Sirhan Gets 3 Weeks To Enter Plea

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Sirhan Bishara Sirhan, accused assassin of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, was granted an additional three weeks today to enter his plea to a charge of murder.

Defense attorney Russell E. Parsons won a delay from Superior Court Judge Richard Schauer, saying he needed more time to study the transcript.

The hearing, which lasted nine minutes, was conducted in the third floor chapel-auditorium of the Los Angeles County Jail under strict security.

Sirhan, 24-year-old Jordanian immigrant, entered the room flanked by four large deputies who virtually hid the slender defendant from the approximately 150 newsmen on hand.

Judge Schauer at Parsons' request appointed a psychiatrist, Dr. George Ahe of Metropolitan State Hospital in suburban North Hollywood, to examine Sirhan and submit a confidential report for use of the defense.

Draft Quota Set

BOISE (AP) — The Idaho draft quota for August is 69 men, the State Selective Service office reported today.

In August 1967 the call was for 64 men.

Sends Telegrams

BOISE (AP) — Gov. Don W. Samuelson urged members of Idaho's congressional delegation to redouble efforts against restrictive gun legislation and registration of firearms.

In telegrams to the two senators and two representatives, Samuelson said "gun registration would be no deterrent at all to criminals. Laws on books now if enforced would maintain law and order."

Canada Has Second Heart Transplant

MONTREAL (AP) — A surgical team at the Montreal Heart Institute planted a new heart today in the chest of Gaetan Paris, a 49-year-old electrical designer, and set it to beating with the donor's.

This was Canada's second heart transplant. Like the first, it was performed by a team of the institute, headed by Dr. Pierre Grondin. The surgery took somewhat less than three hours.

The heart came from Yvon Bastien, 23, of Montreal, who died from injuries suffered in a motorcycle accident Thursday night.

Gun Control Drive Suffers Setback

By JOHN CHADWICK
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The drive for stronger gun control laws, already beset by delays and apparent adverse public reaction, has suffered what may be a crippling setback.

The latest blow was a 7-5 vote by the Senate Judiciary Committee Thursday to delay further consideration of weapons control bills until July 9.

"Those concerned about the passage of responsible firearms legislation had better realize that this was a real defeat," said Sen. Joseph D. Tydings, D-Md., said.

The outlook for new legislation urged by President Johnson and been dimmed previously by a slowdown in the House and by a sharp reversal in an initial flood of mail favoring strong gun controls after the assassination of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy.

Congress had seemed moving toward speedy action on a measure to prohibit interstate mail order sales of all firearms and ammunition and to ban their over-the-counter sale to nonresidents of a state.

This would have extended to rifles and shotguns the restrictions provided for pistol sales in the recently enacted crime control bill.

Presbyterians Defend Chicago Minister

WASHINGTON (AP) — Leaders of the United Presbyterian Church defended today a Chicago pastor accused of aiding a youth gang in crime as senators were told his church was used to hide a gun used in a gang murder.

The Rev. John Coventry Smith, moderator of the church, told a news conference the Rev. John R. Fry has a brilliant and creative record as a minister, has the full support of the church and has succeeded in making his church a base for relationships with members of underprivileged groups.

Other church leaders accused Sen. John L. McClellan, D-Ark., of using the Senate permanent investigations subcommittee to smear a federally funded program intended to provide basic education for members of two Chicago Negro gangs—the Blackstone Rangers and the Devil's Disciples.

Meanwhile, as scores of persons were being held in a standing-room-only crowd in the hearing room, the investigating senators were told a trend existed by gang members and others to take advantage of Illinois law by using juveniles to commit crimes for which older persons would be severely punished.

"They can literally get away with murder," Robert M. Kartson, 27, an assistant Cook County, Ill., state's attorney, told the senators.

He said the street outside Fry's church, the First Presbyterian Church of Chicago, was the scene of a murder of a member of the Disciples by a Ranger.

Kartson said the Ranger told police he got the gun used in the killing from a hiding place in the loft of the church, and returned it to the hiding place after the shooting.

The Rev. Mr. Fry has denied he knew weapons were ever in the church except in its vault where they were stored as part of a police-sanctioned gun disarmament effort.

Kartson said the youth who confessed the shooting, 18 years old, tried to return the gun to Fry by saying that an older boy actually committed the murder. He said the older boy told him he, being so young, would not receive harsh punishment.

Illinois law provides that adults convicted of murder be sentenced to a minimum 14-year sentence and face possible life imprisonment or death in the electric chair.

Juveniles, Kartson said, are sentenced to the custody of the state, and juveniles who are released at any time, the commission considers them rehabilitated.

Is there evidence that older criminals are using juveniles to commit serious crimes? Kartson was asked.

"I think that is the conclusion one would have to draw," he replied.

Sen. Karl E. Mundt, R-S.D., commenting on the sharp conflict in testimony during the six days of the hearing, said the Senate would vote on the bill this week, but he said that this week would find out who is guilty and who is innocent.

Buhl Manhunt Ends With Capture Of Two Convicts

By PAULINE DAY
Times-News Correspondent

Buhl — A massive law enforcement manhunt around this west Twin Falls County community ended early Friday with the capture of two men who escaped from the Idaho State Prison just before midnight Thursday.

Francisco Cano, 22, presently held in the Twin Falls County Jail, and Russell Carmona, 31, held in the Buhl jail, are awaiting transportation back to Ada County to face possible escape charges.

The manhunt ended when Mr. Carmona was invited inside the Buhl police station after he was observed walking in front of the Buhl city hall.

It all started late Thursday when the two men, working at the new prison site just south of Boise, took a guard's car, a late model Pontiac, and fled. State Police Officer Duane Owen in Buhl, was alerted at 3:35 a.m. and drove in his patrol car to a roadblock area on the west edge of Buhl. "I saw the suspect car and gave chase," he said.

The chase led into the city of Buhl. In an alley, the suspects abandoned the guard's car and fled, one going north, the other south.

At that point law enforcement officers from throughout the county were called to the scene. Roadblocks secured the area and residents were warned.

People going to work early

Friday were asked to check their cars carefully to see if they suspected might be hiding, hoping to get through the roadblocks.

Mr. Cano was captured at 6:10 a.m. three miles south of Buhl on Clover Road. He was in sports clothes and walking, officers said.

The search for Mr. Carmona continued and ended about 8:45 a.m. when he was seen walking in front of the Buhl City Hall.

Mr. Cano was serving a two-year term at the prison for conviction on an escape charge. Mr. Carmona was serving a 18 months ago. Mr. Carmona was in prison on a Bingham County voluntary manslaughter sentence of 10 years.

Pictures rushed from the prison to Buhl aided in identification of the suspects, officers said.

Twin Falls County Prosecutor Michael Felton said the men will be returned to Boise by prison officials and charges against them will have to originate in Ada County.

It is unknown where the two men got the sports clothes they were wearing at the time of their capture, but one police officer said the clothes might have come from the guard's car.

Twin Falls and Buhl police officers, Twin Falls County Sheriff's officers and state police were involved in the manhunt.

Asylum Granted

STOCKHOLM (AP) — Sweden granted asylum today to 10 American military deserters, including six young men who denounced U. S. "aggression" in Vietnam on Soviet television last month.

Among the 10 granted asylum were six self-described deserters who arrived in Sweden May 25 from Jess and Olofsson, who were in Moscow where they publicly attacked U. S. policy in Vietnam. They were identified as Mark A. Shupler, 19, of Dallas, Minn.; Philip A. Callico, 19, of Washington, D. C.; Kenneth Charles Griggs, 21, of Boise, Idaho; Terry M. Whitmore, 21, of Memphis, Tenn.; Edwin C. Arnett, 20, of Bradford, Pa.; and Joseph L. Kmetz, 27, of Nyack, N.Y.

Viet Cong Infiltrators Pushing Toward Saigon

By GEORGE ESPER
SAIGON (AP) — Viet Cong infiltrators were reported pushing in toward Saigon today, and Vietnamese forces in the capital were alert for a possible major attack.

All leaves were canceled in the Saigon military district. Supply and administrative clerks were confined to quarters and told to be ready to fight.

Senior U.S. officers said no alert was necessary for American troops. "We're as fully alert all the time as we can be," said one.

South Vietnamese intelligence sources said enemy infiltration in the capital military district has been stepped up within the past 48 hours.

At military headquarters in Saigon, the nerve center for combat operations around the capital, defenses were bolstered with additional machine guns and anti-aircraft batteries.

Such infiltration by the Viet Cong has always been followed by an attack in the past. This time they are expected to hit the same areas they did during the offensives in February and May-Cholon, the Chinese quarter in the southwest part of the city, and Gia Dinh, a suburb north of the city.

Intelligence sources have reported that captured documents and prisoner interrogations indicate the Communist command is planning a full-scale attack on the capital late this month or early in July.

The aim, U.S. officers say, is to strengthen Hanoi's bargaining position in the peace negotiations in Paris.

Informants estimate that 12,500 North Vietnamese and Viet Cong troops are within a 25-mile radius of Saigon.

The U.S. Command has 8,000 troops on the edges of Saigon, while 4,000 South Vietnamese are stationed inside the city.

To them, the threat of attack, about 10,000 allied soldiers have been patrolling intensively within a 15-mile arc of Saigon.

The Saigon area also has been given top priority for air strikes by B-52 bombers in a campaign to smash infiltration and supply corridors from the north.

At least 60 B-52s have been hitting enemy positions each day.

Despite the massive air and ground effort, officials believe the enemy will be able to slip troops through defensive lines. Because of the terrain, it is frequently difficult to pinpoint the enemy's positions. In addition, the enemy has been using the Ho Chi Minh Trail, for example, to bring in supplies, and they are said to be concealed in sugar cane fields, canals and swamps.

Over North Vietnam, American pilots flew 138 missions Thursday in the continuing effort to destroy the flow of supplies and troops into the South. Pilots reported destroying or damaging 23 supply trucks, 13 trucks and 7 warehouses.

The B-52s flew eight missions in 24 hours against enemy buildings in areas northeast, northwest and southeast of Saigon. In at least 40 of the eight-let Stratoforters dropped more than 1,000 tons of explosives on troop concentrations, base camps, infiltration corridors and ammunition distribution points.

Mansfield Says Filibuster May Prompt Warren To Reconsider

By H. L. SCHWARTZ III
WASHINGTON (AP) — Majority Leader Mike Mansfield said today that if a Senate filibuster against President Johnson's Supreme Court nominations develops and cannot be broken, he assumes Chief Justice Earl Warren will resign and not by "a lame duck."

Johnson has nominated Fortas to succeed Warren and has also nominated Thurgood Marshall to replace Tom C. Clark, a 5th Circuit Court of Appeals judge, to take Fortas' place as an associate justice on the Supreme Court.

Sen. Robert P. Griffin, R-Mich., who introduced the petition signed by half of the GOP senators, yesterday he said he and his colleagues were prepared to filibuster if necessary to block confirmation of Fortas and Thurgood Marshall.

Mansfield said there is no such thing as a lame duck president. He added that if Johnson is a lame duck, then any candidate who runs for a second term is a lame duck.

If a filibuster against the nominations develops, Mansfield said, a move will be made to reach a bunch of grapes, the Senate's debate-limiting closure rule.

It takes a two-thirds majority of senators voting to put the closure rule into effect.

Sen. Daniel B. Brewster, D-Md., described the GOP move to block the nominations "a blatant political maneuver" and "the worst sort of hypocrisy."

"In 1960, when a Senate resolution urged President Eisenhower to make Supreme Court appointments, the Senate was not in session, the Republicans were up in arms," Brewster said in a statement today.

"They argued that it was imperative that there be a full complex of justices at all times," he continued.

"Today, with Congress still in session, with the Senate fully prepared to confirm or reject these nominations on their own merits, the Republicans are using that it is now best for the country to leave the highest seat on that court vacant for almost six months."

"This is partisan double talk," Brewster contended. "I hope my colleagues recognize it for what it is."

Reds View Khe Sanh Evacuation

By STEPHENS BROENING
PARIS (AP) — The spokesman for North Vietnam's peace talks delegation said today American evacuation of Khe Sanh amounted to "a grave defeat for the United States."

Nguyen Thi Lan, the delegation's spokesman, said the United States had been "forced to retreat" from the base just below the demilitarized zone in South Vietnam.

He said the U.S. Military Command's evacuation of the base was no longer essential because he thought of the fate of the fox and the grapes. Unable to reach a bunch of grapes, the fox went away saying "they were sour anyway."

If there was any hope that the U.S. command of the base was part of an overall plan of de-escalation acceptable to North Vietnam, he quickly scotched this.

"The retreat constitutes a grave defeat for the United States, tactically as well as strategically," he told a news conference.

"As long as the United States insists on pursuing its war of aggression, the United States must not expect whatever tactical area is used."

"The U.S. military commanders once decided to defend the base at all costs. They are now forced to retreat from the base," he said.

He said North Vietnam wants peace, but "Peace goes hand in hand with independence, and we reject a pax Americana."

"After more than one month of official conversations and 10 meetings, the American coalition has refused to stop unconditionally its bombardments and other acts of war," he said. "This shows the bad faith of the American side."

Summer?

HAILLEY — It may be summer, but the "Summer of '68" in the River Valley residents are not convinced.

Friday morning a skin of frost to curdle the flow of water, and sometime Thursday night high winds blew a foot-high branch across a tree in downtown Hailley.

No serious damage was reported by the wind and the frost apparently did no crop damage.

Abernathy Says Campaign Will Appeal At Conventions

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Rev. Ralph David Abernathy, speaking from jail, says his Poor People's Campaign will appeal to the Republican and Democratic national conventions to adopt stands on eliminating poverty.

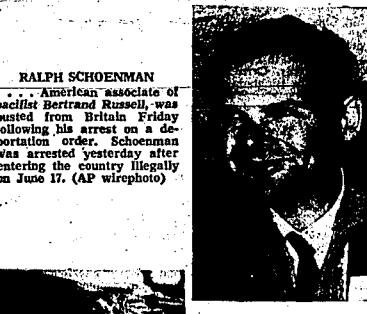

Abernathy, head of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference, spoke Thursday during a jailhouse news conference. The original protest was to be held in Washington, D.C., but was postponed after a housekeeping demonstration from mid-May until early May, when the protesters were dispersed to the grounds of the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

He said he will take no solid food while in jail, just fruit

Summary, Extended Outlook

Dry, cool air is moving through the northwestern states. Little in the way of moisture is accompanying the cool air leaving clear skies in the valleys of Southern Idaho, but stronger winds in excess of 12 miles per hour are adding to the cooling effect.

Lower pressure slot with the colder air is moving eastward mainly to the north of us. However, relative higher pressure at the surface will cover the northwestern states for several days. This will continue to provide generally fair weather in the valleys and foothills. Saturday will be cooler. Winds will be strong today and tonight, quieting down on Saturday. Sunday will begin a warming trend with fair weather persisting. Maximum temperatures today and Saturday will be in the upper 60s into the mid 70s. Minimum temperatures will be mostly in the 40s, milder readings in the 30s will occur in higher valleys in southeastern and southwestern valleys with a risk of scattered light frosts.

The extended hot, dry spells for a warming trend the first part of next week with temperatures rising to near normal readings. Some normal maximum and minimum temperatures for this period are Boise 87-56, Gooding 85-54, Twin Falls 84-53, Burley 84-49, Pocatello 85-53 and Idaho Falls 82-49. Little if any precipitation is indicated for the valleys of Southern Idaho through Wednesday.

The cooling effect was noticeable in western and Magic Valley yesterday but those valleys in southeastern valleys were slightly warmer. Ontario had a high of 83 degrees which was 12 degrees below the normal for the date. Malad was the warmest spot in Southern Idaho with a high of 86 degrees. Lowa last night had a high of 84 degrees. Halley to 54 degrees at Pocatello, Bear Lake and Burley.

Massive Rescue Operation For Flier Costs U.S. Three Aircraft, One Pilot

By GEORGE MCARTHUR
DA NANG, Vietnam (AP) — The U.S. military lost three planes and one pilot, and many more planes and helicopters were damaged in the greatest rescue effort since World War II. Air Force officers disclosed today.

But the costly, three-day operation to rescue a Navy flier trapped within a brilliant, complex of antiaircraft defenses.

A massive rescue operation began May 31, and parts of it are still under security wraps.

Based on a heavily defended road which cuts west from the North Vietnamese coast toward the Mu Gia Pass and the entrance to the Chi Ma trail just above the 17th parallel.

Flying an A7 Corsair jet, Fields took off from the American base at Da Nang, and landed in a heavily defended area. The plane was hit by a carrier's first day of combat patrol off North Vietnam.

Boring into the target area, Fields began to circle, and he was forced to put down in a jungle clearing in enemy territory. A few minutes later he was shot down.

Fields, however, managed to land in a jungle spot surrounded by enemy positions for the moment safe. His wingman in another Corsair began to circle the area until rescue helicopters came and he was rescued.

Petitions On Proposals Are Received

BOISE (AP) — Petitions asking that three separate initiative proposals be voted on Nov. 5 were received today in the Idaho secretary of state's office.

Deputy Dryden Hill said petitions signed by an estimated 3,000 voters are being received on behalf of the dredge mining initiative, bringing total signatures filed to nearly 15,000. Needed by Friday are 25,300 signatures.

Hill said petitions carrying an estimated 300 signatures were filed for the urban renewal initiative, bringing the total to about 1,600.

The first petition — except for the original preliminary one — was received for the initiative to amend the constitution to limit time it came from Clark County and contained eight signatures, Hill said.

Trio Appears On Minidoka Theft Cases

RUPERT — Two men appeared before Minidoka County Probate Judge Leroy Blacker on separate charges of burglary Thursday, and a third pleaded guilty, also to a charge of burglary, before Fifth District Judge Sherman Bellwood.

Allen Meyers, 21, Jerome, pleaded guilty to a charge of first degree burglary in connection with an April burglary at a store in Jerome. The burglary netted about $2,500 worth of furs. Meyers had been charged with three other youths who have all pleaded guilty before Judge Bellwood.

A presentence investigation was ordered for Meyers before sentencing was pronounced. No date for the sentencing has been set.

In Probate court action, separate preliminary hearings were held for Robert Tiedel, 40, Pocatello, charged with first degree burglary, and Darlo Garcia, 21, Paul, charged with second degree burglary and grand larceny.

Tiedel is charged with the burglary May 22 of Jay's Foodland in Paul. He was bound over to Fifth District Court and the bond of $2,500 was continued. In lieu of posting the bond, he was remanded to the custody of the Minidoka County sheriff's office.

Garcia is charged in connection with a break-in at the home of L. B. Farmer, Rupert, June 1. The grand larceny charge is for jewels taken from the home. He was bound over to district court and a bond of $3,000 was continued. He is presently in the custody of the sheriff.

Reservoir Level Down Slightly

SHOSHONE—Magic Reservoir contained 137,400 acre feet of water Tuesday morning, just below the level that reported June 1.

The water level is better than expected, but a year ago at this time the reservoir was full. So far this year the discharge has been less than average because of rain and cool weather.

American Falls Reservoir has receded somewhat from the full level. Last year at this time that reservoir also was full.

50 YEARS AGO

President Wilson will speak at Mt. Vernon, Va., on July 4th to representatives of the federal, state and local governments — 27 representatives will be present. It is probable that J. Edgar Hoover and other notables will also appear. American shipbuilders today are speeding their work to celebrate July 4th with the launching of 100 new ships — totaling 500,000 tons.

Provided his bid of the Red Cross auction, to be held in connection with the 4th of July celebration, is high, then the competing bid, Senator S. P. Altshuler may become owner of the handsome home he rode as marshal of the day at the head of the Flag Day Parade.

30 YEARS AGO

Bill Powell, Harmon Post manager, announced the post will celebrate the 4th of July with a picnic at the fair grounds. U. S. Senator James P. Pope will be principal speaker. Plans of fireworks, foot races, tug of war, horse shoe pitching contests.

Funds Presented For Purchase Of Park Area

GLENN'S FERRY. — T. L. Feeny, mayor of Glens Ferry, received a $32,000 payment Thursday from Ernest Day, Boise, chairman of the State Parks Board, to purchase the Three Island state park area on the north side of Snake River.

These three stepping-stone islands west of Glens Ferry were a natural aid to westbound emigrants on the Oregon Trail. The islands were the only place where the wagons could ford the Snake River for many miles along the Southern Idaho desert.

It is hoped work can be started this fall on the 200-acre park on the north side of the river. Westbound or eastbound travelers will then be able to camp near the site where their ancestors probably stayed.

The land to be used for the park is part of a parcel originally owned by Glens Ferry to be used for sewage treatment lagoons. The 200-acre park site is a portion of the land not needed for the lagoons.

Activities at the area will include picnicking, boating, an interpretive area, and a visitors' center. There will be 150 camping spots for overnight campers, including three utility buildings, hydrant fountains and a sewage disposal system.

Parking for 75 cars will be available at 55 picnic units, and two restrooms will be constructed in the area.

More than 2,000 feet of walking trails will be available for the visitors who want to explore the area. Features of the Oregon Trail will be explained in the interpretive area. The trails in that area are said to cross rivers actually remaining from the wheel of the wagon traveling to Oregon in the last century.

TRANSFER OF $32,000 to the city of Glens Ferry for purchase of a park area west of the town was made Thursday by officials of the State Parks Board. From left are Wilhelm

Beckett, State Parks director; Ernest Day, chairman of the State Parks Board; T. L. Feeny, Glens Ferry Mayor, and Bert Walker, Glens Ferry Chamber of Commerce president.

Farm Bureau Leader Urges New Programs

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress should seek new farm programs instead of "continuing down the dead-end road of government supply management," the head of the American Farm Bureau of Federation said today.

Charles B. Shuman, Federal president, made his remarks in a statement for the Senate Agriculture Committee.

"Instead of continuing down the dead-end road of government supply management—with acreage limitations, stockpiles to depress market prices, price fixing, and subsidies," Shuman said, "farmers need a broad-based program to expand markets, increase prices, cut costs and thus provide a basis for increased net farm income."

The Farm Bureau, a long-time foe of federal farm controls, says it is the nation's largest general farm organization.

A 1965 law which provides price controls and payments to producers of such commodities as wheat, feed grains, cotton and tobacco, expires Dec. 31, 1969.

"There will be plenty of time to consider new legislation in 1970," Shuman said. "In January 1969, there will be a new president and a new Congress. They will want, and are entitled to, an opportunity to participate in decisions affecting future government farm programs."

Shuman said extension of the law now "would seem to indicate a lack of confidence in the member of Congress to be elected this fall."

Shuman said the farm law is "designed to accomplish its objectives. He said the farm law is an index of prices and costs — was 81 per cent when the law took effect and "has dropped a little bit only until now," standing at 73.

Shuman said the law is "the most costly farm program mistake in history" and that it costs taxpayers nearly $9 million a day.

Agriculture Secretary Orville Freeman said the committee Monday there is an urgent need for extension of the basic farm program for four years although one year would be satisfactory.

He said the four years would represent "lead time" needed for solving agricultural problems.

"We don't have all the answers and we haven't met and conquered all the problems, but we are progressing," he said.

The House Agriculture Committee has approved a one-year extension of the program.

A. D. King To Help Fired Garbagemen

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP) — The Rev. A. D. King, brother of the late Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., has vowed to help 211 fired garbagemen fight the battle of St. Petersburg to regain their jobs with a pay increase.

In a speech following the arrest of 45 protest marchers Thursday night, King declared that "southern power" would prevail and "bring down the walls of City Hall" in this resort town of 180,000.

Some 300 demonstrators and supporters packed into Second Baptist Church to hear King's emotional speech as night rain fell and rain poured down outside.

King said he had heard that his life had been threatened, but he said he was not concerned. He told supporters: "If a million men are willing to die for what he believes in, he should not lead."

Two plainclothes policemen were assigned to watch King during his stay.

"We say if you (the city administration) can't pay another quarter to sanitation workers, then we will walk the streets every day until you do," he shouted.

King said he was not willing to die for what he believes in, he should not lead."

Heart Bill

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — A 9-13 vote personal physician, not a member of a heart transplant team, could declare a patient dead under a bill passed by the California Senate Thursday and sent to the Assembly.

The bill forces heart transplant teams "from a terrible conflict of interests," said the sponsor, Sen. Anthony C. Bellenson, D-Beverly Hills.

Living Costs Rise 3% During May

WASHINGTON (AP) — Living costs rose three-tenths of 1 per cent in May, continuing upward at an annual rate of more than 4 per cent, the Labor Department reported today.

Biggest price boosts last month were for clothing, up nearly 1 per cent, and food, up four-tenths of 1 per cent, said the Bureau of Labor Statistics.

Arnold Chase, assistant commissioner of the bureau, said "the upward trend of prices will continue for several months."

This year's rate of climbing living costs is the fastest in more than a decade.

At the same time, the bureau said average wages of some 45 million nonfarm workers rose $1.59 per week to a record weekly high of $106.03.

But the purchasing power of the average paycheck was still slightly below last year because of the rapidly rising prices.

The rise of living costs pushed the consumer price index to 120.3. This cost $12.03 in May to purchase typical family needs worth $10 in the 1957-59 period on which the index is based.

Chase said the recently enacted 10 per cent income tax surcharge would eventually have some effect on slowing the price rise, but not for at least several months.

Earl Warren Reflects On 15 Years In U.S. Supreme Court

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — Earl Warren reflected on 15 years in the U.S. Supreme Court today, saying he would like to see the court's decisions "as a monument to the American people."

Warren served 10 years as the state's Republican governor before being appointed chief justice by President Eisenhower.

Warren said he was "usually of a very controversial nature and our decision therefore becomes controversial because, somebody has to win and somebody has to lose."

In earlier days, Warren said, "the question was whether the U.S. government had enough authority under the Constitution to survive. There wasn't any thought given to the Bill of Rights. Those issues hadn't arisen. There weren't any movements of that kind."

Warren was interviewed by reporters for radio station KFBK and television station KQVR during a brief visit Thursday to Sacramento where Warren served 10 years as the state's Republican governor before being appointed chief justice by President Eisenhower.

MR. SPECTATOR It's The Last Roundup

A few days ago something of great historical importance happened and yet most of us missed it entirely. But thanks to Mrs. Maia Van Buren of 230 Polk Street in Twin Falls, Mr. Spectator was brought to date.

WASHINGTON—Democratic National Chairman John Bailey's scheme to quietly steamroller through White House-ordered arrangements for the National Convention would have worked perfectly had it not been for a stubborn, tough-minded lady from Denver.

Opry Stars: One Quiet, One Hearty

PERFORMING SMILES for the camera are two stars of the Grand Ole Opry, Bill Carlisle, a native of Spencer County, Kentucky, is in dark glasses, and Stu Phillips, from Calgary, Alberta, Canada, is on the right. They gave several performances in the Magic Valley recently.

Residents of the Magic Valley area were recently entertained by two men from the Grand Ole Opry Association. One had a quiet style. They were Bill Carlisle and Stu Phillips, respectively.

Their combined total annual mileage is nearly 200,000 miles as two of about 50 performers who belong to the Grand Ole Opry Association. From here Mr. Carlisle went to Florida and Mr. Phillips to Germany via Canada.

Mr. Phillips, a native of Calgary, Alberta, Canada, drove here from St. Louis. "I went through endless hours and miles of badlands before getting to Idaho—it was like an oasis. As I sat under a tree eating my breakfast I thought to myself, that this was God's country."

Mr. Carlisle had trouble coming to and leaving from Idaho. He flew in but this plane, with the Badlands before getting to Idaho—it was like an oasis. As I sat under a tree eating my breakfast I thought to myself, that this was God's country."

"In spite of the air service to Idaho, I've been here before and I always have fun. For this is fine show country—we always get a good reception," he said. After his last performance here he was involved in a car accident that cost the driver's life and caused him to have three broken ribs. He flew out the next day.

"During the interview Mr. Carlisle said, 'I've been singing 22 years.' Under a disbelieving glare he admitted it was really only 36 years, 15 of them with the Grand Ole Opry. Mr. Phillips simply said, 'I've been singing all my life, the last year and a month with the Grand Ole Opry.'"

The two performers sang concerts in Jerome, Burley and Twin Falls and entertained at the Grand Ole Opry where they were interviewed. Mr. Phillips said, "You might mention," so we will, "a new record on the RCA label. 'Top of the World' is by Mr. Carlisle. We'll mention 'My Name Is Jones' on the Hickory label."

Pony League Team Formed At Hagerman

HAGERMAN — The community of Hagerman has organized a baseball team in the Pony League. A boy cannot be 16 before August 1 and still be eligible to play.

Glenn Hendrickson, who has previously assisted boys as coach for the community's little basketball league, is serving as coach. He is assisted by Noel Baker and Danny Butler. The boys practice two or three times a week at the city park.

Others in the Pony League include teams from Kimberly, Valley, Halley, Gooding, Jerome, Buhl, and Shoshone. Tournaments will be held August 9, 10, and 11 at Hansen and Kimberly.

Hendrickson said the boys had not won a game so far, but added, "They're playing against boys who have had three years of league experience. This is the first for all these boys. Although they got beat real badly the first game, they are surprised some of the people, these boys have a great desire to play."

Need For Physicians Emphasized

SUN VALLEY, Idaho (AP) — Idaho's doctors have been told there is a need for more physicians — especially Negro physicians.

Dr. Ernest B. Howard of Chicago, assistant vice president of the American Medical Association, made the statement Thursday at a meeting of the Idaho Medical Association.

Howard said more doctors and reductions in hospital care costs are needed to avoid British-type socialized medicine. "There is no button to push except to increase the supply of physicians... to see that every qualified applicant can enter medical school," he said.

He said causes of increased hospital care are inflationary pressure and lack of competition. He criticized physicians for what he said was their withdrawal from control of hospitals.

Huong Warns Pro-Reds

By BARRY KRAMER

SAIGON (AP) — Premier Tran Van Huong warned today that anyone directly or indirectly supporting pro-Communist or pro-neutralist policies will be subject to immediate military trials and imprisonment at hard labor.

A communique from Huong's office said the warning was issued because "a number of organizations have recently issued communiques appealing for peace in a rather vague way, sowing confusion among the population."

Citing a 1955 decree by the military junta which ruled South Vietnam at that time, Huong said sentences at hard labor would be applied to:

—Those who directly or indirectly disseminate the policy, slogans, and orders of the Communists, of individuals or groups directed or influenced by the Communists.

—Those who carry out activities intended to weaken the national anti-Communist will and affect the struggle of the people and the armed forces.

—Those who attempt and carry out neutral activities in accordance with the Communist policy under the label of peace.

Huong's statement said offenders would be brought before a court-martial within 24 hours.

South Vietnam's constitution prohibits procommunism and pro-neutralism. Persons accused of either leaning were barred from the presidential and legislative elections last fall.

Peace appeals have been issued recently by Saigon students and by the militant and moderate political wings of the Buddhists in Saigon.

The government recently fired a minister without portfolio, Phan Quang Dan, after he said in the United States that his government should take the initiative and seek talks with the Viet Cong's National Liberation Front.

PORT HALL (AP) — The 100th anniversary of the signing of a peace treaty between the United States and the Shoshone and Bannock Indian tribes will be celebrated July 3-4 on the Shoshone-Bannock Reservation.

There will be a parade, Indian dances and other festivities.

GOP Officials Plan To Greet Rockefeller

BOISE (AP) — Idaho's three top Republican Party officials will greet New York Gov. Nelson Rockefeller when he arrives in Boise Tuesday for a three-hour presidential campaign stop.

State GOP Chairman Roland Wilber, National Committeewoman Gwen Barnett and National Committeeman-elect David Little said in a joint statement they would greet Rockefeller "with the warm western hospitality for which Idaho is noted."

Rockefeller has no delegate support from Idaho's 14-member delegation to the Republican National Convention. Delegates say they are divided eight for former Vice President Richard Nixon and six for California Gov. Ronald Reagan.

The joint statement said the party has invited its presidential candidates to come to Idaho.

Amendment Is Co-Sponsored By Church

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Frank Church, D-Idaho, has co-sponsored an amendment to the Older Americans Act of 1965 in a move to expand local impact of the act.

Church said Thursday the objectives of the amendment include:

—Authorizing federal, state and local officials to construct area-wide model projects to meet urgent social needs. He said the law now places serious limitations on area-wide efforts.

—Strengthening state agencies for the elderly by authorizing more funds for state planning.

—Possible extension of older persons' programs to four years instead of the three-year limit now.

Agency Heads Urged To Cut Spending

BOISE (AP) — State agency heads have been urged to exercise tight controls on spending.

Gov. Don Samuelson told the agency chiefs Thursday that revenue projections for the 1969-71 biennium indicate about $185 million will be brought into the general fund.

The projected figure is an increase of about $21 million over that expected in the current biennium, which ends June 30, 1969.

State Budget Director James Deffenbach said the anticipated increase could be consumed by normal growth and the addition of Boise College to the state system of higher education.

The comments were made Thursday at a meeting between Samuelson and about 50 agency heads.

The 1969-71 biennium is the period for which the legislature will be drafting a budget when it convenes next January.

France Facing Threat Of Galloping Inflation

By LOUIS NEVIN
PARIS (AP) — In the wake of its national convulsion, France faces the threat of galloping inflation that may force devaluation of its money and put a strain on the entire international monetary system.

An inflationary rise of prices raises the threat of another round of social strife in the autumn.

The French crisis will probably have mixed results on the international level. Salary cuts and increased social benefits handed out to settle the three-week wave of strikes across France are expected to increase purchasing power by some $4 billion this year, and nearly $10 billion next year.

This could trigger an import explosion that should immediately benefit France's Common Market partners, especially West Germany.

There is little likelihood of immediate benefit either to American or British exporters. But the flood of exports to France could easily create a demand inflation in West Germany and other Common Market countries which would be to the advantage in the long run, to Americans and British.

With greater unencumbered financial reserves than the United States, the French will not face a need to cut the franc's value until next year, experts say.

The government has already served notice it will fight to save the franc with all of the nation's considerable resources.

And government informants say the regime will only consider devaluation as part of a broad reform and reevaluation of the monetary system.

The strikes that virtually halted all communications and industrial production, however, have left the franc the most overvalued money in the West.

It has been crawling along for weeks at its floor level of 4.540 francs to the dollar, the rate at which the government is obliged by international convention to buy in order to ward off a further decline.

Banks in Belgium, West Germany and Switzerland, though, report a continuing flow of francs being changed into dollars. Swiss francs and other currencies despite the strict exchange controls imposed May 31 by the new finance minister, Maurice Couve de Murville.

The controls were tightened last Saturday after the discovery of widespread evasion. The original measure permitted residents of France to take 1,000 francs, roughly $200, with them every time they went abroad. This was reduced to 100 francs, or $20, in any 24-hour period. It was discovered some Frenchmen were going back and forth across the border taking 1,000 francs with them every time.

Couve de Murville was still counting the cost to the nation of the strikes which at their height idled an estimated 8 million to 10 million workers. He is not expected to make public a balance sheet until after Sunday's final round of elections.

But even before announcing the cost, France appealed to its Common Market partners for help in curbing their exports to France. Reaction was mixed: Bonn said immediately it would go along with some measure of curbs, but others, notably Italy and the permanent commission of the Common Market, expressed hostility.

The governor responded to a campaign based on his favorite expletive. Phooey-grams bear one word, "Phooey," plus the name of the sender.

Atlanta attorney James H. Moore initiated the campaign — phooey buttons, phooey bumper stickers and possibly a phooey flagpole.

He sent the first official communication but it was rejected the mark. It read: "Phooey."

Resolutions Passed By Law Officers

COEUR D'ALENE, Idaho (AP) — Resolutions proposing better police training and opposing federal gun registration were passed Thursday by the Idaho Peace Officers Association.

The action came during the association's annual convention in Coeur d'Alene.

The law enforcement officers said legislation might be required to upgrade enforcement personnel and programs; and to create a state commission to determine Idaho law enforcement needs.

Opposition to firearms registration followed a floor debate. The peace officers association also recommended:

—Banning open containers of alcoholic beverages in motor vehicles on public roads.

—Passage of a "stop and frisk law" similar to New York's.

New president is State Police Bill Morgan, Boise. District vice presidents are State Policemen Melvin Jaines, Kellogg; Boise Police Lt. Eugene Lee; State Policemen Larry Platt, Heliway; and Bonewille County Sheriff Les Hopkins.

Next year's convention will be held at McCall.

AREA CONSERVATIONIST Clarence Hedrick, Soil Conservation Service, left, talks with Eugene Thomas, kneeling, and Dave Thomas, about their specialized pasture rotation program that involves moving stock to new pasture each 24 hours. Here cattle graze about midway through the 24-hour period with some of the shoulder-high grass still untouched.

Cows Moved To New Pasture Every Day

Every 24 hours the 65 cows that call the Eugene Thomas farm west of Twin Falls their home are turned into a new pasture, shoulder high in rich, lush alfalfa and alfalfa. As might be suspected the results include sleek fat animals, showing remarkable gains and a pasture program that supports an unbelievable number of animal units per month.

This is all part of the intensive management program of Eugene Thomas and his son Dave, who operate several farms including one on U.S. Highway 30, just west of Twin Falls.

The program, also one of crop and pasture rotation has drawn considerable attention from farmers and ranchers because of the unique method of moving the cattle each 24 hours over a 10-acre pasture area.

Many farmers are trying similar programs on a little different basis, says Clarence Hedrick, Soil Conservation Service Twin Falls.

Commercial fertilizing follows on each pasture plus the organic fertilizer provided by the animals. Mr. Thomas said he may increase the number of cows next year as the grass and alfalfa will re-establish pasture in about 32 days. Thus far, he figures it will take about 44 days to cover the entire 10 acres.

Pasture now being used was seeded in the fall of 1966 and pastured some late last season although this is the first year of full use.

Other pastures on farms owned by Mr. Thomas are being prepared for next season and the following grazing season.

Pasture now in use will continue in grazing for four years and will then be plowed up for one year of corn, one of grain and reseeding back to pasture. Normally each pasture will be grazed for a three-year period before giving way to other parts of the crop rotation program on the Thomas farm.

Gain of the animals on the 24-hour pasture program is expected to average 3 to 5 pounds per day over the season, and on feeder steers would probably be higher.

Asked about animal units per month that will be supported by the 24-hour pasture program, Mr. Thomas said he is a little afraid to report this as it sounds too unbelievable.

It is difficult to figure on a monthly basis, he said, because of the short time the program has been in operation. Mr. Thomas said originally they hoped for about three AUMs but it now appears it will be more like five. Average for irrigated pasture in the county is about one AUM per acre, Mr. Hedrick said.

Part of the program, explained Dave Thomas is a complete set of records being kept as to dates of pasture use, irrigation, fertilizing and animal gain, costs and other factors.

Mr. Hedrick said the reason for the low AUM rate in most of Twin Falls County is that about 95 per cent of the irrigated pastures are composed of unimproved or native grasses and are poorly managed.

Something the Thomases have discovered to protect the area that has been grazed but must be used for the cattle to reach water, is that the animals will follow a slightly higher ridge. Each quarter acre has a slight ridge through the center. The stock will find this and use it for a path, without trampling the remaining area in going from the new grazing area to the streams at the end of the field.

The stock Mr. Thomas feeds are mostly Hereford cows crossed with Angus for better beef animals.

"We don't go by breed or color. Anything that produces a good calf and shows good gains is kept," he said.

All of the cows, however, are young; not any being over third calf heifers.

Mr. Thomas is a supervisor in the Balanced Rock Soil Conservation District, but the farm on which he is currently conducting his 24-hour pasture program is part of the Snake River Soil Conservation District.

There are actually no boundaries to soil conservation programs, Mr. Hedrick explained. It is generally a cooperative system with supervisors and cooperators of all districts benefiting by the experience of others.

Mr. Hedrick said the program designed by Mr. Thomas is providing a maximum of good rotation and soil rebuilding. There is no better way, he said, to improve the soil as to organic fertilizer content, erosion, water holding capability for good irrigation and general crop production.

Curry Cattle 4-H Club Elects

Officers were elected at the first meeting of the Curry Cattle 4-H Club.

Elected were Larry Schultz, president; Greg Hull, vice president; Glenda Eldredge, secretary; and Debra Eldredge, reporter.

"The 'Plan the Meeting' books were handed out and several projects were discussed.

At the next meeting of the Curry Cattle Club, Greg Hull gave illustrated reports on judging. New business included discussing extra projects. Glenda Eldredge called the roll and read minutes. Larry Schultz called the meeting to order.

SCS Lists Facts On Concrete Ditch Lining

The Soil Conservation Service lists some concrete facts for farmers who are planning to install concrete lined ditches on their farms.

To insure a good concrete-lined ditch, the mix should contain 5 1/2 bags of cement per cubic yard, instead of five bags as some local farmers have used.

According to the SCS, the actual cost of the one-half bag of cement is 60 cents. The additional cost to the farmer for doing 5 1/2 bags is 4 1/2 cents per foot of concrete-lined ditch.

Government specifications for concrete lined ditches requires that five and one-half bags of cement be used.

Other concrete facts listed by the SCS that in Idaho where concrete is exposed to freezing and thawing weather, all concrete should have a minimum strength of 3,000 pounds per square inch, and only a minimum amount of water be used.

American Institute of Concrete has recommended that, for any specific project, to insure that no more than one test out of five shall fall below 3,000 pounds per square inch. A mix design should be 29 per cent over designed or designed for 3,200 pounds per square inch. This is necessary because of the ready mix plant variations in control of mixing. Where plants have good control, only 10 per cent over design is required or design for 3,300 pounds per square inch.

Proper curing of concrete is essential to achieve a desired strength. Curing is accomplished on slab concrete, usually by continued wetting of the concrete or by the use of a curing compound sprayed on the surface before it is allowed to dry, thus holding the moisture in place.

When concrete is allowed to dry, low chemical reactions cause a further increase in strength, but usually shrinkage. This also is another reason for keeping the soil moist. The concrete is not placed on a dry base. It will absorb the moisture from the soil, resulting in lower strength and increased shrinkage. As the moisture is determined, availability of concrete and water in relation to the amount of water used, the concrete should have a minimum amount of water for a minimum of 29 per cent over designed or designed for 3,200 pounds per square inch.

Officers Are Elected At Club

Officers of the Happy Go Lucky 4-H Club were elected recently at a meeting at the home of Christine Britt.

Newly elected officers include Sandra McBride, president; Janice McBride, vice president; Roseanne Buckland, secretary; Dennis Silcock, reporter; Kelly Grope, treasurer; Christine Britt, song leader; Kelly Kopp, reporter; Jane Kink, recreation director; Brenda Roper, action director; Karen Roberts, sergeant at arms.

The summer activity projects were distributed and discussed.

For concrete ditch lining, excessive slump decreases strength as well as shrinkage.

For further information concerning the lining of ditches with concrete, contact the nearest SCS office.

Magic Valley Returns To Jaycee Park Tonight After Splitting Series At Ogden

OGDEN (AP) — The Ogden Dodgers spurted for eight runs in the fourth inning Thursday night with the help of Magic Valley errors and went on to beat the Cowboys 14-5. Dodger pitcher Sandy Vance struck out 12 while allowing nine Magic Valley hits. He was the first pitcher to go into the fourth inning so far this season with the Dodgers. His record is 1-0 with a 3.1 lead going into the big fourth inning.

Twins Blank Orioles In 5-Inning Tilt

BALTIMORE (AP) — The Minnesota Twins scored two unearned runs in the second inning and defeated the Baltimore Orioles 2-0 Thursday night in a game halted by rain after the fifth.

The victory was the Twins' third in a row and ninth in their last 11 games. Dave Boswell, 7-6, yielded four hits and four walks but left seven Orioles stranded — four in scoring position.

Olivia operated in the second with a wind-blown double which shortstop Mark Belanger failed to hold along the line in short left. The third when Brooks Robinson muffed Bob Allison's grounder.

Allison was caught between bases as Frank Quilley inned, but reached second when the Orioles tried in vain to trip Olivia off third.

Robinson was given an intentional walk by loser Jim Hardin, 8-4. A sacrifice fly by Jackie Hernandez scored Olivia and Boswell doubled home Allison.

Minnesota third baseman Cesar Tovar was struck on the left hand by a hardin pitch in the first and after the game, X-rays were negative.

Atlanta regained the lead in the fifth. Clete Boyer led off with a single, went to second when Henry Aaron was hit by a pitch and scored on Joe Torre's single up the middle.

Henry scored one out later when Tommie slammed a single to left.

Tommie was at it again in the seventh. After two were out, Don Johnson hit his second double and Aaron singled to left. The Phils knuckled out Pat Jarvis and scored a run in the ninth on Bill White's pinch single.

Rosewall Survives Scare, Tips Pasarell

By JOHN FARROW
WIMBLEDON, England (AP) — Ken Rosewall, the 33-year-old Australian professional and No. 2 seed, got the fright of his life Thursday before defeating Charles Pasarell of San Francisco, P.R., in five sets of a second-round match in Wimbledon's first open championship.

Rosewall, twice the runnerup at Wimbledon's amateur championships, had to struggle to overcome Pasarell, the United States amateur champion, 7-6, 6-1, 6-2, 6-3 during a fourth day of rain and wind. This is one of the worst starts in a Wimbledon championship in memory.

Thursday's program started with 120 scheduled matches, including two men's first-round singles, unplayed because of the rain. The jam-packed Thursday program of 72 matches saw only 21 completed for a backlog of 151 encounters in four days.

The Wimbledon tournament, traditionally played in 12 days, may well run into a third week this year.

Clark Graebner of New York took to the court with a 6-4, 6-3, 6-8, 11-9 victory over Roy Roth of San Diego, Calif. Arthur Ashe of Richmond, Va., was idle all day because of the weather.

The only big upset came in the women's singles, where Christine Sandberg of Sweden defeated fifth-seeded Virginia Wade of England 6-4, 6-3 in a first-round match.

Bauer Undergoes Routine Surgery

BALTIMORE (AP) — A nodule was removed Thursday from the middle vocal cord of Hank Bauer, manager of the Baltimore Orioles.

"It only took about 10 minutes and was removed Thursday," a club spokesman said of the operation performed at Johns Hopkins Hospital.

The doctors advised Bauer, 45, that he could begin speaking in a whisper Friday and to continue for a week or 10 days before making full use of his voice.

Mets Squelch Late Bid To Beat Astros

HOUSTON (AP) — Ron Taylor rescued Don Cardwell from an eighth-inning jam and saved the New York Mets' 3-1 victory over Houston Thursday night.

Cardwell and Denny Lemaster were in a scoreless duel until the seventh inning when Cleon Jones and Ed Charles opened with singles, putting Mets at first and third.

Jerry Grote grounded to third baseman Doug Rader and Jones beat the throw to the plate for New York's first run. After Grote's out, Grote fouled out, the runners advanced on a balk by Lemaster and Jerry Buckner singled Charles home.

Jimmy Wynn beat out a bunt with one out in the eighth against Cardwell. One out later, Rader walked and John Bateman singled Wynn home. Taylor came on and retired pinch hitter Dick Simpson on a pop fly, ending the threat.

McLain Heads 7-Man Hurling Staff For American Loop Stars

BOSTON (AP) — A seven-time All-Star hurler for all four others, Denny McLain and not including a single repeater from 1967, McLain was named Thursday to this leading champion Boston Red Sox, who will lead the AL team in its effort to break a five-year losing streak against the National League the night of July 9 in Houston.

McLain was the starting pitcher in the 1968 game at St. Louis, pitching three perfect innings.

McDowell, 7-6 and the league leader in strikeouts, pitched two innings in the 1968 game at St. Louis, giving up a run in the seventh and winding up as the losing pitcher in a 6-5 NL victory. The Cleveland fireballer was also selected for the 1968 squad, but came up with arm trouble and was replaced by troublemaker Sonny Siebert.

Stottmeyer, 9-4, was picked to the 1965 team but didn't get into the game. He pitched two scoreless innings, giving up one hit, in 1968. The Yankee slider ball ace has three shutouts to his credit this season.

Tiant has pitched six shutouts, including a two-hitter and a pair of three-hitters, in compiling an 11-5 record.

Johnson, the only undefeated hurler on the staff, is 8-0 with the White Sox.

Santiago, 8-4 and the ace of Williams. Boston Staff, has tossed a pair of shutouts and lost two 1-0 efforts. The Puerto Rican is the oldest member of the All-Star staff at 27.

Odom, 15, is the youngest pitcher named. His 7-4 record includes three shutouts, one of them a one-hitter.

Pirates Sell Pizarro To Boston Club

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The Pittsburgh Pirates sold left-handed pitcher Juan Pizarro to Boston Thursday and then filled his spot on the roster by buying lefty Bill Henry from San Francisco.

The 40-year-old Henry, a veteran of 514 major league games, had an 8-2 record and 5.40 earned run average in seven appearances with the Giants. He has pitched only 93 innings since 1965.

Last season, Henry was 2-0 with a 2.05 ERA in 28 games covering only 22 innings. His career record in the majors is 46-50.

Pizarro, 31, had a 1-1 record and 3.00 ERA in nine innings with Pittsburgh. Last year he was 6-10.

Pizarro's best season in the majors was 1964 when he was 19 with a 2.88 ERA for the Oakland White Sox.

Jacklin Sizzles For 66, Leads Cleveland Open

CLEVELAND (AP) — Young Tony Jacklin, using a borrowed driver and an inactive putter, seized a three-stroke advantage in the first round of the $100,000 Cleveland Open golf tournament Thursday with a sizzling five-under-par 66.

Jacklin, a British pro playing his second year on the American tour, overcame temperatures in the 60s and blustery winds to scorch the 6,742-yard Lakewood Country Club course with nines of 33-33.

The 23-year-old Englishman seized a three-stroke advantage over his nearest rivals—Roberto de Vicenzo, Dave Stockton, Hideyo Sugimoto and Wayne Yates.

Jacklin, playing with an aluminum shaft driver borrowed from Tommy Bolt and an old putter he hadn't used in more than a year, rang up seven birdies and two bogeys.

De Vicenzo, runnerup in the Masters when he signed an erroneous card, played steady golf with 14 pars, three birdies and one bogey. Stockton scrambled to his 89 with five birds and three bogeys.

Sugimoto, from Tokyo, also knocked in five birdies and took three bogeys. It was the first time he has been in contention in six tournaments.

Meanwhile, the tour's glamor boys were having trouble.

All-time leading money-winner Arnold Palmer hit a double bogey seven on the 93-yard 14th hole and finished with a 75. The slump-ridden Pennsylvania strong boy had played the front nine in even par but was four over on the back side.

U.S. Open king Lee Trevino, the tour's newest sensation after winning golf's top event, came in with a 72.

In a 14-way logjam at one-under 70 were Deane Beman, George Archer, Jim King, Monte Kaser, Fred Marti, Tommy Aaron, Gay Brewer, Chris Blocker, Roy Pace, Julius Boras, Steve Reid, Bob McCallister, Bill Parker and defending champion Gardner Dickinson.

Dodgers Beat Giants 6-5 In 11 Innings

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Zolt Versalles tagged a leadoff homer in the 11th inning and Los Angeles defeated San Francisco 6-5 Thursday, snapping Juan Marichal's winning string at 10 games.

Willie McCovey hammered two home runs and drove in four runs, helping Marichal to an early 5-2 lead.

But the Dodgers pecked away at the veteran right-hander, finally tying the score at 5-5 in the eighth when Versalles' single, stole second and scored on Ken Boyer's pinch single.

Then Marichal, 14-3, checked the Dodgers until the 11th when Versalles hit his second home run of the year.

Quarterback Duel Slated In Grid Tilt

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — Greg Landry, unheralded quarterback from Massachusetts, will duel college football's 1967 glamour boy, Gary Beban, in the Coaches American football game Friday night.

Landry, rangy running and passing whiz almost unknown outside of New England, will direct the East with pass-catching ace Dennis Homan of Alabama expected to be his prime passing target.

Beban, Heisman Trophy winner from UCLA, will quarterback the West, ranked as a touchdown favorite going into the nationally televised game.

The battle will be telecast by ABC, starting at 8:30 p.m. EDT. A crowd of about 30,000 is expected.

Both West Coach Dee Andros of Oregon State and East Coach John Pont of Indiana plan to give their players plenty of rest, although cool temperatures are predicted.

"We'll try to play everybody," Pont said.

Vaulters On Home Ground For Trials

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Bob Seagrén, Jon Vaughn and Dick Rallsback rank as the three top contenders for pole vault honors in the U. S. Olympic trials and all will be in familiar territory.

Seagrén, world indoor record holder and second best outdoors, attends the University of Southern California while NCAA champ Vaughn and AAU king Rallsback hail from UCLA.

So the vaulting at the Los Angeles Coliseum is a place they well know and they'll be there Saturday at 3 p.m. as 15 survivors of the qualifying meets compete for spots on the United States team.

Seagrén has cleared 17-7 with best this year of 16-9 1/4. Both Rallsback and Vaughn have had to make comebacks after being injured. The former broke his hand when a "foxtail" while he was vaulting in his first collegiate meet of the season. Vaughn, a sophomore, injured his back paradoxically in a fall down some steps while leaving the gym for the field.

Rallsback didn't compete again in any collegiate meets but he cleared 17-4 1/2 to win the AAU title. Vaughn came back to upset Seagrén in the NCAA meet the previous week as he cleared 17-4.

Cubs Purchase Gene Oliver

CHICAGO (AP) — The Chicago Cubs announced Thursday the purchase of veteran catcher Gene Oliver from the Boston Red Sox.

The Cubs also brought up right-handed pitcher Bill Stoneman from the Tacoma club in the Pacific Coast League.

To make room for the pair, the Cubs optioned pitcher Chuck Hartenstein and sent utilityman John Bocchella outright to Tacoma.

Three U.S. Women Stay In Tourney

By TOM REEDY
WALTON HEATH, England (AP) — Three United States women moved into the quarter-finals of the British Women's Amateur golf championship Thursday but four others were knocked out.

The trip which survived all are in the upper bracket of the draw, so the chance of an all-American final in the 75-year-old tournament was destroyed.

The winners of two rounds over Walton Heath's 6,242-yard par 35 course in rain and wind included:

Mrs. Anne Quast Wells, 31, of Mount Vernon, Wash., who defeated Penny Burrows, Scotland's 1968 champion, 5 and 4 in the morning and then racked up a 3 and 1 victory over Sarah German of England.

Peggy Conley, 21, of Spokane, Wash., who eliminated Nancy Pearsall of England 6 and 4 and then won 1 up over England's Judy Blaymire.

Shelley Hadlin, of Fresno, Calif., smothered Mrs. Mary Holway of England 6 and 4 and then managed a 3 and 2 triumph over England's Jane Whitmore.

The beaten Americans, all of whom lost in the first round, were Roberta Albers of Temple Terrace, Fla., beaten by Scotland's Joan Smith 1 up on the 18th hole; Jean Ashley, 29, of Cheshire, Kan., 4 and 3, by Lile Collins of England; Mary Lou Dill, 21, the American champion from Deer Park, Tex., by Mrs. Cathie Barclay of Scotland; and L. and Phyllis Preys, 29, of Pompano Beach, Fla., by Dinah Oxley of England, 1 up.

Britann, France and Sweden also retained slots in the quarter-finals.

Their principal hopes are on Belle Robertson and Angela Bonalick of Britain, and Varangot and Odile Garandale of France and Liv Forsell of Sweden.

HERDING Canada geese toward a wing trap as part of a banding operation on Mormon Reservoir, biologists Steve Judd and Charles Blake of the Idaho Fish and Game Department, have to play a waiting game.

BREAKING OUT, this adult Canada goose eyes the circle of herding boats on Mormon Reservoir and remains unbanded — unless it was caught here a year or two ago.

NETTED after a watery game of hide-and-seek, this Canada goose was banded and released on Mormon Reservoir only a little wet and winded for its ordeal. Chasing down the escarpers is the highlight of the annual roundup.

BANDED AND RELEASED, this Canada honker now is part of the continent-wide management project to keep migration and nesting habits available to man, so hunting seasons and bag limits can be maintained at a safe level.

Mormon Lake Goose Population Herded, Banded

FAIRFIELD—The geese were not very cooperative and in fact, a couple of propellers paid off Canada honkers on Mormon Reservoir was conducted again this week by the Idaho Fish and Game Department and Camas County Rod and Gun Club.

In its ninth edition, the roundup, which comes when the adult birds are grouped by moult and the young are still flightless, is part of the continent-wide effort to maintain a close tab on the habits and population fluctuations of geese. The captured birds are banded with U. S. Wildlife Service aluminum bands and catalogued by sex, giving the date and place of the banding. Migration and nesting habits can be traced when these bands are turned in by successful hunters in the fall and again in the spring when some are recaptured in other banding operations. Over a period of time, biologists are able to piece together migration routes and these help in management. Hunting season bag limits and lengths can be adjusted up or down, according to the availability of birds from year to year.

This week's roundup did not come off like last year. A year ago Charles Blake, biologist in charge, had to let some go. He had 100 bands and those were used early in the day. Everything had gone splendidly.

But this week the geese didn't herd as well, some of the adults still able to get far enough out of the water to break the circle of herding boats. Although the herders started out with about 100 geese, only 26 wound up in the trap.

The geese were found in the Dairy area of the reservoir and herded toward an island. Long wing fences were set up along the shoreline to funnel the birds into the holding pen. Unlike last year, the geese were reluctant to leave the water and low water levels prevented quick maneuvering to keep them bunched. In fact, a couple of propellers paid off Canada honkers on Mormon Reservoir was conducted again this week by the Idaho Fish and Game Department and Camas County Rod and Gun Club.

The birds that evade the island trap really have taken the wrong way out. Armed with long-handled dip nets, the boats seek these refugees in a game of hide and seek. The geese dive, pop up 25 yards away and dive again when the splashing, churning boats start another swoop toward them. Eventually the bird is caught, wet and bedraggled, tagged and turned in.

Only two were taken that way this year, the low water keeping the boats cautious and in the middle.

The roundup put tags on 28 Mormon Reservoir birds, almost all being this year's crop. Another 28 were banded on Lake Walcott the previous week.

"It wasn't as good as we had hoped but we got some bands on some birds and it all contributes to the overall program. Next year we might get 100 again," Blake said.

Game management is like a ball game. Some things are better than others. The only important thing is winning over the long haul — important to the hunting future of the country, that is.

Veteran Who Lost Part Of Leg Wants To Be Detective

By ROY MALONE
ST. LOUIS (AP) — When Hubert Bankhead walks before the St. Louis police board next week, he hopes to convince them that just because a guy lost part of his leg in Vietnam is no reason he can't once again be a police detective.

The board will be faced with an unusual request. But Bankhead, a 26-year-old Negro, is an unusual man.

Teepee Tent Camp Set Up By Indians

OLYMPIA, Wash. (AP)—Another Washington had its Resurrection City today—a teepee and tent encampment set up by Indians who say they want their land back because white men haven't lived up to their treaties.

The camp, established on a corner of the state capitol grounds, is referred to by Indian leader Janet McCloud as "Resurrection City II." Some of its leaders also were active in the life of the first Resurrection City in the nation's capital.

When the camp started, Mrs. McCloud announced the Indians were reclaiming a good part of the state—including Olympia. She said the white man had broken the Medicine Creek Treaty of 1854.

She referred to a U.S. Supreme Court ruling that the treaty didn't give Northwest Indians the right to fish commercially for salmon off their reservations in violation of state conservation laws.

The current nighttime population of the camp, consisting of three 28-foot canvas teepees and four tents is 29, Mrs. McCloud said.

The settlement is officially ignored by the state.

Humphrey Denies He Is 'Status Quo' Candidate, Vows Vigorous Presidency

By CARL P. LEUBSDORF
Associated Press Writer
BISMARCK, N.D. (AP) — Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey denied today that he is a "status quo" candidate and pledged a vigorous presidency dedicated to "the achievement of both social order and social justice."

"I do not seek the presidency to preserve anybody's status quo," Humphrey said, responding to the contention by supporters of Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy that the vice president's support from old-line Democratic politicians reflects a dedication to the so-called "old politics."

"I seek the presidency to put it to work for the people—and work I will," Humphrey said in a speech prepared for the North Dakota Democratic Convention.

A late schedule change gave Humphrey the chance to get in last night's convention some three hours earlier. A poll of delegates, for the information of the convention's committee to select the state's 25 representatives to the party's national convention, takes place after the two candidates speak.

Most Democratic party leaders in the state, led by three-term Gov. William L. Guy, are backing Humphrey and he is expected to win a majority of the delegates.

The vice president flies here in late morning from Minneapolis after a day of meetings and relaxation at his Waverly, Minn., home. He then goes on to Democratic conventions Saturday in Oklahoma and Iowa.

Humphrey's speech here was composed mainly of a variety of pledges, designed to fire the party faithful for such things as tax reform, extension of medical benefits, feeding the poor and revitalizing rural America.

It also contained a couple of slaps at McCarthy and the Republican record during the presidency of Dwight D. Eisenhower.

"I do not seek the presidency to let its powers lie useless," Humphrey said, a contrast to his view of the need for an active presidency with McCarthy's announced intention of decentralizing some presidential powers.

Garbage Is Moved As Strike Ends

TORONTO (AP) — Pickup of more than 50,000 tons of accumulated garbage began today after a strike by 3,700 outside workers ended.

Members of the Canadian Union of Public Employees voted Thursday night 1,062-724 to accept wage proposals essentially the same as the government offered before the strike began a week ago.

The workers originally asked for a 50 per cent increase in the basic wage of $2.51 an hour for laborers. Prior to the strike they scaled down their demands to 20 per cent. They accepted a 15 per cent increase, 10 per cent retroactive to Dec. 31 and an additional five per cent on Dec. 31, 1968. The settlement will raise the hourly rate to $3 on Jan. 1.
