"THEY KEEP FALLING OFF" protests Jennifer Jones as she piles the gold crunchy leaves on her lap. Now is the time when children delight in destroying carefully raked piles of leaves, or in making child-size floor plans for make-believe houses with leaves. Jennifer lives at 337 Second Ave. W and is the daughter of Mrs. Janet Jones. Almost 4 years old, Jennifer asked, after her picture was taken, "Was my hair pretty?"

Apollo 7 Crew Returns

BOARD USS ESSEX (AP) — Apollo 7's astronauts rode their "medicinal" high machine" to a near-pinpoint landing in the Atlantic Ocean today and were reported in high spirits and apparently good health after being ferried to this aircraft carrier by helicopter.

They were all smiles later when they received a telephone call from President Johnson at the White House. "I salute the three of you as well as the thousands of men of the space team," the President said. "We here in the Capitol and all over this country and the world are very proud of you this morning."

Officials of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA) were elated over the flight results. "Apollo 7 goes into my book as a perfect mission," said Air Force Maj. Gen. Samuel Phillips, Apollo program manager. "We accomplished 101 per cent of our objectives. We did everything we set out to do and added a few things as we went along."

Reds Shell Marine Base

SAIGON (AP) — Enemy gunners Tuesday shelled the third U.S. military headquarters in the past three days, indicating that new waves of attacks against major American bases may have begun.

Kennedy Children Return To School

ATHENS (AP) — Caroline and John Kennedy left Greece today for New York and a return to school, but bad weather still kept their mother's honey moon yacht tied alongside their new Greek stepfather's island.

County And City Officials Discuss Joint Airport Plan

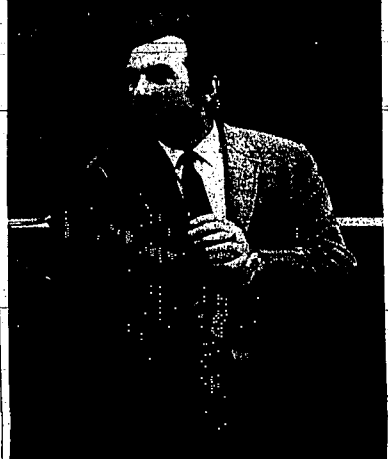

A joint effort to turn Twin Falls municipal airport into a city-county airport is being made and officials say this might be accomplished this year.

Labor Crisis Jolts New York City As Police, Firemen Call Slowdown

NEW YORK (AP) — The nation's largest city struggled through Tuesday through the greatest municipal labor crisis in its history, with its 1.1-million public school system paralyzed by a teachers' strike, its police patrolmen engaged in a work slowdown and its firemen set for a slowdown of their own.

Change Of Name Is Asked

Twin Falls City Council considered a request to change the name of Kimberly Road to Main Avenue East during its regular meeting Monday night at the city hall.

ADDRESSING THE AUDIENCE at a gathering of the Community Forum Monday night at the CSI academic building is Dr. Robert Flynn, College of Marin, San Rafael, Calif.

The restless students, who never even had a controversial thought in the 50's but who really got moving in the 60's, were credited Monday night with explaining the whole social problem and the problem of youth existing in today's world to a sharp focal point.

LBJ Signs Bill Curbing Sale Of Guns

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson signed today a gun control law restricting interstate sale of rifles, shotguns, and ammunition. He said it was the most comprehensive gun control law ever since, but that "not nearly enough" had been done.

Astronauts' Wives Mark Lonely Hours

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP) — In the quiet, tree-lined communities of Timber Cove, El Lago and Nassau Bay, the lights in three homes came on before dawn Tuesday.

For the wives of Navy Capt. Walter M. Schirra Jr., Air Force Maj. Donn F. Eisele and civilian Walter Cunningham, the long tense wait nearly over. What remained now were the last moments of Apollo 7's saga in space, the most crucial moments since launch 11 days ago.

CSI Academic Hall Named For Shields

One of the first buildings on the College of Southern Idaho campus will be named after James H. Shields Jr., Buhl, a present member of the board of trustees.

Police, Firemen Call Slowdown

The PBA has rejected a contract offer that would have raised wages of $9.35 to $10,750 over a two-year period. PBA officials say they will not slow down on crime fighting but have largely suspended writing traffic tickets.

SPECIAL TREATMENT for Mrs. Richard Cook's vocal cords may not be a part in the chorus of "My Fair Lady." Mrs. Cook uses an atomizer here as she prepares for Wednesday's auditions. A portion of the parts were filled by auditions over the weekend, but singers are still needed for the chorus. Tryouts will be held at 8:30 p.m. Wednesday at the choir room in the east wing of the Twin Falls High School. All those interested are asked to attend and sing a song from a musical. Accompaniments will be provided.

Annual Session Amendment Explained By Voter League

In an effort to inform the voters of the issues in the coming election, the League of Women Voters of Twin Falls provides this information concerning the amendment, HJR 1. One of the nine amendments concerning the amendment, HJR 1 would provide that the legislature meet in annual sessions rather than the current biennial sessions (every two years).

This amendment also changes the convening date of the legislature from the first Monday after the first day of January to the second Monday in January of each year. Passage of this amendment should make more effective state planning and legislation possible. The frequency of special sessions from 1968-1967 illustrates the need for frequent government review and attention to the problems of a state such as Idaho.

Campaign Of Manning Goes To Jerome

JEROME — "Those who say there is little contrast between my opponent, Orval Hansen, and I really don't know us very well," Darrell Manning told a group of campaign workers in Jerome Tuesday.

"For instance," Mr. Manning said, "he is frantically proclaiming that he is a friend of the farmer and wants a federal law requiring a label on imported meat—yet he voted against the meat labeling law in the state legislature which I voted for."

"Mr. Hansen voted against confirmation of the only farmer-rancher nominated to the state tax commission, thereby denying agriculture a voice in this important agency," Mr. Manning said.

Sen. McCarthy: A Do-Nothing Dropout

WASHINGTON: Senator Eugene McCarthy concluded this year's long session of Congress the same as he began it—virtually a complete do-nothing dropout from his mass of legislative and other work on a wide range of domestic and foreign measures and issues.

During this six-week period, there were 58 roll call votes in the Senate on an extensive range of legislation. From the $712 billion defense appropriation to a bill creating a much-needed parking authority for the nation's cities...

Four votes were on farm problems, about which he had done much writing but no debating. Two votes were on foreign aid, which he has been inveighing against, but done nothing to change.

Election To Oath

Back in the days, when America was young and untried and 30 miles traveling time, it made sense to allow for a month between the election of a president and the meeting of the Electoral College, a wait of an additional two months between the electoral count and its tally by Congress and another month before the president actually assumed office.

On the one hand, he is able to take account of what would be consequences in November; on the other, the closer the end of his term comes, the more his proposals run the risk of being viewed as meaningless gestures by a used-up incumbent.

Here's A Little Something I Tossed Off Just In Case Anyone Forgets!

Senator McCarthy's startling record of absenteeism is without parallel in recent congressional history. Capital veterans can't recall anything comparable to it. When it comes to blandly disregarding his senatorial work and obligations, no one in Minnesota "peacenik" is far and away in a class by himself.

Report: Nixon Eyes Wallace

WASHINGTON — Secret discussions are now under way in Richard Nixon's Park Avenue headquarters on the possibility of enticing a handful of Wallace electors into the Nixon camp in case Nixon's Electoral College total falls to reach the 270 votes needed for election.

If the election is then thrown into the House, Nixon knows, and makes no secret of it in talks with friends, that with each state having one vote the odds-on favorite to win election would be Humphrey, not Nixon.

This little-known gold-brick record is graphically disclosed in the 56 votes McCarthy missed in the 144-year-old Senate.

A FRANK AND OPEN LETTER TO IDAHO VOTERS 13 DAYS BEFORE YOU DECIDE:

George Hansen
or
Frank Church
for United States Senator

READING TIME, 3 MINUTES

In a matter of days you'll be alone with your judgment in the voting booth. Thank God! On three-fourths of this earth it's a different story. The voting's done for the people by others.

Don't fail to vote. Remember Americans are dying every hour in Viet Nam to preserve the privilege.

When the curtains close behind you, you'll stand face to face with destiny. From top to bottom the choice is not one of men, but of ideals.

By the mere stroke of a pencil you'll name those ideals you prefer for your President, your Senator, your Representative . . . and right on down to the County Court House.

As we have said, the choice is not one of men, but ideals. And, sadly, we must face this hard fact — many of the ideals we once cherished have been jumbled into confusion by troubled times and troubled men. The result? Division in the ranks. Our young people are losing their zest and zeal for patriotism. Their elders do not understand why they protest. Our great nation is divided over a brutal and costly war. There is racial division and unrest. Our old folks are penalized by a dollar that doesn't buy what it bought when they worked for it.

But it serves no purpose to dwell on our ills. Our newspapers enumerate them with every day reporting of — RIOTS! FARM PROBLEMS! RISING COST OF LIVING! CRIME! VIET NAM!

When a company is in trouble, experts look critically at top management because company problems always stem down from the top.

The same is true of nations.

It's time for a change of management.

We must shift away from an 8-year old policy of trying to buy peace abroad; trying to buy prosperity at home; trying to buy our way out of farm problems and business problems; trying to buy friendship with the enemy!

It is indeed time for a change.

It is time for the kind of realistic idealism that is Dick Nixon. He has both feeling for human problems and is tough-minded and rightly skeptical about the enemy. You know where Dick Nixon stands. He will make a great President!

But it is not a one-man job.

Again, thank God!

He also needs a Senate and House with high ideals. In the Senate we urge you to vote for George Hansen — not the man, but his ideals. For he believes, as you, that it is time for a change. This is not to suggest that his opponent is soft on communism, soft on inflation, soft on farm problems, nor soft on crime. But he exudes gushy optimism about American-Soviet relations. And he is given to putting out domestic fires with money.

On the other hand, George Hansen (in two terms of the U.S. House of Representatives) has voted valiantly to cut reckless spending so our dollars will get well again.

He has strongly opposed all trade concessions with the communists.

Though the two try to "out gun" and "out water" each other, they have the same views on Idaho water and on Federal gun controls.

It's on the matter of fundamental ideals and principles where they differ. As men Idaho could not offer two finer men to America. But their differences are deep.

It's been twelve years.

Vote for George Hansen for your new United States Senator. Let us never forget, we are governed by laws, not men.

Halleck To Assist Hansen

By The Associated Press
Indiana Rep. Charles Halleck was to be in Boise Tuesday for meetings with campaigners for Republican Rep. George Hansen in his bid to unseat Sen. Frank Church, D-Idaho.

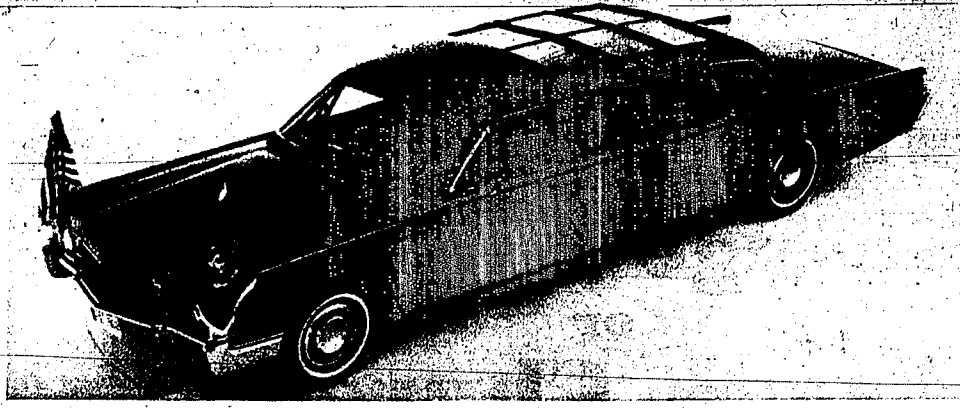

Halleck, former House majority leader, said he would be in Idaho at the request of Republican presidential nominee Richard M. Nixon "to do all I can to help see that a Republican leader is elected to both Houses of Congress to work with Richard Nixon during his upcoming administration."

Hansen said he would continue to be "a strong voice for education" if elected. He said he had supported legislation in the House which provided the most advanced bullet-proofing and arm-plating design. In this top view, the sliding glass panes can be seen which allow the President to stand erect during a parade, if he desires. Cost of the vehicle is estimated at $500,000. (AP wirephoto)

"The more realistic approach brought the administration of school funds back to the local level. It is the best use of the funds," Hansen said.

Compton I. White, the 1st Dist. Democratic congressional nominee, said in Grangeville that the administration is not necessarily to blame for the poor world market condition.

White said several foreign buyers for U.S. wheat no longer are buying from America, but are actually selling to other countries.

THE LATEST PRESIDENTIAL limousine has been delivered for parade and other ceremonial use, complete with the most advanced bullet-proofing and arm-plating design. ## Idahoans To Assist Ghettoes

BOISE (AP) — A self-help program which has resulted in modern, new homes for low-wage farm workers in a southern rural area is seen as a potential aid in eliminating city slums.

"The enormous job of providing decent shelter for millions of underprivileged citizens — black and white — cannot be solved by handouts," says Jerry Nowak, general manager of the light construction division of Boise Cascade Corp.

"Boise Cascade has demonstrated that the self-help approach can work in rural America. We believe we can make it work anywhere."

Nowak referred to a self-help project which resulted in construction of new homes for 10 families at Edgard, near New Orleans.

It was undertaken in cooperation with the Farmers Home Administration, which loaned the money to the families involved.

Pre-built homes were provided by Boise Cascade's factory at Ft. Payne, Ala. An FHA supervisor helped instruct the mostly unskilled workmen in constructing the homes. Some professional labor was employed.

Self-help projects are under way at Trinna, Ala., near Huntsville, and Leighton, Ala.

Boise Cascade, with headquarters in Boise, recently entered the urban renewal field. It is now involved in major urban rehabilitation programs in Indianapolis, Boston, Long Beach, Baltimore, the Watts area of Los Angeles and the Harlem area of New York City.

'High' Checkup

BOISE (AP) — The supervisor of Idaho's vehicle inspection program, Harold Davis, said Monday that not all complaints about irregularities in the inspection system are valid.

Davis cited an example in which a vehicle owner complained that work performed to allow a vehicle to pass inspection totaled nearly $100. A relative had taken the car to be inspected.

Investigation showed, Davis said, that the repairs had cost less than $10 and the relative had pocketed the difference.

Decision Planned On Voting Query

POCATELLO, Idaho (AP) — A decision from the state attorney general's office was expected Tuesday on whether to recommend calling of a grand jury to investigate alleged irregularities in the Bannock County primary election of Aug. 5.

In the election, Ralph Lacy apparently won by three votes over Lyle Andersen for the Democratic nomination for county assessor.

A re-count of 6-11-11-1-1 in all Bannock County precincts showed Lacy the winner by two votes — but the office of Atty. Gen. Allan G. Shepard said if irregularities were found in the balloting.

Sixth Dist. Judge Arthur P. Oliver last week declared Lacy nominated, but Andersen supporters began petitioning for a grand jury investigation of the election.

White House 'Limo' Unveiled

WASHINGTON (AP) — A long, black, glass-roofed limousine, with the latest in bomb and bullet-proofing features, rolled into the White House grounds today to be the new presidential limousine for parades and ceremonies.

This is the latest in a line of specially built Lincoln Continentals, and reports from Detroit have put the cost at around $500,000.

It has such useful gadgets as: —A public address system, the President can use to speak to crowds outside, and a sound system to bring inside the reactions from crowds while the windows remain closed.

—Separate heating and air conditioning units for the front and rear compartments.

—Twin two-way radio and telephone communications systems.

—A section of the roof which can be opened so the President can stand upright as he rides along.

The Ford Motor Company's Lincoln-Mercury division said in a statement that the new presidential limousine has more advanced security, communication and engineering features than any automobile used for official duties at the White House.

The new limousine replaces a 1961 version which traveled more than a million miles by air and will stay in the White House fleet.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Newly opened Eisenhower College in Seneca Falls, N.Y., is receiving a $3 million grant from the United States as "a token of the love and admiration" Americans feel for Dwight D. Eisenhower.
President Johnson signed Monday a $446.6 million appropriations bill containing the funds and sent Eisenhower, a patient at Walter Reed Army Hospital, a letter reading: "Surely no tribute to those qualities of yours could be more fitting than an institution of higher learning."
The school opened its doors in September with a freshman class of 295 and a faculty of 26.

Guest Speakers Highlight October Luncheon Meeting

Guest speakers at the October meeting of the Society of Daughters of the American Revolution were Mrs. Angela Butlerfield, Fort Hall, secretary of the Shoshone-Bannock Tribe Council, and Colman Pantique, her brother, a resident of Fort Hall.

The couple was introduced by Mrs. C. J. Sligar during the luncheon and Mrs. Roger Thomas, regent, welcomed guests to the Indian Falls celebration.

Mrs. Butlerfield is vice chairman of Gov. Don Samuelson's committee on Indian affairs and executive secretary of the affiliated tribes of the American Indians. She spoke on the subject, "Conservation and the American Indian."

She explained in detail the Fort Bridger Treaty of 1809 years ago and proved well the cause of the "Bottom Lands" which belong to the Fort Hall Reservation and what they mean to the livelihood of these people.

Council Fails To Determine Session Laws

BOISE (AP) — A weekend meeting of Idaho's Legislative Council failed to determine whether the 1969 legislature's organizing session in December can officially choose its president and officers.

Myran Schlecht, council director, said Monday the matter was discussed by individual legislators but the council did not put the question on its agenda. The question was raised last week.

The 1967 legislature enacted a bill requiring the lawmakers who are chosen in the Nov. 5 general election to meet Dec. 5 for an organizing session of not more than three days.

Backers of the legislation said it was intended to permit election of officers for both the House and Senate and the appointment of committees, thus putting the legislature in position to begin operations promptly after the convening of its regular session Jan. 6.

But the bill referred to the legislators — as members-elect, rather than members, even though their terms of office under existing law begin Dec. 1. Secretary of State Pete Carrusa, who was the speaker of the House at the time the legislation was enacted, said he believes it will be necessary for officers chosen at the Dec. 5 session to be confirmed at the regular session in January.

Some legislators have suggested that such procedure might result in re-opening the session any battles over legislative leadership which might develop at the December session. This could result in efforts to give the 1969 legislature off to a speedy start.

Top Court Will Decide Drug Dispute

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court agreed today to decide if people can be jailed for up to 40 years for obtaining marijuana that hasn't been registered with the federal government.

A test case, accepted for review on an appeal by the Justice Department, chooses an important part of the government's scheme to regulate illegal traffic in marijuana.

Since 1937 it has been a crime to obtain marijuana without paying a transfer tax, which varies from $1 to $100 an ounce. Only certain people, for instance doctors, dentists and veterinary surgeons, have the legal right to engage in such transactions.

As a result, U.S. District Judge Joseph P. Kinneary in Cleveland, Ohio, ruled last March that use of the law could lead to violations of the Constitution's protection against self-incrimination.

Kinneary dismissed an indictment the government had obtained against Henry Preston Covington, noting that the Supreme Court two months earlier had upset the government's scheme to register gamblers and certain firearms dealers on similar grounds.

The federal judge said that people who acquire marijuana for which a tax has not been paid are subject to having their names published by the federal government in a list that is then made available to state prosecutors.

The Justice Department then appealed to the Supreme Court, saying Kinneary's decision prohibits criminal enforcement of an important federal law that has been the basis of hundreds of prosecutions in three decades and has been sustained against other challenges.

Area TAD Commended By Official

Twin Falls Teen-Agers Against Dystrophy Club has received letter of commendation from Robert J. Herberger, assistant district director, U.S. Dystrophy Association of America, Inc.

Mr. Herberger said, "I want to commend to your attention the wonderful spirit and work of the teen-agers of your community in forming their own Teen-Agers Against Dystrophy Club to help children and adults who are less fortunate than themselves. Too often we read about the bad things teen-agers do and not enough do we see or hear of a true expression of caring for others."

"We, as adults, must assume some responsibility for this in our preoccupation with the petty everyday living which sometimes blinds us to the greater things in life such as expressed through the activities of these teen-agers under the wonderful leadership of Tirza Danner. The spontaneous enthusiasm and genuine desire to help is most overwhelming."

Utah Woman Dies In Road Mishap

AMERICAN FORK, Utah (AP) — Nellie Lewis, 62, Murray, Utah, died Monday of injuries received in a one-car accident at an Interstate 15 exit to Pleasant Grove and American Fork.

The highway patrol said the car, driven by Mrs. Lewis' daughter, Mrs. Francis C. VanHorn, 59, Murray, missed the turn at the top of the exit ramp and rolled to the bottom of the open-pit embankment.

Mrs. VanHorn and Lucy Nielson, another passenger, suffered broken shoulders, cuts and bruises.

A calf was killed Friday night when it was struck by a 1965 Dodge, driven by Gladys Kraemer, 48, Paul, about a half mile north of Paul on 600 West. Mrs. Kraemer, headed south on 600 W., told officers she did not see the animal because of oncoming headlights. No citations were issued.

Sunday night a 1959 International truck loaded with potatoes was damaged, its load partially destroyed, and a power pole struck four miles west of Rupert on 400 65 N.

Driver of the truck, Robert Marcotte, 22, Paul, apparently lost control of the truck, while headed south on 400 W. when he hit a soft shoulder on the road. The truck ran off the road, struck a power pole, and dumped its load of spuds.

Damage to the truck was estimated at $300, and no estimate was available for the potatoes.

THE TAIL SECTION of an airplane that crashed in the Snake near Burley last Thursday can be seen here. Large inner tubes were used Monday to float the plane. After the plane was raised, an attempt was made to tow it upriver.

Attempt Made To Salvage Downed Plane From River

BURLEY — An attempt was made Monday to raise the sunken twin engine airplane that crashed last week in the Snake River just north of the Ore-Ida plant here.

Two scuba divers, working under the direction of Keith Sligar, Twin Falls salvage operator, worked most of the day in an attempt to float the craft.

By nightfall the plane had been raised several feet, but was towed accidentally into a sandbar in the middle of the river.

Attempts to salvage the plane continued Tuesday.

Eden, son of the pilot, who lost his life last Thursday when the plane, one engine out, went into the river with its landing gear up. The plane was coming in for a landing at the Burley airport when the mishap occurred.

Four other men escaped the sinking aircraft. Mr. Clark got out also, but drowned a few feet from shore. He was wearing a heavy coat when found.

Mr. Sligar was awarded the salvage job last weekend. The divers are attempting to raise the plane by using large inner tubes.

Monday, tubes raised the tail section and got the nose-section and engines off the bottom of the river.

The plane was in 10 feet of water.

When the plane was floated a few feet off the ground, it was towed into the middle of the river.

Sligar said he hopes to get it to a bridge about a mile upstream where he can lift it out with a crane.

However, in moving the plane it became lodged in a sandbar. It was left in that position during the night.

Tuesday, scuba divers will put air into the gasoline tanks on the wings, then attach two more inner tubes on the wings.

Damage to the plane is minor, with the propellers bent under the wing, the divers reported.

although only minor damage was noted to it.

Ignacio Leal, Jr., 19, Paul, was slightly injured Sunday night when the car he was driving blew a tire and ran off the roadway into an embankment nine and a half miles northwest of Rupert on 600 West.

Leal was headed north on 600 West in his 1957 Ford when the incident occurred. His car was demolished.

State Police Blotter

No citations were issued Friday afternoon when cars driven by Jesus Guadalupe Salinas, 22, Rupert, and Harry Yozzie, 20, Crown Point, N. M., collided on Highway 24.

Salinas was headed north on highway 24, and Yozzie was headed south when the accident occurred. Salinas apparently pulled into the path of Yozzie from a driveway. The cars had been moved when officers arrived and no citations were issued.

Damage was estimated at $100 to Salinas' 1969 Plymouth and at $300 to Yozzie's 1961 Chevrolet.

Church Aide Surrenders After Search

SALT LAKE CITY (AP) — An account of the Mormon Church surrendered to police Monday and has been arraigned on embezzlement and grand larceny charges in the theft of more than $600,000 from the church, officers said.

LaMar Edward Kay, 40, was accompanied by his attorney as he surrendered to officers after a widespread search for him since Friday.

Kay and Seldon Clarence Darrow, 31, arrested Friday and accused of working with Kay, were arraigned before City Judge Melvin H. Morris who scheduled the preliminary hearing for Dec. 11, and ordered the men held in lieu of $25,000 bond each.

Officers said more than $72,000 and canceled checks totaling $64,199.65 have been recovered.

Police Sgt. David P. Bradford said the checks ran by Kay and Darrow totaled $14,722.10 and $19,425.25 and were written between Sept. 18, 1967 and Oct. 10, 1968.

The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints filed suit against the two men, charging they had converted to their own use church funds totaling more than $35,000 and demanding judgment of $35,000 or more, if the evidence indicates, plus interest and costs.

Soviet Track Coach Says Altitude, Track Caused Sub-Par Russian Effort

MEXICO CITY (AP)—Rus-robkov, whose teams have bailed the United States for athletic supremacy for more than a decade. "Most of the world lives down stairs. They hold the Olympic ups stairs. The Games are thrown-out-of-balance."

was the largest entered here in this 1 1/2 mile-high city where everything of a dud in the track and field competition.

The Soviet women, who have dominated field events in the past, failed to win a single gold medal. The men won three golds, one silver and three bronze. The United States, on the other hand collected 12 golds in men's track and field, five silvers and seven bronze while the women won three golds and a silver.

Overall so far in the Games, the United States was well in front going into Monday's competition, with 24 golds, 15 silver and 12 bronze compared with 11-13-11 for the Soviets. In Tokyo four years ago, the Russians led in total medals, 96 to 90 for the United States, but the Yanks got more golds, 36 to 20.

The Soviet coach said the Russians began rebuilding their team after the Tokyo Games four years ago. "We didn't have had stayed with our old athletes too long. We brought a young, experienced team here. Our boys, for example, were only 22. We will be better at Munich in 1972."

Korobkov said the Americans had an advantage in running on the tartan all-weather track. "We have no such tracks in the Soviet Union," he said.

"Many of our athletes hurt their legs. We are disappointed naturally, we did not do better, but watch us in Munich."

Smith, Carlos Arrive From Mexico City

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Tommy Smith and John Carlos arrived in the United States Monday and steadfastly refused to answer reporters questions about the Olympic Games, where they were expelled from the U.S. team for a glove-fist demonstration on the victory stand.

Accompanied by their wives, Smith and Carlos flew in from Mexico City on a jetliner with 165 other passengers. They took Smith to the 200-meter race in Mexico City with Carlos third.

Smith had a black scarf around his neck and Carlos wore beads. When the band played the six Star Spangled Banner, Smith thrust his gloved right hand and Carlos his left toward the sky in a fist salute. Both had their eyes on the ground.

Howard Retires From Baseball Wars

BOSTON (AP)—Elston Howard, one of baseball's all-time great catchers, ended an illustrious career Monday in announcing his retirement as a player.

"There's no chance I'll change my mind," Howard told a news conference. "I will be 40 years of next year and what difference does another season make?"

"I don't think I could help the club that much anyway," Howard played in the American League for 14 years, 12 1/2 with the New York Yankees. He was acquired by Boston in August 1967, in time to help the Red Sox to the American League pennant.

Plagued by an arthritic condition in his throwing arm this year, Howard appeared in only 71 games in 1968. He batted .241 far behind his lifetime mark of .276.

Howard played on 10 championship clubs and was the league's Most Valuable Player in 1962. He hit 65 homers and drove in 762 runs during his career.

Howard said he would like to stay in baseball but would go to the minor leagues "to manage or in any other capacity."

Leigh Makes It The Hard Way

By MARTY RALBOVSKY CLEVELAND (NEA)—Every major city has a section like it.

Los Angeles calls it Watts. Boston has its Roxbury, Pittsburgh its Hill District, Cleveland its Hough.

In Albany, N. Y., they call it Arbor Hill. Large families, crowded into decaying tenements, are not uncommon on Arbor Hill.

Fred and Anna Mae Leigh lived in one with their nine children (six girls and three boys). The kids grew up, got married and found a tenement for themselves.

None ever made it to college. The fourth in line and the second son was Charles Irving, the expressionless introvert. As a kid, he'd run off every day to the nearest playground and shoot baskets, hustle up a game of football or wander over to the nearest poolroom and watch the older guys shoot a game of nine-ball.

By the time Charlie was 14, he was a football star in high school. At 19, he was a busband; at 20, a father. At 21, started with indecision. He was going to try and hook up with a family to support, he didn't know where to begin.

"I thought I'd try the Pittsburgh Steelers first," he recalls. "They answered a letter I sent them. They said I could have a tryout. I jumped on a bus and figured I had it made."

He didn't; the Steelers cut him. "Then I tried the Continental League. I got a tryout with the Pennsylvania Mustangs. I made the team. But that was only the beginning. Soon I started shuffling all over the country."

After a stint with the Mustangs, Charlie played for teams in Washington, Pa.; Orlando, Fla.; Philadelphia and Norfolk, Va. "I was beginning to wonder if it was all worth it," he said. "But I couldn't quit. I needed the money."

The Browns noticed him in Norfolk. They invited him for a tryout, and he made the team. "At first I felt funny because I never went to college and the other guys did," he says. "Then I said to myself, 'What the hell? I'm here to play football. So are they. What's the difference?"

RED WING HUDSON'S DOWN TOWN

BOB BLAKE, a graduate of Twin Falls high school, will be with the Idaho State University freshman football team when they take on their counterparts from Montana State in Twin Falls Saturday night.

Gene Mauch Finds Pile Of Money Hard To Spend

NEW YORK (NEA)—A team with few established players has season ticket holders without a manager who's got 10 million bucks to spend and is nibbling his nails about it. "This is the first time I've ever been nervous about anything being baseball," said Gene Mauch, manager of the new Montreal franchise of the National League.

"We don't have any youth movement as such, nor try necessarily to get some name players to boost the gate," said Mauch. "We're interested only in wins."

Mauch said that as a player and later as a manager (his big league managerial career extended from 1960 to last year).

Curtis Cokes Retains Title From Brawler

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP)—Champion Curtis Cokes, enjoying a three-inch reach over challenger Ramon La Cruz, outboxed the South American brawler Monday night and scored a unanimous decision to retain his welterweight crown.

Cokes, a precision puncher who packs a solid right, was able to keep the shorter La Cruz at bay most of the 15 rounds. La Cruz scored the limit at 147.

with Philadelphia. "He knew what he was doing, so was never nervous. But he was around with pockets stuffed with currency is another matter.

"If nothing else," he said, "the people in Montreal are really hungry for baseball. We've already sold 2,500 season tickets and the people don't even know where they'll be sitting. Seating plans haven't been drawn up yet."

There is one comparison, however, between the current situation and when he took over in Philadelphia after the first game of the season: No players. (Eddie Sawyer resigned after opening day. "I'm 40 years old," said Sawyer, "and I want to live to 50.")

"I started from scratch in Philadelphia, too," said Mauch. "Well, we did have a couple good players. Let's see, it was Johnny Callison and, uh, Johnny Callison and — well, a couple others."

As the youngest manager in the major leagues (he was 35), Mauch struggled with a club that finished last on merit for his first two years. By 1964 he had a pennant contender and the Phils led the league by 6 1/2 games with only 12 games to play. But finished in a tie for second.

"It was like watching someone drown," said Mauch. "The Phils never got close again."

In Montreal, Mauch expects no problem with language, through half the town speaks French. "I don't speak French," he said, "and don't think I have to. There is a universal language. Everyone knows what a smile means. And everyone knows what a frown means."

Yet nonvocal language has been alien to Mauch an land is to a swimmer. He has been one of baseball's fiercest bench jockeys. In a game against Houston in 1967, for example, he chivied Andy Mike Celler until the other charged him in the dugout. The brawl was broken up before it started, but Celler, who had just about retired at the time, blew his cool and gave up a run. But Houston won 2-1 in the 11th, anyway.

In Mike Matthews, then a third baseman for Houston, said at the time: "I respect Mauch's right to nag, but you can't call a person any name you want and expect him to take it. He overstepped his boundaries."

Mauch replied implicitly: "All I was trying to do was win the game." It seems, then, that Mauch was correct in saying there would be a language barrier in Montreal. All National League players know some English.

Are you a color TV holdout?

Get the Color TV with the works in a drawer.

The works in a drawer: 10 tubeless solid-state mini-circuits for solid dependability. Quasar is Color TV that stays at home working, not in the repair shop.

The solid-state mini-circuit. It plugs in in your home in minutes.

Have you been a color TV holdout? A little afraid of all the service problems? Hold out no more. Look into Quasar... color TV with the works in a drawer.

Just what is it that's made Quasar worth waiting for? (Other than a beautiful picture, great color and style?) Two important things. The dependability of solid state electronics. And fast, at-home service you can only get when the works are in a drawer.

In Quasar, most components except the rectifier and picture tube are solid-state. They're tubeless mini-circuits...designed to work without burning themselves out. They plug in in minutes, if service is ever needed.

A serviceman simply opens the drawer at the front of the set. Snaps in a replacement circuit. Closes the drawer. And that's it. You might lose a few innings of viewing, but not much more. In most cases service is handled in your home, not the shop.

So, why look for another excuse? Go to your Motorola dealer and look into Quasar instead. We're so impressed with Quasar reliability, we've guaranteed it (everything, picture tube and chassis parts) for two years.

But you'll be impressed, too.

Two Year Registered Guarantee on Picture Tube and All Parts. Original owner guarantee covers free exchange or repair of parts proven defective in normal use. Arranged through selling dealers. Labor and transportation extra. Guarantee not valid unless guarantee card mailed to Motorola within ten days after delivery of set.

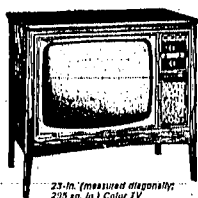

EXTRA! New Motorola Electronic Remote Control! Remarkable and unique. Solid state! Solid reliability! Silent color and sound control! See it!
