Torrential Rainfall Causes Flooding In El Paso, Juarez Leaving 5 Dead

EL PASO, Tex. (AP) — Torrential weekend downpours of up to 6.23 inches—almost as much as the average annual rainfall—claimed five lives and caused widespread flooding in El Paso and Juarez, just across the Rio Grande in Mexico.

An estimated 40 homes were swept away by floodwaters in Juarez and 125 persons were evacuated. The rainstorms, termed the "worst since 1913," caused an estimated $4 million in damage at Juarez. Flood waters temporarily halted the international street car line, which runs between El Paso and Juarez. Several cars were stranded on El Paso streets and the car-barns were under water.

CORE Recesses National Meet After Some Delegates Walk Out

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Congress of Racial Equality recessed its national convention Sunday after some delegates walked out in a dispute over the future course of the organization. CORE officials said the convention would be reconvened in another city next month for the purpose of considering and ratifying the new constitution. The city was not selected. The squabble also blocked the selection of a new CORE director to replace Floyd McKissick, who wants a leave of absence because of a bad back. Associate national director Roy Innis had hoped to take over McKissick's $16,500-a-year post at the windup of the five-day, 20th annual convention. Innis and other CORE leaders favor the building up of Negro communities and using foundation grants to do it. The Carson faction disagrees. McKissick is reported to be "reconsidering" stepping down until the dispute is settled.

Carson views black nationalism as total noncooperation with the "establishment"—including his money. He and other CORE chapters are reportedly angered at what they call "strongarm tactics" by Innis. Innis wants to reduce the autonomy of CORE's 200 chapters around the country and bring them under direct control of the national office. Carson, who has called for separate "black homelands" from Maryland to Florida, bunched by the Mississippi River on the East, says two other New York chapters, plus the Philadelphia and Kansas City units support him. Carson and his defectors indicated plans to form a new organization later this month in Philadelphia.

Idaho's Initiative Drives Have More Petitions, But All Are Still Short

BOISE (AP) — A few more petitions were received today in Idaho's three initiative drives, but all three remain short of the number of signatures required to place them on the ballot. Secretary of State Pats Carranza said it is possible more petitions, postmarked prior to the Friday deadline, may be in additional mail deliveries today or Tuesday. The added signatures boosted the totals to 23,392 for the dredge mining proposal, 22,281 for urban renewal and some 13,359 for daylight savings.

The deadline for filing petitions with voter signatures was midnight Friday. Signatures of 25,260 voters were needed to qualify each initiative proposal. He said he would accept petitions postmarked on or before Friday. There is also a possibility that legal action may be taken to qualify the drives. The signatures must be verified by county clerks. Supporters of at least one of the drives have indicated they may take legal action to contest signatures thrown out by the clerks. Hayden Hiller, Carranza's deputy, said Hiller, who kept the office open until midnight last Friday to receive petitions, gave these counts of signatures delivered to the office by Friday. — 23,011 signatures on the drive to make Idaho's dredge mining law more restrictive. — 22,271 on a proposal to qualify a popular vote on urban renewal projects. — 12,930 to take Idaho off daylight savings time. Carranza said the petitions sent to his office would be put in storage, which is the usual procedure.

U. S., Soviets Hope For Talks On Curbing Missile Race

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. officials say they hope the United States and the Soviet Union will work out a formula by the end of the week for starting talks on curbing the nuclear missile race. U.S. disarmament chief William C. Foster, plans a preliminary meeting with his Soviet counterpart, Alexei A. Roshchin, before the 17-nation disarmament conference opens its summer session July 16. Foster plans to leave for Geneva about Thursday. He and Roshchin as a delegation heads for the two nations sponsoring the continuing disarament parity are to stake out the agenda for the conference's third day. If, meanwhile, Washington-Moscow diplomatic exchanges have not completed the missile talks arrangements, the two may tackle this alone. It is possible that for international political convenience the two super powers will use the Geneva conference as an umbrella for their missile curb deliberations. But the serious bargaining seems most likely to come in private two-power meetings, perhaps in Moscow or Washington rather than Geneva. U.S. authorities figure neither of the major nuclear powers want to hire nuclear strength the heart of their military might, before announcing kilobaton, at the formal Geneva gathering. The seeming readiness by the two nations to at last tackle their own arms rivalry head-on has created an atmosphere of excitement among Washington strategists dealing with disarmament and East-West relations. The 1963 limited test ban treaty restrained the super powers arms race only in a special way because it still allowed nuclear weapons development through underground test blasts. The new arms control treaty signed last week outlawed the distribution of atomic weapons to nonnuclear nations but does not prevent the development of them from adding to their own arsenals. It is assumed in Washington that the Kremlin will announce 27th anniversary of readiness to begin the talks on missile restraint in order to promote alignment of the nonproliferation pact by the nuclear countries. The have-not states were pressing for a curb by the large powers on themselves.

LBJ Visits Capitals Of 5 Central America Lands

By FRANK CORMIER WITH PRESIDENT JOHN-SON IN CENTRAL AMERICA (AP) — A road of new hope for this hemisphere, embarked today on a tour of Central America, briefly visiting the capitals of the five nations. In the steamy, Nicaraguan capital of Managua, a roiling, flag-waving crowd greeted him at Las Mercedes Airport in a light, intermittent rain. After visiting El Salvador since Saturday for summit talks with five Central American presidents, Johnson was making brief stops also in Costa Rica, Honduras and Guatemala. He gave lifts home to the students of the city and the last stop—tonight—was to be the LBJ Ranch, which the President left Saturday for his journey south. Johnson at the departure ceremonies in San Salvador spoke of "the new strength and promise that we have here and our partnership." But he cautioned that the road that brought us here has no rainbow at its end—not yet. The U.S. president said the nations of Central America, with the help of the United States, are determined to master the challenges that remain. He said there was much to be met. He added that the meeting had "been fruitful because it has been responsible." Never before has any U. S. president visited all five Central American republics, and Johnson's reception in El Salvador seemed to indicate his effort was appreciated. Despite some fresh eggs, paint bombs and raw potatoes thrown at him—by student demonstrators—against the Vietnam war, shortly after his arrival Saturday, the crowds were big and friendly. As he drove through San Salvador and the surrounding countryside Sunday, he climbed onto the running board of his long black limousine at least five times to greet close-packed crowds, shake hands and deliver brief and im-

Officers And Mother Question Lack Of Action On Narcotics

By BONNIE JONES Times-News Staff Writer The mother of an 18-year-old Falls girl who was questioned last week by city and county officers after marijuana was found in the girl's bedroom told the Times-News Monday night she appeared that no charges were filed and no hearing was held for her daughter. Sheriff Paul Corder, two of his deputies and two Twin Falls police officers searched the home of the girl last Wednesday after obtaining written permission from the girl's mother and her grandfather, owner of the home. In questioning the girl, Sheriff Corder said, she told several different stories about the source of the marijuana seeds and cigarette butts found in her room. Sheriff's officers said they felt they had enough evidence to take the girl to court and felt such action at this time would be important in view of reported increases in traffic in this area in marijuana and other narcotics. Sheriff Corder, his deputies and city officers expressed concern that no action was taken in the case. The sheriff said he placed the girl on the stand to tell her story. He felt his officers conducted a sound investigation and that there was enough evidence to take the case to court to be decided by a judge and jury rather than an attorney, Sheriff Corder added. County Prosecutor Michael Felton was out of town Monday and unable to comment on his opinion of the case and evidence, but will be asked to do so. The mother of the girl involved said her daughter has also obtained a large collection of psychiatric literature and which she said appears to foster drug use among teenagers. "I'm talking with my daughter, I'm in Twin Falls, teachers probably about two-thirds of them, have used or do use marijuana. "They use it in cars at the drive-in theaters, drive-in restaurants, on roadshows and in homes—even in college dormitories," the mother said. Sheriff's officers said they feel the case in question indicates their hands are tied in further narcotics investigations and prosecutions.

work around Saigon, too, attempting to discourage massing of enemy regiments for an attack on the capital. The eight Stratoforters flew eight missions Sunday and Monday, 45 to 75 miles north and northwest of Saigon. The fighting at the eastern flank of the DMZ centered around Gio Linh, an allied camp base three miles south of Saigon. In two clashes Sunday, U.S. Marines, backed by air bombers, artillery and tanks, reported 67 North Vietnamese soldiers killed. Marine casualties were put at five killed and 17 wounded. He said he detected no fear of a second dejection of the pound, British still full crotch, the value of the pound by nearly 15 per cent. Advance signs of the agreement earlier in the day had sent Britain's long-suffering money climbing more than half a cent to $2.3880 on the foreign exchange markets. He described the new credit arrangement as something quite different from the emergency standby props that have been made available during the crisis and highway general. "This is a medium-term arrangement in the region of about 10 years," he said. State police said Leake was a passenger in a pickup truck driven by Arch Lyman, brother, 71, also of Dillon. They said brother apparently lost control of the vehicle on a curve of Idaho 22, two miles east of Howe, near a place called "The Bend." There were 110 highway deaths in Idaho during a comparable period in 1967.

U. S. Marines Kill 201 Reds In Four-Day Siege

By GEORGE ESPER SAIGON (AP) — U.S. Marines killed 201 North Vietnamese soldiers along the eastern end of the demilitarized zone during the last four days of fighting that could presage more big battles along South Vietnam's northern border, military spokesmen reported today. Sen. Huayn Van Cao told the South Vietnamese Senate in a speech that 30 North Vietnamese men—have been massacred around South Vietnam's two northernmost provinces, Quang Tri and Thua Thien in preparation for a new offensive. During the past eight days, U.S. Air Force B-52 bombers have flown 36 missions just west of the southern DMZ, along the southern fringes of North Vietnam to ease pressure on American forces along the northern frontier. The constantly heavy B-52 strikes, in which more than 5,000 tons of bombs have been dropped could be preparing for a major allied ground sweep along the DMZ. With the pressure along the northern border apparently increasing, the U.S. command front face the prospect of a two-front war date more. It still expects another major attack on Saigon, which intelligence reports are being developed by the two powers will only spur development of still more costly offensive missiles without providing real military security. And the Soviet economy is rated so much smaller than America's that its arms spending cuts more deeply into its peaceable program, even though the Kremlin has no Vietnam war outfit comparable to Washington's.

Idaho Counts 11 Deaths For Weekend

By The Associated Press Eleven persons died in Idaho over the long July 4 weekend, and 100 accidents on public highways. The others were two following a race track accident, three following and one in a certain collision on a private road. Idaho's 1968 highway death toll climbed to 141 with the death Sunday of Andrew Leake, 65, Dillon, Mont. State police said Leake was a passenger in a pickup truck driven by Arch Lyman, brother, 71, also of Dillon. They said brother apparently lost control of the vehicle on a curve of Idaho 22, two miles east of Howe, near a place called "The Bend." There were 110 highway deaths in Idaho during a comparable period in 1967.

Traffic Accidents Claim 601 During 4-Day Period

By The Associated Press Traffic accidents on the nation's roads and highways killed 601 persons over the four-day Fourth of July weekend. This was below the National Safety Council's prediction that 700 to 800 persons might die over the holiday period, which began at 4 p.m. Wednesday and ended at midnight Sunday. It is a record nonholiday weekend of the same length, 553 deaths occurred on the nation's roads. The National Safety Council's spokesman for the safety council said there appeared to be "a faint glimmer of hope" in the figures. It is the third major holiday this year we have either been under the estimate or near the bottom of it," the spokesman said. "This estimate last

Burley Woman Chosen As State Practical Nurse

BURLEY—Mrs. Dorothy Lattimer, Burley, was selected as Idaho's Licensed Practical Nurse of the Year during the group's 21st annual convention held at Blackfoot.

Mrs. Lattimer was nominated from Miss Cassia LPN's District No. 13. Since 1941 she has made her home in Burley. She is a charter member of LPN's of Idaho beginning in 1948. She served as president of the local district from 1948 through 1950 and served a fourth term in 1968.

From 1950 through 1961 she served on the state advisory board. At different times she served as secretary, vice-president and chairman of the membership committee in the local district. At present she is nursing full time in the 7 a.m. to 3 p.m. shift at Cassia Memorial Hospital. Prior to the closing of the Cottage Hospital in Burley she worked as a nursing staff for 13 and one-half years.

"Mrs. Lattimer is always seeking new members for the local LPN group, pointing out the good of the local district, as well as the State Association and the importance of belonging to both," stated her fellow nurses.

Mrs. Lattimer's co-workers had the following comments to say: "Dorothy is a very charitable person; just recently she insisted on paying a $11 amount of money to our local district for one of our members who was having a very sad experience. Dorothy felt that the girl should not be pressed for the money and paid it herself, unknown to others."

"Another stated, 'I remember that one year she paid my dues as I didn't have the money to join.'"

One trait that Mrs. Lattimer is admired for is she never says an unkind word about anyone, but always looks for the good in people. Her sense of humor is priceless; she usually helps her fellow workers in stitches and yet can be serious when needed by fellow workers say.

Mrs. Lattimer is always striving to better her education. In 1960 she attended the classes in Human Relations and Pharmacology and received a certificate from both classes. This is the first time she attended school, taking a class in American History and at the present time is enrolled in a class of Medical Terminology.

She is married to Claude Lattimer, the mother of five living children, two sons and three daughters. Two of her daughters are LPN's and one daughter works as an aide. Mr. and Mrs. Lattimer have 12 grandchildren.

After arriving home each day she assists her husband on the farm, feeding livestock and other chores farm work entails. She cares for three grandchildren while their mother works the 3 to 11 p.m. shift.

Besides the nursing and family activities Mrs. Lattimer is a member of the Episcopal Church, attending whenever she has Sundays off from work. She served as president of the Veterans of Foreign Wars in 1947 and is an active member of the Rebecca's.

The letter nominating Mrs. Lattimer for the State LPN of the Year award was written by Mrs. Hilga Biggs, a co-worker at Cassia Memorial Hospital.

Negro Woman Candidate Of Red Party

NEW YORK (AP)—A 38-year-old Negro woman from Harlem is the Communist party's candidate for president.

Charlene Mitchell was nominated Sunday at the end of a four-day convention of the Communist party, U.S.A.

"We plan to put an open occupancy sign on the White House lawn," Mrs. Mitchell said, "and we propose to put a woman in that house to beautify not only our highways but to beautify our lives."

Mrs. Mitchell is the first Communist presidential candidate since 1940.

It was expected that party general secretary Gus Hall would be the candidate but Mrs. Mitchell said that the "struggle for black liberation" is the nation's major problem and the party felt a Negro could best carry the issue to the people.

For vice president, the party's convention nominated Michael Zagarell, a 24-year-old white Brooklyn man who is the party's national youth secretary.

Noting that the U.S. Constitution requires a president and vice president to be 35 years old, Mrs. Mitchell asked newsmen that his youth might raise questions about the sincerity of the party in nominating him.

Zagarell is awaiting trial in connection with an arrest during an antidraft demonstration.

Mexico Party Claims Victory

MEXICO CITY (AP)—Mexico's ruling Institutional Revolutionary party claimed an overwhelming victory today in elections in five states and the opposition cried foul.

The party based its victory claim on preliminary vote totals from Durango, Chihuahua, Michoacan, Zacatecas and Campeche. The states elected governors and members of the state legislatures.

Defense Department Charts Plans To Cut 150,000 Jobs

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Defense Department, under strong pressure to slash spending, is working on plans that could trim more than 150,000 jobs from its civilian payroll.

Budgeting officials estimate this could save slightly more than $1 billion a year.

That is about a third of the $3 billion that Pentagon officials expect they will have to slice from defense spending this bookkeeping year in response to congressional orders.

But the Pentagon has been given no time limit for cutting its civilian work force, now totaling some 1.2 million men and women—virtually every state and overseas.

Presumably, the process could extend into the next fiscal year.

There are no indications of wholesale firings. The Pentagon hopes to accomplish its objective mainly through attrition.

This is in line with the apparent intent of Congress, which ruled recently that federal agencies may fill no more than 75 per cent of job vacancies created by the resignation, retirement, death or removal of full time employees.

What this all amounts to is a bolt-tightening, a partial freeze, and fewer opportunities for people looking for jobs with the armed services or defense agencies.

Since studies are now under way, officials said they cannot tell what the impact will be on the various states and defense installations within those states.

Other government departments and agencies also are under orders to limit their payrolls.

But none compare in size with the defense establishment, which normally accounts for about 40 per cent of total federal civilian employment.

Nearly all defense programs, except those connected with the Vietnam war, are undergoing close scrutiny and testing to determine whether they are essential.

A discussion was held on the enforcement of the present ordinance concerning the care of vacant lots and a decision was made to inform the owners by letter of their responsibilities to keep them weed free and prevent them from being a fire hazard.

It was felt that general appeal to the population to clean up all unsightly lots and buildings would greatly enhance the city. Any work done by the city to meet the requirements of the city ordinance would be billed to the owners or added to the taxes on the property. Cooperation of all property owners on this matter is solicited.

HAZELTON—Hazelton City Councilmen are considering building a swimming pool or tennis court or both. Members feel that this would be beneficial to the community.

They solicit the opinion of the public of the city and surrounding territory as to which one or both projects would meet the approval of the public as a whole. The people are asked to write to the "City of Hazelton" at once or call 829-5416 and express their opinions.

Bids will be accepted this week for the paving of the remainder of the streets within the corporate limits according to councilman Bluhm, street commissioner.

A sprinkling system in the large park was discussed at the last council meeting.

"The Bill Should Have Come Sooner"

July 8-9, 1968... PHONE 733-0931... Official City and County Newspaper...

WASHINGTON — "The bill should have come sooner," said Lyndon Johnson as he signed into law the new 10-per-cent surcharge on income taxes.

Rangers used anti-poverty monies to stock up on shotguns, the best grade of alcohols, the fanciest produce and groceries, as well as top brands of whiskeys and beers.

The Cassia County School District has a problem and resolving that problem won't be easy in the months to come. It could end in deconsolidation of that district and this would be tragic.

Dear Abby

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I hold an outstanding position, and have reached the point where I feel I ought to marry in order to have a wife to introduce to my associates.

My problem is that I have lived with a roommate for eight years. (A relationship neither accepted nor understood by most people.) My roommate is not happy with my decision, and feels I owe it to my future wife to tell her all about "us." I, however, believe it will only be asking for trouble. My fiancée is a very unsophisticated and religious girl and would never accept it.

I have spoken to my minister and to several doctors, and they say I am making a terrible mistake by marrying. If it weren't for my position and my love of children I would stay where I am. I know I can love a wife and make her happy, but I will always remember the beautiful years with my roommate.

I must admit that I don't "feel" any different toward my roommate, but I think I can handle this relationship even after marriage. Am I wrong? To look at me and my roommate you would never suspect we live this life. No names, or city, please. Sign me, "GAY."

DEAR "GAY": I can't give you any better advice than your minister and doctors have given you. Don't "use" a woman to try to fool the public. To date, it's your life only. Why foul up the lives of others?

DEAR ABBY: I know every one is in a hurry for an answer to involve other kids to go my route, which is something I will never be able to forgive myself for.

Then I realized all I could think about was getting the stuff and "I tried to kick the habit." It was hell, and I couldn't do it. I attempted suicide. I failed, and "woke up" in a hospital where I spent many months in the psychiatric ward. That saved my life, because there I started to learn all about who I really was and why I couldn't relate to society.

I am not "healed" yet, but I am on my way. I am going to go back to college in the fall, and if I make it, I'm going to make my life's work helping other addicts.

The best "cure" is to never start. Tell the kids this, Abby, over and over and over again, and for those who take it to heart it will be the best advice they ever had. LUCKY.

Everybody has a problem. What's yours? For a personal reply write to Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Cal. 90069 and enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

HAIR AND THERE

Q. I am a reasonably healthy 45-year-old man with only one obvious problem — why am I losing the hair on my head while the hair in my nostrils and ears is noticeably increasing? A. We searched high and low for an answer to this question and found nothing. So far as we can determine there is no satisfactory scientific explanation for this phenomenon.

YELLOW MELLOW

Q. Are the effects of yellow mellow similar to those of LSD? A. It is alleged that psychedelic "trips" can be had by smoking dried scrapings from the inner portion of the banana peel (banannadine or mellow-yellow). Chemical analysis of mellow yellow reveals nothing but inactive carbonlike substances. According to three qualified psychiatrists, the bananas for kicks idea is nothing but a hoax.

House Expected To Pass Gun Measure

By KENNETH J. FREED WASHINGTON (AP) — The House is expected to pass a gun control bill this week, but there is doubt a law providing stiffer restrictions on weapons can be sent to the president before Congress adjourns next month.

The more controversial bill calling for registration and licensing of handguns is scheduled today on these proposals as well as the proposed mail-order sale.

Supersonic Transport Program Chief Says Project Still In Good Shape

By VERN HAUGLAND WASHINGTON (AP) — The head of the supersonic transport (SST) program says the project is in good shape despite House action in not appropriating funds for the big plan for the upcoming fiscal year.

In fact, the funds were left out because SST program planners didn't want the money, Air Force Maj. Gen. J. Maxwell said in an interview.

"It's a decision against seeking money requested earlier was not forced down our throat; we took this position on our own without being told," Maxwell said about the House last week leaving SST funds out of the Transportation Department's $1.35 billion budget.

"It may be hard to believe, sort of like a Grimm's fairy tale, that we did not want more money, but that is the situation," Maxwell said.

Although no new money is provided for the SST, the program will have about $468 million previously appropriated but not used.

U.S. Charges Korea With 22 Incidents

PANMUNJOM, Korea (AP) — The U.N. Command charged North Korea today with 22 infiltration attempts across the demilitarized zone in the past two weeks and warned against any Communist miscalculation of its intention to defend South Korea.

In one of the border incidents, the command said, U.N. forces intercepted three infiltrators, killed one and wounded another.

The charges were made at a 27th meeting of the joint military armistice commission by U.S. Maj. Gen. Gilbert H. Woodard, the senior U.N. Command delegate.

The North Korean delegate, Maj. Gen. Pak Chung-kook, charged that the U.N. Command was making the charges to cover up its "criminal acts in Korea." Pak said the U.N. forces committed six serious violations between June 26 and July 7.

SAVE Almost HALF The LABOR COST

On a New VOLCO COMPONENT HOME!

You'll Be "Under Roof In A Day"

The VOLCO Way

Volco Builders Supply, Inc. announces the completion of Idaho's first house building structural component plant.

This $100,000 plant constitutes an expansion of the Volco Value Homes division of the company. The entire idea behind this new plant is to save you, the home buyer, money . . . lots of money.

Buy building components of houses by precision factory methods, using jigs and machines instead of individual man hours at the job site, saves almost half the labor time required to construct a House as opposed to old fashioned, "stick building" methods.

Component parts or assemblies built in the new factory include wall panels, roof trusses, cornice and gable ends, pre-hung doors, pre-hung windows and pre-built kitchen cabinets.

The new division's slogan "Under Roof in a Day the Volco Way" dramatizes the fact that with component building methods the average home can be constructed in one day using only four men on the job—and be ready for shingles the following day.

Component building should not be confused with prefab housing. Pre-fabricated houses, most often, are constructed like boxes with little consideration to design.

But, with component building, the house can take any form or design limited only by individual preferences and budgets.

Once a Volco Custom Component Home is built, it is impossible to tell the difference between it and a house built by traditional methods.

Also, the new installation contains a Structural truss machine which is the largest in the entire Intermountain area. With this machine Volco can manufacture conventional gable type trusses up to 60 feet in length, clear span.

New door machinery has been installed which not only pre-hangs doors but fashions ordinary flat door "blanks" into any of 60 different styles.

This new venture means a lot to you, if you are interested in building a new home.

Now, you can have your new home, designed and built the way you want it without sacrifice as to quality, design or style in about one-third of the time it takes to build by conventional "stick" methods and, most important of all, save yourself a considerable amount of money.

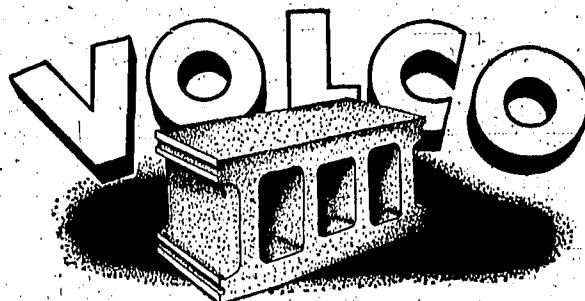

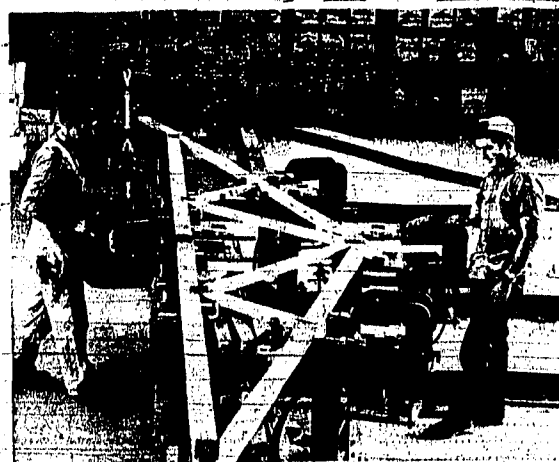

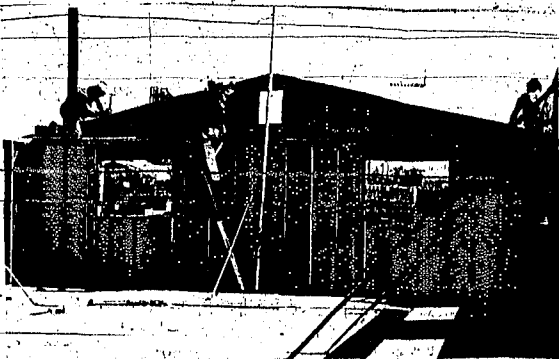

Component construction methods also lend themselves to the building of all types of farm buildings with similar savings to the cost-conscious farm operator.

One more point of emphasis is that kiln-dried lumber is used exclusively by Volco.

Volco is also selling component to contractors and lumber dealers in a two-state marketing area.

Although brand new to Idaho, component built houses now comprise about 60 percent of new home construction in America last year.

The lumber industry predicts that in a very short time, over 90 percent of home construction in our nation will be by the component method.

Business Mirror

By JOHN CUNIFF AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—A temptation to involve itself in the affairs of the Federal Reserve Board, that semiautonomous group that steers the nation's monetary policy, may be growing stronger in Congress.

Its role, as it has been acted out, is to watch the economy and keep it in line—by raising or lowering basic interest rates, for example, or by adjusting the volume of currency in circulation.

Over the years it has built a reputation as a severe and sometimes gloomy group not to be trifled with by Congress or anyone else. And so long as it didn't violate the laws, Congress couldn't move quickly against it.

However, Congress does control the laws under which the Fed acts, and it is now considering changes in them. The Fed release billions of dollars into the housing market when a lack of funds threatens a downturn in activity.

Sen. William Proxmire, D-Wis., committee chairman and often a critic of Fed activities, is breaking sharply with Congress' traditional hands off the Fed.

Originally the secretary of the Treasury was chairman of the board, and so chances of a congressional takeover were unlikely. But in 1935 the Treasury representation was removed.

As the years went by it was recognized that the basic aims of the reserved board involved it also in other affairs of state. And in 1940, when it became an official part of economic policy, it was given a more prominent role.

In handling the nation's monetary affairs, the Fed's objectives now are: Maximum sustainable economic growth, reasonable price stability, maximum employment, and equilibrium in international payments.

Eventually in carrying out these objectives the Fed was bound to offer what Congress and the President. And on Dec. 2, 1965, there developed a confrontation with Lyndon Johnson.

The President was spending heavily and otherwise following an expansive fiscal policy. The Fed stepped in and countered with a restrictive monetary policy.

It is like braking and accelerating at the same time, only when the driver is the market. The Fed is the driver; the market is the car.

Successful Investing

Q. A stock which interests us is not listed on either of the major exchanges. A. I am sorry to have confused my readers by an ambiguous and possibly misleading statement and gladly take this opportunity to clarify it.

A. Since you did not name the stock, I cannot pass judgment on its merit. But as a general rule I would advise you at your time of life to buy only regularly listed securities which you may readily follow.

Foreign securities traded in this country. If a foreign company wants to obtain financing in this country, stock is deposited in a European branch of an approved New York bank or trust company.

The parent institution in New York then issues American Depositary Receipts in corresponding value, selling them to the public. After their initial sale they continue to trade here just like an American stock, following a transaction they are transferred like stock certificates.

There may be a clue to future success that phrase some critics feel the independence of the board has been damaging to the nation's economy. Congress could change the laws; its hand could become heavier than in the past.

This is a long and sometimes interesting past. In 1913 the Federal Reserve was set up as a central bank for the United States, an elastic currency, one that would expand and contract with activity, and to supervise the banking system.

The measure that involved it also in other affairs of state. And in 1940, when it became an official part of economic policy, it was given a more prominent role.

need the purchase prices to figure the tax obligations—D.D. A. I am sorry to have confused my readers by an ambiguous and possibly misleading statement and gladly take this opportunity to clarify it.

The tax basis for inherited stock is the value at which it was reported for estate tax purposes, either the value as of the date of death or as of one year later. The heir is bound by the price as reported in the estate tax return.

When I was writing this particular column I had in mind the need to establish costs in the event of gifts of stock. In such a case, the basis for the gift tax is the market value at the time of the gift—or the cost to the donor—whichever is the lesser.

RALPH PETERS — are vying for the Republican nomination for Jerome County state representative in the Aug. 6 primary. Mr. Lattimer is currently serving his eighth year as county commissioner. Mr. Bentzinger owns the Jerome Implement Co., and Mr. Peters is president of the Jerome Title and Abstract Co.

Jerome Has 3-Way Choice In Aug. 6 Primary Vote

JEROME — Jerome voters are not willing to assume responsibility of providing it, we must push for a regional airport as provided by law.

Mr. Peters is a farm owner, member of the Farm Bureau, Chamber of Commerce, and active in Boy Scout work. He is Bentzinger, owner of the Jerome Implement Co., and Ralph Peters, president of the Jerome Title and Abstract Co.

Mr. Lattimer, who has lived in the county since 1919, has been a member of the Valley School board for 14 years and is in his eighth year as county commissioner from district 3.

"I believe the people should endeavor to work out their problems locally," Mr. Lattimer said, adding taxes have reached the saturation point and he opposes any increase unless it is proved the hike is necessary.

"I favor the present phase out of the inventory tax with continued protection of the present taxing districts from sales tax income. One of the most important problems in Idaho is water which must be protected," he stated.

The candidate is opposed to gun control legislation and favors that present laws regarding guns, rioting and looting should be enforced.

Mr. Bentzinger, who has owned the Jerome Implement Co. since 1953, said "A primary concern of mine is to hold onto taxes and protect us all from indiscriminate and reckless spending of tax money. I also stand for full repeal of the discriminatory inventory tax to promote the business climate in Idaho and encourage our youth to remain within the state by providing more jobs."

"We do not have the excess of water many people think we have and we need to preserve it," he declared. "Magic Valley needs a full capacity airport. If Twin Falls city and county

Terrorists In Cuba Set Fire To 2 Plants

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — The secret-exile terrorist band, Cuba Power, said today that its men had set fire to two plants inside Cuba.

"Cuba Power is fully responsible for the sabotage at Havana's Neco oil refinery and Orlen's feed factory," the organization reported in a cablegram from Panama.

Havana Radio has reported that two persons died, and 13 others were injured in the refinery blaze last Tuesday and that a fire damaged a chicken feed factory in Saguaiegre.

The refinery, Cuba's largest, was taken over by the Fidel Castro regime from Esso Standard Oil Co.

Conservative Party In Japan Leads

TOKYO (AP) — Japan's ruling conservative party, after campaigning for continued close ties with the United States, took a commanding lead today in returns from the upper house elections and demonstrated once again that anti-Americanism doesn't pay off at the polls in Japan.

With 70 per cent of Sunday's vote counted, Prime Minister Eisaku Sato's Liberal Democrats were assured 58 of the 180 seats at stake in the 250-seat House of Councillors. Since they also have 88 uncontested seats, they had a good chance of boosting their strength beyond the 139 they had.

The anti-American Socialists, who want the U.S.-Japan security treaty scrapped and American military bases removed from Japanese soil, had won 16 seats and held 37 that were not in contest. They were not expected to reach the total of 73 seats they held before the election.

GUNMAN

RICHMOND, Va. (AP) — An armed man demanded money from the night auditor at a motor inn. The auditor handed over about $100 from a cash drawer.

"That is not enough money," the gunman protested, as he backed out the door without his take.

LEAVES HOSPITAL

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Folk singer Jimmie Rodgers, who has undergone three operations, in seven months to repair a brain injury, left St. Vincent's hospital Sunday.

Laws Sought

NEW YORK (AP) — Insurance companies, digging deep into their pockets for property losses incurred from racial disorders, have been "catalyzing" police to state and city officials have disclosed.

To head off further conditions, new laws are being sought. One measure signed last Wednesday by New Jersey Gov. Richard J. Hughes creates a high risk pool for danger areas similar to certain types of automobile insurance coverage.

New York State expects to follow suit on the pool plan, in September.

Last Major Bastion Of Paris Student Rebellion Has Fallen

PARIS (AP) — The last major bastion of the student rebellion in Paris fell without a fight today.

Police at dawn moved into the new medical school on the Rue des Saules-Pere and evicted the 17 students holding out in the big four-story building. The red flag waving over the roof was hauled down, and the most important University of Paris building held by the students who revolt early in May touched off France's worst postwar crisis.

The police were helmeted and carried rifles, but there was no resistance. The students, who included four girls, whistled and joked as they were taken away for questioning.

The holdouts had been waiting for days for the police to come. They said they would not oppose them.

"A single tear has bombarded the windows and sends us all running," said one.

On June 16 the police took over the Sorbonne, the headquarters of the revolt. The school of fine arts, which produced anti-De Gaulle posters, was taken on June 27. Last Friday it was the turn of the school of science and the new Sorbonne annex on the Rue Censier.

There was no resistance at any of them. A few dozen students were taken to a police station, and some were kept overnight. Some of them wrote newspapers charging that they were not fed nor allowed to call their parents.

Police also arrested a few persons who were not students, including several of the "Gangsters" who had made trouble at the Sorbonne. They got their name from some of their numbers who said they had served with mercenary troops in the Congo-Katanga province.

Sunday afternoon at the medical school there was still a little of the carnival atmosphere that had the Sorbonne swinging during the students' rebellion. But it was more subdued.

Appointments Set At Boise Paper

BOISE (AP) — Eugene C. Dorsey, published of the Statesman Newspapers, has announced three new executive appointments in the editorial department.

Sandor S. Klein, managing editor of the Statesman since 1954, has been named to a newly-created post of executive editor.

Dorsey said Richard P. Gromak, night editor since 1963, succeeds Klein as managing editor.

Succeeding Hronek as night editor is Walter Johnson.

COW SHOT

KANSAS CITY (AP) — A two-year-old cow was shot to death by police when it charged several children. The animal had escaped from an overturned cattle truck and a spokesman said it was mauling some children and had charged several of the youngsters.

Police also arrested a few persons who were not students, including several of the "Gangsters" who had made trouble at the Sorbonne. They got their name from some of their numbers.
