated train track, in the neon-lit pools before the barred store windows, the Blackstone Rangers gather.

They lounge in front of the liquor stores, passing cigarettes and wine bottles. They cluster in the pool halls, playing poker and shooting pool. Sometimes they shoot each other.

Who are the Blackstone Rangers?

Are they the big-time operators who reportedly shelled out $38,000 from the gang treasury to buy "enough marijuana to turn on the whole of Cook County?"

Are they just graffiti artists who delight in scrawling their "mighty Blackstone Rangers" war cry over every foot of wall and sidewalk in their South Side neighborhood?

Are the Blackstone Rangers a junior Negro mafia or just a bunch of trouble-prone but reform-minded kids?

A Senate subcommittee is seeking the answers to these questions. And it has heard testimony supporting these descriptions during its investigation into a $37,341 grant to the gang by the Office of Economic Opportunity.

"Let's face it, these gangs have turned into the black Mafia of Chicago, selling dope, prostitution, and engaging in extortion or doing anything for a buck," said Winston Moore of the Cook County jail told the subcommittee. Moore is a Negro.

"They are a community organization... of great influence and promise. They have used their organization to reduce violence and to create order in an otherwise chaotic environment," the Rev. John R. Fry, white pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, testified before the subcommittee.

The Blackstone Rangers were organized six years ago by a small group of Negro youths who hung around the corner of Blackstone Avenue and 63rd Street, Sgt. Timothy Daly, acting commander of the Chicago Police Department's gang intelligence unit, said Tuesday.

He estimated the gang's membership at between 600 and 800 youths, ranging in age from 8 to 25. Of these, he said, only about 100 older, high-school dropouts are hardcore Rangers.

However, George Rose, 23, once third in command of the Rangers, told the subcommittee the membership is between 8,000 and 9,000. He said the gang is ruled by an unofficial board of directors called the "Main 21."

The gang's operations center mainly in Woodlawn, an eight-square-block area on the Middle South Side. They also spread north into the University of Chicago community of Hyde Park and west into Englewood.

A disparate set of facts about the neighborhood serves to point up the conflicting opinions about the Rangers.

The rate of assaults and other crimes of violence has declined in Woodlawn while rising sharply in other Negro areas.

— Despite this, there have been 29 fatal shootings in Woodlawn, 15 attributed to warfare between the Rangers and the East Side Disciples, a rival gang.

The South Side turf of the Rangers—they call it their "hoos"—has had no riots. A peace meeting among leaders of both gangs took place after the shooting of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. The West Side was in flames at the time.

But, although the South Side escaped the looting and burning that scourged the West Side, some observers asserted that the Rangers' culpability rather than their peace-loving nature which kept the lid on. There were charges they extracted payoffs of up to $125 a week from South-Side businessmen in return for protection.

Idaho Firms Get Federal Contracts

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two federal contracts for Idaho firms were listed Tuesday by Sen. Frank Church, D-Idaho: —A $18,890 Geological Survey contract to W. H. Forwalt, Inc. of Lapwai, Idaho, for a solid state timer.

—A $28,692 contract to Commons Drilling of Rupert, Idaho, for exploratory drilling on the Teton Basin Reclamation Project.

Japanese Are Now Ruling Iwo Jima

By BOB POOS

TOKYO (AP) — Iwo Jima, one of the world's great battlefields, reverted from American to Japanese administration today.

In 26 furious days of fighting, 6,821 Americans and 18,000 Japanese perished on the island in February and March 1945.

The Americans gave back to Japan two groups of central Pacific islands—the Volcanos, which include Iwo, and the Bonins which include Chit Chit Jima, the only one in the two groups inhabited by civilians.

Three other small islands—Marcus, Rosario and Parace Vella—related geographically to the major groups are also reverting to Japanese rule.

Small American detachments on Marcus, Iwo and Chit Chit will remain for the time being.

Control of the islands was officially returned to Japan at a ceremony in Tokyo attended by Crown Prince Akihito, Prime Minister Eisaku Sato and Ambassador Alex Johnson as senior U.S. representative.

Sato and Akihito hailed return of the islands as an example of postwar cooperation between Japan and the United States.

Restoration ceremonies also were held on Iwo and Chit Chit.

While celebrating the return of the Volcanos and Bonins, the Japanese press urged a continuing campaign to regain other Japanese territories lost in the war. The newspapers mentioned Okinawa, the biggest U.S. base in the western Pacific, and the Soviet-controlled islands north of Japan.

Iwo Jima was the only island of the groups which saw any fighting in the war. The rest were taken by U.S. forces after the Japanese surrender.

The U.S. Marines suffered almost one-third of their casualties in world war II on Iwo Jima. The total of 28,088 Americans killed, wounded and missing stunned the nation, and Fleet Adm. Chester Nimitz commented: "Among the Americans who served on Iwo Jima uncommon valor was a common virtue."

A photograph taken by Associated Press photographer Joe Rosenthal of "The Flag Raising on Iwo Jima" is said to be the most reproduced photo in the world.

No Problem

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. (AP) — Henrietta the duck was not one to give up just because one of her nine ducklings strayed and tumbled over a 20-foot-high dam.

Henrietta simply herded the eight others over the falls at a Seven Falls trout pool, then went over herself.

The manager, Leg Higgins said, she spent most of the next day trying to herd the ducklings up the bank and back into the pool.

Bands have been installed to prevent a repeat performance.

Wendell Man Is Doing Research

WENDELL — Lorris Elmer Mecham, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Mecham, of Wendell, is working on a fellowship research at Princeton University, N. J.

Mecham is a member of the junior faculty at Princeton. He was graduated from Idaho State University where he earned a B.S. degree in chemistry and his Doctor's degree at Utah State, Logan, Utah, in 1967.

Mecham is married to the former Nancy Niccum, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Niccum, Wendell. They live at Princeton, N. J., with their three children.

Ogden Explodes For 11 Runs In Sixth Inning To Down Magic Valley 17-2

OGDEN, Utah, (AP) — The Ogden Dodgers opened their 1968 Pioneer League home stand Tuesday night by trouncing Magic Valley 17-2.

The Dodgers exploded for 11 runs in the sixth inning to put the game far out of reach.

ROD RUDDLES, a graduate of Minto High School has signed a letter of intent to attend College of Southern Idaho on a wrestling scholarship. Ruddles won the state Class A 183-pound title this spring.

Ruddles To Wrestle For CSI This Fall

Rod Ruddles, the Idaho state Class A 183-pound wrestling champion, will enroll at College of Southern Idaho, announces Lynn Brokaw, wrestling coach.

A graduate of Minto County High School, Ruddles participated in three sports, being named all district tackle in football and winning the Eastern Idaho Conference wrestling championship along with the state title. His three-year varsity wrestling record was 30 wins and nine losses.

"The son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Ruddles of Rupert, Ruddles joins Twin Falls graduate Dean Qualls on the brand new CSI wrestling team. Coach Brokaw said the team will probably have 72 dual matches and two tournaments in its first season.

"We are still talking to other boys in the area and around the state and hope to put together a good nucleus to build a strong wrestling program," he said.

The big blow of the inning was a bases-loaded double by centerfielder Bob Valentine. Dodgers left-hander Bruce Ellingsen struck out 13 Cowboys and scattered seven hits to pick up the victory.

The big hitter for Ogden was outfielder Randy Smith who hammered a home run, double, single and drove in three runs.

Third baseman Steve Garvey also drove in the three for the Dodgers.

Ellingsen handuffed the Cowboys for eight innings, then

Jaycees Set Junior Meet At Burley

BURLEY — The first annual Burley Junior Chamber of Commerce Junior tournament will be held June 28 and 29 at the Burley Municipal Golf Course, announces publicity chairman Bob Wilson.

Wilson said any boy or girl who will not have reached his 18th birthday by Sept. 1 is eligible to compete. The local tournament will send two or three representatives to the state tournament at Caldwell July 26 and 27. Four participants from that meet will advance to the national Jaycee tournament in Tulsa, Okla., Aug. 18 through 24.

Qualifying will be held June 28 at the Burley course with the 18-hole tournament slated the following day. Any interested juniors may enter by writing to the Burley Jaycees at Box 804 or filling out an entry form at the Burley clubhouse by June 27.

American Upsets Yugoslav Pro At Wimbledon Tennis Tournery

WIMBLEDON, England (AP) — Herb FitzGibbon, 26-year-old American, came out of relative obscurity Tuesday and rooted the first open Wimbledon tennis championship by knocking out Yugoslav pro Nikki Pille, the first big name to go in this historic tournament.

FitzGibbon, who hails from Garden City, N.Y., defeated Pille in the first round 3-6, 7-5, 6-3, 6-2 on a non-rain-plagued day.

Pille, last year's semifinalist and seeded 16th this time, found FitzGibbon's spin serve too much. The Yugoslav also was baffled by the American's verve around the court.

Tuesday's continued rain and drizzle restricted play almost entirely to the famed center court and to the No. 1 stadium court, which have tarp covers. The 14 other courts were too slick for use.

The logjam of unplayed matches has been causing the organizing committee at Wimbledon, generally regarded as among the best organized tournaments in the world, a major headache. Normally by the third day all the men's and women's first-round matches have been played and the stage is ready for the second round and for the doubles.

But 27 out of 80 matches were lost Monday because of the weather and only 20 of the scheduled 72 matches Tuesday.

FitzGibbon's victory was the highlight of a day that normally would have been Ladies Day, devoted to the women's singles. However, only two women's singles were played.

Let us tell you more about this amazing cold process recapping. So different, it's patented. It's cold. Not hot. Saves cord strength and casing life, allows more recaps per casing. BANDAG is a different tread. Pre-cured, not raw. Cured at the factory (not on your tire). BANDAG is tougher. Rolls up more miles, has fewer punctures and problems. BANDAG's bonding agent is better, too. Tires don't throw tread. All in all, BANDAG gives the lowest cost per tire mile. Let us prove it to you. Give us a call.

Seaver Hurls Mets Past Reds 4-0

CINCINNATI (AP) — Tom Seaver scattered five singles Tuesday night in hurling the New York Mets to a 4-0 victory over Cincinnati that snapped the Reds' winning string at four games.

Hot hitting Cleon Jones broke a scoreless deadlock in the sixth with his ninth homer of the season and also contributed two singles to the Mets' 11-hit attack.

Seaver, 6-5, struck out four and walked one.

Frazier May Put Title On Line In September

By JACK HAND
NEW YORK (AP) — Joe Frazier celebrated his 21st straight victory Tuesday while boxing promoters talked of a possible September title defense against Jerry Quarry of Bellflower, Calif.

Walker, Wills Lift Pirates Over Cards

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Luke Walker turned in a clutch relief job against the Cardinals in his hitting streak to 23 consecutive games, tripled and scored the decisive run as Pittsburgh beat St. Louis 2-1 Tuesday night. Walker, who singled in a run in the fifth inning to prolong his streak, opened the eighth inning with a triple against reliever Ron Wills and scored on Gene Alley's single for a 3-0 lead.

Caldwell Tops Idaho Falls In Opener

CALDWELL (AP) — Chuck Pollock and Paul Zahn hurled the Caldwell Cubs to a 6-2 season opening baseball win over previous Idaho Falls Angels Tuesday night. Pollock pitched the first five innings for the Cubs and gave up three hits and two runs. He was the winner.

Robinson Lifts Orioles Over Boston

BALTIMORE (AP) — Frank Robinson drove in three runs with a homer and a single and Wally Bunker hurled a five-hitter for his first victory as the Baltimore Orioles crushed Boston 6-0 Tuesday night.

Rain Halts First Qualifying Round

WALTON HEATH, England (AP) — Rain washed out the first qualifying round of the 1968 British women's golf championships Tuesday and thereby created a new test of stamina for 90 competitors. Including America's seven Curtis Cup players.

Ramos Monday night in two rounds of wild swinging action at Madison Square Garden.

Jimmy Ellis, the World Boxing Association's champ, is considering a defense in the late August against ex-holdover Floyd Patterson. Angelo Dundee, Ellis' manager, has indicated he expects a firm decision on the Patterson bout in a few days.

Both champions, of course, fight in the shadow of Cassius Clay, still unbeaten but now appealing a conviction for failing to accept induction into the armed service. Pending a decision on the appeal, any talk of a Clay match must be vague.

Frazier said after the Ramos fight that he would not fight for a full year unless he can meet Cassius Clay or Jimmy Ellis.

HOUSTON (AP) — Hector Torres' triple triggered a Houston sixth inning that gave Houston a 4-2 victory over the slumping Chicago Cubs Tuesday night as Mike Cuellar pitched a five-hitter.

Two Runners Agree That High Altitude Training Is Necessary

By JACK STEVENSON
LOS ANGELES (AP) — A sprinter and a distance runner agreed Tuesday that training at high altitude is an absolute necessity for competitors in the Olympic Games this fall at Mexico City.

The international games will be about 7,350 feet above sea level. Many of the United States squads, including the track teams, will train this summer and fall at South Lake Tahoe, Calif., at about that same altitude.

"Sprinters need the altitude training as much as distance men," commented speedster Mel Pender. Tracy Smith of the distance corps said, "I don't think anybody training at sea level can run at Mexico City and hope to win."

OK Tire Store Drops Culligan

The OK Tire Store continued their winning ways Tuesday night as they toppled Culligan 10-9 in the Twin Falls slownip league. Schneberger hit a round-tripper for the winners.

California Nips Oakland 7-6

ANAHEIM (AP) — Jim McGlothlin came out of the bullpen in the eighth inning with one out and the bases loaded and choked off an Oakland rally to preserve California's 7-6 victory over the Athletics Tuesday night.

END ACQUIRED DETROIT (AP) — The Detroit Lions said Tuesday they have acquired defensive end Joe Robb from the St. Louis Cardinals of the National Football League in exchange for line-backer Ernie Clark.

All-Star Game Will Have Two New Twists

By FRANK ECK — Cleveland's Luis Tiant, Chicago's Tommy John and Minnesota's Ron Ferraquito also appear likely to see their first action in the classic on star baseball game. It will be played indoors, a sell-out crowd in the 45,000 seat Houston Astrodome. And for the first time it will be held at night.

The date is Tuesday, July 9. This game, the 35th in the series between the stars of the National and American Leagues, will take place in attendance for the first time officials of 24 major league teams, four of which are 1968 expansion clubs—San Diego, Seattle, Kansas City and Montreal.

With baseball spreading its talent thin at the top, these new teams may be represented in the 1968 game by players who never expected to gain All-Star status in the good old days of eight-team leagues.

In fact, there will be some new faces this year from the two 10-team leagues. For instance, players in each league were permitted to vote for only three outfielders in the AL that could mean that old standbys like Carl Yastrzemski, Willie Horton and Tony Oliva will be sisters.

Managers—Dick Williams for the AL and Red Schoendienst for the NL—will pick the pitchers. Williams almost has to select Baltimore's Tom Phoebus for his first All-Star appearance on the strength of the sophomore's April no-hitter against Dick's Boston Red Sox.

John A. Goldsmith Added As Columnist

The Times-News has been informed by Publishers-Hall Syndicate that John A. Goldsmith, veteran Washington newsman, is joining Robert S. Allen on his column which now appears on the editorial page. After July 1 each column will be signed by both Mr. Allen and Mr. Goldsmith. Mr. Goldsmith, the personal choice of Mr. Allen, is a veteran of more than 20 years on the Washington news fronts, all with United Press International. While most of his reporting has been done from the Senate staff, he also has covered the White House, the State Department and the Labor Department. He also covered the labor rackets investigation led by the late Sen. Robert Kennedy and which led to a prison term for David Beck, former head of the Teamster's Union, and later to a prison term for his successor, Jimmy Hoffa.

He also reported on the Billie Sol Estes case in 1962 and three years later was the reporter at the hearing which led to the deposing of Bobby Baker, secretary of the Senate. During the 1964 campaign he traveled with both President Johnson and former Sen. Barry Goldwater. He is known as an extremely aggressive newsman and as an outstanding and colorful writer. Mr. Goldsmith is a native of Cincinnati and was graduated cum laude in 1942 from Kenyon College, Gambier, Ohio. He presently resides with his wife and two sons in Alexandria, Va., where he is vice-chairman of the Fairfax County Board of Education.

JOHN A. GOLDSMITH... will join Robert S. Allen as a columnist on the Times-News editorial page effective Monday, July 1.

WAUPUN, Wis. (AP) — Wisconsin's official slogan, "We like it Here," now appears on all state mail-including that from the state prison at Waupun.

500 RESETTLED

BUENOS AIRES (AP) — More than 500 shanty-town families were resettled this week in a new government housing project built by Argentine army personnel in the first step of a campaign to eradicate the Villa Miseria slum belt around this capital of 7 million people.

"TWO MORE WEEKS," say city officials before Blue Lakes water can be turned into the new Twin Falls water system. Although residents have heard this comment several times in the last few months, city officials are hopeful that leaks in the water tank can be fixed and the tank accepted by the city. Ron Scheuffele, city engineer, said the project is being supervised by city personnel and that efforts to speed up the work are being made.

News Of Area Servicemen

Lonnie Mitchell, Marine stationed at San Diego, Calif., has graduated from eight weeks of recruit training at the Marine Corps training school at San Diego, according to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Mitchell.

He will undergo two to four weeks of individual combat training and then be on leave and will visit his parents and other relatives here and in Emmett. He then will report back to San Diego for his first Marine Corps assignment.

Fierman—3rd-class David John Rogers, son of Mr. and Mrs. D. R. Rogers, 940 2nd Ave. W., is aboard the attack carrier U.S.S. Constellation in the Gulf of Tonkin on his second tour of duty there.

John L. Lay, son of Mr. and Mrs. John L. Lay, 823 I St., Rupert, a student at Harvard University, Cambridge, Mass., is attending Army Reserve Officers' Training Corps summer camp. The course began June 9 at the Infantry School, Ft. Benning, Ga. His six-week training program at the encampment includes instructions in physical conditioning, leadership, rifle marksmanship and taking part in field exercises. Graduating from college and successfully completing summer camp training are necessary before he may be commissioned a second lieutenant in the Army. Cadet Lay is a 1963 graduate of Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute at Troy, N. Y. He is a member of "Who's Who"

Who in Colleges and Universities," and a 1964 graduate of Minnetonka County High School.

Private Ralph D. Ingram, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold P. Ingram, Route 1, Paul, completed advanced armor training June 7 at the Army Training Center, Ft. Knox, Ky. During the eight-week course, he was trained to drive and maintain the Army's M-60 tank and fire its 105-millimeter tank gun.

Drought Adds To Problems Of Chileans

SANTIAGO, Chile (AP) — The worst drought in 100 years threatens Chile's food, water and electricity supplies and further endangers the country's already inflation-plagued economy.

Agriculture Minister Hugo Trivelli compares the drought to a serious earthquake, a more familiar form of natural disaster in this thin ribbon of a country.

He added that unless sufficient rain comes in the next two weeks, Chileans may encounter some restrictions on the availability of electricity, drinking water and certain basic foods.

A result of the drought, has been the death of 100,000 lambs

GRAND SLAM NOT IN HAND

It pays to gamble with game and small slam bids. Winning players want to be in game whenever they have a 40 per cent chance for success and in a small slam when their chance is 50 per cent. Grand slam contracts are another story. Failure costs both game and small much when we fail to get to one. A bird in the hand is worth two in the bush and when we bid and make even one we actually collected two birds in our hand (game and small slam), and left only one in the bush. All this peroration leads up to the fact that we think today's South was properly punished for his bid and make when he tucked out that his partner had no play for seven hearts. South pointed out that it was most unfortunate that North held two diamonds and had to lose a diamond trick. He was right about that but the bidding started in the wrong direction when South used Blackwood.

It was perfectly possible for North to have a sound opening bid with two club losers in which case even a small slam would be set. South had a perfect bid at his second turn. He should have jumped to five hearts. This would ask North to bid six with second round diamond control. It would also allow North to bid six clubs to invite a grand slam if North wished to do so.

slam. Success only brings the difference between the two slams—bonuses. Furthermore, when you do go down at a grand slam, there is a great loss of prestige and confidence. Of course, if you go down because you find all four enemy trumps in the same hand you'd pay off but know that your loss was due to misfortune rather than bad bidding.

Wa, like to bid grand slams as well as anyone but we seldom feel that we have missed very

Should He Bribe Her Brothers?

Dear Ele and Walt: I've seen this in cartoons but I did not know it happened in real life. I just started dating a girl with three younger brothers. Whenever I come over to see her, they bug us all the time I'm there. The last time she actually told me that they're trying to get something to go away.

Dear Ele and Walt: I'd like to know why people are so dumb to use shabby old furniture that's very expensive a room where people are supposed to relax? Because of this, I'm in hot water with my girlfriend's family and probably will have to earn $40 to fix an ugly chair that's supposed to be valuable.

Dear Tex: If you start handing out "vanish" money now, expect to see the price of silence escalate with each visit. We'd advise spending your money to take the girls out, and please don't blame her for suggesting the bribe. It just reflects a home where men and dad haven't lived up to their responsibilities—Ele and Walt.

Dear Vance: When you consider it, it's a real compliment to the crowd when a host leaves his precious things out on display. But we agree that the history and eagle construction of prize pieces should be shared to alert new guests to the hazards.

In any case, a wise guest avoids plopping down onto furniture like he does at home. Instead, he gradually lowers his rump to lessen landing impact. And when in doubt, well, still hold that the floor's the most comfortable spot to sit—Ele and Walt.

BOY SCOUTS from throughout Magic Valley attended a briefing session Monday at the ASCS office in Burley, prior to leaving for field trips at conservation camps. The group of 32 youths this week will be studying wild life, range management, pasture, conservation, watersheds and forest timber management.

Area Scouts Attend Conservation Camps

BURLEY—A total of 32 Boy Scouts from throughout Magic Valley received their briefing Monday morning prior to field trips for a week at Conservation Camp.

The scouts met at the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Burley office where they received instruction on geology of land forms which are found in Cassia and Mindoka counties. They will study the physical and chemical characteristics of the land. Instructors are Glen Logan and Dave VanHouten, both officials with the ASCS office in Burley. Also included in the study will be crops and plants. The second day of the tour the Scouts will be studying conservation and wild life under the direction of Dick Goodby, and Dave Mitchell, and members of the Fish and Game Department.

On the third day the group will be in the Gooding and Shoshone area studying pasture, range management and conservation under the direction of Ken Harrison, Bureau of Land Management official.

The last two days of the study tour the scouts will be in the Ketchum Ranger District studying forest service, watersheds and forest timber management. Merit badges that can be completed during the Conservation Camp include conservation of natural resources; soil and water conservation, forestry, wildlife management and partial completion in nature, small grains, agriculture, and forage crops.

Decision On Stadium Site Is Delayed

SEATTLE (AP) — The State Stadium Commission voted unanimously Tuesday to delay a decision until Aug. 5 on the site of King County's $10 million domed stadium.

The action was taken at a public hearing, which the commission originally had called to choose a site.

But numerous requests were made for the decision to be postponed and the commission voted 6-0 for the 40-day delay to allow backers of the Seattle Center location to prepare a financial program taking care of parking and access problems.

Some Mistake
ALLENTOWN, Pa. (AP)—The Northern Lehigh School District has been worried about some young men teachers losing their draft deferments and being reclassified I-A.

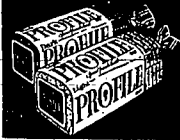

On Monday 55-year-old Herman P. Snyder, a supervising principal, also was classified I-A.

Snyder, married with two children, is a World War II veteran—with three-bronze stars.

He said he is not worried, adding, "It has to be a mistake."

The show, sponsored by the Wood River Soil and Water Conservation District, will feature paintings from the junior and senior divisions, plus several specialty sections.

No One Is Free From Cancer

BY STANLEY WARREN
NEW YORK (NEA) — Cancer plays no favorites. No one person or any one group is free of the risk of cancer. Rich, poor, young or old, male or female, of whatever national background or religion, social status or education or lack of it—all human beings are vulnerable. Cancer has no intelligible, but cancer is incurable. In most cases, prompt detection and early attention by a qualified physician can—and does—work against the wonders. The thing to fear about cancer, quoting President Roosevelt, is fear itself. With quick action and prompt treatment, cancer more often than not can be beaten.

Take the case of William Powell, distinguished Hollywood actor, whose brilliant performances in many major films endeared him to generations of movie fans. Some 25 years ago, Bill Powell, then at the height of his career, found he had cancer of the colon-rectal area. He underwent two major operations. The fact that the reputation of this silver-haired actor is being kept alive today by his performances on TV's into show means little compared to the fact of his survival to the age of 76. It is a tribute not only to his expert medical attention, but also to his own courage and determination to live.

Today Powell, well-aware of his fellow stars who lost their fight with cancer, says, "I was one of the lucky ones. Fortunately for me, they caught cancer before it could spread through lymph glands and blood stream."

Powell's last Hollywood feature role, incidentally, was the Navy doctor in "Mr. Roberts," which was shot some eight years after his private war with cancer.

The other side of the coin reveals the stark picture, although the American Cancer Society (ACS) estimates that cancer will take the lives of approximately 450,000 children under the age of 15 this year, there is hope that early detection and prompt treatment as well as many youngsters as work with older patients. The ACS estimates that one out of every 100 children, almost half will be from leukemia, which is cancer of the blood-forming tissue. More school children, the Cancer Society estimates, will die of cancer this year than from any other disease.

Two children who survived cancer are Julie Alice Dillard of Santa Rosa, Calif., and Becky Elizabeth Dufford of Erie, Pa. "You probably saw Julie's shining face grinning at you a couple of years ago from a Cancer Society poster. She was the brightest-eyed, 1000 girl who told the world 'I'm cured of cancer!'"

Only 2 1/2 percent when cancer struck, Julie had just recovered from the measles when she suddenly became ill all over again. At first, it was felt she had appendicitis, but when she was operated on the doctors found a tumor on her kidney. Under the medical name of Wilms' tumor, it was a cancer. Her survival chances did not look promising, but daily radiation treatment began to bring about improvement. Slowly, but surely, little Julie traveled down the long road to recovery. A year went by, then another, and before she realized it, Julie had sailed past the five-year mark and was cancer-free.

Then there's Becky. Now nearly 12 years old, the youngster was only 11 months old when it was discovered she had cancer behind her heart. At first, surgeons were unable to remove the entire tumor for it had gone up the nerves into her neck. Radiation was used to conquer this part of the cancer. After six years of treatment, little Becky was free of all evidence of her affliction. Today, Becky is a healthy, normal girl who loves to read, swim, and is a confirmed Beatles fan.

Ten years ago the Cancer Society's pamphlet listing the seven warning signals of the disease sparked Mrs. Howard Buchterkirchen, a Seattle, Wash., homemaker, into an immediate visit to her doctor. A self-examination had shown the presence of a lump in her breast. Realizing it was not necessarily cancerous, she decided to take no chances—and that was the first step toward survival. It did prove cancerous and, following a mastectomy, Mrs. Buchterkirchen resumed her active life. In addition to raising and training dachshunds for showing she's an avid swimmer and ice skater, Mrs. Buchterkirchen also serves as an ACS volunteer and drives cancer patients back and forth for medical treatments.

When a dozen or so years ago when Mrs. Jennie Holmes, of Newport, Calif., began to be aware that a mole or growth on her right shoulder began to trouble her, she recalled having seen a film, "Time and Two Women," at an ACS meeting a year previously. While that picture was in her mind, the mole was removed.

Mrs. Holmes is past president of the Orange County Health Development Committee for the last three years. She is also active in bowling and swimming circles, a touring, prominent bridge player and a member of the Country Club. In 1963 she was appointed by the mayor of Newport Beach and the governor of California to serve on the White House Conference on Children and Youth. Mrs. Holmes is the mother of four children.

Airline Personnel Don't Even Know Meaning Of Word "Crash"

By TOM TIEDE
NEW YORK (NEA) — The story is that there was once an airline pilot who complained on his plane's public address system to announce two bits of news—some good, some bad—to the passengers in the rear. The good news was that our engines have failed and we are losing altitude," he said. "The bad news is that we are going to crash in 15 minutes or less."

The story is fabricated. But its message is not.

In the realm of flight safety, airline people are optimistic to a fault. "Crash" is not even in their vocabulary. Instead, the word "accident" sounds less serious, it leaves room for hope. "It had news, but also good."

In a way, the air industry can hardly be blamed for its rosy philosophy. It's not its fault that it has a 99.99 percent dependability. No careful executive or pilot is going to risk his bank balance by dwelling on the specter of "crash."

"I'm always very cheerful about safety," assures a Pan American Captain. "What do you want to do in addition to look like it's all hopeless?"

Obviously, no one wants his pilot pessimistic.

Indications in fact, that many air travelers do not want any overt reminders of safety. Stewardesses say that some ticket buyers are averse to the brief cabin safety demonstrations required before each flight.

Last year, Pacific Airlines tried to introduce a novel approach to the subject by having crew members treat safety lightly. They now wish they hadn't.

Pacific stewardesses handed out "security blankets" and breathed "Well, we made it safely on landing. It was a calamity. Response was explosive. Today, the idea has been dropped and Pacific is quietly mulling over the matter.

So it is the industry discusses the matter of air security with tact, if at all. So it is that the airline industry's safety programs are oriented toward hawking hot meals and soft seats rather than protection.

And this may be a mistake.

Increasing numbers of air employees, especially pilots, feel that safety must somehow be sold to a still largely skeptical public. How else, they argue, will airlines ever attract 100 per cent of Americans who have never traveled by air?

We need greater public confidence," admits an American Airlines veteran. "We can't get it by anying our hostesses look sexy. We have to get it by setting out to destroy all of the hoary old myths about this business."

Such as?

Such as the worry you always hear about the wings a jet wiggling in flight. Many people think they are loose. They aren't—they bend up to two feet in flight and as much as nine feet during ground tests.

The myth list is formidable, and here are some others, and the facts:

Myth: Airline fatalities are on the upswing.
Fact: According to government figures for the last decade, the total number of passenger plane fatalities for the first half (1958-1967) was 150. For the second half (1968-1967) was only 910.

Myth: To avoid losing passengers, airlines often send up a plane in flight.
Fact: Not often. Certainly not knowingly. Best indication that a plane is safe is that the pilot says it is. It is safe to take the option of grounding any plane, anytime, whenever he feels it is necessary.

Myth: Plane maintenance is lax.
Fact: Airline ideology is "never let a carrier grow old." Two million dollars a day is spent on the theory. And for every hour of flight, a U. S. commercial transport plane receives five man hours of maintenance.

Myth: Pilot shortages have caused cutbacks in training requirements.
Fact: Not to any noticeable degree. In some training areas, personnel requirements have actually increased. Due to the shortages, however, some pilots are being promoted faster; TWA now has one captain who is only 29 years old.

Myth: The more passengers, the heavier the plane. The higher the risk.
Fact: Federal mandate requires all new jetliners to be able to take off and land, fully loaded, with one engine out of order. Jets have made emergency flights, on occasion, with 40 per cent over their capacity loads.

Myth: Key instruments, when fouled, leave a plane helpless.
Fact: All important systems have redundant backup features. For instance, each engine on a four-engine jet, has its own electrical plant. If any engine goes out, it does not affect the operation of those remaining.

And et cetera.

Pilots claim they have been flying these same busless jetliners for years. Many are car-

Time For Living

By ROGERS FRANKLIN

Time for living - time for writing is hard work, with writing linked together by an intricate number of senior citizens. They're the ones who published their work, but never had the chance before retirement to know all the reasons for the delay, which are the same as those mentioned with regard to other hobbies and second careers. The responsibility of the younger years, from being on the job to raising a family, have a way of thwarting the aspirations of the individual.

Anyone with the urge has no reason to be pessimistic as far as the market is concerned. There are literally hundreds of outlets. The local newspaper offers a good beginning with its letters to the editor, the springboard for many a lifelong career. House organs provide scope for retired men and women who can reduce their expenditure to a nominal amount. If you want to go farther afield, the newstands are crowded with all kinds of periodicals that need material regularly. Any more never reach the newstands because they're too limited in circulation or are beyond the attention of...

Another reason why the brand new writer of mature years should be so scrupulous is that non-writers have little conception of the difficulties of putting words together. They think that all a writer had to do is sit down and wait for the words to come.

Two recently they expect him to come up with something good immediately, or else admit he isn't a writer. State and Sherwood fiction writers, of course, know better. They know that the field is too broad to be captured by any particular group. In fact, it's so broad that everyone can write in it.

Many beginners dislike the thought of sending out the labor of weeks and months, perhaps years, only to get rejection letters in reply. One answer for them is the writers workshop, conference or colony. Here they can have their work judged by professional, and gain some insight into the feasibility of a writing career.

Transplants May Be Common--But Costly

By ALTON BLAKESLEE
NEW YORK (AP) — In time, human heart transplants may become commonplace.

But their cost in dollars will likely remain uncommonly high. There are no hard figures on the real, total cost of each heart transplant carried out so far. But it ranges up to $50,000 each, one heart specialist estimates.

It — and it is still a big "if" — heart transplantation proves out successfully, then at least 10,000 Americans might be candidates for new hearts each year, says Dr. Donald Fredrickson, former director of the National Heart Institute.

The high cost of getting new organs for old is already being faced by thousands of young and older people with kidney disease. For them, transplantation of a kidney can be successful now in most cases. Blood-purifying machines can keep them going, too, but this treatment is expensive.

In one heart case in which there are some precise figures — that of Michael Kasperak who received a borrowed heart at Stanford University last January — the hospital bill totaled $28,845.83. This amounts to about $1,900 a day for the 15 days he lived after operation.

Blue Cross hospital insurance covered $21,580 of this sum. Fellow workers and others are paying or have paid the remainder, $7,265.83 expenses for blood by replacing 288 pints.

In this case, and presumably all others so far, the surgeons donated their services.

Costs of heart transplants performed to date have apparently been borne mainly through medical insurance, through research funds, or private contributions, including contribution of bodies and services.

Fredrickson, now chief of the Laboratory of Molecular Diseases of the Heart Institute, says he does not expect costs to decline significantly in the next few years even if heart transplants become rather routine. A prime expense is many days of hospitalization under intensive special care.

About 1,500 kidneys have been transplanted, mostly within the last few years, and 90 per cent of patients getting new kidneys live for at least one year.

Costs have come down within the last decade. At one center for kidney transplants, the cost averaged $17,750 over a three-year period. Now it averages $13,300, with another $200 to $1,000 a year for follow-up costs.

Artificial kidneys — machines that purify the blood — are keeping victims of kidney disease alive through repeated use at hospitals or in the home. The annual cost ranges from $5,000 up.

The National Kidney Foundation cites estimates that 50,000 Americans die each year from chronic kidney disease, and that many of them could enjoy extra years of life if treated by kidney machines or borrowed kidneys.

But besides the enormous cost, there is a shortage of trained personnel and lack of adequate treatment facilities.

Bills introduced in Congress this year would provide $440 million over the next five years to set up and operate artificial kidney and kidney transplant centers.
