Oho Scooter Tragedy Twin Falls Visitor Dies

Less than a month ago Mr. and Mrs. Harry Gunhold, Sidney, Australia, passed through Twin Falls on a motor scooter trip—was to take them around the world.

A few days ago Harry Gunhold started alone on an airplane trip to Germany, prime target of the couple's unusual expedition.

Mrs. Gunhold, a sprightly, tomboyish young woman, was killed about a week ago when a car near Lisbon, Ohio, failed to yield the right of way to the couple's small motor scooter.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Payne, who attended the young couple while they were in Twin Falls, received a letter from Mrs. Gunhold in Lisbon, Ohio, telling of the accident.

The letter stated that Mrs. Gunhold died of extensive head injuries after the scooter slammed into the side of the car. Mr. Gunhold was not seriously injured.

The couple had started on their trip, with the objective of finally reaching their native country, when they were in Twin Falls.

Mrs. Gunhold was employed in a plastic factory in Sidney and had been working on a public bus line. They had taken off on their "holiday" several months ago and planned to be home in December.

The couple had purchased boat tickets and had an extra $1,000 to spend on food, gas and other items. They camped and ate out of dogs' messes at the time.

The letter Mrs. Payne received stated that Mrs. Gunhold was returning to Germany and that he hadn't determined whether or not he will return to Australia.

THIS PHOTOGRAPH appeared in the June 25 issue of the Times-News—shortly after the couple, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Gunhold, Sidney, Australia, passed through here on a motor scooter trip which was eventually to take them all over the world. About a week ago Freda Gunhold was killed when the couple's motor scooter slammed into the side of a car near Lisbon, Ohio. Mr. Gunhold, who was not seriously injured, has flown to Germany, the couple's native country and prime target of the months-long "holiday." They decided to take the trip, with the object in mind of visiting Freda Gunhold's mother in Germany.

Navy Vessels Hunt Scorpion In "Highly Suspect" Area

WASHINGTON (AP) — Specially equipped Navy vessels hunting the lost nuclear submarine Scorpion are searching with underwater cameras a "highly suspect" area south of the Azores, a Navy source said today.

"We haven't found her," the source added.

He described the intensity search area 450 miles from the Azores as having the "highest probability" of being the last resting place of the submarine.

When it sent its last radio message May 21, it was about 250 miles south of the Azores, on its way to Norfolk, Va., from duty in the Mediterranean with a crew of 59.

Westinghouse Broadcasting science specialist William Hines said today Navy vessels have fanned the Scorpion in one of the deepest parts of the Atlantic. He attributed his information to a highly reliable source.

But the Pentagon said there is no truth to the report that the U.S. Scorpion has been found.

A spokesman, who said he had checked with Atlantic Fleet headquarters in Norfolk, added:

"They have found no parts or pieces of the Scorpion. The Navy source said the two vessels, the Mizan and the Bowditch, are using underwater sensors and cameras in what he called a painstaking examination of the ocean bottom.

The Atlantic floor drops to 12,000 to 18,000 feet in the search area, the source estimated. This is well below the "crush depth" of the Scorpion, reported able to operate as deep as 1,200 feet.

The Navy source said some debris might be soon recovered. Scorpion was reported overdue May 27 led to concentrating the search in the area where the Mizan and the Bowditch are now looting.

He indicated there may have been other sightings of debris since then, mentioning a rubber basket.

Hines said although there is no official confirmation of the report from the Navy itself the Washington source was "too well informed to be mistaken about such things."

According to Hines, the site of the disaster is known within a mile or two and an announcement from the Navy may be imminent.

The Navy is said to have surface vessels on the scene using electronic cameras on the ocean floor to take pictures of the wreckage.

"It is expected that as soon as the Navy has a picture it can release without giving away submarine construction secrets an official announcement of the Scorpion's whereabouts will be made. That could be any day now," Hines said.

The Scorpion, with 99 men aboard, was reported last week while en route from the Mediterranean to Norfolk, Va.

Fire Danger

Most areas of the Sawtooth National Forest have reached the "high" fire danger condition in unusual designation for this time of year, according to Darrell Smith, fire dispatcher for the Forest Service.

The South Boise drainage, Sawtooth Valley, Rock Creek area and Burley-Malheur drainage are in the "high" fire danger areas. The Hiley-Ketchum area is classified as moderate.

Mr. Smith said that the high classification usually does not occur until about the first of August. Forest Service officials use five designations to classify forest condition: low, moderate, high, very high and extreme.

Forest areas are closed when they reach the extreme condition—areas designated closed when they reach the very high condition.

LBJ-Thieu Talks To Deal With Bombing

By FRANK CORMIER

HONOLULU (AP) — President Johnson and South Vietnamese President Nguyen Van Thieu's formal talks apparently will embrace possible direct Saigon-Viet Cong negotiations in a total bombing halt in the North.

In advance of today's first formal meeting at the hilltop headquarters of the U.S. Pacific Command, Secretary of Defense Clark Clifford said he avoided those two topics during his Saigon visit earlier in the week.

Clifford talked to newsmen Thursday at Hickam Field as he waited with Johnson to greet Thieu's chartered airliner.

Johnson, in welcoming the South Vietnamese leader, touched on the peace search and these words of reassurance to his visitor:

"Mr. President, our pledge to help your people defeat aggression stands firm against all obstacles and against any deception."

Thieu, dwarfed by the U.S. chief executive, responded by saying he looked forward to discussions of "accomplishments as well as problems that lie before us." He said he hoped for steps toward peace and freedom.

Senate Cites Gang Leader For Contempt

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Chicago street gang leader who refused to answer investigating senators' questions was cited for contempt of the Senate in a unanimous vote today.

Senators voted to direct the U.S. attorney's office of the District of Columbia to proceed with the prosecution of left Fort, vice president of the Blackstone Rangers.

For walked from a session of the Senate permanent investigations subcommittee July 9, refusing to give senators his address or answer questions other than giving his name.

Senators are attempting to query Fort on his relationship to a federally funded job-training program for the Rangers and another Chicago gang, the Devil's Disciples.

The training project was financed through a $27,341 grant from the Office of Economic Opportunity.

Seattle Area Has Disturbances

By KENT STURGIS

SEATTLE (AP) — A stolen car torched at three hours of riotous disturbances in Seattle's predominantly Negro Central Area Thursday night, resulting in two arrests and widespread damage in at least a dozen stores.

The trouble began when two officers were roughed up by a group of about 100 Negro youths on the grounds of a high school and then shot at as they pursued two young suspects in the auto theft. The two policemen escaped with minor cuts and scratches.

An unidentified Negro youth later was arrested for carrying a concealed weapon.

A police spokesman said some of the youths then overturned the stolen car and set it on fire. Firemen were pelted with rocks by a group of 50 other young people as they extinguished the blaze, but no one was hurt.

Authorities said the same group of youths moved in a busy street, broke down several blocks eastward and police called in reinforcements from other areas, setting up a "command post" and communications center several blocks away. A small force of about 25 policemen in patrol cars, including at least six policemen with rifles, surrounded and sealed off a five-block area and, after about 30 minutes, dispersed the youths.

But not before the glass breakage and the arrest of an unidentified 20-year-old Negro for larceny. The young suspect was arrested near a dry cleaning firm that had been looted. Police found a bundle of clothing in his car.

A small security force remained throughout the night to guard the stores with broken windows. No damage estimate has been made.

Police responded quickly to the original disturbance but prudence and movement under a special "yellow alert" restricted the use of sirens or flashing lights — may have prevented further trouble.

The disturbance was the fifth night of trouble in Seattle during the past month, but was described by police as a much smaller scale than earlier looting.

In the earlier outbreaks, for four straight days from June 30 to July 3, several hundred youths were involved and at least 50 arrested. Damage from firebombs and rocks was estimated in excess of $10,000 in a 30 to 40 block area.

The first call for police reinforcements Thursday, was made about 5 p.m. A police spokesman said the situation had cooled by midnight.

Nixon Believes Ike's Endorsement Will Help

WASHINGTON (AP) — Richard M. Nixon believes his endorsement of the late Sen. Dwight D. Eisenhower may persuade some uncommitted Republican National Convention delegates to back his presidential candidacy.

Nixon told newsmen shortly after Eisenhower's endorsement Thursday that persuasion of uncommitted delegates was one possible benefit.

But, he added, the endorsement should provide a lift not only to his current drive for the presidential nomination but beyond that to the full campaign.

Neither Eisenhower nor Nixon contended the endorsement would be decisive and both also should provide a lift to the party's morale.

Mrs. Elizabeth Taylor, who is married to the president, said she was pleased to hear of the endorsement.

From the Navy base, a blue-and-white prison van, surrounded by a half-dozen police cars and an equal number of motor-

Curfew-Is Enforced By Akron Police

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — Police used tear gas to break up some groups of youths as they enforced an overnight curfew in a Negro section of the city.

The arrests totaled 123 persons. Almost all arrested were Negroes. Forty-two persons were arrested Wednesday night.

The city became quiet early in the morning. Police helped police patrol the streets: A steady rain lasted for several hours Thursday night.

Police used tear gas in arresting about 40 young people as curfew violators Thursday night at the new Afro-American Liberation Front, a street-front club on Wooster street.

Police ordered the youths to leave the clubhouse, but they refused. Police brought the tear gas and simply mired them had to be off the streets from 8 p.m. to 6 a.m.

The police, with some Summit County sheriff's deputies and guardsmen assisting, then broke windows and tossed tear gas inside. The youths were taken to the police station.

Newsmen on the scene said some were clubbed with nightsticks, but police denied that anyone was clubbed.

Czech Party Leader Vows He Won't Return To Stalinist Rule

By PETER REIAK

PRAGUE (AP) — Party leader Alexander Dubcek vowed today to lead his regime away from Stalinist rule and rejected Soviet charges he damaged Communist unity by following a liberal course.

His statement to the Czechoslovak Communist party's Central Committee came amid these other developments:

— The Soviet Politburo asked the Czechoslovakian presidium to come to Moscow or some other Soviet city Monday or Tuesday.

— CTk official Czechoslovak news agency said the nation's liberal regime will hold talks with leaders of other European Communist parties Saturday. It did not identify the parties that the meetings would presumably follow in Czechoslovakia.

— The Soviet Union pledged help to Czechoslovakia's hard-liners, including the 33,000-man Politburo of the Communist Party that has backed Antonin Novotny, the ousted Stalinist leader. Liberals have demanded the militia's dissolution.

— East Germany exhorted Czechoslovakia's old-liners to "boldly counterattack the revisionist and anti-Socialist forces."

Voicing determination to pursue his reformist policy, Dubcek also reaffirmed Czechoslovakia's allegiance to the East European military and economic alliance.

The brief CTk dispatch was the first word on such a meeting following rumors that party chief Alexander Dubcek would meet with the Soviet party's secretary-general, Leonid Brezhnev, in Leningrad.

President Thieu of Yugoslavia also was expected for a visit here, presumably following the Dubcek-Breznev meeting.

The announcement came shortly after the Czechoslovak party's Central Committee went into session to discuss a decision by the leadership to refer to the end of the nation's liberalization process, Prague has rejected the Soviet idea of holding a summit conference in Czechoslovakia.

Cambodians Seize U.S. Patrol Boat

SAIGON (AP) — The Cambodian navy was reported today to have seized an American patrol boat in the Mekong Delta and arrested 10 Americans and one South Vietnamese aboard.

U.S. military authorities in Saigon confirmed that a Navy landing craft was missing in the delta but said it had 10 Americans aboard. There was no mention of any South Vietnamese passenger. It was assumed to be the boat which a newspaper in Phnom Penh, the Cambodian capital, said was seized a mile inside Cambodian river waters.

WASHINGTON — Those who maintain that America's atmosphere of violence is merely one manifestation of a populace yawning with animal spirits should ponder the significance of President Johnson's swing through the Central American republics.

Time after time, Johnson broke through his security cord of Secret Service agents to mingle with the crowds and shake their hands. He could do this in Central America, but he cannot do it in his own country.

These sources say it was not a question of personal fear. Johnson merely believed, quite simply, that it would not be "fair to the country" if he were prohibited from mingling with his own people.

Rocky! Dickie! Please!

As I wrote in a column published last Dec. 19, the Secret Service had informed the President more than a year earlier that it was not safe for him to travel anywhere in the country.

Not a line of that column has even been denied by anyone. And the Secret Service has been urged to justify itself.

Meanwhile, the Secret Service and the FBI have accumulated bales of evidence of anonymous threats to the President.

For example, in the fiscal year that ended June 30, 1967, 323 persons who attempted to gain entry to the White House were arrested by White House police.

As a matter of fact, it is arguable whether the citizen of Saigon is in any more danger from Viet Cong attacks than the residents of American cities who walk their nighttime streets at their leisure.

There's no occasion to conceal the fact, because ear noises are common. Often they occur considerably earlier than that.

Such "stones" are (H2O) solid matter which has been precipitated from certain body fluids. Such "stones" can form in ducts of salivary glands.

From your description, I would guess that in this case the stone is in the duct of the parotid gland, that is, one of the salivary glands.

Dear Dr. Molner: I am conscious of hearing noises resembling the tinkle of Chinese glass chimes and bells.

My hearing is good. I do not suffer from vertigo or high blood pressure. I am over 60 and go to work every day.

What is your advice on this? I hesitate to mention this to anyone else but will mention it here. I am convinced I am committing to imagine things.

Medications, high blood pressure, and ear defects all are possible causes of ear noises. But many times the cause can be ascertained, and in that case the best solution is to accept the fact that the noises are part of the body's normal functioning.

Right after the May 7 Indiana primary, in fact, the McCarthy strategists were making much of the fact that Kennedy had lost by a margin of 57 per cent to 35.

By the logic the McCarthy camp is currently using in "analyzing" primary voting figures for the benefit of convention delegates it seeks to win that primary vote.

Of course, the McCarthy people know that is not so. They know that the President had been on the Wisconsin ballot and had campaigned actively there.

No one can say with any finality (though the McCarthy backers are trying to do so) how Johnson or Vice President Humphrey would have done as active campaigners in the Indiana, Nebraska, Oregon and California primaries.

Rescued Again

At the source of the British pound's recent weakness has been perhaps strangely, Britain's own Commonwealth trading partners.

Firm assurances that the pound will now be protected against selling by countries with large sterling reserves have been given by the major monetary powers, including the United States.

Japan Stands Firm

Although extremists, being under no restraints in the noncommunist countries, always make the loudest noise, they seldom have an effective voice at that most democratic of institutions—the ballot box.

ated the extremists of the left who had created an atmosphere of anti-Americanism in the campaign. The issues were clear. They included the Vietnam war, neutralization of Japan and recognition of Red China.

ROBERT ALLEN AND JOHN GOLDSMITH Pro-Chinese Power Grab

WASHINGTON—The militant leftist Students for a Democratic Society (SDS) is being hectically convulsed by a big dose of its own particular brand of trouble-making medicine.

the U.S. Communist Party for following the Peking line. A 20-member National Committee was named to direct the organization until the next convention.

to silence Music USA, and has complained angrily about it in the cultural exchange discussions.

The Progressive Labor Party (PLP), a pro-Chinese offshoot of the U.S. Communist Party, is aggressively infiltrating SDS in a drive to gain control.

In New York, PLP has extensively infiltrated SDS and considerably determined its policy there. This was a subject of angry argument at the Lansing convention.

From your description, I would guess that in this case the stone is in the duct of the parotid gland, that is, one of the salivary glands.

While thwarted, the PLP's power grab was so confusing and disruptive that it largely nullified the convention.

The Communist Party's designation of a Negro woman as its national secretary, the standard-bearer, but otherwise ordered otherwise, and he obediently made way for Mrs. Charles Mitchell, 38, Communist for 22 years.

My hearing is good. I do not suffer from vertigo or high blood pressure. I am over 60 and go to work every day.

As a consequence, left up in the air were plans to implement a highly significant change in basic SDS policy and structure.

Discussions on a new one hour cultural exchange agreement with Russia.

What is your advice on this? I hesitate to mention this to anyone else but will mention it here. I am convinced I am committing to imagine things.

These informal luncheon sessions, in which there is just a lot of frank talk, especially by the Communist rulers. To them, they are downright subversive.

These pop groups are immensely popular there. They not only attract huge audiences everywhere, but are rapturously sought out after their performances.

Medications, high blood pressure, and ear defects all are possible causes of ear noises. But many times the cause can be ascertained, and in that case the best solution is to accept the fact that the noises are part of the body's normal functioning.

That's the basic SDS problem, but not for the pro-Chinese Communist PLP.

The Kremlin is extremely unhappy about Music USA, a pop music program that is broadcast worldwide two hours nightly from New York. It is sponsored by the Voice of America.

By the logic the McCarthy camp is currently using in "analyzing" primary voting figures for the benefit of convention delegates it seeks to win that primary vote.

BRUCE BLOSSAT

Odd Twist Given To Results

WASHINGTON (NEA) — In the April 2 Wisconsin primary, the late Robert F. Kennedy, who had entered the presidential race just two weeks before, ran up a modest 6 per cent of the Democratic vote on a write-in ballot.

That was the closest won by Sen. Eugene McCarthy over President Johnson, a 40 per cent to 35 per cent margin.

IN PURSUIT of inspiration for a Sunday sermon, Rev. Harold A. Iben, Immanuel Lutheran Church, turns to many avenues in formulating his message. Two of the most important sources are the Bible and his books. On the left,

Rev. Iben researches for this Sunday's sermon pertaining to the second chapter of James' gospel, the first seven verses. Seeking the elusive inspiration, he pauses for meditation (center), another all-important source. To Rev. Iben, meditation means going into a withdrawal situation, and sometimes finds himself driving alone, listening and just going off into another room where he can be alone. With a clear outline in mind and freshly inspired, he sets his ideas on paper, and will have them compiled by Saturday and ready for presentation at the Sunday services. After it all, Rev. Iben says "some of my best thoughts come from the pulpit," and finds going by prepared statements often is unnecessary.

Church Camp Is Planned By Baptists

A five-day church camp at the Wood River Campground north of Ketchum is planned Monday through July 26 by members of Eastside Southern Baptist Church, Twin Falls.

Rev. Robert C. Schreckenberg, pastor, noted that Bible study, mission study, hiking, swimming and volleyball will be features of the camp.

Teachers and counselors will include: Ruth Spence, girls' counselor and mission study teacher; Don Overlin, boys' counselor and camp and hand-craft instructor; Mrs. Don Overlin and Mrs. Robert Schreckenberg will be in charge of the camp kitchen; Rev. E. J. Jenkins-Nampa, will be camp pastor and spiritual counselor, and Rev. Schreckenberg will be camp director.

Campers will be sleeping in tents. They must furnish their own sleeping bags and personal items. Members from 9 years of age to high school age are urged to attend. Further information may be obtained by calling 733-9171.

Church Unit Calls For War Cease-Fire

UPPSALA, Sweden (AP)—The World Council of Churches overwhelmingly approved today a resolution in effect condemning U.S. intervention in Vietnam and calling for a cease-fire in the war.

The vote in the Fourth Assembly of the council, which represents 200 million Anglican, Orthodox and Protestant churches around the world, was about 300 to 20. Thirty delegates abstained.

American churchmen joined others in debate in condemning the American policy in Vietnam. One of the Rev. Robert M. Aiken, owner, professor of religion at Stanford University, said he wished for a stronger statement from the council because, in his country, he has the highest degree of responsibility.

Secretary-General E. H. Carr-Saunders will take the power of world opinion to bring our own nations," the Rev. Mr. Brown said.

WENDELL—Rev. William H. Barrett, Jerome, will be the United Presbyterian Church pulpit until the arrival of Rev. John Stepper, the newly elected pastor.

Rev. Stepper plans to arrive in Wendell Aug. 18.

Christian Scientists At Home In Ferment Over Christianity

By GEORGE CORNELL
BOSTON (AP)—Christian Science, often considered stuffy Church in Boston and its 15,000 members, is feeling right at home today amid the widespread ferment going on in the realm of faith.

"It's very beneficial," says David E. Sleeper, manager of the church's committee on publications. "The general public thinks of us as a conservative church, but we've always considered ourselves progressive in Christian thought."

Another official, Robert Peck, editorial consultant to the publications committee, adds: "Very definitely we're on the new frontier of radical Christianity."

Indeed, in many respects, concepts of Christian Science parallel much of the current theological upheaval, and questions of God, the hereafter and the public presence in the everyday life of the world.

"Perhaps the most significant is the breakdown of the artificial line between the sacred and the secular," says Allison W. Philmore, Jr., the publication committee's editorial supervisor.

Increasing numbers of religious thinkers, he adds, reject the past scholastic definitions of God as a detached being, and "the divine as a dimension of reality which is always present" as a renewing force in human existence.

And this is a basic conviction of Christian Science: that reality introduced 102 years ago by a powerful influential Massachusetts man, Mary Baker Eddy, who wrote: "The time for thinkers has come. Truth, independent of doctrines and time-honored systems, is knocking at the portal of humanity."

She intended at first only to work through existing churches, but opposition led followers to found a separate denomination in 1879.

Today, Christian Science is a relatively small, but worldwide faith, with more than 3,300

Reunion Held By Wendell Class Of '58

WENDELL—The Wendell High School Class of 1958 held a reunion banquet recently at Woods cafe, Jerome.

A memorial service honoring Wendell graduates who died during the war was conducted by Perry Hansen, master of ceremonies. Mrs. Hansen was fatally injured in a car accident one week before the reunion.

Class officers introduced were Bill Krapp, president; Steve Williams, vice-president; Erma (Ruby) Kemp, secretary; Leona (Smith) Williams, treasurer.

loyd Peterson, Carolyn (Brown) Simlin and Perry Hansen were thanked for arranging the reunion.

Awards were given to Marilyn (Brown)—Molters, P-p-l-n-o-a and Mrs. E. W. Brown for the greatest distance; Barbara Marlow Taylor for the most children; Dennis Jones for being the longest; George Walker for being the baldiest; Roberta (Johnston) Fisher, for changing the most, and to Lloyd Peterson, for being the least changed.

Review Given Of Shoshone City Events

SHOSHONE—A review of highlights of activity in the city of Shoshone over the past 20 years was given by E. I. Shaw, assisted by City Overseer L. M. Hatmaker, at the Rotary club meeting Wednesday.

Among things mentioned were the improved new water system, failure of the water tank, installation of new, extra services rendered when a telephone office was here with local women employed to operate it, the Rotary club erecting a shelter at the Mary L. Goodling park and lunch tables at the courthouse lawn, and general improvements.

Guests, other than Mr. Hatmaker, were Don Sims, Gooding, R. M. Jacobson, Boise, District governor, Richard C. Williams, Salt Lake City, will be here Aug. 6.

Revivals Set

Victory Missionary Baptist Church is planning revival meetings, to begin Sunday at 7:45 p.m., with Rev. Chester Bussard, Magnolia, Ark., as evangelist.

Services will be held each evening at 7:45 p.m.

O. A. Robinson, pastor, said all interested persons are urged to attend.

Rather than describing God as "Father, Son and Holy Spirit," he said Christian Scientists would use other terminology, such as "Eternal Mind, Eternal Spirit, Divine Love," all expressing the unitary truth of divine reality, encompassing all authentic life.

Belief in His virgin birth, crucifixion, resurrection and ascension are key elements of Christian Science, but it does not accept the traditional view of the trinity as three persons of one nature.

"This is a pretty mystical formula, in national terms," Peck said, noting that it also has come under criticism in other

"My Fair Lady" Will Be At CSI Center

Eliza Doolittle will blossom into one of the best-known fair ladies of all time next spring when the Dilettante Group of Magic Valley presents its first production in the new College of Southern Idaho Fine Arts Center.

"My Fair Lady," the Alan Lerner and Frederick Loewe play based on George Bernard Shaw's anti-romantic "Pygmalion," will give the Dilettantes—one of the best-ventures in the music community. The additional room, improved acoustics and other advantages of the fine arts auditorium promise to assist the Dilettantes in making the most out of the popular musical.

"My Fair Lady" will be the 11th show for the all-Magic Valley group of part-time thespians, who had the original idea of construction of an auditorium for the Dilettantes in the fine arts center. Part of the proceeds from past shows have gone to the Civic Auditorium Association, which has contributed significantly to the fund for the building.

Even with the additional seating space in the fine arts center—nearly 1,000 seats—the Dilettantes should have no trouble filling the auditorium to capacity. Much of the music from the show, "I Could Have Danced All Night," "I've Got a Feeling About Her Face," "Wouldn't It Be Lovely," "On the Street Where You Live," and "With a Little Bit of Luck," has been popular for years.

The transformation of an ugly duckling into a beautiful swan, to speak, is a popular idea any way you look at it, and when it is done as humorously and romantically as in "My Fair Lady" the idea becomes even better. Try-outs for the show will be held this fall. The show will run for about eight nights sometime next March.

Samuelson Asks Extension Of Federal Restrictions On Export Of Timber

By G. DAVID WALLACE
AP Regional Service
WASHINGTON (AP) — Gov. Don Samuelson of Idaho asked today for extension of federal restrictions on export of unprocessed timber to cover all the Northwest.

"I think a blanket extension would be in order," said Samuelson. "I think it would be beneficial to all of us."

Samuelson testified before a Senate Small-Business subcommittee hearing testimony on the impact of Japanese purchases of raw timber cuts in Idaho, California, Montana, Washington and Oregon.

Secretary of Agriculture Orville Freeman ordered three months ago that most of the timber harvested from federal forest lands in Washington and Oregon must go through at least primary processing before it can be exported.

Freeman acted after the industry complained that agents for Japanese exporters were purchasing raw timber and shipping it to Japan for processing, driving up raw timber prices and bypassing American sawmills.

Jack Fuher, of Idaho's East River Lumber Co. and James Burns of Burns-Yaak River Lumber Co., with mills in Idaho, Montana and Washington, testified that Japanese purchases are moving into other states now that raw timber is harder to get in Oregon and Washington.

"When we sell our logs, we're selling our jobs," said Fuher. Burns said his firm has had to shut down its mill in St. Regis, Mont., because the supply of logs and lumber for domestic mills has slowed to a trickle.

Samuelson said more than two-thirds of the commercial timber and in Idaho is federally owned, and it's up to the federal government to take action to halt the exporting.

Fuher said timber is already in short supply in this country, anyway.
"All we're asking is that the wood fiber that comes from the United States go through some form of primary processing," said Samuelson.

Sen. Wayne Morse, D-Ore., chairman of the subcommittee, said the Agriculture Department has balked at extending the timber restrictions because it would harm the balance of payments.

But, he said, "If you manufacture these logs—you increase the value. And if you increase this value you help the balance of payments."

"We must keep from turning these forests into Japanese tree farms," Morse said.

Their Faces Are Familiar, But . . .

By RUTH KOONCE MILLER
Times-News Staff Writer

Some dubious distinctions have been added to the long list of credits acquired by two of the young sons of a former Idaho couple—one had a finger broken by Red Skelton and the other portrays the "fat kid" in a hot dog commercial.

Randy Whipple, 9, and his brother, Jeffrey, 5, are the sons of Maj. and Mrs. Dale Whipple, Lawton, Calif. They are spending some time in Magic Valley visiting their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Glen Jensen, Burley, and "lots of aunts and uncles."

Both boys' faces are familiar to television audiences—from their many commercial and program appearances. Randy has just entered a new medium, however, and has completed his first motion picture.

The boys, who come from a family of six unusual children, appear to be perfectly normal, well-behaved youngsters, who have that extra spark needed to get across to audiences.

Randy was discovered when a young actor, who had been a talent scout prior to joining the Air Force, saw his picture on Maj. Whipple's desk.

He expressed the belief that Randy's natural coloring—deep red hair, dark brown eyes and a smattering of freckles—would be a perfect combination for television.

His belief proved correct, and at Randy's first career, he is a veteran of five years, show biz. Through his manager, Randy's little brother also was discovered and has, in two years, been filming commercials and pilots.

His round build and impish face make him a natural for any kind of food commercial. Besides the hot dog commercial, he recently has filmed an orange juice commercial and also a "Where Were You When the Lights Went Out?" marks Randy's first appearance in movies. He plays a pint-sized character in the feature film about the great East Coast power blackout of a few years ago.

"Doris Day, star of the film, is 'real nice' according to Randy, who humbly admits that he only plays a small part in the movie's television credits are many, but his favorite topic is about the time Red Skelton broke his finger.

"Randy, who has worked with Red Skelton several times, was injured while appearing on a Skelton Christmas show. Randy was concealed inside a large candy sack and when Mr. Skelton stuck his hand in to grab some candy, the script called for Randy to bite the comedian's finger. He did, and Mr. Skelton picked up a large candy cane—which Jeffrey declares was at least as long as the expense of his arms—and whacked Randy's finger, instead of the edge of the wooden framed candy sack.

"The show must go on" spirit, gritted his teeth and didn't say a word until the scene was over and the cameras went off. "Then I jumped up and down and hollered," he recalls.

The whole family helps the boys at their jobs. Randy's siblings are mulled in and he and his mother spend many hours going over them. "She plays all the other parts while I lens a nibble."

Randy's roles have been many. He appeared as a regular on "The Adventures of Ozzy and Harriet," costarred in and made the pilot of "Who Goes There?," costarred as Jerry Vandylke's son in "My Mother the Car" as appeared in "The Girl From UNGLE," "Run Buddy Run," "Family Affair," "The Lawrence Welk Show," "Dorsey Rove show" and a Hallmark special, "Do Not Go Gentle into That Good Night."

He also has made guest appearances with many famous personalities and, lists singing and dancing among his talents. Since Jeffrey can't read yet, his parts are spoken over and over until he memorizes them.

Perhaps one reason the boys are so successful is that the money they are earning can't be touched until they reach 21. According to Maj. Whipple, who is a career man in the Air Force and the California courts control juvenile actors' money—which is a good thing since so many child actors have been exploited.

Mr. Whipple was born in Twin Falls and raised in Doris. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Whipple, now reside in Arizona. He also taught at Burley for a time.

The boys' jobs have been a lot of fun for the whole family. Maj. Whipple states, "You never know what's going to happen around the boys—but just in case it's not, it's someone famous."

THE WHIPPLE KIDS, RANDY, 9, left, and Jeffrey, 5, are well-known in the California acting circles. The two boys, sons of Maj. and Mrs. Dale Whipple, former Magic Valley residents, have appeared numerous times on television shows and commercials. They have been in Magic Valley visiting their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Glen Jensen, Burley.

Willard Hotel Closes Its Doors After Century Of Association With History

WASHINGTON (AP) — The 20th Century economics and the prospect of urban renewal and its managers shut down the establishment last midnight.

Located on 14th and Pennsylvania Avenue, less than two blocks from the White House, the Willard survived as an institution the wear and tear of the Civil War, conventions and depressions since the first building went up about 1850. The original hotel was torn down in 1901 and the current structure replaced it that year.

But the Willard couldn't fight the hotel's owners, the 1401 Realty Corp., and Howell Corp., both of New York, were not available for comment, but spokesmen in Washington acknowledged that financial difficulty for the past year-and-a-half finally resulted in shutting down the operation.

Other reasons for closing the Willard were offered as the April riots, the Poor People's Campaign—both of which were blamed by commerce leaders for damaging business—and the threat of condemnation to make way for a national square.

It wasn't always that way. At most as soon as the Willard Brothers moved from New England to the capital city and put up a hotel it became the focus of Washington social and political life.

The first of the long line of presidents to stay at Willard's Hotel, as it was known then, was Franklin Pierce. He moved in after his November 1852 election and stayed until his inauguration the following March 4.

They weren't all politicians, the guests who stayed at Willard's. Among the abolitionists were So was Mark Twain; Victor Herbert, John Philip Sousa and Carl Sandburg.

Another guest: In 1861, was Julia Ward Howe. After watching the Union troops return after the disaster at first Bull Run during the abolitionist fight "John Brown's Body," she returned to the Willard to set new words to the melody. She called

"The Battle Hymn of the Republic."

The shutting down of the 450-room hostelry resulted in unemployment for 200 workers, who were given notice at 3 p.m. Monday. They were provided with a bonus, but no severance.

The 150 guests were told of their eviction earlier in the day when cards were slipped under their doors telling them to move.

Burley Men Attend 53rd Kiwanis Meet

BURLEY — Jay Whittle, president of the Kiwanis Club, and Keith Studdard, vice president, Burley, recently returned home from attending the 53rd Annual Convention of the Kiwanis International held at Toronto, Ontario. The two men were accompanied by their wives and family.

Harold M. Heimbaugh, Los Angeles, Calif., attorney, was elected president during the convention. As leader of the International service organization, Mr. Heimbaugh will be spokesman for its 275,000 members in 5,500 clubs throughout the United States, Canada, Mexico, the Caribbean, the Far East, Western Europe, South and Central America, New Zealand and Australia.

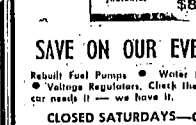

"Delegates to the convention adopted several amendments to their constitution, passed a number of resolutions, up a while their 1968-69 community service programs will be based; and the nations of Kiwanis (now a total of 28) honored the top clubs in the organization in each of five different size categories, and developed new ideas in community service and club administration."

The 105th Kiwanis International convention will be held in Miami Beach, Fla.

OTTAWA (AP)—Canadians turned today to the telephone, telegraph and the U.S. Mail as a nationwide strike by 24,000 post office workers paralyzed regular mail delivery for the second day.

Businesses in cities and towns near the U.S. border rented U.S. postal boxes and arranged for mail pickups and deliveries. Fresh supplies of U.S. stamps had to be rushed to Blaine, Wash., 20 miles south of Vancouver, where the U.S. post office was swamped with outgoing Canadian mail.

—In Toronto—Bell Canada, Canadian National and Canadian Pacific Telecommunications reported a 50 per cent business increase. Air Canada and Canadian Pacific Airlines reported similar surges in the use of air cargo and air express services. All said they had to hire extra staff to handle the rush.

Substitute mailing operations sprang up across the nation, ranging from student letter carriers in Edmonton to special taxi and delivery truck shipments in Saint John, N.B. The government has offered

Dear Abby
By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN
DEAR ABBY: My daughter is married to a man who has her completely baffled. He doesn't let her see any of the bank statements. They are all sent to his office. She has complete faith in him and believes everything he tells her. He spends money extravagantly but he keeps her spending to a minimum. He handles all the finances while she is kept entirely in the dark. Since there are no children how can I fix my will so that I can leave everything to my daughter and her husband cannot get his hands on any of it. If this cannot be done, I shall leave everything to charity. I must make some decision soon as I am getting along in years.
WORRIED
DEAR WORRIED: If you leave "everything" to your daughter, "Everything" could end up in her husband's hands. Explore with your lawyer a trust of some kind, from which your daughter alone can draw the proceeds. That way she would be provided for in the event that "Big Spender" moves on or passes out.

OPERATING EQUIPMENT at the Snake River Conservation Research Center is Dr. Marvin Jensen, acting director of the center, at open house last Friday. The center is located one mile north and one mile east of Kimberly. The day's activities began at 1 p.m. and continued through 10 p.m. Equipment and facilities in the center were shown.

PRESENTING A lecture and demonstration is Dr. Jan Bomma, a South African cattle expert, at Utah State University in Logan, Monday night. His topic will be "Predicting Fertility in Cattle."

Lecture Is Planned By Cattle Expert

A lecture and demonstration by South African cattle expert Dr. Jan Bomma, University of South Africa, will present a lecture and demonstration on "Predicting Fertility in Cattle." The lecture will begin at 8 p.m. in the Main Auditorium and the demonstration at 2 p.m. in the Livestock Pavilion on the USU Dairy Research Farm. A headliner is scheduled at noon in the Utah State Union.

Beef ranchers and dairymen are invited to attend according to Dr. Veit R. Smith, dean of the College of Agriculture at USU.

Dr. Bomma is one of the world's foremost authorities on functional efficiency of beef cattle. The technician said, "He has an uncanny ability to 'teach' cattle and judge their fertility. As a cow is brought into the ring, Dr. Bomma quickly looks her over and is able to accurately state the number of calves she has had and even

Facilities Examined On Tour Of Snake River Research Area

Research facilities and experimental plots were shown on an open house of the Snake River Conservation Research Center last Friday.

The center also includes the University of Idaho, Twin Falls Branch Experiment Station and U.S. Weather Bureau. Equipment used in the center was demonstrated and slide shows were given to further explain the work of the center.

Construction of the center started in Oct., 1962, and the initial staff moved into the new facility during Oct., 1963. The Research Center was built and is operated and maintained by the U.S. Department of Agriculture, Agricultural Research Service and Soil and Water Conservation Research Division.

The research facilities included in the Snake River Conservation Research Center consist of soil chemistry, fertility, physics, soil mechanics and microbiology laboratories, a physical chemistry laboratory, a large irrigation and drainage laboratory, specialized insect laboratories and constant temperature laboratories. Soil and plant processing facilities are included in a greenhouse, headhouse facility. The greenhouse is a hot-dry chamber under controlled environment. Weighing lysimeters have been constructed where a large volume of soil can be isolated, crops can be grown and very precise measurements made of

Farm Bureau Hears Talk By Savant

JEROME—Clay Blazer, Rexburg, professor of agronomy at Ricks College, spoke to a large audience when the Jerome County Farm Bureau met recently at Magic Valley, Calif.

He was introduced by Bill McCoy, chairman, who also introduced Charles Harris, Twin Falls, district representative of the state tax advisory committee. They explained the Farm Bureau broad-base tax proposal, which has been recommended favorably by Gov. Samuelson.

Blazer said "It is time more people began to share in the tax load." He said the proposal has been presented to the representatives and it is receiving some favorable acceptance.

Ralph Peters and Willard Latimer, both of whom are seeking the state representative nomination, attended the meeting.

Officers For Group Chosen

MOSCOW — At the annual meeting of the western section of the American Society of Animal Science held at the University of Idaho recently election of five officers to direct the activities of the western section was held.

Elected were V. R. Bohman from the University of Nevada; president, L. E. Grims from the University of Idaho, vice president, Conrad Kerler from the University of Wyoming, secretary, Robert Raleigh from Oregon State University and A. L. Newmann from New Mexico State University.

More than 200 members attended the two-day meeting.

Along Fences And Canals

Lou Gilbert, Lincoln, Calif., has been employed at the H. McCoy Jones ranch, northwest of King Hill, on King Hill Creek, according to Grant Johnson, foreman of the ranch. Mr. and Mrs. George Porter, Forest Hill, Calif., have been guests at the Johnson home and have been selling hay. Mr. and Mrs. Porter are parents of Mrs. Johnson.

Mrs. Enid Baptie has sold the home ranch located southwest of King Hill on the Snake River to Mr. and Mrs. Duane Williams, Boise. The Bapties have been farmers for nearly 40 years. Mr. and Mrs. Bob Baptie now live at Muldoon. Mr. and Mrs. Williams have leased the land to Mr. and Mrs. Delmar Brannon who owns the former Freeman Yingst ranch near the Baptie ranch.

The Lester Molts at Richfield report killing 12 rattlesnakes during their just completed haying season. The snakes were often discovered under bales which the children were lining up or turning over to look for mice. The Molts say the narrow escape being bitten when one snake struck at it. Dogs and boys seem to enjoy killing mice in the hay fields this year.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Selders and Mr. and Mrs. Deag Williams, Boise, Idaho, and their cattle on pasture in Hagerman Valley sprayed for flies.

Ed Davis, Tuttle, vaccinated his cattle this week and the August Lapp family at Tuttle have finished weeding their beans.

Four semi-truck loads of cattle were loaded at the R. D. Graham ranch near King Hill, and the E. R. Falls sale. Approximately 175 head of mixed cattle were loaded.

On the 101, Charles East ranch at King Hill, the second cutting of hay is being baled.

BOGGED DOWN BY WOOL. This sheep Opal Dunn of Three Creek, is on its way. Dunn originally owned four sheep but two were lost, since Mrs. Dunn decided to skip her sheep shearing. She had to be rescued to have anyone come to her farm to shear Mrs. Dunn says the sheep enjoyed the trip than the trip to Twin Falls loaded down with wool.

Crop Weather

Weather continued favorable in Southcentral Idaho this past week with temperatures showing good growth. Winter grains were generally in the soft-dough-to-turning stages. Spring grains were mostly in the heading to soft dough stage. Potatoes are in the blooming stage. Cutting of first crop alfalfa continued. Cutting row crops for the last time continued. Half damaged acreage to several hundred acres in sugar beets in Minidoka County. Other farm activities included irrigating, better practices, techniques and curing for livestock.

Twin Falls Pomona Grange Holds Meeting, Members Win Speech

Burton Harmon, acting master, conducted the July meeting recently of the Twin Falls County Pomona Grange at the Mountain Rock Grange Hall.

The charter was dropped in memory of Everett Wolt and Mrs. Ova Larsen. A donation in their memory was also sent to the Idaho Youth Ranch in Rupert.

Kenneth Poe announced a public hearing that was held last Tuesday in the courthouse pertaining to consolidation of taxing units specifically the highway districts and law enforcement agencies.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Eoe and Tom Kunkle gave a very interesting report on the Grange Council. They attended recently at Camp Deming. There were seven who attended from Magic Valley.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Hadlock, national youth directors for the Grange, from Washington, D.C., were their main directors. Mr. and Mrs. Poe each won in the Safety Speech contest and their expenses will be paid by the Idaho Safety Council to the Idaho State Grange Convention in Caldwell in October.

A petition sent to the Pomona Grange from Dan Robinson, state Grange executive committee member was read and approved. It pertained to taxing real property as it is being used rather than being prorated, as it is being prorated.

An all-state grange picnic is being held Aug. 4 at 1 p.m. in the Filer Fairgrounds. This will take the place of the annual Pomona picnic. Everyone is to bring their own picnic lunch including drinks.

Kecks Join Orchard Valley Unit

WEENELE—Kenneth and Joseph Keck, area members of Orchard Valley Grange at the last meeting, Howard Niccum, master of Gooding County Grange, were also present. All of the functions of the Research Center are cooperative with other agencies. Spades and facilities have been provided for several cooperative scientists of the Idaho Agricultural and Engineering Experiment Stations involved in soil and water conservation research. The weather Bureau issues operational forecasts and advisories for the agricultural public and also publishes and distributes the studies concerning weather crop relationships.

Facilities Added At Green Giant Plant

BUHL — Addition of new facilities at the local plant of the Green Giant Co. is increasing total plant production by about 30 per cent and all improvements will be ready for operation anytime after Saturday, according to Ervin H. Mellem, project engineer from Le Sueur, Minn.

Mr. Mellem, who just completed an inspection of the facilities, said that a considerable amount of capital has been spent in the improvement which included installation of six haulers and related equipment. This addition brings to 24 the number of machines in this category.

Construction on the project started early last winter and is ending on schedule. Actual production is expected to start after the corn harvest is underway July 26.

Construction and machinery addition at the local plant has made it one of the most modern plants in the Green Giant system. The expansion has practically completed the replacement of the original facility and includes a completely new boiler room.

Jack Wilson, also from Le Sueur, has been construction superintendent for the job. General contractor for the project has been Nelson and Miller, a local electrical contractor. W. Carrel Electric, piping installation and similar work has been done by Home Plumbing and Heating Co. Sheet metal work has been completed by Rogoff Sheet Metal Co. and painting was by Stuart Brothers. All firms listed are from Twin Falls.

NEW ADDITION to the Buhl Green Giant Plant is this separator. Other new equipment at the local plant includes six haulers and related equipment.

Snail, Swelling May Solve Problems In Farm Ponds

By DON KENDALL, Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — A large snail that eats water plants, plus a method of making soil swell, may solve problems common in farm ponds, the Agriculture Department says.

The snail is a native of South America and has been transplanted to Florida where the aquarium trade considers it a pest because it eats water plants.

Because of this dietary preference, the department thinks the snail might keep fresh water ponds, lakes and streams clear of weeds that hamper their use for livestock, fishing and recreation.

A $75,000 grant has been made to the University of Miami, Coral Gables, Fla., to help determine if the snail can perform useful chores.

The soil-swelling project involves use of soda ash — sodium carbonate — in the construction of ponds in western areas to prevent water from leaking out the bottom.

Department scientists say when soda ash is worked into the bottom of a new pond it causes

Riders Practice

KING HILL — Members of the Wranglers 4-H Club rode their horses to the Bud Allen home east of King Hill Thursday night where each member practiced their horse in preparation of the Elmore County Fair to be held in August.

The method can be used on any soils that are at least 12 inches deep and contain at least 15 per cent of a type of clay called montmorillonite. This clay is found west of the Mississippi River, the department said.

AERIAL PHOTO shows the new addition to the Green Giant plant at Buhl under construction. These new facilities increase total plant production by 30 per cent. The improvements will be ready for operation after July 26.

75 Persons Attend Rupert Crop Tour

Seventy-five farmers attended the crops tour July 12 according to Blaine County Agent Vance T. Smith.

The tour started at the Burt Stevenson farm at a new section of alfalfa. Burt Stevenson, chairman of the crops committee, gave in detail how the seedling was established. Howard Blaine, extension agronomist from Boise, told the group the history of alfalfa. He pointed out that it is a "deep rooted, long-lived legume comparable to alfalfa. It produces a little less feed than alfalfa, but is free

Rams Exhibit

Entirety of rams for the 47th annual show and field day at the State Fair, Aug. 3 at the Piler Fairgrounds, shows an excellent offering of mutton-type sires, said Fred M. Laidlaw, Carey, chairman of a group in charge of the event.

The show is sponsored by the Idaho Wool Growers Association and serves as a reliable clearing house to exhibit and compare a large number of superior-type rams, according to Laidlaw.

This is a "show counter" of select mutton-type breeding rams well known for qualities which has placed Idaho among states that produce choice fat lambs.

Listings of Suffolk, Hampshire, Suffolk-Hampshires and Columbia show entries coming from 28 Idaho men who are exhibiting 800 rams. Each offering will be shown in separate pens on the Piler Fairgrounds.

Knull Grange Discusses Fair Booth

Plans for decorating and displaying produce in the agriculture booth at the Twin Falls County Fair were discussed at a recent meeting of the Knull Grange.

Subjects relating to agriculture were discussed by J. H. Sharp, Carl Davis, Gene Hull, Glenn Dosselt, Mrs. Bryan Platt and Elmer Dosselt.

Plans were made to spray the grounds around the hall to destroy the weeds. Mrs. Glenn Dosselt reported that all members of "The Sew Ins" 4-H Club have completed their first year sewing projects.

Two Hailey Men Honored For ASC Job

HAILEY — William J. Buhler and Glen E. Smith were presented with certificates of recognition for their effort, contribution and public interest during the formative years of the national farm policy. The presentation was made by Carl Schoessler, Blaine County ASC Committee.

Mr. Buhler served on the first Blaine County ASC Committee and Mr. Smith was the first office manager.

The ceremony held special significance for these two men, as they had their "backs to the wall" in 1933 when the original Agricultural Adjustment Act (Triple A) was signed into law May 12, 1933. At that time prices hit rock bottom.

Mr. Schoessler said that in late 1932 and early 1933 corn had dropped to 10 cents a bushel, hogs were at below cost of production, milk in some areas was down to 7 cents a hundredweight and cattle had dropped to 43.42 per hundredweight.

The first farm relief programs in 1933 were directed to cotton, corn, hogs, wheat and dairy products, with the programs firmed up and expanded in 1934.

He said that adjustment measures were further refined by legislation in 1936 and 1938, and farm credit and crop insurance provisions were strengthened.

12-Hour Sets Are Urged By Specialist

Twelve hours of irrigation will do as satisfactory a job in most fields as a 24-hour set if the flow is suited to the soil.

This was one of the points various county agents and other agricultural scientists discussed at a recent training session at Blaine County Conservation research center.

Darrell Larsen, Irrigation specialist of the University of Idaho extension service, conducted the two-day program in which representatives of several agencies took part. Fresh approaches to old and new irrigating problems were studied.

"Encourage the use of 12-hour sets instead of 24-hour sets if the stream side-ditch relationship are about right," advised J. A. Bondurant of the soil conservation service.

He continued, "Twelve-hour irrigations on Portneuf loam soils will give applications of about four inches, which is all the replacement that should be figured on this soil. Most of the water applied after this length of irrigation is lost as deep percolation taking valuable nitrogen fertilizer with it."

The session included work on crop rotations, fertilizers, sprinkler irrigation, automatic irrigation and tillage methods for moisture conservation and erosion control on dryland wheat.

Output Decreases

WASHINGTON, D. C. — Evaporated whole milk output in May of this year was down 10 per cent as compared to the same month last year, the U.S. Department of Agriculture estimated. May production at 148 million pounds.

Refreshments were served by Mr. and Mrs. Gene Hull.

"Encourage the use of 12-hour sets instead of 24-hour sets if the stream side-ditch relationship are about right," advised J. A. Bondurant of the soil conservation service.

He continued, "Twelve-hour irrigations on Portneuf loam soils will give applications of about four inches, which is all the replacement that should be figured on this soil. Most of the water applied after this length of irrigation is lost as deep percolation taking valuable nitrogen fertilizer with it."

The session included work on crop rotations, fertilizers, sprinkler irrigation, automatic irrigation and tillage methods for moisture conservation and erosion control on dryland wheat.

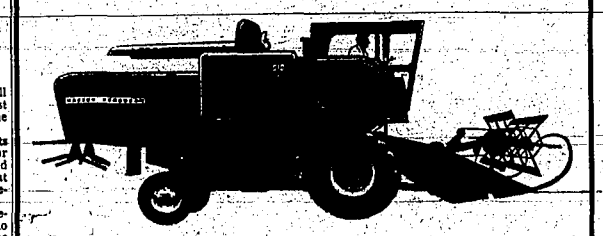

Picnic Set By Richfield Grange

RICHFIELD — The Richfield Grange picnic is set for July 21 at the first camping grounds on Deer Creek. Members of Richfield's 4-H club and parents are invited. The Grange will furnish icecream. The group will swim at Clarendon Hot Springs.

Mr. and Mrs. LaRae Brown were voted to membership at the Grange meeting held at the home of Mrs. Stella Powell. Mrs. Eugene Alexander, lecturer, presented the program.

The next regular grange meeting will be Aug. 14 with place to be announced.

WE CHALLENGE excessive field loss. And low grading grain in the tank.

We beat both with the greatly improved 1968 MF Combines.

- The big improvements are inside, where they really count:
1. Exclusive New Triple Screen Cascade Shoe - Prevents chaff and grain from matting, because they cascade from one screen to another with a controlled air blast blowing away the chaff. This revolutionary new shoe also has 25% more cleaning area.
 2. Exclusive New "Returns Cylinder" that's a genuine rasp bar cylinder. All tailings go to it for threshing, none to the main cylinder, so each operates at its highest efficiency.
 3. New Front Beater feeds material evenly and smoothly to the main cylinder (deflects stones into large trap easily cleaned on-the-go).
 4. New Quick-Attach Tables can be attached or detached in minutes. Makes transport and storage easier. Come see these great new MF Combines soon!

Interest In Old West

The current resurgence of interest in America's authentic Old West may be attributed to the fact that the Old West is front-loading the modern-day man; says an expert on the era.

"The Old West has slipped so far into the limbo of the past that it has taken on a touch of glamour, more so in commercial areas than in prairie country," says an expert on the Old West.

Dr. McCracken, director of the Buffalo Bill Historical Center and the Western Gallery of Western Art in Cody, Wyo., says collectors are paying fantastic sums today for the art and artifacts of the Old West and some items are virtually priceless because the era is gone.

"Gone, too is a large part of the spirit of the era. Men were independent, self-reliant in the Old West. If you like, they were the original (Marlboro) man types. They were tough as nails and if they believed in rainbows they expected to find them all by themselves."

Dr. McCracken, 74, set out West in search of adventure at the age of 18 after receiving an inspiring letter from a local cowboy who was a member of the Western art and the expert on the works of artist Frederic Remington, another real man of the West.

"Remington was the kind of man who was at home in New York's '21 Club' or a frontier saloon. He drank and fought with the best of them and he became the most important of all. Americans, who are flocking to Dr. McCracken, who's museum and personal collection are packed with the best of the Old West."

Hatchings Of Chicks Are Higher

WASHINGTON (AP)— Hatchery production in June totaled 283 million chicks, an increase of 1.5 percent over a year earlier, the Agriculture Department reports.

Broiler-type chicks totaled 252 million, a 3 per cent increase, and brought the total so far this year to 1.46 billion, about 7 million more than for the same period last year.

Egg-type chicks produced in June totaled about 41 million, down 9 per cent from a year ago.

Poultry hatchings last month were 17.8 million, down 9 per cent from a year earlier, the department said.

Study Says Soviets Plant More Acres Than U.S. Farmers—Yield Is Less

By DON KENDALL
 WASHINGTON (AP)— More farmers plant more acres in the Soviet Union but they harvest smaller yields than farmers in the United States, a comparative study by the Department of Agriculture shows.

Total output in both countries was comparable during the year 1966—the every covered, the department said.

Wheat Breeder Will Offer Paper At Genetics Session

MOSCOW — Dr. Warren T. Pope, University of Idaho wheat breeder, leaves for a five-week trip to Australia and New Zealand to present a paper at the Third International Wheat Genetics Symposium and to consult with cereal research workers.

A grant from the Idaho Wheat Commission is supporting Dr. Pope's trip.

Pope will visit researchers in Canberra, Wagga, Wagga, Adelaide, and Toowoomba in Australia, and Christchurch, New Zealand. Not only will he consult with researchers concerning mutual problems and goals, Pope will also have the opportunity to make arrangements for seed exchange of wheat types that might be useful in Idaho.

However, the most important aspect of his trip will be to report on his research work with stripe rust.

The wheat breeder is gaining widespread recognition for his work with wheat diseases. More recently Pope has concentrated his research efforts in investigating plant resistance to stripe rust. However, he was led into this endeavor through his concentrated efforts to breed into his wheat varieties all the world's known sources of resistance to blight, many of the more important ones.

To stem rust and leaf rust, as well as various rust genetic characters.

During his work, stripe rust hit the wheat growing areas of Eastern Washington and Northern Idaho hard. In looking over his plots, Pope realized that some of his wheat crosses were segregating for a wide range of resistance to stripe rust, some reaching levels better than either parent. He watched the phenomenon of "subsequent" stripe rust years, and the picture became clearer. Evidentially there were many minor genes influencing stripe rust. In working with these minor genes, Pope found that they are usually but not always additive with each other. Some do very little alone but become very effective in complementary interaction with certain other genes.

In commenting on Pope's work, Dr. Arthur M. Finley, head of the Plant Science Department, said, "The system of multiple genes with small increments of resistance for stripe rust as found by Dr. Pope by implications should be found for other diseases and plant types and be a solution to disease situations where the breeders are running out of specific disease resistance genes." It was a matter of international interest.

Thiel Appointed To Post With Resource Board

BOISE — Richard Thiel has been appointed as chief of Small Projects Branch, development division of the Idaho Water Resource Board.

The announcement was made by Robert R. Lee, director of Idaho Water Resource Board. Dr. Lee said the selection was made through the Idaho Personnel Commission to fill a position with a qualified professional engineer to head the Small Projects Branch.

Mr. Thiel has a B. S. degree in Civil Engineering and a Bachelor of Naval Science degree, both obtained at the University of Wisconsin.

Western Bean Cutworms biting into profits?

More than 85 per cent of the Soviet Union's land is in farms under state management. These are the "state farms" and "collective farms" which averaged 120,000 acres and 31,000 acres each, respectively, in 1966.

The state farms employed 651 workers to sow 4,111,111 more than 18,000 acres each, and the collective farms employed 417-to-plant about 7,000 acres.

U.S. farms in 1966 averaged 176 workers and 350 acres, which included 92 acres planted for harvest. There were about 3.2 million farms in the United States in 1966.

One of the reasons cited in the study for higher U.S. production is the amount of equipment used by American farmers.

This included 4,815,000 tractors, compared to 1,650,000 in the Soviet Union; 3,100,000 trucks,

SELECTIVE INSECTICIDE

Since it is selective, "DYLOX" insecticide doesn't destroy beneficial insect populations when used as directed. These helpers are still able to do their pollinating and predator tasks. But DYLOX does go to work on the Western bean cutworm and other profit robbers—and goes to work fast. DYLOX is easy to use—just mix with water and apply. This season, help nature control Western bean cutworm, yucca and other harmful insects with the proven selective DYLOX insecticide. Carry it in your Big Blue Bag.

The Green Thumb
 by GEORGE ABRAHAM

STARTING YOUR OWN ROSES: Many home gardeners like to grow their own roses. You can take a "slip" (cutting) about five to six inches long from the base of the rose, leaving one leaf in sand or the ground as soon as taken and water it thoroughly. Then place a glass jar over the cutting. A glass jar (bottom removed) makes a fine "greenhouse" for rooting roses, shrubs, evergreens and other woody plants. One of my readers makes a "tent" of heavy duty clear plastic. She uses equal parts of sand and peat vermiculite for starting the cuttings. First, she makes a frame of stakes so that the plastic could be draped over the top. Her husband rigged up two oil burner stoves to a piece of copper tubing connected to a length of heavy-duty garden hose. This produced mist at one and one-half inches per hour, inside the "tent of mist." Ross cuttings rooted in two weeks and many of the roses actually had blossomed by fall.

Another good way to start roses is to use a big fat potato, sliced in half, flat-wise, bury it in the soil so its level with surface. Then it shoots out rose slips, and thrust them into the potato, about an inch. Place a gallon jug over them, and that's all there is to it. If you don't have a potato, forget it, and use a glass jar.

SAVE SHADE TREES: Quite often a home builder will want to save a tree for shade. But unfortunately the bulldozer operator doesn't pay much attention to how it should be saved, and the tree dies. Shade trees do not like to have soil stripped off the surface or have soil filled on top. Earth fills seven as much as eight inches will cause changes in soil air and water supplies, thus suffocating the tree. Where deep fills are needed, use a system of drainage should be laid on top of the fill.

GRADES: When the dozer grades, when the dozer saves some of the tree's feeder roots and cause drying by lowering the water table. If you have a good tree that needs saving, place a temporary fence around it to keep machinery from skinning the bark, packing the soil or disturbing the surface.

POISONOUS ELDERBERRIES: Many have asked me if the "Red-barked Elderberry" is poisonous. This plant looks exactly like the common elder, but fruit is red. The red fruits are bitter and unpleasant, but apparently not poisonous, though the taste may be nauseating. Roots and stems plus leaves of all elderberries are poisonous. If you're going to grow elderberries, why not grow one of the cultivated types? so you can enjoy the fruit? Meanwhile, if you do have a red-barked elder around your house, be sure you know what the fruit is, and should be avoided.

QUESTION OF THE WEEK: R.C. of Oakley: "I own a small high hedge and the Japanese Yews and Arborvitae are about 10 feet high, four feet in diameter, all out of proportion to the site of the house. Would it be advisable to cut them in half without losing the trees?"

Getting over-sized evergreens back to normal takes a little doing. First, take a look at the specimens. Are they good and healthy? Or are they full of rot? If they're bare and woody, and scrawny, I'd yank them out and replace them with new specimens. If all well, and they do well, replace them. Shrubs often do well replacing. If you want to try your own way, then plant a cutting about one-third of the top and sides back. Don't do the job all in one operation, because the roots will scare you. Arborvitae can be shortened a little easier than the Yews, and you can usually cut the top back a couple feet or so. Arborvitae grows fast and fills in quickly. You can do your trimming now.

M.H. of Twin Falls: "For four years now, my vegetable garden has been producing fine, but this year, something's wrong. Tomatoes, peppers, eggplants, string beans, nothing seems to be growing. My neighbor has a lot better growth than we do. Why?"

It could be due to a variety of things. First, look at the soil. If yours has clay in it and there's been ample moisture, there's a chance you've got some pests. Check for small worms and grubs. If you have a lot of dry fertilizer around each plant? An overdose will check growth. Pull up a plant or two and see if there are healthy white roots or are they missing? Garden symphyllids (tiny, fast-moving pests) often feed on the roots, starting growth. If this is the problem, chlordane dusted around the plants and watered in will banish them. Dry soils also slow down plant growth. Soils containing ample amounts of organic matter (humus) produce better plants than soils lacking it.

Hearing Set To Study Beet Shares

The U.S. Department of Agriculture has announced that an informal public hearing will be held July 25 in Denver, Colo., to receive views and recommendations on whether proportionate shares (farm percentage allotments) should be established for the 1969 crop of sugarbeets in the Domestic Beet Sugar Area.

The Sugar Act provides that the Secretary of Agriculture shall establish proportionate shares for farms in the beet sugar area if he determines that the production of sugar from a crop will be greater than the quantity needed to enable the area to meet its quota and provide a normal carryover inventory as estimated by the Secretary for the area, for the calendar year during which the larger part of sugar from such crop normally would be marketed. The act also provides that the Secretary of Agriculture will make his determination after due notice and opportunity for a public hearing.

The marketing of sugarbeets within individual farm proportionate shares is one of the conditions producers must meet to qualify for Sugar Act payments. Proportionate shares were not established for the 1967 and 1968 crops. About 1,190,000 acres of beet crop beets were planted and it is estimated that about 2,700,000 short tons of sugar, raw value will be produced from the crop. Industry estimates indicate that 1968-crop acreage planted or to be planted will be somewhat higher than the March intentions of 1,414,000 acres.

Two Ranchers Vie For Cassia County GOP Bid

BURLEY — On the Republican ticket there is a two-way race for nomination as Cassia County Third-District Commissioner.

Orvil E. Beecher, Elba, is seeking re-election for the county commissioner's post and is opposed by Orson J. Zollinger, Sublett.

Mr. Beecher is a life long resident of Cassia County engaged in ranching. He has served for past six years as county commissioner third district. He is active in many community and church activities and has served 16 years as Bishop of Elba-LDS Ward. He and his wife, former Hazel Ward, live at Elba and are the parents of five daughters. Two have graduated from college, two are attending college and one is in high school.

Violence Flares In Hippy Area

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A man was shot and a policeman injured as violence flared for the third straight night in the Haight-Ashbury hippie district.

Michael Moore, 20, suffered a gunshot wound in an arm. Police said it was not determined who fired the shot.

The Thursday night outbreak followed the pattern of previous disturbances. False alarms attracted fire trucks, which were pelted with rocks and bottles.

Patrolman Frank Roth was treated for a back injury received while grappling with young men.

Police were targets of fire-bombs again, littered in Haight Street, once the domain of "flower children" but now inhabited by what police called a tougher breed.

Sniper fire was reported for the first time in the series of disturbances and small bands, directed by comrades stationed on rooftops with walkie-talkies, occupied intersections after police had left them, police said.

Several stores were looted for the second time and broken glass again littered in Haight Street, once the domain of "flower children" but now inhabited by what police called a tougher breed.

Purchase Of Auto Club Is Reported

Officials of the World Motor Club of Idaho Falls announced Friday the firm has purchased the National Auto Club of Twin Falls.

World agrees to assume claim liabilities of National for claims arising after this month, it was reported.

The Idaho Department of Insurance revoked the license of National in March. Officials in the department said at that time the club was involved and not in compliance with statutes governing motor clubs.

People with questions about World Motor Club, the new owner of National, may contact the club headquarters at 510 Lomax, Idaho Falls.

Marty Fleckman Shoots Four-Under Par 66 For Early Lead In PGA Meet

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP)—Four-time PGA champion Marty Fleckman took a tip from sage Byron Nelson and fired a four-under-par 66 Thursday for a two-stroke lead in the opening round of the 56th PGA Golf Championship.

"Byron told me you've got to play the par 3s and the par 5s if you hope to do any good," the strapping 24-year-old youngster from Port Arthur, Tex., said.

"I birdied three of the four par 3s and that's what did it," Fleckman, who as an amateur led the U.S. Open in 1967 through three rounds and who may hold the record for the most birdies in a professional tournament as a pro, birdied the second hole, chip-

Wilson Hurls Detroit Past Oakland 3-1

OAKLAND (AP) — Earl Wilson roused slumping Detroit with a six-hitter and the Tigers won to beat the Oakland Athletics 3-1 Thursday.

Wilson, evening his record at seven allowed three hits for seven innings before a double by pinch-hitter Ransom Webster, a single by John Donaldson and an infield out ruined his shutout in the eighth. Wilson struck out five and walked none.

The Tigers jumped on Lew Krausse, 6-8, for all their runs as they won for only the third time in eight starts since the All-Star break.

Jim Northrup opened the fourth inning with a single, reached third base on Willie Horton's hit and scored on Bill Freehan's sacrifice fly.

Don Wert singled and Dick McAuliffe doubled in the fifth to set up two more runs on Mickey Stanley's infield hit and Northrup's sacrifice fly.

Detroit 009 120 000—3 6 2
Oakland 000 000 010—1 6 1
Wilson and Freehan; Krausse, Segui (6), Sprague (9) and Duncan, W.—Wilson 7-7. L—Krausse, 6-8.

Twins' 5-Run Sixth Inning Beats Boston

MINNEAPOLIS — ST. PAUL (AP)—Ted Uhlhaender's two-run double capped a five-run Minnesota outburst in the sixth inning which carried the Twins to a 7-2 victory over Boston Thursday.

An explosion, which gave the Twins the rubber game of a three-game series, came against Gary Bell, who was blasted for six runs in the first inning of the series opener with Minnesota.

Bell, who suffered two losses in the series and was roughed for 13 hits and eight earned runs in four innings, relieved Jose Santiago in the third inning when Santiago's right elbow started hurting him.

Rod Carew then cut a chopper over the mound to ignite the uprising—and the Twins battered around before Gary Wastelski took the side out.

Tony Oliva doubled to put runners on second and third, and Uhlhaender's double scored them both. Frank Quilander punched a punt over first to start the rally in four innings, relieved Jose Santiago, scorched Uhlhaender and finishing Bell.

Quilander scored from first on Rick Renick's double off Wastelski and Cesar Tovar's single scored Renick with the final run of the inning.

Boswell, now 8-8, was touched for nine hits and charged his way out of frequent jams. He gave up Ken Harrelson's 20th homer in the second and an unearned run when Tovar dropped a two-out fly in the third.

Boston 011 000 000—2 9 0
Minnesota 000 005 11x—7 12 2
Santiago, Bell (3), Wastelski (6), Brandon (7) and Nixon; Boswell and Roseboro, W.—Boswell 8-8. L—Bell 8-5. HR—Boston, Harrelson (20).

Ogden Scores In 10th To Nip Angels

OGDEN (AP) — Pinch-hitter Ted Rhode singled in the 10th inning to give Ogden a 2-1 victory over Idaho Falls Thursday.

Rhode's hit broke up a tight pitching duel between Ogden's Ted Gilje and Idaho Falls' Rick Hansen.

With the score tied 1-1 in the bottom of the tenth, Gary Wedel singled to center and advanced to second on a passed ball. Then with two out and a 3-2 count, Rhode punched the ball into center to keep Ogden on top of the league race.

Ogden scored his first run in the third inning when Tom Pachorek was hit by a pitch and scored on Steve Garvey's double in the left field.

Idaho Falls tied the game in the sixth inning on a single by Hansen on balls. But Quinones and a single by Dan Loamer.

Idaho Falls threatened a couple more times, but Gilje pitched his way out.

Ziegenfuss Cops Tennis Victory

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP) — Sixth-seeded Valerio Ziegenfuss of San Diego, Calif., advanced to the quarter-finals Thursday in the only singles match played at the National City Courts Tennis Tournament.

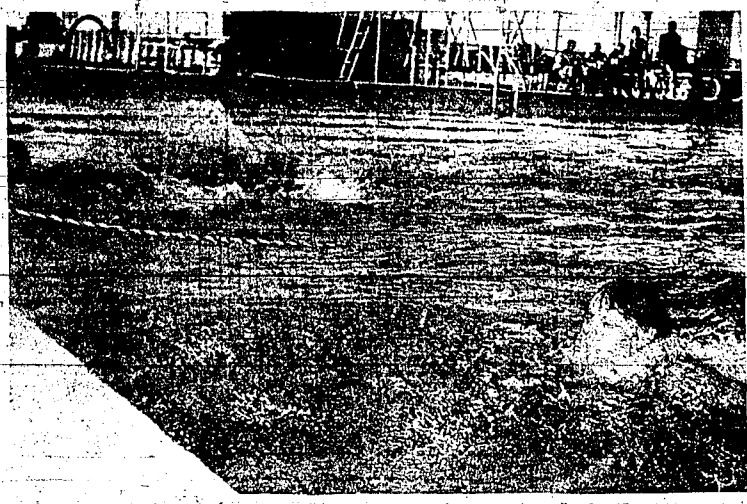

Four quarter-finals singles matches were postponed because of wet courts.

Mis Ziegenfuss eliminated Canada's Pavo Urban in a match halted by rain Wednesday.

Mis Urban won the first set 6-2, but when play resumed Thursday, Mis Ziegenfuss took command to win two sets and the match 6-4, 6-1.

Jarvis And Aaron Pace Braves' Win

HOUSTON (AP) — Stumpy Jarvis pitched a two-hitter and Tommie Aaron drove in four runs, pacing the Atlanta Braves to a 7-1 victory over the Houston Astros Thursday night.

Jarvis, now 10-6 with a 5-0 career record against the Astros, gave up one hit and a run in the first inning and retired 19 of the next 20 hitters before another hit in the seventh.

After Hank Aaron doubled and Joe Torre singled for the Braves' first run in the opening inning, Tommie Aaron shattered the 1-1 tie with a three-run triple in the third and scored on an infield out.

Tommie followed Torre's double in the eighth with a run-scoring single and brother Hank singled in the final marker.

OPPONENTS ALWAYS LEAD TO KILL

Today's six-club contract would be a cinch had West opened anything but a spade. Declarer wouldn't like a diamond opening—but he would take a heart finesse at trick two. When that worked, he would simply ace of diamonds so early in the play when there was still a really good play in hearts left. Now Ira ran off with the trump suit to see where declarer would play the line. Two hearts were played from dummy and Ira, finally, the last card in his nine-of-hearts suit.

The next play was the king of hearts. Ira decided to follow. The four hearts produced the eight from West and the moment of decision had arrived. The three missing cards were the queen of hearts, a spade and the ace of diamonds. West still held 4-3-5-4-3-2-1. Ira knew that Roth had been capable of underleading his ace of diamonds, so there was no clue there. Finally, Ira decided to play general percentage. West had started with more hearts than East, therefore he was more likely to hold the queen. Ira finessed and made the slam.

Legislative Unit Studies Plan To Cut Consumer Utility Rates

BOISE (AP) — A legislative committee is studying a plan proposed by the same rate — 20 per cent — consumer utility rates but at the same time add a new tax to utility bills. The plan is to equalization law, recommendations on the Idaho property taxes and was switch. A present, utility-owned property of the legislature's interest and all other property in an average of about 12 per cent, the committee chairman, Rep. H. Ferd Koch, R-Boise, said. Koch outlined the proposal to make the switch in one year, stressing it was just in the discussion stage. Koch said the plan would: — Equalize the assessment ratio of all property to 20 per cent at one time. — Other suggestions are that the change to equalize the ratios be made gradually. — Impose a three per cent tax on utilities which would be passed on to the consumer. For example, each householder would have a three per cent tax added to his electricity bill. Koch said the three per cent figure is an approximation of the loss in revenue from utilities, which would be needed to offset by lowering their assessment ratios. — Require utilities to lower rates in an amount proportionate to the money saved by reduction in the assessment ratios of utility property taxes. The Legislative Council staff has been asked to prepare estimates of what the impact of this proposal would be. Koch said the tax committee will hold a public hearing, August 1, with exact time to be set later — on the matter of equalization. He noted the committee has met with several groups involved with the field, such as the County Assessors Association, and the hearing in August will be for anyone not having a chance to appear before the committee at previous meetings. The committee must prepare its final report by November.

Bill Banning Mail-Order Gun Sales Gains Support

WASHINGTON (AP) — A bill banning the mail-order sale of rifles, shotguns and ammunition has picked up support from the House Republican leadership. It still faces a bill of more than 100 amendments which could strengthen it, weaken it or kill it. The unusual volume of amendments needed for today's session was expected to delay a final vote until Saturday or possibly early next week. The amendments range from minor exemptions to lessen the impact on hunters and collectors to provisions for registration of all firearms and licensing of gun stores. The bill also would change the measure as originally asked for by President Johnson would impose mandatory prison sentences for those who carry a gun while committing a felony. This provision, however, has drawn opposition mainly from congressmen who say it raises constitutional questions. Rep. Gerald R. Ford of Michigan, House Republican leader, lined up Thursday behind the basic Johnson administration bill which would ban the sale of rifles, shotguns and ammunition through the mails and over the counter to residents of nonadjacent states. The bill would ban all sales of rifles and ammo to people under 18. This was the way the bill was reported out of the House Judiciary Committee last week and Ford told newsmen "If the committee bill is changed significantly either way—stronger or weaker—it is probable the bill will be defeated." "If we want to get meaningful legislation," Ford added, "I think we better stick with the committee bill." Ford thus aligned himself with two other key members of the House who have said they were about $10.67 million, which compares to about $33.52 million for the comparable period last year.

Rep. Hansen Talks Against Gun Controls

WASHINGTON, D.C.—During House debate Wednesday on gun control legislation, Congressman D. Hansen, Idaho, said he is unalterably opposed to it. Rep. Hansen, who said that the executive, legislative and judicial branches of our government have been whittling away at property rights, individual rights and states' rights in recent years, added, "This legislation is another example of this and I will not be a party to it." Rep. Hansen said it may be true that the legislation under consideration is relatively "mild," but added that it is still the opening the camel's nose, and he said the Senate will not add other and even more objectionable features to the bill and then send it back on a "take it or leave it basis."

Castro Gives Revolution Training

HAVANA (AP)—Fidel Castro's government is giving revolutionary training to scores of leftist students from abroad at a special institute tucked away in the hills of Pinar del Rio Province. The majority of the students are French. There are also more than 70 Swedes reported to be in the institute. United States and a scattering from Vietnam, England, Norway, Denmark and West Germany. The students deny reports from France that they are being taught guerrilla tactics for use in the cities. "We are not working the Cuban revolution and trying to help the campesinos (peasants)," said a French student. "I guess you could describe the seminars as political training," said a name withheld from conversations with some of the students and others who have visited the institute, whose attending apparently were Cuban officials of armed struggle to make social revolution. And most apparently intend to try to carry out such a policy when they return home. The students put in three of their working day on special agricultural projects and attend seminars the other half. About 600 took part in the six-week course, which just ended. About a hundred new students are expected next week, but some of the old ones are staying on for a while.

Sen. Church Lauds Water Study Law

WASHINGTON — Sen. Frank Church, D-Idaho, Thursday praised the approval by a Senate-House Conference Committee of legislation to create a National Water Commission to study the water needs of the nation. "The National Water Commission represents the best approach we have for evaluating the water needs of the entire country," the Idaho senator said. Sen. Church was one of the Senate conferees on the legislation. The Senate-House Conference Committee approved a compromise bill to establish the commission at a meeting Thursday afternoon. Sen. Church noted the National Water Commission will be composed of members outside of government. It will be charged with making an independent, full-scale study of the water resource needs of the nation. "This sound approach—which recognizes that we must have an overall study — contrasts with the persistent schemes of California and the southwest to divert water from Idaho and the Pacific Northwest," Sen. Church said. "Where the National Water Commission would conduct an impartial and independent study of the whole country, the Southwest wants a piecemeal approach which would give the Colorado River Basin States precedence over the Northwest. Just as Congress must reject legislation authorizing these sectional water diversion studies, so Congress should act promptly and favorably to complete action on the National Water Commission," he added.

Funds OK'd For Military Construction

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Appropriations Committee today approved $170 million to finance what it called one of "the most austere" military construction programs in years. This is $200 million less than requested by the Johnson administration and $28 million under last year's appropriation. Subject to House action next week and the Senate approval, the bill would finance construction and modernization of military installations and family housing at bases in the United States and abroad. The Army's share was $55.4 million, the Navy's $28.2 million, the Air Force's $22.8 million and reserve and other agencies $106.7 million, in addition to $38.7 million for servicemembers' family housing. The committee called for improvement of military support facilities in South Korea, with emphasis on improved troop housing.

Senator Asks Reapportionment Alterations

MULLAN, Idaho (AP) — Only legislative districts and not counties should be used as the unit from which to select delegates to state party assemblies, State Sen. Arthur Murphy, D-Mullan, said Thursday. At present, a combination of both county and district representation is used at the political party assemblies. The district should be reapportioned as the political authority attending the state convention. Murphy said. He said this is the only Idaho's political party machinery can comply with legislative reapportionment. "Without eliminating the district and friction between the county and the district units."
