Hijacked Airliner Passengers Cheer As They Land On U.S. Soil

By BOB M. GASSAWAY
MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Fifty-six passengers back from a hijacked airliner flight to Cuba joined in a lusty cheer Wednesday night when they landed on U.S. soil in a plane chartered by the U.S. State Department for their return trip.

Force senior master sergeant from Biloxi, Miss., said two men saw the hijacker off in Los Angeles. All three spoke Spanish.

They looked like they were sending him off on a big trip," Neil reported. Neil's wife and son also were aboard the hijacked airliner.

Marine Lt. Col. Lawrence Hoover of Wilmer, Ala., a veteran of the Vietnam war, said: "They just asked a few questions about did I think I should have been over there (in Vietnam). I told them anything the United States has anything to do with, I'll be there."

Kathleen Dickinson of Coral Gables, Fla., acted as an interpreter for the gunman, who she said was "extremely nervous."

Cuban authorities released the DC-8 jet but held the passengers, claiming the runway was too short to permit the loaded craft to take off—the same explanation given when a Northwest Orient DC-8 was forced to return to Miami July 1 without its passengers.

"We all let out a great big cheer when we lifted off the ground in Cuba," Balamonte said; "and we all let out a cheer when we touched down" in Miami.

DAVID ALLISON gets a welcome home kiss from his bride-to-be, Patricia Young, at the Miami International Airport Wednesday night. Allison was a passenger on the National Airlines jet that was hijacked Wednesday morning and flown to Havana, Cuba. The passengers arrived back in Miami late at night. Allison and Miss Young hope to marry Saturday. (AP wirephoto)

Idaho Tax Collection Predictions Revised Upward

BOISE (AP) — A larger-than-expected increase in income tax revenues prompted Idaho fiscal authorities today to revise upward their predicted tax collections in the current biennial year period. At present that total is estimated at $185 million.

Fortas Says He Tries To Decide Cases On Basis Of Constitution

By JOHN CHADWICK
WASHINGTON (AP) — Associate Justice Abe Fortas said today he doesn't know whether Supreme Court decisions have contributed to rising crime rates, simply because of a constitutional prohibition him from answering.

The Constitution says justices should not be held accountable to explain their views and opinions," Fortas said.

The distinction, Fortas said, is that he could not be required to answer questions. But, at the same time, "it is part of a judge's duty to represent and advocate obedience to the law," he said.

Ambulance Plan Rapped By Burns

JEROME — Providing ambulance service is the responsibility of the county commissioners, not the sheriff's office, Sheriff James (Pat) Burns said Thursday.

The sheriff, who is seeking re-election to the post he has held the past 20 years, commented that the suggestion of his opponent, Irving Altman, Jerome County Justice of the Peace, that the sheriff's office should operate the ambulance as "impractical and expensive."

Mr. Altman stated in Tuesday's Times-News that he believes the sheriff's office could purchase a station wagon and other necessary equipment for under $4,000.

"Jerome needs a locally-based ambulance service," the sheriff declared, "but arrangement for the service is the legal responsibility of the commissioners. The primary function of the sheriff's office is law enforcement."

Sheriff Burns said that in his opinion, at least, two qualified people are needed at all times to provide adequate ambulance service.

"At the barest minimum" it would cost $12,000 per year for two qualified men plus a vehicle, which would carry a $7,500 equipped," the candidate said, adding it would be impossible for a deputy to give first aid, rush the injured to the hospital, direct traffic, to say nothing of writing citations and arranging to clean up the accident scene."

The incumbent outlined the duties of the sheriff's office, as required by Idaho code, are to preserve the peace, make arrests, attend court sessions, take care of county prisoners and serve notices—as well as keep records, give examinations and sell clerical licenses.

"I intend to run on my record of the past 20 years," Sheriff Burns stated.

War Is Economically, Morally Wrong

WASHINGTON — In the final analysis, all war is evil for the simple, compelling reason that it costs human lives. It even one man, woman or child dies because of a sword unsheathed, no statesman has the right to speak of a "just" war, inevitable, perhaps, or unavoidable, but never just.

What Harkins is getting at is that these are not just cold statistics, but constitute one of the warm answers to the nation's inability to deal with domestic problems which cry for massive expenditures. "It is true," he says, "that we can have both guns and butter in our rich economy. But what is spent for one cannot be spent for the other, and when there is less butter we can only spread it thinner."

Most of those who buy Harkins' book will discover for the first time that a certain type of shell costs $168, and that these and other shells are being spent in little South Vietnam in quantities greater than those used by U.S. forces in World War II.

Harkins' book, then, is more than a little bigger than that of New York State. This is only slightly less than the 658,000 tons of bombs we dropped on the Pacific in 1945.

What Harkins does best — and it will make every reader cringe — is present a detailed analysis of the economic effects of the conflict. He makes the cost of the war to the United States in dollars and cents almost a thing.

The Flag Comes Down

An American flag came down on a Pacific island the other day and the event received little attention. It should have made page one every where, because that act symbolized much about the United States.

Jimma back to the Japanese the other day and the Stars and Stripes came down permanently. The U. S. didn't have to give the island back to its former enemies.

Railroads Demur

The Association of American Railroads predictably opposes a bill in Congress designed to slow down the abandonment of passenger trains, and to conduct a survey of the service that is left.

discontinued in 10 years under Section 13-A of the National Transportation Act.

Gas Giveaways

Massachusetts has followed Maryland's lead in banning giveaways of gas. Gas giveaways are calculated to lure customers into gasoline service stations.

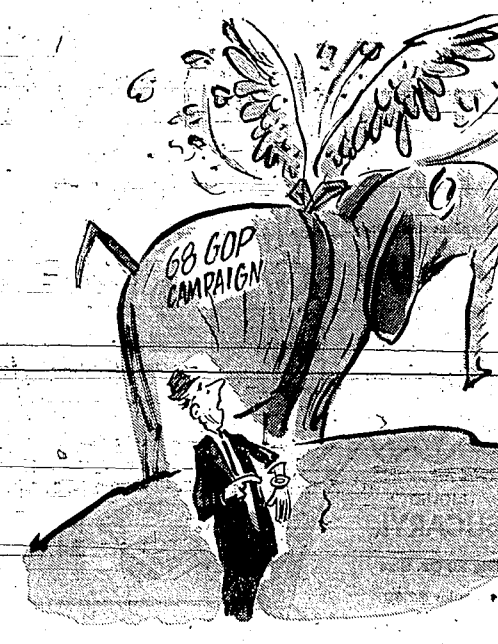

customers only contribute to the prizes. Another pernicious practice turned up in congressional hearings. There the wife of a Baltimore dealer demonstrated how, without a miss, she could pull winners out of a stack of tickets.

MR. SPECTATOR

There are a big lot, that is true, but they treat all wounds. If the Union School west of Twin Falls is, for a fact, closed, the world will go on just the same and in a very few weeks even students who are sent to new schools will have a hard time remembering what the old school really looked like.

McCarthyites Juggle Figures

WASHINGTON (NEA)—When you posture yourself for moral purity, as Sen. Eugene McCarthy's forces have done from the outset, you have to expect to be held to standard.

for by the Coalition for a Democratic Alternative, an organization supporting McCarthy, includes some figures which directly reflect an argument made by McCarthy's own headquarters and advanced in mullings of delegates.

They cite combined Kennedy-McCarthy votes of 69 per cent in Indiana, 82.5 per cent in Nebraska, 84 per cent in Oregon and 88 per cent in California.

Only in New Hampshire, where the regular Democratic organization mounted a serious write-in for Representative President Johnson, and in Wisconsin, where he was on the ballot and still a candidate until two days before the voting, could any real test be had.

Johnson beat McCarthy, 49 to 42, in New Hampshire. McCarthy beat Johnson, 57 to 35, in Wisconsin.

There Are Jolts In Life

It will be a big jolt, that is true, but they treat all wounds. If the Union School west of Twin Falls is, for a fact, closed, the world will go on just the same and in a very few weeks even students who are sent to new schools will have a hard time remembering what the old school really looked like.

Family Ties

Any excuse for a holiday! There are now so many "special days" set aside for celebrating the various holidays and events that they are being written into union contracts and Congress is moving to bunch them around weekends.

the death of one or the other, yet too frequently we like make the presence of family ties in somebody who is "always there" and family disharmony, when the young lose sight of the light in the window, they get lost.

Look about us: strong, stable governments derive from a strong family life. Conversely, weak governments and societies are characterized by loose family ties.

Before the Oriental began to write, we functioned by group many generations of Chinese Americans there was not one family, but a whole nation.

Let's get the family together. We've been searching too far from home for the people who really need us.

Asthma Causes

Dear Dr. Molner: Do you have any information on the causes of asthma and what can be done? If a young person in her 20's has periodic occurrences, can it be the result of a childhood infection?

It can, truly, make the problem worse as time passes. Thus medications which relieve congestion during an attack are useful in more ways than one. There is the direct relief of breathing, but there is also the emotional reassurance that the attacks can at least be alleviated.

Dear Dr. Molner: Are sleep masks harmful if worn every night?—R.N.

Dear Dr. Molner: I have a child who has asthma. Can you help?

United Fund Budget Requests Reviewed

By RUTH KOONCE MILLER — Campaign chairman for the Times-News Staff Writer — 1969 drive, Dr. Thad Scholtes, Members of the Twin Falls Members of the agency relations committee have been meeting Mr. Cook are Jerro Cover, Egon Kroll, Mary Anderson, Henry Jensen, Bill Evans, Bob Alexander, Ken Newman, Steve Bancroft, W.W. Frantz and Ivan Skinner.

Through individual breakfast meetings, the committee is preparing to determine the campaign goal for 1969. The campaign, according to Harold Cook, chairman of the Agency Relations Committee, will be kicked off Sept. 30.

One or more members of his committee have been assigned to work closely with each agency during budget building, so that United Fund representatives can become familiar with the various agencies' operating procedures. It is expected that such contact will help the United Fund committee more properly analyze budget requests.

"We are emphasizing that this is more than a United Fund drive," Mr. Cook stated, "that it is, in reality, a united drive for funds to support nine important agencies and services in the Twin Falls area."

"The budget of each agency will undergo a thorough examination by our committee, and it is being stressed to them the importance of the campaign from a financial standpoint, and that we expect each agency to provide a sizeable force of campaign workers," he added.

"This year the Mental Health Association will join the eight agencies which have been part of United Fund for several years. The other agencies are Arthritis Foundation, Salvation Army, YMCA, YWCA, Girl Scouts, Fire Girls, American Red Cross, Boy Scouts of America, and USO."

Wallace Drawing Concern

By WILLARD H. MOBLEY
WASHINGTON (AP) — George Wallace's growing muscle in public opinion polls is matched by increasing concern in both major parties over his potential impact on the presidential election.

Republicans regarded at this stage as most likely to suffer from a big Wallace vote, appear to be the most concerned.

But Democrats are worried that the former Alabama governor could grab off enough Electoral College votes to toss the election into the House of Representatives.

Wallace, in campaign speeches, has been gleeful at the prospect.

With the exception of Republican presidential hopeful Richard M. Nixon, the major candidates of both parties have had little or nothing to say publicly on the possibilities.

A bipartisan move to neutralize the effect of a big Wallace showing has been launched by Reps. Charles E. Goodell, R-N.Y., and Morris K. Udall, D-Ariz.

They plan to set up a steering committee next week to spearhead a drive for pledges by candidates for election to the House to vote for the presidential candidate who wins the greatest popular vote.

"The initial reaction has been very good," said Goodell Wednesday night.

Nixon, campaigning in Philadelphia early in the week, figured Wallace a likely winner in Alabama, Mississippi, Louisiana and possibly Georgia, and conceded Wallace's third-party candidacy could hurt him in a general election.

Some well-placed officials in Washington, notably Rep. Bob Wilson of California, chairman of the House Republican Committee which looks out for GOP members' campaign interests, go a good deal farther in estimating what Wallace might get.

By Wilson's calculations there is a chance Wallace might carry nearly all the South and even some border states.

Ground Water Outlook Good In Mountain Home

BOISE (AP) — The Idaho Department of Reclamation has made available a study which states the outlook is good for development of ground water in the Mountain Home area.

The study area covered about 750 square miles between Mt. Bennett Hills and the Snake River and most of the area is dependent upon ground water for domestic and irrigation water supplies.

The report says the area allows high yield wells with water levels ranging from 350-400 feet below the surface.

Samuelson Believes Idaho Has Made Progress In Ability To Fight Fires

COOLIN, Idaho (AP) — Gov. Don Samuelson says he believes Idaho has made progress since "last" year in sharpening the state's ability to fight forest fires but warns "much remains to be done."

In a prepared statement Samuelson said legislative measures passed in the last session, together with the work done by the Idaho Land Department in cooperation with the timber protective associations, forest industries and the Forest Service, Idaho is in a better position to take care of fire problems than had formerly been the case.

"Some of the measures (taken by the state) to improve forest protection include use of a contract retardant aircraft which will be based at Coeur d'Alene. In addition, a helicopter contract will be in effect within a few days. Both of these aircraft will be available to the several state districts in Northern Idaho as well as the Priest Lake and Clearwater-Pulaski timber protective associations," Samuelson said.

"He said "cooperative agreements between the Forest Service and the state and the associations have been improved to provide better financial arrangements for attack on boundary line fires.

"The state has ordered numerous mobile and portable rathos, 10 heavy pump trucks and other heavy equipment which was financed by the last special session of the legislature.

"An additional staff position," he said, was established in the Department of Public Lands to assist in forest protection and additional oversight will be available through the use of personnel from other state agencies."

Samuelson released the statement Tuesday following a boat trip on Priest Lake and an airplane flight over the Sundance Mountain burn area.

The ride and flight concluded

A 16-YEAR-OLD RESIDENT of the Chelan County Juvenile Center, Wenatchee, Wash., recently discovered that he was bigger than he thought. He couldn't quite squeeze through a 12-by-6-inch opening in a steel door in trying to escape. The boy was released by firemen using a cutting torch. (AP wirephoto)

Methods To Prevent Plane Hijacking Being Studied

By VERN HAUGLAND
AP Aviation Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Devises to photograph passengers boarding a plane, keep them under secret inflight surveillance or to detect large pieces of metal like a pistol are being considered as ways to prevent airline hijacking.

But both government and private agencies admit little has been done or can be done immediately to prevent the crimes, which carry a maximum penalty of death.

"We are studying numerous methods to be able possibly to detect firearms and to prevent and deter hijacking. But none of these methods has shown itself presently acceptable," said Richard Swift, assistant director of the Federal Aviation Administration's flight standards service.

Swift said one area of research involves a device which would detect any size metal object, such as a concealed gun, but would not react to smaller articles such as key rings or belt buckles.

William Becker of the Air Transport Association said the airlines will have meetings next month to "really take a close look" at one particular device which may be produced commercially.

The device would be installed at gates to film boarding passengers, hopefully it would detect any indication that could lead to a just separation of the individual for closer inspection.

Swift said the FAA has trained some employees to travel anonymously on various flights, watching for potentially dangerous items carried by passengers, handbags, blackjacks and a device for spraying tear gas.

The FAA also is considering use of viewers inside the cockpit, giving the flight crew surveillance over the passenger cabin, as well as means of increasing the cockpit's security.

By law, the doors to cockpits are kept locked except on takeoff and landing. As the result of an agreement reached in 1965, most airlines also now have a one-way mirror in the cockpit door, enabling the flight crew to peer through without being seen.

Door jams also have been installed, to prevent the doors from being kicked in. But the airlines have resisted a proposal that cockpit doors be armored.

Pilots contend that the moment a passenger produces a gun and threatens to use it, he has the plane in hostage whether the cockpit door is locked or open, armored or not.

Employment Director Steps Down

BOISE (AP) — The director of the Idaho Department of Employment since 1943, H. Fred Garrett, has decided to step down.

Garrett, who will be 66 later this month, said Wednesday "My family thinks it's time I took some time off."

Garrett said he discussed the matter Wednesday with the Employment Department Advisory Council and the council will meet again July 30. The council must submit three names to the Governor who will choose Garrett's successor.

Gov. Don Samuelson's administrative aide Doug Bean said Garrett had discussed the matter with the governor and Bean said the change in department leadership would probably take place in about 30 days.

Garrett started his state government career in 1938 as chief accountant for the employment department and five years later took over as director.

The department handled only unemployment matters when he started, Garrett said. It was only about one tenth the size then. It now has about 400 employees.

A native of Boise, Garrett said he plans to stay in this area, but has no specific plans.

9 AWOL GIs Are Husted To Stockade

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Nine AWOL servicemen made a quick transition from church to stockade Wednesday when military police unceremoniously confiscated at the end of their 48-hour anti-Vietnam war protest by cutting chains that bound each to a clergyman.

John Robinson, 34, a Marine enlistee from Westport, Conn., said: "Cutting of these chains does not really break the bonds. I hope what we're doing will give some kind of enlightenment to others."

Eight of the servicemen began what they called a "community service of liberation" at 1 p.m. Monday at Howard Presbyterian church here, each chained to a church leader. A ninth serviceman joined them Tuesday.

A bomb threat Tuesday night resulted in all transferring to St. Andrews Presbyterian church in Marin City, across the Golden Gate.

Military police had observed the proceedings off and on but took no action until the service neared its end.

They were invited to participate in the "communion" by the Rev. James Symons, minister of St. Andrews, who said: "This is not a table here, but here are invited to share in this communion."

The MPs made no move to join in, but stood directly behind the chained men.

Symons said: "God is not dead ... the bread is rising. The bread is revolutionary. The revolutionary Jesus is winning," as wine was poured from a silver chalice and bread was broken.

"The world is beginning to join in the freedom meal. The war is over and the liberated zone is at hand," he said.

Then with the final "amen," the 18 men were led outside where huge bolt cutters severed the chains.

The servicemen were hustled into two waiting patrol wagons and taken to the San Francisco Presidio Stockade.

Ground War Lull Reflected In Casualties

SAIGON (AP) — The prolonged lull in major ground fighting in the Vietnam War was reflected again in a drop in the number of men killed on both sides last week, official figures disclosed today.

The U.S. Command said 188 Americans were killed in combat last week, a decrease of 10 from the week before and the second lowest toll of the year.

The number of dead came in the week that ended last Jan. 6 when 184 were killed.

The number of Americans wounded last week increased slightly to 1,337, compared with 1,248 a week earlier. Of last week's wounded, spokesmen said 760 were hospitalized and 577 did not require hospitalization.

South Vietnamese headquarters reported 73 government soldiers killed last week, the lowest number since the week ending March 2, when 139 died.

South Vietnamese wounded last week were listed at 600, compared with 597 the previous week.

Performances Of "Ichabod" Slated

By ARVETTA SAVAGE
Times-News Correspondent

HEYBURN — The unexpected happenings—during a stage production held nightly out-of-doors, discovered by audiences attending the summer season of "Ichabod" by the Junior University.

Presented at 8:30 p.m. Wednesday through Saturday, the show is on the newly purchased portable outdoor stage at Budge Field in Burley. The show is considered nothing less than a outstanding.

The outdoor production is something new for this area, as is the Children's Theater being made available by Gene Larson, founder and instructor of the Junior University.

It seems that the unexpected usually happens anyway, but the experience of witnessing this unique production in the out-of-doors, was truly delightful.

June Bugs were lighting; unwelcomed on the heads of performers.

At the end of the sunset takes advantage of Daylight Savings Time and stays in the eyes of spectators longer than desired.

White cats sharing the bleachers with a smiling audience.

But the incident which delighted the audience most of all Saturday night, was seeing a tiny human-hand come down under the blanket body of the character horse and scurry in mosquito bites being submitted to the "hind legs."

When young Joyce Larson, playing the part of the horse's hind legs, kind of giggled good enough without bringing her small hands too far in view of the audience, she pulled one leg up under the blanket body to be scratched by the hidden hand.

The overall production, which includes a one-of-a-kind curtain raiser, is fun for both performers and the audience. The music is lively with a continuous entertaining beat and is played by a warm natural touch of Mr. Larson.

The performance of Frank Cheney in the title role of Ichabod is considered outstanding and he never ceases to lose character of the "dimwitted" Ichabod. Ichabod, who is passing as a highly wise and intelligent person, actually is receiving prompts from his most remarkable "talking" horse.

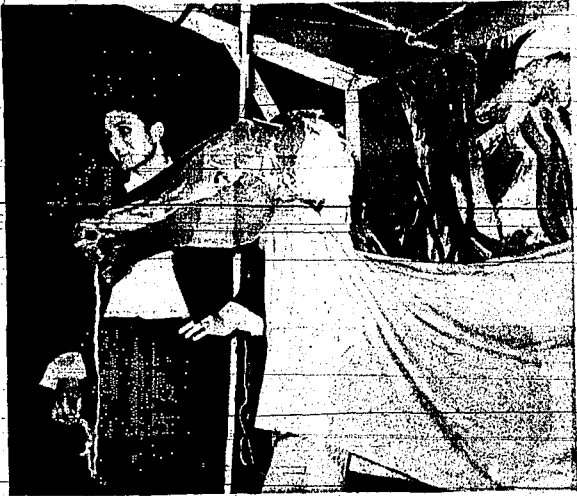

Painted scenery, being quickly arranged by means of two large galleys, provides the viewer with a good sense of location and proves that a production can carry on successfully without most of a curtain.

After a scene, the lights are turned out, scenery swiveled and a couple of props brought in by moonlight, creating no apparent drastic change before the audience. The scenery was designed by Leon Hale of the University of Utah, and is handled by Boyd Hancock, technical director of Riverside, Calif.

Junior University singers include both piano and vocal students, who are receiving the opportunity of experience in both fields of music. Mr. Larson has instructed and prepared the entire group so professionally that it is difficult to tell exactly which of the singers are piano students.

"Sunday Excursion," which is being presented as a curtain raiser, was presented during the BYU Education Week in Twin Falls.

William R. Dixon, San Bernardino, Calif., originator of Ichabod's musical score and script, which was adapted from Washington Irving's story of the Legend of Steeple Hollow, plans to attend one of the performances. Dr. Dixon, who is a personal friend of Gene Larson, is currently in a Los Angeles "Rumpstiltskin," another of his original scores, in Southern California.

Dear Abby

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: Remember me? I wrote to you 6 years ago and here I am again. I should have taken your advice because things aren't any better. I am still living with the same woman I wrote you about. I think the world of her, but her kids keep me upset all the time.

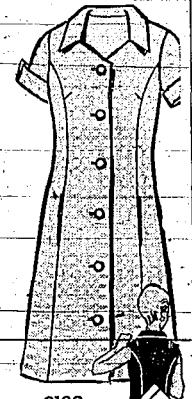

I built this beautiful home for them, and it is always a mess. Her kids are now 17, 16, and 15 and they're all lazy as peacocks. They have no respect for their mother, and she won't let me handle them.

I would marry her tomorrow but she is very independent and likes things the way they are. (The kids think we're married.) What is wrong with her, anyway? It's usually the woman who begs for marriage, but in this case, it's me. So what is your advice? LIVING IN SIN

DEAR LIVING: Lots of things could be wrong with her, but don't waste too much time trying to figure them out. You can't force a woman to marry you, and from your description of her and her brood, you could be lucky. Ask a lawyer what your legal obligations are to this woman and her children. A man in your situation ought to know where he stands.

Miss Bertie, Harmon Wed

A double-ring candlelight ceremony united in marriage Co. Irene Bertie, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John P. Bertie, Twin Falls, and Harlan Dean Harmon, son of Mr. and Mrs. Burton Harmon, Hamlet, June 15 at the First Baptist church, Twin Falls.

MR. AND MRS. HARLAN DEAN HARMON (Dudley photo)

Rev. Robert C. Cooper, Jerome, officiated at the ceremony before an altar decorated with baskets of pink gladioli and pink chrysanthemums, flanked by brass candelabra holding white tapers. The aisles were marked with cascading decorations of ivory satin bows, Stephanotis and ivy. Traditional organ music was played by Mrs. Frances Rider and Mrs. Robert Golly, Jerome, was soloist.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a bridal gown designed by Bellville of London and made for her by Mrs. Fern Campbell, Troy. Her gown was fashioned in a structured A-line of ivory satin, accented with shaped black hemline. The gown was accented at the bodice with beaded and Chantilly lace. The full-length bell-shaped sleeves and hemline were scalloped and edged with Chantilly lace.

The pleated chapel train fell from the shoulder yoke, matching the accents on the bodice and hemline. Her elbow-length veil was mounted with an accenting crown of roses. She carried a contemporary bouquet of white roses, pink gerberas and ivy with accents of pink velvet tubing.

Bridal attendants were Susan Karaloff, sister of the bride, as matron of honor, with Rose Ash, Bahl, and Becky Kemp, Grangeville, both dormitory sisters of the bride, as bridesmaids. Patty Bertie, daughter of the bride, as Junior bridesmaid.

Gary Leymaster, Sacramento, Calif., was best man, and ushers were Delbert Harmon and Lynn Harmon, both brothers of the bridegroom, and Tim Bertie, brother of the bride.

Candlelighters were Dave Armstrong, cousin of the bride, and Alan Wubker. They also acted as ushers.

The reception was held in the fellowship hall of the church immediately after the ceremony. The bride's table was covered with a white satin cloth with floor-length flounces encircling it. Floral decorations of ivory satin bows, pink gladioli and ivy encircled the flounces. Silver candelabra holding pink tapers and floral arrangements of pink carnations and ivy completed the table's floral decorations.

The three-tiered wedding cake topped with pink satin wedding bells and encircled with pink floral decorations was made by Mrs. Frank Vanesteren, Casleford, and served by Mrs. William Bolster and Mrs. Leo Soran. Linda Fisher, Grangeville, and Maxine Eberhardt, Mud Lake, served punch and coffee.

Shella Dryden registered guests and distributed small gifts and pink tulle rice bags. A rehearsal dinner was given in honor of the couple by the bridegroom's parents in the fellowship hall at the First Baptist Church.

The bride was honored with roomy accommodations in dormitory sisters, Miss Ash and Miss Kemp honored her with a surprise shower and she was honored at a shower hosted by Laure High and Pat Dryden. The couple took a wedding trip to Moscow. They will reside at 1414 Almon, Apartment 6, Moscow.

Proper Fit Is Must In New Fashion Fads

SHOSHONE — The pant style is a fashion fad that can be attractive if clothes are carefully fitted, says Mrs. Mary Lou Ruby, home economics agent. That means whatever pant is chosen, shorts, pant-dress, jump suit or slim slacks, be sure the fit is neat and allows for easy movement.

Fashionable fits with pants are not easy. Pants are one of the most difficult garments. A thorough and satisfactory fitting job starts with accurate measurements. Then learn from an expert how pants should fit and look. Perhaps you should start with a trial garment.

Adjustments can be made in pants in much the same way as they are made in fitting a shirt. The adjustments will be the same for straight skirt or slim pants.

A problem often exists in maintaining fabric grain in the legs.

When checking the fit, wear foundation garments you plan to wear with the outfit, and observe these pointers:

No unsightly horizontal, diagonal, or vertical wrinkles; or center and side seams that divide the figure in half should be used. Strive for a smooth hemline that hangs evenly around the leg or ankles. Be sure there is "ease" throughout the garment. The amount of ease may vary from one to three inches at the hip; two or four inches at the knee; two to three inches at the ankle, and one to two inches through the crotch.

Accessories Are Discussed

FILER — Country Pals Club members discussed accessories and their correct usage at the meeting at the home of Mrs. Albert Sherrill, Mrs. Don Hine was co-hostess.

Mrs. Hine presented the lesson, "Accessories to Beauty." Mrs. Hine's children and Mrs. Freda Hiler received gifts.

Mrs. Childer's is hostess for the July 15 meeting.

BIRTHDAY OBSERVED — WENDELL — Janice Higgenbotham, 15-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Higgenbotham, was honored at a birthday surprise tea party. The young ladies attended a show and returned to the Higgenbotham home. The honoree opened and displayed her gifts and Mrs. Higgenbotham served refreshments.

Red China's Army Is Trying To Stop Bloody Fighting In South China

By FORREST EDWARDS
HONG KONG (AP) — Red China's army is reported finally trying to stop the bloody fighting in South China after six weeks of standing aside from the clashes between supporters and opponents of Mao Tse-tung and between rival Maoist factions.

Travelers arriving from Canton, South China's largest city and the capital of Kwangtung province, told of troops patrolling the main highways and manning barricades at highway intersections and railway yards.

The official Canton newspaper Tsing-tung said Beijing had ordered troops commanders in Kwangtung to crush the wave of violence, but the report broadened by Canton Radio gave no details.

A number of travelers from Kwangtung province, west of Kwangtung, said army units at Luchow took sides in a major factional fight that broke out July 10 and raged for 36 hours. They said rockets used, by the soldiers set off fires which devastated 17 city blocks. But the soldiers said that within the last three days the army had taken major steps to control the situation in the city, which is on the main Vietnam-Chinese war supplies to North Vietnam.

One traveler from Kwangtung said supply trains were under heavy guard after backers and foes of Mao Tse-tung had raided the trains to steal weapons. There is no way to control the travelers' reports, but their multiplicity and the way they described the situation may be true.

Professional Western analysts believe the army, after first trying to stop the battles, was ordered six weeks ago to stand aside, but there was no indication whether the orders came from Peking or provincial military leaders. Some China watchers think there is "a good possibility and perhaps a probability" that army leaders in South China deliberately allowed the factional war to reach crisis proportions before moving in under the banner of restoring order and saving the nation.

More than 2,000 persons have been reported killed in virtual civil war since May around Wuchow, an industrial town and transportation center in Kwangsi. Many reports say half the city has been laid waste by fire. Hundreds have been reported killed in battles around Canton, and fighting also has been reported around Nanning, capital of Kwangsi.

There is a belief in Hong Kong that the army leadership has split, with the two factions backing rival Red Guard groups. This could explain reports that both Red Guard groups had army weapons, grenades, rifles, automatic rifles and machine guns. Premier Chou En-lai was quoted as saying in May that chaos in Kwangsi had paralyzed the shipment of arms to Hanoi.

The Hong Kong Star said today Mao had sent Foreign Minister Chen Yi to Nanking to try to prevent a threatened revolt by troop commanders in the eastern seaboard region.

European Communism Split Over Liberalization Grows

By PETER REHAK
P R A G U E — Czechoslovakia (AP) — The split in European communism over liberalization in Czechoslovakia is growing deeper.

With the Soviet Union and four apprehensive allies demanding that the new leaders of the Czechoslovak Communist party reverse their liberal course, leaders of two other Communist nations and of the French Communist party were reported coming to Prague to show support for the new reform leadership.

Sources in Belgrade disclosed plans to visit Prague by Yugoslav President Tito, who has taken his country along an independent course since he broke with Stalin in 1948, and Romania, which has been increasingly defiant of Kremlin control.

The Prague government announced that French Communist party chief Waldeck Rochet will arrive Friday. Rochet, along with an Italian Communist delegation, is expected to urge that the Czechoslovaks be left alone to develop their own policies.

Other Communist leaders with that taken at a conference in Warsaw Sunday and Monday by the Communist leaders of the Soviet Union, East Germany, Poland, Hungary and Bulgaria, the leaders, especially those from East Germany, Poland and the Soviet Union, fear developments in Czechoslovakia might inflame rebellious ferment in their countries.

A letter from the conference told the Czechoslovaks that ship it no longer was a matter for Czechoslovakia alone when "alien forces lead your country into the mire of social and political chaos." The letter, it is believed, urged the Czechoslovaks to the danger of being led astray from the Socialist community.

Humphrey's Doctor Makes Him Rest

WASHINGTON (AP) — Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey reportedly has passed a battery of tests, leaving him "nothing worse than flu but his doctor has barred him from the campaign trail until next week."

The Democratic presidential contender canceled a Midwest trip that was to begin today and now plans to resume his campaign Monday with appearances in New York and California.

The vice president postponed a West Coast trip last week, blaming flu and fever.

Los Angeles Mayor Samuel W. Yorty suggested then that Humphrey's illness might be a case of "diplomatic grippe" in view of the threats that some 15,000 antiwar demonstrators would picket him. About 2,000 demonstrators showed up.

But Humphrey's physician, Dr. Edgar Bertram, insisted the Humphrey flu was the real thing and it is untreatable, ordered a number of tests to back up his diagnosis.

Humphrey made his first excursion in a week Tuesday night when he flew to New York for an overnight series of private meetings. He was due to fly to the Midwest today for appearances in Kansas City, Missouri and Salina, Kan.

But when Humphrey came to Washington late Wednesday afternoon his press secretary, Norman Sherman, announced that Humphrey was canceling the Midwest trip and would rest for the remainder of the week.

Burley Slates Workshop On Horse Skills

BURLEY — A "Fun with Horses" workshop for children age 7 through 12 years will begin at 9 a.m. Saturday at Bryant's Arena, West 18th St., Burley. The event is being sponsored by the Cavalier Riding Club and the Burley Recreation Department.

Advance registration is necessary so that adequate equipment and animals will be available. Interested persons must register in advance—paid and may make proper arrangements by phoning 678-2256 and all children must have parents consent.

This is an opportunity for children with little or no experience to learn about horses and their proper handling. All equipment and horses will be furnished by the sponsors. The workshop session will be completed prior to noon, sponsors advised.

Beach Bill

KLAMATH FALLS, Ore. (AP) — A state legislative committee has agreed that kids should be allowed to build sand castles and dig holes on Oregon's beaches.

In discussing proposed revisions of a beach bill, the committee excluded recreational excavations from the definition of improvements. Rep. Lee Johnson, chairman, said this would "get around the problem of kids digging in sand."

Sen. Loveland Will Address Jerome Dinner

JEROME — Sen. Don Loveland, Burley, candidate for the U.S. House of Representatives, will be the featured speaker at the Jerome Gala dinner at Woods Cafe at 7 p.m. July 26.

The dinner is a host-and-all-Republicans and friends are invited. All Jerome county candidates and District 22 candidates will be introduced and asked for a brief resume of their campaign program. They will be available for voters questions following the meeting.

Canyonside School To Be Sold July 20

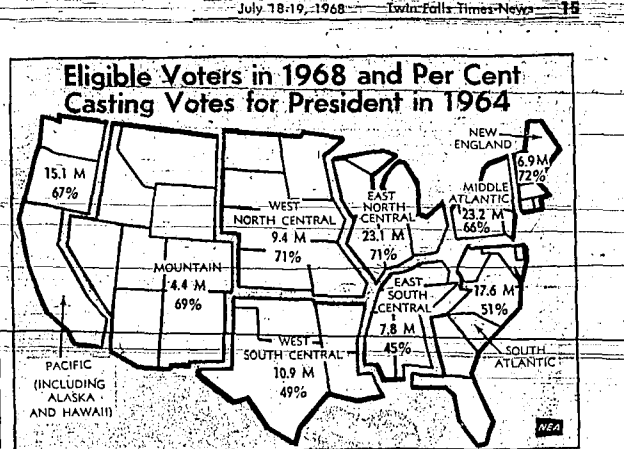

JEROME — The Jerome School District No. 263 will sell the Canyonside property at 2 p.m. Saturday.

Jim Messersmith, former board member, will be the auctioneer. The property will be sold in two parcels: Parcel No. 1 is approximately 1.2 a and three-fourths acres and has the school building and a four-room dwelling. It also includes well, well-house, pressure system and water shares.

Parcel No. 2 is a piece of land on the southwest corner, 120 feet long and 75 feet wide. Parcel No. 1 is the Canyonside Grange Hall, a 20 x 30 ft building, but the building will not be sold.

Salmon Seasons Set For Biggest Benefit

BOISE—The Idaho Fish and Game Department declared today that as much chinook salmon fishing as possible will be allowed during the summer months of this summer without threatening future runs of both the spring and summer run spawners.

There was a better than average run of spring chinook salmon counted this year over Ice Harbor, the first dam on the Snake river, and fishing has been good. The count of summer run chinook salmon at Ice Harbor will indicate how good an year for this group of fish will be, says a spokesman.

Astros Halt Brave Streak At Six Wins

HOUSTON (AP)—Danny Brown won his first game of the season and contributed a two-run single as the Houston Astros stopped Atlanta's six-game winning streak 5-2 Wednesday night.

Coombs, a 26-year-old left-hander who has spent parts of two seasons with the Astros, pitched seven innings and was relieved by John Buzhardt after Sonny Jackson opened the eighth with a double that set up Houston, which failed to score after leading the bases with none out in the fourth, erupted for four runs with two outs in the sixth for a 4-1 lead. Jim Wynn walked and Norm Miller singled, the second hit off Jim Brant.

T.F. Defeats Gooding, Sets Home Stand

LOGGING—The Twin Falls Legion took advantage of errors and walks to pile up a 14-2 decision over Gooding Wednesday evening although at the time the logging team had accumulated five hits.

The loss went to Larry Adams, who is home of furlough but will be leaving for Vietnam July 24. Adams led the team 3-0 after three innings and Twin Falls jumped on reliever Hopkins for an 11-run fourth inning. Mike Chandler went the distance for the winners.

Fatal Racing Mishaps Are Increasing

By The Associated Press

With the season barely past the midway point, at least 100 drivers have been killed in motor sport racing this year despite the most effective safety program the sport has ever known.

If the present trend continues, the toll very well could surpass 1967, which the Europeans call the "black year" in auto racing, twenty six drivers lost their lives on the continent and in Britain last year, compared with only six in the United States.

Fishing For Salmon Rated Only Fair

BOISE (AP)—Salmon fishing was listed as only fair in the weekly summary issued Wednesday by the Idaho Fish and Game Department.

The agency said a few summer run Chinooks were being caught in the lower reaches of the Salmon and its tributaries. The department noted that several small streams closed to salmon fishing on July 15 and anglers were advised to check regulations.

Mrs. Ruth Opens Drive For Babe

NEW YORK (AP)—Standing within 50 feet of home plate from where Babe Ruth batted and hit his 714th home run, Mrs. Mildred Ruth opened a national fund-raising campaign to save and preserve the Babe's birthplace in Baltimore at 400 N. Mayor Thomas A. D'Alessandro III, of Baltimore, explained the purpose of the drive when he presented Mrs. Ruth with a plaque containing two sterling silver medallion coins. A picture of Babe and the home in which he was born is on the coin.

St. Joe Squawfish Experiment Indicates Initial Success

MOSCOW—Dead squawfish totaled 63,000 at the end of the first week of the first week in northern Idaho's swift St. Joe River, according to the University of Idaho, fisheries scientists who developed the initial selective toxin.

Dr. Craig MacPhee, professor of fishery management, said today 63,000 large dead squawfish were estimated by skindivers. The divers worked Thursday through three one-mile sections of the 26 miles of river treated the day before with "Squoxin."

They saw no dead trout and no live squawfish after the toxin went downstream," he said.

"Squoxin" is the unofficial name for 1,1-dimethyl-3-methyl-2-thio-1-monoimidazole salt. This was the first test for the chemical since Dr. MacPhee was notified that his patent has been granted. It is produced commercially by American Cyanamid Company.

Dr. MacPhee received few surprises from the results of his chemical, the result of laboratory tests on some 3,000 different compounds. This was the largest field test.

MacPhee said the actual poisoning of the trash fish was only one phase of the total program. What was in operation was the testing out of logical programs—cooperation in financing personnel, equipment—which could be followed for future applications.

Run On Balk Carries Sox Past Orioles

CHICAGO (AP)—Tom McCraw scored on a balk by Baltimore's Tom Phoebus in the fourth inning Wednesday night and a single stole second, took White Sox a 1-0 victory that snapped the Orioles' seven-game winning streak.

Winning pitcher Joe Horlen and relievers Wilbur Wood and Hoyt Wilhelm combined for a four-hitter as the White Sox won their fourth in five games under new manager Al Lopez.

The White Sox, limited to two hits by Phoebus in the seventh when McCraw opened the fourth with a single, stole second, took third on a wild pitch and trotted home on Phoebus' balk.

Earl Weaver, beaten for the first time since he replaced Frank Baer as the Orioles' manager last week, argued the balk call vehemently for five minutes with plate umpire John Flaherty—without avail.

Caldwell Splits With Salt Lake

SALT LAKE CITY (AP)—Caldwell split a Pioneer League doubleheader with Salt Lake City Wednesday night by winning the first game and losing the second.

Salt Lake won the opener 14-1 in the second game in the first and seventh innings, thanks to a total of nine walks and solid hitting by Ossie Troceno. He collected a three-run double in the first and a two-run single in the seventh.

Salt Lake's Eddie Goodson had three hits in the nightcap.

Caldwell managed only three hits off Ed Moran in the first contest, while Salt Lake batters struck for 14. Karo Horn and Bobby Maddox drove in seven runs between them, each knocking three hits. Horn slapped two doubles and a home run.

James Blanks Cubs, Phils Gain Split

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Jeff James, a rookie right-hander, buried his first shutout and a 1-0 victory for the Philadelphia Phillies over the Chicago Cubs 8-0 Wednesday night.

The Cubs had extended their winning streak to five games in the opener as "Embe" Banks across one run and another homer and a single.

James, 26, hurled a four-hitter off the Cubs took the opener 8-0. Chicago's second baseman Glenn Beckert singled in the first, extending his hitting streak to 23 games.

The Phillies knocked out Rich Nye with three runs in the second. Richie Allen walked and Don Luck hit his first home run of the season. Johnny Briggs doubled and James singled him home. The Phils added a run in the fifth, two in the sixth and one each in the seventh and eighth, the last two on homers by Johnny Callison and Cookie Rojas.

Pinch Double Lets Redlegs Edge Dodgers

CINCINNATI (AP)—Mack Jones pinch hit a tie-breaking two-run double in the eighth inning Wednesday night as the Cincinnati Reds beat Los Angeles 7-4 and ended their losing streak at seven games.

Don Pavlich began the three-run uprising with a one-out walk-off homer. Jim Grant, Lou Cardenas was hit by a pitch and Jones, batting for Ted Abernathy, doubled off the left field wall, scoring both runners.

Jones later scored on Vada Pinson's sacrifice fly.

The Reds scored a 1-1 tie in the fifth when Pinson doubled across one run and another scored on Johnny Bench's sacrifice fly. Cardenas hit his first home run of the season in the sixth for a 4-1 lead.

But the Dodgers tied it with two in the seventh on Ken Boyer's pinch single and a sacrifice fly by Jim Faley and an unearned run in the eighth, which Ron Fairly drove in with a sacrifice fly.

A's Hunter Steadies To Beat Tigers

OAKLAND (AP)—Jim "Catfish" Hunter survived a shaky start and hurled a six-hitter as the Oakland Athletics defeated the American League Detroit Tigers 3-2 Wednesday night.

Hunter gave up two runs in the second inning and then settled down to bludge the Tigers on four hits the rest of the way.

A great throw to the plate by right fielder Reggie Jackson kept the Tigers from scoring the first run in the seventh inning.

With two out, Dick McAuliffe doubled, Mickey Stanley singled to right, but Jackson threw the ball a line to catcher Dave Duncan, who tagged out McAuliffe five feet from the plate.

Laguna Defeats Melendez, Seeks Shot At Title

NEW YORK (AP)—Ismael Carlos "To" Cruz of the Dominican Republic, 30,000 to champion from Panama, boosted his chances for another title shot by outlasting young, hitless unbeaten Vic Melendez of Puerto Rico in a fast 10-round fight at Madison Square Garden Wednesday night.

The 26-year-old Melendez, meeting his first major opponent, carried the fight to the 25-year-old favorite in the first three rounds to the delight of the crowd of 9,505 that paid $47,855.

But in the fourth round, the flashy Panamanian Melendez rushes with stinging left jab and crisp rights to the head and clearly took charge of the fight.

From then on it was all Laguna, the thin-legged, fast-punching ex-champ gave his young rival a boxing lesson. There were no knockdowns.

The fight was refereed by Tony Rossi and Tony Castellano, each had Laguna in front 9-1 in rounds. Referee Harold Valian had it 7-3 for Laguna, and the Associated Press scorecard made it 7-3 for Laguna, who has the 2-1 betting choice.

Each weighed 136 pounds. The Garden had offered freshly crowned lightweight king

Defending Champion Sees PGA Tourney Course As Ideal For Casper, Boros

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — Casper and Boros, who have emerged as golf's most exciting new personalities, are the sentimental favorite in this year's PGA tourney which will be played on the South Texas metropolis, which is weathered and a weathered and weathered American. They have dubbed Trevino's worshippers as "Lee's fans."

"I've been thinking about the course and the guys in the field and I can't help figuring it's a Casper and Boros type tournament," said the 35-year-old titleholder from Dallas last Wednesday.

"The fairways are tight and there's a lot of trouble around the greens. Casper and Boros will punch the ball out there in the middle of the fairway, if he hits the ball around the greens and keep popping 60s and 70s at you until you drop."

"Frankly, I'm more afraid of them than the big hitters like Jack Nicklaus, Tom Weiskopf and Bobby Nichols."

The six-foot, 165-pound Texan, who beat Don Messinger in a playoff for the title a year ago in 1961, has a 100-hole record in the field, which includes 68 regular tour players and 100 club and freelance pros enjoying their one big moment in the headline tournament stars.

Casper, the year's leading money winner and the man who led the British Open last week at Carnoustie, is the 6-1 favorite, followed by Nicklaus 8-1, open champion Lee Trevino and January 10-1, Arnold Palmer, Tom Weiskopf and Julius Boros 12-1.

Boros, 48, the relaxed two-time open champion, fears that the intense Texas heat and humidity may dull his own chances as well as those of such oldsters as Sam Snead, 55, seeking his first PGA crown, Jerry Barber, 52, who beat January in a playoff for the title in 1961, and ageless Paul Runyan, who won the first of his two PGAs 34 years ago.

This 50th championship, played over the 7,096-yard, par-70 Beech Valley Country Club course which was carved out of a near wilderness six years ago, offers an intriguing confrontation between the "old guard" and the so-called "new breed," the "haves," such as Palmer, Nicklaus and Casper, and the eager "want-to-gets," represented by such young and brash Turks as Trevino, Weiskopf, Bob Lunn and Dave Stockton.

Trevino, the volatile, wise-

Palmer Feels 25, Still Has Win Drive

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — Arnold Palmer wishes to announce that he's not over the hill, but he feels like he's 25 and just trying to get my start in professional golf," said Palmer with tongue slightly in cheek as he prepared for the 50th PGA national championship at Pecan Valley Country Club.

"I'm putting better and hitting the ball well," said the 35-year-old Palmer, who has never won the PGA—the only major title to escape him.

Palmer admitted he always sensed he would trouble getting ready for the PGA. He said one of the reasons is because he liked to play in the British Open, the usually held the week before the PGA.

"Everybody playing over there has a trouble adjusting when they come back here," said Palmer. "The climate, the ball—everything is different."

Gordy Claims NFL Contract To Help Many

DETROIT (AP) — John Gordy, the players' association president who spearheaded negotiations for a $3 million pension settlement with National Football League owners, says the effects of the agreement reach far beyond the football players world.

He said the settlement, which provides $1,000 a month for 10-year-old veterans at age 65, struck a formidable blow for people who work minority professions, such as actors and airlines pilots.

"It proves that groups like these that want to be heard, can be heard as part of the social revolution, and it can be done without violence," said Gordy. "This is what makes democracy strong."

Gordy, a 6-foot-4, 240-pound lineman entering his 11th year in pro football, said negotiations with the club owners began Jan. 3.

"I felt we went about bargaining in a judicious manner," he said. "We never used our power unjustly. We stood up for what we believed was right and reached a reasonable settlement in the right manner."

Gordy said under terms of the agreement players would not contribute to the pension plan, retroactive until 1959.

"I guess I've talked to about 400 to 450 players since the settlement," he said. "They were all satisfied."

In negotiating for the players, Gordy negotiated his personal contract with the Lions and remains unsigned.

"I plan to sit down with (General Manager) Russ Thomas as soon as possible," said Gordy. "I don't anticipate any problems."

Pittsburgh And Mets Trade Wins

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The New York Mets took advantage of an error by shortstop Jose Pagan to score two unearned runs and beat Pittsburgh 5-4 in the second game of Wednesday's "twilight" doubleheader, adding a six-game losing streak.

The Pirates gave rookie left-hander Jerry Kosman his worst drubbing of the season and won the opener 3-2.

The Mets rallied for three runs in the sixth inning of the nightcap after Pittsburgh had taken a 2-1 lead in the fifth. Ed Charles greeted reliever Luke Walker with a single and with one out Jerry Grote and pinch hitter Ron Swoboda singled for one run.

Pagan then kicked Don Bosch's sharp grounder as Grote scored the go-ahead run. Walker walked pitcher Col Koonce to load the bases and a third run came across on Bud Harrelson's slow roller. Mike Dock Ellis replaced Walker. That proved to be the winning run when the Pirates scored a run in the eighth.

Pittsburgh reached Kosman for seven hits and four runs and knocked him out in the third inning of the opener. It was the first time this season he had not lasted at least six innings.

Mauri Wills doubled and scored in the Pirates' two-run first and tripled and scored in the second. Willie Stargell hit his 15th home in the third as Pittsburgh took a 4-0 lead. The Pirates wrapped it up with three runs in the eighth and Steve Blass, 7-2, coasted to his sixth straight triumph.

Ninth-Inning Rally Lets Sox Nip Twins

MINNEAPOLIS-ST. PAUL (AP) — Pinch hitter Russ Nixon's three-run double in the ninth inning carried the Boston Red Sox to a 6-5 victory over the Minnesota Twins Wednesday night.

Nixon, a former Minnesota catcher just called up by the Red Sox from their Pittsfield farm club, broke a 3-3 deadlock with his bases-loaded double to the left center field fence of Twins relief ace Ron Perranoski.

Perranoski had replaced reliever Al Worthington with one out after the first Sox hit the bases on a double by Rico Petrocelli and two walks.

"The Twins bounced back with two runs in the bottom of the ninth after loading the bases on three walks with none out. But Lee Stange came out of the Boston bullpen to nip the rally.

The Twins rallied in the eighth to tie it 3-3 on doubles by Frank Quilici and pinch hitter Rich Rollins.

Joe Foy tripled and scored on Russ Gibson's single, giving Boston a 3-2 lead in the fifth against Twins' starter Jim Kaat.

He said the settlement, which provides $1,000 a month for 10-year-old veterans at age 65, struck a formidable blow for people who work minority professions, such as actors and airlines pilots.

"It proves that groups like these that want to be heard, can be heard as part of the social revolution, and it can be done without violence," said Gordy. "This is what makes democracy strong."

Gordy, a 6-foot-4, 240-pound lineman entering his 11th year in pro football, said negotiations with the club owners began Jan. 3.

"I felt we went about bargaining in a judicious manner," he said. "We never used our power unjustly. We stood up for what we believed was right and reached a reasonable settlement in the right manner."

Gordy said under terms of the agreement players would not contribute to the pension plan, retroactive until 1959.

"I guess I've talked to about 400 to 450 players since the settlement," he said. "They were all satisfied."

In negotiating for the players, Gordy negotiated his personal contract with the Lions and remains unsigned.

"I plan to sit down with (General Manager) Russ Thomas as soon as possible," said Gordy. "I don't anticipate any problems."

Regional Smallbore Tourney Slated By T.F. Club Saturday

About 50 shooters from many of the western states are expected to battle for honors in the 88th regional smallbore rifle prone championships which will be held Saturday and Sunday at the Twin Falls Gun Club facilities.

Chris Kraff, secretary of the sponsoring club, said the two-day meet is NRA sanctioned and offers a chance for competitors to earn a leg toward the national smallbore distinguished award. Through Wednesday night 31 shooters had entered.

The weekend regional will mark the third time in four years it has been held in Twin Falls. It was not conducted here last summer.

The Twin Falls club will give individual awards in service and civilian categories for the individual matches. Individuals will receive awards in the team shootoffs.

Ogden And I.F. Swap Decisions

OGDEN (AP) — Ogden cut short Idaho Falls' rally in the seventh Wednesday night in the second game of a doubleheader. Idaho Falls won the opener 5-0.

The Dodgers, apparently disturbed after being stunked the first game, came back with three runs in the first inning and were never overtaken.

Idaho Falls made it 3-2 in the fourth before winning pitcher Walt Adey came on to retire the side with the aid of a masterful double-play. The Dodgers' last year he scored 71 points, added the winning run in the 35 of 35 extra points and 12 of 22 field goals, to rank 14th in the National Football League.

Place-Kicker Quits Steelers

LATROBE, Pa. (AP) — Place-kicker Mike Clark, the Pittsburgh Steelers' top scorer last season, has announced his retirement from football.

Clark's announcement Tuesday didn't come as much of a surprise, since the Steelers already held two tryout camps looking for a replacement.

Clark last year he scored 71 points, added the winning run in the 35 of 35 extra points and 12 of 22 field goals, to rank 14th in the National Football League.

Indians Trim Angels As Brown Stars

ANAHEIM (AP) — Larry Brown struck three singles and drove in three runs Wednesday night as Cleveland defeated the California Angels 4-2.

It was the Indians' fourth victory in a row and pulled them into a virtual tie with Baltimore for second place in the American League 6 1/2 games behind Detroit.

Cleveland 100 200 010—4 11-9
California 000 200 000—2 9-9
Harris, Bonds (2) and Aronow; Clark, Massachusetts (4), McClintock (3) and Seitz; Rodgers (7), W.—Jaggard, 6-1. L.—Clark, 1-0.

Sofball Leaders Nip Upset Bids

OK Tire and Bill Workman Ford, a couple of the sloppiest league leading teams, scrapped from being to prevent upsets in Wednesday's action.

OK Tire, which has lost only once, nipped Don Pieper's while Workman, getting homers from Gary Rasmussen—and Doug Schow, outlasted Independent Meat 16-12.

Olympia Beer downed Coors 16-2 and Royal Lounge smashed Gem State Paper 17-2 in homerless play.

Bret Staples, Kirk Williams and Larry Hunter all hit homers to lead Bud's Duds past Rogers Brothers 17-4 as Bud's Duds maintained a sharp second-half edge. A homer by Pinkston helped the Beacon Club down Culligan's 25-6.

Small town beer makes good.

Why does the largest brewery on the West Coast call the little town of Tumwater home? It's the water... the natural artesian water of Tumwater... that gives Olympia the good taste so many people like. When you think a beer would taste better than anything else... ask for Oly... and it will.

Visitors are always welcome at the Olympia Brewing Company, Tumwater, Washington, 8:00 to 4:30 every day. Oly

NONCONFORMITY CONFUSES SOUTH

An expert defender frequently makes an unusual play from choice. He is sure that the expert declarer won't expect him to make that mistake.

West opened the deuce of spades against South's six-diamond contract. He led his sixth best on the theory that one just trump but East did not see the jack of clubs in his partner's hand and wanted to make declarer commit himself in clubs right away.

Sure enough, declarer went up with the ace of clubs. Then he proceeded to bid trumps with two leads and to consider the heart suit. He needed four hearts tricks to allow two club discards.

He could finesse directly against West, but that play had to be inferior to the play of cashing the ace and king of hearts first, so he played these two cards. Then he led the jack of hearts and, needless to say, East was ready with the nine.

The only information of any value that declarer had was that East had started with two clubs. Based on that, the odds were in favor of East not holding long hearts. Therefore, South ruffed the heart and was down one when West showed out.

East went right up with the ace and returned the three of clubs. This surely was an unusual play and gave declarer a chance to let the club ride around his queen but East was sure that declarer would not. Obviously, declarer would have some way to play the heart suit to get rid of any losing clubs and obviously declarer would not jeopardize his contract at all.

East would have done just as well to return a spade or a

Twin Falls— A City With A Future

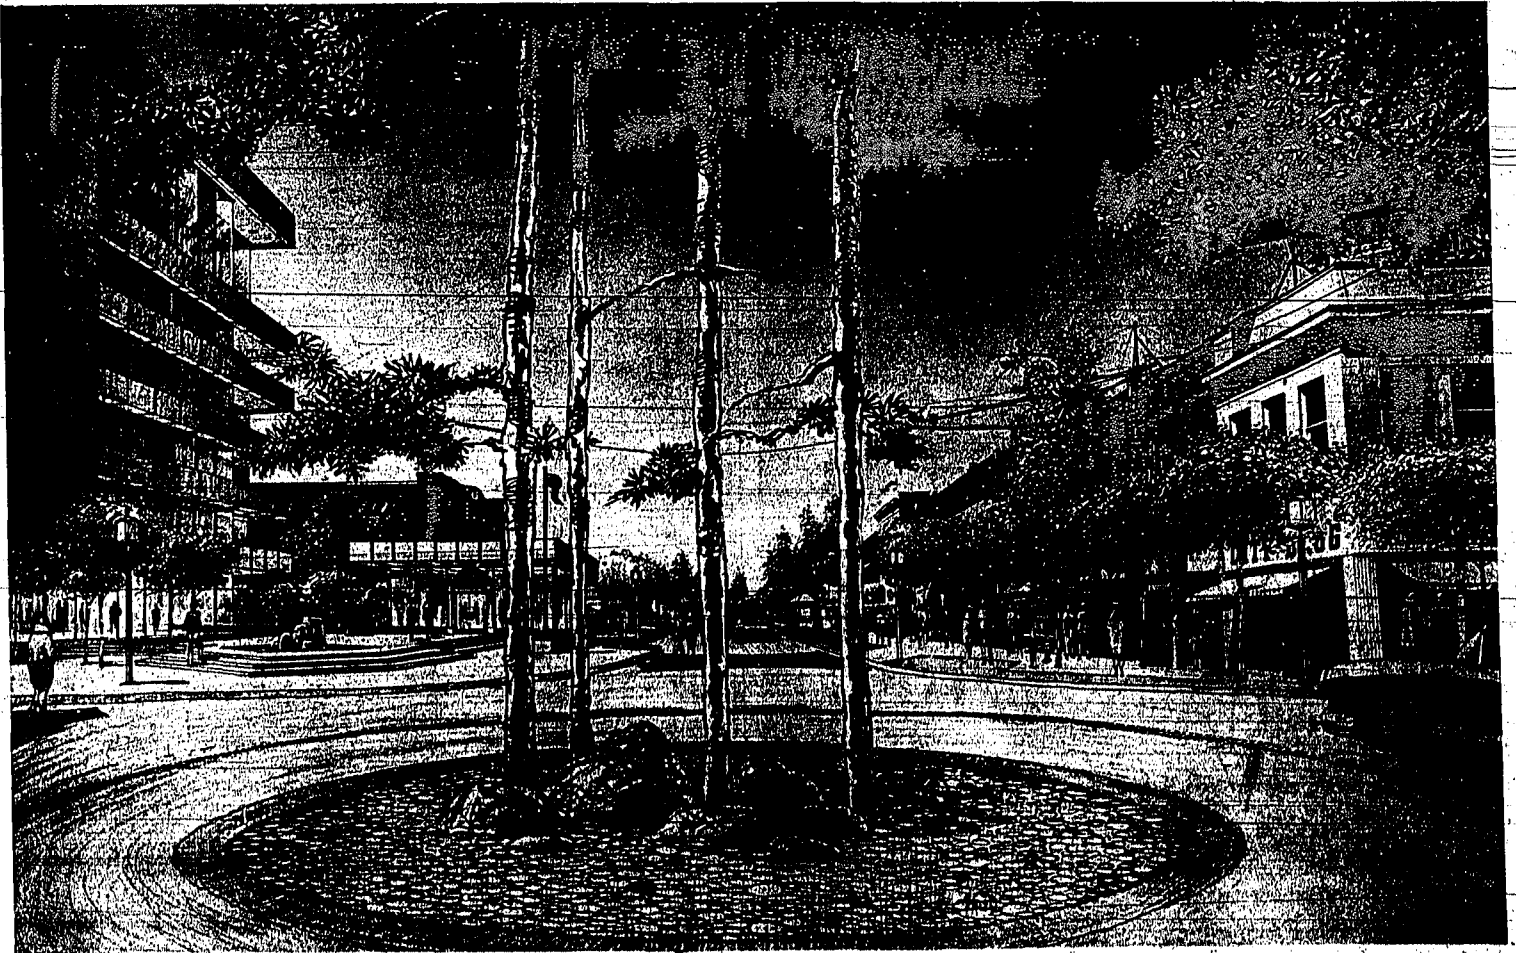

This special edition is dedicated to Voy Hudson, without whose untiring efforts the plan to revitalize downtown Twin Falls would not have materialized. The following pages contain a glimpse of what planners envision the city will look like when the program is completed.

An old view of Twin Falls looking west from the corner of Main Avenue and Second Streets East and South. Boy in center is Chester Wise and the man at the far left is Don McKay, father-in-law of I. B. Perrine, the city's founder.

Here it is. Downtown Twin Falls with all its trees, wide sidewalks and plenty of parking.

Cooperation: A Story Of How It's Done

He Started It

Voy Hudson, a downtown businessman and a Twin Falls civic leader for many years, may appropriately be called the father of the downtown project.

His concern has generated interest throughout Twin Falls, and his work on the project has consumed many, many hours. His knowledge of downtown and how downtown can be improved is very deep.

He served as chairman of the Twin Falls Urban Renewal Agency for three years, and only recently stepped down to let Joe Citek take his place on the agency. Mr. Hudson still serves as secretary on the agency and said recently, "I'm still as busy as I was."

Because of Mr. Hudson's work on the downtown project, and because of his dedication and knowledge, this special section is published in his honor.

Asked only recently by a state official: "Do you, now, have any reservations about the downtown project in Twin Falls?" "No," he said. "This is a good project. A real good project."

Project Officials Say 'Well Done'

The downtown Twin Falls planning project is the result of many long hours of work by many men. Voy Hudson started it all and has, in his gentlemanly manner, led it through the years.

But, as he was quick to point out recently, "It's not all my work. This project reflects the work of many people. It's impossible to count all the many hours of work that have gone into it."

After guiding the Urban Renewal Agency for three years, he stepped down recently to let a young man take the agency forward. Joe Citek now serves as chairman of the agency, in Mr. Hudson's place.

"I've been worked hard, very hard," Mr. Hudson said. "He is energetic and dedicated and I'm very proud to serve on the same agency with him."

Mr. Citek, commenting on his work on the project, said, "This job couldn't have been done without Voy Hudson's capable help. He has led the whole thing from the beginning. People don't know this because Voy is quiet but his progressive attitude and his dedication to the community have made this a project that is very, very good for the community."

Adding, he said, "Voy has worked all this time with an eye for personal gain. He's got all he needs in this world and his only hope in this project was to make Twin Falls a better place."

Others singled out by Mr. Hudson and Mr. Citek for their dedication and untiring work include James Koisch, executive director of the Urban Renewal Agency.

"Mr. Koisch, with his knowl-

Planners Put Heart And Life Into Old City

By FRED DODDS

The road to improvement of downtown Twin Falls—involving the cooperation between many individuals, groups and agencies—has been long but the end is in sight. The journey isn't over, but at least the end's in sight.

A heck of a lot of work has gone into this project, but now, looking back, I can see the effort was worth it. These words were spoken by Bill Grange recently. He is a member of Twin Falls Futures Unlimited, a group promoting downtown improvement.

What is downtown improvement? It's something that's been on the public mind for a long, long time and yet many don't know what it's all about.

Downtown Twin Falls, if City Council approval is given for the total project, will become an oasis in the city. It will become a beautiful shopping mall with trees and water fountains, acres of parking and attractive public restrooms. It will become a place where the customer will feel at home, a place where a young mother can take her baby for an afternoon's outing, a place where dad and the children can stroll in safety and comfort in the twilight when day's work is done and the air is just right for breathing.

It is hoped downtown can come all of this and more in three short years. The downtown project is one that has the nation's attention, because the nation is looking here to see how the end result will look and function.

It is a pilot project in the Northwest, but the project is not all brick and mortar or beauty and trees.

"We want the business, what's sure," one businessman said recently. "But we want more than that. We want to put life back into downtown Twin Falls. We want to put the heart back into the city."

Heart, then, may be the alms business could be also atmosphere is another—a good shopping climate may be another, and with all of these things there has been a lot of planning. In fact many Twin Falls people have drained themselves after planning downtown improvement trying to incorporate all the things that make a downtown click.

"We aren't foolish enough to think new buildings will solve the problem in downtown," Mr. Grange said. "We had to look deeply into downtown. We had to design not only a physical plan, but had to come up with something that would fulfill the shopper's needs and desires. We had, all of us, to be psychologists on a large scale."

Downtown merchants turned to Larry Smith and Associates for some suggestions. The firm, composed of economic experts, made a study of future marketing needs in a new downtown but at least the end's in sight.

It's not enough to drive into downtown, park and shop in a new air conditioned store. The shopper wants good, courteous service, reasonable prices and selection of goods.

The shopping centers on the outskirts way ahead of downtown for several years, have offered these advantages. A shopper can visit one store and get clothing, food, hardware, bullets for a rifle, film for a camera, drugs, grass seed, magazines, books, picture frames and toys for the children. The service is quick, efficient and there often is no question about cashing a check.

To get these advantages in downtown—something that went out with high button shoes—"This is what we want to build into the new downtown Twin Falls," Mr. Grange said.

"Downtown doesn't want to be a place where you want to add family attractions, places to eat, a movie maybe, and places where a shopper can stop and rest—his feet and talk with friends."

Downtown already has met one crucial test—it has brought in a large bank, the Bank of Idaho in August, the old Perrine Hotel will come twinkling down. A few short months after that a modern high rise bank building will go up in the Perrine place.

There will be bank parking and professional and business offices in the new building. Bank of Idaho officials, hard-headed businessmen all of them—have seen something in the future of downtown, and in Twin Falls at large, and have been willing to invest.

"You might say that bank has been the catalyst, the heart, the life-blood of the future of downtown Twin Falls," Mr. Grange said. "It told all the others 'see, there is something here after all' and for that we are happy."

But the Bank of Idaho is not the answer, nor was it ever. It was something that happened and the happening was good.

Downtown, when it is recreated, will bring in new business establishments, it is hoped, and the happening was good.

"A department store here, a restaurant there. Perhaps a grocery store, maybe something else," Mr. Grange said.

Standing before members of the press recently, in open-cooled shirt and cowboy boots,

A place to go in winter or summer, fall or spring, night or day.

All Good Things Need Time To Mature

Joe Citek, who operates Krenzel's Hardware, told about his excitement. "I believe in this project and I'll tell you something else, I don't have a thing to gain."

Mr. Grange owns no property in downtown. His business is not in downtown. But being one of Twin Falls' civic leaders, he has stayed with the project from the beginning, ever since the early 1950s, and he knows it about as well as anyone.

Downtown, and the need to put new blood into its veins, became an issue just after the turn of the century when the first building appeared on the main drag, the Snake River City.

The buildings were sturdy, meant to last—and built in the style of the 1880s. Some of those buildings exist today, many others exist with only minor changes.

cent of the taxes for the city because of this higher assessed valuation on property.

"With taxes like this, and business falling off each year, the downtown businessman is hurting," Mr. Citek said.

Twin Falls lost more than $500,000 in the past six years because of the decreasing rate of property taxes in the downtown area.

"This downtown problem is biting into the pocketbook of every taxpayer in the city," Mr. Citek said.

It was because of this growing problem that downtown merchants started looking way back when.

A group of Twin Falls businessmen, headed by Voy Hudson, went to Grand Junction, Colo., to see what was happening in downtown there. There was a lot to see. Grand Junction is a city about the same size as Twin Falls. It had about the same problems, old age spread. Today, with a downtown project finished and in operation, new life has been pumped into the city and the dream there has become a reality.

The businessmen who went there in the early 60s, paying their own expenses, came back full of ideas and energy. It was then that the dream of downtown Twin Falls was born.

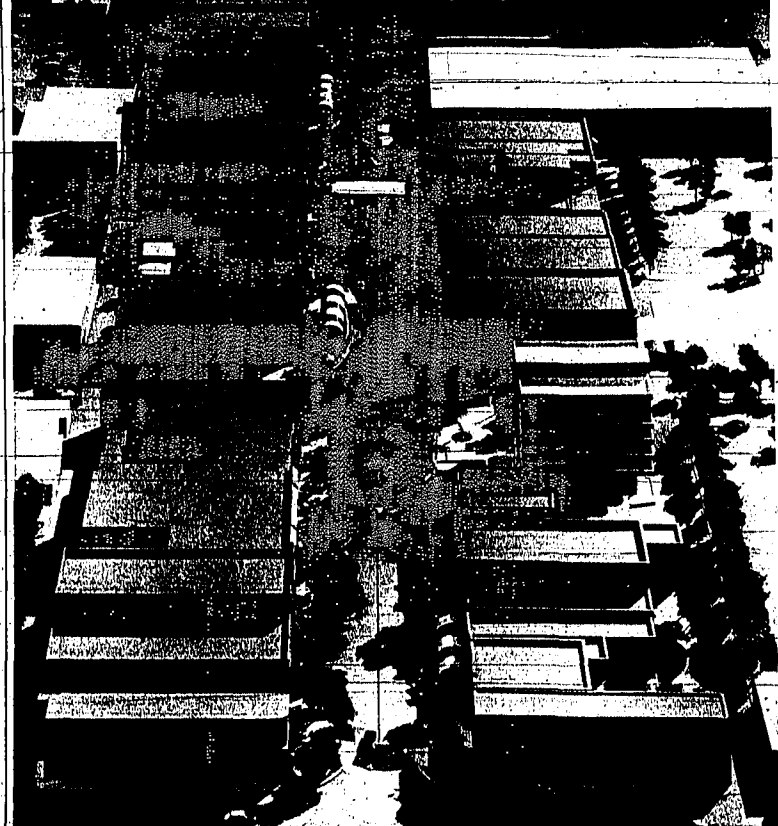

"Many people think the downtown businessman has sat on his behind all these years, bleeding Twin Falls and returning nothing," Mr. Grange said. "In some cases this might be true, but for the most part, this is not the case."

The merchants have wanted to do something for years—probably for years before many of us were born. But it wasn't simple. A lot of property in downtown is owned by individuals out of the state, or living out-

(Continued From Page 2) side Twin Falls. Many of them did not respond to requests for new buildings and since there was active trade in downtown, the problem was ignored.

It has been only within the past 10 years, since the shopping center age thrust itself into American life, that the downtown problem has become critical. And for the past 10 years, businessmen have been hard at work on the problem.

So the situation has not been ignored by downtown businessmen, as many might feel.

But where to start?

This was one of the major problems facing anyone who wanted to get something done in downtown.

The problems to consider are many, as Mr. Citek can testify.

The major problem, one that is with business and government constantly, is financing. Another is the problem of administration over a project this size.

Money does not just rise out of the mist. It had to be raised somehow.

Three years ago, Twin Falls' urban renewal agency was organized. The purpose then, as now, was not for the agency to seek financing for a project, but to investigate urban renewal and see how it works.

The agency members, many of them loyal Republicans, have reported back favorably. All are believers in the downtown projects, although downtown is composed of two separate and distinct projects as will be presented later.

Urban renewal funds were available, a agency members learned, and with these funds it would be possible to start a project.

That's when Twin Falls learned about government control. It's simple, there is no control. Agency members learned that if they go to the bank and ask for money, the bank grants the loan only when it is certain the venture will not fail. In other words, banks usually place money on sure things. The Department of Housing and Urban Development — urban renewal for short — was the bank in this case.

To get money for downtown improvement, certain financial demands had to be met. The only difference was that urban renewal money is a grant, a grant that has to be matched by a certain percentage of local funds.

The agency members, to get the downtown project started, saw several ways to raise the necessary one-third of the amount needed. The ways finally selected were off street parking revenue and revenue from a Local Improvement District.

Each progressive step for downtown improvement has been made with pains-taking care. There was first the plan. What kind of plan? What would benefit Twin Falls the best?

A project area was selected by the Urban Renewal Agency and work toward seeing this plan becoming a reality began. However, it was found that an urban renewal project area must be in one solid unit, not jump from block to block. It was determined, that one block on the plan would not benefit the entire plan fully.

The plan was altered to its present form, the form presented in this section on a chart made available through Twin Falls Futures Unlimited and the Urban Renewal Agency.

This plan was smoothed out and the methods of financing part LID part off-street parking revenue and part urban renewal — were presented to the public — when the urban renewal portion of the plan, along with an outline of the total downtown improvement area, was presented to Department of Housing and Urban Development officials.

The plan was called the "Four Parks" plan, but somewhere along the line a mistake was made and when it wound up in Washington, D.C., the plan read: "Four Parks."

No one really refers to the area as "Four Parks," because it is known as a downtown improvement project area. But in reality it won't differ much from a park, because there will be the fountains and the trees and benches.

The Urban Renewal Agency asked for $371,000 for the first portion of the total plan, then later made application for about $500,000 which would see the project through.

The plans at this stage have been approved by HUB officials, but in line with government policy the money cannot be authorized until the City Council votes in the project. A public hearing is set at 8 p.m. Monday.

To date, the council has received an LID petition from downtown property owners. A total of 38 properties voted to undertake an LID, out of a possible 48 properties. A 79 per cent success rate.

"We want this project and we recommend the companion urban renewal plan," Curtis Eaton of the Twin Falls Bank and Trust told the city council when he presented the request for creation of an LID.

Of the 48 properties, six more have indicated they will join the bandwagon.

"This attitude on the part of downtown is the most responsive I've seen in years," said one city official after the petitions were presented. "When downtown merchants want to undertake a $250,000 LID, this is something," the official said. "It means downtown is ready, willing and able to come to the aid of Twin Falls as a whole."

Completion of the Twin Falls downtown project will mean a stable tax base in downtown. It will mean increased business, increased tax revenue for the city, and the state.

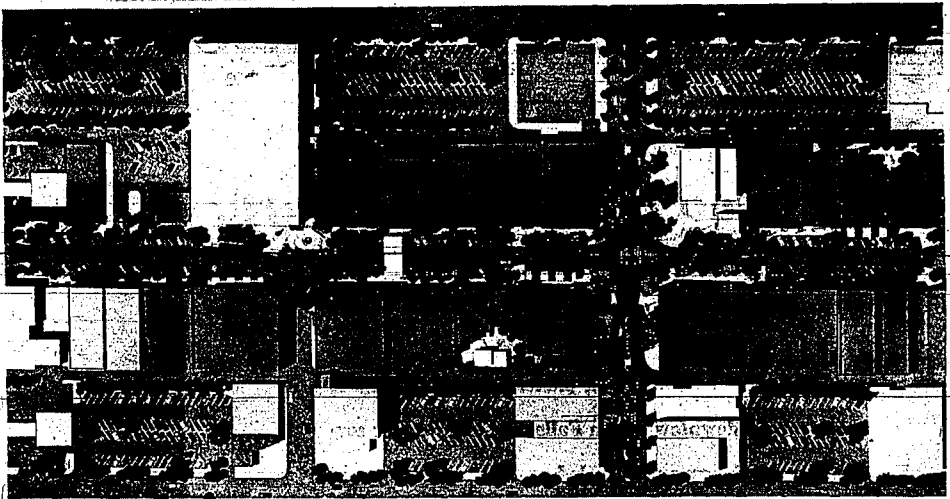

People from all over Magic Valley come to Twin Falls to shop each day of the week. The amounts spent in Twin Falls stagger the imagination, but it's true.

Twin Falls residents, who have followed this plan, are optimistic about the end result. The wage earner can look forward to a higher salary because of better business income and Twin Falls as a city can look forward to civic improvements because of the stabilized tax base.

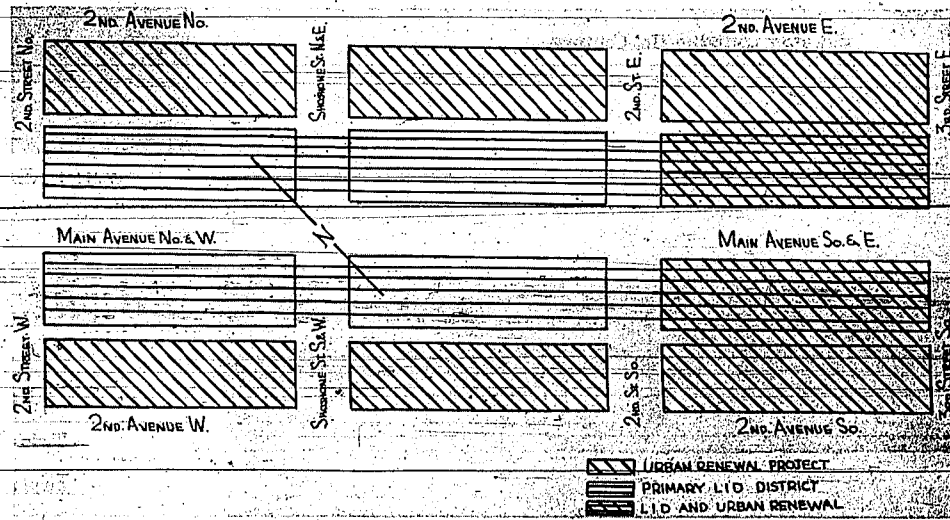

The improvements are bound to attract new business to the city. Even before the total project was really off the ground, the Bank of Idaho was negotiating for space in the downtown area.

A large entertainment company is thinking about a downtown location, and it is hoped other businesses that will contribute to the community and the shopper's ease will come in to take a look and stay.

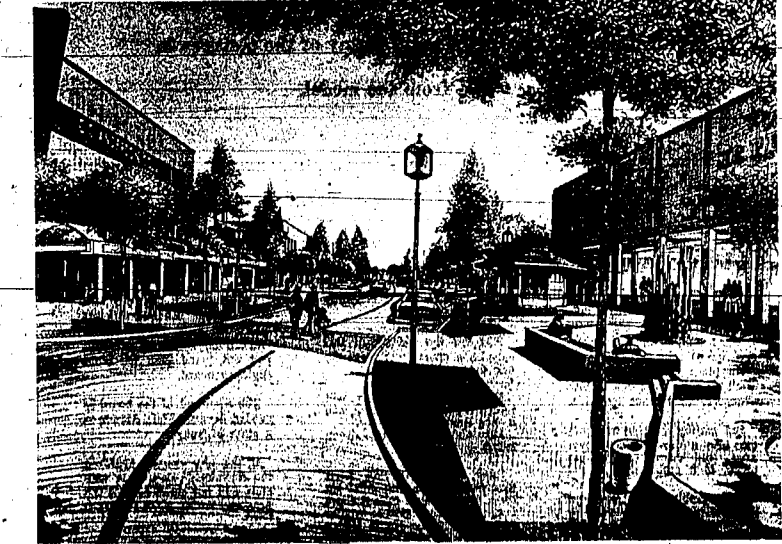

No one can say for sure what Twin Falls will look like 10, 15, or 20 years from now. No one can say for sure what the world will be like, but one thing is certain — things must be improved. They will be and are being improved in Twin Falls.

Downtown looks like this in model form — a beautiful shopping mall.

This is Twin Falls' downtown project area, an area combining federal, state and local effort.

Peaceful is one way to describe this downtown scene. It is a vision put into planning of downtown Twin Falls.

How it looks today, compared with the peaceful scene drawn on an artist's pad.

The Downtown Twin Falls Financial Picture Is Presented

With almost any expenditure of funds people ask, "What will it cost and how will it be paid for?" With the downtown Twin Falls improvement project the situation is the same.

The questions are not hard to answer. Officials of Twin Falls Futures Unlimited, Urban Renewal Agency officials or city councilmen are all more than willing to supply answers. In mind there are two projects in the downtown improvement area — the urban renewal program and the Local Improvement District.

Federal funds, or urban renewal funds, amount to $1,400,414. The city's urban renewal plan has been approved by the Department of Housing and Urban Development. Funding for this plan — the $1,400,414 — will be approved when the city council approves the Twin Falls project. The council has scheduled a special public hearing next Monday night at the American Legion Hall.

Urban Renewal will be the subject.

The $1,400,414 will be used in the urban renewal project area for needed improvements. The project area is an integral but separate part of the downtown LID project.

The total downtown LID project will cost $610,000. For the boundaries and to see how the projects are separate but integrated see the chart and pictures in this edition.

To the downtown LID, the bonded amount to be paid by individual downtown property owners is $356,000. This will be assessed each downtown property owner at the rate of $10 per front foot on Main Avenue annually for a period of 15 years.

Then there is the $356,000, which is developed from pledged revenues of off-street parking.

Therefore, the total downtown LID Project amounts to $610,000, with payment for the project coming from the $255,000 from assessment to downtown property owners and $355,000 coming from revenue of off-street parking.

The city will be given $110,000 by stockholders of the off-street parking corporation. This is a gift to the city.

The city will administer the entire downtown LID project.

Finally, the city will actually spend $74,904 to make downtown improvement a reality within three to four years. The annual expenditure on an average basis will be less than $20,000 a year.

The breakdown of this figure shows $9,000 for traffic signals; $12,505 for additional parking meters for on and off street parking, and $8,223 for curbs in the downtown area.

There are no storm sewers in the downtown area at the present time and the city will spend $48,856 for a storm sewer system. About half of this expenditure will be for that portion of the sewer system that is outside the immediate improvement area. Less than $24,000 will be expended for a storm sewer system within the improvement or project area.

The city expense figure of $74,904 is already budgeted on improvements. The expenditure of $74,904 will not raise taxes for city residents because the amount is already anticipated and will be spent whether or not downtown improvement becomes a reality.

The normal city work force will also be used in street demolition work during the downtown improvement project. If the council approves of the project later this year after public hearings.

City crews will not be used to the exclusion of other city-wide projects.

Therefore, financing of the total downtown project includes figures of $1,400,414 in urban renewal funds; an expenditure of $74,904 by the city for needed improvements; $255,000 which is to be assessed to individual property owners in downtown; $355,000 which represents off-street parking revenue, and $110,000, which represents the donations to the city from the off-street parking corporation.

Those five figures are the total breakdown of the entire downtown project.

A detailed item by item breakdown has been prepared to assure that the totals are realistic. This breakdown is available for study at the Twin Falls Urban Renewal Agency office and at city hall.

The breakdown will also be presented in detail at the public hearing at 8 p.m. Monday at the American Legion Hall.

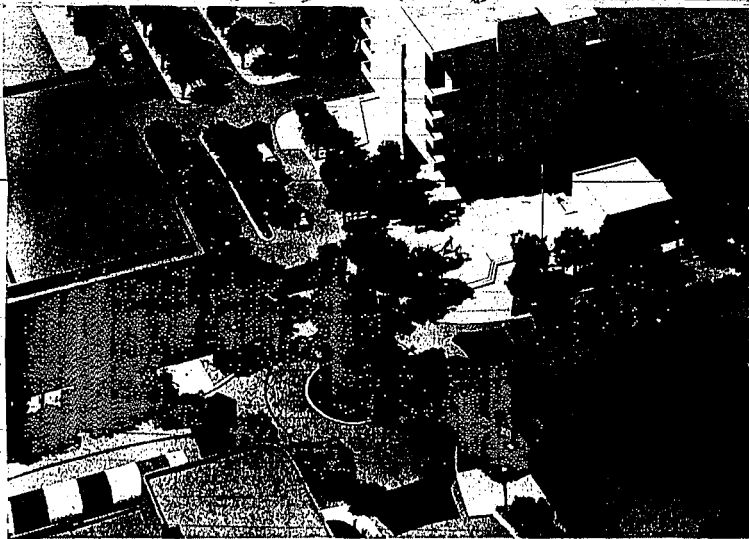

Pioneer Days, Space Age Meet In T.F.

Is City Ready For 21st Century?

The rapid advance from pioneer days to the space age caught downtown Twin Falls off balance. For several years the core area reeled under the onslaught of progress. Then citizens began to take a tight grip on the reins, and today an effort is being made to thrust downtown into the 21st Century.

This is the view today looking east on Main Avenue at the Shoshone Street intersection.

A view from up above of how the intersection of Shoshone Street and Main Avenue will look.

Downtown Model Is Interesting

Not long ago airline officials helped a group of eager Twin Falls civic leaders take a large model off of an airplane. The model was carried gently into the city and put on public display. It shows what downtown can look like in a few short years and has been viewed by thousands in the past few months. Many of the pictures in this section were taken from the model.

Traffic Flow, Parking Problems Are Matters Considered In Detailed Plan

In today's hurried world, the marketing habits of the public have changed. One big reason is the advent of the automobile and its 60 miles an hour pace from place to place. Shoppers don't go down the block on foot anymore, they want to drive.

But getting that big or small car into a crowded downtown area, and finding a parking place, is a problem.

This problem has received very serious consideration in the planning of downtown Twin Falls.

In fact, it might be said that downtown Twin Falls improvement depends on the automobile.

Ample and increased parking space is incorporated into the downtown project.

But there is more. Readers here can look at the chart or the pictures of the downtown Twin Falls model and readily grasp what will happen. Parking spaces surround the downtown area. Shoppers can walk through the rear entrances of stores, then lounge in comfort in what is now the Main Avenue area of downtown.

With traffic regulation on marked streets, and with street lights to control the flow of traffic, the downtown shopper will feel safer than in the driveway of the home.

And for the elderly, it will only be a short walk from the car to any store desired.

This ease of shopping will match the shopping centers, and it was designed that way. How about getting into downtown?

Easy. People driving from East Five Points will enter on Main Avenue, then take a short jog on a one way grid to Second Avenue East or North where there will be parking available for downtown shopping ends.

All the motorist has to do when finished shopping is start the motor and hand the car or pickup truck back onto Second and take the desired route out of downtown.

Coming in from West Five points, the motorist will travel down Second Avenue West on South on a wide street and will be able to get around easily when downtown nears.

The same goes for those entering on Shoshone Street, either from the North or the South.

Like the roads in France that lead to Paris, all roads lead to downtown. There is only one exception. The roads will be wider and smoother and traffic will be more orderly.

To accomplish this, city officials, urban renewal officials and Twin Falls Future Unlimited officials have met and mapped out plans with the State Highway Board.

The approval of the board is needed because Main Avenue is a state highway.

If the city council approves the downtown plan, state officials will not stand against the proposed traffic plans for downtown.

The plans only call for diversion of traffic off of Main Avenue in the downtown area to Second Avenue running parallel to Main Avenue.

Before this diversion is accomplished — depending on city and state approval of all plans — individual businessmen will be contacted and the exact point of diversion will be worked out.

Everyone is being considered, a city official said recently. "We don't want to take business away from one gasoline station to make the diversion of traffic, so we have to act carefully," Mayor Egon Kroll pointed out.

Once the public hearing is out of the way, many problems like traffic diversion will be solved, or at least the problems will be known an attention can be given to them.

Marketing Experts Predict Twin Falls Is A City With Vast Growth Potential

How will downtown improvement help the community?

This, of course, is a question asked often by people, and it is a valid question—a question that has received attention by city and county officials.

The best expert opinions are that downtown improvement will mean increased business for Twin Falls. The shopping centers will benefit, of that there is no doubt. People, attracted to downtown, will quite often want to purchase articles at one of the shopping centers before ending the day.

Increased business means more money — more money for the city and the county in the way of taxes; more money for the employee who wants a raise; more money for the contractor asked to either paint or repair a building, and more money for the farmer and customer.

The farmer and customer benefit, because when business is increased, competition increases. There are better bargains, where the farmer purchases a hammer now for $1.98, he might be able to get the same hammer for $1 during a sale.

Good business stimulates competition, and competition in turn stimulates business.

Once downtown improvement is accomplished — in an estimated three years — the value of property in downtown will rise.

With increased value on property, there is an increase in assessed valuation of property. A building assessed at $100,000 may be assessed at $125,000.

With the higher assessment, the tax base is improved. It means the city and the county get more tax money to work with.

It is estimated there will be the 20 per cent tax increase from property in downtown.

This 20 per cent addition means better schools, better roads, better facilities. It means another improvement in the residential section. An improvement that otherwise might have to be delayed for lack of funds.

In all, increased business through downtown improvement, will mean a better Twin Falls, a better Twin Falls County, a better Magic Valley.

This latter statement is one of the intangible things in economics. But the statement is true. Economic experts will confirm it.

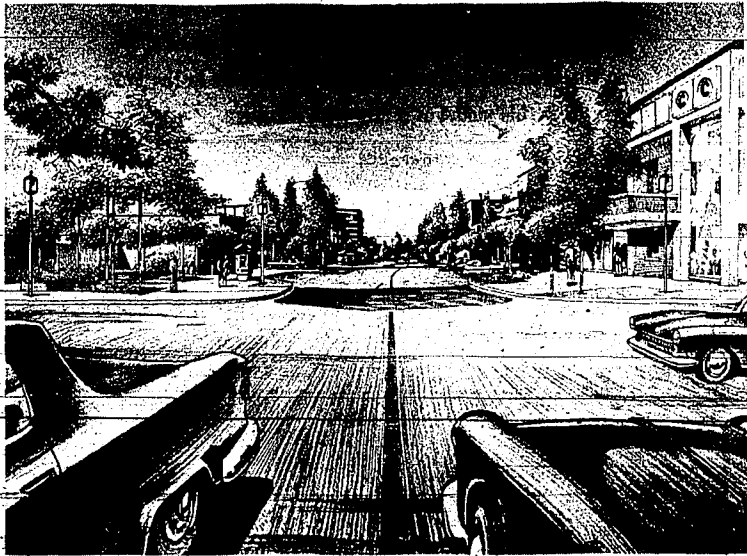

And there is the concrete asset of increased business. With Idaho's three per cent sales tax, increased business will mean more money in the state coffers. More money to the state means a greater benefit to Idaho, and as a result Twin Falls benefits.

This is not an intangible and citizens are urged to investigate this on their own.

Improvement of downtown Twin Falls simply does not mean more money for the downtown merchant. Improvement of downtown Twin Falls means a better place to live and raise a family.

Hard Work Makes Dreams Come True

First the artists went to work, making visions on paper of downtown Twin Falls. When the artists were finished, the architects took over and put the visions into working plans. Then the plans were detailed by local people. And finally a model was made. The model is downtown Twin Falls 1970 and beyond. The model represents the dreams of Twin Falls civic leaders.

Cars on Main Avenue will be allowed after improvement of downtown, but travel will be safe, slow and easy.

Another modern view of downtown, looking west from the intersection of Main Avenue and Third Streets East and South. The downtown project area begins here and heads West to Second Streets North and West.

Figures Can Reveal Potential Wealth Of Magic Valley Area

A look at marketing figures for Magic Valley can be a revealing thing. For instance, the effective buying income annually for people living in the eight-county area of the valley is a whopping $213 million.

This is based on 1967 figures. As one businessman said recently, "That isn't any."

The population of the valley is more than 105,000. There are, according to the 1967 figures, more than 21,000 households in the eight-county area, with nearly 13,000 households in Twin Falls County alone.

By 1967 figures, the per capita buying income in the valley averages $2,001 annually. That is the purchasing income of every man, woman and child in the valley.

The household buying income is $6,816. And that is the average. There is no breakdown available on low or high income households.

Total retail sales in Magic Valley amount to more than $200 million annually. Retail sales should not be confused with buying income. The retail sales figure represents the total amount of goods sold during a year. The buying income figure represents the potential purchasing income of customers living in the valley.

Total retail sales per household in the city of Twin Falls in 1967 amounted to an average of $15,264. This figure is the highest in the state.

Purchases for new cars in 1967 amounted to $36 million in the valley, and furniture and household appliance sales totaled more than $8.1 million in the same period.

Other figures show people in the valley spent in 1967 about $36 million for food; $13 million for eating and drinking away from the home; $20 million for general merchandise; $8.9 million for apparel; $14.6 million for gasoline and other car services; and $7 million for drugs.

There is also an estimated $27.8 million spent for building materials and hardware.

People's spending habits are not too hard to keep track of, and in light of this the marketing story of Twin Falls and Magic Valley has significance.

Visiting businessmen find it hard to believe that the area has developed its potential this far. And the potential has just been tapped.

With increased marketing techniques and better transportation to and from the larger marketing centers of America, Magic Valley's future for growth is vast.

Taking two-year figures, this growth potential can be seen. For instance, in 1963 retail sales in Twin Falls amounted to $64.3 million. In 1965 this figure jumped to $86.97 million, and just two years later it passed the $70 million mark.

For the Magic Valley in 1963, retail sales amounted to $156,252 million. In 1965 the total came to $181,431 million, and in 1967 this figure moved up to more than $200 million annually.

Magic Valley is Idaho's second largest market in retail sales. And yet Magic Valley natives are just one-seventh of the entire population of the state.

The Magic Valley trading area includes the counties of Blaine, Camas, Cassia, Gooding, Minidoka, Jerome, Lincoln and Twp Falls.

Another significant fact is that Twin Falls city gets an average of 40 per cent of all retail sales in the eight-county Magic Valley area.

Of business done in Twin Falls County alone, the county gets 80 per cent of all retail sales. Bushels of facts seem to bore people at times, but it is facts, statistics kept through the years, that offer the reader a true picture of what life is like in Magic Valley.

From Here To Reality

Beauty, parking and wide sidewalks grace the modern future of Twin Falls

Trees, Fountains Will Add To Beauty

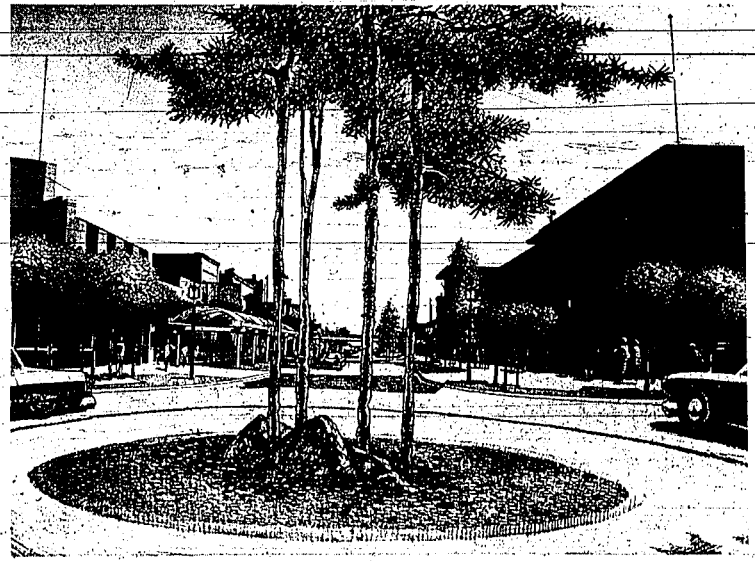

It's not the year 2000, it's only 1970 as viewed in an artist's sketch of downtown.

Small Cost Can Pay Off Big

Compared with other city projects, improvement of downtown Twin Falls is not a costly undertaking. Each dollar is being stretched for full use. Each inch of space in the area has a planned use and progress is the key word for this model of a city with a future.

Easy Shopping Is Desired Goal

From store to store, downtown will be a shopper's dream come true. Ample parking near store fronts will make long walks a thing of the past. But to those who don't mind walking, a stroll through downtown at any hour will be a pleasure beyond compare. It will be a place to meet friends and talk of sports and the weather.

Twin Falls Is A Nice Place With Climate, Opportunity

The city serves as the commerce center for "Magic Valley" so named years ago because of the "magical" way the valley was transformed from a desert into a land of beauty.

Twin Falls has a city council-city manager form of government with more than 45,000 voters and a circulation of 120,632. There is also a city golf course and two country club courses in or near the edge of the city limits.

That's why Twin Falls is a nice place to live and raise a family.

Magic Valley Is A Land Of Contrasts With Recreation Available For All

The country surrounding Twin Falls is a land of contrast, a land of beauty. It is a land of rich farm land. Agriculture contributes tremendously to the economy of the Magic Valley.

There is also, in the valley, a variety of recreational possibilities. There is fishing, hunting, skiing, hiking, swimming, boating and in fact almost every kind of activity that can be imagined.

The land is an artist's dream of patchwork, with the various crops blending and contrasting and seen from an airplane, with the silver glaze of the Snake River and several canals and lakes, the beauty is almost beyond description.

In the valley there are mountains and lakes, rivers and streams, pine trees and sagebrush, desert and lava beds and plenty of space.

The area of Magic Valley's eight counties embraces 11,400 square miles, a total land area of 7,440,440 acres.

Of this total, more than 1,400,000 acres are cultivated, with more than 750,000 of these under irrigation. Magic Valley has nearly 30 per cent of all Idaho's farm population.

Saturday and Sunday are big trading days in Twin Falls. Farmers and residents of other in the eight-county area visit the city to purchase needed goods.

To get a good picture of this throbbing movement, one must go back nearly 70 years. At that time this land was arid, but men of vision saw the vast water potential in the Snake River.

At Twin Falls, the river flows nearly 350 feet down in a canyon. But near Burley, the river winds across the land nearly level with the surface.

To move this water from the Burley area into the Twin Falls area, canals were dug out of the city land. The canals are now the lifeblood of the area, and are more than anything else responsible for the growth of Magic Valley.

With the advent of the canal systems, Magic Valley's first industry—agriculture—was born. And with the birth of agriculture, other forms of livelihood followed.

Today the Magic Valley is a nearly self-sufficient unit. People import what they need, export what they want and the total result is an effective buying income of more than $213 million within the eight-county area surrounding Twin Falls.

The marketing statistics appear elsewhere in this special section on a growing Twin Falls, but the results are so important they cannot be overlooked.

From any place in Magic Valley to any place else in Magic Valley, the traveler must drive no more than an hour and a half. And in this hour and a half time span, the traveler can see many variations in the countryside.

Near Sun Valley, the land is mountainous and tree covered. It is nearly the same in south Magic Valley near Golden. In the middle of the valley there are the desert and the interesting, scenic formations near the Grand of the Moon.

There is the Snake River and the Hagerman Valley, with cool, clear water near Hagerman flowing at a constant rate.

The raising of trout is big business in Magic Valley. More than 80 per cent of all trout eaten in America are raised in the valley.

The Magic Valley offers land for almost any type of recreational use, from SCUBA diving to hunting and from fishing in an engineless plane to hunting pheasant, duck or deer.

In comparison with the rest of the country, Magic Valley is sheltered. There is very little crime and in the mountains near Twin Falls a man can go for days without seeing another human being.

Twin Falls is like the Magic Valley, and in reverse the Magic Valley is like Twin Falls.

There is no other place on earth like the two.
