Soviets Launch Astronaut

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet Union launched its first manned spacecraft in 18 months Saturday and the pilot reported that he "successfully accomplished" a rendezvous maneuver with an unmanned sister ship that had been put up a day earlier.

COL. GEORGY BEREGOVY, now orbiting the earth, is pictured as he trained for his first space voyage. He is manning spacecraft Soyuz 3, the first Russian manned ship in more than a year. Tass, the Soviet news agency that supplied this picture, has announced that Col. Beregovoy approached an unmanned sister ship during his first orbit in what appeared to be an attempt at rendezvous. (AP wirephoto)

"I have successfully accomplished the rendezvous maneuver," he reported through the spacecraft's radio. "I am in high spirits."

There was no mention of a linkup and Beregovoy did not say how close he came to the sister ship, prompting speculation that a planned hookup failed.

Soviet leaders congratulated the cosmonaut on the fulfillment of the assignment to maneuver and bring closer the spacecraft.

He made his rendezvous attempt on the first orbit. His flight continued and Tass said he was "fulfilling all operations called for by the program."

The 47-year-old cosmonaut "feels well," Tass added. Soyuz 3 has transmitted pictures from earth, but they were not immediately made public.

Soviet television and the people of Moscow were joyous about the flight. Tass said the Soviet Union has had no fully successful manned ship since March 1965.

The only attempted manned experiment since then ended in tragedy when Col. Vladimir Komarov crashed to earth and was killed in Soyuz 1 in April 1967.

Crowds on Red Square Saturday danced and cheered, carrying a huge portrait of Beregovoy and a banner proclaiming: "Glory to our hero of the cosmos."

Plane-Crash Survivors Say Stewardess Saved Many Lives

HANOVER, N.H. (AP)—Survivors of a plane crash that killed 32 persons told Saturday they were grateful to a stewardess who helped them escape safely on a nearby mountain.

The "No Smoking" sign was on its approach to Lebanon Airport," Robert Y. Kimball said. A 17-member investigating team from the National Transportation Safety Board came to investigate the crash, but had no statement Saturday about its findings.

Mary Hitchcock Memorial Hospital said Saturday all the survivors were in at least fair condition, and Kimball was released after treatment for a ankle injury.

Kimball and other survivors praised highly life-saving work by stewardess Betty Frank, the only survivor among the three-member crew, and a physician on board, Dr. Richard L. Veitch of Oxford, England.

They said Miss Frail, 21, who suffered a broken leg, opened a rear cargo door as an escape route for those in the tail section. The rear section split from the craft on impact and escaped from the front section.

Kimball, 44, said flames were licking at his feet as he crawled out and jumped to the ground. After crawling and stumbling about for "I don't know how long," Kimball said he came across "the real hero of the accident," Dr. Veitch, who had suffered a severe back injury but "marshaled us all—the stewardess and the others—and got us going."

Kimball said Veitch told them how to prop him up and what to do with those in shock, then "when we heard two men yell, 'Get up—get up—get up'—we got up to go after them."

Saigon Boosts Opposition To Proposed Bomb Halt

SAIGON (AP)—South Vietnam has hardened its opposition to a proposed cease-fire pact and is firmly opposed to any premature cease-fire, government and diplomatic sources said Saturday.

One Saigon minister said: "Everyone talks of de-Americanization of the war. We want to de-Americanize the peace."

He said South Vietnam must agree to any Hanoi-Washington negotiated halt to the bombing of North Vietnam and insisted upon being a full partner to any expanded peace talks.

Junior government officials, reflecting their superiors' views, asked an American newsman how many days before the U.S. presidential election would it be necessary to announce the halt in order to effect the outcome.

There have been often-voiced fears here that Washington's current peace offensive was tied to the presidential election. Washington denies this.

A cease-fire would remove the U.S. shield from many parts of South Vietnam. It is taken for granted in Saigon that enemy violations of a cease-fire would have to be massive before Washington would agree to any resumption of fighting by U.S. troops.

Another reason cited for President Nguyen Van Thieu's foot-dragging over the peace package is his belief that recent allied battlefield successes leave the Saigon government in a much stronger position to wage war than seek peace.

But the major sticking points, aside from South Vietnam's opposition to a cease-fire, lie in Thieu's insistence on taking a hand in any proceedings that might bring peace.

Asked about Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey's statement last Sunday that "South Vietnam should not be able to veto any U.S. decision to halt the bombing, a senior government official replied that to deny the Saigon government a vote over peace agreements would "amount to a betrayal" of agreements between Thieu and President Johnson.

Thieu declares he not only must agree to any bombing halt, but insists that the Viet Cong's National Liberation Front could never be accepted as a bargaining agent at any expanded peace conference.

LBJ Said Seeking Bomb Halt

WASHINGTON (AP)—Despite an angry denial from Hanoi of any bombing-halt deal, President Johnson was reported today to be pressing ahead with secret negotiations for an agreement with North Vietnam to de-escalate the war.

While the Hanoi blast could be read as a rejection of Johnson's offer, presidential authorities chose to interpret it as a propaganda attack which did not necessarily reflect the final decision of North Vietnamese leaders.

Washington authorities took the position that there was still at least an even chance, probably better for reaching some understanding on scaling down the war and advancing the Paris peace talks which would enable Johnson to end the bombing in the near future. This estimate presumably figured in a statement made Friday by Republican presidential challenger Richard M. Nixon in New York.

"I am told," Nixon said, "that top officials in the administration have been driving very hard for an agreement on the highest price during the annual cease-fire negotiations, possibly by a cease-fire, in the immediate future. I have since learned these reports are true."

Capt. Robb Sends Pink Rose Lynda, Daughter Make Debut

WASHINGTON (AP)—Lynda Johnson Robb and her baby daughter made their debut in photographs released at Bethesda Naval Hospital Saturday, and one pink rose was delivered to the new mother.

They described the new granddaughter—"our third—as adorable and beautiful and said she looks just like her son, Charles, when he was a baby, with dark brown hair. The Johnsons, so far, have claimed no special resemblance.

Family and friends were joining Lynda in making tape recordings to send to Bob in Vietnam, along with the three first photos, one of which was taken 40 minutes after the baby was born at 12:03 a.m. Friday.

The pictures were given to Lt. Gen. Lewis Wall, assistant commander of the Marine Corps, who was leaving Saturday for Vietnam.

Wall also was delivering to Robb a tape recording Lynda made shortly after the big event—starting-out-with-the-words: "Here we are fresh from the delivery room..." It even includes a few lusty cries from the Robbs' new baby, still unnamed.

Lynda said she and Robb picked out a name for a baby girl and she can make the decision here.

Both major presidential candidates, Republican Richard M. Nixon, sent President Johnson congratulations in a telegram that pointed out he and his wife "are a part to girls in our family." Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey and his wife sent "Hoory! Another Democrat enters the world!"

U.S. Repels Red Attack Near Border

SAIGON (AP)—In their first attack in a month, enemy troops struck Saturday at a U.S. firebase north of Saigon near the Cambodian border. The force was beaten back with heavy losses.

A U.S. Command spokesman said, however, he could not interpret the attack as an end to the battle. He said that he encouraged speculation that some progress may be made in the Paris peace talks.

The 200 troops struck the U.S. 1st Division's Firebase Julie 50 miles north of Saigon shortly before dawn behind a barrage of mortar shells.

The Americans answered with small-arms fire and called in artillery support.

British Mount Protection Against Mass War Protest

LONDON (AP)—Police threw a steel barrier around Prime Minister Harold Wilson's residence Saturday, manned television cameras at the U.S. Embassy and sealed the main entrance of historic Westminster Abbey as London prepared for a mass protest against the Vietnam war.

Scotland Yard told tourists and Londoners to stay away from the demonstration areas but students swarmed into the city for what organizers say will be the biggest protest march ever staged here. Accurate estimates were impossible, but crowds of 50,000 or more—not all of them students—were forecast for the demonstration today.

Immigration officials were ordered to ban foreigners with records of violence from coming into Britain for the rally. Coast guards patrolled the foggy south shore of England to prevent boats from smuggling in European students.

Police Obeys Court Order, End Strike

NEW YORK (AP)—Declaratory judgment that police arrests if they themselves ignore the law, New York City's policemen voted today to obey a court order that they stop their work slowdown.

Meanwhile a new threat entered the city's labor picture when firemen, who also have been conducting a slowdown, said they would start a general strike Wednesday, Nov. 13, unless their demands are met.

These developments came as the city's school dispute remained in deadlock after a state proposed a formula for ending the walkout that has cost more than a million pupils 21 days of classes.

Record Vote Seen Boise (AP)—A record-early vote in Idaho's general election little more than a week away.

In New York State, for example, 34 per cent of the popular vote might be enough to win the important bloc of 43 electoral votes, the nation's largest. A straw poll by the Daily News, which has been wrong only 3 times in 27 polls since 1928, shows Nixon leading Humphrey by only two points.

The News gives Wallace only 8.0 per cent to 4.7 for Humphrey. The poll was taken between Oct. 14 and 17.

Harris' latest published poll shows a 2 or 4 point gain by Humphrey the last time he could throw the election into the House of Representatives.

Polls Show Humphrey Gaining Strength

NEW YORK (AP)—As the 1968 presidential campaign moves into the home stretch, the public opinion polls still favor Richard M. Nixon over Hubert H. Humphrey but there is increasing uncertainty about it.

The two most widely published reports, Harris and Gallup, both show Nixon ahead and both show Humphrey gaining. But there are several complicating factors.

Both the latest Harris and Gallup polls to be reported were taken in early October and do not reflect the effects of any intensified campaigning and recent events.

The request because directions given by the doctor had not been carried out.
Mr. Schafer also took the stand Saturday and corroborated Mr. Turner's testimony. Mr. Turner was questioned about other spankings and asked if he ever spanked another child as hard as he had young Harrison. He stated that he had — his own 14-year-old daughter. He said the child is 14 years of age.
Ezra Moore, superintendent of Burley School District No. 151, said today he had no recollection of any spanking of the boy's punishment. He also said that if his child had returned home under the same circumstances, he would have received another spanking.
W. B. Whitley said during examination Friday that the school board policy has not been changed on punishment of students. Mr. Whitley is chairman of the board.
After the verdict was returned, Mr. Schafer said "many months ago I stated that I had complete confidence in our judicial system. I reiterate that I still have complete confidence in the interest of the school, myself and Mr. Schafer that they found in our favor."
He said he had no objection to the action by myself and Mr. Schafer, was in the best interest of Michael Don Harvison and the school. I am sure he has been helped and will continue to make good progress in our Burley Junior High School."

It's A Jim Dandy

Idaho has only one contest this year so far as the public is concerned, and it even has no clear implications. This is the amazing race between Frank Church and George Hansen. The interest goes well beyond our state borders and is being carefully observed nationally.
According to most political observers in Idaho, it would appear that the senator would slightly tipping toward Frank Church at this time; however, from where we sit, it would still appear to be a toss-up. The race is not over until the election on Nov. 5, 1968.

Political Point of View

By L. James Koutnik
substantial card-carrying GOP types whose credentials would be unchallenged. In most cases, ahead and say what I said but they are contributors to the Republican party. In all cases, they are supporting Dick Nixon and not George Hansen.
One thing immediately became clear. Very few would actually talk for attribution to "George Hansen" or "Frank Church." They don't dare attribute it to either. It was a common remark. One Twin Falls business man stated that "Church is intellectually far above George Hansen. As far as I can see, George hasn't done a particularly good job in Congress, and I certainly can't see him as a senator. Frankly it's against my Republican principles to vote for Church, so I may end up not voting for anyone for that office."
Another Twin Falls business man who is active in investment work has stated that there is "George Hansen is OK in the house," but so far as he could see, George was running for this job in position for himself, and he wasn't particularly interested in Idaho. "Church has been available to all of the people of Idaho, and he has been the spokesman of liberalism, both on a national and a world level. He is also distressed by the situation of the state. He has been a conservative than Barry Goldwater ever was — a conservative who has a 100 per cent voting record with the conservative 'Americans for Constitutional Action' (the ACA)."

Open House Scheduled By Buhl Schools

BUHL — In an effort to carry out this year's theme, "Better Communication Between Home and School," open house in both the elementary and junior high school have been scheduled, according to Bob Rankin, Buhl PTA publicity chairman.

Parents of the elementary school pupils are invited to attend the open house on Monday at 8 p.m. in the elementary building multi-purpose room. Following an address by Lee Popplewell, elementary school principal, each teacher will guide her pupils' parents on a tour of the building.

Parents will then return to the individual teacher's room where samples of each child's work will be on display. Each teacher will acquaint the visitors with the materials being used in coverage of the various subject areas. Parents wishing to schedule a conference with the teacher will have an opportunity to make arrangements for such a meeting.

The junior high school open house will begin at 7:30 p.m. Nov. 4. Principal Bob Sept and his faculty are planning a class-schedule type open house, giving parents an opportunity to attend each of their child's class periods, and the teachers will explain something about the subject, method of instruction, and objectives of the class.

Arrangements for a private teacher-parent conference can be made at the end of the evening which will close with a social period in the all-purpose room. The homecoming will be most participating parents at the open house will receive an award. Parents are urged to attend the open houses and take advantage of this opportunity to observe the local school system.

OFFICE HOURS SET SHOSHONE — The Lincoln county auditor's office will be open Saturday, Nov. 2 through the day, to accommodate absentee voters, auditor Mrs. Luella L. Kinsey announced.

Dick Nixon: You Can't Have Everything

WASHINGTON — Just about now, I expect Dick Nixon is peering at Spiro Agnew with jaded eye and reminding himself that you can't have everything. And hoping, perhaps, that Agnew will not turn out to be the Democrats' secret weapon.

In one respect, Agnew is serving the purpose for which he was chosen—to appeal to those blue collar workers in the North tempted by the siren song of George Wallace, and to some voters in the South and Border states. He is a good lawyer, a hard worker, and comes off well as a stern, disciplinarian father figure who takes no nonsense from the kids. But it's sweeter his message can be heard with that big foot in his mouth.

Agnew's problem is that such offhand cracks detract from the sound points he makes. For example, he has something to say about the poor, but he says he is not going to "showboat" with campaign appearances in the ghettos. There has been too much professional exhibitionism by the candidates in the slums, posing as Lord Bountifuls spreading largesse for the unwashed. The poor couldn't care less about seeing the candidates; what they want is relief, not road shows, a share of the national affluence, not a pat on the head.

By The Light Of The Silvery Moon

BRUCE BLOSSAT

Civilized Bealam

From the time the cave man first learned to create a spark by striking two stones together, man has been enveloping himself in an ever-increasing crescendo of sound. Until recent years, however, he hadn't particularly minded it. But suddenly the world-wide—at least the inhabited portion—seems to be caught up in a cacophony of sound which at times resembles a hammer-mill competing with a squad of cymbal players. The traditional noisemaking vocations—riveters, press operators, foundry workers, pneumatic drillers—today are drowned out by the supernoses of modern civilization.

Three of five members of one group he found already had suffered some permanent hearing damage, although under 23 years of age. Another physician who studied speakers at a rock-session reports just as severe results, although of a more temporary nature. One group of teenagers tested before and after a dance recorded a hearing loss of 11 decibels.

Noise problems concerning jet aircraft are serious in large areas surrounding every major airport, but even the 140 decibels of a jet plane during takeoff is milder compared to the racket supersonic jets will create from one end of the nation to the other when they become operational sometime in the 1970s.

Perhaps more dangerous than the hearing damage caused by contemporary noises is the effect on the nervous system. Researcher studies of "noise pollution" are becoming convinced one of the major conditioners of the temperate, nerves-on-edge, ulcerous urbanite is the constant din by which he is surrounded.

In the long run it may even turn out that the partially deaf fellow who is forced to live in an environment polluted by noise is the lucky one.

Mother Power

The United States is full of all kinds of power these days. Black power, white power, flower power, police power, peace power, war power and many others which are more or less localized. But a Philadelphia judge has suggested a new kind of power which makes more sense than most.

County Court Judge Charles Wright has suggested what his county needs most is more "mother power." In Philadelphia, the judge commented, "Even in the days of the old Wild West things weren't this bad."

"Mother power" could have prevented most of the murders, says Judge Wright. More important, it could prevent more in the future. "The mothers of members of the various gangs should get together and demand that their sons turn over their weapons to them," said the judge. "The mothers know their sons are members of gangs; but they just let it go on."

"If the mothers can't convince their sons to stop this—this recklessness, wildness, shootings, stabbings and bombings—they should come to court and have a petition drawn against their sons, declaring them incorrigibles. Then I'll do what they seem to be failing to do. I'll break up these gangs. I'll send them away, take them off the streets."

Mothers of members of several of the youth gangs have vowed that if they fail to persuade their sons to leave the gangs they will petition the court to take charge. Mother power has given the mothers an interest in their sons' behavior—something many of them did not have before. It helps knowing they have help to turn to if they need it.

A Letter To The Police

Mr. Spectorator received a note from the Rev. Donald L. Hoffman, pastor of the First Christian Church in Twin Falls. The good minister, it seems, had come across an article in "The Proclaimer," a local church paper, from the Christian Church in Arcadia, Tex.

"I thought it was just too good to keep," Rev. Hoffman wrote. "I thought I would send it on to you in the hopes you would be able to do something with it or use it somewhere."

Well, Mr. Spectorator thinks it is too good to keep, so he is printing it in today's column. Here goes:

"One of the most common phrases heard in our society and our city today is 'I'm not a typical mother.' I have seen a lot of mothers hurt by anyone. I am not a typical mother' for I see things many mothers never hear or much less become involved in because my husband is a minister and we see the very best—and the worst work."

"I would like for you to be brutal with my sons. Is that a surprise?"

"If you find them speeding in a car, please be brutal! If you find them at the hospital holding a grieving mother's hand because of someone's mistake, that was brutal! I have seen my husband tell a wife her husband was killed. That was brutal. I have played organ music at funeral services for babies, teen-agers and adults because someone drove too fast. That was brutal."

"If you should catch my under-age sons with liquor in their possession, please be brutal! I have not all night by my husband's side trying to help place together two under-age young men's lives, both broken by drinking. That was brutal. I have listened to the horrors experienced by another man's wife because she had heard him recall the many jills he had seduced time in for this. That was brutal. I have helped feed hungry children because a drunken father didn't come home. That was brutal. I have tried to console a mother whose daughter was killed after being stuck by a drunken driver. What was that?"

"If you should find my sons with drugs in their possession, please be brutal! I have tried to help rehabilitate a woman friend of mine who had been in prison while she was drugged. That was brutal. I have seen a handsome young man turned into an old ugly one because of drugs. That was brutal. I have seen a

HHH Needs Liberal Funds

WASHINGTON (NEA) — Vice President Humphrey and his strategists are furious at the refusal of issue-oriented New York and California liberals of their former Eugene McCarthy backers, to lay out the many millions needed to finance the campaign climax.

The most desperate immediate requirement is for $7 million to buy time coast to coast for the barrage of radio and television spot programs Humphrey's managers want to lay down in the final weeks. These "spots" have been produced and are ready. Democratic leaders believe they are skillfully done and would be highly effective. Says one top spokesman:

"We think what we've got is very good. The sad thing is that, unless we get the million, we may be the only ones who ever see the stuff."

Humphrey people say the New York-California liberals are always a crucial source of Democratic campaign funds and that they cannot turn anywhere else to make up the slack. Union contributions, though often much publicized, are not of great magnitude.

When in the Humphrey camp believe the money holdout by New York-California liberals is due in considerable part to published polls and prospective electoral counts showing Humphrey a big loser. But they also feel that some of the reluctance is related to the McCarthyite sympathies of many potential contributors.

On the road in the Northeast with Sen. Edmund Muskie, the Democratic vice presidential nominee, this reporter heard a key Democratic figure apply for a job with the House of Representatives that it suggested enduring resentment far beyond the 1968 election.

Why name McCarthy supporters who opposed President Johnson because of his Vietnam policies say today they cannot back Humphrey without hypocrisy, the vice president's men in turn charge them with hypocrisy for approving Democratic-style "social progress," yet leaving the field in 1968 to a frontrunner Richard Nixon.

Muskie recently had tough words for those Americans (read McCarthyites) who say they are going to opt out of this election because they did not want it their own way. "The question on Nov. 5, he said, will be what kind of country we will have in the next four years or longer. Then he added: 'Everyone who goes into the voting booth and everyone who stays out will be answering it.'"

No one at Humphrey headquarters or anywhere else among the corps of party professionals is daring to say that if the painful Democratic money shortage was suddenly cured the vice president would "win the election. Gloom is still widespread. But the Democratic regulars, liberal political professionals generally, are operating on the theory that defeat is inevitable until it is on the scoreboard. Moreover, they argue that a close defeat is better than a had one, since a catastrophe may wipe out too many good party officeholders down the line — and nearly ruin the party's prospects of early comeback.

What's Wrong?

WASHINGTON — As part of his hard-hitting campaign, Republican vice presidential candidate Spiro Agnew has been attacking the pseudo-intellectuals in the United States and blaming them for most of the country's woes. This has caused a great deal of bitterness among America's pseudo-intellectuals, and it's possible that Agnew's strategy might backfire on him.

Hillier Hartzline, president of the Pseudo-Intellectual Antidote League, held a press conference last week where he defended the rule of pseudo-intellectuals in the United States and warned that if Gov. Agnew continued his attacks, he would lose millions of votes.

"While pseudo-intellectuals do not usually vote as a bloc," Hartzline said, "they are very sensitive to criticism and certainly would not vote for a man who treats them with so much contempt."

Asked how large the pseudo-intellectual vote was in the United States, Hartzline replied, "It's hard to say, but we're the ones who subscribe to Time magazine, belong to the Book of the Month Club and watch Leonard Bernstein on television."

"We drive Volkswagens and go to foreign films and buy light posters and, sometimes, drink wine, but we're very sensitive to criticism and certainly would not vote for a man who treats them with so much contempt."

What's Wrong?

country who quotes David Susskind, who owns a Hi-Fi record machine and plays country music on Thursdays. We may not watch the Smothers Brothers and Laugh-In, and whenever M. F. K. DeLoach says, 'We're not going to do it, so he pleases us, Richard Nixon is appealing to."

"Exactly. We're the forgotten Americans that Nixon is always talking about. We pay our taxes. We work for our money. We don't get involved in crime. The only thing we're trying to do is improve our minds. We might have gone for Nixon if Agnew hadn't given us all that Jazz."

"Why do you think he did it?" "He probably got all mixed up. What he wanted to do was attack the intellectuals, but he went and attacked the pseudo-intellectuals instead. If he had attacked the intellectuals in the United States, he would have had a lot of support."

"What does the Pseudo-Intellectual Antidote League plan to do about it?" "We're going to have a fair about it and give Agnew a chance to retract what he said about us."

"Do you think he'll do it?" "Why not? He's retracted practically everything else he's said."

"And if he doesn't?" "When we think really our membership in the New York, Atlantic Monthly, Harper's and Playboy that Spiro Agnew is an anti-pseudo-intellectual and we will want there a vote for Agnew is a vote for Lawrence Welk. We'll let our members take it from there."

Whiskey Next?

So far as I have been able to determine, the October 27 election was alone in his profession—and I in mine—when we reported a relationship between smoking and lung cancer in those for almost 15 years, therefore, encouraging each other in the face of much discouraging opposition.

Dr. Ochsner's colleagues berated him; his best friends chided him. Let the record show that Drs. Cuyler Hammond and I were not the only ones who reported Ochsner's report, have since become altogether as vigorous as he in publicizing the hazards of snuff and cigarettes.

Dr. Everts Graham, who taunted Ochsner mercilessly in 1940, later switched sides and militantly attacked his own brain cells and reduces his own life expectancy. His death rate from heart and digestive diseases, suicide, traffic and motor vehicle accidents was 2 1/2 times greater than for nondrinkers his age.

Our government's antismoking campaign, however, has been less than successful. I see no hope for the "scarce approach." I'm wondering if our own government's efforts might not better be directed toward awakening a "health consciousness" in Americans.

A generation with pride in its physical appearance would use itself on drink, drugs, cigarettes and other dissipation. President John Kennedy initiated the anti-smoking campaign. Wouldn't a revival of that be a most splendid monument to him?

Report: China's Hard Line

WASHINGTON — One of the most surprising elements in President Johnson's inability thus far to negotiate a total bombing halt in North Vietnam's worsening situation on the home front.

Hanoi's military problem in the South is now well-known. The new policy laid down by Truong Chinh, (the ranking member of the North Vietnamese politburo, abandoned for the time being all thought of a bombing halt in the result of fearful enemy losses in the offensive last winter and the failure of subsequent offensives to do it, so he pleases a new uprising in the cities.

Lost in Washington's preoccupations with the military side of the war, however, is that Hanoi's home front is in far worse shape than U. S. experts have been led to believe. In fact, that political expediency in Hanoi would seem to dictate coming to terms with Mr. Johnson's bombing halt to obtain a breathing space.

The depth of deterioration on the home front, most of it tied into the domestic economy, was spelled out as never before in Truong Chinh's recent and fascinating report to Communist Party cadres (leaders) in Hanoi, China, a veteran party leader whose name means "Long March" (he learned about protracted war from Mao Tse-tung during the Chinese civil war), lashed out at: "the rather widespread situation of corruption and profiteering which is taking advantage of the war situation."

Implicit in Chinh's language, and to his victim — let our government remains silent on this statistically larger man-acc. Alcoholism is directly fatal to 11,000 Americans each year. Indirectly it kills many times that many. Drinking by drivers and pedestrians causes 800,000 crashes, kills 25,000 Americans every year. Of all private plane crashes or crash landings, 60 per cent result from somebody's drinking. Alcohol fed the flames during recent fighting. American industry, because of alcoholism, has lost $7 1/2 billion a year. Even the so-called "social drinkers" pay a price. They lose brain cells and reduce his own life expectancy. His death rate from heart and digestive diseases, suicide, traffic and motor vehicle accidents was 2 1/2 times greater than for nondrinkers his age.

Statements On Water Are Issued

BURLEY — South Central Idaho's nine Democratic candidates for the state legislature Saturday cautioned that the highly publicized moratorium on water diversion studies was not "an umbrella under which we could peacefully mark time."

The candidates agreed that both Idaho senators were to be committed for obtaining the moratorium. They are concerned, however, that Idaho people are not generally aware that the nationwide responsibility for the Mexican Water Treaty obligation was also adopted by the passage of the Colorado River bill.

"We now face a nationwide obligation to provide two and one-half million acre-feet of water to Mexico." This, the candidates state, "assures the eventual diversion of water into the Colorado River from some source outside the Colorado drainage and the most obvious source is our own Snake River."

Specific action proposed by the nine candidates include: 1. All legal desert entries should be processed promptly. 2. Storage sites in the Upper Snake River should be fully developed as soon as possible. 3. The existing right of all present water users must be fully protected before any new projects are approved.

The legislative candidates making the statement are Oscar Arstein, Paul, District 21-B; and Vernon Ravenscroft, Tuttle, District 2-A, both incumbents; Jack Pierce, Malin and Lovell Turner, Burley, both District 25 and Lee Schlander, Ketchum, District 21-A; all candidates for state representative.

State senatorial candidates are Don Fredericksen, Gooding, District 22, Jerry Morgan, Minidoka, District 21 and Ed Elliott, Burley, District 25.

Thefts Of Coins Delay Displays

Lewiston, Idaho (AP) — Two recent coin thefts have resulted in postponement on a coin show this weekend.

W. E. Black, show president, said coins worth $39,000 were taken from him and from Mr. and Mrs. Ray Hatfield. The collection stolen from Hatfield included one belonging to Minnie Stout.

Black said collectors are putting their coins in safe deposit boxes to prevent future thefts.

Newest United Fund Agency Is Local Mental Health Association; Aid Asked

The newest of the Twin Falls United Fund supported agencies is the local Mental Health Association. It became the ninth association in the drive this year.

Dr. Kenneth Briggs, a member of the Idaho Mental Health Advisory Council, said $14,000 in local funds will have to be collected before the association will be able to implement its proposed community mental health center.

The new center would be a private and federally funded unit offering partial hospitalization, emergency service, outpatient service and consultation.

Funds raised locally will be matched by federal monies. Dr. Briggs said fund-raising campaigns will also be conducted in other Twin Falls County communities within the next few weeks. All Twin Falls funds will, however, come through the United Fund Drive.

The Twin Falls association was formed to further progress in the field of mental health in our communities through better understanding of this illness.

Newly elected officers of the association are—Lloyd Webb, president; Donald Frank, vice president; Chet Bartlett, secretary, and Rev. Keith Maxwell, treasurer. Dr. Briggs acts in an advisory capacity for the group.

It was noted at a recent meeting of the Idaho Mental Health Advisory Council in Twin Falls that Idaho is lagging in its mental health services. It was also pointed out that Twin Falls is the only community in the state that has not requested state funds for mental health use. The council recommended a plan whereby mental health services be moved to community level, instead of being handled by the two state hospitals.

Area Sheriff Candidate Has Comment

BURLEY — "Cassia County residents are entitled to a thorough and competent investigation of all complaints, whether a minor accident or serious crime," stated Thoral J. Woodall, Albion, Democratic candidate for Cassia County Sheriff.

"If elected, my deputies will be trained and experienced career law enforcement officers. They would be required to keep records of their time, auto mileage and be accountable for everything they do," added Woodall.

Listed as qualifications for the office of county sheriff by Woodall were graduate of Decatur High School in 1959; 18 weeks Navy AD School and advanced technical training; graduate of FBI law enforcement academy in 1962; attended FBI and state law enforcement schools dealing with every phase of traffic, accident, burglary, fingerprinting, photography and sex crimes.

Woodall had been employed at Rohr Aircraft as aircraft technician and leadman at Chula Vista, Calif. from 1953 to 1959; self employed as contract hauler for Pet Milk Co., Burley from 1959 to 1961; police officer from 1961-64 with the Burley Police Department doing all cases of law enforcement and attended all schools available.

In 1964 Woodall served as chief deputy sheriff for Cassia County and in July, 1964, started with the Union Pacific Railroad working in special agents office acquiring a skill in conducting investigations and report writing.

He served as investigator for construction company in Vietnam starting in June 1967 where he supervised guard force of 10 to 40 men, conducted investigations and recovered stolen property.

Military record includes honorably discharged in 1954 from U.S. Navy, he served in Korea as crew chief of Navy helicopter doing rescue and intelligence Woodall and his wife presently own a cafe in Albion. They are the parents of four children, Steven, 16, Joy, 14, Drena, 9 and Brent, 6.

An active member of the LDS Church, Woodall is presently serving as Sunday School superintendent.

Election School Set, Polling Places Told

An election school for senior election judges in Twin Falls County is scheduled for Thursday in the judicial building, according to Robert W. Galley, deputy prosecuting attorney, and Harold Lancaster, county clerk.

"Because of the size of the meeting place," stated Mr. Lancaster, "the school will have to be restricted to senior election judges." Mr. Galley stated that in the recent Bannock County primary election several irregularities were discovered and said he could not over emphasize the importance of the meeting.

A similar election school was conducted by Mr. Galley and Mr. Lancaster in 1966 and they announced that they would continue to hold them in the future.

They said that even though some judges have served for many years, they should not neglect to attend this session of the school. If one of the senior election judges cannot attend, a substitute judge should be sent, the officials said.

So that the judges can have this knowledge fresh in their minds, the school has been scheduled as close to election day as possible, Mr. Galley said.

The polling places for the 1968 election are, Twin Falls No. 1, IOOF Hall, 235 Third Ave. E.; Twin Falls No. 2, Court House; Twin Falls No. 3, Swartz Residence, 221 Eighth Ave. E.; Twin Falls No. 4, Bickel School; Twin Falls No. 5, Lincoln School; Twin Falls No. 6, DAY Hall at Shoup and Harrison.

Grassroots Forum Slated At Castleford

CASTLEFORD—A grassroots forum with Cong. George Hansen and Sen. Frank Church as special guests is planned at 8 p.m. Wednesday at the Castleford Methodist church, reports Jim LaGrone, president of the Castleford Men's Club.

In order to accommodate the candidates so close to the election, the club will present Cong. Hansen from 5 to 7 p.m. in a speech and question period. At 7 p.m. the forum will break for a quick dinner served by women of the church. At 8 p.m. Sen. Church will be introduced. This Castleford forum is a real indicator of the grassroots concern to pick the right man in this important senatorial race, states, Mr. LaGrone.

The Castleford Men's club urges the public to attend any or all of the forum.

Vernon Ravenscroft, D-Tuttle; tax consultant Max Arnold; Legislative Council Director Myran Schlechte; State Budget Director James Deffenbach; Idaho State Trustee's President Zane Harrison, and William A. '69 Chevelle SS 396 Sport Coupe

If the '69 Chevelle can't do it, don't try it.

There are mid-size cars that overwhelm you with words, then underwhelm you in performance. Not Chevelle. It handles precisely. Grips the road forcefully. Moves with authority. In Chevelle's SS 396 form, you seem to move from here . . . to there, like that. One '69 reason is the newly available chambered pipe dual exhaust system. This low restriction system helps develop more usable power and eliminates regular type mufflers. Couple that with other standard SS items like the exclusive Turbo-Jet 396 V8, fat F70 x 14 tires on new sport wheels with wider 7-inch fims, and power disc brakes. Now you have the concentrated Chevrolet that some of our engineers say is the nearly perfect machine. If you're in the mood for SS'ing there's more good news: The Chevelle SS 396 package is available on four models in 1969—convertible, two sport coupes, and a pillared coupe. See your Chevrolet dealer. Try a Chevelle. Tackle a hill or take on some curves. You'll be an instant believer. Putting you first, keeps us first.

A BIRD IN THE HAND IS worth several hours time, reasons Spencer Parker, local cosmologist. The beautiful pheasant rooster flew into the Parker's beauty salon on Shoshone Street North Friday afternoon, just ahead of the opening of the pheasant season. Mr. Parker debated cancelling his hunting plans Saturday.

Student Curb Hinted At BSC

BOISE (AP) — Freshmen enrollment may have to be limited at Boise State College for a few years unless proposed funding is increased by the Idaho Legislature, BSC President John Barnes said Friday.

Barnes, speaking to a Boise civic group, said if the legislature accepted the recommended $32 million budget for the next two years, "it is going to be tough to operate."

Boise State's freshman class enrollment currently is on a level with those of the University of Idaho and Idaho State University.

Barnes said $1.4 million of the suggested budget would have to be used for one-time expenses connected with the school's becoming a part of the state system of higher education.

Under such a state budget, he said, the college would actually have less on which to operate than the $4 million annual budget it now has as a district college.

Dinner Set

SHOSHONE — The LDS Church building fund dinner is set for Nov. 1, not Oct. 31, as previously announced.

Dinner will be served from 6:30 p.m. Friday through the remainder of the evening at the church recreation hall.

GOP Expects More Seats In Senate

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Republican net gain of anywhere from 2 to 10 Senate seats is in the cards this year, depending on whether you talk to experts at the GOP or the Democratic Senate campaign committees.

Democratic strategists insist that the present heavy majority for their party in the Senate will be little disturbed by the Nov. 5 voting. But they concede a net loss of two seats is quite possible.

Republican experts say it is not inconceivable that they could win Senate control but agree this is not likely. They argue that a pickup of 10 seats is within range, however.

It would require a net gain of 13 GOP seats for control of the Senate to shift.

This would produce a 50-50 lineup but presumably Spiro T. Agnew would be elected vice president in the event of such a big Republican sweep and would be in a position to break the tie to permit his party to organize the Senate.

At present Democrats hold 63 seats and Republicans 37. But Democrats have 23 posts at stake in this year's elections against 11 for the Republicans.

Officials of both campaign committees have been traveling over the country this fall, seeking to bolster prospects for their party's nominees.

The panels supply campaign funds, press releases, speech suggestions and tips on strategy.

Idaho Declines Insurance Plan

BOISE (AP) — State Insurance Commissioner John R. Blaine said Thursday Idaho would not participate in a federal re-insurance plan to back insurance companies which take losses in urban violence.

"We believe," Blaine said in a letter to insurance companies in Idaho, "that circumstances that exist in the state of Idaho are such that they do not require federal reinsurance back-up for the perils of riot and civil commotion."

"We are certain that essential property insurance is now available without regard to environmental hazards through the private enterprise system," he explained.

DINNER PLANNED

SHOSHONE — A building fund dinner will be held by the LDS Church from 5:30 to 8:30 p.m. Friday, Nov. 1 at the recreation hall of the church.

TRAILS TO IDAHO primitive areas are clearly marked with signs like this. The signs also state it is against the law to ride a trail cycle into a primitive area. One arrest was reported recently.

Signs Made To Be Obeyed An Idaho Falls Man Learns

On Oct. 5, a resident of Idaho Falls pleaded guilty before Commissioner R. Don Bistline, in Pocatello, to charges of having violated a Department of Agriculture regulation prohibiting the use of any motorized vehicles in a primitive area.

The man admitted to riding a trail machine down the Loon Creek trail to the Middle Fork of the Salmon River on June 28.

The mouth of Loon Creek is six miles inside the Idaho primitive area.

All trail entrances to the Idaho Primitive Area are signed as being closed to motorized travel.

The trail cyclist was stopped and questioned by David Osterhout on the Simplot Ranch. Mr. Osterhout is a Deputy Sheriff of Custer County.

Mr. Osterhout informed the Forest Service patrolman of the violation. An investigation was made by Forest Officers and a complaint was filed.

PTA Honored

SHOSHONE — Special certificates were issued to the PTA groups of Shoshone, Richfield and Dietrich, for outstanding service to children of Idaho.

The presentation came from the Idaho Department of Health, and was particularly for eradication of measles, through measles clinics. Each of the PTA units sponsored a clinic in 1967.

In making the presentation T. O. Curver, M. D., administrator of Health, said the efforts of groups contributed greatly to eradication of measles in Idaho and the nation.

News Of Servicemen

The citation marked the 7th presidential honor won by the 5th Marine Regiment during its 64-year-old history. Cpl. Hansen, now living in Salt Lake City, served for over a year of his term of duty in Vietnam.

He is a graduate of Shoshone high school, class of 1961, attended Brigham Young University and served a mission for the LDS Church to Denmark.

School Given Grant From Foundation

HAGERMAN—Hagerman school has been chosen as one of six schools to receive a grant from the CSR, a branch of the Kettering Foundation.

The amount of the grant or the length of time for which it will be received is not yet revealed at this time.

The Foundation invited proposals from schools throughout the United States and from those applying, six were chosen to try to develop Human Relations projects in the schools.

During the past week, Charles F. Kettering, III, visited Hagerman schools. On Wednesday morning, Mr. Kettering spoke to the high school and junior high student body.

The student body was later divided into discussion groups with student leaders and George Carnie, superintendent, and Gerald Prince, guidance counselor, as supervisors. Ideas which arose in the group discussions were taped for future reference and ideas.

The previous evening, a banquet was held in Mr. Kettering's honor at the Oxbow Cafe, Elms.

Attending the dinner were 18 students chosen from the various classes, high school faculty, school board trustees, and some of the members of the recently organized Citizens Committee.

The students attending the dinner acted as student leaders for the discussion groups the following day.

At the dinner, the prayer was given by Lysle Gilmore, elementary school principal. A reading was given by Patti Gold.

Writer Defends Policies And Voting Record Of Church

Editor, Times-News:

Since Mr. Victor is kind enough to use an intellectual I won't call him a right-winger.

Mr. Victor's idealist would be opposed to all efforts to reduce Communist influence among nations, on any agreement regarding the military uses of space with the USSR (and potentially others) who can't stand them, so why bother? And countries like Yugoslavia, Rumania, Bulgaria, Poland, Hungary and others would be included from our legal trade, as would, obviously (to be consistent) the USSR and the rest of the Communist world. This program would have a simple life. That Senator Church has tried harder than that to deal with the real market against him, in my opinion, even if Mr. Victor disagrees, it is an imperfect world. To deal with it, this program or not—Mr. Victor's man might abstain, or else, more active in his beliefs, fight for an end to Communist programs, cut off trade with all nations which have Communist governments, resume full-out nuclear testing, or else, to our spheres, fill the heavens with orbiting weapons of mass destruction. And then what? The program? The program? The program?—I have tried to avoid leaders of both major parties. In promoting the legislation that I don't support, even though I don't like many aspects of this program, I find it difficult to buy the logical alternative. As for Mr. Williams, I rec-

Writer Urges Response Of Voters In Nov. 5 Election

Editor, Times-News:

The Senate race in Idaho is one of the biggest and most important this season.

If you believe in the Republican principles, then vote for George Hansen and Frank Church, as both human beings, both love Idaho and will fight for the broad basic things the state needs and wants.

But the choice is not one of men, but of ideals, for serving Idaho is only part of their job. They also make the laws for our nation.

It's on the matter of fundamental ideals and principles that they differ vastly.

George Hansen's fundamental ideals and principles are basically those of the Republican Party:

1. A limited government, as close and responsive to the people as possible.
2. A faith in the American Constitutional, free market system.
3. The private property concept of ownership.
4. Individual responsibilities and rights.

Rep. Hansen's opponent's principles differ and are basically those of his Democratic Party:

1. A strong centralized government with its control deep and over every state and community.
2. Government control, or some type of regulation, of most major methods of production.
3. The conviction that the government can do, in most cases, everything better.

I am not saying the Hansen-Republican or the Church-Democratic ideal is better, or which is good or bad; only that each voter should have a not of basic

Boise Writer Tells Support For Sen. Church

Editor, Times-News:

For the past twenty years he has worked for Idaho's voluntary health field, first as a volunteer and then as paid staff. At the present time I represent the largest agency in the states of Montana, Utah, Nevada, Wyoming, Colorado and Idaho.

I have never known any public official with a greater compassion and willingness to help the handicapped than the senior U.S. Senator from Idaho, Frank Church. Sen. Church has been most willing at all times to assist in aiding these handicapped persons find employment and assist them in their education.

I also became involved with Senator Church in employment of the handicapped as a member of the Governor's Committee on Employment of the Handicapped here in Idaho.

As an independent, I feel that I would not be honest and dedicated to my work unless I supported this great public servant—Frank Church.

Woman Urges Approval Of Amendment Bill

Editor, Times-News:

The League of Women Voters of Twin Falls strongly urges the voters to pass SJR 3, one of the amendments on the November ballot. After a seven-year study of the Idaho Constitution, the League of Women Voters of Idaho is convinced that our constitution should be amended to become an effective and up-to-date document.

SJR 3, if approved by the voters, would provide the necessary machinery whereby such changes can be made.

SJR 3 changes the amending process within the constitution to allow the Constitutional Revision Commission (a commission of 15 members provided for by the 1905 Legislature) to submit amendments to the Legislature and then to the people. The amendments may include, as one question, any or all subjects contained within any one article of the constitution and related subjects within any other articles of the constitution.

Passage of this amendment would provide an effective means of careful and systematic revision of our constitution. We urge a "yes" on SJR 3.

Forum Rules

Forum letters must be concerned with topics of general interest and must be of a reasonable length.

The editors of the Times-News reserve the right to refuse publication if, in their opinion, the subject matter is of a libelous nature, is not in good taste or is repetitious and has previously been thoroughly covered in the forum.

All letters must bear the signature and address of the writer. The name of the writer will appear in published unless there is a personal request that it be withheld and the reason for such a request stated. This request will then be considered by the editors and it will either be granted or the letter will be returned to the writer.

Man Critical Of Wallace's Past Record On Law

Editor, Times-News:

Mr. George Wallace's past record in support of law and order affords no encouragement for me to give him my vote. For example, he has maintained the spirit and purpose of Alabama's election laws. After having served as governor as long as state officials in this country, he has the true intent and purpose of the law by retaining political and governing power in his own hands.

In a large advertisement in last week's Times-News, the Republican Leader's Committee should be commended for rejecting charges that Church is "soft on communism," "inflation," "farm problems," "corruption," and for recognizing that on such control and water conservation the candidates have the same views. They continue, however, to state that Wallace is "too valiantly to cut reckless spending" which I have to seriously question whether he can be trusted to uphold and enforce law and order impartially on the national level.

Furthermore, Mr. Wallace certainly was less enthusiastic and forthright in enforcing the law in the largest segregated schools and education. Also during his term of office as governor, law was used in his own state as a weapon and a means of harassment to intimidate those seeking justice and redress of grievances without a record of reprimand from the courts.

Mr. Wallace's past deeds and attitudes do not give with his professed concern for genuine law and order. So, I have no inclination to trust the executive power of a great nation to one whose record of law and order can be so seriously questioned.

Support Of UNICEF Urged By Resident

Editor, Times-News:

Once again anti-UN forces, including a well-known society, are arousing opposition to UNICEF in an effort to discourage participation in the yearly Halloween Trick or Treat Program and to persuade people to withhold their gifts, among the arguments used is to claim that UNICEF is communistic.

The truth is that UNICEF is a non-profit agency whose policies are determined by a thirty-nation executive board, and which is designed for benefiting children in the fields of education, health, nutrition and social and family services in 88 developing countries and territories. UNICEF, while located in the United States, is not supported by the UN budget, but by voluntary contributions from governments and individuals. If such international cooperation and service can be labeled communistic, then someone's understanding of communism is most certainly in error.

I hope that the citizens of Magic Valley will be sane and sane enough not to be misled by questionable arguments. Their father will allow the Christian spirit of service and love to motivate generous support.

T.F. Woman Has Easy Solution To Math Quiz

Editor, Times-News:

A recent issue of Times-News published a problem in "New Math" as follows:

A hunter brought back squirrels and pheasants. He had 27 heads and 78 feet. How many squirrels and how many pheasants did he have?

Times-News solved the problem with the algebraic equation, then commented, "easy, eh?!"

Let us try a little mental arithmetic on this.

Each of the 27 heads brought back had at least two feet. This accumulates for 54 feet. Each of the squirrels is short (I suppose you could say in the red) feet. Subtract 54 from the total 78 feet leaves 24 extra feet to be distributed at the rate of two to each squirrel, equals 12 squirrels, with their full quota of four feet. Subtract 12 squirrels from the 27 heads equals 15 pheasants.

Easy, isn't it?

Recent Article In Forum Draws Writer's Scorn

Editor, Times-News:

In noting the article in the public forum Sunday, Oct. 20 I felt the attack by Mr. Paul McCarthy on John Jordan and Senator Church was unwarranted.

Senator Frank Church with Senator Len Jordan are a team who have established a precedent in protecting Idaho's water and conservation, etc. Both senators have worked effectively against restrictive gun controls.

In seeking out Communists McCarthy is a fool. Senator Victor is again looking for non-existing mold under soft rocks.

Why not keep religion and the John Birch philosophy out of Idaho politics?

Writer Expresses Support For Sen. Frank Church

Editor, Times-News:

I wish to express my support for one of the finest men Idaho has ever elected to public office, Senator Frank Church.

Elmo Roper, in a recent article in your paper, in support of the States Senate, lists Frank Church alongside Everett Dirksen and others from both parties who have served our country in the Senate of 1968.

His opponents use against him the argument that he has received support from citizens and organizations outside of Idaho. I think we ought to be proud, rather than ashamed, that our senator has achieved national recognition. While Church has worked hard for our state in conservation of water and other resources, he has had the broadest support from Idaho and also issues that affect our nation and the future of our world. As a life-long citizen of Idaho, I take great pride in having a senator of such stature.

As we approach the time of decision regarding the return of Frank Church to the Senate, many of us concerned who are opposed by a man who receives strong support from the American Independent Party, I think we ought to be proud, rather than ashamed, that our senator has achieved national recognition. While Church has worked hard for our state in conservation of water and other resources, he has had the broadest support from Idaho and also issues that affect our nation and the future of our world. As a life-long citizen of Idaho, I take great pride in having a senator of such stature.

Separation Of Church And State Urged In T.F. Letter

Editor, Times-News:

The "ADA philosophy and I can find no difference between this and the communist plan for America." The Georgia governor referred to the Americans for Democratic Action, of which Vice President Hubert Humphrey was the founder.

Please note that Sen. Church is the only member of Congress from Idaho who has a high rating by the ADA and a low rating by the ACA.

It only stands to reason that a politician must do so much good for his state or he will not be re-elected. But, why build up a state and tear down a country?

In the April, 1968, issue the ratings are as follows — Sen. Church, 11 per cent; Sen. Jordan, 88 per cent; Rep. McClure, 100 per cent, and Rep. Hansen, 91 per cent.

The ADA evaluates votes in terms of what it considers to be liberal policies. Their ratings are as follows: Sen. Church, 86 per cent; Sen. Jordan, 8 per cent; Rep. McClure, 13 per cent, and Rep. Hansen, 1 per cent.

The Aug. 13, 1968, edition of the Idaho Daily Statesman printed an article in which Gov. Madole of Georgia gave his opinion of the Democratic presidential candidate.

The following is a quote from that article: "He described their philosophy as being the same as

Man Hopes Sen. Church Will Be Former Senator

Editor, Times-News:

One of Senator Church's billboard signs reads "There are 24 counties in Idaho. Senator Church has visited each one and listened to the people."

From official Senate records of remarks made on the Senate floor by Senator Church: "What do we say to these people? Is it possible to reason with their fanaticism? I have tried to answer their favored questions at open meetings in the court houses of my state. But I have not reached through to them." In this same Senate speech he stated, "I wish that uneducated people can never be persuaded. Their minds are closed. But pity the country that permits such misguided zealots to steer its course."

Are these words those of a Senator who is supposed, at least to some degree, to represent the people as a whole, are they words of an omniscient, self-assuring, all-wise individual who makes a sham of the people to whom he is supposed to be publicly drawn them for holding a majority view opposite of his?

When Senator Church becomes an ex-senator and have time thereafter to reflect honestly upon whether the people of this country will do control their present and future destiny, I hope power to discontinue the services of one who hears but does not heed the voice of his people.

Added Support For Church Is In Short Letter

Editor, Times-News:

I am very curious to find out just what Sen. Hansen has done in Washington, D.C. He never refers to his legislative accomplishments, but seems to delight in ridiculing Sen. Church and his record, even to the point of distortion of fact: a polite way of saying he lies often.

He has misled many of his supporters on the issues at hand so they have been embarrassed after having written letters to the editors, quoting him. Is there any wonder one sees so many "Republican For Church" bumper strips all over the state?

MRS. C. J. HENDRICKS

Realtor In T.F. Supports Hansen, Opposes Church

Editor, Times-News:

Being just a "country boy" I had never had a personal interview with a U.S. Senator and just him and me in the room, along with his secretary (their life in most cases?).

Fellow Idahoans, here was Sen. Church's answer... He pointed his finger at me... and he said with all vigor, "You, sir, are an agent of the state!"

When I told a local attorney this fact a few days ago, his reply was, "I just didn't realize that Frank Church was thinking that that socialist..."

I had the opportunity to commend George Hansen for the tremendous stand that he and Jim McClure took on the forced housing and as representing the thinking of Idahoans... and his reply was, "Yes, principles that made this great country and this great state what they are."

I don't know how anyone can vote disapproval with the present administration and then vote for Frank Church. George Hansen is an Idahoan... he thinks like a Republican and he votes like an Idahoan.

Hansen's Record Is Blasted By Burley Woman

Editor, Times-News:

What's all this I've heard about George Hansen's record of watching out for Idaho's interests in the House of Representatives?

The "Congressional Quarterly" has noted that Rep. Hansen's record for answering roll calls in the House this year was only 35 per cent.

It is worse than any other Republican Congressman's record.

George has apparently forgotten that we elected him to represent us. This year has been a very vital one, both to Idaho and to the Nation. Our water has been threatened, we are at war in Vietnam, and our right to own firearms has been threatened.

All this wouldn't be so bad if it were not for the fact that his campaign, which he has been doing for the last four years, and which as I see it, has not benefited the people of Idaho. On the other hand, Sen. Church has done much for the State of Idaho and the nation. His excellent record speaks for him. I hope, come Nov. 5th, the voters of Idaho return the deserving man, Sen. Church, to the Senate by a majority.

MARY E. BUTLER

Large Majority Vote Is Urged

Editor, Times-News:

I have been reading the Public Forum for the past few weeks and I am amazed at the attacks on Sen. Frank Church by the so-called "super-patriots." All the praise they heap on Rep. George Hansen, as they strive to find a valid issue to support their man.

Rep. Hansen's record is one of compromise; which he has been doing for the last four years, and which as I see it, has not benefited the people of Idaho. On the other hand, Sen. Church has done much for the State of Idaho and the nation. His excellent record speaks for him. I hope, come Nov. 5th, the voters of Idaho return the deserving man, Sen. Church, to the Senate by a majority.

Regional Officer Speaks To Burley Soroptimists

BURLEY — Mrs. Percy Greene, Twin Falls, Rocky Mountain Regional Classification and Membership chairman, was guest speaker during the Wednesday luncheon meeting of the Burley Soroptimist Club at Bryan's Cafe.

Mrs. Greene spoke on "What It Means to be a Soroptimist." She stressed regular club attendance, full support by each member on community projects selected by the club. In turn members gain self development by working together and lasting friendships, she noted.

Veterans Day Dinner Set At Shoshone

SHOSHONE — The annual Veterans day dinner will be held on Monday evening, Nov. 11, according to decision by members at a meeting held at the Legion Hall.

Flags for the cemetery and Shoshone park have been ordered and the group gave an option on the Legion's three lots in Shoshone for possible erection of a new post office building.

Roger Kelley has resigned as adjutant. Commander Robert Lewin will name a replacement for Kelley in the near future.

The flags ordered are for the new flag pole at the cemetery, erected by the cemetery board, and ordered for Shoshone city park by the Rotary club. The Legion will be reimbursed for the flags.

Postmaster Ellwood Werry states the postal department wanted the option, plus an option on the adjoining lot that is owned by Dr. Marion Kingers. Gooding, for a possible new post office building.

A plot of 14,000 square feet is needed for the proposed building. The postoffice department will turn the options to the best bidder on a new building. If built, the structure would be completed by the middle of 1969.

A breakdown of the cost of construction and erection of the score board at the baseball field was given, with total cost of $2,000 listed. A large part of the amount was donated by the city and Shoshone organizations.

Alan Crothers, Carl Pendleton and Thomas Alexander, who were boys' State delegates reported.

DECA Unit Meets With Firm Leaders

As a part of a three-stage training session, national officers of the Distributive Education Clubs of America (DECA) recently met with top executives of the J. J. Newberry Co. at the company's New York headquarters.

Newberry, a 57-year-old chain of more than 600 stores in the variety, department and specialty store and food fields, sponsored a luncheon for the DECA officers and youths in the program and made facilities available for DECA meetings.

DECA, now in its 22nd year of operation, is the only youth organization operating in the nation's schools seeking to attract young people to careers in marketing and distribution. DECA has initiated a program of annual cadet training sessions to develop greater understanding and appreciation of leadership, to improve internal communications within the organization and to plan for the year ahead.

DECA Club has been active at the College of Southern Idaho the past three years. Twin Falls also has a Newberry store in the downtown area. Newberry's special interest in DECA stems from the fact that, (er, vice president, personnel) Daryl L. Mills, senior vice were DECA members during president, and Lewis F. LeMas—their high school days.

Legislative Survey Awaits Action By Lawmakers

mlttee could be set up at the Twin Falls Times-News 13
Dec. 5 organizing session and could have its recommendations ready for the regular session beginning Jan. 6. Sunday, October 27, 1968

By EARLE L. JESTER
BOISE (AP) — More efficient lawmaking is the objective of a committee created by the 1967 legislature which has made public the results of its year-long study of the legislature.

Whether the objective is achieved likely will depend on how well the committee's report is presented to the lawmakers who are elected in the Nov. 5 general election.

The resolution which created the Citizens Committee on the State Legislature did not say how it should present its report. It simply told the group to study the legislature and to recommend such changes as will result in a greater saving of time or money or in other improvements.

The committee, in a preface to its report, said that although it was not specifically instructed to do so, it assumed duties of its members included a "constant search to achieve implementation of their recommendations" by the next legislature.

R. V. Hansberger, Boise industrialist who was chairman of the committee, has urged that the group's work not end with the preparation of the report. The legislature creating it set no cutoff date for the committee.

Hansberger has asked the committee's staff director, Robert D. Barbour Jr., of Boise, to continue to serve through the 1969 legislature's regular session and Barbour said funds are available for that.

Barbour said the emphasis now is on getting the report in the hands of as many interested persons as possible.

Copies have been mailed to all members of the legislature and to state department heads. They are being mailed to all legislative candidates.

In addition, Barbour said copies will be sent to all organizations and individuals interested and he asked anyone wishing a copy to write the committee at the Capitol in Boise.

The 46-page report of the committee's studies included not only recommendations on the makeup of the legislature and the pay of lawmakers, but also suggestions on technical improvements in the lawmaking process.

One of the recommendations in the latter category is for the use of a "consent calendar."

At each session, the report said, "many non-controversial bills are passed unanimously. The individual reading and voting on each one is time consuming."

For such bills, the committee proposed a simplified procedure. It could be used only for a bill which did not involve revenue, was sent to the legislative floor by unanimous vote of the committee considering it and for which no amendments were offered.

Under such circumstances the bill would be listed on the consent calendar for two successive days. During that time any member could ask for removal of any bill on the calendar and such a request would require the committee to go through regular procedure.

Bills remaining on the calendar on the third day would all be passed by a single roll call and without debate.

Lt. Gov. Jack Murphy, the Senate's presiding officer and a long-time state legislator, said such a plan "has real merit."

He said he believes it can be made effective by simply changing legislative rules and without amending the constitutional requirement that a bill be read on three successive days before final passage. The listing of the bill on the calendar for three days could mean technical compliance with that requirement, he said.

Murphy said he was pleased, too, at the committee's recommendation on handling of appropriation bills. At present, all such measures go directly to the Joint Finance - Appropriations Committee after their introduction.

The citizens committee proposed that the bills go first to the committee concerned with the department or institution covered by the appropriation. After being considered there, the bills would go to the Finance - Appropriations Committee, which would prepare a single measure covering all appropriations.

The present procedure, the committee said, represents "a piecemeal approach to building a total state budget." The course it recommends, the committee added, would permit the legislature to "study the budget in its entirety."

Murphy said "he first recommended such procedure in 1964 and an attempt was made in the 1955 legislature to use it to some degree. Murphy said he believes the approach suggested by the citizens committee could prove to be a satisfactory one.

Murphy said he is hopeful much of the recommended program could be adopted by the 1969 legislature. He said a com-

Some recommendations involve constitutional changes and these, of course, would have to await approval by the people at the 1970 general election.

Theisen Motors Refuses to Raise Prices on '69 Mercs

Emmett Harrison revealed today that it is, indeed, true that Theisen Motors, Inc., is determined to hold the line on price increases on the 1969 Mercury. "We're adding another year to our motto, 'the easiest place in the world to buy a car,' and that is 'Hold the line in '69'. We always go out of our way to put ourselves in our customers shoes [we've been awarded Lincoln-Mercury's 'Silver Shoes' award for six years running], and this is just another of the ways we have of making Mercury Magic Valley's most loved automobile."

"It's easier than ever to buy a Mercury at Theisen Motors now. Magic Valley car shoppers who would be considering a close-out '68 model can now buy a brand new 1969 Mercury Cougar, the high-performance Cyclone, the economical yet luxurious Marquis, the big new '69 Monterey, at '68 prices! Many who would like a new car now but are hesitating because of all the talk about higher new car prices can load the way in a winning Mercury at last year's low prices! They don't have to settle for less than the best, they can choose the Mercury that's right for them, with new standard appointments and features, and drive it away at '68 prices. And remember, we have low local bank rate financing, too!"

Office assistant Sharon Tausley is shown at right pointing out the dual-window stickers that are now appearing on every new car at Theisen Motors, showing comparative 1968-'69 prices on models, engines, transmissions, radios, two-tone paint, air conditioning . . . any and all equipment, special appointments and options for each individual model. The totals will be the same on both stickers . . . the 1968

Public Invited to Visit Theisen's Showroom and Check Sticker Prices

Every fabulous new 1969 Mercury automobile, in Theisen's big showroom and lined up in front of the dealership, will carry two window stickers . . . standard price stickers from Lincoln-Mercury's showing model, engine, transmission, extras and the cost of each item. One sticker will show the 1969 price for each item, one sticker will show 1968 prices. Both stickers will show the same Customer Price, regardless of the total, meaning great savings to you! Come down and prove it for yourself!

Black Panther Leader Admits Group Contemplates Racial 'Warfare'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Black Panther leader Huey P. Newton predicts that his movement will achieve sufficient power to "oppose the whole institution outline and even go to war if necessary."

He predicted that the organization would have two million members within the next two years.

Newton said the Black Panther movement was spreading throughout the country.

Newton is a cofounder and carried the title of minister of defense in the militant Black Panther group.

The interview was recorded Aug. 12 in a cell of the Alameda County Jail, during Newton's trial on a murder charge in the slaying of an Oakland, Calif., policeman. Convicted on a manslaughter charge, Newton was sentenced to a prison term of 2 to 15 years.

Newton's lawyer, Charles Garry, was present during the interview conducted by Jerome Skolnick of the violence commission staff.

Newton said he viewed the trial as "a springboard that mobilizes the community." And the outcome, he said, "is less important to me than the other things . . . how the community is responding and what is accomplished out of it."

Newton said the Black Panther movement was spreading throughout the country.

HAVE SOMETHING NEW YOU CAN NEVER WEAR OUT THAT TOOK MILLIONS OF YEARS TO MAKE — A DIAMOND.

A piece of diamond jewelry says something about its wearer. If the jewelry is beautiful and in good taste, what it says is good. A ring, watch, brooch, bracelet — doesn't make much difference. But if it's a diamond and beautiful it attaches an air of romance and importance to a woman.

If it's a ring — on a man — and it's in good taste and beautiful, same thing. It says something of success, and of a nature concerned with beauty.

A person who loves something beautiful doesn't have to wear a diamond long before it becomes an important sentimental object — one not to be got along without. Hence a source of great pleasure.

A good piece of diamond jewelry is an extension of personality. Nothing on earth so successfully sublimates beauty into small compass — as a diamond. Perhaps the millions of pounds of pressure — concentrated symbolically much of earth's beauty into a carat or so.

For in the diamond is the purity that makes it the symbol of innocence. And in its fire and colors, its ability to give back to the world outside the light turned upon it — is warmth and response, friendship and fellowship.

You can tell we like diamonds. We couldn't keep an liking them if the people to whom we sell them didn't return to us again and again to express their delight with their purchases.

The only reason for not having at least one beautiful piece of diamond jewelry in the lovely fresh styles of today is — "can't afford it." If YOU can, don't wait. After you buy, you're sure to say, "I wish I had done this a long time ago." So come see us. Let's talk about it.

George Hansen says "Check the Record" . . . so Idaho's oldest and largest Republican newspaper did. Here, from the editorial pages of the Idaho Statesman, is the factual rebuttal to George Hansen's entire campaign against Frank Church.

THE IDAHO DAILY STATESMAN

PAGE 4A FRIDAY, OCTOBER 18, 1968

Attacks on Church Require Scrutiny

Supporters of George Hansen are going to great lengths to attack Sen. Frank Church and his record. Some of the congressmen's backers are developing a "credibility gap."

Congressman Hansen himself has been guilty of some distortions of the record. Rather than disagreeing with Senator Church squarely on the issues he bows to temptations to twist the facts.

Clude Matheson, campaign chairman for Congressman Hansen has sent out letters to party regulars urging them to write letters to the editor supporting Hansen. He has also sent out sample letters with ammunition to use against Church.

"This isn't an uncommon practice in an election year. But some of the tactics that are showing up in anti-Church letters bear scrutiny."

The Statesman has received a rash of letters saying Senator Church has accepted campaign contributions for his current campaign from two organizations concerned about nuclear war, SANE and the Council for a Liveable World. He is also attacked for accepting contributions solicited by author Archibald MacLeish. A circular put out by Dr. James R. Kircher of Burley and Wally Burns of Idaho Falls offers "documented records of the attempt to control Idaho's votes this November."

SANE and the Council for a Liveable World are at the top of a list of groups that say have contributed to Church's 1968 campaign.

The trouble is, they didn't. Carl Burke of Boise, Senator Church's campaign manager, says neither SANE nor the Council for a Liveable World have contributed to Church's campaign.

"This is a matter of record with the secretary of the U.S. Senate to whom all organizations must report their political contributions," says Burke. "Mr. MacLeish wrote a letter to friends asking for support of Senator Church and we have received contributions in Idaho and elsewhere from individuals who responded directly to me. One thing is clear. Senator Church has widespread support and never bargained a vote for a political contribution nor will he do that. We are grateful for the thousands of contributions received from individuals. He has support from persons of all spectrums of society."

Why didn't the Hansen backers check their facts with the secretary of the Senate? Perhaps the truth is too bothersome when you are resorting to a smear campaign.

Church is also faulted for accepting support from the Committee for an Effective Congress, a bipartisan group that has supported such Republicans as Sen. Hugh Scott of Pennsylvania and Sen. Thurston Morton of Kentucky, both former GOP national chairmen.

Dr. Kircher wrote a letter to The Statesman a few weeks ago saying Church had voted only 53 per cent of time in the Senate and Hansen 70.3 per cent in the House. Those figures were not voting percentages for the two men but percentages of votes they received in their last election.

The error was corrected, not by the Hansen people, but by a letter from a Church supporter.

Now the Hansen supporters have come up with what is apparently a more accurate set of figures showing voting records for 1965 through 1967. Congressman Hansen comes out better.

Congressman Hansen, however, had the poorest record of answering roll calls of any House Republican in 1967. On September 30, according to the Congressional Quarterly — 35 per cent. Senator Church, who, like Hansen, has been campaigning in Idaho since the time of the 1964 per cent record. Mr. Hansen's supporters should look for another issue.

Hansen literature says Church voted for an open housing bill with "limited firearms regulations." Those regulations apply to firearms and explosives used in civil disorders. Idahoans who don't plan to set off a molotov cocktail in a riot can rest easy.

The Hansen literature notes Church's absence on the Omnibus Crime Bill. Church supported anti-crime provisions of the bill but opposed a ban on mail order sale of handguns. If Church supporters want to resort to Hansen tactics they could accuse the congressman of voting for firearms regulations.

Hansen's literature tries to give the impression that Senator Church has not supported U.S. defenses and that he favors unilateral disarmament. It omits mention of the fact that he has voted for $58 billion in regular defense appropriations, in addition to supplemental appropriations.

When the Senate and House voted last week on the conference report on firearms legislation Congressman Hansen accused Senator Church of being absent on the "showdown" vote on the issue. The real showdown came some weeks ago and Church was present and voting. Adoption of the conference report, reconciling differences between Senate and House versions of the legislation, was a foregone conclusion. Senate approval was by voice vote.

A few weeks ago Congressman Hansen, trying to win votes from Church's support in the nuclear non-proliferation treaty, said the treaty would cut U.S. defenses. It wouldn't. It is designed to prevent the spread of nuclear weapons to nations that don't have them and reduce chances of nuclear war. Earlier Hansen had repeatedly accused Senator Church of favoring a complete bombing halt in North Vietnam — a position the senator had not taken.

When he entered the campaign Congressman Hansen counted on Senator Church's criticism of U.S. policy in Vietnam as a winning issue. Since that time, however, U.S. escalation of the war has stopped, talks have started in Paris and there has been growing recognition that Senator Church was right in much of what he said.

The 1968 Republican platform calls for de-Americanization of the war and advises against future U.S. unilateral involvement in wars like Vietnam.

Congressman Hansen and his backers still try to use Church's views on the war as an issue. But at the same time Hansen says he opposed sending U.S. troops in large numbers to Vietnam in 1965 and he objects to being called a hawk.

Idaho's most vital resources are its land and water. Congress, in the next few years, will probably consider extensive changes in public land laws. It will consider the 400,000-acre Shoshone Idaho Development Project. The Middle Snake River dam controversy may come before the Congress.

Senator Church, with 11 years on the Senate Interior Committee, is in a strong strategic position to continue to work for Idaho interests. Idaho's position in the Senate would be weakened if he is defeated.

Congressman Hansen says Church should be defeated for supporting many Great Society programs. But most of those programs would not have continued this year without Republican votes. It seems very likely that the Democratic administration will be replaced in November by a Republican administration. The fate of Great Society programs does not depend on the Senate election in Idaho.

This, plus the fact that Senator Church is an able and highly respected senator, makes Congressman Hansen's tactics difficult. But it won't help his cause if his supporters resort to smear attacks or if he resorts to petty distortions of the facts.

OGDEN (AP)— Sugar beet growers in southwestern Idaho and eastern Oregon have been paid $2.7 million as the final portion of payment by the Amalgamated Sugar Co. for last year's crop. Amalgamated said the value of the crop totaled $9.8 million, or an average of $14.44 per ton of beets. Amalgamated said its net return for sugar was an all-time high for the 1967 crop as a result of a firm sugar market.

The Board of Education would be able to search for the best possible man for the position. No such appointment, however, will be made until 1971 when the present superintendent's term expires. This amendment has considerable support from the educators of the state, including the present Superintendent of Public Instruction. This would shorten the election ballot, and would remove this official from direct choice of the voters.

ASSOCIATION ELECTS BOISE (AP)— Alvin Joslyn of Glenns Ferry, Ralph Carpenter of Boise and Dr. William H. Cone of Lewiston, have been elected directors of the Idaho Health Association.

Co-Chairmen Appointed To Campaign

Lawrence Knigge and Ralph Olmstead were named this week as Twin Falls County co-chairmen of the Farmers-Ranchers Committee for George Hansen, John Breckenridge, Twin Falls, state chairman, announced the appointments.
 "The two were selected at a recent meeting in Burley. Those attending were urged to carry on the fight locally for better ranches and farms by informing the people in their area to cast their votes for George Hansen, GOP candidate for the United States Senate.
 Mr. Knigge and Mr. Olmstead said George Hansen can speak the language of agriculture. He knows and is interested in the problems particular to Idaho farming and ranching. He has opposed the present farm program, which is responsible for high production costs and low farm income, they said.
 "It is time for a new approach to the farm legislation and this change can begin with the election of George Hansen to the U.S. Senate. He offers constructive alternatives to our present disastrous farm programs and his voice in the Senate will add strength to those who are attempting to return common sense and order to our federal government," the chairman said.

Church Endorses Farm Bargaining

IDAHO FALLS (AP) — Sen. Frank Church, D-Idaho, told Idaho members of the National Farmers Organization Saturday he favors collective bargaining for sale of agricultural products.
 Church was one of the principle speakers at the NFO's state convention in Idaho Falls.
 He told about 500 NFO members the national economy "has been traveling at a record-breaking speed. The economy is expanding and employment is high but some elements of our population, particularly farmers, have not benefited by the general prosperity.
 Church said federal farm programs formulated during the 1930s have not worked adequately and the old doctrine of a free market for farm products must be examined.
 "The farmer has no bargaining power at present," he said. "Something must be done by way of legislative action to replace the present program."

Twin Falls County Probate Court Is A Very Busy Place

Panel Shuns Utility Tax Suggestions

BOISE (AP) — The Legislature's interim tax study committee today decided not to recommend any changes in utility tax exemptions for Idaho's irrigators and industries.

WENDELL — Republican Headquarters opened this week at 68 South Idaho, (next to the office of Justice of the Peace) and will be open to the public from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. until after the election Nov. 5.

Wall Street Loses Ground As Bomb Halt Chance Dims

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market lost some ground the past week as cold water was dashed over Wall Street's previous hopes that definite moves toward peace were in the offing.

PROBATE COURT JUDGE Richard Reed is seen here working on a decision, one of many he is required to hand down during a working day in the Twin Falls County Judicial Building.

Candidacy Of Judge Thomas Gets Non-Partisan Support

The chairman of the committee supporting District Judge Boyd R. Thomas of Twin Falls for the Idaho Supreme Court has noted that a proposal by a non-partisan committee in Idaho is favorable to Judge Thomas.

Nearly five times as much property is now exempt from property taxes because it is used for irrigation as was exempt when the law was passed, he said.

Max Yost, executive manager of the Associated Taxpayers of Idaho, said exemptions of power and power company property used for irrigation pumping show what exemptions in a tax structure can do.

Justice Court also contains the small claims court. Then there is the Probate Court.

From those three courts there is a jump to the District Court where all major civil and criminal cases are heard.

After the District Court comes the Idaho Supreme Court, the final judicial authority in Idaho.

On the federal side, there is a U. S. Commissioner, then the Federal District Court in Boise. From there, a case goes to a Circuit Court of Appeals, and then to the U. S. Supreme Court.

The court system in America is nothing more than a chain of command, beginning with a smaller court and ending with the highest court in the nation.

The Probate Court in Idaho is one of the busiest of all those courts.

On Friday, however, the market again perked up on another rash of reports that either something definite might develop this weekend. As any sign of peace has been interpreted very differently by different investors, bought stock just to be on the safe side.

Friday's moderate rise however, was far from strong enough to compensate for previous losses, and the week was a losing one for stocks.

The Dow Jones Industrial average fell $21 to 961.28 the past week. Volume was 80,532,700 shares compared with 61,596,288 the previous week.

Of 1,706 issues traded the past week, 912 declined, and 772 advanced. New highs for the year totaled 250 and new lows 23.

The Associated Press averages of 60 stocks the past week fell 2.9 to 335.7.

The Thursday volume, as usual after a Wednesday closing, was the biggest of the week, totaling 8.3 million shares. The five most active issues the past week on the New York Stock Exchange were:

Bristol-Myers, off 8% at 67 1/2 on 800,700 shares; Occidental Petroleum, off 1/2 at 45; Gulf and Western, up 2 1/2 at 51 1/2; Brunswick, up 1 1/2 at 20 1/2; and Imperial Corp. of America, off 7/8 at 16.

Best bond prices turned fractionally lower in the wake of President Johnson's statement Thursday there was still "no breakthrough" in the Vietnam conflict talks.

Short-term and intermediate government bonds were lower in most sessions.

Corporate bond prices were little changed on average. Municipal bond prices were unchanged to slightly lower.

U.S. Swimmers Retain Domination Of Olympics, Claim 3 Gold Medals

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Mike Burton, the long distance swimmer from UCLA, grabbed his second gold medal and two more relay teams won Saturday night in another dazzling display of U.S. pool power that wrapped up a record-smashing performance in the Olympics.

The victories of Burton, the men's 400-meter medley relay team and the women's 400-meter freestyle quartet gave the United States 23 gold medals in 33 swimming and diving events.

The only pool event an American did not win on the final night of the Games was the men's platform diving which went to Klaus Dibiasi for Italy's first gold medal ever in swimming and diving.

All told, U.S. swimmers amassed 58 of a possible 69 medals, which is more than half the U.S. grand total for the Games. In 1964, swimmers won 16 golds and 37 medals of 90 the U.S. won over-all. Of course, those Games have 10 swimming events that weren't on the program four years ago.

With only the boxing finals to go on Saturday night's program, Americans had won 43 gold medals, 27 silver and 24 bronze for a Games-leading total of 104.

Burton, who already had won the 400-meter freestyle race, stroked to an easy victory in the 1,500-meter freestyle in Olympic record time of 16:38.9.

Charles Hickcox of Phoenix gained his third gold as the first man on the 400-meter medley relay team that set a world record of 3:54.9. Don McKenzie of Woodland Hills, Calif., Doug Rust of Midland, Texas, and Ken Walsh of Ponte Vedra, Fla., each picked up a second gold.

Two members of the girls' 400-meter freestyle team, Sue Pedersen of Sacramento, Calif., and Jan Henne of Oakland, each got her second gold and fourth medal over-all as the quartet won in 4:02.5, also a Games record.

Jane Barkman of Wayne, Pa., and Linda Gustavson of Santa Cruz, Calif., completed the squad, Jane taking her second medal and Linda her third.

A capacity crowd of 10,000 including Mexican President Gustavo Diaz Ordaz, watched Burton swim to an easy victory in the 1,500.

His time of 16:38.9 was well off his world record of 16:08.5, but it was way under the Olympic mark of 17:01.7 as he won by 30 meters.

John Kinsella, a high school junior from Oak Brook, Ill., was second in 16:57.3 and Australia's Gregory Brough came in 15 meters behind him in 17:04.7.

The U.S. medley quartet clipped 6 seconds off the world record of 3:56.5 held by the East German team that pressed them throughout the race.

But Hickcox in the backstroke, McKenzie in the breaststroke, and Burton in the butterfly and Walsh in the freestyle held off the Germans, sparked by twin gold medalist Roland Matthes and won by 3 1/2 meters.

It was a high powered squad Coach George Haines sent against the field.

Hickcox already had won gold in the 200 and 400-meter medleys and a silver in the 100-meter backstroke. McKenzie had a gold in the 100-meter breaststroke and Russell a gold in the 100-meter butterfly. Walsh owned a silver from the 100-meter freestyle and a gold from the 400-meter freestyle relay.

Matthes broke his own 100-meter backstroke world record as he led Hickcox through the first 100 meters in 33.0.

The record performance gave the powerful U.S. swimmers a total of 23 Olympic records, 10 new events, and five world marks during the 10 days of competition.

The girls won by five meters, eclipsing the Olympic mark of 4:03.8 by 1.3 seconds.

Miss Barkman gave the Americans a half meter lead over East Germany at the 100-meter mark, and they never were headed. Miss Gustavson lengthened the advantage to two meters and Miss Pedersen, at 18 the baby of the swim team, increased the lead to three meters.

Miss Henne then took over and shot away from the East Germans, who finished second, Canada was third.

Dibiasi, who also won the silver medal in 6-meter springboard diving, went into the final three dives with nearly a five-point lead and doubled his margin for the victory.

Electrifying performances on all three dives gave him a total of 164.18 points to 154.49 for Alvaro Castelan of Mexico and 153.93 for Win Young of Indiana University.

Keith Russell of Arizona State University started the day in third place, but Young overtook him and Russell had to settle for fourth with 152.34.

Russell, last of the 12 finalists on the tower, had to delay his final dive for about three minutes while the crowd roared because the judges, whom they felt gave Gaviolek too low a score on his last dive.

THE TIMES-NEWS

Oregon State Outlasts WSU By 16-8

PULLMAN, Wash. (AP) — Oregon State combined the passing of quarterback Steve Proece and the pull-like rushes of 236-pound fullback Bill Enyart to post a 16-8 Pacific-8 Conference football victory over Washington State Saturday.

Proece threw for one touchdown and kept the WSU with end sweeps and handoffs to Enyart, the Beavers' powerful fullback.

Enyart, a 6-foot-3 1/2 senior from Medford, Ore., personally accounted for the Beavers' second touchdown when he plunged over from the 1-yard line in the third period.

Enyart, known among his teammates as "earthquake," gained 31 yards on the Beavers' 49-yard scoring drive with six minutes gone in the third period.

Oregon State sandwiched a 16-yard field goal by Kent Scott between its first and third period touchdowns.

Washington State got on the scoreboard in the final period after safetyman Gregg Givens intercepted a Beaver pass and returned it to the OSU 20.

Two plays later WSU's Jerry Henderson threw a 17-yard touchdown strike to flanker Larry Thatcher.

ISU Frosh Use Powerful Ground Game To Roll Past Montana Staters By 24-6

A grinding ground attack, paced by Jim Jackson and Gary Crist, carried the Idaho State University frosh team to a 24-6 decision over Montana State's yearlings Saturday night. Jackson picked up 81 yards in 22 tries for one touchdown and Crist got another six points while adding 66 yards in 14 carries.

The young Bengals scored off a blocked punt in the first quarter, the payoff a 12-yard pass from Dan Halt to Bob Blake, Mike Heberlein's pass interception set up Jackson's 12-yard air-tackle scoring rip in the second quarter. The Bengals came down and drive on a penalty in the third period, ISU got two more in the final quarter when Crist went off tackle for 15 yards and with 49 seconds left, Rhett Sherman passed to Bob Morrison for 18 and the final score.

Montana State's only touchdown came on a 47-yard bomb from Jim Bauer to Gary Beller with 3:30 left in the game. Idaho State wound up with 239 yards on the ground while Montana State, running out of a short punt formation with an occasional double wing, managed only 59 net. The Bobcats added 97 by passing against 56 for ISU.

Ras Cattolico blocked Montana State's first try—kicking the ball being up for tackling by Chris Feschigi to grab and run 15 yards to the Bobcat 15. After Jackson got a first down, Matt Flippo passed into the corner where Blake, who played for Twin Falls last fall, gathered it in.

Heberlein's interception, which included a 47-yard run back, set ISU up on the Bobcat 28. The Bengals beat a fourth and long situation when they ran out of punt formation to the Montana State 17 and two plays later Jackson went in from the 12.

ISU's best effort was a march, which included only one completed pass, from the Bengal 17 to the Montana State 14. Jackson saw a seven-yard touchdown run nullified by a penalty and Heberlein's interception, which included a 47-yard run back, set ISU up on the Bobcat 28.

Burley jumped into a 14-0 lead when Manning ran the ball from the 11 to cap an early Bobcat drive, then Tom Shultz tossed from the five several minutes later. Bunn kicked both extra points.

Stautfer unloaded a bomb to Capps, which put the ball inside the five, where Jeff Williams in the end zone. The extra-point attempt was no good when Burley tipped its lead to 21-6 when Duling passed to Kloeppfer. Bunn added the conversion kick.

Just before the first half ended, Stautfer threw a long pass to Capps in the end zone. Thompson kicked the extra-point pulling Jerome within eight.

The third quarter was scoreless, as both teams' defenses held sway. Midway through the first quarter, Borg caught a Stautfer aerial for a touchdown. The extra-point kick was good, and the Tigers trailed by one.

Later in the game, Stautfer attempted a screen which was intercepted by Taylor and his scoring run on the play ended the win for the Bobcats.

Cal Coasts To 43-0 Decision Over Syracuse

BERKELEY, Calif. (AP) — California turned repeated Syracuse mistakes into 27 first half points and went on to stun the 10th-ranked Orangemen 43-0 Saturday.

California, 11th ranked, ran its season record to 5-1, while dealing Syracuse its second defeat in five games and its first shutout in 32, not counting bowl games.

Bear placekicker Ron Miller hoisted field goals of 50, 30 and 37 yards.

UTEP Rallies For Victory Over Cougars

PROVO, Utah (AP) — Reserve quarterback Brooks Dawson took charge with his team 22 points behind early in the third quarter Saturday, and moved University of Texas-E Paso to a stunning 31-25 football victory over Brigham Young.

Dawson entered the Western Athletic Conference contest after starting quarterback Bob Stewart had been thrown for big losses throughout most of the game.

Dawson promptly tossed scoring passes of 20 and 13 yards to flanker Volly Murphy, and 70 yards to halfback Reggie Malinows.

The latter touchdown came with only 2 minutes left in the game.

On the next series, Brigham Young was forced to punt, and Dawson again moved UTEP downfield. Left Willie Plunged for the winning score with just 30 seconds left.

Success Greet Opening Day Pheasant Hunters

Great success was the key word Saturday on the opening of the pheasant season with Magic Valley hunters in an average of 1.6 birds per man. The Minidoka pumpland area, the hotspot for the past several years, came through with a great 2.2 birds per man average.

The success, recorded at Idaho Fish and Game Department checking stations, bore out the prediction of Biologist Charles Blake that the season would be better than last year. The 1967 average was 1.6 birds per man, and a bird per man is considered acceptable. Anything over 1.2 is considered more than satisfactory.

Overall the department counted 1,057 hunters who had 1,653 birds. The checkings stations in Minidoka, Twin Falls, Gooding and Lincoln counties.

It required about two hours of hunting effort for each bird in the bag.

The area north of Paul and Rupert had the fine 2.2 average with the Hunt project second with 1.7 per man. The Gooding station, which drains the North Lincoln and Gooding Counties, had the poorest record with only .64 birds per hunter.

Blake noted there is little doubt that hunting success will drop several points Sunday. "However, it appears that an average of 1.1 to 1.2 birds per man for the opening weekend will be sustained, and this is Wendell was the poorest as recorded above last year's record," he noted.

Fair skies and moderate temperatures assisted hunters.

Idaho center passed the ball over his hunter's head and into the end zone.

Idaho's lone tally came in the second quarter when Bob Juban partially deflected a Washington punt and Brock Jackley caught it on the 11-yard line and crashed through to score.

Otherwise Idaho had little to shout about except for the great defensive work of linebacker Roosevelt Owens. The 210-pound junior had 10 tackles and a fumble recovery for his afternoon's work.

Harvey Blanks scored twice for the winners, once on a run of 62 yards, and Wood caught two touchdowns passes.

Idaho's vaunted passing attack, ranking with the best among the nation's small colleges, fizzled like a firecracker on the sun-light Astroturf.

The game was only three minutes old when Washington halfback Tom Verti set the day's Twin Bill.

The annual intra-city junior high school championship football games will be played in a doubleheader beginning at 6 p.m. Wednesday in Bruin Stadium.

The eighth grader from O'Leary will meet Robert Stuart at 6 p.m. with the freshmen teams to collide immediately after.

Washington Uses Interceptions To Overwhelm Vandals By 37-7

SEATTLE (AP) — With Al Worley as trigger man, Washington turned the intercepted pass into a deadly weapon Saturday and crushed the Idaho Vandals 37-7 in a nonconference football game.

Washington's Huskies pulled down eight Idaho passes and Worley, already the national leader in aerial thefts, got four to run his season's total 40-11.

Except for a 16-yard touchdown pass by Husky sub-quarterback Gene Willis to sub-end Harrison Wood in the last three minutes, all the scoring was concentrated in the first half.

Washington racked up 28 points in the first quarter and was given two more when the Idaho center passed the ball over his hunter's head and into the end zone.

Idaho's lone tally came in the second quarter when Bob Juban partially deflected a Washington punt and Brock Jackley caught it on the 11-yard line and crashed through to score.

Otherwise Idaho had little to shout about except for the great defensive work of linebacker Roosevelt Owens. The 210-pound junior had 10 tackles and a fumble recovery for his afternoon's work.

Michigan State Surprises Notre Dame

Spartans Thwart Late Irish Drive For 21-17 Win

EAST LANSING, Mich. (AP) — A rugged Michigan State defense stopped Notre Dame quarterback Terry Hanratty at the one-yard line in the last minute Saturday and preserved a 21-17 victory over the fifth-ranked Irish.

The Irish, who had been averaging 40 points a game prior to the upset, were the heavy favorites and had been beaten previously this season only by Purdue 37-22.

Michigan State showed it was going to shoot the works for a victory right from the start when it gambled on an onside kickoff.

The Spartans recovered the ball and went in 42 yards to score, tailback Tommy Love barreling in the last 11 yards for the touchdown.

Captain Duffy Daugherty had announced at the Friday night that he might start off with an onside kick, but nobody believed him.

Against the third quarter, when the Spartans were trailing 17-14, Daugherty gave another gambler order.

On a fourth down situation with four yards to go, sophomore quarterback Bill Triplett faked a pass, rolled out and picked up yards. Love, again, bucked in for the score from one yard to make it Michigan State 21, the Irish 17.

Mt. Home Hits Early To Top Gooding

MOUNTAIN HOME (AP) — Tom Simmonds' two touchdowns in the first half helped the Mountain Home Tigers to a 13-0 Cross State league win Friday over Gooding.

The Tigers are now 3-4-2 for the year and 2-1-1 in the league while Gooding is 0-3 in the league and 0-5 for the season.

Simmonds got loose in the first quarter for a 59-yard scamper to put the Tigers on top right away, but his touchdown was equalized by a 4-yard dash with an intercepted lateral by Gooding's Randy Hopkins.

Mountain Home held a 7-0 edge after the first quarter on the strength of Isiah Williams' run for the PAT.

Williams hit Simmonds with a 34-yard pass in the second period to wrap up the scoring for the night.

Hansen Cops 53-27 Win Over Oakley

OAKLEY — The Hansen Huskies broke open a wild offensive show with Oakley Friday night as they scored four times in the last quarter for a 53-27 decision.

The third period score was 27-7, but Hansen punched it over minutes later on a late drive and one situation and then on had the breaks go its way, as a long punt return and a pass set up decisive touchdowns in the second quarter.

Hansen started the scoring when he intercepted a deflected pass on the Oakley 20, and ran it all the way to the extra point.

From then on it was Michigan's game, with Johnson being the workhorse in the first half and Brown hitting on nine of 14 passes.

Hagerman Is 14-6 Winner Over Indians

SHOSHONE — Ray Lapp and Tom Overhill shook loose for a pair of touchdowns and Curly Guillo accounted for a safety Friday night as the Hagerman Indians topped the Shoshone Indians 14-6.

Hagerman took the lead in the first quarter with a Shoshone mistake helping. Shoshone was in hunt for more touchdowns but pass from center sailed over the kicker's head and into the end zone. The Indian kicker was asked to pick up the ball but failed to do so.

It stayed like that until midway through the third quarter when Lapp snapped a long-range drive by striking left on the final 10 yards.

With three minutes left in the game, sophomore Jack Solihaga provided Shoshone's score when he gathered in a punt and rambled 40 yards. Hagerman blocked the point-after try.

OGDEN, Utah (AP) — Paul Waite's passing and strong running by fullback Jack Brown and tailback Sam Gibson led Weber State to a 23-18 victory over Idaho State in Big Sky Conference football Saturday.

Waite's 6-yard toss to Dave MacGillivray in the second period provided Weber State with a 17-0 halftime margin. That proved to be enough.

Grand View Stops Bliss To Win 34-25

BLISS — Grand View built up a big lead until the third quarter, then withstood a Bliss rally to win 34-25 Friday afternoon.

Grand View scored early in the first quarter as Gilbert plunged over. Gilbert also ran over the extra-point. He scored minutes later from the six-yard line, and passed for the point after.

Bliss got on the board with a Frank Lenker to Joe Leach pass for 15 yards, and kicked the extra-point. Grand View led 14-7 at the half.

Besabe scored from 10 yards out to start the third quarter, then passed for the extra-point. Major took a pass several plays later, and ran it in from the 20. Woosley ran over the extra-point.

Bliss came back with a pass to Leach which clicked for 25 yards. The conversion attempt failed. Queen scored for Grand View shortly after the three kick-off. Bliss kicked a punt to Leach for a score minutes later, but the conversion attempt was no good. Linker passed to Leach for a score minutes later, but the conversion attempt was no good. Bliss kicked an onside kick and scored late in the game, but Grand View ran out the clock for the win.

Auburn Stuns Ninth-Ranked Miami 31-6

AUBURN, Ala. (AP) — Auburn stunned ninth-ranked Miami with 24 points in the first half Saturday then held off a Hurricane passing combination for a 31-6 football upset.

Senior quarterback Loran Carter enjoyed his best day of the season in directing the Tigers. He connected on 15 of 28 passes, including three which went for touchdowns.

His favorite receiver was Tim Christian, who pulled in 7 passes for 151 yards and two touchdowns, the second of which set a new Auburn receiving record of 35 in a season. The old record of 34 was set last year by Freddie Hays.

An overflow crowd of 45,000 watched Auburn win its fourth game of the year against two losses and achieve its fifth consecutive homecoming victory.

Miami now also is 4-2 for the season, with the only other loss coming at the hands of Southern California.

Penn State Overpowers Boston 29-0

NEWTON, Mass. (AP) — Penn State, the nation's fourth-ranked football power, settled down after slow start and rode the pass receiving of Ted Kwallek to a 17-point second period Saturday in overpowering stubborn Boston College 29-0.

The Nittany Lions scored first on Garthwick's 23-yard field goal in the second quarter. Quarterback Chuck Burkhardt and Kwallek, a big light end, then took charge. Burkhardt set up a 13-yard touchdown and hit him on a 31-yard scoring loss.

After a pass interception, Burkhardt passed twice to Kwallek, setting up a 13-yard touchdown run by Tom Cherry just before the half.

Boston College, 3-2, dominated the second half, but undefeated Penn State capitalized on its rugged defense for two more touchdowns en route to its fifth victory.

Linebacker Jack Hunk blincked a punt, recovered on the BC 12, and returned it. Cherry raced eight yards for a touchdown midway through the third period.

A pass interception by Paul Johnson gave Penn State another scoring shot from the BC 11 in the fourth period. On the second play, Mike Cooper passed who yards to Tim Horst in the end zone.

Georgia Raps Kentucky In 35-14 Contest

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP) — Georgia pounded Kentucky into submission in the first half Saturday night and coasted to a 35-14 Southeastern Conference football victory.

Kentucky's only offensive spark was its passing game that produced two fourth period touchdowns, but it also was its downfall with two interceptions run back for Georgia scores.

Georgia's defense held the Wildcats to 22 yards in the first half while the Bulldogs rump up three touchdowns with 129 yards on the ground and 123 passing.

Georgia had 14 first downs before intermission, Kentucky none.

Ohio State Rallies In Final Minutes To Top Illinois 31-24

CHAMPAIGN, Ill. (AP) — Underdog Illinois 31-24 defeated second-ranked Ohio State on the threshold of a season wrecking tie, rallied in the final minutes Saturday to hand underdog Illinois a 31-24 defeat.

A homecoming crowd of 56,174 hoping only for a good showing by the Illini, saw their wishes favorites bounce off a 21-point deficit to tie the mighty Buckeyes with 4:38 left to go.

But the desperate Buckeyes, with quarterback Rex Kern leaving the field with an injury, struck quickly to dissolve the tie and hold a share of the Big Ten lead.

Ron Maciejowski on his first play from scrimmage, hit Larry Zelina with a 10-yard pass and then two plays later the same combination clicked for 44 yards down to Illini 4-yard line. Three plays later Jim Otis banged in from the 2 for the winning touchdown.

Ohio State had only a 30 first quarter lead on Jim Roman's 21-yard field goal but the Buckeyes struck for three touchdowns, two by Kern and one by Otis to climb into a 24-0 lead at the half.

Then Illinois put on its amazing rally led by fullbacks Rich Johnson and Ken Bargo.

Vanderbilt Holds Florida To Stalemate

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — Tennessee quarterback John Miller after three quarters of frustration, fired a 33-yard touchdown pass to Jim Cunningham to bring Vanderbilt—a 14-14 football tie with favored Florida Saturday.

With 90 seconds left, Florida defender Steve Tannen intercepted a 44-yard pass but the Gators were 71 yards from paying Miller to run out.

Tannen had sent Florida ahead 14-7 midway in the fourth quarter by scoring on a 72-yard punt return.

A fumble by Vandy punter Steve Smith in the second period set up a 39-yard touchdown drive with Gator Tom Christian scoring from the one.

Vandy got its other touchdown early in the third quarter when John Balpuz scored on a six-yard run.

Fullback Larry Smith, used sparingly after being injured early in the game, broke the Florida career-rushing record by gaining 20 yards in four carries. Smith broke Charlie Hunsinger's record of 2,017 yards. Smith has 2,028.

The defensive units dominated the first half as "Duff" Lewis bogged down twice after winning good field positions. The tie was the first Southeastern Conference blemish on Florida's record. The Gators are 2-0 in the SEC race. Vandy, 2-1 overall, has lost twice to SEC foes.

Fullback Charlie Jarvis gained 128 yards, heading into 1,800 for his career. Jarvis also picked up two of the Army's eight touchdowns.

Army Shoots Down Duke In 57-25 Barrage

WEST POINT, N.Y. (AP) — Army rolled out its offensive prowess and blasted Duke 57-25 Saturday as junior halfback Lynn Moore scored four touchdowns.

Three of them came on consecutive carries in little more than two minutes of the first quarter.

Only in the third period did Army fail to score. The Cadets led 42-7 at halftime.

Moore's scoring was only one of several brilliant efforts by the Army. After his three touchdowns in the first quarter, Moore added another at the start of the second.

Safety Jim McCall intercepted a Leon Hart pass and ran it back 77 yards for one touchdown. The scoring in Army football history. McCall made another interception just before the half, giving him eight for the season, matching the mark shared by Jim Bevans in 1967 and Arnold Tucker in 1946.

Fullback Charlie Jarvis gained 128 yards, heading into 1,800 for his career. Jarvis also picked up two of the Army's eight touchdowns.

Sports FROM ALL ANGLES

By LARRY HOVEY Times-News Sports Editor Idaho's evident hope of a state championship trophy in every high school trophy case has taken another long step forward with the addition of a third classification in track and field.

In the first place the greatest benefit is derived by the new middle classification but it offers absolutely no mitigation to the real problem which exists in the state — in the smaller schools.

The only real blessing we could see in a possible new classification could occur only in that smaller school group. It would lengthen the overall season for entire teams and in the 1-299 class. The team attraction is a full four weeks before the state meet — just when weather is starting to get better and athletes are starting to come back to the state meet.

Current small classification schools run the gauntlet of sub-district, district, regional and state. In each test only the specified number usually takes part in each event advance. This eliminates the also-rans and concludes their track training.

A third classification offered some hope in this area. It could delete the sub-district which would allow that extra week for total participation. The argument that the new category would increase participation at the state level, therefore, is contradicted at the outset and it becomes a matter of title trophies and winning.

The new classification breaks down this way for Magic Valley: class A—Twin Falls, Minico and Burley; class B—Wood River, Filer, Buhl, Jerome and Jerome; and class C—everyone else. That leaves 18 schools in the C bracket.

It also means a great imbalance for the upper and lower classifications. The new middle one should prove about right—although it has inequities. Take a look at the class A bracket. There will be two schools in district one, one in district two, seven in district three, three in district four, and three each in districts five and six. The strongest district, naturally, is district three around Boise where the benefit of wealth and population.

This brings out two possible solutions. One is creation of a fourth classification, similar to the youth basketball situation and this should not be considered. The other, and there will be a meeting in Boise prior to Christmas, we understand, in eliminating regional meets and going to a two-day state meet format.

The two-day state is a needed thing, particularly since track is perhaps the state's most rapidly improving sport right now. However, regional meets generally are very pleasing spectator affairs. But in the light of the new category, regionals are the most vulnerable and the situation should force the two-day state. Each district will send a prescribed number of preliminaries on Friday with the finals on Saturday.

One suggestion that could offset the arguments against early dividing of teams would be a meeting conference championship meets after state meets, in which the new schools are placed. This would allow them to play the state finals. In Twin Falls

Turner Scores Four Touchdowns As Buhl Overpowers Malad 42-0

Buhl—Senior halfback Dan Turner romped for three touchdowns and caught a pass for a fourth Friday afternoon to help the Buhls celebrate homecoming with a 42-0 romp over the outmanned Malad Dragons.

Malad never threatened during the game. Buhl's defense dominated and the Indian offense—after twice losing drives on fumbles in the first quarter—scored itself and scored at least two touchdowns over the last three periods.

Buhl's first score came after a pass interception that the team later intercepted and returned for three extra points. With a minute left in the half Malad punted to Buhl's 41-yard line. Jim Wells flipped a screen pass to Bob Giese who romped 45 yards to the 14 and on the next play Wells hit Turner in the flat and he scored standing up.

Buhl marched 67 yards the first time it had the ball in the third period, although Malad stiffened after a first down at the nine. Turner got the touchdown on a two-yard slam on fourth down. Wells passed to Larry Spradling for the point.

Four minutes later Buhl took a Malad punt and immediately after Turner got outside and romped 52 yards. The point after was good.

One play into the fourth period Giese went for 24 yards and Caldwell dominated the third quarter. Helped by a 15-yard punt, Twin Falls from generating anything offensively. Early in the period Caldwell moved 45 yards to the first down. There an option play went awry costing the Cougars seven yards and Terry Young caught Summers for a one-yard lead on the next play. De Menzies came in to kick a 22-yard field goal, missing on his first try from the 27.

Missouri's Defense Rips Kansas State

MANHATTAN, Kan. (AP) — Missouri's alert defense cracked Kansas State's resistance with a fumble recovery and safety just before halftime, launching the Cougars on the way to a 58-0 rout of the Wildcats Saturday.

The victory kept Missouri tied with Kansas for the Big Eight lead. Missouri's point-to-point defense kept Kansas State from recovering from the shocking first half developments.

Kansas State's touch-down game on joint blockers by middle guard John Stucky. The Wildcats' offense didn't generate a point until the last 1/2 of the game. Larry Dickey hit two long scoring passes. After Stucky's defensive play on which he blocked Steve Kennard's punt in the second 15 and then fell on the ball in the end zone, the Tigers led just 7-0.

Moments later, Kansas State's Larry Brown fumbled to Missouri's Kirk Kuhlman at the Wildcat 18-yard line to give the Tigers the break they needed. Missouri's defense intercepted six passes when Jay Erikson scored from the 1-yard line to open a 14-0 margin.

In the end, however, we think the Cougars' defense was the strongest district, naturally, is district three around Boise where the benefit of wealth and population.

FILER — Randy Shank and Early in the opening period, Randy Shank ran over from five yards out, the extra-point attempt being wide. Rick Garter scored minutes later, as he scampered 61 yards. The kick was wide.

Gary Wright put the Wildcats ahead 19-0 when he scored from 43 yards out. Clyde Wright kicked the point after. Late in the half, Ferris of Glenn's Ferry scored from the 10. The point after was no good.

Midway through the third quarter, Mike Chandler ran a 20-7 halftime code. But the Minico defensive unit came up with the stopper after that and the offense picked up the needed two touchdowns. Schow's short plunge and a 45-yard touchdown pass to Clark Bradshaw.

The victory, leaving Minico nil at the top of the EIC standings, gave the Spartans no worse than a tie for the title. They can win it by beating archival Burley in the Veterans' day test in two weeks. Minico plays Mountain Home next week.

The first half didn't look like Minico success. The Tigers took the opening kickoff and marched 80 yards for a touchdown, Randy Peterson getting the final yard. Jim Fickbohm converted. Early in the second period Minico took advantage of a break to score. The Spartans

Wood River Has 18-0 Win Over Wendell

WENDELL — Dan Bell and Ken Byington, helped by a pair of late pass interceptions, provided the scoring Friday night for the Wood River Wolverines blanked the Wendell Trojans 18-0 in a tough defensive battle.

Wood River took the lead on a first-half march with Bell driving in from the one-yard line. After that Wendell stopped the Wolverines on a 4-second and three situation at the three but Wood River also stopped Wendell's best effort well short of the goal line. The Trojans moved from their own 19-yard line to the Wolverine 30 before running out of downs.

Wendell threw the final quarter pass interception set Wood River up near midfield and the Wolverines ground down to the 10. Ken Byington rolled out from there. Late in the game another pass steal gave Wood River possession at the 42. On the final play Byington went back to pass but was pressured out of the pocket. He broke loose from Wendell line-men and scampered 38 yards to score.

Vote To Retain Area Organization Cast In Rupert

RUPERT—A vote of 5-2 was cast in favor of retaining the Northside Communities Association during a meeting called to determine the fate of that organization.

Representatives from the Jerome, Wendell, Gooding, Sawtooth Valley and Rupert Chambers all voted to retain the organization, even though Shoshone and Fairfield cast tentative "no" votes.

Chambers of Commerce from Shoshone and Fairfield indicated, through their representatives, that they would continue to support the organization should it be retained. High would have to have more activity than in the past.

Others spoke out in favor of the organization, however, saying it is necessary to remain organized even though they may not have something to work on all the time, just in case they may be needed.

"Holding the communities on the north side together is good enough," one representative said. "That way it (the organization) is there if needed. Unification is quite important," he concluded.

Another noted that "The organization has done a tremendous amount of good in the past and I feel that it is important that we continue."

The Northside Communities was organized many years ago, so one recalled, just when in an attempt to stand against the larger communities and the communities on the south side of the Snake River. It is a chamber of commerce organization and was formed long before the South Idaho Chamber, so prominent today.

One of the earliest "jobs" done by the communities, recalls one member, was the erection and maintenance of a directional sign at the Rupert livestock company, aimed at keeping the tourist traffic on Highway 25.

The sign pointed to the "Shortest Route To Boise" in an attempt to keep the tourist trade on Highway 25 instead of Highway 30, or the south side of the river.

The organization has also undertaken to and succeeded in bringing about several road improvements in this part of the valley. Under way at the present time is the Kamima Road, Blaine Sessions, district highway engineer, has assured the organization that his department will complete 11 miles of the road now and complete the remainder in two years.

Members of the organization at the present time include Rupert, Jerome, Wendell, Gooding, Shoshone, Fairfield, Bliss, and Sawtooth Valley.

Only chambers who demonstrate a desire to belong and who pay their dues are considered members. Chambers in Heyburn and Paul have indicated an interest and are considering joining the group.

During the recent meeting at which the vote to retain the organization was taken, the group also expressed a general desire to be brought up to date on the question of the regional airport organization that his department

A move to invite Clayton Stewart, chairman of the Airport Project in Sun Valley, and Neil Weir, Boise, to speak on the issue during the November meeting was unanimously approved.

The general opinion was that the idea of the project needs to be sold to the people before anything can be done. The next meeting was scheduled for 7:30 p.m. Nov. 20 at the Manhattan

Cafe in Shoshone.

New officers will be elected in the January meeting.

The present officers are Merle Hanna, Rupert, president; Cliff Hansen, Sawtooth Valley, vice president; and Hugh Coats, Rupert, secretary-treasurer.

Christmas Shopping For Vietnam? Then Here's What Servicemen Want

By BONNIE BAIRD JONES
 Times-News Feature Editor

A can of insect repellent, or maybe some foot spray may not sound like glamorous Christmas gifts but to thousands of servicemen in Vietnam these items head the lists in the "let's get it for Santa Claus, the USO has just completed a survey of what these servicemen want most this Christmas. Tummy Walker, Twin Falls representative on the National USO Council, urged persons mail these gifts as soon as possible to meet overseas mailing deadlines and assure the gifts are delivered by Christmas. "Because U.S. postal authorities have no special rates for gifts addressed simply to 'A Serviceman in Vietnam,'" she

USO has accepted the responsibility of providing the distribution service. Mr. Walker said donors may send such gift packages to USO clubs or to specific APO or EPO addresses. All parcels bearing an outside label identifying the contents are acceptable and will be distributed to servicemen by the USO staff during the holidays. Donors will pay the postage from their hometowns to the APO or EPO in San Francisco and surface mail parcels should be sent as soon as possible, Mr. Walker explained. These gifts will go to servicemen in USO clubs, military hospitals and will be taken by air-lift to remote units in the fighting zone. Most of the suggestions by generous-Americans have made Christmas day programs possible in USO clubs and USO solicited from overseas servicemen themselves the items they most want. USO officials suggest shoppers follow the suggestions rather than sending items that might be ideal for the serviceman at home but highly impractical and unusable for those overseas. On the list as new items this year and as most wanted gifts are 1 1/2 ink assorted greeting cards, plastic containers for kool aid and kool aid mix, instant breakfast drinks, Christmas stockings, wallet size calendars, or EPO addresses. All parcels film for cameras, Q-tips, nine volt radio batteries and "shake-up" pudding. Servicemen also enjoy small chess and party snacks, miniature chess and checker sets, pre-recorded musical tapes and poster type pictures of state-side landscapes. They want flower and vegetable seeds, pocket dictionaries, self sealing envelopes and the usual shaving equipment, shampoo, fruit cake, candy and nuts and chewing gum. In addition they would like small sewing kits, paperback books, insect repellent, ballpoint pens, crossword puzzle books, "wash-n-dry" hand towels, three inch and seven inch blank recording tapes, first aid kits, playing cards, small jigsaw puzzles, medicated cleansing cream, facial shaving equipment, medical scrub brushes, one inch paint brushes, heavy duty work socks, key chains, foot spray, key cases, small mirrors, foam insoles, soap and toothbrushes, cigarettes, deodorant and small transistor radios. Address gifts to USO directors where gift packages may be (Continued On Page A-4)

WHAT THE SERVICEMAN wants for Christmas, 1968, may not sound too glamorous to the home shopper but USO officials urge you follow their suggestions. Chris Silmp, Twin Falls, selects a few items from the drugstore shelves that USO surveys indicate servicemen would like to find in their Christmas stockings. These range from the usual candy, fruit cake and gun to such things as insect repellent, shoeshine equipment, in-soles and Kool-Aid.

Local Couple Sees Bleak Outlook For Freedom In Czechoslovakia

On Monday the Communist-held country of Czechoslovakia will observe the 50th anniversary of its establishment as a republic. It will probably be a hollow celebration with Russian troops still occupying much of the country as a result of the invasion Aug. 21 of this year. This Declaration of Independence for Czechoslovakia was signed in Philadelphia in 1918 with the guidance and encouragement of President Woodrow Wilson. Dr. and Mrs. Arthur J. Wiedemann, 667 Sunrise Blvd., who were in Prague on Aug. 21 when the Russian troops took over the country, say it will be a sad anniversary for the little country. Mrs. Wiedemann, a native of Czechoslovakia, and her husband, who was born in Austria, were in Prague as part of a European vacation. For Mrs. Wiedemann it was the long-awaited return to her homeland, her first in 20 years. At the age of 16, she left her native country when it was originally taken over by the Communists. "We arrived in Czechoslovakia in the most happy atmosphere. The country was just beginning to hold its head up. There was a feeling of encouragement and optimism everywhere," she said about her arrival there this summer. "For the first time in 20 years, the country was working toward a hope for freedom. There were elections planned, again the first in 20 years, for this fall.

Alexander Dubcek, whom Mrs. Wiedemann said had gained much popularity in the country, had granted leeway for the establishment of two political parties. Buildings such as the beautiful old churches that had been closed under Communist control were being cleaned and reopened. They were visiting the country in limited numbers and being made welcome by the citizens. "The country was literally beginning to live again," Mrs. Wiedemann said in describing the conditions under which they entered the country. They toured the scenic and historic sites of the country including one of the world's oldest universities, saw women scrubbing walls and floors of the ancient churches so they could be enjoyed by tourists. They took photographs of themselves and two sons in front of historic structures. "In one church we were even asked to hurry through so as not to hold up one enthusiastic citizen who was scrubbing the huge floor on her hands and knees," Mr. Wiedemann recalled. "What did I think?" Mrs. Wiedemann recalls. "I thought I was having a bad dream. I kept thinking to myself, 'It can't be. It just can't be happening all of a sudden.' "Twenty years ago I left under these same conditions and for years had dreamed of returning. How could it be that the same horrible invasion as in 1948 when German armies came could occur again when I had returned under such pleasant circumstances," she added. "We had found a country that with help from no one but its own determined citizens was making a stand against Communism and was pulling away from Communist rule that had almost ruined the small, proud country during 20 years of domination. It was something of a peaceful revolution that was beginning to reestablish Czechoslovakia," she explained. "But on Aug. 21 the Russian troops brought this amazing accomplishment to a sudden halt. This is probably the first time other communist countries felt it necessary to overrun another country which was actually still Communist held. A total of 650,000 soldiers from the Communist countries of Poland, Hungary, East Germany, Bulgaria and the Soviet Union marched into Prague on Aug. 21. The first thought of the American couple and their sons was to leave while they could still get out safely. Their visa was about to expire and they had no choice but to leave even if they had wanted to stay. It had not been for the fact they were traveling in a rental car and they had their own transportation and the fact they found a small village where they could still purchase gasoline, they might have been forced to wait several days to leave. In the brief few hours before they were on their way out, the Wiedemanns saw evidence of the Russian takeover. Streets were burned and even one Russian tank burned. They were told that persons who resisted the Russians were being shot. "Only the day before we had been taking photographs, visiting friends and walking along what seemed to be the free streets and countryside of Czechoslovakia," Dr. Wiedemann said. "Now we were fleeing the country. All cameras in sight were confiscated and no one dared enter the streets except with a specific purpose," he continued. Mrs. Wiedemann said she was proud of her former countrymen during the crisis. They remained calm and went to their jobs as usual. Students even walked to school, paying little attention to the tanks and soldiers. "Throughout the time we were there, the Prague radio station continued to broadcast to the people to remain calm and give no provocation to the Russians. The people wanted the Russians to have no excuse to shoot or use force against the local residents," she added. The national anthem of Czechoslovakia and other patriotic songs were played continuously over the radio. The station continued to broadcast instructions to the citizens (Continued On Page A-4)

THE HOLY TRINITY Church, an ancient and beautiful building in Czechoslovakia, was one of the points of interest visited by the local couple this summer. It is one of the many great churches closed under Communist domination and is no longer used as a church. Many such buildings were being reopened and cleaned prior to the Aug. 21 Communist invasion of the country.

Former Resident Made Grade School Vow To See World--And She Has

If you want to be a world traveler, you have to work at it, and a former Twin Falls resident visiting here this week does just that.

Mrs. William (Pat) Sibley, who now makes her home in Atlanta, Ga., spent the last scaling a ruin in Africa or watching a sunset in India, has been visiting with her mother, Mrs. Arthur B. Wilson, 708 Shoshone St. E.

Since her husband, an attorney, retired, they adhere to a schedule that devotes at least three months each year to seeing the world.

"How else can we have world understanding and promote peace among people who see other people, countries and learn to understand their problems. Only when you meet and know people in other countries do you understand the real meaning of world peace," Mrs. Sibley said.

Mrs. Wilson keeps a large world map on the wall of the office at her home so she can trace her daughter's whereabouts whenever she receives a letter.

Wilson Sibley says she was inspired to see far away lands by a seventh grade teacher and by her mother and the travel books they suggested she read.

"One day I walked into class with my teacher, Eleanor Haine, and a large picture of Taj Mahal of India on the board. I thought it was the most beautiful sight I had ever seen and I vowed that some day I would stand on the steps of that building," she recalls.

Since that time Mrs. Wilson and her husband have seen the world. Mrs. Sibley says she has seen much more and many historic places than few others have even read about. Her first job was in a travel book region when she graduated from high school and took a tour aboard the first "University" group of educators to give students an opportunity to travel.

Later Mrs. Sibley worked with the sponsoring organization to help finance the "Sea Scout" as an educational tour ship.

On this first cruise was a girl from Atlanta, Ga., and the two became friends. Today Mrs. Sibley wears a jade ring from the Orient which the two girls discovered on a shopping trip. Both wanted to purchase the ring as it was the nicest piece of jade they saw within their budget. Her friend won out in the purchase, but vowed she would give it to the girl who married her brother.

"As you can see, I have the ring, and if it hadn't been for my friend, my friend's friend with that charming girl I would never have met my husband," she explained.

The Georgia couple give serious thought to their world tours.

"The travel agent who helps me plan the trips refers to our annual journeys as a 'lesson in geography' because we make it a point to visit remote areas and to go into the less traveled regions of every country."

"This is the only way you can get to know the people and to understand the country," she adds. "I've found helping to dig wells or instruct natives in conservation farming methods.

"We have met many Peace Corps workers but only one that I can recall who was unhappy with his work," Mrs. Sibley said.

"Sometimes they have to learn to accept defeat, however. In Calcutta we found an area where they had built housing to get the poverty stricken families out of the street. They moved them into the new housing, but the natives soon returned to the streets. This is their way of life—their social life and they missed it," she explained.

The Sibleys have their own special programs, and in their own way are—something of American ambassadors. Their annual Christmas cards and letters go to friends they have acquired around the world. With the help of Mr. Sibley's sister who is a librarian, Mrs. Sibley helped establish a library in Timbuktu. This was once a center of culture and population but now some Baptist missionaries the Sibleys met provide the only medical care, education and general assistance the area knows.

You might think that after many years of traveling the former Twin Falls woman would be something of a linguist. Aside from a little Spanish, she speaks only English. "English is rapidly becoming the universal language. We have never been in a country where we could not communicate with the people," she says.

"We never go with a group on a commercial tour, always by ourselves and on our own. We never keep a rigid schedule and stay as long in one place as we find it necessary to see that we find-of-interest, there," she added.

A conversation with Mrs. Sibley is almost like a world tour. Her interesting and various incidents are filled with such names as Kalimpong, where they drank yak milk and tea with the British. EARLY DEER HARVEST figures across the state show excellent hunter success, running ahead of last year everywhere. This results partly from three easy winters in a row. Good fawn crops followed. The white-tailed deer is outnumbered by mule deer in Idaho but it is the most common species across the continent. Shown here are two big muley bucks crossing a snow field on the East Fork of the Salmon River during a helicopter census.

Deer Herds In Idaho Are Maintaining Good Size

By JIM HUMBERT
Idaho Fish-Gam Department

Idaho has a greater variety of big game species than most states, and some that attract considerable attention because of their rarity or exceptional size. Nevertheless, year in and year out, the brunt of the hunt falls on deer—just as it does elsewhere.

Last year, hunters bought 123,202 regular deer tags and 16,411 extra deer tags, compared with 69,891 elk tags, a ratio of over two to one. It is noteworthy that many hunters buy both elk and deer tags. Last year 104,193 resident combination fish and game licenses were sold, compared with 95,965 more than a year ago. In addition, 8,745 nonresident big game licenses were sold, along with 3,185 nonresident restricted deer-hunt permits and 2,931 nonresident deer tags.

Many of these hunters filled out their tags. Hunter questionnaires data for 1967 shows that the calculated deer harvest was 66,350 and that 13,397 elk were bagged. These harvest figures are based on answers received from a hunter questionnaire mailed out each January to one per cent of the hunting license buyers.

This survey has been made every year since 1953. Since the same techniques have been used each year, the data gives biologists a reliable means of comparing big game harvests from year to year. Figures for both elk and deer harvests have been quite stable. Both are usually less than 10 per cent higher or lower than the average harvest numbers.

In other words, elk and deer harvests have been excellent, and the relatively easy winters of the past three years have brought the big game animals through the cold months with a minimum of loss. Most of the large herds of deer and elk came through in good shape.

Good fawn and calf crops have attracted populations to the top again each spring. These are no "paper" animals. They are living, breathing, playful members of the woodlands romping in lush, abundant meadows all summer and fall. Now they are replacing the spotted coats of their infancy with the normal plump heavy pelage of winter. Most of them now differ from mature adults only in size, and they are fair game for hunters.

The large proportion of young deer in deer herds during the fall months is no doubt the result of persistent rumors of small "willow deer" in Idaho. Actually there are "third deer species" in the state—just two. They are the Rocky Mountain mule deer and the northwest white-tail.

The white-tail is outnumbered by mule deer in Idaho, but it is the most common species across the continent. Three subspecies have been identified and together they constitute the most important big game resource on the North American continent. They extend from the Rockies to the vicinity of the 60th parallel of north latitude, those to the north being generally larger, and those in the south smaller.

Most of the different races have managed to persist in the face of intensive interference and competition from mankind. The white-tail is elusive by nature and its range extends to the rougher, more densely brush-covered portions of its ranges where it will be protected. This has led to their ranges and increased rapidly under protection. Only in special cases, as with the Key deer, are they threatened with extinction.

These little animals, whose natural habitat is on a few of the sub-tropical Florida Keys, have been reduced by steep, highway, kills, poachers, and general disregard, though a strong movement has been underway to preserve a remnant of the population.

In Idaho, the white-tail is found mostly in the Salmon River, though the range of Odocoileus virginianus ochrocrurus extends southward to the vicinity of Banks. This deer is native to Idaho, but its disappearance from some lowland valleys and later restoration by transplants from other parts of the state have led some sportsmen to regard it as "outsider."

Idaho's chief deer species is, of course, the mule deer (Odocoileus hemionus). It is a large deer with range that extends along the Rockies from the 60th parallel in Canada to Central New Mexico and Arizona, and from the crest of the Cascade Mountains eastward to the vicinity of the 100th meridian in the Midwest.

The two deer species vary in form and habit. The mule deer's wide branching antlers are "dichotomous" (evenly forked) standing up—in the form of two sets of twin Y's. The white-tail's antlers curve forward in two main beams, with symmetrical points rising vertically from the top surface.

As might be expected from its name, the white-tail's tail is an important identifying characteristic. While the mule deer's tail is a short, unimpressive little stub with a black tip, the white-tail's tail is a plume of white fur, covered on the top surface with a thatch of the deer's habit of waving this large tail from side to side like a flag is a familiar characteristic one that makes it unwise for a hunter to make out a white handkerchief in whitetail country during hunting season.

Another conspicuous difference between the two species is their ears. The white-tail has a fairly large ear, so that inexperienced hunters may even comment on their size. But by comparison, ears of the mule deer are enormous. One of the most interesting facts about this animal is its habit of curiosity that causes it to come to the edge of a ridge and pause there with its big ears up against the skyline. They can be seen long distances and many a fisherman has lost a good trout or two by making the mule deer's ears line up against the sky.

This habit of curiosity makes the mule deer easier to hunt, as he often pauses at the edge of a ridge and listens, and then goes off bounding as if he had pogo sticks on his feet. The white-tail, on the other hand, tends to stay away and often crawls into the brush and disappears into a shadow, utterly motionless, until danger passes.

Another difference lies in their color of habitat. The mule deer ranges over the entire state, but it favors the rough, open mountain regions of the southern half of the state, and spends most of its time at high elevations. The white-tail seems to do best in the heavy cover of a humid habitat, and generally ranges lower than the mule deer. It is typically a deer of deciduous forest, and thrives in close proximity to man and his activities.

Former Resident Writes Of Talents Of Grandchildren

A former Twin Falls resident, Herman Yarbrough Sr., is no different than other grandfathers.

In recent communications with local friends he has been boasting about the accomplishments of his grandsons and granddaughter. Mr. and Mrs. Charles Harrison agree that his pride in the two young adults is well justified and they feel his many acquaintances and friends here might agree that while many young students are demonstrating and gaining recognition as riot leaders it's encouraging to learn about someone who is achieving their goals in other ways.

Mr. and Mrs. Yarbrough's grandson and granddaughter, John and Carole Alston have earned special recognition in their college careers and outside of college. They are the son and daughter of Bette Yarbrough Cox, now living in Los Angeles, Calif.

Carole Alston, a four graduate at University City Studies in California, has recently returned from Dallas, Tex., where on Aug. 5, she accepted the 1968 National Junior Achievement Award presented by the National Association of Negro Professional Women's Clubs Inc. She was flown there by Universal to accept the award and address the national convention of that organization.

"I am proud to say that I am the first interesting achievement of a young woman from Twin Falls, Idaho. She devoted one summer to living on an Indian reservation to better understand the problems and ways of the American Indian, and for one semester she attended the University of Guadalajara, living with a native family and speaking only Spanish, German or French.

The vivacious young student has made a name for herself in the world as a student on the floating ship, the University of the Seven Seas.

John also had an opportunity to tour every country in the world with the exceptions of Russia and North Africa, and hopes to visit those one day.

While in South Africa, she hitchhiked from Kenya to Tanzania, a two-day trip, during winter season, just to find out all she could about the Tanzanian government—the only one party system in the world.

In India, young Carole met a group of teen age musicians and joined them for a three-day trip into various parts of India.

In her job at Universal, she conducts tours for many of the visitors from other countries because of her ability to speak two languages.

After graduating from UCLA, she plans to become an airline stewardess and then probably gain into linguistic research.

Her brother, John Alston, attended Chapman College and also spent one semester abroad in the Floating Campus, the ship sponsored by Chapman College to take students abroad. He received his B. A. degree in psychology in February and immediately entered graduate school to work toward his master's degree. He is now teaching school in the Los Angeles area and hopes to continue studying with night courses at California State College, Los Angeles.

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Yarbrough, grandparents of Carole and John, are residents of Twin Falls until moving to California some 20 years ago. Herman Yarbrough Sr., operator of the Idaho State Parlor in the Perrine Hotel for many years.

His daughter, Bette Yarbrough Cox, mother of the two young students, was prominent as a dance and music student while in Twin Falls.

Book Review

"A Very Strange Society," a journey to the heart of South Africa, Trident Press book, Simon & Schuster, 1967, another book by the fiction Pulitzer prize winner, Allen Drury, has been added to the Twin Falls Public Library collection. This time Drury returns to his original profession to present a somewhat limited, yet balanced picture of the social problem of apartheid.

Presented from a white man's standpoint, nevertheless the factual journalistic approach gives the feeling of impartiality in the presentation of a cross section of English and Afrikaner opinion.

Perhaps the main criticism would be the scope of his investigation on this intensely complicated problem. Nowhere in Africa, he says, have the Africans learned the most elemental principles of grazing, farming or land management. He condemns all leaders of black Africa as incompetent and envious.

Written in his usual documentary style, "A Very Strange Society" presents a timely report on social and economic conditions and race relations from information collected from his own travels, interviews, newspaper reports and government documents.

Those who enjoyed his other books, "Advise And Consent," "Preserve And Protect," "Captive Of Honor," "A Sliver Of Difference," "That Summer" and "Three Kids In A Cart," will welcome an old friend in a new approach.

Push To Southwest And Boost Twin Falls Economy, Says Plan Of Local Designer

New life in the downtown city but designer Ralph Shettel... Twin Falls area is badly needed... individuals and organizations for use of present farm land in consideration and support... that area for light industry and business sites.

Basically, Mr. Shettel proposes a change in the route of State Highway 74, swinging it further to the west after crossing the "singing" bridge on Shoshone Street. Further, he is recommending the encouragement of light industry and business sites.

With the proposed urban renewal program for the downtown, Mr. Shettel feels there must be some pull to the southwest to reestablish the downtown area as the business center. All present expansion and development seems to be to the north, he finds.

Mr. Shettel cites the new college, shopping centers and a majority of the city's residential development in the north and east parts of the city as an example of overabundance in that direction.

He would like to see the city center as the true business hub, he said. Shoshone Street must be kept open as a main thoroughfare for a smooth traffic flow through the city north and south.

Mr. Shettel further suggests U.S. Highway 30 remain as presently routed via Addison Avenue West toward Filer and then south to Nevada.

He said widening of State 74 at the crossing Rock Creek and rerouting it slightly west through open uncongested farm land and closer to existing rail lines would provide a natural site for the encouragement of light industry. It would also provide larger unincorporated sites for such businesses as farm machinery sales equipment dealers and trailer sales.

Trucking concerns could be encouraged to establish terminals in this new area. Mr. Shettel feels, and State 74 could be designated as the truck route. Trucks traveling beyond Twin Falls could be encouraged to use State 74 to some designated street such as Fourth Avenue to East Five Points, then directly east to U.S. 30 or north to the interstate requiring a minimum travel through Twin Falls proper. Many through truck drivers are picking out such routes if familiar with the area, he said.

Once the light industry and business development begins to the south, Mr. Shettel says, residential build up will grow on the perimeter and such things as the location of an elementary school needed in that area for many years, will follow.

"One of our major problems here is the need for year around employment," he said. "The agricultural economy, much of our employment is seasonal. This results in young people leaving to find suitable employment and vocations," he stated.

To fulfill his plan, Mr. Shettel says a new bridge is needed on Shoshone Street, across Rock Creek. The highway should be rerouted closer to the railroad tracks and a wide south highway and railroad access for new industrial locations.

Diversification through establishment of commercial strip, industrial sites, possibly a shopping center, new residential development and schools would complete the picture.

Mr. Shettel has met with state highway officials in Shoshone, Chamber of Commerce, Motel Association and City Commission members to discuss the proposal. He also plans to meet with the county planning and zoning organizations and those working on a county comprehensive plan at the present time.

In meeting with Chamber of Commerce officials, he suggested a further extension of the present industrial interest. The present industrial brochure, he said, smothered inquiry by telling him that no more sites were available.

Life in MAGIC VALLEY

Mrs. Ruby Royse, GOODING, was presented with a trophy at the annual dinner of the Gooding Sheriff's posse recently.

The posse trophy was won by the posse at the Gooding fair in the drill team. The table featured a cake with the posse emblem in center, baked and decorated by Mrs. Hyrum Lee.

Mrs. Royse, who was guest of honor, was presented the trophy by C. I. N. Abernethy, who served as master of ceremonies. Preceding the presentation, a program was presented, including piano solos by Liz Maestas and a show by Eugene Gibson.

The Gooding Sheriff's Posse was organized by the late Verne Royse, Gooding County sheriff, and members keep busy from spring until fall with drills each week. The group performs at various fairs and rodeos during the summer months, but compete with the state posse, of which they are members.

They are ready, willing and able to help out in any emergency, whenever called. The posse elected Jackie Bodenhofer as their queen and she accompanied them on every appearance.

In addition to her culinary efforts, Mrs. Lee also presented a poem entitled "The Sheriff's Posse."

There's a group of guys in this here town. We are proud as we can be. As helmsmen, friends and neighbors. Of the Gooding Sheriff's Posse. These Darrel, Frank and Bill and Wayne, K. T. and Ewing, too, Dick and Dub and Floyd and I, Judy to name a few. Their horses don't look all alike

Do really it's a thrill to see those guys and horses. Do the Sheriff's Posse drill. To see white hats and shirts. And jeans all shades of blue. The bridles are all alike. And breast collars too. As all things need a leader. Those guys chose a queen. She's little black-haired Jackie. Who does her job real keen. As long as she leads the entry. Then stands quietly by. As Joe directs from here and there. It's thrilling to the eye. Besides the fun of practicing. The drill on Wednesday night. They're pledged to help the officers. Keep things goin' right. They are ready each time. They get a call. To look for someone lost. Or just anything at all. So everything is secure. And safe as it can be. As long as we have guys like these. A coin by definition is a metallic piece of money issued by a government or a government agency. A medal is a metallic piece issued by an individual, not guaranteed by a government - hence they are only tokens, and not coins.

In recent years a great many such tokens have been issued in commemorative silver anniversaries of towns or territories, or golden anniversaries, or a million and one other things which have happened. Even though this token looks like a coin, feels like a coin, and says on it that it is redeemable for fifty cents at participating merchants in a certain town, it is certainly not a coin. The fifty cent value has been placed on it locally - it is not legal tender.

On the other hand, the United States Government has from time to time (not since 1954) struck a commemorative coin - a fifty cent piece in most instances - which is legal tender and guaranteed by the government. These commemorative coins have been issued in conjunction with celebrations of national importance, with specialities, and in small quantities. Most of them were released at the place where the celebration was being held, and sold to the sponsoring body, and re-sold to collectors at a profit.

This profit was used to help defray the cost of the celebration. Some of these coins were the fifty cent pieces issued at the Columbian Exposition in Chicago, in 1892. Alabama Centennial, some of the Civil War battles, and so on. All of these are actually coins and bear the words "United States of America" with "Half Dollar" on them. The column continually

DRAWING BY DESIGNER Ralph Shettel shows his proposal for re-routing of State Highway 74 to the southwest and through open farm land. The new route would parallel the railroad tracks and provide new uncongested area for location of light industry, new business and homes. The designer says it would help pull traffic to the south, reestablishing the downtown area as the city center.

AN AERIAL VIEW of the Shoshone Street bridge and area to the south shows present use of land proposed for southwest expansion of Twin Falls. Dotted line is general area proposed for new State Highway 74 location. Present bridge, under plan of local man, would have to be replaced with four lane crossing.

What's With Music

By J. Hill, O.P.T.A.

"Once in a lifetime" you meet a special someone whose inspiration coincides with you for always. It may be a brief encounter over coffee, or it may be at a church choir rehearsal in a small town.

It happened to me 43 years ago this summer in Hansen, Idaho. I hope this "angel" is still alive for I wish to pay her public tribute. It is long overdue. Her name is Ora Madden, and she was pianist for the Hansen Community Methodist Church.

"Don't worry, dear," she said, "my music is like the key of 'G'." Mine is in "F", but I can transpose it.

The big lump in my throat melted away, and I played "Traumer" in the key of "G". When I finished, my ten-year-old mind started to click, slowly at first, but it clicked.

"Miss Madden," I stammered, "When you transpose, do you take a song out of one key and put it in another?"

"Yes, dear, that's exactly what you do," she said excitedly. "You learned it in the key of 'G'." My music is in "F". So when you play it, you start on "F". When I play it from my music, I start on "G". All I had to do," she assured me, "was to read it in my key and move it up one whole step."

Those few kind words like a light from Heaven. This wonderful lady could read music written in one key and play it in another, and never make a mistake. The wheels in my head really started to whirl.

"Do you suppose I could learn to do that?" I asked excitedly. "You bet you can," she said. "Why don't you try it?" She hastily added: "Let's not worry about it now. Just play it for me, will you know if for this Sunday. Some time, when you have a special piece you like, try transposing it in several other keys."

I didn't sleep much that night. I was too excited about this gracious lady who inspired me to learn. The next morning, I went back to Grandma Durk's house and stayed there for three hours, trying to transpose songs I knew, from one key to another. Grandma was another "angel." How she ever tolerated all that piano pounding, I'll never know, but she invited me back to practice as much as I wanted to. The rest of the summer was a "blast". At that age, I didn't know what a "blast" was, but it felt like one. My favorite song was "The Holy City", and I worked for weeks transposing it into every key my limited knowledge would allow.

Sunday came, and before church, Miss Madden found me, took me to the piano, and made sure my violin was in tune. Then she said: "Now, don't be nervous, dear. You have nothing to worry about. If you forget your song, I'll be right there to help you." I did forget one note. I hesitated. Then, very softly from her skilled fingers, came that one note. I took off again and finished the tune. I hope the collection was good that day. Whatever it was, it was better than my feeble attempt to play "Traumer". I tried, and Miss Madden made the day.

I am sure I will never forget Miss Madden for her kindness and her well-chosen words to help me learn how to transpose. She didn't offer to come and "baby sit" me while I practiced. She had only in my mind, I thought, and somehow she must have known that I'd knock myself out trying.

Every time I have to transpose a song, I think of Miss Madden. There were many "Miss Maddens" in those days, and there are many of them now. I don't forget her name, regardless of her name. She'll say just the right "once in a lifetime" word at the right time, and you will try to learn just a little more. Some day, perhaps, you will say the right words in a small boy or girl's mind. The "once in a lifetime" word that will start a little mind to clicking.

Where The Action Is--That's Where The Women Voters Will Be On Election Day

When election returns from across the nation begin to come in late on Nov. 5, ten Twin Falls women will be right in the swing of things.

All ten are members of the Twin Falls League of Women Voters and are for the second time participating in the national election coverage of the American Broadcasting Company.

Five voting precincts in Magic Valley have been selected by ABC as key precincts to help establish trends nationally. Mrs. William Davis, Lewiston, Idaho League of Women Voters is project coordinator for the broadcasting company.

On election night the reporters will telephone the results from each of the key precincts directly to ABC election center in New York City for analysis as part of the report to the nation.

Key precincts have been selected in all states of the nation on a basis of voting history, geographical and population factors.

In Twin Falls county the key precincts are No. 10, at Morningside School; Filer No. 3; Buhl No. 3, and Unity Precinct in Cassia County and Bishop Falls in Jerome County.

Mrs. J. B. Brennan, Twin Falls, is coordinator for the local project this year. One league member is being assigned to each key precinct. As soon as results are available, the reporter places a credit card call to New York to report the returns.

In preparation for the Nov. 5 coverage, a rehearsal will be held Oct. 30. Reporters are responsible for making certain there is a telephone nearest and that will be available for their use and for making arrangements to get returns as soon as they are ready.

"Your first concern must be accuracy," Elmer W. Lower, ABC president, told the volunteer workers. "And second, of course, is speed."

"You are part of an election team using the most modern computation and broadcasting equipment to bring American voters a true sense of the importance of the 1968 elections and the role played by each voter," he added.

Early in October, each reporter received a booklet telling her just how to approach the job. Each was to contact a chief precinct official for permission to obtain voting results. The second assignment called for locating a telephone nearest and most accessible to the voting place. Rehearsal calls will be made Wednesday night to test the reporting system.

Mrs. Roy Slotten, local League president, said this is the second time the Twin Falls women have participated in the nationwide coverage.

"This has become one of the fun projects of the local League," Mrs. Slotten said.

Those working with Mrs. Brennan Nov. 5 will be Mrs. T. M. Robertson, Mrs. Gerald Cowden, Mrs. Don Ware, Mrs. Jack R. Smith, Mrs. M. C. Parker, Mrs. A. R. Robinson, Mrs. Tom Nelson, Mrs. Joe Clikk and Mrs. Slotten.

Following the first such project during the last gubernatorial election ABC published a pamphlet, "Polls Apart," quoting some of the comments from their League of Women Voter volunteer election reporters.

Some of the difficulties the reporters faced included having

They are among 10 Twin Falls League of Women Voters members participating in national election coverage Nov. 5 for the American Broadcasting Co. The calls will be made to New York City election headquarters as soon as results are available.

FROM THE KITCHEN of a neighborhood home or a telephone booth, League of Women Voters in Twin Falls will be calling election returns to New York City Nov. 5. This is the second year the organization has provided volunteer election coverage service for a national network. A rehearsal is planned Wednesday to test communications and preparations.

Party Presidential Score Is About Even, Statistics Show

Election statistics as compiled by the Encyclopedia Americana show some interesting statistics over the last years of history in the United States.

The Democrats and Republicans have split control of the Presidency almost 50-50 since 1828. Andrew Jackson defeated John Quincy Adams to mark what is generally regarded as the beginning of our two-party system.

The Encyclopedia Americana score-card since that time shows 17 Democratic administrations, 18 Republican and two Whig. Until the Republican party was born in 1852, the Whigs were the leading opposition party to the Democrats. Before 1828, the politics system was dominated by the Democrat-Republican party, which split into two factions after 1824; the group which became the Democratic Party led by Andrew Jackson, and the short-lived National Republicans of John Quincy Adams.

Based on political history, the chances for the party out of power winning the Presidency have been a little better than one in three, averaged out over the years according to the editors of the Encyclopedia Americana.

There have been 44 U.S. elections from 1789 and the reins of power have changed from one party to another 10 times.

The fewest changes came in the first 18 elections. In 1800, Democratic-Republican Thomas Jefferson succeeded Federalist John Adams and the Democratic Party led by Andrew Jackson took over in 1828 from the opposition group led by John Quincy Adams; Whig William Henry Harrison in 1840 succeeded izens and to tell them the truth about the invasion for several years forced from the air by the Russians.

Among information broadcast was the fact that the Russian troops were not requested and the invasion came as a surprise to Czechoslovakian officials.

The Czechoslovakian residents, often at great risk to themselves, talked to the Russian soldiers, telling them they were not wanted and not needed in their country.

"We were told that one Russian soldier, when asked why he had come, responded that the troops were there to drive out the invasion from the west. Told there was no invasion from the west, he said it must then be because of the counter-revolution. Told there was no counter-revolution, the soldier replied. 'Then I don't know why we are here, do you?'" Mrs. Wiedemann related.

The local couple said that at the border they were given every possible assistance by Czechoslovakian border guards. It was a sad departure as the local people waved farewell and at the same time pleaded with them to carry their story to the outside world.

This is one of the strong aims of the local couple who say everyone should have a chance to visit iron curtain countries.

"One needs only to look at Czechoslovakia to see the true failures of Communism," Mrs. Wiedemann says. "Farms there have been reduced to almost no production under the centralized farming and government ownership. No one cares about the land and the farms that are now owned by the government and farmed by assignment.

"Czechoslovakia has always looked to the west," Dr. Wiedemann explained, "for its friendship, culture and leadership. The people of that country have much in common with Austria and Germany than with the Soviets.

"But Czechoslovakia is now truly a suppressed nation under the Communists, its religion, independence and the very spirit of the people are controlled. The look forward to? Nothing. At that revolutions have failed in other countries and the peaceful attempt of the Czechoslovakians to become their own rulers has now failed as well. This leaves their outlook for freedom most bleak.

people have nothing to look for at least in the immediate future. There is no hope for the small countries of the world so long as there is control by the Soviet Union," she added.

"What do the people have to do?" The Twin Falls woman noted bleak.

DISPLAYING SOME of the latest-knit materials popular with Magic Valley women is Mrs. Norman (Donna) Skinner at Skinners Sewing Shoppe. There is practically nothing now-a-days a person can't sew at home with so many fabrics available.

TAKE A LITTLE BIT of stretch fabric, some thread, add lace and other pretties and presto — you have made yourself a girdle. Making girdles is one of the latest do-it-yourself projects for many women in Magic Valley. Make them colorful or plain, add pretty lace or appliques — the decision is up to you.

Two-Way Stretch Fashions Way Into Do-It-Yourself Projects

By-NORMA-HERZINGER

The lengths some people will go to keep up their nylons—knee length, thigh length and in-between-length.

Speaking of girdles — of course — which great-aunt Matilda would never have done.

Do-it-yourself projects are the most — now they even include the unmentionables. The two-way stretch not only provides fingertip control, but is right at one's fingertips to design and create.

You take a little bit of fabric and a little bit of thread, add some lace and pretties along with basic instructions from Mrs. Norman (Donna) Skinner from Skinners Sewing Shoppe and the results are magnificent.

You've heard the old cliché—"Don't telephone, don't telegraph—tell a woman." Well, word got around very rapidly about the new girdle fabric and women have been coming from all over Magic Valley to see it along with the many other stretch fabrics, sweater fabrics, etc., available for the creative minded woman who likes to sew.

Women in the Magic Valley are making not only girdles, but other pretty unmentionables, as well as swimming suits, double knit suits and dresses, stretch-pants, ski pants, sweaters, etc. There is practically nothing now-a-days a person can't sew at home.

During an interview with Mrs. Skinner, she noted the stretch material is very easy to sew with and the finishing process is simple. Her knowledge of sewing is rated among the highest and she possesses a marvelous ability to "put it over" so others can understand readily.

What started off to be a relatively small business has grown into one of the most popular "woman pleasers" around, and the unique part about it is that the entire family, mother, father and children, play vital parts in the daily business. Without any one of them, the operation could not run smoothly.

Donna keeps the shop going on an even keel six days a week as well as instructs sewing classes in Twin Falls and Jerome several nights each week and gives demonstrations periodically. Norman does all the sewing machine maintenance and assists in the shop when he can. Then comes the part the children play in the works.

All fabrics sold in the shop are from famous northwestern manufacturers and through the youngsters, patterns are available to coincide with the latest materials. They have turned the basement of their home at 532 Glacier Drive, Jerome, into a workshop. The basic pattern pieces are made of heavy cardboard. The children, Carol, 14; Harvey, 10, and Keven, 9, carefully trace the cardboard pieces onto white paper, noting exactly the right markings.

These are then cut out and properly labeled and packaged. In turn, they sell these patterns in the shop, making available to the customers all the latest styles.

It is quite a business the youngsters have set up and a complete set of books are maintained by them, noting all materials purchased including the rubber stamps they had made to assist them in correct markings.

Looking forward to their college education, the money made by these youngsters is all banked and the only funds taken out are for new supplies.

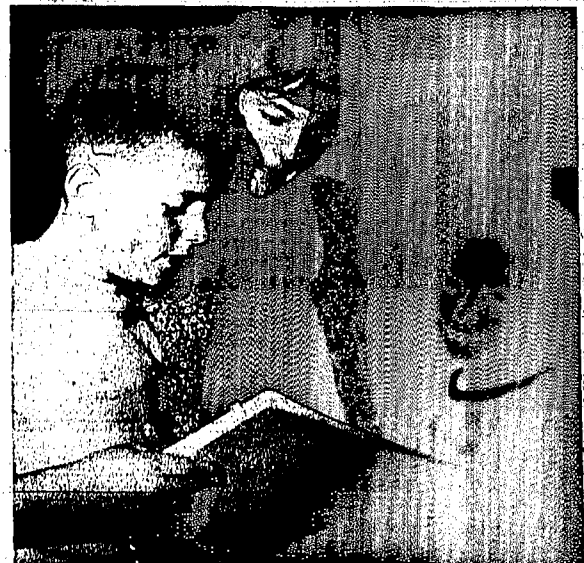

Mr. and Mrs. Skinner's youngest son, Davie, 4, is not into the act as yet, I'm sure a place can be found for him on this production line when he has added a few years to his age.

NORMAN SKINNER talks with his wife, Donna, while she is making the button holes for a sweater. Sewing a sweater can be a relatively easy project with the new materials available for creative-minded women.

TRACING PATTERNS to coincide with the new knit fabrics available are from left, Harvey Skinner, 10; Carol Skinner, 14, and Keven Skinner, 9. The little one at the back is Davie, 4, who is content to watch. The basic pattern pieces are made of heavy cardboard. The children carefully trace the cardboard pieces onto white paper, noting the proper markings, cut them out, then label and package them.

GLANCING THROUGH a ledger maintained by them in their part of the business are from left, Harvey Skinner, 10; Carol Skinner, 14, and Keven Skinner, 9. Looking to the future and their college education, the money made by these youngsters is all banked and the only funds taken out are for new supplies.

AMONG THOSE ATTENDING the annual Father-Daughter banquet of the Sophomore Unit of Girls' League of the Twin Falls High School were, from left, Wayne Johnson and his daughter, Sue, and Dale Eberlein and his daughter, Terri. The event was held at the high school cafeteria with approximately 200 fathers and daughters attending.

Mary Brooks Explains Bills At Club Meet

SHOSHONE — Sen. Mary Brooks explained bills and problems facing the next legislature for the State of Idaho when she spoke at a meeting of Shoshone Civic Club recently at the American Legion Hall.

Introduced by program chairman, Mrs. Stephen Bolter, Mrs. Brooks stated concern over what she called "the mess we have our taxation in." In referring to the equalization bill for taxation, she said a phase-out of the utilities tax over a 10-year period to match the 20 per cent instead of 40 per cent as set previously, would without question increase personal taxes.

The proposal to consolidate counties was outlined as a promotion by larger counties. Mrs. Brooks felt it would be very undesirable for the Lincoln-Blaine and Mindokoa Counties to consolidate.

Mrs. Brooks said "we have entirely too many four-year colleges in Idaho," and "we should stop our building program on the college level," and "the only way to keep taxes down is to keep down expenditures."

She also said there are too many corporation lawyers in the legislature for their own interest rather than for the interest of the state at large.

Mrs. Brooks outlined duties of her national committeewoman job, stating it took her out of the state one-third of the time, but that she had only missed one and one-half days of session at legislature since her election as senator.

She welcomed opinions and mail from the voting public.

She conducted a question and answer period during which she made point of "the many overcharges," state and federal agencies, which takes the taxpayers money."

During the business meeting of the club, the Sears, Roebuck and Shell Oil Co. community project programs were discussed. Mrs. John Lailla was accepted as a new member and Mrs. Fern W. Manning was introduced as a new member, also, having been accepted at the last meeting.

A calling committee will be appointed to notify members of the next meeting place. The program will be on "Public Welfare."

Hostesses were Mrs. Corwin Silva, Mrs. Snow Coffin, Mrs. Paul Jacobsen and Mrs. Marvin Cole.

Junior Music Bylaws Approved

At the recent board meeting of the Twin Falls Music Club, it was unanimously approved to enforce the Junior Music Club bylaw of section No. 3 (b). "A member failing to attend two successive meetings without excuse acceptable to the council shall be dropped from membership in the club."

This bylaw has been handed down by the National Federation of Music Clubs. If any student of music has not attended two consecutive Junior Club meetings or has two unexcused absences, the student is disqualified for entrance in the Junior Music Festival and also for consideration of any scholarship allocation.

At the request of the Junior members, the plan this year is for the members to manage their own clubs, planning their own programs, projects, etc. Most clubs are having a one-hour meeting each month, with the exception of Bickel Elementary which voted to have two meetings each month. However, only the one meeting a month is required.

Every school in the Twin Falls school system has had at least one meeting with election of officers. This includes parochial schools as well. Reports are still coming in from clubs throughout the valley. The newest club to be formed is Bickel Elementary, with Mrs. Frances Shetz as counselor. The Seventh Day Adventist Academy has the highest membership percentage with school enrollment of 40 students; thirty-nine are members of the Junior Music Club.

There has been a great variety of programs given in the various clubs already, using talent within their own clubs as well as within the community. Their programs have included different periods of classic music to the most modern music of today, and using every field of music.

A reminder to all Junior Music Clubs, membership dues are due this month. The secretary of each club who takes membership dues at meetings should take down members name and address, and send to the district Junior Club treasurer, Mrs. Oleen Seaman, 2005 11th Ave. E., Twin Falls. She will return membership cards to the council members of each club to give to members. If you have paid membership through your music teacher or at any joint meeting, please remember to have it recorded on the roll of the school you attend.

The members of the opera, "The Nutcracker," will be presented in November at O'Leary Junior High, voted to admit Junior Music Club members into the student performance, free upon presentation of a membership card. This is a light, comic opera by Mozart, with much singing and dancing.

The day of the month each club meets includes Bickel, third Wednesday; Harrison, first Wednesday; Lincoln, 1st Thursday; Morningside, fourth Thursday; Washington, 3rd Friday; Memorial Lutheran, fourth Friday; St. Edward's, fourth Thursday; Seventh Day Adventist Academy, fourth Monday; O'Leary Junior High School, first Monday; Robert Stuart Junior High School, second Tuesday, and Twin Falls Senior High School second Tuesday.

DEAR ABBY: Al and I have been married for 16 years, if you can call this a marriage. Al says that marriage is a job, like any other job, and since he gets at least one day a week off from his job, a man should get a day off from his marriage. So Al works at our marriage 6 days a week, but he takes Sundays off.
 He leaves the house late Saturday night, and I don't see him again until early Monday morning. He puts about 200 miles on his car and I don't have the slightest idea where he's been. This doesn't make much sense to me, but I can't talk him out of it. Is he crazy, or am I?
AL'S BETTY

DEAR BETTY: Marriage is a 7-day-a-week job, and there's no time off for good (or "bad") behavior. Al is far from "crazy," if he's able to sell this deal, but I'm not so sure about you, if you're buying it.

DEAR ABBY: Because so many service men read your column, I hope you'll print this. We think that most men in service don't have time to write letters, but if they are well, they can take 5 minutes to write two lines "I'M FINE" and then sign it.

My brother has been in Vietnam for 5 months. Our whole family writes to him regularly but he writes only three times. My poor mother refuses to leave the house until the mail comes, and I've seen her age 10 years in 5 months! The first we heard from him in 5 weeks was yesterday. He said he was fine. He could have said that 5 weeks ago.

DISGUSTED WITH BROTHER
DEAR DISGUSTED: A man who is in the service could conceivably have many legitimate reasons for not writing. He could be on the move and unable to write. Also, mail is not always delivered without a hitch from the war zone. Some can't write for security reasons. But how about children who are just away from home and don't write either Sharper than a serpent's tooth.

DEAR ABBY: Our daughter who is 16 says that when a girl brings her boyfriend in after a date, the parents should be in bed.

DEAR HURT: If your 16-year-old daughter can tell you where you should be — and get away with it — you have my sympathy. Children do not become disrespectful and insolent overnight. It's not possible for me to accomplish in one letter what you apparently have failed to do in 18 years. Sorry.

DEAR ABBY: So the "rich relatives" placed their name-address sticker over another signature and sent the Christmas card out again.

Yule Plans Are Made

At Shoshone

SHOSHONE - Preliminary plans for the annual Christmas activity sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce were made at the Thursday noon meeting at the Shoshone cafe.

Ivan Hopkins, vice president, conducted the meeting in the absence of Gilbert Pierson. Due to the South Idaho Chamber was authorized to be paid.

D. S. Hilt announced he had been contacted regarding the collection of funds for the Snake River Boy Scout Council for Lincoln county. Report was made that no money was raised last year in the county. Quota was set at $600 from Shoshone, $300 from Richlet, and $300 from Dietrich for the scout fund.

Considerable discussion was held on the Bureau of Land Management and issuance of BLM permits. Use of Idaho lands and water. Opposition was expressed to non-granting of things and water being diverted to other states.

Santa Claus will make his visit here on the first Saturday in December.

The annual election banquet will be held in December. The exact date to be announced. Committee members, in charge of the Christmas Nighting concert are Myron Johnson, Francis Bergin and Harrell Thorne.

In charge of the Children's Christmas party will be D. H. Hansen, C. M. Wilson, Joe Bertrich, Mike Urrutia and Virginia Larsen.

The Chamber voted to continue support of the North Side Communities, with H. A. F. R. 11 Thorne, Myron Johnson and Mr. Bergin named to a committee.

Bill Bubak, Jerome, was a guest.

DEAR POLLY—Instead of putting regular hem binding on the hem of a dress I use one-half inch lace as it seems easier to gather in any fullness in the hem evenly and looks pretty, too.—SARA

DEAR POLLY—Often it is hard to remove eggs from a carton. Dampen your fingers and they will lift right out with less danger of dropping them.—MRS. W. O. M.

DEAR POLLY—When an automobile sticker must be saved or kept in one piece to transfer from one car to another, place transparent gummed plastic tape over the face of the sticker. It can be removed easily and in one piece.—RON

DEAR POLLY—Use the pull tabs from pop-top cans to make a chain belt for your daughter's mini-skirt. Just bend the tab on one link over the ring of another and then spray the finished belt gold or any desired color. Inexpensive and very effective, too!—PEGGY

Polly pays a dollar for every idea used. Send them to her, care of this newspaper.

DEAR POLLY—Point the steps of your ladder and sprinkle a little clean sand on them before the paint dries. This will give the steps a non-slip surface which might prevent an accident.—MRS. W. G. D.

DEAR POLLY—One day my mother ran out of cotton tipped sticks so she made her own with cotton rolled tightly on the end of toothpicks. They served the purpose nicely.—DOREEN

DEAR POLLY—While pricing clothes for our church rummage sale I ran out of pins. With a punch I made holes in the spine tags and slipped twisties through the holes and fastened them around large buttons and through the buttonholes.—EDNA

DEAR POLLY—A peg-board, with hooks, makes a neat place for toys like puppets, cowboy hats and so on. The items are easy to reach or play time and hanging toys seem less of a chore than putting them away in something.—JO ANNE

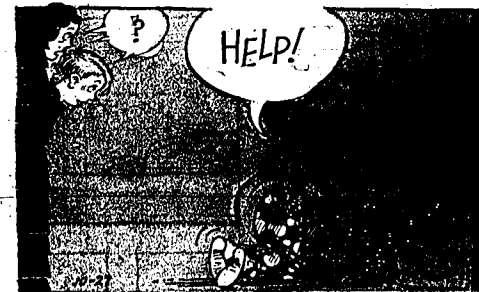

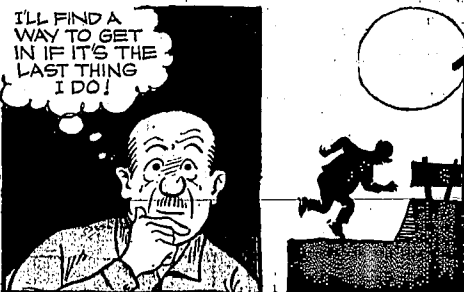

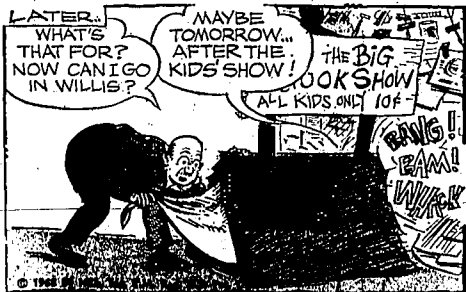

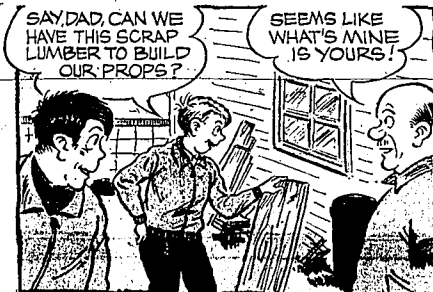

DEAR POLLY—The fiber content labels came off of ready made clothing so easily and tailor-mades have none to begin with so I use an indelible marking pen for putting the proper iron setting on an inconspicuous place, usually on the hem. One letter is practically invisible and there is no more danger of ruining a garment with a too-hot iron setting.—MRS. P. A. S.

Ask Them Yourself

FOR WILBUR COHEN, Secretary of Health, Education, and Welfare
What is your opinion on the rising cost of medical care?—Rita Jo Bard, De-poy, Ky.

● A day in the hospital, which cost $14.40 in 1950, now exceeds $55. Other health costs, including drug costs and doctors' bills, have risen during the same period. In the past 12 months alone, medical-care prices have increased 7 percent. This seriously threatens our ability to make health care more widely accessible to the people who need it.

FOR JEANE DIXON, sec
Is it true that you predicted when the world will end?—Judy McGinnis, Yolyn, W. Va.

● In my January, 1968, forecasts, I predicted that something literally earth-shattering will occur—a natural phenomenon. I believe this phenomenon will be by Divine intervention and will be something like a meteor. It will happen in a matter of minutes and will involve the shifting of both water and land contours. This is not imminent, but it will occur before the end of this century.

FOR GOV. NORBERT T. TIEMANN, Nebraska
What precautions are being taken to prevent future dust-storm disasters in Nebraska?—Mrs. Clara Strand, Onabrook, N.D.

● Dust-storm disasters are being controlled by better land management. On range lands, barren areas have been seeded to grass, and grasshoppers are controlled. On cultivated land, stubble-mulch tillage, a practice in which a crop residue or growing crop is maintained at all times, is the most effective method of controlling wind erosion. Strip cropping, windbreak plantings, and irrigation development are also effective methods of wind-erosion control. Rainfall at Alliance, Neb., was 0.7 inches in 1964, less than any year during the 1930s, yet there was little wind erosion in Nebraska.

FOR BARBARA FELDON
of "Get Smart"
Episode 99, what is your name in the "Get Smart" series?—D. R., Lewiston, Maine

● We've had so much fun using only a number, I have never been given any a name.

FOR PETE ROZELLE, professional football commissioner
Since Canton, Ohio, is the site of the pro football Hall of Fame, why couldn't the N.F.L. championship game be played here annually?—Jimmy Carman, Canton, Ohio

● The N.F.L. championship is always played in a league city, but even if it were decided to move the game elsewhere, Canton first would have to have a stadium of sufficient size to be considered.

FOR WALTER LORD, author of "A Night to Remember"

The Right Bed—The American Medical Association polled doctors on the "most important household article," and 98 percent said "the correct bed." Since a sleeper changes position as much as 45 times—nature's way of giving all the muscles relaxation—comfort and support are needed. A mattress too soft may cause muscle fatigue; too hard may cause back strain. Soft but firm is the ideal balance.

premature babies warm, many of whom can't take the change from cozy womb to cold room. Basically, the Silver Swaddler is similar to the aluminum foil used to keep food warm—and it's recommended for home delivery.

Femme Fire Fighters The International Association of Fire Chiefs meets this week in Louisville. Apparently all American fire chiefs are men, but Trenton, Ga., boasts several women "firemen." After the womenfolk took on the responsibility of raising funds for a fire truck—most men work shifts in nearby Chattanooga, Tenn.—they wanted to be included in the "fun" of the fire-fighting course, then went on to actual fire fighting. Chief Cuoron Kyzer praises his distaff fire fighters: "The gals are much more efficient than men."

Political Translations Each year curious political expressions pop up. A useful key is William Safire's book, "The New Language of Politics: An Anecdotal Dictionary of Catchwords, Slogans, and Political Usage." It gives definitions of 1,000 terms. Samples of political newspeak: "Hack; attack word on one who works mechanically; he differs from a henchman, who works under clear direction; a henchman, who works ruthlessly, and a hanger-on, who doesn't work at all."

HUBERT H. HUMPHREY

The Happiness and Heartbreak

The Humphreys: (top) Mrs. Robert Humphrey, Hubert III, daughter Florence, wife Nancy, and Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Solomonson; (second row) Robert and Douglas Humphrey, the Vice President and wife; (bottom row) granddaughters Vicky, Amy, and Jill Solomonson.

IT WAS PAST midnight, but the Washington apartment of Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey was still a hum of activity.

Staff men were checking a speech, adjusting a tape recorder, answering telephones. The ringing of the phones never seemed to stop, and the lit-up switchboard showed a long string of calls still waiting to be answered.

The Vice President himself was in the kitchen having a bowl of corn flakes and milk. The noise in the other room soon seemed a little remote as the Vice President began reminiscing about his boyhood years.

"When I was a boy, I never went to bed before midnight," he said. "Dad and I would close the store and go driving somewhere and talk. Dad didn't believe in too much sleep. He said too many people died in bed." Humphrey smiled again. "I still don't get too much sleep."

He then started talking about the lasting impact the home and the home town had on his character. His was a wonderful childhood, he said, filled full and happy with family, school, community, and church. It had done so much to help shape him into a man of hope instead of a man of hate.

"I was born in a room over my dad's drugstore in Wallace, S.D.," he said, "but we moved to nearby Doland when I was five years old, and that's where I grew up. I just loved that town. I remember everything about it. You know everyone and everyone knew you, just like a family. When a baby was born, everyone was happy about it. And when someone was hurt or sick, everyone offered to help. These people cared."

He told how the Humphrey family came to America in the early 1600s, mainly Welsh and English stock, migrating first to Connecticut and Massachusetts. Most of them were farmers, teachers, and preachers, and later many of them fought in the American Revolution.

"My dad's father was one of the early Minnesota pioneers. He was as strong as an ox and lived to be 90."

His mother's family, he said, were mostly sailors and farmers from Norway, and his mother's father was a sea captain who was one of the first to sail through the Suez Canal.

Afterward, he retired to a South Dakota farm. Hubert Humphrey, Sr., was born in Oregon, settled down in a pharmacy, after traveling all over the country.

"Mother was a small delicate-looking woman," Humphrey said. "She loved to play the piano and she sang beautifully, and what a homemaker she was! She made graham bread and homemade marshmallows and put up hundreds of quarts of peaches, jellies, jams, and preserves. Nobody made Norwegian meatballs like Mom—soft and juicy with a little onion.

"But her specialty was cinnamon rolls, nice and big with lots of caramel on them. We ate them by the dozen."

After Sunday services at the Methodist Church, there would always be a large circle of family and friends at the Humphrey home to sample the cinnamon rolls and talk about everything, particularly politics. Mrs. Humphrey occasionally voted Republican, and Hubert Humphrey, Sr. would tell his children, "Now you treat your mother with respect. Don't you argue with her, and don't ever speak harshly to her because she's my sweetheart." Then his father smilingly added, "But remember, sometimes she's politically unreliable."

Humphrey then described his father as the major influence on his life. "Dad was my hero," he said. "He wasn't just my dad; he was my teacher and my pal. He loved people and he loved politics. Thanks to dad, I always loved politics."

The Vice President told how his father used to buy time on the radio just to read some poetry that he wanted to share with his neighbors; how he used to travel some 200 miles to hear a symphony orchestra; how he had one of the finest libraries in town "and used to read to us from Tom Paine and Thomas Jefferson and Woodrow Wilson and many others.

"Dad was probably the only Democrat in a Republican town, but they still elected him mayor, then sent him to the state legislature—and then even wanted to run him for governor."

Hubert, Jr. was the second of four children; he has an older brother, Ralph, and two sisters, Frances and Fern. Hubert was a typical little boy who wanted to run away with the traveling circus, built his own drugstores out of wood

That Shaped His Destiny

and in Depression left a lasting mark—as did a father with a strong sense of duty

Author of "Ballots and Band Wagnons" and "A Man for All People: Hubert H. Humphrey" boxes—even though they always were chopped up for kindling—and poked holes in the basement windows to let the mice out. The special pet of his boyhood was a great Airedale named Rex. "That dog used to go everywhere with me. When I got out of school or out of church, he was there waiting. And he was a terrific fighter—once he even took on a badger. I loved that old dog."

At 10, Hubert Humphrey, Jr., was a skinny, freckle-faced youngster who had managed to get a monopoly of the newspaper delivery routes in town. His father taught him about books, accounts, and budgets, and even had him open his own checking account.

"I used to write checks for 25¢," said Humphrey, grinning. "Can you imagine the town banker going half crazy?"

But young Hubert learned much more from working in his dad's drugstore. Townspeople said of his father, "Humphrey never sold you a pill without selling you an idea." The Humphrey pharmacy was the hub of the town, the place where everyone came to talk, to argue, and to reminisce. Hubert soon knew how to handle ideas as well as mix sodas. His father also sold veterinary supplies, and Hubert traveled with him to the nearby farms, learning how to inject different animals, absorbing a deeper feeling and understanding of farm problems.

There were less than 100 students in Doland High School, and young Hubert got into everything. He played in the band, acted in school plays, did a lot of boxing, played football as well as forward on the championship basketball team, ran the half mile, was top member of the debating team, valedictorian—and still found time to be a Life Scout.

"I started out as a skinny kid, so I had to work a lot harder than others to get on the teams," Humphrey said. "And we always played to win. I still do."

He had a lot of ambitions then, he said. "I was going to be a great chemist and inventor like my Uncle John. Then I was going to be a lawyer, and before that I was going to be a hunter. I had lots of fun . . ."

Much of the fun soon disappeared with the persistent dust storms that turned the lush prairie into stubble.

"Whenever we had a dust storm, the sun was blackened out, and all you could see was a small, shining disc. The heat was terrible and the dust was everywhere. It came in under the doors, through the cracks, and it covered everything. People had to walk around with wet handkerchiefs on their faces.

"The wells ran dry and the people bought bottled water. Then the grasshoppers came, hordes of them—they even ate the paint off our houses. I thought it was the end of the world. I learned more about economics from one South Dakota dust storm than I did in all my years at college."

The Depression deepened, and Humphrey's memories have stayed sharp on the hunger and despair of the people of his town. "I remember once bringing a kid in to my dad and asking him, 'Why doesn't this boy have shoes, when I have shoes?'"

The credit books of the Humphrey drugstore were so full of debts that his father simply cancelled them all, telling Hubert, "They can't pay them anyway." Years later, however, most of them did. At that time, though, people were trading chickens, eggs, and meat for drugs. Hubert Humphrey, Sr., used the food in his luncheonette, charging 25¢ a meal, and the few customers with cash were usually the passing truck drivers.

The Humphreys lived in one of the best houses in town, a large square structure with white siding and a huge kitchen. It contained five bedrooms, a tiled bathroom, a glass-enclosed porch, a lush front lawn with shady trees, and a plum and apple orchard in the back.

"One day I came home from school, and there were my mom and dad in the orchard with tears in their eyes. My dad said, 'Son, I had to sell our house.' Childhood ended when we sold our house," said Humphrey sadly.

Hubert Humphrey started at the University of Minnesota, but his father had moved the family to the larger town of Huron, bought another drugstore, and asked Hubert to come and help.

But Hubert had other horizons. During a trip to Washington, he wrote a letter to a lovely young Huron College girl, Muriel Buck, whom he planned to marry:

"... This trip has impressed one thing on my mind, Muriel. That impression is the need of an education, an alert mind, clean living, and a bit of culture, which undoubtedly will come with age and learning. I don't necessarily mean more college is necessary, but I need to do more reading, more writing, more thinking if I ever want to fulfill my dream of being someone in this world. Maybe I seem foolish to have such vain hopes and plans, but, Bucky, I can see how someday if you and I just apply ourselves and make up our minds to work for bigger things, how can we some day live here in Washington and probably be in government, politics, or service. I intend to set my aim at Congress. Don't laugh at me, Muriel. Maybe it does sound rather egotistical and beyond reason, but, Muriel, I do know others have succeeded—why haven't I a chance?"

Just about that time, Muriel confided to a friend that she felt that Hubert "might be President some day."

He then was just a friendly, skinny, eager pharmacist, earning $15 a week. But he soon went back to finish college with the highest honors, even became a college professor. After that, he was elected mayor of Minneapolis—then a corrupt, gang-ridden city to which he promptly brought law and order. The FBI awarded Humphrey and the City of Minneapolis its annual prize for the best job of fighting crime.

Humphrey went on to become the U.S. Senator from Minnesota, the first Democrat to be elected to that office from that state in 100 years.

Now he seeks the nation's highest elective office, strengthened by his heritage, boyhood background, his home and his home town, and by the love of his family—which now includes his wife, a daughter and three sons, and their families, adding up to four granddaughters including Vicky, a retarded child whom they cherish all the more dearly.

With Hubert H. Humphrey, wherever he goes in this Presidential campaign, are the words of his dad, written in a letter to him in 1945, several years before he died. His father wrote that it was the duty of a political leader "to fight for principle, for a better world, for better living conditions. Let them call you anything they wish to. Don't be afraid. Go with your message to the people."

As he has since childhood, Hubert H. Humphrey is heeding his father's advice. ♦

Pope Paul's Encyclical on Birth Control!

You've read about it in the press, of course, and heard it discussed on radio and TV.

And you've heard it challenged, debated and criticized as unrealistic, behind the times, not in keeping with modern man's social needs. You are asked by some to consider birth control not as a moral question, but as a matter of economics, over-population, and sophisticated family planning.

But the Holy Father... as the Vicar of Christ on earth... has the divine command and consequent obligation to instruct the faithful on matters of faith and morals. And birth control... for all its social and material aspects... involves a most basic question of Christian morality.

So that you may read exactly what the Holy Father did say, we have put the complete text of Pope Paul's Encyclical on Birth Control into a handy pocket-size pamphlet which we'll be glad to send you free upon request. # Raisin TREATS for Halloween

MELANIE DE PROFT, Food Editor

■ To accentuate the color scheme for Halloween, dress up these favorite sweets—biscuits and cake—using tints of orange in frostings and filling boldly contrasted with the rich dark browns of raisins and chocolate. Toast all witches and black cats with the aromatic punch and have a bewitching Halloween.

Raisin Biscuit Bundles

For Halloween, frost the warm bundles as desired, using a butter cream frosting tinted orange.

- 2 1/4 cups biscuit mix
  - 1 cup seedless raisins
  - 3/4 cup milk
  - 6 tablespoons melted butter or margarine
  - 1/2 cup lightly packed brown sugar
  - Ground nutmeg
1. Put biscuit mix, raisins, milk, and 3 tablespoons of the butter or margarine into a bowl; stir with a fork until a soft dough is formed.
  2. Turn dough onto floured surface, pat into a rectangle, and roll to 14x12-in.
  3. Brush with 2 tablespoons of the butter or margarine and sprinkle with brown sugar and nutmeg. Cut into halves lengthwise; starting with a long side, roll up each piece jelly roll fashion. Cut each roll into 6 pieces. (If desired, cut each roll into 7 pieces and fit into well-greased large muffin-pan wells.)
  4. Place in a greased shallow baking pan or on a baking sheet. Brush tops with remaining 1 tablespoon butter.
  5. Bake at 400°F. 15 to 18 min. or until browned.

Hot Spiced Cider

Thread raisins and orange sections on skewers and use as stirrers.

- 2 qts. sweet apple cider
  - 1 teaspoon whole cloves
  - 1 teaspoon whole allspice
  - 2 1/2-in. cinnamon sticks
  - 1/2 cup lightly packed brown sugar
  - Few grains salt

saucepan; simmer, covered, 30 min. Remove spices. Serve hot in mugs. About 2 qts. cider

Pumpkin Cake

At your Halloween party, serve chocolate crowned, orange frosted Pumpkin Cake with mugs of fragrant black coffee and spicy hot cider.

- 2 1/4 cups sifted cake flour
  - 3 teaspoons baking powder
  - 1/2 teaspoon baking soda
  - 1/2 teaspoon salt
  - 1 1/2 teaspoons ground cinnamon
  - 1/2 teaspoon ground allspice
  - 1/2 teaspoon ground ginger
  - 1/2 cup butter or margarine
  - 1/2 cup sugar
  - 1 cup lightly packed dark brown sugar
  - 2 eggs, well beaten
  - 1/2 cup buttermilk
  - 1/2 cup canned pumpkin
  - 1/2 cup finely snipped or chopped golden raisins
- Filling and frosting (see step 7)

1. Grease bottoms only of two 9-in. layer cake pans. Set aside.
2. Sift dry ingredients together and blend thoroughly; set aside.
3. Cream butter or margarine; gradually add sugars creaming until fluffy. Add eggs in thirds, beating thoroughly after each addition.
4. Beating only until smooth after each addition, alternately add dry ingredients in fourths and a mixture of the buttermilk, pumpkin, and raisins in thirds to creamed mixture.
5. Turn batter into prepared pans and spread evenly to edges. Bake at 350°F. about 30 min.
6. Cool cake in pans on wire rack 10 min. Remove from pans; cool.
7. Prepare vanilla pudding and pie filling mix. Using enough to generously fill the cake, tint orange, blend in plumped golden raisins, and spread over surface of one layer. Top with second layer and ice with orange-tinted butter cream frosting. Garnish with unsweetened chocolate shavings. One 9-in. layer cake

20 Minutes a day can make you the woman your husband married!

"The treasure of beauty and vitality you had as a young woman is NOT lost forever . . . it is merely "trapped" within you, waiting to be released". Let Richard L. Hittleman, who has given a brand new life to thousands of women through his famous nation-wide TV program, show you how to achieve a miraculous youthful look and spirit that until now you only dreamed possible. And how you can do it in just a few exhilarating minutes each day in the privacy of your home!

Mrs. Margaret Halperin, Chicago grandmother, shows the beautiful results of Yoga.

Do you often feel extremely depressed, perhaps even to the point of tears, because you can see and feel the youthful energy slowly draining from your body? Have you ever been afraid to step on the bathroom scale, for fear of seeing a gain of another pound or two, even though you may be one of those "wonder" diets that never seem to work? Have there been days when you felt completely exhausted and weary morning to the point of becoming irritable and cranky toward your family, and just couldn't be the kind of wife your husband needs?

If the answer is "Yes" to even one of these questions . . . then NOW is the time to enter into a whole new world of youthful appearance, energetic vitality and feminine charm . . . without the use of drugs, apparatus or excessive physical exertion of any kind!

Mr. Hittleman, who has unquestionably given thousands of women a wonderful new outlook on life will show you how, in just 20 minutes a day, you can easily, naturally and delightfully achieve phenomenal results. Here are some of the exciting things you can look for in only 14 days from the time you start:

- 1) Excessive weight on every part of your body will begin to fade away easily . . . permanently!
- 2) Your muscle tone will return, giving your body a firm, healthy "alive" feeling!
- 3) The natural, youthful loveliness of your face will begin to emerge, and your complexion will glow with smooth, radiant beauty.
- 4) You'll move about with a graceful cast like those that will enhance your restored youthful beauty!
- 5) A vast reservoir of dynamic, youthful energy will begin to flow within you, bringing forth a constant glad-to-be feeling. Any chore you tackle will become an exciting challenge you'll want to see through to the end. Any problem you run across will become 100% easier to cope with and solve. Any activity you engage in will be more interesting, more exciting, more pleasurable than ever before.
- 6) Those "knots" of tension and worry that cling up to you as the day goes on will be untied forever! The litany nervousness that usually causes headaches to be so annoying will be washed out of your system for good. You'll experience a new refreshing calm and feeling of well-being, a "complete" peace that will stay with you throughout each and every day.
- 7) A new-found happiness and contentment, derived from looking and feeling better, will greet you as the day goes on. You'll have a constant source of understanding and inspiration to him, which will last throughout your life. You'll develop an exciting new sensual attraction that will win his unflinching and unobscured interest in you.

The Key To This Marvellous New Life Lies In The World's Oldest And Most Respected Science Of Reconditioning And Development.

Woman, since the beginning of time, has savagely sought the fountain of youth. In history, legend and fable, we read of her eternal quest for the magic formula that will roll back the years and restore to her the wonderful qualities of youth. Unfortunately, there is no "magic" formula. But there is something much more real and more available to you now . . . YOGA . . . the world's oldest and most successful method for restoring and maintaining priceless vitality and youth! More people have practiced Yoga for this purpose than any system ever devised!

The true beauty of Yoga is that it requires absolutely no medicine, drugs or apparatus to accomplish its incredible results. There is no exhaustive exertion that causes rapid heartbeat, heavy breathing and uncomfortable perspiration.

If this sounds almost too good to be true, it is simply because you are not aware of the treasure that stretching in nature's secret tranquillizer "Holds" when you give it proper stimulus.

Principles of Yoga

Right now, just stretch your arms as if you were yawning, and notice the feeling of pleasure and relaxation you get. It is simple proof that stretching is nature's secret tranquillizer. And it is this wonderful stretching that is the basic reason for the success of Yoga.

Certain Yoga postures call for slow, systematic and deliberate stretching of every muscle in your body. You can actually feel the built-up tension and tightness flow out of your muscles, leaving a pleasurable sensation of total relaxation and ease.

Other Yoga postures remove the tension and stiffness throughout your legs, back and neck . . . reduce stubborn body areas through firming the thighs and buttocks. One exercise lifts, firms and preserves the bust. Another firms and strengthens the muscles throughout your face and neck . . . melts away wrinkles and restores a new radiance to your skin.

It is important to understand that every one of these exercises is done slowly . . . gracefully and deliberately . . . and absolutely no uncomfortable strain on any part of your body.

Each one leaves you so wonderfully satisfied and relaxed that you have the time for your practice session the next day.

Richard L. Hittleman . . . America's Foremost Yoga Authority Through his "Yoga for Health" TV program, records lectures and personal apparatuses, Mr. Hittleman has given a brand new life to Americans to a new youth, new vitality, new life.

You would be astonished at the number of active women, in all walks of life, who credit their youthful appearance, vitality and success in their work and marriage directly to Yoga. And now these same extraordinary benefits can be yours with no further delay!

Here's what Mr. Hittleman has to say about the remarkable success of his Yoga method during the past 20 years:

"For countless people, dreams of a new life, a return to second youth, a beautiful, strong and trim body which radiates health and vitality, a wonderful peace of mind, have come true with Yoga. There is no reason why any or all of these should not be yours. You have the time and energy to practice Yoga, although you may be unaware of them. I will show you how to awaken these life-giving forces which lie dormant in your body. Make them work for you 24 hours a day."

You'll See Results in the Incredibly Brief Period Of Only 14 Days!

In just two weeks of following the prescribed 20-minute daily routine of Yoga, you'll start to see and feel a new youth and energy blossoming within you. The scars of worry and tension will disappear. Your complexion will brighten with a complexion that glows with radiant health. Your breathing will become easier and piled up over the years will begin to tumble, allowing total, deep-down relaxation to flow back into your body. Your muscles will begin to shape the natural female contours of your body as ugly fat melts away. You'll feel more limber, more poised, more graceful than you have in years. And you'll enjoy a deeper, more restful sleep at night, without the worry and anxiety that often keep you awake now.

Yoga and the Physician

From the physician's standpoint, the great value of Yoga lies in the number of areas of the body which are systematically stimulated and strengthened without strain and with a minimum expenditure of energy.

As mentioned in an article by Dr. O. L. Huddleston in the Archives of Physical Medicine and Rehabilitation, "The scientific feasibility exercises are performed best by utilizing the principles of Hatha Yoga postures and exercises."

What You Should Know About Adoption

New laws are making adoptions easier, yet still protecting the child and the parents involved By SAMUEL KLING Author of "The Complete Guide to Everyday Law"

What should I know about the child I want to adopt?

Everything you can possibly find out—the background of the child's parents—social, emotional, physical, religious, economic, and mental. Also important will be information about the child's life since leaving his natural parents.

What will a licensed agency not tell me?

A reputable agency won't reveal who the natural parents are nor where they live. Nor will they disclose to the natural parents who you are and where you live.

What will be asked of prospective parents?

The agency will want to know how long you've been married and, equally important, how stable your marriage is. They will want to know about your age and health. As for age, agencies prefer parents within the normal range of childbearing.

How much income must I have before I can adopt a child?

Agencies only require that prospective parents earn enough so that they'll be able to properly feed, clothe, and educate a child.

Is there a probationary period before adoption becomes final?

Yes. Trial periods are usually from two months to one year. The basic purpose behind such laws is to allow sufficient time to elapse to determine whether you and the child will feel comfortable with each other.

How successful do adopted children turn out?

Most of them turn out very well indeed. The first major follow-up study of adopted children, made in Florida in 1956-1957 and published in 1963, involved more than 400 youngsters who had been adopted 10 to 15 years prior to the study. It was found that adopted children scored as high on intelligence tests as a control group of natural children, but on tests of adjustment, children who had been adopted, when they were more than one month old, scored lower than the control group. ↗

Which country leads in the number of adoptions?

The United States. There are nearly 130,000 adoptions annually here compared with 13,000 in Canada, 18,000 in England, 4,000 in France, and 8,000 in Germany. About half of all adoptions in the United States are by relatives.

Which children find it most difficult to obtain adoptive parents?

Older youngsters, handicapped children, and Negro infants, although Negro couples adopt in the same proportion as whites.

What are the most common adoption procedures?

The usual choice is to apply to a reputable adoption agency or take a child directly from the natural parents. Both require court approval, and in either case the assistance of an attorney is desirable.

What are the dangers of black-market adoptions?

Lack of legal protection and a lack of adequate study of the child. As to the first, the mother may have been forced into giving up her child within a few hours of its birth. If she later changes her mind and seeks the return of her baby, legal questions may arise. As to the second point, a black-market agency or individual rarely, if ever, does as thorough a research job on the child and his background as a reputable private or public adoption agency.

In agency adoption, how waiting time and restrictions have changed?

Yes, in most states. For example, the current trend is to allow couples (in some cases individuals) over 70 to adopt a child. Similarly, many agencies no longer require an adopting mother to quit her job. Each case is viewed on its own merits with the result that there's much more flexibility than existed about 10 or 20 years ago.

What are the costs and fees involved?

Court costs generally average around $100, and the minimum fee charged the average client by the average lawyer runs around $250. In addition, a number of public agencies throughout the country charge fees, most being under $300. The fees of private agencies are apt to be considerably higher.

Can single persons adopt?

In some states—California, Maryland, Alabama, and New York, for example.

At what age should the child be told he was adopted?

As soon as he's able to understand the meaning of the word "adoption"; certainly by the time he enters school.

What happens to an adopted child should the marriage of the parents break up?

The court will decide who shall have custody, just as in any contested divorce case.

Quarter Gender

While browsing through a store one day I saw a blouse upon display

Of purple satin, striped to white
With ruffled bodice—'a delight
To complement my skirt-aki-ki!
So to the clerk I did resort
I'd wear it some, but his look of start meant
I'd been shopping in the Men's Department!

BIZ—new laundry pre-soak invention wins the war against dirt and stains

Removes dirt and stains that defeat detergents, even bleach.

Dirt and stains that have defeated you for years surrender to new Biz. Biz is Procter & Gamble's brand new invention for pre-soaking laundry, America's first biological weapon for soaking dirt and stains into submission. Biz with Bio-Enzymes breaks them down biologically so you can easily wash them away. Dirt and stains like collar grime, beef gravy, cream-and-sugar coffee, egg yolk, diaper dinge... even blood... are defeated. Yet Biz doesn't harm washable fabric or color. Get your whole wash victoriously clean. Triumphantly clean. Go soak your clothes in Biz.

How Happy Is Your Marriage?

Here's a quiz designed to answer
this most intimate question By JOHN E. GIBSON

MOST COUPLES regard their marriages as happy. Yet obviously some are much happier than others. How does yours measure up?

Each of the following questions has been shown in studies to have a bearing on marital adjustment.

1. When you go out for the evening, do you prefer to (a) go dancing? (b) attend the movies?

2. Do you make decisions quickly?

3. Do you think that your mate is smarter than you are?

4. (a) Does your mind usually remain active for a while after you go to bed at night? Or (b) are you usually asleep shortly after your head hits the pillow?

5. Did you give your true age when you were married?

6. When writing personal letters, do you sometimes rewrite them before mailing?

7. Are you and your spouse more or less equally attractive?

8. Do you find a lively argument stimulating? (a) yes; (b) no.

9. Do you feel that husbands and wives shouldn't open each other's letters?

10. Do you prefer to be alone during emotional stress?

How to Score Yourself

1. Studies conducted by psychologist Lewis M. Terman at Stanford University show that the happiest couples tended to prefer the quieter forms of recreation and amusement, such as attending the movies or reading. Those who were less happy tended to seek more exciting forms of diversion, such as going to a dance. Score 10 points if you answered b.

2. The person who makes quick decisions is usually thought of as poised and self-confident. But studies show that just the opposite is true. On the other hand, the individual who takes his time in arriving at a decision is likely to have more genuine poise and intelligence and is more able to adjust to marriage. Give yourself 10 points for a "No" answer.

3. If you're a wife, give yourself 10 points for a "Yes" answer; if you're a husband, take 10 points for a "No." Investigations show that women are the happiest when they feel that they can look up to their husbands intellectually. Men, on the other hand, like to feel that they are somewhat smarter than their wives.

4. If you usually go to sleep quickly (b), give yourself 10 points. People whose minds go on being active after they go to bed are likely to be high-strung. Psychological studies show that a calm, relaxed temperament makes for the best marital partner.

5. A person may have a number of reasons for misrepresenting age at marriage. Whatever the reason, this kind of deception often carries over into unhappy marriages. Score 10 for a "Yes."

6. Two university investigations have proved that people who are unhappily married have a tendency to rewrite personal letters, no doubt because they tend to be fearful about the impression they are making on others. Score yourself 10 points for a "No."

7. A "Yes" on this one adds 10 points to your score. Studies show that the happiest married couples were likely to be equally attractive. The next best situation occurs when the wife is the better looking.

8. Many people relish a lively argument. Nevertheless, a fondness for this form of verbal exercise seldom goes hand in hand with a blissful relationship, according to sociologists. So if you answered "No" (b), score 10 points.

9. Many people feel that it is perfectly all right for married couples to open each other's letters. "We have nothing to hide from each other," they say. But odds are that either spouse will resent it if one opens the other's personal letters. Score 10 for "Yes."

10. Studies show that the happiest married couples prefer to be together in times of crisis.

Husbands and wives who tended to be emotionally self-sufficient lacked the sense of "togetherness" possessed by happily married couples. Score 10 points for a "No."

To get a true picture of your marital situation, have your spouse take this test, too, then average the scores.

While total marital adjustment is almost impossible to achieve, the higher your scores, the more likely you have a happy marriage. ♦

EDMUND S. MUSKIE: He Fought the Establishment— and Won

By BILL SURFACE

Author of "The Poisoned Ivy" and "Inside Internal Revenue"

EDMUND S. MUSKIE, the tall, self-effacing junior Senator from Maine, found considerable advice awaiting him upon being sworn into the U.S. Senate in 1959.

Lyndon B. Johnson, then the Senate majority leader, cautioned him about making premature decisions on certain issues, adding: "I never really make up my mind on a vote until the roll call gets down to the J's."

The advice appeared to be well received. Muskie listened attentively, nodded, and thanked Senator Johnson. Shortly afterward, when Johnson revived an attempt to amend a Senate rule on filibusters, he asked Muskie: "Ed, can I count on your vote on this?"

"Well, Lyndon," Muskie replied, "I just never seem to make up my mind on a vote until the roll call gets to the M's."

When Muskie made up his mind on that issue, he voted against Johnson's proposal and was not hesitant to elaborate subsequently on the reason why. "They tell me that Lyndon trades two or three apples for an orchard about every day," he quipped. "But I'm a New England horse trader myself."

The incident, colleagues say, perhaps best characterizes the unique personality of the 64-year-old conservatively dressed Muskie. His ability to blend successfully a dry sense of humor with what politicians privately call "horse trading"—and publicly term "parliamentary skills"—has resulted in a career marked by such accolades as "a Senator's Senator" (from Sen. Mike Mansfield of Montana), "a man who operates in a rough league without razzle-dazzle" (from Sen. Gale McGee of Wyoming), and, quite significantly, Hubert Humphrey's choice as a Vice Presidential running mate.

His ability to fight the Establishment and win was vividly illustrated in his relationship with Johnson. When the freshman Senator from a small state had the nerve to turn down the powerful Senate majority leader's request, he found that Johnson, in turn, rejected his three choices for committee assignments (such as foreign relations) and relegated him to positions on such unglamorous committees as Government operations, public works, and banking and currency. "In the doghouse," Muskie mused, "I was very frustrated, lonely, disillusioned, and disconsolate."

Yet Muskie's "horse-trading" ability later helped President Johnson when it became apparent that Congress would not pass two of L.B.J.'s favorite Great Society bills. Muskie agreed to promote both bills, did some "trading" by altering the bills' language (but not their intent), and saw them enacted.

"Well, at least I don't have to be afraid of driving past the White House any more," Muskie laughed afterward. Johnson apparently agreed. He then termed Muskie a "powerhouse and craftsman," which led Muskie to believe that he was being seriously considered as President Johnson's running mate in 1964.

The "powerhouse" reputation was based on some unexpected characteristics. Though Muskie came from a small town, he became known in the Senate as an expert on urban problems by 1) stressing how cities could cut through bureaucracy by bypassing nearly 100 "empire builders" to receive assistance and 2) using a convincing oratory that included fiery Biblical quotations about people who "sought the promise of the city and found only despair." Senator Mansfield says of Muskie's oratory, "He's one of the few men who literally could pull a bill through the Senate with his arguments."

Many Senators' tempers flare during intense private discussions, and Muskie certainly is no exception. He is considered to have one of the quickest tempers and slowest handshakes in the Senate. But he often compensates for any displays of temper with an earthy, apologetic joke directed at himself. "Ed is one of the best at humor or the wry pun," says Senator McGee. "But he doesn't just tell them. He invents most of them."

That trait also was apparent during the Democratic convention when Vice President Humphrey made his choice by meeting separately with Muskie and Sen. Fred Harris of Oklahoma in different rooms within his spacious 25th-floor suite. Muskie seemed nervous even though he had been led to believe that he would be selected because of Humphrey's hints months earlier and his candid questions ("Would you work with me? Would you speak up when I need support?").

Still his nervousness intensified after Humphrey led in Harris and remarked: "Here's the man who's going to nominate you." All Muskie could tell his wife was: "Well, Mommy, I think we're stuck with it." As Mrs. Muskie recalled: "The explosion on Ed's face told me something was very right or very wrong. So I even said something crazy like, 'Oh, that's too bad.'"

His witiness, though, offsets the tenseness. When asked whether he had been selected because of his Polish voters, he said with a smile: "You can't be too sure of any vote. My mother said she'd vote for me if they don't offer anyone who's better." The quip was so well received that it was included in Muskie's acceptance speech and turned out to be one of the few deliberately humorous remarks of an otherwise tumultuous convention.

Little humor appeared in Muskie's early life. He was born in Rumford, Maine, the son of a tailor who immigrated from Poland as Stephen Marciszewski, but because of an immigration officer's inability to pronounce the name, was recorded as Muskie—a surname that he legally adopted upon becoming a naturalized citizen. Edmund grew up to be so awkward, craggy-faced, and bashful that, until he became a center on the high-school basketball team and worked as a bellhop, his mother recalls, "He practically never talked to anyone."

He also had the most minimal of conversations the first time he met the girl he married. The meeting occurred when the owner of a dress shop in Waterville, Maine, prompted Jane Grey, an 18-year-old clerk who had been voted the prettiest girl in her high-school class, to wear a new dress to a certain luncheonette. The idea was to meet a 31-year-old lawyer (Muskie) who had just been discharged from the Navy and had started a practice. She attempted to start a conversation by intentionally bumping into Muskie, then pleading: "Oh, excuse me!"

"Certainly," Muskie replied, walking on. Undaunted, Jane and a girl friend subsequently went to an open house at the Waterville branch of Amvets, which Muskie served as president. Then Jane wanted an introduction. Muskie took her to lunch and, 18 months later, proposed, with one definite stipulation—that, since he had become a Democratic member of Maine's legislature, she change from being a Baptist and Republican to Catholic and Democratic.

Six years later, when her husband was elected Democratic governor of a normally Republican state (while recovering from a broken back), 27-year-old Jane Muskie became the youngest first lady in Maine's history.

Though the Muskie family has lived in a large colonial home in Bethesda, Md., since his election to the Senate, they still maintain a five-bedroom summer home in Kennebunk, Maine, which, Muskie says, "has a good view of the Atlantic if you twist your neck enough."

The Muskies' vacation home needs to be spacious since they now have three daughters and two sons, ranging in age from 7 to 19. Or, as Muskie tells you, "three queens and two jacks."

Muskie's self-directed humor, the current campaign shows, has been invaluable in artfully answering difficult questions. As one Senator put it recently: "That's his ace card."

He has some other "aces," too—determination, character, and a sense of duty. Otherwise he might not have put his career on the line that day in 1959 by talking on the Establishment. ♦
