Curtis LeMay Joins Wallace

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Retired Air Force Chief of Staff Curtis E. LeMay, a famous flying general in World War II, became George C. Wallace's vice-presidential candidate today and called for a harder line in Vietnam.

The main flaw in American policy in Southeast Asia, LeMay told a news conference, "is the lack of a will to win."

"I'd rather talk than fight any day," said LeMay, who was shot at plenty as he led bomber raids on Germany in World War II. "But I don't think you have to be very smart to realize that they (the North Vietnamese) are not going to talk until we twist their arm a little bit."

Later, when asked if he recommended nuclear weapons to achieve field victory in Vietnam, LeMay, who becomes Wallace's running mate on the American Independent Party ticket, answered:

"To me any war is horrible. It doesn't make much difference if I get killed in Vietnam by nuclear weapons. In fact, if I had my choice, I'd rather get killed by nuclear weapons."

"A nuclear weapon is just another weapon in the arsenal," he said. "Use the force that is necessary to win, maybe a little bit more."

LeMay, who has been called "the architect of systematic destruction" because of the mass bombing techniques he developed in World War II, said the decision to campaign with Wallace was a difficult one.

At first, he said, he refused to

CURTIS E. LEMAY
Retired Air Force general will join the third-party ticket of George Wallace as vice-presidential candidate.

Wallace said he admired LeMay's blunt talk.

"The keystone of our campaign is courage," Wallace said. "Those who support this man and his convictions are the courage to stand up for this nation against the forces that would use acquiescence, the permitting of our democracy, the destruction of our democracy," Wallace said.

"I am proud," he said, "to have my name running mate with a man of great courage — Gen. Curtis E. LeMay."

"I'll be accused of a lot of misquoting," LeMay said. "I'll be damned lucky if I don't appear as a drooling idiot, whose only solution to any problem is to drop atomic bombs all over the world."

He went on to say that he did not believe that nuclear weapons would be necessary in Vietnam.

But, he added, "I'm certainly not going to stand up here and tell our enemies that I advocate that in all circumstances I am not going to use nuclear weapons."

"We might as well bury them at first," he said, he refused to

Burley Woman Given National LPN Honor

BURLEY — Mrs. Dorothy Lattimer, employe of Cassia Memorial Hospital here since it opened in 1950, has been named the Licensed Practical Nurse of the year at the LPN national convention currently under way in Oklahoma City, Okla.

Some 400 nurses from all over the nation honor was announced at a luncheon Wednesday attended by 1,015 practical nurses.

"We're proud of Dorothy and pleased that she has won this award as she is very deserving and works hard," commented Mrs. Audrey Harper, director of nurses at Cassia Memorial Hospital.

She explained that Mrs. Lattimer was chosen Idaho Licensed Practical Nurse of the year for the state convention last June in Blackfoot after being nominated by the local district 13, which includes Cassia and Minidoka counties.

The nominating letter from the district LPN of the Year committee was submitted by Hilda Briggs Burley at the state convention, along with a letter stating Mrs. Lattimer's qualifications and past contributions.

She is the third woman in Idaho to get the state honor. Mrs. Lattimer has lived in Burley since 1941 and is a member of the Episcopal Church, she and her husband, Claude Lattimer, have two sons, three daughters and 12 grandchildren.

The daughters are following their mother's footsteps, vocationally, as two are licensed practical nurses and the other one is a nurses aide.

The Licensed Practical Nurse of the Year has served as local president from 1948 to 1950 and currently is secretary. She was on the state advisory board in 1950-51 and has held the offices of secretary, vice president and membership committee chairman in the local district LPN organization in past years.

Hansen Faces Walkout On ISU Campus

Rep. George Hansen, R-Idaho, campaigning in Twin Falls Thursday for the third time since his nomination, told of a youth walkout during his appearance in Pocatello Wednesday night.

"There were about 10 of them out of a crowd of nearly 400. They walked out during a talk I was giving on freedom of speech."

Some of the youths were described as "hippie" types, but the rest were dressed well and walked out quietly, but apparently in protest to what was being said.

Rep. Hansen reported that the talk was at Idaho State University before a group of faculty, students and interested citizens.

Pocatello is Rep. Hansen's home city.

Rep. Hansen reported he was asking youth should listen to all sides before making a decision. Youth should listen even if they don't agree with what is being said. They will have their chance at free speech.

At this point the students got up and walked out of the gathering.

This is the first walkout Rep. Hansen has faced during his campaign for the Senate seat held by Frank Church, D-Idaho.

Thursday, Rep. Hansen was with his wife and an aide to campaign through the area and speak at a Kiwanis luncheon.

Police Officers Meet At Burley

BURLEY — Problems of communication between law enforcement officers were aired at a meeting Wednesday at the Pocatello Inn of the Associated Police Communications Organization.

Bob Pollock, Idaho Falls chief of police, said about 30 members from southern Idaho and northern Utah attended the session.

Dave Ballis, Boise, is secretary. Officers will be elected at the next meeting, Dec. 4 in the Pocatello area.

Public Health Chief Urges Precautions Against Flu

There are, in the world, more than 200 types of flu physicians like to call respiratory ailments and Magic Valley is, no exception.

But flu of epidemic proportions is not expected in the area.

Dr. Luther Thompson of the South District Health Department, said shots for the flu are being given Tuesday. A flu shot costs from 10 to 30 cents, but there is nothing we can do yet about this new bug, the Hong Kong flu, a strain of the Asiatic flu, is new and already has hit Navy personnel serving in the South Pacific and signs of it are being detected in Washington, Oregon and California.

"Most cases of the flu have the same symptoms," Dr. Thompson said, but each case is caused by a different strain of virus.

"Six to eight weeks ago we all thought it was the common cold. Now we know better, but there is still little that can be done in treatment. See FLU SHOTS, Page 2, Col. 1.

Curtis LeMay Well Known To Area Men

Gen. Curtis LeMay, who once dated an airplane to blow up because he was smoking a cigar in the cockpit, is well known to at least three Magic Valley men.

They all served under him in World War II.

James Koutnik, a First Lieutenant in 1945, had Gen. LeMay as his direct commanding officer on Guam.

Another man, who refused to be identified, said, "I had to report to him every third day. I flew bombers then and the general always wanted the latest information. Now and then he would fly a mission himself."

Gen. LeMay had two stars then. Later he got four, and was Air Force chief of staff three times.

The man who refused to be identified said, "I'm a local businessman, I don't want to get mixed up with politics — especially with these radicals."

"Is Gen. LeMay a radical?" he was asked.

"Well, let's just say he has some strong views on the military. See LEMAY, Page 2, Column 2.

16-Year-Old Girl Held For Glue Sniffing

A young Twin Falls girl arrested Wednesday night on charges of glue sniffing remains in the custody of Twin Falls City Police and is expected to appear in Probate Court Thursday afternoon.

The girl, 16, was picked up about 6:30 p.m. Wednesday at her home. Police Chief Frank Barnett said the girl's parents had reported to police that she was sniffing glue and requested they take action.

A new county ordinance, adopted less than a month ago, gives city clerks the authority to pick the juvenile up and make the arrest.

Chief Barnett said that previously the girl could have been placed on violation of the youth rehabilitation act charges.

He also pointed out that prior to enactment of the ordinance the girl could have been taken into custody for "her own protection." He explained that authorities have the right to pick up and hold juveniles when they are doing something, such as glue sniffing, which is hazardous to their health, or in other ways harmful.

The arrest of the 16-year-old Wednesday night was the first glue sniffing charge pressed since Sept. 10 by the Twin Falls County Commissioners.

The ordinance was drawn by Deputy Sheriff Dennis Hayes and Robert Salley, assistant sheriff.

Although adopted by county commissioners, all law officers operating within the county were automatically empowered to act under the ordinance.

Chief Barnett indicated that two tubes of glue were involved in the incident, involving the Twin Falls girl. He noted that amount of glue can make a person "plenty high."

Gooding Boy Dies After Farm Mishap

GOODING — A 4-year-old Gooding child died Wednesday afternoon after a gooding Memorial Hospital of head injuries received when he was struck by a 100-gallon oil drum at his home near Gooding.

Monte Ray Vickers, son of Mr. and Mrs. Larry Vickers, Route 2, was struck by the oil drum after a sudden slip on the drum, knocking it into the child.

The accident occurred about 11:30 a.m. Wednesday and the child was rushed to the hospital and died at 1:15 p.m.

Survivors in addition to the parents include one brother, Scott Allen, 10, and Mrs. Vickers.

Funeral services will be conducted at 2 p.m. Saturday at First Mortuary Chapel, Twin Falls, by Rev. O. A. Robinson. Last rites will be held in Sunset Chapel, Twin Falls, at 11 a.m. Friends may call at the mortuary from Friday and until 1:30 p.m. Saturday.

'Yippie' Arrested In D. C.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Yippie leader Abbie Hoffman was arrested today when he showed up at a House office building to attend a meeting of the Committee on Un-American Activities wearing an American flag designed as a shirt.

Arrested with Hoffman were his wife, Anita, and another Yippie—YOUTH — International Party—Brad Fox, all of New York City.

Capitol police charged Hoffman, who has been subpoenaed by the committee investigating the disorders during the Chicago Democratic National Convention, with mutilating the American flag and resisting arrest.

His wife was arrested when she attempted to stop her husband from being dragged into a patrol wagon by several policemen.

Police arrested Fox when they saw him getting the air out of a tire in the patrol wagon holding Hoffman.

The committee was meeting in executive session at the time of the arrests. The Hoffmans and Fox were among a small group of Yippies that milled around outside the building waiting for the meeting to end.

Earlier a member of the committee said he wants to know where the demonstration organizers got their money.

Young Thugs HARRISBURG, Pa. (AP)

An alleged "protection racket" in which children were forced to pay up to $1 a day or get beaten by young thugs has been uncovered at a Harrisburg school, police said today.

Four boys, one 12 and the other three 11, were arrested and turned over to juvenile authorities when parents volunteered to cooperate in a plan under which marked bills were used to "pay off" police.

One father said a "lighted match burned the inside of his third-grade son's ear. Other parents said their children have come home with blood smeared on and severe cuts and bruises.

Dr. Taylor Hard At Work On His "Day"

Even though it was "his day," Dr. James L. Taylor was hard at work as usual Thursday.

The day has been set aside by proclamation of Gov. Eggar Kroll as "Jim Taylor Day" in honor of the president of the College of Southern Idaho.

Sen. Francis Church, in a telegram to Dr. Taylor, said that "it is with genuine pleasure that I join with all the proud residents of your area in extending to you my hearty congratulations on this wonderful day in your honor."

"It is richly deserved," he continued. "I recall all too vividly the days many years ago when that Twin Falls youth would establish, much less sustain, a college. Not only have you proven them wrong, you have carved out an academic niche far deeper than anticipated in such a short time. I know you will continue to lead the College of Southern Idaho to ever wider recognition and achievement, and I pledge you my support in your efforts." The senator concluded.

"Jim Taylor Day" was 7:30 p.m. Business and civic leaders will host members of the CSI faculty to the Capitol for dinner. Jack Mulweeney will be master of ceremonies.

Final Plans Expected Soon For Butterfield Ski Area

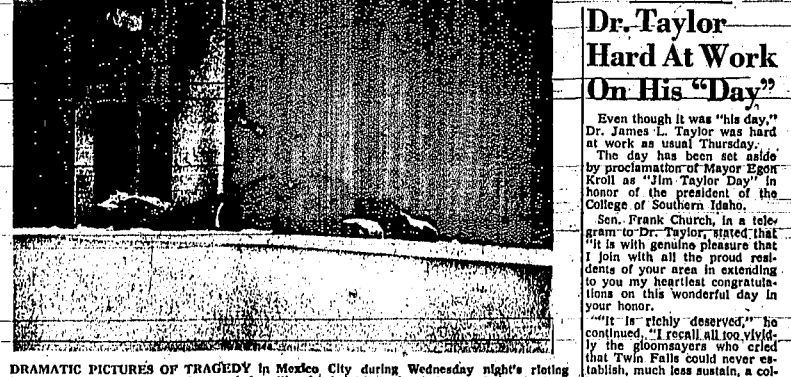

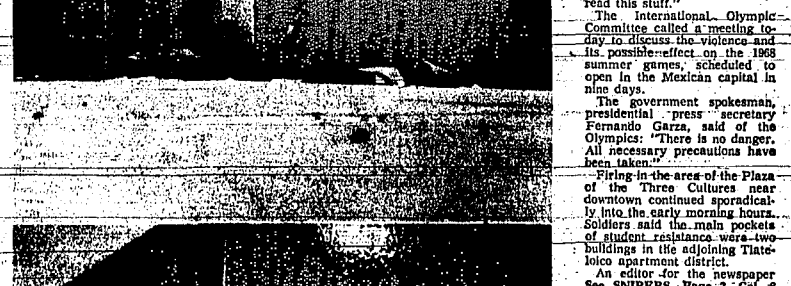

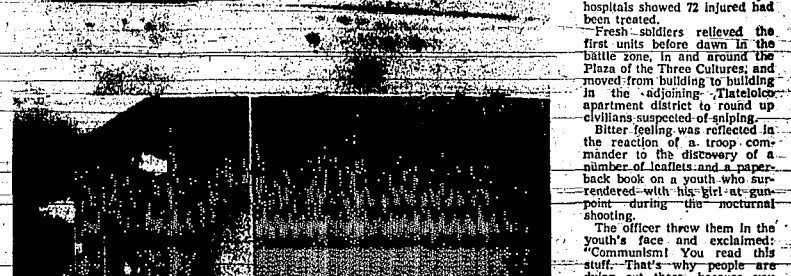

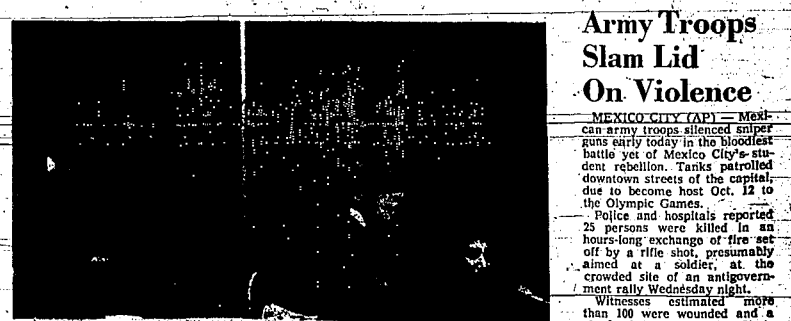

Sawtooth National Forest Service officials expect word from the state on the proposed Butterfield Ski Area, within the next few weeks as to their plans for the area on Butterfield Peak.

The development project, approved in 1967, for the development of the area 10 miles north of Coeur d'Alene on Highway 92.

The development group hired Lift Engineering, Inc., Olympic Valley, Calif., to prepare an initial master plan. These drawings were shown to the Forest Service office this summer and with their approval.

According to Bob Hoag, regional staff officer for the Sawtooth National Forest, the group is in the process of finalizing corporation arrangements and expects to receive word from the state in the next few weeks.

Work on the project probably will begin next spring and the area should be ready for operation during the 1969-70 ski season, Mr. Hoag said.

Governor Doubts Tax Boost

BOISE (AP) — Gov. Don W. Samuelson said today he is confident Idaho can finance its needs in the next biennium without a tax increase.

He told newsmen available for a news conference that about $200 million, including a surplus which apparently is building up in the current two-year period.

"That would permit appropriations of about $34 million more than for the current biennium," he said, and "should adequately take care of increased enrollment in the school."

"It may not give them all they want," he added.

Requests submitted by state departments and agencies for the biennium beginning next July 1 total about $20 million, but Samuelson called those "wishbook figures."

"It's wonderful to look at the future," he said of the spending requests by government agencies, but "it is up to the people who control the pocketbook to determine the things they actually need."

The governor said backers of former Alabama Gov. George Wallace, the American Independent Party candidate for president, have been given permission to use the Statehouse steps for a rally tentatively scheduled Oct. 12.

Samuelson said the same provisions will apply to the Wallace visit as were in effect for a campaign appearance last week by Republican presidential nominee Richard Nixon. State officials were authorized to permit the Governor, Page 2, Col. 1.

Increase Planned In T. F. Detective Division Ranks

The appointment of a fourth member of the Twin Falls City Police detective division, may come sometime this month, according to Police Chief Frank Barnett.

Chief Barnett said the appointment will be in addition to the planned appointment of a juvenile officer.

Chief Barnett said that Jim Koutnik is working on juvenile assignments. He is one of three members of the department who expressed an interest in being juvenile officer after Ernest Marlow resigned the first of September.

Collins Helms, another later-acted patrolman, served as juvenile officer during September, and Ron Ströberg will fill the position starting November. It is expected that an appointive will be made after the three-term men each have had a trial period.

Mr. Barnett said that the additional detective to be named will fill a vacancy which has existed for about a year, since the resignation of Sgt. Fred Vickers was resigned. The appointment will be made from the present ranks of Twin Falls City Police officers.

Army Troops Slam Lid On Violence

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Mexican army troops silenced sniper guns early today in the bloodiest battle yet of Mexico City's student rebellion. Tanks patrolled downtown streets of the capital due to become host Oct. 12 to the Olympic Games.

Police and hospitals reported 25 persons were killed in an hours-long exchange of fire set off by a rifle shot, presumably aimed at a soldier, at the crowded site of an anti-government rally Wednesday night.

Witnesses estimated more than 100 were wounded and a check of three of Mexico City's hospitals showed 72 injured had been treated.

Fresh soldiers relieved the first units before dawn in the battle zone in and around the Plaza of the Three Cultures, and moved from building to building in the adjoining Tlatelolco apartment district to round up a number of battles and a paper.

Efforts are being made, and will continue to be made, to meet the needs of the public. A decision is likely by its meeting next Tuesday on the proposed sale of 1,700 acres of state land north of Payette Lake for recreational development. The proposition is being considered for more than two years. Interest rates, now 4 percent on state land sale contracts, likely will be increased soon by the board acting on a fluctuating scale based on the national prime interest rate is under consideration. Rites Start Work On State Building

BOISE (AP)—Groundbreaking ceremonies marked the start today of the $1.8 million Idaho State Supreme Court building. It is the second major structure begun in the state since the state used the same shovel as that used earlier for the office building. With the beginning of construction of the Supreme Court building, the state's new Capitol mall, adjacent to the Statehouse in downtown Boise, was authorized by the 1965 legislature. "Since then," Samuelson said, "the state has acquired most of the required property and started moving 39 structures from the area. Early next year it anticipated that construction will start on a central utilities plant, a central library building. The court building will have two stories and a basement. The law library will be housed on the first floor with the courtroom and justices' offices on the second. Space is being provided for seven justices, in anticipation of expansion from the present five-member court."

Red Mortars Pounded U.S. Saigon Base

SAIGON (AP)—Enemy forces slammed more than 100 rounds of mortar shells into a U.S. base protecting Saigon's northwestern flank today, then fired a salvo of eight-inch, 60- and 81-mm. rockets, and fired into it in an apparent effort to test the American defenses. The enemy troops pulled back after an hour of fighting, leaving 13 dead on the battlefield 14 miles northwest of Saigon. Four Americans were reported wounded. Earlier, South Vietnamese infantrymen reported killing 22 enemy soldiers a mile away from the U.S. base. The government soldiers also seized a 75mm recoilless cannon, a bazooka rocket launcher, two assault rifles and a supply of mines and ammunition. No government casualties were reported. Fighting hit its lowest level in a week, and U.S. officers said that enemy is scaling down its efforts in some areas. The weekly casualty report issued by the U.S. Command, Headquarters said 247 Americans were killed in action during the seven-day period ending at midnight last Saturday. This was a drop of 43 from the previous week. South Vietnamese losses were reported as 1,000 killed and 2,688 captured. Allied troops continued to uncover huge weapons and food stocks, adding to the more than 100 tons of supplies seized from the enemy last month. These seizures apparently either delayed or canceled planning for the air war, headquarters announced the loss of the fourth American plane over North Vietnam in the week before Oct. 15, the officer said. "We think it'll start up again at Tay Ninh," he said. "The enemy has been swollen by the southwest monsoons that are now ending. The rice paddies and canals in the area have been swollen by the southwest monsoons that are now ending. Walker Is Named To Head Effort

SODA SPRINGS — Lloyd Walker, prominent Twin Falls attorney and former Idaho Democratic State Chairman, Thursday was named coordinator of the Frank Church, Darrell Manning campaign. The announcement was made here by Sen. Church in his current swing through Southeastern Idaho. "Lloyd Walker is fitted for the task of coordinating my campaign with that of Darrell Manning in the Second District, since he is a personal friend to both of us. He can draw upon almost limitless political experience and knowledge to assist both Darrell Manning and myself," Sen. Church said.

Flu Shots

The serum for the Hong Kong flu will not be perfected for at least three more months, and Dr. Thompson recommended that people get the existing flu shot to help them to combat any other form of flu that might be going around. "There is not a large amount of flu or respiratory ailments around at the present time," Dr. Thompson said. He added, however, "There is the usual amount of flu or respiratory ailments at this time of year to get a slight case at any time." Symptoms include headache, sore throat, stomach aches, and stiff muscles. The standard remedy is rest, plenty of liquids and aspirin. Dr. Thompson suggested that this remedy was mentioned, then commented only, "I recommend the person involved contact his or her physician."

2 Are Hurt In Murtaugh Auto Wreck

MURTAUGH — Two Murtaugh girls were hospitalized Wednesday evening following an accident about five and a half miles south of Murtaugh on a county road. Idaho State Police said that Marilyn Quessell, 15, was driver of the car which was involved in the accident which occurred about 8:40 p.m. The wreck went into the barrow, hit the barn and rolled. Passengers in the vehicle were Connie Hinton, 15, and Leslie Ann Lambert, 15, both Murtaugh girls. Hinton was treated at Magic Valley Memorial Hospital and released. Miss Quessell and Miss Lambert were released after being treated for minor injuries. The accident was reported in good condition. "While State Police Officer George Blackburn was investigating this wreck, cars owned by the Quessell family were at the scene were involved in an accident." Officer Blackburn said that a car owned by Elvin Nelson, 30, Kimberly, struck a parked vehicle owned by Leo D. Stanger, Murtaugh. Mr. Nelson was attempting to maneuver his vehicle center to the edge of the road when it backed into the Stanger vehicle. Minor damage was done to both cars. The N.A.S.A. was charged with improper backing.

Comedian Strives To Project Better Image Of 'Rich Kid'

NEW YORK (AP)—Your poor looking and where do you go from there? "That's the problem comedian London Lee, son of a wealthy family, is trying to accomplish by trying to do it, particularly trying something creative. People just take it as a joke and it hurts." "It still hurts." Behind the fast, smart repartee. "My Dad bought the place just so I could appear here," and other kids may be saying. "I was born with a sterling silver 12-piece place setting. It's a young man's ambition to be a member of the American public that the over-privileged child is the most neglected youth in America. "My family's rich and I'm a member of the American public. I admits the 27-year-old Lee. He believes that people don't respect a rich kid; they respect a rich man. "But if you're rich, instead of people looking at you as a man trying to find your way, they look at you as a man who is attempting to be rich by your father as a tax loss." After graduating from New York University with a major in psychology, Lee took the "easy way out"—getting a job as a dress salesman for his father's store. "I had a short time to help to open a record company. "When the record company failed, it was back in my father's store. "In personal management, publishing, manufacturing, all separated by Lee's back in the family business. "Finally he decided a change of scene might help and moved to Los Angeles. Five Infants Of Sextuplets Hold To Life

BIRMINGHAM, England (AP)—Five squalling infants, survivors of Britain's first sextuplets, kept a frail hold on life today on a hourly diet of sugar water. Doctors gave them an even chance of lasting through their first critical week. The babies came into the world in three minutes Wednesday her 30th birthday. She had a fertility drug after 10 years of childless marriage. Four girls and two boys, ranging in weight from two to three pounds, were delivered by Caesarean section at Birmingham Maternity Hospital. One girl, the last to be born, died on her first day in incubators, the five survivors were reported "yelling their heads off." Doctors described their condition as "extremely frail but fairly satisfactory."

Woman Retained In Labor Case Of Local Firm

Louis S. Bradford, trial examiner for the National Labor Relations Board, has ruled in favor of Mrs. Rita Gray in her unfair labor practice case against Idaho Frozen Foods, a division of Consolidated Foods, Inc. Mrs. Gray was discharged on Oct. 28, 1967, after the beginning of her first year with Idaho Frozen Foods. The National Labor Relations Board found that the reason for Mrs. Gray's discharge was partially based on the fact that she had been promoting the union within the plant and running down the company. Idaho Frozen Foods was ordered to order Mrs. Gray reinstated and full reinstatement to her former or a substantially equivalent position, with no prejudice to her seniority or other rights and privileges. They were told to reimburse her for any loss she may have suffered as a result of her discharge.

Throughout the evening, snipers with automatic weapons fired from apartment windows and troops brought armored cars into the battle and poured machine gun fire back into the high-rise buildings. The troops began clearing out the buildings about four hours after the battle began. Hundreds of residents already had fled.

Wood Cutting Permits OK'd

Free use permits are now available for cutting wood in the Sawtooth National Forest by contacting Mrs. Ida Fay Holland, Twin Falls ranger district clerk. Mrs. Holland noted that the wood cut is to be for personal use and not to be resold. The wood cannot be cut any longer than four lengths and must be taken at least 200 feet from roadways. "She said most of the permits are for one and two cords and reminded people that the wood shouldn't be taken near campground or recreation areas. The season for cutting ends Nov. 30."

Twin Falls News In Brief

The Royal Neighbor Lodge will meet at 11 a.m. Friday for the month's luncheon meeting with Mrs. Elva Olson. Chamber Board Tours Area Industries

By ANNETTE JENKINS
Times-News Staff Writer

The Twin Falls Chamber of Commerce board of directors toured Acme Manufacturing, Filer, and Kregel's Machine Co. this week.

Ray Boston, chamber manager, said the group made the tour to get better acquainted with industry in the area. He said they hope to visit other industries as well.

The two firms they visited are known throughout the western states for the manufacturing of farm machinery. They also manufacture parts and items for other companies.

W. H. (Bill) Herrett, who purchased Kregel's Machine Co. about a year ago, explained his plans for enlarging the manufacturing capabilities and product line of this company.

He said Kregel's will continue to make the wood bar harrow. They will update that operation to fit current trends in farming which are toward minimum cultivation and more rapid seed bed preparation.

The mulching harrow will be added to the Kregel line. This harrow takes the air out of soil, which conserves moisture and saves the farmer time in the field. It will be made for all types of soil turning tools—mold board plows, disc plows, field disc harrows, cultivators and chisel plows. He said this type of mulching tool will get the air out of the soil while some others

The blanket harrow, which Kregel's also manufactures, is used extensively as a pre-harvesting tool for potatoes. It moves the vines from the top of the hill and seals cracks so sun and wind will not get to the potato, causing greening. This relatively inexpensive harrow also is put to use by the cattleman.

Their steel bar harrows also will prove useful, especially for gravelly dry farms.

Mr. Herrett told the group that Kregel's has been making corrugators, cultivating discs and other cultivating equipment and will continue to do so.

Acme Manufacturing now manufactures some 40 products. Kregel's makes 10 to 15 products, but its product line soon will be enlarged.

Approximately 100 men are employed by Acme Manufacturing and Kregel's will soon enlarge its present work force of about 12 men.

Mr. Herrett explained they will continue to use the Kregel name and all their products will carry the KMC label for rapid identification.

Kregel's Machine Co. has set a goal, Mr. Herrett said, to become a strong, immediate and long-term marketing and manufacturing influence in the farming industry. He said they will devote attention to those tools which suit modern ways of farming, minimum tillage for the goal of maximum farm production.

It was stressed that the Kregel's operation will not detract from the operation in Filer, but will be expanded in its own line of products.

Fun Club To Start Saturday

The YMCA's Saturday Fun Club will begin this week and run for 10 weeks for boys in grades three through six. Activities are held from 9 a.m. to noon each Saturday and include physical education, crafts, hobbies, games and special events.

Directing the program will be Lynn Brokaw, wrestling coach, assistant baseball coach and instructor in psychology at the College of Southern Idaho. He will be assisted by Steven Carter, also an instructor at CSI and selected college students.

Registration are now being accepted at the YMCA-YWCA office. Parents are requested to register their boys in advance of the class. The office is open from 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. through Friday. Those unable to register during the week may register between 8:30 and 9 a.m. Saturday.

Violent Insults Mark Work Of Australian Legislators

By JOHN FITZGERALD
MELBOURNE (AP) — Members of Australian Parliaments are noted for the fruity insults they throw across the floor. Often the speaker calls for a retraction or imposes suspension, but members continue to call each other names under the protection of parliamentary privilege which prevents any slander action.

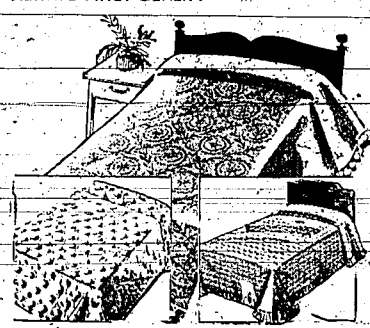

It is impossible to define what language is allowable, and what will be considered disorderly and merit a retraction or suspension.

To call another member an animal name — rat, dog, skunk, dingo, etc. — is taboo, but when a Country Party member, the late Gen. George Rankin, told Labor Party man he "should be canned and exported as rubbish," nothing happened.

Gen Rankin was not always so lucky. Suspended by the speaker after a clash one evening, the general, a stout but agile member, paused at the entrance to the chamber, pivoted three times on the toes of one foot and blew kisses to the speaker. He had to apologize when he returned to the House the next day.

Some of the insulting words declared unparliamentary over the years are: "Blood drinker," "body snatcher," "corrupt gang of burglars," "friends of the criminal class," "sitting like a dumb dog," "impudence of three men and intelligence of half a man," "average wrecker," "political sausage skin filled with wind and water," and painted like a Chinese god "load in a cesspit," "wildie friend."

WASHINGTON — What's with U Thant, anyway? Does the Secretary General of the more-or-less United Nations really believe what he says, or is the guy bucking for a soft post-retirement job with some grateful-Commie dictatorship?

Czechoslovakia, Thant got sore. Said he did not "equitate" the two situations. He was right on that, but not in the way he intended. There is no comparison between the U.S. presence in South Vietnam and the Russian invasion and occupation of Czechoslovakia.

brutally invaded Czechoslovakia to impose its ideological will on the Czechs' established and legitimate government. Czechoslovakia was not being invaded by an external enemy, nor was it threatened by civil war.

tion. Thant behaves as though he has never heard of the systematic offensive with sophisticated weapons against South Vietnamese civilian neighborhood restaurants, movie theaters and food markets.

By American bombs only by accident. To be sure, a civilian killed accidentally by a bomb is still quite dead, but he is not dead as the result of a calculated national policy of genocide.

Rickover On Offense

Adm. Hyman G. Rickover, the father of Navy nuclear propulsion, is no great stickler for consistency, but he is consistent in his latest rap at the Defense Dept., the executive agency to which he has been responsible.

The admiral rather clinically diagnoses the problem of this massive bureaucracy as constipation which, unless corrected, will cause it to become increasingly torpid.

He then creates the admiral, "a form of organized disorganization because the chief administrative goal of the Department of Defense appears to be the exercise of control in areas where their staff is not expert."

Adm. Rickover's bizarre treatment by the Navy during the years of his most illustrious achievements must account for at least some of his displeasure with the Pentagon. Twice he was in danger of forced retirement because of being passed over for promotions. He wouldn't have made rear admiral if a determined Congress had not forced the issue.

There have been many cases where the Defense Dept.'s performance has been less than inspiring. The FFX controversy and the eventual abandonment of the Navy version of the F111 fighter-bomber after acceptance of the Air Force version (which is very disappointing) are notable examples.

Enough evidence has been introduced in Congress to raise serious doubts, at least, about the care with which the Pentagon guards against excess profits on some of its contracts and accepts varying prices for identical items on others.

It does not seem possible to reject out of hand Adm. Rickover's contention that the "civilian general staff" in the Pentagon has "gone out of control of its own leaders."

The Defense Dept. is an outgrowth of the contributions of the Hoover Commission concept. Two such examinations of the executive branch of the government saved an estimated $10 billion.

It may not be necessary for a new Hoover Commission to look at the entire executive branch but, in light of criticism by Adm. Rickover and others, it might be well to investigate how faithfully the recommendations that set up the defense department have been followed to assure its efficiency and progress.

Adm. Rickover obviously thinks they have been obstructed.

It is hard to decide whether Thant is a professional comic or simply a thick-headed fool when he suggests that the UN General Assembly would endorse a bill to American bombing of North Vietnam if the matter were put to a vote. Technically, of course, any violence anywhere is the UN's business, but the record shows that this curious organization is not to be trusted with any issue more important than the allotment of paper clips to member delegations.

Or, put another way, the UN and Thant have proved that they are opposed to violence only when American interests are involved.

In this one, Thant again has offered an example of his wretched neutrality. Asked at a press conference if he also would favor a resolution demanding the withdrawal of Soviet troops from the USSR, he said he would not. That is to say, no matter how vigorously the UN Thants and the McCarthyites attempt to obscure the issue, the fact remains: the United States was requested by the established and legitimate government of South Vietnam to help protect that government both from communist insurgents within and communist aggressors from the North. Perhaps we should have said nothing doing, but not even the most sincere peacenik can successfully maintain that we invaded South Vietnam to impose our own form of government on that country.

On the other hand, the Soviet Union and its satellite countries openly and vulgarly and brutally invaded Czechoslovakia to impose its ideological will on the Czechs' established and legitimate government. Czechoslovakia was not being invaded by an external enemy, nor was it threatened by civil war.

Thant behaves as though he has never heard of the systematic offensive with sophisticated weapons against South Vietnamese civilian neighborhood restaurants, movie theaters and food markets.

JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.

Constant Sniffles

Dear Dr. Molner: My granddaughter is a healthy child, slim, blonde, and blue-eyed. However she seems to have constant sniffles and sneezes.

They took her to a pediatrician who said that blond, blue-eyed children are more subject to sniffles, colds, etc. He told the mother to cut out milk from her diet (other than on breakfast cereal).

This didn't sound logical to me at all as I was of the opinion that all children should have plenty of milk. And why are blond, blue-eyed children more subject to sniffles? Doesn't the sound sniffle? Shouldn't they consult another doctor before excluding milk?—Mrs. J. B.

You may be under the handicap of an entirely correct, but partial report of what the doctor said. I'll see if I can help you.

The comment about blond children being more subject to sniffles is not so entirely silly as you think, because there are constitutional types that have less resistance to disease-causing agents. However, I would suspect that the doctor may have noticed characteristics other than the mere matter of coloring.

Furthermore, some are decidedly more vulnerable to allergies—and allergy can be important. It is entirely possible that your child should have plenty of milk—or its equivalent in calcium, protein, and other constituents.

However, children who are subject to allergies sometimes are allergic to cow's milk. The sniffles (or might not) be a symptom of such allergy. With some youngsters the symptoms are even more severe.

It is a difficult thing to test for, except by trying it. In many instances the answer has proved to be substituting goat's milk, reconstituted condensed milk, soy bean preparation, or various calcium supplements along with other sources of protein and fat.

Therefore it may be worth a try at excluding cow's milk entirely (for a time) to note whether there is any change in her reaction. It makes sense to be very careful at the same time to see that the youngster gets adequate nutrition from other sources, which is the important point.

If this does not help her, then I would suggest having her reaction checked by an allergist or a nose-throat specialist, or perhaps both.

Dear Dr. Molner: I am 34 and have had a terrible cough ever since I can remember. It is not a habit as there seems to be no reason for it. I am a non-smoker and I am sure there is a cure for it.—N.H.

Dear John F. Kennedy knows what real joy he finds in the fullness of his life. He knows how he tries to translate his pleasure into language for his listeners that suggests a kind of climate of inevitability.

At Bismarck, N.D., he told them, typically, "Everywhere we go the crowd is like this. You see its enthusiasm. You see its youth. It's not just North Dakota and it's not just South Dakota. Across this nation something is happening. There is a great surge over the country."

After he recites the crowd estimate at his appearances in Chicago, San Francisco, Philadelphia and other places, and the figures have a tendency to grow in the retelling.

Yet beneath the traveling facade of relaxed confidence, Richard Nixon and his men, also typically, still fret.

It is unlikely that such a cough is a habit. At your age, some sort of allergy would be my first suspicion. Chronic, dry coughs of this type are usually caused by a factor, to be on the safe side, I would also suggest a tuberculin skin test and X-rays of the chest.

Report: Sanctuaries For HHH

LOS ANGELES — Vice President Humphrey has now discovered that a Presidential nominee can slip into the third largest city for a campaign tour, avoid anti-war pickets, and slip out again — with hardly anyone aware of his presence.

That sums up Humphrey's all-day search for votes here on Wednesday (Sept. 25). He spent two hours on the California freeways to make two speeches to highly selective audiences, both overwhelmingly Republican, and answered questions on a live television program staged in the middle of the afternoon.

But a hard question remained after Humphrey slipped out of town: Just what did the 24-hour visit accomplish?

Consider his visit to Pepperdine College, a small, highly conservative, religious-based college of 1,300 students only one league from the Negro ghetto of Watts.

Los Angeles County Supervisor Kenneth Hahn, one of the lesser known politicians here whose support for Humphrey goes back before the June 4 primary, arranged the Pepperdine visit — without clearing it with a single major party leader.

Hahn is a graduate of the college and consequently had a personal interest in getting the Vice President onto the annual campus, which is soon to be moved elsewhere because of the swift deterioration in the surrounding neighborhood.

In fact, there wasn't a chance of any protest. There are no hippies and few beards at Pepperdine. A comfortable restaurant practically non-existent, Humphrey was very enthusiastically received during his short talk to the students.

Humphrey's other speech during this campaign tour of the largest city of the largest state was almost as protected as Pepperdine College. With 2,500 in the amphitheater of Leisure World, a comfortable retirement community at Seal Beach in highly-conservative Orange County, the Vice President unveiled his plan for expanded Social Security.

Again he was warmly received, despite a Republican majority in Leisure World approaching 78 per cent. Austin no one else saw him either during the 40-minute motorcade on the freeways or on his arrival at Leisure World, where not a black face was visible.

Humphrey was comfortably ahead of Richard M. Nixon spending 24 hours this way five weeks before the election might be the best way to protect his

But Humphrey faces the very opposite situation, both here and everywhere else. His party in California, a smattering in the best of circumstances, is just counting off the violent agony that followed the primary and the Chicago convention. A major upheaval resulting from the takeover by Assembly Speaker Jesse Unruh, following the June 3 primary, has confounded with now Humphrey's best efforts to build

Nixon, on the other hand, has been running a sophisticated blend of five-minute TV spots for weeks and is alleged to be spending between four and five million dollars in California alone.

BRUCE BLOSSAT

Dick Is Confident-Not Cocky

SEATTLE (NEA) — Three weeks into the campaign, the public Richard Nixon is confident of victory but not cocky. Yet the private Nixon is, as always, a warrior, and he will believe it when he sees his winning 240 votes on the electoral scoreboard Nov. 5.

The Republican nominee takes confidence, of course, from a stream of public and private surveys showing him ahead of Vice President Humphrey in virtually all of the big states and many of the smaller ones.

But there is a Nixon, a competent manager, extremely alert at buttressing the cold arithmetic of electoral vote calculations with the warming comforts of visible, audible support.

Republicans have always been good at filling the hall, even during the 1964 election. He staged it in 1964, though his motorcade routes were nearly bare of crowds.

The Nixon mastery of this operation is, however, unsurpassed. From the first cold, bleak nights in New Hampshire last February up to these early autumn days, the halls have been crammed to the doors and eaves by thousands of cheering, shouting, and waving ballroom knows it for what it is — a symbol of soaring optimism. At the end of a long, dark tunnel, hundreds of them were pushed out of a truck door, their skyscraper-like cheerfulness signalled.

Even things Nixon is doing to smooth his once-strained relations with the traveling press are a useful part of his own reassurance.

He has now jet and the jet press plane are marvels of creamy white splendor and grace. On the "Julie," the principal press plane, there is even a "Miss Julie" who is even now Nixon can come aboard and do return engagements of the relaxed-planned sort he offers to his critics.

Like the balls along the way, the jet entourage has about it the smell and taste of success. It is as if the elusive aura of victory had been packaged and brought along for steady reassurance and enjoyment.

Outdoor arenas are set up so readily government, still, the Nixon people time and stage their open rallies in streets and squares and on capitol steps with exquisite care. They move the candidate through downtown areas at high noon when tens of thousands with blaring televisions, radio and sound truck invitations, David Merriell could not do it on Broadway.

The managers, in many ways, anyone who traveled with Nixon in his 1968 race against

The U Thant Story

U. S. Ambassador Ball acquitted himself well at the outset of the UN Assembly's new session by promptly calling Secretary General U Thant on a procedural matter of grave concern to the United States.

The result was a crawling retreat by the secretary general, who certainly should know protocol, no matter how prone he may be to expose his anti-Western, pro-Communist partisanship.

Those whose vantage of a full press gallery to propose that the General Assembly debate Vietnam, then strongly intimated that if the United States would cease its bombing of North Vietnam, peace would follow. He went further and offered a model resolution to this effect.

It fell to Mr. Ball to point out that the United States as a principal, was least entitled to advance notice of the secretary general's intention. On second thought, U Thant decided that an Assembly discussion would be useless because the other side wasn't represented at the UN. Thereupon he withdrew his resolution.

Second thoughts also are in order on U Thant's remarks regarding the Soviet Union's assault on Czechoslovakia. Both nations, as well as other Warsaw Pact participants in the invasion of Czechoslovakia, are UN members.

If U Thant is to maintain any consistency, he should suggest UN consideration of Moscow's breach of the UN Charter without waiting for the Soviets to start "bombing and napalming" the Czechs, as he so audaciously put it.

In sheer self-protection, the Czechs resorted to passive resistance against the Soviet aggression as indefensible as any in Stalin's time; and one that U Thant conveniently overlooks.

MR. SPECTATOR

Bigger And Bigger They Get!

Mr. Spectator assumes that you all saw the plane taken up in Oregon when Boeing rolled out the world's largest transport plane in the world.

It will not be long before that one and many more like it will be crowding the skyways and the airports, even more than activities of the airlines are crowding them today.

Why? Because the new big planes will carry between 450 and 500 passengers on one trip. They are being built around 250. When these new big planes get to going it will really be something.

Mr. Spectator wonders if it is all worth it. The new bigger plane will not fly much faster than the present big jets. It will carry about twice as many people.

So what gives? Going through large airports terminals now is somewhat of a task for even the young in heart. When there are 600-passenger planes come in and dump their load—several loads at a time when several planes arrive at approximately the same time—the confusion will be even worse.

Airline officials are today complaining that the sky is so crowded they cannot get their planes down in earth on schedule. Of course, they are making their own crowded conditions as they continue to bring out schedules that have them leaving one field and arriving somewhere else will never work.

Not too far back investigation showed that more than a dozen of the biggest jets that were supposed to take off from the Eastern field at the same time. This, of course, was imbedded and resulted in the last planes of being late.

ABOUT THAT PAY

Mr. Spectator read an interesting bit of chatter in Nation's Business the other day. He passed it on to you, thinking it might be of some interest to you and might aid in softening the blow the next time you pick up that pay check.

Overworked, underpaid and unappreciated? If you feel that you are, you have lots of fellow-feeling company. Daniel D. Bowers Associates, Inc., Chicago management consultants, polled chief executives and found:

One out of four felt they're not paid enough and see too little personal return for their efforts.

Four out of 10 believe they work longer hours than they should. (Average: 53 hours a week in the office, 10 at home.)

At least, that's what presidents or board chairmen of firms in the $1 million to $5 million yearly sales bracket say.

Chief executives of firms in the $25 million and up class all said they consider the "little guy" paid less, the survey revealed. Also much less overworked and more satisfied with results.

India Praises Aims Of Japan After Survey

NEW DELHI (AP) — Japan is the finest example for India to learn from, two Indian leaders said here recently.

Reason: Japan's revolutionary technological advancement while preserving its ancient heritage.

Jaya Prakash Narayan, a respected non-party leader, was giving his impressions after a visit to nine countries, including Japan.

"I found Japan is the country that can teach us the most," he said. He was amazed at the way "the Japanese have retained their cultural identity while assimilating the best in others."

Praising also came from the state minister in foreign ministry, B.R. Bhagat. He was speaking at a farewell dinner to the retiring Japanese envoy, Yujiro Ichi.

Bhagat called it a "miracle" that the Japanese should have advanced so fast without losing their cultural heritage. "India should take its lessons from Japan," he said.

Strips Of Paper May-Mark Lines For Low Pilots

MELBOURNE (AP) — Toilet-paper streamers thrown across high tension power lines have been suggested as a means of reducing low-flying aircraft accidents.

The State Electricity Commission of Victoria is considering the idea in an attempt to prevent the 30 to 40 crop-dusting accidents that occur each year in the state.

Some crop-dusting teams have already used these paper streamers to mark power lines on properties they fly over.

Lines which vary in height from 20 to 80 feet can often be missed by pilots flying into the setting sun.

Tests have shown that placing markers on the ground beneath the wires is not effective and permanent markers on all country power lines would be too expensive.

Hazelton Lions Honor Members

HAZELTON — H. E. Gundel and Lester Saunders, charter members, were awarded pins for 30 years of service at the Hazelton Lions Club meeting Monday night.

Twenty-year Monarch awards were given to Don Andrews, Gerard Baker, Elmer Pyne, and Lester Wright.

Honored for 15 years of service to the organization were Joe Pharris, Robert Brutke, Grant Turner and George Haynes.

After the conclusion of the business meeting, the group adjourned to attend the interview of the Jerome family candidates for public office which was held at the Frontier Grange Hall.

Air Force Tanker Kills 3 In Crash

BANGKOK, Thailand (AP) — A U.S. Air Force KC135 tanker, loaded with jet fuel, crashed in flames today at Uthapao, a base for B-52 bombers flying missions over South Vietnam. A U.S. Embassy spokesman said three of four crewmen were killed.

The spokesman reported the four-engine jet crashed 250 yards from the end of the 11,000-foot runway on takeoff. The base is 78 miles south of Bangkok.

The cause of the crash was unknown.

The tanker was on its way to rendezvous with U.S. Air Force fighter-bombers for in-flight refueling.

Bank And Trust Matches Employes' U. F. Donations

The Twin Falls Bank and Trust Co., which is one of the largest givers in the United Fund drive, has a special way of increasing its donation.

Harry Eaton, president of the bank, said the company matches what the employes give.

Each employe is encouraged to give an hour's wage each month to the fund. All donations are given through the payroll deduction plan. Mr. Eaton said this has proven to be the most effective way of giving for most businesses.

Hearing Charted On Kennedy's Job

BOISE (AP) — A Fourth District Court hearing is to be held Oct. 8 on a request for an order requiring State Agriculture Commissioner Stanley Trenthale to reinstate Dr. C. H. Kennedy of Meridian as chief state meat inspector.

Kennedy was fired by Trenthale in March, 1967, and Judge J. Ray Durtsche has twice issued decisions saying the veterinarian should be reinstated. The latest decision was Sept. 27.

Kennedy, in his motion for a hearing, said he had reported for work on Sept. 16 and was denied a job by Trenthale.

Wallace Plans Visit To Idaho

SALT LAKE CITY (AP) — Former Alabama Gov. George Wallace is tentatively scheduled to visit Utah and Idaho Saturday, Oct. 12, Clyde Freeman, Utah chairman of the American Independent Party, announced today.

The schedule calls for Wallace to fly from Denver for a noon speech in Salt Lake City, then speak in the afternoon at Boise and fly to Portland for a night address.

New Programs In Air Force Open To Women

Young women who are high school or college graduates seeking a career should contact the Air Force Recruiting Office, 235 Main Avenue W., Twin Falls, or phone 733-1661. It was reported.

Selection for duty in the women's Air Force leads to world travel, specialized training, salary, and 30 days paid vacation each year.

The Air Force has just released a list of 148 occupations which are open to women and they include: communications, electronics, data processing, accounting, medical, weather, air passenger specialist, and many others.

Along with this occupational expansion, the Air Force has designed a new uniform and also in an effort to give women equal opportunity to travel, many new overseas duty assignments are available.

Indian Officials Believe Major Epidemic Averted

NEW DELHI (AP) — A major smallpox epidemic forecast for 1968 has been averted, according to Health Minister Satyanarain Sinha.

In the first quarter of this year, 11,351 cases were reported from all over India; 2,329 of them fatal.

The corresponding figures last year were 31,259 and 6,830.

The months of March and April are the peak period in the recurrent behavior of the disease. Last year more than 4,000 persons succumbed to it in March, against 740 this year.

According to epidemiological forecasts, 1968 was expected to be a bad year. The fact that 80,000 cases were reported last year made the forecast gloomy.

But preventive vaccination by the authorities in collaboration with the World Health Organization seems to have averted the worst.

India produces 50 million doses of anti-smallpox vaccine against an annual estimated requirement of 200 million doses. In attaining self-sufficiency in the production of freeze-dried vaccine, the government has asked the U.N. International Children's Emergency Fund for four more drives with an annual production capacity of 30 million doses.

The Soviet Union supplied 750 million doses this year. Large quantities of vaccine and special high-speed vaccinators have been given by the United States.

The worst year in post-independence India was 1951 when 253,000 smallpox cases were reported.

LBJ Signs Bill To Form Trails System

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson has signed a bill designating the Appalachian and Pacific Crest trails as the first units of a nationwide system of scenic trails, and designating 14 others for study for inclusion in the system.

Sen. Frank E. Moss, D-Utah, was given the pen with which Johnson signed the National Trails Bill Wednesday.

The Massachusetts-based Moss-Battalion Trail were included in the bill on Moss' motion, and he said he was certain both would qualify for the system.

Legislation would mean the trails would be marked at various points for the convenience of tourists and appear on tourist maps.

The 2,000-mile Appalachian trail from Maine to Georgia is to be administered by the National Park Service primarily as a National Guard and reserve.

The Pacific Crest trail from Mexico to Canada along the west coast mountain ranges is to be administered by the U.S. Forest Service. Private land acquisition is to be limited to 25 acres per mile and to the expenditure of $5 million.

The Pacific Crest trail from Mexico to Canada along the west coast mountain ranges is to be administered by the U.S. Forest Service. Private land acquisition is to be limited to 25 acres per mile and to the expenditure of $5 million.

Route designated for study are:

- Continental Divide Trail, 3,100 miles from the Mexican border in southwestern New Mexico generally along the Continental Divide to the Canadian border in Glacier National Park, Montana.
- Potomac Heritage trail, 525 miles from the mouth of the Potomac river to its sources in Pennsylvania and West Virginia, including the 170-mile Chesapeake and Ohio Canal, the Old Cattle Trails of the Southwest, 800 miles from San Antonio, Tex., through Oklahoma, Baxter Springs and Chotoma, Kan., to Fort Scott, Kan., including the Chisholm trail from San Antonio of Cuero, Tex., 800 miles through Oklahoma to Abilene, Kan.
- Lewis and Clark Trail, from Wood River, Ill., to the Pacific Ocean in Oregon, following both the outbound and inbound routes of the Lewis and Clark Expedition.
- Natchez Trace, 600 miles from Nashville, Tenn., to Natchez, Miss.
- North Country Trail, 3,200 miles from the Appalachian trail in Vermont through New York, Pennsylvania, Ohio, Michigan, Wisconsin, Illinois, and Minnesota to the Lewis and Clark Trail in North Dakota.
- Kavanaugh Trail, from Shiloh, Ky., to Kansas City, Mo.
- Oregon Trail, 2,000 miles from Independence, Mo., to Ft. Vancouver, Wash.
- Santa Fe trail, 600 miles from Independence, Mo., to Santa Fe, N.M.
- Long Trail, 225 miles from the Massachusetts border through Vermont to the Canadian border.
- Mormon Trail from Nauvoo, Ill., through Iowa, Nebraska, Wyoming to Salt Lake City, Utah.
- Gold Rush Trails in Alaska.
- Mormon Battalion Trail, 2,000 miles from Ft. Leavenworth, Kan., through Kansas, Colorado, New Mexico, and Arizona to Los Angeles.
- El Camino Real, from St. Augustine to San Mateo, Fla., approximately 20 miles along the southern boundary of the St. Johns River from Ft. Caroline National Monument to the St. Augustine National Monument.

Air Guard, Reservists Ordered Home

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Pentagon has decided to return to civilian life some 16,000 Air National Guardsmen and reservists called up after North Korea's capture of the U.S. spy ship Pueblo and the enemy Tet offensive in Vietnam.

The phased release is designed to give the regular Air Force time to fill the slots out of home after the weekend walkouts. The Defense Department sources said all Air Force personnel called up after the Pueblo was captured will be returned to civilian life by June 30.

Announcement of the move, under study for some six weeks, may be made Thursday.

Sources said that six Air National Guard squadrons will finish their normal overseas tours before being released.

These include a four-fighter squadron in South Vietnam and two in South Korea.

The Vietnam squadrons, which arrived in the war zone in May and June, already have flown more than 6,000 combat missions inside South Vietnam. The normal combat tour in Vietnam is 12 months.

The two fighter squadrons in South Korea were deployed there in late June and July. A usual duty tour in Korea lasts 12 months.

Of the nearly 1,700 Air Guardsmen in South Vietnam is Airman First Class Patrick J. Nugent, son-in-law of President Johnson.

Fringe Benefits Complicate Issues As Negotiators Seek Mining Accord

WASHINGTON (AP) — Contract negotiators concentrated on fringe benefits today, while the union's resistance to a proposed wage hike, officials trying to curb scattered wildcat strikes which have idled nearly 43,000 men.

Reports from bargaining between the United Mine Workers and the Bituminous Coal Operators' Association Wednesday indicate the two sides reached agreement on a wage hike of more than $1 a day for a new two-year contract.

But despite Wednesday's report of progress, strikes mushroomed in the coal fields of five states, where about 30,000 men and boys on strike Tuesday. The latest tabulation showed 21,200 out in West Virginia, 7,500 in Pennsylvania, 6,800 in Ohio, 1,800 in Kentucky and 3,200 in Illinois.

A further indication of progress in the talks, reaching a midnight Tuesday deadline, came from Harvey Younker of Elberton, Pa., a member of the 125-man Wage Policy Committee which must approve any proposed contract.

The committee convened in Washington once in anticipation of an agreement, then scurried home after the weekend walkouts started Monday. Younker said he expected to be recalled to the negotiations in "the next few days."

A $1-a-day wage hike would be nearly equivalent to the pay increase granted by the 125,000 men union after a 23-day strike in 1966. Most miners earn $27.25 a day under the present contract, with top men pulling down $30 a day.

There was no word on an earlier reported snag in the talks over the union's proposal to prevent firms like U.S. Steel Corp., a coal digger and user, from buying nonunion coal.

A contract worked out between Mine Workers President W. A. "Tony" Boyle and association President George Judd would cover 80,000 miners, traditionally extended to 45,000 other miners.

Union officials said the strikers were insisting that they were free to strike Sept. 30, the earliest possible termination date of the present contract.

Leaders held meetings in union halls and football stadiums and toured the picket lines to explain that the Sept. 30 date was superseded by the union's 60-day termination notice setting the expiration date at midnight Tuesday.

Leader Of 'Baja Marimba' Enjoys 'Tijuana' Rivalry

By MARY CAMPBELL AP Newsfeatures Writer

The musicians in the Tijuana Brass stick to their own music and play at the Baja Marimba Band; then they yank 'off the mustaches, get nearly dressed and they're back behind the Tijuana Brass. What about that, rump?

Well, it's not true; but Julius Wechter, leader of the Baja Marimba Band, thinks it sounds like such that he almost hates to deny it.

"People love to think that," he says. "It doesn't hurt, but I like to see that he almost hates to deny it."

Rep. Hansen Assails Ability Of Abe Fortas, Says Justice Should Resign High Court Post

By The Associated Press

Supreme Court Justice Abe Fortas, water and air pollution and the fair campaign practices oath were subjects discussed Wednesday by political candidates in Idaho.

Rep. George Hansen, Republican senatorial nominee, said in Pocatello he believes Fortas should resign.

Hansen attacked Fortas' position on the campaign practices oath. Commenting on Fortas' announcement to withdraw as a candidate for chief justice, Hansen said Fortas should resign "if he's not qualified to sit on the court in any capacity."

Sen. Frank Church, Democrat, running for a third term, was campaigning in Soda Springs, center of Idaho's phosphate mining industry. Church urged Fortas' resignation as a sign of respect for Idaho's "heritage of clean air and water and our scenic outdoors."

Fortas' wealth will enable him to have new industry while retaining our health environment," Church said, adding that the environment industry would be a boon to many of our people.

Democratic congressional candidate Darrell Manning said he wanted to make it clear that he signed the fair campaign practices oath prior to the Aug. 5 primary election. Manning—in a statement—said he was not a Republican opponent, Orval Hansen, signed the oath Tuesday. Manning said Hansen's signing was "with a great deal of cynicism."

Manning said Hansen has subscribed to the oath but has inferred manning has not, in Washington, Mary Brooks announced appointment of Robert Taylor of Boise as Idaho coordinator for the Nixon-Agnew "Voiceswain" tour. Mrs. Brooks is an Idaho state senator and assistant to the national Republican chairman.

The tour in a specially equipped bus will cover 6,500 miles, visit 17 states and stop in at least 30 cities.

Stops scheduled in Idaho are in Sun Valley, Twin Falls and Mountain Home Oct. 7; Boise, Caldwell, Payette, Council and Grandville Oct. 8; and Coeur d'Alene Oct. 9.

Alert Officers Smell Soup, Arrest Youths

NEW YORK (AP) — Mrs. Jennie Pollock, 62 years old, can thank, pluck and her chicken soup for the seizure of two teen-agers accused of robbing and assaulting her.

Police said Mrs. Pollock was surprised Wednesday by two youths as she was cooking a pot of the soup in her apartment. When they demanded money, she threw the soup pot, drenching both of them.

The youths knocked her down and left with about $200 in cash, including several rolls of coins, plus a hair dryer, record player and clothing. After the attack Mrs. Pollock went to a hospital for treatment, neglecting to call police.

Detoxives cruising in the Bronx neighborhood saw Carlos Garcia, 16, Israel Martinez, 17, and Minerva Perez, 16, sitting on a stoop with cash and coins stacked in front of them.

Taking note of the money and the aroma of chicken soup, police took the youths to a station house for questioning. Among the coins was a roll of pennies with the name Pollock on it and a bank account number.

Police obtained Mrs. Pollock's address through the bank, and were waiting for her with the cash and coins when she returned from the hospital.

The two boys and the girl were charged with assault, robbery, burglary, larceny and possession of stolen property. Police said the Perez girl acted as lookout for the boys.

Land Board Considers Farm Acreage

SODA SPRINGS, Idaho (AP) — Secretary of State Pete Cenarrusa, a member of the State Land Board, said there probably will be no official action resulting from a board hearing at Soda Springs.

The Wednesday hearing gave board members an indication of feelings about management of agricultural land, Cenarrusa said.

State Land Commissioner Gordon Trombley said two main issues were expressed at the Soda Springs meeting — the state should sell more agricultural land; and the state should offer more land for lease as grazing acreage. State-owned land is tax exempt while land sold by the state would go to local tax rolls.

Cenarrusa doubts the board will adopt a policy statement on the subject until the land in the area has been classified. He said the land department does not have staff to conduct a classification program and would need an appropriation from the legislature.

JEROME — HOPE, Jerome's recent meeting of persons interested in HOPE (Help People Everywhere).
 In a recent letter received by Mrs. Ed Stockton, aid was requested for Vietnamese refugees and recuperating soldiers.
 "On Sept. 1, a hospital and orphanage was dedicated. It has been built and will be maintained financially by the Third Marine Medical Battalion. Needed by the wounded soldiers are razor blades, wash cloths, stationery, pens and pencils, candy and pre-sweetened koolaid, shower shoes and books."
 Refugees need children's clothing, toys, pencils, crayons, baby clothes, tools (hammers, screwdrivers, saws) to be used in rebuilding homes, scissors, needles, thimbles, thread and material.
 Any of these items may be brought to the Hope center. Also needed will be contributions of money to pay the postage. In the Twin Falls area, contributions will be accepted by Mrs. Orval Fillmore, Grandview Drive.

Attend School

HAGERMAN — Holly-Woody, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lyons Woody, and Linda Davidson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Davidson, are attending the Patricia Stevens Career College in Salt Lake City.
 They are studying fashion merchandising and American business and plan to also study modeling. The girls are both graduates of Hagerman High School.

Peru Leaders To Take Office

LIMA, Peru (AP) — Peru's seventh government in five years took office Wednesday following the resignation of Premier Ovidio Herzelles' four-month-old Cabinet in a political wrangle over a contract with an American oil company.
 Herzelles, a physician and former health minister, resigned Tuesday. President Fernando Belaunde Terry, who came to power after an army coup five years ago, named Miguel Mujica Gallo, 58, a wealthy farmer-landowner, to head the new 12-member Cabinet.
 The controversy over the contract has split Belaunde's ruling Accion Popular party.

Reds Postpone Moscow Confab

VIENNA, Austria (AP) — Delegates of Communist parties from 53 countries have decided to postpone a world Communist conference scheduled for Moscow Nov. 25, apparently because unity seemed unlikely after the Soviet-led invasion of Czechoslovakia.
 Consulting in Budapest, the delegates decided to meet there again Nov. 17 to discuss a new date, the official Hungarian news agency MTI reported.
 "Source" in Budapest said Czechoslovakia was not discussed and the session was characterized by "honest efforts on all sides to achieve the greatest degree of cooperation and to overcome difficulties that arose in the recent period."
 But the large Communist parties of Italy and France were known to oppose a Communist unity conference in the present situation. Both these parties and the Communist position in Romania and Yugoslavia, have spoken out against the invasion of Czechoslovakia.

News Of Servicemen

Spec. 4 John Ybarra Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. John Ybarra, Route 1, Gooding, arrived in Phan Rang, Vietnam, Sept. 13, with other members of the 116th Engineer Battalion, a former Idaho National Guard unit. The battalion was called to active duty early this year as part of President Johnson's program to increase manpower strength and arrived at Ft. Lewis, Wash., on May 13 to begin training. During the following months it underwent an intensive Vietnam oriented program designed to develop the skills from the individual through battalion levels.

Pfc. David T. Catmull, an Army equipment operator, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold L. Catmull, Arthur Street, Klamath Falls, Ore., arrived in Phan Rang, Vietnam, Sept. 13, with their members of the 116th Engineer Battalion, a former Idaho National Guard unit. His wife, Linda, lives on Route 3, Burley. The battalion was called to active duty early this year as part of President Johnson's program to increase manpower strength and arrived at Ft. Lewis, Wash., on May 13 to begin training. During the following months it underwent an intensive Vietnam oriented program designed to develop the skills from the individual through battalion levels.

Educator Named

MOSCOW, Idaho (AP) — Dr. Han R. H. Russay of the University of Vermont was announced today as keynote speaker for the Idaho Mental Health Association conference in Moscow next Monday and Tuesday.
 He is acting chairman of the department of psychiatry at the University of Vermont College of Medicine.

Sgt. Galen Christensen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Christensen, Twin Falls, was recently awarded the Army Commendation Medal for services performed at Fort Richardson, Alaska. He is presently stationed at Fort Sill, Okla., as an artillery instructor.

David B. Belliston, son of Mr. and Mrs. David M. Belliston, 321 Donah Drive, Burley, is one of more than 1,200 freshmen cadets who have entered the U. S. Air Force Academy class of 1972. He recently completed the academy's stringent basic training program for acceptance into the cadet wing. The two-month program includes field training at a simulated front-line combat base near the academy, strenuous physical conditioning, and survival instruction. The cadet now enters a four-year course of study leading to a bachelor of science degree in one of nearly 30 fields covered by the curriculum and a commission in the Air Force as a second lieutenant. Cadet Belliston is a 1968 graduate of Twin Falls High School where he lettered in baseball.

Mrs. Elbert Ross, Springdale, has returned home from Big Springs, Tex., where she visited Sgt. and Mrs. Ernest G. Passey and children prior to their leaving for Libya, North Africa, where they will be stationed for three years. Mrs. Passey is a daughter of Mrs. Ross.

S. Sgt. Walter T. Garner, son of Mr. and Mrs. William D. Garner of Route 2, Paul, has been awarded for helping the Third Air Division earn the Air Force Outstanding Unit Award. Sgt. Garner, a supply inventory sergeant assigned at U-Tapao Airfield, Thailand, will wear the distinctive service ribbon as a permanent decoration. The Division was cited for exceptionally meritorious service while engaged in military operations against the enemy in Southeast Asia from March 8, 1965, to March 1968. The sergeant is a graduate of Estacada, Ore., Union High School. His wife, Katherine, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl L. Rouman of Route 1, Eagle Creek, Ore.

Sgt. Lonnie L. Jones, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Jones of 204 Ash St., Twin Falls, is on duty at the Naug Air Base, Vietnam. Sgt. Jones, a radar operator, is a member of the Pacific Air Forces. Before his arrival in Vietnam, he was assigned to Perrin Air Force Base, Tex. The sergeant is a 1964 graduate of Twin Falls High School, has studied at Fresno City College.

LBJ Praises Redwoods Park Site

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson, signing legislation to create a Redwood National Park in California, says "we have received a magnificent and meaningful treasure from the chain saw."

Johnson Wednesday called the action to preserve much of the great redwood forest one of the greatest achievements of the 90th Congress and said it "will stand for all time as a monument to the wisdom of our generation."

The President signed three other conservation bills Wednesday.

—Set aside 1.2 million acres for the North Cascades National Park in the state of Washington.

—Establish a national system of scenic rivers system, preserving sections of eight rivers and providing for studies of 27 other rivers for potential addition.

—Establish the first federal laws for a national system of urban and rural trails, starting with the Appalachian Trail in the East and the Pacific Crest Trail in the West.

HE WILL REMAIN, Chief Justice Earl Warren said Wednesday. Pictured at a White House ceremony, Warren said he will remain as Chief Justice when the Supreme Court opens its fall session on Monday. Idaho High Court Will Hear Appeal Of Vote Decision

BOISE (AP) — The state's appeal of a ruling that a law dealing with election-campaign literature is unconstitutional will be heard next week by the Idaho Supreme Court.

The court will be in Lewiston and Coeur d'Alene Thursday and Friday for hearings in 14 cases.

Dean Arney of Coeur d'Alene was charged with violating a state law that made it a misdemeanor to distribute campaign literature which does not identify the persons responsible for having the material printed. The pamphlets were for Democratic gubernatorial candidate Cecil Andrus, who was defeated by Gov. Don Samuelson in the 1966 election. The state said the alleged violation occurred two days before the general election.

Nez Perce County District Judge Paul W. Hyatt upheld Arney's defense, which included the contention that the state law violated freedom of speech and press provisions of the U.S. Constitution.

Among cases to be heard in Coeur d'Alene is an appeal by former Coeur d'Alene City Police Chief Arnold C. Engen, who is denying him certain benefits. The commissioners said Engen had not served the requisite 25 years and the former chief contends periods of disability should be included in computing years of service.

Highway Toll Rises Over Year

BOISE (AP) — Although traffic deaths in Idaho during September were six fewer than last year, the death toll for the year so far is still ahead of last year, according to Idaho State Police.

Twenty accidents during September took the lives of 23 persons while there were 23 fatalities during the same month last year.

For the first nine months of the year, however, the toll was 216 this year versus 193 a year earlier.

Only five of Idaho's counties were death free by the end of September. They were Camas, Caribou, Clark, Lincoln and Teton counties.

News Of Servicemen

Gary L. Farley, an Army squad leader, son of George L. Farley, Paul, and Mrs. Verna Ward, Parker, arrived in Phan Rang, Vietnam, Sept. 13, with other members of the 118th Engineer Battalion, a former Idaho National Guard unit. His wife, Mrs. Sylvia, lives at 218 11th St., Idaho Falls. The battalion was called to active duty early this year as part of President Johnson's program to increase manpower strength and arrived at Ft. Lewis, Wash., on May 13 to begin training. During the following months it underwent an intensive Vietnam oriented program designed to develop the skills from the individual through battalion levels.

First Lt. James H. Goettsche, an Army platoon leader, son of Mr. and Mrs. Julius B. Goettsche, arrived in Phan Rang, Vietnam, Sept. 13, with other members of the 118th Engineer Battalion, a former Idaho National Guard unit. His wife, Mary, lives at 218 11th St., Idaho Falls. The battalion was called to active duty early this year as part of President Johnson's program to increase manpower strength and arrived at Ft. Lewis, Wash., on May 13 to begin training. During the following months it underwent an intensive Vietnam oriented program designed to develop the skills from the individual through battalion levels.

City Gets New Government

LEXINGTON, Ala. (AP) — The people of Lexington have a city government again.

The mayor and all five city council members in the Lauderdale County community—population about 315—decided against running in the recent city election. No one else wanted to be elected so, Lexington was left without anyone to run things.

The townspeople appealed to Gov. Albert Brewer, who straightened out the situation today by appointing a mayor and five council members.

Land Board To Hold Meeting

BOISE (AP) — Members of the State Land Board will meet in Lewiston on Wednesday with members of the Caribou County Commission, State Land Commissioner Gordon Trombly said.

He said the session was asked by the county commissioners, who wanted to discuss policy regarding sale and lease of the land.

The session is scheduled for 1 p.m. in the Caribou County Courthouse in Soda Springs.

Generosity Hurts Bears

BEIRA, Mozambique (AP) — Through an oversight, authorities in Portuguese Mozambique granted a portion of Gorongosa Game Park in a concession included in all exploration team. Veterinarians now fear that noise from oil drills and dynamite blasts during seismic surveys will scare away life or scare game away from one of the most popular areas of the reserve.

Vietnam War Stirs Valor In Allies

WASHINGTON (AP) — The proportion of Medals of Honor awarded for heroic action in Vietnam is higher than for both World War II and Korea. Pentagon manpower figures indicate.

An estimated 25 medals were awarded to Vietnam and 32 have been selected to receive the nation's top award for valor — about one of every 10,000 sent to the front.

Of the 5.2 million who served in Korea, 131 — or one of every 40,000 — received the medal. In Vietnam, 113 medals were awarded, about one for every 32,700 of the approximately 16.1 million who served.

Medals of Honor winners are selected on an individual basis by a blue-ribbon decorations panel in the Pentagon. Officials say there is no quota on the number which may be awarded.

Reporter Found Guilty 40 Times Of Blackmail

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — "Guilty" replied the jury foreman 40 times in convicting former reporter Harry J. Karafin of blackmail and unlawful solicitation.

Karafin stood expressionless Wednesday during the 10 minutes of responses to each bill of indictment, 20 charging him with blackmail and 20 with unlawful solicitation by an employee.

Lawyers for the former Philadelphia inquirer reporter were granted seven days to petition for a new trial. Sentencing was deferred pending action on the motion.

Jury Robert N. C. Nix Jr. raised Karafin's bail from $5,000 to $30,000.

Karafin, 53, went on trial Sept. 9. He was accused of using his position as an investigative reporter for the inquirer to shake down Philadelphia business and individuals.

Survey Seeks Meteorite Bits

GRAND FORKS, N.D. (AP) — "Meteorite hunting can be profitable," says the North Dakota Geological Survey, which is asking citizens to start hunting for the space stones.

The survey is distributing a new publication, "Meteorites in North Dakota: A Guide to Their Recognition," in an effort to locate unrecognized or unreported meteorites that have fallen in the state.

"Meteorites are scientifically valuable and should be made available for study," said Dr. Wilson M. Laird, head of the survey. "They are usually very old and have recorded in themselves some of the early history of our solar system."

They also can be profitable for the finder. Meteorites sell for a few dollars per pound or up to $40 per pound, Laird said.

Results Reported At Speech Club

Blue pencils were won by Addison Irwin and Kent Kirk at the regular meeting of the I. B. Perrine Toastmasters Club at Kay's Supper Club.

Irwin gave the best speech and Mr. Kirk gave the best table-top topic. Guests were Ted Nehrbass, Don Cryder and George DePatin.

Frank Robinson was elected educational vice president and Lincoln McGinnis was elected administrative vice president. Wayne DeSpain was toastmaster, and Ken Reid was general critic.

Lion Attacks Youth In Cage

VESZPREM, Hungary (AP) — A 9-year-old boy is recovering from wounds inflicted by an angry lion who attacked the boy after he had climbed into the lion's cage of the local zoo.

The boy was pulled out of the cage after the lion had turned away. Hospital officials said he was badly mauled on his skull and chest.

JAMES J. ROWLEY, head of the Secret Service, said Wednesday that his men cannot possibly protect the public figures they are assigned to protect from every possible threat. Testifying at a hearing of the President's commission on violence, Rowley said he met with candidates for major office after the assassination of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy to brief them on the hazards they would face during their campaigns. (AP wirephoto)

No Trace Found Of Lost Crew

HONG KONG (AP) — Rescuers have virtually given up hope of finding seven missing crew members from the Panamanian-registered freighter Bangkok Trader, abandoned three days ago in the China Sea some 300 miles west of here.

Vessels which rescued 20 of the 37-man Chinese crew have left the scene of the operation and the freighter is being towed to Formosa.

The Bangkok Trader sent out distress messages 40 Hong Kong Monday saying she was taking in water.

Robert Goulet Serenades First Lady

WASHINGTON (AP) — Singer Robert Goulet, introducing his supper club style at the White House, serenaded the First Lady with one song and ended another with a resounding "Sock it to 'em, Humphrey."

The performance Wednesday night—a change of pace from the usual state dinner entertainment in the state East Room—provided a light-hearted climate for a day of formalities for President Johnson's guest of honor, visiting President "Frank" Tombalibay of Chad, a Central African nation.

Goulet held forth in the East Room with the two presidents and 120 guests in a semi-circle around him, giving special attention to ladies in the front row.

He held Mrs. Johnson's hand and sang "When I'm Not Near the Girl I Love, I Love the Girl I'm Near."

Batter Up! It's World Series Time

By FRED DODDS
Times-News Staff Writer

It's World Series time in America again and the fever has hit hard in Twin Falls. Hard enough to bring a pang of doubt to the best football fan. As the series got under way in St. Louis Wednesday afternoon, a strange calm came over Twin Falls.

At the city park, students of St. Edward's Catholic School could be heard discussing the merits of Bob Gibson and Tony McLain.

On Main Avenue, a man was observed hiking on the sidewalk, a transistor radio glued to his ear.

A drugist snatched glimpses of the play-by-play between prescriptions.

At one downtown eating establishment two bankers were heard discussing the clubs, Detroit and St. Louis. Between bites, of course.

And at the same eating establishment there was a game pool card, with more than half the spaces filled in.

Women even got into the swine of things, with members of the Twin Falls Newcomers Club throwing in a vital statistic—baseball type—now and then. Of course at least two women in that club take a wood work-up class once a week. All that work with man-sized equipment requires a man-sized outlook.

Once a man wandered into the Times-News, urgently asking the latest score.

He was followed by another man who wanted to know about the payoff on the Major Hoopie football contest that appears each week in the Times-News sports section.

He didn't consider himself unfaithful, wanting to know about football when the World Series is on.

"A man kind of spreads himself thin at this time of year," he said.

Political activity was even kind of quiet during the day. Republican and Democratic headquarters, although staffed with personnel interested in the candidates, even had the latest scores. The scores were available for potential voters, probably. Everything helps.

School was normal, but even there the students seemed to know the score and who did what to whom.

World Series time is a good time of year. Twin Falls people questioned feel. It marks the end of one season and the beginning of another. Or two seasons and the beginning of two more, depending on the outlook. Football and winter beginning and baseball and summer ending.

"Is baseball losing its glamor?" It is about to become the nation's number two sport?

These questions were posed to a woman in the downtown area Wednesday.

"No to both," she said. "It takes something real interesting to keep my husband home 'tick.' And he gets 'tick' about this time each year."

Silver City Is Toured By Local Group

An historic narration of Silver City was given by Mrs. Harold Statham Sunday as a group of 125 people from the Twin Falls Historical Society toured the ghost town.

Mrs. Statham's father was born 91 years ago in a little home that still stands on the hill above Jordan Creek. She was raised at Silver City and maintains a summer home there.

In 1863 the town of Silver City on Jordan Creek was born, due to a great gold and silver strike.

Silver City was the nation's second ranking silver production area at one time. The first county seat of Owyhee County, was Ruby City and it was moved to Silver City in 1868 and then to Murphy in 1934.

A newspaper called the Idaho Avalanche was published there in 1865. In the first years of the mining camps, there was no mail service and the Wells Fargo Express charged as high as $1 for delivering an ordinary letter.

In the 1890's electricity was installed in the various mines and mills and was also used in Silver City. The current was obtained from the Swan Falls Plant on the Snake River.

There were many productive gold and silver mines throughout the Silver City area and the remaining residents such as the Stathams, Leonards, Adams, Hildges and others dream of this mining town someday making a comeback.

Many society members and guests requested another trip to Silver City next year.

The first indoor meeting with Power and Auditorium program will include a showing of the tour slides taken on the trip this year.

Chamber At Rupert Names Top Students

RUPERT—Bill Schow, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Schow, and Pam Preuss, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Preuss, all Rupert, have been selected as the initial 100 per cent Club Boy and Girl, respectively, according to Richard Maggard, chairman of the Chamber of Commerce committee responsible for selecting the students.

The selections are the first in a weekly series to be made by numerous organizations and groups throughout the city—Rupert to help create enthusiasm for the Minico High School's athletic program.

A large framed picture of each student will appear in a Rupert firm each week, with the location to rotate from week to week. This week the pictures are found at the Rupert Idaho Department Store.

Schow is in his fourth year of playing football for the school, and his second on the varsity team. He is a senior and plays football. He weighs in at 175 pounds. Other activities include basketball, baseball, German Club, M Club of which he is president, and Skids.

His classes include Biology II, physics, government, English literature, advanced math and physical education.

Miss Preuss is a two-year member of the Minico Pep Club, Secretary of the newly organized FARS, president of the German Club, a member of FTA, Waltham League, and church choir. She is taking physics, English literature, American government, shorthand, a advanced math, and is a biology lab assistant.

L. E. Erickson
ALMO — Lawrence Edward Erickson, 65, former Almo resident, died in an Idaho Falls Hospital Monday after an extended illness of leukemia.

He was born Aug. 4, 1903, at Ogden, Utah, and in 1915 came to Almo with his parents. He attended school here and worked in the Almo area.

On May 29, 1928, he married Gladys Green, Sandy, Utah, in the LDS Temple in Salt Lake City.

For 35 years he was employed by the J. C. Penny stores in Dillon, Havre and Great Falls, Mont.; St. Anthony, Idaho; Price, Utah, and Idaho Falls, where he retired in 1959.

Active in the LDS Church and also in civic affairs, he received an award for his services in the Chamber of Commerce. He also served as Rotary governor.

Survivors include his widow, Gladys; one son, Larry Erickson, Montpelier; two daughters, Mrs. Dixon Cane, Washington, D.C., and Mrs. Frank Johnson, Salt Lake City; two brothers, Emery Erickson, Burley, and Gus L. Erickson, Almo; four sisters, Mrs. Alice Johnson, Burley; Mrs. Maude Udy, Twin Falls; Mrs. Eldon Gray, Ogden; and Selma Erickson, Chicago, and 10 grand-children.

Funeral services were conducted at 3 p.m. Thursday at the Idaho Falls LDS Ward in Idaho Falls.

Light Plane Hits Studio In Hollywood
LOS ANGELES (AP) — A single-engine plane slammed into a 20th Century-Fox studio building Wednesday near the set for the movie "Hello, Dolly!" and the television series "Peyton Place," where scores of production workers were on the job.

The plane's pilot, Walter Kaufman, 63, of Pacific Palisades, was killed. No other serious injuries were reported.

Witnesses said Kaufman was alone in the four-seat aircraft, apparently trying to land at Santa Monica Municipal airport four miles to the west.

After missing the runway, the plane swung back over west Los Angeles and struck the third floor of the film company administration building, then fell in flames.

Hundreds of persons were inside the building.

The explosion knocked producer Sy Bartlett off the side of the building, causing him to lodge falling debris on the plane's landing gear on top of the car.

About 40 children and parents were in the studio's casting office on the ground floor, trying out for roles in the television series, "Nanny."

Mrs. Higbie
BUHL — Mrs. Josephine Higbie, 83, of Sheldon, Mo., was married to John T. Higbie April 17, 1907. They came to Buhl from Kansas and lived on a farm near Buhl for several years.

Survivors include three daughters: Loyola, Bismarck, Calif.; Mrs. Wilma Phares, North Hollywood, Calif.; and Mrs. Bette Jean Gelson, Encino, Calif.; a son, Donald V. Higbie, Rocky Ford, Colo.; two sisters in Eldorado Springs, Colo.; and seven grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

Funeral services will be conducted at 2 p.m. Saturday at First Christian Church in Buhl by Rev. Frank Marler. Final rites will be held in Sunset Memorial Park.

Friends may call at Albertson Dickard Funeral Chapel Friday until 8 p.m. and Saturday until noon.

Beet Harvest Increase Seen
OGDEN, Utah (AP) — Sugar company executives predict increased yields in sugar beet harvests beginning Oct. 9 in Utah and Idaho.

J. James Christensen, director of industrial relations for Amalgamated Sugar Co., said the company's Sugarco, Idaho plant will harvest about 100,000 tons of beets in the 62-day harvest.

Ford T. Scully, district manager of Utah Sugar Co., said he anticipates a harvest of 10,500 acres in Northern Utah. The company's receiving stations will open Oct. 10, Scully said.

Officials of the Utah State University Extension Service, the Department of Agriculture, and weather and soil moisture will aid the harvest.

Sneezing Teen Plans Wedding
MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — The ponly ailed teenager who sneezed for 154 days two years ago will be married Saturday.

"Four days before my wedding and I've got a cold," John Clark said Wednesday. She plans to marry on Saturday, Oct. 12. Clark will be 20 on her wedding day.

Miss Clark met her fiance at a party. "Somebody coughed and he sneezed," she said. "Are you the one who did all the sneezing?" she said.

During the spring and summer of 1966 Miss Clark sneezed for 154 days but electrical shock treatments finally halted the nuisance and stifled other attacks more than a year later.

Church Voices — Pleasure At Bill
BANCROFT, Idaho (AP) — Sen. Frank Church, D-Idaho, said today he anticipates a prompt signing by President Johnson of bills establishing a wild and scenic rivers system and creating a national trails system.

Church was the original sponsor of the wild rivers bill. He said he will urge the Bureau of Outdoor Recreation to study Idaho's St. Joe River to determine whether it, too, should be included in the "wild rivers" measure.

The measure as enacted designates portions of Idaho's Clearwater and Salmon rivers and tributaries as wild rivers.

Voters Defeat School Bonds
CALDWELL, Idaho (AP) — Voters failed by a narrow margin to approve a proposed $740,000 bond issue in the Valvue School district in Canyon County.

The measure, which would have been about 1.5 per cent short of the required two-thirds.

It was the second time taxpayers rejected a bond issue for a proposed bond issue, intended to finance construction of a new central elementary school building.

PROMISING PROGRAMS
6:30 p.m. 25L—Jesse Owens Report: Expecting German domination of the games, Utter had 800 cameras ready to cover them. Ironically some of that footage is used in this special program, in which the camera crews have to be ready to roll and recall the drama-opening ceremonies, a stadium packed with Hitler youth, and Owens himself, competing in the 100-meter, 200-meter, 400-meter runs and broad jump.

7:00 25L—The Night of the Iguanas: "The Stullion": A tale of disputed ownership of a wild stallion which involves Bill Cannon in a fight with an Indian youth which could lead to a full-scale uprising.

Intruder Hurls Bomb At Tomb
LONDON (AP) — A vandals' hit in Westminster Abbey today and hurled a crude fire bomb at the tomb of Edward the Confessor.

The abbey, one of Britain's great gothic cathedrals, was built 800 years ago during the reign of King Edward, whose chiseled tomb was blackened by the bomb attack.

Police said fire badly damaged a tapestry near the high altar and damaged a stone diaphragm on Edward's tomb.

Police said the man had also defaced the famous abbey, where British kings and queens have been crowned through the centuries, by daubing signs in paint on the inside walls.

Detectives studied the alpana and said: "All you and 'The Ox-Bow Incident'."

Church Voices — Pleasure At Bill
BANCROFT, Idaho (AP) — Sen. Frank Church, D-Idaho, said today he anticipates a prompt signing by President Johnson of bills establishing a wild and scenic rivers system and creating a national trails system.

Church was the original sponsor of the wild rivers bill. He said he will urge the Bureau of Outdoor Recreation to study Idaho's St. Joe River to determine whether it, too, should be included in the "wild rivers" measure.

The measure as enacted designates portions of Idaho's Clearwater and Salmon rivers and tributaries as wild rivers.

News Of Record

JEROME COUNTY Sheriff's Office
Cars driven by Susan Jacky, Jerome, and Michael Barnes, Jerome, were reported stolen on a one-mile north of Jerome. The Jacky car received $75 damages and the Ford driven by Barnes was damaged to the extent of $125. There were no injuries.

MINDOKA COUNTY State Police Blotter
No citations were issued Saturday afternoon after a 1963 Chevrolet driven by Paul Cruiel, 20, Burley, slammed into the bridge railing at 200 S 235 W, Burley.

The accident happened after Cruiel was traveling on Highway 20. The car struck the bridge on the wrong side of the road. He apparently swerved to avoid a collision and struck the railing, belonging to the Cassia County Highway District.

Monday afternoon, Gloria Kendrick, 35, Paul, was cited for improper backing. The school bus she was driving struck a parked 1962 Chrysler, owned by Adam Alpperspach, Burley, on Highway 20. The damage to the car and none to the bus.

A load of potatoes, owned by George Johnson, Jr. Paul, and transported in a 1962 Chevrolet, owned by David Edwin Owen, 23, Paul, was damaged Tuesday afternoon when the truck overturned on Highway 20. The load of potatoes apparently shifted as Owen was attempting to make a left turn, causing the truck to go out of control and roll.

No citations or injuries were noted.

Bike-Riding Couple Declares 'Hobby' Both Enjoyable, Physically Healthful

FARGO, N.D. (AP) — It takes Monroe Docketer about the same amount of time to pedal his three-wheeler bike the eight miles from Fargo to Heywood, N.D., as it takes to fly from Fargo to Chicago.

By jet set standards, the daily trips Docketer and his wife make on their bike are slow, unglamorous, unexciting.

But just as jet travel "makes it happen" for the beautiful people, trips on their "joy wagon" help make life enjoyable for the Docketers.

They are both handicapped. He is an epileptic. She is partially disabled from polio. They think bike riding is ideal transportation.

The motorists who gawk don't bother them.

"They hurry, hurry, hurry and all they get is a headache," Mrs. Docketer said.

The couple met through the Red River Handicaps Club in December of 1966, and were married a year later on Dec. 9, 1967.

They both agree: "It's not what you look like, it's what you do."

In 1966 Docketer came to Fargo after 11 years as a traveling troubadour. A native of Cathay, N.D., he started singing for his supper in small North Dakota saloons and bars in 1952.

Playing guitar and singing country and western songs, he gradually worked his way west through nine states and back again—living on the tips he received.

It is hard to make "decent money" now, so he does not play much anymore, except for his wife.

He serenaded her while they were dating, and he still does in their small two-room downtown Fargo apartment.

It was that counts when he met her. The Soviet oceanographic ship Vasily Golovin arrived in Bombay today, carrying the Zond spacecraft that splashed down in the Indian Ocean Sept. 21 after flying around the moon.

The Russians announced they had picked up the spacecraft Sept. 22 and recovered instruments which they said would give better scientific information than that that ranged back by previous moon ships.

Aussie Named To 'Bond' Role
LONDON (AP) — A rugged Australian who activates chocolate on British television commercials was picked today to succeed Sean Connery as the new James Bond of the movies.

Film sources said George Lazenby, 27, won the role of Agent 007 in the movie version of "On Her Majesty's Secret Service," the sixth Bond picture.

Connery, 38-year-old Scot who shot to stardom in the part, had been asked to play it again. But his actress wife, Diane Cilento, said Wednesday night: "There is no hope of Sean returning to the role. He has other plans."

Lazenby, a six-footer who used to be a car salesman, has no acting experience. He appears in the commercials carrying a huge chocolate bar.

Cards' G...atters Strikeout...Blanks Tigers In Series Opener

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Mayo Smith shook his head sadly when asked to comment on Bob Gibson's performance in the series opener against his Detroit Tigers in Wednesday's opening World Series game.

"It's like the old story about asking Mrs. Lincoln how she liked the play," commented Smith.

Gibson left the Tigers alone, cold dead in Busch Stadium with a 4-0 victory for the favored St. Louis Cardinals that sent all hands scurrying to the record books.

In addition to breaking the strikeout record of 15, put into the book by Sandy Koufax of the Los Angeles Dodgers against the New York Yankees in 1953, Gibson tied the old Yankee greats, Lefty Gomez and Red Ruffing, with his sixth straight Series victory. His sixth consecutive complete game victory put him all alone in the books.

The drama ended at the 54,822-seat Municipal Stadium as Gibson charged at the record. It seemed that everybody knew he had 14 going to the 15th inning. The Detroit band set the pattern by tooting away on "Hold That Tiger."

Mickey Stanley, the leadoff man in the ninth, went to a 2-2

Ace Used Breaking Stuff To Rip Tigers

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Bob Gibson, the Detroit Tigers' ace, broke them—then they'd be gone for good—on Wednesday's World Series opener in a wholesale strikeout.

"I think I surprised them by throwing so many breaking pitches," the brilliant St. Louis right-hander said after blanking Detroit 4-0 and shattering Sandy Koufax's Series record with 17 strikeouts.

"I was a pitcher they'd never seen," Gibson said. "I imagine their scouting reports said I threw mostly fast balls. But I had a good breaking stuff today, so I went to it."

"If I hadn't been able to get the breaking pitches—sifters and curve-balls—moved for me, I might have had a little more trouble."

The unflappable Cardinal ace made a mismatch of his heralded duel with Denny McLain, the Tigers' 31-game winner. He scattered five hits and sent the crowd of 54,822—largest ever for a baseball game in St. Louis—into a frenzied uproar by fanning Al Kaline, Norm Cash and Willie Horton in the ninth to break Koufax's 1953 Series record of 15 strikeouts.

The fans gave Gibson an ovation after each strikeout in the ninth ... and shook him up for the only time in the series.

"I didn't know what all the noise was about," he said. "I wasn't aware of the record. I saw Tim McCarver walk out in front of the plate, so I looked around at the scoreboard to see what was happening."

Cardinals Laid Off High Pitches

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Manager Red Schoendienst, pitcher Bob Gibson and the St. Louis Cardinals used one thing: Gibson's shutout victory over Detroit in the first game of the 1968 World Series was one of the best in baseball history.

"This was one of the best games by Gibson," Schoendienst said. "I'd have to say yes. Atrocious, how many pitches he threw? He pitched just as many at other times, but just didn't get as many strikeouts."

"Gibson's pitching—fanned broke the World Series record of 15 set by Sandy Koufax of the Los Angeles Dodgers against the New York Yankees in 1953. Someone said it was an 'easy' victory over the Tigers and their pitching ace, 31-game winner Denny McLain, would make the Cardinals confident.

"Easy?" Schoendienst replied. "I didn't think it was that easy. We just got a couple of hits at the right time. I don't know about McLain."

"We'd never seen McLain," Schoendienst said, "but we knew if we'd laid off the high stuff, pitches above the shoulder, up around the neck and eye level ... and make him throw strikes we'd have him."

Gibson won two 15 games in a row during the regular season, didn't call it his best game, but said it was one of the "most important."

And he said he thought the Tigers were surprised by his breaking stuff.

"They were swinging at me, curve like it was a fast ball," Gibson said.

"Gibson said he threw his sifter a lot when he was behind the batter, but that most of his third strikes were chalked up with his fast ball."

General Manager Bing Devine sounded almost as if he had a remedy for McLain, the losing pitcher.

"He didn't pitch that badly. This was a long day, my friend. How good you are, to try to out-think Gibson," Devine said.

"I'm what they're talking about," he said, "the way we have to look at it."

"There was no shouting and hitting in the fifth inning dressing room. The players filed in matter of factly, began stripping their uniforms and started answering questions."

Control Led To Downfall Of McLain

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Bob Gibson was at his best and Denny McLain wasn't. That was the whole story of the Cardinals' 4-0 World Series victory Wednesday over Detroit.

"He wasn't waxy," said Tiger manager Mayo Smith in the Detroit dressing room after the game. "Control was his problem."

"The brash Tiger right-hander, who had a 31-6 season record, walked three men in the five innings he worked. Two of them came in the fourth inning, three-run rally and came in front of a pair of singles."

"I was having trouble controlling everything in the bullpen today," McLain said.

Meanwhile, Gibson pitched five-hit ball and set a Series record by striking out 17 men. "That was the greatest performance I've ever seen," McLain said of Gibson's pitching.

The much publicized confrontation between McLain and Gibson became Gibson's masterpiece early as he struck out seven of the first nine Tigers he faced.

McLain only allowed three hits, but couldn't get the ball over the plate and was behind on all matters.

"I just had no control, there's nothing more I can say about it," he said.

Smith said McLain will pitch against Gibson Sunday in Detroit as planned.

It was Al Kaline's strikeout in the ninth inning that equaled a record for Gibson, 17, in that, before that Kaline doubled.

"I wasn't thinking about striking out," he said after seeing McLain get a real good breaking ball.

"His pitching was on a par with any I've ever seen."

"I know he's a great pitcher, probably one of the greatest."

Competition

All Twin Falls area boys interested in participating in the annual Ford Pass, Punt and Kick contest should report to the Bruin Stadium building on Friday, representative Chad Brown, city recreation director.

Contestants should pick up their entry blanks at Bruin Stadium on Friday.

Which is sponsoring the event.

BREAKING RECORDS for World Series strikeouts, Cardinal pitcher Bob Gibson, Detroit's Norm Cash swing through the air to give Gibson his 16th strikeout in Wednesday's opener in St. Louis. Gibson then went on to fan Willie Horton to make it 17 for the day. St. Louis won 4-0. (AP wirephoto)

ISU Takes Week Off To Regroup For Invasion Of Montana State

POCATELLO — Idaho State's football team takes a much-needed week-off to prepare for the Montana State following the Bengals' 35-15 loss to Idaho.

ISU meets the Bobcats in Bozeman October 12.

Two of ISU's finest are out for indeterminate periods with yet undetermined ailments.

Larry Kerychuk, who appeared destined to set all sorts of ISU passing records, has back woes and went into the hospital and traction, right after Saturday's game. He may have some pinched nerves or a herniated disc.

Light end Jim Wilson will be out for a week or two. Two solid quarterbacks will vie to replace Kerychuk in the event he cannot answer the bell for the MSU game.

Joe Petrone, who played much of the Idaho game and connected with Rich Hulbert for an ISU record 81-yard pass play, may have an edge over Boise's Jerry Dunne, who has been playing both quar-

Malone Tops Conference In Rushing

DENVER, Colo. (AP) — Art Malone, running back for the University of Arizona, stepped up to the ground in total offense with 734 yards, well ahead of Terry Stone of New Mexico with 384.

The top pass receiver is Bob Fowler of New Mexico who has caught 10 for 171 yards. Major Stevenson of UTSA, however, was caught 13 for 290 yards.

Craig Smith of Utah leads punters with a 41-yard average on 14 kicks. Rick Stevenson of the University of Arizona is the leading punt returner. He has returned 10 for 102 yards and a touchdown. The best kickoff returner is Larry McCarty of the Scarber of New Mexico. He has averaged 22.8 yards on six returns.

Scoring king in Larry Wallon of ASU with 24 points.

Olympic Sex Test Is Accepted

MEXICO CITY (AP) — One international federation stood on against sex tests on their girls for the Mexico Olympic opening Oct. 12—and even then some of the girls themselves demanded they should be tested.

The information came from an Olympic source Wednesday as the controversial tests to decide whether the 1,000 girls competing are girls continued in this Olympic city.

"The source said the one federation who objected to sex tests on their girls came from the Swimming Federation."

"All the others agreed to sex tests," said the source. "But even after the swimming federation objected, some girls' swimmers volunteered to take the test."

Janik Earns AFL Weekly Defense Nod

By HAL BOCK, Associated Press Sports Writer

Tom Janik's personal statistics were depressing zeroes on interceptions, yardage returned and touchdowns for Buffalo's defensive end in the American Football League season.

But the strong safety was named the AFL's Defensive Player of the Week today by The Associated Press for his play in Buffalo's 37-35 upset victory Sunday over the New York Jets.

Janik picked off two Joe Namath passes, returning the first 37 yards to set up a field goal and the second 100 yards for a touchdown.

The goal line-to-goal line romp was the sixth time Janik has returned an interception for a TD in his career.

He also tied him with San Diego's Speedy Duncan for the longest single return.

Janik wasn't Buffalo's only defensive star. Ed McCle repeatedly burst through the Jet line to harass Namath, and cornerbacks Butch Byrd and Bookie Edgerson both returned interceptions for TDs. Byrd went 53 yards and Edgerson 45.

Janik's work moved him into second place in AFL interception statistics for the season behind Oakland's Dave Grayson.

Grayson intercepted two passes—and recovered a fumble—helping the Raiders defeat Houston, 24-15. His two steals gave the speedy Oakland defensive back four for the season, matching his total for all of last year.

Snead To Stick With PGA In Row

PALM BEACH GARDENS, Fla. (AP) — Sammy Snead, who has won more tournaments than any other player in professional golf, has notified the Professional Golfers Association he will not participate in any tournament that is not sanctioned by the PGA.

Snead's declaration, in a letter released Wednesday by PGA officials, puts him in opposition to other four players who have joined the ranks of the newly formed American Professional Golfers organization.

"Golf has been good to this old country boy," Snead said in the letter.

Snead, 54, has earned $43,000 in 12 tournaments this year.

Demo Speaks At Opening Of Center

Congressional candidate Darrell Manning speaking at the opening of the Twin Falls Democratic Headquarters, said Tuesday that one big step toward solving many farm problems in Idaho would be taken with a betterment of the farm economy.

"The sad fact is," Mr. Manning said, "that many of those now-in-farming are trapped there with no place else to go, and our young people are very aware of what is happening."

Mr. Manning said that while farmer self-help efforts toward increased bargaining power in the market are being made, efforts toward solving many farm problems, the problems of rural areas are closely related to the problems of the cities.

"Our most pressing urban problems have been caused by large migrations of people from rural areas into the cities," he said. "Until these migrations are stopped or at least slowed down, solutions to urban problems which caused the migrations can't be developed without betterment of the farm economy."

Mr. Manning said that increased federal aid is almost inevitable, and called for a simultaneous attack on the problems of rural areas.

LBJ Signs Bill Listing Eight Rivers

WASHINGTON (AP) — Segments of eight rivers were designated as initial components of a National Wild and Scenic Rivers system in legislation signed Wednesday by President Johnson.

Another 27 river segments are named for study for potential addition to the system in later acts of Congress.

The system established by the bill are to be preserved in free flowing condition and protected from developments that would infringe upon scenic and recreational values.

The law forbids the Federal Power Commission from licensing any dam or powerhouse that would encroach upon the designated river segments. Those in the study group would be protected against any such development for five years while studies proceed.

The eight rivers designated initially, with boundaries of each unit to be fixed within a year by either the Interior or Agriculture Department, are: Clearwater, Middle Fork, Idaho; Elvan, Snake, Missouri; Feather, Middle Fork, California; Rio Grande, New Mexico; Rogue, Oregon; Shink, Croix, Minn. and Wis.; including tributary the Namekagon; Salmon, Middle Fork, Idaho; and Wolf, Wisconsin.

Those designated for study include: Moyie, Idaho; Priest, Idaho; Saint Joe, Idaho; Salmon, Idaho; and Skagit, Wash.

FBI Claims Utahns Are Communists

WASHINGTON (AP) — Federal Bureau of Investigation informants claim two Utah men are state leaders of the Communist Party.

Robert Archuleta, 37, Salt Lake City, and Wayne Dallas Holley, 58, Mapleton, were accused in testimony before the Subversive Activities Control Board.

The accusations were made by Clarence Duane Price of St. George, and Ronald S. Eldredge of Spanish Fork who said they worked closely as Communists with Archuleta and Holley for the past two years.

A Justice Department attorney, Garvin L. Oliver, told the board at the hearing opened Tuesday the department would prove Archuleta and Holley were members of the Communist Party.

The hearing — the first in three years — follows a Congressional directive under which the board would have been abolished at the end of this year if it had not heard at least one new case.

The Justice Department submitted on July 1 the names of Holley, Archuleta and five other to the board, asking a determination whether they were Communist Party members.

Such a finding would carry no penalty and a finding could be appealed to the federal courts by the persons involved.

Price and Eldredge gave the board scores of hand-written reports, detailing their work as informers, for which they were paid $50 to $150 a month.

Safety Patrol Is Honored At T. F. Meet

The Washington School Safety Patrol was honored at the first PTA meeting of the year Monday night.

The group was presented to City Patrolman Cliff Sharp by Bryan Smith, currently captain of the safety patrol. Patrolman Sharp praised the work performed by the sixth graders in assisting with traffic at the crossings by the school before and after school and during the lunch hour.

The policeman pointed out that the opening of the College of Southern Idaho at its new campus has created considerably more traffic in the Harrison school area and the safety patrol there is being revamped to better handle the problem.

PTA members discussed having block parents where a designated mother in each block would assist with children coming home from school and be available in case of emergency.

Teachers were introduced by Mrs. Mary Helen Perry, principal.

It was decided at the PTA board meeting, preceding the meeting that delegates to the state PTA convention in Boise Oct. 17-19, will be Jewel Chandler, Kasey Wright, Joyce Smith and Mrs. Perry.

Support

"Support Nixon Day" will be observed in Twin Falls Friday, Charles D. Lunte, Republican chairman of Twin Falls County, announced.

Mr. Lunte said he received a personal telegram from Mrs. Dwight D. Eisenhower which said, "I hope you will assist me by participating in Volunteer Day next Friday, and also by making every possible political persuasion to help elect Richard Nixon and Spiro Agnew. Our goal for that day is two million committee volunteers. With your help we will exceed it."

Mr. Lunte urges voters to visit Republican Headquarters, 222 Main Ave. N., to declare their support.

U.S. Attempts To Return Trio Of Fishermen

SAIGON (AP) — The U.S. government is attempting to return three Red Chinese fishermen to their homeland after an American vessel rescued them in international waters of Vietnam Sept. 9, the U.S. Mission disclosed today.

A spokesman said the three had been picked up "because their ship was in distress," and are being cared for at a U.S. installation in South Vietnam.

"We hope to return them to their home," he said, but added that he did not know how their repatriation was being worked out.

The United States and Communist China have no diplomatic relations.

Committee Studies Report Indian Schools To Meet Student

By PEGGY SIMPSON

WASHINGTON (AP) — Testimony before a special Senate subcommittee on Indian education suggests that many pupils in the Bureau of Indian Affairs school system might be better off at home.

"Some students simply retreat into a shell and vegetate," said Dr. Robert L. Mondale, D-Minn., subcommittee chairman, "putting in their time as the Indian students call it, or going AWOL in the Bureau of Indian Affairs school when loneliness overwhelms them."

Mondale said Tuesday the BIA has told the subcommittee "that there are no psychologists in the whole BIA school system and only two or three social workers."

The Labor and Public Welfare subcommittee on Indian Education, set up last January for a one-year period, is to begin writing recommendations next year.

With Sen. Robert F. Kennedy as the moving force, the subcommittee held field hearings on Indian reservations in Arizona, Idaho and other states last spring.

Mondale presided Tuesday at the first of three Indian Education subcommittee hearings scheduled before the end of the year.

Another Washington hearing in November will pursue the line of questioning brought out Tuesday — about the mental health effects of current Bureau of Indian Affairs education system.

The hearings are headed by the Menninger School of Psychiatry in Topeka, Kan., told the subcommittee that the boarding schools were extremely damaging to the mental health of the young students. The youngsters not only are removed at a vulnerable age from their parents and tribal environment, he said, but are stripped of affiliations with their background in the classroom training.

Mondale said about 9,000 Indian children nine years or younger are educated in boarding schools. Almost 3,000 are Navajos.

One recent winter, Mondale related, two young Navajo boys froze to death while running away from boarding school to their reservation. He said brothers and sisters at the same boarding institution rarely see their parents.

Student Nurses Elect At Jerome

WENDELL — Sarah Smith was elected president of the class of student practical nurses who are taking their training at St. Benedict's hospital.

Other officers are Lara Lee Martin, vice president; Virginia Holt, secretary; Lee Roberts, treasurer; Jessie Ritter, reporter, and Alma Strong, scrub nurse.

The group discussed the upcoming ceremony that is scheduled for Nov. 24. The time will be announced at a later date. Friends and families will be invited to attend.

Brew Candied Apples For Halloween

On Halloween when witches whisk through the sky, black cats crouch and lonely owls hoot at the Jack 'O Lanterns, stir up some good old-fashioned Halloween fun. For the kids who are too old for "trick or treat" and too young to remember how Halloween used to be, revive the Halloween party complete with costumes, apple-bobbing and taffy pulling.

Costumes gets too old for a costume party and the scarier the better. Ask everyone to come as a witch (pick one from history, fiction or TV) or as ghosts or goblins or famous black cats or devils.

In bobbing for apples remember the rules. Hands behind the back, no sticks or apples. Float the apples in a big galvanized wash-bub so everyone can gather around. The first to snap up an apple with its teeth, wins a fancy apple on a stick.

Whether you're having a Halloween party or catering to trick-or-treaters, make a batch of candy apples for prizes, for the family or for the scariest little ghosts on the block. Or gather 'round for a night of taffy pulling. Let's put some of the old-fashioned customs back into Halloween.

- TAFFY APPLES
- 6 medium size red apples
 - 8 wooden skewers
 - 2 cups sugar
 - 2 cup water
 - 1 (1 1/2-ounce) bottle red cinnamon candies
 - 10 drops red food coloring (optional)

Wash and dry apples; remove stems and insert skewers into stem ends. Mix together sugar, corn syrup and water in heavy two-quart sauce pan. Stirring constantly, cook over medium heat until mixture boils and sugar is dissolved. Cook without stirring until temperature reaches 250 degrees F. on candy thermometer or until small amount syrup dropped into very cold water forms ball which is hard enough to hold its shape, yet plastic.

Add cinnamon candies and continue cooking until reaches F. or until small amount of syrup dropped into very cold water separates into threads which are hard, but not brittle. Remove from heat. Stir in red food coloring, if desired. Hold each apple by its skewer and quickly twirl syrup, tilting pan to cover apple with syrup, if necessary.

Remove apple from syrup; allow excess to drip off, then twirl to spread syrup smoothly over apple. Place on lightly greased baking sheet to cool. Set aside in cool place. Makes eight.

Note: If candy mixture cools too quickly it may be reheated over low heat.

VANILLA TAFFY

- 1 cup sugar
- 1/2 cup corn-syrup
- 1/2 cup water
- 1 teaspoon cream of tartar
- 1 teaspoon vanilla
- 1 tablespoon margarine

Mix together first four ingredients in saucepan. Bring to a boil over medium heat, stirring

BY ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I am a 15-year-old girl with a slight problem. I have a favorite uncle (my mother's brother) who is 42. He says I am his favorite niece. We like to hang out together and talk, and he understands me better than either one of my parents.

My problem is my mother. She says she doesn't like me seeing much of Uncle Bill and that I should quit calling him up all the time. (I love to talk to him on the phone.) She even says that my feeling wasn't exactly like it should be between an uncle and his niece, which is ridiculous. Do you think my mother is being fair?

FAVORITE NIECE

DAER FAVORITE: I can't say, but I can only guess that your mother is looking out for your best interests. Listen to her, young lady. She knows her brother better than you know your uncle.

DEAR ABBY: My daughter-in-law is getting me down, but I refuse to be a meddling mother-in-law. She has three boys, and her oldest is a favorite. (This isn't just my opinion. Everyone who knows the family can see it.) She buys clothes to fit the eldest, and the two younger ones—but not to their liking, ton. The younger ones look like a couple of clowns. I think it is just terrible. I once bought the younger boy some nice slacks, shirts, and blazers, and she took all of it back to the store and put it toward clothes for the older one.

What can I do without getting in bad with her? HAD IT

DEAR HAD IT: Where is your son? Tell him, if he doesn't act her straight, the next time you buy something for the two younger boys, tell the merchant that under no circumstances should he allow that mother to return it for a larger size. And why worry about getting "in bad" with her, who needs her good will?

DEAR ABBY: Will you please give your opinion of the following? Also, ask other readers what they think about it.

A lady was having lunch at a Sixty-cent lunch room at noon hour. She sat there sipping a second cup of coffee, while she slowly smoked a cigaret. Several people were standing waiting for a place at the counter.

While she was leaving, a woman who had been waiting said to her, "I thought you would never finish that cigaret!"

Do you think the rudeness on the part of the lady who was waiting was justifiable?

Two Projects For Area WSCS Are Discussed

PAUL—Two clothing projects were decided upon by the Women's Society of Christian Service of the Paul United Methodist Church at a meeting at the home of Mrs. Ruben Kraus.

A local rummage sale will be held in mid-October and will feature heavy clothing. The next month light weight clothing will be collected for Clothing Relief and be ready for shipment from Burley in December.

Mrs. Dave Kraus and Mrs. Frank McCall will be in charge of both projects.

A report on the recent supper was given and Tracy Webster thanked for helping with the advertising posters. Mrs. John Klamm, vice president, presented a record of the supper for the use of future chairmen.

Members decided to have the plans in mid-October and will be held in December.

The program was given by Mrs. Wes Staller on "God's Answer to Turmoil," with material quoted from Dr. Walter J. Judd writer in Decision magazine.

Mrs. Ronald Matheson, incoming president, conducted the meeting, assisted by other newly elected officers: Mrs. John Klamm, vice president and program chairman; Mrs. Robert D. Webster, secretary and publicity chairman; and Mrs. Ruth Klamm, treasurer and decorations chairman.

Mrs. Verna Schneider and Mrs. Clark will host the Oct. 24 meeting, with Mrs. Eric Rostenbauder to present the lesson. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Kraus and Mrs. Lynn Coon.

Baptist Mission Society Conducts General Meeting

The general meeting of the Baptist Mission Society was held recently at the church parlor, with members of the Idaho Conklin Circle as hostesses.

Mrs. Floyd Lilly gave the prayer and group singing was conducted, accompanied by Mrs. Fred Brock. The treasurer's report was read by Mrs. Charles Sloan. A letter was read from Ruth Anderson concerning Cathedral Pines.

Mrs. Jack Asher reported the new yearbooks were ready and Mrs. P. W. Lively gave a report on the fall rally to be held at the church. A church service needs report was given by Mrs. Charles Hughes and the white cross quota was discussed.

Mrs. Anna Holmertz read the names of the special interest members and the report on Christian social relations was given by Mrs. Gaylord Hasselblad. Mrs. Jerry Cowden reported on the political fair.

Mrs. Joe McCollum announced the love gift boxes are available and Mrs. Elnor Lightfoot,

Miss Phillips, Cook Exchange Nuptial Vows

DECLO-Vaneta Phillips and Orville Boyd Cook, both Rexburg, were united in marriage ceremonies Sept. 28 at the Idaho Falls LDS temple by Fredrick Miller.

Parents of the newlyweds are Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Phillips, Declo, and Mr. and Mrs. Orville Cook, Idaho Falls.

Accompanying the couple to the temple were Mr. and Mrs. Phillips, Mrs. Lillian Ross, Mr. and Mrs. Jay Beck, Mrs. Astella Shall.

The bride wore a floor-length sheath of white satin with an overskirt of white chiffon. It was accented by pearl trim on the bodice, front panels of the overskirt and edged on the train. It featured long lace sleeves and a scooped neckline.

Her shoulder-length veil of bridal illusion was secured by a pearl case.

She wore a corsage of orange Tallman roses and white carnations, accented by a jeweled butterfly.

Mrs. LaMar (JoAnn) Hurst, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Ida Phillips, sister of the bride, and Annette McBride.

Best man was Boyd Webster. Ushers were David Haskell, LaMar Hurst and Clarence Phillips Jr.

A reception on Sept. 13 honored the young couple at the home of Mr. and Mrs. LaMar Hurst, Burley. They greeted guests before a background setting of bouquets of orange gladioli and white carnations.

Mrs. Edith Adams was in charge of the guest book.

Gifts were arranged by Mrs. David Haskell, Mrs. Jerry Bowcut, Mrs. Clarence Phillips Jr. and Mrs. Russell Phillips.

The three-tiered white wedding cake, accented with orange roses, was Austin and decorated by Mrs. Austin Walker. It was placed on a mirror and encircled by greenery.

Serving were Mrs. Walker, Mrs. Robert Stevens, Mrs. Chester Phillips, Mrs. Alvin Peterson, Karen Stevens and Edith Peterson.

Guests were served at quarter tables covered with white and gold cloths and centered with brassy misters containing floating yellow carnations tied with yellow ribbons.

The couple will reside in Rexburg.

Guests attended from Provo, Utah; Idaho Falls, Ashburg, Blackfoot, Aberdeen and Shiloh.

Betty Canary's Wonderful World

I envied those parents whose first child went off to school this year. I sympathized with them also because I know all about the dump handkerchief tie as "Little Merion" fridges, dragging his schoolbag, down the walk. Mother just thought she had prepared herself for sending him out into the world alone and father, for all his heartiness, experienced a hollow feeling about the breast-feeding.

Silently both parents offered up a prayer for their child. And that's what I envied. The prayer for the first one off to school is a brief plea that dear Merion will learn and prosper and get home safely and on time.

With each child and every passing year (that's one of the things I pray for — passing years) the entreaties grow not only in number but in details as well.

Parents with several children find themselves looking forward to a year when nobody is in danger of falling and when at least one of them will come home with an Excellent in conduct.

Betty Family Reunion Held

SHOSHONE—A Betty family reunion was held at Neptune Park recently. Each family presented one number for the program.

Prizes were given to the oldest Betty descendant, Mary Rice, Blackfoot; the one with the most descendants, Lester Betty, Pocatello; the youngest child, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Betty, Pocatello; one who traveled the greatest distance, Dahl Mitchell, Montana.

A special prize was won by Evelyn Hanges, Pocatello, and Betty Lynn Thorpe, North Shoshone, won a guessing game.

Members attended from Shelley, Pocatello, Blackfoot, Twin Falls, Gooding, Shoshone, Rupert, Salmon and Montana.

Shoshone Club Conducts Meet

SHOSHONE—North Shoshone Home Improvement Club met at the home of Mrs. John Stutzinger.

Mrs. Halcie Jones will represent the club at the Idaho Extension Homemakers' Council meetings at Coeur d'Alene Oct. 15 and 16.

Mrs. Cox, Gooding, was a guest.

Games were played, with Mrs. A. H. Haly and Mrs. Dianne Stigall, Mrs. W. P. Bell and Mrs. Ward Mills winning prizes.

Mrs. Stigall won a special gift.

At the October meeting, the nominating committee will report on candidates to be elected at the November meeting.

Ann Olin, Colman Say Vows

The Redeemer Lutheran Church, Kimberly, was the setting for the marriage of Ann Olin, daughter of Mrs. Dee Olin, Kimberly, and Bob Olin, Hazelton, to Brian Colman, son of David Colman, Taylorsville, Utah.

The morning ceremony was performed by Rev. Henry Fry, pastor of the church. The bride wore a gown of summer linen, appliqued with hand-clipped lace daisies. The cathedral train was attached at the empire waistline. The groom wore a tuxedo. The bride's lace daisies centered with seed pearls formed a crown that held her silk illusion waist-length veil. She carried a cascade bouquet of white daisies, white roses and baby's breath.

Matron of honor for her sister was Mrs. Kenneth Morris, Kimberly. Bridesmaids were Leanna

Social Calendar

Star Social Club will meet for a polk at 12:30 p.m. Monday at the home of Debra Wilcox, 1414 Main Ave. Those attending are asked to bring their own table service.

Panellenic Association will have its first meeting of the fall season at 1 p.m. Saturday at the Colonial House. Reservations can be obtained by calling Mrs. E. A. Roberts, 733-5973, or Mrs. Dorothy Chapman, 733-2351.

Wheeling Stars Square and Round Dance Club will meet at 8:30 p.m. Saturday for the group's 11th Anniversary Party at the DAV Hall. Alice Brown and Dee Snodgrass are the callers. Those attending are asked to bring pies. Ice cream will be furnished. Everyone welcome to attend.

GOODING - Melody Squares will dance Saturday night at the Gooding Grange Hall, with Mytof Bliss calling. Round dancing will be featured from 8 to 9 p.m., with square dancing starting at 9 p.m. Those attending are asked to bring sandwiches or dessert. All dancers are welcome.

Luncheon, Style Show Slated By Pink Ladies

RUPERT - The seventh annual Minidoka Memorial Pink Ladies luncheon and style show has been scheduled for Monday at the Rupert Elks Lodge. The event will get under way at 1:15 p.m. and models and fashions from the Rupert Rogers, James Ladies Apparel, Idaho Department Store, Penney's, and B. Mary Shup in Burley will display the latest styles.

Highlighting the style show will be the appearance of Sharon Lemmon, Miss Utah World. Miss Lemmon, a Rupert resident, will model five outfits worn by her in the recent Miss World Pageant in California.

Theme of the event is "Campaign Fashions" and tickets are available from any of the participating merchants or from the Pink Ladies.

Mrs. Roland Jones and Mrs. Steve Antone are co-chairmen for the luncheon and show, which is the only fund raising project of the organization. Proceeds will go toward medical scholarships.

Chapter No. 54 Conducts Meet

JEROME - Old-time music and a polk dinner highlighted the recent meeting of Jerome Chapter No. 54, Order of Eastern Star, at the Masonic Temple.

The Walters family entertained with old-time music, playing violins and banjos.

Chapter members welcomed Mrs. Ruby Dean, grand representative of Ontario, Canada, in Idaho, and Mrs. Harold Stoltz, grand warder of Idaho.

Members of the ESTAR committee reported they are selling tickets on a crocheted rug donated by one of the members.

A quiz was conducted by Mrs. Katherine Eakin and Mrs. Laura Stoltz on the "Code and Digest," and Mrs. Dean was the prize winner.

The Oct. 1 meeting is Friendship Night and all members are asked to dress in old-fashioned costumes.

Meeting Held

FILER - Rev. T. J. Johnston was in charge of the devotion at the church and Mrs. Eddis Lammer presented the topic study on the "Lord's Prayer."

The visiting committee reported on a number of calls made to ill and shut-in members, Mrs. Carl Douglas and Mrs. Lammer are on the visiting committee for the coming month.

The group voted to have a "Peace Festival" in November with other organizations of the church assisting.

Mrs. William Zink was a guest. Mrs. Carl Brunkow is hostess for the Oct. 11 meeting at Mrs. Roland Klindt served refreshments.

LOSING COUNT

LOSES MATCH

Another bit of counting that pays off in to count to your contract. When in three no trump, you need nine tricks, not ten.

He will complain about bad luck, and if he is mathematical-minded, he will complain that five missing cards will divide 3-2 some 88 per cent of the time and that he was just unlucky.

Other bridge you can concentrate entirely on the contract. In duplicate there may be occasion when you will risk your contract for an overtrick but most of the time it will his complaint should fall on the contract. Not that it is not bad luck when a key suit divides 4-1 but rather that there was no reason for South to lose his contract.

All South had to do would be to count to nine before playing. Then he would see that five diamond tricks were enough for his contract and that could insure these five tricks by simply overtricking his partner of diamonds with dummy's king. This would cost him an overtrick if diamonds broke 3-2 but this is one hand where overtricks should be left to others. South should be happy to be in three no-trump and should make sure of his contract whether playing for money, marbles, match points or chalk.

pay to follow the rubber bridge practice—Make sure of your contract, then go after overtricks. South wins the spade opening in his own hand. He looks at the nice long diamond suit in dummy and proceeds to go after it. If South doesn't bother to count to nine, he will let his queen of diamonds hold the second lead of that suit. East will show out and South will be held to three diamond tricks. Since there is no way for him to collect more than four tricks in the other suits, we will be down

Checking Up

By L. M. BOYD

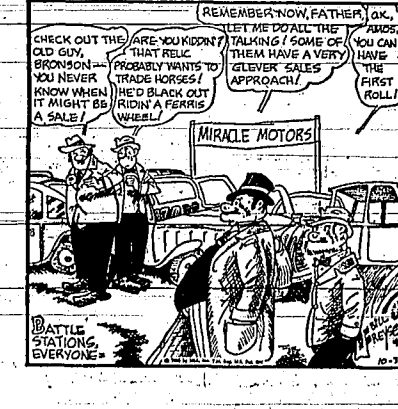

Older Women Tend To Bear Girls, New Survey Indicates

The older the expectant mother, the likelier she will bear a girl, according to a new survey by a Boston restaurateur advertised. "Want-ed" — Hostess, sophisticated enough to be worth $175 a week, but naive enough to accept $100. . . . Find it fascinating that the men who hold down two jobs nationwide outnumber the women who are out there are out of work. . . . "Carly Grant's favorite food used to be tripe," writes a friendly Manhattan editor, "but he has not expressed much respect for your comments lately." . . . Please note the crime clock now shows some little stinker steals a car every 48 seconds.

No. 1 on that list of songs once played so often they got to be obnoxious was "The Music Goes Round and Round." No. 2 was "Tippy Tippy Tin." No. 3 was "Three Little Fishes." No songs since then — not even "Cry," "Hound Dog" or "Want to Hold Your Hand" — have equaled them as irritants. They topped the nation's nonsense tunes at about the same time "servus" broke down was the nation's commonest household phrase, and if that is not significant, what is?

If a girl named Margaret is tall and easy-going, she is frequently called Maggie. But if she's short and temperamental, she is apt to be called Maggie. If a girl named Elizabeth is tall and easy-going, she is frequently called Beth. But if she's short and temperamental, she is apt to be called Beth. . . . Remarkable how many lively little women are addressed as Maggie and Liz. Your questions and comments are welcomed and will be used wherever possible in "Checking Up." Address mail to L. M. Boyd, in care of P. O. Box seven states from there. A. 99187, Seattle, Wash. 98189.

Miss Heilesen, Cook Exchange Nuptial Promise

Wanda Mae Heilesen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Heilesen, Rigby, was married to H. Richard Cook, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey M. Cook, Twin Falls, in rites Sept. 21 at the Rigby First and Fourth Ward. The double ring ceremony was performed by Bishop Clyde Walker before a rare setting of brown and orange highlighted with yellow. Mrs. Geraldine Smith played the traditional wedding music.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of lace over satin and carried a bouquet of orange and yellow chrysanthemums.

Bridal attendants included Christian Beshover, Idaho Falls; Janice Cook, Twin Falls, and Marilyn Heilesen, Los Angeles, Calif.

Dennis Cook, Twin Falls, served as best man for his brother. Ushers included Michel Totoki, Salt Lake City; George Detweiler, Twin Falls, and Merle Morgan, Idaho Falls. The wedding was held for the couple at Walker Cafe and a reception at the Rigby Fourth Ward.

The couple will reside in Salt Lake City.

Miss Sanders, Johnson Wed In Temple Rites

SPRINGDALE—The Salt Lake City LDS Temple was the setting for the Aug. 30 wedding of Darlene Sanders, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ross Sanders, Clearfield, Utah, and Edward Johnson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fredrick Johnson, Springdale.

The double ring ceremony was performed by Elder LeGrand Richards.

Relatives accompanying the couple to the temple were their parents and Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Hurd, grandparents of the bridegroom. Mrs. Robinson, grandmother of the bride, Clearfield; Mr. and Mrs. Leon Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. George D. Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph K. West, all Springdale, and Mr. and Mrs. John Boyd, Milwaukie, Wis.

Receptions for the couple were held Aug. 30 in Clearfield and Aug. 31 in Springdale.

Joan Johnson, sister-in-law of the bridegroom, registered the guests and gifts were arranged by Mrs. Joseph Van Leuven and Mrs. Ralph West, aunts of the couple.

The bridal party greeted guests before the silvered background, flanked by bouquets of orchid chrysanthemums, blue carnations and huckleberry enhanced with purple leaves.

The bride wore a floor-length empire-styled wedding gown featuring a rounded neckline, longly point sleeves and a chapel train falling from the shoulders. Her shoulder-length veil of nylon net was held by a crown of emeralds and pearls edged with seed pearls. She carried a bouquet of purple baby orchids centered with white carnations and tied with satin streamers.

Teresa Sanders, sister of the bride, was maid of honor, with Mrs. Joseph Chalmers, Hene Sanders, Delia Hurd, Johnson and Norma Johnson as bridesmaids. Flower girl was Judie Chalmers, niece of the bride.

Leon Johnson, brother of the bridegroom, served as best man, with Gary Johnson, Jack Johnson and Larry Sanders as ushers.

The cake was cut and served by Mrs. Ray Freymiller and Mrs. Rox Wrigley, aunts of the bridegroom. Others assisting were Ruth Goetsche, Mrs. Joseph Beck, Mrs. DeWayne Clayton and Mrs. Nilo Mitchell.

Serving the guests were Ann Hurd, Darin Hurd, Linda Scholer, Aloha Fillmore, Catherine Johnson and Penny Burgess.

Gerald Hurd was master of ceremonies for the program.

The couple will attend Brigham Young University this fall, both majoring in music theory.

Mrs. Chloé Sanders, grandmother of the bride, and Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Hurd, grandparents of the bridegroom, were guests.

SWENSEN'S MAGIC MKTS. PROUDLY INTRODUCE THE

1969 BANANA

MAXWELL-HOUSE

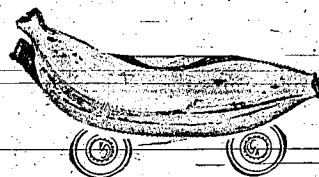

COFFEE

- DRIP
- REGULAR
- or PERK

3 LBS $1.69

The new high-compression super-charged 1969 bananas are now on display at Swensen's Magic Mkts. It's true, they don't look much different than the 1967 Banana, or the 1931 Banana for that matter, but you have to get down underneath the skin to appreciate the improvements. Available in three models, the hard green horned, the green tip gimcracker, and the golden yellow. The new thing about the 1969 Banana is that while the price of everyone else's 1969 models have gone up, you can still buy Bananas at Swensen's for 10c-lb.

NO TRADEINS ACCEPTED.
We have plenty of used bananas already.
