Social Conditions Implicated In Rate Of Murders Occurring Throughout U.S.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The homicide rate in this country is connected more to social, economic and cultural conditions than to the availability of guns, the President's commission on violence has been told. Daniel Glaser, a sociologist from Rutgers University told the commission Wednesday that the poor and under educated have the highest incidents of homicide. Deaths from violence are much higher in the rural South and the northern urban ghettos than in the middle class areas of cities and suburbs, he said. When asked whether states with strict gun control laws had lower violent death rates, Glaser indicated not necessarily. Patterns of living affected the

U. S. Denies Profit Claim On PX Items

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. economic officials today labeled as exaggerated the statement by South Vietnam's director of customs that $120 million in post exchange goods ended up on the black market in 1967. "If he starts out with an inflated figure it casts doubts on all his figures," one official said. But the official said "it's almost impossible to ascertain the magnitude" of PX goods on the black market. "All you can do is wonder, there's no way to find out."

'Vippies' To Aid HHH In New York

NEW YORK (AP) — Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey has enlisted the support of Vippies—Volunteers in Politics—for his campaign. Announcement of the new organization was made today by Mrs. Robert S. Benjamin, the new Vippie chairman, at a Manhattan news conference, in which she also announced that her previous campaign position—chief of the New York State women's division—had been abolished. "From now on the men and women in the campaign are going to work together," she said. "There will be no sex segregated women's luncheons or women's forums."

Reception Honors Staff At Murtaugh

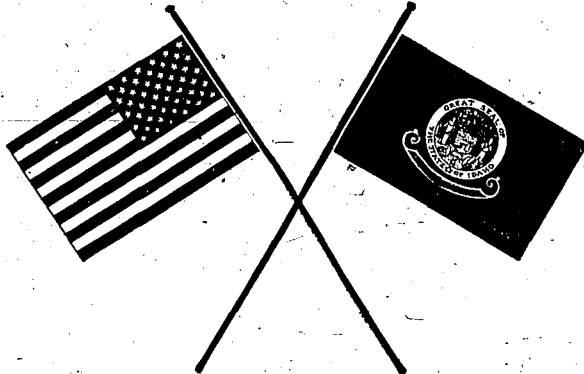

MURTAUGH—The PTA hosted the annual teachers' reception Monday night at the High School. Each teacher received a gift as they were introduced. The flag ceremony was presided by Cde. Stevens under the direction of Mrs. DeVan Anderson, den mother. Dale Peterson gave the PTA prayer. The PTA project for this year will be to purchase and to purchase a bulletin board on the football field where announcements of school activities will be posted. Mrs. Gerald Stevens, chairman of the membership committee, announced that October is membership month and urged all parents to join and support their local PTA. LaVero Bennett's eighth grade won the room count and the room will be chosen by the teacher. Terry Jones and Sam Jones presented vocal numbers to the PTA. Refreshments were served by first and second grade room mothers.

Soviets Draft Peace Scheme For Mideast

WASHINGTON (AP)—A four-part plan for peace between Israel and the Arab nations has been suggested to the United States by the Soviet Union, American officials say. The plan, one of several approaches in several weeks, according to the officials, calls for Israel to pull back to the boundaries that existed before the six-day war last summer with the Arab countries. In turn, the Arabs would declare an end to the state of war that has existed with Israel since the Jewish nation was established in 1947. The U.S. officials said there has been no response to the Soviet overtures and they refused to go into more detail.

The other points of the plan call for a strong United Nations force in the area to guarantee peace and a declaration by the United States, Russia, France and Great Britain that they will not engage in new fighting, and Israel has said it would not withdraw from the area it conquered in the flash fighting until the Arabs agree to a peace treaty.

WASHINGTON — James E. Webb was headed for an unpleasant and possibly embarrassing confrontation with the Senate Space Committee when he abruptly resigned last week as head of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration.

NASA's operating plans. For Webb, already fretting over his pared-down $3.85 billion budget, it was apparently the last straw.

Mr. Webb Goes

In 1961, when James E. Webb became head of NASA, the nation's space program had been trailing Russia's for four discouraging years. Sputnik 1 opened a new era on Oct. 4, 1957, by orbiting the earth and sending back radio signals.

Rites Install New Pastor At Wendell

WENDELL — Rev. Vincent S. Larson was installed as pastor of Christ Lutheran Church, Wendell, by Rev. Henry Tietz, Buhl...

The Lutheran church choir sang two special numbers. The Lutheran Woman's Missionary League hosted the dinner for more than 100 guests.

Rev. Larson attended school at Concordia, Ore., and Concordia College, Oakland, Calif., and was graduated from the Concordia Seminary, St. Louis, Mo.

He spent his vicarage at the Clover Lutheran, near Filer. He taught school in East Portland and Orchard, Wash., where he was ordained and installed at Bend, Ore., in 1945.

He has served at Prosser, Wash. Trinity Lutheran church of Hope at Tonasket, Wash., where he had served from 1958 until the present time. The Rev. and Mrs. Larson have three daughters and three sons, all of whom are married. They have 11 grandchildren.

Rev. Larson will serve the Wendell parish and the Gooding parish. Mrs. Larson is a teacher in the Gooding elementary school.

PROFESSOR HONORED

PISA, Italy (AP) — Professor Paul Kristofer of Columbia University in New York was awarded Thursday the international Galileo Galilei prize for literature.

of welcome at 7 p.m. He will set the convention theme, "Sharing Fully in Preaching the Good News."

Knott will next conduct a sermon and delivery preparation program as a model for one conducted weekly in all congregations. Ministers from Boise will share in it.

D. G. Pike, circuit supervisor, will conduct the following program. It will deal with family life, following the theme "Children Obey Your Parents."

The drama, based on 1 Samuel 24, will be directed by Kenneth McKinney, overseer of the Wendell congregation. Members of his congregation, as well as some from Buhl and Twin Falls, will be actors in it.

At 1:30 p.m. Saturday Knott will officiate at the baptism and ordination service.

Members of the Twin Falls congregation will present the dramatic evening session on the theme, "Teaching With a Sense of Urgency in the Time Remaining."

It will deal with the Bible studies Jehovah's Witnesses conduct in the homes of people interested in their beliefs. There will also be an analysis of the past six months' efforts of southwestern Idaho congregations.

At 3 p.m. Sunday Knott will deliver the main convention address, "God's Way Is Love." All sessions are open to the public. No collections will be taken.

Ministers In Jerome Set Teacher Fete

JEROME — The Jerome Ministerial Association will hold the annual reception for teachers of the Jerome School district at 2 p.m. Sunday at the Jerome Methodist Church, reports Rev. John Garrabrاند, pastor.

The reception will be held in the church parlor and refreshments will be served by members of the church. Mrs. Jerry Nelson gave the feature address.

Rev. Garrabrاند emphasized the public is invited to attend the reception, which represents an unusual opportunity for people of the community to become better acquainted with the teachers of their children. All teachers will attend.

OFFICIALS OF THE Jehovah's Witnesses convention, W. M. Knott, district supervisor, arrived earlier in the week for the group's convention to be held Friday through Sunday at the Buhl High School. Mr. Knott will be the featured speaker at 3 p.m. Sunday. The public is invited.

of students at San Francisco State College, will speak. The third session is Nov. 4 and will deal with "The crisis is change in the churches to day."

Speakers will include The Very Rev. Dr. William Spofford, dean of the Episcopal Cathedral of Boise; the Rev. William Hopper, synod executive of the Idaho Presbyterian Church; the Rev. George E. Ross, director of the Idaho Ecumenical Training Council; the Rev. George Barber, pastor of the Boise First Congregational Church; and the Rev. Keith Mills, district superintendent of the Methodist Church.

The final session is Nov. 18 and is a debate on "A focus of controversy, the national council of churches."

Speaking for the issue will be the Rev. Ernest White, director of the Northern California Council of Churches, and against will be Mr. Joseph Stump, director of Citizens for Wallace in Idaho.

The theme of the four sessions is "Come, let us reason together."

Local chairman are Bert Larson, president of the Magic Valley Council of Churches, and Mrs. Tim Robertson, registrar for the series.

Open House Is Scheduled By Lutherans

The Sunday school of Immanuel Lutheran Church will hold an open house Sunday in observance of Christian Education Week.

The staff of 23 teachers, under the direction of Lawrence Mahler, includes Wilbur Ulrich, who has been teaching Sunday school classes at Immanuel Lutheran Church for over 30 years.

Primary classes are taught for children from nursery age through grade school. Bible study classes are held for high students and a large group of adults.

Special awards will be given to 31 pupils who have achieved nearly perfect attendance during the last two years. The staff of the Sunday school will welcome the parents and friends of the pupils at the Rally Day service to be held between 9:30 a.m. and 10:30 a.m. Sunday. At that time they are urged to become acquainted with the staff and the program of the Sunday school.

CLYDE L. BRADBURN and his wife, Assembly of God missionaries to Japan, will be featured speakers during 11 a.m. services Sunday at the Jerome Assembly of God Church, Adams and D Street. The Bradburns have spent seven and one-half years as missionaries in different areas of Japan. Rev. Sheldon Stages invites all interested persons to attend.

Dedication Set

The Filer Health and Welfare Center, sponsored by the Seventh-day Adventist Church, will be dedicated to the service of the needy in the Filer area Monday at 4:30 p.m.

The building was moved to its present location at 5th and Idaho last spring and has been remodeled during the past months.

D. E. Caslow, Portland, Ore., director of Adventist welfare work in the North Pacific area, will be main speaker at the dedication. The public is invited to attend.

Visit Planned

Rev. Norman L. Foote, D.D., Episcopal bishop of Idaho, will make his annual visit to the Church of the Ascension, Twin Falls, Sunday.

The bishop will preach at both the 9:15 a.m. and 11 a.m. services, and will lead the adult class at 10 a.m. Bishop Foote will also preside at a 12:30 p.m. meeting of the Parish Vestry.

The Weekly Sermonette

BY C. W. HOOD, Pastor Trinity Baptist Church Sins: what shall we do with it? Scripture reading taken from Prov. 28:13 "The wicked flee when no man pursues; but the righteous are bold as a lion."

There are two things we can do with sin; at the last analysis we can cover it up or we can confess it and forsake it. But God declares very plainly, "He that covereth his sins shall not prosper; but whoso confesses and forsakes them shall have mercy."

As long as we hold on to our sins, we will find that they cannot be cured. Instead they will lead to committing greater things that are sin than that which we are now committing. Such are more dangerous to ones soul, such as covering ones sin with hypocrisy to the sins. We soon prove just what we are by the things we do when we are holding on to sin.

Covering ones sin is foolish because sooner or later sin will come out in every life. This is accomplished by violating the laws of unness, the laws of virtue, laws of health laws of temperance, and the laws of God.

In the year of 1915 in one of our southern states, a wealthy affluent and postmaster in a town named Horn came down to the beach.

He was looking for a vacation spot. He had heard that the waters of the sea were good for the cure of his ailment.

He was there for some time. He was enjoying the view. He was enjoying the sun. He was enjoying the sand. He was enjoying the water.

One day he was walking along the beach. He saw a man who was lying on the sand. He saw that the man was dead. He saw that the man had been there for some time.

He went over to the man. He saw that the man had a cross around his neck. He saw that the cross was made of wood. He saw that the cross had a nail in it.

Family At Kimberly Sees Mexico

KIMBERLY — Mr. and Mrs. A. K. (Ooch) Dodds and their family returned last weekend from a two week tour of Mexico and reported first-hand of the riots in that country's capital.

"Our taxi cab driver refused at one point to go near the university in Mexico City," Mrs. Dodds said. "He was frightened, but we asked some questions there and gathered that this kind of thing isn't too unusual," she added.

Mr. Dodds was awarded the Mexico trip by the General Safeco Insurance Co. He is an agent for the company.

Mrs. Dodds said they did not encounter rioting at any time during their trip to Mexico.

'Life' Signs McCarthy To Cover Series

NEW YORK (AP) — Life magazine said today Sen. Eugene McCarthy soon after he lost the Democratic presidential nomination to Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey, will report for his assignment in St. Louis Oct. 2, the opening date for the best-of-seven series between the Detroit Tigers of the American League and the St. Louis Cardinals of the National League.

The Life spokesman refused to disclose how much McCarthy will be paid for the assignment. McCarthy was a first baseman while attending St. John's University in Minnesota and later played semipro baseball in the Great Soe League.

Soroptimists To Sell Fruit Cakes

It was announced at a Twin Falls Soroptimist Club meeting Tuesday evening at the Regency Hotel Roundup Room that the club will again sell Christmas fruit cakes.

The cakes, according to a report, will be available this year in one, two and five pound sizes.

Mrs. Robert Nelson, representing the League of Women Voters, gave a talk on legislation and hints on voting. Mrs. Betty Birtwell was a program chairman.

Cindy Ronk, who was sponsored to Girls State by the Soroptimist Club, gave a report on her activities there. She and her mother, Mrs. Howard Ronk, were guests at the dinner meeting.

Linda Tally, accompanied by Mrs. Don Parker, presented several vocal numbers.

The next meeting will be Oct. 8 at the Roundup Room.

FAYE DUNAWAY plays an insurance investigator in "The Thomas Crown Affair," which leads her to meet the wealthy crook of the title role played by Steve McQueen. It will be playing through Tuesday at the Motor-Vu Theater.

Miss Dunaway Is On Right Side Of Law In 'Thomas Crown Affair'

"The Thomas Crown Affair" is about a big Boston bank hold, the millionaire who masterminded it, and the girl who tracks him down. It also is a stab at the "American Establishment" and "society" as a whole.

Steve McQueen plays the title role and Faye Dunaway (who is on the right side of the law this time) plays an insurance investigator named Vicky Anderson. Jack Weston is seen as a cosmetics salesman leading a double life. Paul Burke is another of the stars.

The film is the first commercially released motion picture to use the multiple image effect first seen at Expo 67 in a short called "A Place to Stand," where 17,000,000 visitors saw and were impressed with the process.

"The Thomas Crown Affair" will be playing at the Motor-Vu Theater through Tuesday.

Richard Harris Promises Totally New Concept In His Portrayal Of 'Hamlet'

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — There's no sense in playing Hamlet unless you can do something different with it or shed new light. Richard Burton's Hamlet was disgraceful. It had nothing to say. I have a totally new concept, something that has never been dreamed of before. It is going to be sensational.

There can be no doubt that Richard Harris is Irish. The confirmation comes when you hear him spinning dreams about his playing Hamlet. Yet it apparently is no dream. At least Paramount doesn't think so, having invested a million dollars so Harris can present his own interpretation of the gloomy-Dano-to-the-London stage and film audiences everywhere.

Harris is a man to whom nothing seems impossible. He decided he wanted to play King Arthur in "Camelot," and he sold Warner Brothers and director Josh Logan on the idea. He wanted to enter the pop music field, and he sold more than a million copies of his first record, "MacArthur Park."

"Hamlet" seems like a daunting challenge.

"I admit it," said the actor, covered with coal black for his role in "The Molly Maguires." "An actor would be taking a terrible chance trying Hamlet at this particular time. David Warner recently did it in England. Burton's Hamlet was widely shown, and Laurence Olivier's film is still around." (Also, Christopher Plummer's TV effort at Elsinore, Maximilian Schell's German version, plus the derivative "Rosencranz and Guildenstern are Dead" on the stage and soon to be a film.)

"But Hamlet is still one of the greatest roles ever written and it deserves to be done again—if you can bring something fresh and new to it. And I will. I have been wrestling with this problem for six years. Then one night last year at Malibu after I had finished a day's work on "Camelot," it came to me in a blinding flash."

Declo Club Hears Report On Chamber

DECLO — Reports were given by Joseph Gillett and Dick Fuqua on the recent meeting of the South Idaho Chamber of Commerce held in Twin Falls, at the Declo Kiwanis Club luncheon meeting Monday at Min's Cafe.

Gov. Don Samuelson spoke at the Twin Falls meeting and his speech and various committee reports were related to the Kiwanians. Topics discussed included a regional airport, state finance, school problems, recreation and taxes.

Representing the Twin Falls Kiwanis Club as guests were Vern Riddle, president; Rev. Bob Harvey, Donald Youtz and Arthur Anderson, who will be the 1969 lieutenant-governor of Division 5 of the Utah-Idaho District of Kiwanis.

Sales of trash can holders was discussed by the group with Clifford Sutton, president, in charge of the business meeting.

"Hawaii Five-O" Series Is Welcome Addition To CBS Network Schedule

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — "Hawaii Five-O," CBS series that made its debut Thursday night, is a welcome addition to the network's schedule—a fast-paced, sharply produced police series with good acting and an added plus in the authentic island background.

Shot entirely in Hawaii, the series stars Jack Lord as head of a special branch of the 50th state's police force.

The first job confronting him and his two assistants was the disappearance of 10 rich widows and spinsters, traveling to the islands by boat—and alone.

Unmasking a deadly fortune hunter and his accomplice by setting up a policewoman as a clay pigeon is hardly a new plot idea, but the program unraveled the story with suspense and style and a minimum of gun play. If the rest of the shows are as good as the first one, the series should be a shoot-out success.

Two British-made series had their premieres on ABC during the evening.

The first is an uninhibited comedy called "The Ugliest Girl in Town." The initial episode was busy explaining how a manly American boy suddenly found himself hailed as the latest, kindest girl fashion model in London.

The boy, played by Peter Kastner, fell in love with an English starlet about to return home after a Hollywood picture. At the same time, his roommate, a photographer, shipped some gag pictures of her hero dressed in hippie clothes to a London magazine. The editors thought it was suspense and named the subject who, for love, leaped at the chance to wear a wild and fake eyelashes.

The last program used up quite a few of the pages suitable for family viewing: boy in girl's clothes balks at entering a room marked "ladies"; boy has to dance another man asks him to dance, and so on.

Although the first show was fairly amusing, this has got to be a one-poke series, and a little of this can go a long way.

"Journey to the Unknown," specializing in suspense and horror, started with a truly macabre story. JW was a tale about a young shoe clerk who falls in love with a wax dummy in a department store window.

He attempts to steal the mannequin he calls "Eve" when he finds that all the wax dummies are to be destroyed. Caught in the act, he tussled with a store executive who fell to his death. There were weird sequences as the young man, in the grip of his madness, tenderly carried the dummy to the country and ultimately was killed trying to protect it from some thugs.

The program was sensitive and imaginatively produced. Based on a John Collier short story, it was produced by Joan Harrison, long an associate of Alfred Hitchcock, and was a very good beginning.

Recommended weekend viewing:

Tonight—"The Name of the Game," NBC, 8:30-10 EDT, with Robert Stack, making his debut in the series as a fading anti-crime editor; "The Don Rickles Show," premiere, ABC, 9:30-10 p.m., with the comedian flinging his

Kelly To Make Temporary Dancing Return On Jackie Gleason's Show

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer
HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Gene Kelly will display his dancing form on the Jackie Gleason television show Saturday night, but it will mark only a temporary return to his hoofing heyday.

"Dancing is an avocation for me now," he remarked after a workout prior to testing for the Miami Beach telecast. "I found out that I don't have to dance to be happy."

It wasn't an easy lesson, Kelly admitted. For 25 years on Broadway and in films, dancing was almost his whole existence. No one worked harder at it than Gene Kelly. Not even Fred Astaire, who was noted for his strict regimen. Kelly's style required an athleticism that could be sustained only by constant fitness.

"Then in 1955 I tore the cartilage in my knee while skiing," he said. "It was two whole years before I could dance again. For a guy who has been dancing all his life, that was tough to take. But I began to realize there was something else I could do to make a living."

That was directing. Kelly has just finished directing the most expensive musical of film history, "Hello, Dolly!" Outside his 20th Century-Fox office stands a portion of the $2-million New York street set on which he had maneuvered 4,000 extras a few weeks before. Total cost of the film is reported at $20 million.

"That's down from the original budget of $27 million," he remarked airily. "We found some ways to save money."

Kelly started work in the film in October, 1967. Rehearsals with Barbra Streisand, Walter Matthau and the other principals began last January and shooting started April 15. Kelly said the last "cut!" on the major photography Aug. 21, then sat off for a couple of weeks and returned for a few minor shots, which ended the day before his departure for the Gleason show.

The economics of his two functions are curious. He observed:

"I will make more on the Gleason show in one day than I will in two weeks of directing. No doubt about it, the performers are the top dogs nowadays. It's a performer's market."

But he has no regrets about choosing direction over dancing. "The fun comes the point in every dancer's life when he's got to quit altogether or start cutting down," he observed. "I felt that I would require three months to get into solid shape, and another three months before I could get into the ring. Even then, I wouldn't be able to do what I used to do."

Kelly will continue with "Dolly" until spring, when he expects to finish cutting the film. When it will be seen, nobody knows. Supposedly it can't be released until the show leaves New York. With the Pearl Bailey version selling out, it could be years before the show vacates Broadway. Fox is seeking relief from the stipulation.

Myrna Loy Looks With Amusement At Political Activity By Film Stars

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer
HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Myrna Loy looks with faint amusement at the feverish political activities by film figures in this year's campaigns. She can remember when the practice was not so popular.

The New York-based star has been here for her 1937 movie, "April Fools," with Jack Lemmon, Catherine Deneuve and Charles Boyer. Her only regret over the assignment was that it kept her from attending the Democratic National Convention, where she had hoped to work for her candidate, Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy. "I'm still nursing my wounds over his loss," she smiles.

But she suspects that she will be campaigning for Hubert H. Humphrey come fall, "because I'm so concerned with the attack by Nixon and the Republicans on the judiciary."

Unlike some performers who have recently discovered political consciences, campaigning has long been a way of life for Miss Loy. It is a matter of conviction, since speech-making does not come easy to her; she is naturally shy and soft-spoken. But a political conscience was instilled during her early years.

"When I went back to Montana to bury my mother last year," she said, "I visited the state capital at Helena. They showed me the application my father had made to run for the legislature. He was only about 22 at the time, but he won the election and served one term."

Her father was a Republican; her mother a Democrat; the maternal influence prevailed. When Myrna was a reigning star at MGM in the 1930s, she lent her name to the campaign of Franklin D. Roosevelt. This did not help her relations with the media; Louis B. Mayer, whose personal hero was Herbert Hoover, she and Mayer had repeated battles.

One day in 1938, she and husband Arthur Hornblow were entertaining at their Malibu home. While the guests were frolicking on the beach, Myrna was listening to a radio speech from London by the Czech leader Jan Masaryk, who sadly reported the self-ouster of his country at Munich. She was so moved that she dispatched a cable of sympathy to Masaryk.

She received a sharp reprimand from the New York sales department of MGM. But it didn't change her attitude toward political activity.

Her public duties became intensified after her departure from MGM. In 1950, Secretary of State Dean Acheson appointed her member-at-large on the U.S. commission of UNESCO, and she served for three and a half years. She campaigned with Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt for Adlai Stevenson in 1956, and has served as co-chairman of the Advisory Council of the National Committee Against Discrimination in Housing.

Miss Loy believes the advent of other show business personalities to politics this year is a healthy sign. She herself plans to confine her activities to non-objectionable posts. "I've had offers to run for office in New York, but that's not for me," she said firmly.

Grocery Store To Be Built In Twin Falls

Brezina Construction Co., Salt Lake City, has been issued a building permit at Twin Falls City Hall for the construction of a discount grocery store.

The building will be occupied by Brez-Way Grocery at 1708 Kimberly Road.

Reynolds Construction Co., Twin Falls, has the contract for the 10-foot by 14-foot building. Half of the structure will be used for a dry storage warehouse and the other part will house the store.

Cost of the work was estimated at $18,000.

Married Bliss Is Good Comedy

"How Sweet, It Is" shows James Garner and Debbie Reynolds trying to find private married bliss at sea in the only sanctuary left to them aboard a student ship.

From the first time in motion picture history a production company filmed a movie aboard a cruise liner at sea during a regularly scheduled run. Ninety members of the cast and crew worked before the cameras between Los Angeles and Acapulco on the 24,200-ton Holland-American S.S. Stendam.

This comedy is now playing at the Motor-Vu Theater.

During that period in Hollywood history, studio heads discouraged political activity by their stars, arguing that it would alienate a large portion of the movie audience. Miss Loy felt the company pressure in one notable instance.

Today's Market And Financial Report

Stocks

2:30 P.M. SUMMARY NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market climbed back to the upside in a strong rally late this afternoon. Gainers captured lasers by a margin of 74 issues. The breakdown from the most active list was 123 advances against 31 declines. Brokers said the market was in a mood for consolidation after a steady period of uprise and morning trading bore out that contention. Prices opened on a firm trend, eased to a mixed level, and then started a move upward. Trading was halted in Xerox pending an announcement. When it came, the news was that the big copying machine maker and CPT Financial, independent sales finance company, were conducting negotiations to ward a combination of the two firms. Xerox traded off 4% at 29 3/4 and CPT rose 1 1/2 at 47.

Motors strengthened after earlier weakness. General Motors swept back from the margins to show a gain of 1/4 and Ford, Chrysler and American Motors added fractions.

Gila and Arizona continued to lead the market with gains higher. Ralls were generally strong. Metals and chemicals strengthened after having been on the downside.

The Dow Jones average of 30 industrials at 2 p.m. was off a minimal .25 at 932.99, recovering from a more than a point loss earlier.

Q. Recent experiences have made me wonder. After an additional share offering by a company or after a split, shares always seem to drop. Why? R. Before you split, shares are frequently bid up by traders hoping to benefit from increased buying in the lower priced shares. Once the split takes place, these short-term traders sell out, causing a drop in share price which is usually temporary. When a company sells new or treasury shares — stock that was authorized but not outstanding — the new shares have a depreciant effect on the market because they dilute earnings. For example, company 'A' has 5 million outstanding shares and earns $5 million, or $1 a share. 'A' now sells an additional 1 million shares so that the $5 million income must be divided among the 6 million shares. The resulting per share earnings are then 83 cents, rather than the original $1.

Burley Tour Of Homes Slated Sunday

BURLEY—A Tour of Homes will be held from 1 to 5 p.m. Sept. 29 in Burley, sponsored and hosted by Xi Omega Chapter, Beta Sigma Phi.

The homes selected are different in decor and style and each reflects the personalities of the families and their interests.

Points of interest in the various homes furnish unique features of interest for both men and women.

Some of the unique features include a French provincial furnishing throughout the home with accents of white and gold; a sunken living room from which Snake River may be viewed; a double fireplace constructed of Oakley stone; original paintings by the late Maude Gooding; Twin Falls; a bedroom featuring a king sized bed with accents of blue, antiqued dresser and crushed gold velvet chair.

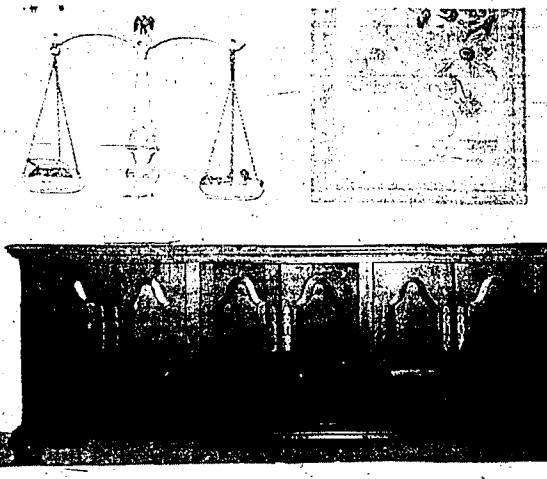

Homes to be toured include those of Mr. and Mrs. LaMar Craner, 582 Birch Drive; Mr. and Mrs. Albert Anderson, 25 Van Engelen Drive; Mr. and Mrs. James Martin, 225 South 20 East, and Mr. and Mrs. George Forschler, 350 Birch Drive.

Tickets are available from all Xi Omega Chapter members and will be on sale Saturday in downtown Burley in front of the Mode-Ordway, 1246 Overland Ave.

General chairman for the event is Mrs. Jack Mason, assisted by Mrs. Joe Adams and Mrs. Phyllis Weber, signs for placement in yard of each home; Mrs. LePage Layton, publicity; Mrs. Ed Bailey, treasurer; and Mrs. Gene Morton, hostess badges.

Proceeds from the Tour of Homes will be used for various projects the chapter sponsors during the year.

Chapter members, Mrs. Clyde Bowers, Mrs. Ransom Brown, Mrs. Clarence Bishop, Mrs. Layton, Mrs. Morton, Mrs. Mason, Mrs. Odeen Redman, Mrs. Don Worthington, Mrs. Adams, Mrs. Dean Perry, Mrs. Bailey, Mrs. Rex Weech, Mrs. Weber and Mrs. S. L. Walker, will be serving as hostesses in the various home to conduct the tours.

Unique

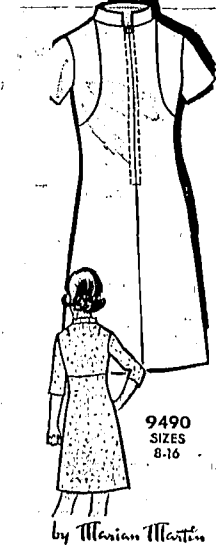

... features of interest for both men and women will be shown during the Burley Tour of Homes set from 1 to 5 p.m. Sunday. The white antiqued scales on the stairs in the living room of the Albert Anderson home, top picture, is just one point of interest in their home, 25 Van Engelen Drive. The black metal suspended fireplace at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Forschler, 350 Birch Drive, second picture, is flanked by bookshelves in the den which is decorated in red and black. The tour is sponsored by Xi Omega Chapter, Beta Sigma Phi, and will feature four Burley homes.

Dear Abby

By ABIGAIL VAN DUREN
DEAR ABBY: Recently, I was the houseguest of a sorority sister in another state. Her father is a very good-looking, gray-haired man with a lovely aura and a tremendous personality. While I was there, he told me that he travels for business reasons, and I wanted to have a good time I should meet him sometime. At first I thought he was joking, but soon enough, by other things he said and did, I knew he wasn't. I just laughed, pretending not to take him seriously, and I stayed away from him as much as possible. Now that I am home, he has called me twice long distance, wanting to know if we can arrange a meeting. What an idiot I am! I am in and don't want to get involved with this married man. He says he likes my mature mind and that he wouldn't do anything I don't want to do. Please help me.
PUZZLED

DEAR PUZZLED: If he calls again, tell him that your MATURE mind is made up and if he ever calls again, you will tell your parents and his daughter. That should cool him off.

Everybody has a problem. What's yours? Put a personal reply write to Abby, Box 92700, Los Angeles, Cal., 90069 and enclose a stamped, self addressed envelope.

Christmas Gift Ideas Presented

HARLEY—Gifts for Christmas giving highlighted the regular meeting of the Homemakers Club at the home of Mrs. Eleanor Byington. Mrs. Edward Seal and Mrs. Thelma Heckert were co-hostesses and assisted in serving refreshments.

Among the gift ideas presented included a mobile of angels and stars made by Mrs. Harold Johnston; a paper-mache bowl by Mrs. Lloyd Daniel; decorated knit slippers by Mrs. Ivan Nilsson; a Christmas basket by Mrs. Bert Shirta; Christmas cards by Mrs. Amanda Reetz; Mexican spider cricket and antique fruit by Mrs. Waed Gutches; and an antique macaroni tree, a clothes pin bag, a knitting apron and a child's "Quiet Book" by Mrs. Byington.

The Oct. 8 meeting will be at 8 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Ted Cutler.

Couple Weds

HANSEN—Lulu M. Burton, Hazelton, and Clyde Hansen, Jr., Hansen, were united in marriage in rites performed by Rev. Delbert Remy at the Kimberley Methodist Church.

Mrs. Laura Merrill, Hazelton, served as matron of honor, and Don Marshall was best man.

The couple will reside on Mr. Johnson's farm in Haussen.

Social Calendar

The Single-Ites Club of Magic Valley will hold its harvest dance Saturday night at the Day Hall, Twin Falls. There will be live music for dancing from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m. All single persons between the ages of 20 and 60 are welcome to attend.

Baptist Women Host First Meet Of Fall Season

SHOSHONE—The Baptist Women's Mission Society met for the first meeting of the fall season at the home of the president, Mrs. Howard E. Adkins.

Program theme for the year is "Keys of Wisdom," and Mrs. Luella L. Kinsey presented the day's lesson on the topic, "Keys to a Christian Nation." Program booklets were distributed.

The dates, Oct. 4 and 5 have been set for the home of the president and Oct. 24 is the annual fall smorgasbord. Both will be held at the church fellowship hall and the public is invited. These are fund raising projects of the group.

The next meeting will be held at 8 p.m. Thursday at the church, where a work project will be carried out in preparation for the rummage sale.

Annual Fall Luncheon Held

BUHL—The women of Circle One, under the direction of Mrs. Oona Babcock and Mrs. Henry Lehman, served the annual fall luncheon for the Women's Missionary Society of the First Baptist Church.

The theme for the day was "Hope" and each table was decorated with a large ship in the center, depicting the "Good Ship Hope." Place favors were tiny ships with the word "Hope" on the masts.

The devotional service was given by Mrs. Hazel Brabb. The Association Rally will be held in Twin Falls.

Mrs. Stella Kaster, program chairman, presented Mrs. Floyd Austin who sang a solo, accompanied by Mrs. John Wilson. Rev. Mr. Austin showed a number of slides revealing some of the things accomplished on the "Good Ship Hope."

GOP 'Voteswagon' Rally Slated In T.F. Oct. 7

All Magic Valley Republicans are planning a rally Oct. 7 to elect Mrs. Mary Brooks, assistant Republican national chairman, and her "GOP Voteswagon."

The rally is scheduled from 3 to 5 p.m. Oct. 7 at the Rogerson Hotel and will be sponsored by the Republican Federated Women's Clubs. All local and most state candidates are planning to be on hand to meet the public and participate in the rally. The public is invited.

The "GOP Women's Voteswagon" is a specially built and decorated Greyhound bus, which will make a nationwide campaign swing starting in Washington, D. C., and including in Anaheim, Calif., Oct. 18.

The "GOP Women's Voteswagon" is a dramatic and unprecedented campaign program designed to get out the women's vote for the Nixon-Agnew ticket. The project is the combined effort of Mrs. Brooks, Mrs. Gladys O'Donnell, president of the National Federation of Republican Women, and Mrs. Pat Hitt, director of Women for Nixon-Agnew.

The "Voteswagon" will cover 6,500 miles, visit 17 states and stop in 50 cities. The trip will take 28 days and special rally points and meetings are scheduled in marginal Congressional districts throughout the country.

Mrs. Brooks is to be aboard the Voteswagon for the entire journey, with Mrs. O'Donnell accompanying her for the greater part of the trip. They will be joined by Republican candidates and their wives as they enter each state and Congressional district. National committeewomen and state vice chairmen will also embark in their states.

Goodwill Club Conducts Meet

Mrs. Ivan Waring led the flag salute and Mrs. Emery Treat the prayer when members of the Goodwill Club met recently with Mrs. Waite Holmgren.

Group singing was led by Mrs. Otto Scherbinske and Mrs. Lynn Owens gave the thought for the day.

Birthdays and birth places were discussed and Mrs. Wilham Hamilton received a special gift. As secret pal anniversary gift was received by Mrs. Charles Mattice.

Mrs. Holmgren and Mrs. Waring were in charge of program games. Prize winners included Mrs. F. W. Nelson, Mrs. Owens, Mrs. George McGinnis, Mrs. Claude Severi, Mrs. Hamilton, Mrs. Mattice, Mrs. Harry Wilson and Mrs. Boyd Smith.

The next meeting is set for Oct. 9, with Mrs. Owens as hostess.

Court Returns $5 Million Suit For Trial

OLYMPIA, Wash. (AP) — A suit involving North Idaho silver mining properties and contentions of $5 million in damages was returned to Spokane County Superior Court for further action Thursday by the State Supreme Court.

In a 54 decision, the court overruled the lower court decision that it had no jurisdiction in the suit of Silver Surprise Inc. against the Sunshine Mining Co.

Spokane Superior Court Judge Raymond F. Kelly had ruled that the suit involved title to Idaho real estate and was outside his jurisdiction.

In the suit, Silver Surprise, an Idaho firm, sought damages from Sunshine, a Washington Corporation, contending Sunshine had taken more than $5 million in ore from property owned by Surprise but operated by Sunshine under a joint agreement and failed to pay the agreed share.

The main issue was whether the ore was actually taken from the Surprise claim or from other adjoining property controlled outright by Sunshine.

The supreme court said the title to Idaho real estate was only an incidental part of what came to a branch of construction suit and ordered further trial of the case by the lower court.

The court minority, on the other hand, said the contract was the side issue and the real issue was title to property in Idaho which should be decided in Idaho courts.

Compromise Food Stamp Bill Nears Vote After Fight Ends

WASHINGTON (AP) — A one-year extension of the farm program, shorn of a controversial payment-limitation, has cleared Congress, and a compromise food stamp bill is only one step away after a House fight over dropping a student-striker ban.

The doubleheader action in the House Wednesday drew some hot debate over the two provisions while other features of the bills were virtually ignored.

When it was all over the 18-month extension of the food stamp program was sent to the Senate on a 245 to 48 vote. A Republican-backed motion to send it back to a House-Senate conference to insist on the student-striker ban was rejected, 187 to 158.

The House, in its original version of the food stamp bill, had imposed the ban on college students and strikers not already eligible from getting the food stamps. But it was dropped by the Senate in conference with the way.

The farm bill compromise, previously passed by the Senate, squabbed by the House on a 17-vote margin, 189-172. It was sent to the President.

The House had passed a one-year farm bill with the $20,000 limitation that was not in either the four-year Senate bill or existing law.

The present program, started in 1965, has made possible payments of more than $3 billion a year for land retirement. It relates to production control of wheat, feed grains and cotton plus having wool provisions.

The food stamp program is designed to permit eligible families to exchange money they normally spend for food on an allotment of coupons which then are worth more.

It now is authorized through this fiscal year.

But the compromise package would increase the current monetary ceiling from $225 million to $315 million, boost this to $34 million in the next year and set it at $170 million the first six months of the following period. The amounts are subject to Congressional appropriations.

Handwriting Kelsey Gives Winning Talk At Burley

ROSWELL, N.M. (AP) — An electronic machine that reads computer cards has told Gov. David Cargo what he says he knew all along. Cargo was visiting the Eastern New Mexico State Fair Wednesday and was persuaded to have his handwriting analyzed at one of the display booths.

He wrote his signature on the computer card, and the machine gave this analysis: "You derive a lot of pleasure from discussion of the issues of the day. You are well qualified to direct people in the field of learning. You believe in the powers of persuasion but never abuse it."

Agnew Is Asked To 'View' Parade
NEW YORK (AP) — GOP vice presidential candidate Spiro T. Agnew, who was criticized for using the word "Polack" in a speech, has been invited to review the annual Pulaski Day Parade here Oct. 6.

Agnew, who apologized for using the term saying he didn't know it was derogative, was invited by Frank J. Wazeter, president of the parade in which about 100,000 Polish-Americans are expected to march.

The parade honors Casimir Pulaski, a hero of the American Revolution.

BURLEY — Ted Kelsey was guest speaker Tuesday evening during the Burley Toastmistress Club meeting in a conference room of Idaho Bank and Trust.

"A Symbol of Value" was the topic of Mr. Kelsey's speech, which placed first in Jerome during the Toastmistress Speech contest and third in Salt Lake City.

Mrs. Delta Jones gave the invocation and led the pledge to the flag. Mrs. Blaine Clayton was officially inducted into Burley Toastmistress Club by Mrs. T. Wayne Woodland. A notebook was presented to Mrs. Clayton from the club.

Table topic was directed by Mrs. Clarence Barkes using the general theme of the evening, "Canning Time." Mrs. Clayton was topic winner.

Toastmistress of the evening was Mrs. Freida Manning. Mrs. Eva Hatfield was lexicologist and Mrs. LePage Layton served as timer.

During the business meeting conducted by Mrs. Spencer Black, president, members were reminded of the Council Seven Toastmistress luncheon and meeting Oct. 19 in Twin Falls.

Guests attending were Mrs. Ruth Johnston, Mrs. Elmer Ross and Mr. Kelsey.

Hearing On Weight Rules Is Planned

BOISE — At the request of the Department of Law Enforcement the Idaho Board of Highway directors has proposed regulations governing certain overweight vehicles operating on the state highway system which includes a special permit to allow movement of overweight vehicles after a citation is issued.

Two cents per pound in excess of legal weight up to and including 2,000 pounds; $40 plus four cents per pound in excess of 2,000 pounds up to and including 3,000 pounds, and $30 plus six cents per pound in excess of 3,000 pounds up to and including 4,000 pounds.

Rules provide any reducible load in excess of 4,000 pounds over legal weight shall be reduced to legal weight before proceeding with the unloading to be made at a site which will not interfere with the operation of traffic moving on the highway.

Biafra Vows To Continue Rebellion
LAGOS, Nigeria (AP) — Encircled Biafra will fight on and its leaders will not allow a military government in exile, the Biafran leader, Lt. Col. C. Odu-megwu Ojukwu, said today.

Radio Biafra monitoring stations in Lagos despite jamming by the Nigerian government, said Ojukwu told a meeting of Biafran leaders and chiefs in Umuahia Monday after news that the war has become an end. It is just beginning.

Because the federal government's forces are fighting on Biafran soil, he said, "the initiative belongs to us."

He said his forces would step up guerrilla warfare against the federal army, which has retaken about nine-tenths of the 29,000 square miles Biafra claimed Eastern Nigeria independent on May 30, 1967.

Ojukwu said his troops would continue conventional warfare as long as possible.

The Biafran Radio claimed that Ojukwu's troops had re-entered Ikot Ekpene, since last June, which has been heavily fighting for the town, about 25 miles east of Aba, and it was reported seized by federal soldiers long after news of the war.

Federal military authorities made no comment on the claim.

House Endorses Rivers' Measure
WASHINGTON (AP) — The House has passed by voice vote a compromise bill establishing a National Wild and Scenic River system.

The bill now goes to the Senate.

It designates all or parts of eight rivers as the initial units. Included are the Clearwater, Middle Fork Clearwater, the Lachsa and Selway Rivers and the Salmon-Middle Fork in Idaho.

The bill also designated 27 rivers for study for potential addition to the system. Included are the Idaho rivers, Brunneau, Moyie, Fossil, and Snake, and Salmon from North Fork to Snake River.

Rivers placed in the system will be preserved in their free-flowing condition to protect water quality, scenery and recreation values.

On the rivers designated for study, the federal job of dam mission would be prohibited for five years from licensing any dam, water conduit, powerhouse or transmission line.

Recently reports were released that the bined dams supplied in New York, Chicago and Massachusetts were dangerously low. Some officials believe it is the result of people being in recreation and will correct it self.

Idaho State Rides Its 2-Game Momentum Into Saturday Test With Idaho

POCATELLO (AP) — Idaho State University matches its momentum against the size and experience of the University of Idaho Saturday afternoon in the 11th annual civil war of football.

The teams collide at 2 p.m. in a Big Sky Conference tussle and a sellout crowd of more than 7,000 fans is expected.

The Bengals, under new Coach Ed Cavanaugh, have posted impressive victories over Portland State and Fresno State, and for the first time will be taking an undefeated record against the Vandals.

World Series Title Hinges On Gibson-McLain Pitching Duel

NEW YORK (AP) — More than anything else, the outcome of the 1968 World Series is likely to depend on the confrontation between ace pitcher Bob Gibson of St. Louis and Denny McLain of Detroit.

McLain has also more complete games, 28 to 26, and strikeouts, 276 to 267. Gibson leads in shutouts, 12 to 6, and earned run average, 1.16 to 1.57.

Wilson, a 22-game winner in 1967, has a 2.87 ERA, 10 complete games in 32 starts, 51 bases on balls and 157 strikeouts.

Statistically, through Monday's games, the Cards' staff has the edge over the Tigers' St. Louis pitchers have compiled an over-all 2.44 earned run average with 61 complete games and 29 shutouts.

The Cards' advantage is more pronounced in the bullpen than among the starters. Lefty Joe Hoerner, 8-2, and right-hander Ron Willis, 2-3, give St. Louis a string tandem.

Except for Don McMahon, 3-1, and John Wyatt, 2-4, the Tigers' bullpen lacks experience. Pat Gibson, 5-6, and Fred Lasher, 5-1, are in their second year.

McMahon, John Hiller, 9-6, and Joe Sparma, 10-10, will probably do most of the relieving. Sparma, who started in 30 of the 33 games in which he's appeared, is likely to be the long reliever.

The starting pitcher matchups figure to go this way: First Game—McLain, 31-6, against Gibson, 21-9.

Second Game—Mickey Lolich, Detroit, 16-9, against Nelson Briles, St. Louis, 18-11.

SAN DIEGO (AP)—Each year Don Coryell goes out and recruits half a football team. He's meshed these new faces into national small college football champions the past two years and is in hot pursuit of a third title in 1968.

Coryell's San Diego State Aztecs are ranked 1 in the Associated Press poll of the first season, getting 12 of 18 first-place votes from sports writers and broadcasters.

The Aztecs, 2-0 this season, have 258 points, a healthy lead over second-place Eastern Kentucky's 144.

McNally Wins 22nd, Orioles Down Indians

BALTIMORE (AP)—Dave McNally won his 22nd game of the season Thursday night, pitching the Baltimore Orioles to a 7-1 decision over the Cleveland Indians.

McMahon, John Hiller, 9-6, and Joe Sparma, 10-10, will probably do most of the relieving. Sparma, who started in 30 of the 33 games in which he's appeared, is likely to be the long reliever.

Mathis Stops Woody And Chuvalo Decks Ramos In Fight Twin Bill

NEW YORK (AP)—George Chuvalo, the 31-year-old Canadian heavyweight champ from Toronto, stopped Manuel Ramos, the Mexican titleholder, in a 10-round fight Thursday night at Madison Square Garden.

Chuvalo, a veteran of 67 fights, hopped around the ring and burst into a roar of cheering his upset victory over the favored Mexican. Chuvalo weighed 208½, Ramos 206 pounds.

Neither fighter had done much damage in the early rounds and there was a lull in the action. Suddenly, in the sixth round, Mathis landed a solid right hand in an exchange and there was a mouse under Woody's right eye.

Mathis, who had a fight with Joe Frazier in March, was ahead on two of the three official cards until the sudden ending.

Darrell Manning: Portrait Of A Politician On The Go

THE FALL ELECTION is nearing, and Darrell Manning is working hard for election as Congressman from Idaho's Second District. He was in Twin Falls for an interview Thursday. He is a Democrat from Pocatello and has served the last eight years in the Idaho Legislature.

Darrell V. Manning is a young Pocatello businessman who got interested in politics at an early age. Now, at 36, he is on the eve of a Congressional campaign and putting his skills and popularity against two other men.

Mr. Manning believes the problems in Idaho are common only to Idaho, and solving those problems requires the services of a man who is familiar with the state and what is needed in the Second Congressional District.

He has been in the Idaho legislature for the past eight years.

"I push hard on farm problems because Idaho is a farm state. We depend 100 per cent on agriculture. The sooner we recognize this, the sooner we will move forward."

Mr. Manning said, in a recent interview, that the state should be "allowed to take care of its problems, and work with the government only in those areas where cooperation is needed."

Sounding something like a conservative, Mr. Manning was asked: "In what ways do you differ in opinion from your two opponents?"

His opponents in this election are Republican Orval Hansen and American Independent Party candidate Joel Anderson.

"I think there is quite a difference, and this difference will become very apparent as the campaign swings into full gear in a week or two." Speaking like a politician, Mr. Manning said, "After all, my opponents are Republican or conservative in their approach and they look at things a little differently, and sometimes less effectively."

Mr. Manning is a businessman, and a pilot. He is a Major in the Air Force Reserve and at the present time is getting in nearly as much flying time as a professional pilot. "I take planes to Vietnam," he said calmly.

About once a month, he and other Air Force Reserve pilots fly out of Ogden, Utah, to Vietnam carrying needed war materials.

"As a result, I'm familiar with some of the problems in Vietnam. I know now there are not easy solutions to that war. There is no one approach, or no one answer that will solve the situation over there."

He said he plans a major announcement on his Vietnam position in the next two weeks.

He said he feels he is politically somewhere between his two opponents, and also feels he and Idaho Sen. Frank Church are very close, as friends and men interested in Idaho.

He said his campaign is going well, but there is always a need for more money. "I'm trying to run a clean race, as they always done. The issues are important."

He said he feels George Wallace will do well in Idaho, but most of the vote for the former Alabama Governor will be a protest vote.

If elected, he plans to seek a seat on agriculture and atomic power committees, will work on Idaho water preservation and use, and will "work for the Idaho farmer."

Mrs. Lee Berry, chairman of the Headquarters committee, said this year's headquarters will be in the room just south of the First Security Bank on Main Street. It will be open each day from 1 to 2 p.m. and free home made cookies and coffee will be served.

Returns will be televised election night.

Days on which the candidates seeking state and national offices will be at the headquarters will be announced later, reports Mrs. Betty McDonald, president.

The Oct. 22 meeting will be held in the Headquarters room.

TOSSING THE DICE aboard the S.S. Rotterdam, film actor Audio Murphy takes part in a 48-mile cruise around New York Harbor for the benefit of the American Cancer Society. With the actor is Mrs. George Barrie, wife of the president of a cosmetics firm. Audio reportedly did quite well at the gaming tables while on the cruise. (AP wirephoto)

Car Dealer Back After Air Trip

Henry L. (Hank) Wills is still up in the air.

He is now back in Twin Falls trying to get his feet on the ground after participating in what had to be the most unique new car dealer session ever staged in the country.

Mr. Wills, an official of Wills Motor Co. participated with more than 2,100 other dealers in the event that saw all of them—transported in 19 chartered jet transports—travel from their home towns to Los Angeles for the special meeting and then home the same day.

Upon arrival at Los Angeles the dealers were again airlifted and during a special 45 minute flight with all of them in the air at once in the 19 planes, they watched a new 45-minute film on American Motor's Astrocolor.

It was the first auto sales meeting in the sky and some of the dealers made a 6,000 mile round trip to attend.

Mr. Wills, who is a licensed pilot and flies his company's plane, commented:

"I still feel up in the air. It was really something—all those dealers, and me, too, up in the air at once."

Snakes Ousted

PRINEVILLE, Ore. (AP) — The Prineville police escorted three young men and their rattlesnakes from town today.

A few minutes earlier the City Council enacted an ordinance that prohibited keeping snakes in the city.

Del-Ray Hill, Ted Hill and Larry Volk had kept 25-30 rattlesnakes in an open barrel in a garage. Police Chief Mike Thompson said there were several baby snakes kept in the house where the men lived.

The men said they were waiting for the snakes to shed their skins so they could be used for handbags.

"They said the council it was their hobby."

Neighbors complained the snakes might get loose.

Demo Office In Hailey To Open Oct. 21

HAILEY—Plans for opening of Democratic Headquarters Oct. 21 were made at the Blaine County Democratic Women's Club meeting Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. Halger Albrechtsen. Mrs. Charles Decker was co-hostess.

Mrs. Lee Berry, chairman of the Headquarters committee, said this year's headquarters will be in the room just south of the First Security Bank on Main Street. It will be open each day from 1 to 2 p.m. and free home made cookies and coffee will be served.

Returns will be televised election night.

Days on which the candidates seeking state and national offices will be at the headquarters will be announced later, reports Mrs. Betty McDonald, president.

The Oct. 22 meeting will be held in the Headquarters room.

Depth Given For Magic Reservoir

SHOSHONE — Magic Reservoir contains 43,400 acre feet of water compared to 97,000 acre feet a year ago at this time, reports Leona Grive, manager of Big Wood Canal Co.

Two years ago the reservoir contained 20,000 acre feet.

Since there is more water than expected, and more water users can use later water to a good advantage, the local committee of Big Wood Directors were in favor of delivering Magic water through Oct. 5. The gates will be closed Saturday afternoon, Oct. 5.

American Falls reservoir contains 701,000 acre feet of water compared to 570,000 acre feet a year ago and 43,800 acre feet in 1966.

American Falls water will be delivered through Oct. 10. There will be stock water in the Miller-Goulding system north of Big Wood River as long as it is not detrimental to the concrete flume north of Shoshone.

Data Gathered

WENDELL — Harold Brown, chairman of the agricultural committee, Rural Area Development, which is a segment of the Gooding County Planning Commission, will meet this week to gather statistical material to be compiled and written in narrative form.

Clyde Peterson, chairman, urges all committees to complete all unfinished work in order that the second phase may be completed this fall.

British 'Minis' Face Tax Bite

LONDON (AP) — The women who've been saving money by showing skin are going to have to shell out after Nov. 1.

On that date the tax man starts collecting Britain's 12 per cent sales tax on miniskirts, measuring 20 inches, and more from the hem to the top of the waistband.

Wearers of the minis now escape the tax because any skirt shorter than 24 inches is classed as a child's skirt. No sales tax is charged on children's clothes.

Director Of Research Center Returns From 10-Month Special Assignment

KIMBERLY — A. R. Robinson, director of the Snake River Conservation Research Center, has returned from a 10-month assignment at the University of Minnesota's St. Anthony Falls Hydraulic Laboratory.

At the university, Mr. Robinson worked with University personnel and the Agriculture Research Service doing a special research project on the mechanics of erosion and scour from irrigation and flow control structures.

Erosion and scour control from the action of falling water is always a problem, particularly in irrigated areas. A tremendous amount of time and money is spent trying to dissipate the energy in flowing streams.

The problem is generally working with nature in trying to make the flow work constructively rather than destructively, by designing better control structures to take advantage of site and soil conditions.

Many times structures are used which are not designed properly and wash out, resulting in an even worse situation, than originally existed.

The St. Anthony Falls Laboratory has been a leader over the years developing structures for water and erosion control. Most small reservoirs now being constructed utilize spillways and stilling basins which were developed at the St. Anthony Falls Hydraulic Laboratory.

CHECKING an automatic check gate at the Snake River Construction Research Center's hydraulics laboratory is A. R. Robinson, director of the center who has just returned from a 10-month assignment in Minnesota. Mr. Robinson was at the University of Minnesota's St. Anthony Falls Hydraulics Laboratory doing a special research project on the mechanics of erosion and scour from irrigation and flow control structures.

Mr. Robinson worked with the group in Minnesota in staffing a large scale study and in setting up laboratory equipment to make models of erosion control structures.

During the period, several phases of study were completed in the laboratory and the staff of the laboratory are continuing the study along the same principles that Mr. Robinson initiated.

Electronic instrumentation was available and set up for measuring the movement of soil on erosion studies.

One item was an automated electronic probe used for measuring the movement of soil on stream, size of resulting scour hole and other factors important in a study of this nature.

All of the data was recorded automatically on tape with analysis being made by computer from the information recorded on tape.

The study has direct application to the Snake River Conservation Research Center's re-

EAR OF CORN is being examined by Ed Koester, Gooding County Agent. Mr. Koester said this ear looked very good and the field should have a good yield. Gooding County farmers soon will be harvesting their corn crops.

Along Fences And Canals

Farmers throughout the valley were busy this past week harvesting commercial and contract beans. Although most of the bean crop in the area has been cut, there are some late fields which have not yet been cut. Other farmers are busy preparing ground for winter wheat while others are cutting alfalfa.

Wilbur Henke of Twin Falls has recently begun working for Mr. and Mrs. Bob Robinson of Tuttle with the ranch work and lives in the tenant house.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Lisle and sons, Jack and Webb, branded and vaccinated and cut off heifer calves at their ranch in King Hill Sunday. They were assisted by James Stokesberry and Mattie Meadows, King Hill; Charlie Hilton, Boise, and Stan Bartlette, Ellier.

Karl Carnahan is cutting corn at the Lee Trill Ranch, south of King Hill. The corn is being hauled to a pit for silage and will be used for winter feeding of stock. Other farmers in the area are also cutting corn.

Walter Schumacher is also cutting corn at the Pitch Fork Ranch, north of King Hill, owned by Mrs. Mary Knox. Approximately 107 acres are being harvested.

Mrs. Knox is having her weaner heifers hauled from the Dry Ranch, south of Hill City, to the Pitch Fork Ranch north of King Hill where they will be fed during the winter. Mrs. Kathleen Janie and Ann, spent the weekend at the Dry Ranch where they participated in the cattle drive gathering cattle to be moved to the King Hill Ranch.

Mrs. Mary Knox purchased the J. W. Robinson ranch one and one-half miles west of King Hill on the Snake River and has named it the River Ranch. Mr. and Mrs. Larry Jarvek are living in the house. Mr. Jarvek is employed at the King Hill Port of Entry and Mrs. Jarvek works at the Glenna Ferry Bank. Mr. and Mrs. Robinson and family moved to Hawthorne, Nev.

The famous race-horse, Truly Night, died according to Mr. and Mrs. Clay Burnum, North Shoshone, who received word from relatives in California. The horse was injured from a fall at a race in California, having earlier set a near world record and won a purse of $111,300. Mr. and Mrs. Burnum were in California for the Los Alamitos Derby in which the horse won. The horse's time was 1:55 for the quarter of a mile.

The first frost of the season came to Richfield Monday night with a low of 29 degrees. The low temperature Sunday night was 31. Not much damage was reported and harvest has been progressing rapidly.

Elba well driller Arlo Lloyd is now drilling a stock well for Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Darrington of Almo.

Members of the Elba Cattlemen's Association are gathering cattle in the hills west of Elba this week. The cattle have been on various forest pastures during the summer and will now be put in the beef pastures, which are the lower pastures where they will remain until they are moved off the range later and taken to the various ranches in the area.

Mr. and Mrs. Gerard Luttmer have purchased 130 acres near Tuttle from Mr. and Mrs. Forest Weaver of Wendell. Mr. and Mrs. Luttmer and children have been living at the ranch and have leased it for several years.

Glenn Berryman trucked his steers from his ranch west of Elba to his farm south of Burley this week. The steers have been on pasture on the ranch this summer and now will be put in his feed lots. Ella Parish of Elba assisted Berryman.

Production Down — This is 28 per cent less than the 1967 production, but 15 per cent more than average, the Department of Agriculture said. Both acreage and production were less than last year in the major producing states of Washington, Oregon, Idaho and California.

Top Angus Featured At State Fair

A high quality showing of Angus breeding cattle was a feature of the 1968 Eastern Idaho State Fair in Blackfoot. Judge of the black, hornless beef breeders was Herschel Boydston, Collier of Southern Idaho, Twin Falls.

The champion bull, Burger of FV 2, was an entry of Fairview Ranch, Big Timber, Mont. They also showed the first prize get-of-sire and won with entries sired by Burger of Lakewood 19.

Nonpareil Angus Ranch, Blackfoot, won the heifer championship with Black Watch Blackcap 6C64 and they won the reserve championship of the bull classes with their Black Watch Elevate. Calves sired by Black Watch Nonpareil won the junior get-of-sire class.

The reserve champion heifer, JRS Pride 22 of 66, was exhibited by Stevenson Angus Ranch, Hobson, Mont.

Milk Production For August Down

Milk production during August was estimated at 9,567 million pounds by the Crop Reporting Board. This was one per cent less than a year ago and five per cent under the 1962-66 August average.

Total milk production during the first eight months of 1968 was 18 per cent down from last year.

Milk output per cow was at an average 738 pounds during August. This was two per cent over last year and 13 per cent above average. Daily output per cow during August was 23.7 pounds.

4-H Week To Be Observed

SHOSHONE — Lincoln County 4-Hers will observe National 4-H Week, Oct. 6-12 through displays and exhibits, reports Mary Lou Ruby, extension home economics agent.

Johnny Urrutia and Dusty and Mark Dixon are in charge of displays.

Four 4-H members will present talks to Rotary Wednesday, Oct. 9. They are David Ross, Dusty Dixon, Genaine Kistling and Tom Dallas.

Idaho Pride meeting held in Boise Oct. 10-11 will be attended by Gary Freeman, delegate; Katie Hansen, delegate; Genaine Kistling, David and Arnold Ross, Val and Johnny Urrutia.

Some will be asked by their ministers to assist with church services during the 4-H week.

The county agents are proud of the Lincoln County 4-H members who are "learning by doing."

The youth and county agents would like to thank the 19 4-H leaders in the county who give of their time and energy to guide, counsel and get to know boys and girls in the 4-H program.

Extra Loans Are Planned For Farmers

By DON KENDALL
AP Farm Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — About $50 million in extra loans will be made available to farm borrowers by spring planting under a bill passed Friday by the Senate, says the Farm Credit Administration.

The measure, which now goes to the House, would let the FCA system pay off capital held by the government and run its loan programs without federal budget control.

About $148 million of federal capital is tied up in FCA's $2-billion enterprise. For this reason, the government has finally said on how much the credit system can lend farmers.

The bill would allow FCA to restore on its own about $50 million cut from the agency's lending budget this fiscal year.

A similar bill has been approved by the House Agriculture Committee, but Chairman W. K. Poage, D-Tex., said Friday he wasn't certain whether the measure could be cleared for House action this session of Congress.

Poage said he plans to have his committee act on the Senate-passed bill next week and then urge the Rules Committee to clear it for House action.

"I think we can pass it if we can get it before the House," Poage said. "I can't conceive that the House would turn it down."

The FCA oversees three basic components: Federal Land Banks, which make long-term loans to farmers, mostly for land; Intermediate Credit Banks, which serve production credit associations to make short-term loans for farm operating expenses; and the Cooperative Bank system which helps finance farm co-ops.

Virtually all the money loaned by the various institutions headed by FCA comes from sale of bonds and debentures to private investors.

WHEAT GRASSES on U. S. Forest Service range that was blackened in 1964 by the Magic fire have now reached a point livestock here Herd manager, Twin Falls County commissioner, left, and Forest Ranger George Fry, inspect the Tuberculent and Intermediate Weights that were planted in the fall of 1964 on the Forest Service portion of the 70,000-acre burn. The grass on the BLM land and private land also is very good.

Social Security Question Box

By DON KENDALL
AP Farm Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — If you have any questions about your social security, address them to Jim Davis, box 1238, Twin Falls, Idaho 83301.

Q. My husband is 57 years old and has had diabetes for the last 16 years. He has only been able to do limited work due to two operations in the past three years and poor circulation in his legs and feet. He is unable to hold a steady job. We would like to know if there is any kind of social security benefits available only for us. It would not be possible for us to give you a yes or no answer at this point. We would suggest that your husband come in and see the social security representative when he is in your area or visit the Twin Falls office and file a claim for disability benefits. A determination can then be made on whether you qualify for disability benefits. Please bring your birth or baptismal certificate and your last income tax return when you come in to see us.

Q. I will have earned about $6,000 when I retire on November 1st of this year. Does this mean that I will not be able to receive any benefits until next year?

A. Not necessarily. Although you will have earned much more than the annual limit of $10,000, you could still get benefits in November and December if you do not earn more than $140 wages in either of those two months or work more than 45 hours per month in a business of your own.

Q. I will be 62 in November. How long before then or when should I sign up for my social security?

A. We advise a person to sign up three months ahead of time to allow time for obtaining necessary proofs and time for processing the claim so that your check will start arriving soon after you retire. The second part of your question apparently asks whether it would be better to wait until you are 65 years old to sign up. This is a matter of individual preference. A person receives 80 per cent, at age 62, of the amount he would receive at age 65. His benefit does not increase until the amount at age 65 after he has been receiving benefits for three years. It remains 80 per cent of the amount he would have received if he had waited until age 65 to start receiving his benefits.

Q. I'm 68 years old and already signed up for Medicare. Can an employer put me on a part time basis. This will cut my earnings to $3000 per year. Can I get anything now from social security?

A. With the increase in social security benefits and the liberalization of the amount a person

CATTLE FEEDING EXPANDING TO STATES WITH FEED GRAINS

By DON KENDALL
AP Farm Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The areas which produce the most livestock feed grains traditionally turn out the most fat cattle for the nation's slaughter market.

This has been true about the corn belt of the upper Midwest. But the feed grain production has been expanded far beyond the Iowa-Illinois heartland, and livestock feed now is important to many areas that a few years ago had to ship stock hundreds of miles to be fattened.

A recent study by the Agriculture Department shows nearly all of the nation's fat cattle come from the same 39 states that produce most of the feed grains.

Last year these states marketed about 22 million fat cattle, twice as many as in 1955, the department said.

Iowa, Missouri, Illinois, Wisconsin and Minnesota marketed 7.1 million; Nebraska and Kansas 4.4 million; Texas, New Mexico, Oklahoma and Colorado 3.6 million; California, Arizona and Nevada 2.8 million; Washington, Oregon, Wyoming, Montana, Idaho and Utah 1.4 million; Indiana, Ohio, Michigan, Pennsylvania 1.3 million; North Dakota and South Dakota 757,000 million; and the 11 Southeastern states plus Maryland and New York 75,000.

These states were grouped according to similar livestock economies, the department said.

John T. Larsen, of the department's economic research service said the production of sorghum can earn and still receive benefits. It is very possible you would get some benefits for the year. For example, if you are entitled to $140 per month in benefits and earned $3000, you could get as much as $960 in social security benefits for the year.

HATCHINGS DOWN

The Idaho Crop and Livestock Reporting Service reports an estimated 807,000 chicks were hatched in Idaho's commercial hatcheries during August, about four per cent above the hatching a year ago.

Iowa remains as the leading fat-cattle state, producing most 20 per cent of the total in the nation.

Results Of T.F. County ASC Election Are Listed

Results of the 1968 election of ASC community committees for the Twin Falls County communities are announced by Carl Boyd, chairman of the Twin Falls County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee.

The elections were held by mail, since ballots were tabulated publicly by the incumbent ASC county committees.

Farmers elected to the committees are:

Buhl — Barton E. Sonher, chairman; Richard Atkins, vice chairman; Chester Noh, regular member; Bill Watt, first alternate; Gordon Bennett, second alternate.

Filer — R. W. Pierce, chairman; Glen Leonard, vice chairman; Jay H. Cobb, regular member; Victor E. Mai, first alternate; and Everett Andrews, second alternate.

Jake Prudek — Jake Prudek, chairman; Calvin Graybeal, vice chairman; Jim Wheeler, regular member; John Ennsuna, first alternate; and Marvin Cox, second alternate.

Twin Falls — Terry L. Sullivan, chairman; Kenneth H. Oliver, regular member; E. R. O'Harrow, first alternate; and Dick Stafford, second alternate.

Murrough — Mike J. Stastny, chairman; Wayne Hogue, vice chairman; Jake Schlund, regular member; Richard Quesnell, first alternate; and Richard A. Carrier, second alternate.

Salmon Tract — Oran Jones, chairman; Glenn Nelson, vice chairman; Lester E. Wittenberger, regular member; Lee Bitzenburg, first alternate; and Ellis Fuller, second alternate.

ASC county and community farm committees are in charge of local administration of such national programs as the Agricultural Conservation Program, the Cropland Adjustment Program, the voluntary wheat program, the National Wool program, the Sugar Program, commodity loan, and storage facility loans. Each year, local farmers earn thousands of dollars through participation in these farm-action programs.

Spud Contract Discussed At Burley Meet

BURLEY—The 1968 potato contracts was the topic of discussion during the meeting of the local Idaho Potato Growers Association recently at Dworth School. Gerald Conrad, president of the local association, conducted the meeting.

About 60 growers were in attendance who have contracts with Ore-Ida Foods, Inc. for this year's crop.

Representing Ore-Ida Foods, Inc. were Lloyd Robins, fieldman, and J. W. Connolly Jr., vice president of planning and distribution. Other specialists attending were Leo Golden, fresh fruit and vegetable chief inspector for Idaho; Bill Kelllogg, chief potato inspector for Idaho; and Bill Heiner, local potato inspector. The inspectors discussed and answered questions on inspection rules and regulation.

Clarence Parr, Burley, President of Idaho Potato Growers Association asked questions concerning the contract signed by the growers.

One of the contracts has a "free clause" which was discussed and explained by Mr. Kelllogg.

The potatoes are dipped in a caustic solution and let stand for 24 hours. The solution is then washed away so no sign of bruise after being in the solution shows the extent of a depth of bruise by a color change to a gray color in the bruised portion of the potato. Using a sliding scale of bruise free potatoes in the market will bring more money to the growers.

The handling and digging of potatoes was discussed. It was pointed out that the digging of potatoes on crisp cold mornings the potatoes bruise very easy. The speed of chalus on equipment and the distance of potatoes is the greater factor of how much bruise will be in the potatoes.

The trading of fresh potatoes is by samples. The samples are taken from trucks at point of delivery. On a seven-ton truck a dozen samples are taken as the truck is being unloaded. Mr. Robins reported the samples are carefully handled and taken to the inspection room.

Mr. Heiner told the group of growers that they were welcome at any time to view the process of inspection in action.

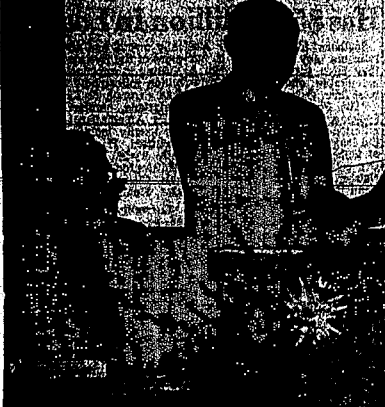

"Growers were urged to stop at the Ore-Ida Foods plant and see the various steps the potatoes go through from the time they enter the plant to being packed ready for shipment," Robins said.

"These meetings and discussions of the various contracts between grower and processor with a better understanding as to what the contracts call for could result in the future bring about better contracts more easily understood which would benefit both potato growers and processors," Mr. Parr stated.

Mr. Kelllogg stated, "this type of meeting is beneficial to the potato grower because it brings all together on a more compatible level and clears the air on lots of small items."

T. F. Holstein Dairyman Has "Trademark"

Mike Holloway, Twin Falls, will have the exclusive use of "MIWAY" as the prefix in naming all Registered Holsteins bred in the herd. The use of this herd identification name has been granted by Holstein-Friesian Association of America, Brattleboro, Vermont. It becomes one of more than 48,000 officially recorded prefixes in the Association's files.

Todd Tremblay New President Of Area Plant Food Association

Todd Tremblay, Magic Valley Growers, was named president of the South Central Idaho Plant Food Association during a recent meeting in Twin Falls.

Mr. Tremblay took the office after John Reitmeyer announced that he is resigning from that position because he is being transferred to Boise. Mr. Reitmeyer held the position of president of the group since January.

Featured speakers at the group's recent meeting was Dr. Dale E. Behmer, Salt Lake City, U. S. S. Chemicals, a division of United States Steel.

Dr. Behmer told the group that the addition of massive amounts of elemental sulfur, and its subsequent acidification, has been shown to increase the plant availability of phosphorus and potassium in greenhouse studies.

Demand For Hides Could Be Developed

BY DON KENDALL
AP Farm Writer

WASHINGTON (AP)—A city girl once described a hide as "something a cow comes in" but to the tanning industry it's a raw material for shoes, handbags, belts and other important accessories for the well-dressed consumer.

Stockmen have relatively little direct business with hides since cattle—the main source in the United States—are sold on the hoof to slaughtering plants. The value of the hide is computed in the sale, along with the steaks, roasts and hamburger.

But the Agriculture Department suggests that the U.S. hides industry—which converts hides to leather—could help develop demand for its product and thus add somewhat to stockmen's income.

The Second War In Vietnam

The United States is not waiting till war's end to help rebuild South Vietnam's agriculture.

Scores of American agricultural technicians, financed through the Agency for International Development (AID), are fighting the "other war"—The War On Hunger.

As a result, Vietnam agriculture has already seen dramatic results despite the ever present problems and set-backs caused by war. This spring, thousands of acres were planted to new rice varieties that can triple and quadruple yields of traditional varieties.

Carryover Of Soybean Stocks Rising

WASHINGTON (AP)—Carryover stock of soybeans and flax, rising rapidly, and were estimated at 106.6 million bushels as of Sept. 1, the Agriculture Department reported Tuesday.

This compares with a carryover of 80.1 million bushels a year earlier, 35.7 million on Sept. 1, 1966, and 29.7 million on Sept. 1, 1965.

The increase is due mostly to bigger crops. This year's estimate is a record 1.1 billion bushels.

EGGS STEADY

Idaho's August egg production totaled 17 million eggs, the same as both June and July production, but down one million from a year ago.

The Sept. 1 stocks indicated a use for the year of about 896 million bushels, including 876 million crushed, 267 million exported and 49 million for seed and feed, plus other uses not recorded.

Freeman To Study Meat Import Issue

BY DON KENDALL
AP Farm Writer

WASHINGTON (AP)—Agriculture Secretary Orville L. Freeman must decide by Sept. 30 whether meat imports during the last quarter of 1968 require tighter restrictions on further shipments.

Under law the secretary must report every three months to the president on estimates of meat imports for the coming quarter. An adjusted quota is set each year to allow a basic amount of foreign meat to come into the United States.

The adjusted quota for 1968 is 950.3 million pounds of actual product weight. The law allows up to 10 per cent more than the basic quota before a so-called "triggering action" occurs.

In this case, the trigger point is 1.045 billion pounds. If Freeman decides that imports subject to quotas the remainder of the year are likely to exceed this amount, the government will tighten the pipeline.

Freeman has been under pressure, particularly from cattlemen, so far this year.

Meat subject to quotas through July totaled 542.9 million pounds compared with 468.4 million in the first seven months of 1967.

Plant Nut Trees For Shade, Fruit

Not many people plant nut trees today, but they should, for compared with many other crops they are easy to grow. Likewise, they make ideal shade purpose trees. They are as attractive as any other tree, and in time, furnish the extra bonus of delicious nuts.

They require no more care than a maple or oak, they are long-lived, most are deep-rooting and thus little affected by the vagaries of the season and have few pests. What more can one ask?

While September is not the best time to plant them, it is an ideal time to make up your mind as to what type and where to plant. You can still see how such trees wear their shade in summer, yet let through the welcome warmth in winter.

Further, before fall is over you are almost sure to have firm trees prepare the soil for planting. Then, when spring arrives—the time to plant them—you will be ready to get the job done.

How To Plant Them

With your shovel make a hole three feet across and two two foot deep. Then fill it with a good top soil, into which has been mixed two buckets of peat or other humus and a half bucket or more of dried cow manure. Also, if your soil is poor at this season you can risk adding two pounds of a good vegetable fertilizer. It will be well distributed.

GRAHAM E. HOOPER is the new Gooding County agricultural agent. Mr. Hooper will be working with Ed Hooper, county agent, and will be responsible for the 4-H work in the county. He is a 1968 graduate of the University of California, Davis, where he received a B.S. degree in animal science.

Fairfield Girl Wins Trip To National 4-H Congress

FAIRFIELD — Sunnie Sweet, 16-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Sweet, Fairfield, is the first girl from Camas Prairie to win a trip to the 4-H National Club Congress in Chicago.

She is going to Chicago for her outstanding projects in Home Improvement. She has received the purple ribbon for four years at the 4-H District Fair at Jerome for her home improvement projects.

She is a junior at Camas County High School and is very active in school activities. She has been a varsity cheerleader for the last two years and is an honor student. She is a member of the band and drill team, an accomplished pianist and attends the Fairfield Community Church where she plays special numbers.

Sunnies Sweet has had seven years of 4-H club work. She has had four years in the Fat Beef club with Wesley Fields as leader, three years of sewing under the leadership of Mrs. Earl Wilson, one year of knifing club under the leadership of Mrs. Raymond Alton, Mrs. Willard Wilson and Mrs. William Sweet. She has been a member of the 4-H Builders Club for three years and has had two years of junior leadership.

She did blue ribbon work and won several trophies in these projects. She has painted and redecorated the bedrooms of her sister and her parents the last two years which included the antique of a complete bedroom set in her parents' room. She designed and decorated a den for her father in the basement of their new ranch home, southeast of Fairfield.

SUNNIE SWEET

Her project this year was the re-decorating of her own bedroom. She chose shades of green, turquoise and blue. In addition to painting the room she made accent pillows and a lamp. She antiqued a desk, corner table, shelves and shutters. She made inside shutters with inserts of material for the windows.

An outstanding feature of the room is a large vase covered with paper mache and painted a metallic turquoise. She created large paper flowers to go in the vase. She hopes to make a career of interior decorating. She is making plans to attend the University of Idaho when she completes her high school.

Bumper Crops Of Livestock Feed Grains Are Causing USDA Problems

By DON KENDALL
AP Farm Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Bumper crops of livestock feed grains are causing Agriculture Department officials concern about what to do about federal farm control programs next year.

The problem will be approached Oct. 7-8 at a meeting here of the National Advisory Committee on Grains. The meeting was announced Thursday by Agriculture Secretary Orville L. Freeman.

Record yields per acre are causing livestock feed supplies to build up this fall to the highest level in five years, department figures show.

Total production of the major feed grains this year was forecast Tuesday at 177.1 million tons, one per cent more than the record of last year. This year the department expects feed grain use to total about 163 million tons.

Thus, if the rate continues, the nation could add another 14 million tons to its rising carryover—estimated to be about 49 million tons on Aug. 1.

The feed grain buildup is led by a near-record crop of corn this year, estimated at 4.8 billion bushels, only two per cent below the high set in 1947.

Sorghum grain production this year also is forecast at a record, some 791 million bushels. Large crops of oats and barley are expected to add to the problem.

This production is expected despite tighter government controls in feed grains programs through which farmers may agree to limit acreages in return for price supports and payments for idled land.

Farmers signed up in the 1968 feed grain program and agreed to take 34.3 million acres of land from the production of these crops, including price support loans for grain produced and land diverted from production, the feed-grains program will cost about $1.3 billion this year, the department said.

In 1967 farmers agreed to take 20.3 million acres of feed grains land in return for a program costing $897 million.

Despite lightning controls it appears higher yields per acre are offsetting much of what the department hoped to achieve in trimming production.

Consequently, there are signs that Freeman's advisory group will consider much stiffer restrictions for the 1969 crops.

A hint of this came several days ago when the department announced that the 1969 feed grains program would require a farmer to divert at least 20 per cent of his base acreage from production, and possibly as much as 25 per cent.

The minimum requirement for some years has been 20 per cent diversion from production. E. A. Jaenke, associate administrator of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service, said in Des Moines, Iowa, Thursday that acreage of feed-grains production is not the prime factor to consider.

"The program is a voluntary means of adjusting total production to demand," he said. "As yields increase, the program can succeed only as acreage is decreased—unless, of course, demand increases."

But yields have increased markedly. The department estimates this year's average corn yield at 83 bushels an acre, compared with 78.2 last year and the 1962-68 average of 68.3 bushels.

Sorghum grain this year is estimated to yield 57.7 bushels an acre, compared with 60.7 bushels last year and the average of 47.4 bushels.

Farm Prices Are Hit By Candidates

RUPERT — "We must get farm prices up and hold farm costs down," declared Mrs. Mary Brooks, state senator from Legislative District 21, who is seeking re-election.

She cited government figures, noting "A-40 to 49 horsepower farm tractor cost $4,500 in 1964. Today the same tractor costs $8,000. Four years ago a farmer could buy such a tractor with 3,038 bushels of wheat, while today it takes 5,000 bushels.

"Caught between skyrocketing prices for everything they buy and declining prices for the commodities they sell, farmers are in the tightest squeeze since are in the tightest squeeze since which averaged 64.3 during the eight Eisenhower years, is down to an anemic 74.7," Mrs. Brooks added.

Hansen Explains Bill For Amending Meat Quota Act

WASHINGTON, D. C. — Rep. George Hansen, R-Iowa, said today "The sudden decision of New Zealand and Australia to halt all beef shipments to the United States for the remainder of 1968 in the face of an impending quota cut-off, clearly reveals the haphazard, unbusinesslike operation permitted by our present meat import laws which have adversely affected both domestic producers and exporting countries.

"This abrupt facing of facts on the part of the two major beef-exporting countries also means that the Congress must have introduced legislation amending the Meat Quota Act are correct in demanding changes that, not only, would benefit domestic cattlemen, but would give exporting countries only a reasonable share of the United States market—but on a 50-50 basis."

"Livestock is a quarter-of-a-billion dollar industry in Idaho, and it stands to suffer serious losses if legislation which I have co-sponsored is not adopted. This legislation would: (1) eliminate the 19 percent quota on beef; (2) adjust the base period to the years 1958-1962; (3) impose quarterly, rather than yearly, quotas; (4) include canned, cooked and cured meats in quotas, and (5) include off-shore purchases for the military in the quotas.

"The present law is a trigger point—a point at which imports are halted—which is 10 percent above the actual quota level. I feel it should be close to the quota level in order to close an obvious loophole inasmuch as importers can now bring in as much as 109.9 percent of the quota without triggering it. Lowering the trigger point would also provide an opportunity for better planning on the part of importers and the exporting countries.

"Adjustment of the base period from the years 1958-1962 to 1959-1963 would eliminate the very high import year of 1963 and establish a much more

New Beef Breed Tested In Canada

A dual-purpose beef breed known in Europe for fast gains and good milk production is being tested in Alberta, Canada, reports the Canada Department of Agriculture.

Simmental cattle, a big red and white spotted breed, will be tested at the Lacombe Station Experimental Farm to determine their value in crossbreeding operations.

Bulls will be mated with Shorthorn, Hereford and Angus cows. Offspring will be fedlot tested along with those of Charolais and British cows in an initial effort to appraise various beef breeds.

Glassinger Will Head Filer Grange

FILER — Ted Glassinger was re-elected master of the Filer Grange at the regular meeting in the Grange Hall.

Roscoe Walker was elected overseer; Mrs. Clifford Thomas, lecturer; Craig Dunlap, steward; Clinton Dougherty, assistant steward, and Loren Drake, chaplain.

Earl Johnson was chosen as treasurer; Mrs. Raymond Thomas, secretary; Will Lessels, gatekeeper; Mrs. Alfred Theener, Ceres; Mrs. Rex Lancaster, Mrs. and Mrs. Harley Williams, Flora.

Mrs. Clinton Dougherty, lady assistant steward; Clyde Vanantwerp, executive committee man; Mrs. Paul Nash, chairman of ladies' activities; Mrs. Ted Glassinger, youth chairman, and Harley Williams, business agent.

Mr. and Mrs. Walker were appointed delegates to the State Grange meeting in Caldwell.

Mr. Drake, agriculture chairman, spoke on agriculture and the harvest. A letter was read from the city council concerning garbage disposal and rules of burning.

Alfred Theener, Twin Falls County Fair chairman, reported the Filer Grange had received third place in artistic arrangement and third place in quality in Grange booths and third place in quality in the flower booth, and that over $300 was received for the Grange from this year's fair.

Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Bennett served refreshments. New officers will be installed at the Oct. 4 meeting.

Fees To Increase

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Agriculture Department announced today a proposed increase in license fees under the Fish and Wildlife Committee act from $42 to $50 a year.

The act establishes a code of conduct for 19,673 firms licensed to sell and distribute in the United States.

Mergers in the fruit and vegetable industry have caused most of the decline, the department said. Costs of administering the act are borne by the license fees.

"The livestock industry accounts for about two-fifths of all agricultural income in Idaho and is too important to be written off by the failure to enact legislation that is vital to its survival." The Committee on Ways and Means held general very high import year of 1963 and establish a much more

Beef Testing Station Under Construction In Nevada

"This is one of the most important steps taken, in my opinion, toward improving the quality and marketability of Nevada cattle in a long time," said William C. (Bill) Behrens, in discussing the beef testing station currently under construction on University of Nevada property. Behrens is the cooperative extension livestock specialist at the Max C. Fleischmann College of Agriculture at the University.

"The station is being built as part of the newly initiated State cattle improvement program," said Behrens. "and is located on University property at the S Bar S Ranch facility near Wadsworth. Major cost is to be borne by the commercial cattlemen and purchased breeders involved."

Behrens explained that last spring a number of Nevada cattlemen and commercial breeders got together to form the Nevada Beef Cattle Improvement Association, first of its kind in the State. The primary purpose of the group, he said, is to upgrade quality of cattle in the State and in so doing improve their marketability. In order to do this they inaugurated a beef performance testing program. Key aspect of this program will be the testing station.

"A number of sites were considered for the facility," Behrens pointed out, "but the University property was finally chosen due to the fact that the Cooperative Extension Service and the experiment station at the University will cooperate in certain phases of the program."

Also, drainage, soil, natural weather protection and other factors were favorable.

The principal functions of the testing station, according to Behrens, will be one, to test and evaluate post weaning heritable traits in bulls such as rate of gain and feed efficiency or ability to convert feed into energy and growth. In this way, bulls with these superior qualities

East Magic FFA District Contests Set

Tentative schedule for the East Magic FFA District contests is announced this week by district officials.

The first contest of the year will be the weeds and crops judging event, scheduled for 3 p.m. Nov. 7 at Raft River. Other contests include dairy products and coop contest, 2-30 p.m. Dec. 5 at Burley; farm mechanics at 3 p.m. Dec. 12 at Minico, and the meat identification, 7:30 p.m. Jan. 23 at Burley.

The state farmer preparation and district meeting has been set for 9 a.m. Jan. 11 at Minico, and the State Farmer Sifting Committee will meet at 9:30 p.m. Feb. 8 at Minico.

The East Magic FFA District's public speaking contest will be held at 7:30 p.m. Feb. 20 at Burley.

Behrens will serve as overall manager of the station, while Dr. Curtis Bailey, animal scientist at the University will handle record keeping and analysis. Earl Drake, DVM, cooperative extension veterinarian at the University will be in charge of animal health. Dwane Conn is the herdman.

"Full cooperation with the various breed associations will be part of the program," Behrens said, "with the resulting information going back to the producer to enable him to improve his herd. There was almost no way of getting this kind of information prior to the inauguration of the improvement program."

Gooding Man Master Of Area Grange

TUTTLE — Ira Kistler of Gooding was elected as master of the Gooding County Pomona Area Grange at a recent meeting at the West Point Grange Hall.

Those elected to serve with him are Kirby Hill, overseer; Mrs. Ray Ruby, lecturer; Elmer Hanson, steward; Chester King, assistant steward; Mrs. Bertha Sickle, chaplain; Vern Bumgarner, treasurer; Mrs. Agnes Byce, secretary; Stan Hoskeve, gatekeeper; Mrs. Harold Butler, Ceres; Mrs. Phares Schiffer, Pomona; Mrs. Raymond Wright, flora, and Mrs. Ewing, I. D. C. assistant steward. Mr. and Mrs. Hoskeve were elected as alternates to State Grange.

A resolution submitted by the Hagerman Valley Grange for a compulsory bond with a drivers license was accepted and winners in the needlework contests were announced by Mrs. Seiffner, director of women's activity.

A joint installation of the subordinate Grange officers and the Pomona officers was announced for Sept. 30 at the Gooding Grange Hall at 8:30 p.m. — Thomas Speedy, D. G. F. Filer, will be the installing officer.

Mr. Hill gave a report on the proposed forming of a bean commission for the area to promote better prices by controlling marketing.

The next regular meeting of the Gooding County Pomona Grange will be Oct. 28 at the Wendell Grange Hall.

13 at Murtaugh; poultry contest, 3 p.m. March 6, at minico; soils judging, 2:30 p.m. April 17, Burley; dairy cattle judging, 2 p.m. May 8, Declo, and the livestock judging event at 2 p.m. May 15 at Valley.

Here's capacity and speed to get your beets FAST—without sacrificing cleaning ability. You get maximum tonnages for better operating profit! Higher row speeds with a Hesston are possible as the big 20-inch litter wheels run shallow for light draft and cover the dirt to "pop out" the beets. Large tank beds and optional grab rolls match cleaning ability to lifting speed as you fill the tank to its 7,500 pound capacity.

Hesston's Beet Harvester is designed to shift more weight on the tractor drawbar as the tank fills, improving traction to keep you going...fast...even in the most adverse field conditions. Depth-frame topbars can be added to let you top and lift in one operation. Optional Hydraulic Row Finders pay their way by helping you get all the beets. Wheel-width adjustability lets you match row spacing and assures proper centering of the litter wheels. TOP ALL-AMERICAN ROSES now offered for fall planting are these four outstanding award winning roses. The top left rose is the Fascial, the whitest of white hybrid teas, the top right rose is the Gene Boerner, a pink floribunda winner. This rose was named for one of the world's great rose hybridizers, E. S. Boerner, Rochester, N. Y. The rose at bottom left is the Angel Face, the first lavender rose to win an AARS award. The Comanche, bottom right, is the only grandiflora rose to win a 1968 AARS award. This flower has large, high centered blooms of brilliant scarlet.

Award Winning Roses Now Offered For Fall Planting

Since they were announced in June the four 1968 All-America award winning roses have been displayed at public rose gardens all over this nation — in 136 of the largest and finest public parks in the country, to be exact.

Rose lovers throughout the United States haven't previewed these magnificent AARS winners. It is not the fault of All-America Rose Selections. As great expense plants by the thousands of the 1968 award winning varieties were sent to the long list of the AARS approved public gardens for planting early last spring. This was done in order that everyone interested could see them growing and be able to appreciate their quality and beauty long before they were offered for sale. You have to be pretty sure of your roses if you are going to put them on public display in this fashion and the owners of the All-America are very sure and confident of their beauty, brilliant coloration, refreshing fragrance and shapely growth are outstanding in all respects and most certainly will dominate the rose gardens of 1968.

Fascial, the whitest of white hybrid teas, produces a vigorous growing, erect, well shaped and well clothed plant, which is always a good start for any rose. The pristine flowers of this "Paschal" or Easter rose, are remarkably beautiful in form, regardless of the weather. The graceful urn shaped buds open to medium size blooms which hold their high, bud-like centers exceedingly well — even until the outer petals drop.

The flowers are usually made up of 35 to 40 petals and give forth just the slightest breath of fragrance.

Pascial, a hybrid of Louis Lens of Belgium, not only has won All-America honors, but in addition earned a gold medal at The Hague, a silver medal at Baden-Baden, First Certificates at Rome and Paris and Certificates of Merit at Geneva, Madrid, London and Vienna. Its parentage is Queen Elizabeth x White Butterfly and it holds U.S. plant patent No. 3572.

Grandiflora will provide bright accents in the garden, showy everblooming hedges, brilliant scarlet splashes of color in home foundation plantings against dark or light colored buildings and in rose garden beds, its fiery beauty will attract attention from afar.

Angel Face (plant patent applied for). New, unique, unusual and totally lovely — the first lavender rose ever to win an All-America award. Ruby buds with just a hint of lavender slowly unfurl their petals until, when about one-third open, they take the form of a lovely lavender chalice.

The flowers open to fully double, truly lavender roses of perfect form with petal edges curved, wavy, ruffled and touched by a suffusion of royal ruby. The blooms of Angel Face are large, four inches or more in diameter, and come in clusters on medium length stems, lasting for several days. As a finishing touch that spells perfection, the flowers are blessed with a rich old-fashioned perfume that will fill a room with true rose fragrance.

The long-lasting, clear lavender flowers are an arranger's opportunity to create striking compositions in a totally new rose color. At the New York an-

WINTERING GERANIUMS. This is the time of year home gardeners wonder what to do with their geraniums. Some feel it does not pay to keep them in plants over, but the majority of them know it saves them money.

Here are a few tricks we pass along to handle the geranium problem. (1) Start new plants. Take "cuttings" from the mother plant. These can be 2 to 4 inches long, and from non-diseased plants. Cut can be made anywhere on the slip.

Take off all leaves from lower half (they'll rot) and insert them into your favorite rooting materials. Clean sharp sand, vermiculite, or perlite, or just plain tap water are used for rooting. Some root them in a pot of sand, peat and loam mixture. The secret is to keep the soil wet but not soggy, until rooted.

A 6 to 8 inch clay florist pot makes a good "greenhouse" for rooting cuttings. Grow the plants in a light place, but out of direct sunlight. Some root them in a pot of sand, peat and loam mixture. The secret is to keep the soil wet but not soggy, until rooted.

After rooting, pot the cuttings up in three or four-inch clay pots, using a one-third mix of sand, peat and loam. You can add some perlite to loosen the mixture. Grow the plants in a bright window, and keep the soil moisture constant. If the cuttings get a bit tall, pinch the tip back to get a bushy plant. You can start your other garden favorites this way, and these include coleus, fuchsia, begonia, ageratum, dusty miller, bloodred, vinca, patience, Sultana and dozens of others. Most plants started from cuttings will be a better size for the home and will adjust to house conditions more readily than if you brought the entire mother plant in.

NEXT WEEK: More tricks for keeping your geraniums over winter.

BRINGING OUTDOORS INDOORS: Now's a good time to make your terrarium so you can have a "breath of outdoor air" in the winter. All four of the All-America award winners, Angel Face, Comanche, Gene Boerner and Fascial will be listed in our order rose catalogs this fall and, in the more temperate areas of the country, plants will be on sale at garden centers and nursery sales yards. Fall rose planting has proved highly successful in many areas and gives the plants a very real head start over roses planted in the spring.

hang on the tree too long. Pears should be picked green and ripened off the tree.

Here's how to tell when to pick: when the stem of the pear separates from the spur cleanly, but not necessarily very easily. It's time to pick. Another method is to watch when any wormy fruit begins to turn yellow. Such injured fruits ripen first and if the sound fruit is picked at that time, it should ripen properly.

Pears ripen best at a temperature of 65. Keep yours covered with paper and store in a garage or porch to help them ripen satisfactorily. Clappa favors it in prime eating condition for only a short period, so eat them when there's still a slight green tinge to the skin, rather than waiting until they turn yellow.

S. D. of Twin Falls: "Please tell me why all of the small apples on my tree have fallen off. It's a large tree 15 years old. When buds came out I sprayed it with spray. Tree is healthy and no signs of insects."

Your problem is due to lack of cross pollination. It could be that your tree was dependent previously on a neighbor's tree, but perhaps the pollinator had been cut down. Since you've sprayed it's doubtful if any disease or insect pest would have been so severe as to knock all the fruit off, as happened to your tree.

Your tree formed small apples, even though it lacked pollination, but these aborted because there was no other variety available for cross-pollination. Next year you can cut out bouquets from a neighbor's tree and put them in jugs of water, then hang them in your tree. Bees will do the rest.

F. G. of Buhl: "We have some beautiful petunia plants outdoors. Can they be brought indoors and grown as house plants?"

"Some folks have good luck growing petunias indoors, although most of the plants I've seen tend to become a bit leggy. If you have a bright window no reason why you cannot grow them with lots of flowers. One reader sent me a picture of a double petunia trained to grow up a window. Another trick is to try to take cuttings from your double petunias (or single ones) and root them in water. Plants started from cuttings will produce same colors and a more kinds of flowers (single and double) as the parent plant.

A. F. of Hatley: "I'm writing for my mother who is about to put in a new lawn. The new soil is full of red root of Fox Tail. How should she kill it before planting grass seed?"

Don't bother. This is an annual pest. The lawn mowers will take good care of this and other weeds, since they cannot stand the competition from it. A lawn mower is a good weed killer in many instances since it staves out many upright plants, such as foxtail.

Most new lawns have a crop of weeds coming up among the grass, but this is nothing to worry about since mowing will remove them. A few weeds can be beneficial by shading the tender grass seedlings.

August Chick Hatchings Are Outlined

WASHINGTON (AP) — The nation's hatcheries produced about 269 million chicks during August, about one million more than a year earlier, reports the agriculture department.

Broiler-type chicks totaled 234 million, one per cent more than in August last year. This brings the broiler hatch during the first eight months of 1968 to 1,937,000,000, compared with 1,925,000,000 last year, the department said.

Egg-laying-type chicks hatched during the month were estimated at 35 million, about the same as a year earlier.

Production of poults during the month was estimated at 2,547,000, down 22 per cent from a year earlier. Young turkeys hatched during the first eight months totaled about 165,012,000, down 18 per cent from 1967, the department said.

Record Seen

WASHINGTON (AP) — This year's production of vegetables for processing appears to be headed for a record, says the Agriculture Department. Total output is forecast at about 20 per cent more than last year. Very large crops of corn and tomatoes are accounting for most of the increase, the department said.
