

IT MAY HAVE BEEN A Republican "happening" but the center of attraction Thursday was Joel McCrea. He is seen here on the right with his wife, the former Frances Dee. They are talking to fans who might also be Republicans. Mr. McCrea and his wife are aiding the Richard Nixon campaign. GOU hopefuls spoke at the meeting.

Joel McCrea Aids Area GOP Effort

(Continued From Page One) has no intention of quitting. "I thought I'd quit, but Casey (a pseudonym) has a movie idea and we're going to make it in South Dakota next spring.

"The movie is 'Born Wild,' and is a western. Mr. McCrea said he was voted Republican all his life. So his wife.

Mrs. McCrea was asked which name she uses now, and she said "I go by Mrs. McCrea."

Mr. McCrea laughed, then recalled an incident in Philadelphia a few years ago. "There were these people and they saw us. One of them said, 'Hey, that's uh... well... that's Frances Dee's husband, what's his name, and it's been a good joke since."

Mrs. McCrea said, "I've still got one fan left."

Mr. McCrea, in response to a direct question, said, "I have no intention of entering politics. In addition, I have no plans on entering government if Richard Nixon is elected. I'm just a Republican. I know Dick Nixon, and I believe he's the best man for the job."

Mr. McCrea said the past eight years of a Democratic administration "have been a real waste."

"Why has he always been a cowboy in movies, except for the few occasions when he tried other roles?"

"I just liked it better. I worked as a cowboy when I was a kid, and the cowboy role was a natural for me," he said.

After the Republican luncheon Thursday night, Twin Falls GOP officials termed the gathering a "tremendous success."

Rep. Hansen flew in a little late from Washington, D.C., to be on hand, and Orval Hansen was in Twin Falls most of the day.

Mr. McCrea and his wife came from California by car, and have no plans on when they will leave Twin Falls.

Minidoka Studies County-Wide Dump Plan

RUPERT—Despite the recent signing of a new two-year contract with the Bureau of Reclamation for the leasing of 80 acres now used as the Minidoka County dump grounds in Paul, the formation of a new county-wide dump ground, or sanitary land fill, is still a possibility in the county.

Representatives of city councils in Paul, Heyburn, Minidoka and Rupert, and of the county commission met with a representative of the Idaho Health Department Tuesday night in Rupert to discuss the feasibility of one dump ground to serve the entire county.

Dedicated Young Star Trek Fans Explore Enterprise

By DICK KLEINER
NEA Hollywood Correspondent
"HOLLYWOOD — (NEA) — Technically, NBC's Star Trek isn't a children's show — but don't tell that to children. The youthful moaning and groaning that went up when the network pushed the show back to 10 p.m. was the most sorrowful since the kids found out the Pied Piper was a fink.

"Since I am intimately associated with a covey of children who are dedicated Star Trekkers, and since some of them will be put to bed before their favorite show goes on this fall, I've decided to visit the set. There are some advantages to this job.

Here are some of the things which transpired:

"DeForrest Kelly — he plays Dr. Spock, the medical officer aboard the star ship Enterprise — took us on a tour of the ship's control room. The children got to sit in the captain's chair, which swivels but always returns to its face-forward position. That was Discovery No. 1.

Discovery No. 2 was that the ship's doors, which miraculously slide open as people approach, don't work for just anybody. The youngest of the group, a 5-year-old boy with a 3-year-old boy's inquisitiveness, asked Leonard Nimoy, alias Mr. Spock, how

"There's a man-back there behind the set," he said, "who pulls a rope to open the doors. He has the cue right, or we're in big trouble."

Another discovery was that the show is meticulous about its props. Kelly wears, on his belt, a small black case which theoretically contains the tools of his medical trade. He opened it up, and — indeed — it contains a pressive-looking futuristic medical gadget.

"The big problem for the children, however, was the time change. "Why did you change the time?" one of them asked William Shatner, who plays the Enterprise's overspicing Capt. James T. Kirk.

"Isn't the new time good for you?" Shatner asked, and there was a chorus of "No-no-no."

"Well, I'd better see about changing it again, then," Shatner said, that he wasn't a ppy with the time change either. He felt they would lose their young audience and, also, he was afraid that now, being a first "another" pilot show, Judd for the Defense, the two would only succeed "in knocking each other off."

"Why is your wife's name James T. Kirk?" that same 9-year-old boy asked.

early in September when representatives of the proposal met with Glen Simmons, Bureau of Reclamation project superintendent, and William Sanderson, county office, prior to the county's signing of the new lease.

As present, the cities of Paul and Heyburn contribute toward upkeep on the county dump, and the county contributes toward upkeep on the Rupert city dump. The city of Minidoka maintains its own grounds.

It was the general consensus of the group Tuesday that both the county and city of Rupert are faced with the need for new landfill facilities in the future, and that one dump ground to serve all the cities and the county would be the most feasible solution.

The group felt that such a dump should be centrally located as possible, and a uniform maintenance charge should be established throughout the county for its upkeep.

Robert Olson, Idaho Dept. of Health official, said the state department of health would be willing to assist in organizing and developing such a plan.

A second meeting of the group to discuss the proposal is scheduled for Nov. 12, at the Paul city office.

A committee will also be appointed to work on the problem, the group decided Tuesday.

In attendance to Tuesday's meeting were Robert C. Olson, Gerald Hurst, local sanitationist; Floyd Clark and Harold Wilson, Paul; Bud Scovill, Heyburn; Dorothy Coutright, Minidoka; and Wendell Johnson, Rupert mayor.

Surplus Sirens Shipped To Viet

BLOXI, Miss. (AP) — Two surplus sirens of the Mississippi Highway Patrol have been mobilized for war duty in Vietnam. Sgt. David D. Bates Jr., assigned to an Army combat unit near the demilitarized zone, asked his father to look for sirens which could be used to alert troops to incoming artillery fire. Highway Patrol Inspector George Saxon found two sirens which had been retired from patrol car use and gave them to David D. Bates Sr., who mailed them to his son.

Detectives Mull Arson-Leaflet

LONDON (AP) — Scotland Yard said today it is studying a leaflet urging demonstrators to use fire bombs and join "fast moving guerrilla arson squads" in the London protest parade planned for Oct. 27. The leaflet, entitled "the potential of a militant demonstration," prints instructions for forming Molotov cocktails and contains a crude diagram of a homemade hand grenade. Organizers of the demonstration have said up to 100,000 persons are expected to join the parade, primarily to protest the U.S. role in the Vietnam war.

Cassia Project Is Appreciated

BURLEY—Cassia County Red Cross chairman, George Forscher, reports the Christmas bags made and filled by the county chapter will be distributed to hospitalized patients and quality ships. "The bags are of a hospital of merchandise and are most outstanding gifts from throughout the entire county which we have received for our servicemen," the letter received by Mr. Forscher says. "The Christmas bags were under the direction of Mrs. S. H. Kunau. This is the second year the chapter has completed this project. Several people and clubs donated funds to pay for the merchandise which was placed in the Red Cross Christmas bags for the servicemen in Vietnam. Women of the area donated their time in Christmas gift wrapping each item.

'Kitten' Feared

LOS ANGELES (AP) — William and Cheryl Howey say their pet cougar, Therius, is defanged, declawed, their house pet since he was 5 months old, "name as a kitten and wouldn't hurt anyone." They want permission to keep him. But 43 neighbors have signed a petition saying he scares them, makes noise and reduces property values. The case came up before the county zoning board Thursday. "Suppose the cat escaped and somebody ran into it at midnight," said Commissioner Louis Knauser, "they might die of a heart attack." His colleagues took the matter under advisement.

Brazil Actress Reports 'Kidnap'

SAO PAULO, Brazil (AP) — Brazilian actress Norma Benguel says she was "kidnaped" Tuesday night by police agents, taken to Rio de Janeiro and questioned at length by military officials on her political activities. Miss Benguel disappeared just before she was to appear in a controversial play "Cordelia Brasil," which was originally banned by censors, she returned here Thursday. Miss Benguel has been outspoken in her political beliefs and active in anticensorship movements. The play, eventually approved for audiences over 21 by censors, details the social trials of a young woman and uses harsh language. Censors had called it obscene and pornographic but critics praised it.

From the profit viewpoint, however, commercials aimed at the Negro are not so-called "special" but business seems to feel that the way to solve this problem is to give the Negro a bigger share of attention...

U.S. Trout Farmers End Meet

The final day of the U.S. Trout Farmers Association convention at the Holiday Inn was filled with special talks.

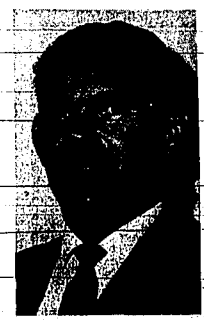

John Murphy, H. A. p. n. Tenn., directed the morning session. First to speak was Dr. George Klontz, Western Fish Disease Laboratory, Sandpoint Naval Station, Seattle, Wash. His topic was "Fish Disease Control." Dave Erickson, fisheries biologist, Snake River Trout Co., Buhl, spoke on "Strawberry Disease."

"Whirling Disease, Threat to Industry and Public Fishing," was Brad Durling's subject. He is in charge of Fish Hatcheries, State of Michigan. Later Dr. Glenn L. Hoffman, Eastern Fish Disease Laboratory, Kearneysville, W. Va., spoke on "Current Status of Whirling Disease of Salmon in the United States."

The afternoon program included talks on trout ponds, fishing clubs and conservation served by experts from throughout the United States.

A panel discussion, "Ask the Experts With the Answers," featured Paul M. Scheffer, U.S. Soil Conservation Service; Art White, Montana Fish and Game; Tom Simpson, Trout Haven campground; John M. Shearer, progressive trout farmer; Jack Lamyeux, U.S. Sport Fisheries; John Ridding, Chicago catch-up ponds; Edward McLeary, pioneer trout farmer; John B. Murphy, successful trout farmer and specialist; and Bob Corey, outgoing president of the U.S.T.F.A.

Bob Erkins will act as master of ceremonies at the annual banquet tonight. During the evening a special presentation on "Trout, U.S.A." will be given by B. Clark White. The new officers will be introduced and special entertainment is planned.

Nations Urge Self-Defense In NATO

BONN, Germany (AP) — A powerful new European do-it-yourself defense effort emerged here Thursday night midway through a top-level NATO nuclear policy party between American and European defense chiefs.

U. S. Secretary of Defense Clark M. Clifford and his delegation were reported highly pleased at the new trend evident after the opening session in a two-day round of talks within the North Atlantic Treaty Organization's nuclear planning group.

American sources said that for the first time, European nations showed they intend to play a truly major role in decision-making within the 14-nation Atlantic alliance.

The sources said Clifford and his aides were most impressed by the fact that three of the four papers forming the agenda for the top-secret talks were submitted by European governments and only one by the United States.

"The United States continues to keep a finger on the nuclear button in Europe, but Europe is developing a major voice in the discussions," these sources said.

Other countries represented in the seven-nation planning body are Britain, West Germany, Italy, Belgium, Denmark and Greece.

The new trend evident from the talks follows American pressure on the European allies to do more for their own defense.

This pressure, in turn came in the wake of calls for a strengthening of the Atlantic alliance in the face of the added threat posed by the Soviet-led invasion of Czechoslovakia and subsequent developments in Eastern Europe.

Candidate Assails U.S. Aims

By The Associated Press

Democrat Richard J. Maughan has called for action against the "world image we are building as the international police department."

Maughan, candidate for Congress from the first district, said the United States necessarily will be involved in many international disputes "simply because of our obligations under our present foreign policies."

"We must carefully examine our present and future obligations to our treaty nations and reconsider the importance of the United Nations, international law and the Geneva Conferences could play in maintaining peace and world order," Maughan said Thursday at shopping centers and residential areas of Utah County.

Sen. Wallace F. Bennett called his Democratic challenger "Mr. Negative," because, he said, he had "heard one positive statement from Milton Weissenmann during the campaign."

"All my opponent has done is attack me, my record and my family," Bennett said.

Meanwhile, Weissenmann attacked Bennett's record.

He said Bennett, in campaigning in 1950, had said any person should be retired from office after 18 years of service.

"In trying to get out from under that remark, Senator Bennett this week quoted a scripture: 'When I was a child, I spake as a child; I understood as a child; but when I became a man, I put away childish things.'"

"It is tragic that the senator who was so far ahead of a president of the National Association of Manufacturers when he first sought office in 1950 — says now that he spoke as a child then," Weissenmann said.

And the third candidate for Bennett's senate seat said he had avoided talking about other candidates in personal terms, but now needed to make an exception.

However, Bruce Phillips of the Peace and Freedom Party spotted not against his senatorial opponent but against American independence Party presidential candidate George Wallace.

Phillips, noting Wallace was scheduled to speak in the Mormon Tabernacle Saturday said: "Built in the spirit of fierce pride and independence which characterized the founders of this state, the Tabernacle is one of the authentic shrines of liberty in America today. By permitting that spirit to be abused and perverted by a man who is an avowed segregationist, a racist, and whose single response to crisis is force and repression, the LDS Church becomes an accomplice to a movement whose primary thrust is in the direction of fascism."

Voluntary Film Rating Program Is Announced

NEW YORK (Special) — For the first time in the history of the American motion picture industry, a voluntary national film rating program, involving all essential elements of the industry, was announced this week at a press conference by Jack Valenti, president of the Motion Picture Association of America.

Lengthy Wait Seen In Tests Of New Drugs

WASHINGTON (AP) — A government scientist says drugs can control some cancers but control of slow-developing varieties must wait at least five years.

The scientist, Dr. C. Gordon Zubrod, scientist director for chemotherapy at the National Cancer Institute, emphasized the drugs had not cured the cancers.

Zubrod, briefing reporters Thursday, said research on controlling cancers of the breast, lung, colon, prostate and kidney is going on. But he said the tumors grow so slowly it will be five years before anyone knows if the drugs are effective.

Zubrod said drugs have halted acute leukemia in children in 90 to 100 per cent of the cases. Drugs have also cured some childhood small tumors, Hodgkin's disease, choriocarcinoma, Burkitt's lymphoma and testicular tumors, he added.

Search Continued For Lost Hunters

The Idaho County Sheriff's Office said Thursday that search efforts were continuing for two elk hunters missing since Saturday in the rugged forest country near Grangeville.

Officers said separate search parties were in the woods all day in attempts to find Bernard Roscoe, 45, Cottonwood, Idaho, and Lowell Smith of Nevada. Smith's age and hometown were unknown.

Sheriff Gene E. Fuzzell and Game Warden Howard Jacks were leading the search for Roscoe in the Joseph Plains area about 23 miles south of Cottonwood. Authorities said volunteers were pressing a search for Smith in the Pilot Knob area about 30 miles south of Grangeville.

Stop At Park

GLENN'S FERRY — Some 56,000 people stopped at the Hammett State Park during the summer reports Mr. and Mrs. Jack Mendyk, caretakers.

Official seasonal closure of the area was made this past week, but over-night stoppers are still permitted. Many travelers plan to stop at the park whenever they tour southern Idaho, the caretakers noted.

This film rating program will become effective Nov. 1. The program calls for the rating of all motion pictures released after Nov. 1.

In stating the reason for the new program, Jack Valenti said, "Our primary concern is children and that concern is the dominant reason for the voluntary film rating program."

Motion pictures exhibited in the United States will be rated in the following manner: G—Suggested for general audiences. This category includes motion pictures that in the opinion of the Code and Rating Administration would be acceptable for all audiences, without consideration of age.

M—Suggested for mature audiences. Adults and mature young people. This category includes motion pictures that in the opinion of the Code and Rating Administration would be acceptable for all audiences, without consideration of age.

R—Restricted. Persons under 16 not admitted, unless accompanied by a parent or adult guardian. This category includes motion pictures that in the opinion of the Code and Rating Administration, which in its opinion should not be presented to persons under 16 not accompanied by a parent or adult guardian.

Approved for general audiences. This category includes motion pictures that in the opinion of the Code and Rating Administration, which in its opinion should not be presented to persons under 16 not accompanied by a parent or adult guardian.

Movie Company Has Problem Filming "Darling Lili"

AP Movie-Television Writer ANET, France (AP) — "Name all the bad things that could happen to a film company, and they happened to us. Plus a few things that nobody thought of before."

This was the bemused comment of Blake Edwards, the youthful-looking movie veteran of "Days of Wine and Roses," "The Great Race" who has been filming—or trying to film—"Darling Lili" since March 18.

The day's work in this French village near Paris was an example of Edwards' trials. He required only two brief scenes: one in which Julie Andrews and Brock Hudson strolled beside a stream; another in which Miss Andrews, portraying a World War I spy, entertained wounded veterans. All morning long, clouds dodged around the sun, hiding the cast and crew of 250, including 85 homesick Hollywoodians.

"And both these shots are re-takes," Edwards explained with controlled exasperation. "I filmed 'them' once before, but the camera was defective."

Such troubles have added $5 million to the cost of "Darling Lili." Edwards now estimates the final total at between $16 million and $17 million—provided there are no more catastrophes.

Millionaire Is Bankrupt

RENO, Nev. (AP) — Charles Steen, whose uranium bonanza in a desolate Utah mountain range made him a multimillionaire, was ruled bankrupt Thursday by a federal referee.

Steen listed more than 130 creditors when he asked last May for time to liquidate $11,738,676 in assets to pay debts he blamed partly on the eight-month copper strike, which ended in March.

He estimated his debts Thursday at $6 million. The Internal Revenue Service said Steen owes $1.8 million in personal income taxes and has filed liens against much of his oil, mining and land properties.

In 1952, Steen was an oil geologist living on beans, tea and potatoes in a tar-paper shack with his wife and four sons south of Moab, Utah.

Edwards admitted that all the travails—and the extra $5 million—will be forgotten if "Darling Lili" is a hit. And with Julie Andrews, who happens to be Edwards' own darling in real life, his chances are good.

Ratings Soar As Weddings Written Into Plots For Television Screen

By CYNTHIA LOWRY AP Television-Radio Writer NEW YORK (AP) — If network television's situation comedies come up suddenly with an epidemic of weddings, don't blame the script writers. It's the romance-loving public.

Several seasons back "The Farmer's Daughter," a pleasant show with rather unexciting Nielsen ratings, had Inger Stevens in the up role marrying William Windom who played a congressman. The day the wedding show was aired, the ratings jumped into the top 10.

"Family Affair," NBC's "Rowan and Martin's Laugh-In" and "Bonanza" CBS' "Doris Day Show," Carol Burnett Show and "Gomer Pyle" and NBC's Bob Hope Comedy Special and "The Dick Van Dyke Show" CBS' "The Doris Day Program" and "Julia" are new series, but only an occasional guest star in "Mayberry, R.F.D." CBS' "Here's Lucy"—new titles that, too, should count as new series when later, more definitive ratings become available.

Steen listed more than 130 creditors when he asked last May for time to liquidate $11,738,676 in assets to pay debts he blamed partly on the eight-month copper strike, which ended in March.

He estimated his debts Thursday at $6 million. The Internal Revenue Service said Steen owes $1.8 million in personal income taxes and has filed liens against much of his oil, mining and land properties.

In 1952, Steen was an oil geologist living on beans, tea and potatoes in a tar-paper shack with his wife and four sons south of Moab, Utah.

Edwards admitted that all the travails—and the extra $5 million—will be forgotten if "Darling Lili" is a hit. And with Julie Andrews, who happens to be Edwards' own darling in real life, his chances are good.

Dear Abby

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY:—I need your help desperately and I need it soon to a very decent and wonderful guy.

I have led him to believe that I am the "nicest" girl he has ever known. I realize that should have told him the truth long before this, but it's too late now. He is looking forward to a pure, untouched wife, and he is not going to have one if he marries me.

In plain English, how can I tell him I am not a virgin?

STUMPED

DEAR STUMPED: In plain English.

DEAR ABBY: I hope you will answer an anonymous letter as I'm sure my husband would be very hurt if he knew I wrote to you.

You see my problem is, after 25 years of marriage, all I feel for my husband is "tolerance." He wants to spend every minute with me. He goes with me to do all the shopping. He works with me around the house. We go on vacations together, and except for the eight hours we spend at our respective jobs during the day, we are always together.

I do my wifely duties with resentment. I would love to be able to go to a movie without him, or to read a book, or just be left alone. If I don't get a weekend without him, I will go crazy.

Our children are grown and living out of state, so we have no strong ties anymore as far as I'm concerned. Please help me. I feel so smothered. I would love to be "alone" to read a book or see a movie, quit your job. But that's not really your problem. You're "tolerated" your husband when the kids were young and he was necessary to raise them. Now you're bored with him.

Go see your kids. Take a trip with a friend. But if you don't want to "hurt" your husband, don't let him know how you've hated him for 25 years.

DEAR ABBY: I have been married for 17 years and I don't regret a minute of it, but listen to this: I have nine beautiful, wonderful kids (when they're asleep) ranging all the way from a nine-month-old baby to a pair of 16-year-old twins. I am the maid, chief cook and bottle-washer, chauffeur, laundress, gardener, bookkeeper, teacher, "nurse," referee, and psychiatrist. And now my husband expects me to be an animal trainer and dog catcher.

He brought home a three-week-old cocker spaniel "for the kids" and guess who has to train him, feed him, walk him, and clean up after him? (Don't tell me to hit the pup with a roller, newspaper, or anything you ever looked into the eyes of a three-week-old cocker spaniel and tried to HIT him?)

Am I wrong to say this dog has got to go?

KEN'S WIFE

DEAR WIFE: If Ken brought the pup home for "the kids"

16-Ton Threshing Machine Used To Harvest Beans On Farm Near Murtaugh

By ROBERT VANAUSDEL
Times-News Farm Editor
When it comes to farming on the Golden Valley Land and Cattle Co. farm southeast of Murtaugh, things are done in a big way.

Take threshing of beans. Over 1,000 acres of commercial pea beans are being threshed perhaps by the largest threshing machine in this area — a 16-ton machine from California. The combines used in this area normally weigh about 4 1/2 tons. This machine was used in California to harvest lima beans, but with some changes, it is now being used to harvest pea beans on the 5,000-acre farm near Murtaugh.

The machine, purchased originally in 1930 as a new machine by Alex Jamieson, was refabricated completely by Mr. Jamieson after it was purchased to make it a better machine for threshing the lima beans.

At first the machine had single wheels, but the machine was too heavy for them, so Mr. Jamieson designed it for tracks. After a few years, he redesigned it for large wheels on each side.

A bulk tank also was installed on the machine by Mr. Jamieson. This tank has a capacity of six tons.

Helping Mr. Jamieson on the machine in refabricating it was his son-in-law, Merle Wolverton. Mr. Jamieson says he has redesigned the machine three times, including the inside parts of the machine, as well as the hydraulic systems.

For the harvesting of beans at Murtaugh, Mr. Jamieson only had to make some minor changes. In the future Mr. Jamieson and Mr. Wolverton and his sons, Gary, Mike and Don, who farm the 5,000 acres, hope to change the machine over to self-propelled. The Wolvertons now use a caterpillar to pull the machine.

About eight years ago Merle Wolverton and his family sold their farm in California, where he raised lima beans, and moved to this area. He also sold the threshing machine.

During harvest season in this area, time is the important factor in getting the crops out before the weather changes. So with this thought in mind, Mr. Wolverton, his three sons and his father-in-law, whose home is in Santa Ana, Calif., decided to get a large lima bean threshing machine and see if it would work in this area, thus saving time in harvesting beans.

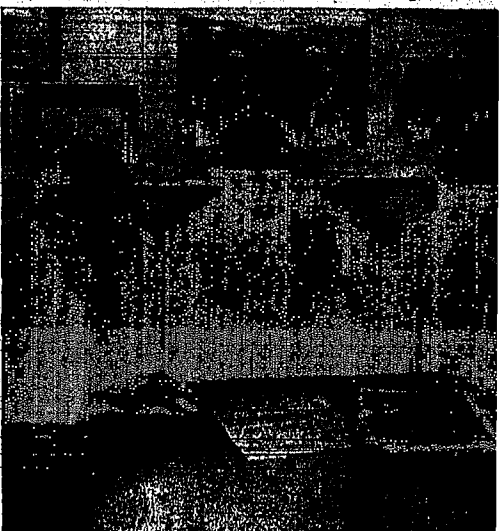

Mr. Jamieson says the machine will thresh from 100 to 120 bags of lima beans per hour. The combines in this area will thresh about 60-70 bags an hour. It is hoped that the machine will be able to thresh from 1,000 to 1,500 bags a day.

Gary Wolverton, who lives in Twin Falls, said last year it took him, his brothers and father about three weeks with two combines to thresh a little over 900 acres of beans on the farm. With this machine it is hoped that it will take half that time.

To bring up the machine from California, Mr. Jamieson and

Gary and Don Wolverton machine welded to and then it took a truck to take it to Murtaugh. Although there are "bugs" in the machine, that with the help of the "bugs," the machine cut the harvest this

"Something to think about"
by Derral Warner, American Oil Agronomist

Fall fertilizer applications... a giant stride in your race against time!

Applications of fertilizers in the fall take a lot of pressure off your spring work when soft fields often slow seedbed preparation. But that's not the only good reason for getting the job done in the fall. The firm, fall ground minimizes soil compaction. What's more, fertilizers and application equipment are more readily available... no waiting! It all adds up to important time-saving convenience for you... and a better chance for on-time field work next spring. So why not call your American Oil Farm Man right away. Make arrangements for the Blended Fertilizers and Anhydrous Ammonia you will need right now. And you can reserve the application equipment, too. Delivery is both free and prompt. Fertilizers... another quality reason to farm with American Oil.

You expect more from American and you get it!

Roses Need Winter Protection

Roses, like people, need extra protection during the winter. Whenever temperatures drop below 15 degrees, roses should be given winter protection.

AFTER A HARD frost or two, but before the ground freezes, prune all canes of your hybrid tea, floribunda and grandiflora roses back to 18 inches. This makes it easier to work around them in winter.

REMOVE ALL dead stems, leaves and debris, raking carefully around each plant. Spray the entire plant and surrounding soil with a good fungicide and insecticide to prevent carrying over of diseases and insects.

"Super Beef" Contest Is Under Way

About 80 cattle feeders, producers and livestockmen were on hand earlier this week for the first and second phases of the "Super Beef" contest sponsored by the Idaho Cattle Feeders Association.

This contest, an educational type of event, has been set up to help cattle feeders, as well as producers and other interested livestockmen know the cutability of each individual animal that goes into retail cuts.

The first phase of the contest was the judging of 13 heifers on the hoof. This encompassed the estimated carcass weight, hot yield, conformation grade and estimated yield grade.

These heifers were taken from feedlots throughout the area. Those on hand for the first phase of the event took part in the judging as those who judge the best prizes will be awarded later in the contest.

The official judges of the live judging were Otto Florence Jr., general manager of Independent Meat Co., and Herschel Boydston, College of Southern Idaho. The placings of the 13 heifers were:

Tips Given On Preparing Power-Mower For Storage

That final pre-winter lawn cutting is an important start to a healthy lawn next spring. Just as vital to caring for that lawn is making sure your power mower is in good condition for the next season.

Champion Spark Plug Co., offers 10 tips on preparing your mower for storage to make sure it will start and run smoothly when spring rolls around. Before performing these steps, make sure the spark plug lead is disconnected to prevent accidental starting.

1. Drain the fuel tank until it's almost empty. Then run the engine until all fuel is gone. This precaution will prevent formation of harmful deposits in the fuel system. Leave the tank empty so you'll have a fresh gasoline supply next spring.
2. If your mower has a four-cycle engine, drain the oil and clean out the accumulated sludge. Refill the crankcase with the grade recommended for your unit.
3. This is an ideal time to clean or replace the spark plug. If your present plug is still serviceable, file the electrode so it is flat and has a sharp edge. Also regrip the plug to manufacturer's specifications. Make certain the gasket or any debris is removed from the plug sealing area. If you find the old plug worn or heavily laden with deposits, install a new one.
4. Before replacing the old plug or installing a new one, do this: Pour about 1 oz. of oil into the cylinder. Then turn the engine over several times either by turning the blade or pulling the starter to distribute the oil on the cylinder wall and pistons.
5. Remove and clean the air cleaner screen. Then reinstall it. If the cleaner is the oil bath type, replace the oil and either clean or replace the element.
6. Inspect the valves (if so equipped). If they are beginning to lock or worn, replace them.
7. Check all nuts, bolts and connections for tightness.
8. Check operation of the choke valve. This valve should be completely closed when the throttle is in the start position.
9. Clean the cooling fins.
10. Clean all clippings or other external debris. Then wipe the mower with an oil-soaked cloth or good automotive wax to guard against rust. Cover the machine and store it in a dry, ventilated area. Be sure to return the throttle all the way and leave lead off spark plug to prevent accidental starting.

Food Sold

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Agriculture Department predicts that more than $3 billion worth of American processed food will be sold this coming year as a result of U.S. participation in a food fair last month in Munich, West Germany.

Food distributed in the sample form at the fair, which closed Sunday, included beans, turkey and chicken sandwiches, mayonnaise and pastries fried in soybean oil.

Sixty-eight food manufacturers cooperated in the U.S. exhibit, which included about 300 products, the department said.

Warning On Spud Bruises

RUPERT — A warning was issued Thursday by Steven Antonio, Rupert, a member of the Mini-Cassia Advisory Board, reminding potato growers that potatoes will bruise easily when the air temperature is below freezing.

The board, which works in cooperation with potato specialists at the University of Idaho, studies problems related to potato growing and then makes its findings public.

Mr. Antonio, a potato grower in the Paul area, said the ideal temperature to harvest is around 45 degrees, but farmers should not consider harvesting potatoes when the temperature is below freezing.

WHAT'S THIS COMPUTER GOT TO DO WITH CATTLE?

Today, a rancher can compute how many additional head he should buy and how much he should pay. When he finds out, almost any, he'll borrow the money from his local Federal Land Bank Association office. The Land Bank gives him long-term loans for a number of reasons. Perhaps, even to buy the computer.

THE GARBAGE PROBLEM: Some time ago we asked why garbage wasn't collected and composted as a way to get rid of it. She completely gratified the letters giving us the answer. To date we've received 12 letters from Sanitary Engineers and they have given us some good pros and cons about garbage composting.

Edward Moore, Chief, sanitation division for the City of Baltimore, Md., writes: "We have found that composting has been a failure throughout the country as the cost is very high, and demand extremely low. Several cities have gotten to a point where they found it impossible to give this compost away free of charge."

"At the present time in Baltimore City our collections have more than 27 per cent in trash and only eight per cent garbage. We have at the present time approximately 400 tons of leaf mold at our Leakin Park disposal site which we would be more than happy to give to local gardeners, free of charge. We are accumulating leaf mold faster than we can dispose of same."

INSECTS IN THE HOME: Now's a time to be on the look-out for insects looking for a place to room and board in your home. These include crickets, box elder bugs, elm leaf beetles, roaches and spiders. Most of these insects are not serious pests, but they can be a nuisance. The "Buckwheat" or cluster fly is another pest that's almost impossible to keep out of the older home.

CONTROL: First, try to make your house as insect-proof as possible by sealing off spaces under doors, windows, etc. If you want to spray, use chlordane or dieldrin along baseboards, corners, closets, under beds, and in the basement. Do not spray any surface upon which food comes in contact with, or where children and pets may roam.

OAKS FROM ACORNS: If you want to grow oak trees from seed, it's an easy matter. Just get a pot full of soil, place an acorn (that's the seed from oak trees) in the soil, and apply water. No other treatment is needed. You don't even have to chill the acorn as you do some nuts to get them to germinate. After the seedling is a foot or so high, you can grow it on in the house, and plant it outdoors in spring.

ESOM SALTS FOR TOADSTOOLS: A reader told me that she had been using esom salts to control "fairy ring" mushrooms in the lawn. She mixed a handful in a sprinkling can and drenched the area with it. She completely eradicated the fairy ring growth, she tells us. This is a lot simpler than digging up the soil and replacing it with outside earth.

APPLES AND PEACH SEEDS: Many gardeners like to experiment with apple and peach seeds. If you plant seeds from these fruits, don't be disappointed with the crops you'll get in later years. Chances are the fruit will be "wild" or sour.

You'll never know just what to expect, although it's worth experimenting with. Plant the seed in outdoor beds, protected from mice and squirrels. They need the cold treatment for germination. Next spring the seed will start to sprout and before long you'll have big and little trees growing from seed. Go to a reliable nursery and buy stock that's already budded or grafted. It takes just as much effort to grow a "wild" fruit tree as it does a tame one.

PLANTS FOR SHADED WINDOWS: If you want a splash of color this fall and winter indoors, take slips or cuttings of coleus and impatiens ("impatiens" plant. These items are readily started from cuttings. All you do is break off the tips and insert them in a glass of plain tapwater. They'll root in two or three weeks.

After that put them up in a soil mixture of one each sand, peat and loam. If these items get a big leggy growth, pinch them back and then pinch the stems again. Pinching causes the mother plants to bush out, preventing them from getting too tall.

DRIVING GOURDS: If your gourds didn't keep well last winter, chances are they didn't have a chance to mature before picking. Wash gourds in warm soapy water with household disinfectant added.

Dry each one in a warm place (takes about 10 days) and paint with shellac, varnish or rub with floor wax for glossy effect. We clean ours with a soft brush, then rub on a good floor wax. IMPORTANT: Make sure the gourds are good and dry before wax or polish is applied. If not, moisture is sealed in and rot takes place.

Use your gourds in floral arrangements, low baskets, and centerpieces. They can even be used for ideal containers for dried and fresh plants.

DRIED ARRANGEMENTS: Now's a good time to gather fall materials for your winter arrangements. Make up cuttings of flowers, vegetables, seeds, pods, vines, grains, etc. in a shallow box. Wash them in the meadow, woods, or fields. Flowers, to name a few items.

FREE: Send me a self-addressed, stamped envelope for my guide, How to Dried Arrangements. It tells how to use sand, borax, heat, silica gel and describes how to preserve your favorites for winter bouquets.

QUESTION OF THE WEEK: T. F. of Gooding: "We have an orange tree and it has blossomed. I took seed from the fruit and planted them in soil. They all sprouted and grew but the plants have never blossomed or produced oranges. The young trees develop thorns, although the leaves are nice and shiny. What's wrong with them? First, I'll explain. Your original tree was a budded one, meaning it was from a plant which has never produced edible fruits. Plants grown from a citrus will produce nice foliage and blooms, but cannot be depended upon to produce fruits. Indoors such citrus are especially capricious as to blooming and bearing.

WHY IS MY FRUIT NOT MATURING? Best results will be obtained by buying grafted or budded plants from nurseries. Seed sown in a four-inch pot of soil will produce handsome foliage plants during the winter months. Plants from seeds are usually full of thorns.

DROPPING OF BUDS: Flowers and small fruits can be due to a lack of light, improper watering (too much or too little) or high room temperature.

WHY IS MY BURNING? My greens have small black burrs all over them. They grew well this summer, but now the burrs show up. Is there anything I can spray them with?

You probably have the spruce gall aphid on spruce. These are tiny insects which are very common. During summer they are light green and go undetected, but now they are brown or blackish.

CONTROL: Try to cut off all you can by hand. Also, spray the trees with malathion in May and June, once every two weeks. No value in spraying them now.

M. K. of Wendell: "Our geraniums are beautiful. Please tell us how to take cuttings so we can start new plants. We don't have a greenhouse."

They really don't need a greenhouse. Take an eight-inch clay pot, place pebbles in bottom, then place a 2 1/2-inch clay pot in center, so it's flush with top. Fill space between pots with sand. Try pot in center as reservoir used to keep sand moist. Make cuttings four inches long and remove only lower leaves. Keep sand moist and then insert cuttings. Firm sand lightly around stems. Keep reservoir pot filled with water so it can seep through clay into sand. Cover with plastic sheet and

Accord Signed
WASHINGTON (AP)—The Agriculture Department has signed an agreement with a $5-million conservation district in the East-Central Wyoming area. The agreement is the first of its kind in the state. It will help landowners develop their resources.

Two Selected
Two members of the Twin Falls FFA Chapter will be attending the National FFA Convention in Kansas City next week. Selected to go were John Hilton and Mike Hobbs. They will leave Sunday and return Oct. 19. The convention is set for Tuesday and Wednesday. Both are members at Twin Falls High School.

The area is a dry and water conservation district is mostly range land, with some dry farming in the northern part, the department said.

About 88 per cent of Wyoming now is covered by 45 conservation districts, which are governmentally and are authorized to carry out conservation programs.

FINAL CONSTRUCTION WORK is being completed at Cascade Park. The workers here are building a plaza in front of the Idaho monument. Inside the monument will be a fountain and planters and next spring a plaque will be installed in the monument saying the park land was donated by Boise Cascade.

Work At Cascade Park Nears Completion, Official Reports

Construction work at Cascade Park is going well and the major part of it should be completed this fall, according to Howard Johnson, parks superintendent.

Work has been completed on the tennis courts, basketball court and the Idaho monument.

Rusk Denounces Soviet 'Action'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State Dean Rusk said Thursday the Soviet military action in Eastern Europe was a "very serious development" which will have to be examined "soberly and in detail" by the western allies.

Rusk, at an impromptu news conference, also declared the Russian move on Czechoslovakia "a serious impact on foreign ministers at the United Nations General Assembly opening, throwing a cloud over their considerations."

French Assembly OKs School Plan

PARIS (AP) — The French National Assembly approved today an education reform program which grew out of last spring's student disturbances.

The vote was 414-9, with 39 abstentions. Most of the objections were from the Communists who said parts of the reform bill were reactionary.

Plea Entered In Assault Matter

Johnson Speaks To Boost Humphrey

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson has moved full force into the political campaign, telling a nationwide audience that a Democratic ballot will be a vote for "triumphs of the people."

Speaking Thursday night on NBC radio time purchased by the International Ladies Garment Workers Union, the President contrasted the record and prospects of the Democratic ticket of Hubert H. Humphrey and Edmund S. Muskie, and the Republicans, Richard M. Nixon and Spiro T. Agnew.

"From Hubert Humphrey's election from many years ago I elected responsibility—the direction his presidency will take is quite clear," Johnson said.

"It is toward that better educated, better housed, healthier and more prosperous America that we have begun to achieve—all of us—during these past five years."

"My fellow Americans, the gains America has made in these years were not won by the Republican party's aggressive not going to be held and en-worth of difference" between Nixon and Humphrey. He said there is "all the difference between daylight and darkness" and added that the people know the record.

Johnson reversed the thrust of a Nixon campaign slogan to describe what he said Americans know of the Republican.

"They know that Nixon is the one who cast the tie-breaking vote that killed aid to education back when he was vice president," Johnson said.

They promise nothing more or less than to pull this nation downward, to pull it into another cycle of Republican reaction and inaction. And in doing so they really promise to pull America apart."

It was Johnson's first avowed partisan speech of the 1968 campaign, and the White House declined to predict how much more such activity there will be.

Johnson classified third-party candidate George C. Wallace as one of the "harsh political voices in the air that seek to divide our country and our people."

"Americans are too wise to waste their votes on a false prophet of fear," he said.

Neither, he said, will they agree with Wallace's assessment that "there is not a dime's
