'New Jersey' Wipes Out Small Island

SAIGON (AP) — The battleship USS Texas shelled the tiny North Vietnamese coast last night before Monday and blew part of a small island off the map, the U.S. Command reported.

The target for the $6,000-ton New Jersey, the only active battleship in the world, was three square-mile Hon Mat Island 14 miles south of the 19th parallel limit for U.S. bombers and warships. Antiaircraft batteries on the island have been attacking American bombers and rescue helicopters.

For 30 minutes the New Jersey's 16-inch guns hurled 2,700-pound shells into the island, shells so powerful they can penetrate 30 feet of reinforced concrete. An aerial spotter said the battleship wiped out one antiaircraft battery and took away a large slice of the island itself.

Over South Vietnam, about 100 of America's heaviest bombers, the Air Force B-52s, dropped 3,000 tons of bombs around four key provincial capitals in efforts to crush enemy bulwarks threatening them.

Although virtually no significant ground action was reported, the naval and air bombardments were some of the most awesome in the war.

Wave after wave of B-52 bombers from bases in Guam, Okinawa and Thailand attacked enemy troop concentrations and base camps Monday and Tuesday around Quang Ngai City, on the coastal lowlands; Pleiku, the capital of the Central Highlands; Tay Ninh, northwest of Saigon near the Cambodian border; and Can Tho, the biggest city in the Mekong Delta.

U.S. headquarters announced the loss of a Navy A6 Intruder on Oct. 12 at the hands of North Vietnamese fighters. The crew was missing. It was the 90th American warplane announced lost in combat over North Vietnam.

U.S. Cuts Relations With Panama To Protest Coup

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States Tuesday suspended diplomatic ties with Panama because of the military ouster last Friday of President Arnolfo Arias.

At the same time, the United States reiterated its disapproval of Arias' call to arms while in the U.S.-controlled Canal Zone and expressed hope for a return to constitutional government in Panama.

The State Department said it will begin consultations Wednesday with other hemisphere countries on possible recognition of the young military regime headed by Col. Jose R. Pino.

Such consultations are provided for under the Rio de Janeiro Declaration of 1955 which is implemented whenever a military takeover occurs in any hemisphere nation.

State Department spokesman Robert McCloskey made it clear that suspension of relations goes into effect automatically in cases such as the one in Panama.

He described the current relationship between the United States and Panama as being in an "intermediate" stage, pending clarification of the situation in the Central American country.

McCloskey said the United States could not "condone or permit the use of a safe haven in the Canal Zone as a political, military or governmental base of operations."

The reference was to Arias' statement from the U.S.-administered territory Sunday night that "it is necessary to take up arms against the little group of military traitors to the fatherland."

Other State Department sources said Arias had been advised of the U.S. position on his plea for assistance and added he will be expected to discontinue his activities.

They said a request by Arias for U.S. military assistance to his cause had been denied.

During this period of suspended relations, McCloskey said, it is routine for the United States to review its aid programs, to defer shipments and to restrict contacts. U.S. economic aid to Panama for 1968 was $13 million and military aid was put at $300,000.

Court Will Hear Death-Row Plea

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court has agreed to hear a death-row appeal that could result in further limits on capital punishment.

The case, which ruled last term that jurors cannot be excluded from capital punishment cases for opposing the death penalty, is being argued Monday to hear the appeal of a man sentenced to die for armed robbery.

The convict, Edward Boykin Jr., pleaded guilty to holding up five Mobile, Ala., stores. He contends his death sentence is cruel and unusual punishment in violation of the Constitution's 8th Amendment.

The court turned down another appeal on the death penalty, that of a man sentenced to die for the murder of a Lincoln, Neb., housewife.

This suggests the court may go part of the way limiting the death penalty.

Among a score of cases accepted for argument was the first direct attack on the power of military courts to try servicemen for crimes committed off-post and off-duty.

James F. O'Callahan, a 32-year-old ex-Army sergeant convicted in a Hawaii court, persuaded the court to take the test case.

O'Callahan, serving 10 years at a federal prison, claims the right of other citizens—to have his case submitted to a grand jury and be tried by civilians.

The Justice Department had tried to steer the court off, arguing that soldiers and sailors remain under military jurisdiction when they are on duty.

In another case, the justices—except William O. Douglas—would have nothing to do with the suggestion the way a boy wears his hair is a constitutional matter and not that of school officials.

Three Dallas youths, barred from a high school because of their Beatles look, tried to elect a long hair to a constitutional right.

Eight of the nine justices turned the youths down. The dissenting opinion, filed by Justice Brennan, in which he said: "I suppose that a nation bent on turning out robots might insist that every male have a crewcut and every female a bun."

"But the ideas of life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness," expressed in the Declaration of Independence, are not confined to a specific definition in the Constitution itself, including of course, freedom of expression and a wide zone of private life.

James Rosenbush, assistant administrator, said drawings and specifications for the project were received within 30 days.

It is hoped that bids can be opened prior to the end of this year.

Friday night a letter from the Hospital Facilities Section of the Idaho Department of Health was read to the hospital board.

It was announced that an electronic device which has the capability of performing chemical analyses rapidly, is scheduled for delivery soon.

Union School Sale Is OK'd At Meeting

Action on the sale of Union School to Twin Falls County for use as a historical museum was taken Monday night during a school board meeting attended by two of the three county commissioners.

T. M. Robertson, attorney for Twin Falls County, advised the trustees that it would be necessary to publish legal notices during a two-week period, signifying the intent to sell the property—transfer—and stating that the commissioners and the school board will be holding regular or special meetings to ratify the sale agreement.

Mr. Robertson said the legal notice should be included in the opportunity to vote approval or objection to the transaction.

The price of the property is $7,500. Commissioners and trustees agreed that equipment in the building which can be used in other schools in the district should revert to the school district.

Both boards agreed that a provision in the contract, the clause which stipulated that if the county should cease to use the former school facility as a museum or another public service, that the school district will have the option to re-purchase the building for $7,500.

In a statement on the museum, trustees said that "the establishing of a historical museum in Twin Falls public schools will provide a new and useful learning device for thousands of students each year to expect that the public's appreciation of the past is aroused and improved."

The board concluded that "Twin Falls public schools and other schools of the county and many schools in the state will find this museum of interest and value in the coming years."

In other board action trustees considered resolutions for improving school legislation and made plans to attend the State Trustees Association Convention, Nov. 21-22 in Boise.

Ernest Ragland, superintendent, said that a meeting had been called for Oct. 22 at Robert's Junior High School by the Magic Valley School Trustees Association. Dr. Richard Hagerman, Wendell, president of the association, will conduct the meeting.

Mrs. Janet Mink, Twin Falls, was employed as a teacher aide in the migrant education program.

Astronauts Battle Cold Bug, Take TV Viewers On 'Tour'

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP) — The Apollo 7 astronauts, all battling colds, today performed a celestial acrobatic show and took television viewers on a high-speed tour of their high-flying spaceship.

"Starring the great acrobats of outer space," radioed commander Walter M. Schirra Jr., Don F. Eisele and Walter Cunningham, first held up a sign welcoming people to "The Lovey Apollo Room High Top Everthing."

Schirra and Cunningham then held up two signs asking Donald K. Slayton, head of the astronaut office, and Paul Hines, director of public affairs for the Manned Spacecraft Center, here, "Are you a turtle."

The signs referred to an inside joke that the astronauts and, if properly answered, would have elicited a raucy reply not fit for the airways. Hines refrained from answering, and Slayton was not in mission control at the time.

"From outer space, the one and only original Apollo 'room show,'" Schirra then said, and the three crewmen began floating around in a dramatic display of how roomy their capsule is.

One of the other astronauts held the 4½-pound camera at the end of its 12-foot cord as Schirra took viewers on a tour of their spaceship interior during the 11-minute show.

He showed Apollo 7's guidance and navigation station, food storage compartment, crew station for optical alignment of the guidance system and main console.

Cunningham demonstrated how Apollo 7's exercise machine is used, an elastic device to keep muscles loose.

Schirra floated up from the lower equipment bay, and let a side job that he had done.

Another show had been scheduled for Wednesday about the crew.

At the same time, as Apollo 7 speeds over the United States ranging of the two television relay stations at Corpus Christi, Tex., and Merritt Island, Fla., Cape Kennedy.

Harriet Eisele, the astronaut's wife, was in mission control to watch Tuesday's telecast along with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry D. Hamilton of Gaudinville, Ohio.

Earlier, ground controllers told the pilots their television ratings on the first show "Monday" were pretty high.

"With a little work, we'd manage to book you for another week," they told the pilots.

"We got the straw tubes," Schirra said next time, quipped Cunningham in reply.

Dissident Convicts Shot By Guards

CUMMINS PRISON FARM, Ark. (AP) — Prison guards fired eight shotgun blasts into a group of 75 inmates Monday, wounding 24, after the convicts refused to work in the prison fields unless some justice policies are changed.

Supt. Victor C. Urban defended the use of gunfire as a reasonable tactic under the circumstances. Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller called for a full investigation.

All but one of the 24 prisoners who were wounded were taken to the hospital in nearby Urban said. "The one who was not," he said, "is now in the hospital."

Urban, who said he did not witness the shooting, reported that the inmates were wounded in the head, back and arms.

"Those who were wounded in the head were sitting down," he said. "The others were standing."

He said 10 of the leaders of the strike had been transferred to Reker Prison Farm to be put in isolation, and another inmate was placed in isolation at Cummins.

Urban said the prisoners wanted to outline about 10 grievances "but only two or three came out in the discussions."

"Let me make one thing clear," he said. "No inmate is going to tell Mr. Hays or I of the prison board that we should run the prison any way or that about 100 convicts are currently confined at the 21,000-acre prison farm 60 miles southeast of Little Rock."

Pickets Parade In School Ruckus NEW YORK (AP) — Pickets paraded without incident Tuesday at New York University, scene of two small-bomb explosions Monday and loud demonstrations over dismissal of a Negro school official.

A dozen pickets marched at the Bronx campus and a dozen at the Washington Square campus but scores of students filed past the protesters.

The third discussion was convened with government responsibility for public libraries. Officials involved in this discussion were Mr. Hays, Sen. Richard J. Dicks, Rep. John Barker, Buhl, Eugene Seney, Twin Falls City Council, Earl Greenwald, Gooding City Council and Mr. Ballew.

Three panel discussions occupied the afternoon meeting. Quinn Phillips, David Hilly and Mrs. Luther Thompson, all Twin Falls, discussed "The Library User, What Does He Expect?" and Mr. Fisher acted as moderator.

"The Library, What Does It Provide?" was the title for Mrs. Margaret Hunt, Twin Falls; Mrs. Al Karaloff, Buhl; Mrs. Dixie Dixon, Richfield, Mrs. Norma Creek, Twin Falls; Mrs. Orlan, Buhl; Mrs. Mollie, Fort Dell; Ray Barlow, Burley. Mr. Enaley was moderator for this discussion.

Urban said about 100 prisoners refused to work Monday morning but that about 22 changed their minds and went to work.

He said Gary Haydis, an associate superintendent, fired the first shot.

Mr. Haydis told them to go back to work," Urban said. "He fired his shotgun in the air as a warning shot, and they did not move. So he fired into them."

Then they moved. Two of the inmates who were wounded told newsmen that no warning shot was fired.

Hospital Board OK's Modernization Plans

The building committee of the Twin Falls County Hospital Board reported Monday night that final plans on the hospital's modernization project have been received. It was recommended that the board approve the plan.

The board approved the plan and the final drawings have been received from the architect for an intensive and coronary care unit and an incidental remodeling project.

A cost estimate for the project is pending.

The ordinary and intensive care unit will be a seven-bed facility on the fourth floor. Other modifications included in the modernization project are a fire alarm system, replacement of corridor-ceiling tile with fire resistant material, new lighting and ventilation expansion of the oxygen systems in patient rooms, a vacuum system and a new nurse-patient call system.

Requesting the Twin Falls County Commissioners to call for bids for the project as soon as drawings and specifications are received.

James Rosenbush, assistant administrator, said drawings and specifications for the project were received within 30 days.

It is hoped that bids can be opened prior to the end of this year.

Group From Lewiston Here To Study Downtown Project

Six men from Lewiston were in Twin Falls Tuesday to discuss urban renewal planning with local officials.

Jack Groover, acting Lewiston chamber manager, said they chose to meet with Twin Falls officials because the cities are of comparable size.

"According to Warren Watis, secretary of the Lewiston Urban Renewal Agency, the Lewiston plan is a workable plan and is waiting for approval from the government. He expects to receive word from them within a month. Urban and Urban Development aides are expected to visit their city this month also."

Mr. Watis said there has been a meeting in their planning at this point.

The Lewiston people were interested in knowing just what the Twin Falls Urban Renewal Agency has taken to reach its present point.

During the morning the group met with Bill Grange, local sit

Gem Library Workshop Is Held In T.F.

Librarians and library trustees held their annual fall workshop Tuesday at the Holiday Inn.

Officials from throughout the state were on hand to discuss library problems with library-concerned people of Magic Valley.

A special problem clinic was held during the morning session.

Other discussion leaders were John Andrew Fisher, library program officer, U.S. Office of Education, Denver, Colo., and Robert Smith, library consultant, Idaho State Library.

Dr. Terry Smith, academic dean at the College of Southern Idaho, was the luncheon speaker. He addressed the Twin Falls, chairman, Idaho State Library Board, presided.

Agnew Reports Personal Worth

NEW YORK (AP) — Republican vice presidential nominee Spiro T. Agnew says he has a net worth of $11,004.

The Maryland governor released a financial statement Monday, as the other major candidates have done.

Agnew said his total assets are $109,834 and his liabilities $98,730. The assets, he said, include bank accounts totaling $36,621, stocks worth $27,113 and a valued property he owns in the Virginia Shores at $26,800, against a $38,750 mortgage on it.

Spreads 'Goodies' Far And Wide

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Johnny Pot, a modern-day Johnny Appleseed, is being sought by agents of the Federal Bureau of Drug Abuse Control for planting marijuana seeds in rural areas of Ohio and other states.

According to reports, the hip-planting scatters marijuana seeds in little-used pasture land and on acreage of abandoned farms. Then he sends detailed maps of his latest plantings to fellow hippies when he stops to rest.

Agents say the garishly dressed hippie—he wears a black dhoty hat, a madras sport coat, gurgundy trousers, and gold sandals—is about six-foot, 140 pounds and has a brown Van Dyke beard with brown, slightly longer-length hair.

The search for the seed planter is being intensified because this is the time of the year he replant his seed supply in the hills. Marijuana plant is bursting with seed.

Johnny Pot was given his nickname by an agent who has chased him from the hills of Washington and Oregon through Kansas and Idaho to Ohio.

Johnny carries the seeds in a mailman's pouch.

He travels on foot and will accept rides only from long-distance truck drivers. He appears only during the early morning hours and near dusk.

Johnny Pot's task of planting marijuana seeds need merely to be acted upon for fertile ground to grow. They need almost no cultivating and will flourish any place weeds grow.

It is said Johnny will accept a day's work of washing dishes or windows in order to get food money. He is well known and honored in the hippie areas of large cities.

He entrails fellow hippies, recounting tales of spending

Pact Reported

MOSCOW (AP) — Czechoslovakian Premier Oldrich Cernik reached agreement with Kremlin leaders Tuesday on a treaty dealing with the stationing of Soviet troops in his country, Czechoslovak sources reported.

There was no official confirmation.

The sources said that Cernik, who arrived Monday, has ended his talks here and will leave for Prague either Tuesday night or Wednesday.

They said the wording of the treaty was formulated by the Soviet side during Cernik's visit. Other reports have said that the signing will be made late in a formal occasion and will probably take place later in Prague.

Nixon Plans 'Fast Windup' Of Intensive Campaigning

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Richard M. Nixon said Tuesday his Democratic opponent, Hubert H. Humphrey, is "panicking now" and the campaign of third party candidate George Wallace is "showing some erosion."

But the GOP nominee, telling his supporters he is "not going to play it safe," announced a schedule for what he said would be "the fastest finish in the history of the campaign."

"This is the last week we will be covering the perimeter states," Nixon said. "I am not going to be far behind and be known to swing wilder and wilder." He added "I will not get down to the name calling. I think it is panicking now."

The Republican nominee said he believed, "We are about in every major state. In the final two weeks of our campaign we will be in a state in which Wallace has a chance."

He said "I own polls" of the last three weeks showed Wallace's strength "has topped out."

He predicted Wallace's "major vote will be in the magnitude of 15 per cent."

"I am not going to lose a campaign vote to the most intensive in history in terms of miles covered, number of people reached and intensity of activity."

He said more television time had been taken than by any other candidate in any other campaign.

After visits to North Carolina, Tennessee and Missouri Tuesday, Nixon said the balance of the week would be spent in New York, Pennsylvania and Massachusetts.

"The campaign will go to Cincinnati for the rally Oct. 21. Nixon then will whistle stop Ohio the next day and Michigan Oct. 23. He said he would be in New York Oct. 24 for a one-hour nationally televised appearance.

Drop In Farm Prices Hit By Candidate

GOODING—Sen. Orval Hansen, Republican candidate for the U.S. House of Representatives, during the Johnson-Humphrey-Freeman years the farmer's net profit as a per cent of total net income has fallen to the lowest point in this century."

Sen. Hansen carried his campaign for Congress to Gooding Tuesday by making a series of visits to Wendell and Gooding. Campaign activities for Jerome and the Hazelton-Eden area are scheduled for the afternoon and evening.

"Because the farmer is paying inflated prices for everything he buys and the market is deflated prices for the product he sells, his return on his gross sales dollar is getting smaller and smaller," Sen. Hansen said. "Measured by this standard he is worse off than at any time during the worst days of the depression and the history of the United States."

The American farmer is providing our population of more than 200 million people with the most nutritious, abundant and healthful food in the world," Sen. Hansen noted. "Yet, the cost to the consumer relative to total income is lower than at ever before in our nation's history."

"During the past 20 years, in order to stay in business the farmer has been forced to more than double his capital investment," Sen. Hansen stated. "Yet, during this same period his net return has been cut, dropped by about $2 1/2 billion."

A hearing for Leo Collier, 47, accused of shooting his wife to death Tuesday afternoon will be held in Twin Falls County Probate Court Tuesday afternoon.

The hearing, according to county Prosecutor Michael Pfeiffer, involves the reading of certain transcripts and the submission of evidence in support of the charge.

The charge against Mr. Collier is first degree murder.

Probate Court Judge Richard Reed will preside.

Summary, Extended Outlook

The unsettled weather pattern of the past few days is definitely on the way out. The major upper air features are stationary along the coast moved over Idaho and Nevada this morning, and will move east of the continental Divide by Wednesday.

Strong high-pressure and a fair-weather pattern will predominate over the valleys of Southern Idaho and Eastern Oregon at least the next two or three days.

The clearing trend was evident by mid-morning over the Snake and Southwest Idaho valleys, and the probability of showers is rapidly decreasing over the Magic- and Eastern Idaho valleys.

The next two nights will be cooler with frost, and temperatures near or below freezing. Idaho tonight in the Eastern Idaho valleys will range from the upper 20s to the mid 30s. Magic Valley and the Southwest Idaho and Malheur valleys will have lows tonight from the upper 20s to the mid 30s.

Today will continue cool with afternoon temperatures mostly from the upper 40s to the upper 50s.

Pact Reported

MOSCOW (AP) — Czechoslovakian Premier Oldrich Cernik reached agreement with Kremlin leaders Tuesday on a treaty dealing with the stationing of Soviet troops in his country, Czechoslovak sources reported.

There was no official confirmation.

The sources said that Cernik, who arrived Monday, has ended his talks here and will leave for Prague either Tuesday night or Wednesday.

They said the wording of the treaty was formulated by the Soviet side during Cernik's visit. Other reports have said that the signing will be made late in a formal occasion and will probably take place later in Prague.

Nixon Plans 'Fast Windup' Of Intensive Campaigning

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Richard M. Nixon said Tuesday his Democratic opponent, Hubert H. Humphrey, is "panicking now" and the campaign of third party candidate George Wallace is "showing some erosion."

But the GOP nominee, telling his supporters he is "not going to play it safe," announced a schedule for what he said would be "the fastest finish in the history of the campaign."

"This is the last week we will be covering the perimeter states," Nixon said. "I am not going to be far behind and be known to swing wilder and wilder." He added "I will not get down to the name calling. I think it is panicking now."

The Republican nominee said he believed, "We are about in every major state. In the final two weeks of our campaign we will be in a state in which Wallace has a chance."

He said "I own polls" of the last three weeks showed Wallace's strength "has topped out."

He predicted Wallace's "major vote will be in the magnitude of 15 per cent."

"I am not going to lose a campaign vote to the most intensive in history in terms of miles covered, number of people reached and intensity of activity."

He said more television time had been taken than by any other candidate in any other campaign.

After visits to North Carolina, Tennessee and Missouri Tuesday, Nixon said the balance of the week would be spent in New York, Pennsylvania and Massachusetts.

"The campaign will go to Cincinnati for the rally Oct. 21. Nixon then will whistle stop Ohio the next day and Michigan Oct. 23. He said he would be in New York Oct. 24 for a one-hour nationally televised appearance.

Shewmaker To Head Aviation Group In T.F.

Lloyd Shewmaker was re-elected president of the Twin Falls Flyers, Inc., as members met in a regular session at George's Cafe at the local municipal airport Friday night.

Mr. Shewmaker is from Kimberly. Re-elected vice-president and director was Richard Waite, Jerome. Newly elected officers were Paul Kahlbach, Flon; Anthony treasurer; Marvin Taylor and Roger Lusk, both Twin Falls, and Peter Link, Kimberly, directors.

The flying club is the oldest organized aviation group in Idaho and the 25 members own and operate two airplanes which are kept at the Twin Falls field.

Nine two ships are a Cessna Skyhawk and a Mooney Mark 21. Both are four-place planes fully instrument equipped.

Drop In Farm Prices Hit By Candidate

GOODING—Sen. Orval Hansen, Republican candidate for the U.S. House of Representatives, during the Johnson-Humphrey-Freeman years the farmer's net profit as a per cent of total net income has fallen to the lowest point in this century."

Sen. Hansen carried his campaign for Congress to Gooding Tuesday by making a series of visits to Wendell and Gooding. Campaign activities for Jerome and the Hazelton-Eden area are scheduled for the afternoon and evening.

"Because the farmer is paying inflated prices for everything he buys and the market is deflated prices for the product he sells, his return on his gross sales dollar is getting smaller and smaller," Sen. Hansen said. "Measured by this standard he is worse off than at any time during the worst days of the depression and the history of the United States."

The American farmer is providing our population of more than 200 million people with the most nutritious, abundant and healthful food in the world," Sen. Hansen noted. "Yet, the cost to the consumer relative to total income is lower than at ever before in our nation's history."

"During the past 20 years, in order to stay in business the farmer has been forced to more than double his capital investment," Sen. Hansen stated. "Yet, during this same period his net return has been cut, dropped by about $2 1/2 billion."

A hearing for Leo Collier, 47, accused of shooting his wife to death Tuesday afternoon will be held in Twin Falls County Probate Court Tuesday afternoon.

The hearing, according to county Prosecutor Michael Pfeiffer, involves the reading of certain transcripts and the submission of evidence in support of the charge.

The charge against Mr. Collier is first degree murder.

Probate Court Judge Richard Reed will preside.

IOOF Grand Lodge Opens State Session

The annual state Rebekah and IOOF convention continued Tuesday in Twin Falls with the opening session of the Grand Lodge and the re-convening of the Rebekahs.

The Grand Lodge opened at the IOOF Hall, and the seating of officers was held by the Rebekahs.

The convention, which began Saturday, has drawn more than 500 delegates from throughout the state. The convention closes Thursday.

The 76th session of the Rebekah Assembly of Idaho reconvened Monday at the Elks Hall with the public seating of officers by Carnation Rebekah Lodge No. 95 of Post Falls, Mrs. J. McKinney, Post Falls, presiding.

Visitors from Oregon, Washington and Utah were introduced.

A general banquet for all Odd Fellows and Rebekahs, was held Monday evening at the Twin Falls High School cafeteria.

Installation of officers for Rebekahs and Odd Fellows will be Wednesday night at the high school. A dance will follow.

Congress Adjourns When Quorum Fails

WASHINGTON (AP) — The 90th Congress, described by a Senate leader as good but not great, is over.

After trying for three days to muster the House quorum needed to approve adjournment, leaders gave up Monday and adjourned anyway to end the session.

This was possible because no one in either the House or Senate raised the question of a quorum.

The House completed its business at 2 p.m., and the Senate followed 17 minutes later.

Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield, Mont., pronounced this verdict: "This has been a good Congress, not a great Congress, not a poor Congress."

The 90th passed much significant legislation including a civil rights bill with broad sweeping provisions, anti-crime and gun control measures, a big increase in Social Security benefits, a temporary 10 per cent increase in the minimum wage, a housing bill containing new ways to help poor families buy homes, a "truth-in-lending" measure, and several important conservation bills.

But it also passed legislation which some major deficits, including its historic ending of his nomination of Abe Fortas to be chief justice of the United States.

The vote failed to act on such key Johnson requests as ratification of the nuclear nonproliferation treaty, his proposal to create a Constitutional lower the voting age to 18, election reform legislation, extension of the reciprocal trade program.

Victim Of Robbery Is Treated

A Twin Falls man, who was beaten and robbed of about $75 Monday night, is reported in fair condition at Magic Valley Memorial Hospital.

Twin Falls County sheriffs officers, who are investigating the incident, said Eusebio Salazar, 34, was taken to the hospital by Magic Valley Ambulance Service about 10:30 p.m. Monday.

The beating apparently occurred about midnight Monday in an alley behind the St. Regis Club on Washington Street.

Salazar was severely beaten and kicked, told officers that he was robbed of $75 by an unidentified assailant.

Salazar was taken to the hospital where he was treated for a fractured rib and a bruise on his head.

Salazar's family notified authorities Tuesday morning at the home of Mr. Salazar, who was immediately taken to the hospital for treatment.

Sen. Bennett Raps Foresters On Water Use

SALT LAKE CITY (AP) — Sen. Wallace F. Bennett, R-Utah, says local Forest Service officers have not cooperated with Utah water officials in the search for water rights and reservoirs in primitive areas.

In a letter to Edward P. Cliff, head of the Forest Service, Bennett said Monday he was disappointed that Forest Service has refused to allow local officials "to take any machinery in to repair the Brown Creek dam," which exists before the primitive area was created and will be outside the area when the High Uintas Wilderness Area is designated.

Bennett said the dam, which was created and will be outside the area when the High Uintas Wilderness Area is designated, is a "major barrier" to the area.

All are charged with grand larceny and are accused of taking $1,200 from the market on Tuesday.

Mrs. Alexander's preliminary hearing date has not been set.

Woman Requests Hearing In Buhl Market Larceny

Patricia Alexander, accused of being involved in a theft at Erb Brothers Market in Buhl last month, was arraigned Monday in Twin Falls County Probate Court.

She requested a preliminary hearing, which was postponed at $1,000 bond set by Judge Richard Reed.

She is accused in a complaint filed by Curtis Alexander and Larry Price, defendants.

The two men were arraigned earlier this month and preliminary hearings for them have been set. They are also free on bond.

All are charged with grand larceny and are accused of taking $1,200 from the market on Tuesday.

Mrs. Alexander's preliminary hearing date has not been set.

Power Halt Is Reported

Nearly 400 Idaho Power Co. customers were without power Monday afternoon for periods of 29 to 36 minutes.

James Johnstone, electrical superintendent, said that cause of the power outage, is not known. He said the initial halt could have been from a tree limb brushing a wire, or a car running into a power pole, or any number of reasons.

He said the power company had to do a lot of switching and clearing, but could find no damage. He said there was some difficulty in the substitution, which is being investigated.

The area affected was South of Filer Avenue; East of Harrison Avenue and East of Blue Lakes to about Kimberly; about 200 customers were without power for 35 minutes; 70 for 32 minutes, and 100 for 29 minutes.

The outage occurred about 1:30 p.m.

Newsmen Ask Nixon To Debate

WASHINGTON (AP) — Republican Richard M. Nixon has so far ignored Democratic presidential opponent Hubert H. Humphrey's latest demand for a debate, but a new National Press Club offer could bring a showdown on the issue.

President Allan Cromley disclosed Monday the press club has proposed a Nixon-Humphrey debate that could be nationally televised as a news event and thus skirt Nixon's objection to any debate requiring equal time for third party candidate George C. Wallace.

Neither Nixon nor Humphrey have acknowledged the Press Club invitation but Humphrey aides call it a "money in the bank" standby in the event Nixon turns down Humphrey's offer to pay for a three-way televised debate Sunday night between 10 and 11 p.m. EDT.

Nixon had until 5 p.m. Tuesday to accept Humphrey's offer. Wallace accepted it Monday "assuming Mr. Nixon accepts" and said he will pay his share of the cost if the debate comes off.

Nixon has said any debate that would require equal time and thus give Wallace added exposure "would not be in the national interest."

But Cromley said the major broadcast networks could cover a Press Club Nixon-Humphrey debate as a legitimate news event without running afoul of the law that requires equal time.

The prospect of Humphrey debating tapes of Nixon statements was raised Monday by his daughter-in-law, Donna Humphrey.

"If Mr. Nixon will not agree to debate personally," she told a Charleston, Ill., crowd, "I think Mr. Humphrey will run video tapes of Mr. Nixon and debate the tapes."

Humphrey claimed Tuesday Nixon is afraid to debate and prefers television shows staged by Madison Avenue campaign agents. The Democrat said the public should join in "smoking Mr. Nixon out" for a debate.

"Let's show him who's in charge," Humphrey said in remarks prepared for a Kansas City appearance. "Madison Avenue or Main Street, USA? Nixon, meanwhile, called for "sweeping re-evaluation" of the Alliance for Progress in Latin America and said Castro-type communism is a threat "not because it is strong but because it is weak."

Cooperative efforts to develop Latin America should be coordinated under one agency, Nixon said in a statement, and the emphasis should be on trade instead of aid.

Searches Set For Missing Idaho Men

GRANGEVILLE, Idaho (AP) — Separate searches were expected to be continued in north central Idaho Tuesday for two hunters who have been missing for more than a week.

Missing since Oct. 6 in a snow-covered area 19 miles east of Grangeville in a remote headwaters area was Lowell Smith, 60, of Fernly, Nev.

Idaho County Sheriff Gene Fuzzell and approximately 12 other men set up a base camp in the area Saturday and combed the rugged, brushy terrain Sunday and Monday using horses and a helicopter.

No traces of the man have been found.

The second hunter, 45-year-old Bernard Roscoe, of Cottonwood, Idaho, has been missing for ten days 30 miles south of Grangeville.

Sheriff's deputies hunting for Roscoe checked out a report of a freshly dug grave Monday, but they said the lead failed to materialize.

It's A Dreary And Depressing Campaign

Tuesday, October 15, 1968 AL WESTERBERG Publisher C. A. (Gus) KEVIER Executive Editor PHONE 733-0931

WASHINGTON—This is surely one of the most dreary and depressing Presidential campaigns of the century. It is almost totally lacking in the kind of class Jack Kennedy and J. Edgar Hoover contributed to the quadrennial exercise, and I suspect one of the reasons for this is the candidates' preoccupation with spitting the electorate into ethnic, racial and regional groups.

Spiro Agnew reminds an audience that he is a Greek, they may have to cart me off to some bucolic asylum and administer a horse, doctor's dose of Miltown.

Agnew has played the fool so often lately that it is becoming easier to accept the theory that the kind of ethnic campaigning is his forte. But Muskie is otherwise so sensible and thoughtful that it sets the teeth grinding when he drags his Polish ancestry out of his carpetbag.

bert Humphrey don't have the class advantage of being a Negro child of his own race, and even if he is a Negro, he is not a Negro in the way that a Negro is not a Negro.

their existence. But the ethnic groups are used to the country by now, or should be. For the most part, they are more interested in getting up the country club dues than in turning out for a boogie march, or marching in a St. Patrick's Day parade, or convening in some pasture for a community go at Polish sausage.

The Real Issues

With only three weeks left before the voters flock to the polls it was anticipated that political activity would increase and that voice criticism of the various candidates would become more active.

if they would drop silly discussions in the press and devote their efforts to telling that same voting public what their candidates believe to be the basic issues — and what those same candidates have done or would do on these issues.

Is Campaign Too Controlled?

WASHINGTON—"Yeah," said Charley, "the polls are wonderful, and things look great for us, but it just isn't my kind of campaign."

Charley's comments pretty well define the strategy questions confronting the Nixon high command. Top Nixon aides are, indeed, terribly afraid of making mistakes.

Brothers Find Switch Fails To Get Result

ALDERSHOT, England (AP)—Raymond Longley wanted to get into the British Army; his brother Vincent wanted to get out. They switched places, and one landed in court and the other in the guardhouse.

Raymond, 25, had been turned down by the army but saw his chance when Vincent, 23, went absent without leave from a unit he had just joined. Posing as Vincent, Raymond gave himself up and served a month's detention for being AWOL.

The imposture lasted two months until Vincent got tired of being Raymond and turned himself in.

In court Monday, Raymond pleaded guilty to charges of taking army pay under false pretenses. He was released on probation for 12 months.

Vincent is in the guardhouse awaiting court-martial trial on charges of desertion.

2 Given Probation In Forgery Case

Two men, convicted of forgery, were placed on probation for 12 months each when they appeared for sentencing Monday in Fifth District Court.

Richard G. Spor, 18, was handed a suspended sentence of 14 years in prison before he was placed on probation. Gary Van Buren, 19, had judgment against him withheld before he was placed on 12 months probation.

Judge Theron Ward told both men a felony conviction would be wiped from their record if they complete the probationary terms successfully.

Mr. Spor and Mr. Van Buren entered guilty pleas recently to a charge of forgery. They passed a check in the amount of $51.20, although knowing the check was false, records show.

Edwin B. Leatham, 24, of Twin Falls and George C. Clary, 20, of Idaho Falls, were also charged with forgery. They were held in the county jail awaiting sentencing for abandonment and non-support of his wife. He pleaded guilty to the charge last Friday, then asked to be confined while his presentence investigation is under way.

James R. Hoover, convicted of two counts of forgery, is also awaiting results of a presentence investigation. He is being held in the county jail awaiting sentencing. He pleaded guilty to the counts last Friday.

Supreme Court Refuses To Kill Grow Conviction

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Supreme Court has refused to set aside mail fraud convictions of financiers C. Oran Mensik of Chicago and D. Spencer Grow of Provo, Utah.

Mensik, 57, claimed denial of a continuance at his 1963 trial in Richmond, Va., forced him to leave the trial most of the time to search the city for a lawyer.

Grow, 60, claimed the government failed to prove he was a party to an alleged scheme of setting up the now-defunct Security Financial Insurance Corp. of Baltimore as a sham insurer of a string of savings and loan associations in Maryland, Idaho and Utah.

Mensik was sentenced to five years in prison and Grow to four. They also were fined. The court made no comment Monday in turning down their appeals.

Discontented Hecklers Cheer Wallace

By BRUCE BOSSAT
 WASHINGTON (NEA)—Little George C. Wallace of Alabama, former governor, judge, lawyer, truck driver and Air Force flight sergeant, stood in the cool night air and the bright light and listened to the jeers of black youths roll across a high school football field. He paused a moment and then said:
 "You fellows sure make it tough to make a living."
 The heavily pro-Wallace crowd clustered in the stands at that Flint, Mich., stadium laughed and howled heartily. They knew he was joking.
 For Wallace thrives on the white and black hecklers who dog his northern footsteps day after day. They are a hallmark of his status as a "national phenomenon" in the presidential politics of 1968. And being that kind of factor is giving him the deepest pleasure of his life.
 Since he moved from being merely a regional gaudy to a point where polls show him winning one in every five American voters, Wallace has shaken both major parties to their roots, upset their long-calculated strategies and set them to talking in the night.
 Hardly a campaign day goes by without his name being mentioned gravely by Richard Nixon, Spiro Agnew, Vice President

Humphrey and Edmund Muskie. He could be the strongest third party candidate since Theodore Roosevelt in 1912. He cuts hard even preliminary taunts into what should be Humphrey's back-collar vote and into Nixon's backing on farms and in the New South (Florida, Tennessee, North Carolina).
 The Wallace campaign in the north, and that is his crucial effort, is really something else. The arrangements surrounding his traveling troupe are often so loose they suggest a carnival that has hit town one day earlier than expected. At Flint, the then-145-member entourage descended on the evening "headquarters hotel" to find almost no rooms set aside. Early in the afternoon, "lunch" ended so suddenly that dozens of staff people and reporters carried half-finished sandwiches aboard the campaign buses.
 It is a road show with a deliberate southern flavor, as if Wallace wants to remind his northern listeners exactly where this particular "national phenomenon" springs from.
 Sam Smith and His Travelers' An Alabama guitar-and-trumpet band, twangs out country songs and, now and then, a slow-trumpet offering of "God Bless America."
 The men with good Alabama ac-centions warm up the crowd like television types preparing the way for a top comedian. There are even preliminary taunts thrown out to the anti-Wallace claque. As the man at the microphone at the hall or the courthouse steps pleads for money, "Wallace Girls" jilt golden buckets rattle through the crowd collecting the small change that helps fuel the big rebellion.

 The mood of the meeting place is mercurial—sometimes happy and revivalist, sometimes ugly, explosive, on the edge of riot.
 Ardent Wallaceites glow with the fervor of the Goldwaters of 1964. In Baltimore's civic center, a transported blonde moved into a balcony aisle and shook her whole frame violently to the beat of Sam Smith's music.
 But the hardy clumps of hecklers suggest that delegations from an antiwar rally or a black power indignation meeting stand ready to invade a raucous union workers' picnic.
 The hecklers waggle their harsh signs, chant thunderously and run through their riot repertoire of hostile gestures. Militant Wallace folk stand up and shout back. When, at Baltimore, a bid contingent of helmeted policemen arrived to stiffen the already large force in the hall, the Wallaceites cheered lustily. The highly visible police keep the seething hostility from blazing into a cauldron of hate. Yet scuffles break out as insults are hurled at close range, placards are wrestled from supporters or directors—and police—push-in to remove the unruly.

 George Wallace in the north has learned to deal with his clamorous meetings as a symphony conductor directs a modern work of crashing performance. It is a virtuoso performance.
 The sound system is so fully amplified that he can rather lung-lung it over the most persistent chanters. Though he may pause and attend to them from time to time, he never yields all respect. If they leave the hall before he is finished, he smiles and mutters a low "good-bye" into the microphone. His answering taunts at the height of their din are a fixed part of his act by now.
 You go home? You're some of the folks people are sick and tired of in this country.
 After I get through, you come up here and I'll autograph your sandals. I wish you'd go with me everywhere I go.

You'll get me a million votes." Wallace's speech is a clear recognition that this national candidacy is a vessel into which is being poured by millions of troubled Americans.
 Though this man who once shouted "segregation forever" now disavows any racist intent, he knows his appeal has flared beyond the borders of Alabama because millions of white city folk, suburbanites and even farmers and ranchers far removed from trouble, are alarmed by the over-riote and crime and the heady demands of black militants.
 But this is far from the limit of his drawing power. Like any celebrated "grievance candidate," he is winning the support of complainants of every sort—against campus unrest, hippies, the federal bureaucracy, the pollution of the lakes, you name it.
 George Wallace tries to take account of nearly all the complaints.
 What Wallace tells his listeners is "your movement" has taken him so far he could win nine or more states and more electoral votes than Humphrey. It has led him to imagine he might even be elected.
 Almost surely this carries the dream too far in 1968. But who else ever will continue to preside over millions of discontented Americans. And George Wallace could be their established champion for years to come.

Burley School Fetes Parents At Reception

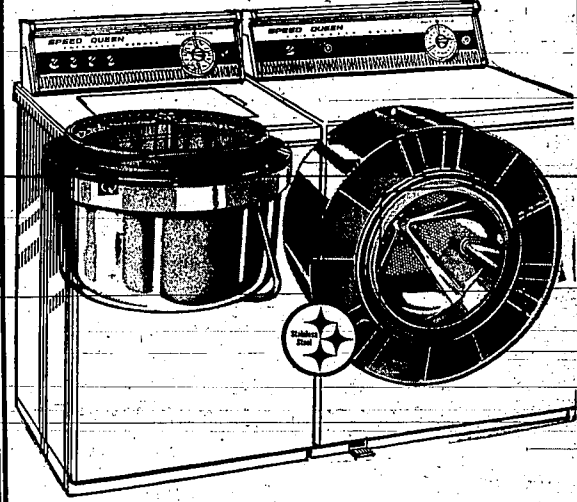

BURLEY—Ninth grade class officers, student body officers and all teachers of the Burley Junior High School formed the receiving line for the annual reception held in the auditorium.
 Preliminary music was played by Rocky Judd, Ed Lou King, Alice Nielsen, Rae Hansen, Roxanne Lee, Sharon Green, Julian Kerbs, Janet Seymour, Kent Fletcher and Stephen Coltrin.
 Kaye Merrill and Gary Hanks spoke on "What I Expect From My Parents and Teachers." Mrs. Billy Kidd and Walt Tolpeltson discussed "What I Expect From My Child and His Teachers." David Cramer spoke on "What We as Teachers Expect From Students and Parents," and Lovell Turner, Junior High principal, spoke on "What I Expect From Teachers, Parents and Students."
 A group of mothers sang. Participating were Mrs. Joseph Lambert, Mrs. Wendell McMurray, Mrs. Trafford Bray, Mrs. Wanda Critchfield, Mrs. Edna Dunn, Mrs. Madge Schorzman, Mrs. Bea Smith and Mrs. Lillie Ramsey.
 Rae Hansen, Janet Seymour, Scott Midgley and Sharon Green played a clarinet quartet and LuRene Dille, Paul Warr, Eugene Bungal and Leo Dayley sang with Mrs. Picola Wood as accompanist.
 A trio was presented by Mrs. Wood, piano, James Carrel, cello, and Miriam Carey, violin.
 The Junior High band played under the direction of Harlan Bergman. Prayers were given by Doug Nichols and Kaye D. Larson. Scott Midgley gave the opening remarks. Community singing was led by Mr. Wood, accompanied by Joan Graham. Refreshments were served by the Burley Junior High School Future Homemakers of America Chapter, under the direction of Mrs. Arlis Ferlic, adviser.
 Assisting with arrangements were the Parent-Teacher-Student Council, of which Noel Bowcut is president, and Mrs. Jim Martin, Mrs. Fran Beckham and Mrs. Billy Kidd are board members.
 Ninth grade class officers assisting were Scott Midgley, president; Reid Holyoak, vice president; and Diana Wardle, secretary. Student body officers assisting were Wayne Johnson, president; Kaye Merrill, secretary; and Mrs. Clea Holyoak and Mrs. Ferlic, advisers.
 In charge of seating was Russell Taylor, Kent Sagers directed the ushers. The invitations and program covers were under the direction of Mrs. Louise Zadorny and members of the ninth grade art class.

WHILE HECKLERS CHANT thunderously, and run through their rich repertoire of hostile gestures, AIP candidate George Wallace smiles and urges them on to even greater efforts.

Indian Slay Suspect Located After Intensive Manhunt

TISHOMINGO, Okla. (AP)—An Indian who eluded a manhunt for 12 days was captured Monday only 100 yards from where the hunt began.
 His young son was found about 50 yards farther into the woods. He was hungry and had been scratched and cut feet, but a doctor said he apparently was all right.
 The hunt for Lawrence Factor began Oct. 3, the day after his wife, Juanita, 31, was found strangled and buried in the forest half a mile from the Factor home. A thin leather belt had been forced down her throat, an autopsy revealed.
 Factor, 43, was held in the Carter County Jail at Ardmore, 30 miles west, for arraignment today on a charge of murdering his wife.
 Johnston County Sheriff Herman Ford and Wayne Warthen, criminal investigator for Dist. Atty. Burke Mordy, tracked Factor into the forest from the Factor home near Fillmore, 10 miles northeast of here.
 The officers had "decided to start all over from scratch," Warthen said, since scores of

Rupert Man Says Demos Aid Farmer

Phil Baro, Rupert, co-ordinator for the Humphrey-Muskie campaign in Idaho, said Tuesday that the sagging farm economy is Idaho's number one problem.

He further stated he thought that Hubert Humphrey and the Democratic platform had the only real ideas reaching for a solution to maintain America's family farmers prosperous again.

"The only way a voter can determine any candidate's policy or program is by the platform he is running on, by his past accomplishments or by the position he has taken on these problems."

"The agricultural plank of the 1968 Democratic platform, realizing the severe cost-price squeeze of the American farmer, has some entirely new proposals that have never been in any political platform before," he said.

"Some of these proposals are: Obtain the necessary legislation to give the farmer the same collective bargaining power as organized labor; this to be done on a commodity by commodity basis thus giving the farmer the opportunity to price his own products that business has always had.

Negroes Stage Major Boycott Of Classes

CHICAGO (AP) — Nearly 25,000 pupils were absent from classes at high schools Monday in a Negro-led boycott that one leader said will be repeated every Monday until certain demands are met.

Fourteen schools with a Negro enrollment of more than 90 per cent were hardest hit by the boycott. Absenteeism at these schools was about one-half to 90 per cent, Board of Education officials said.

There are some 62,000 Negro students in the city's high schools and normally 10 per cent are absent daily, the officials said.

Victor Adams, 17, a pupil at Harrison High School, where violence erupted last week, said Negroes will stay away from classes every Monday until we get what we want.

Adams is a leader of the New USE TIMES-NEWS WANT ADS BREED, A Negro student group at Harrison, which joined with the Black Students for Defense in calling the boycott.

Schools Supt. James F. Redmond said he will give an answer later this week to the demands, which included: Afro-American courses with Negro teachers; more Negro administrators; Negro maintenance employees; additional Negro literature courses and school holidays to honor such Negro leaders as Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. and Malcolm X.

Oregon Family Will Continue Lengthy Search For Lost Man

REDDING, Calif. (AP) — "We won't stop looking even if it takes a lifetime," says Alvin Olen, Jr., of the search for his father, a 59-year-old Portland, Ore., hotel man whose single-engine plane crashed into a snow-covered mountain on March 11, 1967.

Seven months later the bodies of Olen's wife, Phyllis, 46, and daughter, Carla, 16, were found in the wreckage. A jointly written diary told how they had survived for 54 days awaiting a rescue that never came.

An entry five days after the crash said: "Al left to go for help." The diary said he was suffering from fractures of the right arm and several ribs. Neither Olen nor his body has ever turned up.

"As far as I'm concerned, he's alive until we find him," declares Alvin, Jr., 33, an airline pilot, of Westlake, Tex. Along with his brothers Ron, 28, and Chuck, 26 both of Portland, he spends his spare time searching the thick brush around the scene of the accident.

"With a broken right arm," says the oldest son, "you would reach out with your left arm to hold onto branches to keep from sliding down the mountain. So we figure Dad must have taken off to the left."

"We're now concentrating on working south through the brush side by side, inch by inch down the slope for two miles. The probability is he got stuck in the first two miles."

Brush at the crash scene, on a 5,900-foot peak in the Trinity Mountains—45 miles west of here, is 15 to 20 feet deep at times. The senior Olen was an experienced woodsman.

The Olen plane was headed to San Francisco from Portland when it crashed March 11, 1967, apparently after the wings led the way. The diary's first entry said that in addition to Olen's injuries, Phyllis had a broken left arm and Carla "a hurt back, left kidney, sore right ankle."

The food ran out March 21. The winter storms raged on and on, and aerial and ground searching parties finally gave up. Alvin, Jr., kept up an aerial search for 107 days.

Finally, last October, a hunter spotted the wreckage. In the diary, next to April 20, was Carla's notation: "This would have been my 16th birthday." The final entries came on May 4.

The brothers study and re-study the diary, hoping to spot some clue they may have overlooked in its 100 pages.

"We try to read between the lines," says Alvin, Jr. "Sure, we know the words by heart but

Author Discounts Effects Of Age

NEW YORK (AP) — "I shan't be terribly sorry when men begin to refer to me as old, but I'll be awfully sorry when women do," says John Kenneth Galbraith.

The author of "The Affluent Society" and "The Industrial State" spoke Monday on the eve of his 60th birthday today which he said he was letting "slip by as quietly and as unobtrusively as possible."

Galbraith, a professor of economics at Harvard and former U. S. ambassador to India, added the role of art critic to his life today with the publication of "Indian Painting: The Scene, Themes and Legends" which he wrote with Mohinder Singh Randhawa.

Philippines May Cut Term For U.S. Bases

MANILA (AP) — President Ferdinand E. Marcos says his government is studying the possibility of further reducing the term for which U.S. military bases in the Philippines are leased. The current lease expires in 23 years.

At the beginning of Marcos' administration in 1966, the two governments agreed to reduce the lease term of American bases from 99 to 44 years. This meant the United States could maintain bases in the Philippines only 25 years from that date.

Marcos has been under some congressional pressure to scrap his government's alliance with the United States because of its lack of support for the Philippines in the Sabah dispute with Malaysia.

Dim Lit

Twin Falls County Sheriff's officers normally have more trouble with drivers who are not "lit" than those who are not.

But, over the weekend, a woman called to tell Sheriff's officers that her car lights had gone dim and she was afraid to drive further in the dark.

Officers rushed to the assistance of the lady in distress and found that she would not have been so nearly in the dark if she'd have pulled the car light switch out past the parking light position.

"Campaign Fashions" Is Area Show Theme

By LIZ BOLTON
Times-News Correspondent
RUBERT — Appropriate for this election year, "Campaign Fashions" was the theme of the recent seventh annual style show sponsored by the Minidoka Memorial Hospital Guild.

Twelve models from five Minidoka County clothing firms, with the assistance of special appearances by Sharon Lemmon, Rupert, Miss Utah World, carried out the theme with 36 different outfits suitable to four "platforms."

Beginning with the pants platform, planks were presented by Thelma Ennis and Ruth Simpson, Rogers; Donna Staker, Jane Manning and Helen Knoblauch, the Idaho Department Store; Shirley Knott, Marcia Dalley and Mae Jones, Janes; Wendy Ramsey, Penney's, and Judy Ling and Wynona Kruse, 2-Mile.

To give fair representation and equal time to the youth quake movement, Jamie Rasmussen modeled a guest appearance in school fashions, also from Penney's.

At this point in the show, the models took a break to introduce the candy strippers at the Minidoka Memorial Hospital. The program began last summer and already four of the girls have put in 40 hours to earn their candy stripper hats. They are Janet Anderson, Marjane Westergaard, Joan Chandler and Linda Honsinger.

Other platforms illustrated were those of "Daytime Wear," "Appropriate" and "After the Victory Wear."

Highlighting the show were several appearances by Miss Lemmon. She appeared in outfits she wore in her campaign for the title of Miss Universe last August in California. She also modeled a guest appearance in Career Culture Modeling School, Salt Lake City, and is a professional model. She will be graduated from the Patrick Stevens Fashion Merchandising School, Salt Lake City, in December, and will be married in June, 1969.

Next January, Miss Lemmon will return to California to audition for commercials.

Three of the outfits presented by Miss Lemmon, a dinner dress, a cocktail dress and a formal, were creations she made for the recent pageant.

The 1968 style show program was written and narrated by Mrs. Roger Jones and was carried out in red, white and blue. Mrs. Harry Ridge was accompanist.

Prior to the style show, a luncheon of salad, chicken, vegetable, roll and coffee was prepared and served by the Elks Lodge. The dessert was prepared and served by the Pink Ladies.

Proceeds from the annual event will go toward medical career scholarships. Mrs. Steven Antone and Mrs. Roland Jones were co-chairmen for the event, and Mrs. Bonnie Dalley was in charge of ticket sales. Mrs. Roy Honsinger is president of the local guild. More than 240 women attended.

Dear Abby

By-ABIGAIL VAN-BUREN
DEAR ABBY: I have shared an apartment with another girl for almost a year, and our lease is nearly up. My problem is that I don't want to live with this girl any longer. She's a good kid, but she needs a babysitter. She is 20 years old, and she's afraid to stay alone for one night. I went home for a weekend, and when I returned she said she was so "afraid" to be alone she slept with the lights on.

One day I failed to tell her I was going to do some errands before work, so when I got home (about two hours later) she was practically in hysterics. She was so "worried" about me, she was ready to call the police! My mother agrees that I'd be better off living alone even if I couldn't afford such an expensive apartment. But how can I tell this girl?

UP-A-CREEK
DEAR UP: Tell her in plain English that you have decided to live alone. And don't start making up excuses or you will have a debate on your hands.

DEAR ABBY: I used to suspect that you made up some of those crazy letters I read in your column. But now I'm sure you don't, because not even you, Dear Abby, could spin a yarn as wild as what is actually taking place right under my nose.

A retired old maid school teacher lives next door to me. She's always been friendly and above reproach. Recently I noticed two very nice looking young men "visiting" her. It soon became apparent that they were living there. Next I noticed a lot of middle-aged women coming and going. I inquired and was told they were young men teaching French and Spanish. Now I know this old maid is running some sort of "brothel for women!" I understand the authorities were notified but said they could do nothing as she is neither breaking the law nor disturbing the peace. How about this!

B.B.
DEAR B.B.: "Brothels" for either sex are against the law, so if your information is correct, you are "understanding" that which is not understandable. You could be mistaken, however. Lots of middle-aged women are eager to learn French and Spanish.

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I have been having a big difference of opinion about the use of the word "BROAD" when referring to a woman.

I say it is a reflection on a woman's character, and no nice lady would care to be called a "broad."

My husband says the term is "more descriptive" of a woman's figure (like a "broad chest" and has nothing whatsoever to do with her character. He admits that he would never use it around church people.

Where did this word come from in connection with ladies?

DEAR MRS. G.: Beats me. But if one of my readers out there clues me in, I'll let you know.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "ACQUAINTANCE!" Yes, it is possible for two blue-eyed parents to produce a brown-eyed child. Consult a book on heredity and the Mendelian Law. And tell your alter-in-law about another law. The law of common decency with which she should become more familiar.

Everybody has a problem. What's yours? For a personal reply write to Abby, Box 60700, Los Angeles, Cal., 90069 and enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Curled Chicken
1 3-pound chicken
3 tablespoons oil
3 large onions, sliced
1 tablespoon curry powder
1 teaspoon sugar
1 teaspoon crushed red pepper
2 cups soup stock (can use bouillon)
2 tablespoons wine (optional)
Cut chicken into small pieces and set it aside. Heat a pan with oil and saute the onions over medium heat until brown.

Turn off the heat and let pan cool for a few minutes. Add curry powder and saute with onions, crushed red pepper, sugar and salt. Stir for about 10 minutes. Add chicken and brown well. Add enough soup stock to barely cover chicken and bring to boil again. Lower heat and simmer for one and one-half hours. Serve with rice. Two cups diced potatoes can be added to soup stock.

Stocks

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market widened its advance late this afternoon in more active trading. Blue chips improved their early performance, boosting the Dow Jones Industrial average nearly 3 points. Gains outnumbered losses by about 150 issues on the New York Stock Exchange. Ford increased its initial gain to 2 points or more. A Ford official said it would be a "real selling year" for the auto industry. As Ford caught up, other auto stocks which rose Monday faded on profit taking, the leading issues dropping 1/4 to 1/2 point. Nonferrous metals strengthened following the increase in the price of lead. Phillips Dodge was up 1/2 point. Caterpillar advanced a point, were posted for Kennecott and Anaconda. Steels clung to the upside on news that gains small. Occidental Petroleum, off about a point, paced the list on volume late in the day. American Telephone, up a fraction, was up to top of the list in activity, followed by American Motors which dropped a fraction in profit taking. General Electric up more than 2, continued in investment demand. Gains of a point or so were shared by Lorillard, United Air Lines, Con Foods and Foremost-McKesson. Prices advanced on livelier trading on the American Stock Exchange.

Grains

CHICAGO (AP)—Wheat futures declined nearly two cents a bushel on the Chicago Board of Trade today, influenced by a government report concerning impounding of wheat by farmers. True, inflation often hits hardest at the poor and those on fixed incomes, such as retirees. But the rich seem not to be deterred from operating expenses of the clubs last year rose faster than income. A survey just published shows that club costs rose at a record high in the 12 months ended in May. Maintenance per hole, for example, rose to $4.29 in golf clubs, a jump of nearly $200 in one year. It was the 19th hole that appears to have kept most clubs in more than two years ago. A survey by sports activities, a shoeing fact until it is remembered that the cost of most sports is included in overall dues. The survey, conducted each year since 1954 by Harris, Kerr, Peck and Associates, a consulting firm, revealed that membership dues rose to $549 from $522 a year earlier. Food-drink bills totaled $471 per person from $463. Add in another $181 per member for other items, such as new towels and jackets and maybe swimming pool fees and the grand total spent per member came to more than $1,200, a 20 percent increase from $1,000 a year earlier. In other items, such as new towels and jackets and maybe swimming pool fees and the grand total spent per member came to more than $1,200, a 20 percent increase from $1,000 a year earlier.

By JOHN CUNIFF, Business Analyst. NEW YORK (AP)—The facts and figures are in now and there's something frightening about them. You just can't hide from inflation, even at the country club. The cost of fun and play today is rising steadily. True, inflation often hits hardest at the poor and those on fixed incomes, such as retirees. Trial Set Of Sirhan. LOS ANGELES (AP)—Sirhan's trial was set for Tuesday and will be held on the basis that he alone murdered Sen. Robert F. Kennedy. The chief deputy district attorney, Lynn D. Compton, said at a hearing Monday that the investigation of other possible suspects is negative and of little value to anyone. This was the first public statement along those lines by the prosecution. The defense requested—and received—a delay from Nov. 1 to Dec. 9 for the start of the trial. Monday's hearing, lasting 7 1/2 hours, was the longest and longest for Sirhan, 24, a Jordanian immigrant. Sitting in a padded chair, he nodded over from time to time to confer with his attorney, Russell E. Fara, sons. His only statement came when Superior Court Judge Herbert V. Walker asked if he would waive the statutory time for his case to be heard. "Yes, sir," Sirhan replied swiftly in a low voice. In asking the trial postponement Parsons said another defense lawyer, still unidentified, remains involved in another case.

Matson Wins First Gold Medal For U.S.; Hines Sweeps 100 Meter Race

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Randy Matson, the mammoth shot from Los Angeles, won the silver medal in the shot put behind Matson and Charlie Green of Seattle finishing third for the bronze behind Hines in the 100-meter dash. Hines put on a spectacular finish and was timed in 9.9 seconds for the 100, shattering the Olympic record and tying the pending world mark.

Earlier, the undefeated United States basketball team won its second game with Spencer Haywood, an unheralded 19-year-old collegian, putting a 93-36 romp over Senegal.

Discus man Jay Silvester and three lady sprinters—Wyomia Tyus, Barbara Ferrell and Margaret Bailey—all starred in preliminary tests in their specialties.

Grid 'Experts' Fall Flat On Their Faces

By MAJOR AMOS B. HOOPLE (Peerless Prognosticator)
About the upset weekend fell and are knocked off so many of you that I shudder to think of all the traumas you will endure in selecting this week. Of about 350 entries last week, at least 30 per cent did not hit the .500 mark.

Of course, due to some scheduling changes, two of the high school games could not be counted since they were played on Wednesday, well in advance of our Friday noon deadline. Of no great surprise was the fact that several did pick Glenns Ferry and Kimberly to tie.

Team Needed

Dick's holiday basketball tournament, scheduled for December 20-21, needs one more entrant, reports Coach Keith Wilson. The change is needed because of a cancellation. The tournament is a two night affair, and a team interested in getting in should call Coach Wilson at DeLoach or call at the Times-News.

This week we offer what in our opinion is the toughest ballot thus far. We have gone in mind for pitting losers against losers and that is, if anything, more difficult than picking from among winners.

AL Expansion Draft Begins With Royals

BOSTON (AP) — The Kansas City Royals and the Seattle Pilots go into a generous grab bag Tuesday to select 30 players each, at $175,000 per man, in the American League's expansion draft.

Now let's turn to the happy business of awarding titles and prizes. Our winner for the week is a youngster from Kimberly, Tom Ridgeway. He missed six in a four-on-four two prize winners, but showed a better pick prediction rate. He receives $10.

Chief Coach Says Bengals Were Tough

KANSAS CITY (AP) — The Kansas City Chiefs had nothing but respect for the defense of the Cincinnati Bengals after carving out a hard-earned 13-3 victory over pro football's newest team Sunday.

Chief Coach Hank Stram said, "They're tough." "They've got a veteran defensive unit, and they don't give you anything cheap. They're playing extremely well together."

Suffers Attack

STOKE-ON-TRENT, England (AP) — Paul Shardlow, a goalie for the Cleveland Stokers in the North American Soccer League this year, collapsed and died Monday during training with his English club, Stoke City.

Shardlow, 25, was believed to have suffered a heart attack.

FASTEST MAN IN THE WORLD is U.S. sprinter Jim Hines, at least until he next race. Hines won the unprized 100-meter dash at Mexico City in the record-breaking time of 9.9. Close behind Hines was Lennox Miller, racing for Jamaica, and Charlie Greene, yesterday's hero in the semi-finals. (AP wirephoto)

Lefty Signal Caller Has Won Top Spot As Running Back

NEW YORK (NEA) — The time of mid-July. The place: Fairfield, Conn.

Bobby Duhan had just arrived at the New York Giants' training camp and was holding his breath. He didn't think he was going to make the team.

Robert Joseph Duhan was born and reared in Abbeville (population: 15,000), in the southeast corner of Louisiana, "hundred miles from Baton Rouge. It's a farming area, but Duhan's father is a businessman. He runs the town liquor store. "It's a nice town," says Bobby. "Quiet and peaceful. People move nice and slow down there. I like New York."

The Giants clearly were impressed by him; they voted him the game ball after the victory over the Saints.

The crowd at Yankee Stadium agreed: "Looks like another Joe Morrison."

Nevertheless, Duhan figured he'd be on the first train back to hometown Abbeville, La., right after the first cut.

For two months, Duhan took a crash-course in becoming a running back. In the Giants' third game, he got his chance.

"Quite a surprise, that boy," Bobby, 22 and single, didn't specify what kind.

Blues Sign Wing

ST. LOUIS (AP) — The St. Louis Blues of the National Hockey League announced today they have assigned left-winger and center Terry Clapton to the club.

Clapton, a 22-year-old defenseman from the Blue Jay hockey team of the Central Hockey League, was assigned to the Blues' Kansas City farm team of the Central Hockey League.

Thompson Prepares For Salt Flat Test

BONNEVILLE SALT FLATS, Utah (AP) — Veteran hot-rodder Mickey Thompson hoped to drive his new car to 300 miles per hour Tuesday in a shake-down for a record attempt later in the week.

Thompson's car, a 2,000-horsepower Ford, is established 298 miles per hour in four runs of up to 320 mph Sunday. It was finished recently at his garage in Long Beach, Calif.

Olympians Not Checking With Doctor

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Less than five per cent of the huge U.S. Olympic team has been checking in for medical help, chief team physician Dr. Daniel Hanley, chief team physician, said Monday.

But, barring more rain, it appeared at least six miles of the track would be ready Tuesday. "That's awful short," Thompson said. "We'll run up to about 300 and then see how the braking parachutes work."

AIP Candidates Outline Stands

The two American Independent Party candidates who will appear on the Twin Falls County ballots in November were questioned by the League of Women Voters, Mrs. Roy Skelton, Twin Falls League President, announced.

Joe Anderson, Pocatello, entered the race for U.S. representative and opposes Republican Orval Hansen, Idaho Falls, and Democrat Darrell Manning, Pocatello.

In the race for state representative in District 23 (eastern Twin Falls County) Nolan Victor opposes Republicans J. D. Dalton and Ray Lincoln, who won the four-way primary race. Two of the three will be elected.

Mr. Anderson's reply to biographical information requested by the League states that he earned a B.S. degree in Business and Architecture from Idaho State University in 1960. Anderson, 40, is currently vice president and air-conditioning wholesaler in Pocatello, Idaho Falls, and Twin Falls, and is continuing to operate the firm.

Mr. Anderson's answers to League questions follow:

1. What changes, if any, would you advocate in federal policies which you feel are causing the problems of our country?

2. How do you propose to meet the demands of the federal budget? "I believe that the federal budget must be balanced. That over a given period of time the government should not continue subsidies and the entire national debt be paid off, Jefferson said, "I place economy among the first and most important of the problems of our country. I believe the federal government should return to its proper role of protecting life, liberty and property and refrain from trying to destroy man by solving all his problems for him. Dwight D. Eisenhower said: 'Every step we take toward making the State the caretaker of our lives, by that much we move toward making the State our master.' What we need is less Federal Government control, not more."

3. How do you propose to meet the demands of the federal budget? "I believe that the federal budget must be balanced. That over a given period of time the government should not continue subsidies and the entire national debt be paid off, Jefferson said, "I place economy among the first and most important of the problems of our country. Brothers Serve As Pall-Bearers For Slain Kim

FORT KENT, Maine (AP) — Pic. Louis Daigle, the last of seven brothers to join the Marines and the only one to die in Vietnam, was buried Monday next to his mother in nearby Soldier Pond, where he was born and raised.

The brothers served as pall-bearers at the funeral. Mass for the 20-year-old Marine in this rural northern Maine community was held at the home of the family, and five other children also attended the service.

Young Daigle was the youngest son of a well-known potato farmer. Louis died in South Vietnam near the demilitarized zone Sept. 30 after being wounded during an enemy attack.

BYU Receives Land Donation

PROVO, Utah (AP) — Brigham Young University has been given 1,044 acres of land in San Clemente, Calif.

Ernest L. Wilkinson, university president, said the property donated by Dr. and Mrs. Ray R. Reeves of Westwood, Calif., and Newport Beach, Calif., had been placed in trust for the eventual benefit of BYU.

Wilkinson said the land, in southern Orange County, is located in a rapidly developing residential and recreational area and any development would be in the hands of the master plan, San Clemente City.

RITES SET

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Ben Boudaert, star of television's "Petitiot Junction," will be buried at Forest Lawn Wednesday following funeral services at the Chapel of the Falls on the cemetery grounds. She died Sunday at 62 in Good Samaritan Hospital, where she was being treated for lung cancer complicated by pneumonia.

Science Shrinks Painful Hemorrhoids

Stops Itch—Relieves Pain

Finds Way That Both Relieves Pain and Shrinks Piles in Most Cases

New York, N.Y. (Special): Science has found a special formula with the ability, in most cases, to shrink hemorrhoids, stop itching and relieve pain. In case after case doctors proved, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction (shrinkage) took place. The secret is Preparation H. There is no other formula for hemorrhoids like it. Preparation H also soothes irritated tissues and helps prevent further infection in ointment or suppository form.

Students 'Cut' Chicago Class In Rare Dispute

CHICAGO (AP) — A boycott by many Negro students of Crane High School Monday came one day after the school principal served as best man at the wedding of two Negro students.

"It may seem strange at a time like this," said Principal James R. Maloney, "but many of us are very close to our students."

Maloney was the only white member of the wedding Sunday of Ananias Montague and Dolores Harris, both 18 and both seniors at Crane, a predominantly Negro West Side high school.

About 25 per cent of Crane's students stayed away from classes Monday in a Negro boycott which affected a number of schools in the city.

AILINER TO FLY LONDON (AP) — The French prototype of the British-French Concorde supersonic jet is expected to fly for the first time from Toulouse, France, late in December or early next year.

Minister of Technology Anthony Wedgwood Benn told Parliament Monday.

$4.99 Shock Absorbers

Worn-out shock absorbers are dangerous. They can adversely affect handling, braking, steering, and acceleration—Your car will lean and sway during cornering. During hard braking and acceleration your wheels will hop and skip. Push down hard on your car's fender, if it bounces more than 1 1/2 times, you need new shock absorbers.
