HHH Raps Viets On Raids

By The Associated Press
Hubert H. Humphrey says the United States is doing the bombing in North Vietnam and South Vietnam should not be able to exercise a veto over any U.S. decision to halt it.
"I believe that the American people expect the government of South Vietnam to be cooperative," the Democratic presidential candidate said Sunday. "We have borne a heavy burden in this war."
Third party candidate George C. Wallace, meanwhile, said if there is no sign of progress in peace negotiations by Jan. 20, he would believe there is no alternative but to press for military victory.

And Republican Richard M. Nixon predicted that with the election Nov. 5 with a margin three to four per cent greater than the best opinion poll shows "unless some great event happens."

Humphrey said he presumed South Vietnam president Nguyen Van Thieu spoke for himself in saying there should be no bombing halt without a reciprocal gesture from Hanoi.
A decision on whether to halt the bombing would have to be made by the United States, in the light of what it considers the necessities in Vietnam to be, Humphrey said.
"Obviously, we will take into consideration many things, but this is an American mission," he said. "I believe there is very little bombing if any, done by the South Vietnamese. And this matter must be something over which the government of Vietnam, South Vietnam, cannot exercise a veto."
Wallace was asked on another television panel program how long he would let the bombing go on before he would decide as president to go for a military victory.
"I would say if the Paris peace talks do not evidence any progress by the beginning of the next administration," he replied, "then I think we ought to reexamine our position."
Nixon's prediction of a greater victory than the best poll shows would mean a landslide if based on favorable polls in the last week of the campaign to a 19 per cent lead over Humphrey.

Twin Falls City and County officers are investigating two burglaries which were reported to them Monday morning.
City officers said that about $500 in cash and jewelry were stolen from the office of Gateway Trailer Center, Inc. on Addison Avenue West.
Chief Frank Burnett said the office officers were notified early Monday morning that the U-Ola Cafe in Kimberly was entered sometime after the business closed Sunday night.
Officers said that employees at the cafe could find nothing stealing. The building was entered through an east window which was removed. Officers are attempting to trace fingerprints from the pane of glass.
The restaurant is owned by Mr. and Mrs. Roy Dunlap.

Onassis Yacht Boasts Gold Plumbing
MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Christian Onassis' yacht on which he and Jacqueline Kennedy are honeymooning, is outfitted with lavish appointments and priceless art.
A twin-engine auxiliary slipway and a speedily launch are kept on the deck of the ship which is 110 yards long. The one-time floating playground of the Onassis family is housed at the second level with its main salon, 22-seat dining area and kitchen.
In recent years, Onassis has pulled the Christina into Florida ports several times. During his last trip, Charles Bosco, a giver, was permitted to have reporters of the Miami Herald and Miami News a tour of the ship.
In the main salon sits a Jado Buddha, one of three that exist

SCORPIOS ISLAND, Greece (AP) — Newlywed Jacqueline Kennedy Onassis and her multimillionaire Greek bridegroom saw most of their wedding guests quit this rain-pelted island by speedboats Monday, then returned to the moored yacht Christina.
Wind, rain, sleet and uncommon cold cast a pall on this paradise island where the 39-year-old widow of President John F. Kennedy and Aristotle Onassis, 62, the so-called "shiping magazine," were united in a Greek Orthodox ceremony Sunday.
Alexander Onassis, 21-year-old son of Onassis, told newsmen only the bride and groom and her children, Caroline and John, now were aboard the Christina.
The glamorous former first lady and her bronzed, silver-haired husband retired on their wedding night aboard the yacht without revealing their travel plans.
At a champagne reception aboard the Christina Sunday night, the man who rose from teen-age poverty in Turkey to a fortune estimated at $200 million was a far cry from the bride who had not decided where they would go.
The wedding ceremony in the simple, freshly whitewashed chapel of the Little Virgin on Scorpios was a far cry from the lavish affair in Newport 15 years ago when Jacqueline Bouvier married John Fitzgerald Kennedy at a Roman Catholic mass.
For her second wedding, Mrs. Kennedy wore a beige chiffon and red tie, a white carnation in her buttonhole.
As a small choir chanted hymns, twin white wedding crowns were crossed over the couple's heads. The priest exchanged two gold rings to symbolize the unity of the couple "in the eyes of God."
Unlike the Catholic wedding ceremony, there was no "I do" nor any pledge to love, honor and obey. The priest placed a New Testament encased in gold before the couple and each kissed it.
Wreaths of orange blossoms were then placed on their heads and they did the Dance of Isaiah, a kind of dance in which each tries to stop on the other's feet. The "one who stomps his partner first, says Greek tradition, will be the dominant partner."

U.S., Reds Call Ceasefire To Allow Captive Release

SAIGON (AP) — The United States and North Vietnam declared a 36-hour ceasefire in 288 square miles along the North Vietnamese coast for the release Monday of 14 North Vietnamese seamen captured more than two years ago.
The cease-fire and release of the prisoners, coupled with the withdrawal of the battleship New Jersey from off the coast of North Vietnam and the continued lull in the ground war, increased speculation that Washington and Hanoi might be moving toward progress in the Paris peace talks.
Diplomats at the United Nations said they believe North Vietnam wants to get a peace settlement before the U.S. administration takes office Jan. 21. But despite the continuing speculation, that the United States might halt the bombing of North Vietnam, American warplanes carried out strikes again today in the North below the parallel, and more of the same was scheduled for Tuesday, military sources said.
U.S. Headquarters announced that 24 Americans were killed Monday when an Air Force twin engine C-47 transport developed trouble in one engine and crashed in the central highlands. There were no survivors.
The same day the bombing of two Air Force men, two Army men and two civilians.
American pilots on Sunday logged 710 missions over North Vietnam. An Air Force F-4 Phantom II fighter was downed by ground fire 20 miles north of the demilitarized zone, and a big HH-3 Jolly Green Giant helicopter that tried to rescue the two pilots also was shot down.
In South Vietnam, American strategic bombers pounded a major enemy supply base 50 miles east of Phnom Penh. Five waves of 30 B52 bombers dropped 1,000 tons of explosives on the base, which is believed to be one of the key supply routes for North Vietnamese troops in the coastal lowlands and the foothills below South Vietnam's second largest city.

Astronauts Feud With Controllers Apollo Readies Landing

SPACE CENTER, HOUSTON (AP) — The Apollo 7 astronauts, mellowed after a day of a 10-to-ground arguments, clowned their way through their final pre-landing checks today and fired their large space engine to steer into a more favorable course for returning to earth Tuesday.
Navy Capt. Walter M. Schirra Jr., Air Force Maj. Donn F. Eisele and civilian Walter Cunningham raced through their final hours in space, they displayed none of the irritability that sparked bitter disagreements with ground controllers Sunday, mostly over flight plan changes.
The astronauts made it plain they are eager to come home after 11 days in space. They are scheduled to parachute into the Atlantic Ocean near Bermuda at 7:12 a.m. EDT Tuesday, climaxing a spectacular, perfect flight that set the United States firm on the path to the moon.
At mid-morning, they pointed the nose of Apollo 7 north and fired an eight-second burst from the craft's 20,500-pound thrust engine. The blast shifted the low point of their orbital path about 1,250 miles to the west, almost due south of Houston over Mexico.
It also raised the high point of the orbital path about 10 miles to 276 miles. The low point remained at 100 miles.
The control center said this placed Apollo 7 in a good position for hitting the target zone on landing. The next time the big engine fires will be Tuesday morning to pull the spaceship out of orbit.
Commenting on the perfect engine burn, Cunningham said: "That's pretty good."
"The seventh telecast from the orbiting Apollo 7 studio ended with Schirra displaying a sign that read: 'I'm still in space slowly in the West.'"
"This is Apollo 7 signing off," he said, as the excellent picture faded after a nine-minute production.
Schirra, Eisele and Cunningham also displayed a new sign which indicated they are happy to be heading home.
A crudely drawn picture of the Apollo ship floating on the water was accompanied by a sign that read: "Everybody out of the Pool."
They told the patrolmen they had left Minidoka about 11:30 p.m. Saturday and it is presumed the accident occurred about 15 minutes later. Frank Reyes was found at home and taken to the hospital. He was hospitalized for failure to keep his vehicle under control.
In the second accident, a 1961 Chevrolet pickup truck driven by Howard Bransbury, 27, was struck by the rear of a parked 1953 Ford pickup whose driver, Burton Nagle, 39, was not injured, but Darius was thrown from the truck. Mr. Bransbury was treated and released at Cassia Memorial Hospital. Mr. Veneman was undergoing emergency surgery Monday morning.
Mr. Nagle, who was outside the car changing the tire, was not hurt. His passengers, Darius Nagle, 7, and Thomas Nagle, 10, were not injured, but Darius was thrown from the truck. Citations are pending further investigation, Patrolman Brewer said.

Burley Men Injured In Separate Crashes

RUPERT — Two Burley men were in critical condition Monday as the results of two separate traffic accidents in the town.
Pete Reyes Jr., 18, is in Minidoka Memorial Hospital and Elmer Veneman, 54, is in Cassia Memorial Hospital. Three other men, injured in the same accident as Mr. Reyes, also are at Minidoka Memorial Hospital. Antonio Hernandez Jr., 18, and Guillermo Garcia, 19, are in good condition, and Frank Reyes, twin brother of Pete, is in fair condition.
The vehicles in both accidents were demolished, according to State Patrolman John Brewer.
The first accident, involving the four men, apparently occurred about 11:45 p.m. Saturday, but was not reported until 8:30 a.m. Sunday by a passing motorist.
A 1962 Chevrolet, believed to have been driven by Frank Reyes, traveled 1,275 feet, careening from one side of the road the other, after it went out of control.
The mishap occurred on a Blaine county road five and one-half miles east of Minidoka and Patrolman Brewer said it left the road three times, twice to the left side and once to the right before overturning. It came to rest on its wheels.
Frank Reyes was thrown from the car, but the three passengers were unconscious. He was taken to the town of Minidoka where he got a ride to a hospital.

Newlyweds Plan To Live In New York

NEW YORK (AP) — The newly married Mr. and Mrs. Aristotle Onassis will return to live in New York City in about two weeks, the secretary to the former Jacqueline Kennedy said Monday.
The secretary, Nancy Tuckerman, said the couple will occupy the former Mrs. Kennedy's Fifth Avenue apartment.
Caroline and John Jr., Miss Tuckerman said, were expected in New York Monday or early this week to resume school.
Additional court hearings for "My Fair Lady" will be held at 2 p.m. Wednesday at the court room of the Twin Falls High School.
The auditions are to accommodate those who could not appear at the auditions during the weekend.
If Paul Kilks, director of the forthcoming Dilante Musical, says that the production, said that the show calls for a larger chorus than any previous production.
All those interested are asked to attend. An accompanist will be available. Those auditions should be prepared to sing a song from any musical.

Bomb Halt Vexes South Viets

SAIGON (AP) — High circles in the Saigon regime are sharply critical of Washington's new peace initiative and its proposal to halt the bombing of North Vietnam.
"The Americans are fighting a political campaign at home, not the war here," said one senior official.
The South Vietnamese government is deeply concerned that in its negotiations with Hanoi, Washington may settle for less than it would if the presidential campaign were on.
Many in the Saigon government believe that because Hanoi realizes the importance to the Johnson administration of a peace pre-election break in peace negotiations, the allied bargaining position is vastly weakened.
"If the first time we're winnable really means," said one government minister, "for the first time in five years there is real popular support for the unilateral de-escalation would amount to a betrayal of the American fighting men who have died in the war."
Should South Vietnam consider the interest in ending any bombing halt packing a wave of anti-Americanism would probably sweep the South. Demonstrations and rioting, possibly with tacit government approval, could be expected from the Catholics who are well organized as a political force.
Archbishop Nguyen Van Binh of Saigon said Sunday if a bombing halt "does not serve the interest of the South Vietnamese, then we must all object to it as citizens."
U.S. officials are aware of the danger and the propaganda risk of being accused by their ally of a sellout. Bunker's repeated meetings with Thieu probably include strong assurances that the legitimate interests of South Vietnam will not be jeopardized in any deal with Hanoi.

Paul Boy, 9, Injured In Gun Mishap

RUPERT — Mark Satterwhite, 9-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. George F. Jones Jr., Paul, is hospitalized in fair condition at Cassia Memorial Hospital with a bullet wound in his chest.
Sheriff Theo Johnson said a bullet from a .22 rifle narrowly missed the child's heart: The boy, accidentally discharged Sunday, was sitting in the car when the bullet struck him from the back seat of the family car to the window ledge.
The sheriff said the bullet went through the window of the car door before hitting Mark, who was standing outside the auto. They were preparing to go for a ride with their mother.
The father was at work. The child was brought to the hospital by Mrs. Jones.

Q: Is it true that scientists have created a simple but biologically active virus. To do this they used off-the-shelf chemicals as building blocks plus a substance derived from natural sources. Callen Heads Hansen Plans For Jerome

JEROME — Jerry Callen was named this week as Jerome County Chairman of Farmers and Ranchers Committee for George Hansen by John Breckenridge, Twin Falls, state chairman.

The appointment was made at a recent meeting at Burley. Those attending were urged to carry on the fight locally for better ranches and farms by informing the people in their area to cast their vote for George Hansen, GOP candidate for the U. S. Senate.

Mrs. Callen stated, "Idaho farmers and ranchers have had enough of the Freeman farm programs and the men like Johnson, Humphrey and Church who are responsible for the federal restrictions which brought about this inflation which is cutting down our buying power. Frank Church voted in favor of every big spending program proposed by the Johnson-Humphrey administration."

George Hansen has opposed the Freeman farm program which is responsible for high production costs and low farm income. It is time for a change in our country's farm program, and that change can begin with the election of George Hansen to the U. S. Senate," the chairman said.

The program is based on eight points, the development of character, high ideals, homemaking, citizenship and service, health, budgeting, appreciation of beauty and fun and friendship.

The Camp Fire Girls motto is "Give Service," so many of the girls' projects involve community and world-wide service. Some of the service projects are the needle-work guild. "National Forest Products Week" Proclaimed By LBJ

President Johnson has proclaimed the week beginning Oct. 20 as "National Forest-Products Week."

The President asked every citizen to remember the importance of forest products and consider the renewal and wise use of the forested lands which cover one-third of America.

Forest products enter American homes in numerous ways—the newspaper, letters and magazines; boxes and bags from the grocery stores; breakfast hot cakes with real maple syrup; charcoal grills flavored with smoke from hickory chips; decorative materials including wreaths, cones and trees for the Christmas season, and the roaring fire in the fireplace. Most houses are built and decorated with wood products, and much of the furniture is constructed of wood.

The oldest man's raw materials, wood also has stepped gracefully into space-age technology, helping form missile nosecones and contributing to the advancement of medical science.

Timber harvested on national forests contributes much to the local as well as to the national economy. During the past year 681 million board feet of lumber was sold in the Intermountain Region. The trees were harvested and utilized by locally operated mills, providing jobs for many skilled and unskilled workers.

The sale of Christmas trees on national forests is becoming big business: In the Intermountain Region nearly 56,000 trees were sold in 1967.

"The forest service wants the timber on national forests put to profitable and productive use," said Floyd Iverson, regional forester. "For the benefit of the forest itself, we need to harvest timber. As a long-term recurring crop, trees have a limited life, subject to diseases, insects and other hazards. To remain thrifty, timber stands, suitable for commercial use, need to be renewed periodically through harvesting."

WASHINGTON — I reject the notion that poor old Earl Warren really wants to be named the first U. S. dictator, but he has a nerve going to the Supreme Court... But, hold it! Johnson's letter to Warren said he'd accept Warren's decision to retire... Warren changed his mind and returned to the bench for the Court's fall session.

New York Times he was willing to stay on if Fortas was not confirmed. His view, he said, was that "there should be a Chief Justice," for the good of the Court, and opinion the anti-Warren crowd... Warren's decision to retire "effective as such time as a successor is qualified." When the Senate refused to "qualify" Fortas, Warren changed his mind and returned to the bench for the Court's fall session.

he doesn't. Warren's retirement letter was not written to a job but to the President of the United States. He addressed Johnson as "My Dear Mr. President" and not "Mr. Johnson" or "Mr. Lyndon, or even You-Old-Horsehair."

The People Factor

So much fear and fiction about race is current in America that the facts we are slowly and painfully learning about ourselves cannot be reported too much.

The latest Gallup poll on the subject of law and order found that of all white adults interviewed in a nationwide survey, 35 per cent. say they are fearful of using the streets at night. But for Negroes, the figure is 40 per cent.

A 314-page evaluation of all published desegregation research reports prepared for the Phi Delta Kappa Commission on Education, Human Rights and Responsibilities, concluded that integration increases the learning of Negro children and does not change the learning rate of white children.

It also found that Negro aspirations are positively affected by desegregation when the virtuality of the negative predictions of desegregation opponents, such as disorder in the schools, are borne out by studies.

On a higher level of education, however, junior college officials in Florida have discovered that equal opportunity for Negro high school graduates is not spurring their entry into predominantly white colleges.

Many Teachers

Many parents have suspected it for some time. Now a psychologist has confirmed that children viewing violence on television or in the movies tend to adopt a more aggressive attitude.

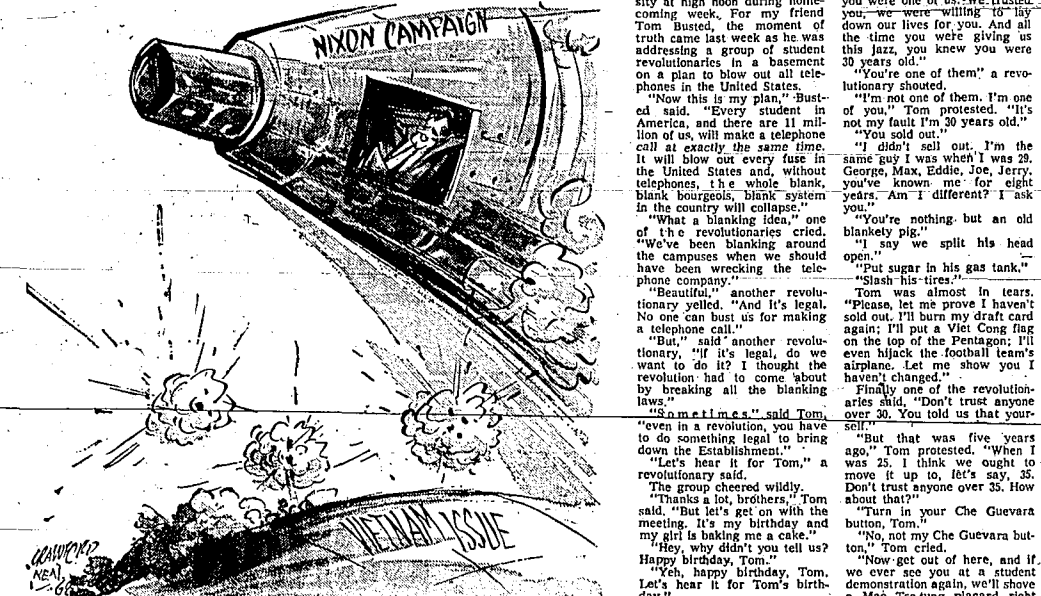

Albert Bandura, a Stanford University professor of psychology, testified before the National Committee on the Causes and Prevention of Violence that experiments he conducted indicate television violence increases the probability that viewers may engage in violent behavior.

Bandura described to the investigators the results of his experiment, in which he showed a group of boys a film of a fist fight staged by a drama group.

Those who viewed the violent film "exhibited far more aggressive behavior against a person who previously had angered them than did a similar group of boys who had been exposed only to a nonviolent film."

Television is not the only culprit creating a climate of violence, although it is one of the more influential ones. Violent behavior is a learned response, and today there are many teachers at work in the world.

ROBERT ALLEN AND JOHN GOLDSMITH A Comparative Evaluation

WASHINGTON — Richard M. Nixon, clearly the front-runner as the long presidential race winds into its final stages, occasionally missing a stride as he glances nervously over his shoulder at his pursuers.

before the National Press Club. He intimated that some of the press people were "know-it-alls" who held his self-imposed ban on outlying peace proposals for Vietnam, but he added a little bit.

He said he was withholding such comments, not only to avoid any impediments for the Paris talks, but also to preserve complete flexibility and plenty of "running room" for Nixon administration. He said he would not escalate the present level of bombing now.

George Wallace, surprising some experts, is still up front with the leaders. He is running easily, confident that he has forced the pace thus far.

He began his UPI speech with the very comment that he was not used to speaking before orderly audiences. Then, hour notes, he spoke for half an hour stressing his determination to exert control of local schools and local government in locally elected officials, not in "pointy-headed" federal bureaucrats.

Dear Dr. Molner: For some time now I have been bothered by what I believe is "gas buildup" in my system. I feel from morning until late in the day, but without letup. This feeling is a constant source of irritation not only to me but also to my family.

Opinions of Guest Editors

ANOTHER CHEAP SHOT FROM HANSEN From The Lewiston Tribune You would think that by now even so slow as Idaho Second District Congressman George V. Hansen would have realized that the love-or-hate-in-Vietnam-more-than-you-do attack is not so cheap shot but pretty sharp on the sides.

Federalized Idaho National Guard units from Orofino, Grangeville and Idaho Falls recently arrived for duty in Vietnam. Incredibly, Hansen saw it as an opportunity to criticize his opponent, Democratic Sen. Frank Church.

"In light of the fact Idaho National Guard units just landed in Vietnam," Hansen said in Lewiston Friday, "it is more important than ever that my opponent clearly state his position on stopping the bombing of Vietnam which would allow the enemy unfettered movement of troops and supplies that would be used against us."

In other words, the congressman is saying that dove Church is an exponent of a policy that risks the lives of Idaho boys in Vietnam. If you don't want "our boys" slaughtered in Vietnam, you'd better vote for George Hansen; that's the message.

Never mind that Church has been opposing the continuation and the Americanization of the war for four long years now. If he had been headed, the million of South Vietnam, rather than that of Idaho, would be fighting the war today.

But that is beside the point in this discussion. The point is that neither Church nor Hansen nor any other public official in Idaho elsewhere would knowingly do anything that would unnecessarily prolong this war or risk the life of anyone, American or otherwise.

Further, most Americans finally began recognizing that at least a year ago when the Hawks were constantly urging "our boys in Vietnam" back and forth between the like two angry parrots fighting over the custody of a child.

Dove Church said that the administration, with support from the hawks, was deliberately risking the lives of "our boys" in this war. Hawks charged that doves would not support "our boys."

But there are still a few unthinking sophomores around: Some kids in the park at Chicago last month who were still chanting that President Johnson is a murderer.

Mideast Enemies Admit Deadlock

By WILLIAM N. OATIS
 UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP) — Written statements from Israel and Egypt confirmed today their long deadlock over how to solve the Arab-Israeli conflict. Both the Jerusalem and Cairo governments submitted confidential memoranda to Gunnar P. Jarring of Sweden, the U.N. special representative who began trying 11 months ago to bring peace in the wake of the 1967 Arab-Israeli war. Egyptian Foreign Minister Mahmoud Riad's memorandum snubbed Israel's nine-point peace formula and repeated the demand that Israel say it is ready to implement the U.N. Security Council's resolution of last Nov. 22, which lays down the basis for a settlement. Israeli Foreign Minister Abba Eban's memorandum said nothing about implementing the resolution and insisted that peace could come only from Arab-Israeli agreement. He ignored Arab bids for outside intervention.

Phone Firm Wins Case In Jerome Suit

JEROME — The Mountain States Telephone and Telegraph Co. won its case against James P. Kelly and Yves Kelly, Jerome, last week when Fifth District Judge Sherman Bellwood granted the company summary judgment in a two-year-old civil suit.

The company had asked that the court assist in the removal of its telephone poles and lines from the north edge of the Kelly property on Highway 25 in Jerome county.

The Kellys had filed a counterclaim, claiming ownership of the telephone line and its facilities. In the claim they sought to recover for the private use of the telephone company's use of the poles, wires and apparatus, $95,150.00 plus $26,005.81 accumulated interest from Jan. 27, 1966.

Additionally, the Kellys sought to recover $540,000.00 "punitive" damages for willful, deliberate and malicious harassment which damaged the health and general welfare of them. They also sought an injunction against the company's continued harassment.

In this week's action, Judge Bellwood ruled that the telephone company is the lawful owner of the poleline it seeks to remove and which sits on what is now Kellys' property; that the company has the right to remove the poleline from the right-of-way which it lawfully occupies.

Heyburn Awards Contract On Phase 3 Of Sewer Plan

HEYBURN — The T and E of the lines in the Dayley Add Construction Co., Twin Falls, (tion and all else up to, but not has been given 180 days in which to complete the installation of phase three of Heyburn's four-phase plan to install sewer lines throughout the entire city. The fourth phase will include the Bailey Addition.

U.S. Aide Praises Idahoans

By The Associated Press
Interior Secretary Stewart Udall says Frank Church, D-Idaho, has provided "the type of leadership which has moved this country to the threshold of a new era in conservation."

Udall spoke to a conservation group gathered in honor of Church. Meanwhile, Church's Republican opponent, George C. Wallace, was honored at a dinner in Rexburg.

"It is largely because we have people who understand concepts of conservation, and who have a desire to protect our natural resources, that we have been able to make the strides that we have," Udall said.

Udall said that 44 units were added to the national park system in the past seven years, making it the most active such periods in American history.

Church was floor manager of the 1964 Wilderness Bill and co-sponsored the recently-passed Scenic and Wild Rivers Bill.

Hansen said he would seek appointment to two power committees: Agriculture and Atomic Energy and added that Republican Senate leaders have assured him his requests would be given top priority.

"I plan to help chart an aggressive course in seeing our plans carried out," in atomic energy and agriculture, Hansen said.

Gov. Don W. Samuelson, who introduced Hansen, said that increased development of our land, water, minerals, timber, recreation and other natural resources is a major challenge. "We must have unquestioned and dedicated team efforts to achieve this and other goals which lie ahead of us."

Joseph Stumph Jr., the state chairman of the American Independent party, said Samuelson owed AIP presidential candidate George Wallace an apology for not meeting Wallace when he appeared in Boise Oct. 12.

Stumph said Samuelson's snub had generated a sympathy vote for Wallace among "disillusioned Republicans."

State Rep. Darrell Manning, the Democratic 2nd District congressional nominee, said in Soda Springs that American farmers would be left alone to solve their problems — and that farmers would prefer it that way.

"The theoreticians and philologists should quit fussing with the farmer," Manning said, "and spend their time and energy in opening up markets. Our farmers will show them they can produce enough to solve the food problems of the world."

Diplomats Urge Study Of Agency
WASHINGTON (AP) — Proposals to tighten ambassadors' control over U.S. agencies operating abroad and reorganize the State Department at home have been made to all three presidential candidates by young "Turk" diplomats in the U.S. Foreign Service.

Their program, announced Sunday, calls for action to give ambassadors tighter control over Central Intelligence Agency (CIA) and military services' activities abroad, an division of foreign service people in all other agencies operating abroad in the U.S. Foreign Service.

They proposed "the new president make it clear that he regards American ambassadors as his personal representatives to exercise, on his behalf, control over all United States government activities in the country to which the ambassador is accredited."

The diplomats who call themselves "young Turks" have been working on reform proposals for about two years and announced their program through the 8,000-member American Foreign Service Association of which they were control about a year ago.

The program also calls for creation of a Cabinet-level post of "foreign secretary" to share the workload of the secretary of state, and designation of a permanent undersecretary to run the department.

Straw Ballot Favors Nixon
NEW YORK (AP) — The New York Daily News, in its first straw poll survey, showed Richard M. Nixon leading Hubert H. Humphrey by four percentage points in New York state.

The results were based on 6,118 straw votes gathered throughout the state between Oct. 14 through the 17th. It is the first of five surveys which will total about 30,000 straws.

Nixon received 46 per cent, Humphrey 42 per cent, and third-party candidate George C. Wallace 8 per cent, with 4 per cent undecided.

In New York City the count in the presidential race was Humphrey 51, Nixon 34, Wallace 8 and 5 undecided.

GEORGE WALLACE — voices appreciation of a fortune cookie sentiment while dining recently at a Washington, D.C., restaurant. Buhl Slates Course On Motorcycles

Buhl—Trustees of the Buhl school district have approved the establishment of a pilot course in motorcycle driver education.

The course has been recommended by the State Department of Education and the Department of Transportation as a course which should be given preliminary to licensing of all motorcycle operators.

Classes will start the second semester and will consist of approximately three to five hours of classroom instruction with one or two hours of actual driving instruction.

In other business during the October meeting the board approved the request of Frank Charlton, high school principal, for the high school drill team and band to appear in the Idaho State University homecoming parade in Pocatello. Three buses will be used to transport the students to Pocatello and following their performance in the parade, they will attend the homecoming game.

Mrs. Lucille Hozer, curriculum director, and Lee Poppellwell, elementary school principal, discussed the elementary education program for the 1969-70 term with the trustees. They pointed out that textbooks and accompanying materials have been purchased this year to complete the Scott-Forsman Reading Program in grades one through six.

English textbooks and materials were also purchased new this year to complete the Englich program in the elementary grades. It was noted the district must look forward to replacing mathematics textbooks and materials as well as social studies textbooks and materials in the near future.

Mrs. Heyer pointed out that the test results of those resident students of the Buhl district who have participated continuously in the reading program indicate that these students are achieving well above their grade level. Emphasis is now being placed on expanding the subject matter to be offered in the lower grades.

RKF Memoirs Say 1962 Cuban Invasion Planned

NEW YORK (AP) — The late Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, in his personal memoir on the 1962 Cuban missile crisis, said President John F. Kennedy was prepared to order a 250,000-man invasion of the island if the U.S. naval blockade did not succeed.

Kennedy said that on Saturday, Oct. 27, after President Kennedy had written to Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev again demanding the removal of the Russian missiles from Cuba, there was little optimism at the White House.

"The President was not optimistic," wrote Kennedy. "Nor was I... He had not abandoned hope, but what hope there was now rested with Khrushchev's revising his course within the next few hours. It was a hope, not an expectation. The expectation was a military confrontation by Tuesday and possibly tomorrow."

The next day, however, Khrushchev agreed to dismantle and withdraw the missiles under inspection and supervision.

Kennedy's memoirs, the account were published Sunday by McCall's magazine. The magazine paid more than $1 million for the 21,000-word memoir, an unprecedented price.

In the article, titled "Thirteen Days," Robert Kennedy, who at the time was attorney general, details the activities of the president and his advisers from Oct. 16, when it was first revealed that the Russians were placing missiles in Cuba, to Oct. 28, the Sunday that the announcement of the withdrawal was made.

Kennedy wrote that in the early stages of the debate over what to do, "most felt... that an air strike against the missile site could be the only course."

Later during the first day, he said, the idea of a quarantine or blockade was raised.

Although support for a blockade grew, Kennedy wrote, most of the president's military advisers "argued strongly... that a military attack was essential."

Among those advisers was Curtis E. LeMay, then the Air Force chief of staff, now the running mate of third-party presidential candidate George C. Wallace.

LeMay, Kennedy wrote, assured the president "there would be no reaction" from the Russians to an attack on Cuba, for the 21,000-word memoir, but "President Kennedy was skeptical."

Kennedy said the president made his decision for a naval blockade instead of an air attack Saturday night, Oct. 20.

Even after President Kennedy announced his actions on Monday night, Kennedy said, military preparations continued.

The late senator said his brother ordered the Pentagon to prepare for an invasion.

Robert S. McNamara, then defense secretary and one of the earliest advocates of a blockade, told the president that 250,000 men would be necessary, Kennedy said.

One of the times of greatest concern, Kennedy said, was Wednesday when the quarantine went into effect and it was learned that a Russian submarine had moved into position, just outside the blockade line, between two Russian ships.

The real break came in a letter from the Soviet premier received Friday morning in which Khrushchev first offered to withdraw the missiles.

A message received Saturday, however, from the Foreign Office of the Kremlin, demanded that the United States remove its missiles from Turkey in exchange for the withdrawal, Kennedy wrote. This was rejected.

The Joint Chiefs of Staff, Kennedy wrote, recommended "an air strike on Monday, followed shortly afterward by an invasion."

"In the midst of the meeting plans came that the U-2 plane piloted by Maj. Rudolf Anderson Jr. of South Carolina, one of the two Air Force pilots who had carried out the original reconnaissance missions that uncovered the missile preparations, had been hit by a Russian missile over Cuba, Kennedy wrote.

"At first, there was almost unanimous agreement that we had to attack early the next morning," the late senator said, but the President "pulled every-one back."

While continuing to prepare for an invasion, the president wrote once again to Khrushchev, then waited.

Robert Kennedy said he was at the Washington Armory Sunday morning with his daughters at the horse shoe when he received word from Secretary of State Dean Rusk that the Russians had agreed to withdraw.

Maj. Anderson was 35 years old when his plane was shot down.

His widow is the former Jane Corbett of Valdosta, Ga. The couple had two children, Rudolf Anderson III, 5 years old when his father died, and James B. Anderson, then 3.

Mrs. Anderson quoted parts of the letter she received from the late President:

"Maj. Anderson responded to the urgent requirements of his country. His tragic loss on a mission of the most vital national urgency was the supreme sacrifice of a brave and patriotic man."

"On behalf of a grateful nation, I wish to convey to you and your children the heartfelt condolences of all the people."

George Hansen Rapped For Attacks On Sen. Church

Editor, Times-News:

It really is quite funny the way politicians will attack each other. Sen. Church, our valiant fighter against gun control was attacked because he didn't waste taxpayers' money and go back to Washington—and vote on a bill that would have passed. Just a split his voice vote. That's right, there was no debate, just a voice vote.

Rep. Hansen flew back to Washington spending money (of the taxpayers', I presume), in a futile move to stop a bill (that Church had watered down, he new would easily pass. What ever he did, had there was useless, as the bill passed anyway.

It also seems surprising to me that George Hansen would attack the Boise Statesman, a pro-Republican newspaper, that sup-

Burley Writer Is Wondering Who's Man George Hansen Is

Editor, Times-News:

In a public forum Oct. 13, Dr. Kircher takes issue with Senator Church for saying he is his own man. The doctor goes on to say that an associate has raised over $50,000 for his reelection.

Now, I wonder if Dr. Kircher will tell us who is paying for the $50,000. Is it George Hansen and for the other two expensive campaigns when he was running for congress. I wonder what man George Hansen is. You will notice on most automobile bumper stickers, where there is one for Wallace there is usually one for Hansen.

We all know that George Hansen is endorsed by the so-called American Independent Party. I am glad to know that Senator Church is not endorsed by and will not be obligated to the John Birch Society.

I have asked Dr. Kircher in three different letters to the South Idaho Press to inform us

Reader Says Man Calling Nixon 'Chicken' Was Wrong

Editor, Times-News:

In regards to the letter on the public forum on Sunday, Oct. 13, calling Mr. Nixon a chicken, most say that that was wrong.

If he had listened to the broadcast on television this past week he would have heard Mr. Nixon in his own words on Vietnam, poverty, etc.

I wouldn't call Mr. Nixon chicken. I'd call his a very courageous man to want to accept the responsibility of being president of the United States. It will take the first four years if he is elected to undo the last eight years. He cannot do this alone. He needs the people

Woman Asserts People Have Short Memories

Editor, Times-News:

People sure have short memories. When Sen. Church ignored the advice of 1 Idaho Hunter and voted for the Soviet Communist Treaty a reporter asked him, "How many letters did you get from constituents concerning the consular treaty?" Sen. Church's reply: "We didn't keep a check on the mail, but I don't think it was very many. If you voted by the mail from people back home you wouldn't need a senator — all you get from constituents is a letter to him to do as he pleases. He votes as he pleases."

Now is the time for Idaho to get a senator who will support Idahoans. We simply must elect George Hansen. For the past four years he has truly represented us. So now we have a chance to put him in for the six-year term.

We will send him to the Senate.

MARY OSWALD (Filer)

ported Richard Nixon for president, and Oval Office and James McCulloch for representatives in Congress.

Oh, yes, now I remember, the Statesman endorsed Sen. Church over Rep. Hansen. Maybe the Statesman preferred Church over Hansen because of his voting record and what he (Church) has done for Idaho and the nation. Maybe George Hansen could tell us what he has done for us in education, public projects, conservation, and other benefits. Maybe he could tell us why rat control is so bad. I should also like to hear him say how many soldiers of ours would die if we escalated the war to the proportions Mr. Hansen thinks proper. Maybe he could tell us how that would serve humanity.

DOUG CARR (Twin Falls)

las to what George Hansen has done in the two terms he has been our congressman for our district. So far Dr. Kircher has not come up with an answer. Now Senator Church is on record speaking for itself. Anyone that follows the news knows that Frank Church is one of the finest working members of the United States Senate. But, what has George Hansen accomplished as our congressman? Again I say, Senator Church is running for reelection and as Congressmen Hansen doesn't have one to run on he is running against Senator Church.

Mr. John McCullough in his letter states that the criticism for Senator Church comes from the Republicans. I can agree with you, Mr. McCullough. I know a lot of sound thinking Republicans who are supporting Senator Church. It is a very most of our criticism comes from leftist organizations.

WAYNE W. WATSON (Burley)

to pull together, unite and stand firm behind him.

We are all so far apart that there is nothing to be gained except more of what has happened in the past.

We are all fond of Billy Graham who is a pledged Democrat. Now, I ask you, is it that we are all wrong? Is it a public convention and was seen sitting with his wife and the Nixon family the evening on Oct. 13, 1968.

If Mr. Nixon is so wrong why is it Mr. Graham has been talking such an interest in him?

Now, what about SHEILA SHEARER (Twin Falls)

Ketchum Woman Has Rebuff For Letter In Forum

Editor, Times-News:

In regard to Mrs. Moss' denunciation of Senator Church, I would like to see a copy of the "truth" and "windom" may I propose that we cannot take enough precautions against the absorbing of the search for truth in our opinion stage.

Telling it like it is requires a perspective of the whole forest rather than concentration on a few trees.

George Wallace Supporters Don't Hide, Man Avers

Editor, Times-News:

In answer to Mr. Koutnik's article "It's a Jim Dandy," Times-News, Oct. 19, 1968:

I'd like to point out that many Wallace supporters come from the better streets and neighborhoods of Twin Falls and other parts of Idaho. I've never seen any of us coming from the cracks in the walls and from the gutters to any of our AIP meetings.

We've been very open about our meetings and our support for Gov. Wallace. We were the first to open our political headquarters for the AIP in Twin Falls.

I would like to thank Mr. Koutnik for pointing out what a brilliant choice—Len, Curtis E. LeMay, and Ivo never seen any two spot on the AIP ticket. But, I would also like to point out that Gov. George Wallace made the choice, so we AIP supporters had to walk down main street and out our front doors and advertise our meetings just as before, for all in Idaho know George Wallace is still number one.

Poll Sees AIP Scoring In North

WASHINGTON (AP) — Republican and Democratic professionals across the country say they doubt George C. Wallace will carry any states outside the South—but they expect the third party candidate to make some dramatic showings.

Wallace could run second in six scattered non-southern states and strong in at least three more, according to party professionals and independent observers surveyed by The Associated Press in every state.

Wallace forces say they could carry Michigan with a 30 percent vote, stand a good chance in Pennsylvania and will pull off some startling upturns in other states.

The major party professionals assess the prospects for Republican Richard M. Nixon and Democrat Hubert H. Humphrey about the same way the candidates themselves have.

Republicans say even privately that Nixon is going to win unless he makes a mistake. "Let's not blow it," is a watchword.

The Democrats say Humphrey is behind and they are confident he will win the campaign's late start and a money shortage—but say he already has gained the momentum to overtake Nixon Nov. 5.

Associated Press bureaus in every state assessed the campaign at this point on the basis of state poll splits, interviews with party leaders, campaign insiders and independent observers.

They gave Nixon the lead in at least 20 states with 222 of the 270 electoral votes needed for election, Humphrey in Massachusetts and New York, and Wallace with 17 electoral votes and Wallace in 5 states with 45 electoral votes.

The leading rival claims or there were no attributable non-partisan figures.

The survey indicated Wallace could run second in Indiana, Kentucky, Ohio and Alaska—and possibly Arizona and Idaho as well.

Wallace showed strong but unmeasured support in Texas, Tennessee and Michigan and a more general appeal in Virginia.

In Kentucky, where Democrats are splintered and defections to Wallace are reported, some party leaders have said the Democrats could draw too low a vote—less than 20 percent—to get on the 1972 ballot (with out partitioning). More so, Kentucky Democrats say Humphrey is running second to Nixon and gaining.

Wallace is an imperdable in Indiana, which gave him 20 percent of its vote in the 1964 Democratic presidential primary. A poll from the Indianapolis Star last week gave Nixon about 42 percent and Wallace and Humphrey each about 20 percent.

Ohio Secretary of State Ted W. Brown has figured Wallace with about 25 percent of that state's vote, ahead of Humphrey, and the AIP-CIO is working hard against rumored breaks in labor ranks, but Nixon chiefs say Wallace is running third, not second.

Wallace shows Wallace running second in Alaska and disagreed on whether he or Humphrey are second now in Arizona. Wallace's showing in Idaho is a puzzle but the two major parties discount claims he has a majority.

Wallace showed leads in Alabama, Arkansas, Georgia, Louisiana and Mississippi. Nixon appeared to have an edge in North and South Carolina and was splitting close to Wallace in Georgia.

Utah Hunters Find Sport Can Bring Death, Injuries

By The Associated Press

This year's edition of the Great Utah Deer Hunt is again tainted with pages written by exhaustion and errant gunfire, authors whose only theme is tragedy.

At least four hunters are dead from apparent heart attacks. Gunfire has killed one and wounded several others.

Yal Bunker, 29, a Brigham Young University student, was hunting 50 miles west of Delta. He was shot in the back of the head.

Deputy Sheriff Edgar Mills said Bunker's cousin, Merrill Bunker, 28, a BYU instructor, was aiming at a distant deer. The victim walked into the line of fire.

The surviving cousin was hospitalized, suffering from severe shock.

Lex T. Davis, 49, Richfield, collapsed and died while in mountains near his home.

Earlier hunters Ely Y. Eck, 78, of Vista, Calif.; James Marshall Fisher, 46, Salt Lake City, and E. Ray Gibbs, 40, Paradise, died of apparent heart attacks.

Joe Summatt, 55, Downey, Calif., suffered an accidental gunshot wound when his pistol dropped to the floor of his cabin at Koosharem. He was in good condition today.

Ronald Wrigley, Riverdale, was wounded in the right knee as his pistol accidentally discharged. He was in good condition at a Richfield hospital.

A Kearns youth, Phillip Patrick Miern, 18, was accidentally wounded in the leg while in mountains near Kamias.

DuWayne Brunyer, 29, Salt Lake City, suffered serious head injuries when a horse kicked him in the Coeur Mountains of Tooele County.

Reports of missing hunters had begun to dwindle today. A lost party of eight was found east of Ogden by members of the Davis County Jeep Patrol.

Jon Lindgren, 20, Salt Lake City, walked into the Deer Creek Range Station after becoming separated from companions near Heber City.

Mountain climbers rescued Joseph Johnson, 37, Granger, Utah, from a ledge on Mt. Timpanogos after he twisted an ankle.

Dear Abby

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN
DEAR ABBY: What do you think of a 50-year-old so-called society lady who tells everyone that the life-sized painting of the naked lady she has hanging in her downstairs hallway is HER SAW IT?

DEAR SAW: If the "naked lady" is indeed she, she's an exhibitionist. If it isn't, she's both an exhibitionist and a liar.

DEAR ABBY: We are two sisters; ages 17 and 19 and we are both "GOODY" girls. Last weekend we double-dated (two boys I'll call Jim and Joe. Afterwards we went to Jim's house. His parents weren't home, but we didn't have anything wrong in mind.

Well, Jim's parents came home earlier than expected and they found Jim and me in their bedroom, and my sister and Joe in another bedroom. I swear that nothing out of the ordinary had happened. We were just lying on

The maid of honor, Akiko Inoue, and bridesmaid, Neola Anderson, were roommates of the bride while the girls attended Stevens-Henager in Salt Lake City. Other bridesmaids were sisters of the bridegroom, Katherine and Pamela Fetzler. Brother of the bridegroom, Grant Fetzler, served as best man.

The young couple resides in Salt Lake City where the bridegroom is a student of architecture at the University of Utah. Americans Sweep Relay Events; Jim Ryun Fails In 1500 Meter Event

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Kenya's Kipchoge Keino easily whipped Jim Ryun in the Olympic 1,500-meter relay Sunday but U.S. track and field forces came back strong with world record victories in three relay races plus a one-two finish by Dick Fosbury and Ed Caruthers in the high jump.

Diver Bernie Wrightson and three swimmers—Claudio Kolb, Charles Heckel and Debbie Meyer—then gave the U.S. four more gold medals for a games-leading total of 24.

Wrightson, of Phoenix, Ariz., won the 100-meter springboard diving before Miss Kolb and Heckel led 1-2 American sweeps of the women's and men's 200-meter individual medley races. Miss Meyer then paced a 1-2 U.S. finish in the women's 400-meter freestyle.

Keino's victory in the 1,500-meter third gold medal for Kenya in distance running, smashed Ryun's hopes of bringing the United States its first 1,500 gold since 1904 when he won the race in 1908.

The Kenyan has lost to the winner, Kipchoge Keino, a number of times in the past, including Saturday's semifinal heat.

But this time it was no contest as Keino won in Olympic record time of 3:49.9, finishing about 15 meters ahead of Ryun, who was clocked in 3:57.8. Bodo Tommler of West Germany was third, and when the Americans pondered Ryun's defeat, previous gold medal winners Jim Hines, the Wyoming Tye and Lee Evans anchored the three teams.

Keino had opened up too much of a lead even for Ryun and his famous finishing kick.

As Ryun hit the homestretch Keino's stride seemed to be breathing hard. Then, about 50 meters from the end, he looked over his shoulder to see if the Kenyan could hold on to his first gold medal in this event.

Since 1956, Caruthers finished second. Fosbury, who dives over the bar backward, tried for a world record at 7'4 1/4 but failed. Olympic track and field competition wound up with East Germany's Margitta Gummel winning the marathon, the runner winning the women's shot put with a heave of 64 feet, 4 inches; and Mammo Wolde of Ethiopia winning the marathon, the runner's countryman, Abebe Bikila, had hoped to win for a third consecutive time.

Like Bikila, Ryun was disappointed in his defeat. He said he was stunned by Keino's early pace. "I knew if Keino went very fast I would have to stay off the pace so that's what I did," he said. "I tried to pick it up with two laps to go, but I couldn't make it."

Ryun, a 21-year-old senior at the University of Kansas, had a complacency—of problems involving hamstring muscle and a siege of mononucleosis that bed him until the end of July.

But he won the 1,500-meter Olympic title when he finished strong in winning both of his preliminary heats here Friday and Saturday. When it came the final, he was no match for Keino and his running mate, Benjamin Jipcho.

Jipcho set a fast early pace and when Keino took the lead with 2 1/2 laps to go, Ryun was still well behind. Ninth at the 800-meter mark, Ryun moved ahead in the fourth lap, but Keino had opened up too much of a lead even for Ryun and his famous finishing kick.

As Ryun hit the homestretch Keino's stride seemed to be breathing hard. Then, about 50 meters from the end, he looked over his shoulder to see if the Kenyan could hold on to his first gold medal in this event.

Packers, Lions Play To 14-14 Standoff

DETROIT (AP) — Alling Bart Starr came off the bench for one play Sunday to pass for a touchdown and pave the Green Bay Packers a 14-14 tie with the Detroit Lions in a National Football League game.

Starr, benched with a sore shoulder, took the field after starting quarterback Zeke Bratkowski was injured on a 33-yard run which brought the ball to the 10-yard line.

The Detroit three. Starr hit Boyd Dowler in the end zone and Chuck Mercein tied the score with his extra point kick.

The Packers trailed through most of the game as the Lions controlled the action in the first half and into the third quarter.

The Lions took their 14-0 half-time lead on scoring passes of 60 and 11 yards from Bill Munson to Earl McCollough.

The Lions started out as they were going to blow the Packers right out of the stadium with two touchdowns in the first six minutes.

Both teams had chances to win in the fourth quarter only to have scoring threats ended by fumbles.

Chargers Top Denver 55-24 Behind Hadl

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — San Diego quarterback John Hadl passed for four touchdowns as the Chargers routed Denver 55-24 Sunday in an American Football League game.

Hadl completed nine of 18 passes for 321 yards before leaving early in the third period to tend the Chargers to their fifth victory in six games. The Broncos are 2-4.

Denver lost starting quarterback Steve Tenet midway through the second quarter by a ruptured right shoulder. The injury wasn't considered serious, but he sat out the rest of the game.

Hadl hit on touchdown strikes of 74, 22 and 50 yards in the second quarter. The scores were by Lance Alworth, Gary Garrison and Denver's James MacKinlay respectively.

Denver tallied twice in the second half on touchdown passes by Briscoe. He hit Bill Von Housen for 28 yards and Jones for a six-yarder.

Ringneck Hunt May Not Be Banner Year

BOISE — Something less than a banner year was predicted by the Fish and Game Department for ringneck pheasant hunting in southern and eastern Idaho beginning at noon Oct. 20, but not the best season, the poorest on record.

Some game biologists forecast hunter success about on a par with the last two years.

Figures for the last two years, based on hunter questionnaire returns, show pheasant harvests of 434,500 cocks last year and 417,200 in 1966. A comparable reason this year would be at the same approximate level.

Hunter questionnaire figures indicate that Idaho's high game pheasant harvests were 700,000 cocks and 153,000 hens in 1964; 602,700 cocks and 112,000 hens in 1965; 790,500 cocks in 1966 and 130,500 in 1967.

—Allowing limited hen hunting is a technique used in high production years. Since the 1968 hen hunting season will be no-phenant-hunting, will be legal anywhere in Idaho this year.

Hunting season dates in southern Idaho regions all start at noon Oct. 20 but closing dates are different. In southwestern Idaho, the season runs through Dec. 8, except for Patah and Paria Islands in the Snake River, where the season ends 24. Daily bag limit is high areas is four cocks with the possession limit after the first day set at eight cocks.

Chi Chi Rodriguez Nabs Sahara Prize

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — Dynamic little Juan "Chi Chi" Rodriguez clinaxed a spectacular 72-hole scores of 274 on the first hole of a sudden death playoff in the Sahara Invitational Golf Tournament. He defeated Dale Douglass, who had taken the prize in 1967, with a 24th hole birdie.

Chi Chi picked up the $20,000 first money of the $100,000 purse in quick fashion on the 47-yard par four first hole. He got his Rico, came from practically no where to gain the lead with a sensational seven-under-par 31-32. He got second money 64—as Douglass—the leader.

It was a sad blow for Douglass, who had led or shared the lead from the start of the tournament.

Victims of Rodriguez' first victory since the 1967 Texas Open included the current U.S. Open champion, Lee Trevino, Jack Nicklaus, Billy Casper and Julius Boros, all former National Open Kings.

Casper, who was tied with Trevino, 64, and rookie Ron Arruda, 69, 69, 69; Howie Johnson, 67, at Kermit Zarley, 70, tied at 276.

Nicklaus' 74 gave him 278. Big Jack won the Sahara in 1963 and 1964, but his last major title was the 1968 U.S. Open. Casper caught Douglass on the fifth hole and passed him on the seventh. Playing ahead, however, was Chi Chi, who was beginning to rumble. He bagged five birdies on the first nine holes.

"I got my confidence back," said the happy little warrior, "when Arnie Palmer's caddy asked to caddy for me."

Evans Ignores Olympic Medal Official

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Lee Evans refused to shake hands with a U.S. Olympic official Sunday and Wyoming Tye, who celebrated her second triumph at the Games to expelled teammates John Carlos and Tommie Smith.

But there were no serious racial incidents at a dozen American Negro sprinters accepted gold medals following their sweep of three relay races.

The U.S. State Department associate of Carlos and Smith, booted off the U.S. team for demonstrating during an early awards ceremony, shunned Douglas Roby of Detroit, who presented the medals on the first day of racing.

Competition, after anchoring the 1,600-meter quartet to a word record shattering victory.

The U.S. State Department and relay teams: Vito Mattheus, Ron Freeman and Larry James wore black berets when they mounted the victory stand and briefly raised their fists in right fists. But they took off the berets and stood at attention when the National Anthem was played.

The U.S. Olympic Committee, of which Roby is president, banished Smith and Carlos for raising their fists and for displaying their heads during the Star Spangled Banner on the victory stand following their 1-3 finish Sunday. A second dash last Wednesday night.

Neither the men's nor women's 400-meter relay teams made any demonstration on the stand. All relay records were broken by the women's 100-meter medley relay from Griffin, Ga., said after the ceremony by the women's team manager Barbara Ferrell, Margaret Bailes and Mildrette Netter were dedicating their victory to Carlos and Smith.

National 500 Is Won By Truck Driver

CHARLOTTE, N.C. (AP) — Charging Charlie Gotzback, a 30-year-old former truck driver from Indiana, blitzed the Charlotte Motor Speedway at a record 135.24 miles per hour Sunday to win the National 500 stock car race.

Gotzback, in only his second year on the high speed Grand National Circuit, finished a comfortable seven seconds ahead of veteran Paul Gold. Both drivers were in factory-supported Dodges.

It was the first big money victory ever for Gotzback, who got his start in racing 15 years ago on the short track circuit around his home town, Georgetown, Ind. He took home $19,380 of the $112,000 purse.

Chiefs Surprise Raiders 24-10; Use T-Formation

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Kansas City surprised Oakland with a return to T-formation power football, building a 24-10 lead, and then beating back a belated rally by the defending American Football League champions for a 24-10 victory Sunday.

The triumph strengthened the Chiefs' hold on the AFL Western Division lead with a 4-1 record, one-half game ahead of San Diego and 1½ games in front of Oakland, which suffered its second straight defeat.

It was the first time the Chiefs have ever won five games in a row, and they achieved the mark before 50,013 fans, largest crowd ever for an athletic event in Kansas City.

Kansas City sent Mike Garrett, Robert Holmes and Wendell Hayes slashing through the Raiders' defense for huge chunks of yardage off the T in the first half.

The Chiefs attempted only three passes for an all-time low in the AFL. Kansas City and Oakland were the only teams to use the T-formation in the game. It is seldom seen any more as a full-blown offense.

Griese Leads Miami Over Cincinnati Bengals
CINCINNATI (AP) — Bob Griese conducted for three touchdowns passes, two in the fourth quarter, carrying Miami to a 24-21 American Football League victory over Cincinnati Sunday.

The Bengals, losing their fourth straight game, came within a whisker of tying the contest when Dewey Warren hit Bob Trumpy on a 44-yard touchdown pass with 1:46 remaining. But a two-point conversion attempt failed when Randall Edmunds broke up a pass on the goal line intended for Trumpy.

Miami, now 2-3-1, jumped off to a quick 10-0 lead on Jim Keyes' 26-yard field goal and a two-yard touchdown pass from Griese to Karl Noonan.

The Bengals, unable to muster much attack in the first half, picked up two points in the second quarter as Jim Griffin and Harry Gunner nailed Griese in the end zone for a safety.

Warren, who ignited the Bengals' offense after taking over for John Stief, completed 10 of 11 passes for 150 yards and was instrumental in Cincinnati's first two touchdowns.

Jets Rally Past Oilers To Win 20-14
HOUSTON (AP) — Quarterback Joe Namath moved the New York Jets to a final period match for the go-ahead touchdown to defeat the Houston Oilers 20-14 Sunday in an American Football League game.

The Jets trailed 14-13 when they started their winning drive. Namath completed four consecutive passes for 53 yards to George Sauer and Emerson Bozler in the drive and Bozler added a 15-yard run. Matt Snell plunged over from the two for the score.

Houston quarterback Don Trull had put the Oilers ahead 14-13 when he connected on scoring strikes of nine yards to Alvin Reed and 19 to Jim Nelrice.

Trull, former Baylor University passing star, relieved starter Bob Davis, who was shaken too early in the fourth quarter with the Oilers behind 13-0.

He moved his team 37 yards in three plays for the first touchdown and then led them 63 yards in 10 plays for the brief lead.

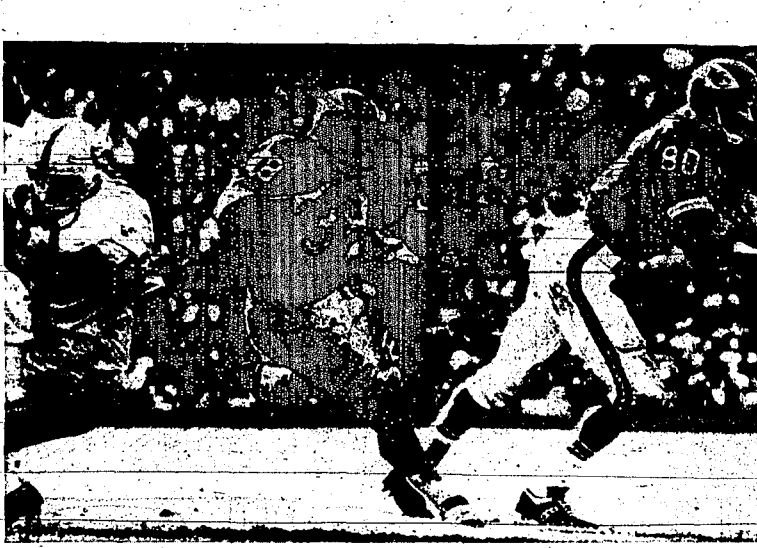

Then the Jets took over and moved down the field for the victory, the touchdown coming with only 48 seconds left.

Earlier, Namath switched over from the one for a Jets touchdown and the New Yorkers also picked up a safety and a 12-yard field goal by Jim Turner.

Giants Are Upset For Second Straight Week; Fall To 49ers

NEW YORK (AP) — John Brodie picked the New York Giants apart with his passing while Gary Lewis and Ken Willard rumbled for chunks of yardage Sunday in a 26-10 San Francisco game.

Brodie hit Bill Tucker and Lewis carried the ball 10 times for 101 yards and Willard carried 15 for 84. Brodie completed 15 of 24 passes for 147 yards and two touchdowns.

The 49ers, playing in New York for the first time since 1963, made it a successful return home for Coach Dick Nolan, a former Giant defensive back, as San Francisco controlled the ball for the first 7:40 and never let the Giants off the deck.

Ernie Kou, the Giants' full-back pulled a hamstring muscle in his left leg in the second period and was out the rest of the game.

Cleveland Stuns Units, Colts

BALTIMORE (AP) — The Browns, winning only their third National Football League game, triumphed over the Baltimore Colts with their first defeat in six games, 30-20.

When Units started the second half with the Colts trailing 14-7, the crowd of 69,238 came alive with a roar.

When he left early in the fourth quarter, Cleveland had stretched its lead to 30-13 and some fans were looting.

Mike Howell intercepted the first pass thrown by Units and returned it to the Colts 25. Cleveland scored eight plays later on a two-yard pass from quarterback Bill Nelson to Eppie Duvy.

The victory put the Los Angeles Rams alone at the top of the Constat Division.

Gabriel connected on 21 of 30 passes for 240 yards with two in (intercepted, Berry, who went all the way for Atlanta in place of the injured Randy Johnson, completed seven of 10 for 14 yards and also had two picked off.

It was the third National Football League victory for the expansionist Saints and guaranteed them at least a first place in the Century Division.

The loss wiped out a brilliant day by Steeler Dick Hoak, who led the Redskins to two touchdowns in a 77-yard touchdown run that put the Steelers ahead briefly in the third period.

Dillon opened and closed the scoring. He hit his first field goal less than four minutes into the game after New Orleans' Dick Williams fell on a short kickoff as the Saints led 7-0.

Bill Kilmer passed 30 yards to Monty Sticksen, and Durkee kicked a 20-yarder when the drive stalled.

Fishermen Hooked On "Salmon Craze"

MANISTEE, Mich. (AP) — There was a small spring spawning run in the Huron River country are hooked by a new craze called "salmon craze."

The introduction of coho salmon from the Pacific into the Huron River has drawn anglers from afar.

Little towns along Lake Michigan's eastern shore—Manistee, Frankfort and others—are minting money by selling beer, bread, bologna, bait and angling gear.

But the conduct of some of the amateur fishermen is giving massive headaches to the Michigan Conservation Department, Coast Guard, state and local police and sheriff's departments.

On Sept. 23 the Conservation Department closed one of the biggest coho spots, Bear Creek in Manistee County, because the fish were so numerous that they beat fish with clubs and fought for their catches and left a trail of litter and fish entrails behind.

More than 60 conservation officers with help from state police found it difficult to contain the anglers' antics during an attack turning the fishing into a hog wallow.

"The one thing we did not fully understand was the fever of 'salmon craze,' that fishing for this new, exotic species generated," admitted Wayne Tody, head of the Michigan Department's Fish Division.

"Anglers form lines across the streams and methods of taking the fish include snagging, bowfishing, the use of dip nets and even grabbing the fish with their bare hands," Tody observed.

"They go a little berserk over them," scolded Joe Tighe, a conservation officer based at Manistee.

"People who never had a fishing line in their hands before suddenly are able to catch a fish, fighting 18- or 20-pound fish, they use every method available to get them many of them illegal," he said.

Some Forget Safety
A sudden westerly wind or storm could cause the children to raise waves from four to six feet high. Yet novice fishermen go out in rowboats with inadequate outboard motors. Some have ventured into the choppy lake waters in rubber rafts and canoes. Several have drowned already this year.

Several fishermen drowned last Sept. 23 when a gale lashed lake waters up to ocean-size breakers. All the bodies eventually washed ashore, one was wearing a life preserver.

Coast Guard and sheriff's patrol boats try to wave the small boat off the lake when the red small craft warning is flying. Often, the amateur anglers literally thumb their noses at them.

Five Field Goals Give Bears Win
PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Five-field goals by Mac Perceval and a 96-yard touchdown return of an intercepted pass by Percival carried the Chicago Bears to a 29-16 victory Sunday over the winless Philadelphia Eagles in a National Football League game.

The Bears, winning their second game against four defeats, broke the game open in the final period on a 15-yard field goal by Percival and Taylor's long romp after stealing a pass by Eagle quarterback Norm Snead.

The teams battled to a 13-13 halftime stalemate. Philadelphia took a first period lead on Sam Baker's 30-yard field goal, then fell behind 7-3 as Bears' quarterback Vince Cerullo threw a 16-yard pass to flanker Cecil Turner for a touchdown.

In the second period, Baker booted a 37-yarder but Perceval countered with one from the 30. The two kicking specialists eventually tied an NFL record of eight three pointers for two teams in a game.

Chicago's Gale Sayers, who led the league in ground gaining with 399 yards before Sunday, added 77 on 16 carries.

A MASTER GIVES BLACKWOOD A WHIRL
Jim: "Why don't you take over today's column and write about your old friend Ben Creel who has just retired at the Cleveland Press?"
Oswald: "You were about three years old when I first met Ben, who had just started at the Press. He was a Life Master then for the simple reason that convention called Blackwood to get to seven spades."

Jim: "I note that he stayed out of the main run. The best North and South can make at no-trump is 12 tricks."
Oswald: "The hand would be a cinch grand, slam bid today. At least you would expect nearly every pair in a good field to reach seven spades—Balk in that neolithic age of bridge we got exactly one match point for watching Ben run off 13 tricks. Not that he wasted much time. He drew trumps and claimed in a total elapsed time of about two seconds."

George Wallace Draws Crowds By Skillfully Playing On Public Hysteria

By JULES LOH
EN ROUTE WITH GEORGE C. WALLACE (AP) — The first time George Corley Wallace Jr. ran for governor of Alabama he got licked. But he learned a lesson. He learned that a successful politician need not always shape public opinion, merely reflect it. The voters have not let him down since.

"Those smart newspapers tell you the only reason Wallace has so much support," intoned this maestro of the hustings, his voice sugary with sarcasm, "is because he's saying things people want to hear."

"Well," he asks, palms upturned, black eyebrows lifted in mock exasperation, "what's wrong with that?"

"What's wrong with a politician saying some of the things the people of this country—who are sick and tired, I'll tell you—of the way things are going—what's wrong with saying the things they've been wanting to hear for a long, long time?"

The answer thunders back in a tumult of screams and pounding hands and perforce cries of: "Tell it like it is, George!"

Telling it like it is, or as he interprets it to be, George C. Wallace has touched a responsive chord among enough Americans to make his presidential candidacy the most significant challenge to the two-party system since Theodore Roosevelt's Bull Moose movement in 1912. He has revealed the raw dimensions of a deep nationwide uncertainty that before was only dimly perceived and perhaps will not be fully exposed until all the secret ballots are counted. In so doing he already has markedly influenced the campaign. Now, with Election Day less than three weeks off and Wallace running hard as ever, he still has the potential to affect its ultimate outcome if not the possibility cannot be dismissed—win the prize himself.

The candidate himself truly sees nothing phenomenal in what has been called "the Wallace phenomenon." He truly believes his views "represent the majority view of American thought." He says he senses, and his political antennae haven't been far off so far, that "there are more of us (little folks with right instincts and common sense and admiration for the police) than there are of them (elit-wing theoreticians, briefcase-totin' bureaucrats, ivory-tower guideline writers, bearded anarchists, smart aleck editorial writers and pointy-headed professors who can't even park their bicycles straight)."

What is phenomenal, or at least fascinating, is Wallace's artfulness in putting into practice that lesson he learned a decade ago when he lost the Alabama governor's race.

George Wallace picks up nuances in audience response as unerringly as a Toscanini detecting subtle variations in pitch. The evocative line is carefully honed and made a part of the script. The audience response then becomes predictable, as though orchestrated with a flourish of a rhetorical baton.

For example, early in the campaign, Wallace made an incidental reference to tax-exempt foundations. The response was mildly favorable. Next, he named the foundations: "Rockefeller... Carnegie... Ford." Applause good. He would tax those foundations, Wallace said, "and maybe they would quit recommending so-called welfare schemes that we taxpayers have to pay for." Applause better.

Finally the attack became a rolling, forensic crescendo: "... these multibillion dollar tax-exempt foundations with their big ideas about paying people not to work and not to burn down the country." Applause deafening, audience on its feet.

The process also works in reverse.

One Wallace line that never fails to arouse an audience deals with what would happen "if I become president and some anarchist lies down in front of my automobile..."

Early in the campaign, Wallace said: "It's going to be the last automobile he lies down in front of."

Accused of advocating the sort of street violence he says he deplors, Wallace claimed later he had been misquoted. He had not. In any event, from then on he altered the line thus: "It's going to be the last automobile he will ever want to lie down in front of." The audience, however, prefers to remember the earlier version and frequently someone in the crowd, anticipating the well-reported line, shouts: "Run over them!" even before Wallace gets to the denouement.

George Wallace has no intention of running over anybody.

Campaigning in the 1964 Maryland presidential primary, a young militant did actually lie down in front of Wallace's car and the driver, a local campaign worker, snarled, "I'm going to run over the S.O.B. Wallace leaped forward from the back seat, grabbed the driver's shoulders and cried, "Good gracious, man, stop!"

"The truth is, George C. Wallace, 49-year-old former heavyweight boxing champ of Alabama, former combat air crewman, former governor whose term was characterized by clenched-fist defiance, can't stand the sight of blood. Even political enemies who know Wallace when he was a law student, a circuit judge, a state legislator, concede that he always has been a man of gentle nature. His underlings say they know of no one more considerate and seem to mean it. His late wife, herself a gentle woman, once said she marveled at his compassion. Aboard his airplane he is genial and friendly with the reporters who travel with him and whom he genuinely likes the reporters and respects despite his blistering attack on the press in every speech.

Generalities about Wallace's political nature are equally risky.

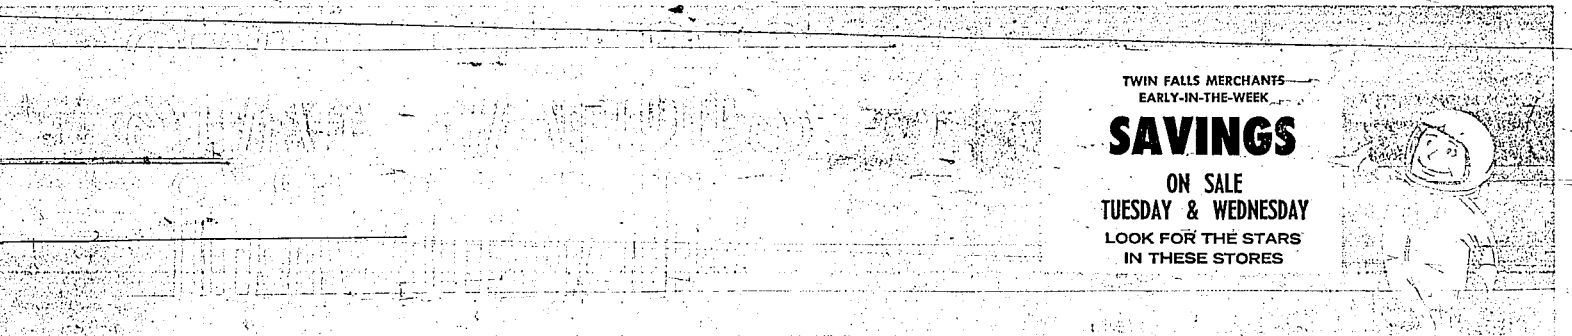

He takes the hard line on Vietnam and has chosen Gen. Curtis E. LeMay, former Air Force chief of staff and a "hawk," as his running mate—deplores big government, pledges to cut back foreign aid, search out Communists in defense plants, repeal

On the other hand he calls for increased Social Security benefits, higher farm price supports and brings to his candidacy a gubernatorial record marked by high spending for highways, schools, textbooks, teacher salaries, old age pensions, free health insurance for state employees.

"The mistake George Wallace's opponents make," says a close associate, "is that they think he's a one-issue man and some kind of country-foot-be-side."

Wallace is neither. But a glance at his traveling road show makes it easy to see how a casual observer could be deceived on both counts.
