Vietnamese Coup Against Thieu Said Thwarted

SAIGON (AP) — A coup aimed against President Nguyen Van Thieu's government was thwarted Tuesday night, a highly reliable government source said today.

The report of the attempted uprising followed by hours a government announcement that South Vietnam's armed forces were on full alert. The official spokesman claimed no knowledge of a coup attempt.

But the source, who is in a position to know, told The Associated Press: "You can expect a lot of people to be arrested in the next few days, all as a result of the coup attempt that failed."

Other informed sources said several high ranking Vietnamese marine officers—major and colonels—had already been arrested. A source close to marine commandant, Lt. Gen. Nguyen Khanh, said he knew of no such arrests.

Intelligence sources said there had been "some troop movements" in the Mekong Delta, Tuesday and that "proper movements" had been taken with other troops.

There apparently was no actual shooting, these informants said.

A source in Thieu's office said this was in the police tonight. This source said he knew nothing about a coup attempt.

The government source who told of the coup attempt still was fuzzy and that it was not yet known who was behind it or how widespread it was. From all indications, it did not get far.

The report that "proper movements" were arrested could indicate that Gen. Khanh, a political ally of Vice President Nguyen Can Ky, might have been involved. This could not be confirmed.

Priest Sees U.S. Policy As 'Genocide'

BALTIMORE, Md. (AP) — "Civil disobedience for the most part comes from the gospel," the Rev. Father Berrigan, a Roman Catholic priest, testified today at his trial for helping draft board records.

United States action in Vietnam is "a deliberate destruction of a racial, political or cultural group," the priest told a U. S. District Court judge and jury.

He was the second of nine Catholic defendants to testify at the third day of the trial.

Father Berrigan was asked in a series of questions by lawyer Harold Buchman, to explain why he participated in removing and destroying with dynamite and air force units in and around Saigon, apparently because of political easiness.

Military sources said the U. S. troops shift had been planned some time ago. U. S. spokesmen said the transfer of the 82nd Airborne troops was aimed at re-aligning some American units and a brigade of the U. S. 25th Infantry Division, now under operational control of the Capital Military Assistance Command, to return to the control of its division.

The 3rd Brigade of the 82nd, about 4,000 men, is replacing the 25th Division brigade. The infantry units are moving farther out along the border and approaches northwest of Saigon in the outer ring of defense around Saigon.

Speakers, waves of U. S. B-52 Stratofortresses roared over the southern fringes of North Vietnam Tuesday to lay protective shields of bombs around American Marines sweeping through the demilitarized zone.

Troopers Alerted At Saigon

SAIGON (AP) — Paratroopers of the U. S. 82nd Airborne Division have moved into the Saigon military district to protect the city's western flank against enemy attack, military spokesmen announced Wednesday.

The announcement followed an order from the South Vietnamese government alerting all government army and air force units in and around Saigon, apparently because of political easiness.

Campaign Against Bad Checks Is Planned

A plan designed to cut the number of bad checks passed in Twin Falls County is being snatched up by Robert Galley, assistant Twin Falls County prosecutor, it was learned Wednesday.

Mr. Galley said he will present the plan to county businessmen, banks, mail and interested persons on Wednesday.

In outlining the plan to the Times-News Wednesday, Mr. Galley said, "It requires the concerted effort of every businessman in the county. With cooperation the loss to business can be cut and the public can spend more money and with less cost that come about by bad checks."

"I said it is almost impossible to determine the monthly or annual loss due to bad checks, but said an estimate 60 to 100 bad check complaints come to my attention each month."

This does not include the number of bad checks that go unreported, he said.

"A bad check is a check issued by a person who has no intent of ever paying the face amount of the check, or by a person who does not have an account in the bank," he said.

He said his plan does not involve the citizen who overdrafts, either with or without intent.

"We find in the prosecutor's office that the citizen who overdrafts is not the person who is intent to defraud a business."

Mr. Galley added, "We are after the person who is trying to get something for nothing, and we are also trying to protect both the businessman and the public."

Mr. Galley said his plan is simple, and "is one that has been used in various forms to the public before."

A customer should not be embarrassed when asked to produce identification, he said. "Proper identification and nearly 70 per cent of our bad check problem in the county,"

Al Westergren Is New T-N Publisher

Al Westergren has been named publisher of the Times-News, succeeding Jack Maloney, who resigned to accept the position of vice president-marketing for Rogers Brothers Co.'s Food Products Division, it was announced Wednesday.

Mr. Westergren has been business manager of the newspaper since 1961.

The new publisher has been with the Times-News since the fall of 1923, when he moved to Twin Falls from Portland, Ore., shortly after being graduated from the University of Oregon.

He grew up in Astoria, Ore., and had been connected with the newspaper there, the Astoria Budget. While attending the University of Oregon, Mr. Westergren was on the varsity basketball team in 1925, 1926 and 1927. He was an All-Coaches selection three years and was named to the 1926 All-American college basketball squad.

Since coming to Twin Falls, Mr. Westergren has been active in sports and church affairs. He is a charter member of Blue Takes County Club. He and his wife, Virginia, live at 450 Buchanan St. They have a son, Gary (Knute), who now lives in Toronto, Canada.

"I am sorry to see Jack Maloney leave," said the new publisher, "but his promotion was announced, and it is a challenging opportunity for him and I wish him every success. I have enjoyed working with him, and his departure will be a personal loss to me, as well as a loss to the city of Twin Falls."

"It will be my effort to do my best to make the Times-

U.S. Trout Farmers Open Meet In T.F.

The United States Trout Farmers Association opened its 16th annual convention Wednesday at the Holiday Inn in Twin Falls.

Approximately 500 people were expected as registration continued Wednesday.

Bob Myers, McHenry, Ill., chairman of the board, called the convention to order Wednesday morning and Bob Corey, Montrose, Colo., president, addressed the group. Management and advertising reports filled out the balance of the morning.

The three special speakers during the afternoon session were Dr. Harold K. Hagen, Colorado State University, whose title was "Values in Aquatic Weed Control," Paul Duplin, Idaho Fish and Game Department, "Performance Evaluation of Chilean Miners in Idaho Open Formula Diet," and Dr. Ernest Salo, University of Washington, "Who will speak on 'Raising Trout in Salt Water.'"

'Heart Of The Home'

On Sunday, Oct. 20, read what 30 Magic Valley women think about their profession — homemaking.

"She is a woman; a household necessity, the heart of the home," states Alice M. Reed, Extension Home Economics Editor, in an essay that begins the special "Homemakers" Edition.

The 30 local women were chosen by major Magic Valley organizations to represent homemaking. These representatives were interviewed and photographed in their homes, and their thoughts and pictures were transferred to the pages of the special edition.

Included in the edition are many "how to" articles — how to sew, how to knit, how to cook, how to clean, how to decorate. There are fashion recipes, and decorating comments from the power of new wallpaper patterns to the practicality of kitchen carpets. And there's a feature on the pros and cons of a husband's presence in the delivery room during the child's birth.

Designed primarily for youth, we hope the "Homemakers" Edition will prove interesting and educational.

Soft-Coal Miners Strike As New Contract Drafted

WASHINGTON (AP) — Thousands of miners went on strike against the nation's 22-state soft-coal industry today, as their old contract expired with a new one reportedly on the bargaining table awaiting finishing touches.

The ranks of more than 40,000 United Mine Workers already on strike for a week were swelled as the midnight expiration passed and more stoppages were expected with subsequent shifts.

The 40,000—about half the UMW membership covered under the old pact—walked off the job a week ago claiming that was the true expiration date. Most of those stoppages occurred in Pennsylvania, West Virginia, Ohio, Illinois, and Kentucky.

The new walkouts came after tentative agreement reached on the old pact's biggest wage and fringe benefit increases in UMW history.

Sources here worked out the agreement with the UMW—President W. A. "Tony" Boyle and George Judy, president of the Bituminous Coal Operators' Association—meeting alone in a head-to-head bargaining session that started more than a week ago.

The two broke off their talks more than six hours before the strike deadline, arranging to meet again today to wrap up the loose ends.

The agreement, however, needs approval first of some 30 industry officials representing major firms and groups Thursday morning and the union's wage policy committee.

The union traditionally has observed a "no contract, no work" policy making today's stoppages inevitable, although the union has not officially called a strike.

"They've wrapped up everything with the exception of one or two items," one source said after a meeting of the Boyle-Judy meetings.

But "whether the executive board of the industry association will go for it is something else," said this source.

The contract reportedly probably would be Monday.

between eyewitnesses and police, and among eyewitnesses themselves, as to what actually happened to provoke the shooting of Elijah Bennett, 27.

Acting Police Chief Jerry V. Wilson said the officer, Pvt. David A. Roberts, was riding his motorcycle to the scene of an accident when he saw a truck stopped in 14th street blowing a horn at a man crossing in front of it.

When he reached the curb, Wilson said, Roberts asked the patrolman then parked his motorcycle and walked up to the man, the acting chief said, telling him "Sir, I want to talk to you."

"At that point, Wilson related, the man struck Roberts in the shoulder, still saying nothing, then pummelled the officer's face on the forehead. Wilson said he was losing consciousness, drew his pistol and fired once, the acting chief said.

One eyewitness, Interior Department Clerk Leroy Marshall, told the Washington Post that after Roberts had parked his cycle, he grabbed the man by the arm.

The man wrenched his arm away, slapping Roberts across the face in the process, Marshall said, and the officer pushed him back, stepped backwards himself, bent to one knee and fired.

Humanist Gets Prize For Peace

OSLO, Norway (AP) — The 1968 Nobel Peace Prize was awarded today to Rene Cassin, an 81-year-old Frenchman who is president of the European Council of Human Rights.

This was the first time in three years that the Nobel Committee of the Norwegian Storting (parliament) has agreed there was a suitable candidate for the prize.

Cassin will receive a gold medal and approximately $70,000 from the fund set up in the will of Alfred Nobel, the Swedish inventor of dynamite.

The last person to receive the prestigious award was the late Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. in 1964. There were no awards in 1966 and 1967.

Following tradition, the committee gave no specific reason for the selection of Cassin. But the reason "will come out" in speeches of tribute in the award ceremony in December.

Cassin comes from Dayone, Colo. He has been president of the French League of Nations since 1924 to 1938. Cassin was a member of the French delegation to the League of Nations. He was legal adviser to the Free French forces in World War II.

Bomb Threat Closes School At Wendell

WENDELL—Wendell students started their holiday for Tuesday by attending a day early Wednesday because of a bomb threat.

Students in both the high school and elementary schools were sent home Wednesday morning upon their arrival at the school grounds because of a bomb threat.

Police were investigating the incident at present time.

Bulletin

KIMBERLY — Schools at Kimberly were closed Tuesday at 1 p. m. Wednesday when a bomb threat was called in. Police were investigating the incident at present time.

A telephone call to the high school office earlier in the morning, indicating a bomb had been placed somewhere in the buildings.

Supt. Lawrence LaRue said since the caller did not say in which building the supposed bomb had been placed, was decided to not allow any students inside.

Sheriff Bill Bunn searched both buildings and nothing was found. The schools were scheduled to close Thursday and Friday so teachers can attend IEA sessions in Boise.

New Riot Jolts Nation's Capital

WASHINGTON (AP) — A neighborhood still bearing the scars of last April's riots was hit by a brief but violent racial disorder Tuesday night after a white policeman killed a Negro man he had stopped for jaywalking.

Helmets police moved in quickly to saturate the slum neighborhood after word spread rapidly on the streets that a man had been "shot for jaywalking."

Moving from corner to corner in shotgun-armed cars, they fired tear gas to disperse crowds of 250 persons or less in the half-dozen blocks of 14th street just north of U Street.

This is an area whose honky-tonk character disappeared behind damage-hiding sheets of plywood in the wake of the riots following the assassination of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.

Tuesday's damage was confined to one first-streeted three-story auto supply store, and two dozen or so smashed windows, notably those in the showroom of an automobile display room.

By midnight, the streets had been cleared of all but a few stone-throwers, but were littered with glass, bricks and overturned rubble from April, and cleared trash cans. Only one arrest was reported.

Hollywood Star Joel McCrea Due Here Thursday As Part Of GOP Happening

Joel McCrea, who became famous as a soft-pedaling cowpoke from Oklahoma, will ride into Twin Falls Thursday and speak at a Richard Nixon-George H. W. Bush Republican rally.

The rally is set at 8 p. m. at the American Legion Hall.

GOP officials have tagged the rally a happening.

Mr. McCrea will be given a key to the city and will tour the Magic Valley area, Mr. McCrea said.

McCrea speaks with a deep, southern voice familiar to movie fans. Seven years ago he visited Twin Falls with another cowboy hero, Randolph Scott, and the two got into a friendly discussion about the raising of cattle. Both men raise cattle ranches near Los Angeles.

It was just last Sunday that "Fort Massacre" was shown on television in the Magic Valley area. Mr. McCrea starred with Forrest Tucker in a shoot-out, gun-battle moment in episode of the series.

McCrea portrayed a hard-bitten cavalry sergeant who did not like Indians.

It was one of the few villain parts he played in his 40 years in Hollywood.

Thursday's appearance in Twin Falls is not designed as a special interest in the election since he is a property owner in the state.

Rep. Hansen will speak following Mr. McCrea's remarks. Frank Long, president of the local Young Republicans, will act as master of ceremonies.

An informal reception will be held at 7 p. m. so the public can meet and talk with Mr. McCrea and Rep. Hansen.

Following the talks entertainment will be provided by local musicians and refreshments will be served.

McCrea emphasized that the event is for all Magic Valley people.

Spain Severs Last Links To World's Newest Nation

SANTA ISABEL, Equatorial Guinea (AP)—As of Saturday, this will be the world's newest country, under the name Republic of Equatorial Guinea. Spain is cutting its last ties to a territory in West Africa which has fewer than 400,000 inhabitants, perhaps one-fourth of them residents who came to pick coconor to escape the civil war in Nigeria.

Equatorial Guinea, not to be confused with Portuguese Guinea, comprises an island called Fernando Poo and a piece of the mainland of West Africa 150 miles away, not far from the area where Dr. Albert Schweitzer founded his hospital.

Most of the wealth is planted on this volcanic island, 35 miles long. Most of the people are on the poorly developed mainland in a province known as Rio Muni. The total area of the two provinces is about that of Vermont.

The people are known as Bubi, pronounced boo-bees, and as Fangs and Fernandinos.

It won't be easy to take the Spain out of Guinea.

You cannot eat lunch before 2 p.m. nor dinner before 8, unless you frequent what the expatriates derisively call "Miami American places" overlooking the port. You can't get anything done between 12:30 p.m. and 4.

At night you watch American cowboys speaking Spanish over the television station inaugurated a few months ago.

A massive plaza in Santa Isabel has the custom statue of a noble-looking Spaniard in the shadow of a twin-towered cathedral, the residents proudly say is Africa's only Gothic church.

It is not surprising that the British, Mexico or Spain itself except that the pace is slower. Friends dawdle over dominos and San Miguel beer and old copies of Spanish papers.

The island spills down off a volcano that is the apparent little brother of Mt. Cameroon on the mainland. Vegetation is lush.

There are cocoa, coffee and timber. Total exports in 1968 were $27.3 million, all but 3 percent of them going to Spain.

Until this year the colony went about its business undisturbed, linked to the outside world only by a Morse code signal—telegrams to New York are more than a dollar a word—and a fading telephone circuit to Madrid. Communications have not improved but now you need reservations for dinner and getting a hotel room is difficult.

First, Nigeria's war spilled thousands of the tribesmen onto the island, bringing the Nigerian and Biafran total to about 100,000.

80 per cent Ibo. Nigerians have traditionally worked the fields under contracts.

Then as Port Harcourt fell, Mobil Oil moved its substantial exploratory operation over to Santa Isabel. Gulf Oil also has installations on the island.

Next the Red Cross mounted an airlift to Bifara, with more than a hundred Europeans taking part. As independence neared, United Nations officials and observers came in to supervise a series of elections.

The common language is a mix, with English running close behind Spanish and not too far ahead of French for dominance in the polyglot.

Practically nothing happened for 300 years after three Portuguese explorers found the place about 1470. Portugal ceded the island to Spain in 1778. The first Spanish expedition fizzled out.

In the early 1800s, as Spain's empire diminished, the British made the island a West African squadron station, depositing freed slaves that eventually became the Fernandinos.

In 1843 Spain sent another expedition, this time reclaiming Fernando Poo and arranging a treaty with mainland tribes. Spain claimed a vast coastal area in 1888 but couldn't make it stick and was cut back to present boundaries when Europe divided up Africa a few years later. The provinces were combined in 1959.

The president, elected 10 days ago, is Francisco Macias, 40, a landowner.

Fernando Poo is also known as Fernando Po, which is found Tuesday on the Nevada desert about two miles from the shallow common grave of two slain Wyoming businessmen, Sheriff George Allen said.

Allen said the man found in the shallow grave 15 miles east of Dayton was definitely the victim of murder, although he said he doesn't believe the case is related to the slaying of the two Wyoming businessmen.

"It's a homicide," Allen said. "They don't go out there and bury themselves—not with holes in their heads—anyway." He said bullet holes were found in the back and front of the skull.

3 Men Charged With Importing Autos Illegally

NEW YORK (AP)—The first indictment charging importation of automobiles in violation of federal anti-smog laws was handed up by a federal grand jury Monday.

It accused three men of possessing small foreign cars which gave off more pollutants than federal law permits.

The indictment charged that the cars, not intended for American sale, had been fraudulently imported as intended for personal use and not for resale, to save import duty.

The cars imported through normal legal channels are equipped with smog suppressing devices to meet federal exhaust emission standards.

Brinkley Rakes Chicago Tactics

PRINCETON, N.J. (AP)—NBC newscaster David Brinkley told an audience of 550 students at Princeton University Tuesday night that "the American people are being told a myth that what they saw happen in Chicago during the Democratic Convention did not really happen."

The newscaster said Chicago officials were accusing network television of "visual trickery" to make police look bad during demonstrations outside the convention.

"The truth is that some of the demonstrators were pretty obnoxious, but even if they did everything that Chicago City Hall has accused them of, that would still not justify all the brutality, the viciousness and the savagery of Mayor Richard Daley's police," he said.

President of the Girls' Athletic Association is Peggy Bulfers.

SEATS HAVE BEEN placed in the new College of Southern Idaho fine arts center as workmen continue toward an Oct. 30 construction deadline. Most major work is complete on the facility, expected to be completed before the deadline.

The building was scheduled to be completed by Sept. 30, but an extension of 30 days was granted to the contractors. An open house is planned when the facility is complete, but a date has not yet been set.

Physician Is Needed At Hazelton

HAZELTON—The dire need for a physician was the primary topic for discussion when the Hazelton City Council convened Monday evening at the city hall.

Since the death of Hazelton's only doctor, Dr. Harvard Luke, the council feels the responsibility to its citizens to obtain another doctor as soon as possible to take over his extensive practice. Mayor Bill Pressley states that office space is available in the Valley Medical Center just constructed in 1967.

The members aired complaints of city water users concerning the accuracy of meter readings. Possible means for checking the readings more correctly were discussed.

The councilmen expressed satisfaction of the townspeople with the performance of the new night patrolman, Wayne Davis.

U.S. Urges Reds Show Peace Signs

PARIS (AP) — U.S. Ambassador W. Averell Harriman has been modified, and he re-called on North Vietnam Wednesday to display some sign of a serious wish to scale down the war and begin "fruitful peace talks."

The envoy's statement to newsmen before entering the 25th session of the conference on Vietnam seemed to indicate a shift in emphasis in the U.S. position although Harriman said there has been no change in the basic principles.

The American diplomat had been asked if the U.S. position

School Unrest Said Result Of Many Items

SALT LAKE CITY (AP) — Teacher militancy is caused by a number of factors, delegates to the National Association of State Boards of Education meeting were told Tuesday.

Dr. Herbert F. Johnson, associate commissioner of finance of the New York Department of Education, said the causes include:

—Desire of public employees to have the rights of privately employed persons.

—Desire for professional status and to participate in policy making.

—Increasing numbers of men teachers — especially those with families — who need more pay.

—Rivalry between the National Education Association and the American Federation of Teachers.

—Increasing cost of education. Johnson said the state boards should explain these causes to their people.

George D. Fischer, president-elect of the National Education Association, proposed enactment of statutes to permit creation of commissions of educators to rule on teacher certification.

Robert Pisarski, chief hearing officer of the Michigan Labor Mediation Board, said "if you want education associations running your business, that's your affair, but to me the proposal is illegal."

Pisarski said the plan would give teachers the right to set teacher qualifications.

IMMIGRATION RISES
TEL AVIV (AP) — Ten thousand new immigrants arrived in Israel in the three months ended in mid-September, authorities reported, and 30,000 are expected for 1968—doubling any previous year.

has been modified, and he replied: "We've made it very plain it's the other side that's holding up the negotiations. We've made offer after offer. They've stood firmly and stubbornly on the position which they took when we first met in May."

"It's up to them to meet us, as the President has indicated, (with) some restraint on their part."

"We are of course repeating that, as the President said, he cannot stop the bombing entirely unless he has reason to believe that Hanoi is serious in desiring to have a mutual de-escalation and seriously desiring to have fruitful peace talks."

The United States in the past has sought some assurance from Hanoi that a bomb halt would be matched by Communist military restraint.

But Harriman's words today indicated the United States now would accept an indication that Hanoi seriously desired to scale down the war and to negotiate productively.

There appeared to be a difference of emphasis from the military to the political factors in the situation, judging by Harriman's words.

Leaders of North Vietnam have repeatedly stated a bomb halt would produce "positive effects" in the search for peace.

But in calling for an unconditional cutoff of American attacks they have deliberately avoided defining what those "positive effects" might be.

With Harriman was his deputy, Ambassador Cyrus Vance, who returned shortly before midnight on Tuesday night from Washington where he had been engaged in a top-level review of Vietnam policy.

On the North Vietnamese side today were delegation leader Xuan Thuy and Politburo member Le Duc Tho.

Student Leader Sees Fewer Rights

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A leader of Students for a Democratic Society says less civil disobedience will take place on U.S. campuses this fall.

"The stakes are too high for many students who don't want to be thrown-in-jail-again-or-thrown-out-of-school," Mark Rudd told 150 students Tuesday at California State College.

Instead, he said there will be more street demonstrations and attempts at "disrupting classes where we can't get caught," Rudd said. Formerly headed SDS at Columbia University, he now is a full-time worker for the activist campus group.

New Medical Expert To Meet Growing Child Health Crisis

DENVER, Colo. (AP) — A new kind of medical practitioner will be trained at the University of Colorado Medical School in an attempt to meet an impending crisis in health care for children.

The work will have a range broader than a nurse's but narrower than a doctor's. The workers will meet the medical needs of children who don't require special attention or care for serious ailments.

The new category of medicine it doesn't have a formal name yet is the brainchild of Dr. Henry K. Silver of the medical school's department of pediatrics.

Silver said vast numbers of children already are "receiving grossly inadequate total health care." And, he said, "It's going to get much worse."

He said estimates place the child population of the United States at 70 million by 1980. To provide adequate health care for these children an additional 100,000 pediatricians need to be trained by then, he said. The quota cannot be met even allowing for a drastic increase in the present rate of fewer than 1,000 pediatricians entering practice each year.

Silver's plan will begin to become a reality when the first group of trainees starts classes next summer.

With this specialized training, the new practitioner will be ready to see patients after five years of post-high school study, compared with 11 years to put a pediatrician into practice and nine years for a general practitioner.

"This is not a substitute for a doctor, but entails more actual responsibility than a nurse or some form of medical technician," he explained.

The training period can be shorter, he said, because the courses will be focused mainly on the needs of children. This abbreviated training should make the program attractive to those—such as women who want a medical career along with research or for keeping himself up to date.

Medical societies in Colorado have approved the plan, and an advisory committee from these groups is drawing up enabling legislation to be placed before the Colorado legislature when it convenes in January.

Deadly Month
CHICAGO (AP) — August was the deadliest month in the nation's highway traffic history.

The National Safety Council reported today that 5,280 persons died in August traffic, topping the previous one-month high of 5,160 in December 1967.

August, because of summer vacation traffic, frequently has one of the highest totals, but the council said that August 1968 totaled a 9 per cent increase over August 1967.

Highway deaths totaled 35,230 for the first eight months of 1968, 6 per cent above 1967—when 33,390 persons died in the same period.

Actor Seeks End Of Film Pact
LOS ANGELES (AP) — George Kennedy, who won an Academy Award last April as best supporting actor for his role of the tough-talking, soft-hearted convict in "Cool Hand Luke," wants to end his 1967 contract with Universal City studios.

In a Superior Court suit filed Tuesday, he said the contract doesn't meet provisions of producers-Screen Actors Guild agreements.

The contract calls for Kennedy's appearance in the film, "The Epic of Jostis" and for him to make seven more films for the studio, one each year. The suit did not mention his salary.

Law Panel To Draft Program

BOISE (AP) — Several staff members will be hired by the new Idaho Law Enforcement Planning Commission to begin preparation of a statewide plan for improvement of law enforcement in Idaho.

Working under allocation of $146,980 from the federal government, the commission met for the first time Tuesday, organized itself and decided to hire a coordinator, a correctional planner, an attorney, a secretary and a fiscal administrator.

The federal funds are made available under the Omnibus Crime Control and Safe Streets Act of 1968 and another $15,138 is available for riot control work. The commission authorized its use to finance further training and equipping of riot and crowd control squads.

Some equipment has already been contracted for, including 60 shotguns and six rifles. Training schools are scheduled in the next two months in each state police district in Idaho.

David J. Dehlin, who will continue serving as director of the state Traffic Safety Commission, was named acting director of the new agency, which was created by Gov. Don W. Samuelson by executive order.

Bond Issue Approved By Boiseans

By The Associated Press

Voters in two of Idaho's largest cities differed Tuesday on proposed bond elections — while Boise residents approved a $4.96 million school bond issue, Idaho Falls voters defeated a $1.3 million library bond issue.

Boise property owners voted 9,914 to 2,229 for the school bond, far surpassing the two-thirds majority needed for passage.

The bonds will finance construction of three new grade schools, additions to six junior highs and two high schools and remodeling of a third high school.

The Idaho Falls bond issue was defeated by a 1,942 "no" to 1,297 "yes" vote. It would have financed a new city library.

Mayor Eddie Pedersen said he was not too discouraged because "Historically, it takes about three votes to get a library bond issue passed."

Students Plan Annual Exchange

SARATOGA SPRINGS, N.Y. (AP) — Skidmore College and Colgate University will begin an annual student exchange program in January.

Skidmore, a woman's institution at Saratoga Springs, already has an exchange program with Union College in Schenectady and plans similar programs with other colleges, a spokesman said Tuesday.

Colgate, an all-male school at Hamilton, said the exchange program would mark a step toward eventual coeducation.

Wallace Confirms Boise Appearance

By The Associated Press

Idahoans should give more consideration to senatorial candidates' ability to represent the state then to their views on ending the Vietnam war, Sen. Frank Church, D, told the Idaho Press Club Tuesday.

"Everyone has a different notion on how we should conduct the war in Vietnam," he said. "But in the end the military reaction there will be decided by the president and his generals, not by an Idaho senator," he added.

Church said he believed the endorsement of his opponent, Rep. George Hansen, R, by Wallace's party won't aid Hansen.

George Hansen said in Boise. His opponent, State Rep. Darrell Manning, blasted red tape in federal medical programs such as medicare.

Medical men and women, he said, the Idaho Falls Medical Association, "could better serve the high purpose of their profession if they were freed from filling out forms."

The 1st Dist. Democratic congressional candidate, Compton James A. McClure's voting record in the State Senate and in Congress has shown "a lack of compassion for people" and a "negative philosophy about the Federal government."

Polls Have Him In Front, But Orval Hansen Is Working Hard

By FRED DODDS
Times-News Staff Writer

Orval Hansen is deep in his 1968 quest for a seat in Congress and the polls in Idaho have him out in front with less than a month to go.

How does it feel to be out in front? This question was posed by the Times-News this week in an interview. Mr. Hansen answered by smiling confidently and blushing a little. He blushes a lot, but that is his nature.

The poll mentioned was one taken by newsmen in Idaho's Second Congressional District. It shows Mr. Hansen ahead with 57 per cent of the vote. He is trailed by Darrell Manning, a Democrat, and Joel Anderson, an independent. Mr. Anderson has an estimated three per cent of the vote in the district, and that leaves Mr. Manning with 40 per cent.

However, the polls do not elect a candidate, and Mr. Hansen is well aware of this.

"I'm working hard for election. I get up at about 3 a. m. every day and darkness has fallen long before I quit."

But Mr. Hansen is working hard in a quiet way. He believes—the road-to-victory lies in discussion of the issues, "not in name calling."

"Discussion of the issues is something he's good at. He's been an Idaho legislator for 10 years and is a graduate of the University of Idaho with a 4.0 grade average.

The issues, he feels, are violence in America; the dollar crisis; the farm problem in Idaho; and the development of Idaho through expansion of its economy.

On the latter, Mr. Hansen has a hard-hitting plan that leaves the realm of politics and enters the field of hard news. Something every newsman wants from a politician.

In explaining his hopes for year improvement in Idaho, Mr. Hansen said, "Idaho needs in Congress a recruiter, a salesman."

If elected, he would propose that all four Idaho representatives in Washington (two senators, two congressmen) from Idaho be expected to deal with trying to get government contracts for Idaho.

"This person could—I think—through all the government contracts which ones are suited for Idaho, then get Idaho firms to bid on those contracts. If we secure only one contract, we have improved the economic base of Idaho because we have brought an outside dollar into the state."

He said he would also like to see business move into Idaho, and added, "I will work hard in Congress to elect to see that this is done. Idaho needs new business."

He was asked if Idaho's farm bloc might fight the importation of new business.

"No. The farmer wants new business here as much as anyone else. We've got a lot of things to offer and any money brought into Idaho helps just that much more. It doesn't make any sense if you're a farmer or a dentist."

He said he would like to see the young people remain in Idaho rather than look outside the state for employment as they are forced to do at the present time.

Hansen's wife is a former British actress who likes to move around the state with her husband.

"I'm more familiar with American politics than I am with British politics, and I must say it is very, very interesting."

ORVAL HANSEN — running hard for Congressional post

Indeed," she smiled at the interview. In 1964 she visited more than 6,000 homes, campaigning for her husband in his bid for Congress.

The Hansens have seven children, the youngest eight months and the oldest 11 years.

Mr. Hansen is a Republican running on the national GOP platform. He supports Richard Nixon and Spiro Agnew, and said he feels the GOP is strong and well organized nationally and in Idaho.

"Mr. Nixon has been able to reverse the losing trend we had in 1964, and he has been able to draw the party together. He is skillful and a good candidate for president," Mr. Hansen said.

The Idaho Falls candidate believes that George Wallace might get as much as 15 per cent of the vote in Idaho.

"Asked if the Independent Party vote would hurt or help him in November, he only blushed again.

He blushes a lot. But that is his nature. He also thinks a lot, and that is his nature. He said he feels it is time for a change on the national scene."

Dancer Plans Stroll To Stop Eyes Of Clerks

BALTIMORE, Md. (AP) — Jeanne Calroti, 50-26-38, thinks she can top the other attractions in the bust-watching craze that has Wall Street agog.

"I feel they're not so big-gor," she says. "I think I'm bigger."

Miss Calroti, an Argentine exotic dancer with the stage name of Miss Wow Wow, would like to walk down Wall Street "just to prove to myself that I'm better than the other ones."

But New York city watchers will have to wait because she's booked through November.

"Miss Calroti doesn't think it's ridiculous that 5,000 businessmen should crane their necks to look at a big-busted girl. I think a nice looking girl with a big bust could stop anybody in the world."

Vatican Honors Death Of Pius XII

VATICAN CITY (AP) — The Roman Catholic Church today commemorated the 10th anniversary of the death of Pius XII.

A decade after he died at the age 82 he is still criticized by some for his World War II conduct. Others are promoting his cause for beatification, which may eventually lead to his proclamation as a saint.

Pope Paul VI who for many years was Pius' aide and predecessor in the Vatican Secretariat of State set today aside for special memorial services, including a Mass in the grove below St. Peter's Basilica at Pius tomb.

TATTOOS URGED

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP) — Dr. Christian N. Barnard said Monday he picked up a good idea while visiting in South Africa: People willing to have organs used for transplant after death should indicate this by having a symbol tattooed on the soles of their feet.

Fast 'Pickup' Sun-Valley Convention Of Soft Drink Officials Set

EAST BRUNSWICK, N.J. (AP) — Volunteer fireman Will Germain was John Newman on the spot Tuesday while on a door-to-door fund drive in conjunction with fire prevention week.

Mrs. Charles Newman gave him $5 for the Old Bridge Fire Company. Then she smoked a cigarette in her kitchen and discovered the cabinets were on fire.

Germain grabbed a pot off the stove, filled it with water and doused the cabinets.

Members of the Utah-Idaho-Montana Soft Drink Association will gather in Sun Valley Thursday to begin a three-day convention.

Speakers will include John Campbell, western district director of the United States Brewers Association with offices in Salt Lake City.

—He is a former New York City truck driver, a Colorado River guide, an Alaska gold miner, a band leader, newspaper reporter, and was once night city editor for the Desert News in Salt Lake City.

During World War II he served in a tank battalion in the South Pacific.

Before joining the Brewers Association in 1958 he was a director of the Utah Tourist and Publicity Council.

Idaho Official Asks Jury Probe Into Elections

POCATELLO (AP) — A Bannock County commissioner has urged that a grand jury be called to investigate alleged irregularities in the conduct of the primary election for a county assessor.

The state attorney general's office recently re-counted all votes in the county for the assessor and found that Democrat Ralph Lacey defeated Lyle Anderson by two votes for the nomination.

Commissioner Lawrence Lystrup Monday asked District Judge Arthur P. Oliver about calling a grand jury — and was told one could be impaneled after a petition was filed showing "good cause" for the jury.

Senate Panel To Hold Hearing

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Special Committee on Aging will conduct a hearing in Ogden Oct. 24, Sen. Frank E. Moss, D-Utah, announced Tuesday.

Moss said he would conduct the hearing on the usefulness of the model cities program to the elderly.

Moss conducted hearings in Washington, D.C., in July.

Man Found Guilty Of Carrying Gun

NEW YORK (AP) — Gary B. De Dell, a Syracuse, N. Y., printing executive, has been found guilty of illegal possession of a pistol at the funeral of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy.

A three-judge panel in Central Court returned the verdict Tuesday. He was continued free in $2,000 bail, pending sentencing Nov. 13. De Dell, 39, faces a possible prison sentence of one year and a $1,000 fine.

Woman, 116, Tells Of Life Under Slavery

NEW YORK (AP) — A woman who says she'll be 116 years old next month recalls "the worst" time of her life — being a slave — when she first came North for a job.

"The whites still had all the say-so," Mrs. Alice Peyton Brown, known as Mother Brown in Harlem, where she resides, told an interviewer she was born in a log cabin 12 miles from Lexington, Va., in 1852.

She was freed after the war, and later, when her 25th came to New York to do domestic work. "The hell began when we reached New York," she recalled. "Life was not peaches and cream. . . . All I knew was work."

Commander Vetoes Order On Saluting

SAIGON (AP) — The commander of the U.S. 4th Infantry Division withdrew today his order that soldiers who failed to salute be sent into combat. Cancellation of the order was announced in Washington Tuesday after officials admitted that the Army had been embarrassed by its disclosure. Maj. Gen. Charles P. Stone, division commander, was quoted by a spokesman in Saigon as saying that the order was rescinded because of "widespread misinterpretation." The salute-or-light order appeared in the division's daily bulletin on Sept. 7. But a spokesman said it had been in existence since February and that the bulletin announcement was only a reminder of the order. It said that men in rear-base areas who did not salute would be sent forward areas. Four soldiers were sent to combat zones under the order before Sept. 7, a spokesman said, and another four had been sent since. There was no indication in Washington as to who acted to get the order canceled. But a statement from the Pentagon indicated the problem was thrown into the lap of the U.S. commander in Vietnam, Gen. Creighton W. Abrams. The statement said, "The Army considers this a matter of concern for the local command." Stone said Monday that the order came "only after a flagrant violation of the custom of saluting superior officers." "Most often," he said, a soldier "is counseled on the spot and he may or may not be referred to his unit commander for additional training or other appropriate action." The 4th Division has its headquarters at Camp Enari, just inside Pleiku, the central highlands. It numbers about 15,000 men.

Nixon Worth Half-Million, Aide Reveals

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (AP) — An aide to Richard M. Nixon said Tuesday the presidential hopeful has personal wealth of just over a half million dollars. The information had been requested by the Chicago Tribune newspaper, supplied by Roy Ziegler, a Nixon press aide, during a campaign appearance here. Assets of the former vice president were listed as $553,180, according to Nixon's business manager, and liabilities were given as $24,300. The bulk of Nixon's wealth is in undeveloped land in Florida. This accounts for $401,325 of the candidate's $515,830 total net worth. Other assets include the family home in Whittier, Calif., at $110,000 market value and a New York City cooperative apartment worth $118,855. Most of Nixon's liabilities are in bank loans and mortgages secured by real estate. Ziegler said Nixon has bank accounts totaling $39,385—according to business manager Vincent Andrew—and life insurance policies with a cash value of $16,957. His civil service retirement benefits for service in the House of Representatives and Senate are worth $18,000. In addition, Nixon's interest in his New York law practice is valued at $45,000. Personal property of the Nixon's is estimated at $60,000.

2 Utahns Cited In Economy Drive

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson cited 10 persons and six organizations today for their contributions to what the Pentagon says was a $1.2 billion savings through various economy measures in fiscal 1968. Among those cited were two persons in Utah. The Pentagon said Alfred A. Agee of Hill Air Force Base saved $2 million by developing a container to cut transportation costs for bomb fin assemblies. John Gerritson, a sheet metal worker for the Defense Supply Agency Depot at Ogden, was credited with spotting and fixing a design defect which caused malfunctions in warehouse door assemblies.

Burglars Hit Police Officer

NEW YORK (AP) — Councilman Joseph Modugno wrote a letter Tuesday to Police Commissioner Howard Leary saying "that things are getting so bad and the criminals so brazen that even the homes of police captains are being burglarized." Modugno, a Queens Republican, said Capt. Charles McNulty's home had been looted of jewelry and money. At Capt. Martin J. Ryan's home a television set was taken and Detective Sgt. Carl Clark reported theft of a deep freezer. All three live in Queens. McNulty has "complained to civic leaders about the inadequacy of police protection," the councilman wrote.

Rep. McClure To Address Elmore Meet

GLENN'S FERRY — Rep. James McClure will be guest speaker at the Oct. 21 luncheon meeting of the Glenns Ferry Chamber of Commerce in Hanson's Cafe. Rep. McClure recently introduced a House bill concerning the proposed discontinuance of railroad passenger service and has been following the situation very closely. Since this is of importance to many local people, it makes his visit of special interest. Mrs. Leo Bybee, secretary, notes. Glenns Ferry Postmaster Tom Rogers talked at this week's meeting about the need of a new building in Glenns Ferry and urged people to ask for this facility in Glenns Ferry. The present lease on the old building expires in three years. Mr. Rogers maintains that the loading and unloading space for the mail trucks is inadequate, and that the alley adjacent to the loading dock is a bottleneck. He feels that the local citizens should express their desire for better facilities for their post office by urging a new building constructed for the express purpose of handling the mail efficiently.

NRA Spokesman Cites High Cost Of Arms Curbs

SALT LAKE CITY (AP) — The president of the National Rifle Association says it would cost $4 billion to train and register firearms in the United States. Speaking to some 200 members of the Salt Lake Area Chamber of Commerce Tuesday night, Harold W. Giessen said it would cost more to register the weapons than to train the law. "Good American citizens sense says you don't effectively fight crime by setting up regulations which will only be observed by law-abiding citizens," Giessen said. He said there is no evidence of a connection between ownership of guns and the crime rate. He said controls aimed at the misuse of firearms. Giessen said proposed federal firearms legislation would increase the cost of firearms by reducing local dealers' competition from mail supply houses. "But he said the bill was a fairly reasonable product and which sportsmen can accept and live with." He noted that both houses of Congress rejected motions to include federal registration of all guns and licensing of all owners.

Idaho Educators Chart Workshop

BOISE (AP) — Teachers and others will be able to attend a special workshop Friday on environmental, or outdoor, education. Conducted as part of the annual fall instruction conference for teachers, the workshop will be open to interested individuals, as well as teachers, with a 120-member limit. Richard Kay, science consultant for the state department of education, said the new study was "an amalgam of activities in language arts, mathematics, science, physical education, life arts and history." Those attending the workshop will visit three field areas near Boise Friday, including an outdoor education laboratory of the Boise School District at Eagle Creek.

False Beards Grow Popular

WICHITA, Kan. (AP) — Hair sales of false beards and mustaches are booming. Wichita's St. Louis barber, Roy Roach, was in Wichita Monday to demonstrate new hair styling to some 200 Kansas barbers attending a convention. "Every day more young men are discovering they can be successful and clean-shaven in the job and have a real-looking beard and mustache at night," he said.

Jeana Johnson

Buhl — Jeana Mae Johnson, 7-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leon Johnson, former residents, died Tuesday morning in the Community Hospital, in Riverside, Calif., of injuries received in an auto accident there Saturday. She was born Dec. 7, 1960, in Twin Falls.

Survivors include, in addition to her parents, one brother, James L. Johnson, two sisters, Judith Johnson and Jacquelyn Johnson, all Riverside; maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Gene McDaris, Buhl; maternal great-grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Witt, Buhl, an uncle and aunt—Mrs. and Mrs. Sam Middleton, Buhl. Funeral services are pending at Albertson-Dickard Funeral Home.

Harry North

Harry North, 82, 210 7th Ave. N., Twin Falls, died Tuesday afternoon at Magic Valley Memorial Hospital of a long illness.

He was born Feb. 24, 1886, in Bristol, England, and came to Twin Falls from England in 1911. On Feb. 15, 1919, he married May Ould in Salt Lake City.

Mr. North was a seed man for Northrup-King Co. for many years, retiring about 10 years ago. He belonged to the Episcopal Church of the Ascension. He is survived by his widow.

Funeral services will be conducted at 10 a.m. Friday in the Twin Falls Mortuary Chapel by Rev. John Riley. Final rites will be held in the Twin Falls Cemetery.

Miss Bradshaw

Rupert — Patricia Bradshaw, 56, Rupert, died Tuesday at Minidoka Memorial Hospital of a short illness.

She was born Dec. 20, 1911, at Wellsville, Utah, and came to Idaho as a child, settling in Burley with her parents. She had lived in the Mini-Cassia area all her life except for a brief period in California and Oregon.

Miss Bradshaw belonged to the LDS Church.

Survivors include one brother, Robert L. Bradshaw, Springfield, Ore.; two sisters, Mrs. James Ross, Mountain Home, and Mrs. Ernest Clayton, Quincy, Wash.

Graveside services will be conducted at 2 p.m. Thursday in the Pleasant View Cemetery by Bishop Harold Hurst. Friends may call at the Payne Mortuary, Burley, Wednesday evening and Thursday until time of services.

Idaho To Print 500,000 Maps

BOISE (AP) — The Idaho Highway Department announced Wednesday it will produce 500,000 copies of its 1969 highway map — 100,000 more than the 1968 map — because of the National Scout Jamboree next summer.

The Jamboree is expected to bring thousands of visitors to Idaho, with a resulting increase in the demand for road maps.

The 1969 map will include 100 changes from the 1968 edition, the department said. Most result from new highway construction during the year.

The Scout Jamboree will be held at Farragut State Park in North Idaho.

British Court Defends Rights Of Husband

LONDON (AP) — One of England's High Court Judges ruled Monday that a chap is entitled to stop at a pub for a drink on his way from work, without abuse from his wife when he gets home.

Mrs. Justice Elizabeth Lane, the only woman High Court judge in the land, granted a divorce to John Deane, 59, a carpenter who said his wife, Florence, shouted and attacked him whenever he came home after a pause at the pub. Deane left home to escape the rows, and Mrs. Justice Lane said he was right to do so. "Had he continued to live under those circumstances he might have had some sort of breakdown," she declared.

Hormone Research Gives Women Chance Of Controlling Frequency, Birth Numbers

By ALTON BLAKESLEE
NEW YORK (AP) — Through the potent power of hormones, modern women are winning greater ability to say yes or no to the prospect of having babies.

On the "no" side, there is The Pill for birth control. The pill—some 10 brands are available—succeeds because it contains certain hormones that prevent ovulation, the monthly release of an ovum or egg that could become fertilized to start new life.

But on the "yes" side, for some barren women, there are hormonal preparations that are bringing true their dream of at last having a child. These chemicals stimulate the release of an ovum.

Sometimes these drugs over-succeed, by stimulating the release of numerous eggs. Such was the case with the sextuplets born last week in Birmingham, England, to Mrs. Sheila Ann Thorns.

Hormones, produced in minute amounts by numerous internal glands, are powerful controllers of life processes. Adrenalin, for example, supplies stimulus to function in emergencies. And hormones are also vital in the complicated processes of human conception and birth.

A beginning in all this process is ovulation, the cyclical release of a mature ovum or egg from the storehouse of some 100,000 eggs contained in the two ovaries of a female child at her own birth.

This maturation and release of a monthly egg is controlled by a hormone, gonadotrophin, produced by the pituitary gland at the base of the brain.

Gonadotrophin is a mixture of hormones. One important one is FSH, the follicle stimulating hormone, and another is luteinizing hormone. Both are essential for production of an egg that could meet with a male sperm to begin new life.

When that happens, as with Mrs. Thorns in England, mothers can be in for surprises. Problems of how to specify the exact dosage of a hormonal drug for individual women are still being worked out.

For some women, Dr. Hausknecht adds, the hormone may produce a huge and serious enlargement of the ovaries, with danger that they may rupture. There are risks with such drugs, and the U.S. Food and Drug Administration has not yet approved clinical use of gonadotrophin.

The fertility drugs are affecting the old odds of multiple births. The estimates of such child-handicapping vary widely. Says the American Medical Association, drawing on one statistical source: The chances of having twins are one in every 98 births, for triplets one in 8,216, for quadruplets one in 84,735, for quintuplets one in 84,934,668, and for sextuplets one in 8,163,726,076.

Almost 20 per cent of all births are multiple, the AMA reports.

In this century, records cite the births of octuplets twice, and five instances of septuplets, or seven at a time. The octuplet births were reported in Mexico in 1921 and in China in 1934.

Twelve cases of sextuplets are recorded for the 1900's, before last week's birth in England, and 52 instances of quintuplets. In only five quintuplet cases did all the infants survive.

Hormonal drugs are affecting these odds. More importantly they are bringing motherhood, one child at a time, to an increasing number of women.

Use Of New Breeder-Reactor Would Bolster Fuel Supplies

By FRANK CAREY
WASHINGTON (AP) — Perfection of "breeder" reactors for nuclear power would mean inexhaustible fuel resource and energy valued at $100 quadrillion for the United States alone, the chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission said Tuesday.

Dr. Glenn T. Seaborg made the statements in a talk prepared for a ceremony at Oak Ridge, Tenn., marking a new step in the nation's program aimed at developing "breeder" reactors for economic, commercial use.

"Breeder" reactors—still on an experimental, non-economic basis—are nuclear furnaces that produce more fissionable materials than they consume in sustaining a controlled nuclear chain reaction.

One type of breeding involves conversion of non-fissionable Uranium-238 into fissionable Plutonium-239 with the help of some fissionable U-235. Another type involves conversion of non-fissionable thorium into fissionable Uranium-233.

Officers Praise Daley, Police

MACON, Ga. (AP) — The Georgia Peace Officers' association commended Mayor Richard J. Daley and Chicago police Tuesday for the way they handled demonstrators during the Democratic Convention in Chicago.

A resolution before the Georgia Peace Officers' Association convention read in part: "This association hereby goes on record as commending the Chicago police force for preventing vicious riots and demonstrators from achieving their destructive purposes."

The resolution commended Daley for "unflinching support of the Chicago police force and for his actions in preventing injury and death to the many prominent out-of-state officials attending the convention."

Czechs Renew Red Policies After Revolt

PRAGUE (AP) — Czechoslovakia is reviving aspects of orthodox communism under Russian guidance, though assured by its Communist party President that "all the positive features" of the popular reform program launched last January must be continued.

A 15-member government delegation headed by Deputy Premier Frantisek Hamouz was sent to Moscow Tuesday to negotiate a treaty legalizing the occupation of this country by some of the Soviet bloc troops sent in Aug. 20.

The announcement of the arrival of this party in the Soviet capital coincided with a meeting of the 21-member Presidium in Prague that "approved the procedure of the Czechoslovak delegation" in negotiations in Moscow last week.

This was the delegation, headed by First Secretary Alexander Dubcek, that agreed Friday to sign a treaty for the "Temporary stationing" of Warsaw Pact troops in this country and to put Czechoslovakia's "free press" to the service of socialism.

A joint communique issued at that time reiterated earlier pledges about an eventual withdrawal of the occupation troops by stages, but did not say how many would go or when. The occupation army has been variously estimated to number from 250,000 to more than 500,000 troops.

The communique from the Presidium meeting, which brought together Dubcek and his chief assistants, shunted aside talk that the party leadership would rebel against demands of the Kremlin. It denied reports, published in the West, that Dubcek was threatening to resign.

ANNEXATION OPPOSED

Idaho's Olson Tabbed As Back Of Week; Offense Dominating

By The Associated Press Idaho players dominate the week's Big Sky Conference football statistics, including Steve Olson of the University of Idaho, who received player of the week honors. Olson, who leads the team in passing with 85 completions for 1,112 yards, nearly double that of second-place Paul Waite of Weber. And Olson has the edge in total offense with 1,112 yards, followed distantly by Doug Erickson of Montana State with 748.

Coaches Put Losing Blame On Officials

NEW YORK (AP) — The college football campaign is only one-third gone, but already game officials have received almost a full season's share of complaints. John Bateman of Rutgers, Bob Hagan of Rice, Bob Ward of Maryland and Murray Warmath of Minnesota have been among the most vehement. The nature of their complaints in chronological order were: Sept. 21—Washington runs off seven plays in the final 11 seconds of a game. Ron Valbrecht's 51-yard field goal, for a 35-25 tie with Rice.

Tennis Loop Says Members Not To Enter

NEW YORK (AP) — The executive directors of the National Tennis League and World Championship Tennis said Tuesday they are asking their professional players to participate in open tournaments in the United States in 1969.

College Grid Contests Are High-Scoring

NEW YORK (AP) — Games involving major college teams are averaging 40 points a game, compared with the all-time college average of 36.8 set last year, the National Collegiate Sports Service reported Tuesday. The average was only 34.3 in 1967, nearly a touchdown more than the current rate.

Seminole Have Week's Top Player

By The Associated Press Dade McCullers, Florida State's defensive halfback, was named Tuesday as the Associated Press' college lineman of the week. "If I've ever coached an All-American defensive player, he's it," says Coach Bill Peterson. "He was the greatest game I've ever seen a linebacker play."

Indians Set New Demonstration

SEATTLE (AP) — Supporters of Indian fishing rights Tuesday announced plans for another rally in front of the State Supreme Court building at Olympia. Hank Adams, one of the leaders of the rally, said weekend workshops dealing with Indian heritage at Frank's Landing, on the Nisqually River north of Olympia, will be held.

Wallace Taunts Foes With Glee

SCRANTON, Pa. (AP) — George C. Wallace has a knack of turning to his own use the heckling that has become a fixture of the 1968 presidential campaign.

"Well, my goodness," said Wallace after a particularly noisy rally in the Boston Common Tuesday. "I ought to know how to handle those folks, I've put up with them for 3 1/2 years."

Between paragraphs in his speech, Wallace, aided by powerful sound equipment, exchanged taunts with a chanting group of dissenters interspersed among the largest crowd he has drawn so far in his campaign.

"Why don't you hire the hall tomorrow and see how many folks you can get here?" gibed Wallace early in his speech, obviously pleased with the vast sea of faces spread before him.

Police estimates of the crowd ranged as high as 20,000, but in the imprecise art of gauging crowd sizes, other opinions went from 40,000 to Wallace's own judgment of 75,000.

The hecklers were in no way violent, but did distract Wallace with their cries of "Go home" and "Peace now."

The majority of the crowd did not react vocally to Wallace's pledges to end the "busing" of school children, repeal the open housing law, restore law and order to the streets and conclude the Vietnam war militarily.

Of those who responded emotionally, about half seemed to be for Wallace and half against.

To those who were against Wallace said: "You're the sort of people the folks of this country are sick and tired of."

After the rally, he said in an interview: "They don't hurt me, they help me. When the public

Two War Victims Listed In Utah

WASHINGTON (AP) — The deaths in the Vietnam war of two more Utahns were announced Tuesday by the Defense Department.

Killed were Army Pfc. Dick H. Christensen, Moab, and Chris D. Munson, son of Mr. and Mrs. James S. Munson of Tropic.

See them in action the public is on my side."

Wallace appeared in Boston after speeches at an airport and an aircraft engine plant in Stratford, Conn., and a visit in Boston Harbor aboard the historic frigate, USS Constitution.

Oregon Indictments Charge 12 With Half-Million Fraud

FORTLAND (AP) — Twelve persons have been accused by the Multnomah County district attorney of being involved in an insurance "swindle" totaling half-a-million dollars.

The twelve were served indictments Tuesday charging conspiracy to commit a felony, obtaining money and property by false pretenses, first-degree arson, second-degree arson and destruction of property with intent to defraud the insurer.

Lt. Frank J. Beers of the Oregon State Police said officers arrested after a 13th suspect. He said investigation of the case is more than 1 1/2 years old.

"The case involves six damage claims submitted to one or another of four insurance companies in the past three years, the district attorney's office said."

The office said the charges stem from inflated or falsified fire or water damage claims honored by the Insurance Company of North America, the Farmers Home Mutual Insurance Co. of Minneapolis, the Los Angeles-based Fire Insurance Exchange and the U.S. Fire Insurance Co., part of the Crum and Forster group of insurance companies.

Ten Portland residents were served indictments: They are: Evans Smith, 39; James Hile, 65; Harold R. Estlick, 35; Merlin L. and Hazel K. Sypher, 54 and 49; Harold E. Goodwin, 48; Katherine and Lavalle Aram-Smith, 47 and 40, and Robert V. and Julie Myers, 51 and 54.

Others were Albert E. Hunt Jr., 45, Newberg, and Robert Hargrove, 38, Beaverton.

The mill was owned and operated by John Humphreys, Corral wheat and hay farmer. Started in the 1890's, the mill has been in the present location since 1945. The mill specializes in bridge timber and other heavy lumber. Logs are cut in the mountains north of the mill by contract cutters—a n-d haulers.

The mill employs five to seven men in its operation.

Humphreys and James Thornton, a longtime employe, are helping the new owner in the operation of the mill. Mr. Humphreys hopes to eventually devote his entire time to his large farming operations. He sold the mill and equipment but leased the site to the new owner.

Sawmill At Fairfield Is Purchased

FAIRFIELD — Humphreys Sawmill, located north of Corral, has been purchased by Dick Reynolds, Gooding.

Mr. Reynolds is a former employe of Bestway Builders. He plans to commute from Gooding and operate the mill.

'Drafted'

NEWBERG, Ore. (AP)—Professionally printed posters bearing his picture announced to Bill Adams of Melba, Ida., Tuesday morning that he was a candidate for the office of president of freshmen class at George Fox College.

Adams, who had not known he was a candidate until he saw the posters plastered all over the campus, said he would not seek the office.

He is a junior.

Speaker Outlines Soviet Air Progress

BOISE (AP) — A Soviet Union supersonic transport (SST) could make its first flight this month, said C. W. Duffy of Boeing Aircraft Co.

Duffy, director of program information for Boeing's SST program, said Tuesday a Soviet SST flight would compete for world attention with the United States' Apollo shot scheduled to begin Friday.

He said the Russian aircraft probably would exceed 1,000 miles per hour.

Duffy also expected the British-French SST, the Concorde, to fly by the end of the year.

Boeing was contracted by the federal government to build an SST to fly about 1,800 mph, cruise at 70,000 feet and carry 230-280 passengers for 4,000 miles.

"All we have now is a paper airplane," he said. "We are about four years behind the British and French and there is no way we can make that up.

Duffy said the main problem with the SST is development of a design that could carry the payload and enough fuel for trans-oceanic flights.

He said Boeing would announce soon whether its design will be for a fixed- or variable-wing aircraft.

The firm has had two design teams working for the past 10 years on the two basic designs. The variable wing would allow greater flexibility, but would add more weight which would reduce payload or fuel capacity.

He said the supersonic airliners probably will first be used only for trans-oceanic flights, then later for domestic flights.

"I fully expect SST operations out of Boise," Duffy added. But he said that would be with the "second generation" of the SST's, at least ten years away.

Development of the SST will cost about $1.4 billion, he said, 90 per cent of which will be federal loans and the rest Boeing's.

The sale of 300 of the craft would repay the government's investment and sale of 500 would return the government a $1-billion profit.

Becky Babel, Ivins Wed

Becky Kay Babel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy E. Babel, became the bride of James Rodney Ivins, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold R. Ivins, Lund, Nev., in a ceremony in the Salt Lake LDS Temple, Sept. 8, performed by Elder Marion D. Hanks.

After the ceremony, the bride party was honored at a wedding breakfast, hosted by the parents of the bridegroom. That evening they were honored at a reception in Lund, hosted by the bridegroom's parents.

On Sept. 10, the bride's parents were hosts at a reception at their residence. The bride wore an A-line gown of white silk organza over peau de soie, with Venise lace panels on either side, a stand-up collar of lace and lace trimming on the short sleeves. They silk-covered buttons trimmed the back of the gown to the waist. A detachable chapel-length train of silk organza was trimmed in Venise lace panels, and small bows marked the end of the train. She wore a mantilla-type veil of tulle and carried a bouquet of yellow roses and white daisies with green trim, accented with yellow tulle bows.

Mrs. Brian Croft, Riverside, Calif., sister of the bride, was matron of honor, and Marilyn Segerstedt, Salt Lake City, roommate of the bride, was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Diana Brown Belka, Salt Lake City, and Connie Babel and Mary Ann Babel, the bride's sisters.

Serving as best man was Ronald Ivins, brother of the bridegroom.

MR. AND MRS. JAMES R. IVINS

Mr. and Mrs. Gary Babel, Austin, Tex., and Robert Babel greeted guests at the door, and Michael Babel and Karen Brown received gifts. Janice Heid, Portland, Ore., attended the guest list.

The bride's table was covered with a hand-embroidered cutwork table cloth and centered with a three-tiered wedding cake trimmed in daisies and fern greenery. The cake was made by Mrs. Ronald Ivins, sister-in-law of the bridegroom. Baskets of gladioli in green and yellow, with white daisies, were used to decorate the house, and Mrs. Ross Ward was in charge of the decorating. Guests were served on the patio by Bonnie Day and Gayle Hogan, Salt Lake City. Mrs. Brown, Mrs. Paul Bandy, and Nan Larsen and Kay Gallo-way, Twin Falls, Round tables covered with pale green cloths and centered with daisies were used for the guests.

Mrs. Claude Brown Jr., assisted by Mrs. Joel Tate, Mrs. Hugh Call and Mrs. Paul Bandy, were hostesses for the evening. Special guests were Mrs. Lena Babel and Mr. and Mrs. Roy A. Walker, Esprit in a Calif., grandparents of the bride. Other guests attended from California, Oregon, Utah, Nevada and Texas.

Pre-nuptial parties honoring the bride included a luncheon given by Mrs. Claude Brown Jr. and Susan Brown, a morning brunch given by Mrs. LeGrande Nelson and Mrs. Kurt Darrow, and a buffet dinner was given on the afternoon of the reception by Mrs. S. Leslie Crowley, assisted by Mrs. Hugh Call and Mrs. Arthur K. Clark, for all family members and out-of-town guests.

After a wedding trip to Redfish Lake, Lake Louise and Banff, Canada, the couple returned to Provo, Utah, where both are seniors at Brigham Young University.

Renee Evans, Talk Disclose Wedding Plans

Mr. and Mrs. Bert E. Evans, Twin Falls, announce the engagement of their daughter, Renee, to John J. Tolk, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Tolk, Filer.

Miss Evans is a 1967 graduate of Twin Falls High School. She is an English major at the College of Southern Idaho and is employed part-time by Reliance Credit Corp.

Mr. Tolk was graduated from Filer High School in 1966. He attended the University of Idaho and the College of Southern Idaho. He is with the National Guard at Ft. Ord, Calif., and plans to resume his studies the second semester at the College of Southern Idaho. He was employed by the Bureau of Land Management, Shoshone, prior to leaving for Ft. Ord.

Because of his military obligation and education plans, the couple has not set a definite date, but plans are being made for a spring wedding.

Election Eve Entertaining Idea

By Act of Congress passed in 1851, the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November is fixed as the date for the choice of presidential electors. It is the day when the American people file into nearby schools, fire houses and other municipal buildings to exercise their ultimate right as citizens—that of casting a ballot for the candidate of their choice.

For the candidates, Nov. 5 is the culmination of months of speechmaking and hand-shaking as millions of votes are tabulated, analyzed and projected. For the rest of us, following the returns on TV is an election night ritual often shared with a few close friends. The hour is late—while the winner is usually known before midnight on the East Coast, the contest can go on into the wee hours of the morning. Refreshments often take the form of a breakfast served around midnight or later, if desired.

A showy specialty that can be prepared during a lull in the action is Scrambled Eggs with Tarragon, cooked on the spot in a chafing dish. They are accompanied by brown rice, sautéed cherry tomatoes and home-baked Swiss Cheese Casserole Bread. Recipes for these dishes, developed by the test kitchen of Fleischmann's Margarine, are included here. The bread is prepared by the new "Roadmix" Method which makes the guests work out of baking with yeast by adding it, undissolved, to the dry ingredients.

Additional recipes for the campaign, through the election are included in a special food newspaper, "Cooking for Campaigners." Published by the makers of Fleischmann's Margarine, it covers the home front with "All the Food That's in the Kitchen" and "Contribution to Election." It includes menus and recipes for two and twenty, meals that travel and take the guess work out of entertaining and traditional Election Day foods. For your copy, write Standard Brands Educational Service, P. O. Box 2695, Grand Central Station, New York, New York 10017.

SCRAMBLED EGGS WITH TARRAGON

1/2 cup (1/2 stick) Fleischmann's Margarine
16 eggs
1 cup milk
1 1/2 teaspoons salt
1/4 teaspoon dried tarragon leaves

Melt margarine over boiling water in top of a large chafing dish.

In a large bowl combine eggs, milk, salt, pepper and tarragon. Beat with a rotary beater until well blended. Pour into chafing dish. Cook over highest flame, lifting from sides and bottom as mixture sets. Cook until set but still slightly moist. Hold over lowest flame while serving. Makes six to eight servings.

SAUTÉED CHERRY TOMATOES WITH MUSHROOMS

2 tablespoons Planters Peanut Oil
3/4 pound mushrooms, sliced
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon pepper
4 dozen cherry tomatoes, halved

Heat Planters Peanut Oil in a large skillet. Add mushrooms, salt and pepper. Sauté, stirring frequently, until mushrooms are golden brown. Stir in cherry tomatoes. Heat just until tomatoes begin to wilt, about three minutes. Serve. Makes six to eight servings.

SWISS CHEESE CASSEROLE BREAD

1/2 to 3/4 cups unsifted flour
2 tablespoons sugar
1 teaspoon salt
2 packages Fleischmann's Active Dry Yeast
1 cup milk
1 cup water
2 tablespoons Fleischmann's Margarine
1 1/2 cups grated Swiss cheese

1 egg (at room temperature) in a large bowl thoroughly mix two cups flour, sugar, salt and undissolved Fleischmann's Active Dry Yeast. Combine milk, water and Fleischmann's Margarine in a saucepan. Heat over low heat until liquids are warm. (Margarine does not need to melt). Gradually add to dry ingredients and beat two minutes at medium speed of electric mixer, scraping bowl occasionally. Add cheese, egg and one-half cup or enough flour to make a thick batter. Beat at high speed two to three minutes, scraping bowl occasionally. Stir in enough additional flour to make a stiff batter. Beat until well blended. Cover; let rise in warm place, free from draft, until doubled in bulk, about 40 minutes.

FOLLOWING THE RETURNS on television is an election night tradition now. Since the hour is late, why not serve breakfast? Shown here is a suggested menu featuring scrambled eggs with tarragon prepared in a chafing dish accompanied by sautéed cherry tomatoes with mushrooms and home-baked Swiss cheese casserole bread.

Women, or at least, women educators, do believe in the potentialities of other women and will support them, reported Elma M. Goodman, publicity chairman for Nu Chapter in Elmore County.

More than 4,000 members attending the 1968 convention at the Americana Hotel in New York heard reports of dramatic and far-reaching action, during the biennium.

There plans were made for some programs, insurance, for instance, and the two-phase plan for expansion abroad, as well as the Delta Kappa Gamma "Travel With a Purpose" tours.

Three new international scholarships, $2,500 each for advanced study, will be given annually, and will be awarded first in 1969-70. There was another $2,500 scholarship from funds received in a bequest in a Florida estate. With three other newly established scholarships make 17 annual awards to be given for 1969-70.

There will be a "Travel with a Purpose" tour to visit Mexico in April, and in the summer of 1969 will be a similar tour of South America, with special emphasis on "Project Peru" in Lima.

There are more than 2,000 chapters in the society now, reminded Mrs. Goodman, both in the United States and Canada.

Sausage Adds Zest To Favorite

Just imagine Sausage French Toast, drizzled with warm honey, tempting the listless appetite of one of the "little people" in your house; or imagine it, topped with hot applesauce; or imagine party breakfast; or imagine these meaty toast slices, with dabs of bright tart jelly, improvised for a host of friends in the wee hours.

Stop imagining, and start fixing! When you read the recipe for Sausage French Toast, you may think it's too complicated; but it really isn't. What could be simpler than slicing a loaf of bread and opening shelf-steady cans of Vienna sausages? Success is assured if you use day-old or leftover bread — and if you soak both sides of each slice in the egg-milk mixture. (This will help hold the sausages in place.)

Sausage French Toast is a real fun version of a conventional family favorite. An excellent treat for the teenage crowd or for the early morning risers. Serve it with honey or top it with hot applesauce — or use dabs of bright tart jelly.

Karen White, Hargreaves Say Nuptial Vows

WENDELL—The United Methodist Church was the setting Sept. 1 for the wedding of Karen White, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack White, Walnut Creek, Calif., and David Hargreaves, son of Rev. and Mrs. Edward V. Hargreaves, Wendell.

Rev. Edmund B. Stanton, Gooding, and Rev. E. V. Hargreaves officiated for the double ring ceremony before a background of white gladioli and yellow chrysanthemums.

The bride, given-in-marriage by her father, wore a gown of ecru linen, fashioned with an empire waistline accented with a lace bodice. Her fingertip veil was of dainty white lace. She carried a bouquet of yellow roses.

The traditional wedding music was played by Mrs. Grace Thomas, Caldwell, aunt of the bride. She also accompanied Jay Ehlers, Rupert, soloist.

Ariet Sue Hagman, Priest Lake, was maid of honor.

Women's Section

Bridesmaids were Susan Black, Walnut Creek, and Denise Hargreaves, sister of the bridegroom. Geneva Hargreaves, sister of the bridegroom, was candlelighter.

Bill Fitis, Parma, was best man. Ahmed Skeikh, Saudi, Artesia, and Allen White and Stephen White, Walnut Creek, brothers of the bride, served as ushers.

Special guests at the wedding were Mrs. Jess White, grandmother of the bride, and Mrs. Marian Cole, grandmother of the bridegroom.

Immediately after the nuptials a reception was held in Holbrook Hall.

The epurine arrangement, consisting of gold gladioli and daisies around candles, was used for the bride's table, arranged by Mrs. Frank Ravenscroft, Tuttle. Mrs. W. W. Kelly arranged vases of roses.

Edna McCune, Grand View, was in charge of the guest book.

The three-tiered wedding cake, decorated with bells and yellow rosebuds and topped with a miniature bride and bridegroom, was baked and decorated by Mrs. Ray Lancaster. The cake was cut and served by Mrs. Loren Hargreaves, Seattle. Mrs. Joe Leeper served punch and Mrs. Roger McCune served coffee.

The couple spent their honeymoon at Joseph, Ore., and Walilwa Lake. The couple will reside in Tucson, Ariz., where Mr. Hargreaves will attend the University of Arizona.

Out-of-town guests attended from Spring Valley, Minn.; Eugene, Ore.; Walnut Creek, Calif.; Paul, Idaho Falls, Rupert, Caldwell, Boise and Gooding.

Several parties honoring the bride were held at Walnut

Local Training Classes Sited For October

Sausage Adds Zest To Favorite

Just imagine Sausage-French Toast, drizzled with warm honey, tempting the listless appetite of one of the little people in your house; or imagine it topped with hot applesauce, for a teen party breakfast; or imagine these meaty toast slices, with dabs of bright tart jelly imprinted for a host of friends in the wee hours.

Stop imagining, and start fixing. When you read the recipe for Sausage French Toast, you may think it's too complicated; but it really isn't. What could be simpler than slicing a loaf of bread and opening a shelf of handy cans of Vienna sausages? Success is assured if you use day-old or leftover bread and you soak both sides of each slice in the egg-milk mixture. (This will help hold the sausages in place.)

Sausage French Toast is a real fun version of a conventional family favorite. So let your little one watch while you're fixing it—he'll just have to taste those plump little sausages nestled in the toast. He may even clean his plate! And after your teen-ager's crowd has survived their stave-off-sleep party at your house, they'll need a hearty brunch-in-one like Sausage French Toast. Served with fruit and milk, it's packed with enough power to see the kids home to their own beds.

Another thought—if you get carried away with the idea of inviting several couples in your club back to a party, prepare a giant recipe of the toast this easy way: Heat the oven to 500 degrees; place dipped slices of bread and sausage on a greased baking sheet; bake about 10 minutes.

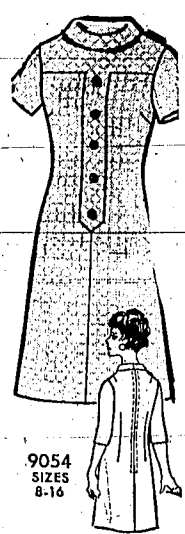

Remember to check your cupboard supply of canned meats for small-cans of Vienna sausages. They're such imaginative meal-makers for the family or the crowd!

SAUSAGE FRENCH TOAST
1 loaf (1-pound) enriched white bread, unseeded
2 cans (4 ounces each) Vienna sausages
3 eggs, slightly beaten
1/2 cup milk
1/2 teaspoon salt
Butter

Cut bread into six slices, one inch thick. Drain sausages; arrange on bread as letters or designs, using about two and one-half sausages for each. Carefully cut around and under sausages, remove bread pieces, and fit sausages into hollows. In shallow dish combine eggs with milk and salt. Add bread slices, one at a time, to egg mixture; coat each side completely. Fry until golden brown on both sides in small amount of hot butter. Serve hot with honey, maple syrup or tart jelly. Makes six pieces of toast.

Karen White, Hargreaves Say Nuptial Vows

WENDELL—The United Methodist Church was the setting Sept. 1 for the wedding of Karen White, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack White, Walnut Creek, Calif., and David Hargreaves, son of Rev. and Mrs. Edward V. Hargreaves, Wendell.

Rev. Edmund B. Stanton, Gooding, and Rev. E. V. Hargreaves officiated for the double ring ceremony before a background of white gladioli and yellow chrysanthemums. The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of ocre lines, fashioned with an empire waistline accented with a lace bodice. Her fingered veil was of dainty white lace. She carried a bouquet of yellow roses.

The traditional wedding music was played by Mrs. Grace Thames, Caldwell, aunt of the bride. She also accompanied Jay Eilers, Rupert, soloist.

Arlet Sue Hagman, Priest Lake, was maid of honor.

Women's Section

Bridesmaids were Susan Black, Walnut Creek, and Denise Hargreaves, sister of the bride. Genevieve Hargreaves, sister of the bridegroom was bridesmaid. Bill Fitts, Parma, was best man. Ahmed Sheikh, Saudi Arabia, and Allen White and Stephen White, Walnut Creek, brothers of the bride, served as ushers.

Special guests at the wedding were Mrs. Jess White, grandmother of the bride, and Mrs. Marian Cole, grandmother of the bridegroom.

Immediately after the nuptials a reception was held in Holbrook Hall. The eburne arrangement, consisting of gold gladioli and daisies around candles, was used for the bride's table, arranged by Mrs. Frank Ravenscroft, Tuttle. Mrs. W. W. Kelly arranged dabs of roses.

Edna McCune, Grand View, was in charge of the guest book. The three-tiered wedding cake, decorated with bells and yellow rosebuds and topped with a miniature bride and bridegroom, was baked and decorated by Mrs. Ray Lancaster. The cake was cut and served by Mrs. Loren Hargreaves, Seattle. Mrs. Joe Leeper served punch and Mrs. Roger McCune served coffee.

The couple spent their honeymoon at Joseph, Ore., and Walwala Lake. The couple will reside in Tucson, Ariz., where Mr. Hargreaves will attend the University of Arizona.

Out-of-town guests attended from Spring Valley, Minn.; Eugene, Ore.; Walnut Creek, Calif.; Paul, Idaho Falls, Rupert, Caldwell, Boise and Gooding.

Several parties honoring the bride were held at Walnut

Local Training Classes Slated For October

Training classes have begun for Blue Bird leaders and Camp Fire guardians, under the direction of Mrs. Arthur Duncan, training chairman for the Magic Valley Council of Camp Fire Girls.

Although a few classes have already been held, the remainder of the sessions are scheduled as follows:
For Blue Bird leaders, assistants and sponsors:
Oct. 11: Review of general programming for Blue Birds, for those who missed the first class.
Oct. 18: Crafts; gifts, favors, Invitations, holiday ideas.
Oct. 25: Outdoor lore; steps leading to campcraft; safety; insurance; permission slips. Kinds of hikes; trail lunches.

Nov. 1: Parties, games, music.
For Camp Fire guardians, assistants and sponsors:
Oct. 9: Ranks and Honors (will be repeated on request).
Oct. 16: Outdoor lore; hikes; trail lunches, fires, cooking, menus, steepays, safety refreshments, nature lore.
Oct. 23: Ceremonials and Symbolism, Indian lore in the program. Choosing group and individual names, Symbolograms. How to present honors and awards.

Mrs. Duncan will be assisted by experienced leaders and individual leaders. Leaders who cannot for good reasons attend any of the classes may call Mrs. Duncan, 733-3828, of the Camp Fire office, 733-3214, for help. If transportation is needed, this can be arranged. Training is of the utmost importance for all leaders in order to help gain the most possible from the program.

Hear Review

OAKLEY — Mrs. Rella Pakelt gave a book review on "Richard Nixon," written by Earl Mazo, during the first fall meeting of the Oakley Literary Club at the home of Mrs. Elda Whittle.

This year's theme for the club is "Americanism," announced Mrs. Tom Clark, president of the club.

Officers serving this year with Mrs. Clark are Mrs. M. W. Cranney, vice president, and Mrs. Willard Cranney, secretary.

The next meeting is Oct. 15 and books reviewed during the year will be in keeping with the theme.

Grove, Calif.

The rehearsal dinner was hosted by the parents of the bridegroom. It was served by the Hagerman WSCS at the parsonage. Mrs. Alfred Sandy and Mrs. Bill Jones were in charge of the dinner.

Worthy Adviser Installed

FILER — Cindy Anderson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Anderson, was installed worthy adviser of the Order of the Rainbow for Girls in installation ceremonies at the Masonic Temple.

BRINGING HER DRUM to the HOPE center in Jerome to help in the "Happy Holidays for Vietnam" project is B. Z. Walte. Her mother, Mrs. Joy Walte, helps her unload the toy at the open house held Sunday at the community center. Many dolls and toys were brought, but more are needed.

Toys Sought For Vietnam Project At Jerome Center

JEROME — Dolls and toys of community service which are wanted in Vietnam.

Many were brought to the HOPE Center during the open house Sunday and more are needed. They will be sent to orphans in Vietnam as part of the current project "Happy Holidays for Vietnam."

Officials of HOPE, which stands for Help Other People Everywhere, say the project includes clothing and toys for orphans and personal items needed for wounded soldiers.

The community service agency which opened on West Main Street recently, is an outgrowth of local assistance given to migrant workers. It has now expanded to performing any type

Tea Honors Members Of Club At CSI

Mrs. Doris Harper, chairman of the Business and Professional Women's Club organization committee for the new Samothrace Club, was in charge of a tea Sunday honoring members of the new club.

The tea at the Holiday Inn, was attended by College of Southern Idaho officials, BPW members and Samothrace members, mostly CSI students.

The occasion was in honor of the granting of a charter to the new club. The charter is the 22nd granted in the nation and the first in Idaho.

Officers of the organization are JoAnn Ainsworth, president; Joan Wojcik, vice president; Jackie Kennedy, secretary; Leslie McCracken, treasurer, and Becky Menaur, historian and chairman of the scrapbook.

New officers were introduced and members of the Samothrace committee from the sponsoring BPW each gave a short talk.

Mrs. DeEtta Campbell spoke on membership; Mrs. Betty Ainsworth on the importance of having a charter and Mrs. Vera Rauch, aims of the new club and the four objectives of the BPW.

Mrs. Alda Strong, president of BPW, greeted members and guests and introduced the guest speaker, Dr. Terry Smith, academic dean at CSI.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Harper and Mrs. Mary Grace Cox, member of the Jerome BPW.

Mrs. Campbell and Constance Peterson were in charge of table decorations and Mrs. Ina Knox and Mrs. Juellio Brizeo presided at the guest table.

Guests were Mrs. Mary Hlcek, Mrs. Lois Adamsom, Mrs. Jane Adamsom and Fay Hoffman.

Music was provided by Burt Hulsch and Mrs. Dale Patterson.

Area Headstart Training Meet Scheduled Here

Mrs. Frances Barlow, Provost, District Headstart program specialist, will be in Twin Falls Wednesday to direct a training session for area Headstart teachers, aides and volunteers.

She will visit the Twin Falls Headstart classes in the Presbyterian Church at 9 a.m. and will hold the training session there at 2 p.m.

People concerned with the Headstart program from Twin Falls, Meritauqh, Hanson, Malia, Declo and Springdale are invited to attend.

Mrs. Barlow is a consultant for Yogo Corp., which is employed by the government to assist Headstart programs.

High Court Returns Rule On Mining

BOISE (AP) — The Idaho Supreme Court sent to Ada County District Court today its formal order upholding a lower court ruling that the proposed dredge mining initiative failed to qualify for a spot on Idaho's election ballot.

The proposed initiative, if enacted, would have tightened provisions of the dredge mining law.

Secretary of State Pete Carreras ruled that initiative—and another proposing local referenda on urban renewal programs—failed to have the required number of signatures to qualify for the ballot.

District Court upheld him on the dredge mining proposal and the Supreme Court last week ruled the District Court acted properly.

District Court then also dismissed another lawsuit involving the urban renewal proposal.

Thus the Idaho ballot will have no initiative or referendum proposals on it this year. There will be, however, nine proposed constitutional amendments.

AN ANCIENT HAND STILL LIVES ON

Today's hand was played almost 40 years ago. South still wins when reminded of it. The event was the Life Masters' Individual. This event has since been relegated to a minor role because the top players don't like to play in it.

made five odd. Since the rest of the deck was in three trump, making four or five, diamonds making six, he would have had his top but West produced the deuce of hearts instead of the queen.

South entered dummy with the ace of diamonds and took a second heart finesse. This time West won the trick. The West cashed the queen of spades and shifted to his last diamond. South won that trick but the rest of the diamond suit was about as useless as an ice machine at the North Pole. He had to go down two.

Why does South still win when he is reminded of this hand? It seems that he congratulated West on his magnificent play. Instead of accepting the accolade, West replied, "Thanks very much but I didn't really make a good play. I was really stumped. I found that West had played the deuce and not the queen on that first heart lead."

Instead of bidding five spades your partner has bid six hearts. If West had taken over your five hearts, West would have brought him a top score. He won the spade lead with dummy's ace and promptly finessed his lack of hearts. If West had taken with the queen he would have collected a spade trick and South would have

Scientists Say Man's Energy Is Greatest At Specific Ages

The best ping pong players are fifteen. The best bridge players are federal executives. The best yachtsmen are doctors. The best pool players are roofing and siding peddlers. The best pinch players are commercial fishermen. The best golfers are insurance salesmen. The best shuffleboard players are house painters. The best cribbage players are merchant mariners. The best hunters are loggers. The best handball players are lawyers. The best poker players are army noncoms. Have you been worried lately about losing your get-up-and-go? Likewise, just read a scientific study, however, that suggests there are seven ages at which a human being can expect to be unusually lively. First of these is age two. That's known to be the most energetic year of the lot. Then comes age 14, a second wind which lasts awhile. After that, vitality is thought to peak again at ages 37, 56, 65, and finally at 87. Good news what, if this turns out to be in error, I'm going to be pretty disappointed. Nobody claims these combats take you up to your youthful prime, naturally. But the students of biochemistry now insist citizens of the foregoing ages generally seem to be in better shape than they had been a few years earlier.

Customer Service: Q. "After 18 years of marriage, my wife still goes to the cookbook every night to turn out a big dinner for me and the kids. What do you think of that, sir? A. Congratulations. You are married to a girl who tries. Have heard it said a mother who uses a cookbook is like a father who uses cheats at cards, but can't go along with that. Q. "How often is somebody murdering somebody right now?" A. In this country? Every 43 minutes. In America today? A. Don't know his name, but think it's doctors. Somehow or other an individual brings out the worst in everybody. Thus South's four-heart call was a rather bad one. Three no-trump would have been far better but in an individual there is a really strong tendency not to let your partner play the dummy.

Anyhow, South did bid four hearts and the way the cards lie it would have brought him a top score. He won the spade lead with dummy's ace and promptly finessed his lack of hearts. If West had taken with the queen he would have collected a spade trick and South would have

What Ever Happened To Pete Best, The Beatle Who Was Left Behind?

By MARY K. DORIS (Newsweek Feature Service) LONDON—The legend of the lonely loser—the man who missed fame and fortune by an excruciating whisker—hovers poignantly over almost every kind of enterprise.

He may be a military commander whose age forces his retirement just before a triumphant campaign is mounted. He may be an inventor who perfects his discovery only to find it has just been patented by someone he never heard of. He may be an athlete, disabled on the eve of signing a big professional contract.

He may be Pete Best—the washed-out Beatle—glumly slicing bread in a Liverpool bakery for $42.00 a week.

The sad saga of the drummed-out drummer has been back in the news lately. It has been told in fuller detail than ever before in two recent books: the best-selling authorized biography, "The Beatles," by Hunter Davies and in "The Beatles: The Real Story" by Julius Funt.

And Best recently got a financial settlement out of court after a three-year legal hassle with his former mates.

His alleged libel of him in a Playboy article. He did not, however, get the $3 million he sought. "We did very well," the 26-year-old Best said, "but one of the conditions of the settlement is that we cannot divulge just how much it is."

With a touch of the philosophical resignation that has dignified his behavior for the half dozen years since he was first jettisoned from the band, Best said before the comb's first big breakthrough, he adds: "The money is not enough to change my life overnight. One day I may change jobs or invest some of it. Maybe start a small business. But you won't see my buying ocean-going yachts or going to Monte Carlo."

Pete Best first met the Beatles in 1959 when they played in a nightclub called the Coshish, "like in Bermuda." The band had just opened in the basement of an old Victorian house in Liverpool, John Lennon, Paul McCartney and George Harrison were the basis of a shifting combo called the Quarrymen Skiffle Group, and they played several engagements at the club. Ringo Starr also played at the Coshish in different groups.

A few months later, the Quarrymen changed their name to the Silver Beetles, and a few months after that Pete joined them as drummer, on the eve of an engagement that took them to Hamburg, Germany, for several months.

Pete's major contributions were to persuade them to drop the "Silver" from their name (he argued that it was "a bit corny") and to add a molsy, thudding beat that the previously all-guitar group had lacked. They lacked something else, too—a unified approach. John,

Paul and George were already later become so famous. They jumped about the stage, laughing, shouting, belaboring the i... and their audiences. But Pete was a different type: a sullenly handsome boy who looked withdrawn; some described his onstage appearance as "almost sinister."

There was also a fifth Beatle, Stu Sutcliffe, another quiet one who wore sunglasses even in the dark. He had most of its engagements. Stu's contribution was the Beatles-hairstyle, which the others took up, except for Pete who kept his hair comparatively short at the time.

Stu was a painter, however, and never though—almost primarily as a musician. He dropped out of the group to go to art school in 1961; the following year he died of a brain hemorrhage.

But Pete's departure was not voluntary. It came about in 1962 when manager turned by every major recording company, the Beatles at last got a chance to cut their first disk. (It was the smash hit "Love Me Do.")

The other Beatles, reportedly felt that Pete was "too conventional" for the group. And they left it to their late manager, Brian Epstein, to break the news to him. According to the Davies biography, Best recalls that the meeting went like this: "Brian looked very shaky, not his usual happy self. He said, 'I've got some bad news for you. The boys want you out and Ringo in.' It was a complete bombshell. I was stunned. I couldn't say anything for two minutes."

Pete went home and stayed there for three weeks, refusing to "come out and meet his fans who were kicking up a terrible rumpus in the streets and clubs of Liverpool. There were parades, picnics, picnics. One sign proclaimed: "Peter Forever, Ringo Never."

It all blew over, of course, and the Beatles went on to one of the most dazzling, successful series in show business history. Left behind, Pete formed the

Pete Best Combo which hung in for awhile on the brink of success (they made one record entitled "Best of the Beatles"), then slipped downward.

In 1966, the group disbanded, and Pete went to work at the bakery. He is married now, with two small daughters and, he insists, no bitterness in his heart. "I try not to brood about it," he says, "The bakery lads here are a happy-go-lucky bunch. They know I was once a Beatle, but to them I am just one of the boys."

Still, he confesses that "sometimes it hurts when I think about how much effort went into

Chamber Sets Fete Nov. 6 At Hagerman

HAGERMAN—First annual banquet of the Hagerman Chamber of Commerce will be held at 8 p.m. Nov. 6 in the American Legion hall with Holland (Happy Holly) Houbourg, Twin Falls, as speaker. Probate Judge C. E. Spencer addressed the last chamber meeting on law enforcement. He advocated adequate training officers; public support for police and more money for crime prevention. Aldrich Bowler, Lyle Gilmore and Mr. & Mrs. Leslie Lynch were named to a committee to get information on acquiring of land for a museum for the proposed Hagerman Fossil Horse quarry. The group also will investigate possibility of restoring and preserving the fossil deposits.

Students Walk Out In Chicago

CHICAGO (AP)—Students walked out of Austin High School for the second day in a row today to back their demands for policy making roles at the West Side high school. A group reportedly numbering 350 pupils milled around the school and threatened to march to the downtown office of the Board of Education.

Fifteen students were arrested and two policemen were injured Monday in disturbances at Austin and two other high schools in Chicago. Negro student demands for more influence in the schools touched off the incidents at Austin and another West Side high school—Harrison High.

The arrest of a Negro student ignited trouble at Morgan Park High School on the Southwest Side.

The demands which triggered the walkouts are similar to demands being made by Negro students in several public schools in Chicago. No incidents were reported in Hagerman and Morgan Park high schools.

Police reported that at the Hay Elementary School, about a mile and one-half from Austin High School, 60 students walked out of their classrooms and milled around the school yard for a time and then returned to
