'Electrician' Nabs Young Son Of Banker; Hints Of Ransom

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif. (AP) — A man posing as an electrician kidnaped the 4-year-old son of a Beverly Hills banker, and police searching for the boy said today there are similarities to an unsolved abduction one year ago.

"I'll contact your husband later. I want $250,000 in $20 bills," the mother of Stanley Stafford Jr. quoted his abductor as saying.

The man, wearing a hard hat and blue work clothes, fled in the family's new minivan. Police said they found the abandoned auto seven hours later but would give no details.

Police Chief Clinton H. Anderson said "there are similarities" between the Stafford abduction and the kidnaping of Kenneth Young, 11, in April 1967.

Young, son of Herbert Young, president of a savings and loan association, was released unharmed after three days when his father paid $250,000 ransom. He lives in 4 1/2 blocks from the Staffords.

Both boys were kidnaped during the day. Both fathers are civic leaders.

Stanley Stafford Sr., chairman of the board of Fidelity Bank of Beverly Hills, was "anxious to pay off the ransom," Anderson said. But police said they knew of no ransom call.

A visitor to the Staffords' $50,000 home, who wouldn't give his name, said the boy's father and mother, Joanne, were "just sitting by the telephone waiting for a call."

The boy's father was at work when the youngster was kidnaped.

Stafford's first wife was Lorraine Allen, an actress once married to broadcaster Xavier Cugat. She won a $200,000 settlement when she divorced Stafford in 1960.

Guatemala Searches For Slayers Of Envoy

GUATEMALA (AP) — Guatemala authorities pressed the hunt today for the killers of U.S. Ambassador John Gordon Mein, but there was no word of progress.

The assassins machine-gunned Mein Wednesday afternoon after being in his limousine on a main street of Guatemala City. The 54-year-old career diplomat was cut down as he tried to escape.

In Washington, a State Department spokesman said President Johnson and Secretary of State Dean Rusk were "shocked and grieved" by the slaying believed to be the first assassination of a U.S. ambassador in Washington.

President Julio Cesar Mendez Montenegro declared a 30-day state of siege and proclaimed three days of mourning. His decree expressed the "deep condemnation of the government and people of Guatemala to the slaying of the ambassador and people of the United States."

Mendez in a statement to newsmen described the ambassador as a "sincere friend of Guatemala."

It was assumed that Mein was the victim of one of the extremist factions who have been warring in Guatemala for months. But there was no indication whether "his assassins" were from the ultraright or the ultraleft.

Czech Leaders Continue Modification Of Reforms

PRAGUE (AP) — Leaders of Czechoslovakia's Communist party went ahead today with a slow modification of their liberal reforms. Opposition still was voiced in the capital, but increasing numbers of people appeared to accept it as inevitable.

Premier Otakar Cernik announced that the government had decided on temporary measures to restrict press freedom.

Czechoslovak Communist party leaders considered whether to cancel the definite election last week of an all-liberal party central committee, an election Moscow called illegal.

Cernik said the government would continue its liberal course as much as possible under the Soviet occupation. He appealed to

McCarthy's Kids Learn Grim Lesson

By JEAN HELLER
CHICAGO (AP) — They came naive to fight a war where even professionals are fortunate to survive. They lost. Shaken, saddened, unsure where to turn, they learned a grim political lesson.

They are the young people who call themselves McCarthy's kids. For nine months they worked to nominate Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy as president. They committed themselves to that possibility, for some the first real adult commitment they ever made.

It died on the floor of a crowded convention hall in the middle of a rank stocky day in a city torn by violence.

It was a fast, tough way to grow up.

Harry Watson, 19, of Greensboro, N.C., who joined McCarthy last March, slipped on a black arm band with a button that read, "Don't think, follow. Don't talk, shoot. It's the American way."

"Of course I'm bitter," Watson said. "I guess I expected this but there was always a maybe. I don't know what I hope for now. I don't really have any hopes left."

"Sure I had my doubts about his chances, but I felt I had to do something. We've created a new involvement and awareness in a lot of young people, but I don't know if it means anything. Its obvious we don't move enough of the people who count."

That became abundantly clear Wednesday night as some 500 young McCarthy supporters sat on the mezzanine of a besieged Conrad Hilton Hotel and watched the Democratic National Convention nominate Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey as its presidential candidate.

On Michigan Avenue, one floor below, cordons of Chicago police and Illinois National Guardsmen stood in a mist of tear gas after a day of bloody clashes with demonstrators which put hundreds in hospitals.

When the Pennsylvania delegation cast the deciding vote, there was a sharp, almost compulsive cry to "take to the streets. We can't do any more good here."

It was more frustration than serious threat, however, and when it passed the McCarthy Kids wiped themselves around the mezzanine railing and shouted off their anger, chanting,

"We want you," "Free Chicago," and "We want peace."

As McCarthy held a news conference nearby, his young supporters sat on the floor and sang, "We Shall Overcome."

For three hours, the McCarthy Kids searched for something to do, somewhere to go, something to say. Some talked of a fourth party. Some spoke of trying to do on a local level what they failed to do on a national level. Some simply went home to bed.

"I'd like to say the hell with it," said Judy Friedman, 17, of Evanston, Ill. "But you can't say the hell with it because you become committed. I guess I gained something from this campaign in that respect. I don't feel much like the same person anymore."

Neither do many of the other McCarthy Kids.

They're not kids anymore.

HHH Mulls Vote 'Mate'

Nominee Considers Shriver, Muskie

CHICAGO (AP) — Democrat H. Humphrey talked over possible running mates with political friends today but put off making the choice close associates figure will be either Sen. Edmund S. Muskie or R. Sargent Shriver.

The vice president, a smashing winner of his party's top spot on the first ballot Wednesday night, slept late until sometime after 10 a.m. today.

Ted Van Dyke, an aide, said Humphrey probably would announce his selection in early afternoon.

Humphrey stayed up late to share the joys of victory with his family and, by telephone, with President Johnson, Mrs. Johnson and the two Johnson daughters. Richard M. Nixon, the man he will have to beat in November to win the White House, also phoned congratulations.

Humphrey then struck at the violence that has undercut his triumph, deploring both "storm trooper tactics" of Chicago police and "roydism" on the convention floor by dissident delegates.

"Self-righteous minorities don't have a monopoly on the truth," he said in an interview taped early this morning and later televised. "I've seen far too much of it. I think it is about time to call a halt to it."

As he spoke, protesters of the way police have put down demonstrators marched with candles in their hand down the lakefront hotel row. Delegates joined them, including two Congressmen—William F. Ryan of New York and George E. Brown Jr. of California—and Richard N. Goodwin, former speechwriter for President John F. Kennedy.

In command all the way, Humphrey trampled the challenges of peace candidates Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy and George S. McGovern to become the election opponent of Republican Richard M. Nixon.

The vice president's methodically obtained victory was greeted with mixed enthusiasm and apprehension by security-harassed delegates to this most guarded and restricted of all national conventions.

The selection of Humphrey promised to lay before the nation's voters a choice between President Johnson's domestic and foreign policies—which the vice president has backed solidly—as a member of the administration team—and a proposed Nixon program that varies more in details than essentials.

The final countdown, with 1,312 votes needed for the nomination was:

Humphrey 1,761 3/4
McCarthy 601

Police, Rioters Fight In Chicago

CHICAGO (AP) — Some 3,000 anti-war demonstrators and Chicago police battled beneath the windows of the Conrad Hilton Hotel, the Democratic National Convention headquarters, Wednesday night as Hubert H. Humphrey was receiving the party's presidential nomination across town.

Early today, as Illinois National Guardsmen formed a protective circle around the Hilton, some 600 dissident convention delegates and youths marched down Michigan Avenue. They carried candles and sang softly while the antiwar protesters slept in a park across the street from the hotel.

The International Amphitheatre site of the convention had five miles distant, remained ached behind police guards and a barred wire fence.

Tear gas filtered throughout the night's largest hotel Wednesday night, even reaching the 25th-floor suite of Humphrey and the room of Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy.

Police used clubs in subduing the demonstrators, most of them white youths, some of them bearded and sandaled, some clean-cut.

Police arrested 267 youths. At least 300 demonstrators were injured, most of them from the policemen's clubs as the youths surged into police lines and attempted to storm the hotel.

For a short time, Hilton Convention headquarters, McCarthy's headquarters, were virtual prisoners in the hotel. They were forced to leave by police as trash fires were set in Michigan Avenue just outside, police cars were stoned, and some hotel windows were broken by crowd pressure.

The estimated 3,000 protesters filled Michigan Avenue from sidewalk to sidewalk during the melee, blocking all traffic, taunting police with names, throwing an occasional rock or bottle, and refusing orders to disperse.

Police, after the original confrontation, beat and dragged the protesting youths into police vans.

Violence even invaded the hotel's redempted lobby as police pursuing fleeing demonstrators took upon an unidentified, long-haired newsmen. He was beaten and dragged through the lobby door.

McCarthy's 13-year-old daughter, Margaret, rolled bandages for a time, and McCarthy came down briefly to talk with several injured persons.

Idaho Delegates Report 'Crying' Over Tear Gas

CHICAGO (AP) — Some of Idaho's delegates to the Democratic National Convention were anti-war demonstrators, a delegate said this morning.

Dean Miller, of Caldwell, chairman of the Idaho Democrats for McCarthy, said the demonstrators were going on the block from the hotel where the Idaho delegation was staying.

He said the police would corner demonstrators in an area, and when they could move no farther, the police would begin beating them.

Miller said "The whole convention has been conducted in an armed-camp atmosphere."

When asked about Chicago Mayor Richard J. Daley's management of the convention, Miller said: "It's the darndest mismanaged affair I ever saw in my life."

Miller said there is now a split in the party which will take considerable effort by Humphrey to repair.

He said the party division "could have been avoided if the Humphrey people would have accepted the minority plank" on Vietnam.

Miller said, however, he would support Humphrey.

But when Rose Marie Dowman, chairman of Idaho Citizens for McCarthy, was asked in Boise if she would support Humphrey, she said only: "I will do everything in my power to support Sen. Frank Church for the SALT LAKE CITY (AP)—Migration of persons to the Southwest will mean greater industrialization, urbanization and growth in agricultural use of the land, Brig. Gen. William Glasgow, conference co-chairman, told members of the Pacific Southwest Interagency Committee Wednesday.

Platform Fight Hurts Peace Talks

August 29-30, 1968... JACK MULLOWNEY... GENE CARPENTER... DALE THOMPSON... AL WESTERGEN... WILEY DODDS... PAUL STANLEY... O. J. SMITH

CHICAGO — Some thoughtful Democrats are sharply commenting that their widely publicized platform battle over Vietnam policy can only have a damaging effect on the stymied truce talks in Paris.

Nevertheless, some party leaders in their private comments deplore the picture projected by top Democrats, such as Dean Rusk and William Fulbright, differing over Vietnam policy at last week's platform hearings in Washington.

12-Year Setback

The Iron Curtain has been rung down again with a clang that will echo throughout the world for a long time. The Russian blitzkrieg against Czechoslovakia has not only killed all hope of freedom in that little country, or in any other of the satellites, for years to come; it has ushered in a new period of deep freeze in the Cold War.

About the only comfort that can be drawn from the crushing out of this latest flickering light of liberty that shone briefly in Eastern Europe is that the destruction and loss of life in no way paralleled that involved in the repression of the Hungarian revolution in 1956.

As this country warned the Soviets during the recent Prague summit, the Premier Dubcek and his liberal supporters might pull off their program of democratic reforms, a resort of force by Russia would have seriously detrimental effects on the developing "detente" between the two superpowers and on the chances of peace in Asia.

One now is any chance of a visit to Russia by President Johnson or by the president-elect after the November election. As for the latter, he is likely to be the man who campaigns on the hardest anti-Communist line and who pursues a the most hawkish attitude toward Vietnam.

One now, at least for the immediate future, is any chance of a de-escalation of the armament race. There will be great pressure on Congress to authorize the building of a complete antiballistic missile defense system, at a tremendous cost which, together with the drain of the Vietnam war, will further jeopardize the great programs of domestic social rebuilding this nation has fitfully undertaken.

One now is any chance of an early end to the conflict in Vietnam, for it has become increasingly clear that that must involve the virtual surrender of South Vietnam to the Communist north. That is something the American people will flow be most reluctant to accept.

The Machiavelli Of Chicago

BRUCE BLOSSAT

Error: Link HHH And Racists

WASHINGTON (NEA) — The efforts by Sen. Eugene McCarthy's forces to use credentials challenge to weaken Vice President Humphrey by portraying him as both unfaithful and in sympathy with racist elements are an ill-conceived and implausible strategy.

Far from all of McCarthy's own supporters on the Credentials Committee backed his challenge to chosen delegates in such states as Minnesota, Connecticut and Pennsylvania on grounds that the senator did not get his "fair share" of the total.

McCarthy's managers themselves indicated privately before coming here that they did not plan to pursue such cases.

The case, involving charges of inadequate racial balance on several southern delegations struck McCarthy strategists as much more promising than the drama which unfolded in Kansas.

There never was any withdrawal, but, of course, that McCarthy could gain points over Humphrey through the committee's ouster of the Mississippi regulars and their replacement by a biracial delegation.

The Demo Wars

CHICAGO — A group of battle-hardened veterans who fought at the National Convention in Chicago have decided to band together to form a new organization called the Veterans of Democratic Wars.

The commander of the VDW said, "We want to perpetuate the spirit of the fighting men and women who came to Chicago and will soon be returning to civilian life. These men and women deserve their nation's gratitude and we are going to see that what they did in Chicago will not be forgotten after all the welcome-home parades have been held, and all the confetti has been thrown."

"What will you demand?" I asked.

"We want anyone who was accredited to the Democratic National Convention, either as a delegate or a newspaperman, to be given the same privileges as veterans of other wars. This would include the GI Bill of Rights, veterans' housing and free hospital and medical care."

"Also we are demanding that honights be given to those who fought so valiantly to get into the Conrad Hilton Hotel and the Sheraton during the last four days."

"I can't see how the country could refuse you," I said.

"The VDW's commander said, 'I will demand that any Democrat who had to leave his job to come to Chicago be required at no loss of pay or seniority to be rehired when he returns to his old job.'"

"There's nothing unreasonable about that."

"And we will dedicate ourselves to seeing that the sweat of the convention to end all."

McCarthy Hasn't Forgiven 'Bobby'

By ROBERT S. ALLEN and JOHN A. GOLDSMITH
 CHICAGO — Sen. Eugene McCarthy went down to crushing bitter defeat making one thing crystal clear.

He has not forgotten or forgiven the late Sen. Robert Kennedy's abrupt plunge into the Democratic presidential melee after McCarthy's spectacularly impressive showing in New Hampshire's early March primary.

The sudden move by Kennedy, after repeatedly saying he would not run, is still deeply resented by McCarthy. There had been hints of this when McCarthy failed to congratulate Kennedy on his Indian and Nebraska primary victories and when he ignored Kennedy's congratulatory telegram after McCarthy swept the Oregon primary.

This privately harbored grudge came harshly out into the open in an extraordinary un-publicized encounter between McCarthy and Prof. John Kenneth Galbraith in the final hectic wheeling and dealing that preceded the presidential balloting.

Galbraith, head of Americans for Democratic Action (ADA) and one of the prime movers in persuading McCarthy to seek the presidency as a "peace" candidate, came to McCarthy with a surprising proposal. What it amounted to was that McCarthy abandon his own long and notoriously nurtured candidacy, take the convention rostrum and nominate Sen. Edward Kennedy.

After a long pause, during which McCarthy coldly eyed the lanky Harvard educator, he said very deliberately:

"That's utterly out of the question. You say that if I withdraw and nominate Teddy, that would start a runaway stampede which would stop Humphrey. Why should I do that? I don't owe the Kennedys anything. If you want to raise that question, it's the other way around."

"But, my dear, you have stuck with me through thick and thin to the end. I can do no less for them. If we go down in defeat, as it appears we will, then we'll go down together."

The discussion ended on that outspoken revealing note.

Jobless Helped With Training

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Labor Department says some 30,000 hard-core unemployed have been placed in jobs under a new concentrated employment program.

Stanley Rittenberg, manpower administrator, said Wednesday the program providing job training, job placement and other services to 75,000 people as of June 30 has cost $50 million so far.

Rittenberg said the cost of training and moving the 30,000 into jobs has averaged less than $2,000 each.

The new program, announced in March 1967, coordinates various Labor Department manpower programs and concentrates on areas with the highest unemployment.

This ordinance makes it unlawful for any person under 18 years of age to be on the streets or alleys of the city of Wendell after 10 p.m. or before 5 a.m. unless accompanied by his parents or guardians. The ordinance makes the guardian liable to a fine for permitting persons under 18 to violate curfew.

Final cost estimate for park improvement are to be made as soon as possible to qualify for government funds. This is a five-year project which will require careful planning and with the help of the community, Wendell should have a very attractive park.

New Riots Develop In Mexico

MEXICO CITY (AP) — President Gustavo Diaz Ordaz faced the threat of mounting violence today after thousands of shun dwellers joined students striking against the government.

During the night 46 armored cars rolled up the Paseo de la Reforma Boulevard as troops tried to control the rioting that has gripped this city of seven million since July 28.

"Screaming 'Death to Ordaz!'" the mob tried repeatedly to break into the main plaza in front of the presidential palace Wednesday night demanding the resignation of Mexico City's police chief and release of 86 persons they call political prisoners. The mob hurled bottles and rocks at police and troops but failed to break through the cordons.

A sniper opened up from a rooftop overlooking the plaza earlier in the day and troops began firing into the air. The sniper escaped.

Disturbances from the Merced slums behind the palace joined the students in stoning police and troops.

Student demonstrations began July 26 when police broke up mobs smashing shop windows. Troops later were called in and the students began protesting against alleged brutality.

Informants said more than 1,000 persons have been arrested in the past two days. Scores of persons were reported wounded.

Institute Will Collect Art Of Utah

SALT LAKE CITY (AP)—The official art collection of Utah is being made up by the Utah State Fine Arts Institute which will collect art objects from the state and its congressional representatives in Washington.

Plans are being made by the Utah State Fine Arts Institute to find where the art objects are, what condition they are in, and to maintain control over them.

Wilbur C. West, institute director, said today.

"He said the 1969 Legislature will be asked for money to hire a curator to inventory, store and preserve the collection, once the inventory is complete."

Utah has been accumulating art objects for 100 years when the institute was founded. The collection is valued in excess of $1 million, West said.

The institute has the responsibility for all state-owned art, except items in the universities and college.

The official art—paintings, etchings and sculptures—is located in the Capitol Building. These will be cataloged first, West said.

A student intern will check state offices and institutions, and those on loan to Congressmen.

Official Asks Close Probing Of AIP Slate

BOISE (AP)—Certification of local candidates for the American Independent Party should be considered on individual bases. Secretary of State Paul Connor has advised county clerks.

Connor, in a letter to clerks released Wednesday, outlined the state supreme court's ruling on the third party drive and noted the court said only the party may conduct its affairs.

"It may choose to keep as such procedure and method conformable to our Republican form of government."

Connor told the clerks: Each county, when reviewing the conduct of the AIP, must exercise its discretion to determine if the American Independent Party has acted reasonably in conformance to our Republican form of government, and in good faith.

"What is reasonable, Republican and in good faith should depend upon the circumstances surrounding each individual case and cannot be dictated by this office."

Ballots for the Nov. 5 general election will be prepared at the local level.

HHH Wins Mountain States

CHICAGO (AP)—Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey has carried four Rocky Mountain states in his victorious march to the Democratic presidential nomination, doing better than expected in another of the states—Colorado.

Montana gave Humphrey 23 1/2 of its 26 votes, with the other 2 1/2 going to Sen. Eugene A. McCarthy in the Wednesday night balloting at the Democratic National Convention.

Utah cast 23 Humphrey votes, two for McCarthy and one for the Rev. Channing Phillips, a Negro from Washington, D.C.

Idaho gave Humphrey 21 of its 25 votes. It cast 3 1/2 for McCarthy and half a vote for Sen. George S. McGovern of South Dakota.

Wyoming gave Humphrey 18 1/2 and the other 3 1/2 went to McCarthy.

Humphrey wound up with more Colorado votes than any other candidate—16 1/2—but still fell short of obtaining a majority of the 26-vote delegation. McCarthy had 10 Colorado votes, Sen. McGovern 5 1/2 and the Rev. Mr. Phillips three.

The Colorado coalition of McCarthy and Kennedy forces broke open at the last minute, with 3 1/2 votes pledged to the likes of the late Sen. Robert F. Kennedy going to Humphrey. The remainder went to McGovern.

Utah cast a few hours earlier by the Mountain States for the administration-backed Vietnam platform plank proved to be an indication of the president's fall.

Wyoming's votes were identical in each ballot: 18 1/2 for the majority plank and the same amount for Humphrey's nomination.

Colorado gave Humphrey 2 1/2 votes more than it did the majority Vietnam plank. The state voted 21 1/4 in favor of a minority Vietnam plank, which called for an unconditional halt in the United States bombing of North Vietnam.

Montana gave the majority Vietnam plank 20 votes, then added another 3 1/2 to that total for Humphrey. Idaho cast 15 votes for the same plank, but gave Humphrey another six votes.

Utah cast 20 votes for the majority plank and 23 votes for Humphrey.

Sen. Frank Moss, chairman of the Utah delegation, spoke in favor of the majority report.

Moss, in announcing the Utah tally to the convention, said its votes were the ones which decided the issue. Ruminating tabulations, however, indicated that Texas—voting just ahead of Utah—showed the "no" votes past the 1,312 majority of the 2,622 delegates.

Senator Moss, speaking later, had a hard time getting started because of impromptu demonstrations for the previous speaker, Pierre Salinger, former news secretary of President John F. Kennedy. A few minutes after Moss began, a boom from advocates of the minority plank interrupted him. There were some cheers, too.

"If we permit our simple emotions to carry us away, the Utah report said when quiet was restored, "we cannot end this war in a way that will mean peace for the people of the world."

He argued the minority plan would have tied the hands of officials who must make decisions with the majority plank options open.

When Moss completed his talk, Congressman Philip Burton of California, leading the fight for the minority plank, praised the Utah while introducing the next speaker.

Utahmen voting in favor of the minority report were: David L. Duncan and John S. Hickey of Ogden, and Douglas Wayne Owens, George C. Hatch, Dr. Chas. Nelson Jr. and A. Wally Sande of Salt Lake City.

"Moss later said he had "rather concluded" from the convention number for the Utah delegation. Muskle of Maine was in front as Humphrey's running mate.

Moss said Muskle "is a very able and capable guy." He also said Gov. Richard J. Hughes of New Jersey is "a possibility" and he could be happy with Mayor Joseph Alloto of San Francisco.

Gov. Calvin Rampton of Utah said his choices for vice president would include John W. Gardner, who was Johnson's secretary of health, education and welfare, Alloto, and former

Candidate Asks Tax On Church

SPOKANE (AP)—State Sen. Martin J. Durkan, candidate for the Democratic nomination for Washington governor, has advocated taxation of property owned by churches and non-profit institutions.

But the Seattle campaigner told the Washington State Labor Council's annual convention here Wednesday that he doesn't want to put churches out of business.

Durkan said he is for putting a limit on real property taxes on churches and non-profit institutions and to prevent old persons from being driven out of their homes.

He said the state sales tax should be taken off food and medicine, but that the rate should remain the same.

The time has come to raise unemployment compensation, expand the coverage of the workmen's compensation law and pay legal fees of injury claimants from the industrial insurance fund, he said.

"Public assistance is one of the state's major problems," Durkan said, "and it is time to recognize that the system isn't working. It is time to do something to get the recipients back into the mainstream, but it can't be done by giving them welfare checks every 30 days."

Durkan asked for endorsement of his candidacy by the 4,000-member labor organization, but he said that election of state legislators of his choice is more important than the governor's race.

"The labor movement if we fail to control one house of the state legislature," said Durkan.

Accounting Of Expenses Draws Fire

BOISE (AP)—Secretary of State Pete Cennarrusa said Wednesday he intends to ask the next legislature to either change or eliminate the present law requiring filing of campaign expenses.

He said the law as now written is "rather meaningless."

The law requires candidates to file a list of personal expenses, but does not require committees working on behalf of a candidate to file expense statements.

"The purpose of the law, insofar as it goes, is good," Cennarrusa said. "But it should require a candidate to file a report of those expenditures spent for him by other entities such as labor unions, associations and campaign organizations."

Failure to file an expense statement is now cause for removal from the ballot. Such action was taken by Ada County Clerk Clarence Planting in cases of three legislative candidates. But Planting said there is nothing to prohibit the party from re-certifying those names for the general election.

Idaho To Allow Beaver Trapping

BOISE (AP)—Fifteen units have been set up in Idaho for controlled beaver trapping this fall, the first time the state has used a permit system for the animals.

The State Fish and Game Department said Wednesday permits will be issued for taking of 210 beaver and applications must be filed by Sept. 16.

Mole Praised

DUNDEE, Scotland (AP)—Man's best pet, next to dogs and blondes, may be that near-sighted little animal that digs holes in your garden.

A British mole expert told a science conference Wednesday that moles get along better with people than they do with other moles and make first-rate pets.

Dr. Kenneth Mellanby of the Monkswood Experimental Station said the Earl of Cranbrook, a 68-year-old naturalist and trustee of the British Museum, carries a mole around in his pocket—house-trained, or rather pocket-trained, of course.

Viet Officers Shun Bomb Halt

SAIGON (AP)—Almost unanimously, top-ranking American staff officers in Vietnam today welcomed the Democratic National Convention's refusal to endorse an unconditional halt in the bombing of North Vietnam.

"You won't find anyone around here who wants to halt the bombing," one officer said.

Top South Vietnamese officials also expressed gratification privately. There was no official comment from President Nguyen Van Thieu.

With the current bombing policy generally endorsed by the platforms of both U.S. parties, a halt in Vietnam would react to the Democratic nomination of Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey according to their personal policies.

Union Reports End Of Chicago Strike

CHICAGO (AP)—An agreement to end the 113-day telephone strike that paralyzed the Democratic National Convention and full communications service was reached Wednesday, a union source said.

The announcement was made by a union steward in Springfield, Ill., who said members of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers had agreed to vote Aug. 31 on acceptance of terms.

Rudolph Korach, chief union steward in Springfield, told of the agreement with the Illinois Bell Telephone Co.

The statewide strike, involving 11,000 union members, which began May 8, was marked by exceptional bitterness, with charges of sabotage and vandalism leveled by Illinois Bell.

Mayor Richard J. Daley took a hand in the negotiations July 1 as the time in which to prepare for the Democratic National Convention became of critical importance.

Daley worked out an arrangement between the disputants whereby volunteers from among the strikers would make special telephone and other communications in the International Amphitheatre, the convention hall. The emergency arrangement, however, provided for no special installations in hotels and campaign headquarters.

Congressman Asks Crop Aid

BOISE (AP)—The secretary of agriculture has been asked to change his department procedures to aid Idaho wheat growers who suffered crop damage from rains. Rep. George Hansen, Idaho, reports.

Hansen said Wednesday that State Agriculture, Stabilization and Conservation Service has asked that special discounts for sample grade wheat on test weights only be accepted for loans on the damaged crops.

Glass Sidewinder Fireplace Is Unusual Facet Of Home

By DOROTHY POVEY
Times-News Correspondent
BELLEVUE — When Mr. and Mrs. Harold W. Hannebaum, Gooding, purchased an old home here and decided it would be their "mountain retreat" they had no thought of creating the news which will be manufactured by the Malm Fireplace Co. The company is one of the largest manufacturers in this field in the nation, and the product will be placed on the market by the Raymond Lee Organization, now-product-developers within the next few months.

"If it hadn't been for Tillie (Mrs. Hannebaum) the invention would never have been thought of," said her husband.

"Clive (Sid) Lindsay (who is a partner with us) and I did a lot of work on the house and thought everything was completed. It looked like new, inside and out — new patio, sidewalks, lawn, picture window," Mr. Hannebaum said. "But Tillie decided a mountain retreat was not complete without a fireplace."

Memories of the fireplace in our home when I was a small boy in Indiana rushed back. It was a big fireplace and it kept us all busy packing in wood. The entire house was cold when we had it going and much of the time we had a smog problem in the house.

"Then, the idea of tearing out the side of the just newly-completed living room made me depressed," said Mr. Hannebaum.

"If you don't want to tear the side of the wall out, why don't you build one in the center of the room," Tillie said.

Being of an inventive nature, Mr. Hannebaum started slipping on the idea.

A 10-gallon milk can, tire-rims from both large and small trucks, a lot of glass and other materials purchased from junk yards, and material picked up here and there by Mr. Lindsay in his travels over the country, gradually took on the shape of the first glass Sidewinder Fireplace, which was set up in the center of the Hannebaum living room.

"It was a beautiful old thing to look at, even before it was fired up," Mrs. Hannebaum said. "Our first fire was a really big one — the heat was terrific and we couldn't get very close.

"We didn't have the drapes up at our large picture window, which faces town. It was after dark and when the townspeople saw the fire through the window they came running to help save the house. We soon had a household of volunteer fire fighters in our living room, staring in amazement at the peculiar-looking fireplace.

"The 11 windows kept getting blacker with smoke, until you couldn't even see the blaze.

"I had accidentally nicked the door frame with the welder, leaving an opening the width of a toothpick, and here the glass was clean," Mr. Hannebaum said. "The new fire we built was left a one-quarter inch opening in the door and the windows stayed as clean as after we washed them."

This slight draft caused the fire and ashes to spin around about 100 rpm and the fire looked like miniature tornadoes hanging down from the pipe into the fire bowl.

"The flame was so bright you couldn't look at it and the terrific heat all went up the chimney."

"It took a while to figure that one out, but we finally suspended a flat, 22-inch light, round steel plate in the hood of the fireplace three inches above the tops of the windows, leaving a two-inch clearing all around the edges."

"Then we decided the fast-moving air should have a channel to run in, and I installed a four-inch cast steel ring at the top edge of the windows," Mr. Hannebaum noted.

"Our next try was successful. The fireplace lit up the 17x27-foot living room so one could read a newspaper in any part of the room, in a matter of 15 minutes all five degrees in the house were 75 degrees, although the thermometer just outside the picture window read 15 degrees below zero.

"Sid and I were elated. But Tillie was not yet satisfied," Mr. Hannebaum said. "She wanted to cook her meals in the fireplace just like you do at a mountain retreat."

"I installed a four-inch shelf around the fireplace at the bottom of the glass. Here she cooks an entire meal — roast, chops, baked potatoes, corn on the cob, or what have you. Just wraps it in foil and forgets it until it's time to eat. It has never burned nor has it taken on any foreign taste, no matter what material is burned in the fireplace."

"So now we are all satisfied," continued Mr. Hannebaum. "As we look into the flames we can see 22 different facets of fire, each one a little different than the others.

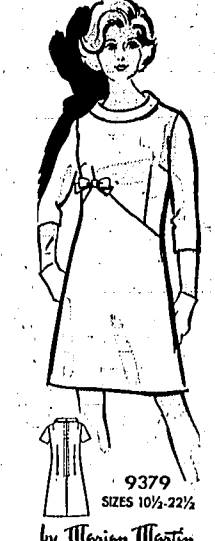

"Now the word has leaked out that some local yokel in Bellevue has built a mirror-type fireplace that is the answer to all fireplace problems," Mr. Hannebaum laughed. "I hope this is so."

Many people in this area are anxiously awaiting the arrival of the Glass Sidewinder Fireplace of the glass. Here she cooks

A GLASS SIDEWINDER fireplace in the center of the living room is a favorite place for Mrs. Harold W. (Tillie) Hannebaum to cook her meals. "All you do is wrap a roast, chops or whatever you want to cook in foil and lay it on the shelf around the fire next to the glass," she noted. The fireplace was constructed by Mrs. Hannebaum's husband and Clive (Sid) Lindsay.

Dear Abby

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: We have always owned our own home and have recently started renting, and we have a question to ask. In a rented house, WIIO is supposed to pay for putting up and taking down the screens and storm windows? The owner or the tenant? RENTING

DEAR RENTING: Unless it is specifically stated in the contract, the tenant usually assumes that responsibility. (If he doesn't he is probably trying to pass the buck, — or save one.)

DEAR ABBY: Our daughter is 26 years old. She had a mental breakdown 6 months ago and spent 12 weeks in a hospital. She's home now. She's not working, but she dates regularly. We have not met any of the fellows she has gone out with as she meets them somewhere else. Last night she stayed out all night and we were worried sick.

Our daughter is still in therapy, as I called her psychiatrist asking if we could lay down two rules of dating.

(1) Her dates MUST pick her up at home so we can all meet them.

(2) No more staying out all night.

The psychiatrist said, NO. If we were to impose such rules on her she might do something drastic. I agree. My husband agrees with the psychiatrist. Does not. Where do you stand? MOTHER

DEAR MOTHER: I stand with you (and so do three competent psychiatrists with whom I have consulted about your problem). Unless your daughter's psychiatrist has more information about you, your daughter than you have and is reasonably certain that you have no cause to worry, she may already be doing something to "harm" herself.

As long as your daughter is under 21 and living at home, she should abide by the rules set. Yours are certainly not unreasonable.

DEAR ABBY: Here is one for the books. We have wealthy relatives living in a distant city. We rarely see them, but at Christmas time we do exchange greeting cards.

Last Christmas we discovered they used second-hand Christmas cards! Their name and address sticker was used to cover up the other signature. We couldn't believe what we were seeing, as they are in the "millionaire" class. As for ourselves, we are just moderately fixed.

Now the important question: What would you have done? Called their attention to his second-hand Christmas card and questioned their reason for such a cheap act? Or would you have said a prayer for them and wiped them off your list?

DEAR PERPLEXED: Neither. I'd have assumed that they couldn't care less what you thought about their sending obviously second-hand Christmas cards. I agree, it is a bit chintzy for "wealthy" people. But it surely is no great "sin" worthy of your prayers.

Everybody has a problem. What's yours? For a personal reply write to Abby, Box 39700, Los Angeles, Cal., 90009 and close a stamped, self-addressed airtel has more information about you,

FBI Opens Probe Of Chicago Police Acts

Twin Falls Times-News
August 29-30, 1968

WASHINGTON (AP) — The FBI has launched an investigation of what a Democratic congressman labels "unnecessary and violent interference" with reporters at the Democratic National Convention.

Atty. Gen. Ramsey Clark ordered the investigation Wednesday and Rep. John E. Moss, D-Calif., urged the attorney general to send investigators immediately to Chicago to "fully evaluate the performance of the Chicago Police Department and the Illinois National Guard."

Moss is chairman of the House subcommittee on government information.

More than 24 newsmen said they were roughed up Monday and Tuesday covering demonstrations of the convention. Several incidents were shown on nationwide television.

"Indications of serious violations of civil rights guaranteed under both the Constitution and the civil rights acts of the past several years appear rampant in Chicago," said Moss, who saw some of the incidents while watching television at his Washington home.

"Unnecessary and violent interference with the reporting of bona-fide news of great national import is particularly disturbing," said Moss.

Chicago Mayor Richard Daley said "The security is being prevented violence. The same forces creating disorder outside the convention hall are creating it inside."

"Who is creating the disorder, Mr. Mayor?" asked a newswoman. "You are," replied Daley.

Clark didn't elaborate on his announcement, launching the investigation, but it was expected to cover all phases of security arrangements in Chicago—federal, state, local and private.

The Secret Service, which had responsibility for coordinating security, was known to be conferring with Chicago police Wednesday.

Two newsmen were reported arrested Wednesday night when some demonstrators got into the Conrad Hilton Hotel.

Tom Corpana of United Press International said he was arrested after demanding the name of a police officer who Corpana said had insulted him. Photographer Jean Vassal of France was thrown into a police van.

JUST TO SEE how it worked, the United States flag was run up one of the new flag poles at the College of Southern Idaho campus Tuesday by Dr. James L. Taylor, CSI president, and Mrs. Earl S. Johnson, president of the 20th Century Club. The club raised $500 to buy one of these poles, and also acquired a flag which had been flown over the United States capitol building.

College Of Southern Idaho Is Given Flag, Poles By T.F. 20th Century Club

One of three stately flagpoles marking the entrance to the mall at the College of Southern Idaho campus is the result of a special project inspired by the president of a Twin Falls women's club.

Mrs. Earl S. Johnson, president of the 20th Century Club, decided that as a special project for 1967-68, the club would raise funds to buy a flagpole for the college.

Johnson May Talk To Demos

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — President Johnson, applauding the convention that endorsed his Vietnam war policy and nominated his vice president, is thought likely to appear at the convention tonight to anoint the Democratic ticket.

In keeping with Johnson's preference for secrecy, there was no official advance word on any plans to attend the Democratic National Convention in Chicago.

But the President discarded the cloak of impartiality he's worn, sometimes restively, the past few weeks and commended the nomination of Hubert H. Humphrey as the party's standard-bearer.

"Now that the party has nominated an excellent and an especially well-qualified candidate for president, President Johnson said that all Democrats will unite behind him and move forward to victory in the election," said press secretary George Christian at the Texas White House.

Christian said Johnson called Humphrey to offer congratulations as soon as the President was informed of the nomination on television. Johnson's statement noted "all viewpoints have been expressed."

Johnson didn't refer to the Vietnam platform plank considered a victory for his administration. But on his 60th birthday, he may have had a hope of the positions of the major parties on the war "will not be too divergent."

"That way, he explained, the world won't have to wait until November to find out America's course in Vietnam."

Johnson's remarks began Wednesday in Chicago, delegates heard Johnson's telegram reaffirming he will not run for reelection.

"That decision," said the telegram, "was and is irrevocable."

ISU Sophomore Wins $100 Aid In Scholarship

BOISE (AP) — An Idaho Falls youth has been named recipient of the second annual Frank Church scholarship award, U.S. Sen. Frank Church D-Idaho, announced Wednesday.

He is Thomas Goodrich, a sophomore at Idaho State University. The scholarship given annually to an outstanding student in political science at Idaho State. Within the past year, Goodrich assisted in organizing and administering model United Nations convention for high school students. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas G. Goodrich of Idaho Falls.

Church also announced Wednesday he has been honored with the award. The Idaho Senator was presented a plaque from Philippine President Ferdinand Marcos for efforts on behalf of the Pacific War memorial dedicated on Corregidor Island in the Philippines on June 22.

Church is a member of the Corregidor - Bataan Memorial Commission, which developed the new Pacific war memorial.

Canal Company Gets State Loan

PARADISE, Utah (AP) — The Porcupine Highline Canal Co. has received approval for a $300,000 loan from the state Board of Water Resources for a continuing project in southern Cache County.

The Highline Canal connects the recently developed Porcupine Dam with irrigated agricultural land near Paradise and Avon, Utah.

Canal owners will finance the difference between the loan and the estimated $150,000 project cost.

STEP BY STEP the Perrine is coming down. There isn't even a shell left now and only the jagged outline of once glamorous rooms can be seen against the sharp contrast of the sky. Sidewalk superintendents, however, are still available each day of the week as work on the old hotel progresses. The site will be cleared in about two weeks, it is anticipated.

New Test Of Drivers Requested

BOISE (AP) — Tightening standards for blood alcohol tests administered to suspected drunken drivers was recommended Wednesday by the executive committee of the Idaho Magistrates Association.

The committee made the proposal at a meeting with Gov. Don Samuelson, Warner Mills, Idaho commissioner of law enforcement, Dave Debin, director of the State Traffic Safety Commission, and Richard Hughes, a Samuelson aide.

The proposal called for a reduction from 15 of one per cent to 10 of one per cent alcohol level in the law concerning legal determinations in drunk driving tests.

The committee proposed the matter be put before the next session of the legislature along with suggestions for:

— Allow the State Department of Highways to set varying speed limits on highways depending on highway conditions in place of the present basic maximums.

— Provide for traffic fines for convictions for drag racing and inattention to driving.

Samuelson said he was "substantially in agreement" with the recommendations.

California Men Given 12 Years At Pocatello

POCATELLO, Idaho (AP) — A federal judge here has sentenced two California men to 12-year prison terms for possession of stolen money, while imposing similar charges against a California woman.

Albert A. Fisdale, 34, and George Eugene Hansen, 28, both of Chicago, Ill., were known as Stanley George Andrews, received the sentences Wednesday. Both are from Garfield County, Calif.

Charges against Olivia Klingler, 32, Wilmington, Calif., were dropped.

She and the men were arrested April 13 near Fort Hall, Idaho.

The woman had pleaded innocent to a five-count complaint. The two men had pleaded innocent also, but Tuesday afternoon changed their pleas to guilty on one of the five counts.

The other four counts were dropped.

Utah Official Denounces Improper Utility Profit

SALT LAKE CITY (AP) — Utah Atty. Gen. Phil Hansen issued a pair of opinions on contracts with the state.

Hansen quoted the Bible as well as the statutes, saying "public servants should not make profits at public expense."

Both opinions were requested by State Finance Director Herbert Smart. He said some legislators sold insurance to the state in 1967 but are no longer doing that.

On the broad issue of conflict of interest, Hansen said the prohibition on public benefits doing business with the state extends to most officials and employees.

He said generally a public servant would have to have some form of control over state spending for a conflict of interest to exist.

Hansen said that where a conflict of interest exists, courts have found contracts involved are not valid.

After Hansen's opinions were issued, the following notice was posted in the state finance office:

"Any business in which a member of the Utah State Legislature is the owner, partner, or other interest holder, or any business in which a legislator is an officer, director, employee or substantial stockholder, is disqualified and precluded from bidding for or receiving contracts from the State of Utah."

The seminar, to be conducted in the Provo Paramount Theater Oct. 14-25, will feature a five-member team of high-ranking military officers as instructors, he said.

Trustees Chart $4.9 Million Boise Bond Vote

BOISE (AP) — The Boise School Board announced today it will hold a public referendum on a special election Oct. 8 a proposed $4.9 million bond issue to finance new school construction.

If they are approved, the bonds will finance construction of three new elementary schools, remodeling of 30-year-old Boise High School and remodeling or adding to 11 other school buildings.

Board Chairman Dale Morgan said steadily increasing school enrollment makes the construction necessary. He said a four-mill increase in the district's bond redemption tax levy will be required to finance the project.

Contents of the cars included cantaloupe, canned goods, copper bullion and lumber. About 20 cars piled up like matchsticks at the west entrance to the tunnel, blocking lumber and fruit around.

Carbon County Sheriff Albert Passie said many cars tumbled into the Price River.

Federal Funds To Help Idaho

WASHINGTON (AP) — The department of labor and health education and welfare have approved a $289,000 grant to Idaho to help train 100 unemployed in jobs occupation.

The office of Sen. Frank Church, D-Idaho, said Wednesday the training will take place in various public and private facilities throughout the state.

Derailment Strews Cars Along Track

HELPER, Utah (AP) — Damage was estimated in the hundreds of thousands of dollars Wednesday after 37 cars, including one diesel, of a Denver and Rio Grande Western freight train derailed at Nolan Tunnel 10 miles west of Helper.

Four crewmen, all from Salt Lake City, escaped injury. Officials said cause of the accident was not known but an investigation has been launched to uncover clues.

The eastbound four diesel-engined train en route from Salt Lake City to Denver, left cars strewn on both sides of and inside the 351-foot tunnel, with some landing on west bound tracks.

The westbound freight train was cleared and traffic is being routed over them to avoid delay, a railroad spokesman said.

The California Zephyr passenger train headed from Salt Lake City to Denver was delayed about 20 minutes.

The derailed train contained 64 cars, a caboose and the four diesel units. The caboose, eight cars immediately ahead of it, and three diesel units were all that remained on the tracks.

Officials estimated it would take days to clear the eastbound lanes and gather up the wreckage.

Contents of the cars included cantaloupe, canned goods, copper bullion and lumber. About 20 cars piled up like matchsticks at the west entrance to the tunnel, blocking lumber and fruit around.

Carbon County Sheriff Albert Passie said many cars tumbled into the Price River.

'Bohemian' Dad Wins Custody Of Children

SANTA CRUZ, Calif. (AP)—Harold Painter, writer-photographer whose home the Iowa

Supreme Court ruled was too "intellectually stimulating" for child raising, won permanent custody Wednesday of his son Mark, 10.

After Mark's mother was killed in a 1962 car accident, his maternal grandparents cared for him, refused to give him back and were upheld by the Iowa Supreme Court. The Iowa court ruled that the father, Harold Painter, a writer-photographer, had a "bohemian approach" to life.

At a 20-minute hearing Wednesday, Superior Court Judge Gilbert B. Perry gave the father, who has since remarried, permanent custody of Mark. The grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Dwight Bamister, did not contest the action and were not represented at the hearing. The grandparents dropped all action after Mark said recently he wanted to live with his father.

Old Car Bodies Are Getting To Be Headache In T.F.

By RUTH MILLER
Times-News Staff Writer
Twin Falls County Commissioners are still wrestling with the problem of what to do about all the junk piling up in the county's dump yards.

and the number is sure to increase substantially this year with the car safety inspection law. Mr. Loughmiller said it is estimated about 20 cars a day are abandoned in the county. "There are so many and they are so big that it is a real problem," he stated. Among the solutions being investigated at this time is a smelter to melt the car bodies down into usable metals or a baler to compress the cars for shipment to selling points. A small baler has been operating in the county for some time, but a larger one would be needed to handle the increasing load. City Manager Herb Derrick stated that the city is willing to cooperate "all the way" with the county commissioners, and that when a solution is reached, it will be through a joint effort of the two governing bodies. One reason so many cars are being abandoned is that wrecking yards are not interested in buying any models older than 1960, unless they are in the antique classification. More and more of the older model cars will be taken off the highways and into the junk yards this year as the new inspection law becomes a must. Residents need to prove that vehicles have had a safety inspection before they can register in 1969. So far this year more than 30 cars have been abandoned in Twin Falls City alone. About half that number have been claimed in one way or another. Some have been stolen cars and some have been just abandoned for want of anything else to do with them. Frank Barnett, city police chief, said the city parking lot adjacent to the city hall is a favorite place to abandon cars. "This is a pattern all over the country, where people choose to abandon cars on public property so city and county officials will have to dispose of them. Mr. Loughmiller said his commission probably will favor the baling system of junk car disposal, but that other avenues are open. He said federal money is available through the highway beautification program, but that the beautification must be of a permanent type, and must be on main highways, which would help to solve a share of the situation. He said that the eyesores either have to be screened, eliminated or fenced from view in order to qualify for federal funding. McCarthy Battles Political Pros With Youngsters

Chicago Times-News
August 29-30, 1968

By JOSEPH E. MOHBAW. CHICAGO (AP)—Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy battled the Democratic party establishment with legions of breathless youngsters and none of the time-honored weapons and wiles of the successful politician. He had no money, no name, no political base, no organization, no influential support. In the conventional sense of the word, in that he failed to win his party's presidential nomination. But McCarthy won something, especially in the light of the rather limited goal he set for himself when he announced his candidacy nine months ago.

Then, it was merely to take the war in Vietnam before the American people, personalized in a candidate, to allow those people a vote on that war. Eugene Joseph McCarthy also won his race. In the sense that American politics may never be the same after the romantic adventure that began so quietly in the New Hampshire snow last winter. His young supporters, although looking Wednesday night as if the world had just ended, are also taking heart from some of the battles won by McCarthy on his way to losing the war. Yet in these very victories lay forced President Lyndon Baines Johnson to announce he would not seek another term. He spread throughout the land a new belief that housewives, clerks, and college kids—thousands and thousands of college kids—could find themselves a niche and play a role in shaping the nation's future. He gave a new image and flicker to the word "politician." There have been few if any like this former professor, who rejected virtually every political orthodoxy and tradition, spoke low, and avoided the carnival trappings of a political campaign whenever possible. Yet in these very victories lay his ultimate political defeat by Hubert H. Humphrey in the convention Wednesday night. It was the untested kids against the pros; pros who had not only been in the game a long time, but happened to hold the reins of U.S. political power at the moment. The Children's Crusade did not have the pros looking back over their shoulders from time to time, wondering why McCarthy refused to lie down and die. But they never lost control of the way things operate in a political party so many decades old. McCarthy lost, too, because in his 20 years in politics, he had never developed a political base, to which he could return for major support when the time came for the big move. He was an efficient senator, well-liked in Minnesota, but he had little patronage to give out, few or political debts to collect. McCarthy lost because he remained far out of the Democratic club in a year when the convention was deeply entrenched within it. There was a yawning generation gap between the McCarthyites and the party regulars. Neither spoke the other's language or ever really tried to. The regulars never could understand why McCarthy would campaign with a million dollars in the red now despite occasional generosity from a few benefactors. And for all the coins and dollar bills the kids tossed in the buckets, he never did come up with the cash to pay across as many national television spots as he would have liked. He lost because even after he had been in the race many months, he was not a really well-known name, never an easily recognizable public figure to be stopped in the streets, like Kennedy, and certainly lacking the so-called charisma that turned so many thousands on for the Kennedy brothers. Even in Chicago, on the eve of the balloting, he would bring himself to shake the hand of a passerby on Michigan Avenue and find himself having to announce: "Hello, I'm Sen. McCarthy." before getting a recognition.

ONE BID ENTERED
OLYMPIA (AP)—Poe Asphalt Paving Inc. of Lewiston, Idaho, was the only bidder on construction of less than one-half mile of Elm Street in Asotin County, the Washington State Highways Department said Wednesday. The company bid was for $28,594 for the work.

Progress On Falls Avenue Slows Down

Roadwork on Falls Avenue has been delayed for a number of weeks, according to Ron Scheuffele, city engineer. He emphasizes that the city has been working at fast as possible, but some obstacles have hindered progress.
 Mr. Scheuffele emphasized this is a major improvement and when completed the roadway will be 64 feet wide in order to widen the present street. An irrigation ditch—must be moved, as well as some buildings and fences. This must be done by the private property owners, Mr. Scheuffele said.
 Herb Derick, city manager, said there has been some difficulty in securing right-of-way from some property owners. He said the city has had the funds but for this project for two years now and is anxious for the work to be completed.
 If the city cannot secure the right-of-way soon, he said, obstacles removed, it will put a temporary pavement on the old road for use this fall and winter.
 Mr. Scheuffele said he hopes the problems will be worked out and work on the new street can begin this fall.

 Mr. Hansen told his Wendell supporters the major political dominating the Idaho political scene are the war in Vietnam along with our foreign policy and problems and crime in the bi-partisan effort to retain all of Idaho's water for the future, and numerous domestic problems, including the value of our currency and crime in the streets.

British Titlist And Two Others Share Early U.S. Amateur Lead

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — British amateur King Michael Bonallack and two other golfers carried a one-over par 71 on Wednesday and led the first round lead in the 68th U.S. Amateur Championship.

The treacherous par-70, 6,762-foot Country Club course withstood the barrage of 150 top amateurs without allowing a single competitor to match par.

The 33-year-old Bonallack, bidding for a small slam, had to share first day honors with a pair of Florida golfers—Allen Veighte of Clearwater and Dale Morey, a 49-year-old salesman from High Point, N.C., who had a hole-in-one using a three-iron on the 194-yard No. 17. Morey, the North Carolina amateur, had a hole-in-one using a three-iron on the 194-yard No. 17. Morey, the North Carolina amateur, had a hole-in-one using a three-iron on the 194-yard No. 17.

and the highest was a 3-0 Twin Falls decision in 1961. Neither coach, Stan Thomas of Twin Falls, nor Cork Hill of Minico, is willing to say his team should win — hardly a past few days, mostly juniors, but still has about 42 men left. The coaches will meet after during Saturday's scrimmages and view each other as tough. The Twin Falls scouting report says the Spartans have good size in the line, a couple of backs who can run quite well and a definite passing threat. The Minico report says that Twin Falls has power that is hard to stop in the middle.

In a change from the original announcement, Buhl will be at Jerome Friday night for the first of two meetings — this one not counting in league play. Buhl will be at Jerome Friday night for the first of two meetings — this one not counting in league play.

Miss Meyer Snaps Third World Record

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Sixteen-year-old Debbie Meyer utilized strength and stamina to smash her third world record at the U.S. Women's Olympic swimming trials Wednesday and, for good measure, she did it again.

Miss Meyer, from Sacramento, Calif., swam the 800-meter freestyle in 9 minutes, 16.4 seconds, the morning preliminary and came back in the afternoon to win and lower her mark to 9:14.

The metric half-mile at the Los Angeles Swim Stadium completed five days of action in which American girls bettered world records.

Orioles Drop First Game To Senators

BALTIMORE (AP) — Frank Howard's home run and clutch pitching of Jim Hanmon and Dennis Hickey led Washington to a 2-2 tie Wednesday and a 1-0 victory, the first Senators triumph over the Orioles in 13 games.

Bardo Allen's run-scoring single in the fourth indicated the score 1-1. Howard connected in the fifth off loser Jim Hanmon, 8-4, got out of a second inning jam with only one run on Larry Haney's triple. Bruce Robinson and Dave Johnson had opened the inning with singles, but Robinson was out trying to take third on a fly out.

Atlanta Cops Two Victories Over Phillies

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Deon Johnson, who drove in two runs, opened the eighth in the opener, singled in the winning run in the eighth inning of the nightcap as Atlanta swept the Phillies in two games.

Beaver Permit Plan Initiated

BOISE (AP) — Idaho will use a permit system for the first time to control trapping. Permits will be issued for the taking of 210,000 beaver skins and 200,000 beaver tails.

The department said if they exceed the number of permits available, the first 24 will determine the winners.

Tigers And Orioles Eye Crucial Series

DETROIT (AP) — The Detroit Tigers' understandingly looked for a series of a doubleheader over Wednesday night opponents, California, and saw ahead what could be their nemesis, the Baltimore Orioles.

The Orioles come here for a three-game series starting Friday and it is bound to be a critical one. The 1962 game between the two teams was a 10-9 thriller. The Orioles have won 11 of their last 12 games.

Reds Sweep Twin Bill Over Mets

NEW YORK (AP) — Pitches Nolan Rupp's two-run homer and a double by Fred Redz to a 5-2 victory over New York and a sweep of their twin doubleheader Wednesday.

The Reds tagged 15 hits and scored four runs during the game. Cardinals relief pitcher Fred Redz had a 40-minute stint and that helps ease the workload.

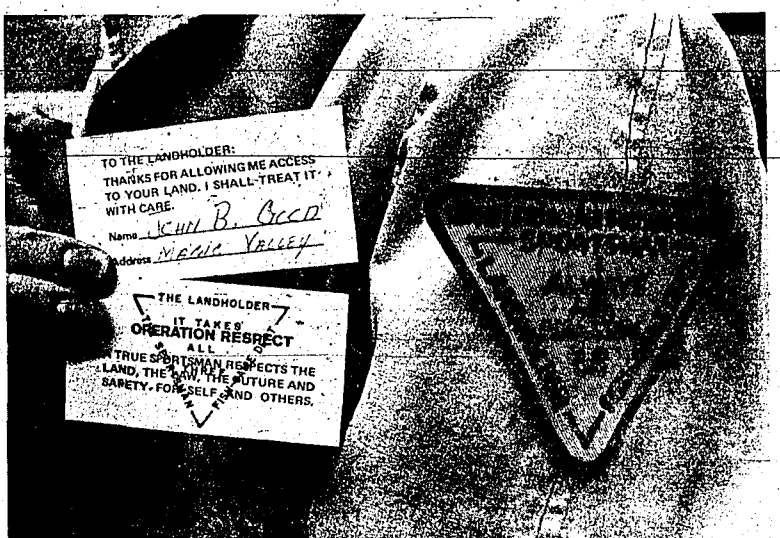

Vandals Work On Conditioning

MOSCOW, Idaho (AP) — The University of Idaho Vandals worked out in shorts and sweats Wednesday, working on conditioning assignments on running plays and passing patterns.

Coach Doug McNease said the team will be in good shape to start the season.

Ogden Sinks Magic Valley 4-3 With Two-Run Homer In 8th

OGDEN (AP) — The Ogden Angels pulled another miracle eighth inning to beat Magic Valley, 4-3.

The Dodgers, trailing by 3-2 going into the eighth, scored the winning runs with two men out.

Magie Valley threatened in the top of the ninth when Steve Garcia led off with a triple and Jerry Robinson managed an infield single with Garcia leading.

McLain Wins 26th To Halt Detroit Skid

DETROIT (AP) — Right-hander Donny McLain managed to stop the Detroit Tigers to a 6-1 victory over the California Angels Wednesday night to become the first American League pitcher to win 26 games since 1946.

The victory was only the second in seven games for the league-leading Tigers and ended McLain's personal two-game losing streak.

Bases-Loaded Walk Lets Giants Win

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Bobby Bonds drew a bases-loaded walk with two out in the ninth inning, forcing San Francisco's winning run across and the Giants defeated Houston 4-3 Wednesday.

Jim Hart opened the ninth with an infield single against reliever John Bingham, who had walked and moved to second on Romeo's sacrifice.

Three Ex-Champs Attempt To Regain Honors During Magic Valley Golf Meet

At least three past champions and two near-champions are entered in the annual Magic Valley Amateur Golf tournament Saturday through Monday at the Twin Falls Municipal Golf Course.

Don Knapp, last year's champion from Elko, Glenn Blakeley of Burley and John Rosthot of Twin Falls are back to seek titles they've held before along with Don Lowman of Jerome, who has been close on several occasions, and Jim Purves, Twin Falls, who has been runner-up three times.

Rose Retains Crown With Split Verdict

LOS ANGELES (AP) — World bantamweight champion Lionel Rose of Australia survived a seventh-round knockdown by Mexican veteran Jose Medel to win a split decision Wednesday night in their non-title 10-round bout.

Each weighed 120½ lbs. The 20-year-old Aboriginal, who has twice lost the title he built an early lead and spun the 30-year-old Mexican to the canvas with two hard left jabs in the fourth. Medel was up quickly by referee George Latka, who ruled it a knockdown and called off the mandatory eight count.

Trailing by far in points, Medel began his rally in the sixth, and in the seventh, Medel floored Rose for only the third time in his career with a left hook to the head.

Lionel was up at the count of three but had to await the mandatory eight. The Australian did not appear badly hurt and finished the round strongly.

Judge Dick Young scored the fight 7-3 for Rose and judge Lee Grossman 7-4 for the champ. Referee Latka tallied a 6-6 draw under California's scoring system of giving the winner of each round from one to five points and the loser nothing.

Rose, who won his title from Fighting Harada in Tokyo on Feb. 27, put his record at 31-2. Medel, unsuccessful in two attempts at the title, now is 65-24-6.

A crowd of about 12,000 at the Forum paid a gate of approximately $100,000 for three bantamweight bouts scheduled for 10 rounds each.

Social highlight of the tournament will be a suds dance at the Elks building Saturday night and the special attraction will be a main elimination derby following play Sunday.

The tournament will be fought according to approved handicaps and the number of flights will be determined by the total entry.

Knapp won the title last year after several unsuccessful attempts while Blakeley won three years ago and Rosthot two years ago. Purves, a consistent bridesmaid, may be able to break his mates to watch.

personal jinx in this tournament since he has been playing well the past few weeks. This was pointed up when he won the Burley Amateur earlier this year. Lowman is a consistent low scorer who hasn't quite made the winner's circle.

The usual challenge of the teenagers also must be expected as Jim Packard, a junior at Twin Falls High School this year, recently won the Twin Falls city championship. He has several of his high school teammates to watch.

Host professional Clyde Thomson said about 155 had entered the tournament and entries will be taken through Saturday afternoon or until the 200 figure is reached.

He said the tournament would run on the regular format of playing with foursomes of the girls choosing Saturday. But he cautioned the clubhouse should be contacted for tee-off time arrangements since so many have been filled by the early entry.

CASTLEFORD—A lack of experience at quarterback and center worries Coach Ralph Hatch as he prepares his Castleford Wolves for their grid-opponent Friday night game at the Twin Falls sophomores. The game, slated for Castleford, will start at 8 p.m.

The Wolves posted a 3-1 record last year and lost some good men to graduation in Dick Frey, Pete McArthur and Tony Wiggins. But Coach Hatch believes he has the nucleus of a good team. He has a pair of veterans at halfback in 140-pound Dean Allred, a two-year man, and Kim Haranger, 155 pounds. Steve Wright is a junior; should be well on the jayvees last year and could move into the starting position.

In the line, Al Kinyon, 145, is back at guard, and Dennis Puchel, 166, returns at end. The tackle spot is solid with veterans Don Potucek, 170, and Wayne Schanzman, 165. Both are seniors. The other end veterans is Ben Ruffing, 165.

Coach Hatch believes Terry Haley will be able to handle the center spot and looks for Lynn Enstender to help in the backfield.

The Castleford schedule includes Aug. 31, Twin Falls sophomore night; Castor, Sept. 5; Castleford at Wendell; Sept. 13, Wells, Nev.; at Castleford; Sept. 20, Oakley at Castleford; Sept. 27, Tule at Castleford; Oct. 4, Castleford at Murtagh; Oct. 11, Castleford at Rockland; Oct. 18, Hansen at Castleford; and Oct. 15, Castleford at Raft River.

Bill DeWald took the consolation title by default. In the first flight, Phil Cooper topped Don Hutchings 3 and 2 while Judge Dick Reed dropped Robert Langdon 1 up for the consolation away.

Blaine Sessions was the second-flight winner with a 2 and 1 decision over Gordon Crockett. Crockett went to Jim McCord, who dropped 11 to a 2-1 Ward 5 and 4.

Third flight was won by Tom Gibson over a 4 and 3 decision over Gary Rene with Jim Wilj edging Ed Chupa 1 up in the consolation final.

Stan Myers' 2 and 1 win over Bob Slater won the fourth flight consolation after Bob Wignington took the major prize with a 2 and 1 match with Dick Meadows.

In the first, Ruben Olivares of Mexico City stopped Bernabe Fernandez of the Philippines after 1 minute, 46 seconds of the third round. Fernandez had gone down but was obviously hurt when referee Young stopped the bout.

But a left to Fernandez' mid-section sent him reeling into the corner and referee Young called a halt.

CHICAGO (AP) — Rookie Jerry Nyman fired a four-hit shutout in his first major league start and paced a three-run Chicago rally with a single as the White Sox blanked the New York Yankees 3-0 Wednesday night.

Nyman, called up from Hawaii, started Chicago's three-run third inning with a hit. Tommy Davis, Tom McCraw and Walt Williams all had run-scoring singles in the rally.

Nyman struck out five and walked three. He never was in trouble, allowing only two runners to get as far as second base.

Merl Stottlemyre, hired for a pinch hitter in the eighth after giving up 11 singles, lost his 11th.

Caldwell Raps Giants In 10th

SALT LAKE CITY (AP) — Caldwell exploited four runs on five straight singles in the top of the 10th inning Wednesday night to defeat Salt Lake City 4-1.

Two errors allowed four unearned runs for loser Sam Conter.

Caldwell outfielder Chris Ware bombed Salt Lake pitching with a home run and three RBI's.

Paul Blarman pitched for Caldwell allowing 24 hits, 10 runs, six homers and one single over the last four and one third innings.

Slum Kids Use Film To Learn

By JEAN SPRAIN WILSON

NEW YORK (AP) — When a youngster is afraid of something, it helps to be able to capture it, take it home, examine it and learn to understand it.

A kid with a glass jar can do this by collecting lightning bugs and caterpillars and ants. But when he lives in the city he can't bottle up scary, vacant lots, mysterious waterfronts, and littered alleyways and carry them away.

He can take home a scene on camera film, though. Early this year 6 or 7 year olds who call the slums home were wandering through garbage-strewn backways, climbing the debris of demolished buildings, peering into butcher shops and grocery stores, all the while whirring movie cameras, like diminutive Fellinis.

They were members of the Bank Street College's Early Childhood Center, participating in a project sponsored by Helena Rubinstein Foundation to develop the camera as a learning tool.

With cameras the youngsters were able to view their sights with fresh eyes, to understand them as a small part of a vast whole, as a portion that could be framed by a camera lens and carried home. Although many miles of film were wasted, enough was salvaged to form a film, "Child's Eye View," made in the Phillips Center.

Bank Street's Communication Laboratory. The film provides an insight into the mind and the world of the slum child.

Eastman-Kodak provided the cameras. Having a vested interest in the development of its product as a tool for learning, it has supplied a grant in support of the project involving nine public schools and four community centers in underprivileged areas in New York.

Older youngsters from these schools reflect mature viewpoints. "The slum is a place where girls their age hanging out at school. Girls at the beach. Girls at the corner store. Girls which indicates that, rich or poor, teenage boys are pretty much the same."

Police blotter — Friday at 9:40 a.m. a 1966 Mercury driven by Carl Worthington struck a parked car owned by Paul Malone when Worthington was turning into a private parking space. The 1967 car belonging to Malone was damaged to the extent of $500.

At 9 a.m. Monday Cheryl Patterson struck a cow belonging to Dan Suhr six and three-fourths miles south of Jerome. The cow came out of the pasture into the road and was killed. The 1964 Dodge driven by Mrs. Patterson was damaged to the extent of $250.

Women Are Tied As Top Losers

BURLEY — Mrs. Nancy Lock and Mrs. Gary Mahr tied and were crowned Queens of the Week by Mrs. Russell Shockey, president of TOP and WPS Club Monday evening during meeting at Presbyterian Church.

Both ladies also received a gift. Mrs. Mahr was also crowned "Heat Loser of the Month."

A total of 12 members weighed in, reporting nine and a half pounds gained and eight pounds lost.

Mrs. Norman Benck presented a demonstration on "Eye Make-up."

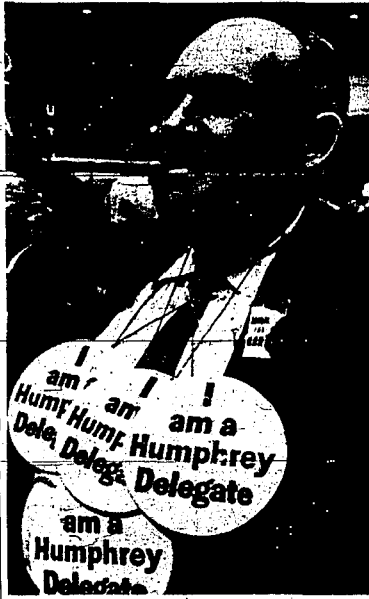

Timber Will Be Burned In Area

Three men from the Sawtooth National Forest Service office and about nine men from the Malta Ranger District are planning to begin burning 10 acres of timber north in the Sublett Division near Malta.

Darrell Smith, fire dispatcher, says the purpose of such burnings is to eliminate fire hazards.

If weather permits, the burning should be finished Wednesday evening and clean-up work should begin Thursday morning, Mrs. Smith said.

KEEP HANDY — With all the new fibers and finishes requiring different laundering techniques it is wise to keep a file near the washer to hold washing instruction tags. Be sure to label them with a description or a small sketch cut from a seam so you know to which garment the instructions relate.

JUST SO THERE'S no doubt, delegate Harold Windingstad of Dawson, Minn., is making certain onlookers will know he voted for Vice President Hubert Humphrey. Mr. Windingstad appeared this way during Wednesday afternoon's session of the Democratic convention in Chicago. (AP wirephoto)

Kids Find Plastic Worms Profitable Concession

GASTONIA, N.C. (AP) — The five Walker children are in the plastic worm business this summer and their fisherman-father is proud of the struggling—if unprofitable—family business.

Dr. W. "Gus" Walker, an orthodontist and a fisherman, explained:

"So many kids are out on the streets with nothing to do these days. They throw bottles and break glass and get into trouble. When my kids are home here making money, I know they're making money and are not out on the streets getting into trouble."

The Walker Brothers Bait Co. consists of Sam, 7, twins Bob and Jim 10, and Woody, 15, with a healthy assist from sister Karen, 17.

They make a four-inch green plastic worm developed by their father. Dr. Walker claims a loss of $800 so far—but the kids make some spending money.

"I buy bubble gum and go bowling," said 7-year-old Sam, who just works when the spirit moves him.

Fifteen-year-old Woody is the top worm maker. He has earned $75 and hopes to buy a surfboard.

The Walker youngsters began by molding the plastic worms on the kitchen stove. Before long however, Mrs. Walker sent them to the basement with a hot plate.

"It was a little too much to cook beans and plastic worms on the same stove," she said. "The plastic is not very nice smelling and it leaves a film on the windows."

A TART IS:

A TART IS A SMALL PIE. SMALL PIES... WHAT ELSE CAN WE SAY

A TART is NOT to be confused with a TORT. Please ask your lawyer about torts. A tart is a Girl? Yeah, once upon a time in Merry Old England girls of all Kinds were affectionately called Tarts. Later on, the affection slipped and the meaning of tart as applied to girls became as well as some of the girls it applied to, consequently most girls would rather not be called a tart nowadays, but the point is Swensen's (of Swensen's Mkts.) have always felt real affectionate about all kinds of tarts (affectionate for girls) with an especially warm feeling toward housewife girls who buy groceries (yea!) HHH Presents Varied Image

By HARRY KELLY
 CHICAGO (AP)—Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey has been called a "voice of the past" and a "man of his times." He has been called a super-guru to middle-aged liberals and a betrayer of the liberal cause.

He has been called a cheerleader for the Vietnam war and a private doubter—a "happy warrior" and a "weeping hawk."

The usual Humphrey image is that of a fast-talking super-salesman with a simple case crammed with exclamation marks... a political evangelist who spouts slogans like "politics of joy."

But there is more substance than style to Hubert H. Humphrey, 57, a man of burning ambition kindled in the populism, depression and dust storms of his South Dakota youth. When the depression sale of his boyhood home meant the end of childhood.

Thirty-three years ago, Humphrey took his Huron, S.D., boy scout troop to see Washington. From the capital, the young scoutmaster wrote his wife-to-be, Muriel Buck:

"I need to do more reading and writing, more thinking if I want to fulfill my dream of being someone in this world."

"I can see how someday, if you and I just apply ourselves to make up our minds to work for bigger things, we can live here in Washington and probably be in government-politics or service."

"I intend to set my aim at congress. Don't laugh at me, Muriel. Maybe it does sound rather ambitious and a little reason, but Muriel, I do know others have succeeded."

Humphrey was born May 27, 1911, in a room over his father's drugstore in Wallace, S.D., a town of 100 or so in the prairie country. He was the second of four children, with an older brother Ralph and two sisters, Frances and Fern.

The Humphrey family moved to nearby Doland, a town of almost 500, when Hubert was 5.

The major influence in Humphrey's life was his father—"Dad was a wonderful man. He was my hero. He loved people, and he loved politics. He was virtually the only Democrat in a Republican town. But they elected him mayor, sent him to the state legislature and almost ran him for governor."

But Humphrey, in his bitter-sweet memories, also remembers the closing of the banks in the late 1920s caused economic havoc and "one day I came home from school and there were mom and dad in the orchard with tears. My dad said 'Son, I had to sell our house.' Childhood ended when we sold our house."

The dark days of depression had struck when Humphrey entered the University of Minnesota. People were trading chickens, eggs and meat for drugs at the Humphrey corner drug store. He had to drop out of college and his father started snow in nearby Huron, a bigger town of 6,000.

When his father was elected to the state legislature, Hubert took a speeded-up pharmacy course at the University of Denver, so he could run the drugstore.

In 1936 he married Muriel and returned to the University of Minnesota. In two years he was graduated magna cum laude. Just before graduation, the first Humphrey child, Nancy, was born. But school still wasn't finished. He got a master of arts in political science on a teaching fellowship at Louisiana State University.

That was the first step to being "somebody" in the world. Two labor leaders asked Humphrey to run for mayor of Minneapolis. He lost the first time, ran again two years later and won. At 31, he was the youngest mayor of any major American city. But it was a city, as Humphrey recalls it, beset with problems of crime and bigotry.

"The first thing I did was hire a new and tough police chief, increase the policemen's salaries and told them I wasn't on the take and that they weren't going to be on the take either and then I said, 'We are going to have a clean town. Let's clean out the rackets.' And so we did."

Doland gave him a shove toward the center of the national stage in 1948. He not only was running for the U.S. Senate but he was selected to head the state delegation to the Democratic convention in Philadelphia where a battle cracked over civil rights.

Humphrey, named to the platform committee, recalled they had a civil rights plank but it skirted the tough issues. We wanted a simple strong plank that supported President Truman's full civil rights program, with the stress on equal employment and equal treatment in the armed forces.

"Rising before the convention, Humphrey urged a tougher plank and declared: 'We place our faith in the brotherhood of men under the fatherhood of God... I do not believe there can be any compromise on the guarantee of civil rights.'"

The convention passed the stronger plank. Southerners bolted and formed the Dixiecrats. Overnight Humphrey was a national figure.

And also that year of 1948 he became the first Democratic senator in Minnesota history.

But a few weeks ago, when Humphrey was introduced at the Minnesota Democratic Convention as "winner of the times," a heckler retorted derisively: "1948."

This Bronx cheer summed up a crisper argument that Humphrey's vintage year was 20 years ago and the Humphrey who has soured in the bottle of the 1950s.

On the other hand, Humphrey probably wouldn't be where he is today without Johnson.

They were elected to the Senate the same year. Johnson moved quickly toward the inner

Probe Set

WASHINGTON (AP)—Attorney Ramsey Clark ordered an FBI investigation Tuesday into the beatings of newsmen in the streets of Chicago.

A spokesman for the attorney general issued a terse statement but refused further comment on reported brutality by the Chicago police force during demonstration in connection with the Democratic National Convention.

The announcement of a federal investigation into the attacks by Chicago law enforcement officers came after reports that so far 24 newsmen have been injured in street incidents involving police.

Pvt. Walter Greag-Hayes, 24, Baker, a member of a Marine Corps reserve unit at Eugene where he attended the University of Oregon, told U.S. Dist. Court Judge John F. Kilkenny Tuesday he would suffer irreparable damage if forced to report immediately.

The judge issued a restraining order until Sept. 6 and said in that time the Marine Corps should consider an application for discharge as a conscientious objector.

Hayes said he had asked, both orally and in writing, to be excused as a matter of conscience from drill—Sunday, June 9, because of the Kennedy day of mourning, U.S. Atty. Sidney Lezak said the Marines had offered him a chance to attend a memorial service in connection with the drill but he had refused.

Hayes said that as a result of Kennedy's death he had decided to ask for discharge from the Marines as a conscientious objector. He said this application was not considered and he was ordered on Aug. 24 to report for active duty three days later. The reason given was "unsatisfactory participation in reserve training."

The order was issued July 25 but not delivered to Hayes until last Saturday.

The judge said the Marines ought to take enough time to consider Hayes' conscientious objector application and said the Sept. 6 date would be extended 10 days if the corps needed it to reach a decision.

Reservist Gains Ouster Reprive

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP)—A Marine Corps reservist who missed a day of drill because of the national day of mourning for Sen. Robert F. Kennedy and was ordered to active duty as a consequence, has a court-ordered reprive.

Archives Amass Mountain Of Material

By MILES A. SMITH
AP Arts-Editor
NEW YORK (AP) — The Archives of American Art have captured on a few thousand rolls of microfilm a whole mountain of material on art and artists in America and the mountain keeps growing.

On the contemporary scene, there are the doodles and sketches in one of the notebooks of Pop artist Claes Oldenburg. Since the organization's founding in 1954, there are the Archives of American Art located and microfilmed an estimated five million items from 400 collections of papers, ranging from the mid-18th century to the present.

Letters, manuscripts, diaries, journals, c.l.p.n.p.s., photographs, biographies, catalogs, and other documents are being processed, sketches, directories—all kinds of written records are included in the collections. A recently more than 500 tape interviews with contemporary artists have been added.

The material comes from painters, sculptors, craftsmen and designers, from critics, relatives and their dealers; from critics and historians, museums, societies and institutions.

Trees 'Pump' Food For Life Process

By EARL ARNOLD
AP Newswriters

The tree is aptly described as the "pump" of life. The thousands of cells of the hair roots imbibe moisture and by osmosis raise it to the tree tops. Adding food chemicals enriches the sap that travels through the root system.

Advantage to send food all the way to the leaves. A healthy, vigorous tree is resistant to borers, root-rot and cankers. Lush foliage helps develop new growth.

"Our collections are changing so rapidly we cannot keep up with them," said William E. Wolfenbarger, director of the Archives, in a recent interview.

"How does a researcher go about using the materials?" "Suppose he is interested in a certain era or artist, Ben Shahn," says Wolfenbarger. "In our card index he will find several entries under the name."

'Bug' Bites Can Offer Life Threat

By AP Newswriters

If you've suffered a severe reaction to an insect bite you should consider the possibility of a life-threatening allergy. It's called anaphylaxis, says Irving H. Ikin, M.D., chief of the Asthma-Allergy Section of National Jewish Hospital at Denver.

School Architect Sees Changes On Tap

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newswriters Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Now that the schoolhouse and classroom are taking on a new look from kindergarten to college, architects are hoping that vocational-technical schools will be upgraded in the process.

Architects are hoping that vocational-technical schools will be upgraded in the process. Mochon's studies of a reaction of vocational students to interior design shows that they prefer carpeting and well-defined furniture, and even converse in lower tones away from the chill atmosphere of the "institutional building look."
